#1.00 EVIDENTIARY HEARING RE: Motion for relief from stay
(U.S. Bank Trust N.A. VS Debtor)
fr. 9/26/17, 10/24/17, 11/7/17

Docket 79

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/3/18. On movant's claim under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2), it has met its burden of proof under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(1) to demonstrate lack of equity in the subject property based on the stipulated value for the property. Debtor as the party opposing relief has the burden on the remaining issue of demonstrating under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(2) and (d)(2) that the property is necessary to its effective reorganization, i.e., a confirmed reorganization plan is in reasonable prospect. Specifically, debtor must produce some evidence that its plan could be confirmed by a reasonable bankruptcy judge. In re Bonner Mall Partnership, 2 F.3d 899, 902 n. 4 (9th Cir. 1993). Debtor's projected income based on its principal's consulting income of $12,500 per month is not supported by any credible evidence for this projection. The demonstrated history in this case does not support the projection, and there is no credible explanation of how the income can be generated at that level to demonstrate plan feasibility under 11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(11). Debtor has not shown that it is likely to have at least one impaired class of claims to accept its plan under 11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(10) since there is no credible evidence indicating any creditor support for the plan (debtor's conclusory assertions are not evidence). Based on what has been submitted in the papers, the court is inclined to find that debtor has not met its burden of proof on the second prong of 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) that the property is necessary for its effective reorganization, i.e., that its plan could be confirmed by a reasonable bankruptcy judge and that the stay relief motion should be granted. Appearances are required on 1/4/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/6/17. Appearances are required on 11/7/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

No updated tentative ruling as of 10/24/17. Appearances are required on

#5.00 Hearing re: Motion by witness Howard Fong to quash subpoena and/or protective order

Docket 17

Tentative Ruling:

The court is inclined to grant the nondebtor witness's motion for protective order unless creditor better explains that the objected to requests for documents falls within the scope of FRBP 2004(b), i.e., documents relating to transactions between the witness and nondebtor entities relate to the acts, conduct, or property, or to the liabilities and financial condition of the debtor, or to any matter which may affect the administration of debtor's estate (or debtor's right to a discharge, not applicable here). It is not clear why documents of the nondebtor parties for transactions before debtor was incorporated in October 2016 fall within the scope of FRBP 2004(b). Appearances are required on 1/4/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#1.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Bungalow Series F Trust VS Debtor)

Docket 169

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (4) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies and for in rem relief for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition.

Deny request for stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) and (g)(1) for lack of valuation evidence regarding the lack of equity of debtor in the subject property.

Deny requests for extraordinary relief in paragraphs 6, 8, 10, 11 and 14 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009).

The court notes that the numbering of the exhibits was inconsistent between numbers on page 4 and letters on page 6 and not all of the exhibits were separately tabbed under LBR 5005-2(d), including the trust deed assignments.

The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

The court does not make a finding of bad faith as to debtor. See In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012).

Chapter 7

#2.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(U.S. Bank Trust N.A. VS Debtor)
fr. 11/28/17

Docket 60

Tentative Ruling:

No updated tentative ruling as of 1/8/18. Appearances are required on 1/9/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Deny motion for stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (2) as movant fails to provide any evidence of valuation to meet its burden of showing debtors' lack of equity in the subject property under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(1).

Deny motion for stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) as movant fails to provide any evidence to support a basis for relief either multiple bankruptcy filings or unconsented to transfers. As alleged in paragraph 6 of the motion, the only evidence of an "unconsented to:" transfer was the 2004 grant deed transferring the title "to" debtors, not "from" them, which does not support any claim under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) since among other things, this 2004 deed predates movant's 2006 trust deed.

Deny request for stay relief from the co-debtor stay of 11 U.S.C. 1201(a) or 1301(a) since the co-debtor stay does not exist in a Chapter 7 bankruptcy case such as this one, and so there is no co-debtor stay to obtain relief from.

Deny requests for extraordinary relief under paragraphs 8 and 10 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009).

The moving papers are so seriously deficient that it indicates a level of practice below what is expected of practitioners before this court and that either signing counsel did not sufficiently read, review and proofread these papers, or staff who prepared the papers for counsel is not sufficiently

(Emma Borges VS Debtor)

Docket 22

Tentative Ruling:

As clarified by the reply, movant only seeks at this time to obtain state court review to confirm the arbitration award. Based on permissive abstention considerations, the court should grant such stay relief for cause under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to allow further litigation in a nonbankruptcy forum since this is a related proceeding already commenced in a nonbankruptcy forum involving state law noncore claims in which state law issues predominate, movant's claims will need to be liquidated somewhere, and the claims apparently have been fully litigated in the nonbankruptcy arbitration proceedings subject to confirmation in state court. and it would be burdensome for this court to litigate such claims. In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166-1170 (9th Cir. 1990). Debtor's concerns regarding enforcement of any arbitration award should be allayed by movant's representations in the reply that no other relief is being presently sought. No other relief will be granted at this time, including the requests for extraordinary relief. Appearances are required on 1/9/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Docket 6

Tentative Ruling:

Off calendar. Because plaintiff amended its complaint as a matter of course in response to defendant's motion to dismiss under FRBP 7012 and FRCP 12 (b) within the 21 day service period as extended by FRBP 9006(a)(1), this moots defendant's motion to dismiss the original complaint. #1.00 EVIDENTIARY RE: First interim application by Simon Resnik Hayes LLP, general bankruptcy counsel for the debtor, for allowance of fees and reimbursement of costs for the period April 24, 2017 through September 1, 2017 fr. 10/18/17, 10/25/17, 12/6/17

Docket 59

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/8/18. No tentative ruling will be issued for the evidentiary hearing. Appearances are required on 1/10/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/4/17. The court has reviewed debtor's opposition to the application filed on 11/30/17 and applicant's notice of failure to comply with scheduling order in response thereto filed on 12/1/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 12/6/17, but counsel may appear by telephone. The court is not inclined to strike the opposition as untimely and grant the interim application in full at this time because the court should allow some latitude to debtor who is now self-represented and anyway, the application is only interim subject to final review in the future. The court believes that the dispute between the parties may as well be resolved now. Applicant will need to address the objections of debtor to specific billing entries on the fee application, which objections were filed on 11/30/17, and the court will schedule an evidentiary hearing in the future to go over the objections, of which some appear to be meritorious. If applicant believes that it is prejudiced by the late filing, the court will give it additional time to respond and prepare for the evidentiary hearing.

Updated tentative ruling as of 10/23/17. The court is inclined to approve the first interim fee application of counsel for debtor-in-possession for the reasons stated in the fee application and for lack of timely written objection. Debtor has filed no written objection to the motion, but the court will hear any oral objection of debtor at the hearing since he is effectively representing himself at this hearing and counsel in his supplemental declaration indicated that debtor verbalized concerns about attorneys' fees incurred in this case.

Appearances are required on 10/25/17.

Prior tentative ruling. The application is procedurally deficient. First, the application may not be considered as a final fee application since a plan has not been confirmed in this Chapter 11 case or there is some other final disposition of the case. Fees may not be awarded on a final basis at this time. Second, since the application seeks immediate payment of fees, applicant has not provided any information about whether there are funds in the bankruptcy estate to pay the requested fees. Third, there is no filed declaration regarding client review of the application as required by LBR 2016-1(a)(1)(J). Appearances are required on 10/18/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#2.00 Cont'd hearing re: Application for payment of interim fees and/or expenses for Khang & Khang LLP, debtor's attorney
fr. 11/29/17, 12/6/17

Docket 161

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/8/18. Approve first interim fee application of general bankruptcy counsel for debtor in possession for reasons stated in the fee application and for lack of timely written objection. Appearances are optional on 1/10/18, but applicant may appear by telephone. Applicant to submit a proposed order within 7 days of hearing.

Prior tentative ruling. The fee application will have to be revised because the court cannot evaluate the reasonableness of the services rendered under 11 U.S.C. 330 because numerous billing entries have multiple services listed, which is considered "lumping" of services and not permitted (e.g., billing entries for 3/6/17 of 3.4 hours lists 7 different tasks aggregated together). The court can only evaluate the reasonableness of fees for a particular task, not multiple tasks lumped together. Appearances are required on 12/5/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#3.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion to use cash collateral stipulation with Pacific City Bank
fr. 12/13/17

Docket 37

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/8/18. The court is inclined to approve the cash collateral stipulation for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written objection. Movant needs to clarify that which secured creditor, Prime Business Credit, Inc., or Pacific City Bank, has greater priority on its superpriority claim since the cash collateral stipulations are conflicting since each gives the one creditor a superpriority over all other claims, including the other creditor's superpriority claim. Appearances are required on 1/10/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Service of motion to approve cash collateral stipulation is deficient because movant did not serve the 20 largest unsecured creditors pursuant to FRBP 4001(d)(1)(C) and 1007(d). Continue hearing for movant to give notice to these creditors as well. Appearances are required on 12/13/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#1.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Morgan Picks Two, LLC VS Debtor)

Docket 20

Tentative Ruling:

Because debtor had two prior bankruptcy cases pending within the year of filing of this case, which were dismissed, it appears that no automatic stay arose when the case was filed pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(4) and that no automatic stay is in place because debtor has not filed a motion to impose the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(4). Thus, relief should be granted to confirm that there was and is no automatic stay in effect because of 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(4), and there is no need to rule upon movant's claims under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (2) or for annulment of stay, and the court will not grant those claims or requests. Deny requests for extraordinary relief in paragraphs 7, 9 and 11 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009). Appearances are required on 1/16/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (4) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies and for in rem relief for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Deny the request for extraordinary relief in paragraph 3 since the debtor is not the borrower under the relevant loan agreements. Deny request for extraordinary relief in paragraph 10 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009). The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

The court does not make a finding of bad faith as to debtor. See In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012).

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU. Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing, in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and in hard copy available in the courtroom.

#4.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Nationstar Mortgage LLC VS Debtor)
fr. 12/12/17

Docket 104

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/12/18. Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (4) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies and for in rem relief for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Movant has demonstrated standing and a colorable claim to the property at issue based on its judgment for foreclosure from the Connecticut state court as well as the late-filed supplemental declaration claiming possession of the original promissory note on the mortgage. In re Griffin, 719 F.3d 1126 (9th Cir. 2013), and stay relief should be granted under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) because of an unconsented-to transfer by the mortgagor to a third party who apparently used debtor's bankruptcy case to stop further enforcement of the judgment for foreclosure.

Deny the request for extraordinary relief in paragraph 3 since the debtor is not the borrower under the relevant loan agreements. Deny request for extraordinary relief in paragraph 10 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009). The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Appearances are required on 1/16/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Deny stay relief motion without prejudice because movant's showing of standing to seek stay relief is not properly authenticated under Fed. R. Evid. 901 and 902. The court agrees with debtor's argument that movant has not established standing because the copies of the mortgage and assignments are not properly authenticated by a person with personal knowledge to authenticate the documents or by certification from the recording office. See also, Fed. R. Evid. 602 and 902(1), (2) and (4). The evidence of the Connecticut state court foreclosure judgment, Exhibit G to the reply, does not establish standing of movant since there is no reference to movant in the judgment, and by itself does not show that it relates to the mortgage sought to be enforced by movant. Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/12/18. The court has reviewed the joint status report. Set a discovery cutoff date of 6/30/18 and a further postdiscovery status conference for 7/17/18 at 1:30 p.m. with a joint status report due on 7/10/18. Order the matter to mediation, the parties are to file a request for selection of mediator and alternate mediator by 1/31/18 and complete mediation by 7/17/18. Appearances are required on 1/16/18, but counsel may appear by telephone. Plaintiff to submit a proposed scheduling order within 7 days of hearing.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/13/17. Appearances are required on 11/14/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#17.00 Hearing re: Motion of plaintiff/creditor James Lee Clark for an order compelling discovery and sanctions against defendant/debtor Rita Ellison-Farris

Docket 351

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/12/18. Plaintiff moves to compel discovery to defendant with respect to: (1) his request for admissions, (2) his interrogatories and (3) his requests for production of documents. As to the request for admissions, the motion is unnecessary because if the requests for admissions are properly served, the requested matters for admission are deemed admitted if not timely denied. As to the interrogatories, the motion should be denied because the interrogatories are invalid because plaintiff did not sign them. On the copy of the interrogatories attached to the motion, there is no signature of plaintiff on his interrogatories as required by Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9011(a). Plaintiff will need to sign them before he can move to compel defendant to respond to them. As to the request for production of documents, the motion does not comply with Local Bankruptcy Rule 9026-1(c) because plaintiff has not submitted a discovery dispute stipulation to be completed by both parties as to their positions on the discovery dispute. Plaintiff appears to have met the requirement of a meet and confer request to defendant's counsel, to which there was apparently no response, but plaintiff still needs to submit the joint discovery dispute stipulation required by Local Bankruptcy Rule 7026-1(c). The court wants the parties to conduct a meet and confer meeting regarding the interrogatories and the request for production of documents once plaintiff signs the interrogatories. Appearances are required on 1/16/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#18.00 Hearing re: Motion allowing debtor's objections to proof of claim of Discover Bank & Western Federal Credit Union

Docket 234

Tentative Ruling:

No tentative ruling as of 1/12/18. It is unclear whether debtor as the moving papers is asking for reconsideration of the court's prior orders denying his motions objecting to claim or is asking that the trustee admit wrongdoing in administering the estate. There is no cause for reconsideration under FRBP 3008 and FRCP 60(b) since there is no mistake, inadvertence, surprise, excusable neglect, newly discovered evidence or other grounds for relief since the claims were withdrawn and the objections were moot, and this has not changed. There is no basis to request or order the trustee to admit any kind of wrongdoing. Appearances are required on 1/16/18, but counsel and self-represented parties may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures (posted online on the court's website).

No updated tentative ruling as of 1/12/18. Appearances are required on 1/16/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Grant trustee's motion for turnover of the subject property for the reasons stated in the moving papers since the subject property is property of the bankruptcy estate under the trustee's supervision pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 541(a) and 704(a). Debtor's arguments lack merit. To the extent that debtor seeks stay pending appeal of the state court judgment, it is not properly raised in the opposition, and it is not properly raised in this court since the appeal is pending in the state court system. Grant motion to dismiss first amended motion for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6) and 9(b) because movant has not pleaded a plausible claim for "fraud on the court" to add additional judgment debtors due to lack of particularity of the allegations of fraud in the so-called "Complete Agreement" for which no particular allegations are made and are impermissibly conclusory bereft of any specific allegations of fact, and that the factual allegations of the so-called indicia of control in paragraph 24 of the first amended motion do not make out a plausible claim of fraud on the court based on control usurping the trustee's authority to supervise the state court litigation. Chapter 7

#28.00 Hearing re: Chapter 7 trustee's motion to approve compromise of controversy

Docket 29

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/12/18. The court has concerns about the sufficiency of the record in order for the court to grant the motion to approve compromise under the applicable fair and equitable standard set forth in In re A & C Properties, 784 F.2d 1377 (9th Cir. 1986). Debtor objects to the compromise on grounds that it is not reasonable because it undervalues the estate's interests in community property of her and her former spouse and that : (1) the former spouse must agree to pay his one-half share of community credit card debt of $17,195.75, or $8,597.88; (2) the estate is entitled to half of the appreciation on the family residence of $568,000, or $284,000; (3) the estate is entitled to one-half of the Phelan property of $250,000, or $300,000; and (4) the estate is entitled to one-half of the former spouse's client trust account of $50,000, or $25,000.

As to debtor's first objection as to allocation of community credit card debt, the former spouse's liability for the credit card debt is really a matter for the family law court rather than this court since he is not the debtor in this bankruptcy case, and the court does not have jurisdiction to impose such liability on him. As to considerations of fairness of the compromise regarding the credit card debt, that is really for the family law court to decide.

As to the dispute regarding the computation of the debtor's community property interest in the family residence, there is insufficient information and explanation of the computation offered by the former spouse and relied upon by trustee. The explanation in the former spouse's trial brief filed in the family law court is conclusory and not substantiated by evidence or citation to case authority, so it is difficult for the court to analyze the merits of the justification offered by the trustee to compromise the value of the estate's interest in this property (i.e., what is the valuation of the property now - it is unclear if the parties agree on valuation since the former spouse looks to the value of the property and debtor looks to the value of appreciation, but there is no appraisal or valuation opinion by an appraiser or real estate professional for the current value of the property, how do we know how to allocate the appreciation of the property between separate property and community property after the transfer to the living trust).

As to the dispute over the Phelan property, debtor claims that the property is worth $300,000, but it is unclear that this is the value of the entire property as opposed to the 1/6 interest of her and her former spouse. The former spouse contends that the estate has no value in this asset because he owned the property before marriage and there was no transmutation in the transfer to the living trust. There is no appraisal or valuation opinion by an appraiser or real estate professional for the current value of the property, and there is no copy of the living trust instrument to see how the property was characterized when it was transferred to the trust.

As to the former spouse's client trust accounts, it may be that debtor means the retirement accounts, which he proposes to be allocated between the "time rule." However, if debtor really meant the client trust accounts, there is no explanation that the estate or the former spouse has any interest in funds presumably on deposit for the benefit of his clients in the client trust account.

As to the proposed 100% payoff of creditor claims if the settlement is approved as demonstrating the paramount interest of creditors under A & C Properties, but in a surplus situation like this, it would seem to the court that the fairness and equity of the settlement under FRBP 9019 should also take in consideration the impact on the debtor's interest. Trustee should be prepared to address this concern with appropriate case authority.

Debtor provided a judge's copy of the opposition which does not separately tabbed the exhibits as required by LBR 5005-2(d), and while the court has read the opposition, the court will not consider the exhibits until debtor provides a compliant copy of the opposition with separately tabbed exhibits. Appearances are required on 1/16/18.

#6.10 Hearing re: Stipulation between trustee and debtor regarding estate's interest in personal property

Docket 34

Tentative Ruling:

Approve stipulation of trustee, debtor and his entity, Spuyten, for the reasons stated in the moving and reply papers, but with the provision that it is without prejudice to the right of creditor BL2 Inc. to make the appropriate motion to determine that a certain Mary Corse painting is not property of the estate. The creditor seeking some sort of affirmative relief should bring its own motion for such relief rather than just raising it in an objection to the stipulation. The stipulation only determines rights as between trustee, debtor and his entity, Spuyten, and does not provide for any sale of assets of the estate and does not affect the rights of third parties, such as creditor. #7.00 Hearing re: United States Trustee's motion under 11 U.S.C. §1112(b)(1) to convert, dismiss or appoint a chapter 11 trustee with an order directing payment of quarterly fees and for judgment thereon

Docket 36

Tentative Ruling:

If the court determines that cause is shown under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(H), the court must consider and decide whether conversion, dismissal or trustee appointment is in the best interests of creditors and the estate under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(1). In re Sullivan, 522 B.R. 604, 612 (9th Cir. BAP 2014). However, there are conflicting positions among creditors regarding whether the case should be dismissed, converted to Chapter 7, or a trustee appointed in the best interests of creditors and the estate and the United States Trustee has no recommendation as between dismissal or conversion. One creditor, the judgment creditor Second Generation, Inc., contends that trustee appointment or conversion is in the best interests of creditors and the estate because the creditors supporting dismissal are sham creditors and debtor's schedules and monthly operating reports reflect an unexplained dissipation of about $240,000 in bank deposits shortly after petition date. The creditors supporting dismissal assert that they are owed large amounts and that conversion or trustee appointment will not allow the debtor to continue to operate to generate business revenue to pay them back. In making its determination of what is in the best interests of creditors and the estate, it is not simply a matter of the majority vote of creditors or which is largest and most vocal creditor, but what is in the best interests of all creditors. In re Sullivan, 522 B.R. at 612-613. The court believes that in fairness to the parties that it should conduct an evidentiary hearing if cause is found to determine whether it should dismiss or convert the case or appoint a trustee and hear testimony and receive evidence from debtor and creditors and interested parties, such as the United States Trustee, to resolve the contentions of the disputing parties on dismissal, conversion or trustee appointment (i.e., whether the allegedly suspect creditors which support dismissal have bona fide claims, whether debtor has an explanation for the alleged postpetition dissipation of its bank deposits). Appearances are required on 1/17/18, but counsel may appear by telephone. The court will set a schedule for the evidentiary hearing after considering the views and pretrial needs of the parties, including discovery.

Sustain trustee's objections to Ahumibe Declaration for lack of foundation. Movants will have to prove their entitlement to the funds in the escrow account in this contested matter because there is insufficient evidence that the funds belong to them as exempt sale proceeds relating to a sale of a prepetition asset of theirs which may be otherwise part of the bankruptcy estate of their personal bankruptcy case, and the trustee of movants' personal bankruptcy case may have to be joined as a party to this contested matter. Docket 30

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/12/18. Off calendar. The hearing is vacated pursuant to stipulation and order for settlement of the motion of the United States Trustee for attorney fee disgorgement. No appearances are required on 1/19/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as a contested matter under Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9014 since there are material factual issues regarding the parties' contentions, such as whether the former attorney's representation was part of a unified scheme to defeat the landlord's unlawful detainer action in state court and whether some fees collected by the former attorney are attributable to his representation of debtor in the prebankruptcy unlawful detainer action. It appears that former attorney's strategy to file the Chapter 11 bankruptcy case to hinder or delay the landlord was not devised until debtor lost the unlawful detainer case on 2/9/17, though it does not help that the former attorney did not submit a copy of the attorney fee agreement covering the state court litigation services that he is claiming are not part of the bankruptcy representation and that the retainer agreement for the bankruptcy representation was dated 3/13/17. The record is unclear whether there was an unified scheme to defeat any unlawful detainer judgment to file a bankruptcy case because the former attorney contemplating losing the unlawful detainer case in advance of the unlawful detainer trial, which may not be the case, and if not, most of the fees were collected before the unlawful detainer trial, where the outcome was then unknown, suggesting that the fees were incurred to litigate that matter and not any prospective bankruptcy case. It appears that the fees attributable to the bankruptcy representation should be disgorged as argued by the United States Trustee because the former attorney did not enter into any written agreement for such services until 3/13/17, a month after he filed the bankruptcy petition for debtor, that he did not promptly seek, and did not obtain, authorization of employment as general bankruptcy counsel for debtor, and that the bankruptcy case was filed in bad faith simply to hinder or delay enforcement of the landlord's unlawful detainer judgment for eviction. Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/22/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court has reviewed the joint status report and intends to discuss scheduling of further proceedings in this adversary proceeding in light of substitution of counsel for defendants. Appearances are required on 1/23/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/27/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court has reviewed the joint status report and intends to discuss scheduling of further proceedings in this adversary proceeding, specifically to discuss whether they can be coordinated with further proceedings in the related adversary proceedings involving debtor's insiders and Microland and the scheduling of defendants' motion for summary judgment. Appearances are required on 11/28/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 4/10/17. The court has reviewed the joint status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 4/11/17 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, including possible coordination with litigation in Rund v. Prior tentative ruling as of 7/18/16. The court has reviewed the joint status report, noting the hearings on the pending motions to dismiss the first amended complaint on 7/26/16 at 3:00 p.m., and continues the status conference to the date and time of the hearings on the motions to dismiss the first amended complaint on 7/26/16 at 3:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 7/19/16

Prior tentative ruling as of 4/11/16. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 4/12/16.

Prior tentative ruling as of 4/4/16 at 5:30 p.m. Off calendar. Continued on the court's own motion to 4/12/16 at 2:30 p.m. since the hearing on the motion to dismiss is continued to that date and time. No appearances are required on 4/5/16.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/7/16. ff calendar. Continued by separate order on the court's own motion for further briefing to 4/5/16 at 3:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 3/8/16.

Prior tentative ruling. In light of defendants' pending motion to dismiss or for more definite statement noticed for hearing on 3/8/16 at 3:00 p.m., the court continues the status conference to that date and time on its own motion since the determination of that motion may affect the status of the adversary proceeding. #11.00 Hearing re: Objection of chapter 7 trustee to debtor's homestead exemption

Tentative Ruling:

Treat as a contested matter under FRBP 9014 and set for an evidentiary hearing. The court will set a short evidentiary hearing to allow the parties to submit and establish a factual record for the court's ruling and for possible appellate review. It appears that debtor as the party claiming the exemption under California law has the burden of proving entitlement to the exemption. In re Diaz, 547 B.R. 329, 337 (9th Cir. BAP 2016), citing inter alia, Raleigh v. Illinois Department of Revenue, 530 U.S. 15, 20-21 (2000); but see, In re Carter, 182 F.3d 1027, 1029 n. 3 (9th Cir. 1999); FRBP 4003(c). The court understands that the trustee relies upon BAP authority in In re Glass, 164 B.R. 759, 761 (9th Cir. BAP 1994) to argue that the exemption should be denied because debtor's transfer to his spouse was voluntary and recovered by the trustee or concealed, but this court considers BAP opinions to be persuasive only and not controlling. In re Arnold, 471 B.R. 578, 588-590 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012). The court believes that there should be a clear factual record for its ruling and possible appellate review and will set the matter for evidentiary hearing, at which time the parties should submit their exhibits and call witnesses for testimony (i.e., the record is unclear as to the various transmigrations of the subject property). Appearances are required on 2/23/18 to discuss scheduling, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Docket 185

 VACATED  REASON: Cont'd from 1/23/18 to 3/6/18 at 3:00 p.m. per stip & order entered on 1/4/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/22/18. Continued by stipulation and order to 3/6/18 at 3:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 1/23/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Deny plaintiff's motion for partial summary judgment because there are genuine issues of material fact for trial raised by evidence before the court on the motion, i.e., defendants raise material issues of fact regarding the effect of the stipulation and term sheet between debtor, the committee, defendants Ace Museum and Douglas Christmas, approved by order of the court in one of the consolidated adversary proceedings, for which there are reasonable, but conflicting, inferences on how to construe these documents as to whether the museum's loan by debtor was satisfied pursuant to the stipulation, term sheet and performance thereon. The court determines that it is not appropriate for it to resolve these conflicting inferences by granting plaintiff declaratory relief to vacate the stipulation and order thereon based on its reply or by the court sua sponte. Although the court could conceivably grant such relief for relief from judgment or order, the court strongly believes that such relief should be considered through the adversary process where all interested parties may respond and be heard, and to this end, if plaintiff seeks such relief, it may make an appropriate motion with notice and opportunity to be heard by the affected parties. The court need

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/22/18. Continued by stipulation and order to 3/6/18 at 3:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 1/23/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/27/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 11/28/17 to discuss scheduling of the evidentiary hearing on the motion, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The court intends to set an evidentiary hearing on plaintiff's motion for preliminary injunction and will treat the hearing as a status conference to discuss scheduling. As the party seeking preliminary injunctive relief, plaintiff has the burden of persuasion for such relief, and "[b]ecause a preliminary injunction is an extraordinary remedy, courts require the movant to carry its burden of persuasion by a " 'clear showing.'" 3 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, ¶¶ 13:159 and 13:159.1 at 13-87 (Ninth Circuit and California edition 2017), citing, West Point-Pepperill, Inc. v. Donovan, 689 F.2d 950, 956 (11th Cir. 1982); Mazurek v. Armstrong, 520 U.S. 968, 972 (1997); and Towery v. Brewer, 672 F.3d 650, 657 (9th Cir. 2012). The court is of the opinion that it should conduct an evidentiary hearing and take live testimony in this case because "[i]t may be an abuse of discretion to refuse live testimony where facts are bitterly contested and credibility determinations must be made to decide whether injunctive relief should issue." 3 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, ¶ 13:163 at 13-87 – 13-88, citing, McDonald's

Corp. v. Robertson, 147 F.3d 1301, 1312 (11th Cir. 1998); Charette v. Town of Oyster Bay, 159 F.3d 749, 755 (2nd Cir. 1998); Cobell v. Norton, 391 F.3d 251, 261 (D.C. Cir. 2004)("circumstances and interests at stake" determine whether abbreviated or more extensive evidentiary hearing required). The amounts at issue (approximately $4.9 million in unauthorized payments of debtor's funds claimed by plaintiff to have been made to defendant 400 S. LaBrea, LLC), the severity of the restrictions on alienation of the subject property and use of revenue derived therefrom proposed in plaintiff's motion and the factual allegations of the parties are bitterly contested all indicate "circumstances and interests at stake" that the court should conduct an evidentiary hearing on the motion. Id.; see also, 3 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, ¶ 13:163.1 at 13-88, citing inter alia, Aguirre v. Chula Vista Sanitary Service & Sani-Tainer, Inc., 542 F.2d 779, 781 (9th Cir. 1976).

