Tentative Ruling for 5/29/18:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 5/29/18.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtor's status report (dkt. 171), and other related pleadings.

(a) Untimely Status Report and April MOR. This Court's tentative ruling for 5/1/18 (see below) directed the debtor to file a brief status report by 5/15/18, but the debtor did not file a status report until 5/18/18. Further, debtor did not file its April MOR until 5/23/18. The debtor is cautioned that failure to abide by applicable deadlines in future may result in adverse consequences.

Tentative Ruling for 5/1/18:

Continue to 5/29/18 at 2:00 p.m. Appearances are not required on 5/1/18.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Background. At a post-confirmation status conference on 4/17/18 for B&B Bachrach (2:17-bk-15292-NB), debtor's counsel discussed the status of that case as well as the B&B Liquidating case. At counsel's request, this Court set a tentative bar date of 6/29/18, but advised counsel that this Court would hold off on issuing the bar date order (and may push the bar date back) pending resolution of the claims/noticing agent issues raised sua sponte by this Court.

(b) Cash Collateral/DIP Financing (dkt. 21, 22). The tentative ruling is to grant the motion on a final basis, as modified on the record at the hearing on 2/22/18, the interim order (dkt. 36), the amended budget (dkt. 65), and the second amended stipulation (dkt. 141). The debtor is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via this court's "LOU" system within 7 days after the hearing date.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 2/16/18.

(a) Bar date: Tentatively set as 6/29/18. DO NOT serve any notice at this time (this Court will prepare an order after the claims/noticing issues are resolved)

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: 8/31/18

If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 2/22/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor. Other parties in interest are invited but not required to appear (and pursuant to LBR 9075-1, any response may be presented orally).

Telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues. As of the time when this tentative ruling has been prepared, there is no proof of service of the debtor's motions. The following tentative rulings are subject to (i) adequate proof of service and (ii) any oppositions presented at or prior to the hearing. In addition, rather than stating at length this Court's reasoning, the following tentative rulings adopt, to the extent relevant, the reasoning of this Court regarding similar motions in the Bachrach case (no. 2:17-bk-15292-NB, dkt. 46-47).

(a) Notice/Service. Pursuant to LBR 9075-1(a)(2)(B), this Court has already orally and conditionally granted the debtor's request to shorten time on the motions identified below, subject to the right of any party in interest to object at or before the hearing to the adequacy of notice. With those limitations, the tentative ruling is to find notice adequate and grant the debtor's requests in its motions (e.g., dkt. 5, p.3:3-5) to excuse any requirement for telephonic notice provided that overnight delivery or other permissible expedited service (e.g., personal delivery, or email as permitted by applicable rules) has been delivered no later than 24 hours prior to this hearing to all persons with a pecuniary interest that could be adversely affected by the relief requested in each motion.

(b) Immediate relief. With respect to any immediate relief described below, the tentative ruling is that the debtor has shown sufficient cause for such immediate relief under Rule 6003 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), to the extent applicable, and the other rules and procedures governing relief on an emergency or expedited basis.

(c) Limit Notice Motion (dkt. 3). The tentative ruling is to grant this motion, subject to the following adjustments. First, the Limited Service List must be augmented to include (i) junior lienholder Emerald Capital Funding, LLC ("Emerald") and (ii) the debtor's own bankruptcy counsel (because the motion apparently contemplates that all parties in interest - not just the debtor - will be authorized to use the Limited Service List). Second, this Court contemplates limitations that parallel this Court's modifications to the parallel order in the Bachrach case (no. 2:17-bk-15292-NB, dkt. 53).

(d) Utilities Motion (dkt. 4). The tentative ruling is to grant the motion on an interim basis, with a final hearing at the same time as the continued status conference set forth below.

(e) Tax Motion (dkt. 5). The tentative ruling is to grant the motion on an interim basis, with a final hearing at the same time as the continued status conference set forth below.

(f) Cash Management Motion (dkt. 6). The tentative ruling is to grant the motion on the following conditions on an interim basis, with a final hearing at the same time as the continued status conference set forth below. No later than 2/23/18 the debtor must file a declaration of its CFO or other appropriate person certifying that, first, the debtor has taken measures to assure that prepetition debts are not paid out of its existing accounts (e.g., stopping payment on prepetition checks, except to the extent authorized by this court), and second, the debtor is maintaining sufficiently detailed books and records that, if it becomes necessary to analyze the debtor's finances as of the petition date, such analysis will not be impaired by the non-closing of the debtor's prepetition accounts.

(g) Lease Rejection Motion (dkt. 7). The tentative ruling is to grant the motion on a final basis.

(h) Employee Wages Motion (dkt. 8). The tentative ruling is to grant this motion immediately and on a final basis as to the employees, and to grant it as to the retention of Modern HR, Inc. ("HR") either immediately or at a continued hearing if the debtor can provide an offer of proof or evidence that HR's rates are within normal market rates for comparable services.

(i) Store Closing Sale Motion (dkt. 17). The tentative ruling is to approve the retention of Great American Group LLC and Tiger Capital Group

LLC (collectively, "Liquidation Consultant") subject to the filing, no later than 2/23/18, of a satisfactory statement of Liquidation Consultant's disinterestedness on Local Form F 2014-1.STMT.DISINTEREST.PROF. In addition, the tentative ruling is to authorize the proposed sales of the debtor's inventory and furniture, fixtures and equipment ("FF&E"), free and clear of any liens, claims, encumbrances or other interests of all persons/entities who have been served with the motion, with all such interests to attach to proceeds of such sales, under 11 U.S.C. 363(b) and (f)(1), (2) and (5), for the reasons stated in the motion papers. In addition, the tentative ruling with respect to compliance with nonbankruptcy liquidation laws, restrictions in leases, and abandonment of property is to track the limitations in this Court's interim order on the parallel motion in the Bachrach case (no. 2:17-bk-15292-NB, dkt. 71). In addition, the tentative ruling is to grant all such relief on an interim basis, with a final hearing at the same time as the continued status conference set forth below.

(j) Cash Collateral/DIP Financing (dkt. 21, 22). The parties should be prepared to address the following issues. (i) Is there any evidence that the debtor is "unable" to obtain credit by granting a "senior or equal lien" to the lien of Siena Lending Group, LLC ("Siena"), within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 364(d)(1)(A)? (ii) Why would it be appropriate for this Court to approve a roll-up, cross-collateralization, and other provisions that generally are disapproved (see dkt. 22)? (iii) Why should this Court grant broader relief in this case than it did in approving a similar motion in the Bachrach case (no. 2:17-bk-15292-NB, dkt. 46, Ex.A, pp.5-9, and dkt. 50)? The tentative ruling is to authorize either consensual or non-consensual use of cash collateral and, if the terms can be modified sufficiently to be acceptable, the proposed DIP financing, on an interim basis, with a final hearing at the same time as the continued status conference set forth below.

(k) Notice of continued hearings. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 2/27/18 for the debtor to file and serve a notice of the final hearing on all motions that are only granted on an interim basis, and to set the same deadline for the debtor to file any supplements or amendments to such motions, with deadlines of 3/6/18 for any opposition and 3/13/18 for any reply.

(l) Proposed Orders. This court intends to file these tentative rulings on the docket (with the caption, "Memorialization Of Tentative rulings" or the like). Thereafter, if appropriate, all orders can grant or deny relief "for the reasons stated in the Memorialization Of Tentative Rulings (dkt. __), as

Tentative Ruling for 4/17/18:

Continue (1) calendar nos. 5, 6 and 7 on today's calendar, and (2) the motion for relief from the automatic stay filed by Ingrid Aliet-Gass for herself and Western States International, Inc. (dkt. 130, the "R/S Motion") all as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 4/17/18.

Specifically, the tentative ruling is as follows:

(1) Continue (a) the status conference in this bankruptcy case, (b) the status conference in adversary proceeding no. 2:17-ap-01326-NB, and (c) the debtor's motion to amend the complaint in that adversary proceeding (adv.

dkt. 132). The debtor/plaintiff suggests that it will be filing a motion to approve a disclosure statement. Is that premature, given the following issues?

(b) Motion to amend complaint (adv. dkt. 125). The parties should be prepared to address the issues raised in the motion and in the oppositions filed by the California Department of Conservation, Division of Oil and Gas, and Geothermal Resources ("DOGGR") (adv. dkt. 125, 130, 131).

In addition, the debtor/plaintiff should be prepared to address whether the proposed amended complaint cures the deficiencies in the original complaint, and whether any ruling on the motion to amend the complaint should be deferred until after default judgments are (or are not) obtained on the existing (original) complaint, for the reasons set forth in this Court's Memorialization Of Reasons For Denying Motions For Default Judgments (captioned for the adversary proceeding but erroneously filed in the main case as dkt. 118). See also Order denying prior motions for default judgments (adv. dkt. 117) and subsequent Motions for default judgments (adv. dkt. 133, 134, 135).

Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Continue the status conferences in both the main case and the adversary proceeding (adv. no. 2:17-ap-01326-NB) to 2/13/18 at 2:00 p.m. with a status report due 2/6/18 (at which time other documents are also due as set forth below) for the reasons set forth below. Appearances are not required on 1/23/18.

(1) Current issues

(a) Reasons for continuance: (i) because of the problems noted below; (ii) because of the debtor's untimely last-minute filing of status reports (the debtor is cautioned that continued untimely filings may result in sanctions); (iii) because of the inability of the Office of the United States Trustee to appear due to the shutdown of much of the federal government, (iv) to be concurrent with the (improperly self-calendared) motion to amend the complaint, and (v) in view of the debtor's various status reports (main case dkt. 117, adv. dkt. 122, 127, 129).

(b) Bar date. The debtor's proofs of service of the bar date order are missing exhibits and incomprehensible (see dkt. 110, 111). The debtor is directed to file, no later than 2/6/18, either a corrected proof of service or an application (supported by a declaration) to set yet another supplemental bar date - whichever is appropriate.

(c) Status of existing complaint in adversary proceeding. On 11/20/17 this court issued an order (adv. dkt. 117) denying the plaintiff/debtor's motions for default judgments, without prejudice. The debtor now seeks to amend the complaint (adv. dkt. 125). All of these things moot the motions for default judgments so the hearings on those motions have been vacated.

In addition, the tentative ruling is to memorialize this court's reasons for denying the motions for default judgments by filing on the docket a copy of this court's adopted tentative ruling for the 11/14/17 hearings on those motions (reproduced within the tentative ruling for calendar no. 9. 1/23/18 at 2:00 p.m.).

(d) Motion to amend complaint (adv. dkt. 125). This motion was self-calendared for 2:00 p.m. (a time that cannot be used for self-calendaring) on 2/13/18. Nevertheless, the tentative ruling is to permit that motion to proceed at that time.

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the following issues.

(1) Current issues. The debtor has filed a second (very belated) proof of service (dkt. 103) of this court's order (dkt. 56) setting a bar date. Under that order the bar date was set as 7/10/17 and service was required no later than 5/8/17. What does the debtor's belated service do except cause confusion? Does the debtor require a new bar date for previously unknown creditors?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16. If this case is not converted or dismissed, the tentative ruling is to set the following:

(a) Bar date: 7/10/17 (order timely served, dkt. 56, 60; but see above under "current issues").

Tentative Ruling for 8/22/17:

The tentative ruling is to dismiss this case with a 180 day bar for willful failure to appear in proper prosecution, as set forth below. See 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1). Appearances are not required.

Reasons: This case was filed on 11/23/16. The debtor's assets consist of disputed rights in hydrocarbon leases. See Status Report, dkt. 81. Realizing any value from those rights apparently depends on retaining special counsel who will diligently prosecute the debtor's claims. Despite numerous opportunities, the debtor has failed to satisfy the prerequisites for retention of special counsel.

(1) Inadequate declarations about "connections"

At the hearing on 7/11/17 this court extensively reviewed the evidence that would be required before this court could approve the application to employ the latest proposed special counsel, Mr. Montes. That included a requirement of detailed declarations from Mr. and Mrs. Hoats regarding any transfers of any property (including intangible property) involving the debtor and any of them, as well as any other "connections" (as that term is used in Rule 2014, Fed. R. Bankr. P.) to the debtor and any other party in interest.

This court recognizes that Mr. and Mrs. Hoats are not the professionals whose employment is being sought. Nevertheless, given their very close ties to the debtor, and their failure to disclose connections to the prior proposed special counsel that raised questions about conflicts of interest, this court orally ordered the debtor to provide their declarations at the hearing on 5/2/17. That order has been ignored.

(2) Knudsen factors

This court also directed Mr. Montes to file a declaration addressing the factors that this court must consider in assessing his request to be paid more frequently than once every 120 days. See In re Knudsen, 84 B.R. 668, 672-73 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Mr. Montes has filed such a declaration (dkt. 82) and has adequately summarized the factors (id., p.3:15-23) but he has not adequately addressed the third factor, which he summarizes as: "any funds paid but later disapproved by the court can be recovered from the professional" in one or more of the ways listed in Knudsen. (Emphasis added.) Those ways are:

- [a. Holdback] retainer payments are for only a percentage of the amount billed so that the likelihood or necessity of repayment is minimal [Mr. Montes suggests a 10% holdback, which has not been shown to be adequate - the typical amount is 20%, and that typically applies only to well established firms whose ability to repay funds is reinforced by the firm's longevity and reputation or similar considerations];
- [b. Bond] counsel can post a bond covering any possible reassessment [Mr. Montes has not addressed this factor];
- [c. Financial ability to repay] counsel's financial position makes it certain that any reassessment can be repaid [Mr. Montes has not addressed this factor]; [and/or]
- [d. Hold funds in trust account] funds paid prior to allowance are held in a trust account until a final or interim fee allowance is made [Mr. Montes has only offered to place the 10% proposed holdback in a trust account]. [Knudsen, 84 B.R. 668, at 672]

(3) The debtor appears to cite the wrong statutory authority

The debtor's application to employ Mr. Montes (dkt. 65) requests that his employment be approved under subsection "(e)" of 11 U.S.C. 327. But that subsection only applies by its terms to an attorney who "has represented the debtor" (i.e., prepetition counsel whose employment is to continue postpetition). Id. (emphasis added).

That is not the end of the analysis, because it has been held that special counsel can be employed even when such counsel has not represented the debtor prepetition. See In re Fondiller, 15 B.R. 890, 892 (9th Cir. BAP 1981) (emphasis added), appeal dismissed, 707 F.2d 441 (9th Cir.

1983). Although Fondiller has been interpreted as authorizing employment under subsection (e) (see, e.g., Covenant Fin. Group of Am., Inc., 243 B.R. 450, 455 & n. 8 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 1999)), the precise holding of Fondiller appears to be that special counsel can be employed under subsection "(a)" of Section 327 because any "omission" in subsection "(e)" does not limit the general authority in subsection "(a)." See Fondiller, 15 B.R. at 891-92 (interpreting § 327(a) by comparison with §§ 327(c) and (e)).

True, the precise statutory authority appears to make little if any practical difference, because Fondiller held that when counsel is only employed to perform limited services, then an interest "adverse to the estate" means "an adverse interest relating to the services which are to be performed by that attorney," which appears to mean that the inquiry for proposed special counsel under subsection "(a)" is the same as under subsection "(e)." Fondiller, 15 B.R. at 892 (emphasis added). Mr. Montes' declaration (included in dkt. 65) appears to meet this test because he states that he has no adverse interest.

Nevertheless, as stated above this court has required additional evidence from Mr. and Mrs. Hoats and that evidence has not been provided. In addition, because the debtor has sought authority under subsection "(e)" instead of "(a)" it appears not have met the technical requirements for employment of Mr. Montes.

If you wish to dispute the above tentative ruling, please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings".

If you wish to dispute the above tentative ruling, please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings".

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the debtor's proposed attorney, Brian McMahon Esq., should be prepared to address the concerns set forth in the U.S. Trustee's objection (dkt. 49) and the other issues set forth below.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Proposed special counsel.

(i) Background. On 4/5/17 the debtor filed an application for authority to employ the law offices of Mr. McMahon as special counsel under 11 U.S.C. 327(e) (dkt. 47). On 4/12/17 the United States Trustee ("UST") filed an objection to the employment application, which expressed concerns about the payment arrangement proposed in the application (dkt. 49).

The debtor filed a statement of disinterestedness for Mr. McMahon (dkt.53), and a reply (dkt.55), stating that a third party, Ms. Lilian Hoats, will be paying the attorney fees for Mr. McMahon's representation. Ms. Hoats is the CEO of Inviron Technologies, Inc. ("Managing Member"), which is the debtor's managing member (dkt. 55, Ex.1, p.1, recital "b"). Attached to the reply (dkt. 55, Ex.1) is a written document that purports to be a waiver of conflicts (if any exist) among the debtor, Ms. Hoats, and the Managing Member (the "Hoats/Managing Member Conflict Waiver").

The Attorney-Client Retainer Agreement attached to the employment application (dkt. 46, Ex.1) provides that Mr. McMahon is representing not only the debtor but also its affiliates Riverwood Energy, LLC ("Energy Affiliate") and Riverwood Resources Ltd. ("Resources Affiliate"). This court is not aware of the precise organizational and contractual relationships among the debtor, Energy Affiliate, and Resources Affiliate, nor of any written document purporting to be a waiver of conflicts (if any exist) among them.

(ii) Statutory provisions and rules

Although special counsel does not have to be "disinterested" (compare 11 U.S.C. 327(a)), special counsel still must not "represent or hold any interest adverse to the debtor or to the estate with respect to the matter on which such attorney is to be employed." 11 U.S.C. 327(e) (emphasis added). Under Rule 2014 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) both Mr. McMahon and the debtor were supposed to disclose all connections between Mr. McMahon and "the debtor, creditors, any other party in interest, their respective attorneys and accountants, the United States trustee, or any person employed in the office of the United States trustee."

The disclosures have not been adequate. This court does not know enough about the underlying litigation and the organizational and contractual relationships among the various entities to assess whether there may be conflicts of interest between the debtor, on the one hand, and Ms. Hoats, Managing Member, Energy Affiliate, and/or Resource Affiliate.

(iii) A DIP's conflicts generally cannot be waived

Any purported conflict waiver probably cannot waive actual conflicts. See, e.g., In re Perry, 194 B.R. 875, 880 (E.D.Cal.1996) (waiver of conflict by non-debtor parties was insufficient and "[i]nformed consent could not be obtained" because "the real parties in interest in this case are the creditors, and that is not a waivable conflict"); In re B.E.S. Concrete Products, Inc., 93 B.R. 228, 235 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 1988).

But while actual conflicts of interest create a violation of 11 U.S.C. 327 which would require disqualification of the proposed professional, the mere existence of a potential conflict of interest does not require disqualification, and it is up to the court's discretion whether the purported conflict is sufficiently threatening to the estate to warrant disqualification. In re Wheatfield Business Park, LLC, 286 B.R. 412, 421 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

Are proposed counsel and the debtor aware of any actual conflicts?
How about potential conflicts?

(iv) The purported conflict waiver is incomplete

The Hoats/Managing Member Conflict Waiver is not actually signed by Ms. Hoats in her individual capacity (she has only signed it on behalf of the debtor's Managing Member). In addition, as noted above, this court is not aware of any purported conflict waiver among the debtor and Operating Affiliate or Resources Affiliate.

(v) There might be conflicts among the debtor and Ms. Hoats

A third party who funds a retainer for the debtor (the "Funder") generally has some pre-existing relationship with the debtor, and/or some motivation to providing the funding. Those things increase the likelihood that the Funder could be the recipient of an avoidable preference, or might have alter ego liability, or otherwise might have interests that are adverse to (or at least not fully aligned with) the bankruptcy estate or creditors. For these reasons, although payment of a retainer by a third party is not outright prohibited, it is fraught with ethical concerns. At the hearing, counsel for the debtor and proposed special counsel should be prepared to address the following.

(A) Terms. What are the precise agreements, understandings or expectations regarding the funds -- e.g., are the funds a loan, a gift, an investment, or something else?

(B) Informed consent of Funder. Has the Funder been advised regarding actual and potential conflicts of interest, and that the sole attorney-client relationship and duty of loyalty is with the debtor, not the Funder? Who provided such advice: independent counsel? counsel for the debtor? the debtor's proposed special counsel? Has the Funder given informed consent? Are those things in writing?

(C) Informed consent of debtor. Has the debtor likewise been fully advised and given informed consent? Who provided such advice? Are these things in writing? Ms. Hoats has signed the Hoats/Managing Member conflict waiver on behalf of the debtor: how can she, acting for the debtor, waive conflicts with herself?

(D) Other considerations. Has proposed special counsel demonstrated or represented to the Court the absence of an actual or potential conflict, a lack of disinterestedness, or any other basis for disqualification? See In re Kelton Motors, Inc., 109 B.R. 641 (Bankr. D. Vt. 1989); In re Lotus Prop's LP, 200 B.R. 388 (Bankr. C.D. See generally In re Park-Helena Corp., 63 F.3d 877 (9th Cir. 1995).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16. If this case is not converted or dismissed, the tentative ruling is to set the following:

(a) Bar date*: to be set during the status conference.

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: same.

(c) Continued status conference: 5/23/17 at 2:00 p.m., status report due 5/9/17.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If you do not appear, and the matter is not adequately resolved by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 4/4/17:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues.

(a) Status report. This court's previous tentative ruling (reproduced below) directed the debtor to file a status report by 3/14/17. Why has no such status report been filed?

(b) Exit strategy. What is the debtor's exit strategy, and what progress has been made toward that goal?

Continue to 4/4/17 at 2:00 p.m., status report due 3/14/17. No appearances are required on 2/7/17.

(1) Current issues

This case was filed on 11/23/16. The debtor's status report (dkt. 34) states that the debtor intends to retain special counsel, and the monthly operating reports (dkt. 37, 38) appear to show no activity other than opening DIP bank accounts and paying associated fees. Although progress in this case has been slow, it does not appear efficient to hold a status conference at this time. If substantially more progress is not shown by the next status conference, this court may dismiss this case for failure to appear in proper prosecution. See 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1), 349.

Hearing Room 1545

2:00 PM

CONT... Riverwood Gas and Oil LLC

Chapter 11

Tentative Ruling for 11/14/17:

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is to deny the motions for default judgments, without prejudice, for the reasons set forth below, and to set a continued status conference for 1/30/18 at 2:00 p.m.

On the one hand, there appears to be successful prosecution of this adversary proceeding because, according to the plaintiff's status report (adv. dkt. 92), all of the defendants have either agreed to the requested declaratory relief or have defaulted. On the other hand, there are some fundamental issues that appear to prevent this court from granting default judgments at this time.

(1) Self-calendaring error. The motions for default judgments were only served on 10/27/17. See, e.g., Motion for Default Judgment Derek Wilshee (dkt. 83, 74) (collectively, the "Wilshee Default Motion"). That is insufficient time prior to the hearing, under the applicable rules, nor was there any cover notice of the hearing date and deadline for any opposition or response.

(2) Jurisdictional issues.

(a) Personal jurisdiction. Does the complaint adequately establish personal jurisdiction over each defendant? At least one defendant is alleged to be a resident of Australia (dkt. 1, para. 14), although the plaintiff has voluntarily dismissed claims against that defendant (dkt. 107). Are each of the defaulting defendants subject to personal jurisdiction?

(b) Subject matter jurisdiction, and abstention. The complaint and motions for default judgment make somewhat vague assertions of other action(s) that were or are pending in other courts apparently involving the same subject matter, and involving at least preliminary injunctive relief if not other relief. Can this Bankruptcy Court assume jurisdiction over matters that are pending in other courts? Must or should this Bankruptcy Court abstain?

(3) Allegations of wrongdoing. Where is the analysis tying each of the defaulting defendants to one or more of the specific acts of wrongdoing bringing them within the claims in the complaint? For example, the only allegation in the complaint regarding Mr. Wilshee (dkt. 1, para. 14) appears to be that he was at one time an officer of the debtor. How is that an act of wrongdoing?

The Wilshee Default Motion seeks a default judgment against Mr. Wilshee of $431,472,300.00 (dkt. 74, at PDF p.51 of 53). How is he responsible for such alleged damages? Does the complaint need to be amended to establish, as against one or more of the defaulting defendants, how they are alleged to be liable?

(4) Calculation of damages. An exhibit to the plaintiff's motions for default judgments asserts that "Based on Department of Conservation Records [available on a website and/or verified by whom?], these leases [which leases? the ones that allegedly were supposed to be assigned but were not?] were producing 1730 barrels of Oil a day [when?]" and "[w]ith today's technology [how is today's technology better?], a conservative figure would be 3500 barrels a day [based on whose expert opinion?] that will be used as a figure for all the losses caused by Western States International [how about other defendants?]." Dkt. 83, Ex.A, at PDF p.17 of 53. The same exhibit shows a calculation of alleged damages based on "Approx Production" of "105,000" which is far more than 3500 barrels (perhaps using a 30-day presumptive month multiplied by 3500 barrels a day?), an "Average Oil Price [from what source?]," and a "Cost [to extract, market, refine, deliver, and sell the oil - or some other or different set of things? based on what expert's opinion?]." Based on the foregoing questions, and applying Rule 55(b)(2) (Fed. R. Civ. P.) (incorporated by Rule 7055, Fed. R. Bankr. P.), it appears that additional evidence and a "prove up" hearing will be needed to determine the amount of damages, if not other issues.

(5) Alleged costs, attorney fees, and interest. The debtor/plaintiff asserts $1 million in costs (dkt. 74 at PDF p.51 of 53) - how is that possible? What are the components? Attorney fees are alleged to be $300,000 - this case has barely commenced, so how is that possible? Where are the daily time sheets and/or other support for this figure? Prejudgment interest is alleged to be at a 10% rate per year starting 1/1/11. What is the contractual or statutory basis for that interest rate and that commencement date? The purported damages were incurred month by month, so how can interest run from before those damages were incurred?

(6) Declaratory relief. The plaintiff makes broad allegations about the rights under various contracts, or arising from breaches of those contracts or by operation of law. Where is the support for these allegations? The plaintiff cannot place the burden on this court to sort through numerous provisions of various contracts to piece together the plaintiff's theory. The plaintiff must provide specific, easy-to-follow analysis and evidence.

(7) Conclusion. Because the motions for default judgments are both procedurally and substantively deficient in all of the ways set forth above, the tentative ruling is to deny them without prejudice.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 8/22/17:

Appearances required. This court notes that the parties were directed to file a joint status report two weeks in advance of this hearing (dkt. 2), but have not done so. In addition, this court notes that the tentative ruling in the main case status conference (calendar no. 3, 8/22/17 at 2:00 p.m.) is to dismiss the main case, which normally would terminate this adversary proceeding. Nevertheless, to preserve all rights in the event that this court were to be persuaded not to dismiss the main case, this court has reviewed the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding and issues the following tentative ruling.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); *Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below?

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 6/19/17. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 1/12/18

Expert(s) - deadline for reports: 1/26/18

Expert(s) - discovery cutoff (if different from above): 2/9/18

Dispositive motions to be heard no later than: 3/2/18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 8/14/18:
Appearances are not required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Fresco Parties' Motions to Convert Cases (dkt. 199 & Checkmate 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 185). The tentative ruling is to tentatively approve the parties' stipulations (Sakurai dkt. 266 and Checkmate dkt. 208) as settlements of the respective motions under Rule 9019 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), and to rule that notice of such settlements need not be provided pursuant to Rule 2002(a)(3). The cause for not requiring notice is that the motions to convert were properly served, a hearing was held, the parties who sought to be heard on that matter had an opportunity to be heard, the stipulation does not appear to result in any relief different in degree from what could have been ordered at that hearing, and to the contrary the resolution appears to be better for all creditors (and all other parties in interest) than the alternative of immediate conversion of each case to chapter 7.

Proposed orders: The Fresco Parties are directed to lodge two separate proposed orders (one for each settlement) via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(b) RS/Fower Adversary Proceeding (2:18-ap-01602-NB). The tentative ruling is to continue the status conference to the date and time stated below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

Tentative Ruling for 8/14/18:
Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Fresco Parties' Motion to Convert Cases (dkt. 199 & Checkmate 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 185). The tentative ruling is to grant Fresco's motions to convert the Checkmate and Sakurai cases to chapter 7 for the following reasons.

(i) Gross mismanagement. The tentative finding of fact is that the debtors have grossly mismanaged their estates such that cause exists under 1112(b)(4)(B) to convert their cases. These cases have been pending for nearly a year, since 10/16/17, only very belated and half-hearted investigation or collection activity against Radiology Solutions and Fower - either using legal enforcement or practical steps. For example, at hearings on 11/14/17 and 1/30/18, the debtors maintained their belief that they could recover 100% on the dated receiveables from Radiology Solutions, despite this Court's expressed concerns with the debtors' counsel regarding the apparent lack of collection activity based on Checkmate's failure to use the vast panoply of litigation tools available to them, including examinations under Rule 2004 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), other discovery tools, remedies such as immediately seeking restraining orders and injunctions, and non-litigation approaches such as pressuring Radiology Solutions and Fower by reporting their defaults to Siemens or attempting to use pressure from other suppliers, customers, government regulators, or other persons. All of those avenues should have been explored vigorously, both prepetition and postpetition, and disclosed to parties in interest in these cases.

(ii) Other "cause." The debtors appear to have run through vast amounts of money to "purchase" equipment that does not exist, and yet as set forth above they have a very cavalier attitude toward attempting to engage in discovery or collection, while continuing to insist that they expected very substantial recoveries from those sources and/or from equipment (which turned out not to exist). The tentative finding of fact is that these circumstances show not just gross mismanagement but also that the debtors are hiding facts, or they are attempting to run out the clock on possible causes of action against them or transferees of their assets, or both.

(ii) The debtors' counter-argument about the best interests of creditors is not persuasive. The debtors argue that under their liquidation analysis (Sakurai, dkt. 240, PDF p. 14, Checkmate, dkt. 194, PDF p. 17) creditors will receive faster and better recoveries if the debtors are permitted to engage in a liquidation through chapter 11, rather than converting these cases to chapter 7. There are several problems with this argument.

First, this Court questions the debtors' projected recoveries in chapter 11. The debtors have been wildly inaccurate (or have intentionally hidden the truth) before, as set forth above. This Court has no faith in the Debtors to adequately disclose and maximize the value of their remaining assets, such as the house in Japan or purported interests in that house. Moreover, this Court is concerned about the debtor's management of whatever is recovered, such as what might happen to proceeds from the sale of real property. This Court recognizes that safeguards can be attempted; but safeguards can also be evaded, and the tentative ruling is that the simplest and best safeguard is to appoint a chapter 7 trustee.

Second, this Court questions the debtor's projected lack of substantial recoveries in chapter 7. The tentative ruling is that the Fresco Parties have the better arguments regarding the potential benefits to unsecured creditors in a chapter 7 case (perhaps as much as 80% or more).

Third, supposing for the sake of discussion that the debtors were accurate in their projected recoveries in a liquidating chapter 11 case, and their comparison with projected recoveries in a chapter 7 case, that is not the only consideration. This Court must consider the integrity of the bankruptcy system. Given the debtors' gross mismanagement and this Court's concerns about the debtors' conduct (as described above) it appears that the only adequate safeguard of the integrity of the bankruptcy system is to convert these cases to chapter 7.

(iii) Evidentiary Objections (Sakurai, dkt. 233, 252) & (Checkmate 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 200, 204). The tentative ruling is that the history of this case and this Court's own admonishments to the debtors provides ample support for conversion, so this Court need not resolve the parties' respective evidentiary objections.

(iv) Proposed Orders. The Fresco Parties are directed to lodge proposed orders via this Court's LOU system within 7 days of the hearing.

(b) Application to Employ KW Commercial Inland Empire (dkt. 197) and Neiman Realty (dkt. 206). If this Court adopts the tentative ruling set forth above, the tentative ruling is to continue these hearings to the date and time set forth below to allow time for the chapter 7 trustees to weigh in.

(c) RS/Fower Adversary Proceeding (2:18-ap-01602-NB). The tentative ruling is to continue the status conference to the date and time stated below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

(a) Bar date: 1/17/18 (order timely served. dkt. 58, 59).

(a) Dec MOR (dkt. 97):

(i) On page 1 of 34, the MOR reflects $793,000 in cash receipts for the pre-petition Community Bank Sakurai Family Trust savings account, with a notation that Community Bank initially seized, but has since returned, the funds. What is this money from? Is it currently being held? Is it available to pay secured or unsecured creditors?

(ii) On page 7 of 34, there is a line item reflecting a $5,000 payment to Mr. Aronson for legal fees. At the status conference on 1/9/18 this court highlighted that the Sakurais had made a similar payment in November for Mr. Aronson's fees and counsel stated that the payment was made in error, and the debtors and their counsel assured this court that this issue would be addressed. By no later than February 7, 2018, Mr. Aronson is directed to file a declaration addressing the status of the $10,000 in legal fees ($5,000 Nov; $5,000 Dec) that he received from the Sakurais.

(b) Turnover of Documents and Information, etc. The parties must be prepared to address what documents and information have been produced by the debtors, and all other issues appropriate to raise at a status conference, including the issues in their recent status reports and related documents (case no. 2:17-bk-22660-NB, dkt. 87, 104, 105, 114, and 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 90, 93, 100, 102, 104, 105, 106, 109, 112, 113).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

Continue all matters scheduled for today in the Sakurai and Checkmate cases and related adversary proceeding to 1/30/18 at 2:00 p.m. in view of the apparent inability of the Office of the United States Trustee to appear due to the shutdown of much of the federal government. At the continued hearing the parties must be prepared to address all issues appropriate to raise at a status conference, including the issues in their recent status reports and related documents (case no. 2:17-bk-22660-NB, dkt. 87, 104, 105, and 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 90, 93, 100, 102, 104, 105, 106, 109). (1) Current issues

(a) Nov MOR (dkt. 83): On page 8 of 34, there is a line item reflecting a $5,000 payment to Mr. Aronson for legal fees. It is unclear why the Sakurai's are paying Checkmate's counsel for legal fees. What is this payment for?

Appearances required by at least one of the debtors and their counsel.

Proposed orders: The debtors are directed to serve and lodge proposed orders on each motion listed below via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date.

(1) Current issues

(a) Status Report (dkt. 42): The debtors' status report fails to suggest any bar date or any deadline for filing a draft plan and draft disclosure statement. The debtors suggest that the Fresco litigation might have to conclude before they can propose plan, but they fail to support any such delay with relevant information about that litigation, nor do they explain how claims estimation and/or a disputed claims reserve would be inadequate to address this litigation. See generally 11 U.S.C. 502(c) and Rule 3018(a) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.). Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to fix the deadlines set forth below.

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt. 8). The tentative ruling is to grant this motion on a final basis, on the same terms as the interim order (dkt. 43).

(b) Utility motion (dkt. 11). The tentative ruling is to grant this motion on

This court anticipates posting a tentative ruling at a later time.

Tentative Ruling for 10/26/17:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor.

(1) Current issues

(a) Proofs of service (dkt. 18, 19, 21, 22). Service does not appear to be in compliance with this court's orders shortening time because they do not certify that anyone was served via overnight delivery or other expedited means.

The following tentative rulings are contingent on filing a corrected proof of service, no later than the day after this hearing, declaring that such expedited service was actually done, or if that is not true then the tentative ruling is to impose sanctions of $200 on counsel for the debtors and, despite the lack of service, authorize the proposed expenditures of cash collateral

Proposed orders: The debtor is directed to serve and lodge proposed orders on each motion listed below via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date.

(1) Current issues

(a) Status Report (dkt. 37): The status report states that the debtor has no executory contracts. What about all the contracts with Radiology Solutions Inc./Corp. (whichever name is correct)?

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt.9): The debtor reports (dkt. 53, p.3) that it has reached a stipulation with Community Bank regarding the use of cash collateral, but as of the preparation of this tentative ruling no such stipulation appears on the docket. If there is no such stipulation, or if it does not moot the bank's opposition (dkt. 50), then the parties should be prepared to address the merits of that opposition. In addition, the parties should be prepared to address the objection of the Fresco parties (dkt. 49) and the debtor's response (dkt. 53).

(c) Payroll motion (dkt. 6). The tentative ruling is to grant this motion on a final basis.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

(a) Bar date: 1/17/18

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 4/16/18 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - the court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

(c) Continued status conference: 12/19/17 at 1:00 p.m. Brief status report due 12/7/17.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

Chapter 11

Tentative Ruling for 11/14/17:

This court anticipates posting a tentative ruling at a later time.

Tentative Ruling for 10/26/17:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor.

(1) Current issues

(a) Proof of service (dkt. 28). Service appears to be in compliance with this court's orders shortening time, except that no addresses are listed. The following tentative rulings are contingent on filing a corrected proof of service, no later than the day after this hearing, listing those addresses.

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt. 9). Subject to any opposition at the hearing, the tentative ruling is to grant this motion on the terms set forth in the separate tentative ruling on that motion.

(c) Payroll motion (dkt. 6). Subject to any opposition at the hearing, the tentative ruling is to grant this motion. Proposed order: Movant is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

(a) Bar date: TBD

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: 11/14/17 at 1:00 p.m. (see order, dkt. 20).

tentative ruling by 5/7/18, and (ii) the parties to file a brief joint status report by 5/29/18. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, none of the parties have complied. The parties are cautioned that failure to abide by applicable deadlines in future may result in adverse consequences.

(b) Motion for TRO & Claim and Delivery (adv. dkt. 10).

Plaintiff/debtor Checkmate King Co., Ltd. ("Checkmate") has filed a stipulation (adv. dkt. 30) with defendants Radiology Solutions Corp. ("RS") and George Fower ("Fower") for turnover of equipment. But Checkmate has not provided any evidence that it has relief from the automatic stay and consent of the Chapter 7 Trustee in the RS and Fower bankruptcy cases for such turnover (Case Nos. 8:18-bk-10585-TA and 8:18-bk-10583-TA). The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 6/19/18 for Checkmate to file a declaration attaching evidence sufficient to establish those things, and lodge a revised proposed order to approve the stipulation.

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 3/6/18. It is premature to set a discovery cutoff and other deadlines at this time. Continue to 7/17/18 at 2:00 p.m., brief joint status report due 7/3/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 5/8/18:

The tentative ruling is to continue all pending matters in this adversary proceeding to 6/12/18 at 2:00 p.m. for the reason stated below, with a brief joint status report due 5/29/18, and with a deadline of 5/7/18 for the plaintiff to file and serve a notice of continuances attaching and incorporating by reference the deadlines in this tentative ruling (assuming that this Court is not persuaded to depart from this tentative ruling). Appearances are not required on 5/8/18.

Hearing Room 1545

(1) Current Issues. This Court has reviewed the parties' status reports (adv. dkt. 24 & 26) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(a) Motion for TRO & Claim and Delivery (adv. dkt. 10). At the 4/9/18 hearing on this motion, counsel for plaintiff/debtor Checkmate King Co., Ltd. ("Checkmate") apprised this Court of the bankruptcy filings of defendants Radiology Solutions Corp. ("RS") and George Fower ("Fower") (Case Nos. 8:18-bk-10585-TA and 8:18-bk-10583-TA) and requested a continuance of this hearing to allow time to obtain orders granting relief from stay with annulment. In the Joint status report (adv. dkt. 24), Checkmate states that the hearings on the relief from stay motions are scheduled for 5/15/18. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to continue this motion to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling.

(b) Siemens Motion to Dismiss (adv. dkt. 27, the "MTD"). Defendant Siemens Medical Solutions USA, Inc. ("Siemens") has properly self-calendared its MTD for 6/12/18 at 11:00 a.m. Siemens anticipates that it may be voluntarily dismissed by plaintiff (see adv. dkt. 24), but if that does not occur then this Court anticipates that the MTD may take 15 minutes or more to hear. This Court's practice is that matters anticipated to take 15 minutes or more are heard on the 2:00 p.m. calendar (not available for self-calendaring, except by permission of this Court). Therefore the tentative ruling is to re-calendar the MTD from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., which is concurrent with the other matters in this adversary proceeding that are on today's calendar.

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 3/6/18. It is premature to set a discovery cutoff and other deadlines at this time.

#1.00 Cont'd hrg re: Motion to Extend Time for Debtor to Assume and Assign Unexpired Non-Residential Real Property Leases fr. 8/3/18

Docket 457

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 9/20/18:

Appearances required. The parties should be prepared to address the issues raised in the filed papers regarding each of the three motions that are set for hearing today:

(1) the Motion to assume the lease with Odysseus Investment Group, LLC ("Odysseus") of the property at 1356 Palmetto St., Los Angeles, at which the debtor operates Bridge Tavern, LLC dba Villains Tavern ("Villains") (dkt. 187, the "Motion re Odysseus" and id. Ex.1, the "Odysseus Lease") (the portion of this motion seeking to assign this lease is no longer relevant, see dkt. 501);

(2) the Motion to assume the lease of the property at 1629 Griffith Park Blvd. and 1604 Edgecliffe Drive, Los Angeles with the Presbytery of The Pacific (the "Presbytery") (dkt. 351, the "Motion re Presbytery" and id. Ex.A&B, the "Presbytery Lease") (the portion of this motion seeking to assign this lease apparently is no longer relevant because the proposed assignee has withdrawn), and

(3) the Motion to extent the time under 11 U.S.C. 365(d)(4)(B) to assume and assign leases (or, potentially, reject leases), which expressly includes the lease of 1629 Griffith Park Blvd (dkt. 457, p.1:23-28) and also includes "any other leases" within the bankruptcy estate (id., p.4:2) (the "365 (d) Motion").

This Court intends to begin the hearing by addressing with the parties whether they have reached any partial or complete resolution of their issues. If not, this Court intends to give a partial tentative ruling and then hear arguments.

The parties are encouraged not to repeat their arguments from the papers. Principal documents reviewed: Motion re Odysseus (dkt. 187); Committee response (dkt. 269); Motion re Presbytery (dkt. 351); 365(d) Motion (dkt. 457); Odysseus combined oppositions (dkt. 612); Presbytery opposition and response (dkt. 613, 614); Debtor's reply re Odysseus (dkt. 618); Committee Joinders (dkt. 619-21); Agent's Reply re Presbytery (dkt. 623); Debtor's reply re Presbytery (dkt. 624); Agent's Reply re Odysseus (dkt. 625); Settlement Agreement between debtor, Villains and Odysseus (dkt. 188, Ex.1, and dkt. 337); Debtor's Insolvency Report (dkt. 312); the Term Sheet governing the Agent's duties and powers (dkt. 547 and 557). This Court has also reviewed various other documents, e.g., Odysseus' initial Opposition to the debtor's proposed assumption and assignment of the Odysseus Lease to Mr. Bahmani and/or his assignee (dkt. 287), but such other documents have been largely superseded (e.g., by the withdrawal of Mr. Bahmani and the parties' shift in focus to the issues addressed in the above-referenced briefs).

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 9/21/18:

Appearances required. This Court has reviewed the transcript that orally memorializes the principal parties' settlement. See Tr. 9/7/18 (dkt. 295), pp. 3:16-15:18 & 30:1-4 (the "Main Settlement"). The parties should be prepared to address the following issues.

(1) Settlement documentation. What documents are being prepared to implement the Main Settlement (e.g., the form of notice to the Truck Drivers, including their election whether to return the trucks and their agreement to mutual releases)? What is the status of that preparation? Will the notice to the Truck Drivers need to be in any languages other than English and Spanish? What steps can be taken before the documentation is finalized, and conversely what steps should wait until the documents are finalized?

(2) Secured/unsecured Truck Drivers. How do the parties propose to address what portion of the distributions from the bankruptcy estate should be allocated to the secured claims of certain Truck Drivers, and what remainder should be allocated to unsecured claims? Is that issue deferred until a proposed chapter 11 plan? If so, how will the possible effects of various secured claim amounts be adequately explained to the Truck Drivers who will be asked to consent to the Main Settlement? Conversely, if the parties have a proposed settlement as to the allowed dollar amount of these secured claims, what are the proposed terms of that additional settlement (the "Secured Driver Claims Settlement")?

(3) Procedures. What procedures should apply to the Main Settlement and any Secured Driver Claims Settlement (or litigation)? For example, is another Rule 9019 motion advisable (or necessary)? Should this Court find and conclude, under Rule 2002(a)(3), Fed. R. Bankr. P., that some sort of supplemental notice and opportunity to object (and overbid?) is sufficient, given that notice has already been provided of the basic issues and standards governing settlement? See dkt. 36 (settlement motion) and dkt. 122 (priorities/secured claims motion).

Whatever further procedures are required, should different sets of documents be provided to (a) the Truck Drivers (holding both secured and unsecured claims) and (b) other creditors (holding both secured and unsecured claims)? Should all creditors, including the Truck Drivers, receive a complete set of settlement documentation, or is that an undue expense? Is it sufficient for such documents to be available upon request? Should any cover letter/notice be translated, but not the underlying documentation (to save expense)?

(4) Calendaring. Is it appropriate (a) to continue the status conference and settlement motion (dkt. 19) for a relatively brief time, so that the parties can prepare the settlement documentation for review by this Court prior to mailing, and (b) take off calendar (without prejudice) all other matters that have been set for hearing today, including the overbid procedures motion (dkt. 149)?

(c) Motion to Determine Extent & Priority of Truck Drivers' Liens (dkt. 122). The tentative ruling is to defer ruling on this until after resolution of the motion to disqualify and continue the hearing to a date and time to be set at the continued status conference set forth below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/6/17.

(a) Bar date: 3/16/18 (order timely served, dkt. 43, 46).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

Revised Tentative Ruling for 5/29/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Debtor's Motion to Extend Time to Assume or Reject Lease (dkt. 139). Debtor seeks an extension of time to assume or reject its lease of commercial real property located at 2727 E. Del Amo Blvd., Rancho Dominguez, CA 90221 (the "Property") with Joe Murez Exempt Trust ("JMET" or "Landlord") through June 4, 2018. But in connection with Landlord's currently motion (dkt. 184, see discussion below), the debtor concedes that there are incurable defaults that prevent it from assuming the lease and states that it intends to vacate and surrender the Property by May 31, 2018 (dkt. 197, PDF p. 7, lines 17-19 & Wallace Declaration, paragraph 14). Additionally, on May 7, 2018, debtor served its subtenants with 30-day notices to terminate rental agreement with an expiration date of June 6, 2018 (id., Ex. A).

In Landlord's motion (dkt. 184, see discussion below), it seeks possession of the Property effective as of June 5, 2018 and appears to have consented to an extension through that time (see dkt. 184, PDF p. 4, lines 26-27).

The tentative ruling is to grant the debtor's motion and extend the deadline to assume or reject the lease to May 31, 2018. The effects of that date on the subtenants and the Landlord are addressed below.

(b) Landlord's Motion for Administrative Claim and Possession of Property (dkt. 184).

(i) Base rent, late fees, interest, CAM, taxes, attorneys' fees and costs. Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 365(d)(3), Landlord is entitled to an allowed administrative expense for the full amount of rent accrued during the period following the order for relief through the lease rejection, regardless of the actual value conferred by the lease upon the estate. See Pacific-Atlantic Trading Company, 27 F.3d 401 (9th Cir. 1994); In re Cukierman, 265 F.3d 846 (9th Cir. 2001). Section 365(d)(3) requires immediate payment of lease obligations so that the landlord is not left providing uncompensated services. In re Cukierman, 265 F.3d at 851-52.

In this case, Paragraph 4.1 of the Lease provides: "All monetary obligations of Lessee to Lessor under the terms of this Lease (except for the Security Deposit) are deemed to be Rent." Pursuant to paragraphs 1.5, 4.3, 10.2, 13.4, 13.5, and 31, Landlord is entitled to an allowed administrative expense for payment of base rent, late fees, interest, CAM, taxes, and attorneys' fees and costs. On the record before this Court, Landlord holds an estimated administrative expense in the amount of $79,965.01 ($48,626 (May rent) + $4,862.20 (late fee) + $11,661.31 (real property taxes) + $14,815.5 (attorneys fees) = $79,965.01). Landlord may supplement the record to establish a valid basis for any additional amounts it may be entitled to under the Lease (e.g., prorated June rent if the debtor has not turned over the premises as of 5/31/18).

(ii) No superpriority. Section 365(d)(3) does not authorize a superpriority over other administrative expenses. In re LPM Corp., 300 F.3d 1134 (9th Cir. 2002). It is possible that the estate will be administratively insolvent (although the estate's assets and its administrative claims are largely moving targets until the conclusion of any bankruptcy case) so if Landlord had slept on its rights and were seeking prior months' rent it would not be entitled to payment at this time; but that is not the situation.

Landlords are entitled to current payments. Other administrative claimants are not. There is no evidence that this Landlord has slept on its rights.

Reconciling the lack of priority with the entitlement to current payments, the tentative ruling is that Landlord is entitled to immediate payment of a pro rata share of funds that are available to pay estimated accrued administrative expenses to date. This is essentially the alternative relief requested by Landlord (see dkt. 200, p.4:4-8).

Because the interim fee applications (discussed below) seek approximately $305,000 in fees and expenses, and because Landlord's claim is approximately $79,965.01, it appears that the rough total of accrued administrative expenses is approximately $385,000, of which Landlord holds roughly $80,000, or approximately 20% ( $$80,000/$385,000 = 20.8\%$ ). Therefore, the tentative ruling is that Landlord is entitled to immediate payment of approximately 20% of the $47,000 in unrestricted funds currently in debtor's possession (dkt. 197, PDF p. 13, paragraph 13), or approximately $9,400.

(iii) Landlord has not established that the funds are held in trust for it. This Court is not persuaded that the $47,000 in funds debtor has on hand is being held in trust for Landlord. Landlord has not carried its burden of establishing that, under California law, an express trust exists that excepts these funds from estate property. See Golden Mortg. Fund # 14 v. Kennedy, 171 B.R. 79, 84 (9th Cir. BAP 1994) ("A creditor has the burden to prove that the funds in the debtor's possession should be held in trust for that creditor's benefit").

(iv) Surrender and Writ of Possession. Landlord has discretion whether to extend the time for the debtor to assume or reject the Lease beyond the statutory maximum, or permit occupancy after rejection, absent nonbankruptcy law that would permit occupants to continue in possession. As set forth above, the tentative ruling is that the lease will be deemed rejected on 5/31/18.

Because neither the subtenants nor any other party in interest has articulated a sufficient basis for the subtenants to continue to occupy the Property following rejection of the Lease, the tentative ruling is to grant Landlord's request for a writ of possession directing any subtenants to surrender and vacate the property effective 6/6/18. Landlord is instructed to review LBR 7064-1 and include the necessary language set forth in 7064-1(e) into the proposed order.

(v) Relief from stay. The tentative ruling is to grant Landlord relief from the automatic stay under 362(d)(1).

(vi) Waiver of 14-day stay. The tentative ruling is to waive the 14-day stay.

(c) Interim Fee Apps of Levene Neale Bender Yoo & Brill (dkt. 177); CohenReznick LLP (dkt. 178); and Haberbush & Associates LLP (dkt. 179), and related documents (dkt. 200, 214). The tentative ruling is to approve the applications on an interim basis, subject to final review and approval at the conclusion of the case, but deny the requests for immediate payment of fees and expenses given the debtor's limited funds on hand, except that Haberbush & Associates may draw down on its pre-petition retainer, subject to the possibility of disgorgement in future.

(1) Current issues.

(a) April MOR (dkt.192). On PDF p. 3, the debtor identifies a payment made to "Transport" on 4/26/18 in the amount of $55,515.00 for "dispatch and brokerage svc." What is this payment for? Is it an "ordinary course" transaction?

(b) Motion to Disqualify Truck Driver Counsel (dkt. 125). This Court issued an order (dkt. 169, amended dkt. 175) continuing this motion and set (i) a 5/15/18 deadline for the Slattery Law Firm and Hirsch Law Firm to file supplemental papers addressing who properly represents the Truck Drivers; and (ii) a 5/21/18 at noon deadline to file any responses.

This Court has reviewed the relevant papers. See dkt. 125, 126 & 127 (motion papers), dkt. 143 (Hirsch opposition), dkt. 145 (Slattery opposition), dkt. 156, 157 (debtor's reply), dkt. 161 (Slattery decl.), dkt. 167 (Slattery Rule 2019 statements), dkt. 189 (debtor's authorities re attorney-client privilege as applied to retainer agreements), dkt. 199 (Hirsch supp. opposition), dkt. 201 (Slattery decl.), dkt. 202 (Hirsch supp. reply), dkt. 203 (Hirsch evid. obj. to Slattery decl.), dkt. 204 (Rivera|Shakleford opp. re S.H. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the debtor has not complied. The debtor should be prepared to address why it failed to comply with this court's order.

(c) Employment application: Creditors' Committee Counsel (dkt. 47, 65). The objection by certain truck drivers (dkt. 63) has been withdrawn (dkt. 89). The debtor's limited objection (dkt. 55) and the reply papers (dkt. 85, 86) raise issues that are best addressed in connection with any application for compensation, at which time this Court can evaluate whether the hourly billing rates are commensurate with the nature of the work performed, the time spent on each task, and the other factors under 11 U.S.C. 330. parties should be prepared to address whether this Court should approve the pretrial order proposed by the United States Trustee (dkt. 52, 53), what evidence they expect to present, and any other matters appropriate to be addressed at a pretrial/status conference.

Tentative Ruling for 8/7/18:

Continue to 9/18/18 at 2:00 p.m., and vacate the trial that is scheduled to commence on 8/15/18 at 9:00 a.m., in view of the automatic stay arising from the filing of the bankruptcy petition of Mr. William G. Hill (Case No. 1:18-bk-11914-VK). Appearances are not required on 8/7/18.

Analysis: First, although this Court has located authority that proceedings under 11 U.S.C. 110 are within the police and regulatory power exception to the automatic stay, that conclusion may be subject to dispute, and Mr. Hill (and the Office of the United States Trustee) have not had the opportunity to brief that issue. See In re Hernandez, 66 Collier Bankr.Cas.2d 1022 at n.9 & accompanying text (Bankr. D. Colo. 2011). See also In re Dingley, 852 F.3d 1143 (9th Cir. 2017) (civil contempt proceedings exempted from automatic stay when intended to effectuate court's public policy interest in deterring litigation misconduct).

Second, regardless whether the automatic stay applies, the tentative ruling is that continuing this matter is in keeping with the spirit of the "breathing spell" that bankruptcy is supposed to afford. This Court recognizes that the debtor may be very much in need of whatever funds could be owed to him by Mr. Hill, but any delay from the automatic stay is unlikely to last long.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances

Tentative Ruling for 6/7/18:

Appearances required. The parties have raised a number of disputed issues, including issues of credibility (attorney Leslie Richards, Esq. blaming former attorney William G. Hill and vice versa), that appear to require an evidentiary hearing. The parties are directed to address when this Court should schedule such a hearing.

In addition, the parties should be prepared to address whether 11 U.S.C. 110 can encompass liability against an attorney, as argued by the United States Trustee ("UST"). See dkt. 41, pp.2, 7-9, & nn.2 & 8). The parties should also be prepared to address whether this Court should grant any additional time for the UST to file additional or amended papers with respect to Ms. Richards.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." #8.00 Hrg re: Objection to Claim Number 1

Tentative Ruling:

Deny, but appearances required to address the following issues.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Failure to attach proof of claim. Counsel for the debtor did not attach a copy of the proof of claim to the filed papers, despite the fact the Local Bankruptcy Rules and the Local Form both say that a copy must be attached.

(2) Failure to serve at correct address. One reason for requiring a copy of the proof of claim is that it includes the address to which notices should be sent. In this instance Proof of Claim 1 lists an address for notices in Eagan, MN, but the proofs of service included in the debtor's claim objection (dkt. 30, 31, 33) all show service at an address in Des Moines, IA.

Counsel for the debtor is directed to address at the hearing why the wrong address was used. This Court has serious concerns about an objection to a claim of this large a dollar amount, with an asserted security interest in collateral, and with allegations of fraud and yet that was served so poorly.

(3) Inadequate evidence. The debtor admits that he applied for and received a line of credit. But he claims that he never drew on that line, that the funds were dispersed into an account ending in 5170 which was not the debtor's account, that he has previously asked the claimant for "statements and all related documents" (dkt. 33-1, last page, last paragraph) but has not been provided with anything, and that he has filed a fraud claim with the FDIC and the investigation is ongoing.

Although these are very troubling allegations, the debtor has not provided enough information and documentation to overcome the prima facie validity of the claim. For example, why would the debtor apply for a line of credit but then not use it? Does the debtor have any information about who would have known that the debtor had a line of credit, and how the alleged fraud happened? Why is there no copy of the fraud report attached to the declaration? Were the debtor's inquiries to the claimant in writing, and if so, why are no copies attached? Was there no response at all from the claimant, or is the debtor only asserting that the response was not what he wanted? Etc, etc, etc. There are too many gaps and oddities in this story for it to overcome the prima facie validity of the claim.

#9.00 Order to show cause re: Dismissal due to simultaneous bankruptcy cases

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is to dismiss this case with a 180 day bar against being a debtor in bankruptcy, for willful failure to appear in proper prosecution of this case within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1). First, the debtor has not filed any response to this Court's order (dkt. 11) to show cause why this case should not be dismissed (due to the pendency of a previous bankruptcy case, Case No. 2:18-bk-17915-RK). See also dkt. 13 (proof of service on 9/13/18).

Second, although it is certainly possible to make legitimate use of this latest case, such as a "chapter 20" that discharges unsecured debts in a chapter 7 case and then cures arrears in secured debts in a chapter 13 case, that is not what the debtor is proposing. Rather, the debtor's proposed chapter 13 Plan (dkt. 6) is incomplete, mostly blank, and insufficient.

Third, although the automatic stay apparently will expire shortly (under 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(3)), due to a prior dismissed case (Case No. 2:18-bk-16715-SK) the debtor has not filed any motion to continue the automatic stay. Therefore it seems doubtful that there would be anything gained by further proceedings in this bankruptcy case, and this is further evidence that the debtor is failing to appear in proper prosecution of this case.

This Court recognizes that the debtor may be distraught over the loss of his home (see Case No. 2:18-bk-17915-RK, dkt. 16). But that does not mean the debtor can file repeated bankruptcy cases without prosecuting them.

(b) Evidentiary issues (dkt. 35, pp.2:22-5:9). The tentative ruling is to sustain objection numbers "1" and "2" in full, "3" on the hearsay ground (and the lack of reliability of Zillow, Redfin, and Trulia, at least when not used by a licensed real estate appraiser or other person who could qualify as an expert who generally can rely on hearsay), and "5" (there is no "4") because the Reyes appraisal must be authenticated by the appraiser, not by Reyes' attorney.

Despite sustaining all of these objections, the result is only that there is a disputed issue of fact as to the value of the subject property. Moreover, the debtor's Reply includes new evidence, which is generally improper in a reply. That new evidence may or may not be sufficient to support the debtor's asserted valuation of the subject property. This is an additional reason why there are disputed issues of material fact that must be resolved.

Note: Although Reyes' Opposition alleges that there are a number of "substantial omissions and misrepresentations" in the papers filed by the debtor (dkt. 26, p.4:12-21), she does not appear to assert any evidentiary objections based on those alleged facts, nor does she explain how they might be relevant to valuation or other issues in connection with this motion. Therefore this Court expresses no view on those allegations.

(c) Evidence of Value. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address how they propose to resolve their disputes re: valuation of the subject property - e.g., (i) with an evidentiary hearing; (ii) with a court ruling based solely on the written record (to save costs, if all parties consent), (iii) through mediation, or (iv) through appointment of an appraiser (jointly selected by the parties/their appraisers) as the court's own expert under FRE 706. Note: Judge Bason requires valuations at or near the petition date. See In re Gutierrez, 503 B.R. 458 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2013).

Tentative Ruling for 5/8/18:

Appearances required.

At the hearing on 3/20/18, this Court continued the matter to this date and directed (1) debtor to commence making higher payments to Movant in the amount of $4,079.99 ($3,698.51 P&I + $381.48 escrow); and (2) set deadlines for (a) Movant to file a supplemental declaration regarding recalculation of the appropriate monthly escrow fund payment, and (b) debtor to file a response.

This Court has reviewed Movant's supplemental declaration (dkt. 68) and debtor's response (dkt. 72). The parties should be prepared to address whether they have reached any resolution regarding debtor's contention that Movant has not taken into account any credits received from hazard insurance and county taxes.

Chapter 13

Tentative Ruling for 3/20/18:

Grant in part, deny in part, and continue to 4/10/17 at 10:00 a.m., all as set forth below. Appearances required.

(1) Background

The parties appear to agree that the debtor has made monthly payments of $3,698.51 (the normal amortizing principal and interest payments). Those payments were due on the first day of each month, and generally were paid a few days later. See dkt. 8, Ex.5 (movant's spreadsheet) and dkt. 61, Ex.A, & dkt. 62) (debtor's copies of cashier checks). The motion lists some late charges, attorney fees, and other items (dkt. 58, p.7, para.8), but those do not appear to have been included in the movant's spreadsheet (dkt. 58, Ex.5, at PDF pp.30-33), perhaps because the listed amounts are for prepetition periods. In any event, the core of the parties' disagreement appears to involve an escrow impound account to pay real estate taxes and property insurance premiums.

(2) The debtor's assertions of "improper" escrow impounds are unpersuasive

The debtor's declaration (dkt. 61, Tribelsky Decl., para.9, at PDF p.7:24-28) asserts that the impound is "improper" and that the debtor has "struggled with [movant] Wells Fargo to have them end these impounds." The debtor also declares (dkt. 61, at PDF p.7:16-22) that there was an "improper increase" in monthly payments starting on March 1, 2016, which he believes was due to an escrow impound for taxes and insurance.

The debtor fails to explain why there is anything "improper" about requiring him to pay into an escrow for real estate taxes and insurance. The loan documents (dkt. 8, Ex.1, para.3, pp.4-5) require the debtor to make escrow payments for taxes and insurance premiums on the same date at the payments of principal and interest.

It is true that the movant apparently had not required escrow payments for some unspecified period prior to March 1, 2016. See Notice of Mortgage Payment Change (Official Form 410S1) (the "Change Notice"), filed 1/19/16 on the Claims Register, at PDF pp.5-6 (requiring monthly payments of $351.96 commencing March 1, 2016). But if the debtor is asserting some sort of waiver that argument is unpersuasive. The Deed of Trust provides (dkt. 58, Ex.1, para.3, pp.4-5) that although the movant may waive the escrow requirement, the movant "may revoke the waiver as to any or all Escrow Items at any time" and then the debtor "shall pay" all escrow amounts.

The debtor apparently just ignored his obligation to pay escrow impound amounts. Instead he has presented evidence (dkt. 61, Ex.B, at PDF pp.38 et seq.) that he paid taxes directly to the tax authorities and insurance premiums directly to the insurers.

It appears that the movant must have credited the debtor's direct payments of taxes and insurance, because its Change Notice filed on 10/18/16 lists a low estimated "Starting balance" of $861.27 as of December 2016 (although that apparently assumes that the debtor would start making his required escrow payments). In any event, the movant's Change Notice is prima facie evidence of the validity of this underlying calculation in support of its claim, and the debtor has not established that there is anything wrong with the movant's accounting included in its Change Notice filed on 10/18/16.

Similarly, by the time of the next Change Notice it appears that the movant must have once again credited the debtor's direct payments of taxes and insurance because, the escrow account projections ("Part 3") project a required "Starting balance" for March 2018 of only $762.96 (although, again, this appears to assume that the debtor will have made certain payments into the escrow account by the start of March 2018). In any event, the debtor has not shown that there is anything wrong with this supporting underlying documentation of the movant's claim.

(3) Despite the deficiencies in the debtor's arguments and evidence, it appears that the motion itself fails to account for the debtor's direct payments of real estate taxes and insurance

The motion asserts (dkt. 58, p.9, para.12.c.) that the debtor was behind three payments of $4,053.45, for a total of $12,160.35, less a suspense account balance of $1,166.12, for a total of $10,994.23 as of approximately 12/12/18 (when the declaration in support of the motion was signed). But unlike the Change Notices the motion does not appear to give the debtor credit for direct payments of real estate taxes and insurance.

Based on the spreadsheet attached to the motion as Exhibit 5 (dkt. 58, at PDF pp.30-33), the alleged shortfall of $10,994.23 appears to be the cumulative sum of all the shortfalls between the $3,698.51 that the debtor was paying each month (the normal amortizing principal and interest payments) and the higher monthly amounts that he should have been paying in order to fund the escrow account. There are no entries in the spreadsheet that appear to reflect the debtor's direct payments of taxes and insurance.

Nor is it possible to rely on the latest Change Notice to determine precisely what the debtor owes. At first glance that Change Notice would appear to have current information because it was filed on 3/5/18, but it provides only a projected shortfall of $762.96 in the escrow account as of March 2018 (3/5/18 Charge Notice at PDF p.6, Part 3, end of first line). That projection probably is too low, because it appears to assume that part of the debtor's monthly payment is credited to the escrow account in January of 2018, and that the debtor will make some very substantial payments in February and March of 2018, and that the real estate taxes that are due in March of 2018 will be paid out of those escrow payments (see id., Part 4, 2d and 5th columns, rows for January, February, and March, including credits of $1,281.90, $9,810.75, and $354.94, and debit of $1,612.38).

The bottom line is that although the movant has not established precisely what the debtor owes, it has established cause for some sort of relief from the automatic stay - namely, there is "cause" within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) in that the debtor has failed for many months to comply with his obligations to fund the escrow account, which exposes the movant to the risk that it will have to bear the cost if the debtor fails to pay real estate taxes or insurance (especially if the property were to be damaged or completely burn down). The required adequate protection is for the debtor to cure the deficiency in the escrow account over a reasonable period of time.

The latest Change Notice (filed 3/5/18) can be used as a starting point. It requires that the debtor pay $381.48 per month into the escrow account, in addition to his regular monthly payments of $3,698.51 on account of principal and interest, for total monthly payments of $4,079.99. The escrow payments may have to be adjusted (as noted above, the Change Notice appears to assume that the debtor will have made some very substantial payments by the start of March 2018), but this Court can set a schedule for such adjustment (see below).

(4) Conclusion

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 4/1/18 for the debtor (a) to file evidence that he has paid the March 2018 real estate tax payment directly to the taxing authority and (b) to commence making monthly payments of $381.48 into the escrow account, in addition to his regular monthly payments of $3,698.51 on account of principal and interest, for total monthly payments of $4,079.99.

In addition, the tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 4/1/18 for the movant to file a supplemental declaration showing a calculation of the required escrow balance as of 5/1/18, the required monthly payments for the debtor to cure the deficiency in that escrow balance, and the resulting new total monthly payment that the debtor will have to pay on 5/1/18 and each month thereafter.

Finally, the tentative ruling is to set a continued hearing at the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, so that the parties and this Court can address what to do if the debtor disputes the movant's calculations.

When objecting to claims, be sure to consider whether the costs of preparing and litigating the claim objection (administrative expenses) do not exceed the anticipated benefits (reductions in claims). For example, if the anticipated dividend is small or 0%, your claim objection to any general unsecured claim should clearly explain how it is justified to incur the attorney fees for that objection.

In this instance, it appears that the claim objection, if successful, would result in a benefit that exceeds the costs of counsel's fees. However, the debtor failed to include any analysis demonstrating that this is so. The debtor is cautioned that failure to follow this Court's rules and procedures in future may result in adverse consequences.

(3) Evidentiary issues. The parties should address whether they have finished investigating the facts and either informally or formally exchanging information, and how they propose to resolve their disputes - e.g., (i) with an evidentiary hearing; (ii) with a court ruling based solely on a written record (to save costs, if all parties consent), or (iii) through mediation.

Reasons:

(1) The claim objection fails to include a sufficient cost/benefit analysis.
Judge Bason's posted Procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) state:

When objecting to claims, be sure to consider whether the costs of preparing and litigating the claim objection (administrative expenses) do not exceed the anticipated benefits (reductions in claims). For example, if the anticipated dividend is small or 0%, your claim objection to any general unsecured claim should clearly explain how it is justified to incur the attorney fees for that objection.

No later than 9/13/18, the movant must file either:

(a) a supplemental declaration explaining why the attorney fees for this objection are justified (including supporting evidence, such as a copy of the plan showing the projected dividend to the claimant, and a calculation comparing that projected dividend against the attorney fees related to this claim objection), or

(b) a withdrawal of the claim objection.

(2) No fees absent specific order. Counsel is prohibited from charging any fees on this matter (including all past, present and future work related to this claim objection) and is directed to return any fees that might be (or might have already been) awarded relative to this matter, unless this Court expressly states in a future adopted tentative ruling or written order that the cost/benefit analysis warrants charging fees.

#2.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [RP]

BAYVIEW LOAN SERVICING, LLC
DEBTOR

Docket 91

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief. Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

DEBTOR

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

Grant in part and deny in part as set forth below. Appearances required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Section 362(d)(1): no relief. The movant ("US Bank") has not established sufficient cause for relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1), for the reasons stated by the Chapter 7 Trustee ("Trustee"). See dkt. 14.

(2) Section 362(d)(2): no relief. US Bank apparently seeks relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2), notwithstanding Trustee's correct observation that not all of the appropriate boxes were checked on the form for seeking such relief. This Court finds and concludes that there was adequate notice that US Bank probably is seeking such relief. But in any event US Bank has not established that it is entitled to such relief.

True, this is a liquidation case so there cannot be any reorganization, which is one of the two elements of section 362(d)(2). But the burden is on US Bank to prove the other element: that Debtor lacks any equity in the property. See 11 U.S.C. 362(g). US Bank has not established that element, so it has not shown that relief must be granted under section 362(d)(2).

Moreover, Trustee has presented evidence that there is a substantial equity cushion. So even if US Bank had presented some evidence of a lack of equity (which it has not), Trustee has rebutted any such evidence. Therefore, relief is not appropriate under section 362(d)(2).

(3) Section 362(d)(4): limited relief. The tentative ruling is that US Bank has established every element of section 362(d)(4): it is a creditor with a claim secured by real property; the filing of the debtor's bankruptcy petition was the latest in a very long line of bankruptcy cases that were not prosecuted and therefore appear on their face to have had the purpose to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors in enforcing their rights and remedies; and that scheme involved an unauthorized transfer of the subject real property, and alternatively the scheme involved multiple bankruptcy cases. Therefore, under the plain meaning of the statute, this Court must grant relief (in some fashion) from the automatic stay.

The debtor's opposition argues that he was defrauded by the "foreclosure prevention" agents to whom he went for help (the "Agents"). This Court takes judicial notice that this is not an uncommon situation, and it is very unfortunate. See In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (Bason, J.). But, first, the debtor's argument does not take away from the fact that the movant was harmed by the type of scheme set forth in section 362(d)(4) and therefore the plain meaning of the statute is that this Court "shall" grant some form of relief (the type of relief is addressed below).

Alternatively, whatever harm the debtor's own Agents caused to him, he has not shown why it would be appropriate to shift that harm to US Bank. To the contrary, assuming without deciding that the debtor was entirely innocent of any participation in the scheme, he chose the Agents, and vested them with apparent authority, which they used to delay the foreclosure sale through dozens of bankruptcy filings. Therefore, assuming for purposes of discussion that the debtor was entirely ignorant of what his Agents were doing, he must bear the consequences of their acts rather than shifting those consequences to US Bank. Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526.

(4) Appropriate form of relief

"Relief" from the automatic stay can take many forms: it is not limited to termination of the stay. In this case, the tentative ruling is that the appropriate relief is to issue an order providing (a) that no future bankruptcy case will have any effect on the subject property for a period of two years, as set forth in more detail in section 362(d)(4), and meanwhile (b) that in this current bankruptcy case the automatic stay should remain in place because US Bank is adequately protected by the equity cushion in the property and by Trustee's plans to market and sell the property.

In addition, the tentative ruling is that to the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in past bankruptcy cases, or cases other than this one that are currently pending, such relief is denied on the present record. But such denial is without prejudice to seeking such relief if the necessary procedures are followed. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Finally, the tentative ruling is to grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply.

This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(4).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that the debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that the debtor was involved and the debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that the debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is sufficient evidence and notice.

The automatic stay does not apply. Grant the motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(c) (3) and (j): there is no automatic stay because (a) the debtor's prior case (# 2:18-bk-16697-SK) was dismissed (on August 6, 2018) within one year before this case was filed (on August 15, 2018), (b) that dismissal was not under 11 U.S.C. 707(b), and (c) no finding of good faith was timely sought and obtained. The automatic stay has terminated both as to the debtor in personam and as to property of the debtor. See In re Hernandez & Jiminez, Case No. 2:11-bk-53730-NB, Dkt 40.

Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

DEBTOR

Docket 38

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Debtor's opposition to motion for relief from automatic stay (dkt. 42)

(1) Limited relief. Modify and condition the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) such that the movant may proceed in the nonbankruptcy forum to final judgment (including any appeals) in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law, subject to the following limitations (Judge Bason's standard limitations).

(a) No enforcement against property of the bankruptcy estate. The stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against property of the debtor's bankruptcy estate - any such property shall be distributed when and how provided by the Bankruptcy Code. Nevertheless, the movant is permitted to enforce its final judgment by (i) collecting upon any available insurance in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law or (ii) proceeding against the debtor as to any property that is not property of this bankruptcy estate. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(2)(B) & 541(b)(7) (collection of domestic support obligations from ERISA qualified retirement plans).

(b) Claim allowance, priority, and discharge issues. Any claims arising from the nonbankruptcy litigation are subject to this Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction regarding claim allowance and priority, and the existence and scope of any bankruptcy discharge.

(c) No relief in other bankruptcy cases. To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Additional analysis:

(1) The tentative ruling is that mandatory abstention applies

The tentative ruling is that, although the trial in State Court likely will not be held as soon as it could be in this Bankruptcy Court, nevertheless it can be "timely adjudicated" within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(2). In addition, it appears that the other elements of mandatory abstention apply.

This Court recognizes that the debtor may have various reasons why a trial in this Bankruptcy Court would be preferable. Bankruptcy procedures sometimes are more streamlined, less expensive, and faster, and in addition, if the debtor has not had sufficient resources to conduct as much discovery as would be preferable (or engage in other pretrial preparation) then the debtor might be at a disadvantage in going to trial in the State Court. Nevertheless, those things would not necessarily carry the day for the debtor if this Court had any discretion (see below), and in any event mandatory abstention is just that - mandatory - so this Court does not discretion to decline to abstain.

(2) Alternatively, the tentative ruling is to grant the motion because discretionary abstention and the traditional factors weigh slightly in favor of lifting the automatic stay to conduct the nonbankruptcy litigation

The Bankruptcy Court "shall grant relief from the stay" upon a showing of "cause." 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1). Such relief need not take the form of a complete termination of the automatic stay, but instead may include "modifying or conditioning such stay." Id.

"Cause" is determined on a case-by-case basis." In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir.1990). In determining whether "cause" exists to grant relief from the automatic stay to allow a movant to pursue litigation in a non-bankruptcy forum, courts in the Ninth Circuit have examined the factors set forth in In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799–800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984). See In re Kronemeyer, 405 B.R. 915 (9th Cir. BAP 2009); In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc., 311 B.R. 551, 559–60 (Bankr. C.D. Cal.2004). Essentially the same factors have been applied in considering discretionary abstention under 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(1).

Those factors are: (1) Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues; (2) The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case; (3) Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary; (4) Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases; (5) Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation; (6) Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question; (7) Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties; (8) Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c); (9) Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f); (10) The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties; (11) Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial; and (12) The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt." Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 559. "[W]hile the Curtis factors are widely used to determine the existence of 'cause,' not all of the factors are relevant in every case, nor is a court required to give each factor equal weight." In re Landmark Fence Co., Inc., 2011 WL 6826253 at *4 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 9, 2011).

Based on the present record, the tentative ruling is that these factors weigh in favor of granting relief as set forth above. Most significantly:

- (a) the Superior Court is better situated to conduct a jury trial (as demanded in the movant's Complaint), and
- (b) this bankruptcy case was filed on the eve of trial in the State Court.

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(4).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that the debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that the debtor was involved and the debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that the debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is sufficient evidence and notice.

Effective date of relief. Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 98

Tentative Ruling:

Grant. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Reasons: Debtor's Counsel is cautioned to differentiate between time spent traveling to and from a hearing and time spent appearing at a hearing. (See dkt. 98 at 17). Judge Bason's procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) require that counsel may only bill for a maximum of 2 hours per day of non-working travel time absent an adequate explanation. Failure to differentiate between travel time and time appearing may result in a deduction of fees awarded.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/2/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 9/18/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtor's status report (dkt. 46) and other relevant documents.

(a) Failure to Serve Bar Date Order (dkt. 25). The order directs the debtor to serve all parties in interest no later than 7/16/18 but no proof of service appears on the docket. Why not? The tentative ruling is to set a new bar date of 12/7/18 (the debtor should not serve any notice at this time; this Court will prepare and issue the order after the hearing).

(b) Application to Employ Hector Perez/Advantage Realty Group (dkt. 33). There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address (1) the issues raised in the opposition by Crescent Capital Holding LLC (dkt. 45); (2) whether the debtor is seeking to employ Mr. Perez, or Advantage Realty Group, or both; and (3) the absence of Local Form 2014-1 (required by Judge Bason's posted procedures, available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov).

Tentative Ruling for 7/10/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor itself.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtor's status report (dkt. 18) and other relevant documents.

(a) Status Report. Debtor used an old form of status report. Judge Bason's current posted procedures require the use of local form F 2081-1.1.C11.STATUS.RPT. Counsel is directed to review Judge Bason's posted procedures and to use the appropriate form status report in future.

(b) Motion for relief from automatic stay. There is no tentative ruling, but the debtor and Crescent Capital Holding LLC should be prepared to address the issues raised in the motion (dkt. 17) and debtor's response (dkt. 21) regarding the Las Flores property, including the previous grant of "in rem" relief against the property, and whether the debtor has provided sufficient evidence of insurance on the property.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 6/11/18.

(a) Bar date: 9/14/18 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

Continue (1) calendar nos. 5, 6 and 7 on today's calendar, and (2) the motion for relief from the automatic stay filed by Ingrid Aliet-Gass for herself and Western States International, Inc. (dkt. 130, the "R/S Motion") all as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 4/17/18.

Specifically, the tentative ruling is as follows:

(1) Continue (a) the status conference in this bankruptcy case, (b) the status conference in adversary proceeding no. 2:17-ap-01326-NB, and (c) the debtor's motion to amend the complaint in that adversary proceeding (adv. dkt. 125, and see adv. dkt. 130, 131, 139, 142) to be concurrent with (d) the motion by the Bureau of Land Management ("BLM") to dismiss the separate adversary proceeding against it (no. 2:18-ap-01057-NB, adv. dkt. 7), which is currently scheduled for 5/8/18 at 2:00 p.m.

(2) Continue the R/S Motion, which is currently set for 5/1/18 at 10:00 a.m., to the same date and time.

After this hearing date this Court will prepare an order continuing all of the foregoing matters and will serve it on the BLM, Aliet-Gass, and Western States International, Inc. at the addresses known to this Court, and that order will also direct the debtor to serve those parties and any other known parties with an interest in the foregoing matters.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16.

(a) Bar date: 7/10/17 and 1/26/18 (sufficiently served, dkt. 56, 60, 103, 107, 110, 111, 121, 123).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

(c) Continued status conference: see above.

Tentative Ruling for 3/6/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Default judgment motion - Wilshee (adv. dkt. 140). Deny for lack of service. See dkt. 140 at PDF p.4 (serving defendant at "ENTER ADDRESS HERE").

(b) Default judgment motion - JNDDC, LLC (adv. dkt. 135). Deny for lack of service. See dkt. 135, last two pages (defendant not listed in service list).

(c) Default judgment motion - Flavio Rodriguez (adv. dkt. 133). Deny for lack of service. See dkt. 133 at PDF p.8 (marked up by someone - movant? - to show deficiencies in completion of proof of service) and dkt. 133 last two pages (defendant not listed on service list).

(d) Default judgment motion - Jag Pathirana (adv. dkt. 134). Grant. It appears that plaintiff has abandoned claims against defendant Jag Pathirana other than "clearing title" to the plaintiff/debtor's alleged property interests at issue in the complaint. That appears to moot the relevant concerns previously raised by this court (see adv. dkt. 116, exhibit).

(e) Case status report (case dkt. 122) and adversary proceeding against Bureau of Land Management (Adv. No. 2:18-ap-01057-NB). The debtor should be prepared to provide an update as to the status of these matters.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Status Reports (main case dkt. 122; adv. no. 2:17-ap-01326-NB, dkt. 132). The debtor/plaintiff suggests that it will be filing a motion to approve a disclosure statement. Is that premature, given the following issues?

(b) Motion to amend complaint (adv. dkt. 125). The parties should be prepared to address the issues raised in the motion and in the oppositions filed by the California Department of Conservation, Division of Oil and Gas, and Geothermal Resources ("DOGGR") (adv. dkt. 125, 130, 131).

In addition, the debtor/plaintiff should be prepared to address whether the proposed amended complaint cures the deficiencies in the original complaint, and whether any ruling on the motion to amend the complaint should be deferred until after default judgments are (or are not) obtained on the existing (original) complaint, for the reasons set forth in this Court's Memorialization Of Reasons For Denying Motions For Default Judgments (captioned for the adversary proceeding but erroneously filed in the main case as dkt. 118). See also Order denying prior motions for default judgments (adv. dkt. 117) and subsequent Motions for default judgments (adv. dkt. 133, 134, 135).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16.

(a) Bar date: initial date of 7/10/17 (order timely served, dkt. 56, 60, 103, 111, 121, 123); supplemental date of 1/26/18 (order served late, but the tentative ruling is to excuse that lateness, dkt. 107, 110).

