Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Chapter 13

#13.00 Hrg re: Motion in Individual Case for Order
Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic
Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate

Docket 28

Tentative Ruling:

Deny as untimely (see below). Appearances required to address whether the case should be dismissed (see Judge Bason's Procedures, posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov, then search for "362(c)(3)") (the "Procedures").

In addition, the parties are directed to address whether Debtor's pattern of conduct in his prior case and this one establish a willful failure to appear in proper prosecution (11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1)), warranting a 180-day bar against being a debtor in any future bankruptcy case.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Analysis:

(1) Untimeliness

The motion was not timely set for hearing in accordance with 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(3)(B) (providing that "on the motion of a party in interest for continuation of the automatic stay and upon notice and a hearing, the court may extend the stay in particular cases as to any or all creditors . . . after notice and a hearing completed before the expiration of the 30 day period [after the petition date, i.e., 10/4/19 + 30 days]." (emphasis added)).

(2) No attorney fees

This Court presumes that counsel for Debtor will not charge any fees for the time spent on this motion (because counsel knew or should have known of the earlier case and knew or should have known of the 30 day deadline). If counsel intends to charge any fees then the procedures must be followed to dispute this tentative ruling.

Chapter 13

(3) Whether to dismiss this case

As noted in the Procedures, there is a question whether this case realistically can go forward without the protection of the automatic stay. On the other hand, sometimes confirmation of a chapter 13 plan has a binding effect on creditors that prevents them from taking actions to collect debts and that operates similar to the automatic stay (as long as Debtor is in compliance with the chapter 13 plan and confirmation order). Therefore, the parties are directed to address whether this case should be dismissed.

(4) Whether to impose a bar

This Court takes judicial notice that Debtor's prior case (Case No. 2:19-bk-18192-NB) was dismissed because:

(a) Debtor's proposed chapter 13 plan was essentially blank (id., dkt.13);

(b) Debtor did not address (as a disputed claim) the debt owed to JPMorgan Chase Bank, NA (id. and dkt. 20); and

(c) Debtor made no payments to the Chapter 13 Trustee.

Given that history, the question is whether this new case has been filed for improper purposes, or whether Debtor is failing to appear before this Court in "proper" prosecution of this case, warranting a 180-day bar (if this case is dismissed) against being a debtor in any future bankruptcy case. See 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1). The parties are directed to address that issue.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." #14.00 Hrg re: Motion in Individual Case for Order
Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic
Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate

Docket 5

Tentative Ruling:

Grant, subject to the following conditions, and with a caution to Debtor's counsel that the motion fails to list BOTH of Debtor's prior dismissed cases: Case Nos. 2:18-bk-13149-WB and 2:19-bk-12685-SK. In future, failure to list all dismissed cases may lead to denial of the requested relief and/or other remedies. Appearances are not required.

After the hearing date this Court will prepare an order and the tentative ruling is to include the following language in that order:

The stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a) applies subject to the following modifications and conditions:

(1) Service and reconsideration. Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this Court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures"). The parties should be prepared to discuss the following issues:

(1) No Status Report

Again, the parties have not filed a Joint Status Report. Why not?

At the hearing on 10/9/18, Defendants did not appear, and this Court was persuaded to take a flexible approach to whether Plaintiff would pursue default judgments, or mediation, or other avenues. The docket does not reflect any activity since that time. Should this status conference be continued? Should this adversary proceeding be dismissed for lack of prosecution?

Tentative Ruling for 9/4/18:

Appearances required. The court has reviewed the filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding. The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority. The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 9/10/18 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 6/22/18. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures"). This Court has reviewed Plaintiff's unilateral status report (adv. dkt. 11) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order entitled "Order On Initial Status Conference" via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling.

Preliminary matters: continuance

Plaintiff's Status Report notes (a) that a Clerk's Default was entered in this case on 8/20/19 (adv. dkt. 9) and (b) that she will either seek relief from the automatic stay to proceed with defamation actions in nonbankruptcy court and/or seek a default judgment in this adversary proceeding. The tentative ruling is to continue this Status Conference as set forth below, at which time this Court can assess what progress has been made on those issues. Note: In addition, this Court will hold a Status Conference concurrent with any other hearing in this adversary proceeding (including any self-calendared hearings).

Standard matters

The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/12/19:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures"). This Court has reviewed the post-confirmation status report (dkt. 392) and other related pleadings filed in this case.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion for entry of final decree (dkt. 390) ("Final Decree Motion"); Rubio, Chung & Alvarez response (dkt. 393) (the "Creditor Response")

Truck driver creditors Rubio, Chung and Alvarez ("Creditors") ask this Court to defer entry of a final decree until first resolving a dispute between their former counsel, the Hirsch Law Firm ("Hirsch") and current counsel, Rivera & Shackelford ("Rivera") involving Hirsch's disputed attorney's charging lien that purportedly will attach to any distributions from the liquidating trustee to the Creditors pursuant to the confirmed plan and related settlement. The parties are directed to appear to address the following issues:

(i) Procedures

Creditors oppose entry of a final decree based on their pending dispute, and they request this Court's ruling on the dollar amount of Hirsch's asserted charging lien. Is the latter request properly presented, without a motion or an adversary proceeding?

(ii) Jurisdiction, authority, abstention, and related issues

Does this Court have jurisdiction to resolve the dispute between Hirsch and Rivera, and can this Court issue a final ruling on that dispute under the principles of Stern v. Marshall, 564 U.S. 462 (2011)? See In re AWTR

Liquidation, Inc., 547 B.R. 831 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016) (Bason, J.). It appears that the issues are solely matters of state law, and meanwhile the chapter 11 plan has been confirmed and assets have been vested in the liquidating trust.

Alternatively, should this Court abstain in favor of resolving this issue in a nonbankruptcy forum?

(iii) Efficiency

Given that the dollar amounts at issue appear to be very small relative to the cost of any litigation on these issues, can the parties resolve their disputes without litigation? If not - and if this Court has jurisdiction, authority, etc. - should this Court decide any remaining issues without any further briefing, evidence, or hearing?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/6/17.

(a) Bar date: 3/16/18 (order timely served, dkt. 43, 46).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement (dkt. 312): Confirmed (dkt. 362)

(c) Post-confirmation status conference: TBD.

There is no tentative ruling, but Debtor is directed to address the thousands of dollars of unauthorized payments to "Independent Contractor[s]" Ofir Engel and L. Napolitano, "McCarthy Construction," and cash withdrawals, as well as the other issues raised by the UST. Debtor is also directed to address what progress, if any, has been made on insurance claims, AirBnB arrangements, refinancing or selling the Bel Air and Sweetzer properties, and other aspects of this bankruptcy case.

(a) UST's motion to dismiss (dkt. 65), debtor's opposition (dkt. 86), no reply is on file

There is no tentative ruling. The parties should be prepared to address whether debtor has cured all outstanding compliance issues, and whether Debtor's second corrected opposition continues to have error(s) in calculating projected cash flow. That opposition lists net income before personal expenses for "Oct-19" and "Nov-19" as -5,850.00, but then after personal expenses of $1,751.00 for each month it lists "excess income" of $34,900.00. (1) Current issues

In addition to addressing the general status of this case, the following issues will be addressed.

(a) Motion of Alliance for Relief From Automatic Stay (dkt. 40)

There is no tentative ruling. The parties should be prepared to advise this Court on whether they will agree to an adequate protection order and the proposed $50,000 loan from Complete Business Solutions Group ("Complete") (dkt.69, p.2:21-25). The parties also should be prepared to address whether shortened time or other special procedures are requested regarding any proposed lending. See 11 U.S.C. 364; Rules 4001(c) & 9006(c)(2) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

(b) Contemplated contract with Majestic Ventures LLC dba VacationHomes365.com ("Consultant") re marketing (Airbnb etc.)

Debtor is contemplating a contract with Consultant for marketing services. Dkt.69, Ex.2. As that contract points out (id., sec.7.2, p.44), Debtor is responsible for complying with legal obligations regarding short term rentals, and associated costs, including local taxes.

The parties should be prepared to address whether Consultant is a "professional" within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 327; whether approval of the contract with Consultant is required under that section or section 363(b); and whether shortened time or other special procedures are requested regarding any proposed agreement with Consultant. See 11 U.S.C. 327, 363(b); Rules 2002(a)(2) & 9006(c)(2) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

(c) Termination of prior real estate agent

Debtor reports (dkt. 69, para.3) that the previously authorized real estate agent has agreed to cancel the listing. Is that in writing? Will Debtor need any order related to that cancellation/termination? What assurance is there that this prior agent will not seek some sort of compensation?

Chapter 11

Tentative Ruling for 8/20/19:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by debtor herself.

(1) Current issues

(a) Airbnb

Debtor's budget motion (dkt. 37, Ex.A, p.2) reveals that, although the Sweetzer property is "listed to be sold," meanwhile "Debtor intends to rent [that property] as an Airbnb." The tentative ruling is that this is a transaction out of the ordinary course, which requires notice, an opportunity for a hearing, and approval by this Court. 11 U.S.C. 363(b). Has Debtor already acted on this intent, without such approval?

In addition, this Court is concerned about (i) whether Airbnb rental would be in compliance with any local permitting and zoning requirements and is otherwise permissible, (ii) whether that proposed use might expose the bankruptcy estate to liabilities, (iii) whether there is adequate insurance for that use of the property, and (iv) whether the proposed sale of the property is consistent with any agreement with Airbnb.

(b) Real estate agent.

The employment application (dkt. 26, p.4:1-4) states that Agent has agreed to disclose to Debtor [i.e., only to Debtor? how about disclosure to creditors, the US Trustee, and this Court?] any agency relationship Agent has with other parties ("Third Parties") that may be part of a real estate transaction for the sale of the Real Property [i.e., dual agency? that is prohibited by the posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov)] as well as the amount of any compensation Agent receives from Agent's relationship with any Third Parties [i.e., splitting the commission with a cooperating agent from a different real estate agency? or something else?].

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/17/19.

(a) Bar date: TBD

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(1) Current issues

(a) Budget motion

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 9/30/19 to file and serve a budget motion.

Tentative Ruling for 10/29/19:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion for final decree (dkt. 191), limited opposition of U.S. Bank National Association ("US Bank") (dkt. 195), no reply is on file

The tentative ruling is to grant the Motion for Final Decree provided that (i) the order will recite that it is without prejudice to US Bank's rights to deem the loan in default for failure to make payments as set forth in US Bank's limited opposition (dkt. 195) and (ii) notwithstanding Debtor's assertion that all matters have been resolved (dkt.191, p.4, para.4.a.) it appears that once Debtor has made 60 months of payments to unsecured creditors she will have to file a motion for discharge (see Plan, dkt.102, p.4, Art.IV.A.), and therefore the tentative ruling is to close this case on an interim basis (not a final basis) so that, at that time, Debtor can more easily file a motion to reopen this case and a motion to be granted a discharge of her debts.

Proposed order: US Bank is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date reflecting the foregoing terms, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(b) Motion by U.S. Trustee ("UST") to dismiss ("MTD," dkt.183)

At the hearing on 9/24/19 the UST orally consented to denial of its MTD.

Proposed order/withdrawal: The UST is directed either to withdraw its MTD or to lodge a proposed order via LOU denying the MTD, within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

#13.00 Cont'd Status Conference re: Chapter 11 Case
fr. 11/5/19

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/12/19 (Same as for 11/5/19):

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor (if any) and by Debtor herself.

(1) Current issues

(a) Should this case be dismissed, with a bar to being a debtor in any future bankruptcy case?

Debtor should be prepared to address the issues identified in the Procedures Order (dkt. 7, pp. 2:23-28 & 3:1-18).

(b) Missing budget motion

Debtor's status report states that a budget motion is not required. Dkt. 17 at p. 3. Per the posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at cacb.uscourts.gov), budget motions are required in all Chapter 11 cases.

(c) Automatic Stay

Debtor declares that she filed this case, in part, to deal with "a creditor that has been aggressively attempting to foreclose my property and indeed illegally held a sale after notification of the filing of this action on 10/25/19." Dkt. 18, para. 5. But she has not filed any motion to continue the automatic stay under section 362(c)(3) - why not?

(d) Lack of income to fund a plan

Debtor's schedules reflect monthly income of $4,365 (dkt. 27) and monthly expenses of $35,300 (dkt. 28). In addition, Debtor's monthly expenses seem wildly inflated (e.g. $9,000 mortgage, $4,500 home maintenance, $1,000 HOA dues, $3,000 electricity bill, $3,000 vehicle insurance, $3,500 car payments) (dkt. 28). Are these figures accurate? If so, should this Court dismiss this case because Debtor has no realistic prospect of reorganizing her affairs?

(e) No application to employ attorney

It appears Debtor has retained counsel to represent her in this case,

Appearances required. This Court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (dkt. 4) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

Chapter 11

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this Bankruptcy Court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this Court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 4/16/19 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 1/29/19. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 7/9/19, subject to adjustment at next status conference depending on Alvarez issues (see Status Report, adv. dkt. 4, section G).

Expert(s) - deadline for reports: 7/23/19 (subject to same adjustment)

The tentative ruling is that Trustee has established on a prima facie basis that Debtors had an ownership interest in two Porches and three Lotus vehicles, and the burden is on Debtors to establish that they no longer have such an interest. The tentative ruling is that Debtors have only met that burden with respect to one vehicle (the Lotus as to which there is evidence of a sale to Debtor MacMillan's brother).

First, as a procedural matter, Debtors had an opportunity to respond to the Turnover Motion by the deadline established by the Local Bankruptcy Rules; they did not request additional time to respond; and, even if they had made such a request, they have not (on the present record) established any cause to be granted additional time. Second, based on the limited evidence provided by Debtors, they have not rebutted the Trustee's prima facie showing (except as to the one vehicle noted above).

For example, it appears that Debtors are the owners of record for at least three Lotus race cars - two Lotus Evoras and one Lotus 211. Dkt. 332, p. 6. Debtor MacMillan's declaration (dkt. 361) provides very little information about these vehicles.

Debtor MacMillan asserts that one Lotus vehicle was totaled around February 2012 (dkt. 361, p.3, para. 9), and that he no longer has any paperwork relating to that vehicle. But (i) the one photograph that he provides (allegedly of the subject vehicle) does not appear to show that it was totaled; (ii) he fails to explain why he lacks any paperwork; and (iii) normally one would expect to have paperwork regarding the loss of such a valuable vehicle, such as insurance papers, or tax returns for Debtor MacMillan or one of his businesses showing a write-off based on loss of the vehicle, or other records and documents. Although it is conceivable that there are explanations and documents that would establish that Debtor MacMillan does not still own this vehicle, he has not met his burden to rebut the Trustee's prima facie showing, and the deadline to do so has passed.

In addition, although the tentative ruling is that Debtor MacMillan has met his burden insofar as the unregistered 2011 Lotus Evora that allegedly was sold to his brother by Rasco/Racso (the spelling is unclear) in March 2016 (dkt. 361, p. 3, para 12), it appears that the Lotus Evora sold to Debtor's brother is not the same Lotus Evora mentioned in para. 10 (see dkt. 362, p.2:22-28). There is no evidence to rebut the prima facie showing as to that Lotus vehicle. Nor is there any evidence to rebut the prima facie showing as to the two Porches. Nor has Debtor Martin filed anything in response to the Turnover Motion.

The tentative ruling is to direct Debtors to turn over the two Lotus vehicles and the two Porches to the Chapter 7 Trustee, together with all associated papers and materials (e.g., car keys), no later than 5/28/19, or be subject to possible sanctions. This Court recognizes that, if Debtors truly do not possess some of these four vehicles, or if those vehicles belong to another entity, then perhaps they will be unable to turn over the vehicles despite any order of this Court directing them to do so. But the tentative ruling is that, having chosen not to take the Turnover Motion seriously enough to rebut the Trustee's prima facie showing, or to request additional time to do so, Debtors have waived and forfeited that opportunity, and the Turnover Motion must be granted.

Debtors' apparent remedy will be (i) to seek reconsideration (e.g., under Rule 9023), or, (ii) if they are held in contempt for violating the Turnover Motion, to meet their burden to show impossibility (or to establish any other viable defense to a finding of contempt). The parties should be prepared to address the present location and condition of the vehicles, where the Trustee needs them to be delivered, and any other specifics that this tentative ruling does not address.

appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 4/9/19:

Appearances required. The parties should be prepared to address the following issues.

Current issues

(a) Procedures

This Court issued its Order Setting Status Conference in All Related Matters (the "Procedures Order," dkt. 332). See a/so dkt. 334 & 338 (proofs of service). Among other things, the Procedures Order was prompted by the following.

First, an exhibit was filed without a cover page and with the exhibit pages out of order rendering the exhibit difficult to read (see dkt. 324, ex. 1). Second, briefs have gone on for 80 pages or more, with whole sections that appear to be at best tangentially related to the subject matter and appear to have been copied and pasted wholesale from other papers (but with no statement to let the reader know if those sections are or are not different in some way). See dkt. 326, 330. Third, those same papers, with exhibits included, are over 2000 pages long. Fourth, some papers appear to raise frivolous arguments (see below).

The tentative ruling is as follows with respect to procedures in all of the adversary proceedings and contested matters in these related bankruptcy cases:

(i) Page limits. Set a limit of 25 pages for any brief, and 50 pages of attached or accompanying documents, absent prior authorization to exceed those limits. The documents can be excerpts, marked up to point the reader to the relevant phrase or item, provided that (x) any original markings on the documents are clearly distinguishable from any added markings and (y) upon request full copies of all exhibits are immediately made available to all other parties and this Court.

(ii) Incorporation by reference. Direct all parties, rather than repeating their arguments and exhibits, to incorporate them by reference. In addition, to the extent any material does not exactly repeat prior material, but parallels prior material in substantial part, the tentative ruling is that the party must explain what is new or different.

For example, instead of a 10-page recitation of background facts in which one sentence is different, the party would replace those 10 pages with that one sentence and a brief summary of the relevant aspects of the prior material, with a cross-reference to the docket number of the material that is incorporated by reference. Alternatively, if the approach in the immediately preceding sentence would not be practical or would be confusing in any particular situation, then the party would add a footnote both at the start of the factual summary and at the start of the new or different sentence, to alert the reader that this is the portion that is new or different. Alternatively, the party could adopt any other suitable method for highlighting new or different material. In any event, all parties are directed to use whatever method is most reader-friendly for presenting accurate, relevant material.

(iii) Bifurcating or combining any matters, and issuing judgments on partial findings and/or final judgments on fewer than all claims or parties. The claim objections that are set for hearing today violate at least the spirit, and probably the letter, of Rule 3007(b) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) ("A party in interest shall not include a demand for relief of a kind specified in Rule 7001 in an objection to the allowance of a claim, but may include the objection in an adversary proceeding."). In any event, any future claim objections involving the same nucleus of operative facts as any pending adversary proceeding must be raised through proper pleadings or motions in those adversary proceedings, not by separate claim objections.

In addition, there is no reason to litigate all of the numerous issues raised by the parties if it appears that it would be more efficient to litigate just one or two issues first, and enter judgements on partial findings, and/or enter final judgments as to fewer than all claims or parties (based on any express determination that there is "no just reason for delay") (Rules 52 & 54(b), Fed. R. Civ. P., incorporated by Rules 7052, 7054 & 9014(c), Fed. R. Bankr. P.). For example, if a hypothetical chapter 7 debtor were accused of dozens of acts and omissions that could warrant either nondischargeability of individual claims (11 U.S.C. 523) or denial of the entire discharge (11 U.S.C. 727), there might be no just reason not to enter a judgment determining a single issue, after bifurcation so as to have a separate trial on that issue. In this situation the single issue might be whether the hypothetical debtor had concealed or failed to maintain adequate recorded information (under section 727(a)(3)), which, if proven, presumably would moot the other issues under sections 523 and 727.

The parties are directed to address whether this Court should adopt such procedures for one or more issues in these cases and the related adversary proceedings and contested matters, or conversely whether this Court should combine various matters for joint hearings or trials. See Rule 42 (Fed. R. Civ. P., incorporated by Rules 7042 & 9014(c), Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

(iv) Testimony by declaration. Direct testimony must be presented by declaration, subject to live cross-examination and redirect (see Rule 611(a); In re Gergely, 110 F.3d 1448, 1451-52 (9th Cir. 1997); In re Adair, 965 F.2d 777, 779-80 (9th Cir. 1992)).

(v) Time limits. The parties are hereby put on notice that this Court at any time may limit their time for oral argument and presentation of their case. In addition, the parties are directed to address whether they would prefer that this Court impose such limits at this time, or at any pretrial conferences, or on the first day of trial, or during trial. See generally, Hon. Barry Russell, 2 Bankr. Evid. Manual (2018-19 Ed., Nov. 2018) 611:1, Examples 6&7).

(b) Objection by individual Debtors to Proof of Claim ("POC") No. 3 (dkt. 310)

Overrule the objection to POC No. 3, filed by Wyndham Vacation Resort, Inc ("Wyndham"), for the reasons stated in Wyndham's opposition (dkt. 326), and for the following additional reasons.

First, POC No. 3 has sufficient documentation and other information to establish its prima facie validity. Second, any lack of prima facie validity is not enough to disallow the claim under 11 U.S.C. 502. See In re Orozco, 2017 WL 3126797 (Case No. 2:13-bk-15745-NB, dkt. 132), and In re Beoglyan (Case No. 2:13-bk-22883-NB, dkt. 141).

The cases cited by Mr. MacMillan (dkt. 310, pp.2:28-3:1) are distinguishable or actually contrary to his position. See In re Garner, 246 B.R. 617 (9th Cir. BAP 2000) (when claim did have prima facie validity, opposition did not overcome that prima facie validity); and see In re Stoecker, 5 F.3d 1022, 1027-28 (7th Cir. 1993) (reversing disallowance of claim based on non-compliance with Rule 3001(f)); In re Brunson, 486 B.R. 759, 765-66, and 768-73 (Bankr. ND Tex. 2013) ("This court adheres to the majority view that a proof of claim may not be disallowed where the sole basis of objection is the creditor's failure to attach sufficient documentation under Bankruptcy Rule 3001") (emphasis added).

Indeed, as noted in Brunson, the 2011 amendments to "Bankruptcy Rule 3001(c)(2)(D), together with the Advisory Committee Note shedding light on its meaning, should end the debate." Id., p.770 (emphasis added). Now it is clear that "[f]ailure to provide the required information does not itself constitute a ground for disallowance of a claim." Id. (quoting advisory committee note; emphasis added).

In view of the foregoing, the tentative ruling is that this objection to POC No. 3 is frivolous.

(c) Objection by individual Debtors to POC No. 18 (dkt. 312)

Overrule the objection to Americana Vacation Club and Stardust Vacation Club's ("Americana/Stardust") POC for the reasons stated in Americana/Stardust's opposition (dkt. 320) and for the same reasons as stated above in connection with POC No. 3. Debtors' Reply (dkt. 341) does not adequately address those reasons.

In view of the foregoing, the tentative ruling is that this objection to POC No. 18 is frivolous.

(d) Motion by individual Debtors to Dismiss bankruptcy case of Attitude Marketing, Inc. ("Attitude") (the "MTD," dkt. 307)

The tentative ruling is to deny the individual Debtors' MTD for the reasons stated in the Chapter 7 Trustee's opposition (dkt. 325) to the MTD, and for the following additional reasons.

As the Trustee notes, in this circuit a voluntary Chapter 7 debtor is entitled to dismissal of the case so long as such dismissal will cause no "plain legal prejudice" to interested parties, or perhaps just "legal prejudice" (without the "plain" modifier). In re Leach, 130 B.R. 855, 857 (9th Cir. BAP 1991) (citing pre-Bankruptcy Code case of In re International Airport Inn Partnership, 517 F.2d 510, 512 (9th Cir. 1975), and addressing how its principles should be applied under the Bankruptcy Code). The tentative ruling is that dismissal very much would cause plain legal prejudice to interested parties because dismissal would preclude the Trustee and creditors from using the bankruptcy process and powers (i) to investigate past and present alleged misconduct, (ii) to prevent acts and omissions for which there are grounds to be concerned, and which can drain the value of a potentially valuable asset of this bankruptcy estate, and (iii) to identify and recover any avoidable transfers.

Investigating all of these things is made all the more important by the allegations of a long history of Debtors purportedly evading judgments, settlement obligations, etc. Whether those allegations are accurate or not is an issue on which Debtors will have every legitimate opportunity to present arguments and evidence; but the tentative ruling is that they cannot avoid the determination of those bankruptcy-focused issues by obtaining a dismissal of their bankruptcy case.

Debtor's motion and reply papers (dkt. 339, 340) do not adequately address any of the foregoing, nor do they establish any reason why this Court would not recognize the Trustee's authority to file the bankruptcy petition pursuant to the Written Consent Of Shareholders In Lieu Of Meeting and the Written Consent Of Sole Director In Lieu Of Meeting attached to the Trustee's Opposition as Exhibit A (dkt. 325). The arguments attempting to dispute the Trustee's business judgment in causing Attitude's bankruptcy petition to be filed, or in filling out Attitude's bankruptcy schedules, or in administering Attitude's assets, are unpersuasive and unsupported by any meaningful evidence. The individual Debtors' flat denials of the claims against Attitude, without persuasive or even colorable arguments or evidence, are insufficient.

The tentative ruling is that the individual Debtors' arguments are frivolous. In any event, the paucity of those arguments only reinforces the need for the Trustee to take over management of Attitude.

Proposed orders: The Trustee and the Claimants are directed to lodge proposed orders on each of the foregoing matters "(1)(b)," "(c)," and "(d)" via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B). This Court will prepare an order on matter "(1)(a)."