The factual and legal issues contested on the motion center on the applicability of the Ninth Circuit's recent decision and opinions in Matter of Walldesign, Inc., 872 F.3d 954, 963 (9th Cir. 2017) regarding the reiteration of the adoption of the so-called "dominion" test to determine whether a transferee is an "initial" or "intermediate or mediate" transferee under 11 U.S.C. § 550(a)(1) or (2). As the majority stated in Walldesign, "[u]nder the dominion test, "a transferee is one who ... has dominion over the money or other asset,"—in other words, one with "the right to put the money to one's own purposes." 872 F.3d at 963, citing, In re Mortgage Store, Inc., 773 F.3d 990, 995 (9th Cir. 2014), quoting, In re Incomnet, Inc., 463 F.3d 1064, 1070 (9th Cir. 2006). The Walldesign majority further stated: "The 'key[s]' to this test are "'whether the recipient of funds has legal title to them' and whether the recipient has 'the ability to use [the funds] as he sees fit.'" Id., quoting, In re Incomnet, Inc., 463 F.3d at 1071. The majority further stated: "We further explained that, "an individual will have dominion over a transfer if, for example, he is 'free to invest the whole [amount] in lottery tickets or uranium stocks'" and "The first party to establish dominion over the funds after they leave the transferor is the initial transferee; other transferees are subsequent transferees." Id., quoting, In re Bonded Financial Services, Inc. v. European American Bank, 838 F.2d 890, 894 (7th Cir. 1988) (citations omitted). The parties dispute whether the evidence offered by plaintiff "clearly shows" that defendant 400 S. LaBrea, LLC is the initial transferee of the funds of debtor paid on behalf of defendant Ace Museum as rent (i.e., whether the funds transferred by debtor to Ace Museum through loans or otherwise gave Ace Museum dominion over the funds, and whether such loan is now cancelled through a settlement, either of these circumstances would show that Ace Museum was the initial transferee and 400 S. LaBrea, LLC as the mediate or intermediate transferee, and whether as a mediate or intermediate transferee, 400 S. LaBrea, LLC, received the transfers in good faith and for value).

Moreover, the parties dispute whether the evidence "clearly shows" whether "it is fair to view [400 LaBrea, LLC] as the initial transferee[] since [it] 'receive[d] funds directly from [the] debtor, and thus, [its] 'capacity [and burden] to monitor . . . [were] at [their] greatest.'" In re Walldesign, Inc., 872 F.3d at 968, quoting, In re Video Depot, Ltd., 127 F.3d 1195, 1199 (9th Cir. 1997). This passage from the majority opinion in Walldesign suggests that whether a transferee had "indications" of irregularities in the subject transfers is relevant to the inquiry of whether a transferee is "initial" or "intermediate." The parties dispute whether defendant 400 S. LaBrea, LLC knew or had reason to know that the transfers were improper transfers from the debtor, thus indicating that an evidentiary hearing is needed to determine whether plaintiff has met his burden of persuasion clearly showing entitlement to relief.

An evidentiary hearing is also needed to determine the degree of irreparable harm to plaintiff and the prejudice to other parties, including 400 S. LaBrea, LLC, in that there are wide disparities in the positions of the parties as to the degree of harm which would be suffered if relief were or were not granted, and how the party adversely affected by the granting or denial of relief would be protected, such as a bond if relief were granted to protect 400 S. LaBrea, LLC, which asserts the need for a $4.8 million bond from plaintiff to protect it from potential damages from the relief sought.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/20/17. Appearances are required on 3/22/17.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/6/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court has concerns regarding the propriety of a "structured" dismissal (called "conditional" dismissal in the moving papers), i.e., whether the record is sufficient to warrant deviation from the normal procedures expressly provided in the Bankruptcy Code, i.e., a liquidating plan, case conversion or straight dismissal without conditions, or whether more broadly, whether structured dismissals are permitted at all, which may be at issue before the Supreme Court in In re Jevic Holding Corp., 787 F.3d 173 (3rd Cir. 2015), cert. granted, *Czyzewski v. Chapter 11

#5.00 Cont'd hearing re: Disclosure statement
fr. 8/16/17, 11/15/17, 12/6/17

Docket 94

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/22/18. The amended disclosure statement is deficient and needs to be revised. First and foremost, no plan was attached to the disclosure statement, including Exhibits A and B, as well as the recently approved stipulation and order between debtor and secured creditor Christiana Trust. If debtor meant to attach the Plan last filed on 9/1/16, it should be updated to be accompany the amended disclosure statement. The court agrees with the objections of creditor Umbrella Investment Group that the amended disclosure statement lacks adequate information, including basic information about payment of general unsecured claims, how, what amounts and when. The last filed plan on 9/1/16 stated that general unsecured claims will be paid 100% and that debtor has rental income of $8,300, but no information is provided as to how, when and what means to implement the plan, so creditors can evaluate feasibility. Financial projections of income and expense for the duration of the plan term are missing and should have been provided. Perhaps debtor's use of the form disclosure statement should be jettisoned, and debtor should use a narrative disclosure statement in plain English to describe what he proposes to the creditors in his plan. Appearances are required on 1/24/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/4/17. Pending before the court is debtor's amendment to disclosure statement filed on 9/1/16, which has been noticed for hearing on 12/5/17. This amendment amends the original disclosure statement filed on 11/17/15. The original disclosure statement of 11/17/15 looks like a disclosure statement whereas the amendment filed on 9/1/16 does not. The amendment looks like an add-on amendment and does not contain sufficient information to constitute a disclosure statement that the court could approve and allow to be sent out to creditors. Debtor will have to draft an updated disclosure statement that is self-contained in order for the plan to be considered by the court and creditors, and thus, the court will deny approval of the 9/1/16 amendment as debtor's disclosure statement.

Appearances are required on 12/5/17 to discuss how long it will take debtor to revise his disclosure statement, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/13/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court has reviewed debtor's notice that tax returns have been prepared and filed, and the court expects to discuss debtor's plans for filing an amended disclosure statement. Appearances are required on 11/15/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/14/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 8/16/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/6/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Debtor was to address accountant's opinion regarding tax consequences of proposed property sales. Appearances are required on 3/8/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/9/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 1/11/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/14/16. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 11/16/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 9/19/16. Debtor will need to address United States Trustee's objection regarding the estimates of income taxes needed to cover capital gains liability, but it appears that the amended disclosure statement is otherwise approvable, despite the United States Trustee's style suggestion, which the court does not agree with. Appearances are required on 9/21/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/27/16. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 5/31/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/16/16. No tentative ruling on the merits.

Appearances are required on 5/18/16 to address the objections of the United States Trustee and objecting creditors, but counsel (other than debtor's counsel) may appear by telephone. Debtor should be prepared to discuss the treatment of each class of creditors since the proposed plan does not make it clear (e.g., 10 monthly payments for a number of classes, but no balloon payment stated). Perhaps debtor would have an easier time in not using the optional Chapter 11 form plan and disclosure statement and prepare a manually generated plan and disclosure statement and stating the proposed terms of the plan in a narrative.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/14/16. No tentative ruling on the merits.

Appearances are required on 3/16/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. No tentative ruling on the merits. Debtor to address objections of United States Trustee and creditors to draft disclosure statement regarding adequacy of information. The source of funding of plan is unclear. No historical financial data or projections are provided, which should be provided for each property as well as the debtor's business and living expenses. Since it appears that this is probably a cramdown plan situation due to the dispute over appropriate interest rates on secured claims, Debtor should be prepared to discuss how he will prove the appropriate cramdown rates of interest (i.e., is debtor submitting expert witness opinion testimony on interest rates?) . Appearances are required on 1/13/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#10.10 Cont'd hearing re: Motion to use cash collateral stipulation with Pacific City Bank
fr. 12/13/17, 1/10/18

Docket 37

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/23/18. No tentative ruling. Debtor lodged proposed orders on the cash collateral stipulations with Prime Business Credit, Inc., and Pacific City Bank, providing for subordination of Pacific City Bank's superpriority claim to Prime's, but there is no indication of consent to the proposed order by Pacific City Bank since there is no sign off on the lodged orders by, or proof of service of the lodged orders on, Pacific City Bank, so the court cannot confirm that the lodged orders are consented to by Pacific City Bank. Appearances are required on 1/24/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

No updated tentative ruling as of 1/22/18. Appearances are required on 1/24/18 to discuss status of discussions between debtor and secured lenders regarding language of proposed orders regarding priority of superpriority claims, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/8/18. The court is inclined to approve the cash collateral stipulation for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written objection. Movant needs to clarify that which secured creditor, Prime Business Credit, Inc., or Pacific City Bank, has greater priority on its superpriority claim since the cash collateral stipulations are conflicting since each gives the one creditor a superpriority over all other claims, including the other creditor's superpriority claim. Appearances are required on 1/10/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Service of motion to approve cash collateral stipulation is deficient because movant did not serve the 20 largest unsecured creditors pursuant to FRBP 4001(d)(1)(C) and 1007(d). #1.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(U.S. Bank Trust N.A. VS Debtor)
fr. 11/28/17, 1/9/18

Docket 60

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Grant request for extraordinary relief in paragraph 3 regarding negotiations to enter into a potential forbearance agreement. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and available in hard copy in the courtroom. If movant does not appear, the court will assume that movant submits on the tentative ruling, which the court will adopt unless another party appears, which may result in setting a continued hearing.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/8/18. Appearances are required on 1/9/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Deny motion for stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (2) as movant fails to provide any evidence of valuation to meet its burden of showing debtors' lack of equity in the subject property under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(1).

Deny motion for stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) as movant fails to provide any evidence to support a basis for relief either multiple bankruptcy filings or unconsented to transfers. As alleged in paragraph 6 of the motion, the only evidence of an "unconsented to:" transfer was the 2004 grant deed transferring the title "to" debtors, not "from" them, which does not support any claim under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) since among other things, this 2004 deed predates movant's 2006 trust deed.

Deny request for stay relief from the co-debtor stay of 11 U.S.C. 1201(a) or 1301(a) since the co-debtor stay does not exist in a Chapter 7 bankruptcy case such as this one, and so there is no co-debtor stay to obtain relief from.

Deny requests for extraordinary relief under paragraphs 8 and 10 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009).

The moving papers are so seriously deficient that it indicates a level of practice below what is expected of practitioners before this court and that either signing counsel did not sufficiently read, review and proofread these papers, or staff who prepared the papers for counsel is not sufficiently trained, or both.

Appearances are required on 11/28/17.

#6.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Seterus, Inc. VS Debtor)

Docket 14

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and available in hard copy in the courtroom. If movant does not appear, the court will assume that movant submits on the tentative ruling, which the court will adopt unless another party appears, which may result in setting a continued hearing.

Docket 10

 VACATED  REASON: Cont'd from 1/30/18 to 3/27/18 at 11:00 a.m.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 3/27/18 at 11:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 1/30/18.

Revised tentative ruling as of 11/27/17. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 1/30/18 at 10:30 a.m. No appearances are required on 11/28/17.

Prior tentative ruling. As indicated in debtor's response of non-opposition to the motion, It appears that the subject property is not property of the estate since there was a marital dissolution judgment in 2010 between debtor and her former spouse, which allocated the property to the former spouse as his separate property in the their division of marital property. Thus, the motion should be granted under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) for cause since the property does not appear to be property of the estate. #10.10 Cont'd hearing re: Motion of plaintiff/creditor James Lee Clark for an order compelling discovery and sanctions against defendant/debtor Rita Ellison-Farris fr. 1/16/18

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 1/30/18.

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/12/18. Plaintiff moves to compel discovery to defendant with respect to: (1) his request for admissions, (2) his interrogatories and (3) his requests for production of documents. As to the request for admissions, the motion is unnecessary because if the requests for admissions are properly served, the requested matters for admission are deemed admitted if not timely denied. As to the interrogatories, the motion should be denied because the interrogatories are invalid because plaintiff did not sign them. On the copy of the interrogatories attached to the motion, there is no signature of plaintiff on his interrogatories as required by Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9011(a). Plaintiff will need to sign them before he can move to compel defendant to respond to them. As to the request for production of documents, the motion does not comply with Local Bankruptcy Rule 9026-1(c) because plaintiff has not submitted a discovery dispute stipulation to be completed by both parties as to their positions on the discovery dispute. Plaintiff appears to have met the requirement of a meet and confer request to defendant's counsel, to which there was apparently no response, but plaintiff still needs to submit the joint discovery dispute stipulation required by Local Bankruptcy Rule 7026-1(c). The court wants the parties to conduct a meet and confer meeting regarding the interrogatories and the request for production of documents once plaintiff signs the interrogatories. Appearances are required on 1/16/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/29/17. Off calendar. The court has reviewed plaintiff's unilateral status report and noted that the docket reflects that default has been entered against defendant Shetabi on the third amended complaint. The court on its own motion continues the status conference for about 60 days to 3/27/18 at 1:30 p.m. to allow time for plaintiff to file a renewed motion for entry of default judgment. Prior tentative ruling as of 6/20/16. The court has reviewed the joint status report of some of the parties appearing in this matter, including the attached statement of the Burris Parties, as well as the separate status statement of Eric Herrera.

The court also notes the parties used an obsolete version of the Joint Status Report form from December 2012, and in the future, the parties should use the current version of the form adopted in December 2015. The new joint status report form solicits the parties' positions as to whether they consent to the bankruptcy court's determination of noncore claims in light of Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594 (2011), Executive Benefits Insurance Agency v. Arkison, 134 S.Ct. 2165 (2014) and Wellness International Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015). If consent of all parties is given, the bankruptcy court will enter a final judgment, but if consent of all parties is not given, then the court will issue proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law for de novo review by the district court. Id.

Appearances are required on 6/21/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/8/2014. Off calendar. The court has issued an order vacating the hearings and taking the matters under submission.

Revised tentative ruling as of 12/2/14. Off calendar. The court continues the status conference on its motion to 12/9/14 at 2:00 p.m. due to congestion on the court's calendar, its continuing deliberation on the various dismissal motions. and the inclement weather today. Docket 1 per order entered on 1/24/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. Off calendar. Because the court takes the pending motions under submission, is continuing review of the papers, the court on its own motion has issued an order continuing the status conference to 2/27/18 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 1/30/17.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/18/17. Off calendar. Because the court takes the pending motions under submission and vacates the hearings on the motions, the court has issued an order further continuing the status conference to 1/30/18 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 12/19/17.

Prior tentative ruling as of 10/10/17. Off calendar. Because the court takes the pending motions under submission and vacates the hearings on the motions, the court vacates the pretrial conference on 10/11/17, but sets a further status conference for 11/28/17 at 1:30 p.m.

ses with further oral argument, vacates the hearing on 10/11/17 and takes the motion under submission. A written ruling will be issued shortly. No appearances are required on 10/11/17.

Updated tentative ruling as of 10/10/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 10/11/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Revised tentative ruling as of 9/25/17. Off calendar. The court determines that it needs more time to review the papers relating to the parties' motions and is issuing an order continuing the hearings and the pretrial conference for 2 weeks to 10/11/17 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 9/27/17.

Updated tentative ruling as of 8/28/17. Off calendar. At the hearing on plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment on 8/23/17, the court orally continued the pretrial conference to 9/27/17 at 1:30 p.m. to be conducted with the further hearing on the summary judgment motion. No appearances are required on 8/29/17.

Prior tentative ruling as of 6/26/17. The court has reviewed plaintiffs' unilateral pretrial stipulation and counsel declaration filed on 6/26/17. The court notes that neither party timely filed a joint pretrial stipulation by the deadline of 6/20/17 as previously ordered. Reserving a ruling on imposing sanctions for their noncompliance with the court's prior order, the court will order the parties to meet and confer to prepare a joint pretrial stipulation and will continue the pretrial conference to a date when they can first comply with the requirements of Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1 in submitting a joint pretrial stipulation. Appearances are required on 6/27/17.

Prior tentative ruling. This matter will be heard on the 3:30 p.m. calendar with the hearing on defendant's motion to dismiss. Appearances are required at 3:30 p.m. rather than 1:30 p.m. No tentative ruling on the merits.

Docket 1

 VACATED  REASON: Continued to 3/6/18 at 1:30 p.m. per notice filed on 1/25/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. Off calendar. The court has approved the settlement between the parties by order entered in the main bankruptcy case. The court on its own motion continues the status conference to 3/6/18 at 1:30 p.m. to allow the parties to consummate the settlement and submit a dispositive stipulation and order to resolve this adversary proceeding. No appearances are required on 1/30/18, but counsel and defendant representing herself may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures (posted online on the court's website). The court orders counsel for trustee to give notice of continuance of the status conference to defendant.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/14/17. Set discovery completion date of 12/31/17 and set a further status conference for 1/30/18 at 1:30 p.m. Order the matter to mediation under the court's mediation program, and parties to file a request for selection of mediator and alternate by 9/15/17 and to complete mediation by 1/30/18. Appearances are required on 8/15/17, but counsel may appear by telephone. Plaintiff is ordered to submit a proposed scheduling order setting forth the court's rulings within 7 days of hearing.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/30/18. Adversary proceeding is resolved by stipulation and order, and the court discharges the order to show cause. No appearances are required on 1/30/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. Defendant filed a notice of settlement on 1/5/18, and the parties have submitted a stipulation for judgment and a proposed order, which was rejected by the court because the proposed order did not reflect any terms of a judgment or other disposition of the adversary proceeding. Appearances are required on 1/30/18 to discuss the proposed disposition of the adversary proceeding, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/4/17. Set pretrial conference for 1/30/18 at 2:00 p.m. and deadline for filing joint pretrial stipulation for 1/23/18 pursuant to LBR 7016-1. Appearances are required on 12/5/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Set discovery completion date of 11/30/17 and set a post-discovery status conference for 12/5/17 at 1:30 p.m. Order the matter to mediation under the court's mediation program, and parties to file a request for selection of mediator and alternate by 8/31/17 and to complete mediation by 12/5/17. Docket 17

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 1/30/18 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as contested matter under FRBP 9014 because the declarations of the witnesses in support of the moving and opposing papers raise material issues of fact to be resolved in an evidentiary hearing. Treat the hearing on 11/30/17 as a status conference to set a pretrial and trial schedule. The court will not take testimony from witnesses on a law and motion hearing calendar on 11/30/17, and the parties may not call their witnesses to testify on 11/30/17. The court estimates that the evidentiary hearing will take one day and will schedule it for either January or February 2018. If the United States Trustee believes that there are no genuine issues of material fact and he is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, he may seek summary judgment upon a proper motion brought pursuant to FRBP 7056 and 9014 and LBR 7056-1. Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 1/31/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/14/17. The court has reviewed plan agent's status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 8/16/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

No updated tentative ruling as of 5/16/17. Appearances are required on 5/17/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

No updated tentative ruling as of 2/13/17. Appearances are required on 2/15/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the plan agent's postconfirmation status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court is interested in hearing from the plan agent and the parties regarding the status of plan implementation in light of the current administrative insolvency of the case, including the ability of reorganized debtor to fund continuing operations, possible resolution of plan defaults from inability and failure of the estate/reorganized debtor to pay allowed administrative expense claims now due, and the status of settlement discussions with the Wilshire property landlord and art consignor creditors. Appearances are required on 9/21/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Chapter 11

#5.00 Status conference re: Post confirmation of chapter 11 plan
fr. TD, 5/3/17, 5/31/17, 9/27/17

Docket 51

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 1/31/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 9/25/17. Appearances are required on 9/27/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

No tentative ruling as of 5/26/17. Appearances are required on 5/31/17.

Prior tentative ruling. Because the only votes on the plan were received after the deadline set by the court's balloting deadline of 3/22/17 in the court's order filed and entered on 2/15/17, none of the votes may be counted under the order and FRBP 3017(c) and 3018(a). Because none of the votes cast were timely in order to be counted under the court's deadline order, debtor has not shown that there is at least one impaired class of claims accepting the plan as required for confirmation under 11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(10), so the plan may not be confirmed. Thus, the court is inclined to deny confirmation, but the court would consider a request by debtor to seek relief by motion under FRBP 9006(b)(1) to enlarge the time to cast votes as to the late cast votes based on a sufficient showing of "excusable neglect". See In re Paul, 101
B.R. 228 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 1989). Appearances are required on 5/3/17.

Docket 57

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. The motion appears to be resolved by the settlement between movant and debtor. Appearances are required on 1/31/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

fr. 12/13/17, 1/10/18, 1/24/18

Docket 40

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. Off calendar. Based on counsel's supplemental declaration, the court has reviewed the proposed orders on the this cash collateral use stipulation and the related stipulation, which are consented to by Pacific City Bank, and has approved them. The further hearings on 1/31/18 are not necessary, and appearances are not required.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/23/18. No tentative ruling. Debtor lodged proposed orders on the cash collateral stipulations with Prime Business Credit, Inc., and Pacific City Bank, providing for subordination of Pacific City Bank's superpriority claim to Prime's, but there is no indication of consent to the proposed order by Pacific City Bank since there is no sign off on the lodged orders by, or proof of service of the lodged orders on, Pacific City Bank, so the court cannot confirm that the lodged orders are consented to by Pacific City Bank. Appearances are required on 1/24/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#2.00 TRIAL RE: Complaint for non-dischargeability of debt
fr. 8/22/17, 8/29/17, 11/30/17

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/24/18. No tentative ruling will be issued for trial. Appearances are required on 2/1/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 7/10/17. The court has reviewed the separate pretrial stipulations that the parties submitted, and it appears that pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(f) the court should impose sanctions of $250 against counsel and self-represented party each for their failure to jointly submit a pretrial stipulation without excuse as both are culpable in their noncompliance with the rule. Appearances are required on 7/11/17.

Prior tentative ruling. This matter will be heard on the 3:30 p.m. calendar with the hearing on defendant's motion to dismiss. Appearances are required at 3:30 p.m. rather than 1:30 p.m. No tentative ruling on the merits.

#1.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Caterpillar Financial Services Corp. VS Debtor)

Docket 22

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for cause since the Chapter 7 trustee has filed a no distribution report, no timely written opposition has been filed and there is no longer a bankruptcy purpose for keeping the stay in place as to this collateral. Deny stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) since movant has not offered admissible evidence of valuation of the collateral to meet its burden of proof under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(1) to demonstrate the lack of equity in debtor's interest in the collateral. Deny requests for extraordinary relief in paragraphs 3, 10 and 12 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009). The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

fr. 5/23/17, 8/29/17, 11/7/17

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. The court has reviewed the joint status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 2/6/18 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, including timing of amendment of pleadings, the proposed extended discovery cutoff date and the setting of a pretrial conference, but counsel may appear by telephone. Defendants have demanded a jury trial, but the court will defer referral of the jury triable claims to the district court for jury trial until the pretrial conference which this court will conduct (unless defendant successfully moves the district court to withdraw the reference). Plaintiff's potential postpetition transfer claims are core claims within this court's jurisdiction and do not appear to be jury triable.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/6/17. The court has reviewed the joint status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 11/7/17 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, including mediation completion, extended discovery cutoff date and trial, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/28/17. The court has reviewed the joint status report. No tentative ruling on the merits, but grant joint request to extend the discovery cutoff date to 9/30/17. Appearances are required on 8/29/17 to discuss scheduling of a pretrial conference and the second mediation, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. Plaintiff lodged "[Proposed] Stipulated Pretrial Conference Order," which the court has rejected as deficient under LBR 7016-1 because of lack of signature of defendant's counsel, numerous typographical errors and failure to address all claims of second amended complaint. The document to be submitted first is a "Joint Pretrial Stipulation", and later an order approving that document if it is in proper form. Both parties have independent duties to participate in the preparation and filing of the pretrial conference documents under LBR 7016-1. Plaintiff filed "joint" witness list twice, but no "joint" exhibit list, but these documents have no indication that they are "joint" since no signature of defendant's counsel is provided. These documents do not excuse either party since there is no indication from defendant that defendant has met the requirements of submitting joint pretrial documents with plaintiff under LBR 7016-1. The parties should be prepared to discuss how the court should proceed with all non-dismissed claims alleged in plaintiff's second amended complaint. The court has orally indicated that the claims under 11 U.S.C. 727 should be tried first and that the claims under 11 U.S.C. 523 should be deferred until the state court appellate litigation has been completed on related claims (or the court should permissively abstain in favor of the state courts on the related claims). The parties should report on the status of the state court appellate litigation. The court is considering imposing sanctions of $250 against each counsel for their continued failures to submit documents that fully comply with the pretrial conference requirements of LBR 7016-1. Appearances are required on 2/6/18.

fr. 10/18/17, 11/29/17

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. The court notes that debtors filed an amended disclosure statement on 1/31/18, but there is no amended plan with the disclosure statement. Debtors should clarify if they are amending the plan. If they are proceeding with this amended disclosure statement, the plan should be attached to it when served on all required parties, and notice of hearing should be given in accordance with LBR 3017-1 (42 days notice), regardless of LBR 3017-2. Preliminarily, the court notes that not all of the concerns raised in the court's prior tentative rulings and repeated comments during prior hearings have been addressed regarding financial data of the husband's law practice for the past three years and the justification of the payment for the expenses of dependents, which are not provided in the amended disclosure statement. The court is considering dismissal of the case for failure to file a disclosure statement within the time fixed under the Bankruptcy Code or by order of the court pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(J). Cause exists for dismissal or conversion under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(J) because in this small business Chapter 11 case, debtors have failed to timely confirm their plan within 45 days of the filing of their plan on 11/23/16, that is, the deadline was 3/8/17, as required by 11 U.S.C. 1129(e) and 1121(e). If these concerns are not remedied, the court is considering dismissal of the case for failure to file a disclosure statement within the time fixed under the Bankruptcy Code or by order of the court pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(J). Appearances are required on 2/7/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/28/17. Debtors will need to address how they will resolve the concerns in the prior tentative ruling. Appearances are required on 11/29/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Deny approval of disclosure statement with leave to amend. The disclosure statement does not contain adequate information as follows: (1) the discussion in the disclosure statement saying that transfers of the properties were not fraudulent transfers will need to be amended to reflect the settlements; (2) there is no detailed statement of debtor's husband's business income which should be attached to the income and expense budget statement - the court requires three years of actual financial data of his law practice business, 2014-2017, saying he has $2500 gross and $500 expenses for $2000 net income is inadequate; (3) there is inadequate disclosure and justification of the nature and purpose of $750 for support of a dependent who does not live with debtors; (4) there is inadequate disclosure and justification of debtors' making three car payments for the two of them; (5) without justification of these deductions in the proposed plan and disclosure statement, debtors have more income to commit to the plan with a higher creditor dividend. fr. TD, 9/20/17, 10/18/17, 11/29/17

Tentative Ruling:

The court notes that debtors filed an amended disclosure statement on 1/31/18 for their first amended plan filed on 7/31/17. The court notes that not all of the concerns raised in the court's prior tentative rulings and repeated comments during prior hearings on debtors' disclosure statements have been addressed regarding financial data of the husband's law practice for the past three years and the justification of the payment for the expenses of dependents, which are not provided in the amended disclosure statement. The court is considering dismissal of the case for failure to file a disclosure statement within the time fixed under the Bankruptcy Code or by order of the court pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(J). Prior tentative ruling as of 8/28/17. The court has reviewed debtors' status report filed on 8/23/17. The court also notes that on 8/23/17, the United States Trustee filed a motion to dismiss or convert noticed for hearing on 9/20/17 on grounds that debtors have failed to notice their filed disclosure statement and plan for hearing and to pay quarterly United States Trustee fees. Given the age of the case, the court does not see any reason why the filed disclosure statement and plan have not been noticed for hearing to creditors and that the court should countenance further delay in this case due to such failure as well as the failure to pay quarterly fees. Appearances are required on 8/30/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#4.00 Cont'd hearing re: Debtor's motion to disallow claims of Cindy S. Magleby
fr. 12/13/17

Docket 390

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 2/7/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as contested matter under FRBP 9014 because the declarations of the witnesses in support of the moving and opposing papers raise material issues of fact to be resolved in an evidentiary hearing. Treat the hearing on 12/13/17 as a status conference to set a pretrial and trial schedule. The court will not take testimony from witnesses on a law and motion hearing calendar on 12/13/17, and the parties may not call their witnesses to testify on 12/13/17. If any party believes that there are no genuine issues of material fact and the party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, that party may seek summary judgment upon a proper motion brought pursuant to FRBP 7056 and 9014 and LBR 7056-1. If claimant believes that the court should permissively abstain from hearing this contested matter, then she should bring a proper motion for abstention rather than raising the request in her opposition to the objection. See In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166-1167 (9th Cir. 1990). However, it seems to the court that it could properly hear the objection to claim as a core proceeding under 28 U.S.C. 157(b)(2)(B) and not abstain under In re Conejo Enterprises, Inc., 96 F.3d 346 (9th Cir. 1996). Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. The court notes that debtor filed a second amended disclosure statement on 1/30/18, 8 days before the further hearing on 2/7/18. Creditor Banc of California filed a response on 1/31/18 objecting to debtor's noticing approval of the amended disclosure statement for the hearing on 2/7/18, citing the court's oral ruling that creditors should be given 3 weeks notice of hearing on an amended disclosure statement. Chapter 11

#11.00 Cont'd status conference re: Management of chapter 11 case
fr. 8/16/17, 11/15/17

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. The court has reviewed debtors' status report, and the court is inclined to set a further status report in 90 days. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 2/7/18 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed debtors' status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 11/15/17 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Chapter 11

#11.10 Cont'd hearing re: Motion in individual chapter 11 case for order authorizing use of cash collateral
fr. 1/31/18

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. The court is inclined to grant the motion since the objecting party does not have an interest in the cash collateral since there is no assignment of rents provision in its trust deed on the subject real property. Appearances are required on 2/7/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as a contested matter under FRBP 9014 because there are factual issues regarding valuation of the subject property and whether the rents are cash collateral or not. Debtor argues that they are not cash collateral citing the trust deed instrument, but the court is unable to determine the merits of this argument since she does not provide the court with a copy. Appearances are required on 1/31/18 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

 VACATED  REASON: Cont'd from 2/13/18 to 3/6/18 at 2:30 p.m. per order entered on 2/9/18- st

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/12/18. Off calendar. The court has reviewed the joint status report and also notes on the case docket that there is a hearing on the motion of the alleged debtor to dismiss petitioning creditor's amended involuntary petition on 3/6/18 at 2:30 p.m., which may have an impact on scheduling in this case. Therefore, the court on its own motion continues the status conference to 2/27/18 at 2:30 p.m. to be conducted with the hearing on the motion to dismiss the amended petition. No appearances are required on 2/13/18.