If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Continue the status conferences in both the main case and the adversary proceeding (adv. no. 2:17-ap-01326-NB) to 2/13/18 at 2:00 p.m. with a status report due 2/6/18 (at which time other documents are also due as set forth below) for the reasons set forth below. Appearances are not required on 1/23/18.

(1) Current issues

(a) Reasons for continuance: (i) because of the problems noted below; (ii) because of the debtor's untimely last-minute filing of status reports (the debtor is cautioned that continued untimely filings may result in sanctions); (iii) because of the inability of the Office of the United States Trustee to appear due to the shutdown of much of the federal government, (iv) to be concurrent with the (improperly self-calendared) motion to amend the complaint, and (v) in view of the debtor's various status reports (main case dkt. 117, adv. dkt. 122, 127, 129).

(b) Bar date. The debtor's proofs of service of the bar date order are missing exhibits and incomprehensible (see dkt. 110, 111). The debtor is directed to file, no later than 2/6/18, either a corrected proof of service or an application (supported by a declaration) to set yet another supplemental bar date - whichever is appropriate.

(c) Status of existing complaint in adversary proceeding. On 11/20/17 this court issued an order (adv. dkt. 117) denying the plaintiff/debtor's motions for default judgments, without prejudice. The debtor now seeks to amend the complaint (adv. dkt. 125). All of these things moot the motions for default judgments so the hearings on those motions have been vacated.

In addition, the tentative ruling is to memorialize this court's reasons for denying the motions for default judgments by filing on the docket a copy of this court's adopted tentative ruling for the 11/14/17 hearings on those motions (reproduced within the tentative ruling for calendar no. 9. 1/23/18 at 2:00 p.m.).

(d) Motion to amend complaint (adv. dkt. 125). This motion was self-calendared for 2:00 p.m. (a time that cannot be used for self-calendaring) on 2/13/18. Nevertheless, the tentative ruling is to permit that motion to proceed at that time.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16.

(a) Bar date: initial date of 7/10/17 (order timely served, dkt. 56, 60); supplemental date of 1/26/18, to be served no later than 11/15/17 (per Order, dkt. 107) but proofs of service are incomprehensible (dkt. 110, 111) - see above under "current issues".

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

(1) Current issues. The debtor has filed a second (very belated) proof of service (dkt. 103) of this court's order (dkt. 56) setting a bar date. Under that order the bar date was set as 7/10/17 and service was required no later than 5/8/17. What does the debtor's belated service do except cause confusion? Does the debtor require a new bar date for previously unknown creditors?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16. If this case is not converted or dismissed, the tentative ruling is to set the following:

(a) Bar date: 7/10/17 (order timely served, dkt. 56, 60; but see above under "current issues").

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

(c) Continued status conference: 1/30/18 at 2:00 p.m., status report due 1/16/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 8/22/17:

The tentative ruling is to dismiss this case with a 180 day bar for willful failure to appear in proper prosecution, as set forth below. See 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1). Appearances are not required.

Reasons: This case was filed on 11/23/16. The debtor's assets consist of disputed rights in hydrocarbon leases. See Status Report, dkt. 81. Realizing any value from those rights apparently depends on retaining special counsel who will diligently prosecute the debtor's claims. Despite numerous opportunities, the debtor has failed to satisfy the prerequisites for retention of special counsel.

(1) Inadequate declarations about "connections"

At the hearing on 7/11/17 this court extensively reviewed the evidence that would be required before this court could approve the application to employ the latest proposed special counsel, Mr. Montes. That included a requirement of detailed declarations from Mr. and Mrs. Hoats regarding any transfers of any property (including intangible property) involving the debtor and any of them, as well as any other "connections" (as that term is used in Rule 2014, Fed. R. Bankr. P.) to the debtor and any other party in interest.

This court recognizes that Mr. and Mrs. Hoats are not the professionals whose employment is being sought. Nevertheless, given their very close ties to the debtor, and their failure to disclose connections to the prior proposed special counsel that raised questions about conflicts of interest, this court orally ordered the debtor to provide their declarations at the hearing on 5/2/17. That order has been ignored.

(2) Knudsen factors

This court also directed Mr. Montes to file a declaration addressing the factors that this court must consider in assessing his request to be paid more frequently than once every 120 days. See In re Knudsen, 84 B.R. 668, 672-73 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Mr. Montes has filed such a declaration (dkt. 82) and has adequately summarized the factors (id., p.3:15-23) but he has not adequately addressed the third factor, which he summarizes as: "any funds paid but later disapproved by the court can be recovered from the professional" in one or more of the ways listed in Knudsen. (Emphasis added.) Those ways are:

- [a. Holdback] retainer payments are for only a percentage of the amount billed so that the likelihood or necessity of repayment is minimal [Mr. Montes suggests a 10% holdback, which has not been shown to be adequate - the typical amount is 20%, and that typically applies only to well established firms whose ability to repay funds is reinforced by the firm's longevity and reputation or similar considerations];
- [b. Bond] counsel can post a bond covering any possible reassessment [Mr. Montes has not addressed this factor];
- [c. Financial ability to repay] counsel's financial position makes it certain that any reassessment can be repaid [Mr. Montes has not addressed this factor]; [and/or]
- [d. Hold funds in trust account] funds paid prior to allowance are held in a trust account until a final or interim fee allowance is made [Mr.

Montes has only offered to place the 10% proposed holdback in a trust account]. [Knudsen, 84 B.R. 668, at 672]

(3) The debtor appears to cite the wrong statutory authority

The debtor's application to employ Mr. Montes (dkt. 65) requests that his employment be approved under subsection "(e)" of 11 U.S.C. 327. But that subsection only applies by its terms to an attorney who "has represented the debtor" (i.e., prepetition counsel whose employment is to continue postpetition). Id. (emphasis added).

That is not the end of the analysis, because it has been held that special counsel can be employed even when such counsel has not represented the debtor prepetition. See In re Fondiller, 15 B.R. 890, 892 (9th Cir. BAP 1981) (emphasis added), appeal dismissed, 707 F.2d 441 (9th Cir. 1983). Although Fondiller has been interpreted as authorizing employment under subsection (e) (see, e.g., Covenant Fin. Group of Am., Inc., 243 B.R. 450, 455 & n. 8 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 1999)), the precise holding of Fondiller appears to be that special counsel can be employed under subsection "(a)" of Section 327 because any "omission" in subsection "(e)" does not limit the general authority in subsection "(a)." See Fondiller, 15 B.R. at 891-92 (interpreting § 327(a) by comparison with §§ 327(c) and (e)).

True, the precise statutory authority appears to make little if any practical difference, because Fondiller held that when counsel is only employed to perform limited services, then an interest "adverse to the estate" means "an adverse interest relating to the services which are to be performed by that attorney," which appears to mean that the inquiry for proposed special counsel under subsection "(a)" is the same as under subsection "(e)." Fondiller, 15 B.R. at 892 (emphasis added). Mr. Montes' declaration (included in dkt. 65) appears to meet this test because he states that he has no adverse interest.

Nevertheless, as stated above this court has required additional evidence from Mr. and Mrs. Hoats and that evidence has not been provided. In addition, because the debtor has sought authority under subsection "(e)" instead of "(a)" it appears not have met the technical requirements for employment of Mr. Montes.

If you wish to dispute the above tentative ruling, please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings".

Chapter 11

Tentative Ruling for 5/2/17:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the debtor's proposed attorney, Brian McMahon Esq., should be prepared to address the concerns set forth in the U.S. Trustee's objection (dkt. 49) and the other issues set forth below.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Proposed special counsel.

(i) Background. On 4/5/17 the debtor filed an application for authority to employ the law offices of Mr. McMahon as special counsel under 11 U.S.C. 327(e) (dkt. 47). On 4/12/17 the United States Trustee ("UST") filed an objection to the employment application, which expressed concerns about the payment arrangement proposed in the application (dkt. 49).

The debtor filed a statement of disinterestedness for Mr. McMahon (dkt.53), and a reply (dkt.55), stating that a third party, Ms. Lilian Hoats, will be paying the attorney fees for Mr. McMahon's representation. Ms. Hoats is the CEO of Inviron Technologies, Inc. ("Managing Member"), which is the debtor's managing member (dkt. 55, Ex.1, p.1, recital "b"). Attached to the reply (dkt. 55, Ex.1) is a written document that purports to be a waiver of conflicts (if any exist) among the debtor, Ms. Hoats, and the Managing Member (the "Hoats/Managing Member Conflict Waiver").

The Attorney-Client Retainer Agreement attached to the employment application (dkt. 46, Ex.1) provides that Mr. McMahon is representing not only the debtor but also its affiliates Riverwood Energy, LLC ("Energy Affiliate") and Riverwood Resources Ltd. ("Resources Affiliate"). This court is not aware of the precise organizational and contractual relationships among the debtor, Energy Affiliate, and Resources Affiliate, nor of any written document purporting to be a waiver of conflicts (if any exist) among them.

(ii) Statutory provisions and rules

Although special counsel does not have to be "disinterested" (compare 11 U.S.C. 327(a)), special counsel still must not "represent or hold any interest adverse to the debtor or to the estate with respect to the matter on which such attorney is to be employed." 11 U.S.C. 327(e) (emphasis added). Under Rule 2014 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) both Mr. McMahon and the debtor were supposed to disclose all connections between Mr. McMahon and "the debtor, creditors, any other party in interest, their respective attorneys and accountants, the United States trustee, or any person employed in the office of the United States trustee."

The disclosures have not been adequate. This court does not know enough about the underlying litigation and the organizational and contractual relationships among the various entities to assess whether there may be conflicts of interest between the debtor, on the one hand, and Ms. Hoats, Managing Member, Energy Affiliate, and/or Resource Affiliate.

(iii) A DIP's conflicts generally cannot be waived

Any purported conflict waiver probably cannot waive actual conflicts. See, e.g., In re Perry, 194 B.R. 875, 880 (E.D.Cal.1996) (waiver of conflict by non-debtor parties was insufficient and "[i]nformed consent could not be obtained" because "the real parties in interest in this case are the creditors, and that is not a waivable conflict"); In re B.E.S. Concrete Products, Inc., 93 B.R. 228, 235 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 1988).

But while actual conflicts of interest create a violation of 11 U.S.C. 327 which would require disqualification of the proposed professional, the mere existence of a potential conflict of interest does not require disqualification, and it is up to the court's discretion whether the purported conflict is sufficiently threatening to the estate to warrant disqualification. In re Wheatfield Business Park, LLC, 286 B.R. 412, 421 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

Are proposed counsel and the debtor aware of any actual conflicts? How about potential conflicts?

(iv) The purported conflict waiver is incomplete

The Hoats/Managing Member Conflict Waiver is not actually signed by Ms. Hoats in her individual capacity (she has only signed it on behalf of the debtor's Managing Member). In addition, as noted above, this court is not aware of any purported conflict waiver among the debtor and Operating Affiliate or Resources Affiliate.

(v) There might be conflicts among the debtor and Ms. Hoats

A third party who funds a retainer for the debtor (the "Funder") generally has some pre-existing relationship with the debtor, and/or some motivation to providing the funding. Those things increase the likelihood that the Funder could be the recipient of an avoidable preference, or might have alter ego liability, or otherwise might have interests that are adverse to (or at least not fully aligned with) the bankruptcy estate or creditors. For these reasons, although payment of a retainer by a third party is not outright prohibited, it is fraught with ethical concerns. At the hearing, counsel for the

(A) Terms. What are the precise agreements, understandings or expectations regarding the funds -- e.g., are the funds a loan, a gift, an investment, or something else?

(B) Informed consent of Funder. Has the Funder been advised regarding actual and potential conflicts of interest, and that the sole attorney-client relationship and duty of loyalty is with the debtor, not the Funder? Who provided such advice: independent counsel? counsel for the debtor? the debtor's proposed special counsel? Has the Funder given informed consent? Are those things in writing?

(C) Informed consent of debtor. Has the debtor likewise been fully advised and given informed consent? Who provided such advice? Are these things in writing? Ms. Hoats has signed the Hoats/Managing Member conflict waiver on behalf of the debtor: how can she, acting for the debtor, waive conflicts with herself?

(D) Other considerations. Has proposed special counsel demonstrated or represented to the Court the absence of an actual or potential conflict, a lack of disinterestedness, or any other basis for disqualification? See In re Kelton Motors, Inc., 109 B.R. 641 (Bankr. D. Vt. 1989); In re Lotus Prop's LP, 200 B.R. 388 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1996) (rejecting per se disqualification when fees are paid by third party); and compare In re Hathaway Ranch Partnership, 116 B.R. 208, 219 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1990) (per se rule). See generally In re Park-Helena Corp., 63 F.3d 877 (9th Cir. 1995).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16. If this case is not converted or dismissed, the tentative ruling is to set the following:

(a) Bar date*: to be set during the status conference.

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: same.

(c) Continued status conference: 5/23/17 at 2:00 p.m., status report due 5/9/17.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If you do not appear, and the matter is not adequately resolved by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues.

(a) Status report. This court's previous tentative ruling (reproduced below) directed the debtor to file a status report by 3/14/17. Why has no such status report been filed?

(b) Exit strategy. What is the debtor's exit strategy, and what progress has been made toward that goal?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16. If this case is not converted or dismissed, the tentative ruling is to set the following:

(a) Bar date*: to be set during the status conference.

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: same.

(1) Current issues

This case was filed on 11/23/16. The debtor's status report (dkt. 34) states that the debtor intends to retain special counsel, and the monthly operating reports (dkt. 37, 38) appear to show no activity other than opening DIP bank accounts and paying associated fees. Although progress in this case has been slow, it does not appear efficient to hold a status conference at this time. If substantially more progress is not shown by the next status

(1) Current issues.

(a) Substitution of attorney. On 12/23/16, the debtor filed a substitution of attorney (dkt. 22) reflecting that current proposed counsel is Giovanni Orantes, Esq. Why has no employment application been filed?

Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Please see the tentative ruling for the status conference in the main case (calendar no. 8, 1/23/18 at 2:00 p.m.).

Tentative Ruling for 11/14/17:

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is to deny the motions for default judgments, without prejudice, for the reasons set forth below, and to set a continued status conference for 1/30/18 at 2:00 p.m.

On the one hand, there appears to be successful prosecution of this adversary proceeding because, according to the plaintiff's status report (adv. dkt. 92), all of the defendants have either agreed to the requested declaratory relief or have defaulted. On the other hand, there are some fundamental issues that appear to prevent this court from granting default judgments at this time.

(1) Self-calendaring error. The motions for default judgments were only served on 10/27/17. See, e.g., Motion for Default Judgment Derek Wilshee (dkt. 83, 74) (collectively, the "Wilshee Default Motion"). That is insufficient time prior to the hearing, under the applicable rules, nor was there any cover notice of the hearing date and deadline for any opposition or response.

(2) Jurisdictional issues.

(a) Personal jurisdiction. Does the complaint adequately establish personal jurisdiction over each defendant? At least one defendant is alleged to be a resident of Australia (dkt. 1, para. 14), although the plaintiff has voluntarily dismissed claims against that defendant (dkt. 107). Are each of the defaulting defendants subject to personal jurisdiction?

(b) Subject matter jurisdiction, and abstention. The complaint and motions for default judgment make somewhat vague assertions of other action(s) that were or are pending in other courts apparently involving the same subject matter, and involving at least preliminary injunctive relief if not other relief. Can this Bankruptcy Court assume jurisdiction over matters that are pending in other courts? Must or should this Bankruptcy Court abstain?

(3) Allegations of wrongdoing. Where is the analysis tying each of the defaulting defendants to one or more of the specific acts of wrongdoing bringing them within the claims in the complaint? For example, the only allegation in the complaint regarding Mr. Wilshee (dkt. 1, para. 14) appears to be that he was at one time an officer of the debtor. How is that an act of wrongdoing?

The Wilshee Default Motion seeks a default judgment against Mr. Wilshee of $431,472,300.00 (dkt. 74, at PDF p.51 of 53). How is he responsible for such alleged damages? Does the complaint need to be amended to establish, as against one or more of the defaulting defendants, how they are alleged to be liable?

(4) Calculation of damages. An exhibit to the plaintiff's motions for default judgments asserts that "Based on Department of Conservation Records [available on a website and/or verified by whom?], these leases [which leases? the ones that allegedly were supposed to be assigned but were not?] were producing 1730 barrels of Oil a day [when?]" and "[w]ith today's technology [how is today's technology better?], a conservative figure would be 3500 barrels a day [based on whose expert opinion?] that will be used as a figure for all the losses caused by Western States International [how about other defendants?]." Dkt. 83, Ex.A, at PDF p.17 of 53. The same exhibit shows a calculation of alleged damages based on "Approx Production" of "105,000" which is far more than 3500 barrels (perhaps using a 30-day presumptive month multiplied by 3500 barrels a day?), an "Average Oil Price [from what source?]," and a "Cost [to extract, market, refine, deliver, and sell the oil - or some other or different set of things? based on what expert's opinion?]." Based on the foregoing questions, and applying Rule 55(b)(2) (Fed. R. Civ. P.) (incorporated by Rule 7055, Fed. R. Bankr. P.), it appears that additional evidence and a "prove up" hearing will be needed to determine the amount of damages, if not other issues.

(5) Alleged costs, attorney fees, and interest. The debtor/plaintiff asserts $1 million in costs (dkt. 74 at PDF p.51 of 53) - how is that possible? What are the components? Attorney fees are alleged to be $300,000 - this case has barely commenced, so how is that possible? Where are the daily time sheets and/or other support for this figure? Prejudgment interest is alleged to be at a 10% rate per year starting 1/1/11. What is the contractual or statutory basis for that interest rate and that commencement date? The purported damages were incurred month by month, so how can interest run from before those damages were incurred?

(6) Declaratory relief. The plaintiff makes broad allegations about the rights under various contracts, or arising from breaches of those contracts or by operation of law. Where is the support for these allegations? The plaintiff cannot place the burden on this court to sort through numerous provisions of various contracts to piece together the plaintiff's theory. The plaintiff must provide specific, easy-to-follow analysis and evidence.

(7) Conclusion. Because the motions for default judgments are both procedurally and substantively deficient in all of the ways set forth above, the tentative ruling is to deny them without prejudice.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 8/22/17:

Appearances required. This court notes that the parties were directed to file a joint status report two weeks in advance of this hearing (dkt. 2), but have not done so. In addition, this court notes that the tentative ruling in the main case status conference (calendar no. 3, 8/22/17 at 2:00 p.m.) is to dismiss the main case, which normally would terminate this adversary proceeding. Nevertheless, to preserve all rights in the event that this court were to be persuaded not to dismiss the main case, this court has reviewed the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding and issues the following tentative ruling.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below?

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 6/19/17. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 1/12/18

Expert(s) - deadline for reports: 1/26/18

Expert(s) - discovery cutoff (if different from above): 2/9/18

fr. 6/12/18, 6/22/18, 7/18/18, 8/3/18, 9/20/18

Docket 187

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/2/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling. The parties should proceed with their trial evidence and arguments.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

COPY OF COMBINED TENTATIVE RULING ON MOTION TO EXTEND TIME TO ASSUME OR REJECT LEASES AND MOTIONS TO ASSUME LEASES

Tentative Ruling for 9/20/18:

Appearances required. The parties should be prepared to address the issues raised in the filed papers regarding each of the three motions that are set for hearing today:

(1) the Motion to assume the lease with Odysseus Investment Group, LLC ("Odysseus") of the property at 1356 Palmetto St., Los Angeles, at which the debtor operates Bridge Tavern, LLC dba Villains Tavern ("Villains") (dkt. 187, the "Motion re Odysseus" and id. Ex.1, the "Odysseus Lease") (the portion of this motion seeking to assign this lease is no longer relevant, see dkt. 501);

(2) the Motion to assume the lease of the property at 1629 Griffith Park

Blvd. and 1604 Edgecliffe Drive, Los Angeles with the Presbytery of The Pacific (the "Presbytery") (dkt. 351, the "Motion re Presbytery" and id. Ex.A&B, the "Presbytery Lease") (the portion of this motion seeking to assign this lease apparently is no longer relevant because the proposed assignee has withdrawn), and

(3) the Motion to extent the time under 11 U.S.C. 365(d)(4)(B) to assume and assign leases (or, potentially, reject leases), which expressly includes the lease of 1629 Griffith Park Blvd (dkt. 457, p.1:23-28) and also includes "any other leases" within the bankruptcy estate (id., p.4:2) (the "365 (d) Motion").

This Court intends to begin the hearing by addressing with the parties whether they have reached any partial or complete resolution of their issues. If not, this Court intends to give a partial tentative ruling and then hear arguments.

The parties are encouraged not to repeat their arguments from the papers. Principal documents reviewed: Motion re Odysseus (dkt. 187); Committee response (dkt. 269); Motion re Presbytery (dkt. 351); 365(d) Motion (dkt. 457); Odysseus combined oppositions (dkt. 612); Presbytery opposition and response (dkt. 613, 614); Debtor's reply re Odysseus (dkt. 618); Committee Joinders (dkt. 619-21); Agent's Reply re Presbytery (dkt. 623); Debtor's reply re Presbytery (dkt. 624); Agent's Reply re Odysseus (dkt. 625); Settlement Agreement between debtor, Villains and Odysseus (dkt. 188, Ex.1, and dkt. 337); Debtor's Insolvency Report (dkt. 312); the Term Sheet governing the Agent's duties and powers (dkt. 547 and 557). This Court has also reviewed various other documents, e.g., Odysseus' initial Opposition to the debtor's proposed assumption and assignment of the Odysseus Lease to Mr. Bahmani and/or his assignee (dkt. 287), but such other documents have been largely superseded (e.g., by the withdrawal of Mr. Bahmani and the parties' shift in focus to the issues addressed in the above-referenced briefs).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief. Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(4).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). Chapter 13

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that the debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that the debtor was involved and the debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that the debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is sufficient evidence and notice.

Effective date of relief. Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(4).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31), as applicable:

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that the debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that the debtor was involved and the debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that the debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is insufficient evidence and notice.

Effective date of relief. Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

The automatic stay does not apply.

Grant the motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(3) and (j): there is no automatic stay because (a) the debtor's prior case (#2:17-bk-23013-NB) was dismissed (on November 8, 2017) within one year before this case was filed (on September 4, 2018), (b) that dismissal was not under 11 U.S.C. 707(b), and (c) no finding of good faith was timely sought and obtained. The automatic stay has terminated both as to the debtor in personam and as to property of the debtor. See In re Hernandez & Jiminez, Case No. 2:11-bk-53730-NB, Dkt 40.

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

Grant, subject to the following conditions. Appearances are not required.

After the hearing date this court will prepare an order and the tentative ruling is to include the following language in that order:

The stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a) applies subject to the following modifications and conditions:

(1) Service and reconsideration. Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

Grant in part and deny in part, as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Debtor's opposition to relief from stay motion (dkt. 29) and the movant's reply (dkt. 31).

(1) Limited relief. Modify and condition the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) such that the movant may proceed to exercise all contractual and legal remedies, including proceeding in the nonbankruptcy forum to final judgment (including any appeals) in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law, subject to the following limitations (Judge Bason's standard limitations).

(a) No enforcement against property of the bankruptcy estate.

Although the movant may seek and obtain possession of the premises, the movant may not sell the premises to collect any monetary judgment against the debtor, or otherwise collect except through this bankruptcy case as long as the automatic stay continues. In other words, the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against property of the debtor's bankruptcy estate - any such property shall be distributed when and how provided by the Bankruptcy Code. Nevertheless, the movant is permitted to enforce its final judgment by (i) collecting upon any available insurance in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law or (ii) proceeding against the debtor as to any property that is not property of this bankruptcy estate. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(2)(B) & 541(b)(7) (collection of domestic support obligations from ERISA qualified retirement plans).

(b) Claim allowance, priority, and discharge issues. Any claims arising from the nonbankruptcy litigation are subject to this Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction regarding claim allowance and priority, and the existence and scope of any bankruptcy discharge.

(c) No relief in other bankruptcy cases. To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Reasons for Denial in Part:

The first form of relief Movant requests is in essence affirmative injunctive relief. Movant has requested that the Court issue an order that Debtor provide Movant with immediate access to the property (dkt. 28). Pursuant to Rule 7001(7) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), a proceeding to obtain injunctive relief is an adversary proceeding. While Movant presents legal claims that might warrant injunctive relief, the current proceeding is the main bankruptcy proceeding, and thus injunctive relief cannot be granted.

In the alternative, Movant requests that the Court grant emergency relief from the automatic stay so that Movant may pursue a civil suit against the Debtor (dkt. 28). Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(f), upon request of a party in interest the Court shall grant relief from the stay as is necessary to prevent irreparable damage to the interest of an entity in property, if such interest will suffer such damage before there is an opportunity for notice and a hearing. Rule 4001(a)(2) (F. R. Bankr. P.) further provides that ex parte relief from the automatic stay may be granted without prior notice, but it must be clearly apparent from specific facts shown by affidavit or verified motion that immediate and irreparable injury, loss, or damage will result to the movant before the adverse party can be heard in opposition. Here, although the alleged garbage, roach infestation, animal urine, and other issues certainly appear to warrant an expedited hearing, they do not appear to pose such a threat of imminent and irreparable damage as to warrant granting relief without any opportunity for Debtor to be heard.

In sum, the tentative ruling is that although Movant has not established that relief should be granted without an opportunity for Debtor to be heard, the tentative ruling is also that Movant presented more than enough evidence to grant relief from the automatic stay. Further, Movant has shown that there is cause for waiving the 14-day stay proscribed by 4001(a)(3) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.)

Additional analysis:

The Bankruptcy Court "shall grant relief from the stay" upon a showing of "cause." 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1). Such relief need not take the form of a complete termination of the automatic stay, but instead may include "modifying or conditioning such stay." Id.

"Cause" is determined on a case-by-case basis." In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir.1990). In determining whether "cause" exists to grant relief from the automatic stay to allow a movant to pursue litigation in a non-bankruptcy forum, courts in the Ninth Circuit have examined the factors set forth in In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799–800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984). See In re Kronmeyer, 405 B.R. 915 (9th Cir. BAP 2009); In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc., 311 B.R. 551, 559–60 (Bankr. C.D. Cal.2004). Those factors are: (1) Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues; (2) The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case; (3) Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary; (4) Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases; (5) Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation; (6) Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question; (7) Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties; (8) Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c); (9) Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f); (10) The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties; (11) Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial; and (12) The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt." Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 559. "[W]hile the Curtis factors are widely used to determine the existence of 'cause,' not all of the factors are relevant in every case, nor is a court required to give each factor equal weight." In re Landmark Fence Co., Inc., 2011 WL 6826253 at *4 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 9, 2011).

Based on the present record, the tentative ruling is that these factors weigh in favor of granting relief as set forth above. Most significantly, Movant has made a sufficient showing that the "balance of hurt" tips sharply in favor of granting relief. The apparent harm to Movant, and the other homeowners whom Movant represents, appears to outweigh by far any interest Debtor may have in continuing her current use of the premises (factor 12)

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Notwithstanding these errors, the tentative ruling is to continue this Status Conference to 12/18/18 at 11:00 a.m. Plaintiff is directed to file the next status report in this adversary proceeding (not in the main case) no later than 12/4/18. Appearances are not required on 10/9/18.

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the issues described in the tentative ruling for 2/27/18.

Appearances required. At the hearing on 5/2/17 this court was persuaded to continue this matter to 9/12/17. This matter was further continued to today's date (see Order, adv. dkt. 18).

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address (1) the results of their mediation, (2) whether to continue this status conference a short time (for finalization of any settlement) or a long time (far enough ahead that the parties can litigate their issues in State Court, which then presumably will have a partially or fully preclusive effect on any nondischargeability issues before this court), and (3) any other matters appropriate to address at this status conference.

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address (1) the results of their mediation, (2) whether to continue this status conference a short time (for finalization of any settlement) or a long time (far enough ahead that the parties can litigate their issues in State Court, which then presumably will have a partially or fully preclusive effect on any nondischargeability issues before this court), and (3) any other matters appropriate to address at this status conference.

If you do not appear, and the matter is not adequately resolved by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 12/13/16:

Continue to 2/7/17 at 11:00 a.m. at which time this court anticipates addressing, in view of the State Court's determinations as to pending matters, what trial date and other deadlines to set. Appearances are not required on 12/13/16.

If you wish to dispute the above tentative ruling, please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings".

Tentative Ruling for 7/19/16:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the following issues:

(1) Failure to file a status report. Why did the plaintiff not file a status report updating the Court as to the status of the pending state court litigation (adv. dkt. 4)? Should this Court issue an order to show cause based on plaintiff's disregard of this Court's order?

(2) Status of the state court litigation. What is the status of the state court litigation?

Chapter 7

(1) Mediation. The parties' latest status report requests mediation. See adv. dkt. 35, p.3, section E.3. This request is puzzling.

At the 2/27/18 status conference, this Court set a deadline of 3/13/18 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order, which was later memorialized in a written order (adv. dkt. 33, 1st ordering paragraph adopting attached tentative ruling for 2/27/18, para. "(2)"). No such proposed mediation order was ever lodged with this Court. This is not the first time that the have ignored this Court's order regarding mediation (see tentative ruling for 2/27/18, para. "(1)," reproduced below).

The tentative ruling is to sanction both counsel $200 for repeatedly disregarding this Court's orders regarding mediation, and to set yet another deadline - 5/15/18 - for the parties to lodge a mediation order. The parties are cautioned that continued disregard of this Court's orders will result in more serious sanctions and/or other consequences.

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 4/7/17. This Court previously has set deadlines (adv. dkt. 29, exhibit, adopting tentative ruling for 1/30/18, para. "(2)": e.g., a discovery cutoff of 5/1/18. The parties appear to have ignored those deadlines.

Their latest status report states (adv. dkt. 35, p.2, section B.3.) that they both expect to complete discovery by "July, 2018," i.e., after the discovery 5/1/18 cutoff. The parties' discovery schedule also appears to be incompatible with this Court's order regarding the 6/26/18 deadline for dispositive motions to be heard. See adv. dkt. 29.

Neither party has requested an extension of the deadlines previously ordered by this Court (either formally, by motion, or even informally in the status report). In setting deadlines this Court has attempted to apply a careful analysis of the parties' legal theories and factual allegations, the parties' status reports, this Court's available hearing dates, how much time might be needed for mediation, and other matters. Disregarding this Court's orders requires additional work by this Court to re-determine deadlines and/or address the consequences of missed deadlines.

The tentative ruling is to sanction both counsel $100 for ignoring this Court's previously ordered deadlines (with a caution, again, that continued disregard of this Court's orders may lead to greater adverse consequences). The tentative ruling is also to set a deadline of 5/15/18 for the parties to lodge a proposed agreed order setting realistic, binding new deadlines. Finally, the tentative ruling is to set a continued status conference for 5/22/18 at 11:00 a.m., the sole anticipated purpose of which will be to address whether the parties have complied with this Court's latest directions (set forth above) and, if not, to address what sanctions to impose. The parties are directed not to file any status report in advance of that status conference.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 2/27/18:

Continue to 5/8/18 at 11:00 a.m. with a brief status report due 4/24/18.

Appearances are not required on 2/27/18.

(1) Background. This adversary proceeding has been pending since 4/7/17, and is being jointly administered with Adv. No. 2:17-ap-01551 - all papers are to be filed in this adversary proceeding (adv. dkt. 26). The discovery cutoff and some other deadlines have been set, but no trial date or pretrial conference date has yet been set (adv. dkt. 29). Matters of venue, jurisdiction, and authority have been determined and/or waived or forfeited (adv. dkt. 29). This Court previously ordered mediation (adv. dkt. 17) but at the status conference on 12/19/17 the parties reported that they had failed to comply with that order and the parties' latest status report (adv. dkt. 31) requests that they ordered to mediation again.

(2) Mediation. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 3/13/18 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

This court also directed the parties to file a status report by 4/3/18, but the parties have not done so.

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties are directed to address why they have not filed a status report, and to provide an oral status report, and are cautioned that continued failure to adhere to the applicable rules and orders of this Court may result in sanctions. The tentative ruling is to continue this status conference to 5/29/18 at 11:00 a.m. with a brief status report due 5/15/18.

The parties requested a brief continuance of this status conference from 2/27/18 to today's date (see Joint Status Report, adv. dkt. 10). At the status conference on 1/23/18 there was no appearance for the plaintiff, and this Court was persuaded that it was premature to adopt the deadlines stated in the tentative ruling for that status conference (reproduced below). There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to discuss the status of this case.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 2/27/18:

Continue to 3/6/18 at 11:00 a.m. Appearances are not required on 2/27/18.

Reasons: At the status conference on 1/23/18 there was no appearance for the plaintiff, and this Court was persuaded that it was premature to adopt the deadlines stated in the tentative ruling for that status conference (reproduced below). The plaintiff and one defendant (the debtor) have now filed a joint status report (adv. dkt. 10) requesting a brief continuance.

Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Appearances required. The court has reviewed the parties' filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding. The parties must address why they failed to file the required status report, and also the following issues. The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority. The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 2/6/18 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(3) Deadlines/dates: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 11/21/17. The tentative ruling is to set the following deadlines/dates. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a

#4.00 Cont'd status conference re: Chapter 11 Case
fr. 9/4/18

Docket 30

Tentative Ruling:

Revised Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Budget motion (dkt. 49). Without prejudice to any later assertion by any party in interest that the debtor's proposed expenses are not in fact "ordinary course," the tentative ruling is to grant the budget motion based on the debtor's declaration (dkt. 76) in response to the questions raised in this Court's order (dkt. 69).

(b) Employment application for Tenina Law, Inc. (dkt. 50, 52, 53). Proposed counsel for the debtor should be prepared to address whether the declarations (dkt. 77, 79) in response to this Court's order (dkt. 67) can be interpreted broadly enough to address all "connections" that are required to be disclosed under Rule 2014 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

For example, this Court's order (dkt. 67, p.3:6-7) asked "have there been" - i.e., in the present or past - any economic or business or personal transactions between the Funder/Donor and the debtor. In response, the debtor declares (dkt. 67, para. 7), "[m]y Donor does not have any business or economic transaction with me ...." (Emphasis added.)

Another concern is that both proposed counsel and Debtor appear to be under the mistaken impression that Debtor could, if necessary, waive conflicts. That is not possible, because Debtor is acting not just for herself but as a trustee for the benefit of all creditors.

Another concern is that there is no indication that Donor has been fully apprised of this Court's concerns.

The tentative ruling is that, before this Court issues any order approving the application, counsel must file Debtor's supplemental declaration (i) quoting Rule 2014 in full, (ii) confirming that there are no "connections" within the meaning of that Rule, except for Donor's friendship with Debtor, (iii) confirming that Debtor understands that (pursuant to this Court's conclusion of law) any conflicts that might turn out to exist cannot be waived, and (iv) confirming that Debtor has provided to Donor a copy of this Court's order (dkt. 67) and the responsive declarations (dkt. 77, 79, and the declaration described in this paragraph). Subject to the foregoing, and the terms of the stipulation with the United States Trustee (dkt. 58), the tentative ruling is to approve the application.

(c) Proposed orders. Whatever this Court's rulings on the foregoing issues, Debtor is directed to lodge proposed orders via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of these tentative rulings, thereby incorporating them as this Court's final rulings, except as modified on the record. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/29/18 and converted from chapter 13 on 8/8/18.

(a) Bar date: 11/9/18 (dkt. 55), timely served (dkt. 59).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 12/23/18 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - the court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

(c) Continued status conference: 11/6/18 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

(2) Challenges to perfection, validity, extent of Bank's liens. The tentative ruling is, at least on an interim basis, to authorize the use of Bank's cash collateral subject to parties other than the debtor having a period of 90 days from the latter of (a) the date of service of the motion or (b) the appointment of any committee or trustee to assess the validity, priority, and extent of the Bank's liens. Compare Stipulation (dkt. 32, Ex.2, section 8(b)) (later of 10/31/18 or 45 days following appointment of trustee or committee).

(3) Service of the motion. The proof of service (dkt. 32, last two pages) reflects service on the persons listed in Rule 4001(b)(1)(C) & (d)(1)(C), but the parties should be prepared to address the source of the addresses for the purported secured creditors.

(4) 506(c). The tentative ruling is that the waiver of rights under 11 U.S.C. 506(c) is inapplicable to emergency situations in which Debtor lacks enough time to seek authorization to use cash collateral outside of the stipulation. For example, if the debtor were to expend funds putting out a fire that would damage Bank's non-cash collateral, that might be compensable under section 506(c) notwithstanding the lack of prior authorization from Bank to expend cash collateral in that manner.

II. Judge Bason's standard conditions for use of cash collateral and/or postpetition financing (by creditors holding prepetition claims)

(1) Written order

(a) Form. Use local form F2081-

1.1.ORDER.CASH.COLLATERAL or the equivalent. Attach a copy of this tentative ruling as an exhibit, thereby adopting it as the written ruling of the court. Do not repeat the terms set forth in the motion or any stipulation. Incorporate those terms by reference, subject to any modification by this court (including the docket number of the document).

(b) Timing. Lodge the proposed order within 7 days after the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Minimum adequate protection

In addition to the postpetition security interests that are automatically provided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 552 (e.g., in traceable proceeds and profits), and subject to any more comprehensive protection that may be included in the motion or related papers, the debtor shall provide at least the following protection to any creditor with a security interest in the subject property (pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 361-364, as applicable):

(a) Insurance. For all collateral of a type that typically is insured (e.g., real property and improvements), the debtor is directed to maintain insurance in a dollar amount at least equal to the debtor's good faith estimate of the value of such creditor's interest in the collateral, and such insurance shall name such creditor as an additional insured. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments for such insurance.

(b) Taxes. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments on account of postpetition real estate taxes (to the extent that real estate is part of the collateral).

(c) Disclosures/access. The debtor is directed to provide, upon such creditor's reasonable request, periodic accountings of the foregoing insurance and tax obligations and payments, as well as postpetition proceeds, products, offspring, or profits from the collateral, including gross revenues and expenses and a calculation of net revenues, including any rents and any fees, charges, accounts, or other payments for the use or occupancy of rooms and other public facilities in lodging properties (as all of the foregoing terms are used in 11 U.S.C. 552). The debtor is directed to provide appropriate documentation of those accountings, and access for purposes of inspection or appraisal.

(3) Limitation on postpetition liens

In the event that the motion or related papers seek authority to grant postpetition liens to the creditor(s) with respect to prepetition debts any such liens shall be limited to the same validity, priority, and amount as prepetition liens. As used herein, the "validity, priority, and amount" or any similar phrase that may be used by the parties or the court is deemed to include the following:

(a) Extent. Such liens shall be limited to the type of collateral in which the creditor held a security interest as of the petition date, unless this order expressly states that the liens granted by this order are intended to attach to different types of collateral from the prepetition collateral. For example, if prepetition liens extended to inventory and accounts receivable but not equipment then postpetition liens are likewise limited (unless otherwise expressly provided below); and postpetition liens shall not extend to the proceeds of any avoidance actions, any recoveries under 11 U.S.C. 506 (c), or any "carveout" under 11 U.S.C. 552.

(b) Priority. Such liens shall be limited to the same priority as the security interest held by the creditor as of the petition date.

(c) Dollar amount. Such liens shall be limited to the dollar amount needed to protect the creditor against diminution in the value of the secured claims as of the petition date.

(d) Enforceability. Such liens shall be limited to the extent that the creditor's security interests were duly perfected and valid as of the petition date, and to the extent that they are unavoidable.

(e) Automatic postpetition perfection. Any automatic perfection of such liens shall be subject to any applicable limitations regarding the Court's authority, jurisdiction, or due process.

(4) Automatic disapproval of insufficiently disclosed provisions

Any provision of the type listed in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or in local form F4001-2 (e.g., cross-collateralization) or any waiver of the "equities of the case" exception in 11 U.S.C. 552(b)(2) shall be deemed automatically disapproved and excepted from any order granting the motion, notwithstanding any other provision of such order, unless either: (a) such provision is specifically and prominently disclosed in the motion papers in a checklist (such as local form F4001-2), or alternatively (b) such provision is specifically identified in any proposed order granting the motion, using terminology of the type used in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or local form F4001-2 (e.g., any "cross-collateralization" that is not specifically identified as such is deemed to be disapproved).

(5) Disputes

In the event of any disputes regarding the rulings in this order, the parties are directed to meet and confer and, if they cannot resolve their disputes consensually, contact the chambers of the presiding judge to arrange a mutually convenient time for either a telephonic or in-person hearing to address such disputes.

Tentative Ruling:

Revised Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Cash collateral. The tentative ruling is to authorize the use of cash collateral as set forth in the tentative ruling for calendar no. 6 (10/9/18 at 1:00 p.m.).

(b) Insider compensation. Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2014-1(a) requires a notice and opportunity to object before any insider compensation is paid. But no such notice has been filed, and Debtor's Monthly Operating Report ("MOR") for the month ending 8/31/18 reflects payments to each of two insiders. Dkt. 34, at PDF p.8. The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor to serve the notice using the local form no later than 10/12/18.

(c) Bar date. On 9/5/18 this Court entered its "Order Setting Bar Date: November 9, 2018; and Directing Service by Debtor." Dkt. 24. The debtor failed to serve that order. Why? The tentative ruling is to issue an amended order setting a bar date as set forth below.

(d) MOR (dkt. 34). The MOR appears to be incomplete. For example, it refers to multiple accounts but appears to provide only a combined report; many of the entries are vague or have no description; and page one includes a reference to "Non DIP personal checking (see attached letter)" but no letter or any other explanation is attached. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/15/18 to file an amended MOR correcting these and any other deficiencies.

(e) Employment (dkt. 25). As highlighted by the objection of the United States Trustee ("UST") (dkt. 28), the parties should be prepared to address (a) the proposed $12,000 flat fee under 11 U.S.C. 328 and (b) the source of the "loan" for $10,000 of that fee (dkt. 25, p.8) and the source of the remaining $2,000 plus the filing fee.

Tentative Ruling:

Revised Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is to convert this case to chapter 7 pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 1112(b), due to the apparent conflicts of interest of the debtor's principal, Mr. Brown, with the interests of creditors. See Motion by UST (dkt. 39), Joinder by Allstar Fin. Svcs., Inc. (dkt. 62). Although Debtor asserts (dkt. 58) that a number of issues identified by the UST have been addressed, the opposition does not adequately address the alleged conflicts of interest. In addition, the issues identified in this Court's tentative ruling for 10/9/18 (reproduced below) have not been adequately addressed. In addition, this Court's order (dkt. 47) directed Debtor not to serve a notice of bar date and instead to serve a copy of that order itself, no later than 9/7/18, but Debtor disregarded that order and served its own notice (dkt. 51) on 9/16/18.

(1) Current issues

(a) Failure to serve order. This Court's status conference order (dkt. 9, para.5, bolded text) directed counsel for the debtor to serve all creditors with a copy of the order. Why was it not served?

(b) Failure to comply with requirements for professionals. The debtor's status report (dkt. 45, p.4) states that neither the debtor's attorney nor any other professional intend to apply for employment because they do not intend to seek compensation during the case. That is not the test. They are required to apply for employment under 11 U.S.C. 327. In addition, the United States Trustee ("UST") has objected in its motion to dismiss (dkt. 39) that the person who claims to be acting as the debtor's bankruptcy attorney, Robert A. Brown, Esq., is also the debtor's CEO and General Counsel. The parties should be prepared to address the conflicts issues.

(c) Failure to comply with Chapter 11 requirements. See the UST's motion to dismiss (dkt. 39).

(d) Failure to comply with procedures for plan (dkt. 38) and disclosure statement (dkt. 37). As stated in this Court's status conferences order (dkt. 9), Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) establish procedures for any draft plan and disclosure statement. Counsel for the debtor has violated those procedures by mailing a copy of the drafts to creditors before this Court has approved such mailing.

In addition, those documents omit any meaningful liquidation analysis or disclosure of what could be paid to general unsecured creditors, instead opting for a flat 12% promised distribution (dkt. 38, at PDF pp.13-14). In addition, from the summary of assets and liabilities (dkt. 19) it appears that the debtor might have enough equity in property to pay far more than 12%, depending on the total amount of unsecured claims.

(e) Opaque "disclosures". The debtor's references to a sale of the "Marsh" property is not adequately explained. In addition, although the debtor's bankruptcy Schedule H (dkt. 1) asserts that there are no co-debtors, this Court questions whether that is so because business organizations typically have individual guarantors on any major debts.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/30/18.

(a) Bar date: 11/7/18 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement: TBD.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Service of voting package. The proof of service (dkt. 140) states that the voting package has been served on "Secured and Twenty Largest Unsecured Creditors." (Emphasis added.) The voting package should have been served on all creditors. Is the proof of service in error? If so, the tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 4/11/18 for the debtor to file a corrected proof of service. If not, counsel for the debtor should be prepared to address (i) the dates and procedures for re-balloting and a continued hearing and (ii) not charging attorney fees for correcting this issue.

(b) Disclosure statement (dkt. 134) and plan (dkt. 135), and motion to modify plan (dkt. 142). The debtor has not filed any ballot summary. If sufficient ballots have been received to vote in favor of confirmation by the requisite majorities then the tentative ruling is to approve the disclosure statement on a final basis, grant the motion to modify the plan, and confirm the plan as modified. All of the foregoing is contingent, however, on the debtor filing a sufficient ballot summary no later than 4/11/18.

Chapter 11

Tentative Ruling for 2/13/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues.

(a) Plan (dkt. 127) and Disclosure Statement (dkt. 126).

(i) Impairment - Class 2B. The Plan lists Class 2B as unimpaired - is it?

(ii) Impairment - Class 4A. The Plan does not specify whether Class 4A is impaired.

(iii) DIP Financing. Class 2C appears to consist of the debtor's contemplated postpetition DIP borrowing (dkt. 111, 121). First, classes under the Plan are reserved for prepetition debts, whereas repayment of postpetition DIP financing should be reflected in cash flow projections (Ex.C) (this is not just an academic issue: for example, Classes vote; DIP lenders do not).

Second, Endnote 2C (in Ex.H) appears to relate to this "Class" of DIP financing, and it appears to state that the terms of that financing are unknown ("Debtors will have full and accurate loan information as the loan is processed"). The debtors' counsel must address at the hearing whether there is any reason why the Plan cannot be updated to reflect the actual financing terms, which would eliminate the need for any such Endnote.

(iv) Stipulation with US Bank. The Plan should attach a copy of the Stipulation (dkt. 124) with creditor U.S. Bank N.A. (as trustee); Wells Fargo Home Mortgage as servicer (collectively, "US Bank"), as it may be modified (see below re possible amendments to that Stipulation). See dkt. 129 (limited objection of US Bank).

(b) US Bank's concerns (dkt. 129). This Court's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov, under Judge Bason) provide in part:
§ 362: Automatic Stay. (1) Stipulations. Generally, the judge will not approve a stipulation for relief from stay/adequate protection order ("APO") that purports to be automatically effective ... because there might be equity in the property .... [Emphasis altered.]

Consistent with this limitation, US Bank agreed to an Adequate Protection Order ("APO") which does not provide for any automatic termination of the automatic stay. Instead it provides (in the APO attachment, at paragraph 6.b.) that in the event of a default:

[US Bank] may file and serve a declaration under penalty of perjury specifying the default, together with a proposed order terminating the stay, which the court may grant without further notice or hearing.

More recently, however, US Bank entered into its Stipulation with the debtors (dkt. 124) which not only includes the above-quoted language about what will happen in the event of a pre-confirmation default but goes on to add another clause. It states:

5. ... [US Bank] may file and serve a declaration under penalty of perjury specifying the default, together with a proposed order Terminating the Automatic Stay, which the Court may grant without further notice or hearing, and Creditor (and/or its servicer) may commence any and all action necessary to obtain complete possession of the Subject Property ... without further notice, order, or proceeding of this Court. [Emphasis added.]

US Bank argues (dkt. 129, p.6:3-12) that this language in the Stipulation was "taken from" the APO (para. 6.b.), but this is not quite accurate: the emphasized language has been added. Does that additional language mean anything? US Bank now appears to argue that it means nothing - that "the intent was simply to maintain the status quo like it is under the APO" (dkt. 129, p.6:6).

This Court agrees: the emphasized language appears to be surplusage; but unfortunately it is arguably subject to a different interpretation. Because it is unusual for parties to add meaningless language to their stipulations, the emphasized language arguably could be read to mean that US Bank could "commence" all actions necessary to foreclose without any order of this court.

Because of this (and other) ambiguities in the Stipulation this Court added the following caveat in its order approving the Stipulation:

... notwithstanding anything in the Stipulation to the contrary, the automatic stay will not automatically terminate upon a default or conversion of this case except as to Debtors (i.e., no automatic termination as to the bankruptcy estate, so as to preserve any equity that might then exist in the property for the benefit of other creditors) .... [Dkt. 128, p.2:5-8, emphasis in original]

US Bank now requests "that the Order [approving the Stipulation] be amended to clarify that any pre-confirmation default shall be in accordance with the [Stipulation] at paragraph 5, or in the alternative, pursuant to the existing APO, paragraph 6(b)." Dkt. 129, p.6:10-12. This Court believes the simpler solution - both in this case and in all future cases - would be to delete the surplus language in paragraph 5 of the Stipulation. US Bank's counsel should be prepared to address whether they will agree to delete the surplus language in paragraph 5 of the Stipulation in this case and in all future stipulations in any case before this Court.

Similarly, paragraph 13 of the Stipulation ends by stating that in the event the debtors' case is dismissed or converted then not only shall US Bank retain its lien securing the full dollar amount it is owed (less any payments received) but also "the Automatic Stay shall be terminated without further notice, order or proceeding of the Court." (Emphasis added.) US Bank has now agreed to delete this emphasized language. See dkt. 129, pp.5:26-6:2. Again, US Bank's counsel should be prepared to address whether they will delete this language in all future stipulations in cases before this Court.

Another concern raised by US Bank is that this Court's language in the order approving the Stipulation (quoted above) appears to limit paragraph 6 of the Stipulation, which provides that upon confirmation of debtors' chapter 11 plan "the Automatic Stay shall be deemed terminated as to the Debtors and the estate" and US Bank can pursue its contractual remedies under the loan documents "without further notice, order, or proceeding of this Court." Dkt. 124, p.4:12-18. This Court did not intend to override that provision - the tentative ruling is that upon confirmation of a chapter 11 plan it is entirely appropriate to provide that the automatic stay no longer applies because then the parties have a revised contractual relationship - so US Bank is correct that the order approving the Stipulation is overbroad to the extent that the language added by this Court affects paragraph 6 of the Stipulation.

Based on all of the foregoing, the tentative ruling is that if US Bank will agree to amend its Stipulation in paragraphs 5 and 13 as set forth above (to delete the language about automatic termination of the automatic stay), and leave paragraph 6 unchanged, this Court will approve that Stipulation without the modification that is included in the current order approving the Stipulation. The debtor will need to attach the amended Stipulation to the Plan.

Note: The parties might wish to take the opportunity to review the Stipulation for any other provisions that would benefit from revision. For example, this Court notes that paragraph 13 of the Stipulation starts by providing that "[t]he terms of this Stipulation are contingent upon Debtors' confirming a Chapter 11 Plan." Dkt. 124, p.6:8-8. Read literally this would mean that the Stipulation's terms regarding pre-confirmation defaults (para. 5) are contingent upon confirmation, which makes no sense. Other provisions similarly do not appear to be intended to be contingent on confirmation (but it is up to the parties to decide if they wish to clarify such issues).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 2/27/17 and converted from chapter 13 on 4/28/17.

Reasons: (a) the debtors' apparent need to amend the proposed plan in view of the recent withdrawal of their objection to the prior claim of the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") in view of the IRS' amended claim (see dkt. 119);
(b) the debtor's failure to file a brief status report (due 1/16/18 per the adopted tentative ruling for the 11/7/17 hearing, reproduced below); and
(c) the inability of the Office of the United States Trustee ("UST") to appear (or perhaps even to analyze whether it should appear) because of the shutdown of much of the federal government.

Continue to 1/23/18 at 1:00 p.m. to address the following issues.
Appearances are not required on 11/7/17.

Reasons: This court is continuing the hearing in light of the response filed by the IRS (dkt. 105) and because (1) if the dollar amount owed to the IRS changes then changes also will be needed to the amended plan (dkt. 107) and amended disclosure statement (dkt. 106) and (2) although the debtor correctly deleted Endnotes 2, 2A, 2B and 2C from Exhibit H, the debtor forgot to delete the references to those (non-existent) endnotes on Exhibits A and E. No later than 1/16/18 the debtor is directed to file an amended plan to cure these issues, if possible, or alternatively a very brief status report (e.g., one or two sentence).

(1) Current issues.

(a) Monthly Operating Report (dkt. 94). What is the $700 transfer for 8/31/17 (at p.4) entitled "money owed"? The debtor reports one missed payment to Wells Fargo in the amount of $2,167.68 (at p.10), as against only $2,398.12 in her rental property account (p.11) and $1,404.57 in her personal account. Is the debtor losing money? Can the debtor propose a feasible plan of reorganization?

(b) Plan (dkt.92) /Disclosure Statement (dkt. 91). (i) These documents are not signed by the debtors ("/s/" typed signatures are only permitted for limited categories of persons, such as registered CM/ECF users). (ii) The Disclosure Statement contemplates claim objections (dkt. 91, Ex.H, Endnotes 1-2). Why have these issues not been resolved by now? (iii) The Disclosure Statement's Endnotes 2A, 2B, 2C and 5 repeat (and/or misstate) the terms of the Plan. Those endnotes should be deleted. (iv) The Disclosure Statement's Ex.C (income/expenses) is divided into two periods, but the income and expenses appear to be identical in each period. Why should this not be a single period?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 2/27/17 and converted from chapter 13 on 4/28/17.

(a) Bar date: 8/24/2017 (dkt. 77, timely served dkt. 84).

(b) Plan (dkt.92) /Disclosure Statement (dkt. 91)*: 10/24/17 deadline to file amended documents.

(c) Continued status conference: 11/7/17 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If you do not appear, and the matter is not adequately resolved by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

CONT... Charles Elvin Lamay and Silvana Marie LaMay Chapter 11

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Status Report. The debtor is using an outdated form. The current version is Local Form F 2081-1.1.CH11.STATUS.RPT.

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt. 30). Grant on a final basis, on the same terms as in the interim order (dkt. 58).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 2/27/17 and converted from chapter 13 on 4/28/17.

(a) Bar date: 8/24/2017 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 9/5/17 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee).

(c) Continued status conference: 9/19/17 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If you do not appear, and the matter is not adequately resolved by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the Amended and Revised Settlement Agreement and Mutual and General Release Agreement (see dkt. 298).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 9/21/18:

Appearances required. This Court has reviewed the transcript that orally memorializes the principal parties' settlement. See Tr. 9/7/18 (dkt. 295), pp. 3:16-15:18 & 30:1-4 (the "Main Settlement"). The parties should be prepared to address the following issues.

(1) Settlement documentation. What documents are being prepared to implement the Main Settlement (e.g., the form of notice to the Truck Drivers, including their election whether to return the trucks and their agreement to mutual releases)? What is the status of that preparation? Will the notice to the Truck Drivers need to be in any languages other than English and Spanish? What steps can be taken before the documentation is finalized, and conversely what steps should wait until the documents are finalized?

(2) Secured/unsecured Truck Drivers. How do the parties propose to address what portion of the distributions from the bankruptcy estate should be allocated to the secured claims of certain Truck Drivers, and what remainder should be allocated to unsecured claims? Is that issue deferred until a proposed chapter 11 plan? If so, how will the possible effects of various secured claim amounts be adequately explained to the Truck Drivers who will be asked to consent to the Main Settlement? Conversely, if the parties have a proposed settlement as to the allowed dollar amount of these secured claims, what are the proposed terms of that additional settlement (the "Secured Driver Claims Settlement")?

(3) Procedures. What procedures should apply to the Main Settlement and any Secured Driver Claims Settlement (or litigation)? For example, is another Rule 9019 motion advisable (or necessary)? Should this Court find and conclude, under Rule 2002(a)(3), Fed. R. Bankr. P., that some sort of supplemental notice and opportunity to object (and overbid?) is sufficient, given that notice has already been provided of the basic issues and standards governing settlement? See dkt. 36 (settlement motion) and dkt. 122 (priorities/secured claims motion).

Whatever further procedures are required, should different sets of documents be provided to (a) the Truck Drivers (holding both secured and unsecured claims) and (b) other creditors (holding both secured and unsecured claims)? Should all creditors, including the Truck Drivers, receive a complete set of settlement documentation, or is that an undue expense? Is it sufficient for such documents to be available upon request? Should any cover letter/notice be translated, but not the underlying documentation (to save expense)?

(4) Calendaring. Is it appropriate (a) to continue the status conference and settlement motion (dkt. 19) for a relatively brief time, so that the parties can prepare the settlement documentation for review by this Court prior to mailing, and (b) take off calendar (without prejudice) all other matters that have been set for hearing today, including the overbid procedures motion (dkt. 149)?

Continue as stated below. No appearances required on 8/7/18.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (dkt. 262) and other relevant pleadings in this case.

(a) Bid Procedures Motion (dkt. 149). The tentative ruling is to defer ruling on this until after resolution of the discovery dispute and continue the hearing to a date and time to be set at the continued status conference set forth below.

(b) Motion to Approve Compromise (dkt. 36). The tentative ruling is to defer ruling on this until after resolution of the discovery dispute and continue the hearing to a date and time to be set at the continued status conference set forth below.

(c) Motion to Determine Extent & Priority of Truck Drivers' Liens (dkt. 122). The tentative ruling is to defer ruling on this until after resolution of the motion to disqualify and continue the hearing to a date and time to be set at the continued status conference set forth below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/6/17.

(a) Bar date: 3/16/18 (order timely served, dkt. 43, 46).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

Chapter 11

Revised Tentative Ruling for 5/29/18:
Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Debtor's Motion to Extend Time to Assume or Reject Lease (dkt. 139). Debtor seeks an extension of time to assume or reject its lease of commercial real property located at 2727 E. Del Amo Blvd., Rancho Dominguez, CA 90221 (the "Property") with Joe Murez Exempt Trust ("JMET" or "Landlord") through June 4, 2018. But in connection with Landlord's currently motion (dkt. 184, see discussion below), the debtor concedes that there are incurable defaults that prevent it from assuming the lease and states that it intends to vacate and surrender the Property by May 31, 2018 (dkt. 197, PDF p. 7, lines 17-19 & Wallace Declaration, paragraph 14). Additionally, on May 7, 2018, debtor served its subtenants with 30-day notices to terminate rental agreement with an expiration date of June 6, 2018 (id., Ex. A).

In Landlord's motion (dkt. 184, see discussion below), it seeks possession of the Property effective as of June 5, 2018 and appears to have consented to an extension through that time (see dkt. 184, PDF p. 4, lines 26-27).

The tentative ruling is to grant the debtor's motion and extend the deadline to assume or reject the lease to May 31, 2018. The effects of that date on the subtenants and the Landlord are addressed below.

(b) Landlord's Motion for Administrative Claim and Possession of Property (dkt. 184).

(i) Base rent, late fees, interest, CAM, taxes, attorneys' fees and costs. Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 365(d)(3), Landlord is entitled to an allowed administrative expense for the full amount of rent accrued during the period following the order for relief through the lease rejection, regardless of the actual value conferred by the lease upon the estate. See Pacific-Atlantic Trading Company, 27 F.3d 401 (9th Cir. 1994); In re Cukierman, 265 F.3d 846 (9th Cir. 2001). Section 365(d)(3) requires immediate payment of lease obligations so that the landlord is not left providing uncompensated services. In re Cukierman, 265 F.3d at 851-52.

CONT...

Fargo Trucking Company, Inc.

Chapter 11

In this case, Paragraph 4.1 of the Lease provides: "All monetary obligations of Lessee to Lessor under the terms of this Lease (except for the Security Deposit) are deemed to be Rent." Pursuant to paragraphs 1.5, 4.3, 10.2, 13.4, 13.5, and 31, Landlord is entitled to an allowed administrative expense for payment of base rent, late fees, interest, CAM, taxes, and attorneys' fees and costs. On the record before this Court, Landlord holds an estimated administrative expense in the amount of $79,965.01 ($48,626 (May rent) + $4,862.20 (late fee) + $11,661.31 (real property taxes) + $14,815.5 (attorneys fees) = $79,965.01). Landlord may supplement the record to establish a valid basis for any additional amounts it may be entitled to under the Lease (e.g., prorated June rent if the debtor has not turned over the premises as of 5/31/18).

(ii) No superpriority. Section 365(d)(3) does not authorize a superpriority over other administrative expenses. In re LPM Corp., 300 F.3d 1134 (9th Cir. 2002). It is possible that the estate will be administratively insolvent (although the estate's assets and its administrative claims are largely moving targets until the conclusion of any bankruptcy case) so if Landlord had slept on its rights and were seeking prior months' rent it would not be entitled to payment at this time; but that is not the situation.

Landlords are entitled to current payments. Other administrative claimants are not. There is no evidence that this Landlord has slept on its rights.

Reconciling the lack of priority with the entitlement to current payments, the tentative ruling is that Landlord is entitled to immediate payment of a pro rata share of funds that are available to pay estimated accrued administrative expenses to date. This is essentially the alternative relief requested by Landlord (see dkt. 200, p.4:4-8).

Because the interim fee applications (discussed below) seek approximately $305,000 in fees and expenses, and because Landlord's claim is approximately $79,965.01, it appears that the rough total of accrued administrative expenses is approximately $385,000, of which Landlord holds roughly $80,000, or approximately 20% ( $$80,000/$385,000 = 20.8\%$ ). Therefore, the tentative ruling is that Landlord is entitled to immediate payment of approximately 20% of the $47,000 in unrestricted funds currently in debtor's possession (dkt. 197, PDF p. 13, paragraph 13), or approximately $9,400.

(iii) Landlord has not established that the funds are held in trust for it. This Court is not persuaded that the $47,000 in funds debtor has on hand is being held in trust for Landlord. Landlord has not carried its burden of establishing that, under California law, an express trust exists that excepts these funds from estate property. See Golden Mortg. Fund # 14 v. Kennedy, 171 B.R. 79, 84 (9th Cir. BAP 1994) ("A creditor has the burden to prove that the funds in the debtor's possession should be held in trust for that creditor's benefit").

(iv) Surrender and Writ of Possession. Landlord has discretion whether to extend the time for the debtor to assume or reject the Lease beyond the statutory maximum, or permit occupancy after rejection, absent nonbankruptcy law that would permit occupants to continue in possession. As set forth above, the tentative ruling is that the lease will be deemed rejected on 5/31/18.

Because neither the subtenants nor any other party in interest has articulated a sufficient basis for the subtenants to continue to occupy the Property following rejection of the Lease, the tentative ruling is to grant Landlord's request for a writ of possession directing any subtenants to surrender and vacate the property effective 6/6/18. Landlord is instructed to review LBR 7064-1 and include the necessary language set forth in 7064-1(e) into the proposed order.

(v) Relief from stay. The tentative ruling is to grant Landlord relief from the automatic stay under 362(d)(1).

(vi) Waiver of 14-day stay. The tentative ruling is to waive the 14-day stay.

(c) Interim Fee Apps of Levene Neale Bender Yoo & Brill (dkt. 177); CohenReznick LLP (dkt. 178); and Haberbush & Associates LLP (dkt. 179), and related documents (dkt. 200, 214). The tentative ruling is to approve the applications on an interim basis, subject to final review and approval at the conclusion of the case, but deny the requests for immediate payment of fees and expenses given the debtor's limited funds on hand, except that Haberbush & Associates may draw down on its pre-petition retainer, subject to the possibility of disgorgement in future.

(1) Current issues.

(a) April MOR (dkt.192). On PDF p. 3, the debtor identifies a payment made to "Transport" on 4/26/18 in the amount of $55,515.00 for "dispatch and brokerage svc." What is this payment for? Is it an "ordinary course" transaction?

(b) Motion to Disqualify Truck Driver Counsel (dkt. 125). This Court issued an order (dkt. 169, amended dkt. 175) continuing this motion and set (i) a 5/15/18 deadline for the Slattery Law Firm and Hirsch Law Firm to file supplemental papers addressing who properly represents the Truck Drivers; and (ii) a 5/21/18 at noon deadline to file any responses.

Slattery decl.), dkt. 204 (Rivera|Shakleford opp. re S.H. Chung, R.M. Rubio, H.D. Alvarez & G. Perez Silva).

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the arguments set forth in the filed papers.

(c) Objection to Claim Nos. 11, 37, 38, 40, 44, 45, 50 (dkt. 108, 109, 111, 113, 115, 117, 119). The proofs of claim were filed by the Hirsch Law Firm and the claim objections/notices were served on the Hirsch Law Firm and Slattery Law Firm. However, based on the debtor's pending motion to disqualify both firms, the tentative ruling is to continue the hearings on these claim objections to 6/19/18 at 2:00 p.m., pending resolution of the motion to disqualify. At the continued hearings, the parties should be prepared to address whether it would be appropriate for this court to set continued oppositions deadlines.

Note: Counsel did not comply with Judge Bason's posted procedures (at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) requiring a cost/benefit analysis for any claim objection (although this court's own cost/benefit analysis appears to favor seeking to reclassify these claim). In future, counsel should comply with those posted procedures.

Tentative Ruling for 3/6/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Motion to Approve Compromise (dkt. 36). The parties should be prepared to address the status of any settlement negotiations with respect to the pending motion to approve compromise.

(b) Status Report. At the last status conference on 2/13/18, this court directed the debtor to file a brief status report by 2/27/18. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the debtor has not complied. The debtor should be prepared to address why it failed to comply with this court's order.

(c) Employment application: Creditors' Committee Counsel (dkt. 47, 65). The objection by certain truck drivers (dkt. 63) has been withdrawn (dkt. 89). The debtor's limited objection (dkt. 55) and the reply papers (dkt. 85, 86) raise issues that are best addressed in connection with any application for compensation, at which time this Court can evaluate whether the hourly billing rates are commensurate with the nature of the work performed, the time spent on each task, and the other factors under 11 U.S.C. 330. Therefore the tentative ruling is to overrule the objection and authorize the employment.

bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that the debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that the debtor was involved and the debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that the debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is insufficient evidence and notice.

Effective date of relief.

Docket 73

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is to grant relief to the movant ("Jain Trust") by modifying, not terminating, the automatic stay, as follows.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Background

Debtor's chapter 13 bankruptcy petition was filed on 5/29/18. Little progress was made, and in any event the debts exceeded the chapter 13 limit. 11 U.S.C. 109(e).

A hearing was held on 8/2/18, to consider whether to confirm the debtor's proposed chapter 13 plan, or take other action with respect to this case. This Court was persuaded to dismiss this case with a 180 day bar against being a debtor in bankruptcy, for willful failure to appear in proper prosecution of this case. 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1). That oral ruling was later memorialized in a written order (dkt.35).

Debtor moved for reconsideration (dkt. 30, filed 8/4/18) and this Court heard that motion on shortened time. Debtor essentially acknowledged that she had failed to prosecute this case but asserted that this was not willful; that she had been uncertain whether to refinance, sell, or develop the property with a joint venturer; and that, if the dismissal were vacated and the case converted to chapter 11, she would diligently prosecute it. Debtor attached to the motion for reconsideration a broker price opinion ("BPO") valuing the subject property between $8.5 and $9 million (dkt.30, Ex.3), and a letter of intent for a refinance loan of $8,600,000 (the "Refi LOI"). Dkt. 30,

Chapter 11

Ex.1. This Court granted the reconsideration motion (dkt.34).

(2) Legal standards

Under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) this Court "shall" grant relief from the automatic stay, including modification or termination of the stay, for "cause" including a lack of adequate protection of Jain Trust's interest in the property. An equity cushion can serve as adequate protection, but generally a 10% or 20% equity cushion after costs of sale is considered the minimum amount necessary (in the absence of monthly payments or other forms of protection). See, e.g., In re Mellor, 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984) (noting approvingly that a 20% equity cushion has been held to be adequate protection); In re McGowan, 6 B.R. 241, 243 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 1980) (holding a 10% equity cushion is sufficient to constitute adequate protection); In re Jug End in the Berkshires, Inc., 46 B.R. 892, 900 (Bankr. D. Mass. 1985) (holding an 8.3% equity cushion is insufficient to constitute adequate protection).

Under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) this Court shall grant relief from the automatic stay if Debtor has no equity in the property and the property is "not necessary to an effective reorganization." The quoted phrase has been interpreted to mean a plan of reorganization that would have a reasonable possibility of being confirmed in a reasonable time. United Sav. Ass'n of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Fores Assocs., Ltd., 484 U.S. 365, 633 (1988) (holding that for property to be necessary for an effective reorganization, there must be a "reasonable possibility of a successful reorganization within a reasonable time") (citation and internal quotation marks omitted).

Under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) this Court shall grant relief from the automatic stay if this Court finds that the filing of Debtor's bankruptcy petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, or defraud creditors that involved a transfer of an interest in the property without Jain Trust's consent.

Under 11 U.S.C. 362(g), Jain Trust has the burden of proof on the issue of Debtor's equity in the property, and Debtor has the burden of proof on all other issues.

(3) Analysis

Jain Trust argues that, if this Court relies on Debtor's own bankruptcy schedules and BPO (and a judgment lien of over $57,000), there will be nothing left for unsecured creditors after 8% costs of sale (which is the standard percentage). Jain Trust is correct.

Debtor has not disputed Jain Trust's calculation that it is owed $8,363,697.51 as of 9/17/18 (dkt.73, p.7). Assuming for purposes of discussion that the property should be valued at the high end of the BPO, or $9 million, that would leave only $8,280,000 after 8% costs of sale (because $9 million x 92% = $828,000).

Debtor argues, however, that her prior estimates were too low (and, less credibly, that in her bankruptcy schedules she confused the dollar amount of the debt with the dollar value of the subject property). Her opposition papers include an appraisal for $13,265,000 as of 3/7/18 (dkt. 79, Ex.1) and a letter of intent from an entity called "Tiburon Asset Management, LLC" to purchase the property for $13,000,000 (the "Tiburon LOI").

As Jain Trust points out in its reply, Debtor's appraisal appears to be premised on future development of the property. See dkt. 78, Ex.1, Part 1, p.13 ("The purpose of this appraisal is to develop an opinion of the market value of the subject property, as improved.") (emphasis added). In addition, this Court notes that the allegedly comparable properties ("Comps") used in the appraisal appear from the photographs to be markedly improved as compared with the subject property. See dkt. 78, Ex.1, Part 1, pp.42-43. In other words, Debtor's appraisal is not very convincing evidence of the current value of the property.

As for the Tiburon LOI, this Court notes that the $13 million purchase price is broken down into "$8,320,000.00 cash at closing" plus a "second mortgage lien" for $4,680,000.00. The proposed "cash at closing" is less than Jain Trust's claim of $8,363,697.51 as of 9/17/18 (dkt.73, p.7). That does not necessarily mean that the total value of the property is less than Jain Trust's claim; but this Court must discount the alleged $13,000,000 purchase price in the Tiburon LOI for several reasons: (i) it is a LOI, not a binding contract; (ii) the proposed $4,680,000.00 junior lien would entail all the usual risks of a junior lien on a real estate development, and (iii) there is no information about the purchaser's willingness and financial ability to proceed with the proposed transaction (e.g., a declaration including evidence of the proposed purchaser's finances and other indicia that this is a bona fide transaction in prospect).

On this last point (whether the Tiburon LOI reflects a genuine intent), this Court notes a troubling fact about Debtor's prior evidence. As Jain Trust points out (dkt. 80, pp.2:23-3:7), Debtor's prior evidence of value of between $8.5 million and $9 million is highly suspect, although at first glance it appears legitimate. The specifics are as follows.

Debtor's Refi LOI (dkt. 30, Ex.1) appears at first to be a genuine expression of interest because it is on letterhead of "LBC Capital" and it expresses an interest in making a real estate loan for $8,600,000. But the person who executed the Refi LOI is Vladimir Isperov (as a "Private Money Specialist") and he is the same person who (as a real estate agent with "Lending Bee, Inc.") provided the BPO of $8.5 million to $9 million (dkt. 30, Ex.3, at p.18). It seems incredible that a lender would have a genuine intent to loan $8.6 million on property that it believes might only be worth only $8.5 million.

Notwithstanding all of the foregoing deficiencies in Debtor's valuation evidence, this Court bears in mind that under section 362(g) it is Jain Trust's burden to establish a lack of equity in the property (one of the elements of section 362(b)(2)). Although Debtor's evidence is highly questionable, the tentative ruling is to find that Debtor's evidence has some (slight) weight, and Jain Trust has presented no evidence at all. Therefore, on the present record, the tentative ruling is to find that the value of the subject property is $9 million. (The true value could be significantly different - the tentative ruling is only that this is the value based on the present, very incomplete record.)

Based on that $9 million value, Jain Trust cannot show that Debtor lacks any equity in the property (for purposes of section 362(b)(2)), but it can show that the equity cushion is too small to provide adequate protection (for purposes of section 362(d)(1)). In addition, Debtor's August monthly operating report does not reflect any payments to Jain Trust (dkt. 75), so Debtor does not appear to be providing any such payments as an alternative form of adequate protection.

In these circumstances the tentative ruling is that the only way to provide adequate protection to Jain Trust, short of terminating the automatic stay, is to set a relatively short deadline for Debtor to sell or refinance the property. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of approximately the time that Jain Trust itself would need to sell or refinance the property if it had possession of the property as of the date of the hearing. This Court estimates that time at approximately four months.

Debtor argues (dkt.78) that the unauthorized transfer of an interest in the property occurred before the foreclosure process commenced, not afterwards, so allegedly there is no nexus with any act to hinder, delay, or defraud Jain Trust in its foreclosure efforts. Debtor also argues that she had legitimate (if misguided) reasons to engage in the transfer: she asserts that the property had been owned by her husband for many years before being transferred to the borrower, Nandini, Inc., and a 50% interest was transferred back to Debtor because no lender would refinance the property under the corporate name.

Debtor's alleged reasoning does not make sense to this Court. The transfer of a 50% interest in the property, without authorization from Jain Trust, is suspect in itself; and Debtor's explanation lacks foundation or corroboration, such as details of which lenders allegedly told her she had to do this.

Nevertheless, the tentative ruling is that, while suspect, the unauthorized transfer has not been shown to be part of a scheme to hinder, delay, or defraud Jain Trust within the meaning of section 362(d)(4). Rather, the tentative ruling is that on the present record Debtor appears to have intended to refinance, sell, or develop the property, and although she has acted with some panic, confusion, and denial that is typical for debtors, the evidence is not (quite) enough to show that when she filed her bankruptcy petition that was part of a scheme to hinder, delay, or defraud Jain Trust.

(c) Alleged unclean hands

Debtor argues that Jain Trust has unclean hands because it knew that the property was her residence, and it required corporate ownership of the property to get around consumer protection or usury laws. The tentative ruling is that, even if a lender (and borrower(s)) structure their transaction so as not to run afoul of various legal limitations, that does not amount to unclean hands.

(4) Conclusion

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline for Debtor to close the sale or refinancing the property, pursuant to this Court's written order authorizing a specific sale or refinancing, failing which Jain Trust will have relief from the automatic stay to foreclose. Debtor should bear in mind that any sale or refinancing will need to satisfy the applicable standards under the Bankruptcy Code, including the procedural requirements for notice and a hearing. The tentative ruling is to set that deadline at approximately four months from the hearing date, or 2/19/19.

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is to grant relief from the automatic stay as set forth below.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Procedural issues

Debtor's counsel is correct that service was a couple of days late and service should have been on both Debtor and Debtor's attorney (Rule 7004 (g), incorporated by Rule 9014(b), Fed. R. Bankr. P.). Nevertheless, (a) the fact that Debtor's attorney has responded shows that Debtor has had notice (Debtor's counsel could not ethically respond without communicating with Debtor, so Debtor must have had notice), (b) Debtor has already had far more than the one week period permitted by the Local Bankruptcy Rules to respond, so presumably there is no prejudice (nor does Debtor allege any prejudice), and (c) Debtor makes no attempt to contest any of the merits of the motion. For all of these reasons Debtor has waived any arguments that this Court should deny the motion for lack of proper service or on the merits. Alternatively, Debtor has forfeited such arguments. In re Hamer, 138 S.Ct. 13, 17 n.1 (2017) (distinguishing forfeiture and waiver); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (holding, in different context, that consent need not be express); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (same, and analyzing presumed consent)

Alternatively, this Court has discretion to grant relief from the automatic stay without full notice (see Rule 4001(a)(2), Fed. R. Bank. P.), and the tentative ruling is that such relief is appropriate in the circumstances. Such relief is particularly appropriate given that Movant is not represented by an attorney, and has fully complied with the spirit of the Rules, as well as their letter as set forth above.

(2) Merits

Movant seeks to continue prosecuting her small claims action to recover a leasehold security deposit and prepaid rent. Several of Movant's arguments are unpersuasive. But other, alternative arguments are persuasive.

(a) No mandatory abstention

Movant has not established that mandatory abstention applies. Under 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(2), mandatory abstention requires that the action be in existence prepetition, and Movant alleges that it did not arise until postpetition.

(b) Consumer debts

Movant argues that the debt at issue is not a "consumer debt" so the codebtor stay of 11 U.S.C. 1301 is inapplicable. But the lease states that it is for a personal residence (dkt. 132, Ex.E, at PDF p.24) so Movant's argument is not persuasive.

(c) Postpetition nature of action

This Court is not persuaded by Movant's argument that her action does not violate the automatic stay because it arose postpetition. The automatic stay prevents any act to obtain possession "of property of the estate or of property from the estate" (11 U.S.C. 362(a)(3)) and the motion concedes that debtor is married to the lessor, so on this record the movant has not shown that the estate lacks a community property or other interest in the bank account holding the security deposit. Therefore, the action is an act to obtain property either "of" the estate or, at least, "from" the estate.

(d) Recovery primarily from third party/enforcement against Debtor/estate

Movant asserts that recovery will be primarily from third parties (i.e., Debtor's wife, as landlord) and that no enforcement will be sought against Debtor or the estate. The latter assertion appears to be incorrect. As noted above, Movant has not established that Debtor lacks any interest in the bank account in which the security deposit is held or, if Debtor's wife has not held security deposits in a segregated bank account, that Debtor's community property will not be liable for the dollar amount of the security deposit (plus interest and any other charges). So Movant's argument that recovery will not be sought against Debtor or the estate is unpersuasive.

(e) Nonbankruptcy forum is most efficient

Movant is persuasive in arguing that it is most efficient for this security deposit issue to be litigated in nonbankruptcy court as a small claims matter. The procedural rules and procedures applicable in small claims matters are well suited to this dispute. Considering this issue and all other typical factors in deciding this sort of motion, this Court is persuaded that there is "cause" for relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1). See In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir.1990); In re Kronmeyer, 405 B.R. 915 (9th Cir. BAP 2009); In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc., 311 B.R. 551, 559–60 (Bankr. C.D. Cal.2004); In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799–800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984).

(f) Termination of automatic stay

For the foregoing reasons the tentative ruling is to terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1). In addition, the tentative ruling is to terminate any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362 (a).

(g) Retroactive relief

The tentative ruling is to grant the request for retroactive annulment of the stay, based on the allegations in the motion as supported by Debtor's declaration. See In re Fjeldsted, 293 B.R. 12 (9th Cir. BAP 2003).

(h) Effective date of relief

The tentative ruling is to grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3), because it appears that trial is set to commence on 10/24/18 on the appeal by Debtor's wife (as landlord) to the Superior Court. See dkt. 132, p.6.

(i) Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases

The motion seeks relief applicable notwithstanding any future bankruptcy cases, for a period of 180 days. The tentative ruling is to deny such relief for lack of sufficient cause shown. There is no allegation of multiple bankruptcy cases, or equivalent abuse of the bankruptcy system or similar cause for such extraordinary relief. See 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017).

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

Grant, subject to the following conditions. Appearances are not required.

After the hearing date this court will prepare an order and the tentative ruling is to include the following language in that order:

The stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a) applies subject to the following modifications and conditions:

(1) Service and reconsideration. Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

#13.00 Hrg re: Motion in Individual Case for Order
Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic
Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

Grant, subject to the following conditions, and also subject to any opposition at the hearing. Appearances required.

After the hearing date this court will prepare an order and the tentative ruling is to include the following language in that order:

The stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a) applies subject to the following modifications and conditions:

(1) Service and reconsideration. Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

#19.00 Order to show cause re: Sanctions for unauthorized withdrawal of representation

Docket 41

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Counsel for Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order discharging this Court's order to show cause (the "OSC," dkt. 41) via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

This Court has reviewed the declaration of Debtor's counsel (dkt. 47) in response to the OSC why counsel should not be sanctioned for failure to appear at a hearing on a motion for relief from the automatic stay. Counsel declares that she thought Debtor had come current on payments so the motion would be withdrawn.

The tentative ruling is that Counsel's excuse does not amount to excusable neglect because without a written withdrawal or a communication from opposing counsel it would be premature to assume that the motion would be withdrawn. In addition, although Counsel alludes to a (commendable) attempt to keep billing low, this Court notes that saving a couple of hundred dollars or so in fees but risking the loss of Debtor's vehicle is not a commendable exercise of billing discretion, and this Court's procedures for telephonic appearances make it possible to do both (keep costs low and protect Debtor's interests).