Tentative Ruling for 1/30/18:

Appearances required. The court has reviewed the parties' filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding. The parties must address (a) why they failed to file the required status report, (b) why the motions for joint administration/consolidation of the two closely related adversary proceedings have not been prosecuted, and (c) the following issues. The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See *generally Stern v. (2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not formalize the fact that the pending mediation includes this adversary proceeding by issuing an order to mediate this matter together with related adversary proceeding (2:17-ap-01229-NB)? The tentative ruling is to direct counsel for the defendants to lodge a proposed order to that effect.

Tentative Ruling for 6/12/18:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

At the 3/6/18 hearing, this Court continued the matter to allow the parties time to meet and confer about the various deadlines that this court should set in this adversary proceeding and/or court-ordered mediation. This matter was further continued to today's date for the parties to participate in mediation on or about 5/21/18 (see Order, adv. dkt. 21). This Court also directed the parties to file a status report by 5/29/18, but the parties have not done so--for a second time.

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties are directed to address why they have not filed a status report, and to provide an oral status report, and are cautioned that continued failure to adhere to the applicable rules and orders of this Court may result in sanctions.

The parties requested a brief continuance of this status conference from 2/27/18 to today's date (see Joint Status Report, adv. dkt. 10). At the status conference on 1/23/18 there was no appearance for the plaintiff, and this Court was persuaded that it was premature to adopt the deadlines stated in the tentative ruling for that status conference (reproduced below). Tentative Ruling for 2/27/18:

Continue to 3/6/18 at 11:00 a.m. Appearances are not required on 2/27/18.

Reasons: At the status conference on 1/23/18 there was no appearance for the plaintiff, and this Court was persuaded that it was premature to adopt the deadlines stated in the tentative ruling for that status conference (reproduced below). The plaintiff and one defendant (the debtor) have now filed a joint status report (adv. dkt. 10) requesting a brief continuance.

Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Appearances required. The court has reviewed the parties' filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding. The parties must address why they failed to file the required status report, and also the following issues. The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority. The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 2/6/18 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(3) Deadlines/dates: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 11/21/17. The tentative ruling is to set the following deadlines/dates. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 5/1/18

Expert(s) - deadline for reports: 5/8/18

Expert(s) - discovery cutoff (if different from above): 5/15/18

Dispositive motions to be heard no later than: 6/26/18

Joint Status Report: 2/6/18

Continued status conference: 2/27/18 at 11:00 a.m.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Appearances are not required on 5/21/19. The tentative ruling is to continue the hearings in these related adversary proceedings (calendar no. 13 & 14, 5/21/19) to the date of the continued status conference (see below).

(1) Current issues

The tentative ruling on the Motion to Compel (dkt. 104) and the Order to Show Cause ("OSC," dkt. 107) is to continue these matters as requested in the response of Aston Business Solutions, Inc. (dkt. 110, 111). This Court contemplates that the deadlines for completion of discovery and other matters will need to be extended, and the parties are directed to meet and confer and, if they can agree to new deadlines, lodge a proposed order. If they cannot agree, this Court anticipates setting new deadlines at the continued status conference.

(2) Venue/jurisdiction/authority

Matters of venue, jurisdiction, and authority have been determined and/or waived or forfeited (adv. dkt. 6, 11, 24).

Tentative Ruling for 4/30/19:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 4/30/19.

This Court has reviewed the latest filed documents in this adversary proceeding and is not aware of issues that would warrant a status conference at this time.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority

Matters of venue, jurisdiction, and authority have been determined and/or waived or forfeited (adv. dkt. 6, 11, 24).

Supplemental Tentative Ruling for 4/9/19:

The original tentative ruling (below) provides two inconsistent dates for a continued status conference: 4/30/19 at 11:00 a.m., 4/7/19 at 11:00 a.m. The latter [should be "former"] is correct. No status report required.

Tentative Ruling for 4/9/19:

Deny the motion to quash (with the possible exception of one aspect), address procedural issues, and then continue this Status Conference, all as set forth below. Appearances required.

Current issues:

(a) Procedures

Please see the tentative ruling for the main case status conference (calendar no. 10, 4/9/19 at 11:00 a.m.)

(b) Motion to Quash (adv. dkt. 84)

The tentative ruling is that the motion to quash (adv. dkt. 84) by Aston Business Solutions, Inc. ("ABS") is unpersuasive, except perhaps for limitations as to time, which the parties are directed to address at the hearing.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(A) Analysis re motion to quash

ABS asserts only vague objections:

(1) Competitors?

ABS asserts that it and Plaintiff are competitors. How so?

The motion does not even disclose ABS' business. Is it a timeshare owner? Is it a timeshare operator? Is it something else? (As noted below, this Court expects that it has gleaned the answer from other documents, but the tentative ruling is that this lack of even such basic information in the motion is fatal to this argument.)

(2) Protected information?

ABS alleges that some sort of trade secrets or other confidential, privileged, or other type of protected information is involved. What sort of information? Why would a traditional privilege log and other tools be inadequate?

ABS complains that parties in interest in this bankruptcy case have shared information. But ABS fails to point to any prohibition on sharing information.

(3) Burden?

ABS alleges that the requested discovery is unduly burdensome. How so? Is it stored in thousands of boxes of paper files that are difficult to reach and review for some reason?

(4) Vagueness and overbreadth?

ABS alleges that the discovery requests are vague and overbroad. How so? ABS fails to provide any explanation or evidence to support this allegations.

(5) Discussion

Based on a question (not an answer) in excerpts from the deposition of ABS' President and shareholder, Glenn Chaffin, ABS may be a marketing company for "timeshare exit companies." Adv. dkt. 84, Ex.1 (Depo. Tr. 1/24/19), p.95:22-23. But how does that make ABS a "competitor" of Plaintiff, with information that would constitute trade secrets, as opposed to a facilitator of (possibly) legitimate ways to exit timeshares, who sends out non-secret flyers and other publicly known marketing materials, and assists timeshare members in navigating contracts that are known to all the parties?

Such a facilitator theoretically could benefit Plaintiff, by replacing non-paying or troubled members with paying ones - unless, of course, ABS engages in acts that improperly interfere with contractual relations or otherwise assists in the wrongdoing of which Plaintiff accuses Defendants. Plaintiff's discovery appears to be targeted at discovering information that could lead to admissible evidence on this and other relevant issues.

Accordingly, the discovery appears to be entirely proper and appropriate, with the possible exception of the movant's request to impose some limitations as

#1.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [UD]

DEBTOR

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Retroactive relief

Grant the request for retroactive annulment of the stay. See In re Fjeldsted, 293 B.R. 12 (9th Cir. BAP 2003); and see also In re Williams, 323 B.R. 691, 697-702 (9th Cir. BAP 2005) (various issues involving annulment, and application of Fjeldsted), aff'd, 204 Fed.Appx. 582 (9th Cir. 2006), overruled on other issues, In re Perl, 811 F.3d 1120 (9th Cir. 2016) (scope of automatic stay).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Deny, without prejudice to any other types of relief granted herein (or previously granted), for the following reasons.

The motion requests requests "in rem" relief (i.e., relief applicable notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases, under In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017)). The tentative ruling is to deny that request for lack of adequate cause shown.

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

Chapter 13

#9.00 Hrg re: Debtor's objection and Motion to Disallow
proof of Claims of creditor Franchise Tax Board

Docket 37

Tentative Ruling:

Deny as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: This Court will prepare the order.

(1) Analysis

(a) Procedures

(i) Service is inadequate. Debtor's proof of service (dkt. 37) does not reflect that the claim objection was served on the Franchise Tax Board ("FTB") in accordance with Rule 7004(b)(6) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) at the complete address listed in Proof of Claim 1-2 (the "Amended Claim") and Court Manual: Bankruptcy Section MS A340, Franchise Tax Board, PO Box 2952, Sacramento, CA 95812-2952. (emphasis added). Accordingly, there is no way for this Court to determine whether the FTB actually received the claim objection.

(ii) Insufficient notice. Debtor has not calendared the claim objection on adequate notice as required by Rule 3007(a)(1) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), which requires a claim objection to be filed and served "at least 30 days before any scheduled hearing on the objection" Debtor's proof of service (dkt. 37), states that the claim objection was not served until October 24, 2019, which is less than 30 days' notice.

Debtor may wish to consider retaining a capable bankruptcy attorney.

(b) Debtor's objections are not persuasive

(i) Burdens of proof

The Proof of Claim contains the documentation required by Rule 3001(c) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) and therefore it is prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3001(f). Alternatively, even if the claim were not entitled to prima facie validity (which it is), the burden is on Debtor to come forward with evidence and legal arguments sufficient to disallow the claim. 11 U.S.C. 502(a). See In re Campbell, 336 B.R. 430 (9th Cir. BAP 2005); In re Heath, 331 B.R. 424 (9th Cir. BAP 2005).

In this case, Debtor does not appear to grasp how the typical claims process works or how estimated taxes are handled. Debtor has not, for example, provided evidence that he does not owe the debt (i.e. that he submitted tax returns for 2015, 2016 or 2017 and does not owe any taxes for those years); or any other persuasive basis to dispute this claim. Nor has debtor asserted that he filed a timely appeal of the disputed FTB assessments.

For these reasons, Debtor has not met his burden to establish a basis to disallow the claim in its entirety.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." #11.00 Hrg re: Objection to Claim Number 6 by Claimant
Wells Fargo Bank N.A., d/b/a Wells Fargo Auto

Docket 47

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as set forth below and disallow Claim 6. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Reasons: The tentative ruling is that debtor's proof of service does not reflect service of the court-mandated form F 3007-1.1.NOTICE.OBJ.CLAIM on Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., d/b/a Wells Fargo Auto ("Claimant") as required by Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 3007-1(b)(3), but that such failure is harmless because debtor's notice of motion and motion (dkt. 47) contains the requisite information set forth in LBR 3007-1(b)(3)(A) & (B), the attached proof of service reflects that Claimant was served with that document and, as of the preparation of this tentative ruling no opposition is on file. Debtor's counsel is cautioned that failure to comply with applicable rules in future may result in denial of the motion.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." #11.00 Hrg re: Motion to Disallow Claim No. 4-1

Tentative Ruling:

Continue to 12/19/19 at 8:30 a.m. to address the following issues.
Appearances are not required on 11/21/19.

Current issues

(1) Missing mandatory form

Debtor has not complied with Local Bankruptcy Rule 3007-1(b)(3) which requires the use of the court-mandated form F 3007-1.1.NOTICE.OBJ.CLAIM. No later than 7 days after the date of this hearing, debtor is directed to file and serve notice on the required form.

(2) Lack of cost/benefit analysis. The posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) provide:

§ 502: claim objections & cost/benefit analysis. When objecting to claims, be sure to include an analysis of whether the costs of preparing and litigating the claim objection (administrative expenses) do not exceed the anticipated benefits (reductions in claims). For example, if the anticipated dividend is small or 0% then the attorney fees incurred in prosecuting your claim objection to any general unsecured claim probably will exceed the benefit to the bankruptcy estate/debtor, so filing that objection would be a waste of the bankruptcy estate's (and everyone else's) resources (unless, for example, the claim is nondischargeable, in which event the attorney fees might well be justified).

No later than 7 days after the date of this hearing the movant must file either:

(1) a supplemental declaration explaining why the attorney fees for this objection are justified (including supporting evidence, such as a copy of the plan showing the projected dividend to the claimant, and a calculation comparing that projected dividend against the attorney fees related to this claim objection), or

(2) a withdrawal of the claim objection.

No fees related to the continuance of this matter, absent specific authorization. Counsel is directed not to charge any fees on the continuance of this matter (e.g., serving notice of the continued hearing, appearing at the continued hearing), because such fees would not have been necessary if counsel had complied with the applicable rules and procedures to begin with.

In addition, because of the lack of cost/benefit analysis, this Court presumes for present purposes that there is no net benefit to the bankruptcy estate. Accordingly, counsel is prohibited from charging any fees on this matter (including all past, present and future work related to this claim objection), and to return any fees received on this matter, unless and until this Court expressly finds: "Counsel has provided a cost/benefit analysis that is sufficient for purposes of Judge Bason's posted Procedures regarding claim objections." It is counsel's responsibility to include the quoted phrase, if warranted, in the proposed order on this claim objection.

This Court does not have the capacity to monitor all fee applications to assure compliance with the foregoing limitation on fees. But if counsel is found to have disregarded this limitation then this Court may impose sanctions.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

#15.00 Hrg re: Objection for Order Disallowing Reducing Claim Number 4
by Claimant Toyota Motor Credit Corporation.

Docket 35

Tentative Ruling:

Deny, and also deny any attorney fees for the claim objection, all for the reasons set forth below. Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged - except for Debtor's counsel who must appear in person - if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

Proposed order: Creditor Toyota Motor Credit Corp. ("Toyota") is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Debtor incorrectly asserts that Toyota is double counting arrears

Debtor asserts that in filling out its Proof of Claim ("POC"), Toyota has double counted $460.74 of late fees by including those fees in two places. Debtor is wrong.

True, that dollar amount is listed in Box 7 under total claim amount, and also in Box 9 under amount necessary to cure any defaults. See dkt. 35, p.4:5-12. But, as Toyota explains in its opposition (dkt. 39), the POC form simply provides information regarding what portion of the total claim consists of arrears as of the petition date. There is no double-counting.

(2) Debtor's challenge to the arrears is unpersuasive

Toyota's POC conforms to the requirements of Rule 3001 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.). Therefore, the POC constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of Toyota's claim. See Rule 3001(f). The burden of proof is thus on Debtor to introduce evidence sufficient to rebut the presumption of validity.

Toyota's POC provides that Debtor owes arrears of $460.74, consisting of late fees for payments that were made late prepetition. POC no. 4, p.2 at box 9. Debtor objects that she was current on her monthly payments as of the time when her bankruptcy petition was filed. See dkt. 35, p.25-26. That is a non-sequitur. If, for example, Debtor did not make one monthly payment on time in 2018, but later made that payment, she would be current as of the petition date but still owe a late fee. Toyota's POC asserts that this is exactly the type of thing that happened, and Debtor's objection does not include any contrary assertion or evidence.

(3) Debtor's assertion that she paid the late fees postpetition is unsupported by any evidence

In her reply, Debtor states that she was billed post-petition for the late fees and paid them prior to contacting counsel. Dkt. 41, p.2:17-20. But there is no evidence to support that assertion (no evidence of payment, and no evidence of any attempt to collect the debt as an in personam liability, as opposed to account statements that could help Debtor address the in rem liability and keep the vehicle - see In re Marino, 577 B.R. 772 (9th Cir. BAP 2017)).

Note: It is true that, at least in this district, the practice is that secured creditors generally file amended proofs of claim when postpetition events alter the dollar amounts that should be disbursed to a creditor by the Chapter 13 Trustee (as opposed to payments made directly by Debtor to the creditor). That practice lets the Trustee know what to distribute (even though proofs of claim are supposed to reflect the dollar amount owed "as of the date of the filing of the petition"). 11 U.S.C. 502(b). If a creditor in that situation does not amend its proof of claim, a debtor can object to the proof of claim, so that the Trustee knows how much to distribute to that creditor. If that is the situation, Debtor is free to file an amended objection.

(4) Debtor's request for an order to show cause

In her reply, Debtor requests that this Court issue an order to show cause to review Toyota's claim practices over the last five years. Dkt. 41, p.2:12-14. Debtor's request (a) is improperly presented (a reply on a claim objection is not the proper way to present an independent request for relief) and (b) is premised on Debtor's misunderstandings set forth above - Debtor has not shown that Toyota has done anything wrong. Accordingly this Court will take no action on Debtor's request.

(5) Debtor's counsel's attorney's fees

The posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) require that any claim objection include a cost/benefit analysis. This matter illustrates why.

The total dollar amount at issue is $460.74. Debtor's counsel bills at $550.00/hr. (dkt.24, last page). Therefore if Debtor's counsel spends as little as an hour on this matter, he will have already spent more than Debtor or the bankruptcy estate will gain.

Based on what appears to be extremely poor billing judgment, the tentative ruling is to deny all fees on this claim objection (past, present, or future). This Court does not have the resources to monitor all fee applications to be sure that no such fees are charged; but counsel is cautioned that if he attempts to charge for this matter he may face consequences, possibly including sanctions.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Docket 37

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/21/19:

Appearances required. At the hearing on 10/24/19 this Court was persuaded to continue the matter to this date, based on the representation of counsel for the United States Trustee ("UST") that respondent Vanessa Watson has filed her own individual bankruptcy case (2:19-bk-19881-BR), to allow time for the UST to assess the effect of that bankruptcy filing and take appropriate action. There is no tentative ruling, but the UST should be prepared to provide this Court with an update on the status of its investigations.

Tentative Ruling for 12/2/19:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures"). NOTE: Due to the specially-set nature of this hearing and scheduling conflicts, Judge Bason will be appearing by telephone.

(1) Current issues

(a) Goldman Sachs' Motion for relief from stay (dkt. 25, 26, 27, 28), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 31), Goldman Sachs' reply (dkt. 32, 33), adequate protection order (dkt. 39), Debtor's supplemental brief (dkt. 47), Goldman Sachs' supplemental reply (dkt. 59, 50, 51), stipulation to continue hearing (dkt. 53), Debtor's supplemental opposition (dkt. 57), Goldman Sachs' supplemental reply (dkt. 67, 68)

The tentative ruling is to modify and condition the automatic stay, under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (2), such that the stay will continue in force and effect only through 2/28/20, which will allow debtor a final opportunity to obtain the anticipated construction permits within the time frame it current projects and several additional weeks to secure its anticipated post-petition financing.

This Court acknowledges that Debtor appears to be making incremental progress towards paying off Goldman Sachs and restructuring its finances. But this Court is also mindful that (a) Goldman Sachs' lien has been in default since 12/2018; (b) Debtor has already benefitted from five months of stay protection since the 6/25/19 petition date; (c) based on a review of Goldman Sachs' recent appraisal (dkt. 68), its interest in the property is only protected by a minimal equity cushion; (d) Debtor's progress to date has fallen short of its projections; and (e) although Debtor has been making payments equivalent to the non-default interest, the parties have not

#1.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [RP]

BANK OF NEW YORK MELLON TRUST CO
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 40

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

#10.00 [CASE DISMISSED ON 11/26/19]

Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [RP]

SPECIALIZED LOAN SERVICING, LLC
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 28

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. In her limited opposition (dkt. 32), Debtor requests that Movant not be allowed to foreclose on Debtor's residence until January 10, 2020. Debtor also submitted an unsigned declaration (dkt. 35, 37) asking this Court to continue the hearing on the motion for 30 days so that she may complete the sale of her home. The tentative ruling is that this Court cannot grant Debtor her requested relief because the automatic stay has already been terminated due to the dismissal of Debtor's case. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply

This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Other relief

This Court is not reaching the merits of the motion, other than as set forth above. In addition, to the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31), as applicable:

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed, including any eviction actions, through and including any lockout or other enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that Debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that Debtor was involved and Debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that Debtor was involved. GATEWAY ONE LENDING & FINANCE
DEBTOR

Docket 47

Tentative Ruling:

Grant, with a caution to movant (see below). Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Caution regarding service

The proof of service does not show service on the entire list of creditors included in Debtor's "list filed under Rule 1007(d)" (as required by Rule 4001(a)(1), Fed. R. Bankr. P.). See dkt. 1. For example, Wells Fargo is missing.

In the circumstances presented, the tentative ruling is to treat this as a harmless error because there is no equity in the vehicle and, based on this Court's experience, there is a vanishingly small chance that any omitted creditor would have any desire or ability to oppose the requested relief when Debtors have not. In future, however, this Court may require strict compliance with the applicable rules.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Limited relief. Modify and condition the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1), subject to the following limitations:

(a) No enforcement against property of the bankruptcy estate. The stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against property of the debtor's bankruptcy estate - any such property shall be distributed when and how provided by the Bankruptcy Code. Nevertheless, the movant is permitted to enforce its final judgment by (i) collecting upon any available insurance in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law or (ii) proceeding against the debtor as to any property that is not property of this bankruptcy estate. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(2)(B) & 541(b)(7) (collection of domestic support obligations from ERISA qualified retirement plans).

(b) Claim allowance, priority, and discharge issues. Any claims arising from the nonbankruptcy litigation are subject to this Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction regarding claim allowance and priority, and the existence and scope of any bankruptcy discharge.

(c) No relief in other bankruptcy cases. To the extent, if any, that the

#30.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [NA]

DEBTOR

Docket 123

Tentative Ruling:

Grant in part as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Limited relief. Modify and condition the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) such that the movant may proceed in the nonbankruptcy forum to final judgment (including any appeals) in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law, subject to the following limitations (Judge Bason's standard limitations).

(a) No enforcement against property of the bankruptcy estate. The stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against property of the debtor's bankruptcy estate - any such property shall be distributed when and how provided by the Bankruptcy Code. Nevertheless, the movant is permitted to enforce its final judgment by (i) collecting upon any available insurance in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law or (ii) proceeding against the debtor as to any property that is not property of this bankruptcy estate. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(2)(B) & 541(b)(7) (collection of domestic support obligations from ERISA qualified retirement plans).

(b) Claim allowance, priority, and discharge issues. Any claims arising from the nonbankruptcy litigation are subject to this Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction regarding claim allowance and priority, and the existence and scope of any bankruptcy discharge.

(c) No relief in other bankruptcy cases. To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

In limiting the nonbankruptcy litigation as set forth above, this Bankruptcy Court emphasizes that it does not seek in any way to impinge on the authority of the Nonbankruptcy Courts presiding over the nonbankruptcy action. Rather, this Bankruptcy Court takes seriously its obligations, as a subordinate unit of the District Court, to manage this bankruptcy case. Those obligations include taking into consideration the interests of creditors (who are not parties to the underlying nonbankruptcy litigation), and preserving the bankruptcy estate by placing limits on any relief from the automatic stay that Congress has mandated (11 U.S.C. 362(a) & (d)).

Additional analysis:

The Bankruptcy Court "shall grant relief from the stay" upon a showing of "cause." 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1). Such relief need not take the form of a complete termination of the automatic stay, but instead may include "modifying or conditioning such stay." Id.

"Cause" is determined on a case-by-case basis." In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir.1990). In determining whether "cause" exists to grant relief from the automatic stay to allow a movant to pursue litigation in a non-bankruptcy forum, courts in the Ninth Circuit have examined the factors set forth in In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799–800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984). See In re Kronemeyer, 405 B.R. 915 (9th Cir. BAP 2009); In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc., 311 B.R. 551, 559–60 (Bankr. C.D. Cal.2004). Those factors are: (1) Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues; (2) The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case; (3) Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary; (4) Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases; (5) Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation; (6) Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question; (7) Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties; (8) Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c); (9) Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f); (10) The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties; (11) Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial; and (12) The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt." Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 559. "[W]hile the Curtis factors are widely used to determine the existence of 'cause,' not all of the factors are relevant in every case, nor is a court required to give each factor equal weight." In re Landmark Fence Co., Inc., 2011 WL 6826253 at *4 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 9, 2011).

Based on the present record, the tentative ruling is that these factors weigh in favor of granting relief as set forth above. Most significantly, plaintiff's complaints were filed prepetition, and they allege only state law causes of action based on actions allegedly taken by Debtor prepetition, so mandatory abstention applies per 28 U.S.C. Section 1334(c)(2).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Deny, without prejudice to any other types of relief granted herein (or previously granted), for the following reasons.

The motion requests requests "in rem" relief (i.e., relief applicable notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases under In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31)). The tentative ruling is to deny that request because there is insufficient evidence on the record to convince this Court that Debtor is involved in a scheme to delay, hinder, or defraud the Movant that is equivalent to a scheme involving multiple bankruptcy cases or other acts analogous to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4), as is required under the authorities cited above. True, the Chapter 7 Trustee has alleged that Debtor engaged in a fraudulent transfer involving an actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors; but those allegations have not been proven at trial. It is also true that the Chapter 7 Trustee has alleged that this bankruptcy case was filed as a result of Movant's nonbankruptcy actions - implicitly to hinder or delay those actions - but, first, those allegations have not been proven and, second, some degree of delay is a legitimate and inherent part of any good faith bankruptcy because of the "breathing spell" that Congress intended to give debtors, to aid in restructuring their finances. For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is not to grant the requested "in rem" relief.

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Docket 19

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below, notwithstanding Debtor's (untimely) response (dkt.24), for the reasons set forth below and in Movant's reply (dkt.25).
Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Debtor opposes the motion but the tentative ruling is that this Bankruptcy Court has no authority to impose the automatic stay after it has expired.

(2) In any event, the automatic stay never went into effect

Debtor's instant bankruptcy case was filed on 10/15/19. Debtor actually had not one but two bankruptcy cases that were dismissed within the year before this latest bankruptcy case was filed: Case No. 2:18-bk-21271-VZ, dismissed 10/15/18, and Case No. 2:19-bk-11151-NB, dismissed 4/22/19.

Section 362(c)(4) provides in relevant part

(A)(i) ... if 2 or more single or join cases of the debtor were pending within the previous year but were dismissed, other than a case refiled under a chapter other than chapter 7 after dismissal under section 707(b), the stay under subsection (a) shall not go into effect upon the filing of the later case ... [11 U.S.C. 362(c)(4)(A)(i) (emphasis added)]

Rule 9006(a)(1)(A) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) provides that when computing time periods where the period stated is in days or a longer unit of time, the day of the event that triggers the period is to be excluded. Here, the Section 362(c)(4) time period is stated in years. Pursuant to Rule 9006(a)(1)(A), the petition date, 10/15/19, is to be excluded. Therefore, the instant bankruptcy petition was filed 364 days after Debtor's first prior bankruptcy case was dismissed. Therefore, after considering Debtor's next bankruptcy case that was dismissed on 4/22/19, Debtor had two dismissed bankruptcy cases that were pending within one year previous to the petition date.

