www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that Debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that Debtor was involved and Debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that Debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is sufficient evidence and notice.

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing. Tentative Ruling for 10/6/20:

Grant the claim objections in substantial part as set forth below. At the hearing, this Court will review key aspects of Debtor's proposed Disclosure Statement and proposed Plan. Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Disclosure Statement (dkt. 379) and Plan (dkt. 378)

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/13/20 for Debtor to file redlined versions of these documents, incorporating any changes discussed at the hearing, and lodge a proposed order, substantially in the form of the order posted on Judge Bason's portion of the Court's website (www.cacb.uscourts.gov), authorizing the service of a voting package and setting a combined hearing on final approval of the Disclosure Statement and confirmation of the Plan for 12/8/20 at 1:00 p.m.

(b) First omnibus claim objection (dkt. 321) & notice (dkt. 322, 323), no opposition is on file

Grant the first omnibus claim objection and disallow Claims 22 & 23 on the ground that they appear to be claims against unrelated debtors, but allow the claims in the amended amounts of $347.44 and $457.08 as general unsecured claims, consistent with Debtor's books and records.

(c) Second omnibus claim objection (dkt. 329, 330) & notice (dkt. 330-339), no opposition is on file

Grant the second omnibus claim objection and disallow the claims in their entirety.

Grant the third omnibus claim objection as to Bizlink Technology, Inc. (Claim 4) and IBM Credit, LLC (Scheduled claim) and disallow those claims in their entirety. Deny the second omnibus claim objection as to LA Tax as moot in view of the withdrawal of Claim 2.

(e) Fourth omnibus claim objection (dkt. 347) & notice (dkt. 348-356), no opposition is on file

9/1/20, 9/29/20

Docket 6

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/6/20:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 10/6/20.

(1) Current issues

(a) Continuance for amended Disclosure Statement and Plan

On 9/16/20, this Court approved a stipulation (dkt. 69) that continued the deadline for Debtor to file and serve his amended Disclosure Statement and Plan to 10/15/20. Accordingly, this status conference is continued to the date set forth below (section 2(d)) to allow this Court an opportunity to review those papers.

(b) Amended Bankruptcy Schedules I & J

Debtor has now complied with the instructions in Bankruptcy Schedule I, line 8a, by attaching a statement of gross receipts, expenses, and net income regarding the Wonderland rental property, showing a monthly loss of $507.55, after deducting principal and interest, real estate taxes, insurance, and only $50.00 for "[r]epairs, maintenance, and vacancy reserves." See dkt.66, p.4. First, this Court questions whether the $50.00 amount just noted is sufficient. Second, neither the $507.55 loss nor its component parts appear to be reflected on line 8a or anywhere else in Bankruptcy Schedules I and J. The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor, no later than 10/15/20, to file further amended Bankruptcy Schedules I and J and/or Debtor's declaration addressing the foregoing.

(c) Monthly Operating Report ("MOR") for Aug., 2020

The MOR reflects almost $17,000 in delinquent adequate protection payments (see dkt.71 at PDF p.16), which dwarfs the reported $4,223.77 and $45.00 balances in Debtor's DIP accounts. At the continued Status Conference, Debtor is directed to address how Debtor will be able to propose a feasible plan of reorganization in view of these apparent postpetition losses.

Chapter 11

Debtor's June 2020 MOR (dkt.58) discloses non-payment of postpetition monthly amounts owed to secured creditors. What is the current status of Debtor's postpetition defaults?

Debtor's July 2020 MOR (dkt.64) is missing the page that would have made similar disclosures, and appears to be missing a number of other pages. What is missing? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 9/15/20 for Debtor to file an amended July 2020 MOR.

(b) Chapter 11 Plan (the "Plan," dkt. 63) and Chapter 11 Disclosure Statement (the "Disclosure Statement," dkt. 61)

Debtor's projection of income (dkt.61, Ex.C, at PDF pp.8-9) cross-references dkt.20 (Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedules) for a breakdown of Debtor's personal income and expenses and rental income and expenses. There are two problems with that approach.

First, Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedule I does not include any breakdown of income and expenses, despite the instruction on line 8a to "Attach a statement for each property and business showing gross receipts, ordinary and necessary business expenses, and the total monthly net income." Second, Debtor appears to be double-counting. Specifically, Debtor's Plan includes payment of the 2d mortgage on Debtor's home (dkt.63, Ex.A, at PDF p.9, Class 1B), but so does Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedule J (dkt.20, at PDF p.27, last line); and likewise Debtor's Plan includes payment of the 1st DOT on the rental property (dkt.63, Ex.A, at PDF p.9, Class 2A), but so does Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedule J (dkt.20, at PDF p.28, line 17c).

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 9/15/20 for Debtor (i) to file (but NOT serve) an amended Bankruptcy Schedule I with the required "statement for each property or business," an amended Plan, and an amended Disclosure Statement correcting the above issues, and (ii) to lodge a proposed order, in the form provided on Judge Bason's portion of the Court's website (www.cacb.uscourts.gov), setting a combined hearing on final approval of the Disclosure Statement and confirmation of the Plan for the same date and time as the continued status conference (see Section 2(d) below).

Chapter 11

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's motion to sell 6520 and 6522 Brynhurst Avenue (dkt. 174, 175, 177); IRS opposition (dkt. 189); Debtor reply (dkt.191)

Grant, subject to the conditions set forth below, and further subject to any overbids.

(i) Service

Although there is no proof of service of this Court's order granting Debtor's application for an order shortening time (the "OST," dkt. 178), as required therein, there is a proof of service of notice of sale (dkt.175) on all creditors with the correct hearing date and time, so the tentative ruling is to excuse Debtor's lack of full compliance with the OST.

(ii) Dual agency

The order granting Debtor's application (dkt.88) to employ real estate agent Elisabeth Araya of Real Estate Executives specifically provided, "no dual agency." Order (dkt.126), p.2 (emphasis in original). But it appears that Ms. Araya's office has served as agent for both the buyer and the seller. See Sale Motion (dkt.174, Ex.1, at PDF p.21). The tentative ruling is that an independent real estate agent must be brought in to represent the buyer.

(iii) Grounds for sale free and clear

On the one hand, the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") is correct (Opp., dkt.189, p.3, n.5) that the motion does not specify which paragraph of section 11 U.S.C. 363(f) is alleged to apply, and that implicitly it is paragraph "(4)" regarding an alleged "bona fide dispute." The tentative ruling is that the IRS is also correct that, on the present record, it would not be adequately protected unless Debtor segregates all net proceeds (after payment of other liens and costs of sale including any capital gains tax payment) until further order of this Court.

On the other hand, the tentative ruling is that Debtor has raised a sufficient dispute regarding the IRS claim to constitute a "bona fide dispute" and therefore (subject to the adequate protection referenced above) the sale can proceed. In support of Debtor's allegation that there is a bona fide dispute, his declaration (dkt.174) states:

A portion of the tax lien is subject to claim objection based on my allegation that I was the subject of fraud. (Docket Number 155). The hearing has been continued to November 3, 2020 pending the IRS review of its own documents. Escrow will pay $115,652.03 which constitutes the undisputed portions of the 2018 tax lien.

Edmund Lincoln Anderson

[Dkt.174 at PDF p.9:23-26 (emphasis in original).]

The referenced claim objection (dkt.155) includes Debtor's declaration which sets forth alleged identity theft/fraud that, on an objective basis, appears to establish a bona fide dispute. See dkt.155, pp.5-6. See also IRS Obj. (dkt.189, p.3) (citing authorities re meaning of "bona fide dispute").

As for adequate protection, Debtor's reply (dkt.191) states:

The Debtor does not oppose the need to segregate sales proceeds except for the projected $50,000 in capital gains taxes pending the resolution of the [IRS] Claim and this need to segregate should not act as a barrier to completing the sale. $278,427.33 has been budgeted for the Service [i.e., the IRS], with $135,000.00 to be paid immediately and with approximately $143,427.33 to be segregated pending the conclusion of litigation of the Claim. [Dkt.191, p.1:23-27.]

The tentative ruling is that this proposed adequate protection is sufficient. In addition, the tentative ruling is that Debtor has established sufficient benefit to the bankruptcy estate and justification for the proposed sale under 11 U.S.C. 363(b), for the reasons set forth in the reply. See dkt.191.

(iv) "Good faith" finding

Debtor seeks a "good faith" finding under 11 U.S.C. 363(m). The tentative ruling is that any winning bidder must file declaration(s), preferably from both Debtor and the winning bidder, substantially in the form set forth in the "Posted Procedures of Judge Bason" (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov).

Proposed order: Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b) (1)(B).

(b) Dispute under the stipulation for use of cash collateral and adequate protection (the "Stipulation," dkt. 62)

The tentative ruling is that, based on representations at prior hearings, this matter has been fully resolved and should go off calendar.

(c) Debtor's motion to disallow claim no. 9 of Two Jinn Inc. (dkt. 152),

Chapter 11

#21.00 Status conference re: Chapter 11 case

Docket 0

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required by counsel for Debtor and by Debtor's principal.

(1) Current issues

The Debtor's status report (dkt. 14, p.2, para. 2) states that Debtor "owns a single asset- one parcel of real property located at 701 N. Hillcrest Road, Beverly Hills, CA 90210," which Debtor intends to market and sell. Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedule A/B and Statement of Financial Affairs ("SOFA") describe that property as residential property worth $20,000,000.00 (dkt.19, line 55, at PDF p.7) at which Debtor's sole equity interest holder and her children reside rent-free (although her mailing address is in Indonesia). Dkt.19-1, at PDF p.15, and dkt.19-2.

(a) Procedures order and mailing matrix

The Procedures Order (dkt.4) directed Debtor to serve a copy of that order on all parties in interest, but Debtor's proof of service (dkt.6) appears to omit (i) at least one (disputed) creditor - Medallion Capital Financial (Schedule E/F, line 3.2, dkt.19 at PDF p.15); (ii) Debtor's sole equity interest holder/creditor (id., line 3.1); and (iii) Debtor's director, Andre Djaafar (SOFA, line 28, dkt.19-1 at PDF p.13). Debtor's mailing matrix also omits at least those parties.

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/8/20 for Debtor to file (x) a proof of service on all parties in interest who were not originally served with the Procedures Order and (b) an amended mailing matrix.

(b) Single Asset Real Estate Case?

Debtor does not disclose if there are fewer than four residential units at the property. Debtor is directed to address at the status conference whether it should have designated itself as a single asset real estate ("SARE") debtor (11 USC 101(51B)) and, if so, whether its proposed date for filing a plan is consistent with 362(d)(3).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 9/15/20.

objection; (y) Debtor has adequately addressed the non-materiality of her proposed minor modifications to the Plan (i.e., re-balloting is not required); and (z) Debtor has provided sufficient arguments and evidence to overrule most of the Guptas' objections. The Guptas' objections that Debtor has not yet sufficiently addressed are explained below.

(A) Best Interest Test (11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(7)): Debtor's calculations require an adjustment, but even with an adjustment the Guptas have not rebutted Debtor's showing that the Plan satisfies the best interest test

The tentative ruling is that Debtor's alternative liquidation analysis (dkt.335, pp.11-12) should be adjusted to account for the possibility that the secured claim asserted by Patch Of Land ("Patch" or "POL") might be reduced to some extent, based on objections to default interest and other claims by the bankruptcy estate. But the tentative ruling - based on this Court's familiarity with numerous disputes in other cases regarding default rates of interest and other charges - is that the possibility of such reduction, discounted to present value, is less than shortfall in funds that would be available in any hypothetical chapter 7 case. See Debtor's Reply (dkt.335), p.12. See generally, e.g., East-West Bank v. Altadena Lincoln Crossing, LLC, 598 B.R. 633 (C.D. Cal. 2019)

The tentative ruling is that a precise dollar estimate is not required because the shortfall is hundreds of thousands of dollars; the discount to Patch's claim would not be greater than that. In other words, even with the adjustment to Patch's claim as described above, there would be $-0- for general unsecured creditors in a hypothetical chapter 7 case.

Alternatively, assuming for the sake of discussion that any adjustments to Debtor's liquidation analysis would be enough to provide any projected recovery for nonpriority unsecured creditors, that in itself does not establish that liquidation would be in the best interests of creditors. Rather, the issue would require further evidence because any such projected chapter 7 recovery still would have to exceed the projected recovery under Debtor's proposed Plan, and the latter requires more evidence (as noted below).

(B) Adequate means for implementation (11 U.S.C. 1123(a)(5)) and feasibility (11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(11))

Debtor is directed to address whether she has evidence of sufficient loan commitments and/or gift commitments from family and friends to make her proposed commitments in the Plan adequate and feasible. See, e.g., Debtor's Reply (dkt.335), p.14:2-8. (d) Continued status conference: If there are unresolved confirmation issues, this Court anticipates setting either a continued hearing/status conference on 10/6/20 at 2:00 p.m. and/or an evidentiary hearing (at a date and time to be determined). Alternatively, if the Plan were to be confirmed at today's hearing, the tentative ruling would be to set a post-confirmation status conference for 1/12/21 at 2:00 p.m.

Chapter 13

#4.00 Hrg re: Debtor's Objection to Claim Number 1
by Claimant TY Investment LLC

Docket 22

Tentative Ruling:

Address the factual and legal issues described below at the hearing, and then continue this matter to 11/19/20 at 8:30 a.m., with a deadline of 11/5/20 for claimant TY Investment LLC ("TY Investment") to file supplemental papers addressing the issues raised in Debtor's reply and Debtor's evidentiary objections. Appearances required on 10/22/20.

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Debtor's supplemental memorandum of points and authorities (dkt. 37), TY Investment's opposition (dkt. 40), Debtor's reply (dkt. 41), Debtor's objections to Hu & Green Declarations (dkt. 42, 43)

Analysis:

(1) Confusing arguments

Some of Debtor's arguments are not entirely clear. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is that, in addition to the issues discussed below, the parties should be prepared to clarify their factual allegations and focus their legal arguments on all issues.

(2) Reply raises new arguments

This Court has compared Debtor's original papers (dkt.22, 37) with his reply (dkt.41), and notes that Debtor's reply raises issues and arguments not asserted in the original papers. The tentative ruling is that it is not fair to TY Investment, nor to this Court which is put in the position of having to address the issues without the benefit of briefing from TY Investment. Therefore, the tentative ruling is to continue this matter, with the deadline stated at the start of this tentative ruling, for TY Investment to file a sur-reply, supplemental evidence and responses to Debtor's evidentiary objections (dkt. 42, 43).

Notwithstanding the continuance, it appears appropriate to address some issues on a preliminary basis, so that TY Investment may focus its sur-reply papers, and so that both parties can focus their arguments at this hearing and the continued hearing.

(3) Compound interest

The tentative ruling is that Debtor has the better argument regarding compound interest. Debtor argues:

California Civil Code Section 1916-2 provides that lenders may not charge compound interest "unless an agreement to that effect is clearly expressed in writing and signed by the party to be charged therewith." [(dkt.22, p.3:12-16 (emphasis added) (citing McConnell v. Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., 21 Cal.3d 365 (1978); Wishnev v. Northwestern Mutual Life Ins. Co., 162 F.Supp.3d 930 (2016))]

The parties agree that the critical language of the loan documents provides:

FINANCE CHARGE: We will determine and impose a FINANCE CHARGE by applying a daily periodic rate of 0.0548% to the daily unpaid principal balance for the number of days that balance remains unpaid in the billing cycle. The daily periodic rate is the ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE of 19.99% divided by 365. To get the daily unpaid principal balance we will take the beginning balance each day, add any new debits or Cash Loans and subtract any payments or credits. ..." [dkt.22, Ex.A, PDF p.37 (emphasis added) (quoted at dkt.22, p.3:20-25)]

TY Investment argues that this language clearly provides for compounding interest. The tentative ruling is to reject TY Investment's argument on multiple grounds.

First, a more natural reading of this language is exactly contrary to what TY Investment asserts. The "balance" is more naturally read to mean the principal balance, not principal plus interest (or any other charges). Similarly, the phrase "any new debits" is more naturally read to mean debts such as payment of the senior lien, not interest (or any other charges).

Second, even if the language could be interpreted to compound interest (which it cannot reasonably be interpreted to do), that is anything but "clearly expressed." Cal.Civ.C. 1916-2. It would not be obvious to any reasonable person reading this provision that compound interest was intended.

Chapter 13

Third, if there were any doubt about the preceding two points (which there is not) the spreadsheet attached to the proof of claim (dkt.22, Ex.A, pdf pp.18-32) shows that the original lender did not actually compound interest (or other charges), which strongly suggests that this was not the parties' original intent. The principal balance (in the right-hand column) remains the same for long periods of time regardless of such interest (and other charges) that are charged meanwhile (Id.).

Fourth, even if the loan documents could be read to charge compound interest (and add other charges to the principal due), adding such interest (and other charges) to principal would be unconscionable. See Dkt.37, p.16:1-18:9.

Fifth, Debtor asserts that TY Investment never sent a statement of overdue amounts. Dkt. 37, p.5:13-17. Debtor does not cite authority for the effect of that omission, but it appears that Debtor is implicitly arguing estoppel to assert compounding of interest (and other charges) because Debtor presumably could have taken other steps such as refinancing or selling the property if Debtor had known that the debt would balloon so drastically.

For each of the foregoing alternative reasons, the tentative ruling is to sustain Debtor's objection to any compounding of interest.

(4) Statute of Limitations

Debtor contends that the debt is time-barred under California Code of Civil Procedure section 337(a)'s four-year statute of limitations (dkt.41, p.6:8) (citing White v. Moriarty, 15 Cal.App.4th 1290, 1299 (1993)). The tentative ruling is that because this issue was first raised in Debtor's reply papers, this Court will defer ruling on the issue until TY Investment has had an opportunity to respond.

(5) Registration

Debtor argues at length that various entities involved in the origination and servicing of his loan were not registered with an applicable California agency or otherwise licensed to conduct business at relevant times throughout the history of his loan. But Debtor has not cited any authority establishing that he has standing to object on these grounds, or that the result of not being registered is to extinguish some or all of the debt. Accordingly, on this record, this argument is not persuasive.

(6) Real estate broker

California Civil Code section 1916.1 provides, in full:

The restrictions upon rates of interest contained in Section 1 of Article XV of the California Constitution shall not apply to any loan or forbearance made or arranged by any person licensed as a real estate broker by the State of California, and secured, directly or collaterally, in whole or in part by liens on real property. For purposes of this section, a loan or forbearance is arranged by a person licensed as a real estate broker when the broker (1) acts for compensation or in expectation of compensation for soliciting, negotiating, or arranging the loan for another, (2) acts for compensation or in expectation of compensation for selling, buying, leasing, exchanging, or negotiating the sale, purchase, lease, or exchange of real property or a business for another and (A) arranges a loan to pay all or any portion of the purchase price of, or of an improvement to, that property or business or (B) arranges a forbearance, extension, or refinancing of any loan in connection with that sale, purchase, lease, exchange of, or an improvement to, real property or a business, or (3) arranges or negotiates for another a forbearance, extension, or refinancing of any loan secured by real property in connection with a past transaction in which the broker had acted for compensation or in expectation of compensation for selling, buying, leasing, exchanging, or negotiating the sale, purchase, lease, or exchange of real property or a business. The term "made or arranged" includes any loan made by a person licensed as a real estate broker as a principal or as an agent for others, and whether or not the person is acting within the course and scope of such license. [Emphasis added.]

"Licensed real estate brokers may be either individuals or corporations; the DRE [California Department of Real Estate] issues licenses to both. When a license is issued to a corporation, it is through the license of a designated officer of the corporation." Creative Ventures LLC v. Jim Ward & Assoc., 195 Cal.App.4th 1430, 1442 (2011).

Debtor argues that the loan does not qualify for the licensed broker exemption from California's usury prohibition, because TY Investment has failed to submit sufficient evidence on the elements of that exemption. See dkt.41, pp.4:16-5:9 & 11:17-13:12 (citing, inter alia, In re Arce Riverside, LLC, 538 B.R. 563 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2015), subsequent determination, 2015 WL 9590346 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2015); Creative Ventures, 195 Cal.App.4th 1430, 1442 (2011); Winnett v. Roberts, 179 Cal.App.3d 909, 921 (1986)).

The parties are directed to address (a) what elements Debtor asserts are legally required to satisfy section 1916.1 and (b) what evidence TY Investments expects to provide to satisfy each element. For example, Debtor appears to assert that TY Investments:

(i) has not specifically identified what individual or entity allegedly acted as the licensed real estate broker who "made" the loan or "arranged" the loan "for another" for compensation (within the meaning of Cal. Civ. C. 1916.1),

(ii) that the individual on whom TY Investments appears to rely, Mr. Gerald William Green III, has not provided evidence that he was "a licensed broker" (dkt.41, p.12:26-27, emphasis added) at the relevant time,

(iii) that TY Investments has not provided evidence that Mr. Green was acting as an agent for Mortgage Loan Solutions (dkt.41, p.13:3-9), the entity identified as the lender in the loan agreement (dkt.22 at PDF p.35), as opposed to being an officer of a different entity, MLS Holdings, Inc. (dkt.41, p.13:3-5), and

(iv) that Mr. Green acted as "the lender," and hence purportedly is disqualified from having "arranged" a loan for "another" (within the meaning of Cal. Civ. C. 1916.1) (although this allegation appears to be potentially inconsistent with Debtor's assertion that Mortgage Loan Solutions was the lender, and also does not appear to address the exemption for a licensed real estate broker who has "made" a loan).

(7) Evidentiary objections

The tentative ruling is to defer ruling on Debtor's objections until TY Investment has had an opportunity to provide supplemental declarations and/or arguments addressing the factual and legal issues that Debtor has raised.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 37

Tentative Ruling:

Deny. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Claimant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Ramona Boulevard Homeowners Association's ("HOA") opposition (dkt. 43), no reply is on file

Reasons for denial: The tentative ruling is to deny the claim objection for the reasons stated in the HOA's opposition.

Lack of cost/benefit analysis: The posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) provide:

§ 502: claim objections & cost/benefit analysis. When objecting to claims, be sure to include an analysis of whether the costs of preparing and litigating the claim objection (administrative expenses) do not exceed the anticipated benefits (reductions in claims). For example, if the anticipated dividend is small or 0% then the attorney fees incurred in prosecuting your claim objection to any general unsecured claim probably will exceed the benefit to the bankruptcy estate/debtor, so filing that objection would be a waste of the bankruptcy estate's (and everyone else's) resources (unless, for example, the claim is nondischargeable, in which event the attorney fees might well be justified).

Debtor's counsel is cautioned that failure to include a cost/benefit analysis in future claim objections in accordance with Judge Bason's Procedures may

Chapter 13

#15.00 Cont'd hrg re: Motion to Avoid Junior Lien on Debtor's Principal Residence with BCMB1 Trust fr. 8/27/20

Docket 12

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/22/20:
Appearances required.

This matter was continued to allow time for the junior lienholder to obtain an appraisal of the subject property. This Court has reviewed the parties' supplemental papers (dkt. 34, 35 & 39).

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address how they propose to resolve their disputes - e.g., (i) with an evidentiary hearing; (ii) with a court ruling based solely on the written record (to save costs, if all parties consent), (iii) through mediation, or (iv) through appointment of an appraiser (jointly selected by the parties/their appraisers) as the court's own expert under FRE 706.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing. Pursuant to Judge Bason's COVID-19 procedures, all appearances are telephonic via CourtCall at (888) 882-6878.

Tentative Ruling for 8/27/20:

Continue to 10/22/20 at 8:30 a.m. to address the following issues.
Appearances are not required on 8/27/20. If you wish to dispute the tentative ruling you must notify other parties of your intent to appear telephonically.

Pursuant to Judge Bason's COVID19 Procedures, ONLY TELEPHONIC APPEARANCES WILL BE PERMITTED until further notice. Please contact CourtCall at (888) 882-6878 to make arrangements for any telephonic appearance. There is no need to contact the Court for permission. Parties who are not represented by an attorney will be able to use CourtCall for free through 9/30/20. Attorneys will receive a 25% discount (for more information, see www.cacb.uscourts.gov, "Judges," "Bason, N.," "Telephonic Instructions").

Reasons:

Appraisal; date of valuation. The junior lienholder has requested (dkt. 22) additional time to obtain an appraisal. Debtor is directed to provide reasonable access for that purpose. The junior lienholder is directed to file and serve the appraisal at least 14 days before the continued hearing. Note: Judge Bason's tentative ruling is to require valuations at or near the petition date. See In re Gutierrez, 503 B.R. 458 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2013).

At the continued hearing the parties should address how they propose to resolve their disputes - e.g., (i) with an evidentiary hearing; (ii) with a court ruling based solely on the written record (to save costs, if all parties consent), (iii) through mediation, or (iv) through appointment of an appraiser (jointly selected by the parties/their appraisers) as the court's own expert under FRE 706.

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

SELECT PORTFOLIO SERVICING INC
DEBTOR

Docket 31

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply

Although no party in interest has raised the issue whether the automatic stay applies, this Court addresses that issue because it is inherent in determining whether to grant relief from whatever stay allegedly exists. The tentative ruling is to grant the motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(4) and (j): there is no automatic stay because (a) Debtor's prior cases (#2:19-bk-24394-NB and #2:19-bk-20963-NB) were dismissed (on 12/20/19 and 9/16/19) within one year before this case was filed (on 12/23/19), (b) those dismissals were not under 11 U.S.C. 707(b), and (c) no finding of good faith was timely sought and obtained. The automatic stay has terminated both as to Debtor in personam and as to property of Debtor. Cf. In re Reswick, 446 B.R. 362 (9th Cir. BAP 2011) (interpreting analogous provisions of 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(3)); In re Hernandez, case no. 2:11-bk-53730-NB, docket #40 (Memorandum Decision) (same).

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Note regarding mootness: Judge Bason's standard tentative ruling is as follows. For three reasons the above conclusion that there is no stay does not moot requests for relief from whatever stay might apply. First, such alternative rulings are appropriate because (i) the very nature of tentative rulings is that this Court could be persuaded to depart from any one of them, and (ii) a final ruling on any one issue could be reversed on appeal. Second, even if there is currently no stay, that could change - e.g., if there is no stay because of dismissal of this bankruptcy case, such dismissal could be vacated and that might reimpose the stay even if there is a lack of adequate protection, or other grounds why the stay should not apply, and therefore the movant will suffer cognizable harm unless the issues are addressed now (Judge Bason regularly vacates dismissals based on stipulations or other good cause). Third, if the motion includes any request for relief as to past acts (annulment) or future cases (in rem relief), those things are still at issue even if there is no current automatic stay. See In re Aheong, 276 B.R. 233 (9th Cir. BAP 2002). For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is that it is appropriate to address the following issues.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing. Pursuant to Judge Bason's COVID-19 procedures, all appearances are telephonic via CourtCall at (888) 882-6878.

bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed, including any eviction actions, through and including any lockout or other enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that Debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that Debtor was involved and Debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that Debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is not sufficient evidence and notice.

No prejudice to Debtor intended. Based on the record, it appears that this is a "hijacked" case, and that Debtor is innocent of any involvement. See e.g., In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (describing hijacking); In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012) (same). In a hijacking case, the Debtor faces the legitimate concern of being subject to a 180-day bar and other adverse consequences if, for example, Debtor later requests and obtains a voluntary dismissal and subsequently needs to file another bankruptcy petition. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2), 362(b)(21)(A). There is authority that section 109 "eligibility issues" are nonjurisdictional, can be waived, forfeited, or subject to estoppel, and should not be applied if that would produce an "illogical, unjust, or capricious result, or when the benefit of dismissal would inure to a bad faith creditor." In re Leafly, 489 B.R. 545, 550-51 (9th Cir. Bap 2012) (citing cases including under 109(g)(2)). See also In re Mendez, 367 B.R. 109, 116-17 (9th Cir. BAP 2007); In re Luna, 122 B.R. 575, 577 (9th Cir. BAP 1991); Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 270. The same principles apply to any other adverse consequences from a hijacking. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to condition the relief from the automatic stay granted in this tentative ruling such that no adverse consequences apply to Debtor from the hijacking, including under 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2) or 362(b)(21)(A). Note: None of the foregoing will shield Debtor if it turns out that Debtor was not, in fact, innocent of any involvement in the apparent hijacking or other abusive scheme.

Tentative Ruling:

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Deny, without prejudice to any other types of relief granted herein (or previously granted), for the following reasons.

The motion requests requests "in rem" relief (i.e., relief applicable notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases (under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and/or In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31)). The tentative ruling is to deny that request because there is no evidence of any transfer of the subject property from the LLC to Debtor (although perhaps the petition implies as much) nor of multiple bankruptcy filings.

The Bankruptcy Court "shall grant relief from the stay" upon a showing of "cause." 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1). Such relief need not take the form of a complete termination of the automatic stay, but instead may include "modifying or conditioning such stay." Id.

"Cause" is determined on a case-by-case basis." In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir.1990). In determining whether "cause" exists to grant relief from the automatic stay to allow a movant to pursue litigation in a non-bankruptcy forum, courts in the Ninth Circuit have examined the factors set forth in In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799–800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984). See In re Kronmeyer, 405 B.R. 915 (9th Cir. BAP 2009); In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc., 311 B.R. 551, 559–60 (Bankr. C.D. Cal.2004). Those factors are: (1) Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues; (2) The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case; (3) Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary; (4) Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases; (5) Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation; (6) Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question; (7) Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties; (8) Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c); (9) Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f); (10) The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties; (11) Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial; and (12) The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt."

Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 559. "[W]hile the Curtis factors are widely used to determine the existence of 'cause,' not all of the factors are relevant in every case, nor is a court required to give each factor equal weight." In re Landmark Fence Co., Inc., 2011 WL 6826253 at *4 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 9, 2011).

Based on the present record, the tentative ruling is that these factors weigh in favor of granting relief as set forth above. Most significantly, relief will result in a complete resolution of the issues and the action essentially involves third parties - movant will seek insurance proceeds against a non-debtor entity.

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:

Grant the R/S Motion and authorize Movants to (i) obtain possession of the funds and any valuable contents of the safe deposit box(es) currently being held by the Sheriff and (ii) continue with post-judgment debtor examinations, all for the reasons set forth below. The tentative ruling is also to make such relief effective notwithstanding any future bankruptcy cases. Appearances required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Key documents reviewed: Order shortening time (dkt. 5); Movants' motion for relief from the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362 (action in nonbankruptcy forum) (dkt. 8, the "R/S Motion") & proof of service (dkt. 11); Debtor's opposition (dkt. 9); interim order (dkt. 12); Debtor's supplemental opposition (dkt 18); Movants' supplemental response (dkt. 27)

(1) Analysis

(a) Movants have interests in the subject property

Movants have provided evidence that they have at least a security interest in, if not outright ownership of, Debtor's bank account(s) and the contents of safety deposit box(es) at Bank of America, N.A. See dkt.8 at PDF p.11, para.6&7. Movants' interests in those things are not entirely free from doubt, but Movants have met their prima facie burden to establish their interests.

True, Movants have not cited any authority that a JL-1 recorded on 12/19/16 in the local real estate recorder's office (dkt.11, p.2:10-12 & Ex.A, at PDF pp.8-10) would be effective to create a lien on bank accounts or a safe deposit boxes. Nor have Movants cited authority that any "ORAP" lien that arises automatically from the judgment debtor exam on 10/1/20 (dkt.8, p.12, para.10) is enough, by itself, to extend to such property.

But Movants have presented evidence that the Sheriff took actual possession of such property in or about July of 2020 (dkt.8 at PDF p.11, para.6&7), and Movants have alleged (without dispute by Debtor) that Debtor's claim of exemption was denied by the State Court on 9/23/20. Dkt.8, pp.11-12, para.8-9. The tentative ruling is that the combination of Movants' blanket security interest in all of Debtor's personal property plus constructive possession, through the Sheriff, of the funds and the contents of the safe deposit box, was enough at the very least for Movants' security interest to attach, and more likely enough to transfer actual ownership of that property as early as July 2020 and no later than 9/23/20. See generally In re Hernandez, 483 B.R. 713, passim & n.7 (9th Cir. BAP 2012) (rejecting blanket rule that ownership in bank account passes when funds are in possession of Sheriff, and holding that title to automatically exempt social security deposits was not transferred, but implying that absent such an exemption title transfers to creditor).

(b) Movants' interests would not be adequately protected if the subject property were returned to Debtor

Assuming for the sake of discussion that Debtor retains any interest in the subject property (i.e., that Movants' interest is a lien, rather than an ownership interest that has cut off any rights Debtor had in the subject property), any return of such property to Debtor would require adequate protection of Movants' interest. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 363(e). But there are at least two alternative reasons to conclude that Movants' security interest would not be adequately protected if Movants were required to return the subject property to Debtor (the funds and any valuable contents of the safe deposit box).

First, Movants have a judgment that Debtor committed fraud and other wrongdoing in the past, resulting in a nondischargeable debt of over $100,000.00 under 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(2), (4) and (6). See dkt.8, Ex.A, at pp.14-16, and Ex.C, at pp.22-25. That evidence of prior wrongdoing suggests that, going forward, Debtor cannot be trusted to adequately protect Movants' interest in the subject property.

Second, Movants have presented evidence that Debtor has very substantial monthly income - based on transfers into one bank account - which far exceeds what she has reported. Compare dkt.27, Ex.B, at pp.11-27, with Bankruptcy Schedule I (dkt.19 at PDF pp.22-23) and SOFA lines 4-5 (alleging $0 income for this year and previous two calendar years). In other words, it appears that Debtor is not complying with her duties to candidly report her income in this bankruptcy case, so the tentative ruling is that, again, she cannot be trusted to adequately protect Movants' interest in the subject property.

(c) The hypothetical possibility that Movants' interests could be avoided, and that Debtor could successfully assert an exemption in the recovered property, is insufficient to overcome Movants' prima facie "cause" for relief from the automatic stay Debtor has implied that any transfer of an interest in the bank account(s) and safe deposit box(es) would be an avoidable "Preference Payment" (dkt.18, p.5 para.12, p.7 para.26) and that Debtor could avoid the transfer and assert a claim of exemption. Dkt.18, p.6 para.18. But Debtor has not fully articulated her arguments or cited any authority that she has a realistic likelihood of accomplishing those things.

This Court recognizes that such avoidance and a claim of exemption are theoretically possible. See generally 11 U.S.C. 522(f)-(h) & 547(b). But that conceptual possibility is a far cry from actually establishing those things, and Movants may well have defenses. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 522(g)(1)(B) (no exemption if Debtor concealed property), 547(b)(4)(A) (transfer must be within 90 days prior to petition date).

In addition, the expense of litigating not only any avoidance issues but also any exemption issues appears likely to outweigh any net benefit to Debtor or the bankruptcy estate. Given that proceedings regarding relief from the automatic stay are supposed to be "summary" proceedings (In re Veal, 450 B.R. 897, 914-15 (9th Cir. BAP 2011)), the tentative ruling is that Debtor's mere hints at possible grounds to avoid the transfer and successfully assert an exemption in the subject property are not enough to overcome Movants' prima facie showing of "cause" (within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1)) for relief from the automatic stay to enforce their security interest.

(2) Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the tentative ruling is to grant the following relief. See also, e.g., In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir.1990) ("cause" determined on case-by-case basis); In re Kronmeyer, 405 B.R. 915 (9th Cir. BAP 2009); In re Landmark Fence Co., Inc., 2011 WL 6826253 at *4 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 9, 2011); In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc., 311 B.R. 551, 559–60 (Bankr. C.D. Cal.2004); In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799–800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984) (useful factors when considering relief from automatic stay to pursue nonbankruptcy litigation).

(a) Limited relief. Modify and condition the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) such that Movants may (i) obtain possession of the funds and any valuable contents of the safe deposit box currently being held by the Sheriff and (ii) continue with post-judgment debtor examinations.

(i) No enforcement against property of the bankruptcy estate. The stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against property of the debtor's bankruptcy estate - any such property shall be distributed when and how provided by the Bankruptcy Code. Nevertheless, the movant is permitted to enforce its final judgment by (i) collecting upon any available insurance in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law or (ii) proceeding against the debtor as to any property that is not property of this bankruptcy estate. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(2)(B) & 541(b)(7) (collection of domestic support obligations from ERISA qualified retirement plans).

(ii) Claim allowance, priority, and discharge issues. Any claims arising from the nonbankruptcy litigation are subject to this Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction regarding claim allowance and priority, and the existence and scope of any bankruptcy discharge.

(iii) No relief in other bankruptcy cases. To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

(b) Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (regarding authority to grant "in rem" relief apart from under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4)):

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

(c) Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

(d) Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required.

This Court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (adv. dkt. 7) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(A) Standard requirements

The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this Bankruptcy Court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014)

(authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(2) Mediation

Is there is any reason why this Court should not order the parties to mediation before one of the volunteer mediators (not a Bankruptcy Judge), and meanwhile set the deadlines set forth below? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/10/20 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

(3) Deadlines

This adversary proceeding has been pending since 7/24/20. Pursuant to LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B), plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the status conference, attaching a copy of this tentative ruling or otherwise memorializing the following.

Joinder of parties/amendment of pleadings: 12/30/20 deadline.

Discovery cutoff (for completion of discovery): 1/15/21

Grant as set forth below, subject to overbids at the hearing and to Wells Fargo Bank, N.A.'s non-opposition (dkt. 385). Appearances required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Wells Fargo Bank, N.A.'s non-opposition (dkt. 385)

Analysis: The tentative ruling is to grant the sale motion and authorize a sale free and clear (11 U.S.C. 363(b) & (f)), subject to overbids.

In addition, the tentative ruling is to grant the request for a "good faith" finding (11 U.S.C. 363(m)) if Cao-Zhao is the successful bidder and, alternatively, subject to the successful bidder or backup bidder filing declaration(s) providing sufficient evidence of such good faith (see the posted Procedures of Judge Bason, available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov).

In addition, the tentative ruling is to grant the Trustee's request for authorization to pay Debtors' homestead exemption to Debtors, in full satisfaction of Debtors' claimed homestead exemption, as soon as practicable after (a) the Trustee's receipt of the funds and (b) establishment by Debtors of a segregated account that has procedures established to prevent withdrawal of the funds unless those funds are used solely for the purchase of a replacement homestead (e.g., if Debtors establish a "blocked" account from which funds can only be withdrawn pursuant to an order of this Court, which presumably would authorize disbursement to an escrow agency for closing on the purchase of a replacement homestead). If Debtors do not provide written proof to the Trustee of such use of the homestead funds within six months of their receipt, the Trustee may move to deem Debtors' homestead exemption forfeited and demand the return of the funds.

The tentative ruling is also to grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by Rule 6004(h) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

For example, if the anticipated dividend is small or 0% then the attorney fees incurred in prosecuting your claim objection to any general unsecured claim probably will exceed the benefit to the bankruptcy estate/debtor, so filing that objection would be a waste of the bankruptcy estate's (and everyone else's) resources (unless, for example, the claim is nondischargeable, in which event the attorney fees might well be justified).

The Trustee is cautioned that failure to include a cost/benefit analysis in

Current issues

(1) Background

Debtor filed a voluntary chapter 11 case on 4/11/19. On 8/8/19, this Court entered an order converting the case to chapter 7 (dkt. 95). Sam S. Leslie is the Chapter 7 Trustee ("Trustee").

(a) Trustee's first request for turnover of the Property

As part of the Trustee's efforts to administer Debtor's estate, the Trustee sought an order (i) compelling Debtor and any third parties in possession of Debtor's residence located at 1704 Stone Canyon Road, Los Angeles, CA 90077 ("Property") to turnover the Property and (ii) authority to employ real estate brokers to assist the Trustee in marketing and selling the Property, among other things (dkt. 127, the "First Turnover Motion").

On 11/7/19, this Court entered an order granting the First Turnover Motion in part, and setting a continued hearing and supplemental briefing deadlines (dkt. 136, "First Turnover Order"). Pursuant to the First Turnover Order, Debtor was permitted to continue occupying the Property, provided that she pay the expenses related to maintaining the Property and cooperate with the Trustee's efforts to investigate existing liens and obtain an appraisal of the Property to facilitate a possible sale of the Property.

On 12/13/19, the Trustee and Debtor filed a stipulation resolving the First Turnover Motion (dkt. 153), which this Court approved (dkt. 156).

(b) Trustee's employment of real estate brokers to market the Property

On 2/27/20, the Trustee sought authority to employ Rodeo Realty as his real estate brokers to market and sell the Property (dkt. 162, "Broker Employment Application"). Debtor opposed the motion (dkt. 163) and the Trustee filed replies (dkt. 158, 169). After consideration of oral arguments, this Court overruled Debtor's opposition and granted the Broker Employment Application (dkt. 177).

(c) Trustee's second request for turnover of the Property

On 7/8/20, the Trustee filed a "Motion for Order (1) Compelling Debtor Zeta Graff and Those in Possession With Her to Turnover Property of the Estate; and (2) Authorizing Trustee to Utilize the Services of the United States Marshals to Enforce Court Order (dkt. 212, "Second Turnover Motion"). Among other things, the Second Turnover Motion described a considerable period of alleged non-cooperation by Debtor, including her alleged refusal to cooperate with the Trustee's brokers to market and show the Property and failure to pay insurance resulting in a lapse in coverage (Id.).

On 7/14/20, Pensco Trust Company, FBO Elizabeth S. Boren, IRA filed its joinder in the Turnover Motion (dkt. 226). On 7/23/20 Debtor filed her opposition (dkt. 226), and on 7/23/20 and 7/24/20 Debtor filed her supplemental oppositions (dkt. 233, 240). On 7/28/20, the Trustee filed a reply (dkt. 242) and an objection to and request to strike Debtor's late filed oppositions (dkt. 243). The Second Turnover Motion was self-calendared for hearing on 8/4/20 at 11:00 a.m.

In advance of the hearing on the Second Turnover Motion, this Court posted a tentative ruling indicating its intent to grant the Second Turnover Motion in its entirety. After consideration of oral arguments, this Court adopted the tentative ruling as the final ruling.

On 8/6/20, this Court entered its "Order Granting Chapter 7 [Trustee's] Motion for Order (1) Compelling Debtor Zeta Graff and Those in Possession With her to Turnover Property of the Estate; and (2) Authorizing Trustee to Utilize Services of the United States Marshals to Enforce Court Order" (dkt. 248, the "Second Turnover Order"). That same day, the Trustee filed and served notice of this Court's entry of the Second Turnover Order on the Debtor (dkt. 249).

On 8/19/20, the Trustee filed a copy of the Writ of Execution for Possession of Real Property issued by the Clerk of the Bankruptcy Court (dkt. 256).

Debtor did not timely appeal the Second Turnover Order and that order is now final.

(d) Trustee's motion for issuance of order to show cause ("OSC") re contempt, and issuance of OSC

On 9/10/20, the Trustee filed his "Motion of Chapter 7 Trustee for Order to Show Cause Why Debtor Zeta Graff Should Not be Held in Contempt for Violating This Court's 'Order Granting Chapter 7 [Trustee's] Motion for Order (1) Compelling Debtor Zeta Graff and Those in Possession With her to Turnover Property of the Estate; and (2) Authorizing Trustee to Utilize Services of the United States Marshals to Enforce Court Order'" (dkt. 267, 269 the "Sanctions Motion"). Debtor did not oppose the Sanctions Motion.

On 9/18/20, this Court issued the requested OSC (dkt. 271). The OSC directs Debtor to appear telephonically at a hearing on October 27, 2020 at 11:00 a.m. to show cause why this Court should not enter an order pursuant to Rules 7070 and 9020 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) that holds her in civil contempt for violating the Second Turnover Order and imposes compensatory and coercive sanctions against her, payable from any surplus proceeds from the sale of the Property and/or the denial of Debtor's discharge pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 727(a)(6) and/or (7) (Id.).