Revised tentative ruling as of 12/11/17. Off calendar. The court determines that oral argument on the motion to dismiss is not necessary, dispenses with it, takes the motion under submission, vacates the hearing and status conference, and is entering a decision and an order on the motion. No appearances are required on 12/12/17.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the joint status report and on its own motion continues the status conference to 12/12/17 at 3:30 p.m. to be conducted with the hearing on alleged debtor's motion to dismiss. No appearances are required on 11/28/17.

Docket 1

 VACATED  REASON: Dismissed per stip & order entered on 2/12/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/12/18. Due to the failure of the parties to comply with the court's scheduling order of 12/7/17 and rulings at the status conference on 11/14/17, the court is inclined to continue the trial scheduled for 2/13/18 because the matter is not ready for trial. Plaintiff timely filed its witness list by the deadline of 1/19/18, but failed to file the trial declarations of its nonadverse cooperative witnesses, including its special account representative Stephanie Floyd, and failed to file its exhibit list as the court orally ruled at the status conference on 11/14/17 (the court notes that it signed the proposed scheduling order submitted by plaintiff which neglected to put in the deadline for plaintiff's exhibit list), which were also due on 1/19/18. Defendant failed to file the trial declarations of her nonadverse cooperative witnesses, including herself, failed to file her witness list, and failed to file her exhibit list as the court orally ruled at the status conference on 11/14/17 (the court notes that it signed the proposed scheduling order submitted by plaintiff which also neglected to put in the deadline for defendant's exhibit list), which were all due on 2/2/18. Appearances are required on 2/13/18 to discuss the lack of compliance with the court's scheduling order and rulings, to address whether sanctions should not be imposed against counsel for both sides who were present at the status conference on 11/14/17 for failure to comply with the court's order and rulings and to discuss deadlines for compliance with the court's scheduling order and rulings and rescheduling of trial, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#6.00 Cont'd status conference re: Post confirmation of plan
fr. RN, 4/26/17, 8/30/17, 11/8/17

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/12/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Regarding United States Trustee's limited opposition to motion to close case on an interim basis, debtor needs to address the objection regarding unpaid United States Trustee quarterly fees. Appearances are required on 2/14/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/6/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court notes that debtor filed a motion for order closing case on an interim basis with notice and opportunity for a hearing pursuant to LBR 9013-1(o). Debtor has not filed a declaration of non-opposition. The court is inclined to deny the motion without prejudice because there is no evidence in support of the assertions made in the motion. Appearances are required on 11/8/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/28/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 8/30/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 4/24/17. The court has reviewed debtor's postconfirmation status report, reporting he anticipates filing a motion for final decree within the next 90 days. #1.00 TRIAL RE: Objection of chapter 7 trustee to debtor's homestead exemption
fr. 1/23/18

Docket 101

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/8/18. No tentative ruling will be issued for the evidentiary hearing. Appearances are required on 2/15/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as a contested matter under FRBP 9014 and set for an evidentiary hearing. The court will set a short evidentiary hearing to allow the parties to submit and establish a factual record for the court's ruling and for possible appellate review. It appears that debtor as the party claiming the exemption under California law has the burden of proving entitlement to the exemption. In re Diaz, 547 B.R. 329, 337 (9th Cir. BAP 2016), citing inter alia, Raleigh v. Illinois Department of Revenue, 530 U.S. 15, 20-21 (2000); but see, In re Carter, 182 F.3d 1027, 1029 n. 3 (9th Cir. 1999); FRBP 4003 (c). The court understands that the trustee relies upon BAP authority in In re Glass, 164 B.R. 759, 761 (9th Cir. BAP 1994) to argue that the exemption should be denied because debtor's transfer to his spouse was voluntary and recovered by the trustee or concealed, but this court considers BAP opinions to be persuasive only and not controlling. In re Arnold, 471 B.R. 578, 588-590 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012). The court believes that there should be a clear factual record for its ruling and possible appellate review and will set the matter for evidentiary hearing, at which time the parties should submit their exhibits and call witnesses for testimony (i.e., the record is unclear as to the various transmigrations of the subject property). Appearances are required on 2/23/18 to discuss scheduling, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#2.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(2550 - Mill Cubed, LLC fka Southwest Industries VS Debtor)

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Deny requests for extraordinary relief in paragraphs 7, 9, 10 and 11 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009). The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

(USC §523(a)(2)(A)(6))
fr. 3/28/17, 5/30/17, 9/26/17

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/16/18. Off calendar. The court has reviewed the joint status report suggesting that the status conference be continued to May 2018 in light of the pending appeal in the related state court litigation where oral argument is estimated to be scheduled that month. The court on its own motion continues the status conference to 5/22/18 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 2/20/18.

Prior tentative ruling as 9/25/17. Off calendar. The court has reviewed the joint status report stating that the related state court appellate proceedings are still pending and that the status conference should be continued to February 2018. The court on its own motion continues the status conference to 2/20/18 at 1:30 p.m. Counsel for plaintiff is ordered to file and serve a notice of continuance of status conference. No appearances are required on 9/26/17.

Prior tentative ruling as 5/26/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 5/30/17 to update the status of the state appellate proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/27/17. The status conference will be delayed to 2:00 p.m. because the court has a commitment offsite at the lunch hour. The court has reviewed the joint status report discussing the status of the related proceedings before the state appellate court and requesting a continuance of the status conference pending the decision of the state appellate court. The court on its own motion continues the status conference to 9/26/17 at 1:30 p.m. and orders the parties to file a further joint status report by 9/19/17. No appearances are required on 3/28/17.

Chapter 11

#1.00 Cont'd hearing re: Disclosure statement
fr. 11/15/17, 12/6/17, 1/24/18

Docket 94

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/16/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 2/21/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/22/18. The amended disclosure statement is deficient and needs to be revised. First and foremost, no plan was attached to the disclosure statement, including Exhibits A and B, as well as the recently approved stipulation and order between debtor and secured creditor Christiana Trust. If debtor meant to attach the Plan last filed on 9/1/16, it should be updated to be accompany the amended disclosure statement. The court agrees with the objections of creditor Umbrella Investment Group that the amended disclosure statement lacks adequate information, including basic information about payment of general unsecured claims, how, what amounts and when. The last filed plan on 9/1/16 stated that general unsecured claims will be paid 100% and that debtor has rental income of $8,300, but no information is provided as to how, when and what means to implement the plan, so creditors can evaluate feasibility. Financial projections of income and expense for the duration of the plan term are missing and should have been provided. Perhaps debtor's use of the form disclosure statement should be jettisoned, and debtor should use a narrative disclosure statement in plain English to describe what he proposes to the creditors in his plan. Appearances are required on 1/24/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/4/17. Pending before the court is debtor's amendment to disclosure statement filed on 9/1/16, which has been noticed for hearing on 12/5/17. This amendment amends the original disclosure statement filed on 11/17/15. The original disclosure statement of 11/17/15 looks like a disclosure statement whereas the amendment filed on 9/1/16 does not. The amendment looks like an add-on amendment and does not contain sufficient information to constitute a disclosure statement that the court could approve and allow to be sent out to creditors. Debtor will have to draft an updated disclosure statement that is self-contained in order for the plan to be considered by the court and creditors, and thus, the court will deny approval of the 9/1/16 amendment as debtor's disclosure statement. Appearances are required on 12/5/17 to discuss how long it will take debtor to revise his disclosure statement, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/13/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court has reviewed debtor's notice that tax returns have been prepared and filed, and the court expects to discuss debtor's plans for filing an amended disclosure statement. Appearances are required on 11/15/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/14/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 8/16/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/6/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Debtor was to address accountant's opinion regarding tax consequences of proposed property sales. Appearances are required on 3/8/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/9/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 1/11/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/14/16. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 11/16/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 9/19/16. Debtor will need to address United States Trustee's objection regarding the estimates of income taxes needed to cover capital gains liability, but it appears that the amended disclosure statement is otherwise approvable, despite the United States Trustee's style suggestion, which the court does not agree with. Appearances are required on 9/21/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/27/16. No tentative ruling on the merits.

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/16/16. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 5/18/16 to address the objections of the United States Trustee and objecting creditors, but counsel (other than debtor's counsel) may appear by telephone. Debtor should be prepared to discuss the treatment of each class of creditors since the proposed plan does not make it clear (e.g., 10 monthly payments for a number of classes, but no balloon payment stated). Perhaps debtor would have an easier time in not using the optional Chapter 11 form plan and disclosure statement and prepare a manually generated plan and disclosure statement and stating the proposed terms of the plan in a narrative.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/14/16. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 3/16/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. No tentative ruling on the merits. Debtor to address objections of United States Trustee and creditors to draft disclosure statement regarding adequacy of information. The source of funding of plan is unclear. No historical financial data or projections are provided, which should be provided for each property as well as the debtor's business and living expenses. Since it appears that this is probably a cramdown plan situation due to the dispute over appropriate interest rates on secured claims, Debtor should be prepared to discuss how he will prove the appropriate cramdown rates of interest (i.e., is debtor submitting expert witness opinion testimony on interest rates?). Appearances are required on 1/13/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Chapter 11

#3.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for order authorizing and approving adequacy of debtor's disclosure statement describing debtor's chapter 11 plan fr. 12/6/17

Docket 158

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/16/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 2/21/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Deny approval of proposed disclosure statement for lack of adequate information. The disclosure statement does not contain the information normally expected, such as the matters identified in In re Metrocraft Pub. Servs. Inc., 30 B.R. 567, 568 (Bankr. N.D. Ga. 1984) discussed in the moving papers. The disclosure statement does not give meaningful information to creditors about how the plan works; it is just a collection of spreadsheets with little explanation. There is no explanation of how payments are going to be made under the plan, monthly, quarterly, annually, etc. There is a computation of net income on Exhibit C, but that does not translate into how plan payments are going to be made to creditors. The financial history spreadsheet, Exhibit D, is sparse and uninformative as to both the income and expenses of debtor, and just provides summary figures from the MORs.

The liquidation analysis, Exhibit G, is incomplete, and may not necessarily reflect the correct net equity of debtor since the asset values and encumbrances differ for each piece of collateral, and simply aggregating them does not necessarily mean that there is total negative net equity of the estate as computed (i.e., there is no explanation of the liens, whether they are only as to specific collateral or blanket liens). Debtor says there is no need to consider Chapter 7 administrative costs since there is negative net equity in debtor's assets in the aggregate, but these should be computed.

The court should also deny approval of the disclosure statement because the debtor's proposed new value plan on its face gives the exclusive new value

opportunity to its sole shareholder, Ji K. Lim, and is not sufficiently market tested within the meaning of Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association v. 203 North LaSalle Street Partnership ("LaSalle"), 526 U.S. 434 (1999); see also, In re NNN Parkway 400 26, LLC, 505 B.R. 277, 281-283 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2014)(Albert, J.); see also, In re Arnold, 471 B.R. 578, 586 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012)(approval of disclosure statement should be denied if plan is nonconfirmable on its face). As Judge Albert observed in NNN Parkway 400 26, LLC, "LaSalle requires that the quantum of new value be market tested; otherwise the parties and the court cannot know whether the amount of new value is most available. And if more (or better) could be gotten elsewhere, then the equity is effectively keeping a form or property or interest in the debtor despite not paying the dissenting creditors in full, by exercising its exclusive 'option' to direct/determine the source of the new value. But LaSalle is frustratingly vague as to what exactly a debtor must do to 'market test' the interest; the Supreme Court expressly left the question open while naming some alternatives, such as the right to bid for the same interest or the right to file a competing plan." In re NNN Parkway 400 26, LLC, 505 B.R. at 281, citing LaSalle, 526 U.S. at 458; see also, LaSalle, 526 U.S. at 455 ("It is doomed, we can say without necessarily exhausting its flaws, by its provision for vesting equity in the reorganized business in the Debtor's partners without extending an opportunity to anyone else either to compete for that equity or to propose a competing reorganization plan."). "[D]ebtors bear the burden of showing that the new money offered is the most and best reasonably obtainable after some 'market testing' . . . This probably requires, at a minimum, demonstration of a systematic effort designed to 'market test' the deal." In re NNN Parkway 400 26, LLC, 505 B.R. at 283. There is no demonstration of any systematic effort designed to "market test" the deal shown in debtor's papers as far as this court can see.

The court also agrees with the objections of the committee and creditor Bank of Hope regarding the inadequacy of information regarding the new value contribution, the payment to unsecured creditors, the identification of postconfirmation directors and officers, treatment of creditor claims and impairment of secured claims.

Debtor uses the court form Chapter 11 plan and disclosure statement which are designed in part for individual Chapter 11 cases and simple Chapter 11 cases, and debtor does not use the official court attachments for these forms, but provides its own custom form attachments deviating from the court form attachments, and provide much less information than required by the court form attachments. In this case, debtor's use of these court forms is really uninformative, and debtor should use more traditional, narrative form plan documents to cover the Metrocraft factors.

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. Off calendar. Because the court takes the pending motions under submission, is continuing review of the papers, the court on its own motion continues the status conference to 2/27/18 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 1/30/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/18/17. Off calendar. Because the court takes the pending motions under submission and vacates the hearings on the motions, the court has issued an order further continuing the status conference to 1/30/18 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 12/19/17.

Prior tentative ruling as of 10/10/17. Off calendar. Because the court takes the pending motions under submission and vacates the hearings on the motions, the court vacates the pretrial conference on 10/11/17, but sets a further status conference for 11/28/17 at 1:30 p.m.

Chapter 7

Revised tentative ruling as of 9/25/17. Off calendar. The court determines that it needs more time to review the papers relating to the parties' motions and is issuing an order continuing the hearings and the pretrial conference for 2 weeks to 10/11/17 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 9/27/17.

Updated tentative ruling as of 8/28/17. Off calendar. At the hearing on plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment on 8/23/17, the court orally continued the pretrial conference to 9/27/17 at 1:30 p.m. to be conducted with the further hearing on the summary judgment motion. No appearances are required on 8/29/17.

Prior tentative ruling as of 6/26/17. The court has reviewed plaintiffs' unilateral pretrial stipulation and counsel declaration filed on 6/26/17. The court notes that neither party timely filed a joint pretrial stipulation by the deadline of 6/20/17 as previously ordered. Reserving a ruling on imposing sanctions for their noncompliance with the court's prior order, the court will order the parties to meet and confer to prepare a joint pretrial stipulation and will continue the pretrial conference to a date when they can first comply with the requirements of Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1 in submitting a joint pretrial stipulation. Appearances are required on 6/27/17.

Prior tentative ruling. This matter will be heard on the 3:30 p.m. calendar with the hearing on defendant's motion to dismiss. Appearances are required at 3:30 p.m. rather than 1:30 p.m. No tentative ruling on the merits.

Chapter 7

#17.00 Cont'd hearing re: Chapter 7 trustee's motion to approve compromise of controversy fr. 1/16/18

Docket 29

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/26/18. The court has reviewed the supplemental papers filed by the parties. The court makes the following preliminary observations:

Phelan property

The Phelan property was originally separate property of Glenn Tidwell, and by quitclaim deed on April 18, 2002, transferred it from him as separate property to the family trust as community property, and shortly thereafter, on June 28, 2002, the trust by Debtor and Glenn Tidwell as trustees transferred the property as community property back to Glenn Tidwell as his separate property. The property was transmuted from separate to community property and then back to separate property by deeds signed by the parties. California Family Code, § 852(a); Estate of Bibb, 67 Cal.App.4th 461 (2001); 2 Hogoboom and King, California Practice Guide: Family Law, ¶ 8:484 at 8-192 – 8-193 (2017). The Phelan property is separate property of Glenn Tidwell, and Debtor's interest in this asset is $-0-. Debtor has not shown any community property contribution to acquisition of Phelan property during the limited time it was community property between April 18, 2002 and June 28, 2002 that would require reimbursement of any community property contribution to the acquisition of this separate property asset.

South Street property

The one-third interest in the South Street property was originally separate property of Glenn Tidwell, and during marriage (the exact date is not in the record), he transferred it from him as separate property to the family trust as community property, and shortly thereafter, on February 19, 2013, the trust by Debtor and Glenn Tidwell as trustees sold one-third interest in the property as community property to a third party, Gregory B. Randle, in exchange for a note secured by deed of trust of $415,000 at 7% interest per annum (one-third interest is $138,333) . Debtor does not dispute these facts. The deed transferring the property by him to the community is a transmutation under California Family Code, § 852(a). Estate of Bibb, 67 Cal.App.4th 461 (2001); 2 Hogoboom and King, California Practice Guide: Family Law, ¶ 8:484 at 8-192 – 8-193. The one-third interest in the note and trust deed is community property, but Glenn Tidwell is entitled to reimbursement of his separate property contributions to this asset under California Family Code, § 2640. There is no evidence that Glenn Tidwell expressly waived any right to reimbursement of his separate property contributions. Marriage of Carpenter, 100 Cal.App.4th 424 (2002); 2 Hogoboom and King, California Practice Guide: Family Law, ¶ 8:448 at 8-163 – 8-164. Thus, Glenn Tidwell is entitled to reimbursement of the value of the property at the time of the transfer as separate property, but the appreciation belongs to the community. 2 Hogoboom and King, California Practice Guide: Family Law, ¶ 8:466 at 8-176 – 8-177. However, there is not enough information for the court to value the respective interests of the parties because the value of the interest at the time of the transfer to the community and the amount of paydown of principal on the note are not facts in the record.

Pepperwood property

The Pepperwood property was originally separate property of Glenn Tidwell, and in 2002, he transferred it from him as separate property to the family trust as community property. The deed transferring the property by him to the community is a transmutation under California Family Code, § 852(a). Estate of Bibb, 67 Cal.App.4th 461 (2001); 2 Hogoboom and King, California Practice Guide: Family Law, ¶ 8:484 at 8-192 – 8-193. In any event, the parties do not dispute the property is community property. Marriage of Carpenter, 100 Cal.App.4th 424 (2002); 2 Hogoboom and King, California Practice Guide: Family Law, ¶ 8:448 at 8-163 – 8-164. Thus, Glenn Tidwell is entitled to reimbursement of the value of the property at the time of the transfer as separate property, but the post-marital appreciation is apportioned between separate and community property contributions under the Moore/Marsden formula because this was the marital residence. 2 Hogoboom and King, California Practice Guide: Family Law, ¶ 8:295 et seq. at 8-113 – 8-124, citing Marriage of Moore, 28 Cal.3d 366 (1980) and Marriage of Marsden, 130 Cal.App.3d 426 (1982). When he transferred it to the trust, the fair market value of the property was $257,000, and it is now worth $900,000. Glenn Tidwell is entitled to first $257,000 for premarital appreciation. Then the balance of the appreciation is to be allocated under Moore/Marsden between contributions of separate property and community property to principal. The court does not have enough information to determine the value of the parties' separate and community interests in the property because there is not enough information in the record as to what funds were used to acquire the property in light of the refinancing of the property during marriage.

Retirement account

Glenn Tidwell declares that the retirement account was opened and funded 12 years before marriage and has not "significantly" added to it during marriage. Debtor does not dispute this or show that there are community property contributions to this account. The account is his separate property.

Miscellaneous assets

Glenn Tidwell declares that certain vehicles were inherited by him before marriage. Debtor does not dispute this. These vehicles are his separate property.

More information as indicated herein is needed for the court to determine the reasonableness of the settlement. The parties should be prepared to discuss how this information will be made part of the record. Appearances are required on 2/27/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/12/18. The court has concerns about the sufficiency of the record in order for the court to grant the motion to approve compromise under the applicable fair and equitable standard set forth in In re A & C Properties, 784 F.2d 1377 (9th Cir. 1986). Debtor objects to the compromise on grounds that it is not reasonable because it undervalues the estate's interests in community property of her and her former spouse and that : (1) the former spouse must agree to pay his one-half share of community credit card debt of $17,195.75, or $8,597.88; (2) the estate is entitled to half of the appreciation on the family residence of $568,000, or $284,000; (3) the estate is entitled to one-half of the Phelan property of $250,000, or $300,000; and (4) the estate is entitled to one-half of the former spouse's client trust account of $50,000, or $25,000.

As to debtor's first objection as to allocation of community credit card debt, the former spouse's liability for the credit card debt is really a matter for the family law court rather than this court since he is not the debtor in this bankruptcy case, and the court does not have jurisdiction to impose such liability on him. As to considerations of fairness of the compromise regarding the credit card debt, that is really for the family law court to decide.

As to the dispute regarding the computation of the debtor's community property interest in the family residence, there is insufficient information and explanation of the computation offered by the former spouse and relied upon by trustee. The explanation in the former spouse's trial brief filed in the family law court is conclusory and not substantiated by evidence or citation to case authority, so it is difficult for the court to analyze the merits of the justification offered by the trustee to compromise the value of the estate's interest in this property (i.e., what is the valuation of the property now - it is unclear if the parties agree on valuation since the former spouse looks to the value of the property and debtor looks to the value of appreciation, but there is no appraisal or valuation opinion by an appraiser or real estate professional for the current value of the property, how do we know how to allocate the appreciation of the property between separate property and community property after the transfer to the living trust).

As to the dispute over the Phelan property, debtor claims that the property is worth $300,000, but it is unclear that this is the value of the entire property as opposed to the 1/6 interest of her and her former spouse. The former spouse contends that the estate has no value in this asset because he owned the property before marriage and there was no transmutation in the transfer to the living trust. There is no appraisal or valuation opinion by an appraiser or real estate professional for the current value of the property, and there is no copy of the living trust instrument to see how the property was characterized when it was transferred to the trust.

As to the former spouse's client trust accounts, it may be that debtor means the retirement accounts, which he proposes to be allocated between the "time rule." However, if debtor really meant the client trust accounts, there is no explanation that the estate or the former spouse has any interest in funds presumably on deposit for the benefit of his clients in the client trust account.

As to the proposed 100% payoff of creditor claims if the settlement is approved as demonstrating the paramount interest of creditors under A & C Properties, but in a surplus situation like this, it would seem to the court that the fairness and equity of the settlement under FRBP 9019 should also take in consideration the impact on the debtor's interest. Trustee should be prepared to address this concern with appropriate case authority.

Debtor provided a judge's copy of the opposition which does not separately tabbed the exhibits as required by LBR 5005-2(d), and while the court has read the opposition, the court will not consider the exhibits until debtor provides a compliant copy of the opposition with separately tabbed exhibits. Appearances are required on 1/16/18.

#12.00 Cont'd status conference re: Post confirmation of chapter 11 plan
fr. TD, 5/31/17, 9/27/17, 1/31/18

Docket 51

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/26/18. The court has reviewed debtor's status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 2/28/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/30/18. The court has reviewed debtor's status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 1/31/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 9/25/17. Appearances are required on 9/27/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

No tentative ruling as of 5/26/17. Appearances are required on 5/31/17.

Prior tentative ruling. Because the only votes on the plan were received after the deadline set by the court's balloting deadline of 3/22/17 in the court's order filed and entered on 2/15/17, none of the votes may be counted under the order and FRBP 3017(c) and 3018(a). Because none of the votes cast were timely in order to be counted under the court's deadline order, debtor has not shown that there is at least one impaired class of claims accepting the plan as required for confirmation under 11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(10), so the plan may not be confirmed. Thus, the court is inclined to deny confirmation, but the court would consider a request by debtor to seek relief by motion under FRBP 9006(b)(1) to enlarge the time to cast votes as to the late cast votes based on a sufficient showing of "excusable neglect". See In re Paul, 101 B.R. 228 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 1989). Appearances are required on 5/3/17.

Tentative Ruling:

Grant debtors' motion for summary judgment for reasons stated in the moving papers and the lack of timely written opposition as required by LBR 7056-1(c) since creditor did not file a statement of genuine issues. Debtors will need to upload their statement of uncontroverted facts and conclusions of law for the court to review and approve. Regarding the proposed order, debtors will need to explain why the language requiring creditor to release the lien is required rather than them just recording a copy of an entered order avoiding the lien since the lien is "avoided" as opposed to "released." Updated tentative ruling as of 2/26/18. See tentative ruling on matter number 17.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as contested matter under FRBP 9014 because the moving and opposing papers raise material issues of fact regarding debtors' entitlement to the claimed exemption of $175,000 and the valuation of the subject property that requires an evidentiary hearing. Debtors bear the burden of proving entitlement to the claimed homestead exemption of $175,000 under California law. In re Diaz, 547 B.R. 329, 336-337 (9th Cir. BAP 2016). The court rejects debtors' argument that the lienholder cannot now dispute the exemption since FRBP 4003(d) expressly provides that it may challenge the validity of the exemption asserted in a motion under 11 U.S.C. 522(f) to be impaired by the lien. Treat the hearing on 12/6/17 as a status conference to set a pretrial and trial schedule. The court will not take testimony from witnesses on a law and motion hearing calendar on 12/6/17, and the parties may not call their witnesses to testify on 12/6/17. The court estimates that the evidentiary hearing will take one-half day and will schedule it for either January or February 2018. If either party believes that there are no genuine issues of material fact and it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, it may seek summary judgment upon a proper motion brought pursuant to FRBP 7056 and 9014 and LBR 7056-1. Appearances are required on 12/6/17 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#1.00 TRIAL RE: Motion to dismiss case pursuant to 11 U.S.C. section 1112(b) or to convert case to chapter 7 fr. 12/6/17

Docket 213

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/28/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 4/12/18 at 9:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 3/1/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/26/18. The court first notes that the parties submitted unilateral pretrial stipulations with counsel declarations as to the circumstances why the pretrial stipulations are unilateral. Aside from the issue of the declaration of counsel for debtor is not properly subscribed under 28 U.S.C. 1746(1) outside the United States requiring the language, "under the laws of the United States of America" as part of the jurat, the court disregards the unilateral pretrial stipulations because the court did not order that pretrial stipulations be filed, only witness and exhibit lists of the parties.

It seems that movant will be able to show at trial that debtor is in material default of the confirmed plan because it is now the assignee of the note and trust deed by the original noteholder, Bank of America, at the time of plan confirmation and that not all the plan payments on the claim have been made. Thus, there are probably grounds at least under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(N) to establish cause to dismiss or convert. The court would have to consider what would be in the best interests of creditors and the estate to dismiss or convert once cause is shown. In re Sullivan, 522 B.R. 604 (9th Cir. BAP 2014). Thus, in this regard, the court would have to consider the interests of all creditors and the estate, and not just movant.

Perhaps movant may want to reconsider asking for dismissal here because dismissal is not going to get movant where it wants to go, i.e., revocation of the confirmed plan to restore its prebankruptcy rights, as argued in its trial brief at 22. The cases movant cites, In re Nash, 765 F.2d 1410 (9th Cir.

1985) and In re Case, 27 B.R. 844 (Bankr. D.S.D. 1983), are completely inapposite since those were Chapter 13 cases, citing 11 U.S.C. 1307(b) and a Chapter 13 debtor's right of voluntary dismissal under that provision. In contrast, this is a Chapter 11 case where a debtor has no right of voluntary dismissal, and there is only one statute that provides for revocation of a confirmed plan, 11 U.S.C. 1144. Mere payment default is not enough to revoke a confirmed plan, but only if plan confirmation was procured by fraud as shown in an adversary proceeding commenced within 180 days of the entry of the plan confirmation order. 11 U.S.C. 1144; see also, 2 March, Ahart and Shapiro, Rutter Group California Practice Guide: Bankruptcy, paragraphs 11:2305-11:2315 at 11-278 - 11-279 (2017). The statute cited by movant, 11 U.S.C. 349, does not support its position since the statutory language does not revoke the plan. Id.

