#2.00 Motion to Extend Deadline to File Schedules or Provide Required Information, and/or Plan (Case Opening Documents) (Schedules)

EH__

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

6/27/18

I. BACKGROUND

On May 22, 2018, Hector Comparan Sarabia ("Debtor" or "Defendant") filed for chapter 7 relief. Robert Whitmore is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee").

The Trustee alleges that on or around May 24, 2018, he was notified by Wells Fargo that there was an account under Debtor's name with approximately $64,313.33 on that date.

The 341(a) meeting was scheduled for June 26, 2018, but Trustee, not Debtor, filed this motion to extend time to file case opening documents ("Motion") on June 6, 2018. The Trustee is requesting an extension to July 10, 2018, in order to determine whether there are non-exempt assets to pay creditors. Trustee asserts that an extension would be in the creditors' best interests.

As of June 21, 2018, there has been no objection to this Motion by the Debtor.

II. DISCUSSION

The court has broad discretion in supervising litigation. Irving v. Cty. of Sacramento, 231 F. App'x 584, 585 (9th Cir. 2007). The bankruptcy judge has the authority to grant an extension, and may do so when it is within their equitable discretion. See In re Davies, 96 F.Supp. 416, 419-420 (W.D. Va. 1949).

Pursuant to LBR 1007-1(b)(1), the requirements for a motion for an extension of time to file schedules, statements, and other documents is that it must (A) identify the date petition was filed and date of proposed new deadline, (B) be supported by a declaration establishing a sufficient explanation for the requested extension of time, and (C) contain a proof of service upon the case trustee (if any) and all creditors. The motion may be ruled upon without a hearing pursuant to LBR 9013-1(p).

FRBP 1007(c) holds that any extension of time to file schedules, statements, and other documents required under this rule may be granted only on motion for cause shown and on notice to the relevant parties. If a list, schedule, or statement is not prepared and filed as required.

FRCP 6(b)(1) contains a similar cause requirement, as it holds "a court may, for good cause, extend the time" for an act that must be done within a specific time. Fed. R. Civ. P. 6(b)(1). It would arguably be a higher standard than FRBP 1007, as the civil procedure rule requires "good cause", while the bankruptcy rule only requires "cause". FRCP 6(b)(1) good cause requires the party seeking an enlargement of time simply to "demonstrate some justification for the issuance of the order" and will "normally be granted in the absence of bad faith or prejudice to the adverse party." Bryant v. Smith, 165 B.R. 176, 182 (W.D. Va. 1994).

FRBP 1007(k) allows the court to order the trustee, a petitioning creditor, committee, or other party to prepare and file any of these papers within a time fixed by the court. Here, while Trustee has not established cause for Debtor to have additional time to file the required information, the Court is inclined to allow Trustee until July 10, 2018, to file schedules pursuant to FRBP 1007(k).

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court's tentative ruling is to GRANT the Motion and allow Trustee until July 10, 2018, to file any of the deficient information.

6/13/18

BACKGROUND

On May 29, 2018, William & Becky Colvin (collectively "Debtors"; individually, "William" and "Becky") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. That same day, Debtors filed two motions: (1) a "motion for exemption from credit counseling due to mental incapacity and physical disability"; and (2) a "motion that William J. Colvin be appointed as "next friend" nunc pro tunc for co-debtor Becky L. Colvin." Both motions were set for hearing on June 13, 2018. The Court notes that, pursuant to the Local Rules, the form notice used by Debtors, and the contents of the motions, any party wishing to oppose the motions must file opposition at least fourteen days prior to the hearing. Debtors scheduled the instant hearings on shortened notice without Court permission, however, and, as a result, the opposition deadline was a day after the service deadline.

The factual background is the same for both requests. Debtors assert that Becky was kicked in the head by a horse and has spent the last twelve years in an at-home hospital bed with the exception of health care appointments. Debtors assert that Becky is unable to talk or effectively communicate.

DISCUSSION

I. Waiver of Credit Counseling Requirement

11 U.S.C. § 109(h)(4), which identifies an exception to the prepetition credit counseling requirement, states:

The requirements of paragraph (1) shall not apply with respect to a debtor whom the court determines, after notice and hearing, is unable to complete those requirements because of incapacity, disability, or active military duty in a military combat zone. For the purposes of this paragraph, incapacity means that the debtor is impaired by reason of mental illness or mental deficiency so that he is incapable of realizing and making rational decisions with respect to his financial responsibilities; and "disability" means that the debtor is so physically impaired as to be unable, after reasonable effort, to participate in person, telephone, or Internet briefing required under paragraph (1).

The Court finds that William's declaration sets forth sufficient evidence to establish Becky's disability for purposes of § 109(h)(4). Due to the improper notice of the motion for a waiver of the credit counseling requirement, however, the Court is inclined to CONTINUE this motion for two weeks, at which time the Court intends to GRANT the motion if no opposition has been filed.

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 1004.1 allows "a representative, including a general guardian, committee, conservator, or similar fiduciary," to file a voluntary petition on behalf of an incompetent person.

The rule further provides that:

[a]n infant or incompetent person who does not have a duly appointed representative may file a voluntary petition by next friend or guardian ad litem. The court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for an infant or incompetent person who is a debtor and is not otherwise represented or shall make any other order to protect the infant or incompetent debtor.

Rule 1004.1 is patterned after FED.R.CIV.P. Rule 17(c), which applies to adversary proceedings pursuant to FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 7017. That rule provides that an incompetent person may sue "by a next friend or by a guardian ad litem" if the incompetent person does not have a duly appointed representative, and provides that "[t]he court must appoint a guardian ad litem—or issue another appropriate order—to protect a minor or incompetent person who is unrepresented in an action."

Cases interpreting Rule 17(c) look to the law of the state in which the subject is domiciled and follow the state's incompetency laws." In re Burchell, 2014 WL 1304635, at *1 (Bankr. N.D. Ohio 2014)(internal citations omitted). This court shall thus look to the California Probate Code's § 811 which outlines the possible bases for a determination that a person is of unsound mind or lacks capacity to make a decision or do a certain act, including for example, incapacity to contract or to execute wills or trusts.

In support of the Motion, the Debtors have attached the Declaration of William in which he details the extensive limitation that Becky experiences due to the injury suffered by a horse. Notwithstanding these diagnosis, § 811(d) provides that "the mere diagnosis of a mental or physical disorder shall not be sufficient in and of itself to support a determination that a person is of unsound mind or lacks the capacity to do a certain act." Instead, California law requires evidence of specific deficits and a link between the identified deficits and the acts that the allegedly incompetent person would otherwise have capacity to perform. The types of deficiencies are outlined in § 811 as follows:

- (1) Alertness and attention, including, but not limited to, the following:
 - (A) Level of arousal or consciousness.
 - (B) Orientation to time, place, person, and situation.
 - (C) Ability to attend and concentrate.
- (2) Information processing, including, but not limited to, the following:

Deficits in this ability may be demonstrated by the presence of a pervasive and persistent or recurrent state of euphoria, anger, anxiety, fear, panic, depression, hopelessness or despair, helplessness, apathy or indifference, that is inappropriate in degree to the individual's circumstances.

While William's declaration presents evidence of Becky's inability to communicate, the Court will require supplemental evidence as to Becky's state of mind and ability to communicate (for example, a written medical diagnosis).

EH__

Docket 17

Tentative Ruling:

6/27/18

I. BACKGROUND

On May 3, 2018, Timothy Rice ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition.

The Debtor took his online credit counseling course in October 2017, but the certificate of credit counseling ("Certificate") expired. Debtor retook the course on May 3, 2018. Debtor's attorney inadvertently used the expired Certificate for Debtor's bankruptcy case. A deficiency notice was issued, yet the renewed certificate was still not uploaded. The case was dismissed on May 23, 2018.

On May 24, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to vacate dismissal ("Motion") and to reinstate the case.

II. LEGAL DISCUSSION

Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b)(1)-(6). "Unless justice requires otherwise ... no error or defect in any ruling or order ... is ground for granting a new trial or for setting aside a verdict, or for vacating ... unless refusal to take action appears to the court inconsistent with substantial justice" Fed. R. Civ. P. 61. The court must "disregard any error or defect in the proceeding, which does not affect the substantial right of the parties". Fed. R. Civ. P. 61.

The Bankruptcy Code also holds "no provision ... shall be construed to preclude the court from, sua sponte, taking any action or making any determination necessary or appropriate to enforce or implement court orders or rules". 11 U.S.C. § 105(a).

Here, there was an admitted mistake by the Debtor's attorney in inadvertently filing the expired Certificate. The Debtor's attorney asks the court to not penalize the Debtor with another bankruptcy filing on his public record. Granting this motion is consistent with substantial justice, as Debtor's attorney rightly asserts that the Debtor should not be penalized by another filing on his record due to the attorney's mistake. The substantial rights of the parties are not affected by granting this motion, and equitable justice is advanced by granting this motion.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court's tentative ruling is to GRANT the Motion to vacate the dismissal and reinstate the case.

#6.00 Motion to Leave Certain Asset of the Estate Unadministered

EH__

Docket 466

Tentative Ruling:

6/27/18

I. BACKGROUND

On October 24, 2013, Baleine LP ("Debtor" or "Defendant") filed for chapter 7 relief. On October 25, 2013, Douglas Roger, a general partner of the Debtor, filed his own bankruptcy case (6:13-27611 - "Roger Case"). Larry Simons ("Trustee") was appointed the chapter 7 trustee on both cases. On November 27, 2013, Helen Frazer was appointed as the successor chapter 7 Trustee for the Roger Case.

The Debtor owned property in New York, which was sold by the Trustee. On February 21, 2014, the Baleine Trustee filed a Proof of Claim in the Roger Case ("Claim"). As of May 4, 2018, the Baleine Trustee will have liquidated or abandoned all known assets except for the Claim. The Trustee's funds total $404,999.04. There is uncertainty as to when the Roger Case will close.

On May 4, 2018, the Debtor filed this motion ("Motion") to close the current case and leave the Claim unadministered. The Debtor leaves open the possibility that the Court may administer the Claim later if Trustee receives a distribution from the Roger Estate. The Debtor also asks that the Claim be deemed not abandoned upon closure of this case. No opposition to the Motion has been filed.

II. DISCUSSION

"After an estate is fully administered and the court has discharged the trustee, the court shall close the case." 11 U.S.C. § 350(a). Any property under § 521(1) not otherwise administered at the time of the closing of a case is abandoned to the Debtor and deemed administered unless the court orders otherwise. 11 U.S.C. § 554(c) (emphasis added). A court may expressly order that a scheduled asset will not be abandoned to the debtor when a case is closed. See In re Prospero, 107 B.R. 732, 735 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1989).

Here, granting the Motion in the creditors' best interests. Any distribution on the Claim is dependent on the administration of the Roger Case. Since it is uncertain when the Roger Case will close, this case should be closed so creditors may receive funds currently held in the estate, rather than keeping the case open for an indefinite period. Granting this motion would allow for the prompt closure of this case, the distribution of funds currently on hand, and would preserve the Claim if funds are to be received for distribution in the future. The Court is further inclined to deem the Claim as not abandoned, as it would preserve the Claim for future administration.

Tentative Ruling:

6/27/18

I. BACKGROUND

On August 31, 2016, Jay Goodman ("Debtor" or "Defendant") filed for chapter 7 relief. Arturo Cisneros is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee").

The Debtor and creditor Delia Moya ("Moya") were involved in a previous family law matter (Case Number IND1302108 – "Family Law Case"). The Debtor and Moya entered into a marriage settlement agreement ("MSA") on May 10, 2016.

Moya alleges the Debtor began threatening her with a Contempt Motion as early as August 11, 2017. The Debtor filed the Contempt Motion on February 12, 2018, and the Court issued the Order to Show Cause ("OSC") on February 27, 2018.

Subsequently, Moya hired counsel who believed that the Contempt Motion and OSC were frivolous and requested that the Debtor withdraw the motion before seeking sanctions. The Debtor did not withdraw the OSC and continued to litigate the issue.

On May 31, 2018, Moya filed this motion for attorney fees ("Motion") to require the Debtor to pay her attorney's fees and costs associated with opposing the Contempt Motion and OSC. Moya asks for $8,350.00 in attorney's fees: $6,850 to respond to the Contempt Motion and OSC, and $1,500 for bringing this Motion to enforce the MSA. In the alternative, Moya asks for an Order to Show Cause as to why Debtor should not be sanctioned. Concurrently, with this Motion, the Court is considering whether the Debtor's counsel should be sanctioned for his role in the filing of the Contempt Motion.

Chapter 7

The Debtor filed an objection ("Objection") to this Motion on June 7, 2018. The Creditor filed a reply ("Reply") to the Objection on June 20, 2018.

II. DISCUSSION

Section 523(a)(5) and § 523(a)(15) ("Section 523") except from discharge debts for domestic support obligations or in connection with a separation agreement, respectively.

Moya asserts she is entitled to attorney's fees under the MSA. (Motion at Ex. 5, MSA, ¶ 14.2). The Amended EAO of the MSA requires that Moya be paid no less than $485.00 per month for spousal support arrears and agreed arrears. The MSA requires that "nothing herein shall preclude a court awarding need-based or conduct-based fees in any action or proceeding to enforce any of the provisions of this Agreement".

This Motion argues that the Debtor's Contempt Motion and OSC were frivolously filed to preclude the enforcement of the MSA and Debtor's payment responsibilities. Section 523(a)(5) and § 523(a)(15) excepts from discharge domestic support obligation or debts in connection with a separation agreement. Moya asserts she could not afford an attorney to defend herself from the Contempt Motion and OSC, yet was required to litigate to enforce the MSA. After Moya's failed pro se attempt, she received an $8,350 loan for attorney fees from her friend, Dana Mcquown.

The Debtor's Objection asserts that Moya's motion is unintelligible and inconsistent with prior agreements. The Debtor is unsure whether Moya is filing a motion for attorney's fees or a motion for an order to show cause, or both. These actions have different time limits for replies, and thus the distinction is significant. The Debtor argues that a March 28 OSC Contempt Hearing resulted in an agreement for a hearing on sanctions to proceed, and that Moya's filing for sanctions is frivolous under these circumstances.

Moya's Reply responds that filing this Motion was not frivolous, as this Motion asks for attorney's fees, while the prior agreement sought sanctions. Moya further clarifies that this is a motion for attorney's fees, with a request for an OSC as an alternative. Separately, the Court notes that the OSC issued after the March 28 hearing specifically regarded sanctions against the Debtor's Counsel where the instant Motion seeks sanctions as against the Debtor.

As to the Debtor's request for fees pursuant to the MSA, Moya has not provided sufficient legal authority to support the proposition that this Court has jurisdiction to award fees under the MSA or sufficient authority that the filing of an opposition to the Contempt Motion (i.e. a defensive act), would constitute an "act to enforce" the provisions of the MSA as contemplated by ¶ 14.2 of the MSA. In sum, Moya has failed to demonstrate that this Court has the legal authority to enforce the MSA.

As an alternative to granting fees pursuant to the MSA, Moya argues that §105 of the Bankruptcy Code ("Section 105") justifies sanctions against the Debtor and requests that this Court issue a new order to show cause for contempt against the Debtor, personally, for the fees incurred by Moya in defending against the Contempt Motion and OSC. The Court has already found that the filing of the Contempt Motion was itself improper and unsupported by law. Based on the record of the March 28, 2018, and June 13, 2018, hearings, the record reflects that the issuance of an OSC against the Debtor for his conduct in the filing of the Contempt Motion is justified.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court's tentative ruling is to GRANT the motion in part for issuance of the OSC and DENY the motion in part regarding the enforcement of the MSA.

Tentative Ruling:

6/27/2018

BACKGROUND

On August 31, 2016, Jay Goodman ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On December 12, 2016, Debtor received a discharge.

On February 12, 2018, Debtor filed a motion for an order to show cause why Delia Moya ("Moya"), Debtor's ex-spouse, should not be held in civil contempt. The Court issued a corresponding order to show cause on February 27, 2018 (the "1st OSC"). On March 14, 2018, Moya filed a response to the 1st OSC. After issuing a tentative ruling, the Court, at a hearing on March 28, 2018, orally vacated the 1st OSC. On May 4, 2018, the Court issued an order vacating the 1st OSC and issuing an order to show cause why Debtor's attorney, Christopher Hewitt ("Hewitt") should not be sanctioned for filing a frivolous pleading (the "2nd OSC").

On May 21, 2018, the hearing on the 2nd OSC was continued for one week by stipulation of the parties. On May 23, 2018, Hewitt filed his opposition to the 2nd OSC. On May 30, 2018, Moya filed a reply, requesting $6,850 for responding to the 1st OSC and $2,000 for filing the reply in connection with the 2nd OSC.

On May 31, 2018, Moya filed a motion for attorney fees (the "Motion"). Moya's Motion primarily requests that Debtor reimburse Moya for $8,350 in attorney's fees ($6,850 for responding to the 1st OSC and $1,500 for the Motion). The Motion was set for hearing on June 27, 2018.

TENTATIVE RULING

For the reasons set forth in the 2nd OSC and the reply, the Court believes that monetary sanctions are appropriate. Hewitt to address any ethical concerns arising from a possible conflict of interest presented by the instant situation.

ACTION IN NON-BANKRUPTCY FORUM RE: Revere Fin. Corp. v. Roger Docket Number INC 092 308 Riverside County Superior Court

MOVANT: JERRY WANG AS RECEIVER

From: 6/5/18

EH__

Docket 468

Tentative Ruling:

06/27/2018

Debtors and Dr. Roger (the "Roger Parties") oppose relief from stay only as to determination of postpetition fees/costs by the State Court.

Postpetition, as to Motion for Allowance of Administrative Expense Claim, the Roger Parties assert that this Court already determined the value of the Receiver's postpetition services in connection with the Receiver Fee Motion and that the Receiver disagreed with this Court's ruling. The Roger Parties couch the Receiver's request for relief from stay as forum shopping. The Roger Parties' also argue that the District Court opinions are not binding because the time lapse between the time when the District Court issued its opinions, and the numerous issues that have been litigated in the Bankruptcy Court in the interim, militate in favor of a bankruptcy court determination of postpetition fees.

As a threshold matter, the Court's ruling on the Receiver Fee Motion is incorrectly characterized by the Roger Parties as a determination on the value of the Receiver's claim for postpetition fees, where the Court's decision instead clearly indicated was without prejudice and detailed deficiencies in the form of the Motion and the standard argued by the Receiver, but left open the possibility of the Receiver revising and bringing its motion again at a later date. The Court now considers the remaining arguments of the Roger Parties in light of the Curtis Factors.

Partial or Complete Resolution of Issues

First, the Roger Parties' arguments amount to an assertion that there are bankruptcy issues such as priority of claims and benefit to the estates that are within the exclusive jurisdiction of the bankruptcy court which cannot be resolved by a state action. On this point, the Movants do not dispute that bankruptcy issues will remain after the State Court has determined the total amount of all fees and costs, including postpetition amounts. However, the Movants underscore that the State Court is in the best position to determine, as a matter of state law, the total amount and allocation of Receiver/RFC's fees/expenses and costs. The Court concurs with the Movants that relief from stay is likely to result in at least partial resolution of issues regarding the total amount of fees/expenses and costs RFC and Receiver are owed. Following such determinations, the parties can and will likely come before this Court for decisions regarding the allowance and priority of such claims. On the whole, the Court considers this factor neutral.

Whether there is lack of any connection with or interference with administration of the bankruptcy case

Movants do not argue that the calculation of fees lacks connection with the bankruptcy case, they simply argue that the State Court is the appropriate forum for calculation of such fees and costs. The Court agrees that the State Court is the appropriate forum for determination of the total amount of costs and fees and does not find that the Roger Parties have provided any argument indicating that such determination by the State Court would interfere with the bankruptcy cases. To the contrary, the Court finds that determination, in the first instance, by the State Court of the total amount of fees and costs awardable under state law is proper and that the interests of judicial economy favor such determination by the State Court prior to determination by this Court regarding the priority of such claims and other potential bankruptcy-related disputes over fees and costs. This factor weighs in favor of granting relief from stay.

Prejudice to Interests of Other Creditors and Other Interested Parties/ Balance of Hurt

The only prejudice asserted by the Roger Parties, is prejudice to Dr. Roger.

Chapter 7

Specifically, the Roger Parties argue that Dr. Roger will be harmed by having to litigate the issue of postpetition fees and costs in the State Court before the issue of his entitlement to a discharge has been resolved. The corollary argument is that if Dr. Roger obtains a discharge at least some of the fees/costs will not need to be paid by Dr. Roger. The Roger Parties opine that the delay in determination of the discharge issue has been the result of a strategy by the Movants. However, this Court has already determined with respect to the Dischargeability Action that Dr. Roger's consent to numerous continuances of the Dischargeability Action preclude him from arguing that the Movants are at fault for the time delay in reaching resolution of that case. Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that as Dr. Roger would likely need to litigate the issue of postpetition fees/costs in either the State Court or in this Court, that the arguments regarding harm are inapposite and may need to determine fees as against Ebarb. This factor weighs in favor of granting relief from stay.

Third Parties

The Court further notes that the presence of Ebarb in the State Court Action complicates the ability of the Court to make a determination regarding fees/costs of the Movants where issues related directly to a non-debtor party may be implicated. This factor weighs in favor of granting relief.

Judicial Economy

Based on the Roger Parties' nonopposition to the State Court's determination of prepetition fees/costs, the issue of fees and costs will already move forward before the State Court. Additionally, as set forth above, the State Court is in the best position to determine the total award of fees and costs pursuant to state law and such determination is in the interests of judicial economy because it will limit this Court's review to narrow bankruptcy related issues. For these reasons, judicial economy weighs in favor of granting relief from stay.

The Court finds that the remaining Curtis factors are inapplicable to the case at bar and that the remaining legal arguments of the Roger Parties are not relevant to a determination of whether the Curtis Factors support granting or denial of relief from stay.

The Court is inclined to GRANT relief from stay to Movants.

APPEARANCES REQUIRED.

6/5/2018

On October 24, 2013, Baleine, LP ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. Prior to the bankruptcy filing, on March 18, 2013, the state court had appointed Jerry Wang ("Wang") as receiver of the personal property assets of Debtor, as well as the personal property assets of Douglas Roger ("Roger") and Roger's medical corporation ("Roger Inc."). Wang now asserts that "nothing remains for [Wang] to do in terms of administering the receivership." [Dkt. No. 469, pg. 4, lines 8-9]. Wang has filed this instant motion for relief from the automatic stay in order to wind down the receivership. Both Trustee and Debtor have filed limited oppositions to the request. Trustee requests that to the extent Movant intends to seek to be paid an administrative expense claim in the Debtor's case based on any services performed in the state court action, any orders/judgments obtained from the state court concerning Movant's fees, expenses, and costs would not excuse Movant from compliance with 11 U.S.C. § 503, such that Movant's fees, expenses, and costs would still be subject to approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

[Dkt. No. 472, pg. 2, lines 9-13]. Wang's reply indicates that he accepts the condition requested by Trustee, and, therefore, the Court considers the limited objection of Trustee to be resolved.

Debtor's limited opposition, however, remains unresolved. Debtor's opposition states that Debtor only opposes relief from stay for Movant to have the State Court determine post-petition fees, costs and any applicable interest, if any, on its claim, as this Court is better situated to make this determination, both because it is intimately familiar with the post-petition actions taken by Movant in the related bankruptcy cases all before this Court, as well as the fact that application of bankruptcy law is needed to make these post-petition determinations and allocations between the related debtors.

[Dkt. No. 474, section 3b(11)].

The Court notes that the district court has previously weighed in on similar issues in Roger's bankruptcy. See In re Roger, 539 B.R. 837 (C.D. Cal. 2015); In re Roger, 2015 WL 7566647 (C.D. Cal. 2015) (pending appeal). While the Court disagrees with the blanket assertion offered by Wang that "[t]he District Court held that issues relating to the receivership are complex areas of state law that the State Court should decide," [Dkt. No. 469, pg. 5, lines 4-6], the Court agrees with Wang that the district court's rationale is relevant here. Specifically, Court respects the district court's conclusion that "the State Court, which presided over years of litigation involving numerous discovery disputes and the incurrence of $1,000,000 in attorneys' fees, is better suited to resolve the issues." 2015 WL 7566647 at *10.¹ This conclusion is specifically relevant because the primary basis of the unresolved objection of Debtor is that this Court is more familiar with the applicable law and facts. In accordance with the district court's opinion, the Court disagrees with Debtor's conclusion.

Debtor has also raised concerns regarding appropriately allocation expenses between the bankruptcy estates of Baleine, Roger, and Roger Inc. This concern, however, does not appear to be of high significance at this point in time, since those concerns could be litigated in the context of either a claim objection or an application for administrative fees. As conceded by Wang, "cause exists to grant relief from stay for a state court to first determine the total amount of a creditor's claim/debtor's liability. The effect of that determination on a bankruptcy estate is an issue of bankruptcy law for the bankruptcy court to decide on a later date." [Dkt. No. 477, pg. 2, lines 22-25].

In accordance with the rationale set forth in in the district court opinions of In re Roger, 539 B.R. 837 (C.D. Cal. 2015) and In re Roger, 2015 WL 7566647 (C.D. Cal.

Docket 634

Tentative Ruling:

6/5/2018

On October 20, 2013, Douglas J. Roger, MD, Inc. ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. Prior to the bankruptcy filing, on March 18, 2013, the state court had appointed Jerry Wang ("Wang") as receiver of the personal property assets of Debtor, as well as the personal property assets of Douglas Roger ("Roger") and Baleine, LP ("Baleine"). Wang now asserts that "nothing remains for [Wang] to do in terms of administering the receivership." [Dkt. No. 469, pg. 4, lines 8-9]. Wang has filed this instant motion for relief from the automatic stay in order to wind down the receivership. Both Trustee and Debtor have filed limited oppositions to the request. Trustee requests that to the extent Movant intends to seek to be paid an administrative expense claim in the Debtor's case based on any services performed in the state court action, any orders/judgments obtained from the state court concerning Movant's fees, expenses, and costs would not excuse Movant from compliance with 11 U.S.C. § 503, such that Movant's fees, expenses, and costs would still be subject to approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

[Dkt. No. 472, pg. 2, lines 9-13]. Wang's reply indicates that he accepts the condition requested by Trustee, and, therefore, the Court considers the limited objection of Trustee to be resolved.

Debtor's limited opposition, however, remains unresolved. Debtor's opposition states that Debtor only opposes relief from stay for Movant to have the State Court determine post-petition fees, costs and any applicable interest, if any, on its claim, as this Court is better situated to make this determination, both because it is intimately familiar with the post-petition actions taken by Movant in the related bankruptcy cases all before this Court, as well as the fact that application of bankruptcy law is needed to make these post-petition determinations and allocations between the related debtors.

[Dkt. No. 474, section 3b(11)].

The Court notes that the district court has previously weighed in on similar issues in Roger's bankruptcy. See In re Roger, 539 B.R. 837 (C.D. Cal. 2015); In re Roger, 2015 WL 7566647 (C.D. Cal. 2015) (pending appeal). While the Court disagrees with the blanket assertion offered by Wang that "[t]he District Court held that issues relating to the receivership are complex areas of state law that the State Court should decide," [Dkt. No. 469, pg. 5, lines 4-6], the Court agrees with Wang that the district court's rationale is relevant here. Specifically, Court respects the district court's conclusion that "the State Court, which presided over years of litigation involving numerous discovery disputes and the incurrence of $1,000,000 in attorneys' fees, is better suited to resolve the issues." 2015 WL 7566647 at *10.¹ This conclusion is specifically relevant because the primary basis of the unresolved objection of Debtor is that this Court is more familiar with the applicable law and facts. In accordance with the district court's opinion, the Court disagrees with Debtor's conclusion.

Debtor has also raised concerns regarding appropriately allocation expenses between the bankruptcy estates of Debtor, Roger, and Baleine. This concern, however, does not appear to be of high significance at this point in time, since those concerns could be litigated in the context of either a claim objection or an application for administrative fees. As conceded by Wang, "cause exists to grant relief from stay for a state court to first determine the total amount of a creditor's claim/debtor's liability. The effect of that determination on a bankruptcy estate is an issue of bankruptcy law for the bankruptcy court to decide on a later date." [Dkt. No. 477, pg. 2, lines 22-25].

In accordance with the rationale set forth in in the district court opinions of In re Roger, 539 B.R. 837 (C.D. Cal. 2015) and In re Roger, 2015 WL 7566647 (C.D. Cal. 2015) and the reasons set forth in Wang's moving papers, and noting that Wang has agreed to the condition requested by Trustee, and further noting that the argument of Debtor has either been rejected by the district court or can be determined by this Court at a later time and in a more appropriate setting, the Court is inclined to GRANT the motion, lifting the automatic stay for Wang to proceed to wind down the receivership in state court.

BACKGROUND:

On June 30, 2014, Juan & Maria Alba ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. On July 31, 2014, LVNV Funding, LLC ("Creditor") filed an unsecured claim in the amount of $7,598.47("Claim 2"). That same day, Creditor also filed an additional unsecured claim in the amount of $836.99 ("Claim 3"). On August 11, 2014, Debtor's Chapter 13 plan was confirmed.

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. (1) such claim is unenforceable against the debtor and property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured;

CAL. CODE CIV. P. § 337 (2016) provides a statute of limitations of four years for debts founded on written contracts, book accounts, accounts stated based upon account in writing, "balance of mutual, open and current account in writing," and rescission of written contract. Once the statute of limitations has passed, the claim is unenforceable. See e.g., Guaranty Trust Co. v. United States, 304 U.S. 126 (1938).

Claim 2 is based on "credit card" debt. This appears to fit within the category established by CAL. CODE CIV. P. § 337. Therefore, the statute of limitations is four years. The proof of claim identifies a last transaction date of October 30, 2000. This is more than four years prior to the filing of the bankruptcy case, and, therefore, Claim 2 is unenforceable.

Claim 3 is based on "retail" debt. The claim's supporting documentation suggests that the claim fits within the category established by CAL. CODE CIV. P. § 337. Therefore, the statute of limitations is four years. The proof of claim identified a last transaction date of December 15, 2000. This is more than four years prior to the filing of the bankruptcy case, and, therefore, Claim 3 is unenforceable. Furthermore, the Court deems failure to oppose to be consent to the relief requested pursuant to Local Rule 9013-(1)(h).

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the objection and DISALLOW Claim 2.

On February 28, 2005, Debtor executed two notes and deeds of trust. One had an original amount of $500,000, and the current beneficiary is FMJM RWL III Trust 2015-1. The other had an original amount of $106,280, and the current beneficiary is Deutsche Bank National Trust Company ("Deutsche"). The security interest related to the latter is the subject of the lien avoidance motion here.

Deutsche asserts that Debtor and the first lienholder entered into a modification on June 1, 2013, and that such modification prejudiced the rights of Deutsche. Deutsche contends that the modification was without its permission, and that the senior lienholder relinquished its priority with respect to the modified terms. If Deutsche is correct, then Deutsche would not be wholly unsecured and Debtor's motion would be unsuccessful.

Subject to discussion from the parties, the Court is inclined to GRANT Deutsche's request for a continuance to allow Deutsche to file an adversary proceeding regarding the extent or priority of a lien.

#10.00 Motion RE: Objection to Claim Number 5 by Claimant LVNV Funding, LLC Its Successors and Assigns as Assignee of North Star Capital Acquisition LLC Its Successors and Assigns as Assignee and Subsequent Transferees

EH__

Docket 17

Tentative Ruling:

6/28/18

BACKGROUND:

On March 1, 2018, Richard Espinoza ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. On May 3, 2018, LVNV Funding, LLC ("Creditor") filed an unsecured claim in the amount of $1,557.40 ("Claim 5"). On May 12, 2018, Debtor filed an objection to claim 5. On May 30, 2018, Debtor's Chapter 13 plan was confirmed.

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). See Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Specialists, Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000). When a party files an objection to a proof of claim, that filing "creates a dispute which is a contested matter" within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and the Court must resolve the matter after notice and opportunity for hearing upon a motion for relief. Id.

Chapter 13

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." In re Medina, 205 B.R. 216, 222 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. See In re Consol. Pioneer Mort, 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; see also Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

11 U.S.C. § 502(b)(1) (2005) states:

(b) Except as provided in subsections (e)(2), (f), (g), (h) and (i) of this section, if such objection to a claim is made, the court, after notice and a hearing, shall determine the amount of such claim in lawful currency of the United States as of the date of the filing of the petition, and shall allow such claim in such amount, except to the extent that—

(1) such claim is unenforceable against the debtor and property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured;

CAL. CODE CIV. P. § 337 (2016) provides a statute of limitations of four years for debts founded on written contracts, book accounts, accounts stated based upon account in writing, "balance of mutual, open and current account in writing," and rescission of written contract. Once the statute of limitations has passed, the claim is unenforceable. See e.g., Guaranty Trust Co. v. United States, 304 U.S. 126 (1938).

Claim 5 is based on "credit card" debt. This appears to fit within the category established by CAL. CODE CIV. P. § 337. Therefore, the statute of limitations is four years. The proof of claim identified a last transaction date of June 15, 1999. This is more than four years prior to the filing of the bankruptcy case, and, therefore, Claim 5 is unenforceable.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the objection and DISALLOW Claim 5.

APPEARANCES WAIVED. Movant to lodge order within seven days. If oral or written opposition is presented at the hearing, the hearing may be continued.

The Court is inclined to DENY the motion for failure to provide adequate notice and execute proper service. First, Debtor failed to provide telephonic notice of the hearing to secured creditors in accordance with the terms of order setting hearing on shortened notice. Additionally, Debtor provided written notice of the hearing the day after the deadline specified in the order setting hearing on shortened notice, and also failed to serve the secured creditors pursuant to FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 7004 as required by the Court's self-calendaring procedures.

As to the merits, there is no detail presented as to the reasons the prior case was dismissed, or to Debtor's changed circumstances. Finally, there is no declaration by Debtor.

#12.00 Motion for Setting Property Value of Personal Property Collateral

EH__

Docket 15

Tentative Ruling:

06/28/2018

BACKGROUND

On April 5, 2018, Adrian & Patricia Lopez ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. Among the assets of the estate is a 2000 Nisan Frontier King Cab (the "Proper"). On May 24, 2018, Debtors a motion to determine the value of the property. No opposition has been filed.

DISCUSSION

One of the benefits of filing a Chapter 13 bankruptcy is that under § 506(a) the debtor can bifurcate a secured, unavoidable debt, with one part representing the amount of the value of the collateral, and the deficiency being treated as an unsecured claim. See In re Penrod, 636 F.3d 1175, 1177 (9th Cir. 2011).

The Debtors assert that the Property's value, and thus its secured portion, should be determined to be $1,125, with an unsecured deficiency claim for $3,619.08. In support of its valuation, Debtor has provided a Kelley Blue Book valuation for "Trade-in Value".

Currently, the Ninth Circuit has not established a uniform method for valuations. See In re Ayres, 2010 WL 652825 at *5, 2010 Bankr.LEXIS 519 at *13 (Bankr.N.D.Cal. February 16, 2010) (collecting cases detailing vehicle valuation and describing the state of the law in the Ninth Circuit). In In re Morales, however, which this Court has previously cited with approval, it was determined that retail value should be calculated "by adjusting the Kelley Blue Book or N.A.D.A. Guide retail value for a like vehicle by a reasonable amount in light of the evidence presented regarding the condition of the vehicle or any other relevant factors." In re Morales, 387 B.R. 36, 45 (Bankr.C.D.Cal.2008).

According to the court in In re Morales, the retail values, and not the private party or trade-in values, are the appropriate starting points because the text of § 506(a)(2) refers to "the price a retail merchant would charge" and does not refer to the price a private party would charge. Morales at 46. Here, Debtors have failed to provide evidence regarding the retail value of the property. As a result, the Court is inclined to CONTINUE the matter for supplemental evidence.

The parties dispute whether the fair market value of the real property located at 32283 Daisy Dr., Winchester, CA 92596 is worth more or less than the amount owing on the first deed of trust. The Court having reviewed the evidence submitted by Debtor, as well as the evidence submitted by the holder of the second deed of trust, Trinity Financial Services, LLC ("Trinity"), and finds the latter to be more compelling for the following reasons. First, Debtor has not submitted an appraiser's declaration authenticating the appraisal. Second, Debtor's "appraisal" is simply a comparative market analysis which identifies 14 comparable listings which sold for an average of $443,750, then concludes that the real property at issue here is only worth $393,000, without any explanation. The appraisal provided by Trinity, on the other hand, contains an appraiser's declaration, utilizes a more thorough methodology, and arrives at a conclusion more compatible with the comparable sales. As a result, the Court is inclined to DENY the motion.

DISCUSSION

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 3012 requires a motion to value collateral to be served on the holder of the secured claim. Here, the proof of service to the instant motion [Dkt. No. 39, pg. 8] only indicates that service was executed on the Debtor, his attorney, the Chapter 13 Trustee and UST.

Additionally, the Court notes that the only evidence in support of Debtor's proposed valuation is a declaration of Debtor which asserts that Debtor relied upon personal

MOVANT: TATIANA NOEMI ALEGRE aka RICK ALEGRE

From: 5/29/18

EH__

Docket 21

 VACATED  REASON: ORDER ENTERED 7/5/18

Tentative Ruling:

05/29/2018

The Motion was not served on any creditors. As such the Motion must at the outset be denied for a failure to provide creditors with due process.

The Opposition argues that the Debtor has failed to demonstrate changed circumstances and that the Motion is untimely. As to the first argument, the Court concurs. The only "change in circumstances" indicated by the Debtor is that she has now hired counsel. However, there is no explanation of why counsel for the second and third case did not verify the petition was complete when the documents were filed.

As to the second grounds indicated by the Opposition, the Court does not read § 362(c) as requiring a motion to impose the stay to be heard within 30 days of the petition day, it must only be filed prior to the expiration of the 30-day period. Here, the Motion was timely.

The Reply does not cure the service issues and responds only by offering objecting creditor an APO.

BACKGROUND

On July 21, 2011, John & Carolyn Vega ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On November 2, 2011, Debtors received a discharge and five days later the case was closed.

On March 1, 2017, UST filed a motion to reopen the case to investigate and administer litigation settlement proceeds. On December 12, 2017, the Chapter 7 trustee filed two motions to approve compromise. The first motion, between the estate and the debtors and primarily relating to the amount of Debtors' exemption in the proceeds, was granted on January 5, 2018. The second motion was set for hearing and is under consideration now.

Pursuant to the instant compromise motion the Trustee requests: (1) approval of the compromise of the products liability action; (2) authorization to employ Audet & Partners LLP and Levin Simes LLP as co-special counsel and payment of their compensation; and (3) related relief, including approval of the settlement payment disbursements. No opposition to the instant compromise motion has been filed.

DISCUSSION

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9019(a) states: "On motion by the trustee and after notice and a hearing, the court may approve a compromise or settlement. Notice shall be given to creditors, the United States trustee, the debtor, and indenture trustees as provided in Rule 2002 and to any other entity as the court may direct." The Court may grant approval if it determines that the compromise is "fair and equitable." See In re Berkeley Delaware Court, LLC, 834 F.3d 1036, 1039 (9th Cir. 2016). In determining whether the compromise is fair and equitable, the Court applies a four-factor test. See In re DiCostanzo, 399 Fed. Appx. 307, 308 (9th Cir. 2010). The test was originally outlined in In re A & C Props., and provides for consideration of

- (a) The probability of success in the litigation;
- (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection;
- (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it;
- (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises.

784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986) (quotation omitted). "The bankruptcy court has great latitude in approving compromise agreements." In re Woodson, 839 F.2d 610, 620 (9th Cir. 1988). Typically, "a compromise should be approved unless it falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness." In re Art & Architecture Books of the 21st Century, 2016 WL 1118742 at *25 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016) (quotation omitted).

The proposed settlement here, however, presents a unique situation. The proposed settlement represents an "aggregate settlement" negotiated in the context of, presumably, state or federal district court litigation. The proposed settlement has not been disclosed to the Court on the basis that it contains a confidentiality provision. Furthermore, Trustee motions lacks detail in its description of the situation. The nature, extent and value of Debtor's claim are completely unknown to this Court. The factual situation giving rise to Debtor's claim is unclear, and the Court lacks any ability to estimate the value of the claim. Furthermore, as a result of the absence of information, the Court lacks the information necessary to determine the reasonableness of the requested attorney's fees.

The Bankruptcy Code demonstrates a preference for public access to the proceedings. See 11 U.S.C. § 107 (2010). There are procedures by which certain documents, including settlements, can be classified as confidential. See, e.g., In re Oldco M Corp., 466 B.R. 234 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2012); In re Hemple, 295 B.R. 200 (Bankr. D. Vt. 2003). In order for the Court to apply the legal standards of 11 U.S.C. § 107, the Court must be given an opportunity to review the material and make a determination regarding whether the matter is entitled to confidentiality.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to DENY the motion or CONTINUE the matter for supplemental evidence and analysis.

Docket 60

Tentative Ruling:

07/11/2018

BACKGROUND

On September 17, 2016 ("Petition Date"), Jose and Angela Olvera ("Debtors") filed for Chapter 13 relief. On October 7, 2016 Ally Financial ("Creditor") filed a proof of claim ("Claim #1") in the amount of $9,522.45, $8,125.00 of which was secured by Debtor's 2011 Chevrolet HHR ("HHR"). On October 10, 2016, Creditor filed a second secured proof of claim ("Claim #2") in the amount of $9,846.95, $9,325.00 of which was secured by Debtor's Chevrolet Impala ("Impala").

On March 2, 2017, Creditor was granted relief from the automatic stay and shortly thereafter repossessed the HHR and Impala. On or about March 8, 2017, Debtors filed a Notice of Conversion to Chapter 7 and this Court granted said conversion. On April 13, 2017, the Trustee filed a Notice of Assets and set a proof of claim deadline in the Chapter 7 Case for July 17, 2017. Creditor then filed their Amended Proof of Claims on January 18, 2018 – 6 months beyond the proof of claim deadline set in the Chapter 7 case and 9 months after repossession. These amended claims allege a now unsecured amount of $10,313.04 for the HHR and $10,478.23 for the Impala.

On May 16, 2017, the Debtors filed objections to both Claims #1 and #2 ("Objection #1 and Objection #2").

Chapter 7

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502, a claim of interest is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Therefore, a proof of claim shall constitute prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of claim if executed and filed in accordance with the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). The filing of an objection to a proof of claim creates a dispute which is a contested matter within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and must be resolved after notice and opportunity for hearing upon a motion for relief. Lundell v. Anchor Const. Specialists, Inc. 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000).

The party objecting to the claim has the burden of going forward and of introducing evidence sufficient to rebut the presumption of validity. Little Loan Servicing, LP v. Garvida (In Re Gardiva), 347 B.R. 697, 706-07 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2006). Such evidence must be sufficient to demonstrate a true dispute and must have probative force equal to the contents of the claim. Lundell, F.3d at 1039.

FRBP 3002(c) states in relevant part that in a voluntary chapter 7 case "a proof of claim is timely filed if it is filed not later than 90 days after the first date set for the meeting of creditors called under 341(a)." Rule 3002(c) then sets forth five enumerated exceptions to the 90 day general rule. Under section 502(b)(9), a claim will not be allowed when the proof of claim is not timely filed, "except to the extent tardily filed as permitted under paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of section 726(a) under the Federal rules of Bankruptcy Procedure."

ANALYSIS:

Under the scope of authority set forth in section 704(5) of the Code, Debtors objected to Creditor's proof of claim. Therefore, under § 502(a) the proof of claim is not initially allowed.

Debtors object to both Creditor's Amended Proof of Claim #1 and Claim #2 on the basis that they were filed more than 6 months after the proof of claim deadline. Under 3002(c) of the FRBP, a proof of claim is timely filed for a voluntary Chapter 7 case if it is filed not later than 90 days after the first date set for the meeting of creditors called under 341(a).

Chapter 7

While none of Rule 3002(c)'s enumerated exceptions to this general ninety-day window apply, under 3002, as long as debtor has fair notice of the basis of the amended claim, creditor's amended claim arose from the same transaction or occurrence as the timely-filed secured claim, and no prejudice will result to other parties in interest by allowing creditor to amend its secured claim, this Court is free to exercise its discretion in allowing the amendment of Claims #1 and #2.

Debtors further object to Creditor's claims on the basis that the claims' respective increases from $9,522.45 to $10,313 (Claim #1, the HHR) and $9,846.75 to $10,478.23 (Claim #2, the Impala) are simply illogical. In assuming a sale at auction took place post-repossession of the vehicles, Debtors assert there are no logical grounds for an increase rather than a decrease in the claim amount ("Did Respondent sell the vehicle for a negative amount?")

Though it is far from clear that an auction in fact took place concerning either vehicle, Creditor provides little evidence substantiating its Amended Proof of Claims. The Amended Proof of Claims do not explain whether an auction took place, or how the claims simultaneously increased while become unsecured when during the earliest stages of the case, Creditor moved to repossess collateral of significant value.

Further, while the listed additional fees or expenses might conceivably explain the $9,522.45 to $10,478.23 (Claim #1) or $9,846.75 to $10,478.23 (Claim #2) increase between original and amended claims, none of the listed value amounts on either of Creditor's Proof of Claim forms correlate with the gap. These actual discrepancies in amount and corresponding objections are almost certainly enough to demonstrate a "true dispute" under Lindell F.3d at 1039. Moreover, given that the Debtors do not have access to the information necessary to explain the situation, and Creditor has failed to address the situation through its proof of claim or by opposition to the instant motion, the Court will deem Creditor's failure to oppose to be consent to the relief requested pursuant to Local Rule 9013-1(h). Id.

TENTATIVE RULING

For the foregoing reasons, the Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the objection to Claim 1.

#10.00 Application to Employ Shulman Hodges & Bastian LLP as General Counsel

EH__

Docket 14

Tentative Ruling:

7/11/18

BACKGROUND

On January 11, 2018, Rolando & Florencia Reyes ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On April 23, 2018, Debtors received a discharge.

On May 15, 2018, Trustee filed an adversary complaint for avoidance of fraudulent transfers, disallowance of claims, unjust enrichment, declaratory relief, and turnover of property against Reginald Reyes, Debtors' son. On May 16, 2018, Trustee filed an application to employ Shulman Hodges & Bastian LLP as general counsel for the estate. On May 30, 2018, Debtors filed an opposition to the application, arguing that such employment was premature and not in the best interests of the estate because there were no assets in the estate.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, the trustee, with the court's approval, may employ one or more attorneys, accountants, appraisers, auctioneers, or other professional persons, that do not hold or represent an interest adverse to the estate, and that are disinterested persons, to represent or assist the trustee in carrying out the trustee's duties under this title.

Regarding the standard for the employment of professional persons, one court has stated:

The trustee, subject to the court's approval, has broad discretion in his selection of counsel and the terms of employment. There are, however, two threshold requirements that the trustee must satisfy. First, the trustee must demonstrate that the attorney proposed to be employed meets certain statutory standards. Second, the employment must be reasonably necessary.

In re Computer Learning Ctrs., Inc., 272 B.R. 897, 903 (Bankr. E.D. Va. 2001) (citations omitted).

Regarding whether the proposed employment is reasonable and necessary, one court has stated:

Thus, once the trustee meets the burden of demonstrating that an applicant for professional employment is qualified under § 327, the discretion of the bankruptcy court must be exercised in a way that it believes best serves the objectives of the bankruptcy system. Among the ultimate considerations for the bankruptcy courts in making these decisions must be the protection of the interests of the bankruptcy estate and its creditors, and the efficient, expeditious, and economical resolution of the bankruptcy proceeding.

In re Harold & Williams Dev. Co., 977 F.2d 906, 910 (4th Cir. 1992).

Here, Debtors' opposition appears to be based on a fundamental misunderstanding of how a bankruptcy case is administered. Generally speaking it is the role of a trustee to administer assets. When a trustee needs to bring legal claims or file non-routine motions, an attorney, with the requisite legal skill to assist the Trustee, may be necessary. Whether there are assets in the estate is irrelevant; the guiding question is, however, whether the trustee requires legal assistance to perform his responsibilities. Here, where Trustee has brought an adversary proceeding, it is clear that legal assistance is reasonably necessary.

The Court will GRANT the application.

BACKGROUND

On March 5, 2018, Jordan Amini ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On June 7, 2018, UST filed a motion for an extension of time to file a complaint objecting to discharge. UST asserts that Debtor previously operated a used car sales lot, and UST implies that business inventory may have been recently transferred to Debtor's father business without being disclosed in the case commencement documents.

DISCUSSION

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 4004(a) states:

- (1) In a chapter 7 case, a complaint, or a motion under § 727(a)(8) or (9) of the Code, objecting to the debtor's discharge shall be filed no later than 60 days after the first date set for the meeting of creditors under § 341(a). for the hearing on confirmation. In a chapter 13 case, a motion objecting to the debtor's discharge under § 1328(f) shall be filed no later than 60 days after the first date set for the meeting of creditors under § 341(a). At least 28 days' notice of the time so fixed shall be given to the United States trustee and all creditors as provided in Rule 2002(f) and (k) and to the trustee and the trustee's attorney.

And FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 4004(b) states:

- (1) On motion of any party in interest, after notice and hearing, the court may for cause extend the time to object to discharge. Except as provided in subdivision (b)(2), the motion shall be filed before the time has expired.
- (2) A motion to extent the time to object to discharge may be filed after the time for objection has expired and before discharge is granted if (A) the objection is based on facts that, if learned after the discharge, would provide a basis for revocation under § 727(d) of the Code, and (B) the movant did not have knowledge of those facts in time to permit an objection. The motion shall be filed promptly after the movant discovers the facts on which the objection is based.

Here, the delay in providing information adequate to assess the financial circumstances of Debtor constitutes sufficient cause to extend the deadline. See COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 4004.03[2] (16th ed. 2013) ("A debtor's delays in responding to discovery may be sufficient cause. Obviously, a delay in the meeting of creditors to a date close to or after the deadline may constitute such cause.") (citing In re McCormack, 244 B.R. 203 (Bankr. D. Conn. 2000)).

Moreover, Debtor's failure to oppose may be deemed consent to the relief requested pursuant to Local Rule 9013-1(h).

Docket 19

Tentative Ruling:

07/11/2018

On October 8, 2015, Angelo Gumbs ("Plaintiff") filed a Complaint in the Superior Court of Los Angeles against the debtor, Richard Earl Davis, Jr. ("Debtor" or "Defendant") asserting claims for Fraud – Intentional Misrepresentation, Fraud – Concealment, and Fraud – Promise Without Intent to Perform (the "State Action").

On April 14, 2016, the Debtor filed his petition for chapter 7 relief. Subsequently, the State Action was stayed pending proceedings in the bankruptcy court. On March 30, 2017, the Plaintiff filed his Complaint to determine dischargeability pursuant to § 523(a)(2) ("Complaint"). On December 7, 2017, the Plaintiff filed a Motion for Default Judgment ("Motion") against the Debtor. However, on the date of the hearing on the Motion, the Debtor filed an Answer and the Motion was continued to provide Plaintiff an opportunity to supplement the Motion and/or to provide an opportunity for Plaintiff to move to strike the Answer. On May 9, 2018, the Plaintiff filed a Motion to Strike the Answer and for Entry of Default ("Strike Motion"). At the hearing on May 30, 2018, the Court granted the Strike Motion, striking the answer and ordering entry of default.

At the continued June 6, 2018, hearing, the Court required that the Plaintiff (1) lodge the order on the Motion to Strike; (2) file the requested State Court documents; (3) file points and authorities; and (4) provide notice of the continuance of the hearing on the Motion for Default Judgment and Status Conference, and of the Court's new deadlines. The Plaintiff has complied with the Court's requirements. The Court now turns to the merits of the Motion.

The Motion is supported by the Affidavit of Kandis Gumbs, the Plaintiff's wife, and by the Declaration of the Plaintiff's counsel along with exhibits attached to, and authenticated by the Plaintiff's Wife and Counsel. The Court admits all of the evidence submitted. Additionally, the Court deems as admitted the statements included in the Plaintiff's "Requests for Admission, Set One" to which Plaintiff received no responses by Debtor after his filing of an Answer. (Holdren Decl. at Ex. C)

DISCUSSION

A. Entry of Default

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 55 states that "[w]hen a party against whom a judgment for affirmative relief is sought has failed to plead or otherwise defend as provided by these rules and that fact is made to appear by affidavit or otherwise, the clerk shall enter the party's default." Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(a). Per LBR 7055-1(b)(1), a motion for entry of default judgment shall contain the following:

1. When and against what party default was entered ✓
2. Whether defaulting party is an infant or incompetent person – ✓ (N/A)
3. Whether the defaulting party is currently on active duty – ✓ (N/A)
4. Whether notice has been served on defaulting party, if required by FRCP 55(b)(2) ✓

As to the entry of default, the Court has granted the Plaintiff's Motion to Strike and has directed the clerk of Court to enter default against the Defendant.

B. Admissions

Pursuant to FRBP 7008(b)(6), failure to deny an allegation of the Complaint where a responsive pleading is required constitutes an admission of the allegation.

C. Default Judgment

Factors which may be considered by courts in exercising discretion as to the entry of a default judgment include: (1) the possibility of prejudice to the plaintiff; (2) the merits of plaintiff's substantive claim; (3) the sufficiency of the complaint; (4) the sum of money at stake in the action; (5) the possibility of a dispute considering material facts; (6) whether the default was due to excusable neglect; and (7) the strong policy underlying the FRCP favoring decision on the merits. See Eitel v. McCool, 782 F.2d 1470, 1471-72 (9th Cir. 1986).

1. Proper Service of Summons and Complaint

As detailed above, the Defendant late-filed an Answer to the Complaint but later failed to respond to Plaintiff's discovery requests or to his requests to meet and confer. For these reasons, the Answer was struck. Additionally, the Motion was properly served on Debtor and he has failed to file opposition or response. Plaintiff has fulfilled his obligations regarding due process.

2. Merits of Plaintiff's claim

Upon default, the factual allegations of the complaint, except those relating to the amount of damages, will be taken as true. TeleVideo Systems, Inc. v. Heidenthal, 826 F.2d 915, 917 (9th Cir. 1987); "The defendant, by his default, admits the plaintiff's well-pleaded allegations of facts, is concluded on those facts by the judgment, and is barred from contesting on appeal the facts thus established." Nishimatsu Construction Co., Ltd. v. Houston Nat'l Bank, 515 F.2d 1200, 1206 (5th Cir. 1975) (emphasis added); Danning v. Lavine, 572 F.2d 1386, 1388 (9th Cir. 1978); Cotton v. Massachusetts Mut. Life Ins. Co., 402 F.3d 1267, 1278(11th Cir.

2005) (do not have to take as true facts that are not well-pleaded or conclusions of law).

As a threshold matter, the Court finding that the factual allegations of the State Action are identical to the facts alleged in the Complaint, considers whether the claims asserted in the State Action are nondischargeable as a matter of law, prior to examining whether the allegations suffice to require entry of judgment under § 523(a) (2).

First, as to "Fraud -Intentional Misrepresentation", Ninth Circuit case law confirms that the elements of fraud under California law match the ones under § 523(a)(2)(A). Younie v. Gonya (In re Younie), 211 B.R. 367, 373–74 (9th Cir. BAP 1997) ("The elements of § 523(a)(2)(A) 'mirror the elements of common law fraud' and match those for actual fraud under California law."). See also Baldwin v. Kilpatrick (In re Baldwin), 245 B.R. 131, 134 (9th Cir. BAP 2000). Second, as to "Concealment", it is "well recognized that silence, or the concealment of a material fact, can be the basis of a false impression which creates a misrepresentation actionable under § 523(a)(2)(A)." In re Evans, 181 B.R. 508, 514-515 (Bankr.S.D.Cal.1995); see In re Daquila, 2011 WL 3300197 (9th Cir. BAP Feb. 28, 2011) ("A debtor's failure to disclose material facts constitutes a fraudulent omission under § 523(a)(2)(A) if the debtor was under a duty to disclose and possessed an intent to deceive."); In re Miller, 310 B.R. 185, 196 (Bankr.C.D.Cal.2004) ("The concealment or omission of material facts that a party has a duty to disclose can support the nondischargeability of a debt on the grounds of actual fraud."). In re Davis, 486 B.R. 182, 191 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2013), decision supplemented, No. 10-74245 MEH, 2013 WL 2304684 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. May 24, 2013).

Finally, as to "Fraud – Concealment, and Fraud – Promise Without Intent to Perform", Promissory fraud is a subspecies of the action for fraud and deceit. Downey Venture v. LMI Ins. Co., 66 Cal.App.4th 478, 510, 78 Cal.Rptr.2d 142, 161 (1998). Under California law, the elements of promissory fraud are identical to the elements of common law fraud, when the misrepresentation at issue is a promise made without intent to perform. In re Tobin, 258 B.R. 199, 203 (9th Cir. BAP 2001) (internal citations omitted). Thus, under any of the theories advanced by Plaintiff in the State Action, a finding of liability would also be sufficient to establish nondischargeability pursuant to § 523(a)(2).

Fraud pursuant to §523(a)(2)

In order to maintain a claim for actual fraud pursuant to § 523(a)(2), the plaintiff must provide sufficient factual content from which a court can derive that:

(1) the debtor made the representations; (2) that at the time he knew they were false; (3) that he made them with the intention and purpose of deceiving the creditor; (4) that the creditor relied on such representations, and (5) that the creditor sustained the alleged loss and damage as the proximate result of the representations having been made.

In re Taylor, 514 F.2d 1370, 1373 (9th Cir.1975).

The Declaration of Kandis Gumbs adequately details that the Debtor made the following misrepresentations, in addition to other misrepresentations not detailed here:

- Debtor held himself out to Plaintiff and his wife as a baseball agent certified by the Major League Baseball Players Association and that he could represent Plaintiff if signed. (Gumbs Decl. ¶4);
- Debtor asked Plaintiff and wife to purchase the rights to a documentary that would feature the Plaintiff for $15,000 (Gumbs Decl. ¶8);
- Plaintiff and wife were told (the Court infers that they were told by Debtor) to pay charges for an official website which was never completed (Id. ¶¶9 and 11);
- Plaintiff was charged for clothing for a photo shoot in the amount of $500 which he never received (Id. ¶10 and 11);
- Defendant stated that he needed to produce broadcasting quality commercials at $500 each, for a total of $2,000 which the Court infers were not produced (Id. ¶11);
- Defendant sought a loan from Plaintiff to stay at a hotel in Florida for two nights and did not repay the loan (Id. ¶12);

- Debtor misrepresented that he loaned $10,000 to Plaintiff and sought reimbursement which the Plaintiff and his wife paid but in reality the $10,000 had never been deposited and Debtor never returned the funds;
- Debtor agreed to purchase a 2011 Camaro from the Plaintiff and to make payments on the vehicle but instead of making the payments, instead sold the vehicle and purchased a new vehicle (Id. ¶15);
- Debtor invoiced Plaintiff $11,015 for an alleged loan, which Plaintiff and wife paid to Debtor on February 26, 2012. However, the Debtors reviewed their accounts and found that there had been no loan as asserted by Plaintiff. (Id. ¶ 21);
- Debtor proposed an investment deal with a third party which Plaintiff and wife later discovered was a scam. The Plaintiff and wife were induced to invest $45,151 for the "investment". (Id. ¶22).

Based on the nature of the misrepresentations outlined above and in the Affidavit of Kandis Gumbs, and the statements deemed admitted by the Debtor for failing to respond to the Plaintiff's interrogatories, the Court finds that Debtor knew his statements to the Plaintiff and his wife regarding services he was performing, loans he allegedly made, investments he allegedly set up, and goods he allegedly purchased for the Plaintiff, were false and that the Debtor knew the statements and representations were false when made. Further the Affidavit supports a finding that the Plaintiff and his wife relied on the Debtor's misrepresentations when they paid Debtor monies for the various goods, services and investments they believed would yield them value, and finally, that as outlined in the Gumbs Declaration and attached Exhibits, the Plaintiff and his wife have provided evidence that they sustained damages as a proximate result of the Plaintiff's misrepresentations in the amount of approximately $150,000.

3. The possibility of a dispute considering material facts

Defendant was properly served with the summons and complaint. Defendant's answer was struck by this Court. The Defendant failed to respond to either the Motion to Strike his Answer or to the instant Motion for a Default Judgment and has failed to appear at Status Conferences or to respond to Plaintiff's discovery requests or requests to meet and confer. Therefore, no dispute of material facts precludes entry of default judgment.

4. Whether the default was due to excusable neglect

Defendant had the opportunity to file opposition to the instant Motion and failed to do so. There has been no indication that any excuse exists for the Defendant's nonresponsiveness. Thus, the Court finds that the default was not due to excusable neglect and may be granted.

5. The strong policy underlying the FRCP favoring decision on the merits

Although default judgments are ordinarily disfavored, termination of a case before hearing the merits is allowed when a defendant fails to defend an action under Fed. R. Civ. P. 55. Here, it appears that Defendant has abandoned his defense against the claims of Plaintiff. However, the Court, having required and received evidence to support the claims, finds that the merits have been adequately supported and that entry of a default judgment as to nondischargeability is warranted. Thus, the instant judgment represents a decision on the merits.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. The Court is inclined to enter a judgment of nondischargeability as to the claims asserted in the State Action, which represent a debt of approximately $150,000.

On May 9, 2018, Plaintiffs filed a Motion to Strike Answer and enter Default. On May 30, 2018, the Court at the hearing issued a tentative ruling which was adopted as the final ruling granting the Motion. Plaintiffs' counsel was directed to lodge an order. To date, Plaintiffs' counsel has not lodged an order. Thus, a ruling on the Motion for Default Judgment would be premature given that the Answer has yet to be formally stricken, and default entered.

Additionally, in the Court's January 10, 2018, tentative ruling, the Court required Plaintiffs to provide "the underlying state court documents (e.g. the state court complaint and judgment) which are essential to final ruling on the Complaint." Finally, the Court indicated that Counsel had not included points and authorities to indicate whether the motion was being made pursuant to collateral estoppel principles or alternatively, setting forth how the evidence provided satisfies the §523(a)(2) standard.

The Court is inclined to CONTINUE the hearing on the Motion for Default Judgment and Status Conference to July 11, 2018, at 2:00 p.m., for Plaintiffs to (1) lodge the order on the Motion to Strike; (2) file the requested State Court documents; (3) file points and authorities; and (4) provide notice of the continuance of the hearing on the Motion for Default Judgment and Status Conference, and of the Court's new deadlines.

The Plaintiffs' supplemental filings shall be due on or before June 20, 2018. Any opposition shall be due on or before June 27, 2018, and any reply shall be due on or before July 5, 2018.

TENTATIVE RULING

At the hearing on the Plaintiff's prior Motion for Default Judgment, the Court's tentative ruling provided, in pertinent part, as follows:

Plaintiff seeks default judgment be entered against Defendant Richard Earl Davis, Jr. (the "Debtor"). Service of the Motion AND of the Summons and Complaint were all effectuated on the Debtor at "2280 Market Street #220 in Riverside, CA". However, the Debtor's bankruptcy petition indicates his place of residence as "9325 Sunridge Drive in Riverside, CA 92508".

The Court's tentative ruling is to DENY the Motion without prejudice. Deadlines shall be reset accordingly.

An alias summons was issued and the Plaintiff filed a proof of service indicating that the Alias Summons was executed. The instant Motion for Default Judgment was then filed on December 7, 2017. Both Proofs of Service indicate that the Debtor was now served at "9324 Sunridge Drive in Riverside, CA" Again, in a situation where the Debtor/Defendant is nonresponsive, the Plaintiff's ongoing failure to serve the Debtor at the correct address creates a due process issue which prevents this case from moving forward.

Separately, although the Debtor has disclosed the debt owed to Plaintiff in the amount of $150,000 in his Schedule E/F pursuant to a State Court Judgment, the Court notes that the Plaintiff has failed to attach the underlying state court documents (e.g. the state court complaint and judgment) which are essential to final ruling on the Complaint. Additionally, the Plaintiff has not included points and authorities to indicate whether the motion is made under collateral estoppel principles.

The Court's tentative ruling is to DENY the Motion without prejudice. Movant to lodge an order denying the motion and requesting that the Court issue an alias summons for Movant to serve the summons and complaint at the Debtor's residence as indicated on the bankruptcy petition. Deadlines shall be reset accordingly.

Ongoing failure to correctly serve documents on the Debtor correctly may result in sanctions.

MOVANT: MTGLQ INVESTORS LP

EH__

Docket 200

Tentative Ruling:

TENTATIVE RULING:

7/24/2018

Service: Proper

Opposition: Yes

Debtor's confirmed plan provided for Debtor to surrender his interest in the real property at issue, and the plan does not treat Movant's claim. Therefore, as to Debtor, Movant has established cause for relief from the automatic stay.

As to Movant's request for relief from the co-debtor stay, the Court notes that the co-debtor at issue here, Debtor's former spouse, appears to have been served with the motion and failed to file opposition, which the Court can deem consent to the relief requested pursuant to Local Rule 9013-(1)(h). More importantly, 11 U.S.C. §1301(c) (2) provides that the Court must grant relief from the co-debtor stay if "the plan filed by the debtor proposes not to pay such claim." Therefore, relief from the co-debtor stay is appropriate.

#7.00 Notice of motion and motion for relief from automatic stay with supporting declarations ACTION IN NON-BANKRUPTCY FORUM RE: Unlawful Detainer

MOVANT: SUNG ELLISON AND KELLY ELLISON

EH__

Docket 42

Tentative Ruling:

7/24/2018

On June 4, 2017, Timothy Wayne Lambert and Lisa Renee Lambert ("Debtors" or "Defendants") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. Defendants had a previous bankruptcy case filed on October 1, 2004, and received a discharge on January 7, 2005.

On June 28, 2018, Kelly and Sung Ellison ("Creditors" or "Plaintiffs") filed a motion for relief from the automatic stay, requesting, in part, annulment of the automatic stay. The Plaintiffs own a mobile home park and had a lease agreement with the Defendants for one unit. The Plaintiffs assert that the unit currently controlled by and leased to the Defendants is falling into disrepair and its condition encourages the homeless to occupy it. Plaintiffs further allege that Defendants are subleasing the unit to tenants without paying rent to the Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs seek to annul the stay to evict all occupants and remove the mobile home unit from the park.

(d) On request of a party in interest and after notice and a hearing, the court shall grant relief from the stay provided, under subsection (a) of this section such as by terminating, annulling, modifying, or condition such stay –

(emphasis added); see also In re Schwartz, 954 F.2d 569, 573 (9th Cir. 1992) ("If a creditor obtains retroactive relief under section 362(d), there is no violation of the automatic stay, and whether violations of the stay are void or voidable is not at issue.").

The BAP, in In re Fjeldsted, noted the absence of a clear standard for annulment of the automatic stay. 293 B.R. 12, 21 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2003) ("There is less appellate clarity, however, in enunciating a test for retroactive stay relief. Inconsistent standards have thus developed, which run the gamut from such relief being justified only in 'extreme circumstances' to giving the court 'wide latitude' to 'balance the equities' on a case-by-case basis."). The BAP's most recent announcement of the standard for annulment of the automatic stay stated the following:

Determining whether cause exists to annul the stay is a case-by-case inquiry based on a balance of the equities. In conducting this inquiry the bankruptcy court, among other factors, should consider whether the creditor knew of the bankruptcy when violating the stay and whether the debtor's conduct was unreasonable, inequitable or prejudicial to the creditor.

In Fjeldsted, we approved additional factors for consideration in assessing the equities. The twelve nonexclusive factors are: (1) number of filings; (2) whether, in a repeat filing case, the circumstances indicate an intention to delay and hinder creditors; (3) a weighing of the extent of prejudice to creditors or third parties if the stay relief is not made retroactive, including whether harm exists to a bona fide purchaser; (4) the debtor's overall good faith (totality of circumstances test); (5) whether creditors knew of stay but nonetheless took action, thus compounding the problem; (6) whether the debtor has complied, and is otherwise complying, with the Bankruptcy Code and Rules; (7) the relative ease of restoring parties to the status quo ante; (8) the costs of annulment to debtors and creditors; (9) how quickly creditors moved for annulment, or how quickly debtor moved to set aside the sale or violative conduct; (10) whether, after learning of the bankruptcy, creditors proceeded to take steps in continued violation of the stay, or whether they moved expeditiously to gain relief; (11) whether annulment of the stay will cause irreparable injury to the debtor; and (12) whether stay relief will promote judicial economy or other efficiencies. The Panel in Fjeldsted cautioned that the twelve factors are merely a framework for analysis and not a scorecard, and that in any given case, one factor may so outweigh the others as to be dispositive.

In re Estavan Capital LLC, 2015 WL 7758494 at *5 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2015) (citations and quotations omitted).

While Fjeldsted cautioned that the enumerated factors are not a scorecard, many of the factors suggest that the stay should be annulled. Plaintiffs allege that they were not made aware of the bankruptcy proceedings until they were served with answers to the unlawful detainer complaints shortly before trial. While the Defendants only have one prior filing, there is great prejudice to creditors if the stay is not annulled. The units are in continuing disrepair, and the Plaintiffs allege that the units are being rented out to unauthorized occupants while they do not receive pay. Plaintiffs did not disregard the stay since they did not know it existed, and they moved expeditiously to gain relief. If the stay is annulled, Plaintiffs can most efficiently and expediently restore the units to the status quo ante, and prevent further costs to the parties.

The Curtis factors determine whether relief from stay to permit pending litigation to continue in another forum is appropriate. In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795 (Bankr. D. Utah (In re Kronemyer)*, 405 B.R. 915, 921 (9th Cir. BAP 2009)). The twelve Curtis factors are: (1) whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues; (2) the lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case; (3) whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary; (4) whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases; (5) whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation; (6) whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question; (7) whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties; (8) whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c); (9) whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f); (10) the interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties; (11) whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial; and (12) the impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt."

Here, this is a Chapter 7 proceeding, the estate's interest in the premises which are the subject of the state court proceeding is merely possessory in nature, the conclusion of the state court proceeding would completely resolve the issues while not interfering with the liquidation of the bankruptcy case or prejudicing the interests of creditors, and the state court has specialized knowledge and expedited procedures for addressing the issues at hand. Furthermore, the bankruptcy proceeding is only still active due to the apparent lack of quick cooperation of Debtors (as evidenced by fourteen continuations of the meeting of creditors) and a pending objection to discharge adversary proceeding. As a result, it is clear that the equities weigh in favor of granting the motion; several of the Curtis factors (specifically factors 1, 2, 4, 7, 11, and 12) weigh in favor of granting the motion, while none of the Curtis factors weigh in favor of denial.

Docket 328

Tentative Ruling:

7/24/18

BACKGROUND

On December 1, 2017, Auto Strap Transport, LLC ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. On March 6, 2018, a chief restructuring officer, Stephen Douglass (the "CRO"), was appointed on an interim basis, and, on April 11, 2018, appointed on a final basis. Now, relying on the estimates of the CRO, Debtor believes it will be at least six months before Debtor can become profitable, and, therefore, "Debtor has determined the best option for its creditors is to sell its assets." [Dkt. No. 328, pg. 8, lines 24-26]. On June 26, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to sell substantially all assets of Debtor free and clear of liens (the "Motion").

The basic terms of the Motion are the following: Debtor proposes to sell to Nations Fund I, LLC ("Nations"), Debtor's largest secured creditor, all of Debtor's assets which are not subject to purchase money security interests or leases with creditors other than Nations (the "Assets").¹ The Motion contemplates Nations purchasing the Assets for the amount of $3,200,000, of which $2,950,000 is a credit bid, and $250,000 in a cash payment to be predominantly used for payment of administrative claims. Debtor estimates that the Assets have a fair market value of $3,160,000.

DISCUSSION

11 U.S.C. § 363(b)(1) provides that Debtor may use, sell, or lease property of the estate outside of the ordinary course of business after notice and a hearing. The Court notes the following non-exclusive issues with the current version of the Motion:

A. Notice

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 6004(a) provides: "Notice of a proposed use, sale, or lease of property, than cash collateral, not in the ordinary course of business shall be given pursuant to Rule 2002(a)(2), (c)(1), (i), and (k) and, if applicable, in accordance with § 363(b)(2) of the Code." FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 2002(a)(2) requires the Motion to be served on all creditors, which does not appear to have been done here. Specifically, the Court notes that the petition in the instant case identifies 111 parties to receive notice, however, the Motion appears to have been served on substantially less than half that many entities.

B. Fair Market Value and Marketing

Local Rule 6004-(1)(c)(2)(A) provides that the Motion "must be supported by a declaration of the movant establishing the value of the property and that the terms and conditions of the proposed sale, including the price and all contingencies, are in the best interest of the estate." While the Motion does include a declaration of Debtor's principal establishing a fair market value of $3.16 million, the Motion does not include any breakdown of that valuation or the comparables upon which the valuation was based. Additionally, the old adage that "value is what someone is willing to pay" is pertinent here. Section III.G of the Motion suggests that the marketing effort was possibly inadequate, and tardy at best. Specifically, the future tense verbiage of the section indicates that Debtor did not engage in any marketing prior to filing the motion. Debtor also stated it would file a supplement seven days before the sale hearing, however, such supplement was only filed the morning before the hearing, depriving the Court of ample time to review the submitted evidence. Additionally, Debtor did not submit the "due diligence package" it allegedly used in marketing. Finally, the late supplement filed indicates in paragraph 14 that a potential buyer has not yet rendered a decision on whether to overbid. Ultimately, in light of the evidence presented to the Court, the Court is unable to conclude that the rushed marketing effort is inadequate in light of the unusual and complex nature of the sale under consideration.

C. Miscellaneous Issues

-The Motion states that "Debtor is reviewing the tax consequences to the bankruptcy estate as a result of the proposed sale. Debtor will update the Court at the hearing as to the tax consequences, if any." [Dkt. No. 328, pg. 12, lines 4-5]. The Court intends to require that the estimation of tax consequences be included in the amended motion.

-The Motion fails to provide a breakdown of administrative, priority, and unsecured claims and the possible distribution to each class. At this stage of the case, and given the case's trajectory, it seems Debtor should possess a reasonably accurate estimate of the administrative claims in this case which would allow priority and unsecured creditors to determine the amount of any potential distribution, if any. Currently, the Motion's treatment of the distribution of the sales proceeds is vague; the Motion also confusingly refers to Nation's retaining a security interest in the cash component of the purchase amount, for reasons that are very unclear.

BACKGROUND:

On October 28, 2013 ("Petition Date"), Porfirio and Maria Castro (collectively, "Debtors") filed for chapter 13 relief. On August 16, 2017, the case was converted to a case under chapter 7. Lynda Bui is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). On June 12, 2018, Trustee filed Objection to Claim #10-1 (the "Objection") of Midland Funding LLC ("Claimant").

Service was proper and no opposition has been filed.

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). *Lundell v. ANALYSIS:

Rebuttal of the Prima Facie Proof of Claim

In this case, the Trustee asserts that the Claim should be disallowed as time barred. Section 502(b)(1) provides that a claim is deemed allowed, unless such claim is unenforceable against the debtor and property of the debtor under applicable law. The statute of limitations applicable to common counts is four years if the action is founded upon a contract or other writing (e.g., "book account" (§ 3:398), "account stated" (§ 3:400), or money lent on a note), and the statute of limitations is generally four years from the date of the last item in the account. CCP § 337(1),(2); Armstrong Petroleum Corp. v. Tri-Valley Oil & Gas Co., 116 CA 4th 1375, 1396, FN. 9 (Cal. App. 2004).