The OSC also directs Debtor to file a response by no later than 10/13/20 that, among other things, attaches "admissible evidence, if there is an explanation, why she should not be held in contempt and sanctioned for failing to turn over possession of the Property to the Trustee as and when required by this Court's [Second] Turnover Order" (dkt. 271, p.2:19-22). As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, Debtor has not filed a written response to the OSC.

The Trustee reports (dkt.279) that Debtor has emailed him, and the copies of the emails include Debtor's assertions that (as of her 9/17/20 email) she is "very sick still" and (according to her 10/21/20 email) "I have obeyed the judge[s] order and have evacuated weeks before the 8/20/20 deadline." Id., Ex.1, at PDF p.4. Debtor does not offer any explanation why, if she actually had "evacuated" in the time frame she asserts (contrary to the Trustee's evidence that the Property was still occupied), she did not notify the Trustee at that time, turn over keys, and otherwise deliver possession of the Property, free of any exempt personal property including furniture and furnishings, as required by this Court's order (dkt.248).

Chapter 7

(2) Contempt and Sanctions

For the reasons set forth in the Trustee's Sanctions Motion (dkt. 267), and the additional reasons set forth above, the tentative ruling is to hold Debtor in contempt of this Court and impose sanctions as set forth below.

(a) Legal standards

Bankruptcy courts have the authority to impose civil contempt sanctions under 11 U.S.C. 105(a). In re Dyer, 322 F.3d 1178, 1189-90 (9th Cir. 2003). "The standard for finding a party in civil contempt is well settled: The moving party has the burden of showing by clear and convincing evidence that the contemnors violated a specific and definite order of the court." Dyer, 322 F.3d at 1191. "The burden then shifts to the contemnors to demonstrate why they were unable to comply." F.T.C. v. Affordable Media, 179 F.3d 1228, 1239 (9th Cir. 1999). "A person fails to act as ordered by the court when he fails to take all the reasonable steps within his power to ensure compliance with the court's order." Rosales v. Wallace (In re Wallace), 490 B.R. 898, 905 (9th Cir. BAP 2013).

(b) Contempt

In support of the Sanctions Motion, the Trustee submitted a copy of the Second Turnover Order (dkt. 267, PDF pp.23-25) which states, among other things, that:

All persons in possession, including but not limited to the Debtor, are ordered to vacate the Property not later than fourteen (14) days after entry of this Order.

The Debtor and all persons in possession or occupancy with her shall (i) vacate and turn over possession of the Property to the Trustee and (ii) cause all of their claimed exempt personal property, including without limitation household furniture, furnishings and [sic] to be removed from the Property [Id., PDF p.24:27-25:4, emphasis added]

The Trustee also attaches evidence establishing that Debtor has willfully failed to vacate the Property by August 20, 2020 as required by the Second Turnover Order (Leslie Decl., ¶¶ 5&6).

Based on the foregoing, the tentative ruling is that the Second Turnover Order is definite and specific and the Trustee has met his prima facie burden of showing by clear and convincing evidence that Debtor has violated the Second Turnover Order by failing to vacate and deliver possession of the Property to the Trustee by August 20, 2020. The tentative ruling is also that the burden shifted to Debtor to demonstrate why she was unable to comply with the Second Turnover Order and she has not established that she took all reasonable steps within her power to ensure compliance with that order.

Accordingly, on this record, this the tentative ruling is to find Debtor in contempt of this Court and impose sanctions as set forth below.

(c) Compensatory Sanctions

In view of this Court's tentative finding that Debtor has willfully failed to comply with the Second Turnover Order, the tentative ruling is to grant the Trustee's request for compensatory sanctions. Therefore, the tentative ruling is to conduct a hearing on 12/1/20 at 11:00 a.m. to determine the appropriate amount of compensatory sanctions.

If the foregoing tentative ruling is adopted, the Trustee is directed to submit a supplemental declaration setting forth all fees and expenses the estate has incurred, and any other compensation the Trustee seeks, as a result of Debtor's failure to comply with the Second Turnover Order, including without limitation any charges for occupancy of the premises, insurance, and any expenses of removing personal property and restoring the premises to "broom clean" condition, by November 10, 2020. The deadline for Debtor to submit a response is November 17, 2020, and the deadline for any reply by the Trustee is November 24, 2020. The Trustee is directed to lodge a scheduling order within 1 day after this hearing.

(d) Coercive Sanctions

Debtor's emails attached to the Trustee's status report (dkt.279, Ex.1) are not persuasive, for multiple reasons. They are were not properly filed with this Court (as required by the OSC); they were not timely (by the deadline set in the OSC); they are not in the form of a declaration under penalty of perjury, and are not otherwise admissible in evidence; and they are unclear - it is uncertain what Debtor means when she asserts that she has "evacuated" the Property (she does not assert that she turned over keys, nor does she affirm that she actually has moved herself, her exempt personal property, and her dogs out of the Property and has ceased using it, all contrary to the Trustee's evidence), and it is uncertain what she means when she asserts that she has complied with this Court's orders (which seems to be inconsistent with her prior assertions that she had excuses for not complying with this Court's orders, including alleged illness).

Nevertheless, at some point either Debtor will have turned over keys to the Property, and otherwise will have complied with the Second Turnover Order, or alternatively the Trustee, aided by the U.S. Marshal if necessary, will have taken possession of the Property, removed any personal property left at the premises, cleaned the premises, etc. The tentative ruling is that, until there is evidence that those things have happened, it is appropriate to impose coercive sanctions against Debtor, in the amount of $500 per day.

The tentative ruling is that, although Debtor was required by the Second Turnover Order to turn over possession on 8/20/20, the coercive sanctions cannot run from that date because such sanctions would be punitive, not coercive, and this Bankruptcy Court generally lacks the authority to impose punitive sanctions. But once the Trustee filed and served the motion for contempt sanctions, on 9/10/20, Debtor was on notice that the Trustee sought coercive sanctions of $500 per day. See dkt. 267, p.8:25-9:2. Therefore, the tentative ruling is that the coercive sanctions of $500 per day should run from 9/10/20 and continue until Debtor has delivered to the Trustee the keys to the Property and has otherwise fully complied with the Second Turnover Order.

Given the evidence of Debtor's lack of any meaningful effort to comply with the Second Turnover Order, the tentative ruling is that this Court must find that imposition of coercive sanctions is the only way to ensure that the Trustee will be able to perform his duties and administer the Property for the benefit of the estate.

(e) Denial of discharge

The tentative ruling is to deny, without prejudice, the Trustee's request for denial of Debtor's discharge under 11 U.S.C. § 727(a)(6) or (7) because Rule 7001(4) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) requires the filing of an adversary proceeding complaint to obtain such relief.

(f) Other relief

The tentative ruling is to retain jurisdiction under the OSC to grant additional relief, depending on future developments. For example, although the Trustee already has this Court's authorization to obtain the assistance of the U.S. Marshal, it might be necessary to obtain authorization for additional measures to address how to care for Debtor's dogs if they remain on the premises; or it might be necessary to increase or decrease the dollar amount of future daily coercive sanctions; etc.

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by debtor's principal.

(1) Current issues

(a) Untimely status report & no proofs of service of status report or procedures order

This Court's order setting principal status conference and setting various procedures (the "Procedures Order," dkt. 2) required Debtor to serve that order on all parties in interest and file a proof of service at least 14 days before the principal status conference. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no proof of service is on file.

The Procedures Order also directed Debtor to file a status report using Local Form F 2081-1.1.C11.STATUS.RPT, serve it on all parties in interest, and file a proof of service at least 14 days before the principal status conference. On 10/15/20, Debtor belatedly filed a status report, but the proof of service is blank.

Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/30/20 for Debtor to file and serve a Notice, with copies of the Procedures Order and Status Report attached as exhibits, informing all parties that "Debtor failed to serve the Procedures Order and Status Report on all parties in interest as directed by the Bankruptcy Court, which may have prejudiced some parties. The Bankruptcy Court has directed Debtor to serve this Notice, with copies of the Procedures Order and Status Report, on all parties in interest, to inform all parties of the procedures in the Procedures Order and Debtor's progress in this case to date, and so that any party who was prejudiced by the lack of earlier notice has an opportunity to seek any appropriate relief."

In addition, Debtor is cautioned that failure to comply with this Court's orders in future, or other failure to abide by Debtor's obligations, may result in adverse consequences.

Debtor's status report states that a budget motion is not required by the presiding judge's procedures. Dkt. 13, p.3. That is wrong (see posted Procedures of Judge Bason, available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov), and Debtor is cautioned not to misstate this Court's procedures.

Nevertheless, the tentative ruling is to direct Debtor to appear to address whether this Court should excuse the requirement of a budget motion, in view of Debtor's representations in the status report that give the appearance that Debtor is not operating.

(c) "Corporate" ownership statement, and resolution

Debtor asserts (dkt.13, p.2, item A.3.) that the above-referenced documents are not required because Debtor is a partnership, not a corporation. That is wrong. The Bankruptcy Code defines "corporation" to include a "partnership ...." 11 U.S.C. 101(9)(A)(ii). The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/30/20 for Debtor to file those things.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 9/30/20.

(a) Bar date: 12/15/20 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Procedures order: dkt.2 (no proof of service as of the preparation of this tentative ruling)

(c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD.

(d) Continued status conference: 12/1/20 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." #2.00 Status conference re: Chapter 11 case

Docket 48

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor himself.

(1) Current issues

(a) First-day motions

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/30/20 for Debtor to file (i) local form F 2014-1 in support of counsel's employment application (dkt.60) and (ii) a budget motion, both of which are required by the posted "Procedures of Judge Bason" (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov).

(b) Bar date

There is some confusion about the bar date in this case. This case was commenced under chapter 13 and a notice was sent to creditors (dkt.10, p.2, line8) that the bar date was 7/20/20. On 9/24/20 this Court issued an order (dkt.44) converting this bankruptcy case from chapter 13 to chapter 11. On 10/1/20 this Court issued a notice stating that notice of the deadline to file proofs of claim would be "sent at a later time." Dkt.50, line 7 (emphasis added), and dkt.53 (proof of service). Nevertheless, the docket text for that notice (not the notice itself, but the summary of the notice on this Court's docket) states, "Proofs of Claims due by 2/2/2021." Dkt.50 (emphasis added).

The tentative ruling is that conversion from chapter 13 to chapter 11 does not have the effect of re-setting the deadline to file proofs of claim, with the possible exception of claims for postpetition, pre-conversion claims (the "Pre-Conversion Period"). The tentative ruling is to issue an order substantially in the form of an order in a different case, setting a deadline of 2/2/21 for any person asserting that the 7/20/20 bar date does not apply to them (or 11/9/20 for governmental units) to file a motion and supporting papers, and direct Debtor to serve that order on (i) all persons with whom Debtor had any transactions during the Pre-Conversion Period and (ii) all persons on the creditor Matrix. See In re Lara & Calva (Case No. 2:19-bk-14078-NB), dkt.66.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's Disclosure Statement ("D/S," dkt. 226) and exhibits (dkt.235), Plan of reorganization ("Plan," dkt. 227) and exhibits (dkt.236), and request for judicial notice ("RJN," dkt.239)

Debtor apparently intends to sell some properties, cure arrears on others, and pay tax debts and other claims over 24 months, with a 100% dividend to all creditors. See D/S, Ex.I (dkt.235). But on its face the Plan appears to be infeasible, and its cash flow is unclear.

(i) Cash flow

Exhibit C to the D/S (dkt.235 at PDF p.4) shows $8,000.00 income and $6,108.98 expenses, for net monthly income of $1,891.02, as against monthly Plan payments of over $31,000 (id.), for a monthly deficit of over $29,000. Id. This appears to show that the Plan is infeasible on its face. In addition, there are several other problems with this alleged cash flow.

First, although Exhibit C to the D/S references bankruptcy Schedules I and J, the space to provide a docket reference is blank. Presumably Debtor is referring to docket no. 18, at PDF pp.24-28.

Second, contrary to the instructions on Bankruptcy Schedule I, line 8a, Debtor has not attached "a statement for each property and business showing gross receipts, ordinary and necessary business expenses, and the total monthly net income." Dkt.18, at PDF p.25. Nor has Debtor used Exhibits C1 through C3 for that purpose. See dkt.235, at PDF pp.5-7. Debtor's Plan Exhibit B (dkt.236 at PDF p.9) and his Bankruptcy Schedule G (dkt.18 at PDF p.22) list no renters/leases to be assumed (perhaps because all renters are month-to-month, or perhaps because some rental units are unoccupied, but either way there is no information about this alleged source of income). The upshot is that creditors (and this Court) have no information about Debtor's proposed source of funding for the Plan.

Third, despite the instructions to make adjustments to avoid "double-counting" (dkt.235, at PDF p.7, line 3), Debtor has not made any adjustments. It is unclear whether Debtor's payment on the first mortgage on his home residence (listed in Bankruptcy Schedule J at $3,808.98 per month, dkt.18, at PDF p.26, line 4) is or is not duplicative of the dollar amounts proposed to be paid going forward. See Plan Ex.A (dkt.236, at PDF p.4) and RJN, Ex.3 (dkt.239 at PDF pp.40-46). Nor is it clear how Debtor is accounting for any other ongoing monthly payments: Debtor's Plan appears to include only cures of arrears, not any accounting on ongoing monthly payments. See Plan Ex.A (dkt.236 at PDF pp.4-5), D/S Ex.C (dkt.235 at PDF p.4), and Bankruptcy Schedule J (dkt.18 at PDF pp.26-27).

(ii) Start again

The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor and his counsel to use the existing forms of Plan and D/S but replace the existing exhibits with new exhibits that, in addition to a liquidation analysis and other necessary components, show clearly and in detail (x) all monthly sources of income, (y) all monthly payments to creditors (whether those payments are ongoing, regular payments or payments on arrears or payments on restructured debts or something else), and (z) all one-time payments and the sources thereof. Those exhibits need not be on Local Forms F 3018-1 but they must be in a spreadsheet that performs the calculations, and they must be accurate and clear. A variation on Debtor's Exhibit "I" (dkt.235, last pages) might be sufficient if it were to show ongoing regular monthly payments, monthly payments of arrears, the interest rate, the term, etc. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/17/20 for Debtor to file those documents (but NOT serve them, except on the UST and any parties requesting a copy).

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Doz Cabezas Properties, LLC's ("Dos Cabezas") motion to dismiss case (dkt. 145, 166), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 168), Dos Cabezas's reply (173)

The tentative ruling is to deny the motion without prejudice on the grounds that this Court is not persuaded that, on the present record, sufficient "cause" exists under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4) to convert or dismiss this case.

First, litigation takes time and Dos Cabezas has not presented sufficient evidence to persuade this Court that Debtor is not diligently prosecuting this bankruptcy case and the State Court action. To the contrary, Debtor's prosecution of this case appears to be reasonable in light of the uncertainty and challenges presented by COVID-19, the resulting backlog in state courts, and the great deal of latitude afforded to debtors exercising their business judgment about matters of case administration.

Second, Dos Cabezas' reliance on In re Popp, 323 B.R. 260, 268 (9th Cir. BAP 2005), and In re Owens-Johnson, 118 B.R. 780 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 1990), is not dispositive. True, it is likely that Debtor's anticipated motion to sell the subject property will be subject to objections based on arguments that (i) Debtor cannot sell what it does not own and (ii) a sale under 11 U.S.C. 363(b) and (f) should not, or cannot, be used to defeat a claim for specific performance. But (x) this Court cannot presume, in advance, that those anticipated objections will prevail, (y) even if a sale were blocked, Debtor has other options (e.g., proposing a plan of reorganization, or waiting until a determination in the State Court litigation that Debtor has an ownership interest in the subject property, and therefore can sell it), and (z) even if all of those things were to turn out in future not to be viable options, it is premature to dismiss this case based on that future possibility.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's application to employ Colliers International Greater Los Angeles, Inc., dba Colliers International ("Colliers") (dkt. 138-140, 142, the "Employment Application"), Criscione-Meyer Parties' opposition (dkt. 144), Tarzana Crossing's opposition (dkt. 146, 149), Debtor's replies (dkt. 150, 151, 152, 157)

The tentative ruling is (i) to overrule the objections for the reasons stated in Debtor's reply papers (except to the extent of Debtor's and Colliers' accession to the 6-month term in Debtor's reply papers) but (ii) to prohibit dual agency as set forth below. The "Posted Procedures of Judge Bason" (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) provide notice that Judge Bason's standard employment order prohibits dual agency, and refer to an explanation of the problems with dual agency as set forth in another case. See In re Ebuehi, Case No. 2:18-bk-20704-NB, dkt. 281, at PDF pp.9-10). Nothing in the Employment Application provides any reason to depart from that policy.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the tentative ruling is that the dangers inherent in dual agency are substantially ameliorated if (i) the individual(s) who represent the bankruptcy estate as seller operate out of a different branch office from the office of any individual(s) who represent prospective buyers and (ii) the compensation structure is structured in a way that does not implicate the concerns raised in Ebuehi. The tentative ruling is that, if Debtor and Colliers wish to attempt to meet these conditions, then this Court will set a deadline of 9/22/20 to file declaration(s) addressing these conditions (including a detailed disclosure of the compensation structure), and serve such declarations on the United States Trustee and all parties in interest who attend this hearing. Alternatively, if they do not wish to pursue that alternative, the tentative ruling is to condition any approval of the Employment Application on an absolute bar on any dual agency - i.e., no person at Colliers may represent any prospective buyer.

Proposed order: If this matter is not continued, and this Court is persuaded to grant the Employment Application immediately, Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. and Michael Meyer's ("Claim Objectors"); stipulation & order continuing hearing (dkt. 129, 131); opposition (dkt.137) of Tarzana Crossing, a Merchant Faire, LLC ("Tarzana Crossing"); no reply is on file

Claim Objectors seek disallowance of the following Claims in full: Claim Nos. 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 29, 31, 33, 34, 35, 36 and 37 (the "Claims"). The Claim Objectors assert three grounds for disallowance of all Claims:

(w) the Claims are "interests," not "claims" entitled to a pro rata distribution with other creditors,

(x) the Claims fail to state an amount that is purportedly claimed, and

(y) the Claims are not supported by a copy of a writing as required by Rule 3001(c)(1) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.). Dkt. 40, p.39.

The Claim Objectors also object to claims 24, 25, 26, and 37 on an additional ground:

(z) that they are duplicative of claims previously filed by the holders of those claims. Id., p.40.

The tentative ruling is to sustain the Claim Objection as to all claims on ground "(w)." In addition, the tentative ruling, as to ground "(z)," is to sustain the objection insofar as disallowing the earlier version of each duplicative claim.

(i) Legal standards for objections to claim

"The term 'claim' is broadly defined to mean "a right to payment, whether or not such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, secure, or unsecured . . . ." 11 U.S.C. 101(5)(A) (emphasis added). The term also broadly includes a "right to an equitable remedy for breach of performance . . . ." 11 U.S.C. 101(5)(B). "The Code utilizes this 'broadest possible definition' of claim to ensure that 'all legal obligations of the debtor, no matter how remote or contingent, will be able to be dealt with in the bankruptcy case." In re SNTL Corp., 571 F.3d 826, 838 (9th Cir. 2009). Furthermore, "a claim may exist for bankruptcy and discharge purposes long before a cause of action accrues under nonbankruptcy law." Id., at 839. "It is only necessary that the creditor be able to fairly or reasonably contemplate the claim's existence as of the petition date." Id.

The exclusive grounds under which a debtor may successfully object to a claim are listed in 11 U.S.C. 502(b). In re Campbell, 336 B.R. 430 (9th Cir.

BAP 2005); In re Heath, 331 B.R. 424, 435 (9th Cir. BAP 2005).

(ii) The Claims, apart from the Claim of Tarzana Crossing
With the exception of the Tarzana Crossing Claim (Claim No. 23-1/23-2) (discussed separately below), the tentative ruling is as follows.

(A) The Claims are "equity interests" subject to mandatory subordination (11 U.S.C. 510(b))

Claim Objectors assert that the Claims should be disallowed because they are "interests" rather than "claims." The tentative ruling is that this is correct: the Claims are, by their own admission, equity interests and, as such, must be subordinated to general unsecured claims pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 510(b). See e.g. In re Tristar Esperanza Props., LLC, 782 F.3d 492 (9th Cir. 2015) (a claim arising from an equity interest in a limited liability company is subordinated to general unsecured creditors). See also dk. 1, PDF pp.11-15 (Debtor's listing of alleged claims as equity interests on bankruptcy schedules).

(B) Duplicate claims are properly disallowed

Claim Objectors assert that claim 24-1 is a duplicate of claim 19-1, that claim 25-1 is a duplicate of claim 20-1, that claim 26-1 is a duplicate of claim 18-1, and that claim 37-1 is a duplicate of claim 35-1. The tentative ruling is to grant the objection in substance by treating the later filed claims as amendments to the earlier filed claims, and then disallowing the earlier filed claims as duplicative (i.e., disallow claims 18-1, 19-1, 20-1, and 35-1).

(C) The fact that a claim is contingent is not a proper basis to disallow a claim under section 502(b)(1)

Section 502(b)(1) provides that a claim is not allowable if it is unenforceable under the applicable agreement or law "for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmaturing." 11 U.S.C. 502(b)(1). "Under section 502(b)(1), [ ] contingent claims cannot be disallowed simply because the contingency occurred postpetition." SNTL Corp., 571 F.3d at 838.

Therefore, the tentative ruling is to overrule Claim Objectors' request to disallow the Claims based on the fact that fail to state the amount of their respective claims.

(D) Failure to attach supporting documentation is not a sufficient basis to disallow a claim

Under Heath, "a request for complete disallowance of the claim merely because of inadequate documentation" is not a proper objection. 331 B.R. 424, 435. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to overrule the Claim Objectors' request to disallow the Claims on the grounds they are not supported by copies of the operating agreement.

(iii) The Tarzana Crossing Claim

Tarzana Crossing opposes the Claim Objection on the grounds that its claim (Claim 23-2) "is not based on an equity interest in [Debtor] alone," but is also "based on the same pre-petition claims for which Tarzana Crossing filed suit long before this bankruptcy case was filed . . . ." Dkt. 137, p.6:3-5 (emphasis added). But the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit (the "Ninth Circuit") considered and rejected similar arguments in Tristar, 782 F.3d 492.

In Tristar, the Ninth Circuit affirmed the lower courts' determination that 11 U.S.C. 510(b)'s mandatory subordination applied to the claim of a former member of the debtor limited liability company (the "LLC") who obtained a judgment valuing her equity interest after the LLC did not honor a provision in its operating agreement requiring a buy-back of the withdrawing member's interest. Id. The Ninth Circuit confirmed that § 510(b) "sweeps broadly" (id. at 495) and held that "the critical question for purposes of § 510(b) . . . is not whether the claim is debt or equity at the time of the petition, but rather whether the claim arises from the purchase or sale of a security" and concluded that the "claim must be subordinated if there is a sufficient 'nexus or causal relationship between the claim and the purchase' or sale of securities." Id. at 497 (citation omitted).

The tentative ruling is that Tarzana Crossing's State Court claims are all directly related to and "arise from" its purchase of "security of the debtor" and Tarzana Crossing has not demonstrated that any damages it might recover from the State Court action against the Debtor would be anything but "damages arising from the purchase . . . of such a security." See 11 U.S.C. 510(b).

Therefore, the tentative ruling is to sustain the Claim Objectors' objection to the Tarzana Crossing Claim and order Claim 23-2 subordinated to general unsecured claims pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 510(b).

The tentative ruling is to deny the Claim Objectors' objection to this

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion for remand (adv. dkt. 7, "Remand Motion") and supporting declaration (adv. dkt. 8), Plaintiff's opposition (adv. dkt. 10), Movants' reply (adv. dkt. 12)

On 3/31/20 this Court heard oral arguments, but then continued this matter to allow time for the parties to participate in a second round of mediation. Debtor's status report filed in the main case (2:19-bk-24048-NB, dkt. 169) states that mediation was unsuccessful (Id., p.5:1-4) but also represents that Debtor and Tarzana Crossing have tentatively agreed on settlement terms (Id., p.5:12-15).

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared (a) to provide this Court with any updates on the status of those negotiations (if any) and (b) to address whether this matter should be further continued or this Court should rule on the merits of the Remand Motion.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." (a) Motion for remand (adv. dkt. 7, "Remand Motion") and supporting declaration (adv. dkt. 8), Plaintiff's opposition (adv. dkt. 10), Movants' reply (adv. dkt. 12)

This matter was continued to allow time for the parties to participate in a second round of mediation, which was been scheduled to take place on 7/17/20 (Main Case, dkt. 129, p.2:7-8). On 8/4/20, Debtor filed a status report (Main Case, dkt. 136, p.4:22-26) stating that "the parties were unable to resolve their disputes [at the mediation, but] are continuing to make efforts to resolve their disputes through Mr. Gould."

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared (a) to provide this Court with any updates on the status of those negotiations (if any) and (b) to address whether this matter should be further continued or this Court should rule on the merits of the Remand Motion.

("Plaintiff").

Chapter 11

For the reasons set forth below, the tentative ruling is to grant the request to remand this removed action, but perhaps defer the remand until after mediation, and deny the request for attorney fees.

(i) Jurisdiction

The parties dispute whether this Court has subject matter jurisdiction to hear this proceeding. The tentative ruling is that this Court has "related to" jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 157(c)(1), because the parties' dispute arises from an alleged breach of contract for the sale of the estate's principal asset.

(ii) Mandatory abstention

The tentative ruling is that mandatory abstention applies as follows. Mandatory abstention under 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(2) requires seven elements: (1) a timely motion; (2) a purely state law question; (3) a non-core proceeding under 28 U.S.C. 157(c)(1); (4) a lack of independent federal jurisdiction absent the petition under Title 11; (5) that an action is commenced in a state court; (6) the state court action may be timely adjudicated; (7) a state forum of appropriate jurisdiction exists. [In re Gen. Carriers Corp., 258 B.R. 181, 189 (9th Cir. BAP 2001) (internal quotation omitted).]

These elements are satisfied: (1) the motion was timely - the proceeding was removed on 1/22/20 and Movants filed the remand motion just 30 days later, on 2/21/20; (2) the complaint involves purely nonbankruptcy law questions (breach of fiduciary duty etc., adv. dkt. 7, p. 2:17-21) (Movants state that they amended their complaint on 8/30/19, but there is nothing in the record reflecting what was amended (id., p. 2:21), so this Court bases its ruling on the record presented); (3) the proceeding is noncore - the authorities cited by the removing party (dkt.10, pp.14:24-15:14) are distinguishable because they all involved alleged violations of fiduciary duties within the bankruptcy case itself, not prepetition and nonbankruptcy alleged violations; (4) no independent federal jurisdiction has been asserted; (5) the action was commenced prepetition, on 12/14/18, in Los Angeles Superior Court; (6) there is no evidence that the proceeding cannot be timely adjudicated in the State Court; and (7) neither party has contested in this Court the State Court's jurisdiction over the proceeding.

(iii) Discretionary abstention

Alternatively, and in addition, the tentative ruling is that discretionary abstention is appropriate.

Discretionary abstention under 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(1) requires consideration of the following twelve factors:

(1) the effect of lack thereof on the efficient administration of the estate if a Court recommends abstention, (2) the extent to which state law issues predominate over bankruptcy issues, (3) the difficulty or unsettled nature of the applicable law, (4) the presence of a related proceeding commenced in state court or other nonbankruptcy court, (5) the jurisdictional basis, if any, other than 28 U.S.C. 1334, (6) the degree of relatedness or remoteness of the proceeding to the main bankruptcy case, (7) the substance rather than form of an asserted "core" proceeding, (8) the feasibility of severing state law claims from core bankruptcy matters to allow judgments to be entered in state court with enforcement left to the bankruptcy court, (9) the burden of the bankruptcy court's docket, (10) the likelihood that the commencement of the proceeding in bankruptcy court involves forum shopping by one of the parties, (11) the existence of a right to a jury trial, and (12) the presence in the proceeding of nondebtor parties.

Several of the Tucson factors weigh in favor of abstention. First, the Complaint involves purely state-law issues. Second, this Court would not have jurisdiction over the Complaint but for the Debtor's bankruptcy petition, because the claims arise under state law and there is no diversity between the parties. Third, the Complaint involves several non-debtor parties who have asserted a right to a jury trial. Fourth, permitting the Complaint to proceed in state court will contribute to the efficient administration of the bankruptcy case because the State Court is the best tribunal to adjudicate the parties' state law claims. Fifth, although the Complaint is related to the main bankruptcy case because it involves claims relating to the primary asset of the estate, deferring to the State Court to adjudicate the parties' claims will not unduly interfere with this Bankruptcy Court's determination of other matters in the bankruptcy case.

(iv) Movants' request for attorneys' fees is denied

The tentative ruling is to deny Movant's request for attorneys' fees because this Court is not persuaded that Plaintiff lacked an objectively reasonable basis for seeking removal of this action because the dispute is related to the primary asset of Debtor's bankruptcy estate.

The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

(2) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this Bankruptcy Court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:

Appearances are not required on 10/27/20.

(1) Current issues

(a) Continuance for amended Disclosure Statement and Plan

On 10/14/20, this Court approved a stipulation (dkt. 80) that continued the deadline for Debtor to file and serve his amended Disclosure Statement and Plan to 11/5/20. Accordingly, this status conference is continued to the date set forth below (section 2(d)) to allow this Court an opportunity to review those papers.

(b) Monthly Operating Reports ("MORs") for Aug. & Sept., 2020

This Court's tentative ruling for 10/6/20 (copied below) directed Debtor to be prepared to address how Debtor will be able to propose a feasible plan of reorganization in view of the apparent postpetition losses reflected in the August MOR. This Court notes that Debtor's September MOR reflects a $ 9,158 payment to First Republic Bank/Citadel (dkt. 77 at PDF p. 6), but that payment falls far short of curing the remaining $14,100.19 delinquent adequate protection payments (Id. at PDF p.18). At the continued Status Conference, this Court anticipates addressing whether there is sufficient evidence of feasibility to warrant soliciting votes on any proposed Plan.

Tentative Ruling for 10/6/20:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 10/6/20.

(1) Current issues

(a) Continuance for amended Disclosure Statement and Plan

On 9/16/20, this Court approved a stipulation (dkt. 69) that continued the deadline for Debtor to file and serve his amended Disclosure Statement and Plan to 10/15/20. Accordingly, this status conference is continued to the date set forth below (section 2(d)) to allow this Court an opportunity to review those papers.

(b) Amended Bankruptcy Schedules I & J

Debtor has now complied with the instructions in Bankruptcy Schedule I, line 8a, by attaching a statement of gross receipts, expenses, and net income regarding the Wonderland rental property, showing a monthly loss of $507.55, after deducting principal and interest, real estate taxes, insurance, and only $50.00 for "[r]epairs, maintenance, and vacancy reserves." See dkt.66, p.4. First, this Court questions whether the $50.00 amount just noted is sufficient. Second, neither the $507.55 loss nor its component parts appear to be reflected on line 8a or anywhere else in Bankruptcy Schedules I and J. The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor, no later than 10/15/20, to file further amended Bankruptcy Schedules I and J and/or Debtor's declaration addressing the foregoing.

(c) Monthly Operating Report ("MOR") for Aug., 2020

The MOR reflects almost $17,000 in delinquent adequate protection payments (see dkt.71 at PDF p.16), which dwarfs the reported $4,223.77 and $45.00 balances in Debtor's DIP accounts. At the continued Status Conference, Debtor is directed to address how Debtor will be able to propose a feasible plan of reorganization in view of these apparent postpetition losses.

(1) Current issues

(a) Monthly Operating Reports ("MORs")

Debtor's June 2020 MOR (dkt.58) discloses non-payment of postpetition monthly amounts owed to secured creditors. What is the current status of Debtor's postpetition defaults?

Debtor's July 2020 MOR (dkt.64) is missing the page that would have made similar disclosures, and appears to be missing a number of other pages. What is missing? The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 9/15/20 for Debtor to file an amended July 2020 MOR.

(b) Chapter 11 Plan (the "Plan," dkt. 63) and Chapter 11 Disclosure Statement (the "Disclosure Statement," dkt. 61)

Debtor's projection of income (dkt.61, Ex.C, at PDF pp.8-9) cross-references dkt.20 (Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedules) for a breakdown of Debtor's personal income and expenses and rental income and expenses. There are two problems with that approach.

First, Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedule I does not include any breakdown of income and expenses, despite the instruction on line 8a to "Attach a statement for each property and business showing gross receipts, ordinary and necessary business expenses, and the total monthly net income." Second, Debtor appears to be double-counting. Specifically, Debtor's Plan includes payment of the 2d mortgage on Debtor's home (dkt.63, Ex.A, at PDF p.9, Class 1B), but so does Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedule J (dkt.20, at PDF p.27, last line); and likewise Debtor's Plan includes payment of the 1st DOT on the rental property (dkt.63, Ex.A, at PDF p.9, Class 2A), but so does Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedule J (dkt.20, at PDF p.28, line 17c).

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 9/15/20 for Debtor (i) to file (but NOT serve) an amended Bankruptcy Schedule I with the required "statement for each property or business," an amended Plan, and an amended Disclosure Statement correcting the above issues, and (ii) to lodge a proposed order, in the form provided on Judge Bason's portion of the Court's website (www.cacb.uscourts.gov), setting a combined hearing on final

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:

Appearances required.

(a) Amended disclosure statement (dkt. 204) and amended plan of reorganization (dkt. 205)

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/13/20 for Debtors to file a corrected and "blacklined" Disclosure Statement, and a corrected and "blacklined" Plan, addressing the following issues, and lodge a proposed order (substantially in the form posted on Judge Bason's portion of the Court's website) setting a combined hearing on final approval of the Disclosure Statement and confirmation of the Plan.

(i) The Plan in its current form is infeasible by $1,187.22

Debtors' cash flow statement (dkt. 204, Ex.C) shows a small negative balance after making all plan payments, adding up to the above figure over the life of the Plan. It gives the impression that the Plan is infeasible because Debtors would not be able to make the payments in the amounts proposed. Debtors are directed to address how they can adjust their budget or Plan to cure this shortfall.

(ii) Feasibility

The latest MOR (dkt.206) appears to reflect almost $25,000 in delinquent adequate protection payments (see dkt. 206, at PDF p.8), which dwarfs the reported $750.55 and $4,441.89 in Debtors' DIP accounts. Is that accurate? If so, how can Debtors confirm a feasible plan of reorganization? If not (as this Court suspects), the tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/13/20 to correct this MOR (without requiring Debtor to correct prior MORs, but with a notation on the amended MOR noting that it corrects all prior MORs).

Chapter 11

Tentative Ruling for 9/29/20:
Appearances are not required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Order to show cause ("OSC") re dismissal with a bar, or conversion to chapter 7, or other remedies (dkt. 133); response of the United States Trustee ("UST") (dkt. 144); response by Debtor (dkt. 146) [and additional, untimely responses, dkt.154, 157]

The tentative ruling - for the reasons stated in the OSC, the UST's response, the Procedures Order (dkt.10, 22), and in this tentative ruling - is to convert this case to chapter 7 so that the chapter 7 trustee can explore whether to (i) sell the subject property for its highest and best price, presumably with an agreed carve-out for professional fees, (ii) sell/settle the bankruptcy estate's claims against U.S. Bank, if appropriate, (iii) abandon the estate's assets to Debtor, or (iv) take other appropriate action. Alternatively, the tentative ruling is to dismiss this case, and impose a bar under 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1) for willful failure to appear in proper prosecution of this bankruptcy case.

This Court recognizes that Debtor and her family are in an awful situation: they face the likelihood of losing their rental property through foreclosure, after a series of failures in the State Courts, while also apparently facing medical calamities and other dire circumstances. This is tragic for Debtor, and similar circumstances all too familiar in bankruptcy cases.

But Debtor has not prosecuted this bankruptcy case in any way that would lead to a realistic, good faith use of the bankruptcy system. Even at this late stage, she continues to press highly unrealistic strategies.

Debtor suggests that she may seek to employ a broker "to see if the Subject Property can be sold and the proceeds used to fund a [chapter 11] Plan" (dkt.146, p.3:23-25) (emphasis added), which might provide an "increased [sic] payout to the unsecured creditors" (id., p.3:16-17) (emphasis added), who "mainly" include (apart from possibly underwater junior lienholders) "attorneys that worked on the state court matters over the past several years and creditors related to maintenance of the Debtor's primary asset [the subject rental property]." Id., p.2:8-11. This outline of a chapter 11 plan is nothing but wishful thinking.

Selling property that is underwater will not generate any "proceeds" to "fund" a plan; and as the UST points out Debtor is losing a substantial amount of money every month, so there is no apparent source for any payment to unsecured creditors, let alone any "increased" payments.

True, Debtor hopes that, despite a string of losses in the State Courts, she might be able to pull a rabbit out of a hat by raising a new theory. But, first, Debtor cannot simply ignore the disputed lien meanwhile, and use the proceeds from selling the property to "fund" a chapter 11 plan. At best, any disputed proceeds would have to be held in a disputed claims reserve.

Second, on this record this Bankruptcy Court can only conclude that Debtor's hope of any recovery on her claims against the lienholder is a highly unlikely outcome. Debtor's claims are not a basis on which to "park" in bankruptcy, and gain the benefits of the automatic stay, despite ongoing and substantial financial losses.

Debtor's new theory, as this Bankruptcy Court understands it, is that the meets and bounds description in the deed of trust of senior lienholder U.S. Bank was not simply negligently omitted or misstated but was fraudulently altered, and that this alleged alteration would void the lien. This new theory appears very unlikely to succeed for two reasons.

First, based on what has been described to this Court, the Superior Court's reasoning was that anything to do with the meets and bounds description was immaterial. The rest of the loan documents apparently made it clear what property the parties meant to encumber, and the funds were advanced and used by Debtor, so (the Superior Court apparently ruled) there is no cognizable harm or claim. See, e.g., MTC Fin. v. Cal. Dept. of Tax & Fee Admin., 41 Cal.App.5th 742, 747 (2019) ("To be sufficient the description must be such that the land can be identified or located on the ground by use of the same.") (citation and internal quotation marks omitted; emphasis added).

Second, assuming solely for the sake of discussion that Debtor's new theory might have persuaded the Superior Court to reach a different conclusion if that argument had been raised sooner, the problem remains that Debtor's new theory almost certainly will be precluded at this late stage. This Court takes judicial notice that Debtor's counsel admits Debtor's fear that the California Court of Appeal will bar Debtor from raising this new theory based on "collateral estoppel or res judicata," and will only accept new theories if they are based on "facts that have come to light after the [State Court's] order [sustaining the demurrer] was issued." See Shemtoub Decl. (included in dkt.147), p.4:1-10 (PDF p.13) (emphasis added).

This Court also takes judicial notice that Debtor's counsel admits that this was the reason to recommend proceeding in this Bankruptcy Court rather than before the California Courts. Id. See also Claim Obj. (dkt.139), p.4:8-11. Although Debtor's counsel vehemently denies forum shopping, the tentative ruling is that this is the very definition of forum shopping.

To be clear, this Bankruptcy Court is not actually deciding any of the issues being litigated in State Court. To the contrary, as Debtor notes, this Court has already ruled that the Rooker-Feldman doctrine prevents this Bankruptcy Court from reviewing the State Court's rulings. The point is only that, for bankruptcy purposes, the preponderance of the evidence (indeed, the clear and convincing evidence) is that Debtor lacks "a reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation" and there is a "substantial" and "continuing" loss to or diminution of the estate (the statute requires only that the loss or diminution be one or the other - either substantial or continuing - and both are established in this case). 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(A) (emphasis added).

For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is that dismissal or conversion is appropriate under 11 U.S.C. 1112. The tentative ruling is that conversion to chapter 7 is the most appropriate disposition, because a chapter 7 trustee can prosecute this case in the ways that Debtor has failed to do and shows no signs of being willing to do, and alternatively the chapter 7 trustee can abandon the assets of the estate and leave Debtor and all creditors to their remedies outside of bankruptcy.

Finally, the tentative ruling is that the history of this case establishes that Debtor has willfully failed to appear in proper prosecution of this case within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(1). Therefore, if this case were to be dismissed (rather than converted), it would be appropriate to impose a 180-day bar against being a debtor in any future bankruptcy case.

In sum, although this Court recognizes how awful it is for anyone to lose their assets, that does not justify a misuse of the bankruptcy system. Debtor cannot gain the benefits of the automatic stay while incurring substantial and continuing losses without any reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation.

Supplemental tentative ruling regarding untimely responses to OSC:

The tentative ruling is to strike the untimely responses to the OSC filed by U.S. Bank (dkt.154) and alleged secured creditor Natasha Espinal (dkt.157). Alternatively, the tentative ruling is that those responses only reinforce this Court's tentative ruling set forth above.

U.S. Bank points out that, just like Debtor's claims, Ms. Espinal's claims are the subject of a pending action in State Court. Dkt.154, pp.2:24-3:2. That reinforces this Bankruptcy Court's conclusion that the parties' disputes are properly determined in State Court.

Ms. Espinal asserts in her conclusion that the "issue before the Court is a core issue and not beholden to the bar of Rooker Feldman." [Dkt.157, p.12:5-7] She offers no analysis or citation to authority, and her bare assertion is not persuasive.

U.S. Bank also reiterates:

Although the USB DoT lacks a legal description, it nevertheless contains the correct common street address and correct Assessor's Parcel No. ("APN") for the Subject Property. (RJN ¶ 1). [U.S. Bank Response to OSC (dkt.154), p.3:25-27 (citing RJN in Adv. No. 2:20-ap-01068-NB, dkt.5)]

Throughout this bankruptcy case, nobody has disputed these assertions. This Bankruptcy Court has also verified that the Deed of Trust includes, as part of the property description, an APN (5561-007-032) and a current property address of "9219 Robin Dr., Los Angeles, California 90069" (capitalization omitted). RJN (Adv. No. 2:20-ap-01068-NB, dkt.5) p.9 (Ex.A to RJN). The street address matches the one asserted by Ms. Espinal. See dkt.157, p.13:9-10.

Under the authority cited by Debtor and Ms. Espinal themselves, this appears to be more than sufficient. "To be sufficient the description must be such that the land can be identified or located on the ground by use of the same." MTC Fin. v. Cal. Dept. of Tax & Fee Admin., 41 Cal.App.5th 742, 747 (2019) (citation and internal quotation marks omitted; emphasis added). Similarly, the California Evidence Code provides:

The party producing a writing as genuine which has been altered, or appears to have been altered, after its execution, in a part material to the question in dispute, must account for the alteration or appearance thereof. He may show that the alteration was made by another, without his concurrence, or was made with the consent of the parties affected by it, or otherwise properly or innocently made, or that the alteration did not change the meaning or language of the instrument. If he does that, he may give the writing in evidence, but not otherwise. [Cal. Evid. Code § 1402 (quoted in Espinal Reply (dkt.157, p.8:8-14)) (emphasis added).]

The tentative ruling is that arguments by Debtor and Ms. Espinal are entirely without merit, and that even if they had some remote chance of success that would be an insufficient basis on which to "park" in bankruptcy while attempting to litigate their claims. The supplemental papers only reinforce the conclusion that this case must be converted to chapter 7 or dismissed with a 180-day bar.

(b) Application to employ Joshua Barre and Westside Property Management, Inc. (dkt. 117, the "Management Application"), Order setting hearing (dkt. 135)

Docket 49

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:
Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's small business chapter 11 plan, as amended ("Plan," dkt. 246, 258, 259, 260, 270, 271); Debtor's requests to set hearing on confirmation etc., as amended ("Plan Hearing Request," dkt. 247, 272), Order denying plan hearing request without prejudice (dkt. 304)

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the docket does not appear to reflect that Debtor has resolved the issues set forth in this Court's 9/21/20 order (dkt. 304, p.3:1-12). Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to continue Debtor's Plan Hearing Request to be concurrent with the continued Status Conference set forth below.