Nevertheless, the tentative ruling is that no sanctions are warranted because (a) Debtor did not lose her vehicle (she appeared in person at the hearing on the motion for relief from the automatic stay; this Court continued that matter; and the parties agreed to an adequate protection order), (b) Counsel has been diligent in responding to the OSC, and (c) Counsel has stated that no fees will be sought for the work on the motion for relief from the automatic

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/16/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling but the parties should be prepared to address the following issues.

(1) Background

Plaintiff filed a motion (adv. dkt. 14) for summary judgment on his first claim for relief (constructively fraudulent transfer) and the second claim for relief (declaratory relief that the purported trust is ineffective to prevent creditors from reaching the assets) in his complaint (adv. dkt. 1). This Court issued an order (adv. dkt. 31) denying summary judgment on the first claim but granting it on the second, for the reasons stated therein - principally the reasons in the Revised Tentative Ruling for 3/20/18 (reproduced below).

Defendants appealed. The District Court dismissed the appeal as interlocutory. See adv. dkt. 52, 53. The parties' joint status report states (adv. dkt. 54, p.4, sec.G) that they have executed but not filed a stipulation "that the dismissed appeal can be re-filed as an interlocutory appeal but on the condition that the trial proceed on the remaining fraudulent transfer claim for relief."

(2) Current issues

It is not clear what the parties intend, or what procedural steps this Court should take. Whatever is in the parties' unfiled stipulation presumably will not bind the District Court (or any other court hearing the appeal) in deciding whether to grant leave to appeal this Court's interlocutory ruling, so what do the parties hope to accomplish with their stipulation? Moreover, the parties' stated intention to proceed simultaneously in both this Bankruptcy Court and the District Court usually is not possible because an appeal generally deprives this court of jurisdiction. Cf. Rule 54(b) (Fed. R. Civ. P., incorporated by Rule 7054, Fed. R. Bankr. P.), and compare Rule 8008 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.). To the extent, if any, that this Court has discretion to grant any relief that would make such dual-tracking possible, is that an appropriate use of judicial resources? On a separate issue, if the plaintiff intends to proceed with the first claim for relief, does the plaintiff plan to amend the complaint to cure the deficiencies in that claim (constructively fraudulent transfer) noted in the tentative ruling for 3/20/18?

The tentative ruling is to continue this status conference to 11/6/18 at 11:00 a.m. with a deadline of 10/23/18 for the parties to file and serve whatever papers they deem appropriate to address the foregoing issues and any other relevant issues at this stage of these proceedings.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 4/17/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures"). There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should apprise this court about the status of any appeals or other matters (see dkt. 31, order granting in part plaintiff's motion for summary judgment, and dkt. 35, notice of appeal). The tentative ruling is to set a continued status conference for 7/17/18 at 11:00 a.m., with a brief status report due 7/6/18.

Revised Tentative Ruling for 3/20/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Motion for summary judgment (adv. dkt. 14-18, the "MSJ"); opposition papers (adv. dkt. 22-25); and reply papers (adv. dkt. 26-27). The tentative ruling is to deny in part and grant in part the MSJ, as set forth below.

(a) Legal standards. The legal standards governing motions for summary judgment are well known, do not appear to be disputed by the parties, and need not be repeated in this tentative ruling.

(b) First claim for relief (fraudulent transfer). Although the complaint (adv. dkt.1) asserts fraudulent transfer claims under both California law and the Bankruptcy Code, the MSJ limits this to 11 U.S.C. 548. The MSJ also asserts only constructive, not actual, fraud. See adv. dkt. 14, pp.2:21-3:1.

The complaint alleges less than reasonably equivalent value (11 U.S.C. 548(a)(1)(B)(i)) - namely, transfers by the debtors/defendants for no value from the debtors and/or their revocable trusts (the assets of which apparently could be reached by creditors) to irrevocable trusts. But to establish the elements of a constructively fraudulent transfer the plaintiff must also establish one of three types of insolvency (commonly referred to as "balance sheet," "inadequate capital," or "cash flow" insolvency) or else a transfer to an insider under an "employment contract." See 11 U.S.C. 548(a)(1)(B)(ii)(I)-(IV). There is no allegation about any employment contract, so the plaintiff must establish some type of insolvency.

The MSJ refers to balance sheet insolvency (11 U.S.C. 101(32A)). But the complaint never alleges that type of insolvency, so the plaintiff cannot be granted partial summary judgment as to that element (11 U.S.C. 548(a)(1)(B)(ii)(I)).

The complaint alleges inadequate capital and inadequate cash flow (in language that roughly parallels 11 U.S.C. 548(a)(1)(B)(ii)(II)&(III)). But the MSJ extrapolates that those types of insolvency could be presumed based on the bankruptcy schedules many months after the transfer, and from the sheer number of lawsuits and eventual judgments against the defendants and other circumstantial evidence. Those things might (or might not) be persuasive at trial, but they are insufficient to establish a lack of genuine issue of fact.

(c) Second claim for relief (declaratory relief related to nature of the trusts). The complaint (adv. dkt. 1, para. 23) seeks a declaratory judgment (i) that the debtors/defendants are "beneficiaries" of the trusts within the meaning of California Probate Code 15304, (ii) that the benefits the debtors/defendants receive from the trusts are "property of the estate" under 11 U.S.C. 541, and (iii) that the trusts qualify as "self-settled trusts" under California law, which the MSJ uses as shorthand for a trust the assets of which are reachable by creditors.

of the bankruptcy estate:

Chapter 7

The bankruptcy estate includes "all legal or equitable interests of the debtor in property as of the commencement of the case." 11 U.S.C. § 541(a)(1). It does not include, however, "any power that the debtor may exercise solely for the benefit of another," 11 U.S.C. § 541(b)(1), nor does it include "[p]roperty in which the debtor holds ... only legal title and not an equitable interest." 11 U.S.C. § 541(d). Similarly, the estate does not include property containing "[a] restriction on the transfer of a beneficial interest of the debtor in a trust that is enforceable under applicable nonbankruptcy law." 11 U.S.C. § 541(c)(2). [In re Cutter, 398 B.R. 6, 18-19 (9th Cir. BAP 2008).]

Under California law:

(a) If the settlor is a beneficiary of a trust created by the settlor and the settlor's interest is subject to a provision restraining the voluntary or involuntary transfer of the settlor's interest, the restraint is invalid against transferees or creditors of the settlor. The invalidity of the restraint on transfer does not affect the validity of the trust.

(b) If the settlor is the beneficiary of a trust created by the settlor and the trust instrument provides that the trustee shall pay income or principal or both for the education or support of the beneficiary or gives the trustee discretion to determine the amount of income or principal or both to be paid to or for the benefit of the settlor, a transferee or creditor of the settlor may reach the maximum amount that the trustee could pay to or for the benefit of the settlor under the trust instrument, not exceeding the amount of the settlor's proportionate contribution to the trust. [California Probate Code 15304]

The California Supreme Court has held that to the extent that the settlor of a trust is also a beneficiary, creditors can reach the property held by the trust:

It is against public policy to permit a man to tie up his property in such a way that he can enjoy it but prevent his creditors from reaching it, and where the settlor makes himself a beneficiary of a trust any restraints in the instrument on the involuntary alienation of his interest are invalid and ineffective. Since [the settlor] was the sole beneficiary, all the property in the trust is subject to the claims of his creditors. [Nelson v. Cal. Trust Co., 33 Cal.2d 501, 501-02 (1949) (emphasis added)]

These principles have been more recently reaffirmed in a decision of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals:

[U]nder California law, a settlor of a spendthrift trust cannot also act as beneficiary of that trust (i.e., California law prohibits "self-settled" trusts). See Cal. Prob.Code § 15304(a) (West 1987). California law voids self-settled trusts to prevent individuals from placing their property beyond the reach of their creditors while at the same time still reaping the bounties of such property. See Nelson v. California Trust Co., 33 Cal.2d 501, 202 P.2d 1021, 1021 (Cal. 1949). [In re Moses, 167 F.3d 470, 473 (9th Cir. 1999)]

In addition, the MSJ cites authority that if beneficiaries exercise "excessive" control over a trust then under California law they cannot "shield that trust with an anti-alienation provision lacking true substance." In re Moses, 167 F.3d 470, 473 (9th Cir. 1999) (citation omitted) (emphasis added). See also In re Cutter, 398 B.R. 6, 22 (9th Cir. BAP 2008). MSJ (adv. dkt. 14, p.10:1-14).

The debtors argue that their situation is different from that in Cutter because "the Debtor in Cutter could potentially use all the Trust's principal and income to maintain his standard of living, without limitation" whereas "[t] here is no such provision" in the debtors' trusts. Dkt. 22, p.3:22-26 (italics added to case name). That distinction of Cutter (and the other authorities cited above) is unpersuasive.

The MSJ points to the following facts in support of its argument that (i) the debtors are also beneficiaries and (ii) the anti-alienation provisions of the trust lack "true substance." The debtor/defendants do not raise any genuine contrary issues of fact.

(i) The debtors deducted mortgage interest and real estate taxes on their 2015 tax returns. See dkt. 18, p.4:5-9 (and evidence cited therein).

(ii) During the "initial period" of the trusts (the earlier of the grantors' deaths or 16 years) the debtors can continue to live in the property rent-free. See Dkt. 18, p.4:10-15 (and evidence cited therein).

(iii) During that same period, any net income or excess cash is distributed to the debtors. See Dkt. 18, p.4:16-21 (and evidence cited therein).

(iv) The debtors can manage the property as "absolute owners." See Dkt. 18, p.4:22-28 (and evidence cited therein).

(v) The debtors can loan money to themselves and/or use the property to secure loans to themselves. See Dkt. 18, p.5:2-7 (and evidence cited therein).

(vi) During their lifetime, the debtors can make discretionary distributions to their children, and upon their deaths the trust assets are to be distributed to their children. See Dkt. 18, p.5:8-12 (and evidence cited therein).

Based on the foregoing, it appears that the debtors are indeed beneficiaries of the trusts to a large extent, and moreover the anti-alienation provisions of the trust lack "true substance" as that term has been used in the cited authorities. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to grant the MSJ on the second claim for relief.

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 9/26/17. The applicable deadlines are reflected in this court's orders (adv. dkt. 7, 20). The parties should be prepared to address whether there are any non-mooted matters left to resolve in this adversary proceeding, if this Court is not persuaded to depart from the foregoing tentative ruling on the MSJ.

Tentative Ruling for 12/5/17:

Appearances required. The court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (dkt. 5) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See *generally Stern v. to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

This court recognizes that, at least at this stage, the attorney who filed the answer (dkt. 4) for both trustees of the trust has also executed the Status Report (dkt. 5) on behalf of one of the defendant trustees (the debtor/defendant) asserting that neither of them can consent to this Bankruptcy Court entering a final judgment because third party beneficiaries of the trust allegedly have a right to have their rights litigated "outside of this venue." Counsel for the answering defendants should be prepared (a) to explain whether this is a Stern objection or something else and (b) whether both answering defendants or only one of them takes this position, and if the former, why he did not execute the status report on behalf of both of them.

Counsel for the plaintiff should be prepared to address whether the plaintiff contends that there are no additional parties who need to be joined, and why.

(2) Mediation. The plaintiff suggests in the Status Report (adv. dkt. 5) that mediation, if any, should not be ordered before dispositive motion(s) are heard, which the plaintiff anticipates will be by 3/1/18. The tentative ruling is to revisit the issue of mediation after that date.

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 9/26/17. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/16/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the following issues.

Current Issues:

(1) District Court Litigation: On 6/12/18 this Court granted relief from the automatic stay (main case dkt. 123) to proceed with related litigation before the District Court. The parties should be prepared to address the status of the District Court litigation, and any other matters bearing on resolution of this matter.

(2) Joint Status Report: Per this Court's adopted tentative ruling for 6/12/18 (reproduced below), the parties were required to submit a joint status report on 10/2/18. No such report was filed. The parties should be prepared to address why the joint status report was not filed as ordered.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." below. Appearances are not required on 6/12/18.

Current Issues.

(1) Motion to Dismiss (adv. dkt.7). At the hearing on 4/17/18, this Court was persuaded to defer ruling on the motion to dismiss in view of the possibility that the issues would be litigated before the district court. On 5/9/18 plaintiff filed a motion for relief from stay to proceed with the district court litigation (2:16-bk-24010-NB, dkt. 117) (the "R/S Motion") and scheduled a hearing for this date on the 10:00 a.m. calendar. This court's tentative ruling for the R/S Motion is to grant that motion. Therefore, the tentative ruling for this matter is to take the motion to dismiss off calendar without prejudice to resetting it or filing appropriate papers after the district court litigation has been resolved.

(2) Deadlines: In view of this Court's tentative ruling on the R/S Motion, the tentative ruling is to continue this status conference to the date and time stated at the start of this tentative ruling. The parties are directed to file a joint status report by 10/2/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 4/17/18:

Appearances required. The court has reviewed the debtor's motion to dismiss (dkt. 7), Plaintiff's opposition (dkt. 14), the parties' joint status report (dkt. 9), Notice of Related District Court Case (dkt. 12) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

Paragraph "(2)" below is the tentative ruling on the motion to dismiss. Paragraphs "(1)," "(3)," and "(4)" below are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences, with additional provisions specific to this matter. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

With respect to this specific matter, although nondischargeability complaints are prototypically "core" bankruptcy matters, this Bankruptcy Court is concerned about possible duplication of litigation and infringement on the District Court's management of the related nonbankruptcy action pending in that Court since 6/16/17. Should this Bankruptcy Court grant relief from the automatic stay (on this Court's own motion or the motion of either party) so that such litigation can proceed, and meanwhile hold this nondischargeability action in abeyance? Alternatively, are other approaches preferable, such as removal, or withdrawal of the reference, or bifurcation of issues? The parties are directed to address what is the most appropriate and efficient way to proceed.

(2) Motion to Dismiss (dkt. 7)

The legal standards applicable to a motion to dismiss will not be repeated here because they are well known and have been summarized in the parties' filed papers. The tentative ruling is to grant the motion to dismiss the first and second claims for relief, with leave to amend, for the following reasons.

(a) 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(2)(A): false representation etc.

The debtor/defendant seeks dismissal of the first claim for relief, under section 523(a)(2)(A), on the ground that the plaintiff has not alleged that he obtained money, property, services, or credit from plaintiff as a result of the alleged fraud. The debtor/defendant argues (adv. dkt. 7, pp.6:23-7:3) that any alleged misrepresentations occurred in reports filed after the employees had performed services for the prior month and therefore after the debt was incurred, so the money or property at issue was not "obtained by" the alleged fraud.

On the one hand, the motion to dismiss is not entirely persuasive on this point. Reading the complaint in the light most favorable to the plaintiff as this Court must do when addressing a motion to dismiss, the complaint (adv. dkt. 1, p.1, para. 25) alleges that as a result of an ongoing pattern of false reports the Trust Funds (whom the plaintiff represents) missed opportunities to assert claims against the debtor/defendant's general contractors, which allegedly would have resulted in recovery of funds to cover the dollar amounts owed to the Trust Funds. In other words, if the Trust Funds had known of the (allegedly) false representations in those reports (or the allegedly fraudulent nature or false pretenses in those reports) then, allegedly, the Trust Funds could have pursued remedies that apparently are no longer available to them, so the fact that the reports were filed after the services were rendered each month is not dispositive.

But the complaint does not explain how the Trust Funds' missed opportunity amounts to obtaining money, property, services, or credit from plaintiff as a result of the alleged fraud. Rather, it appears that the (allegedly) false reports enabled the debtor/defendant to continue obtaining services from the employees (without providing those employees all of the compensation to which they were owed, in the form of funds that should have been transferred to the Trust Funds for the benefit of the employees). Compare In re Kay, 60 B.R. 174, 176 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1986) (liability based on fact that "the employee beneficiaries" sustained damages as "the proximate result of the defendants' representations") (emphasis added).

In sum, there are not enough allegations in the complaint to show a causal connection between the alleged falsehoods of the debtor/defendant and some sort of damage to the plaintiff. It is possible, of course, that the plaintiff stands in the shoes of the employees for these purposes, but the complaint does not include sufficient allegations (or copies of documents) for this Court to read the complaint that way. It is also possible that the plaintiff itself has been damaged - e.g., perhaps the plaintiff is liable to the employees if it did not detect and cure the alleged falsehoods in the debtor/defendant's reports, and thus the plaintiff itself has been damaged - but again the complaint does not include sufficient allegations (or copies of documents) for this Court to read the complaint that way.

For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is to grant the motion to dismiss the first claim for relief, with leave to amend. The tentative deadline for filing an amended complaint is 5/1/18.

The debtor/defendant has raised a separate argument with respect to the first claim for relief. The tentative ruling, however, is to reject the debtor/defendant's alternative argument (adv. dkt. 7, pp.7:23-8:5) that, under Rule 9(b), Fed. R. Civ. P. (incorporated by Rule 7009, Fed. R. Bankr.P.), the complaint is not sufficiently precise about the amount of hours that were falsely under-reported in each report. The complaint sufficiently apprises the debtor/defendant of the grounds of the alleged fraud, and any greater specificity is a matter for discovery and proof at trial, not a defect in pleading.

(b) 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(4): fraud or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity, etc.

The debtor/defendant seeks dismissal of the second claim for relief, under section 523(4), on the ground that the complaint lacks sufficient allegations that he is a fiduciary with respect to the funds at issue. The tentative ruling is that this is correct.

Chapter 7

The complaint alleges that "amounts withheld from employee wages meant to be transmitted to the Vacation Trust" became assets of that trust "as of the earliest date on which such contributions ... can reasonably be segregated from the employer's general assets." Complaint (adv. dkt. 1), p. 8, para.30 (emphasis added, quoting 29 C.F.R. 2510.3-102). In response the debtor/defendant argues (adv. dkt. 7, pp.9:12-15): "Plaintiff has failed to allege that such withholdings actually occurred and when such employee wage withholdings could be 'reasonably segregated from the employer's general assets.' Without such allegations, Plaintiff has failed to adequately allege that plan assets are at issue." (Emphasis added.)

To illustrate, consider the following hypothetical situation. Suppose that the debtor/defendant was paid $10X by a customer, but had obligations at that time of $15X consisting of $5X owed to employees for their base pay, $1X that should have been transmitted to the Vacation Trust but was not, and $9X for various other business expenses such as rent and income taxes. Did the $1X ever become segregated (withheld from wages) to the extent that it became a separate fund as to which the debtor/defendant had fiduciary obligations, or was the $1X only one contractual debt among many, with no segregated fund and therefore no associated fiduciary obligations?

In a similar vein the debtor/defendant also argues (adv. dkt. 7, pp.9:16-10:17) that the allegations about purported control over plan assets are conclusory, that unpaid contributions to employee benefit funds are not plan assets, and that there are insufficient allegations in the complaint to establish that there was any pre-existing fiduciary relationship. The tentative ruling is that all of these arguments are persuasive.

The debtor/defendant cites persuasive authority in support of the foregoing analysis. It is one thing if an employer misuses employee contributions to a trust fund, but if the funds have never reached the employee and instead are contributions that the employer was supposed to make then the failure to pay that contribution is not, by itself, enough to establish a fiduciary relationship with respect to those funds. See In re Quinones, 537 B.R. 942, 945 n.2 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2015) (distinguishing employer contributions "from the situation where an employer has control over funds that were withheld from employees' paychecks"). The complaint does not include sufficient allegations to determine which type of contribution is at issue.

In sum, the complaint does not contain enough allegations about the precise relationships among the parties so as to be able to figure out when the debtor/defendant's duties arose and to whom. The tentative ruling is to set the same deadline to amend the complaint as for the first claim for relief.

Unless this Court is persuaded to depart from the foregoing tentative ruling it will be adopted as this Court's final ruling on the motion to dismiss. The debtor/defendant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(3) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge) at this time? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 5/1/18 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(4) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 2/5/18. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

At the hearing counsel is directed to explain why the proofs of service are defective, and what steps will be taken to correct this issue so that it no longer occurs. (1) Current issues.

(a) Budget motion (dkt. 13). Counsel must address:

(i) Income as of petition date or current? The debtor has filed an amended bankruptcy Schedule I (dkt. 30). Is that actually intended to be a declaration of postpetition income, or a correction of the debtor's income as of the petition date?

(ii) Amended budget motion? Should an amended budget motion needs to be filed and served, or is such notice unnecessary and should the budget be deemed amended, in view of what appears to be an increase of approximately $168 in the debtor's monthly income (compare dkt. 13 at PDF p.8, debtor's personal income of $2,800, with dkt. 30, line 7, debtor's personal income of $2,968)?

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt. 12). Grant on a final basis, on the same terms as the interim order (dkt.24).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 3/6/18.

(a) Bar date: 6/15/18 (Order, dkt. 23). Note: Timely served? Per the proof of service (dkt. 26, the "POS") the debtor served the POS itself on creditors. Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Failure to serve order. This Court's order setting this status conference (dkt. 6) directed the debtor to serve a copy of that order on all parties in interest no later than 14 days prior to this status conference. No proof of service appears on the docket. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 4/11/18 for the debtor to effect such service, with a caution to counsel that in future such failure may result in sanctions.

Tentative Ruling for 10/16/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed debtor's status report (dkt. 50) and other relevant pleadings.

(a) Plan (dkt. 47) and Disclosure Statement (dkt. 48). These documents are incomplete and confused. But the tentative ruling is that there is no need to proceed with these documents if Debtors are going to proceed with a proper motion to refinance and pay all creditors in full (as stated in their status report).

(b) Proposed refinance. The claims register lists total claims for $419,929.77 as of the petition date (of which $366,270.15 are listed as secured and $150.29 as priority). The proposed refinance would generate loan proceeds of $463,000. This appears to be sufficient to pay all claims, probably including postpetition interest, although perhaps not including 100% of asserted administrative expenses. Counsel for the debtor should be prepared to address (i) the form of motion he intends to file, (ii) whether that motion will seek authority to pay unsecured claims, and (iii) whether unsecured claims will be paid out of escrow or by some other means and, if the latter, who will hold the net proceeds after payment of secured claims.

Tentative Ruling for 6/26/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor themselves.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtors' status report (dkt. 14), and the other filed documents and records in this case.

(a) May MOR (dkt. 18). The MOR purports to cover the period from 5/28/18 (the petition date) to 5/31/18, but is essentially blank, including the section for disclosure of existing insurance coverage (dkt. 18, pdf p. 5). Debtors should be prepared to address (i) whether they have insurance coverage on their residential real property (and any other asset requiring insurance); and, if they do (ii) whether they read the MOR and understood it prior to signing.

(b) Case Status Report (dkt. 14).

(i) Budget Motion. The status report says that a budget motion is not required by Judge Bason's procedures (dkt. 14, pdf p. 3), but that is not correct. See Judge Bason's Procedures, Section VII.F ("Judge Bason requires the use of local forms F 2081-2.2.MOTION.BUDGET and F 2081-2.2.ORDER.BUDGET"). Did counsel actually review the posted procedures? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 6/28/18 to file and serve a budget motion.

(ii) Consumers' confidential information. The status report states that the debtors do not have possession, custody, or control of consumers' confidential information (dkt. 14, pdf p. 10), but this Court questions whether that is accurate. What about customer lists from Hey Baby Sales, Inc.? Do the debtors claim any rights to those lists? (e.g. if the case were converted to a chapter 7 case, a sale of the debtors' interest in the company took place, and the buyer wanted the customer lists, would the debtors agree they could not retain or use the lists because the lists are owned by the company?).

The debtors should be prepared to address what steps they will take to appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Revised Tentative Ruling for 7/17/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtor's filed status report (dkt. 17) and the other filed documents in this case.

(a) Secured claims. Why does the debtor's bankruptcy Schedule D (dkt. 18 at PDF p.11) list $0 in secured claims (not even a disputed claim?) even though the status report (dkt. 17) states that the case was filed to stop foreclosure? How can creditor and this Court rely on the accuracy of the bankruptcy schedules in view of such inconsistency?

(b) Income. The debtor's bankruptcy Schedule I (dkt. 18 at PDF pp.19-20) lists a total of $100/mo. in income taxes, medicare and social security. It lists $0 for net income from operating a business (line 8a) despite listing multiple businesses with alleged income: "YB Design, Inc.," "Management of Rabenu Enterprises, LLC," "Babysitting services," and "Cosmetic Sales." It fails to comply with the instructions in line 8a to "Attach a statement for each ... business showing gross receipts, ordinary and necessary business expenses, and the total monthly net income." The debtor appears to be ignoring the requirements to provide disclosure as to his own income and expenses and, under this Court's order (dkt. 9, para.3), to provide equal disclosure with respect to his spouse and their businesses. How can creditors and this Court rely on the accuracy of the bankruptcy schedules and future compliance with orders of this Court in view of such non-compliance?

(c) Deadline for compliance. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 7/31/18 for the debtor to file amended bankruptcy schedules correcting not only the foregoing deficiencies that this Court has identified but also any other deficiencies that the debtor and his spouse and the debtor's counsel identify after carefully reviewing the documents that the debtor has filed. If in future this Court discovers other non-compliance with the debtor's obligations to provide accurate disclosures and to comply with this Court's orders, this Court may order the dismissal or conversion of this bankruptcy case, or other remedies.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 6/21/18.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtor's filed status report (dkt. 42) and the other filed documents in this case.

(a) Motion of U.S. Trustee ("UST") to dismiss or convert (dkt. 21). The debtor claims to have come into compliance (dkt. 41). Does the UST have any outstanding compliance issues?

(b) Budget motion (dkt. 15) and supplemental declaration of non-debtor spouse Jose M. Juarez (dkt. 37). Grant on a final basis. Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(c) Cash collateral motion (dkt. 14, 16). The adopted tentative ruling for the 8/14/18 hearing (reproduced at calendar no. 7, 9/18/18 at 1:00 p.m.) directed the debtor to file an order granting the motion on an interim basis. No such order has been lodged. Why not? Subject to a satisfactory answer, the tentative ruling is to grant the motion on a final basis, on the same terms as it was granted on an interim basis. Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. (1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtor's filed status report (dkt. 17) and the other filed documents in this case.

See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(b) Debtor's spouse's income. The debtor's bankruptcy Schedule I reports that the debtor's spouse is a self-employed construction contractor, but that the spouse only earns $1,500/mo. in net income. Dkt. 1, at PDF p.32, line 8a. This Court takes judicial notice that there is considerable construction activity in this geographic area. Why is that income not higher?

In addition, there is no attached statement showing gross income, expenses, and the calculation of net income. That is contrary to the instructions for line 8a, and to this Court's order that for reporting purposes any spouse is to be treated as equivalent to the debtor (dkt. 6, para.3).

Docket 20

Tentative Ruling:

Grant the motion (docket no. 50) on an interim basis, subject to the conditions set forth below, with a final hearing on 11/6/18 at 1:00 p.m., and a deadline of 10/18/18 for the movant to file and serve a notice of the final hearing.

Appearances are not required on 10/14/18.

Judge Bason's standard conditions for use of cash collateral and/or postpetition financing (by creditors holding prepetition claims)

(1) Written order

(a) Form. Use local form F2081-

1.1.ORDER.CASH.COLLATERAL or the equivalent. Attach a copy of this tentative ruling as an exhibit, thereby adopting it as the written ruling of the court. Do not repeat the terms set forth in the motion or any stipulation. Incorporate those terms by reference, subject to any modification by this court (including the docket number of the document).

(b) Timing. Lodge the proposed order within 7 days after the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Minimum adequate protection

In addition to the postpetition security interests that are automatically provided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 552 (e.g., in traceable proceeds and profits), and subject to any more comprehensive protection that may be included in the motion or related papers, the debtor shall provide at least the following protection to any creditor with a security interest in the subject property (pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 361-364, as applicable):

(a) Insurance. For all collateral of a type that typically is insured (e.g., real property and improvements), the debtor is directed to maintain insurance in a dollar amount at least equal to the debtor's good faith estimate of the value of such creditor's interest in the collateral, and such insurance shall name such creditor as an additional insured. remain current on payments for such insurance.

(b) Taxes. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments on account of postpetition real estate taxes (to the extent that real estate is part of the collateral).

(c) Disclosures/access. The debtor is directed to provide, upon such creditor's reasonable request, periodic accountings of the foregoing insurance and tax obligations and payments, as well as postpetition proceeds, products, offspring, or profits from the collateral, including gross revenues and expenses and a calculation of net revenues, including any rents and any fees, charges, accounts, or other payments for the use or occupancy of rooms and other public facilities in lodging properties (as all of the foregoing terms are used in 11 U.S.C. 552). The debtor is directed to provide appropriate documentation of those accountings, and access for purposes of inspection or appraisal.

(3) Limitation on postpetition liens

In the event that the motion or related papers seek authority to grant postpetition liens to the creditor(s) with respect to prepetition debts any such liens shall be limited to the same validity, priority, and amount as prepetition liens. As used herein, the "validity, priority, and amount" or any similar phrase that may be used by the parties or the court is deemed to include the following:

(a) Extent. Such liens shall be limited to the type of collateral in which the creditor held a security interest as of the petition date, unless this order expressly states that the liens granted by this order are intended to attach to different types of collateral from the prepetition collateral. For example, if prepetition liens extended to inventory and accounts receivable but not equipment then postpetition liens are likewise limited (unless otherwise expressly provided below); and postpetition liens shall not extend to the proceeds of any avoidance actions, any recoveries under 11 U.S.C. 506 (c), or any "carveout" under 11 U.S.C. 552.

(b) Priority. Such liens shall be limited to the same priority as the security interest held by the creditor as of the petition date.

(c) Dollar amount. Such liens shall be limited to the dollar amount needed to protect the creditor against diminution in the value of the secured claims as of the petition date.

(d) Enforceability. Such liens shall be limited to the extent that the creditor's security interests were duly perfected and valid as of the petition date, and to the extent that they are unavoidable.

(e) Automatic postpetition perfection. Any automatic perfection of such liens shall be subject to any applicable limitations regarding the Court's authority, jurisdiction, or due process.

(4) Automatic disapproval of insufficiently disclosed provisions

Any provision of the type listed in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or in local form F4001-2 (e.g., cross-collateralization) or any waiver of the "equities of the case" exception in 11 U.S.C. 552(b)(2) shall be deemed automatically disapproved and excepted from any order granting the motion, notwithstanding any other provision of such order, unless either: (a) such provision is specifically and prominently disclosed in the motion papers in a checklist (such as local form F4001-2), or alternatively (b) such provision is specifically identified in any proposed order granting the motion, using terminology of the type used in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or local form F4001-2 (e.g., any "cross-collateralization" that is not specifically identified as such is deemed to be disapproved).

(5) Disputes

In the event of any disputes regarding the rulings in this order, the parties are directed to meet and confer and, if they cannot resolve their disputes consensually, contact the chambers of the presiding judge to arrange a mutually convenient time for either a telephonic or in-person hearing to address such disputes.

5/8/18 tentative ruling (see below) was not opposed, so it became this Court's actual ruling.

This Court directed (i) Checkmate to file and serve a notice of continuances attaching and incorporating by reference the deadlines in that tentative ruling by 5/7/18, and (ii) the parties to file a brief joint status report by 5/29/18. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, none of the parties have complied. The parties are cautioned that failure to abide by applicable deadlines in future may result in adverse consequences.

(b) Motion for TRO & Claim and Delivery (adv. dkt. 10).

Plaintiff/debtor Checkmate King Co., Ltd. ("Checkmate") has filed a stipulation (adv. dkt. 30) with defendants Radiology Solutions Corp. ("RS") and George Fower ("Fower") for turnover of equipment. But Checkmate has not provided any evidence that it has relief from the automatic stay and consent of the Chapter 7 Trustee in the RS and Fower bankruptcy cases for such turnover (Case Nos. 8:18-bk-10585-TA and 8:18-bk-10583-TA). The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 6/19/18 for Checkmate to file a declaration attaching evidence sufficient to establish those things, and lodge a revised proposed order to approve the stipulation.

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 3/6/18. It is premature to set a discovery cutoff and other deadlines at this time. Continue to 7/17/18 at 2:00 p.m., brief joint status report due 7/3/18.

reference the deadlines in this tentative ruling (assuming that this Court is not persuaded to depart from this tentative ruling). Appearances are not required on 5/8/18.

(1) Current Issues. This Court has reviewed the parties' status reports (adv. dkt. 24 & 26) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(a) Motion for TRO & Claim and Delivery (adv. dkt. 10). At the 4/9/18 hearing on this motion, counsel for plaintiff/debtor Checkmate King Co., Ltd. ("Checkmate") apprised this Court of the bankruptcy filings of defendants Radiology Solutions Corp. ("RS") and George Fower ("Fower") (Case Nos. 8:18-bk-10585-TA and 8:18-bk-10583-TA) and requested a continuance of this hearing to allow time to obtain orders granting relief from stay with annulment. In the Joint status report (adv. dkt. 24), Checkmate states that the hearings on the relief from stay motions are scheduled for 5/15/18. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to continue this motion to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling.

(b) Siemens Motion to Dismiss (adv. dkt. 27, the "MTD"). Defendant Siemens Medical Solutions USA, Inc. ("Siemens") has properly self-calendared its MTD for 6/12/18 at 11:00 a.m. Siemens anticipates that it may be voluntarily dismissed by plaintiff (see adv. dkt. 24), but if that does not occur then this Court anticipates that the MTD may take 15 minutes or more to hear. This Court's practice is that matters anticipated to take 15 minutes or more are heard on the 2:00 p.m. calendar (not available for self-calendaring, except by permission of this Court). Therefore the tentative ruling is to re-calendar the MTD from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., which is concurrent with the other matters in this adversary proceeding that are on today's calendar.

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 3/6/18. It is premature to set a discovery cutoff and other deadlines at this time.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." (b) Cash collateral & budget motions & stipulation (Sakurai dkt. 119, 122; Checkmate dkt. 114, 118, 119). Grant the cash collateral motion in the Sakurai case, subject to the same replacement liens and other terms and conditions as this Court's prior approvals of the use of cash collateral (see Sakurai case dkt. 43, 57); grant the budget motion in the Sakurai case; and approve the cash collateral stipulation in the Checkmate case on a final basis.

(d) Removed action (Adv. no. 2:17-ap-01558-NB), motions for stay and for remand (adv. dkt. 8, 10, 12, 13). The tentative ruling is that the motion for a stay pending determination by the District Court of the debtors' motion to withdraw the reference is moot, because the District Court has dismissed that motion. Appearances required by the debtor's principals and debtor's counsel.

Proposed orders: The debtor is directed to serve and lodge proposed orders on each motion listed below via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date.

(1) Current issues

(a) Status Report (dkt. 37): The status report states that the debtor has no executory contracts. What about all the contracts with Radiology Solutions Inc./Corp. (whichever name is correct)?

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt.9): The debtor reports (dkt. 53, p.3) that it has reached a stipulation with Community Bank regarding the use of cash collateral, but as of the preparation of this tentative ruling no such stipulation appears on the docket. If there is no such stipulation, or if it does not moot the bank's opposition (dkt. 50), then the parties should be prepared to address the merits of that opposition. In addition, the parties should be prepared to address the objection of the Fresco parties (dkt. 49) and the debtor's response (dkt. 53).

(c) Payroll motion (dkt. 6). The tentative ruling is to grant this motion on a final basis.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

(1) Current Issues

(a) Chapter 11 Plan (Sakurai dkt. 295, Checkmate dkt. 221, the "Plan"); Disclosure Statement (Sakurai dkt. 296, Checkmate dkt. 222, the "D/S"). The parties should be prepared to discuss whether the Plan and D/S fully comply with the Stipulation with the Fresco Parties (D/S, Ex.1, and dkt. 266), including whether the Plan provides for the nondischargeability of the Fresco Parties' claim and the Fresco Parties' right to appoint forensic accountants. In addition, Exhibit C to the disclosure statement does not appear to include the $793,000 account pledged to Citizens Business Bank (the "Bank") or the $400,000 "note owed [by an undisclosed person] in the Sakurai case." D/S, Attachment, p.3:11-14. In addition, periods "A" through "F" on Exhibit C are confusing. In addition, Exhibit F appears to include some printing and other errors.

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/18/18 for Debtors to file a further amended Plan and amended D/S to correct these issues and lodge a proposed order, substantially in the form of the order posted on Judge Bason's portion of the Court's website (www.cacb.uscourts.gov), authorizing the service of a voting package and setting a combined hearing on final approval of the D/S and confirmation of the Plan for the same time as the continued status conference (see below). The tentative ruling is that the voting package should include Mr. Sakurai's declaration (Sakurai dkt. 297) but not include any of the exhibits to it, and instead include a note stating that the

In addition, the tentative ruling is that the Plan must include provisions to safeguard proceeds from the sales of property, liquidation of the bank account pledged to the Bank, and any other assets of the estate. The tentative ruling is that any proceeds must be transferred directly from escrow to a bank account from which funds cannot be released absent the signature of Debtors' counsel, upon order of this Court.

(b) RS/Fower Adversary Proceeding (2:18-ap-01602-NB). The tentative ruling is to continue the status conference to the date and time stated below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Fresco Parties' Motions to Convert Cases (dkt. 199 & Checkmate 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 185). The tentative ruling is to tentatively approve the parties' stipulations (Sakurai dkt. 266 and Checkmate dkt. 208) as settlements of the respective motions under Rule 9019 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), and to rule that notice of such settlements need not be provided pursuant to Rule 2002(a)(3). The cause for not requiring notice is that the motions to convert were properly served, a hearing was held, the parties who sought to be heard on that matter had an opportunity to be heard, the stipulation does not appear to result in any relief different in degree from what could have been ordered at that hearing, and to the contrary the resolution appears to be better for all creditors (and all other parties in interest) than the alternative of immediate conversion of each case to chapter 7.

Proposed orders: The Fresco Parties are directed to lodge two

(b) RS/Fower Adversary Proceeding (2:18-ap-01602-NB). The tentative ruling is to continue the status conference to the date and time stated below.

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Fresco Parties' Motion to Convert Cases (dkt. 199 & Checkmate 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 185). The tentative ruling is to grant Fresco's motions to convert the Checkmate and Sakurai cases to chapter 7 for the following reasons.

(i) Gross mismanagement. The tentative finding of fact is that the debtors have grossly mismanaged their estates such that cause exists under 1112(b)(4)(B) to convert their cases. These cases have been pending for nearly a year, since 10/16/17, only very belated and half-hearted investigation or collection activity against Radiology Solutions and Fower - either using legal enforcement or practical steps. For example, at hearings on 11/14/17 and 1/30/18, the debtors maintained their belief that they could recover 100% on the dated receiveables from Radiology Solutions, despite this Court's expressed concerns with the debtors' counsel regarding the apparent lack of collection activity based on Checkmate's failure to use the vast panoply of litigation tools available to them, including examinations under Rule 2004 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), other discovery tools, remedies such as immediately seeking restraining orders and injunctions, and non-litigation approaches such as pressuring Radiology Solutions and Fower by reporting their defaults to Siemens or attempting to use pressure from other suppliers, customers, government regulators, or other persons. All of those avenues should have been explored vigorously, both prepetition and postpetition, and disclosed to parties in interest in these cases.

(ii) Other "cause." The debtors appear to have run through vast amounts of money to "purchase" equipment that does not exist, and yet as set forth above they have a very cavalier attitude toward attempting to engage in discovery or collection, while continuing to insist that they expected very substantial recoveries from those sources and/or from equipment (which turned out not to exist). The tentative finding of fact is that these circumstances show not just gross mismanagement but also that the debtors are hiding facts, or they are attempting to run out the clock on possible causes of action against them or transferees of their assets, or both.

(ii) The debtors' counter-argument about the best interests of creditors is not persuasive. The debtors argue that under their liquidation analysis (Sakurai, dkt. 240, PDF p. 14, Checkmate, dkt. 194, PDF p. 17) creditors will receive faster and better recoveries if the debtors are permitted to engage in a liquidation through chapter 11, rather than converting these cases to chapter 7. There are several problems with this argument.

First, this Court questions the debtors' projected recoveries in chapter 11. The debtors have been wildly inaccurate (or have intentionally hidden the truth) before, as set forth above. This Court has no faith in the Debtors to adequately disclose and maximize the value of their remaining assets, such as the house in Japan or purported interests in that house. Moreover, this Court is concerned about the debtor's management of whatever is recovered, such as what might happen to proceeds from the sale of real property. This Court recognizes that safeguards can be attempted; but safeguards can also be evaded, and the tentative ruling is that the simplest and best safeguard is to appoint a chapter 7 trustee.

Second, this Court questions the debtor's projected lack of substantial recoveries in chapter 7. The tentative ruling is that the Fresco Parties have the better arguments regarding the potential benefits to unsecured creditors in a chapter 7 case (perhaps as much as 80% or more).

Third, supposing for the sake of discussion that the debtors were accurate in their projected recoveries in a liquidating chapter 11 case, and their comparison with projected recoveries in a chapter 7 case, that is not the only consideration. This Court must consider the integrity of the bankruptcy system. Given the debtors' gross mismanagement and this Court's concerns about the debtors' conduct (as described above) it appears that the only adequate safeguard of the integrity of the bankruptcy system is to convert these cases to chapter 7.

(iii) Evidentiary Objections (Sakurai, dkt. 233, 252) & (Checkmate 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 200, 204). The tentative ruling is that the history of this case and this Court's own admonishments to the debtors provides ample support for conversion, so this Court need not resolve the parties' respective evidentiary objections.

(iv) Proposed Orders. The Fresco Parties are directed to lodge proposed orders via this Court's LOU system within 7 days of the hearing.

(b) Application to Employ KW Commercial Inland Empire (dkt. 197) and Neiman Realty (dkt. 206). If this Court adopts the tentative ruling set forth above, the tentative ruling is to continue these hearings to the date and time set forth below to allow time for the chapter 7 trustees to weigh in.

(c) RS/Fower Adversary Proceeding (2:18-ap-01602-NB). The tentative ruling is to continue the status conference to the date and time stated below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

(a) Bar date: 1/17/18 (order timely served. dkt. 58, 59).

(b) Amended Joint Plan/Amended Joint Disclosure Statement*: TBD based on the outcome of the Conversion Motions.

(c) Continued status conference: If this Court converts these cases to chapter 7, the tentative ruling is to continue the status conference in the Sakurai and Checkmate cases to 10/9/18 at 2:00 p.m. No written status report required.

(a) Motion for Relief from Stay (dkt. 48). In light of the proposed settlement with the Fresco Parties, the tentative ruling is to continue the hearing to be concurrent with the continued status conference (see below).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement. The tentative ruling is to conduct a combined hearing on the adequacy of the (forthcoming) disclosure statement and confirmation of the (forthcoming) plan to be concurrent with the continued status conference (see below).

(c) Fresco Adversary Proceeding (adv. case no. 2:17-ap-01558-NB), including motion to remand (adv. dkt. 8). (1) Current issues

(a) Potential settlement with Fresco Parties. The parties must be prepared to address the status of their settlement negotiations and finalization of the draft settlement documents circulated 2/5/18, and all other issues appropriate to raise at a status conference, including the issues in their recent status reports and related documents (Sakurai case, no. 2:17-bk-22660-NB, dkt. 87, 104, 105, 114, 124, and Checkmate case, no. 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 90, 93, 100, 102, 104, 105, 106, 109, 112, 113, 119, 122).

(b) Cash collateral & budget motions & stipulation (Sakurai dkt. 119, 122; Checkmate dkt. 114, 118, 119). Grant the cash collateral motion in the Sakurai case, subject to the same replacement liens and other terms and conditions as this Court's prior approvals of the use of cash collateral (see Sakurai case dkt. 43, 57); grant the budget motion in the Sakurai case; and approve the cash collateral stipulation in the Checkmate case on a final basis.

(d) Removed action (Adv. no. 2:17-ap-01558-NB), motions for stay and for remand (adv. dkt. 8, 10, 12, 13). The tentative ruling is that the motion for a stay pending determination by the District Court of the debtors' motion to withdraw the reference is moot, because the District Court has dismissed that motion. There is no tentative ruling on the motion to remand.

(a) Dec MOR (dkt. 97):

(i) On page 1 of 34, the MOR reflects $793,000 in cash receipts for the pre-petition Community Bank Sakurai Family Trust savings account, with a notation that Community Bank initially seized, but has since returned, the funds. What is this money from? Is it currently being held? Is it available to pay secured or unsecured creditors?

(ii) On page 7 of 34, there is a line item reflecting a $5,000 payment to Mr. Aronson for legal fees. At the status conference on 1/9/18 this court highlighted that the Sakurais had made a similar payment in November for Mr. Aronson's fees and counsel stated that the payment was made in error, and the debtors and their counsel assured this court that this issue would be addressed. By no later than February 7, 2018, Mr. Aronson is directed to file a declaration addressing the status of the $10,000 in legal fees ($5,000 Nov; $5,000 Dec) that he received from the Sakurais.

(b) Turnover of Documents and Information, etc. The parties must be prepared to address what documents and information have been produced by the debtors, and all other issues appropriate to raise at a status conference, including the issues in their recent status reports and related documents (case no. 2:17-bk-22660-NB, dkt. 87, 104, 105, 114, and 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 90, 93, 100, 102, 104, 105, 106, 109, 112, 113).

(1) Current issues

(a) Proofs of service (dkt. 18, 19, 21, 22). Service does not appear to be in compliance with this court's orders shortening time because they do not certify that anyone was served via overnight delivery or other expedited means.

The following tentative rulings are contingent on filing a corrected proof of service, no later than the day after this hearing, declaring that such expedited service was actually done, or if that is not true then the tentative ruling is to impose sanctions of $200 on counsel for the debtors and, despite the lack of service, authorize the proposed expenditures of cash collateral and the proposed utility deposits as an interim method of providing adequate protection under 11 U.S.C. 361-366.

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt. 8). Subject to any opposition at the hearing, the tentative ruling is to grant this motion on the terms set forth in the separate tentative ruling on that motion.

(c) Utility motion (dkt. 11). Subject to any opposition at the hearing, the tentative ruling is to grant this motion. Proposed order: Movant is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

(a) Bar date: TBD

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: 11/14/17 at 1:00 p.m. (see order, dkt. 25).

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If you do not appear, and the matter is not adequately resolved by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

#5.00 Cont'd hrg re: Second and Final Application for Award of Compensation and Reimbursement of Expenses of Danning, Gill, Diamond & Kollitz, LLP as General Counsel for Chapter 7 Trustee fr. 9/18/18

Docket 280

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/16/18:

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is to overrule Debtor's objection (dkt. 295) to the application for compensation (dkt. 280) filed by Danning, Gill, Diamond & Kollitz, LLP ("Law Firm") and the application for compensation (dkt. 278) filed by Swicker & Associates ("Accountants") for the reasons stated in parts "IV," "V" and "VI" of the reply (dkt. 297).

In reaching that tentative ruling this Court has considered the following. On the one hand, Debtor's excuse for not filing any written response is inadequate. Debtor's excuse is that his attorney quit, but there is no explanation why Debtor did not at least file his own objection outlining his basic concerns, which he could then amend if necessary. On the other hand, the only apparent prejudice to Law Firm and Accountants from hearing a late objection instead of a timely objection is a delay of a few weeks, which has not been shown to be sufficiently prejudicial to strike the objection.

As for the merits of Law Firm's application, this Court has reviewed every daily time entry and every aspect of Law Firm's application for compensation, with particular attention to the issues raised in the objection and the reply. This Court is tentatively persuaded that Law Firm has exercised billing judgment and has billed efficiently (including a number of "no charge" items), provided sophisticated and effective services (including sensitivity to Jevic issues, for example) (dkt. 297, p.4:12-17), and is entitled to be compensated in full.

As for the merits of Accountants' application, this Court has again reviewed every daily time entry and every aspect of Accountants' application for compensation, with particular attention to the issues raised in the objection and the reply. This Court is tentatively persuaded that Accountants exercised billing judgment and have billed efficiently (including, for example, initially providing rough estimates of tax liabilities and later, once additional information was obtained, preparing more detailed analyses) (dkt. 278, p.4:23-26), and provided sophisticated and effective services (including, for example, having to deal with the moving target of whether the estate would be solvent or insolvent, and incomplete and changing information from Debtor). See, e.g., dkt. 278, p.5:5-9, p.8:4-9; dkt. 280, p.5:5-6 & Ex.1, p.20, entry for 1/5/18, and p.22, entries for 3/28/18 through 5/1/18; and dkt. 297, p.7:7-16, pp.13:18-14:27, and pp.18:12-20:12. This Court is tentatively persuaded that Accountants are entitled to be compensated in full.

Docket 27

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling but the parties should be prepared to address both the merits of the motion and procedures. This Court's order shortening time (dkt. 30) reminded counsel for Debtor to comply with this Court's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) for reconsideration motions, including efforts to obtain the Chapter 13 Trustee's consent to the requested relief. Debtor's motion (dkt. 27) and subsequent notice (dkt. 32) do not include any evidence of such compliance. Does the Chapter 13 Trustee support the motion? Have the funds been received by the Trustee?

#1.00 Hrg re: Debtor's motion for order authorizing use of cash collateral

Docket 4

Tentative Ruling:

Subject to (1) confirming notice per this Court's order shortening time (dkt. 10), (2) addressing this Court's concerns in that order, and (3) any objections at the hearing, the tentative ruling is to grant the motion (dkt. 4) on an interim basis, subject to the conditions set forth below, with a final hearing on 11/27/18 at 1:00 p.m., and a deadline of 11/2/18 for the movant to file and serve a notice of the final hearing. Appearances required on 10/17/18.

Judge Bason's standard conditions for use of cash collateral and/or postpetition financing (by creditors holding prepetition claims)

(1) Written order

(a) Form. Use local form

F2081-1.1.ORDER.CASH.COLLATERAL or the equivalent. Attach a copy of this tentative ruling as an exhibit, thereby adopting it as the written ruling of the court. Do not repeat the terms set forth in the motion or any stipulation. Incorporate those terms by reference, subject to any modification by this court (including the docket number of the document).

(b) Timing. Lodge the proposed order within 7 days after the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Minimum adequate protection

In addition to the postpetition security interests that are automatically provided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 552 (e.g., in traceable proceeds and profits), and subject to any more comprehensive protection that may be included in the motion or related papers, the debtor shall provide at least the following protection to any creditor with a security interest in the subject property (pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 361-364, as applicable):

(a) Insurance. For all collateral of a type that typically is insured (e.g., real property and improvements), the debtor is directed to maintain insurance in a dollar amount at least equal to the debtor's good faith estimate of the value of such creditor's interest in the collateral, and such insurance shall name such creditor as an additional insured. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments for such insurance.

(b) Taxes. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments on account of postpetition real estate taxes (to the extent that real estate is part of the collateral).

(c) Disclosures/access. The debtor is directed to provide, upon such creditor's reasonable request, periodic accountings of the foregoing insurance and tax obligations and payments, as well as postpetition proceeds, products, offspring, or profits from the collateral, including gross revenues and expenses and a calculation of net revenues, including any rents and any fees, charges, accounts, or other payments for the use or occupancy of rooms and other public facilities in lodging properties (as all of the foregoing terms are used in 11 U.S.C. 552). The debtor is directed to provide appropriate documentation of those accountings, and access for purposes of inspection or appraisal.

(3) Limitation on postpetition liens

In the event that the motion or related papers seek authority to grant postpetition liens to the creditor(s) with respect to prepetition debts any such liens shall be limited to the same validity, priority, and amount as prepetition liens. As used herein, the "validity, priority, and amount" or any similar phrase that may be used by the parties or the court is deemed to include the following:

(a) Extent. Such liens shall be limited to the type of collateral in which the creditor held a security interest as of the petition date, unless this order expressly states that the liens granted by this order are intended to attach to different types of collateral from the prepetition collateral. For example, if prepetition liens extended to inventory and accounts receivable but not equipment then postpetition liens are likewise limited (unless otherwise expressly provided below); and postpetition liens shall not extend to the proceeds of any avoidance actions, any recoveries under 11 U.S.C. 506(c), or any "carveout" under 11 U.S.C. 552.

(b) Priority. Such liens shall be limited to the same priority as the security interest held by the creditor as of the petition date.

(c) Dollar amount. Such liens shall be limited to the dollar amount needed to protect the creditor against diminution in the value of the secured claims as of the petition date.

(d) Enforceability. Such liens shall be limited to the extent that the creditor's security interests were duly perfected and valid as of the petition date, and to the extent that they are unavoidable.

(e) Automatic postpetition perfection. Any automatic perfection of such liens shall be subject to any applicable limitations regarding the Court's authority, jurisdiction, or due process.

(4) Automatic disapproval of insufficiently disclosed provisions

Any provision of the type listed in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or in local form F4001-2 (e.g., cross-collateralization) or any waiver of the "equities of the case" exception in 11 U.S.C. 552(b)(2) shall be deemed automatically disapproved and excepted from any order granting the motion, notwithstanding any other provision of such order, unless either: (a) such provision is specifically and prominently disclosed in the motion papers in a checklist (such as local form F4001-2), or alternatively (b) such provision is specifically identified in any proposed order granting the motion, using terminology of the type used in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or local form F4001-2 (e.g., any "cross-collateralization" that is not specifically identified as such is deemed to be disapproved).

(5) Disputes

In the event of any disputes regarding the rulings in this order, the parties are directed to meet and confer and, if they cannot resolve their disputes consensually, contact the chambers of the presiding judge to arrange a mutually convenient time for either a telephonic or in-person hearing to address such disputes.

(b) Taxes. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments on account of postpetition real estate taxes (to the extent that real estate is part of the collateral).

(c) Disclosures/access. The debtor is directed to provide, upon such creditor's reasonable request, periodic accountings of the foregoing insurance and tax obligations and payments, as well as postpetition proceeds, products, offspring, or profits from the collateral, including gross revenues and expenses and a calculation of net revenues, including any rents and any fees, charges, accounts, or other payments for the use or occupancy of rooms and other public facilities in lodging properties (as all of the foregoing terms are used in 11 U.S.C. 552). The debtor is directed to provide appropriate documentation of those accountings, and access for purposes of inspection or appraisal.

(3) Limitation on postpetition liens

In the event that the motion or related papers seek authority to grant postpetition liens to the creditor(s) with respect to prepetition debts any such liens shall be limited to the same validity, priority, and amount as prepetition liens. As used herein, the "validity, priority, and amount" or any similar phrase that may be used by the parties or the court is deemed to include the following:

(a) Extent. Such liens shall be limited to the type of collateral in which the creditor held a security interest as of the petition date, unless this order expressly states that the liens granted by this order are intended to attach to different types of collateral from the prepetition collateral. For example, if prepetition liens extended to inventory and accounts receivable but not equipment then postpetition liens are likewise limited (unless otherwise expressly provided below); and postpetition liens shall not extend to the proceeds of any avoidance actions, any recoveries under 11 U.S.C. 506(c), or any "carveout" under 11 U.S.C. 552.

(b) Priority. Such liens shall be limited to the same priority as the security interest held by the creditor as of the petition date.

(c) Dollar amount. Such liens shall be limited to the dollar amount needed to protect the creditor against diminution in the value of the secured claims as of the petition date.

(d) Enforceability. Such liens shall be limited to the extent that the creditor's security interests were duly perfected and valid as of the petition date, and to the extent that they are unavoidable.

(e) Automatic postpetition perfection. Any automatic perfection of such liens shall be subject to any applicable limitations regarding the Court's authority, jurisdiction, or due process.

(4) Automatic disapproval of insufficiently disclosed provisions

Any provision of the type listed in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or in local form F4001-2 (e.g., cross-collateralization) or any waiver of the "equities of the case" exception in 11 U.S.C. 552(b)(2) shall be deemed automatically disapproved and excepted from any order granting the motion, notwithstanding any other provision of such order, unless either: (a) such provision is specifically and prominently disclosed in the motion papers in a checklist (such as local form F4001-2), or alternatively (b) such provision is specifically identified in any proposed order granting the motion, using terminology of the type used in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or local form F4001-2 (e.g., any "cross-collateralization" that is not specifically identified as such is deemed to be disapproved).

(5) Disputes

In the event of any disputes regarding the rulings in this order, the parties are directed to meet and confer and, if they cannot resolve their disputes consensually, contact the chambers of the presiding judge to arrange a mutually convenient time for either a telephonic or in-person hearing to address such disputes.

fr. 10/17/18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/23/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Cash collateral motion (dkt.4). Subject to any objections at the hearing, the tentative ruling is to authorize the use of cash collateral to a limited extent, on a further interim basis, with a final hearing at the same time as the continued status conference (see below). What specific use of cash is authorized will depend on any supplement filed prior to the hearing and how the debtor and other parties in interest address the following issues: (i) payment of employment taxes and other withholdings, (ii) payment of income taxes, (iii) payment of sales taxes on room rentals, as well as on food, beverages, and other taxable items, and (iv) adequacy of cash flow, both actual and projected.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/14/18.

(a) Bar date: TBD.

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: 11/27/18 at 1:00 p.m., with a status report on the local form due 11/13/18.

Tentative Ruling for 10/17/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Payroll motion (dkt. 5). As noted in this Court's order setting this hearing (dkt. 10), this Court is concerned about whether this is a self-created emergency. In addition, the parties should be prepared to address the jobs of each person who is proposed to be paid (dkt. 7, Ex.6), whether any of them are "insiders" (11 U.S.C. 101(31)), and how they will be paid if the checks do not clear and other sources of revenue do not come through. Subject to adequately addressing those issues, and (1) confirming notice per this Court's order shortening time (dkt. 10), (2) addressing this Court's concerns in that order, and (3) any objections at the hearing, the tentative ruling is to grant this motion.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt.4). The tentative ruling is to grant this motion, subject to the caveats set forth in the tentative ruling for calendar no. 2 (10/17/18 at 9:00 a.m.).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/14/18.

appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 9/18/18:

Specially set a trial and continued status conference for 9/26/18 at 9:00 a.m., in view of the order excepting these proceedings from any automatic stay that might otherwise apply in Mr. Hill's bankruptcy case (see dkt. 56, Ex.A). Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

If one or more parties assert that they are unavailable on that date, then this Court will address whether to select an alternative date. In addition, the parties should be prepared to address whether this Court should approve the pretrial order proposed by the United States Trustee (dkt. 52, 53), what evidence they expect to present, and any other matters appropriate to be addressed at a pretrial/status conference.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 8/7/18:

Continue to 9/18/18 at 2:00 p.m., and vacate the trial that is scheduled to commence on 8/15/18 at 9:00 a.m., in view of the automatic stay arising from the filing of the bankruptcy petition of Mr. William G. Hill (Case No. 1:18-bk-11914-VK). Appearances are not required on 8/7/18.

Analysis: First, although this Court has located authority that proceedings under 11 U.S.C. 110 are within the police and regulatory power exception to the automatic stay, that conclusion may be subject to dispute, and Mr. Hill (and the Office of the United States Trustee) have not had the opportunity to brief that issue. accompanying text (Bankr. D. Colo. 2011). See also In re Dingley, 852 F.3d 1143 (9th Cir. 2017) (civil contempt proceedings exempted from automatic stay when intended to effectuate court's public policy interest in deterring litigation misconduct).

Second, regardless whether the automatic stay applies, the tentative ruling is that continuing this matter is in keeping with the spirit of the "breathing spell" that bankruptcy is supposed to afford. This Court recognizes that the debtor may be very much in need of whatever funds could be owed to him by Mr. Hill, but any delay from the automatic stay is unlikely to last long.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 6/7/18:

Appearances required. The parties have raised a number of disputed issues, including issues of credibility (attorney Leslie Richards, Esq. blaming former attorney William G. Hill and vice versa), that appear to require an evidentiary hearing. The parties are directed to address when this Court should schedule such a hearing.

In addition, the parties should be prepared to address whether 11 U.S.C. 110 can encompass liability against an attorney, as argued by the United States Trustee ("UST"). See dk. 41, pp.2, 7-9, & nn.2 & 8). The parties should also be prepared to address whether this Court should grant any additional time for the UST to file additional or amended papers with respect to Ms. Richards.

Chapter 7

#1.00 Preliminary Hrg re: Motion to Dismiss Chapter 7 Case for Petition Having Been Filed Without Proper Corporate Authority and Request for Judicial Reference to be Made as a Result of Bankruptcy Fraud Being Committed by Todd Wakefield, Joseph Barrett and Their Counsel

Docket 113

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/24/18:

Deny, without leave to amend. Appearances required.

Proposed order: The Chapter 7 Trustee is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling (subject to any additional or different rulings at the hearing). See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Mr. Layfield's motion

Mr. Layfield seeks to dismiss this case, primarily on the ground that Mr. Wakefield was not authorized to file it. Mr. Layfield has the initial burden under 11 U.S.C. 1112 to establish cause by a preponderance of the evidence. 7 Collier on Bankruptcy Para. 1112.04[4] (16th Ed.).

The following analysis is based on this Court's extensive review of the relevant filed documents and records in this case, including the bankruptcy petition (dkt. 1), Mr. Layfield's motion to dismiss (dkt. 113), Mr. Layfield's supporting declaration (dkt. 114), this Court's order setting a preliminary hearing on the motion (dkt. 116, the "Hearing Order"), Mr. Layfield's supplemental proof of service (dkt. 123), his "notice of lodgment" of a flash drive (dkt. 124), the opposition of the Chapter 7 Trustee (dkt. 121), the opposition of Mr. Wakefield (dkt. 122), and Mr. Layfield's reply (dkt. 127).

(a) Deficient Service

The Hearing Order points out that the proof of service is unsigned and does not list anyone (other than persons automatically served via the NEF system), even though it appears that all parties in interest must be served. See Rule 2002(a)(4) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.); Hearing Order (dkt. 116, p.2:3-8). Mr.

Chapter 7

Layfield's supplemental proof of service (dkt. 123) includes the typed "/s/" signature of his wife, but as the Chapter 7 Trustee points out (dkt. 121) Mr. Layfield is not eligible to use "/s/" signatures - only holographic signatures are acceptable under the local rules and procedures cited by the Trustee. The supplemental proof of service also still only serves persons who are automatically served via NEF, except for the debtor itself. In addition, as the Trustee points out (dkt. 121), there was never any notice of hearing.

In sum, any parties in interest who are not on NEF have had no proper service, and there has never been proper notice of the hearing or responsive deadline on Mr. Layfield's motion to have this case dismissed. The tentative ruling is that the motion must be denied due to lack of proper service or notice.

(b) Lack of citation to evidence

As the Hearing Order points out, the motion to dismiss lacks any meaningful citation to evidence - instead Mr. Layfield simply refers massive quantities of documents in bulk: Mr. Layfield variously estimates 3,500 pages (dkt. 123, p.2:11) or "over 4,000 pages." Dkt. 113, p.10:1 (emphasis added).

This Court rejects Mr. Layfield's attempt to shift the burden to other parties and this Court to sort through those documents and understand how they are relevant. Dkt. 116, pp.2:9-3:20. The tentative ruling is that this lack of citation to evidence requires denial of Mr. Layfield's motion to dismiss. See In re Harmony Holdings, LLC, 393 B.R. 409, 416 (Bankr. S.C. 2008) (denying motion to dismiss case and stating, "it is not this Court's function to endlessly explore the record for facts that support the case of either party").

(c) Lack of supporting evidence

Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Court has reviewed every single page of the papers filed by Mr. Layfield. That review appears to show not only a lack of evidence in support of Mr. Layfield's position, but evidence contrary to his arguments.

His main argument is that Mr. Wakefield allegedly lacked authority to file the bankruptcy petition for the debtor. Dkt. 113. But Mr. Wakefield's opposition and supporting declaration authenticate a copy of Form LLP-1 (dkt.122, Ex.A) showing himself as the authorized partner who formed the debtor, and his declaration explains why no other partners were ever added to the partnership. So far as this Court can determine from its extensive review of Mr. Layfield's papers, he has failed to provide any contrary evidence.

Instead Mr. Layfield's reply disputes whether Mr. Wakefield was "supposed to be in a position to ... file [the debtor's bankruptcy] petition ...." Dkt. 127, p.4:17-20 (emphasis added). That misses the point. Perhaps in hindsight Mr. Layfield wishes that the debtor had been structured differently, but the point is that the only documentary evidence before this Court is that Mr. Wakefield was in fact the only partner of the debtor, and was authorized to file the bankruptcy petition.

Chapter 7

Mr. Layfield appears to argue in the alternative (dkt. 127, p.3:12-4:27) that (i) he was supposed to be one of the partners, (ii) because the debtor never adopted any partnership agreement (dkt. 122, p.3, para.7) it must be treated as a general partnership, and (iii) without evidence of his intent to give Mr. Wakefield the power to file a petition, there was no authority to do so. First, Mr. Layfield cites no authority for this interpretation of California law governing limited partnerships. Cf. dkt. 113, Ex. 221-24 (bulk excerpts of California law).

Second, supposing for the sake of discussion that there was an implied general partnership and a question about who had authority to act for it, Mr. Layfield's own documents appear to contradict his assertions that (i) Mr. Wakefield was not authorized to file the debtor's bankruptcy petition or (ii) Mr. Layfield did not consent, and would not have consented, to the filing of the debtor's bankruptcy petition.

(i) Authorization to file petition

Mr. Layfield's Exhibit 72 (dkt. 113) is a string of emails in which he expresses the intent not to be managing the debtor. To the contrary, Mr. Layfield states his initial understanding: "Todd [Wakefield] will be managing partner of maximum legal and Joe [Barrett] will be managing member of maximum legal CA." See Dkt. 113, Ex.72 (mis-labeled as Ex.13-22), at PDF p. 11. Later in that email chain, Mr. Barrett declines that responsibility but Mr. Wakefield offers to accept it, and that appears to be how the matter was left. Id., at PDF pp.11-14.

Although Mr. Wakefield himself later expressed some confusion about whether he needed Mr. Layfield's authorization (dkt. 113, Ex. 125, mis-labeled as Ex.13-22), that was in the rush of filing the case on an emergency basis, and wanting the authorization of one of the principals of a business does not establish that such authorization is required as a legal matter. In fact, Mr. Wakefield followed up by confirming that the attorneys who filed the bankruptcy petition had determined that Mr. Layfield's authorization was not required. The email chain does not include any response from Mr. Layfield contesting that assertion. In other words, if anything this email exchange reconfirms that Mr. Wakefield had authority to file the bankruptcy petition.

(ii) Mr. Layfield's consent to filing bankruptcy petition

In any event, Mr. Layfield's own Exhibit 125 includes his statement, when the debtor was urgently seeking to file its bankruptcy petition, that he would sign an authorization for it to do so. Dkt. 113, Ex. 125 (mis-labeled as Ex.13-22). Even after the fact, Mr. Layfield's Exhibit 172 includes an email dated July 19, 2017 at 6:51 a.m. in which he states, "Unfortunately, we were served with a couple of lawsuits that necessitated the filing of bankruptcy by ML (CA), LLP." (Emphasis added.) Dkt. 113, Ex. 172 (mis-labeled as Ex.1-7) at PDF pp.30-31. Therefore, both at the time and in hindsight, Mr. Layfield supported the filing of the bankruptcy petition. His protestations that the petition was unauthorized, and that he would have opposed it had he been asked, all ring hollow.

Third and finally, Mr. Layfield cites no authority regarding who may file a petition under federal bankruptcy law. Contrary to his assumption that his consent was required, there is authority that if a bankruptcy petition is filed "without the consent of all general partners" then it is "treated as an involuntary petition" and "[n]on-consenting general partners" must "act quickly to seek dismissal of the case or risk being estopped from pursuing such relief." 2 Collier on Bankruptcy, para. 301.04[2][a] (16th Ed.) (emphasis added). In this case the debtor's bankruptcy petition was filed on 7/12/17 (dkt. 1) and Mr. Layfield took over a year to file his motion to dismiss this case, on 9/20/18 (dkt. 113). The tentative ruling is that his objections are far too little, too late.

(d) Other grounds for dismissal

Mr. Layfield appears to seek dismissal based on his general dislike of how he feels he has been treated by the Chapter 7 Trustee, Mr. Wakefield, and others. To the extent this Court understands Mr. Layfield's arguments, they are not sufficient "cause" for dismissal under 11 U.S.C. 1112.

(e) Conclusion as to Mr. Layfield's motion to dismiss this case

The tentative ruling is to deny Mr. Layfield's motion to dismiss this case, for each of the alternative reasons set forth above. In addition, although some deficiencies such as the lack of proper service or notice could be cured, it does not appear that Mr. Layfield can propose any amendment to his motion papers that would overcome the other deficiencies. If he had persuasive evidence, surely that would have been included in his roughly 3,500 pages of documents. Therefore the tentative ruling is to deny leave to amend.

(2) Dismissal on other grounds

None of the foregoing should be interpreted to mean that this Court could not dismiss this case on other grounds, with or without conditions. The Chapter 7 Trustee anticipates (dkt. 121) filing a motion for dismissal after turning over the estate's assets (less a deduction of certain costs of administration) to the Chapter 11 Trustee in In re Layfield & Barrett, APC (Case No. 2:17-bk-19548-NB). Tentative Ruling for 10/24/18:

Please see the tentative ruling for the status conference in the Layfield & Barrett case, calendar no. 5 (10/24/18 at 10:00 a.m.).

Tentative Ruling for 8/7/18 (same as for 5/22/18, 2/13/18):

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

There is no tentative ruling, but the trustee should be prepared to address the status of the trustee's investigation into the alleged pre-petition transfer.

(1) Reasons for continuance

(a) Insufficient Service

The proof of service filed in support of the motion does not reflect service on the debtor to the attention of the appropriate person(s), in accordance with Rules 4001 and 7004(b)(3) (incorporated by Rule 9014(b), Fed. R. Bankr. P.), and Local Bankruptcy Rule 4001-1(c)(1)(C)(i). Under Judge Bason's posted procedures (at www.cacb.uscourts.gov), he generally does not sua sponte require that specific individuals be named - service can be "Attn: Officer or Managing/General Agent" or a similar phrase - but in the circumstances of this case, in which there are disputes regarding who is or is not authorized to represent the debtor, Judge Bason will direct that service be (i) on the debtor at its address of record "Attn: Philip Layfield, Officer of Record" and also, in a separate envelope, (ii) on the debtor at its address of record "Attn: Any Officer Other Than Philip Layfield."

(b) Chapter 11 Trustee's Request for Extension

This court has reviewed the chapter 11 trustee's reponse (dkt. 152) to the motion, and movant's reply (dkt. 159). Given that this case is an involuntary case and the trustee has not had the benefit of any bankruptcy schedules, any statement of financial affairs, or access to the debtor's principals, this court is not persuaded by movant's argument that the trustee has already had sufficient time to investigate the alleged pre-petition transfer. In addition, the trustee has provided adequate evidence that the equity cushion and the relatively short delay provide adequate protection.

#5.00 Status conference
fr. 9/18/18

Docket 323

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling 10/24/18:

Appearances required.

(1) General matters

(a) Combined status conferences in the interrelated bankruptcy cases

This Status Conference is being held in each of the three related bankruptcy cases before this Court: (a) In re Layfield & Barrett, APC, Case No. 2:17-bk-19548-NB ("L&B"); (b) In re Layfield, Case No. 2:18-bk-15829-NB ("Lay-Invol."), (c) In re Maximum Legal (Cal.), LLP, Case No. 2:17-bk-18433-NB ("Max-CA").

(b) Service of status conference order in L&B Case

The parties are reminded that this Court's order issued on 8/14/17 (L&B dkt. 28) provides that this Court may take various actions at any status conference in the L&B chapter 11 case without further notice. Although that order directed Debtor to serve a copy of that order on all parties in interest, it appears that Debtor never did so. The tentative ruling is to direct the Trustee in the Layfield & Barrett case to do so.

(c) PDF procedures for Mr. Layfield

The parties should be prepared to address whether there is any reason why this Court should not adopt the procedures set forth in the tentative ruling requiring Mr. Layfield to file and serve documents in PDF format. See, e.g., In re Layfield (Case No. 2:18-bk-15829-NB), dkt. 88.

(d) Other procedures for Mr. Layfield

This Court has reviewed every page of every paper filed by Mr. Layfield to date, including, for example, one motion that includes what he has estimated as either 3,500 pages or "over 4,000 pages" of exhibits. See Max-CA dkt. 113, p.10:1 (emphasis added), & dkt. 123, p.2:11. Most if not all of the documents accompanying Mr. Layfield's motions appear to be duplicative and irrelevant.

More generally, Mr. Layfield has shown a pattern of ignoring the applicable rules for service, notice, and other procedures. His papers generally consist of stream-of-consciousness allegations, with few if any citations to any statute, rule, court decision, or evidence, except blanket references to massive quantities of documents in bulk.

This Court has pointed out these problems repeatedly, but Mr. Layfield has not taken any meaningful measures to correct the problems (e.g., he has filed supplemental proofs of service in some matters, but those are also deficient). Mr. Layfield's massive sets of documents, lack of adherence to procedures, and lack of citations to law or evidence all place an unfair burden on parties in interest, as well as this Court. See, e.g., L&B dkt. 351 (order re motion to terminate appointment of trustee); L&B dkt. 355 (order denying "protocol" motion); L&B Adv. P. 2:18-ap-01050-NB (the "Utah Condo A/P") dkt. 29 (order re motion to set aside default); Lay-Invol. dkt. 50 (order re 362(k) motion v. LeBlanc); Lay-Invol. dkt. 51 (order re 362(k) motion v. Jansheski); Lay-Invol. dkt. 56 (order re motion to dismiss involuntary case); Lay-Invol. dkt. 58 (order re motion for protective order); Lay-Invol. dkt. 64 (order re "special appearance"); Max-CA dkt. 116, p.1:19-4:5 (order re motion to dismiss case).

In addition, Mr. Layfield's motions appear to lack merit. Opposing parties and this Court have explained why, as set forth in the tentative rulings for all of the matters that are on for hearing today (10/24/18).

All of the foregoing defects suggests that Mr. Layfield's papers have been filed for improper purposes, such as to harass the parties, delay these proceedings, or create a false image that he is diligently attempting to pursue his (former) clients' interests. See, e.g., Max-CA dkt. 116 (order on motion to dismiss case). The tentative ruling is that this Court will issue an order to show cause why Mr. Layfield should not be subject to a "pre-filing order." In addition, this Court may consider other remedies, either on its own motion or on a motion of a party in interest, under Rule 9011, Section 105, this Court's inherent powers, or any other applicable statute, rule, or doctrine. See generally 11 U.S.C. 105(a); Rule 9011 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.); In re Dyer, 322 F.3d 1178, 1196 (9th Cir. 2003); Molski v. Evergreen Dynasty Corp., 500 F.3d 1047, 1057 (9th Cir. 2007); De Long v. Hennessey, et al., 912 F.2d 1144 (9th Cir. 1990); In re Stanwyck, 450 B.R. 181, 200-08 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2011).

(a) Mr. Layfield's motion to dismiss Max-CA case (Max-CA dkt. 113, 114).

Deny, without leave to amend, for the reasons stated in the tentative ruling for calendar no. 1 (10/24/18 at 10:00 a.m.).

(b) Motion to terminate appointment of L&B trustee (L&B dkt. 349, 350).

Deny for the reasons set forth in this Court's order setting this hearing (dkt. 351). The parties should be prepared to address whether leave to amend should be granted.

(c) Motion to set aside default (Pachulski v. Layfield V, LLC et al.) (L&B, Adv. No. 18-ap-01050-NB, dkt. 27, 28). Deny, without leave to amend, for the reasons set forth in this Court's order setting this hearing (adv. dkt. 29) and the plaintiff/trustee's opposition papers (adv. dkt. 33, 34).

(d) Motions for relief from stay (L&B dkt. 143, 144) (Utah Condos); and Status Conference re related fraudulent transfer action (Utah Condo A/P) (L&B, Adv. No. 18-ap-01050-NB). The parties should be prepared to address the status of the sale of the condos, and any other issues appropriate to address at this status conference.

(e) Motion for protective order etc. (Lay-Invol. dkt. 54, 55). Deny, without leave to amend, for the reasons set forth in this Court's order setting this hearing (adv. dkt. 58) and the opposition of Wellgen Standard, LLC ("Wellgen") (adv. dkt. 81).

(f) Motion to dismiss involuntary case (Lay-Invol. dkt. 48). Deny, without leave to amend, for the reasons set forth in this Court's order setting this hearing (adv. dkt. 56), Wellgen's opposition (adv. dkt. 73, pp.4:25-12:15), the joinder (dkt. 82, 83) of Richard M. Pachulski, Chapter 11 Trustee of Layfield & Barrett, APC (Case No. 2:17-bk-19548-NB), and Wellgen's Sur-Reply (dkt. 89, Ex.1). Although Mr. Layfield's reply (dkt. 84) asserts that he has grounds to dispute each claim, those grounds are insufficient to rebut the prima facie showing by the petitioners that they hold three claims in an aggregate amount of at least $15,775, and that this is not subject to "bona fide" dispute. 11 U.S.C. 104, 303(b)(2) (emphasis added).

(g) Motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(k) - Michel LeBlanc (Lay-Invol. dkt. 41).

Deny, due to lack of proper service (see Order, dkt. 50, and proof of service, dkt. 79) (with impermissible "/s/" signature), and for the reasons stated in the Wellgen's opposition (dkt. 68). In addition, although Mr. Layfield asserts that the subject property is exempt, it appears from the docket that he has not filed any bankruptcy Schedule C claiming any property as exempt; and, were he to do so, any party in interest may have objections.

(h) Motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(k) - John Jansheki (dkt. 42). Deny. First, due to lack of proper service. See Order, dkt. 51 (pointing out lack of signature); proof of service (dkt. 77) (with impermissible "/s/" signature); Jansheki Opp. (dkt. 72) (point out service on non-bankruptcy attorneys is inadequate); In re Villar, 317 B.R. 88 (9th Cir. BAP 2004) (same). Second, for the reasons stated in the Wellgen's opposition (dkt. 69) and Mr. Jansheki (dkt. 72). Although Mr. Layfield's reply (dkt. 85) asserts that the subject property is exempt, it appears from the docket that he has not filed any bankruptcy Schedule C claiming any property as exempt; and, were he to do so, any party in interest may have objections.

(i) "Special appearance" for the limited purpose of objecting to the employment of Jeffrey Golden's Law Firm and the appointment of an interim trustee (dkt. 37). Overrule Mr. Layfield's objection, in his "special appearance" (dkt. 37), to the Chapter 7 Trustee's application (dkt. 30) to employ Mr. Golden's law firm, and overrule any objection or request for reconsideration of the appointment of the Trustee, because Mr. Layfield's papers are procedurally deficient (as explained in section "(3)" of the tentative ruling attached to this Court' order setting this hearing, dkt. 64, Exhibit), and also for the reasons stated in Wellgen's response (dkt. 46).

Note: This Court is not persuaded that any waiver by the Trustee of conflicts would be effective to override any non-compliance with 11 U.S.C. 327. But there is no such non-compliance on the present record. To the contrary, the statute specifically provides that an attorney for a creditor may be employed by the Trustee for limited purposes. See 11 U.S.C. 327(a)&(c); In re Fondiller, 15 B.R. 890 (9th Cir. BAP 1981). But in the event that any future conflict or potential conflict were to develop, that must be disclosed and the Trustee would need to request re-authorization or termination of the employment.

Proposed orders: This Court will issue a "Memorialization of Tentative Rulings" with a copy of these tentative rulings attached, so that they are on the docket. Within 7 days thereafter, the prevailing parties are directed to lodge proposed orders via LOU, adopting this Court's oral rulings at the hearing, based on the tentative rulings, except as modified by this Court's findings of fact and conclusions of law made on the record at the hearing (as permitted by Rule 52(a) (1) (incorporated by Rules 7052 and 9014(c), Fed. R. Bankr. P.). See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B). For purposes of this paragraph, Wellgen is considered the

Tentative Ruling for 9/18/18:

Appearances required. To the extent that this Court has tentative rulings, they are set forth below. The parties should be prepared to address the following issues:

(1) Status conferences in the interrelated bankruptcy cases. Various bankruptcy cases before this Court are interrelated: (a) In re Layfield & Barrett, APC, Case No. 2:17-bk-19548-NB ("L&B"); (b) In re Layfield, Case No. 2:18-bk-15829-NB ("Lay-Invol."), (c) In re Maximum Legal (Cal.), LLP, Case No. 2:17-bk-18433-NB ("Max-CA"). As a matter of calendar management, this Court will hold general status conferences in all of those cases concurrent with the status conferences on specific matters that have been self-calendared or specially set for today (9/18/18 at 2:00 p.m.).

(2) L&B case: Status Conference on Mr. Layfield's Ex Parte Motion to stay proceedings etc. (L&B dkt. 325) (the "Ex Parte Motion"). This Court issued an order (L&B dkt. 325) denying Mr. Layfield's Ex Parte Motion to the extent (if any) that it sought immediate relief (e.g., excusing Mr. Layfield or others from the bar date; staying all matters involving him or others; converting the L&B case to chapter 7; etc.). This Court also set this status conference on Mr. Layfield's Ex Parte Motion. Wellgen filed a response (L&B dkt. 332).

The tentative ruling is that this Court should not take any action at this time. Rather, Mr. Layfield must follow the applicable statutes and rules and file separate motions and/or adversary proceedings for each type of relief that he seeks in his Ex Parte Motion, instead of combining multiple requests in a single document that does not include points and authorities, includes numerous assertions that are not supported by admissible evidence, and does not otherwise comply with the applicable statutes and rules.

For example, Mr. Layfield would need to file and serve a motion to convert the L&B case to chapter 7, and a separate motion to consolidate the L&B case with the Max-CA case. Each of those documents would need to be supported by appropriate points and authorities, declarations, etc.