Here, the Claimant's documentation indicates that the last transaction between the Debtor and original creditor took place on November 17, 2009, and that the Claimant charged off the account on August 11, 2009. Assuming the prima facie validity of the Claim, the last transaction date indicates that the statute of limitations had not lapsed as of the Petition Date. To controvert the Claim's allegation regarding the last transaction date, the Trustee "must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040. To meet this burden, the Trustee has provided a declaration of the Debtors by which they assert under penalty of perjury that no payments have been made for four years. The evidence is scant. However, absent opposition from the Claimant, the evidence controverts an essential allegation of the Claim regarding the last transaction date.

Thus, the burden to show the validity of Claim No. 10 must shift to Claimant. Claimant, however, though properly served, has failed to respond, which may be deemed as consent to the relief requested under LBR 9013-1(h). Thus, as the ultimate burden of persuasion remains on the Claimant, the Objection must be sustained.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to disallow Claim No. 10 as time barred.

Docket 88

Tentative Ruling:

07/25/2018

BACKGROUND:

On October 28, 2013 ("Petition Date"), Porfirio and Maria Castro (collectively, "Debtors") filed for chapter 13 relief. On August 16, 2017, the case was converted to a case under chapter 7. Lynda Bui is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). On June 12, 2018, Trustee filed Objection to Claim #1-1 (the "Objection") of American InfoSource LP as agent for Midland Funding LLC ("Claimant").

Service was proper and no opposition has been filed.

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). *Lundell v. However, absent opposition from the Claimant, the evidence controverts an essential allegation of the Claim regarding the last transaction date. As a separate issue, the Trustee asserts that the Claim fails to establish an unbroken chain of title. The Claim indicates that Wells Fargo was the original creditor and then that the claim was transferred from National Credit Adjusters, LLC ("National") to Claimant. However, there is no documentation establishing the transfer of the rights in the claim from Wells Fargo to National. The objection is well-taken. See In re Veal, 450 B.R. 897, 920 (9th Cir. Rebuttal of the Prima Facie Proof of Claim

In this case, the Trustee asserts that the Claim should be disallowed as time barred. Section 502(b)(1) provides that a claim is deemed allowed, unless such claim is unenforceable against the debtor and property of the debtor under applicable law. The statute of limitations applicable to common counts is four years if the action is founded upon a contract or other writing (e.g., "book account" (§ 3:398), "account stated" (§ 3:400), or money lent on a note), and the statute of limitations is generally four years from the date of the last item in the account. Debtor and original creditor is unavailable. The Trustee has provided a declaration of the Debtors by which they assert under penalty of perjury that no payments have been made for four years. The evidence is scant. However, absent opposition from the Claimant, and given that the Claim fails to indicate the last transaction date, the evidence controverts an essential allegation of the Claim regarding the last transaction date.

Thus, the burden to show the validity of Claim No. 6-2 must shift to Claimant. Claimant, however, though properly served, has failed to respond, which may be deemed as consent to the relief requested under LBR 9013-1(h). Thus, as the ultimate burden of persuasion remains on the Claimant, the Objection must be sustained.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to disallow Claim No. 6-2 as time barred.

Docket 101

Tentative Ruling:

07/25/2018

BACKGROUND:

On October 28, 2013 ("Petition Date"), Porfirio and Maria Castro (collectively, "Debtors") filed for chapter 13 relief. On August 16, 2017, the case was converted to a case under chapter 7. Lynda Bui is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). On June 14, 2018, Trustee filed Objection to Claim #8-2 (the "Objection") of Jefferson Capital Systems, LLC ("Claimant").

Service was proper and no opposition has been filed.

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). *Lundell v. However, absent opposition from the Claimant, and given that the Claim fails to indicate the last transaction date, the evidence controverts an essential allegation of the Claim regarding the last transaction date. As a separate issue, the Trustee asserts that the Claim fails to establish an unbroken chain of title. The Claim indicates that Wells Fargo was the original creditor and then that the claim was transferred from RJM Acquisitions, LLC ("RJM") to Claimant. However, there is no documentation establishing the transfer of the rights in the claim from Wells Fargo to RJM. The objection is well-taken. See In re Veal, 450 B.R. 897, 920 (9th Cir. BAP 2011).

Docket 34

Tentative Ruling:

07/25/2018

On 01/30/2018 ("Petition Date"), Audrey Beck ("Debtor") filed her petition for chapter 7 relief. On April 6, 2018, the case was dismissed due to the Debtor's failure to appear at the 341(a) meeting of creditors.

On April 17, 2018, the Debtor filed a motion to reopen her case indicating that she did not appear at the meeting of creditors because her attorney advised her not to appear.

On April 23, 2018, the Court issued an Order to Show Cause why Martin Rojas ("BPP") should not be sanctioned for improperly providing legal advice to the Debtor ("OSC"). The OSC was mailed but returned as undeliverable. An order reopening the case and vacating dismissal was entered on June 4, 2018.

On June 5, 2015, the Court issued an Order Continuing the OSC and resetting deadlines for a response by the BPP.

On June 29, 2018, the Office of United States Trustee ("UST") filed its Motion Of United States Trustee To Disgorge Fees And Impose Damages And Fines Against Bankruptcy Petition Preparer Martin Rojas ("Motion").

DISCUSSION

The BPP is an enjoined petition preparer previously adjudicated to be in contempt of court orders. Based on the BPP's pattern of egregious conduct as outlined in the Motion, the UST requests the BPP be ordered to pay statutory damages of $2,000, and fines directly to the UST in the sum of $19,000.

The UST has provided evidence that the BPP received $900 to prepare the Debtor's bankruptcy documents, $100 to recover a payment to a prior petition preparer named John Davy, and $400 for preparation of a living trust. The Beck Declaration details the legal advice provided by the BPP, that he held himself out to Debtor as an attorney, and the fact that he advised her not to attend the meeting of creditors. Separately, the Mehra Declaration details orders entered in other bankruptcy cases in which the BPP has been enjoined from providing bankruptcy petition preparer services and holding him in contempt for his failure to comply with prior orders.

On the merits, the UST has provided evidence to support a conclusion that Martin Rojas is a bankruptcy petition preparer pursuant to § 110. The evidence further supports a finding that the BPP failed to sign bankruptcy documents, failed to provide his identifying number, that he provided legal advice to the Debtor, and that he failed to disclose the fees he received.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the moving papers, the evidence submitted by the UST, and the failure of the BPP to file opposition which this Court deems as consent to the granting of the Motion pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court's tentative ruling is to GRANT the UST's Motion in its entirety, ordering the BPP to disgorge $1,000 to the Debtor, to pay statutory damages of $2,000 to the Debtor, and to pay fines directly to the UST in the sum of $19,000.

Docket 54

Tentative Ruling:

07/25/2018

BACKGROUND

On December 18, 2013, Nabeel Slaieh ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 7 relief. On March 24, 2014, W E Jon Albrecht ("Plaintiff") filed the instant complaint to determine dischargeability of debt pursuant to § 523(a)(6). On June 13, 2018, the Plaintiff filed his Motion for Summary Judgment ("Motion"). On July 3, 2018, the Debtor filed his opposition to the Motion ("Opposition"). On the same date, the Debtor filed a substitution of attorney by which the Debtor indicated his intent to represent himself in propria persona going forward.

As a threshold matter, the Court must address the manner in which the Opposition was filed. Prior to the filing of the Substitution of Attorney Form, the Debtor was represented by George Saba ("Saba"). However, per the State Bar of California website, Mr. Saba has not been eligible to practice law in California since December 2017. Pursuant to the Court's manual, Section 3.1(c) and Section 3.2(b), attorneys admitted to practice in the Central District of California, currently in good standing, are eligible to register as CM/ECF users with the rights to log in and file documents. Here, the Debtor, acting in pro per, is not eligible to file documents using CM/ECF and it was improper for Mr. Saba to use the CM/ECF system to improperly file a document for a party who he is no longer representing and who he is no longer able to represent given his ineligibility to practice law. Further, Section 3.2(d)(1) prohibits a registered user from knowingly permitting or causing to permit his or her login and password to be utilized by anyone. Here, Mr. Saba has violated the Court's rules regarding CM/ECF filing. Based on the improper filing of the Opposition, the Court is inclined to issue an OSC why Mr. Saba's CM/ECF rights should not be suspended or cancelled pursuant to Section 3.2(d)(3) of the Court Manual.

Based on the foregoing, the Court strikes the Opposition as improperly filed. A reply to the Opposition was filed on July 11, 2018 ("Reply"), as well as separately filed objections to the Declaration of Defendant in support of the Opposition (Docket No. 172).

DISCUSSION

Summary Judgment

A court may grant summary judgment if the movant shows that there is no genuine dispute as to any material fact and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. FRBP 7056 (incorporating FRCP 56). In determining whether to grant a motion for summary judgment, courts must view the record and all inferences drawn from it in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party. Trunk v. City of San Diego, 629 F.3d 1099, 1105 (9th Cir.2011).

Judicial Notice

In support of the Motion, Plaintiff requests that this Court take judicial notice of (1) The Certified Copy of Complaint for Malicious Prosecution, RJN, Ex. 1, (2) the Certified Copy of Summons filed January 25, 2011, RJN, Ex. 2, (3) the Certified Copy of Proof of Service of Summons, RJN, Ex. 3, and (4) the Copy of Judgment, RJN, Ex. 4. The Court takes judicial notice of these filings.

and malicious injury to another person. Barboza v. New Form, Inc. (In re Barboza), 545 F.3d 702, 706 (9th Cir.2008). The willful and malice requirements must be analyzed separately, Carillo v. Su (In re Su), 290 F.3d 1140, 1146–47 (2002), and the court must determine that both have been met, Ormsby v. First Am. Title Co. of Nev. (In re Ormsby), 591 F.3d 1199, 1206 (9th Cir. 2010).

"A 'willful' injury is a deliberate or intentional injury, not merely a deliberate or intentional act that leads to injury." Barboza, 545 F.3d at 706, quoting Kawaauhau v. Geiger, 523 U.S. 57, 61 (1998). To satisfy the willfulness requirement, it must be shown that the debtor either had "a subjective intent to harm or a subjective belief that harm is substantially certain." Su, 290 F.3d at 1144. When determining the debtor's intent under § 523(a)(6), there is a presumption that the debtor knows the natural consequences of his actions. Ormsby, 591 F.3d at 1206.

"A malicious injury involves '(1) a wrongful act, (2) done intentionally, (3) which necessarily causes injury, and (4) is done without just cause or excuse.'" Su, 290 F.3d at 1146–47, quoting Petralia v. Jercich (In re Jercich), 238 F.3d 1202, 1209 (9th Cir.2001). "Within the plain meaning of this definition, it is the wrongful act that must be committed intentionally rather than the injury itself." Jett v. Sicroff (In re Sicroff), 401 F.3d 1101, 1106 (9th Cir.2005), citing Murray v. Bammer (In re Bammer), 131 F.3d 788, 791 (9th Cir.1997)("This four-part definition does not require a showing of biblical malice, i.e., personal hatred, spite, or ill will. Nor does it require a showing of an intent to injure, but rather it requires only an intentional act which causes injury."). "Malice may be inferred based on the nature of the wrongful act." Ormsby, 591 F.3d at 1206, citing Transamerica Comm. Fin. Corp. v. Littleton (In re Littleton), 942 F.2d 551, 554 (9th Cir.1991)(determining that, in the case of conversion, malice may be inferred).

In the instant action, the Plaintiff obtained a judgment ("Judgment") in State Court as against the Defendant based on a complaint for malicious prosecution (the "State Action"). The Plaintiff now moves under a theory of collateral estoppel for summary judgment finding that the Judgment is nondischargeable under § 523(a)(6).

A bankruptcy court may grant summary judgment based on the issue preclusive effect of an existing state court judgment. See Harmon v. Kobrin (In re Harmon), 250 F.3d 1240, 1245 (9th Cir.2001). In doing so, it must apply the forum state's issue preclusion law. Id. See also 28 U.S.C. § 1738. Here, California preclusion law applies.

In California, issue preclusion bars relitigation of an issue when: 1) the issue sought to be precluded is identical to that decided in a prior proceeding; 2) the issue was actually litigated in the prior proceeding; 3) the issue was necessarily decided in the prior proceeding; and 4) the decision in the prior proceeding is final and on the merits. Lucido v. Superior Court, 51 Cal.3d 335, 341 (1990). Additionally, in California, issue preclusion may only be applied if it furthers underlying public policies. See id. at 343.

The party asserting issue preclusion bears the burden of establishing these requirements. Id. at 341. To do so, "[the] party must produce a record sufficient to reveal the controlling facts and pinpoint the exact issues litigated in the prior action. Any reasonable doubt as to what was decided by a prior judgment should be resolved against allowing [issue preclusive] effect." Kelly v. Okoye (In re Kelly), 182 B.R. 255, 258 (9th Cir.BAP1995), aff'd, 100 F.3d 110 (9th Cir.1996).

Here, the Plaintiff obtained a Judgment on a malicious prosecution action under California law. The Court now turns to whether 'malicious prosecution' satisfies the requirements for collateral estoppel under California law.

Application of law to cause of action for malicious prosecution

In California, the common law tort of malicious prosecution provides a remedy for individuals subjected to maliciously instituted criminal and civil proceedings. In re Arden, 2015 WL 4068962, at *9 (9th Cir. BAP 2015)(citing Sheldon Appel Co. v. Albert Olier, 47 Cal.3d 863, 871-72 (1989)). To establish a cause of action for malicious prosecution of a civil proceeding, the plaintiff must show "that the prior action (1) was commenced [or continued] by or at the direction of the defendant and was pursued to a legal termination in his [or her], plaintiff's, favor; (2) was brought without probable cause; and (3) was initiated [or continued] with malice." Id., quoting Bertero v. Nat'l Gen. Corp., 13 Cal.3d 43, 50 (1974)(internal quotation marks omitted).

In Arden, the BAP specifically considered whether the tort of malicious prosecution satisfies both the willful and malicious prongs of § 523(a)(6):

"The 'malice' element of the malicious prosecution tort relates to the subjective intent or purpose with which the defendant acted in initiating the prior action." Estate of C. Delores Tucker v. Interscope Records, Inc., 515 F.3d 1019, 1030 (9th Cir.2008) ("Tucker"), quoting Sheldon Appel Co., 47 Cal.3d at 874 (internal quotation marks omitted). However, the malice required in malicious prosecution "is not limited to actual hostility or ill will toward [the] plaintiff but exists when the proceedings are instituted primarily for an improper purpose." Albertson v. Raboff, 46 Cal.2d 375, 383 (Cal.1956). See also Tucker, 515 F.3d at 1030, quoting Sierra Club Found. v. Graham, 72 Cal.App. 4th 1135, 1147 (1999)("Sierra Club ").

The California Supreme Court has explained:

[T]he principal situations in which the civil proceedings are initiated for an improper purpose are those in which (1) the person instituting them does not believe that his claim may be held valid; (2) the proceedings are begun primarily because of hostility or ill will; (3) the proceedings are initiated solely for the purpose of depriving the person against whom they are instituted of a beneficial use of his property; [or] (4) the proceedings are initiated for the purpose of forcing a settlement which has no relation to the merits of the claim.

Albertson, 46 Cal.2d at 383, quoting Rest., Torts § 676. Accordingly, in a malicious prosecution action, the proof may or may not establish a willful intent to injure on the part of the defendant.

As underscored in Arden, willfulness is not a separate and distinct element of the tort of malicious prosecution, though willfulness may be inferred from the debtor's intent in commencing or continuing litigation. Moreover, " '[m]erely because a tort is classified as intentional does not mean that any injury caused by the tortfeasor is willful.' " Ditto v. McCurdy, 510 F.3d 1070, 1078 (9th Cir.2007), quoting Miller v. J.D. Abrams Inc. (In re Miller), 156 F.3d 598, 604 (5th Cir.1998). Here, the Judgment obtained against Defendant/Debtor was a default judgment and although the BAP found that 'malicious prosecution' likely satisfies the malice requirement under § 523(a)(6), it also specifically found that the 'willfulness' element was not necessarily decided by the state court because 'willfulness' is not required to enter judgment on a malicious prosecution cause of action. In Arden, the jury instructions indicated that the specific question of intent to injure was not posed to the jury. As such, the willfulness requirement was not necessarily decided or actually litigated by the state court. Similarly, the Judgment obtained by Plaintiff Albrecht did not require the State Court to consider, let alone determine whether Defendant Slaieh intended injury to Plaintiff. The Plaintiff's Motion assumes the issue of intent was decided by the State Court. However, absent authority to distinguish the Arden case, whose reasoning this Court adopts as its own, the Motion does not satisfy the requirements for collateral estoppel because the Judgment is insufficient to establish the elements required under § 523(a)(6). It is possible that the issue of willfulness is subsumed by the state court's determination that punitive damages were appropriate. However, such a theory must be addressed with reference to the Ninth Circuit BAP's decision in In re Plyam that a California state court punitive damage award, standing alone, does not preclude relitigation of § 523(a)(6)'s "willful" intent requirement. In re Sangha, 678 F. App'x 561, 562 (9th Cir. 2017); Plyam v. Precision Development, LLC (In re Plyam), 530 B.R. 456, 463–65 (9th Cir. BAP 2015) (holding that "under California law, the general definition of malice in fact encompasses less reprehensible states of mind" than § 523(a)(6)'s "willful" intent requirement).

Finally, although the Court has stricken the Opposition as improperly filed, the Court shall also address the one cognizable legal issue raised in the Opposition – namely, that the State Action Complaint was not personally served on him. As to this issue, the Court agrees with the Plaintiff that the Defendant's declaration fails to address whether and when he learned of the State Action. The declaration of Defendant is conspicuously silent on these facts and as such determined to be not credible on the issue of lack of service.

BACKGROUND

On April 12, 2016, Jose Hernandez ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On July 7, 2016, the Chapter 7 Trustee ("Plaintiff") filed a complaint against Carolina Navarro ("Defendant") seeking the avoidance and recovery of a fraudulent transfer. After default was entered against Defendant, on October 14, 2016, the parties stipulated to set aside default, and, that same day, Defendant filed her answer. On March 1, 2018, Plaintiff filed a motion for summary judgment. On April 4, 2018, Defendant filed her opposition.

Plaintiff alleges that on July 21, 2014, Debtor transferred certain real property located at 3510 Duffy St., San Bernardino, CA 92407 to Defendant for no consideration and that Debtor was insolvent at the time of the transfer or became insolvent as a result of the transfer. Defendant received a Chapter 7 discharge on January 26, 2018.

DISCUSSION

I. Violation of Discharge Injunction

As a preliminary matter, Defendant argues that because she obtained her own discharge in January, the continuation of this proceeding violates her discharge injunction. Specifically, Defendant argues that her discharge extinguishes her personal liability and that Trustee's complaint seeks avoidance of the transfer and recovery of the property or its value. Defendant's opposition states:

Notwithstanding his heightened knowledge of the provisions of the Bankruptcy Code and bankruptcy jurisprudence, the Trustee has pursued the same claims and remedies against Defendant after her discharge was granted, relieving her of any personal liability on account of the Trustee's alleged claims and barring the Trustee from obtaining relief in this case. For example, the Trustee seeks judgment on his Fifth Claim, which as pled in the Complaint, alleges that "Plaintiff is entitled to recovery the Subject Property or its value from the Defendant Pursuant to § 550(a)."

[Dkt. No. 46, pg. 12-13].

Defendant's argument is misleading and lacks merit. Regardless of the relief requested in the complaint, which was filed before Defendant obtained a discharge, Plaintiff's motion for summary judgment has dropped the reference to "or its value" and only seeks recovery of the subject property. Nothing in the motion for summary judgment seeks to enforce a personal liability of the Defendant. Therefore, the Court rejects Defendant's argument.

II. Motion for Summary Judgment

Summary judgment should be granted if the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law. See FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 56(c) (incorporated by FED. R.

Chapter 7

The moving party has the burden of establishing the absence of a genuine issue of material fact. See Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 323 (1986). If the moving party shows the absence of a genuine issue of material fact, the nonmoving party must go beyond the pleadings and identify facts that show a genuine issue for trial. See id. at 324; see also FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 56(e). The court must view the evidence in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party. See Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 255 (1986). All reasonable doubt as to the existence of a genuine issue of fact should be resolved against the moving party. See id.

If the moving party meets its initial burden, the non-moving party must set forth, by affidavit or as otherwise provided in Rule 56, specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial. See id. The non-moving party, however, "must do more than simply show that there is some metaphysical doubt as to the material fact...." Matsushita Electrical Industry Co. v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574, 586-587 (1986).

A fact is material if it "might affect the outcome of the suit under the governing law." Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248 (1986). A dispute about a material fact is genuine "if the evidence is such that a reasonable jury could return a verdict for the nonmoving party." Id.

Plaintiff requests summary judgment on the second claim for relief (avoidance of constructively fraudulent transfer) and the fifth claim for relief (recovery of avoided transfer). 11 U.S.C. § 548(a)(1)(B) states, in pertinent part:

(a)(1) The trustee may avoid any transfer (including any transfer to or for the benefit of an insider under an employment contract) of an interest of the debtor in property, or any obligation (including any obligation to or for the benefit of an insider under an employment contract) incurred by the debtor, that was made or incurred on or within 2 years before the date of the filing of the petition, if the debtor voluntarily or involuntarily --

(B)(i) received less than a reasonably equivalent value in exchange for such transfer or obligation; and

(ii)(I) was insolvent on the date that such transfer was made or such obligation was incurred, or became insolvent as a result of such transfer or obligation

Defendant does not dispute that there was a transfer of an interest of property within 2 years before the petition date. Defendant does, however, dispute the satisfaction of the other two elements, arguing that Defendant received reasonably equivalent value and was not rendered insolvent by the subject transfer. See generally In re Fruehauf Trailer Corp., 444 F.3d 203, 210 (3rd Cir. 2006); In re Southern Textile Knitters, 65 Fed. Appx. 426, 436 (4th Cir. 2003) (outlining elements of § 548(a)(1)(B) action).

Regarding the requirement that reasonably equivalent value have been provided, Plaintiff asserts that the grant deed reflects that the transfer was a "bonafide gift and the grantor received nothing in return." In her opposition, Defendant argues that the language of the grant deed is inaccurate, and that she offered value in a variety of ways. Specifically, Defendant contends that she was a co-signer for the refinancing and "also provided consideration by contributing her wages to pay for household expenses and by providing domestic labor including cooking, cleaning, child-rearing, and running the parties' household." [Dkt. No. 46, pg. 17, lines 7-9]. With regard to the language on the grant deed, Defendant states that:

The Grant Deed was not prepared by Debtor or Defendant. Debtor and Defendant correctly advised the loan officer who handled the refinancing that Defendant was not paying cash to Debtor for her one-half interest. For this reason, Debtor and Defendant believe the loan officer or escrow agent who prepared the Grant Deed noted on the document that the Transfer was a gift.

[Dkt. No. 46, pg. 5, lines 1-5].

In the reply, Plaintiff contends that "[a]fter first stating that it was a gift and nothing was received, the Debtor and Defendant should be estopped from now claiming it was not a gift and reasonably equivalent value was provided for the Subject Transfer." [Dkt. No. 51, pg. 4, lines 13-15].

The Court concludes that the parol evidence rule applies here to preclude the consideration of evidence which contradicts the plain and unambiguous language of the deed. See generally In re Khalil, 2014 WL 1725811 at *6-11 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2014) (collecting cases providing comprehensive analysis of the parol evidence rule in the context of grant deeds deed). As was noted in Khalil:

information or terms in the recorded document or from the circumstances of the conveyance that would lead a bona fide purchaser to inquire as to the intent and meaning of the instrument, then the bona fide purchaser is entitled to rely on the written record and is not charged with or bound by unstated meanings or by secret or collateral agreements that add to or alter the written record.

Id. at *10. While the above quotation is in the context of ownership interests in real property, rather than the nature of consideration, or lack thereof, in connection with a grant deed, the same underlying principle is applicable: "third parties, including the trustee and the estate's creditors, must be able to rely on the terms of recorded deed." Id. at *11. See also id. at *10 ("As a general rule, when any ambiguity is not evident from the face of the instrument (i.e., a "latent" ambiguity), the deed must be construed solely from an analysis of the plain meaning of the document itself, and extrinsic evidence is not admissible."); Laux v. Freed, 53 Cal. 2d. 512, 523 (Cal. 1960) ("[I]f the language of a deed is plain, certain and unambiguous, neither parol evidence nor surrounding facts and circumstances will be considered to add to, detract from, or vary its terms.").

Regarding the insolvency requirement, Plaintiff first argues that given the absence of reasonably equivalent value, Debtor's insolvency as a result of the transfer should be assumed; Plaintiff cites United States v. Mazzeo, 245 B.R. 435, 441 (E.D.N.Y. 1999). The Court declines to make such a presumption. The case cited by Plaintiff, and the related case law, deals with fraudulent transfer provisions under New York state law. See, e.g., Kim v. Ji Sung Yoo, 2017 WL 4382078 (S.D.N.Y. 2017) (noting presumption and collecting cases). No such burden shifting framework, however, exists under the Bankruptcy Code. See 5 COLLIER'S ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 548.11[2] (16th ed. 2017) ("Under state law and the UFTA (and presumably the UVTA), a well-recognized exception permits the court to infer a proscribed financial state once the plaintiff has shown a lack of fair consideration or a lack of reasonably equivalent value. This shift should not apply to cases brought under section 548.") (footnotes omitted); see also In re Galbreath, 286 B.R. 185, 197 (Bankr. S.D. Ga. 2002) ("The burden for proving constructive fraud falls on the trustee who must show by a preponderance of the evidence that all requirements set out in § 548(a)(1)(B) have been met.")

Plaintiff next argues that Debtor's insolvency can be established through a review of the schedules. Essentially, Plaintiff argues that the schedules indicate that Debtor was insolvent as of the petition date, and that the Court can work backwards to conclude that Debtor was insolvent on the date of the transfer. As one bankruptcy court has stated:

Since insolvency at a given point in time is often difficult to demonstrate by direct proof, courts permit the trustee to show that the debtor was insolvent at one point in time and then prove that the same condition existed at the time of the subject transfer. This method of proof has been labeled "retrojection," but it applies equally to situations in which the trustee starts at a point in time prior to the transfer. When the trustee chooses to use this method of proof it is essential that the trustee be able to show the absence of any substantial or radical changes in the assets or liabilities of the bankruptcy between the retrojection dates.

In re R. Purbeck & Assocs., Ltd., 27 B.R. 953, 955 (Bankr. D. Conn. 1983) (footnotes and quotation omitted). Plaintiff argues that the schedules reflect that Debtor had no meaningful unexempt assets as of the petition date while much of Debtor's unsecured debt was identified as having been incurred prior to the date of the transfer. Furthermore, Debtor's statement of financial affairs does not disclose any significant transfers of property between the date of the subject transfer and the petition date.

In Defendant's opposition, she appears to contend that Debtor's outstanding debt on the date of the subject transfer was $210,282 and that Debtor's assets were valued at approximately $224,000. The Court notes that these assertions do not demonstrate solvency – they demonstrate insolvency as that term is defined in the Code. 11 U.S.C. § 101(32)(A)(ii) exempts from the solvency requirement property which may be exempt under § 522. The assets listed in Debtor's schedules, and in Defendant's opposition, all appear to be assets capable of being exempted under § 522, thereby rendering Defendant statutorily insolvent. Even ignoring that fact, however, Defendant's opposition indicates that Debtor had $53,186 in equity in the property; transferring a 50% interest in the property would have rendered Debtor insolvent even before removing property which can be exempted. As a result, the Court concludes that Plaintiff has demonstrated there is no genuine dispute regarding Debtor's insolvency on the date of the subject transfer.

III. Recovery

Plaintiff also seeks recovery of the subject property pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 550. 11 U.S.C. § 550(a)(1) states:

- (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, to the extent that a transfer is avoided under section 544, 545, 547, 548, 549, 553(b), or 724(a) of this title, the trustee may recover, for the benefit of the estate, the property transferred, or, if the court so orders, the value of such property, from –

- (1) the initial transferee of such transfer or the entity for whose benefit such transfer was made

Defendant opposes the requested recovery, although the legal basis for the opposition is less than clear. Defendant argues that "annulment of the Transfer would have the effect of returning the Property to a single ownership since Debtor was the sole owner. Therefore, recovery of the Transfer is unnecessary and provides no benefit to the estate." [Dkt. No. 46, pg. 18, lines 15-17]. The Court's interpretation of the Plaintiff's request is that Plaintiff is requesting an order indicating that the Property has retained to single ownership (the bankruptcy estate). Therefore, it does not appear there is really any legal dispute here, semantical differences aside.

IV. Withdrawal of Admissions

In light of the foregoing, the Court is inclined to deny Defendant's motion to withdraw admissions as moot. The Court need not rely on admissions by default in resolving the instant motion for summary judgment.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion for summary judgment, avoiding the transfer as constructively fraudulent and permitting Trustee's recovery of such transfer. Defendant's motion to withdraw admissions is DENIED as moot.

BACKGROUND

On November 18, 2016, Javier & Carmen Lopez (collectively "Debtors"; individually, "Javier" and "Carmen") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On March 6, 2017, Amarillo College of Hairdressing ("Plaintiff") filed a non-dischargeability complaint against Javier pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A), (a)(4), and (a)(6). On July 12, 2017, the clerk entered default against Javier.

On October 17, 2017, Plaintiff filed a motion for leave to file an amended complaint to include Carmen as a defendant. On November 7, 2017, Debtors filed their opposition. On November 13, 2017, the Court granted the motion, and, on December 11, 2017, Plaintiff amended its complaint to include Carmen as a defendant. On February 26, 2018, the clerk entered default against Carmen.

On April 5, 2018, Plaintiff filed a motion for default judgment. According to Plaintiff,

Chapter 13

Javier, while employed as the Dean of Education at Plaintiff's Palm Desert campus, received, through direct deposit, twice his agreed upon salary for a period of one year. Plaintiff asserts that the direct deposit authorization form contained a provision which granted Plaintiff the right to correct any erroneous overpayments of funds. After alerting Javier of the erroneous double payment, Javier refused to voluntarily reimburse Plaintiff for the overpayment. Plaintiff also asserts that Javier was aware of the erroneous double payment during the time when the double payments were made.

On January 2, 2014, Plaintiff filed a state court complaint against Javier for breach of contract, fraud, and conversion. On September 15, 2015, the state court granted Plaintiff's motion for summary judgment as to all causes of action, and entered judgment in the amount of $49,603.08.

DISCUSSION

A. Entry of Default

FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 55 states that "[w]hen a party against whom a judgment for affirmative relief is sought has failed to plead or otherwise defend as provided by these rules and that fact is made to appear by affidavit or otherwise, the clerk shall enter the party's default." Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(a). Local Rule 7055-1 provides further requirements relating to a motion for entry of default judgment, and those requirements have been substantially satisfied here.

B. Motion for Default Judgment

Here, Plaintiff served Debtors at the address listed on their bankruptcy schedules and served Debtor's attorney via ECF. Therefore, service is proper.

2. Merits of Plaintiff's claim

Upon default, the factual allegations of the complaint, except those relating to the amount of damages, will be taken as true. TeleVideo Systems, Inc. v. Heidenthal, 826 F.2d 915, 917 (9th Cir. 1987); see also Almog v. Golden Summit Investors Group, Ltd., 2012 WL 12867972 at *4 (C.D. Cal. 2012) ("When reviewing a motion for default judgment, the Court must accept the well-pleaded allegations of the complaint relating to liability as true.").

Here, the complaint includes three causes of action, all related to non-dischargeability: (1) 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A); (2) 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(4); and (3) 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(6). The above provisions read, in pertinent part:

- (a) A discharge under section 727, 1141, 1228(a), 1228(b), or 1328(b) of this title does not discharge an individual debtor from any debt –

- (2) for money, property, services, or an extension, renewal, or refinancing of creditor, to the extent obtained by –
 - (A) false pretenses, a false representation, or actual fraud, other than a statement respecting the debtor's or an insider's financial condition;
- (4) for fraud or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity, embezzlement, or larceny;
- (6) for willful and malicious injury by the debtor to another entity or to the property of another entity;

The Court notes that it is, at best, unclear whether any of the three provisions are applicable to the facts here. For example, in In re Sterling, the bankruptcy court analyzed whether an employee's retention of overtime pay at double the contractual rate satisfied the either 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A) or 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(6). 479 B.R. 444 (Bankr. E.D. Mich. 2012). Respecting 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(2)(A), the court first noted that the provision can apply to "misleading omissions" or "a scheme to deprive or cheat another of property or a legal right." Id. at 449. The bankruptcy court noted, however, that omission or silence only establishes the requisite intent if the debtor had an affirmative duty to disclose. Id. (applying Michigan law and the silent fraud doctrine). After noting that the plaintiff had not identified any contractual duty to disclose, the bankruptcy court noted that: "[a] duty to disclose may also arise in equity," but ultimately concluded the following:

The present case does not present any circumstances that would give rise to such an equitable duty. To the contrary, Plaintiff was in a position of control and had at least equal if not superior knowledge, gained from repeated, but unavailing attempts to correct the problem. Plaintiff, as Defendant's employer, had access to the payroll information and, with the exercise of reasonable diligence, could have discovered the continuing overpayments at any time.

Id. at 450 (also questioning whether plaintiff's reliance on defendant's silence was justifiable because the information was in the control of plaintiff).

Chapter 13

Here, neither the complaint nor the motion for default judgment include any allegation that Javier affirmatively misled Plaintiff, nor do they contain any basis upon which the Court could conclude that Javier had a contractual or an equitable duty to disclose the overpayments to Plaintiff. Therefore, the Court requires further briefing if Plaintiff wishes to establish that the debt is non-dischargeable pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A).

11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(4) contains three different exceptions to dischargeability: (1) fraud or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity; (2) larceny; and (3) embezzlement. Regarding fraud or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity, the elements are: (1) the existence of an express trust; (2) the debt was caused by fraud or defalcation; and (3) the debtor acted as a fiduciary to the creditor at the time the debt was created. See, e.g., In re Niles, 106 F.3d 1456, 1459 (9th Cir. 1997). Clearly Plaintiff has not satisfied the standard for fraud or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity because, among other things, Javier was not acting in a fiduciary capacity as to his salary and his salary was certainly not the corpus express trust. See, e.g., Matter of Cantrell, 88 F.3d 344, 347 (5th Cir. 1996) ("The court also correctly opined that, in the absence of an express trust and a recognizable corpus, 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(4) is inapplicable.").

Plaintiff also does not appear to have satisfied the standard for larceny or embezzlement. "Larceny is the fraudulent and wrongful taking and carrying away of the property of another with intent to convert the property to the taker's use without the consent of the owner." 4 COLLIER'S ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 523.10[2] (16th ed. 2009). Here, it appears doubtful that Javier could be considered to have "taken" the excess salary payments which Plaintiff caused to be directly deposited in Javier's bank account. Embezzlement, on the other hand, contains three elements: "(1) property rightfully in the possession of a nonowner; (2) nonowner's appropriation of the property to a use other than which it was entrusted; and (3) circumstances indicating fraud." In re Littleton, 942 F.2d 551, 555 (9th Cir. 1991). While there may be a colorable argument that embezzlement has occurred in this case, such an argument has not been detailed in the complaint or the motion for default judgment. Therefore, the Court requires further briefing if Plaintiff wishes to establish that the debt is non-dischargeable pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(4).

Regarding § 523(a)(6) the elements are: "(1) willful conduct, (2) malice, and (3) causation." See, e.g., In re Apte, 180 B.R. 223, 230 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995). Here, Plaintiff's complaint simply recites the legal standard, notes that the state court awarded a judgment based, in part, on fraud, and Plaintiff's motion for default judgment contains the material state court pleadings as an attachment. The Court deems the allegations in the complaint to be insufficient to establish non-dischargeability under § 523(a)(6). See In re Sterling, 479 B.R. 444, 452-455 (Bankr. E.D. Mich. 2012) (detailing § 523(a)(6) analysis in context of retention of salary overpayment). Therefore, the Court requires further briefing if Plaintiff wishes to establish that the debt is non-dischargeable pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(6).

Finally, the Court notes that it appears Plaintiff has assumed that the use of issue preclusion is appropriate in this case, but has not briefed the issue.

Issue preclusion applies in nondischargeability proceedings to bar the relitigation of factual issues that were determined in a prior state court action. See, e.g., Grogan v. Garner, 498 U.S. 279, 284-85, n.11 (1991). To determine the issue-preclusive effect of a California state court's judgment, California preclusion law must be applied. See 28 U.S.C. § 1738; Marrese v. Am. Acad. of Orthopaedic Surgeons, 470 U.S. 373, 380 (1985); Gayden v. Nourbakhsh (In re Nourbakhsh), 67 F.3d 798, 800 (9th Cir. 1995). Under California law, the party asserting issue preclusion has the burden of establishing the following "threshold" requirements:

- (1) the issue sought to be precluded must be identical to that decided in a former proceeding;
- (2) the issue must have been actually litigated in the former proceeding;
- (3) it must have been necessarily decided in the former proceeding;
- (4) the decision in the former proceeding must be final and on the merits; and,
- (5) the party against whom preclusion is sought must be the same as, or in privity with, the party to the former proceeding.

Chapter 13

Additionally, the application of issue preclusion requires a "mandatory 'additional' inquiry into whether imposition of issue preclusion would be fair and consistent with sound public policy." In re Khaligh, 338 B.R. 817, 824–25 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 2006). As stated by the California Supreme Court

We have repeatedly looked to the public policies underlying the doctrine before concluding that collateral estoppel should be applied in a particular setting.... Accordingly, the public policies underlying collateral estoppel—preservation of the integrity of the judicial system, promotion of judicial economy, and protection of litigants from harassment by vexatious litigation—strongly influence whether its application in a particular circumstance would be fair to the parties and constitutes sound judicial policy.

Lucido v. Super. Ct., 51 Cal. 3d 335, 342–43 (Cal. 1990) (internal citations omitted). The Court requires further briefing on the appropriateness of issue preclusion in this case, including legal arguments explaining how the applicable state court causes of action (presumably fraud by concealment) translate to the non-dischargeability standards.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to CONTINUE the matter for further briefing.

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

07/25/2018

Moving Defendant leads the analysis astray by conflating issues of standing to enforce the Consent Judgment with the question of standing of a Debtor-in-possession to prosecute a fraudulent conveyance action under § 548. However, that misdirection is rendered irrelevant once the focus shifts to the § 548 elements outlined in Plaintiff's opposition, and in particular on the glaring, inescapable conclusion that Plaintiff has failed to allege facts to support that a transfer occurred -- an essential element of a Section 548 cause of action.

Here the facts at issue pertain to the Defendants' alleged failure to act (at some point, although the Court is unclear of the basis for Plaintiff's allegation of a specific date for the transfer) to release or extinguish a junior lien against Debtor's property. But no specific affirmative act, or transfer of possession or ownership is alleged to have occurred. See Bernard v. Sheaffer (In re Bernard), 96 F.3d 1279, 1282 (9th Cir. 1996) ("[A] transfer is a disposition of an interest in property. The definition is as broad as possible. ... Under this definition, any transfer of an interest in property is a transfer, including a transfer of possession, custody, or control even if there is no transfer of title, because possession, custody, and control are interests in property.") (citations omitted); Greenspan v. Orick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP (In re Brobeck, Phleger & Harrison LLP), 408 B.R. 318, 338 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2009) ("Within the confines of these general principles, the general rule is that "[t]he hallmark of a 'transfer' is a change in the rights of the transferor with respect to the property after the transaction."); In re Feiler, 218 B.R. 957, 960 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 1998), aff'd, 230 B.R.

164 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1999), aff'd, 218 F.3d 948 (9th Cir. 2000) ("Within the context of a fraudulent transfer, the definition of transfer is sufficiently broad to include a transfer that results in a modification of form or value of property transferred or a deposit into or withdrawal from a bank account.") (citations omitted); Kapila v. U.S. (In re Taylor), 386 B.R. 361, 369 (Bankr.S.D.Fla.2008) (debtor's waiver of an NOL carryback constitutes a transfer).

Here, Plaintiff simply hasn't alleged any change of rights in property after any particular transaction, nor has Plaintiff otherwise presented any authority for its proposition that the Defendants' failure to release the lien somehow constitutes a transfer. Basically, it appears here that what the estate MAY have is a right to enforce the Consent Judgment so as to compel extinguishment of the junior lien. But that question is not before the Court, and the Court takes no position on whether it is a viable cause of action or if the Debtor even has standing to prosecute it. For that reason, the Court is inclined to find that the Plaintiff has failed to state an actionable claim under the bankruptcy code, and therefore the Amended Complaint should be dismissed.

Tentative Ruling:

I. BACKGROUND

The Debtor is a California Corporation that operates a commercial plumbing business. The Debtor's President and sole owner is Joe Ruvalcaba ("Ruvalcaba"). The Debtor owns no real property. Its major assets are equipment and vehicles. The precipitating factors leading to the bankruptcy filing were high monthly payments with lenders (due to high interest rates), expenses related to breach of contract suits, and related holds placed on the Debtor's bank accounts.

II. DISCUSSION

The debtor carries the burden of proving that a Chapter 11 plan complies with the statutory requirements for confirmation under §§ 1129(a) & (b). In re Arnold and Baker Farms, 177 B.R. 648 (9th Cir. BAP (Ariz.) 1994). The debtor must show that the plan is confirmable by a preponderance of the evidence. See id. at 654; see also In re Monarch Beach Venture, Ltd., 166 B.R. 428 (C.D.Cal.1993).

1. Ballot Results:

The Debtors timely transmitted the Plan and Disclosure Statement to all known Persons who hold Claims and Interests that are impaired under the Plan and who are therefore entitled to vote on the Plan. The Debtors received (5) five timely ballots. The votes were tallied as follows:

- a. Class 1 Allowed Claims secured by Personal Residence: N/A
- b. Class 2 Impaired Secured Claims: Classes 2B – 2G
 - i. 2 ballots voted in favor, 100% of claims
- c. Class 3 Priority Claims:
 - i. 1 ballot in favor, 100% of claims

 - i. 2 ballots voted in favor, 100% of claims

A court can confirm a plan without resort to cram down if all impaired classes accept the plan. Here, all impaired classes have accepted the plan. Thus, cramdown is not required.

2. Confirmation Requirements under 11 U.S.C. §1129(a)

The Plan addresses the requirements of Bankruptcy Code 1129(a) as follows:

1. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(1): The Plan complies with all of the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, including sections 1122 and 1123.
2. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(2): The Debtor has complied with all of the Bankruptcy Code's applicable provisions.
3. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3): Good faith in proposing a plan of reorganization is assessed by the bankruptcy judge and viewed under the totality of the circumstances. In re Jorgensen, 66 B.R. 104, 108-109 (9th Cir. BAP 1986). Good faith requires that a plan will achieve a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code. Jorgensen, 66 B.R. at 109. It also requires a fundamental fairness in dealing with one's creditors. Id. The bankruptcy judge is in the best position to assess the good faith of the parties. Id. Here, having received no objections to confirmation, the Court finds that the First Amended Plan has been proposed in good faith pursuant to FRBP 3020(b)(2).
4. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(4): Debtor asserts that his Counsel will file a Fee Application on or before the Effective Date of the Plan. This satisfies the Bankruptcy Code's requirement that payments for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with a case, or in connection with a plan and incident to a case, must be approved by, or subject to the approval of, the Court as reasonable.
5. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(5): Article III of the Plan regarding Means of Implementation requires Exhibits to the Disclosure Statement to disclose individuals that will serve as director/officers after compensation as well as insider compensation, etc. This provision does not appear to be addressed in the Plan and/or Disclosure Statement.

6. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(6): does not apply to the instant case.

7. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(7): Each Person who holds a Claim or Interest in a Class that is impaired under the Plan either: (a) has accepted the Plan; or (b) will receive or retain under the Plan property of a value, as of the Effective Date, that is not less than that Person would receive or retain if the Debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor has demonstrated that all impaired interest holders have both accepted the plan, and will likely receive or retain under the Plan value that is not less than they would receive under a chapter 7 liquidation. Notably, unsecured creditors are expected to receive a 100% payout.

8. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(8): Section 1129(a)(8) requires unanimity of all classes to consensually confirm a plan. That is, each impaired class must have affirmatively accepted the plan. The Ballot Tally above indicates that this requirement is satisfied because all impaired classes have affirmatively accepted the plan.

9. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(9): Section 1129(a)(9)(A) requires that holders of administrative claims and gap claims be paid "cash equal to the allowed amount of such claim" on the "effective date of the plan," unless the holder of a particular claim agrees to different treatment. Here, the Plan provides for the payment of outstanding administrative fees upon approval of fees and on the effective date.

10. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(10): This provision requires at least one class of claims that is impaired accept the plan. Classes 2, 3 and 4 have voted to accept the plan. Thus, this requirement is satisfied.

11. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(11): Plan confirmation is not likely to be followed by either the liquidation or the further financial reorganization of the Reorganized Debtors or any successor to the Reorganized Debtors. The Issa Declaration at ¶¶ 28-32 provides sufficient evidence that the Debtor will have sufficient funds on the Effective Date to pay Administrative Claims, US Trustee Fees, Allowed Gap Claims, Allowed Priority Tax Claims, and Class 4 Non-Tax Claims. As the business is no longer operating, payment of Class 3 claims will depend on objections to claims, and any potential recovery from prosecution of causes of action. As such, the Court finds this

12. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(12): The treatment of Administrative Claims under the Plan satisfies the requirement of Bankruptcy Code section 1129(a)(12).

13. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(13): does not apply to the instant case.

14. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(14): does not apply to the instant case.

15. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(15): does not apply to the instant case.

16. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(16): The Plan provides for transfers in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law in the provision entitled "Article III, Means of Implementation, Funding". This provision is satisfied.

III. TENTATIVE RULING

As set forth above, the Debtor's First Amended Plan complies with the requirements of section 1129 except that the Debtor has not addressed the § 1129(a)(5) as required under the code. Debtor to address.

BACKGROUND

On July 21, 2011, John & Carolyn Vega ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On November 2, 2011, Debtors received a discharge and five days later the case was closed.

On March 1, 2017, UST filed a motion to reopen the case to investigate and administer litigation settlement proceeds. On December 12, 2017, the Chapter 7 trustee filed two motions to approve compromise. The first motion, between the estate and the debtors and primarily relating to the amount of Debtors' exemption in the proceeds, was granted on January 5, 2018. The second motion was set for hearing and is under consideration now.

Pursuant to the instant compromise motion the Trustee requests: (1) approval of the compromise of the products liability action; (2) authorization to employ Audet & Partners LLP and Levin Simes LLP as co-special counsel and payment of their compensation; and (3) related relief, including approval of the settlement payment disbursements. No opposition to the instant compromise motion has been filed.

DISCUSSION

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9019(a) states: "On motion by the trustee and after notice and a hearing, the court may approve a compromise or settlement. Notice shall be given to creditors, the United States trustee, the debtor, and indenture trustees as provided in Rule 2002 and to any other entity as the court may direct." The Court may grant approval if it determines that the compromise is "fair and equitable." See In re Berkeley Delaware Court, LLC, 834 F.3d 1036, 1039 (9th Cir. 2016). In determining whether the compromise is fair and equitable, the Court applies a four-factor test. See In re DiCostanzo, 399 Fed. Appx. 307, 308 (9th Cir. 2010). The test was originally outlined in In re A & C Props., and provides for consideration of

- (a) The probability of success in the litigation;
- (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection;
- (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it;
- (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises.

Typically, "a compromise should be approved unless it falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness." In re Art & Architecture Books of the 21st Century, 2016 WL 1118742 at *25 (Bankr. The proposed settlement here, however, presents a unique situation. The proposed settlement represents an "aggregate settlement" negotiated in the context of, presumably, state or federal district court litigation. The proposed settlement has not been disclosed to the Court on the basis that it contains a confidentiality provision. Furthermore, Trustee motions lacks detail in its description of the situation. The nature, extent and value of Debtor's claim are completely unknown to this Court. The factual situation giving rise to Debtor's claim is unclear, and the Court lacks any ability to estimate the value of the claim. Furthermore, as a result of the absence of information, the Court lacks the information necessary to determine the reasonableness of the requested attorney's fees.

The Bankruptcy Code demonstrates a preference for public access to the proceedings. See 11 U.S.C. § 107 (2010). There are procedures by which certain documents, including settlements, can be classified as confidential. See, e.g., In re Oldco M Corp., 466 B.R. 234 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2012); In re Hemple, 295 B.R. 200 (Bankr. D. Vt. 2003). In order for the Court to apply the legal standards of 11 U.S.C. § 107, the Court must be given an opportunity to review the material and make a determination regarding whether the matter is entitled to confidentiality.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to DENY the motion or CONTINUE the matter for supplemental evidence and analysis.

#5.00 Notice of Trustee's Final Report and Applications for Compensation

EH__

Docket 112

Tentative Ruling:

8/1/18

On October 3, 2013, Iraj Maqsoudi ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On January 14, 2014, Debtor obtained a discharge. On January 15, 2014, Trustee filed an application to employ Wesley H. Avery, APC ("Counsel") as general bankruptcy counsel. That application was approved by the Court on February 13, 2014.

On January 21, 2014, Trustee filed a complaint against Mandana Banihashem for: (1) avoidance and recovery of fraudulent transfer; (2) avoidance and recovery of preferential transfer; and (3) accounting and turnover. Ultimately, on September 4, 2015, Trustee prevailed on summary judgment with regard to nine of the eleven causes of action.

On January 30, 2014, Trustee filed a complaint Debtor (1) to revoke the Debtor's discharge; and (2) for an accounting and turnover. Ultimately, this adversary was voluntarily dismissed by Trustee on July 12, 2016.

On December 2, 2015, the Court approved Trustee's application to employ Neiman Realty ("Broker") as a real estate broker. On March 22, 2016, the Court approved the sale of certain real property located at 11889 Magnolia Ave., Riverside, CA 92503, which was the subject of the transfer adversary proceeding, for the amount of $692,000.

On October 19, 2016, the Court approved Trustee's application to employ Donald Fife ("Accountant") as accountant.

On February 2, 2017, Counsel filed a fee application in the aggregate amount of $158,944.97.¹ On April 3, 2017, Accountant filed a fee application in the aggregate amount of $2,401.10. Pursuant to Court order entered April 3, 2017, the Court also allowed an administrative expense for the attorney for creditor Mustafa Mayar, who conducted an examination of Debtor in the case, in the total amount of $8,491.02.

11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(3) (2005) provides factors to be considered in determining the reasonableness of requested compensation. After a review of Counsel's fee application, the Court has significant concerns with the amount requested, primarily based upon the excessiveness of the amounts billed, and the fact that the entire case was billed at $475/hour without any time billed by associations or paralegals at lower rates. For example, the first day that Counsel worked on the case, January 13, 2014, Counsel lists the following time entries (with the amount charged):

- Telephone conference with the Trustee regarding new matter: $95
- Review of encumbrances against commercial building and calculation of approximate fair market value: $712.50
- Review of motion for relief from stay filed by judgment creditor: $427.50
- Legal research in support of Trustee's opposition to motion for relief from stay filed by judgment creditor: $237.50
- Preparation of Trustee's opposition to motion for relief from stay filed by judgment creditor, and preparation of Memorandum of Points and Authorities in support thereof: $2,042.50
- Preparation of declarations in support of Trustee's opposition to motion for relief from stay filed by judgment creditor; telephone call with the Trustee's broker re same: $1,330
- Review and analysis of Notice of Claims Bar Date: $95
- Review of encumbrances against residence and calculation of approximate fair market value: $570.

The Court notes the following concerns with Counsel's billing on the first day on the case. First, 4.3 hours for the opposition and points and authorities appears excessive, given that the documents contain two paragraphs, two additional sentences, and some "fill-in-the-blank" responses. Second, 2.8 hours for the declarations appears excessive, given that each declaration is approximately one-page long. Third, the totality of 11.6 hours for what constituted opposing the relief from stay and, possibly, some minor case research, appears excessive. This is especially true in light of the fact that by the time Counsel had completed the opposition to the relief from stay, it had billed 10.2 hours for the day. The opposition, however, was filed at 3:50 p.m., implying that the telephone conference with the Trustee must have started no later than 5:38 a.m., even if Counsel worked continuously on the matter thereafter.

The issues noted above are not the exception in the billing summary submitted by Counsel, but, rather, the trend. Similarly, on March 10th and 11, 2014, Counsel billed nine hours for opposing Debtor's motion to convert to Chapter 13; Trustee's opposition was not extensive and Debtor's schedules indicated he had no disposable income at the time. Likewise, on October 31-November 1, 2016, Counsel billed 7.4 hours for preparation of the fee application narrative, which is approximately five pages long and mostly form language. Finally, between May 28, 2015 and June 10, 2015, Counsel billed 21.8 hours for the preparation of the pleadings related to the summary judgment motion in the § 548 adversary proceeding, which appears to include more than seven hours billed for the preparation of the Trustee's real estate broker's declaration, a declaration which was approximately a page and contained various broker documents as exhibits.

Additionally, Counsel's billing entries appear to include excessive charges for relatively routine tasks. The following are some of the examples:

1/16/14 – "Review of the discharge of the Debtor" -- $47.50
3/25/14 – "Review and analysis of tentative ruling for status conference" -- $95
4/30/14—"Preparation of request for mediation and order thereon" (two entries) -- $950
7/19/14 – "Review and analysis of Mediator's certificate" (two entries) -- $95
10/14/15-10/15/14 –Preparation of status reports for two status conferences -- $1,975
12/3/15 -- Preparation of two, relatively simple orders -- $950

While the issues noted above may be representative of the concerns with Counsel's fee application, the issues are by no means limited to the entries listed above.

On February 26, 2016, Sam & Greeta Dason ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On February 22, 2017, the Court approved the employment application of Ramsaur Law Office ("Applicant") to serve as Trustee's counsel. On March 6, 2017, the Court approved Trustee's application to employ GlassRatner as real estate broker. On March 7, 2017, the Court approved the application of Karl T. 8/1/18

BACKGROUND

On January 31, 2018, Karin Olaya ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On June 29, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to convert case under 11 U.S.C. § 706(a). On July 3, 2018, the Court entered an order setting the matter for hearing [Dkt No. 21]. The Court's order identified service and notice requirements, which were not complied with, and also stated that: "The Debtor is to specifically address the request for conversion in light of Schedule J showing negative disposable income." No supplement or reply was filed by Debtor. On July 6, 2018, Trustee filed opposition to the conversion motion.

Debtor's schedules identify an interest in real property located at 12310 Columbia Ln., Mira Loma, CA 91752 (the "Property"). The schedules list the value of the property as $565,000, a lien in the amount of $334,150, a second lien in the amount of $150,000 and an exemption of $100,000. Trustee believes the Property is undervalued by approximately $100,000, which would provide for equity in the Property above Debtor's exemption. Debtor's schedules I and J list disposable income of -$50.32 per month.

11 U.S.C. § 706(a) (2005) states:

The debtor may convert a case under this chapter to a case under chapter 11, 12, or 13 of this title at any time, if the case has not been converted under section 1112, 1208, or 1307 of this title. Any waiver of the right to convert a case under this subsection is unenforceable.

The Supreme Court has recently held that this right to conversion is not absolute. Marrama v. Citizens Bank of Mass., 549 U.S. 365, 373-74 (2007); see also In re Santos, 561 B.R. 825, 829 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017) ("Therefore, Marrama concluded that an individual whose potential Chapter 13 case was subject to dismissal or conversion under § 1307(c) was not entitled to a right to convert. . . . Because § 1307(c) provides for conversion or dismissal "for cause", it follows that the Court has the authority to deny conversion "for cause".).

Trustee identifies three reasons why conversion should be denied: (1) Debtor has no disposable income to fund a plan; and (2) the undervaluation of the Property and the instant conversion motion suggest Debtor is proceeding in bad faith.

While both of these reasons, independently and in combination, may contribute to a conclusion that there exists cause for dismissal or conversion pursuant to § 1307(c), the first reason is determinative in this situation. 11 U.S.C. § 1307(d) states: "Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a case may not be converted to a case under another chapter of this title unless the debtor may be a debtor under such chapter." 11 U.S.C. § 109(e) requires an individual filing under Chapter 13 to be an "individual with regular income". And 11 U.S.C. § 101(30) defines "individual with regular income" as an: "individual whose income is sufficiently stable and regular to enable such individual to make payments under a plan under Chapter 13 of this title, other than a stockbroker or a commodity broker." Debtor's schedules, which identify a net income of -$50.32, compel a conclusion that Debtor is not an "individual with regular income" within the meaning of the Code, and, therefore, Debtor is ineligible to

On April 6, 2018, Jose & Otilia Gutierrez ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. The meeting of creditors was originally set for May 8, 2018. On July 9, 2018, UST filed a motion for an extension of time to file a complaint objecting to discharge. UST asserts that Debtor has connections to several business entities and has not yet adequately complied with UST's requests for financial records. The meeting of creditors has been continued several times.

DISCUSSION

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 4004(a) states:

- (1) In a chapter 7 case, a complaint, or a motion under § 727(a)(8) or (9) of the Code, objecting to the debtor's discharge shall be filed no later than 60 days after the first date set for the meeting of creditors under § 341(a). And FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 4004(b) states:

(1) On motion of any party in interest, after notice and hearing, the court may for cause extend the time to object to discharge. Except as provided in subdivision (b)(2), the motion shall be filed before the time has expired.

(2) A motion to extent the time to object to discharge may be filed after the time for objection has expired and before discharge is granted if (A) the objection is based on facts that, if learned after the discharge, would provide a basis for revocation under § 727(d) of the Code, and (B) the movant did not have knowledge of those facts in time to permit an objection. The motion shall be filed promptly after the movant discovers the facts on which the objection is based.

Here, the delay in providing information adequate to assess the financial circumstances of Debtor constitutes sufficient cause to extend the deadline. See COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 4004.03[2] (16th ed. 2013) ("A debtor's delays in responding to discovery may be sufficient cause. Obviously, a delay in the meeting of creditors to a date close to or after the deadline may constitute such cause.") (citing In re McCormack, 244 B.R. 203 (Bankr. D. Conn. 2000)).

Moreover, Debtor's failure to oppose may be deemed consent to the relief requested pursuant to Local Rule 9013-1(h).

Docket 21

Tentative Ruling:

BACKGROUND:

On November 3, 2017, AF Howlader, Inc. ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On June 1, 2018, Michael Snow ("Creditor") filed a proof of claim in the amount of $3,250,000 ("Claim 3"). On June 27, 2018, Trustee filed an objection to Claim 3. On July 19, 2018, Creditor filed a response to Trustee's objection.

Trustee argues that it is unclear whether Debtor is liable for Claim 3, and additionally argues that Claim 3 is not supported by adequate supporting documentation. The Court notes that Trustee failed to use the Court's mandatory claim objection form.

Claim 3 states that it is based on a personal injury lawsuit, and Creditor attaches a copy of a state court complaint filed on October 25, 2016. Among the defendants listed in the state court complaint is Sporty Gift Shoppe ("SGS"). According to the state court complaint, Creditor purchased an e-cigarette from a retail kiosk of SGS which, after four days, exploded in his face, causing "severe facial bleeding and disfigurement." Trustee acknowledges that Debtor operated SGS, but asserts that the legal relationship between the two entities is unclear. Trustee further argues that

When a party files an objection to a proof of claim, that filing "creates a dispute which is a contested matter" within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and the Court must resolve the matter after notice and opportunity for hearing upon a motion for relief. Id.

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." In re Medina, 205 B.R. 216, 222 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. See In re Consol. Pioneer Mort, 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; see also Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

Here, Trustee has asserted that the legal relationship between Debtor and SGS is unclear, shifting the burden to Creditor to establish that Debtor is in fact liable for Claim 3. Creditor has responded by presenting Debtor's answer in state court, which establishes that SGS was the dba of Debtor. This is consistent with the results of Trustee's business entity search, which indicate that SGS was not a separate legal entity. As a result, the evidence compels the conclusion that Debtor and SGS are one and the same, and Trustee's argument should be rejected.

Trustee also asserts that Claim 3 should be disallowed because the state court has not yet issued judgment. 11 U.S.C. § 101(5) defines claim as:

- (A) right to payment, whether or not such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, secured, or unsecured; or
- (B) right to an equitable remedy, for breach of performance if such breach gives rise to a right to payment, whether or not such right to an equitable remedy is reduced to judgment, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, secured, or unsecured

11 U.S.C. § 502 enumerates categories of claims which will be disallowed. Pertinently, § 502(b)(1) states the following:

- (b) Except as provided in subsections (e)(2), (f), (g), (h) and (i) of this section, if such objection to a claim is made, the court, after notice and a hearing, shall determine the amount of such claim in lawful currency of the United States as of the date of the filing of the petition and shall allow such claim in such amount, except to the extent that –

- (1) such claim is unenforceable against the debtor and property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured;

And 11 U.S.C. § 502(c) states that:

(c) There shall be estimated for purposes of allowance under this section –

- (1) any contingent or unliquidated claims, the fixing of liquidation of which, as the case may be, would unduly delay the administration of the case; or
- (2) any right to payment arising from a right to an equitable remedy for breach of performance

The legal provisions recited above make clear that the fact that a claim is contingent, unliquidated or unmatured is not a basis for the disallowance of a claim, and Trustee's argument must be rejected.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to OVERRULE the objection. Trustee to inform Court whether it wishes to seek a valuation of Claim 3.

Tentative Ruling:

8/1/18

BACKGROUND

On June 4, 2017, Timothy and Lisa Lambert ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. The Court extended the time to file a complaint objecting to discharge on two occasions: (1) on October 5, 2017 (Dkt. No. 17); and (2) on November 9, 2017 (Dkt. No. 26).

On January 19, 2018, UST filed a complaint against Debtor for denial of discharge pursuant to § 727(a)(2), (a)(3), (a)(4) and (a)(5), or, alternatively, for dismissal of the bankruptcy case pursuant to § 707(b)(3) and § 349. On April 12, 2019, default was entered against Debtors. On July 10, 2018, UST filed a motion for default judgment.

UST's complaint arises out of Debtors' ownership of a Michigan LLC called Rainbow Recovery & Transport ("Rainbow Recovery"). According to UST, Debtors "solicited individuals to provide funds to them or Rainbow Recovery based on misrepresentations," and then undertook various actions to hinder their creditors' collection efforts. UST also asserts that Debtors schedules and statement of financial affairs omitted various recreational vehicles purchased in 2017, omitted the sale of undeveloped real property, which also occurred in 2017, and omitted the sale of Rainbow Recovery, which, again, occurred in 2017, and, as a result of which, Debtors were received installment payments.

DISCUSSION

A. Entry of Default

FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 55 states that "[w]hen a party against whom a judgment for affirmative relief is sought has failed to plead or otherwise defend as provided by these rules and that fact is made to appear by affidavit or otherwise, the clerk shall enter the party's default." Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(a). Local Rule 7055-1 provides further requirements relating to a motion for entry of default judgment, and those requirements have been substantially satisfied here.

B. Motion for Default Judgment

1. Proper Service of Summons and Complaint

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 7004(b)(1) states, in part:

[S]ervice may be made within the United States by first class mail postage prepaid as follows:

- (1) Upon an individual other than an infant or incompetent, by mailing a copy of the summons and complaint to the individual's dwelling house or usual place of abode or to the place where the individual regularly conducts a business or profession.

Here, Plaintiff properly served Debtors and their counsel at their addresses of record.

2. Merits of Plaintiff's claim

Upon default, the factual allegations of the complaint, except those relating to the amount of damages, will be taken as true. TeleVideo Systems, Inc. v. Heidenthal, 826 F.2d 915, 917 (9th Cir. 1987); see also Almog v. Golden Summit Investors Group, Ltd., 2012 WL 12867972 at *4 (C.D. Cal. 2012) ("When reviewing a motion for default judgment, the Court must accept the well-pleaded allegations of the complaint relating to liability as true.").

Here, the complaint includes five causes of action: § 727(a)(2), (a)(3), (a)(4), (a)(5), and, alternatively, § 707(b)(3) and § 349. The memorandum of points and authorities in support of UST's motion for default judgment only explicitly addresses § 727(a)(4) and (a)(2), and implicitly contains a preference for § 727(a)(4), referring to § 727(a)(2) as alternative request.

Regarding § 727(a)(2)(A), that provision states:

- a) The court shall grant the debtor a discharge, unless –
 - (2) The debtor, with intent to hinder, delay, or defraud a creditor or an officer of the estate charged with custody of property under this title, has transferred, removed, destroyed, mutilated, or concealed, or has permitted to be transferred, removed destroyed, mutilated, or concealed –

(A) property of the debtor, within one year before the date of the filing of the petition

Here, UST has asserted a creditor of Debtors, Cal-Tenn, notified Debtors on February 17, 2017 of its intent to conduct a judgment examination. In the month before and after that notice, Debtors sold Rainbow Recovery for $7,500, sold an acre of real property for $6,100, sold their home and received $50,637.57 in net proceeds, transferred funds from Rainbow Recovery's accounts to their personal accounts, and, while no date is identified, ostensibly purchased recreational vehicles. UST further alleges that none of the proceeds received by Debtors were applied to the debt owing Cal-Tenn or any of Debtors' other judgment creditors. Finally, UST asserts that Debtors engaged in the enumerated transactions with the intent to hinder, delay or defraud their creditors. Therefore, the elements of § 727(a)(2)(A) have been satisfied.

The Court need not reach the alternative requests of UST because judgment is proper pursuant to § 727(a)(2)(A).

3. Amount of Damages

Here, UST is not requesting any damages, and, therefore, no evidence is required establishing the amount of damages.

The Motion seeks an order permitting continued case administration pursuant to FRBP 1016 and waiver of the application and certification requirements of Section 1328 and 522(q) owing to the death of the Joint Debtor, Timothy Carroll. In support, Terri Carroll has submitted a declaration signed under penalty of perjury attesting to her completion of plan payments and to the death of her spouse. Moreover, the Court notes that no objection or opposition to the Debtors' request has been filed.

Based on the foregoing, in particular given the completion of plan payments due under the terms of the confirmed plan, the Court finds that a discharge is warranted as to both Debtors and is in the best interest of all parties. The Motion is GRANTED. Case administration may continue pursuant to FRBP 1016 and Timothy Carroll is excused from compliance with §§ 1328 and 522(q) of the Code.

#7.00 Motion to Dismiss Adversary Proceeding (Third Amended Complaint)

Docket 97

Tentative Ruling:

08/02/2018

BACKGROUND

On September 12, 2016, Douglas and Anne Goodman (collectively, "Debtors" or "Defendants") filed their petition for chapter 13 relief.

On November 11, 2016, Mark and Natasha Reynoso (collectively, "Plaintiffs") filed a complaint seeking determination of the dischargeability of a debt pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A) (the "Complaint"). Specifically, Plaintiffs allege that in 2015, they purchased real property located at 1656 West Lisbon Street in Upland, CA (the "Property") from the Debtors, and that a sale was consummated on the misrepresentations of the Debtors' agent, Theresa Mann, that the Property was 3,231 square feet while Plaintiffs assert that the Property is actually 2,713 square feet (or a difference of 518 square feet). Plaintiffs also assert that they were led to believe that a water leak in the upstairs bathroom had been repaired. Plaintiffs allege that the Debtors knew or should have known that their agent was making false and misleading representations to Plaintiffs.

On February 3, 2017, the Court entered an order granting Defendants first motion to dismiss the Complaint, with leave to amend. A First Amended Complaint (the "FAC") was filed on February 28, 2017. On April 19, 2017, the Plaintiffs filed a First Amended Complaint captioned "Corrected" which indicated it had been corrected for typographical errors. (the "Corrected Complaint"). The Court denied Defendants' second motion to dismiss at a hearing on May 4, 2017. On June 5, 2017, the Defendants filed their Answer to the FAC ("Answer").

On March 9, 2018, the Defendants moved to dismiss the April 19, 2018, complaint. The Court granted the motion to dismiss the April 19, 2018, complaint with leave to amend. A second amended complaint was then filed on May 23, 2018 (the "SAC"). [Note: there is a dispute regarding whether the operative complaint is a second or third amended complaint due to the filing of the "corrected complaint" indicated above. For purposes of this hearing, the operative complaint is Docket No. 93]. Defendants now move to dismiss the SAC. No opposition has been filed by the Plaintiffs.

DISCUSSION

As a threshold matter, the Motion seeks relief pursuant to Rule 12(b)(6). However, given that the Defendants have filed an Answer to the FAC, the Court shall construe the Motion as a motion under Rule 12(c), a motion for judgment on the pleadings.

Civil Rule 12(c) standard

"After the pleadings are closed—but early enough not to delay trial—a party may move for judgment on the pleadings." Fed.R.Civ.P. 12(c). "Judgment on the pleadings is properly granted when, taking all allegations in the pleading as true, the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Knappenberger v. City of Phx., 566 F.3d 936, 939 (9th Cir.2009) (quoting Merchants Home Delivery Serv., Inc. v. Frank B. Hall & Co., 50 F.3d 1486, 1488 (9th Cir.1995)).

On a Rule 12(c) motion, the court must accept as true all the material facts alleged in the complaint and must draw all reasonable inferences in favor of the non-moving party. Fleming v. Pickard, 581 F.3d 922, 925 (9th Cir.2009). In ruling on a Rule 12(c) motion, the court may not consider extrinsic evidence unless the motion is converted into a Rule 56 summary judgment. Hal Roach Studios, Inc. v. Richard Feiner & Co., Inc., 896 F.2d 1542, 1550 (9th Cir.1989) (citing Fed.R.Civ.P. 12(c); Bonilla v. Oakland Scavenger Co., 697 F.2d 1297, 1301 (9th Cir.1982)). However, a court may consider facts that are contained in materials of which the court may take judicial notice when considering a motion for judgment on the pleadings. Heliotrope Gen., Inc. v. Ford Motor Co., 189 F.3d 971, 981 n. 18 (9th Cir.1999) (quoting Barron v. Reich, 13 F.3d 1370, 1377 (9th Cir.1994)).

The crux of Defendants' argument for dismissal of the FAC is that Plaintiffs have not set forth the basis for a money judgment under state law. In the Court's tentative ruling on the motion to dismiss the FAC, the Court stated the following:

The Ninth Circuit has held that a bankruptcy court may enter a monetary judgment on a disputed state law fraud claim in the course of determining that the debt is nondischargeable. Cowen v. Kennedy (In re Kennedy), 108 F.3d 1015 (9th Cir.1997). Shawn Deitz v. Wayne Ford, Patricia Ford (In re Wayne Ford, Patricia Ford), 469 B.R. 11, 21 (9th Cir. BAP 2012), aff'd, 760 F.3d 1038 (9th Cir. 2014). Here, although the Complaint is not explicit regarding the state law causes of action at issue, it appears implicit in the allegations that the Plaintiffs seek a monetary judgment as to a fraud or misrepresentation claim. Nonetheless, Plaintiffs should not have to guess at the state law basis of the debt for a money judgment.

Here, the SAC has added bases for calculation of damages under state law but has still not set forth the state law basis for the monetary judgment. Thus, the Plaintiffs have still not addressed the concerns raised by the Court and Defendants that they do not have sufficient notice of the basis for a monetary judgment such that the Defendants can adequately defend themselves in the action.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, including the Plaintiffs failure to file opposition to the Motion to Dismiss which can be deemed as consent to the granting of the Motion pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion dismissing the SAC with leave to amend, in order to provide the Plaintiffs with an opportunity to set forth the specific bases for monetary damages under state law such that the litigation can proceed.

Docket 91

Tentative Ruling:

08/02/18

Debtor moves to vacate dismissal of the case due to the mistake of counsel in not calendaring the hearing on the Motion to Dismiss of the Trustee. The Trustee recommends conditional approval of the Motion if Counsel can certify to the Court at the hearing that she is holding $15,240. Additionally, the Trustee requires that no later than July 5, 2018, the Debtor must submit copies of the 2017 federal and state tax returns and any refunds to the Trustee.

The Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion on Trustee's conditions.

Docket 4

Tentative Ruling:

08/02/2018

BACKGROUND

On March 29, 2018, Melanie Tarhuni ("Debtor") filed her petition for chapter 13 relief. On June 1, 2018, the Debtor (in pro per) filed the instant adversary proceeding against Lakeview Loan Servicing, LLC, FNF Servicing dba Loancare, LLC, Les Zieve, John Steele, Janaya Carter, and Zieve, Brodnax & Steele, LLP, a limited liability partnership ("Defendants").

The Debtor's bankruptcy case was dismissed on June 7, 2018, at the hearing on confirmation. On July 5, 2017, LoanCare, LLC and Lakeview Loan Servicing, LLC filed a Motion to Dismiss the Complaint ("Motion"). The Debtor filed her Opposition to the Motion on July 19, 2018. On July 26, 2018, LoanCare and Lakeview filed their reply.

The dismissal of a bankruptcy case has several ramifications as set out in Bankruptcy Code Section 349. The Ninth Circuit has explained, "Section 349 of the Bankruptcy Code lists the various effects of dismissal of the underlying bankruptcy case; conspicuously absent from that list is automatic termination of jurisdiction of related cases." In re Carraher, 971 F.2d 327, 328 (9th Cir. 1992). The bankruptcy court may retain jurisdiction over a related proceeding subject to considerations of judicial economy, fairness, convenience and comity. In re Casamont Inv'rs, Ltd., 196 B.R. 517, 522 (9th Cir. BAP 1996).

Here, the Debtor's underlying bankruptcy case was dismissed shortly after the initial filing. The instant adversary proceeding has been pending for two months during which no significant actions have been taken to advance the litigation. Given that the claims of the Debtor relate primarily to a determination of the lien rights of the Defendants under state law and to claims made pursuant to the FDCPA, which may be brought in the District Court and over which this Court cannot make final rulings pursuant to Stern v. Marshall, 564 U.S. 462, 131 S. Ct. 2594, 180 L. Ed. 2d 475 (2011), the Court has determined that the principles of judicial economy, fairness, convenience and comity do not favor this Court's retention of jurisdiction over the action.

As an alternative grounds for dismissal, the Court incorporates the findings related to jurisdiction into the Opposition's analysis regarding abstention and adopts the Opposition's analysis. The Court finds that abstention is appropriate in this case.

TENTATIVE RULING

For the foregoing reasons, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion dismissing the instant adversary proceeding.

#14.00 Motion with Notice By United States Trustee To Dismiss Chapter 13 Case With A Re-Filing Bar; Memo of Ps and As; Decl of: Abram S. Feuerstein

EH__

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

08/02/18

BACKGROUND

On June 18, 2018 ("Petition Date"), Fatana Aziz (the "Debtor") filed a petition for chapter 13 relief.

On July 3, 2018, the Office of the United States Trustee ("UST") filed a Motion to Dismiss Chapter 13 Case with a Re-Filing Bar (the "Motion"). No opposition has been filed.

DISCUSSION

Section 1307(c) provides that after notice and a hearing, "the court may convert a case under [Chapter 13] to a case under chapter 7 of this title, or may dismiss a case under this chapter, whichever is in the best interests of creditors and the estate, for cause." 11 U.S.C. § 1307. "Section 1307(c) enumerates eleven non-exclusive grounds which may constitute 'cause' for dismissal." In re Ellsworth, 455 B.R. 904, 914 (9th Cir. BAP 2011). Although not specifically enumerated, "bad faith" may constitute "cause." Id. In determining whether a Chapter 13 petition has been filed in bad faith, a bankruptcy court should review the "totality of the circumstances." In re Eisen, 14 F.3d 469, 470 (9th Cir. 1994). In reviewing the totality of the circumstances, a court should consider:

- (1) whether the debtor misrepresented facts in his or her petition or plan, unfairly manipulated the Bankruptcy Code or otherwise filed the Chapter 13 petition or plan in an inequitable manner;

Chapter 13

- (2) the debtor's history of filings and dismissals;
- (3) whether the debtor's only purpose in filing for chapter 13 protection is to defeat state court litigation; and
- (4) whether egregious behavior is present.