(b) SubChapter V Trustee's motion for turnover of Laurel Property (dkt. 280), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 285), Michael Tremblay's response (dkt. 291), Interim Turnover Order (dkt. 300)

There is no tentative ruling. The parties should be prepared to discuss the status of Debtor's turn over and whether any supplemental relief is necessary and appropriate at this time.

(c) SubChapter V Trustee's motion for order (1) directing US Marshal to evict all occupants of Laurel Property and (2) issuing an order to show cause re contempt (dkt. 318, the "Eviction/OSC Motion"), application for hearing on shortened time (dkt. 319), SubChapter Trustee's declaration (dkt. 318), Debtor's declaration (dkt. 320), Orantes declaration (dkt. 322), Order shortenting time (dkt. 323) and POS (dkt. 326), supplemental SubChapter

Trustee declaration (dkt. 328), supplemental declarations of Debtor (dkt. 329) and Mr. Orantes (dkt. 330), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 331)

The tentative ruling is to grant the Eviction/OSC Motion as follows:

(i) Order directing U.S. Marshal or other appropriate law enforcement agency to evict Debtor, her parents, and any other occupants of Laurel Property

The tentative ruling is to grant the request and direct the SubChapter V Trustee to lodge a proposed order directing the U.S Marshal's office to evict any occupant in possession of the Laurel Property, once that office resumes enforcing orders for eviction.

(ii) Issuance of OSC

The tentative ruling is that the SubChapter V Trustee has carried her burden of proof to establish the appropriateness of issuing an order directing Debtor to appear and show cause at the continued status conference (see section (2)(d) below) why this Court should not find her in contempt of this Court's Turnover Order (dkt. 300) and impose sanctions as follows:

(A) Compensatory Sanctions: to reimburse the SubChapter V Trustee for her fees and costs in bringing the Eviction/OSC Motion, responding to Debtor's opposition to the OSC (if any) and appearing at a hearing on the OSC, and

(B) Coercive Sanctions: beginning at $100/day from 10/14/20 (the date Debtor was put on notice of the SubChapter V Trustee's request for sanctions) and in increasing amounts, to be determined at the hearing on the OSC, until Debtor has surrendered full possession of the Laurel Property in "broom clean" condition and in full compliance with the Turnover Order.

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/3/20 for Trustee to file and serve a declaration setting forth the dollar amounts of compensatory sanctions requested, 11/10/20 for any opposition, and 11/17/20 for any reply.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/20/19, converted from chapter 13 to chapter 11 on 1/2/20, and designated by Debtor as a Subchapter V case on 3/2/20 (dkt.128).

(a) Bar date: 6/29/20, dkt. 179 (timely served, dkt. 184)

(b) Procedures order: dkt. 50 (timely served, dkt. 58)

(c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: see above (& dkt.270)

#30.00 Cont'd Status Conference re: Chapter 11 Case
fr. 7/28/20, 9/1/20, 9/15/20, 9/29/20

Docket 15

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 10/27/20.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motions of Baodi Zhou for relief from automatic stay or dismissal of the Investment case (dkt.49, 50, 59); Debtor's opposition (dkt.62), reply (dkt.68)

This Court's ruling on 9/29/20 was temporarily to deny this motion, but to continue the matter to re-assess what progress has or has not been made in this case. The tentative ruling is that Debtor appears to be making sufficient progress - rejecting some leases and retaining a broker to attempt to maximize the value of the remaining assets and businesses - to warrant a further continuance. The tentative ruling is to set a continued hearing contemporaneous with the continued status conference set forth below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/4/20 and converted from chapter 7 to chapter 11 on 7/1/20 (dkt.17). The petition was amended to elect Subchapter V on 7/14/20 (dkt.27). On 9/4/20 this Court ordered joint administration with affiliated debtors (dkt.64).

(a) Bar date: (i) Investment 9/9/20 (dkt. 40; timely served, dkt. 43);
Affiliated Debtors 11/10/20.

(b) Procedures order: dkt.18 (timely served, dkt.20) (also timely served in each jointly administered case).

(c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: vacate the existing deadline of 11/30/20 in view of Debtors' pursuit of a sale of the business.

(d) Continued status conference: 12/22/20 at 1:00 p.m., brief status report due 12/8/20.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Budget motion (dkt. 51), Yunuen Campos' opposition (dkt. 57), Debtor's supplemental declarations (dkt. 71), Campos' response (dkt. 92), interim order (dkt. 101), Debtor's reply (dkt. 103), interim order (dkt.138)

The tentative ruling is to grant the Budget motion on a further interim basis (except as modified in section 1(b) below) and set a further continued hearing concurrent with the status conference (see below).

(b) Insider compensation, Debtor's supplemental declaration (dkt. 71), Ms. Campos' response (dkt. 92), Debtor's reply (dkt. 103)

The tentative ruling is to authorize Debtor to continue to pay Ms. Howerton monthly compensation of $6,000, on an interim basis, and set a further continued hearing concurrent with the status conference (see below) pending additional evidence from Debtor's accountant.

(c) Yunuen Campos' motion for relief from the automatic stay (the "R/S Motion," dkt. 22), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 34), notice of continued hearing (dkt. 35) & proof of service (dkt. 36), Ms. Campos' reply (dkt. 55) and evidentiary objections (dkt. 56), Ms. Campos' supplemental briefing (dkt. 66, 82), Debtor's supplemental briefing (dkt. 71, 72), scheduling order (dkt. 88), Ms. Campos' second supplemental reply (dkt. 102), Debtor's second supplemental opposition (dkt. 114)

The tentative ruling is to take this matter off calendar because the issues have been fully resolved by this Court's order (dkt. 145), without prejudice to any future motion for relief from the automatic stay.

Chapter 11

(d) Debtor's motion to extend exclusivity periods (dkt. 116), Ms. Campos' opposition (dkt. 130), Debtor's reply (dkt. 155)

The tentative ruling is to overrule Ms. Campos' opposition and grant the extension motion, for the reasons stated by Debtor, thereby extending Debtor's plan exclusivity period to 12/18/20, and the deadline for Debtor to gain acceptance of the plan to 3/26/21. Note: Ms. Campos' opposition was not linked to the motion, and in future she is encouraged to double-check that she has complied with the requirement to make such links (among other things, failure to link documents could lead to them being overlooked, to the prejudice of Ms. Campos).

Proposed orders: Debtor is directed to lodge proposed orders on each of the following motions via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1) (B).

(a) Bar date: 10/2/20 (dkt. 39) (timely served, dkt. 52)

(b) Procedures order: dkt.4 (timely served, dkt.18).

(c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 12/18/20 either using the forms generally required by Judge Bason or, at Debtor's election, using Debtor's own form(s) of Plan/Disclosure Statement (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - this Court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

Chapter 7

#2.00 Hrg re: Chapter 7 trustee's motion for order : (1) Approving sale of real property (2101 Wildwood Drive, Forney Texas 75126) free and clear of liens and interest; (2) Overbid procedure; (3) Real estate agent commissions; (4) Directing turnover of real property; and (5) Approving distribution of sale proceeds

Docket 60

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. Conditionally grant the motion as set forth below, subject to (i) the Trustee specifying at the hearing the precise legal grounds for a sale free and clear (i.e., is it under 11 U.S.C. 363(f)(1), (2), (3), (4) or (5), and what are the alleged grounds under which each paragraph is applicable?) (see the posted "Procedures of Judge Bason" available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov), (ii) the Trustee filing a supplemental declaration following the hearing that attaches a preliminary title report (or the equivalent) and shows that all persons who may assert any interest in the property have been served, so that it is apparent what interests the Trustee intends to sell free and clear of, (iii) payment in full of Bayview Loan Servicing, LLC's lien (dkt. 66), and (iv) any overbids at the hearing.

Proposed order: Trustee is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Bayview Loan Servicing, LLC's amended non-opposition (dkt. 66)

Analysis: The tentative ruling is to grant the sale motion and conditionally authorize a sale free and clear (11 U.S.C. 363(b) & (f)), subject to overbids.

In addition, the tentative ruling is to grant the request for a "good faith" finding (11 U.S.C. 363(m)) if Leticia Gutierrez is the successful bidder and, alternatively, subject to the successful bidder or backup bidder filing declaration(s) providing sufficient evidence of such good faith (see the posted Procedures of Judge Bason, available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov).

The tentative ruling is also to grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by Rule 6004(h) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

In future, counsel is encouraged to add a footnote (or similar notation) indicating what has been changed when filing an errata, so the Court does not have to do a line-by-line comparison.

Young Young Food LLC, and For Sanctions

Docket 213

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required.

Current issues

(1) Alleged employees' motion for issuance of order directing Young Young Food LLC ("YYF") to appear for 2004 examination and production of documents (dkt. 146, "2004 Motion"); Order granting 2004 Motion (dkt. 160, "2004 Order"); Alleged employees' motion for issuance of OSC re contempt (dkt. 202, "Motion for OSC"), Order setting hearing on Motion for OSC (dkt. 215, the "OSC"), YYF's opposition papers (dkt. 225, 226, 227), Alleged employees' reply papers (dkt. 228, 230)

The tentative ruling is to find YYF in contempt of court and impose sanctions in an amount to be determined at the hearing and subsequent proceedings, as set forth below.

(a) The alleged employees have made a sufficient showing that YYF violated this Court's 2004 Order and YYF has not responded with argument or evidence establishing that it was impossible to comply

The tentative ruling is to overrule YYF's opposition, grant the Sanctions Motion for the reasons stated in the Alleged Employees' reply papers (dkt. 228, 230), and find that YYF is in contempt of the 2004 Order.

In addition and alternatively, the tentative ruling is that on the merits this Court is not persuaded by YYF's arguments that the (i) 2004 Order is overbroad and (ii) seeks discovery that could and should have been sought in a pending nonbankruptcy proceeding for the same reasons stated in this Court's prior rulings and orders addressing those arguments. See Order (dkt. 173) at PDF p.12, para. "(b)"; Order (dkt. 117) at PDF p.5, para. "(c)"; and Order (dkt. 101) at PDF pp.6-7, para. "(3)."

(b) Sanctions

(i) Compensatory

The tentative ruling is to grant the Alleged Employees' request for compensatory sanctions to reimburse them for their costs incurred preparing and filing the Sanctions Motion, responding to the OSC, and appearing at this hearing. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/5/20 for the Alleged Employees to file and serve a declaration setting forth their time records and expenses, 11/13/20 for any opposition, 11/19/20 for any reply, and a hearing on 12/1/20 at 2:00 p.m.

(ii) Coercive

The tentative ruling is to award coercive sanctions, in an escalating dollar amount to be addressed at the hearing.

(iii) Examination by written discovery

The tentative ruling is to grant the Alleged Employees' request to obtain written discovery of YYF, in lieu of any in person examination out of concerns presented by the risks of COVID-19, by propounding 20 interrogatories on YYF, without prejudice to any follow-up discovery. The parties should be prepared to address what deadlines, if any, this Court should set for serving and responding to the Alleged Employees' interrogatories (or if this Court should defer to the parties to act within the usual procedures).

Proposed order: Alleged Employees are directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Appearances required. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address (1) a proposed timeline, and sequence, for discovery and court proceedings regarding the value of the Paramour and whether Bobs, LLC's second loan is secured or unsecured, and (2) whether this Court should set an evidentiary hearing regarding the value of the Paramour, or whether other procedures are appropriate, such as using a third party appraiser, selected jointly by the parties' own appraisers, who would be either appointed as this Court's own expert witness to assist this Court in assessing the parties' appraisals and testimony of their appraisers, or, alternatively, whose determination would be binding. #1.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [RP]

COMMUNITY LOAN SERVICING, LLC
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 30

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

Grant in part and deny in part as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases

Deny, without prejudice to any other types of relief granted herein (or previously granted), for the following reasons.

The motion requests requests "in rem" relief (i.e., relief applicable notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases (under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and/or In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31)). The tentative ruling is to deny that request because there is no evidence of unauthorized transfers, multiple bankruptcy cases affecting the subject property, or other equivalent cause for such relief.

TOORAK CAPITAL PARTNERS, LLC

Docket 58

Tentative Ruling:

Grant in part and continue in part to 11/10/20 at 10:00 a.m., as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 11/3/20.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

As to the requested relief that will remain effective notwithstanding any future bankruptcy case, continue the motion to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, for service on the persons who executed the documents through which the movant asserts its interest in the property (sometimes referred to in the mortgage context as the "original borrower"). Reasons: See LBR 4001-1(c)(1)(B). In addition, Judge Bason has due process concerns about granting such relief without service on the person(s) whose interests may be most directly affected. See generally Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306 (1950) (due process generally). In this matter, such persons appear to include: PDP Properties Trust, a California Land Trust, dated November 2, 2018.

Option for shortened time: This Court has selected a continued hearing date that contemplates shortened notice (per Rule 9006) but that date is conditioned on the movant (i) serving, on the day after the current hearing date, the motion papers and notice of the continued hearing date, and (ii) filing that notice and a proof of service no later than the next day. Alternatively, the movant may self-calendar a continued hearing on regular notice.

Option for interim/partial order: Movant may elect to lodge a proposed order granting the partial relief provided in this tentative ruling, but any such order must recite that a continued hearing has been set to consider additional relief (or, alternatively, that the movant no longer seeks additional relief and the Clerk's office is requested and directed to take the continued hearing off calendar).

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

Docket 4

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as provided below, subject to any oppositions at the hearing. This Court will accept oppositions at the hearing in view of Movant's failure to comply with Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov), which direct that Movant must provide notice that oppositions must be filed no later than five days prior to the hearing (see dkt. 4, p. 2, para. 7). Appearances required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(4).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31), as applicable:

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed, including any eviction actions, through and including any lockout or other enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that Debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that Debtor was involved and Debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that Debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is not sufficient evidence and notice: there is certainly evidence and notice of a scheme, but not sufficient notice of any allegation that Debtor was a co-conspirator in the scheme.

No prejudice to Debtor intended. Based on the record, it appears that this may be a "hijacked" case, and that Debtor might be innocent of any involvement. See e.g., In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (describing hijacking); In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012) (same). In a hijacking case, the Debtor faces the legitimate concern of being subject to a 180-day bar and other adverse consequences if, for example, Debtor later requests and obtains a voluntary dismissal and subsequently needs to file another bankruptcy petition. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2), 362(b)(21)(A). There is authority that section 109 "eligibility issues" are nonjurisdictional, can be waived, forfeited, or subject to estoppel, and should not be applied if that would produce an "illogical, unjust, or capricious result, or when the benefit of dismissal would inure to a bad faith creditor." In re Leafly, 489 B.R. 545, 550-51 (9th Cir. Bap 2012) (citing cases including under 109(g)(2)). See also In re Mendez, 367 B.R. 109, 116-17 (9th Cir. BAP 2007); In re Luna, 122 B.R. 575, 577 (9th Cir. BAP 1991); Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 270. The same principles apply to any other adverse consequences from a hijacking. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to condition the relief from the automatic stay granted in this tentative ruling such that no adverse consequences apply to Debtor from the hijacking, including under 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2) or 362(b)(21)(A). Note: None of the foregoing will shield Debtor if it turns out that Debtor was not, in fact, innocent of any involvement in the apparent hijacking or other abusive scheme.

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

Docket 52

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Tentative Ruling:

Grant. Appearances are not required.

Analysis

On the one hand, Debtor's excuse (blaming his former counsel) does not match this Court's records of the representations made at the hearing on 10/6/20 at which this Court granted relief from the automatic stay (Debtor failed to respond to repeated communications). In addition, Debtor's declaration does not match the copies of checks provided: the total of all payments does not appear to fully cure the postpetition arrears; the dates on the checks appear to be inconsistent with the payment dates recited in Debtor's declaration; and it appears that fewer than all checks have been photocopied. Moreover, any ability of this Bankruptcy Court to reimpose the automatic stay is limited. See generally In re Wishon, 410 B.R. 295 (Bankr. Or. 2009).

On the other hand, Debtor has now made very substantial payments (even if they might not fully cure all postpetition arrears); and no opposition has been filed by the party who was granted relief from the automatic stay - U.S. Bank, National Association as Legal Title Trustee for Truman 2016 SC6 Title Trust ("US Bank"). The order setting this hearing (dkt. 97) set a deadline of 10/23/20 for any opposition, and that order was served on counsel of record for US Bank. See dkt.99).

Based on the foregoing, the reasons for granting relief outweigh any reasons for denying relief. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to grant the motion and reimpose the automatic stay as against US Bank as of the date and time of this hearing.

#9.00 Hrg re: Motion for authority to sell estate property (3104 Coyote Road Palmdale, CA 93550) free and clear of all claims liens, encumbrances and interests

Docket 50

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required.

The tentative ruling is to continue this matter to 12/1/20 at 10:00 a.m., with a deadline of 11/5/20 for Debtor to service notice on all creditors of the continued hearing date and a deadline of 11/17/20 for any oppositions and 11/24/20 for any reply, all for the reasons set forth below. Meanwhile the parties should be prepared to address at this hearing the issues raised in the Order Provisionally Granting Application and Setting Hearing on Shortened Notice (the "OST," dkt. 53) (except for the preliminary title report and local form of notice of sale, which appear to have been sufficiently addressed by dkt. 59, 60).

It appears that a continuance is required based on Debtor's failure to serve the motion papers and OST on all creditors, as required by the OST (dkt.53, p.2) and by Rule 2002(a)(2) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.). See Creditor Matrix and compare J. Flores Decl. (dkt.58) (omitting, e.g., Chrysler Capital, and Capital One Bank). The tentative ruling is that, because the pending motion for relief from the automatic stay (dkt.37) has been continued to 12/8/20 (by oral ruling at the hearing on 10/27/20), and because no other exigency has been shown, there is sufficient time to continue this motion on the schedule set forth at the start of this tentative ruling.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required.

This Court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (adv.dkt. 13) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(A) Standard requirements

The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this Bankruptcy Court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). This Court has reviewed Debtor's untimely post-confirmation status report (filed 10/27/20) (dkt.194, amended dkt.195). This Court does not have any issues to raise sua sponte, but Debtor is cautioned that failure to comply with this Court's filing deadlines in future may result in adverse consequences. At the continued hearing Debtor is directed to address the status of the contemplated sale of the Honolulu Terrace property. See Plan (dkt.167), p.7.

DEBTOR

Docket 69

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

DEBTOR

Docket 6

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Background

Debtor previously filed a Chapter 11 case on 8/10/20. That case was dismissed on 9/25/20 pursuant to a stipulation entered into between the United States Trustee and Debtor to dismiss the debtor with a 180-day bar on refileing a chapter 11 case. The stipulation expressly stated that the refileing bar did not restrict or otherwise prevent Debtor from filing a Chapter 7 or Chapter 13 case. Movant objected to the stipulation and sought conversion of Debtor's case to Chapter 7. Judge Bluebond overruled Movant's objection and approved the stipulation.

Debtor's Eligibility to File a Chapter 13 Case

Movant asserts that Debtor is not eligible to file a Chapter 13 case because Debtor owes movant alone over $9,000,000.00. (dkt.6, p.10). True, Debtor's prior Bankruptcy Schedules filed in the Chapter 11 case (dkt.7, Ex.1) listed Debtor as owner of the subject property and listed an undisputed, liquidated, non-contingent debt to Movant of $8,750,000.00. But that appears to be an obvious error by Debtor. Both the promissory note and the deed of trust attached to Movant's motion are executed by Debtor as trustee of certain trusts, not in his individual capacity. See dkt.6, Ex. 2&3, at PDF pp.52 & 74.

Chapter 13

Nor is this Court aware of any personal guaranty by Debtor. Therefore the tentative ruling is that Movant has not established Debtor's ineligibility for chapter 13.

Other grounds for relief

But the same facts recited above - about the distinction between Debtor individually and Debtor as trustee of the trust that appears to own the property and be obligated on the debt - cast doubt on whether the automatic stay applies at all in this bankruptcy case. The tentative ruling is that it does not.

In addition, supposing for the sake of discussion that the automatic stay were to apply, Movant has presented evidence that the property is very over-encumbered (see dkt.6 p.8 & Ex.4) which raises questions about whether Movant's interest is adequately protected (11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1)), and whether the subject property is "necessary to an effective reorganization." 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2). In addition, regardless whether Debtor actually holds legal title to the property, his apparent assertion of an interest in it, and his apparent use of this bankruptcy filing to stop the foreclosure sale, might estop Debtor to deny that Movant qualifies for relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1), (2) and (4), or under this Bankruptcy Court's more general powers to grant "in rem" relief under the analysis set forth below.

The tentative ruling is that all of the foregoing is enough to establish grounds for relief from the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1), (2) and (4), and that the burden was on Debtor to rebut that showing by the deadline of 11/5/20. See Motion (dkt.6), p.2 (listing deadline). But as of the preparation of this tentative ruling Debtor has not filed any opposition.

In addition, Debtor has failed to file numerous documents that were due on 11/2/20 (see dkt.1), nor has Debtor requested an extension of time to file those documents. That reinforces the evidence that Debtor filed this bankruptcy case for improper purposes.

Based on the foregoing, the tentative ruling is to grant the following relief.

The automatic stay does not apply

Based on the record before this Court, it appears that Debtor has no cognizable interest in the subject property and is not personally obligated on the subject debt, so the tentative ruling is that none of the provisions of 11

Chapter 13

In the alternative and in addition, this Court recognizes that even if Debtor does not have legal title to the subject property, he might assert or have an equitable interest, and he might be obligated to Movant under various theories (e.g., alter ego), and accordingly the tentative ruling is to grant relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Note regarding mootness: Judge Bason's standard tentative ruling is as follows. For three reasons the above tentative ruling that there is no stay does not moot requests for relief from whatever stay might apply. First, such alternative rulings are appropriate because (i) the very nature of tentative rulings is that this Court could be persuaded to depart from any one of them, and (ii) a final ruling on any one issue could be reversed on appeal. Second, even if there is currently no stay, that could change - e.g., if there is no stay because of dismissal of this bankruptcy case, such dismissal could be vacated and that might reimpose the stay even if there is a lack of adequate protection, or other grounds why the stay should not apply, and therefore the movant will suffer cognizable harm unless the issues are addressed now (Judge Bason regularly vacates dismissals based on stipulations or other good cause). Third, if the motion includes any request for relief as to past acts (annulment) or future cases (in rem relief), those things are still at issue even if there is no current automatic stay. See In re Aheong, 276 B.R. 233 (9th Cir. BAP 2002). For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is that it is appropriate to address the following issues.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1), (d)(2), and (d) (4).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31), as applicable:

laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed, including any eviction actions, through and including any lockout or other enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that Debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that Debtor was involved and Debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that Debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is sufficient evidence and notice.

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that Debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that Debtor was involved and Debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that Debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is not sufficient evidence and notice.

No prejudice to Debtor intended. Based on the record, it appears that this might be a "hijacked" case, and that Debtor might be innocent of any involvement. See e.g., In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (describing hijacking); In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012) (same). In a hijacking case, the Debtor faces the legitimate concern of being subject to a 180-day bar and other adverse consequences if, for example, Debtor later requests and obtains a voluntary dismissal and subsequently needs to file another bankruptcy petition. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2), 362(b)(21)(A). There is authority that section 109 "eligibility issues" are nonjurisdictional, can be waived, forfeited, or subject to estoppel, and should not be applied if that would produce an "illogical, unjust, or capricious result, or when the benefit of dismissal would inure to a bad faith creditor." In re Leaffy, 489 B.R. 545, 550-51 (9th Cir. BAP 2012) (citing cases including under 109(g)(2)). See also In re Mendez, 367 B.R. 109, 116-17 (9th Cir. BAP 2007); In re Luna, 122 B.R. 575, 577 (9th Cir. BAP 1991); Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 270. The same principles apply to any other adverse consequences from a hijacking. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to condition the relief from the automatic stay granted in this tentative ruling such that no adverse consequences apply to Debtor from the hijacking, including under 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2) or 362(b)(21)(A). Note: None of the foregoing will shield Debtor if it turns out that Debtor was not, in fact, innocent of any involvement in the apparent hijacking or other abusive scheme.

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

The automatic stay does not apply

Movant has argued that the automatic stay does not apply, and as of the preparation of this tentative ruling neither Debtor nor the Chapter 7 Trustee has not filed any opposition and the deadline to do so has passed. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is that the automatic stay does not apply.

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

For three reasons the above tentative ruling that there is no stay does not moot requests for relief from whatever stay might apply. First, such alternative rulings are appropriate because (i) the very nature of tentative rulings is that this Court could be persuaded to depart from any one of them, and (ii) a final ruling on any one issue could be reversed on appeal. Second, even if there is currently no stay, that could change - e.g., if there is no stay because of dismissal of this bankruptcy case, such dismissal could be vacated and that might reimpose the stay even if there is a lack of adequate protection, or other grounds why the stay should not apply, and therefore the movant will suffer cognizable harm unless the issues are addressed now (Judge Bason regularly vacates dismissals based on stipulations or other good cause). Third, if the motion includes any request for relief as to past acts (annulment) or future cases (in rem relief), those things are still at issue even if there is no current automatic stay. See In re Aheong, 276 B.R. 233 (9th Cir. BAP 2002). For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is that it is appropriate to address the following issues.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases

Grant the following relief pursuant to the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017):

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed, including any eviction actions, through and including any lockout or other enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that Debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that Debtor was involved and Debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that Debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is sufficient evidence and notice.

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." #9.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [UD]

vs
DEBTOR

Docket 7

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply

This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

Alternatively, the automatic stay does not apply because Movant has presented evidence that any interest Debtor had in the property terminated prepetition, and it obtained a prepetition writ of possession. See In re Perl, 811 F.3d 1120, 1127-28 (9th Cir. 2016) ("We conclude that under California law, entry of judgment and a writ of possession following unlawful detainer proceedings extinguishes all other legal and equitable possessory interests in the real property at issue.").

In the alternative and in addition, this court grants relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Note regarding mootness: Judge Bason's standard tentative ruling is as follows. For three reasons the above conclusion that there is no stay does not moot requests for relief from whatever stay might apply. First, such alternative rulings are appropriate because (i) the very nature of tentative rulings is that this Court could be persuaded to depart from any one of them, and (ii) a final ruling on any one issue could be reversed on appeal. Second, even if there is currently no stay, that could change - e.g., if there is no stay because of dismissal of this bankruptcy case, such dismissal could be vacated and that might reimpose the stay even if there is a lack of adequate protection, or other grounds why the stay should not apply, and therefore the movant will suffer cognizable harm unless the issues are addressed now (Judge Bason regularly vacates dismissals based on stipulations or other good cause). See In re Aheong, 276 B.R. 233 (9th Cir. BAP 2002). For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is that it is appropriate to address the following issues.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Deny, without prejudice to any other types of relief granted herein (or previously granted), for the following reasons.

The motion requests requests "in rem" relief (i.e., relief applicable notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases (under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and/or In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31)). The tentative ruling is to deny that request for lack of sufficient cause shown: there is no evidence of the type typically required for such relief, such as multiple bankruptcy filings or unauthorized transfers combined with a scheme to delay, hinder, or defraud creditors.

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/10/20:

This matter was continued to this date for possible negotiation of an adequate protection order. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no such order has been lodged, nor does the docket reflect any other reason not to grant the motion as set forth below. The tentative ruling is to grant the relief set forth below, except that the tentative ruling is to waive the 14-day stay of Rule 4001(a)(3) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.). Appearances are not required.

Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:

Grant as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

Tentative Ruling for 11/10/20:

This matter was continued to this date to allow movant to serve the original borrower, PDP Properties Trust, a California Land Trust, dated November 2, 2018. Movant has done so. Dkt.63. The tentative ruling is to grant the motion as set forth below, subject to any opposition at the hearing.

laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed, including any eviction actions, through and including any lockout or other enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that Debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that Debtor was involved and Debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that Debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is not sufficient evidence and notice.

No prejudice to Debtor intended. Based on the record, it appears that this might be a "hijacked" case, and that Debtor might be innocent of any involvement. See e.g., In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) (describing hijacking); In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012) (same). In a hijacking case, the Debtor faces the legitimate concern of being subject to a 180-day bar and other adverse consequences if, for example, Debtor later requests and obtains a voluntary dismissal and subsequently needs to file another bankruptcy petition. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2), 362(b)(21)(A). There is authority that section 109 "eligibility issues" are nonjurisdictional, can be waived, forfeited, or subject to estoppel, and should not be applied if that would produce an "illogical, unjust, or capricious result, or when the benefit of dismissal would inure to a bad faith creditor." In re Leafly, 489 B.R. 545, 550-51 (9th Cir. BAP 2012) (citing cases including under 109(g)(2)). See also In re Mendez, 367 B.R. 109, 116-17 (9th Cir. BAP 2007); In re Luna, 122 B.R. 575, 577 (9th Cir. BAP 1991); Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 270. The same principles apply to any other adverse consequences from a hijacking. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to condition the relief from the automatic stay granted in this tentative ruling such that no adverse consequences apply to Debtor from the hijacking, including under 11 U.S.C. 109(g)(2) or 362(b)(21)(A). Note: None of the foregoing will shield Debtor if it turns out that Debtor was not, in fact, innocent of any involvement in the

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

As to the requested relief that will remain effective notwithstanding any future bankruptcy case, continue the motion to the date and time set forth at the start of this tentative ruling, for service on the persons who executed the documents through which the movant asserts its interest in the property (sometimes referred to in the mortgage context as the "original borrower"). Reasons: See LBR 4001-1(c)(1)(B). In addition, Judge Bason has due process concerns about granting such relief without service on the person(s) whose interests may be most directly affected. See generally Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306 (1950) (due process generally). In this matter, such persons appear to include: PDP Properties Trust, a California Land Trust, dated November 2, 2018.

Option for shortened time: This Court has selected a continued hearing date that contemplates shortened notice (per Rule 9006) but that date is conditioned on the movant (i) serving, on the day after the current hearing date, the motion papers and notice of the continued hearing date, and (ii) filing that notice and a proof of service no later than the next day. Alternatively, the movant may self-calendar a continued hearing on regular notice.

Option for interim/partial order: Movant may elect to lodge a proposed order granting the partial relief provided in this tentative ruling, but any such order must recite that a continued hearing has been set to consider additional relief (or, alternatively, that the movant no longer seeks additional relief and the Clerk's office is requested and directed to take the continued hearing off calendar).

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

#6.00 Hrg re: Motion to withdraw as counsel of record for debtors

Docket 393

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required.

Mr. Aimufua seeks leave to withdraw as Debtors' counsel of record in the bankruptcy case and the related adversary proceeding, Mastan v. Ebuehi et al., (Adv. No. 2:20-ap-01633-NB).

(a) Service on Debtors

The proof of service reflects service on the Debtors at a P.O. Box (dkt. 402, PDF p.6), but there is no way for this Court to determine whether that is an appropriate address for service on Debtors. True Debtors appear to have vacated the property that they previously occupied, pursuant to this Court's orders compelling turnover (dkt. 282, 336, 363) and authorizing a sale of their prior residence (dkt. 398). But the docket still lists Debtors' address as that prior residence (619 W. Gladstone Street, Glendora, CA 91740), because Debtors have not complied with Rule 4002(a)(5) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) requiring them to "file a statement of any change of address."

If this Court is persuaded to authorize withdrawal, the tentative ruling is to direct Mr. Aimufua to file, prior to withdrawing, a statement of specifying both (i) Debtors' new mailing address and (ii) their new street address. See LBR 1002-1.

In addition, as the Chapter 7 Trustee points out (dkt.404, p.3:7-8), service on Debtors was not as directed by this Court. Debtors were not served via overnight mail or personal delivery. The parties are directed to address whether this Court should modify the service requirements to cure that defect, or alternatively if this Court should continue this hearing with a deadline of the day after this hearing to provide notice to Debtors, via overnight mail or personal delivery, of the continued hearing.

(b) Service on all parties

As the Chapter 7 Trustee also points out (dkt.404, p.3:9-20), the motion was not served on Kelly Morrison, Esq. of the Office of the United States Trustee, who has intervened in the adversary proceeding. The parties are directed to address whether this hearing must be continued, with a deadline of the day after the hearing to accomplish such service.

(c) Withdrawal

There is no tentative ruling on the merits of the motion to withdraw (dkt. 393, 402, adv.dkt.11), but the parties should be prepared to address whether this Court should grant the motion and whether any such withdrawal should be conditioned on Debtors agreeing to accept service via email in all proceedings. See Trustee Opp. (dkt. 404), p.2:22-27.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 11/10/20:

Grant, in substantial part, the fee application of Debtor's counsel, as set forth below, and take further status conferences off calendar to save expenses. Appearances are not required on 11/10/20.

(1) Current issues

(a) Totaro & Shanahan's ("Applicant") fee application (dkt. 182), objection of the United States Trustee ("UST") (dkt. 184), Applicant's reply (dkt. 185)

The tentative ruling is to overrule the UST's objections and allow the fees except as follows, for the reasons stated in Applicant's papers and below:

Total request (after voluntary $9,000 reduction): $61,345.00.

Total allowed: $57,330.00

Additional analysis: (i) Applicant's narrative and task descriptions, while abbreviated, are sufficiently descriptive for present purposes, and this Bankruptcy Court has discretion to excuse some departure from the local rules and forms. (ii) Some overlap of tasks is not only excusable but desirable: part of the task of general bankruptcy counsel is to monitor and guide special counsel on issues that may implicate bankruptcy issues, or as to which familiarity with the Bankruptcy Judge may be helpful. (iii) Based on this Bankruptcy Court's familiarity with the work performed in this case both by special counsel and by bankruptcy counsel, the tentative ruling is that special counsel needed the assistance of bankruptcy counsel to attempt to address concerns raised by parties in interest and this Court. If special counsel were to seek compensation, their need for such assistance would bear whether and how much to award their fees; but as for Applicant's fees the foregoing rationale warrants some overlap regarding litigation issues. (iv) As noted above, this Court's reductions also have taken into consideration Applicant's voluntary reduction of $9,000.00 (as well as the other justifications set forth in Applicant's papers).

Proposed order: Applicant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

#2.00 Status conference re: Chapter 11 case

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by Debtor's principal, Wayne Tsang.

(1) Current issues

This Court has reviewed Debtor's status reports (dkt.12, 13) and the other filed documents and records in this case.

(a) Executory contract(s)?

Debtor reports (dkt.12, p.2) that its "sole asset in an income producing contractual interest" and this bankruptcy case was precipitated by arbitration of a contract dispute and "lack of information/income from main asset." This implies that Debtor is a party to a contract that might be executory (although that is not necessarily so). Debtor also reports (dkt.12, p.7) that it has no executory contracts: is that accurate?

(b) Employment application (dkt.16)

In connection with the pending employment application of proposed bankruptcy counsel (dkt.16), Debtor's principal, Mr. Tsang, declares that Alkterra Capital "paid the pre-petition retainer of $76,717.00" to proposed bankruptcy counsel "as a gift" for which it will not seek reimbursement, and that "[o]ther than shared leadership/ownership, Alkterra Capital has no connections to, or claims against, the Debtor." Dkt.16, p.11:10-13 There is no disclosure about the business form of Alkterra Capital.

Supposing that Alkterra Capital is a corporation or similar type of business subject to the laws of California or similar laws, this Court is concerned that investors in Alkterra Capital could in future seek to avoid its gift as a constructively fraudulent transfer, or bring similar claims. That possibility could be used as leverage to influence Mr. Tsang's management of this bankruptcy estate, or otherwise cause potential conflicts of interest.

Have any investors in Alkterra Capital been fully informed as to its gift to Debtor, and have they provided their written consent, and/or whatever else might be required (e.g., a vote)? Does the gift implicate bankruptcy-related concerns in any other ways?

Because it might take time to obtain any responses/authorizations, the tentative ruling is to set the employment application for hearing fairly far in the future, concurrent with the continued status conference (see below). The tentative ruling is not to alter the current deadline for any response to the employment application (14 days after it was filed/served), but to set a supplemental deadline of 12/8/20 for Debtor to file a declaration or other papers addressing this Court's concerns set forth above, and a deadline of 12/15/20 for the United States Trustee to file any response it may elect to file on that issue.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed, as a Subchapter V case, on 10/19/20.

- (a) Bar date: 12/28/20 per General Order 20-01 (70 days after petition date in Subchapter V cases) (DO NOT SERVE any notice: one has already been sent, see dkt.9)
- (b) Procedures order: dkt.4 (timely served, dkt.6).
- (c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

Note: Although Subchapter V contemplates only a Plan, not a Disclosure Statement, the required form Plan has not yet been updated to include the disclosures required by Subchapter V (11 U.S.C. 1190), so Judge Bason requires that the form Disclosure Statement be completed as well. 11 U.S.C. 1181(b). Alternatively, as stated in the Procedures Order, Debtor can request to be excused from using the forms.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

- (d) Continued status conference: 12/22/20 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report required.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/10/20:

Appearances are not required on 11/10/20.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's postpetition finance motion (dkt. 136, 137, 141), Yunuen Campos' opposition (dkt. 170), Debtor's reply (dkt.178)

Grant, for the reasons stated in Debtor's reply, subject to the following caveat. As between Debtor and Mr. Fuller, this Court has not altered whatever dollar amounts Debtor must pay to Mr. Fuller to purchase the Fuller Judgments. But as between Debtor and Ms. Campos, pursuant to this Court's Memorandum Decision (dkt.121) and order thereon (dkt.144), the Mediation Term Sheet requires Ms. Campos, under the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, to contribute toward any such resolution of the Fuller matters not less than what she had already offered to settle the Fuller matters: $60,000.00. As this Court has explained, this Court has not yet been asked to adjudicate any dispute about the consequences that might arise if Ms. Campos fails to contribute that $60,000.00, or otherwise breaches her agreement embodied in the Mediation Term Sheet. See Memorandum Decision (dk.121), p.8:3-7.

(b) Budget motion (dkt. 51), Yunuen Campos' opposition (dkt. 57), Debtor's supplemental declarations (dkt. 71), Campos' response (dkt. 92), interim order (dkt. 101), Debtor's reply (dkt. 103), interim order (dkt.138)

The tentative ruling is to grant the Budget motion on a further interim basis (except as modified in section 1(c) below) and set a further continued hearing concurrent with the status conference (see below).

(c) Insider compensation, Debtor's supplemental declaration (dkt. 71),

Ms. Campos' response (dkt. 92), Debtor's reply (dkt. 103)

The tentative ruling is to authorize Debtor to continue to pay Ms. Howerton monthly compensation of $6,000, on an interim basis, and set a further continued hearing concurrent with the status conference (see below) pending additional evidence from Debtor's accountant.

Proposed orders: Debtor is directed to lodge proposed orders on each of the foregoing motions via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1) (B). Debtor is directed to attach a copy of this tentative ruling to the proposed order on the postpetition finance motion.

Tentative Ruling for 11/10/20:
Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Post-confirmation progress

As contemplated in this Court's ruling for 11/3/20 (copied below), Debtor is directed to address the status of the contemplated sale of the Honolulu Terrace property. See Plan (dkt.167), p.7.

(b) Eric Bensamochan, Esq.'s first and final fee application (dkt. 185, 186), no opposition on file

Allow Mr. Bensamochan's request for $21,560 in fees and $1,748 in costs, for a total award of $23,308, and authorize and direct payment of the balance due after applying the retainer. In future, counsel is encouraged to state prominently any difference between the dollar amount requested for allowance and the dollar amount requested for payment.

(c) Sub Chapter V Trustee's first and final fee application (dkt. 188, 189, 191), no opposition is on file

Allow the Sub Chapter V Trustee $23,400 in fees and $952.89 in expenses, for a total award of $24,352.89. Pursuant to the Application, Applicant intends to voluntarily reduce the amount of fees paid by $4,870.58 (dkt. 188, p.1:23-26), so authorize and direct payment of $19,482.31 ($24,352.89 - $4,870.58 = $19,482.31).

Proposed orders: Applicants are directed to lodge proposed orders on each of the foregoing motions via LOU within 7 days after the hearing

(2) Deadlines/dates

This case was filed on 8/30/19, and Debtors' plan was confirmed on 9/4/20 (dkt. 178). This status conference will be continued to 12/22/20 at 1:00 p.m., subject to possibly being taken off calendar if the sale of the Honolulu Terrace property has closed and there are no issues to address.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Continue to 11/10/20 at 1:00 p.m., concurrent with other matters.
Appearances are not required on 11/3/20.

(1) Current issues

(a) Status reports

This Court has reviewed the Subchapter V Trustee's final report (dkt.191). In addition, the order confirming Debtor's second amended chapter 11 plan (dkt. 178) directed Debtor to file and serve a post-confirmation status report by 10/20/20 (id., p.5:8-27). This Court has reviewed Debtor's untimely post-confirmation status report (filed 10/27/20) (dkt.194, amended dkt.195). This Court does not have any issues to raise sua sponte, but Debtor is cautioned that failure to comply with this Court's filing deadlines in future may result in adverse consequences. At the continued hearing Debtor is directed to address the status of the contemplated sale of the Honolulu Terrace property. See Plan (dkt.167), p.7.

9/1/20, 10/27/20

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 11/10/20:

Continue as set forth below, with contemporaneous hearings on (1) whether to vacate this Court's approval of the employment of Debtor's counsel, reduce counsel's fees, or take other action, on this Court's own motion, for the reasons stated below, and (2) whether, after balloting, to grant final approval to the Disclosure Statement and confirm the proposed Plan, all as further provided below. Appearances are not required on 11/10/20.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's Amended Disclosure Statement (dkt. 77) & Amended Plan (dkt. 76), Order setting hearing on DS/Am Plan (dkt. 78), proof of service (dkt. 81), no opposition is on file

At the hearing on 9/1/20 this Court discussed with Debtor's counsel that Subchapter V does not dispense with the need to solicit votes. In addition, the order setting this hearing (dkt. 78) set 9/29/20 as the deadline for Debtor to serve ballots (along with the rest of the voting package). Notwithstanding these express directions, counsel for Debtor did not serve ballots (see dkt.81) and, although the caption of Debtor's proof of service states that it is a proof of service of this Court's order, the Plan, and the Disclosure Statement, the actual proof of service declares only that the proof of service itself was served. See dkt.81.

The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor's counsel to lodge a proposed order, substantially in the form posted on Judge Bason's portion of the Court's website (at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) setting a continued combined hearing on final approval of the Disclosure Statement and confirmation of the Plan, contemporaneous with the continued status conference (see below). The order must include (i) an appropriate deadline to serve that order and serve ballots, another copy of the Plan and Disclosure Statement, and a declaration stating that the Plan and Disclosure Statement have not been altered from the copies previously sent (and are being provided for convenience only), (ii) an appropriate deadline for parties in interest to return ballots, or file objections, and (iii) other appropriate deadlines as set forth in the form order.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within two days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The tentative ruling is to set a contemporaneous hearing, on this Court's own motion, on whether to vacate this Court's approval of the employment of Debtor's counsel, or reduce counsel's fees, or take other appropriate action in response to Debtor's counsel's disregard of this Court's express orders regarding balloting. This Court will prepare that order after this hearing date.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 3/6/20.

(a) Bar date: 5/15/20 per General Order 20-01 (70 days after petition date in Subchapter V cases) (DO NOT SERVE any notice: one has already been sent, see dkt. 11, 18).

(b) Procedures order: dkt.12 (timely served, dkt. 15)

(c) Plan and Disclosure Statement*: See above.