Although Mr. Layfield requests that this Court establish briefing schedules on the foregoing and other matters, that appears to be premature or unnecessary. The Local Bankruptcy Rules ("LBR") and the self-calendaring procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) establish briefing and hearing schedules for typical motions, and there is no showing that special procedures are necessary or appropriate at this stage.

Mr. Layfield (and all other parties in interest) are reminded that they must comply with the Posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov). In addition, they may wish to familiarize themselves with this Court's earlier rulings in these various proceedings. See, e.g., L&B dkt. 288 (order denying Mr. Barrett's motion to stay proceedings).

Nothing in the preceding paragraphs should be interpreted as expressing any opinion about whether Mr. Layfield does or does not have standing or have grounds to seek any of the relief he mentions. For example, both standing and grounds for relief are unclear with respect to Mr. Layfield's request to establish that "all unpaid client claims and unpaid liens relating to client claims must be given priority over any secured creditors or Trustee compensation."

First, this Court is not certain what Mr. Layfield means. Second, it is unclear whether Mr. Layfield has standing to seek a determination of priority of L&B's client's claims over secured creditors' claims or any administrative expenses - presumably that is an issue between those parties. Third, assuming for purposes of discussion that Mr. Layfield is seeking some sort of declaratory judgment that he has an attorney lien with priority over the lien held by Welgen Standard, LLC (as successor to Advocate Capital, Inc.) ("Wellgen"), it is unclear whether he has any standing to assert an attorney lien (which might belong to L&B rather than Mr. Layfield) or any grounds for such relief (e.g., does he assert an attorney lien by operation of nonbankruptcy law, or contract, or on some other ground?). Fourth, it would be premature to set a briefing schedule before he has filed any adversary proceeding and motion(s) or claim objections or whatever other papers may be necessary or appropriate, complete with points and authorities, supported by admissible evidence.

In sum, the tentative ruling to DENY Mr. Layfield's Ex Parte Motion, without prejudice to any properly presented requests for the relief that he appears to seek. The tentative ruling is to direct Wellgen's counsel to prepare an order denying Mr. Layfield's Ex Parte Motion for the reasons stated in this tentative ruling (as they may be augmented or modified at the hearing).

(3) Lay-Invol. case: status conference on Mr. Layfield's "Special Appearance For The Limited Purpose Of Objecting To The Employment Of Jeffrey Golden's Law Firm And The Appointment Of An Interim Trustee" (Lay-Invol. dkt. 37, the "Special Appearance"). Mr. Layfield appears to be attempting to combine at least three separate matters in a single document: (a) limiting his appearance in some way (although it is unclear whether he can limit his appearance and also request the other relief he seeks); (b) challenging the appointment of an interim chapter 7 trustee (the "Interim Trustee") and/or objecting to the selection of Mr. Avery as such Interim Trustee (see Lay-Invol. dkt. 13, order) (it is unclear what relief Mr. Layfield actually seeks); and (c) objecting to the pending application (Lay-Invol. dkt. 30) by the Interim Trustee to employ Weiland Golden Goodrich LLP (Mr. Golden's law firm) (the "Weiland Golden" firm). As with other matters, he has not included points and authorities, he makes numerous allegations that are not supported by admissible evidence, and he has not followed proper procedures.

Due to these deficiencies the tentative ruling is to deny Mr. Layfield's request to set these matters (and others) for hearing on October 23, 24, or 25. See Lay-Invol. dkt. 37, p.3. In addition, the tentative ruling is to deny his request for a stay of various proceedings pending resolution of these matters, for the same reasons why this Court denied his request for a similar stay in the L&B case. See L&B dkt. 325.

Nevertheless, the tentative ruling is to hold a status conference on Mr. Layfield's Special Appearance to address the following issues. To the extent he is attempting to object (a) to the appointment of an Interim Trustee generally or Mr. Avery as such Interim Trustee in particular, or (b) to the Interim Trustee's application to employ the Weiland Golden firm, the parties should be prepared to address:

(i) interim trustee: whether the objection to the appointment of any Interim Trustee is intended to be a request for reconsideration under Rule 9023 or 9024 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) of this Court's order appointing Mr. Avery; and whether Mr. Layfield can meet the standards under those rules (or any other applicable rules or decisions), including whether Mr. Layfield was properly served and whether he has grounds to assert that there is not cause for appointment of an interim trustee at all (if that is his objection), or grounds to object to Mr. Avery as the Interim Trustee who was selected (if that is his objection); and

(ii) employment of law firm: whether this Court should, sua sponte, address the alleged conflict of interest in the Weiland Golden firm representing both the Chapter 7 Trustee (on matters not involving Wellgen) and Wellgen (see 11 U.S.C. 327(c)), or the alleged wrongdoing by that law firm (which it denies, see Lay-Invol. dkt. 37-5, Ex.I, Part V, at PDF pp. 59 et seq.), including whether this Court should set those issues for hearing; whether this Court should set a deadline for Mr. Layfield to file and serve points and authorities and any supporting evidence; and whether the United States Trustee should be requested to participate.

The tentative rulings on these issues are that, although Mr. Layfield's Special Appearance is inadequate to place the foregoing matters at issue, nevertheless the administration of these cases might be impeded unless this Court establishes a briefing schedule to obtain greater certainty, in view of Mr. Layfield's arguments, about who does or does not have authority to act for the bankruptcy estates. The tentative ruling is to give Mr. Layfield a deadline of 9/25/18 to file and serve his objections; a deadline of 10/2/18 for any response by the Interim Trustee or the Weiland Golden firm; a deadline of 10/9/18 for any reply; and a hearing date of 10/16/18 at 2:00 p.m., and to invite the U.S. Trustee to file papers by the same deadlines and appear at the hearing. The tentative ruling is to direct the Weiland Golden firm to prepare a proposed order memorializing those deadlines (with an attached copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling regarding those deadlines and the reasons for setting them).

(4) L&B case, Pachulski v. Layfield V, LLC and Philip Layfield (Adv. No. 2:18-ap-1050-NB) ("CondoAdv."), suggestion of bankruptcy (CondoAdv. dkt. 22), and related motions for relief from automatic stay (L&B dkt. 143, 144) (the "WF R/S Motions"). Mr. Layfield points out that the order granting the plaintiff's motion for a default judgment (CondoAdv. dkt. 18) and the judgment (CondoAdv. dkt. 17), were entered on 5/25/18, which is a few days after the involuntary bankruptcy petition was filed against him (LayInvol. dkt.1) on 5/21/18. This Court notes that the WF R/S Motions are scheduled for a continued hearing on 10/2/18 at 1:00 p.m.

The parties should be prepared to address how this adversary proceeding should be prosecuted going forward, and whether they are seeking any procedural orders or other relief from this Court to aid in the diligent prosecution of this matter. The tentative ruling is, as a matter of sua sponte calendar management, to continue the WF R/S Motions to 10/16/18 at 2:00 p.m., to be heard concurrent with the other matters in these interrelated cases. The tentative ruling is to direct counsel for Wellgen to file a notice of that continued hearing and serve it no later than 9/21/18 via U.S. mail on Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. as well as the debtors, trustees, and other parties asserting any interest in the subject condominium properties in the L&B, Lay-Invol., and Max-CA cases.

(5) Mr. Layfield's future filings. This Court has reviewed all of the papers filed by Mr. Layfield in the three interrelated cases and the adversary proceedings in those cases. Those papers are disorganized and exceptionally lengthy.

This Court recognizes that Mr. Layfield may have been impeded by his recent incarceration and other changes in his life, but any litigant, particularly an attorney, must provide coherent arguments, points and authorities as needed, and admissible evidence on relevant factual issues. In future, this Court may strike papers that do not meet these minimum standards and comply with the applicable rules.

(6) Mr. Layfield's requests for electronic service. This Court is confused by Mr.

Layfield's requests (L&B dkt. 333, p.2:21-23; Lay. dkt. 37, p.2) that he be granted some sort of special electronic ability to file or be served. Although Mr. Layfield claims that he is "unable to receive ECF notifications," he does not explain why that is so.

Attorneys can sign up for electronic filing and notices ("CM/ECF" and "NEF"). Even non-attorneys can gain access to the docket ("PACER"). All parties in interest can receive email service by filing a request for special notice and consent to such service (and, for debtors, there is the additional option of signing up for electronic notices via this Court's "DeBN" program - instructions are available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov). See Rule 5(b)(2)(E)&(F) (Fed. R. Civ. P.) (incorporated by Rules 7005 & 9014(b), Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

To the extent that Mr. Layfield is requesting any relief that is not already available to him, this request is DENIED.

(7) L&B Case: Mr. Layfield's purported transfers of various claims to himself (dkt. 335-341) (the "Self-Transfers"). The parties should be prepared to address the Self-Transfers.

(8) Max-CA case. This Court notes that Mr. Barrett has filed a motion for relief from the automatic stay (Max-CA dkt. 108, the "Barrett R/S Motion"), set for hearing on 10/2/18 at 10:00 a.m., to assert counterclaims in one of the adversary proceedings in the L&B Case (Wellgen Standard, LLC v. Max. Legal (Cal.) LLP, Adv. No. 2:17-ap-01503-NB). Although this Court has considered sua sponte rescheduling the Barrett R/S Motion (to be heard concurrent with the 10/16/18 hearings tentatively set by this tentative ruling), it appears more efficient to leave the existing hearing as is.

(9) Mr. Layfield's address for service. This Court notes that Mr. Layfield has used variations of an address in Washington, D.C., as well as other addresses, in various documents filed recently. These multiple addresses seem prone to confusing and prejudicing parties in interest, including Mr. Layfield himself, because an address filed in one case or proceeding might or might not be used (or even known to parties) in a different case or proceeding, and because Mr. Layfield has asserted in the past that he has not been properly served.

Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to issue an order directing Mr. Layfield, no later than 9/24/18, (a) to file in each of the three bankruptcy cases (L&B, Lay-Invol., and Max-CA) and in each adversary proceeding in which he has filed any papers or is named in any capacity, a notice designating a single address for U.S. mail or overnight delivery to be used in all of these cases and related proceedings, as well as a single email address, and a statement about whether he agrees to accept service via email, and (b) to serve that notice via U.S. mail on all parties in interest (the entire creditor matrix in all cases and adversary proceedings). If Mr. Layfield fails to do so, the tentative ruling is that this Court will interpret his failure to respond as an attempt to maintain a factual ambiguity about which address is appropriate, and this Court may issue an order selecting the address that appears to be the most recent and, possibly, establishing evidentiary presumptions about service or other matters. The tentative ruling is to direct Wellgen to prepare a proposed order reflecting the foregoing, and to attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling on the procedure for Mr. Layfield's address to be determined.

(10) Joint Status Conference: In addition to the above, due to the interrelated nature of the L&B, Lay-Invol., and Max-CA cases, this Court finds it appropriate to conduct a joint status conference in each of these cases (2:17-bk-19548-NB; 2:18-bk-15829-NB; 2:17-bk-18433-NB) on 10/16/18 at 2:00 pm. This joint status conference will be used to address any concerns this Court or the parties address at this 9/18/18 hearing, and any other pending issues that may arise.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." (1) Motion to Dismiss. At the hearing on 3/6/18, this court continued the matter for the parties to review relevant authority on the "unfinished business doctrine" and consider the implications of that authority on this proceeding. This Court has reviewed the parties' status reports (dkt. 39, 41), which effectively are briefs, and the parties are directed to address (a) whether further briefing or discovery is needed, either as to the Teitelbaum Case or any other matter, (b) whether the range of possible outcomes could include any in which the underlying clients (or any other parties) could be prejudiced (e.g., if any party presently before this Court is denied a recovery in this proceeding, would that party have any ability to seek recovery from the underlying client on a different theory?) and, if so, whether such persons need to be joined in this proceeding, and (c) whether to bifurcate the Teitelbaum Case from other matters and render a decision as to the former after oral argument and/or set deadlines for discovery or other procedures (see, e.g., the list of deadlines set forth in paragraph "(3)" of this Court's tentative ruling for 12/19/17, reproduced below).

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority. The issues raised in paragraph "(1)" of this Court's tentative ruling for 12/19/17 (reproduced below) appear to have been addressed (see adv. dkt. 28, 29) or waived/forfeited by parties who have not expressly addressed them.

(2) Mediation. The parties are directed to report on the status of the 2/27/18 mediation. If the mediation was not successful, the parties should be prepared to argue the merits of the motion to dismiss filed by Advocate Capital, Inc. (adv. dkt. 24, the "MTD") and related papers (e.g., adv. dkt. 30, 34). To the extent that the foregoing does not resolve the parties' litigation, this Court anticipates setting deadlines for discovery and possibly other matters (see paragraph "(3)" of this Court's tentative ruling for 12/19/17, reproduced below).

(3) Continued status conference: 5/29/18 at 1:00 p.m. Brief status report due 5/15/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 12/19/17:

Appearances required. The court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (dkt. 9) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding. The tentative ruling is to excuse the parties from any Rule 26 compliance at this time (Fed. R. Civ. P. 26, incorporated by Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7026), as requested by certain of the parties. In addition, the tentative ruling is as follows (the parties need not repeat their responses in the status report unless there is some change to those responses).

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below?

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 1/5/18 for the parties to agree on a mediator whose schedule is consistent with the needs of this matter and lodge mediation order(s) (if the parties are unable to agree on a single order they may lodge competing orders and Judge Bason will decide among them or issue his own, although it should be possible for the parties to agree on a mediator).

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 10/17/17. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Docket 19

Tentative Ruling:

Continue to 11/29/18 at 8:30 a.m. to address the following issues.
Appearances are not required on 10/25/18.

Lack of cost/benefit analysis. The posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) provide:

§ 502: claim objections & cost/benefit analysis. When objecting to claims, be sure to include an analysis of whether the costs of preparing and litigating the claim objection (administrative expenses) do not exceed the anticipated benefits (reductions in claims). For example, if the anticipated dividend is small or 0% then the attorney fees incurred in prosecuting your claim objection to any general unsecured claim probably will exceed the benefit to the bankruptcy estate/debtor, so filing that objection would be a waste of the bankruptcy estate's (and everyone else's) resources (unless, for example, the claim is nondischargeable, in which event the attorney fees might well be justified).

No later than 7 days after the date of this hearing the movant must file either:

(1) a supplemental declaration explaining why the attorney fees for this objection are justified (including supporting evidence, such as a copy of the plan showing the projected dividend to the claimant, and a calculation comparing that projected dividend against the attorney fees related to this claim objection), or

(2) a withdrawal of the claim objection.

No fees on this matter, absent specific authorization. Counsel is directed not to charge any fees on this matter (including all past, present and future work related to this claim objection), and to return any fees received on this matter, unless and until this Court expressly finds: "Counsel has provided a cost/benefit analysis that is sufficient for purposes of Judge Bason's posted Procedures regarding claim objections." It is counsel's responsibility to include the quoted phrase, if warranted, in the proposed order on this claim objection.

This Court does not have the capacity to monitor all fee applications to assure compliance with the foregoing limitation on fees. But if counsel is found to have disregarded this limitation then this Court may impose sanctions.

At the hearing on 3/20/18, this Court continued the matter to this date and directed (1) debtor to commence making higher payments to Movant in the amount of $4,079.99 ($3,698.51 P&I + $381.48 escrow); and (2) set deadlines for (a) Movant to file a supplemental declaration regarding recalculation of the appropriate monthly escrow fund payment, and (b) debtor to file a response.

This Court has reviewed Movant's supplemental declaration (dkt. 68) and debtor's response (dkt. 72). The parties should be prepared to address whether they have reached any resolution regarding debtor's contention that Movant has not taken into account any credits received from hazard insurance and county taxes.

Chapter 13

Tentative Ruling for 3/20/18:

Grant in part, deny in part, and continue to 4/10/17 at 10:00 a.m., all as set forth below. Appearances required.

(1) Background

The parties appear to agree that the debtor has made monthly payments of $3,698.51 (the normal amortizing principal and interest payments). Those payments were due on the first day of each month, and generally were paid a few days later. See dkt. 8, Ex.5 (movant's spreadsheet) and dkt. 61, Ex.A, & dkt. 62) (debtor's copies of cashier checks). The motion lists some late charges, attorney fees, and other items (dkt. 58, p.7, para.8), but those do not appear to have been included in the movant's spreadsheet (dkt. 58, Ex.5, at PDF pp.30-33), perhaps because the listed amounts are for prepetition periods. In any event, the core of the parties' disagreement appears to involve an escrow impound account to pay real estate taxes and property insurance premiums.

(2) The debtor's assertions of "improper" escrow impounds are unpersuasive

The debtor's declaration (dkt. 61, Tribelsky Decl., para.9, at PDF p.7:24-28) asserts that the impound is "improper" and that the debtor has "struggled with [movant] Wells Fargo to have them end these impounds." The debtor also declares (dkt. 61, at PDF p.7:16-22) that there was an "improper increase" in monthly payments starting on March 1, 2016, which he believes was due to an escrow impound for taxes and insurance.

The debtor fails to explain why there is anything "improper" about requiring him to pay into an escrow for real estate taxes and insurance. The loan documents (dkt. 8, Ex.1, para.3, pp.4-5) require the debtor to make escrow payments for taxes and insurance premiums on the same date at the payments of principal and interest.

It is true that the movant apparently had not required escrow payments for some unspecified period prior to March 1, 2016. See Notice of Mortgage Payment Change (Official Form 410S1) (the "Change Notice"), filed 1/19/16 on the Claims Register, at PDF pp.5-6 (requiring monthly payments of $351.96 commencing March 1, 2016). But if the debtor is asserting some sort of waiver that argument is unpersuasive. The Deed of Trust provides (dkt. 58, Ex.1, para.3, pp.4-5) that although the movant may waive the escrow requirement, the movant "may revoke the waiver as to any or all Escrow Items at any time" and then the debtor "shall pay" all escrow amounts.

The debtor apparently just ignored his obligation to pay escrow impound amounts. Instead he has presented evidence (dkt. 61, Ex.B, at PDF pp.38 et seq.) that he paid taxes directly to the tax authorities and insurance premiums directly to the insurers.

It appears that the movant must have credited the debtor's direct payments of taxes and insurance, because its Change Notice filed on 10/18/16 lists a low estimated "Starting balance" of $861.27 as of December 2016 (although that apparently assumes that the debtor would start making his required escrow payments). In any event, the movant's Change Notice is prima facie evidence of the validity of this underlying calculation in support of its claim, and the debtor has not established that there is anything wrong with the movant's accounting included in its Change Notice filed on 10/18/16.

Similarly, by the time of the next Change Notice it appears that the movant must have once again credited the debtor's direct payments of taxes and insurance because, the escrow account projections ("Part 3") project a required "Starting balance" for March 2018 of only $762.96 (although, again, this appears to assume that the debtor will have made certain payments into the escrow account by the start of March 2018). In any event, the debtor has not shown that there is anything wrong with this supporting underlying documentation of the movant's claim.

(3) Despite the deficiencies in the debtor's arguments and evidence, it appears that the motion itself fails to account for the debtor's direct payments of real estate taxes and insurance

The motion asserts (dkt. 58, p.9, para.12.c.) that the debtor was behind three payments of $4,053.45, for a total of $12,160.35, less a suspense account balance of $1,166.12, for a total of $10,994.23 as of approximately 12/12/18 (when the declaration in support of the motion was signed). But unlike the Change Notices the motion does not appear to give the debtor credit for direct payments of real estate taxes and insurance.

Based on the spreadsheet attached to the motion as Exhibit 5 (dkt. 58, at PDF pp.30-33), the alleged shortfall of $10,994.23 appears to be the cumulative sum of all the shortfalls between the $3,698.51 that the debtor was paying each month (the normal amortizing principal and interest payments) and the higher monthly amounts that he should have been paying in order to fund the escrow account. There are no entries in the spreadsheet that appear to reflect the debtor's direct payments of taxes and insurance.

Nor is it possible to rely on the latest Change Notice to determine precisely what the debtor owes. At first glance that Change Notice would appear to have current information because it was filed on 3/5/18, but it provides only a projected shortfall of $762.96 in the escrow account as of March 2018 (3/5/18 Charge Notice at PDF p.6, Part 3, end of first line). That projection probably is too low, because it appears to assume that part of the debtor's monthly payment is credited to the escrow account in January of 2018, and that the debtor will make some very substantial payments in February and March of 2018, and that the real estate taxes that are due in March of 2018 will be paid out of those escrow payments (see id., Part 4, 2d and 5th columns, rows for January, February, and March, including credits of $1,281.90, $9,810.75, and $354.94, and debit of $1,612.38).

The bottom line is that although the movant has not established precisely what the debtor owes, it has established cause for some sort of relief from the automatic stay - namely, there is "cause" within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) in that the debtor has failed for many months to comply with his obligations to fund the escrow account, which exposes the movant to the risk that it will have to bear the cost if the debtor fails to pay real estate taxes or insurance (especially if the property were to be damaged or completely burn down). The required adequate protection is for the debtor to cure the deficiency in the escrow account over a reasonable period of time.

The latest Change Notice (filed 3/5/18) can be used as a starting point. It requires that the debtor pay $381.48 per month into the escrow account, in addition to his regular monthly payments of $3,698.51 on account of principal and interest, for total monthly payments of $4,079.99. The escrow payments may have to be adjusted (as noted above, the Change Notice appears to assume that the debtor will have made some very substantial payments by the start of March 2018), but this Court can set a schedule for such adjustment (see below).

(4) Conclusion

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 4/1/18 for the debtor (a) to file evidence that he has paid the March 2018 real estate tax payment directly to the taxing authority and (b) to commence making monthly payments of $381.48 into the escrow account, in addition to his regular monthly payments of $3,698.51 on account of principal and interest, for total monthly payments

Chapter 13

In addition, the tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 4/1/18 for the movant to file a supplemental declaration showing a calculation of the required escrow balance as of 5/1/18, the required monthly payments for the debtor to cure the deficiency in that escrow balance, and the resulting new total monthly payment that the debtor will have to pay on 5/1/18 and each month thereafter.

Finally, the tentative ruling is to set a continued hearing at the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, so that the parties and this Court can address what to do if the debtor disputes the movant's calculations.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties are directed to inform the Court of the status of the third party appraiser valuation, because as of the preparation of this tentative ruling nothing has been filed since the hearing on 8/30/18.

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is (1) to overrule the evidentiary objection of Aspen G. Revocable Trust ("Aspen") regarding the amount owed to the first lienholder and (2) require appearances to address issues with valuation of the subject property, for the following reasons.

(1) Overrule Aspen's evidentiary objection. Aspen asserts that debtor has again failed to meet her evidentiary burden in an attempt to establish the amount owed to the first lienholder. But on August 13, 2018, the first lienholder (Bayview) filed proof of claim no. 6 reflecting a secured claim of $652,860.72 (which debtor attached as an exhibit to her supplemental declaration (dkt. 32)). A proof of claim executed and filed in accordance with Rule 3001 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim and is deemed allowed under 11 USC 502(a) unless a party in interest objects. Therefore, the tentative ruling is to overrule Aspen's objection.

(2) Valuation. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address how they propose to resolve their disputes re: valuation of the subject property - e.g., (i) with an evidentiary hearing; (ii) with a court ruling based solely on the written record (to save costs, if all parties consent), (iii) through mediation, or (iv) through appointment of an appraiser (jointly selected by the parties/their appraisers) as the court's own expert under FRE 706. Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Patricia Reyes ("Reyes") Opposition (dkt. 26); Declaration of Jihad M. Smaili (dkt. 27); Debtor's Evidentiary Objections and Request to Strike Declaration of Jihad M. Smaili (dkt. 35); Debtor's Reply (dkt. 36).

Current issues.

(a) Timeliness of motion. Reyes objects that the motion is untimely pursuant to LBR 3015-1(b)(7). The tentative ruling is to overrule this objection as follows. First, Reyes has not affirmatively shown any undue prejudice resulting from debtor's delay in filing the motion. Second, this Court's own review of the docket suggests that there was in fact no prejudice to Reyes because debtor's plan stated an intent to file the motion (dkt. 14, PDF pp. 2, 11), and debtor filed her plan within 28 days of the petition date, on 4/14/18.

(b) Evidentiary issues (dkt. 35, pp.2:22-5:9). The tentative ruling is to sustain objection numbers "1" and "2" in full, "3" on the hearsay ground (and the lack of reliability of Zillow, Redfin, and Trulia, at least when not used by a licensed real estate appraiser or other person who could qualify as an expert who generally can rely on hearsay), and "5" (there is no "4") because the Reyes appraisal must be authenticated by the appraiser, not by Reyes' attorney.

Despite sustaining all of these objections, the result is only that there is a disputed issue of fact as to the value of the subject property. Moreover, the debtor's Reply includes new evidence, which is generally improper in a reply. That new evidence may or may not be sufficient to support the debtor's asserted valuation of the subject property. This is an additional reason why there are disputed issues of material fact that must be resolved.

Note: Although Reyes' Opposition alleges that there are a number of "substantial omissions and misrepresentations" in the papers filed by the debtor (dkt. 26, p.4:12-21), she does not appear to assert any evidentiary objections based on those alleged facts, nor does she explain how they might be relevant to valuation or other issues in connection with this motion. Therefore this Court expresses no view on those allegations.

(c) Evidence of Value. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address how they propose to resolve their disputes re: valuation of the subject property - e.g., (i) with an evidentiary hearing; (ii) with a court ruling based solely on the written record (to save costs, if all parties consent), (iii) through mediation, or (iv) through appointment of an appraiser (jointly selected by the parties/their appraisers) as the court's own expert under FRE 706. Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief. Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

vs
DEBTOR

Docket 64

Tentative Ruling:

Revised Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

Grant, conditioned on Movant's waiver of 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2), as further set forth below. Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling (subject to any modification on the record at the hearing). See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Debtor's opposition (dkt. 66)

(1) Background

Movant Deutsche Bank National Trust Company, as trustee ("Duetsche") seeks relief from the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) (the "R/S Motion") to pursue its remedies with respect to the real property and improvements at 4039 Ocean Dr, Channel Islands, CA 93035 (the "Property"). Debtor has filed a limited opposition and declaration (dkt. 66) disclaiming any connection with the subject property or with the borrower on the loan secured by that Property.

Based on that declaration it appears that this is a "hijacked" case, and that Debtor is innocent of any involvement. In other words, the borrower on the loan held by Deutsche (or someone acting for the borrower) purported to transfer an interest in the Property to a random debtor in bankruptcy, so as to implicate the automatic stay and stop a foreclosure sale. It was Debtor's bad fortune to be the random choice of such wrongdoers. See, e.g., In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (describing hijacking schemes); In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012) (same).

(2) Debtor's concern about a 180-day bar is well taken

Debtor's opposition expresses concern that under 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2) she will be subject a 180-day bar on filing another bankruptcy case if, in future, she needs to request and obtain a "voluntary dismissal." That is a legitimate concern. See also 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(21)(A) (automatic stay inapplicable to enforcement of lien against real property if debtor is ineligible under section 109(g)).

(3) Section 109 limitations can be waived

There is authority that section 109 "eligibility issues" are non-jurisdictional, can be waived, forfeited, or subject to estoppel, and should not be applied if that would produce "an illogical, unjust, or capricious result, or when the benefit of dismissal would inure to a bad faith creditor." In re Leafly, 479 B.R. 545, 550-51 (9th Cir. BAP 2012) (citing cases including under 109(g)(2)). See also In re Mendez, 367 B.R. 109, 116-17 (9th Cir. BAP 2007); In re Luna, 122 B.R. 575, 577 (9th Cir. BAP 1991); Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 270.

(4) Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the tentative ruling is to terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1), effective immediately (i.e., with a waiver of the 14 day stay of Rule 4001(a)(3), Fed. R. Bankr. P.), conditioned on (a) this Court's determination that section 109(g)(2) does not apply under the above principles and, as additional protection, (b) Deutsche filing, before lodging any proposed order, a written waiver of the application of 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2) or 362(b)(21)(A) to Debtor or Debtor's property (as distinguished from the Property that is the subject of the R/S Motion).

vs
DEBTOR

Docket 32

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address (a) whether the alleged arrears have been brought current and/or (b) whether they will agree to the terms of an adequate protection order (see the debtor's response, dkt. 34).

BANK OF AMERICA, NA

DEBTOR

Docket 24

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief. Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 15

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply. This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

Alternatively, there is no automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(3) and (j) because (a) the debtor's prior case (# 2:18-bk-16868-WB) was dismissed (on 7/2/18) within one year before this case was filed (on 7/18/18), (b) that dismissal was not under 11 U.S.C. 707(b), and (c) no finding of good faith was timely sought and obtained. The automatic stay has terminated both as to the debtor in personam and as to property of the debtor. See In re Hernandez & Jiminez, Case No. 2:11-bk-53730-NB, Dkt 40.

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(4).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under

#23.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [RP]

HERBERT V. LARSON
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 19

Tentative Ruling:

Revised Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

Deny at this time, without prejudice to renewing the motion if, after Movant files a proof of claim in Debtor's father's bankruptcy case, any claim litigation and payment are not diligently pursued by Debtor's father. Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

Proposed order: Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Debtor's Response (dkt. 33); Movant's Reply (dkt. 35).

Reasons:

(1) Background

Movant seeks to collect approximately $75,000 in legal fees from Debtor, secured by a deed of trust against his parents' home. Dkt. 19, p.2:6 & Ex. 1. That home is not property of Debtor's estate, and Movant emphasizes that he is not pursuing Debtor's parents in personam and is solely seeking in rem relief, to the extent if any that the automatic stay (11 U.S.C. 362(a)) or the co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301) apply. The tentative ruling is that both apply.

(2) The automatic stay

United States Bankruptcy Court
Central District of California
Los Angeles
Judge Neil Bason, Presiding
Courtroom 1545 Calendar

Tuesday, November 6, 2018

Hearing Room 1545

10:00 AM

CONT... Matthew Michael Totaro

Chapter 13

The automatic stay prevents not only acts against property of the estate but also "any act to collect, assess, or recover a [prepetition] claim against the debtor (11 U.S.C. 362(a)(6)). See also 11 U.S.C. 362(a)(1) (staying any "action or proceeding" against the debtor).

To illustrate how these provisions apply, consider the parties' disputes will play out. Movant seeks an order from this Court giving him the green light to foreclose. He can commence either a judicial or a nonjudicial foreclosure, but in the latter instance Debtor's parents presumably will bring an action in State Court to enjoin the foreclosure, so one way or the other Movant and Debtor's parents will be in litigation about the reasonableness of Movant's fees for representing Debtor. How can that be anything but an act to collect on a claim against Debtor?

The tentative ruling is that the automatic stay applies.

(3) The codebtor stay

The codebtor stay provides that a creditor "may not act, or commence or continue any civil action, to collect all or part of a consumer debt of the debtor from any individual that is liable on such debt with the debtor" (subject to certain exceptions). 11 U.S.C. 1301(a) (emphasis added). A consumer debt is a "debt incurred by an individual primarily for a personal, family, or household purpose." 11 U.S.C. 101(8).

Movant argues that the codebtor stay "applies to consumer debts only, not to debts for professional fees, and thus does not apply to Mr. Larson's claim for attorney fees." Dkt. 19, at PDF p.14:5-7. This is not persuasive.

Debtor incurred the debt at issue in defense of the criminal case against him in Louisiana. Dkt. 19, Ex. 2. It is hard to conceive of a debt that would be incurred for a more personal purpose. Debtor's authorities, and distinction of the case cited by Movant, are persuasive on this issue. See, e.g., In re Kelly, 841 F.2d 908, 913 (9th Cir. 1988).

Movant argues that the codebtor stay only applies to in personam acts and not in rem because the statute refers to any act "to collect ... from any individual that is liable on such debt with the debtor" (subject to certain exceptions). 11 U.S.C. 1301(a) (emphasis added). It is true that some courts have adopted this reading. See, e.g., In re Whitlock-Young, 571 B.R. 795, 807-808 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 2017). But the tentative ruling is to disagree with such authority.

The most natural reading of "any" act to collect from any individual is both acts in personam and in rem. Certainly anyone whose house or bank account or other property is being seized would be surprised to hear that such acts are not acts against them. The plain meaning of the statute appears to be that both in personam and in rem claims are barred.

The alternative reading reasons by analogy to the distinction in section 362(a) between acts against property and other types of acts. But Congress did not track the language in section 362(a) in section 1301, so the analogy is weak. In addition, one can also reason by analogy to 11 U.S.C. 102(2) which equates a claim against a debtor with a claim against property of that debtor, so Congress' reference to acts against an "individual" in section 1301 should not be presumed to be some sort of implicit distinction between in personam and in rem liability.

Assuming for the sake of discussion that there is ambiguity in the statute, it seems that the purpose of the codebtor stay would be undermined if creditors were barred from suing codebtors in personam but could foreclose on codebtors' houses at will.

(4) Limitations on codebtor stay

As Movant points out, there are some limitations on the codebtor stay. In particular, if Movant files a proof of claim in Debtor's father's bankruptcy case, and litigates any disputes, but Debtor fails to take appropriate steps to resolve those disputes and pay whatever is owed, then Movant presumably would have shown irreparable harm within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 1301(c) (3). But on the present record the tentative ruling is that none of the exceptions to the codebtor stay applies.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 304

Tentative Ruling:

Revised Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

This Court has reviewed the motion (dkt. 304), Debtor's response (dkt. 306, 309, 310, 311, 312), and Movant's reply (dkt. 310), as well as other relevant filed documents and records of this Court regarding this bankruptcy case.

(1) Procedural issues

The tentative ruling is that all procedural deficiencies by Debtor have been cured or should be excused by this Court, but that a continuance is appropriate for Movant to serve all persons on the Creditor Matrix, because of the potential impact on Debtor's ability to make payments under his confirmed chapter 11 plan. See Rules 4001(a)(1) & 9014 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) (requiring service on debtor, 20 largest nonpriority unsecured creditors, and "such other entities as the court may direct").

The tentative ruling is to set a continued hearing for 12/11/18 at 10:00 a.m., with a deadline of 11/13/18 for Movant to serve all persons on the Creditor Matrix and file a proof of service.

(2) Applicability of automatic stay bankruptcy estate has re-vested in Debtor. That has the effect of terminating the automatic stay as to such property (11 U.S.C. 362(c)(1)), but the automatic stay continues in all other respects until this case is closed or dismissed. Therefore Movant's action is stayed because the stay applies to the commencement of any action or proceeding against Debtor that could have been commenced prepetition, and to assess, collect, or recover a prepetition claim. 11 U.S.C. 362(a)(1), (a)(6), & (c)(2). Those restrictions are paralleled by this Court's order confirming Debtor's plan. Dkt. 253, para. 12.

In sum, the tentative ruling is that Movant does in fact need relief from this Court before he may proceed with any action against Debtor.

(3) Contemplation of limited relief

At the continued hearing, absent persuasive arguments by Movant, Debtor, or other parties in interest, this Court anticipates modifying and conditioning the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) such that Movant may proceed in the nonbankruptcy forum to final judgment (including any appeals) in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law, subject to the following limitations (Judge Bason's standard limitations, except for minor modification to address the post-confirmation status of this case).

(a) No enforcement against property subject to chapter 11 plan

To avoid disruption of payments to other creditors, the tentative ruling is to condition and limit relief from the automatic stay such that Movant may not enforce any judgment against any property of Debtor pending further order(s) of this Court (e.g., an order confirming a modified chapter 11 plan that provides for Movant, or an order granting further relief from the automatic stay).

Note: Movant would be permitted to enforce its final judgment by collecting upon any available insurance in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law. But, although two insurance companies are named as defendants in Movant's nonbankruptcy complaint (dkt. 304, Ex.A, at PDF p.14), Movant has not established a sufficient likelihood that insurers would pay costs of defense, or any other reason to believe that any insurance would reduce the impact on this bankruptcy case or favor relief from the automatic stay.

(b) Claim allowance, priority, and discharge issues

Any claims arising from the nonbankruptcy litigation are subject to this Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction regarding claim allowance and priority, and the

(c) No relief in other bankruptcy cases

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

(4) Additional analysis

The Bankruptcy Court "shall grant relief from the stay" upon a showing of "cause." 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1). Such relief need not take the form of a complete termination of the automatic stay, but instead may include "modifying or conditioning such stay." Id.

"Cause" is determined on a case-by-case basis." In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir.1990). In determining whether "cause" exists to grant relief from the automatic stay to allow a movant to pursue litigation in a non-bankruptcy forum, courts in the Ninth Circuit have examined the factors set forth in In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799–800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984). See In re Kronmeyer, 405 B.R. 915 (9th Cir. BAP 2009); In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc., 311 B.R. 551, 559–60 (Bankr. C.D. Cal.2004). Those factors are: (1) Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues; (2) The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case; (3) Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary; (4) Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases; (5) Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation; (6) Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question; (7) Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties; (8) Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c); (9) Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f); (10) The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties; (11) Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial; and (12) The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt." Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 559. determine the existence of 'cause,' not all of the factors are relevant in every case, nor is a court required to give each factor equal weight." In re Landmark Fence Co., Inc., 2011 WL 6826253 at *4 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 9, 2011).

Based on the present record, the tentative ruling is that these factors weigh in favor of granting relief as set forth above. The following factors are most significant,

(a) Other defendants

As Debtor acknowledges, there is a "difficulty" in that there are "other defendants not subject to bankruptcy court jurisdiction" (dkt. 306, p.19:14-15). This is the most significant factor in the circumstances presented.

(b) Expertise of fora

As Debtor's letter to movant acknowledges, California law "does not apply" (dkt. 306, Ex.2, at p.38), and this California Bankruptcy Court does not have any expertise in the laws of Louisiana. In addition, as Movant argues, the Louisiana Courts have experience in water intrusion cases (dkt. 310, at PDF p.3:16-17).

It is true that this Bankruptcy Court has expertise in nondischargeability matters; but as noted separately below that does not appear to be as significant an issue in this case as in typical cases.

(c) Expense and inconvenience

This Court recognizes that, as Debtor argues (dkt. 306, pp.19:16-20:16, & 21:13-20, 22:1-20), litigation in Louisiana not only will be inconvenient for him but likely will be more expensive for him than litigation before this Bankruptcy Court, to the possible detriment of all other creditors. But the tentative ruling is that this consideration is outweighed by the other considerations noted above combined with the fact that litigation in this California Bankruptcy Court would be inconvenient and expensive for Movant. Cf. dkt. 306, pp.22:25-24:1 (Debtor's "balance of hurt" argument).

(d) Nondischargeability appears to be mostly a red herring for present purposes

Debtor has not yet received his discharge under 11 U.S.C. 1141(d)(5). Normally nondischargeability issues have the potential to make a substantial difference to a motion for relief from the automatic stay because, if the parties are not very careful to obtain issue preclusive findings of fact and conclusions of law in the nonbankruptcy forum, the parties might have to re-litigate their disputes in the Bankruptcy Court to determine whether the elements of a nondischargeability claim are met. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(2)(A). In the present circumstances, however, the tentative ruling is that this consideration should not weigh heavily in the analysis.

As Debtor describes (dkt. 306, pp.15:25-16:9), it might well be that Movant can file a proof of claim and assert whatever nondischargeability claim he might have under 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(2)(A) and (3)(B). But it is not clear to this Court that it will make a substantial difference if the claim is nondischargeable, because Debtor's confirmed chapter 11 plan (dkt. 227, 253) provides for 100% payment to creditors and, although that plan does not include movant, presumably it could be amended under 11 U.S.C. 1127.

True, if (hypothetically) Movant were to prevail on his claims and obtain a very large judgment against Debtor then that might force Debtor to amend his Plan to pay only a fraction of creditors' claims. See dkt. 306, Ex.2, at p.39 (suggesting 10% recovery). But Debtor is paying a number of substantial claims, so if Movant files a proof of claim (per 11 U.S.C. 523(c)(3)) and obtains a smaller judgment then presumably the Plan could be amended to provide for 100% payment of that judgment.

In other words, on the present record it appears somewhat likely that the distribution could be the same regardless whether the claim is nondischargeable or not, so this consideration does not appear to have a major impact on whether or not to grant relief from the automatic stay.

Caveat: The immediately preceding paragraph is not intended to constitute any sort of determination on whether a nondischargeability adversary proceeding should or should not be filed, or what might be the consequences of failing to do so or of doing so. The point is only that for purposes of the present motion for relief from the automatic stay this Court believes that nondischargeability issues are not as relevant as they might be in other cases.

(e) Merits of underlying litigation

As Debtor points out, Movant's allegations are vague and his claims may suffer from a number of weaknesses. See generally dkt. 306, Ex.2. But those issues can be addressed by whichever forum adjudicates this claim. They do not appear to be sufficient to warrant an outright denial of any relief from the automatic stay.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that the debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that the debtor was involved and the debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that the debtor was involved. #29.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [UD]

vs
DEBTOR

Docket 17

Tentative Ruling:

Grant in part, deny in part, as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay applies. Movant argues (dkt. 17, p.5, para.3, and PDF p.11) that the automatic stay should not apply because Debtor is ineligible to be a debtor in bankruptcy under 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1). Movant bases this argument on the dismissal of one of Debtor's prior bankruptcy cases (Case No. 2:18-bk-16715-SK) on 6/29/18 for failure to file schedules.

Movant has not established that Debtor's failure to file schedules was "willful." Many debtors have difficulty filling out the (very lengthy) bankruptcy forms despite good faith efforts to do so. Therefore this Court rejects this argument.

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1), (d)(2) and (d)(4).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. Evidence. This Court notes that the declaration attached to the motion is incomplete and/or contains changes to the mandatory form (which are hereby treated as a request to amend the form per LBR 9009-1). This court makes no determination whether such omissions/changes would withstand an evidentiary objection. #30.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [UD]

JOSEPH DONG
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief. Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

Evidence. This Court notes that the declaration attached to the motion is incomplete and/or contains changes to the mandatory form (which are hereby treated as a request to amend the form per LBR 9009-1). This court makes no determination whether such omissions/changes would withstand an evidentiary objection. Nevertheless, this Court has considered the key documents because (a) there are no evidentiary objections and/or (b) those documents appear to be admissible on other grounds. In future the movant's failure to complete the form properly may result in denial of the motion sua sponte.

#32.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [NA]

vs
DEBTOR

Docket 30

Tentative Ruling:

Continue to 11/27/18 at 10:00 a.m. for service by Movants of (1) this tentative ruling and (2) the motion papers on all persons listed on the creditor matrix in this case. Appearances are not required on 11/6/18.

Option for shortened time: This Court has selected a continued hearing date that contemplates shortened notice (per Rule 9006) but that date is conditioned on the movant serving all papers via U.S. mail on the day after the current hearing date. Alternatively, the movant may self-calendar a continued hearing on regular notice.

Reasons: Rule 4001(a)(1) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) provides for service on specified persons and "on such other entities as the court may direct." It appears appropriate to direct further notice in this case because Movants seek to avoid the transfer to debtor, and recover for themselves, the property at 623 W. Tichenor St., Compton, CA 90220, which might be very valuable real estate that could be administered for the benefit of other creditors.

This Court recognizes that, according to Movants, Debtor wrongfully obtained title to the property by, allegedly, exerting undue influence on their and Debtor's mother, and they surmise that the father's signature must have been forged. They claim they were thereby deprived them of their share of their inheritance from the parents.

But this Court also notes that their nonbankruptcy complaint (dkt. 32, Ex.1) acknowledges that Debtor took care of their parents when they were ill, and further acknowledges that two mentally ill siblings also live on the property. Id. para. 11, 18. All of that implies that Debtor (or her bankruptcy estate) might have defenses. Movants' complaint also acknowledges (dkt.

32, Ex.1, p.3, para. 15) that there is approximately $150,000 to $250,000 of equity in the property.

This Court also recognizes that, according to Movants, mandatory abstention applies. See 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(2). But that does not necessarily mean that the automatic stay must be terminated in all respects, including taking property out of this bankruptcy estate, at least without conditions or limitations.

Finally, this Court recognizes that creditors' interests are ably protected by the Chapter 13 Trustee, who is in this Court's experience very diligent about considering possible adverse consequences to creditors. But in this particular case there may be facts that the Chapter 13 Trustee does not know, and in any event both secured and unsecured creditors might wish to be heard on the issues.

For all of the foregoing reasons, the tentative ruling is to continue this matter with a direction to Debtor to provide notice as set forth above.

DEBTOR

Docket 30

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances required because the parties appear to be somewhat confused about what is or is not stayed, and what issues this Bankruptcy Court can or cannot determine (e.g., although the opposition asserts that there was never a valid marriage, that is not an issue before this Bankruptcy Court).

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Limited relief. Modify and condition the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) such that the movant may proceed in the nonbankruptcy forum to final judgment (including any appeals) in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law, subject to the following limitations (Judge Bason's standard limitations).

(a) No enforcement against property of the bankruptcy estate. The stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against property of the debtor's bankruptcy estate - any such property shall be distributed when and how provided by the Bankruptcy Code. Nevertheless, the movant is permitted to enforce its final judgment by (i) collecting upon any available insurance in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law or (ii) proceeding against the debtor as to any property that is not property of this bankruptcy estate. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(2)(B) & 541(b)(7) (collection of domestic support obligations from ERISA qualified retirement plans).

(b) Claim allowance, priority, and discharge issues. Any claims arising from the nonbankruptcy litigation are subject to this Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction regarding claim allowance and priority, and the existence and scope of any bankruptcy discharge.

(c) No relief in other bankruptcy cases. To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

(d) Divorces: opportunity for parties in this bankruptcy case to object to any resolution regarding characterization or division of property. As a preliminary matter, the automatic stay does not apply at all to various aspects of divorces, including child custody or visitation, the establishment or modification of domestic support (or collection of domestic support from property that is not property in which the bankruptcy estate asserts an interest), or the dissolution of the marriage (except to the extent the proceeding seeks to determine the division of property that is property of the estate, including characterization of property as set forth below). See 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(2)(A)-(C). Numerous other aspects of divorces are subject to the automatic stay.

Any characterization of property (as community or separate property) and any other division of property shall be treated for bankruptcy purposes as a proposed resolution between the debtor and the non-debtor spouse/former spouse. To assure that there is an opportunity for other parties in interest in this bankruptcy case to object to any undue prejudice that may result from such a proposed resolution, it shall be treated as a proposed compromise or settlement (even if it is embodied in a nonbankruptcy judgment) that must be the subject of adequate notice and an opportunity for a hearing under Rule 9019 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) before final relief from the automatic stay to make any such resolution effective.

In limiting relief from the automatic stay in this fashion, this Bankruptcy Court is attempting to recognize on the one hand the unique expertise and aptitude of the State Courts regarding divorce matters, and on the other hand the unique expertise and aptitude of this Bankruptcy Court regarding the rights of creditors (and other parties in interest in bankruptcy cases). This Bankruptcy Court cannot adjudicate divorces; and conversely the State Court might not be willing or able to address the bankruptcy issues (creditors of one spouse might not even have standing to be heard in the State Courts, and yet their interests are important and, in limited respects, the Bankruptcy Code may override nonbankruptcy law regarding the division and distribution of property, especially when a divorce judgment or supplemental orders are not final as of the date of the bankruptcy petition). See generally 11 U.S.C. 101(14A) (certain claims characterized for bankruptcy purposes independent of how they are "designated" for nonbankruptcy purposes); In re Cohen (Bankr. C.D. Cal. #2:13-bk-26483-NB, Adv. #2:14-ap-1484-NB, dkt. 16) (same), reversed on other grounds (C.D. Cal. #2:14-cv-08939-SJO, dkt. 30) (favoring ongoing proceedings in State Court, subject to later review by Bankruptcy Court).

For example, marital settlement agreements can constitute fraudulent transfers as against creditors. Mejia v. Reed, 31 Cal. 4th 657 (2003). Similarly, if there were assets that were hidden from a (former) spouse then perhaps for nonbankruptcy purposes the debtor should have to turn over those assets to the former spouse, but for bankruptcy purposes creditors also may have a legitimate interest in being paid out of any hidden assets, perhaps even if those assets normally would be exempt. See generally In re Lua, 529 B.R. 766, 775-79 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2015). This Bankruptcy Court expresses no opinion whether such general principles apply in this specific case - the point is only that in order to balance the interests of all parties in interest it appears that any resolution in State Court should be subject to an opportunity for objection in this bankruptcy case.

Additional analysis:

The Bankruptcy Court "shall grant relief from the stay" upon a showing of "cause." 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1). Such relief need not take the form of a complete termination of the automatic stay, but instead may include "modifying or conditioning such stay." Id.

"Cause" is determined on a case-by-case basis." In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir.1990). In determining whether "cause" exists to grant relief from the automatic stay to allow a movant to pursue litigation in a non-bankruptcy forum, courts in the Ninth Circuit have examined the factors set forth in In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799-800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984). See In re Kronemeyer, 405 B.R. 915 (9th Cir. BAP 2009); In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc., 311 B.R. 551, 559-60 (Bankr. C.D.

Cal.2004). Those factors are: (1) Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues; (2) The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case; (3) Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary; (4) Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases; (5) Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation; (6) Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question; (7) Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties; (8) Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c); (9) Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f); (10) The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties; (11) Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial; and (12) The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt." Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 559. "[W]hile the Curtis factors are widely used to determine the existence of 'cause,' not all of the factors are relevant in every case, nor is a court required to give each factor equal weight." In re Landmark Fence Co., Inc., 2011 WL 6826253 at *4 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 9, 2011).

Based on the present record, the tentative ruling is that these factors weigh in favor of granting relief as set forth above. Most significantly, the existence of a specialized tribunal to hear divorce actions and the interest of judicial economy.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address (a) whether the alleged arrears have been brought current and/or (b) whether they will agree to the terms of an adequate protection order (see Loan Modification Final Report, dkt. 89).

Tentative Ruling for 9/18/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

The parties should be prepared to provide an update regarding the LMM status, and any other matters relevant to this motion.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at

Tentative Ruling for 8/7/18:

Continue to 9/18/18 at 10:00 a.m. to address the following issues.

Appearances are not required on 8/7/18.

At the 5/22/18 hearing, this Court continued the matter for the debtors to complete the LMM Program (see Order granting motion to commence LMMP, dkt. 80). This Court has reviewed the debtors' filed status report (dkt. 82), which states that debtor is current with all adequate protection payments. Nothing in this tentative ruling keeps the parties from alerting chambers of any wish to appear at the 8/7/18 hearing in order to inform this Court about any other issues pertaining to the underlying motion.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 5/22/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address whether they will agree to the terms of an adequate protection order (see the debtor's response, dkt. 75).

This Court has authorized the sale of the subject property (see Order, dkt. 58) subject to certain conditions requested by the secured creditor. Since then, Debtor has filed a new motion for authority to sell real property (dkt. 63). The parties are directed to address whether this motion should be granted, whether the hearing should be further continued to permit the sale of the property to close, or any other matters relevant to the motion.

At the hearing on 7/10/18 this Court was persuaded to continue this matter for the parties to attempt to negotiate an agreed adequate protection order. No such order has been lodged, but meanwhile this Court has authorized the sale of the subject property (see Order, dkt. 58) subject to certain conditions requested by the secured creditor. The parties are directed to address whether this hearing should be further continued to permit the sale of the property to close, or any other matters relevant to the motion.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 7/10/18:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief. Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

BAYVIEW LOAN SERVICING, LLC

Docket 33

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

Take this motion for relief from the automatic stay off calendar, in view of this Court's order (dkt. 43, para. 14) granting the debtor's motion to commence loan modification program, without prejudice to the movant self-calendaring this motion again if the loan modification program is terminated without a consensual loan modificaton. Appearances are not required.

This Court is aware that the movant has concerns (dkt. 49) about whether the loan modification will be granted, and whether any modified payment would be as low as $3,600 per month, but the movant did not object to the motion (dkt. 39) to commence the LMM program on these terms, and this Court issued an order (dkt. 43) approving these terms.

DEBTOR

Docket 49

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address (a) whether this matter should be continued in view of the debtor's alleged progress in proceeding toward a loan modification (despite the absence of anything on the docket reflecting such progress) and/or (b) whether they will agree to the terms of an adequate protection order (see the debtor's response, dkt. 52).

Extended deadlines: Extend the discovery cutoff to 2/28/19 (per adv. dkt. 38, p.2:7-9), with an extension of the same number of days for the other remaining deadlines in this Court's scheduling order (adv. dkt. 34) (i.e., the deadline for exchange of any expert reports, and for any hearing on any dispositive motions). In addition, add a deadline for the close of discovery from experts (depositions etc.) two weeks after their reports are due. Plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed scheduling order containing these new deadlines, and to file and serve a notice of lodgment or else obtain the signature of Defendants' counsel approving the order as to form.

The court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (adv. dkt. 23) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

The plaintiff states (dkt. 23, p.2) that he requested entry of a default against defendants Andrae Perez and Accelerated Capital Group, Inc., but the Clerk of this Court has issued notices of non-entry of defaults (dkt. 15, 16). When will the plaintiff correct the deficiencies?

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority. Matters of venue, jurisdiction, and authority have been determined and/or waived or forfeited (adv. docket number(s) 23).

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 11/21/17. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 12/31/18

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

At the 3/6/18 hearing, this Court continued the matter to allow the parties time to meet and confer about the various deadlines that this court should set in this adversary proceeding and/or court-ordered mediation. This matter was further continued to today's date for the parties to participate in mediation on or about 5/21/18 (see Order, adv. dkt. 21). This Court also directed the parties to file a status report by 5/29/18, but the parties have not done so--for a second time.

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties are directed to address why they have not filed a status report, and to provide an oral status report, and are cautioned that continued failure to adhere to the applicable rules and orders of this Court may result in sanctions.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

At the 3/6/18 hearing, this Court continued the matter to allow the parties time to meet and confer about the various deadlines that this court should set in this adversary proceeding and/or court-ordered mediation. This court also directed the parties to file a status report by 4/3/18, but the parties have not done so.

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties are directed to address why they have not filed a status report, and to provide an oral status report, and are cautioned that continued failure to adhere to the applicable rules and orders of this Court may result in sanctions. The tentative ruling is to continue this status conference to 5/29/18 at 11:00 a.m. with a brief status report due 5/15/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

The parties requested a brief continuance of this status conference from 2/27/18 to today's date (see Joint Status Report, adv. dkt. 10). At the status conference on 1/23/18 there was no appearance for the plaintiff, and this Court was persuaded that it was premature to adopt the deadlines stated in the tentative ruling for that status conference (reproduced below). There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to discuss the status of this case.

Tentative Ruling for 2/27/18:

Continue to 3/6/18 at 11:00 a.m. Appearances are not required on 2/27/18.

Reasons: At the status conference on 1/23/18 there was no appearance for the plaintiff, and this Court was persuaded that it was premature to adopt the deadlines stated in the tentative ruling for that status conference (reproduced below). The plaintiff and one defendant (the debtor) have now filed a joint status report (adv. dkt. 10) requesting a brief continuance.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Appearances required. The court has reviewed the parties' filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding. The parties must address why they failed to file the required status report, and also the following issues. The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority. The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 2/6/18 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(3) Deadlines/dates: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 11/21/17. The tentative ruling is to set the following deadlines/dates. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 5/1/18

Expert(s) - deadline for reports: 5/8/18

(1) Mediation. The tentative ruling is to order mandatory mediation (again), with a deadline of 5/15/18 for the parties to lodge proposed mediation order(s).

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 2/24/17. Due to the parties' prior delays and an anticipated settlement the normal deadlines for completion of discovery and other matters have not been applied. The tentative ruling is to set the following deadlines, to run concurrent with the parties' mediation. The parties are cautioned that once the following deadlines have been established this Court is unlikely to be persuaded to amend them.

Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 9/3/18.

Expert(s) - deadline for reports: 9/17/18.

Expert(s) - discovery cutoff (if different from above): 9/24/18.

Dispositive motions to be heard no later than: 11/6/18.

Joint Status Report: 6/12/18.

Continued status conference: 6/26/18 at 11:00 a.m.

Lodge Joint Proposed Pre-Trial Order: 10/11/17.

Pretrial conference: 11/27/18 at 2:00 p.m.

Deliver trial exhibits to other parties and chambers (2 copies to chambers), including direct testimony by declaration unless excused: 12/6/18 (for the format of exhibits and other trial procedures, please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "Trial Practice")

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the results of their mediation. In future, the parties are cautioned that they are required under the Local Bankruptcy Rules to file a status report.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Continue to 11/14/17 at 11:00 a.m. in view of the parties' mediation scheduled for 10/27/17 (adv. dkt. 18). Appearances are not required on 8/22/17.

If you wish to dispute the above tentative ruling, please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings".

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below?

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 2/24/17. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Chapter 7

#6.00 Hrg re: First Interim Application For Award Of Compensation And Reimbursement Of Expenses Of Danning, Gill, Diamond & Kollitz, LLP

Docket 142

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances are not required. This Court has reviewed the application papers of the Danning, Gill firm (Chapter 7 Trustee's counsel) (dkt. ), the opposition of Construction Laborers Trust Funds ("CLTF") (dkt. 146), and the reply (dkt. 147). The tentative ruling is to approve the fees and expenses in the full amounts of $77,734.50 and $2,905.09 on an interim basis, but permit an interim distribution of only $55,000 fees plus $2,905.09 expenses, with all parties' rights reserved with respect to any final allowance and distribution.

Reasons: The tentative ruling is that, although this Court agrees with the firm on the law (that its fees and expenses have priority over CLTF's asserted chapter 13 administrative expense and priority claims), and this Court also recognizes that a reduced bank account balance will reduce bank charges, nevertheless sometimes it is not until the end of the case that parties in interest and this Court can fully assess the reasonableness of the fees, including the professionals' balancing of their attempts to maximize the estate and the costs of doing so. This is not to say that it is appropriate to judge professionals' billing discretion with the benefit of things they did not know at the time. But, although the professionals themselves are aware what they know in real time, other parties in interest and this Court are not as capable of evaluating the situation until later, when the facts tend to be more broadly and fully known.

Balancing these considerations, the foregoing interim distribution appears appropriate.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." #7.00 Hrg re: Motion for redemption of 2015 Volkswagen Jetta through Volkswagen Credit Inc. under 11 U.S.C. section 722

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

Continue to 12/11/18 at 11:00 a.m., with a deadline of 11/16/18 to file and serve a declaration to address the following issues. Appearances are not required on 11/6/18.

Under 11 U.S.C. 722 redemption requires that Debtor pay "the holder of [the] lien the amount of the allowed secured claim ...." Under 11 U.S.C. 506(a)(2), "If the debtor is an individual in a case under chapter 7 ..., [the] value [used to determine the secured claim] with respect to personal property ... shall be determined based on the replacement value of such property as of the date of the filing of the petition without deduction for costs of sale or marketing. With respect to property acquired for personal, family, or household purposes, replacement value shall mean the price a retail merchant would charge for property of that kind considering the age and condition of the property at the time value is determined."

Debtor's motion uses the Kelly Blue Book valuation to "Buy from a Private Party." Dkt. 8, Ex.B (emphasis added). The tentative ruling is that Debtor must provide evidence of what it would cost to purchase (not trade-in) from a retail merchant (not a private party) a vehicle of the same make, model, and condition as Debtor's vehicle.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Appearances required. At the hearing on 9/18/18, this Court was persuaded to make this hearing a pretrial conference. This Court has reviewed the parties' joint pretrial stipulation (dkt. 58). The parties should be prepared (1) to confirm that they have reviewed Judge Bason's posted Procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov), under the "Trial practice" section, and (2) to address scheduling the trial day.

Tentative Ruling for 9/18/18:

Specially set a trial and continued status conference for 9/26/18 at 9:00 a.m., in view of the order excepting these proceedings from any automatic stay that might otherwise apply in Mr. Hill's bankruptcy case (see dkt. 56, Ex.A).

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

If one or more parties assert that they are unavailable on that date, then this Court will address whether to select an alternative date. In addition, the parties should be prepared to address whether this Court should approve the pretrial order proposed by the United States Trustee (dkt. 52, 53), what evidence they expect to present, and any other matters appropriate to be addressed at a pretrial/status conference.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Chapter 13

Tentative Ruling for 8/7/18:

Continue to 9/18/18 at 2:00 p.m., and vacate the trial that is scheduled to commence on 8/15/18 at 9:00 a.m., in view of the automatic stay arising from the filing of the bankruptcy petition of Mr. William G. Hill (Case No. 1:18-bk-11914-VK). Appearances are not required on 8/7/18.

Analysis: First, although this Court has located authority that proceedings under 11 U.S.C. 110 are within the police and regulatory power exception to the automatic stay, that conclusion may be subject to dispute, and Mr. Hill (and the Office of the United States Trustee) have not had the opportunity to brief that issue. See In re Hernandez, 66 Collier Bankr.Cas.2d 1022 at n.9 & accompanying text (Bankr. D. Colo. 2011). See also In re Dingley, 852 F.3d 1143 (9th Cir. 2017) (civil contempt proceedings exempted from automatic stay when intended to effectuate court's public policy interest in deterring litigation misconduct).

Second, regardless whether the automatic stay applies, the tentative ruling is that continuing this matter is in keeping with the spirit of the "breathing spell" that bankruptcy is supposed to afford. This Court recognizes that the debtor may be very much in need of whatever funds could be owed to him by Mr. Hill, but any delay from the automatic stay is unlikely to last long.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 6/7/18:

Appearances required. The parties have raised a number of disputed issues, including issues of credibility (attorney Leslie Richards, Esq. blaming former attorney William G. Hill and vice versa), that appear to require an evidentiary hearing. The parties are directed to address when this Court should schedule such a hearing.

The parties should also be prepared to address whether this Court should grant any additional time for the UST to file additional or amended papers with respect to Ms. Richards.

fr. 9/4/18,10/9/18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's motion to approve compromise (dkt. 52). There is no tentative ruling but the parties should be prepared to address the responses by Allstar and the Chapter 7 Trustee (see dkt. 61, 75) and Debtor's reply (dkt. 81).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/30/18 and converted to chapter 7 on 10/10/18.

(a) Bar date: 11/7/18 (see dkt. 47, 51, and tentative ruling for 10/9/18, reproduced below).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement: N/A.

(c) Continued status conference: 12/4/18 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." 7 pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 1112(b), due to the apparent conflicts of interest of the debtor's principal, Mr. Brown, with the interests of creditors. See Motion by UST (dkt. 39), Joinder by Allstar Fin. Svcs., Inc. (dkt. 62). Although Debtor asserts (dkt. 58) that a number of issues identified by the UST have been addressed, the opposition does not adequately address the alleged conflicts of interest. In addition, the issues identified in this Court's tentative ruling for 10/9/18 (reproduced below) have not been adequately addressed. In addition, this Court's order (dkt. 47) directed Debtor not to serve a notice of bar date and instead to serve a copy of that order itself, no later than 9/7/18, but Debtor disregarded that order and served its own notice (dkt. 51) on 9/16/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

This court anticipates posting a tentative ruling at a later time.

Tentative Ruling for 9/4/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

(1) Current issues

(a) Failure to serve order. This Court's status conference order (dkt. 9, para.5, bolded text) directed counsel for the debtor to serve all creditors with a copy of the order. Why was it not served?

(b) Failure to comply with requirements for professionals. The debtor's status report (dkt. 45, p.4) states that neither the debtor's attorney nor any other professional intend to apply for employment because they do not intend to seek compensation during the case. That is not the test. They are required to apply for employment under 11 U.S.C. 327. In addition, the United States Trustee ("UST") has objected in its motion to dismiss (dkt. 39) that the person who claims to be acting as the debtor's bankruptcy attorney, Robert A. Brown, Esq., is also the debtor's CEO and General Counsel. The parties should be prepared to address the conflicts issues.

(c) Failure to comply with Chapter 11 requirements. See the UST's motion to dismiss (dkt. 39).

(d) Failure to comply with procedures for plan (dkt. 38) and disclosure statement (dkt. 37). As stated in this Court's status conferences order (dkt. 9), Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) establish procedures for any draft plan and disclosure statement. Counsel for the debtor has violated those procedures by mailing a copy of the drafts to creditors before this Court has approved such mailing.

In addition, those documents omit any meaningful liquidation analysis or disclosure of what could be paid to general unsecured creditors, instead opting for a flat 12% promised distribution (dkt. 38, at PDF pp.13-14). In addition, from the summary of assets and liabilities (dkt. 19) it appears that the debtor might have enough equity in property to pay far more than 12%, depending on the total amount of unsecured claims.

(e) Opaque "disclosures". The debtor's references to a sale of the "Marsh" property is not adequately explained. In addition, although the debtor's bankruptcy Schedule H (dkt. 1) asserts that there are no co-debtors, this Court questions whether that is so because business organizations typically have individual guarantors on any major debts.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/30/18.

(a) Bar date: 11/7/18 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement: TBD.

(c) Continued status conference: 10/9/18 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

#8.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from the stay [RP]

LAUREL ROSA, LLC
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 35

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay will not apply if this Court adheres to other tentative rulings today. As set forth in the tentative ruling for the Status Conference (calendar no. 10, 11/6/18 at 1:00 p.m.), this Court's tentative ruling is to grant a motion to reconsider the continuation of the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(3), and in that event there will be no stay; and alternatively, this Court's tentative ruling is to grant Debtor's motion to dismiss this case, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Service

This Court notes that movant Laurel Rosa, LLC ("Rosa") served very few persons, and normally a motion for relief from the automatic stay must be served on the 20 largest unsecured creditors (or a creditors' committee or its counsel, if they exist, per Rule 4001(a)(1), Fed. R. Bankr. P.). But in this case Debtor's creditor matrix includes almost no creditors (in fact, it omits Rosa), and the few creditors who are listed appear to be holders of secured claims. Accordingly, service appears to have been adequate.

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(4).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31), as applicable:

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order normally will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that the debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that the debtor was involved and the debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that the debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is not sufficient evidence and notice, due to Debtor's evidence that it was his agents, rather than himself personally, who engaged in the scheme.

Effective date of relief. Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) Application to employ Michael Totaro and Law Offices of Totaro & Shanahan (dkt. 5)

Deny without prejudice (or, if this case is not dismissed, continue to the same time as the continued status conference, to address the concerns raised by the United States Trustee ("UST")). Dkt. 22. Mr. Totaro's reply (dkt. 31) does not adequately explain the investor's role, connections with Debtor or any other parties in interest, or potential conflicts of interest. See In re Kelton Motors, Inc., 109 B.R. 641 (Bankr. D. Vt. 1989); In re Hathaway Ranch Partnership, 116 B.R. 208, 219 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1990); In re Park-Helena Corp., 63 F.3d 877 (9th Cir. 1995). In addition, Local Form F 2014-1 is required (see Judge Bason's posted procedures).

(b) Laurel Rosa, LLC ("Rosa"): motion for relief from stay (dkt. 35)

Grant under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) & (4) (among other things), as set forth in calendar no. 8 (11/6/18 at 1:00 p.m.).

(c) Rosa reconsideration motion (dkt. 27) re order continuing automatic stay (dkt. 24)

Grant, with a direction to Rosa, within seven days after the hearing, to lodge a proposed order with a copy of this tentative ruling attached, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling.

Although Debtor's opposition (dkt. 30) is correct that the reconsideration motion is mostly unsupported by evidence, several points raised by Rosa can be established by judicial notice. First, the presumption of lack of good faith applies based on Debtor's failure to file case commencement papers in a prior bankruptcy case, and alternatively based on Debtor's lack of evidence of a substantial change in financial or personal affairs.

Second, Debtor's attempt to rebut that presumption by clear and convincing evidence - by blaming the persons to whom he went for assistance - does not include any explanation why Rosa was omitted in this case from both Debtor's creditor matrix and the proof of service of the motion to continue the automatic stay (dkt. 6), despite the fact that both Debtor and Mr. Totaro were aware that Rosa had been granted relief from the automatic stay in his prior bankruptcy. See dkt. 34, Ex.B. It is difficult to establish good faith (especially by clear and convincing evidence) when failing to notify a key creditor of this case or a critical proceeding in this case.

Note: Although the tentative ruling is to dismiss this case, that does not render moot this motion to reconsider this Court's order continuing the automatic stay in this case. That order includes a finding of good faith, which no longer appears to be appropriate, so that issue should be addressed prior to dismissal.

(d) Motion of debtor to voluntarily dismiss Chapter 11 proceeding

Grant, but only after disposition of the other matters on calendar for today as set forth above. Counsel for Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed dismissal order within seven days after this hearing.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 8/29/18.

(a) Bar date: N/A (at the hearing on 10/2/18 this Court did not adopt the tentative ruling of setting a bar date, and if this case is dismissed then it will be unnecessary to set one).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: N/A.

(c) Continued status conference: N/A.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

(b) Motion for joint administration (dkt. 82). Grant, except that, to avoid possible administrative confusion, the new caption (dkt. 82, Ex.1) should list Sergio Ramirez' case number as "2:18-bk-21263-NB" (emphasis added) rather than "2:18-bk-21263-ER."

Debtors Karla and Sergio Ramirez are directed to lodge a proposed order in each of their separate cases authorizing joint administration. Thereafter, the orders will provide that all subsequent documents must be filed in the lead case of Karla Ramirez. The proposed orders should provide that copies of the orders must be served on all parties in interest in both cases.

Tentative Ruling for 9/18/18:

At the hearing on 8/14/18 this Court was persuaded not to convert this case, and instead to continue this hearing, in view of the debtor's apparent agreements with certain key creditors. This Court has reviewed the debtor's status report (dkt. 77).

(1) Current issues.

(a) Mold issues etc. Has the debtor addressed the mold and any other health and safety issues?

(b) Plan (dkt. 76) and Disclosure Statement (dkt. 75). The debtor treats tax claims from the IRS and the FTB as general unsecured claims (dkt. 75, Ex.F). The latter is listed as secured on the claims register. In addition, the claims register reflects Claim no. 4-1 by the LA County Treasurer for $10,433.84 in alleged real estate taxes. How does the debtor propose to treat these claims?

by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 8/14/18:

The tentative ruling is to convert this bankruptcy case to chapter 7.

Appearances are not required. After the hearing this Court will prepare the conversion order.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Background. The debtor's status report notes (dkt. 62, p.2:9-12) that the debtor fell behind in mortgage payments and faced a scheduled increase in monthly payments from $2,500 to $7,800. That is an extremely unfortunate circumstance, but at this point it appears that there is no way to retain the property, and attempting to do so would simply mean that the debtor and her parents would be "throwing good money after bad." The best alternative may be for the debtor to obtain her chapter 7 discharge and the "fresh start" that is one of the main purposes of the bankruptcy system.

This Court recognizes that the debtor has attempted to save the property by moving out and renting it, as well as by obtaining contributions from her parents. Unfortunately, even if the debt is bifurcated as the debtor seeks to do, the property does not appear to be able to generate positive cash flow after payments on the mortgage. See tentative ruling for calendar no. 4 (denying motion to continue automatic stay). In addition, the property appears to have substantial deferred maintenance and other problems. Despite the efforts of the debtor and her counsel, it does not appear possible to satisfy the requirements of the Bankruptcy Code to keep the property.

(b) Denial of motion to continue automatic stay. As noted above, this Court's tentative ruling is to deny the debtor's motion to continue the automatic stay (see tentative ruling for calendar no. 4).

(c) Budget motion (dkt. 17, 41, 46, 50, 56). This Court granted the debtor's budget on an interim basis (dkt. 46) and orally on a final basis at the hearing on 6/12/18, but no proposed final order was lodged. In addition, since that time the debtor has filed amended bankruptcy Schedules I&J (dkt. 56) which appear to amend the proposed budget. In addition, as set forth in the tentative ruling denying the debtor's motion to continue the automatic stay, it appears that even the latest proposed budget would need to be different, to account for greater adequate protection payments in view of increased interest rates and in view of the urgent need to stop the mold and water intrusion issues at the property from becoming worse (see tentative ruling for calendar no. 4). For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is that, notwithstanding this Court's prior oral ruling, the budget motion cannot be approved on a final basis; but that issue appears to be moot because of the tentative ruling to convert this case to chapter 7.

- (2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/1/18.
(a) Bar date: 8/7/18 (timely served, dkt. 34, 40).
(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement: N/A.
(c) Continued status conference: N/A.

Tentative Ruling for 7/10/18:

Continue to 8/14/18 at 1:00 p.m. Appearances are not required on 7/10/18.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Budget motion (dkt. 17, 41, 46, 50, 56). This Court approved the debtor's budget on an interim basis (dkt. 46) and orally on a final basis at the hearing on 6/12/18, but no proposed final order was lodged, and since that time the debtor has filed amended bankruptcy Schedules I&J (dkt. 56). The tentative ruling is to deem the budget motion to be amended by those latest amended Schedules I&J and approve the budget as so amended on a final basis.

Proposed order: The debtors are directed to lodge a proposed order granting the motion via LOU, within 7 days after the hearing date, and a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Report (dkt. 54). This Court has no issues to raise sua sponte at this time.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/1/18.

(a) Bar date: 8/7/18 (timely served, dkt. 34, 40).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 8/29/18 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - the court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

(c) Continued status conference: Continue to the date set forth at the start of this tentative ruling. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues.

(a) Budget motion (dkt. 17, 29, 41). Grant the budget motion on a final basis (i) as deemed amended by the latest bankruptcy Schedules I and J (dkt. 41) and (ii) subject to a requirement that, no later than 6/19/18, the debtor must file a declaration showing how it is reasonable to estimate self employment taxes of only $100 per month (see dkt. 41, Sch.J, line 16) or, alternatively, file a declaration establishing a higher dollar amount and lodge a proposed order amending the approved budget accordingly.

Proposed order: The debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and include a provision that the budget is deemed amended by dkt. 41. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

- (1) Current issues.
- (a) Amended Schedule I (dkt. 26). Bankruptcy Schedule I, paragraph 8a, requires a separate statement for any rental property showing gross receipts, ordinary and necessary expenses, and net income. The debtor has not complied. Why not?
  - (b) Budget motion (dkt. 17, 29). Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Court has reviewed the cash collateral motion (dkt. 28), which appears to set forth the gross receipts, expenses, and net income of the subject property. Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

Continue to 12/4/18 at 1:00 p.m., with a brief status report due by 11/20/18.
Appearances are not required on 11/6/18.

This Court has reviewed the Debtor's monthly operating report (dkt. 86). This Court is not aware of issues that would warrant a status conference at this time.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Revised Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Budget motion (dkt. 49). Without prejudice to any later assertion by any party in interest that the debtor's proposed expenses are not in fact "ordinary course," the tentative ruling is to grant the budget motion based on the debtor's declaration (dkt. 76) in response to the questions raised in this Court's order (dkt. 69).

(b) Employment application for Tenina Law, Inc. (dkt. 50, 52, 53). Proposed counsel for the debtor should be prepared to address whether the declarations (dkt. 77, 79) in response to this Court's order (dkt. 67) can be interpreted broadly enough to address all "connections" that are required to be disclosed under Rule 2014 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

For example, this Court's order (dkt. 67, p.3:6-7) asked "have there been" - i.e., in the present or past - any economic or business or personal transactions between the Funder/Donor and the debtor. In response, the debtor declares (dkt. 67, para. 7), "[m]y Donor does not have any business or economic transaction with me ...." (Emphasis added.)

Another concern is that both proposed counsel and Debtor appear to be under the mistaken impression that Debtor could, if necessary, waive conflicts. That is not possible, because Debtor is acting not just for herself but as a trustee for the benefit of all creditors.

Another concern is that there is no indication that Donor has been fully apprised of this Court's concerns.

The tentative ruling is that, before this Court issues any order approving the application, counsel must file Debtor's supplemental declaration (i) quoting Rule 2014 in full, (ii) confirming that there are no "connections" within the meaning of that Rule, except for Donor's friendship with Debtor, (iii) confirming that Debtor understands that (pursuant to this Court's conclusion of law) any conflicts that might turn out to exist cannot be waived, and (iv) confirming that Debtor has provided to Donor a copy of this Court's order (dkt. 67) and the responsive declarations (dkt. 77, 79, and the declaration described in this paragraph). Subject to the foregoing, and the terms of the stipulation with the United States Trustee (dkt. 58), the tentative ruling is to approve the application.

(c) Proposed orders. Whatever this Court's rulings on the foregoing issues, Debtor is directed to lodge proposed orders via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of these tentative rulings, thereby incorporating them as this Court's final rulings, except as modified on the record. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/29/18 and converted from chapter 13 on 8/8/18.

(a) Bar date: 11/9/18 (dkt. 55), timely served (dkt. 59).

Docket 32

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

Please see the tentative ruling for the status conference (calendar no. 19, 11/6/18 at 1:00 p.m.)

Revised Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

Grant the motion, as revised (dkt. 32, revising dkt. 27) on an interim basis, subject to the conditions set forth below, with a final hearing on 11/6/18 at 1:00 p.m., and a deadline of 10/12/18 for the movant to file and serve a notice of the final hearing. Appearances required.

I. Special conditions

(1) Local Form F 4001-2.STMT.FINANCE. The posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) require the use of this form. In any event, the motion does not follow the format required by Rule 4001(b)(1)(B), (c)(1)(B) & (d)(1)(B) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) whereas the Local Form does. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/12/18 to file and serve this form.

(2) Challenges to perfection, validity, extent of Bank's liens. The tentative ruling is, at least on an interim basis, to authorize the use of Bank's cash collateral subject to parties other than the debtor having a period of 90 days from the latter of (a) the date of service of the motion or (b) the appointment of any committee or trustee to assess the validity, priority, and extent of the Bank's liens. Compare Stipulation (dkt. 32, Ex.2, section 8(b)) (later of 10/31/18 or 45 days following appointment of trustee or committee).

(3) Service of the motion. The proof of service (dkt. 32, last two pages) reflects service on the persons listed in Rule 4001(b)(1)(C) & (d)(1)(C), but the parties should be prepared to address the source of the addresses for the purported secured creditors.

(4) 506(c). The tentative ruling is that the waiver of rights under 11 U.S.C. 506(c) is inapplicable to emergency situations in which Debtor lacks enough time to seek authorization to use cash collateral outside of the stipulation. For example, if the debtor were to expend funds putting out a fire that would damage Bank's non-cash collateral, that might be compensable under section 506(c) notwithstanding the lack of prior authorization from Bank to expend cash collateral in that manner.

II. Judge Bason's standard conditions for use of cash collateral and/or postpetition financing (by creditors holding prepetition claims)

(1) Written order

(a) Form. Use local form

F2081-1.1.ORDER.CASH.COLLATERAL or the equivalent. Attach a copy of this tentative ruling as an exhibit, thereby adopting it as the written ruling of the court. Do not repeat the terms set forth in the motion or any stipulation. Incorporate those terms by reference, subject to any modification by this court (including the docket number of the document).

(b) Timing. Lodge the proposed order within 7 days after the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Minimum adequate protection

In addition to the postpetition security interests that are automatically provided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 552 (e.g., in traceable proceeds and profits), and subject to any more comprehensive protection that may be included in the motion or related papers, the debtor shall provide at least the following protection to any creditor with a security interest in the subject property (pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 361-364, as applicable):

(a) Insurance. For all collateral of a type that typically is insured (e.g., real property and improvements), the debtor is directed to maintain insurance in a dollar amount at least equal to the debtor's good faith estimate of the value of such creditor's interest in the collateral, and such insurance shall name such creditor as an additional insured. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments for such insurance.

(b) Taxes. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments on account of postpetition real estate taxes (to the extent that real estate is part of the collateral).

(c) Disclosures/access. The debtor is directed to provide, upon such creditor's reasonable request, periodic accountings of the foregoing insurance and tax obligations and payments, as well as postpetition proceeds, products, offspring, or profits from the collateral, including gross revenues and expenses and a calculation of net revenues, including any rents and any fees, charges, accounts, or other payments for the use or occupancy of rooms and other public facilities in lodging properties (as all of the foregoing terms are used in 11 U.S.C. 552). The debtor is directed to provide appropriate documentation of those accountings, and access for purposes of inspection or appraisal.

(3) Limitation on postpetition liens

In the event that the motion or related papers seek authority to grant postpetition liens to the creditor(s) with respect to prepetition debts any such liens shall be limited to the same validity, priority, and amount as prepetition liens. As used herein, the "validity, priority, and amount" or any similar phrase that may be used by the parties or the court is deemed to include the following:

(a) Extent. Such liens shall be limited to the type of collateral in which the creditor held a security interest as of the petition date, unless this order expressly states that the liens granted by this order are intended to attach to different types of collateral from the prepetition collateral. For example, if prepetition liens extended to inventory and accounts receivable but not equipment then postpetition liens are likewise limited (unless otherwise expressly provided below); and postpetition liens shall not extend to the proceeds of any avoidance actions, any recoveries under 11 U.S.C. 506(c), or any "carveout" under 11 U.S.C. 552.

(b) Priority. Such liens shall be limited to the same priority as the security interest held by the creditor as of the petition date.

(c) Dollar amount. Such liens shall be limited to the dollar amount needed to protect the creditor against diminution in the value of the secured claims as of the petition date.

(d) Enforceability. Such liens shall be limited to the extent that the creditor's security interests were duly perfected and valid as of the petition date, and to the extent that they are unavoidable.

(e) Automatic postpetition perfection. Any automatic perfection of such liens shall be subject to any applicable limitations regarding the

(4) Automatic disapproval of insufficiently disclosed provisions

Any provision of the type listed in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or in local form F4001-2 (e.g., cross-collateralization) or any waiver of the "equities of the case" exception in 11 U.S.C. 552(b)(2) shall be deemed automatically disapproved and excepted from any order granting the motion, notwithstanding any other provision of such order, unless either: (a) such provision is specifically and prominently disclosed in the motion papers in a checklist (such as local form F4001-2), or alternatively (b) such provision is specifically identified in any proposed order granting the motion, using terminology of the type used in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or local form F4001-2 (e.g., any "cross-collateralization" that is not specifically identified as such is deemed to be disapproved).