In re Leavitt, 171 F.3d 1219, 1224 (9th Cir. 1999).

Here, the UST asserts as grounds for dismissal that the Debtor has filed three cases since 2016 (Case No. 16-20907, Case No. 17-17926, Case No. 18-15098). Two of the Debtor's prior cases were dismissed for failure to file information and the instant case was filed as incomplete with the balance of schedules due on July 2, 2018. As of the date of the filing of the Motion, the Debtor had not filed the missing schedules. Additionally, in the current case, the Debtor listed one creditor, Wells Fargo, which indicates that the sole reason for the filing is to frustrate Wells Fargo Bank.

Here, for the reasons set forth by the UST, based primarily on the history of filings, and the repeated conduct of the Debtor in failing to comply with Court-imposed deadlines, the Court finds that cause exists to dismiss the Debtor's case. Additionally, the Debtors apparent attempts to file bankruptcy for the sole purpose of forestalling creditors warrants a one-year bar under the Court's § 105 and § 349 authority as requested by the UST.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, including the Debtor's failure to file opposition which this Court deems as consent to the granting of the Motion under LBR 9013-1(h), the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion in its entirety.

APPEARANCES REQUIRED.

08/02/18

BACKGROUND

On April 20, 2018, Ridge Robert ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 13 relief. Among the assets of the estate is a 2013 Toyota Camry (the "Camry"). On July 3, 2018, the Debtor filed his Motion to Value the Camry ("Motion"). No opposition has been filed.

DISCUSSION

One of the benefits of filing a Chapter 13 bankruptcy is that under § 506(a) the debtor can bifurcate a secured, unavoidable debt, with one part representing the amount of the value of the collateral, and the deficiency being treated as an unsecured claim. See In re Penrod, 636 F.3d 1175, 1177 (9th Cir. 2011).

The Debtor asserts that the Camry's value, and thus its secured portion, should be determined to be $6,600, with an unsecured deficiency claim for $2,366. In support the Debtor has attached a copy of the Kelly Blue Book. However, the copy of the Kelly Blue Book printout attached to the Motion does not indicate pertinent facts of the Camry such as the make and model of the vehicle necessary to corroborate the Debtor's assertion of value.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to CONTINUE the Motion for a hearing on August 30, 2018, at 11:00 a.m. for Debtor to provide supplemental documentation to corroborate the assertion of value as set forth above and for the Debtor to re-serve the Motion and supplemental documentation on Wells Fargo as indicated above. The deadline to file and serve the supplemental documents is August 9, 2018.

Chapter 13

#39.00 Motion for Setting Property Value re Creditor California Coast Credit Union

Docket 14

Tentative Ruling:

08/02/18

BACKGROUND

On May 31, 2018, Gabriel and Jeneke Blanco (collectively, "Debtors") filed their petition for chapter 13 relief. Among the assets of the estate is a 2012 Honda Accord (the "Accord"). On June 15, 2018, the Debtors filed their Motion to Value the Accord ("Motion"). No opposition has been filed.

DISCUSSION

One of the benefits of filing a Chapter 13 bankruptcy is that under § 506(a) the debtor can bifurcate a secured, unavoidable debt, with one part representing the amount of the value of the collateral, and the deficiency being treated as an unsecured claim. See In re Penrod, 636 F.3d 1175, 1177 (9th Cir. 2011).

The Debtors assert that the Accord's value, and thus its secured portion, should be determined to be $8,331, with an unsecured deficiency claim for $9,285.31. In support the Debtor asserts that he consulted the Kelly Blue Book Report. However, a copy of the Kelly Blue Book report was not attached. Nor did the Debtors attach a certificate of title indicating the identity of the lienholder or a statement regarding the balance owed.

Hearing Room 303

11:00 AM

CONT... Gabriel Agustin Blanco and Jeneke Nicole Blanco

Chapter 13

Despite these issues, the Court notes that Proof of Claim 6-1 with respect to the Accord confirms that the Claimant agrees that the value of the Accord is $8,331. Thus, as the Court finds no dispute regarding the value of the collateral, the secured portion of the claim as determined to be $8,331. Moreover, based on Claim 6-1, the unsecured deficiency claim is $8,424.11.

TENTATIVE RULING

For the foregoing reasons, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion as set forth above.

Docket 15

Tentative Ruling:

08/02/18

BACKGROUND

On May 31, 2018, Gabriel and Jeneke Blanco (collectively, "Debtors") filed their petition for chapter 13 relief. Among the assets of the estate is a 2015 Heartland North Trail Caliber Series M-33BKSS (the "RV"). On June 15, 2018, the Debtors filed their Motion to Value the RV ("Motion"). No opposition has been filed.

DISCUSSION

One of the benefits of filing a Chapter 13 bankruptcy is that under § 506(a) the debtor can bifurcate a secured, unavoidable debt, with one part representing the amount of the value of the collateral, and the deficiency being treated as an unsecured claim. See In re Penrod, 636 F.3d 1175, 1177 (9th Cir. 2011).

The Debtors assert that the RV's value, and thus its secured portion, should be determined to be $24,575, with an unsecured deficiency claim for $5,047.70. In support the Debtor asserts that he consulted the NADA Guide. However, a copy of the NADA Guide report was not attached. Nor did the Debtors attach a Certificate of Title indicating the identity of the lienholder or a statement regarding the balance owed.

Thursday, August 2, 2018

Hearing Room 303

11:00 AM

Chapter 13

As Claimant, Bank of the West, filed Proof of Claim No. 8-1, the Court can overcome the necessity of a Certificate of Title or statement regarding the balance owed. However, to meet their evidentiary burden, the Debtors must provide admissible evidence of the NADA guide report they consulted to determine the value of the RV.

TENTATIVE RULING

For the foregoing reasons, the Court is inclined to CONTINUE the Motion for Debtors to file and serve a supplemental Debtor declaration providing evidence of the NADA guide report consulted to establish fair market value.

APPEARANCES REQUIRED.

Docket 23

Tentative Ruling:

8/14/2018

On July 12, 2018, the Chapter 7 Trustee filed its Motion to Approve Compromise Under Rule 9019 [Dkt. No. 23]. On August 2, 2018, the Court issued an order [Dkt. No. 26], setting the matter for hearing, and requiring Trustee to submit a supplemental declaration containing evidence of the value of the property sufficient to allow the Court to properly evaluate the motion.

On August 8, 2018, Trustee filed a supplemental declaration [Dkt. No. 30]. The Court having reviewing the contents of the motion and the supplemental declaration, notice being proper and no opposition having been filed, the Court finds that the compromise has satisfied the A&C Property factors. Therefore, the Court is inclined to GRANT the motion.

APPEARANCES WAIVED. Movant to lodge order within seven days. If oral or written opposition is presented at the hearing, the hearing may be continued.

#3.00 CONT Motion by Debtor to Sell Substantially All Assets of Debtor Free and Clear of Liens

From: 7/24/18

Also #4 & #5

EH__

Docket 328

Tentative Ruling:

7/24/18

BACKGROUND

On December 1, 2017, Auto Strap Transport, LLC ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. On March 6, 2018, a chief restructuring officer, Stephen Douglass (the "CRO"), was appointed on an interim basis, and, on April 11, 2018, appointed on a final basis. Now, relying on the estimates of the CRO, Debtor believes it will be at least six months before Debtor can become profitable, and, therefore, "Debtor has determined the best option for its creditors is to sell its assets." [Dkt. No. 328, pg. 8, lines 24-26]. On June 26, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to sell substantially all assets of Debtor free and clear of liens (the "Motion").

The basic terms of the Motion are the following: Debtor proposes to sell to Nations Fund I, LLC ("Nations"), Debtor's largest secured creditor, all of Debtor's assets which are not subject to purchase money security interests or leases with creditors other than Nations (the "Assets").¹ The Motion contemplates Nations purchasing the Assets for the amount of $3,200,000, of which $2,950,000 is a credit bid, and $250,000 in a cash payment to be predominantly used for payment of administrative claims. Debtor estimates that the Assets have a fair market value of $3,160,000.

DISCUSSION

11 U.S.C. § 363(b)(1) provides that Debtor may use, sell, or lease property of the estate outside of the ordinary course of business after notice and a hearing. The Court notes the following non-exclusive issues with the current version of the Motion:

A. Notice

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 6004(a) provides: "Notice of a proposed use, sale, or lease of property, than cash collateral, not in the ordinary course of business shall be given pursuant to Rule 2002(a)(2), (c)(1), (i), and (k) and, if applicable, in accordance with § 363(b)(2) of the Code." FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 2002(a)(2) requires the Motion to be served on all creditors, which does not appear to have been done here. Specifically, the Court notes that the petition in the instant case identifies 111 parties to receive notice, however, the Motion appears to have been served on substantially less than half that many entities.

B. Fair Market Value and Marketing

Local Rule 6004-(1)(c)(2)(A) provides that the Motion "must be supported by a declaration of the movant establishing the value of the property and that the terms and conditions of the proposed sale, including the price and all contingencies, are in the best interest of the estate." While the Motion does include a declaration of Debtor's principal establishing a fair market value of $3.16 million, the Motion does not include any breakdown of that valuation or the comparables upon which the valuation was based. Additionally, the old adage that "value is what someone is willing to pay" is pertinent here. Section III.G of the Motion suggests that the marketing effort was possibly inadequate, and tardy at best. Specifically, the future tense verbiage of the section indicates that Debtor did not engage in any marketing prior to filing the motion. Debtor also stated it would file a supplement seven days before the sale hearing, however, such supplement was only filed the morning before the hearing, depriving the Court of ample time to review the submitted evidence. Additionally, Debtor did not submit the "due diligence package" it allegedly used in marketing. Finally, the late supplement filed indicates in paragraph 14 that a potential buyer has not yet rendered a decision on whether to overbid. Ultimately, in light of the evidence presented to the Court, the Court is unable to conclude that the rushed marketing effort is inadequate in light of the unusual and complex nature of the sale under consideration.

C. Miscellaneous Issues

-The Motion states that "Debtor is reviewing the tax consequences to the bankruptcy estate as a result of the proposed sale. Debtor will update the Court at the hearing as to the tax consequences, if any." [Dkt. No. 328, pg. 12, lines 4-5]. The Court intends to require that the estimation of tax consequences be included in the amended motion.

-The Motion fails to provide a breakdown of administrative, priority, and unsecured claims and the possible distribution to each class. At this stage of the case, and given the case's trajectory, it seems Debtor should possess a reasonably accurate estimate of the administrative claims in this case which would allow priority and unsecured creditors to determine the amount of any potential distribution, if any. Currently, the Motion's treatment of the distribution of the sales proceeds is vague; the Motion also confusingly refers to Nation's retaining a security interest in the cash component of the purchase amount, for reasons that are very unclear.

Docket 62

Tentative Ruling:

8/21/2018

Service is Proper

The Court notes that the subject real property was abandoned by Trustee pursuant to the "Notice of Proposed Abandonment of Property of the Estate" [Dkt. No. 32]. The Court notes that the motion requests confirmation that no stay is in effect.

11 U.S.C. § 362(a) outlines the scope of the automatic stay. The eight enumerated categories of actions stayed fall into two categories: (1) actions against property of the estate; (2) and actions to enforce a prepetition interest or collect on a prepetition claim. Notably, the automatic stay does not bar the enforcement of a postpetition interest or claim when such enforcement action does not involve property of the bankruptcy estate.

Here, the real property at issue was abandoned by Trustee and is, therefore, not property of the bankruptcy estate. Movant is the purchaser of the real property at a postpetition Trustee's sale and, therefore, Movant's interest in the real property did not arise prepetition and could not have been enforced prepetition. As a result, none of the categories of stayed acts outlined in § 362(a) are applicable to this situation.

Pursuant to the above, the Court is inclined to GRANT the request in ¶ 3 and confirm that the automatic stay was never in effect with regard to Movant and the subject

Debtor's confirmed plan provided for Debtor to surrender his interest in the real property at issue, and the plan does not treat Movant's claim. Therefore, as to Debtor, Movant has established cause for relief from the automatic stay.

As to Movant's request for relief from the co-debtor stay, the Court notes that the co-debtor at issue here, Debtor's former spouse, appears to have been served with the motion and failed to file opposition, which the Court can deem consent to the relief requested pursuant to Local Rule 9013-(1)(h). More importantly, 11 U.S.C. §1301(c) (2) provides that the Court must grant relief from the co-debtor stay if "the plan filed by the debtor proposes not to pay such claim." Therefore, relief from the co-debtor stay is appropriate.

I. PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

On January 26, 2018, Markus Boyd ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. On February 13, 2018, the Court entered an interim order approving use of cash collateral. On March 6, 2018, the Court entered orders (1) authorizing Debtor to provide adequate assurance of payment to utility service providers and; (2) approving a budget. On March 26, 2018, the Court authorized the employment of Nicholas Gebelt as counsel for Debtor. On April 26, 2018, the Court disallowed four claims of American Express (claim numbers 2 and 4-6).

On June 22, 2018, Debtor filed its disclosure statement and Chapter 11 plan. On August 7, 2018, UST filed a limited objection to Debtor's disclosure statement.

II. DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

In addition to the disclosure statement, the following exhibits are included: (1)

"Treatment of Claims/Interests" (Exhibit A); (2) "Executory Contracts & Unexpired Leases" (Exhibit B); (3) "Cash Flow Projections" (Exhibit C); (4) "Recent Financial History" (Exhibit D); (5) "Secured Claims" (Exhibit E); (6) "General Unsecured Claims, in Class 4A or 4B" (Exhibit F); "Liquidating Analysis" (Exhibit G); "Endnotes/Continuation Sheets" (which includes a supplement) (Exhibit H). Debtor has used the Court's optional disclosure statement form and worksheets, and, therefore, the format of the disclosure statement is adequate.

The Chapter 11 Plan's proposed effective date is October 21, 2018. There are four classes of claims and four listed categories of unclassified claims¹:

- 1) Class 1: Arrears secured by real property -- $174,971.67 claim, Debtor proposes to pay over 60 months. Debtor's Exhibit A contains a row for arrears on the second and third deeds of trust, but does not identify any amount owing.
- 2) Class 2: Additional claims secured by real property – Debtor lists three different claims within this class. Debtor proposes to continue paying his mortgage (identified as $772,733.45)², over 230 months and at 2% interest. Debtor proposes to cure his delinquency on HOA dues over 60 months. Debtor has included a row for, presumably, future HOA dues but no amount is listed. Nor is it clear that this class is truly unimpaired.
- 3) Class 3: Priority claims: Debtor's plan does not list any claims in class 3
- 4) Class 4: General Unsecured – $45,151.20, Debtor proposes to pay over 60 months.
 - 1) Type 1: UST fees ($650) – paid in full on effective date
 - 2) Type 2: Taxes (IRS) – approximately $80k, paid over 51 months
 - 3) Type 3: Taxes (FTB) –$5,651.86, paid over 51 months
 - 4) Type 4: Nicholas Gebelt's fees ($30k)—paid in full on effective date

III. LEGAL ANALYSIS

A. Adequate Information

A Chapter 11 disclosure statement is required to contain "adequate information" pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1125(b). Section 1125(f)(2) provides that: "the court may approve a disclosure statement submitted on standard forms approved by the court or adopted under section 2075 of title 28." The Central District of California has devised a disclosure statement template, Form 3017-1.CH11.DISCLSR.STMT, which Debtor generally adopted as to format.

As to the substance of a disclosure statement, 11 U.S.C. § 1125(a)(1) defines "adequate information" as:

information of a kind, and in sufficient detail as far as is reasonably practicable in light of the nature and history of the debtor and the condition of the debtor's books and records, including a discussion of the potential material Federal tax consequences of the plan to the debtor, any successor to the debtor, and a hypothetical investor typical of the holders of claims or interests in the case, that would enable such a hypothetical investor of the relevant class to make an informed judgment about the plan, but adequate information need not include such information about any other possible or proposed plan and in determining whether a disclosure statement provides adequate information, the court shall consider the complexity of the case, the benefit of additional information to creditors and other parties in interest, and the cost of providing additional information

The type of information required varies with the circumstances. See, e.g., In re Jeppson, 66 B.R. 269, 292 (Bankr. D. Utah 1986) (listing nineteen categories of information commonly required); see also In re Malek, 35 B.R. 443, 443-44 (Bankr. E.D. Mich. 1983) (listing minimum requirements).

While Debtor has utilized Court approved forms and has clearly delineated the treatment of the varying claims, the disclosure statement simply lacks the information necessary to evaluate Debtor's financial situation and determine the probability of the plan's success. First of all, as noted by UST, Debtor's practice appears to have been not to withhold taxes on earned income. Second of all, the limited financial information provided by Debtor indicates his income fluctuates drastically. The four months of "recent financial history" (Exhibit D) including in the disclosure statement note the following monthly receipts:

- 1) $4,559 (February) (the corresponding monthly operating report lists receipts of $51.89)
- 2) $32,591 (March)
- 3) $15,541 (April)
- 4) $35,626 (May)

Additionally, a monthly operating report for June, filed after the disclosure statement, identifies receipts in the amount of $1,801.11. The limited financial history provided supports UST's assertion that: "Debtor's tax liabilities are a significant risk factor given that the monthly operating reports reflect that the Debtor averages between $18-$19,000 in monthly net income – much less than the $30,000 reported in the Disclosure Statement's cash flow projections." Indeed, using that $18-$19,000 figure, if one assumes that the receipts are before tax and that Debtor will ultimately be unsuccessful in the pending adversary proceeding, it would appear that the proposed plan may be infeasible. In any event, the financial information provided in the disclosure statement is grossly inadequate for an evaluation of the prospects of the proposed plan. The information simply does not allow for a reasonably accurate estimation of Debtor's income and expenses moving forward.

Docket 108

Tentative Ruling:

08/22/2018

BACKGROUND:

On September 8, 2015, the Manors San Bernardino Ave LLC ("Debtor") case was filed as an involuntary case. The Order for Relief was entered on November 13, 2015. John P. Pringle is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee").

On July 13, 2018, the Trustee filed his objection to Claim No. 10 ("Claim") of Gouvis Engineering Consulting Group, Inc. (the "Claimant"). The Trustee's Objection asserts that the Claim is supported by documentation showing that it is for services rendered to MCG Development, which is an entity that is not the Debtor and therefore is not entitled to allowance as a claim. The Objection was properly served and no opposition or response has been filed.

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Specialists, Inc., 223 F.3d

1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000). When a party files an objection to a proof of claim, that filing "creates a dispute which is a contested matter" within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and the Court must resolve the matter after notice and opportunity for hearing upon a motion for relief. Id.

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." United States v. Offord Fin., Inc., (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216,222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. Ashford v. Consol. Pioneer Mort. (In re Consol. Pioneer Mort.), 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

Here, the Trustee has pointed to facts tending to defeat the claim by virtue of the fact that Claimant's own supporting documentation evinces a contractual relationship with Paul Minnick as representative of MCG Development Company, Inc., not on behalf of the Debtor. Absent evidence of a relationship between the Debtor and Claimant, the Claimant has failed to establish the existence of a claim against the Debtor's estate.

BACKGROUND:

On September 8, 2015, the Manors San Bernardino Ave LLC ("Debtor") case was filed as an involuntary case. The Order for Relief was entered on November 13, 2015. John P. Pringle is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee").

On July 13, 2018, the Trustee filed his objection to Claim No. 3 ("Claim") of San Bernardino Tax Collector (the "Claimant"). The Trustee's Objection asserts that the Claim is fully secured and not entitled to a dividend from the Estate.

TENTATIVE RULING

The supporting documentation indicates that the Claim is secured by vacant land in San Bernardino County. The Trustee requests that the Claim be allowed as fully secured but not entitled to a dividend from the estate. Based on the lack of prejudice to the Claimant and the Claimant's failure to file response or opposition which this Court deems as consent pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the objection and ALLOW the Claim as a fully secured claim not entitled to a dividend.

#20.00 Motion to Disallow Claims No. 9 filed by Erwin L. Seifert as Not Allowable Against the Estate

Also #15 - #19

EH__

Docket 106

Tentative Ruling:

08/22/2018

BACKGROUND:

On September 8, 2015, the Manors San Bernardino Ave LLC ("Debtor") case was filed as an involuntary case. The Order for Relief was entered on November 13, 2015. John P. Pringle is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee").

On July 13, 2018, the Trustee filed his objection to Claim No. 9 ("Claim") of Erwin L. Seifert (the "Claimant"). The Trustee's Objection asserts that the Claim is supported by documentation showing that it regards an employment contract between Claimant and MCG Development. The Objection was properly served and no opposition or response has been filed.

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Specialists, Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000). When a party files an objection to a proof of claim, that filing "creates a dispute which is a contested matter" within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and the Court must resolve the matter after notice and opportunity for hearing upon a motion for relief. Id.

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." United States v. Offord Fin., Inc., (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216,222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. Ashford v. Consol. Pioneer Mort. (In re Consol. Pioneer Mort.), 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

Here, the Trustee asserts that the Claim regards an employment contract between Claimant and MCG Development, not the Debtor. However, a separate Agreement dated May 27, 2014, between the Debtor and Claimant appears to indicate that although the employment contract was created between MDG Development and Claimant, the Debtor separately executed a Note and Deed of Trust in favor of Claimant to secure the obligations under the employment agreement in recognition that Claimant's employment contract with MDG was "for the benefit of Manors ...". (Objection at 18).

BACKGROUND:

Creditor Revere Financial Corporation ("RFC") filed its omnibus objection to Claim No. 1 and 11 of the Franchise Tax Board ("FTB") and to Claim No. 5 and 8 of First Niagara Bank ("FNB") on July 18, 2018 (the "Objection"). A response to the Objection was filed by FTB on August 8, 2018. On August 15, 2018, RFC filed its reply ("Reply"). FNB filed no opposition or response.

ANALYSIS:

As a threshold matter, following the filing of Opposition by the FTB, RFC withdrew its Objection to the claims of the FTB in its Reply. The Objection is thus taken off calendar as to the FTB claims.

As to FNB, RFC has provided evidence to refute that FNB maintains any secured claims related to the real properties located at 1331 East Main Street, in Rochester, NY (the "Main Street Property") or 920 Winton Ave, in Rochester, NY (the "Winton Property") because the Baleine Trustee has sold these properties. FNB, for its part, received proper service and notice of the Objection but failed to respond or otherwise to amend its claim to indicate that following the sale anything remains of its claims. Here, given that RFC has provided evidence that the liens underlying Claims No. 5 and 8 were likely satisfied when the Main Street and Winton Properties were sold, the Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the Objection as to these claims and disallow them in their entirety.

ANALYSIS:

AMEX filed Claim No. 2, an unsecured debt totaling $4,768.94, for credit card charges on December 27, 2013. RFC objects to the claim on the following grounds:

1. There is insufficient supporting evidence to support the claim; and
2. The claim is likely an avoidable transfer.

RFC requests that pursuant to LBR 3007, the initial hearing be treated as a preliminary status conference to allow the parties with an opportunity to conduct discovery regarding disputed issues/facts.

The Trustee's Limited Opposition is limited to pointing out the de minimis amount of Claim No. 2 and to request that the Court not permit an extended briefing schedule.

No. 24 in their entirety. Additionally, as to the IRS, Claim No. 14 has been withdrawn as of August 8, 2018. As to the FTB, the Court agrees with RFC that Claim No. 22 of the FTB supersedes Claim No. 13 and thus pursuant to FRBP 3007(d)(3), Claim No. 13 shall be disallowed in its entirety.

Claim No. 15-1 of the EDD filed by the Debtor has no prima facie validity as it attached no supporting documentation and is silent as to the amount owed and relevant time period covered. Debtor has indicated that it will be withdrawing Claim No. 15 if no response is filed by the EDD. No response has been filed by the EDD.

Finally, as to Claim No. 11 of the IRS, the IRS has filed an amended claim (Claim 11-2) and thus RFC's objection regarding lack of evidence is moot. In its Reply, RFC requests that the Court stay proceedings on RFC's Objection to Claim No. 11, require Roger and the IRS to liquidate Claim 11-2 in the tax court, and order the chapter 7 trustee to hold any proposed distributions that the trustee intends to make to the IRS. These requests are not properly before the Court and as such, the Court need not rule on them at this time.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the Objection as to the following claims: Claim No. 21, Claim No. 24, and Claim No. 13. The Objection is OVERRULED as to Claim No. 11 and 14 as moot. Finally, as to Claim No. 15, the Objection is SUSTAINED based on the failure of EDD to file opposition or response which this Court deems as consent pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h) and based on the insufficiency of documentation.

Docket 697

Tentative Ruling:

08/22/2018

BACKGROUND:

Creditor Revere Financial Corporation ("RFC") filed its omnibus objection on July 18, 2018 to the following claims:

1. Claim No. 6 of EDD for lack of evidence;
2. Claim No. 7 of the State Board of Equalization ("SBE") for lack of evidence;
3. Claim No. 8 of the Franchise Tax Board ("FTB") for lack of evidence; and
4. Claim No. 13 of Kajan, Mather, and Barish APC ("KMB") as untimely.

Response to the Objection was filed by the Douglas Jay Roger ("Debtor") on August 8, 2018.

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Specialists, Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000). When a party files an objection to a proof of claim, that filing "creates a dispute which is a contested matter" within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and the Court must resolve the matter after notice and opportunity for hearing upon a motion for relief. Id.

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." United States v. Offord Fin., Inc., (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216,222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. Ashford v. Consol. Pioneer Mort. (In re Consol. Pioneer Mort.), 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

As a threshold matter, the Court agrees that the claim of KMB, filed on 09/28/2016, after the July 20, 2015, claims bar date must be disallowed as time barred. The Objection is thus SUSTAINED as to Claim No. 13.

As to the remaining claims of the SBE, FTB, and EDD (collectively, the "Claimants"). The Debtor filed its claims having failed to attach any supporting evidence, having failed to specify any amount, and having failed to provide even a relevant time period for amounts incurred. Moreover, as underscored by RFC, the Claimants have had several years to amend and supplement their claims. In its limited opposition to the Objection, the Debtors only evidence to support the claims is an amended IRS claim which purportedly supports an inference that the Debtor must also owe monies to the Claimants. Debtor then asks this Court to continue the hearing for 90 days for resolution of the IRS claim which Debtor insinuates will permit calculation of the Claimants' claims. However, RFC makes a persuasive argument that Claimants filed no amendments following the IRS's initial filing of its amended claim on April 17, 2015, and there is no evidence to support a finding that Claimants are likely to supplement their claims now. The Claimants were properly served with the Objection and have remained silent, which the Court deems as consent to the requested relief. Based on the lack of prima facie evidence of validity as to the claims, RFC's Objection to the legal sufficiency of the claims is well taken and having failed to meet the Claimant's ultimate burden. As such, the Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the Objection as to Claimants and disallow Claim No.'s 6, 7 and 8 in their entirety.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the Objection in its entirety.

Docket 694

Tentative Ruling:

08/22/2018

BACKGROUND:

Creditor Revere Financial Corporation ("RFC") filed its objection to Claim No. 4 of American Express Bank, FSB ("AMEX") on July 18, 2018 (the "Objection"). A response to the Objection was filed by AMEX on August 6, 2018. AMEX requests that the Court permit AMEX to withdraw its claim or, in the alternative, consents to the Objection being sustained.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the Objection based on AMEX's consent.

Tentative Ruling:

08/22/2018

BACKGROUND

On October 30, 2017, Trending Up ("Debtor") filed for chapter 7 relief. Larry Simons is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). The Debtor's Statement of Financial Affairs indicates that transfers totaling $36,000 were made to Mr. and Mrs. Parks (collectively, the "Parks" or "Defendants") of 975 Kostka Lane in Florissant, MO 63031 (the "Kostka Address").

On April 3, 2018, the Trustee filed suit against the Parks seeking avoidance and recovery of preferential transfers, preservation of the same, and disallowance of claims (the "Complaint"). On April 4, 2018, the Trustee filed his executed summons indicating service on the Parks at the Kostka Address. On May 17, 2018, the Trustee requested entry of default as against the Parks. The Clerk entered default on the same date. On July 30, 2018, the Trustee filed his Motion for Default Judgment (the "Motion").

On August 9, 2018, the Parks filed Opposition to the Motion ("Opposition"). On August 15, 2018, the Trustee filed his reply ("Reply").

Chapter 7

DISCUSSION

The Opposition asserts that the Trustee failed to obtain personal jurisdiction because he did not validly serve the Parks at their correct address. The Opposition underscores that Trustee realized he did not have their correct address because he later apparently served the Parks at their residence in early August.

FRBP 7004(b)(1) requires service of a summons and complaint by mailing a copy of the summons and complaint to the individual's dwelling house or usual place of abode or to the place where the individual regularly conducts a business or profession. Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7004. In their declaration, the Parks assert that they have never used the Kostka Address and that it has never been their work or home address. (Parks Decl.s).

In his Reply, the Trustee asserts that the address was served on the Parks based on the following facts: (1) the Debtor listed the Kostka Address on the SOFA; (2) Debtor's CEO, the daughter of the Defendants, confirmed that the address in the SOFA was accurate when she was questioned at the meeting of creditors; and (3) prior correspondence to the Kostka Address addressed to the Defendants was not returned, thus Trustee had reason to believe the address was accurate.

Here, the Trustee does not dispute that the Kostka Address is neither the Parks' residence nor that they are not employees or officers of the Debtor such that service on them at the Kostka Address could be proper under Rule 7004. Thus, based on the evidence presented by the Defendants, the Court finds that service of the summons and Complaint was improper. The Motion must be denied on that basis. However, as to dismissal of the case, the Trustee is correct that improper service does not require the court to dismiss an action where service may still be obtained given that the Trustee asserts the time limit for filing the action has not expired. Grammenos v. Lemos, 457 F.2d 1067, 1070 (2d Cir. 1972) (internal citations omitted).

Finally, the Opposition asserts that the Trustee's refusal to withdraw the Motion after being notified that he had improperly served the Parks, constitutes an abuse of process. On these grounds, the Opposition seeks an award of fees and costs in an amount of $1,200 for having had to file opposition to the Motion. However, pursuant to §105(a), the Court's inherent power to award sanctions requires that the litigant must have "engaged in bad faith or willful disobedience of a court's order." Chambers v. NASCO, Inc., 501 U.S. 32, 45-47 (1991). In Chambers, the Court left no question that a court may levy fee-based sanctions when a party has acted in bad faith, vexatiously, wantonly, or for oppressive reasons, delaying or disrupting litigation, or has taken actions in the litigation for an improper purpose. Here, the record does not support a finding that the Trustee had the requisite bad faith. Instead, the Trustee relied upon the statements of the Parks' own daughter and on the bankruptcy petition in determining to serve the Defendants at the Kostka address. Moreover, the Court is not inclined to award fees on a request in an opposition to a motion. The Defendants are free to seek sanctions via request for an order to show cause pursuant to LBR 9020.

TENTATIVE RULING

For the foregoing reasons, the Motion is denied without prejudice.

BACKGROUND

On December 8, 2017, Mark Bastorous and Bernadette Shenouda (collectively, "Debtors") filed their petition for chapter 7 relief. Subsequent to the filing, five adversary suits were filed by various plaintiffs alleging that the Debtors engaged in fraudulent business transactions in connection with their real estate business activities.

On March 12, 2018, the instant adversary proceeding ("Complaint") was filed by Chienan Chen and Chun-Wu Li ("Plaintiffs") against the Debtors and 3 Columnar Ladera LLC, Mike Bareh, and MB Capital Group LLC (collectively, "Defendants"). An amended complaint was filed by the Plaintiffs on April 8, 2018 (the "FAC"). On May 25, 2018, the after Defendants filed their first motions to dismiss, the parties stipulated to permit the filing of a Second Amended Complaint the ("SAC") and the motions to dismiss were taken off calendar. The SAC was filed on June 15, 2018.

On June 29, 2018, the Debtors filed a motion to dismiss the SAC ("Motion"). Plaintiffs filed their Opposition to the Motion on August 8, 2018 ("Opposition"). Debtors filed their reply on August 15, 2018 ("Reply"). The SAC seeks a determination of nondischargeability under §§ 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6).

LEGAL STANDARD

In reviewing a motion to dismiss under Rule 12(b)(6), a court may only consider the complaint, documents incorporated by reference in the complaint, and matters of judicial notice. United States v. Ritchie, 342 F.3d 903, 908 (9th Cir. 2003). A court accepts the plaintiff's factual allegations in the complaint as true and construes them in the light most favorable to the plaintiff. Shwarz v. United States, 234 F.3d 428, 435 (9th Cir. 2000). "Dismissal can be based on the lack of a cognizable legal theory or the absence of sufficient facts alleged under a cognizable legal theory." Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dep't, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1988).

Rule 12(b)(6) must be read in conjunction with Rule 8(a), which requires "a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief." Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2); see Ileto v. Glock, 349 F.3d 1191, 1200 (9th Cir. 2003). "While legal conclusions can provide the framework of a complaint, they must be supported by factual allegations." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 679 (2009). To plead sufficiently, a plaintiff must proffer "enough facts to state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face." Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007). "A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged." Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678. Accordingly, "where the claim is plausible—meaning something more than a sheer possibility, but less than a probability—the plaintiff's failure to prove the case on the pleadings does not warrant dismissal." OSU Student All. v. Ray, 699 F.3d 1053, 1078 (9th Cir. 2012) (internal quotation marks omitted).

Rule 9(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure ("Rule 9(b)") provides that "[i]n alleging fraud or mistake, a party must state with particularity the circumstances constituting fraud or mistake." Fed. R. Civ. P. 9(b). This is because allegations of fraud "must be specific enough to give a defendant notice" of its allegedly fraudulent conduct so that the defendant "may defend against the charge." MacDonald v. Ford Motor Co., 37 F. Supp. 3d 1087, 1092 (N.D. Cal. 2014) (citing Semegen v. Weidner, 780 F.2d 727, 731 (9th Cir. 1985)). As a general matter, allegations sounding in fraud "must satisfy the particularity requirement of Rule 9(b)." Kearns v. Ford Motor Co., 567 F.3d 1120, 1125 (9th Cir. 2009) (citing Vess v. Ciba-Geigy Corp. USA, 317 F.3d 1097, 1103–04 (9th Cir. 2003).)

While Rule 9(b) requires that Plaintiffs allege fraud with particularity, "knowledge[] and other conditions of a person's mind may be alleged generally." Fed. R. Civ. P. 9(b). In other words, "[t]he requirements of Rule 9(b) may be 'relaxed as to Similarly, for allegations based upon "information and belief" to be facially plausible, either the facts on which the allegations are based must be "peculiarly within the possession and control of the defendant," or the belief must be "based on factual information that makes the inference of culpability plausible." Vavak v. Abbott Labs., Inc., 2011 WL 10550065, at *2 (C.D. Cal. June 17, 2011) (quoting Arista Records, LLC v. Doe 3, 604 F.3d 110, 120 (2d Cir. 2010).) "To satisfy Rule 9(b), a pleading must identify the who, what, when, where, and how of the misconduct charged, as well as what is false or misleading about [the purportedly fraudulent] statement, and why it is false." Mui Ho v. Toyota Motor Corp., 931 F. Supp. 2d 987, 992 (N.D. Cal. 2013) (quoting Cafasso, United States ex rel v. Gen. Dynamics C4 Sys., Inc., 637 F.3d 1047, 1055 (9th Cir. 2011)) (internal quotation marks omitted) (formatting in original).

DISCUSSION

As a threshold matter, the Debtors assert that the SAC is insufficient because the Plaintiffs have not "made a connection to the underlying non-bankruptcy law cause of action supporting the request for money judgment". (Mot. at p. 5). The prayer for relief, however, belies Debtors' contention in that the Plaintiffs plainly seek a nondischargeability determination as to the debts represented by the $150,000 and $100,000 loans allegedly made by Chen and Li, respectively. Moreover, Counts 1 and 2 of the SAC explicitly make reference only to nondischargeability claims. However, the Debtors are correct that to the extent that the SAC seeks compensatory damages, the Court's eventual judgment will not award such fees absent a request for and determination regarding a money judgment. Absent such a request, the Court's final ruling shall be limited to the entry of a judgment as to the nondischargeability claims.

The remainder of the Motion asserts in generalized fashion that the SAC fails to plead sufficient factual content to support the claims under §§ 523(a)(2)(A) and (a) (6) arguing in essence that the SAC's failure to specifically enumerate how each allegation ties to the elements of the nondischargeability claims should be fatal. Here, the SAC plainly satisfies the Rule 8(a) and Rule 9 standards and sets forth a plain statement indicating how the Defendant Bastorous and his "alter ego" companies engaged in a scheme to induce investors into lending funds for real estate projects while omitting and/or misrepresenting the true uses of the funds loaned. The allegations in the SAC plausibly assert that Bastorous and Bareh obtained the loans from Plaintiffs by misrepresentations, fraud and/or that they caused willful and malicious injury to the Plaintiffs.

Finally, the Court finds that the SAC only in conclusory fashion makes reference to Bernadett Shenouda. As such, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion as to Shenouda without prejudice. Additionally, although the SAC makes reference to § 523(a)(4) in ¶ 24, this claim is not otherwise referenced in the complaint and as such, the Court infers that the Plaintiffs opted not to pursue a claim for nondischargeability on this basis.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to DENY the Motion in its entirety as to Defendant Bastorous but to GRANT the Motion in its entirety as to Defendant Shenouda.

DISCUSSION

The burden of establishing subject matter jurisdiction rests on the party asserting that the court has jurisdiction. McNutt v. GM Acceptance Corp., 298 U.S. 178, 182–83 (1936). Bankruptcy courts have subject matter jurisdiction over proceedings "arising under title 11, or arising in or related to cases under title 11." 28 U.S.C. § 1334(b); see also id. 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(1). The Court has neither "arising under" nor "arising in" jurisdiction over Defendant Bareh because the claims asserted against him do not arise under title 11, nor are they created or determined by the bankruptcy code. Thus, the only possible basis for this Court's jurisdiction over Defendant Bareh is "related to" jurisdiction.

"A bankruptcy court's 'related to' jurisdiction is very broad, including nearly every matter directly or indirectly related to the bankruptcy." Sasson v. Sokoloff (In re Sasson), 424 F.3d 864, 868 (9th Cir.2005) (internal quotation marks omitted).

The Ninth Circuit has adopted the definition of "related to" jurisdiction expressed by the Third Circuit in Pacor, Inc. v. Higgins, 743 F.2d 984, 994 (3rd Cir.1984). See In re Fietz, 852 F.2d 455, 457 (9th Cir.1988). Under that formulation, a civil proceeding is "related to" the bankruptcy if its outcome could conceivably have any effect on the bankruptcy estate. The proceeding need not be against the debtor or the debtor's property. It is sufficient if the "outcome could alter the debtor's rights, liabilities, options, or freedom of action (either positively or negatively) and which in any way impacts upon the handling and administration of the bankruptcy estate." Fietz, 852 F.2d at 457 (9th Cir.1988) (quoting Pacor, 743 F.2d at 994).

The United States Supreme Court has also recognized the definition of "related to" jurisdiction formulated in Pacor. The Court noted that although Congress intended the "related to" language to evidence a jurisdictional "grant of some breadth," it was not intended to be "limitless." Celotex Corporation v. Edwards, 514 U.S. 300, —, —,

Here, there is no evidentiary record to indicate what effect a ruling on the securities fraud claims might have on the Debtors' bankruptcy estate. The Debtors are named as defendants in the SAC but only as to the Plaintiffs' nondischargeability claims. There is no analysis of how judgment in favor of the Plaintiffs as against Bareh would have any impact on the substantive rights of the Debtors or the estate. In re ACI-HDT Supply Co., 205 B.R. 231, 237 (9th Cir. BAP 1997). Plaintiffs have not demonstrated, for example, that Debtors could be bound by res judicata or collateral estoppel based on entry of judgment against Bareh on the claims asserted. Absent such analysis and evidence, the Plaintiffs have failed to meet their burden to establish this Court's subject matter jurisdiction over Bareh.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion as to Bareh and DISMISS Count 3. Dismissal is without prejudice.

Docket 17

Tentative Ruling:

08/22/2018

BACKGROUND

On December 8, 2017, Mark Bastorous and Bernadette Shenouda (collectively, "Debtors" or "Defendants") filed their petition for chapter 7 relief.

On March 12, 2018, Mona and Rafet Gerges and St. Mary Properties, LLC (collectively, Plaintiffs") filed their complaint for dischargeability determination under §§ 523(a)(2), (a)(4), and (a)(6) and for a finding of Alter Ego liability and an award of attorneys' fees and costs (the "Complaint"). The Complaint alleges generally that the Plaintiffs made loans in the original amount of $540,000 plus interest at 1.66% every six months (the "Advances") to Defendants' wholly owned entity, MRM Investment Group Inc. ("MRM") and by deposits with Defendants' wholly owned corporate entity Professional Investment Group, LLC ("PIG"), secured by real property located at 2311 S. 6th Avenue, Arcadia, CA 91006 (the "Arcadia Property").

The Court dismissed the Complaint with leave to amend on May 16, 2018. The First Amended Complaint was filed on June 15, 2018 (the "FAC"). On June 29, 2018, the Debtors filed their Motion to Dismiss the FAC ("Motion"). The Plaintiffs filed their Opposition on August 7, 2018 ("Opposition"). A reply by the Debtors was filed on August 15, 2018 ("Reply").

Rule 7012, a bankruptcy court may dismiss a complaint if it fails to "state a claim upon which relief can be granted." In reviewing a Civil Rule 12(b)(6) motion, the trial court must accept as true all facts alleged in the complaint and draw all reasonable inferences in favor of the plaintiff. Navarro v. Block, 250 F.3d 729, 732 (9th Cir. 2001). However, the trial court need not accept as true conclusory allegations in a complaint or legal characterizations cast in the form of factual allegations. Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555–56, 127 S.Ct. 1955, 167 L.Ed.2d 929 (2007); Hartman v. Gilead Scis., Inc. (In re Gilead Scis. Sec. Litig.), 536 F.3d 1049, 1055 (9th Cir. 2008).

To avoid dismissal under Civil Rule 12(b)(6), a plaintiff must aver in the complaint "sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.'" Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678, 129 S.Ct. 1937, 173 L.Ed.2d 868 (2009) (quoting Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570, 127 S.Ct. 1955). It is axiomatic that a claim cannot be plausible when it has no legal basis. A dismissal under Civil Rule 12(b)(6) may be based either on the lack of a cognizable legal theory or on the absence of sufficient facts alleged under a cognizable legal theory. Johnson v. Riverside Healthcare Sys., 534 F.3d 1116, 1121 (9th Cir.2008).

Rule 9(b)

Allegations regarding fraud are subject to a heightened pleading standard. Civil Rule 9(b), made applicable to adversary proceedings by Rule 7009, requires that a plaintiff must state "with particularity the circumstances constituting fraud...." The Ninth Circuit has provided guidance for the "with particularity" requirement by stating that to comport with Civil Rule 9(b) the complaint must (1) specify the averred fraudulent representations; (2) aver the representations were false when made; (3) identify the speaker; (4) state when and where the statements were made; and (5) state the manner in which the representations were false and misleading. Lancaster Cmty. Hosp. v. Antelope Valley Hosp. Dist., 940 F.2d 397, 405 (9th Cir.1991).

Because fraud encompasses a wide variety of circumstances, the requirements of Civil Rule 9(b)—like Civil Rule 8(a)(2)—should provide all defendants with sufficient information to formulate a response. Therefore, the complaint cannot lump multiple defendants together but must "inform each defendant separately of the allegations surrounding [its] alleged participation in the fraud." Swartz v. KPMB LLP, 476 F.3d 756, 764–65 (9th Cir. 2007).

However, in Cooper v. Pickett, 137 F.3d 616, 627 (9th Cir.1997), the Ninth Circuit acknowledged that "[e]very transaction alleged to be fraudulent does not have to be detailed in the complaint." Instead, the Rule 9(b) requirement is satisfied where the Complaint sets forth an explanation as to why the transactions were false or misleading. See Cooper v. Pickett, 137 F.3d at 625; see also In re Dreier LLP, 453 B.R. 499, 508-09 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2011) ("Under appropriate circumstances, multiple transactions will be collapsed and treated as steps in a single transaction for analysis under the fraudulent conveyance laws.").

FRAUD AND WILLFUL AND MALICIOUS INJURY

Allegations regarding fraud or misrepresentation are subject to a heightened pleading standard. Civil Rule 9(b), made applicable to adversary proceedings by Rule 7009, requires that a plaintiff must state "with particularity the circumstances constituting fraud...." The Ninth Circuit has provided guidance for the "with particularity" requirement by stating that to comport with Civil Rule 9(b) the complaint must (1) specify the averred fraudulent representations; (2) aver the representations were false when made; (3) identify the speaker; (4) state when and where the statements were made; and (5) state the manner in which the representations were false and misleading. Lancaster Cmty. KPMB LLP, 476 F.3d 756, 764–65 (9th Cir. 2007).

In the FAC, Plaintiffs more clearly set forth that they were induced to invest in the Defendants' real estate enterprises based both on affirmative misrepresentations regarding the uses for which the Plaintiffs' investments would be employed by the Defendants. (FAC at ¶19) and based on omissions regarding material facts relevant to the transactions (FAC at ¶14) such as the failure to disclose that a Deed of Trust in favor of the Plaintiffs would be junior to another Deed of Trust (a fact which ultimately resulted in elimination of the Plaintiff's Deed of Trust via foreclosure. FAC also clarifies that with respect to the Office Property, that the Defendants allegedly knew but failed to disclose that there was a delinquency owed to Wells Fargo Bank, whose lien was senior in priority to the lien granted to the Plaintiffs. (FAC at ¶¶32-33). The FAC then goes on to detail at least three other instances in which Defendants failed to disclose material facts regarding other encumbrances on properties that were senior to the interests conveyed to Plaintiffs by the Defendants to secure loans from them.

In sum, the Court finds that the FAC sufficiently details facts which plausibly set forth claims for actual fraud/misrepresentation and willful and malicious injury under §§ 523(a)(2) and (a)(6).

DECLARATORY RELIEF and ATTORNEY FEES AND COSTS

The sole grounds advanced for dismissal of the Third and Fourth Claims is that assuming the Court dismisses the First and Second Claims, these claims cannot stand alone. Given that the Court is inclined to DENY the Motion as to the First and Second Claims, the Court also is inclined to DENY the Motion as to the Third and Fourth Claims for lack of cause shown.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to DENY the Motion in its entirety.

8/23/18

BACKGROUND

On December 17, 2014, Gilbert & Mary Holguin ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. On January 28, 2015, Debtors' Chapter 13 plan was confirmed.

On August 2, 2018, Debtors filed a motion to waive requirement of application for discharge for Gilbert Holguin ("Gilbert"). The motion indicates that Gilbert passed away in September 2016. On August 6, 2018, Trustee filed comments indicating approval on the condition that a death certificate be provided.

DISCUSSION

The material relief requested in the motion at issue is a request for certain discharge requirements, outlined in 11 U.S.C. § 1328, to be waived for Gilbert. One court, in considering the applicability of the § 1328 certification requirements to a deceased debtor, stated the following: "The fact that a debtor has died does not necessarily preclude entry of a discharge. However, for a discharge to be granted, a debtor must still meet the requirements of 11 U.S.C. § 1328." In re Bouton, 2013 WL 5536212 at *1 (Bankr. S.D. Ga. 2013). The Court in Bouton avoided the requirements by noting that the instructional course requirement is waived for deceased debtors pursuant to § 109(h)(4).

11 U.S.C. § 1328(a) and (h) outline certain requirements which must be satisfied in order for a Chapter 13 debtor to obtain a discharge. 11 U.S.C. § 1328(a) states, in pertinent part:

- (a) Subject to subsection (d), as soon as practicable after completion by the debtor of all payments under the plan, and in the case of a debtor who is required by a judicial or administrative order, or by statute, to pay a domestic support obligation, after such debtor certifies that all amounts payable, after such debtor certifies that all amounts payable under such order or such statute that are due on or before the date of the certification (including amounts due before the petition was filed, but only to the extent provided for by the plan) have been paid . . .

There does appear to be at least one bankruptcy court that specifically addressed the applicability of the § 1328(a) and (h) requirements to a deceased debtor in a jointly filed Chapter 13 case, In re Levy, 2014 WL 1323165 (Bankr. N.D. Ohio 2014). Notably, the Court stated the following:

Only two documents now stand between the deceased debtor and a discharge: the certifications regarding DSO obligations and § 1328(h). Since further administration was possible, the question becomes whether there is anything either so personal or unique about the end-of-case requirements to prevent either waiver or satisfaction of the requirements by another on behalf [of] a deceased debtor.

Id. at *2. Summarily, the court in Levy reached the following conclusion:

Chapter 13

Since the § 1328(a) certification appears to fall under the latter category [not altering liability on a debt], the court finds no reason that the DSO certification requirement cannot be undertaken by another in appropriate circumstances. The requirement therefore does not impede "further administration" contemplated under Rule 1016.

Similarly, the court reaches the same conclusion about § 1328(h), albeit along slightly divergent reasoning.

Id. at *3. The Court agrees with the result reached in Levy. If the certification requirements imposed by § 1328 (a) & (h) invariably required an action to be taken by the debtor personally, the purpose of FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 1016, which permits the continued administration of a Chapter 13 case when appropriate, would be frustrated.

Finally, the Levy stated the following:

For the purposes of filing end of the case documents, the court finds that a person with specific knowledge of the deceased debtor's finances may act on behalf of the debtor in completing the § 1328(a) and (h) certifications. To establish knowledge, the person must file an affidavit outlining a sufficient factual foundation in order to establish a fitting record.

Id. at *4. In accordance with Levy, the Court will not outright waive a requirement imposed by the Bankruptcy Code, but will allow the requirement to be satisfied by an individual with "specific knowledge of the deceased debtor's finances."

#4.00 Debtor's Motion for Authority to Refinance Real Property LBR 3015-1(p)

EH ____

Docket 47

Tentative Ruling:

8/23/18

BACKGROUND

On March 16, 2016, Juventino & Julie Ramos ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. On June 14, 2016, Debtors' Chapter 13 plan was confirmed.

On July 6, 2018, Debtors filed a motion for authority to refinance real property. Pursuant to the refinancing, Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. ("Wells Fargo"), the current holder of the first trust deed, will be paid in full, and American Pacific Mortgage will be granted a first trust deed securing a claim of $364,672. On July 10, 2018, Trustee filed comments indicating approving. On July 19, 2018, Wells Fargo filed a conditional non-opposition. On August 2, 2018, Debtors set the matter for hearing.

DISCUSSION

Wells Fargo's conditional non-opposition contains the following conditions:

Tentative Ruling:

11/30/17

BACKGROUND

On February 21, 2017, Ernie Macias ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 13 relief. The Debtor's case was filed by Alon Darvish ("Darvish"). On March 13, 2017, the Debtor's case was dismissed for failure to file information.

On March 24, 2017, the Office of the United States Trustee ("UST") filed a Motion to Disgorge Attorney's Fees ("Disgorgement Motion"). On June 13, 2017, the Court granted in part and denied in part the UST's Disgorgement Motion (the "Disgorgement Order"). The Disgorgement Order required Darvish to file his disclosure of compensation, and to disgorge fees received from the Debtor back to him.

On September 20, 2017, the UST filed its Motion For An Order To Show Cause Why Alon Darvish Should Not Be Held In Contempt Of Court Pursuant To 11 U.S.C. § 105 And Federal Rule Of Bankruptcy Procedure 9020 (the "Motion for OSC"). The Motion for OSC specifically asserted that Darvish had failed to comply with any part of the Disgorgement Order. The UST's Motion for OSC further asserted that Darvish had repeatedly failed to disclose compensation and had been sanctioned for such conduct under similar circumstances in at least 6 other cases. (Motion for OSC at 9).

Chapter 13

On October 20, 2017, the Court granted the Motion for OSC and ordered Darvish to show cause why he should not be held in contempt (the "OSC"). Darvish filed his response to the OSC on November 16, 2017 ("Response"). On November 21, 2017, the UST replied to the Response.

DISCUSSION

In his Response, Darvish indicated that his practice includes the filing of skeletal petitions for chapter 13 debtors for the purpose of stopping foreclosures. He indicated that when such skeletal petitions are filed, his software does not file the Disclosure of Compensation. Darvish asserts that he is a solo practitioner who is overwhelmed and understaffed and who is trying to rectify the issues in his practice. In Reply, the UST objects particularly to Darvish's failure to outline specific steps he intends to take to remedy the issues at his firm. The UST is also concerned that Darvish has essentially admitted that his practice includes the filing of abusive petitions intended solely to avoid foreclosures. The UST requests that the Court continue the matter for Darvish to set forth specific remedial actions as ordered. The UST also requests that the Court separately consider whether a separate order to show cause is justified based on Darvish's inherently abusive prevention practice.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court agrees with the UST that Darvish's explanation is insufficient. Darvish's Response indicates clearly the reason for the failure to file disclosure of compensation forms. Despite this fact, he does not explain the ongoing failure to file these forms, particularly where he has previously been sanctioned for failing to disclose his compensation. The ongoing failure to file required documents, despite having already been sanctioned, supports the UST's request for a specific plan of remediation. Absent such plan, Darvish may simply continue to rely on his thus far unreliable bankruptcy filing software.

Separately, the UST's concern regarding Darvish's practice of filing skeletal petitions is well-taken. In particular, if Darvish is advising his clients to file abusive petitions to

Docket 63

Tentative Ruling:

8/23/18

BACKGROUND

On March 18, 2017, Irma Cantu ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. On June 15, 2018, Debtor's Chapter 13 plan was confirmed.

Three days later, Trustee filed a motion to dismiss for failure to submit tax returns or refunds. Debtor did not file an opposition to the motion. After no appearance was made on behalf of Debtor at the motion to dismiss, the case was dismissed on July 25, 2018.

The day before the case was formally dismissed, Debtor filed a motion to vacate a dismissal order which did not yet exist. On July 25, 2018, Trustee filed comments indicating conditional approval of the motion.

DISCUSSION

Debtor relies on FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(b)(1), incorporated into bankruptcy proceedings by FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9024, which allows for relief from an order based on "mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect."

The legal basis for Debtor's assertion that the dismissal order should be vacated is that Debtor's counsel inadvertently did not appear at the hearing due to an office error. It is well established, however, that "an attorney's ignorance and carelessness does not provide grounds for Rule 60(b) relief." In re Mercado, 144 B.R. 879, 886 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1992) (citing Bershad v. McDonough, 469 F.2d 1333, 1337 (7th Cir. 1972)). And the mere assertion that counsel did not fulfill its duties, but that such carelessness was inadvertent, is clearly inadequate to support Rule 60(b) relief. See, e.g., In re ACME Motors, Inc., 125 B.R. 702, 703 (Bankr. D.R.I. 1991).

"Rule 60(b) relief is extraordinary." Id. Yet, in this court, a request for relief from a Chapter 13 dismissal order has become ordinary. On occasion, the requests are legally sound. Here, however, the evidence provided simply indicates that Debtor's counsel did not attend the hearing for reasons that are unclear or unstated.

The Seventh Circuit has stated that:

[T]he clients are principals, the attorney is an agent, and under the law of agency the principal is bound by his chosen agent's deeds. The rule is that all of the attorney's misconduct (except in the cases where the act is outside the scope of employment or in cases of excusable neglect) becomes the problem of the client. A lawyer who inexcusably neglects his client's obligations does not present exceptional circumstances.

Bakery Mach. & Fabrication, Inc. v. Traditional Baking, Inc., 570 F.3d 845, 848 (7th Cir. 2009). "Although attorney carelessness can [in certain circumstances] constitute 'excusable neglect' under Rule 60(b)(1), attorney inattentiveness to litigation is not excusable, no matter what the resulting consequences the attorney's somnolent

#8.00 Motion RE: Objection to Claim Number 5 by Claimant Alderson Law Firm

EH__

Docket 41

Tentative Ruling:

8/23/18

BACKGROUND:

On September 21, 2017, Ignacio Figueroa ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. On November 13, 2017, Debtor's Chapter 13 plan was confirmed.

The claims bar date was January 24, 2018. On June 11, 2018, Alederson Law Firm ("Creditor") filed an unsecured claim in the amount of $240,402.04 ("Claim 5"). On June 29, 2018, Debtor filed an objection to Claim as untimely.

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). See Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Specialists, Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000). When a party files an objection to a proof of claim, that filing "creates a dispute which is a contested matter" within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and the Court must resolve the matter after notice and opportunity for hearing

Chapter 13

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." In re Medina, 205 B.R. 216, 222 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. See In re Consol. Pioneer Mort, 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; see also Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

11 U.S.C. § 502(b)(9) provides that failure to timely file a claim is grounds for disallowance of the claim. Creditor cites § 726(a)(3) as a basis for allowance of a tardily filed claim, but that section is only applicable to Chapter 7 cases. Creditor's legal analysis refers to state law and state cases, which have no bearing on bankruptcy law and bankruptcy cases.

Docket 144

Tentative Ruling:

8/23/18

On December 13, 2017, Sean Coy ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. Ultimately, on July 11, 2018, the case was dismissed. Subsequent to dismissal, Debtor's counsel, Kim Law Group, P.C. ("Counsel") filed three separate fee applications relating to three different legal matters. On July 24, 2018, Trustee filed comments requesting a hearing on all three applications, although Trustee did not indicate its position on the requested fees.

I. Fee Application #1 (Dkt. No. 138, amended by Dkt No. 142, then withdrawn by Dkt. No. 143, then amended against by Dkt. No. 144):

It appears that this application requests fees relating to two categories: (1) basic services; and (2) non-basic services. Counsel states that Debtor agreed to pay $6,000 pursuant to the RARA but has, to date, only paid $1,036, leaving $4,964 unpaid. Counsel also requests an additional $3,745 for non-basic services, billed at a rate of $350/hour. The Court notes that, pursuant to the RARA filed in this case [Dkt. No. 32], Debtor agreed to pay $6,000 for basic services, and the guidelines permit a maximum fee of $6,000 for basic services. In the absence of any opposition to this request, given that the amount requested falls within the range permitted by this district, and given the billing records submitted as Attachment A to the application, the Court is inclined to approve the $4,964 fees requested for basic services.

The second categories of fees requested, fees for non-basic services, relate to fees related to work on a pending adversary proceeding. The Court notes that Debtor was not a party in the adversary proceeding; instead, both parties in the adversary proceeding were lienholders, although Debtor was directly involved in the discovery conducted. Nevertheless, Counsel billed $1,575 for review of pleadings filed in the case. Given that Debtor was not a party in the adversary proceeding, the Court finds these "review" entries to be unreasonable. The Court is inclined to approve the remaining $2,170 in fees which were related to discovery in the proceeding.

II. Fee Application #2 (Dkt. No. 145)

The second fee applications requests $1,250 for a motion to avoid lien (Dkt. No 46). The Court notes that the amount requested is the presumptively reasonable fee in the Court Manual. In the absence of any opposition to this request, the Court is inclined to approve the presumptively reasonable request of $1,250.

III. Fee Application #3 (Dkt. No. 146)

The third fee application requests $2,378.96 for an opposed motion to avoid lien (Dkt. No. 111). The Court has reviewed Counsel's billing entries and, in the absence of any opposition to this request, the Court is inclined to approve this fees in their entirety.

Tentative Ruling:

The Court is inclined to approve the fees requested in docket number 144 in a reduced amount of $7,134, and approve the second and third fee applications in their entirety.

Docket 63

Tentative Ruling:

8/23/18

BACKGROUND

On February 2, 2012, Michelle Maki ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. On February 9, 2015, Debtor's Chapter 13 plan was confirmed. Subsequently, there were two orders to modify the plan.

On May 21, 2018, Debtors filed a motion for hardship discharge. The basis for the hardship discharge is that Debtor's cousin, who had been contribution $1,200 to Debtor as a joint-tenant at Debtor's residence, passed away on October 12, 2017. On May 22, 2018, Trustee filed an objection to the motion. On July 23, 2018, Debtor filed a reply.

DISCUSSION

11 U.S.C. § 1328(b) states:

(b) Subject to subsection (d), at any time after the confirmation of the plan and after notice and a hearing, the court may grant a discharge to a debtor that has not completed payments under the plan only if –

- (1) the debtor's failure to complete such payments is due to circumstances for which the debtor should not justly be held accountable;
- (2) the value, as of the effective date of the plan, of property actually distributed under the plan on account of each allowed unsecured claim is not less than the amount that would have been paid on such claim if the estate of the debtor had been liquidated under chapter 7 of this title on such date; and
- (3) modification of the plan under section 1329 of this title is not practicable.

The first and third standard are discretionary standards. The second standard is a mechanical standard referred to as the "best interests of creditors test". Debtors stated they have met the test because their Chapter 13 plan indicates that Chapter 7 liquidation would not result in any payment to unsecured creditors. Trustee disputes this assertion, arguing that Debtor's second property, located in Arizona, was undervalued on the schedules, and, therefore, there is nonexempt equity available for distribution to unsecured creditors in a hypothetical Chapter 7 proceeding. While Debtor's reply provides significant documentation, the material provided is less than clear and is not authenticated. Therefore, the Court would require clear evidence of the value of the property located at 2245 Del Rey Dr., Bullhead City, AZ 86442.

Trustee argues that "Debtor has failed to demonstrate that the proposed failure to complete payments under the plan is due to circumstances for which the debtor should not be held accountable." The loss of income is, in this situation, clearly a factor beyond Debtor's control. The evidence provided in the motion, however, fails to establish any steps taken by Debtor to remarket the property which was the basis for the rental income. Such evidence would be required to establish that the first prong has been satisfied.

Trustee also argues that "Debtor has failed to demonstrate that modification of the plan under 11 U.S.C. 1329 is not practicable." The Court notes that the motion, as an attachment, contains amended Schedules I/J, however, those schedules were not filed separately on the docket. Furthermore, as noted by Trustee, the home costs outlined on Schedule J contradict the home costs identified in the motion's declaration. For these reasons, the Court concludes that the third prong has not been satisfied at this time.

Trustee also argues that Debtor has failed to provide copies of her 2017 tax returns. The Court notes that there is a pending motion to dismiss on that basis currently set for November 8, 2018. Compliance with this duty would be a prerequisite to any hardship discharge.

Trustee argues that Debtor is asking in bad faith because she was previously permitted to retain tax refunds through a stipulation. The Court disagrees on this point. The order approving the stipulation essentially modified the terms of the plan. Functionally, this stipulation resulted in the equivalent of a suspension of plan payments, to be paid through the plan at a later date. There is no clear reason why such deferred payments would have to be reimbursed prior to a hardship discharge being granted. The failures regarding the reduced mortgage payment, however, do appear to suggest bad faith.

Last, the Court does not accept that a failure of a third party to make "contributions" is a circumstance for which a debtor should not be held accountable for purposes of 11 U.S.C. § 1328(b).

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to DENY the motion without prejudice.

The Court is inclined to DENY the motion for failure to establish that the secured claim of Adobe Springs Village HOA is "a lien on an interest of the debtor in property." Specifically, the Court notes that the abstract of judgment attached to the motion indicates that the defendant is an individual named "Steven M. Caldwell"—who is not the Debtor in the instant case. Docket 15

Tentative Ruling:

08/02/18

BACKGROUND

On May 31, 2018, Gabriel and Jeneke Blanco (collectively, "Debtors") filed their petition for chapter 13 relief. Among the assets of the estate is a 2015 Heartland North Trail Caliber Series M-33BKSS (the "RV"). On June 15, 2018, the Debtors filed their Motion to Value the RV ("Motion"). No opposition has been filed.

DISCUSSION

One of the benefits of filing a Chapter 13 bankruptcy is that under § 506(a) the debtor can bifurcate a secured, unavoidable debt, with one part representing the amount of the value of the collateral, and the deficiency being treated as an unsecured claim. See In re Penrod, 636 F.3d 1175, 1177 (9th Cir. 2011).

The Debtors assert that the RV's value, and thus its secured portion, should be determined to be $24,575, with an unsecured deficiency claim for $5,047.70. In support the Debtor asserts that he consulted the NADA Guide. However, a copy of the NADA Guide report was not attached. Nor did the Debtors attach a Certificate of Title indicating the identity of the lienholder or a statement regarding the balance owed.

Chapter 13

As Claimant, Bank of the West, filed Proof of Claim No. 8-1, the Court can overcome the necessity of a Certificate of Title or statement regarding the balance owed. However, to meet their evidentiary burden, the Debtors must provide admissible evidence of the NADA guide report they consulted to determine the value of the RV.

TENTATIVE RULING

For the foregoing reasons, the Court is inclined to CONTINUE the Motion for Debtors to file and serve a supplemental Debtor declaration providing evidence of the NADA guide report consulted to establish fair market value.

8/23/2018

BACKGROUND

On June 4, 2018, Reginald Caldwell ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. Among the assets of the estate is a 2016 Ford Fusion (the "Property"). On July 17, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to determine the value of the property. No opposition has been filed.

Debtor's motion contends that the value of the Property is $11,587, leaving an unsecured portion of $15,662. On August 7, 2018, Wells Fargo Bank filed a proof of claim ("Claim 7"), identifying a claim in the amount of $28,263.17, of which $11,650 is identified as secured.

DISCUSSION

One of the benefits of filing a Chapter 13 bankruptcy is that under § 506(a) the debtor can bifurcate a secured, unavoidable debt, with one part representing the amount of the value of the collateral, and the deficiency being treated as an unsecured claim. See In re Penrod, 636 F.3d 1175, 1177 (9th Cir. 2011).

The Debtors assert that the Property's value, and thus its secured portion, should be determined to be $11,587, with an unsecured deficiency claim for $15,662. In support of its valuation, Debtor has provided an "expert" declaration, with the declaration coming from a paralegal at Debtor's counsel's firm.

Given the absence of opposition to the motion, and the fact that Wells Fargo has already filed a proof of claim which identifies a value of the Property nearly identical to the proposed amount, the Court is inclined to accept Debtor's valuation of $11,587. The Court notes, however, that because the instant motion is not a claim objection, Wells Fargo's Claim 7 governs as to the amount of the total claim, and, thus, the unsecured portion.

Therefore, Claim 7 will be treated as a secured claim in the amount of $11,587, and an unsecured claim in the amount of $16,676.17.

Docket 100

Tentative Ruling:

11/28/2017
Service: Proper
Opposition: Yes

Debtors have provided evidence that regular payments were made between May 2016 and November 1, 2017 (with the exception of the August 2016 and December 2016 payments for which Debtors are seeking evidence). Exhibit 5, which is the Movant's summary of post-petition payments reflects numerous debits for 2016 payments which appears to corroborate Debtors' assertion that refunds were made due to a mix-up in payments being made by the Trustee's office.

#2.00 Motion Objecting To Debtors Claims Of Exemption In Proceeds From Personal Injury Case Pursuant To CCP § 704.140(b)

EH__

Docket 37

Tentative Ruling:

8/29/18

BACKGROUND

On March 22, 2011, Rene Ferrer & Lucia Lopez ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On July 27, 2011, Debtors received a discharge, and, one week later, the case was closed.

On August 11, 2017, Debtors filed a motion to reopen case. On June 8, 2018, approximately ten months after the motion was filed, an order was entered granting the motion to reopen for Debtor to file amended schedules. Pursuant to this order, the Debtors were permitted until September 6, 2018, to amend the schedules. On June 29, 2018, Debtors amended Schedule B to identify a claim of unknown value related to a personal injury claim in pending litigation in case 2:13-ev-10975. Debtors also exempted the claim on Schedule C (the "Exemption"). On July 9, 2018, the Court granted Trustee's application to employ Goe & Forsythe, LLP as general counsel.

On July 25, 2018, Trustee filed a motion objecting to the Exemption. Trustee argues that Debtors cannot claim exemptions under both CAL. CIV. P. CODE §§ 703 and 704. Trustee further argues that Debtors should be precluded from amending their exemptions on the basis of equitable estoppel or quasi-estoppel. Finally, Trustee appears to argue that the Court order permitting Debtors to amend their exemptions was improper in the absence of a Rule 9006 motion.

Debtors concede that it was improper to claim exemptions pursuant to both CAL. CIV. P. CODE §§ 703 and 704, but argue that they should not be estopped from further amending their schedules to properly exempt the personal injury claim.

DISCUSSION

CAL. CIV. P. CODE § 703.140(a)(1) states: "If spouses are joined in the petition, they jointly may elect to utilize the applicable exemption provisions of this chapter other than the provisions of subdivision (b), or to utilize the applicable exemptions set forth in subdivision (b), but not both." Debtors have conceded that it was improper to claim exemptions pursuant to both § 703 and § 704. Therefore, the Court will sustain Trustee's objection and deny Debtors' exemption.

The Court declines to reach Trustee's alternative arguments that estoppel principles should result in the denial of Debtors' exemption.

Trustee has also argued that Debtors failed to follow the procedural requirements for amending schedules after a case has been closed. The Court notes that there is case law which explicitly supports Trustee's argument. See, e.g., In re Dollman, 583 B.R. 268, 271-73 (Bankr. D.N.M. 2017) (summarizing different approaches); 9 COLLIER'S ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 1009.02[3] (16th ed. 2015) ("Once the case has been closed, a debtor may have to show excusable neglect in order to amend the schedule of exemptions."). There is also case law which explicitly disagrees with Trustee's argument. See, e.g., In re Goswami, 304 B.R. 386, 392 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2003) ("If the drafters had intended to require court permission before the filing of amended schedules in reopened cases, they would have explicitly said so.").

Chapter 7

Given the unsettled case law on this issue, the Court declines to reach this alternative argument at this point. Importantly, the Court notes, however, that there is currently an order on the docket allowing Debtors to file amended schedules until September 6, 2018. If Trustee believes this order was procedurally improper, a motion to reconsider might be warranted.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the objection.

#3.00 CONT Notice of Trustee's Final Report and Applications for Compensation

From: 8/1/18

EH__

Docket 112

Tentative Ruling:

8/1/18

On October 3, 2013, Iraj Maqsoudi ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On January 14, 2014, Debtor obtained a discharge. On January 15, 2014, Trustee filed an application to employ Wesley H. Avery, APC ("Counsel") as general bankruptcy counsel. That application was approved by the Court on February 13, 2014.

On January 21, 2014, Trustee filed a complaint against Mandana Banihashem for: (1) avoidance and recovery of fraudulent transfer; (2) avoidance and recovery of preferential transfer; and (3) accounting and turnover. Ultimately, on September 4, 2015, Trustee prevailed on summary judgment with regard to nine of the eleven causes of action.

On January 30, 2014, Trustee filed a complaint Debtor (1) to revoke the Debtor's discharge; and (2) for an accounting and turnover. Ultimately, this adversary was voluntarily dismissed by Trustee on July 12, 2016.

On December 2, 2015, the Court approved Trustee's application to employ Neiman Realty ("Broker") as a real estate broker. On March 22, 2016, the Court approved the sale of certain real property located at 11889 Magnolia Ave., Riverside, CA 92503, which was the subject of the transfer adversary proceeding, for the amount of $692,000.

On October 19, 2016, the Court approved Trustee's application to employ Donald Fife ("Accountant") as accountant.

Chapter 7

On February 2, 2017, Counsel filed a fee application in the aggregate amount of $158,944.97.¹ On April 3, 2017, Accountant filed a fee application in the aggregate amount of $2,401.10. Pursuant to Court order entered April 3, 2017, the Court also allowed an administrative expense for the attorney for creditor Mustafa Mayar, who conducted an examination of Debtor in the case, in the total amount of $8,491.02.

11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(3) (2005) provides factors to be considered in determining the reasonableness of requested compensation. After a review of Counsel's fee application, the Court has significant concerns with the amount requested, primarily based upon the excessiveness of the amounts billed, and the fact that the entire case was billed at $475/hour without any time billed by associations or paralegals at lower rates. For example, the first day that Counsel worked on the case, January 13, 2014, Counsel lists the following time entries (with the amount charged):

- Telephone conference with the Trustee regarding new matter: $95
- Review of encumbrances against commercial building and calculation of approximate fair market value: $712.50
- Review of motion for relief from stay filed by judgment creditor: $427.50
- Legal research in support of Trustee's opposition to motion for relief from stay filed by judgment creditor: $237.50
- Preparation of Trustee's opposition to motion for relief from stay filed by judgment creditor, and preparation of Memorandum of Points and Authorities in support thereof: $2,042.50
- Preparation of declarations in support of Trustee's opposition to motion for relief from stay filed by judgment creditor; telephone call with the Trustee's broker re same: $1,330
- Review and analysis of Notice of Claims Bar Date: $95
- Review of encumbrances against residence and calculation of approximate fair market value: $570.

The Court notes the following concerns with Counsel's billing on the first day on the case. First, 4.3 hours for the opposition and points and authorities appears excessive, given that the documents contain two paragraphs, two additional sentences, and some "fill-in-the-blank" responses. Second, 2.8 hours for the declarations appears excessive, given that each declaration is approximately one-page long. Third, the totality of 11.6 hours for what constituted opposing the relief from stay and, possibly, some minor case research, appears excessive. This is especially true in light of the fact that by the time Counsel had completed the opposition to the relief from stay, it had billed 10.2 hours for the day. The opposition, however, was filed at 3:50 p.m., implying that the telephone conference with the Trustee must have started no later than 5:38 a.m., even if Counsel worked continuously on the matter thereafter.

The issues noted above are not the exception in the billing summary submitted by Counsel, but, rather, the trend. Similarly, on March 10th and 11, 2014, Counsel billed nine hours for opposing Debtor's motion to convert to Chapter 13; Trustee's opposition was not extensive and Debtor's schedules indicated he had no disposable income at the time. Likewise, on October 31-November 1, 2016, Counsel billed 7.4 hours for preparation of the fee application narrative, which is approximately five pages long and mostly form language. Finally, between May 28, 2015 and June 10, 2015, Counsel billed 21.8 hours for the preparation of the pleadings related to the summary judgment motion in the § 548 adversary proceeding, which appears to include more than seven hours billed for the preparation of the Trustee's real estate broker's declaration, a declaration which was approximately a page and contained various broker documents as exhibits.

Additionally, Counsel's billing entries appear to include excessive charges for relatively routine tasks. The following are some of the examples:

1/16/14 – "Review of the discharge of the Debtor" -- $47.50
3/25/14 – "Review and analysis of tentative ruling for status conference" -- $95
4/30/14—"Preparation of request for mediation and order thereon" (two entries) -- $950

#6.00 Motion to Approve Compromise Under Rule 9019 between Larry D. Simons, Chapter 7 trustee and debtors

EH__

Docket 40

Tentative Ruling:

8/29/18

BACKGROUND

On May 12, 2017, Yvonne & Oscar Sanchez ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. Included on Schedule A was certain real property located at 5202 El Sueno St., San Antonio, TX 78233 (the "Property"). Trustee asserts that there is non-exempt equity in the Property

On July 24, 2018, Trustee filed a motion to approve compromise pursuant to FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9019. Trustee proposes to sell the non-exempt equity in the property to Debtor for $10,000.

DISCUSSION

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9019 provides that:

On motion by the trustee and after notice and a hearing, the court may approve a compromise or settlement. Notice shall be given to creditors, the United States trustee, the debtor, and indenture trustees as provided in Rule 2002 and to any other entity as the court may direct.

The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals have previously outlined the factors to be considered in approving a compromise pursuant to Rule 9019: (1) the probability of success in the litigation; (2) the difficulties to be encountered in the matter of collection; (3) the complexity, expense, inconvenience and delay of litigation; and (4) the interest of creditors with deference to their reasonable. See In re A&C Props., 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). The listed factors assist the Court in determining "the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement." Id.

Trustee's compromise motion does not provide the information the Court requires to apply the A&C Properties factors or to assess the reasonableness of the settlement because the motion fails to identify the value of the Property or estimate the value of the non-exempt equity in the Property, rendering it impossible to determining the reasonableness of the settlement amount.