(d) Continued status conference: 12/8/20 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Docket 323

Tentative Ruling:

Continue to 12/1/20 at 1:00 p.m., to be concurrent with the forthcoming motion (dkt.534) to approve a settlement of related matters, and require proof of service of notice of the continuance to be filed no later than 11/12/20, showing service on (a) the plaintiffs in the underlying litigation, Jose Villegas et al., (b) Bohm Law Group, Inc., and (c) any parties in interest who have filed responses to the motion (the DeSimone firm and the Trustee). Appearances are not required on 11/10/20.

(1) Background

Multiple law firms represented personal injury claimants Jose Villegas et al. ("Villegas"). Those firms included Layfield & Barrett, APC ("Debtor"), The Dominguez Firm ("Dominguez"); V. James DeSimone Law ("DeSimone"); and Bohm Law Group, Inc. ("Bohm"). See Opp. (dkt.537), Ex.E, at PDF p.46.

The underlying Villegas personal injury claims were settled for approximately $8,250,000.00. See dkt.534, p.4:9. The total attorney fees of $3,025,000.00 apparently are being held by DeSimone, and the above-referenced law firms dispute their respective shares of these funds (the "Funds"). See, e.g., Opp. (dkt.537), p.12:17-21 & Ex.I; Settlement Motion (dkt.534), p.4:4-14.

The Chapter 11 Trustee, Richard M. Pachulski ("Trustee"), has asserted that Debtor's bankruptcy estate has a lien on any recoveries. See id., Ex.F, at PDF pp.50-51. Dominguez likewise asserts a lien (see Reply, dkt.541, Ex.5, at PDF p.14) as does DeSimone.

Presumably, Bohm also asserts a share of the Funds, but perhaps only out of whatever DeSimone receives. Bohm's position is not entirely clear from the materials reviewed by this Court, and it does not appear to have been served with the relevant papers. See dkt.528, 534, 537. Nor has Villegas been served. Conceivably Villegas or Bohm might know whether yet more law firms claim some sort of an interest in the Funds, although that seems unlikely.

In any event, when there is a limited "pie" of assets, such as the Funds, and the bankruptcy estate asserts an interest in those assets, that appears to be a classic bankruptcy issue for adjudication by this Bankruptcy Court. But in this instance there is a twist.

There is a pending settlement motion (dkt.534) pursuant to which the bankruptcy estate would receive $50,000.00 and would relinquish any interest it has in the remaining $2,975,000.00 of the Funds. That raises jurisdictional issues.

(2) Jurisdictional issues

(a) Disputes regarding the Fund

If the proposed settlement is approved, that would leave only disputes among non-debtor parties. DeSimone has objected that this Bankruptcy Court lacks jurisdiction over that dispute. As summarized by Dominguez:

DeSimone asserts that "Dominguez fails to demonstrate how this Court has jurisdiction over this matter" and, in support, cites to In re Eastport Associates, 935 F.2d 1071, 1077 (9th Cir. 1991); In re Menk, 241 B.R. 896, 909 (9th Cir. BAP 1999); and Zerand-Bernal Group, Inc. v. Cox, 23 F.3d 159, 162 (7th Cir.1994) for the proposition that 28 U.S.C. 1334(b) is not applicable to a dispute concerning two nonparties to a bankruptcy proceeding. [Reply (dkt.541), p.4:9-14.]

Dominguez responds by attempting to distinguish the foregoing authorities and relying on the test for "related to" jurisdiction articulated in Pacor, Inc. v. Higgins, 743 F.2d 984, 994 (3d Cir.1984), adopted by the Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit by In re Fietz, 852 F.2d 455, 457 (9th Cir. 1988):

The usual articulation of the test for determining whether a civil proceeding is related to bankruptcy is whether the outcome of the proceeding could conceivably have any effect on the estate being administered in bankruptcy. [citations omitted]. Thus, the proceeding need not necessarily be against the debtor or against the debtor's property. An action is related to bankruptcy if the outcome could alter the debtor's rights, liabilities, options, or freedom of action (either positively or negatively) and which in any way impacts upon the handling and administration of the bankrupt estate. [Pacor, 743 F.2d 984, 994] [See also Fietz, 852 F.2d 455, 457 ("We conclude that the Pacor definition best represents Congress's intent to reduce substantially the time-consuming and expensive litigation regarding a bankruptcy court's jurisdiction over a particular proceeding. . . . The Pacor definition promotes another congressionally-endorsed objective: the efficient and expeditious resolution of all matters connected to the bankruptcy estate.") (citations omitted)]

The tentative ruling is that under Feitz and Pacor and the other cases cited above this Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction is not broad enough to encompass claims as between non-debtor parties to the Fund once the bankruptcy estate no longer has any interest in the Fund. As noted above, if Trustee's settlement motion is granted then that will be the situation. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to continue this hearing to be concurrent with the hearing on the settlement motion, with all rights reserved to argue the foregoing jurisdictional issues.

(b) Potential disputes regarding the automatic stay

Dominguez also argues:

Finally, issues of Bankruptcy law, prior orders of this Court, and state law are so intertwined that it is simply not feasible to sever the state law claims from those arising from core bankruptcy matters. Should a state court determine that the alleged termination was invalid, then application of bankruptcy law will be required to determine whether DeSimone violated the automatic stay and whether additional assets may be recovered by this estate. While the Trustee may not be willing to expend estate funds to resolve its claims against DeSimone, Dominguez is willing to litigate those issues to the benefit of both the estate and the Dominguez Firm. [Reply (dkt.541), p.7:20-24.]

This Court presumes, solely for the sake of discussion, that as of the petition date the bankruptcy estate had an interest in the prospective contingency fees expected in the underlying litigation, and that DeSimone conceivably violated the automatic stay by taking those fees (or other acts). But generally only Trustee has standing to seek relief based on alleged violations of the automatic stay. Trustee has reached a proposed settlement with DeSimone, and assuming for the sake of discussion that any claim for violation of the stay might survive that settlement, it would be up to Trustee to decide whether or not to pursue any such claim (presuming that DeSimone did not persuade this Court to grant retroactive annulment of the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d), thereby mooting the issue).

In other words, any alleged implication of the automatic stay appears to be several steps removed from any issues between Dominguez and DeSimone regarding their respective alleged interests in the Fund. The tentative ruling is that any potential issues involving the automatic stay are insufficient to give this Bankruptcy Court jurisdiction over disposition of the Fund as between non-debtor parties if the bankruptcy estate has no further interest in the Fund. Again, all rights are reserved to argue the foregoing issues at the continued hearing.

(3) Conclusion

For all of the foregoing reasons, it appears that even if this Court currently has jurisdiction over disputes among Dominguez and DeSimone based on the bankruptcy estate's asserted interest in the Fund, any such jurisdiction will cease to exist if this Court approves Trustee's settlement with DeSimone. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to continue this hearing to be concurrent with the hearing on that proposed settlement, with all rights reserved to argue all issues raised in the parties' papers and in the foregoing tentative ruling.

Bankruptcy Schedules I&J ("I&J," dkt.75)

Debtor's D/S cash flow projections (dkt.89, Ex.C, at PDF p.10) incorporate by reference Debtor's I&J, with some adjustments. This Court does not follow Debtor's calculations, and the tentative ruling is that it would be better disclosure for Debtor (i) to attach a version of I&J to the D/S (right behind Ex.C), (ii) to make hand-written amendments to I&J to show whatever modifications Debtor is proposing, and (iii) to circle on the stipulations with lienholders the dollar amounts that match those marked up I&J documents. This Court's confusion is outlined below.

The dollar amounts of the mortgage in Schedule J (dkt.75, at PDF p.6, lines 4 & 5) are $3,439.00 for the 1st deed of trust ("DOT") on debtor's residence, $3,069.42 for the 2d DOT, and (id. at PDF p.4) $4,270.55 on the rental property (plus $778/mo. in taxes). In contrast, the stipulation with the holder of the 1st DOT provides ongoing monthly payments of $2,945.53 (including P&I, taxes, and insurance) (dkt.84, p.3:16) and cure payments of $735.89 (dkt.84, p.3:26) for a total of $3,681.42 per month, and the stipulation with the holder of the 2d DOT (dkt.82, p.3:16) provides for payment of $4,610.10/mo. ($3,800.00 P&I plus $810.10 for property taxes). It appears that Debtor has added back in $570.00/mo. (dkt.89, Ex.C1, at PDF p.10) to account for a modification in an exhibit "J" (dkt.89, Ex.H, n.C1, at PDF p.22), but no such exhibit "J" appears to be included in the documents reviewed by this Court, and this Court's quick calculations cannot get the dollar amounts to match. Likewise, Debtor has added back $435.45 to make a similar adjustment for the DOT on the rental property. See dkt.89, Ex.C1, at PDF p.10, Ex.H, n.C3, at PDF p.22.

This Court's main goals, in requiring use of Local Forms F 3017-1, has been to avoid double-counting debts, and other errors, and avoid "re-inventing the wheel" by using existing forms (I&J) subject to whatever adjustments are needed. The tentative ruling is that hand-written mark-ups of those forms would provide clearer and more accurate calculations; but counsel for all parties in interest are invited to propose whatever methodology will provide clear, accurate, and complete disclosures. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/20/20 to file those amended documents (but not serve those documents, except on parties who request a copy).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 12/2/19.

- (a) Bar date: 2/17/20 (dkt. 22; timely served, dkt. 23)
- (b) Procedures order: dkt. 5 (timely served, dkt. 9)
- (c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file modified versions (with the modifications clearly indicated, by "blacklining" or other method) by 11/17/20 (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - this Court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).
- (d) Continued status conference: 12/1/20 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report required.

*Warning: special procedures apply (see order setting initial status conference).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." There is no tentative ruling. The outcome of this motion may depend on whether this Court confirms Debtor's amended plan.

(c) Debtor's Amended plan (dkt. 313) (see also Disclosure Statement, dkt. 311), order setting confirmation hearing (dkt. 317), proof of service of solicitation package (dkt. 324), Debtor's confirmation brief (dkt. 329), ballot summary (dkt. 330), objection of Post Acute Care Partners, Inc. ("Post") (dkt. 332), objection of Shiv Raj & Saroj Gupta ("Guptas") (dkt. 333), Debtor's Reply (dkt. 335)

The tentative ruling is that (x) Debtor has adequately addressed Post's objection; (y) Debtor has adequately addressed the non-materiality of her proposed minor modifications to the Plan (i.e., re-balloting is not required); and (z) Debtor has provided sufficient arguments and evidence to overrule most of the Guptas' objections. The Guptas' objections that Debtor has not yet sufficiently addressed are explained below.

(A) Best Interest Test (11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(7)): Debtor's calculations require an adjustment, but even with an adjustment the Guptas have not rebutted Debtor's showing that the Plan satisfies the best interest test

The tentative ruling is that Debtor's alternative liquidation analysis (dkt.335, pp.11-12) should be adjusted to account for the possibility that the secured claim asserted by Patch Of Land ("Patch" or "POL") might be reduced to some extent, based on objections to default interest and other claims by the bankruptcy estate. But the tentative ruling - based on this Court's familiarity with numerous disputes in other cases regarding default rates of interest and other charges - is that the possibility of such reduction, discounted to present value, is less than shortfall in funds that would be available in any hypothetical chapter 7 case. See Debtor's Reply (dkt.335), p.12. See generally, e.g., East-West Bank v. Altadena Lincoln Crossing, LLC, 598 B.R. 633 (C.D. Cal. 2019)

The tentative ruling is that a precise dollar estimate is not required because the shortfall is hundreds of thousands of dollars; the discount to Patch's claim would not be greater than that. In other words, even with the adjustment to Patch's claim as described above, there would be $-0- for general unsecured creditors in a hypothetical chapter 7 case.

Alternatively, assuming for the sake of discussion that any adjustments to Debtor's liquidation analysis would be enough to provide any projected recovery for nonpriority unsecured creditors, that in itself does not establish that liquidation would be in the best interests of creditors. Rather, the issue would require further evidence because any such projected chapter 7 recovery still would have to exceed the projected recovery under Debtor's proposed Plan, and the latter requires more evidence (as noted below).

(B) Adequate means for implementation (11 U.S.C. 1123(a)(5)) and feasibility (11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(11))

Debtor is directed to address whether she has evidence of sufficient loan commitments and/or gift commitments from family and friends to make her proposed commitments in the Plan adequate and feasible. See, e.g., Debtor's Reply (dkt.335), p.14:2-8. The parties are directed to address whether any evidentiary hearing will be necessary to address the sufficiency of such evidence, and the possible scheduling of any such evidentiary hearing and any related matters.

Docket 109

Tentative Ruling:

NOTE: For purposes of the deadline to notify opposing counsel/parties of an intent to contest tentative rulings (1/2 the time between the time of posting and the hearing time), the following Tentative Rulings were first posted shortly before:

1:30 p.m. on 11/17/20.

Appearances required, absent either (1) an agreement with the Chapter 13 Trustee's office and the objecting creditors to continue this matter or (2) withdrawal of the motion by Debtor. The tentative ruling is to deny the motion for the reasons set forth below.

Analysis

This Court has reviewed the objection by siblings and creditors Patricia A. Kennedy and Vincent J. Kennedy (the "Siblings") (dkt. 111), the response of the Chapter 13 Trustee (dkt. 113), Debtor's reply (dkt. 120), and the Siblings' unauthorized sur-reply (dkt. 121). As a preliminary matter, the tentative ruling is to strike the unauthorized sur-reply. Nevertheless, the tentative ruling is to deny the motion for the following reasons.

Modification can be requested under 11 U.S.C. 1329. Section 1329(c) usually provides that a plan as modified may not exceed five years, but the CARES Act added section 1329(d), which permits an extension, in certain circumstances, of up to seven years after the first payment under the original plan was due (for chapter 13 plans confirmed prior to 3/27/20).

To be eligible for that extension Debtor must establish that he "is experiencing or has experienced a material financial hardship due, directly or indirectly, to the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic" and if the modification "is approved after notice and a hearing." (Emphasis added.) The tentative ruling is that Debtor has not established that his alleged financial hardship is in fact due to the pandemic.

First, Debtor asserts that his brother, who has been occupying part of the property, has been making "contributions" to fund the plan but had a reduction in income due to the pandemic and cannot afford to continue with such "contributions" or pay rent. Debtor also asserts that he has been unable to find paying tenants due to the pandemic. Where is the evidence of the brother's financial inability to pay fair rent? Where is the evidence of Debtor's efforts to find a paying tenant (and evict his brother)?

Second, Debtor alleges that his garage is "packed with boxes and other household items, and is not habitable." Reply (dkt.120), p.7:1-3 & Ex.3. Why has it not been possible, since the inception of this case and especially now, to clean up and rent out this space?

There might (or might not) be good explanations for these things. But Debtor fails to address them.

The same concerns apply under section 1325(a), made applicable to any proposed plan modification by section 1329(b)(1). Section 1325(a)(3) requires that "the plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law." See In re Sunahara, 326 B.R. 768, 772-84 (9th Cir. BAP 2005).

The "good faith" determination "necessarily requires an assessment of a debtor's overall financial condition including, without limitation, the debtor's current disposable income, the likelihood that the debtor's disposable income will significantly increase ..." and any other facts and circumstances bearing on the issue of good faith. Id. at 781-82. For the same reasons stated above, the tentative ruling is that Debtor has not established his good faith.

In sum, Debtor has not satisfied section 1329(d) - by failing to provide enough evidence that it is the pandemic that has made the plan infeasible - nor has he provided sufficient evidence of his good faith under section 1325(a)(3). Therefore the tentative ruling is to deny the motion.

#7.00 [CASE DISMISSED 11/4/20]

Hrg re: Motion To Dismiss Chapter 13 Bankruptcy

Docket 19

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances are not required. Deny, for the reasons set forth below.

Analysis

This Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction notwithstanding that the bankruptcy case has been dismissed and closed (due to Debtor's failure to file any of his missing case commencement documents within the additional time allowed by this Court). See dkt.18, 26. Such jurisdiction always exists, and in any event the dismissal order expressly (dkt.26, para.4) retains jurisdiction on all issues arising under 11 U.S.C. 109(g).

The motion papers (dkt.19) assert that Debtor's failure to file case commencement documents was "willful" within the meaning of section 109(g) (1). But Debtor is appearing without an attorney, and it is possible to file a bankruptcy case in the good faith belief of being able to prosecute it only to discover that such prosecution is difficult.

Movant asserts that there is insufficient equity in the property, but Movant calculates an 8% equity cushion after 8% costs of sale, so the total equity cushion is 16%, which is within the range usually considered to provide adequate protection. Even if Debtor's only viable option was to sell the property, that would be one legitimate reason to file the bankruptcy petition (to maximize the sale price and thereby potentially obtain at least some funds that might be exempt or could be used to pay other creditors). Alternatively, even if there were no equity in the property, and even if Debtor fell behind on past payments, other debtors in similar circumstances have been able to confirm plans in chapter 13 or chapter 11. So Debtor's past defaults and allegedly modest equity cushion are not necessarily indicative of any bad faith filing of the bankruptcy petition amounting to a willful failure to appear in proper prosecution.

Movant asserts that Debtor has allowed insurance to lapse and is behind on property taxes. But, first, there is no evidence of that and, second, that is not unusual for debtors in bankruptcy, some of whom successfully reorganize in such circumstances.

Movant asserts that Debtor's indebtedness exceeds the limits permissible for chapter 13. But Debtor is appearing without an attorney and there is no evidence that he was aware of such limits when he filed this case.

For all of the foregoing reasons, the tentative ruling is to deny the motion.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Chapter 13

#8.00 Hrg re: Motion for order expunging the records of this bankruptcy case and finding that debtor's signature was forged on the documents

Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as set forth below. Appearances are not required.

Legal Standard

Although there is no explicit statutory authority which permits the Bankruptcy Court to expunge a bankruptcy case from the record, 11 U.S.C. 105(a) allows the Court to "issue any order, process, or judgment that is necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this title" and, 11 U.S.C. 107(b)(2) provides that upon request of a party to a bankruptcy case, the court may "protect a person with respect to scandalous or defamatory matter contained in a paper filed in a case under this title." Bankruptcy courts have used their authority under these provisions to expunge records of fraudulently filed bankruptcy proceedings. See, e.g., In re Storay, 364 B.R. 194, 196–97 (Bankr. D.S.C. 2006). But cf. In re Whitener, 57 B.R. 707, 709–10 & n.3 (Bankr. E.D. Va. 1986) (declining to expunge bankruptcy case after debtor received chapter 7 discharge but then voluntarily paid all creditors; but citing authority that "[f]ederal courts possess the inherent power to expunge court records when that remedy is necessary and appropriate in order to preserve basic legal rights.") (citations and internal quotation marks omitted).

Application

Debtor in this case asserts that, without his authorization, another individual filed this bankruptcy petition in his name using his social security number and previous address. Debtor asserts that he has submitted formal reports to the United States Trustee ("UST") and the Federal Trade Commission regarding the individual he believes filed these unauthorized petitions, and the UST was served with the motion papers (dkt.17, at PDF p.2) and has not disputed that allegation nor opposed the motion. Based on the foregoing, the tentative ruling is to grant debtor's motion for order expunging the records of this bankruptcy case.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." by Claimant LB Property Management

Tentative Ruling:

Continue to 12/17/20 at 8:30 a.m. to address the following issues.
Appearances are not required on 11/19/20.

Reasons:

Lack of cost/benefit analysis. The posted Procedures of Judge Bason (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) provide:

§ 502: claim objections & cost/benefit analysis. When objecting to claims, be sure to include an analysis of whether the costs of preparing and litigating the claim objection (administrative expenses) do not exceed the anticipated benefits (reductions in claims). For example, if the anticipated dividend is small or 0% then the attorney fees incurred in prosecuting your claim objection to any general unsecured claim probably will exceed the benefit to the bankruptcy estate/debtor, so filing that objection would be a waste of the bankruptcy estate's (and everyone else's) resources (unless, for example, the claim is nondischargeable, in which event the attorney fees might well be justified).

No later than 7 days after the date of this hearing the movant must file either:

(1) a supplemental declaration explaining why the attorney fees for this objection are justified (including supporting evidence, such as a copy of the plan showing the projected dividend to the claimant, and a calculation comparing that projected dividend against the attorney fees related to this claim objection), or

(2) a withdrawal of the claim objection.

No fees on this matter, absent specific authorization. Counsel is directed not to charge any fees on this matter (including all past, present and future work related to this claim objection), and to return any fees received on this matter, unless and until this Court expressly finds: "Counsel has provided a cost/benefit analysis that is sufficient for purposes of Judge Bason's posted Procedures regarding claim objections." It is counsel's responsibility to include the quoted phrase, if warranted, in the proposed order on this claim objection.

This Court does not have the capacity to monitor all fee applications to assure compliance with the foregoing limitation on fees. But if counsel is found to have disregarded this limitation then this Court may impose sanctions.

#16.00 Cont'd hrg re: Debtor's Objection to Claim Number 1
by Claimant TY Investment LLC
fr. 10/22/20

Docket 22

Tentative Ruling:

Corrected Tentative Ruling for 11/19/20:

Sustain the objection in part, and allow the claim of TY Investment LLC ("TY Investment") in the amount of $137,269.12, as explained below.

Appearances required on 11/19/20.

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Debtor's supplemental memorandum of points and authorities (dkt. 37), TY Investment's opposition (dkt. 40), Debtor's reply (dkt. 41), Debtor's objections to Hu & Green Declarations (dkt. 42, 43), TY Investment's sur-reply (dkt. 46), supplemental declarations (dkt. 47), responses to evidentiary objections (dkt. 48, 49), and request for judicial notice (dkt. 50)

Analysis:

(1) Compound interest

This Court's 10/22/20 ruling (copied below) directed TY Investment to provide an amended calculation of its claim without compound interest (i.e., with simple interest from 1/1/15 through 6/4/20). TY Investment's sur-reply (dkt.46, pdf p.5:11-21) asserts that the appropriate recalculated amount is $225,126.75. See also Supplemental Hu Decl., dkt.47, ¶10, Ex.G.

The tentative ruling is that this figure is still incorrect because TY Investment calculated interest on the total balance owing as of 12/31/2014 ($94,831.06) when it acquired the loan (which is the sum of principal, interest, and charges), rather than calculating interest on the original principal balance of $22,444.44 from 1/1/2015 and then adding that figure (and any new charges) to the $94,831.06 figure.

The tentative ruling is to recalculate interest as provided further below.

Debtor contends that the debt is time-barred under California Code of Civil Procedure section 337(a)'s four-year statute of limitations (dkt.41, p.6:8) (citing White v. Moriarty, 15 Cal.App.4th 1290, 1299 (1993)). TY Investment counters that Debtor's reliance on CCCP section 337(a) is misplaced and argues that the correct statute for determining the applicable statute of limitation is CCCP section 882.020(a), which provides for a 60-year statute of limitations (dkt.46, pp.8:16-10:10).

The tentative ruling is that TY Investment appears to be correct on this issue. See In re Sukhu, 107 B.R. 729, 731 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 1989) (finding that the "power of sale under a deed of trust remains enforceable" despite expiration of SOL for enforcement of note under CCCP section 337); Miller v. Provost, 26 Cal. App. 4th 1703, 1708 (1994) (same); Manuel v. Shipyard Holdings, 2001 U.S. LEXIS 18097, at *19 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 2, 2001) (The limitations period set forth in CCCP section 337 "does not apply to a power of sale exercised under a deed of trust").

(3) Usury

The tentative ruling is that the real estate broker exception set forth in Cal. Civ. C. section 1916.1 (see tentative ruling for 10/22/20, section 6 below for full text) to California's usury laws applies because TY Investment has provided evidence establishing that (a) Mr. Green, a licensed mortgage broker, arranged and negotiated the Debtor's loan (b) on behalf of MLS Holdings, Inc. dba Mortgage Loan Solutions (his wholly owned corporation), and (c) Mr. Green expected to receive compensation in the form of a negotiated $3,000 loan fee and any resulting interest. Supplemental Green Decl., dkt.47, ¶¶3-6, Ex.E & RJN, dkt. 50, Ex.A-C.

(4) Calculation of claim

The tentative ruling is that the correct calculation is as follows:

$ 22,444.44	principal per payoff stmt. (dkt.47, Ex.F, at PDF p.36)
$ 516.40	accrued interest (as of same payoff statement)
$ 64,435.16	unpaid interest
$ 7,110.06	late charges
$ 325.00	unpaid charges ( id. , at PDF pp.36-37)
$ 94,831.06	subtotal as of 12/31/14

Plus 21.99% simple interest per annum on the $22,444.44 principal, from 1/1/15 through 12/31/20 rough estimate of effective date of confirmed chapter 13 plan, i.e., six years. This Court calculates that additional interest at $29,613.19, ( $$22,444.44 \times 0.2199 \times 6 = $29,613.19$ ) subject to an adjustment of $13.522 per day for each day before or after 12/31/20 ( $\frac{1}{365} \times $22,444.44 \times 0.2199 = $13.522$ ).

Plus $1,748.74 advanced to the senior lender. See dkt.47, Ex.G, at PDF p.39.

Plus $223.00 insurance advanced. See id.

Plus late fees of $173.78 per month x 60 months = $10,426.80 late fees

For a total of $137,269.12 ( $$94,831.06 + $29,613.19 + $1,748.74 + $223.00 + $4,246.33 + $10,426.80$ ).

The tentative ruling is that any objections by TY Investment to the foregoing calculations are waived and forfeited, because TY Investment failed to calculate simple interest, and because any delay in performing these calculations benefits TY Investment by providing it with additional interest at the 21.99% default rate rather than whatever rate will be required for confirmation of Debtor's chapter 13 plan.

(5) Evidentiary objections

As a preliminary matter, it is not clear that Debtor actually contests any of the relevant facts. Counsel for Debtor is cautioned that in these circumstances it appears that making numerous evidentiary objections is only a waste of everyone's time and money and the tentative ruling is that his fees will be reduced accordingly.

On the merits of the objections, the tentative ruling is as follows:

(a) Objections to Qi Hu declaration (dkt. 40, 42)

Overrule nos. 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 12, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24; Sustain no. 18; and

Overrule as mooted by the supplemental declarations of Messrs. Hu & Green (dkt.47): 1, 2, 3, 4, 9, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17

(b) Objections to Gerald William Green III declaration (dkt. 40, 43)

Overrule nos. 1, 3; Overruled as mooted by supplemental declaration of Mr. Green (dkt.47): 2, 4, 5

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing. Pursuant to Judge Bason's COVID-19 procedures, all appearances are telephonic via CourtCall at (888) 882-6878.

Tentative Ruling for 10/22/20:

Address the factual and legal issues described below at the hearing, and then continue this matter to 11/19/20 at 8:30 a.m., with a deadline of 11/5/20 for claimant TY Investment LLC ("TY Investment") to file supplemental papers addressing the issues raised in Debtor's reply and Debtor's evidentiary objections. Appearances required on 10/22/20.

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Debtor's supplemental memorandum of points and authorities (dkt. 37), TY Investment's opposition (dkt. 40), Debtor's reply (dkt. 41), Debtor's objections to Hu & Green Declarations (dkt. 42, 43)

Analysis:

(1) Confusing arguments

Some of Debtor's arguments are not entirely clear. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is that, in addition to the issues discussed below, the parties should be prepared to clarify their factual allegations and focus their legal arguments on all issues.

(2) Reply raises new arguments

This Court has compared Debtor's original papers (dkt.22, 37) with his reply (dkt.41), and notes that Debtor's reply raises issues and arguments not asserted in the original papers. The tentative ruling is that it is not fair to TY Investment, nor to this Court which is put in the position of having to address the issues without the benefit of briefing from TY Investment. Therefore, the tentative ruling is to continue this matter, with the deadline stated at the start of this tentative ruling, for TY Investment to file a sur-reply, supplemental evidence and responses to Debtor's evidentiary objections (dkt. 42, 43).

Notwithstanding the continuance, it appears appropriate to address some issues on a preliminary basis, so that TY Investment may focus its sur-reply papers, and so that both parties can focus their arguments at this hearing and the continued hearing.

(3) Compound interest

The tentative ruling is that Debtor has the better argument regarding compound interest. Debtor argues:

California Civil Code Section 1916-2 provides that lenders may not charge compound interest "unless an agreement to that effect is clearly expressed in writing and signed by the party to be charged therewith." [(dkt.22, p.3:12-16 (emphasis added) (citing McConnell v. Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., 21 Cal.3d 365 (1978); Wishnev v. Northwestern Mutual Life Ins. Co., 162 F.Supp.3d 930 (2016))]

The parties agree that the critical language of the loan documents provides:

FINANCE CHARGE: We will determine and impose a FINANCE CHARGE by applying a daily periodic rate of 0.0548% to the daily unpaid principal balance for the number of days that balance remains unpaid in the billing cycle. The daily periodic rate is the ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE of 19.99% divided by 365. To get the daily unpaid principal balance we will take the beginning balance each day, add any new debits or Cash Loans and subtract any payments or credits. ..." [dkt.22, Ex.A, PDF p.37 (emphasis added) (quoted at dkt.22, p.3:20-25)]

TY Investment argues that this language clearly provides for compounding interest. The tentative ruling is to reject TY Investment's argument on multiple grounds.

First, a more natural reading of this language is exactly contrary to what TY Investment asserts. The "balance" is more naturally read to mean the principal balance, not principal plus interest (or any other charges). Similarly, the phrase "any new debits" is more naturally read to mean debts such as payment of the senior lien, not interest (or any other charges).

Second, even if the language could be interpreted to compound interest (which it cannot reasonably be interpreted to do), that is anything but

"clearly expressed." Cal.Civ.C. 1916-2. It would not be obvious to any reasonable person reading this provision that compound interest was intended.

Third, if there were any doubt about the preceding two points (which there is not) the spreadsheet attached to the proof of claim (dkt.22, Ex.A, pdf pp.18-32) shows that the original lender did not actually compound interest (or other charges), which strongly suggests that this was not the parties' original intent. The principal balance (in the right-hand column) remains the same for long periods of time regardless of such interest (and other charges) that are charged meanwhile (Id.).

Fourth, even if the loan documents could be read to charge compound interest (and add other charges to the principal due), adding such interest (and other charges) to principal would be unconscionable. See Dkt.37, p.16:1-18:9.

Fifth, Debtor asserts that TY Investment never sent a statement of overdue amounts. Dkt. 37, p.5:13-17. Debtor does not cite authority for the effect of that omission, but it appears that Debtor is implicitly arguing estoppel to assert compounding of interest (and other charges) because Debtor presumably could have taken other steps such as refinancing or selling the property if Debtor had known that the debt would balloon so drastically.

For each of the foregoing alternative reasons, the tentative ruling is to sustain Debtor's objection to any compounding of interest.

(4) Statute of Limitations

Debtor contends that the debt is time-barred under California Code of Civil Procedure section 337(a)'s four-year statute of limitations (dkt.41, p.6:8) (citing White v. Moriarty, 15 Cal.App.4th 1290, 1299 (1993)). The tentative ruling is that because this issue was first raised in Debtor's reply papers, this Court will defer ruling on the issue until TY Investment has had an opportunity to respond.

(5) Registration

Debtor argues at length that various entities involved in the origination and servicing of his loan were not registered with an applicable California agency or otherwise licensed to conduct business at relevant times throughout the history of his loan. But Debtor has not cited any authority establishing that he has standing to object on these grounds, or that the result of not being registered is to extinguish some or all of the debt. Accordingly, on this record, this argument is not persuasive.

(6) Real estate broker

California Civil Code section 1916.1 provides, in full:

The restrictions upon rates of interest contained in Section 1 of Article XV of the California Constitution shall not apply to any loan or forbearance made or arranged by any person licensed as a real estate broker by the State of California, and secured, directly or collaterally, in whole or in part by liens on real property. For purposes of this section, a loan or forbearance is arranged by a person licensed as a real estate broker when the broker (1) acts for compensation or in expectation of compensation for soliciting, negotiating, or arranging the loan for another, (2) acts for compensation or in expectation of compensation for selling, buying, leasing, exchanging, or negotiating the sale, purchase, lease, or exchange of real property or a business for another and (A) arranges a loan to pay all or any portion of the purchase price of, or of an improvement to, that property or business or (B) arranges a forbearance, extension, or refinancing of any loan in connection with that sale, purchase, lease, exchange of, or an improvement to, real property or a business, or (3) arranges or negotiates for another a forbearance, extension, or refinancing of any loan secured by real property in connection with a past transaction in which the broker had acted for compensation or in expectation of compensation for selling, buying, leasing, exchanging, or negotiating the sale, purchase, lease, or exchange of real property or a business. The term "made or arranged" includes any loan made by a person licensed as a real estate broker as a principal or as an agent for others, and whether or not the person is acting within the course and scope of such license. [Emphasis added.]

"Licensed real estate brokers may be either individuals or corporations; the DRE [California Department of Real Estate] issues licenses to both. When a license is issued to a corporation, it is through the license of a designated officer of the corporation." Creative Ventures LLC v. Jim Ward & Assoc., 195 Cal.App.4th 1430, 1442 (2011).

exemption from California's usury prohibition, because TY Investment has failed to submit sufficient evidence on the elements of that exemption. See dkt.41, pp.4:16-5:9 & 11:17-13:12 (citing, inter alia, In re Arce Riverside, LLC, 538 B.R. 563 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2015), subsequent determination, 2015 WL 9590346 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2015); Creative Ventures, 195 Cal.App.4th 1430, 1442 (2011); Winnett v. Roberts, 179 Cal.App.3d 909, 921 (1986)).

The parties are directed to address (a) what elements Debtor asserts are legally required to satisfy section 1916.1 and (b) what evidence TY Investments expects to provide to satisfy each element. For example, Debtor appears to assert that TY Investments:

(i) has not specifically identified what individual or entity allegedly acted as the licensed real estate broker who "made" the loan or "arranged" the loan "for another" for compensation (within the meaning of Cal. Civ. C. 1916.1),

(ii) that the individual on whom TY Investments appears to rely, Mr. Gerald William Green III, has not provided evidence that he was "a licensed broker" (dkt.41, p.12:26-27, emphasis added) at the relevant time,

(iii) that TY Investments has not provided evidence that Mr. Green was acting as an agent for Mortgage Loan Solutions (dkt.41, p.13:3-9), the entity identified as the lender in the loan agreement (dkt.22 at PDF p.35), as opposed to being an officer of a different entity, MLS Holdings, Inc. (dkt.41, p.13:3-5), and

(iv) that Mr. Green acted as "the lender," and hence purportedly is disqualified from having "arranged" a loan for "another" (within the meaning of Cal. Civ. C. 1916.1) (although this allegation appears to be potentially inconsistent with Debtor's assertion that Mortgage Loan Solutions was the lender, and also does not appear to address the exemption for a licensed real estate broker who has "made" a loan).

(7) Evidentiary objections

The tentative ruling is to defer ruling on Debtor's objections until TY Investment has had an opportunity to provide supplemental declarations and/or arguments addressing the factual and legal issues that Debtor has raised.

necessary to cure any arrears on a senior lien (Cal. Civ. Code 2924c(a)(1)) and BBV has not demonstrated that it was necessary to advance $91,930.10 to the senior lienholder, when it appears that the senior lienholder's arrears as of the petition date were only $47,356.58 (see dkt. 38, Ex.C). Therefore, to the extent the advances exceeded the amount of any default (i.e.,  $$91,930.10 - $47,356.58 = $44,573.52$ ), they were unauthorized under nonbankruptcy law.

The parties have not briefed the consequences of making such an unauthorized transfer. One remedy might be for BBV, Debtor, and/or the senior lien holder to seek to unwind BBV's unauthorized payment of $44,573.52 to the senior lien holder. In that event, presumably, Debtor would once again owe the excess $44,573.52 to the senior debt holder, and BBV's claim would be reduced by that same dollar amount. But that does not appear to have happened, so the question is what consequences follow from BBV's unauthorized payment of the senior debt.

The tentative ruling, in the absence of cited authority from either party, is that California law must be construed so as to treat BBV's payment of the senior debt as an unauthorized loan that attempts to replace the (lower) interest rate under the senior loan documents with the (higher) interest rate under the junior loan documents, and that this is impermissible. BBV has not cited authority that someone who makes a loan without authority to do so can charge any interest on that unauthorized loan. Therefore, the tentative ruling is that BBV cannot charge any interest prior to the effective date of any plan; although, after the effective date, it would have to bear "present value" interest pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 1325(a)(5)(B)(ii). In other words, the senior debt paid by BBV does not simply disappear (which would be a windfall to Debtor), but nor can BBV charge (higher) interest on that debt (which would be a windfall to BBV).

(b) Bankruptcy law

All of the foregoing analysis under nonbankruptcy law may be mooted by the superseding effect of bankruptcy law. It appears that both of BBV's payments are void as a matter of bankruptcy law.

BBV's checks are dated 7/8/20 - the same day that Debtor's prior bankruptcy case was dismissed (Case No. 2:18-bk-18060-NB). This Court presumes for purposes of this discussion that the checks were issued after the dismissal (and therefore this Court will not address whether the checks violated the automatic stay in that prior case). This Court also presumes, for purposes of this discussion, that the checks were mailed on or about the same date. But the timestamps reflect that the checks were not received and/or deposited by the senior lienholder until after the 7/10/20 petition date in this current case. The checks apparently were deposited on 7/13/20 and 7/17/20 (see AmClaim, pdf pp. 6-7).

The parties have not briefed which of these dates is relevant, but the tentative ruling is that the date of deposit is the date when BBV's lien against Debtor's real property was increased, and that this constituted a "transfer" of an interest in that property and an "exercise of control" over property of the estate, in violation of the automatic stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a)(3). Alternatively the tentative ruling is that each transfer constituted an act to obtain "possession" of property of the estate in violation of the other clause of 11 U.S.C. 362(a)(3), or an act to "create, perfect, or enforce a lien" against property of the estate in violation of 11 U.S.C. 362(a)(4). On each of these alternative grounds, BBV's advances violated the automatic stay and therefore are void ab initio. See generally 11 U.S.C. 101(50) ("transfer" defined); cf. In re Lee, 179 B.R. 149, 158-59 (9th Cir. BAP 1995) (date of "transfer" involving perfection of lien, under 11 U.S.C. 547), aff'd 108 F.3d 239, 241 (9th Cir. 1997); In re Hagen, 922 F.2d 742, 745 (11th Cir. 1991) (same); see also In re Schwartz, 954 F.2d 569, 571 (9th Cir. 1992) (acts in violation of automatic stay are void).

Note: The tentative ruling is that the transfers also likely constituted avoidable unauthorized postpetition transfers (11 U.S.C. 549(a)), and/or unauthorized post-petition loans (11 U.S.C. 364), which had the effect of replacing a senior encumbrance bearing a low interest rate with BBV's encumbrance bearing a higher interest rate. But the tentative ruling is that this Court cannot make any ruling on those issues because they would require an adversary proceeding. See Rules 3007(b), 7001(1) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

The bottom line is that, in making payments to the holder of the senior lien, BBV violated the automatic stay and therefore both advances are void. BBV argues that there is no harm because Debtor owed the money anyway, but as a practical matter, BBV effectively increased the interest rate that Debtor must pay, which ultimately takes away from any recovery for junior creditors and jeopardizes Debtor's ability to reorganize.

Again, this Court is not ruling that Debtor will receive a windfall. If this Court adheres to the foregoing tentative ruling then the transfers from BBV to the senior lien holder were void, so presumably the senior lienholder must return the $91,930.10 to BBV and Debtor's debt to the senior lienholder will increase by that same dollar amount. That said, the senior lienholder has not been made a party to these proceedings, and Debtor has not commenced any proceeding to compel turnover by the senior lienholder (see 11 U.S.C. 542; Rule 7001(1), Fed. R. Bankr. P.). In addition, if BBV's entire $91,930.10 transfers were to be unwound then Debtor might owe additional interest, late charges, and other charges to the senior lienholder, and there might be other consequences.

Accordingly, although the tentative ruling is that BBV's $91,930.10 in advances were void (because, by increasing BBV's lien, they violated the automatic stay), the tentative ruling is that it would be premature to disallow BBV's claim for those funds at this time. Rather, the tentative ruling is to direct Debtor and BBV to meet and confer, and for both of them to communicate with the holder of the senior lien, to attempt to resolve this matter.

(2) Foreclosure and Bankruptcy Attorneys Fees and Costs

(i) Foreclosure fees, costs & interest thereon

The tentative ruling is to overrule Debtor's objection to BBV's foreclosure fees, costs and interest because BBV's response cites the applicable loan provision that purportedly entitles it to collect these fees/costs (dkt. 40, p.8:1-9) and Debtor's reply does not renew any challenges to these items.

(ii) Reasonableness of attorneys' fees & costs

The tentative ruling is to overrule the objection as to the reasonableness of the amounts charged because BBV's opposition papers attach time records (dkt. 40, Ex.2, pdf pp. 30-40 & dkt. 41), which appear to provide adequate support for the reasonableness of its fees.

(iii) Rule 3002.1(c) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.)

First, the tentative ruling is that it is appropriate for this Court to reach the merits of this issue because although Debtor raised this issue for the first time in her reply papers (a) it appears to be in response to new information provided in BBV's opposition and (b) there is no prejudice to BBV because it filed the unauthorized sur-reply (dkt. 43) responding to these arguments.

Second, on the merits, the tentative ruling is that Debtor appears to be correct that BBV did not comply with Rule 3002.1(c) by filing timely notices of postpetition mortgage fees, expenses and charges in the Prior Case. Although BBV points out (dkt. 43) that any noncompliance was in the Prior Case, the tentative ruling is that for the following reasons this issue is properly raised in this current case.

The tentative ruling is that the burden is on BBV to show why charges that it was supposed to have noticed in the prior case should survive and be chargeable in this case. In addition, if necessary this Court could reopen the prior case and decide the issues in that case instead of in this one, but because this Court presided over the Prior Case that would appear to be form over substance, and any insistence by BBV on parties incurring the expense of reopening might be appropriately charged to BBV as part of this Court's discretion under Rule 3002.1(i) to award "appropriate relief."

All of that said, neither side has cited any authority interpreting Rule 3002.1; Debtor has not shown how she was prejudiced by BBV's nondisclosure of its charges in the Prior Case; and just as Debtor is having another bite at the apple in this current case perhaps BBV should as well - in other words, BBV's apparent violation of Rule 3002.1 does not appear to have caused any cognizable prejudice, and both parties did not fully live up to their obligations in the prior bankruptcy case, so the tentative ruling is that an "appropriate remedy" under Rule 3002.1(i) is probably not to reduce BBV's claim. Therefore the tentative ruling is to overrule Debtor's objection on this ground.

(3) Interest Rate

The tentative ruling is to overrule the objection for the reasons stated in BBV's opposition papers.

(4) Unapplied funds from Debtor's prior bankruptcy case

The tentative ruling is that this objection appears to be moot in view of BBV's filing of an Amended Proof of Claim crediting Debtor for all payments made during the Prior Case.

(5) Conclusion

The tentative ruling is not to adopt any of the foregoing tentative rulings on any final basis, and instead to direct the parties to meet and confer, and communicate with the holder of the senior lien, and meanwhile continue this matter to 10/22/20 at 8:30 a.m.