The parties are still bound by the plan, even if the Chapter 11 case is dismissed, since the plan has res judicata effect and the court lacks authority to vacate plan provisions which modify or cram down movant's lien. See 2 March, Ahart and Shapiro, Rutter Group California Practice Guide: Bankruptcy, paragraphs 5:1962 at 5(II)-27 and 11:2294 at 11-278, citing cases. The plan would be still enforceable as a state law contract, and dismissal of the case would mean that the court would not have jurisdiction to enforce the contract and the parties would probably have to go to state court to enforce their rights under the plan contract. Thus, in light of the applicable law as discussed herein, perhaps movant may want to consider taking up the suggestion of counsel for debtor to meet and confer and "work it out." The court would consider a short stipulated continuance of trial for counsel to consider these points and/or discuss a consensual resolution of the matter.

Appearances are required on 3/1/18.

 VACATED  REASON: Evidentiary hearing vacated and setting status conference for 4/24/18 at 1:30 p.m.-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 2/26/18. Off calendar. By prior order, evidentiary hearing vacated and status conference set for 4/24/18 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 3/2/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Overrule debtor's objection to the claim of Law Offices of Marilyn Smith without prejudice because debtor did not include a copy of the proof of claim in the moving papers and list the number of the proof of claim as required by Local Bankruptcy Rule 3007-1(c)(2) and (a)(2), and because there is no proof of service of the objection (only the notice of objection). The court does not reach the merits of the objection or opposition to the objection until debtor remedies the procedural deficiencies of his objection. Docket 2962

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Deny request for relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) because movant's equity analysis shows positive value for equity and this provision is not really applicable since movant apparently is successor-in-interest on note and trust deed to debtor. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and available in hard copy in the courtroom. #11.00 Hearing re: Motion for order dismissing amended involuntary petition against Reyna Taylor under FRCP 12(b)(1) and 12(b)(6), or for abstention under 11 U.S.C. 305(a)

Docket 35

Tentative Ruling:

Grant motion of alleged debtor to dismiss because petitioning creditor has not met his burden of proving that no bona fide dispute exists as to the debt he claims is owed to him by debtor under 11 U.S.C. 303(b)(1). In re Vortex Fishing Systems, Inc., 277 F.3d 1057, 1064 (9th Cir. 2002). His evidence consists of copies of proof of payment of alleged obligations without substantiating that alleged debtor has a contractual or legal obligation to repay or reimburse him. There is no showing of proof of any obligation jointly owed by him or alleged debtor for which he allegedly advanced payment. There are only his requests for reimbursement, and nothing from parties to whom he and alleged debtor were allegedly obligated, including the County Tax Assessor, the secured lender or its servicer.

Moreover, petitioning creditor has not even made a prima facie showing that the alleged debtor is generally not paying her debts as they become due under 11 U.S.C. 303(h). A finding that a debtor is generally not paying its debts requires a more general showing of the debtor's financial condition and debt structure than merely establishing the existence of a few unpaid debts. In re Vortex Fishing Systems, Inc., 277 F.3d at 1072. Here, the petition only alleges that alleged debtor is delinquent in paying the property taxes for her residence, but an exhibit attached to the petition shows that alleged debtor is current on her property taxes, not to mention that this is a single previously unpaid debt and not any general showing of her financial condition and debt structure.

Appearances are required on 3//6/18, but counsel and self-represented parties may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures (posted online on the court's website).

#12.00 Cont'd status conference re: Involuntary petition
fr. 11/28/17, 12/12/17, 2/13/18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/5/18. See tentative ruling for matter number 11.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/12/18. Off calendar. The court has reviewed the joint status report and also notes on the case docket that there is a hearing on the motion of the alleged debtor to dismiss petitioning creditor's amended involuntary petition on 3/6/18 at 2:30 p.m., which may have an impact on scheduling in this case. Therefore, the court on its own motion continues the status conference to 2/27/18 at 2:30 p.m. to be conducted with the hearing on the motion to dismiss the amended petition. No appearances are required on 2/13/18.

Revised tentative ruling as of 12/11/17. Off calendar. The court determines that oral argument on the motion to dismiss is not necessary, dispenses with it, takes the motion under submission, vacates the hearing and status conference, and is entering a decision and an order on the motion. No appearances are required on 12/12/17.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the joint status report and on its own motion continues the status conference to 12/12/17 at 3:30 p.m. to be conducted with the hearing on alleged debtor's motion to dismiss. No appearances are required on 11/28/17.

Docket 215

 VACATED  REASON: Cont'd from 3/6/18 to 3/7/18 at 11:30 a.m. per order entered on 2/26/18-pj.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/5/18. Off calendar. Continued to 3/7/18 at 11:30 a.m. by prior order. No appearances are required on 3/6/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/27/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 11/28/17 to discuss scheduling of the evidentiary hearing on the motion, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The court intends to set an evidentiary hearing on plaintiff's motion for preliminary injunction and will treat the hearing as a status conference to discuss scheduling. As the party seeking preliminary injunctive relief, plaintiff has the burden of persuasion for such relief, and "[b]ecause a preliminary injunction is an extraordinary remedy, courts require the movant to carry its burden of persuasion by a " 'clear showing.'" 3 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, ¶¶ 13:159 and 13:159.1 at 13-87 (Ninth Circuit and California edition 2017), citing, West Point-Pepperill, Inc. v. Donovan, 689 F.2d 950, 956 (11th Cir. 1982); Mazurek v. Armstrong, 520 U.S. 968, 972 (1997); and Towery v. Brewer, 672 F.3d 650, 657 (9th Cir. 2012). The court is of the opinion that it should conduct an evidentiary hearing and take live testimony in this case because "[i]t may be an abuse of discretion to refuse live testimony where facts are bitterly contested and credibility determinations must be made to decide whether injunctive relief should issue." 3 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, ¶ 13:163 at 13-87 – 13-88, citing, McDonald's

Corp. v. Robertson, 147 F.3d 1301, 1312 (11th Cir. 1998); Charette v. Town of Oyster Bay, 159 F.3d 749, 755 (2nd Cir. 1998); Cobell v. Norton, 391 F.3d 251, 261 (D.C. Cir. 2004)("circumstances and interests at stake" determine whether abbreviated or more extensive evidentiary hearing required). The amounts at issue (approximately $4.9 million in unauthorized payments of debtor's funds claimed by plaintiff to have been made to defendant 400 S. LaBrea, LLC), the severity of the restrictions on alienation of the subject property and use of revenue derived therefrom proposed in plaintiff's motion and the factual allegations of the parties are bitterly contested all indicate "circumstances and interests at stake" that the court should conduct an evidentiary hearing on the motion. Id.; see also, 3 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, ¶ 13:163.1 at 13-88, citing inter alia, Aguirre v. Chula Vista Sanitary Service & Sani-Tainer, Inc., 542 F.2d 779, 781 (9th Cir. 1976).

The factual and legal issues contested on the motion center on the applicability of the Ninth Circuit's recent decision and opinions in Matter of Walldesign, Inc., 872 F.3d 954, 963 (9th Cir. 2017) regarding the reiteration of the adoption of the so-called "dominion" test to determine whether a transferee is an "initial" or "intermediate or mediate" transferee under 11 U.S.C. § 550(a)(1) or (2). As the majority stated in Walldesign, "[u]nder the dominion test, "a transferee is one who ... has dominion over the money or other asset,"—in other words, one with "the right to put the money to one's own purposes." 872 F.3d at 963, citing, In re Mortgage Store, Inc., 773 F.3d 990, 995 (9th Cir. 2014), quoting, In re Incomnet, Inc., 463 F.3d 1064, 1070 (9th Cir. 2006). The Walldesign majority further stated: "The 'key[s]' to this test are "'whether the recipient of funds has legal title to them' and whether the recipient has 'the ability to use [the funds] as he sees fit.'" Id., quoting, In re Incomnet, Inc., 463 F.3d at 1071. The majority further stated: "We further explained that, "an individual will have dominion over a transfer if, for example, he is 'free to invest the whole [amount] in lottery tickets or uranium stocks'" and "The first party to establish dominion over the funds after they leave the transferor is the initial transferee; other transferees are subsequent transferees." Id., quoting, In re Bonded Financial Services, Inc. v. European American Bank, 838 F.2d 890, 894 (7th Cir. 1988) (citations omitted). The parties dispute whether the evidence offered by plaintiff "clearly shows" that defendant 400 S. LaBrea, LLC is the initial transferee of the funds of debtor paid on behalf of defendant Ace Museum as rent (i.e., whether the funds transferred by debtor to Ace Museum through loans or otherwise gave Ace Museum dominion over the funds, and whether such loan is now cancelled through a settlement, either of these circumstances would show that Ace Museum was the initial transferee and 400 S. LaBrea, LLC as the mediate or intermediate transferee, and whether as a mediate or intermediate transferee, 400 S. LaBrea, LLC, received the transfers in good faith and for value).

Moreover, the parties dispute whether the evidence "clearly shows" whether "it is fair to view [400 LaBrea, LLC] as the initial transferee[] since [it] 'receive[d] funds directly from [the] debtor, and thus, [its] 'capacity [and burden] to monitor . . . [were] at [their] greatest.'" In re Walldesign, Inc., 872 F.3d at 968, quoting, In re Video Depot, Ltd., 127 F.3d 1195, 1199 (9th Cir. 1997). This passage from the majority opinion in Walldesign suggests that whether a transferee had "indications" of irregularities in the subject transfers is relevant to the inquiry of whether a transferee is "initial" or "intermediate." The parties dispute whether defendant 400 S. LaBrea, LLC knew or had reason to know that the transfers were improper transfers from the debtor, thus indicating that an evidentiary hearing is needed to determine whether plaintiff has met his burden of persuasion clearly showing entitlement to relief.

An evidentiary hearing is also needed to determine the degree of irreparable harm to plaintiff and the prejudice to other parties, including 400 S. LaBrea, LLC, in that there are wide disparities in the positions of the parties as to the degree of harm which would be suffered if relief were or were not granted, and how the party adversely affected by the granting or denial of relief would be protected, such as a bond if relief were granted to protect 400 S. LaBrea, LLC, which asserts the need for a $4.8 million bond from plaintiff to protect it from potential damages from the relief sought.

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/5/18. Off calendar. Continued to 3/7/18 at 11:30 a.m. by prior order. No appearances are required on 3/6/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Deny plaintiff's motion for partial summary judgment because there are genuine issues of material fact for trial raised by evidence before the court on the motion, i.e., defendants raise material issues of fact regarding the effect of the stipulation and term sheet between debtor, the committee, defendants Ace Museum and Douglas Christmas, approved by order of the court in one of the consolidated adversary proceedings, for which there are reasonable, but conflicting, inferences on how to construe these documents as to whether the museum's loan by debtor was satisfied pursuant to the stipulation, term sheet and performance thereon. The court determines that it is not appropriate for it to resolve these conflicting inferences by granting plaintiff declaratory relief to vacate the stipulation and order thereon based on its reply or by the court sua sponte. Although the court could conceivably grant such relief for relief from judgment or order, the court strongly believes that such relief should be considered through the adversary process where all interested parties may respond and be heard, and to this end, if plaintiff seeks such relief, it may make an appropriate motion with notice and opportunity to be heard by the affected parties. The court need not reach the merits of defendants' objections to the Declaration of Timothy

fr. 1/24/18, 2/7/18

 VACATED  REASON: Hearing is vacated and a status conference is set for 4/10/18 at 2:00 p.m. per order entered on 3/5/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Off calendar. The court has issued a written order determining that oral argument on the motion is unnecessary, dispensing with it, vacating the hearing and ruling on the papers that the motion is a contested matter presenting disputed and material factual issues requiring an evidentiary hearing and setting a status conference for 4/10/18 at 2:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 3/7/18.

(claim numbers 13, 7, and 12)
fr. 12/13/17, 2/7/18

Docket 390

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 3/6/18. The court notes that claimant has a pending motion for abstention on her claims set for hearing on 3/21/18. If the court abstains, this itself will not postpone plan confirmation proceedings because the parties may request the court to estimate the claims for voting on plan confirmation. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 3/7/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 2/7/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as contested matter under FRBP 9014 because the declarations of the witnesses in support of the moving and opposing papers raise material issues of fact to be resolved in an evidentiary hearing. Treat the hearing on 12/13/17 as a status conference to set a pretrial and trial schedule. The court will not take testimony from witnesses on a law and motion hearing calendar on 12/13/17, and the parties may not call their witnesses to testify on 12/13/17. If any party believes that there are no genuine issues of material fact and the party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, that party may seek summary judgment upon a proper motion brought pursuant to FRBP 7056 and 9014 and LBR 7056-1. If claimant believes that the court should permissively abstain from hearing this contested matter, then she should bring a proper motion for abstention rather than raising the request in her opposition to the objection. See In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166-1167 (9th Cir. 1990). However, it seems to the court that it could properly hear the objection to claim as a core proceeding under 28 U.S.C. 157(b)(2)(B) and not abstain under In re Conejo Enterprises, Inc., 96 F.3d 346 (9th Cir. 1996). fr. 9/27/17, 11/29/17, 2/7/18

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 3/6/18. The court has reviewed debtor's status update and request to continue the status conference. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 3/7/18 to discuss scheduling and the the impact of treatment on creditor Cindy Magleby's claims for plan voting and abstention among other things, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. The court notes that debtor filed a second amended disclosure statement on 1/30/18, 8 days before the further hearing on 2/7/18. Creditor Banc of California filed a response on 1/31/18 objecting to debtor's noticing approval of the amended disclosure statement for the hearing on 2/7/18, citing the court's oral ruling that creditors should be given 3 weeks notice of hearing on an amended disclosure statement. Docket 17

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/6/18. As to the 149 W. Hillcrest Blvd., Inglewood, CA property, the motion is resolved by stipulation as between Debtor and Creditor Wells Fargo Bank and should otherwise be granted for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely opposition.

As to the 4935 Indian Wood Road $#443, Culver City, CA property, Debtor needs to address the opposition of Creditor Bank of America that its cash collateral should be segregated, the operation of the property generates a negative budget with no explanation of how the shortfall will be covered, the proposed budget for use of cash collateral of this Creditor has items that are not sufficiently justified, such as property management expenses and "other" expenses. fr. 11/28/17, 1/23/18, 3/6/18

Tentative Ruling:

Grant plaintiff's motion to dismiss the second amended cross-complaint as to plaintiff and Debtor's estate which is not moot due to service of third amended cross-complaint because the second amended cross-complaint is not as of right because it was filed late

A party may amend its pleading once as a matter of course within: (A) 21 days after serving it, or (B) if the pleading is one which a responsive pleading is required, 21 days after service of a responsive pleading or 21 days after service of a motion under Rule 12(b), (e), or (f), whichever is earlier. FRCP 15(a)(1). In all other cases, a party may amend its pleadings only with the opposing party's written consent or the court's leave. FRCP 15(a)(2). Rule 15 does not prescribe any particular sequence for the exercise of its provisions. Ramirez v. County of San Bernardino, 806 F.3d 1002, 1007 (9th Cir. 2015).

Per the court's order entered on 9/20/17 (dkt #184), 400 S. La Brea was required to file its second amended cross-complaint by 10/13/17. 400 S. La Brea filed its 2nd amended cross-complaint one day late, on 10/14/17. Procedurally, the court can dismiss the late filed second amended Cross-complaint as untimely because 400 S. La Brea did not seek leave to amend from this court or Plan Agent's written consent, as required by Rule 15(a)(2). Moreover, the second amended cross-complaint does not qualify as an amendment as a matter of course because it was not timely filed. The second amended cross-complaint was filed on 10/14/17. The first amended cross-complaint was filed and served on 7/6/17. Therefore, the second amended cross-complaint was not filed within 21 days after serving the first amended cross-complaint. See FRCP 15(a)(1)(A). The motion to dismiss the first amended cross-complaint was served on 7/17/17. Therefore, the 10/14/17 filing date is not within 21 days of a responsive pleading or a 12(b) motion. See FRCP 15(a)(1)(B).

3rd Amended Cross-Complaint

400 S. La Brea did not file an opposition to plaintiff's motion to dismiss the third amended cross-complaint, instead it filed a 3rd Amended Cross-complaint and a Response. 400 S. La Brea argues it was allowed to amend the cross-complaint once as a matter of course per FRCP 15(a)(1). 400 S. La Brea's 3rd amended cross-complaint could have met the amendment requirements of FRCP 15(a)(1), assuming the second amended cross-complaint was properly filed, but it were not. Therefore, the court can deem the third amended cross-complaint a nullity.

Grant motion to dismiss second amended cross-complaint under FRCP 12(b)(6)

Breach of contract (1st Crossclaim)

400 S. La Brea seeks breach of contract based on the lease it entered with Ace Museum (and Douglas Christmas). There are no allegations in the crossclaims that 400 S. La Brea entered a lease with Plan Agent or Debtor. In fact, Plan Agent and Debtor were never parties to the lease. A nonparty to a contract cannot be held liable for breach of contract. Tri-Continent Int'l Corp. v. Paris Savings & Loan Ass'n, 12 Cal.App. 4th 1354, 1359 (1993). There was no express written assumption of the lease, as required by Section 12.2(a) of the lease. No express written assumption was alleged by 400 S. La Brea.

Declaratory Relief (2nd Crossclaim)/Piercing the Corporate Veil and Alter Ego (3rd Crossclaim)

The third amended cross-complaint fails to allege any specific facts to support its declaratory relief and alter ego claims against Debtor and Debtor's estate. Debtor's bad acts may not be imputed to the professional (acting as a representative of Debtor) and therefore may not be imputed against Debtor's bankruptcy estate, as a defense or counterclaim to an avoidance action. McNamara v. PFS (In re Personal & Bus. Ins. Agency), 334 F.3d 239, 246-247 (3rd Cir. 2003). In any event, it appears to the court that these claims are really defenses to plaintiff's claims rather affirmative claims in themselves.

Fraud and Intentional Misrepresentation (4th Crossclaim)/Negligent Misrepresentation (5th Crossclaim)

400 S. La Brea's misrepresentation claims do not mention any specific damages that it suffered. In order to recover for any tort, the plaintiff must plead and prove the "detriment proximately caused" by the defendant's tortious conduct. Leegin Creative Leather Products, Inc. v. Diaz, 131 Cal.App.4th 1517, 1525 (2005) citing California Civil Code §3333. In the instant case, 400 S. La Brea has not alleged facts to support specific tortious conduct by Plan Agent or Debtor.

Unjust enrichment (6th Crossclaim)

There is no unjust enrichment when federal bankruptcy law provides for the recovery and distribution of funds to an estate's creditors. Ades & Berg Group Investors v. Breeden (In re Ades & Berg Group Inverstors), 550 F.3d 240, 245 (2nd Cir. 2008). See also Siegel v. FDIC (In re IndyMac Bancorp Inc.), 2012 Bankr.LEXIS 1462, *86-87 (March 29, 2012) (Judge Bluebond) (application of bankruptcy law does not create an unjust enrichment at the expense of one party).

Breach of Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing (7th Crossclaim)

400 S. La Brea alleges Debtor had a duty of good faith and fair dealing under the lease. Again, Debtor was not a party to the lease with 400 S. La Brea. Under California law, only the parties who owe a duty of good faith and fair dealing under a contract or lease are parties to that contract or lease. Minnesota Mut. Life Ins. Co. v. Ensley, 174 F.3d 977, 981 (9th Cir. 1999).

Trespass (8th Crossclaim)

Chapter 11

There was no provision in the lease that prevented Ace Museum from using part of the premises to store property belonging to a third party (Debtor). Where the lease provides the lessee with quiet enjoyment of the premises, consent is the lessee's to give, not the lessor's. Lucky Auto Supply v. Turner, 244 Cal.App.2d 872, 878 (1996) (sustaining lessee's trespass claim against lessor where lessee had not given consent for lessor to enter the land).

Recoupment (9th Crossclaim)

The Plan Agent's claims against 400 S. La Brea are based on the unauthorized diversion of property of the estate. La Brea seeks recoupment based on the lease, to which Debtor and Plan Agent are not parties. In order to assert a claim for recoupment, the parties must have "mutual claims" arising from the same transactions. Aetna U.S. Healthcare, Inc. v. Madigan (In re Madigan), 270 B.R. 749, 754 (9th Cir. BAP 2001). Only Ace Museum was obligated to pay the rent. A claim for recoupment cannot be based on an alleged liability of a third party. Barber v. Riverside Int'l Trucks, Inc. (In re Pearson Indus., Inc.), 142 B.R. 831, 849 (Bankr. C.D. Ill. 1992)("because the doctrine of recoupment must involve reciprocal claims, 'triangular' set-offs are precluded.").

Grant motion to dismiss second amended cross-complaint as to plaintiff and Debtor's estate without leave to amend since 400 S. LaBrea has had opportunities in three separate complaints to plead a cross-claim upon which relief can be granted as to these parties and has not been able to do so.

Appearances are required on 3/7/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/27/17. Appearances are required on 11/28/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#12.20 Cont'd hearing re: Motion to compel production of documents by Fortuna Asset Management
fr. 11/14/17, 11/28/17, 1/23/18, 3/6/18

Docket 218

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/5/18. Grant plaintiff's amended motion to compel production of documents as amended in his reply at page 8. The court agrees with plaintiff that the motion is procedurally proper pursuant to FRBP 9016 and FRCP 45(d)(2) since respondent made an objection to the subpoena. In re Plise, 506 B.R. 870, 878-879 (9th Cir. BAP 2014). The court also agrees with plaintiff that enforcement of a subpoena does not require a "meet and confer" process. Local Bankruptcy Rules 7026-1(a), (b), (c)(1) and (5) and 9020-1 (prefiling discovery dispute conference required in disputes under FRBP 7026-7037 and 2004, but not 9016); see also, 2 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Federal Procedure Before Trial, Ninth Circuit Edition, paragraph 11:2316.1 at 11-375 - 11-376 (2017). Respondent has not shown that production of documents, particularly in electronic form, would be burdensome, which it has already done to defendant 400 S. LaBrea, and thus, respondent can just make another copy of the files for plaintiff, and the court rejects respondent's objection on this ground. Respondent has not otherwise shown that the costs of compliance would necessitate cost shifting on this record. Respondent must produce all nonprivileged documents responsive to the subpoena and must file a privilege log as to each and every document asserted to be privileged. Appearances are required on 3/7/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/27/17. Appearances are required on 11/28/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Docket 215

Tentative Ruling:

No updated tentative ruling as of 3/5/18. Appearances are required on 3/7/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/27/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 11/28/17 to discuss scheduling of the evidentiary hearing on the motion, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The court intends to set an evidentiary hearing on plaintiff's motion for preliminary injunction and will treat the hearing as a status conference to discuss scheduling. As the party seeking preliminary injunctive relief, plaintiff has the burden of persuasion for such relief, and "[b]ecause a preliminary injunction is an extraordinary remedy, courts require the movant to carry its burden of persuasion by a " 'clear showing.'" 3 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, ¶¶ 13:159 and 13:159.1 at 13-87 (Ninth Circuit and California edition 2017), citing, West Point-Pepperill, Inc. v. Donovan, 689 F.2d 950, 956 (11th Cir. 1982); Mazurek v. Armstrong, 520 U.S. 968, 972 (1997); and Towery v. Brewer, 672 F.3d 650, 657 (9th Cir. 2012). The court is of the opinion that it should conduct an evidentiary hearing and take live testimony in this case because "[i]t may be an abuse of discretion to refuse live testimony where facts are bitterly contested and credibility determinations must be made to decide whether injunctive relief should issue." 3 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, ¶ 13:163 at 13-87 – 13-88, citing, *McDonald's Corp. v. Cir. 2004)("circumstances and interests at stake" determine whether abbreviated or more extensive evidentiary hearing required). The amounts at issue (approximately $4.9 million in unauthorized payments of debtor's funds claimed by plaintiff to have been made to defendant 400 S. LaBrea, LLC), the severity of the restrictions on alienation of the subject property and use of revenue derived therefrom proposed in plaintiff's motion and the factual allegations of the parties are bitterly contested all indicate "circumstances and interests at stake" that the court should conduct an evidentiary hearing on the motion. Id.; see also, 3 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, ¶ 13:163.1 at 13-88, citing inter alia, Aguirre v. Chula Vista Sanitary Service & Sani-Tainer, Inc., 542 F.2d 779, 781 (9th Cir. 1976).

The factual and legal issues contested on the motion center on the applicability of the Ninth Circuit's recent decision and opinions in Matter of Walldesign, Inc., 872 F.3d 954, 963 (9th Cir. 2017) regarding the reiteration of the adoption of the so-called "dominion" test to determine whether a transferee is an "initial" or "intermediate or mediate" transferee under 11 U.S.C. § 550(a)(1) or (2). As the majority stated in Walldesign, "[u]nder the dominion test, "a transferee is one who ... has dominion over the money or other asset,"—in other words, one with "the right to put the money to one's own purposes." 872 F.3d at 963, citing, In re Mortgage Store, Inc., 773 F.3d 990, 995 (9th Cir. 2014), quoting, In re Incomnet, Inc., 463 F.3d 1064, 1070 (9th Cir. 2006). The Walldesign majority further stated: "The 'key[s]' to this test are "'whether the recipient of funds has legal title to them' and whether the recipient has 'the ability to use [the funds] as he sees fit.'" Id., quoting, In re Incomnet, Inc., 463 F.3d at 1071. The majority further stated: "We further explained that, "an individual will have dominion over a transfer if, for example, he is 'free to invest the whole [amount] in lottery tickets or uranium stocks'" and "The first party to establish dominion over the funds after they leave the transferor is the initial transferee; other transferees are subsequent transferees." Id., quoting, *In re Bonded Financial Services, Inc. v. 838 F.2d 890, 894 (7th Cir. 1988) (citations omitted). The parties dispute whether the evidence offered by plaintiff "clearly shows" that defendant 400 S. LaBrea, LLC is the initial transferee of the funds of debtor paid on behalf of defendant Ace Museum as rent (i.e., whether the funds transferred by debtor to Ace Museum through loans or otherwise gave Ace Museum dominion over the funds, and whether such loan is now cancelled through a settlement, either of these circumstances would show that Ace Museum was the initial transferee and 400 S. LaBrea, LLC as the mediate or intermediate transferee, and whether as a mediate or intermediate transferee, 400 S. LaBrea, LLC, received the transfers in good faith and for value).

Moreover, the parties dispute whether the evidence "clearly shows" whether "it is fair to view [400 LaBrea, LLC] as the initial transferee[] since [it] 'receive[d] funds directly from [the] debtor, and thus, [its] 'capacity [and burden] to monitor . . . [were] at [their] greatest." In re Walldesign, Inc., 872 F.3d at 968, quoting, In re Video Depot, Ltd., 127 F.3d 1195, 1199 (9th Cir. 1997). This passage from the majority opinion in Walldesign suggests that whether a transferee had "indications" of irregularities in the subject transfers is relevant to the inquiry of whether a transferee is "initial" or "intermediate." The parties dispute whether defendant 400 S. LaBrea, LLC knew or had reason to know that the transfers were improper transfers from the debtor, thus indicating that an evidentiary hearing is needed to determine whether plaintiff has met his burden of persuasion clearly showing entitlement to relief.

An evidentiary hearing is also needed to determine the degree of irreparable harm to plaintiff and the prejudice to other parties, including 400 S. LaBrea, LLC, in that there are wide disparities in the positions of the parties as to the degree of harm which would be suffered if relief were or were not granted, and how the party adversely affected by the granting or denial of relief would be protected, such as a bond if relief were granted to protect 400 S. LaBrea, LLC, which asserts the need for a $4.8 million bond from plaintiff to protect it from potential damages from the relief sought.

fr. 11/7/17, 11/28/17, 1/23/18, 3/6/18

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 3/5/18. Deny plaintiff's motion for partial summary judgment in part and grant it in part as follows: as to plaintiff's request for summary judgment on its claims against defendant Ace Museum, the 30th, 31st, 32nd, 33rd and 34th claims for relief in the fourth amended complaint, because there are genuine issues of material fact for trial, and as to plaintiff's requests for summary adjudication of fact on these claims, deem as established facts for purposes of these claims (and not other claims and not as to parties other than plaintiff and Ace Museum) Uncontroverted Facts, Numbers 1-26, 28-30, 32, 33, 35-42. The court declines to grant the motion to deem as established facts, Numbers 43-91, due to foundational issues regarding the admissibility of testimony of Timothy Kincaid as identified in the evidentiary objections of defendant Ace Museum to the declaration of Timothy Kincaid and in the prior tentative ruling on this motion.