In the absence of any evidence regarding the value of the Property or the value of the non-exempt equity in the Property, the Court cannot approve the compromise when only vague and general arguments have advanced in support of the compromise.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to CONTINUE the matter for Trustee to file a supplemental declaration.

EH__

Docket 46

Tentative Ruling:

8/29/18

BACKGROUND

On June 6, 2017, Sandra Harter ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On Schedule A, Debtor listed certain secondary real property located at 9628 7th St., Victorville, CA 92392 (the "Property"). On Schedule C, Debtor claimed an exemption in the Property in the amount of $175,000. On January 18, 2018, the Court approved a stipulation between Trustee and Debtor whereby Debtor would carve-out $40,000 of the scheduled exemption for the benefit of the estate. On February 27, 2018, the Court approved Trustee's application to employ Levene, Neal, Bender, Yoo & Brill L.L.P. as general counsel. On April 23, 2018, the Court approved Trustee's application to employ Steven Speier as real estate broker.

On August 8, 2018, Trustee filed a motion for an order: "(1) authorizing sale of estate's right, title and interest in real property free and clear of liens; (2) approving overbid procedures; (3) approving payment of real estate broker's commissions; and (4) finding purchasers are a [sic] good faith purchasers." The proposed sale price is $360,000. Trustee proposes to pay $132,000 to secured creditor Quicken Loans ("Creditor"), $135,000 for Debtor's exemption, and $28,800 for closing costs. The remaining $64,200 will accrue to the bankruptcy estate.

Chapter 7

On August 15, 2018, Creditor filed a conditional non-opposition to the sale motion. Creditor requests that the sale be conditioned on full payment of Creditor's lien "per a written, current payoff demand." From a review of the contents of the Motion filed, specifically the proposed distribution of sale proceeds, it is the Court's understanding that Trustee intends to satisfy the concerns of Creditor.

DISCUSSION

I. Sale of Estate Property

11 U.S.C. § 363(b)(1) allows a trustee to sell property of the estate outside of the ordinary course, after notice and a hearing. A sale pursuant to § 363(b) requires a demonstration that the sale has a valid business justification. In re 240 North Brand Partners, Ltd., 200 B.R. 653, 659 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1996). "In approving any sale outside the ordinary course of business, the court must not only articulate a sufficient business reason for the sale, it must further find it is in the best interest of the estate, i.e. it is fair and reasonable, that it has been given adequate marketing, that it has been negotiated and proposed in good faith, that the purchaser is proceeding in good faith, and that it is an "arms-length" transaction." In re Wilde Horse Enters., Inc., 136 B.R. 830, 841 (Bankr. C.D. Cal.).

While the motion contains minimal evidence of the Property's proposed marketing, Trustee has also secured a carve-out from Debtor's exemption and the purchase price is higher than the value of the Property identified on the schedules. Given the fact that the sale appears to be a good faith, arms-length transaction, and the fact that the estate would receive $64,200 for distribution to unsecured creditors, the Court concludes that Trustee has articulated an adequate business reason for the sale.

II. Sale Free & Clear of Liens

11 U.S.C. § 363(f) (2010) states:

(f) The trustee may sell property under subsection (b) or (c) of this section free and clear of any interest in such property of an entity other than the estate, only if-

- (1) applicable nonbankruptcy law permits sale of such property free and clear of such interest;
- (2) such entity consents;
- (3) such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is to be sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;
- (4) such interest is in bona fide dispute; or
- (5) such entity could be compelled, in a legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a money satisfaction of such interest.

Trustee contends that § 363(f)(3) is applicable. First, Trustee contends that aggregate value of all encumbrances on the property is $132,000, which is exceeded by the purchase price of $360,000.

Because Trustee has established that § 363(f)(3) is applicable, Trustee has met its burden in securing a sale free and clear of liens.

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 6004(h) states: "An order authorizing the use, sale, or lease of property other than cash collateral is stayed until the expiration of 14 days after entry of the order, unless the court orders otherwise." The Court deems the absence of objections to be consent to the relief requested, pursuant to Local Rule 9013-(1)(h), and, therefore, will waive the stay of Rule 6004(h).

IV. Miscellaneous Provisions

The Court has reviewed the remainder of Trustee's miscellaneous requests. The Court has reviewed the proposed overbidding procedures and finds such procedures to be reasonable. The Court has reviewed the requested Broker compensation of 6% of the sale price (totaling $21,600) and finds such compensation to be reasonable. The Court has reviewed Trustee's proposed distribution of sale proceeds, and the Court finds that such distribution is reasonable and proper.

Finally, the Court has reviewed the declarations of the purchasers, Oscar and Ana Garcia (the "Garcias"), and finds the declarations sufficient for a determination that the Garcias are good faith purchasers pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 363 (m).

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion in its entirety. Specifically, the Court is inclined to authorize the sale of the Property free and clear of liens, approve the overbid procedures, approve the Broker's compensation, determine that the Garcias are good faith purchasers and waive the 14-day stay under Rule 6004(h).

Tentative Ruling:

BACKGROUND

On June 29, 2016, John & Ellen Tackett ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On August 24, 2016, the Court approved Trustee's application to employ Goe & Forsythe, LLP as Trustee's counsel. On October 11, 2016, Debtors received a discharge.

On November 14, 2016, the Court granted Trustee's motion objecting to exemptions claimed in a Provident Trust Group account and in certain real property located in El Segundo.

On December 7, 2017, Trustee filed a motion for a Rule 2004 examination of Debtors. This motion was granted on January 2, 2018, and that matter was ultimately resolved on June 14, 2018.

Chapter 7

On June 20, 2018, Trustee filed a complaint for: (a) breach of written contract; (b) rescission and restitution for fraud; (c) money had and received; (d) unjust enrichment; (e) fraud; (f) negligent misrepresentation; (g) negligence; (h) rescission and restitution for sale of unqualified securities; (i) damages for sale of unqualified securities; (j) rescission: securities: misrepresentation; (k) damages: securities: misrepresentation; (l) contempt for willful violation of automatic stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 105; and (m) elder financial abuse. The complaint names as defendants: (1) Conestoga Settlement Services, LLC; (2) Conestoga International Holdings LLC; (3) Conestoga Trust; (4) Provident Trust Group, LLC; (5) De Leon & Washburn, P.C.; (6) Jeff Converse; (7) Michael Woods; (8) Michael McDermott; (9) Thomas Washburn; and (10) Hector De Leon.¹

On July 30, 2018, Hector De Leon, De Leon & Washburn, P.C., and Thomas Washburn (collectively, the "De Leon Defendants") filed a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim. On August 15, 2018, Trustee filed its opposition.

DISCUSSION

I. MOTION TO DISMISS STANDARD

In order to avoid dismissal pursuant to FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 12(b)(6), a complaint must allege sufficient factual matter, which if accepted as true, would "state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)); see also Burgert v. Lokelani Bernice Pauahi Bishop Trust, 200 F.3d 661, 663 (9th Cir. 2000) ("All allegations of material fact are taken as true and construed in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party."). A claim is facially plausible when a court can draw a reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for misconduct. Id. The plaintiff must provide "more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do." Id.

II. LEGAL ANALYSIS

As noted in footnote 1, the causes of action which are directed against the De Leon Defendants are causes of action (h) and (j)-(m). The De Leon Defendants' summarize their argument in the following language:

Plaintiff's Complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted as against the De Leon Defendants because (1) the agent's immunity rule bars all of Plaintiff's claims; (2) California public policy precludes Plaintiff's claims; (3) Plaintiff has failed to state viable securities laws claims because the Complaint does not contain facts establishing materially [sic] assistance in the violations at issue; (4) Plaintiff has not pled securities fraud with the requisite particularity; (5) Plaintiff has not pled a viable elder abuse claim; and (6) Plaintiff has not pled a viable claim for violation of the automatic stay.

[Dkt. No. 5, pg. 2, lines 12-18].

A. Agent's Immunity Rule

The De Leon Defendants first argument, and the argument most thoroughly briefed, is that "all of Plaintiff's claims implicate the agent's immunity rule, because they are predicated on the notion that the De Leon Defendants conspired or aided its client/principal, Conestoga, in committing securities fraud or a violation of the automatic stay.

The parties not only disagree on the application of the appropriate legal standard to the facts of this case, they disagree on the legal standard itself. The De Leon Defendants appear to derive their proffered standard from Klotz v. Milbank, Tweed, Hadley & McCloy, 238 Cal. App. 4th 1339, 1351 (Cal. App. 2015). The Court is skeptical that Klotz represents the appropriate guiding case on the agent's immunity rule for two reasons: (1) neither the word "agent" nor the word "immunity" appear in the case at all; and (2) the standard set forth in Klotz is a statutory creation.² Specifically, CAL. CIV. CODE § 1714.10(a),(c) state the following:

- (a) No cause of action against an attorney for a civil conspiracy with his or her client arising from any attempt to contest or compromise a claim or dispute, and which is based upon the attorney's representation of the client, shall be included in a complaint or other pleading unless the court enters an order allowing the pleading that includes the claim for civil conspiracy to be filed after the court determines that the party seeking to file the pleading has established that there is a reasonable probability that the party will prevail in the action. The court may allow the filing of a pleading claiming liability based upon such a civil conspiracy following the filing of a verified petition therefor accompanied by the proposed pleading and supporting affidavits stating the facts upon which the liability is based. The court shall order service of the petition upon the party against whom the action is proposed to be filed and permit that party to submit opposing affidavits prior to making its determination. The filing of the petition, proposed pleading, and accompanying affidavits shall toll the running of any applicable statute of limitations until the final determination of the matter, which ruling, if favorable to the petitioning party, shall permit the proposed pleading to be filed.

- (c) This section shall not apply to a cause of action against an attorney for a civil conspiracy with his or her client, where (1) the attorney has an independent legal duty to the plaintiff, or (2) the attorney's acts go beyond the performance of a professional duty to serve the client and involve a conspiracy to violate a legal duty in furtherance of the attorney's financial gain.

The analysis of this statutory must begin with a determination regarding whether § 1714.10(a) is applicable at all to the instant situation. As noted by Trustee, the plain language of the statute states that it governs conspiracy which arises "from any attempt to contest or compromise a claim or dispute." Here, the work engaged in by the De Leon Defendants does not fit the statutory language – it was transactional work. See, e.g., Stueve v. Berger Kahn, 222 Cal. App. 4th 327, 331 (Cal. Ct. App. 2013) ("Rather, they say, the claims arose from transactional activities . . . [w]e must agree that the alleged schemes do not fall within the plain wording of section 1714.10, subdivision (a)."). Therefore CAL. CIV. CODE § 1714.10(a) does not directly govern the instant situation.

Chapter 7

Nevertheless, while the gatekeeping function of CAL. CIV. CODE § 1714.10(a) may not be directly invoked by the present situation, it appears that the statute, in part, serves as a codification of the agent immunity rule. See Richards v. Cnty. of L.A., 2017 WL 7411159 at *4, n.2 (C.D. Cal. 2017) ("The California Legislature amended California Civil Code § 1714.10 pursuant to the California Supreme Court's decision in Doctors' Co. v. Superior Court, 49 Cal. 3d 39 (Cal. 1989), which established the agent's immunity doctrine. Considering that § 1714.10 effectively codified the agent's immunity rule [sic], the Court will discuss the immunity and statutory defenses together.") (citation omitted). Ultimately, the Ninth Circuit has recently used the standard set forth in CAL. CIV. CODE § 1714.10 to describe the agent's immunity rule:

The Agent's Immunity Rule shields an attorney who merely acted as an agent or employee of a third party when the third party had a duty to the plaintiff. The Rule does not shield an attorney who had an independent legal duty to the plaintiff, or an attorney who went beyond a professional duty as part of a conspiracy for attorney's financial gain.

ESG Capital Partners, LP v. Stratos, 828 F.3d 1023, 1037 (9th Cir. 2016). It does not appear that there is any allegation in the complaint that the latter half of the above exception is applicable here, so the Court will instead focus on whether the De Leon Defendants had an independent legal duty to Debtors.

As conceded by the De Leon Defendants, an attorney has a legal duty to "refrain from defrauding nonclients." Id. (quoting Rickley v. Goodfriend, 212 Cal. App. 4th 1136, 1151 (Cal. Ct. App. 2013) ("It is well established that an attorney has an independent legal duty to refrain from defrauding nonclients.")). Therefore, the operative question is whether the allegations that the De Leon Defendants provided material assistance in an alleged securities fraud violation are sufficient to constitute an allegation that the De Leon Defendants breached their legal duty to refrain from defrauding nonclients.

Chapter 7

III. Material Assistance in Securities Violation

As noted by the De Leon Defendants, while not cited in the complaint, Trustee appears to rely upon CAL. CORP. CODE § 25504.1 in making the argument that the De Leon Defendants are liable for materially assisting in the alleged securities violations. The De Leon Defendants, in their argument, cite AREI II Cases, 216 Cal. App. 4th 1004, 1014 (Cal. Ct. App. 2013), which states: "it is not enough that a person provided material assistance in a larger scheme to defraud if that person had no role or involvement in the part of the scheme that constituted a violation of the securities." The De Leon Defendants then assert that: "the De Leon Defendants are alleged to have occupied a more structural role with respect to the marketing of the alleged securities – i.e., the De Leon Defendants, by virtue of their role as counsel, performed work that enabled Conestoga to do business."

The above characterization of the allegations in the complaint understate the alleged role of the De Leon Defendants. The final section of the eighth, tenth, and eleventh claims for relief states the following:

At the time of the acts alleged herein, DL&W, Washburn, and De Leon, in their capacity as counsel to Conestoga for the structuring of the transactions complained of herein, materially assisted in the sale of the securities in violation of law, in that they knew it was Conestoga's practice to sell unregistered securities through unregistered agents, knowing that victims of the schemes would be induced to sign disclosures concerning accredited-investor status that the Trustee is informed and believes DL&W, Washburn, and/or De Leon prepared for Conestoga, and in fact conspired with Conestoga to facilitate such non-accredited investors to sign those documents. In so acting, DL&W, Washburn and De Leon acted with intent to deceived or defraud.

[Dkt. No. 1, pg. 24 lines 7-15] (emphasis added). As stated by AREI II Cases:

Chapter 7

To support liability under section 25504.1 for such a violation, the complaint must include allegations demonstrating how the defendant assisted in the act of selling or offering to sell securities by means of false and misleading statements. Such assistance may take the form of aiding in the preparation of offering documents relied upon by investors, communicating misrepresentations directly to investors, or otherwise playing a material, facilitating role in the act of selling or attempting to sell the securities by means of misrepresentations or omissions of material fact.

Id. at 1015 (emphasis added); see also Schaffer Family Invs., LLC v. Sonnier, 120 F. Supp. 3d 1028, 1045 (C.D. Cal. 2015) (same). The crux of the complaint is that the De Leon Defendants provided services which were directly instrumental in committing the alleged securities violations, not that the De Leon Defendants provided some peripheral services which happened to have been utilized in connection with the alleged violations. Therefore, the Court rejects the De Leon Defendants argument that Trustee has failed to adequately plead a violation of CAL. CORP. CODE § 25504.1.

Now the Court must return to the question of whether an allegation that the De Leon Defendants violated CAL. CORP. CODE § 25504.1 constitutes an allegation that the De Leon Defendants violated their duty to refrain from defrauding Debtors. Returning to the origin of CAL. CIV. CODE § 1714.10, Doctors' Co. v. Superior Court, 49 Cal. 3d 39 (Cal. 1989), the California Supreme Court stated the following:

The attorneys in Gruenberg were relieved from liability for helping their insurer-clients to violate the latter's duty of good faith and fair dealing not because the duty was contractual but because it was a duty peculiar to the insurers, not shared by their attorneys. The duty invoked here (and in Wolfrich) is likewise peculiar to the insured because the duty is created by a statute which imposes it only on persons in the insurance business. . .

Finally, we anticipate that the impact of our holding, barring liability of employees or agents for conspiracy to cause their principal to violate a duty that is binding on the principal alone, will be relatively narrow where the violated duty is other than contractual. The duties imposed by section 790.03 are somewhat unusual in that their application is expressly restricted to "persons engaged in the business of insurance." The binding effect of many other statutory duties is not subject to such restrictions.

Id. at 46, 48 (citations omitted). Here, the statutory scheme outlined in CAL. CORP. CODE § 25500 et. seq. imposes duties on both the principal, and the agent, albeit a higher standard on the former. See Siegal v. Gamble, 2016 WL 1085787 at *6 (N.D. Cal. 2016) ("Liability for securities violations also extends to the primary violator's employees and to those who materially aid a primary section 25401 violator who deals in securities. This means that agents, associates, affiliates, and broker-dealers may be 'secondarily' liable if they act with the 'intent to deceive or defraud.'" (emphasis added) (citation omitted). Therefore, because the relevant statutory scheme also imposes a duty on those providing material assistance to the primary wrongdoer, the De Leon Defendants cannot use the agent immunity rule to bar the suit.

IV. Public Policy/Privilege

The De Leon Defendants next argue that: "[p]ublic policy therefore requires the dismissal of Plaintiff's claims, because the existence of the [attorney-client] privilege prevents the De Leon Defendants from mounting a defense." [Dkt. No. 5, pg. 13, lines 4-5]. The Court concludes that this argument is premature at this stage. As stated in Reilly v. Greenwald & Hoffman, LLP, the Court must consider whether:

- (1) The evidence at issue is the client's confidential information, and the client insists that it remain confidential;
- (2) given the nature of plaintiff's claim the confidential information is highly material to the defendants' defenses;
- (3) there are "ad hoc" measures available to avoid dismissal such as "sealing and protective orders, limited admissibility of evidence, orders restricting the use of testimony in successive proceedings, and, where appropriate, in camera proceedings; and
- (4) it would be fundamentally unfair to proceed

196 Cal. App. 4th 891, 904 (Cal. Ct. App. 2011); see also Dietz v. Meisenheimer & Herron, 177 Cal. App. 4th 771 (Cal. Ct. App. 2009); Gen. Dynamics Corp. v. Superior Court, 7 Cal. 4th 1164 (Cal. 1994).

Here, the Court is unable to properly consider the above factors at this stage. First, at this point, the client at issue has not insisted the information remain confidential. Second, it is not clear whether the confidential information is highly material to the defense. Third, the Court has a variety of "ad hoc" measures which could be employed to at least somewhat address this issue. Finally, the Court notes that it is unclear, at this point, whether the crime/fraud exception outlined in CAL. EVID. CODE § 956 may be applicable in this situation. For all of these reasons, the Court concludes it would be premature to dismiss the action on this ground at this time.

V. Exempt Transactions

The De Leon Defendants next argue that CAL. CORP. CODE § 25102 exempts the specific transaction at issue from the qualification requirements of § 25110. Section 25102(q)(1) states, in part:

(q) Any offer or sale of any viatical or life settlement contract or fractionalized or pooled interest therein in a transaction that meets all of the following criteria:

- (1) Sales of securities described in this subdivision are made only to qualified purchasers or other persons the issuer reasonably believes, after reasonable inquiry, to be qualified purchasers. A corporation, partnership, or other organization specifically formed for the purpose of acquiring the securities offered by the issuer in reliance upon this exemption may be a qualified purchaser only if each of the equity owners of the corporation, partnership, or other organization is a qualified purchaser. Qualified purchasers include the following: . . .

The Court agrees with Trustee that it is not the mindset of the De Leon Defendants, but rather the mindset of the issuer, that is material when considering the application of the above exception. The Court finds that the complaint plausibly alleges that the issuer here did not reasonably believe the Tacketts were qualified investors.

VI. Fraud-Particularity

The De Leon Defendants next argue that the complaint fails to plead fraud with particularity. Specifically, the De Leon Defendants argue that PSLRA imposes heightened pleading requirements, and that "[d]istrict courts have applied the PSLRA's exacting standards to attempts to plead securities fraud under California's Blue Sky laws." [Dkt. No. 5, pg. 17, lines 10-13]. The cases cited by the De Leon Defendants in support of the latter half of that contention, however, do not support the point. Specifically, both Mueller and Mausner involve the application of PSLRA standards to claims brought under that act, regardless of whether the complaint contained additional causes of action pursuant to California state law. See, e.g., Mausner v. Marketbyte LLC 2013 WL 12073832 at *6 (S.D. Cal. 2013). Nevertheless, as stated by Mausner: "Similar to PSLRA's heightened pleading requirement for the alleged misrepresentation or omission, Rule 9(b) requires that the complaint 'state with particularity the circumstances constituting fraud.' The Ninth Circuit has applied Rule 9(b)'s requirements to federal securities fraud claims." Id.

FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 9(b) provides that: "[i]n alleging fraud or mistake, a party must state with particularity the circumstances constituting fraud or mistake." Here, it is unclear whether the complaint alleges that the De Leon Defendants, themselves, committed a fraudulent act. While the tenth claim for relief, and the corresponding background sections of the complaint, contain sufficiently detailed allegations of the statements made by Jeff Converse, the Court agrees with the De Leon Defendants that the complaint does not contain adequately detailed allegations of fraud committed by the De Leon Defendants. Furthermore, given that CAL. CORP. CODE § 25504.1

ostensibly provides for liability for someone who provides material assistance to someone else who is committed fraud, it is not clear whether the complaint needs to contain allegations of fraud specifically against the De Leon Defendants.

Given that the determination of whether the alleged conduct of the De Leon Defendants constitutes fraud may have significant consequence in relation to the attorney-client privilege, the Court is not inclined to decide the issue on the record before it.³ If the De Leon Defendants wish to continue with their argument, construed as a Rule 9(b) argument, then the Court desires further briefing from both parties on whether the alleged conduct of the De Leon Defendants needs to be, or is intended to be, itself characterized as fraud.

VII. Elder Abuse

The Court notes that the allegations contained in the thirteenth claim for relief, sections 138-149 of the complaint, do not appear to allege any action taken by the De Leon Defendants which could constitute elder abuse after Mr. Tackett turned sixty-five years old. Specifically, the Court notes that section 144, the section of the thirteenth claim for relief which deals with actions taken by the De Leon Defendants, does not refer to any action taken with respect to Mr. Tackett that would have occurred after Mr. Tackett turned sixty-five years old. Instead, the complaint recites the exact same language as the securities violations claims for relief, describing action which results to the preparation of documents related to the alleged sale of securities. Furthermore, section 138's reference to the background section does not remedy the deficiency, because the only action imputed to the De Leon Defendants at the relevant time period concerns settlement efforts with the Trustee. Regardless of whether such settlement efforts were undergone in good faith, such efforts simply do not appear to fit within the statutory definition of elder abuse.

VIII. Automatic Stay

The Court agrees with the De Leon Defendants that Trustee has failed to allege a willful violation on the part of the De Leon Defendants. Specifically, the Court notes the following operative section of the complaint:

DL&W, Washburn, and De Leon participated in Conestoga's violation of the automatic stay, by colluding with Conestoga to engage in a pretense of "settlement" discussions – with knowledge of the bankruptcy stay – while Conestoga proceeded to empty out the Tacketts' interest in the Policies, and then abruptly withdrawn Conestoga's purported settlement offer.

[Dkt. No. 1, pg 30]. The Court concludes that the above allegations are insufficient to constitute an automatic stay violation under 11 U.S.C. § 105(a) for the following reasons. First, engaging in settlement discussions with the Chapter 7 Trustee is common and not, itself an automatic stay violation. Second, unlike the claims for relief related to securities violations, there is no specific statutory section which imposes a duty on an attorney (or an agent) to refrain from providing assistance to an action which violates the automatic stay. Finally, unlike the cases cited by Trustee, Trustee has not alleged a direct action by the De Leon Defendants which violated the automatic stay. Therefore, because Trustee cannot rely on the "assistance theory" in the context of an automatic stay violation, the twelfth claim for reliefs fails as to the De Leon Defendants.

BACKGROUND

On November 18, 2016, Javier & Carmen Lopez (collectively "Debtors"; individually, "Javier" and "Carmen") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On March 6, 2017, Amarillo College of Hairdressing ("Plaintiff") filed a non-dischargeability complaint against Javier pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A), (a)(4), and (a)(6). On July 12, 2017, the clerk entered default against Javier.

On October 17, 2017, Plaintiff filed a motion for leave to file an amended complaint to include Carmen as a defendant. On November 7, 2017, Debtors filed their opposition. On November 13, 2017, the Court granted the motion, and, on December 11, 2017, Plaintiff amended its complaint to include Carmen as a defendant. On February 26, 2018, the clerk entered default against Carmen.

On April 5, 2018, Plaintiff filed a motion for default judgment. According to Plaintiff,

Chapter 13

Javier, while employed as the Dean of Education at Plaintiff's Palm Desert campus, received, through direct deposit, twice his agreed upon salary for a period of one year. Plaintiff asserts that the direct deposit authorization form contained a provision which granted Plaintiff the right to correct any erroneous overpayments of funds. After alerting Javier of the erroneous double payment, Javier refused to voluntarily reimburse Plaintiff for the overpayment. Plaintiff also asserts that Javier was aware of the erroneous double payment during the time when the double payments were made.

On January 2, 2014, Plaintiff filed a state court complaint against Javier for breach of contract, fraud, and conversion. On September 15, 2015, the state court granted Plaintiff's motion for summary judgment as to all causes of action, and entered judgment in the amount of $49,603.08.

DISCUSSION

A. Entry of Default

FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 55 states that "[w]hen a party against whom a judgment for affirmative relief is sought has failed to plead or otherwise defend as provided by these rules and that fact is made to appear by affidavit or otherwise, the clerk shall enter the party's default." Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(a). Local Rule 7055-1 provides further requirements relating to a motion for entry of default judgment, and those requirements have been substantially satisfied here.

B. Motion for Default Judgment

1. Proper Service of Summons and Complaint

[S]ervice may be made within the United States by first class mail postage prepaid as follows:

- (1) Upon an individual other than an infant or incompetent, by mailing a copy of the summons and complaint to the individual's dwelling house or usual place of abode or to the place where the individual regularly conducts a business or profession.

Here, Plaintiff served Debtors at the address listed on their bankruptcy schedules and served Debtor's attorney via ECF. Therefore, service is proper.

2. Merits of Plaintiff's claim

Upon default, the factual allegations of the complaint, except those relating to the amount of damages, will be taken as true. TeleVideo Systems, Inc. v. Heidenthal, 826 F.2d 915, 917 (9th Cir. 1987); see also Almog v. Golden Summit Investors Group, Ltd., 2012 WL 12867972 at *4 (C.D. Cal. 2012) ("When reviewing a motion for default judgment, the Court must accept the well-pleaded allegations of the complaint relating to liability as true.").

Here, the complaint includes three causes of action, all related to non-dischargeability: (1) 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A); (2) 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(4); and (3) 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(6). The above provisions read, in pertinent part:

- (a) A discharge under section 727, 1141, 1228(a), 1228(b), or 1328(b) of this title does not discharge an individual debtor from any debt –

- (2) for money, property, services, or an extension, renewal, or refinancing of creditor, to the extent obtained by –
 - (A) false pretenses, a false representation, or actual fraud, other than a statement respecting the debtor's or an insider's financial condition;
- (4) for fraud or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity, embezzlement, or larceny;
- (6) for willful and malicious injury by the debtor to another entity or to the property of another entity;

The Court notes that it is, at best, unclear whether any of the three provisions are applicable to the facts here. For example, in In re Sterling, the bankruptcy court analyzed whether an employee's retention of overtime pay at double the contractual rate satisfied the either 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A) or 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(6). 479 B.R. 444 (Bankr. E.D. Mich. 2012). Respecting 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(2)(A), the court first noted that the provision can apply to "misleading omissions" or "a scheme to deprive or cheat another of property or a legal right." Id. at 449. The bankruptcy court noted, however, that omission or silence only establishes the requisite intent if the debtor had an affirmative duty to disclose. Id. (applying Michigan law and the silent fraud doctrine). After noting that the plaintiff had not identified any contractual duty to disclose, the bankruptcy court noted that: "[a] duty to disclose may also arise in equity," but ultimately concluded the following:

The present case does not present any circumstances that would give rise to such an equitable duty. To the contrary, Plaintiff was in a position of control and had at least equal if not superior knowledge, gained from repeated, but unavailing attempts to correct the problem. Plaintiff, as Defendant's employer, had access to the payroll information and, with the exercise of reasonable diligence, could have discovered the continuing overpayments at any time.

Id. at 450 (also questioning whether plaintiff's reliance on defendant's silence was justifiable because the information was in the control of plaintiff).

Chapter 13

Here, neither the complaint nor the motion for default judgment include any allegation that Javier affirmatively misled Plaintiff, nor do they contain any basis upon which the Court could conclude that Javier had a contractual or an equitable duty to disclose the overpayments to Plaintiff. Therefore, the Court requires further briefing if Plaintiff wishes to establish that the debt is non-dischargeable pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A).

11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(4) contains three different exceptions to dischargeability: (1) fraud or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity; (2) larceny; and (3) embezzlement. Regarding fraud or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity, the elements are: (1) the existence of an express trust; (2) the debt was caused by fraud or defalcation; and (3) the debtor acted as a fiduciary to the creditor at the time the debt was created. See, e.g., In re Niles, 106 F.3d 1456, 1459 (9th Cir. 1997). Clearly Plaintiff has not satisfied the standard for fraud or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity because, among other things, Javier was not acting in a fiduciary capacity as to his salary and his salary was certainly not the corpus express trust. See, e.g., Matter of Cantrell, 88 F.3d 344, 347 (5th Cir. 1996) ("The court also correctly opined that, in the absence of an express trust and a recognizable corpus, 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(4) is inapplicable.").

Plaintiff also does not appear to have satisfied the standard for larceny or embezzlement. "Larceny is the fraudulent and wrongful taking and carrying away of the property of another with intent to convert the property to the taker's use without the consent of the owner." 4 COLLIER'S ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 523.10[2] (16th ed. 2009). Here, it appears doubtful that Javier could be considered to have "taken" the excess salary payments which Plaintiff caused to be directly deposited in Javier's bank account. Embezzlement, on the other hand, contains three elements: "(1) property rightfully in the possession of a nonowner; (2) nonowner's appropriation of the property to a use other than which it was entrusted; and (3) circumstances indicating fraud." In re Littleton, 942 F.2d 551, 555 (9th Cir. 1991). While there may be a colorable argument that embezzlement has occurred in this case, such an argument has not been detailed in the complaint or the motion for default judgment. Therefore, the Court requires further briefing if Plaintiff wishes to establish that the debt is non-dischargeable pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(4).

Chapter 13

Regarding § 523(a)(6) the elements are: "(1) willful conduct, (2) malice, and (3) causation." See, e.g., In re Apte, 180 B.R. 223, 230 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995). Here, Plaintiff's complaint simply recites the legal standard, notes that the state court awarded a judgment based, in part, on fraud, and Plaintiff's motion for default judgment contains the material state court pleadings as an attachment. The Court deems the allegations in the complaint to be insufficient to establish non-dischargeability under § 523(a)(6). See In re Sterling, 479 B.R. 444, 452-455 (Bankr. E.D. Mich. 2012) (detailing § 523(a)(6) analysis in context of retention of salary overpayment). Therefore, the Court requires further briefing if Plaintiff wishes to establish that the debt is non-dischargeable pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(6).

Finally, the Court notes that it appears Plaintiff has assumed that the use of issue preclusion is appropriate in this case, but has not briefed the issue.

Issue preclusion applies in nondischargeability proceedings to bar the relitigation of factual issues that were determined in a prior state court action. See, e.g., Grogan v. Garner, 498 U.S. 279, 284-85, n.11 (1991). To determine the issue-preclusive effect of a California state court's judgment, California preclusion law must be applied. See 28 U.S.C. § 1738; Marrese v. Am. Acad. of Orthopaedic Surgeons, 470 U.S. 373, 380 (1985); Gayden v. Nourbakhsh (In re Nourbakhsh), 67 F.3d 798, 800 (9th Cir. 1995). Under California law, the party asserting issue preclusion has the burden of establishing the following "threshold" requirements:

- (1) the issue sought to be precluded must be identical to that decided in a former proceeding;
- (2) the issue must have been actually litigated in the former proceeding;
- (3) it must have been necessarily decided in the former proceeding;
- (4) the decision in the former proceeding must be final and on the merits; and,
- (5) the party against whom preclusion is sought must be the same as, or in privity with, the party to the former proceeding.

Harmon v. Kobrin (In re Harmon), 250 F.3d 1240, 1245 (9th Cir.2001).

Chapter 13

Additionally, the application of issue preclusion requires a "mandatory 'additional' inquiry into whether imposition of issue preclusion would be fair and consistent with sound public policy." In re Khaligh, 338 B.R. 817, 824–25 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 2006). As stated by the California Supreme Court

We have repeatedly looked to the public policies underlying the doctrine before concluding that collateral estoppel should be applied in a particular setting.... Accordingly, the public policies underlying collateral estoppel—preservation of the integrity of the judicial system, promotion of judicial economy, and protection of litigants from harassment by vexatious litigation—strongly influence whether its application in a particular circumstance would be fair to the parties and constitutes sound judicial policy.

Lucido v. Super. Ct., 51 Cal. 3d 335, 342–43 (Cal. 1990) (internal citations omitted). The Court requires further briefing on the appropriateness of issue preclusion in this case, including legal arguments explaining how the applicable state court causes of action (presumably fraud by concealment) translate to the non-dischargeability standards.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to CONTINUE the matter for further briefing.

BACKGROUND

On March 21, 2018, Frank Valderrama ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On July 2, 2018, Debtor received a discharge.

On June 25, 2018, Elizabeth Balderas & Jose Carrillo (collectively, "Plaintiffs") filed a complaint against Debtor for non-dischargeability pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2) (A).

On July 17, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim. On August 10, 2018, Plaintiffs filed their opposition.

Chapter 7

I. MOTION TO DISMISS STANDARD

In order to avoid dismissal pursuant to Civil Rule 12(b)(6), a complaint must allege sufficient factual matter, which if accepted as true, would "state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)). A claim is facially plausible when a court can draw a reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for misconduct. Id. The plaintiff must provide "more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do." Id.

II. MONEY JUDGMENT IN NON-DISCHARGEABILITY PROCEEDINGS

The Ninth Circuit has held that a bankruptcy court may enter a monetary judgment on a disputed state law fraud claim in the course of determining that the debt is nondischargeable. Cowen v. Kennedy (In re Kennedy), 108 F.3d 1015 (9th Cir.1997). Shawn Deitz v. Wayne Ford, Patricia Ford (In re Wayne Ford, Patricia Ford), 469 B.R. 11, 21 (9th Cir. BAP 2012), aff'd, 760 F.3d 1038 (9th Cir. 2014). Nevertheless, in the complaint at issue here, Plaintiffs appear¹ to have set forth only one cause of action: non-dischargeability pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A). 11 U.S.C. § 523(a) alone is not a basis to enter a money judgment; the plain language of the statute provides that it is a basis for finding a debt to be non-dischargeable. If Plaintiffs seek a money judgment, they need to clearly delineate a non-bankruptcy law cause of action supporting that request.² In other words, Plaintiffs need to identify their theory of a debt which exists under applicable state law. Without that showing, it is impossible to determine the applicable legal analysis.

III. NON-DISCHARGEABILITY STANDARD

As a preliminary note, the Court notes that while Plaintiffs' opposition references § 523(a)(4), that subsection is not raised in the complaint and, therefore, any arguments regarding that subsection will not be addressed.

11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A) states:

(a) A discharge under section 727, 1141, 1228(a), 1228(b), or 1328(b) of this title does not discharge an individual debtor from any debt –

(2) for money, property, services, or an extension, renewal, or refinancing of creditor, to the extent obtained by –

(A) false pretenses, a false representation, or actual fraud, other than a statement respecting the debtor's or an insider's financial condition;

The elements of a § 523(a)(2)(A) claim are well-established: (a) the debtor made representations; (b) which were known to be false; (c) the representations were made with the intention and purpose of deceiving the creditor; (d) the creditor relied on such representations; (e) the creditor sustained loss and damage as a proximate result of the representations. See, e.g., In re Sabban, 600 F.3d 1219, 1222 (9th Cir. 2010).

As noted by Debtor, FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 9(b) is applicable to a § 523(a)(2)(A) non-dischargeability proceeding. See, e.g., In re Kimmel, 2008 WL 5076380 at *1 (9th Cir. 2008). "In order to properly plead fraud with particularity, the complaint must allege the time, place, and content of the fraudulent representation such that a defendant can prepare an adequate response to the allegations." Id.

The Court agrees with Debtor that the complaint at issue here utterly fails to plead fraud with specificity. The complaint does not, at any point, identify a particular statement at a particular time, in a particular place. Nor is the complaint adequately detailed regarding the contents of the statements made. For example, section 14 of the complaint states: "Debtor intentionally mislead [sic] Plaintiffs by failing to disclose the truth regarding the Project." [Dkt. No. 1, pg. 8, lines 19-20]. This assertion simply does not contain the level of detail contemplated by FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 9(b). This detail is all the more important when, as is the case here, Plaintiffs appear to be alleging a contract was formed in January 2007 and that Plaintiffs were still making payments to Debtor in December 2015. Here, the complaint paints a very unclear picture of the material facts.

The Court, on this record, declines to address Debtor's argument that Plaintiff Elizabeth Balderas lacks standing to bring this claim because the operative complaint requires substantial amendment. The Court also notes that any request for a money judgment must contain a clear articulation of the non-bankruptcy legal basis for the underlying claim.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion and DISMISS the complaint without prejudice.

BACKGROUND

On March 18, 2017, Irma Cantu ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. On June 15, 2018, Debtor's Chapter 13 plan was confirmed.

Three days later, Trustee filed a motion to dismiss for failure to submit tax returns or refunds. Debtor did not file an opposition to the motion. After no appearance was made on behalf of Debtor at the motion to dismiss, the case was dismissed on July 25, 2018.

The day before the case was formally dismissed, Debtor filed a motion to vacate a dismissal order which did not yet exist. On July 25, 2018, Trustee filed comments indicating conditional approval of the motion.

Chapter 13

DISCUSSION

Debtor relies on FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(b)(1), incorporated into bankruptcy proceedings by FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9024, which allows for relief from an order based on "mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect."

The legal basis for Debtor's assertion that the dismissal order should be vacated is that Debtor's counsel inadvertently did not appear at the hearing due to an office error. It is well established, however, that "an attorney's ignorance and carelessness does not provide grounds for Rule 60(b) relief." In re Mercado, 144 B.R. 879, 886 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1992) (citing Bershad v. McDonough, 469 F.2d 1333, 1337 (7th Cir. 1972)). And the mere assertion that counsel did not fulfill its duties, but that such carelessness was inadvertent, is clearly inadequate to support Rule 60(b) relief. See, e.g., In re ACME Motors, Inc., 125 B.R. 702, 703 (Bankr. D.R.I. 1991).

"Rule 60(b) relief is extraordinary." Id. Yet, in this court, a request for relief from a Chapter 13 dismissal order has become ordinary. On occasion, the requests are legally sound. Here, however, the evidence provided simply indicates that Debtor's counsel did not attend the hearing for reasons that are unclear or unstated.

The Seventh Circuit has stated that:

[T]he clients are principals, the attorney is an agent, and under the law of agency the principal is bound by his chosen agent's deeds. The rule is that all of the attorney's misconduct (except in the cases where the act is outside the scope of employment or in cases of excusable neglect) becomes the problem of the client. A lawyer who inexcusably neglects his client's obligations does not present exceptional circumstances.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Debtor filed her case on August 10, 2017. The Debtor's chapter 13 plan was confirmed on September 21, 2017. The Debtor became delinquent on her payments and a motion to dismiss was filed by the Trustee on June 19, 2018. Subsequently, the Debtor filed a Motion to Modify Plan on June 22, 2018. The Trustee filed comments recommending approval of the Motion.

The hearing on the Trustee's Motion to Dismiss was continued for the Debtor to lodge an order and finalize the Motion to Modify. The Debtor asserts that an order on the Motion was lodged on July 26, 2018. No order was entered on the docket. The Debtor and her counsel failed to appear at the continued hearing on the Trustee's Motion to Dismiss.

Based on the failure to lodge an order on the MMP and the failure to appear at the continued hearing, the Court dismissed the case.

The Debtor now seeks an order vacating the dismissal. In support the Debtor has provided a copy of the confirmation received on lodgment of the order and requests that the dismissal be vacated as resulting from a clerical error.

The Trustee responds that the Debtor has proffered no excuse for the nonappearance at the continued hearing on the Motion to Dismiss.

Chapter 13

The docket reflects that the Debtor failed to comply with LBR 9013-1(o)(3) which requires the filing of a declaration of service and non-opposition for matter set on negative notice (such as the Debtor's MMP). The Court's internal records further reflect that the Court rejected the Debtor's lodged order on 7/26/2018 at 11:19 a.m. An email notification of unused order was sent to the Debtor's counsel at the CM/ECF email, rebecca@saunderslawoffice.com.

Notwithstanding these facts, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion provided that the Debtor can comply with the Trustee's conditions. Additionally, as the record demonstrates that the case was dismissed as a result of counsel's negligence, Debtor's counsel shall not receive fees for the Motion to Vacate.

Docket 47

Tentative Ruling:

08/30/18

BACKGROUND:

On January 10, 2018 ("Petition Date"), Belen Rubio ("Debtor") filed for chapter 13 relief. On July 30, 2018, Debtor filed Objection to Claim # 8 (the "Objection") of LVNV Funding, LLC ("Claimant"). Service was proper and no opposition or response has been filed.

OBJECTION:

Debtor's sole objection is that LVNV has not demonstrated sufficient evidence of its standing to seek payment on the claim.

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. Ashford v. Consol. Pioneer Mort. (In re Consol. Pioneer Mort.), 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

The Debtor asserts that LVNV's claim must fail because there is insufficient evidence of the original assignment from WebBank to Prosper Marketplace Inc., and subsequently to LVNV. Here, the Debtor's schedules provide evidence in support of Prosper's claim because the Debtor's listed Prosper in their Schedules and the date the account was opened corroborates the facts in the filed Proof of Claim. Based on these facts, the Debtor's Objection fails to negate the allegation of the Claim that WebBank transferred the claim to Prosper. As to the transfer from Prosper to LVNV, the Claim provides documentation signed under penalty of perjury that Prosper transferred its Claim to LVNV.

BACKGROUND:

On April 11, 2018 ("Petition Date"), James and Jodie Hall (collectively, the "Debtors") filed their petition for chapter 13 bankruptcy.

On July 13, 2018 the Debtors filed an Objection to Claim No. 14 (the "Objection") of LVNV Funding, LLC ("Claimant"). Service was proper and no opposition has been filed.

ANALYSIS:

Rebuttal of the Prima Facie Proof of Claim

In this case, the Debtors assert that the Claim should be disallowed as time barred. Section 502(b)(1) provides that a claim is deemed allowed, unless such claim is unenforceable against the debtor and property of the debtor under applicable law. The statute of limitations applicable to common counts is four years if the action is founded upon a contract or other writing (e.g., "book account" (§ 3:398), "account stated" (§ 3:400), or money lent on a note), and the statute of limitations is generally four years from the date of the last item in the account. CCP § 337(1),(2); Armstrong Petroleum Corp. v. Tri-Valley Oil & Gas Co., 116 CA 4th 1375, 1396, FN. 9 (Cal. App. 2004).

Chapter 13

Here, the Debtors assert that Claimant's documentation indicates a last transaction between the Debtor and original creditor took place on February 15, 2018, and that the Claimant charged off the account on October 31, 2008. Based on these facts, the Debtors have established that over four years have already lapsed since the last item in the account. Thus, the burden to show the validity of Claim No. 14 must shift to Claimant. Claimant, however, though properly served, has failed to respond, which may be deemed as consent to the relief requested under LBR 9013-1(h). Thus, as the ultimate burden of persuasion remains on the Claimant, the Objection must be sustained.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Objection is SUSTAINED. Claim #14 is disallowed in its entirety.

APPEARANCES WAIVED. If written or oral opposition is presented at the hearing, the hearing may be continued. Movant to lodge order within 7 days.

BACKGROUND

On April 20, 2018, Ridge Robert ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 13 relief. Among the assets of the estate is a 2013 Toyota Camry (the "Camry"). On July 3, 2018, the Debtor filed his Motion to Value the Camry ("Motion"). No opposition has been filed.

DISCUSSION

One of the benefits of filing a Chapter 13 bankruptcy is that under § 506(a) the debtor can bifurcate a secured, unavoidable debt, with one part representing the amount of the value of the collateral, and the deficiency being treated as an unsecured claim. See In re Penrod, 636 F.3d 1175, 1177 (9th Cir. 2011).

The Debtor asserts that the Camry's value, and thus its secured portion, should be determined to be $6,600, with an unsecured deficiency claim for $2,366. In support the Debtor has attached a copy of the Kelly Blue Book. However, the copy of the Kelly Blue Book printout attached to the Motion does not indicate pertinent facts of the Camry such as the make and model of the vehicle necessary to corroborate the

Finally, as to service, Wells Fargo was not properly served via FRBP 7004 to the attention of an officer and was also not served at the PO Box requested for bankruptcy-related notices on its proof of claim.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to CONTINUE the Motion for a hearing on August 30, 2018, at 11:00 a.m. for Debtor to provide supplemental documentation to corroborate the assertion of value as set forth above and for the Debtor to re-serve the Motion and supplemental documentation on Wells Fargo as indicated above. The deadline to file and serve the supplemental documents is August 9, 2018.

APPEARANCES WAIVED. Movant to file and serve notice of the continuance, a copy of the Motion, and supplemental documentation per the Court's instructions.

#4.00 Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations UNLAWFUL DETAINER RE: 24295 Brodiaea Avenue, Moreno Valley, CA 92553

MOVANT: WILMINGTON TRUST NA

Docket 37

Tentative Ruling:

9/4/2018

Service is Proper
Opposition: None

Debtor had a previous bankruptcy filing dismissed on July 3, 2017. The instant case was filed on March 27, 2018. Therefore, by operation of 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3)(A), the automatic stay in the instant case expired on April 26, 2018. Therefore, the Court is inclined to CONFIRM that the automatic stay is not in effect and DENY the remaining requests for relief which are not in rem requests as moot.

The Court is to GRANT relief from the automatic stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d) (4) based on multiple bankruptcy filings affecting the property. Specifically, the Court notes that Debtor filed five skeletal bankruptcy petitions since 2010 which were all summarily dismissed. The Court is inclined to GRANT the request under ¶ 9 upon recording of a copy of this order or giving appropriate notice of its entry in compliance with applicable nonbankruptcy law.

APPEARANCES REQUIRED.

Docket 15

Tentative Ruling:

9/4/2018

Service is Proper

Due to Debtor's previous bankruptcy filing (case no. 17-17927), pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3)(A) the automatic stay in the instant case expired on July 12, 2018. Therefore, the Court is inclined to GRANT the request under ¶ 3, conforming that the automatic stay is not in effect. The Court is inclined to GRANT waiver of the Rule 4001(a) stay and GRANT relief from the § 1301(a) stay. Based on the fact that the automatic stay is no longer in effect, both because of the operation of § 362(c)(3)(A) and because the case was dismissed on August 29, 2018, the Court is inclined to DENY as moot all remaining requests for relief which are not in rem requests.

The Court is inclined to GRANT relief from the automatic stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(4) based on multiple recent skeletal filings affecting the property. GRANT request for relief under ¶ 10. DENY requests for relief under ¶¶ 8 and 11 for lack of cause shown.

Docket 49

Tentative Ruling:

9/4/2018

BACKGROUND

On March 7, 2018, Rick's Patio Inc. ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. On May 5, 2018, the Court approved the application to employ Rosenstein & Associates as counsel.

At the original case management conference on April 24, 2018, the Court adopted the proposed deadline of July 30, 2018, for the filing of a disclosure statement and plan of reorganization. The case management conference was continued to July 31, 2018, the first date after the proposed deadlines. Debtor did not comply with the deadlines, and did not file the scheduling order prior to the continued case management conference.

On August 3, 2018, the scheduling order was entered, setting a deadline of July 30, 2018, to file and serve the disclosure statement and Chapter 11 plan. On August 10, 2018, Debtor filed its disclosure statement and Chapter 11 plan, as well as a motion to extend time to file disclosure statement and plan.

Chapter 11

DISCUSSION

Debtor asserts that "[a] close analogy to the current situation can be found in the exclusive period allowed for chapter 11 debtors to file their own plans, a period which courts may extend or reduce for cause." [Dkt. No. 49, pg. 4, lines 22-25]. Debtor then recites a list of factors it argues the Court should consider when weighing the motion.

The Court declines to adopt Debtor's proposed "for cause" standard because it is incompatible with the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure. FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9006(b)(1) states:

Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3) of this subdivision, when an act is required or allowed to be done at or within a specified period by these rules or by a notice given thereunder or by order of court, the court for cause shown may at any time in its discretion (1) with or without motion or notice order the period enlarged if the request therefor is made before the expiration of the period originally prescribed or as extended by a previous order or (2) on motion made after the expiration of the specified period permit the act to be done where the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect.

Therefore, FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9006(b)(1) imposes a for cause standard when the request for extension is made before the deadline has passed, and an excusable neglect standard when the request is made after the fact. Here, Debtor filed the motion for extension eleven days after the deadline has passed. Therefore, Debtor has recited the incorrect legal standard. Debtor has not attempted to argue or meet the excusable neglect standard and, as a result, the standard has not been met.

TENTATIVE RULING:

09/11/2018

Service: Proper

The Debtor asserts he received insufficient notice. Specifically, he asserts he first knew about the Motion for relief from stay on 8/22/2018 when the Movant's counsel informed the Superior Court in the UD Action that a hearing would be happening on September 11, 2018. Debtor asserts he was denied a copy of the Motion when he requested it from the Movant but that he since obtained a copy of the Motion from the clerk's office on 8/24/18.

As to notice and service of the Motion, the Court's procedures permit Motions for Relief From Stay to pursue Residential Unlawful Detainer actions to be served not later than 5 court days prior to the date of the hearing with telephonic notice. Here, the Debtor admits that he had actual notice and a copy of the Motion more than 5 court days before the hearing. For these reasons, the Court finds that notice and service were sufficient under the circumstances. Moreover, the Mailbox rule and Movant's proof of service support that the Debtor was served.

The Debtor goes on to assert that the Movant is not the "Legal Title Owner" and/or that Movant has not complied with California law in foreclosing.

Chapter 7

As a threshold matter, a motion for stay relief is a summary proceeding. In re Santa Clara County Fair Ass'n, Inc., 180 B.R. 564 (9th Cir.BAP (Cal.) 1995) (citing In re Computer Communications, Inc., 824 F.2d 725, 729 (9th Cir.1987)). In a summary proceeding, the court's discretion is broad. Courts may consider the factor of judicial economy when deciding lift stay issues. Id.

The only triable issues in a Motion for Relief from Stay are (1) lack of adequate protection; (2) the debtor's equity in the property; and (3) the necessity of the property to an effective reorganization of the debtor, or (4) the existence of other cause for relief from the stay. In re Computer Communications, Inc., 824 F.2d 725, 729.

Here, the issues and defenses surrounding the validity of the underlying foreclosure do not directly relate to the lifting of the stay, and accordingly they are not issues that are before the bankruptcy court. The irregularities raised by the Debtor are more properly considered by a state court in the determination of an unlawful detainer action. For purposes of the bankruptcy court's summary consideration of the Motion, the Court finds that the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale presented by Movant is adequate to confer standing to Movant and establish that a "colorable claim" exists, and the Debtor, for his part, has not provided any cognizable evidence or argument that the Property holds any value that would be beneficial to the estate or its creditors. Tellingly, the Chapter 7 trustee has filed no opposition to the Motion despite having received regular notice and an opportunity to file opposition.

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that the Movant has established cause for relief from the automatic stay to pursue its Unlawful Detainer action in State Court and the Debtor is free to pursue any and all defenses available to him under state law in that action.

APPEARANCES REQUIRED.

The primary issue, however, is that the Debtor filed a change of address on the Court's docket on August 17, 2018, only 3 days following the filing of the Motion. Based on the timing of the Debtor's change of address and in order to ensure due process, the Court is inclined to DENY the Motion without prejudice.

#19.00 Notice of Motion and Motion in Individual Case for Order Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate 2012 Ford Edge, 2004 Ford Excursion

MOVANT: GABRIEL CRUZ

EH__

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

09/11/2018

Service of the Motion was proper. The Debtor has demonstrated that his prior case was dismissed for failure to make plan payments after the Debtor lost his employment. The Debtor has provided evidence that he is has new employment and is able to propose a chapter 13 plan in good faith. Based on these facts, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion.

APPEARANCES REQUIRED.

#14.00 Motion to Dismiss Adversary Proceeding For Failure To State A Claim

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

9/12/18

BACKGROUND

On March 5, 2018, Jordan Amini ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition.

On June 11, 2018, Gustavo Marquez ("Plaintiff") filed a complaint against Debtor for non-dischargeability pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6).

On August 22, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim. On August 30, 2018, Plaintiff filed its opposition.

Hearing Room 303

Chapter 7

In order to avoid dismissal pursuant to Civil Rule 12(b)(6), a complaint must allege sufficient factual matter, which if accepted as true, would "state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)). A claim is facially plausible when a court can draw a reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for misconduct. Id. The plaintiff must provide "more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do." Id.

II. NON-DISCHARGEABILITY STANDARD

As a preliminary note, the Court notes that Debtor's motion to dismiss was not served at all. The Court also notes that the proof of service for Plaintiff's opposition to motion to dismiss was in an incorrect pdf format, yet Plaintiff did not remedy the deficiency after receiving a notice to filer.

11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6) state:

- (a) A discharge under section 727, 1141, 1228(a), 1228(b), or 1328(b) of this title does not discharge an individual debtor from any debt –
 - (2) for money, property, services, or an extension, renewal, or refinancing of creditor, to the extent obtained by –
 - (A) false pretenses, a false representation, or actual fraud, other than a statement respecting the debtor's or an insider's financial condition;
 - (6) for willful and malicious injury by the debtor to another entity or to the property of another entity;

The elements of a § 523(a)(2)(A) claim are well-established: (a) the debtor made representations; (b) which were known to be false; (c) the representations were made with the intention and purpose of deceiving the creditor; (d) the creditor relied on such representations; (e) the creditor sustained loss and damage as a proximate result of the representations. See, e.g., In re Sabban, 600 F.3d 1219, 1222 (9th Cir. 2010).

As implicitly noted by Debtor, FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 9(b) is applicable to a § 523(a)(2)(A) non-dischargeability proceeding. See, e.g., In re Kimmel, 2008 WL 5076380 at *1 (9th Cir. 2008). "In order to properly plead fraud with particularity, the complaint must allege the time, place, and content of the fraudulent representation such that a defendant can prepare an adequate response to the allegations." Id.

The Court disagrees with Debtor that the complaint at issue fails to plead a cause of action pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A) with sufficient particularity. While the general allegations section of the complaint only contains general recitations of a misleading scheme that do not have any particular relationship to Plaintiff, Plaintiff has incorporated the state court complaint by reference. Paragraphs 6 and 7 of the state court complaint contain a detailed description of the allegedly false or fraudulent statements made by Debtor¹, and ¶¶ 18-22 of the state court complaint sufficiently allege the elements of a § 523(a)(2)(A) claim.²

To prevail on a claim under § 523(a)(6), a creditor must demonstrate three elements: (1) willful conduct; (2) malice; and (3) causation. See In re Butcher, 200 B.R. 675, 680 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1996) (quoting In re Apte, 180 B.R. 223, 230 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995)). A willful injury is a "deliberate or intentional injury, not merely a deliberate or intentional act that leads to injury." Kawaauhau v. Geiger, 523 U.S. 57, 61 (1998). "A malicious injury involves (1) a wrongful act, (2) done intentionally, (3) which necessarily causes injury, and (4) is done without just cause or excuse." In re Barboza, 545 F.3d 702, 706 (9th Cir. 2008) (quoting In re Jercich, 238 F.3d 1202, 1209 (9th Cir. 2001)).

Here, Debtor has not raised a coherent legal argument with respect to the claim for relief pursuant to § 523(a)(6), although the Court surmises that Debtor generally disagrees with the allegations. Nevertheless, it is unclear what or which elements of a § 523(a)(6) cause of action Debtor believes have not been satisfied here; a review of the state court complaint reveals allegations which are adequate to allege each of the above recited elements. Specifically, Plaintiff has alleged a deliberate or intentional

Docket 200

Tentative Ruling:

9/13/18

BACKGROUND:

On August 2, 2016, Edward & Georgia Zozaya ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. On September 15, 2016, Debtors' Chapter 13 plan was confirmed.

On December 16, 2016, Wells Fargo Bank ("Creditor") filed a proof of claim for a secured claim in the amount of $321,681.25 ("Claim 8"). Claim 8 appears to include $22,923.99 in prepetition arrears. Subsequently, there were four notices of mortgage payment change. On July 26, 2018, the Court entered an order on Debtor's motion for authority to enter into loan modification [Dkt. No. 195]. The order stated, in part:

4) Debtor(s) shall file a motion to modify their Plan and amended Schedules I and J to properly treat any arrears or change in mortgage payment that results from a final loan modification;

5) Debtor(s) must address in the motion to modify whether any further payments are to be made through the plan on mortgage arrears altered by the

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). See Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Specialists, Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000). When a party files an objection to a proof of claim, that filing "creates a dispute which is a contested matter" within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and the Court must resolve the matter after notice and opportunity for hearing upon a motion for relief. Id.

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." In re Medina, 205 B.R. 216, 222 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). ANALYSIS:

Here, the Debtors have not presented evidence that the loan modification has been finalized.

The Court notes that the order authorizing entry into a loan modification program also contemplated amended schedules and a motion to modify plan. Debtors have not taken either of those steps at present. It appears that the relief requested by Debtors requires a motion to modify plan.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to OVERRULE the objection.

#9.00 Motion for Leave to File New Order on Debtors' Motion to Avoid Junior Lien on Debtor's Principal Residence.

Docket 124

Tentative Ruling:

9/13/18

BACKGROUND

On November 21, 2013, Jose & Hiliana Castellanos ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. Debtors previously received a discharge in a Chapter 7 proceeding on October 21, 2010. As such, Debtors were ineligible for a discharge in the instant case.

On December 17, 2013, Debtors converted their case to Chapter 13. On December 24, 2013, Debtors filed a motion to avoid liens pursuant to § 506(d). The motion requested that the second and third liens on Debtors' principal residence, held by Bank of America and Excel National Bank, respectively be avoided conditioned upon "receipt of a chapter 13 discharge." On March 10, 2014, the Court granted the relief sought in the motion.

On June 6, 2018, the Chapter 13 trustee filed his final report. On July 3, 2018, Debtors filed a motion for leave to file new order on Debtors' motion to avoid junior lien. On July 25, 2018, Debtors re-filed the motion, and the matter was set for hearing.

Chapter 13

DISCUSSION

Debtors appear to argue that 11 U.S.C. § 105 provides the basis for the relief requested FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(b), incorporated into bankruptcy proceedings by FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9024, however, provides the mechanism whereby a party can seek relief from a final order. Pursuant to FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(c)(1), however, Debtors are time-barred from bringing an argument under FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(b)(1)-(3). Therefore, the only applicable bases for relief are FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(b)(4)-(6).

The motion filed by Debtors does not provide adequate information to allow the Court to apply the applicable legal framework, even if the Court were to construe the motion as requesting relief pursuant to an appropriate legal provision.

Furthermore, in light of this Court's ruling in In re Washington, 587 B.R. 349 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2018), permitting Debtors to amend their motion at the end of their case would be prejudicial to creditors and would open up a legal loophole. Pursuant to In re Washington, the Debtors may be required to pay the claims of the contingently avoided lienholders through the Chapter 13 plan pro rata with other unsecured creditors. Allowing Debtors to fix their own mistake, at the conclusion of the case, would allow Debtors to avoid the secured claims of the junior lienholders while avoiding paying those claims through the Chapter 13 plan, a result expressly rejected by In re Washington.

In conclusion, Debtors have failed to identify the appropriate legal provision for the relief requested, have failed to make an adequate legal showing to justify relief under a legally appropriate provision, and have requested relief which, if granted, would contravene this Court's decision in In re Washington. For all the above reasons, the Court is inclined to DENY the motion.

Chapter 13

#10.00 Motion to Value Collateral held by Balboa Thrift & Loan

EH ____

Docket 15

Tentative Ruling:

9/13/2018

BACKGROUND

On August 3, 2018, Angela Sandoval ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. Among the assets of the estate is a 2016 Honda Accord EX-L (the "Property"). On August 13, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to determine the value of the property. On August 23, 2018, Balboa Thrift & Loan ("Balboa") filed a secured claim in the amount of $26,362.90 ("Claim 4"). On August 30, 2018, Balboa filed its opposition.

Debtor's motion contends that the value of the Property is $15,089, leaving an unsecured balance of $11,273.90. Balboa's opposition contends that the value of the Property is $20,538.

DISCUSSION

One of the benefits of filing a Chapter 13 bankruptcy is that under § 506(a) the debtor can bifurcate a secured, unavoidable debt, with one part representing the amount of the value of the collateral, and the deficiency being treated as an unsecured claim. See In re Penrod, 636 F.3d 1175, 1177 (9th Cir. 2011).

Chapter 13

Presently the Ninth Circuit has not established a uniform method for valuations. See In re Ayres, 2010 WL 652825 at *5 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2010) (collecting cases detailing vehicle valuation and describing the state of the law in the Ninth Circuit). In In re Morales, however, which this Court has previously cited with approval, it was determined that retail value should be calculated "by adjusting the Kelley Blue Book or N.A.D.A. Guide retail value for a like vehicle by a reasonable amount in light of the evidence presented regarding the condition of the vehicle or any other relevant factors." In re Morales, 387 B.R. 36, 45 (Bankr.C.D.Cal.2008).

According to the court in In re Morales, the retail values, and not the private party values, are the appropriate starting points because the text of § 506(a)(2) refers to "the price a retail merchant would charge" and does not refer to the price a private party would charge. Morales at 46.

Here, Debtor has provided a Kelly Blue Book report stating that the trade-in value of the Property is $15,043. Balboa, on the other hand, provides an (unauthenticated) Kelly Blue Book report which states that the "lending value" is $19,570 and the "typical listing price" is $21,506. Balboa proposes to take the average of the two identifies values, for reasons that are unclear. Given that Balboa has failed to properly authenticate its evidence or explain its method in arriving at its proposed figure, the Court is inclined to continue the matter for the parties to file supplements, if desired.

Finally, Balboa's arguments as to the appropriate interest rate are not appropriately raised in an opposition to a motion to value.

Tentative Ruling:

The Court is inclined to CONTINUE the matter for the parties to file supplemental declarations or evidence.

BACKGROUND

On May 23, 2018, Jesus & Virginia Pabloff ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. Among the assets of the estate is certain real property located at 33695 Marigold Ln., Murrieta, CA 92563, the principal residence of Debtors (the "Property"). On August 17, 2018, Debtors filed a motion to determine the value of the property.

Debtors; motion contends that the value of the Property is $420,000. Debtors' motion appears to be an attempt to bifurcate the lien of the Internal Revenue Service into a secured claim in the amount of $17,175.04 and an unsecured claim of $145,037.39.

Here, the claim of the IRS is secured by Property, which is real property that is the debtor's principal residence, and, therefore, Debtors cannot utilize § 1322(b)(2) to bifurcate the claim.

Chapter 13

#8.00 Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations REAL PROPERTY RE: 150 W. Highland Ave, San Bernardino, CA 92405

MOVANT: MILESTONE FINANCIAL LLC

EH__

Docket 49

Tentative Ruling:

9/25/2018

Service is Proper

Opposition: Yes

As a preliminary note, the Court notes that Local Rule 4001-(1)(c)(4) states that: "[a] motion for relief from the automatic stay must be filed separately from, and not combined in the same document with, any other request for relief, unless otherwise ordered by the court." Therefore, the default position is that the alternative requests made by Movant, for dismissal of the case or modification of the plan, are inappropriately brought in conjunction with a motion for relief from stay. Here, the Court is inclined to not deviate from the default position, because such requests are more appropriately heard on a Chapter 13 calendar when the Chapter 13 Trustee is present. Therefore, the Court is inclined to DENY the alternative requests for dismissal of the case or modification of the plan without prejudice.

Regarding the request for relief from the automatic stay, the Court notes that Debtor is correct in asserting that the Chapter 13 plan is a conduit plan, with payments to be made to Del Toro Loan Servicing, Movant's servicer, through the plan. While the Court notes that the docket does not reflect that a motion to dismiss for delinquency has been filed in this case, Debtor has not provided any supporting documentation indicating that the Chapter 13 plan payments are current.

Docket 14

Tentative Ruling:

09/25/2018

The Debtors' prior case was dismissed on July 25, 2018, for failure to submit 2017 federal and state tax returns to the Trustee. The Debtors and their counsel did not appear at the hearing and the case was dismissed. The Debtors have obtained new counsel. In support of their Motion, they assert that they believed they had complied with the Trustee's request for the returns by submitting Debtor Husband's returns but failed to notify the Trustee that the co-debtor was not required to file taxes. Additionally, the Debtors assert that because their plan proposed a 100% payout to creditors, they were not required to provide refund monies to the estate.

Here the Debtors request that their stay be continued as to the foreclosing creditor, Wells Fargo, who has a sale scheduled for September 26, 2018.

The Debtors have provided sufficient evidence to overcome the § 362(c)(3)(C) presumption that the case was not filed in good faith given that a relief from stay was pending in the prior case as to Wells Fargo when the case was dismissed.

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion as to Wells Fargo, the foreclosing creditor.

Docket 37

Tentative Ruling:

9/25/2018

BACKGROUND

On July 23, 2018, Richard Garavito ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. Debtor previously filed a Chapter 13 case on April 17, 2018, which was dismissed on July 19, 2018.

On August 29, 2018, the Taylor Family Trust of June 16, 2004 ("Creditor"), the primary creditor in the instant case, filed a motion to confirm that the automatic stay terminated pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3)(A). On September 7, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to continue/impose the automatic stay. Because Debtor has not offered a cognizable legal argument as to why the automatic stay has not terminated, or why Debtor can obtain a continuation of the automatic stay after the statutory deadline, the Court has posted tentative rulings indicating that it intends to grant Creditor's motion and deny Debtor's motion.

On September 11, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to dismiss the case and an application shortening time. On September 13, 2018, the Court approved the application shortening time, and set a hearing for September 25, 2018.

DISCUSSION

11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(1) states:

Except as provided in paragraph (2) and subsection (c), on request of a party in interest, and after notice and a hearing, the court shall convert a case under this chapter to a case under chapter 7 or dismiss a case under this chapter, whichever is in the best interests of creditors and the estate, for cause unless the court determines that the appointment under section 1104(a) of a trustee or an examiner is in the best interests of creditors and the estate.

11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(4) provides a non-exclusive list of sixteen examples of cause – most of which are more appropriately considered when the moving party is an entity other than the debtor.

Here, Debtor's motion is unclear, at best. The entire argument why the case should be dismissed is reproduced, verbatim, as follows:

In the present case, since the motion to impose and/or continue the stay was not timely filed, the stay will no longer be in effect with the pending motion to terminate the stay filed by secured creditor Taylor Family Trust.

The Debtor should not be penalized due to counsel's inadvertent calendaring error of the 30 days rule of filing a motion to impose and/or continue the stay. However, an argument can be made that under the majority approach a motion to impose or continue the stay shall be filed as to the Debtor individually and not as to the property of the estate. Here, the Subject Property is property of the estate and the automatic stay should be in effect as to the Subject Property.

However, due to circumstances surrounding the possible termination of the stay, the Debtor requests dismissal of this case as there is no purpose if the stay is not in effect as to the Subject Property.

[Dkt. No. 37, pg. 5]. In summary, Debtor acknowledges that the stay has statutorily terminated and the deadline to continue the automatic stay has lapsed, but then argues that such stay termination is with regards to the Debtor only, not property of the estate. Despite the argument, the Debtor then asserts that due to "circumstances" the Debtor requests dismissal because there is "no purpose" if the stay has also terminated as to property of the estate.

There are multiple issues with the above line of argument. First, Debtor does not appear to have raised any coherent cause for dismissal – the only argument made in favor of dismissal, that the "Subject Property" is not protected by the automatic stay, (and thus this Chapter 11 case cannot be successful) is also explicitly rejected by Debtor. Second, § 1112(b) requires the Court to consider whether dismissal or conversion to Chapter 7 is in the best interests of creditors and the estate. Here, Debtor's schedules filed in the instant case indicate that all creditors would likely be paid in full if this case was converted to Chapter 7. Therefore, pursuant to the analysis required by § 1112(b), it is unclear why this case would be dismissed rather than converted to Chapter 7.

Finally, the Court acknowledges that, in a reply relating to its motion to confirm that the automatic stay has terminated, Creditor has requested that, if the case is dismissed, Debtor be restricted from re-filing by a bar. While raising this argument in a reply relating to a different motion is procedurally improper, the Court need not address the request at the current time given the issues above.

BACKGROUND

On March 27, 2018, G Hurtado Construction, Inc. ("Debtor") filed its petition for chapter 11 relief. The bankruptcy was precipitated by a wage and hour lawsuit brought by two and possibly more former employees. Catana and Faustino v. G Hurtado Construction, Inc. On May 9, 2018, the Debtor issued a Notice of Bar Date indicating that the Court set a deadline of July 13, 2018 ("Bar Date"), for creditors to file proofs of claims against the Debtor's estate.

On July 16, 2018, the following claims were filed: Claim #9 by Donahoo & Associates, PC in the amount of $134,475.02, Claim #10 by Juan Catano in the amount of $230,081.64, Claim #11 by Faustino Magana in the amount of $101,240.04 (collectively, "Litigation Claimants")

On August 29, 2018, the Litigation Claimants filed a Motion to allow their claims ("Motion"). Opposition was filed by the Debtor on September 10, 2018 ("Opposition"). On September 17, 2018, the Litigation Claimants filed their Reply to the Opposition ("Reply").

DISCUSSION

The Litigation Claimants seek the Court's permission to allow their claims as timely pursuant to FRBP 9006(b)(1). In support of the Motion, the Litigation Claimants have provided evidence that the claims at issue were ready on the Bar Date but that due to "a misunderstanding", the claims were mailed to the Court instead of being personally filed by an attorney service. The result is that the claims arrived three days late. In response, the Debtor argues that the failure to timely file a claim was based on mistake, not excusable neglect, and that even assuming, arguendo, that there was neglect, that that neglect was not excusable.

The Court in Pioneer recognized that "excusable neglect" is a flexible, equitable concept, and also reminded us that "inadvertence, ignorance of the rules, or mistakes construing the rules do not usually constitute 'excusable' neglect." Pioneer at 389; Kyle v. Campbell Soup Co., 28 F.3d 928, 931 (9th Cir. 1994), as amended on denial of reh'g (Apr. 8, 1994). Although the Debtor argues that the Litigation Claimants' statements amount to grounds under the concept of 'mistake' and not 'excusable neglect', the facts belie that assertion. Specifically, the declaration of Mr. Danhoo clearly indicates his instruction to his paralegal was to file the proof of claims on the bar date. There is no evidence or argument that the failure of the paralegal to accurately follow the instruction was due to a mistake in interpreting or applying the applicable rules. Instead, the facts presented comport most closely with the definition of "neglect" indicated in Pioneer, i.e., "to give little attention or respect" to a matter, or "to leave undone or unattended to esp[ecially] through carelessness. Pioneer at 389. The word therefore encompasses both simple, faultless omissions to act and, more commonly, omissions caused by carelessness. Id. Here, it is either the carelessness of the attorney in supervising the paralegal, or of the paralegal in following the instruction that most likely resulted in the mailing of the proofs of claim. As such, the remaining issue is whether the neglect in evidence is excusable.

The determination of whether neglect is "excusable" is "an equitable one, taking account of all relevant circumstances surrounding the party's omission." Pioneer Inv. Servs. Co. v. Brunswick Assocs. Ltd. P'ship, 507 U.S. 380, 395, 113 S.Ct. 1489, 123 L.Ed.2d 74 (1993). Such circumstances include "the danger of prejudice to the debtor, the length of the delay and its potential impact on judicial proceedings, the reason for the delay ... and whether the movant acted in good faith." Id. This list is not exhaustive. In re Zilog, Inc., 450 F.3d 996, 1003 (9th Cir. 2006). The determination is essentially an equitable one, taking account of all relevant circumstances surrounding a party's omission. In re Gordian Med., Inc., 499 B.R. 793, 798 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2013). No single circumstance in isolation compels a particular result regardless of the other factors. Briones v. Riviera Hotel & Casino, 116 F.3d 379, 382 n. 2 (9th Cir.1997).

Chapter 11

As to the length of the delay, the claims at issue were filed only three days late, which weighs in favor of allowing the claims. Additionally there is no evidence that the Litigation Claimants have acted other than in good faith. This second factor weighs in favor of allowing the claims.

The two remaining elements of the Pioneer test are danger of prejudice to the debtor and potential impact on judicial proceedings (and length of the delay in the claim's filing). As to a chapter 11 case,

When a proof of claim is timely filed, it puts the debtor and other parties in interest in a bankruptcy case on notice that a particular creditor is asserting a right to payment. When a proof of claim is filed after the bar date, this notice is delayed by the length of time running from the bar date to the date of the untimely claim's filing. During this interval, the debtor and other parties in interest may have taken action in reliance on their knowledge of the body of claims in the case as of the close of the bar date. For example, armed with information about the total amount of filed claims, a debtor may have reached certain tentative conclusions about how much it could afford to pay under a chapter 11 plan and, on that basis, conducted negotiations with the unsecured creditors committee and perhaps secured creditors as well. Equally true, the debtor may have conveyed information to the bankruptcy court during status conferences about the anticipated timing for the filing of a disclosure statement and plan of reorganization, and the bankruptcy court may have taken such information into account in setting various deadlines in the case.

The filing of a late claim has the potential to upend such negotiations and any informal agreements that may have been reached with creditors as well as to require the bankruptcy court to reconsider its previously imposed deadlines. Each case turns on its own facts, and there may be other instances of prejudice to the debtor and an adverse impact on judicial proceedings beyond those mentioned above.

Chapter 11

Here, there is no evidence that the short delay in filing the proofs of claim prejudiced the Debtor. To the contrary, the Litigation Claimants' claims were identified by the Debtor as a primary factor precipitating the bankruptcy filing. Under these circumstances, absent evidence from the Debtor that the late filing of the claims has materially impacted negotiations or deadlines, the Court finds that the third and fourth factors weigh in favor of allowing the claims.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion in its entirety. Finding that the failure of the Litigation Claimants to timely file their claims by the Bar Date was the result of excusable neglect and ordering the allowance of their claims under FRBP 9006(b)(1) as timely.

Docket 102

Tentative Ruling:

09/26/2018

BACKGROUND

On November 23, 2015 ("Petition Date"), James Lloyd Walker ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 7 relief. Robert Whitmore is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). Among the assets of the estate is certain real property located at 13247 Mammoth Street in Hesperia, CA 92344 (the "Mammoth Street Property"). The Mammoth Street Property is currently being rented out by the Debtor.

On March 9, 2018, the Trustee filed a Motion seeking turnover of the Mammoth Street Property ("Motion"). Specifically, the Trustee seeks an order:

1. Compelling the Debtor to turn over to the Trustee possession, custody, and control of the Mammoth Street Property, including any and all proceeds thereof as of and from the Petition Date and any and all other items to gain possession, custody and control of the Mammoth Street Property such as the property keys and security access codes;
2. Compelling the Debtor to turn over to the Trustee all books and records relating to the Mammoth Street Property, including an accounting of any and all proceeds thereof, as of and from the Petition Date; and
3. Requiring the Debtor to comply with the order on or before 14 days after the order becomes a final order.