Because Debtor did not seek or obtain any order imposing the automatic stay, Debtor's instant bankruptcy case falls within Section 362(c)(4). This is an alternative reason why there is no automatic stay in effect. Again, the tentative ruling is that this Bankruptcy Court has no authority to impose the automatic stay when the stay has ceased to exist.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply

This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

In addition, the motion is granted under 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(3) and (j): there is no automatic stay because (a) Debtor's prior case (#2:19-bk-19862-NB) was dismissed (on 9/17/19) within one year before this case was filed (on 10/22/19), (b) that dismissal was not under 11 U.S.C. 707(b), and (c) no finding of good faith was timely sought and obtained. The automatic stay has terminated both as to Debtor in personam and as to property of Debtor. See In re Hernandez & Jiminez, Case No. 2:11-bk-53730-NB, Dkt 40.

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed, including any eviction actions, through and including any lockout or other enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that Debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that Debtor was involved and Debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that Debtor was involved. Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

#38.00 Hrg re: Motion in Individual Case for Order
Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic
Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate

Docket 12

Tentative Ruling:

Deny. Appearances required to address whether the case should be dismissed (see Judge Bason's Procedures, posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov, then search for "362(c)(3)").

Proposed order: Movant is directed to serve and lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Reasons: The motion was not timely set for hearing in accordance with 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(3)(B) (providing that "on the motion of a party in interest for continuation of the automatic stay and upon notice and a hearing, the court may extend the stay in particular cases as to any or all creditors . . . after notice and a hearing completed before the expiration of the 30 day period [after the petition date, i.e., 10/22/19 + 30 days]." (emphasis added)).

No attorney fees: This Court presumes that counsel for the debtor will not charge any fees for the time spent on this motion (because counsel knew or should have known of the earlier case and knew or should have known of the 30 day deadline). If counsel intends to charge any fees then the procedures must be followed to dispute this tentative ruling.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic

Tentative Ruling:

Grant, subject to the following conditions. Appearances are not required.

After the hearing date this Court will prepare an order and the tentative ruling is to include the following language in that order:

The stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a) applies subject to the following modifications and conditions:

(1) Service and reconsideration. Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this Court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." No attorney fees: This Court presumes that counsel for Debtor will not charge any fees for appearing at this hearing, unless there is an opposition to the motion, because (a) the posted Procedures of Judge Bason permit these types of motions to be set on 14 days' notice with opposition papers due five calendar days before the hearing, but (b) counsel elected to serve a notice permitting opposition at the hearing. If counsel intends to charge any fees then the procedures must be followed to dispute this tentative ruling.

#5.00 Status conference re: Complaint to determine non dischargeability of debt 1) Fraud; 2) Fraudulent conversion of personal property; 3) Negligent misrepresentation

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances are not required on 12/10/19. This Court has reviewed relevant documents and records filed in this adversary proceeding. The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

(1) Current Issues.

The tentative ruling is to continue this matter to the date set forth below and set a 12/31/20 deadline for plaintiff to file motion(s) for default judgment.

(2) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this Bankruptcy Court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. *See generally Stern v. #7.00 Cont'd status conference re: Complaint to determine dischargeability of debt under 11 U.S.C. sections 523(a)(2)(A) and 523(a)(6) fr. 9/24/19, 11/26/19

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/10/19:

Continue to 1/7/20 at 11:00 a.m. to address the following issues.
Appearances are not required on 12/10/19.

Reasons:

Plaintiff seeks $19,099.40 consisting of "$12,646.75 in principal, $1,466.40 in interest, and $4,986.25 in attorneys' fees and costs."
Adv.dkt.17, p.11:6-7.

(1) Interest

The retainer letter, attached to the Complaint (adv.dkt.1, Ex. 1 at PDF p.9), does not mention any interest rate, so there is a question what rate to apply (see below). In addition, there are no calculations showing what interest rate has been applied and how it has been calculated.

The tentative ruling is that this Court has limited discretion to determine whether the pre-judgment interest rate should be governed California or federal law, but that the state of the law on this issue is somewhat unclear. See In re Zenovic, 2017 WL 431400, *8 (9th Cir. BAP 2017) (in nondischargeability case when State law issues predominated, there was no State court judgment, and there was danger of forum shopping, bankruptcy court had discretion to award prejudgment interest at Federal or State law rate, and did not abuse discretion by choosing State rate); but see In re Hamilton, 584 B.R. 310, 324 (9th Cir. BAP 2018) (citing In re Zenovic for proposition that when there is no prior State court judgment, federal law governs pre-and postjudgment interest).

(2) Attorney fees

p.9), includes an attorney fee clause. But Plaintiff's motion does not include daily time records evidencing that Plaintiff is entitled to the fees and costs he seeks (as distinguished from his claim for damages, which is supported by daily time records).

(3) Additional briefing

The deadline for Plaintiff to file additional papers addressing the above issues is 12/31/19.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 9/24/19:

The tentative ruling is to continue this Status Conference as set forth below, at which time this Court can assess what progress has been made on any motion for a default judgment, based on this Court's reviewed of Plaintiff's unilateral status report (adv. dkt. 12) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding. Plaintiff is directed in future to use the mandatory form of status report (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) - among other things, it has a question regarding consent to this Court's entry of final orders. Appearances are not required on 9/24/19.

Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order entitled "Order On Initial Status Conference" via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling.

Preliminary Issues: continuance

Note: This Court will hold a Status Conference concurrent with any other hearing in this adversary proceeding (including any self-calendared hearings).

conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this Bankruptcy Court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this Court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 4/16/19 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 1/29/19. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Docket 42

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/10/19:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtors' application to employ A.O.E. Law & Associates, APC (the "Firm") (dkt. 89), UST Objection (dkt. 90); Firm's Supplemental Declaration (dkt. 91 & 110); UST reply (dkt. 103)

Grant the application to employ A.O.E. Law & Associates, APC.

Proposed order: Debtors are directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(b) Conversion or dismissal

Debtors are directed to address why this case should not be converted or dismissed due to the following:

(i) Missing MORs

Debtors have not submitted MORs for the months of October and November. Debtors state that they were unable to file the October MOR until 11/27/19, but dockets 112 and 113 are identical and no October MOR is on file.

(ii) Negative cash flow and overdrawn account

Debtors' had a negative ending balance as of 9/30/19 (dkt. 97, p.1).

(iii) Debtors' explanation raises additional questions

Debtors' explanations of that negative balance includes alleged restrictions by Debtors' bank on non-cash transactions, but there is no evidence except Debtors' statements of any such restrictions (dkt. 113, para. 4-7). Debtors' explanation that both their washer/dryer and their refrigerator needed to be replaced at the same time is suspiciously coincidental (id., para. 14-15). Debtors' explanation that their home allegedly needed exactly $1,000

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/10/19:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) Creditor Scot Fine's Motion to convert or dismiss case (dkt. 120, 121) (the "MTD"); Debtor's opposition (dkt.123); Mr. Fine's reply (dkt.125)

The tentative ruling is to grant the MTD in part and convert this case to chapter 7 on the grounds stated in Mr. Fine's papers, including that debtor's principal residence has been foreclosed upon (see dkt. 101 & 118), Debtor's hope of reorganizing based on a potential future litigation recovery is speculative, and conversion, rather than dismissal, is in the best interests of the estate and creditors because a trustee will be in the best position to evaluate whether Debtor's litigation claims are worth pursuing for the benefit of creditors or whether the estate would be better served by abandoning the claims to Debtor. In addition, conversion will avoid any prejudice to Debtor resulting from the claims possibly being time-barred.

Proposed Order: Mr. Fine is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(b) October MOR missing; possible expired insurance; and unexplained items

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, Debtor has not filed a monthly operating report for October. Why not?

Debtor's September MOR (dkt.110, at PDF p.8) states that Debtor's home insurance was set to expire 10/15/19, and her car insurance was set to expire 11/7/19. Is the estate exposed to uninsured risks?

Debtor's September MOR (dkt.110, at PDF p.4) also reflects a $3,515.63 deposit but there is no explanation whether that is income from some (undisclosed?) source, or a transfer from an (undisclosed?) account, or an (undisclosed) loan, or something else. What is the source of that transfer?

The tentative ruling is that Debtor's failure to remain in timely compliance with all reporting requirements provides additional grounds for conversion to chapter 7. See 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(F).

(1) Current issues

This status conference was continued to today's date by order of this Court (dkt.104). Debtor reports (dkt.108) that the Paseo Miramar Property has been lost in foreclosure, and asks for a further continuance of 90 days to figure out whether to continue in bankruptcy, or seek dismissal or conversion. Tentative Ruling for 12/10/19:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) Proposed order re untimely service of bar date order

In the tentative ruling for the 9/24/19 hearing, this Court directed Debtor to lodge a proposed order memorializing that this Court is excusing the untimely servicing of the bar date order. As of the drafting of this tentative ruling, no such order has been lodged. Why not?

Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order within 7 days of this status conference as set forth in Section (2)(a) below.

(b) Debtor's MORs

On the one hand, Debtor's latest MOR (dkt.94) continues to show that Debtor is current on adequate protection payments, and so far as this Court is aware Debtor is otherwise in compliance with DIP obligations. On the other hand, Debtor's hopes of increasing its income appear to be elusive.

Debtor's September MOR (dkt. 93) shows a small increase in Debtor's general account (under $4,000 increase) (id., p.1) and a slightly larger decrease in the payroll account (just over $5,000 decrease) (id., p.4). Debtor's October MOR (dkt. 94) shows a small loss in the general account (just under $2,000 decrease) and in the payroll account (just over $400 decrease). In addition, Debtor has offered various explanations during this case about why Debtor expects to turn the corner in the near future, but then any (minor) profits in one month appear to be offset by losses the next month, and Debtor's latest explanations (dkt.94, at PDF p.18) are unreadable.

The parties should be prepared to address whether this Court should fix deadlines for Debtor to file a proposed plan and disclosure statement with a realistic possibility of confirmation, and whether failure to meet any such deadlines should result in dismissal or conversion of this bankruptcy case.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 8/2/18.

(a) Bar date: 12/11/18: not timely served, see dkt. 24, 35 & 41, but the tentative ruling is that no new bar date needs to be set because of the substantial time after the bar date with no party in interest having asserted prejudice and/or seeking to have an untimely claim allowed. Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order memorializing that, for the foregoing reasons, this Court is excusing the untimely servicing of the bar date order.

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

(c) Continued status conference: 2/4/20 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report required.

Tentative Ruling for 9/24/19:

Continue as set forth below, subject to lodging the proposed order indicated below. Appearances are not required on 9/24/19.

(1) Current issues

It appears from a review of the August MOR (dkt. 91) that the Debtor's sales have increased and operations are (barely) profitable, with hopes of future increases in profitability. The tentative ruling is that Debtor needs to establish a longer track record of profitability before any proposed plan could be shown to be feasible, and therefore this Court should continue this Status Conference without setting a deadline to file a proposed plan and disclosure

#13.00 Cont'd Status Conference re: Chapter 11 Case
fr. 9/17/19, 10/1/19, 10/29/19

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/10/19:

Appearances are not required. on 12/10/19, but Debtor and Beverly Partners, LLC ("Beverly") are directed, well ahead of the continued hearing date set forth below, to take whatever steps are necessary or appropriate to address the issues set forth below (e.g., correcting service and/or proofs of service, lodging proposed order(s), filing corrected MORs, etc.).

(1) Current issues

(a) Beverly's motion for relief from automatic stay (dkt. 47); Debtor's opposition (dkt. 50); Beverly's reply (dkt. 53)

Beverly's proof of service does not show service on the list of creditors included in Debtor's "list filed under Rule 1007(d)" (as required by Rule 4001(a)(1), Fed. R. Bankr. P.). See dkt. 1. The tentative ruling is to continue this hearing to 12/17/19 at 1:00 p.m., with a deadline of 12/11/19 for Beverly to serve all required persons with notice of the continued hearing, and file a proof of service.

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt.19)

No proposed order has been lodged - at the hearing on 10/1/19 this Court directed counsel to lodge a proposed order granting the motion on an interim basis and attaching (and adopting) a copy of this Court's tentative ruling for that date (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov). In addition, Debtor did not file and serve a notice of the final hearing by 10/3/19. In addition, any such service would have to be in compliance with the applicable rules for service, as stated in that adopted tentative ruling.

The current tentative ruling is (i) to direct counsel, again, to lodge a proposed order granting the motion on an interim basis through the conclusion of the final hearing, (ii) to set a final hearing for the same date and time as the continued status conference (see below), and (iii) to set a deadline of 12/11/19 for Debtor to file and serve notice of the final hearing in compliance with the applicable rules for service.

(c) Proof of service of bar date order (dkt.28)

Debtor's counsel has had trouble with service of this order and/or proving that it was served as required. See dkt. 35,36,37. Even the latest, second amended proof of service (dkt.37) is inadequate in that it fails to state who actually served the order and when they did so. Implicitly, the person who signed the proof of service, Paulina Buitron, is the person who actually deposited the envelopes in the U.S. mail, and that was done sometime between 9/30/19, when the order was supposed to have been served, and 10/3/19, when the proof of service was filed, but the declaration does not actually say so. In addition, at the hearing on 10/1/19 this Court directed Debtor's counsel to double-check that all creditors had in fact been served and, if not, to apply for an order setting a supplemental bar date as to any creditors who have not been served.

The tentative ruling is to excuse what appears to be untimely service of the bar date order by a few days, and set a deadline of 12/11/19 (i) for Debtor's counsel to file a third amended proof of service of the bar date order, using the local form (mandatory for all motions) (see Local Form F9013-3.1.PROOF.SERVICE), (ii) to lodge a proposed order excusing the untimely service of the bar date order, with a copy of this tentative ruling attached, and (iii) if necessary, apply for a supplemental bar date for any creditors who were not served with the bar date order, and lodge a proposed supplemental bar date order.

(d) Debtor's Monthly Operating Reports ("MORs")

Debtor appears to be having trouble complying with his obligations as a debtor in possession, including not paying prepetition debts. In addition, the October MOR (dkt.49) appears to show lossess from most of Debtor's various businesses, and perilously low bank balances, even with the reduced dollar amount of the adequate protection payments to Beverly (less than the ongoing interest obligation). In addition, there is an internal inconsistency about postpetition adequate protection and/or lease payments: the October MOR (dkt.49, at PDF p.57 of 61) lists "0" postpetition payments not made (i.e., Debtor allegedly is postpetition current), but then the same table lists "Total Due" postpetition amounts of many thousands of dollars - which is it? Is Debtor postpetition current in payments to secured creditors and/or lessors, or not?

The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor (i) to confer with the Office of the

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD. Debtor must use the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - this Court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

(c) Continued status conference: 12/17/19 at 1:00 p.m. (short continuance because Beverly's motion for relief from the automatic stay should be addressed soon). No written status report is required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Budget Motion

Debtor's status report incorrectly states that a budget motion is not required by the presiding judge's procedures. Dkt. 20, p.3. See posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at cacb.uscourts.gov) (the "Bason Procedures") Section VII.G. In addition, a budget motion appears to be particularly important in this case because most of Debtor's income and expenses are effectively hidden and/or mis-reported.

Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedule I reports that he is an interior designer/hair stylist (dkt.22, at PDF p.27), his Statement Of Financial Affairs ("SOFA") lists various "dba" enterprises that might or might not reflect other business ventures, and Debtor apparently rents out some of his properties using Airbnb, but there is no breakdown of any of this. Contrary to the instructions on line 8a of Schedule I, debtor lists only a total net dollar amount for all businesses/properties combined - $22,598.00 per month - and fails to attach a statement for each business/property showing gross receipts, ordinary and necessary business expenses, and the calculation of net income. Also, in apparent contradiction of this alleged monthly net income, the SOFA (dkt. 22 at PDF p.31) lists gross income of $20,000 for the year to date (9 months), $7,875 for 2018, and $28,223 for 2017. (Perhaps Debtor listed monthly net income instead of yearly gross income - if so he must file a corrected SOFA.)

The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor to file an amended Schedule I and an amended SOFA, and to file and serve a budget motion and any other documents that are necessary or appropriate to correct the foregoing deficiencies, no later than 9/27/19.

(b) Bankruptcy Schedule G

Debtor lists no executory contracts or unexpired leases (dkt.22, at PDF p.24). What about Airbnb and/or other short-term or long-term rental arrangements? The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor to file an amended Schedule G no later than 9/27/19.

(c) Cash collateral

Even though this case was filed on 8/30/19, Debtor did not self-calendar his cash collateral motion for hearing until over a month later, on 10/1/19 at 1:00 p.m. Meanwhile, has Debtor (i) been using cash collateral without authorization (in violation of 11 U.S.C. 363(c)) or (ii) not been using cash collateral, and hence failing to pay ordinary and necessary business and personal expenses, in violation of Debtor's duties to pay postpetition debts as they come due and preserve and maximize the value of the bankruptcy estate. 11 U.S.C. 1107(a) and 1108, and 28 U.S.C. 959(b). The tentative ruling is that, although this is not yet sufficient cause for appointment of a chapter 11 trustee or other remedies, it may factor into consideration of any such remedies in future.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/10/19:

Appearances required. Debtor is reminded that this Court's order setting today's status conference (dkt. 78) directs Debtor's principal to appear in person.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion of United States Trustee ("UST") to Dismiss etc. ("MTD," dkt. 37), Debtor's Opposition (dkt. 55)

Debtor's status report concedes that it has still not addressed all of the issues raised in the UST's MTD, because it has been unable to open DIP accounts (see dkt. 86, p. 2). Additional grounds to dismiss or convert this case are set forth in objections of the UST (dkt.83) and Maxim Commercial Capital, LLC (dkt.85, Ex.1) to Debtor's application to employ a broker, which appears to be a sham designed to give the appearance of pursuing a sale of the Hedges property without actually pursuing any realistic path to do so. In addition, this Court's order setting procedures (dkt.9) provides that at any status conference this Court may take case-dispositive actions, such as dismissal or conversion, as reiterated in this Court's order setting this hearing (dkt.78).

The tentative ruling is either to dismiss this case with a two year bar against being a debtor in any future bankruptcy case (with a concurrent 180 day bar under 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1)) for willful failure to appear in proper prosecution of this case, or alternatively to convert this case to chapter 7 so that an independent trustee can determine whether to pursue leasing the Yermo property and selling the Hedges property. The parties are directed to address which remedy would be in the best interests of creditors. See generally 11 U.S.C. 105(a), 349(a), 1307(a) and In re Glover, 537 Fed.Appx. 741 (9th Cir. 2013) (affirming dismissal with a five-year bar to refiling under 11 U.S.C. 105(a)); In re Leavitt, 171 F.3d 1219 (9th Cir. 1999) (affirming dismissal with prejudice based on finding of bad faith, considering whether debtor misrepresented facts, unfairly manipulated Code, or otherwise filed his petition or plan in inequitable manner; debtor's history of filings and dismissals; whether the debtor intended to defeat state court litigation; and whether egregious behavior is present).

The parties are reminded that, in the event of dismissal (either currently or at any future time), this Court will retain jurisdiction to the maximum extent permitted by law. See LBR 1017-2(f). Thus, this Court will retain jurisdiction to address the issues that Maxim has raised about alleged abuse of the bankruptcy process, including any motions for sanctions, disgorgement of attorney fees, etc.

Proposed order: The UST is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(b) Coldwell Employment Application - sale of Hedges property (dkt. 80, 81, 82); UST Objection (dkt. 83), Maxim Objection & Errata (dkt. 84, 85), no reply is on file

The tentative ruling is that this application will be mooted by dismissal or conversion. Alternatively, the tentative ruling is to deny the application without setting a hearing on it, for the reasons stated by the UST and Maxim.

Proposed order: The UST is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(c) Leasing broker employment application (Craig Higdon & Dragon Realty, re Yermo Property) (dkt. 72); Maxim Obj (dkt. 77)

Debtor has not filed any reply, or set this matter for hearing, or lodged any proposed order. In other words, Debtor appears to be "sitting on" this matter. Why? The tentative ruling is that this is further evidence of Debtor willfully failing to appear in proper prosecution of this case.

(1) Current issues

(a) Insufficient progress?

The docket reflects some very recent movement toward leasing some vacant properties (dkt.72) but nothing about selling, refinancing, or otherwise dealing with the principal property in which Debtor asserts an interest, at 8527 Hedges Way, West Hollywood, CA. Why not?

(e) Motion of United States Trustee ("UST") to Dismiss etc. ("MTD," dkt. 37), Debtor's Opposition (dkt. 55)

Has Debtor address the issues raised in the UST's MTD? In addition, this Court's order setting procedures (dkt.9) provides that at any status conference this Court may take case-dispositive actions, such as conversion, dismissal, etc. Given the lack of progress, should this Court dismiss this case? (1) Current issues

(a) Inaccurate bankruptcy schedules

Why has Debtor not amended its bankruptcy schedules to reflect all of its creditors (at the 9/24/19 status conference it was reported that Debtor failed to list creditors with liens against three vacant parcels of real property)?

(b) Lack of any progress reflected on docket

As this Court previously has ruled, in connection with creditor Maxim's motion for relief from the automatic stay, "the longer this case is pending the greater will be the burden on Debtor to provide specific information and evidence as to precisely how [each] property [that Debtor claims to own] remains necessary to an effective reorganization." Dkt.36, Ex.1, at PDF p.4. Why does the docket not reflect any progress, such as a motion to approve employment of a real estate broker, or a motion to approve refinancing, or a motion to abandon one or more properties?

(c) Missing status report

At the status conference on 9/24/19, this Court set a deadline of 10/4/19 for debtor to file a status report and an application to employ new counsel. Why has no status report been filed?

(d) Missing Local Form F 2014-1

Debtor has filed an application to employ Pena & Soma, APC (dkt. 68), but the posted Procedures of Judge Bason require Local Form 2014-1.

hearing (dkt. 40), Debtor's Reply (dkt. 61)

The tentative ruling is to deny Debtor's request to employ the Ure Law Firm ("Ure Firm"), and set a 10/4/19 deadline for Debtor to file and serve an application to retain new counsel, for the following reasons:

(i) Mr. Ure and the Ure Firm are not "disinterested" and represent an "adverse interest" to the estate by reason of their representation of HDA Trucking, Inc. and Nelson Sargsyan

11 U.S.C. Section 327(a) "requires the application of a two-pronged test for the employment of professional persons. A debtor-in-possession may employ attorneys with court approval only if (1) they do not hold or represent an interest adverse to the estate, and (2) they are disinterested persons." In re Tevis, 347 B.R. 679, 687 (9th Cir. BAP 2006).

The term "adverse interest" is not defined in the Bankruptcy Code, but has been defined by case law to mean:

(1) possession or assertion of an economic interest that would tend to lessen the value of the bankruptcy estate; or (2) possession or assertion of an economic interest that would create either an actual or potential dispute in which the estate is a rival claimant; or (3) possession of a predisposition under circumstances that create a bias against the estate.

Tevis, 347 B.R. 679, 688. "To represent an adverse interest means to serve as an attorney for an entity holding such an adverse interest." Id.

The term "disinterested person" is defined in the Bankruptcy Code to include, inter alia, one who "does not have an interest materially adverse to the interests of the estate or of any class of creditors or equity security holders, by reason of any direct or indirect relationship to, connection with, or interest in, the debtor, or for any other reason." 11 U.S.C. Section 101(14) (C). "For the purpose of disinterestedness, a lawyer has an interest materially adverse to the interest of the estate if the lawyer either holds or represents such an interest." Tevis, 347 B.R. 679, 688.

The tentative ruling is to find that because Mr. Ure and the Ure Firm represented HDA Trucking, Inc. ("HDA Trucking") in its recent bankruptcy case (Case No. 1:19-bk-11595-DS) (the "HDA Trucking Bankruptcy Case"), and have represented HDA Trucking's principal, Nelson Sargsyan ("Mr. Sargsyan"), in his pending bankruptcy case (Case No. 1:19-bk-10790-VK) (the "Sargsyan Bankruptcy Case"), the Ure Firm is not a "disinterested person" and represents an "adverse interest" to the estate for purposes of this case because Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedules identify HDA Trucking as a creditor of Debtor's estate (see dkt. 1, PDF pp.6 & 16) and because there have been inconsistent representations made by HDA, Sargsyan, and Debtor regarding the chain of interests in 8527 Hedges Way, Los Angeles, California 90069 (the "Hedges Property"), which is the real property that is at the center of all these bankruptcy cases.

(ii) Mr. Ure and the Ure Firm violated Rule 2014(a) by failing to disclose their connection with Mr. Sargsyan and HDA Trucking

Rule 2014(a) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) requires that a firm's application for employment disclose "all of the [applicant's] connections with the debtor, creditors, [or] any other party in interest" The disclosure requirements of Rule 2014 are strictly applied. In re Park-Helena Corp., 63 F.3d 877, 881 (9th Cir. 1995). Professionals "cannot pick and choose which connections are irrelevant or trivial . . . No matter how old the connection, no matter how trivial it appears, the professional seeking employment must disclose it." Id. at 882.

In this case, Mr. Ure and the Ure Firm failed to disclose their prior representation of HDA Trucking in its bankruptcy case, or their prior and current representation of Mr. Sargsyan in his bankruptcy case, in either the Application (dkt. 24) or the Statement of Disinterestedness (dkt. 23).