Although FRCP 56(g) refers to treating a fact not genuinely in dispute and treating that fact as "established in the case," the court declines to grant the motion to deem any established facts for the entire case as opposed to just the claims against defendant Ace Museum only in the 30th, 31st, 32nd, 33rd and 34th claims for relief because no notice was given to other parties that plaintiff sought to establish these facts for purposes of claims other than these and the evidence cited in plaintiff's statement of uncontroverted facts and conclusions of law does not establish these facts as to other parties and

Theoretically, the court could grant summary judgment for the nonmoving party if there are no factual issues, the opposing party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law and the moving party had notice and an adequate opportunity to address the issues. 2 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, California and Ninth Circuit Edition, paragraph 14:328 at 14-120 (2017), citing inter alia, FRCP 56(f) and Gospel Missions of America v. City of Los Angeles, 328 F.3d 548, 553 (9th Cir. 2003). However, it appears that there are genuine issues of material fact regarding the effect of the stipulation for settlement, whether it was obtained by fraud, and whether the reference to the promissory note was the original one, and that the court believes that the issues are best resolved at trial or defendant's own affirmative motion for summary judgment where the factual record can be better developed.

Appearances are required on 3/7/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Deny plaintiff's motion for partial summary judgment because there are genuine issues of material fact for trial raised by evidence before the court on the motion, i.e., defendants raise material issues of fact regarding the effect of the stipulation and term sheet between debtor, the committee, defendants Ace Museum and Douglas Christmas, approved by order of the court in one of the consolidated adversary proceedings, for which there are reasonable, but conflicting, inferences on how to construe these documents as to whether the museum's loan by debtor was satisfied pursuant to the stipulation, term sheet and performance thereon. The court determines that it is not appropriate for it to resolve these conflicting inferences by granting plaintiff declaratory relief to vacate the stipulation and order thereon based on its reply or by the court sua sponte. Although the court could conceivably grant such relief for relief from judgment or order, the court strongly believes that such relief should be considered through the adversary process where all interested parties may respond and be heard, and to this end, if plaintiff seeks such relief, it may make an appropriate motion with notice and opportunity to be heard by the affected parties. The court need not reach the merits of defendants' objections to the Declaration of Timothy Kincaid, though there appears to be serious foundational problems with some of the assertions in the declaration, which may or may not be remedied by amendment and supplementation. Appearances are required on 11/7/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#2.00 CONT'D TRIAL RE: Complaint for non-dischargeability of debt
fr. 8/29/17, 11/30/17, 2/1/18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/5/18. No tentative ruling will be issued for trial. Appearances are required on 3/8/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/24/18. No tentative ruling will be issued for trial. Appearances are required on 2/1/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 7/10/17. The court has reviewed the separate pretrial stipulations that the parties submitted, and it appears that pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(f) the court should impose sanctions of $250 against counsel and self-represented party each for their failure to jointly submit a pretrial stipulation without excuse as both are culpable in their noncompliance with the rule. Appearances are required on 7/11/17.

Prior tentative ruling. This matter will be heard on the 3:30 p.m. calendar with the hearing on defendant's motion to dismiss. Appearances are required at 3:30 p.m. rather than 1:30 p.m. No tentative ruling on the merits.

#1.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Bayview Loan Servicing, LLC VS Debtor)

Docket 43

Tentative Ruling:

The motion is procedurally defective: (1) the unauthorized transfer of an interest of the property was from the borrowers to Grandview Financial, and it appears that the claim for relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) should have been in Grandview's bankruptcy case rather than this debtor's bankruptcy case. This debtor appears to have been given a lien interest in the property by Grandview rather than the borrowers. (2) service on the debtor is inadequate because the suite number is missing on the proof of service, which does not indicate proper service; (3) service on the original borrowers is inadequate because the street number is incomplete and inaccurate on the proof of service, which does not indicate proper service. #2.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(US Bank Trust National Association VS Debtor)

Docket 177

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Movant has standing to seek stay relief because it has a colorable claim to enforce the trust deed as the substitute foreclosure trustee. In re Rozier, BAP No. CC-12-1359-KiPaD, 2013 WL 4428808 (9th Cir. BAP 2013), citing, California Civil Code Sections 2924 through 2924k and Debrunner v. Deutsche Bank National Trust Co., 204 Cal.App.4th 433, 440 (2012), affirmed, 623 Fed. Appx. 517 (9th Cir. 2015), citing inter alia, In re Griffin, 719 F.3d 1126, 1128 (9th Cir. 2013). In its reply, movant has submitted evidence that it is the current holder of the note based on endorsements of the note, and has shown that it has standing to enforce the note as the noteholder. In re Griffin, 719 F.3d 1126 (9th Cir. 2013).

No tentative ruling on request for relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) because no service was made on the original borrower and this court generally requires service on the original borrower for due process concerns. In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 270 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012).

Deny the request for extraordinary relief in paragraph 3 since the debtor is not the borrower under the relevant loan agreements. Deny requests for extraordinary relief in paragraphs 8, 10 and 11 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009).

No tentative ruling on the request to waive the 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3).

Docket 14

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/19/18. Deny motion to stay proceedings because as shown by plaintiff's receipt of IRS Forms 1098 for her student loan, she does not meet the definition of the class involved in the pending nationwide class action litigation. Moreover, it is uncertain when the class certification motion will be heard by the bankruptcy court in the Eastern District of New York, and even if the class is certified, debtor may be able to opt out. Appearances are required on 3/20/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#39.00 Hearing re: Motion of defendant B & O Logistics to dismiss complaint for an order to show cause why plaintiff's should not be sanctioned for violating automatic stay

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

The court agrees with defendants that actions to set aside fraudulent transfers of assets of a bankruptcy debtor belongs to the bankruptcy estate and may be the basis for a motion to dismiss because actions to collect upon assets of the estate are subject to the automatic stay and relief from stay has not been obtained by the plaintiffs. In re MortgageAmerica Corp., 714 F.2d 1266, 1275 (5th Cir. 1983); In re Curry & Sorenson, Inc., 57 B.R. 824, 827-828 (9th Cir. BAP 1986); but see, In re Colonial Realty Co., 980 F.2d 125, 130-132 (2nd Cir. 1992). As noted by plaintiffs, there is a division in circuit authority as to whether property of the bankruptcy estate includes property subject to a fraudulent transfer avoidance action is part of the bankruptcy estate before the avoidance action. See Peter Spero, Fraudulent Transfers, Prebankruptcy Planning and Exemptions, Section 3.3 (Westlaw online Sept. 2017 update), citing, In re MortgageAmerica Corp., supra; In re Colonial Realty Co., supra; Rajala v. Garner, 709 F.3d 1031 (10th Cir. 2013); In re Allen, 768 F.3d 274 (3rd Cir. 2014). There is no definitive case authority in the Ninth Circuit, though the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel of the Ninth Circuit has stated that a fraudulent transfer avoidance action to recover property fraudulently transferred by a bankruptcy debtor is an asset of the debtor's bankruptcy estate. In re Curry & Sorenson, Inc., supra. The court will follow the BAP rule in Curry & Sorenson, Inc., as the current law of the Ninth Circuit.

Having said this, however, before the court rules on defendants' motions to dismiss, the court notes that plaintiffs could obtain authority of this court to allow them as parties other than the trustee or debtor-in-possession to pursue litigation on behalf of the estate (as opposed for themselves only). In re Curry & Sorenson, Inc., supra; In re Spauding Composites Co., 207 B.R. 899, 903 (9th Cir. BAP 1997). If plaintiffs are seeking to enforce their own interests as creditors, the court would thus grant the motions to dismiss, but if plaintiffs are seeking authorization from the court to pursue the litigation on behalf of the estate and its creditors, they should file and serve an appropriate motion, and the court would consider it subject to hearing from other interested parties.

Deny request for an order to show cause and/or sanctions for violation of stay since the stay is not intended to protect non debtor parties. 11 U.S.C. 362(a); see also, Ingersoll-Rand Financial Corp. v. Miller Mining Co., 817 F.2d 1424, 1427 (9th Cir. 1987). Moreover, it would be difficult to show civil contempt here that plaintiffs willfully violated a specific and definite order of the court by clear and convincing evidence, see, e.g., In re Dyer, 322 F.3d 1178. 1190-1191 (9th Cir. 2003), in bringing the fraudulent transfer action against defendants, given the uncertainty of the law as indicated by the lack of definitive case authority in the Ninth Circuit and otherwise divided circuit authority on the question of whether a fraudulently transferred property before avoidance is property of a debtor's bankruptcy estate circuit.

#41.00 Hearing re: Motion of defendant JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. to dismiss first amended complaint fr. 2/27/18

Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/19/18. Grant defendants' motions to dismiss as follows: (1) first, second, third and fourth claims for relief based on permissive abstention because these claims are based on plaintiff's state law claims for wrongful foreclosure and the court should abstain because state law issues predominate over bankruptcy issues, there is no jurisdictional basis over the claims other than related to jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. 1334, the degree of relatedness or remoteness of the claims to the main bankruptcy case is tenuous because these claims are all based on the state law unlawful foreclosure claims, plaintiff's claims are noncore proceedings because plaintiff must establish its underlying state law noncore wrongful foreclosure claims before obtaining relief on these claims, the litigation of state law claims would be burdensome on this court's docket, it is likely that the commencement of this adversary proceeding involves forum shopping because plaintiff could have filed these claims in the state court either before or after bankruptcy and nondebtor parties, defendants, are present, and the other factors are neutral, In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166-1167 (9th Cir. 1990); (2) fifth claim for relief for disallowance of claims, dismissal without prejudice because the claim is premature since the bank has not filed any proof of claim; (3) sixth claim for relief based on Fair Debt Collection Practices Act - dismissal with prejudice pursuant to FRCP 12(b)(6) because plaintiff fails to state a claim that bank acted to collect any debt against plaintiff, bank is not a debt collector as creditor, mortgagor or mortgage serviceing company and the claim is time-barred since brought more than one year after alleged violation pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1692k(d). Docket 423

Tentative Ruling:

Deny creditor Cindy Magleby's motion for discretionary abstention because the matter of claim objections is a core matter, the court has jurisdiction over the claim objection dispute as a core bankruptcy matter, abstention would adversely impact the efficient administration of the estate since there is no certainty that the claims determination issues will be resolved expeditiously in state court, there is not much difference in litigating claims estimation only for plan confirmation purposes as opposed to determining the claims on the merits, litigation of the claim objections in this court will provide certainty for plan confirmation, despite the litigation of the claim objections will be burdensome on the court's docket and arguably the filing of the bankruptcy case involved forum shopping. In re Tucson Estates, 912 F.2d 1162 (9th Cir. 1990); In re Conejo Enterprises, Inc., 96 F.3d 346 (9th Cir. 1996).
Appearances are required on 3/21/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

fr. 9/27/17, 11/29/17, 2/7/18, 3/7/18

Docket 174

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 3/6/18. The court has reviewed debtor's status update and request to continue the status conference. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 3/7/18 to discuss scheduling and the the impact of treatment on creditor Cindy Magleby's claims for plan voting and abstention among other things, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. The court notes that debtor filed a second amended disclosure statement on 1/30/18, 8 days before the further hearing on 2/7/18. Creditor Banc of California filed a response on 1/31/18 objecting to debtor's noticing approval of the amended disclosure statement for the hearing on 2/7/18, citing the court's oral ruling that creditors should be given 3 weeks notice of hearing on an amended disclosure statement. Prior tentative ruling. Debtor in his status report filed on 2/22/17 indicated that he and his counsel are working on revising and amending the original disclosure statement to include a revised and updated liquidation analysis and taking into account resolutions of claims of creditors, including First Republic Bank (however, the court notes that it disapproved without prejudice the stipulation resolving claim of First Republic Bank in light of objection of creditor Cindy Magelby since it appears that debtor will need to bring a FRBP 9019 motion). #17.00 CONT'D EVIDENTIARY HEARING RE: Motion for relief from stay
(U.S. Bank Trust N.A. VS Debtor)
fr. 10/24/17, 11/7/17, 1/4/18

Docket 79

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/19/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 3/21/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/3/18. On movant's claim under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2), it has met its burden of proof under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(1) to demonstrate lack of equity in the subject property based on the stipulated value for the property. Debtor as the party opposing relief has the burden on the remaining issue of demonstrating under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(2) and (d)(2) that the property is necessary to its effective reorganization, i.e., a confirmed reorganization plan is in reasonable prospect. Specifically, debtor must produce some evidence that its plan could be confirmed by a reasonable bankruptcy judge. In re Bonner Mall Partnership, 2 F.3d 899, 902 n. 4 (9th Cir. 1993). Debtor's projected income based on its principal's consulting income of $12,500 per month is not supported by any credible evidence for this projection. The demonstrated history in this case does not support the projection, and there is no credible explanation of how the income can be generated at that level to demonstrate plan feasibility under 11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(11). Debtor has not shown that it is likely to have at least one impaired class of claims to accept its plan under 11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(10) since there is no credible evidence indicating any creditor support for the plan (debtor's conclusory assertions are not evidence). Based on what has been submitted in the papers, the court is inclined to find that debtor has not met its burden of proof on the second prong of 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) that the property is necessary for its effective reorganization, i.e., that its plan could be confirmed by a reasonable bankruptcy judge and that the stay relief motion should be granted. Appearances are required on 1/4/18.

#19.00 Hearing re: Disclosure statement

Docket 62

Tentative Ruling:

The disclosure statement does not contain adequate information. Regarding treatment of secured claims, the text in the plan refers to Article II, but no Article II is attached. Exhibit C to the plan refers to certain notes for each claim, but these notes do not adequately spell out the treatment of the primary secured claim to Wells Fargo Bank, the senior secured lender for the loan on debtor's residence. The disclosure statement should have a more detailed description of how this claim will be treated under the plan. The plan itself is not much better. It is hard to tell what is being proposed for treatment of the claim. The disclosure statement and plan will have to be revised for sake of clarity. If this is a cramdown situation, it does not appear that a 40 year payout is fair and equitable for this creditor, and debtor should probably consider taking out this creditor when the loan matures under the existing terms. Appearances are required on 3/21/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#1.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Bayview Loan Servicing LLC VS Debtor)
fr. 3/6/18

Docket 472

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (4) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies and for in rem relief for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

The court does not make a finding of bad faith as to debtor. See In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012).

Appearances are required on 3/27/18 because after the hearing concluded on 3/6/18, a party attempted to appear on the matter, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. No tentative ruling on request for relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) because no service was made on the original borrower and this court generally requires service on the original borrower for due process concerns. Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (4) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies and for in rem relief for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. No tentative ruling on request for stay annulment as movant has not shown that the legal standards of National Environmental Waste Corp. v. City of Riverside (In re National Environmental Waste Corp.), 129 F.3d 1052 (9th Cir. 1997) and In re Gasprom, Inc., 500 B.R. 598 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) have been met.

Docket 29

 VACATED  REASON: Cont'd from 3/27/18 to 5/16/18 at 11:00 a.m. per stip & order entered on 3/26/18

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 5/16/18 at 11:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 3/27/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Deny motion for relief from stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d) (1) on grounds of bad faith since the circumstances argued by movants that the debtor is a SARE and that there are few other creditors and movants are the major creditors, and thus, this is only a two-party dispute, by themselves do not make this case to be one filed in bad faith.

Deny motion for relief from stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) on condition that debtor pay adequate protection payments to movants based on the 8% nondefault contract rate of interest on the value of the creditors' interest in the real estate, retroactive to the date of the first adequate protection payment. It appears that: (1) counsel for the parties were negotiating adequate protection terms in good faith near the end of the 90-day period after the order for relief; (2) counsel for movants proposed 6% to counsel for debtor during the negotiation, but was unable to obtain client authorization for that proposal and notified counsel for debtor right before the end of the 90 day period; (3) given the shortness of time in the notification of lack of client authority by counsel for movant before the deadline, debtor made a first adequate protection payment at 6% rate preliminarily proposed by counsel for movant before the deadline, which seems to be in good faith; and (4) however, there was no agreement between the parties for adequate protection payments less than the 8% nondefault contract rate, and movants have not waived their rights under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) for at least adequate protection payments based on the nondefault contract rate of 8%, the statute says what it says, and debtor needs to pay that rate as adequate protection if it wants the stay to remain in place under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3). If debtor is not willing to pay the 8% rate, the court will grant the motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3). Debtor in its reply states that it has no problem paying 8%, but the value of the property for adequate protection purposes should be $3 million, yielding an adequate protection payment of $20,000, which is less than what was first paid. Apparently, during the adequate protection negotiations, the parties assumed that the value was $4.5 million, and there may be a material issue of fact of the adequacy of the adequate protection payments for purposes of 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) based on differences in valuation of the subject collateral. If the parties dispute valuation, the court will set an evidentiary hearing on valuation, and the parties should be prepared to discuss how they will prove up valuation for the purposes of this motion at the hearing.

#5.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Harold Herskowitz VS Debtor)
fr. 2/27/18, 3/6/18

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (b)(22) , or issue determination that no stay was and is in place, and allow movant to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers.

Debtor's opposition filed on 3/23/18 is late-filed and may be deemed to consent to granting of the motion pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h) since it was not filed within 14 days of hearing pursuant to LBR 9013-1(f) and does not rebut movant's prima facie showing that no automatic stay is in place from the bankruptcy petition because movant obtained a prepetition judgment for possession of residential rental property as indicated by Exhibit C to the motion (Superior Court minute order filed and served on 1/19/18 granting movant's ex parte application for judgment pursuant to stipulation and ordering lockout to proceed forthwith). Debtor's petition documents and the bankruptcy case docket reflect that debtor has not within 30 days of petition date filed the certification that he would be permitted to cure the entire monetary default and that he has not within 30 days of petition date deposited the cure amount with the clerk of the court provided under 11 U.S.C. 362(l) to except debtor from the effect of 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(22) providing for no automatic stay where landlord obtains a prepetition judgment for possession on residential rental property. Thus, due to these failures, there was and is no automatic stay in place to stop the landlord from carrying out the eviction, and debtor's remedies for damages from improper eviction lie under state law in the unlawful detainer action in state court.

Deny debtor's request to continue the hearing on grounds that he has filed a motion for contempt because: (1) the motion is procedurally defective since he should have filed a motion for an order to show cause for contempt pursuant to LBR 9020-1 and (2) the motion for contempt fails to address debtor's failure to comply with 11 U.S.C. 362(l) to except him from the effect of no stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(22).

No tentative ruling on the request to waive the 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) in light of debtor's opposition to the motion.

Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures posted online on the court's website

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/5/18. Local Bankruptcy Rules 4001-1(c)(1)(A) and 9013-1(d) require service of notice of hearing relating to a residential unlawful detainer stay relief motion on the debtor and debtor's attorney, if any, and the proof of service of the notice of continued hearing indicates only notice to debtor's attorney and not to debtor. Movant will have to give notice to debtor and debtor's attorney of a further continuance. Appearances are required on 3/7/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/26/18. It appears that movant has asked for a hearing on shortened notice under LBR 9075-1 without filing an application for hearing on shortened notice. Appearances are required on 2/27/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. As indicated in debtor's response of non-opposition to the motion, It appears that the subject property is not property of the estate since there was a marital dissolution judgment in 2010 between debtor and her former spouse, which allocated the property to the former spouse as his separate property in the their division of marital property. Thus, the motion should be granted under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) for cause since the property does not appear to be property of the estate. The court has reviewed the appearing parties' status report and continues the status conference to 8/26/14 at 1:30 p.m. in light of the dismissal of the second amended complaint and the time for filing and serving a third amended complaint has not expired. No appearances are required on 7/29/14

Prior tentative ruling as of 6/2/14. Off calendar. The court has reviewed the appearing parties' status report and continues the status conference to 7/29/14 at 1:30 p.m. in light of the pending motions of several defendants to dismiss to be heard on 6/17/14 and 7/8/14 and in light of plaintiff's continuing efforts to effect service of process on other defendants. No appearances are required on 6/3/14

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/13/14. Off calendar. To be heard at 3:00 p.m. calendar with plaintiff's motion to file amended complaint. Appearances are required on 3:00 p.m. calendar, not at 1:30 p.m..

Docket 133

Tentative Ruling:

No updated tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as a contested matter under FRBP 9014 and set a schedule of pretrial and trial proceedings. The court will treat the hearing as a status conference. Parties should attempt to consult regarding their pretrial needs, such as discovery, and suggest a proposed schedule to the court at the hearing.

To the extent that the trustee contends that the claim lacks documentation, that objection may not be valid because it is not necessarily based on a writing since it seems that creditor lent money to debtor without a writing, such as a promissory note, but the record is unclear. An objection to claim based on lack of documentation if the claim is not based on a writing is not well-taken. See In re Los Angeles International Airport Associates, 106 F.3d 1479 (9th Cir. 1997). It seems that the trustee's objection goes to the substance as opposed to just the lack of documentation since trustee relies upon debtor's schedules listing the debt at $400,000. Given the deficiencies in pleading on both sides, the court believes that the parties should be given the benefit of a doubt and be allowed to present evidence in support of their respective positions for and against the claim and litigate the contested matter of the trustee's objection to creditor's claim in accordance with the usual burdens of proof associated with claims litigation as the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel of the Ninth Circuit stated in In re Campbell, 336 B.R. 430 (9th Cir. BAP 2005). Appearances are required on 11/7/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#22.00 Hearing re: Motion for leave to amend complaint pursuant to FRBP 7015

Docket 39

Tentative Ruling:

Overrule defendants' evidentiary objections to trustee's motion for leave to amend complaint for the reasons stated in the reply of trustee to the objections. Grant trustee's motion for leave to amend complaint for the reasons stated in the moving papers since equitable tolling could apply to the claims to avoid postpetition transfers under 11 U.S.C. 549. In re Olsen, 36 F.3d 71 (9th Cir. 1994). Trustee's cited authority in In re Olsen is controlling whereas defendants' cited authorities are not. Whether equitable tolling applies is a factual issue to be resolved at trial, and not on the pleadings, and if it could apply, it would not be futile to allow amendment of the complaint. #23.00 Hearing re: Motion to reopen discovery in regards to the homestead matter; motion to extend time to respond to the opposition of the chapter 7 trustee filed (docket 241)

Docket 263

Tentative Ruling:

For the convenience of the parties, the court will hear this matter on its 11:00 a.m. calendar, so the parties need not come to court twice on 3/27/18.

Overrule trustee's evidentiary objections to debtor's moving papers because the objected to statements are argument. Deny debtor's motion to reopen discovery on, and extend time to respond to trustee's objection to, his homestead exemption because the matter of the objection has been fully tried, the evidence was closed, reconsideration was only granted to allow further argument based on a possible change in the case law, and debtor's motion presents no new facts relevant to the claimed homestead exemption that warrant reopening of discovery. On their face, the alleged facts asserted by debtor do not state a claim for relief against trustee for misconduct or fraud (i.e., whether there was allegedly any problem with the buyer's FHA loan to purchase the real property asset of the bankruptcy estate is only an issue between the FHA and the buyer and does not invalidate the sale). The court has already extended time for debtor to respond to trustee's papers, and a further extension is not justified. Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel and self-represented parties may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures posted online on the court's website.

Docket 276

Tentative Ruling:

For the convenience of the parties, the court will hear this matter on its 11:00 a.m. calendar, so the parties need not come to court twice on 3/27/18.

Deny debtor's motion for leave to file claims against Discover, Western Federal Credit Union, Richard Pena, Pinnacle Properties, Aaron Juarez, Cal American Homes and Carlos C. Farfan for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. Debtor does not state any legally recognized claims against these parties, so leave will not be granted. Denial is without prejudice because the court does not see that prior leave of court is needed to assert claims against these parties, but if debtor asserts claims against these parties without a reasonable basis in fact and law, they might seek the imposition of sanctions against him pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9011. Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel and self-represented parties may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures posted on the court's website.

#25.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for status conference relating to the death of Moll and order to remove lien on pre petition asset fr. 3/20/18

Docket 50

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. Deny counsel's motion for relief because: (1) counsel has not shown that she has now has authority to act on behalf of defendant or his estate since his death has been suggested on the record and she no longer has him as a client; (2) thus, counsel cannot now request that the adversary proceeding be dismissed or that the court order the release of plaintiff's judgment lien; (3) to the extent that counsel asks to be relieved, she needs to bring a separate motion to withdraw since that relief was not requested in the original motion. Deny plaintiff's request for sanctions against counsel because such relief must be requested by separate motion and not in any opposition to a motion, and in any event, there does not appear to be a proper basis for imposing sanctions against counsel. Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel and self-represented parties may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures posted on the court's website.

Tentative Ruling:

No tentative ruling on the merits. It appears that the motion to substitute is timely filed within 90 days of suggestion of death by counsel for defendant under FRCP 25 (assuming for the sake of argument that counsel may properly suggest death of her client on the record, see In re Cardoza, 111 B.R. 906, 909 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 1990)). However, plaintiff has not substantiated that Lisa Moll-Watson is the proper party defendant as the executor of defendant's estate. The court requires that plaintiff submit proof that she is now the representative of defendant's decedent estate. Moreover, plaintiff has not properly served Ms. Moll-Watson since the address listed for her on the proof of service of the motion is the funeral home and not her address as listed on defendant's death certificate. Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel and self-represented parties may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures posted on the court's website.

Chapter 7

#36.00 Hearing re: Debtor's motion to convert chapter 7 case to chapter 13 case

Docket 24

Tentative Ruling:

Deny debtor's motion to convert on grounds that the circumstances supported by trustee's evidence and request for judicial notice indicate bad faith conduct by debtor in seeking to convert this case: (1) debtor failed to disclose significant real property assets on her original bankruptcy schedules; (2) debtor failed to disclose material rental income on her original bankruptcy schedules; (3) debtor is seeking to convert once the trustee discovered her undisclosed real property assets and has taken action to sell such assets. Marrama v. Citizens Bank of Massachusetts, 549 U.S. 365 (2007). Also, deny motion because debtor failed to serve all creditors with notice of motion as required by FRBP 2002(a)(4) and 9013, namely the creditors added on her amended bankruptcy schedules filed on 2/8/18 when she served notice on 2/27/18, including Bank of America, LA DWP and Everhome Mortgage. There is no admissible evidence to support debtor's motion in response to the trustee's opposition. Sustain trustee's evidentiary objections to debtor's declaration in support of motion for the reasons stated in the objections. Debtor's declaration is not otherwise admissible evidence because it is not signed as required by FRBP 9011 and will be stricken. Moreover, debtor's declaration is not admissible evidence for lack of foundation because she recites that the declaration is in the English language and that she has limited to no understanding of the English language and apparently, the declaration may have been translated from her native language of Korean to English, assuming that this is her declaration which it may or may not be since it is unsigned. Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#37.00 Cont'd hearing re: Application to of chapter 7 trustee to employ Neiman Realty, Inc. as real estate broker and to enter into exclusive listing agreement fr. 2/27/18

Docket 18

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court is inclined to give debtor a short period of time to discuss possible settlement with trustee before ruling on the application in light of denial of motion to convert. Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court is inclined to trail the hearing on the employment application of the broker until the hearing on debtor's motion to convert, which has not been set yet by debtor in response to trustee's opposition to that motion. Appearances are required on 2/27/18 to discuss scheduling of the hearing on the motion to convert and the employment application, but counsel may appear by telephone. If debtor does not promptly notice the motion to convert for hearing, the court would proceed to rule on the employment application.