Chapter 7

Subsequent to the filing of the Motion, the parties agreed to several continuances of the hearing for settlement discussions. Settlement discussions eventually resulted in an agreement by the Debtor to pay administrative costs in exchange for an agreement to retain the Mammoth Street Property. However, after learning the amount of administrative fees incurred, the Debtor changed his position regarding the agreement.

On September 14, 2018, the Debtor filed a response to the Motion ("Response"). On September 19, 2018, the Trustee filed his reply ("Reply").

DISCUSSION

Under the Bankruptcy Code, a debtor has a duty to surrender property of the estate to the trustee. § 521(4). Furthermore, a trustee has the duty to "collect and reduce to money the property of the estate for which such trustee serves" § 704(1). Finally, "any entity, other than a custodian, in possession, custody or control of property that the trustee may use, sell, or lease under section 363 of this title ... shall deliver to the trustee, and account for, such property or the value of such property" Id. § 542 (a).

The Response does not dispute that the Mammoth Street Property is property of the estate. The primary response is that the Debtor needs extra time to save the properties and that the Trustee is needlessly incurring administrative expenses. The issues surrounding the amount of administrative fees, however, are not currently before this Court. Thus, based on the plain language of §521 and § 542, and for the reasons set forth in the Motion, the Court is inclined to order turnover.

TENTATIVE RULING

For these reasons, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion in its entirety. The Debtor's apparent refusal to cooperate and/or unwillingness to abide by the bankruptcy process are insufficient to justify further delay. The Court finds that turnover and an accounting are required by § 521 and § 542.

accountant. Since the employment of these professionals, the Court has approved a Rule 9019 compromise [Dkt. No. 133] and two § 363 sale motions [Dkt. Nos. 146 & 172].

On July 11, 2018, Applicant filed the instant fee application.

Local Rule 2016-(1)(a)(2)(A) states, in part:

In all cases where the employment of more than one professional person has been authorized by the court, a professional person who files an application for interim fees must give other professional persons employed in the case not less than 45 days notice of the date and time of the hearing.

Here, there was more than one professional person employed, yet Applicant did not comply with the above rule. Therefore, the Court is inclined to CONTINUE the hearing to September 26, 2018, at 11:00 a.m. to comply with the above rule.

Docket 72

Tentative Ruling:

09/26/2018

BACKGROUND:

On November 2, 2016, Jaison Vally Surace ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 7 relief. John Pringle is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). The deadline for filing claims in the case was April 11, 2017 ("Bar Date").

On August 20, 2018, the Trustee filed a Motion for allowance of claims 24 and 25 of Chase Bank USA, NA as late filed claims allowable against the surplus only ("Objection"). No opposition or response has been filed.

ANALYSIS and TENTATIVE RULING

09/26/2018

The Trustee has provided evidence that the claims of Chase Bank were filed after the Bar Date. Based on the Trustee's evidence, his request that the late-filed claims be paid against any surplus pursuant to § 726(a)(3) is appropriate and the Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the Objection on that basis.

BACKGROUND:

On November 2, 2016, Jaison Vally Surace ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 7 relief. John Pringle is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). The deadline for filing claims in the case was April 11, 2017 ("Bar Date").

inclined to SUSTAIN the Objection on that basis.

Chapter 7

As to the Opposition, the Court agrees with the Trustee that the Debtor is advancing independent grounds for objection to claim and the request, which amounts to a request for disallowance of the claim must be brought by independent motion of the Debtor with notice to Citibank. For these reasons, and all of the reasons articulated by the Trustee, the Court finds that the Opposition must be disregarded.

Chapter 7

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Specialists, Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000). When a party files an objection to a proof of claim, that filing "creates a dispute which is a contested matter" within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and the Court must resolve the matter after notice and opportunity for hearing upon a motion for relief. Id.

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." United States v. Offord Fin., Inc., (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216,222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. Ashford v. Consol. Pioneer Mort. (In re Consol. Pioneer Mort.), 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

Here, Trustee has pointed to the fact that the evidence attached to the Claim are addressed to Paul Minnick as a representative of MCG Development. In response, Claimant has provided the same documents referenced by the Trustee and has failed to provide any admissible evidence indicating that liability on the contract can be collected against the Debtor's estate.

ANALYSIS:

Here, the Trustee has pointed to facts tending to defeat the claim by virtue of the fact that Claimant's own supporting documentation evinces a contractual relationship with Paul Minnick as representative of MCG Development Company, Inc., not on behalf of the Debtor. Absent evidence of a relationship between the Debtor and Claimant, the Claimant has failed to establish the existence of a claim against the Debtor's estate.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Claim indicates that it is secured by a Recorded Deed of Trust and Note and that the fair market value of the Property at issue exceeds the amount of the Claim such that it is fully secured. The Trustee requests that the Claim be allowed as fully secured but not entitled to a dividend from the estate. Based on the lack of prejudice to the Claimant and the Claimant's failure to file response or opposition which this Court deems as consent pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the objection and ALLOW the Claim as a fully secured claim not entitled to a dividend.

TENTATIVE RULING

On September 5, 2018, the Debtor's case was dismissed for failure to properly sign the Declaration by Debtor regarding Income Received Within 60 Days of the Petition ("Declaration"). The Debtor has now moved to vacate the dismissal. The hearing has been set on shortened time per the Court's order with opposition due at the hearing. The Debtor's counsel indicates that although the Debtor had signed the deficient documents by the deadline, Counsel's office inadvertently filed the incorrect Declaration, which resulted in the dismissal of the case. The Debtor has now filed the amended Declaration. Having corrected the basis for dismissal, and given there is no apparent prejudice to creditors, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion to Vacate Dismissal.

Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

09/26/2018

BACKGROUND

On December 8, 2017, Mark Bastorous & Bernadette Shenouda ("Debtors" or "Defendants") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition.

On March 12, 2018, Mina Farah ("Plaintiff" or "Creditor") filed a complaint against Mark Bastorous, Bernadette Shenouda, and Does 1-10, inclusive ("Defendants") for nondischargeability pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A). On April 11, 2018, the Defendants filed a motion to dismiss. The Plaintiff subsequently amended her complaint ("FAC") on May 3, 2018.

The FAC alleges the Plaintiff gave the Defendants $241,912.00 to invest in improvements to their real estate firm's commercial office building. Plaintiff alleges the Defendants intentionally concealed other, pending senior liens on the property during negotiations. Plaintiff further contends that her note and deed of trust from Defendants were intentionally recorded in an untimely manner. The property became over-encumbered, as its fair market value was $2,360,000, but held a total debt of over $3,106,156, providing evidence of no intention to repay creditors. The Plaintiff believes her loan was used to buy a large parcel of property in Hesperia for Defendants' personal use.

Chapter 7

Plaintiff contends she relied on the Defendants' misrepresentations when offering the loan, and would not have offered a loan but for the false promises. Her numerous repayment demands in 2016 and 2017 were unsuccessful. Plaintiff further asserts that the Defendants made false representations in a similar manner to another lender, Anis Khalil. Plaintiff asks for compensatory damages of a minimum of $300,000, and punitive damages in a minimum amount of $600,000.

On June 4, 2018, Defendants filed this motion to dismiss ("Motion") for failure to state a claim pursuant to FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 12(b)(6). The Defendants allege the Plaintiff failed to claim nondischargeability under § 523(a)(2)(A) by not proving the claim's required elements. The Defendants assert that the Plaintiff has merely pled allegations, rather than a claim upon which relief can be granted.

DISCUSSION

I. MOTION TO DISMISS STANDARD

To avoid dismissal pursuant to Civil Rule 12(b)(6), a complaint must allege sufficient factual matter, which if accepted as true, would "state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)). A claim is facially plausible when a court can draw a reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for misconduct. Id. The plaintiff must provide "more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do." Id.

II. NON-DISCHARGEABILITY

Under 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A), a debt is not discharged for money obtained by false pretenses, a false representation, or actual fraud. The elements of a § 523(a)(2)(A) claim are well-established: (1) a representation; (2) that the debtor knew was false; (3) that the debtor made with the intention of deceiving the creditor; (4) reliance on the representation by the creditor; (5) and damages as a proximate result of reliance on the representations. See, e.g., In re Eashai, 87 F.3d 1082, 1086 (9th Cir. 1996).

Here, the first sentence of the complaint indicates that the Plaintiff is moving under § 523(a)(2)(A), and the five substantive subsections of the FAC closely track the elements outlined above. Defendants appear to argue that the FAC must cite the applicable bankruptcy law, identify the appropriate elements and apply those elements to the facts alleged. This argument misrepresents the pleading standard. See, e.g., Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) ("Rule 8 marks a notable and generous departure from the hypertechnical, code-pleading regiment of a prior era."). Even if Plaintiff had failed to mention § 523(a)(2)(A) within the body of the FAC, such an omission would not be fatal where the FAC's subsections closely and precisely track the elements of the statute and where all parties and the Court are aware of the legal theory being articulated. See, e.g., McHenry v. Renne, 84 F.3d 1172, 1179 (9th Cir. 1996) ("[E]ven though a complaint is not defective for failure to designate the statute or other provision of law violated, the judge may in his discretion . . . require such detailed as may be appropriate in the particular case."). Here, Plaintiff has adequately identified a cognizable legal theory and has provided adequate factual allegations to support the pled theory. See Navarro v. Block, 250 F.3d 729, 732 (9th Cir. 2001) ("Dismissal is proper only where there is no cognizable legal theory or an absence of sufficient facts alleged to support a cognizable legal theory.").

Separately, as to the argument by Defendants that the Plaintiff has failed to adequately provide notice of which Defendant made the alleged misrepresentation, the Court concurs that ¶14 of the FAC does not adequately identify the Defendant and manner in which the representations were made to the Plaintiff.

TENTATIVE RULING

For the foregoing reasons, consistent with the Court's prior rulings in the related Bastorous actions, the Court is incline to GRANT the Motion with leave to amend only as to the need for more specificity as to the circumstances surrounding the misrepresentations in accordance with FRCP 9(b).

APPEARANCES REQUIRED.

Docket 11

 VACATED  REASON: CONTINUED TO 10/3/18 AT 2:00 P.M.

Tentative Ruling:

07/25/2018

Moving Defendant leads the analysis astray by conflating issues of standing to enforce the Consent Judgment with the question of standing of a Debtor-in-possession to prosecute a fraudulent conveyance action under § 548. However, that misdirection is rendered irrelevant once the focus shifts to the § 548 elements outlined in Plaintiff's opposition, and in particular on the glaring, inescapable conclusion that Plaintiff has failed to allege facts to support that a transfer occurred -- an essential element of a Section 548 cause of action.

Here the facts at issue pertain to the Defendants' alleged failure to act (at some point, although the Court is unclear of the basis for Plaintiff's allegation of a specific date for the transfer) to release or extinguish a junior lien against Debtor's property. But no specific affirmative act, or transfer of possession or ownership is alleged to have occurred. See Bernard v. Sheaffer (In re Bernard), 96 F.3d 1279, 1282 (9th Cir. 1996) ("[A] transfer is a disposition of an interest in property. The definition is as broad as possible. ... Under this definition, any transfer of an interest in property is a transfer, including a transfer of possession, custody, or control even if there is no transfer of title, because possession, custody, and control are interests in property.") (citations omitted); Greenspan v. Orick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP (In re Brobeck, Phleger & Harrison LLP), 408 B.R. 318, 338 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2009) ("Within the confines of these general principles, the general rule is that "[t]he hallmark of a 'transfer' is a change in the rights of the transferor with respect to the property after the transaction."); In re Feiler, 218 B.R. 957, 960 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 1998), aff'd, 230 B.R.

164 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1999), aff'd, 218 F.3d 948 (9th Cir. 2000) ("Within the context of a fraudulent transfer, the definition of transfer is sufficiently broad to include a transfer that results in a modification of form or value of property transferred or a deposit into or withdrawal from a bank account.") (citations omitted); Kapila v. U.S. (In re Taylor), 386 B.R. 361, 369 (Bankr.S.D.Fla.2008) (debtor's waiver of an NOL carryback constitutes a transfer).

Here, Plaintiff simply hasn't alleged any change of rights in property after any particular transaction, nor has Plaintiff otherwise presented any authority for its proposition that the Defendants' failure to release the lien somehow constitutes a transfer. Basically, it appears here that what the estate MAY have is a right to enforce the Consent Judgment so as to compel extinguishment of the junior lien. But that question is not before the Court, and the Court takes no position on whether it is a viable cause of action or if the Debtor even has standing to prosecute it. For that reason, the Court is inclined to find that the Plaintiff has failed to state an actionable claim under the bankruptcy code, and therefore the Amended Complaint should be dismissed.

Tentative Ruling:

09/27/2018

BACKGROUND

On April 10, 2018 ("Petition Date"), Lenton Hutton ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 13 relief. Among the assets of the Debtor's estate on the petition date was certain real property located at 13370 Sea Gull Dr. in Victorville, CA. On the Petition Date, Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. ("Wells") held a Trustee's sale of the Property.

On April 23, 2018, Wells filed a motion for relief from stay (the "RFS Motion"). On May 21, 2018, the Court denied the RFS Motion on the grounds that no stay was in effect in the case pursuant to § 362(c)(4) (the "RFS Order"). The record reflects that the Debtor did not seek reconsideration of the RFS Order, nor was the RFS Order appealed. On June 14, 2018, the bankruptcy case was dismissed following the confirmation hearing.

On May 17, 2018, the Debtor filed an action against Wells seeking damages and equitable relief based on various state law claims, in addition to two claims arising from the bankruptcy proceeding (the "Action"). On July 12, 2018, Wells removed the Action filed by the Debtor in State Court to the Bankruptcy Court.

On August 9, 2018, the Debtor filed an Amended Complaint (the "FAC"). On August 23, 2018, Wells filed the instant Motion to Dismiss the FAC ("Motion"). The Debtor filed Opposition to the Motion on September 7, 2018. Wells filed its reply to the Motion on September 13, 2018.

Chapter 13

DISCUSSION

The Action appears premised primarily upon the incorrect assertion that Wells foreclosed in violation of the automatic stay. However, as set forth in the background section and as indicated on the Court's Docket for the Main Case and, specifically, the RFS Order (of which the Court takes judicial notice), there was no stay when Wells foreclosed. The Debtor has not challenged the RFS Order either by seeking reconsideration or by appealing the order. Therefore, the Court is inclined to find that under the doctrine of collateral estoppel, the FAC must be dismissed as to the allegations alleging that a violation of the automatic stay occurred.

As to the remaining allegations going to state law claims regarding violations of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing, violation of the Business and Professions Code, Promissory Estoppel, and Violation of C.C.P. § 726, the Court finds as follows:

The dismissal of a bankruptcy case has several ramifications as set out in Bankruptcy Code Section 349. The Ninth Circuit has explained, "Section 349 of the Bankruptcy Code lists the various effects of dismissal of the underlying bankruptcy case; conspicuously absent from that list is automatic termination of jurisdiction of related cases." In re Carraher, 971 F.2d 327, 328 (9th Cir. 1992). The bankruptcy court may retain jurisdiction over a related proceeding subject to considerations of judicial economy, fairness, convenience and comity. In re Casamont Inv'rs, Ltd., 196 B.R. 517, 522 (9th Cir. BAP 1996).

Here, the Debtor's underlying bankruptcy case was dismissed on June 14, 2018. The instant adversary proceeding is at its early stages. Given the Court's tentative ruling that the Debtor is precluded from arguing that Wells foreclosed in violation of the automatic stay, the remaining allegations of the Debtor relate primarily to a determination of rights arising under state law, which are more appropriately raised in State Court and over which this Court cannot make final rulings pursuant to Stern v. Marshall, 564 U.S. 462, 131 S. Ct. 2594, 180 L. Ed. 2d 475 (2011). Based on the foregoing, the Court has determined that the principles of judicial economy, fairness, convenience and comity do not favor this Court's retention of jurisdiction over the action. Additionally, as an alternative grounds for dismissal, the Court incorporates the findings related to jurisdiction and finds that abstention is also appropriate as to the state law allegations and claims of the Debtor.

Chapter 13

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to DISMISS the FAC as to the Wrongful Foreclosure and Violation of the Stay claims, to the extent that these claims arise solely from the alleged violation of the automatic stay, and to REMAND the FAC to the State Court as to the remaining non-bankruptcy related issues both under a theory of declining jurisdiction and of absence.

Debtor's case was dismissed on September 27, 2018. Debtor filed opposition to the Motion but did not address the assertion by Movant that the case was filed in bad faith with evidence of two prior cases which the Court's records reflect were both dismissed for failure by Debtor to make plan payments. Based on the evidence, coupled with the recent dismissal of the instant case for failure to make plan payments, the Court is inclined to GRANT relief from the stay under § 362(d)(4). GRANT waiver of 4001(a)(3) stay. The remaining requests for relief are DENIED as moot based on the dismissal of the case.

#5.00 Motion By United States Trustee To Dismiss Case With A Filing Bar

EH__

Docket 7

Tentative Ruling:

10/3/18

BACKGROUND

On August 21, 2018, Jose Peralta-Velasquez ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. Debtor had previously filed three bankruptcies in the previous fifteen months, all of which were dismissed for failure to file information. On September 6, 2018, UST filed a motion to dismiss case, requesting a one-year re-filing bar.

DISCUSSION

I. Dismissal

11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(1) permits the Court to dismiss a Chapter 7 case for abuse. 11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(3)(A) states:

(3) In considering under paragraph (1) whether the granting of relief would be an abuse of the provisions of this chapter in a case in which the presumption in paragraph (2)(A)(i) does not arise or is rebutted, the court shall consider –

Chapter 7

(A) whether the debtor filed the petition in bad faith

In determining whether a case should be dismissed under § 707(b)(3)(A), the Court considers the totality of the circumstances, but is ultimately instructed to consider whether "the debtor's intention in filing a bankruptcy petition is inconsistent with the Chapter 7 goals of providing a 'fresh start' to debtors and maximizing the return to creditors." In re Mitchell, 357 B.R. 142, 154-55 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2006) (listing factors to be considered in making that determination).

The majority of the Mitchell factors are inapplicable when, as here, a debtor files a skeletal petition that does not provide the Court with sufficient information to apply the Mitchell test. Only factor seven (history of bankruptcy filings) and, possibly, factor nine (egregious behavior) can be assessed when a debtor files a skeletal petition. Both those factors weigh in favor of dismissal when, as here, a debtor repeatedly files skeletal petitions during a short period of time, and does not disclose previous filings.¹ While § 707(a)(1) and (3) provide for dismissal when a debtor fails to fulfill his duties under the Bankruptcy Code, when a debtor repeatedly files bankruptcy and fails to evince any attempt to comply with the filing requirements, it can be inferred, absent any indication to the contrary, that the debtor's purpose in filing bankruptcy is not to take advantage of the fresh start. See, e.g., In re Craighead, 377 B.R. 648, 655 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2007) ("Courts generally hold that when a debtor repeatedly files bankruptcy petitions and then repeatedly fails to file schedules or to comply with other requirements, this pattern of behavior is evidence of bad faith and an attempt to abuse the system."). Dismissal under § 707(b)(3) is appropriate in those circumstances.

II. Re-Filing Bar

The court is empowered to impose a refiling bar under 11 U.S.C. § 349(a). As

Chapter 7

COLLIER notes, courts' analysis of this section is somewhat confused due to confounding "dismissal with prejudice" with "dismissal with injunction against future filings." COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 349.02[3]; compare In re Garcia, 479 B.R. 488 (Bankr. N.D. Ind. 2012) (denying motion for dismissal with prejudice, but imposing three-year refiling bar) with In re Craighead, 377 B.R. 648 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2007) (appearing to equate dismissal with prejudice with an injunction against refiling).

There is also a circuit split concerning whether an injunction on refiling for more than 180 days is allowed under the Bankruptcy Code. Compare In re Frieouf, 938 F.2d 1099 (10th Cir. 1991) (180 days is maximum allowed length of refiling injunction) with Casse v. Key Bank Nat. Ass'n, 198 F.3d 327 (2nd Cir. 1999) (injunction against filing for more than 180 days permissible). 11 U.S.C. § 349(a) reads:

Unless, the court, for cause, orders otherwise, the dismissal of a case under this title does not bar the discharge, in a later case under this title, of debts that were dischargeable in the case dismissed; nor does the dismissal of a case under this title prejudice the debtor with regard to the filing of a subsequent petition under this title, except as provided in section 109(g) of this title.

The disagreement revolves around whether the qualifier "Unless, the court, for cause, orders otherwise" modifies the content after the semi-colon. In re Leavitt noted this disagreement, but since the court was dealing with a dismissal with prejudice, rather than an injunction against refiling, it did not resolve the issue. 209 B.R. 935, 942 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 1997). Within the Ninth Circuit, it appears the trend is to adopt the reasoning of the Second Circuit and allow injunctions for more than 180 days. See e.g. In re Velasques, 2012 WL 8255582 at *3 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2012).

Here, Debtor has filed three skeletal bankruptcies in the previous fifteen months and failed to file the balance of the required case commencement documents in the instant case. As noted above, the Court has determined that Debtor's behavior is sufficient to warrant dismissal for bad faith and the Court finds the requested one year refiling bar to be appropriate.

Moreover, Debtor's failure to oppose is deemed consent to the relief requested pursuant to Local Rule 9013-1(h).

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

10/03/18

The Debtor's FAC is premised on the assumption that the Consent Judgment required BOFA and its successors to extinguish the second lien on his principal residence. However, while the Debtor asserts he is not seeking enforcement of the Consent Judgment, in order to maintain a claim under § 544 (b)(1) or §§ 28 U.S.C. 3301-3308, the Debtor must demonstrate, at a minimum, that the Consent Judgment required BOFA to release his second mortgage. The FAC thus sets forth the provisions of the Consent Judgment which he believes establish that his second mortgage should have been extinguished. (FAC at pp. 6-7, subheading C. The Terms of the Judgment). Whether or not the Debtor seeks enforcement of the Consent Judgment, its provisions and conditions must be interpreted for the Debtor to prevail.

Here, a quick examination of the Consent Judgment reveals several hurdles as it pertains to the Debtor's claims: first, the language of the Consent Judgment which purportedly resulted in a 'transfer' of the Debtor's property is found under the 'Consumer Relief' provisions of the Consent Judgment. However, a plain reading of ¶ 5 of the Consent Judgment indicates that BOFA was required to provide up to "$7,626,200,000 of relief to consumers who meet eligibility criteria... and $948,000,000 of refinancing relief." This provision calls into question the Debtor's assumption that his second mortgage was required to be extinguished pursuant to the Consent Judgment when read alongside the language of page 169, part 2.c.i., which states, in pertinent part, "Servicer agrees that it must write down second liens consistent with the following program until its Consumer Relief Requirement credits are fulfilled." The Court gleans from these provisions that as to the Consumer Relief Requirements, not all second liens having met the criteria of part 2.c.i.2.a. were required to be extinguished as part of the Consent Judgment. Instead, the Consent Judgment provides which kinds of second liens were eligible for relief and placed a minimum dollar amount of relief that BOFA was required to meet. However, it appears that so long as BOFA met the stated dollar amount of required consumer relief, BOFA would have been in compliance with the Consent Judgment.

In sum, the Court agrees with Defendants that to prevail, the Debtor must establish that BOFA was required to release the lien pursuant to the Consent Judgment. Absent such a finding, the Debtor cannot be said to have been parted from property pursuant to § 101(54) (defining "transfer"). Having failed to aver in the FAC "sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face,'" the Court finds that the FAC must be dismissed. See Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678, 129 S.Ct. 1937, 173 L.Ed.2d 868 (2009) (quoting Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570, 127 S.Ct. 1955). Specifically, the Court finds that Debtor has failed to plead sufficient facts underpinning the existence of a transfer to allege a cognizable legal theory.

Finally, although the Court need not reach this issue today, the Court questions whether a request to make findings that the Consent Judgment would have required BOFA to extinguish the second lien amounts to "enforcement" such that exclusive jurisdiction lies with the District Court for the District of Columbia.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion and DISMISS the FAC without leave to amend. APPEARANCES REQUIRED.

07/25/2018

Moving Defendant leads the analysis astray by conflating issues of standing to enforce the Consent Judgment with the question of standing of a Debtor-in-possession to prosecute a fraudulent conveyance action under § 548. However, that misdirection is rendered irrelevant once the focus shifts to the § 548 elements outlined in Plaintiff's opposition, and in particular on the glaring, inescapable conclusion that Plaintiff has failed to allege facts to support that a transfer occurred -- an essential element of a Section 548 cause of action.

Chapter 11

Here the facts at issue pertain to the Defendants' alleged failure to act (at some point, although the Court is unclear of the basis for Plaintiff's allegation of a specific date for the transfer) to release or extinguish a junior lien against Debtor's property. But no specific affirmative act, or transfer of possession or ownership is alleged to have occurred. See Bernard v. Sheaffer (In re Bernard), 96 F.3d 1279, 1282 (9th Cir. 1996) ("[A] transfer is a disposition of an interest in property. The definition is as broad as possible. ... Under this definition, any transfer of an interest in property is a transfer, including a transfer of possession, custody, or control even if there is no transfer of title, because possession, custody, and control are interests in property.") (citations omitted); Greenspan v. Orick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP (In re Brobeck, Phleger & Harrison LLP), 408 B.R. 318, 338 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2009) ("Within the confines of these general principles, the general rule is that "[t]he hallmark of a 'transfer' is a change in the rights of the transferor with respect to the property after the transaction."); In re Feiler, 218 B.R. 957, 960 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 1998), aff'd, 230 B.R. 164 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1999), aff'd, 218 F.3d 948 (9th Cir. 2000) ("Within the context of a fraudulent transfer, the definition of transfer is sufficiently broad to include a transfer that results in a modification of form or value of property transferred or a deposit into or withdrawal from a bank account.") (citations omitted); Kapila v. U.S. (In re Taylor), 386 B.R. 361, 369 (Bankr.S.D.Fla.2008) (debtor's waiver of an NOL carryback constitutes a transfer).

Here, Plaintiff simply hasn't alleged any change of rights in property after any particular transaction, nor has Plaintiff otherwise presented any authority for its proposition that the Defendants' failure to release the lien somehow constitutes a transfer. Basically, it appears here that what the estate MAY have is a right to enforce the Consent Judgment so as to compel extinguishment of the junior lien. But that question is not before the Court, and the Court takes no position on whether it is a viable cause of action or if the Debtor even has standing to prosecute it. For that reason, the Court is inclined to find that the Plaintiff has failed to state an actionable claim under the bankruptcy code, and therefore the Amended Complaint should be dismissed.

#5.00 CONT Motion For Summary Judgment

From: 7/25/18

Docket 54

Tentative Ruling:

10/10/2018

This hearing on the Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment was continued from July 25, 2018. At the prior hearing, the Court continued the hearing for the Plaintiff and Defendant to have an opportunity to address the issue of willfulness under § 523(a)(6) in accordance with the Ninth Circuit BAP's decision in In re Arden, 2015 WL 4068962, at *9 (9th Cir. BAP 2015)(citing Sheldon Appel Co. v. Albert Oliker, 47 Cal.3d 863, 871-72 (1989)).

PERSONAL SERVICE

The Defendant/Debtor again argues that under California law, issue preclusion is not available unless the defendant "has been personally served with summons or has actual knowledge of the existence of the litigation." (Docket 176 at 6). In support, the Debtor cites to In re Williams' Estate (Williams), 36 Cal. 2d 289, 297, 223 P.2d 248, 254 (1950), which was in turn cited with approval by In re Harmon, 250 F.3d 1240, 1246 (9th Cir. 2001). These cases, however, underscore that in order to limit the principle of collateral estoppel, there must be a "complete lack of knowledge on the part of a defendant of the action". Id. (emphasis added). In its prior tentative ruling, the Court noted that the failure of the Debtor's declaration to address when or whether he had knowledge of the litigation that resulted in the default judgment was fatal. Now, having had the opportunity to file a new declaration, the Debtor still fails to address this issue instead reiterating that he was out of the country when the Plaintiff tried to effectuate service on him. The Plaintiff had previously indicated that due to the failure to locate the Debtor, that the Debtor was served via publication in the prior action and in response, the Debtor asserted that the failure of the Plaintiff to provide evidence of an order permitting service by publication should be determinative. However, in reply, the Plaintiff has now provided a copy of the State Court's Order for Publication. (Docket 177, at Ex. 1). Based on the foregoing evidence that Debtor was properly served by publication and, in particular due to Defendant/Debtor's failure to address the issue of whether he had "complete lack of knowledge" of the State Court litigation, the Court finds that the Plaintiff's objection that collateral estoppel should not apply to the instant case is overruled. Finally, the Debtor's related arguments that the State Court Default Judgment is void as a matter of law for denying the Debtor due process are found to be unpersuasive.

WILLFULLNESS

"A 'willful' injury is a deliberate or intentional injury, not merely a deliberate or intentional act that leads to injury." Barboza, 545 F.3d at 706, quoting Kawaauhau v. Geiger, 523 U.S. 57, 61 (1998). To satisfy the willfulness requirement, it must be shown that the debtor either had "a subjective intent to harm or a subjective belief that harm is substantially certain." Su, 290 F.3d at 1144. When determining the debtor's intent under § 523(a)(6), there is a presumption that the debtor knows the natural consequences of his actions. Ormsby, 591 F.3d at 1206.

As a threshold matter, the Court overrules the Debtor's objections to the declaration of the Deborah Slaieh.

As to the issue of "willfulness", the Court finds the Plaintiff's Supplemental Brief persuasive. (Docket No. 175). In particular, the Supplemental Brief points to the specific allegations that the Debtor intended to injure the Plaintiff by filing litigation against him. The State Court Complaint contained numerous allegations that Debtor's actions were "carried out in a deliberate, callous, malicious, despicable and intentional manner in order to injure and damage him." Additionally, the record before the trial court contained declaration from both the Plaintiff and Debtor's ex-wife which supported a finding that the primary purpose behind the filing of the litigation was to injure the Plaintiff. Here, the Court finds that the State Court necessarily awarded punitive damages based on the Debtor's intent to injure the Plaintiff and infers such intent to injure from a finding that the actor committed malice in fact based on the facts in the record detailed above, in addition to the facts set forth in the Plaintiff's filings in support of the Motion for Summary Judgment. Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that the Plaintiff has met the requirements to satisfy California's requirements for application of collateral estoppel on the issue of "intent to injure", and on that basis, the Court finds that the Default Judgment against the Debtor is determinative on the issue of willfulness under § 523(a)(6).

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the Court's prior tentative ruling, in addition to the instant tentative ruling, and having considered the arguments and filings of the parties, the Court finds that the Plaintiff has established that there is no genuine dispute as to any material fact and that the Plaintiff is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. The Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion in its entirety.

07/25/2018

BACKGROUND

On December 18, 2013, Nabeel Slaieh ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 7 relief. On March 24, 2014, W E Jon Albrecht ("Plaintiff") filed the instant complaint to determine dischargeability of debt pursuant to § 523(a)(6). On June 13, 2018, the Plaintiff filed his Motion for Summary Judgment ("Motion"). On July 3, 2018, the Debtor filed his opposition to the Motion ("Opposition"). On the same date, the Debtor filed a substitution of attorney by which the Debtor indicated his intent to represent himself in propria persona going forward.

Chapter 7

As a threshold matter, the Court must address the manner in which the Opposition was filed. Prior to the filing of the Substitution of Attorney Form, the Debtor was represented by George Saba ("Saba"). However, per the State Bar of California website, Mr. Saba has not been eligible to practice law in California since December 2017. Pursuant to the Court's manual, Section 3.1(c) and Section 3.2(b), attorneys admitted to practice in the Central District of California, currently in good standing, are eligible to register as CM/ECF users with the rights to log in and file documents. Here, the Debtor, acting in pro per, is not eligible to file documents using CM/ECF and it was improper for Mr. Saba to use the CM/ECF system to improperly file a document for a party who he is no longer representing and who he is no longer able to represent given his ineligibility to practice law. Further, Section 3.2(d)(1) prohibits a registered user from knowingly permitting or causing to permit his or her login and password to be utilized by anyone. Here, Mr. Saba has violated the Court's rules regarding CM/ECF filing. Based on the improper filing of the Opposition, the Court is inclined to issue an OSC why Mr. Saba's CM/ECF rights should not be suspended or cancelled pursuant to Section 3.2(d)(3) of the Court Manual.

Based on the foregoing, the Court strikes the Opposition as improperly filed. A reply to the Opposition was filed on July 11, 2018 ("Reply"), as well as separately filed objections to the Declaration of Defendant in support of the Opposition (Docket No. 172).

DISCUSSION

Summary Judgment

A court may grant summary judgment if the movant shows that there is no genuine dispute as to any material fact and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. FRBP 7056 (incorporating FRCP 56). In determining whether to grant a motion for summary judgment, courts must view the record and all inferences drawn from it in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party. Trunk v. City of San Diego, 629 F.3d 1099, 1105 (9th Cir.2011).

Judicial Notice

In support of the Motion, Plaintiff requests that this Court take judicial notice of (1) The Certified Copy of Complaint for Malicious Prosecution, RJN, Ex. 1, (2) the Certified Copy of Summons filed January 25, 2011, RJN, Ex. 2, (3) the Certified Copy of Proof of Service of Summons, RJN, Ex. 3, and (4) the Copy of Judgment, RJN, Ex. 4. The Court takes judicial notice of these filings.

Nondischargeability under § 523(a)(6)

Section 523(a)(6) excepts from discharge debts arising from a debtor's willful and malicious injury to another person. Barboza v. New Form, Inc. (In re Barboza), 545 F.3d 702, 706 (9th Cir.2008). The willful and malice requirements must be analyzed separately, Carillo v. Su (In re Su), 290 F.3d 1140, 1146–47 (2002), and the court must determine that both have been met, Ormsby v. First Am. Title Co. of Nev. (In re Ormsby), 591 F.3d 1199, 1206 (9th Cir. 2010).

"A 'willful' injury is a deliberate or intentional injury, not merely a deliberate or intentional act that leads to injury." Barboza, 545 F.3d at 706, quoting Kawaauhau v. Geiger, 523 U.S. 57, 61 (1998). To satisfy the willfulness requirement, it must be shown that the debtor either had "a subjective intent to harm or a subjective belief that harm is substantially certain." Su, 290 F.3d at 1144. When determining the debtor's intent under § 523(a)(6), there is a presumption that the debtor knows the natural consequences of his actions. Ormsby, 591 F.3d at 1206.

"A malicious injury involves '(1) a wrongful act, (2) done intentionally, (3) which necessarily causes injury, and (4) is done without just cause or excuse.'" Su, 290 F.3d at 1146–47, quoting Petralia v. Jercich (In re Jercich), 238 F.3d 1202, 1209 (9th Cir.2001). "Within the plain meaning of this definition, it is the wrongful act that must be committed intentionally rather than the injury itself." Jett v. Sicroff (In re Sicroff), 401 F.3d 1101, 1106 (9th Cir.2005), citing Murray v. Bammer (In re Bammer), 131 F.3d 788, 791 (9th Cir.1997)("This four-part definition does not require a showing of biblical malice, i.e., personal hatred, spite, or ill will. Nor does it require a showing of an intent to injure, but rather it requires only an intentional act which causes injury."). "Malice may be inferred based on the nature of the wrongful act."

Ormsby, 591 F.3d at 1206, citing Transamerica Comm. Fin. Corp. v. Littleton (In re Littleton), 942 F.2d 551, 554 (9th Cir.1991)(determining that, in the case of conversion, malice may be inferred).

In the instant action, the Plaintiff obtained a judgment ("Judgment") in State Court as against the Defendant based on a complaint for malicious prosecution (the "State Action"). The Plaintiff now moves under a theory of collateral estoppel for summary judgment finding that the Judgment is nondischargeable under § 523(a)(6).

Collateral Estoppel

A bankruptcy court may grant summary judgment based on the issue preclusive effect of an existing state court judgment. See Harmon v. Kobrin (In re Harmon), 250 F.3d 1240, 1245 (9th Cir.2001). In doing so, it must apply the forum state's issue preclusion law. Id. See also 28 U.S.C. § 1738. Here, California preclusion law applies.

In California, issue preclusion bars relitigation of an issue when: 1) the issue sought to be precluded is identical to that decided in a prior proceeding; 2) the issue was actually litigated in the prior proceeding; 3) the issue was necessarily decided in the prior proceeding; and 4) the decision in the prior proceeding is final and on the merits. Lucido v. Superior Court, 51 Cal.3d 335, 341 (1990). Additionally, in California, issue preclusion may only be applied if it furthers underlying public policies. See id. at 343.

The party asserting issue preclusion bears the burden of establishing these requirements. Id. at 341. To do so, "[the] party must produce a record sufficient to reveal the controlling facts and pinpoint the exact issues litigated in the prior action. Any reasonable doubt as to what was decided by a prior judgment should be resolved against allowing [issue preclusive] effect." Kelly v. Okoye (In re Kelly), 182 B.R. 255, 258 (9th Cir.BAP1995), aff'd, 100 F.3d 110 (9th Cir.1996).

Here, the Plaintiff obtained a Judgment on a malicious prosecution action under California law. The Court now turns to whether 'malicious prosecution' satisfies the requirements for collateral estoppel under California law.

Chapter 7

Application of law to cause of action for malicious prosecution

In California, the common law tort of malicious prosecution provides a remedy for individuals subjected to maliciously instituted criminal and civil proceedings. In re Arden, 2015 WL 4068962, at *9 (9th Cir. BAP 2015)(citing Sheldon Appel Co. v. Albert Oliker, 47 Cal.3d 863, 871–72 (1989)). To establish a cause of action for malicious prosecution of a civil proceeding, the plaintiff must show "that the prior action (1) was commenced [or continued] by or at the direction of the defendant and was pursued to a legal termination in his [or her], plaintiff's, favor; (2) was brought without probable cause; and (3) was initiated [or continued] with malice." Id., quoting Bertero v. Nat'l Gen. Corp., 13 Cal.3d 43, 50 (1974)(internal quotation marks omitted).

In Arden, the BAP specifically considered whether the tort of malicious prosecution satisfies both the willful and malicious prongs of § 523(a)(6):

"The 'malice' element of the malicious prosecution tort relates to the subjective intent or purpose with which the defendant acted in initiating the prior action." Estate of C. Delores Tucker v. Interscope Records, Inc., 515 F.3d 1019, 1030 (9th Cir.2008) ("Tucker"), quoting Sheldon Appel Co., 47 Cal.3d at 874 (internal quotation marks omitted). However, the malice required in malicious prosecution "is not limited to actual hostility or ill will toward [the] plaintiff but exists when the proceedings are instituted primarily for an improper purpose." Albertson v. Raboff, 46 Cal.2d 375, 383 (Cal.1956). See also Tucker, 515 F.3d at 1030, quoting Sierra Club Found. v. Graham, 72 Cal.App. 4th 1135, 1147 (1999)("Sierra Club").

The California Supreme Court has explained:

[T]he principal situations in which the civil proceedings are initiated for an improper purpose are those in which (1) the person instituting them does not believe that his claim may be held valid; (2) the proceedings are begun primarily because of hostility or ill will; (3) the proceedings are initiated solely for the purpose of depriving the person against whom they are instituted of a beneficial use of his property; [or] (4) the proceedings are initiated for the purpose of forcing a settlement which has no relation to the merits of the claim.

Albertson, 46 Cal.2d at 383, quoting Rest., Torts § 676. Accordingly, in a malicious prosecution action, the proof may or may not establish a willful intent to injure on the part of the defendant.

Arden at *9-10.

As underscored in Arden, willfulness is not a separate and distinct element of the tort of malicious prosecution, though willfulness may be inferred from the debtor's intent in commencing or continuing litigation. Moreover, " '[m]erely because a tort is classified as intentional does not mean that any injury caused by the tortfeasor is willful.' " Ditto v. McCurdy, 510 F.3d 1070, 1078 (9th Cir.2007), quoting Miller v. J.D. Abrams Inc. (In re Miller), 156 F.3d 598, 604 (5th Cir.1998). Here, the Judgment obtained against Defendant/Debtor was a default judgment and although the BAP found that 'malicious prosecution' likely satisfies the malice requirement under § 523(a)(6), it also specifically found that the 'willfulness' element was not necessarily decided by the state court because 'willfulness' is not required to enter judgment on a malicious prosecution cause of action. In Arden, the jury instructions indicated that the specific question of intent to injure was not posed to the jury. As such, the willfulness requirement was not necessarily decided or actually litigated by the state court. Similarly, the Judgment obtained by Plaintiff Albrecht did not require the State Court to consider, let alone determine whether Defendant Slaieh intended injury to Plaintiff. The Plaintiff's Motion assumes the issue of intent was decided by the State Court. However, absent authority to distinguish the Arden case, whose reasoning this Court adopts as its own, the Motion does not satisfy the requirements for collateral estoppel because the Judgment is insufficient to establish the elements required under § 523(a)(6). It is possible that the issue of willfulness is subsumed by the state court's determination that punitive damages were appropriate. However, such a theory must be addressed with reference to the Ninth Circuit BAP's decision in In re Plyam that a California state court punitive damage award, standing alone, does not preclude relitigation of § 523(a)(6)'s "willful" intent requirement. In re Sangha, 678 F. App'x

Finally, although the Court has stricken the Opposition as improperly filed, the Court shall also address the one cognizable legal issue raised in the Opposition – namely, that the State Action Complaint was not personally served on him. As to this issue, the Court agrees with the Plaintiff that the Defendant’s declaration fails to address whether and when he learned of the State Action. The declaration of Defendant is conspicuously silent on these facts and as such determined to be not credible on the issue of lack of service.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to CONTINUE the Motion for additional briefing regarding the issue of "willfulness".

The Court notes that the request for relief section of the motion [Dkt. No. 11, pg. 5] does not actually request relief from the automatic stay. Therefore, the Court is inclined to DENY requests under ¶¶ 2 and 6 as premature.

The Court notes that rather than attach the appropriate exhibits, it appears that Movant has inadvertently replaced those exhibits with a second copy of the motion. As a result, Movant has failed to establish that it has a security interest in the subject property nor has Movant established the fair market value of the property. Therefore, the Court is inclined to DENY the motion.

Docket 14

Tentative Ruling:

09/25/2018

The Debtors' prior case was dismissed on July 25, 2018, for failure to submit 2017 federal and state tax returns to the Trustee. The Debtors and their counsel did not appear at the hearing and the case was dismissed. The Debtors have obtained new counsel. In support of their Motion, they assert that they believed they had complied with the Trustee's request for the returns by submitting Debtor Husband's returns but failed to notify the Trustee that the co-debtor was not required to file taxes. Additionally, the Debtors assert that because their plan proposed a 100% payout to creditors, they were not required to provide refund monies to the estate.

Here the Debtors request that their stay be continued as to the foreclosing creditor, Wells Fargo, who has a sale scheduled for September 26, 2018.

The Debtors have provided sufficient evidence to overcome the § 362(c)(3)(C) presumption that the case was not filed in good faith given that a relief from stay was pending in the prior case as to Wells Fargo when the case was dismissed.

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion as to Wells

Docket 306

Tentative Ruling:

On May 11, 2016, Allied Injury Management, Inc. ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. On June 6, 2016, the Court approved the employment application of Fredman Lieberman Pearl LLP to serve as counsel to Debtor ("Applicant"). On November 17, 2016, the Court approved an application to expand the scope of Applicant's representation. On November 30, 2018, the Court ordered the appointment of a Chapter 11 Trustee and, five days later, David Goodrich was appointed as the Chapter 11 Trustee.

On October 6, 2017, Applicant filed an application for compensation for an aggregate amount of $282,682.13 covering the period of May 11, 2016 to December 5, 2016. Applicant and UST have twice stipulated to a continuance of the hearing.

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(1), the court may award reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services. The court has an independent duty to review the fee application in the absence of objections. See 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(2). The court "will not indulge in extensive labor and guesswork to justify a fee for an attorney who has not done so himself." In re Taylor, 66 B.R. 390 (Bankr. W.D. Pa. 1986).

11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(3) provides factors to be considered in determining the reasonableness of requested compensation. These factors include time spent, rates charged, necessity of the service, reasonableness of the service, expertise of attorney, and comparable market rates.

CONT... Allied Injury Management, Inc.

Chapter 11

First of all, the Court notes that Applicant's fee application is somewhat unclear. The application requests $278,079 for professional fees related to the main bankruptcy case and three adversary proceeding, and a summary identifying the amount of fees in each proceeding is provided on the tables that spans pages 6 and 7 of the fee application. That tables identifies fees in the amount of $242,270.50 in the main case. Nevertheless, the very next table, which deals with categories of tasks performed and spans pages 7-8 of the fee application, only identifies $227,244.50 in fees for the main case. It does not appear that the fee application addresses or explains this discrepancy of $15,026, and, therefore, the Court is inclined to reduce the fee application by $15,026.

The "Summary of Fees for the Main Case" table is additionally problematic because of the fact that the majority of the rows and tables in this summary do not add up to the identified total. While the miscalculations are not egregious, and are sometimes to the disadvantage of Applicant, the errors force put the credibility of the fee application as a whole, including its more than 100 pages of billing entries, into question. The inherent contradictions of the fee application continue when comparing the summary tables with the more detailed tables in the application's sections on the adversary matters.

Additionally, the Court notes that the first two pages of Exhibit 4 include billing for services provided which predate the effective date of the employment order. Those billing entries related to services provided by Mr. Lieberman are also lumped entries. For those two reasons, the Court is inclined to reduce the fee application by an additional amount of $6,068.

Otherwise, the Court has reviewed the fee application and finds the requested fees and costs to be generally reasonable. The Court is inclined to CONTINUE the hearing for Counsel to file an amended application correcting the arithmetical errors and apparent contradictions throughout the fee application.

10/17/18

BACKGROUND

On July 16, 2018, Rogelio Delgado ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 7 relief. The case was dismissed on September 17, 2018, after the Debtor failed to file pay stubs required under Section 521(a)(1)(B)(iv). On September 24, 2018, the Debtor filed his Motion to Reconsider Dismissal.

The Debtor filed the deficient document on September 24, 2018. Prior to the dismissal, the Trustee had filed on August 23, 2018, a Report of No Distribution indicating the case is a no asset case.

Docket 47

Tentative Ruling:

10/17/2018

BACKGROUND

On April 13, 2018, Desert Ice Castle, LLC ("Debtor") filed its petition for chapter 7 relief. Steven Speier is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). The Debtor's Managing Member and alleged sole owner is Anthony Liu ("Liu"). The petition indicated that the Debtor owned assets totaling $1,864.61 and had liabilities totaling $860,500. The Debtor listed two claimants in Schedule F, one claim of Andrzej Luczynski ("Luczynski") in the amount of $800,000 (as disputed) and a claim of Lui Bin in the amount of $60,500. On September 12, 2018, Luczynski filed Claim No 1-1 in the amount of $3,200,000 based on a State Court Action for "unlawful termination [of] joint venture; conversion; unlawful eviction". Luczynski has further indicated that a trial date for the State Court Action is set for November 2, 2018. The Docket reflects that a Motion to Disallow Claim No. 1 has been set for hearing on October 24, 2018.

On September 10, 2018, the Debtor filed a motion to dismiss the bankruptcy ("Motion"). A notice of Non-opposition was filed by Lui Bin on the same date. Opposition to the Motion was filed by Luczynski and the Trustee on October 3, 2018 (the "Oppositions"). The Debtor filed an Omnibus Reply to the Oppositions on October 10, 2018 ("Reply").

DISCUSSION

The Debtor seeks dismissal pursuant to § 305(a)(1). Section 305(a)(1) provides as follows:

Chapter 7

The court, after notice and a hearing, may dismiss a case under this title, or may suspend all proceedings in a case under this title, at any time if—

(1) the interests of creditors and the debtor would be better served by such dismissal or suspension;

11 U.S.C. § 305(a)(1); In re Eastman, 188 B.R. 621, 625 (9th Cir. BAP 1995). The courts that have construed § 305(a)(1) are in general agreement that abstention in a properly filed bankruptcy case is an extraordinary remedy, and that dismissal is appropriate under § 305(a)(1) only in the situation where the court finds that both "creditors and the debtor" would be "better served" by a dismissal. Id. (internal citations omitted). The legislative history uses the following example of such a situation:

an arrangement is being worked out by creditors and the debtor out of court, there is no prejudice to the rights of creditors in that arrangement, and an involuntary case has been commenced by a few recalcitrant creditors to provide a basis for future threats to extract full payment.

H.R.Rep. No. 95–595, 95th Cong., 1st Sess. 325 (1977); 1978 U.S.C.C.A.N. 5963, 6281.

As the statutory language and legislative history demonstrate, the test under § 305(a) is not whether dismissal would give rise to a substantial prejudice to the debtor. Nor is the test whether a balancing process favors dismissal. Rather, the test is whether both the debtor and the creditors would be "better served" by a dismissal.

In support of the Motion, the Debtor argues that (1) Luczynski will suffer no prejudice from dismissal of the case because the amended complaint filed in the State Action dismissed the Debtor from the complaint; (2) Creditor Lui Bin will be paid in full; (3) the only parties benefitting from continuation of the case are the Trustee and his professionals. Although the Debtor has seemingly been dismissed from the underlying State Court litigation, the State Action retains allegations that the Debtor is an alter ego of the named defendant, Liu. (Roman Decl. ¶ 2).

The Oppositions essentially assert that (1) Luczynski has filed a proof of claim that constitutes prima facie evidence of a claim; and (2) avoidable insider payments have been discovered that will benefit the Debtor's creditors.

On the current record, the Court is inclined to DENY the Motion. Here, assuming (as the Court must at this juncture) that Luczynski may have an enforceable claim against the Debtor's estate, dismissal is likely to result in plain legal prejudice to Luczynski because the Debtor and its principal/sole shareholder seek to payoff the only other unsecured creditor in full in order to force a dismissal. The Debtor's strategy is a transparent violation of the bankruptcy code's command that similarly situated creditors must be treated similarly. Additionally, the Court is unconvinced that the dismissal of the Debtor from the underlying State Court Action is a sufficient basis to find that the Debtor has no remaining liability to Luczynski. In fact, the Debtor's evidence confirms that Luczynski's complaint continues to argue that the Debtor and Liu are alter egos. For now, the Court agrees with the Trustee and Luczynski that dismissal would be premature at this point.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that Debtor has not met its burden of demonstrating that both the Debtor and creditors will be "better served" by dismissal.

APPEARANCES REQUIRED.

The Debtor's Managing Member and alleged sole owner is Anthony Liu ("Liu"). The petition indicated that the Debtor owned assets totaling $1,864.61 and had liabilities totaling $860,500. The Debtor filed an Opposition to the Motion on September 12, 2018. has been cooperating with the Trustee. The Trustee filed his Reply on September 19, 2018.

DISCUSSION

The language of § 343 is clear that the Debtor "shall submit to examination under oath at the meeting of creditors." The Trustee's declaration in Reply to the Opposition indicates that he specifically told Liu and his Counsel that their attendance at the 341(a) was mandatory. Absent evidence that they were formally excused from appearance at the 341(a) meeting of creditors, the Debtor's evidence is inapposite. Informal cooperation does not obviate the code's requirement that the Debtor submit to questioning under oath at a scheduled 341(a) meeting of creditors. The Stoddard declaration's recitation of interactions with Mr. Anderson are unavailing. It is nowhere indicated that Mr. Anderson was ever directly asked by Counsel for the Debtor whether the discussions obviated the need to attend the 341(a) meetings of creditors. The Debtor appears to be under the misconception that a formal command of some kind was required. No such demand is required. The statute is clear that attendance is mandatory and the Debtor does not dispute that notice of the 341(a) meetings of creditors were received. The Debtor's failure to address this requirement of the code is inexcusable.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion in its entirety.

#13.00 Motion For Sale of Property of the Estate under Section 363(b) - No Fee

EH__

Docket 48

Tentative Ruling:

10/17/2018

BACKGROUND

On July 27, 2017, Martha Lorena Soto Jimenez ("Debtor") filed a petition for chapter 7 relief. Todd Frealy is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). Among the assets of the estate is certain real property located at 1475 Capri Lane in San Jacinto, CA 92583. (the "Property").

On September 17, 2018, the Trustee filed his Motion For Sale of Property of the Estate under Section 363(b) ("Motion").

Service was proper and no opposition has been filed.

DISCUSSION

Sale of Estate Property Pursuant to Section 363(b)

The trustee, after notice and a hearing, may sell property of the estate. 11 U.S.C. § 363(b)(1); see also Commodity Futures Trading Comm'n v. Weintraub, 471 U.S. 343, 352 (1985). The sale must be in the best interests of the estate and the price must be fair and reasonable. In re Canyon Partnership, 55 B.R. 520 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 1985); see also In re Wilde Horse Enterprises, Inc., 136 B.R. 830, 841 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1991)(sale must have fair/reasonable price, accurate/reasonable notice to creditors and sale made in good faith). The trustee must articulate some "business justification" for selling estate property out of the "ordinary course of business" before the court may approve the transaction. In re Lionel Corp., 722 F.2d 1063, 1071 (2d Cir. 1983); In re Ernst Home Ctr., Inc., 209 B.R. 974, 979 (Bankr. W.D. Wash. 1997). Objections to sale that are based on inadequacy of price are often resolved the court ordering an auction, which may occur in open court. Simantrob v. Claims Prosecutor,

LLC (In re Lahijani), 325 B.R. 282, 287 (9th Cir. BAP 2005) citing Fed. R. Bankr. P. 6004(f).¹

The Trustee seeks an order authorizing him to sell the Property to Right Solutions LLC ("Buyer"), or in the alternative, to the highest bidder at the hearing on the Motion. The Trustee indicates that the Property is subject to property tax liens totaling $2,664, $130,000 in favor of Carrington Mortgage Services, and $10,000 in favor of the Law Office of Curtis R. Aijala. The Motion proposes that all liens will be paid off from escrow. The Trustee's analysis indicates that after payment of liens on the Property and deducting closing costs, including broker's commissions, the net proceeds for the estate is estimated to be $68,106 based on a proposed sales price of $229,000. Claims totaling $17,198.63 have been filed in the case. Based on these figures, the sale should enable the Trustee to pay allowed claims in full. The Court finds that the trustee's proposed sale is in the best interests of the estate and the price is fair and reasonable.

a) Bidding Procedures

Generally, bidding procedures must be untainted by self-dealing, encourage bidding and be fair/reasonable/serve the best interests of the estate. See In re Crown Corp., 679 F.2d 774 (9th Cir. 1982). Here, the Trustee has proposed bidding procedures which require an initial overbid of $10,000 above the proposed purchase price of $229,000, with each additional bid in increments of $5,000, and a deposit of $23,900 provided to the Trustee 7 days prior to the sale. The Trustee's proposed bidding procedures are reasonable, under the circumstances, and are therefore approved.

b) Sale Made in Good Faith

The proposed sale has been brought in good faith and has been negotiated on an "arms-length" basis. The court, in Wilde Horse Enterprises, set forth the factors in considering whether a transaction is in good faith. The court stated:

‘Good faith’ encompasses fair value, and further speaks to the integrity of the transaction. Typical ‘bad faith’ or misconduct, would include collusion between the seller and buyer, or any attempt to take unfair advantage of other potential purchasers. . . . And, with respect to making such determinations, the court and creditors must be provided with sufficient information to allow them to take a position on the proposed sale.

Id. at 842 (citations omitted).

Here, the Trustee marketed the Property via Keller Williams Realty and KW Commercial, which marketed the Property and its marketing efforts are detailed in the declaration of W. Darrow Fiedler. The sale appears to be made in good faith.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion as follows:

1. Approving the sale of the Property to the Buyer or successful overbidder;
2. Providing that the Trustee is authorized and empowered to execute and deliver on behalf of the estate any and all documents as reasonably may be necessary to implement the terms of the proposed sale;
3. Providing that the notice given by the Trustee in connection with the sale and hearing thereon is adequate, sufficient, proper and complies with all applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code and Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure;
4. Approving the overbid procedures;
5. Approving payment of liens and costs of sale directly from escrow; and

#14.00 Chapter 7 Trustee's Motion to Approve Compromise Under Rule 9019 Between the Bankruptcy Estate and the Debtors

EH__

Docket 189

Tentative Ruling:

10/17/2018

BACKGROUND

On February 26, 2016, Samuel and Greeta Dason (collectively, "Debtors") filed their petition for chapter 7 relief. Lynda Bui is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). Among the assets of the estate is certain real property located at 22780 Vista Grande Way, Grand Terrace, CA 92513 (the "Property"). On August 22, 2018, the Trustee filed a Motion to Approve Compromise Under Rule 9019 (the "Motion"). In support of the Motion, the Trustee asserts that there is a dispute with the Debtors regarding the availability of equity in the Property for the benefit of creditors. The Trustee obtained a higher opinion of value from her real estate broker than the Debtor obtained. However, the Debtor has also countered that the arrears owed on the Property and a solar equipment lease encumbering the Property would impact the availability of equity for creditors. Based on these facts, the Trustee proposes approval of a settlement by which Greeta Dason will pay $20,000, representing non-exempt equity in the Property.

On September 6, 2018, Creditor Juddy Olivares ("Creditor") filed her Opposition to the Motion. The Debtor filed his reply to the Opposition on October 10, 2018 ("Reply"). The Creditor has now withdrawn her Opposition.

DISCUSSION

Rule 9019(a) authorizes the bankruptcy court to approve a compromise or settlement on the trustee's motion and after notice and a hearing. The bankruptcy court must consider all "factors relevant to a full and fair assessment of the wisdom of the proposed compromise." Protective Comm. for Indep. Stockholders of TMT Trailer

Ferry, Inc. v. Anderson, 390 U.S. 414, 424, 88 S. Ct. 1157, 20 L. Ed. 2d 1 (1968). In other words, the bankruptcy court must find that the settlement is "fair and equitable" in order to approve it. Martin v. Kane (In re A & C Props.), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986).

In conducting this inquiry, the bankruptcy court must consider the following factors:

(a) the probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; and (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises.

Id.

The bankruptcy court enjoys broad discretion in approving a compromise because it "is uniquely situated to consider the equities and reasonableness [of it]" United States v. Alaska Nat'l Bank (In re Walsh Construction, Inc.), 669 F.2d 1325, 1328 (9th Cir. 1982). As stated in A & C Props.:

The purpose of a compromise agreement is to allow the trustee and the creditors to avoid the expenses and burdens associated with litigating sharply contested and dubious claims. The law favors compromise and not litigation for its own sake, and as long as the bankruptcy court amply considered the various factors that determined the reasonableness of the compromise, the court's decision must be affirmed.

Id. (citations omitted).

On the other hand, even though the bankruptcy court has wide latitude in approving compromises, its discretion is not completely unfettered. See Woodson v. Fireman's Fund Ins. Co. (In re Woodson), 839 F.2d 610, 620 (9th Cir. 1988). The trustee bears the burden of proving to the bankruptcy court that the settlement is fair and equitable and should be approved. In re A&C Props., 784 F.2d at 1382.

On this record, the Court agrees with the Trustee that the expense and delay attendant to a sale of the Property is not likely to yield substantially more than the Trustee is able to obtain via the compromise. The Trustee's evidence supports a finding that approval is in the best interests of the creditors and is reasonable under the facts of this case.

TENTATIVE RULING

For the foregoing reasons, in deference to the Trustee's business judgment and finding that the proposed compromise is "fair and equitable" under the circumstances, the 10/17/18

BACKGROUND

On November 20, 2017 ("Petition Date"), Sean Karadas ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 7 relief. Charles Daff is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). Among the assets of the estate are Small Business Administration loan funds totaling $327,653 (the "SBA Loan") obtained by the Debtor from First Home Bank for his wholly owned corporation, Pacific Trium, Inc. ("Pacific Trium") Trustee has evidence that almost immediately following the disbursement of loan funds to the Debtor, that the Debtor transferred the funds from Pacific Trium's account to his personal account on May 31, 2017, and then from his account to his son's account on June 20, 2017. First Home Bank has filed a dischargeability action against the Debtor objecting to the discharge of the Debtor's personal guaranty and alleging fraud and misrepresentation by Debtor in obtaining the SBA Loan.

Trustee requests an order compelling turnover of the SBA Loan Proceeds, or their value, under penalty of civil contempt. Service was proper and no opposition has been filed.

DISCUSSION

Under the Bankruptcy Code, a debtor has a duty to surrender property of the estate to the Trustee. 11 U.S.C. § 521(4). Furthermore, a trustee has the duty to "collect and reduce to money the property of the estate for which such trustee serves" § 704(1).

Chapter 7

The Trustee has established that the SBA Loan Proceeds likely constitute property of the estate under § 541 and that the Debtor likely retains control of the SBA Loan Proceeds. However, notwithstanding the likelihood that Debtor retains control of the SBA Loan Proceeds, the evidence indicates that the Motion should also have been served on the Debtor's son, Turhan Karadas.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to CONTINUE the hearing to November 14, 2018, at 11:00 a.m. for the Debtor to serve the Debtor's son.

On November 20, 2017 ("Petition Date"), Sean Karadas ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 7 relief. Charles Daff is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). Among the assets of the estate are Small Business Administration loan funds totaling $327,653 (the "SBA Loan") obtained by the Debtor from First Home Bank for his wholly owned corporation, Pacific Trium, Inc. On May 24, 2018, First Home Bank filed a dischargeability action under §§ 523 and 727 against the Debtor objecting to the discharge of the Debtor's personal guaranty and alleging fraud and misrepresentation by Debtor in obtaining the SBA Loan.

On September 11, 2018, First Home Bank filed a Motion for Consent Order re: Claim of Creditor First Home Bank as Nondischargeable ("Motion"). The Motion specifically seeks approval of the parties' stipulation as to nondischargeability of the personal guaranty and separately seeks dismissal of the remaining claims. Although the Motion acknowledges that parties in interest may timely file a response to the Motion to pursue the §727 action, the Motion is deficient in that the proof of service fails to indicate service on the Debtor's creditors. To date, the Court's claims register reflects that 17 claims have been filed against the Debtor's estate and as such, there are interested parties who may be interested in pursuing the §727 action.

From: 7/25/18, 10/10/18

Also #24

EH__

Docket 54

Tentative Ruling:

10/10/2018

This hearing on the Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment was continued from July 25, 2018. At the prior hearing, the Court continued the hearing for the Plaintiff and Defendant to have an opportunity to address the issue of willfulness under § 523(a)(6) in accordance with the Ninth Circuit BAP's decision in In re Arden, 2015 WL 4068962, at *9 (9th Cir. BAP 2015)(citing Sheldon Appel Co. v. Albert Oliker, 47 Cal.3d 863, 871-72 (1989)).

PERSONAL SERVICE

The Defendant/Debtor again argues that under California law, issue preclusion is not available unless the defendant "has been personally served with summons or has actual knowledge of the existence of the litigation." (Docket 176 at 6). In support, the Debtor cites to In re Williams' Estate (Williams), 36 Cal. 2d 289, 297, 223 P.2d 248, 254 (1950), which was in turn cited with approval by In re Harmon, 250 F.3d 1240, 1246 (9th Cir. 2001). These cases, however, underscore that in order to limit the principle of collateral estoppel, there must be a "complete lack of knowledge on the part of a defendant of the action". Id. (emphasis added). In its prior tentative ruling, the Court noted that the failure of the Debtor's declaration to address when or whether he had knowledge of the litigation that resulted in the default judgment was fatal. Now, having had the opportunity to file a new declaration, the Debtor still fails to address this issue instead reiterating that he was out of the country when the Plaintiff tried to effectuate service on him. The Plaintiff had previously indicated that due to the failure to locate the Debtor, that the Debtor was served via publication in the prior action and in response, the Debtor asserted that the failure of the Plaintiff to provide evidence of an order permitting service by publication should be determinative. However, in reply, the Plaintiff has now provided a copy of the State Court's Order for Publication. (Docket 177, at Ex. 1). Based on the foregoing evidence that Debtor was properly served by publication and, in particular due to Defendant/Debtor's failure to address the issue of whether he had "complete lack of knowledge" of the State Court litigation, the Court finds that the Plaintiff's objection that collateral estoppel should not apply to the instant case is overruled. Finally, the Debtor's related arguments that the State Court Default Judgment is void as a matter of law for denying the Debtor due process are found to be unpersuasive.

WILLFULLNESS

"A 'willful' injury is a deliberate or intentional injury, not merely a deliberate or intentional act that leads to injury." Barboza, 545 F.3d at 706, quoting Kawaauhau v. Geiger, 523 U.S. 57, 61 (1998). To satisfy the willfulness requirement, it must be shown that the debtor either had "a subjective intent to harm or a subjective belief that harm is substantially certain." Su, 290 F.3d at 1144. When determining the debtor's intent under § 523(a)(6), there is a presumption that the debtor knows the natural consequences of his actions. Ormsby, 591 F.3d at 1206.

As a threshold matter, the Court overrules the Debtor's objections to the declaration of the Deborah Slaieh.

As to the issue of "willfulness", the Court finds the Plaintiff's Supplemental Brief persuasive. (Docket No. 175). In particular, the Supplemental Brief points to the specific allegations that the Debtor intended to injure the Plaintiff by filing litigation against him. The State Court Complaint contained numerous allegations that Debtor's actions were "carried out in a deliberate, callous, malicious, despicable and intentional manner in order to injure and damage him." Additionally, the record before the trial court contained declaration from both the Plaintiff and Debtor's ex-wife which supported a finding that the primary purpose behind the filing of the litigation was to injure the Plaintiff. Here, the Court finds that the State Court necessarily awarded punitive damages based on the Debtor's intent to injure the Plaintiff and infers such intent to injure from a finding that the actor committed malice in fact based on the facts in the record detailed above, in addition to the facts set forth in the Plaintiff's filings in support of the Motion for Summary Judgment. Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that the Plaintiff has met the requirements to satisfy California's requirements for application of collateral estoppel on the issue of "intent to injure", and on that basis, the Court finds that the Default Judgment against the Debtor is determinative on the issue of willfulness under § 523(a)(6).

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the Court's prior tentative ruling, in addition to the instant tentative ruling, and having considered the arguments and filings of the parties, the Court finds that the Plaintiff has established that there is no genuine dispute as to any material fact and that the Plaintiff is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. The Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion in its entirety.

07/25/2018

BACKGROUND

On December 18, 2013, Nabeel Slaieh ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 7 relief. On March 24, 2014, W E Jon Albrecht ("Plaintiff") filed the instant complaint to determine dischargeability of debt pursuant to § 523(a)(6). On June 13, 2018, the Plaintiff filed his Motion for Summary Judgment ("Motion"). On July 3, 2018, the Debtor filed his opposition to the Motion ("Opposition"). On the same date, the Debtor filed a substitution of attorney by which the Debtor indicated his intent to represent himself in propria persona going forward.

Chapter 7

As a threshold matter, the Court must address the manner in which the Opposition was filed. Prior to the filing of the Substitution of Attorney Form, the Debtor was represented by George Saba ("Saba"). However, per the State Bar of California website, Mr. Saba has not been eligible to practice law in California since December 2017. Pursuant to the Court's manual, Section 3.1(c) and Section 3.2(b), attorneys admitted to practice in the Central District of California, currently in good standing, are eligible to register as CM/ECF users with the rights to log in and file documents. Here, the Debtor, acting in pro per, is not eligible to file documents using CM/ECF and it was improper for Mr. Saba to use the CM/ECF system to improperly file a document for a party who he is no longer representing and who he is no longer able to represent given his ineligibility to practice law. Further, Section 3.2(d)(1) prohibits a registered user from knowingly permitting or causing to permit his or her login and password to be utilized by anyone. Here, Mr. Saba has violated the Court's rules regarding CM/ECF filing. Based on the improper filing of the Opposition, the Court is inclined to issue an OSC why Mr. Saba's CM/ECF rights should not be suspended or cancelled pursuant to Section 3.2(d)(3) of the Court Manual.

Based on the foregoing, the Court strikes the Opposition as improperly filed. A reply to the Opposition was filed on July 11, 2018 ("Reply"), as well as separately filed objections to the Declaration of Defendant in support of the Opposition (Docket No. 172).

DISCUSSION

Summary Judgment

A court may grant summary judgment if the movant shows that there is no genuine dispute as to any material fact and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. FRBP 7056 (incorporating FRCP 56). In determining whether to grant a motion for summary judgment, courts must view the record and all inferences drawn from it in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party. *Trunk v. Ormsby, 591 F.3d at 1206, citing Transamerica Comm. Fin. Corp. v. Littleton (In re Littleton), 942 F.2d 551, 554 (9th Cir.1991)(determining that, in the case of conversion, malice may be inferred).

In the instant action, the Plaintiff obtained a judgment ("Judgment") in State Court as against the Defendant based on a complaint for malicious prosecution (the "State Action"). The Plaintiff now moves under a theory of collateral estoppel for summary judgment finding that the Judgment is nondischargeable under § 523(a)(6).

Collateral Estoppel

A bankruptcy court may grant summary judgment based on the issue preclusive effect of an existing state court judgment. See Harmon v. Kobrin (In re Harmon), 250 F.3d 1240, 1245 (9th Cir.2001). In doing so, it must apply the forum state's issue preclusion law. Id. See also 28 U.S.C. § 1738. Here, California preclusion law applies.

In California, issue preclusion bars relitigation of an issue when: 1) the issue sought to be precluded is identical to that decided in a prior proceeding; 2) the issue was actually litigated in the prior proceeding; 3) the issue was necessarily decided in the prior proceeding; and 4) the decision in the prior proceeding is final and on the merits. Lucido v. Superior Court, 51 Cal.3d 335, 341 (1990). Additionally, in California, issue preclusion may only be applied if it furthers underlying public policies. See id. at 343.

The party asserting issue preclusion bears the burden of establishing these requirements. Id. at 341. To do so, "[the] party must produce a record sufficient to reveal the controlling facts and pinpoint the exact issues litigated in the prior action. Any reasonable doubt as to what was decided by a prior judgment should be resolved against allowing [issue preclusive] effect." Kelly v. Okoye (In re Kelly), 182 B.R. 255, 258 (9th Cir.BAP1995), aff'd, 100 F.3d 110 (9th Cir.1996).

Here, the Plaintiff obtained a Judgment on a malicious prosecution action under California law. The Court now turns to whether 'malicious prosecution' satisfies the requirements for collateral estoppel under California law.

Chapter 7

Application of law to cause of action for malicious prosecution

In California, the common law tort of malicious prosecution provides a remedy for individuals subjected to maliciously instituted criminal and civil proceedings. In re Arden, 2015 WL 4068962, at *9 (9th Cir. BAP 2015)(citing Sheldon Appel Co. v. Albert Oliner, 47 Cal.3d 863, 871–72 (1989)). To establish a cause of action for malicious prosecution of a civil proceeding, the plaintiff must show "that the prior action (1) was commenced [or continued] by or at the direction of the defendant and was pursued to a legal termination in his [or her], plaintiff's, favor; (2) was brought without probable cause; and (3) was initiated [or continued] with malice." Id., quoting Bertero v. Nat'l Gen. Corp., 13 Cal.3d 43, 50 (1974)(internal quotation marks omitted).

In Arden, the BAP specifically considered whether the tort of malicious prosecution satisfies both the willful and malicious prongs of § 523(a)(6):

"The 'malice' element of the malicious prosecution tort relates to the subjective intent or purpose with which the defendant acted in initiating the prior action." Estate of C. Delores Tucker v. Interscope Records, Inc., 515 F.3d 1019, 1030 (9th Cir.2008) ("Tucker"), quoting Sheldon Appel Co., 47 Cal.3d at 874 (internal quotation marks omitted). However, the malice required in malicious prosecution "is not limited to actual hostility or ill will toward [the] plaintiff but exists when the proceedings are instituted primarily for an improper purpose." Albertson v. Raboff, 46 Cal.2d 375, 383 (Cal.1956). See also Tucker, 515 F.3d at 1030, quoting Sierra Club Found. v. Graham, 72 Cal.App. 4th 1135, 1147 (1999)("Sierra Club").

The California Supreme Court has explained:

[T]he principal situations in which the civil proceedings are initiated for an improper purpose are those in which (1) the person instituting them does not believe that his claim may be held valid; (2) the proceedings are begun primarily because of hostility or ill will; (3) the proceedings are initiated solely for the purpose of depriving the person against whom they are instituted of a beneficial use of his property; [or] (4) the proceedings are initiated for the purpose of forcing a settlement which has no relation to the merits of the claim.

Albertson, 46 Cal.2d at 383, quoting Rest., Torts § 676. Accordingly, in a malicious prosecution action, the proof may or may not establish a willful intent to injure on the part of the defendant.

Arden at *9-10.

As underscored in Arden, willfulness is not a separate and distinct element of the tort of malicious prosecution, though willfulness may be inferred from the debtor's intent in commencing or continuing litigation. Moreover, " '[m]erely because a tort is classified as intentional does not mean that any injury caused by the tortfeasor is willful.' " Ditto v. McCurdy, 510 F.3d 1070, 1078 (9th Cir.2007), quoting Miller v. J.D. Abrams Inc. (In re Miller), 156 F.3d 598, 604 (5th Cir.1998). Here, the Judgment obtained against Defendant/Debtor was a default judgment and although the BAP found that 'malicious prosecution' likely satisfies the malice requirement under § 523(a)(6), it also specifically found that the 'willfulness' element was not necessarily decided by the state court because 'willfulness' is not required to enter judgment on a malicious prosecution cause of action. In Arden, the jury instructions indicated that the specific question of intent to injure was not posed to the jury. As such, the willfulness requirement was not necessarily decided or actually litigated by the state court. Similarly, the Judgment obtained by Plaintiff Albrecht did not require the State Court to consider, let alone determine whether Defendant Slaieh intended injury to Plaintiff. The Plaintiff's Motion assumes the issue of intent was decided by the State Court. However, absent authority to distinguish the Arden case, whose reasoning this Court adopts as its own, the Motion does not satisfy the requirements for collateral estoppel because the Judgment is insufficient to establish the elements required under § 523(a)(6). It is possible that the issue of willfulness is subsumed by the state court's determination that punitive damages were appropriate. However, such a theory must be addressed with reference to the Ninth Circuit BAP's decision in In re Plyam that a California state court punitive damage award, standing alone, does not preclude relitigation of § 523(a)(6)'s "willful" intent requirement. In re Sangha, 678 F. App'x

Finally, although the Court has stricken the Opposition as improperly filed, the Court shall also address the one cognizable legal issue raised in the Opposition – namely, that the State Action Complaint was not personally served on him. As to this issue, the Court agrees with the Plaintiff that the Defendant’s declaration fails to address whether and when he learned of the State Action. The declaration of Defendant is conspicuously silent on these facts and as such determined to be not credible on the issue of lack of service.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to CONTINUE the Motion for additional briefing regarding the issue of "willfulness".

11/30/17

BACKGROUND

On February 21, 2017, Ernie Macias ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 13 relief. The Debtor's case was filed by Alon Darvish ("Darvish"). On March 13, 2017, the Debtor's case was dismissed for failure to file information.

On March 24, 2017, the Office of the United States Trustee ("UST") filed a Motion to Disgorge Attorney's Fees ("Disgorgement Motion"). On June 13, 2017, the Court granted in part and denied in part the UST's Disgorgement Motion (the "Disgorgement Order"). The Disgorgement Order required Darvish to file his disclosure of compensation, and to disgorge fees received from the Debtor back to him.

On September 20, 2017, the UST filed its Motion For An Order To Show Cause Why Alon Darvish Should Not Be Held In Contempt Of Court Pursuant To 11 U.S.C. § 105 And Federal Rule Of Bankruptcy Procedure 9020 (the "Motion for OSC"). The Motion for OSC specifically asserted that Darvish had failed to comply with any part of the Disgorgement Order. The UST's Motion for OSC further asserted that Darvish had repeatedly failed to disclose compensation and had been sanctioned for such conduct under similar circumstances in at least 6 other cases. (Motion for OSC at 9).