(5) Disputes

In the event of any disputes regarding the rulings in this order, the parties are directed to meet and confer and, if they cannot resolve their disputes consensually, contact the chambers of the presiding judge to arrange a mutually convenient time for either a telephonic or in-person hearing to address such disputes.

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) MORs (dkt. 44, 45)

MOR1 (for August, 2018) shows an ending balance of negative $4,549.03. MOR2 (for September 2018) shows an ending balance of negative $4,074.81. Both MORs also show negative postpetition accounts receivable. What does that mean?

Both MORs were also filed late. They were due middle of the month following the reporting period, and this Court's adopted tentative ruling for 10/9/18 directed that the defective August MOR be cured by 10/15/18 but it and the September MOR were not filed until 10/31/18.

Are the (untimely) MORs inaccurate? How can parties in interest and this Court rely on them for current information? If they're accurate, they appear to show losses, or at least an inability to generate profits that would be needed to reorganization.

In view of all the foregoing, should this case be converted or dismissed?

(b) Insider compensation

Debtor's notices of insider compensation (dkt. 46, 47) were not served until 10/24/18, even though this Court's adopted tentative ruling for 10/9/18 directed service no later than 10/12/18. Why?

Meanwhile, although Debtor's principal Neel Viradia declares under penalty of perjury that no unauthorized insider compensation has been paid (dkt. 45, p.16, answer #2), the breakdown of payroll in the MORs apparently shows otherwise (e.g., dkt. 45, p.5, lines 1-2). The form itself states (e.g., dkt.

(c) Employment (dkt. 32, superseded by amended application, dkt. 42)

The amended application does not specify whether the $10,000 fee already paid by Batuk Viradia (and the filing fee), or the $2,000 he has committed to pay, are loans to Debtor, or gifts, or equity investments, or something else. Nor has he filed a declaration confirming that he understands that proposed counsel's sole loyalty must be to Debtor (not to Mr. Viradia), and that has been informed that there might be conflicts of interest and he may wish to seek separate counsel (e.g., conflicts could exist if Mr. Viradia received any preferential payments or other avoidable transfers, or if Mr. Viradia would prefer that Debtor take a course of action that is not in the best interests of creditors).

More generally, although payment of a retainer by a third party is not outright prohibited, it is fraught with ethical concerns. See In re Kelton Motors, Inc., 109 B.R. 641 (Bankr. D. Vt. 1989); In re Hathaway Ranch Partnership, 116 B.R. 208, 219 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1990); In re Park-Helena Corp., 63 F.3d 877 (9th Cir. 1995).

The tentative ruling is that, if this case is not dismissed or converted, the employment application must be continued to the date of the continued status conference (set forth below) with a deadline of 11/13/18 for Debtor to file Mr. Viradia's declaration, with a copy of this tentative ruling attached as an exhibit, addressing the issues described above.

(d) Cash collateral. If this case is not dismissed or converted, the tentative ruling is to authorize the use of cash collateral on a final basis, on the same terms as the interim authorization (dkt. 37).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 8/2/18.

(a) Bar date: 12/11/18 (order, dkt. 35). Although the order was not timely served (see dkt. 41), the tentative ruling is that the confusion of setting yet another bar date would outweigh the benefit, and that this Court can address any prejudice from shortened notice when and if anyone files a late claim and seeks to have the claim treated as timely.

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

(c) Continued status conference: If this case is not dismissed or converted, the tentative ruling is to continue this status conference to 12/11/18 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

Revised Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Cash collateral. The tentative ruling is to authorize the use of cash collateral as set forth in the tentative ruling for calendar no. 6 (10/9/18 at 1:00 p.m.).

(b) Insider compensation. Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2014-1(a) requires a notice and opportunity to object before any insider compensation is paid. But no such notice has been filed, and Debtor's Monthly Operating Report ("MOR") for the month ending 8/31/18 reflects payments to each of two insiders. Dkt. 34, at PDF p.8. The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor to serve the notice using the local form no later than 10/12/18.

(c) Bar date. On 9/5/18 this Court entered its "Order Setting Bar Date: November 9, 2018; and Directing Service by Debtor." Dkt. 24. The debtor failed to serve that order. Why? The tentative ruling is to issue an amended order setting a bar date as set forth below.

(d) MOR (dkt. 34). The MOR appears to be incomplete. For example, it refers to multiple accounts but appears to provide only a combined report; many of the entries are vague or have no description; and page one includes a reference to "Non DIP personal checking (see attached letter)" but no letter or any other explanation is attached. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/15/18 to file an amended MOR correcting these and any other deficiencies.

(e) Employment (dkt. 25). As highlighted by the objection of the United States Trustee ("UST") (dkt. 28), the parties should be prepared to address (a) the proposed $12,000 flat fee under 11 U.S.C. 328 and (b) the source of the "loan" for $10,000 of that fee (dkt. 25, p.8) and the source of the remaining $2,000 plus the filing fee.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 8/2/18.

Docket 20

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

See tentative ruling for the Status Conference (calendar no. 22, 11/6/18 at 1:00 p.m.).

Tentative Ruling for 10/16/18:

Grant the motion (docket no. 50) on an interim basis, subject to the conditions set forth below, with a final hearing on 11/6/18 at 1:00 p.m., and a deadline of 10/18/18 for the movant to file and serve a notice of the final hearing.

Appearances are not required on 10/14/18.

Judge Bason's standard conditions for use of cash collateral and/or postpetition financing (by creditors holding prepetition claims)

(1) Written order

(a) Form. Use local form

F2081-1.1.ORDER.CASH.COLLATERAL or the equivalent. Attach a copy of this tentative ruling as an exhibit, thereby adopting it as the written ruling of the court. Do not repeat the terms set forth in the motion or any stipulation. Incorporate those terms by reference, subject to any modification by this court (including the docket number of the document).

(b) Timing. Lodge the proposed order within 7 days after the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Minimum adequate protection

In addition to the postpetition security interests that are automatically provided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 552 (e.g., in traceable proceeds and profits), and subject to any more comprehensive protection that may be included in the motion or related papers, the debtor shall provide at least the following protection to any creditor with a security interest in the subject property

(pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 361-364, as applicable):

(a) Insurance. For all collateral of a type that typically is insured (e.g., real property and improvements), the debtor is directed to maintain insurance in a dollar amount at least equal to the debtor's good faith estimate of the value of such creditor's interest in the collateral, and such insurance shall name such creditor as an additional insured. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments for such insurance.

(b) Taxes. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments on account of postpetition real estate taxes (to the extent that real estate is part of the collateral).

(c) Disclosures/access. The debtor is directed to provide, upon such creditor's reasonable request, periodic accountings of the foregoing insurance and tax obligations and payments, as well as postpetition proceeds, products, offspring, or profits from the collateral, including gross revenues and expenses and a calculation of net revenues, including any rents and any fees, charges, accounts, or other payments for the use or occupancy of rooms and other public facilities in lodging properties (as all of the foregoing terms are used in 11 U.S.C. 552). The debtor is directed to provide appropriate documentation of those accountings, and access for purposes of inspection or appraisal.

(3) Limitation on postpetition liens

In the event that the motion or related papers seek authority to grant postpetition liens to the creditor(s) with respect to prepetition debts any such liens shall be limited to the same validity, priority, and amount as prepetition liens. As used herein, the "validity, priority, and amount" or any similar phrase that may be used by the parties or the court is deemed to include the following:

(a) Extent. Such liens shall be limited to the type of collateral in which the creditor held a security interest as of the petition date, unless this order expressly states that the liens granted by this order are intended to attach to different types of collateral from the prepetition collateral. For example, if prepetition liens extended to inventory and accounts receivable but not equipment then postpetition liens are likewise limited (unless otherwise expressly provided below); and postpetition liens shall not extend to the proceeds of any avoidance actions, any recoveries under 11 U.S.C. 506(c), or any "carveout" under 11 U.S.C. 552.

(b) Priority. Such liens shall be limited to the same priority as the security interest held by the creditor as of the petition date.

(c) Dollar amount. Such liens shall be limited to the dollar amount needed to protect the creditor against diminution in the value of the secured claims as of the petition date.

(d) Enforceability. Such liens shall be limited to the extent that the creditor's security interests were duly perfected and valid as of the petition date, and to the extent that they are unavoidable.

(e) Automatic postpetition perfection. Any automatic perfection of such liens shall be subject to any applicable limitations regarding the Court's authority, jurisdiction, or due process.

(4) Automatic disapproval of insufficiently disclosed provisions

Any provision of the type listed in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or in local form F4001-2 (e.g., cross-collateralization) or any waiver of the "equities of the case" exception in 11 U.S.C. 552(b)(2) shall be deemed automatically disapproved and excepted from any order granting the motion, notwithstanding any other provision of such order, unless either: (a) such provision is specifically and prominently disclosed in the motion papers in a checklist (such as local form F4001-2), or alternatively (b) such provision is specifically identified in any proposed order granting the motion, using terminology of the type used in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or local form F4001-2 (e.g., any "cross-collateralization" that is not specifically identified as such is deemed to be disapproved).

(5) Disputes

In the event of any disputes regarding the rulings in this order, the parties are directed to meet and confer and, if they cannot resolve their disputes consensually, contact the chambers of the presiding judge to arrange a mutually convenient time for either a telephonic or in-person hearing to address such disputes.

Chapter 11

#22.00 Status Conference re: Chapter 11 Case

Docket 26

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by Debtors themselves.

(1) Current issues

(a) Status report (dkt. 43, 45)

Debtors have not used the Local Form, which is mandatory in this case (see Judge Bason's posted procedures, available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov). The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/13/18 to file the form and serve it on the United States Trustee.

(b) Motion to Employ Debtors' Counsel (Dkt. 18)

Debtors have not adequately addressed the issues in this Court's interim order (dkt. 39). Although proposed counsel declares (dkt. 47) that he has "learned" (from unspecified hearsay) that Debtors' relatives have funded the $15,000 retainer as a gift, there is no declaration from the two alleged donors confirming this, and confirming all of their "connections" with all parties in interest and their attorneys and accountants (see dkt. 39, section 6.(a)), and their informed consent to potential or actual conflicts (id., sec. 6.(c)), and Debtors' informed consent (id., sec. 6.(d)). The tentative ruling is to continue this matter to the same time as the continued status conference (see below) and set a deadline of 11/13/18 to file appropriate declarations and serve them on the United States Trustee.

(c) MOR1 (Sept., 2018, dkt. 36)

Debtors report that they spent $1,350.43 in cash, with no breakdown and just a vague description about "personal expenses," "charitable contributions," etc. The tentative ruling is that any proposed order authorizing the proposed budget must include a prohibition on Debtors spending more than $50 cash on any one item or $250 cash in the aggregate per month without attaching photocopies of receipts.

Several insurance policies have expired or are about to (see dkt. 36, at PDF p.16). What are Debtors doing about that?

(d) Motion to Use Cash Collateral (dkt 20)

Chapter 11

First, Debtors failed to lodge a proposed order authorizing the use of cash collateral on the terms set forth in the adopted Tentative Ruling for 10/16/18 (see calendar no. 20, 11/6/18 at 1:00 p.m., which includes a copy of that earlier tentative ruling). The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/13/18 to lodge that proposed order, with a copy of that tentative ruling attached.

Second, the original motion appears to have been superseded by an amended motion, which has not been separately filed and served but instead is attached as an exhibit to a supplemental declaration. See dkt. 29, Ex.B. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/13/18 to file and serve that motion, which will be heard at the same date and time as the continued status conference (see below).

Third, the tentative ruling is that no order granting Debtors' motions regarding cash collateral shall be construed as endorsing the statements to which creditor Poser Investments, Inc. objects. See dkt. 23. Debtors are directed to make this clear in their proposed orders.

(b) Motion for Order Approving a Budget (Dkt. 11)

Grant on an interim basis, with a continued hearing at the same time as the continued status conference (see below). The tentative ruling is that Debtors' (late-filed) declaration (dkt. 29 & Ex.A) has adequately addressed this Court's concerns about charitable donations.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 9/12/18.

(a) Bar date: 1/11/19 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: 12/18/18 at 1:00 p.m., brief status report due 12/11/18.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

Tentative Ruling for 7/17/18:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 7/17/18.

(1) Current issues. This Court has no issues to raise sua sponte.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 2/27/17 and converted from chapter 13 on 4/28/17.

(a) Bar date: 8/24/2017 (dkt. 77, timely served dkt. 84).

(b) Plan (dkt. 135)/Disclosure Statement (dkt. 134). See above.

(c) Post-confirmation status conference: 9/4/18 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

(b) Disclosure statement (dkt. 134) and plan (dkt. 135), and motion to modify plan (dkt. 142). The debtor has not filed any ballot summary. If sufficient ballots have been received to vote in favor of confirmation by the requisite majorities then the tentative ruling is to approve the disclosure statement on a final basis, grant the motion to modify the plan, and confirm the plan as modified. All of the foregoing is contingent, however, on the debtor filing a sufficient ballot summary no later than 4/11/18.

unimpaired - is it?

(ii) Impairment - Class 4A. The Plan does not specify whether Class 4A is impaired.

(iii) DIP Financing. Class 2C appears to consist of the debtor's contemplated postpetition DIP borrowing (dkt. 111, 121). First, classes under the Plan are reserved for prepetition debts, whereas repayment of postpetition DIP financing should be reflected in cash flow projections (Ex.C) (this is not just an academic issue: for example, Classes vote; DIP lenders do not).

Second, Endnote 2C (in Ex.H) appears to relate to this "Class" of DIP financing, and it appears to state that the terms of that financing are unknown ("Debtors will have full and accurate loan information as the loan is processed"). The debtors' counsel must address at the hearing whether there is any reason why the Plan cannot be updated to reflect the actual financing terms, which would eliminate the need for any such Endnote.

(iv) Stipulation with US Bank. The Plan should attach a copy of the Stipulation (dkt. 124) with creditor U.S. Bank N.A. (as trustee); Wells Fargo Home Mortgage as servicer (collectively, "US Bank"), as it may be modified (see below re possible amendments to that Stipulation). See dkt. 129 (limited objection of US Bank).

(b) US Bank's concerns (dkt. 129). This Court's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov, under Judge Bason) provide in part: § 362: Automatic Stay. (1) Stipulations. Generally, the judge will not approve a stipulation for relief from stay/adequate protection order ("APO") that purports to be automatically effective ... because there might be equity in the property .... [Emphasis altered.]

Consistent with this limitation, US Bank agreed to an Adequate Protection Order ("APO") which does not provide for any automatic termination of the automatic stay. Instead it provides (in the APO attachment, at paragraph 6.b.) that in the event of a default:

[US Bank] may file and serve a declaration under penalty of perjury specifying the default, together with a proposed order terminating the stay, which the court may grant without further notice or hearing.

More recently, however, US Bank entered into its Stipulation with the debtors (dkt. 124) which not only includes the above-quoted language about what will happen in the event of a pre-confirmation default but goes on to add another clause. It states:

5. ... [US Bank] may file and serve a declaration under penalty of perjury specifying the default, together with a proposed order Terminating the Automatic Stay, which the Court may grant without further notice or hearing, and Creditor (and/or its servicer) may commence any and all action necessary to obtain complete possession of the Subject Property ... without further notice, order, or proceeding of this Court. [Emphasis added.]

US Bank argues (dkt. 129, p.6:3-12) that this language in the Stipulation was "taken from" the APO (para. 6.b.), but this is not quite accurate: the emphasized language has been added. Does that additional language mean anything? US Bank now appears to argue that it means nothing - that "the intent was simply to maintain the status quo like it is under the APO" (dkt. 129, p.6:6).

This Court agrees: the emphasized language appears to be surplusage; but unfortunately it is arguably subject to a different interpretation. Because it is unusual for parties to add meaningless language to their stipulations, the emphasized language arguably could be read to mean that US Bank could "commence" all actions necessary to foreclose without any order of this court.

Because of this (and other) ambiguities in the Stipulation this Court added the following caveat in its order approving the Stipulation:

... notwithstanding anything in the Stipulation to the contrary, the automatic stay will not automatically terminate upon a default or conversion of this case except as to Debtors (i.e., no automatic termination as to the bankruptcy estate, so as to preserve any equity that might then exist in the property for the benefit of other creditors) .... [Dkt. 128, p.2:5-8, emphasis in original]

US Bank now requests "that the Order [approving the Stipulation] be amended to clarify that any pre-confirmation default shall be in accordance with the [Stipulation] at paragraph 5, or in the alternative, pursuant to the existing APO, paragraph 6(b)." Dkt. 129, p.6:10-12. This Court believes the simpler solution - both in this case and in all future cases - would be to delete the surplus language in paragraph 5 of the Stipulation. US Bank's counsel should be prepared to address whether they will agree to delete the surplus language in paragraph 5 of the Stipulation in this case and in all future stipulations in any case before this Court.

Similarly, paragraph 13 of the Stipulation ends by stating that in the event the debtors' case is dismissed or converted then not only shall US Bank retain its lien securing the full dollar amount it is owed (less any payments received) but also "the Automatic Stay shall be terminated without further notice, order or proceeding of the Court." (Emphasis added.) US Bank has now agreed to delete this emphasized language. See dkt. 129, pp.5:26-6:2. Again, US Bank's counsel should be prepared to address whether they will delete this language in all future stipulations in cases before this Court.

Another concern raised by US Bank is that this Court's language in the order approving the Stipulation (quoted above) appears to limit paragraph 6 of the Stipulation, which provides that upon confirmation of debtors' chapter 11 plan "the Automatic Stay shall be deemed terminated as to the Debtors and the estate" and US Bank can pursue its contractual remedies under the loan documents "without further notice, order, or proceeding of this Court." Dkt. 124, p.4:12-18. This Court did not intend to override that provision - the tentative ruling is that upon confirmation of a chapter 11 plan it is entirely appropriate to provide that the automatic stay no longer applies because then the parties have a revised contractual relationship - so US Bank is correct that the order approving the Stipulation is overbroad to the extent that the language added by this Court affects paragraph 6 of the Stipulation.

Based on all of the foregoing, the tentative ruling is that if US Bank will agree to amend its Stipulation in paragraphs 5 and 13 as set forth above (to delete the language about automatic termination of the automatic stay), and leave paragraph 6 unchanged, this Court will approve that Stipulation without the modification that is included in the current order approving the Stipulation. The debtor will need to attach the amended Stipulation to the Plan.

Note: The parties might wish to take the opportunity to review the Stipulation for any other provisions that would benefit from revision. For example, this Court notes that paragraph 13 of the Stipulation starts by providing that "[t]he terms of this Stipulation are contingent upon Debtors' confirming a Chapter 11 Plan." Dkt. 124, p.6:8-8. Read literally this would mean that the Stipulation's terms regarding pre-confirmation defaults (para. 5) are contingent upon confirmation, which makes no sense. Other provisions similarly do not appear to be intended to be contingent on confirmation (but it

Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Continue this status conference to 2/13/18 at 1:00 p.m. Appearances are not required on 1/23/18.

Reasons: (a) the debtors' apparent need to amend the proposed plan in view of the recent withdrawal of their objection to the prior claim of the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") in view of the IRS' amended claim (see dkt. 119);

(b) the debtor's failure to file a brief status report (due 1/16/18 per the adopted tentative ruling for the 11/7/17 hearing, reproduced below); and

Tentative Ruling for 11/7/17:

Continue to 1/23/18 at 1:00 p.m. to address the following issues.
Appearances are not required on 11/7/17.

Reasons: This court is continuing the hearing in light of the response filed by the IRS (dkt. 105) and because (1) if the dollar amount owed to the IRS changes then changes also will be needed to the amended plan (dkt. 107) and amended disclosure statement (dkt. 106) and (2) although the debtor correctly deleted Endnotes 2, 2A, 2B and 2C from Exhibit H, the debtor forgot to delete the references to those (non-existent) endnotes on Exhibits A and E. No later than 1/16/18 the debtor is directed to file an amended plan to cure these issues, if possible, or alternatively a very brief status report (e.g., one or two sentence).

If you wish to dispute the above tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings".

(b) Plan (dkt.92) /Disclosure Statement (dkt. 91). (i) These documents are not signed by the debtors ("/s/" typed signatures are only permitted for limited categories of persons, such as registered CM/ECF users). (ii) The Disclosure Statement contemplates claim objections (dkt. 91, Ex.H, Endnotes 1-2). Why have these issues not been resolved by now? (iii) The Disclosure Statement's Endnotes 2A, 2B, 2C and 5 repeat (and/or misstate) the terms of the Plan. Those endnotes should be deleted. (iv) The Disclosure Statement's Ex.C (income/expenses) is divided into two periods, but the income and expenses appear to be identical in each period. Why should this not be a single period?

(1) Current issues. The debtor's proofs of service continue to be defective. Elizabeth Cruz declares that she has served the "PROOF OF SERVICE" itself, not the underlying orders. See dkt. 20 at PDF p.2 and dkt. 31 at PDF p.2.

At the hearing counsel is directed to explain why the proofs of service are defective, and what steps will be taken to correct this issue so that it no longer occurs. The deadline is 6/19/18 to file further amended proofs of service of both orders (the order setting principal status conference etc. at dkt. 6, and the bar date order at dkt. 23).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 3/6/18.

(a) Bar date: 6/15/18 (Order, dkt. 23). See above.

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 8/24/18 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - the court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

(c) Continued status conference: 8/7/18 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

(i) Income as of petition date or current? The debtor has filed an amended bankruptcy Schedule I (dkt. 30). Is that actually intended to be a declaration of postpetition income, or a correction of the debtor's income as of the petition date?

(ii) Amended budget motion? Should an amended budget motion needs to be filed and served, or is such notice unnecessary and should the budget be deemed amended, in view of what appears to be an increase of approximately $168 in the debtor's monthly income (compare dkt. 13 at PDF p.8, debtor's personal income of $2,800, with dkt. 30, line 7, debtor's personal income of $2,968)?

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt. 12). Grant on a final basis, on the same terms as the interim order (dkt.24).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 3/6/18.

(a) Bar date: 6/15/18 (Order, dkt. 23). Note: Timely served? Per the proof of service (dkt. 26, the "POS") the debtor served the POS itself on creditors. Presumably the debtor means that she served the order on creditors (not the POS), but the debtor is directed to file an amended POS saying so, no later than 5/3/18.

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 8/24/18 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - the court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

Chapter 11

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Failure to serve order. This Court's order setting this status conference (dkt. 6) directed the debtor to serve a copy of that order on all parties in interest no later than 14 days prior to this status conference. No proof of service appears on the docket. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 4/11/18 for the debtor to effect such service, with a caution to counsel that in future such failure may result in sanctions.

(b) Budget motion (dkt. 13). Grant on an interim basis, with a final hearing on the same date at the continued status conference set forth below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 3/6/18.

(a) Bar date: 6/15/18 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 8/24/18 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - the court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

This Court has reviewed the latest papers filed by Debtor (dkt. 225) and Regency (dkt. 229). The tentative ruling is (1) to direct that the payments Regency previously applied to attorney fees and costs be re-characterized as Plan payments, but also (2) to require Debtors to pay such attorney fees ($750.00) and costs ($1,167.00) no later than 1/31/19. (1) Current issues

This Court has reviewed the status reports filed by Debtor (dkt. 700) and the Agent (dkt. 701).

(a) Expand Kaplan Employment (dkt. 461, 480, 497, 505, 534, 575, 576). There is no tentative ruling, but Agent Dean Rallis should be prepared to apprise the Court of his current position on this motion.

(b) Further extension of exclusivity period (dkt. 685, 694, 695). Grant extension of the exclusivity periods to 3/15/19 to file a plan and 5/15/19 for a plan to be accepted under 11 U.S.C. 1121(c)&(d).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 3/6/18.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Dissolution of "Oh Happy Day" (dkt. 544, 579, 583, 602). Grant, provided that all assets (tangible or intangible) in which Oh Happy Day, LLC currently has an interest must continue, after dissolution of that entity, to be administered by the Agent (to the full extent of any interest the debtor has in such assets). See Term Sheet (dkt. 547), section 6 (defining Agent Assets).

Proposed order: The debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(b) Employment of Ballard, Rosenberg firm/Schwettmann as Special Counsel (dkt. 490, 532, 533, 546, 582). Continue to the same date and time as the continued status conference (set forth below), for the reasons set forth in the responses (dkt. 546, 582). In addition, no later than 10/2/18 the debtor is directed to file a supplement clarifying whether the proposed employment is of Mr. Schwettmann individually or his firm.

(c) Expand Kaplan Employment (dkt. 461, 480, 497, 505, 534, 575, 576). Continue to the same date and time as the continued status conference (set forth below), for the reasons set forth in the latest documents (dkt. 575, 576).

are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 9/4/18:

This court anticipates issuing or posting a tentative ruling at a later time.

Tentative Ruling for 8/3/18:

Appearances required. The tentative rulings are set forth below. In addition, the tentative ruling is to set a continued status conference on 8/16/18 at 10:00 a.m., or such alternative time as may be ordered at the hearing.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Motion to Confirm Dean Rallis as Agent (dkt. 536). Grant (approve the appointment of Dean Rallis, Esq. as Agent) under the Term Sheet, as amended (see below), and subject to the provisions of this Court's order approving the settlement (dkt. 528, paragraphs 3, 4, and 6-8). The tentative ruling to grant this motion is based on the representation in the motion (dkt. 536, p.9:5-9) that the parties who objected/reserved their rights to object have now consented to the appointment of Mr. Ralis. (This Court disregards the invective, id. n.3 & accompanying text.) If that is incorrect then this tentative ruling is subject to any opposition at the hearing (see OST, dkt. 538). This tentative ruling is also based on this Court's review of the other relevant documents. See dkt. 495 (selection of proposed agent), 528 (order approving settlement), 531 (objection), 535 (Committee support), 536 (motion), Application for Order Shortening Time (dkt. 537, 540) and evidence of service (dkt. 541).

Proposed order: Counsel for the debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(b) 9019 Motion (see Term Sheet, dkt. 445, 528). This Court's Order (dkt. 528) approving Settlement directed the parties to prepare, sign and file a final version of the "Term Sheet" reflecting certain modifications. This Court notes that the debtor appears to have circulated a revised Term Sheet (dkt. 536, Ex.A) that incorporates the changes discussed on the record, although that revised Term Sheet is not "redlined" and this Court has not engaged in any line-by-line review of its terms. In any event, the parties are directed to provide a status report on when a declaration will be filed with this Court memorializing the fully executed final Term Sheet.

(c) Motion to Extend Time to Assume or Reject Lease (dkt. 457). The tentative ruling is to continue this motion to the date and time of the continued status conference, for the authorized Agent to consider and take a position on the merits of this motion.

Analysis: Although the debtor argues (e.g., in dkt. 534) that she is prejudiced by any lack of immediate decision on pending matters, the tentative ruling is that the debtor has not established undue prejudice because of (i) the debtor's own delay in selecting a nominee to be the Agent, (ii) the debtor's ability to engage in numerous other activities to attempt to turn around her finances without having to wait for those particular pending matters to be resolved, and (iii) the fact that, as this Court interprets the deadlines in the Term Sheet, "Approval" of the settlement did not occur until "entry" of an order approving the settlement (see dkt. 474, Ex.C, section 1, 1st paragraph, penultimate sentence), and the oral ruling was not entered on the docket, only the written order (dkt. 528) was entered, so the time of Approval (which commences the time for the debtor to perform various tasks under the Term Sheet) did not commence until entry of that written order on 7/25/18.

(d) Motion to Assume and Assign 1629 Griffith Lease (Presbytery) (dkt. 351). Continue to the date and time of the continued status conference, for the authorized Agent to consider the merits of this motion, for the same reasons as stated in section (1)(c) of this tentative ruling, above.

(e) Motion to Expand Scope of Kaplan Employment (dkt. 461, 480, 497, 505, 534). Continue to the date and time of the continued status conference, for the authorized Agent to consider the merits of this motion, for the same reasons as stated in section (1)(c) of this tentative ruling, above.

(f) Scheduling Conference re: Evidentiary Hearing on Motion to Assume 1356 Palmetto Lease (Bridge Tavern/Villain's) (dkt. 187). At the 7/18/18 hearing, this Court was informed that the proposed assignee/buyer had withdrawn. This Court subsequently issued an Order (dkt. 501) deeming the portion of the motion that sought to assign the lease moot and withdrawn, and continuing the portion of the motion that seeks to assume the lease to this hearing solely for scheduling further proceedings on this motion. The parties should be prepared to address a schedule for this motion and/or whether to continue the scheduling matters so that the Agent can determine whether or not to pursue this motion and related matters.

Tentative Ruling for 7/16/18:

Appearances required. The tentative rulings are set forth below. In addition, the tentative ruling is to set a continued status conference on 7/27/18 at 9:00 a.m., or such alternative time as may be ordered at the hearing.

(1) Current issues.

(a) 9019 Motion (see Term Sheet, dkt. 445). This Court will address the objections filed by Mr. Casanova (dkt. 465, 466) and The Presbytery of the Pacific (the "Presbytery") (dkt. 467) and the replies filed by the debtor (dkt. 472) and by the Archbishop/Institute and the Bird Nest (dkt. 474). Among other things, this Court will address whether the Term Sheet can be approved without the further documentation that is contemplated by the settling parties. In that regard, the parties should address the proposed amendment to paragraph 6 of the Term Sheet. See dkt. 474, Ex.C.

This Court expresses no present opinion on those issues. This Court is intentionally withholding any further tentative ruling on those matters so as not to disrupt potential settlement discussions among those parties, but if the parties have not agreed to the proposed amendment to paragraph 6 (or some other resolution) then this Court intends to provide a tentative ruling at the commencement of the hearing.

Chapter 11

The parties are encouraged to meet and confer about the foregoing issues. If, at the end of the hearing, there are issues that remain to be addressed, then the parties should be prepared to address whether this Court should set a continued hearing on the date and time specified at the start of this tentative ruling or some other date.

(b) Stay relief motion (appellate litigation with Bird Nest and Archbishop/Institute) (dkt. 68). Continue to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, if this motion is not mooted by the disposition of the settlement motion.

(c) Exclusivity motion (dkt. 308, 348, 422). Continue to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, and meanwhile extend exclusivity for the same amount of time, on the same terms and conditions as this Court's Prior Order (dkt. 422) - i.e., no incurring of fees or expenses for plan-related work. This Court calculates that the extensions would be as follows: (i) The 120-day period specified in section 1121(c)(2) and (d)(1) (deadline for filing a plan) will be further extended from 8/15/18 (see dkt. 422) to and including 9/19/18, and (ii) the 180-day period specified in section 1121(c)(3) and (d)(1) (deadline for acceptance of plan by impaired classes) will be further extended from 10/15/18 (see dkt. 422) to and including 11/19/18.

(d) Cash Collateral motion (dkt. 5). Continue to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, and meanwhile extend the interim authorized use of cash collateral through and including the conclusion of the continued hearing subject to the same terms and conditions as previously authorized by this Court (see dkt. 29, 79, 239, 244, 347, 413), if this motion is not mooted by the disposition of the settlement motion.

(e) Bridge Tavern, LLC asset sale motion (dkt. 112). Continue to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling.

(f) Villain's Tavern reopening motion (dkt. 214). Grant. Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(g) Trustee appointment motion (dkt. 332). Continue to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, if this motion is not mooted by the disposition of the settlement motion.

(h) Security Deposit refund motion (dkt. 350). Grant. Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(i) Budget motion (dkt. 96). Extend the interim authorization through and including the date of the continued hearing and meanwhile approve the budget subject to the same terms and conditions as previously authorized by the Court (see dkt. 340), if this motion is not mooted by the disposition of the settlement motion.

(j) Claim objection (Bird Nest) (dkt. 292). Continue to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, if this motion is not mooted by the disposition of the settlement motion.

(k) Claim objection (Institute) (dkt. 296). Continue to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, if this motion is not mooted by the disposition of the settlement motion.

(l) Claim objection (Archbishop) (dkt. 294). Continue to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, if this motion is not mooted by the disposition of the settlement motion.

(m) Vehicle refinance motion (dkt. 216). Continue to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, if this motion is not mooted by the disposition of the settlement motion.

(n) Vehicle relief from Stay motion (dkt. 349). The hearing on this motion has been vacated, and this matter is off calendar (see Adequate Protection Order, dkt. 444).

(o) Motion to Assume and Assign 1629 Griffith Lease (dkt. 351). Continue to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 3/6/18.

(a) Bar date: 8/24/18 (dkt. 367, timely served on 6/19/18 per dkt. 383)

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

(c) Continued status conference: Date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 6/22/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Urbanlime/Haro employment (dkt. 93, 253), Bridge Tavern (Villain's) Reopening Motion (dkt. 214, previously granted, dkt. 339, but rescheduled per dkt.369 para. 4.5), Sale Motion (dkt. 112, temporarily denied, dkt. 369, 385) and Lease Assignment Motion (dkt. 187, re-set for hearing, dkt. 388). The parties should be prepared to address the issues set forth in this Court's orders (dkt. 369, 378, 385, 388) setting this hearing.

(b) Motion to extend exclusivity (dkt. 308, 312, 333, 348). The tentative ruling is to preserve the status quo by:

(i) prohibiting the estate from incurring any fees or expenses relative to any contemplated plan between time this tentative ruling is posted and the conclusion of the hearing on the motion to appoint a trustee (dkt. 332, the "Trustee Motion"), currently scheduled for 7/10/18 at 2:00 p.m.;

(ii) if the Trustee Motion is denied, then extending exclusivity through at least 8/14/18 (any further extension will be addressed at the hearing on 7/10/18 at 2:00 p.m.), so that Mr. Tilem will have the time he has stated he would need to draft a plan (approximately 30 days); and

(iii) if the Trustee motion is granted, then terminate exclusivity.

(c) Cash collateral motion (dkt. 5, 14, 15, 29, 74, 151, 152, 163, 164, 167, 168, 171, 172, 176, 185, 244). The tentative ruling is to continue this matter to 7/10/18 at 2:00 p.m., and meanwhile authorize the continued use of cash collateral through the conclusion of that continued hearing.

(d) Relief from stay motion (dkt. 68, 79, 141, 147, 154, 162, 222 section v., 270, 312). The tentative ruling is to continue this matter to 7/10/18 at 2:00 p.m.

(e) Expansion of Insul employment (dkt. 305). Please see calendar no. 2 (6/22/18 at 10:00 a.m.).

(f) Hearings on 7/10/18. Some matters in this case have been self-calendared for 7/10/18 at 1:00 p.m. The tentative ruling is that all matters set for 7/10/18 in this case will be heard at 2:00 p.m.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 3/6/18.

appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 3/20/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor. Other parties in interest are invited but not required to appear.

Telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues.

(a) Cash flow and cash collateral motion (dkt. 5, 14, 15, 29). This Court's written order (dkt. 29) erroneously lists the continued hearing as 3/20/18 instead of 4/17/18 at 2:00 p.m., as orally ordered at the hearing on 3/9/18. Nevertheless, it is appropriate in connection with this Status Conference to address the debtor's current and projected cash flow and related issues.

This Court was not persuaded at the hearing on 3/9/18 that the debtor can generate positive cash flow. The debtor is directed to provide a brief update on any plans to generate positive cash flow from her various businesses and properties. It is also appropriate for other parties in interest to address whether there has been adequate disclosure to date regarding the finances of those businesses and properties. The debtor is cautioned that the declaration due on 3/27/18 must provide comprehensive disclosures regarding those businesses and properties: if the debtor cannot show reasonable prospects for positive cash flow within a reasonable time then this Court might have to grant relief from the automatic stay (upon a proper motion), or convert or dismiss this bankruptcy case, at least if the debtor does not abandon unprofitable businesses or properties.

(b) Employment applications. The parties should be prepared to address the oppositions (dkt. 56, 57) and the direct and indirect source(s) of funds used by the debtor to pay prepetition retainers (see dkt. 48, and cf. dkt. 9, p.6, dkt. 18, p.8, dkt. 20, p.8 - blank spaces instead of disclosure), including when the liens against the 1902 property arose (dkt. 48, Ex.A). In addition, the parties should be prepared to address the following issues:

(i) Proposed bankruptcy counsel - Tilem (dkt. 9, 10): (i) Why were resumes for associates, paralegals, and persons who are "of counsel" to the firm not included? (ii) Has counsel waived or amended the provisions in the retainer agreement regarding the "evergreen" retainer; "overtime" rates, and any attorney's lien? (iii) As for proposed out-sourcing, counsel must address whether employment of such counsel could result in imputed or actual conflicts of interest from any work performed by such attorneys for their own clients or for other law firms.

(ii) Proposed special counsel: the Robins firm and Horvitz firm (dkt. 18, 19, 20, 21). The hourly rates of proposed counsel at the Robins firm and Horvitz firm are substantially greater than those for the debtor's proposed general bankruptcy counsel and the Snyder firm. How will the debtor - acting as a debtor in possession with the duties of a trustee for the benefit of creditors - assure that the potential benefits are not outweighed by the costs that can be reasonably anticipated in connection with the ongoing litigation with Birds Nest, the Archbishop, and the Institute (as those terms are defined in the parties' papers)?

(iii) Proposed special counsel: the Snyder firm (dkt. 36, 37). (i) What is the nature of the litigation in which that firm represents the debtor and co-plaintiff, Bridge Tavern, LLC against Odysseuss Investment Group, LLC? (ii) What are the potential costs/risks and benefits? (iii) Is there any actual or potential conflict of interest between the two plaintiffs (e.g., if any judgment in their favor were to be allocated between them in a way that is unfavorable to one or the other)? (iv) From the description at the status conference on 3/9/18 it seemed that the Snyder firm might be assisting the debtor now or in future in transactional matters - is that so?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 3/6/18.

(a) Bar date: TBD

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: 4/17/18 at 2:00 p.m., status report due 4/3/18. (see order, dkt. 30).

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties must address the underlying papers concerning that motion, including Mr. Britton's opposition (dkt. 314) and the debtor's reply (dkt. 317).

Tentative Ruling for 3/20/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues: estimating Mr. Britton's claim

This matter has been substantially briefed and argued at prior hearings (see para. "(1)" of Revised Tentative Ruling for 1/30/18, reproduced below, and Mr. Britton's Opposition to Estimation Motion, dkt. 315, and debtor's Reply, dkt. 317, 322). This Court anticipates providing an oral tentative ruling at the start of the hearing, followed by a brief time (maximum 10 minutes each) for further argument before this Court makes a final ruling on the estimation motion.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 12/1/15.

(1) Current issues: estimating Mr. Britton's claim

At the hearing on 10/3/18 this court contemplated that after the debtor filed its motion (dkt. 297) for an order estimating the claim of creditor Layne Leslie Britton then this court would set a briefing schedule. The tentative ruling is to set the briefing schedule set forth below.

This court notes that the parties have already briefed, and this court has preliminarily addressed, some of the underlying issues, in connection with the debtor's prior motion for an order approving a draft plan and disclosure statement. Therefore a longer briefing schedule does not appear to be necessary. See dkt. 244 (motion), dkt. 260 (opposition, especially at pp.17:11-21:13 and Winston Decl. Ex.1.B.), dkt. 263 (reply, especially at pp.9:9-12:24), transcript of 8/22/17 hearing (dkt. 272), debtor's status report (dkt. 273), and audio recording of 10/3/17 hearing.

Tentative briefing schedule:

2/13/18 deadline for Mr. Britton's opposition to estimation motion (dkt. 297)

2/20/18 deadline for reply by the debtor

2/27/18 at 2:00 p.m., hearing

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 12/1/15.

(a) Bar date: 2/8/16 (timely served, dkt. 19 & 25).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: to be held concurrent with the hearing on the claim estimation motion; no written Status Report required (but if any status report is filed by any party, it should be filed at the same time as the debtor's reply so that this court

Court continues this status conference as set forth above. The debtor shall file a brief status report two weeks before the continued status conference.

Tentative Ruling for 2/2/16:

Continue to 2/23/16 at 2:00 p.m. unless any opposition/response to employment or recusal are filed prior to 1/30/16. Appearances are not required on 2/2/16.

Reasons: At the hearing on 1/19/16, this court stated that the status conference would be continued without further hearing if no oppositions/responses to employment or recusal were received by the deadline for such things, which is 1/29/16. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling (on 1/29/16) no such documents have yet been filed.

Revised Tentative Ruling for 1/19/16:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

Key documents reviewed: Motion for relief from automatic stay (dkt. 11), the debtor's opposition (dkt. 33), and the movant's reply (dkt. 46); and the debtor's application to employ Browne George Ross LLP as special counsel under 11 U.S.C. 327(e) and supporting papers (dkt. 26-30, 44, 45).

(1) Current issues.

(a) Background. Claimant Britton's motion for relief from the automatic stay (dkt. 11) seeks to modify the automatic stay to liquidate the parties' claims in the underlying State Court action (Britton v. Riggs, LA Superior Ct. No. BC 496298). Just before trial was set to commence, the debtor filed this bankruptcy case, and trial has now been continued to 2/10/16. The debtor has filed an application (dkt. 26) to employ its existing attorneys in the State Court action as special counsel.

In view of the apparent urgency of these matters, this Bankruptcy Court issued an order raising a number of its initial concerns (dkt. 35), held a preliminary hearing on 1/8/16, and directed the debtor to serve a supplemental notice addressing certain issues. In addition, when Judge Bason's law clerk learned of certain attenuated connections between him and the parties in this case, those matters were disclosed on the record (dkt. 39), and the debtor was directed to serve those disclosures on all parties in interest.

The debtor complied with these notice requirements (see dkt. 44, 43, 45) and the period for any response expires on 1/29/16 (fixed date in dkt. 39 as to this court's disclosures; and service on 1/11/16 + 14 days' notice + 3 days for service via U.S. mail = 1/29/16 as to the employment application). As of the time when this tentative ruling has been prepared (1/18/16) no response on either matter appears on the docket.

(b) Relief from the automatic stay. The tentative ruling is to modify the automatic stay as follows, effective immediately upon (i) entry of an order of this court granting the employment application (so that the debtor can defend and prosecute its claims in the State Court action) and (ii) resolution of any request to be heard regarding recusal. Specifically, the automatic stay would be modified to permit litigation of the State court action insofar as liquidating claims by Mr. Britton against the debtor and its principal, Mr. Riggs, as well as liquidating any counterclaims, including all subsidiary disputes such as whether the statute of limitations should be tolled and any alter ego issues, but not to permit enforcement of any judgment against any property in which the debtor asserts an interest absent further order of this Bankruptcy Court.

Judge Bason is not persuaded by the debtor's argument that the statute of limitations issue should be addressed by this Bankruptcy Court before any State Court litigation is permitted to continue. The principles underlying the Rooker Feldman doctrine (that this Bankruptcy Court may not act as essentially an appellate court for State Court determinations), as well as comity, a respect for the State Court's determination of these issues, conservation of judicial resources, the avoidance of forum shopping, and not permitting a party to obtain "two bites at the apple" all weigh against deciding the statute of limitations issues here. The State Court issued a detailed tentative ruling (dkt. 46-1, Ex.A, pp.23-26) regarding the statute of limitations issues, including its conclusion that those issues could not be determined as a matter of law because a reasonable trier of fact "may well determine that the delay in filing the action was due to the Defendants' fraud or other misconduct such that Defendants should be estopped from asserting the statute of limitations," and the State Court apparently adopted that tentative ruling when it denied the defendants' motion for summary judgment and declined to address the statute of limitations issues before trial. Judge Bason is not persuaded that this Bankruptcy Court can or should revisit that determination.

As to any claims that are truly alter ego claims (as distinguished from fraudulent transfer claims or other avoidance actions that belong to this bankruptcy estate), the tentative ruling is that under the Ahcom decision (623 F.3d 1248 (9th Cir. 2010)), any such claims do not belong to the bankruptcy estate and, therefore, the automatic stay would not prevent claimant Mr. Britton from seeking to establish and pursue any alter ego claims against Mr. Riggs. Alternatively, the tentative ruling is to modify the automatic stay (if it applied) to permit such true alter ego claims to be litigated (when and if the State Court determines that they should be) because if those issues turn out to be relevant then they will have to be litigated anyway, and the State Court would be the proper forum in which to litigate them. To the extent that the debtor seeks to stay (enjoin) any such alter ego claims against Mr. Riggs in this bankruptcy case, such an injunction would have to be the subject of a separate adversary proceeding. See, e.g., In re Excel Innovations, Inc., 502 F.3d 1086 (9th Cir. 2007).

(c) Employment of special litigation counsel. The tentative ruling is to conditionally approve employment of special litigation counsel for the reasons stated at the preliminary hearing on 1/8/16 and in the application (dkt. 26) and debtor's supplemental disclosures (dkt. 44). The condition is that no order approving such employment should be lodged until after the period for responses to such application or to this court's disclosures has expired (on 1/29/16), and of course if any such response is filed then this court will consider such responses (at a hearing as set forth below).

The potential for alter ego claims does not appear to create any cognizable conflict, at least at this stage of the litigation. Although it could be argued that there would be a conflict because any recovery that Mr. Britton could obtain from Mr. Riggs would decrease his claim against the debtor, and therefore theoretically benefit the debtor, it seems more likely at this stage that both Mr. Riggs and the debtor have a unified interest in contesting any asserted grounds for alter ego liability (i) so as to assure that Mr. Riggs devotes his energies to the debtor's future success and ability to pay its creditors, and (ii) so as to attempt to assure that there is a level playing field among the debtor's creditors (which, arguably, there would not be if one creditor - Mr. Britton - could pursue alter ego recoveries before other creditors could seek to do the same).

Of course, counsel for the debtor (both general and special counsel) and Mr. Riggs himself will need to monitor the situation continually. If a conflict or potential conflict does develop, they will need to file appropriate disclosures and/or seek a supplemental ruling from this court regarding the terms of any continued employment of special counsel.

(d) Tentative hearing. If any response is filed to either the employment application or this court's disclosures, then a hearing will take place on 2/2/16 at 2:00 p.m. to address those things. If there is any such response, the debtor must notify chambers so that the matter may be added to this court's calendar for that day.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 12/1/15.

(a) Bar date: Bar date: 2/8/16 (timely served, dkt. 19 & 25).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 7/1/16 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - the court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

Note: If the U.S. Trustee wishes to file initial comments on any draft Plan documents before the regular deadline, it should do so at least two weeks prior to the next status conference (but, whether or not any comments are filed, all rights are reserved to object to the Disclosure Statement or Plan when deadline(s) for such objections are established).

This court anticipates posting a tentative ruling at a later time.

Tentative Ruling for 1/5/16:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the principal of the debtor.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Affiliated businesses. The debtor's status report (dkt. 20, p.8:17-9:3) requests that the debtor be excused from providing financial information concerning affiliates in both the status report and monthly operating reports. The tentative ruling is to grant that request.

(b) Service of status report. This court's form status report must be served on, inter alia, all of the debtor's secured creditors and the top 20 largest general unsecured creditors. It appears that there are no secured creditors, but that unsecured creditors were not served (see dkt. 20, p. 10). The tentative ruling is to direct the debtor, no later than 1/6/16, to serve all parties in interest with a copy of the status report and this tentative ruling, and then parties in interest may, if they choose, raise any appropriate issues at future status conferences.

(c) Plan and disclosure statement. The debtor has suggested (dkt. 20, p.4:20-23) a deadline of 4/30/16 to file initial drafts. The debtor should be prepared to address the associated procedures, including the local form plan and whether that deadline is consistent with the pending litigation with creditor Layne Leslie Britton (dkt. 11), currently set for trial in State court for 2/10/16.

Tentative Ruling for 4/17/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current Issues.

(a) B&B Liquidating, LLC (2:18-bk-11744-NB). On 2/16/18 B&B Liquidating LLC ("BBL") filed a chapter 11 petition for relief before this court. In its "first-day" motions, BBL details the troubles B&B Bachrach ("BBB") encountered post-confirmation, which resulted in the need to liquidate. See e.g., BBL Liquidating Motion, dkt. 17.

BBB should be prepared to address the debtor's progress in liquidating the estate.

Tentative Ruling for 2/13/18:

Continue to 4/17/18 at 2:00 p.m. in view of the debtor's post-confirmation status report (dkt. 313). Brief status report due 4/3/18. Appearances are not required on 2/13/18.

Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Continue to 2/13/18 at 2:00 p.m., in view of (a) the debtor's status report (dkt. 313) and (b) the inability of the Office of the United States Trustee to appear on 1/23/18 in view of the shutdown of much of the federal government. Note: Prior to 2/13/18 this court anticipates posting a tentative ruling for a further continuance to 4/17/18 at 2:00 p.m., unless a party in interest files a status report no later than 2/6/18 requesting to be heard on 2/13/18. Appearances are not required on 1/23/18.

Docket 19

Tentative Ruling:

Revised Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

(1) Dismiss this case, and (2) grant the landlords' motion to compel payment of their administrative claims, all subject to the conditions set forth below.

Appearances required.

(1) Motion to dismiss case etc. (dkt. 227); Siena-Opp. (dkt. 241); Great Am./GA-Ltd. Opp. (dkt. 243); Debtor reply (dkt. 245); Committee reply (dkt. 247)

(a) Dismiss, but retain jurisdiction. The tentative ruling is to grant Debtor/Committee's motion, including (i) dismissal of this case, after a relatively short delay (as they request), (ii) issuance of an order compelling payment by Siena of the "carveout" balance of professional fees and other specific administrative expenses (subject to the usual standards to prove the allowable dollar amounts), and (iii) retention of jurisdiction to the maximum extent permitted by law. That retention of jurisdiction includes the landlords' administrative claims against Siena (discussed below), as well as any disputes regarding whether Siena must share any future recoveries - the latter realistically boils down to the controversy over the 25%/75% division of any recoveries on "commercial tort claim[s]," so that is the only aspect of such sharing that will be discussed (although the retention of jurisdiction includes adjudication of any recovery-sharing disputes).

It would be uneconomical and inconvenient for the parties to have to litigate those landlord claims and recovery-sharing claims in a new forum, when this Bankruptcy Court already has great familiarity with those issues. In fact, it is not clear that any other forum would even have jurisdiction over such bankruptcy-specific issues.

It would also be unfair to all parties to make them litigate such issues in a new forum. In construing any ambiguities in the parties' stipulations and this Court's prior orders, it is essential to know the context in which those things happened, including both this case and the earlier bankruptcy case.

Finally, comity is not a concern. The bankruptcy issues predominate, and there is no impingement on the State courts' jurisdiction or authority.

For all of these reasons, retention of jurisdiction is appropriate. See In re Carraher, 971 F.2d 327, 328 (9th Cir. 1992) (approving post-dismissal jurisdiction after considering "economy, convenience, fairness and comity"); In re Knew Weigh, LLC, 576 B.R. 189, 202-04 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (same, considering "(i) judicial economy, requiring consideration of efficiency of judicial resources; (ii) convenience, requiring consideration of the parties' litigation efforts and access to alternative forums; (iii) fairness, requiring consideration of the equity and circumstances of a particular case; and (iv) comity, requiring consideration of whether the state laws involved are complex such that they ought to be construed and applied by state trial courts and reviewed by state appellate courts").

(b) Ripeness of 25%/75% issue. The tentative ruling is to reject the argument of Debtor and the Committee that any interpretation of the 25%/75% recovery-division issue is not ripe or should be deferred. True, Siena might not prevail in such claims, and it would not make sense to expend substantial time and money litigating respective shares of a recovery if those expenses would outweigh the present discounted value of the range of likely recoveries. But the issues have already been briefed, so the expense is minimal.

Nor does the fact that the parties have no actual dollar amounts in dispute, or claims for damages against each other, mean that it would be premature to decide the issues. To the contrary, the tentative ruling is that it is appropriate to address these issues now because Siena needs to know, before it invests in litigation, whether it will receive all recoveries or only 75% of them.

Siena is essentially seeking declaratory relief construing the 25%/75% recovery-sharing provision:

Declaratory relief is an equitable remedy distinctive in that it allows adjudication of rights and obligations on disputes regardless of whether claims for damages or injunction have arisen. In effect, it brings to the present a litigable controversy, which otherwise might only be tried in the future. [ In re Singh, 457 B.R. 790, 798 (Bankr. E.D. CA. 2011) (citation and internal quotation marks omitted) (emphasis added).]

There must be an actual controversy, which is definite and concrete, and the matter must be within subject matter jurisdiction for this federal court. Id. All of those conditions are satisfied.

As an aside, this Court notes that sometimes declaratory relief requires an adversary proceeding, but the tentative ruling is that no adversary proceeding is required for the type of dispute at issue. See Rule 7001(9) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) (adversary proceeding required for declaratory judgment "relating to any of the foregoing" types of relief in that Rule, such as dischargeability litigation). In any event, no party has argued that an adversary proceeding is required.

For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is that it is appropriate to address the 25%/75% dispute now, rather than defer it to some future date.

(c) Interpretation of the 25%/75% language. Siena argues in effect (dkt. 241, p.2:8-27) that the parties' agreement to the 25%/75% split of any "commercial tort claim" only applied to claims held by the debtor - i.e., derivative claims - and not to Siena's direct claims (for both alleged breach of contract and alleged torts) against the Great American appraisal entity. The tentative ruling is to agree.

Based on the operative language, and the context in which the parties were negotiating, it seems highly unlikely that Siena would have intended to share recoveries from any direct claims it might have. See dkt. 141, p.15, para.28; see also dkt. 241, p.3. It is typical for creditors' committees and debtors to argue that security interests do not extend to claims that could be described as "derivative": e.g., avoidance actions that arise under the Bankruptcy Code. As this Court understands the theories behind such arguments, they would not apply to "direct" claims: those arguments are partly based on the limitations on secured claims under 11 U.S.C. 552, and partly based on whether security interests could attach at all to claims that only come into existence once the bankruptcy petition is filed. Those arguments do not apply to Siena's "direct" claims that exist independent of the Bankruptcy Code.

Accordingly, the tentative ruling is that the 25%/75% recovery-sharing provision does not apply to the claims set forth in Siena's existing complaint against the Great American entities.

(d) Notice by Siena. That said, it might be that the present litigation with the Great America entities will expand, or that future claims against them or the Tiger entity will include claims that might come within the 25%/75% recovery-sharing language. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to grant the request of Debtor and the Committee that Siena be ordered to provide notice of any recoveries that might be subject to the 25%/75% language (or - although the possibility seems vanishingly remote - the language requiring a sharing of proceeds if Siena's debt is paid down below $1.5 million).

(2) Starwood/Forbes motion re administrative rent (dkt. 225); Siena Opp. (dkt.239, 240); Starwood/Forbes response (dkt. 246, 248); Committee reply (dkt. 247)

(a) Background. It appeared from the start of this case that Siena's claim most likely would be under water, so it made sense that Siena would be primarily responsible for the expense of liquidating Debtor's assets, including administrative expenses. In particular, under prior orders of this Court, Siena is obligated to pay postpetition rents. See dkt. 220 (relief from stay order, with conditions); dkt. 49 (rejection procedures order); dkt.177 (Starwood notice of rejection as of 6/4/18); dkt.213 (Forbes notice of rejection as of 8/29/18); but cf. dkt. 237 (asserting lockout as of 8/27/18) and dkt. 246 (evid. obj.).

(b) Evidentiary objections. The tentative ruling is to sustain Siena's hearsay objection to the evidence attached to the Starwood/Forbes landlord motion (as to the calculation of rents allegedly owing). The supplemental declaration (dkt. 248) does not fully resolve the hearsay problem, although presumably the parties can establish the undisputed and disputed facts with greater specificity, through formal or informal discovery.

The tentative ruling is also to sustain the Forbes landlord's objection to Siena's evidence of a lockout on 8/27/18. Again, though, it should be possible to figure out and present the disputed and undisputed facts (although, given the dollar amount at stake, this particular subset of disputes might be more efficiently resolved by a quick compromise).

(c) Section 506(c). The tentative ruling is to reject Siena's argument under section 506(c). The terms to which the parties agreed, and this Court ordered, are that:

Siena shall not raise as a defense to [landlords' assertion of administrative rent expenses] that the landlords' remedy is limited to surcharging Siena's collateral, and shall pay any amounts that the Court determines Siena is required to pay the landlords within seven days .... [Dkt. 220, p.3, para.16.3].

Siena attempts to distinguish this language as applying only to its defenses, not to what the landlords have to prove. That is unpersuasive: the tentative ruling is that, both from the language itself and the context in which the parties were negotiating (that all administrative expenses very likely were for Siena's benefit due to its blanket lien), this language can only be interpreted to mean that, as long as a landlord meets the normal standards to establish its administrative expense, there is no additional burden to establish a benefit to Siena under section 506(c).

(d) Percentage rent. The tentative ruling is that, on the one hand, the starting point would be that percentage rent is rebuttably presumed to be included in what Siena would have to pay, because that is a part of every month's rent under the terms of the lease. In addition, any landlord's waiver of the anti-liquidation clause does not constitute a waiver of the percentage rent clause.

On the other hand, the tentative ruling is that the liquidation sale context overcomes that presumption, and leaves the issue of the parties' intent undecided. Put differently, there is a genuine question whether rent of 20% of liquidation sale proceeds is what the parties contemplated.

A hypothetical landlord might expect that, as part of the enforcement of its rights under 11 U.S.C. 365(d), it should receive both minimum/base rent and percentage rent based on a normal month's level of sales. But such a landlord might expect either much less (e.g., if its choice is between minimum/base rent for the month or $0 with no new tenant in sight) or much more (e.g., if the liquidation could be expected to increase sales volume and revenue enormously, perhaps the landlord would expect to be able to demand that in exchange for permitting a liquidation sale, at least if there is a sufficiently robust rental market to give the landlord leverage).

But from the record presented the tentative ruling is that there was no meeting of minds on the percentage rent issue. So the tentative ruling is that the analysis has to fall back to what rent is "reasonable." In re Section 20 Land Group, Ltd., 261 B.R. 711, 717 (Bankr. M.D. Fla. 2000). See also In re Silicon valley Telecom Exchange, LLC, 284 B.R. 700, 706 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2002).

(e) Conclusion as to landlords' motions. The tentative ruling is to set a continued hearing (the same date as the continued status conference set forth below) to determine the dollar amount owed to each landlord. The deadline for each landlord to file and serve a declaration with supplemental evidence would be two weeks prior to that hearing, with any responsive declaration and evidence due one week prior.

The tentative ruling is to require evidence on the following issues: (i) calculations: more detail about the calculation of rents allegedly owing, (ii) vertical and horizontal evidence of market rents: Debtor's historical monthly additional rent (percentage of sales) for each of the subject locations, for every month in 2017 and in 2018 through store closing, as well as an average for each year, and evidence about current rental rates per square foot for any new or renewed leases in the same mall in 2018, to assist this Court in determining reasonable rents, and (iii) lockout date: proof whether lock-out date for the Forbes store actually occurred two days before rejection notice. The parties should be prepared to address whether expedited or regular discovery is necessary or appropriate; whether a different hearing date is preferable; and any other relevant issues.

(3) Memorialization these tentative rulings, and lodging proposed orders incorporating them by reference

This Court intends to prepare and file a Memorialization of Tentative Rulings, with a copy of these tentative rulings for 11/6/18, which the parties can incorporate by reference in any proposed order, to the extent this Court adopts these tentative rulings at the hearing. The Committee is directed to lodge the proposed order on the motion for dismissal etc., and the Starwood/Forbes landlords are directed to lodge the proposed order on their motion to compel payment of rent.

As an alternative, the debtor may seek a consensual or non-consensual brief continuance of Siena's motion to be heard at the same time as the status conference, if that would be more appropriate or convenient for the parties.

(b) B&B Bachrach, LLC Post-Confirmation Status Conference (2:17-bk-15292-NB). The tentative ruling is to continue the post-confirmation status conference to the date and time set forth below to be heard concurrently with the continued status conference in the B&B Liquidating, LLC case.

Tentative Ruling for 5/29/18:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 5/29/18.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtor's status report (dkt. 171), and other related pleadings.

(a) Untimely Status Report and April MOR. This Court's tentative ruling for 5/1/18 (see below) directed the debtor to file a brief status report by 5/15/18, but the debtor did not file a status report until 5/18/18. Further, debtor did not file its April MOR until 5/23/18. The debtor is cautioned that failure to abide by applicable deadlines in future may result in adverse consequences.

Tentative Ruling for 5/1/18:

Continue to 5/29/18 at 2:00 p.m. Appearances are not required on 5/1/18.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Background. At a post-confirmation status conference on 4/17/18 for B&B Bachrach (2:17-bk-15292-NB), debtor's counsel discussed the status of that case as well as the B&B Liquidating case. At counsel's request, this Court set a tentative bar date of 6/29/18, but advised counsel that this Court would hold off on issuing the bar date order (and may push the bar date back) pending resolution of the claims/noticing agent issues raised sua sponte by this Court.

(b) Cash Collateral/DIP Financing (dkt. 21, 22). The tentative ruling is to grant the motion on a final basis, as modified on the record at the hearing on 2/22/18, the interim order (dkt. 36), the amended budget (dkt. 65), and the second amended stipulation (dkt. 141). The debtor is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via this court's "LOU" system within 7 days after the hearing date.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 2/16/18.

(a) Bar date: Tentatively set as 6/29/18. DO NOT serve any notice at this time (this Court will prepare an order after the claims/noticing issues are resolved)

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: 8/31/18

(c) Continued status conference: continue to the date set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, brief status report due 5/15/18.

If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 2/22/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor. Other parties in interest are invited but not required to appear (and pursuant to LBR 9075-1, any response may be presented orally).

Telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues. As of the time when this tentative ruling has been prepared, there is no proof of service of the debtor's motions. The following tentative rulings are subject to (i) adequate proof of service and (ii) any oppositions presented at or prior to the hearing. In addition, rather than stating at length this Court's reasoning, the following tentative rulings adopt, to the extent relevant, the reasoning of this Court regarding similar motions in the Bachrach case (no. 2:17-bk-15292-NB, dkt. 46-47).

(a) Notice/Service. Pursuant to LBR 9075-1(a)(2)(B), this Court has already orally and conditionally granted the debtor's request to shorten time on the motions identified below, subject to the right of any party in interest to object at or before the hearing to the adequacy of notice. With those limitations, the tentative ruling is to find notice adequate and grant the debtor's requests in its motions (e.g., dkt. 5, p.3:3-5) to excuse any requirement for telephonic notice provided that overnight delivery or other permissible expedited service (e.g., personal delivery, or email as permitted by applicable rules) has been delivered no later than 24 hours prior to this hearing to all persons with a pecuniary interest that could be adversely affected by the relief requested in each motion.

(b) Immediate relief. With respect to any immediate relief described below, the tentative ruling is that the debtor has shown sufficient cause for such immediate relief under Rule 6003 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), to the extent applicable, and the other rules and procedures governing relief on an emergency or expedited basis.

(c) Limit Notice Motion (dkt. 3). The tentative ruling is to grant this motion, subject to the following adjustments. First, the Limited Service List must be augmented to include (i) junior lienholder Emerald Capital Funding, LLC ("Emerald") and (ii) the debtor's own bankruptcy counsel (because the motion apparently contemplates that all parties in interest - not just the debtor - will be authorized to use the Limited Service List). Second, this Court contemplates limitations that parallel this Court's modifications to the parallel order in the Bachrach case (no. 2:17-bk-15292-NB, dkt. 53).

(d) Utilities Motion (dkt. 4). The tentative ruling is to grant the motion on an interim basis, with a final hearing at the same time as the continued status conference set forth below.

(e) Tax Motion (dkt. 5). The tentative ruling is to grant the motion on an interim basis, with a final hearing at the same time as the continued status conference set forth below.

(f) Cash Management Motion (dkt. 6). The tentative ruling is to grant the motion on the following conditions on an interim basis, with a final hearing at the same time as the continued status conference set forth below. No later than 2/23/18 the debtor must file a declaration of its CFO or other appropriate person certifying that, first, the debtor has taken measures to assure that prepetition debts are not paid out of its existing accounts (e.g., stopping payment on prepetition checks, except to the extent authorized by this court), and second, the debtor is maintaining sufficiently detailed books and records that, if it becomes necessary to analyze the debtor's finances as of the petition date, such analysis will not be impaired by the non-closing of the debtor's prepetition accounts.

(g) Lease Rejection Motion (dkt. 7). The tentative ruling is to grant the motion on a final basis.

(h) Employee Wages Motion (dkt. 8). The tentative ruling is to grant this motion immediately and on a final basis as to the employees, and to grant it as to the retention of Modern HR, Inc. ("HR") either immediately or at a continued hearing if the debtor can provide an offer of proof or evidence that HR's rates are within normal market rates for comparable services.

(i) Store Closing Sale Motion (dkt. 17). The tentative ruling is to approve the retention of Great American Group LLC and Tiger Capital Group

LLC (collectively, "Liquidation Consultant") subject to the filing, no later than 2/23/18, of a satisfactory statement of Liquidation Consultant's disinterestedness on Local Form F 2014-1.STMT.DISINTEREST.PROF. In addition, the tentative ruling is to authorize the proposed sales of the debtor's inventory and furniture, fixtures and equipment ("FF&E"), free and clear of any liens, claims, encumbrances or other interests of all persons/entities who have been served with the motion, with all such interests to attach to proceeds of such sales, under 11 U.S.C. 363(b) and (f)(1), (2) and (5), for the reasons stated in the motion papers. In addition, the tentative ruling with respect to compliance with nonbankruptcy liquidation laws, restrictions in leases, and abandonment of property is to track the limitations in this Court's interim order on the parallel motion in the Bachrach case (no. 2:17-bk-15292-NB, dkt. 71). In addition, the tentative ruling is to grant all such relief on an interim basis, with a final hearing at the same time as the continued status conference set forth below.

(j) Cash Collateral/DIP Financing (dkt. 21, 22). The parties should be prepared to address the following issues. (i) Is there any evidence that the debtor is "unable" to obtain credit by granting a "senior or equal lien" to the lien of Siena Lending Group, LLC ("Siena"), within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 364(d)(1)(A)? (ii) Why would it be appropriate for this Court to approve a roll-up, cross-collateralization, and other provisions that generally are disapproved (see dkt. 22)? (iii) Why should this Court grant broader relief in this case than it did in approving a similar motion in the Bachrach case (no. 2:17-bk-15292-NB, dkt. 46, Ex.A, pp.5-9, and dkt. 50)? The tentative ruling is to authorize either consensual or non-consensual use of cash collateral and, if the terms can be modified sufficiently to be acceptable, the proposed DIP financing, on an interim basis, with a final hearing at the same time as the continued status conference set forth below.

(k) Notice of continued hearings. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 2/27/18 for the debtor to file and serve a notice of the final hearing on all motions that are only granted on an interim basis, and to set the same deadline for the debtor to file any supplements or amendments to such motions, with deadlines of 3/6/18 for any opposition and 3/13/18 for any reply.

(l) Proposed Orders. This court intends to file these tentative rulings on the docket (with the caption, "Memorialization Of Tentative rulings" or the like). Thereafter, if appropriate, all orders can grant or deny relief "for the reasons stated in the Memorialization Of Tentative Rulings (dkt. __), as

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current Issues

(a) Chapter 11 Plan (Sakurai dkt. .295, Checkmate dkt. 221, the "Plan"); Disclosure Statement (Sakurai dkt. 296, Checkmate dkt. 222, the "D/S"). The parties should be prepared to discuss whether the Plan and D/S fully comply with the Stipulation with the Fresco Parties (D/S, Ex.1, and dkt. 266), including whether the Plan provides for the nondischargeability of the Fresco Parties' claim and the Fresco Parties' right to appoint forensic accountants. In addition, Exhibit C to the disclosure statement does not appear to include the $793,000 account pledged to Citizens Business Bank (the "Bank") or the $400,000 "note owed [by an undisclosed person] in the Sakurai case." D/S, Attachment, p.3:11-14. In addition, periods "A" through "F" on Exhibit C are confusing. In addition, Exhibit F appears to include some printing and other errors.

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/18/18 for Debtors to file a further amended Plan and amended D/S to correct these issues and lodge a proposed order, substantially in the form of the order posted on Judge Bason's portion of the Court's website (www.cacb.uscourts.gov), authorizing the service of a voting package and setting a combined hearing on final approval of the D/S and confirmation of the Plan for the same time as the continued status conference (see below). The tentative ruling is that the voting package should include Mr. Sakurai's declaration (Sakurai dkt. 297) but not include any of the exhibits to it, and instead include a note stating that the exhibits are available upon request.

In addition, the tentative ruling is that the Plan must include provisions to safeguard proceeds from the sales of property, liquidation of the bank account pledged to the Bank, and any other assets of the estate. The Appearances are not required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Fresco Parties' Motions to Convert Cases (dkt. 199 & Checkmate 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 185). The tentative ruling is to tentatively approve the parties' stipulations (Sakurai dkt. 266 and Checkmate dkt. 208) as settlements of the respective motions under Rule 9019 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), and to rule that notice of such settlements need not be provided pursuant to Rule 2002(a)(3). The cause for not requiring notice is that the motions to convert were properly served, a hearing was held, the parties who sought to be heard on that matter had an opportunity to be heard, the stipulation does not appear to result in any relief different in degree from what could have been ordered at that hearing, and to the contrary the resolution appears to be better for all creditors (and all other parties in interest) than the alternative of immediate conversion of each case to chapter 7.

Proposed orders: The Fresco Parties are directed to lodge two separate proposed orders (one for each settlement) via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Tentative Ruling for 8/14/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Fresco Parties' Motion to Convert Cases (dkt. 199 & Checkmate 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 185). The tentative ruling is to grant Fresco's motions to convert the Checkmate and Sakurai cases to chapter 7 for the following reasons.

(i) Gross mismanagement. The tentative finding of fact is that the debtors have grossly mismanaged their estates such that cause exists under 1112(b)(4)(B) to convert their cases. These cases have been pending for nearly a year, since 10/16/17, only very belated and half-hearted investigation or collection activity against Radiology Solutions and Fower - either using legal enforcement or practical steps. For example, at hearings on 11/14/17 and 1/30/18, the debtors maintained their belief that they could recover 100% on the dated receiveables from Radiology Solutions, despite this Court's expressed concerns with the debtors' counsel regarding the apparent lack of collection activity based on Checkmate's failure to use the vast panoply of litigation tools available to them, including examinations under Rule 2004 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), other discovery tools, remedies such as immediately seeking restraining orders and injunctions, and non-litigation approaches such as pressuring Radiology Solutions and Fower by reporting their defaults to Siemens or attempting to use pressure from other suppliers, customers, government regulators, or other persons. All of those avenues should have been explored vigorously, both prepetition and postpetition, and disclosed to parties in interest in these cases.

(ii) Other "cause." The debtors appear to have run through vast amounts of money to "purchase" equipment that does not exist, and yet as set forth above they have a very cavalier attitude toward attempting to engage in discovery or collection, while continuing to insist that they expected very substantial recoveries from those sources and/or from equipment (which turned out not to exist). The tentative finding of fact is that these circumstances show not just gross mismanagement but also that the debtors are hiding facts, or they are attempting to run out the clock on possible causes of action against them or transferees of their assets, or both.

(ii) The debtors' counter-argument about the best interests of creditors is not persuasive. The debtors argue that under their liquidation analysis (Sakurai, dkt. 240, PDF p. 14, Checkmate, dkt. 194, PDF p. 17) creditors will receive faster and better recoveries if the debtors are permitted to engage in a liquidation through chapter 11, rather than converting these cases to chapter 7. There are several problems with this argument.

First, this Court questions the debtors' projected recoveries in chapter 11. The debtors have been wildly inaccurate (or have intentionally hidden the truth) before, as set forth above. This Court has no faith in the Debtors to adequately disclose and maximize the value of their remaining assets, such as the house in Japan or purported interests in that house. Moreover, this Court is concerned about the debtor's management of whatever is recovered, such as what might happen to proceeds from the sale of real property. This Court recognizes that safeguards can be attempted; but safeguards can also be evaded, and the tentative ruling is that the simplest and best safeguard is to appoint a chapter 7 trustee.

Second, this Court questions the debtor's projected lack of substantial recoveries in chapter 7. The tentative ruling is that the Fresco Parties have the better arguments regarding the potential benefits to unsecured creditors in a chapter 7 case (perhaps as much as 80% or more).

Third, supposing for the sake of discussion that the debtors were accurate in their projected recoveries in a liquidating chapter 11 case, and their comparison with projected recoveries in a chapter 7 case, that is not the only consideration. This Court must consider the integrity of the bankruptcy system. Given the debtors' gross mismanagement and this Court's concerns about the debtors' conduct (as described above) it appears that the only adequate safeguard of the integrity of the bankruptcy system is to convert these cases to chapter 7.

(iii) Evidentiary Objections (Sakurai, dkt. 233, 252) & (Checkmate 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 200, 204). The tentative ruling is that the history of this case and this Court's own admonishments to the debtors provides ample support for conversion, so this Court need not resolve the parties' respective evidentiary objections.

(iv) Proposed Orders. The Fresco Parties are directed to lodge proposed orders via this Court's LOU system within 7 days of the hearing.

(b) Application to Employ KW Commercial Inland Empire (dkt. 197) and Neiman Realty (dkt. 206). If this Court adopts the tentative ruling set forth above, the tentative ruling is to continue these hearings to the date and time set forth below to allow time for the chapter 7 trustees to weigh in.

(c) RS/Fower Adversary Proceeding (2:18-ap-01602-NB). The tentative ruling is to continue the status conference to the date and time stated below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

(a) Bar date: 1/17/18 (order timely served. dkt. 58, 59).

(b) Amended Joint Plan/Amended Joint Disclosure Statement*: TBD based on the outcome of the Conversion Motions.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion for Relief from Stay (dkt. 48). In light of the proposed settlement with the Fresco Parties, the tentative ruling is to continue the hearing to be concurrent with the continued status conference (see below).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement. The tentative ruling is to conduct a combined hearing on the adequacy of the (forthcoming) disclosure statement and confirmation of the (forthcoming) plan to be concurrent with the continued status conference (see below).

(c) Fresco Adversary Proceeding (adv. case no. 2:17-ap-01558-NB), including motion to remand (adv. dkt. 8). The tentative ruling is that this matter will be mooted, assuming that this Court approves the parties' proposed settlement, and therefore this matter should go off calendar. The parties are reminded to file appropriate papers to have this matter dismissed once the settlement is fully implemented.

Tentative Ruling for 2/13/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Potential settlement with Fresco Parties. The parties must be prepared to address the status of their settlement negotiations and finalization of the draft settlement documents circulated 2/5/18, and all other issues appropriate to raise at a status conference, including the issues in their recent status reports and related documents (Sakurai case, no. 2:17-bk-22660-NB, dkt. 87, 104, 105, 114, 124, and Checkmate case, no. 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 90, 93, 100, 102, 104, 105, 106, 109, 112, 113, 119, 122).

(b) Cash collateral & budget motions & stipulation (Sakurai dkt. 119, 122; Checkmate dkt. 114, 118, 119). Grant the cash collateral motion in the Sakurai case, subject to the same replacement liens and other terms and conditions as this Court's prior approvals of the use of cash collateral (see Sakurai case dkt. 43, 57); grant the budget motion in the Sakurai case; and approve the cash collateral stipulation in the Checkmate case on a final basis.

(d) Removed action (Adv. no. 2:17-ap-01558-NB), motions for stay and for remand (adv. dkt. 8, 10, 12, 13). The tentative ruling is that the motion for a stay pending determination by the District Court of the debtors' motion to withdraw the reference is moot, because the District Court has dismissed that motion. There is no tentative ruling on the motion to remand.

(a) Dec MOR (dkt. 97):

(i) On page 1 of 34, the MOR reflects $793,000 in cash receipts for the pre-petition Community Bank Sakurai Family Trust savings account, with a notation that Community Bank initially seized, but has since returned, the funds. What is this money from? Is it currently being held? Is it available to pay secured or unsecured creditors?

(ii) On page 7 of 34, there is a line item reflecting a $5,000 payment to Mr. Aronson for legal fees. At the status conference on 1/9/18 this court highlighted that the Sakurais had made a similar payment in November for Mr. Aronson's fees and counsel stated that the payment was made in error, and the debtors and their counsel assured this court that this issue would be addressed. By no later than February 7, 2018, Mr. Aronson is directed to file a declaration addressing the status of the $10,000 in legal fees ($5,000 Nov; $5,000 Dec) that he received from the Sakurais.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 6/12/18:
Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Amended Joint Plan/Amended Joint Disclosure Statement (dkt. 175, 176).

These documents, and the supporting declaration of Yuichiro Sakurai (dkt. 177), appear to be identical to the documents filed in the related bankruptcy case of debtors Yuichiro and Akemi Sakurai (the "Sakurais"). See Sakurai BK dkt. 186, 187, 188. Counsel are directed to alert this Court and the parties at the hearing if they are not.

For the tentative ruling regarding these documents, see the tentative ruling for the status conference in the Sakurais' bankruptcy case (calendar no. 4, 6/12/18 at 2:00 p.m.).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

(a) Bar date: 1/17/18 (order timely served. dkt. 63, 69)

(b) Amended Joint Plan/Amended Joint Disclosure Statement* (dkt. 175, 176): At the status conference this Court will discuss appropriate deadlines.

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Joint Plan/Joint Disclosure Statement (dkt. 165, 166).

These documents, and the supporting declaration of Yuichiro Sakurai (dkt. 167). are substantially identical to the documents filed in the related bankruptcy case of debtors Yuichiro and Akemi Sakurai (the "Sakurais"). See Sakurai BK dkt. 176, 177, 178. For the tentative ruling regarding these documents, see the tentative ruling for the status conference in the Sakurais' bankruptcy case (calendar no. 2, 5/8/18 at 2:00 p.m.).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

(a) Bar date: 1/17/18 (order timely served. dkt. 63, 69)

(b) Joint Plan/Disclosure Statement* (dkt. 166, 167): The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 5/22/18 to file (NOT SERVE - except on the U.S. Trustee) an amended joint plan and amended joint disclosure statement to address the foregoing issues.

(c) Continued status conference: 6/12/18 at 2:00 p.m. No status report required.

Grant the cash collateral motion in the Sakurai case, subject to the same replacement liens and other terms and conditions as this Court's prior approvals of the use of cash collateral (see Sakurai case dkt. 43, 57); grant the budget motion in the Sakurai case; and approve the cash collateral stipulation in the Checkmate case on a final basis.

(d) Removed action (Adv. no. 2:17-ap-01558-NB), motions for stay and for remand (adv. dkt. 8, 10, 12, 13). The tentative ruling is that the motion for a stay pending determination by the District Court of the debtors' motion to withdraw the reference is moot, because the District Court has dismissed that motion. Appearances required by the debtor's principals and debtor's counsel.

Proposed orders: The debtor is directed to serve and lodge proposed orders on each motion listed below via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date.

(1) Current issues

(a) Status Report (dkt. 37): The status report states that the debtor has no executory contracts. What about all the contracts with Radiology Solutions Inc./Corp. (whichever name is correct)?

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt.9): The debtor reports (dkt. 53, p.3) that it has reached a stipulation with Community Bank regarding the use of cash collateral, but as of the preparation of this tentative ruling no such stipulation appears on the docket. If there is no such stipulation, or if it does not moot the bank's opposition (dkt. 50), then the parties should be prepared to address the merits of that opposition. In addition, the parties should be prepared to address the objection of the Fresco parties (dkt. 49) and the debtor's response (dkt. 53).

Chapter 11

Tentative Ruling for 6/12/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current Issues.

(a) Joint Status Report and Notice of Continuances. This Court's 5/8/18 tentative ruling (see below) was not opposed, so it became this Court's actual ruling.

This Court directed (i) Checkmate to file and serve a notice of continuances attaching and incorporating by reference the deadlines in that tentative ruling by 5/7/18, and (ii) the parties to file a brief joint status report by 5/29/18. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, none of the parties have complied. The parties are cautioned that failure to abide by applicable deadlines in future may result in adverse consequences.

(b) Motion for TRO & Claim and Delivery (adv. dkt. 10).

Plaintiff/debtor Checkmate King Co., Ltd. ("Checkmate") has filed a stipulation (adv. dkt. 30) with defendants Radiology Solutions Corp. ("RS") and George Fower ("Fower") for turnover of equipment. But Checkmate has not provided any evidence that it has relief from the automatic stay and consent of the Chapter 7 Trustee in the RS and Fower bankruptcy cases for such turnover (Case Nos. 8:18-bk-10585-TA and 8:18-bk-10583-TA). The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 6/19/18 for Checkmate to file a declaration attaching evidence sufficient to establish those things, and lodge a revised proposed order to approve the stipulation.

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 3/6/18. It is premature to set a discovery cutoff and other deadlines at this time. Continue to 7/17/18 at 2:00 p.m., brief joint status report due 7/3/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Chapter 11

Tentative Ruling for 5/8/18:

The tentative ruling is to continue all pending matters in this adversary proceeding to 6/12/18 at 2:00 p.m. for the reason stated below, with a brief joint status report due 5/29/18, and with a deadline of 5/7/18 for the plaintiff to file and serve a notice of continuances attaching and incorporating by reference the deadlines in this tentative ruling (assuming that this Court is not persuaded to depart from this tentative ruling). Appearances are not required on 5/8/18.