Chapter 11

#7.00 Cont'd hearing re: Disclosure statement
fr. 12/6/17, 1/24/18, 2/21/18

Docket 94

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 3/28/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/16/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 2/21/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/22/18. The amended disclosure statement is deficient and needs to be revised. First and foremost, no plan was attached to the disclosure statement, including Exhibits A and B, as well as the recently approved stipulation and order between debtor and secured creditor Christiana Trust. If debtor meant to attach the Plan last filed on 9/1/16, it should be updated to be accompany the amended disclosure statement. The court agrees with the objections of creditor Umbrella Investment Group that the amended disclosure statement lacks adequate information, including basic information about payment of general unsecured claims, how, what amounts and when. The last filed plan on 9/1/16 stated that general unsecured claims will be paid 100% and that debtor has rental income of $8,300, but no information is provided as to how, when and what means to implement the plan, so creditors can evaluate feasibility. Financial projections of income and expense for the duration of the plan term are missing and should have been provided. Perhaps debtor's use of the form disclosure statement should be jettisoned, and debtor should use a narrative disclosure statement in plain English to describe what he proposes to the creditors in his plan. Appearances are required on 1/24/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/4/17. Pending before the court is debtor's amendment to disclosure statement filed on 9/1/16, which has been noticed for hearing on 12/5/17. This amendment amends the original disclosure statement filed on 11/17/15. The original disclosure statement of 11/17/15 looks like a disclosure statement whereas the amendment filed on 9/1/16 does not. The amendment looks like an add-on amendment and does not contain sufficient information to constitute a disclosure statement that the court could approve and allow to be sent out to creditors. Debtor will have to draft an updated disclosure statement that is self-contained in order for the plan to be considered by the court and creditors, and thus, the court will deny approval of the 9/1/16 amendment as debtor's disclosure statement. Appearances are required on 12/5/17 to discuss how long it will take debtor to revise his disclosure statement, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/13/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court has reviewed debtor's notice that tax returns have been prepared and filed, and the court expects to discuss debtor's plans for filing an amended disclosure statement. Appearances are required on 11/15/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/14/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 8/16/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/6/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Debtor was to address accountant's opinion regarding tax consequences of proposed property sales. Appearances are required on 3/8/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/14/16. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 11/16/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 9/19/16. Debtor will need to address United States Trustee's objection regarding the estimates of income taxes needed to cover capital gains liability, but it appears that the amended disclosure statement is otherwise approvable, despite the United States Trustee's style suggestion, which the court does not agree with. Appearances are required on 9/21/16,

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/16/16. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 5/18/16 to address the objections of the United States Trustee and objecting creditors, but counsel (other than debtor's counsel) may appear by telephone. Debtor should be prepared to discuss the treatment of each class of creditors since the proposed plan does not make it clear (e.g., 10 monthly payments for a number of classes, but no balloon payment stated). Perhaps debtor would have an easier time in not using the optional Chapter 11 form plan and disclosure statement and prepare a manually generated plan and disclosure statement and stating the proposed terms of the plan in a narrative.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/14/16. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 3/16/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. No tentative ruling on the merits. Debtor to address objections of United States Trustee and creditors to draft disclosure statement regarding adequacy of information. The source of funding of plan is unclear. No historical financial data or projections are provided, which should be provided for each property as well as the debtor's business and living expenses. Since it appears that this is probably a cramdown plan situation due to the dispute over appropriate interest rates on secured claims, Debtor should be prepared to discuss how he will prove the appropriate cramdown rates of interest (i.e., is debtor submitting expert witness opinion testimony on interest rates?). Appearances are required on 1/13/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Chapter 11

#9.00 Cont'd status conference re: Management of chapter 11 case
fr. 11/1/17

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 3/28/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed debtor's status report proposing a claims bar date of 1/24/18 with notice being served by 11/8/17 and a disclosure statement filing deadline of 2/28/18. These dates are satisfactory, and debtor should submit a proposed scheduling order. Appearances are required on 11/1/17 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#10.00 Hearing re: Motion for order extending the exclusivity period under 11 U.S.C. §1121(d) and extending the period for filing a plan under 11 U.S.C. §362(d)(3)

Docket 25

Tentative Ruling:

Assuming the court does not grant creditors' pending stay relief motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3), grant motion to extend plan exclusivity under 11 U.S.C. 1121(d) because cause to extend plan exclusivity for a short period of time, about 90 days, to 7/1/18 is shown by debtor marketing the property "as is," proceeding with claims resolution process by having a bar date set, attempting to obtain LADRP approval of a final subdivision map and this is the first request to extend exclusivity. Granting a first extension of plan exclusivity does not necessarily favor further extensions unless debtor makes specific progress in either marketing the property or obtaining land use approvals to develop the real property. Docket 19

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/22/18. No tentative ruling will be issued for the evidentiary hearing. Appearances are required on 3/30/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Based on the response and reply papers, the court will set an evidentiary hearing on the motion. Appearances are required on 1/31/18 to discuss scheduling.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/4/17. See tentative ruling for matter number 6. Appearances are required on 12/5/17.

Prior tentative ruling. Given the magnitude of the fines requested in the motion, the court will order United States Trustee to serve on respondent by personal delivery a copy of the moving papers with a new notice of hearing. The court will set the matter for an evidentiary hearing, and the United States Trustee will be ordered to subpoena the debtor as the complaining witness to testify. The court can issue a scheduling order to assist the United States Trustee. Appearances are required on 10/24/17.

Chapter 7

#3.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Toyota Motor Credit Corporation VS Debtors)

Docket 22

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (2) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

#4.00 Hearing re: Plaintiff's motion for default judgment under LBR 7055-1
fr. 2/13/18

Docket 19

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/2/18. After reviewing the supplemental papers, the court believes that they are not sufficient to demonstrate the transfer of the subject property was fraudulent, and the court will set a hearing for plaintiff to offer evidence to prove up the fraudulent transfer, such as eyewitness testimony that defendant is continuing to operate his business and otherwise exercise dominion and control over the transferred property to deem it to be his. The court is considering ordering plaintiff to serve defendant with a subpoena to appear at the prove up hearing. Appearances are required on 4/3/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The court on its own motion is continuing the hearing and status conference to 4/3/18 at 1:30 p.m. for plaintiff to file supplemental briefing to demonstrate that the elements of a claim for fraudulent transfer either under state and/or federal law has been met setting forth the factual basis for the court to grant the motion for default judgment on its claims under 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6). Plaintiff must file its supplemental brief citing the elements of a fraudulent transfer claim under state and/or federal law and any supplemental evidence showing that all of the elements of a fraudulent transfer claim has been met by 3/13/18. No appearances are required on 2/13/18.

#6.10 Cont'd hearing re: Disclosure statement
fr. 1/24/18, 2/21/18, 3/28/18

Docket 94

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/2/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 4/4/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/16/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 2/21/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/22/18. The amended disclosure statement is deficient and needs to be revised. First and foremost, no plan was attached to the disclosure statement, including Exhibits A and B, as well as the recently approved stipulation and order between debtor and secured creditor Christiana Trust. If debtor meant to attach the Plan last filed on 9/1/16, it should be updated to be accompany the amended disclosure statement. The court agrees with the objections of creditor Umbrella Investment Group that the amended disclosure statement lacks adequate information, including basic information about payment of general unsecured claims, how, what amounts and when. The last filed plan on 9/1/16 stated that general unsecured claims will be paid 100% and that debtor has rental income of $8,300, but no information is provided as to how, when and what means to implement the plan, so creditors can evaluate feasibility. Financial projections of income and expense for the duration of the plan term are missing and should have been provided. Perhaps debtor's use of the form disclosure statement should be jettisoned, and debtor should use a narrative disclosure statement in plain English to describe what he proposes to the creditors in his plan. Appearances are required on 1/24/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Chapter 11

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/4/17. Pending before the court is debtor's amendment to disclosure statement filed on 9/1/16, which has been noticed for hearing on 12/5/17. This amendment amends the original disclosure statement filed on 11/17/15. The original disclosure statement of 11/17/15 looks like a disclosure statement whereas the amendment filed on 9/1/16 does not. The amendment looks like an add-on amendment and does not contain sufficient information to constitute a disclosure statement that the court could approve and allow to be sent out to creditors. Debtor will have to draft an updated disclosure statement that is self-contained in order for the plan to be considered by the court and creditors, and thus, the court will deny approval of the 9/1/16 amendment as debtor's disclosure statement. Appearances are required on 12/5/17 to discuss how long it will take debtor to revise his disclosure statement, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/13/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court has reviewed debtor's notice that tax returns have been prepared and filed, and the court expects to discuss debtor's plans for filing an amended disclosure statement. Appearances are required on 11/15/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/16/16. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 5/18/16 to address the objections of the United States Trustee and objecting creditors, but counsel (other than debtor's counsel) may appear by telephone. Debtor should be prepared to discuss the treatment of each class of creditors since the proposed plan does not make it clear (e.g., 10 monthly payments for a number of classes, but no balloon payment stated). Perhaps debtor would have an easier time in not using the optional Chapter 11 form plan and disclosure statement and prepare a manually generated plan and disclosure statement and stating the proposed terms of the plan in a narrative.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/14/16. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 3/16/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. No tentative ruling on the merits. Debtor to address objections of United States Trustee and creditors to draft disclosure statement regarding adequacy of information. The source of funding of plan is unclear. No historical financial data or projections are provided, which should be provided for each property as well as the debtor's business and living expenses. Since it appears that this is probably a cramdown plan situation due to the dispute over appropriate interest rates on secured claims, Debtor should be prepared to discuss how he will prove the appropriate cramdown rates of interest (i.e., is debtor submitting expert witness opinion

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/2/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 4/4/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

No updated tentative ruling as of 3/5/18. Appearances are required on 3/7/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/27/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 11/28/17 to discuss scheduling of the evidentiary hearing on the motion, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The court intends to set an evidentiary hearing on plaintiff's motion for preliminary injunction and will treat the hearing as a status conference to discuss scheduling. As the party seeking preliminary injunctive relief, plaintiff has the burden of persuasion for such relief, and "[b]ecause a preliminary injunction is an extraordinary remedy, courts require the movant to carry its burden of persuasion by a " 'clear showing.'" 3 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, ¶¶ 13:159 and 13:159.1 at 13-87 (Ninth Circuit and California edition 2017), citing, West Point-Pepperill, Inc. v. Donovan, 689 F.2d 950, 956 (11th Cir. 1982); Mazurek v. Armstrong, 520 U.S. 968, 972 (1997); and Towery v. Brewer, 672 F.3d 650, 657 (9th Cir. 2012). The court is of the opinion that it should conduct an evidentiary hearing and take live testimony in this case because "[i]t may be an abuse of discretion to refuse live testimony where facts are bitterly contested and credibility determinations must be made to decide whether injunctive relief should issue." 3 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, ¶ 13:163 at 13-87 – 13-88, citing, McDonald's Corp. v. Robertson, 147 F.3d 1301, 1312 (11th Cir. 1998); Charette v. Town of Oyster Bay, 159 F.3d 749, 755 (2nd Cir. 1998); Cobell v. Norton, 391 F.3d 251, 261 (D.C. Cir. 2004)("circumstances and interests at stake" determine whether abbreviated or more extensive evidentiary hearing required). The amounts at issue (approximately $4.9 million in unauthorized payments of debtor's funds claimed by plaintiff to have been made to defendant 400 S. LaBrea, LLC), the severity of the restrictions on alienation of the subject property and use of revenue derived therefrom proposed in plaintiff's motion and the factual allegations of the parties are bitterly contested all indicate "circumstances and interests at stake" that the court should conduct an evidentiary hearing on the motion. Id.; see also, 3 O'Connell and Stevenson, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, ¶ 13:163.1 at 13-88, citing inter alia, Aguirre v. Chula Vista Sanitary Service & Sani-Tainer, Inc., 542 F.2d 779, 781 (9th Cir. 1976).

The factual and legal issues contested on the motion center on the applicability of the Ninth Circuit's recent decision and opinions in Matter of Walldesign, Inc., 872 F.3d 954, 963 (9th Cir. 2017) regarding the reiteration of the adoption of the so-called "dominion" test to determine whether a transferee is an "initial" or "intermediate or mediate" transferee under 11 U.S.C. § 550(a)(1) or (2). As the majority stated in Walldesign, "[u]nder the dominion test, "a transferee is one who ... has dominion over the money or other asset,"—in other words, one with "the right to put the money to one's own purposes." 872 F.3d at 963, citing, In re Mortgage Store, Inc., 773 F.3d 990, 995 (9th Cir. 2014), quoting, In re Incomnet, Inc., 463 F.3d 1064, 1070 (9th Cir. 2006). The Walldesign majority further stated: "The 'key[s]' to this test are "'whether the recipient of funds has legal title to them' and whether the recipient has 'the ability to use [the funds] as he sees fit.'" Id., quoting, In re Incomnet, Inc., 463 F.3d at 1071. The majority further stated: "We further explained that, "an individual will have dominion over a transfer if, for example, he is 'free to invest the whole [amount] in lottery tickets or uranium stocks'" and "The first party to establish dominion over the funds after they leave the transferor is the initial transferee; other transferees are subsequent transferees." Id., quoting, In re Bonded Financial Services, Inc. v. European American Bank, 838 F.2d 890, 894 (7th Cir. 1988) (citations omitted). The parties dispute whether the evidence offered by plaintiff "clearly shows" that defendant 400 S. LaBrea, LLC is the initial transferee of the funds of debtor paid on behalf of defendant Ace Museum as rent (i.e., whether the funds transferred by debtor to Ace Museum through loans or otherwise gave Ace Museum dominion over the funds, and whether such loan is now cancelled through a settlement, either of these circumstances would show that Ace Museum was the initial transferee and 400 S. LaBrea, LLC as the mediate or intermediate transferee, and whether as a mediate or intermediate transferee, 400 S. LaBrea, LLC, received the transfers in good faith and for value).

Moreover, the parties dispute whether the evidence "clearly shows" whether "it is fair to view [400 LaBrea, LLC] as the initial transferee[] since [it] 'receive[d] funds directly from [the] debtor, and thus, [its] 'capacity [and burden] to monitor . . . [were] at [their] greatest.'" In re Walldesign, Inc., 872 F.3d at 968, quoting, In re Video Depot, Ltd., 127 F.3d 1195, 1199 (9th Cir. 1997). This passage from the majority opinion in Walldesign suggests that whether a transferee had "indications" of irregularities in the subject transfers is relevant to the inquiry of whether a transferee is "initial" or "intermediate." The parties dispute whether defendant 400 S. LaBrea, LLC knew or had reason to know that the transfers were improper transfers from the debtor, thus indicating that an evidentiary hearing is needed to determine whether plaintiff has met his burden of persuasion clearly showing entitlement to relief.

An evidentiary hearing is also needed to determine the degree of irreparable harm to plaintiff and the prejudice to other parties, including 400 S. LaBrea, LLC, in that there are wide disparities in the positions of the parties as to the degree of harm which would be suffered if relief were or were not granted, and how the party adversely affected by the granting or denial of relief would be protected, such as a bond if relief were granted to protect 400 S. LaBrea, LLC, which asserts the need for a $4.8 million bond from plaintiff to protect it from potential damages from the relief sought.

Chapter 11

#1.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Bayview Loan Servicing, LLC VS Debtor)
fr. 3/20/18

Docket 43

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/9/18. Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (4), including retroactive annulment of stay, to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies and for in rem relief for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

The court does not make a finding of bad faith as to debtor. See In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012).

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU. Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing, in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and in hard copy available in the courtroom.

Prior tentative ruling. The motion is procedurally defective: (1) the unauthorized transfer of an interest of the property was from the borrowers to Grandview Financial, and it appears that the claim for relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) should have been in Grandview's bankruptcy case rather than this debtor's bankruptcy case. This debtor appears to have been given a lien interest in the property by Grandview rather than the borrowers. (2) service on the debtor is inadequate because the suite number is missing on the proof of service, which does not indicate proper service; (3) service on the original borrowers is inadequate because the street number is incomplete and inaccurate on the proof of service, which does not indicate proper service. Appearances are required on 3/20/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

(Financial Services Vehicle Trust VS Debtor)

Docket 21

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 4/9/18. Off calendar. Motion resolved by stipulation and order. No appearances are required on 4/10/18.

Prior tentative ruling. The motion is procedurally defective since there is insufficient evidence of title to demonstrate movant's standing to seek stay relief and there is insufficient proof of service of the motion. An unauthenticated nongovernmental title report does not constitute admissible evidence of movant's lien interest in the subject collateral. The proof of service indicates that debtor's mailing address was located in Los Angeles rather than La Puente, which is incorrect. Appearances are required on 4/10/18 to address these deficiencies, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#7.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Toyota Motor Credit Corporation VS Debtors)

Docket 12

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (2) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

#8.10 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(US Bank Trust National Association VS Debtor)
fr. 3/20/18

Docket 177

 VACATED  REASON: Matter cont'd by movant to 4/17/18 at 10:30 a.m. per notice filed on 3/21/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/9/18. Off calendar. The hearing is continued to 4/17/18 at 10:30 a.m. as notice of continuance filed on 3/21/18 states. No appearances are required on 4/10/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Movant has standing to seek stay relief because it has a colorable claim to enforce the trust deed as the substitute foreclosure trustee. In re Rozier, BAP No. CC-12-1359-KiPaD, 2013 WL 4428808 (9th Cir. BAP 2013), citing, California Civil Code Sections 2924 through 2924k and Debrunner v. Deutsche Bank National Trust Co., 204 Cal.App.4th 433, 440 (2012), affirmed, 623 Fed. Appx. 517 (9th Cir. 2015), citing inter alia, In re Griffin, 719 F.3d 1126, 1128 (9th Cir. 2013). In its reply, movant has submitted evidence that it is the current holder of the note based on endorsements of the note, and has shown that it has standing to enforce the note as the noteholder. In re Griffin, 719 F.3d 1126 (9th Cir. 2013).

No tentative ruling on request for relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) because no service was made on the original borrower and this court generally requires service on the original borrower for due process concerns. In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 270 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012).

Deny the request for extraordinary relief in paragraph 3 since the debtor is not the borrower under the relevant loan agreements. Deny requests for extraordinary relief in paragraphs 8, 10 and 11 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/9/18. The court has reviewed the joint pretrial stipulation, and after its review, the court is of the opinion that the matter is not ready for trial. The parties have indicated that expert discovery has not been completed. Plaintiffs have stated that they will call expert witnesses at trial, and defendant reserved his right to do so. The court believes that the parties should disclose the identity of their expert witnesses and be required for such expert witnesses to produce their expert reports, and a deposition schedule be set. As to evidentiary objections to exhibits, the parties have each stated that they reserve all objections to some exhibits, which is not permitted by the court's rules and procedures, and the court will disregard the reservation of rights to object, which means that the parties asserting an objection must state specific grounds for an objection or the objections based on reservations of rights will be overruled, and such exhibits will be received into evidence. The court will allow parties some time to interpose objections based on specific grounds as to those exhibits. As to presentation of deposition testimony, plaintiffs state that they will object to the use of deposition testimony of plaintiffs, but do not state a reason. It appears to the court that the parties should mark and countermark deposition transcripts in accordance with the court's local rules and the parties can interpose objections to admission of deposition testimony at that time. In the joint pretrial stipulation, defendant stated that the trial should be bifurcated to first determine the existence of a debt and then determine whether such debt is dischargeable, but plaintiffs stated no position as to bifurcation. The court is not inclined to bifurcate the trial since there is no apparent benefit to the court or the parties by doing so, but plaintiffs will need to state their position on the issue. The parties should be prepared to discuss scheduling of expert discovery, submission of an amended joint pretrial stipulation and dates for a further pretrial conference. Appearances are required on 4/10/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

No updated tentative ruling as of 8/7/17. The court has reviewed plaintiffs' status report stating that they intend to proceed with prosecution of the adversary complaint. According to the status report, plaintiffs seek specified damages of $32,018.06 for rent and settlement costs, plus an unspecified amount of damages for attorneys' fees they have incurred. Plaintiffs should be prepared to disclose: (1) the amount of attorneys' fees that they incurred and are seeking an award and (2) the substantive legal basis for an award of attorneys' fees because none was alleged in the complaint or specified in the purchase and sale agreement for the subject property (preliminarily, the court is of the view that the attorneys' fees clause in the lease agreement would not apply since the alleged fraud was with the purchase and sale agreement). Appearances are required on 8/8/17 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, including pretrial conference and trial, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 6/26/17. The court has reviewed the joint pretrial stipulation. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court will discuss the issues raised in the joint pretrial stipulation regarding the effect of the approval of the settlement between trustee and the Franowicz/Gallagher parties. Appearances are required on 6/27/17.

Tentative Ruling:

The court has reviewed debtor's status report. The proposed claims bar date and notice dates proposed in the status report are satisfactory. Because debtor indicated on the petition that this is a single asset real estate case, debtor should advise the court whether it will be asking the court for an extension of the 90 day deadline for filing a plan or commencing adequate protection payments to avoid stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) for a creditor whose claim is secured by the real estate. Docket 17

 VACATED  REASON: Off calendar per stip & order entered on 3/29/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 3/6/18. As to the 149 W. Hillcrest Blvd., Inglewood, CA property, the motion is resolved by stipulation as between Debtor and Creditor Wells Fargo Bank and should otherwise be granted for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely opposition.

As to the 4935 Indian Wood Road #443, Culver City, CA property, Debtor needs to address the opposition of Creditor Bank of America that its cash collateral should be segregated, the operation of the property generates a negative budget with no explanation of how the shortfall will be covered, the proposed budget for use of cash collateral of this Creditor has items that are not sufficiently justified, such as property management expenses and "other" expenses. #5.00 Status conference re: Management of chapter 11 case

Tentative Ruling:

The court has reviewed debtor's status report. The proposed claims bar date of 5/15/18 will not be approved since this court generally requires at least 60 days notice to creditors of a claims bar date. The estimated administrative expenses in this case stated in the status report for $250,000 to $350,000 seem high, especially since debtors' budget motion and income and expense statements showing net income of about $1,700 per month do not show that debtors have the ability to afford such expenses. There should be some explanation why the large amount of professional fee expenses estimated in the status report are needed in this case, and how debtors will be able to pay for these expenses (i.e., are they selling their real property to raise funds to pay for these fees). Appearances are required on 4/11/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

fr. 12/6/17, 3/1/18

 VACATED  REASON: Cont'd from 4/12/18 to 5/10/18 at 10:00 a.m. per stip & order entered on 4/10/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/11/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 5/10/18 at 10:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 4/12/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/28/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 4/12/18 at 9:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 3/1/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/26/18. The court first notes that the parties submitted unilateral pretrial stipulations with counsel declarations as to the circumstances why the pretrial stipulations are unilateral. Aside from the issue of the declaration of counsel for debtor is not properly subscribed under 28 U.S.C. 1746(1) outside the United States requiring the language, "under the laws of the United States of America" as part of the jurat, the court disregards the unilateral pretrial stipulations because the court did not order that pretrial stipulations be filed, only witness and exhibit lists of the parties.

It seems that movant will be able to show at trial that debtor is in material default of the confirmed plan because it is now the assignee of the note and trust deed by the original noteholder, Bank of America, at the time of plan confirmation and that not all the plan payments on the claim have been made. Thus, there are probably grounds at least under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(N) to establish cause to dismiss or convert. The court would have to consider what would be in the best interests of creditors and the estate to dismiss or convert once cause is shown. In re Sullivan, 522 B.R. 604 (9th Cir. BAP 2014). Thus, in this regard, the court would have to consider the interests of all creditors and the estate, and not just movant.

Perhaps movant may want to reconsider asking for dismissal here because dismissal is not going to get movant where it wants to go, i.e., revocation of the confirmed plan to restore its prebankruptcy rights, as argued in its trial brief at 22. The cases movant cites, In re Nash, 765 F.2d 1410 (9th Cir. 1985) and In re Case, 27 B.R. 844 (Bankr. D.S.D. 1983), are completely inapposite since those were Chapter 13 cases, citing 11 U.S.C. 1307(b) and a Chapter 13 debtor's right of voluntary dismissal under that provision. In contrast, this is a Chapter 11 case where a debtor has no right of voluntary dismissal, and there is only one statute that provides for revocation of a confirmed plan, 11 U.S.C. 1144. Mere payment default is not enough to revoke a confirmed plan, but only if plan confirmation was procured by fraud as shown in an adversary proceeding commenced within 180 days of the entry of the plan confirmation order. 11 U.S.C. 1144; see also, 2 March, Ahart and Shapiro, Rutter Group California Practice Guide: Bankruptcy, paragraphs 11:2305-11:2315 at 11-278 - 11-279 (2017). The statute cited by movant, 11 U.S.C. 349, does not support its position since the statutory language does not revoke the plan. Id.

The parties are still bound by the plan, even if the Chapter 11 case is dismissed, since the plan has res judicata effect and the court lacks authority to vacate plan provisions which modify or cram down movant's lien. See 2 March, Ahart and Shapiro, Rutter Group California Practice Guide: Bankruptcy, paragraphs 5:1962 at 5(II)-27 and 11:2294 at 11-278, citing cases. The plan would be still enforceable as a state law contract, and dismissal of the case would mean that the court would not have jurisdiction to enforce the contract and the parties would probably have to go to state court to enforce their rights under the plan contract. Thus, in light of the applicable law as discussed herein, perhaps movant may want to consider taking up the suggestion of counsel for debtor to meet and confer and "work it out." The court would consider a short stipulated continuance of trial for counsel to consider these points and/or discuss a consensual resolution of the matter.

Appearances are required on 3/1/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as contested matter under FRBP 9014 because the declarations of the witnesses in support of the moving and opposing papers raise material issues of fact regarding debtor's performance under the confirmed plan and creditor's standing to be resolved in an evidentiary hearing. Treat the hearing on 12/6/17 as a status conference to set a pretrial and trial schedule. The court will not take testimony from witnesses on a law and motion hearing calendar on 12/6/17, and the parties may not call their witnesses to testify on 12/6/17. The court estimates that the evidentiary hearing will take one day and will schedule it for either January or February 2018. If either party believes that there are no genuine issues of material fact and it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, it may seek summary judgment upon a proper motion brought pursuant to FRBP 7056 and 9014 and LBR 7056-1. Appearances are required on 12/6/17 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#1.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(U.S. Bank Trust National Association VS Debtor)
fr. 3/20/18, 4/10/18

Docket 177

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/16/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Movant should address debtor's arguments that the note is paid in full due to mortgage insurance, which may or may not be true, and explain its standing to enforce the note and trust deed if the note has been paid. Appearances are required on 4/17/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Movant has standing to seek stay relief because it has a colorable claim to enforce the trust deed as the substitute foreclosure trustee. In re Rozier, BAP No. CC-12-1359-KiPaD, 2013 WL 4428808 (9th Cir. BAP 2013), citing, California Civil Code Sections 2924 through 2924k and Debrunner v. Deutsche Bank National Trust Co., 204 Cal.App.4th 433, 440 (2012), affirmed, 623 Fed. Appx. 517 (9th Cir. 2015), citing inter alia, In re Griffin, 719 F.3d 1126, 1128 (9th Cir. 2013). In its reply, movant has submitted evidence that it is the current holder of the note based on endorsements of the note, and has shown that it has standing to enforce the note as the noteholder. In re Griffin, 719 F.3d 1126 (9th Cir. 2013).

No tentative ruling on request for relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) because no service was made on the original borrower and this court generally requires service on the original borrower for due process concerns. In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 270 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012).

Chapter 7

#2.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Wells Farbo Bank, N.A. VS Debtor)

Docket 38

Tentative Ruling:

No tentative ruling in light of the opposition filed by the borrower on the subject property. There appears to be a disputed issue of material fact regarding Exhibit 8, notice of a purported transfer of a fractional interest to debtor, which may require an evidentiary hearing. If Exhibit 8 is authentic, this may constitute grounds for stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4), but if Exhibit 8 is not authentic, this may show that relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) is not appropriate, but the court should grant relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) because movant has a colorable claim to enforce in its nonbankruptcy remedies outside this court.

In any event, if relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) is granted, based on debtor's opposition, the court does not make any finding of bad faith on his part since there is no evidence in the record that he had anything to do with the transfer, and it appears on this record that his bankruptcy case is being used by another for an improper purpose to stop the collection enforcement action of movant. In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012). The court is inclined to set an evidentiary hearing on movant's claim under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) since it is factually disputed by the borrower, and granting such relief would affect her rights.

Appearances are required on 4/17/18, but counsel may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures posted online on the court's website.

Chapter 7

#4.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(TD Auto Finance LLC VS Debtors)

Docket 12

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and available in hard copy in the courtroom. If movant does not appear, the court will assume that movant submits on the tentative ruling, which the court will adopt unless another party appears, which may result in setting a continued hearing.

Docket 132

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/16/18. This contested matter appears to be moot based on the court's approval of trustee's motion to approve settlement with claimants. If no appearances are made, the court will assume that the matter is settled and should be taken off calendar. Appearances are optional on 4/17/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/12/18. No tentative ruling will be issued for the evidentiary hearing. Appearances are required on 1/18/18.

No updated tentative ruling as of 8/28/17. Appearances are required on 8/29/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

No updated tentative ruling as of 7/24/17. Appearances are required on 7/25/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as contested matter under FRBP 9014 and set a pretrial schedule, including discovery proceedings. Sustain trustee's objections to Ahumibe Declaration for lack of foundation. Movants will have to prove their entitlement to the funds in the escrow account in this contested matter because there is insufficient evidence that the funds belong to them as exempt sale proceeds relating to a sale of a prepetition asset of theirs which may be otherwise part of the bankruptcy estate of their personal bankruptcy case, and the trustee of movants' personal bankruptcy case may have to be joined as a party to this contested matter. Docket 7

Tentative Ruling:

The court should rule upon defendants' motion to dismiss plaintiff's complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted as follows:

Grant as 1st cause of action because the allegations therein are conclusory and do not allege specific facts relating to alleged fraudulent transfers which are the basis of its claim under 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(2)(A) based on the Supreme Court's decision in Husky International Electronics, Inc. v. Ritz, 136 S.Ct. 1581 (2016); accord, DZ Bank AG Deutsche Zentral-Genossenschaft Bank v. Meyer, 869 F.3d 839 (9th Cir. 2017). Leave to amend is granted to cure this defect.

Grant as to 2nd cause of action because the alleged transfers are beyond the one-year period before the petition date for which a claim under 11 U.S.C. 727(a)(2)(A) may be based. Leave to amend is granted to cure this defect.

Deny as to 3rd cause of action because the allegations assert a plausible claim for relief.

Deny as to 4th cause of action because the allegations assert a plausible claim for relief.