Chapter 13

On October 20, 2017, the Court granted the Motion for OSC and ordered Darvish to show cause why he should not be held in contempt (the "OSC"). Darvish filed his response to the OSC on November 16, 2017 ("Response"). On November 21, 2017, the UST replied to the Response.

DISCUSSION

In his Response, Darvish indicated that his practice includes the filing of skeletal petitions for chapter 13 debtors for the purpose of stopping foreclosures. He indicated that when such skeletal petitions are filed, his software does not file the Disclosure of Compensation. Darvish asserts that he is a solo practitioner who is overwhelmed and understaffed and who is trying to rectify the issues in his practice. In Reply, the UST objects particularly to Darvish's failure to outline specific steps he intends to take to remedy the issues at his firm. The UST is also concerned that Darvish has essentially admitted that his practice includes the filing of abusive petitions intended solely to avoid foreclosures. The UST requests that the Court continue the matter for Darvish to set forth specific remedial actions as ordered. The UST also requests that the Court separately consider whether a separate order to show cause is justified based on Darvish's inherently abusive prevention practice.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court agrees with the UST that Darvish's explanation is insufficient. Darvish's Response indicates clearly the reason for the failure to file disclosure of compensation forms. Despite this fact, he does not explain the ongoing failure to file these forms, particularly where he has previously been sanctioned for failing to disclose his compensation. The ongoing failure to file required documents, despite having already been sanctioned, supports the UST's request for a specific plan of remediation. Absent such plan, Darvish may simply continue to rely on his thus far unreliable bankruptcy filing software.

Separately, the UST's concern regarding Darvish's practice of filing skeletal petitions is well-taken. In particular, if Darvish is advising his clients to file abusive petitions to

As a preliminary note, the Court notes that Local Rule 4001-(1)(c)(4) states that: "[a] motion for relief from the automatic stay must be filed separately from, and not combined in the same document with, any other request for relief, unless otherwise ordered by the court." Therefore, the default position is that the alternative requests made by Movant, for dismissal of the case or modification of the plan, are inappropriately brought in conjunction with a motion for relief from stay. Here, the Court is inclined to not deviate from the default position, because such requests are more appropriately heard on a Chapter 13 calendar when the Chapter 13 Trustee is present. Therefore, the Court is inclined to DENY the alternative requests for dismissal of the case or modification of the plan without prejudice.

Regarding the request for relief from the automatic stay, the Court notes that Debtor is correct in asserting that the Chapter 13 plan is a conduit plan, with payments to be made to Del Toro Loan Servicing, Movant's servicer, through the plan. While the Court notes that the docket does not reflect that a motion to dismiss for delinquency has been filed in this case, Debtor has not provided any supporting documentation determine the amount of such claim in lawful currency of the United States as of the date of the filing of the petition, and shall allow such claim in such amount (emphasis added). Here, because Debtor obtained a Chapter 7 discharge after the filing of the instant case, Debtor's argument is not a valid basis for a claim objection.

The fact that Debtor filed the instant case prior to obtaining a Chapter 7 discharge presents another significant issue – the very validity of the instant filing itself. Courts have generally split into two groups on the issue of the propriety of having simultaneous bankruptcies. Some courts, such as the Seventh Circuit, consider the maintenance of simultaneous bankruptcies to be impermissible per se. See, e.g., In re Sidebottom, 430 F.3d 893 (7th Cir. 2005). Other courts, including the Ninth Circuit, allow the maintenance of simultaneous bankruptcy proceedings on a good faith showing. See In re Blendheim, 803 F.3d 477, 500 (9th Cir. 2015).

Even Blendheim, however, restricted its conclusion to situations where a debtor had obtained a discharge in the earlier filed case:

We agree with the Eleventh Circuit's reasoning and reject a per se rule prohibiting a debtor from filing for Chapter 13 reorganization during the post-discharge period when the Chapter 7 case remains open and pending. Because nothing in the Bankruptcy Code prohibits debtors from seeking the benefits of Chapter 13 reorganization in the wake of a Chapter 7 discharge, we see no reason to force debtors to wait until the Chapter 7 case has administratively closed before filing for relief under Chapter 13.

Chapter 13

Id. at 500.

Implicit in the Blendheim excerpt above is that a discharge in the first case is a prerequisite for the simultaneous maintenance of two bankruptcy proceedings. One court, in summarizing the case law on the issue, recently stated that: "Despite the lack of statutory or rule guidance, there is little dispute in the case law that a debtor may not file a second bankruptcy case before entry of the discharge order in the first case." In re Montes, 14-13043 (Bankr. D.N.M. Feb. 25, 2015) (collecting cases). And, last fall, another bankruptcy court stated:

even in those jurisdictions that reject a per se bar to the simultaneous chapter 20 case, most courts will not permit a debtor to have simultaneous cases when the chapter 13 case is file before the debtor has received his chapter 7 discharge. These courts view the second filing as a "nullity."

In re Sorenson, 17-11823 (Bankr. D. Colo. Sept. 29, 2017) (collecting cases); see also In re Turner, 207 B.R. 373, 378 (B.A.P. 2nd Cir. 1997) ("Despite these courts' differences as to the propriety of simultaneous filings, there is universal agreement among them that where a debtor files for chapter 7 relief and then files for protection under chapter 13 before receiving a discharge in the originally chapter 7 case, that the chapter 13 case is a nullity because the filing of simultaneous petitions is contrary to the obvious contemplated function of the Bankruptcy Code to resolve a debtor's financial affairs by administration of a debtor's property as a single estate under a single chapter within the code.") (quotation omitted).

It appears that the automatic stay terminated on September 9, 2018, due to the operation of 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3). Specifically, it appears that Debtor had a Chapter 7 case pending within the year prior to the petition date of the instant case, and that such earlier case was dismissed. Nevertheless, the Court notes that Movant did not indicate an opposition deadline in its moving papers.

I. PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

On January 26, 2018, Markus Boyd ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. On February 13, 2018, the Court entered an interim order approving use of cash collateral. On March 6, 2018, the Court entered orders (1) authorizing Debtor to provide adequate assurance of payment to utility service providers and; (2) approving a budget. On March 26, 2018, the Court authorized the employment of Nicholas Gebelt as counsel for Debtor. On April 26, 2018, the Court disallowed four claims of American Express (claim numbers 2 and 4-6).

On June 22, 2018, Debtor filed its disclosure statement and Chapter 11 plan. On August 7, 2018, UST filed a limited objection to Debtor's disclosure statement.

Chapter 11

In addition to the disclosure statement, the following exhibits are included: (1) "Treatment of Claims/Interests" (Exhibit A); (2) "Executory Contracts & Unexpired Leases" (Exhibit B); (3) "Cash Flow Projections" (Exhibit C); (4) "Recent Financial History" (Exhibit D); (5) "Secured Claims" (Exhibit E); (6) "General Unsecured Claims, in Class 4A or 4B" (Exhibit F); "Liquidating Analysis" (Exhibit G); "Endnotes/Continuation Sheets" (which includes a supplement) (Exhibit H). Debtor has used the Court's optional disclosure statement form and worksheets, and, therefore, the format of the disclosure statement is adequate.

The Chapter 11 Plan's proposed effective date is October 21, 2018. There are four classes of claims and four listed categories of unclassified claims¹:

- 1) Class 1: Arrears secured by real property -- $174,971.67 claim, Debtor proposes to pay over 60 months. Debtor's Exhibit A contains a row for arrears on the second and third deeds of trust, but does not identify any amount owing.
- 2) Class 2: Additional claims secured by real property – Debtor lists three different claims within this class. Debtor proposes to continue paying his mortgage (identified as $772,733.45)², over 230 months and at 2% interest. Debtor proposes to cure his delinquency on HOA dues over 60 months. Debtor has included a row for, presumably, future HOA dues but no amount is listed. Nor is it clear that this class is truly unimpaired.
- 3) Class 3: Priority claims: Debtor's plan does not list any claims in class 3
- 4) Class 4: General Unsecured – $45,151.20, Debtor proposes to pay over 60 months.
 - 1) Type 1: UST fees ($650) – paid in full on effective date
 - 2) Type 2: Taxes (IRS) – approximately $80k, paid over 51 months
 - 3) Type 3: Taxes (FTB) –$5,651.86, paid over 51 months
 - 4) Type 4: Nicholas Gebelt's fees ($30k)—paid in full on effective date

III. LEGAL ANALYSIS

A. Adequate Information

A Chapter 11 disclosure statement is required to contain "adequate information" pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1125(b). Section 1125(f)(2) provides that: "the court may approve a disclosure statement submitted on standard forms approved by the court or adopted under section 2075 of title 28." The Central District of California has devised a disclosure statement template, Form 3017-1.CH11.DISCLSR.STMT, which Debtor generally adopted as to format.

As to the substance of a disclosure statement, 11 U.S.C. § 1125(a)(1) defines "adequate information" as:

information of a kind, and in sufficient detail as far as is reasonably practicable in light of the nature and history of the debtor and the condition of the debtor's books and records, including a discussion of the potential material Federal tax consequences of the plan to the debtor, any successor to the debtor, and a hypothetical investor typical of the holders of claims or interests in the case, that would enable such a hypothetical investor of the relevant class to make an informed judgment about the plan, but adequate information need not include such information about any other possible or proposed plan and in determining whether a disclosure statement provides adequate information, the court shall consider the complexity of the case, the benefit of additional information to creditors and other parties in interest, and the cost of providing additional information

Chapter 11

The type of information required varies with the circumstances. See, e.g., In re Jeppson, 66 B.R. 269, 292 (Bankr. D. Utah 1986) (listing nineteen categories of information commonly required); see also In re Malek, 35 B.R. 443, 443-44 (Bankr. E.D. Mich. 1983) (listing minimum requirements).

While Debtor has utilized Court approved forms and has clearly delineated the treatment of the varying claims, the disclosure statement simply lacks the information necessary to evaluate Debtor's financial situation and determine the probability of the plan's success. First of all, as noted by UST, Debtor's practice appears to have been not to withhold taxes on earned income. Second of all, the limited financial information provided by Debtor indicates his income fluctuates drastically. The four months of "recent financial history" (Exhibit D) including in the disclosure statement note the following monthly receipts:

- 1) $4,559 (February) (the corresponding monthly operating report lists receipts of $51.89)
- 2) $32,591 (March)
- 3) $15,541 (April)
- 4) $35,626 (May)

Additionally, a monthly operating report for June, filed after the disclosure statement, identifies receipts in the amount of $1,801.11. The limited financial history provided supports UST's assertion that: "Debtor's tax liabilities are a significant risk factor given that the monthly operating reports reflect that the Debtor averages between $18-$19,000 in monthly net income – much less than the $30,000 reported in the Disclosure Statement's cash flow projections." Indeed, using that $18-$19,000 figure, if one assumes that the receipts are before tax and that Debtor will ultimately be unsuccessful in the pending adversary proceeding, it would appear that the proposed plan may be infeasible. In any event, the financial information provided in the disclosure statement is grossly inadequate for an evaluation of the prospects of the proposed plan. The information simply does not allow for a reasonably accurate estimation of Debtor's income and expenses moving forward.

BACKGROUND:

On September 8, 2015, the Manors San Bernardino Ave LLC ("Debtor") case was filed as an involuntary case. The Order for Relief was entered on November 13, 2015. John P. Pringle is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee").

On July 13, 2018, the Trustee filed his objection to Claim No. 8 ("Claim") of Sake Consulting Engineers, Inc. (the "Claimant"). The Trustee's Objection asserts that the Claim is supported by documentation showing that it is for services rendered to MCG Development, an entity that is not the Debtor and therefore not entitled to allowance as a claim.

On August 6, 2018, the Claimant filed its response to the Objection ("Response"). On September 19, 2018, the Trustee filed his reply ("Reply")

Chapter 7

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Specialists, Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000). When a party files an objection to a proof of claim, that filing "creates a dispute which is a contested matter" within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and the Court must resolve the matter after notice and opportunity for hearing upon a motion for relief. Id.

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." United States v. Offord Fin., Inc., (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216,222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. Ashford v. Consol. Pioneer Mort. (In re Consol. Pioneer Mort.), 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

Here, Trustee has pointed to the fact that the evidence attached to the Claim are addressed to Paul Minnick as a representative of MCG Development. In response, Claimant has provided the same documents referenced by the Trustee and has failed to provide any admissible evidence indicating that liability on the contract can be collected against the Debtor's estate.

Docket 108

Tentative Ruling:

08/22/2018

BACKGROUND:

On September 8, 2015, the Manors San Bernardino Ave LLC ("Debtor") case was filed as an involuntary case. The Order for Relief was entered on November 13, 2015. John P. Pringle is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee").

On July 13, 2018, the Trustee filed his objection to Claim No. 10 ("Claim") of Gouvis Engineering Consulting Group, Inc. (the "Claimant"). The Trustee's Objection asserts that the Claim is supported by documentation showing that it is for services rendered to MCG Development, which is an entity that is not the Debtor and therefore is not entitled to allowance as a claim. The Objection was properly served and no opposition or response has been filed.

APPLICABLE LAW:

evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Specialists, Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000). When a party files an objection to a proof of claim, that filing "creates a dispute which is a contested matter" within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and the Court must resolve the matter after notice and opportunity for hearing upon a motion for relief. Id.

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." United States v. Offord Fin., Inc., (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216,222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. Ashford v. Consol. Pioneer Mort. (In re Consol. Pioneer Mort.), 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

Here, the Trustee has pointed to facts tending to defeat the claim by virtue of the fact that Claimant's own supporting documentation evinces a contractual relationship with Paul Minnick as representative of MCG Development Company, Inc., not on behalf of the Debtor. Absent evidence of a relationship between the Debtor and Claimant, the Claimant has failed to establish the existence of a claim against the Debtor's estate.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Claim indicates that it is secured by a Recorded Deed of Trust and Note and that the fair market value of the Property at issue exceeds the amount of the Claim such that it is fully secured. The Trustee requests that the Claim be allowed as fully secured but not entitled to a dividend from the estate. Based on the lack of prejudice to the Claimant and the Claimant's failure to file response or opposition which this Court deems as consent pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the objection and ALLOW the Claim as a fully secured claim not entitled to a dividend.

#6.00 Motion RE: Objection to Claim Number 5 by Claimant County of San Bernardino Office of the Tax Collector

EH ____

Docket 82

Tentative Ruling:

10/24/2018

BACKGROUND:

On November 30, 2015, Janice Cox ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On March 21, 2016, Debtor received a Chapter 7 discharge. On May 23, 2016, the County of San Bernardino ("Creditor") filed a claim in the amount of $33,640.95 ("Claim 5"), secured by certain real property located in Big Bear City, CA (the "Property").

On February 21, 2018, Trustee obtained an order directing Debtor to turnover the Property (the "Property"). On May 10, 2018, the Court entered an order authorizing Trustee to sell the Property. The sale order authorized Trustee to make certain distributions, including making payment on delinquent property taxes. On September 18, 2018, Trustee filed an objection to Claim 5. The Court notes that Trustee did not use the mandatory claim objection form. The basis of Trustee's claim objection is that Claim 5 was paid off with proceeds of the sale of the Property.

Docket 22

Tentative Ruling:

10/24/2018

BACKGROUND

On May 22, 2018, Charles & Gracie Hurd (collectively, "Debtors"; individually, "Charles" and "Gracie") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On July 2, 2018, Debtors filed a change of address, indicating that they had moved to Ohio.

On September 13, 2018, Debtors filed a motion to appoint Charles as the next friend of Gracie. Charles's declaration states that Gracie "currently suffers from major back problems as a result of a fall two years ago. As a result of this issue she is unable to move and is incoherent most of the time due to the medications." Debtor has provided a doctor's note, dated July 30, 2018, which states "patient is disabled and unable to travel until estimated twelve months."

DISCUSSION

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 1004.1 allows "a representative, including a general guardian, committee, conservator, or similar fiduciary," to file a voluntary petition on behalf of an incompetent person.

Chapter 7

The rule further provides that:

[a]n infant or incompetent person who does not have a duly appointed representative may file a voluntary petition by next friend or guardian ad litem. The court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for an infant or incompetent person who is a debtor and is not otherwise represented or shall make any other order to protect the infant or incompetent debtor.

Rule 1004.1 is patterned after FED.R.CIV.P. Rule 17(c), which applies to adversary proceedings pursuant to FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 7017. That rule provides that an incompetent person may sue "by a next friend or by a guardian ad litem" if the incompetent person does not have a duly appointed representative, and provides that "[t]he court must appoint a guardian ad litem—or issue another appropriate order—to protect a minor or incompetent person who is unrepresented in an action."

Cases interpreting Rule 17(c) look to the law of the state in which the subject is domiciled and follow the state's incompetency laws." In re Burchell, 2014 WL 1304635, at *1 (Bankr. N.D. Ohio 2014)(internal citations omitted). This court shall thus look to the California Probate Code's § 811 which outlines the possible bases for a determination that a person is of unsound mind or lacks capacity to make a decision or do a certain act, including for example, incapacity to contract or to execute wills or trusts.

In support of the Motion, the Debtors have attached the Declaration of Charles in which he asserts that Gracie "currently suffers from major back problems as a result of a fall two years ago. As a result of this issue she is unable to move and is incoherent most of the time due to the medications." Notwithstanding this assertion, § 811(d) provides that "the mere diagnosis of a mental or physical disorder shall not be sufficient in and of itself to support a determination that a person is of unsound mind or lacks the capacity to do a certain act." Instead, California law requires evidence of specific deficits and a link between the identified deficits and the acts that the allegedly incompetent person would otherwise have capacity to perform. The types of deficiencies are outlined in § 811 as follows:

- (1) Alertness and attention, including, but not limited to, the following:
 - (A) Level of arousal or consciousness.
 - (B) Orientation to time, place, person, and situation.
 - (C) Ability to attend and concentrate.

- (C) Recognition of familiar objects and familiar persons.
- (D) Ability to understand and appreciate quantities.
- (E) Ability to reason using abstract concepts.
- (F) Ability to plan, organize, and carry out actions in one's own rational self-interest.
- (G) Ability to reason logically.
- (3) Thought processes. Deficits in these functions may be demonstrated by the presence of the following:
 - (A) Severely disorganized thinking.
 - (B) Hallucinations.
 - (C) Delusions.
 - (D) Uncontrollable, repetitive, or intrusive thoughts.
- (4) Ability to modulate mood and affect. Deficits in this ability may be demonstrated by the presence of a pervasive and persistent or recurrent state of euphoria, anger, anxiety, fear, panic, depression, hopelessness or despair, helplessness, apathy or indifference, that is inappropriate in degree to the individual's circumstances.

Charles's declaration does not contain the requisite detail necessary to satisfy the standard for appointment of a next friend.

Additionally, there are a variety of questions raised by the motion and evidence presented.

First, it would appear that any mental debilitation is a side effect of pain medication. Nevertheless, there is no evidence regarding how often Gracie is intended to take medication, or what exactly "incoherent most of time" means. If the situation is such that Gracie has been incoherent the entire two years since the fall occurred, then further detail should be submitted to the Court.

Second, the doctor's note provided does not address any mental deficiencies whatsoever. In addition, it is not clear whether the doctor's restriction on "travel" is strict enough to prevent attendance at a meeting of creditors. Finally, the change of address filed by Debtors indicates that Debtors moved from California to Ohio in July 2018, the same month the doctor wrote that Gracie should not travel for approximately one year.

Third, the Court notes that Debtors have not complied with the Court's instructions regarding this hearing. Specifically, the Court notes that its instructions stated: "[t]he Court will require a declaration from the Doctor laying a foundation for his diagnosis." Such a declaration was not filed, and the supplement which was filed, two days before the hearing, was neither authenticated nor instructive. Additionally, the Court notes that while its instructions provided for a hearing date of October 24, 2018, Debtors waited ten days to set the matter for hearing, providing relatively short notice of this hearing.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to DENY the motion without prejudice.

#12.00 CONT Motion to Dismiss Bankruptcy Case

From: 10/17/18

Docket 47

Tentative Ruling:

10/17/2018

BACKGROUND

On April 13, 2018, Desert Ice Castle, LLC ("Debtor") filed its petition for chapter 7 relief. Steven Speier is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). The Debtor's Managing Member and alleged sole owner is Anthony Liu ("Liu"). The petition indicated that the Debtor owned assets totaling $1,864.61 and had liabilities totaling $860,500. The Debtor listed two claimants in Schedule F, one claim of Andrzej Luczynski ("Luczynski") in the amount of $800,000 (as disputed) and a claim of Lui Bin in the amount of $60,500. On September 12, 2018, Luczynski filed Claim No 1-1 in the amount of $3,200,000 based on a State Court Action for "unlawful termination [of] joint venture; conversion; unlawful eviction". Luczynski has further indicated that a trial date for the State Court Action is set for November 2, 2018. The Docket reflects that a Motion to Disallow Claim No. 1 has been set for hearing on October 24, 2018.

On September 10, 2018, the Debtor filed a motion to dismiss the bankruptcy ("Motion"). A notice of Non-opposition was filed by Lui Bin on the same date. Opposition to the Motion was filed by Luczynski and the Trustee on October 3, 2018 (the "Oppositions"). The Debtor filed an Omnibus Reply to the Oppositions on October 10, 2018 ("Reply").

Chapter 7

The Debtor seeks dismissal pursuant to § 305(a)(1). Section 305(a)(1) provides as follows:

The court, after notice and a hearing, may dismiss a case under this title, or may suspend all proceedings in a case under this title, at any time if—

(1) the interests of creditors and the debtor would be better served by such dismissal or suspension;

11 U.S.C. § 305(a)(1); In re Eastman, 188 B.R. 621, 625 (9th Cir. BAP 1995). The courts that have construed § 305(a)(1) are in general agreement that abstention in a properly filed bankruptcy case is an extraordinary remedy, and that dismissal is appropriate under § 305(a)(1) only in the situation where the court finds that both "creditors and the debtor" would be "better served" by a dismissal. Id. (internal citations omitted). The legislative history uses the following example of such a situation:

an arrangement is being worked out by creditors and the debtor out of court, there is no prejudice to the rights of creditors in that arrangement, and an involuntary case has been commenced by a few recalcitrant creditors to provide a basis for future threats to extract full payment.

H.R.Rep. No. 95–595, 95th Cong., 1st Sess. 325 (1977); 1978 U.S.C.C.A.N. 5963, 6281.

As the statutory language and legislative history demonstrate, the test under § 305(a) is not whether dismissal would give rise to a substantial prejudice to the debtor. Nor is the test whether a balancing process favors dismissal. Rather, the test is whether both the debtor and the creditors would be "better served" by a dismissal.

In support of the Motion, the Debtor argues that (1) Luczynski will suffer no prejudice from dismissal of the case because the amended complaint filed in the State Action dismissed the Debtor from the complaint; (2) Creditor Lui Bin will be paid in full; (3) the only parties benefitting from continuation of the case are the Trustee and his professionals. Although the Debtor has seemingly been dismissed from the underlying State Court litigation, the State Action retains allegations that the Debtor is an alter ego of the named defendant, Liu. (Roman Decl. ¶ 2).

The Oppositions essentially assert that (1) Luczynski has filed a proof of claim that constitutes prima facie evidence of a claim; and (2) avoidable insider payments have been discovered that will benefit the Debtor's creditors.

On the current record, the Court is inclined to DENY the Motion. Here, assuming (as the Court must at this juncture) that Luczynski may have an enforceable claim against the Debtor's estate, dismissal is likely to result in plain legal prejudice to Luczynski because the Debtor and its principal/sole shareholder seek to payoff the only other unsecured creditor in full in order to force a dismissal. The Debtor's strategy is a transparent violation of the bankruptcy code's command that similarly situated creditors must be treated similarly. Additionally, the Court is unconvinced that the dismissal of the Debtor from the underlying State Court Action is a sufficient basis to find that the Debtor has no remaining liability to Luczynski. In fact, the Debtor's evidence confirms that Luczynski's complaint continues to argue that the Debtor and Liu are alter egos. For now, the Court agrees with the Trustee and Luczynski that dismissal would be premature at this point.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that Debtor has not met its burden of demonstrating that both the Debtor and creditors will be "better served" by dismissal.

Docket 97

Tentative Ruling:

08/02/2018

BACKGROUND

On September 12, 2016, Douglas and Anne Goodman (collectively, "Debtors" or "Defendants") filed their petition for chapter 13 relief.

On November 11, 2016, Mark and Natasha Reynoso (collectively, "Plaintiffs") filed a complaint seeking determination of the dischargeability of a debt pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A) (the "Complaint"). Specifically, Plaintiffs allege that in 2015, they purchased real property located at 1656 West Lisbon Street in Upland, CA (the "Property") from the Debtors, and that a sale was consummated on the misrepresentations of the Debtors' agent, Theresa Mann, that the Property was 3,231 square feet while Plaintiffs assert that the Property is actually 2,713 square feet (or a difference of 518 square feet). Plaintiffs also assert that they were led to believe that a water leak in the upstairs bathroom had been repaired. Plaintiffs allege that the Debtors knew or should have known that their agent was making false and misleading representations to Plaintiffs.

On February 3, 2017, the Court entered an order granting Defendants first motion to dismiss the Complaint, with leave to amend. A First Amended Complaint (the "FAC") was filed on February 28, 2017. On April 19, 2017, the Plaintiffs filed a First Amended Complaint captioned "Corrected" which indicated it had been corrected for typographical errors. (the "Corrected Complaint"). The Court denied Defendants' second motion to dismiss at a hearing on May 4, 2017. On June 5, 2017, the Defendants filed their Answer to the FAC ("Answer").

On March 9, 2018, the Defendants moved to dismiss the April 19, 2018, complaint. The Court granted the motion to dismiss the April 19, 2018, complaint with leave to amend. A second amended complaint was then filed on May 23, 2018 (the "SAC"). [Note: there is a dispute regarding whether the operative complaint is a second or third amended complaint due to the filing of the "corrected complaint" indicated above. For purposes of this hearing, the operative complaint is Docket No. 93]. Defendants now move to dismiss the SAC. No opposition has been filed by the Plaintiffs.

DISCUSSION

As a threshold matter, the Motion seeks relief pursuant to Rule 12(b)(6). However, given that the Defendants have filed an Answer to the FAC, the Court shall construe the Motion as a motion under Rule 12(c), a motion for judgment on the pleadings.

Civil Rule 12(c) standard

"After the pleadings are closed—but early enough not to delay trial—a party may move for judgment on the pleadings." Fed.R.Civ.P. 12(c). "Judgment on the pleadings is properly granted when, taking all allegations in the pleading as true, the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Knappenberger v. City of Phx., 566 F.3d 936, 939 (9th Cir.2009) (quoting Merchants Home Delivery Serv., Inc. v. Frank B. Hall & Co., 50 F.3d 1486, 1488 (9th Cir.1995)).

On a Rule 12(c) motion, the court must accept as true all the material facts alleged in the complaint and must draw all reasonable inferences in favor of the non-moving party. Fleming v. Pickard, 581 F.3d 922, 925 (9th Cir.2009). In ruling on a Rule 12(c) motion, the court may not consider extrinsic evidence unless the motion is converted into a Rule 56 summary judgment. Hal Roach Studios, Inc. v. Richard Feiner & Co., Inc., 896 F.2d 1542, 1550 (9th Cir.1989) (citing Fed.R.Civ.P. 12(c); Bonilla v. Oakland Scavenger Co., 697 F.2d 1297, 1301 (9th Cir.1982)). However, a court may consider facts that are contained in materials of which the court may take judicial notice when considering a motion for judgment on the pleadings. Heliotrope Gen., Inc. v. Ford Motor Co., 189 F.3d 971, 981 n. 18 (9th Cir.1999) (quoting Barron

v. Reich, 13 F.3d 1370, 1377 (9th Cir.1994)).

The crux of Defendants' argument for dismissal of the FAC is that Plaintiffs have not set forth the basis for a money judgment under state law. In the Court's tentative ruling on the motion to dismiss the FAC, the Court stated the following:

The Ninth Circuit has held that a bankruptcy court may enter a monetary judgment on a disputed state law fraud claim in the course of determining that the debt is nondischargeable. Cowen v. Kennedy (In re Kennedy), 108 F.3d 1015 (9th Cir.1997). Shawn Deitz v. Wayne Ford, Patricia Ford (In re Wayne Ford, Patricia Ford), 469 B.R. 11, 21 (9th Cir. BAP 2012), aff'd, 760 F.3d 1038 (9th Cir. 2014). Here, although the Complaint is not explicit regarding the state law causes of action at issue, it appears implicit in the allegations that the Plaintiffs seek a monetary judgment as to a fraud or misrepresentation claim. Nonetheless, Plaintiffs should not have to guess at the state law basis of the debt for a money judgment.

Here, the SAC has added bases for calculation of damages under state law but has still not set forth the state law basis for the monetary judgment. Thus, the Plaintiffs have still not addressed the concerns raised by the Court and Defendants that they do not have sufficient notice of the basis for a monetary judgment such that the Defendants can adequately defend themselves in the action.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, including the Plaintiffs failure to file opposition to the Motion to Dismiss which can be deemed as consent to the granting of the Motion pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion dismissing the SAC with leave to amend, in order to provide the Plaintiffs with an opportunity to set forth the specific bases for monetary damages under state law such that the litigation can proceed.

10/24/18

BACKGROUND

On October 30, 2017, Sara Durham ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On January 8, 2018, SCE Federal Credit Union ("Plaintiff") filed a non-dischargeability complaint against Debtor. On February 8, 2018, Debtor filed her answer to the complaint.

On May 2, 2018, Plaintiff filed a motion to compel Debtor to respond to discovery. The Court granted the motion pursuant to an order entered June 6, 2018.

On September 26, 2018, Plaintiff filed a motion to strike the answer of Debtor and for entry of default. The basis for Plaintiff's motion is (1) Debtor's failure to appear at either status conference in this case; (2) Debtor's failure to participate in the drafting of a status report for either status conference; (3) Debtor's failure to respond in any way to the discovery requests originally propounded on February 27, 2018; (4) Debtor's continued failure to respond to discovery after the Court entered an order compelling her response; and (5) Debtor's failure to pay $1,013.50 in sanctions that were ordered against her to reimburse Plaintiff for bringing a motion to compel.

DISCUSSION

FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 37(b)(2)(A), incorporated into bankruptcy proceedings by FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 7037, states:

(A) If a party or a party's officer, director, or managing agent – or a witness designated under Rule 30(b)(6) or 31(a)(4) – fails to obey an order to provide or permit discovery, including an order under Rule 26(f), 35, or 37(a), the court where the action is pending may issue further just orders. They may include the following:

- (I) directing that the matter embraced in the order or other designated facts be taken as established for purposes of the action, as the prevailing party claims;
- (II) prohibiting the disobedient party from supporting or opposing designated claims or defenses, or from introducing designated matters in evidence;
- (III) striking pleadings in whole or in part;
- (IV) staying further proceedings until the order is obeyed;
- (V) dismissing the action or proceeding in whole or in part;
- (VI) rendering a default judgment against the disobedient party;
- (VII) treating as contempt of court the failure to obey any order except an order to submit to a physical or mental examination.

Furthermore, FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 37(d)(3) permits the Court to order the above listed sanctions in response to a party's failure to attend its own deposition, serve answers to interrogatories, or respond to a request for inspection.

Here, Plaintiffs have adequately established that Debtor has failed to participate in this case in any meaningful way. Based on Debtor's continued failure to cooperate in discovery or the preparation of status reports, and Debtor's failure to attend any hearing in this, and noting the lack of opposition to the instant motion, the Court is inclined to strike Debtor's answer. Regarding Plaintiffs' request that the Court enter default against Debtor, once Debtor's answer is stricken, the Plaintiff may follow the normal procedures for seeking entry of default and a default judgment.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion to the extent of STRIKING Debtor's Answer.

#3.00 Motion By United States Trustee To Dismiss Chapter 13 Case with A Re-filing Bar

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

10/25/18

BACKGROUND

On August 20, 2018, Michael Fink ("Debtor") filed a skeletal Chapter 13 voluntary petition. Debtor had previously filed bankruptcies in November 1998, November 2011, January 2012, May 2016, and September 2017, all of which were dismissed for failure to file information or failure to appear at the meeting of creditors. On September 12, 2018, UST filed a motion to dismiss case, requesting a one-year re-filing bar.

DISCUSSION

I. Dismissal

11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(1) permits the Court to dismiss a Chapter 7 case for abuse. 11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(3)(A) states:

Chapter 13

(3) In considering under paragraph (1) whether the granting of relief would be an abuse of the provisions of this chapter in a case in which the presumption in paragraph (2)(A)(i) does not arise or is rebutted, the court shall consider –

(A) whether the debtor filed the petition in bad faith

In determining whether a case should be dismissed under § 707(b)(3)(A), the Court considers the totality of the circumstances, but is ultimately instructed to consider whether "the debtor's intention in filing a bankruptcy petition is inconsistent with the Chapter 7 goals of providing a 'fresh start' to debtors and maximizing the return to creditors." In re Mitchell, 357 B.R. 142, 154-55 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2006) (listing factors to be considered in making that determination).

The majority of the Mitchell factors are inapplicable when, as here, a debtor files a skeletal petition that does not provide the Court with sufficient information to apply the Mitchell test. Only factor seven (history of bankruptcy filings) and, possibly, factor nine (egregious behavior) can be assessed when a debtor files a skeletal petition. Both those factors weigh in favor of dismissal when, as here, a debtor repeatedly files skeletal petitions during a short period of time, and does not disclose previous filings.¹ While § 707(a)(1) and (3) provide for dismissal when a debtor fails to fulfill his duties under the Bankruptcy Code, when a debtor repeatedly files bankruptcy and fails to evince any attempt to comply with the filing requirements, it can be inferred, absent any indication to the contrary, that the debtor's purpose in filing bankruptcy is not to take advantage of the fresh start. See, e.g., In re Craighead, 377 B.R. 648, 655 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2007) ("Courts generally hold that when a debtor repeatedly files bankruptcy petitions and then repeatedly fails to file schedules or to comply with other requirements, this pattern of behavior is evidence of bad faith and an attempt to abuse the system."). Dismissal under § 707(b)(3) is appropriate in those circumstances.

II. Re-Filing Bar

The court is empowered to impose a refiling bar under 11 U.S.C. § 349(a). As COLLIER notes, courts' analysis of this section is somewhat confused due to confounding "dismissal with prejudice" with "dismissal with injunction against future filings." COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 349.02[3]; compare In re Garcia, 479 B.R. 488 (Bankr. N.D. Ind. 2012) (denying motion for dismissal with prejudice, but imposing three-year refiling bar) with In re Craighead, 377 B.R. 648 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2007) (appearing to equate dismissal with prejudice with an injunction against refiling).

There is also a circuit split concerning whether an injunction on refiling for more than 180 days is allowed under the Bankruptcy Code. Compare In re Frieouf, 938 F.2d 1099 (10th Cir. 1991) (180 days is maximum allowed length of refiling injunction) with Casse v. Key Bank Nat. Ass'n, 198 F.3d 327 (2nd Cir. 1999) (injunction against filing for more than 180 days permissible). 11 U.S.C. § 349(a) reads:

Unless, the court, for cause, orders otherwise, the dismissal of a case under this title does not bar the discharge, in a later case under this title, of debts that were dischargeable in the case dismissed; nor does the dismissal of a case under this title prejudice the debtor with regard to the filing of a subsequent petition under this title, except as provided in section 109(g) of this title.

The disagreement revolves around whether the qualifier "Unless, the court, for cause, orders otherwise" modifies the content after the semi-colon. In re Leavitt noted this disagreement, but since the court was dealing with a dismissal with prejudice, rather than an injunction against refiling, it did not resolve the issue. 209 B.R. 935, 942 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 1997). Within the Ninth Circuit, it appears the trend is to adopt the reasoning of the Second Circuit and allow injunctions for more than 180 days. See e.g. In re Velasques, 2012 WL 8255582 at *3 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2012).

Here, Debtor has filed five previous bankruptcies which were all summarily dismissed, and, in the instant case, failed to file the balance of the schedules. As noted above, the Court has determined that Debtor's behavior is sufficient to warrant dismissal for bad faith and the Court finds the requested one-year refiling bar to be appropriate.

Moreover, Debtor's failure to oppose is deemed consent to the relief requested pursuant to Local Rule 9013-1(h).

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion, dismissing the case and imposing a re-filing bar of one year.

Service is Proper
Opposition: Yes

As a preliminary note, the Court notes that Local Rule 4001-(1)(c)(4) states that: "[a] motion for relief from the automatic stay must be filed separately from, and not combined in the same document with, any other request for relief, unless otherwise ordered by the court." Therefore, the default position is that the alternative requests made by Movant, for dismissal of the case or modification of the plan, are inappropriately brought in conjunction with a motion for relief from stay. Here, the Court is inclined to not deviate from the default position, because such requests are more appropriately heard on a Chapter 13 calendar when the Chapter 13 Trustee is present. Therefore, the Court is inclined to DENY the alternative requests for dismissal of the case or modification of the plan without prejudice.

Regarding the request for relief from the automatic stay, the Court notes that Debtor is correct in asserting that the Chapter 13 plan is a conduit plan, with payments to be made to Del Toro Loan Servicing, Movant's servicer, through the plan. While the

#14.00 Motion in individual case for order imposing a stay or continuing the automatic stay as the court deems appropriate

MOVANT: SUSAN VIOLET GUILLOT

EH__

Docket 38

Tentative Ruling:

10/30/2018

The instant case was filed within one year of the dismissal of the Debtor's prior case, Case No. 17-15347. Thus, the Debtor must seek to continue the stay pursuant to § 362(c)(3). The language of § 362(c)(3) plainly states that the Court cannot extend the stay until "after notice and hearing completed before the expiration of the 30-day period". Here, the 30-day period expired on October 14, 2018. The Court has no authority to extend the stay. The Motion must be DENIED.

APPEARANCES REQUIRED.

#15.00 Motion in Individual Case for Order Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate 13564 Ranier Ave., Corona, CA 92880

MOVANT: LOUISE LASTER

EH ____

Docket 14

Tentative Ruling:

10/30/2018

The Motion seeks to continue the stay as to all creditors, including Bayview, the servicer as to mortgage payments on the Debtor's primary residence. First, the proof of service indicates that the Debtor failed to serve any creditors other than Bayview the Motion is denied as to any creditors other than Bayview. As to Bayview, the Debtor has provided sufficient evidence to overcome the presumption that the case was not filed in good faith.

The hearing was set on regular notice and no opposition has been filed. The Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion as to Bayview and DENY as to all other creditors.

APPEARANCES WAIVED. Movant to lodge an order within 7 days.

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

11/6/18

Service: Proper
Opposition: None

The Court notes that Debtors did not serve counsel for the secured creditor which obtained relief from stay in the prior case. Further, Debtors state that relief from stay was obtained as a result of a medical diagnosis in February 2018, but the relief from stay order was entered in October 2017. Thus, the evidence presented is not clear and convincing.

#20.00 Motion to Deem Oscar Brambila and Bruce Gordon Not Insiders for Purposes of Compensation

EH__

Docket 173

Tentative Ruling:

11/6/2018

BACKGROUND

On August 15, 2018, Visiting Nurse Association of the Inland Counties ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. Two days later, Debtor filed notices of setting insider compensation (the "Notices") for Bruce Gordon ("Gordon") and Oscar Brambila ("Brambila"). On August 30, 2018, the H.N. and Frances C. Berger Foundation ("Berger Foundation") filed its opposition to the Notices. On September 20, 2018, Debtor filed amended notices of setting insider compensation (the "Amended Notices") for Gordon and Brambila. On September 27, 2018, the Berger Foundation filed its opposition to the Amended Notices. On October 22, 2018, Debtor set the Amended notices for hearing on November 13, 2018.

On October 26, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to deem Gordon and Brambila not insiders for purposes of compensation. Debtor also filed an application shortening time, and the Court set a hearing for November 6, 2018, at 3:00 p.m, with opposition due at the hearing. Debtor argues that Gordon and Brambila are officers "in title only" and do not have any "corporate-level control" over Debtor.

DISCUSSION

United States Bankruptcy Court

Judge Mark Houle, Presiding
Courtroom 303 Calendar

Tuesday, November 6, 2018

Hearing Room 303

3:00 PM

CONT... Visiting Nurse Association of the Inland Counties

Chapter 11

11 U.S.C. § 101(31)(B) defines "insider," in the corporate context, as including the following:

- (i) director of the debtor;
- (ii) officer of the debtor;
- (iii) person in control of the debtor;
- (iv) partnership in which the debtor is a general partner;
- (v) general partner of the debtor; or
- (vi) relative of a general partner, director, officer, or person in control of the debtor;

Potentially at issue here are the first three subsections of the insider definition. At present, and given that only Debtor has filed a pleading with regard to this matter, the Court does not have any evidence before it which would suggest that Gordon and Brambila have sufficient control to be classified as either: (1) a statutory insider pursuant to § 101(31)(B)(iii); or (2) a non-statutory insider pursuant to case law. See, e.g., In re Beaver Valley Builder's Supply, Inc., 177 B.R. 507 (Bankr. W.D. Pa. 1995) (Insider includes any person "who has a sufficiently close relationship with the debtor that his conduct is made subject to closer scrutiny"). Therefore, the Court will limit its analysis to whether Gordon and Brambila are insiders pursuant to § 101(31)(B)(i)-(ii).

Debtors relies on the case of In re Foothills Texas, Inc., 408 B.R. 573 (Bankr. D. Del. 2009) in support of its contention that an individual's job title is not dispositive in determine whether that individual is an insider. In re Foothills Texas stated the following:

Chapter 11

The "officers at issue in this case are vice presidents. A vice president is "a person representing or deputizing for a president; an official who ranks immediately below a president." An official is obviously an officer. Thus, under the plain meaning of the words, a vice president is presumptively an officer, who, in turn, is an insider. Nonetheless, the mere title of a person does not end the inquiry.

Just as there may be non-statutory insiders that fall within the definition of an insider but are outside of the enumerated categories, there may be persons that fall within the enumerated categories but do not meet the definition of the category. Under the plain meaning of the words, the question is whether a person is taking part in the management of the debtor. In order to overcome the presumption that a person holding an officer's title is not what he or she appears to be requires submission of evidence sufficient to establish that the officer is, in fact, not participating in the management of the debtor.

Id. at 579; see also In re NMI Sys., Inc., 179 B.R. 357, 369 (Bankr. D.D.C. 1995) (employing holistic approach to determine whether an individual was an officer).

Nevertheless, the reasoning of In re Foothills Texas is, to some extent, confusing. The statement that "there may be persons that fall within the enumerated categories but do not meet the definition of the category" appears paradoxical, for if an individual does not meet the definition of the category, then they would not fall within the enumerated categories. The Court is cognizant that there may be individuals whose job titled includes the term "officer" or "director" but who is not, under the relevant definition of the word, an "officer" or director." See, e.g., In re Kunz, 489 F.3d 1072 (10th Cir. 2007) (retired director emeritus not a director). Yet, subjecting all officers/directors to a control test would seem to render § 101(31)(B)(i)-(ii) superfluous, for the statute already contains a subsection classifying "person[s] in control" as insiders. See, e.g., In re Public Access Technology.Com, Inc., 307 B.R. 500, 505 (Bankr. E.D. Va. 2004) ("It is unnecessary for a court to determine whether an individual is both a director and a person in control, or both an officer and a person in control, as the statutory definition is clearly stated in the disjunctive."); see also In re Bonds Distrib. Co., Inc., 2000 WL 33673768 at *3 (Bankr. M.D.N.C. 2000) (declining to consider whether someone "acts" like a director").

Chapter 11

On the record before the Court, the Court disagrees with Debtor's interpretation. First, the plain language of 11 U.S.C. § 101(31)(B) states that officers and directors are insiders, and Debtor has conceded that both Gordon and Barambila were told they were officers. Second, to read § 101(31)(B) as requiring, or permitting, this Court to consider whether an officer is "really" an officer, through the use of some sort of control, renders § 101(31)(B)(i)-(ii) superfluous. In re Foothills Texas appears to stand for the proposition that the list of insiders can be both expanded, or contracted, based on a holistic analysis. While § 101(31)(B) certainly can be expanded, because it contains a non-exhaustive list of examples, foundational principles of statutory interpretation preclude the list's contraction. See, e.g., In re Ribcke, 64 B.R. 663 (Bankr. D. Md. 1986) ("The Marksons are subject to the label of insiders in this case by virtue of the statutory definition which may be expanded by a factual presentation but never contracted."). Finally, policy reasons weigh against the imposition of an additional requirement that an officer or director actually "act" like an officer or director, because the regulation of such individuals is designed to protect the creditors, who would not have the level of access necessary to mount a factual defense to an assertion that an individual was an officer in title only.

Separately, assuming, arguendo, that the Court found In re Foothills Texas to be persuasive, the evidence presented does not clearly establish that Gordon and Brambila do not take part in the management of Debtor. To the contrary, both appear to have day to day management authority.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to DENY the motion.

APPEARANCES REQUIRED.

Chapter 7

On August 7, 2018, a Chapter 7 voluntary petition was filed on behalf of Michael Artmore ("Debtor").

On October 4, 2018, Debtor filed a stipulation with UST requesting dismissal of the case and the return of certain bank funds to Debtor. The stipulation recites that Debtor did not file, or cause to be filed, the instant case. The stipulation states that the social security number used for this case only matches Debtor's last four digits, and does not reflect his actual social security number. Finally, the stipulation states that Debtor was not aware of the instant filing until he was informed that the bank has frozen his bank account. On October 12, 2018, the instant case was dismissed.

On October 5, 2018, Debtor filed a motion for an order expunging this case, or, alternatively, redacting the filing from the public record and directing the credit reporting agencies to remove the filing.

DISCUSSION

Debtor has provided a case in support of the argument that a bankruptcy filing may be expunged if the filing was done with the knowledge of the debtor. See In re Duque, 2016 WL 4239608 at *1 (Bankr. M.D. Fla. 2016). Nevertheless, the availability of this remedy, and the analysis the Court is required to consider, is not clear. See Peter C. Alexander, Identity Theft and Bankruptcy Expungement, 77 AM. BANKR. L.J. 409, 412-13 (2003) ("The order for an expungement of a bankruptcy case filing does present significant analytical difficulties. Despite the rise in identity theft and consequent fraudulent bankruptcy petitions, there are no reported decisions wherein expungement has been ordered and thus there is little guidance on the subject. Moreover, in the few cases that discuss expungement of a debtor's records, there appears to be little agreement about the specific source of a bankruptcy court's authority to expunge."); Maureen A. Tighe & Emily Rosenblum, "What Do You Mean, I Filed Bankruptcy?" - Or How the Law Allows a Perfect Stranger to Purchase an Automatic Stay in Your Name, 32 LOY. L.A. L. REV. 1009, 1024 (1999) ("A second problem not adequately addressed under the current Bankruptcy Code is that there is no clear provision allowing for expungement of a fraudulent filed bankruptcy. This leaves bankruptcy judges unsure of how they can or should handle these victims even where a victim has spent the time and expense to prove he or she was not the one who filed the bankruptcy.").

Since the publication of the two articles cited above, several courts have considered the issue whether expungement is an appropriate remedy when a bankruptcy is fraudulently filed unbeknownst to a debtor. Several of these cases, however, deal with a debtor who, to some extent, participated in the preparation of the filing, but had misgivings either afterwards or shortly before the filing. In a published decision in In re Storay, the bankruptcy court concluded that it had the authority to expunge an unauthorized bankruptcy filing pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 105(a). 364 B.R. 194, 196 (Bankr. D.S.C. 2006) ("Based upon the weight of the evidence, the Court finds that cause exists to expunge this case pursuant to § 105.").

Not only is the availability of expungement in this situation unsettled, the adequacy of the remedy is unclear. One bankruptcy court noted the following:

Moreover, expunging the Case at this point may make it more difficult for the Purported Debtor to convince the credit reporting agencies and prospective creditors that the filing was unauthorized, as the Case would be akin to an apparition – a creditor or credit reporting agency may have a notation that it had been filed, but would not have any way to access a case number or perform an electronic search to locate an explanation for its filing or located an order declaring the filing to be unauthorized.

This anomaly can be prevented by fashioning alternative relief. Accordingly, the Court finds that the filing of the Case was unauthorized by Anita Elizabeth Dick and was filed fraudulently by Gary Oseroff. The Court directs the Clerk to create a "flag" which states "Unauthorized Bankruptcy Filing – Identity Theft Victim" and to associate that flag with the Case and make it publicly and prominently viewable whenever the Case Information is electronically accessed. The Court also directs that the Clerk make the following docket entry for this Memorandum Opinion and Order: "Memorandum Opinion and Order re-opening the Case, finding that Anita Elizabeth Dick is an identity theft victim and did not authorize the filing of the Case, and granting other relief." The Debtor is authorized to forward copies of this Memorandum Opinion and Order to whomever she sees fit.

In re Dick, 2006 WL 6544157 at *5 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2006) (footnote omitted).

While it appears that the majority opinion is that a bankruptcy case may be expunged pursuant to § 105(a), it is unclear whether that is the appropriate remedy in this case. Regarding Debtor's request that the credit agencies be directed to alter Debtor's credit reports to remove this filing, it does not appear that the Court has jurisdiction to order such a request, and, to the extent such jurisdiction does exist, the request would appear to require an adversary pursuant to FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 7001(7).

#2.00 CONT Motion for Leave to File New Order on Debtors' Motion to Avoid Junior Lien on Debtor's Principal Residence.

From: 9/13/18

EH__

Docket 124

Tentative Ruling:

11/8/2018

The Court finds Debtors' request for authority to lodge an amended order appropriate under FRCP 60(a). Specifically, the Court is persuaded that the Court likely intended to approve the Motion and grant lien avoidance on completion of plan payments rather than on receipt of a discharge but due to clerical mistake by Debtor in the lodgment of the order, entered an order granting avoidance on discharge in a case where the Debtors were not eligible for discharge and where that ineligibility was apparent to all parties. For these reasons, and finding notice was proper under the circumstances, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion permitting the lodgment of an amended order.

APPEARANCES WAIVED. Movant may lodge an order within 7 days.

9/13/18

BACKGROUND

On November 21, 2013, Jose & Hiliana Castellanos ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. Debtors previously received a discharge in a Chapter 7 proceeding on October 21, 2010. As such, Debtors were ineligible for a discharge in the instant case.

Chapter 13

On December 17, 2013, Debtors converted their case to Chapter 13. On December 24, 2013, Debtors filed a motion to avoid liens pursuant to § 506(d). The motion requested that the second and third liens on Debtors' principal residence, held by Bank of America and Excel National Bank, respectively be avoided conditioned upon "receipt of a chapter 13 discharge." On March 10, 2014, the Court granted the relief sought in the motion.

On June 6, 2018, the Chapter 13 trustee filed his final report. On July 3, 2018, Debtors filed a motion for leave to file new order on Debtors' motion to avoid junior lien. On July 25, 2018, Debtors re-filed the motion, and the matter was set for hearing.

DISCUSSION

Debtors appear to argue that 11 U.S.C. § 105 provides the basis for the relief requested FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(b), incorporated into bankruptcy proceedings by FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9024, however, provides the mechanism whereby a party can seek relief from a final order. Pursuant to FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(c)(1), however, Debtors are time-barred from bringing an argument under FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(b)(1)-(3). Therefore, the only applicable bases for relief are FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(b)(4)-(6).

The motion filed by Debtors does not provide adequate information to allow the Court to apply the applicable legal framework, even if the Court were to construe the motion as requesting relief pursuant to an appropriate legal provision.

Furthermore, in light of this Court's ruling in In re Washington, 587 B.R. 349 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2018), permitting Debtors to amend their motion at the end of their case would be prejudicial to creditors and would open up a legal loophole. Pursuant to In re Washington, the Debtors may be required to pay the claims of the contingently avoided lienholders through the Chapter 13 plan pro rata with other unsecured creditors. Allowing Debtors to fix their own mistake, at the conclusion of the case, would allow Debtors to avoid the secured claims of the junior lienholders while avoiding paying those claims through the Chapter 13 plan, a result expressly rejected by In re Washington.

In conclusion, Debtors have failed to identify the appropriate legal provision for the relief requested, have failed to make an adequate legal showing to justify relief under a legally appropriate provision, and have requested relief which, if granted, would contravene this Court's decision in In re Washington. For all the above reasons, the Court is inclined to DENY the motion.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to DENY the motion.

 VACATED  REASON: ORDER ENTERED 11/6/18

Tentative Ruling:

11/30/17

BACKGROUND

On February 21, 2017, Ernie Macias ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 13 relief. The Debtor's case was filed by Alon Darvish ("Darvish"). On March 13, 2017, the Debtor's case was dismissed for failure to file information.

On March 24, 2017, the Office of the United States Trustee ("UST") filed a Motion to Disgorge Attorney's Fees ("Disgorgement Motion"). On June 13, 2017, the Court granted in part and denied in part the UST's Disgorgement Motion (the "Disgorgement Order"). The Disgorgement Order required Darvish to file his disclosure of compensation, and to disgorge fees received from the Debtor back to him.

On September 20, 2017, the UST filed its Motion For An Order To Show Cause Why Alon Darvish Should Not Be Held In Contempt Of Court Pursuant To 11 U.S.C. § 105 And Federal Rule Of Bankruptcy Procedure 9020 (the "Motion for OSC"). The Motion for OSC specifically asserted that Darvish had failed to comply with any part of the Disgorgement Order. The UST's Motion for OSC further asserted that Darvish had repeatedly failed to disclose compensation and had been sanctioned for such conduct under similar circumstances in at least 6 other cases. (Motion for OSC at 9).

Chapter 13

On October 20, 2017, the Court granted the Motion for OSC and ordered Darvish to show cause why he should not be held in contempt (the "OSC"). Darvish filed his response to the OSC on November 16, 2017 ("Response"). On November 21, 2017, the UST replied to the Response.

DISCUSSION

In his Response, Darvish indicated that his practice includes the filing of skeletal petitions for chapter 13 debtors for the purpose of stopping foreclosures. He indicated that when such skeletal petitions are filed, his software does not file the Disclosure of Compensation. Darvish asserts that he is a solo practitioner who is overwhelmed and understaffed and who is trying to rectify the issues in his practice. In Reply, the UST objects particularly to Darvish's failure to outline specific steps he intends to take to remedy the issues at his firm. The UST is also concerned that Darvish has essentially admitted that his practice includes the filing of abusive petitions intended solely to avoid foreclosures. The UST requests that the Court continue the matter for Darvish to set forth specific remedial actions as ordered. The UST also requests that the Court separately consider whether a separate order to show cause is justified based on Darvish's inherently abusive prevention practice.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court agrees with the UST that Darvish's explanation is insufficient. Darvish's Response indicates clearly the reason for the failure to file disclosure of compensation forms. Despite this fact, he does not explain the ongoing failure to file these forms, particularly where he has previously been sanctioned for failing to disclose his compensation. The ongoing failure to file required documents, despite having already been sanctioned, supports the UST's request for a specific plan of remediation. Absent such plan, Darvish may simply continue to rely on his thus far unreliable bankruptcy filing software.

Separately, the UST's concern regarding Darvish's practice of filing skeletal petitions is well-taken. In particular, if Darvish is advising his clients to file abusive petitions to

The Court notes that rather than attach the appropriate exhibits, it appears that Movant has inadvertently replaced those exhibits with a second copy of the motion. As a result, Movant has failed to establish that it has a security interest in the subject property nor has Movant established the fair market value of the property. Therefore, the Court is inclined to DENY the motion.

Tentative Ruling:

11/13/18
Notice: Proper

The instant case was filed within one year of the dismissal of the Debtor's prior case, Case No. 17-15347. Thus, the Debtor was required to seek to continue the stay pursuant to § 362(c)(3). The language of § 362(c)(3) plainly states that the Court cannot extend the stay until "after notice and hearing completed before the expiration of the 30-day period". Here, the 30-day period expired on October 14, 2018, and the hearing on Debtor's Motion was as held and denied on October 30, 2018. Based on the failure to obtain an order prior to the expiration of the 30-day period, no stay is in effect. The Motion is GRANTED.

The Application for Compensation was amended on 10/30/2018 to correct errors in the calculations submitted by Applicant. The Application having been corrected and their being no objections by interested party to the Application, finding that the amounts are otherwise reasonable, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Application, allowing fees in the amounts stated in the October 30, 2018, corrected amounts.

APPEARANCES WAIVED. Movant to lodge an order within 7 days.

10/16/18

On May 11, 2016, Allied Injury Management, Inc. ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. On June 6, 2016, the Court approved the employment application of Fredman Lieberman Pearl LLP to serve as counsel to Debtor ("Applicant"). On November 17, 2016, the Court approved an application to expand the scope of Applicant's representation. On November 30, 2018, the Court ordered the appointment of a Chapter 11 Trustee and, five days later, David Goodrich was appointed as the Chapter 11 Trustee.

On October 6, 2017, Applicant filed an application for compensation for an aggregate amount of $282,682.13 covering the period of May 11, 2016 to December 5, 2016. Applicant and UST have twice stipulated to a continuance of the hearing.

Allied Injury Management, Inc.

Chapter 11

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(1), the court may award reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services. The court has an independent duty to review the fee application in the absence of objections. See 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(2). The court "will not indulge in extensive labor and guesswork to justify a fee for an attorney who has not done so himself." In re Taylor, 66 B.R. 390 (Bankr. W.D. Pa. 1986).

11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(3) provides factors to be considered in determining the reasonableness of requested compensation. These factors include time spent, rates charged, necessity of the service, reasonableness of the service, expertise of attorney, and comparable market rates.

First of all, the Court notes that Applicant's fee application is somewhat unclear. The application requests $278,079 for professional fees related to the main bankruptcy case and three adversary proceeding, and a summary identifying the amount of fees in each proceeding is provided on the tables that spans pages 6 and 7 of the fee application. That table identifies fees in the amount of $242,270.50 in the main case. Nevertheless, the very next table, which deals with categories of tasks performed and spans pages 7-8 of the fee application, only identifies $227,244.50 in fees for the main case. It does not appear that the fee application addresses or explains this discrepancy of $15,026, and, therefore, the Court is inclined to reduce the fee application by $15,026.

The "Summary of Fees for the Main Case" table is additionally problematic because of the fact that the majority of the rows and tables in this summary do not add up to the identified total. While the miscalculations are not egregious, and are sometimes to the disadvantage of Applicant, the errors force put the credibility of the fee application as a whole, including its more than 100 pages of billing entries, into question. The inherent contradictions of the fee application continue when comparing the summary tables with the more detailed tables in the application's sections on the adversary matters.

Additionally, the Court notes that the first two pages of Exhibit 4 include billing for services provided which predate the effective date of the employment order. Those billing entries related to services provided by Mr. Lieberman are also lumped entries. For those two reasons, the Court is inclined to reduce the fee application by an additional amount of $6,068.

DISCUSSION

On November 20, 2017 ("Petition Date"), Sean Karadas ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 7 relief. Charles Daff is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). Among the assets of the estate are Small Business Administration loan funds totaling $327,653 (the "SBA Loan") obtained by the Debtor from First Home Bank for his wholly owned corporation, Pacific Trium, Inc. ("Pacific Trium") Trustee has evidence that almost immediately following the disbursement of loan funds to the Debtor, that the Debtor transferred the funds from Pacific Trium's account to his personal account on May 31, 2017, and then from his account to his son's account on June 20, 2017.

On May 24, 2018, First Home Bank filed a dischargeability action under §§ 523 and 727 against the Debtor objecting to the discharge of the Debtor's personal guaranty and alleging fraud and misrepresentation by Debtor in obtaining the SBA Loan.

On September 11, 2018, First Home Bank filed a Motion for Consent Order re: Claim of Creditor First Home Bank as Nondischargeable ("Motion"). The Motion specifically seeks approval of the parties' stipulation as to nondischargeability of the personal guaranty and separately seeks dismissal of the remaining claims. Although the Motion acknowledges that parties in interest may timely file a response to the Motion to pursue the §727 action, the Motion is deficient in that the proof of service fails to indicate service on the Debtor's creditors. To date, the Court's claims register reflects that 17 claims have been filed against the Debtor's estate and as such, there are interested parties who may be interested in pursuing the §727 action.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to CONTINUE the hearing on the Motion to November 14, 2018, at 11:00 a.m. for the Debtor to serve the Debtor's creditors.

BACKGROUND

On March 21, 2018, Frank Valderrama ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On July 2, 2018, Debtor received a discharge.

On June 25, 2018, Elizabeth Balderas & Jose Carrillo (collectively, "Plaintiffs") filed a complaint against Debtor for non-dischargeability pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2) (A).

On July 17, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim. On August 10, 2018, Plaintiffs filed their opposition. On September 10, 2018, the Court granted the motion, dismissing the complaint with leave to amend.

On September 28, 2018, Plaintiffs filed an amended complaint (the "FAC"). On October 19, 2018, Debtor filed another motion to dismiss. On October 31, 2018, Plaintiffs filed their opposition.

DISCUSSION

I. MOTION TO DISMISS STANDARD

In order to avoid dismissal pursuant to Civil Rule 12(b)(6), a complaint must allege sufficient factual matter, which if accepted as true, would "state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)). A claim is facially plausible when a court can draw a reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for misconduct. Id. The plaintiff must provide "more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do." Id.

II. NON-DISCHARGEABILITY STANDARD

As a preliminary note, the Court notes that the format and opposition of the FAC is rather confusing. The adversary proceeding cover sheet and the first page of the complaint identify the complaint as a non-dischargeability complaint under 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2) [not itself an actual provision] and § 523(a)(2)(A); three causes of action are likewise identified: (1) breach of written contract; (2) breach of fiduciary duty; and (3) fraud.

The adversary cover sheet, in the section titled "nature of suit," also checks § 523(a)(4). As was made clear in the previous motion to dismiss tentative ruling, the Court will not address a cause of action which is not clearly asserted in the complaint. Here, once again, Plaintiffs have not actually mentioned § 523(a)(4) in the entirety of the complaint, and, therefore, the Court will construe the FAC as solely a request under § 523(a)(2)(A). As a result, the Court will not address Debtor's argument that Plaintiffs are time-barred from bringing a § 523(a)(4) claim.

11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A) states:

(a) A discharge under section 727, 1141, 1228(a), 1228(b), or 1328(b) of this title does not discharge an individual debtor from any debt –

(2) for money, property, services, or an extension, renewal, or refinancing of creditor, to the extent obtained by –

(A) false pretenses, a false representation, or actual fraud, other than a statement respecting the debtor's or an insider's financial condition;

The elements of a § 523(a)(2)(A) claim are well-established: (a) the debtor made representations; (b) which were known to be false; (c) the representations were made with the intention and purpose of deceiving the creditor; (d) the creditor relied on such representations; (e) the creditor sustained loss and damage as a proximate result of the representations. See, e.g., In re Sabban, 600 F.3d 1219, 1222 (9th Cir. 2010).

As noted by Debtor, FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 9(b) is applicable to a § 523(a)(2)(A) non-dischargeability proceeding. See, e.g., In re Kimmel, 2008 WL 5076380 at *1 (9th Cir. 2008). "In order to properly plead fraud with particularity, the complaint must allege the time, place, and content of the fraudulent representation such that a defendant can prepare an adequate response to the allegations." Id.

Here, while its organization is rather confusing, the FAC has made substantial progress towards addressing the concerns raised regarding the original complaint. Specifically, the FAC does contain allegations which, if liberally construed, amount to a false representation of a material fact. For example, paragraph 35 states:

United States Bankruptcy Court

Chapter 7

Each time Plaintiffs made a payment, Debtor assured them that progress was being made on the project. Debtor assured them that materials and construction were being expended [sic] with the money he received from Plaintiffs. Such representations were false in that in his meeting of the credits [sic] Debtor testified under oath that he did not use any money he received by Plaintiffs to pay for material or labor.

The FAC also contains different variations, in different locations, of the following assertion, found in ¶ 41: "Debtor intentionally withheld the true information from Plaintiffs so that Plaintiffs continue [sic] to pay Debtor." Regarding the element of reliance, the Court notes that ¶ 32 concludes by stating: "Plaintiffs would not have paid Debtor additional funds had they known that Debtor was keeping the money for himself," which could be construed as alleging reliance on the part of Plaintiffs. Debtor has not argued that Plaintiffs have failed to adequately allege damages, and it seems clear that the element of damages had been adequately asserted.

Turning to the heightened pleading standard of FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 9(b), it would appear that the FAC, if liberally construed, does contain allegations of fraudulent representations with sufficient particularity. Specifically, for example, paragraph 35, reproduced above, appears to allege that Debtor asserted he was spending the money on materials and constructions each time that a payment was made. Given that paragraphs ¶¶ 36 and 38 identify a list of dates when payments were made, it would appear that, taking the FAC as a whole, there are adequate assertions of a particular representation, made by a particular person, on a particular date.

In Debtor's motion to dismiss, Debtor appears to assert that the FAC fails to plead fraud with particularity because "[t]here is no allegation that any payment was made as a result of any specific misrepresentation." [Dkt. No. 12, pg. 8]. As the Court noted above, there are certain sections of the FAC, such as ¶ 32, which assert that Debtor would not have made payments to Debtor, if not for Debtor's representation that the money was being spent on materials and construction. It would appear that such allegations are adequate to allege fraud with particularity. The Court declines to address Debtor's argument that Plaintiffs cannot establish reasonable reliance because the reasonableness of such reliance is a factual issue not ripe for determination at this time.

Debtor also argues that the first cause of action, breach of contract, should be dismissed as a matter of law because the cause of action is not a basis to hold a debt to be non-dischargeable. The Court notes, however, that the tentative ruling of August 29, 2018, pointed out that if Plaintiffs wished to obtain a money judgment, Plaintiffs would need to articulate the legal basis for that debt so that the Court would have a basis to liquidate the debt. While it is not clear from the face of the FAC, it would appear that the cause of action for breach of contract was not intended to serve as a basis for non-dischargeability, but, rather, a basis for a money judgment. Furthermore, given the references to state law and the absence of any reference to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(4), it appears that the second cause of action, for breach of fiduciary duty, also may serve the same purpose. While it is debatable whether "breach of contract" and "breach of fiduciary duty" should serve as independent causes of action, the Court understands them to serve as simply providing the legal basis of the alleged debt, which would only be relevant if Plaintiffs were to prevail on the § 523(a)(2)(A) claim.

Finally, the Court agrees with Debtor that Elizabeth Balderas lacks standing because she is neither a party to the contract nor an express beneficiary thereof. Plaintiffs argue that: "The contract was entered into during the marriage, therefore, it is community property. Certainly, Plaintiff Balderas has a right to recover money paid to Debtor whether by her individually or her deceased husband which was paid with community funds." [Dkt. No. 15, pg 13]. This appears to be incorrect as a matter of law. See, e.g., Hatchwell v. Blue Shield of California, 198 Cal. App. 3d 1027, 1036 (Cal. Ct. App. 1988) ("Denise contends that she may maintain the action pursuant to her community property interest in the contract . . . In Austero v. Nat'l Casualty Co., 62 Cal. App 3d 511 (Cal. Ct. App. 1976), the court rejected this contention, stating: 'Whatever plaintiff's property rights with respect to the policies may be, the fact remains that she is not a party to the contracts.');" see also Gutierrez v. State Farm Mut. Ins. Co., 2012 WL 398828 at *3 (N.D. Cal. 2012) ("[Community property statutory presumptions] do not, however, confer standing on a non-contracting spouse.").

To the extent that Plaintiffs argue that Elizabeth Balderas was a party to the contract or the partnership agreement, the Court rejects such assertions as implausible given that Plaintiffs have attached a copy of the contract which shows that Elizabeth

#10.00 Application for Compensation for Additional Fees and Related Expenses in a Pending Chapter 13 Case Subject to a Rights and Responsibilities Agreement (RARA) for Danny K Agai, Creditor's Attorney, Period: to, Fee: $1100.00, Expenses: $0.

EH__

Docket 47

Tentative Ruling:

11/15/18

On October 10, 2016, Ingeborg Preisendanz ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. On November 21, 2016, Debtor's Chapter 13 case was confirmed.

On September 22, 2018, Debtor's attorney, Danny Agai ("Applicant"), filed an application for compensation requesting $1,100. Applicant requests $350 for opposing a motion to dismiss (approved by Trustee) and $750 for opposing a motion for relief from the automatic stay. On September 25, 2018, Trustee filed comments requesting billing records to justify the $750 for opposition to the motion for relief from the automatic stay. On October 6, 2018, Applicant filed a supplemental exhibit with billing records. On October 22, 2018, Applicant set the matter for hearing.

The Court notes that the billing records provided by Applicant contain lumped entries. Nevertheless, in the absence of any further objection by Trustee, noting the apparent reasonableness of the fees charged, and that Applicant was successful in getting the motion for relief from stay denied, the Court is inclined to APPROVE the fees in their entirety.

MOVANT: WELLS FARGO BANK NA

CASE DISMISSED 10/29/18

EH__

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

11/27/2018

Service is Proper
Opposition: None

The instant case was dismissed on October 29, 2018, and, as a result, the automatic stay terminated pursuant to 11 U.S.C. S 362(c)(1)-(2). Therefore, the Court is inclined to DENY all requests for relief which are not in rem requests as moot. The Court is inclined to DENY relief from stay pursuant to § 362(d)(4) for lack of cause shown. Movant's proffered bases for a bad faith finding are: (1) multiple filings affecting the property; and (2) that the instant filing was a skeletal filing. Regarding Debtor's previous filings, Debtor had a case summarily dismissed more than six years ago, and had an additional case dismissed in May 2018 after completing approximately half of his Chapter 13 plan. Debtor's recent history does not evince an abuse of the bankruptcy protections. Furthermore, the instant skeletal filing does not, of itself, appear to warrant a bad faith finding.

Docket 171

Tentative Ruling:

11/27/2018

On July 7, 2017, AMJ Plumbing Specialists Corp. ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. On October 10, 2017, the Court approved the employment application of Lozano Law Center, Inc. ("Applicant") to serve as counsel to Debtor. Debtor's first amended disclosure statement was approved on June 6, 2018, and Debtor's first amended plan of reorganization was confirmed on August 3, 2018. No interim fee applications have been filed by Applicant.

On November 5, 2018, Applicant filed an application for compensation, requesting allowance and payment of $119,279 in fees (less a retainer of $26,000) and $988.60 in expenses. No opposition have been filed.

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(1), the court may award reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services. The court has an independent duty to review the fee application in the absence of objections. See 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(2). The court "will not indulge in extensive labor and guesswork to justify a fee for an attorney who has not done so himself." In re Taylor, 66 B.R. 390 (Bankr. W.D. Pa. 1986).

11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(3) provides factors to be considered in determining the reasonableness of requested compensation. These factors include time spent, rates charged, necessity of the service, reasonableness of the service, expertise of attorney, and comparable market rates.

Chapter 11

First, the Court notes that the instant case was filed on July 7, 2017. Applicant's employment application, filed August 22, 2017, explicitly requested authorization for Debtor to employ Applicant, nunc pro tunc, effective July 7, 2017. The Court's order granting the employment application, entered October 10, 2017, reflects that employment is effective July 7, 2017. Nevertheless, Applicant has billed for substantial work completed prepetition. The billing entries submitted by Applicant reflected that Applicant billed $9,984 for work completed prior to the effective date of employment, which the Court is inclined to strike as outside the scope of the employment order entered by the Court.

Second, the Court notes that the fee application contains numerous, unambiguously lumped entries, which is prohibited by Local Rule 2016-1(a)(1)(E) (iii) and applicable case law. For instance, one single entry, dated March 23, 2018, states the following: "Discuss available dates with court clerk. Discuss bank account information with Debtor. Prepare proposed deadlines and amend the motion, Disclosure Statement and Plan. Discussed Adequate Protection Payments with Matilda. Review Email from union re penalties and fees. Frank Alvarado," and identifies a total billed time of 8.96 hours. Such entries preclude the Court from engaging in the required review of the reasonableness and necessity of the services provided.

Third, the Court notes that it does not appear Applicant has provided any detailed description or summary of the expenses incurred and requested through the application. Pursuant to Local Rule 2016-1(a)(1)(F) and applicable case law, a summary of the expenses incurred is required for allowance.

Given that the fee application is replete with instances of lumping which would result in a disallowance of a substantial amount, if not the majority of the requested fees, the Court is inclined to DISALLOW the application in its entirety, without prejudice, and allow Applicant to file an amended fee application.

Docket 109

Tentative Ruling:

11/27/2018

BACKGROUND

On July 12, 2018, LA Steel Servs., Inc. ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. On Schedule G, Debtor listed an industrial lease agreement (the "Lease") with Pacific Spectrum One for business premises located at 1760 California Ave., Ste. 201, Corona, CA. On November 6, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to assume the Lease pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 365. Debtor asserts that Debtor is not currently in default under the lease terms, that assumption of lease is a proper exercise of Debtor's business judgment, and that the landlord is adequately assured of future payments pursuant to the lease terms.

DISCUSSION

11 U.S.C. § 365(a) provides that: "Except as provided in sections 765 and 766 of this title and in subsections (b), (c), and (d) of this section, the trustee, subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." 11 U.S.C. § 365(c) provides limitations which are not applicable to the instant situation. 11 U.S.C. § 365(b) provides the requirements if there is an existing default in the executory contract to be assumed. Here, Debtor asserts that there is no default, and, therefore, that section is inapplicable.

11 U.S.C. § 365(d) provides for the deadline for an executory contract to be assumed or rejected. In a Chapter 11 case, 11 U.S.C. § 365(d)(2) provides that executory contracts regarding personal property or residential real property may be assumed or rejected at any time prior to confirmation of the Chapter 11 plan. 11 U.S.C. § 365(d)(4)(A)(i) provides that an unexpired lease of nonresidential real property under which the debtor is the lessee shall be deemed rejected and surrendered if not assumed within 120 days after the petition date. Debtor's case was filed on July 12, 2018, and, as a result, the deadline to assume the Lease was November 9, 2018. Nevertheless, ostensibly due to practical considerations, the majority of case law construes this deadline as a deadline for the filing of the motion rather than the entry of an order approving assumption. See e.g., 3 COLLIER'S ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 365.05[3][d] (16th ed. 2017) ("Recognizing these difficulties, most courts required that a trustee or debtor in possession act before the expiration of the [period], but held that court approval of a trustee or debtor in possession's motion to assume could be granted after the expiration of the period.").

Therefore, none of the statutory exceptions being applicable, Debtor having demonstrated that the decision to assume is a sound exercise of its business judgment, notice being proper, and no opposition having been filed, the Court is inclined to GRANT the motion.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion.

Tentative Ruling:

11/27/2018

On March 27, 2018, G Hurtado Construction, Inc. ("Debtor") filed its petition for chapter 11 relief. The bankruptcy was precipitated by a wage and hour lawsuit brought by two and possibly more former employees. On April 25, 2018, the Court approved the employment application of M. Jones & Associates, P.C. ("Applicant") to serve as counsel to Debtor. Debtor's initial disclosure statement required amendment following the Court's allowance of late-filed claims. The First Amended DS and Plan were filed in October 2018. On October 22, 2018, the Applicant filed the instant and first interim fee application seeking allowance of $54,450 in fees and $0 in expenses for the period of March 27, 2018, through and including October 22, 2018. No opposition has been filed.

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(1), the court may award reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services. Applicant indicates that it is in possession of $10,600 being held in the firm's trust account. Additionally, the Applicant indicates that the Debtor currently has $722,251.50 in unrestricted funds with which to make payment. Here, based on the time entries narrative, and record of the case, the Court finds that the amounts sought by Applicant are reasonable. As an interim application, however, the Court will allow 80% of the requested fees, with 20% disallowed without prejudice as a hold back.