For the foregoing reasons, the tentative ruling is that the Ure Firm is disqualified from representing the Debtor and its employment must be denied.

(c) Maxim's Rule 9011 Sanction Motion (dkt. 32), Mr. Ure/Ure Firm's Opposition (dkt. 54), Maxim's Reply (dkt. 57)

Maxim Commercial Capital, LLC ("Maxim") seeks an order imposing sanctions against Mr. Ure and the Ure Firm for alleged violations of Rule 9011 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

(i) Background

As best as this Court can discern from its review of various pleadings filed in this case, the Sargsyan Bankruptcy Case, and the HDA Trucking Bankruptcy Case, the relevant facts are as follows:

On 4/7/16 Maxim made a loan to NAMR 2617, LLC ("Other-NAMR") in the sum of $2,669,365 (the "Loan"). The Loan was personally guaranteed by Mr. Sargsyan and Alice and Nazaret Chakrian (the "Chakrians," and together with Mr. Sargsyan, the "Guarantors"). The Guarantors also executed a deed of trust securing their guaranties of the Loan against the Hedges Property.

On 12/30/16, Mr. Sargsyan recorded a Grant Deed conveying his interest in the Hedges Property to Nazaret Chakrian ("Mr. Chakrian") (dkt. 11, PDF p. 352-356). The parties subsequently executed a number of loan modifications and, ultimately, the Loan fully matured without timely payment. As a result, the Hedges Property was noticed for a judicial foreclosure sale on 4/5/19.

On 4/3/19 Mr. Sargsyan filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition and asserted a 25% ownership interest in the Hedges Property (Sargsyan Bankruptcy Case, 1:19-bk-10790-VK, dkt. 1, Schedule A/B). On 5/1/19 Maxim filed a motion for relief from the automatic stay with respect to the Hedges Property (the "Sargsyan R/S Motion," id., dkt. 18). Mr. Ure, acting for Debtor Sargsyan, filed an opposition (id., dkt. 33, p.2:1-3), which did not argue that Debtor Sargsyan had any interest in the Hedges Property (contrary to what he had indicated in his bankruptcy schedules) but did argue that Mr. Sargsyan had "personally guaranteed the loan" with Maxim.

Following a hearing on the Sargsyan R/S Motion, the Bankruptcy Court entered an order denying the motion as moot based on the Court's finding that the Hedges Property was not property of Mr. Sargsyan's estate because Mr. Sargsyan had conveyed away his interest in the Hedges Property to Nazaret Chakrian ("Mr. Chakrian") pre-petition, on 9/30/16 (see id., dkt. 51, Ex. 1) (the "Sargsyan R/S Order"). After entry of the Sargsyan R/S Order, Maxim re-noticed a foreclosure sale for 8/2/19.

On 6/28/19, Mr. Sargsyan caused HDA Trucking to file a voluntary chapter 11 petition and assert an ownership interest in the Hedges Property (HDA Trucking Bankruptcy Case, 1:19-bk-11595-DS, dkt.1, Schedule A/B). According to Maxim, HDA Trucking has no such interest in the Hedges Property.

On 7/24/19, the United States Trustee (the "UST") filed a motion to appoint a trustee or convert or dismiss that case (id., dkt. 24). At the hearing on that motion, HDA Trucking stipulated to the dismissal of the case and the case was dismissed by order entered 7/31/19 (id., dkt. 27).

On 8/1/19 the instant bankruptcy case was filed by Debtor (which is similarly named, but not the same as, the Other-NAMR). Debtor asserts an interest in the Hedges Property pursuant to a Grant Deed recorded on 4/2/19 in which Mr. Chakrian conveyed a 10% interest in the Hedges Property to Debtor (dkt. 1, Schedule A/B & dkt. 11, PDF pp. 361-364).

Almost immediately after this bankruptcy case was filed, Maxim filed an emergency motion for relief from the automatic stay and this Court shortened time, reviewed briefs, heard arguments, made oral findings of fact and conclusions of law on the record, and issued an order that prevented any future bankruptcy case from affecting the Hedges Property (subject to the usual limitations on such relief). Dkt.36. But this Court declined to terminate the automatic stay at this time (id.) because, among other things, (A) other creditors' interests are at stake, (B) on the evidence presented Maxim's interests are fully adequately protected, and (C) Debtor may be able to restructure its finances in a manner that will benefit all parties in interest.

At that early hearing this Court suggested that a transfer of a fractional interest among related entities is not necessarily evidence of bad faith. This Court took judicial notice that debtors and their affiliates not infrequently engage transfers of fractional interests as a way to balance the accounts among them, or for other reasons that may be perfectly consistent with good faith, even if they violate provisions of loan documents or other obligations.

But this Court's unwillingness to suppose bad faith at the inception of this case, before adequate time to respond, should not be misconstrued as giving a blanket exemption from any subsequent finding of bad faith or other misconduct. This Court is troubled by some of the conduct outlined in Maxim's motion papers.

With this context, this Court turns to Maxim's motion for sanctions.

(ii) Maxim has not established that Judge Bason can or should impose sanctions under Rule 9011 for conduct that occurred in bankruptcy cases that are not before Judge Bason

As a preliminary matter, Maxim has not addressed whether it would be proper, or even within the jurisdiction of the instant bankruptcy case, for Judge Bason to impose sanctions regarding any cases that are not pending before Judge Bason. The Sargsyan Bankruptcy Case is still pending before Judge Kaufman, and the HDA Trucking Bankruptcy Case was pending before Judge Saltzman, and the tentative ruling is that any request for sanctions for conduct in those cases must be presented to those Bankruptcy Judges.

That is not to say that prior conduct in other cases is irrelevant. Such prior conduct may establish a pattern of conduct that extends into this case, or may otherwise shed light on the conduct in this case. But the tentative ruling is that Judge Bason will only consider sanctions regarding conduct in the instant bankruptcy case.

(iii) Maxim has not established misconduct in connection with the Sargsyan Bankruptcy Case

Chapter 11

Maxim asserts - as part of its argument that Mr. Ure's conduct and the Ure Firm's conduct in this case is sanctionable - that there is a pattern of abuse starting with the filing of the Sargsyan Bankruptcy Case. The tentative ruling is that this assertion is not persuasive.

Nothing in Maxim's papers establishes that it was frivolous or otherwise improper for Mr. Ure and the Ure Firm to oppose Maxim's request for relief from the automatic stay in the Sargsyan Bankruptcy Case, in light of Debtor Sargsyan's position as a Guarantor. True, the automatic stay's protection against in rem acts generally extends only to property of the debtor (see 1:19-bk-10790-VK, dkt.51 (the Sargsyan R/S Order)); and the automatic stay's protection against in personam acts generally extends only to the debtor. See, e.g., In re Advanced Ribbons and Office Prod's, Inc., 125 B.R. 259, 262-67 (9th Cir. BAP 1991) (guarantor, and guarantor's property, not protected). But Maxim has not cited any authority that it was frivolous for Debtor Sargsyan to take the position that acts to foreclose the Hedges Property, based on a debt he guaranteed, were acts "to collect, assess, or recover a claim against the debtor that arose before the commencement of the [bankruptcy] case" within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 362(a)(6), if not based on existing caselaw then based on a nonfrivolous assertion regarding "extension, modification, or reversal of existing law or the establishment of new law." Rule 9011(b)(2). The tentative ruling is that there is nothing sanctionable in making this argument.

True, Mr. Sargsyan, Mr. Ure, and the Ure Firm should have been more careful in verifying that Debtor did in fact have an interest in the Hedges Property before Debtor Sargsyan said so, under penalty of perjury, in his bankruptcy schedules. And it would have been preferable for the Ure Firm to cite some authority for their position, or expressly argue for an extension of existing law or other nonfrivolous legal grounds, and to amend the bankruptcy schedules once the record ownership of the property became apparent.

But, given the transfers back and forth (described above), and the last-minute scramble that almost invariably precedes an emergency bankruptcy filing, it appears that the original misstatement of ownership in the bankruptcy schedules, and the lack of citation to legal authority in opposing the Sargsyan R/S Motion, are more consistent with a lack of adequate time than any intentional falsehood or misconduct. And once it became apparent that the automatic stay did not protect the property, it is understandable (although not the ideal course of action) to move on and not take the time to amend the bankruptcy schedules.

(iv) Maxim has established apparent misconduct in connection with the HDA Trucking Bankruptcy Case

Maxim asserts that HDA Trucking had no interest in the Hedges Property whatsoever, and yet falsely listed that property on its bankruptcy schedules. Dkt.32, p.7:5. The Ure Firm has not offered any explanation why, even after the incorrect assertion by Mr. Sargsyan of an ownership interest in the Hedges Property, it filed another bankruptcy case that, once again, asserted an ownership interest that is not supported by any evidence. The tentative ruling is that this is prima facie evidence of the Ure Firm's lack of "inquiry reasonable under the circumstances" and apparent filing of the petition for an improper purpose - namely a scheme to hinder, delay, or defraud Maxim. Rule 9011(b)(1).

Alternatively, the tentative ruling is that this is also prima facie evidence of a factual contention that, after "an inquiry reasonable under the circumstances," does not have "evidentiary support," or that has not been "specifically [] identified" as "likely to have evidentiary support after a reasonable opportunity for further investigation or discovery." Rule 9011(b)(3).

In the face of such prima facie evidence of a violation of Rule 9011, the burden was on Mr. Ure and the Ure Firm to present contrary evidence of at least equal weight. They have not done so.

Again, the tentative ruling is that this Court should not impose any sanctions for any alleged misconduct in the HDA Trucking Bankruptcy Case. But the apparent violations of Rule 9011 in that case establish a pattern that calls into question any allegedly similar conduct in the instant case.

(v) It is premature for this Court to determine whether the filing of the instant bankruptcy case, or how it has been prosecuted, is sanctionable under Rule 9011

On the one hand, the facts discussed above are evidence that Mr. Ure and the Ure Firm have participated in efforts to frustrate Maxim's exercise of its remedies, and have done so using tactics that appear to violate Rule 9011. It is possible that the transfer of a fractional interest to Debtor, and the filing of the instant bankruptcy case, are part of that scheme and are sanctionable.

On the other hand, it is also possible that the transfer of a fractional interest to Debtor was nothing more than an attempt retroactively to "unscramble the eggs" and have the record title to the Hedges Property reflect what Mr. Sargsyan, the Chakrians, and other affiliates all had intended to be the reality of their financial relationships. True, Mr. Ure and the Ure Firm have had an opportunity to present any such explanation, with supporting evidence, and they have failed to do so. But this Court is wary of imposing sanctions without providing them with an opportunity to explain why they did not offer an explanation in their opposition papers, and why they should be granted an opportunity to do so now.

In addition, depending on how this instant bankruptcy case progresses, it may become more apparent over time whether there is a reasonable possibility of a successful reorganization within a reasonable time, and other factors that might bear on whether this case was or was not filed in good faith. It is also possible that Debtor will obtain refinancing and pay Maxim in full, or that some other developments in this case will bear on issues such as whether Maxim has suffered any un-reimbursed expenses, all of which may be relevant to its sanctions motion.

For all of these reasons the tentative ruling is that it is premature for this Court to determine any sanctions issues, and the tentative ruling is to take Maxim's sanctions motion off calendar, and determine at a future status conference when it should be put back on calendar. Meanwhile, the tentative ruling is that no further briefing on the sanctions issues will be accepted or considered absent further order of this Court.

Tentative Ruling for 10/29/19:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion of the U.S. Trustee ("UST") to dismiss (dkt. 65), debtor's opposition (dkt. 86), no reply is on file

There is no tentative ruling, but Debtor is directed to address the thousands of dollars of unauthorized payments to "Independent Contractor[s]" Ofir Engel and L. Napolitano, "McCarthy Construction," and cash withdrawals, as well as the other issues raised by the UST. Debtor is also directed to address what progress, if any, has been made on insurance claims, AirBnB arrangements, refinancing or selling the Bel Air and Sweetzer properties, and other aspects of this bankruptcy case.

(b) Application to employ Totaro & Shanahan (the "Firm") (dkt. 63) (the "Employment Application"), Statement of disinterestedness (dkt. 100), UST Objection (dkt. 90), the Firm's errata (dkt. 97)

The tentative ruling is to grant the Employment Application, subject to any objection from the UST.

Proposed orders: Debtor is directed to lodge proposed orders on each of the foregoing motions via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. Tentative Ruling for 10/15/19:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) UST's motion to dismiss (dkt. 65), debtor's opposition (dkt. 86), no reply is on file

There is no tentative ruling. The parties should be prepared to address whether debtor has cured all outstanding compliance issues, and whether Debtor's second corrected opposition continues to have error(s) in calculating projected cash flow. That opposition lists net income before personal expenses for "Oct-19" and "Nov-19" as -5,850.00, but then after personal expenses of $1,751.00 for each month it lists "excess income" of $34,900.00. Dkt.94, Ex.1, at PDF pp.8-9. If the spreadsheet is wrong about those numbers, can creditors and this Court rely on the rest of Debtor's projections?

There is no tentative ruling. It appears no reply deadline was set, so debtor's reply will be allowed orally at the hearing.

(b) Motion of Alliance for Relief From Automatic Stay (dkt. 40)

There is no tentative ruling. The outcome of this motion is subject to this Court's decision whether to grant or deny the Finance Motion.

Chapter 11

Appearances required. The Court has reviewed the Debtor's status report (dkt. 69).

(1) Current issues

In addition to addressing the general status of this case, the following issues will be addressed.

(a) Motion of Alliance for Relief From Automatic Stay (dkt. 40)

There is no tentative ruling. The parties should be prepared to advise this Court on whether they will agree to an adequate protection order and the proposed $50,000 loan from Complete Business Solutions Group ("Complete") (dkt.69, p.2:21-25). The parties also should be prepared to address whether shortened time or other special procedures are requested regarding any proposed lending. See 11 U.S.C. 364; Rules 4001(c) & 9006(c)(2) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

(b) Contemplated contract with Majestic Ventures LLC dba VacationHomes365.com ("Consultant") re marketing (Airbnb etc.)

Debtor is contemplating a contract with Consultant for marketing services. Dkt.69, Ex.2. As that contract points out (id., sec.7.2, p.44), Debtor is responsible for complying with legal obligations regarding short term rentals, and associated costs, including local taxes.

The parties should be prepared to address whether Consultant is a "professional" within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 327; whether approval of the contract with Consultant is required under that section or section 363(b); and whether shortened time or other special procedures are requested regarding any proposed agreement with Consultant. See 11 U.S.C. 327, 363(b); Rules 2002(a)(2) & 9006(c)(2) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

(c) Termination of prior real estate agent

Debtor reports (dkt. 69, para.3) that the previously authorized real estate agent has agreed to cancel the listing. Is that in writing? Will Debtor need any order related to that cancellation/termination? What assurance is there that this prior agent will not seek some sort of compensation?

(b) Employment Motion for The Turoci Firm (dkt. 23, 28) are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 8/20/19:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by debtor herself.

(1) Current issues

(a) Airbnb

Debtor's budget motion (dkt. 37, Ex.A, p.2) reveals that, although the Sweetzer property is "listed to be sold," meanwhile "Debtor intends to rent [that property] as an Airbnb." The tentative ruling is that this is a transaction out of the ordinary course, which requires notice, an opportunity for a hearing, and approval by this Court. 11 U.S.C. 363(b). Has Debtor already acted on this intent, without such approval?

In addition, this Court is concerned about (i) whether Airbnb rental would be in compliance with any local permitting and zoning requirements and is otherwise permissible, (ii) whether that proposed use might expose the bankruptcy estate to liabilities, (iii) whether there is adequate insurance for that use of the property, and (iv) whether the proposed sale of the property is consistent with any agreement with Airbnb.

(b) Real estate agent.

The employment application (dkt. 26, p.4:1-4) states that Agent has agreed to disclose to Debtor [i.e., only to Debtor? how about disclosure to creditors, the US Trustee, and this Court?] any agency relationship Agent has with other parties ("Third Parties") that may be part of a real estate transaction for the sale of the Real Property [i.e., dual agency? that is prohibited by the posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov)] as well as the amount of any compensation Agent receives from Agent's relationship with any Third Parties [i.e., splitting the commission with a cooperating agent from a different real estate agency? or something else?].

What does the quoted text mean? This Court's questions are set forth in the emphasized, bracketed text above.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 5/21/19:
Appearances required.

(1) Sale motion (dkt. 352)

Grant, subject to overbids at the hearing, and also subject to any Court-approved settlement (see dkt. 364) between Debtor and Bayview Loan Servicing, LLC ("Bayview"), for the reasons set forth below.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Analysis

(a) Broker's dual representation

Debtor's motion provides that Mr. Renteria represents both the proposed buyer and the seller, the Debtor, in this transaction. Dkt. 352, at PDF p.18:2-5. The tentative ruling is that, although Judge Bason normally disapproves dual agency, that restriction will not apply to the post-confirmation reorganized Debtor.

(b) Sale free and clear

Section 363(f) provides that

The trustee may sell property under subsection (b) or (c) of this section free and clear of any interest in such property of an entity other than the estate, only if—

- (1) applicable nonbankruptcy law permits sale of such property free and clear of such interest;
- (2) such entity consents;

(3) such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is to be sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;

(4) such interest is in bona fide dispute; or

(5) such entity could be compelled, in legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a money satisfaction of such interest.

The tentative ruling is that the property may be sold free and clear of the following interests in the property:

(i) Allco Enterprises Inc. dba Allco Leasing's lien pursuant to section 363(f)(4), because its U.C.C.-2 continuation statement has expired (dkt. 352, at PDF pp. 21-22).

(ii) Bayview Loan Servicing, LLC's lien pursuant to section 363(f)(2) in view of the parties apparent settlement (dkt. 364). (Unless the settlement falls through, this Court intends to express no view on whether Bayview's interest is in bona fide dispute within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 363(f)(4) (see dkt. 352, at PDF p.20).

(iii) Epps & Coulson, LLC's lien pursuant to section 363(f)(2) because it apparently has consented to the sale (dkt. 352, at PDF p. 20).

(iv) All other interests pursuant to section 363(f)(5), and the following analysis from the posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov):

§ 363(f): Sales free and clear. Regarding § 363(f)(5), Judge Bason does not follow Clear Channel Outdoor, Inc. v. Knupfer (In re PW, LLC), 391 B.R. 25, 40 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2008). He has ruled that a sale free and clear is permissible under that statute whenever the interest at issue is subject to monetary valuation. See In re Trans World Airlines, Inc., 322 F.3d 283, 290-91 (3d Cir. 2003) ("TWA") (because employees' claims were "subject to monetary valuation," debtor's assets could be sold free and clear of successor liability for such claims under § 363(f)(5)). Alternatively, Judge Bason has ruled that "cramdown" is among the types of legal or equitable proceeding within the statute, or that Clear Channel is distinguishable in most cases under the rationale of In re Jolan, 403 B.R. 866 (Bankr. W.D. Wash. 2009), because holders of interests can be compelled in numerous other types of legal or equitable proceedings to accept a money satisfaction (which might be $-0- in the case of an interest that is entirely underwater). Those proceedings include a hypothetical foreclosure by one of the lienholders, or a receivership (which could be initiated at the behest of creditors or by the debtor itself). See Cal. Code Civ. Proc. ("CCP") § 564(b)(9) (power to appoint receiver to sell property); CCP § 568.5 (receiver empowered to sell property as provided in CCP §§701.510 et seq.); CCP § 701.630 (extinguishment of liens); CCP § 701.680 (binding effect of sale). The judge respectfully disagrees with In re Hassen Imports P'ship, 502 B.R. 851, 860 et seq. (C.D. Cal. 2013) (hypothetical foreclosure sale did not qualify under section 363(f)(5)).

(2) Status conference

The tentative ruling is to continue this post-confirmation status conference to 8/20/19 at 1:00 p.m., with no written status report required. This Court anticipates that it will issue a tentative ruling, shortly prior to that time, further continuing the status conference if there is no activity on the docket that appears to warrant a status conference at that time.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 3/26/19:

Continue to 5/21/19 at 1:00 p.m., with no status report required, in view of the latest status report (dkt. 346) and notice of sale (dkt. 347). Appearances are not required on 3/26/19.

This Court has reviewed the Debtor's latest filed documents, including its Monthly Operating Reports (dkt. 343, 345) and Status Report (dkt. 346). This Court is not aware of issues that would warrant a status conference at this time.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/10/19:

Appearances are not required on 12/10/19.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's counsel final fee application (dkt. 149)

Allow Zolkin Talerico LLP $153,269.00 in fees and $2,009.07 in expenses, for a total of $155,278.07. The tentative ruling is to authorize payment of those dollar amounts pro rata with other administrative claimants from Debtor's remaining cash - i.e., in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code's priority scheme - pursuant to the procedures set forth below.

(b) Motion of the United States Trustee ("UST") to convert, dismiss, or appoint a Chapter 11 trustee (the "UST Motion", dkt. 76)

The tentative ruling is to authorize a structured dismissal of this case, contingent on distribution of all remaining assets (funds) in accordance with the distribution priorities of the Bankruptcy Code. In furtherance of such a distribution, the tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 12/31/19 for Debtor to file and serve a notice of its proposed distributions and any other proposed terms for a structured dismissal, and set a deadline of 14 days after service via US mail for any objections (i.e., 11 days plus 3 additional days for service via US mail per Rule 9006, Fed. R. Bankr. P., so that if Debtor wishes this matter can be noticed on a "negative notice" basis and possibly concluded before the end of the calendar year). Absent any objections, the tentative ruling is that Debtor could file a declaration of no response and lodge a proposed order granting the UST's motion on the terms proposed by Debtor.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 12/17/18.

(a) Bar date: 7/24/19 (not timely served but excused, dkt. 120)

#8.00 Hrg re: Motion for Order Re: Objection to Amended
Proof of Claim No. 1-2
[Filed by Claimant Dong, Wang & Hu]

Docket 46

Tentative Ruling:

Deny/overrule the claim objection, without prejudice. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: The claimants are directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Creditor (and sometime attorney for Debtor) Lynn Chao, APC ("Chao") objects that creditors have provided no "written proof (i.e. pay stubs, employment contracts)" that they were ever employed by Debtor, despite long-pending litigation in State court. Dkt.46, p.3:9-10 (emphasis added), and see dkt.60, p.4. The tentative ruling is that this allegation is irrelevant because Chao has not cited any authority that a claim in bankruptcy must be founded on written documents.

To the extent that Chao is objecting that claimants' State Court complaint does not name Debtor, that also appears to be irrelevant. Claimants' proof of claim names Debtor. Claimants' opposition papers (dkt.56) explain that they (allegedly) were hired/retained by Debtor dba Little Sheep International, Inc. ("Sheep") (and that allegation may be supported by Debtor's own papers, see dkt. 1, p. 1). Alternatively, claimants' opposition papers assert that they have a claim against Debtor as the successor in interest to Sheep (and, again, that allegation appears to be supported by Debtor's own papers, see dkt. 61, p.1:22-23). The tentative ruling is that this Court cannot presume, just because claimants' State Court complaint does not expressly list Debtor's (current) name in the caption, that the proof of claim that names Debtor is directed at the wrong entity.

#9.00 Hrg re: Motion for Order to Show Cause re: Civil Contempt
Against the Law Offices of Lynn Chao, A.P.C. and GL Masters, Inc. and for Sanctions

Docket 38

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. The tentative ruling is to grant the motion and award compensatory sanctions (dkt.38), for the reasons set forth therein and in creditors' reply (dkt.55) to the only opposition papers - the declaration of Lynn Chao (dkt.42). See also dkt.33, 40 (Order compelling production), dkt.43 (Order to Show Cause). The tentative ruling is also to grant the motion and award coercive sanctions, in an escalating dollar amount to be addressed at the hearing. The tentative ruling is to deny any request for an order directing Google to do anything, for lack of sufficient notice and cited authority/analysis. The tentative ruling is also to continue the motion to a future date (to be determined), which will provide an opportunity (a) to monitor future compliance/non-compliance, (b) to impose additional coercive sanctions or terminate those sanctions as appropriate, and (c) address any other appropriate relief.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling:

Grant in part, deny in part, as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply

This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1), (d)(2) and (d)(4).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31), as applicable:

laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed, including any eviction actions, through and including any lockout or other enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that Debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that Debtor was involved and Debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that Debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is not sufficient evidence and notice.

No prejudice to Debtor intended. Based on the record, it appears that this is a "hijacked" case, and that Debtor is innocent of any involvement. See e.g., In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (describing hijacking); In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012) (same). In a hijacking case, the Debtor faces the legitimate concern of being subject to a 180-day bar and other adverse consequences if, for example, Debtor later requests and obtains a voluntary dismissal and subsequently needs to file another bankruptcy petition. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2), 362(b)(21)(A). There is authority that section 109 "eligibility issues" are nonjurisdictional, can be waived, forfeited, or subject to estoppel, and should not be applied if that would produce an "illogical, unjust, or capricious result, or when the benefit of dismissal would inure to a bad faith creditor." In re Leaffy, 489 B.R. 545, 550-51 (9th Cir. Bap 2012) (citing cases including under 109(g)(2)). See also In re Mendez, 367 B.R. 109, 116-17 (9th Cir. BAP 2007); In re Luna, 122 B.R. 575, 577 (9th Cir. BAP 1991); Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 270. The same principles apply to any other adverse consequences from a hijacking. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to condition the relief from the automatic stay granted in this tentative ruling such that no adverse consequences apply to Debtor from the hijacking, including under 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2) or 362(b)(21)(A). Note: None of the foregoing will shield Debtor if it turns out that Debtor was not, in fact, innocent of any involvement in the apparent hijacking or other abusive scheme.