Tentative ruling for 11/19/20:

Appearances required. Terminate the automatic stay in this case, and any co-debtor stay, and waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3), all in addition to this Court's prior order (dkt.24) granting "in rem" relief applicable to any future bankruptcy case purporting to affect the property.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Analysis:

This Court has reviewed movant's reply (dkt.25) to Debtor's opposition (dkt.16) to the motion, as well as the other filed documents and records in this case. Regarding the disputed valuation of the subject property, the tentative ruling is not to make any finding of fact beyond noting that, even with the valuation in Debtor's bankruptcy schedules, there is not a very large equity cushion. Meanwhile, Movant has presented evidence of Debtor's prior lack of insurance, Debtor's insufficient income to fund any realistic plan, Debtor's multiple bankruptcy cases, and Debtor's lack of proper prosecution of this latest bankruptcy case. The tentative ruling is that the foregoing is more than sufficient "cause" for relief within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

Appearances required.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(4).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Grant the following relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), and/or In re Choong (case no. 2:14-bk-28378-NB, docket no. 31), as applicable:

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Note: Per Judge Bason's posted procedures (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) this Court's order will state that the Court "does not make" a finding that Debtor was involved in the "scheme" referenced in section 362(d)(4), unless there is sufficient evidence that Debtor was involved and Debtor is given clear notice that the movant seeks an express finding that Debtor was involved. The tentative ruling in this particular case is that there is sufficient evidence and notice.

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances are not required.

Grant as set forth below.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

#14.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [UD]

vs
DEBTOR

Docket 57

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances are not required.

Grant as set forth below.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply

On 6/11/18, Debtor received a discharge (dkt. 20) and this case was closed on 6/12/18. Accordingly, pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(1) and 554(c) the automatic stay does not apply post-discharge and closing to either the property at issue in the Motion or in any other respect, except as to the undisclosed asset described in the UST's motion to reopen case (dkt. 25), which is not at issue in this Motion.

In the alternative and in addition, the tentative ruling is to grant relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Note regarding mootness: Judge Bason's standard tentative ruling is as follows. For three reasons the above tentative ruling that there is no stay does not moot requests for relief from whatever stay might apply. First, such alternative rulings are appropriate because (i) the very nature of tentative rulings is that this Court could be persuaded to depart from any one of them, and (ii) a final ruling on any one issue could be reversed on appeal. Second, even if there is currently no stay, that could change - e.g., if there is no stay because of dismissal of this bankruptcy case, such dismissal could be vacated and that might reimpose the stay even if there is a lack of adequate protection, or other grounds why the stay should not apply, and therefore the movant will suffer cognizable harm unless the issues are addressed now (Judge Bason regularly vacates dismissals based on stipulations or other good cause). Third, if the motion includes any request for relief as to past acts (annulment) or future cases (in rem relief), those things are still at issue even if there is no current automatic stay. See In re Aheong, 276 B.R. 233 (9th Cir. BAP 2002). For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is that it is appropriate to address the following issues.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Retroactive relief

Grant the request for retroactive annulment of the stay. See In re Fjeldsted, 293 B.R. 12 (9th Cir. BAP 2003); and see also In re Williams, 323 B.R. 691, 697-702 (9th Cir. BAP 2005) (various issues involving annulment, and application of Fjeldsted), aff'd, 204 Fed.Appx. 582 (9th Cir. 2006), overruled on other issues, In re Perl, 811 F.3d 1120 (9th Cir. 2016) (scope of automatic stay).

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

#15.00 Hrg re: Motion in Individual Case for Order
Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate

Docket 16

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances are not required.

Grant, subject to the following conditions.

After the hearing date this Court will prepare an order and the tentative ruling is to include the following language in that order:

The stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a) applies subject to the following modifications and conditions:

(1) Service and reconsideration. Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this Court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

(3) Very limited ruling. This Court's tentative ruling to grant the foregoing relief is solely for purposes of this motion, and is not intended to have any binding effect with respect to any future

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).
To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Grant as provided below. Appearances are not required.

At the 11/3/20 hearing, the Court continued this matter so that Debtor could serve all of the required parties with notice. Debtor has done so. See dkt. 64. Chapter 13

The tentative ruling is to continue this matter to 12/1/20 at 10:00 a.m., with a deadline of 11/5/20 for Debtor to service notice on all creditors of the continued hearing date and a deadline of 11/17/20 for any oppositions and 11/24/20 for any reply, all for the reasons set forth below. Meanwhile the parties should be prepared to address at this hearing the issues raised in the Order Provisionally Granting Application and Setting Hearing on Shortened Notice (the "OST," dkt. 53) (except for the preliminary title report and local form of notice of sale, which appear to have been sufficiently addressed by dkt. 59, 60).

It appears that a continuance is required based on Debtor's failure to serve the motion papers and OST on all creditors, as required by the OST (dkt.53, p.2) and by Rule 2002(a)(2) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.). See Creditor Matrix and compare J. Flores Decl. (dkt.58) (omitting, e.g., Chrysler Capital, and Capital One Bank). The tentative ruling is that, because the pending motion for relief from the automatic stay (dkt.37) has been continued to 12/8/20 (by oral ruling at the hearing on 10/27/20), and because no other exigency has been shown, there is sufficient time to continue this motion on the schedule set forth at the start of this tentative ruling.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." #5.00      Hrg re: Motion to Dismiss Plaintiff's First Amended
Complaint Pursuant to FRCP Rule 12(b)(6)

Docket      10

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required. Deny.

Proposed order: Plaintiff is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Procedures

This Court has reviewed Plaintiff's first amended complaint ("FAC," adv. dkt. 9), Defendant/Debtor's motion to dismiss ("MTD," adv. dkt. 10, 12), Plaintiff's opposition (adv. dkt. 16), and Defendant/Debtor's reply (adv. dkt. 17). The legal standards applicable to a motion to dismiss will not be repeated here because they are well known and have been summarized in the parties' filed papers.

(2) Jurisdiction, authority, and venue

This Bankruptcy Court has an independent duty to consider its jurisdiction and its authority to render any final adjudication of the parties' disputes. See generally In re AWTR Liquidation Inc., 547 B.R. 831 (2016). There is a pending action involving the same dispute in the State Court (see RJN, dkt.12), which implicates the issue of abstention.

Normally "[u]pon a timely motion" of any party this Bankruptcy Court would be subject to mandatory abstention pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 1334(c)(2). But no party in interest has made such a motion and this Bankruptcy Court is not inclined to abstain on its own motion (11 U.S.C. 105(a)) because (i) the State Court litigation appears only just to have been commenced before this bankruptcy case was filed; (ii) both parties appear to favor resolution of this issues in this forum, because they have filed papers without raising the abstention issue or objecting to this forum; and (iii) there is some question whether the dispute "can be timely adjudicated" in the State Courts (as required by 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(2)) given their partial shut-down on account of the COVID-19 pandemic. For the same reasons, the tentative ruling is not to apply discretionary abstention under 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(1).

(3) Choice of law

The parties have not extensively addressed the choice of law issues. This Bankruptcy Court will apply federal common law, which follows the restatement (second) of conflict of laws section 188. See In re Miller, 292 B.R. 409, 413 (9th Cir. BAP 2003).

Under section 188, "[t]he rights and duties of the parties with respect to an issue in contract are determined by the local law of the state which . . . has the most significant relationship to the transaction and the parties. . . ." Restatement (Second) of Conflict of Laws § 188(1) (1971) (emphasis added).

[T]he contacts to be taken into account . . . to determine the law applicable to an issue include:

- (a) the place of contracting [California and Washington],
- (b) the place of negotiation of the contract [California and Washington],
- (c) the place of performance [Mexico],
- (d) the location of the subject matter of the contract [Mexico, where the real property is located], and
- (e) the domicil, residence, nationality, place of incorporation and place of business of the parties [domicil and residence of Defendant/Debtor appear to be California; the domicil and residence of Plaintiff appear to be the State of Washington; the record is unclear as to the parties' nationality; and the parties' places of business appear to be divided between California, Washington, and Mexico].

These contacts are to be evaluated according to their relative importance with respect to the particular issue. [Miller, 292 B.R. 409, 414 (quoting Restatement section 188(2))]

The tentative ruling is that, although there are certainly very strong contacts with Mexico and some contacts with Washington, the focus of the parties' negotiations and oral promises alleged in the Complaint was California. The fact that Plaintiff invested a huge amount of funds in building his retirement home, based on alleged promises that apparently involved representations of how to skirt Mexican law that might prohibit foreign nationals' ownership of certain property, strongly suggests that the focus of the parties' negotiations was how to structure a contractual arrangement in California that would not apply Mexican law. Therefore, in testing whether the Complaint can survive a motion to dismiss, it appears most appropriate to apply California law.

(4) 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(2)(A): false representation etc.

Defendant/Debtor seeks dismissal of the first claim for relief, under section 523(a)(2)(A), on the ground that Plaintiff has not stated his allegations with particularity, especially in view of Rule 9(b) (Fed. R. Civ. P., incorporated by Rule 7009, Fed. R. Bankr. P.). The issue is what Defendant/Debtor said to Plaintiff and how and why he understood his statements to mean that Plaintiff could maintain his home indefinitely on the land leased from Defendant/Debtor.

Defendant/Debtor also argues (adv. dkt. 10, pdf p.9:15–17) that Plaintiff cannot establish justifiable reliance. The issue is that Mexican law allegedly does not allow leases of land exceeding ten years to foreign nationals if the land is within a restricted zone, and Defendant/Debtor argues that no reliance on alleged promises contrary to that law could be justifiable.

(a) Particularity

Reading the FAC in the light most favorable to Plaintiff, as this Court must do when addressing a motion to dismiss, the tentative ruling is that FAC is sufficiently particular for purposes of Rules 9(b) and 12(b)(6). It alleges that in 2004 oral representations were made that induced Plaintiff to build a home on the land he leased from Defendant/Debtor: Defendant/Debtor "specifically assured" Plaintiff that he (Defendant/Debtor) would "honor" contract "renewal options" in the parties' five year lease, such that Plaintiff could "maintain his home on the property indefinitely, on successive five-year renewal terms, which was vital to Plaintiff's determination to proceed with the project." FAC (adv.dkt. 9), p.3:11-15. Although these allegations certainly could be more specific about the parties' alleged conversation - e.g., did the parties discuss Mexico's restriction on foreign nationals owning property? was there any explanation for not reducing the alleged promise of perpetual renewals to writing? - nevertheless, the tentative ruling is that the allegations are sufficient for "notice pleading" purposes, even with the particularity required for allegations of fraud. The details can be addressed through discovery.

(b) Justifiable reliance

The tentative ruling is that Plaintiff has sufficiently pled that his reliance was justifiable. For purposes of section 523(a)(2)(A), justifiable reliance considers the "qualities and characteristics of the of the particular plaintiff, and the circumstances of the particular case, rather than of the application of a community standard of conduct to all cases" (i.e., a "reasonable person" standard does not apply). Field v. Mans, 516 U.S. 59, 71 (1995) (citation omitted).

Defendant/Debtor argues in his motion that the fact that a Mexican law prohibits certain long-term leases to foreigners renders plaintiff's reliance on Defendant/Debtor's alleged promises unjustifiable. Adv. dkt. 10, pdf p. 13:15. True, the existence of this law might render reliance upon Defendant/Debtor's alleged promises unreasonable. But, for Plaintiff's reliance to be unjustifiable, he must have been aware of this foreign law, and Defendant/Debtor does not allege that this is the case. In addition, without knowing all the other facts and circumstances - such as the nature of the parties' long-term relationship, their conversations, the exact terms of Mexican law, and Plaintiff's intelligence and knowledge of legal limitations regarding both legal and illegal methods of skirting Mexican law - this Bankruptcy Court lacks sufficient information to be able to assess whether Plaintiff's reliance was justifiable. For purposes of "notice pleading," the FAC provides enough information, and the details can be addressed through discovery.

(5) 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(4): larceny

The Defendant/Debtor seeks dismissal of the second claim for relief, under section 523(a)(4), on the ground that Plaintiff has not alleged with particularity Defendant/Debtor's fraudulent intent in taking Plaintiff's property and that Plaintiff has failed to allege that Defendant/Debtor directly took plaintiff's property. MTD (adv. dkt. 10), at PDF p. 14:11–22. But the FAC alleges that in Plaintiff's absence, and without his permission, Defendant/Debtor used Plaintiff's home and personal property and/or allowed others to do the same, in exchange for money, which Defendant/Debtor or his agents kept for themselves. FAC (adv. dkt. 9), at PDF p. 5, paras.14–15.

The tentative ruling is that the FAC sufficiently alleges that Defendant/Debtor wrongfully took Plaintiff's personal property with the intent to deprive Plaintiff of that property. Defendant/Debtor cites authority that a federal common law definition of larceny applies for purposes of section 523(a)(4) (MTD, adv. dkt. 10, at PDF pp. 5:23–26, 6:1), which defines larceny as "a felonious taking of another's personal property with [the] intent to convert it or deprive the owner of the same." In re Ormsby, 591 F.3d 1199, 1205 (9th Cir. 2010) (citation omitted). Whether the federal common law of larceny requires a showing of fraudulent intent apparently remains an open question (id. at 1206) but assuming for purposes of discussion that fraudulent intent must be pled, such intent need not be pled with particularity under Rule 9(b) (Fed. R. Civ. P., incorporated by Rule 7009, Fed. R. Bankr. P.) ("Malice, intent, knowledge, and other conditions of a person's mind may be alleged generally" (emphasis added)).

Chapter 13

(6) Defenses of Laches and Statute of Limitations

Defendant/Debtor argues that Plaintiff's claims are time barred under the applicable statute of limitations and/or the equitable doctrine of laches because Plaintiff became aware of the alleged fraud as early as 2007 and did not bring suit until 2019. The tentative ruling is that Plaintiff's claims are not time barred.

But Defendant/Debtor does not dispute that "a cause of action for fraud is not deemed to have accrued until discovery by the aggrieved party of the facts constituting the fraud." MTD (adv. dkt. 10), p.7:3–7 (citing Cal. CCP 338(d)). True, the FAC alleges that as early as 2007 Defendant/Debtor sought to alter the terms of the parties' alleged agreement (see FAC, adv. dkt. 9, at PDF p. 4, paras. 11–12; and MTD, adv. dkt. 10, at PDF p.11:10–19), but that is not the same as revealing a lack of intent ever to abide by that agreement in the first place.

In other words, it is a factual issue when Plaintiff was on sufficient notice to start the running of the time bars on any claim based on Defendant/Debtor's alleged intent not to honor his alleged promise of perpetually renewing the five year lease. The tentative ruling is that the MTD has not established sufficient grounds to dismiss the FAC based on any time bar as a matter of law.

fr. 10/27/20

Docket 271

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/1/20:
Appearances required.

Current issues

(1) Compensatory sanctions: Second turnover order (dkt. 248), motion for sanctions (dkt. 267), Order to Show Cause ("OSC," dkt. 271), interim Order for coercive and compensatory sanctions ("Interim Order," dkt. 283), Trustee's declaration (dkt. 290), Debtor's response (dkt. 299), Trustee's reply (dkt. 303)

The tentative ruling is to overrule in part and sustain in part Debtor's objections to the compensatory sanctions requested by the Trustee.

Proposed order: The Trustee is directed to lodge a proposed further interim order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's further interim ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(a) Debtor's violation of the Turnover Order is law of the case, and alternatively is established on the record presented

The tentative ruling is to overrule Debtor's opposition to the extent she seeks to re-litigate her purported compliance with the turnover order as of 8/4/20. Any such arguments/evidence are barred by the law of the case: they have previously been overruled and/or waived or forfeited in the litigation leading to the issuance of the OSC.

Alternatively, even if this Court were to consider Debtor's allegations and evidence on that issue, she fails to establish that she turned over keys and codes or timely notified the Trustee that she had vacated the premises (if, in fact, she did move out when she alleges she did). Debtor now alleges that she did notify the Trustee that she moved out, but she fails to present any actual evidence of such a notification: her emails (some of which are undated excerpts) state only, long after 8/20/20, that "I have obeyed the court order" - although, as this Court has noted before, clearly she had not done so because she had not turned over keys and codes - and that she had notified her own attorneys that she had moved out (dkt. 299, Ex.1, at PDF pp.11 & 15). But the Trustee has presented ample evidence that, in response to the Trustee's simple and direct questions about whether Debtor had moved out and the Trustee's evidence of lights being on, she failed to confirm that she had in fact moved out. See Motion (dkt.267), Ex.3-4 (at PDF pp.35-43). In sum, Debtor has failed to rebut the Trustee's evidence that she did not comply with the turnover order (dkt. 248).

These are not, as Debtor argues, "a few technical violations." Dkt. 299, p.4:18-19 (quoting case summary from Vertex Distrib., Inc. v. Falcon Foam Plastics, Inc., 689 F.2d 885, 891-92 (9th Cir. 1982) (citation omitted)). Absent notice to the Trustee, and turnover of keys and codes, no effective turnover occurred: the bankruptcy estate was delayed in attempting to clean up, market, and sell the property.

(b) "But for" causation of damages arising from violation of the second turnover order

Debtor is correct that some damages, such as the cost of insurance that pre-dates the second turnover order, is not caused by Debtor's violation of that order. There must be "but for" causation. See Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. v. Hager, 137 S.Ct. 1178 (2017) (rejecting award of all attorney fees, including prior to when sanctionable conduct occurred).

But this Court wonders if Debtor's arguments are missing the forest for the trees. It appears that Debtor ultimately will have to pay all of the costs for which the Trustee seeks reimbursement, so it is unclear what Debtor hopes to gain by litigating each item.

(i) Debtor apparently will have to pay for the insurance and other expenses anyway

Chapter 7

As the Trustee points out (dkt. 303, p.4:1-4), Debtor's failure to maintain insurance violates a different stipulation and order of this Court. Does Debtor want the Trustee to file another motion, for another OSC, to impose sanctions for violating that separate order?

Even if Debtor were not held in contempt for violating that separate order, would Debtor have grounds to contest the Trustee's insurance expense as a cost of administration? On the record before this Court, there is no reason why such expenses would be disallowed. So, unless the bankruptcy estate turns out to be insolvent, Debtor will pay for all this anyway.

Why would Debtor not offer to stipulate with the Trustee that all reasonable expenses such as insurance are allowable expenses of administration? Debtor's litigation is only increasing the expenses that she herself will have to pay, because those expenses will be deducted from any costs of selling the property (or refinancing it if, contrary to all indications in the record, Debtor has any ability to refinance it).

In this situation, it is difficult to see Debtor's opposition to each request for reimbursement by the Trustee as anything but (i) an attempt to force the Trustee to incur more litigation expenses, on top of the "carrying costs" of all expenses until he is reimbursed, and/or (i) an attempt to cause delay, or to achieve other improper purposes? See Rule 9011 (Fed. R. Bankr. P.). Debtor is directed to address these issues at the hearing.

(ii) "But for" causation

The longer Debtor has delayed her compliance with the turnover order, the more the Trustee was delayed in cleaning up and selling the property. For example, because Debtor refused to answer the Trustee's simple questions about whether she had vacated the property, and because Debtor failed to turn over keys and codes, the Trustee was forced to obtain the services of the United States Marshal and a locksmith to gain access to the premises and to make the premises marketable (Debtor does not explain how the Trustee could market and sell a house with locked doors).

Debtor thus caused a delay from 8/20/20 through at least the date the Trustee was able to arrange for the US Marshal and the locksmith on 11/1/20 (see dkt.303, p.7:7-10 & p.7:15-18), but in actuality it was a longer delay because Debtor did not remove all of her personal property. Dkt. 303, p.7:11-14. Therefore, the Trustee was further delayed by having to notify

United States Bankruptcy Court

Debtor that her property would be removed (dkt. 303, Ex.5) and, when Debtor failed to respond and remove that property, by arranging for and actually removing that personal property, all of which took through 11/15/20. Id., Ensley Decl., pp.8:10-8:9 & Ex.2E through Ex.5 (at PDF pp.40-55).

In other words, the Trustee has presented evidence of "but for" causation of damages from 8/20/20 (when Debtor was obligated to turn over all keys and codes and notify the Trustee) through 11/15/20. Until the premises were fully turned over, with all personal property removed, not only was Debtor in violation of the second turnover order, but the Trustee was forced to expend funds on a longer period of insurance and other expenses than if Debtor had complied.

To be clear, this Court recognizes that the Trustee could not have sold the property instantaneously, so even if Debtor had fully complied with the turnover order as of 8/20/20, the Trustee would still have had the insurance expense the next day (8/21/20) and subsequent days. But if, for example, it takes 90 days from full turnover of the property to sell it, and Debtor delayed full turnover until 11/15/20, then instead of having to procure insurance for 90 days from 8/20/20, the Trustee had to procure insurance for 90 days from 11/15/20. Therefore, there is "but for" causation.

Having addressed Debtor's "but for" causation argument, this Court turns to each item of compensatory damages sought by the Trustee.

(c) Property insurance

Sustain in part, overrule in part, Debtor's objection and allow insurance for August 20-31 [ $$2,328.04 / 31 \text{ days} = $75.098 \times 11 \text{ days} = $826.08$ ], September [ $$2,328.04$ ] & October [ $$2,328.04$ ] for a total \$5,482.16 [ $$826.08 + $2,328.04 + $2,328.04 = $5,482.16$ ].

In addition, in connection with the continued hearing set forth below, the Trustee can provide supplemental evidence as to insurance expenses for November, December, January, and later months as appropriate. In addition, as noted above, it appears that the Trustee has multiple avenues to seek reimbursement for all earlier insurance expense. In sum, the foregoing partial award is without prejudice to any request by the Trustee for reimbursement of all other insurance expenses.

(d) Rent

Debtor appears to question whether any rental expense is appropriate, because this is not a rental property. Debtor misses the point (or at least pretends to).

Chapter 7

The point is that occupancy of property has a measurable value, and the bankruptcy estate has been damaged by not receiving compensation for that occupancy. Among other things, payment of a market rate of "rent" for the premises would help to offset the extent to which the Trustee has to come "out of pocket" to cover insurance and other expenses. Payment of "rent" also helps to compensate the bankruptcy estate for the risks of the real estate market, which is particularly troublesome in this time of uncertainty caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. In other words, there is a risk of a downturn in the real estate market, and the bankruptcy estate is damaged for every day of delay in marketing and selling the property - paying the fair market rate to occupy the property is one way partially to compensate the bankruptcy estate for that damage.

But as to the specific dollar amount, the tentative ruling is to sustain Debtor's evidentiary objections (dkt. 299, p.6:9-15) as to the evidence of the fair market rental value of the property. This Court will provide the parties with the opportunity to file supplemental papers and set a continued hearing as set forth below.

(e) US Marshal

Overrule Debtor's opposition and allow $2,274.35.

(f) Locksmith

Overrule Debtor's opposition and allow $1,446.91.

(g) Brush & tree cleaning

Sustain Debtor's objection in full. This Court's second turnover order (dkt. 248) did not require Debtor to pay costs associated with landscaping cleanup. (Again, however, this appears to be a proper expense of administration, so this Court wonders why Debtor is expending resources to litigate this issue, unless she is doing so for improper purposes such as to impose litigation expenses on the Trustee and cause undue delay.)

(h) Personal property removal

The tentative ruling is that fees and costs incurred to remove all of Debtor's personal property are appropriate compensatory sanctions. See 2d

The parties should be prepared to address whether they will stipulate to Trustee's $1,000 estimate or if this Court should set further briefing deadlines once he has evidence of actual costs.

(2) Continued hearing

The tentative ruling is to set a further continued hearing for 1/26/21 at 11:00 a.m. (concurrent with another scheduled matter), with deadlines of 1/5/21 for the Trustee's supplemental evidence of additional insurance expense, the fair market rental rate for the property, and any other supplemental evidence (e.g., costs of personal property removal, if the parties do not stipulate to the dollar amount), 1/12/21 for Debtor's response, and 1/19/21 for the Trustee's reply.

#1.00 Status conference re: Chapter 11 case

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

(1) Current issues

(a) Reassignment?

Debtor's 50% owner, Residence Group, Inc., has filed a bankruptcy petition (Case No. 2:20-bk-20261-BR). See dkt. 20 at PDF p.24 (disclosing 50% ownership interest and bankruptcy case). Ordinarily affiliated cases are assigned to the same bankruptcy judge (usually the judge presiding over the lower numbered case), but the bankruptcy petition in the Residence Group case failed to disclose Debtor's bankruptcy case. See In re Residence Group, Inc. (Case No. 2:20-bk-20261-BB), dkt.1, p.2, line 10.

Is there any reason why Judge Bason should not coordinate with Judge Russell about reassignment of one or the other case so that both are before the same judge? Are there any other affiliated bankruptcy cases?

(b) First-Day Motions

Based on this Court's review of Debtor's status reports (dkt. 11 & 13), the tentative ruling is to excuse the usual requirement to file a budget motion (see posted procedures available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) and other first day motions.

et al. ("Villegas"). Those firms included Layfield & Barrett, APC ("Debtor"), The Dominguez Firm ("Dominguez"); V. James DeSimone Law ("DeSimone"); and Bohm Law Group, Inc. ("Bohm"). See Opp. (dkt.537), Ex.E, at PDF p.46.

The underlying Villegas personal injury claims were settled for approximately $8,250,000.00. See dkt.534, p.4:9. The total attorney fees of $3,025,000.00 apparently are being held by DeSimone, and the above-referenced law firms dispute their respective shares of these funds (the "Funds"). See, e.g., Opp. (dkt.537), p.12:17-21 & Ex.I; Settlement Motion (dkt.534), p.4:4-14.

The Chapter 11 Trustee, Richard M. Pachulski ("Trustee"), has asserted that Debtor's bankruptcy estate has a lien on any recoveries. See id., Ex.F, at PDF pp.50-51. Dominguez likewise asserts a lien (see Reply, dkt.541, Ex.5, at PDF p.14) as does DeSimone.

Presumably, Bohm also asserts a share of the Funds, but perhaps only out of whatever DeSimone receives. Bohm's position is not entirely clear from the materials reviewed by this Court, and it does not appear to have been served with the relevant papers. See dkt.528, 534, 537. Nor has Villegas been served. Conceivably Villegas or Bohm might know whether yet more law firms claim some sort of an interest in the Funds, although that seems unlikely.

In any event, when there is a limited "pie" of assets, such as the Funds, and the bankruptcy estate asserts an interest in those assets, that appears to be a classic bankruptcy issue for adjudication by this Bankruptcy Court. But in this instance there is a twist.

There is a pending settlement motion (dkt.534) pursuant to which the bankruptcy estate would receive $50,000.00 and would relinquish any interest it has in the remaining $2,975,000.00 of the Funds. That raises jurisdictional issues.

(2) Jurisdictional issues

(a) Disputes regarding the Fund

If the proposed settlement is approved, that would leave only disputes among non-debtor parties. DeSimone has objected that this Bankruptcy Court lacks jurisdiction over that dispute. As summarized by Dominguez:

DeSimone asserts that "Dominguez fails to demonstrate how this Court has jurisdiction over this matter" and, in support, cites to In re Eastport Associates, 935 F.2d 1071, 1077 (9th Cir. 1991); In re

Dominguez responds by attempting to distinguish the foregoing authorities and relying on the test for "related to" jurisdiction articulated in Pacor, Inc. v. Higgins, 743 F.2d 984, 994 (3d Cir.1984), adopted by the Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit by In re Fietz, 852 F.2d 455, 457 (9th Cir. 1988):

The usual articulation of the test for determining whether a civil proceeding is related to bankruptcy is whether the outcome of the proceeding could conceivably have any effect on the estate being administered in bankruptcy. [citations omitted]. Thus, the proceeding need not necessarily be against the debtor or against the debtor's property. An action is related to bankruptcy if the outcome could alter the debtor's rights, liabilities, options, or freedom of action (either positively or negatively) and which in any way impacts upon the handling and administration of the bankrupt estate. [Pacor, 743 F.2d 984, 994] [See also Fietz, 852 F.2d 455, 457 ("We conclude that the Pacor definition best represents Congress's intent to reduce substantially the time-consuming and expensive litigation regarding a bankruptcy court's jurisdiction over a particular proceeding. . . . The Pacor definition promotes another congressionally-endorsed objective: the efficient and expeditious resolution of all matters connected to the bankruptcy estate.") (citations omitted)]

The tentative ruling is that under Feitz and Pacor and the other cases cited above this Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction is not broad enough to encompass claims as between non-debtor parties to the Fund once the bankruptcy estate no longer has any interest in the Fund. As noted above, if Trustee's settlement motion is granted then that will be the situation. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to continue this hearing to be concurrent with the hearing on the settlement motion, with all rights reserved to argue the foregoing jurisdictional issues.

(b) Potential disputes regarding the automatic stay

Dominguez also argues:

Finally, issues of Bankruptcy law, prior orders of this Court, and state law are so intertwined that it is simply not feasible to sever the state law claims from those arising from core bankruptcy matters. Should a state court determine that the alleged termination was invalid, then application of bankruptcy law will be required to determine whether DeSimone violated the automatic stay and whether additional assets may be recovered by this estate. While the Trustee may not be willing to expend estate funds to resolve its claims against DeSimone, Dominguez is willing to litigate those issues to the benefit of both the estate and the Dominguez Firm. [Reply (dkt.541), p.7:20-24.

This Court presumes, solely for the sake of discussion, that as of the petition date the bankruptcy estate had an interest in the prospective contingency fees expected in the underlying litigation, and that DeSimone conceivably violated the automatic stay by taking those fees (or other acts). But generally only Trustee has standing to seek relief based on alleged violations of the automatic stay. Trustee has reached a proposed settlement with DeSimone, and assuming for the sake of discussion that any claim for violation of the stay might survive that settlement, it would be up to Trustee to decide whether or not to pursue any such claim (presuming that DeSimone did not persuade this Court to grant retroactive annulment of the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d), thereby mooting the issue).

In other words, any alleged implication of the automatic stay appears to be several steps removed from any issues between Dominguez and DeSimone regarding their respective alleged interests in the Fund. The tentative ruling is that any potential issues involving the automatic stay are insufficient to give this Bankruptcy Court jurisdiction over disposition of the Fund as between non-debtor parties if the bankruptcy estate has no further interest in the Fund. Again, all rights are reserved to argue the foregoing issues at the continued hearing.

(3) Conclusion

For all of the foregoing reasons, it appears that even if this Court currently has jurisdiction over disputes among Dominguez and DeSimone based on the bankruptcy estate's asserted interest in the Fund, any such jurisdiction will cease to exist if this Court approves Trustee's settlement with

The tentative ruling is to grant the Employment Application, effective as of 9/15/20, subject to this Court's standard employment terms. The tentative ruling is also to disapprove the purported waiver by Debtor/the bankruptcy estate of any actual or potential conflicts (See Ex.3, pp.15-16).

The Procedures Order (dkt.4) directed Debtor to serve a copy of that order on all parties in interest, but Debtor's proof of service (dkt.6) appears to omit (i) at least one (disputed) creditor - Medallion Capital Financial (Schedule E/F, line 3.2, dkt.19 at PDF p.15); (ii) Debtor's sole equity interest holder/creditor (id., line 3.1); and (iii) Debtor's director, Andre Djaafar (SOFA, line 28, dkt.19-1 at PDF p.13). Debtor's mailing matrix also omits at least those parties.

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/8/20 for Debtor to file (x) a proof of service on all parties in interest who were not originally served with the Procedures Order and (b) an amended mailing matrix.

(b) Single Asset Real Estate Case?

Debtor does not disclose if there are fewer than four residential units at the property. Debtor is directed to address at the status conference whether it should have designated itself as a single asset real estate ("SARE") debtor (11 USC 101(51B)) and, if so, whether its proposed date for filing a plan is consistent with 362(d)(3).

This Court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (adv.dkt. 4) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(A) Current issues

Defendant (Debtor) suggests in the status report that this Court stay all proceedings in this adversary proceeding, because his forthcoming chapter 11 plan may moot some or all issues in this adversary proceeding. Plaintiff (Ms. Campos) suggested in the status report that such issues must be decided before any plan can be confirmed.

The parties are directed to clarify the following issues. (1) Does Plaintiff (Ms. Campos) assert that, under nonbankruptcy law, the assignment order created an absolute assignment in Debtor's accounts receivable ("A/R"), or a security interest, or both?

(2) Does she assert those things not only as to (a) A/R embodied in checks that had been issued prepetition (from medical insurers and Medicare prepetition), but also (b) A/R arising from services that had been performed prepetition, but as to which checks had not been issued as of the petition date (i.e., as to which such an interest arguably had not attached as of the petition date), and also (c) A/R arising from services that had yet to be performed as of the petition date? Phrasing these last two issues differently, is Plaintiff asserting that, under nonbankruptcy law, 25% of any checks that had yet to be cut, and 25% of any A/R that had yet to generated by Debtor's postpetition labor, belongs to Plaintiff, regardless of any interest of, for example, a different judgment creditor who obtained a judicial lien against the A/R and also claimed the same 25%?

(3) Under the Bankruptcy Code, is Plaintiff asserting that her alleged interest in each of the three types of A/R described above is superior to the interests of the bankruptcy estate, other creditors, and any exemptions that Debtor may assert in the A/R?

Depending on Plaintiff's responses, Defendant (Debtor) is directed to address how he can propose a chapter 11 plan without resolving the issues raised in this adversary proceeding. Does Defendant (Debtor) anticipate proposing payment terms (e.g., payment over a time period consistent with the parties' Term Sheet) without resolving whether such payment is secured by the A/R, or whether Plaintiff (Ms. Campos) owns the A/R? Is it possible to confirm a plan that leaves such issues unresolved?

The tentative ruling is to direct the parties to address on a preliminary basis how the foregoing issues bear on whether or not to stay these proceedings. Then the tentative ruling is to continue this matter as set forth below, so that all of these issues can be better addressed after Debtor has proposed a chapter 11 plan.

(B) Standard requirements

The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this Bankruptcy Court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014)

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/1/20:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Campos v. Kennedy (Adv. No. 2:20-ap-01626-NB)

As set forth in the tentative ruling for this matter (calendar no. 12, 12/1/20 at 1:00 p.m.), the parties are directed to address (i) the scope of Ms. Campos' asserted interest in pre- and postpetition accounts receivable and (ii) whether or not to stay this adversary proceeding until after any litigation on whether to confirm Debtor's forthcoming chapter 11 plan.

(b) Budget motion (dkt. 51), Yunuen Campos' opposition (dkt. 57), Debtor's supplemental declarations (dkt. 71), Campos' response (dkt. 92), interim order (dkt. 101), Debtor's reply (dkt. 103), interim order (dkt.138)

The tentative ruling is to grant the Budget motion on a further interim basis, on the same terms as before, and with a continued hearing on 1/26/21 at 1:00 p.m., but with a caution to Debtor that the promised analysis by his accountant must be completed so that Ms. Campos can file and serve a supplemental response, Debtor can file and serve a supplemental reply, and this Court can make a final ruling on this motion.

(c) Insider compensation, Debtor's supplemental declaration (dkt. 71), Ms. Campos' response (dkt. 92), Debtor's reply (dkt. 103)

The tentative ruling is to authorize Debtor to continue to pay Ms. Howerton monthly compensation of $6,000, on an interim basis, as previously provided, with the same continued hearing date and the same caution as set forth above regarding the budget motion.

Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by debtor's principal.

(1) Current issues

(a) Untimely status report & no proofs of service of status report or procedures order

This Court's order setting principal status conference and setting various procedures (the "Procedures Order," dkt. 2) required Debtor to serve that order on all parties in interest and file a proof of service at least 14 days before the principal status conference. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no proof of service is on file.

The Procedures Order also directed Debtor to file a status report using Local Form F 2081-1.1.C11.STATUS.RPT, serve it on all parties in interest, and file a proof of service at least 14 days before the principal status conference. On 10/15/20, Debtor belatedly filed a status report, but the proof of service is blank.

Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/30/20 for Debtor to file and serve a Notice, with copies of the Procedures Order and Status Report attached as exhibits, informing all parties that "Debtor failed to serve the Procedures Order and Status Report on all parties in interest as directed by the Bankruptcy Court, which may have prejudiced some parties. The Bankruptcy Court has directed Debtor to serve this Notice, with copies of the Procedures Order and Status Report, on all parties in interest, to inform all parties of the procedures in the Procedures Order and Debtor's progress in this case to date, and so that any party who was prejudiced by the lack of earlier notice has an opportunity to seek any appropriate relief."

In addition, Debtor is cautioned that failure to comply with this Court's orders in future, or other failure to abide by Debtor's obligations, may result in adverse consequences.

(b) Budget motion

Debtor's status report states that a budget motion is not required by the presiding judge's procedures. Dkt. 13, p.3. That is wrong (see posted Procedures of Judge Bason, available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov), and Debtor is cautioned not to misstate this Court's procedures.

Nevertheless, the tentative ruling is to direct Debtor to appear to address whether this Court should excuse the requirement of a budget motion, in view of Debtor's representations in the status report that give the appearance that Debtor is not operating.

(c) "Corporate" ownership statement, and resolution

Debtor asserts (dkt.13, p.2, item A.3.) that the above-referenced documents are not required because Debtor is a partnership, not a corporation. That is wrong. The Bankruptcy Code defines "corporation" to include a "partnership ...." 11 U.S.C. 101(9)(A)(ii). The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 10/30/20 for Debtor to file those things.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 9/30/20.

(a) Bar date: 12/15/20 (DO NOT SERVE notice yet - court will prepare an order after the status conference).

(b) Procedures order: dkt.2 (no proof of service as of the preparation of this tentative ruling)

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/1/20:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor.

(1) Current issues

(a) Amended bankruptcy schedules I and J (dkt.249)

Debtor's amended schedules are much more clear. Unfortunately, they raise concerns: (i) Debtor has been subsidizing his mother's bankruptcy case (nearly $14,000 per month), and this Court does not recall any notice to creditors or authorization for such expenditures; and (ii) Debtor is paying management fees and other commissions/expenses, and this Court does not recall any notice about the recipient(s), their connections with Debtor (are they insiders?), or authorization (if the management contracts and other arrangements are not continuation of prepetition ordinary-course arrangements). Debtor is directed to address these issues at the status conference. Other parties in interest are invited to address what remedies this Court should impose, including whether this Court should convert or dismiss this case.

(b) Cash collateral: declaration re 2d default (the "Default Decl.," dkt.245), Debtor's response (dkt.248), order setting hearing (dkt.256)

The Default Decl. shows a second default on the stipulation for use of cash collateral (dkt. 62, 64). The IRS notified Debtor of $8,350.00 in missed payments for August and September 2020, with a deadline of 10/8/20 to cure the default, plus a subsequent missed payment of $4,500.00 for October 2020, for a total arrearage of $12,850.00.

In response, Debtor declares that he sent payments totaling $8,350.00 on 11/13/20 and is no longer in default. Debtor did not address the IRS's allegation that he failed to make the October payment.

(c) Motion for Wilmington Savings Fund Society, FSB ("Wilmington") for relief from automatic stay (dkt.225); Debtor opposition (dkt.240); Wilmington's reply (dkt.259)

There is no tentative ruling, but Debtor is directed to provide an oral report on whether the sale of the subject property has closed and Wilmington's claim has been paid in full.

(d) Amended plan (dkt.251) and Disclosure Statement ("D/S," dkt.250) and blacklines (dkt.253, 252), and request for judicial notice ("RJN," dkt.254)

The parties are directed to address (i) whether Debtor's apparently optimistic projections about occupancy rates are consistent with recent lockdowns/restrictions on travel and room rental due to the COVID-19 pandemic, and future potential lockdowns/restrictions, (ii) whether there are any other "gating issues" that should be addressed at this time, and (iii) what schedule the parties prefer for proceeding with balloting etc.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's Disclosure Statement ("D/S," dkt. 226) and exhibits (dkt.235), Plan of reorganization ("Plan," dkt. 227) and exhibits (dkt.236), and request for judicial notice ("RJN," dkt.239)

Debtor apparently intends to sell some properties, cure arrears on others, and pay tax debts and other claims over 24 months, with a 100% dividend to all creditors. See D/S, Ex.I (dkt.235). But on its face the Plan appears to be infeasible, and its cash flow is unclear.

(i) Cash flow

Exhibit C to the D/S (dkt.235 at PDF p.4) shows $8,000.00 income and $6,108.98) expenses, for net monthly income of $1,891.02, as against monthly Plan payments of over $31,000 (id.), for a monthly deficit of over $29,000. Id. This appears to show that the Plan is infeasible on its face. In addition, there are several other problems with this alleged cash flow.

First, although Exhibit C to the D/S references bankruptcy Schedules I and J, the space to provide a docket reference is blank. Presumably Debtor is referring to docket no. 18, at PDF pp.24-28.

Second, contrary to the instructions on Bankruptcy Schedule I, line 8a, Debtor has not attached "a statement for each property and business showing gross receipts, ordinary and necessary business expenses, and the total monthly net income." Dkt.18, at PDF p.25. Nor has Debtor used Exhibits C1 through C3 for that purpose. See dkt.235, at PDF pp.5-7. Debtor's Plan Exhibit B (dkt.236 at PDF p.9) and his Bankruptcy Schedule G (dkt.18 at PDF p.22) list no renters/leases to be assumed (perhaps because all renters are month-to-month, or perhaps because some rental units are unoccupied, but either way there is no information about this alleged source of income). The upshot is that creditors (and this Court) have no information about Debtor's proposed source of funding for the Plan.

Third, despite the instructions to make adjustments to avoid "double-counting" (dkt.235, at PDF p.7, line 3), Debtor has not made any adjustments. It is unclear whether Debtor's payment on the first mortgage on his home residence (listed in Bankruptcy Schedule J at $3,808.98 per month, dkt.18, at PDF p.26, line 4) is or is not duplicative of the dollar amounts proposed to be paid going forward. See Plan Ex.A (dkt.236, at PDF p.4) and RJN, Ex.3 (dkt.239 at PDF pp.40-46). Nor is it clear how Debtor is accounting for any other ongoing monthly payments: Debtor's Plan appears to include only cures of arrears, not any accounting on ongoing monthly payments. See Plan Ex.A (dkt.236 at PDF pp.4-5), D/S Ex.C (dkt.235 at PDF p.4), and Bankruptcy Schedule J (dkt.18 at PDF pp.26-27).

(ii) Start again

The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor and his counsel to use the existing forms of Plan and D/S but replace the existing exhibits with new exhibits that, in addition to a liquidation analysis and other necessary components, show clearly and in detail (x) all monthly sources of income, (y) all monthly payments to creditors (whether those payments are ongoing, regular payments or payments on arrears or payments on restructured debts or something else), and (z) all one-time payments and the sources thereof. Those exhibits need not be on Local Forms F 3018-1 but they must be in a spreadsheet that performs the calculations, and they must be accurate and clear. A variation on Debtor's Exhibit "I" (dkt.235, last pages) might be sufficient if it were to show ongoing regular monthly payments, monthly payments of arrears, the interest rate, the term, etc. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/17/20 for Debtor to file those documents (but NOT serve them, except on the UST and any parties requesting a copy).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 2/6/20.

(a) Bar date: 5/1/20 (dkt. 50; timely served, dkt. 55).

(b) Procedures order: dkt. 7 (timely served, dkt.8)

(c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: See above.

(d) Continued status conference: 12/1/20 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Missing status report

This Court's tentative ruling for 10/6/20 set a deadline of 11/17/20 for Debtor to file a status report. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no status report is on file. Why not?

Debtor should be prepared to provide a brief update on the status of its marketing efforts and whether this Court should vacate and/or reset the 12/11/20 deadline to file a plan and disclosure statement.

Tentative Ruling for 12/1/20:

Appearances required.

Current issues

(a) Amended disclosure statement (dkt. 209), amended plan of reorganization (dkt. 210), declaration re feasibility (dkt. 208)

Debtors should be prepared to address why this Court should not convert or dismiss this case under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(A) for the reasons set forth below and in Mission Hen's status report (dkt.207).