(1) Current Issues. This Court has reviewed the parties' status reports (adv. dkt. 24 & 26) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(a) Motion for TRO & Claim and Delivery (adv. dkt. 10). At the 4/9/18 hearing on this motion, counsel for plaintiff/debtor Checkmate King Co., Ltd. ("Checkmate") apprised this Court of the bankruptcy filings of defendants Radiology Solutions Corp. ("RS") and George Fower ("Fower") (Case Nos. 8:18-bk-10585-TA and 8:18-bk-10583-TA) and requested a continuance of this hearing to allow time to obtain orders granting relief from stay with annulment. In the Joint status report (adv. dkt. 24), Checkmate states that the hearings on the relief from stay motions are scheduled for 5/15/18. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to continue this motion to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling.

(b) Siemens Motion to Dismiss (adv. dkt. 27, the "MTD"). Defendant Siemens Medical Solutions USA, Inc. ("Siemens") has properly self-calendared its MTD for 6/12/18 at 11:00 a.m. Siemens anticipates that it may be voluntarily dismissed by plaintiff (see adv. dkt. 24), but if that does not occur then this Court anticipates that the MTD may take 15 minutes or more to hear. This Court's practice is that matters anticipated to take 15 minutes or more are heard on the 2:00 p.m. calendar (not available for self-calendaring, except by permission of this Court). Therefore the tentative ruling is to re-calendar the MTD from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., which is concurrent with the other matters in this adversary proceeding that are on today's calendar.

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 3/6/18. It is premature to set a discovery cutoff and other deadlines at this time.

Docket 86

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief. Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

Docket 31

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address (a) whether the alleged arrears have been brought current and/or (b) whether they will agree to the terms of an adequate protection order (see the debtor's response, dkt. 33).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. WILMINGTON SAVINGS FUND SOCIETY, FSB
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 62

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is to continue this motion for relief from the automatic stay to 1/15/19 at 10:00 a.m. for the following reasons.

Background

Debtor was authorized to make reduced mortgage payments of $845.68 per month pursuant to this Court's order (dkt. 39) granting Debtor's motion to commence the Loan Modification Management ("LMM") program. That same order provides that Debtor shall continue making monthly payments in that amount until that amount is superseded - e.g., by a "final loan modification amount" (dkt. 39, sec. b.(2)) - and the order also directs Debtor to "file and serve appropriate papers to revise any plan" to reflect the current LMM payments.

Debtor does not dispute that the loan modification was ultimately denied. See dkt. 64, Ex.2. Debtor apparently made the reduced payments of $845.68/mo. from March through July of 2018, and apparently resumed normal payments of $1,529.99/mo. in August of 2018.

Meanwhile, Debtor's plan (dkt. 48, filed 8/7/18) provides in Class 2 that Movant (referred to as Rushmore Loan Services) will be repaid the prepetition arrears of approximately $51,486.00 (Movant's proof of claim 1-1 lists only $0.06 more) via monthly payments of $1,050.74, without interest. That plan was confirmed by this Court's order (dkt. 59, 10/11/18).

Analysis

Debtor apparently paid $845.68 per month from March through July of 2018. Movant asserts that Debtor should have paid $1,529.99 per month during that time.

Chapter 13

Movant's assertion is contrary to this Court's order granting Debtor's motion to commence the LMM program. That order specifically authorizes and directs Debtor to pay the $845.68 amount.

The question is what to do about the shortfall between $845.68 and $1,529.99 now that the loan modification has been denied. The tentative ruling is as follows.

First, the shortfall does not simply disappear. Rather, pursuant to the order granting the LMM motion, now that the loan modification has been denied Debtor is obligated to file and serve a motion to modify the confirmed plan (a "MoMod") under 11 U.S.C. 1329, to reflect that denial.

Second, one form of MoMod would be to repay that shortfall (on top of repaying the prepetition arrears) over the entire remainder of the Plan's term. Another form of MoMod would be to provide for paying the shortfall over a shorter term, such as the typical period for an adequate protection order (usually six months and occasionally up to double that period). There might be other types of MoMod that would be permissible (e.g., providing for a refinancing or "step up" payments).

Third, what type of MoMod is permissible will depend on whether Movant is adequately protected by the proposed terms of repayment of the shortfall. This is akin to the usual analysis under 11 U.S.C. 362(d), except that unlike the usual situation in which a debtor fails to live up to postpetition obligations, in this case Debtor apparently has lived up to such obligations. Therefore, Debtor's promise of future performance is entitled to greater weight.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [RP]

NATIONSTAR MORTGAGE, LLC
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 20

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply. This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(4).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re

Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31), as applicable:

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that the debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that the debtor was involved and the debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that the debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is not sufficient evidence and notice.

Effective date of relief. Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

#26.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [RP]

WELLS FARGO BANK, NA
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 16

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. The parties should be prepared to address whether they will agree to the terms of an adequate protection order, including provisions that will make any future bankruptcy case ineffective to stay any acts against the subject property ("in rem" relief). See Debtor's response (dkt. 20).

Proposed order: If this Court is persuaded to grant such relief, then Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

More specifically, the tentative ruling is that (1) on the present record some form of relief from the automatic stay is required, including in rem relief, because Debtor appears to be involved in a "scheme" to "hinder" or "delay" creditors within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4), due to the filing of this case on 10/2/18, within a relatively short time after the dismissal on 6/5/18 of the bankruptcy case filed by Francisca Sanchez (2:18-bk-15538-WB); but (2) "relief" from the automatic stay does not necessarily mean "termination" of the stay, and could take the form of an adequate protection order ("APO") that (a) requires monthly payments and (b) provides in rem relief as follows:

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

In other words, if Debtor has the financial ability to cure the arrears and otherwise prosecute this bankruptcy case, then Debtor can do so under an adequate protection order; but Debtor must establish that she has the financial ability to do so. In addition, no future bankruptcy case will affect the property (subject to the limitations in 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4)), so Debtor and any other person who asserts an interest in the property or who is a signatory to the loan documents cannot continue to file repeated bankruptcy cases simply to delay any foreclosure.

The grounds for such relief are that this Court has the power to grant relief in the form of modifying or conditioning the automatic stay, not just terminating it (11 U.S.C. 362(d)), and the foregoing relief appears to be appropriate in the present circumstances. See generally In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (even debtor who has excuses for hindering and delaying creditors can be subject to in rem relief); In re Bousheri (Case No. 2:15-bk-11345-NB), dkt. 79 (analogous order, in valuation context, addressing effect of unauthorized transfer of interest in property).

The automatic stay does not apply. Grant the motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(c) (3) and (j): there is no automatic stay because (a) the debtor's prior case (# 2:18-bk-21958-NB) was dismissed (on 10/29/18) within one year before this case was filed (on 10/30/18), (b) that dismissal was not under 11 U.S.C. 707(b), and (c) no finding of good faith was timely sought and obtained. The automatic stay has terminated both as to the debtor in personam and as to property of the debtor. See In re Hernandez & Jiminez, Case No. 2:11-bk-53730-NB, Dkt 40.

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d) (4).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that the debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that the debtor was involved and the debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that the debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is not sufficient evidence and notice.

Effective date of relief. Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

CAPITAL ONE AUTO FINANCE
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 28

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief. Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

Grant in part and deny in part as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

There is no stay. This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases. Deny, without prejudice to any other types of relief granted herein (or previously granted), for the following reasons.

The motion requests requests "in rem" relief (i.e., relief applicable notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases (under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and/or In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31)). The tentative ruling is to deny that request because the Movant has not presented evidence of a scheme to delay, hinder, or defraud creditors that involve unauthorized transfers of property or multiple bankruptcy filings, or comparable cause.

Request to impose 180-day bar. The last paragraph of the motion requests, as an alternative to in rem relief, that this Court issue an order barring Debtor from being a debtor in any bankruptcy case for a period of 180 days under 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1). Any such request should be by separate motion, not part of a motion for relief from the automatic stay. In addition, there is insufficient evidence of a "willful" failure to appear in proper prosecution of this case, within the meaning of the statute.

Effective date of relief. Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

#42.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [UD]

U.S. BANK TRUST
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 7

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

There is no stay

First, the movant obtained a prepetition unlawful detainer judgment, and the debtor has not satisfied the statutory requirements to remain in possession. See 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(22) and (l) and (b).

Second and alternatively, the movant obtained a prepetition eviction judgment and writ of possession and Debtor has not distinguished Perl. See In re Perl, 811 F.3d 1120, 1127-28 (9th Cir. 2016) ("We conclude that under California law, entry of judgment and a writ of possession following unlawful detainer proceedings extinguishes all other legal and equitable possessory interests in the real property at issue.").

In addition and in the alternative, the tentative ruling is to grant relief from the automatic stay as provided below.

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB,

#43.00 Hrg re: Motion in Individual Case for Order
Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic
Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

Grant, subject to the following conditions. Appearances are not required.

After the hearing date this court will prepare an order and the tentative ruling is to include the following language in that order:

The stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a) applies subject to the following modifications and conditions:

(1) Service and reconsideration. Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Limited relief. Modify and condition the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) such that the movant may proceed in the nonbankruptcy forum to final judgment (including any appeals) in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law, subject to the following limitations (Judge Bason's standard limitations).

(a) No enforcement against property of the bankruptcy estate. The stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against property of the debtor's bankruptcy estate - any such property shall be distributed when and how provided by the Bankruptcy Code. Nevertheless, the movant is permitted to enforce its final judgment by (i) collecting upon any available insurance in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law or (ii) proceeding against the debtor as to any property that is not property of this bankruptcy estate. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(2)(B) & 541(b)(7) (collection of domestic support obligations from ERISA qualified retirement plans).

(b) Claim allowance, priority, and discharge issues. Any claims against Debtor or the bankruptcy estate arising from the nonbankruptcy litigation are subject to this Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction regarding claim allowance and priority, and the existence and scope of any bankruptcy discharge.

(c) No relief in other bankruptcy cases. To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Additional analysis:

The Bankruptcy Court "shall grant relief from the stay" upon a showing of "cause." 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1). Such relief need not take the form of a complete termination of the automatic stay, but instead may include "modifying or conditioning such stay." Id.

"Cause" is determined on a case-by-case basis." In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir.1990). In determining whether "cause" exists to grant relief from the automatic stay to allow a movant to pursue litigation in a non-bankruptcy forum, courts in the Ninth Circuit have examined the factors set forth in In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799–800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984). See In re Kronmeyer, 405 B.R. 915 (9th Cir. BAP 2009); In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc., 311 B.R. 551, 559–60 (Bankr. C.D. Cal.2004). Those factors are: (1) Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues; (2) The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case; (3) Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary; (4) Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases; (5) Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation; (6) Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question; (7) Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties; (8) Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c); (9) Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f); (10) The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties; (11) Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial; and (12) The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt." Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 559. "[W]hile the Curtis factors are widely used to determine the existence of 'cause,' not all of the factors are relevant in every case, nor is a court required to give each factor equal weight." In re Landmark Fence Co., Inc., 2011 WL 6826253 at *4 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 9, 2011).

Based on the present record, the tentative ruling is that these factors weigh in favor of granting relief as set forth above. Most significantly, the litigation involves multiple parties not all of whom are before this Court; and this Court continued this matter so that more comprehensive notice could be provided and any parties in interest could file responses, and no such responses were filed.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

Continue to 11/27/18 at 10:00 a.m. for service by Movants of (1) this tentative ruling and (2) the motion papers on all persons listed on the creditor matrix in this case. Appearances are not required on 11/6/18.

Option for shortened time: This Court has selected a continued hearing date that contemplates shortened notice (per Rule 9006) but that date is conditioned on the movant serving all papers via U.S. mail on the day after the current hearing date. Alternatively, the movant may self-calendar a continued hearing on regular notice.

Reasons: Rule 4001(a)(1) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) provides for service on specified persons and "on such other entities as the court may direct." It appears appropriate to direct further notice in this case because Movants seek to avoid the transfer to debtor, and recover for themselves, the property at 623 W. Tichenor St., Compton, CA 90220, which might be very valuable real estate that could be administered for the benefit of other creditors.

This Court recognizes that, according to Movants, Debtor wrongfully obtained title to the property by, allegedly, exerting undue influence on their and Debtor's mother, and they surmise that the father's signature must have been forged. They claim they were thereby deprived them of their share of their inheritance from the parents.

But this Court also notes that their nonbankruptcy complaint (dkt. 32, Ex.1) acknowledges that Debtor took care of their parents when they were ill, and further acknowledges that two mentally ill siblings also live on the property. Id. para. 11, 18. All of that implies that Debtor (or her bankruptcy estate) might have defenses. Movants' complaint also acknowledges (dkt. 32, Ex.1, p.3, para. 15) that there is approximately $150,000 to $250,000 of equity in the property.

This Court also recognizes that, according to Movants, mandatory abstention applies. See 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(2). But that does not necessarily mean that the automatic stay must be terminated in all respects, including taking property out of this bankruptcy estate, at least without conditions or limitations.

Finally, this Court recognizes that creditors' interests are ably protected by the Chapter 13 Trustee, who is in this Court's experience very diligent about considering possible adverse consequences to creditors. But in this particular case there may be facts that the Chapter 13 Trustee does not know, and in any event both secured and unsecured creditors might wish to be heard on the issues.

For all of the foregoing reasons, the tentative ruling is to continue this matter with a direction to Debtor to provide notice as set forth above.

Modification. Modify the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1)&(4) to provide that (a) no future bankruptcy case will have any effect on the subject property (in rem relief, as provided below) but (b) the stay will remain in place in this case for the moment, so that the Chapter 7 Trustee has an opportunity to sell the property, with a continued hearing on 11/6/18 at 10:00 a.m. so that, if the property has not been sold by then, the motion can be considered again.

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also modified, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31), as applicable:

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that the debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that the debtor was involved and the debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that the debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is insufficient evidence and notice.

Continue to 12/11/18 at 11:00 a.m., per the latest status report (dkt. 56).
Appearances are not required on 11/27/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 10/16/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling but the parties should be prepared to address the following issues.

(1) Background

Plaintiff filed a motion (adv. dkt. 14) for summary judgment on his first claim for relief (constructively fraudulent transfer) and the second claim for relief (declaratory relief that the purported trust is ineffective to prevent creditors from reaching the assets) in his complaint (adv. dkt. 1). This Court issued an order (adv. dkt. 31) denying summary judgment on the first claim but granting it on the second, for the reasons stated therein - principally the reasons in the Revised Tentative Ruling for 3/20/18 (reproduced below).

Chapter 7

Defendants appealed. The District Court dismissed the appeal as interlocutory. See adv. dkt. 52, 53. The parties' joint status report states (adv. dkt. 54, p.4, sec.G) that they have executed but not filed a stipulation "that the dismissed appeal can be re-filed as an interlocutory appeal but on the condition that the trial proceed on the remaining fraudulent transfer claim for relief."

(2) Current issues

It is not clear what the parties intend, or what procedural steps this Court should take. Whatever is in the parties' unfiled stipulation presumably will not bind the District Court (or any other court hearing the appeal) in deciding whether to grant leave to appeal this Court's interlocutory ruling, so what do the parties hope to accomplish with their stipulation? Moreover, the parties' stated intention to proceed simultaneously in both this Bankruptcy Court and the District Court usually is not possible because an appeal generally deprives this court of jurisdiction. Cf. Rule 54(b) (Fed. R. Civ. P., incorporated by Rule 7054, Fed. R. Bankr. P.), and compare Rule 8008 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.). To the extent, if any, that this Court has discretion to grant any relief that would make such dual-tracking possible, is that an appropriate use of judicial resources? On a separate issue, if the plaintiff intends to proceed with the first claim for relief, does the plaintiff plan to amend the complaint to cure the deficiencies in that claim (constructively fraudulent transfer) noted in the tentative ruling for 3/20/18?

The tentative ruling is to continue this status conference to 11/6/18 at 11:00 a.m. with a deadline of 10/23/18 for the parties to file and serve whatever papers they deem appropriate to address the foregoing issues and any other relevant issues at this stage of these proceedings.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Revised Tentative Ruling for 3/20/18:
Appearances required.

(1) Motion for summary judgment (adv. dkt. 14-18, the "MSJ"); opposition papers (adv. dkt. 22-25); and reply papers (adv. dkt. 26-27). The tentative ruling is to deny in part and grant in part the MSJ, as set forth below.

(a) Legal standards. The legal standards governing motions for summary judgment are well known, do not appear to be disputed by the parties, and need not be repeated in this tentative ruling.

(b) First claim for relief (fraudulent transfer). Although the complaint (adv. dkt.1) asserts fraudulent transfer claims under both California law and the Bankruptcy Code, the MSJ limits this to 11 U.S.C. 548. The MSJ also asserts only constructive, not actual, fraud. See adv. dkt. 14, pp.2:21-3:1.

The complaint alleges less than reasonably equivalent value (11 U.S.C. 548(a)(1)(B)(i)) - namely, transfers by the debtors/defendants for no value from the debtors and/or their revocable trusts (the assets of which apparently could be reached by creditors) to irrevocable trusts. But to establish the elements of a constructively fraudulent transfer the plaintiff must also establish one of three types of insolvency (commonly referred to as "balance sheet," "inadequate capital," or "cash flow" insolvency) or else a transfer to an insider under an "employment contract." See 11 U.S.C. 548(a)(1)(B)(ii)(I)-(IV). There is no allegation about any employment contract, so the plaintiff must establish some type of insolvency.

The MSJ refers to balance sheet insolvency (11 U.S.C. 101(32A)). But the complaint never alleges that type of insolvency, so the plaintiff cannot be granted partial summary judgment as to that element (11 U.S.C. 548(a)(1)(B)(ii)(I)).

The complaint alleges inadequate capital and inadequate cash flow (in language that roughly parallels 11 U.S.C. 548(a)(1)(B)(ii)(II)&(III)). But the MSJ extrapolates that those types of insolvency could be presumed based on the bankruptcy schedules many months after the transfer, and from the sheer number of lawsuits and eventual judgments against the defendants and other circumstantial evidence. Those things might (or might not) be persuasive at trial, but they are insufficient to establish a lack of genuine issue of fact.

(c) Second claim for relief (declaratory relief related to nature of the trusts). The complaint (adv. dkt. 1, para. 23) seeks a declaratory judgment (i) that the debtors/defendants are "beneficiaries" of the trusts within the meaning of California Probate Code 15304, (ii) that the benefits the debtors/defendants receive from the trusts are "property of the estate" under 11 U.S.C. 541, and (iii) that the trusts qualify as "self-settled trusts" under California law, which the MSJ uses as shorthand for a trust the assets of which are reachable by creditors.

Various provisions of the Bankruptcy Code define what property is part of the bankruptcy estate:

The bankruptcy estate includes "all legal or equitable interests of the debtor in property as of the commencement of the case." 11 U.S.C. § 541(a)(1). It does not include, however, "any power that the debtor may exercise solely for the benefit of another," 11 U.S.C. § 541(b)(1), nor does it include "[p]roperty in which the debtor holds ... only legal title and not an equitable interest." 11 U.S.C. § 541(d). Similarly, the estate does not include property containing "[a] restriction on the transfer of a beneficial interest of the debtor in a trust that is enforceable under applicable nonbankruptcy law." 11 U.S.C. § 541(c)(2). [In re Cutter, 398 B.R. 6, 18-19 (9th Cir. BAP 2008).]

Under California law:

(a) If the settlor is a beneficiary of a trust created by the settlor and the settlor's interest is subject to a provision restraining the voluntary or involuntary transfer of the settlor's interest, the restraint is invalid against transferees or creditors of the settlor. The invalidity of the restraint on transfer does not affect the validity of the trust.

(b) If the settlor is the beneficiary of a trust created by the settlor and the trust instrument provides that the trustee shall pay income or principal or both for the education or support of the beneficiary or gives the trustee discretion to determine the amount of income or principal or both to be paid to or for the benefit of the settlor, a transferee or creditor of the settlor may reach the maximum amount that the trustee could pay to or for the benefit of the settlor under the trust instrument, not exceeding the amount of the settlor's proportionate contribution to the trust. [California Probate Code 15304]

The California Supreme Court has held that to the extent that the settlor of a trust is also a beneficiary, creditors can reach the property held by the trust:

It is against public policy to permit a man to tie up his property in such a way that he can enjoy it but prevent his creditors from reaching it, and where the settlor makes himself a beneficiary of a trust any restraints in the instrument on the involuntary alienation of his interest are invalid and ineffective. Since [the settlor] was the sole beneficiary, all the property in the trust is subject to the claims of his creditors. [Nelson v. Cal. Trust Co., 33 Cal.2d 501, 501-02 (1949) (emphasis added)]

These principles have been more recently reaffirmed in a decision of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals:

[U]nder California law, a settlor of a spendthrift trust cannot also act as beneficiary of that trust (i.e., California law prohibits "self-settled" trusts). See Cal. Prob.Code § 15304(a) (West 1987). California law voids self-settled trusts to prevent individuals from placing their property beyond the reach of their creditors while at the same time still reaping the bounties of such property. See Nelson v. California Trust Co., 33 Cal.2d 501, 202 P.2d 1021, 1021 (Cal. 1949). [In re Moses, 167 F.3d 470, 473 (9th Cir. 1999)]

In addition, the MSJ cites authority that if beneficiaries exercise "excessive" control over a trust then under California law they cannot "shield that trust with an anti-alienation provision lacking true substance." In re Moses, 167 F.3d 470, 473 (9th Cir. 1999) (citation omitted) (emphasis added). See also In re Cutter, 398 B.R. 6, 22 (9th Cir. BAP 2008). MSJ (adv. dkt. 14, p.10:1-14).

The debtors argue that their situation is different from that in Cutter because "the Debtor in Cutter could potentially use all the Trust's principal and income to maintain his standard of living, without limitation" whereas "[t] here is no such provision" in the debtors' trusts. Dkt. 22, p.3:22-26 (italics) added to case name). That distinction of Cutter (and the other authorities cited above) is unpersuasive.

The MSJ points to the following facts in support of its argument that (i) the debtors are also beneficiaries and (ii) the anti-alienation provisions of the trust lack "true substance." The debtor/defendants do not raise any genuine contrary issues of fact.

(i) The debtors deducted mortgage interest and real estate taxes on their 2015 tax returns. See dkt. 18, p.4:5-9 (and evidence cited therein).

(ii) During the "initial period" of the trusts (the earlier of the grantors' deaths or 16 years) the debtors can continue to live in the property rent-free. See Dkt. 18, p.4:10-15 (and evidence cited therein).

(iii) During that same period, any net income or excess cash is distributed to the debtors. See Dkt. 18, p.4:16-21 (and evidence cited therein).

(iv) The debtors can manage the property as "absolute owners." See Dkt. 18, p.4:22-28 (and evidence cited therein).

(v) The debtors can loan money to themselves and/or use the property to secure loans to themselves. See Dkt. 18, p.5:2-7 (and evidence cited therein).

(vi) During their lifetime, the debtors can make discretionary distributions to their children, and upon their deaths the trust assets are to be distributed to their children. See Dkt. 18, p.5:8-12 (and evidence cited therein).

Based on the foregoing, it appears that the debtors are indeed beneficiaries of the trusts to a large extent, and moreover the anti-alienation provisions of the trust lack "true substance" as that term has been used in the cited authorities. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to grant the MSJ on the second claim for relief.

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 9/26/17. The applicable deadlines are reflected in this court's orders (adv. dkt. 7, 20). The parties should be prepared to address whether there are any non-mooted matters left to resolve in this adversary proceeding, if this Court is not persuaded to depart from the foregoing tentative ruling on the MSJ.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you

Chapter 7

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

This court recognizes that, at least at this stage, the attorney who filed the answer (dkt. 4) for both trustees of the trust has also executed the Status Report (dkt. 5) on behalf of one of the defendant trustees (the debtor/defendant) asserting that neither of them can consent to this Bankruptcy Court entering a final judgment because third party beneficiaries of the trust allegedly have a right to have their rights litigated "outside of this venue." Counsel for the answering defendants should be prepared (a) to explain whether this is a Stern objection or something else and (b) whether both answering defendants or only one of them takes this position, and if the former, why he did not execute the status report on behalf of both of them.

Counsel for the plaintiff should be prepared to address whether the plaintiff contends that there are no additional parties who need to be joined, and why.

(2) Mediation. The plaintiff suggests in the Status Report (adv. dkt. 5) that mediation, if any, should not be ordered before dispositive motion(s) are heard, which the plaintiff anticipates will be by 3/1/18. The tentative ruling is to revisit the issue of mediation after that date.

Appearances required. At the hearing on 9/18/18, this Court was persuaded to make this hearing a pretrial conference. This Court has reviewed the parties' joint pretrial stipulation (dkt. 58). The parties should be prepared (1) to confirm that they have reviewed Judge Bason's posted Procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov), under the "Trial practice" section, and (2) to address scheduling the trial day.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 9/18/18:

Specially set a trial and continued status conference for 9/26/18 at 9:00 a.m., in view of the order excepting these proceedings from any automatic stay that might otherwise apply in Mr. Hill's bankruptcy case (see dkt. 56, Ex.A).

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

If one or more parties assert that they are unavailable on that date, then this Court will address whether to select an alternative date. In addition, the parties should be prepared to address whether this Court should approve the pretrial order proposed by the United States Trustee (dkt. 52, 53), what evidence they expect to present, and any other matters appropriate to be addressed at a pretrial/status conference.

Chapter 13

Tentative Ruling for 8/7/18:

Continue to 9/18/18 at 2:00 p.m., and vacate the trial that is scheduled to commence on 8/15/18 at 9:00 a.m., in view of the automatic stay arising from the filing of the bankruptcy petition of Mr. William G. Hill (Case No. 1:18-bk-11914-VK). Appearances are not required on 8/7/18.

Analysis: First, although this Court has located authority that proceedings under 11 U.S.C. 110 are within the police and regulatory power exception to the automatic stay, that conclusion may be subject to dispute, and Mr. Hill (and the Office of the United States Trustee) have not had the opportunity to brief that issue. See In re Hernandez, 66 Collier Bankr.Cas.2d 1022 at n.9 & accompanying text (Bankr. D. Colo. 2011). See also In re Dingley, 852 F.3d 1143 (9th Cir. 2017) (civil contempt proceedings exempted from automatic stay when intended to effectuate court's public policy interest in deterring litigation misconduct).

Second, regardless whether the automatic stay applies, the tentative ruling is that continuing this matter is in keeping with the spirit of the "breathing spell" that bankruptcy is supposed to afford. This Court recognizes that the debtor may be very much in need of whatever funds could be owed to him by Mr. Hill, but any delay from the automatic stay is unlikely to last long.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 6/7/18:

Appearances required. The parties have raised a number of disputed issues, including issues of credibility (attorney Leslie Richards, Esq. blaming former attorney William G. Hill and vice versa), that appear to require an evidentiary hearing. The parties are directed to address when this Court should schedule such a hearing.

In addition, the parties should be prepared to address whether 11 U.S.C. 110 can encompass liability against an attorney, as argued by the United States Trustee ("UST"). See dkt. 41, pp.2, 7-9, & nn.2 & 8). The parties should also be prepared to address whether this Court should grant any additional time for the UST to file additional or amended papers with respect to Ms. Richards.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." #8.00 Hrg re: Motion for issuance of order directing Amos Q. Wellington, Kousha Berokim and Berokim & Duel P.C. to show cause why they should not be held in civil contempt of court

Tentative Ruling:

Grant all of the requested relief, as further set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The tentative ruling is to issue an order, based on the record before this Court (see dkt. 102, 104, 108, 111):

- (1) holding each of (a) Amos Wellington, (b) Kousha Berokim, Esq., and (c) Berokim & Duel P.C. (collectively, "Respondents") in civil contempt;
- (2) awarding Movant $5,215 in fees plus $202.50 in costs for a total of $5,417.50, payable by Respondents jointly and severally; without prejudice to Movant seeking any additional awards of fees and costs as they may be incurred;
- (3) directing Respondents, by mandatory injunction, to take all steps necessary or advisable to dismiss their Lawsuit (as defined in the motion, dkt. 102);
- (4) holding that, under binding precedent of the Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, all acts taken in violation of the automatic stay, including all proceedings in the Lawsuit since the filing of the bankruptcy petition on 11/4/2017 are void ab initio; and
- (5) setting a status conference for 1/15/19 at 11:00 a.m. to address any outstanding issues such as collection procedures, any additional coercive or compensatory measures, etc., subject to any earlier or later self-calendared date that Movant is hereby authorized to set by 14 days' notice served on Respondents via U.S. mail and filed with this Court.

Tentative Ruling for 9/4/18:

Appearances required. The court has reviewed the filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding. The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority. The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 9/10/18 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 6/22/18. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

#12.00 Cont'd Status Conference re: Complaint for (1) Declaratory Relief; and (2) Turnover of Property of the Estate Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 542 fr. 12/19/17, 03/06/18, 3/20/18, 5/1/18, 6/26/18, 07/17/18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/27/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the status of the purported settlement as indicated in the Request for Status Conference (adv. dkt. 68), as well as on the record at the hearing in the bankruptcy case on 10/24/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 7/17/18:

Appearances Required. The parties should be prepared to discuss when this Court should set relevant discovery dates and other deadlines.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 6/26/18:

This court anticipates posting a tentative ruling at a later time.

[NOTE: no tentative ruling was posted; instead this Court issued its memorandum decision denying Wellgen's motion to dismiss (adv. dkt. 50).]

Tentative Ruling for 5/1/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Motion to Dismiss (dkt. 24). At the hearing on 3/20/18, this Court delivered its oral tentative ruling to deny the motion but, due to the Court's heavy calendar that day, could not afford the parties an opportunity to present oral arguments in response. This Court lifted the stay of discovery and continued the matter to this date to allow the parties an opportunity to attempt a consensual resolution, or present arguments for or against the tentative ruling.

(2) Deadlines. If this Court sticks with its tentative ruling not to dismiss the complaint, the parties should be prepared to discuss relevant discovery dates and other deadlines.

This adversary proceeding has been pending since 10/17/17.

Chapter 11

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 3/20/18:
Appearances required.

(1) Motion to Dismiss. At the hearing on 3/6/18, this court continued the matter for the parties to review relevant authority on the "unfinished business doctrine" and consider the implications of that authority on this proceeding. This Court has reviewed the parties' status reports (dkt. 39, 41), which effectively are briefs, and the parties are directed to address (a) whether further briefing or discovery is needed, either as to the Teitelbaum Case or any other matter, (b) whether the range of possible outcomes could include any in which the underlying clients (or any other parties) could be prejudiced (e.g., if any party presently before this Court is denied a recovery in this proceeding, would that party have any ability to seek recovery from the underlying client on a different theory?) and, if so, whether such persons need to be joined in this proceeding, and (c) whether to bifurcate the Teitelbaum Case from other matters and render a decision as to the former after oral argument and/or set deadlines for discovery or other procedures (see, e.g., the list of deadlines set forth in paragraph "(3)" of this Court's tentative ruling for 12/19/17, reproduced below).

(2) Continued hearing/status conference: 5/29/18 at 1:00 p.m. Brief status report due 5/15/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 3/6/18:

Appearances required. This Court has reviewed the parties' status reports (adv. dkt. 28, 29) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority. The issues raised in paragraph "(1)" of this Court's tentative ruling for 12/19/17 (reproduced below) appear to have been addressed (see adv. dkt. 28, 29) or waived/forfeited by parties who have not expressly addressed them.

(2) Mediation. The parties are directed to report on the status of the 2/27/18 mediation. If the mediation was not successful, the parties should be prepared to argue the merits of the motion to dismiss filed by Advocate Capital, Inc. (adv. dkt. 24, the "MTD") and related papers (e.g., adv. dkt. 30, 34). To the extent that the foregoing does not resolve the parties' litigation, this Court anticipates setting deadlines for discovery and possibly other matters (see paragraph "(3)" of this Court's tentative ruling for 12/19/17, reproduced below).

(3) Continued status conference: 5/29/18 at 1:00 p.m. Brief status report due 5/15/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 12/19/17:

compliance at this time (Fed. R. Civ. P. 26, incorporated by Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7026), as requested by certain of the parties. In addition, the tentative ruling is as follows (the parties need not repeat their responses in the status report unless there is some change to those responses).

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below?

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 1/5/18 for the parties to agree on a mediator whose schedule is consistent with the needs of this matter and lodge mediation order(s) (if the parties are unable to agree on a single order they may lodge competing orders and Judge Bason will decide among them or issue his own, although it should be possible for the parties to agree on a mediator).

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 10/17/17. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

#1.00 Status conference re: Chapter 11 case

Docket 5

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves

(1) Current issues.

(a) Lack of Status Report or other progress

Debtor was ordered to file a Status Report by 11/13/18 (see dkt 4). No such report has been filed.

Debtor was ordered to serve a copy of this Court's order setting this status conference and file a proof of service. See dkt. 4. No such proof of service appears on the docket.

The docket does not reflect any activity by Debtor except for an odd declaration (dkt. 11) by Debtor's President stating that "no balance sheet, statement of operations, or cash-flow statement has been prepared" for Debtor. In other words, none of the usual motions (cash collateral, payroll, utilities, etc.) have been filed.

The tentative ruling is to dismiss this case with a 180 day bar for willful failure to appear in proper prosecution of this case. 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1).

(b) United States Trustee's Motion to Dismiss

If this case is not dismissed as provided above, the tentative ruling is to continue this status conference to the same date and time as the pending motion of the United States Trustee to dismiss this case (dkt. 16).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/19/18.

(a) Bar date: TBD

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference (if this case is not dismissed):

12/11/18 at 1:00 p.m., brief status report due 12/4/18.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/27/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the following issues:

(1) Current issues.

(a) Application to employ Raymond H. Aver (dkt. 26) - The parties should be prepared to discuss whether proposed counsel is disinterested given that they are general counsel to Rabenu Enterprises, LLC (see U.S. Trustee's opposition, dkt. 32, and Debtor's reply, dkt. 47).

(b) Source of funds re retainer agreement - In their opposition, the U.S. Trustee raised the question of what the source of the funds for Debtor's retainer agreement is (dkt. 32). Debtor's reply provides that the source of the funds are "Saeedian's and his spouse's earnings and/or contribution from third parties." (dkt. 47, PDF p. 11). Who is this third party? Would the funds be a gift or a loan?

Chapter 11

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtor's filed status report (dkt. 17) and the other filed documents in this case.

(a) Secured claims. Why does the debtor's bankruptcy Schedule D (dkt. 18 at PDF p.11) list $0 in secured claims (not even a disputed claim?) even though the status report (dkt. 17) states that the case was filed to stop foreclosure? How can creditor and this Court rely on the accuracy of the bankruptcy schedules in view of such inconsistency?

(b) Income. The debtor's bankruptcy Schedule I (dkt. 18 at PDF pp.19-20) lists a total of $100/mo. in income taxes, medicare and social security. It lists $0 for net income from operating a business (line 8a) despite listing multiple businesses with alleged income: "YB Design, Inc.," "Management of Rabenu Enterprises, LLC," "Babysitting services," and "Cosmetic Sales." It fails to comply with the instructions in line 8a to "Attach a statement for each ... business showing gross receipts, ordinary and necessary business expenses, and the total monthly net income." The debtor appears to be ignoring the requirements to provide disclosure as to his own income and expenses and, under this Court's order (dkt. 9, para.3), to provide equal disclosure with respect to his spouse and their businesses. How can creditors and this Court rely on the accuracy of the bankruptcy schedules and future compliance with orders of this Court in view of such non-compliance?

(c) Deadline for compliance. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 7/31/18 for the debtor to file amended bankruptcy schedules correcting not only the foregoing deficiencies that this Court has identified but also any other deficiencies that the debtor and his spouse and the debtor's counsel identify after carefully reviewing the documents that the debtor has filed. If in future this Court discovers other non-compliance with the debtor's obligations to provide accurate disclosures and to comply with this Court's orders, this Court may order the dismissal or conversion of this bankruptcy case, or other remedies.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 6/21/18.

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtor's filed status report (dkt. 17) and the other filed documents in this case.

(a) Budget motion (dkt. 15). Grant on an interim basis, with a final hearing concurrent with the continued status conference (see below), and a deadline of 8/21/18 to file declaration(s) regarding the income of the debtor's spouse (see below). Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. (2) Minimum adequate protection

In addition to the postpetition security interests that are automatically provided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 552 (e.g., in traceable proceeds and profits), and subject to any more comprehensive protection that may be included in the motion or related papers, the debtor shall provide at least the following protection to any creditor with a security interest in the subject property (pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 361-364, as applicable):

(a) Insurance. For all collateral of a type that typically is insured (e.g., real property and improvements), the debtor is directed to maintain insurance in a dollar amount at least equal to the debtor's good faith estimate of the value of such creditor's interest in the collateral, and such insurance shall name such creditor as an additional insured. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments for such insurance.

(b) Taxes. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments on account of postpetition real estate taxes (to the extent that real estate is part of the collateral).

(c) Disclosures/access. The debtor is directed to provide, upon such creditor's reasonable request, periodic accountings of the foregoing insurance and tax obligations and payments, as well as postpetition proceeds, products, offspring, or profits from the collateral, including gross revenues and expenses and a calculation of net revenues, including any rents and any fees, charges, accounts, or other payments for the use or occupancy of rooms and other public facilities in lodging properties (as all of the foregoing terms are used in 11 U.S.C. 552). The debtor is directed to provide appropriate documentation of those accountings, and access for purposes of inspection or appraisal.

(3) Limitation on postpetition liens

In the event that the motion or related papers seek authority to grant postpetition liens to the creditor(s) with respect to prepetition debts any such liens shall be limited to the same validity, priority, and amount as prepetition liens. As used herein, the "validity, priority, and amount" or any similar phrase that may be used by the parties or the court is deemed to include the following:

(a) Extent. Such liens shall be limited to the type of collateral in which the creditor held a security interest as of the petition date, unless this order expressly states that the liens granted by this order are intended to attach to different types of collateral from the prepetition collateral. For example, if prepetition liens extended to inventory and accounts receivable but not equipment then postpetition liens are likewise limited (unless otherwise expressly provided below); and postpetition liens shall not extend to the proceeds of any avoidance actions, any recoveries under 11 U.S.C. 506(c), or any "carveout" under 11 U.S.C. 552.

(b) Priority. Such liens shall be limited to the same priority as the security interest held by the creditor as of the petition date.

(c) Dollar amount. Such liens shall be limited to the dollar amount needed to protect the creditor against diminution in the value of the secured claims as of the petition date.

(d) Enforceability. Such liens shall be limited to the extent that the creditor's security interests were duly perfected and valid as of the petition date, and to the extent that they are unavoidable.

(e) Automatic postpetition perfection. Any automatic perfection of such liens shall be subject to any applicable limitations regarding the Court's authority, jurisdiction, or due process.

(4) Automatic disapproval of insufficiently disclosed provisions

Any provision of the type listed in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or in local form F4001-2 (e.g., cross-collateralization) or any waiver of the "equities of the case" exception in 11 U.S.C. 552(b)(2) shall be deemed automatically disapproved and excepted from any order granting the motion, notwithstanding any other provision of such order, unless either: (a) such provision is specifically and prominently disclosed in the motion papers in a checklist (such as local form F4001-2), or alternatively (b) such provision is specifically identified in any proposed order granting the motion, using terminology of the type used in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or local form F4001-2 (e.g., any "cross-collateralization" that is not specifically identified as such is deemed to be disapproved).

(5) Disputes

In the event of any disputes regarding the rulings in this order, the parties are directed to meet and confer and, if they cannot resolve their disputes consensually, contact the chambers of the presiding judge to arrange a mutually convenient time for either a telephonic or in-person hearing to address such disputes.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/27/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Cash collateral motion (dkt. 4). This Court has reviewed the supplemental declarations of Kenneth Chung and Rhonda Chung (dkt. 38). Those declarations provide that in the event Debtor lacks the funds necessary to make the required property tax payments, Rhonda Chung will "personally pay any short fall [o]f the Debtor to pay these taxes or, any portion of those taxes, if any, that has not otherwise been approved by the Court as an authorized Cash Collateral expense." (Rhonda Chung decl, para. 7). Would these funds be a loan or a gift? Is Rhonda Chung financially able to provide such a sum?

(b) Creditor First Choice Bank reporting requests: In its opposition to the cash collatera motion, First Choice Bank requests that Debtor be required to provide additional reporting to insure cash collateral is not misued (dkt. 58). Does Debtor object to any of these recommendations? If so, on what grounds?

(c) Order on cash collateral. Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed final order approving the use of cash collateral, incorporating the terms of the interim order plus any additional requirements as noted above, via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(d) Utility motion. Debtor's status report (dkt. 49) states that this motion will be withdraw, either orally or in writing. Debtor should file a written withdrawal, so that the docket is clear.

(1) Current issues

(a) Cash collateral motion (dkt.4). Subject to any objections at the hearing, the tentative ruling is to authorize the use of cash collateral to a limited extent, on a further interim basis, with a final hearing at the same time as the continued status conference (see below). What specific use of cash is authorized will depend on any supplement filed prior to the hearing and how the debtor and other parties in interest address the following issues: (i) payment of employment taxes and other withholdings, (ii) payment of income taxes, (iii) payment of sales taxes on room rentals, as well as on food, beverages, and other taxable items, and (iv) adequacy of cash flow, both actual and projected.

Chapter 11

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 10/17/18:
Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Payroll motion (dkt. 5). As noted in this Court's order setting this hearing (dkt. 10), this Court is concerned about whether this is a self-created emergency. In addition, the parties should be prepared to address the jobs of each person who is proposed to be paid (dkt. 7, Ex.6), whether any of them are "insiders" (11 U.S.C. 101(31)), and how they will be paid if the checks do not clear and other sources of revenue do not come through. Subject to adequately addressing those issues, and (1) confirming notice per this Court's order shortening time (dkt. 10), (2) addressing this Court's concerns in that order, and (3) any objections at the hearing, the tentative ruling is to grant this motion.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt.4). The tentative ruling is to grant this motion, subject to the caveats set forth in the tentative ruling for calendar no. 2 (10/17/18 at 9:00 a.m.).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/14/18.

(a) Bar date: TBD.

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: 11/27/18 at 1:00 p.m., brief status report due 11/20/18.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status

Chapter 11

#11.00 Hrg re: Motion in Individual Chapter 11 Case for Order Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral

Docket 57

Tentative Ruling:

Grant the motion (docket no. 57) on an interim basis, subject to the conditions set forth below, with a final hearing on 12/11/18 at 1:00 p.m., and a deadline of 11/29/18 for the movant to file and serve a notice of the final hearing. Appearances are not required on 11/27/18.

Judge Bason's standard conditions for use of cash collateral and/or postpetition financing (by creditors holding prepetition claims)

(1) Written order

(a) Form. Use local form

F2081-1.1.ORDER.CASH.COLLATERAL or the equivalent. Attach a copy of this tentative ruling as an exhibit, thereby adopting it as the written ruling of the court. Do not repeat the terms set forth in the motion or any stipulation. Incorporate those terms by reference, subject to any modification by this court (including the docket number of the document).

(b) Timing. Lodge the proposed order within 7 days after the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Minimum adequate protection

In addition to the postpetition security interests that are automatically provided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 552 (e.g., in traceable proceeds and profits), and subject to any more comprehensive protection that may be included in the motion or related papers, the debtor shall provide at least the following protection to any creditor with a security interest in the subject property (pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 361-364, as applicable):

(a) Insurance. For all collateral of a type that typically is insured (e.g., real property and improvements), the debtor is directed to maintain insurance in a dollar amount at least equal to the debtor's good faith estimate of the value of such creditor's interest in the collateral, and such insurance shall name such creditor as an additional insured. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments for such insurance.

(b) Taxes. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments on account of postpetition real estate taxes (to the extent that real estate is part of the collateral).

(c) Disclosures/access. The debtor is directed to provide, upon such creditor's reasonable request, periodic accountings of the foregoing insurance and tax obligations and payments, as well as postpetition proceeds, products, offspring, or profits from the collateral, including gross revenues and expenses and a calculation of net revenues, including any rents and any fees, charges, accounts, or other payments for the use or occupancy of rooms and other public facilities in lodging properties (as all of the foregoing terms are used in 11 U.S.C. 552). The debtor is directed to provide appropriate documentation of those accountings, and access for purposes of inspection or appraisal.

(3) Limitation on postpetition liens

In the event that the motion or related papers seek authority to grant postpetition liens to the creditor(s) with respect to prepetition debts any such liens shall be limited to the same validity, priority, and amount as prepetition liens. As used herein, the "validity, priority, and amount" or any similar phrase that may be used by the parties or the court is deemed to include the following:

(a) Extent. Such liens shall be limited to the type of collateral in which the creditor held a security interest as of the petition date, unless this order expressly states that the liens granted by this order are intended to attach to different types of collateral from the prepetition collateral. For example, if prepetition liens extended to inventory and accounts receivable but not equipment then postpetition liens are likewise limited (unless otherwise expressly provided below); and postpetition liens shall not extend to the proceeds of any avoidance actions, any recoveries under 11 U.S.C. 506(c), or any "carveout" under 11 U.S.C. 552.

(b) Priority. Such liens shall be limited to the same priority as the security interest held by the creditor as of the petition date.

(c) Dollar amount. Such liens shall be limited to the dollar amount needed to protect the creditor against diminution in the value of the secured claims as of the petition date.

(d) Enforceability. Such liens shall be limited to the extent that the creditor's security interests were duly perfected and valid as of the petition date, and to the extent that they are unavoidable.

(e) Automatic postpetition perfection. Any automatic perfection of such liens shall be subject to any applicable limitations regarding the Court's authority, jurisdiction, or due process.

(4) Automatic disapproval of insufficiently disclosed provisions

Any provision of the type listed in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or in local form F4001-2 (e.g., cross-collateralization) or any waiver of the "equities of the case" exception in 11 U.S.C. 552(b)(2) shall be deemed automatically disapproved and excepted from any order granting the motion, notwithstanding any other provision of such order, unless either: (a) such provision is specifically and prominently disclosed in the motion papers in a checklist (such as local form F4001-2), or alternatively (b) such provision is specifically identified in any proposed order granting the motion, using terminology of the type used in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or local form F4001-2 (e.g., any "cross-collateralization" that is not specifically identified as such is deemed to be disapproved).

(5) Disputes

In the event of any disputes regarding the rulings in this order, the parties are directed to meet and confer and, if they cannot resolve their disputes consensually, contact the chambers of the presiding judge to arrange a mutually convenient time for either a telephonic or in-person hearing to address such disputes.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/27/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion to Use Cash Collateral. Grant on an interim basis, as set forth in the tentative ruling in calendar no. 11 (11/27/18 at 1:00 p.m.).

(b) Proposed refinance. At the status conference on 10/16/18, Debtors' counsel anticipated filing a motion for a refinance very shortly thereafter, and the tentative ruling for that date set forth various items that Debtor would need to address. No such motion is on the docket. The refinance motion was supposed to supersede the proposed plan and disclosure statement, and as noted in the tentative ruling for 10/16/18 those documents are incomplete and confused. See also dkt. 65 (objection of Ditech Fin. LLC). Are debtors and their counsel properly prosecuting this case?

The tentative ruling is to continue this Status Conference with a warning to Debtors and their counsel that if they do not prosecute this case then it likely will be dismissed with a bar against being a debtor again, or converted to chapter 7, or this Court may impose other remedies.

(2) Dates/Deadlines. This case was filed on 5/28/18.

(a) Bar date: 9/4/18 (timely served, dkt. 23, 25)

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: N/A

(c) Continued status conference: 1/15/19 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report required.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 10/16/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed debtor's status report (dkt. 50) and other relevant pleadings.

(a) Plan (dkt. 47) and Disclosure Statement (dkt. 48). These documents are incomplete and confused. But the tentative ruling is that there is no need to proceed with these documents if Debtors are going to proceed with a proper motion to refinance and pay all creditors in full (as stated in their status report).

(b) Proposed refinance. The claims register lists total claims for $419,929.77 as of the petition date (of which $366,270.15 are listed as secured and $150.29 as priority). The proposed refinance would generate loan proceeds of $463,000. This appears to be sufficient to pay all claims, probably including postpetition interest, although perhaps not including 100% of asserted administrative expenses. Counsel for the debtor should be prepared to address (i) the form of motion he intends to file, (ii) whether that motion will seek authority to pay unsecured claims, and (iii) whether unsecured claims will be paid out of escrow or by some other means and, if the latter, who will hold the net proceeds after payment of secured claims.

(2) Dates/Deadlines. This case was filed on 5/28/18.

Tentative Ruling for 8/14/18:

Continue to the date and time set forth below. Appearances are not required on 8/14/18.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed debtor's status report (dkt. 38) and other relevant pleadings.

(a) This Court does not have any issues to raise sua sponte.

(2) Dates/Deadlines. This case was filed on 5/28/18.

(a) Bar date: 9/4/18 (timely served, dkt. 23, 25)

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 9/25/18 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - the court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

Note: If the U.S. Trustee wishes to file initial comments on any draft Plan documents before the regular deadline, it should do so at least two weeks prior to the next status conference (but, whether or not any comments are filed, all rights are reserved to object to the Disclosure Statement or Plan when deadline(s) for such objections are established).

Tentative Ruling for 6/26/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor themselves.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtors' status report (dkt. 14), and the other filed documents and records in this case.

(a) May MOR (dkt. 18). The MOR purports to cover the period from 5/28/18 (the petition date) to 5/31/18, but is essentially blank, including the section for disclosure of existing insurance coverage (dkt. 18, pdf p. 5). Debtors should be prepared to address (i) whether they have insurance coverage on their residential real property (and any other asset requiring insurance); and, if they do (ii) whether they read the MOR and understood it prior to signing.

(b) Case Status Report (dkt. 14).

(i) Budget Motion. The status report says that a budget motion is not required by Judge Bason's procedures (dkt. 14, pdf p. 3), but that is not correct. See Judge Bason's Procedures, Section VII.F ("Judge Bason requires the use of local forms F 2081-2.2.MOTION.BUDGET and F 2081-2.2.ORDER.BUDGET"). Did counsel actually review the posted procedures? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 6/28/18 to file and serve a budget motion.

(ii) Consumers' confidential information. The status report states that the debtors do not have possession, custody, or control of consumers' confidential information (dkt. 14, pdf p. 10), but this Court questions whether that is accurate. What about customer lists from Hey Baby Sales, Inc.? Do the debtors claim any rights to those lists? (e.g. if the case were converted to a chapter 7 case, a sale of the debtors' interest in the company took place, and the buyer wanted the customer lists, would the debtors agree they could not retain or use the lists because the lists are owned by the company?).

#4.00 Hrg re: Motion under Local Bankruptcy Rule 3015-1 (n)

Docket 41

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required.

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address whether Debtor's proposed modification truly will result in 100% payment of the mortgage arrears and 100% payment of general unsecured claims, as Debtor claims. True, Debtor's math is somewhat difficult to follow and might be incorrect; and Debtor appears to be capable of paying creditors on a much more accelerated schedule. See dkt. 51 (latest bankruptcy Schedules I&J, showing 3,064.36 in monthly net income). But if it is true that Debtor's plan will pay 100% of all allowed claims, what is the Chapter 13 Trustee's objection? Is the Trustee arguing that paying so much less than the current disposable income is risky (because of the possibility of a future loss of income) and therefore constitutes a lack of good faith? See 11 U.S.C. 1325(b)(1)(A) (payment of less than all projected disposable income is permissible if plan proposes to pay 100%), and see In re Sunahara, 326 B.R. 768 (9th Cir. BAP 2005) (even when requirements of section 1325(b) do not apply, good faith requirement still applies).

Chapter 13

#5.00 Hrg re: Objection to claim 3-1 of California
Uninsured Employers Benefit Trust Fund; request that claim be disallowed

Docket 0

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is (1) to continue this claim objection to 2/21/19 at 8:30 a.m., and meanwhile (2) order Debtor and the uninsured employers benefits trust fund ("Claimant") to mediation, to include, if possible, all other parties in interest, including Jorge Antonio Gomez Lopez ("Lopez") and any insurers, with a deadline of 12/11/18 to lodge a proposed mediation order.

Analysis:

Based on the papers filed by the parties (dkt. 30, 32, 33), as well as the other filed papers and records of this Court (e.g., dkt. 16, 20, 22), the parties' disputes appear ripe for mediation. There are numerous issues that might be decided in favor or against Debtor, Claimant, and Lopez. All of those issues probably are risky and expensive to litigate.

(a) Preclusion from disallowance of Lopez' claim

As Debtor points out, this Court issued an order (dkt. 22) disallowing Lopez' claim. True, as Claimant points out, there might be grounds file a motion for reconsideration of that order. But that is far from certain and the docket does not reflect that any such motion has been filed.

Claimant argues that this Court' disallowance of Lopez' claim should not have any claim or issue preclusive effect because there was no evidentiary hearing nor any analysis by this Court of the response that, Claimant points out, Lopez filed (albeit untimely). But it is far from certain whether preclusion applies: in general, even default judgments have a preclusive effect, and the precise scope of preclusion has not been fully briefed by the parties.

(b) Possible proceedings before Workers Compensation Appeals Board (the "Board")

Chapter 13

Claimant asserts that the Workers Compensation Appeals Board can and should adjudicate the issues, notwithstanding the fact that (i) no motion has been filed seeking relief from the automatic stay (11 U.S.C. 362(a)) for proceedings in that forum, (ii) the Board might (or might not) be bound by the preclusive effect of this Court's disallowance of Lopez' claim, (iii) the Board might (or might not) be bound by the preclusive effect of the Superior Court's grant of summary judgment in favor of Taylor, (iv) the Board might (or might not) be bound by Lopez' apparent admission in his own complaint in Superior Court that Taylor, not Debtor, was the general contractor (see dkt. 32, Ex.D, para.4), and (v) even if the Board has no constraints on its consideration of the issues, Claimant points out that the Board could reach a wide range of final determinations based on the full panoply of circumstances - e.g., that Debtor was Lopez' employer, or that Debtor was a co-employer with Taylor, or that Debtor was not Lopez' employer at all. In addition, there might be litigation over the Board's ability to join all parties; there might be appeals from whatever the Board decides; there might be complications from the roles of any insurers; etc.

In other words, all parties appear to have many battles to fight before they can prevail, and many ways that they could lose, and meanwhile the cost of litigation might make any victory Pyrrhic. Mediation seems the best approach, and this Court has the power and authority to order mandatory mediation.

Chapter 13

#8.00 Hrg re: Debtor's motion to vacate Mortgage default pursuant to F.R.C.P. 55 and 60(b)

Docket 71

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the issues set forth below.

Analysis

(1) No power to reinstate automatic stay

The general rule is that, once the automatic stay is terminated, it cannot be reinstated. See In re Canter, 299 F.3d 1150, 1155 n.1 (9th Cir. 2002).

(2) Possible power to seek reconsideration

Notwithstanding the foregoing, it might be possible to seek relief under Rule 60(b) (incorporated by FRBP 9024). See, e.g., In re Gladhill, 76 F.3d 1070, 1078-80 (10th Cir. 1996); In re Camacho, 361 B.R. 294, 299-300 (1st Cir. BAP 2007)).

(3) Excusable neglect, or other cause for relief under Rule 60(b)

The parties have not fully briefed the legal standards. Debtor appears to be proceeding under a theory of excusable neglect. The creditor asserts that Debtor has not offered any actual excuse, including her failure to communicate with the creditor and causing it to incur attorney fees.

It is true that Debtor has had many "bites at the apple." After substantial prepetition defaults Debtor filed this bankruptcy case and thereby obtained an opportunity to cure the prepetition arrears. But then the creditor established grounds for an adequate protection order ("APO") and Debtor defaulted three times under the APO, and when she failed to cure after the last notice of default this Court terminated the automatic stay.

Debtor has provided evidence of a period of decreased income and a debilitating injury (a severe ankle break), and some evidence that she will be back at work at higher pay. She also offers to pay $9,434.40 which she asserts is enough to "bring the default current through November 2018" (dkt. 71, p.5:2-3). But as the creditor points out this does not cover attorney fees (although Debtor has offered to pay those fees, too).

Debtor addressed whether funds would be available to pay all attorney fees in full, immediately. Nor has Debtor disclosed the source of the funds (presumably Debtor is not "robbing Peter to pay Paul" - i.e., taking money that should be used to pay unsecured creditors; but there is no assurance of that). Even if Debtor can cure all defaults under the APO, including immediate payment of all attorney fees, Debtor would only be back to the position of promising (under the APO and her chapter 13 Plan) to cure prepetition arrears over time and remain current in postpetition monthly payments, and Debtor has a very poor track record of living up to that promise. How can Debtor provide greater assurances than her past record would suggest?

(4) Conclusion

This Court recognizes that the consequences to Debtor of not granting relief appear to be very severe: she may lose her property to foreclosure, and even if she filed another bankruptcy case to protect the property it might be subject to an additional lien that would have been avoided in this case (see dkt. 71, p.4:13-14), and instead of making payments for five years she would have to almost double that period, which is a very long time to make payments. Nevertheless, for the reasons stated above, this Court is very concerned whether there are sufficient factual and legal grounds to grant relief.

#10.00 Hrg re: Application for supplemental attorney fees

Docket 137

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. This Court's order setting this hearing (dkt. 151) specified that the purpose is to determine whether it is appropriate to issue an order to show cause ("OSC") against Mr. Bryson regarding his billing judgment as Debtor's Counsel (11 U.S.C. 330) and whether he is engaged in litigation for an improper purpose (Rule 9011, FRBP). The tentative ruling is that, if this Court is not persuaded that the existing record is sufficient to discharge the OSC, then this Court will set a deadline of 1/8/19 for Mr. Bryson to file and serve on Debtor and the Chapter 13 Trustee a declaration addressing all outstanding matters related to those issues, and hold a continued hearing on 1/24/19 at 8:30 a.m.

(1) Background

To date, Mr. Bryson has been awarded $14,216 in supplemental fees. See dkt. 42, 55, 61, 67, 72, 78, 86, 90, 101, 112, 118, 124. Currently, Mr. Bryson seeks an additional $1,920 in supplemental fees. See dkt. 137. Many of the supplemental fees involve services Mr. Bryson rendered regarding the property located at 329 E. Gage Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90003 (the "Gage Property"), which is 1/3 owned by Debtor according to his bankruptcy schedules. Dkt. 16.

(2) Unauthorized response

The OSC provides, in part:

To save further expenses to the estate, and so that all parties in interest and this Court can better understand the issues before any final briefing, Debtor's Attorney is directed not to file any documents related to any fee applications until otherwise directed by this Court. ("OSC") why fees and expenses previously paid should not be disgorged and/or why any pending or anticipated fee and expense applications should not be denied, and that OSC will include a briefing schedule. [Dkt. 151, p.2 (emphasis in original)]

Notwithstanding that direction, Mr. Bryson has filed an objection (dkt. 155) to issuance of any OSC. He claims (dkt. 155, p.3:26-27) that he "only attempts to provide an explanation pertaining to Dkt. No. 149 [i.e., the relief from stay matters, not his fees]."

The title of his own document belies this assertion. The title is "Objection to Proposed Issuance of Order to Show Cause (OSC) Re: Why Fees And Expenses Previously Paid Should Not Be Disgorged And/Or Why Any Pending Or Anticipated Fee And Expense Applications Should Not Be Denied." Dkt. 155.

The tentative ruling, however, is to excuse Mr. Bryson's non-compliance with the direction not to file any documents relating to his fee applications. It is understandable that an attorney whose billing judgment and motivations are being questioned could not restrain himself from doing so.

Whether he can bill the bankruptcy estate for preparing that document is a separate issue. That will be one of the issues that this Court anticipates taking up at the hearing on the OSC.

(3) Legal standards for fee awards

An attorney employed under 11 U.S.C. 327 is entitled to "reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered." 11 U.S.C. 330(a)(1)(A). The Bankruptcy Code sets forth several factors to consider whether fees were reasonable, including: (1) the time spent on such services; (2) the rates charged for such services; (3) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title; and (4) whether the services were performed with a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed. 11 U.S.C. 330(a)(3). In general, Courts must not allow compensation for "unnecessary duplication of services," or "services that were not reasonably likely to benefit the debtor's estate or necessary to the administration of the case." 11 U.S.C. 330(a)(4) (emphasis added). In a chapter 13 case, such as this, a debtor's attorney may be compensated "for representing the interests of the debtor in connection with the bankruptcy case based on a consideration of the benefit and necessity of such services to the debtor and other factors set forth in this section." 11 U.S.C. 330(a)(4)(B).

Chapter 13

(4) Whether Mr. Bryson requested compensation for actual, necessary services

Based on this Court's review of the twelve supplemental fee applications filed in this case, Mr. Bryson has billed at least 22 hours for services rendered in relation to the Gage Property, which would result in fees of $8,800. It is not clear what, if any, benefit to the bankruptcy estate or Debtor is derived from the Gage Property.

The record does not appear to include evidence of how much net profit (if any) the Gage Property generates. Debtor would only be entitled, apparently, to a fraction of any such rents, or proceeds of any sale of the property, but that too is unclear because Debtor's alleged interest in the Gage Property has been characterized in multiple ways on the record.

Initially, the Gage Property was scheduled as a 1/3 interest valued at $100,000. Dkt. 16 at 8. Later, the value of Debtor's interest in the Gage Property allegedly increased to $138,333. Dkt. 45. But on March 10, 2017, a Motion to Abandon the Gage Property (the "Motion to Abandon") was filed because Debtor's interest in the Gage property allegedly is "burdensome and of inconsequential value to the estate" because Debtor holds a one-sixth interest and another one-sixth interest must be probated" to effectuate transfer of title to a third party. Dkt. 92. Despite being pending for 18 months, without objection, the Motion to Abandon has never been set for a hearing and no order on it has been lodged. To the contrary, Mr. Bryson has continued to seek fees related to selling the Gage Property. Dkts. 108, 137.

Based on the foregoing record, this Court questions whether Mr. Bryson has used appropriate billing judgment in connection with the Gage Property. More generally, the concerns with the Gage Property lead this Court to question whether appropriate billing judgment has been used in connection with all other matters in this case.

(5) Legal standards under Rule 9011

Under Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9011, an attorney, by signing filed papers, certifies a number of things including that the arguments and factual assertions are "not being presented for any improper purpose, such as to harass or to cause unnecessary delay or needless increase in the cost of litigation." (Emphasis added.) The Rule includes further details about what is required of attorneys, and what procedures are required for any OSC under the rule.

(6) Whether Mr. Bryson has made arguments and representations to this Court for any "improper purpose"

This Court previously set out the background related to the Motion for Relief from Stay, dkt. 132, and the Motion to Amend Judgment (the "Reconsideration Motion"), dkt. 138, in its Order Denying the Reconsideration Motion. Dkt. 149. Mr. Bryson currently seeks $640 in fees related to his work on the Response to the Motion for Relief from Stay(the "Response"). Dkt. 137 at 3.

The tentative ruling is to overrule Mr. Bryson's (unauthorized) written objection (dkt. 155) to issuance of any OSC. The merits of the issues he raises can be addressed at the hearing on the OSC, after he has had an opportunity to address this Court's concerns more fully.

(7) Issues to be addressed

The tentative ruling is that Mr. Bryson should address all fees - not just those related to the Gage Property - and address whether his services and billing meet the standards under 11 U.S.C. 330 and Rule 9011. His analysis should expressly include cost/benefit considerations, including what analysis he made (before incurring any fees) regarding the then-current and future potential cash flow from the Gage Property (rental revenues minus expenses), as well as the prospects for selling the Gage Property and obtaining proceeds from the sale. His cost/benefit analysis should also include the likely benefits of the relief from stay litigation. In all of this analysis, he should be careful to distinguish between (a) benefit to the bankruptcy estate, (b) benefit to Debtor, and (c) benefit to Debtor's spouse.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

The tentative ruling is that, although the copy of the first page of the promissory note (dkt. 93) provides adequate evidence that a valid claim exists, Debtor's concern appears to be whether the claimant is in fact the assignee of the claim - i.e., who has standing and/or is the real party in interest to enforce the claim. That is not just a "technical" requirement, because if the wrong party is paid (particularly on any nondischargeable debt), and if mis-paid funds cannot be quickly repaid without cost, then Debtor might have to pay the same claim twice and/or incur the costs of litigation and damages from attempting to sort out the resulting mess. For that reason, the tentative ruling is that evidence of the chain of assignments of this debt must be provided. See generally, In re Veal, 450 B.R. 987 (9th Cir. BAP 2011).

For these reasons, the tentative ruling is to continue this hearing to 12/20/18 at 8:30 a.m. with a deadline of 12/6/18 for the claimant to file and serve a supplemental declaration with evidence of the chain of assignments, and a deadline of 12/13/18 for Debtor to file any objection to that evidence.

Chapter 13

#14.00 Hrg re: Objection to Claim Number 8 by Claimant
Pinnacle Credit Services, LLC its Successors and Assigns as Assignee of Midland Credit Management, Inc.

Docket 80

Tentative Ruling:

Continue to 12/20/18 at 8:30 a.m. to address the following issues. Appearances are not required on 11/29/18.

Lack of cost/benefit analysis. The posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) provide:

§ 502: claim objections & cost/benefit analysis. When objecting to claims, be sure to include an analysis of whether the costs of preparing and litigating the claim objection (administrative expenses) do not exceed the anticipated benefits (reductions in claims). For example, if the anticipated dividend is small or 0% then the attorney fees incurred in prosecuting your claim objection to any general unsecured claim probably will exceed the benefit to the bankruptcy estate/debtor, so filing that objection would be a waste of the bankruptcy estate's (and everyone else's) resources (unless, for example, the claim is nondischargeable, in which event the attorney fees might well be justified).

No later than 7 days after the date of this hearing the movant must file either:

- (1) a supplemental declaration explaining why the attorney fees for this objection are justified (including supporting evidence, such as a copy of the plan showing the projected dividend to the claimant, and a calculation comparing that projected dividend against the attorney fees related to this claim objection), or
- (2) a withdrawal of the claim objection.

No fees on this matter, absent specific authorization. Counsel is directed not to charge any fees on this matter (including all past, present and future work related to this claim objection), and to return any fees received on this matter, unless and until this Court expressly finds: "Counsel has provided a cost/benefit analysis that is sufficient for purposes of Judge Bason's posted Procedures regarding claim objections." It is counsel's responsibility to include the quoted phrase, if warranted, in the proposed order on this claim objection.

This Court does not have the capacity to monitor all fee applications to assure compliance with the foregoing limitation on fees. But if counsel is found to have disregarded this limitation then this Court may impose sanctions.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). #5.00 Hrg re: Motion in Individual Case for Order
Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic
Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

Grant, subject to the following conditions. Appearances are not required.

After the hearing date this court will prepare an order and the tentative ruling is to include the following language in that order:

The stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a) applies subject to the following modifications and conditions:

(1) Service and reconsideration. Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 119

Tentative Ruling:

Deny. Appearances required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Reasons: This Court's order setting this hearing (the "OST," dkt. 121) directed Debtors to file and serve declarations, no later than noon on 12/3/18, addressing why they did not seek relief sooner (before the eve of foreclosure); whether they have purchased a vehicle while their case was dismissed; whether they will have to modify their confirmed chapter 13 Plan to afford the vehicle payments; etc. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the day after that deadline, no such declarations have been filed.

Debtors have not adequately addressed why everyone else should have to address the issues on very shortened time, and yet they should not have to address critical issues on similarly shortened time that has been caused by their own failure to seek relief sooner. This appears to be a "self-created emergency," which would permit Debtors to obtain the advantages of bankruptcy (staying a foreclosure sale) without addressing the concerns that led to dismissal with a bar (apparently excessive expenditures on a vehicle).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 24

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/4/18 (same as for 11/27/18)

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address (a) whether the alleged arrears have been brought current and/or (b) whether they will agree to the terms of an adequate protection order (see the debtor's response, dkt. 26).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Chapter 11

#1.00 Status conference re: Chapter 11 case

Docket 25

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

(1) Current issues

(a) Joint administration

This Court has issued an order for joint administration of In re Karla Ramirez (Case No. 2:18-bk-15055-NB) (daughter; lead case) and In re Sergio Alfredo Ramirez (Case No. 2:18-21263-NB) (father). See lead case dkt. 86 (the "JointAdmin Order") (entered 11/26/18). That order directs that a notice of joint administration must be filed and served "in each case being jointly administered," and an amended master mailing list must be filed in the lead case that "contains the name and mailing address of all creditors and interest holders from each case being jointly administered." JointAdmin Order, para. 2 (emphasis added). As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, this Court's records do not reflect that those things have been done.

(b) Calendar management

A hearing has been set for 12/18/18 at 1:00 p.m. on the employment application (dkt. 37, 39). The tentative ruling is to continue the status conference in the daughter's case to that date (from its current date of 12/11/18 at 1:00 p.m.) and direct proposed counsel, Mr. Giron and Mr. Tang, to give notice.

(c) Allocation of assets, liabilities, and responsibilities, and potential conflicts between estates. As between the father and daughter, what is the correct record title (and actual ownership interests, if different) of the Downey rental property? Which of them are obligated on the debts secured by that property? Which of them has any interests in the rental income?

Does the father need to file a motion for use of cash collateral; a utility motion; a motion to assume or reject any leases; a budget motion; or other motions in connection with the Downey property?

What actual or potential conflicts may exist between the two bankruptcy estates and their creditors?

This Court anticipates addressing these issues only on a preliminary basis at this time. At the continued status conference they will be addressed more comprehensively.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 9/26/18.

(a) Bar date: 2/7/19 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: 12/18/18 at 1:00 p.m., to be concurrent with the hearing on the employment application (dkt. 37, 39).

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

fr. 9/4/18, 10/9/18, 11/6/18

Docket 30

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/4/18

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Lift stay motion (dkt. 73)/progress toward proposed refinance.

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address (i) whether Debtor's counsel has received the documents necessary to refinance the property, and whether there is a letter of intent or other progress with the proposed refinancing (see dkt. 97), and (ii) whether the pending claim objection (see dkt. 90, 96) is a sufficient basis to continue this status conference. If not, should this Court grant relief from the automatic stay and/or dismiss this case?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/29/18 and converted from chapter 13 on 8/8/18.

(a) Bar date: 11/9/18 (dkt. 55), timely served (dkt. 59).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

(c) Continued status conference (if this case is not dismissed): 1/8/18 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

Continue to 12/4/18 at 1:00 p.m., with a brief status report due by 11/20/18.
Appearances are not required on 11/6/18.

This Court has reviewed the Debtor's monthly operating report (dkt. 86). This Court is not aware of issues that would warrant a status conference at this time.

Revised Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Budget motion (dkt. 49). Without prejudice to any later assertion by any party in interest that the debtor's proposed expenses are not in fact "ordinary course," the tentative ruling is to grant the budget motion based on the debtor's declaration (dkt. 76) in response to the questions raised in this Court's order (dkt. 69).

(b) Employment application for Tenina Law, Inc. (dkt. 50, 52, 53). Proposed counsel for the debtor should be prepared to address whether the declarations (dkt. 77, 79) in response to this Court's order (dkt. 67) can be interpreted broadly enough to address all "connections" that are required to be disclosed under Rule 2014 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

For example, this Court's order (dkt. 67, p.3:6-7) asked "have there been" - i.e., in the present or past - any economic or business or personal transactions between the Funder/Donor and the debtor. In response, the debtor declares (dkt. 67, para. 7), "[m]y Donor does not have any business or economic transaction with me ...." (Emphasis added.)

Another concern in that both proposed counsel and Debtor appear to be under the mistaken impression that Debtor could, if necessary, waive conflicts. That is not possible, because Debtor is acting not just for herself but as a trustee for the benefit of all creditors.

Another concern is that there is no indication that Donor has been fully apprised of this Court's concerns.

The tentative ruling is that, before this Court issues any order approving the application, counsel must file Debtor's supplemental declaration (i) quoting Rule 2014 in full, (ii) confirming that there are no "connections" within the meaning of that Rule, except for Donor's friendship with Debtor, (iii) confirming that Debtor understands that (pursuant to this Court's conclusion of law) any conflicts that might turn out to exist cannot be waived, and (iv) confirming that Debtor has provided to Donor a copy of this Court's order (dkt. 67) and the responsive declarations (dkt. 77, 79, and the declaration described in this paragraph). Subject to the foregoing, and the terms of the stipulation with the United States Trustee (dkt. 58), the tentative ruling is to approve the application.

(c) Proposed orders. Whatever this Court's rulings on the foregoing issues, Debtor is directed to lodge proposed orders via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of these tentative rulings, thereby incorporating them as this Court's final rulings, except as modified on the record. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/29/18 and converted from chapter 13 on 8/8/18.

(a) Bar date: 11/9/18 (dkt. 55), timely served (dkt. 59).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 12/23/18 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - the court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

(c) Continued status conference: 11/6/18 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

Tentative Ruling for 2/13/18:

Please see the tentative ruling for the status conference in the main case (calendar no. 4, 2/13/18 at 2:00 p.m.).

Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Please see the tentative ruling for the status conference in the main case (calendar no. 8, 1/23/18 at 2:00 p.m.).

Tentative Ruling for 11/14/17:

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is to deny the motions for default judgments, without prejudice, for the reasons set forth below, and to set a continued status conference for 1/30/18 at 2:00 p.m.

On the one hand, there appears to be successful prosecution of this adversary proceeding because, according to the plaintiff's status report (adv. dkt. 92), all of the defendants have either agreed to the requested declaratory relief or have defaulted. On the other hand, there are some fundamental issues that appear to prevent this court from granting default judgments at this time.

(1) Self-calendaring error. The motions for default judgments were only served on 10/27/17. See, e.g., Motion for Default Judgment Derek Wilshee (dkt. 83, 74) (collectively, the "Wilshee Default Motion"). That is insufficient time prior to the hearing, under the applicable rules, nor was there any cover notice of the hearing date and deadline for any opposition or response.

(2) Jurisdictional issues.

(a) Personal jurisdiction. Does the complaint adequately establish personal jurisdiction over each defendant? At least one defendant is alleged to be a resident of Australia (dkt. 1, para. 14), although the plaintiff has voluntarily dismissed claims against that defendant (dkt. 107). Are each of the defaulting defendants subject to personal jurisdiction?

(b) Subject matter jurisdiction, and abstention. The complaint and motions for default judgment make somewhat vague assertions of other action(s) that were or are pending in other courts apparently involving the same subject matter, and involving at least preliminary injunctive relief if not other relief. Can this Bankruptcy Court assume jurisdiction over matters that are pending in other courts? Must or should this Bankruptcy Court abstain?

(3) Allegations of wrongdoing. Where is the analysis tying each of the defaulting defendants to one or more of the specific acts of wrongdoing bringing them within the claims in the complaint? For example, the only allegation in the complaint regarding Mr. Wilshee (dkt. 1, para. 14) appears to be that he was at one time an officer of the debtor. How is that an act of wrongdoing?

The Wilshee Default Motion seeks a default judgment against Mr. Wilshee of $431,472,300.00 (dkt. 74, at PDF p.51 of 53). How is he responsible for such alleged damages? Does the complaint need to be amended to establish, as against one or more of the defaulting defendants, how they are alleged to be liable?

(4) Calculation of damages. An exhibit to the plaintiff's motions for default judgments asserts that "Based on Department of Conservation Records [available on a website and/or verified by whom?], these leases [which leases? the ones that allegedly were supposed to be assigned but were not?] were producing 1730 barrels of Oil a day [when?]" and "[w]ith today's technology [how is today's technology better?], a conservative figure would be 3500 barrels a day [based on whose expert opinion?] that will be used as a figure for all the losses caused by Western States International [how about other defendants?]." Dkt. 83, Ex.A, at PDF p.17 of 53. The same exhibit shows a calculation of alleged damages based on "Approx Production" of "105,000" which is far more than 3500 barrels (perhaps using a 30-day presumptive month multiplied by 3500 barrels a day?), an "Average Oil Price [from what source?]," and a "Cost [to extract, market, refine, deliver, and sell the oil - or some other or different set of things? based on what expert's opinion?]." Based on the foregoing questions, and applying Rule 55(b)(2) (Fed. R. Civ. P.) (incorporated by Rule 7055, Fed. R. Bankr. P.), it appears that additional evidence and a "prove up" hearing will be needed to determine the amount of damages, if not other issues.

(5) Alleged costs, attorney fees, and interest. The debtor/plaintiff asserts $1 million in costs (dkt. 74 at PDF p.51 of 53) - how is that possible? What are the components? Attorney fees are alleged to be $300,000 - this case has barely commenced, so how is that possible? Where are the daily time sheets and/or other support for this figure? Prejudgment interest is alleged to be at a 10% rate per year starting 1/1/11. What is the contractual or statutory basis for that interest rate and that commencement date? The purported damages were incurred month by month, so how can interest run from before those damages were incurred?

(6) Declaratory relief. The plaintiff makes broad allegations about the rights under various contracts, or arising from breaches of those contracts or by operation of law. Where is the support for these allegations? The plaintiff cannot place the burden on this court to sort through numerous provisions of various contracts to piece together the plaintiff's theory. The plaintiff must provide specific, easy-to-follow analysis and evidence.

(7) Conclusion. Because the motions for default judgments are both procedurally and substantively deficient in all of the ways set forth above, the tentative ruling is to deny them without prejudice.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 8/22/17:

Appearances required. This court notes that the parties were directed to file a joint status report two weeks in advance of this hearing (dkt. 2), but have not done so. In addition, this court notes that the tentative ruling in the main case status conference (calendar no. 3, 8/22/17 at 2:00 p.m.) is to dismiss the main case, which normally would terminate this adversary proceeding. Nevertheless, to preserve all rights in the event that this court were to be persuaded not to dismiss the main case, this court has reviewed the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding and issues the following tentative ruling.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below?

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 6/19/17. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 1/12/18

Expert(s) - deadline for reports: 1/26/18

Expert(s) - discovery cutoff (if different from above): 2/9/18

Dispositive motions to be heard no later than: 3/2/18

Joint Status Report: 11/28/17

Continued status conference: 12/12/17 at 11:00 a.m.

Trial deadlines to be determined at a later time.

If you do not appear, and the matter is not adequately resolved by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

This court anticipates posting a tentative ruling at a later time. [NOTE: no tentative ruling was posted]

Tentative Ruling for 4/17/18:

Continue (1) calendar nos. 5, 6 and 7 on today's calendar, and (2) the motion for relief from the automatic stay filed by Ingrid Aliet-Gass for herself and Western States International, Inc. (dkt. 130, the "R/S Motion") all as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 4/17/18.

Specifically, the tentative ruling is as follows:

(1) Continue (a) the status conference in this bankruptcy case, (b) the status conference in adversary proceeding no. 2:17-ap-01326-NB, and (c) the debtor's motion to amend the complaint in that adversary proceeding (adv. dkt. 125, and see adv. dkt. 130, 131, 139, 142) to be concurrent with (d) the motion by the Bureau of Land Management ("BLM") to dismiss the separate adversary proceeding against it (no. 2:18-ap-01057-NB, adv. dkt. 7), which is currently scheduled for 5/8/18 at 2:00 p.m.

(2) Continue the R/S Motion, which is currently set for 5/1/18 at 10:00 a.m., to the same date and time.

After this hearing date this Court will prepare an order continuing all of the foregoing matters and will serve it on the BLM, Aliet-Gass, and Western States International, Inc. at the addresses known to this Court, and that order will also direct the debtor to serve those parties and any other known parties with an interest in the foregoing matters.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16.

(a) Bar date: 7/10/17 and 1/26/18 (sufficiently served, dkt. 56, 60, 103, 107, 110, 111, 121, 123).

Tentative Ruling for 3/6/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Default judgment motion - Wilshee (adv. dkt. 140). Deny for lack of service. See dkt. 140 at PDF p.4 (serving defendant at "ENTER ADDRESS HERE").

(b) Default judgment motion - JNDDC, LLC (adv. dkt. 135). Deny for lack of service. See dkt. 135, last two pages (defendant not listed in service list).

(c) Default judgment motion - Flavio Rodriguez (adv. dkt. 133). Deny for lack of service. See dkt. 133 at PDF p.8 (marked up by someone - movant? - to show deficiencies in completion of proof of service) and dkt. 133 last two pages (defendant not listed on service list).

(d) Default judgment motion - Jag Pathirana (adv. dkt. 134). Grant. It appears that plaintiff has abandoned claims against defendant Jag Pathirana other than "clearing title" to the plaintiff/debtor's alleged property interests at issue in the complaint. That appears to moot the relevant concerns previously raised by this court (see adv. dkt. 116, exhibit).

(e) Case status report (case dkt. 122) and adversary proceeding against Bureau of Land Management (Adv. No. 2:18-ap-01057-NB). The debtor should be prepared to provide an update as to the status of these matters.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16.

(a) Bar date: 7/10/17 and 1/26/18 (sufficiently served, dkt. 56, 60, 103, 107, 110, 111, 121, 123).

(1) Current issues.

(a) Status Reports (main case dkt. 122; adv. no. 2:17-ap-01326-NB, dkt. 132). The debtor/plaintiff suggests that it will be filing a motion to approve a disclosure statement. Is that premature, given the following issues?

(b) Motion to amend complaint (adv. dkt. 125). The parties should be prepared to address the issues raised in the motion and in the oppositions filed by the California Department of Conservation, Division of Oil and Gas, and Geothermal Resources ("DOGGR") (adv. dkt. 125, 130, 131).

In addition, the debtor/plaintiff should be prepared to address whether the proposed amended complaint cures the deficiencies in the original complaint, and whether any ruling on the motion to amend the complaint should be deferred until after default judgments are (or are not) obtained on the existing (original) complaint, for the reasons set forth in this Court's Memorialization Of Reasons For Denying Motions For Default Judgments (captioned for the adversary proceeding but erroneously filed in the main case as dkt. 118). Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Continue the status conferences in both the main case and the adversary proceeding (adv. no. 2:17-ap-01326-NB) to 2/13/18 at 2:00 p.m. with a status report due 2/6/18 (at which time other documents are also due as set forth below) for the reasons set forth below. Appearances are not required on 1/23/18.