Effective date of relief

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic
Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate

Docket 15

Tentative Ruling:

Grant, subject to the following conditions. Appearances are not required.

After the hearing date this Court will prepare an order and the tentative ruling is to include the following language in that order:

The stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a) applies subject to the following modifications and conditions:

(1) Service and reconsideration. Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this Court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

fr. 12/10/19

vs
DEBTOR

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

Grant in part and deny in part as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply

This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Retroactive relief

Deny the request for retroactive annulment of the stay because Judge Bason is not prepared to issue a blanket annulment with respect to whatever unspecified things might have occurred postpetition and the actions that Movant describes in the moving papers do not appear to warrant annulment.

Chapter 13

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Deny, without prejudice to any other types of relief granted herein (or previously granted), for the following reasons.

The motion requests requests "in rem" relief (i.e., relief applicable notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases (under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and/or In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31)). The tentative ruling is to deny that request for lack of good cause shown.

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 18

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/17/19:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

This matter was continued to this date due to some confusion on both Debtor's and this Court's part, in which Debtor appeared for a different matter on the 12/10/19 calendar instead of the hearing on Wells Fargo's R/S Motion (see dkt. 22). The tentative ruling is to grant the remainder of the the relief requested in the motion (as set forth in the tentative ruling for 12/10/19 below).

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Tentative Ruling for 12/10/19:

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply

This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1), (d)(2) and (d)(4).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Retroactive relief

Grant the request for retroactive annulment of the stay. See In re Fjeldsted, 293 B.R. 12 (9th Cir. BAP 2003); and see also In re Williams, 323 B.R. 691, 697-702 (9th Cir. Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31), as applicable:

then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed, including any eviction actions, through and including any lockout or other enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that Debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that Debtor was involved and Debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that Debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is sufficient evidence and notice.

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

Tentative Ruling:

Grant, subject to the following conditions, and also subject to any opposition at the hearing. Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

Key documents reviewed (other than the motion papers): Debtor's motion to convert case to chapter 11 (dkt. 24); declaration of Omar Amaya (dkt. 25); Debtor's declaration (dkt. 26); declaration of Giovanni Orantes (dkt. 27)

After the hearing date this Court will prepare an order and the tentative ruling is to include the following language in that order:

The stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a) applies subject to the following modifications and conditions:

(1) Service and reconsideration. Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this Court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

(3) Caution to Debtor. Filing this case and her prior bankruptcy case under chapter 13 when she was ineligible to be a debtor under that chapter has caused delays and expense to creditors, and these things may, in future, be among the facts and circumstances that this Court may consider if any party in interest asserts a lack of proper prosecution of this case, or other grounds for conversion, dismissal, dismissal with a bar, or other relief.

Docket 24

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

The tentative ruling is as stated in the order setting this hearing on shortened time (dkt. 33):

Debtor has erroneously used forms for conversion of a chapter 7 or 11 case, but this Court presumes (without prejudice to any party's arguments) that conversion is being sought, on shortened time, under 11 U.S.C. 1307(d) (and Rules 1017(f), 2002(m), 9006(c), 9007, and 9014 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.)). The tentative ruling, subject to any opposition and reply at or before the hearing, is to grant the motion and convert this case to chapter 11, with a caution to Debtor that filing this case and her prior bankruptcy case under chapter 13 when she was ineligible to be a debtor under that chapter has caused delays and expense to creditors, and these things may, in future, be among the facts and circumstances that this Court may consider if any part in interest asserts a lack of proper prosecution of this case, or other grounds for conversion, dismissal, dismissal with a bar, or other relief.

In addition, the tentative ruling is to set a status conference in the chapter 11 case for 1/28/20 at 1:00 p.m.

Chapter 7

#1.00 Hrg re: Motion to Vacate Discharge

Docket 23

Tentative Ruling:

Deny. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Reasons for denial

Debtor's motion requests that this Court exercise its equitable powers under 11 U.S.C. 105(a) to vacate Debtor's chapter 7 discharge, because a reaffirmation agreement must be "made before the granting of the discharge" (11 U.S.C. 524(c)(1), emphasis added) but apparently in this case the agreement was not made or filed before that date. This Court lacks the power to grant that relief.

As explained by the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel for the Ninth Circuit, "the bankruptcy court lacks the equitable power under [section] 105(a) to revoke a discharge on request of the debtor." In re Hugger, 2019 WL 1594017, *3 (9th Cir. BAP 2019) (citing In re Markovich, 207 B.R. 909, 912-13 (9th Cir. BAP 1997)). Debtor has not cited any case law to the contrary.

(2) Whether to deny the motion with or without leave to amend

The tentative ruling is to deny the motion without leave to amend. This Court recognizes that the same case on which this Court is relying to deny relief (Hugger) also states that relief might be available using a different pathway. Specifically, under Hugger it is theoretically possible that the motion could be amended to assert that this case presents one of those rare circumstances in which relief would be available under Rule 60(b) (Fed. R. Civ. P.) (incorporated by Rule 9024, Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

But the tentative ruling is that, on the facts alleged, Debtor cannot meet the exceptionally tough standards for such relief. See Hugger, 2019

WL 1594017, at *3-5, and In re Estrada, 568 B.R. 533 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017). For example, it is not clear that Debtor can legitimately allege even negligence by his counsel, let alone the "gross negligence" that appears to be the least onerous standard applied by the courts to grant relief under Rule 60(b)(1). See Estrada, 568 B.R. 533. Nor does it appear that Debtor can meet even the most basic element of Rule 60(b)(6), which is that the relief would be appropriate to "accomplish justice." See Estrada, 568 B.R. 533, 541 and passim (quoting authorities).

On that last issue (accomplishing justice), this Court recognizes that, if the motion is denied without leave to amend, Debtor might lose his house. That is an awful outcome (assuming that Debtor cannot rent sufficient accommodations). But on the record presented, reaffirming the mortgage debt appears very likely to place Debtor in an even worse situation.

If the discharge were vacated and the proposed reaffirmation were to become effective,

- (i) Debtor would be saddled with a huge mortgage debt;
- (ii) such debt would exceed the value of Debtor's property (see bankruptcy Schedule D, dkt.1 at PDF p.19) (there is no evidence that Debtor's mortgage lender has agreed to reduce the debt to the property's value, and make other concessions);
- (iii) Debtor appears almost certain to default on the mortgage payments: his only hope is to substantially increase his income and/or decrease his expenses - because of his historically minimal gross income and negative net income (bankruptcy Schedules I&J, dkt.1 at PDF pp.29-32), his three dependents, and his other financial circumstances (id.) - and even if Debtor theoretically could generate enough net income to pay his mortgage, he could not afford any significant medical expenses for either himself or any dependent at any future time, nor could he afford any substantial car repair expenses, or more than minimal other expenses or disruptions to income; and
- (iv) Debtor's personal liability typically could not be discharged for seven to nine years (see 1328(f) (no discharge of debts if future chapter 13 case is filed within four years after this case was filed) and 1325(b)(4) (additional 3 to 5 year commitment period), and see also 11 U.S.C. 727(a)(8), 1129(a)(15)(B), and 1141(a)(5)(A)).

In other words, if this Court were to grant Debtor's motion, it appears Debtor would both lose his home and be stuck with a huge debt that he cannot discharge for seven to nine years. Again, that means Debtor cannot meet even the most basic element of Rule 60(b)(6), which is that the relief would be appropriate to accomplish justice. Estrada, 568 B.R. 533, 541.

For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is to deny the motion without leave to amend.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/17/19:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

Current issues

- (1) Plaintiffs' motion to strike answer and enter default (adv. dkt. 23)

The tentative ruling is that, because no Answer was ever filed, Plaintiffs' request to strike the answer is moot. As for Plaintiffs' request for entry of a default judgment, the parties are directed to appear and address whether this Court should enter a default judgment or if instead the attempted settlement will be implemented.

- (2) Status Conference

The tentative ruling is to set a continued status conference for 1/28/20 at 11:00 a.m., with no written status report required.

Tentative Ruling for 9/24/19:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures"). The parties should be prepared to discuss the following issues:

(1) No Status Report

Again, the parties have not filed a Joint Status Report. Why not?

(2) Efforts to finalize settlement

The 4/18/19 status report (adv.dkt.19) reports that this matter has settled. But the dockets in this adversary proceeding and in the associated bankruptcy case still do not reflect any steps to finalize the settlement (e.g., a motion in this adversary proceeding to approve a stipulated judgment, and/or a status report regarding the status of settlement payments and a suggested date to continue this matter, and/or if necessary a motion in the bankruptcy case to approve a settlement per Rule 9019, Fed. R. Bankr. P.). Why not? This adversary proceeding has been pending since 6/22/18.

The parties are directed to address why the docket does not reflect any steps to finalize their reported settlement (e.g., a motion in this adversary proceeding to approve a stipulated judgment, and/or if necessary a motion in the bankruptcy case to approve a settlement per Rule 9019, Fed. At the hearing on 10/9/18, Defendants did not appear, and this Court was persuaded to take a flexible approach to whether Plaintiff would pursue default judgments, or mediation, or other avenues. Appearances required. The court has reviewed the filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding. The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority. See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 9/10/18 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 6/22/18. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this Bankruptcy Court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this Court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/2/19 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(3) Deadlines: This adversary proceeding has been pending since 5/10/19. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

#6.00 Cont'd Status Conference re: Complaint to Determine Non-Dischargeability of Debt Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. Section 523(a)(6) and 11 U.S.C. Section 727(c) fr. 9/24/19, 11/12/19

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/17/19:

Appearances are not required.

Current issues

(1) Debtor/Defendant's motion to set aside entry of default (adv. dkt. 19), Plaintiff's opposition (adv. dkt. 25), and Debtor/Defendant's reply (adv. dkt. 26)

Deny without prejudice for the reasons set forth below.

The 9th Circuit employs a three-part test to determine whether or not "good cause" exists to set aside entry of default under Rule 55(c) (Fed. R. Civ. P.), made applicable in adversary proceedings by Rule 7055 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.). The three factors are:

(1) whether [the party seeking to set aside the default] engaged in culpable conduct that led to the default; (2) whether [it] had [no] meritorious defense; or (3) whether reopening the default judgment would prejudice the other party. [United States v. Signed Pers. Check No. 730 of Yubran S. Mesle, 615 F.3d 1085, 1091 (9th Cir. 2010) (internal quotation and citation omitted).]

This standard is disjunctive, such that a finding that any one of the above factors is true is sufficient reason to refuse to set aside the default. Id.

(a) Whether Debtor engaged in culpable conduct that led to the default

Debtor provides three explanations for why she was not culpable - (1) her prior counsel withdrew on 8/6/19, shortly before her answer was due (on 8/14/19), and prior counsel never filed an answer, (2) a series of exigent personal matters, and (3) that she is not an attorney and is unfamiliar with the details and formalities of litigation deadlines. Adv. dkt. 19, p.4:11-14 and p.4:21-27.

Debtor did not file the instant motion (11/17/19) until almost three months after default was entered against her (8/20/19, adv. dkt. 9). See adv. dkt. 25, p.5:13-16. Debtor has not explained why the above three explanations excuse a three month delay in filing the motion. Was Debtor interviewing lawyers during that time? Debtor also does not provide any specific dates of her exigent personal matters that demonstrate there was a direct relationship between those events and Debtor's mental state at the time the answer was due. See adv. dkt. 25, p.6:10-12. For example, did Debtor visit a doctor or other professionals to address those exigent personal circumstances? While Debtor might not be an attorney familiar with litigation deadlines, immediately after default was entered she enlisted her state court attorney to assist in having the default set aside. Adv. dkt. 19, p.3:25-p.4:1. Was Debtor similarly aware of the answer deadline?

The tentative ruling is that Debtor has not provided sufficient support for her explanations of how she did not engage in culpable conduct, which is sufficient grounds for denying her motion.

(b) Whether Debtor has meritorious defenses to the causes of action in the adversary proceeding

Debtor's motion explains that Debtor has meritorious defenses to the causes of action in the underlying state court action. Adv. dkt. 19, p.6:13-7:8. Plaintiff's opposition explains that Debtor's motion does not address defenses to Plaintiff's objections to dischargeability, which are the matters at issue in this adversary proceeding. Adv. dkt. 25, p.6:23-25. Debtor's reply states that because the state court actions have not been finally adjudicated, there is no debt owed to Plaintiff by Debtor that the court can make a determination on regarding dischargeability. Adv. dkt. 26, p.4:7-10.

Debtor is incorrect as to Debtor not owing Plaintiff a debt. Plaintiff's complaint explains that Plaintiff's fees and costs award was affirmed on appeal and the abstract of judgment was recorded on 7/19/18. Adv. dkt. 1, p.11, paras. 33-34. Plaintiff's complaint further alleges that Debtor's action to allegedly prevent collection of the judgment is grounds for denying Debtor her discharge under 11 U.S.C. 727. Id. at p.12, para. 44. Debtor's motion does not provide any meritorious defenses to this cause of action. Moreover, in order to defeat Plaintiff's cause of action on this issue, Debtor would need to meet the burden of proof for a motion for reconsideration. It appears Debtor would have a very difficult time meeting this standard, especially in light of Debtor's admission that the lien which eats up all the equity in Debtor's property that might otherwise be used to pay the judgment is a sham. See dkt. 142, p.3:1-3; adv. dkt. 25, p.7:26-p.8:1.

The tentative ruling is that Debtor has not provided any meritorious defenses to that portion of the adversary proceeding, which is a sufficient ground to deny her motion as currently presented. The tentative ruling is that it is premature to address whether Debtor has meritorious defenses with respect to the remainder of the adversary proceeding, because that may be mooted by the issue- or claim-preclusive effect of the actions that are proceeding in nonbankruptcy court.

(c) Whether reopening the default judgment will prejudice

Plaintiff

Debtor argues that Plaintiff will not be prejudiced if this Court grants her requested relief because moving forward on the merits after "only a short delay" should not prejudice Plaintiff's ability to litigate her case. Adv. dkt. 19, p.7:10-22. Plaintiff says that she will be prejudiced because the history of Debtor's bankruptcy case evidences a pattern of fraudulent actions by Debtor to hinder Plaintiff's prosecution of the state court cases. Adv. dkt. 25, p.7:25-26.

While this Court agrees with Plaintiff that there appears to have been fraud re the $5 million recorded lien on Debtor's property, Plaintiff has not explained the basis for her assertion that now that Debtor is in bankruptcy the same sort of fraudulent behavior is likely to occur.

The tentative ruling is that granting Debtor's motion will not prejudice Plaintiff.

(d) Conclusion

The tentative ruling is that while granting Debtor's motion may not prejudice Plaintiff, Debtor has not provided sufficient support for her explanations of how she did not engage in culpable conduct, and she has not explained what her meritorious defenses to the causes of action in this adversary proceeding are, so this Court is denying Debtor's motion without prejudice.

records in this adversary proceeding.

Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order entitled "Order On Initial Status Conference" via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling.

Preliminary matters: continuance

Plaintiff's Status Report notes (a) that a Clerk's Default was entered in this case on 8/20/19 (adv. dkt. 9) and (b) that she will either seek relief from the automatic stay to proceed with defamation actions in nonbankruptcy court and/or seek a default judgment in this adversary proceeding. The tentative ruling is to continue this Status Conference as set forth below, at which time this Court can assess what progress has been made on those issues. Note: In addition, this Court will hold a Status Conference concurrent with any other hearing in this adversary proceeding (including any self-calendared hearings).

Debtor has self-calendared this motion for 1/14/20 at 1:00 p.m. That is over a month after the petition date.

What is Debtor doing with the cash meanwhile? There may be no good answer: either Debtor is using the cash, in violation of 11 U.S.C. 363(c), or Debtor is not using the cash to pay essential expenses, in violation of Debtor's duties to manage the estate and pay utility bills and other ordinary and necessary expenses in a timely manner (see 11 U.S.C. 1107-08 and 28 U.S.C. 959(b)).

Why did Debtor not use the posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) to have this matter heard on 14 days' notice, or alternatively apply for an order shortening time if the matter needed to be heard before that 14 day period?

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor, but (a) it is not necessary for Debtor to appear (notwithstanding this Court's procedures order, dkt.6) and (b) telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues N/A

(a) Debtor's motion to dismiss this case (dkt. 20, 21)

Although Debtor's motion is not set for hearing until 1/7/20 at 1:00 p.m., this Court's procedures order (dkt.6) was served on all creditors (dkt.10) and it provides that this Court may dismiss this case at any status conference. The tentative ruling is that it is appropriate to dismiss this case at this status conference, for the reasons set forth in Debtor's motion and Debtor's status report (dkt.19).

Docket 5

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor (see dkt. 21, excusing debtor's appearance).

(1) Current issues

(a) Has Debtor ceased all operations?

Debtor's status report gives the impression, but does not quite state, that Debtor is not conducting any business operations at this time (dkt. 27, p. 3). Debtor is directed to confirm this, or disclose if that is not so, at the hearing.

(b) Budget motion

Debtor's status report states that a budget motion is not required by the presiding judge's procedures. Dkt. 27, p.5. That is wrong (see posted Procedures, available at cacb.uscourts.gov), but the tentative ruling is to excuse this requirement with a caution to counsel not to mis-state the applicable procedures.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/29/19.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/17/19:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) Goldman Sachs' Motion for relief from stay (dkt. 25, 26, 27, 28), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 31), Goldman Sachs' reply (dkt. 32, 33), adequate protection order (dkt. 39), Debtor's supplemental brief (dkt. 47), Goldman Sachs' supplemental reply (dkt. 59, 50, 51), stipulation to continue hearing (dkt. 53), Debtor's supplemental opposition (dkt. 57), Goldman Sachs' supplemental reply (dkt. 67, 68), order (dkt. 72)

At the hearing on 12/2/19, this Court granted Goldman Sachs' motion for relief from stay in part, such that the stay will continue in force and effect only through 2/28/20, but set some discovery-related deadlines and continued this hearing to address any discovery disputes. If there are no disputes that need to be resolved at this time, the tentative ruling is to continue this matter to the same time as the continued status conference (see below).

(b) Law office of Michael J. Berger's first interim fee application (dkt. 58), no opposition is on file Grant the application and authorize fees of $19,559 and costs of $374.20, for a total award of $19,933.20.

Proposed order: Applicant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Tentative Ruling for 12/2/19:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures"). NOTE: Due to the specially-set nature of this hearing and scheduling conflicts, Judge Bason will be appearing by telephone.

(1) Current issues

(a) Goldman Sachs' Motion for relief from stay (dkt. 25, 26, 27, 28), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 31), Goldman Sachs' reply (dkt. 32, 33), adequate protection order (dkt. 39), Debtor's supplemental brief (dkt. 47), Goldman Sachs' supplemental reply (dkt. 59, 50, 51), stipulation to continue hearing (dkt. 53), Debtor's supplemental opposition (dkt. 57), Goldman Sachs' supplemental reply (dkt. 67, 68)

The tentative ruling is to modify and condition the automatic stay, under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (2), such that the stay will continue in force and effect only through 2/28/20, which will allow debtor a final opportunity to obtain the anticipated construction permits within the time frame it current projects and several additional weeks to secure its anticipated post-petition financing.

This Court acknowledges that Debtor appears to be making incremental progress towards paying off Goldman Sachs and restructuring its finances. But this Court is also mindful that (a) Goldman Sachs' lien has been in default since 12/2018; (b) Debtor has already benefitted from five months of stay protection since the 6/25/19 petition date; (c) based on a review of Goldman Sachs' recent appraisal (dkt. 68), its interest in the property is only protected by a minimal equity cushion; (d) Debtor's progress to date has fallen short of its projections; and (e) although Debtor has been making payments equivalent to the non-default interest, the parties have not briefed whether default interest is allowable, and the risk that it is allowable makes further delays substantially more likely to be detrimental to Goldman Sachs and other creditors.

Proposed order: Goldman Sachs is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1) (B).

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/17/19:

Appearances are not required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Claim objections

(i) Legal standards for objections to claim

"The term 'claim' is broadly defined to mean "a right to payment, whether or not such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, secure, or unsecured" 11 U.S.C. 101(5)(A) (emphasis added). The term also broadly includes a "right to an equitable remedy for breach of performance" 11 U.S.C. 101(5)(B). "The Code utilizes this 'broadest possible definition' of claim to ensure that 'all legal obligations of the debtor, no matter how remote or contingent, will be able to be dealt with in the bankruptcy case." In re SNTL Corp., 571 F.3d 826, 838 (9th Cir. 2009). Furthermore, "a claim may exist for bankruptcy and discharge purposes long before a cause of action accrues under nonbankruptcy law." Id., at 839. "It is only necessary that the creditor be able to fairly or reasonably contemplate the claim's existence as of the petition date." Id.

The exclusive grounds under which a debtor may successfully object to a claim are listed in 11 U.S.C. 502(b). In re Heath, 331 B.R. 424, 435 (9th Cir. BAP 2005); In re Campbell, 336 B.R. 430 (9th Cir. BAP 2005).

(A) Failure to attach supporting documentation is not a sufficient basis to disallow a claim

See Heath, 331 B.R. at 435 ("a request for complete disallowance of the claim merely because of inadequate documentation" is not a proper objection").

(B) The fact that a claim is contingent is not a proper basis to disallow a claim under section 502(b)(1)

Chapter 11

Section 502(b)(1) provides that a claim is not allowable if it is unenforceable under the applicable agreement or law "for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured." 11 U.S.C. 502(b)(1). "Under section 502(b)(1), [] contingent claims cannot be disallowed simply because the contingency occurred postpetition." SNTL Corp., 571 F.3d at 838.

(C) Claim objections without merit can be overruled, and should be, even absent a response by the claimant

It is often more costly in money and time for a creditor to respond than a claim is expected to be worth, because even if the claim is allowed it will only be paid in what are sometimes called "tiny bankruptcy dollars" (i.e., pennies on the dollar). In addition, any litigation will increase the administrative expense of the debtor's counsel, thereby further reducing recoveries even if the claimant prevails. Recognizing these disincentives to fight claim objections, and also recognizing that claim objections that are not well taken should not be sustained, bankruptcy courts often overrule claim objections even without any opposition by the claimant. See, e.g., Heath, 331 B.R. 424, 427 (affirming bankruptcy court's allowance of claims, despite most creditors' lack of participation before that court or on appeal, and noting bankruptcy court's statement that "[i]t's more trouble [for most Creditors] to respond than the claim is worth"). That approach is consistent with Rule 55(b)(2)(C) and (D) (Fed.R.Civ.P., incorporated by Rules 7055, 9001(7) and 9014(c), Fed.R.Bankr.P.), which give the trial court discretion to conduct a "prove up" hearing any deny recoveries even when the defendant/respondent defaults.

(ii) Objection to Claim 6 (dkt. 89), no opposition is on file

The tentative ruling is to DENY the objection because, as set forth above, lack of adequate documentation and the fact that the claim is disputed and contingent are not proper grounds to disallow Claim 6 under 502(b).

(iii) Objection to Claim 12 (dkt. 91), opposition papers of Joseph Frugard ("Mr. Frugard"), including declaration of Rita Leong ("Leong Decl.") (dkt. 112, 113, 114), Debtor's reply (dkt. 120)

The tentative ruling is to DENY the objection in-part because the only grounds Debtor raises for disallowance of the claim are that the claim is contingent and disputed and a duplicate of Proof of Claim 9. As set forth above, the fact that the claim is disputed and contingent is not a proper basis to disallow Claim 12, so the claim objection is denied on that basis. The tentative ruling is to CONTINUE the objection to the date set forth below for the continued status conference to address Debtor's assertion that Claim 12 is a duplicate of Claim 9, so the matter can be heard concurrently with Debtor's objection to Claim 9.

This Court declines to address Mr. Frugard's arguments in support of whether this Court should authorize his filing of a class claim under Rule 7023 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.), because Debtor did not raise that issue in the Claim Objection so that request is not properly before this Court at this time. Similarly, Debtor's reply argues against this Court estimating Claim 12 under section 502(c)(1), but that argument is irrelevant because neither Debtor nor Mr. Frugard have requested any such relief.

(iv) Objection to Claim 13 (dkt. 92), Joseph Frugard's opposition (dkt. 116, 117), no reply is on file

The tentative ruling is to DENY the objection because, as set forth above, lack of adequate documentation and the fact that the claim is disputed and contingent are not proper grounds to disallow Claim 13 under 502(b).

(v) Objection to Claim 14 (dkt. 93), no opposition is on file

The tentative ruling is to DENY the objection as follows. Failure to comply with Rule 3001 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) does not alone justify disallowing the claim. The fact that the claim is disputed and contingent are not proper grounds to disallow Claim 14 under 502(b).

(vi) Summary

Nothing in the foregoing tentative rulings should be construed to prevent Debtor from defending against or objecting to these claims, either in nonbankruptcy fora or, if appropriate, in this Bankruptcy Court, on any grounds recognized by 11 U.S.C. 502(b). Nor does anything in the foregoing tentative rulings prevent Debtor or any creditor from filing proper papers regarding class certification (under, e.g., Rules 7023 and 9014(c), Fed.R.Bankr.P.), or to estimate claims if the fixing or liquidation of the claim would unduly delay the administration of the case or otherwise satisfy the requirements of 11 U.S.C. 502(c).