Grant as to 5th cause of action because plaintiff is essentially seeking relief to impose liability on nondebtor parties, the alleged alter ego parties, for the debts of debtors, which is to substantively consolidate debtors' bankruptcy estates with the estates of these nondebtor parties for which plaintiffs lack standing as creditors as opposed to the trustee to seek such relief, for lack of notice to the alleged alter ego nondebtor parties and their creditors since these parties have not been served with the summons and complaint, and for failure to allege specific facts to support any substantive consolidation of debtors' estates with those of the nondebtor parties. See 2 Levin and Sommer, Collier on Bankruptcy, paragraph 105.09 at pages 105-92 - 105-112 (16th ed. 2017). Leave to amend is not granted because plaintiff lacks standing to seek such relief.

Leave to amend an original complaint is routinely granted pursuant to FRCP 15(a), and it would be an abuse of discretion not to grant leave to amend an initial complaint unless such amendment is futile. National Council of La Raza v. Chegavske, 800 F.3d 1032, 1041 (9th Cir. 2015)("It is black-letter law that a district court must give plaintiffs at least one chance to amend a deficient complaint, absent a clear showing that amendment would be futile.") #15.00 Hearing re: Defendants Marvin Abel Sican Roca aka Marvin A. Sican, Angelica Maria Rodriguez, Oscar L. Sican, Angelica Sican Martinez motion for order dismissing adversary proceeding for failure to state a claim on which relief can be granted

Tentative Ruling:

Grant defendants' motion to dismiss the adversary complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, but with leave to amend. The court agrees with defendants that the complaint does not adequately plead plausible claims. To the extent that plaintiff is relying upon a claim of the Internal Revenue Service for income taxes to fall within the 10-year statute of limitations for collection of taxes under 26 U.S.C. 6502(a)(1), plaintiff must allege a plausible claim that there was a tax liability owed by debtors at the time of the transfer and that the collection statute of limitation was still open at the time that this action was brought. However, in this case, since the alleged IRS tax liability of debtors is unassessed, plaintiff must plausibly allege that the statute of limitations for assessment of additional taxes against debtors under 26 U.S.C. 6501 is still open, so the tax is still assessable, which deadline is generally three years from the due date of the return, on or about 4/15/09, for calendar year 2008 since it appears that the return was filed before the due date, which deadline appears to have been or or about 4/15/12. The assessment statute of limitations may be longer than three years for a substantial omission of income or for fraud or evasion of tax under 26 U.S.C. 6501. If the IRS has not made an assessment of additional taxes within the statute of limitations on assessment, it cannot bring any action to collect tax. The complaint does not address this issue, only stating that the 10-year collection statute of limitations has not expired on information and belief.

The complaint alleges that on information and belief, the IRS will file a proof of claim in this case. However, as of 4/16/18, it has not done so, though the deadline for governmental claims is 5/21/18. If the IRS does not file a proof of claim, does this mean that plaintiff cannot rely on the IRS's standing to bring a fraudulent transfer action?

The allegations of the complaint are unclear about plaintiff's theory of tax liability based on unreported rental income, i.e., is plaintiff alleging that the property is owned by debtors despite the transfer of legal title, and if this is so, it is not clear. See In re Cass, 606 Fed. Appx. 318 (9th Cir. 2015)(creditor's judgment lien arising after fraudulent transfer of property attached to debtor's equitable interest in property since title transfer was a sham and debtor retained control and dominion over property). If the property was transferred to debtor's brother, and it is his now, then any rental income from the property would be attributable to him rather than debtor. The allegations in the complaint only assert that the transfer of the property by debtor husband to his brother was fraudulent because it was made for no consideration while debtors were insolvent, but not that debtors retained an equitable interest in the property.

If plaintiff asserts that debtors retained an equitable interest in the property despite transfer of legal title, it would seem that plaintiff does not need to rely on the IRS collection statute of limitations to assert a fraudulent transfer claim because such equitable interest would be property of this bankruptcy estate. In re Cass, supra.

The court agrees with defendants that the eleventh cause of action for denial of discharge fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. First, the cause of action contains two separate claims, one under 11 U.S.C. 727(a)(3), and one under 11 U.S.C. 727(a)(4). The claims are not adequately pleaded because there is no pleading of facts to support the elements of a claim under either statute.

Appearances are required on 4/17/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Docket 36

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/16/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. The United States Trustee has requested voluntary dismissal/withdrawal of his motion, but several parties have already responded to the motion, and the parties do not agree as to whether the case should be dismissed or converted. Appearances are required on 4/18/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

If the court determines that cause is shown under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(H), the court must consider and decide whether conversion, dismissal or trustee appointment is in the best interests of creditors and the estate under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(1). In re Sullivan, 522 B.R. 604, 612 (9th Cir. BAP 2014). However, there are conflicting positions among creditors regarding whether the case should be dismissed, converted to Chapter 7, or a trustee appointed in the best interests of creditors and the estate and the United States Trustee has no recommendation as between dismissal or conversion. One creditor, the judgment creditor Second Generation, Inc., contends that trustee appointment or conversion is in the best interests of creditors and the estate because the creditors supporting dismissal are sham creditors and debtor's schedules and monthly operating reports reflect an unexplained dissipation of about $240,000 in bank deposits shortly after petition date. The creditors supporting dismissal assert that they are owed large amounts and that conversion or trustee appointment will not allow the debtor to continue to operate to generate business revenue to pay them back. In making its determination of what is in the best interests of creditors and the estate, it is not simply a matter of the majority vote of creditors or which is largest and most vocal creditor, but what is in the best interests of all creditors. In re Sullivan, 522 B.R. at 612-613. The court believes that in fairness to the parties that it should conduct an evidentiary hearing if cause is found to determine whether it should dismiss or convert the case or appoint a trustee and hear testimony and receive evidence from debtor and creditors and interested parties, such as the United States Trustee, to resolve the contentions of the disputing parties on dismissal, conversion or trustee appointment (i.e., whether the allegedly suspect creditors which support dismissal have bona fide claims, whether debtor has an explanation for the alleged postpetition dissipation of its bank deposits). Appearances are required on 1/17/18, but counsel may appear by telephone. The court will set a schedule for the evidentiary hearing after considering the views and pretrial needs of the parties, including discovery.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/22/18. The amended disclosure statement is deficient and needs to be revised. First and foremost, no plan was attached to the disclosure statement, including Exhibits A and B, as well as the recently approved stipulation and order between debtor and secured creditor Christiana Trust. If debtor meant to attach the Plan last filed on 9/1/16, it should be updated to be accompany the amended disclosure statement. The court agrees with the objections of creditor Umbrella Investment Group that the amended disclosure statement lacks adequate information, including basic information about payment of general unsecured claims, how, what amounts and when. The last filed plan on 9/1/16 stated that general unsecured claims will be paid 100% and that debtor has rental income of $8,300, but no information is provided as to how, when and what means to implement the plan, so creditors can evaluate feasibility. Financial projections of income and expense for the duration of the plan term are missing and should have been provided. Perhaps debtor's use of the form disclosure statement should be jettisoned, and debtor should use a narrative disclosure statement in plain English to describe what he proposes to the creditors in his plan. Appearances are required on 1/24/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/4/17. Pending before the court is debtor's amendment to disclosure statement filed on 9/1/16, which has been noticed for hearing on 12/5/17. This amendment amends the original disclosure statement filed on 11/17/15. The original disclosure statement of 11/17/15 looks like a disclosure statement whereas the amendment filed on 9/1/16 does not. The amendment looks like an add-on amendment and does not contain sufficient information to constitute a disclosure statement that the court could approve and allow to be sent out to creditors. Debtor will have to Debtor should be prepared to discuss the treatment of each class of creditors since the proposed plan does not make it clear (e.g., 10 monthly payments for a number of classes, but no balloon payment stated). Perhaps debtor would have an easier time in not using the optional Chapter 11 form plan and disclosure statement and prepare a manually generated plan and disclosure statement and stating the proposed terms of the plan in a narrative.

The source of funding of plan is unclear. No historical financial data or projections are provided, which should be provided for each property as well as the debtor's business and living expenses. Since it appears that this is probably a cramdown plan situation due to the dispute over appropriate interest rates on secured claims, Debtor should be prepared to discuss how he will prove the appropriate cramdown rates of interest (i.e., is debtor submitting expert witness opinion testimony on interest rates?). Docket 487

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (4), including retroactive annulment of stay, to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies and for in rem relief for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Deny request for extraordinary relief in paragraph 4 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009). The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

The court does not make a finding of bad faith as to debtor. See In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012).

Docket 4

Tentative Ruling:

No tentative ruling as to request for relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) in light of debtor's opposition to motion.

Deny request for relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) for lack of evidentiary support showing that debtor has no interest in the subject property. There is no certified title report indicating that debtor has no interest or no equity in the subject property.

Deny request for extraordinary relief in paragraph 11 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009).

Deny request for relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(22) and (23) that there is no stay since movant has not met the conditions of these provisions with evidence of a judgment for possession under 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(22) and (23).

Movant requested relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(22) and (23) without any reasonable basis in fact and law, and the court requires signing counsel for movant, Lane M. Nussbaum, to appear and show cause why sanctions of $100 should not be imposed against him and his law firm, Nussbaum APC, for requesting such relief without a reasonable basis in fact and law under Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9011.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/23/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 5/29/18 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 4/24/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. The court has reviewed the joint status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 2/6/18 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, including timing of amendment of pleadings, the proposed extended discovery cutoff date and the setting of a pretrial conference, but counsel may appear by telephone. Defendants have demanded a jury trial, but the court will defer referral of the jury triable claims to the district court for jury trial until the pretrial conference which this court will conduct (unless defendant successfully moves the district court to withdraw the reference). Plaintiff's potential postpetition transfer claims are core claims within this court's jurisdiction and do not appear to be jury triable.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/6/17. The court has reviewed the joint status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 11/7/17 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, including mediation completion, extended discovery cutoff date and trial, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/28/17. The court has reviewed the joint status report. No tentative ruling on the merits, but grant joint request to extend the discovery cutoff date to 9/30/17. Appearances are required on 8/29/17 to tentative ruling as of 12/11/17. The court has reviewed the joint status report. Set a discovery cutoff date of 3/31/18 and a further postdiscovery status conference for 4/24/18 at 1:30 p.m. with a joint status report due on 4/17/18. Order the matter to mediation under the court's mediation program, the parties are to file a request for selection of mediator and alternate mediator by 1/31/18 and complete mediation by 4/24/18. Appearances are required on 12/12/17, but counsel may appear by telephone. Plaintiff to submit a proposed scheduling order within 7 days of hearing.

The court has reviewed the joint status report stating that the matter is being settled and requesting a 4-week continuance of the status conference to document the settlement. The court on its own motion continues the status conference to 5/29/18 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 4/24/18. Counsel for defendant to give notice to plaintiff.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the joint status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 10/10/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#17.00 Status conference re: Debtor's objection to creditor claim of Law Offices of Marilyn Smith
fr. 12/13/17, 3/2/18

Docket 140

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/23/18. As set for in its order of 2/6/18, the court intends to overrule the objection without prejudice in light of conversion of the case to Chapter 7 from 11 and the appointment of a Chapter 7 trustee if no appearance is made at the status conference on 4/24/18. Appearances are optional on 4/24/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Overrule debtor's objection to the claim of Law Offices of Marilyn Smith without prejudice because debtor did not include a copy of the proof of claim in the moving papers and list the number of the proof of claim as required by Local Bankruptcy Rule 3007-1(c)(2) and (a)(2), and because there is no proof of service of the objection (only the notice of objection). The court does not reach the merits of the objection or opposition to the objection until debtor remedies the procedural deficiencies of his objection. Appearances are required on 12/13/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/9/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 1/10/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 10/7/16. The parties in their joint status report indicated that they had an interest in mediation. Perhaps the parties can consider and discuss the possibility to refer the matter first to mediation before proceeding with full-blown litigation of the remaining claims. Appearances are required on 10/11/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 9/2/16. The court has reviewed the joint status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 9/6/16 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 6/20/16. The court has reviewed the joint status report of some of the parties appearing in this matter, including the attached statement of the Burris Parties, as well as the separate status statement of Eric Herrera.

The court also notes the parties used an obsolete version of the Joint Status Report form from December 2012, and in the future, the parties should use the current version of the form adopted in December 2015. The new joint status report form solicits the parties' positions as to whether they consent to the bankruptcy court's determination of noncore claims in light of Stern v. Marshall, 131 S.Ct. 2594 (2011), Executive Benefits Insurance Agency v. Arkison, 134 S.Ct. 2165 (2014) and Wellness International Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015). If consent of all parties is given, the bankruptcy court will enter a final judgment, but if consent of all parties is not given, then the court will issue proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law for de novo review by the district court. Id.

Appearances are required on 6/21/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/8/2014. Off calendar. The court has issued an order vacating the hearings and taking the matters under submission.

#1.00 EVIDENTIARY HEARING RE: United States Trustee's motion under 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(1) to convert, dismiss or appoint a chapter 11 trustee with an order directing payment of quarterly fees and for judgment thereon fr. 1/17/18

 VACATED  REASON: Withdrawn per notice filed on 3/26/18-pp.

Tentative Ruling:

Update d tentative ruling as of 4/23/18. Off calendar. Evidentiary hearing vacated by order filed on 4/11/18. No appearances are required on 4/25/18.

Revised tentative ruling as of 1/16/18. The court is considering granting motion of United States Trustee to dismiss, convert or appoint trustee for the reasons stated in the moving papers for lack of compliance with United States Trustee information reporting requirements under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(H) since cause may be shown by the moving papers and is not apparently disputed by debtor. However, before the court concludes that cause is shown under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(H), the court could allow debtor an opportunity to cure the United States Trustee information reporting deficiencies and allow the case to proceed.

If the court determines that cause is shown under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(H), the court must consider and decide whether conversion, dismissal or trustee appointment is in the best interests of creditors and the estate under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(1). In re Sullivan, 522 B.R. 604, 612 (9th Cir. BAP 2014). However, there are conflicting positions among creditors regarding whether the case should be dismissed, converted to Chapter 7, or a trustee appointed in the best interests of creditors and the estate and the United States Trustee has no recommendation as between dismissal or conversion. One creditor, the judgment creditor Second Generation, Inc., contends that trustee appointment or conversion is in the best interests of creditors and the estate because the creditors supporting dismissal are sham creditors and debtor's schedules and monthly operating reports reflect an unexplained dissipation of about $240,000 in bank deposits shortly after petition date. The creditors supporting dismissal assert that they are owed large amounts and that conversion or trustee appointment will not allow the debtor to continue to operate to generate business revenue to pay them back. In making its determination of what is in the best interests of creditors and the estate, it is not simply a matter of the majority vote of creditors or which is largest and most vocal creditor, but what is in the best interests of all creditors. In re Sullivan, 522 B.R. at 612-613. The court believes that in fairness to the parties that it should conduct an evidentiary hearing if cause is found to determine whether it should dismiss or convert the case or appoint a trustee and hear testimony and receive evidence from debtor and creditors and interested parties, such as the United States Trustee, to resolve the contentions of the disputing parties on dismissal, conversion or trustee appointment (i.e., whether the allegedly suspect creditors which support dismissal have bona fide claims, whether debtor has an explanation for the alleged postpetition dissipation of its bank deposits). Appearances are required on 1/17/18, but counsel may appear by telephone. The court will set a schedule for the evidentiary hearing after considering the views and pretrial needs of the parties, including discovery.

that consummation of the plan will be deferred until resolution of litigation disputes of debtor's objection to the IRS claim and creditor Rory Williams's motion to file late-filed claim. Appearances are required on 3/11/15 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/2/14. The court has reviewed debtor's post-confirmation status report. No tentative ruling on the merits, but it appears that consummation of the plan will be deferred until resolution of debtor's objection to the IRS claim. Appearances are required on 12/3/14 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/25/14. Appearances are required on 8/27/14 to schedule a post-confirmation status conference, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The court continues on its own motion the status conference to 8/27/14 at 11:00 a.m. at which time the court will set a post-confirmation status conference in November 2014 since a post-confirmation status conference was not set at the confirmation hearing on 7/24/14. No appearances are required on 8/21/14

Tentative Ruling:

Deny approval of disclosure statement because: (1) plan is patently unconfirmable because it modifies loan secured by lien on debtor's principal residence in violation of 11 U.S.C. 1125(b) (plan modifies contractual interest rate on first and second secured home loans) and it does not propose a cure of outstanding arrearages on home mortgages in accordance with 11 U.S.C. 1124(2)(10 year payment of arrearages is discriminatory compared with 5 year payment of general unsecured claims); (2) disclosure statement lacks adequate information regarding plan feasibility since no financial history or financial projections are provided. #12.00 CONT'D EVIDENTIARY HEARING RE: Motion for relief from stay
(U.S. Bank Trust N.A. VS Debtor)
fr. 11/7/17, 1/4/18, 3/21/18

Docket 79

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/23/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 4/25/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/19/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 3/21/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/3/18. On movant's claim under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2), it has met its burden of proof under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(1) to demonstrate lack of equity in the subject property based on the stipulated value for the property. Debtor as the party opposing relief has the burden on the remaining issue of demonstrating under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(2) and (d)(2) that the property is necessary to its effective reorganization, i.e., a confirmed reorganization plan is in reasonable prospect. Specifically, debtor must produce some evidence that its plan could be confirmed by a reasonable bankruptcy judge. In re Bonner Mall Partnership, 2 F.3d 899, 902 n. 4 (9th Cir. 1993). Debtor's projected income based on its principal's consulting income of $12,500 per month is not supported by any credible evidence for this projection. The demonstrated history in this case does not support the projection, and there is no credible explanation of how the income can be generated at that level to demonstrate plan feasibility under 11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(11). Debtor has not shown that it is likely to have at least one impaired class of claims to accept its plan under 11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(10) since there is no credible evidence indicating any creditor support for the plan (debtor's conclusory assertions are not evidence). Based on what has been submitted in the papers, the court is inclined to find that debtor has not met its burden of proof on the second prong of 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) that the property is necessary for its effective reorganization, i.e., that its plan could be confirmed by a reasonable bankruptcy judge and that the stay relief motion should be granted.

#15.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for order authorizing and approving adequacy of debtor's disclosure statement describing debtor's chapter 11 plan fr. 12/6/17, 2/21/18

Docket 158

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/23/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 4/25/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Deny approval of proposed disclosure statement for lack of adequate information. The disclosure statement does not contain the information normally expected, such as the matters identified in In re Metrocraft Pub. Servs. Inc., 30 B.R. 567, 568 (Bankr. N.D. Ga. 1984) discussed in the moving papers. The disclosure statement does not give meaningful information to creditors about how the plan works; it is just a collection of spreadsheets with little explanation. There is no explanation of how payments are going to be made under the plan, monthly, quarterly, annually, etc. There is a computation of net income on Exhibit C, but that does not translate into how plan payments are going to be made to creditors. The financial history spreadsheet, Exhibit D, is sparse and uninformative as to both the income and expenses of debtor, and just provides summary figures from the MORs.

The liquidation analysis, Exhibit G, is incomplete, and may not necessarily reflect the correct net equity of debtor since the asset values and encumbrances differ for each piece of collateral, and simply aggregating them does not necessarily mean that there is total negative net equity of the estate as computed (i.e., there is no explanation of the liens, whether they are only as to specific collateral or blanket liens). Debtor says there is no need to consider Chapter 7 administrative costs since there is negative net equity in debtor's assets in the aggregate, but these should be computed.

The court should also deny approval of the disclosure statement because the debtor's proposed new value plan on its face gives the exclusive new value opportunity to its sole shareholder, Ji K. Lim, and is not sufficiently market tested within the meaning of Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association v. 203 North LaSalle Street Partnership ("LaSalle"), 526 U.S. 434 (1999); see also, In re NNN Parkway 400 26, LLC, 505 B.R. 277, 281-283 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2014)(Albert, J.); see also, In re Arnold, 471 B.R. 578, 586 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012)(approval of disclosure statement should be denied if plan is nonconfirmable on its face). As Judge Albert observed in NNN Parkway 400 26, LLC, "LaSalle requires that the quantum of new value be market tested; otherwise the parties and the court cannot know whether the amount of new value is most available. And if more (or better) could be gotten elsewhere, then the equity is effectively keeping a form or property or interest in the debtor despite not paying the dissenting creditors in full, by exercising its exclusive 'option' to direct/determine the source of the new value. But LaSalle is frustratingly vague as to what exactly a debtor must do to 'market test' the interest; the Supreme Court expressly left the question open while naming some alternatives, such as the right to bid for the same interest or the right to file a competing plan." In re NNN Parkway 400 26, LLC, 505 B.R. at 281, citing LaSalle, 526 U.S. at 458; see also, LaSalle, 526 U.S. at 455 ("It is doomed, we can say without necessarily exhausting its flaws, by its provision for vesting equity in the reorganized business in the Debtor's partners without extending an opportunity to anyone else either to compete for that equity or to propose a competing reorganization plan."). "[D]ebtors bear the burden of showing that the new money offered is the most and best reasonably obtainable after some 'market testing' . . . This probably requires, at a minimum, demonstration of a systematic effort designed to 'market test' the deal." In re NNN Parkway 400 26, LLC, 505 B.R. at 283. There is no demonstration of any systematic effort designed to "market test" the deal shown in debtor's papers as far as this court can see.

The court also agrees with the objections of the committee and creditor Bank of Hope regarding the inadequacy of information regarding the new value contribution, the payment to unsecured creditors, the identification of postconfirmation directors and officers, treatment of creditor claims and impairment of secured claims.

Chapter 11

Debtor uses the court form Chapter 11 plan and disclosure statement which are designed in part for individual Chapter 11 cases and simple Chapter 11 cases, and debtor does not use the official court attachments for these forms, but provides its own custom form attachments deviating from the court form attachments, and provide much less information than required by the court form attachments. In this case, debtor's use of these court forms is really uninformative, and debtor should use more traditional, narrative form plan documents to cover the Metrocraft factors.

Chapter 11

#18.00 Cont'd hearing re: Disclosure statement
fr. 3/21/18

Docket 62

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/23/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 4/25/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The disclosure statement does not contain adequate information. Regarding treatment of secured claims, the text in the plan refers to Article II, but no Article II is attached. Exhibit C to the plan refers to certain notes for each claim, but these notes do not adequately spell out the treatment of the primary secured claim to Wells Fargo Bank, the senior secured lender for the loan on debtor's residence. The disclosure statement should have a more detailed description of how this claim will be treated under the plan. The plan itself is not much better. It is hard to tell what is being proposed for treatment of the claim. The disclosure statement and plan will have to be revised for sake of clarity. If this is a cramdown situation, it does not appear that a 40 year payout is fair and equitable for this creditor, and debtor should probably consider taking out this creditor when the loan matures under the existing terms. Appearances are required on 3/21/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#1.00 TRIAL RE: Motion for order disallowing claim no. 10-1 (Abraham Talassazan)
fr. 10/3/17, 11/7/17

Docket 133

 VACATED  REASON: Trial of 4/26/18 vacated per hearing held on 3/27/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/16/18. Off calendar. Trial vacated at hearing on 3/27/18 based on parties' representation that the matter is being settled, and a status conference is set for 5/29/18 at 2:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 4/26/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as a contested matter under FRBP 9014 and set a schedule of pretrial and trial proceedings. The court will treat the hearing as a status conference. Parties should attempt to consult regarding their pretrial needs, such as discovery, and suggest a proposed schedule to the court at the hearing.

To the extent that the trustee contends that the claim lacks documentation, that objection may not be valid because it is not necessarily based on a writing since it seems that creditor lent money to debtor without a writing, such as a promissory note, but the record is unclear. An objection to claim based on lack of documentation if the claim is not based on a writing is not well-taken. See In re Los Angeles International Airport Associates, 106 F.3d 1479 (9th Cir. 1997). It seems that the trustee's objection goes to the substance as opposed to just the lack of documentation since trustee relies upon debtor's schedules listing the debt at $400,000. Given the deficiencies in pleading on both sides, the court believes that the parties should be given the benefit of a doubt and be allowed to present evidence in support of their respective positions for and against the claim and litigate the contested matter of the trustee's objection to creditor's claim in accordance with the usual burdens of proof associated with claims litigation as the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel of the Ninth Circuit stated in In re Campbell, 336 B.R. 430 (9th Cir. BAP 2005). Appearances are required on 11/7/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

(Bankers Standard Insurance Company as subrogee of Charles A. Turney VS Debtor)

Docket 2318

Tentative Ruling:

In light of plan agent's opposition to the motion, appearances are required on 5/1/18. The court is inclined to grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue recovery only against applicable insurance for the reasons stated in the moving papers.

#2.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(HSBC Bank USA VS Debtor)

Docket 16

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition.

No tentative ruling on request for relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) because no service was made on the original borrower and this court generally requires service on the original borrower for due process concerns. In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 270 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012).

Deny the request for extraordinary relief in paragraph 3 since the debtor is not the borrower under the relevant loan agreements.

Grant waiver of the 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3).

#10.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion of plaintiff/creditor James Lee Clark for an order compelling discovery and sanctions against defendant/debtor Rita Ellison-Farris fr. 1/16/18, 1/30/18

Docket 351

 VACATED  REASON: Cont'd from 5/1/18 to 8/8/18 at 2:00 p.m. per order entered on 4/24/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/30/18. Off calendar. Continued by prior order to 8/8/18 at 2:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 5/1/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/29/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 1/30/18.

Updated tentative ruling as of 1/12/18. Plaintiff moves to compel discovery to defendant with respect to: (1) his request for admissions, (2) his interrogatories and (3) his requests for production of documents. As to the request for admissions, the motion is unnecessary because if the requests for admissions are properly served, the requested matters for admission are deemed admitted if not timely denied. As to the interrogatories, the motion should be denied because the interrogatories are invalid because plaintiff did not sign them. On the copy of the interrogatories attached to the motion, there is no signature of plaintiff on his interrogatories as required by Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9011(a). Plaintiff will need to sign them before he can move to compel defendant to respond to them. As to the request for production of documents, the motion does not comply with Local Bankruptcy Rule 9026-1(c) because plaintiff has not submitted a discovery dispute stipulation to be completed by both parties as to their positions on the discovery dispute. Plaintiff appears to have met the requirement of a meet and confer request to defendant's counsel, to which there was apparently no response, but plaintiff still needs to submit the joint discovery dispute stipulation required by Local Bankruptcy Rule 7026-1(c). The court wants the parties to conduct a meet and confer meeting regarding the interrogatories

Tentative Ruling:

Grant motion of counsel for debtor to withdraw for the reasons stated in the moving papers. The court will overrule plaintiff's objections because counsel did make an appearance for defendant in this matter and is considered by the court to have been defendant's attorney. The court will not grant plaintiff's request for sanctions because he needs to bring a separate motion for such relief, but having said that, the court does not see anything in his request that would warrant sanctions as requested should he bring such a motion. Appearances are required on 5/1/18, but counsel and self-represented parties may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures posted online on the court's website.

#15.00 Hearing re: Chapter 7 trustee's motion for order: (1) Authorizing Sale of 13127 Union Avenue, No. 105, Hawthorne, California 90250, Free and Clear of Liens, Claims, and Interests; (2) Approving Proposed Overbid Procedures; (3) Determining that Buyers are Good Faith Purchasers; (4) Authorizing Payment of Costs of Sale from Escrow; and (5) Authorizing payment of the debtor's homestead exemption from the sale proceeds; and (6) Waiving the fourteen (14) day stay prescribed by rule 6004(h) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure

Tentative Ruling:

Grant trustee's motion for order authorizing sale of real property, free and clear of liens, claims and interests, approving proposed overbid procedures, authorizing payment of costs of sale from escrow and waiving 14-day stay under FRBP 6004(h).

A prospective overbidder contacted the court last week about her interest in participating in the overbidding process, but due to hearing impairment, has requested that the court provide a sign language interpreter to assist her at the hearing pursuant to the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). While the ADA does not apply to the federal courts, 42 U.S.C. 12131 et seq., it is the policy of the federal courts to provide reasonable accommodations to a hearing impaired litigant as indicated as the court's website under accommodations. Normally, a request for a sign language interpreter as stated on the court's website requires at least three weeks advance notice. The court will inquire with the trustee and the prospective overbidder as well as interested parties about reasonable accommodations in this situation. The court is looking into the possibility of retaining a sign language interpreter on less than three weeks notice in this situation.

No tentative ruling on determining buyers are good faith purchasers since there may be overbidding. Appearances are required on 5/1/18.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 4/30/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 6/19/18 at 3:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 5/1/18.