(1) Current issues

(a) Reasons for continuance: (i) because of the problems noted below; (ii) because of the debtor's untimely last-minute filing of status reports (the debtor is cautioned that continued untimely filings may result in sanctions); (iii) because of the inability of the Office of the United States Trustee to appear due to the shutdown of much of the federal government, (iv) to be concurrent with the (improperly self-calendared) motion to amend the complaint, and (v) in view of the debtor's various status reports (main case dkt. 117, adv. dkt. 122, 127, 129).

(b) Bar date. The debtor's proofs of service of the bar date order are missing exhibits and incomprehensible (see dkt. 110, 111). The debtor is directed to file, no later than 2/6/18, either a corrected proof of service or an application (supported by a declaration) to set yet another supplemental bar date - whichever is appropriate.

(c) Status of existing complaint in adversary proceeding. On 11/20/17 this court issued an order (adv. dkt. 117) denying the plaintiff/debtor's motions for default judgments, without prejudice. The debtor now seeks to amend the complaint (adv. dkt. 125). All of these things moot the motions for default judgments so the hearings on those motions have been vacated.

In addition, the tentative ruling is to memorialize this court's reasons for denying the motions for default judgments by filing on the docket a copy of this court's adopted tentative ruling for the 11/14/17 hearings on those motions (reproduced within the tentative ruling for calendar no. 9. 1/23/18 at 2:00 p.m.).

(d) Motion to amend complaint (adv. dkt. 125). This motion was self-calendared for 2:00 p.m. (a time that cannot be used for self-calendaring) on 2/13/18. Nevertheless, the tentative ruling is to permit that motion to proceed at that time.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16.

(a) Bar date: initial date of 7/10/17 (order timely served, dkt. 56, 60); supplemental date of 1/26/18, to be served no later than 11/15/17 (per Order, dkt. 107) but proofs of service are incomprehensible (dkt. 110, 111) - see above under "current issues".

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

(c) Continued status conference: as set forth above.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

"Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the following issues.

(1) Current issues. The debtor has filed a second (very belated) proof of service (dkt. 103) of this court's order (dkt. 56) setting a bar date. Under that order the bar date was set as 7/10/17 and service was required no later than 5/8/17. What does the debtor's belated service do except cause confusion? Does the debtor require a new bar date for previously unknown creditors?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16. If this case is not converted or dismissed, the tentative ruling is to set the following:

(a) Bar date: 7/10/17 (order timely served, dkt. 56, 60; but see above under "current issues").

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

(c) Continued status conference: 1/30/18 at 2:00 p.m., status report due 1/16/18.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 8/22/17:

The tentative ruling is to dismiss this case with a 180 day bar for willful failure to appear in proper prosecution, as set forth below. See 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1). Appearances are not required.

Reasons: This case was filed on 11/23/16. The debtor's assets consist of disputed rights in hydrocarbon leases. See Status Report, dkt. 81. Realizing any value from those rights apparently depends on retaining special counsel who will diligently prosecute the debtor's claims. Despite numerous opportunities, the debtor has failed to satisfy the prerequisites for retention of special counsel.

(1) Inadequate declarations about "connections"

At the hearing on 7/11/17 this court extensively reviewed the evidence that would be required before this court could approve the application to employ the latest proposed special counsel, Mr. Montes. That included a requirement of detailed declarations from Mr. and Mrs. Hoats regarding any transfers of any property (including intangible property) involving the debtor and any of them, as well as any other "connections" (as that term is used in Rule 2014, Fed. R. Bankr. P.) to the debtor and any other party in interest.

This court recognizes that Mr. and Mrs. Hoats are not the professionals whose employment is being sought. Nevertheless, given their very close ties to the debtor, and their failure to disclose connections to the prior proposed special counsel that raised questions about conflicts of interest, this court orally ordered the debtor to provide their declarations at the hearing on 5/2/17. That order has been ignored.

(2) Knudsen factors

This court also directed Mr. Montes to file a declaration addressing the factors that this court must consider in assessing his request to be paid more frequently than once every 120 days. See In re Knudsen, 84 B.R. 668, 672-73 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Mr. Montes has filed such a declaration (dkt. 82) and has adequately summarized the factors (id., p.3:15-23) but he has not adequately addressed the third factor, which he summarizes as: "any funds paid but later disapproved by the court can be recovered from the professional" in one or more of the ways listed in Knudsen. (Emphasis added.) Those ways are:

- [a. Holdback] retainer payments are for only a percentage of the amount billed so that the likelihood or necessity of repayment is minimal [Mr. Montes suggests a 10% holdback, which has not been shown to be adequate - the typical amount is 20%, and that typically applies only to well established firms whose ability to repay funds is reinforced by the firm's longevity and reputation or similar considerations];
- [b. Bond] counsel can post a bond covering any possible reassessment [Mr. Montes has not addressed this factor];
- [c. Financial ability to repay] counsel's financial position makes it certain that any reassessment can be repaid [Mr. Montes has not addressed this factor]; [and/or]

[d. Hold funds in trust account] funds paid prior to allowance are held in a trust account until a final or interim fee allowance is made [Mr. Montes has only offered to place the 10% proposed holdback in a trust account]. [Knudsen, 84 B.R. 668, at 672]

(3) The debtor appears to cite the wrong statutory authority

The debtor's application to employ Mr. Montes (dkt. 65) requests that his employment be approved under subsection "(e)" of 11 U.S.C. 327. But that subsection only applies by its terms to an attorney who "has represented the debtor" (i.e., prepetition counsel whose employment is to continue postpetition). Id. (emphasis added).

That is not the end of the analysis, because it has been held that special counsel can be employed even when such counsel has not represented the debtor prepetition. See In re Fondiller, 15 B.R. 890, 892 (9th Cir. BAP 1981) (emphasis added), appeal dismissed, 707 F.2d 441 (9th Cir. 1983). Although Fondiller has been interpreted as authorizing employment under subsection (e) (see, e.g., Covenant Fin. Group of Am., Inc., 243 B.R. 450, 455 & n. 8 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 1999)), the precise holding of Fondiller appears to be that special counsel can be employed under subsection "(a)" of Section 327 because any "omission" in subsection "(e)" does not limit the general authority in subsection "(a)." See Fondiller, 15 B.R. at 891-92 (interpreting § 327(a) by comparison with §§ 327(c) and (e)).

True, the precise statutory authority appears to make little if any practical difference, because Fondiller held that when counsel is only employed to perform limited services, then an interest "adverse to the estate" means "an adverse interest relating to the services which are to be performed by that attorney," which appears to mean that the inquiry for proposed special counsel under subsection "(a)" is the same as under subsection "(e)." Fondiller, 15 B.R. at 892 (emphasis added). Mr. Montes' declaration (included in dkt. 65) appears to meet this test because he states that he has no adverse interest.

Nevertheless, as stated above this court has required additional evidence from Mr. and Mrs. Hoats and that evidence has not been provided. In addition, because the debtor has sought authority under subsection "(e)" instead of "(a)" it appears not have met the technical requirements for employment of Mr. Montes.

Tentative Ruling for 7/11/17:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Employment of special counsel. Deny the application to employ the Law Offices of M. Brian McMahon (dkt. 46) because he no longer intends to pursue employment. See dkt. 73, para. 3. Deny the application to employ the Law Offices of Mike Montes, Jr. (dkt. 65) due to the failure to address the issues raised by this court in the tentative ruling for 5/2/17 (reproduced below) (without reaching the issues raised by the U.S. Trustee's objection, dkt. 72, and the debtor's reply, dkt. 74). The U.S. Trustee is directed to lodge proposed orders denying each application within seven days after this hearing date.

(b) Lack of progress. Should this case be dismissed for lack of prosecution?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16. If this case is not converted or dismissed, the tentative ruling is to set the following:

(a) Bar date: 7/10/17 (order timely served, dkt. 56, 60).

Tentative Ruling for 5/2/17:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the debtor's proposed attorney, Brian McMahon Esq., should be prepared to address the concerns set forth in the U.S. Trustee's objection (dkt. 49) and the other issues set forth below.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Proposed special counsel.

(i) Background. On 4/5/17 the debtor filed an application for authority to employ the law offices of Mr. McMahon as special counsel under 11 U.S.C. 327(e) (dkt. 47). On 4/12/17 the United States Trustee ("UST") filed an objection to the employment application, which expressed concerns about the payment arrangement proposed in the application (dkt. 49).

The debtor filed a statement of disinterestedness for Mr. McMahon (dkt.53), and a reply (dkt.55), stating that a third party, Ms. Lilian Hoats, will be paying the attorney fees for Mr. McMahon's representation. Ms. Hoats is the CEO of Inviron Technologies, Inc. ("Managing Member"), which is the debtor's managing member (dkt. 55, Ex.1, p.1, recital "b"). Attached to the reply (dkt. 55, Ex.1) is a written document that purports to be a waiver of conflicts (if any exist) among the debtor, Ms. Hoats, and the Managing Member (the "Hoats/Managing Member Conflict Waiver").

The Attorney-Client Retainer Agreement attached to the employment application (dkt. 46, Ex.1) provides that Mr. McMahon is representing not only the debtor but also its affiliates Riverwood Energy, LLC ("Energy Affiliate") and Riverwood Resources Ltd. ("Resources Affiliate"). This court is not aware of the precise organizational and contractual relationships among the debtor, Energy Affiliate, and Resources Affiliate, nor of any written document purporting to be a waiver of conflicts (if any exist) among them.

(ii) Statutory provisions and rules

Although special counsel does not have to be "disinterested" (compare 11 U.S.C. 327(a)), special counsel still must not "represent or hold any interest adverse to the debtor or to the estate with respect to the matter on which such attorney is to be employed." 11 U.S.C. 327(e) (emphasis added). Under Rule 2014 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) both Mr. McMahon and the debtor were supposed to disclose all connections between Mr. McMahon and "the debtor, creditors, any other party in interest, their respective attorneys and accountants, the United States trustee, or any person employed in the office of the United States trustee."

The disclosures have not been adequate. This court does not know enough about the underlying litigation and the organizational and contractual relationships among the various entities to assess whether there may be conflicts of interest between the debtor, on the one hand, and Ms. Hoats, Managing Member, Energy Affiliate, and/or Resource Affiliate.

(iii) A DIP's conflicts generally cannot be waived

Any purported conflict waiver probably cannot waive actual conflicts. See, e.g., In re Perry, 194 B.R. 875, 880 (E.D.Cal.1996) (waiver of conflict by non-debtor parties was insufficient and "[i]nformed consent could not be obtained" because "the real parties in interest in this case are the creditors, and that is not a waivable conflict"); In re B.E.S. Concrete Products, Inc., 93 B.R. 228, 235 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 1988).

But while actual conflicts of interest create a violation of 11 U.S.C. 327 which would require disqualification of the proposed professional, the mere existence of a potential conflict of interest does not require disqualification, and it is up to the court's discretion whether the purported conflict is sufficiently threatening to the estate to warrant disqualification. In re Wheatfield Business Park, LLC, 286 B.R. 412, 421 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

Are proposed counsel and the debtor aware of any actual conflicts?
How about potential conflicts?

(iv) The purported conflict waiver is incomplete

The Hoats/Managing Member Conflict Waiver is not actually signed by Ms. Hoats in her individual capacity (she has only signed it on behalf of the debtor's Managing Member). In addition, as noted above, this court is not aware of any purported conflict waiver among the debtor and Operating Affiliate or Resources Affiliate.

(v) There might be conflicts among the debtor and Ms. Hoats

A third party who funds a retainer for the debtor (the "Funder") generally has some pre-existing relationship with the debtor, and/or some motivation to providing the funding. Those things increase the likelihood that the Funder could be the recipient of an avoidable preference, or might have alter ego liability, or otherwise might have interests that are adverse to (or at least not fully aligned with) the bankruptcy estate or creditors. For these reasons, although payment of a retainer by a third party is not outright prohibited, it is fraught with ethical concerns. At the hearing, counsel for the debtor and proposed special counsel should be prepared to address the following.

(A) Terms. What are the precise agreements, understandings or expectations regarding the funds -- e.g., are the funds a loan, a gift, an investment, or something else?

(B) Informed consent of Funder. Has the Funder been advised regarding actual and potential conflicts of interest, and that the sole attorney-client relationship and duty of loyalty is with the debtor, not the Funder? Who provided such advice: independent counsel? counsel for the debtor? the debtor's proposed special counsel? Has the Funder given informed consent? Are those things in writing?

(C) Informed consent of debtor. Has the debtor likewise been fully advised and given informed consent? Who provided such advice? Are these things in writing? Ms. Hoats has signed the Hoats/Managing Member conflict waiver on behalf of the debtor: how can she, acting for the debtor, waive conflicts with herself?

(D) Other considerations. Has proposed special counsel demonstrated or represented to the Court the absence of an actual or potential conflict, a lack of disinterestedness, or any other basis for disqualification? See In re Kelton Motors, Inc., 109 B.R. 641 (Bankr. D. Vt. 1989); In re Lotus Prop's LP, 200 B.R. 388 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1996) (rejecting per se disqualification when fees are paid by third party); and compare In re Hathaway Ranch Partnership, 116 B.R. 208, 219 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1990) (per se rule). See generally In re Park-Helena Corp., 63 F.3d 877 (9th Cir. 1995).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16. If this case is not converted or dismissed, the tentative ruling is to set the following:

(a) Bar date*: to be set during the status conference.

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: same.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/4/18:

Appearances required. This Court has reviewed the Combined Chapter 11 Plan and Disclosure Statement (Dkt. 312) (the "Plan" and "Disclosure Statement"), the Driver Creditors' Objection to Payment of Administrative Claim to Robert Wallace (Dkt. 335) (the "Objection"), the Clarification of Chapter 11 Plan (Dkt. 342), the Ballot Summary (Dkt 352), the Brief in Support of Confirmation (Dkt. 353), and Debtor's Opposition to the Objection (Dkt. 354).

(1) Current issues

(a) Objection (Robert Wallace's Administrative Claim) (dkt. 335, 354)

The Driver Creditors object to the Plan's proposal to pay Mr. Wallace, the sole officer of the Debtor, an administrative claim in the total of $97,766.90. Dkt. 335. The Driver Creditors object that $10,000 per month compensation is not justified for a liquidating and non-operating business. The tentative ruling is to overrule that objection because (i) the Driver Creditors did not object (until now, approximately one year later) to Debtor's Notice of Insider Compensation (the "Notice") detailing Mr. Wallace's compensation on November 17, 2017 (dkt. 354) (see LBR 2014-1(a)(3)) and (ii) Debtor's Opposition and Mr. Wallace's declaration (dkt. 354) adequately support the compensation.

(a) Plan and Disclosure Statement

Approve the disclosures in the Disclosure Statement on a final basis (11 U.S.C. 1125), and confirm the Plan (11 U.S.C. 1129(a)&(b)), for the reasons set forth in Debtor's Brief in Support of Confirmation. The plan proponents are directed to lodge a proposed order within seven days after this hearing, which should include a paragraph setting a post-confirmation status conference (on the date set forth below) and include language substantially in the form required by LBR 3020-1(b).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/6/17.

(a) Bar date: 3/16/18 (order timely served, dkt. 43, 46).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: see above.

(c) Post-confirmation status conference: 2/26/19 at 1:00 p.m., with a status report (see LBR 3020-1(b)) due 2/12/19.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the Amended and Revised Settlement Agreement and Mutual and General Release Agreement (see dkt. 298).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 9/21/18:

Appearances required. This Court has reviewed the transcript that orally memorializes the principal parties' settlement. See Tr. 9/7/18 (dkt. 295), pp. 3:16-15:18 & 30:1-4 (the "Main Settlement"). The parties should be prepared to address the following issues.

(1) Settlement documentation. What documents are being prepared to implement the Main Settlement (e.g., the form of notice to the Truck Drivers, including their election whether to return the trucks and their agreement to mutual releases)? What is the status of that preparation? Will the notice to the Truck Drivers need to be in any languages other than English and Spanish? What steps can be taken before the documentation is finalized, and conversely what steps should wait until the documents are finalized?

(2) Secured/unsecured Truck Drivers. How do the parties propose to address what portion of the distributions from the bankruptcy estate should be allocated to the secured claims of certain Truck Drivers, and what remainder should be allocated to unsecured claims? Is that issue deferred until a proposed chapter 11 plan? If so, how will the possible effects of various secured claim amounts be adequately explained to the Truck Drivers who will be asked to consent to the Main Settlement? Conversely, if the parties have a proposed settlement as to the allowed dollar amount of these secured claims, what are the proposed terms of that additional settlement (the "Secured Driver Claims Settlement")?

(3) Procedures. What procedures should apply to the Main Settlement and any Secured Driver Claims Settlement (or litigation)? For example, is another Rule 9019 motion advisable (or necessary)? Should this Court find and conclude, under Rule 2002(a)(3), Fed. R. Bankr. P., that some sort of supplemental notice and opportunity to object (and overbid?) is sufficient, given that notice has already been provided of the basic issues and standards governing settlement? See dkt. 36 (settlement motion) and dkt. 122 (priorities/secured claims motion).

Whatever further procedures are required, should different sets of documents be provided to (a) the Truck Drivers (holding both secured and unsecured claims) and (b) other creditors (holding both secured and unsecured claims)? Should all creditors, including the Truck Drivers, receive a complete set of settlement documentation, or is that an undue expense? Is it sufficient for such documents to be available upon request? Should any cover letter/notice be translated, but not the underlying documentation (to save expense)?

(4) Calendaring. Is it appropriate (a) to continue the status conference and settlement motion (dkt. 19) for a relatively brief time, so that the parties can prepare the settlement documentation for review by this Court prior to mailing,

Tentative Ruling for 8/7/18:

Continue as stated below. No appearances required on 8/7/18.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (dkt. 262) and other relevant pleadings in this case.

(a) Bid Procedures Motion (dkt. 149). The tentative ruling is to defer ruling on this until after resolution of the discovery dispute and continue the hearing to a date and time to be set at the continued status conference set forth below.

(b) Motion to Approve Compromise (dkt. 36). The tentative ruling is to defer ruling on this until after resolution of the discovery dispute and continue the hearing to a date and time to be set at the continued status conference set forth below.

(c) Motion to Determine Extent & Priority of Truck Drivers' Liens (dkt. 122). The tentative ruling is to defer ruling on this until after resolution of the motion to disqualify and continue the hearing to a date and time to be set at the continued status conference set forth below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/6/17.

(a) Bar date: 3/16/18 (order timely served, dkt. 43, 46).

Revised Tentative Ruling for 5/29/18:
Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Debtor's Motion to Extend Time to Assume or Reject Lease (dkt. 139). Debtor seeks an extension of time to assume or reject its lease of commercial real property located at 2727 E. Del Amo Blvd., Rancho Dominguez, CA 90221 (the "Property") with Joe Murez Exempt Trust ("JMET" or "Landlord") through June 4, 2018. But in connection with Landlord's currently motion (dkt. 184, see discussion below), the debtor concedes that there are incurable defaults that prevent it from assuming the lease and states that it intends to vacate and surrender the Property by May 31, 2018 (dkt. 197, PDF p. 7, lines 17-19 & Wallace Declaration, paragraph 14). Additionally, on May 7, 2018, debtor served its subtenants with 30-day notices to terminate rental agreement with an expiration date of June 6, 2018 (id., Ex. A).

In Landlord's motion (dkt. 184, see discussion below), it seeks possession of the Property effective as of June 5, 2018 and appears to have consented to an extension through that time (see dkt. 184, PDF p. 4, lines 26-27).

The tentative ruling is to grant the debtor's motion and extend the deadline to assume or reject the lease to May 31, 2018. The effects of that date on the subtenants and the Landlord are addressed below.

(b) Landlord's Motion for Administrative Claim and Possession of Property (dkt. 184).

(i) Base rent, late fees, interest, CAM, taxes, attorneys' fees and costs. Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 365(d)(3), Landlord is entitled to an allowed administrative expense for the full amount of rent accrued during the period following the order for relief through the lease rejection, regardless of the actual value conferred by the lease upon the estate. See Pacific-Atlantic Trading Company, 27 F.3d 401 (9th Cir. 1994); In re Cukierman, 265 F.3d 846 (9th Cir. 2001). Section 365(d)(3) requires immediate payment of lease obligations so that the landlord is not left providing uncompensated services. In re Cukierman, 265 F.3d at 851-52.

In this case, Paragraph 4.1 of the Lease provides: "All monetary obligations of Lessee to Lessor under the terms of this Lease (except for the Security Deposit) are deemed to be Rent." Pursuant to paragraphs 1.5, 4.3, 10.2, 13.4, 13.5, and 31, Landlord is entitled to an allowed administrative expense for payment of base rent, late fees, interest, CAM, taxes, and attorneys' fees and costs. On the record before this Court, Landlord holds an estimated administrative expense in the amount of $79,965.01 ($48,626 (May rent) + $4,862.20 (late fee) + $11,661.31 (real property taxes) + $14,815.5 (attorneys fees) = $79,965.01). Landlord may supplement the record to establish a valid basis for any additional amounts it may be entitled to under the Lease (e.g., prorated June rent if the debtor has not turned over the premises as of 5/31/18).

(ii) No superpriority. Section 365(d)(3) does not authorize a superpriority over other administrative expenses. In re LPM Corp., 300 F.3d 1134 (9th Cir. 2002). It is possible that the estate will be administratively insolvent (although the estate's assets and its administrative claims are largely moving targets until the conclusion of any bankruptcy case) so if Landlord had slept on its rights and were seeking prior months' rent it would not be entitled to payment at this time; but that is not the situation.

Landlords are entitled to current payments. Other administrative claimants are not. There is no evidence that this Landlord has slept on its rights.

Reconciling the lack of priority with the entitlement to current payments, the tentative ruling is that Landlord is entitled to immediate payment of a pro rata share of funds that are available to pay estimated accrued administrative expenses to date. This is essentially the alternative relief requested by Landlord (see dkt. 200, p.4:4-8).

Because the interim fee applications (discussed below) seek approximately $305,000 in fees and expenses, and because Landlord's claim is approximately $79,965.01, it appears that the rough total of accrued administrative expenses is approximately $385,000, of which Landlord holds roughly $80,000, or approximately 20% ( $$80,000/$385,000 = 20.8\%$ ). Therefore, the tentative ruling is that Landlord is entitled to immediate payment of approximately 20% of the $47,000 in unrestricted funds currently in debtor's possession (dkt. 197, PDF p. 13, paragraph 13), or approximately $9,400.

(iii) Landlord has not established that the funds are held in trust for it. This Court is not persuaded that the $47,000 in funds debtor has on hand is being held in trust for Landlord. Landlord has not carried its burden of establishing that, under California law, an express trust exists that excepts these funds from estate property. See Golden Mortg. Fund # 14 v. Kennedy, 171 B.R. 79, 84 (9th Cir. BAP 1994) ("A creditor has the burden to prove that the funds in the debtor's possession should be held in trust for that creditor's benefit").

(iv) Surrender and Writ of Possession. Landlord has discretion whether to extend the time for the debtor to assume or reject the Lease beyond the statutory maximum, or permit occupancy after rejection, absent nonbankruptcy law that would permit occupants to continue in possession. As set forth above, the tentative ruling is that the lease will be deemed rejected on 5/31/18.

Because neither the subtenants nor any other party in interest has articulated a sufficient basis for the subtenants to continue to occupy the Property following rejection of the Lease, the tentative ruling is to grant Landlord's request for a writ of possession directing any subtenants to surrender and vacate the property effective 6/6/18. Landlord is instructed to review LBR 7064-1 and include the necessary language set forth in 7064-1(e) into the proposed order.

(v) Relief from stay. The tentative ruling is to grant Landlord relief from the automatic stay under 362(d)(1).

(vi) Waiver of 14-day stay. The tentative ruling is to waive the 14-day stay.

(c) Interim Fee Apps of Levene Neale Bender Yoo & Brill (dkt. 177); CohenReznick LLP (dkt. 178); and Haberbush & Associates LLP (dkt. 179), and related documents (dkt. 200, 214). The tentative ruling is to approve the applications on an interim basis, subject to final review and approval at the conclusion of the case, but deny the requests for immediate payment of fees and expenses given the debtor's limited funds on hand, except that

(a) April MOR (dkt.192). On PDF p. 3, the debtor identifies a payment made to "Transport" on 4/26/18 in the amount of $55,515.00 for "dispatch and brokerage svc." What is this payment for? Is it an "ordinary course" transaction?

(b) Motion to Disqualify Truck Driver Counsel (dkt. 125). This Court issued an order (dkt. 169, amended dkt. 175) continuing this motion and set (i) a 5/15/18 deadline for the Slattery Law Firm and Hirsch Law Firm to file supplemental papers addressing who properly represents the Truck Drivers; and (ii) a 5/21/18 at noon deadline to file any responses.

This Court has reviewed the relevant papers. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the arguments set forth in the filed papers.

(c) Objection to Claim Nos. 11, 37, 38, 40, 44, 45, 50 (dkt. 108, 109, 111, 113, 115, 117, 119). The proofs of claim were filed by the Hirsch Law Firm and the claim objections/notices were served on the Hirsch Law Firm and Slattery Law Firm. However, based on the debtor's pending motion to disqualify both firms, the tentative ruling is to continue the hearings on these claim objections to 6/19/18 at 2:00 p.m., pending resolution of the motion to disqualify. At the continued hearings, the parties should be prepared to address whether it would be appropriate for this court to set continued oppositions deadlines.

Note: Counsel did not comply with Judge Bason's posted procedures (at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) requiring a cost/benefit analysis for any claim objection (although this court's own cost/benefit analysis appears to favor seeking to reclassify these claim). (a) Motion to Approve Compromise (dkt. 36). The parties should be prepared to address the status of any settlement negotiations with respect to the pending motion to approve compromise.

(b) Status Report. At the last status conference on 2/13/18, this court directed the debtor to file a brief status report by 2/27/18. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the debtor has not complied. The debtor should be prepared to address why it failed to comply with this court's order.

(c) Employment application: Creditors' Committee Counsel (dkt. 47, 65). The objection by certain truck drivers (dkt. 63) has been withdrawn (dkt. 89). The debtor's limited objection (dkt. 55) and the reply papers (dkt. 85, 86) raise issues that are best addressed in connection with any application for compensation, at which time this Court can evaluate whether the hourly billing rates are commensurate with the nature of the work performed, the time spent on each task, and the other factors under 11 U.S.C. 330. Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

The parties should be prepared to address (a) whether the Court should order mandatory mediation of the proposed settlement, proposed assignment of the lease, and related issues; (b) whether concurrently this Court should set deadlines such as a discovery cutoff or, conversely, whether this Court should temporarily issue a stay of some litigation; and (c) whether the parties would prefer that this Court provide some tentative rulings or preliminary thoughts on various issues, or if instead it would foster possible settlement or serve other beneficial goals for this Court not to do those things at this stage of the case.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/6/17.

(a) Bar date: 3/16/18 (order timely served, dkt. 43, 46).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

(c) Continued status conference: 5/1/18 at 1:00 p.m., brief status report due 4/17/18.

Tentative Ruling for 12/12/17:

Continue to 2/13/17 at 10:00 a.m. Appearances are not required on 12/12/17.

(1) Reasons for continuance

(a) Insufficient Service

The proof of service filed in support of the motion does not reflect service on the debtor to the attention of the appropriate person(s), in accordance with Rules 4001 and 7004(b)(3) (incorporated by Rule 9014(b), Fed. R. Bankr. P.), and Local Bankruptcy Rule 4001-1(c)(1)(C)(i). Under Judge Bason's posted procedures (at www.cacb.uscourts.gov), he generally does not sua sponte require that specific individuals be named - service can be "Attn: Officer or Managing/General Agent" or a similar phrase - but in the circumstances of this case, in which there are disputes regarding who is or is not authorized to represent the debtor, Judge Bason will direct that service be (i) on the debtor at its address of record "Attn: Philip Layfield, Officer of Record" and also, in a separate envelope, (ii) on the debtor at its address of record "Attn: Any Officer Other Than Philip Layfield."

(b) Chapter 11 Trustee's Request for Extension

This court has reviewed the chapter 11 trustee's reponse (dkt. 152) to the motion, and movant's reply (dkt. 159). Given that this case is an involuntary case and the trustee has not had the benefit of any bankruptcy schedules, any statement of financial affairs, or access to the debtor's principals, this court is not persuaded by movant's argument that the trustee has already had sufficient time to investigate the alleged pre-petition transfer. In addition, the trustee has provided adequate evidence that the equity cushion and the relatively short delay provide adequate protection.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 323

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/6/18:

Appearances required

(1) General matters

(a) Combined status conferences in the interrelated bankruptcy cases

This hearing includes Status Conferences in each of the three related bankruptcy cases before this Court: (a) In re Layfield & Barrett, APC, Case No. 2:17-bk-19548-NB ("L&B"); (b) In re Layfield, Case No. 2:18-bk-15829-NB ("Lay-Invol."), (c) In re Maximum Legal (Cal.), LLP, Case No. 2:17-bk-18433-NB ("Max-CA").

(b) Review of documents

This Court has reviewed all filed documents through dkt. 147 in Lay-Invol, dkt. 376 in L&B, and dkt. 146 in Max-CA. This Court has also reviewed the records of this Court from prior hearings.

(c) Pre-Filing Order

In the tentative ruling for 10/24/18 (reproduced below), this Court laid out in detail the various defects in Mr. Layfield's papers and this Court's concern that a pre-filing order is necessary to protect the parties and this Court from Mr. Layfield's numerous frivolous and defective filings.

Despite numerous warnings, the tentative finding of fact and conclusion of law is that Mr. Layfield has continued his pattern of filing frivolous papers and making frivolous arguments. At the 10/24/18 hearing, the parties, including Mr. Layfield agreed to a deposition on 11/27/18. Wellgen also stated that they would likely file a Motion for Summary Judgment, which was in fact filed on 11/6/18. (Lay-Invol, Dkt. 100). Yet two weeks later, at 10:51 a.m. on 11/21/18, the day before Thanksgiving and the second business day before his scheduled deposition, Mr. Layfield emailed this Court requesting a telephonic hearing to determine whether he should be required to participate in the deposition. (Lay-Invol, Dkt. 117). Based on the relevant papers, including Mr. Layfield's emails (dkt. 125) and Wellgen's Response (Dkt. 120), and the arguments presented at the hearing on 11/26/18, this Court rejected Mr. Layfield's arguments against proceeding with his deposition. In this Court's view those arguments were frivolous.

The tentative finding, based on all of the foregoing, is that Mr. Layfield's papers have been filed for improper purposes, including harassing and driving up fees and costs for the trustees and creditors in each of these three cases, and delaying these proceedings. He also may be attempting to create a false image that he is diligently attempting to pursue his (former) clients' interests, although this tentative ruling makes no finding on that issue (because such a finding is unnecessary, and probably would require an evidentiary hearing, which would further delay these proceedings).

The tentative ruling is to issue an order to show cause ("OSC") why this Court should not impose the following pre-filing restrictions. Mr. Layfield will not be eligible to self-calendar any matters (notwithstanding this Court's self-calendar procedures); and his filings may not exceed 20 pages of text and 50 pages of exhibits without an application to this Court. The tentative ruling is to set the OSC for hearing at the same date and time as the continued status conferences (see below).

In addition, at the hearing on the OSC (or with prior notice at any other time), this Court may consider other remedies, either on its own motion or on a motion of a party in interest, under Rule 9011, Section 105, this Court's inherent powers, or any other applicable statute, rule, or doctrine. See generally 11 U.S.C. 105(a); Rule 9011 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.); In re Dyer, 322 F.3d 1178, 1196 (9th Cir. 2003); Molski v. Evergreen Dynasty Corp., 500 F.3d 1047, 1057 (9th Cir. 2007); De Long v. Hennessey, et al., 912 F.2d 1144 (9th Cir. 1990); In re Stanwyck, 450 B.R. 181, 200-08 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2011).

(2) Matters on Calendar Today

(a) Layfield's Motion to Transfer Venue (Lay-Invol. dkt. 93)

Deny without leave to amend. First, due to lack of proper service because the Motion was filed without a proof of service. Second, for the reasons stated in Wellgen's oppositon (dkt. 143). The Motion to Transfer Venue is not timely as required by Fed. R. Bankr. P. 1014 because Mr. Layfield was served with the involuntary petition on 8/24/18 (dkt 34) and he did not move to transfer venue until 10/19/18 (dkt 93), despite multiple prior filings. Moreover, venue is proper under 28 U.S.C. 1408(2) due to the pending L&B case, which is an affiliate of Mr. Layfield, and the considerations in favor of any transfer are far outweighed by the considerations in favor of retaining venue in this Court.

(b) Wellgen's Motion for Summary Judgment (Lay-Invol, dkt. 100)

(i) Layfield's Evidentiary Objections (Lay-Invol, dkt. 133)

Overrule Mr. Layfield's evidentiary objections based on the arguments presented in Wellgen's reply (dkt 138) and Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c)(2). An objection may be lodged if the cited material "cannot be presented in a form that would be admissible in evidence." Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c)(2). Each piece of evidence to which Mr. Layfield objects can be presented in an admissible form because they are all final adjudications, public records, and other documents that cannot be reasonably questioned. See, e.g., Fed. R. Evid. 201(b)(2), 803(8)(A) (iii), 807.

(ii) Request for Judicial Notice (Lay-Invol, dkt. 83)

Grant based on the above.

(iii) Motion for Summary Judgment (Lay-Invol, dkt. 100)

Grant based on the evidence and arguments Wellgen presented in the Motion for Summary Judgment ("MSJ") (dkt. 100) and its Reply (dkt. 138).

(iv) Joinder of Petitioning Creditors (Lay-Invol, dkt. 121, 122, 123, 124, 134, 135)

In the alternative, the tentative ruling is that it would be proper to grant summary judgment and issue the order for relief in Mr. Layfield's involuntary bankruptcy case, even if he were able to present a bona fide dispute as to the liability or amount of involuntary petitioning creditor Wellgen's claim (which he has not done), because of the joinder of at least one other petitioning creditor. As a preliminary matter, Mr. Layfield's basis to disputing Wellgen's claim is highly speculative and remote.

He alleges that he was not present where the process server swears that he was found and served; assuming that the District Court would find that he was not actually present (contrary to what the process server declared), Mr. Layfield presumes that the process server was not simply mistaken but was engaging in "sewer service"; then he imputes the process server's alleged misconduct to Wellgen's attorneys or speculates that they might have been involved because they sent process servers to various locations where he claims he no longer resided or had business dealings; then he supposes that any such alleged misconduct by Wellgen's attorneys would be imputed to Wellgen; and then he supposes that not only would Wellgen's default judgment be vacated but its entire claim would be disallowed as a sanction against Wellgen. These suppositions do not create a bona fide dispute as to liability or amount; but for purposes of argument, the next portion of this tentative ruling will assume (contrary to the evidence) that Mr. Layfield could establish a bona fide dispute as to Wellgen's claim.

Even in that scenario, he would have to deal with the fact that four additional creditors, Mr. Mitchell Middleton, Mr. Art Hosmer, Mr. Bert Rosenquist, and Mr. Rodney Pimentel, have joined the Involuntary Petition (dkt. 121, 122, 123, 124, 134, 135). Mr. Layfield refused to testify as to those claims based on his Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination at his deposition (dkt 142), so the tentative ruling is that he cannot establish that such claims are subject to a bona fide dispute as to liability or amount.

For example, as to Mr. Pimentel, the State Bar Order (dkt. 83 - Ex. A) ordered Mr. Layfield to pay Mr. Pimentel $742,422.15 in restitution plus 10 percent interest per year from June 20, 2017. Further, Mr. Layfield testified that he had not made restitution to Mr. Pimentel. (Dkt. 142 at p. 133, Lines 4-15). Accordingly, Mr. Pimentel's claim is not subject to a bona fide dispute and would satisfy any deficiency under 11 U.S.C. 303(b) if, for the sake of argument, this Court were to be persuaded that Wellgen's claim is subject to bona fide dispute because of Mr. Layfield's theory about how it allegedly could be disallowed by the District Court.

(c) Layfield's Motion to Dismiss Involuntary Case (Lay-Invol, dkt. 48)

Deny, without leave to amend, based on this Court's ruling on Wellgen's Motion for Summary Judgment. The tentative ruling is that there is no genuine issue of material fact that the petitioning creditors' claims are not subject to bona fide dispute and aggregate at least $15,755 (under 11 U.S.C. 303(b)(2)) and that Mr. Layfield is not paying his debts as they become due (under 11. U.S.C. 303(h) (1)).

(d) Layfield's Motion to Convert Case (Lay-Invol, dkt. 95)

Deny without leave to amend. First, the motion must be stricken based on Mr. Layfield's failure to pay the filing fee.

Second, although this Court tentatively ruled at the hearing on 10/24/18 that the right to convert from chapter 7 to chapter 11 might be absolute - based on differences between chapter 13 (in which a debtor remains in control to some extent) and chapter 11 (in which that is not necessarily so) - on further reflection this Court is persuaded that the possibility of remedial measures in chapter 11 (appointment of a trustee) is not enough to overcome the potential harms from a debtor who seeks to convert in bad faith, and therefore the Supreme Court's reasoning applies equally in both situations. See Marrama v. Citizens Bank of Mass., 549 U.S. 365 (2007); In re Levesque, 473 B.R. 331 (9th Cir. BAP 2012) (applying Marrama to attempted conversion from chapter 7 to chapter 11).

Based on Mr. Layfield's failure to pay the filing fee, the arguments presented by Wellgen (dkt 145), and Mr. Layfield's answers in the deposition (dkt. 142), the tentative ruling is that Mr. Layfield filed the Motion to Convert in bad faith. Therefore, that motion should be denied.

Third, even assuming arguendo that Mr. Layfield had an absolute right to convert his involuntary case to chapter 11 under 11 U.S.C. 706(a), based on Mr. Layfield's own admissions, the State Bar Order, and the arguments of Wellgen (dkt 145), the tentative ruling is that this Court would be forced either (i) to simultaneously appoint a chapter 11 trustee or (ii) to convert the case immediately back to chapter 7, because Mr. Layfield is not qualified to be a debtor-in-possession. Based on the record before this Court, there would be no practical difference in the administration of the case, and the only effect would be added delay, expense, and harassment of the trustees and creditors in these related cases.

For the foregoing reasons, the tentative ruling is that the motion to convert must be denied, and that such denial must be without leave to amend.

(e) Motion to Set Aside Default (Pachulski v. Layfield V, LLC et al.) (L&B, Adv. No. 18-ap-01050-NB, dkt. 27, 28)

Deny based on lack of standing because the Motion to Convert is denied. Further, even if the Motion to Convert were granted, the Court would simultaneously either appoint a chapter 11 trustee or reconvert to chapter 7, and either way Mr. Layfield would not have standing to set aside the default.

(f) Motion to terminate appointment of L&B trustee (L&B dkt. 349, 350).

Deny for the reasons set forth in this Court's order setting the 10/24/18 hearing (dkt. 351).

(g) Motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(k) - Michel LeBlanc (Lay-Invol. dkt. 41).

Deny, due to lack of proper service (see Order, dkt. 50, and proof of service, dkt. 79) (with impermissible "/s/" signature), and for the reasons stated in the Wellgen's opposition (dkt. 68). In addition, although Mr. Layfield asserts that the subject property is exempt, it appears from the docket that he has not filed any bankruptcy Schedule C claiming any property as exempt; and, were he to do so, any party in interest may have objections, so this Court cannot presume that he could claim such exemptions.

(h) Motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(k) - John Jansheki (dkt. 42).

Deny. First, due to lack of proper service. See Order, dkt. 51 (pointing out lack of signature); proof of service (dkt. 77) (with impermissible "/s/" signature); Jansheki Opp. (dkt. 72) (pointing out that service on non-bankruptcy attorneys is inadequate); In re Villar, 317 B.R. 88 (9th Cir. BAP 2004) (same).

Second, for the reasons stated in the Wellgen's opposition (dkt. 69) and by Mr. Jansheki (dkt. 72). Although Mr. Layfield's reply (dkt. 85) asserts that the subject property is exempt, it appears from the docket that he has not filed any bankruptcy Schedule C claiming any property as exempt; and, were he to do so, any party in interest may have objections, so this Court cannot presume that he could claim such exemptions.

(i) "Special appearance" for the limited purpose of objecting to the employment of Jeffrey Golden's Law Firm and the appointment of an interim trustee (dkt. 37).

Overrule Mr. Layfield's objection, in his "special appearance" (dkt. 37), to the Chapter 7 Trustee's application (dkt. 30) to employ Mr. Golden's law firm, and overrule any objection or request for reconsideration of the appointment of the Trustee, because Mr. Layfield's papers are procedurally deficient (as explained in section "(3)" of the tentative ruling, dkt. 64, Exhibit), and also for the reasons stated in Wellgen's response (dkt. 46).

Note: This Court is not persuaded that any waiver by the Trustee of conflicts would be effective to override any non-compliance with 11 U.S.C. 327. But there is no such non-compliance on the present record. To the contrary, the statute specifically provides that an attorney for a creditor may be employed by the Trustee for limited purposes. See 11 U.S.C. 327(a)&(c); In re Fondiller, 15 B.R. 890 (9th Cir. BAP 1981). But in the event that any future conflict or potential conflict were to develop, that must be disclosed and the Trustee would need to request re-authorization or termination of the employment.

(j) Motions for Relief from Stay (L&B dkts. 143, 144)

The parties should be prepared to address the status of the sale of the condos, and any other issues appropriate to address at this status conference.

(k) Motion for protective order (Lay-Invol, dkt. 54, 55).

Chapter 11

Deny, without leave to amend, for the reasons set forth in this Court's order setting the 10/24 hearing (dkt.58) and Wellgen's opposition (dkt. 81)

(l) No leave to amend

The tentative ruling is that Mr. Layfield has not established that he could amend any of his motions to cure the deficiencies noted above, so all of the foregoing denials of his motions should be without leave to amend. If he believes he can propose amendments that would cure the deficiencies, he is directed to address at the hearing how he proposes to do so.

3) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed as an involuntary chapter 7 on 8/3/17 and converted to chapter 11 on 8/11/17.

(a) L&B Bar date: 2/5/18 (timely served, L&B dkt. 133, 157)

(b) L&B Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD. Do not file or serve until further order of this court.

(c) Continued status conference: The tentative ruling is to continue the status conferences in L&B, Max-CA, and Lay-Invol to 12/18/18 at 2:00 p.m., with a brief status report by the trustees due 12/11/18.

(d) Max-CA Scheduled Matters: The tentative ruling is to reschedule the pending Motion for Order Approving Stipulation and Closing Case (Max-CA dkt. 137) and the Final Fee Application (Max-CA, dkt 131) from 12/18/18 at 11:00 a.m. to 12/18/18 at 2:00 p.m. to be heard concurrently with the continued status conferences.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

Proposed orders: This Court will issue a "Memorialization of Tentative Rulings" with a copy of these tentative rulings attached, so that they are on the docket. Within 7 days thereafter, the prevailing parties are directed to lodge proposed orders via LOU, adopting this Court's oral rulings at the hearing, based on the tentative rulings, except as modified by this Court's findings of fact and conclusions of law made on the record at the hearing (as permitted by Rule 52(a)(1) (incorporated by Rules 7052 and 9014(c), Fed. R. Bankr. P.). See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B). For purposes of this paragraph, if this Court adopts the tentative ruling in the LeBlanc matter, Wellgen is considered the prevailing party (in the absence of any response from Mr. LeBlanc).

Chapter 11

Tentative Ruling 10/24/18:
Appearances required.

(1) General matters

(a) Combined status conferences in the interrelated bankruptcy cases

This Status Conference is being held in each of the three related bankruptcy cases before this Court: (a) In re Layfield & Barrett, APC, Case No. 2:17-bk-19548-NB ("L&B"); (b) In re Layfield, Case No. 2:18-bk-15829-NB ("Lay-Invol."), (c) In re Maximum Legal (Cal.), LLP, Case No. 2:17-bk-18433-NB ("Max-CA").

(b) Service of status conference order in L&B Case

The parties are reminded that this Court's order issued on 8/14/17 (L&B dkt. 28) provides that this Court may take various actions at any status conference in the L&B chapter 11 case without further notice. Although that order directed Debtor to serve a copy of that order on all parties in interest, it appears that Debtor never did so. The tentative ruling is to direct the Trustee in the Layfield & Barrett case to do so.

(c) PDF procedures for Mr. Layfield

The parties should be prepared to address whether there is any reason why this Court should not adopt the procedures set forth in the tentative ruling requiring Mr. Layfield to file and serve documents in PDF format. See, e.g., In re Layfield (Case No. 2:18-bk-15829-NB), dkt. 88.

(d) Other procedures for Mr. Layfield

This Court has reviewed every page of every paper filed by Mr. Layfield to date, including, for example, one motion that includes what he has estimated as either 3,500 pages or "over 4,000 pages" of exhibits. See Max-CA dkt. 113, p.10:1 (emphasis added), & dkt. 123, p.2:11. Most if not all of the documents accompanying Mr. Layfield's motions appear to be duplicative and irrelevant.

More generally, Mr. Layfield has shown a pattern of ignoring the applicable rules for service, notice, and other procedures. His papers generally consist of stream-of-consciousness allegations, with few if any citations to any statute, rule, court decision, or evidence, except blanket references to massive quantities of documents in bulk.

This Court has pointed out these problems repeatedly, but Mr. Layfield has not taken any meaningful measures to correct the problems (e.g., he has filed supplemental proofs of service in some matters, but those are also deficient). Mr. Layfield's massive sets of documents, lack of adherence to procedures, and lack of citations to law or evidence all place an unfair burden on parties in interest, as well as this Court. See, e.g., L&B dkt. 351 (order re motion to terminate appointment of trustee); L&B dkt. 355 (order denying "protocol" motion); L&B Adv. P. 2:18-ap-01050-NB (the "Utah Condo A/P") dkt. 29 (order re motion to set aside default); Lay-Invol. dkt. 50 (order re 362(k) motion v. LeBlanc); Lay-Invol. dkt. 51 (order re 362(k) motion v. Jansheski); Lay-Invol. dkt. 56 (order re motion to dismiss involuntary case); Lay-Invol. dkt. 58 (order re motion for protective order); Lay-Invol. dkt. 64 (order re "special appearance"); Max-CA dkt. 116, p.1:19-4:5 (order re motion to dismiss case).

In addition, Mr. Layfield's motions appear to lack merit. Opposing parties and this Court have explained why, as set forth in the tentative rulings for all of the matters that are on for hearing today (10/24/18).

All of the foregoing defects suggests that Mr. Layfield's papers have been filed for improper purposes, such as to harass the parties, delay these proceedings, or create a false image that he is diligently attempting to pursue his (former) clients' interests. See, e.g., Max-CA dkt. 116 (order on motion to dismiss case). The tentative ruling is that this Court will issue an order to show cause why Mr. Layfield should not be subject to a "pre-filing order." In addition, this Court may consider other remedies, either on its own motion or on a motion of a party in interest, under Rule 9011, Section 105, this Court's inherent powers, or any other applicable statute, rule, or doctrine. See generally 11 U.S.C. 105(a); Rule 9011 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.); In re Dyer, 322 F.3d 1178, 1196 (9th Cir. 2003); Molski v. Evergreen Dynasty Corp., 500 F.3d 1047, 1057 (9th Cir. 2007); De Long v. Hennessey, et al., 912 F.2d 1144 (9th Cir. 1990); In re Stanwyck, 450 B.R. 181, 200-08 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2011).

(2) Matters on Calendar Today (10/24/18)

(a) Mr. Layfield's motion to dismiss Max-CA case (Max-CA dkt. 113, 114). Deny, without leave to amend, for the reasons stated in the tentative ruling for calendar no. 1 (10/24/18 at 10:00 a.m.).

(b) Motion to terminate appointment of L&B trustee (L&B dkt. 349, 350). Deny for the reasons set forth in this Court's order setting this hearing (dkt. 351). The parties should be prepared to address whether leave to amend should be granted.

(d) Motions for relief from stay (L&B dkt. 143, 144) (Utah Condos); and Status Conference re related fraudulent transfer action (Utah Condo A/P) (L&B, Adv. No. 18-ap-01050-NB). (f) Motion to dismiss involuntary case (Lay-Invol. dkt. 48). Deny, without leave to amend, for the reasons set forth in this Court's order setting this hearing (adv. dkt. 56), Wellgen's opposition (adv. dkt. 73, pp.4:25-12:15), the joinder (dkt. 82, 83) of Richard M. Pachulski, Chapter 11 Trustee of Layfield & Barrett, APC (Case No. 2:17-bk-19548-NB), and Wellgen's Sur-Reply (dkt. 89, Ex.1). Although Mr. Layfield's reply (dkt. 84) asserts that he has grounds to dispute each claim, those grounds are insufficient to rebut the prima facie showing by the petitioners that they hold three claims in an aggregate amount of at least $15,775, and that this is not subject to "bona fide" dispute. 11 U.S.C. 104, 303(b)(2) (emphasis added).

(g) Motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(k) - Michel LeBlanc (Lay-Invol. dkt. 41). Deny, due to lack of proper service (see Order, dkt. 50, and proof of service, dkt. 79) (with impermissible "/s/" signature), and for the reasons stated in the Wellgen's opposition (dkt. 68). In addition, although Mr. Layfield asserts that the subject property is exempt, it appears from the docket that he has not filed any bankruptcy Schedule C claiming any property as exempt; and, were he to do so, any party in interest may have objections.

(h) Motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(k) - John Jansheki (dkt. 42). Deny. First, due to lack of proper service. See Order, dkt. 51 (pointing out lack of signature); proof of service (dkt. 77) (with impermissible "/s/" signature); Jansheki Opp. (dkt. 72) (point out service on non-bankruptcy attorneys is inadequate); In re Villar, 317 B.R. 88 (9th Cir. Overrule Mr. Layfield's objection, in his "special appearance" (dkt. 37), to the Chapter 7 Trustee's application (dkt. 30) to employ Mr. Golden's law firm, and overrule any objection or request for reconsideration of the appointment of the Trustee, because Mr. Layfield's papers are procedurally deficient (as explained in section "(3)" of the tentative ruling attached to this Court' order setting this hearing, dkt. 64, Exhibit), and also for the reasons stated in Wellgen's response (dkt. 46).

Note: This Court is not persuaded that any waiver by the Trustee of conflicts would be effective to override any non-compliance with 11 U.S.C. 327. But there is no such non-compliance on the present record. To the contrary, the statute specifically provides that an attorney for a creditor may be employed by the Trustee for limited purposes. See 11 U.S.C. 327(a)&(c); In re Fondiller, 15 B.R. 890 (9th Cir. BAP 1981). But in the event that any future conflict or potential conflict were to develop, that must be disclosed and the Trustee would need to request re-authorization or termination of the employment.

Tentative Ruling for 9/18/18:

Appearances required. To the extent that this Court has tentative rulings, they are set forth below. The parties should be prepared to address the following issues:

(1) Status conferences in the interrelated bankruptcy cases. Various bankruptcy cases before this Court are interrelated: (a) In re Layfield & Barrett, APC, Case No. 2:17-bk-19548-NB ("L&B"); (b) In re Layfield, Case No. 2:18-bk-15829-NB ("Lay-Invol."), (c) In re Maximum Legal (Cal.), LLP, Case No. 2:17-bk-18433-NB ("Max-CA"). As a matter of calendar management, this Court will hold general status conferences in all of those cases concurrent with the status conferences on specific matters that have been self-calendared or specially set for today (9/18/18 at 2:00 p.m.).

(2) L&B case: Status Conference on Mr. Layfield's Ex Parte Motion to stay proceedings etc. (L&B dkt. 325) (the "Ex Parte Motion"). This Court issued an order (L&B dkt. 325) denying Mr. Layfield's Ex Parte Motion to the extent (if any) that it sought immediate relief (e.g., excusing Mr. Layfield or others from the bar date; staying all matters involving him or others; converting the L&B case to chapter 7; etc.). This Court also set this status conference on Mr. Layfield's Ex Parte Motion. Wellgen filed a response (L&B dkt. 332).

The tentative ruling is that this Court should not take any action at this time. Rather, Mr. Layfield must follow the applicable statutes and rules and file separate motions and/or adversary proceedings for each type of relief that he seeks in his Ex Parte Motion, instead of combining multiple requests in a single document that does not include points and authorities, includes numerous assertions that are not supported by admissible evidence, and does not otherwise comply with the applicable statutes and rules.

For example, Mr. Layfield would need to file and serve a motion to convert the L&B case to chapter 7, and a separate motion to consolidate the L&B case with the Max-CA case. Each of those documents would need to be supported by appropriate points and authorities, declarations, etc.

Although Mr. Layfield requests that this Court establish briefing schedules on the foregoing and other matters, that appears to be premature or unnecessary. The Local Bankruptcy Rules ("LBR") and the self-calendar procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) establish briefing and hearing schedules for typical motions, and there is no showing that special procedures are necessary or appropriate at this stage.

Mr. Layfield (and all other parties in interest) are reminded that they must comply with the Posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov). In addition, they may wish to familiarize themselves with this Court's earlier rulings in these various proceedings. See, e.g., L&B dkt. 288 (order denying Mr. Barrett's motion to stay proceedings).

Nothing in the preceding paragraphs should be interpreted as expressing any opinion about whether Mr. Layfield does or does not have standing or have grounds to seek any of the relief he mentions. For example, both standing and grounds for relief are unclear with respect to Mr. Layfield's request to establish that "all unpaid client claims and unpaid liens relating to client claims must be given priority over any secured creditors or Trustee compensation."

First, this Court is not certain what Mr. Layfield means. Second, it is unclear whether Mr. Layfield has standing to seek a determination of priority of L&B's client's claims over secured creditors' claims or any administrative expenses - presumably that is an issue between those parties. Third, assuming for purposes of discussion that Mr. Layfield is seeking some sort of declaratory judgment that he has an attorney lien with priority over the lien held by Welgen Standard, LLC (as successor to Advocate Capital, Inc.) ("Wellgen"), it is unclear whether he has any standing to assert an attorney lien (which might belong to L&B rather than Mr. Layfield) or any grounds for such relief (e.g., does he assert an attorney lien by operation of nonbankruptcy law, or contract, or on some other ground?). Fourth, it would be premature to set a briefing schedules before he has filed any adversary proceeding and motion(s) or claim objections or whatever other papers may be necessary or appropriate, complete with points and authorities, supported by admissible evidence.

In sum, the tentative ruling to DENY Mr. Layfield's Ex Parte Motion, without prejudice to any properly presented requests for the relief that he appears to seek. The tentative ruling is to direct Wellgen's counsel to prepare an order denying Mr. Layfield's Ex Parte Motion for the reasons stated in this tentative ruling (as they may be augmented or modified at the hearing).

(3) Lay-Invol. case: status conference on Mr. Layfield's "Special Appearance For The Limited Purpose Of Objecting To The Employment Of Jeffrey Golden's Law Firm And The Appointment Of An Interim Trustee" (Lay-Invol. dkt. 37, the "Special Appearance"). Mr. Layfield appears to be attempting to combine at least three separate matters in a single document: (a) limiting his appearance in some way (although it is unclear whether he can limit his appearance and also request the other relief he seeks); (b) challenging the appointment of an interim chapter 7 trustee (the "Interim Trustee") and/or objecting to the selection of Mr. Avery as such Interim Trustee (see Lay-Invol. dkt. 13, order) (it is unclear what relief Mr. Layfield actually seeks); and (c) objecting to the pending application (Lay-Invol. dkt. 30) by the Interim Trustee to employ Weiland Golden Goodrich LLP (Mr. Golden's law firm) (the "Weiland Golden" firm). As with other matters, he has not included points and authorities, he makes numerous allegations that are not supported by admissible evidence, and he has not followed proper procedures.

Due to these deficiencies the tentative ruling is to deny Mr. Layfield's request to set these matters (and others) for hearing on October 23, 24, or 25. See Lay-Invol. dkt. 37, p.3. In addition, the tentative ruling is to deny his request for a stay of various proceedings pending resolution of these matters, for the same reasons why this Court denied his request for a similar stay in the L&B case. See L&B dkt. 325.

Nevertheless, the tentative ruling is to hold a status conference on Mr. Layfield's Special Appearance to address the following issues. To the extent he is attempting to object (a) to the appointment of an Interim Trustee generally or Mr. Avery as such Interim Trustee in particular, or (b) to the Interim Trustee's application to employ the Weiland Golden firm, the parties should be prepared to address:

(i) interim trustee: whether the objection to the appointment of any

Interim Trustee is intended to be a request for reconsideration under Rule 9023 or 9024 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) of this Court's order appointing Mr. Avery; and whether Mr. Layfield can meet the standards under those rules (or any other applicable rules or decisions), including whether Mr. Layfield was properly served and whether he has grounds to assert that there is not cause for appointment of an interim trustee at all (if that is his objection), or grounds to object to Mr. Avery as the Interim Trustee who was selected (if that is his objection); and

(ii) employment of law firm: whether this Court should, sua sponte, address the alleged conflict of interest in the Weiland Golden firm representing both the Chapter 7 Trustee (on matters not involving Wellgen) and Wellgen (see 11 U.S.C. 327(c)), or the alleged wrongdoing by that law firm (which it denies, see Lay-Invol. dkt. 37-5, Ex.I, Part V, at PDF pp. 59 et seq.), including whether this Court should set those issues for hearing; whether this Court should set a deadline for Mr. Layfield to file and serve points and authorities and any supporting evidence; and whether the United States Trustee should be requested to participate.

The tentative rulings on these issues are that, although Mr. Layfield's Special Appearance is inadequate to place the foregoing matters at issue, nevertheless the administration of these cases might be impeded unless this Court establishes a briefing schedule to obtain greater certainty, in view of Mr. Layfield's arguments, about who does or does not have authority to act for the bankruptcy estates. The tentative ruling is to give Mr. Layfield a deadline of 9/25/18 to file and serve his objections; a deadline of 10/2/18 for any response by the Interim Trustee or the Weiland Golden firm; a deadline of 10/9/18 for any reply; and a hearing date of 10/16/18 at 2:00 p.m., and to invite the U.S. Trustee to file papers by the same deadlines and appear at the hearing. The tentative ruling is to direct the Weiland Golden firm to prepare a proposed order memorializing those deadlines (with an attached copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling regarding those deadlines and the reasons for setting them).

(4) L&B case, Pachulski v. Layfield V, LLC and Philip Layfield (Adv. No. 2:18-ap-1050-NB) ("CondoAdv."), suggestion of bankruptcy (CondoAdv. dkt. 22), and related motions for relief from automatic stay (L&B dkt. 143, 144) (the "WF R/S Motions"). Mr. Layfield points out that the order granting the plaintiff's motion for a default judgment (CondoAdv. dkt. 18) and the judgment (CondoAdv. dkt. 17), were entered on 5/25/18, which is a few days after the involuntary bankruptcy petition was filed against him (LayInvol. dkt.1) on 5/21/18. This Court notes that the WF R/S Motions are scheduled for a continued hearing on 10/2/18 at 1:00 p.m.

The parties should be prepared to address how this adversary proceeding should be prosecuted going forward, and whether they are seeking any procedural orders or other relief from this Court to aid in the diligent prosecution of this matter. The tentative ruling is, as a matter of sua sponte calendar management, to continue the WF R/S Motions to 10/16/18 at 2:00 p.m., to be heard concurrent with the other matters in these interrelated cases. The tentative ruling is to direct counsel for Wellgen to file a notice of that continued hearing and serve it no later than 9/21/18 via U.S. mail on Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. as well as the debtors, trustees, and other parties asserting any interest in the subject condominium properties in the L&B, Lay-Invol., and Max-CA cases.

(5) Mr. Layfield's future filings. This Court has reviewed all of the papers filed by Mr. Layfield in the three interrelated cases and the adversary proceedings in those cases. Those papers are disorganized and exceptionally lengthy.

This Court recognizes that Mr. Layfield may have been impeded by his recent incarceration and other changes in his life, but any litigant, particularly an attorney, must provide coherent arguments, points and authorities as needed, and admissible evidence on relevant factual issues. In future, this Court may strike papers that do not meet these minimum standards and comply with the applicable rules.

(6) Mr. Layfield's requests for electronic service. This Court is confused by Mr. Layfield's requests (L&B dkt. 333, p.2:21-23; Lay. dkt. 37, p.2) that he be granted some sort of special electronic ability to file or be served. Although Mr. Layfield claims that he is "unable to receive ECF notifications," he does not explain why that is so.

Attorneys can sign up for electronic filing and notices ("CM/ECF" and "NEF"). Even non-attorneys can gain access to the docket ("PACER"). All parties in interest can receive email service by filing a request for special notice and consent to such service (and, for debtors, there is the additional option of signing up for electronic notices via this Court's "DeBN" program - instructions are available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov). See Rule 5(b)(2)(E)&(F) (Fed. R. Civ. P.) (incorporated by Rules 7005 & 9014(b), Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

To the extent that Mr. Layfield is requesting any relief that is not already available to him, this request is DENIED.

(7) L&B Case: Mr. Layfield's purported transfers of various claims to himself (dkt. 335-341) (the "Self-Transfers"). The parties should be prepared to address the Self-Transfers.

(8) Max-CA case. This Court notes that Mr. Barrett has filed a motion for relief from the automatic stay (Max-CA dkt. 108, the "Barrett R/S Motion"), set for hearing on 10/2/18 at 10:00 a.m., to assert counterclaims in one of the adversary proceedings in the L&B Case (Wellgen Standard, LLC v. Max. Legal (Cal.) LLP, Adv. No. 2:17-ap-01503-NB). Although this Court has considered sua sponte rescheduling the Barrett R/S Motion (to be heard concurrent with the 10/16/18 hearings tentatively set by this tentative ruling), it appears more efficient to leave the existing hearing as is.

(9) Mr. Layfield's address for service. This Court notes that Mr. Layfield has used variations of an address in Washington, D.C., as well as other addresses, in various documents filed recently. These multiple addresses seem prone to confusing and prejudicing parties in interest, including Mr. Layfield himself, because an address filed in one case or proceeding might or might not be used (or even known to parties) in a different case or proceeding, and because Mr. Layfield has asserted in the past that he has not been properly served.

Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to issue an order directing Mr. Layfield, no later than 9/24/18, (a) to file in each of the three bankruptcy cases (L&B, Lay-Invol., and Max-CA) and in each adversary proceeding in which he has filed any papers or is named in any capacity, a notice designating a single address for U.S. mail or overnight delivery to be used in all of these cases and related proceedings, as well as a single email address, and a statement about whether he agrees to accept service via email, and (b) to serve that notice via U.S. mail on all parties in interest (the entire creditor matrix in all cases and adversary proceedings). If Mr. Layfield fails to do so, the tentative ruling is that this Court will interpret his failure to respond as an attempt to maintain a factual ambiguity about which address is appropriate, and this Court may issue an order selecting the address that appears to be the most recent and, possibly, establishing evidentiary presumptions about service or other matters. The tentative ruling is to direct Wellgen to prepare a proposed order reflecting the foregoing, and to attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling on the procedure for Mr. Layfield's address to be determined.

(10) Joint Status Conference: In addition to the above, due to the interrelated nature of the L&B, Lay-Invol., and Max-CA cases, this Court finds it appropriate to conduct a joint status conference in each of these cases (2:17-bk-19548-NB; 2:18-bk-15829-NB; 2:17-bk-18433-NB) on 10/16/18 at 2:00 pm. This joint status conference will be used to address any concerns this Court or the parties address at this 9/18/18 hearing, and any other pending issues that may arise.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 9/19/17:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Order for relief. This case was commenced as an involuntary chapter 7, and thereafter the debtor filed a motion (dkt. 19) to convert this case to chapter 11, which this court treated at a hearing on 8/8/17 as a consent to an order for relief conditioned on such conversion. This court orally ordered relief and granted the motion to convert to chapter 11, and although the latter order was reduced to writing (dkt. 25) the former was not. The tentative ruling is to direct the Chapter 11 Trustee to prepare and lodge a written order, memorializing that the oral order for relief was effective on 8/8/17. The parties should be prepared to address whether that written order should modify any deadlines that otherwise would apply (see next paragraph), notwithstanding that all parties in interest appear to have been present in person or on the telephone at that 8/8/17 hearing.

(b) Lack of information. The Chapter 11 Trustee's status report (dkt. 79) indicates that the debtor has yet to provide information on numerous issues, notwithstanding Rule 1007(a)(2), (b) and (c). The docket does not reflect that the debtor has filed bankruptcy schedules, a statement of financial affairs, or other information, or filed any motion for extension of time. What is the current status, and what additional action may be appropriate?

(c) Clients. This court has approved a client transfer protocol (dkt. 83). What is the status of those transfers?

(d) Reconversion? The debtor's status report (dkt. 80, at PDF p.3:4-21) suggests that, although the debtor and other parties in interest stipulated (dkt. 38) to the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee, and this court approved that stipulation (dkt. 42), nevertheless this case is essentially being operated as a chapter 7 liquidation and should be converted back to chapter 7. What are the positions of parties in interest on that issue?

(e) Joint administration? Should this case be jointly administered (not procedurally consolidated) with the case of Maximum Legal (California), LLP (Case No. 2:17-bk-18433-NB)?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed as an involuntary chapter 7 on 8/3/17 and converted to chapter 11 on 8/11/17.

#1.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [RP]

WILMINGTON TRUST
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 36

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief. Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." #3.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [RP]

CITIMORTGAGE, INC.
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 72

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(4).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a).

Relief in other past or pending cases

The motion (dkt. 72 at PDF p.8) requests "a provision that makes annulment binding in any bankruptcy cases pending as of 11/06/2018, no matter who the debtor may be, in order to prevent back-dated transfer instruments from circumventing prospective relief and affecting the 11/06/2018 trustee sale." From the facts alleged in the motion there is ample cause for such relief, but the tentative ruling is that procedurally such relief must be sought in a different manner. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311). Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to deny the request for such relief without prejudice to supplemental proceedings seeking such relief.

Chapter 13

Grant the request for retroactive annulment of the stay. See In re Fjeldsted, 293 B.R. 12 (9th Cir. BAP 2003).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31), as applicable:

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed, including any eviction actions, through and including any lockout or other enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that the debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that the debtor was involved and the debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that the debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is not sufficient evidence and notice.

No prejudice to debtor intended. Based on the record, it appears that this is a "hijacked" case, and that Debtor is innocent of any involvement. See e.g., In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (describing hijacking); In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012) (same). Accordingly this motion should not subject Debtor to a 180-day bar on filing another bankruptcy case if, in the future, Debtor requests and obtains a voluntary dismissal (11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2)) under authority that section 109 "eligibility issues" are nonjurisdictional, can be waived, forfeited, or subject to estoppel, and should not be applied if that would produce an "illogical, unjust, or capricious result, or when the benefit of dismissal would inure to a bad faith creditor." In re Leafly, 489 B.R. 545, 550-51 (9th Cir. Bap 2012) (citing cases including under 109(g)(2)). See also In re Mendez, 367 B.R. 109, 116-17 (9th Cir. BAP 2007); In re Luna, 122 B.R. 575, 577 (9th Cir. BAP 1991); Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 270. Based on the foregoing, the tentative ruling is to condition any relief from the automatic stay on this Court's determination that sections 109(g)(2) and 362(b)(21)(A) shall not apply to Debtor or any property other than the property that is the subject of this motion for relief from the automatic stay.

Effective date of relief

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply. This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). FEDERAL NATIONAL MORTGAGE ASSOCIATION
vs
DEBTOR(S)

Docket 65

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/11/18 (same as 11/6/18):

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address (a) whether the alleged arrears have been brought current and/or (b) whether they will agree to the terms of an adequate protection order (see Loan Modification Final Report, dkt. 89).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 9/18/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

The parties should be prepared to provide an update regarding the LMM status, and any other matters relevant to this motion.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at

Tentative Ruling for 8/7/18:

Continue to 9/18/18 at 10:00 a.m. to address the following issues.

Appearances are not required on 8/7/18.

At the 5/22/18 hearing, this Court continued the matter for the debtors to complete the LMM Program (see Order granting motion to commence LMMP, dkt. 80). This Court has reviewed the debtors' filed status report (dkt. 82), which states that debtor is current with all adequate protection payments. Nothing in this tentative ruling keeps the parties from alerting chambers of any wish to appear at the 8/7/18 hearing in order to inform this Court about any other issues pertaining to the underlying motion.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 5/22/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address whether they will agree to the terms of an adequate protection order (see the debtor's response, dkt. 75).

Debtor's motion uses the Kelly Blue Book valuation to "Buy from a Private Party." Dkt. 8, Ex.B (emphasis added). The tentative ruling is that Debtor must provide evidence of what it would cost to purchase (not trade-in) from a retail merchant (not a private party) a vehicle of the same make, model, and condition as Debtor's vehicle.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/11/18:

Appearances required. The parties should be prepared to address (1) why a proposed order memorializing the extended deadlines was not lodged, as directed in the adopted tentative ruling for 11/6/18 (reproduced below) and (2) why a timely status report was not filed as required by that same adopted tentative ruling. The tentative ruling is to continue this status conference to 1/29/19 at 11:00 a.m.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." of this Court has issued notices of non-entry of defaults (dkt. 15, 16). When will the plaintiff correct the deficiencies?

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority. Matters of venue, jurisdiction, and authority have been determined and/or waived or forfeited (adv. docket number(s) 23).

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 11/21/17. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 12/31/18

Expert(s) - deadline for reports: 1/14/19

Dispositive motions to be heard no later than: 2/11/19

Joint Status Report: 9/4/18

Continued status conference: 9/18/18 at 11:00 a.m.; brief status report due 9/4/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

At the 3/6/18 hearing, this Court continued the matter to allow the parties time to meet and confer about the various deadlines that this court should set in this adversary proceeding and/or court-ordered mediation. This court also directed the parties to file a status report by 4/3/18, but the parties have not done so.

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties are directed to address why they have not filed a status report, and to provide an oral status report, and are cautioned that continued failure to adhere to the applicable rules and orders of this Court may result in sanctions. The tentative ruling is to continue this status conference to 5/29/18 at 11:00 a.m. with a brief status report due 5/15/18.

by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 3/6/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

The parties requested a brief continuance of this status conference from 2/27/18 to today's date (see Joint Status Report, adv. dkt. 10). At the status conference on 1/23/18 there was no appearance for the plaintiff, and this Court was persuaded that it was premature to adopt the deadlines stated in the tentative ruling for that status conference (reproduced below). There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to discuss the status of this case.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 2/27/18:

Continue to 3/6/18 at 11:00 a.m. Appearances are not required on 2/27/18.

Reasons: At the status conference on 1/23/18 there was no appearance for the plaintiff, and this Court was persuaded that it was premature to adopt the deadlines stated in the tentative ruling for that status conference (reproduced below). The plaintiff and one defendant (the debtor) have now filed a joint status report (adv. dkt. 10) requesting a brief continuance.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Appearances required. The court has reviewed the parties' filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding. The parties must address why they failed to file the required status report, and also the following issues. The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority. The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 2/6/18 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(3) Deadlines/dates: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 11/21/17. The tentative ruling is to set the following deadlines/dates. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 5/1/18

Expert(s) - deadline for reports: 5/8/18

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 5/1/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures"). This court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (dkt. 27).

(1) Mediation. The tentative ruling is to order mandatory mediation (again), with a deadline of 5/15/18 for the parties to lodge proposed mediation order(s).

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 2/24/17. Due to the parties' prior delays and an anticipated settlement the normal deadlines for completion of discovery and other matters have not been applied. The tentative ruling is to set the following deadlines, to run concurrent with the parties' mediation. The parties are cautioned that once the following deadlines have been established this Court is unlikely to be persuaded to amend them.

Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 9/3/18.

Expert(s) - deadline for reports: 9/17/18.

Expert(s) - discovery cutoff (if different from above): 9/24/18.

Dispositive motions to be heard no later than: 11/6/18.

Joint Status Report: 6/12/18.

Continued status conference: 6/26/18 at 11:00 a.m.

Lodge Joint Proposed Pre-Trial Order: 10/11/17.

Appearances required. The court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (dkt. 10) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. Chapter 7

Tentative Ruling for 10/16/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling but the parties should be prepared to address the following issues.

(1) Background

Plaintiff filed a motion (adv. dkt. 14) for summary judgment on his first claim for relief (constructively fraudulent transfer) and the second claim for relief (declaratory relief that the purported trust is ineffective to prevent creditors from reaching the assets) in his complaint (adv. dkt. 1). This Court issued an order (adv. dkt. 31) denying summary judgment on the first claim but granting it on the second, for the reasons stated therein - principally the reasons in the Revised Tentative Ruling for 3/20/18 (reproduced below).

Defendants appealed. The District Court dismissed the appeal as interlocutory. See adv. dkt. 52, 53. The parties' joint status report states (adv. dkt. 54, p.4, sec.G) that they have executed but not filed a stipulation "that the dismissed appeal can be re-filed as an interlocutory appeal but on the condition that the trial proceed on the remaining fraudulent transfer claim for relief."

(2) Current issues

It is not clear what the parties intend, or what procedural steps this Court should take. Whatever is in the parties' unfiled stipulation presumably will not bind the District Court (or any other court hearing the appeal) in deciding whether to grant leave to appeal this Court's interlocutory ruling, so what do the parties hope to accomplish with their stipulation? Moreover, the parties' stated intention to proceed simultaneously in both this Bankruptcy Court and the District Court usually is not possible because an appeal generally deprives this court of jurisdiction. Cf. Rule 54(b) (Fed. R. Civ. P., incorporated by Rule 7054, Fed. R. Bankr. P.), and compare Rule 8008 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.). To the extent, if any, that this Court has discretion to grant any relief that would make such dual-tracking possible, is that an appropriate use of judicial resources? On a separate issue, if the plaintiff intends to proceed with the first claim for relief, does the plaintiff plan to amend the complaint to cure the deficiencies in that claim (constructively fraudulent transfer) noted in the tentative ruling for 3/20/18?

The tentative ruling is to continue this status conference to 11/6/18 at 11:00 a.m. with a deadline of 10/23/18 for the parties to file and serve

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures"). There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should apprise this court about the status of any appeals or other matters (see dkt. 31, order granting in part plaintiff's motion for summary judgment, and dkt. 35, notice of appeal). The tentative ruling is to set a continued status conference for 7/17/18 at 11:00 a.m., with a brief status report due 7/6/18.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Revised Tentative Ruling for 3/20/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Motion for summary judgment (adv. dkt. 14-18, the "MSJ"); opposition papers (adv. dkt. 22-25); and reply papers (adv. dkt. 26-27). The tentative ruling is to deny in part and grant in part the MSJ, as set forth below.

(a) Legal standards. The legal standards governing motions for summary judgment are well known, do not appear to be disputed by the parties, and need not be repeated in this tentative ruling.

(b) First claim for relief (fraudulent transfer). Although the complaint (adv. dkt.1) asserts fraudulent transfer claims under both California law and the Bankruptcy Code, the MSJ limits this to 11 U.S.C. 548. The MSJ also asserts only constructive, not actual, fraud. See adv. dkt. 14, pp.2:21-3:1.

The complaint alleges less than reasonably equivalent value (11 U.S.C. 548(a)(1)(B)(i)) - namely, transfers by the debtors/defendants for no value from the debtors and/or their revocable trusts (the assets of which apparently could be reached by creditors) to irrevocable trusts. But to establish the elements of a constructively fraudulent transfer the plaintiff must also establish one of three types of insolvency (commonly referred to as "balance sheet," "inadequate capital," or "cash flow" insolvency) or else a transfer to an insider under an "employment contract." See 11 U.S.C. 548(a)(1)(B)(ii)(I)-(IV). There is no allegation about any employment contract, so the plaintiff must establish some type of insolvency.

The MSJ refers to balance sheet insolvency (11 U.S.C. 101(32A)). But the complaint never alleges that type of insolvency, so the plaintiff cannot be granted partial summary judgment as to that element (11 U.S.C. 548(a)(1)(B)(ii)(I)).

The complaint alleges inadequate capital and inadequate cash flow (in language that roughly parallels 11 U.S.C. 548(a)(1)(B)(ii)(II)&(III)). But the MSJ extrapolates that those types of insolvency could be presumed based on the bankruptcy schedules many months after the transfer, and from the sheer number of lawsuits and eventual judgments against the defendants and other circumstantial evidence. Those things might (or might not) be persuasive at trial, but they are insufficient to establish a lack of genuine issue of fact.

(c) Second claim for relief (declaratory relief related to nature of the trusts). The complaint (adv. dkt. 1, para. 23) seeks a declaratory judgment (i) that the debtors/defendants are "beneficiaries" of the trusts within the meaning of California Probate Code 15304, (ii) that the benefits the debtors/defendants receive from the trusts are "property of the estate" under 11 U.S.C. 541, and (iii) that the trusts qualify as "self-settled trusts" under California law, which the MSJ uses as shorthand for a trust the assets of which are reachable by creditors.

Various provisions of the Bankruptcy Code define what property is part of the bankruptcy estate:

The bankruptcy estate includes "all legal or equitable interests of the debtor in property as of the commencement of the case." 11 U.S.C. § 541(a)(1). It does not include, however, "any power that the debtor may exercise solely for the benefit of another," 11 U.S.C. § 541(b)(1), nor does it include "[p]roperty in which the debtor holds ... only legal title and not an equitable interest." 11 U.S.C. § 541(d). Similarly, the estate does not include property containing "[a] restriction on the transfer of a beneficial interest of the debtor in a trust that is enforceable under applicable nonbankruptcy law." 11 U.S.C. § 541(c)(2). [In re Cutter, 398 B.R. 6, 18-19 (9th Cir. BAP 2008).]

Chapter 7

Under California law:

(a) If the settlor is a beneficiary of a trust created by the settlor and the settlor's interest is subject to a provision restraining the voluntary or involuntary transfer of the settlor's interest, the restraint is invalid against transferees or creditors of the settlor. The invalidity of the restraint on transfer does not affect the validity of the trust.

(b) If the settlor is the beneficiary of a trust created by the settlor and the trust instrument provides that the trustee shall pay income or principal or both for the education or support of the beneficiary or gives the trustee discretion to determine the amount of income or principal or both to be paid to or for the benefit of the settlor, a transferee or creditor of the settlor may reach the maximum amount that the trustee could pay to or for the benefit of the settlor under the trust instrument, not exceeding the amount of the settlor's proportionate contribution to the trust. [California Probate Code 15304]

The California Supreme Court has held that to the extent that the settlor of a trust is also a beneficiary, creditors can reach the property held by the trust:

It is against public policy to permit a man to tie up his property in such a way that he can enjoy it but prevent his creditors from reaching it, and where the settlor makes himself a beneficiary of a trust any restraints in the instrument on the involuntary alienation of his interest are invalid and ineffective. Since [the settlor] was the sole beneficiary, all the property in the trust is subject to the claims of his creditors. [Nelson v. Cal. Trust Co., 33 Cal.2d 501, 501-02 (1949) (emphasis added)]

These principles have been more recently reaffirmed in a decision of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals:

[U]nder California law, a settlor of a spendthrift trust cannot also act as beneficiary of that trust (i.e., California law prohibits "self-settled" trusts). See Cal. Prob.Code § 15304(a) (West 1987). California law voids self-settled trusts to prevent individuals from placing their property beyond the reach of their creditors while at the same time still reaping the bounties of such property. See Nelson v. California Trust Co., 33 Cal.2d 501, 202 P.2d 1021,

1021 (Cal. 1949). [In re Moses, 167 F.3d 470, 473 (9th Cir. 1999)]

In addition, the MSJ cites authority that if beneficiaries exercise "excessive" control over a trust then under California law they cannot "shield that trust with an anti-alienation provision lacking true substance." In re Moses, 167 F.3d 470, 473 (9th Cir. 1999) (citation omitted) (emphasis added). See also In re Cutter, 398 B.R. 6, 22 (9th Cir. BAP 2008). MSJ (adv. dkt. 14, p.10:1-14).

The debtors argue that their situation is different from that in Cutter because "the Debtor in Cutter could potentially use all the Trust's principal and income to maintain his standard of living, without limitation" whereas "[t] here is no such provision" in the debtors' trusts. Dkt. 22, p.3:22-26 (italics added to case name). That distinction of Cutter (and the other authorities cited above) is unpersuasive.

The MSJ points to the following facts in support of its argument that (i) the debtors are also beneficiaries and (ii) the anti-alienation provisions of the trust lack "true substance." The debtor/defendants do not raise any genuine contrary issues of fact.

(i) The debtors deducted mortgage interest and real estate taxes on their 2015 tax returns. See dkt. 18, p.4:5-9 (and evidence cited therein).

(ii) During the "initial period" of the trusts (the earlier of the grantors' deaths or 16 years) the debtors can continue to live in the property rent-free. See Dkt. 18, p.4:10-15 (and evidence cited therein).

(iii) During that same period, any net income or excess cash is distributed to the debtors. See Dkt. 18, p.4:16-21 (and evidence cited therein).

(iv) The debtors can manage the property as "absolute owners." See Dkt. 18, p.4:22-28 (and evidence cited therein).

(v) The debtors can loan money to themselves and/or use the property to secure loans to themselves. See Dkt. 18, p.5:2-7 (and evidence cited therein).

(vi) During their lifetime, the debtors can make discretionary distributions to their children, and upon their deaths the trust assets are to be distributed to their children. See Dkt. 18, p.5:8-12 (and evidence cited therein).