Proposed orders: Debtor is directed to lodge proposed orders on each of the foregoing motions via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Chapter 11

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion for final decree (dkt. 191), limited opposition of U.S. Bank National Association ("US Bank") (dkt. 195), no reply is on file

The tentative ruling is to grant the Motion for Final Decree provided that (i) the order will recite that it is without prejudice to US Bank's rights to deem the loan in default for failure to make payments as set forth in US Bank's limited opposition (dkt. 195) and (ii) notwithstanding Debtor's assertion that all matters have been resolved (dkt.191, p.4, para.4.a.) it appears that once Debtor has made 60 months of payments to unsecured creditors she will have to file a motion for discharge (see Plan, dkt.102, p.4, Art.IV.A.), and therefore the tentative ruling is to close this case on an interim basis (not a final basis) so that, at that time, Debtor can more easily file a motion to reopen this case and a motion to be granted a discharge of her debts.

Proposed order: US Bank is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date reflecting the foregoing terms, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Tentative Ruling for 2/26/19:

Appearances required.

(1) Current matters

At the hearing on 10/2/18 this Court heard oral argument on the motion of the Bureau of Land Management ("BLM") to dismiss Debtor's adversary proceeding ("Debtor v. BLM," Adv. No. 2:18-ap-01057-NB). This Court took the matter under submission and continued the various related matters in this case to 12/4/18, and then (for this Court's own scheduling needs) to 12/18/18 (dkt. 167), and then (based on the partial shutdown of the U.S. government) to 2/26/19 (Debtor v. BLM adv. dkt. 44, 46).

(a) Current status and tentative rulings

This Court anticipates, prior to this 2/26/19 hearing, finalizing and issuing a Memorandum Decision granting the BLM's motion to dismiss the Debtor v. BLM adversary proceeding, without leave to amend. Based on that ruling, Debtor will not have any interest in the subject leases. The tentative ruling is that this moots the related matters:

(ii) R/S Motion (dkt. 130)

Ms. Aliet-Gass's motion for relief from the automatic stay to proceed with pending litigation in State Court, in which she essentially seeks to assert the alleged interests of Western States Int'l against Debtor.

Accordingly, the tentative ruling is (x) to stay the foregoing related matters for a period of not less than 14 days after entry of this Court's order dismissing the Debtor v. BLM adversary proceeding, (y) if there is an appeal from that order, to extend such stay during the pendency of any appeal and subsequent proceedings on that order, and (z) if there is no appeal, dismiss this bankruptcy case and all pending adversary proceedings and contested matters. This Court will prepare the orders granting the BLM's motion to dismiss and the orders staying the related proceedings.

dkt. 132). The debtor/plaintiff suggests that it will be filing a motion to approve a disclosure statement. Is that premature, given the following issues?

(b) Motion to amend complaint (adv. dkt. 125). The parties should be prepared to address the issues raised in the motion and in the oppositions filed by the California Department of Conservation, Division of Oil and Gas, and Geothermal Resources ("DOGGR") (adv. dkt. 125, 130, 131).

In addition, the debtor/plaintiff should be prepared to address whether the proposed amended complaint cures the deficiencies in the original complaint, and whether any ruling on the motion to amend the complaint should be deferred until after default judgments are (or are not) obtained on the existing (original) complaint, for the reasons set forth in this Court's Memorialization Of Reasons For Denying Motions For Default Judgments (captioned for the adversary proceeding but erroneously filed in the main case as dkt. 118). Tentative Ruling for 1/23/18:

Continue the status conferences in both the main case and the adversary proceeding (adv. no. 2:17-ap-01326-NB) to 2/13/18 at 2:00 p.m. with a status report due 2/6/18 (at which time other documents are also due as set forth below) for the reasons set forth below. Appearances are not required on 1/23/18.

(1) Current issues

(a) Reasons for continuance: (i) because of the problems noted below; (ii) because of the debtor's untimely last-minute filing of status reports (the debtor is cautioned that continued untimely filings may result in sanctions); (iii) because of the inability of the Office of the United States Trustee to appear due to the shutdown of much of the federal government, (iv) to be concurrent with the (improperly self-calendared) motion to amend the complaint, and (v) in view of the debtor's various status reports (main case dkt. 117, adv. dkt. 122, 127, 129).

(b) Bar date. The debtor's proofs of service of the bar date order are missing exhibits and incomprehensible (see dkt. 110, 111). The debtor is directed to file, no later than 2/6/18, either a corrected proof of service or an application (supported by a declaration) to set yet another supplemental bar date - whichever is appropriate.

(c) Status of existing complaint in adversary proceeding. On 11/20/17 this court issued an order (adv. dkt. 117) denying the plaintiff/debtor's motions for default judgments, without prejudice. The debtor now seeks to amend the complaint (adv. dkt. 125). All of these things moot the motions for default judgments so the hearings on those motions have been vacated.

In addition, the tentative ruling is to memorialize this court's reasons for denying the motions for default judgments by filing on the docket a copy of this court's adopted tentative ruling for the 11/14/17 hearings on those motions (reproduced within the tentative ruling for calendar no. 9. 1/23/18 at 2:00 p.m.).

(d) Motion to amend complaint (adv. dkt. 125). This motion was self-calendared for 2:00 p.m. (a time that cannot be used for self-calendaring) on 2/13/18. Nevertheless, the tentative ruling is to permit that motion to proceed at that time.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16.

Tentative Ruling for 11/14/17:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address the following issues.

(1) Current issues. The debtor has filed a second (very belated) proof of service (dkt. 103) of this court's order (dkt. 56) setting a bar date. Under that order the bar date was set as 7/10/17 and service was required no later than 5/8/17. What does the debtor's belated service do except cause confusion? Does the debtor require a new bar date for previously unknown creditors?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16. If this case is not converted or dismissed, the tentative ruling is to set the following:

- (a) Bar date: 7/10/17 (order timely served, dkt. 56, 60; but see above under "current issues").

If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 8/22/17:

The tentative ruling is to dismiss this case with a 180 day bar for willful failure to appear in proper prosecution, as set forth below. See 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1). Appearances are not required.

Reasons: This case was filed on 11/23/16. The debtor's assets consist of disputed rights in hydrocarbon leases. See Status Report, dkt. 81. Realizing any value from those rights apparently depends on retaining special counsel who will diligently prosecute the debtor's claims. Despite numerous opportunities, the debtor has failed to satisfy the prerequisites for retention of special counsel.

(1) Inadequate declarations about "connections"

At the hearing on 7/11/17 this court extensively reviewed the evidence that would be required before this court could approve the application to employ the latest proposed special counsel, Mr. Montes. That included a requirement of detailed declarations from Mr. and Mrs. Hoats regarding any transfers of any property (including intangible property) involving the debtor and any of them, as well as any other "connections" (as that term is used in Rule 2014, Fed. R. Bankr. P.) to the debtor and any other party in interest.

This court recognizes that Mr. and Mrs. Hoats are not the professionals whose employment is being sought. Nevertheless, given their very close ties to the debtor, and their failure to disclose connections to the prior proposed special counsel that raised questions about conflicts of interest, this court orally ordered the debtor to provide their declarations at the hearing on 5/2/17. That order has been ignored.

(2) Knudsen factors

This court also directed Mr. Montes to file a declaration addressing the factors that this court must consider in assessing his request to be paid more frequently than once every 120 days. See In re Knudsen, 84 B.R. 668, 672-73 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Mr. Montes has filed such a declaration (dkt. 82) and has adequately summarized the factors (id., p.3:15-23) but he has not adequately addressed the third factor, which he summarizes as: "any funds paid but later disapproved by the court can be recovered from the professional" in one or more of the ways listed in Knudsen. (Emphasis added.) Those ways are:

- [a. Holdback] retainer payments are for only a percentage of the amount billed so that the likelihood or necessity of repayment is minimal [Mr. Montes suggests a 10% holdback, which has not been shown to be adequate - the typical amount is 20%, and that typically applies only to well established firms whose ability to repay funds is reinforced by the firm's longevity and reputation or similar considerations];
- [b. Bond] counsel can post a bond covering any possible reassessment [Mr. Montes has not addressed this factor];
- [c. Financial ability to repay] counsel's financial position makes it certain that any reassessment can be repaid [Mr. Montes has not addressed this factor]; [and/or]
- [d. Hold funds in trust account] funds paid prior to allowance are held in a trust account until a final or interim fee allowance is made [Mr. Montes has only offered to place the 10% proposed holdback in a trust account]. [Knudsen, 84 B.R. 668, at 672]

(3) The debtor appears to cite the wrong statutory authority

The debtor's application to employ Mr. Montes (dkt. 65) requests that his employment be approved under subsection "(e)" of 11 U.S.C. 327. But that subsection only applies by its terms to an attorney who "has represented the debtor" (i.e., prepetition counsel whose employment is to continue postpetition). Id. (emphasis added).

That is not the end of the analysis, because it has been held that special counsel can be employed even when such counsel has not represented the debtor prepetition. See In re Fondiller, 15 B.R. 890, 892 (9th Cir. BAP 1981) (emphasis added), appeal dismissed, 707 F.2d 441 (9th Cir.

1983). Although Fondiller has been interpreted as authorizing employment under subsection (e) (see, e.g., Covenant Fin. Group of Am., Inc., 243 B.R. 450, 455 & n. 8 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 1999)), the precise holding of Fondiller appears to be that special counsel can be employed under subsection "(a)" of Section 327 because any "omission" in subsection "(e)" does not limit the general authority in subsection "(a)." See Fondiller, 15 B.R. at 891-92 (interpreting § 327(a) by comparison with §§ 327(c) and (e)).

True, the precise statutory authority appears to make little if any practical difference, because Fondiller held that when counsel is only employed to perform limited services, then an interest "adverse to the estate" means "an adverse interest relating to the services which are to be performed by that attorney," which appears to mean that the inquiry for proposed special counsel under subsection "(a)" is the same as under subsection "(e)." Fondiller, 15 B.R. at 892 (emphasis added). Mr. Montes' declaration (included in dkt. 65) appears to meet this test because he states that he has no adverse interest.

Nevertheless, as stated above this court has required additional evidence from Mr. and Mrs. Hoats and that evidence has not been provided. In addition, because the debtor has sought authority under subsection "(e)" instead of "(a)" it appears not have met the technical requirements for employment of Mr. Montes.

If you wish to dispute the above tentative ruling, please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings".

Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the debtor's proposed attorney, Brian McMahon Esq., should be prepared to address the concerns set forth in the U.S. Trustee's objection (dkt. 49) and the other issues set forth below.

(1) Current issues.

(a) Proposed special counsel.

(i) Background. On 4/5/17 the debtor filed an application for authority to employ the law offices of Mr. McMahon as special counsel under 11 U.S.C. 327(e) (dkt. 47). On 4/12/17 the United States Trustee ("UST") filed an objection to the employment application, which expressed concerns about the payment arrangement proposed in the application (dkt. 49).

The debtor filed a statement of disinterestedness for Mr. McMahon (dkt.53), and a reply (dkt.55), stating that a third party, Ms. Lilian Hoats, will be paying the attorney fees for Mr. McMahon's representation. Ms. Hoats is the CEO of Inviron Technologies, Inc. ("Managing Member"), which is the debtor's managing member (dkt. 55, Ex.1, p.1, recital "b"). Attached to the reply (dkt. 55, Ex.1) is a written document that purports to be a waiver of conflicts (if any exist) among the debtor, Ms. Hoats, and the Managing Member (the "Hoats/Managing Member Conflict Waiver").

The Attorney-Client Retainer Agreement attached to the employment application (dkt. 46, Ex.1) provides that Mr. McMahon is representing not only the debtor but also its affiliates Riverwood Energy, LLC ("Energy Affiliate") and Riverwood Resources Ltd. ("Resources Affiliate"). This court is not aware of the precise organizational and contractual relationships among the debtor, Energy Affiliate, and Resources Affiliate, nor of any written document purporting to be a waiver of conflicts (if any exist) among them.

(ii) Statutory provisions and rules

Although special counsel does not have to be "disinterested" (compare 11 U.S.C. 327(a)), special counsel still must not "represent or hold any interest adverse to the debtor or to the estate with respect to the matter on which such attorney is to be employed." 11 U.S.C. 327(e) (emphasis added). Under Rule 2014 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) both Mr. McMahon and the debtor were supposed to disclose all connections between Mr. McMahon and "the debtor, creditors, any other party in interest, their respective attorneys and accountants, the United States trustee, or any person employed in the office of the United States trustee."

The disclosures have not been adequate. This court does not know enough about the underlying litigation and the organizational and contractual relationships among the various entities to assess whether there may be conflicts of interest between the debtor, on the one hand, and Ms. Hoats, Managing Member, Energy Affiliate, and/or Resource Affiliate.

(iii) A DIP's conflicts generally cannot be waived

Any purported conflict waiver probably cannot waive actual conflicts. See, e.g., In re Perry, 194 B.R. 875, 880 (E.D.Cal.1996) (waiver of conflict by non-debtor parties was insufficient and "[i]nformed consent could not be obtained" because "the real parties in interest in this case are the creditors, and that is not a waivable conflict"); In re B.E.S. Concrete Products, Inc., 93 B.R. 228, 235 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 1988).

But while actual conflicts of interest create a violation of 11 U.S.C. 327 which would require disqualification of the proposed professional, the mere existence of a potential conflict of interest does not require disqualification, and it is up to the court's discretion whether the purported conflict is sufficiently threatening to the estate to warrant disqualification. In re Wheatfield Business Park, LLC, 286 B.R. 412, 421 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

Are proposed counsel and the debtor aware of any actual conflicts?
How about potential conflicts?

(iv) The purported conflict waiver is incomplete

The Hoats/Managing Member Conflict Waiver is not actually signed by Ms. Hoats in her individual capacity (she has only signed it on behalf of the debtor's Managing Member). In addition, as noted above, this court is not aware of any purported conflict waiver among the debtor and Operating Affiliate or Resources Affiliate.

(v) There might be conflicts among the debtor and Ms. Hoats

A third party who funds a retainer for the debtor (the "Funder") generally has some pre-existing relationship with the debtor, and/or some motivation to providing the funding. Those things increase the likelihood that the Funder could be the recipient of an avoidable preference, or might have alter ego liability, or otherwise might have interests that are adverse to (or at least not fully aligned with) the bankruptcy estate or creditors. For these reasons, although payment of a retainer by a third party is not outright prohibited, it is fraught with ethical concerns. At the hearing, counsel for the debtor and proposed special counsel should be prepared to address the following.

(A) Terms. What are the precise agreements, understandings or expectations regarding the funds -- e.g., are the funds a loan, a gift, an investment, or something else?

(B) Informed consent of Funder. Has the Funder been advised regarding actual and potential conflicts of interest, and that the sole attorney-client relationship and duty of loyalty is with the debtor, not the Funder? Who provided such advice: independent counsel? counsel for the debtor? the debtor's proposed special counsel? Has the Funder given informed consent? Are those things in writing?

(C) Informed consent of debtor. Has the debtor likewise been fully advised and given informed consent? Who provided such advice? Are these things in writing? Ms. Hoats has signed the Hoats/Managing Member conflict waiver on behalf of the debtor: how can she, acting for the debtor, waive conflicts with herself?

(D) Other considerations. Has proposed special counsel demonstrated or represented to the Court the absence of an actual or potential conflict, a lack of disinterestedness, or any other basis for disqualification? See In re Kelton Motors, Inc., 109 B.R. 641 (Bankr. D. Vt. 1989); In re Lotus Prop's LP, 200 B.R. 388 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1996) (rejecting per se disqualification when fees are paid by third party); and compare In re Hathaway Ranch Partnership, 116 B.R. 208, 219 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1990) (per se rule). See generally In re Park-Helena Corp., 63 F.3d 877 (9th Cir. 1995).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/23/16. If this case is not converted or dismissed, the tentative ruling is to set the following:

(a) Bar date*: to be set during the status conference.

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: same.

this Court, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. Do not repeat the terms set forth in the motion or any stipulation. Incorporate those terms by reference (including the docket number of the document), subject to any modification by this Court.

(b) Timing. Lodge the proposed order within 7 days after the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Minimum adequate protection

In addition to the postpetition security interests that are automatically provided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 552 (e.g., in traceable proceeds and profits), and subject to any more comprehensive protection that may be included in the motion or related papers, Debtor shall provide at least the following protection to any creditor with a security interest in the subject property (pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 361-364, as applicable):

(a) Insurance. For all collateral of a type that typically is insured (e.g., real property and improvements), Debtor is directed to maintain insurance in a dollar amount at least equal to Debtor's good faith estimate of the value of such creditor's interest in the collateral, and such insurance shall name such creditor as an additional insured. Debtor is directed to remain current on payments for such insurance.

(b) Taxes. Debtor is directed to remain current on payments on account of postpetition real estate taxes (to the extent that real estate is part of the collateral).

(c) Disclosures/access. Debtor is directed to provide, upon such creditor's reasonable request, periodic accountings of the foregoing insurance and tax obligations and payments, as well as postpetition proceeds, products, offspring, or profits from the collateral, including gross revenues and expenses and a calculation of net revenues, including any rents and any fees, charges, accounts, or other payments for the use or occupancy of rooms and other public facilities in lodging properties (as all of the foregoing terms are used in 11 U.S.C. 552). Debtor is directed to provide appropriate documentation of those accountings, and access for purposes of inspection or appraisal.

liens shall be limited to the same validity, priority, and amount as prepetition liens. As used herein, the "validity, priority, and amount" or any similar phrase that may be used by the parties or this Court is deemed to include the following:

(a) Extent. Such liens shall be limited to the type of collateral in which the creditor held a security interest as of the petition date, unless this order expressly states that the liens granted by this order are intended to attach to different types of collateral from the prepetition collateral. For example, if prepetition liens extended to inventory and accounts receivable but not equipment then postpetition liens are likewise limited (unless otherwise expressly provided by order of this Court). In addition, postpetition liens shall not extend to the proceeds of any avoidance actions, any recoveries under 11 U.S.C. 506(c), or any "carveout" under 11 U.S.C. 552.

(b) Priority. Such liens shall be limited to the same priority as the security interest held by the creditor as of the petition date.

(c) Dollar amount. Such liens shall be limited to the dollar amount needed to protect the creditor against diminution in the value of the secured claims as of the petition date.

(d) Enforceability. Such liens shall be limited to the extent that the creditor's security interests were duly perfected and valid as of the petition date, and to the extent that they are unavoidable.

(e) Automatic postpetition perfection. Any automatic perfection of such liens shall be subject to any applicable limitations regarding the Court's authority, jurisdiction, or due process.

(4) Automatic disapproval of insufficiently disclosed provisions

Any provision of the type listed in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or in local form F4001-2 (e.g., cross-collateralization) or any waiver of the "equities of the case" exception in 11 U.S.C. 552(b)(2) shall be deemed automatically disapproved and excepted from any order granting the motion, notwithstanding any other provision of such order, unless either: (a) such provision is specifically and prominently disclosed in the motion papers in a checklist (such as local form F4001-2), or alternatively (b) such provision is specifically identified in any proposed order granting the motion, using terminology of the type used in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or local form F4001-2 (e.g., any "cross-collateralization" that is not specifically identified as such is deemed to be disapproved).

#30.00 Cont'd Status Conference re: Chapter 11 Case
fr. 9/17/19, 10/1/19, 10/29/19, 12/10/19

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/17/19:

Appearances are not required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Beverly's motion for relief from automatic stay (dkt. 47); Debtor's opposition (dkt. 50); Beverly's reply (dkt. 53)

Continue to the same date and time as the continued status conference. Reasons: This Court's posted tentative ruling prior to the hearing scheduled for 12/10/19 (reproduced below) was not contested, and therefore it was adopted as this Court's ruling. The ruling was: "to continue this hearing to 12/17/19 at 1:00 p.m., with a deadline of 12/11/19 for Beverly to [i] serve all required persons with notice of the continued hearing, and [ii] file a proof of service." (Emphasis added.) Beverly has done the latter (dkt.54) but not the former.

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt.13, 19, 26, 31, 32, 42, 43, 55, 61)
Grant on a final basis.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 8/30/19.

(a) Bar date: 12/13/19 (see Order, dkt.28, which might or might not have been served properly, see Order, dkt.63)

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD. Debtor must use the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - this Court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

(c) Continued status conference: 1/28/20 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report is required.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 12/10/19:

Appearances are not required. on 12/10/19, but Debtor and Beverly Partners, LLC ("Beverly") are directed, well ahead of the continued hearing date set forth below, to take whatever steps are necessary or appropriate to address the issues set forth below (e.g., correcting service and/or proofs of service, lodging proposed order(s), filing corrected MORs, etc.).

(1) Current issues

(a) Beverly's motion for relief from automatic stay (dkt. 47); Debtor's opposition (dkt. 50); Beverly's reply (dkt. 53)

Beverly's proof of service does not show service on the list of creditors included in Debtor's "list filed under Rule 1007(d)" (as required by Rule 4001(a)(1), Fed. R. Bankr. P.). See dkt. 1. The tentative ruling is to continue this hearing to 12/17/19 at 1:00 p.m., with a deadline of 12/11/19 for Beverly to serve all required persons with notice of the continued hearing, and file a proof of service.

(b) Cash collateral motion (dkt.19)

No proposed order has been lodged - at the hearing on 10/1/19 this Court directed counsel to lodge a proposed order granting the motion on an interim basis and attaching (and adopting) a copy of this Court's tentative ruling for that date (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov). In addition, Debtor did not file and serve a notice of the final hearing by 10/3/19. In addition, any such service would have to be in compliance with the applicable rules for service, as stated in that adopted tentative ruling.

The current tentative ruling is (i) to direct counsel, again, to lodge a proposed order granting the motion on an interim basis through the conclusion of the final hearing, (ii) to set a final hearing for the same date and time as the continued status conference (see below), and (iii) to set a deadline of 12/11/19 for Debtor to file and serve notice of the final hearing in compliance with the applicable rules for service.

(c) Proof of service of bar date order (dkt.28)

Debtor's counsel has had trouble with service of this order and/or proving that it was served as required. See dkt. 35,36,37. Even the latest, second amended proof of service (dkt.37) is inadequate in that it fails to state who actually served the order and when they did so. Implicitly, the person who signed the proof of service, Paulina Buitron, is the person who actually deposited the envelopes in the U.S. mail, and that was done sometime between 9/30/19, when the order was supposed to have been served, and 10/3/19, when the proof of service was filed, but the declaration does not actually say so. In addition, at the hearing on 10/1/19 this Court directed Debtor's counsel to double-check that all creditors had in fact been served and, if not, to apply for an order setting a supplemental bar date as to any creditors who have not been served.

The tentative ruling is to excuse what appears to be untimely service of the bar date order by a few days, and set a deadline of 12/11/19 (i) for Debtor's counsel to file a third amended proof of service of the bar date order, using the local form (mandatory for all motions) (see Local Form F9013-3.1.PROOF.SERVICE), (ii) to lodge a proposed order excusing the untimely service of the bar date order, with a copy of this tentative ruling attached, and (iii) if necessary, apply for a supplemental bar date for any creditors who were not served with the bar date order, and lodge a proposed supplemental bar date order.

(d) Debtor's Monthly Operating Reports ("MORs")

Debtor appears to be having trouble complying with his obligations as a debtor in possession, including not paying prepetition debts. In addition, the October MOR (dkt.49) appears to show lossess from most of Debtor's various businesses, and perilously low bank balances, even with the reduced dollar amount of the adequate protection payments to Beverly (less than the ongoing interest obligation). In addition, there is an internal inconsistency about postpetition adequate protection and/or lease payments: the October MOR (dkt.49, at PDF p.57 of 61) lists "0" postpetition payments not made (i.e., Debtor allegedly is postpetition current), but then the same table lists "Total Due" postpetition amounts of many thousands of dollars - which is it? Is Debtor postpetition current in payments to secured creditors and/or lessors, or not?

The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor (i) to confer with the Office of the

(1) Current issues

(a) Budget Motion

Debtor's status report incorrectly states that a budget motion is not required by the presiding judge's procedures. Dkt. 20, p.3. See posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at cacb.uscourts.gov) (the "Bason Procedures") Section VII.G. In addition, a budget motion appears to be particularly important in this case because most of Debtor's income and expenses are effectively hidden and/or mis-reported.

Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedule I reports that he is an interior designer/hair stylist (dkt.22, at PDF p.27), his Statement Of Financial Affairs ("SOFA") lists various "dba" enterprises that might or might not reflect other business ventures, and Debtor apparently rents out some of his properties using Airbnb, but there is no breakdown of any of this. Contrary to the instructions on line 8a of Schedule I, debtor lists only a total net dollar amount for all businesses/properties combined - $22,598.00 per month - and fails to attach a statement for each business/property showing gross receipts, ordinary and necessary business expenses, and the calculation of net income. Also, in apparent contradiction of this alleged monthly net income, the SOFA (dkt. 22 at PDF p.31) lists gross income of $20,000 for the year to date (9 months), $7,875 for 2018, and $28,223 for 2017. (Perhaps Debtor listed monthly net income instead of yearly gross income - if so he must file a corrected SOFA.)

The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor to file an amended Schedule I and an amended SOFA, and to file and serve a budget motion and any other documents that are necessary or appropriate to correct the foregoing deficiencies, no later than 9/27/19.

(b) Bankruptcy Schedule G

Debtor lists no executory contracts or unexpired leases (dkt.22, at PDF p.24). What about Airbnb and/or other short-term or long-term rental arrangements? The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor to file an amended Schedule G no later than 9/27/19.