Moreover, pursuant to Local Rule 2016-1(a)(1)(J) requires a separately filed declaration from the client, or in the alternative, if the client refuses to provide such declaration, Applicant's own declaration describing steps taken to obtain the client's declaration. Here, the Application indicates that the client declaration would be filed in close proximity with the Application.

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to GRANT the request for allowance of fees at 80% ($43,560), and the related request for order authorizing payment by the Debtor, conditioned upon the filing of a client declaration or explanation, as required under LBR 2016-1(a)(1)(J)

The Court finds from the evidence before it that Ms. Bernstein either (1) knew of the collusive and undisclosed relationships in this case and knowingly participated in misleading the Court and creditors; or (2) didn't know of the collusive and undisclosed relationships in this case, and is therefore wholly incompetent because she insisted on remaining ignorant of the facts and law applicable to her case notwithstanding the numerous indicia of questionable conduct along the way. Whether Ms. Bernstein's acts were wrongful, willfully incompetent or grossly negligent is not important to the determination here. Under either case, the Court concludes her fees must be denied in their entirety [sic], she should not be permitted to represent debtors in possession before any bankruptcy court, and her conduct in this case must be referred to the State Bar of California for disciplinary proceedings.

Id. at 847.

In the instant case, it appears Applicant failed to act with honesty and candor in relation to the sale of substantially all of the estate's assets. Specifically, notwithstanding Applicant's duty to the Court, Applicant failed to disclose a material side deal which was pertinent to the terms of the sale under review, and Applicant even stated at the hearing it was not Applicant's job to make such disclosure. Applicant's conduct in this case has fallen short of complying with the rules of professional conduct and has obstructed the Court's review of the primary matter in this case, the sale of substantially all of Debtor's assets. Given that such conduct is clearly adequate to disallow Applicant's fees in their entirety, the Court is inclined to find that authorizing the employment of Applicant would be a frivolous exercise.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to DISALLOW the application.

I. PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

On January 26, 2018, Markus Boyd ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. On February 13, 2018, the Court entered an interim order approving use of cash collateral. On March 6, 2018, the Court entered orders (1) authorizing Debtor to provide adequate assurance of payment to utility service providers and; (2) approving a budget. On March 26, 2018, the Court authorized the employment of Nicholas Gebelt as counsel for Debtor. On April 26, 2018, the Court disallowed four claims of American Express (claim numbers 2 and 4-6).

On June 22, 2018, Debtor filed its disclosure statement and Chapter 11 plan. On August 7, 2018, UST filed a limited objection to Debtor's disclosure statement.

In addition to the disclosure statement, the following exhibits are included: (1) "Treatment of Claims/Interests" (Exhibit A); (2) "Executory Contracts & Unexpired Leases" (Exhibit B); (3) "Cash Flow Projections" (Exhibit C); (4) "Recent Financial History" (Exhibit D); (5) "Secured Claims" (Exhibit E); (6) "General Unsecured Claims, in Class 4A or 4B" (Exhibit F); "Liquidating Analysis" (Exhibit G); "Endnotes/Continuation Sheets" (which includes a supplement) (Exhibit H). Debtor has used the Court's optional disclosure statement form and worksheets, and, therefore, the format of the disclosure statement is adequate.

The Chapter 11 Plan's proposed effective date is October 21, 2018. There are four classes of claims and four listed categories of unclassified claims¹:

- 1) Class 1: Arrears secured by real property -- $174,971.67 claim, Debtor proposes to pay over 60 months. Debtor's Exhibit A contains a row for arrears on the second and third deeds of trust, but does not identify any amount owing.
- 2) Class 2: Additional claims secured by real property – Debtor lists three different claims within this class. Debtor proposes to continue paying his mortgage (identified as $772,733.45)², over 230 months and at 2% interest. Debtor proposes to cure his delinquency on HOA dues over 60 months. Debtor has included a row for, presumably, future HOA dues but no amount is listed. Nor is it clear that this class is truly unimpaired.
- 3) Class 3: Priority claims: Debtor's plan does not list any claims in class 3
- 4) Class 4: General Unsecured – $45,151.20, Debtor proposes to pay over 60 months.
 - 1) Type 1: UST fees ($650) – paid in full on effective date
 - 2) Type 2: Taxes (IRS) – approximately $80k, paid over 51 months
 - 3) Type 3: Taxes (FTB) –$5,651.86, paid over 51 months

III. LEGAL ANALYSIS

A. Adequate Information

A Chapter 11 disclosure statement is required to contain "adequate information" pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1125(b). Section 1125(f)(2) provides that: "the court may approve a disclosure statement submitted on standard forms approved by the court or adopted under section 2075 of title 28." The Central District of California has devised a disclosure statement template, Form 3017-1.CH11.DISCLSR.STMT, which Debtor generally adopted as to format.

As to the substance of a disclosure statement, 11 U.S.C. § 1125(a)(1) defines "adequate information" as:

information of a kind, and in sufficient detail as far as is reasonably practicable in light of the nature and history of the debtor and the condition of the debtor's books and records, including a discussion of the potential material Federal tax consequences of the plan to the debtor, any successor to the debtor, and a hypothetical investor typical of the holders of claims or interests in the case, that would enable such a hypothetical investor of the relevant class to make an informed judgment about the plan, but adequate information need not include such information about any other possible or proposed plan and in determining whether a disclosure statement provides adequate information, the court shall consider the complexity of the case, the benefit of additional information to creditors and other parties in interest, and the cost of providing additional information

Chapter 11

The type of information required varies with the circumstances. See, e.g., In re Jeppson, 66 B.R. 269, 292 (Bankr. D. Utah 1986) (listing nineteen categories of information commonly required); see also In re Malek, 35 B.R. 443, 443-44 (Bankr. E.D. Mich. 1983) (listing minimum requirements).

While Debtor has utilized Court approved forms and has clearly delineated the treatment of the varying claims, the disclosure statement simply lacks the information necessary to evaluate Debtor's financial situation and determine the probability of the plan's success. First of all, as noted by UST, Debtor's practice appears to have been not to withhold taxes on earned income. Second of all, the limited financial information provided by Debtor indicates his income fluctuates drastically. The four months of "recent financial history" (Exhibit D) including in the disclosure statement note the following monthly receipts:

- 1) $4,559 (February) (the corresponding monthly operating report lists receipts of $51.89)
- 2) $32,591 (March)
- 3) $15,541 (April)
- 4) $35,626 (May)

Additionally, a monthly operating report for June, filed after the disclosure statement, identifies receipts in the amount of $1,801.11. The limited financial history provided supports UST's assertion that: "Debtor's tax liabilities are a significant risk factor given that the monthly operating reports reflect that the Debtor averages between $18-$19,000 in monthly net income – much less than the $30,000 reported in the Disclosure Statement's cash flow projections." Indeed, using that $18-$19,000 figure, if one assumes that the receipts are before tax and that Debtor will ultimately be unsuccessful in the pending adversary proceeding, it would appear that the proposed plan may be infeasible. In any event, the financial information provided in the disclosure statement is grossly inadequate for an evaluation of the prospects of the 10/17/2018

BACKGROUND

On April 13, 2018, Desert Ice Castle, LLC ("Debtor") filed its petition for chapter 7 relief. Steven Speier is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). The Debtor's Managing Member and alleged sole owner is Anthony Liu ("Liu"). The petition indicated that the Debtor owned assets totaling $1,864.61 and had liabilities totaling $860,500. The Debtor listed two claimants in Schedule F, one claim of Andrzej Luczynski ("Luczynski") in the amount of $800,000 (as disputed) and a claim of Lui Bin in the amount of $60,500. On September 12, 2018, Luczynski filed Claim No 1-1 in the amount of $3,200,000 based on a State Court Action for "unlawful termination [of] joint venture; conversion; unlawful eviction". Luczynski has further indicated that a trial date for the State Court Action is set for November 2, 2018. The Docket reflects that a Motion to Disallow Claim No. 1 has been set for hearing on October 24, 2018.

On September 10, 2018, the Debtor filed a motion to dismiss the bankruptcy ("Motion"). A notice of Non-opposition was filed by Lui Bin on the same date. Opposition to the Motion was filed by Luczynski and the Trustee on October 3, 2018 (the "Oppositions"). The Debtor filed an Omnibus Reply to the Oppositions on October 10, 2018 ("Reply").

Chapter 7

The Debtor seeks dismissal pursuant to § 305(a)(1). Section 305(a)(1) provides as follows:

The court, after notice and a hearing, may dismiss a case under this title, or may suspend all proceedings in a case under this title, at any time if—

(1) the interests of creditors and the debtor would be better served by such dismissal or suspension;

11 U.S.C. § 305(a)(1); In re Eastman, 188 B.R. 621, 625 (9th Cir. BAP 1995). The courts that have construed § 305(a)(1) are in general agreement that abstention in a properly filed bankruptcy case is an extraordinary remedy, and that dismissal is appropriate under § 305(a)(1) only in the situation where the court finds that both "creditors and the debtor" would be "better served" by a dismissal. Id. (internal citations omitted). The legislative history uses the following example of such a situation:

an arrangement is being worked out by creditors and the debtor out of court, there is no prejudice to the rights of creditors in that arrangement, and an involuntary case has been commenced by a few recalcitrant creditors to provide a basis for future threats to extract full payment.

H.R.Rep. No. 95–595, 95th Cong., 1st Sess. 325 (1977); 1978 U.S.C.C.A.N. 5963, 6281.

As the statutory language and legislative history demonstrate, the test under § 305(a) is not whether dismissal would give rise to a substantial prejudice to the debtor. Nor is the test whether a balancing process favors dismissal. Rather, the test is whether both the debtor and the creditors would be "better served" by a dismissal.

In support of the Motion, the Debtor argues that (1) Luczynski will suffer no prejudice from dismissal of the case because the amended complaint filed in the State Action dismissed the Debtor from the complaint; (2) Creditor Lui Bin will be paid in full; (3) the only parties benefitting from continuation of the case are the Trustee and his professionals. Although the Debtor has seemingly been dismissed from the underlying State Court litigation, the State Action retains allegations that the Debtor is an alter ego of the named defendant, Liu. (Roman Decl. ¶ 2).

The Oppositions essentially assert that (1) Luczynski has filed a proof of claim that constitutes prima facie evidence of a claim; and (2) avoidable insider payments have been discovered that will benefit the Debtor's creditors.

On the current record, the Court is inclined to DENY the Motion. Here, assuming (as the Court must at this juncture) that Luczynski may have an enforceable claim against the Debtor's estate, dismissal is likely to result in plain legal prejudice to Luczynski because the Debtor and its principal/sole shareholder seek to payoff the only other unsecured creditor in full in order to force a dismissal. The Debtor's strategy is a transparent violation of the bankruptcy code's command that similarly situated creditors must be treated similarly. Additionally, the Court is unconvinced that the dismissal of the Debtor from the underlying State Court Action is a sufficient basis to find that the Debtor has no remaining liability to Luczynski. In fact, the Debtor's evidence confirms that Luczynski's complaint continues to argue that the Debtor and Liu are alter egos. For now, the Court agrees with the Trustee and Luczynski that dismissal would be premature at this point.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that Debtor has not met its burden of demonstrating that both the Debtor and creditors will be "better served" by dismissal.

#8.00 Motion For Contempt And Violation Of The Automatic Stay

EH__

Docket 12

Tentative Ruling:

11/28/2018

BACKGROUND

On October 16, 2017, Gregory Ouma ("Debtor") filed a chapter 13 petition for relief (the "First Case"). The Debtor's First Case was dismissed on November 30, 2017. On September 25, 2018 ("Petition Date"), filed his petition for chapter 7 relief (the "Second Case").

On November 2, 2018, the Debtor filed a Motion for Contempt ("Motion") asserting that H.D. Valley Development Corporation, H.G. Long and Leslie Born ("Respondents") violated the automatic stay by continuing legal proceedings to obtain a judgment and writ of possession on October 30, 2018. On November 13, 2018, Respondents filed their opposition to the Motion ("Opposition").

DISCUSSION

The Respondents respond that pursuant to § 362(c)(3), when a debtor had a single or joint case pending within the preceding 1-year period which was dismissed, the stay terminates on the 30th day after the filing of the later case unless a motion to extend the stay is granted. 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3). Here, the Debtor's First Case was pending and dismissed within 1 year of the filing of the Second Case. Thus, § 362(c)(3) applies. Pursuant to § 362(c)(3), the stay terminated on October 25, 2018. Per the Respondents' declaration and evidence, the unlawful detainer trial was originally set for September 27, 2018, but was continued to October 30, 2018, due to the filing of the Second Case. The record before the Court indicates that there were no actions taken by Respondents during the 30-day period between the Petition Date and October 25, 2018. Additionally, the docket text attached to the Debtor's motion indicates that the only action taken by Respondents during the 30-day stay period was the filing of a Prohibited communications include those where direct or circumstantial evidence shows the creditor's actions were geared toward collection of a prepetition debt, were accompanied by coercion or harassment, or otherwise put pressure on the debtor to pay. In re Zotow, 432 B.R. 252, 258–59 (9th Cir. BAP 2010). Here, the filing of, and service of the notice of continuance are not in the nature of prohibited communications under § 362(a). Thus, the Debtor has failed to demonstrate that any action by Respondents violated the automatic stay.

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to DENY the Motion in its entirety.

#9.00 Motion For Order Compelling Attorney To File Disclosure Of Compensation Pursuant To 11 U.S.C. § 329 And Federal Rule Of Bankruptcy Procedure 2016

EH ____

Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

11/28/18

On October 17, 2018, the Office of the United States Trustee ("UST") filed its Motion for Order Compelling Attorney to File Disclosure of Compensation pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 329 ("Motion"). The Motion requested that the Law Office of William Windham ("Windham") file a Statement of Attorney Compensation. Windham filed the Statement of Attorney Compensation on November 8, 2018.

The Court is inclined to DENY the Motion as moot.

#14.00 Notice of Motion and Motion in Individual Case for Order Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate Real Property

MOVANT: CORINTHIA A. WILLIAMS

EH__

Docket 7

Tentative Ruling:

11/29/2018

The evidence that the tax issue which resulted in the dismissal of the Debtor's second case is insufficient. At minimum, the Debtor should have provided a declaration of the tax preparer she hired to give the Court an opinion regarding the likelihood that the IRS would again file a claim of a similar amount, which would render the Debtor's case infeasible.

As to service, the Order Setting Hearing on Shortened time required that a Written Notice of the Hearing AND a copy of the Court's Order Setting the Hearing be sent to the creditors indicated. Instead, Docket No. 15 is a stand-alone proof of service which indicates that the Order and a Notice of Hearing were mailed to the foreclosing creditor. However, Docket reflects a failure by Debtor to file a Notice of Hearing indicating the date, time and place of the hearing. The stand-alone proof of service is insufficient for the Court to have certainty that a Notice of Hearing which satisfies due process requirements was mailed to the foreclosing creditor.

As such, the tentative ruling is to DENY the Motion.

Service is Proper
Opposition: Yes

As a preliminary note, the Court notes that Local Rule 4001-(1)(c)(4) states that: "[a] motion for relief from the automatic stay must be filed separately from, and not combined in the same document with, any other request for relief, unless otherwise ordered by the court." Therefore, the default position is that the alternative requests made by Movant, for dismissal of the case or modification of the plan, are inappropriately brought in conjunction with a motion for relief from stay. Here, the Court is inclined to not deviate from the default position, because such requests are more appropriately heard on a Chapter 13 calendar when the Chapter 13 Trustee is present. Therefore, the Court is inclined to DENY the alternative requests for dismissal of the case or modification of the plan without prejudice.

Regarding the request for relief from the automatic stay, the Court notes that Debtor is correct in asserting that the Chapter 13 plan is a conduit plan, with payments to be made to Del Toro Loan Servicing, Movant's servicer, through the plan. While the

#17.00 Motion to Disallow Claims 1 & 2 re Cavalry SPV 1, LLC

EH__

Docket 32

Tentative Ruling:

11/29/2018

BACKGROUND:

On April 5, 2018 ("Petition Date"), Cynthia Miller ("Debtor") filed her petition for chapter 13 relief. On April 7, 2018, Cavalry SPV I, LLC ("Claimant") filed two claims against the Debtor's estate: Claim No. 1 for $437.39 and Claim No. 2 for $742.11. On October 25, 2018, the Debtor filed a motion objecting to both Claims 1 and 2 ("Objection"). Service was proper and no response has been filed.

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Specialists, Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000). When a party files an objection to a proof of claim, that filing "creates a dispute which is a contested matter" within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and the Court must resolve the matter after notice and opportunity for hearing upon a motion for relief. Id.

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." United States v. Offord Fin., Inc., (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216,222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. Ashford v. Consol. Pioneer Mort. (In re Consol. Pioneer Mort.), 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

The Debtor asserts that Claims 1 and 2 are barred by the applicable statute of limitations. Section 502(b)(1) provides that a claim is deemed allowed, unless such claim is unenforceable against the debtor and property of the debtor under applicable law. Under California law, the statute of limitations applicable to common counts is four years if the action is founded upon a contract or other writing (e.g., "book account" (§ 3:398), "account stated" (§ 3:400), or money lent on a note), and the statute of limitations is generally four years from the date of the last item in the account. CCP § 337(1),(2); Armstrong Petroleum Corp. v. Tri-Valley Oil & Gas Co., 116 CA 4th 1375, 1396, FN. 9 (Cal. App. 2004).

Here, both Claim No. 1 and Claim No. 2 present documentation indicating that the last transaction date or item on the accounts occurred more than four years prior to the Petition Date. Thus, based on the record before the Court, the Debtor has pointed to facts sufficient to defeat the allegations of the claim and Claimant has made no response.

BACKGROUND:

On August 15, 2018 ("Petition Date"), Shelley Gastelo ("Debtor") filed her petition for chapter 13 relief. Among the claims filed in the estate is Claim No. 12-1 filed by Elizon Master Participation Trust I, et al SN Servicing Corporation ("Claimant") in the amount of $257,339.12 on October 22, 2018. Chapter 13 giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." United States v. Offord Fin., Inc., (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216,222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. Ashford v. Consol. Pioneer Mort. (In re Consol. Pioneer Mort.), 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

The Debtor requests that this Court disallow Claimant's claim on the sole basis that she believes Claimant is noncompliant with FRBP 3001 in that Claimant has not indicated how arrears were calculated. However, as indicated by Claimant, in In re Campbell and In re Heath, the Ninth Circuit BAP indicated that lack of compliance with Rule 3001 is not a sufficient basis for disallowance of a claim. The Debtor has pointed to alternate sanctions provided for by Rule 3001 but has failed to establish that those sanctions are justified under the facts presented by this Objection.

Docket 52

Tentative Ruling:

I. BACKGROUND

On August 25, 2017, Rick's Patio, Inc. ("Debtor") filed its petition for chapter 11 relief. The Debtor is a California corporation, engaged in the business of selling new and used hot tubs (spas) and related supplies. The Debtor has designated itself as a small business under 11 U.S.C. § 101(51C). The hearing on confirmation is set for December 4, 2018. In connection with Debtor's chapter 11 plan of reorganization ("Plan"), the Debtor obtained an order to value its assets. On October 5, 2018, the Debtor filed its valuation motion seeking to value the Debtor's assets at $701,705.48 as of the petition date. The proposed valuation enables the Debtor to treat Wells Fargo and First Home Bank as the holders of secured claims and to avoid the junior liens of Fast Advanced Funding, LLC, Complete Business Solutions, Inc., Broadway Advance, LLC, Par Funding, Yellowstone Capital West LLC, and Cap Call LLC (collectively, the "Junior Liens").

II. DISCUSSION

The debtor carries the burden of proving that a Chapter 11 plan complies with the statutory requirements for confirmation under §§ 1129(a) & (b). In re Arnold and Baker Farms, 177 B.R. 648 (9th Cir. BAP (Ariz.) 1994). The debtor must show that the plan is confirmable by a preponderance of the evidence. See id. at 654; see also In re Monarch Beach Venture, Ltd., 166 B.R. 428 (C.D.Cal.1993).

1. Ballot Results:

The Debtors timely transmitted the Plan and Disclosure Statement to all known Persons who hold Claims and Interests that are impaired under the Plan and who are therefore entitled to vote on the Plan. The Debtors received (4) four ballots. The votes were tallied as follows:

- a. Class 1: Wells Fargo (unimpaired) → Deemed to accept
- b. Class 2 First Home Bank (unimpaired) → Deemed to accept
- c. Class 3 General Unsecured Claims (impaired)
 - i. 1 ballot in favor, 100% of voting claims accepted. Thus, Class 3 has voted in favor
- d. Class 4: Insider Claims (impaired)
 - i. 1 ballot in favor, 100% of voting claims accepted. Thus, Class 4 has voted in favor
- e. Class 5 Equity: not voting.

A court can confirm a plan without resort to cram down if all impaired classes accept the plan. Here, all impaired classes have accepted the plan. Thus, cramdown is not required.

2. Confirmation Requirements under 11 U.S.C. §1129(a)

The Plan addresses the requirements of Bankruptcy Code 1129(a) as follows:

1. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(1): The Plan complies with all of the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, including sections 1122 and 1123.
2. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(2): The Debtor has complied with all of the Bankruptcy Code's applicable provisions.
3. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3): Good faith in proposing a plan of reorganization is assessed by the bankruptcy judge and viewed under the totality of the circumstances. In re Jorgensen, 66 B.R. 104, 108-109 (9th Cir. BAP 1986). Good faith requires that a plan will achieve a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code. Jorgensen, 66 B.R. at 109. It also requires a fundamental fairness in dealing with one's creditors. Id. The bankruptcy judge is in the best position to assess the good faith of the parties. Id. Here, having received no objections to confirmation, the Court finds that the Plan has been proposed in good faith pursuant to FRBP 3020(b)(2).
4. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(4): Debtor asserts that his Counsel will file a Fee Application shortly following confirmation of the Plan. This satisfies the Bankruptcy Code's requirement that payments for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with a case, or in connection with a plan and incident to a case, must be approved by, or subject to the approval of, the Court as reasonable.

5. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(5): The Plan addresses the continued management of the Debtor by its principals. The management was fully disclosed and there has been no objection to the continuing management by the principals. The Court finds the Plan meets the requirements of this provision.

6. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(6): does not apply to the instant case.

7. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(7): Each Person who holds a Claim or Interest in a Class that is impaired under the Plan either: (a) has accepted the Plan; or (b) will receive or retain under the Plan property of a value, as of the Effective Date, that is not less than that Person would receive or retain if the Debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor has demonstrated that all impaired interest holders have accepted the plan.

8. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(8): Section 1129(a)(8) requires unanimity of all classes to consensually confirm a plan. That is, each impaired class must have affirmatively accepted the plan. The Ballot Tally above indicates that this requirement is satisfied because all impaired classes have affirmatively accepted the plan.

9. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(9): Section 1129(a)(9)(A) requires that holders of administrative claims and gap claims be paid "cash equal to the allowed amount of such claim" on the "effective date of the plan," unless the holder of a particular claim agrees to different treatment. Here, the Plan provides for the payment of outstanding administrative fees upon approval of fees and on the effective date. The priority tax claimants will be paid in full with interest within 5 years of the Petition Date and no distributions will be made to equity holders until all Plan payments are paid in full. This requirement is satisfied.

10. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(10): This provision requires at least one class of claims that is impaired accept the plan. This requirement is satisfied.

11. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(11): Plan confirmation is not likely to be followed by either the liquidation or the further financial reorganization of the Reorganized Debtor or any successor to the Reorganized Debtor. The Debtor's projections and the MORs in the Court's record reflect that the projections of the Debtor appear accurate. Additionally, the Debtor's CFO has asserted that the Debtor will benefit from accumulated Net Operating Losses that will enable it to lower its tax liability for the coming years. The evidence provided, in addition to the Debtor's anecdotal evidence that the market for hot tubs is generally improving, suffices for purposes of confirmation today, particularly where the Debtor's creditors have accepted the Plan. As such, the Court finds this requirement is satisfied.

12. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(12): The treatment of Administrative Claims under the Plan is for the UST to be paid by the Effective Date. This requirement is satisfied.

13. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(13): does not apply to the instant case.

14. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(14): does not apply to the instant case.

15. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(15): does not apply to the instant case.

16. 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(16): This provision is satisfied for the reasons set forth in the Confirmation Brief.

III. TENTATIVE RULING

As set forth above, the Plan complies with the requirements of Section 1129, except that LBR 3018-1(a) requires the Debtor to make available the original ballots for inspection and review by the court. The original ballots were not attached to the ballot summary. Thus, in order to verify that the ballots were timely filed and signed, the Court is inclined to CONFIRM the Plan conditioned on provision of the ballots for the Court's review, which Debtor may file prior to the hearing.

9/25/2018

BACKGROUND

On July 23, 2018, Richard Garavito ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. Debtor previously filed a Chapter 13 case on April 17, 2018, which was dismissed on July 19, 2018.

On August 29, 2018, the Taylor Family Trust of June 16, 2004 ("Creditor"), the primary creditor in the instant case, filed a motion to confirm that the automatic stay terminated pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3)(A). On September 7, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to continue/impose the automatic stay. Because Debtor has not offered a cognizable legal argument as to why the automatic stay has not terminated, or why Debtor can obtain a continuation of the automatic stay after the statutory deadline, the Court has posted tentative rulings indicating that it intends to grant Creditor's motion and deny Debtor's motion.

On September 11, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to dismiss the case and an application shortening time. On September 13, 2018, the Court approved the application shortening time, and set a hearing for September 25, 2018.

DISCUSSION

11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(1) states:

Except as provided in paragraph (2) and subsection (c), on request of a party in interest, and after notice and a hearing, the court shall convert a case under this chapter to a case under chapter 7 or dismiss a case under this chapter, whichever is in the best interests of creditors and the estate, for cause unless the court determines that the appointment under section 1104(a) of a trustee or an examiner is in the best interests of creditors and the estate.

11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(4) provides a non-exclusive list of sixteen examples of cause – most of which are more appropriately considered when the moving party is an entity other than the debtor.

Here, Debtor’s motion is unclear, at best. The entire argument why the case should be dismissed is reproduced, verbatim, as follows:

In the present case, since the motion to impose and/or continue the stay was not timely filed, the stay will no longer be in effect with the pending motion to terminate the stay filed by secured creditor Taylor Family Trust.

The Debtor should not be penalized due to counsel’s inadvertent calendaring error of the 30 days rule of filing a motion to impose and/or continue the stay. However, an argument can be made that under the majority approach a motion to impose or continue the stay shall be filed as to the Debtor individually and not as to the property of the estate. Here, the Subject Property is property of the estate and the automatic stay should be in effect as to the Subject Property.

However, due to circumstances surrounding the possible termination of the stay, the Debtor requests dismissal of this case as there is no purpose if the stay is not in effect as to the Subject Property.

[Dkt. No. 37, pg. 5]. In summary, Debtor acknowledges that the stay has statutorily terminated and the deadline to continue the automatic stay has lapsed, but then argues that such stay termination is with regards to the Debtor only, not property of the estate. Despite the argument, the Debtor then asserts that due to "circumstances" the Debtor requests dismissal because there is "no purpose" if the stay has also terminated as to property of the estate.

There are multiple issues with the above line of argument. First, Debtor does not appear to have raised any coherent cause for dismissal – the only argument made in favor of dismissal, that the "Subject Property" is not protected by the automatic stay, (and thus this Chapter 11 case cannot be successful) is also explicitly rejected by Debtor. Second, § 1112(b) requires the Court to consider whether dismissal or conversion to Chapter 7 is in the best interests of creditors and the estate. Here, Debtor's schedules filed in the instant case indicate that all creditors would likely be paid in full if this case was converted to Chapter 7. Therefore, pursuant to the analysis required by § 1112(b), it is unclear why this case would be dismissed rather than converted to Chapter 7.

Finally, the Court acknowledges that, in a reply relating to its motion to confirm that the automatic stay has terminated, Creditor has requested that, if the case is dismissed, Debtor be restricted from re-filing by a bar. While raising this argument in a reply relating to a different motion is procedurally improper, the Court need not address the request at the current time given the issues above.

Tentative Ruling:

12/04/2018

BACKGROUND

On September 5, 2018 ("Petition Date"), Antoine Babai ("Debtor") filed his petition for chapter 11 relief. The Debtor's schedules reflect that he owns valuable real and personal property, including but not limited to a single family home located at 71100 Aeirie Road in Palm Desert, CA which may yield equity to pay creditors. On October 31, 2018, the Office of the United States Trustee ("UST") filed its Motion to Dismiss or Convert the Debtor's case ("Motion"). Service was proper and no opposition has been filed.

The basis for the Motion is the assertion of the UST that the Debtor has failed to comply with his chapter 11 duties. Specifically, the Debtor submitted only a partial 7-day package, the Debtor failed to provide financial statements, failed to provide a declaration confirming that all pre-petition bank accounts have been closed, and a copy of a voided check from the debtor-in-possession bank account. Additionally, the Debtor has failed to submit additional information requested by the UST at the September 27, 2018, debtor interview.

Section 1112(b)(1) provides:

Except as provided in paragraph (2) and subsection (c), on request of a party in interest, and after notice and a hearing, the court shall convert a case under this chapter to a case under chapter 7 or dismiss a case under this chapter, whichever is in the best interests of creditors and the estate, for cause unless the court determines that the appointment under section 1104(a) of a trustee or an examiner is in the best interests of creditors and the estate.

Section 1112(b)(4) sets forth a nonexhaustive list of what constitutes "cause" to convert or dismiss a case under § 1112(b)(1). In re Consol. Pioneer Mortg. Entities, 248 B.R. 368, 375 (9th Cir. BAP 2000), aff'd, 264 F.3d 803 (9th Cir. 2001). "The movant bears the burden of establishing by preponderance of the evidence that cause exists." Sullivan v. Harnisch (In re Sullivan), 522 B.R. 604, 614 (9th Cir. BAP 2014) (citing StellarOne Bank v. Lakewatch, LLC (In re Park), 436 B.R. 811, 815 (Bankr.W.D.Va.2010)).

If the bankruptcy court finds that cause exists to grant relief under § 1112(b)(1), it must then: "(1) decide whether dismissal, conversion, or the appointment of a trustee or examiner is in the best interest of creditors and the estate; and (2) identify whether there are unusual circumstances that establish that dismissal or conversion is not in the best interest of creditors and the estate." In re Sullivan, 522 B.R. at 612 (citing § 1112(b)(1), (b)(2), and Shulkin Hutton, Inc., P.S. v. Treiger (In re Owens), 552 F.3d 958, 961 (9th Cir.2009)). In choosing between dismissal or conversion, a bankruptcy court must consider the interests of all creditors. Id. (citing In re Owens, 552 F.3d at 961). "If cause is established, the decision whether to convert or dismiss the case falls within the sound discretion of the court." Id. (citing Mitan v. Duval (In re Mitán), 573 F.3d 237, 247 (6th Cir. 2009) and Nelson v. Meyer (In re Nelson), 343 B.R. 671, 675 (9th Cir. BAP2006)).

The basis for the Motion is the assertion of the UST that the Debtor has failed to comply with his chapter 11 duties. Specifically, the Debtor submitted only a partial 7-day package, the Debtor failed to provide financial statements, failed to provide a declaration confirming that all pre-petition bank accounts have been closed, and a copy of a voided check from the debtor-in-possession bank account. Additionally, the Debtor has failed to submit additional information requested by the UST at the September 27, 2018, debtor interview. The UST's Motion is amply supported by the attached declaration and evidence and the Court has expressed concerns with the Debtor's case in the multiple case management conferences and hearings, on the record. Finally, the Court notes that the Debtor has failed to oppose the Motion and deems its nonopposition as consent to the granting of the relief requested pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h).

For the above reasons, the Court finds that cause is established to dismiss or convert the case. As to the choice between dismissal or conversion, the UST has pointed out and the Debtor's schedules confirm that the Debtor likely has nonexempt assets that may be liquidated for the benefit of creditors. For these reasons, the Court finds that conversion is the appropriate remedy.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion and CONVERT the Debtor's case to a case under chapter 7.

#6.00 Motion By United States Trustee To Dismiss Chapter 13 Case With A Re-Filing Bar

CASE DISMISSED 10/23/18

EH__

Docket 12

Tentative Ruling:

12/6/18

BACKGROUND

On October 5, 2018, Marcus Kanavalov ("Debtor") filed a skeletal Chapter 13 voluntary petition. Debtor had previously filed three bankruptcies. The first, a Chapter 7 in February 2002, resulted in Debtor received a discharge. The second, a Chapter 7 in June 2017, resulted in the discharge being withheld for failure to file the certificate of completion for the required course in personal finance management. The third, a Chapter 13 filed in November 2017, was dismissed at the confirmation hearing, with a 180-day bar to refiling. In the instant case, Debtor failed to disclose any of his prior cases.

On October 23, 2018, Debtor's case was dismissed for failure to file case commencement documents. Later that day, UST filed a motion to dismiss the case for abuse, requesting a refiling bar of one year. The Court's form dismissal order explicitly provides for the retention of jurisdiction relating to "any bar against being a debtor in bankruptcy."

Chapter 13

DISCUSSION

The court is empowered to impose a refiling bar under 11 U.S.C. § 349(a). As COLLIER notes, courts' analysis of this section is somewhat confused due to confounding "dismissal with prejudice" with "dismissal with injunction against future filings." COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 349.02[3]; compare In re Garcia, 479 B.R. 488 (Bankr. N.D. Ind. 2012) (denying motion for dismissal with prejudice, but imposing three-year refiling bar) with In re Craighead, 377 B.R. 648 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2007) (appearing to equate dismissal with prejudice with an injunction against refiling).

There is also a circuit split concerning whether an injunction on refiling for more than 180 days is allowed under the Bankruptcy Code. Compare In re Frieouf, 938 F.2d 1099 (10th Cir. 1991) (180 days is maximum allowed length of refiling injunction) with Casse v. Key Bank Nat. Ass'n, 198 F.3d 327 (2nd Cir. 1999) (injunction against filing for more than 180 days permissible). 11 U.S.C. § 349(a) reads:

Unless, the court, for cause, orders otherwise, the dismissal of a case under this title does not bar the discharge, in a later case under this title, of debts that were dischargeable in the case dismissed; nor does the dismissal of a case under this title prejudice the debtor with regard to the filing of a subsequent petition under this title, except as provided in section 109(g) of this title.

The disagreement revolves around whether the qualifier "Unless, the court, for cause, orders otherwise" modifies the content after the semi-colon. In re Leavitt noted this disagreement, but since the court was dealing with a dismissal with prejudice, rather than an injunction against refiling, it did not resolve the issue. 209 B.R. 935, 942 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 1997). Within the Ninth Circuit, it appears the trend is to adopt the reasoning of the Second Circuit and allow injunctions for more than 180 days, and the Court agrees with that reading of the statute. See e.g. In re Velasques, 2012 WL 825582 at *3 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2012).

Here, the instant bankruptcy is Debtor's third filing in the previous eighteen months in which Debtor failed to comply with the basic duties imposed upon an individual filing bankruptcy. Furthermore, Debtor failed to disclose his previous filings in the voluntary petition, which is signed under penalty of perjury. For this reasons, the Court is inclined to find the requested one-year refiling bar to be appropriate in the circumstances presented.

Moreover, Debtor's failure to oppose is deemed consent to the relief requested pursuant to Local Rule 9013-1(h).

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion, imposing a re-filing bar of one year.

#7.00 Motion For Order Compelling Attorney to File Disclosure Of Compensation Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 329 and Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 2016

CASE DISMISSED 10/15/18

EH__

Docket 18

Tentative Ruling:

12/6/18

BACKGROUND

On September 26, 2018, Michelle Delahanty ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 13 voluntary petition. On October 15, 2018, the case was dismissed for failure to file case commencement documents.

On October 31, 2018, UST filed a motion for an order compelling attorney to file disclosure of compensation pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 329. On November 13, 2018, Debtor's attorney, Patricia Rodriguez ("Counsel"), filed her disclosure of compensation. Counsel also filed an opposition to UST's motion, stating that the filing of her disclosure of compensation rendered the motion moot.

DISCUSSION

11 U.S.C. § 329(a) states:

Thursday, December 6, 2018

Chapter 13

Any attorney representing a debtor in a case under this title, or in connection with such a case, whether or not such attorney applies for compensation under this title, shall file with the court a statement of the compensation paid or agreed to be paid, if such payment or agreement was made after one year before the date of the filing of the petition, for services rendered or to be rendered in contemplation of or in connection with the case by such attorney, and the source of such compensation.

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 2016(b) provides further details regarding the requirements imposed by § 329. Here, Debtor's counsel has failed to file the required disclosure of compensation. The Court has authority to enter an order directing the disclosure of such compensation, and will routinely direct Debtor's counsel to file the required disclosure. See, e.g., In re Shuma, 124 B.R. 668, 677 (Bankr. W.D. Pa. 1991).

Here, Counsel has filed the required disclosure of compensation. The Court will retain jurisdiction over any matter relating to § 329 to allow UST to review the filed disclosure of compensation.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to DENY the motion as MOOT and retain jurisdiction over any matter related to § 329.

APPEARANCES REQUIRED.

#2.00 CONT Notice of Trustee's Final Report and Applications for Compensation

From: 12/5/18

EH__

Docket 41

Tentative Ruling:

12/11/2018

No opposition has been filed.
Service was Proper.

11 U.S.C. § 326(a) states:

In a case under chapter 7 or 11, the court may allow reasonable compensation under section 330 of this title of the trustee for the trustee's services, payable after the trustee renders such services, not to exceed 25 percent on the first $5,000 or less, 10 percent on any amount in excess of $5,000 but not in excess of $50,000, 5 percent on any amount in excess of $50,000 but not in excess of $1,000,000, and reasonable compensation not to exceed 3 percent of any moneys in excess of $1,000,000, upon all moneys disbursed or turned over in the case by the trustee to parties in interest, excluding the debtor, but including holders of secured claims.

(emphasis added).

Trustee is basing his requested compensation in this case on $185,000 in "receipts," but that amount includes $72,908.11 paid to Aylstock, Witkin, Kreis & Overholtz, PLLC which does not appear properly categorized as a receipt because these moneys were not, at any time, held or administered by Trustee, let alone received by Trustee, or disbursed by Trustee. Specifically, paragraph 8 of the motion to approve settlement [Dkt. No. 2] indicates that the costs and expenses of certain status litigation were to be paid directly by the settlement fund trustee, and only the remaining funds would actually be received by the Chapter 7 Trustee. To wit:

Subject to the terms of the settlement being satisfied, the balance of the remaining settlement proceeds, after the Settlement Fund Trustee pays and/or withholds the necessary expenses, fees, costs, holdbacks, and deductions from the Gross Settlement Amount, anticipated to be in the amount of $97,897.75 (the "Remaining Proceeds") shall be disbursed from the Settlement Fund Trustee to the Trustee.

Not only are the requested fees simply incompatible with the plain language of the statute, which calculates fees based on moneys disbursed or turned over by the trustee, the fees cannot be reasonably justified on policy grounds. In this case, the state court counsel incurred significant legal fees litigating a state court matter while the instant bankruptcy was closed. The state court counsel's work on this matter was, in no matter whatsoever, related to the administration of the bankruptcy estate, and Trustee did not participate in, direct, or even have an awareness of the fees incurred. Case law notes that important distinction:

The reported decisions construing section 326(a) have recognized a distinction between funds that are constructively received and funds that are actually received. These cases stand for the proposition that a commission can only be calculated upon the funds actually received by the trustee. In this particular case, the trustee never received any settlement proceeds that were paid directly to the debtor's personal injury counsel in fees and expenses or to the worker's compensation carrier.

In re Guido, 237 B.R. 562, 564-65 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 1999) (citations omitted); see also Kandel v. Alexander Leasing Corp., 107 B.R. 548 (N.D. Ohio 1988) (proceeds of settlement were not "money disbursed" where the trustee cannot point to any time at which the moneys actually passed through his hands); In re New England Fish Co., 34 B.R. 899, 902 (Bankr. W.D. Wash. 1983) ("[I]n view of the majority of the cases under prior law and the plain and unambiguous wording of section 326(a), this Court concludes that the trustee's compensation must be based on actual monies disbursed to parties in interest, and not on assets or settlements which can be construed as a constructive disbursement.").

In light of the foregoing, the Court is inclined to reduce the basis upon which Trustee's statutory fee is calculated, eliminating those amounts which were at no time administered, held, received, or disbursed by Trustee. The remaining cognizable disbursements appear to be a bank service fee of $117.34, Trustee's expenses in the amount of $778.22, and payments to creditors in the amount of $4,027.61, for an aggregate amount of $4,923.17. Therefore, the Court is inclined to approve Trustee's fees in the reduced amount of $1,230.79. The Court has reviewed the itemized expenses filed by Trustee, and finding them reasonable, the Court is inclined to approve the expenses in the amount of $778.22

#4.00 CONT Motion of Chapter 7 Trustee to Approve Compromise of Controversy

From: 12/5/18

EH__

Docket 60

Tentative Ruling:

12/11/18

BACKGROUND

On September 15, 2017, Cleon Sonnenfeld ("Creditor") filed a Chapter 7 involuntary petition against Joshua Richardson ("Debtor"). On November 8, 2017, an order for relief was entered pursuant to stipulation between Creditor and Debtor. That same day, the Court entered an order approving a stipulation which avoided a deed of trust recorded on June 20, 2017, against Debtor's residence, in favor of HLE Law Group.

On February 6, 2018, Creditor removed certain state court litigation to bankruptcy court. The state court litigation contained causes of action for: (1) breach of contract; (2) fraud; (3) unjust enrichment; (4) constructive trust; and (5) declaratory relief. On June 29, 2018, Creditor filed a complaint to determine dischargeability and to deny Debtor a discharge.

On November 8, 2018, Trustee filed a motion to approve compromise. No opposition to the motion has been filed.

Chapter 7

The dispute between Creditor and Debtor relates to a loan made by Creditor to Debtor in 2012 for the total amount of $225,000. According to the instant motion, the purpose of the loan was for Debtor to purchase certain real property located in Moreno Valley, California (the "Property"). Creditor asserts that Debtor breached the loan agreement by failing to provide Creditor with a deed of trust, and that, as a result, the Property is subject to a constructive trust in favor of Creditor. The compromise motion also deals with potential avoidance actions against Gabriela Diaz.

The compromise under consideration contains the following components. First, Creditor shall obtain a stipulated judgment in the removed action, adjudicating that the Property is subject to a constructive trust and that Creditor is entitled to a judgment in the amount of $318,778.12. Second, Trustee shall sell the Property. The first $303,000 of the sale proceeds would be payable to Creditor¹, while any amount exceeding $303,000 would be divided so that the bankruptcy estate receives 30% and Creditor receives 70%.² Third, Trustee would assign the potential avoidance actions against Gabriela Diaz to Creditor, with any net recoveries to be distributed 30% to the bankruptcy estate and 70% to Creditor. The compromise motion also contemplates that Creditor will object to Debtor's homestead exemption.

DISCUSSION

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9019 provides that:

On motion by the trustee and after notice and a hearing, the court may approve a compromise or settlement. Notice shall be given to creditors, the United States trustee, the debtor, and indenture trustees as provided in Rule 2002 and to any other entity as the court may direct.

The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals have previously outlined the factors to be considered in approving a compromise pursuant to Rule 9019: (1) the probability of success in the litigation; (2) the difficulties to be encountered in the matter of collection; (3) the complexity, expense, inconvenience and delay of litigation; and (4) the interest of creditors with deference to their reasonable. See In re A&C Props., 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). The listed factors assist the Court in determining "the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement." Id.

There are a variety of material details which are not adequately addressed in the compromise motion under consideration, hindering the Court's review of the fairness and reasonableness of the compromise. These issues are enumerated below:

- 1) While the motion does not provide the relevant information, the Court takes judicial notice of Schedule A [Dkt. No. 19] and Schedule C [Dkt. No. 21]; these schedules indicate that Debtor identified the Property as having a fair market value of $303,000 and claimed an exemption in the amount of $100,000. If these figures are correct, and subject to the issue listed below, it would appear any recovery by the estate from the sale of the Property would be contingent on a successful objection to Debtor's homestead exemption, which has not yet been filed nor been detailed in the instant motion.
- 2) It is unclear from the motion, but to the extent that the motion attempts to pay unsecured creditors prior to satisfying Debtor's homestead exemption, such approach is impermissible. While the settlement agreement frames the approach as paying the HLE lien, there is, quite simply, no HLE lien and, to the extent that Creditor is offering a carve-out of $25,000, the compromise does not articulate a legal basis by which the such amounts could be used to pay unsecured creditors prior to satisfying the homestead exemption.
- 3) It appears that Creditor may be receiving a small windfall from the proposed compromise, which is not adequately explained or detailed. The Court takes judicial notice of the removed state court complaint and notes that Creditor requested a judgment of $252,516.94. The Court also takes judicial notice of the claims register, and notes that Creditor filed an unsecured claim on April 13, 2018, in the amount of $301,167.85 ("Claim 2"). Based on the record before the Court, it appears that the proposed compromise transforms Claim 2 into a secured claim and increases the claim amount by approximately $17,000. Additionally, the proposed compromise would further increase Creditor's recovery depending upon the sale price of the Property or success in the potential avoidance actions.

Chapter 7

- 4) The consideration the estate is receiving from this compromise, on the other hand, is unclear and speculative, given that any recovery by the estate appears to be conditioned on a successful objection to Debtor's homestead exemption, depends upon the sale price of the Property, which has not been detailed in the motion, and also depends upon the recovery in the potential avoidance actions, which has not been described at all.

On the record before the Court, the Court is simply unable to ascertain the fairness or reasonableness of the proposed compromise.

Parties to address the issues above, and the Court may CONTINUE the matter for supplemental briefing.

From: 12/5/18

EH__

Docket 14

Tentative Ruling:

12/11/18

BACKGROUND

On September 18, 2018, Rob Devocht ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. That same day, the Court automatically generated two deficiency notices. Docket Number 3 is the "Case Commencement Deficiency Notice" which informs Debtor that he is required to file the declaration as to whether income was received from an employer within sixty days of the petition date. Docket Number 4 is the "Notice of Dismissal of Case if Required Documents Are Not Filed or Signed" which informs Debtor that he is required to file the statement about your social security numbers.

On September 20, 2018, Debtor filed the statement about your social security number. Debtor failed to file the income declaration, however, and, on November 5, 2018, the case was dismissed.

On November 7, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to reconsider dismissal.

Chapter 7

DISCUSSION

While Debtor's motion to vacate dismissal cites FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(b)(1) and (6), the motion fails to articulate the appropriate legal standard or apply that standard to the facts of the case. Nevertheless, the Court notes that Local Rule 1017-2(c)(1) states:

Any motion requesting that the dismissal of a case for failure to file a required document or for failure to appear at the meeting of creditors be vacated must include as exhibits to the motion all of the documents that were not timely filed and must be supported by a declaration under penalty of perjury establishing a sufficient explanation why the documents were not timely filed. The motion may be ruled on without further notice or hearing pursuant to LBR 9013-1(q).

Therefore, the Court will construe the instant motion as a motion pursuant to Local Rule 1017-2(c)(1). The Court notes that the deficient document is attached to the motion, although not authenticated and somewhat incomplete, and that the declaration submitted contains a reasonably sufficient explanation why the document was not timely filed.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion, VACATING dismissal. Debtor is instructed to file the outstanding income declaration within thirty days of the entry of the order vacating dismissal, or the case may be dismissed without further notice.

Any attorney representing a debtor in a case under this title, or in connection with such a case, whether or not such attorney applies for compensation under this title, shall file with the court a statement of the compensation paid or agreed to be paid, if such payment or agreement was made after one year before the date of the filing of the petition, for services rendered or to be rendered in contemplation of or in connection with the case by such attorney, and the source of such compensation.

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 2016(b) provides further details regarding the requirements imposed by § 329. Here, Debtor's counsel has failed to file the required disclosure of compensation. The Court has authority to enter an order directing the disclosure of such compensation, and will routinely direct Debtor's counsel to file the required disclosure. See, e.g., In re Shuma, 124 B.R. 668, 677 (Bankr. BACKGROUND

On April 13, 2018, Desert Ice Castle, LLC ("Debtor") filed its petition for chapter 7 relief. Steven Speier is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). The Debtor's Managing Member and alleged sole owner is Anthony Liu ("Liu"). The petition indicated that the Debtor owned assets totaling $1,864.61 and had liabilities totaling $860,500. The Debtor listed two claimants in Schedule F, one claim of Andrzej Luczynski ("Luczynski") in the amount of $800,000 (as disputed) and a claim of Lui Bin in the amount of $60,500. On September 12, 2018, Luczynski filed Claim No 1-1 in the amount of $3,200,000 based on a State Court Action for "unlawful termination [of] joint venture; conversion; unlawful eviction". Luczynski has further indicated that a trial date for the State Court Action is set for November 2, 2018. The Docket reflects that a Motion to Disallow Claim No. 1 has been set for hearing on October 24, 2018.

On September 10, 2018, the Debtor filed a motion to dismiss the bankruptcy ("Motion"). A notice of Non-opposition was filed by Lui Bin on the same date. Opposition to the Motion was filed by Luczynski and the Trustee on October 3, 2018 (the "Oppositions"). The Debtor filed an Omnibus Reply to the Oppositions on October 10, 2018 ("Reply").

Chapter 7

The Debtor seeks dismissal pursuant to § 305(a)(1). Section 305(a)(1) provides as follows:

The court, after notice and a hearing, may dismiss a case under this title, or may suspend all proceedings in a case under this title, at any time if—

(1) the interests of creditors and the debtor would be better served by such dismissal or suspension;

11 U.S.C. § 305(a)(1); In re Eastman, 188 B.R. 621, 625 (9th Cir. BAP 1995). The courts that have construed § 305(a)(1) are in general agreement that abstention in a properly filed bankruptcy case is an extraordinary remedy, and that dismissal is appropriate under § 305(a)(1) only in the situation where the court finds that both "creditors and the debtor" would be "better served" by a dismissal. Id. (internal citations omitted). The legislative history uses the following example of such a situation:

an arrangement is being worked out by creditors and the debtor out of court, there is no prejudice to the rights of creditors in that arrangement, and an involuntary case has been commenced by a few recalcitrant creditors to provide a basis for future threats to extract full payment.

H.R.Rep. No. 95–595, 95th Cong., 1st Sess. 325 (1977); 1978 U.S.C.C.A.N. 5963, 6281.

As the statutory language and legislative history demonstrate, the test under § 305(a) is not whether dismissal would give rise to a substantial prejudice to the debtor. Nor is the test whether a balancing process favors dismissal. Rather, the test is whether both the debtor and the creditors would be "better served" by a dismissal.

In support of the Motion, the Debtor argues that (1) Luczynski will suffer no prejudice from dismissal of the case because the amended complaint filed in the State Action dismissed the Debtor from the complaint; (2) Creditor Lui Bin will be paid in full; (3) the only parties benefitting from continuation of the case are the Trustee and his professionals. Although the Debtor has seemingly been dismissed from the underlying State Court litigation, the State Action retains allegations that the Debtor is an alter ego of the named defendant, Liu. (Roman Decl. ¶ 2).

The Oppositions essentially assert that (1) Luczynski has filed a proof of claim that constitutes prima facie evidence of a claim; and (2) avoidable insider payments have been discovered that will benefit the Debtor's creditors.

On the current record, the Court is inclined to DENY the Motion. Here, assuming (as the Court must at this juncture) that Luczynski may have an enforceable claim against the Debtor's estate, dismissal is likely to result in plain legal prejudice to Luczynski because the Debtor and its principal/sole shareholder seek to payoff the only other unsecured creditor in full in order to force a dismissal. The Debtor's strategy is a transparent violation of the bankruptcy code's command that similarly situated creditors must be treated similarly. Additionally, the Court is unconvinced that the dismissal of the Debtor from the underlying State Court Action is a sufficient basis to find that the Debtor has no remaining liability to Luczynski. In fact, the Debtor's evidence confirms that Luczynski's complaint continues to argue that the Debtor and Liu are alter egos. For now, the Court agrees with the Trustee and Luczynski that dismissal would be premature at this point.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that Debtor has not met its burden of demonstrating that both the Debtor and creditors will be "better served" by dismissal.

BACKGROUND:

On March 30, 2018, Harold and Alice Williams (collectively, "Debtors") filed their petition for chapter 7 relief. Robert Whitmore is the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee ("Trustee"). On November 9, 2018, the Trustee filed objection to Claim No. 1 of the County of San Bernardino (the "County"). The Trustee requests that absent amendment by the County to their claim to specify any portion of the claim that is unsecured, that the Court enter an order allowing the claim as fully secured only, and disallowed to the extent no unsecured portion is claimed. BACKGROUND

On January 5, 2018, Charlie Parker ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. Schedule A identified certain real property located at 26076 Cohoe Loop Rd., Kasiloff, AK 99610 (the "Property"). Schedule A identified the value of the Property as $70,100, and appears to identify Debtor as the 50% owner of the Property. Schedule C purported to exempt the Property in full. On February 14, 2018, Debtor filed amended schedules indicating that he owned co-owned the Property with Andrea Parker; Debtor also appears to have removed his claimed exemption in the Property. On March 7, 2018, Debtor amended his schedules again, although it is unclear whether this amendment purported to exempt the Property in full or remove any exemption in the Property. On April 16, 2018, Debtor received a discharge. On July 18, 2018, Debtor amended his schedules again, this time increasing the value of the Property to $75,000 and indicating that his interest was as a tenant in common; the Schedule C filed on this date does not contain any mention of any real property exemption.

On November 12, 2018, Trustee filed a motion for an order: (1) approving sale of real property, subject to overbids; (2) authorizing sale free and clear of liens and interests; (3) authorizing release of funds from escrow; and (4) approving payment of real estate commissions. Trustee proposes to sell the property to Matthew Hall & Donna Kerrigan (the "Purchasers") for $60,000. Proposed payments from the proceeds include: (1) $3,600 for real estate commission; (2) $1,200 for escrow charges and fees; (3) $1,244.42 for property taxes; and (4) $26,977.79 to co-owner (Debtor's ex-wife), leaving $26,977.79 for the bankruptcy estate.

DISCUSSION

I. Sale of Estate Property

11 U.S.C. § 363(b)(1) allows a trustee to sell property of the estate outside of the ordinary course, after notice and a hearing. A sale pursuant to § 363(b) requires a demonstration that the sale has a valid business justification. In re 240 North Brand Partners, Ltd., 200 B.R. 653, 659 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1996). "In approving any sale outside the ordinary course of business, the court must not only articulate a sufficient business reason for the sale, it must further find it is in the best interest of the estate, i.e. it is fair and reasonable, that it has been given adequate marketing, that it has been negotiated and proposed in good faith, that the purchaser is proceeding in good faith, and that it is an "arms-length" transaction." In re Wilde Horse Enters., Inc., 136 B.R. 830, 841 (Bankr. C.D. Cal.).

The motion contains some evidence of the Property's marketing and also indicates that Trustee has received multiple offers for the Property, the latter offer representing a 20% increase over the original offer. Given the fact that the sale appears to be a good faith, arms-length transaction, and the fact that the estate would receive approximately $27,000 for distribution to unsecured creditors, the Court concludes that Trustee has articulated an adequate business reason for the sale.

II. Sale Free & Clear of Liens

Chapter 7

11 U.S.C. § 363(f) (2010) states:

(f) The trustee may sell property under subsection (b) or (c) of this section free and clear of any interest in such property of an entity other than the estate, only if-

- (1) applicable nonbankruptcy law permits sale of such property free and clear of such interest;
- (2) such entity consents;
- (3) such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is to be sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;
- (4) such interest is in bona fide dispute; or
- (5) such entity could be compelled, in a legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a money satisfaction of such interest.

Here, the only liens on the Property relate to property taxes in the amount of $1,244.42. This amount is far less than the sale price of the Property and, therefore, § 363(f)(3) permits Trustee to sell the Property free and clear of liens.

III. 14-Day Stay

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 6004(h) states: "An order authorizing the use, sale, or lease of property other than cash collateral is stayed until the expiration of 14 days after entry of the order, unless the court orders otherwise." The Court deems the absence of objections to be consent to the relief requested, pursuant to Local Rule 9013-(1)(h), and, therefore, will waive the stay of Rule 6004(h).

IV. Miscellaneous Provisions

The Court has reviewed the remainder of Trustee's miscellaneous requests. The Court has reviewed the proposed overbidding procedures and finds such procedures to be reasonable. The Court has reviewed the requested Broker compensation of 6% of the sale price (totaling $3,600) and finds such compensation to be reasonable and customary. The Court has reviewed Trustee's proposed distribution of sale proceeds, and the Court finds that such distribution is reasonable and proper.

Finally, the Court has reviewed the declarations of the Purchasers, and finds the declarations sufficient for a determination that the Purchasers are good faith purchasers pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 363 (m).

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion in its entirety. Specifically, the Court is inclined to authorize the sale of the Property free and clear of liens, approve the overbid procedures, approve the Broker's compensation, determine that the Purchasers are good faith purchasers, waive the 14-day stay under Rule 6004(h), and authorize the proposed payments from the sale proceeds.

APPLICABLE LAW:

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. Absent an objection, a proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 3001(f). Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Specialists, Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000). When a party files an objection to a proof of claim, that filing "creates a dispute which is a contested matter" within the meaning of FRBP 9014 and the Court must resolve the matter after notice and opportunity for hearing upon a motion for relief. Id.

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." United States v. Offord Fin., Inc., (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216,222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. Ashford v. Consol. Pioneer Mort. (In re Consol. Pioneer Mort.), 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

ANALYSIS:

Here, Trustee has pointed to the fact that the evidence attached to the Claim are addressed to Paul Minnick as a representative of MCG Development. In response, Claimant has provided the same documents referenced by the Trustee and has failed to provide any admissible evidence indicating that liability on the contract can be collected against the Debtor's estate.

When a creditor has filed a proof of claim that complies with the rules (thereby giving rise to the presumption of validity), the burden shifts to the objecting party who must "present evidence to overcome the prima facie case." United States v. Offord Fin., Inc., (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216,222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996). To defeat the claim, the objecting party must provide sufficient evidence and "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (quoting In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). "The objector must produce evidence, which, if believed, would refute at least one of the allegations that is essential to the claim's legal sufficiency." Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1040 (quoting In re Allegheny Int'l, Inc., 954 F.2d 167, 173-74 (3d Cir. 1992)). If the objecting party produces sufficient evidence to negate one or more of the sworn facts in the proof of claim, the burden reverts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence. Ashford v. Consol. Pioneer Mort. (In re Consol. Pioneer Mort.), 178 B.R. 222, 226 (9th Cir. BAP 1995), aff'd, 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Allegheny Int'l, 954 F.2d at 173-74). The ultimate burden of persuasion remains at all times on the claimant. Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039; Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Claim indicates that it is secured by a Recorded Deed of Trust and Note and that the fair market value of the Property at issue exceeds the amount of the Claim such that it is fully secured. The Trustee requests that the Claim be allowed as fully secured but not entitled to a dividend from the estate. Based on the lack of prejudice to the Claimant and the Claimant's failure to file response or opposition which this Court deems as consent pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the objection and ALLOW the Claim as a fully secured claim not entitled to a dividend.

BACKGROUND

On March 22, 2011, Rene Ferrer & Lucia Lopez ("Debtors") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On July 27, 2011, Debtors received a discharge and, one week later, the case was closed.

On August 11, 2017, Debtors filed a motion to reopen the case. It does not appear that Debtors promptly and properly uploaded an order on the motion, and the case was not actually reopened until the entry of an order (the "Order") June 8, 2018, which also allowed Debtors to amend their schedules, setting a deadline of September 6, 2018 for such amendment to be completed. On June 29, 2018, Debtors amended their schedules. On Schedule B, Debtors listed certain pelvic repair system products liability litigation, of an unknown value, and, on Schedule C, Debtors claimed an exemption in the litigation of, again, unknown value.

Chapter 7

On July 25, 2018, Debtors filed a motion objecting to Debtors' claim of exemptions. Debtors filed their response on August 15, 2018. In their response, Debtors conceded that they improperly claimed exemptions pursuant to both § 703 and § 704. On August 28, 2018, Debtors amended their schedules to correct the improperly claimed exemptions.

In its objection, Trustee also argued that it was improper for Debtors to amend their schedules without notice and a hearing. The Court's tentative ruling issued prior to the hearing on August 29, 2018, noted that there was conflicting case law on the issue, and noted that the Court had already entered the Order permitting Debtors to amend their schedules.

On September 27, 2018, Trustee filed a motion to reconsider the Order, and set a hearing for October 24, 2018. On October 22, 2018, two days before the hearing, Debtors filed their opposition. The opposition, however, appears to have simply been an identical copy of their opposition in the last motion.

At the hearing on October 24, 2018, the Court noted that Debtors' opposition was filed twelve days late, and, because it was simply a copy of a response filed prior to the filing of the motion to reconsider, did not actually address the contents of the motion to reconsider. The Court set a new briefing schedule, and sanctioned Debtors' counsel in the amount of $1,580 to reimburse the costs of Trustee's attorney. On November 14, 2018, Debtors filed their amended opposition. On November 28, 2018, Trustee filed its reply.

DISCUSSION

Trustee moves under FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(b)(1)-(6),¹ incorporated into bankruptcy proceedings by FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9024. Rule 60(b)(1)-(6) states:

Chapter 7

(b) On motion and just terms, the court may relieve a party or its legal representative from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for the following reasons:

- (1) mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect;
- (6) any other reason that justifies relief

As noted by Trustee, "errors of law are cognizable under Rule 60(b)." Liberty Mut. Ins. Co. v. EEOC, 691 F.2d 438, 441 (9th Cir. 1982).

To determine whether an error of law, or a mistake, was made in the present case, the Court turns to the underlying legal question: whether Debtor retains the right to amend the schedules, as a matter of course, in a reopened case. The two operative rules are FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 1009(a) and Rule 9006(b)(1). FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 1009(a) states, in relevant part: "A voluntary petition, list, schedule, or statement may be amended by the debtor as a matter of course at any time before the case is closed." FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9006(b)(1) states:

Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3) of this subdivision, when an act is required or allowed to be done at or within a specified period by these rules or by a notice given thereunder or by order of court, the court for cause shown may at any time in its discretion (1) with or without motion or notice order the period enlarged if the request therefor is made before the expiration of the period originally prescribed or as extended by a previous order or (2) on motion made after the expiration of the specified period permit the act to be done where the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect.

As noted in the Court's tentative ruling of August 29, 2018, there is a split in caselaw as to whether Rule 1009(a) operates to require a motion pursuant to Rule 9006(b)(1) in order for a debtor to amend their schedules in a reopened case. See, e.g., In re Dollman, 583 B.R. 268, 271-73 (Bankr. D.N.M. 2017) (summarizing different approaches); 9 COLLIER'S ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 1009.02[3] (16th ed. 2015) ("Once the case has been closed, a debtor may have to show excusable neglect in order to amend the schedule of exemptions."). But see In re Goswani, 304 B.R. 386, 392 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2003) ("If the drafters had intended to require court permission before the filing of amended schedules in reopened cases, they would have explicitly said so.").

As a preliminary matter, Debtors primary argument in opposition to the motion to reconsider appears to be that In re Goswani is binding law. The Bankruptcy Appellate Panel is not, however, binding. See In re Zimmer, 313 F.3d 1220, 1225 n.3 (9th Cir. 2002) ("Although the binding nature of Bankruptcy Appellate Panel decisions – an open question in this circuit – is not squarely before us in this case, we join Judge O’Scannlain’s call for the Judicial Council to consider an order clarifying whether the bankruptcy courts must follow the BAP."); see also Bank of Maui v. Estate Analysis, Inc., 904 F.2d 470 (9th Cir. 1990) (noting that the BAP has declared itself binding but stating that its "binding effect is so uncertain"). A review of the case law indicates that bankruptcy judges in this district are split on the issue. See, e.g., In re Arnold, 471 B.R. 578 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012). This Court agrees with In re Arnold that in the absence of definitive guidance, in whatever form, declaring that the BAP is binding, BAP decisions do not have binding effect.

Nevertheless, BAP opinions certainly can be persuasive, although this Court has a duty to consider the reasoning detailed in the decision. The Court does not consider the decision relied upon by Debtors, In re Goswani, to be persuasive. As noted by In re Dollman, 583 B.R. 268, 271-273 (Bankr. D.N.M. 2017), three different approaches to this issue have been developed.

First, the broad approach, as articulated in In re Goswani, essentially concludes that there is no difference between an open (never closed) case and a re-opened case. However, "[r]eading Rule 1009(a) to permit a debtor to amend schedules in a reopened case anytime as a matter of course before the case is re-closed would make the limiting clause, "at any time before the case is closed," inoperative and superfluous because schedules can be amended only in an open case." Dollman, at 272. Based on the reasoning in Dollman, the Court concludes that Rule 1009(a) does impose a deadline – the closing of the case – and rejects the broad approach’s attempt to reverse time and undo the passing of that deadline.

Second, the Court rejects the narrow approach, which prohibits any amendment to schedules after a case is closed, then reopened, for the simple reason that this approach does not explain why Rule 9006(b)(1) is inapplicable to the instant situation. Id. ("The Court finds the narrow approach too restrictive. It fails to recognize or apply Rule 9006(b)(1) allowing enlargement of time under certain circumstances if the period has expired before the motion to enlarge time is filed.").

Consequently, the Court finds the middle approach to be the appropriate approach. Rule 1009(a) imposed a deadline for amendment of the schedules – the closing of the case – and that deadline passed in the instant case. Rule 9006(b)(1), however, affords Debtors an opportunity to file a motion to amend their schedules, which, however, did not occur in the instant case.

Returning to FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 60(b), the Court first concludes it is inappropriate to vacate judgment pursuant to Rule 60(b)(1) on the basis of a mistake or error in law. When different courts have taken different approaches on the legal issue, and there is no binding guidance on the issue, it would appear inappropriate to classify one of those approaches as an "error in law" as that phrase is used in the context of a Rule 60(b) motion. See generally Liberty Mut. Ins. Co., 691 F.2d at 440-441 (collecting cases).

Nevertheless, the Court believes relief pursuant to Rule 60(b)(6) is appropriate in the instant case. Rule 60(b)(6) "gives the [] court power to vacate judgments 'whenever such action is appropriate to accomplish justice.'" U.S. v. Sparks, 685 F.2d 1128, 1130 (9th Cir. 1982) (quoting Klapprott v. U.S., 335 U.S. 601, 615 (1949)). "In order to obtain such relief from a judgment, however, 'extraordinary circumstances' must exist." Id. (quoting Ackerman v. U.S., 340 U.S. 193, 199 (1950)).

Here, the extraordinary circumstances in the present case are that the Local Rules, specifically Local Rule 5010-1, provide that a motion to reopen the case may be ruled on without a hearing or opportunity to object. Therefore, Trustee was essentially precluded from presenting his argument that caselaw is split regarding the propriety of allowing a debtor to amend their schedules in a reopened case without a noticed motion. The only route Trustee had to present its argument was in the form of a Rule 60(b)(6) motion. Given that the Court agrees with Trustee's argument, and given that Trustee was effectively precluded from introducing its argument in any other manner, the Court concludes that Rule 60(b)(6) relief is appropriate in the instance case.

The Court declines to address the parties' arguments regarding the "neglect" of Debtors, and whether such neglect was excusable, at the current time. Debtors are free to bring a motion under Rule 9006(b)(1), and present their argument that the failure to properly schedule and exempt the litigation was the result of "excusable neglect," as that term is interpreted in the context of the rule.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion, AMENDING the order of June 8, 2018 [Dkt. No. 24], striking ¶¶ 3 and 4 of the order. As such, the amended schedules filed by Debtors are void and of no effect. Debtors may move to amend their schedules pursuant to the applicable rules outlined above.

#15.00 Motion with Notice to Expunge Lis Pendens and for Award of Attorney's Fees and Costs

EH__

Docket 5

Tentative Ruling:

BACKGROUND

On August 13, 2018, Young Jin Yoon ("Debtor") filed a petition for chapter 7 relief. On November 27, 2018, Vivian Kim ("Plaintiff") filed her complaint to determine dischargeability of a debt pursuant to §§ 523(a)(2) and (a)(6) (the "Complaint"). Plaintiff asserts in her Complaint that she loaned money to Debtor and his wife. Plaintiff further asserts that Debtor and his wife employed the funds loaned by Plaintiff to purchase certain real property located at 32229 Cedar Crest in Temecula, CA 92592 (the "Property"). Plaintiff further alleges that Debtor and his wife transferred the Property for no consideration to their son Joshua Park ("Park"), but then themselves made maintenance and mortgage payments on the Property. The Plaintiff's primary assertion is that the Defendant and his family used her loan to purchase the Property and have since sought to hinder her in her ability to recover against the Property's value.

On November 12, 2018, Defendant Park filed a Motion to Expunge Lis Pendens and For Award of Attorney's Fees and Costs ("Motion") which Plaintiff opposed on 11/27/2018 ("Opposition"). No reply has been filed.

DISCUSSION

The grounds for expungement of an improperly recorded lis pendens are:

1. Invalid service of the notice;
2. Failure to plead a real property claim;

Chapter 7

3. Failure to establish the probable validity of the real property claim; and
4. A showing that adequate relief can be secured to the claimant by the giving of an undertaking.

43 Cal. Jur. 3d Lis Pendens § 7.

Park challenges the lis pendens filed by Plaintiff on the grounds that (1) the Plaintiff must establish by a preponderance of the evidence the probable validity of a real property claim on which the notice of lis pendens is based; and (2) the lis pendens does not contain a real property claim.

In her response, the Plaintiff submitted evidence in the form of her own declaration and from a portion of a transcript from a 2004 examination of the Defendants. The evidence supports the Plaintiff's allegations that Park paid no consideration to his parents for title to the Property and that Park's parents made payments towards the mortgage and possibly other expenses of the Property while their son was away in the Navy. The Plaintiff's evidence is sufficient to overcome the first argument of Park.

Second, the Court finds persuasive Plaintiff's legal authority from the Supreme Court of California indicating that a fraudulent transfer claim which seeks to void a transfer of real property affects the title to or possession of real property such that it constitutes a real property claim for purposes of the California lis pendens statutes. Kirkeby v. Superior Court, 33 Cal. 4th 642, 649, 93 P.3d 395, 400 (2004). Here, the Complaint does not specifically allege a cause of action under California Civil Code § 3439.07 which was the operative claim in the Kirkeby case. Nonetheless, the Complaint does seek to void the transfer of the Property to Park as a remedy for the Fourth Claim of Relief. Based on the relief sought, given that Park has not sought to dismiss this claim, and has failed to file any reply to the Opposition, the Kirkeby holding is controlling on this issue.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to DENY the Motion.

The Debtor's prior case was dismissed for a failure to make plan payments. The Debtor explains that the shortfall was due to an unexpected dip in the payments from social security that Debtor was receiving. Debtor's new Schedule I shows substantially increased payments from social security. However, the Declaration of the Debtor provides insufficient detail to explain why the prior benefit payments stopped and why the current benefits have increased so significantly.

Docket 7

Tentative Ruling:

12/18/2018

The Debtor's prior case was dismissed on September 12, 2018, in the Southern District of California. The Southern District's docket indicates that the dismissal resulted from Debtor's failure to appear and testify at the 341 Meeting of Creditors. The case was filed by the Debtor in pro per. In his declaration, the Debtor asserts that he is a "lay person", was not able to attend his 341 Meeting and did not realize that the meeting could not be postponed.

As to this issue, the Court finds that by hiring counsel to assist him with understanding the duties of a debtor filing chapter 13, the Debtor has shown cause to extend the stay.

However, as to 'Mr. Cooper' (aka Nationstar), the Debtor has failed to properly serve Nationstar pursuant to FRBP 7004. Specifically, Rule 7004 requires that Nationstar be served to the attention of an officer. Although, the address served appears valid and the Court believes Nationstar likely accepts service using its new dba Mr. Cooper, the Motion was not served on an officer. Additionally, Nationstar/Mr. Cooper was not identified in ¶1 of the Notice of Motion as required by the form motion.

Debtor filed her prior case in pro per and had her case dismissed for failure to file information. The Debtor asserts the dismissal resulted from her taking 'bad advice' from a party that advised her to file a skeletal petition to save her house. The Debtor has now retained counsel to assist her in her efforts to propose a chapter 13 plan. Based on the Debtor's retention of counsel to assist her in understanding the duties of a chapter 13 debtor, the Court finds that the Debtor has overcome the presumption that the case was not filed in good faith. The Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion.

The Debtors were at least one month delinquent when the case was dismissed on October 25, 2018. At the hearing on the Trustee's Motion to Dismiss the Debtors could not provide assurances they would cure the arrears.

The Debtors' declaration asserts that the Debtors fell behind on plan payments because they had to 'divert resources' to deal with a death in the family at around the same time that the Debtor Husband was involved in a car accident. The declaration is devoid of any detail as to the expenses they incurred or how specifically these events caused them to fall behind. Given the failure to perform the terms of their prior chapter 13 plan, the burden on the Debtors to overcome the presumption that the instant case was not filed in good faith require clear and convincing evidence. 11 USC § 362(c)(3). The declaration falls short. The Court is inclined to DENY the Motion.

Finally, based on the proof of service, it appears that SPS, the servicer of the Debtors' mortgage loan on their primary residence, was not served via Rule 7004 in that it was not served to the attention of an officer, to an address appropriate for service of process, or by certified mail.

BACKGROUND

On July 23, 2018, Richard Garavito ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. Debtor previously filed a Chapter 13 case on April 17, 2018, which was dismissed on July 19, 2018.

On August 29, 2018, the Taylor Family Trust of June 16, 2004 ("Creditor"), the primary creditor in the instant case, filed a motion to confirm that the automatic stay terminated pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3)(A). On September 7, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to continue/impose the automatic stay. Because Debtor has not offered a cognizable legal argument as to why the automatic stay has not terminated, or why Debtor can obtain a continuation of the automatic stay after the statutory deadline, the Court has posted tentative rulings indicating that it intends to grant Creditor's motion and deny Debtor's motion.

On September 11, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to dismiss the case and an application shortening time. On September 13, 2018, the Court approved the application shortening time, and set a hearing for September 25, 2018.

DISCUSSION

11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(1) states:

Except as provided in paragraph (2) and subsection (c), on request of a party in interest, and after notice and a hearing, the court shall convert a case under this chapter to a case under chapter 7 or dismiss a case under this chapter, whichever is in the best interests of creditors and the estate, for cause unless the court determines that the appointment under section 1104(a) of a trustee or an examiner is in the best interests of creditors and the estate.

11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(4) provides a non-exclusive list of sixteen examples of cause – most of which are more appropriately considered when the moving party is an entity other than the debtor.

Here, Debtor’s motion is unclear, at best. The entire argument why the case should be dismissed is reproduced, verbatim, as follows:

In the present case, since the motion to impose and/or continue the stay was not timely filed, the stay will no longer be in effect with the pending motion to terminate the stay filed by secured creditor Taylor Family Trust.

The Debtor should not be penalized due to counsel’s inadvertent calendaring error of the 30 days rule of filing a motion to impose and/or continue the stay. However, an argument can be made that under the majority approach a motion to impose or continue the stay shall be filed as to the Debtor individually and not as to the property of the estate. Here, the Subject Property is property of the estate and the automatic stay should be in effect as to the Subject Property.

However, due to circumstances surrounding the possible termination of the stay, the Debtor requests dismissal of this case as there is no purpose if the stay is not in effect as to the Subject Property.

[Dkt. No. 37, pg. 5]. In summary, Debtor acknowledges that the stay has statutorily terminated and the deadline to continue the automatic stay has lapsed, but then argues that such stay termination is with regards to the Debtor only, not property of the estate. Despite the argument, the Debtor then asserts that due to "circumstances" the Debtor requests dismissal because there is "no purpose" if the stay has also terminated as to property of the estate.