(i) Feasibility

This Court's tentative ruling for 10/27/20 (copied below) directed Debtors to address the nearly $25,000 in delinquent adequate protection payments listed in their September MOR (dkt.206) or file an amended MOR by 11/13/20 to correct this with a notation that it corrects all prior MORs. On 11/16/20 Debtors belatedly filed their October MOR (dkt.211), which still reflects nearly $25,000 in delinquent adequate protection payments (id. at PDF p.8).

On the other hand, this Court takes judicial notice that the COVID-19 pandemic, and moratoria on evictions, have created disruptions in the rental markets that may be unprecedented and that might or might not be subject to further changes in future. In addition, although Mission Hen asserts that, as a partially secured junior lienholder, accruing unpaid debt to the senior lienholder is extremely prejudicial. Although this Court notes that this is not a hearing on any motion for relief from the automatic stay, nevertheless "substantial or continuing loss to or diminution of the [bankruptcy] estate and the absence of a reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation" constitute "cause" for which the Court "shall" convert or dismiss a case (or appoint a trustee or examiner). 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(1) & (4)(A).

All parties in interest are encouraged to address the foregoing issues.

(ii) Typos

Debtors' declaration of current/post-petition income and expenses (dkt. 209, at PDF pp.19-23) states that total monthly expenses are $5,207.57, leaving net monthly income of $2,905.43. But by this Court's calculations, Debtors' monthly expenses total $5,137.57, which results in net monthly income of $2,975.43 ($8,133 - $5,137.57 = $2,975.43). That typo also affects the calculations in lines 6, 9, 10, & 15 on Exhibit C.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 4/10/19 and converted from chapter 13 on 6/18/19.

- (a) Bar date: 6/19/19, and supplemental bar date of 8/28/19 after conversion to chapter 11, notice timely served (see dkt. 66, 67)
- (b) Procedures order: dkt. 41 (timely served, dkt. 46)
- (c) Amended Plan/Amended Disclosure Statement*: see above
- (d) Continued status conference: If this Court is persuaded not to convert or dismiss this case at the status conference, set a continued status conference for 1/26/20 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report required.

Chapter 11

Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:

Appearances required.

(a) Amended disclosure statement (dkt. 204) and amended plan of reorganization (dkt. 205)

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/13/20 for Debtors to file a corrected and "blacklined" Disclosure Statement, and a corrected and "blacklined" Plan, addressing the following issues, and lodge a proposed order (substantially in the form posted on Judge Bason's portion of the Court's website) setting a combined hearing on final approval of the Disclosure Statement and confirmation of the Plan.

(i) The Plan in its current form is infeasible by $1,187.22

Debtors' cash flow statement (dkt. 204, Ex.C) shows a small negative balance after making all plan payments, adding up to the above figure over the life of the Plan. It gives the impression that the Plan is infeasible because Debtors would not be able to make the payments in the amounts proposed. Debtors are directed to address how they can adjust their budget or Plan to cure this shortfall.

(ii) Feasibility

The latest MOR (dkt.206) appears to reflect almost $25,000 in delinquent adequate protection payments (see dkt. 206, at PDF p.8), which dwarfs the reported $750.55 and $4,441.89 in Debtors' DIP accounts. Is that accurate? If so, how can Debtors confirm a feasible plan of reorganization? If not (as this Court suspects), the tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/13/20 to correct this MOR (without requiring Debtor to correct prior MORs, but with a notation on the amended MOR noting that it corrects all prior MORs).

(iii) Typos

(x) Dividend. The Plan and Disclosure Statement recite a 2% dividend, but Exhibits A and F recite a 1.4% dividend. (y) Impairment. The Plan (Ex.A) appears to have erroneous listings of which classes are impaired. (z) Blank pages. The exhibits to the Plan and Disclosure Statement include many blank pages (including Ex.H). Exhibit H should be completed, and other blank pages should be omitted.

(b) Expired insurance policies

The MOR also identifies two insurance policies with past-dated expiration dates (dkt. 206, at PDF p.8). Have these policies been renewed?

Debtor has not resolved the issues set forth in this Court's 9/21/20 order (dkt. 304, p.3:1-12) so the tentative ruling is to take this motion off-calendar.

(b) Subchapter V Trustee's motion for turnover of Laurel Property (dkt. 280), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 285), Michael Tremblay's response (dkt. 291), Interim Turnover Order (dkt. 300)

The parties are directed to update this Court on the status of the eviction and address whether any additional relief is appropriate. In addition, the tentative ruling is to continue this matter to be concurrent with the continued status conference (see below).

In addition, the tentative ruling is to continue this matter to be concurrent with the continued status conference (see below), to address ongoing compensatory sanctions.

(d) Subchapter V Trustee's motion for relief from automatic stay in Debtor's mother's bankruptcy case (Case No. 2:20-bk-20377) rulings). Unless otherwise stated, appearances via CourtCall are no longer permitted.

Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's small business chapter 11 plan, as amended ("Plan," dkt. 246, 258, 259, 260, 270, 271); Debtor's requests to set hearing on confirmation etc., as amended ("Plan Hearing Request," dkt. 247, 272), Order denying plan hearing request without prejudice (dkt. 304)

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the docket does not appear to reflect that Debtor has resolved the issues set forth in this Court's 9/21/20 order (dkt. 304, p.3:1-12). Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to continue Debtor's Plan Hearing Request to be concurrent with the continued Status Conference set forth below.

(b) SubChapter V Trustee's motion for turnover of Laurel Property (dkt. 280), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 285), Michael Tremblay's response (dkt. 291), Interim Turnover Order (dkt. 300)

There is no tentative ruling. The parties should be prepared to discuss the status of Debtor's turn over and whether any supplemental relief is necessary and appropriate at this time.

(c) SubChapter V Trustee's motion for order (1) directing US Marshal to evict all occupants of Laurel Property and (2) issuing an order to show cause re contempt (dkt. 318, the "Eviction/OSC Motion"), application for hearing on shortened time (dkt. 319), SubChapter Trustee's declaration (dkt. 318), Debtor's declaration (dkt. 320), Orantes declaration (dkt. 322), Order shortening time (dkt. 323) and POS (dkt. 326), supplemental SubChapter Trustee declaration (dkt. 328), supplemental declarations of Debtor (dkt. 329) and Mr. Orantes (dkt. 330), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 331)

The tentative ruling is to grant the Eviction/OSC Motion as follows:

(i) Order directing U.S. Marshal or other appropriate law enforcement agency to evict Debtor, her parents, and any other occupants of Laurel Property

The tentative ruling is to grant the request and direct the SubChapter V

Trustee to lodge a proposed order directing the U.S Marshal's office to evict any occupant in possession of the Laurel Property, once that office resumes enforcing orders for eviction.

(ii) Issuance of OSC

The tentative ruling is that the SubChapter V Trustee has carried her burden of proof to establish the appropriateness of issuing an order directing Debtor to appear and show cause at the continued status conference (see section (2)(d) below) why this Court should not find her in contempt of this Court's Turnover Order (dkt. 300) and impose sanctions as follows:

(A) Compensatory Sanctions: to reimburse the SubChapter V Trustee for her fees and costs in bringing the Eviction/OSC Motion, responding to Debtor's opposition to the OSC (if any) and appearing at a hearing on the OSC, and

(B) Coercive Sanctions: beginning at $100/day from 10/14/20 (the date Debtor was put on notice of the SubChapter V Trustee's request for sanctions) and in increasing amounts, to be determined at the hearing on the OSC, until Debtor has surrendered full possession of the Laurel Property in "broom clean" condition and in full compliance with the Turnover Order.

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/3/20 for Trustee to file and serve a declaration setting forth the dollar amounts of compensatory sanctions requested, 11/10/20 for any opposition, and 11/17/20 for any reply.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/20/19, converted from chapter 13 to chapter 11 on 1/2/20, and designated by Debtor as a Subchapter V case on 3/2/20 (dkt.128).

CAROLINE R. DJANG (SUBCHAPTER V TRUSTEE IN RE: LIAT
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

Grant as set forth below, subject to any opposition and reply at the hearing.
Appearances required.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Analysis

The tentative ruling is to grant the following relief for the reasons stated in the motion papers, including (x) this Court's finding that Debtor Sara Talasazan's bankruptcy petition is part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, and was otherwise filed in bad faith, and (y) the lack of evidence that Sara Talasazan qualifies for any moratorium on evictions. Debtor Sara Talasazan's unsigned, generic, vague declaration (dkt.13 at PDF pp.22-23) is not evidence.

The tentative finding of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, and bad faith, is based on the matters set forth in the motion papers as well as (i) the long history of the bankruptcy cases filed by Sara Talasazan's daughter, Liat Talasazan (Case No. 2:19-bk-23664-NB), and (ii) this Court's findings, in connection with Sara Talasazan's motion for reconsideration of this Court's eviction orders, that Sara Talasazan had notice - in multiple ways - of the deadline that this Court imposed, based on that long history, to vacate the premises.

In the event that Sara Talasazan or other occupants at the subject property renew their assertions about being subject to a moratorium on evictions, the parties are directed to address why evidence in support of such assertions has not been provided sooner, and whether this Court should hold an evidentiary hearing on that issue.

Subject to all of the foregoing, the tentative ruling is to grant the following relief.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases

Grant the following relief pursuant to the legal analysis in In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017):

If this order is duly recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in the property at issue, then no automatic stay shall apply to such property in any bankruptcy case purporting to affect such property and filed within two years after the date of entry of this order, unless otherwise ordered by the court presiding over that bankruptcy case.

For the avoidance of doubt, any acts by the movant to obtain exclusive possession of such property shall not be stayed, including any eviction actions, through and including any lockout or other enforcement by the Sheriff or other authorized legal authority.

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

fr. 10/27/20

Docket 213

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/1/20:

Appearances required.

Current issues

(a) Contempt order (dkt. 237)

(i) Compensatory sanctions

This Court has reviewed the Alleged Employees' time records (dkt. 241). As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, YYF has not filed an opposition.

The tentative ruling is to award fees in the amount of $12,100 and costs in the amount of $59.85, for a total compensatory sanction against YYF in the amount of $12,159.58, payable to the Alleged Employees as compensation for the fees and costs they were forced to incur to compel compliance.

(ii) Status of compliance

The parties should be prepared to advise this Court on whether (x) coercive sanctions are appropriate (i.e., whether Young failed to produce all responsive documents by 11/20/20 at 5:00 p.m.); and (y) Young responded to the Alleged Employees' written interrogatories by the 11/25/20 at noon deadline.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:
Appearances required.

Current issues

(1) Alleged employees' motion for issuance of order directing Young Young Food LLC ("YYF") to appear for 2004 examination and production of documents (dkt. 146, "2004 Motion"); Order granting 2004 Motion (dkt. 160, "2004 Order"); Alleged employees' motion for issuance of OSC re contempt (dkt. 202, "Motion for OSC"), Order setting hearing on Motion for OSC (dkt. 215, the "OSC"), YYF's opposition papers (dkt. 225, 226, 227), Alleged employees' reply papers (dkt. 228, 230)

The tentative ruling is to find YYF in contempt of court and impose sanctions in an amount to be determined at the hearing and subsequent proceedings, as set forth below.

(a) The alleged employees have made a sufficient showing that YYF violated this Court's 2004 Order and YYF has not responded with argument or evidence establishing that it was impossible to comply

The tentative ruling is to overrule YYF's opposition, grant the Sanctions Motion for the reasons stated in the Alleged Employees' reply papers (dkt. 228, 230), and find that YYF is in contempt of the 2004 Order.

In addition and alternatively, the tentative ruling is that on the merits this Court is not persuaded by YYF's arguments that the (i) 2004 Order is overbroad and (ii) seeks discovery that could and should have been sought in a pending nonbankruptcy proceeding for the same reasons stated in this Court's prior rulings and orders addressing those arguments. See Order (dkt. 173) at PDF p.12, para. "(b)"; Order (dkt. 117) at PDF p.5, para. "(c)"; and Order (dkt. 101) at PDF pp.6-7, para. "(3)."

compensatory sanctions to reimburse them for their costs incurred preparing and filing the Sanctions Motion, responding to the OSC, and appearing at this hearing. (ii) Coercive

The tentative ruling is to award coercive sanctions, in an escalating dollar amount to be addressed at the hearing.

(iii) Examination by written discovery

The tentative ruling is to grant the Alleged Employees' request to obtain written discovery of YYF, in lieu of any in person examination out of concerns presented by the risks of COVID-19, by propounding 20 interrogatories on YYF, without prejudice to any follow-up discovery. The parties should be prepared to address what deadlines, if any, this Court should set for serving and responding to the Alleged Employees' interrogatories (or if this Court should defer to the parties to act within the usual procedures).

#3.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [NA]

vs
DEBTOR

Docket 20

Tentative Ruling:

Order mandatory mediation. Appearances required by Movant and (subject to any reservation of rights regarding service) by Debtor.

The tentative ruling is to order mandatory mediation for the reasons stated in calendar no. 4 (12/8/20 at 10:00 a.m.). Meanwhile, the tentative ruling is to order a continuance to 2/9/21 at 10:00 a.m., with a deadline of 12/22/20 to lodge a proposed order appointing a mediator and directing the parties to mediation, and a deadline of 12/15/20 to correct the following issue regarding service.

Service

The proof of service does not show service on both (i) Debtor's counsel and (ii) Debtor individually ("double service"), as required by Rules 7004(b) (9)&(g) and 9014(a), Fed. R. Bankr. P.). Although the proof of service (dkt. 25) lists Debtor's name, the corresponding address does not match the Debtor's mailing address. The tentative ruling is that this Court has neither the authority nor the inclination to excuse non-compliance with these rules. It is true that this double service requirement is the exact opposite of typical non-bankruptcy practice, in which it is generally impermissible to serve a represented party personally; but there are good reasons for the double service rule in bankruptcy. It helps protect Debtor and the bankruptcy estate (i.e., all parties in interest) from matters "falling through the cracks" given the high volume and speed of matters in typical bankruptcy cases, and the frequent use of service via U.S. mail.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you

#4.00 Hrg re: Motion for relief from stay [NA]

ALEXANDER RHODES
vs
DEBTOR

Docket 26

Tentative Ruling:

Order mandatory mediation including all parties seeking nonbankruptcy/nondischargeable judgments against Debtor. Appearances required.

Analysis:

This Court has reviewed the Motion for Relief from Stay (dkt. 26, 28), Debtor's Opposition (dkt. 30), Movant's reply (dkt. 35), and the other filed documents and records in this case, including Debtor's Bankruptcy Schedules (dkt. 10). It appears that the Movant (Alexander Rhodes) and similarly situated persons Aaron M. Minc and Donald L. Hilton, Jr. (collectively, "Plaintiffs") (see, e.g., dkt. 20-28) have long-running disputes including nonbankruptcy litigation with Debtor involving mutual accusations of false and harmful statements posted in various internet fora. See, e.g., dkt. 26, Ex. 1, pp. 6:15–28, 7:1–10.

It appears that Plaintiffs seek (1) nondischargeable monetary judgments under 11 U.S.C. 523 and/or (2) injunctive relief, including for alleged postpetition statements. See, e.g., Reply (dkt. 35), p.4:9-18 (alleged postpetition statements). Meanwhile, Debtor appears to allege that Plaintiffs have engaged in an ongoing scheme to defame and harass her, including alleged threats or encouragement of threats of violence against her.

Based on the foregoing summary, and the following additional analysis, this matter appears to be crying out for mediation.

(1) Cost/benefit for Plaintiffs

(a) Costs

Litigation is expensive. For Plaintiffs that expense now includes two motions for relief from the automatic stay that are each over 1,000 pages in length - which is extraordinary (and, as an aside, not very effective). Although those 1,000 pages might not have involved a lot of care and attention - they include a large volume of hearsay and repetition - nevertheless it must have taken more than a minimal amount of time for attorneys to assemble those 1,000 pages, and that is just one tiny aspect of the parties' litigation.

The parties have also engaged in discovery disputes and motion practice about jurisdiction and venue in nonbankruptcy courts. That is only the beginning. In other words, the costs of litigation are likely to be very substantial.

(b) Benefits

As for any monetary benefit, even if Plaintiffs were to prevail in their nondischargeability litigation, their judgments probably would be uncollectible. Debtor alleges that she has $-0- of current income, not much future earning capacity (based on her reported past income), and no assets that can be seized (nothing other than exempt retirement funds etc.). Dkt. 10, passim.

Of course, this Court recognizes that Plaintiffs believe Debtor has failed to report assets and earning capacity. But even if, for example, Debtor has omitted one or more grants to engage in research, that does not mean that Debtor ultimately could pay any nondischargeable judgment. This Court takes judicial notice that most such grants do not result in any great income - most of the grant tends to be spent on employees and other expenses, leaving only a modest income for the principal researcher(s).

In addition, even if (a) Plaintiffs were to obtain nondischargeable judgments and (b) Debtor's income were greater than it appears, either now or in future, that might not make the judgments any more collectible. Debtor might well be able to evade collection for a few years and then file a chapter 13 bankruptcy case and obtain the "superdischarge." That might well eliminate any nondischargeable debts of the type that Plaintiffs seek. See, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(6) and 1328(a)(2)&(4) (superdischarge of debts even if they involved willful or malicious behavior).

As for any injunctive relief, Plaintiffs may face an uphill battle in any attempt to obtain a prior restraint on Debtor's rights of free speech. In addition, unless a court is willing to grant a sweeping restraint, there may be more litigation every time the parties post their views and one of them alleges defamation or similar claims.

In sum, if Plaintiffs pursue litigation they might well spend a lot, and get little or no effective monetary or injunctive relief.

(2) Cost/benefit for Debtor

(a) Costs

On the one hand, at least some of Debtor's litigation expenses appear to be covered under an insurance policy. But as Debtor has noted, the provider has cautioned that coverage might not extend to future litigation expenses and/or judgments. See dkt. 30, p.6:8-25 & Ex. B at PDF pp.68–70. In addition, some litigation expenses apparently are not covered even now, because Debtor alleges that defending against these actions pushed her into bankruptcy. Dkt. 30, p.5:14-17.

Moreover, costs are not measured in dollars and cents alone. Debtor's time is valuable, and it could be eaten up by Plaintiffs' multiple lawsuits, against which she will have to defend herself on multiple fronts. That will take away from her ability to gain a fresh start and move on with her life.

(b) Benefits

As for any counterclaims by Debtor against Plaintiffs, they would be expensive to litigate. In addition, on the (admittedly very limited) record presented to this Court, any such counterclaims appear to be unlikely to result in any financial recoveries or injunctive relief, for the reasons discussed below.

(3) Obstacles to either Debtor or Plaintiffs achieving "vindication"

No doubt both Debtor and the Plaintiffs hope to achieve vindication of their positions through litigation. That seems unlikely.

This Court has reviewed the more-than 1,000 pages filed by Movant, as well as Debtor's opposition, the complaints in the adversary proceedings, and the other filed documents in this case. Although this Court is not at this time reviewing the elements of any claims or defenses for defamation or other alleged acts or omissions - and although this Court does not in any way wish to pre-judge any issues - it seems likely that any judge or jury would have a great many ways in which to find a lack of intent, a lack of cognizable damage, or other missing elements or successful defenses to both sides' claims. The path to any truly satisfactory vindication seems very narrow and difficult.

To be clear, the parties' competing tweets and other communications might well include untrue accusations and very offensive statements. But some of those things might well be understandable in context, and others are ambiguous or might be based on justifiable misunderstandings or reactions in the heat of the moment. A clear vindication seems unlikely.

(4) Mediation is flexible and powerful

In this Court's experience, mediation can result in much more effective and useful resolution than litigation. That does not mean either side is happy. But often it is still the best result.

For example, perhaps Debtor could agree that, instead of posting her own comments regarding Movant or NoFap, she could instead notify Movant of whatever content she finds offensive or threatening and believes might be attributable to Movant or his affiliates, and then Movant would be obligated to post a comment reiterating the NoFap terms of use and stating that NoFap does not condone certain posts. Or perhaps the parties could agree that Tweets would be reported to Twitter, using agreed language of some sort.

These are only hypothetical examples, and perhaps they completely miss the mark. But that is actually the point. This Court, or any judge or jury, might well miss the mark in any litigation. In contrast, the parties themselves know best what they want, and mediation might help them achieve more of that than any judge or jury could award.

(5) Conclusion

The tentative ruling is to continue this hearing on the motion for relief from stay to 2/9/21 at 10:00 a.m., with a deadline of 12/22/20 to lodge a proposed order appointing a mediator and directing the parties to mediation.

vs
DEBTOR

Docket 16

Tentative Ruling:

Order mandatory mediation. Appearances required by Movant and (subject to any reservation of rights regarding service) by Debtor.

The tentative ruling is to order mandatory mediation for the reasons stated in calendar no. 4 (12/8/20 at 10:00 a.m.). Meanwhile, the tentative ruling is to order a continuance to 2/9/21 at 10:00 a.m., with a deadline of 12/22/20 to lodge a proposed order appointing a mediator and directing the parties to mediation, and a deadline of 12/15/20 to correct the following issue regarding service.

Service

The proof of service does not show service on both (i) Debtor's counsel and (ii) Debtor itself ("double service"), as required by Rules 7004(b)(9)&(g) and 9014(a), Fed. R. Bankr. P.). The tentative ruling is that this Court has neither the authority nor the inclination to excuse non-compliance with these rules. It is true that this double service requirement is the exact opposite of typical non-bankruptcy practice, in which it is generally impermissible to serve a represented party personally; but there are good reasons for the double service rule in bankruptcy. It helps protect Debtor and the bankruptcy estate (i.e., all parties in interest) from matters "falling through the cracks" given the high volume and speed of matters in typical bankruptcy cases, and the frequent use of service via U.S. mail.

Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances are not required.

Grant as set forth below.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply

This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

In the alternative and in addition, the tentative ruling is to grant relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Note regarding mootness: Judge Bason's standard tentative ruling is as follows. For three reasons the above tentative ruling that there is no stay does not moot requests for relief from whatever stay might apply. First, such alternative rulings are appropriate because (i) the very nature of tentative rulings is that this Court could be persuaded to depart from any one of them, and (ii) a final ruling on any one issue could be reversed on appeal. Second, even if there is currently no stay, that could change - e.g., if there is no stay because of dismissal of this bankruptcy case, such dismissal could be vacated and that might reimpose the stay even if there is a lack of adequate protection, or other grounds why the stay should not apply, and therefore the movant will suffer cognizable harm unless the issues are addressed now (Judge Bason regularly vacates dismissals based on stipulations or other good cause). Third, if the motion includes any request for relief as to past acts (annulment) or future cases (in rem relief), those things are still at issue even if there is no current automatic stay. See In re Aheong, 276 B.R. 233 (9th Cir. BAP 2002). For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is that it is appropriate to address the following issues.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

Retroactive relief

Deny the request for retroactive annulment of the stay because Judge Bason is not prepared to issue a blanket annulment with respect to whatever unspecified things might have occurred postpetition.

Relief notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases.

Deny, without prejudice to any other types of relief granted herein (or previously granted), for the following reasons.

The motion requests requests "in rem" relief (i.e., relief applicable notwithstanding future bankruptcy cases (under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) and/or In re Vazquez, 580 B.R. 526 (Bankr. C.D. #3.00 Status Conference re: Complaint to Determine Nondischargeability of Debt

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required.

(1) Mediation

Both parties have requested mediation. See Adv.Stat.Rpt. (adv.dkt.9), p.3. The tentative ruling is that mediation appears to be very appropriate but, before any mediation order can be issued, the parties should address whether this bankruptcy case and adversary proceeding should be transferred to Bankruptcy Judge Zurzolo, who is presiding over a related adversary proceeding in the lower-numbered bankruptcy case of an affiliated debtor. See Roughan & Assoc's at Linc, Inc. v. Richardson (In re Richardson) (Case No. 2:20-bk-16027-VZ, Adv. No. 2:20-ap-01640-VZ, the "Related Bankruptcy Action"). (Caveat: If Judge Zurzolo were to prefer that the case before him be transferred to Judge Bason, that is also possible.)

The tentative ruling is to continue this matter to 12/22/20 at 11:00 a.m. Meanwhile, after hearing from the parties at this hearing, Judge Bason can confer with Judge Zurzolo about which of them should preside over these related proceedings. If this adversary proceeding is transferred to Judge Zurzolo, then the continued hearing before Judge Bason will go off calendar.

(2) Defendant/Debtor's motion to dismiss ("MTD," adv. dkt. 5, 6), Plaintiff's opposition (adv. dkt. 8), Defendant/Debtor's reply (adv. dkt. 10)

The tentative ruling is not to express any views with respect to the motion to dismiss at this time, because this adversary proceeding might be transferred to Judge Zurzolo (see above).

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." [Santander Consumer USA Inc.]
fr. 10/7/20

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required.

There is no tentative ruling, except that this matter will be heard at the end of the 11:00 a.m. calendar so that this Court can give the instructions required by 11 U.S.C. 524, and then the parties can address whether this Court should or should not approve the proposed reaffirmation agreement.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing. Pursuant to Judge Bason's COVID-19 procedures, all appearances are via ZoomGov. For ZoomGov instructions for all matters on calendar, please see the tentative ruling for the first matter on today's calendar (i.e., page 1 of the posted tentative rulings). Unless otherwise stated, appearances via CourtCall are no longer permitted.

11/10/20, 12/1/20

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/8/20:
Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion of Apex Realty, Inc. & BRG Adams, LLC ("Apex/BRG") to dismiss, convert or appoint chapter 11 trustee (dkt. 160, "MTD") and request for judicial notice (dkt. 161), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 170) and request for judicial notice (dkt. 171), Apex/BRG's reply (dkt. 172), evidentiary objections (dkt. 173), and errata (dkt. 174)

The tentative ruling is to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4) (A) based on Debtor's monthly financial losses and accumulating administrative expenses - which constitute "substantial" losses to or diminution of the estate and, alternatively, "continuing" losses to or diminution of the estate - and the "absence of a reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation." The parties are directed to address whether appointment of a chapter 11 trustee pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(1) would be in the best interests of creditors and the estate, given:

(i) a trustee's ability to arrange for sales of real estate under 11 U.S.C. 363, including a reserve for disputed claims if necessary, so as to maximize the value of the estate for the benefit of not only Apex/BRG and other creditors but also other constituents of the bankruptcy estate, including employees and the public who benefit from Debtor's charitable functions;

(ii) a trustee's ability to assess possible settlement value of litigation with Apex/BRG and achieve finality for the benefit of all parties; and

(iii) the possibility of preserving Debtor's charitable functions - either by Debtor or by a purchaser or successor entity - as opposed to the harm to such functions that might arise from dismissal or conversion.

(b) Alternative "cause" to grant MTD

The tentative ruling is that Apex/BRG have established alternative "cause," not under any of the other specific statutory examples set forth in 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(B) through (P), but due the combination of circumstances described in the MTD and supporting papers. Chief among those circumstances is Debtor's use of bankruptcy to avoid having to post a supersedeas bond (which normally would be required in order to stay Apex/BRG's enforcement of its judgment while disputing the arbitration award on appeal).

Note: In addition to the issues noted by Apex/BRG, this Court notes that Debtor has repeatedly filed untimely operating reports without adequate explanation. The tentative ruling is that this Court would not grant relief on that ground alone, but it adds weight to the other grounds. See 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(F), and see JuneMOR (dkt. 144, filed 7/23/20), JulyMOR (dkt. 146, filed 8/24/20), AugMOR (dkt. 148, filed 9/22/20), SeptMOR (dkt. 159, filed 10/26/20), OctMOR (dkt. 175, filed 12/2/20)).

(c) Evidentiary objections (dkt.173)

In connection with all of the foregoing, the tentative ruling is to sustain the evidentiary objections of Apex/BRG, and treat the portions of Mr. Silverman's declaration to which Apex/BRG object as argument rather than evidence. Alternatively, the tentative ruling is that considering those portions as evidence would not alter the outcome.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/31/19.

(a) Bar date: 10/25/19 (dkt. 24; timely served, dkt. 26). Exception: the bar date for creditors Apex/BRG has been extended (see dkt. 78, 138, 156)

(b) Procedures order: dkt. 2 (timely served, dkt.23).

(c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

(d) Continued status conference: If this Court adheres to the tentative ruling not to dismiss this case, set a continued status conference for 1/12/21 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report

Tentative Ruling for 12/1/20:
Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Campos v. Kennedy (Adv. No. 2:20-ap-01626-NB)

As set forth in the tentative ruling for this matter (calendar no. 12, 12/1/20 at 1:00 p.m.), the parties are directed to address (i) the scope of Ms. Campos' asserted interest in pre- and postpetition accounts receivable and (ii) whether or not to stay this adversary proceeding until after any litigation on whether to confirm Debtor's forthcoming chapter 11 plan.

(b) Budget motion (dkt. 51), Yunuen Campos' opposition (dkt. 57), Debtor's supplemental declarations (dkt. 71), Campos' response (dkt. 92), interim order (dkt. 101), Debtor's reply (dkt. 103), interim order (dkt.138)

The tentative ruling is to grant the Budget motion on a further interim basis, on the same terms as before, and with a continued hearing on 1/26/21 at 1:00 p.m., but with a caution to Debtor that the promised analysis by his accountant must be completed so that Ms. Campos can file and serve a supplemental response, Debtor can file and serve a supplemental reply, and this Court can make a final ruling on this motion.

(c) Insider compensation, Debtor's supplemental declaration (dkt. 71), Ms. Campos' response (dkt. 92), Debtor's reply (dkt. 103)

The tentative ruling is to authorize Debtor to continue to pay Ms. Howerton monthly compensation of $6,000, on an interim basis, as previously provided, with the same continued hearing date and the same caution as set forth above regarding the budget motion.

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Six Degrees Law Group third interim fee application (dkt. 430 434, "Application"), declaration of Jason Chen (dkt. 441), no opposition is on file

The tentative ruling is to grant the Application approving fees of $12,695.00 and $0 in expenses for a total award of $12,695.00.

(b) Levene, Neale, Bender, Yoo & Brill L.L.P. third interim fee application (dkt. 431 434, "Application"), declaration of Jason Chen (dkt. 441), supplement (dkt. 446), no opposition is on file

The tentative ruling is to grant the Application approving fees of $241,172.00 and $11,890.48 in expenses for a total award of $253,062.48.

(c) Law Office of David Agler ("Applicant") first interim fee application (dkt. 432 434, "Application"), declaration of Jason Chen (dkt. 441), no opposition is on file

The tentative ruling is to grant the Application approving fees of $58,240.00 and $0 in expenses for a total award of $58,240.00.

The tentative ruling is also that Applicant is cautioned that this Court may reduce future requests for fees if Applicant's billing sheets continue to contain substantial lumping (or block billing) of services in violation of the UST's Fee Guidelines (see, e.g., dkt. 432, PDF p.12–18).

The tentative ruling is to grant the Application approving fees of $6,253.00 and $0 in expenses for a total award of $6,253.00.

(e) Sklar Kirsh, LLP ("Applicant") second interim fee application (dkt. 439, 434, "Application"), no opposition is on file

The tentative ruling is to conditionally grant the Application approving fees of $7,702.50 and $244.45 in expenses for a total award of $7,946.95.

The tentative ruling is also that this order is conditioned on Applicant's filing of a declaration which complies with the requirements of LBR 2016-1(a) (1)(J) no later than December 15, 2020.

(f) Goldstein & McClintock LLP second interim fee application (dkt. 440, 434, "Application"), no opposition is on file

The tentative ruling is to conditionally grant the Application approving fees of $42,169.00 and $481.75 in expenses for a total award of $42,650.75.

The tentative ruling is also that this order is conditioned on Applicant's filing of a declaration which complies with the requirements of LBR 2016-1(a) (1)(J) no later than December 15, 2020.

There are no filed objections on the docket and all classes of creditors entitled to vote on confirmation of the plan have voted in favor of approval. Debtor's MPA persuasively argues that all elements of confirmation have been met, including as to Class 6 (equity interests) that are deemed to reject the Plan but as to which the Plan is "fair and equitable" within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. 1129(b), and therefore "cramdown" is appropriate. In addition, the proposed non-material modification regarding the effective date (dkt.449, pp.9:15-10:6) appears to be appropriate.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/8/20:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) 2d Amended Plan (dkt.98) and Disclosure Statement (dkt.97)

The tentative ruling is that with two minor changes these documents are suitable for distribution to creditors with a voting package. The two changes are:

(i) Ex.C (dkt.97 at PDF p.9) can be amended such that line 5a lists Debtor's $16,052.00 historical income (per dkt.75), line 5b lists Debtor's $13,186.97 historical expenses (id.), and line 5c lists the total adjustments of $803.97 net expenses such that disposable income is reduced from $2,865.03 to $2,061.06 (dkt.97 at PDF pp.12-16).

(ii) Ex.C1 and C2 can be deleted (because they are superseded by the markups of bankruptcy schedules I and J that are at dkt.97, PDF pp.12-16).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 12/2/19.

(a) Bar date: 2/17/20 (dkt. 22; timely served, dkt. 23)

(b) Procedures order: dkt. 5 (timely served, dkt. 9)

(c) Plan/Disclosure Statement (dkt. 98, 97)*: 12/15/20 deadline to file (NOT SERVE - except on the U.S. Trustee) any redlined revisions to be discussed at the status conference and lodge Judge Bason's form of order authorizing service of the voting package, setting deadlines, and setting a combined hearing on final approval of the Disclosure Statement and confirmation of the Plan for the same time as the continued status conference.

(d) Continued status conference: 2/9/21 at 1:00 p.m. No written

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Amended Disclosure Statement ("D/S," dkt. 89), Plan (dkt. 90), and Bankruptcy Schedules I&J ("I&J," dkt.75)

Debtor's D/S cash flow projections (dkt.89, Ex.C, at PDF p.10) incorporate by reference Debtor's I&J, with some adjustments. This Court does not follow Debtor's calculations, and the tentative ruling is that it would be better disclosure for Debtor (i) to attach a version of I&J to the D/S (right behind Ex.C), (ii) to make hand-written amendments to I&J to show whatever modifications Debtor is proposing, and (iii) to circle on the stipulations with lienholders the dollar amounts that match those marked up I&J documents. This Court's confusion is outlined below.

The dollar amounts of the mortgage in Schedule J (dkt.75, at PDF p.6, lines 4 & 5) are $3,439.00 for the 1st deed of trust ("DOT") on debtor's residence, $3,069.42 for the 2d DOT, and (id. at PDF p.4) $4,270.55 on the rental property (plus $778/mo. in taxes). In contrast, the stipulation with the holder of the 1st DOT provides ongoing monthly payments of $2,945.53 (including P&I, taxes, and insurance) (dkt.84, p.3:16) and cure payments of $735.89 (dkt.84, p.3:26) for a total of $3,681.42 per month, and the stipulation with the holder of the 2d DOT (dkt.82, p.3:16) provides for payment of $4,610.10/mo. ($3,800.00 P&I plus $810.10 for property taxes). It appears that Debtor has added back in $570.00/mo. (dkt.89, Ex.C1, at PDF p.10) to account for a modification in an exhibit "J" (dkt.89, Ex.H, n.C1, at PDF p.22), but no such exhibit "J" appears to be included in the documents reviewed by this Court, and this Court's quick calculations cannot get the dollar amounts to match. Likewise, Debtor has added back $435.45 to make a similar adjustment for the DOT on the rental property. See dkt.89, Ex.C1, at PDF p.10, Ex.H, n.C3, at PDF p.22.

This Court's main goals, in requiring use of Local Forms F 3017-1, has been to avoid double-counting debts, and other errors, and avoid "re-inventing the wheel" by using existing forms (I&J) subject to whatever adjustments are needed. The tentative ruling is that hand-written mark-ups of those forms would provide clearer and more accurate calculations; but counsel for all parties in interest are invited to propose whatever methodology will provide clear, accurate, and complete disclosures. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/20/20 to file those amended documents (but not serve those documents, except on parties who request a copy).

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 12/2/19.

- (a) Bar date: 2/17/20 (dkt. 22; timely served, dkt. 23)
- (b) Procedures order: dkt. 5 (timely served, dkt. 9)
- (c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file modified versions (with the modifications clearly indicated, by "blacklining" or other method) by 11/17/20 (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - this Court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).
- (d) Continued status conference: 12/1/20 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report required.

Tentative Ruling for 12/8/20:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's Amended Disclosure Statement (dkt. 77) & Amended Plan (dkt. 76), Order setting hearing on DS/Am Plan (dkt. 78), proof of service (dkt. 81), amended proof of service (dkt. 86), corrected proof of service (dkt. 87) no opposition is on file

At the hearing on 11/10/20 counsel for Debtor represented that, despite the absence of evidence that Debtor had served ballots on creditors, Debtor had in fact done so. The filed proofs of service now reflect that (see dkt. 87).

At that same hearing, counsel for Debtor was not able to address the Plan's apparent lack of provision for compensation for the Subchapter V Trustee. This Court's review of the docket does not reflect any resolution of that issue.

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address (i) whether the Debtor can point to provisions in the Plan that address payment of the Subchapter V Trustee for both for pre-confirmation services rendered and for post-confirmation services as disbursing agent, and/or (ii) whether the Subchapter V Trustee will sign off on any confirmation order that addresses those issues or if, instead, an amended Plan is required.

Continue as set forth below, with contemporaneous hearings on (1) whether to vacate this Court's approval of the employment of Debtor's counsel, reduce counsel's fees, or take other action, on this Court's own motion, for the reasons stated below, and (2) whether, after balloting, to grant final approval to the Disclosure Statement and confirm the proposed Plan, all as further provided below. Appearances are not required on 11/10/20.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's Amended Disclosure Statement (dkt. 77) & Amended Plan (dkt. 76), Order setting hearing on DS/Am Plan (dkt. 78), proof of service (dkt. 81), no opposition is on file

At the hearing on 9/1/20 this Court discussed with Debtor's counsel that Subchapter V does not dispense with the need to solicit votes. In addition, the order setting this hearing (dkt. 78) set 9/29/20 as the deadline for Debtor to serve ballots (along with the rest of the voting package). Notwithstanding these express directions, counsel for Debtor did not serve ballots (see dkt.81) and, although the caption of Debtor's proof of service states that it is a proof of service of this Court's order, the Plan, and the Disclosure Statement, the actual proof of service declares only that the proof of service itself was served. See dkt.81.

The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor's counsel to lodge a proposed order, substantially in the form posted on Judge Bason's portion of the Court's website (at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) setting a continued combined hearing on final approval of the Disclosure Statement and confirmation of the Plan, contemporaneous with the continued status conference (see below). The order must include (i) an appropriate deadline to serve that order and serve ballots, another copy of the Plan and Disclosure Statement, and a declaration stating that the Plan and Disclosure Statement have not been altered from the copies previously sent (and are being provided for convenience only), (ii) an appropriate deadline for parties in interest to return ballots, or file objections, and (iii) other appropriate deadlines as set forth in the form order.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within two days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The tentative ruling is to set a contemporaneous hearing, on this Court's own motion, on whether to vacate this Court's approval of the employment of Debtor's counsel, or reduce counsel's fees, or take other appropriate action in response to Debtor's counsel's disregard of this Court's express orders regarding balloting. This Court will prepare that order after this hearing date.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/8/20:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion of Doz Cabezas Properties, LLC ("Dos Cabezas") to dismiss case (dkt. 145, 166), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 168), Dos Cabezas's reply (173), Dos Cabezas's supplemental papers (dkt. 179, 182), Debtor's supplemental papers (dkt. 181, 183)

The tentative ruling is not to strike the latest, unauthorized briefs. In any event, with or without considering them, the tentative ruling is to deny the motion to dismiss this case, without prejudice, for the reasons stated in this Court's tentative ruling for 10/27/20 (copied below), with the following caveats.

First, Debtor is directed to address why the flyer distributed by Collier included the banner "Bankruptcy Court Approved" (dkt.180, Ex.1, and dkt.183, Ex.1). This Court has not approved any sale (although this Court has approved the employment of Colliers to market of the subject property). In fact, there are open questions about whether Debtor even has the ability to sell the subject property without Dos Cabezas' consent.

Second, Debtor is directed to address how it proposes to disclose to prospective purchasers of the properties the fact that Debtor is seeking to sell the subject property before the State Court has determined the underlying disputes with Dos Cabezas. True, as noted in the tentative ruling for 10/27/20, it is possible that Debtor can distinguish In re Popp, 323 B.R. 260, 268 (9th Cir. BAP 2005), and In re Owens-Johnson, 118 B.R. 780 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 1990). But the tentative ruling is that Debtor has to disclose to prospective purchasers that (as this Court understands the issues) Dos Cabezas is asserting that (i) Debtor does not own the subject property, and therefore cannot sell it, and alternatively (ii) a sale under 11 U.S.C. 363(b) and (f) should not, or cannot, be used to defeat a claim for specific performance.

In other words, Debtor is directed to address (in consultation with Colliers) how it will disclose to prospective purchasers the potential obstacles to selling the property, without either misleading purchasers or unduly chilling any potential bidding. Of course, this Court recognizes that in chapter 11 there is a certain degree of deference to the business judgment of Debtor, in consultation with Colliers, regarding how best to market the subject property and when and how to provide disclosures. This Court also recognizes that Dos Cabezas might decide that it is in its own interest to consent to the sale (while preserving whatever interests or claims it might have regarding the proceeds of sale), so as to (i) maximize the value of the bankruptcy estate's assets, (ii) stop the running of interest - especially any default interest - owed to the senior lienholder, and thereby (iii) maximize the funds from which its claim and/or equity interests could receive distributions.

But Debtor's flyer ("Bankruptcy Court Approved," dkt.183, Ex.1, at PDF p.9), combined with Debtor's apparently cavalier attitude toward employment and compensation of professionals (see below), raise concerns about whether Debtor and Colliers are not exercising their business judgment appropriately. Debtor is cautioned that failure to exercise proper business judgment, and act as a trustee for the benefit of creditors, might lead to adverse consequences.

(b) Apparently unauthorized retention and payment of professionals

Debtor is directed to address the apparently unauthorized employment and payment of persons who appear to be professionals: Hammonds & Frey (accounting/tax services), Hunter & Co. (management), and BBG, Inc. (appraisal). See dkt.179, p.4:3-23. Debtor alleges (dkt.181, pp.4:23-5:27) that none of these services are "central to the administration of the estate," and instead are "ordinary course" payments that purportedly do not require Court authorization. But, first, there is no evidence to support those allegations and, second, Debtor's explanation raises its own concerns - for example, it is potentially troubling if Debtor is relying on someone to do accounting and tax services who is not addressing the bankruptcy-specific aspects of accounting and tax issues (i.e., if they do not qualify as professionals, that in itself might be problematic).

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 1/5/21 for Debtor and/or

The tentative ruling is to deny the motion without prejudice on the grounds that this Court is not persuaded that, on the present record, sufficient "cause" exists under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4) to convert or dismiss this case.

First, litigation takes time and Dos Cabezas has not presented sufficient evidence to persuade this Court that Debtor is not diligently prosecuting this bankruptcy case and the State Court action. To the contrary, Debtor's prosecution of this case appears to be reasonable in light of the uncertainty and challenges presented by COVID-19, the resulting backlog in state courts, and the great deal of latitude afforded to debtors exercising their business judgment about matters of case administration.

Second, Dos Cabezas' reliance on In re Popp, 323 B.R. 260, 268 (9th Cir. BAP 2005), and In re Owens-Johnson, 118 B.R. 780 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 1990), is not dispositive. True, it is likely that Debtor's anticipated motion to sell the subject property will be subject to objections based on arguments that (i) Debtor cannot sell what it does not own and (ii) a sale under 11 U.S.C. 363(b) and (f) should not, or cannot, be used to defeat a claim for specific performance. But (x) this Court cannot presume, in advance, that those anticipated objections will prevail, (y) even if a sale were blocked, Debtor has other options (e.g., proposing a plan of reorganization, or waiting until a determination in the State Court litigation that Debtor has an ownership interest in the subject property, and therefore can sell it), and (z) even if all of those things were to turn out in future not to be viable options, it is premature to dismiss this case based on that future possibility.