(c) Cash collateral

Even though this case was filed on 8/30/19, Debtor did not self-calendar his cash collateral motion for hearing until over a month later, on 10/1/19 at 1:00 p.m. Meanwhile, has Debtor (i) been using cash collateral without authorization (in violation of 11 U.S.C. 363(c)) or (ii) not been using cash collateral, and hence failing to pay ordinary and necessary business and personal expenses, in violation of Debtor's duties to pay postpetition debts as they come due and preserve and maximize the value of the bankruptcy estate. 11 U.S.C. 1107(a) and 1108, and 28 U.S.C. 959(b). The tentative ruling is that, although this is not yet sufficient cause for appointment of a chapter 11 trustee or other remedies, it may factor into consideration of any such remedies in future.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/17/19:
Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

Debtor's latest status report (dkt. 127) seeks a continuance so that its fourth amended plan (dkt.121) and disclosure statement (dkt.122) can be considered. The objecting occupants of Debtor's mobile home park ("Objecting Creditors") have filed a status report (dkt. 128) opposing that continuance. They assert that Debtor's plans are not confirmable as long as they do not comply with Carson Municipal Code ("CMC") 9128.21.

On the one hand, the tentative ruling is that Objecting Creditors overstate this Court's prior rulings. On the other hand, the tentative ruling is that Objecting Creditors are correct that Debtor's fourth amended plan and disclosure statement appear on their face to be so far out of compliance with this Court's prior rulings that it would be unproductive to continue this status conference to address those documents at a later time.

This Court previously ruled that:

(2) Debtor has not established that Cal. Gov. Code 65863.7(f) exempts Debtor from otherwise applicable requirements of California law or regulation, because that section by its terms requires that any closure or cessation of use of a mobilehome park must "result[] from the entry of an order for relief in bankruptcy" (emphasis added), and Debtor has not established that closure or cessation of use is the only bankruptcy option, as opposed to, for example, sale of the property as a mobilehome park under 11 U.S.C. 363; and therefore

(3) Debtor has not established that Carson Municipal Code

This Court explained these rulings further at the hearing on 9/17/19, using several hypothetical situations. This tentative ruling provides a similar, expanded explanation.

At one extreme, consider a hypothetical situation in which a debtor's only viable option in bankruptcy were to cease using its property as a mobilehome park - for example, if there were a toxic waste spill on such property that forced such debtor to file for bankruptcy and the only viable bankruptcy option were to evict all the tenants/occupants and immediately sell the property to an investor who could afford the expense of stopping the spread of the toxic plume and slowly remediating the toxic waste. In that situation the closure or cessation of use of such a debtor's mobilehome park would "result from" the order for relief (i.e., the bankruptcy petition, per 11 U.S.C. 301) in the sense that this was the only viable bankruptcy option. Then, presumably, Cal. Gov. Code 65863.7(f) would preempt CMC 9128.21.

At the opposite extreme, consider a different hypothetical debtor that had encountered cash flow problems but that could continue to operate its mobilehome park within bankruptcy at such a large profit that it could pay all creditors 100% over time. In that situation any attempt to close the mobile home park or cease using the property for that purpose would not "result[] from" the bankruptcy petition. In that situation, presumably, Cal. Gov. Code 65863.7(f) would not preempt CMC 9128.21.

Inbetween, consider a situation in which a hypothetical debtor could pay creditors 50% if it can cease using its property as a mobilehome park but some lesser amount (e.g., 45% or 10%) if it continues operating the property as a mobilehome park. That situation presents the thorny issue whether a Debtor's generally understood obligation to attempt to maximize the recovery for unsecured creditors is a strong enough mandate to hold that closing the mobilehome park or ceasing such use would "result[] from" the bankruptcy petition (the order for relief).

This Court is not aware of any explicit statutory mandate to a debtor in possession to maximize creditors' recoveries, especially at the expense of another interest group such as tenants/occupants whose interests are protected by a municipal code. To the contrary, in general a debtor in possession must comply with nonbankruptcy law such as municipal codes. Compare 11 U.S.C. 1107 (debtor's duties) with 28 U.S.C. 959(b) (duty to comply with nonbankruptcy law).

But if nonbankruptcy law itself defers to whatever results from the filing of a bankruptcy petition - which appears to be so under Cal. Gov. Code 65863.7(f) - then there is a circularity problem, at least if that statute is interpreted as having no limits. The question is where to draw the line.

This would be a thorny issue if it were presented in this case. But Debtor's fourth amended plan appears to duck the issue entirely.

For example, Debtor does not appear to have made any serious attempt to compare the likely value of the property with or without continuing its use as a mobilehome park. Rather, Debtor proposes to obtain a new loan with a priming lien on the property and pay the Objecting Creditors only a relatively small dollar amount, based on the following assertion:

The Debtor attempted to employ a real estate broker that has no connections to the Debtor to market the Park but two brokers refused to take the listing because the Park appears to be substantially over-encumbered by secured debt. [Disclosure Statement (dkt.121), at PDF p.22 (emphasis added).]

That allegation is entirely unpersuasive. A debtor in possession generally can sell over-encumbered property free and clear of liens using 11 U.S.C. 363(b) and (f), and that bankruptcy tool is available precisely so that the value of estate property is not depressed by circumstances such as over-encumbrance. The posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) provide summaries of past rulings that have authorized such sales, including citations to the published decisions that were the basis for such rulings.

Based on the foregoing, the tentative ruling is to set a deadline for Debtor to file one of the following:

(a) A motion to establish comparative valuations of its property (i) with and (ii) without a mobilhome park, with supporting declarations by licensed real estate appraisers, or other professionals, and a brief in support of whatever option Debtor favors, addressing the issues described above.

(b) A proposed plan that would split future profits from the operation or sale of the property among secured creditors, priority creditors, nonpriority unsecured creditors, equity owners, and the Objecting Creditors in some manner that has a plausible chance of consensual or nonconsensual confirmation.

(c) Some other alternative that does not evade the issues described

The tentative ruling is that if Debtor is unable or unwilling to pursue a viable option within a reasonable time, this case would need to be converted to chapter 7 so that a trustee could attempt to resolve these issues, or alternatively this case would need to be dismissed. Accordingly, the parties are directed to address possible deadlines and a schedule for any opposition papers, any reply, and a hearing.

Appearances required. Deny the (belated) motion re cash collateral (docket no. 51) and only authorize Debtor to use funds to pay the following items in the proposed budget (dkt.51, Ex."A" "1", at p.22):

- (1) non-insider payroll, payroll taxes, benefits, and payroll service,
- (2) consultants whose employment has been authorized by written order of this Court,
- (3) insurance,
- (4) Hanmi Bank adequate protection payments equal to regular monthly payments of principal and interest - not any "loan fees,"
- (5) property repair and maintenance,
- (6) Office expense and supplies, postage, and shipping,

The tentative ruling is that all other expenses are not adequately explained and justified. For example, the proposed budget includes $108,222 (approximately 2/3 of the total expenses) for "Taxi Vouchers and tokens" plus $3,155/mo. for "Equipment rental and maintenance," $3,412/mo. for "Management Fees," and $5,784/mo. for "Facility cost (rent utilities)." can any creditors or this Court assess whether those things are "ordinary course" without some explanation? See 11 U.S.C. 363(b).

Has Debtor historically been in the business of providing taxi vouchers to low-income persons to facilitate employment, medical visits, and food? If so, why was this not explained in more detail in the initial status conference report? See dk.11. Are those services paid for out of the grants that Debtor receives? Is there any protection of the bankruptcy estate against misuse of such a large amount of transfers? Is the budget for those things consistent with past practices and/or with the expenses of other nonprofits that provide similar services? See In re Dant & Russell, Inc., 853 F.2d 700 (9th Cir. 1988).

In addition, as to those expenditures that are approved, the tentative ruling is not to approve section "8" of the proposed stipulation with Hanmi Bank (dk. 51, Ex.A). In that section Debtor purports to waive rights under 11 U.S.C. 364(d) and 506(c), but there is no showing why that would be appropriate and it might be detrimental to creditors. The tentative ruling is, instead, to require that Debtor provide at least 72 hours' advance notice of any proposed expenditure that Debtor believes would qualify for reimbursement under section 506(c), absent exigent circumstances that make such advance notice impossible. In other respects, the tentative ruling is to authorize the use of cash collateral as provided in the stipulation, but subject to the conditions set forth below.

Judge Bason's standard conditions for use of cash collateral and/or postpetition financing (by creditors holding prepetition claims)

(1) Written order

(a) Form. Use local form

F2081-1.1.ORDER.CASH.COLLATERAL or the equivalent. Attach a copy of this tentative ruling as an exhibit, thereby adopting it as the written ruling of this Court, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. In addition to the postpetition security interests that are automatically provided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 552 (e.g., in traceable proceeds and profits), and subject to any more comprehensive protection that may be included in the motion or related papers, Debtor shall provide at least the following protection to any creditor with a security interest in the subject property (pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 361-364, as applicable):

(a) Insurance. For all collateral of a type that typically is insured (e.g., real property and improvements), Debtor is directed to maintain insurance in a dollar amount at least equal to Debtor's good faith estimate of the value of such creditor's interest in the collateral, and such insurance shall name such creditor as an additional insured. Debtor is directed to remain current on payments for such insurance.

(b) Taxes. Debtor is directed to remain current on payments on account of postpetition real estate taxes (to the extent that real estate is part of the collateral).

(c) Disclosures/access. Debtor is directed to provide, upon such creditor's reasonable request, periodic accountings of the foregoing insurance and tax obligations and payments, as well as postpetition proceeds, products, offspring, or profits from the collateral, including gross revenues and expenses and a calculation of net revenues, including any rents and any fees, charges, accounts, or other payments for the use or occupancy of rooms and other public facilities in lodging properties (as all of the foregoing terms are used in 11 U.S.C. 552). Debtor is directed to provide appropriate documentation of those accountings, and access for purposes of inspection or appraisal.

(3) Limitation on postpetition liens

In the event that the motion or related papers seek authority to grant postpetition liens to the creditor(s) with respect to prepetition debts any such liens shall be limited to the same validity, priority, and amount as prepetition liens. As used herein, the "validity, priority, and amount" or any similar phrase that may be used by the parties or this Court is deemed to include the following:

(a) Extent. Such liens shall be limited to the type of collateral in which the creditor held a security interest as of the petition date, unless this order expressly states that the liens granted by this order are intended to attach to different types of collateral from the prepetition collateral. example, if prepetition liens extended to inventory and accounts receivable but not equipment then postpetition liens are likewise limited (unless otherwise expressly provided by order of this Court). In addition, postpetition liens shall not extend to the proceeds of any avoidance actions, any recoveries under 11 U.S.C. 506(c), or any "carveout" under 11 U.S.C. 552.

(b) Priority. Such liens shall be limited to the same priority as the security interest held by the creditor as of the petition date.

(c) Dollar amount. Such liens shall be limited to the dollar amount needed to protect the creditor against diminution in the value of the secured claims as of the petition date.

(d) Enforceability. Such liens shall be limited to the extent that the creditor's security interests were duly perfected and valid as of the petition date, and to the extent that they are unavoidable.

(e) Automatic postpetition perfection. Any automatic perfection of such liens shall be subject to any applicable limitations regarding the Court's authority, jurisdiction, or due process.

(4) Automatic disapproval of insufficiently disclosed provisions

Any provision of the type listed in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or in local form F4001-2 (e.g., cross-collateralization) or any waiver of the "equities of the case" exception in 11 U.S.C. 552(b)(2) shall be deemed automatically disapproved and excepted from any order granting the motion, notwithstanding any other provision of such order, unless either: (a) such provision is specifically and prominently disclosed in the motion papers in a checklist (such as local form F4001-2), or alternatively (b) such provision is specifically identified in any proposed order granting the motion, using terminology of the type used in FRBP 4001(c)(1)(B) or local form F4001-2 (e.g., any "cross-collateralization" that is not specifically identified as such is deemed to be disapproved).

(5) Disputes

In the event of any disputes regarding the rulings in this order, the parties are directed to meet and confer and, if they cannot resolve their disputes consensually, contact Judge Bason's chambers to arrange a mutually convenient time for either a telephonic or in-person hearing to address such disputes.

(b) Budget Motion (dkt. 60) and cash collateral motion (dkt.61) and stipulation (dkt.61, Ex.A)

At the hearing on 10/29/19 this Court was persuaded to authorize the use of cash collateral on an interim basis - not because of the adequacy of Debtor's papers but because of the potentially adverse effects on multiple constituencies if this Court were to prohibit the use of cash collateral. This Court declined either to approve or disapprove Debtor's budget: again, Debtor's papers were inadequate, and if Debtor turns out to have been engaging in expenditures out of the ordinary course without authorization, or otherwise improperly managing the budget, that will have consequences. This Court also set a deadline of 11/1/19 at noon for Debtor to file declaration(s) addressing the concerns of this Court and the United States Trustee (as set forth on the record and in this Court's tentative ruling for the 10/29/19 hearing, reproduced below). This Court also directed Hanmi Bank to lodge a proposed order authorizing the use of cash collateral as set forth in that tentative ruling for 10/29/19.

Debtor timely filed the declaration (dkt.74) of its principal, Pastor Edgar E. Boyd, purportedly addressing the above-referenced concerns. The tentative ruling is that Reverend Boyd's declaration does not adequately address how the proposed budget is (or is not) "ordinary course." See generally In re Dant & Russell, Inc., 853 F.2d 700 (9th Cir. 1988). Nor does does Reverend Boyd's declaration adequately project how Debtor will maintain positive cash flow postpetition. The parties should be prepared to address possible remedies.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/31/19.

(a) Bar date: 10/25/19 (dkt. 24; timely served, dkt. 26). Exception: Per oral order at 9/24/19 hearing, the bar date for creditors Apex Realty, Inc. and BRG Adams, LLC will be set at the hearing on 11/5/19.

Debtor's MOR raises a number of concerns. First, the first page lists a very large monthly net loss and a large negative ending balance. Third, Debtor reports payments of insider compensation, allegedly pursuant to order(s) from 2017 (dkt.69, at PDF p.38) but this case was not filed until 2019. Later the MOR asserts, "Insider compensation forms previously served. No objections." (dkt.69, at PDF p.41) But this Court's review of the docket did not disclose any proof of service of any such notices. Fourth, the MOR reports (dkt.69, at PDF pp.34-35) that Debtor is delinquent in real property taxes and UST fees. In sum, the MOR paints a bleak and internally inconsistent picture.

At the 8/20/19 status conference this Court directed the Debtor to file a budget motion. As of the time this tentative ruling has been prepared, the docket does not reflect that the Debtor has complied. Why not?

(c) Cash collateral

At the 8/20/19 status conference, this Court expressed serious concerns about Debtor's possible use of cash collateral without the consent of its lender. What is the status of the Debtor's negotiations with its lender re cash collateral?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/31/19.

(a) Bar date: 10/25/19 (dkt. 24; timely served, dkt. 26).

(b) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(c) Continued status conference: 10/29/19 at 1:00 p.m., brief status report due 10/15/19.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 8/20/19:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

Debtor to serve this order on all parties in interest and file a proof of service at least 14 days before the principal status conference. As of the drafting of this tentative ruling, the docket does not reflect such service. Was the order served?

(b) Missing budget motion

Debtor's status report states that Debtor has not yet filed a budget motion but "will do so if necessary." Dkt. 11 at p.3. Per the posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at cacb.uscourts.gov), budget motions are required in all Chapter 11 cases.

(c) Cash collateral

Debtor indicates that it will meet and confer with its lender re cash collateral. Dkt. 11 at p.3. What is the status of those negotiations?

Pending lender approval, how has Debtor continued to operate its business since filing? Has Debtor been using cash collateral without authorization? Has Debtor been holding the rent money it has received in a separate account?

(d) Interim arbitration award

Debtor should be prepared to apprise the court of the details surrounding the interim arbitration award, including the nature of the dispute, how Debtor intends to contest the award, and what approach to the award is in the best interests of creditors.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/31/19.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/17/19:

Appearances required but telephonic appearances are encouraged if advance arrangements are made (see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.", "Instructions/Procedures").

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's chapter 11 plan of reorganization (dkt. 208) & disclosure statement (dkt. 209), Marron Lawyers, APC's ("Marron") reservation of rights (dkt. 225), Seflin declaration & ballot summary (dkt. 228)

Approve the disclosure statement under 11 U.S.C. 1125, approve Debtor's settlement with Strategic Partners, Inc., and confirm the plan under 11 U.S.C. 1129(a) because all impaired classes have voted to accept the plan (see ballot summary, dkt. 228), subject to modification of the proposed order's language regarding alleged consent to releases and injunctions (see dkt.231, pp.3-4 and p.20:2-4). The tentative ruling is that accepting distributions under the plan is not the same as consent to these proposed provisions of the plan and the confirmation order; but that each party in interest who has not objected to the language of the plan regarding releases and injunctions (i.e., all parties) have waived and/or forfeited such objections, in addition to the protections that the Bankruptcy Code provides anyway, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 1125(e) and 1141(a).

In addition, this Court will review with the parties whether there should be separate orders (i) approving the Disclosure Statement on a final basis and (ii) confirming the Plan.

To the extent Marron's reservation of rights is a request for inclusion of any specific language in the confirmation order, that request is overruled for the reasons stated in the Seflin declaration (dkt. 228, p.3:26-P.4:3).

Substantive Consolidation Motions.

(A) Background

On October 30, 2019, Wyndham filed its Substantive Consolidation Motion in the David MacMillan ("MacMillan") bankruptcy case. MacMillan, dkt. 422. On November 26, 2019, the Chapter 7 Trustee filed his Substantive Consolidation Motion in the Attitude bankruptcy case. Attitude, dkt. 66 & 67. On December 4, 2019, ABS filed its opposition in response to the Substantive Consolidation Motions. Attitude, dkt. 86. On December 10, 2019, Wyndham filed its reply (MacMillan, dkt. 442), as did the Chapter 7 Trustee (Attitude, dkt. 92).

(B) Legal Standards

In broad terms, when ordering substantive consolidation, courts must "(1) consider whether there is a disregard of corporate formalities and commingling of assets by various entities; and (2) balance the benefits that substantive consolidation would bring against the harms that it would cause." In re Bonham, 229 F.3d 750, 765 (9th Cir. 2000) (internal quotation and citation omitted).

The Ninth Circuit has adopted the Second Circuit's test for substantive consolidation, which requires the consideration of two factors:

- (1) whether creditors dealt with the entities as a single economic unit and did not rely on their separate identity in extending credit; or
- (2) whether the affairs of the debtor are so entangled that consolidation will benefit all creditors. [Id. at 766 (internal quotation and citation omitted)]

The presence of either factor is sufficient to order substantive consolidation. Id. Consolidation under the second factor is justified only where "the time and expense necessary to even attempt to unscramble them [debtor's affairs] is so substantial as to threaten the realization of any net assets for all the creditors or where no accurate identification and allocation of assets is possible." Id. (internal quotation omitted). Substantive consolidation should be used "sparingly." Id. at 767.

(C) Analysis

(I) Wyndham has standing to proceed with its Substantive Consolidation Motion

Lahijani, 2005 WL 4658490, *3 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2005).

In its opposition, ABS argues that because Wyndham is neither a creditor of Attitude, David MacMillan, nor ABS, Wyndham does not have standing to proceed with its motion. Attitude, dkt. 86, p.6, para. 32. In its reply, Wyndham argues that it is a creditor of Attitude and has standing. Id. at dkt. 442, p.3:8-p.4:22.

The bankruptcy code defines "creditor" as, among other things, an "entity that has a claim against the debtor that arose at the time of or before the order for relief concerning the debtor." 11 U.S.C. § 101(10)(A). The bankruptcy code defines "claim" as:

(A) right to payment, whether or not such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, secured, or unsecured; or

(B) right to an equitable remedy for breach of performance if such breach gives rise to a right to payment, whether or not such right to an equitable remedy is reduced to judgment, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, secured, or unsecured. [11 U.S.C. § 101(5)]

Wyndham has filed a proof of claim in both the David MacMillan and Attitude bankruptcy cases related to alleged pre-petition violations of a settlement agreement. MacMillan, Claim No. 3; Attitude, Claim No. 1. Neither proof of claim has been disallowed. ABS cited no authority for its proposition that Wyndham is not a creditor.

Therefore, Wyndham is a creditor and has standing to proceed with its Substantive Consolidation Motion.

(II) Trustee's Substantive Consolidation Motion was not properly served, and it is unclear whether Wyndham's Substantive Consolidation Motion was properly served

The party moving for substantive consolidation must provide notice of the motion to the creditors of a putative consolidated non-debtor. In re Mihranian, 937 F.3d, 1214, 1218 (9th Cir. 2019).

In its opposition, ABS states that because its creditors were not served, the Substantive Consolidation Motions cannot be considered.

Chapter 7

Attitude, dkt. 86, p.6, para. 32. ABS goes on to state that the creditors of Attitude and ABS are unknown. Id. at para. 36. In its motion, Wyndham states that that it served all known creditors of ABS with the Substantive Consolidation Motion, and if an existing creditor of ABS was not served, Wyndham will serve the Substantive Consolidation Motion on any such creditor identified by ABS. MacMillan, dkt. 422, p.49:18-26. The Trustee does not address service of ABS creditors. In its reply, Wyndham explains that it has been made aware of one additional creditor by ABS's counsel, but that ABS's counsel has not provided the creditor's address. Id. at dkt. 442, p.9-21.

Should this Court be persuaded to continue the hearing on the Substantive Consolidation Motions rather than deny them, the parties should be prepared to address (1) what investigation needs to be made into who the creditors of ABS are, and (2) what happens if there is a lack of certainty as to whether all creditors of ABS were served.

(III) Neither Wyndham nor the Trustee have met their burden of establishing that creditors dealt with Attitude and ABS as a single economic unit and did not rely on their separate identity in extending credit

Wyndham's Substantive Consolidation Motion states that "creditors state that they dealt with Attitude Marketing and Aston Business Solutions as if they were the same." MacMillan, dkt. 422, p.4:21-22. Wyndham explains that Glenn Chaffin used an Aston Marketing Group email address in connection with ABS (id. at p.18:3-4), that David MacMillan did work on behalf of Attitude using an ABS signature block (id. at p.38:14-19), and that employees of different MacMillan companies and ABS used various e-mail addresses for the various entities interchangeably, while representing that they worked for different entities at different times (id. at p.27:8-10). Further, Wyndham has presented evidence that Attitude employees performed work on behalf of ABS (id. at p.25:15-19), and that the same individual did all the accounting and tax returns for the MacMillan companies and ABS (id. at p.27:14-24; p.37:14-20). contract with ABS, filed a lawsuit in which they state that they believe ABS and Aston Marketing Group are alter egos of David MacMillan and/or Cynthia Martin and/or Glenn Chaffin. Id. at p.40:4-10. Lastly, Wyndham has presented evidence that individuals from Castle Law Group, P.C. ("Castle Law") and its affiliate Castle Marketing Group, LLC ("Castle Marketing"), companies that contracted with ABS, met with David MacMillan and Cynthia Martin ("MacMillans") who represented that they were acting on behalf of ABS (id. at p.21:7-8; p.22:13-15) and entered into agreements with those companies through ABS and Attitude (id. at p.21:9-11). The President and CEO of Castle Marketing believed that the MacMillans owned, operated, controlled, and/or were authorized representatives and agents of ABS. Id. at p.25:25-p.26:5. When Castle Law decided to end the business relationship with ABS, they informed David MacMillan. Id. at p.38:21-25.

The Trustee also notes the use of an Aston Marketing Group email address by the MacMillans and the individuals working with them. Attitude, dkt. 67, p.5:18-24. Various senior employees would be referred to as the CEO or CFO as if there was one consolidated company. Id. The Trustee also explains that although there was a large enterprise with different managers for different departments in the various companies, it was understood that the ultimate bosses were the MacMillans. Id. at p.6:24-26. The clients knew little, if anything, about the broader MacMillan operation. Id. at p.11:5-7. Lastly, ABS was listed on an addendum to a retainer fee as being one of the Timeshare Relief Parties. Id. at p.20:27-p.21:1.

Neither Wyndham nor the Trustee provided evidence of how the above facts impacted how creditors dealt with Attitude and ABS in extending credit. For example, while the individuals contracting on behalf of Castle Marketing and Castle Law may have understood the MacMillans to be operating or owning ABS, that is not evidence that they relied on ABS being a part of Attitude in entering into contracts with ABS. The same can be said for the use of email addresses for work not necessarily related to the entity whose email address was being used – that is not evidence that creditors who may have received the emails, for example, extended credit based on their understanding that ABS and Attitude were a single economic unit. Lastly, while the views of Attitude and ABS employees about the structure of the MacMillan enterprise might show that the MacMillans and Glenn Chaffin were not as careful as they could have been in distinguishing between multiple entities, that is separate matter from how creditors viewed the relationship between the two companies.

The tentative ruling is that neither Wyndham nor the Trustee have met their burden of proof as to this factor.

(IV) Neither Wyndham nor the Trustee have met their burden of establishing that the affairs of the debtor are so entangled that consolidation will benefit all creditors

Wyndham has provided evidence of the entangled affairs of ABS and Attitude and other MacMillan entities, particularly the finances of the companies. For example, Attitude has paid bills attributable to ABS (MacMillan, dkt. 422, p.17:6-8; p.28:7-12), David MacMillan has made payments on behalf of ABS to Castle Law (id. at p.24:21-p.25:11), operating expenses of ABS and Attitude were paid from an Attitude bank account (id. at p.33:15-22), and Attitude incurred debt for ABS (id. at p.34:9-25). In addition, Wyndham has provided evidence of a lack of documentation of the relationship between Attitude and ABS, and other MacMillan entities. For example, there is no lease or proof of rent being paid by ABS (id. at p.17:14-16; p.32:9-12) or Attitude (id. at p.13:4-5; p.32:9-12), no agreement establishing that ABS was a client of Attitude (id. at p.26:13-21; p.28:23-p.29:6), and no documentation surrounding a loan between Attitude and ABS (id. at p.35:5-14). Lastly, prior to 2017 an ABS mass mailer had an 800 number that was forwarded to the Attitude call center (id. at p.30:10-12), and Mr. Karen, the long-time attorney of various MacMillan entities, did not distinguish between ABS and other MacMillan entities in an invoice (id. at p.36:19-24).