Based on the foregoing, it appears that the debtors are indeed

Appearances required. The court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (dkt. 5) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

This court recognizes that, at least at this stage, the attorney who filed the answer (dkt. 4) for both trustees of the trust has also executed the Status Report (dkt. 5) on behalf of one of the defendant trustees (the debtor/defendant) asserting that neither of them can consent to this Bankruptcy Court entering a final judgment because third party beneficiaries of the trust allegedly have a right to have their rights litigated "outside of this venue." Counsel for the answering defendants should be prepared (a) to explain whether this is a Stern objection or something else and (b) whether both answering defendants or only one of them takes this position, and if the former, why he did not execute the status report on behalf of both of them.

Counsel for the plaintiff should be prepared to address whether the plaintiff contends that there are no additional parties who need to be joined, and why.

(2) Mediation. The plaintiff suggests in the Status Report (adv. dkt. 5) that mediation, if any, should not be ordered before dispositive motion(s) are heard, which the plaintiff anticipates will be by 3/1/18. The tentative ruling is to revisit the issue of mediation after that date.

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 9/26/17. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 3/1/18

Expert(s) - deadline for reports: 2/20/18

Expert(s) - discovery cutoff (if different from above): 3/1/18

Trial commencement: 4/23/18 at 9:00 a.m.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) MORs (dkt. 51, 52, 50 for Aug., Sept. & Oct.)

(i) The Payroll Account continues to show a negative balance. How is that sustainable? (ii) The amended August MOR provides for payments to insider Savita Viradia. Why was there no notice of insider compensation filed and served for this person, and what consequences should follow? (a) Bar date: 12/11/18 (order, dkt. 35).

wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) MORs (dkt. 44, 45)

MOR1 (for August, 2018) shows an ending balance of negative $4,549.03. MOR2 (for September 2018) shows an ending balance of negative $4,074.81. Both MORs also show negative postpetition accounts receivable. What does that mean?

Both MORs were also filed late. They were due middle of the month following the reporting period, and this Court's adopted tentative ruling for 10/9/18 directed that the defective August MOR be cured by 10/15/18 but it and the September MOR were not filed until 10/31/18.

Are the (untimely) MORs inaccurate? How can parties in interest and this Court rely on them for current information? If they're accurate, they appear to show losses, or at least an inability to generate profits that would be needed to reorganization.

In view of all the foregoing, should this case be converted or dismissed?

(b) Insider compensation

Debtor's notices of insider compensation (dkt. 46, 47) were not served until 10/24/18, even though this Court's adopted tentative ruling for 10/9/18 directed service no later than 10/12/18. Why?

Meanwhile, although Debtor's principal Neel Viradia declares under penalty of perjury that no unauthorized insider compensation has been paid (dkt. 45, p.16, answer #2), the breakdown of payroll in the MORs apparently shows otherwise (e.g., dkt. 45, p.5, lines 1-2). The form itself states (e.g., dkt. 47, p.2, bottom of page): "[T]his notice ... must be filed and served fifteen days before any pay out of compensation ...." What consequences should follow from Debtor's apparent violation of that limitation?

(c) Employment (dkt. 32, superseded by amended application, dkt. 42)

The amended application does not specify whether the $10,000 fee already paid by Batuk Viradia (and the filing fee), or the $2,000 he has committed to pay, are loans to Debtor, or gifts, or equity investments, or something else. Nor has he filed a declaration confirming that he understands that proposed counsel's sole loyalty must be to Debtor (not to Mr. Viradia), and that has been informed that there might be conflicts of interest and he may wish to seek separate counsel (e.g., conflicts could exist if Mr. Viradia received any preferential payments or other avoidable transfers, or if Mr. Viradia would prefer that Debtor take a course of action that is not in the best interests of creditors).

More generally, although payment of a retainer by a third party is not outright prohibited, it is fraught with ethical concerns. See In re Kelton Motors, Inc., 109 B.R. 641 (Bankr. D. Vt. 1989); In re Hathaway Ranch Partnership, 116 B.R. 208, 219 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1990); In re Park-Helena Corp., 63 F.3d 877 (9th Cir. 1995).

The tentative ruling is that, if this case is not dismissed or converted, the employment application must be continued to the date of the continued status conference (set forth below) with a deadline of 11/13/18 for Debtor to file Mr. Viradia's declaration, with a copy of this tentative ruling attached as an exhibit, addressing the issues described above.

(d) Cash collateral. If this case is not dismissed or converted, the tentative ruling is to authorize the use of cash collateral on a final basis, on the same terms as the interim authorization (dkt. 37).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 8/2/18.

(a) Bar date: 12/11/18 (order, dkt. 35). Although the order was not timely served (see dkt. 41), the tentative ruling is that the confusion of setting yet another bar date would outweigh the benefit, and that this Court can address any prejudice from shortened notice when and if anyone files a late claim and seeks to have the claim treated as timely.

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

(c) Continued status conference: If this case is not dismissed or converted, the tentative ruling is to continue this status

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

Revised Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Cash collateral. The tentative ruling is to authorize the use of cash collateral as set forth in the tentative ruling for calendar no. 6 (10/9/18 at 1:00 p.m.).

(b) Insider compensation. Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2014-1(a) requires a notice and opportunity to object before any insider compensation is paid. But no such notice has been filed, and Debtor's Monthly Operating Report ("MOR") for the month ending 8/31/18 reflects payments to each of two insiders. Dkt. 34, at PDF p.8. The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor to serve the notice using the local form no later than 10/12/18.

(c) Bar date. On 9/5/18 this Court entered its "Order Setting Bar Date: November 9, 2018; and Directing Service by Debtor." Dkt. 24. The debtor failed to serve that order. Why? The tentative ruling is to issue an amended order setting a bar date as set forth below.

(d) MOR (dkt. 34). The MOR appears to be incomplete. For example, it refers to multiple accounts but appears to provide only a combined report; many of the entries are vague or have no description; and page one includes a reference to "Non DIP personal checking (see attached letter)" but no letter or any other explanation is attached. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/15/18 to file an amended MOR correcting these and any other deficiencies.

(e) Employment (dkt. 25). As highlighted by the objection of the United States Trustee ("UST") (dkt. 28), the parties should be prepared to address (a) the proposed $12,000 flat fee under 11 U.S.C. 328 and (b) the source of the "loan" for $10,000 of that fee (dkt. 25, p.8) and the source of the remaining $2,000 plus the filing fee.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 8/2/18.

(a) Bar date: See above. In view of Debtor's failure to serve the order

The parties should be prepared to discuss what progress has been made in negotiation with secured creditor Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. (Class 2B in the debtor's draft Plan, dkt. 47). This Court is aware of the motion to approve the stipulation with the holder of Class 2A claims, Bank of New York Mellon (the "Mellon Stip," dkt. 52). Tentative Ruling for 9/4/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtor's draft plan (dkt. 47) and disclosure statement (dkt. 46) and this Court has no issues to raise sua sponte. Has the debtor had any negotiations with secured creditors? Is it more appropriate to allow additional time for such negotiations, or to authorize the debtor to mail a voting package to all parties in interest and set a combined hearing on final approval of the disclosure statement and confirmation of the plan for the same time and date as the continued status conference set forth below?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 3/6/18.

Tentative Ruling for 8/7/18:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 8/7/18.

- (1) Current issues. This Court has no issues to raise sua sponte.
- (2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 3/6/18.
  - (a) Bar date: 6/15/18 (dkt. 23). Timely served (dkt. 41).
  - (b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 8/24/18 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - the court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

- (1) Current issues. The debtor's proofs of service continue to be defective. Elizabeth Cruz declares that she has served the "PROOF OF SERVICE" itself, not the underlying orders. See dkt. 20 at PDF p.2 and dkt. 31 at PDF p.2.

At the hearing counsel is directed to explain why the proofs of service are defective, and what steps will be taken to correct this issue so that it no longer occurs. The deadline is 6/19/18 to file further amended proofs of service of both orders (the order setting principal status conference etc. at dkt. 6, and the bar date order at dkt. 23).

    - (i) Income as of petition date or current? The debtor has filed an amended bankruptcy Schedule I (dkt. 30). Is that actually intended to be a decaration of postpetition income, or a correction of the debtor's income as of the petition date?
    - (ii) Amended budget motion? Should an amended budget motion needs to be filed and served, or is such notice unnecessary and should the budget be deemed amended, in view of what appears to be an increase of approximately $168 in the debtor's monthly income (compare dkt. 13 at PDF p.8, debtor's personal income of $2,800, with dkt. 30, line 7, debtor's personal income of $2,968)?

(1) Current issues.

(a) Budget Motion (dkt. 21). This Court has reviewed Debtor's Supplemental Declaration in Support of the Budget Motion (dkt. 34). Although that declaration addresses many of the concerns raised by this Court and by Strategic Acquisitions, Inc. (dkt. 23), the debtor has failed to provide historical monthly profit and loss statements from the period from 1/1/18 through 3/31/18 as required by this Court's order (dkt. 27, para. 5.a.). The parties should be prepared to address what remedy this Court should impose.

(a) Bar date: 6/15/18 (timely served, dkt. 26, 32).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: In view of the debtor's declaration about her current and future projected income, the tentative ruling is to vacate the prior deadline to file these documents, and set a new deadline at a future status conference, with the caveat that if the debtor fails to show sufficient diligence in obtaining employment and/or if the estate suffers any substantial losses then this Court might have to dismiss or convert this case.

Chapter 11

Tentative Ruling for 4/10/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor herself.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtor's status report (dkt. 19), the response (dkt. 23) filed by creditor Strategic Acquisitions, Inc. ("Strategic"), and the other filed documents and records in this case.

(a) Prior failed case. The debtor's husband's prior case (no. 17-bk-19071-NB) was a chapter 13 case that was dismissed on 10/13/17 with a 180-day bar to re-filing for failure to make plan payments or appear at the meeting of creditors (11 U.S.C. 341(a)).

(b) Budget Motion (dkt. 21). First, as Strategic points out, the debtor's bankruptcy Schedule I, line 8a, lists $6,220/mo. of net income from "rental property and from operating a business, profession, or farm" but fails to follow the instructions to "[a]ttach a statement for each property and business showing gross receipts, ordinary and necessary business expenses, and the total net monthly income." In addition, as Strategic points out, the debtor may be failing to account for the payment of real property taxes and perhaps also income taxes, and therefore it is not at all clear how the debtor will be able to fund any plan of reorganization.

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 4/17/18 for the debtor to file declaration(s) (i) attaching the statement(s) required by the line 8a instructions, (ii) providing complete explanations of any other sources of income (e.g., how long does the debtor anticipate continuing to receive disability payments? does the debtor anticipate returning to employment, and if so, when?), (iii) explaining whether the debtor is accounting for real estate taxes and income taxes, (iv) explaining how the debtor anticipates generating sufficient income to fund a plan of reorganization, and (v) attaching historical monthly accounts for the period of one year prepetition through 3/31/18.

Second, bankruptcy Schedule J (attached to the budget motion), lines 17c and 17d, list payments to Strategic of $1,750/mo. and to Ropers Majeski of $500/mo. The tentative ruling is to treat those payments as adequate protection payments on account of claims that appear to be secured claims, conditioned on return of such payments in the event that such security interests or claims are avoided or otherwise disallowed.

Third, notice of the motion and the deadline for objections is inadequate. The proof of service fails to attach a service list of creditors, and the debtor checked the box directing creditors to file any oppositions within 14 days' from the date of the proof of service (3/27/18), which would be the date of this hearing. Nevertheless, despite the lack of adequate service or notice, the tentative ruling is that on the present record it appears that it would be more prejudicial to creditors to prevent the debtors from making their proposed expenditures than to permit those expenditures, so the tentative ruling is to grant the budget motion on an interim basis, subject to any objections at a continued hearing simultaneous with the continued status conference date set forth below. This court has selected a continued hearing date that contemplates shortened notice (per Rule 9006, Fed. R. Bankr. P.), but that date is conditioned upon the debtor serving the motion on the entire creditor matrix the day after the current hearing date.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 3/13/18.

(a) Bar date: 6/15/18 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: File by 6/29/18 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - the court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time). This Court is aware that the debtor has requested a much later deadline (dkt. 19, p. 5), but this Court is not aware of any reason why so much time is needed. The debtor should be negotiating with secured creditors and other key constituencies already.

(c) Continued status conference: 5/1/18 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." (1) Current issues.

(a) Plan (dkt. 64, the "Plan") and disclosure statement (dkt. 63, the "D/S")

It appears that counsel for Debtor has manually altered the spreadsheets, which defeats the purpose of having automatic (reliable) calculations in the spreadsheets. In addition, it appears that the Plan periods in Ex.A are "1" month and 13 months later (month "14"), whereas on Ex.C Period A is 3 months, Period B is 1 month, and Period C is 6 months, which does not match. In addition, the Effective Date (e.g., on Ex.A & Ex. C) should be revised to a date that is at least two weeks after the combined hearing on the plan and D/S set forth below.

Subject to correction of these issues, the tentative ruling is to conditionally approve the disclosure statement and authorize service of the voting package, all as set forth below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/15/18.

(a) Bar date: 8/14/18 (dkt. 35), timely served (dkt. 38).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement (dkt. 64,63)*: 12/18/18 deadline (i) to file (NOT SERVE - except on the U.S. Trustee) any redlined revisions to be discussed at the status conference and (ii) to lodge Judge Bason's form of order authorizing service of the voting package, setting deadlines, and setting a combined hearing on final approval of the Disclosure Statement and confirmation of the Plan for the same time as the continued status conference. The proposed order should be modified so that the voting package includes Mr. Starflinger's declaration

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion to Use Cash Collateral (dkt. 57). Withdrawn (dkt. 69).

(b) Proposed refinance. The refinance motion (dkt. 68) was not filed until 12/3/18 - almost half a year after this case was filed: why was it not filed sooner? The motion fails to include the mandatory notice of hearing, objection deadlines, etc. The motion contemplates that the sale will close in January of 2019, but it lists a hearing date of 1/29/19 at 1:00 p.m., which would give almost no leeway to close in January after the hearing: why was the hearing self-calendared so far out? The motion admits that the payoff amounts will increase by then: will the refinance provide sufficient funds to pay all liens in full? The escrow statement contemplates a payment of $30,000 to Debtors' counsel: any such payment must be held in a trust account unless and until approved by this Court. The tentative ruling is to continue this status conference for one week to see if these issues have been corrected, with a warning to counsel for Debtors that there likely will be consequences to his continued disregard for the rules and procedures of this Court, including a reduction in fees.

(2) Dates/Deadlines. This case was filed on 5/28/18.

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion to Use Cash Collateral. Grant on an interim basis, as set forth in the tentative ruling in calendar no. 11 (11/27/18 at 1:00 p.m.).

(b) Proposed refinance. At the status conference on 10/16/18, Debtors' counsel anticipated filing a motion for a refinance very shortly thereafter, and the tentative ruling for that date set forth various items that Debtor would need to address. No such motion is on the docket. The refinance motion was supposed to supersede the proposed plan and disclosure statement, and as noted in the tentative ruling for 10/16/18 those documents are incomplete and confused. See also dkt. 65 (objection of Ditech Fin. LLC). Are debtors and their counsel properly prosecuting this case?

The tentative ruling is to continue this Status Conference with a warning to Debtors and their counsel that if they do not prosecute this case then it likely will be dismissed with a bar against being a debtor again, or converted to chapter 7, or this Court may impose other remedies.

(2) Dates/Deadlines. This case was filed on 5/28/18.

Tentative Ruling for 10/16/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed debtor's status report (dkt. 50) and other relevant pleadings.

(a) Plan (dkt. 47) and Disclosure Statement (dkt. 48). These documents are incomplete and confused. But the tentative ruling is that there is no need to proceed with these documents if Debtors are going to proceed with a proper motion to refinance and pay all creditors in full (as stated in their status report).

(b) Proposed refinance. The claims register lists total claims of $419,929.77 as of the petition date (of which $366,270.15 are listed as secured and $150.29 as priority). The proposed refinance would generate loan proceeds of $463,000. This appears to be sufficient to pay all claims, probably including postpetition interest, although perhaps not including 100% of asserted administrative expenses. Counsel for the debtor should be prepared to address (i) the form of motion he intends to file, (ii) whether that motion will seek authority to pay unsecured claims, and (iii) whether unsecured claims will be paid out of escrow or by some other means and, if the latter, who will hold the net proceeds after payment of secured claims.

Tentative Ruling for 6/26/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor themselves.

(1) Current issues. This Court has reviewed the debtors' status report (dkt. 14), and the other filed documents and records in this case.

(a) May MOR (dkt. 18). The MOR purports to cover the period from 5/28/18 (the petition date) to 5/31/18, but is essentially blank, including the section for disclosure of existing insurance coverage (dkt. 18, pdf p. 5). Debtors should be prepared to address (i) whether they have insurance coverage on their residential real property (and any other asset requiring insurance); and, if they do (ii) whether they read the MOR and understood it prior to signing.

(b) Case Status Report (dkt. 14).

(i) Budget Motion. The status report says that a budget motion is not required by Judge Bason's procedures (dkt. 14, pdf p. 3), but that is not correct. See Judge Bason's Procedures, Section VII.F ("Judge Bason requires the use of local forms F 2081-2.2.MOTION.BUDGET and F 2081-2.2.ORDER.BUDGET"). Did counsel actually review the posted procedures? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 6/28/18 to file and serve a budget motion.

(ii) Consumers' confidential information. The status report states that the debtors do not have possession, custody, or control of consumers' confidential information (dkt. 14, pdf p. 10), but this Court questions whether that is accurate. What about customer lists from Hey Baby Sales, Inc.? Do the debtors claim any rights to those lists? (e.g. if the case were converted to a chapter 7 case, a sale of the debtors' interest in the company took place, and the buyer wanted the customer lists, would the

Proposed order: If this court is persuaded to adopt this tentative ruling, then counsel for the debtor is directed to serve and lodge proposed orders (a) approving the disclosure statement (dkt. 101) on a final basis and (b) confirming the plan (dkt. 102), all as amended by the stipulation with class 2A (dkt. 127, 128). Those proposed orders must be lodged via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date.

(1) Ballot Summary. The debtor's ballot summary (dkt. 131) appears to be inaccurate and internally inconsistent. Although the ballots and stipulation attached to the ballot summary show acceptance by 100% in both dollar amount and number of the claims actually voted or deemed to have been voted in classes 2A, 2B and 4A, and no vote by Class 2C, the ballot summary makes assertions that are not consistent with those ballots, namely:

(a) Cramdown: The ballot summary asserts that the debtor is not requesting cramdown (dkt. 131, item 3), even though the lack of an affirmative vote in class 2C means that the debtor does not satisfy 11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(8) and therefore must seek cramdown under 11 U.S.C. 1129(b);

(b) Accepting classes: The ballot summary asserts that only class 4A has voted to accept the plan (dkt. 131, item 6), even though classes 2A and 2B have also accepted the plan; and

(c) Page 2 of the Ballot Summary: The chart on page 2 of the ballot summary (dkt. 131, p.2, top line of chart) fails to show that Class 2A has accepted the plan by 100% in number of claims deemed to have been voted (not just 100% in amount). In addition, it would have been helpful if the ballot summary's "Comments" following that chart had explained that (i) Portfolio Recovery Associates is Class 2C (even though it is listed as LA County Tax Collector in the Plan), (ii) U.S. Bank is Class 2A (even though it is listed as Wells Fargo in the Plan), and (iii) Class 2A is deemed to have voted in favor of the plan under its court-approved stipulation, even though it did not actually cast a ballot. (If any of the foregoing is incorrect then counsel for the debtor must correct those issues at the hearing.)

(2) Status report

The debtor's status report (dkt. 130) misleadingly asserts that this court's order (dkt. 106) previously approved the disclosure statement (dkt. 101), whereas in fact this court only granted preliminary approval for purposes of this combined hearing on whether to approve the disclosure statement (dkt. 101) and confirm the plan (dkt. 102).

(3) Confirmation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, it appears that the debtor's disclosure statement (dkt. 101) should be approved, and that the chapter 11 plan (dkt. 102), as amended by the debtor's stipulation with the holder of the class 2A claim (dkt. 127, 128), has met the requirements for confirmation under 11 U.S.C. 1129(a) & (b).

(4) Correction. This court notes that the tentative ruling for 6/20/17 (reproduced below) was in error in asserting that "[at] the status conference on 5/23/17 this court set a deadline of 6/6/17 to file an amended plan and disclosure statement." In fact, this court was persuaded at that status conference not to impose that deadline.

If you do not appear, and the matter is not adequately resolved by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 6/20/17:

Continue to 8/8/17 at 1:00 p.m. (without the need for any written status report), but impose sanctions of $200 on counsel for the debtor, for the reasons set forth below. Appearances are not required on 6/20/17.

At the status conference on 5/23/17 this court set a deadline of 6/6/17 to file an amended plan and disclosure statement. On 6/15/17, after this court had already prepared a tentative ruling for this status conference, counsel for the debtor filed a stipulation (dkt. 117) and lodged a proposed order for yet another continuance of the confirmation hearing. At no point did counsel telephone chambers to suggest that counsel expected or was attempting to arrange for such a continuance. Moreover, as set forth in the tentative rulings reproduced below, this case has a long history of missed deadlines, last minute filings, and deficient documents.

This court recognizes that to a large extent counsel cannot control delays by a debtor and debtor in possession, and not infrequently a debtor is simply incapable of meeting all of the debtor's obligations. Nevertheless, this court has noted that counsel of record in this case has a pattern, in this and other cases (e.g., In re Barragan, 2:15-bk-29156-NB), of filing late and inadequate documents, and that pattern is not matched by the vast majority of other counsel who appear before this court. All of that strongly suggests that counsel bears some responsibility for those deficiencies, and that imposes substantial burdens on this court, the U.S. Trustee, and any other parties in interest who may be monitoring or involved in such bankruptcy cases. The tentative ruling is that this warrants sanctions under this court's inherent powers and 11 U.S.C. 105. Counsel is also cautioned that this court anticipates issuing similar or increased sanctions if this pattern continues in other cases in future.

If you wish to dispute the above tentative ruling, please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings".

Tentative Ruling for 5/23/17:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor, but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

The ballot summary was due 5/16/17 but was not filed until 5/22/17 at 4:12 p.m. In addition, it is internally inconsistent. What remedies are appropriate?

The plan (dkt. 102) has not been accepted by any class. This is the debtor's second bankruptcy case, and it has been pending for over a year. The debtor's lack of progress for that long a period of time suggests a willful delay. Should this court dismiss or convert this case? Should this court impose a bar against being a debtor in bankruptcy for the third time in a row?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 4/20/16. If this case is not dismissed or converted, the tentative ruling is to hold a continued status conference on 6/20/17 at 1:00 p.m. with a deadline of 6/6/17 to file (but NOT serve) yet another amended plan and disclosure statement.

If you do not appear, and the matter is not adequately resolved by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

(dkt. 94)?

(b) Adequate protection payments. At the hearing on 1/10/17 counsel for the debtor assured this court that the debtor had cured the postpetition delinquency in adequate protection payments. But the monthly operating report for January 2017 (dkt. 95, filed 2/7/17, at p.4) continues to list 4 missed payments for a total of $6,972 delinquency. What was the basis for counsel's misrepresentation to this court? Should this court require counsel and the debtor to testify on that issue, and on the prospects for future income, before this court can find that the plan is feasible (11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(11))? Should this misrepresentation have any other consequences?

(c) Plan (dkt. 82) and Disclosure Statement (dkt. 81). The debtor's ballot summary was due to be filed no later than 2/21/17 (dkt. 89). Instead the debtor's counsel has filed a declaration (dkt. 96) asserting that a ballot in favor of the plan has been received by class "6b," even though no such class is listed in the plan (see dkt. 82, Ex.A), and requesting more time to receive ballots from classes 2a and 2b, even though the deadline for ballots has passed. The parties should be prepared to address how best to proceed in these circumstances.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Payments to secured creditor Wells Fargo. The debtor's November 2016 MOR reflects that the debtor has not made 4 monthly payments to secured creditor Wells Fargo. See dkt. 84, PDF p. 7. Is that accurate, or did the debtor intend to state that those payments were made?

(1) Current issues

(a) Amended Chapter 11 Plan and Disclosure Statement (dkt. 74, 75). There are issues with these documents which this Bankruptcy Court will review orally at the hearing.

(b) Monthly operating reports. The debtor's court approved budget (dkt. 19) and the budget attached to her amended chapter 11 disclosure statement (dkt. 74, PDF p. 13) show various typical monthly expenses such as transportation costs, utilities, and food. The expenses included in her budgets submitted to this court are either not reflected in her MORs for August and September 2016 (dkt. 65 and 73, respectively) or are reflected, but in much smaller amounts than budgeted. Is the debtor reporting all of her monthly expenses in her MORs? If not, why not?

Additionally, the MORs appear to reflect that the debtor is receiving less than her budgeted monthly income ($1,800/mo.) from her job as a real estate professional. In August 2016, the debtor reported receipts of $970.01; in September 2016, receipts of $1,000.

Based on the reporting in the debtor's two most recent MORs, this court is concerned that the debtor may not have sufficient disposable income with which to fund her proposed chapter 11 plan.

(a) Chapter 11 Plan and Disclosure Statement (dkt. 59, 58). There are numerous issues with these documents, which this Bankruptcy Court will review orally at the hearing.

(b) Orders on budget and cash collateral motions. On July 19, 2016, this court held continued hearings on the debtor's motion for use of cash collateral (dkt. 18) and budget motion (dkt. 19). (i) Inconsistent rental income amount. This Court notes that the debtor's amended schedule G reflects a monthly rental of $2,200 (dkt. 13, p.10), which was originally listed as $1,500 per month (dkt. 1, p.36). However, the debtor's original schedule I originally listed the debtor's net income from rental property as $2,400 (dkt. 1, p.39). The debtor's amended schedule I now lists net income from rental property as $2,200 (dkt. 13, p.12). Although the rental income now appears to be consistent at $2,200, and schedule G reflects the same lessee, Smark Lyles, is this the correct amount?

(ii) Schedule I. Part 8.a. requires that the debtor attach a statement for each property and business showing gross receipts, ordinary and necessary business expenses, and the total monthly net income.

(iii) Motion to Value. The debtor's status report indicates that the debtor intends to file a motion to value the real property. When does the debtor anticipate filing the motion to value?

(c) UST compliance. The United States Trustee has filed a motion to dismiss or convert (dkt. 24). Although the matter has been set for hearing on 6/21/16, the debtor should be prepared to address more generally, why this case in chapter 11 instead of chapter 13. It appears that the debtor is within the debt limits for chapter 13, and chapter 11 typically is far more expensive, so it seems doubtful that the debtor needs or can afford a chapter 11 case.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 4/20/16.

(a) Bar date: 7/29/16 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 8/19/16 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - the court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time). This Court is aware that the debtor has requested a much later deadline (dkt. 23, p.4) but this Court is not aware of any reason why so much time is needed. The debtor should be negotiating with secured creditors and other key constituencies already.

#3.00 Cont'd Status Conference re: Chapter 7 Case
fr. 9/4/18,10/9/18, 11/6/18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/11/18:

Continue to as set forth below, to be concurrent with the hearing on the motion to approve compromise (see dkt. 52, 92, 94). Appearances are not required on 12/11/18.

(1) Current issues

This Court has no issues to raise sua sponte at this time.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/30/18 and converted to chapter 7 on 10/10/18.

(a) Bar date: 11/7/18 (see dkt. 47, 51, and tentative ruling for 10/9/18, reproduced below).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: N/A.

(c) Continued status conference: 1/8/19 at 2:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Chapter 7

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's motion to approve compromise (dkt. 52). There is no tentative ruling but the parties should be prepared to address the responses by Allstar and the Chapter 7 Trustee (see dkt. 61, 75) and Debtor's reply (dkt. 81).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/30/18 and converted to chapter 7 on 10/10/18.

(a) Bar date: 11/7/18 (see dkt. 47, 51, and tentative ruling for 10/9/18, reproduced below).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement: N/A.

(c) Continued status conference: 12/4/18 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

Revised Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is to convert this case to chapter 7 pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 1112(b), due to the apparent conflicts of interest of the debtor's principal, Mr. Brown, with the interests of creditors. See Motion by UST (dkt. 39), Joinder by Allstar Fin. Svcs., Inc. (dkt. 62). Although Debtor asserts (dkt. 58) that a number of issues identified by the UST have been addressed, the opposition does not adequately address the alleged conflicts of interest. In addition, the issues identified in this Court's tentative ruling for 10/9/18 (reproduced below) have not been adequately addressed. In addition, this Court's order (dkt. 47) directed Debtor not to serve a notice of bar date and instead to serve a copy of that order itself, no later than 9/7/18, but Debtor disregarded that order and served its own notice (dkt. 51) on 9/16/18.

Chapter 7

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 10/9/18:

This court anticipates posting a tentative ruling at a later time.

Tentative Ruling for 9/4/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

(1) Current issues

(a) Failure to serve order. This Court's status conference order (dkt. 9, para.5, bolded text) directed counsel for the debtor to serve all creditors with a copy of the order. Why was it not served?

(b) Failure to comply with requirements for professionals. The debtor's status report (dkt. 45, p.4) states that neither the debtor's attorney nor any other professional intend to apply for employment because they do not intend to seek compensation during the case. That is not the test. They are required to apply for employment under 11 U.S.C. 327. In addition, the United States Trustee ("UST") has objected in its motion to dismiss (dkt. 39) that the person who claims to be acting as the debtor's bankruptcy attorney, Robert A. Brown, Esq., is also the debtor's CEO and General Counsel. The parties should be prepared to address the conflicts issues.

(c) Failure to comply with Chapter 11 requirements. See the UST's motion to dismiss (dkt. 39).

(d) Failure to comply with procedures for plan (dkt. 38) and disclosure statement (dkt. 37). As stated in this Court's status conferences order (dkt. 9), Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) establish procedures for any draft plan and disclosure statement. Counsel for the debtor has violated those procedures by mailing a copy of the drafts to creditors before this Court has approved such mailing.

Chapter 7

In addition, those documents omit any meaningful liquidation analysis or disclosure of what could be paid to general unsecured creditors, instead opting for a flat 12% promised distribution (dkt. 38, at PDF pp.13-14). In addition, from the summary of assets and liabilities (dkt. 19) it appears that the debtor might have enough equity in property to pay far more than 12%, depending on the total amount of unsecured claims.

(e) Opaque "disclosures". The debtor's references to a sale of the "Marsh" property is not adequately explained. In addition, although the debtor's bankruptcy Schedule H (dkt. 1) asserts that there are no co-debtors, this Court questions whether that is so because business organizations typically have individual guarantors on any major debts.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/30/18.

(a) Bar date: 11/7/18 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement: TBD.

(c) Continued status conference: 10/9/18 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

(1) Current issues

(a) Potential settlement with Fresco Parties. The parties must be prepared to address the status of their settlement negotiations and finalization of the draft settlement documents circulated 2/5/18, and all other issues appropriate to raise at a status conference, including the issues in their recent status reports and related documents (Sakurai case, no. 2:17-bk-22660-NB, dkt. 87, 104, 105, 114, 124, and Checkmate case, no. 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 90, 93, 100, 102, 104, 105, 106, 109, 112, 113, 119, 122).

(b) Cash collateral & budget motions & stipulation (Sakurai dkt. 119, 122; Checkmate dkt. 114, 118, 119). Grant the cash collateral motion in the Sakurai case, subject to the same replacement liens and other terms and conditions as this Court's prior approvals of the use of cash collateral (see Sakurai case dkt. 43, 57); grant the budget motion in the Sakurai case; and approve the cash collateral stipulation in the Checkmate case on a final basis.

(d) Removed action (Adv. no. 2:17-ap-01558-NB), motions for stay and for remand (adv. dkt. 8, 10, 12, 13). The tentative ruling is that the motion for a stay pending determination by the District Court of the debtors' motion to withdraw the reference is moot, because the District Court has dismissed that motion. There is no tentative ruling on the motion to remand.

Appearances required by the debtor's principals and debtor's counsel.

Proposed orders: The debtor is directed to serve and lodge proposed orders on each motion listed below via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date.

(1) Current issues

(a) Status Report (dkt. 37): The status report states that the debtor has no executory contracts. What about all the contracts with Radiology Solutions Inc./Corp. (whichever name is correct)?

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt.9): The debtor reports (dkt. 53, p.3) that it has reached a stipulation with Community Bank regarding the use of cash collateral, but as of the preparation of this tentative ruling no such stipulation appears on the docket. If there is no such stipulation, or if it does not moot the bank's opposition (dkt. 50), then the parties should be prepared to address the merits of that opposition. In addition, the parties should be prepared to address the objection of the Fresco parties (dkt. 49) and the debtor's response (dkt. 53).

(c) Payroll motion (dkt. 6). The tentative ruling is to grant this motion on a final basis.

(1) Current Issues.

(a) Joint Status Report and Notice of Continuances. This Court's 5/8/18 tentative ruling (see below) was not opposed, so it became this Court's actual ruling.

This Court directed (i) Checkmate to file and serve a notice of continuances attaching and incorporating by reference the deadlines in that tentative ruling by 5/7/18, and (ii) the parties to file a brief joint status report by 5/29/18. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, none of the parties have complied. The parties are cautioned that failure to abide by applicable deadlines in future may result in adverse consequences.

(b) Motion for TRO & Claim and Delivery (adv. dkt. 10).

Plaintiff/debtor Checkmate King Co., Ltd. ("Checkmate") has filed a stipulation (adv. dkt. 30) with defendants Radiology Solutions Corp. ("RS") and George Fower ("Fower") for turnover of equipment. But Checkmate has not provided any evidence that it has relief from the automatic stay and consent of the Chapter 7 Trustee in the RS and Fower bankruptcy cases for such turnover (Case Nos. 8:18-bk-10585-TA and 8:18-bk-10583-TA). The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 6/19/18 for Checkmate to file a declaration attaching evidence sufficient to establish those things, and lodge a revised proposed order to approve the stipulation.

(2) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 3/6/18. It is premature to set a discovery cutoff and other deadlines at this time. Continue to 7/17/18 at 2:00 p.m., brief joint status report due 7/3/18.

are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 5/8/18:

The tentative ruling is to continue all pending matters in this adversary proceeding to 6/12/18 at 2:00 p.m. for the reason stated below, with a brief joint status report due 5/29/18, and with a deadline of 5/7/18 for the plaintiff to file and serve a notice of continuances attaching and incorporating by reference the deadlines in this tentative ruling (assuming that this Court is not persuaded to depart from this tentative ruling). Appearances are not required on 5/8/18.

(1) Current Issues. This Court has reviewed the parties' status reports (adv. dkt. 24 & 26) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(a) Motion for TRO & Claim and Delivery (adv. dkt. 10). At the 4/9/18 hearing on this motion, counsel for plaintiff/debtor Checkmate King Co., Ltd. ("Checkmate") apprised this Court of the bankruptcy filings of defendants Radiology Solutions Corp. ("RS") and George Fower ("Fower") (Case Nos. 8:18-bk-10585-TA and 8:18-bk-10583-TA) and requested a continuance of this hearing to allow time to obtain orders granting relief from stay with annulment. In the Joint status report (adv. dkt. 24), Checkmate states that the hearings on the relief from stay motions are scheduled for 5/15/18. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to continue this motion to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling.

(b) Siemens Motion to Dismiss (adv. dkt. 27, the "MTD"). Defendant Siemens Medical Solutions USA, Inc. ("Siemens") has properly self-calendared its MTD for 6/12/18 at 11:00 a.m. Siemens anticipates that it may be voluntarily dismissed by plaintiff (see adv. dkt. 24), but if that does not occur then this Court anticipates that the MTD may take 15 minutes or more to hear. This Court's practice is that matters anticipated to take 15 minutes or more are heard on the 2:00 p.m. calendar (not available for self-calendaring, except by permission of this Court). Therefore the tentative ruling is to re-calendar the MTD from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., which is concurrent with the

(1) Current Issues

(a) Chapter 11 Plan (Sakurai dkt. 309, Checkmate dkt. 234, the "Plan")

Based on the status reports filed by Debtors (Checkmate dkt. 246, Sakurai dkt. 329), the responses filed by the Fresco parties (Checkmate dkt. 247, Sakurai dkt. 330), and Debtors' reply (Sakurai dkt. 335), and the recent developments regarding the various properties (e.g., Sakurai dkt. 331-34, ), the parties should be prepared to address whether the Fresco parties will demand conversion of these cases pursuant to the terms of the parties' earlier stipulation (Sakurai dkt. 266, and see, e.g., dkt. 282).

This Court understands that the Japanese property has not been listed for sale despite this long-standing requirement, as reflected in this Court's order approving the disclosure statement (Sakurai dkt. 325). Debtors have offered various excuses, but the tentative ruling is that whether or not there are good reasons for the delay, that is irrelevant because under the parties' stipulation the Fresco parties do not need any reasons to require conversion, given that Debtors have not met the deadlines.

(b) RS/Fower Adversary Proceeding (2:18-ap-01602-NB)

The parties have indicated the need for further discovery. The tentative ruling is to extend the deadline for discovery to 2/15/19 and to set this case for a further status conference concurrent with the continued status conferences in the main cases, set forth below.

(1) Current Issues

(a) Chapter 11 Plan (Sakurai dkt. .295, Checkmate dkt. 221, the "Plan"); Disclosure Statement (Sakurai dkt. 296, Checkmate dkt. 222, the "D/S"). The parties should be prepared to discuss whether the Plan and D/S fully comply with the Stipulation with the Fresco Parties (D/S, Ex.1, and dkt. 266), including whether the Plan provides for the nondischargeability of the Fresco Parties' claim and the Fresco Parties' right to appoint forensic accountants. In addition, Exhibit C to the disclosure statement does not appear to include the $793,000 account pledged to Citizens Business Bank (the "Bank") or the $400,000 "note owed [by an undisclosed person] in the Sakurai case." D/S, Attachment, p.3:11-14. In addition, periods "A" through "F" on Exhibit C are confusing. In addition, Exhibit F appears to include some printing and other errors.

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/18/18 for Debtors to file a further amended Plan and amended D/S to correct these issues and lodge a proposed order, substantially in the form of the order posted on Judge Bason's portion of the Court's website (www.cacb.uscourts.gov), authorizing the service of a voting package and setting a combined hearing on final approval of the D/S and confirmation of the Plan for the same time as the continued status conference (see below). The tentative ruling is that the voting package should include Mr. Sakurai's declaration (Sakurai dkt. 297) but not include any of the exhibits to it, and instead include a note stating that the exhibits are available upon request.

In addition, the tentative ruling is that the Plan must include provisions to safeguard proceeds from the sales of property, liquidation of the bank account pledged to the Bank, and any other assets of the estate. The tentative ruling is that any proceeds must be transferred directly from escrow

Tentative Ruling for 9/18/18:

Appearances are not required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Fresco Parties' Motions to Convert Cases (dkt. 199 & Checkmate 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 185). The tentative ruling is to tentatively approve the parties' stipulations (Sakurai dkt. 266 and Checkmate dkt. 208) as settlements of the respective motions under Rule 9019 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), and to rule that notice of such settlements need not be provided pursuant to Rule 2002(a)(3). The cause for not requiring notice is that the motions to convert were properly served, a hearing was held, the parties who sought to be heard on that matter had an opportunity to be heard, the stipulation does not appear to result in any relief different in degree from what could have been ordered at that hearing, and to the contrary the resolution appears to be better for all creditors (and all other parties in interest) than the alternative of immediate conversion of each case to chapter 7.

Proposed orders: The Fresco Parties are directed to lodge two separate proposed orders (one for each settlement) via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Tentative Ruling for 8/14/18:
Appearances required.

- (1) Current issues.
- (a) Fresco Parties' Motion to Convert Cases (dkt. 199 & Checkmate 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 185). The tentative ruling is to grant Fresco's motions to convert the Checkmate and Sakurai cases to chapter 7 for the following reasons.
    - (i) Gross mismanagement. The tentative finding of fact is that the debtors have grossly mismanaged their estates such that cause exists under 1112(b)(4)(B) to convert their cases. These cases have been pending for nearly a year, since 10/16/17, only very belated and half-hearted investigation or collection activity against Radiology Solutions and Fower - either using legal enforcement or practical steps. For example, at hearings on 11/14/17 and 1/30/18, the debtors maintained their belief that they could recover 100% on the dated receiveables from Radiology Solutions, despite this Court's expressed concerns with the debtors' counsel regarding the apparent lack of collection activity based on Checkmate's failure to use the vast panoply of litigation tools available to them, including examinations under Rule 2004 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), other discovery tools, remedies such as immediately seeking restraining orders and injunctions, and non-litigation approaches such as pressuring Radiology Solutions and Fower by reporting their defaults to Siemens or attempting to use pressure from other suppliers, customers, government regulators, or other persons. All of those avenues should have been explored vigorously, both prepetition and postpetition, and disclosed to parties in interest in these cases.

(ii) Other "cause." The debtors appear to have run through vast amounts of money to "purchase" equipment that does not exist, and yet as set forth above they have a very cavalier attitude toward attempting to engage in discovery or collection, while continuing to insist that they expected very substantial recoveries from those sources and/or from equipment (which turned out not to exist). The tentative finding of fact is that these circumstances show not just gross mismanagement but also that the debtors are hiding facts, or they are attempting to run out the clock on possible causes of action against them or transferees of their assets, or both.

(ii) The debtors' counter-argument about the best interests of creditors is not persuasive. The debtors argue that under their liquidation analysis (Sakurai, dkt. 240, PDF p. 14, Checkmate, dkt. 194, PDF p. 17) creditors will receive faster and better recoveries if the debtors are permitted to engage in a liquidation through chapter 11, rather than converting these cases to chapter 7. There are several problems with this argument.

First, this Court questions the debtors' projected recoveries in chapter 11. The debtors have been wildly inaccurate (or have intentionally hidden the truth) before, as set forth above. This Court has no faith in the Debtors to adequately disclose and maximize the value of their remaining assets, such as the house in Japan or purported interests in that house. Moreover, this Court is concerned about the debtor's management of whatever is recovered, such as what might happen to proceeds from the sale of real property. This Court recognizes that safeguards can be attempted; but safeguards can also be evaded, and the tentative ruling is that the simplest and best safeguard is to appoint a chapter 7 trustee.

Second, this Court questions the debtor's projected lack of substantial recoveries in chapter 7. The tentative ruling is that the Fresco Parties have the better arguments regarding the potential benefits to unsecured creditors in a chapter 7 case (perhaps as much as 80% or more).

Third, supposing for the sake of discussion that the debtors were accurate in their projected recoveries in a liquidating chapter 11 case, and their comparison with projected recoveries in a chapter 7 case, that is not the only consideration. This Court must consider the integrity of the bankruptcy system. Given the debtors' gross mismanagement and this Court's concerns about the debtors' conduct (as described above) it appears that the only adequate safeguard of the integrity of the bankruptcy system is to convert these cases to chapter 7.

(iii) Evidentiary Objections (Sakurai, dkt. 233, 252) & (Checkmate 2:17-bk-22648-NB, dkt. 200, 204). The tentative ruling is that the history of this case and this Court's own admonishments to the debtors provides ample support for conversion, so this Court need not resolve the parties' respective evidentiary objections.

(iv) Proposed Orders. The Fresco Parties are directed to lodge proposed orders via this Court's LOU system within 7 days of the hearing.

(b) Application to Employ KW Commercial Inland Empire (dkt. 197) and Neiman Realty (dkt. 206). If this Court adopts the tentative ruling set forth above, the tentative ruling is to continue these hearings to the date and time set forth below to allow time for the chapter 7 trustees to weigh in.

(c) RS/Fower Adversary Proceeding (2:18-ap-01602-NB). The tentative ruling is to continue the status conference to the date and time stated below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 10/16/17.

(a) Bar date: 1/17/18 (order timely served. dkt. 58, 59).

If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 4/17/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current Issues.

(a) B&B Liquidating, LLC (2:18-bk-11744-NB). On 2/16/18 B&B Liquidating LLC ("BBL") filed a chapter 11 petition for relief before this court. In its "first-day" motions, BBL details the troubles B&B Bachrach ("BBB") encountered post-confirmation, which resulted in the need to liquidate. See e.g., BBL Liquidating Motion, dkt. 17.

BBB should be prepared to address the debtor's progress in liquidating the estate.

Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Continue to 2/13/18 at 2:00 p.m., in view of (a) the debtor's status report (dkt. 313) and (b) the inability of the Office of the United States Trustee to appear on 1/23/18 in view of the shutdown of much of the federal government. Note: Prior to 2/13/18 this court anticipates posting a tentative ruling for a further continuance to 4/17/18 at 2:00 p.m., unless a party in interest files a status report no later than 2/6/18 requesting to be heard on 2/13/18. Appearances are not required on 1/23/18.

REVERSE MORTGAGE FUNDING LLC
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 59

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the following.

(a) HUD regulation

Movant states that relief from stay is appropriate because HUD regulations require compliance via submission of the Occupancy Certificate. This Court was not provided with copies of such HUD regulations, or citations to them.

(b) Grounds for foreclosure under deed of trust

It is unclear whether failure to supply the Occupancy Certificate constitutes grounds for foreclosure under the deed of trust. What is Movant's basis for that assertion?

(c) Cost of Forced Place Insurance

Movant alleges that it incurred costs of $4,638 for Forced Placed Insurance due to Debtor's failure to provide the Occupancy Certificate. This Court was not provided with evidence that this is the price of insurance.

(d) Debtor's untimely opposition

One week after the opposition deadline, Debtor filed an opposition stating that the Occupancy Certificate has been provided and that insurance advances will be cured (dkt. 61). Why was Debtor's opposition not timely filed?

(e) Adequate protection order?

The parties should be prepared to address whether they will agree to the terms of an adequate protection order.

WILMINGTON TRUST, NATIONAL ASSOC

DEBTOR

Docket 36

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

Docket 61

Tentative Ruling:

Deny without prejudice, for the reasons stated in the response (dkt. 66).
Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Order granting motion to use cash collateral (dkt. 51).

Reasons for denial: Movant is currently receiving adequate protection payments pursuant to the cash collateral order, and their interest in the subject property is protected by an adequate equity cushion (see Debtor's opposition, dkt. 66). More specifically, based on the Broker's Price Opinion provided (dkt. 66, ex. 1), the value of the subject property is $520,000. The total value of all liens encumbering the property is unclear, with Movant providing a figure of $437,701.88 (dkt. 61), and Debtor providing a figure of $439,620.05 (dkt. 66). Assuming Debtor's figure is correct, there is an equity cushion of  $$520,000 - $439,620.05 = $80,379.95$ , or 15.46%.

PACIFIC UNION FINANCIAL, LLC
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 16

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

There is no stay

This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

In addition and in the alternative, this Court grants the following relief.

Termination. Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(4).

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) is also terminated, because it has not been shown to have any basis to exist independent of the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a). To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Retroactive relief. Grant the request for retroactive annulment of the stay. See In re Fjeldsted, 293 B.R. 12 (9th Cir. BAP 2003).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re

Chapter 13

Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31), as applicable:

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that the debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that the debtor was involved and the debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that the debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is not sufficient evidence and notice.

No prejudice to Debtor intended. Based on the record, it appears that this is a "hijacked" case, and that Debtor is innocent of any involvement. See e.g., In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (describing hijacking); In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012) (same). Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to condition any relief from the automatic stay on this Court's determination that this motion shall not result in the application of sections 109(g) (2) and 362(b)(21)(A) to Debtor or any property other than the property that is the subject of this motion for relief from the automatic stay, and that by not contesting this tentative ruling the movant has waived and forfeited any contrary argument. See In re Leafly, 489 B.R. 545, 550-51 (9th Cir. BAP 2012); In re Mendez, 367 B.R. 109, 116-17 (9th Cir. BAP 2007); In re Luna, 122 B.R. 575, 577 (9th Cir. BAP 1991); Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 270.

Effective date of relief. Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

NB, docket no. 31)). The tentative ruling is to deny that request because there is insufficient evidence that Debtor's multiple bankruptcy petitions were part of a "scheme" to "hinder," "delay," or "defraud" creditors within the meaning of section 362(d)(4), or that there is comparable conduct that would warrant equivalent relief outside of section 362(d)(4).

In particular, it appears that Debtor made substantial payments in his 2016 bankruptcy case, which was not dismissed until 2018. Thereafter, although Debtor filed a prior bankruptcy case in 2018 that was dismissed for failure to file documents, Debtor's current bankruptcy case, which was filed on the same day as the foreclosure sale, appears to show a realistic, good faith attempt to (i) prevent foreclosure and (ii) restructure Debtor's financial obligations so as to repay all arrears on the property in full, as opposed to being part of a scheme to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors.

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/18/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address whether they will agree to the terms of an adequate protection order (see this Court's interim order, dkt. 22, and the debtor's late-filed supplemental evidence of projected contributions from her parents and feasibility, dkt. 26).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 11/27/18:

Appearances required. The parties should be prepared to address whether they will agree to the terms of an adequate protection order, including provisions that will make any future bankruptcy case ineffective to stay any acts against the subject property ("in rem" relief). See Debtor's response (dkt. 20).

Proposed order: If this Court is persuaded to grant such relief, then Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

More specifically, the tentative ruling is that (1) on the present record some form of relief from the automatic stay is required, including in rem relief, because Debtor appears to have been involved in a "scheme" to "hinder" or "delay" creditors within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4), due to the filing of this case on 10/2/18, within a relatively short time after the dismissal on 6/5/18 of the bankruptcy case filed by Francisca Sanchez (2:18-bk-15538-WB); but (2) "relief" from the automatic stay does not necessarily mean "termination" of the stay, and could take the form of an adequate protection order ("APO") that (a) requires monthly payments and (b) provides in rem relief as follows:

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed. Any additional request for relief applicable to future bankruptcy cases is denied (e.g., any request to grant relief against third parties without any notice is denied) due to lack of sufficient factual or legal grounds presented in support of such relief.

In other words, if Debtor has the financial ability to cure the arrears and otherwise prosecute this bankruptcy case, then Debtor can do so under an adequate protection order; but Debtor must establish that she has the financial ability to do so. In addition, no future bankruptcy case will affect the property (subject to the limitations in 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4)), so Debtor and any other person who asserts an interest in the property or who is a signatory to the loan documents cannot continue to file repeated bankruptcy cases simply to delay any foreclosure.

The grounds for such relief are that this Court has the power to grant relief in the form of modifying or conditioning the automatic stay, not just terminating it (11 U.S.C. 362(d)), and the foregoing relief appears to be appropriate in the present circumstances. See generally In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (even debtor who has excuses for hindering and delaying creditors can be subject to in rem relief); In re Bousheri (Case No. 2:15-bk-11345-NB), dkt. 79 (analogous order, in valuation context, addressing effect of unauthorized transfer of interest in property).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Reason: At the 12/4/18 hearing, this Court set a deadline of 12/11/18 for Debtor to provide evidence in support of any further continuance and adequate protection, including evidence of the status of the attempted loan modification. Debtor did not file any evidence by the deadline.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

In view of the alleged equity in the property this Court grants the following limited relief to Debtor:

Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

No foreclosure sale of the property may take place prior to 2/28/19.

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

#22.00 Hrg re: Motion in Individual Case for Order
Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic

Docket 12

Tentative Ruling:

Grant, subject to the following conditions, and also subject to any opposition at the hearing. Appearances required.

As provided in the Order Granting Application and Setting Hearing on Shortened Notice (dkt. 16), Counsel for the Debtor is directed to address why notice could not have been provided sooner.

After the hearing date this Court will prepare an order and the tentative ruling is to include the following language in that order:

The stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a) applies subject to the following modifications and conditions:

(1) Service and reconsideration. Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this Court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

Application for Fees and Expenses
[Jason M Rund, Chapter 7 Trustee]

Docket 120

Tentative Ruling:

Approve the final report (dkt. 120) and award the Chapter 7 Trustee $49,933.14 in fees and $190.56 in expenses. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." - #6.00 Status Conference Re: Complaint for (1) Declaratory Relief; (2) Breach of the Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing; (3) Interference with Contractual Relations; (4) Intentional Interference with Prospective Economic Advantage; and (5) Negligence

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Continue to 3/26/19 at 2:00 p.m. Appearances are not required on 12/18/18.

Reasons:

The plaintiff, Philip James Layfield, lacks standing, as recognized in the stipulation (adv. dkt. 3) between (a) Wesley Avery, the Chapter 7 Trustee in the individual (involuntary) bankruptcy case of Mr. Layfield, and (b) defendant Richard M. Pachulski, the Chapter 11 Trustee in the bankruptcy case of Layfield & Barrett, APC. See adv. dkt. 3, Recital "K," and adv. dkt. 4 (order approving stipulation). Although Mr. Layfield has filed papers requesting dismissal of his bankruptcy case, and numerous other things, this Court has denied his requests.

Meanwhile, all deadlines including the time to file any answer or other pleading have been extended indefinitely as to two other defendants, US Claims Opco, LLC ("USCO") and DRB Capital ("DRB"), by stipulation (adv. dkt. 13) and order thereon (adv. dkt. 15). The last defendant, Advanced Legal Capital, LLC ("Advanced") has filed an answer (adv. dkt. 5) that includes a prayer for a judgment of dismissal, an award of its attorney fees and costs, and sanctions and other remedies.

In view of possible appeals by Mr. Layfield, or any other avenues by which he may attempt to gain standing, it appears to be premature for this Court to hold any Status Conference in this adversary proceeding at this time. In addition, both because Mr. Layfield may not have exhausted his remedies, and because sanctions usually must be sought by separate motion (see, e.g., Rule 9011(c)(1)(A), Fed. R. Bankr. P.), it appears premature to address any sanctions issues at this time.

issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 7/31/18 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 5/16/18. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

#2.00 Cont'd Status Conference re: Chapter 11 Case
fr. 12/4/18

Docket 25

Tentative Ruling:

Revised Tentative Ruling for 12/18/18:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Motion to employ (dkt. 37)

(i) Retainer

Proposed counsel explains that Debtor's sister, Ms. Corina Ramirez, provided a pre-petition retainer in the amount of $5,000 (dkt. 37, at PDF 6). A third party who funds a retainer for the debtor (the "Funder") might have interests that are adverse to (or at least not fully aligned with) the bankruptcy estate or creditors. For these reasons, although payment of a retainer by a third party is not outright prohibited, it is fraught with ethical concerns.

While Ms. Ramirez has provided this Court with a delcaration (dkt. 37, at PDF 9) that addresses some of the Court's concerns, proposed counsel should be prepared to address the following remaining concerns:

(A) Informed consent of Funder

Has Ms. Ramirez been advised regarding actual and potential conflicts of interest, and that the sole attorney-client relationship and duty of loytlty is with Debtor, not Ms. Ramirez? Who provided such advice: independent counsel, or Debtor's proposed counsel? Has Ms. Ramirez given informed consent? Are those things in writing?

(B) Informed consent of Debtor

Has Debtor likewise been fully advised and given informed consent? Who provided such advice? Are these things in writing?

(C) Other considerations

Has proposed counsel demonstrated or represented to the Court the absence of an actual or potential conflict, a lack of disinterestedness, or any other basis for disqualification? See In re Kelton Motors, Inc., 109 B.R. 641

(ii) Proposed counsel's disinterestedness

The parties should be prepared address whether proposed counsel is truly disinterested. Debtor's daughter is also before this Court, in a case that is being jointly administered with this one (In re Karla Ramirez, 2:18-bk-15055-NB). Proposed counsel for Debtor and for Debtor's daughter are closely affiliated if not essentially the same. Debtor and his daughter have financial interactions, including being co-owners of property.

(b) Separate counsel required?

The tentative ruling is that Sergio and Karla Ramirez need counsel who are separate - not affiliated in the ways that their proposed counsel are affiliated. The parties should be prepared to address whether to adopt that tentative ruling, and, if it is adopted, how soon new counsel can be retained.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 9/26/18.

(a) Bar date: 2/7/19 (timely served, dkt. 46).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: 1/29/19 at 1:00 p.m., with no written status report required.

This Court has issued an order for joint administration of In re Karla Ramirez (Case No. 2:18-bk-15055-NB) (daughter; lead case) and In re Sergio Alfredo Ramirez (Case No. 2:18-21263-NB) (father). See lead case dkt. 86 (the "JointAdmin Order") (entered 11/26/18). That order directs that a notice of joint administration must be filed and served "in each case being jointly administered," and an amended master mailing list must be filed in the lead case that "contains the name and mailing address of all creditors and interest holders from each case being jointly administered." JointAdmin Order, para. 2 (emphasis added). As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, this Court's records do not reflect that those things have been done.

(b) Calendar management

A hearing has been set for 12/18/18 at 1:00 p.m. on the employment application (dkt. 37, 39). The tentative ruling is to continue the status conference in the daughter's case to that date (from its current date of 12/11/18 at 1:00 p.m.) and direct proposed counsel, Mr. Giron and Mr. Tang, to give notice.

(c) Allocation of assets, liabilities, and responsibilities, and potential conflicts between estates. As between the father and daughter, what is the correct record title (and actual ownership interests, if different) of the Downey rental property? Which of them are obligated on the debts secured by that property? Which of them has any interests in the rental income?

Does the father need to file a motion for use of cash collateral; a utility motion; a motion to assume or reject any leases; a budget motion; or other motions in connection with the Downey property?

What actual or potential conflicts may exist between the two bankruptcy estates and their creditors?

This Court anticipates addressing these issues only on a preliminary basis at this time. At the continued status conference they will be addressed more comprehensively.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 9/26/18.

(a) Bar date: 2/7/19 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: 12/18/18 at 1:00 p.m., to be concurrent with the hearing on the employment application (dkt. 37, 39).

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) Mold issues etc. At the last hearing, this Court was informed of Debtor's efforts to address the mold issue. Has that issue been resolved?

(b) Motion for joint administration (dkt. 82). Grant, except that, to avoid possible administrative confusion, the new caption (dkt. 82, Ex.1) should list Sergio Ramirez' case number as "2:18-bk-21263-NB" (emphasis added) rather than "2:18-bk-21263-ER."

Debtors Karla and Sergio Ramirez are directed to lodge a proposed order in each of their separate cases authorizing joint administration. Thereafter, the orders will provide that all subsequent documents must be filed in the lead case of Karla Ramirez. The proposed orders should provide that copies of the orders must be served on all parties in interest in both cases.

(c) Order re Sergio Ramirez. After this hearing this Court will prepare an order substantially in the form of dkt.6 (in the Karla Ramirez case) directed to Sergio Ramirez (i.e., directing him to file a status report, directing him to appear in person at a future status conference, notifying all parties in interest that this Court may take various actions at any status conference, etc.).

Tentative Ruling for 9/18/18:

At the hearing on 8/14/18 this Court was persuaded not to convert this case, and instead to continue this hearing, in view of the debtor's apparent agreements with certain key creditors. This Court has reviewed the debtor's status report (dkt. 77).

(1) Current issues.

(a) Mold issues etc. Has the debtor addressed the mold and any other health and safety issues?

(b) Plan (dkt. 76) and Disclosure Statement (dkt. 75). The debtor treats tax claims from the IRS and the FTB as general unsecured claims (dkt. 75, Ex.F). The latter is listed as secured on the claims register. In addition, the claims register reflects Claim no. 4-1 by the LA County Treasurer for $10,433.84 in alleged real estate taxes. How does the debtor propose to treat these claims?

Tentative Ruling for 8/14/18:

The tentative ruling is to convert this bankruptcy case to chapter 7. Appearances are not required. After the hearing this Court will prepare the conversion order.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Background. The debtor's status report notes (dkt. 62, p.2:9-12) that the debtor fell behind in mortgage payments and faced a scheduled increase in monthly payments from $2,500 to $7,800. That is an extremely unfortunate circumstance, but at this point it appears that there is no way to retain the property, and attempting to do so would simply mean that the debtor and her parents would be "throwing good money after bad." The best alternative may be for the debtor to obtain her chapter 7 discharge and the "fresh start" that is one of the main purposes of the bankruptcy system.

This Court recognizes that the debtor has attempted to save the property by moving out and renting it, as well as by obtaining contributions from her parents. Unfortunately, even if the debt is bifurcated as the debtor seeks to do, the property does not appear to be able to generate positive cash flow after payments on the mortgage. See tentative ruling for calendar no. 4 (denying motion to continue automatic stay). In addition, the property appears to have substantial deferred maintenance and other problems. Despite the efforts of the debtor and her counsel, it does not appear possible to satisfy the requirements of the Bankruptcy Code to keep the property.

(b) Denial of motion to continue automatic stay. As noted above, this Court's tentative ruling is to deny the debtor's motion to continue the automatic stay (see tentative ruling for calendar no. 4).

(c) Budget motion (dkt. 17, 41, 46, 50, 56). This Court granted the debtor's budget on an interim basis (dkt. 46) and orally on a final basis at the hearing on 6/12/18, but no proposed final order was lodged. In addition, since that time the debtor has filed amended bankruptcy Schedules I&J (dkt. 56) which appear to amend the proposed budget. In addition, as set forth in the tentative ruling denying the debtor's motion to continue the automatic stay, it appears that even the latest proposed budget would need to be different, to account for greater adequate protection payments in view of increased interest rates and in view of the urgent need to stop the mold and water intrusion issues at the property from becoming worse (see tentative ruling for calendar no. 4). For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is that, notwithstanding this Court's prior oral ruling, the budget motion cannot be approved on a final basis; but that issue appears to be moot because of the tentative ruling to convert this case to chapter 7.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/1/18.

Tentative Ruling for 7/10/18:

Continue to 8/14/18 at 1:00 p.m. Appearances are not required on 7/10/18.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Budget motion (dkt. 17, 41, 46, 50, 56). This Court approved the debtor's budget on an interim basis (dkt. 46) and orally on a final basis at the hearing on 6/12/18, but no proposed final order was lodged, and since that time the debtor has filed amended bankruptcy Schedules I&J (dkt. 56). The tentative ruling is to deem the budget motion to be amended by those latest amended Schedules I&J and approve the budget as so amended on a final basis.

Proposed order: The debtors are directed to lodge a proposed order granting the motion via LOU, within 7 days after the hearing date, and a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(b) Other issues. This Court has reviewed the debtor's filed Status Report (dkt. 54). This Court has no issues to raise sua sponte at this time.

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues.

(a) Budget motion (dkt. 17, 29, 41). Grant the budget motion on a final basis (i) as deemed amended by the latest bankruptcy Schedules I and J (dkt. 41) and (ii) subject to a requirement that, no later than 6/19/18, the debtor must file a declaration showing how it is reasonable to estimate self employment taxes of only $100 per month (see dkt. 41, Sch.J, line 16) or, alternatively, file a declaration establishing a higher dollar amount and lodge a proposed order amending the approved budget accordingly.

Proposed order: The debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and include a provision that the budget is deemed amended by dkt. 41. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Tentative Ruling for 5/29/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Amended Schedule I (dkt. 26). Bankruptcy Schedule I, paragraph 8a, requires a separate statement for any rental property showing gross receipts, ordinary and necessary expenses, and net income. The debtor has not complied. Why not?

(b) Budget motion (dkt. 17, 29). Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Court has reviewed the cash collateral motion (dkt. 28), which appears to set forth the gross receipts, expenses, and net income of the subject property. Based on the presumption that this is included in the budget for which the debtor seeks approval, the tentative ruling is to grant the budget motion as amended (dkt. 29), on an interim basis, subject to a final hearing at the same date and time as the continued status conference set forth below. By no later than 6/8/18, the debtor must (i) correct the above-referenced omission from bankruptcy Schedule I and the budget motion, (ii) provide notice of the final hearing on this motion via U.S. Mail to all parties in interest, and (iii) file a proof of service.

Proposed order: The debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

course," the tentative ruling is to grant the budget motion based on the debtor's declaration (dkt. 76) in response to the questions raised in this Court's order (dkt. 69).

(b) Employment application for Tenina Law, Inc. (dkt. 50, 52, 53).

Proposed counsel for the debtor should be prepared to address whether the declarations (dkt. 77, 79) in response to this Court's order (dkt. 67) can be interpreted broadly enough to address all "connections" that are required to be disclosed under Rule 2014 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

For example, this Court's order (dkt. 67, p.3:6-7) asked "have there been" - i.e., in the present or past - any economic or business or personal transactions between the Funder/Donor and the debtor. In response, the debtor declares (dkt. 67, para. 7), "[m]y Donor does not have any business or economic transaction with me ...." (Emphasis added.)

Another concern is that both proposed counsel and Debtor appear to be under the mistaken impression that Debtor could, if necessary, waive conflicts. That is not possible, because Debtor is acting not just for herself but as a trustee for the benefit of all creditors.

Another concern is that there is no indication that Donor has been fully apprised of this Court's concerns.

The tentative ruling is that, before this Court issues any order approving the application, counsel must file Debtor's supplemental declaration (i) quoting Rule 2014 in full, (ii) confirming that there are no "connections" within the meaning of that Rule, except for Donor's friendship with Debtor, (iii) confirming that Debtor understands that (pursuant to this Court's conclusion of law) any conflicts that might turn out to exist cannot be waived, and (iv) confirming that Debtor has provided to Donor a copy of this Court's order (dkt. 67) and the responsive declarations (dkt. 77, 79, and the declaration described in this paragraph). Subject to the foregoing, and the terms of the stipulation with the United States Trustee (dkt. 58), the tentative ruling is to approve the application.

(c) Proposed orders. Whatever this Court's rulings on the foregoing issues, Debtor is directed to lodge proposed orders via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of these tentative rulings, thereby incorporating them as this Court's final rulings, except as modified on the record. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/29/18 and converted from chapter

Tentative Ruling 9/18/18

Appearances required.

At a hearing on 7/10/18 this Court orally ordered that (1) the debtor's disclosure statement was approved on a final basis (as reflected in the written order at dkt. 101), (2) the debtor's plan was confirmed, and (3) this post-confirmation Status Conference was set, with a written status report due no later than 9/4/18. No proposed written order has been lodged confirming the debtor's plan. Counsel for the debtor is directed to do so immediately. No written status report was filed. Counsel for the debtor is directed to address why not.

Assuming there are satisfactory responses to the foregoing issues, the tentative ruling is to continue this post-confirmation Status Conference to 12/18/18 at 1:00 p.m., with a written status report due 12/4/18.

Appearances are not required on 10/14/18.

Judge Bason's standard conditions for use of cash collateral and/or postpetition financing (by creditors holding prepetition claims)

(1) Written order

(a) Form. Use local form

F2081-1.1.ORDER.CASH.COLLATERAL or the equivalent. Attach a copy of this tentative ruling as an exhibit, thereby adopting it as the written ruling of the court. Do not repeat the terms set forth in the motion or any stipulation. Incorporate those terms by reference, subject to any modification by this court (including the docket number of the document).

(b) Timing. Lodge the proposed order within 7 days after the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Minimum adequate protection

In addition to the postpetition security interests that are automatically provided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 552 (e.g., in traceable proceeds and profits), and subject to any more comprehensive protection that may be included in the motion or related papers, the debtor shall provide at least the following protection to any creditor with a security interest in the subject property (pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 361-364, as applicable):

(a) Insurance. For all collateral of a type that typically is insured (e.g., real property and improvements), the debtor is directed to maintain insurance in a dollar amount at least equal to the debtor's good faith estimate of the value of such creditor's interest in the collateral, and such insurance shall name such creditor as an additional insured. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments for such insurance.

(b) Taxes. The debtor is directed to remain current on payments on account of postpetition real estate taxes (to the extent that real estate is part of the collateral).

(c) Disclosures/access. The debtor is directed to provide, upon such creditor's reasonable request, periodic accountings of the foregoing insurance and tax obligations and payments, as well as postpetition proceeds, products, offspring, or profits from the collateral, including gross revenues and expenses and a calculation of net revenues, including any rents and any fees, charges, accounts, or other payments for the use or occupancy of rooms and other public facilities in lodging properties (as all of the foregoing terms are used in 11 U.S.C. 552). The debtor is directed to provide appropriate documentation of those accountings, and access for purposes of inspection or appraisal.

(3) Limitation on postpetition liens

In the event that the motion or related papers seek authority to grant postpetition liens to the creditor(s) with respect to prepetition debts any such liens shall be limited to the same validity, priority, and amount as prepetition liens. As used herein, the "validity, priority, and amount" or any similar phrase that may be used by the parties or the court is deemed to include the following:

(a) Extent. Such liens shall be limited to the type of collateral in which the creditor held a security interest as of the petition date, unless this order expressly states that the liens granted by this order are intended to attach to different types of collateral from the prepetition collateral. For example, if prepetition liens extended to inventory and accounts receivable but not equipment then postpetition liens are likewise limited (unless otherwise expressly provided below); and postpetition liens shall not extend to the proceeds of any avoidance actions, any recoveries under 11 U.S.C. 506(c), or any "carveout" under 11 U.S.C. 552.

(b) Priority. Such liens shall be limited to the same priority as the security interest held by the creditor as of the petition date.

(c) Dollar amount. Such liens shall be limited to the dollar amount needed to protect the creditor against diminution in the value of the secured claims as of the petition date.

(d) Enforceability. Such liens shall be limited to the extent that the creditor's security interests were duly perfected and valid as of the petition date, and to the extent that they are unavoidable.

(e) Automatic postpetition perfection. Any automatic perfection of such liens shall be subject to any applicable limitations regarding the Court's authority, jurisdiction, or due process.

(4) Automatic disapproval of insufficiently disclosed provisions

Any provision of the type listed in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or in local form F4001-2 (e.g., cross-collateralization) or any waiver of the "equities of the case" exception in 11 U.S.C. 552(b)(2) shall be deemed automatically disapproved and excepted from any order granting the motion, notwithstanding any other provision of such order, unless either: (a) such provision is specifically and prominently disclosed in the motion papers in a checklist (such as local form F4001-2), or alternatively (b) such provision is specifically identified in any proposed order granting the motion, using terminology of the type used in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or local form F4001-2 (e.g., any "cross-collateralization" that is not specifically identified as such is deemed to be disapproved).

(5) Disputes

In the event of any disputes regarding the rulings in this order, the parties are directed to meet and confer and, if they cannot resolve their disputes consensually, contact the chambers of the presiding judge to arrange a mutually convenient time for either a telephonic or in-person hearing to address such disputes.

#13.00 Cont'd status Conference re: Chapter 11 Case
fr. 11/6/18

Docket 26

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/18/18:

Appearances required

(1) Current Issues

(a) Budget Motion (dkt. 11)

Grant on a final basis.

(b) Amended Cash Collateral Motion (dkt. 50)

Grant on a final basis. Per Debtors' status report (dkt. 49, p.3), the proposed order must include language that it shall not be construed as endorsing the statements to which creditor Poser Investments, Inc. objects. See dkt. 23.

(c) Motion to Employ Counsel (dkt. 18)

Grant on a final basis, based on the (late-filed) declarations of Julius and John Adeoye (dkt. 57, 58). See Interim Order (dkt. 39) & Egbase Decl. (dkt. 47).

(d) Proposed orders

Debtors are directed to lodge proposed orders via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 9/12/18.

(a) Bar date: 1/11/19 (timely served, dkt. 59).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: 1/29/19 at 1:00 p.m., no written status report required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at

Tentative Ruling for 11/6/18:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by Debtors themselves.

(1) Current issues

(a) Status report (dkt. 43, 45)

Debtors have not used the Local Form, which is mandatory in this case (see Judge Bason's posted procedures, available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov). The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/13/18 to file the form and serve it on the United States Trustee.

(b) Motion to Employ Debtors' Counsel (Dkt. 18)

Debtors have not adequately addressed the issues in this Court's interim order (dkt. 39). Although proposed counsel declares (dkt. 47) that he has "learned" (from unspecified hearsay) that Debtors' relatives have funded the $15,000 retainer as a gift, there is no declaration from the two alleged donors confirming this, and confirming all of their "connections" with all parties in interest and their attorneys and accountants (see dkt. 39, section 6.(a)), and their informed consent to potential or actual conflicts (id., sec. 6.(c)), and Debtors' informed consent (id., sec. 6.(d)). The tentative ruling is to continue this matter to the same time as the continued status conference (see below) and set a deadline of 11/13/18 to file appropriate declarations and serve them on the United States Trustee.

(c) MOR1 (Sept., 2018, dkt. 36)

Debtors report that they spent $1,350.43 in cash, with no breakdown and just a vague description about "personal expenses," "charitable contributions," etc. The tentative ruling is that any proposed order authorizing the proposed budget must include a prohibition on Debtors spending more than $50 cash on any one item or $250 cash in the aggregate per month without attaching photocopies of receipts.

Several insurance policies have expired or are about to (see dkt. 36, at PDF p.16). What are Debtors doing about that?

(d) Motion to Use Cash Collateral (dkt 20)

CONT...

Finnian Osakpamwan Ebuehi and Elizabeth Olohirere

Chapter 11

First, Debtors failed to lodge a proposed order authorizing the use of cash collateral on the terms set forth in the adopted Tentative Ruling for 10/16/18 (see calendar no. 20, 11/6/18 at 1:00 p.m., which includes a copy of that earlier tentative ruling). The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/13/18 to lodge that proposed order, with a copy of that tentative ruling attached.

Second, the original motion appears to have been superseded by an amended motion, which has not been separately filed and served but instead is attached as an exhibit to a supplemental declaration. See dkt. 29, Ex.B. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/13/18 to file and serve that motion, which will be heard at the same date and time as the continued status conference (see below).

Third, the tentative ruling is that no order granting Debtors' motions regarding cash collateral shall be construed as endorsing the statements to which creditor Poser Investments, Inc. objects. See dkt. 23. Debtors are directed to make this clear in their proposed orders.

(b) Motion for Order Approving a Budget (Dkt. 11)

Grant on an interim basis, with a continued hearing at the same time as the continued status conference (see below). The tentative ruling is that Debtors' (late-filed) declaration (dkt. 29 & Ex.A) has adequately addressed this Court's concerns about charitable donations.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 9/12/18.

(a) Bar date: 1/11/19 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: 12/18/18 at 1:00 p.m., brief status report due 12/11/18.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 323

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/18/18:

Appearances required

(1) General matters

(a) Combined status conferences in the interrelated bankruptcy cases

This hearing includes Status Conferences in each of the three related bankruptcy cases before this Court: (a) In re Layfield & Barrett, APC, Case No. 2:17-bk-19548-NB ("L&B"); (b) In re Layfield, Case No. 2:18-bk-15829-NB ("Lay-Invol."), (c) In re Maximum Legal (Cal.), LLP, Case No. 2:17-bk-18433-NB ("Max-CA").

(2) Matters on Calendar Today

(a) Chapter 7 Trustee's Motion for Order (1) Approving Stipulation Relating to Disbursement of Funds, and (2) Closing Case (Max-CA, dkt. 137)

The tentative ruling is to grant this motion, but the parties should be prepared to address the effect on the pending adversary proceeding entitled Wellgen Standard LLC v. Maximum Legal (California), LLP et al. (L&B Case, No. 2:17-bk-19548-NB; Adv. No. 2:17-ap-01503-NB) (the "Wellgen Adv.P.").

On a related matter, as part of case management in the L&B case, the tentative ruling is to continue the Status Conference currently set in the Wellgen Adv.P. from 1/15/19 at 11:00 a.m. to the same date and time as the Status Conferences in the related bankruptcy cases, set forth below.

(b) Final Fee Application of SulmeyerKupetz (Max-CA, dkt. 131)

Grant: $12,693.52 in fees and $52.48 expenses.

(3) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed as an involuntary chapter 7 on 8/3/17 and converted to chapter 11 on 8/11/17.

#1.00 Hrg re: Motion to Avoid Lien with JNC, Inc., a California Corporation c/o Evan A. Clark, Esq., its Successors and/or Assigns

Docket 22

Tentative Ruling:

Continue to 2/21/19 at 8:30 a.m. to address the following issues.
Appearances are not required on 12/18/18.

Appraisal; date of valuation. The junior lienholder has provided an "exterior only" appraisal (dkt. 26), but needs additional time to obtain an appraisal based on an interior inspection and whatever analysis that appraiser and/or the junior lienholder deem appropriate regarding Debtor's estimate of repair costs. Debtor is directed to provide reasonable access for those purposes. The junior lienholder is directed to file and serve the appraisal at least 14 days before the continued hearing. Note: Judge Bason's tentative ruling is to require valuations at or near the petition date. See In re Gutierrez, 503 B.R. 458 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2013).

At the continued hearing the parties should address how they propose to resolve their disputes - e.g., (i) with an evidentiary hearing; (ii) with a court ruling based solely on the written record (to save costs, if all parties consent), (iii) through mediation, or (iv) through appointment of an appraiser (jointly selected by the parties/their appraisers) as the court's own expert under FRE 706.

for an Order Dismissing Chapter 13 Case

Docket 20

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the following issues:

(1) Nondisclosure re housing expenses. What is Debtor's authority for the proposition that "[t]he direct payment of my housing expenses by my employer [Debtor's brother's dental practice] is the reason why there is no line item for its payment in [bankruptcy] Schedule J" and that it "would not be proper to have the housing allowance added to income in [bankruptcy] Schedule I and deducted from [bankruptcy] Schedule J, as I don't actually receive the payments" (dkt. 30, p.4:17-20)?

(2) Nondisclosure re Tesla vehicle expenses. Is Debtor asserting a similar argument regarding the "car allowance" that he receives from his brother's dental practice? Again, what is the authority for this argument?

(3) Other disclosure issues. (a) What is Debtor's intent regarding the Merced property and associated debt? They are listed on his bankruptcy schedules but his chapter 13 plan (dkt. 12) proposes neither to surrender the Merced property nor to pay the mortgage. (b) What are the details regarding Debtor's precipitous decline in income reflected on his Statement of Financial Affairs? Did Debtor transfer any client lists or other intangible or tangible property to his brother's dental practice, or to anyone else? (c) More generally, can parties in interest and this Court rely on the completeness and accuracy of Debtor's bankruptcy disclosures?

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." scheduled 11/6/18 hearing, the matter was once again continued by stipulation and order thereon (stipulation agreed to orally at confirmation hearing of Debtor's chapter 13 plan, order thereon dkt. 59). Since the order on Debtor's stipulation, this Court has granted Debtor's motion for authority to sell real property, subject to the Chapter 13 Trustee's comments and objections (dkt. 55, order thereon dkt. 62).

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to discuss the status of the sale of the property, and any other matters relevant of this motion.

Tentative Ruling for 8/30/18:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling but the parties should be prepared to address the following issues.

This Court has reviewed the claim objection (dkt. 24), claimant's opposition (dkt. 35), and debtor's reply (dkt. 37). The claimant asserts (dkt. 35, p.4, n.1) that he "is also filing a motion from stay in order to have his claim adjudicated and liquidated in the State Court Litigation" and he claims that this bankruptcy case was filed "less than two months before the State Court Litigation's scheduled trial date." Dkt. 35, p.2:23-24. But, as of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no such motion for relief from the automatic stay has been filed.

The debtor asserts that this bankruptcy case was filed to protect the debtor from this litigation, but he does not cite authorities addressing whether claims litigation should be conducted in the Bankruptcy Court or in State Court. See, e.g., 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(2) (mandatory abstention if non-core proceeding has been commenced, "and can be timely adjudicated," in a State forum of appropriate jurisdiction); 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(1) (discretionary abstention); In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166-67 (9th Cir.1990).

#8.00 Order to show cause why this case should not be dismissed again, and why any dismissal should not include a 180-day bar under U.S.C. 109(g)(1)

Docket 49

Tentative Ruling:

Discharge the order to show cause (dkt. 49) because (1) the filing fee for the amended verification of the creditor matrix has now (very belatedly) been paid and (2) based on Debtor's declaration (dkt. 59, para. 4) her "understanding" was that Mr. Graham had "secured an extension ... so that we could add more creditors to the case." Although that "understanding" does not explain why Debtor would sign a document stating that her list of creditors was "complete" and "correct" when it was not, for present purposes it establishes a sufficient defense of advice of counsel. Appearances are not required. This Court will prepare the order discharging the order to show cause.

Docket 52

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but Debtor must address the issues raised by the Chapter 13 Trustee (dkt. 59).

Note: As set forth in this Court's orders setting Debtor's Motion to Modify Plan or Suspend Plan payments for hearing (dkt. 54, 55), the motion was filed using the incorrect ECF code, so it appears that the Chapter 13 Trustee did not have adequate notice. Counsel for Debtor is cautioned that any future attempt to obtain relief without adequate notice may result in denial of the request, or other remedies including (if appropriate) sanctions.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." 2:18-13749 Lee Jessup

#10.00 Preliminary hrg re: Stipulation to compromise judgment between debtor Lee Jessup and creditor Jose Soto

Docket 33

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

If this Court is not persuaded to waive the requirement for notice to creditors under Rule 2002(a)(3), the tentative ruling is to require notice to all creditors of a hearing on the next regular Chapter 13 day - on 1/24/19 at 8:30 a.m. - on whether to approve the stipulation and the compromise it embodies, with the usual deadlines to file and serve (a) such notice, (b) any opposition, and (c) any reply. In addition, the tentative ruling is not to require any written motion to approve the stipulation/compromise or any memorandum of points and authorities, in view of the comparatively small dollar amount at stake in comparison to the total dollars distributed, and in view of the Chapter 13 Trustee's review and approval of the proposed stipulation/compromise.

The tentative ruling is that any proposed order approving the stipulation/compromise must include an ordering paragraph expressly making any relief granted by this federal Bankruptcy Court subject to whatever relief may be required from the State Court from its order freezing the subject bank account. The parties should be prepared to address whether they have agreed on proposed language to that effect.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.