(b) Dos Cabezas Properties, LLC, Criscione-Meyer Entitlement, Michael Criscione and Michael Meyer's ("Movants") omnibus objection to proofs of claim (dkt. 121, "Claim Objections") 4-1/4-2, 6-1, 7-1, 8-1, 9-1, 10-1, 11-1, 12-1, 13-1, 14-1, 15-1, 16-1, 17-1, 18-1, 19-1, 20-1, 22-1, 23-1/23-2, 24-1, 25-1, 26-1, 27-1, 29-1, 31-1, 32-1, 33-1, 34-1, 35-1, 36-1 and 37-1 ("the Claims"), stipulation & order continuing hearing (dkt. 129, 131), Tarzana Crossing, a Merchant Faire, LLC's ("Tarzana Crossing") opposition (dkt. 137), no reply is on file

Appearances required. At the hearing on 8/18/20 this Court was persuaded to continue this matter, rather than adopt the tentative ruling (reproduced below). The parties should be prepared to address the issues set forth in that tentative ruling and their filed papers.

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's application to employ Colliers International Greater Los Angeles, Inc., dba Colliers International ("Colliers") (dkt. 138-140, 142, the "Employment Application"), Criscione-Meyer Parties' opposition (dkt. 144), Tarzana Crossing's opposition (dkt. 146, 149), Debtor's replies (dkt. 150, 151, 152, 157)

The tentative ruling is (i) to overrule the objections for the reasons stated in Debtor's reply papers (except to the extent of Debtor's and Colliers' accession to the 6-month term in Debtor's reply papers) but (ii) to prohibit dual agency as set forth below. The "Posted Procedures of Judge Bason" (available at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) provide notice that Judge Bason's standard employment order prohibits dual agency, and refer to an explanation of the problems with dual agency as set forth in another case. See In re Ebuehi, Case No. 2:18-bk-20704-NB, dkt. 281, at PDF pp.9-10). Nothing in the Employment Application provides any reason to depart from that policy.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the tentative ruling is that the dangers inherent in dual agency are substantially ameliorated if (i) the individual(s) who represent the bankruptcy estate as seller operate out of a different branch office from the office of any individual(s) who represent prospective buyers and (ii) the compensation structure is structured in a way that does not implicate the concerns raised in Ebuehi. The tentative ruling is that, if Debtor and Colliers wish to attempt to meet these conditions, then this Court will set a deadline of 9/22/20 to file declaration(s) addressing these conditions (including a detailed disclosure of the compensation structure), and serve such declarations on the United States Trustee and all parties in interest who attend this hearing. Alternatively, if they do not wish to pursue that alternative, the tentative ruling is to condition any approval of the Employment Application on an absolute bar on any dual agency - i.e., no person at Colliers may represent any prospective buyer.

Proposed order: If this matter is not continued, and this Court is persuaded to grant the Employment Application immediately, Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. (1) Current issues

(a) Omnibus claim objection ("Claim Objection," dkt.121) by Dos Cabezas Properties, LLC, Criscione-Meyer Entitlement, Michael Criscione and Michael Meyer's ("Claim Objectors"); stipulation & order continuing hearing (dkt. 129, 131); opposition (dkt.137) of Tarzana Crossing, a Merchant Faire, LLC ("Tarzana Crossing"); no reply is on file

Claim Objectors seek disallowance of the following Claims in full: Claim Nos. 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 29, 31, 33, 34, 35, 36 and 37 (the "Claims"). The Claim Objectors assert three grounds for disallowance of all Claims:

(w) the Claims are "interests," not "claims" entitled to a pro rata distribution with other creditors,

(x) the Claims fail to state an amount that is purportedly claimed, and

(y) the Claims are not supported by a copy of a writing as required by Rule 3001(c)(1) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.). Dkt. 40, p.39.

The Claim Objectors also object to claims 24, 25, 26, and 37 on an additional ground:

(z) that they are duplicative of claims previously filed by the holders of those claims. Id., p.40.

The tentative ruling is to sustain the Claim Objection as to all claims on ground "(w)." In addition, the tentative ruling, as to ground "(z)," is to sustain the objection insofar as disallowing the earlier version of each duplicative claim.

(i) Legal standards for objections to claim

"The term 'claim' is broadly defined to mean "a right to payment, whether or not such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, secure, or unsecured . . . ." 11 U.S.C. 101(5)(A) (emphasis added). The term also broadly includes a "right to an equitable remedy for breach of performance . . . ." 11 U.S.C. 101(5)(B). "The Code utilizes this 'broadest possible definition' of claim to ensure that 'all legal obligations of the debtor, no matter how remote or contingent, will be able to be dealt with in the bankruptcy case." In re SNTL Corp., 571 F.3d 826, 838 (9th Cir. 2009). Furthermore, "a claim may exist for bankruptcy and discharge purposes long before a cause of action accrues under nonbankruptcy law." Id., at 839. "It is only necessary that the creditor be able to fairly or reasonably contemplate the claim's existence as of the petition date." Id.

The exclusive grounds under which a debtor may successfully object to a claim are listed in 11 U.S.C. 502(b). In re Campbell, 336 B.R. 430 (9th Cir. BAP 2005); In re Heath, 331 B.R. 424, 435 (9th Cir. BAP 2005).

(ii) The Claims, apart from the Claim of Tarzana Crossing

With the exception of the Tarzana Crossing Claim (Claim No. 23-1/23-2) (discussed separately below), the tentative ruling is as follows.

(A) The Claims are "equity interests" subject to mandatory subordination (11 U.S.C. 510(b))

Claim Objectors assert that the Claims should be disallowed because they are "interests" rather than "claims." The tentative ruling is that this is correct: the Claims are, by their own admission, equity interests and, as such, must be subordinated to general unsecured claims pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 510(b). See e.g. In re Tristar Esperanza Props., LLC, 782 F.3d 492 (9th Cir. 2015) (a claim arising from an equity interest in a limited liability company is subordinated to general unsecured creditors). See also dkt. 1, PDF pp.11-15 (Debtor's listing of alleged claims as equity interests on bankruptcy schedules).

Chapter 11

(B) Duplicate claims are properly disallowed

Claim Objectors assert that claim 24-1 is a duplicate of claim 19-1, that claim 25-1 is a duplicate of claim 20-1, that claim 26-1 is a duplicate of claim 18-1, and that claim 37-1 is a duplicate of claim 35-1. The tentative ruling is to grant the objection in substance by treating the later filed claims as amendments to the earlier filed claims, and then disallowing the earlier filed claims as duplicative (i.e., disallow claims 18-1, 19-1, 20-1, and 35-1).

(C) The fact that a claim is contingent is not a proper basis to disallow a claim under section 502(b)(1)

Section 502(b)(1) provides that a claim is not allowable if it is unenforceable under the applicable agreement or law "for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmaturing." 11 U.S.C. 502(b)(1). "Under section 502(b)(1), [ ] contingent claims cannot be disallowed simply because the contingency occurred postpetition." SNTL Corp., 571 F.3d at 838.

Therefore, the tentative ruling is to overrule Claim Objectors' request to disallow the Claims based on the fact that fail to state the amount of their respective claims.

(D) Failure to attach supporting documentation is not a sufficient basis to disallow a claim

Under Heath, "a request for complete disallowance of the claim merely because of inadequate documentation" is not a proper objection. 331 B.R. 424, 435. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to overrule the Claim Objectors' request to disallow the Claims on the grounds they are not supported by copies of the operating agreement.

(iii) The Tarzana Crossing Claim

Tarzana Crossing opposes the Claim Objection on the grounds that its claim (Claim 23-2) "is not based on an equity interest in [Debtor] alone," but is also "based on the same pre-petition claims for which Tarzana Crossing filed suit long before this bankruptcy case was filed . . . ." Dkt. 137, p.6:3-5 (emphasis added). But the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit (the "Ninth Circuit") considered and rejected similar arguments in Tristar, 782 F.3d 492.

In Tristar, the Ninth Circuit affirmed the lower courts' determination that 11 U.S.C. 510(b)'s mandatory subordination applied to the claim of a former member of the debtor limited liability company (the "LLC") who obtained a judgment valuing her equity interest after the LLC did not honor a provision in its operating agreement requiring a buy-back of the withdrawing member's interest. Id. The Ninth Circuit confirmed that § 510(b) "sweeps broadly" (id. at 495) and held that "the critical question for purposes of § 510(b) . . . is not whether the claim is debt or equity at the time of the petition, but rather whether the claim arises from the purchase or sale of a security" and concluded that the "claim must be subordinated if there is a sufficient 'nexus or causal relationship between the claim and the purchase' or sale of securities." Id. at 497 (citation omitted).

The tentative ruling is that Tarzana Crossing's State Court claims are all directly related to and "arise from" its purchase of "security of the debtor" and Tarzana Crossing has not demonstrated that any damages it might recover from the State Court action against the Debtor would be anything but "damages arising from the purchase . . . of such a security." See 11 U.S.C. 510(b).

Therefore, the tentative ruling is to sustain the Claim Objectors' objection to the Tarzana Crossing Claim and order Claim 23-2 subordinated to general unsecured claims pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 510(b).

The tentative ruling is to deny the Claim Objectors' objection to this claim on all other grounds, for the reasons stated above.

Proposed order: The Claim Objectors are directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(a) Motion for remand (adv. dkt. 7, "Remand Motion") and supporting declaration (adv. dkt. 8), Plaintiff's opposition (adv. dkt. 10), Movants' reply (adv. dkt. 12)

On 3/31/20 this Court heard oral arguments, but then continued this matter to allow time for the parties to participate in a second round of mediation. Debtor's status report filed in the main case (2:19-bk-24048-NB, dkt. 169) states that mediation was unsuccessful (Id., p.5:1-4) but also represents that Debtor and Tarzana Crossing have tentatively agreed on settlement terms (Id., p.5:12-15).

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared (a) to provide this Court with any updates on the status of those negotiations (if any) and (b) to address whether this matter should be further continued or this Court should rule on the merits of the Remand Motion.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion for remand (adv. dkt. 7, "Remand Motion") and supporting declaration (adv. dkt. 8), Plaintiff's opposition (adv. dkt. 10), Movants' reply (adv. dkt. 12)

This matter was continued to allow time for the parties to participate in a second round of mediation, which was been scheduled to take place on 7/17/20 (Main Case, dkt. 129, p.2:7-8). On 8/4/20, Debtor filed a status report (Main Case, dkt. 136, p.4:22-26) stating that "the parties were unable to resolve their disputes [at the mediation, but] are continuing to make efforts to resolve their disputes through Mr. Gould."

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared (a) to provide this Court with any updates on the status of those negotiations (if any) and (b) to address whether this matter should be further continued or this Court should rule on the merits of the Remand Motion.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." If appearances are required, and you fail to appear telephonically without adequately resolving this matter by consent, then you may waive your right to be heard on matters that are appropriate for disposition at this hearing.

Tentative Ruling for 6/30/20:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 6/30/20.

This Court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (dkt. 11) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion for remand (adv. dkt. 7, "Remand Motion") and supporting declaration (adv. dkt. 8), Plaintiff's opposition (adv. dkt. 10), Movants' reply (adv. dkt. 12)

Defendants Dos Cabezas Properties, LLC, Criscione-Meyer Entitlement, LLC, and Michael Criscione (collectively, the "Movants") seek an order remanding this proceeding and for an award of attorneys fees and costs imposed against plaintiff Tarzana Crossing, a Merchant Faire, LLC ("Plaintiff").

For the reasons set forth below, the tentative ruling is to grant the request to remand this removed action, but perhaps defer the remand until after mediation, and deny the request for attorney fees.

(i) Jurisdiction

The parties dispute whether this Court has subject matter jurisdiction to hear this proceeding. The tentative ruling is that this Court has "related to" jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 157(c)(1), because the parties' dispute arises from an alleged breach of contract for the sale of the estate's principal asset.

Chapter 11

(ii) Mandatory abstention

The tentative ruling is that mandatory abstention applies as follows. Mandatory abstention under 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(2) requires seven elements: (1) a timely motion; (2) a purely state law question; (3) a non-core proceeding under 28 U.S.C. 157(c)(1); (4) a lack of independent federal jurisdiction absent the petition under Title 11; (5) that an action is commenced in a state court; (6) the state court action may be timely adjudicated; (7) a state forum of appropriate jurisdiction exists. [In re Gen. Carriers Corp., 258 B.R. 181, 189 (9th Cir. BAP 2001) (internal quotation omitted).]

These elements are satisfied: (1) the motion was timely - the proceeding was removed on 1/22/20 and Movants filed the remand motion just 30 days later, on 2/21/20; (2) the complaint involves purely nonbankruptcy law questions (breach of fiduciary duty etc., adv. dkt. 7, p. 2:17-21) (Movants state that they amended their complaint on 8/30/19, but there is nothing in the record reflecting what was amended (id., p. 2:21), so this Court bases its ruling on the record presented); (3) the proceeding is noncore - the authorities cited by the removing party (dkt.10, pp.14:24-15:14) are distinguishable because they all involved alleged violations of fiduciary duties within the bankruptcy case itself, not prepetition and nonbankruptcy alleged violations; (4) no independent federal jurisdiction has been asserted; (5) the action was commenced prepetition, on 12/14/18, in Los Angeles Superior Court; (6) there is no evidence that the proceeding cannot be timely adjudicated in the State Court; and (7) neither party has contested in this Court the State Court's jurisdiction over the proceeding.

(iii) Discretionary abstention

Alternatively, and in addition, the tentative ruling is that discretionary abstention is appropriate.

Discretionary abstention under 28 U.S.C. 1334(c)(1) requires consideration of the following twelve factors:

- (1) the effect of lack thereof on the efficient administration of the estate if a Court recommends abstention,
- (2) the extent to which state law issues predominate over bankruptcy issues,
- (3) the difficulty or unsettled nature of the applicable law,
- (4) the presence of a related proceeding commenced in state court or other nonbankruptcy court,
- (5) the jurisdictional basis, if any, other than 28 U.S.C. 1334,
- (6) the degree of relatedness or remoteness of the proceeding to the main bankruptcy case, (7) the substance rather than form of an asserted "core" proceeding, (8) the feasibility of severing state law claims from core bankruptcy matters to allow judgments to be entered in state court with enforcement left to the bankruptcy court, (9) the burden of the bankruptcy court's docket, (10) the likelihood that the commencement of the proceeding in bankruptcy court involves forum shopping by one of the parties, (11) the existence of a right to a jury trial, and (12) the presence in the proceeding of nondebtor parties.

Several of the Tucson factors weigh in favor of abstention. First, the Complaint involves purely state-law issues. Second, this Court would not have jurisdiction over the Complaint but for the Debtor's bankruptcy petition, because the claims arise under state law and there is no diversity between the parties. Third, the Complaint involves several non-debtor parties who have asserted a right to a jury trial. Fourth, permitting the Complaint to proceed in state court will contribute to the efficient administration of the bankruptcy case because the State Court is the best tribunal to adjudicate the parties' state law claims. Fifth, although the Complaint is related to the main bankruptcy case because it involves claims relating to the primary asset of the estate, deferring to the State Court to adjudicate the parties' claims will not unduly interfere with this Bankruptcy Court's determination of other matters in the bankruptcy case.

(iv) Movants' request for attorneys' fees is denied

The tentative ruling is to deny Movant's request for attorneys' fees because this Court is not persuaded that Plaintiff lacked an objectively reasonable basis for seeking removal of this action because the dispute is related to the primary asset of Debtor's bankruptcy estate.

Proposed order: Movants are directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1) (B).

The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status

(2) Venue/jurisdiction/authority.

The parties are directed to address any outstanding matters of (a) venue, (b) jurisdiction, (c) this Bankruptcy Court's authority to enter final orders or judgment(s) in this proceeding and, if consent is required, whether the parties do consent, or have already expressly or impliedly consented. See generally Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594, 2608 (2011) (if litigant "believed that the Bankruptcy Court lacked the authority to decide his claim...then he should have said so – and said so promptly."); Wellness Int'l Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015) (consent must be knowing and voluntary but need not be express); In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc., 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (implied consent), aff'd on other grounds, 134 S. Ct. 2165 (2014); In re Pringle, 495 B.R. 447 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) (rebuttable presumption that failure to challenge authority to issue final order is intentional and indicates consent); In re Deitz, 760 F.3d 1028 (9th Cir. 2014) (authority to adjudicate nondischargeability encompasses authority to liquidate debt and enter final judgment). See generally In re AWTR Liquidation, Inc., 548 B.R. 300 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

(3) Mediation. [Intentionally omitted]

(4) Deadlines: [Intentionally omitted]

(b) Debtor's Amended plan (dkt. 313) (see also Disclosure Statement, dkt. 311), order setting confirmation hearing (dkt. 317), proof of service of solicitation package (dkt. 324), Debtor's confirmation brief (dkt. 329), ballot summary (dkt. 330), objection of Post Acute Care Partners, Inc. ("Post") (dkt. 332), objection of Shiv Raj & Saroj Gupta ("Guptas") (dkt. 333), Debtor's Reply (dkt. 335)

There is no tentative ruling. Debtor should be prepared to provide an update on the status of plan negotiations.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/17/19.

(a) Bar date: 12/20/19, dkt. 116 (timely served, dkt. 120)

(b) Procedures order: dkt.9 (timely served, dkt.18)

(c) AmPlan/AmDisclosure Statement*: See above.

(d) Continued status conference: If there are unresolved confirmation issues, this Court anticipates setting either a continued hearing/status conference on 10/27/20 at 2:00 p.m. and/or a further evidentiary hearing (at a date and time to be determined). Alternatively, if the Plan were to be confirmed at today's hearing, the tentative ruling would be to set a post-confirmation status conference for 2/9/21 at 2:00 p.m. and a 1/26/21 deadline to file a post-confirmation status report.

Chapter 11

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Pursuant to Judge Bason's COVID-19 procedures, all appearances are telephonic via CourtCall at (888) 882-6878.

Tentative Ruling for 9/29/20:
Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion of the U.S. Trustee ("UST") to dismiss (dkt. 65, "MTD"), debtor's opposition (dkt. 86), UST's reply (dkt. 168, 170), debtor's response (dkt. 179), debtor's status report (dkt. 180), stipulation and order re pre-petition bank account (dkt. 212, 221)

There is no tentative ruling. The outcome of this motion may depend on whether this Court confirms Debtor's amended plan.

(c) Debtor's Amended plan (dkt. 313) (see a/so Disclosure Statement, dkt. 311), order setting confirmation hearing (dkt. 317), proof of service of solicitation package (dkt. 324), Debtor's confirmation brief (dkt. 329), ballot summary (dkt. 330), objection of Post Acute Care Partners, Inc. ("Post") (dkt. 332), objection of Shiv Raj & Saroj Gupta ("Guptas") (dkt. 333), Debtor's Reply (dkt. 335)

The tentative ruling is that (x) Debtor has adequately addressed Post's objection; (y) Debtor has adequately addressed the non-materiality of her proposed minor modifications to the Plan (i.e., re-balloting is not required); and (z) Debtor has provided sufficient arguments and evidence to overrule most of the Guptas' objections. The Guptas' objections that Debtor has not yet sufficiently addressed are explained below.

(A) Best Interest Test (11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(7)): Debtor's calculations require an adjustment, but even with an adjustment the Guptas

have not rebutted Debtor's showing that the Plan satisfies the best interest test

The tentative ruling is that Debtor's alternative liquidation analysis (dkt.335, pp.11-12) should be adjusted to account for the possibility that the secured claim asserted by Patch Of Land ("Patch" or "POL") might be reduced to some extent, based on objections to default interest and other claims by the bankruptcy estate. But the tentative ruling - based on this Court's familiarity with numerous disputes in other cases regarding default rates of interest and other charges - is that the possibility of such reduction, discounted to present value, is less than shortfall in funds that would be available in any hypothetical chapter 7 case. See Debtor's Reply (dkt.335), p.12. See generally, e.g., East-West Bank v. Altadena Lincoln Crossing, LLC, 598 B.R. 633 (C.D. Cal. 2019)

The tentative ruling is that a precise dollar estimate is not required because the shortfall is hundreds of thousands of dollars; the discount to Patch's claim would not be greater than that. In other words, even with the adjustment to Patch's claim as described above, there would be $-0- for general unsecured creditors in a hypothetical chapter 7 case.

Alternatively, assuming for the sake of discussion that any adjustments to Debtor's liquidation analysis would be enough to provide any projected recovery for nonpriority unsecured creditors, that in itself does not establish that liquidation would be in the best interests of creditors. Rather, the issue would require further evidence because any such projected chapter 7 recovery still would have to exceed the projected recovery under Debtor's proposed Plan, and the latter requires more evidence (as noted below).

(B) Adequate means for implementation (11 U.S.C. 1123(a)(5)) and feasibility (11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(11))

Debtor is directed to address whether she has evidence of sufficient loan commitments and/or gift commitments from family and friends to make her proposed commitments in the Plan adequate and feasible. See, e.g., Debtor's Reply (dkt.335), p.14:2-8. The parties are directed to address whether any evidentiary hearing will be necessary to address the sufficiency of such evidence, and the possible scheduling of any such evidentiary hearing and any related matters.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/17/19.

#7.00 Hrg re: Motion to Avoid Lien Judicial with Cavalry Investments/Fireside Bank

Docket 36

Tentative Ruling:

Continue to 1/21/21 at 8:30 a.m. to address the following issues.
Appearances are not required on 12/17/20.

Reasons:

Evidence of senior debt. Judge Bason's tentative ruling is to require evidence of the senior debt owed to Hero Renovate America at or near the petition date (6/30/20). The motion's evidence (dkt. 36 Ex. E) is as of 3/2/20, which is too old in view of possible loan modifications/reductions that could have occurred. See In re Gutierrez, 503 B.R. 458 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2013).

The tentative ruling is also that any evidence of the senior debt owed to Hero Renovate America should demonstrate that (i) the debt is owed by Debtors and (ii) the debt is secured against the subject property. The motion's evidence (dkt. 36 Ex. E) provides only an estimated remaining balance of an unspecified loan and the date of the estimate (without any information tying the loan to Debtors, and without any evidence that the loan is secured by a recorded deed of trust).

Appraisal; date of valuation. The junior lienholder has requested (dkt. 37) additional time to obtain an appraisal. Debtor is directed to provide reasonable access for that purpose. The junior lienholder is directed to file and serve the appraisal at least 14 days before the continued hearing. Note: Judge Bason's tentative ruling is to require valuations at or near the petition date. See In re Gutierrez, 503 B.R. 458 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2013).

At the continued hearing the parties should address how they propose to resolve their disputes - e.g., (i) with an evidentiary hearing; (ii) with a court ruling based solely on the written record (to save costs, if all parties consent), (iii) through mediation, or (iv) through appointment of an appraiser (jointly selected by the parties/their appraisers) as the court's own expert under FRE 706.

#12.00 Cont'd hrg re: Motion Under Local Bankruptcy Rule 3015-1 (n) and (w) to Modify Plan or Suspend Plan Payments fr. 11/19/20

Docket 109

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/17/20:

Appearances required, absent either (1) an agreement with the Chapter 13 Trustee's office and the objecting creditors to continue this matter or (2) withdrawal of the motion by Debtor. The tentative ruling is to deny the motion for the reasons set forth below.

Analysis

At the 11/19/20 hearing, this Court was persuaded to continue the matter to allow the parties to file additional papers. The Court has reviewed Debtor's supplemental Declaration (dkt. 123), the supplemental Opposition by siblings and creditors Patricia A. Kennedy and Vincent J. Kennedy (the "Siblings") (dkt. 124), Debtor's supplemental Reply (dkt.125), and the documents reviewed in preparation of the tentative ruling for 11/19/20.

The tentative ruling is that, although Debtor's evidentiary objections are well taken, nevertheless (i) Debtor's supplemental declaration has not established that his alleged financial hardship is in fact due to the pandemic as required by 11 U.S.C. 1329(d) and (ii) Debtor has not established good faith for a plan modification as required by 11 U.S.C. 1329(b)(1).

Debtor has provided evidence indicating that his brother has had a reduction in income, that he was unsuccessful in finding replacement tenant to rent the property, and why preparing the garage for use as a rentable space is not possible. Dkt. 123, pp. 2–5. Debtor's evidence of his brother's reduction in income appears to be adequate, as is his evidence of the apparent expense of repairing and furnishing the garage and his alleged intent from the outset not to rent the garage but instead to rent the entire house out if necessary to fund his "step up" plan (the Siblings dispute this, but they do not provide admissible evidence). But Debtor has not adequately explained his efforts to lease the property.

Debtor alleges that he placed a "for rent" sign in front of the property. Dkt. 123, p.2. But Debtor does not explain when this sign was put up, how long the sign remained, and what other efforts he undertook when it became clear that the for rent sign was unsuccessful in attracting a tenant. For this reason and the reasons stated in the tentative ruling for 11/19/20, the tentative ruling is to deny the motion.

Notwithstanding all of the foregoing, the parties are directed to meet and confer to see if a compromise can be reached. This Court is concerned that if the parties do not settle then there could be considerable additional litigation between Debtor and the Siblings, and that such litigation might result in added expense without added benefit for the parties, and also could result in adverse consequences to third parties.

If Debtor and the Siblings reach a compromise then, depending on the nature of the compromise and any offers of proof, this Court may well be able to find, in the absence of evidentiary objections from the Siblings and the Chapter 13 Trustee, that there is sufficient "good faith" and compliance with section 1329(d) to grant a modified version of the motion.

Appearances required, absent either (1) an agreement with the Chapter 13 Trustee's office and the objecting creditors to continue this matter or (2) withdrawal of the motion by Debtor. The tentative ruling is to deny the motion for the reasons set forth below.

Analysis

This Court has reviewed the objection by siblings and creditors Patricia A. Kennedy and Vincent J. Kennedy (the "Siblings") (dkt. 111), the response of the Chapter 13 Trustee (dkt. 113), Debtor's reply (dkt. 120), and the Siblings' unauthorized sur-reply (dkt. 121). As a preliminary matter, the tentative ruling is to strike the unauthorized sur-reply. Nevertheless, the tentative ruling is to deny the motion for the following reasons.

Modification can be requested under 11 U.S.C. 1329. Section 1329(c) usually provides that a plan as modified may not exceed five years, but the CARES Act added section 1329(d), which permits an extension, in certain circumstances, of up to seven years after the first payment under the original plan was due (for chapter 13 plans confirmed prior to 3/27/20).

To be eligible for that extension Debtor must establish that he "is experiencing or has experienced a material financial hardship due, directly or indirectly, to the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic" and if the modification "is approved after notice and a hearing." (Emphasis added.) The tentative ruling is that Debtor has not established that his alleged financial hardship is in fact due to the pandemic.

First, Debtor asserts that his brother, who has been occupying part of the property, has been making "contributions" to fund the plan but had a reduction in income due to the pandemic and cannot afford to continue with such "contributions" or pay rent. Debtor also asserts that he has been unable to find paying tenants due to the pandemic. Where is the evidence of the brother's financial inability to pay fair rent? Where is the evidence of Debtor's efforts to find a paying tenant (and evict his brother)?

Second, Debtor alleges that his garage is "packed with boxes and other household items, and is not habitable." Reply (dkt.120), p.7:1-3 & Ex.3. Why has it not been possible, since the inception of this case and especially now, to clean up and rent out this space?

There might (or might not) be good explanations for these things. But Debtor fails to address them.

The same concerns apply under section 1325(a), made applicable to any proposed plan modification by section 1329(b)(1). Section 1325(a)(3) requires that "the plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law." See In re Sunahara, 326 B.R. 768, 772-84 (9th Cir. BAP 2005).

The "good faith" determination "necessarily requires an assessment of a debtor's overall financial condition including, without limitation, the debtor's current disposable income, the likelihood that the debtor's disposable income will significantly increase ..." and any other facts and circumstances bearing on the issue of good faith. Id. at 781-82. For the same reasons stated above, the tentative ruling is that Debtor has not established his good faith.

In sum, Debtor has not satisfied section 1329(d) - by failing to provide enough evidence that it is the pandemic that has made the plan infeasible - nor has he provided sufficient evidence of his good faith under section 1325(a)(3). Therefore the tentative ruling is to deny the motion.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." Tentative Ruling for 12/17/20:

Appearances required.

Key documents reviewed (in addition to motion papers): Lienholder Raeisi Group Inc.'s opposition papers (dkt. 52-59), Debtor's notice of hearing (dkt. 64), stipulation & order continuing hearing (dkt. 72, 74), amended motion (dkt. 76), order continuing hearing (dkt. 78), declarations re third party appraiser (dkt. 79, 80, 82) & stipulation/order re same (dkt. 83, 85), stipulation & order changing third party appraiser (dkt. 90, 92), Lienholder's supplemental opposition papers (dkt. 94, superseded by dkt. 95) & evidentiary objections (dkt. 96), Debtor's appraisal critique (dkt. 97), Debtor's reply brief (dkt. 98), Lienholder's reply (dkt. 101) and evidentiary objections (dkt. 99, 100)

(1) Payment of appraiser

At the parties' request, this Court appointed an appraiser to serve as a court-appointed expert under Rule 706 & 1101(a)&(b) (Fed.R.Evid.). Debtor reports (dkt.98, p.4:10-13) that Lienholder has not paid its half of the appraiser's fee. The tentative ruling is that any delayed payment (or non-payment) reflects negatively on this Court, and risks impairing the ability of this Court and parties in interest to retain experts in future.

Lienholder is directed to address whether, in response to Debtor's (hearsay) assertion, it can provide evidence of payment. In addition, Lienholder is directed to address whether this Court should issue an order to show cause why it should not be sanctioned. Alternatively, the tentative ruling is that, having agreed to the procedure but then having apparently failed to abide by it, to the detriment of other persons and this Court, Lienholder will be judicially estopped from asserting its arguments unless and until full compensation to the appraiser is made, including any late charges, interest, and other charges.

Presuming that Lienholder will not be judicially estopped, the tentative ruling on the merits is as follows.

(2) The Property is subject to Section 522(f)

Previously this Court sua sponte raised the issue whether the Property is property of the bankruptcy estate, subject to 11 U.S.C. 522(f). That appears to have opened a "can of worms" because Lienholder now makes arguments that appear to misconstrue the issue entirely. See Tentative Ruling for 8/27/20, section "(c)" (reproduced below and in Lienholder's RJN (dkt.95), Ex.D, at PDF pp.19-23).

Lienholder argues that "the Subject Property is not community property but rather Debtor's sole property, thus, the lien [against Debtor's non-debtor husband - i.e., the larger of the two abstracts of judgment -] is not the proper subject of the Debtor's bankruptcy estate" and Debtor "has no standing" to avoid that lien. Lienholder Supp. Opp. (dkt.95), p.10:8-12. See also id., pp.3:19-4:7 & nn.2-4; Lienholder RJN (dkt.95), Ex.A (2015 grant deed stating that Debtor conveys it as her sole and separate property to her husband and herself as trustees of a family trust); Burrows Decl. (dkt.95), Ex.B, pp.1-2).

The tentative ruling is that Lienholder completely misses the mark. First, regardless whether the Property is Debtor's separate property or community property, and regardless whether the lien at issue arises from a debt against Debtor's non-debtor husband, the fact remains that if the lien impairs Debtor's exemption in the Property then it is avoidable according to the plain meaning of section 522(f). See 11 U.S.C. 522(f).

Second, Lienholder's reliance on In re Obedian, 546 B.R. 409, 412-13 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016), is misplaced. In the quoted portion of that decision (dkt.95, p.12:9-16) the Court was hypothesizing a situation in which, pursuant to a joint tenancy, the non-debtor spouse had a one-half interest that was not part of the debtor's estate. But in this instance the Property is part of the estate - it appears to be Debtor's separate property, which is obviously part of the estate, or alternatively it is community property, which is part of the estate under 11 U.S.C. 541(a)(2).

For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is that the Property and Lienholder's abstracts are subject to section 522(f).

Chapter 13

The appraiser jointly chosen by the parties, Leroy Thomas III, opines that the Property's value as of the petition date of 12/17/19 was $1,150,000.00. See Thomas Appraisal (dkt. 95, Ex.D, at PDF pp.31-55, and dkt. 97, Ex.B, at PDF pp.25-50). Debtor provides evidence and calculations (dkt. 98, p.2:18-25) as follows:

Fair market value (per Thomas Appraisal):	$1,150,000.00
1st TD	($ 423,532.50)
2d TD	($ 344,706.22)
Ygreen	($ 132,462.30)
Exemption	($ 100,000.00)
Equity before Lienholder's Abstracts of Judgment	$ 149,298.98
Abstract (recorded 7/27/18)	$ 57,910.31
Abstract (recorded 8/24/18)	$ 470,145.31

The tentative ruling is to overrule the evidentiary objections (dkt. 96) of Lienholder to Debtor's evidence of the Ygreen lien. Debtor, as the owner of the Property, is competent to opine as to its value, and in doing so she, like any expert, can rely on hearsay (see Rule 703 & 1101(a), Fed.R.Evid.) and explain her calculations of liens and the net equity (or, in her view, negative equity). She has also provided adequate foundation and authentication.

Alternatively, the tentative ruling is that the public records of Ygreen's lien and the dollar amount claimed thereunder qualify for exceptions to the hearsay and authentication rules (see Rules 803(14), 803(15), 807, 907(b)(7)) and, again Debtor has provided adequate foundation.

Lienholder offers no reasons to doubt the existence and dollar amount of the Ygreen lien (or Debtor's other calculations). The tentative ruling is to accept those calculations, subject to any adjustment in value based on the parties' evidence and arguments.

(3) Non-binding appraisal, but binding determination by this Court

Lienholder argues that Debtor fails to cite "any legal authority addressing the Court's discretion to disregard a court-appointed, third-party neutral's report in deciding a pending issue." Lienholder Reply (dkt.101), p.5:10-13. The tentative ruling is that this has it backwards: this Court has always expressed its skepticism that it has any power to make a third-party appraiser's opinion of value binding absent both parties' consent, and this

Chapter 13

Court's records of the prior hearings do not include any such consent. To the contrary, this Court's recollection is that it was Lienholder who declined to consent, and this Court's order approving the parties' stipulation selecting the appraiser and procedures (dkt. 92, copied at RJN (dkt.95), Ex.C) provides that this current hearing is the "final hearing" at which the parties can make their final arguments "and the Court can make its determination of the property's value." Id., p.2:20-25 (emphasis added).

Therefore, the tentative ruling is that both parties were free to provide evidence and arguments contesting the valuation in the Thomas Appraisal. Debtor's proposed adjustments to that valuation are addressed below.

(4) Debtor's proposed adjustments

Debtor argues for a $130,000.00 reduction in the Thomas Appraisal valuation, based on a letter report by a civil engineer, Arto Kazarians. Debtor Supp. Brief (dkt.97), pp.10:7-12:13 & Ex.A, at PDF pp. 20-24. The tentative ruling is to reject this adjustment.

First, although the tentative ruling is that Lienholder's evidentiary objections (dkt. 99) go to the weight, not the admissibility, of this evidence, nevertheless the tentative ruling is to give that testimony much reduced weight because it lacks a detailed explanation of Mr. Kazarians' expertise and the foundations for his conclusions. Second, and more importantly, the tentative ruling is not to make any adjustment on account of Mr. Kazarians' observations about the Property because, as Lienholder points out (dkt.101, pp.7-8, no.6), Debtor could have provided to the appraiser a copy of Mr. Kazarians' report, and/or could have pointed out the alleged structural issues with the Property. This Court's records show that at the hearing on 8/27/20 Debtor's counsel asked if it would be permissible to communicate with the third party appraiser, and this Court confirmed that it would be, provided that Lienholder was included in any communication (i.e., copied on any emails, or joined in any telephone call). Third, although the Thomas Appraisal does not itemize the issues identified by Debtor's engineer, it does take into consideration the overall condition of the Property, and the tentative ruling is that this sufficiently accounts for any reduction in what a willing buyer would pay based on the condition of the Property.

Debtor's other proposed adjustments are based on critiques by her original appraiser, Jennifer Landon, of the Thomas Appraisal. See Debtor Supp. Brief (dkt. 97), pp.12:14-14:16 and attached Landon Decl, pp.17-19.

Chapter 13

The tentative ruling is to overrule Lienholder's evidentiary objections (dkt.100) because Ms. Landon's expertise as an appraiser is sufficiently established and, based on that expertise and the foundations she provides, she is qualified and able to opine on the issues (including any ultimate issues, per Rule 704, Fed.R.Evid.) and rely on hearsay (Rule 703, Fed.R.Evid.).

As to the specific proposed adjustments, the tentative ruling is not to make any adjustment based on the number of comparable sales being four actual sales instead of five to six (dkt.97, p.17:17-21), and to make a modest aggregate adjustment of $50,000.00 based on the other issues set forth in the Landon delaration, to arrive at a total valuation of $1,100,000.00.

Based on the foregoing, the tentative ruling is to reduce the net equity in the Property to which Lienholder's liens can attach from $149,298.98 to $99,298.98. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to grant the motion in part, and avoid the Lienholder's liens in excess of that dollar amount.

Current issues

Debtor seeks an order under 11 U.S.C. 522(f) avoiding two judgment liens against Debtor's residence, located at 1316 Irving Avenue, Glendale, California 91201 (the "Property"), recorded in favor of Raeisi Group, Inc. ("Lienholder"): (w) a judgment lien (the "Non-Debtor Lien") securing a $470,145.31 judgment entered against Debtor's non-filing spouse, Erik Hovsepian (the "Non-Filing Spouse") and (x) a judgment lien securing a $57,910.31 judgment entered against Debtor (the "Debtor Lien").

(a) Legal standard

Section 522(f) provides, in relevant part, that a debtor:

May avoid the fixing of a lien on an interest of the debtor in property to the extent that such lien impairs an exemption to which the debtor would have been entitled under subsection (b) of this section, if such lien is—

(A) a judicial lien . . . . [11 U.S.C. 522(f)]

Section 522(f)(2) provides a formula for calculating the extent to which a lien impairs an exemption: add the lien, all other liens on the property, and the amount of the exemption that the debtor could claim if there were no liens on the property and then subtract from that amount the value of the debtor's interest in the property in the absence of any liens. In re Meyer, 373 B.R. 84, 86 (9th Cir. BAP 2007); In re Pike, 243 B.R. 66, 71 (9th Cir. BAP 1999). When multiple liens are involved, there is authority that the liens must be "subtracted in order of reverse priority." In re Hanger, 217 B.R. 592, 595 (9th Cir. BAP 1997), aff'd, 196 F.3d 1292 (9th Cir. 1999). See also In re Heaney, 453 B.R. 42, 48 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 2011) (same).

(b) Procedural issues

Debtor did not comply with Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 4003-2(b) (1), which requires a separate notice and motion for each lien that is sought to be avoided. The tentative ruling is to excuse Debtor's non-compliance because it does not appear to have prejudiced Lienholder, but Debtor's counsel is cautioned that failure to comply with applicable rules in future may result in adverse consequences.

Alternatively, the tentative ruling is that Lienholder has waived and forfeited any assertion of prejudice because this issue was not raised in its' opposition papers.

(c) The Property is property of the estate

Debtor states that she purchased the Property with her then-husband, now estranged, in April 2008, and that title to the Property is in the name of Erik Hovsepian and Elin Khachatourian Family Trust. Dkt. 49, pdf. p. 5, para. 7. Debtor asserts a community property interest in the Property. Dkt. 15, p.12.

Although not raised by either party, the tentative ruling is that the Property is property of the estate, notwithstanding the form of title. See Cal. Fam. Code 760 (Under California law, all property acquired by a spouse during marriage is presumptively community property); Cal. Fam. Code 761(a) ("[u]nless the trust instrument . . . expressly provides otherwise, community property that is transferred in trust remains community property during the marriage . . . if the trust . . . is revocable . . . ."); 11 U.S.C. 541(a)

(d) Avoidability of the Non-Debtor Lien

Lienholder argues that Debtor cannot use section 522(f) to avoid the Non-Debtor Lien because the lien secures a judgment against Debtor's Non-Filing Spouse who is not a debtor in bankruptcy nor a party to this motion. Dkt. 52, p.2:19-23. Lienholder also argues that the Non-Debtor Lien is not avoidable because Debtor's Non-Filing Spouse would be prohibited from avoiding the lien if he were to commence his own chapter 13 bankruptcy case because the debt is nondischargeable under 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(4). Id. p. 9:18-10:13. In support of this argument, Lienholder relies on the non-binding case of Castle v. Parrish, 29 B.R. 869, 874 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 1983). But Castle is inapplicable, because it involves the avoidability of a lien securing child support, which is a debt "of a kind that is specified in section 523(a)(5)," and which section 522(f)(1) unambiguously excepts from avoidance. See 11 U.S.C. 522(f)(1)(A) (. . . the debtor may avoid the fixing of a lien on an interest of the debtor in property to the extent that the lien impairs and exemption to which debtor would have been entitled under subsection (b), if such lien is – a judicial lien, other than a judicial lien that secures a debt of a kind that is specified in section 523(a)(5)") (emphasis added). Although Lienholder argues that its judgment against Debtor's Non-Filing Spouse is nondischargeable under 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(4), Rule 7001(6) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.) would require the initiation of an adversary proceeding for any determination of nondischargeability in bankruptcy. See In re Kimmel, 367 B.R. 174, 180-81 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2007) (reviewing procedures for nondischargeability action against non-debtor spouse).

In addition, dischargeability is not at issue. That is an "in personam" concept, but Debtor seeks an "in rem" remedy: avoiding the Non-Debtor Lien on estate Property. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is that any issues regarding the dischargeability of Lienholder's debts against the Non-Filing Spouse are not properly before this Court in this hearing.

The tentative ruling is also that on the issue of avoidability, Debtor can avoid the Non-Debtor Lien if Debtor can establish that it impairs her claimed homestead exemption. See, e.g., In re Obedian, 546 B.R. 409, 423-25 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016) (concluding that debtor could avoid judicial lien against non-filing spouse because lien attached to community property interests as a debt incurred during marriage and, because the property was property of the estate, the lien impaired debtor's exemption).

(e) Valuation

Debtor asserts that to the extent the liens exceed the $66,761.28 equity in the Property after deducting senior liens and Debtor's homestead exemption from Debtor's alleged $935,000 fair market value, Lienholder's liens are avoidable. Dkt. 4, p. 4. Conversely, Lienholder argues that the Property is actually worth $1,315,000, and therefore do not impair Debtor's homestead exemption in any amount. Dkt. 55.

Analysis:

(1) Advances of funds to the senior lienholder

(a) Nonbankruptcy law

The tentative ruling is that Debtor is correct that under nonbankruptcy law a junior lienholder is not authorized to advance more funds than what is necessary to cure any arrears on a senior lien (Cal. Civ. Code 2924c(a)(1)) and BBV has not demonstrated that it was necessary to advance $91,930.10 to the senior lienholder, when it appears that the senior lienholder's arrears as of the petition date were only $47,356.58 (see dkt. 38, Ex.C). Therefore, to the extent the advances exceeded the amount of any default (i.e., $91,930.10 - $47,356.58 = $44,573.52), they were unauthorized under nonbankruptcy law.

The parties have not briefed the consequences of making such an unauthorized transfer. One remedy might be for BBV, Debtor, and/or the senior lien holder to seek to unwind BBV's unauthorized payment of $44,573.52 to the senior lien holder. In that event, presumably, Debtor would once again owe the excess $44,573.52 to the senior debt holder, and BBV's claim would be reduced by that same dollar amount. But that does not appear to have happened, so the question is what consequences follow from BBV's unauthorized payment of the senior debt.