There are multiple issues with the above line of argument. First, Debtor does not appear to have raised any coherent cause for dismissal – the only argument made in favor of dismissal, that the "Subject Property" is not protected by the automatic stay, (and thus this Chapter 11 case cannot be successful) is also explicitly rejected by Debtor. Second, § 1112(b) requires the Court to consider whether dismissal or conversion to Chapter 7 is in the best interests of creditors and the estate. Here, Debtor's schedules filed in the instant case indicate that all creditors would likely be paid in full if this case was converted to Chapter 7. Therefore, pursuant to the analysis required by § 1112(b), it is unclear why this case would be dismissed rather than converted to Chapter 7.

Finally, the Court acknowledges that, in a reply relating to its motion to confirm that the automatic stay has terminated, Creditor has requested that, if the case is dismissed, Debtor be restricted from re-filing by a bar. While raising this argument in a reply relating to a different motion is procedurally improper, the Court need not address the request at the current time given the issues above.

12/18/2018

BACKGROUND

On August 15, 2018, Visiting Nurse Association of the Inland Counties ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 11 voluntary petition. On November 2, 2018, The H.N. and Frances C. Berger Foundation ("Berger Foundation") filed its motion to compel payment of administrative rent or immediate rejection of lease and related relief. On November 13, 2018, Debtor filed its opposition.

The subject of the motion is a lease dated August 15, 2008, for certain nonresidential real property located in Palm Desert, California. According to Berger Foundation, "[p]ursuant to the terms of lease, should the Debtor continue to occupy the premises after August 14, 2018, the lease obligation increases to approximately $91,216.50 per month," [Dkt. No. 194, pg. 2] a doubling of the contractual monthly rental obligation. Berger Foundation requests: (1) that Debtor be compelled to cure the default on the lease or surrender the premises; and (2) allowance of an administrative expense claim in the amount of $3,040.55 per day.

Chapter 11

Debtor's opposition argues that: (1) the lease cannot be assumed or rejected because the lease expired the day before the petition date; and (2) because the lease expired prepetition, the legal basis for the requested administrative expense claim is invalid.

On November 27, 2018, the Court held a hearing on the matter, and ultimately continued the hearing for supplemental briefing. On December 4, 2018, Debtor filed its supplemental opposition. On December 11, 2018, Berger Foundation filed its supplemental reply.

DISCUSSION

The critical legal question at issue is whether the operative lease expired prepetition. Berger Foundation relies on 11 U.S.C. § 365(d)(3) as the basis for both its requests, and that provision states:

The trustee shall timely perform all the obligations of the debtor, except those specified in section 365(b)(2), arising from and after the order for relief under any unexpired lease of nonresidential real property, until such lease is assumed or rejected, notwithstanding section 503(b)(1) of this title. The court may extend, for cause, the time for performance of any such obligation that arises within 60 days after the date of the order for relief, but the time for performance shall not be extended beyond such 60-day period. This subsection shall not be deemed to affect the trustee's obligations under the provisions of subsection (b) or (f) of the section. Acceptance of any such performance does not constitute waiver or relinquishment of the lessor's rights under such lease or under this title.

Chapter 11

As a general rule, an expired lease is no longer executory, and, therefore, is no longer assumable, if the lease expired prepetition. See, e.g., In re Acorn Invs., 8 B.R. 506, 509-10 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 1981). Therefore, the Court must determine whether the lease at issue expired prepetition. See Robinson v. Chicago Hous. Auth., 54 F.3d 316, 320 (7th Cir. 1995) ("the federal law allowing 'unexpired' leases to be assumed calls for a determination whether a lease has ended under state law."). Here, Debtor argues that the lease expired pre-petition, resulting in a holdover tenancy, in which no privity of contract exists, while Berger Foundation argues that the lease became a month to month tenancy and, therefore, was not expired. While the parties appear to be agree on the operative legal standard, the parties disagree regarding how that standard applies to the facts here

Both parties refer to CAL. CIV. CODE § 1945, which states:

If a lessee of real property remains in possession thereof after the expiration of the hiring, and the lessor accepts rent from him, the parties are presumed to have renewed the hiring on the same terms and for the same time, not exceeding one month when the rent is payable monthly, nor in any case one year.

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that it appears the above legal provision should not actually be applicable to the instant situation. Specifically, CAL. CIV. CODE § 1940(a), (c) states the following:

- (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), this chapter shall apply to all persons who hire dwelling units located within this state included tenants, boarders, lodgers, and others, however denominated.
- (c) "Dwelling unit" means a structure or the part of a structure that is used as a home, residence, or sleeping place by one person who maintains a household or by two or more persons who maintain a common household.

Chapter 11

Here, the lease at issue was a commercial lease which would remove the lease from the purview of § 1945 based upon the plain language of § 1940. Nevertheless, the Court notes that there is ample caselaw, some of which is cited by the parties, in which California courts have applied § 1945 to commercial property. Although it is not clear to this Court why that section is inapplicable to the instant situation, the Court will defer to the state law courts on this issue of state law.

Ultimately, the argument of Berger Foundation boils down to the following:

In this case, after the expiration of the Lease terms (August 14, 2018), Debtor continued to occupy the Premises. Berger continued to accept the Debtor as a tenant and took no action to terminate the Debtor's leasehold interest in the Premises. To the contrary, as this Court's record reflects, from the outset, Berger has been focusing on receiving rent payments and, in fact, received post-petition payments of not less than $15,000 as of the date of this Reply. Clearly, pursuant to Civil Code § 1945 and applicable California authority, the Lease converted to a month-to-month tenancy after August 14, 2018.

[Dkt. No. 278, pg. 3]. Debtor's argument, on the other hand, appears to be that Berger Foundation's actions in this case simply do not reflect clear consent to Debtor's continued possession of the premises.

First, there appears to be a timing issue which has not been identified by the parties. The operative lease expired, by its own terms, on August 14, 2018. The instant bankruptcy was filed on August 15, 2018. Therefore, assuming, arguendo, that rent was paid and accepted in a matter which would trigger the statutory presumption in CAL. CIV. CODE § 1945, such event would have occurred after the petition date. City v. Hart, 175 Cal. App. 3d 92, 94 (Cal. Ct. App. 1985) ("The statute provides the landlord's consent to the holding over is implied if he accepts rent from the tenant after the expiration of the lease. This consent to the holding over must be established before the statutory presumption of the same terms becomes effective."). Therefore, the lease at issue would have been, as of the petition date, expired and not assumable. Quite simply, on the record before the Court, it is implausible that Berger Foundation could have undertaken any action in the fraction of the day before the instant bankruptcy filing which would have indicated consent to the creation of a month-to-month tenancy.

Furthermore, outside of the bankruptcy law issues raised above, Berger Foundation's position does not seem to be compatible with state law. Quite simply, the presumptions outlined in CAL. CIV. CODE § 1945 are analogous to contractual principles in common law. By remaining in possession of the property, and tendering a rental payment, a holdover tenant is making an offer; by accepting such tender, the landlord manifests his assent to such offer. Berger Foundation seems to be positing that the payment of any rent whatsoever, even a single dollar, subsequently accepted by the landlord, results in the extension of the lease terms on the original contractual terms.

Berger Foundation's argument, however, is inconsistent with fundamental contractual principles, for in the case of a minimal rental payment, it cannot be said that either party has made an offer, accepted by the other party, to renew the original lease terms. At best, the landlord's implied acquiescence may be construed as an offer, yet the tenant's tender of a minimal rental payment can only be interpreted as a counter-offer, since such a tender would be materially inconsistent with the terms of the offer. If the landlord accepts this reduced tender, the terms agreed upon must be construed as those set forth in the counter-offer, a principle codified in CAL. CIV. PRO. § 2076:

The person to whom a tender is made must, at the time, specify any objection he may have to the money, instrument, or property, or he must be deemed to have waived it; and if the objection be to the amount of money, the terms of the instrument, or the amount or kind of property, he must specify the amount, terms, or kind which he requires, or be precluded from objecting afterwards.

See also Taylor v. Taylor, 39 Cal. App. 2d 518, 521 (Cal. Ct. App. 1940) ("It is now settled by these cases that where the tenant tenders, and the landlord accepts, as full payment of the rent, a less monthly rental than that reserved in the lease, he cannot later recover the unpaid balance of the rent reserved.")

While the above principle, a principle of estoppel, is properly subject to the Court's consideration of equities, such consideration would simply not change the fact that a reduced monthly rental payment cannot be considered acquiescence to a renewal of the original contractual terms. In the absence of such mutual agreement to be bound to the original terms, there simply cannot be contractual privity.

Finally, the Court notes that the operation of CAL. CIV. CODE § 1945 is to create a rebuttable presumption that the lease has been extended. Assuming, arguendo, that the bankruptcy and contract law issues noted above were not present, it appears probable that such a presumption would be rebutted in the instant case. The Court is not aware of any action taken by Debtor that would support a conclusion that Debtor intended to renew the lease on the original terms, and Berger Foundation has made repeated statements which would be incompatible with the presumption in § 1945. For instance, in the instant motion Berger Foundation made the following statements, which are implicitly and explicitly more compatible with a holdover tenancy than a month-to-month tenancy:

- "Since the filing of this case, the Debtor has continued, and continues, to occupy the Premises, yet has failed to pay the rental obligation due and owing." [Dkt. No. 194, pg. 2 and 4]

- "Based on the fact that the Debtor remained as a holdover tenant, and pursuant to the terms of the Lease, the rental obligation increases to approximately $91,216.50 per month." [Dkt. No. 194, pg. 4 and 10] (emphasis added).

- "Here, the Debtor has made no payments while continuing to occupy the Premises." [Dkt. No. 194, pg. 6].

For the reasons outlined above, the Court concludes that the lease in question was expired as of the petition date because nothing in the record indicates that Berger Foundation provided consent to continued possession of the premises in the less than one-day period between the expiration of the lease and the instant bankruptcy filing. To the extent that Berger Foundation argues that postpetition acts retroactively revived the original lease terms, such retroactive revival would seem to be incompatible with City v. Hart, 175 Cal. App. 3d 92, 94 (Cal. Ct. App. 1985). Furthermore, because Debtor did not remotely act in accordance with the original lease terms, it cannot be said that Debtor actions constituted a renewal of those terms; if any lease was entered into postpetition, it must have been on substantially different terms, which would require notice and a hearing. Additionally, even if the statutory presumption of CAL. CIV. CODE § 1945 were applicable in the instant situation, the Court concludes that such presumption would likely be rebutted based on the fact that Debtor did not act in accordance with the original terms, and based on Berger Foundation's explicit characterization of Debtor as a holdover tenant.

The Court will not reach Berger Foundation's contingent request for an administrative claim because the record before the Court would not permit the Court to engage in the analysis required by 11 U.S.C. § 503(b).

and creditors the relationship between the buyer and seller, as well as the circumstances under which the negotiations have taken place, any marketing efforts, and the factual basis upon which the debtor determined that the price was reasonable." In re Wilde Horse Enters., Inc., 136 B.R. at 842. In re Wilde Horse Enters., Inc., continued on to state:

The Court finds from the evidence before it that Ms. Bernstein either (1) knew of the collusive and undisclosed relationships in this case and knowingly participated in misleading the Court and creditors; or (2) didn't know of the collusive and undisclosed relationships in this case, and is therefore wholly incompetent because she insisted on remaining ignorant of the facts and law applicable to her case notwithstanding the numerous indicia of questionable conduct along the way. Whether Ms. Bernstein's acts were wrongful, willfully incompetent or grossly negligent is not important to the determination here. Under either case, the Court concludes her fees must be denied in their entirety [sic], she should not be permitted to represent debtors in possession before any bankruptcy court, and her conduct in this case must be referred to the State Bar of California for disciplinary proceedings.

Id. at 847.

In the instant case, it appears Applicant failed to act with honesty and candor in relation to the sale of substantially all of the estate's assets. Specifically, notwithstanding Applicant's duty to the Court, Applicant failed to disclose a material side deal which was pertinent to the terms of the sale under review, and Applicant even stated at the hearing it was not Applicant's job to make such disclosure. Applicant's conduct in this case has fallen short of complying with the rules of professional conduct and has obstructed the Court's review of the primary matter in this case, the sale of substantially all of Debtor's assets. Given that such conduct is clearly adequate to disallow Applicant's fees in their entirety, the Court is inclined to find that authorizing the employment of Applicant would be a frivolous exercise.

Tentative Ruling:

12/19/18

BACKGROUND

On October 8, 2010, Nancy Billow ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On January 20, 2010, the case was closed without a discharge for failure to file a financial management course certificate. On March 9, 2011, the case was reopened, and, the next day, Debtor received a discharge. On March 22, 2011, the case was closed again.

On February 27, 2016, Debtor filed a motion to reopen the case to allow Debtor to amend her schedules. On March 22, 2016, the case was reopened. Shortly thereafter, Debtor filed amended schedules to schedule, and exempt, a personal injury claim in the amount of $10,000. On May 31, 2016, the case was closed again.

On October 26, 2018, Debtor filed another motion to reopen the case, which was denied for failure to comply with the local rules. Debtor re-filed a new version of the motion on November 1, 2018, and, five days later, the case was reopened. On November 19, 2018, UST filed a motion for the appointment of a Chapter 7 trustee.

DISCUSSION

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 5010 states:

A case may be reopened on motion of the debtor or other party in interest pursuant to § 350(b) of the Code. In a chapter 7, 12, or 13 case a trustee shall not be appointed by the United States trustee unless the court determines that a trustee is necessary to protect the interests of creditors and the debtor or to insure efficient administration of the case.

Here, UST asserts that the personal injury claim is an asset potentially warranting administration by a Trustee. For that reason, and noting the lack of any opposition to the instant motion, the Court concludes that the appointment of a Chapter 7 trustee is warranted.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion, APPOINTING a Chapter 7 trustee.

Docket 131

Tentative Ruling:

12/19/18

BACKGROUND

On May 19, 2017, Michelle Meredith ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. Three days later, Debtor filed an amended Schedule A which identified certain real property located at 102 Tesori Dr., Palm Desert, CA 92211 (the "Property"). Schedule A identified the value of the Property as $450,500. Schedule C claimed an exemption in the Property in the amount of $175,000. Schedule D identified Ocwen Loan Servicing, LLC ("Creditor") as holding a secured claim against the Property in the amount of $312,456. On April 24, 2018, Debtor received a discharge.

On April 26, 2018, Trustee filed a motion to approve compromise. The subject of the compromise motion was the Debtor's interest in certain family trusts. Pursuant to the compromise, Debtor was to purchase her interest in the family trusts for $140,000, $104,429.14 of which was received prior to execution of the compromise. The compromise required Debtor to pay the balance within two weeks after entry of the order approving the compromise. In the event that the Trustee did not timely receive the balance of the compromise payment, the compromise provided that Trustee was to liquidate the Property, and that Debtor's homestead exemption would be subordinated to allow for full payment of the compromise amount. The compromise also provided for a weekly penalty in the amount of $300 if Debtor failed to timely tender the balance of the payment. The Court approved the compromise motion on May 21, 2018; Debtor did not timely tender the balance of the payments. On August 3, 2018, the Court approved a stipulation between the parties provided for turnover of the Property.¹

On November 28, 2018, Trustee filed a motion for an order: (1) authorizing sale of real property free and clear of liens and interests; (2) approving overbid procedures; (3) authorizing payment of real estate commissions and costs of sale; (4) finding purchaser is a good faith purchaser; and (5) waiving the Rule 6004 stay.. Trustee proposes to sell the property to Thomas & Brenda Abdelnour for $468,000. Proposed payments from the proceeds include: (1) $2,657.37 for real property taxes; (2) $359,000 to Creditor to satisfy the first deed of trust; (3) $1,295 for a HOA lien; (4) $32,760 for costs of sale; (5) $38,570.86 for the estate; and (6) $33,716.78 for Debtor's homestead exemption.

On December 7, 2018, Creditor filed a limited opposition to the sale motion, asserting that the payoff balance for its claim was $367,782.83.

DISCUSSION

I. Sale of Estate Property

11 U.S.C. § 363(b)(1) allows a trustee to sell property of the estate outside of the ordinary course, after notice and a hearing. A sale pursuant to § 363(b) requires a demonstration that the sale has a valid business justification. In re 240 North Brand Partners, Ltd., 200 B.R. 653, 659 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1996). "In approving any sale outside the ordinary course of business, the court must not only articulate a sufficient business reason for the sale, it must further find it is in the best interest of the estate, i.e. it is fair and reasonable, that it has been given adequate marketing, that it has been negotiated and proposed in good faith, that the purchaser is proceeding in good faith, and that it is an "arms-length" transaction." In re Wilde Horse Enters., Inc., 136 B.R. 830, 841 (Bankr. C.D. Cal.).

The motion contains minimal evidence of the Property's marketing. Nevertheless, given the fact that the sale appears to be a good faith, arms-length transaction, that the sale price is approximately equal to the scheduled value of the Property, and that Trustee has proposed reasonable overbid procedures, the Court concludes that Trustee has articulated an adequate business reason for the sale.

II. Sale Free & Clear of Liens

11 U.S.C. § 363(f) (2010) states:

(f) The trustee may sell property under subsection (b) or (c) of this section free and clear of any interest in such property of an entity other than the estate, only if-

- (1) applicable nonbankruptcy law permits sale of such property free and clear of such interest;
- (2) such entity consents;
- (3) such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is to be sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;
- (4) such interest is in bona fide dispute; or
- (5) such entity could be compelled, in a legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a money satisfaction of such interest.

Here, the aggregate total value of the liens on the Property is materially less than the purchase price. Therefore, Trustee has established that 11 U.S.C. § 363(f)(3) is applicable, and the Court concludes that it is appropriate to authorize the sale free and clear of the first deed trust, the real property taxes, and the HOA lien. Furthermore, pursuant to the compromise motion and the stipulation for turnover of the Property, Debtor has consented to a subordination of her homestead exemption in order to pay the balance of the compromise amount.

III. 14-Day Stay

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 6004(h) states: "An order authorizing the use, sale, or lease of property other than cash collateral is stayed until the expiration of 14 days after entry of the order, unless the court orders otherwise." The Court deems the absence of objections to be consent to the relief requested, pursuant to Local Rule 9013-(1)(h), and, therefore, will waive the stay of Rule 6004(h).

IV. Miscellaneous Provisions

The Court has reviewed the remainder of Trustee's miscellaneous requests. The Court has reviewed the proposed overbidding procedures and finds such procedures to be reasonable. The Court has reviewed the requested Broker compensation of 5% of the sale price (totaling $3,600) and finds such compensation to be reasonable and customary. The Court has reviewed Trustee's proposed distribution of sale proceeds, and the Court finds that such distribution is reasonable and proper.

Finally, the Court notes that Trustee has not provided any declarations of the purchasers. The Court will require further evidence or testimony from Thomas & Brenda Abdelnour if a good-faith finding pursuant to § 363(m) is sought.

PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

On October 20, 2013, Douglas J. Roger, MD, Inc. ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On October 20, 2015, the Chapter 7 trustee filed a complaint against OIC Medical Corporation ("OIC"), Liberty Orthopedic Corporation ("LOC") and Universal Ortopaedic Group ("UOG") (collectively, "Defendants") for avoidance, recovery, and preservation of preferential and fraudulent transfers.

On four occasions, the parties stipulated to a continuance of the initial status conference and an extension of the deadline to file a responsive pleading. On June 20, 2016, Trustee and Revere Financial Corporation ("Revere") filed a joint motion for a temporary stay of the adversary proceeding on the grounds that Trustee and Revere were negotiating a global settlement which would, inter alia, possibly provide for the assignment of the instant adversary proceeding to Revere. On July 12, 2016, the Court entered an order granting the motion, staying the adversary proceeding until August 31, 2016. After the temporary stay of the adversary proceeding expired, the parties stipulated to an additional twelve continuances of the initial status conference, each including an extension of the deadline to file a responsive pleading.

On May 14, 2018, Revere purchased the bankruptcy estate's interest in any claims that the estate owned against Defendants – including the instant adversary proceeding. On May 24, 2018, Revere filed, in federal district court, a motion for an order withdrawing the reference. On August 9, 2018, Judge Otero denied the motion, holding that there was no cause for a permissive withdrawal of the reference.

On October 24, 2018, Defendants filed motions to dismiss for failure to state a claim. In lieu of opposing the motions, Revere filed an amended complaint. The amended complaint included fourteen claims: (a) violation of the receiver order; (b) intentional fraudulent transfer (three claims); (c) conversion; (d) postpetition transfer; (e) preferential transfer; (f) subsequent transferee liability; (g) successor liability; (h) aiding and abetting; (i) agent liability; (j) alter ego; (k) unjust enrichment; (l) money had and received.¹ On November 28, 2018, Defendants again filed motions to dismiss for failure to state a claim. On December 5, 2018, Revere filed its opposition.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The complicated factual history of the instant case, while detailed extensively in the amended complaint, warrants brief summarization here. Debtor's bankruptcy, and the instant adversary proceeding, stem from a promissory note executed on August 21, 2007 by Douglas Roger ("Roger"), and in favor of 1st Centennial Bank. This loan was guaranteed by Debtor, and both Roger and Debtor additionally executed a related commercial security agreement, pledging all assets as collateral for the promissory note. Later, on December 7, 2007, Roger and Debtor guaranteed another promissory note, on behalf of Baleine LP ("Baleine"), and in favor of 1st Centennial Bank. Both of the aforementioned loans had maturity dates exactly one year from their execution dates. At the time of the maturity dates, 1st Centennial Bank had lent $350,000 on the first loan and $500,000 on the second loan. According to the complaint, neither Roger, Debtor, nor Baleine LP or its principal Nicole Ebarb (collectively, the "Roger Defendants") made a payment on the loans. In June 2009, Revere was assigned the loans by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Chapter 7

On December 29, 2009, Revere commenced state court litigation to attempt to collect on the loans. Ultimately, on March 18, 2013, the state court entered a receivership order and appointed Jerry Wang as receiver. As detailed in the complaint, the Roger Defendants failed to comply with the receivership order. After holding a trial on contempt of court, the state court convicted these parties of contempt of court on October 16, 2013, incarcerating Roger and Nicole Ebarb. In the week after these convictions, the instant bankruptcy, as well as multiple related bankruptcies, were filed.

As detailed in pages twelve through twenty-two of the amended complaint, Revere now alleges an extensive scheme by the Roger Defendants to hinder, delay, and defraud Revere. Specifically, Revere alleges that the Roger Defendants utilized and controlled at least sixteen different business entities spread across California, Nevada, Colorado, and Arizona to hide and shield assets. Revere also details nine purported fraudulent transfers of real property in California and Missouri. Finally, Revere identifies a variety of transfers of property by the Roger Defendants for less than equivalent value.

DISCUSSION

I. MOTION TO DISMISS STANDARD

FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 12(b)(6), made applicable in adversary proceedings through FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 7012, a bankruptcy court may dismiss a complaint if it fails to "state a claim upon which relief can be granted." In reviewing a FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 12(b)(6) motion, the trial court must accept as true all facts alleged in the complaint and draw all reasonable inferences in favor of the plaintiff. Navarro v. Block, 250 F.3d 729, 732 (9th Cir. 2001). The trial court need not, however, accept as true conclusory allegations in a complaint or legal characterizations cast in the form of factual allegations. Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555–56, 127 S.Ct. 1955, 167

L.Ed.2d 929 (2007); Hartman v. Gilead Scis., Inc. (In re Gilead Scis. Sec. Litig.), 536 F.3d 1049, 1055 (9th Cir. 2008).

To avoid dismissal under FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 12(b)(6), a plaintiff must aver in the complaint "sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.'" Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678, 129 S.Ct. 1937, 173 L.Ed.2d 868 (2009) (quoting Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570, 127 S.Ct. 1955). It is axiomatic that a claim cannot be plausible when it has no legal basis. A dismissal under FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 12(b)(6) may be based either on the lack of a cognizable legal theory or on the absence of sufficient facts alleged under a cognizable legal theory. Johnson v. Riverside Healthcare Sys., 534 F.3d 1116, 1121 (9th Cir.2008).

II. SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION

As noted earlier, shortly after Revere purchased the estate's interest in claims against Defendants, Revere moved to withdraw the reference. One of Revere's arguments was that this Court lacked subject matter jurisdiction over the claims. At the time Revere made this argument, the operative complaint only included causes of actions for preferential and fraudulent transfers. Now, Revere has amended the complaint to include state law causes of action.

As a result of the amendment of the complaint, the Court must consider whether it has subject matter jurisdiction over the purely state law causes of action. See, e.g., In re Strawberry, 464 B.R. 443, 447 (Bankr. N.D. Fla. 2012). The amended complaint would result in litigation over non-bankruptcy claims between non-debtor parties.

28 U.S.C. § 157 provides for four categories of cases which the district court may refer to the bankruptcy court: (1) cases under title 11; (2) proceedings arising under title 11; (3) proceedings arising in a case under title 11; and (4) proceedings related to a case under title 11. See, e.g., In re S&M Constructors, Inc., 144 B.R. 855, 858 (Bankr. W.D. Mo. 1992). Additionally, 28 U.S.C. § 157(b) divides matters into core and non-core proceedings.

The first category, cases under title 11, refers to the bankruptcy case commenced by the filing of the petition. See, e.g., In re Wood, 825 F.2d 90, 92 (5th Cir. 1987). This category is inapplicable here, as the matter at issue is an adversary complaint.

The second category, proceedings arising under title 11, refers to those actions that are expressly created by title 11. See, e.g., In re Wolverine Radio Co., Inc., 930 F.2d 1132, 1141, n.14 (6th Cir. 1991). This category is inapplicable to the state law causes of action, which would, axiomatically, not be created by title 11.

The third category², proceedings arising in a case under title 11, refers to claims that, although not created by title 11, would have no existence absent the bankruptcy, such as administrative matters. See, e.g., In re Repository Techs., Inc., 601 F.3d 710, 719 (7th Cir. 2010). This category is inapplicable to the state law causes of action.

The fourth category, proceedings related to a case under title 11, contains two different subsets: (1) causes of action owned by the debtor that become property of the estate under § 541; and (2) suits between third parties which in one way or another affect the administration of the bankruptcy case. Id. The former subset is no longer applicable to the state law causes of action because Revere purchases the claims and, as a result, those claims are no longer property of the estate.

The latter subset, sometimes referred to as related-to jurisdiction, is governed by the Pacor test. To wit:

The usual articulation of the test for determining whether a civil proceeding is related to bankruptcy is whether the outcome of that proceeding could conceivably have any effect on the estate being administered in bankruptcy. Thus, the proceeding need not necessarily be against the debtor or against the debtor's property. An action is related to bankruptcy if the outcome could alter the debtor's rights, liabilities, options, or freedom of action . . . and which in any way impacts upon the handling and administration of the bankrupt estate.

Chapter 7

Pacor, Inc. v. Higgins, 743 F.2d 984, 994 (3rd Cir. 1984). The Supreme Court previously acknowledged the prevalence of the Pacor test:

In attempting to strike an appropriate balance, the Third Circuit in Pacor, Inc. v. Higgins, 743 F.2d 984 (1984), devised the following test for determining the existence of "related to" jurisdiction:

[Excerpt quoted above] . . .

The First, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Circuits have adopted the Pacor test with little or no variation. The Second and Seventh Circuits, on the other hand, seem to have adopted a slightly different test. But whatever test is used, these cases make clear that bankruptcy courts have no jurisdiction over proceedings that have no effect on the estate of the debtor.

Celotex Corp. v. Edwards, 514 U.S. 300, 308 n.6 (1995) (citations omitted).

It is unclear how the state law claims in the amended complaint could have any conceivable effect on the estate being administered in bankruptcy. These claims were purchased by Revere, a creditor of Debtor, for a fixed sum, and the bankruptcy estate does not appear to have any remaining interest or concern with this adversary proceeding.

While the Court does not appear to have subject matter jurisdiction over the state law claims pursuant to any of the categories of original jurisdiction enumerated above, the Court may have supplemental jurisdiction over the state law claims. 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a) states:

Chapter 7

Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c) or as expressly provided otherwise by Federal statute, in any civil action of which the district courts have original jurisdiction, the district courts shall have supplemental jurisdiction over all other claims that are so related to claims in the action within such original jurisdiction that they form part of the same case or controversy under Article III of the United States Constitution. Such supplemental jurisdiction shall include claims that involve the joinder or intervention of additional parties.

The applicability of the above statute to bankruptcy proceedings is not a settled issue: "There is a split of authority on the issue of whether bankruptcy courts have supplemental jurisdiction under § 1367(a). The majority of the cases conclude that bankruptcy courts do not have supplemental jurisdiction. A small minority of cases holds otherwise." GINSBERG & MARTIN ON BANKRUPTCY § 1.03 (5th ed. 2018). The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals is among that "small minority" which has concluded that bankruptcy courts have supplemental jurisdiction. See In re Sasson, 424 F.3d 864 (9th Cir. 2005) ("Thus, at present, the bankruptcy court's 'related to' jurisdiction also includes the district court's supplemental jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367 over all other claims that are so related to claims in the action within the court's original jurisdiction that they form part of the same case or controversy under Article III of the United States Constitution.").

Here, the Court clearly has original subject matter jurisdiction over the bankruptcy law fraudulent transfer claim, the preferential transfer claim, and the postpetition transfer claim. While neither party has argued the issue, it does not appear to be in dispute that the factual nexus of the state law claims sufficiently overlaps with the federal claims such that all claims form part of the same case or controversy. Therefore, pursuant to the Ninth Circuit's interpretation of 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a), the Court possesses subject matter jurisdiction over the complaint.

The seventh claim for relief in the amended complaint is a preferential transfer claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 547. A claim pursuant to § 547 has six elements: (1) transfer of an interest in property; (2) to or for the benefit of a creditor; (3) on account of an antecedent debt; (4) while the debtor is insolvent; (5) within 90 days of the petition, or within one year of the petition if the recipient of the transfer is an insider; and (6) such transfer enables the creditor to receive more than it would under a hypothetical liquidation. Defendants argue that Revere has failed to adequately plead two of the required elements: (1) that the subject transfer(s) were to or for the benefit of Defendants; and (2) that the transfer was made on account of an antecedent debt. Defendants cite caselaw which stands for the proposition that a claim for a preferential transfer "must assert the nature and amount of the antecedent debt in order to allege a plausible claim for relief." [Dkt. No. 108, pg. 12]. Revere argues that the amended complaint adequately identifies the subject transfers that were made for the benefit of Defendants. Revere also argues that Defendants' caselaw, which requires specificity when pleading an antecedent debt, is not the appropriate legal standard.

The Court agrees with Revere that it has adequately alleged that Debtor made preferential transfers to Defendants. Specifically, as noted by Revere in its opposition, paragraph 77 of the amended complaint contains an extensive list of categories of transfers that Revere believes constitute preferential transfers. To require more at the pleading stage would essentially require Revere to provide a roadmap and/or prove its case prior to discovery.

Regarding Defendants' argument that Revere has not adequately alleged an antecedent debt, the Court notes that if Defendants' legal standard is appropriate, then it appears Revere has not met that standard. Specifically, the Court notes the amended complaint appears to only refer to Debtor's "substantial debts" generally, without alleging any specific debt owed to Defendants. Furthermore, paragraph 117 of the amended complaint simply states that "to the extent that [Debtor] . . . owed an antecedent debt to [Defendants]" the transfers at issue were on account of such antecedent debt.

Revere argues that the legal standard identified in In re Caremerica, Inc., 415 B.R. 200 (Bankr. E.D.N.C. 2009) and In re Valley Media, Inc., 288 B.R. 189 (Bankr. D. Del. 2003) is not the appropriate legal standard. The latter case stated the following:

the following information must be included in a complaint to avoid preferential transfers in order to survive a motion to dismiss: (a) an identification of the nature and amount of each antecedent debt and (b) an identification of each alleged preference transfer by (i) date, (ii) name of debtor/transferor, (iii) name of transferee and (iv) the amount of the transfer.

In re Valley Media, Inc., 288 B.R. at 192.³ It does appear, however, that a majority of the courts that have thoroughly considered the In re Valley Media, Inc. decision have rejected its standard. See, e.g., In re TOUSA, Inc., 442 B.R. 852, 854 (Bankr. S.D. Fla. 2010) ("Valley Media was decided in 2003 and many courts, including a court within its district, declined to follow its pleading requirements as too harsh in light of the Conley v. Gibson regiment. But the Court in Caremerica opined "that the decisions by the Supreme Court in Twombly and Iqbal breathe new life into the pleading requirements implemented in Valley Media for § 547 preference claims. Many courts continue to disagree with Valley Media and Caremerica." (footnotes omitted); In re NM Holdings Co., LLC, 376 B.R. 194, 204 (Bankr. E.D. Mich. 2007) ("The heightened pleading requirements imposed by the Valley Media case are inconsistent with the liberal notice-pleading principles under the civil rules."); In re Randall's Island Family Golf Ctrs., Inc., 290 B.R. 55, 65 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2003) ("[W]hile the information identified by Valley Media might ultimately be necessary to adjudicate the preference claims, it does not follow that it must be pleaded on pain of dismissal."). But see In re Caremerica, Inc., 409 B.R. 737 (Bankr. E.D.N.C. 2009) (noting that "the majority of courts which have addressed the pleading requirements for § 547 claims have required something less than the standard implemented in Valley Media to survive a 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss" but also noting that the Supreme Court implemented "more stringent pleading requirements" when deciding Twombly and Iqbal).

While the Court is not convinced that In re Valley Media, Inc. represents the appropriate pleading standard for a preference action, the Court concludes that the amended complaint does not adequately plead an antecedent debt. Revere has not pointed to a single section of the amended complaint which even contains an unsupported legal conclusion that Debtor owed Defendants an antecedent debt, let alone a section which provides any factual assertions to support such a conclusion. Revere's general allegation that Debtor owed debt, and the implication in paragraph 117 that Debtor likely owed a debt to Defendants is, quite simply, inadequate. Again, this conclusion does not amount to a holding that Revere is required to allege an antecedent debt with the level of specificity required in, for example, In re Tweeter Opco, 452 B.R. 150 (Bankr. D. Del. 2011). Revere is, however, required to allege that some sort of antecedent debt exists, and the amended complaint does not contain any such allegation. Therefore, the Court is inclined to dismiss the seventh claim for relief, with leave to amend.

IV. INTENTIONAL FRAUDULENT TRANSFER CLAIMS

The second, third, and fourth claims for relief in the amended complaint are intentional fraudulent transfer claims. Specifically, the second claim for relief is a § 548(a) fraudulent transfer claim, the third claim for relief is a CAL. CIV. CODE § 3439.07 fraudulent transfer claim, and the fourth claim for relief is a California common law fraudulent transfer claim. As noted by Defendants in the motion to dismiss, it also appears that the eighth through twelfth claims for relief (namely subsequent transferee liability, successor liability, aiding and abetting, agent liability, and alter ego) are additional theories of liability upon which Revere alleges that it can recover the fraudulent transfers identified in the second through fourth claims for relief. As such, it would appear that the eighth through twelfth claims for relief do not have viability independent from the second through fourth claims for relief.

Defendants argue that the amended complaint fails to satisfy the heightened pleading requirements of FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 9 because it fails to plead fraud with particularity. Revere asserts that the amended complaint adequately pleads fraud, and argues that bankruptcy courts relax FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 9 requirements, especially when the material facts are within the defendants' knowledge.

As noted by Defendants, allegations regarding fraud are generally subject to a heightened pleading standard. FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 9(b), made applicable to adversary proceedings by FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 7009, requires that a plaintiff must state "with particularity the circumstances constituting fraud...." The Ninth Circuit has provided guidance for the "with particularity" requirement by stating that to comport with Civil Rule 9(b) the complaint must (1) specify the averred fraudulent representations; (2) aver the representations were false when made; (3) identify the speaker; (4) state when and where the statements were made; and (5) state the manner in which the representations were false and misleading. Lancaster Cmty. Hosp. v. Antelope Valley Hosp. Dist., 940 F.2d 397, 405 (9th Cir.1991).

Because fraud encompasses a wide variety of circumstances, the requirements of FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 9(b)—like FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 8(a)(2)—require that a plaintiff should provide all defendants with sufficient information to formulate a response. In Cooper v. Pickett, 137 F.3d 616, 627 (9th Cir.1997), however, the Ninth Circuit acknowledged that "[e]very transaction alleged to be fraudulent does not have to be detailed in the complaint." Instead, the Rule 9(b) requirement is satisfied where the complaint sets forth an explanation as to why the transactions were false or misleading. See Cooper v. Pickett, 137 F.3d at 625.

Regarding Revere's argument that a more relaxed pleading standard applies to the instant situation, either as a general rule in bankruptcy courts, or in the more specific situation where the facts are within the defendants' knowledge, the Court disagree with the former, but agrees with the latter. While ample case law standards for the proposition that the heightened pleading requirements are relaxed by bankruptcy courts in the context of a fraudulent transfer claim, typically such a claim is brought by a trustee. Here, Revere's status as a creditor which purchased the estate's interest in the fraudulent transfer claim functionally brings this action outside the context of the underlying bankruptcy proceeding, placing Revere in the same situation as a creditor bringing a state law fraudulent transfer claim in state court. Therefore, the Court concludes that Revere does not appear to be entitled to the relaxing of the FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 9 pleading requirements which may be afforded a Chapter 7 Trustee.

The Court agrees with Revere, however, that the specific factual situation alleged here (i.e. fraudulent transfers made by Debtor to Defendants and a variety of non-parties) warrants a relaxing of the FED. R. CIV. P Rule 9 pleading requirement. See, e.g., Concha v. London, 62 F.3d 1493, 1503 ("Rule 9(b) thus requires that plaintiffs specifically plead those facts surrounding alleged acts of fraud to which they can reasonably be expected to have access."); Neubronner v. Milken, 6 F.3d 666, 672 (9th Cir. 1993) ("This court has held that the general rule that allegations of fraud based on information and belief do not satisfy Rule 9(b) may be relaxed with respect to matters within the opposing party's knowledge.").

As noted by Defendants in the motion to dismiss, the elements of an actual fraudulent transfers under § 548(a)(1)(A) are: (1) the debtor transferred an interest in property or incurred a debt; (2) on or within two years before the petition filing date; and (3) with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud a present or future creditors. Defendants assert that Revere has failed to plead particularized transfers of property. In light of the preceding paragraph, the Court concludes that the factual allegations set forth in ¶¶ 77 and 79 of the amended complaint do contain factual matter which is, taken as a whole, sufficiently detailed to put Defendants on notice of the claims assert against them.

Nevertheless, the Court notes that ¶¶ 77 and 79 are structured in a rather confusing matter. Specifically, paragraph 77 documents a long list of different categories of action which appear to be presented in that matter to demonstrate an elaborate fraudulent scheme carried out by Debtor and Roger Defendants. In reviewing ¶ 77, however, the Court notes that many of the allegations do not actually relate to Defendants at all. Specifically, six of the thirteen subsections of that paragraph do not mention Defendants at all, but instead refer to transfers purportedly made by Debtor or the Roger Defendants to non-parties. Six of the remaining subsections are phrased in a disjunctive, non-exhausting manner. For example, paragraph (77)(a) reads:

77. RFC alleges on information and belief that, while Roger, BLP, and DJRI wrongfully possessed the Collateral, Roger, BLP, and DJRI, with the help of, among others, the DJRI Agents, converted the collateral by:

- (a) Transferring hundreds of thousands of dollars from the proceeds of the Collateral to Ebarb, OIC, LOC, UOG, other limited partnerships/corporations in which Roger, BLP, and/or DJRI had an interest, and/or other insiders;

The manner in which this allegation is drafted renders it potentially wholly inapplicable to the instant adversary proceeding. Given the repeated use of disjunctive and non-exhaustive lists it is not remotely clear from ¶ 77(a) that the allegation represents a claim Revere has standing to bring in this case (because it is not clear that Debtor was the alleged transferor) or that Defendants are the proper defendants (because it is not clear Defendants are the alleged transferees).

Paragraph 79, on the other hand, contains recitations of alleged fraudulent transfers which are specific to Debtor and Defendants. These recitations, however, are completely lacking in the specificity contained in paragraph 77. Nevertheless, given the relaxed pleading standard appropriate in this situation, and the extensive detail recited in the background section, the Court concludes that the amended complaint, when taken as a whole, adequately alleges fraudulent transfer claims.

V. POSTPETITION TRANSFER CLAIM AND MISCELLANEOUS CALIFORNIA CLAIMS

The sixth claim for relief in the amended complaint is a claim for postpetition transfer pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 549(a). 11 U.S.C. § 549(d)(1) requires that a § 549 claim be brought within two years of the date of the transfer to be avoided. The California Claims Defendants argue that the sixth claim for relief does not relate back to the filing of the original complaint and, as a result, may be time-barred. Revere argues that: (a) the statute of limitations is an affirmative defense and Defendants have not demonstrated that the postpetition transfer claim is time barred; and (b) the postpetition transfer claim relates back to the original complaint.

The Court agrees with Revere that the fact that the claim may be time-barred is inadequate to support dismissal at the pleading stage. As has been stated by the Ninth Circuit:

A claim may be dismissed under Rule 12(b)(6) on the ground that it is barred by the applicable statute of limitations only when "the running of the statute is apparent on the face of the complaint." Huyhn v. Chase Manhattan Bank, 465 F.3d 992, 997 (9th Cir. 2006). "A complaint cannot be dismissed unless it appears beyond doubt that the plaintiff can prove no set of facts that would establish the timeliness of the claim." Supermail Cargo, Inc., U.S., 68 F.3d 1204, 1206 (9th Cir. 1995).

Von Saher v. Norton Simon Museum of Art at Pasadena, 592 F.3d 954, 969 (9th Cir. 2010). Here, Defendants' argument amounts to reversing the burden of proof on the affirmative defense. Defendants' assertion that the sixth claim may be time-barred is not adequate to support dismissal.

The fifth, thirteenth, and fourteenth claims for relief are conversion, unjust enrichment, and money had and received, respectively. Regarding conversion, it appears that Defendants are arguing that the conversion claim does not relate back to the original complaint. Yet, for the reasons stated in the preceding paragraph, the mere fact that the conversion claim may be time-barred is inadequate to support dismissal at the pleading stage.

Defendants argue that unjust enrichment is not a valid cause of action. Revere argues that unjust enrichment is a valid cause of action. In California, there is a split of authority as to whether unjust enrichment can operate as a cause of action or is merely a theory of liability. Compare Lectrodryer v. SeoulBank, 77 Cal. App. 4th 723, 726 (Cal. Ct. App. 2000) and Peterson v. Cellco, 164 Cal. App. 4th 1583 (Cal. Ct. App. 2008) (unjust enrichment is a cause of action) with Melchior v. New Line Prods., Inc., 106 Cal. App. 4th 779 (Cal. Ct. App. 2003) and Durell v. Sharp Healthcare, 183 Cal. App. 4th 1350 (Cal. Ct. App. 2010). While Revere argues that the California Supreme Court, in Ghirardo v. Antonioli, 14 Cal. 4th 39 (Cal. 1996), concluded unjust enrichment was a cause of action, the cited case does not stand for that proposition.

The Ninth Circuit recently weighed in on the caselaw split, stating that "in California, there is not a standalone cause of action for 'unjust enrichment,' which is synonymous with 'restitution.'" Astiana v. Hain Celestial Group, Inc., 783 F.3d 753, 762 (9th Cir. 2015). The Ninth Circuit additionally stated that "[w]hen a plaintiff alleges unjust enrichment, a court may construe the cause of action as a quasi-contract claim seeking restitution." Id. Here, it does not appear that such a construction would be compatible with the facts as pled in the amended complaint. In accordance with the recent Ninth Circuit ruling, and the California trend to not recognize unjust enrichment as a standalone cause of action, the Court is inclined to dismiss the thirteenth claim for relief, with leave to amend.

Regarding money had and received, Defendants' argument is somewhat unclear, although it appears to amount to a contention that Revere has not adequately pled that Defendants were the recipients of any transfers of property or funds. For the reasons stated in the fraudulent transfer section, and given that this claim is not subject to the heightened pleading requirement of FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 9, the Court rejects Defendants' argument.

VI. VIOLATION OF RECEIVERSHIP ORDER CLAIM

The first claim for relief in the amended complaint is for violation of the receivership order. Defendants' argument appears to be that Revere lacks standing to bring this claim. Specifically, Defendants note that "Plaintiff brings its FAC as successor to, and in the name of Arturo Cisneros, the Chapter 7 trustee." [Dkt. No. 108, pg. 18]. Revere argues that "Whether the claim for violation of the receivership order belongs to RFS personally or belonged to the DJRI Trustee is of no moment – RFS as both creditor and as successor-in-interest to all claims by the DJRI Trustee against the OIC Defendants has standing in one capacity or the other." [Dkt. No. 108, pg. 30].

The Court agrees with Revere – although the confusion seems to have been caused by Revere's drafting. Quite simply, it is legally incorrect for Revere to state that it is bringing these claims in the name of the Chapter 7 Trustee. While that may be the situation if the claims were assigned to a liquidating trust, with Revere as liquidating trustee, such situation did not occur. Instead Revere purchased the claims in its own name; neither the Chapter 7 Trustee nor the bankruptcy estate has any interest in these claims, nor would it have standing to prosecute them. Therefore, while it appears uncontested that Revere has standing to prosecute the first claim for relief as a creditor of Debtor, the Court notes that it does not appear Revere has properly and clearly identified the plaintiff in this case.

Finally, the Court notes that there appears to be confusion regarding the amended complaint's alter ego claim. That claim is identified as the twelfth claim for relief in the amended complaint's caption, but is inaccurately identified as the tenth claim for relief in the body of the amended complaint. In Defendants' motion to dismiss, Defendants characterize the alter ego claim as a theory of recovery related to the fraudulent transfer claims. Then, despite omitting the section from the table of contents, Defendants additionally present an argument that "alter ego" should be dismissed because it is not a stand-alone cause of action. Given that the recitations in the alter ego claim parallel the recitations in the eighth through eleventh causes for action (which are simply theories of recovery predicated on the fraudulent transfer claims) the Court will treat the alter ego claim in the same fashion and not evaluate it as a stand-alone cause of action.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion to the extent of dismissing the seventh claim for relief (preferential transfer) and thirteenth claim for relief (unjust enrichment) without prejudice and DENY the remainder of the motion. The Court is inclined to DENY Defendants' alternative request for a more definite statement for failure to comply with the procedural requirements of FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 12(e). Nevertheless, the Court notes that the following issues may need clarification (1) the proper plaintiff in this action; (2) the identity of the relevant actors in each component of the fraudulent scheme relevant in this adversary proceeding; and (3) which "claims" are causes of action and which are merely theories of liability or recovery related to the fraudulent transfer claims.

#18.00 Motion by Revere Financial Corporation, as Liquidating Trustee for the Bankruptcy Estate of Douglas J. Roger, to Extend Discovery Cut-Off

Docket 118

Tentative Ruling:

12/19/2018

BACKGROUND

On July 29, 2016, Revere Financial Corporation ("Revere"), as liquidating trustee for the estate of Douglas Jay Roger, filed an adversary complaint against Bank of Southern California ("BSC") seeking recovery of various transfers alleged to be fraudulent transfers and/or preferences (the "BSC Action"). The BSC Action was dismissed with prejudice on September 7, 2017. However, following successful appeal by Revere, the dismissal was vacated and the case was reinstated on June 4, 2018. On August 28, 2018, the Court entered a scheduling order setting a discovery cut-off date of January 30, 2019.

On December 10, 2018, Revere filed a Motion to Extend the Discovery Cut-Off ("Motion"), which the Court permitted to be set on shortened time by order entered on December 11, 2018. BSC filed its Objection to the Motion on December 14, 2018. Revere replied to BSC on December 18, 2018.

DISCUSSION

Every court has the inherent power to "control the disposition of the causes on its docket with economy of time and effort for itself, for counsel, and for litigants." Landis v. N. Am. Co., 299 U.S. 248, 254 (1936). As part of this inherent power, courts are "given broad discretion in supervising the pretrial phase of litigation, and its decisions regarding the preclusive effect of a pretrial order . . . will not be disturbed unless they evidence a clear abuse of discretion." C.F. ex rel. Farnan v. Capistrano Unified Sch. Dist., 654 F.3d 975, 984 (9th Cir. 2011). A court may, therefore, modify a scheduling order, including continuing the discovery cut-off date, for good cause. Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 16(b)(4).

The Court is cognizant that Revere is managing litigation related to various related Roger adversaries on multiple fronts, has not delayed in seeking recovery, and otherwise presented sufficient rationale so as to justify a short extension of discovery under the circumstances. The Court finds that Revere's request for a 90-day extension to April 30, 2019, is reasonable under the circumstances.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion.

Docket 97

Tentative Ruling:

08/02/2018

BACKGROUND

On September 12, 2016, Douglas and Anne Goodman (collectively, "Debtors" or "Defendants") filed their petition for chapter 13 relief.

On November 11, 2016, Mark and Natasha Reynoso (collectively, "Plaintiffs") filed a complaint seeking determination of the dischargeability of a debt pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A) (the "Complaint"). Specifically, Plaintiffs allege that in 2015, they purchased real property located at 1656 West Lisbon Street in Upland, CA (the "Property") from the Debtors, and that a sale was consummated on the misrepresentations of the Debtors' agent, Theresa Mann, that the Property was 3,231 square feet while Plaintiffs assert that the Property is actually 2,713 square feet (or a difference of 518 square feet). Plaintiffs also assert that they were led to believe that a water leak in the upstairs bathroom had been repaired. Plaintiffs allege that the Debtors knew or should have known that their agent was making false and misleading representations to Plaintiffs.

On February 3, 2017, the Court entered an order granting Defendants first motion to dismiss the Complaint, with leave to amend. A First Amended Complaint (the "FAC") was filed on February 28, 2017. On April 19, 2017, the Plaintiffs filed a First Amended Complaint captioned "Corrected" which indicated it had been corrected for typographical errors. (the "Corrected Complaint"). The Court denied Defendants' second motion to dismiss at a hearing on May 4, 2017. On June 5, 2017, the Defendants filed their Answer to the FAC ("Answer").

On March 9, 2018, the Defendants moved to dismiss the April 19, 2018, complaint. The Court granted the motion to dismiss the April 19, 2018, complaint with leave to amend. A second amended complaint was then filed on May 23, 2018 (the "SAC"). [Note: there is a dispute regarding whether the operative complaint is a second or third amended complaint due to the filing of the "corrected complaint" indicated above. For purposes of this hearing, the operative complaint is Docket No. 93]. Defendants now move to dismiss the SAC. No opposition has been filed by the Plaintiffs.

DISCUSSION

As a threshold matter, the Motion seeks relief pursuant to Rule 12(b)(6). However, given that the Defendants have filed an Answer to the FAC, the Court shall construe the Motion as a motion under Rule 12(c), a motion for judgment on the pleadings.

Civil Rule 12(c) standard

"After the pleadings are closed—but early enough not to delay trial—a party may move for judgment on the pleadings." Fed.R.Civ.P. 12(c). "Judgment on the pleadings is properly granted when, taking all allegations in the pleading as true, the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Knappenberger v. City of Phx., 566 F.3d 936, 939 (9th Cir.2009) (quoting Merchants Home Delivery Serv., Inc. v. Frank B. Hall & Co., 50 F.3d 1486, 1488 (9th Cir.1995)).

On a Rule 12(c) motion, the court must accept as true all the material facts alleged in the complaint and must draw all reasonable inferences in favor of the non-moving party. Fleming v. Pickard, 581 F.3d 922, 925 (9th Cir.2009). In ruling on a Rule 12(c) motion, the court may not consider extrinsic evidence unless the motion is converted into a Rule 56 summary judgment. Hal Roach Studios, Inc. v. Richard Feiner & Co., Inc., 896 F.2d 1542, 1550 (9th Cir.1989) (citing Fed.R.Civ.P. 12(c); Bonilla v. Oakland Scavenger Co., 697 F.2d 1297, 1301 (9th Cir.1982)). However, a court may consider facts that are contained in materials of which the court may take judicial notice when considering a motion for judgment on the pleadings. Heliotrope

Gen., Inc. v. Ford Motor Co., 189 F.3d 971, 981 n. 18 (9th Cir.1999) (quoting Barron v. Reich, 13 F.3d 1370, 1377 (9th Cir.1994)).

The crux of Defendants' argument for dismissal of the FAC is that Plaintiffs have not set forth the basis for a money judgment under state law. In the Court's tentative ruling on the motion to dismiss the FAC, the Court stated the following:

The Ninth Circuit has held that a bankruptcy court may enter a monetary judgment on a disputed state law fraud claim in the course of determining that the debt is nondischargeable. Cowen v. Kennedy (In re Kennedy), 108 F.3d 1015 (9th Cir.1997). Shawn Deitz v. Wayne Ford, Patricia Ford (In re Wayne Ford, Patricia Ford), 469 B.R. 11, 21 (9th Cir. BAP 2012), aff'd, 760 F.3d 1038 (9th Cir. 2014). Here, although the Complaint is not explicit regarding the state law causes of action at issue, it appears implicit in the allegations that the Plaintiffs seek a monetary judgment as to a fraud or misrepresentation claim. Nonetheless, Plaintiffs should not have to guess at the state law basis of the debt for a money judgment.

Here, the SAC has added bases for calculation of damages under state law but has still not set forth the state law basis for the monetary judgment. Thus, the Plaintiffs have still not addressed the concerns raised by the Court and Defendants that they do not have sufficient notice of the basis for a monetary judgment such that the Defendants can adequately defend themselves in the action.

TENTATIVE RULING

Based on the foregoing, including the Plaintiffs failure to file opposition to the Motion to Dismiss which can be deemed as consent to the granting of the Motion pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion dismissing the SAC with leave to amend, in order to provide the Plaintiffs with an opportunity to set forth the specific bases for monetary damages under state law such that the litigation can proceed.

BACKGROUND

On April 12, 2016, Jose Hernandez ("Debtor") filed a Chapter 7 voluntary petition. On July 7, 2016, the Chapter 7 Trustee ("Plaintiff") filed a complaint against Carolina Navarro ("Defendant") seeking the avoidance and recovery of a fraudulent transfer. After default was entered against Defendant, on October 14, 2016, the parties stipulated to set aside default, and, that same day, Defendant filed her answer. On March 1, 2018, Plaintiff filed a motion for summary judgment. On April 4, 2018, Defendant filed her opposition.

Plaintiff alleges that on July 21, 2014, Debtor transferred certain real property located at 3510 Duffy St., San Bernardino, CA 92407 to Defendant for no consideration and that Debtor was insolvent at the time of the transfer or became insolvent as a result of the transfer. Defendant received a Chapter 7 discharge on January 26, 2018.

Chapter 7

DISCUSSION

I. Violation of Discharge Injunction

As a preliminary matter, Defendant argues that because she obtained her own discharge in January, the continuation of this proceeding violates her discharge injunction. Specifically, Defendant argues that her discharge extinguishes her personal liability and that Trustee's complaint seeks avoidance of the transfer and recovery of the property or its value. Defendant's opposition states:

Notwithstanding his heightened knowledge of the provisions of the Bankruptcy Code and bankruptcy jurisprudence, the Trustee has pursued the same claims and remedies against Defendant after her discharge was granted, relieving her of any personal liability on account of the Trustee's alleged claims and barring the Trustee from obtaining relief in this case. For example, the Trustee seeks judgment on his Fifth Claim, which as pled in the Complaint, alleges that "Plaintiff is entitled to recovery the Subject Property or its value from the Defendant Pursuant to § 550(a)."

[Dkt. No. 46, pg. 12-13].

Defendant's argument is misleading and lacks merit. Regardless of the relief requested in the complaint, which was filed before Defendant obtained a discharge, Plaintiff's motion for summary judgment has dropped the reference to "or its value" and only seeks recovery of the subject property. Nothing in the motion for summary judgment seeks to enforce a personal liability of the Defendant. Therefore, the Court rejects Defendant's argument.

II. Motion for Summary Judgment

Summary judgment should be granted if the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law. See FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 56(c) (incorporated by FED. R.

The moving party has the burden of establishing the absence of a genuine issue of material fact. See Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 323 (1986). If the moving party shows the absence of a genuine issue of material fact, the nonmoving party must go beyond the pleadings and identify facts that show a genuine issue for trial. See id. at 324; see also FED. R. CIV. P. Rule 56(e). The court must view the evidence in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party. See Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 255 (1986). All reasonable doubt as to the existence of a genuine issue of fact should be resolved against the moving party. See id.

If the moving party meets its initial burden, the non-moving party must set forth, by affidavit or as otherwise provided in Rule 56, specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial. See id. The non-moving party, however, "must do more than simply show that there is some metaphysical doubt as to the material fact...." Matsushita Electrical Industry Co. v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574, 586-587 (1986).

A fact is material if it "might affect the outcome of the suit under the governing law." Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248 (1986). A dispute about a material fact is genuine "if the evidence is such that a reasonable jury could return a verdict for the nonmoving party." Id.

Plaintiff requests summary judgment on the second claim for relief (avoidance of constructively fraudulent transfer) and the fifth claim for relief (recovery of avoided transfer). 11 U.S.C. § 548(a)(1)(B) states, in pertinent part:

(a)(1) The trustee may avoid any transfer (including any transfer to or for the benefit of an insider under an employment contract) of an interest of the debtor in property, or any obligation (including any obligation to or for the benefit of an insider under an employment contract) incurred by the debtor, that was made or incurred on or within 2 years before the date of the filing of the petition, if the debtor voluntarily or involuntarily --

(B)(i) received less than a reasonably equivalent value in exchange for such transfer or obligation; and

(ii)(I) was insolvent on the date that such transfer was made or such obligation was incurred, or became insolvent as a result of such transfer or obligation

Chapter 7

Defendant does not dispute that there was a transfer of an interest of property within 2 years before the petition date. Defendant does, however, dispute the satisfaction of the other two elements, arguing that Defendant received reasonably equivalent value and was not rendered insolvent by the subject transfer. See generally In re Fruehauf Trailer Corp., 444 F.3d 203, 210 (3rd Cir. 2006); In re Southern Textile Knitters, 65 Fed. Appx. 426, 436 (4th Cir. 2003) (outlining elements of § 548(a)(1)(B) action).

Regarding the requirement that reasonably equivalent value have been provided, Plaintiff asserts that the grant deed reflects that the transfer was a "bonafide gift and the grantor received nothing in return." In her opposition, Defendant argues that the language of the grant deed is inaccurate, and that she offered value in a variety of ways. Specifically, Defendant contends that she was a co-signer for the refinancing and "also provided consideration by contributing her wages to pay for household expenses and by providing domestic labor including cooking, cleaning, child-rearing, and running the parties' household." [Dkt. No. 46, pg. 17, lines 7-9]. With regard to the language on the grant deed, Defendant states that:

The Grant Deed was not prepared by Debtor or Defendant. Debtor and Defendant correctly advised the loan officer who handled the refinancing that Defendant was not paying cash to Debtor for her one-half interest. For this reason, Debtor and Defendant believe the loan officer or escrow agent who prepared the Grant Deed noted on the document that the Transfer was a gift.

In the reply, Plaintiff contends that "[a]fter first stating that it was a gift and nothing was received, the Debtor and Defendant should be estopped from now claiming it was not a gift and reasonably equivalent value was provided for the Subject Transfer." [Dkt. No. 51, pg. 4, lines 13-15].

The Court concludes that the parol evidence rule applies here to preclude the consideration of evidence which contradicts the plain and unambiguous language of the deed. See generally In re Khalil, 2014 WL 1725811 at *6-11 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2014) (collecting cases providing comprehensive analysis of the parol evidence rule in the context of grant deeds deed). As was noted in Khalil:

If there is no ambiguity on the face of the document, and no reference to information or terms in the recorded document or from the circumstances of the conveyance that would lead a bona fide purchaser to inquire as to the intent and meaning of the instrument, then the bona fide purchaser is entitled to rely on the written record and is not charged with or bound by unstated meanings or by secret or collateral agreements that add to or alter the written record.

Id. at *10. While the above quotation is in the context of ownership interests in real property, rather than the nature of consideration, or lack thereof, in connection with a grant deed, the same underlying principle is applicable: "third parties, including the trustee and the estate's creditors, must be able to rely on the terms of recorded deed." Id. at *11. See also id. at *10 ("As a general rule, when any ambiguity is not evident from the face of the instrument (i.e., a "latent" ambiguity), the deed must be construed solely from an analysis of the plain meaning of the document itself, and extrinsic evidence is not admissible."); Laux v. Freed, 53 Cal. 2d. 512, 523 (Cal. 1960) ("[I]f the language of a deed is plain, certain and unambiguous, neither parol evidence nor surrounding facts and circumstances will be considered to add to, detract from, or vary its terms.").

Regarding the insolvency requirement, Plaintiff first argues that given the absence of reasonably equivalent value, Debtor's insolvency as a result of the transfer should be assumed; Plaintiff cites United States v. Mazzeo, 245 B.R. 435, 441 (E.D.N.Y. 1999). The Court declines to make such a presumption. The case cited by Plaintiff, and the related case law, deals with fraudulent transfer provisions under New York state law. See, e.g., Kim v. Ji Sung Yoo, 2017 WL 4382078 (S.D.N.Y. 2017) (noting presumption and collecting cases). No such burden shifting framework, however, exists under the Bankruptcy Code. See 5 COLLIER'S ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 548.11[2] (16th ed. 2017) ("Under state law and the UFTA (and presumably the UVTA), a well-recognized exception permits the court to infer a proscribed financial state once the plaintiff has shown a lack of fair consideration or a lack of reasonably equivalent value. This shift should not apply to cases brought under section 548.") (footnotes omitted); see also In re Galbreath, 286 B.R. 185, 197 (Bankr. S.D. Ga. 2002) ("The burden for proving constructive fraud falls on the trustee who must show by a preponderance of the evidence that all requirements set out in § 548(a)(1)(B) have been met.")

Plaintiff next argues that Debtor's insolvency can be established through a review of the schedules. Essentially, Plaintiff argues that the schedules indicate that Debtor was insolvent as of the petition date, and that the Court can work backwards to conclude that Debtor was insolvent on the date of the transfer. As one bankruptcy court has stated:

Chapter 7

Since insolvency at a given point in time is often difficult to demonstrate by direct proof, courts permit the trustee to show that the debtor was insolvent at one point in time and then prove that the same condition existed at the time of the subject transfer. This method of proof has been labeled "retrojection," but it applies equally to situations in which the trustee starts at a point in time prior to the transfer. When the trustee chooses to use this method of proof it is essential that the trustee be able to show the absence of any substantial or radical changes in the assets or liabilities of the bankruptcy between the retrojection dates.

In re R. Purbeck & Assocs., Ltd., 27 B.R. 953, 955 (Bankr. D. Conn. 1983) (footnotes and quotation omitted). Plaintiff argues that the schedules reflect that Debtor had no meaningful unexempt assets as of the petition date while much of Debtor's unsecured debt was identified as having been incurred prior to the date of the transfer. Furthermore, Debtor's statement of financial affairs does not disclose any significant transfers of property between the date of the subject transfer and the petition date.

In Defendant's opposition, she appears to contend that Debtor's outstanding debt on the date of the subject transfer was $210,282 and that Debtor's assets were valued at approximately $224,000. The Court notes that these assertions do not demonstrate solvency – they demonstrate insolvency as that term is defined in the Code. 11 U.S.C. § 101(32)(A)(ii) exempts from the solvency requirement property which may be exempt under § 522. The assets listed in Debtor's schedules, and in Defendant's opposition, all appear to be assets capable of being exempted under § 522, thereby rendering Defendant statutorily insolvent. Even ignoring that fact, however, Defendant's opposition indicates that Debtor had $53,186 in equity in the property; transferring a 50% interest in the property would have rendered Debtor insolvent even before removing property which can be exempted. As a result, the Court concludes that Plaintiff has demonstrated there is no genuine dispute regarding Debtor's insolvency on the date of the subject transfer.

III. Recovery

Plaintiff also seeks recovery of the subject property pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 550. 11 U.S.C. § 550(a)(1) states:

- (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, to the extent that a transfer is avoided under section 544, 545, 547, 548, 549, 553(b), or 724(a) of this title,

- the trustee may recover, for the benefit of the estate, the property transferred, or, if the court so orders, the value of such property, from –
- (1) the initial transferee of such transfer or the entity for whose benefit such transfer was made

Defendant opposes the requested recovery, although the legal basis for the opposition is less than clear. Defendant argues that "annulment of the Transfer would have the effect of returning the Property to a single ownership since Debtor was the sole owner. Therefore, recovery of the Transfer is unnecessary and provides no benefit to the estate." [Dkt. No. 46, pg. 18, lines 15-17]. The Court's interpretation of the Plaintiff's request is that Plaintiff is requesting an order indicating that the Property has retained to single ownership (the bankruptcy estate). Therefore, it does not appear there is really any legal dispute here, semantical differences aside.

IV. Withdrawal of Admissions

In light of the foregoing, the Court is inclined to deny Defendant's motion to withdraw admissions as moot. The Court need not rely on admissions by default in resolving the instant motion for summary judgment.

TENTATIVE RULING

The Court is inclined to GRANT the motion for summary judgment, avoiding the transfer as constructively fraudulent and permitting Trustee's recovery of such transfer. Defendant's motion to withdraw admissions is DENIED as moot.

TENTATIVE RULING

The bar date for filing claims in the case of Rita and Steven Pappalardo (collectively, "Debtors") was November 6, 2018. On November 7, 2018, Claim No. 17 was filed by Citibank, N.A. The late filing of the claim prompted Debtors to file the instant Objection to Claim. The proof of service indicates that service on Citibank was consistent with FRBP 7004 and Citibank has failed to file opposition. Based on Citibank's failure to file opposition or to otherwise seek an order authorizing the late filing of the claim, the Court is inclined to SUSTAIN the Objection.

Chapter 13

#55.00 Motion for Order Determining Value of Collateral
re: 2017 Dodge Ram 2500 Mega Cab

EH ____

Docket 12

Tentative Ruling:

12/19/2018

BACKGROUND

On October 31, 2018, Yair Contreras ("Debtor") filed their petition for chapter 13 relief. Among the assets of the estate is a 2017 Dodge RAM (the "RAM"). On November 19, 2018, the Debtor filed his Motion to Value the RAM ("Motion"). No opposition has been filed.

DISCUSSION

One of the benefits of filing a Chapter 13 bankruptcy is that under § 506(a) the debtor can bifurcate a secured, unavoidable debt, with one part representing the amount of the value of the collateral, and the deficiency being treated as an unsecured claim. See In re Penrod, 636 F.3d 1175, 1177 (9th Cir. 2011).

The Debtor asserts that the RAM's value, and thus its secured portion, should be determined to be $40,175, with an unsecured deficiency claim for $9,276. In support, the Debtor has submitted a NADA Guide Report. Service of the Motion was proper and Wells Fargo has filed no opposition or objection to the valuation. Separately, the Court notes that although Wells Fargo has not filed a proof of claim, the bar date has not yet lapsed.

Chapter 13

TENTATIVE RULING

For the foregoing reasons, the Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion, with the exception that the amount of the unsecured portion of the claim shall be controlled by a filed proof of claim consistent with the local rules in the event that Wells Fargo timely files a proof of claim.

Tentative Ruling:

11/29/2018

The evidence that the tax issue which resulted in the dismissal of the Debtor's second case is insufficient. At minimum, the Debtor should have provided a declaration of the tax preparer she hired to give the Court an opinion regarding the likelihood that the IRS would again file a claim of a similar amount, which would render the Debtor's case infeasible.

As to service, the Order Setting Hearing on Shortened time required that a Written Notice of the Hearing AND a copy of the Court's Order Setting the Hearing be sent to the creditors indicated. Instead, Docket No. 15 is a stand-alone proof of service which indicates that the Order and a Notice of Hearing were mailed to the foreclosing creditor. However, Docket reflects a failure by Debtor to file a Notice of Hearing indicating the date, time and place of the hearing. The stand-alone proof of service is insufficient for the Court to have certainty that a Notice of Hearing which satisfies due process requirements was mailed to the foreclosing creditor.

As such, the tentative ruling is to DENY the Motion.

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

12/20/2018
Service: Proper
Opposition: None

The Debtor's prior chapter 13 plan depended on her earning overtime income. The Debtor indicates that her overtime pay was reduced which caused her to fall behind on her plan payments. In support of this Motion, the Debtor asserts she has now rented a room in her home to enable her to make up for the lost income. Attached to the Motion as Exhibit "E" is a rental agreement for the Debtor's new tenant that indicates Debtor will be paid $850 per month in rental income to supplement her nursing income. The increase in income is reflected in the Debtor's schedules and appears to significantly make up the shortfall that resulted in the prior dismissal. For these reasons, the Court finds that the Debtor has overcome the presumption that the instant case was not filed in good faith.

The Court is inclined to GRANT the Motion.

Docket 7

Tentative Ruling:

12/20/2018

The case was dismissed at the confirmation hearing for the following reasons:

- No Post-Petition Secured Debt Payment History Declaration was filed [LBR 3015-1(M)].
- The Statement of Related Cases did not list all prior bankruptcy cases.
- No proof of income from all sources was provided 7 days before 341(a) or at all [LBR 3015-1(c)(3)].
- Business reporting requirements for self-employed Debtors were not complied with:
 - [LBR 3015-1(c)(4)]: No 6 months of bank statements for all personal and business bank accounts were provided, (b) Debtor testified that he works from home, but his business income and expense statements include personal expenses that should be listed on Schedule J (utilities, car payment, car insurance, meals).
- Debtor testified he owes delinquent income taxes to the IRS and FTB, but such debts were listed on Schedule E, and the IRS and FTB were not served with the plan.
- Debtor's Schedules listed a 2015 Chevy Camaro, but the plan made no provision for this car and no car payment was deducted from Schedule J (Trustee needed to see a copy of the auto purchase contract to determine the monthly payment amount and when it will be paid off).
- The notice of 341a and confirmation hearings had the wrong objection due date, and no service list is attached to the proof of service.

- The Statement of Compensation said that the balance of the attorney's fees owed is $2,500 but the Plan states the balance owed is $3,500.

The Motion makes a vague assertion that the Debtor's counsel failed to file proper documents. The explanation provided is woefully inadequate to address the numerous failures indicated by the Trustee in his objections to confirmation. In particular, if the Debtor's counsel accepts fault for the above-referenced failings, there should simultaneously be an explanation of how the Debtor's counsel shall redress the problems raised by his substandard handling of the prior case. Additionally, the Motion does not actually identify the prior cases dismissed during the prior year. The Court's docket reflects at least one case. However, the Debtor has checked boxes indicating alternately that he is seeking to "impose" and "continue" the stay.

In addition to the foregoing, it appears that secured creditors were not filed in accordance with FRBP 7004 in that they were not served to the attention of an officer and were not served via certified mail.

As such the Court is inclined to DENY the Motion.

From: 12/5/18, 12/11/18

Docket 60

Tentative Ruling:

12/11/18

BACKGROUND

On September 15, 2017, Cleon Sonnenfeld ("Creditor") filed a Chapter 7 involuntary petition against Joshua Richardson ("Debtor"). On November 8, 2017, an order for relief was entered pursuant to stipulation between Creditor and Debtor. That same day, the Court entered an order approving a stipulation which avoided a deed of trust recorded on June 20, 2017, against Debtor's residence, in favor of HLE Law Group.

On February 6, 2018, Creditor removed certain state court litigation to bankruptcy court. The state court litigation contained causes of action for: (1) breach of contract; (2) fraud; (3) unjust enrichment; (4) constructive trust; and (5) declaratory relief. On June 29, 2018, Creditor filed a complaint to determine dischargeability and to deny Debtor a discharge.

On November 8, 2018, Trustee filed a motion to approve compromise. No opposition to the motion has been filed.

Chapter 7

The dispute between Creditor and Debtor relates to a loan made by Creditor to Debtor in 2012 for the total amount of $225,000. According to the instant motion, the purpose of the loan was for Debtor to purchase certain real property located in Moreno Valley, California (the "Property"). Creditor asserts that Debtor breached the loan agreement by failing to provide Creditor with a deed of trust, and that, as a result, the Property is subject to a constructive trust in favor of Creditor. The compromise motion also deals with potential avoidance actions against Gabriela Diaz.

The compromise under consideration contains the following components. First, Creditor shall obtain a stipulated judgment in the removed action, adjudicating that the Property is subject to a constructive trust and that Creditor is entitled to a judgment in the amount of $318,778.12. Second, Trustee shall sell the Property. The first $303,000 of the sale proceeds would be payable to Creditor¹, while any amount exceeding $303,000 would be divided so that the bankruptcy estate receives 30% and Creditor receives 70%.² Third, Trustee would assign the potential avoidance actions against Gabriela Diaz to Creditor, with any net recoveries to be distributed 30% to the bankruptcy estate and 70% to Creditor. The compromise motion also contemplates that Creditor will object to Debtor's homestead exemption.

DISCUSSION

FED. R. BANKR. P. Rule 9019 provides that:

On motion by the trustee and after notice and a hearing, the court may approve a compromise or settlement. Notice shall be given to creditors, the United States trustee, the debtor, and indenture trustees as provided in Rule 2002 and to any other entity as the court may direct.

The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals have previously outlined the factors to be considered in approving a compromise pursuant to Rule 9019: (1) the probability of success in the litigation; (2) the difficulties to be encountered in the matter of collection; (3) the complexity, expense, inconvenience and delay of litigation; and (4) the interest of creditors with deference to their reasonable. See In re A&C Props., 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). The listed factors assist the Court in determining "the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement." Id.

There are a variety of material details which are not adequately addressed in the compromise motion under consideration, hindering the Court's review of the fairness and reasonableness of the compromise. These issues are enumerated below:

- 1) While the motion does not provide the relevant information, the Court takes judicial notice of Schedule A [Dkt. No. 19] and Schedule C [Dkt. No. 21]; these schedules indicate that Debtor identified the Property as having a fair market value of $303,000 and claimed an exemption in the amount of $100,000. If these figures are correct, and subject to the issue listed below, it would appear any recovery by the estate from the sale of the Property would be contingent on a successful objection to Debtor's homestead exemption, which has not yet been filed nor been detailed in the instant motion.
- 2) It is unclear from the motion, but to the extent that the motion attempts to pay unsecured creditors prior to satisfying Debtor's homestead exemption, such approach is impermissible. While the settlement agreement frames the approach as paying the HLE lien, there is, quite simply, no HLE lien and, to the extent that Creditor is offering a carve-out of $25,000, the compromise does not articulate a legal basis by which the such amounts could be used to pay unsecured creditors prior to satisfying the homestead exemption.
- 3) It appears that Creditor may be receiving a small windfall from the proposed compromise, which is not adequately explained or detailed. The Court takes judicial notice of the removed state court complaint and notes that Creditor requested a judgment of $252,516.94. The Court also takes judicial notice of the claims register, and notes that Creditor filed an unsecured claim on April 13, 2018, in the amount of $301,167.85 ("Claim 2"). Based on the record before the Court, it appears that the proposed compromise transforms Claim 2 into a secured claim and increases the claim amount by approximately $17,000. Additionally, the proposed compromise would further increase Creditor's recovery depending upon the sale price of the Property or success in the potential avoidance actions.

- 4) The consideration the estate is receiving from this compromise, on the other hand, is unclear and speculative, given that any recovery by the estate appears to be conditioned on a successful objection to Debtor's homestead exemption, depends upon the sale price of the Property, which has not been detailed in the motion, and also depends upon the recovery in the potential avoidance actions, which has not been described at all.

On the record before the Court, the Court is simply unable to ascertain the fairness or reasonableness of the proposed compromise.