The Trustee provides some additional facts that show the affairs of ABS and Attitude were entangled. Attitude provided payroll services, IT support, and other services to ABS, but the financial records that are available do not make it clear who wrote the check to particular employees or contractors. Attitude, dkt. 67, p.14:12-24. ABS operated in the same office as Attitude, used Attitude's employees, call center, the same independent contractors, and the same business assets. Id. at p.15:8-12. Attitude sold the customer data base to ABS (id. at p.15:24-p.16:2), allegedly formed so that Erica Martin could pursue an event planning business, but Glenn Chaffin would use the data base for internet marketing (id. at p.17:12-20). Glenn Chaffin purchased the ABS shares from Erica Martin for no consideration (id. at p.17:24-p.18:1), but at the same time was running Attitude and receiving a salary from ABS (id. at p.18:9-17). MacMillan was understood to be the "mastermind," who was teaching and supervising the ABS operation and setting strategy. Id. at p.19:16-22. As explained by Wyndham, the lease between ABS and Marmac for the office space is missing (id. at p.26:13-16), and there is confusion over which employees worked for which entity (id. at p.27:6-18). Lastly, the Trustee explains how rent payments were spread across various companies, including Attitude and ABS, rather than reflecting a typical landlord/tenant relationship. Id. at p.22:3-17.

While there is clear evidence of commingling of assets and business functions in the instant case, neither Wyndham nor the Trustee have established that the affairs of Attitude are so entangled that the time and expense necessary to even attempt to unscramble them is so substantial as to threaten the realization of any net assets for all the creditors or where no accurate identification and allocation of assets is possible, or that consolidation with ABS will benefit all creditors. Both Wyndham and the Trustee point to a lack of financial records that would provide clarity about the financial affairs of the two companies. A lack of records does not mean that the affairs of the two companies cannot be untangled; it is possible that if the records were produced, and a forensic accountant were given access to the records, for example, that the affairs could be sorted out. The Trustee's explanation of how the obligation to pay rent was shifted from one company to the next is an example of how the affairs of Attitude and ABS are tangled but, perhaps, can be untangled. Lastly, neither of the Substantive Consolidation Motions address why substantive consolidation of Attitude with ABS would benefit all creditors, which is particularly important because the main asset of ABS appears to be the customer list, which is of unknown value.

The tentative ruling is that neither Wyndham nor the Trustee have met their burden of proof as to this factor.

(D) Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the tentative ruling is to deny the Substantive Consolidation Motions.

Wyndham timely filed its supplemental declaration (adv. dkt. 164). ABS did not file a response to Wyndham's declaration by the November 26, 2019 deadline.

Wyndham requests an additional $6,859.00 in fees. Adv. dkt. 164, Ex. A at PDF p.5. Appearances required. The court has reviewed the parties' filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding. The parties must address (a) why they failed to file the required status report, (b) why the motions for joint administration/consolidation of the two closely related adversary proceedings have not been prosecuted, and (c) the following issues. The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences.

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See *generally Stern v. See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation. Is there is any reason why this court should not formalize the fact that the pending mediation includes this adversary proceeding by issuing an order to mediate this matter together with related adversary proceeding (2:17-ap-01229-NB)? The tentative ruling is to direct counsel for the defendants to lodge a proposed order to that effect.

(1) Current issues

The tentative ruling on the Motion to Compel (dkt. 104) and the Order to Show Cause ("OSC," dkt. 107) is to continue these matters as requested in the response of Aston Business Solutions, Inc. (dkt. 110, 111). This Court contemplates that the deadlines for completion of discovery and other matters will need to be extended, and the parties are directed to meet and confer and, if they can agree to new deadlines, lodge a proposed order. Supplemental Tentative Ruling for 4/9/19:

The original tentative ruling (below) provides two inconsistent dates for a continued status conference: 4/30/19 at 11:00 a.m., 4/7/19 at 11:00 a.m. The latter [should be "former"] is correct. No status report required.

Tentative Ruling for 4/9/19:

Deny the motion to quash (with the possible exception of one aspect), address procedural issues, and then continue this Status Conference, all as set forth below. Appearances required.

Current issues:

(a) Procedures

Please see the tentative ruling for the main case status conference (calendar no. 10, 4/9/19 at 11:00 a.m.)

(b) Motion to Quash (adv. dkt. 84)

The tentative ruling is that the motion to quash (adv. dkt. 84) by Aston Business Solutions, Inc. ("ABS") is unpersuasive, except perhaps for limitations as to time, which the parties are directed to address at the hearing.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

ABS asserts only vague objections:

(1) Competitors?

ABS asserts that it and Plaintiff are competitors. How so?

The motion does not even disclose ABS' business. Is it a timeshare owner? Is it a timeshare operator? Is it something else? (As noted below, this Court expects that it has gleaned the answer from other documents, but the tentative ruling is that this lack of even such basic information in the motion is fatal to this argument.)

(2) Protected information?

ABS alleges that some sort of trade secrets or other confidential, privileged, or other type of protected information is involved. What sort of information? Why would a traditional privilege log and other tools be inadequate?

ABS complains that parties in interest in this bankruptcy case have shared information. But ABS fails to point to any prohibition on sharing information.

(3) Burden?

ABS alleges that the requested discovery is unduly burdensome. How so? Is it stored in thousands of boxes of paper files that are difficult to reach and review for some reason?

(4) Vagueness and overbreadth?

ABS alleges that the discovery requests are vague and overbroad. How so? ABS fails to provide any explanation or evidence to support this allegations.

(5) Discussion

Based on a question (not an answer) in excerpts from the deposition of ABS' President and shareholder, Glenn Chaffin, ABS may be a marketing company for "timeshare exit companies." Adv. dkt. 84, Ex.1 (Depo. Tr. 1/24/19), p.95:22-23. But how does that make ABS a "competitor" of Plaintiff, with information that would constitute trade secrets, as opposed to a facilitator of (possibly) legitimate ways to exit timeshares, who sends out non-secret flyers and other publicly known marketing materials, and assists timeshare members in navigating contracts that are known to all the parties?

Such a facilitator theoretically could benefit Plaintiff, by replacing non-paying or troubled members with paying ones - unless, of course, ABS engages in acts that improperly interfere with contractual relations or otherwise assists in the wrongdoing of which Plaintiff accuses Defendants.

Plaintiff's discovery appears to be targeted at discovering information that could lead to admissible evidence on this and other relevant issues. #11.00 Hrg re: Objection to Claim #2 by Claimant Quantum3 Group, LLC.

Docket 41

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Proof of Claim 2-1, Proof of Claim 2-2.

Reasons: As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, Quantum3 Group LLC acting as agent for Credit Corp Solutions, Inc. ("Claimant") has not filed an opposition to Debtor's claim objection (dkt. 43), but it did file amended Proof of Claim 2-2 (the "Amended Claim") on 11/26/2019, presumably in response to the objection. This Court deems the Amended Claim a response to the claim objection and finds that the documentation supporting the Amended Claim still fails to establish Claimant's standing to file a claim in this case because there is no evidence establishing that First Electronic Bank assigned its claim to Credit Corp. Solutions Inc. ("CCS") or that Quantum is authorized to act as CCS's agent. Therefore, the tentative ruling is to disallow the Amended Claim in full.

fr. 11/21/19

Docket 43

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/19/19:

Grant. Appearances are not required on 12/19/19.

This Court expressly finds that Counsel has provided a cost/benefit analysis (dkt. 47) that is sufficient for purposes of Judge Bason's posted Procedures regarding claim objections, so any limitation on fees in the prior tentative ruling on this matter is hereby vacated.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 11/21/19:

Continue to 12/19/19 at 8:30 a.m. to address the following issues.

Appearances are not required on 11/21/19.

Current issues

(1) Missing mandatory form

Debtor has not complied with Local Bankruptcy Rule 3007-1(b)(3) which requires the use of the court-mandated form F 3007-1.1.NOTICE.OBJ.CLAIM. No later than 7 days after the date of this hearing, debtor is directed to file and serve notice on the required form.

(2) Lack of cost/benefit analysis. The posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) provide:

Chapter 13

§ 502: claim objections & cost/benefit analysis. When objecting to claims, be sure to include an analysis of whether the costs of preparing and litigating the claim objection (administrative expenses) do not exceed the anticipated benefits (reductions in claims). For example, if the anticipated dividend is small or 0% then the attorney fees incurred in prosecuting your claim objection to any general unsecured claim probably will exceed the benefit to the bankruptcy estate/debtor, so filing that objection would be a waste of the bankruptcy estate's (and everyone else's) resources (unless, for example, the claim is nondischargeable, in which event the attorney fees might well be justified).

No later than 7 days after the date of this hearing the movant must file either:

(1) a supplemental declaration explaining why the attorney fees for this objection are justified (including supporting evidence, such as a copy of the plan showing the projected dividend to the claimant, and a calculation comparing that projected dividend against the attorney fees related to this claim objection), or

(2) a withdrawal of the claim objection.

No fees related to the continuance of this matter, absent specific authorization. Counsel is directed not to charge any fees on the continuance of this matter (e.g., serving notice of the continued hearing, appearing at the continued hearing), because such fees would not have been necessary if counsel had complied with the applicable rules and procedures to begin with.

In addition, because of the lack of cost/benefit analysis, this Court presumes for present purposes that there is no net benefit to the bankruptcy estate. Accordingly, counsel is prohibited from charging any fees on this matter (including all past, present and future work related to this claim objection), and to return any fees received on this matter, unless and until this Court expressly finds: "Counsel has provided a cost/benefit analysis that is sufficient for purposes of Judge Bason's posted Procedures regarding claim objections." It is counsel's responsibility to include the quoted phrase, if warranted, in the proposed order on this claim objection.

This Court does not have the capacity to monitor all fee applications to assure compliance with the foregoing limitation on fees. But if counsel is found to have disregarded this limitation then this Court may impose

Chapter 13

#16.00 Hrg re: Objection to Claim Number 5 by Claimant Deutsche Bank National

Docket 29

Tentative Ruling:

Deny, without prejudice. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Claimant is directed to lodge a separate proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Proof of Claim 5-1, Claimant's response & Solivan declaration (dkt. 39, 40), no reply is on file

Reasons:

(a) Burdens of proof

The Proof of Claim contains the documentation required by Rule 3001(c) (Fed. R Bankr. P.) and therefore it is prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3001(f). Alternatively, even if the claim were not entitled to prima facie validity (which it is), the burden is on Debtor to come forward with evidence and legal arguments sufficient to disallow the claim. 11 U.S.C. 502(a). See In re Campbell, 336 B.R. 430 (9th Cir. BAP 2005); In re Heath, 331 B.R. 424 (9th Cir. BAP 2005). (This Court recognizes that Rule 3001(c) has been amended, after Campbell and Heath, principally to specify what writings must be attached when a revolving credit agreement is involved, but for other types of claims the language of the rule remains essentially the same.)

(b) Debtor's objection is not persuasive

Debtor's objection does not identify any specific basis to dispute this debt. Debtor has not provided any evidence that he does not owe this debt or, for example, that he disputes any specific charge. For these reasons, Debtor has not met his burden to establish a basis to disallow the claim.

Chapter 13

(c) Debtor's objection appears to ask for more information from Claimant, but the proof of claim already provides sufficient information

Rule 3001 permits creditors to file a brief summary of voluminous information, but in exchange for being permitted to provide this summary such creditors have an obligation to provide more detailed information upon a sufficiently specific request. As stated in Heath:

[C]reditors have an obligation to respond to formal or informal requests for information. That request could even come in the form of a claims objection, if it is sufficiently specific about the information required. This obligation to respond applies regardless whether Creditors have met their obligation to provide a summary under Rule 3001(c). [Heath, 331 B.R. 424, 436-37 (footnote and citations omitted, emphasis added).]

As also stated in Heath:

If the creditor does not provide information or is unable to support its claim, then that in itself may raise an evidentiary basis to object to the unsupported aspects of the claim ... thereby coming within Section 502(b)'s grounds to disallow the claim. We would be faced with a very different case if, for example, Debtors' objections stated that they had written to a Creditor explaining that they questioned specific charges, or that during the slide into bankruptcy they had not reviewed or retained their monthly statements, and therefore they wanted the past twelve months' credit card statements to verify the Creditor's calculation of principal, interest, and other charges. [Heath, 331 B.R. 424, 437 (citations omitted, emphasis added).]

In this instance, Debtor's objection does appear to question some charges, although he is somewhat vague about when he is reciting background information and when he is actually objecting to specific charges of principal and interest, escrow charges, other charges such as attorney fees. In any event, Debtor does request additional information. Debtor's objection states:

My records show that I owe less than what in [Proof of Claim No.5] Part #3. The total in the box is incorrect based on my telephone call with Ocwen loan service and Ocwen documentation of reinstatements in 2018 and 2019. My payments consist of principal, interest, and escrow fees. There is no escrow shortage or deficiency. My payments are impounded, so you cannot charge me twice. 14 months only amount to $14,650.30 includ[ing] interest and escrow fees. You also charge[d] me with a June 1, 2019 payment [debit?] of $1300.10 and BK filing fee $388.83. I filed BK on 05/10/2019 [Case No. 2:19-bk-15489-WB, which was dismissed 5/28/19 for failure to file required documents, after which this case was filed on 6/18/19] and you added more money [charges?] [on] 06/01/19. An additional $10,000 was added from 06/01/19 to 8/23/19. Show proof/originals.

On 03/23/18 my payment was $1314.33[.] That's principal, interest, and escrow fees. This [loan] is a fixed [interest] rate at 3.125% ... Then on 08/01/18 the payments went up $1334.31 each month ... Can [Claimant's servicer] produce original loan documents signed by me (Debtor)[?] [Claimant's servicer] is double charging (Debtor) in fees. [Debtor's Objection (dkt.29, at PDF pp.3-4) (emphasis added).

Notwithstanding Debtor's objection, all of the prepetition charges appear to be explained in detail in Claimant's proof of claim, a copy of which is attached to the objection. See dkt.29 at PDF pp.9-10 (spreadsheet showing every credit and debit from 4/1/18 through 6/17/19) and following pages.

For example, Debtor's objection includes a copy of a loan modification offer dated 03/23/18 that includes principal and interest of $976.72 (dkt.29 at PDF p.6). That appears to be consistent with the monthly mortgage statements that are also attached to Debtor's objection. Before the modification, those monthly statements list principal and interest amounts that add up to a slightly lower total (see, e.g., dkt.29 at PDF p.21, dated 02/18/18, listing $289.77 principal and $677.62 for a total of $967.39, and id. at PDF p.22, dated 03/19/18, listing $290.52 principal and $676.87 interest for a total of $967.39). Then, after March of 2018, the monthly statements list principal and interest amounts that add up to the amount stated in the loan modification (see, e.g., dkt.29 at PDF p.28, dated 04/13/18, listing $281.75 principal and $694.97 interest for a total of $976.72). In other words, Debtor has not established anything wrong about the principal and interest charges.

As for escrow charges, the loan modification proposal plainly states that the monthly amount is only "Estimated" and adds "(adjusts periodically)." Dkt.29, p.6. The detailed spreadsheet attached to the proof of claim includes a running total of the dollar amounts in the escrow account, charges to it, etc. The proof of claim also includes a copy of a real estate tax sheet, which is further evidence that the escrow charges are proper. Dkt.28 at PDF pp.16-17.

A recent prepetition monthly statement dated 05/17/19 shows a total for principal, interest, and escrow charges for $1,321.81 (dkt.28 at PDF p.25). That rebuts Debtor's apparent assertion that there is anything wrong about monthly charges of approximately that dollar amount (which can go up or down, because of fluctuations in the estimated monthly escrow amount, or other proper charges).

Nor does Debtor provide any reason why he needs copies of the original loan documents signed by him. He does not dispute that he borrowed hundreds of thousands of dollars, or that he owes monthly principal, interest, escrow, attorney fee, and other charges. In addition, he does not address why he is unable to obtain copies of the original documents in the usual ways under nonbankruptcy law (e.g., copies from the recorder's office). In addition, Debtor has not established why he needs the original loan documents when he admits that their terms have been superseded as to the key terms by a loan modification. In other words, Debtor's request for additional documentation appears to be solely for purposes of delay, not for any legitimate purpose.

In sum, Debtor's objection could object to specific dollar amounts and show why they were (allegedly) improper, but the objection is insufficient to do that; and alternatively the objection could request more information about how the claim was calculated, if Debtor could establish some reason why more information was needed. But all the information is already included in the proof of claim.

(d) Debtor's objection to postpetition charges is not properly at issue in an objection to a prepetition claim

As the above quote from Debtor's objection shows, he objects to some charges apparently applied after he filed his current bankruptcy petition on 6/18/19. To quote the objection again:

An additional $10,000 was added from 06/01/19 to 8/23/19. Show proof/originals. [Dkt.29, at PDF p.3]

But proofs of claim are required to show the dollar amount of the claim "as of the date of the filing of the petition" (11 U.S.C. 502(b)), so only prepetition charges are included. If Debtor disputes any postpetition charges he will have to challenge these the same as he would outside of bankruptcy (or use some appropriate bankruptcy procedure, not a claim objection).

(e) Conclusion

For all of the foregoing reasons, the tentative ruling is that Debtor's claim objection is denied. Debtor may wish to consider retaining a capable bankruptcy attorney.

Note: This Court also notes that Debtor's proof of service of his motion papers is deficient. Claimant responded anyway, so that deficient service is not dispositive.

Chapter 13

#17.00 Hrg re: Objection to Claim Number 4 by Claimant LVNV Funding LLC

Docket 31

Tentative Ruling:

Deny without prejudice. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: This Court will prepare the order.

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Proof of Claim 4

Reasons for denial:

(a) Burdens of proof

The Proof of Claim contains the documentation required by Rule 3001(c) (Fed. R Bankr. P.) and therefore it is prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3001(f). Alternatively, even if the claim were not entitled to prima facie validity (which it is), the burden is on Debtor to come forward with evidence and legal arguments sufficient to disallow the claim. 11 U.S.C. 502(a). See In re Campbell, 336 B.R. 430 (9th Cir. BAP 2005); In re Heath, 331 B.R. 424 (9th Cir. BAP 2005). (This Court recognizes that Rule 3001(c) has been amended, after Campbell and Heath, principally to specify what writings must be attached when a revolving credit agreement is involved, but for other types of claims the language of the rule remains essentially the same.)

(b) Claim objections without merit can be overruled, and should be, even absent a response by the claimant

It is often more costly in money and time for a creditor to respond than a claim is expected to be worth, because even if the claim is allowed it will only be paid in what are sometimes called "tiny bankruptcy dollars" (i.e., pennies on the dollar). In addition, any litigation will increase the administrative expense of the debtor's counsel, thereby further reducing recoveries even if the claimant prevails. Recognizing these disincentives to fight claim objections, and also recognizing that claim objections that are not well taken should not be sustained, bankruptcy courts often overrule claim objections even without any opposition by the claimant. B.R. 424, 427 (affirming bankruptcy court's allowance of claims, despite most creditors' lack of participation before that court or on appeal, and noting bankruptcy court's statement that "[i]t's more trouble [for most Creditors] to respond than the claim is worth"). That approach is consistent with Rule 55(b)(2)(C) and (D) (Fed. R. Civ. P., incorporated by Rules 7055, 9001(7) and 9014(c), Fed. R. Bankr. P.), which give the trial court discretion to conduct a "prove up" hearing any deny recoveries even when the defendant/respondent defaults.

(c) The claim objection was not properly served

The motion papers were not served on Resurgent Capital Services, the entity listed in the creditor's proof of claim (claim no. 4) or to the attention of an officer, a managing or general agent, or to any other agent authorized by appointment of law (Rule 7004(b)(3), Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

(d) Debtor's objection is not persuasive

Debtor's objection does not identify any specific basis to dispute this debt. Debtor has not provided any evidence that he does not owe this debt or, for example, asserted that he timely appealed the state court judgment and that appeal was still pending as of the petition date.

For the foregoing reasons, Debtor has failed to meet his burden to establish a basis to disallow the claim.

Debtor may wish to consider retaining a capable bankruptcy attorney.

Note: This Court also notes that Debtor failed to include a copy of the proof of claim as an exhibit to his objection, or use the mandatory local form of claim objection. In any future objections, Debtor must comply with all applicable rules and procedures regarding claim objections.

Reasons for denial:

(a) Burdens of proof

The Proof of Claim contains the documentation required by Rule 3001(c) (Fed. R Bankr. P.) and therefore it is prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3001(f). Alternatively, even if the claim were not entitled to prima facie validity (which it is), the burden is on Debtor to come forward with evidence and legal arguments sufficient to disallow the claim. 11 U.S.C. 502(a). See In re Campbell, 336 B.R. 430 (9th Cir. BAP 2005); In re Heath, 331 B.R. 424 (9th Cir. BAP 2005). (This Court recognizes that Rule 3001(c) has been amended, after Campbell and Heath, principally to specify what writings must be attached when a revolving credit agreement is involved, but for other types of claims the language of the rule remains essentially the same.)

(b) Claim objections without merit can be overruled, and should be, even absent a response by the claimant

It is often more costly in money and time for a creditor to respond than a claim is expected to be worth, because even if the claim is allowed it will only be paid in what are sometimes called "tiny bankruptcy dollars" (i.e., pennies on the dollar). In addition, any litigation will increase the administrative expense of the debtor's counsel, thereby further reducing recoveries even if the claimant prevails. Recognizing these disincentives to fight claim objections, and also recognizing that claim objections that are not well taken should not be sustained, bankruptcy courts often overrule claim objections even without any opposition by the claimant. See, e.g., Heath, 331

B.R. 424, 427 (affirming bankruptcy court's allowance of claims, despite most creditors' lack of participation before that court or on appeal, and noting bankruptcy court's statement that "[i]t's more trouble [for most Creditors] to respond than the claim is worth"). That approach is consistent with Rule 55(b)(2)(C) and (D) (Fed. R. Civ. P., incorporated by Rules 7055, 9001(7) and 9014(c), Fed. R. Bankr. P.), which give the trial court discretion to conduct a "prove up" hearing any deny recoveries even when the defendant/respondent defaults.

(c) The claim objection was not properly served

The motion papers were not served to the attention of an officer, a managing or general agent, or to any other agent authorized by appointment of law (Rule 7004(b)(3), Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

(d) Debtor's objection is not persuasive

Debtor's objection does not identify any specific basis to dispute this debt. Debtor has not provided any evidence that he does not owe this debt or, for example, asserted that this is a case of identity theft, or that he timely disputed a charge after receiving a monthly statement and that dispute was still pending as of the petition date.

For the foregoing reasons, Debtor has failed to meet his burden to establish a basis to disallow the claim.

Debtor may wish to consider retaining a capable bankruptcy attorney.

Note: This Court also notes that Debtor failed to include a copy of the proof of claim as an exhibit to his objection, or use the mandatory local form of claim objection. In any future objections, Debtor must comply with all applicable rules and procedures regarding claim objections.

#22.00 Hrg re: Motion for order determining value of collateral
[11 U.S.C. section 506(a), FRBP 3012]

Docket 28

Tentative Ruling:

Deny, without prejudice. Appearances are not required.

Reasons:

(1) Service

(a) The motion papers were not served:

(i) to the address for notices in the creditor's proof of claim (claim no. 8) which was filed prior to the time that the motion papers were served (and which appears to be the most recent designated address) (see Rule 2002(g), Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

(ii) to the credit union via certified mail, to the attention of a credit union officer, at an address that appears to be reasonably calculated to reach the officer -- e.g., the address listed for banks on the FDIC website is sufficient (<http://www2.fdic.gov/IDASP/main.asp>), whereas a P.O. Box used for payments is insufficient. Note: Judge Bason does not require that a specific individual be named -- "Attn: Officer" is sufficient. See Rule 7004(h), Fed. R. Bankr. P.

(b) In addition, the proof of service must be signed by someone who is not a party to the proceeding. See Local Bankruptcy Rule Form F9013-3.1.

(2) Appraisal value of the vehicle

Debtor's evidence establishing the value of the vehicle is an appraisal voucher. Dkt. 28 at PDF p.5.

For purposes of determining the dollar amount of a secured claim in a chapter 7 or 13 case, the value to be used is the "replacement value of such property as of the date of the filing of the petition without deduction for costs of sale or marketing." 11 U.S.C. 506(a)(2) (emphasis added). In addition, with respect to property acquired for personal, family, or household purposes, replacement value "shall mean the price a retail merchant would charge for property of that kind considering the age and condition of the property at the time value is determined." Id. (emphasis added).

The un-authenticated "appraisal" attached to the objection is not admissible evidence, and it does not specify what sort of valuation it is, or whether it meets these statutory standards.

(3) Request for inspection

In its opposition, Randolph Brooks Federal Credit Union ("RBFCU") represents that has attempted without success to contact Debtor to arrange for an inspection of the vehicle. Dkt. 32, p.2. Any lack of response by Debtor to such a request is an alternative reason to overrule the claim objection.