The tentative ruling, in the absence of cited authority from either party, is that California law must be construed so as to treat BBV's payment of the senior debt as an unauthorized loan that attempts to replace the (lower) interest rate under the senior loan documents with the (higher) interest rate under the junior loan documents, and that this is impermissible. BBV has not cited authority that someone who makes a loan without authority to do so can charge any interest on that unauthorized loan. Therefore, the tentative ruling is that BBV cannot charge any interest prior to the effective date of any plan; although, after the effective date, it would have to bear "present value" interest pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 1325(a)(5)(B)(ii). In other words, the senior debt paid by BBV does not simply disappear (which would be a windfall to Debtor), but nor can BBV charge (higher) interest on that debt (which would be a windfall to BBV).

(b) Bankruptcy law

All of the foregoing analysis under nonbankruptcy law may be mooted by the superseding effect of bankruptcy law. It appears that both of BBV's payments are void as a matter of bankruptcy law.

BBV's checks are dated 7/8/20 - the same day that Debtor's prior bankruptcy case was dismissed (Case No. 2:18-bk-18060-NB). This Court presumes for purposes of this discussion that the checks were issued after the dismissal (and therefore this Court will not address whether the checks violated the automatic stay in that prior case). This Court also presumes, for purposes of this discussion, that the checks were mailed on or about the same date. But the timestamps reflect that the checks were not received and/or deposited by the senior lienholder until after the 7/10/20 petition date in this current case. The checks apparently were deposited on 7/13/20 and 7/17/20 (see AmClaim, pdf pp. 6-7).

The parties have not briefed which of these dates is relevant, but the tentative ruling is that the date of deposit is the date when BBV's lien against Debtor's real property was increased, and that this constituted a "transfer" of an interest in that property and an "exercise of control" over property of the estate, in violation of the automatic stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a)(3). Alternatively the tentative ruling is that each transfer constituted an act to obtain "possession" of property of the estate in violation of the other clause of 11 U.S.C. 362(a)(3), or an act to "create, perfect, or enforce a lien" against property of the estate in violation of 11 U.S.C. 362(a)(4). On each of these alternative grounds, BBV's advances violated the automatic stay and therefore are void ab initio. See generally 11 U.S.C. 11 U.S.C. 101(50)

("transfer" defined); cf. In re Lee, 179 B.R. 149, 158-59 (9th Cir. Note: The tentative ruling is that the transfers also likely constituted avoidable unauthorized postpetition transfers (11 U.S.C. 549(a)), and/or unauthorized post-petition loans (11 U.S.C. 364), which had the effect of replacing a senior encumbrance bearing a low interest rate with BBV's encumbrance bearing a higher interest rate. But the tentative ruling is that this Court cannot make any ruling on those issues because they would require an adversary proceeding. See Rules 3007(b), 7001(1) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.).

The bottom line is that, in making payments to the holder of the senior lien, BBV violated the automatic stay and therefore both advances are void. BBV argues that there is no harm because Debtor owed the money anyway, but as a practical matter, BBV effectively increased the interest rate that Debtor must pay, which ultimately takes away from any recovery for junior creditors and jeopardizes Debtor's ability to reorganize.

Again, this Court is not ruling that Debtor will receive a windfall. If this Court adheres to the foregoing tentative ruling then the transfers from BBV to the senior lien holder were void, so presumably the senior lienholder must return the $91,930.10 to BBV and Debtor's debt to the senior lienholder will increase by that same dollar amount. That said, the senior lienholder has not been made a party to these proceedings, and Debtor has not commenced any proceeding to compel turnover by the senior lienholder (see 11 U.S.C. 542; Rule 7001(1), Fed. R. Bankr. P.). In addition, if BBV's entire $91,930.10 transfers were to be unwound then Debtor might owe additional interest, late charges, and other charges to the senior lienholder, and there might be other consequences.

Accordingly, although the tentative ruling is that BBV's $91,930.10 in advances were void (because, by increasing BBV's lien, they violated the automatic stay), the tentative ruling is that it would be premature to disallow BBV's claim for those funds at this time. Rather, the tentative ruling is to direct Debtor and BBV to meet and confer, and for both of them to communicate with the holder of the senior lien, to attempt to resolve this matter.

Chapter 13

(2) Foreclosure and Bankruptcy Attorneys Fees and Costs

(i) Foreclosure fees, costs & interest thereon

The tentative ruling is to overrule Debtor's objection to BBV's foreclosure fees, costs and interest because BBV's response cites the applicable loan provision that purportedly entitles it to collect these fees/costs (dkt. 40, p.8:1-9) and Debtor's reply does not renew any challenges to these items.

(ii) Reasonableness of attorneys' fees & costs

The tentative ruling is to overrule the objection as to the reasonableness of the amounts charged because BBV's opposition papers attach time records (dkt. 40, Ex.2, pdf pp. 30-40 & dkt. 41), which appear to provide adequate support for the reasonableness of its fees.

(iii) Rule 3002.1(c) (Fed. R. Bankr. P.)

First, the tentative ruling is that it is appropriate for this Court to reach the merits of this issue because although Debtor raised this issue for the first time in her reply papers (a) it appears to be in response to new information provided in BBV's opposition and (b) there is no prejudice to BBV because it filed the unauthorized sur-reply (dkt. 43) responding to these arguments.

Second, on the merits, the tentative ruling is that Debtor appears to be correct that BBV did not comply with Rule 3002.1(c) by filing timely notices of postpetition mortgage fees, expenses and charges in the Prior Case. Although BBV points out (dkt. 43) that any noncompliance was in the Prior Case, the tentative ruling is that for the following reasons this issue is properly raised in this current case.

The tentative ruling is that the burden is on BBV to show why charges that it was supposed to have noticed in the prior case should survive and be chargeable in this case. In addition, if necessary this Court could reopen the prior case and decide the issues in that case instead of in this one, but because this Court presided over the Prior Case that would appear to be form over substance, and any insistence by BBV on parties incurring the expense of reopening might be appropriately charged to BBV as part of this Court's discretion under Rule 3002.1(i) to award "appropriate relief."

All of that said, neither side has cited any authority interpreting Rule 3002.1; Debtor has not shown how she was prejudiced by BBV's nondisclosure of its charges in the Prior Case; and just as Debtor is having another bite at the apple in this current case perhaps BBV should as well - in other words, BBV's apparent violation of Rule 3002.1 does not appear to have caused any cognizable prejudice, and both parties did not fully live up to their obligations in the prior bankruptcy case, so the tentative ruling is that an "appropriate remedy" under Rule 3002.1(i) is probably not to reduce BBV's claim. Therefore the tentative ruling is to overrule Debtor's objection on this ground.

(3) Interest Rate

The tentative ruling is to overrule the objection for the reasons stated in BBV's opposition papers.

(4) Unapplied funds from Debtor's prior bankruptcy case

The tentative ruling is that this objection appears to be moot in view of BBV's filing of an Amended Proof of Claim crediting Debtor for all payments made during the Prior Case.

(5) Conclusion

The tentative ruling is not to adopt any of the foregoing tentative rulings on any final basis, and instead to direct the parties to meet and confer, and communicate with the holder of the senior lien, and meanwhile continue this matter to 10/22/20 at 8:30 a.m.

Effective date of relief

Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a)(3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

The automatic stay does not apply

This case has been dismissed, which terminates the automatic stay. See 11 U.S.C. 349(b)(3) & 362(c).

In the alternative and in addition, the tentative ruling is to grant relief from the automatic stay as follows.

Note regarding mootness: Judge Bason's standard tentative ruling is as follows. For three reasons the above tentative ruling that there is no stay does not moot requests for relief from whatever stay might apply. First, such alternative rulings are appropriate because (i) the very nature of tentative rulings is that this Court could be persuaded to depart from any one of them, and (ii) a final ruling on any one issue could be reversed on appeal. Second, even if there is currently no stay, that could change - e.g., if there is no stay because of dismissal of this bankruptcy case, such dismissal could be vacated and that might reimpose the stay even if there is a lack of adequate protection, or other grounds why the stay should not apply, and therefore the movant will suffer cognizable harm unless the issues are addressed now (Judge Bason regularly vacates dismissals based on stipulations or other good cause). Third, if the motion includes any request for relief as to past acts (annulment) or future cases (in rem relief), those things are still at issue even if there is no current automatic stay. See In re Aheong, 276 B.R. 233 (9th Cir. BAP 2002). For all of these reasons, the tentative ruling is that it is appropriate to address the following issues.

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Grant the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3).

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

Proposed order: Movant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

Effective date of relief

Deny the request to waive the 14-day stay provided by FRBP 4001(a) (3) for lack of sufficient cause shown.

Co-debtor stay

Any co-debtor stay (11 U.S.C. 1301(c)) has not been shown to have any basis for any different treatment from the stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(a), so the tentative ruling is to grant the identical relief regarding any co-debtor stay.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." #16.00 Hrg re: Motion in Individual Case for Order Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate

Tentative Ruling:

Grant, subject to the following conditions. Appearances are not required.

After the hearing date this Court will prepare an order and the tentative ruling is to include the following language in that order:

The stay of 11 U.S.C. 362(a) applies subject to the following modifications and conditions:

(1) Service and reconsideration. Any party in interest who was not timely served in accordance with FRBP 7004 (incorporated by FRBP 9014(b)) is hereby granted through 14 days after proper service to seek reconsideration, including retroactive relief (under FRBP 9023 and/or 9024). Any such person (a) may set a hearing on 14 days' notice, (b) may appear by telephone (if arrangements are made per Judge Bason's posted procedures), and (c) may present all arguments orally at the hearing (i.e., no written argument is required). If written arguments appear necessary then this court will set a briefing schedule at the hearing.

(2) Reasons. (a) It appears appropriate to impose the automatic stay, and to impose it as to all persons rather than just as to selected persons, because one purpose of the automatic stay is to preventing a "race to collect" that could unfairly advantage some creditors at the expense of others. (b) To prevent possible abuse, this Court provides the foregoing simple process for reconsideration.

(3) Very limited ruling. This Court's tentative ruling to grant the foregoing relief is solely for purposes of this motion, and is not intended to have any binding effect with respect to any future assertions by any party in interest regarding the existence or lack of existence of good faith in any other context.

Tentative Ruling for 12/22/20:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 12/22/20.

This Court has reviewed the parties' joint status report (dkt. 34) and the other filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

(B) Standard requirements

The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

(1) Venue/jurisdiction/authority

The parties have stated their positions (see adv.dkt. 14 & 19, p.4, para. F) and this Court has not yet ruled on these issues.

(2) Mediation

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 1/5/21 for the parties to lodge a proposed mediation order (the parties are directed to use the time between now and that deadline to find a mutually agreeable mediator whose schedule can accommodate the needs of this matter; and if the parties cannot even agree on a mediator they may lodge separate orders and Judge Bason will chose among them, or issue his own order).

fr. 1/7/20, 3/31/20, 5/5/20, 6/2/20, 7/28/20, 9/15/20

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/22/20:

Appearances are not required. The tentative ruling is to dismiss this adversary proceeding for lack of prosecution.

Proposed order: Defendant/Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby incorporating it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(1) Current issues

(a) Lack of prosecution of this proceeding

This Court's tentative ruling for 9/15/20 noted the untimeliness of the parties' joint status report and cautioned the parties that failure to timely file status reports in future may result in adverse consequences. Notwithstanding such admonishment, Defendant/Debtor alleges that Plaintiff did not respond to her requests to prepare and timely file a joint status report by the 12/8/20 deadline this Court previously set (see adv. dkt. 17, p.1) and as of the preparation of this tentative ruling Plaintiff has not filed a unilateral status report.

Additionally, as Defendant/Debtor highlights, this Court's tentative ruling for 9/15/20 directed Plaintiff to lodge a proposed scheduling order within 7 days of that hearing, but as of the preparation of this tentative ruling Plaintiff has not complied. Id., p.4, para. "(G)".

Additionally, this Court's discovery cutoff deadline has passed, neither party has filed any dispositive motions concurrent with this status conference, and Defendant/Debtor states that her counsel has had zero communication from Plaintiff's counsel since the last status conference on 9/15/20. Id., p.4, para. "(G)".

For the foregoing reasons, the tentative ruling is to dismiss this adversary proceeding under LBR 7016-1(g) based on Plaintiff's failure to prosecute.

In determining whether to dismiss, this Court must consider five factors: (1) the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation; (2) the court's need to manage its docket; (3) the risk of prejudice to the party who has litigated diligently; (4) the public policy favoring the disposition of cases on their merits; and (5) the availability of less drastic sanctions. In re Eisen, 31 F.3d 1447, 1451 (9th Cir. 1994). The tentative ruling is that, on this record, these factors weigh in favor of dismissal.

As to the first factor (the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation), the tentative ruling is that this factor weighs in favor of dismissal because Plaintiff has repeatedly failed to comply with this Court's orders and filing deadlines, does not appear to have propounded any discovery, and has not responded to Defendant/Debtor's communications since the last status conference. The tentative ruling is that such delay is unreasonable and without excuse.

As to the second factor (the bankruptcy court's need to manage its docket), the tentative ruling is that this factor weighs in favor of dismissal because Plaintiff appears to have willfully failed to prosecute this proceeding and this Court has already expended limited court time and resources attempting to push this proceeding forward.

As to the third factor (the risk of prejudice to defendants), the tentative ruling is that this factor weighs in favor of dismissal because Defendant/Debtor (a) has had to incur unnecessary legal expenses as a result of Plaintiff's failure to respond and diligently prosecute this proceeding and (b) would incur even greater expenses either defending herself at trial despite Plaintiff's failure to propound any discovery prior to this Court's discovery deadlines or, if Plaintiff sought to reopen discovery, addressing the issue of whether discovery should be reopened at this late stage.

As to the fourth factor (the policy favoring disposition of cases on their merits), the tentative ruling is that Plaintiff's failure to take necessary steps to ready this matter for trial and the resulting prejudice that has had on Defendant/Debtor outweighs the policies favoring disposition of this proceeding on the merits.

Michelle Lee Peterson-Earhart

Chapter 7

As to the fifth factor (the availability of less drastic sanctions), the tentative ruling is that Plaintiff has already been cautioned that failure to comply with this Court's orders and deadlines may result in adverse consequences and that did not deter Plaintiff from failing to lodge a scheduling order, file a status report in advance of this status conference, or respond to Defendant/Debtor's attempts to communicate. Plaintiff's lack of participation deprives this Court of any ability to consider less drastic sanctions, such as deeming certain evidentiary issues admitted or awarding fees to Defendant/Debtor to compensate for any added burden caused by Plaintiff's non-compliance with deadlines etc. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is that as a practical matter less drastic remedies are not available, and dismissal is warranted.

Chapter 11

#1.00 Status conference re: Chapter 11 case

Docket 22

Tentative Ruling:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by the debtor(s) themselves.

(1) Current issues

(a) First-day motions

This Court has reviewed Debtor's status reports. See dkt. 36, 37. The tentative ruling is to waive the requirement for Debtor to file any cash collateral and/or budget motion in view of Debtor's representation that it is not operating. Dkt. 36, p.4, para. "(1)" & "(2)".

(b) Application to employ the Law Offices of Michael J. Berger (dkt. 17, "Application"), supplemental declarations of Michael Berger, Ernesto Arellano and Jon Udoff (dkt. 38)

The supplemental declarations filed in support of the Application state that a third-party funder, Mr. Jon Udoff, contributed $15,000 towards Mr. Berger's retainer fee as a gift to the Debtor. Dkt. 38, p.4:13-15.

The contribution from Mr. Udoff raises certain ethical issues because a third party who funds a retainer for a debtor (a "Funder") may have a variety of motivations for providing the funding, including not just a desire to protect prior equity investments or loans to Debtor, but also, for example, being the recipient of an avoidable preference, or having alter ego liability, or otherwise having interests that are adverse to (or at least not fully aligned with) the bankruptcy estate or creditors. For these reasons, although payment of a retainer by a Funder is not outright prohibited, it is fraught with ethical concerns.

The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 1/5/21 for supplemental declaration(s) addressing the following issues:

(i) Connections. What are all of the connections between the Funder, on the one hand, and Debtor, Debtor's proposed counsel, and any of the other types of persons listed in FRBP 2014, on the other hand -- e.g.,

have there been any economic or business or personal connections between the Funder and Debtor, beyond the fact of being the managing member of an affiliate, or between the Funder and proposed counsel, or any creditor or other party in interest, or their respective attorneys or accountants? These questions may be answered, if appropriate, by referring to specific disclosures already on file, e.g., the bankruptcy schedules.

(ii) Informed consent of Funder. Has the Funder been advised regarding actual and potential conflicts of interest, and that the sole attorney-client relationship and duty of loyalty is with Debtor, not the Funder? Who provided such advice: independent counsel, or Debtor's proposed counsel (and if the latter, was each Funder given the opportunity to obtain independent counsel)? Has the Funder given informed consent? Are these things in writing?

(iii) Informed consent of debtor. Has the debtor likewise been fully advised and given informed consent? Who provided such advice? Are these things in writing?

(iv) Other considerations. Has proposed counsel demonstrated to the Court the absence of an actual or potential conflict, a lack of disinterestedness, or any other basis for disqualification? See In re Kelton Motors, Inc., 116 B.R. 208, 219 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1990); In re Park-Helena Corp., 63 F.3d 877 (9th Cir. 1995).

(c) November Monthly Operating Report ("MOR")

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling Debtor has not filed an MOR for November. Why not?

(d) Small business designation

Debtor has elected to proceed under Subchapter V of chapter 11, and has filed a small business status report. But in the general status report (dkt.36), p.12, Debtor has checked the box stating that Debtor is not a small business debtor. Has Debtor made other incorrect statements in filling out the status reports?

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 11/16/20.

(a) Bar date: 1/25/21 per General Order 20-01 (70 days after petition date in Subchapter V cases) (DO NOT SERVE any notice: one has already been sent, see dkt.12).

(c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: file by 2/15/21 using the forms required by Judge Bason (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - this Court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

Note: Although Subchapter V contemplates only a Plan, not a Disclosure Statement, the required form Plan has not yet been updated to include the disclosures required by Subchapter V (11 U.S.C. 1190), so Judge Bason requires that the form Disclosure Statement be completed as well. 11 U.S.C. 1181(b).

(d) Continued status conference: 1/26/21 at 1:00 p.m., brief status report due 1/12/21.

Tentative Ruling for 12/22/20:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 12/22/20.

(1) Current issues

(a) Post-confirmation progress

Debtor's status report notes that the Honolulu Terrace property is actively listed for sale and requests a continuance to late January 2021 or early February 2021 to allow the broker an opportunity to lower the listing price to generate interest in the property. Dkt. 203, p. 3. The tentative ruling is to continue the status conference to 1/26/21 at 1:00 p.m.

(b) Discharge of Subchapter V Trustee

The Trustee's report of no distribution (dkt. 204) requests that he be discharged from any further duties as trustee. The tentative ruling is to grant that request.

Proposed order: The Trustee is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(2) Deadlines/dates.

This case was filed on 8/30/19, and Debtors' plan was confirmed on 9/4/20 (dkt. 178). This status conference will be continued to 1/26/21 at 1:00 p.m., subject to possibly being taken off calendar if the sale of the Honolulu Terrace property has closed and there are no issues to address.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/22/20:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 12/22/20.

(A) Current issues

(a) Defendant/Debtor's motion to dismiss first amended complaint ("FAC") (adv. dkt. 9, 10 "MTD"), Plaintiff's opposition (adv. dkt. 12), Defendant/Debtor's reply (adv. dkt. 13)

The tentative ruling is to stay this adversary proceeding pending resolution of Plaintiff's appeal of this Court's order that Defendant/Debtor can assume the mediation Term Sheet settling the parties' disputes. Further proceedings at this time appear to be a pointless waste of time and money, because until it is known whether the Term Sheet is binding it cannot be known whether the nondischargeable dollar amount will be what was determined in Debtor's prior bankruptcy case or the reduced amount provided in the Term Sheet.

In addition, the tentative ruling is to take further status conferences in this adversary proceeding off calendar sine die, subject to being placed back on calendar at any future status conference in the main (bankruptcy) case.

(A) Standard requirements

The following are Judge Bason's standard requirements for status conferences. (To the extent that the parties have already addressed these issues in their status report, they need not repeat their positions at the status conference.)

Tentative Ruling for 12/22/20:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 12/22/20.

(1) Current issues

(a) First interim fee application of Leesh Tishman Fuscaldo & Lampl, Inc. ("Applicant") (dkt. 203, 207, 208, "Fee Application"), Ms. Campos' opposition (dkt. 218), Applicant's reply (dkt. 222)

Ms. Campos has litigated a large number of issues in this case. The tentative ruling is that Debtor was justified in incurring the requested attorney fees in response.

The tentative ruling is to overrule Ms. Campos' objections and allow the fees except as follows, for the reasons stated herein and in Applicant's papers (including that Applicant has already voluntarily reduced its fee request by 15.5 hours). This tentative ruling does not require appearances at this hearing in an effort to reduce the amount of time and funds that are being expended.

The tentative ruling is also to allow Applicant to draw down on funds in the IOLTA account, but only up to the amount of funds earmarked for payment of professional fees - i.e., preserving Debtor's $10,000/month deposits as adequate protection for the benefit of creditors.

Proposed order: Applicant is directed to lodge a proposed order via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date and attach a copy of this tentative ruling, thereby adopting it as this Court's final ruling, subject to any changes ordered at the hearing. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/22/20:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 12/22/20.

(1) Current issues

The issues raised in the tentative ruling for 11/10/20 (reproduced below) have been adequately addressed. This Court is not aware of any remaining issues that would warrant a status conference at this time.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed, as a Subchapter V case, on 10/19/20.

(a) Bar date: 12/28/20 per General Order 20-01 (70 days after petition date in Subchapter V cases) (DO NOT SERVE any notice: one has already been sent, see dkt.9).

(b) Procedures order: dkt.4 (timely served, dkt.6).

(c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: File by 1/19/21 using the forms required by Judge Bason or, alternatively, Debtor's own forms (DO NOT SERVE yet, except on the U.S. Trustee - this Court will set a deadline and procedures at a later time).

Note: Although Subchapter V contemplates only a Plan, not a Disclosure Statement, the required form Plan has not yet been updated to include the disclosures required by Subchapter V (11 U.S.C. 1190), so if the form Plan is used then Judge Bason requires that the form Disclosure Statement be completed as well. 11 U.S.C. 1181(b).

Unless otherwise stated, appearances via CourtCall are no longer permitted.

Tentative Ruling for 11/10/20:

Appearances required by counsel for the debtor and by Debtor's principal, Wayne Tsang.

(1) Current issues

This Court has reviewed Debtor's status reports (dkt.12, 13) and the other filed documents and records in this case.

(a) Executory contract(s)?

Debtor reports (dkt.12, p.2) that its "sole asset in an income producing contractual interest" and this bankruptcy case was precipitated by arbitration of a contract dispute and "lack of information/income from main asset." This implies that Debtor is a party to a contract that might be executory (although that is not necessarily so). Debtor also reports (dkt.12, p.7) that it has no executory contracts: is that accurate?

(b) Employment application (dkt.16)

In connection with the pending employment application of proposed bankruptcy counsel (dkt.16), Debtor's principal, Mr. Tsang, declares that Alkterra Capital "paid the pre-petition retainer of $76,717.00" to proposed bankruptcy counsel "as a gift" for which it will not seek reimbursement, and that "[o]ther than shared leadership/ownership, Alkterra Capital has no connections to, or claims against, the Debtor." Dkt.16, p.11:10-13 There is no disclosure about the business form of Alkterra Capital.

Supposing that Alkterra Capital is a corporation or similar type of business subject to the laws of California or similar laws, this Court is concerned that investors in Alkterra Capital could in future seek to avoid its gift as a constructively fraudulent transfer, or bring similar claims. That possibility could be used as leverage to influence Mr. Tsang's management of this bankruptcy estate, or otherwise cause potential conflicts of interest.

Have any investors in Alkterra Capital been fully informed as to its gift to Debtor, and have they provided their written consent, and/or whatever else might be required (e.g., a vote)? Does the gift implicate bankruptcy-related concerns in any other ways?

Because it might take time to obtain any responses/authorizations, the tentative ruling is to set the employment application for hearing fairly far in the future, concurrent with the continued status conference (see below). The tentative ruling is not to alter the current deadline for any response to the employment application (14 days after it was filed/served), but to set a supplemental deadline of 12/8/20 for Debtor to file a declaration or other papers addressing this Court's concerns set forth above, and a deadline of 12/15/20 for the United States Trustee to file any response it may elect to file on that issue.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed, as a Subchapter V case, on 10/19/20.

- (a) Bar date: 12/28/20 per General Order 20-01 (70 days after petition date in Subchapter V cases) (DO NOT SERVE any notice: one has already been sent, see dkt.9)
- (b) Procedures order: dkt.4 (timely served, dkt.6).
- (c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: TBD

Note: Although Subchapter V contemplates only a Plan, not a Disclosure Statement, the required form Plan has not yet been updated to include the disclosures required by Subchapter V (11 U.S.C. 1190), so Judge Bason requires that the form Disclosure Statement be completed as well. 11 U.S.C. 1181(b). Alternatively, as stated in the Procedures Order, Debtor can request to be excused from using the forms.

#10.00 Cont'd Status Conference re: Chapter 11 Case
fr. 7/28/20, 9/1/20, 9/15/20, 9/29/20

Docket 15

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/22/20:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motions of Baodi Zhou for relief from automatic stay or dismissal of the Investment case (dkt.49, 50, 59); Debtors' opposition (dkt.62), reply (dkt.68)

At the 10/27/20 hearing, appearances were not required and Debtors' counsel did not appear, but Creditor Baodi Zhaou inquired as to whether section 362(a) prevented Creditor from pursuing Debtors' principal. This Court continued the hearing and directed creditor to serve written notice on Debtors of the continuance, no later than 10/30/20. As of the date of this tentative ruling, the docket does not reflect any such notice. There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address any outstanding issues.

(b) Motion to Approve Compromise of Real Property Lease Claims with JSL Gardena I, LLC and Yu-Liang Huang Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9019 (dkt. 141), no opposition is on file.

Grant.

Proposed order: Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order on the foregoing motion via LOU within 7 days after the hearing date. See LBR 9021-1(b)(1)(B).

(c) Debtors' proposed Plan (dkt.137) and Status Report requesting that this Court set the confirmation hearing and related procedures (dkt.145)

Set a hearing concurrent with the continued status conference (see below) on whether to confirm the proposed Plan (11 U.S.C. 1191), including whether the required disclosures in the Plan are adequate (11 U.S.C.

1190(1)). The tentative ruling is to direct Debtor, no later than 12/28/20, to lodge a proposed order setting deadlines for service of the voting package, returning ballots, filing any objections, etc., substantially in the form posted on Judge Bason's portion of this Court's website (www.cacb.uscourts.gov), with appropriate adjustments to account for the fact that there is no separate disclosure statement.

(d) Application to employ special counsel (dkt.146) (period for any objections has not expired)

This Application is not on for hearing today, but in connection with today's Status Conference this Court notes that proposed counsel proposes to have Debtors waive conflicts (dkt.146, Ex.A, p.2) but this Court's understanding of applicable law is that a debtor generally may not waive conflicts on behalf of creditors or the bankruptcy estate. At the Status Conference, all parties in interest are invited to address, on a preliminary basis, whether it is appropriate to establish any special procedures to address that issue, such as setting a deadline for any supplement to the Application addressing that issue.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/4/20 and converted from chapter 7 to chapter 11 on 7/1/20 (dkt.17). The petition was amended to elect Subchapter V on 7/14/20 (dkt.27). On 9/4/20 this Court ordered joint administration with affiliated debtors (dkt.64).

- (a) Bar date: (i) Investment 9/9/20 (dkt. 40; timely served, dkt. 43);
Affiliated Debtors 11/10/20.
- (b) Procedures order: dkt.18 (timely served, dkt.20) (also timely served in each jointly administered case).
- (c) Plan/Disclosure Statement (dkt. 137)*: Set the proposed Plan for hearing concurrent with the continued Status Conference (see above and below).
- (d) Continued status conference: 2/9/21 at 1:00 p.m. No written status report required.

Tentative Ruling for 10/27/20:

Continue as set forth below. Appearances are not required on 10/27/20.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motions of Baodi Zhou for relief from automatic stay or dismissal of the Investment case (dkt.49, 50, 59); Debtor's opposition (dkt.62), reply (dkt.68)

This Court's ruling on 9/29/20 was temporarily to deny this motion, but to continue the matter to re-assess what progress has or has not been made in this case. The tentative ruling is that Debtor appears to be making sufficient progress - rejecting some leases and retaining a broker to attempt to maximize the value of the remaining assets and businesses - to warrant a further continuance. The tentative ruling is to set a continued hearing contemporaneous with the continued status conference set forth below.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/4/20 and converted from chapter 7 to chapter 11 on 7/1/20 (dkt.17). The petition was amended to elect Subchapter V on 7/14/20 (dkt.27). On 9/4/20 this Court ordered joint administration with affiliated debtors (dkt.64).

(a) Bar date: (i) Investment 9/9/20 (dkt. 40; timely served, dkt. 43);
Affiliated Debtors 11/10/20.

(b) Procedures order: dkt.18 (timely served, dkt.20) (also timely served in each jointly administered case).

(c) Plan/Disclosure Statement*: vacate the existing deadline of 11/30/20 in view of Debtors' pursuit of a sale of the business.

(d) Continued status conference: 12/22/20 at 1:00 p.m., brief status

(1) Current issues

(a) Debtor's finance motion (dkt. 390, "Finance Motion") & supporting declarations (dkt. 391, 392, 394, 396, 397, 398, 399, 401, 410), notice of hearing (dkt. 404), proof of service (dkt. 406); Celtic Bank opposition (dkt. 415); Oxygen Funding opposition (dkt. 428); Trustee's joinder (dkt. 430); Michael Tremblay opposition (dkt. 433), East West Bank opposition (dkt. 444), Debtor's reply (dkt. 445)

See dkt. 415, 428, 430, 433, 444, and 441 at 10:1-11:13 (pointing out lack of evidence to support contribution declarations, etc.) (as amended by dkt.442).

In view of this Court's conversion of Debtor's case to chapter 7, the tentative ruling is to continue this matter to the same date and time as the continued status conference (see below, section "(2)(a)") to allow time for the chapter 7 trustee to evaluate the merits of the claims and determine how to proceed.

filed documents and records in this adversary proceeding.

Current issues

(a) Apparent waste of resources and/or unwillingness to prosecute

This Court continues to have serious concerns why it makes any sense for Debtor to dispute the alleged security interest of Oxygen Funding, Inc. when (i) Debtor continues to assert that all creditors will be paid 100% of their allowed claims regardless whether those claims are or are not secured by any collateral, (ii) the Bankruptcy Code includes many tools to assure that disputed security interests do not block attempted refinancings, sales, or other uses of estate property (see, e.g., 11 U.S.C. 363(f), 1129(b)(1)), and (iii) the expense of this litigation to the bankruptcy estate appears very likely to exceed any possible future benefits (but cf. dkt.282 re unauthorized funding of Debtor's counsel by non-debtor husband). At prior hearings this Court was persuaded not to take any action on the foregoing concerns, pending mediation, but the parties report (adv.dkt.37) that mediation was unsuccessful.

Conversely, assuming for the sake of discussion that for some reason would make any sense to pursue this litigation, Debtor/Plaintiff appears to be unwilling to prosecute it unless and until she can obtain a different forum. She states, in the parties' joint status report (adv.dkt.37, p.4, para.G) that she will seek dismissal of this bankruptcy case and then pursue this litigation in State Court.

The parties are directed to address whether this Court should (i) stay this litigation indefinitely, pending the results of attempts by Debtor and the Subchapter V Trustee to sell or refinance the "Laurel" property, or confirm a chapter 11 plan, or implement other means of restructuring Debtor's finances, (ii) dismiss this adversary proceeding for lack of prosecution if Debtor/Plaintiff does not prosecute it pursuant to the deadlines tentatively set forth below, or (iii) establish some other deadlines or procedures regarding this matter.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/22/20:

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) United States Trustee's motion to dismiss, convert or appoint a chapter 11 trustee (dkt. 58, "MTD"), Debtor's opposition (dkt. 70), UST's reply (dkt. 71), continuing compliance order (dkt. 76)

There is no tentative ruling, but the parties should be prepared to address whether Debtor is in full compliance with all of its reporting and disclosure obligations, and has been maintaining regular communications with the Subchapter V Trustee and creditors.

(b) Amended Disclosure Statement (dkt. 81) and Plan (dkt. 80), JPMC objection (dkt. 82), U.S. Trustee objection (dkt.88), Amended Plan (dkt.89), Amended Disclosure Statement (dkt.90)

(i) Agreement(s)?

The parties are directed to address whether the Plan reflects agreements with creditors, and whether it includes all secured and unsecured claims that are allowed, or untimely claims that might (or might not) be allowed. See dkt.82.

(ii) Feasibility?

The good news is that Debtor appears to have corrected its reporting of recent financial history. Compare Disclosure Statement (dkt.90-2), Ex.D (summary of prepetition books & MORs), with U.S. Trustee's Objection (dkt.88), Ex.1 (summary of MORs). In addition, Debtor's historical profit & loss statements (Disclosure Statement, dkt.90-14, Attachment 8) show considerable improvement from the losses in 2018 and 2019 to a modest income in the first part of 2020. The declaration of one of Debtor's principals,

Chapter 11

Joel Russell (id., dkt.90-15) also appears to show good reasons to anticipate continued improvement. Debtor projects net cash flow (before debt payments) starting at $6,665.00 for 12/20 and increasing initially to $7,706.25/mo. and eventually to over $9,000.00/mo. See Disclosure Statement, dkt.90-11, Attachment 5.

But Debtor's projected cash flows appear to be unrealistic because at present Debtor is barely breaking even, after monthly interest-only payments of $3,500/mo. to its principal secured creditor, First Home Bank (see, e.g., MOR for 11/20, dkt.86-2, p.2, and MOR for 10/20, dkt.83-5, p.2), whereas under the Plan Debtor would be paying $5,055.73/mo. to First Home Bank, plus an additional $519.61 to Chase and $916.67 to the Subchapter V Trustee or General Unsecured Creditors. See Plan (dkt.89) Ex.A, Classes 2A, 2B & 4A. Based on this apparent gap between projections and recent history, the tentative ruling is to continue the hearing on any Plan and Disclosure Statement until Debtor begins to demonstrate performance consistent with its current projections (or not).

Meanwhile, the tentative ruling is to direct Debtor's counsel not to expend time (and attorney fees) revising the Disclosure Statement to correct the issues noted below, but to be prepared to do so if directed at a future Status Conference (if Debtor's financial performance demonstrates feasibility).

(iii) Corrections to Disclosure Statement (for future reference)

When and if this Court directs, Debtor must prepare a further amended Disclosure Statement correcting formatting issues, such as blank pages (see, e.g., Disclosure Statement (dkt.90-1), Ex.C1 through C3, at PDF pp.2-4) and miniature pages. See id., Ex.E (dkt.90-3). In addition, Ex.C to the Disclosure Statement uses a single, unchanging projection of monthly net income, whereas Debtor's actual projections are much more variable (mostly projected increases). The tentative ruling is that Ex.C need not show every monthly variation, but should reflect the average projections for each of the periods in the Plan.

Again, the tentative ruling is to direct Debtor's attorneys not to correct any of the above-referenced issues unless and until Debtor demonstrates sufficient cash flow for feasibility purposes.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 5/21/20.

(a) Bar date: 7/30/20 per General Order 20-01 (70 days after petition)

Continue to 1/26/21 at 11:00 a.m. pursuant to Plaintiff's status report (adv.dkt.16). Appearances are not required on 12/22/20.

Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) NVSI, Inc.'s motion for relief from stay (dkt. 144, "R/S Motion); oppositions (if any) to be made orally at the hearing

The tentative ruling is to grant relief from the automatic stay as follows, subject to any opposition at the hearing.

(i) Termination

Terminate the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2).

To the extent, if any, that the motion seeks to terminate the automatic stay in other past or pending bankruptcy cases, such relief is denied on the present record. See In re Ervin (Case No. 14-bk-18204-NB, docket no. 311).

(ii) Effective date of relief

(b) Future of this case

If this Court is persuaded to adopt its tentative ruling and lift the automatic stay, Debtor should be prepared to address whether this Court

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling for 12/22/20:

This Court is very troubled by the reported state of discovery (see, e.g., Alleged Employees' Reply, dkt. 264, filed 12/18/20). But this Court believes that the issues can be more productively addressed once this Court issues its Memorandum Decision on the related discovery disputes involving, inter alia, Debtor and its law firm, the Law Offices of Lynn Chao. Accordingly, the tentative ruling is to continue this hearing to 1/5/21 at 2:00 p.m. Appearances are not required on 12/22/20.

This Court has reviewed the Alleged Employees' time records (dkt. 241). As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, YYF has not filed an opposition.

The tentative ruling is to award fees in the amount of $12,100 and costs in the amount of $59.85, for a total compensatory sanction against YYF in the amount of $12,159.58, payable to the Alleged Employees as compensation for the fees and costs they were forced to incur to compel compliance.

(ii) Status of compliance

The parties should be prepared to advise this Court on whether (x) coercive sanctions are appropriate (i.e., whether Young failed to produce all responsive documents by 11/20/20 at 5:00 p.m.); and (y) Young responded to the Alleged Employees' written interrogatories by the 11/25/20 at noon deadline.

If appearances are not required at the start of this tentative ruling but you wish to dispute the tentative ruling, or for further explanation of "appearances required/are not required," please see Judge Bason's Procedures (posted at www.cacb.uscourts.gov) then search for "tentative rulings." (dkt. 202, "Motion for OSC"), Order setting hearing on Motion for OSC (dkt. 215, the "OSC"), YYF's opposition papers (dkt. 225, 226, 227), Alleged employees' reply papers (dkt. 228, 230)

The tentative ruling is to find YYF in contempt of court and impose sanctions in an amount to be determined at the hearing and subsequent proceedings, as set forth below.

(a) The alleged employees have made a sufficient showing that YYF violated this Court's 2004 Order and YYF has not responded with argument or evidence establishing that it was impossible to comply

The tentative ruling is to overrule YYF's opposition, grant the Sanctions Motion for the reasons stated in the Alleged Employees' reply papers (dkt. 228, 230), and find that YYF is in contempt of the 2004 Order.

In addition and alternatively, the tentative ruling is that on the merits this Court is not persuaded by YYF's arguments that the (i) 2004 Order is overbroad and (ii) seeks discovery that could and should have been sought in a pending nonbankruptcy proceeding for the same reasons stated in this Court's prior rulings and orders addressing those arguments. See Order (dkt. 173) at PDF p.12, para. "(b)"; Order (dkt. 117) at PDF p.5, para. "(c)"; and Order (dkt. 101) at PDF pp.6-7, para. "(3)."

(b) Sanctions

(i) Compensatory

The tentative ruling is to grant the Alleged Employees' request for compensatory sanctions to reimburse them for their costs incurred preparing and filing the Sanctions Motion, responding to the OSC, and appearing at this hearing. The tentative ruling is to set a deadline of 11/5/20 for the Alleged Employees to file and serve a declaration setting forth their time records and expenses, 11/13/20 for any opposition, 11/19/20 for any reply, and a hearing on 12/1/20 at 2:00 p.m.

(ii) Coercive

The tentative ruling is to award coercive sanctions, in an escalating dollar amount to be addressed at the hearing.

(iii) Examination by written discovery

The tentative ruling is to grant the Alleged Employees' request to obtain written discovery of YYF, in lieu of any in person examination out of concerns presented by the risks of COVID-19, by propounding 20 interrogatories on YYF, without prejudice to any follow-up discovery. Tentative Ruling for 9/29/20:
Appearances required.

(1) Current issues

(a) Motion of the U.S. Trustee ("UST") to dismiss (dkt. 65, "MTD"), debtor's opposition (dkt. 86), UST's reply (dkt. 168, 170), debtor's response (dkt. 179), debtor's status report (dkt. 180), stipulation and order re pre-petition bank account (dkt. 212, 221)

There is no tentative ruling. The outcome of this motion may depend on whether this Court confirms Debtor's amended plan.

(c) Debtor's Amended plan (dkt. 313) (see also Disclosure Statement, dkt. 311), order setting confirmation hearing (dkt. 317), proof of service of solicitation package (dkt. 324), Debtor's confirmation brief (dkt. 329), ballot summary (dkt. 330), objection of Post Acute Care Partners, Inc. ("Post") (dkt. 332), objection of Shiv Raj & Saroj Gupta ("Guptas") (dkt. 333), Debtor's Reply (dkt. 335)

The tentative ruling is that (x) Debtor has adequately addressed Post's objection; (y) Debtor has adequately addressed the non-materiality of her proposed minor modifications to the Plan (i.e., re-balloting is not required); and (z) Debtor has provided sufficient arguments and evidence to overrule most of the Guptas' objections. The Guptas' objections that Debtor has not yet sufficiently addressed are explained below.

(A) Best Interest Test (11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(7)): Debtor's calculations require an adjustment, but even with an adjustment the Guptas have not rebutted Debtor's showing that the Plan satisfies the best interest test

The tentative ruling is that Debtor's alternative liquidation analysis (dkt.335, pp.11-12) should be adjusted to account for the possibility that the secured claim asserted by Patch Of Land ("Patch" or "POL") might be reduced to some extent, based on objections to default interest and other claims by the bankruptcy estate. But the tentative ruling - based on this Court's familiarity with numerous disputes in other cases regarding default rates of interest and other charges - is that the possibility of such reduction, discounted to present value, is less than shortfall in funds that would be available in any hypothetical chapter 7 case. See Debtor's Reply (dkt.335), p.12. See generally, e.g., East-West Bank v. Altadena Lincoln Crossing, LLC, 598 B.R. 633 (C.D. Cal. 2019)

The tentative ruling is that a precise dollar estimate is not required because the shortfall is hundreds of thousands of dollars; the discount to Patch's claim would not be greater than that. In other words, even with the adjustment to Patch's claim as described above, there would be $-0- for general unsecured creditors in a hypothetical chapter 7 case.

Alternatively, assuming for the sake of discussion that any adjustments to Debtor's liquidation analysis would be enough to provide any projected recovery for nonpriority unsecured creditors, that in itself does not establish that liquidation would be in the best interests of creditors. Rather, the issue would require further evidence because any such projected chapter 7 recovery still would have to exceed the projected recovery under Debtor's proposed Plan, and the latter requires more evidence (as noted below).

(B) Adequate means for implementation (11 U.S.C. 1123(a)(5)) and feasibility (11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(11))

Debtor is directed to address whether she has evidence of sufficient loan commitments and/or gift commitments from family and friends to make her proposed commitments in the Plan adequate and feasible. See, e.g., Debtor's Reply (dkt.335), p.14:2-8. The parties are directed to address whether any evidentiary hearing will be necessary to address the sufficiency of such evidence, and the possible scheduling of any such evidentiary hearing and any related matters.

(2) Deadlines/dates. This case was filed on 7/17/19.

(a) Bar date: 12/20/19, dkt. 116 (timely served, dkt. 120)

(b) Procedures order: dkt.9 (timely served, dkt.18)

(c) AmPlan/AmDisclosure Statement*: See above.

(d) Continued status conference: If there are unresolved confirmation issues, this Court anticipates setting either a continued hearing/status conference on 10/6/20 at 2:00 p.m. and/or an evidentiary hearing (at a date and time to be determined). Alternatively, if the Plan were to be confirmed at today's hearing, the tentative ruling would be to set a post-confirmation status