Prior tentative ruling. The court agrees with defendants that actions to set aside fraudulent transfers of assets of a bankruptcy debtor belongs to the bankruptcy estate and may be the basis for a motion to dismiss because actions to collect upon assets of the estate are subject to the automatic stay and relief from stay has not been obtained by the plaintiffs. In re MortgageAmerica Corp., 714 F.2d 1266, 1275 (5th Cir. 1983); In re Curry & Sorenson, Inc., 57 B.R. 824, 827-828 (9th Cir. BAP 1986); but see, In re Colonial Realty Co., 980 F.2d 125, 130-132 (2nd Cir. 1992). As noted by plaintiffs, there is a division in circuit authority as to whether property of the bankruptcy estate includes property subject to a fraudulent transfer avoidance action is part of the bankruptcy estate before the avoidance action. See Peter Spero, Fraudulent Transfers, Prebankruptcy Planning and Exemptions, Section 3.3 (Westlaw online Sept. 2017 update), citing, In re MortgageAmerica Corp., supra; In re Colonial Realty Co., supra; Rajala v. Garner, 709 F.3d 1031 (10th Cir. 2013); In re Allen, 768 F.3d 274 (3rd Cir. 2014). There is no definitive case authority in the Ninth Circuit, though the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel of the Ninth Circuit has stated that a fraudulent transfer avoidance action to recover property fraudulently transferred by a bankruptcy debtor is an asset of the debtor's bankruptcy estate. In re Curry & Sorenson, Inc., supra. The court will follow the BAP rule in Curry & Sorenson, Inc., as the current law of the Ninth Circuit.

Having said this, however, before the court rules on defendants' motions to dismiss, the court notes that plaintiffs could obtain authority of this court to allow them as parties other than the trustee or debtor-in-possession to pursue litigation on behalf of the estate (as opposed for themselves only). In re Curry & Sorenson, Inc., supra; In re Spauding Composites Co., 207 B.R. 899, 903 (9th Cir. BAP 1997). If plaintiffs are seeking to enforce their own interests as creditors, the court would thus grant the motions to dismiss, but if plaintiffs are seeking authorization from the court to pursue the litigation on behalf of the estate and its creditors, they should file and serve an appropriate motion, and the court would consider it subject to hearing from other interested parties.

Deny request for an order to show cause and/or sanctions for violation of stay since the stay is not intended to protect non debtor parties. 11 U.S.C. 362(a); see also, Ingersoll-Rand Financial Corp. v. Miller Mining Co., 817 F.2d 1424, 1427 (9th Cir. 1987). Moreover, it would be difficult to show civil contempt here that plaintiffs willfully violated a specific and definite order of the court by clear and convincing evidence, see, e.g., In re Dyer, 322 F.3d 1178, 1190-1191 (9th Cir. 2003), in bringing the fraudulent transfer action against defendants, given the uncertainty of the law as indicated by the lack of definitive case authority in the Ninth Circuit and otherwise divided circuit authority on the question of whether a fraudulently transferred property before avoidance is property of a debtor's bankruptcy estate circuit.

Appearances are required on 3/20/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#19.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion of defendant JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. to dismiss first amended complaint fr. 2/27/18, 3/20/18

Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

Updated and revised tentative ruling as of 5/1/18.

Grant motion to dismiss 6th claim for relief for disallowance of claims because the claim is premature since the bank has not filed any proof of claim and dismiss without prejudice.

Grant motion to dismiss 1st and 2nd causes of action for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted because the claims do not allege sufficient facts to allege plausible claims. Like in In re Mullin, 2014 WL 5840364 (9th Cir. BAP 2014), plaintiff seeks declaratory relief that property was wrongfully foreclosed upon without sufficiently alleging claims of wrongful foreclosure which are state law claims. The first amended complaint alleges three theories of wrongful foreclosure: (1) mortgage insurance has paid off the underlying loan; (2) the foreclosure was not authorized by the securitization trust holding the beneficial interest in the note; (3) the assignment of the deed of trust to defendants was not signed by the original lender. There are no specific facts alleged to support any of these theories, only speculation on behalf of plaintiff under the guise of information and belief. However, the court will grant leave to amend within 30 days of entry of the order granting the motion to assert plausible wrongful foreclosure claims.

As to defendants' argument that the court lacks subject matter jurisdiction over these noncore state law claims, the court has "related to" jurisdiction over these claims which if the state law wrongful foreclosure claims are successful would result in recovery of estate property. However, the court as a non-Article III tribunal may not have constitutional authority to enter a final judgment on the noncore state law claims against defendants under Stern v.

Marshall, 564 U.S. 462 (2011). Absent consent to bankruptcy court jurisdiction, this court may try the case and issue proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law on plaintiff's noncore claims to be reviewed de novo by the district court with Article III authority, except if any of the claims are to be tried before a jury, the claims would have to be tried in the district court. See Executive Benefits Insurance Agency v. Arkison, 134 S.Ct. 2165 (2014); Wellness International Network, Ltd. v. Sharif, 135 S.Ct. 1932 (2015).

As to defendants' request for mandatory or permissive abstention, the court cannot abstain from hearing the claims here without a parallel state court proceeding, either under mandatory or permissive abstention. Security Farms v. International Brotherhood of Teamsters, 124 F.3d 999, 1009-1010 (9th Cir. 1997). There are no parallel proceedings in state court at this time.

Grant motion to dismiss 5th and 7th causes of action for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted because the claims do not allege sufficient facts to allege plausible claims. Even though these claims are federal claims for turnover under the Bankruptcy Code and for damages under the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA), the theory for recovery is based on plaintiff's state law claims for wrongful foreclosure, and unless plaintiff recovers on a wrongful foreclosure theory, there is no recovery under these claims. However, the court will grant leave to amend within 30 days of entry of the order granting the motion to assert plausible wrongful foreclosure claims upon which to base these claims.

Grant motion to dismiss 3rd and 4th causes of action for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted because the claims do not allege sufficient facts to allege plausible claims based on theory that the foreclosure of the senior lien by defendants violated the automatic stay from bankruptcy cases of other debtors. Debtor in this bankruptcy lacks standing to assert the effect of the automatic stay from bankruptcy cases of other debtors to assert that the foreclosure of defendants' lien violated the automatic stay in those other cases. In re Cogar, 210 B.R. 803, 808 n. 7 (9th Cir. BAP 1997). Leave to amend will not be granted because amendment would be futile.

Appearances are required on 5/1/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

follows: (1) first, second, third and fourth claims for relief based on permissive abstention because these claims are based on plaintiff's state law claims for wrongful foreclosure and the court should abstain because state law issues predominate over bankruptcy issues, there is no jurisdictional basis over the claims other than related to jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. 1334, the degree of relatedness or remoteness of the claims to the main bankruptcy case is tenuous because these claims are all based on the state law unlawful foreclosure claims, plaintiff's claims are noncore proceedings because plaintiff must establish its underlying state law noncore wrongful foreclosure claims before obtaining relief on these claims, the litigation of state law claims would be burdensome on this court's docket, it is likely that the commencement of this adversary proceeding involves forum shopping because plaintiff could have filed these claims in the state court either before or after bankruptcy and nondebtor parties, defendants, are present, and the other factors are neutral, In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166-1167 (9th Cir. 1990); (2) fifth claim for relief for disallowance of claims, dismissal without prejudice because the claim is premature since the bank has not filed any proof of claim; (3) sixth claim for relief based on Fair Debt Collection Practices Act - dismissal with prejudice pursuant to FRCP 12(b)(6) because plaintiff fails to state a claim that bank acted to collect any debt against plaintiff, bank is not a debt collector as creditor, mortgagor or mortgage servicing company and the claim is time-barred since brought more than one year after alleged violation pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1692k(d). Appearances are required on 3/20/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/22/18. The amended disclosure statement is deficient and needs to be revised. First and foremost, no plan was attached to the disclosure statement, including Exhibits A and B, as well as the recently approved stipulation and order between debtor and secured creditor Christiana Trust. If debtor meant to attach the Plan last filed on 9/1/16, it should be updated to be accompany the amended disclosure statement. The court agrees with the objections of creditor Umbrella Investment Group that the amended disclosure statement lacks adequate information, including basic information about payment of general unsecured claims, how, what amounts and when. The last filed plan on 9/1/16 stated that general unsecured claims will be paid 100% and that debtor has rental income of $8,300, but no information is provided as to how, when and what means to implement the plan, so creditors can evaluate feasibility. Financial projections of income and expense for the duration of the plan term are missing and should have been provided. Perhaps debtor's use of the form disclosure statement should be jettisoned, and debtor should use a narrative disclosure statement in plain English to describe what he proposes to the creditors in his plan. Appearances are required on 1/24/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 12/4/17. Pending before the court is debtor's amendment to disclosure statement filed on 9/1/16, which has been noticed for hearing on 12/5/17. This amendment amends the original disclosure statement filed on 11/17/15. The original disclosure statement of 11/17/15 looks like a disclosure statement whereas the amendment filed on 9/1/16 does not. The amendment looks like an add-on amendment and does not contain sufficient information to constitute a disclosure statement that the court could approve and allow to be sent out to creditors. Debtor will have to draft an updated disclosure statement that is self-contained in order for the plan to be considered by the court and creditors, and thus, the court will deny approval of the 9/1/16 amendment as debtor's disclosure statement. Appearances are required on 12/5/17 to discuss how long it will take debtor to revise his disclosure statement, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/13/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court has reviewed debtor's notice that tax returns have been prepared and filed, and the court expects to discuss debtor's plans for filing an amended disclosure statement. Appearances are required on 11/15/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/14/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 8/16/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 9/19/16. Debtor will need to address United States Trustee's objection regarding the estimates of income taxes needed to cover capital gains liability, but it appears that the amended disclosure statement is otherwise approvable, despite the United States Trustee's style suggestion, which the court does not agree with. Appearances are required on 9/21/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Appearances are required on 5/18/16 to address the objections of the United States Trustee and objecting creditors, but counsel (other than debtor's counsel) may appear by telephone. Debtor should be prepared to discuss the treatment of each class of creditors since the proposed plan does not make it clear (e.g., 10 monthly payments for a number of classes, but no balloon payment stated). Perhaps debtor would have an easier time in not using the optional Chapter 11 form plan and disclosure statement and prepare a manually generated plan and disclosure statement and stating the proposed terms of the plan in a narrative.

Prior tentative ruling. No tentative ruling on the merits. Debtor to address objections of United States Trustee and creditors to draft disclosure statement regarding adequacy of information. The source of funding of plan is unclear. No historical financial data or projections are provided, which should be provided for each property as well as the debtor's business and living expenses. Since it appears that this is probably a cramdown plan situation due to the dispute over appropriate interest rates on secured claims, Debtor should be prepared to discuss how he will prove the appropriate cramdown rates of interest (i.e., is debtor submitting expert witness opinion testimony on interest rates?). Appearances are required on 1/13/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Docket 423

Tentative Ruling:

Prior tentative ruling. Deny creditor Cindy Magleby's motion for discretionary abstention because the matter of claim objections is a core matter, the court has jurisdiction over the claim objection dispute as a core bankruptcy matter, abstention would adversely impact the efficient administration of the estate since there is no certainty that the claims determination issues will be resolved expeditiously in state court, there is not much difference in litigating claims estimation only for plan confirmation purposes as opposed to determining the claims on the merits, litigation of the claim objections in this court will provide certainty for plan confirmation, despite the litigation of the claim objections will be burdensome on the court's docket and arguably the filing of the bankruptcy case involved forum shopping. Docket 390

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/1/18. The court has reviewed the unilateral pretrial statements of the parties, which are incomplete and inadequate and will not be approved. The "statements" should be a joint pretrial stipulation, and they lack the exhibit lists of the parties and objections to exhibits thereto. Revised tentative ruling as of 3/6/18. The court notes that claimant has a pending motion for abstention on her claims set for hearing on 3/21/18. If the court abstains, this itself will not postpone plan confirmation proceedings because the parties may request the court to estimate the claims for voting on plan confirmation. Prior tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 2/7/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as contested matter under FRBP 9014 because the declarations of the witnesses in support of the moving and opposing papers raise material issues of fact to be resolved in an evidentiary hearing. Treat the hearing on 12/13/17 as a status conference to set a pretrial and trial schedule. The court will not take testimony from witnesses on a law and motion hearing calendar on 12/13/17, and the parties may not call their witnesses to testify on 12/13/17. If any party believes that there are no genuine issues of material fact and the party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, that party may seek summary judgment upon a proper motion brought pursuant to FRBP 7056 and 9014 and LBR 7056-1. Appearances are required on 12/13/17 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Chapter 11

#12.00 Cont'd hearing re: Disclosure statement
fr. 2/7/18, 3/7/18, 3/21/18

Docket 174

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/1/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 5/2/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Revised tentative ruling as of 3/6/18. The court has reviewed debtor's status update and request to continue the status conference. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 3/7/18 to discuss scheduling and the the impact of treatment on creditor Cindy Magleby's claims for plan voting and abstention among other things, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. The court notes that debtor filed a second amended disclosure statement on 1/30/18, 8 days before the further hearing on 2/7/18. Creditor Banc of California filed a response on 1/31/18 objecting to debtor's noticing approval of the amended disclosure statement for the hearing on 2/7/18, citing the court's oral ruling that creditors should be given 3 weeks notice of hearing on an amended disclosure statement. Appearances are required on 2/7/18 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, including adequate time for creditors to respond to debtor's second amended disclosure statement and a scheduling of a further hearing on debtor's second amended disclosure statement to allow for review and comment by creditors and interested parties, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/28/17. The court has reviewed debtor's status report. Appearances are required on 11/29/17 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, including filing date for debtor's second amended disclosure statement, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/22/17. Appearances are required on 5/24/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Debtor in his status report filed on 2/22/17 indicated that he and his counsel are working on revising and amending the original disclosure statement to include a revised and updated liquidation analysis and taking into account resolutions of claims of creditors, including First Republic Bank (however, the court notes that it disapproved without prejudice the stipulation resolving claim of First Republic Bank in light of objection of creditor Cindy Magelby since it appears that debtor will need to bring a FRBP 9019 motion). Appearances are required on 3/1/17 regarding scheduling of further proceedings for an amended and revised disclosure statement, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/7/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 5/8/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/1/18. The court has reviewed the unilateral pretrial statements of the parties, which are incomplete and inadequate and will not be approved. The "statements" should be a joint pretrial stipulation, and they lack the exhibit lists of the parties and objections to exhibits thereto. Prior tentative ruling as of 3/19/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 3/21/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Revised tentative ruling as of 3/6/18. The court notes that claimant has a pending motion for abstention on her claims set for hearing on 3/21/18. If the court abstains, this itself will not postpone plan confirmation proceedings because the parties may request the court to estimate the claims for voting on plan confirmation. If claimant believes that the court should permissively abstain from hearing this contested matter, then she should bring a proper motion for abstention rather than raising the request in her opposition to the objection. See In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166-1167 (9th Cir. 1990). However, it seems to the court that it could properly hear the objection to claim as a core proceeding under 28 U.S.C. 157(b)(2)(B) and not abstain under In re Conejo Enterprises, Inc., 96 F.3d 346 (9th Cir. 1996). Appearances are required on 3/7/18 to discuss scheduling and the the impact of treatment on creditor Cindy Magleby's claims for plan voting and abstention among other things, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. The court notes that debtor filed a second amended disclosure statement on 1/30/18, 8 days before the further hearing on 2/7/18. Creditor Banc of California filed a response on 1/31/18 objecting to debtor's noticing approval of the amended disclosure statement for the hearing on 2/7/18, citing the court's oral ruling that creditors should be given 3 weeks notice of hearing on an amended disclosure statement. Appearances are required on 2/7/18 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, including adequate time for creditors to respond to debtor's second amended disclosure statement and a scheduling of a further hearing on debtor's second amended disclosure statement to allow for review and comment by creditors and interested parties, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Debtor in his status report filed on 2/22/17 indicated that he and his counsel are working on revising and amending the original disclosure statement to include a revised and updated liquidation analysis and taking into account resolutions of claims of creditors, including First Republic Bank (however, the court notes that it disapproved without prejudice the stipulation resolving claim of First Republic Bank in light of objection of creditor Cindy Magelby since it appears that debtor will need to bring a FRBP 9019 motion). Appearances are required on 3/1/17 regarding scheduling of further proceedings for an amended and revised disclosure statement, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#1.00 TRIAL RE: Motion to dismiss case pursuant to 11 U.S.C. section 1112(b) or to convert case to chapter 7
fr. 12/6/17, 3/1/18

Docket 213

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 5/9/18. Off calendar. Motion resolved by stipulation and order. No appearances are required on 5/10/18.

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/7/18. No tentative ruling will be issued for the evidentiary hearing on the motion. Appearances are required on 5/10/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 4/5/18. No tentative ruling will be issued for the evidentiary hearing on the motion. Appearances are required on 4/12/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/28/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 4/12/18 at 9:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 3/1/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/26/18. The court first notes that the parties submitted unilateral pretrial stipulations with counsel declarations as to the circumstances why the pretrial stipulations are unilateral. Aside from the issue of the declaration of counsel for debtor is not properly subscribed under 28 U.S.C. 1746(1) outside the United States requiring the language, "under the laws of the United States of America" as part of the jurat, the court disregards the unilateral pretrial stipulations because the court did not order that pretrial stipulations be filed, only witness and exhibit lists of the parties.

It seems that movant will be able to show at trial that debtor is in material default of the confirmed plan because it is now the assignee of the note and trust deed by the original noteholder, Bank of America, at the time of plan confirmation and that not all the plan payments on the claim have been made. Thus, there are probably grounds at least under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(4)(N) to establish cause to dismiss or convert. The court would have to consider what would be in the best interests of creditors and the estate to dismiss or convert once cause is shown. In re Sullivan, 522 B.R. 604 (9th Cir. BAP 2014). Thus, in this regard, the court would have to consider the interests of all creditors and the estate, and not just movant.

Perhaps movant may want to reconsider asking for dismissal here because dismissal is not going to get movant where it wants to go, i.e., revocation of the confirmed plan to restore its prebankruptcy rights, as argued in its trial brief at 22. The cases movant cites, In re Nash, 765 F.2d 1410 (9th Cir. 1985) and In re Case, 27 B.R. 844 (Bankr. D.S.D. 1983), are completely inapposite since those were Chapter 13 cases, citing 11 U.S.C. 1307(b) and a Chapter 13 debtor's right of voluntary dismissal under that provision. In contrast, this is a Chapter 11 case where a debtor has no right of voluntary dismissal, and there is only one statute that provides for revocation of a confirmed plan, 11 U.S.C. 1144. Mere payment default is not enough to revoke a confirmed plan, but only if plan confirmation was procured by fraud as shown in an adversary proceeding commenced within 180 days of the entry of the plan confirmation order. 11 U.S.C. 1144; see also, 2 March, Ahart and Shapiro, Rutter Group California Practice Guide: Bankruptcy, paragraphs 11:2305-11:2315 at 11-278 - 11-279 (2017). The statute cited by movant, 11 U.S.C. 349, does not support its position since the statutory language does not revoke the plan. Id.

The parties are still bound by the plan, even if the Chapter 11 case is dismissed, since the plan has res judicata effect and the court lacks authority to vacate plan provisions which modify or cram down movant's lien. See 2 March, Ahart and Shapiro, Rutter Group California Practice Guide: Bankruptcy, paragraphs 5:1962 at 5(II)-27 and 11:2294 at 11-278, citing cases. The plan would be still enforceable as a state law contract, and dismissal of the case would mean that the court would not have jurisdiction to enforce the contract and the parties would probably have to go to state court to enforce their rights under the plan contract. Thus, in light of the applicable law as discussed herein, perhaps movant may want to consider taking up the suggestion of counsel for debtor to meet and confer and "work it out." The court would consider a short stipulated continuance of trial for counsel to consider these points and/or discuss a consensual resolution of the matter.

Appearances are required on 3/1/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as contested matter under FRBP 9014 because the declarations of the witnesses in support of the moving and opposing papers raise material issues of fact regarding debtor's performance under the confirmed plan and creditor's standing to be resolved in an evidentiary hearing. Treat the hearing on 12/6/17 as a status conference to set a pretrial and trial schedule. The court will not take testimony from witnesses on a law and motion hearing calendar on 12/6/17, and the parties may not call their witnesses to testify on 12/6/17. The court estimates that the evidentiary hearing will take one day and will schedule it for either January or February 2018. If either party believes that there are no genuine issues of material fact and it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, it may seek summary judgment upon a proper motion brought pursuant to FRBP 7056 and 9014 and LBR 7056-1. Appearances are required on 12/6/17 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 9/12/16. The court has reviewed the state court's order for dismissal without prejudice of the malpractice action in that court. It appears that the court should refer the case to the United States District Court because of the claim for personal injury damages must be determined by that court, which claim is intertwined with the dischargeability action. Alternatively, the court could abstain, allow plaintiff to refile the malpractice action in state court and not refer the case to the District Court. Appearances are required on 9/13/16, but the parties may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/22/16. No tentative ruling on the merits. The parties should address the court's request for clarification of dismissal order for the state court malpractice case and possible referral of case to the United States District Court because of the claim for personal injury damages. Appearances are required on 8/23/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 7/18/16. Off calendar. The court noting that defendant has noticed a hearing on his motion to dismiss the first amended complaint on 8/9/16 at 3:30 p.m., the court continues on its own motion the status conference on 7/19/16 at 1:30 p.m. to the date and time of the hearing on defendant's motion to dismiss the first amended complaint on 8/9/16 at 3:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 7/19/16.

Prior tentative ruling. The status conference will be heard at 3:00 p.m. with the hearing on defendant's motion to dismiss. Appearances are required on 3:00 p.m. calendar, not the 1:30 p.m. calendar. No tentative ruling on the merits for the status conference.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/11/18. Off calendar. The court has reviewed debtor's status report filed on 5/9/18 reporting that debtor is preparing a motion for final decree and requesting a 60 to 90 day continuance of the status conference for such motion to be noticed and heard. Docket 25

Revised tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 5/16/18 at 11:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 3/28/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Assuming the court does not grant creditors' pending stay relief motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3), grant motion to extend plan exclusivity under 11 U.S.C. 1121(d) because cause to extend plan exclusivity for a short period of time, about 90 days, to 7/1/18 is shown by debtor marketing the property "as is," proceeding with claims resolution process by having a bar date set, attempting to obtain LADRP approval of a final subdivision map and this is the first request to extend exclusivity. Granting a first extension of plan exclusivity does not necessarily favor further extensions unless debtor makes specific progress in either marketing the property or obtaining land use approvals to develop the real property. Appearances are required on 3/28/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#3.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Ta Siu & Qin Chen VS Debtor)
fr. 3/27/18

Docket 29

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 5/11/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 6/6/18 at 11:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 5/16/18.

Revised tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 5/16/18 at 11:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 3/27/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Deny motion for relief from stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d) (1) on grounds of bad faith since the circumstances argued by movants that the debtor is a SARE and that there are few other creditors and movants are the major creditors, and thus, this is only a two-party dispute, by themselves do not make this case to be one filed in bad faith.

Deny motion for relief from stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) on condition that debtor pay adequate protection payments to movants based on the 8% nondefault contract rate of interest on the value of the creditors' interest in the real estate, retroactive to the date of the first adequate protection payment. It appears that: (1) counsel for the parties were negotiating adequate protection terms in good faith near the end of the 90-day period after the order for relief; (2) counsel for movants proposed 6% to counsel for debtor during the negotiation, but was unable to obtain client authorization for that proposal and notified counsel for debtor right before the end of the 90 day period; (3) given the shortness of time in the notification of lack of client authority by counsel for movant before the deadline, debtor made a first adequate protection payment at 6% rate preliminarily proposed by counsel for movant before the deadline, which seems to be in good faith; and (4) however, there was no agreement between the parties for adequate protection payments less than the 8% nondefault contract rate, and movants have not waived their rights under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) for at least adequate protection payments based on the nondefault contract rate of 8%, the statute says what it says, and debtor needs to pay that rate as adequate protection if it wants the stay to remain in place under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3). If debtor is not willing to pay the 8% rate, the court will grant the motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3). Debtor in its reply states that it has no problem paying 8%, but the value of the property for adequate protection purposes should be $3 million, yielding an adequate protection payment of $20,000, which is less than what was first paid. Apparently, during the adequate protection negotiations, the parties assumed that the value was $4.5 million, and there may be a material issue of fact of the adequacy of the adequate protection payments for purposes of 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) based on differences in valuation of the subject collateral. If the parties dispute valuation, the court will set an evidentiary hearing on valuation, and the parties should be prepared to discuss how they will prove up valuation for the purposes of this motion at the hearing.

Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures posted online on the court's website.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed debtor's status report. The proposed claims bar date and notice dates proposed in the status report are satisfactory. Because debtor indicated on the petition that this is a single asset real estate case, debtor should advise the court whether it will be asking the court for an extension of the 90 day deadline for filing a plan or commencing adequate protection payments to avoid stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) for a creditor whose claim is secured by the real estate. The court has reviewed debtor's status report. Regarding debtor's proposed claims bar dates, the court requires at least 60 days notice to nongovernmental creditors, and debtor's proposed bar date for governmental creditors of 7/30/18 is inconsistent with 11 U.S.C. 502(b)(9) providing that claims of governmental units are timely if filed before 180 days after the order for relief. Debtor should be prepared to discuss its ability to complete the work in progress consisting of the 58 projects in various states of completion discussed in the status report. Debtor stated that it is working to complete these projects with a gross sales price of $1.9 million, but "the projected net income is highly dependent on (i) costs of materials and subcontractors and (ii) cooperation from the financing companies that fund customer projects." Debtor also stated that materials and subcontractor costs comprise about 55% of gross revenue and that it has postpetition subcontractor payables of $136,000 and unpaid payroll tax and benefit obligations of $70,000 (Debtor needs to clarify whether these payroll tax and benefit obligations are pre or postpetition). #1.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. VS Debtors)

Docket 51

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a) (3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and available in hard copy in the courtroom. If movant does not appear, the court will assume that movant submits on the tentative ruling, which the court will adopt unless another party appears, which may result in setting a continued hearing.

Chapter 7

#7.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Anchor Assets V, LLC VS Debtor)

Docket 18

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 5/21/18 at 4:00 p.m. Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1), (2) and (4) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies and for in rem relief for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Deny relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) because movant has not made a prima facie showing that the requirements of that statute exist here.

The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

The court does make a finding of bad faith as to debtor. See In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012).

In light of debtor's late filed opposition filed on 5/21/18 at 12:06 p.m., appearances are required on 5/22/18, but counsel may appear by telephone. Debtor's late-filed opposition is unexcused and debtor's failure to file and serve a timely opposition may be deemed consent to granting relief adverse to it pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h). In any event, debtor's late-filed opposition is "too little, too late" in that it fails to submit any evidence in support of its arguments.

Deny debtor's motion for continuance filed on 5/21/18 as late and untimely filed because not filed at least 3 days before the date set for hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(m)(1).

No tentative ruling on waiver of the 14-day stay on enforcement under FRBP 4001(a)(3) in light of debtor's late-filed opposition.

#12.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Equity Residential Management, LLC VS Debtor)

Property: 10001 Venice Boulevard #315, Los Angeles, CA 90034

Docket 41

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and 11 U.S.C. 362 (d)(2) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

#18.10 Hearing re: Motion in individual case for order imposing a stay or continuing the automatic stay as the court deems appropriate

Property re: 7915 Harper Ave, Downey, CA 90241

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

Based on opposition of Specialized Loan Servicing, LLC, as servicer for secured creditor U.S. Bank as trustee for Deutsche securitization trust, deny motion to continue stay because debtor only recently acquired an interest in the subject real property on 4/19/18, shortly before the bankruptcy petition was filed on 4/27/18, for no consideration, this last transfer was part of a series of transfers of interests in the subject property involving the original borrower, George Palma, not consented to by the lender, given the recency of this transfer, it appears that this transfer was to hinder, delay or defraud the lender, and thus, based on this record, debtor has not rebutted the presumption of lack of good faith under 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(2) by clear and convincing evidence. Appearances are required on 5/22/18. The court may take live testimony from witnesses, including debtor, at the hearing regarding the moving and opposing papers.

proceedings before the state appellate court and requesting a continuance of the status conference pending the decision of the state appellate court. The court on its own motion continues the status conference to 9/26/17 at 1:30 p.m. and orders the parties to file a further joint status report by 9/19/17. No appearances are required on 3/28/17.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the joint status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 10/4/16 to discuss scheduling of mediation and trial, and the arrangements for a stay of this adversary proceeding pending appellate review of judgment in related state court litigation, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Docket 1

 VACATED  REASON: Cont'd from 5/22/18 to 7/31/18 at 1:30 p.m. per stip & order entered on 5/14/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/21/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 7/31/18 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 5/22/18.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the joint status report. Set discovery completion date of 1/31/18 and set a post-discovery status conference for 2/20/18 at 1:30 p.m. Order the matter to mediation under the court's mediation program, and parties to file a request for selection of mediator and alternate by 7/31/17 and to complete mediation by 2/28/17. Appearances are required on 5/16/17, but counsel may appear by telephone. Plaintiff is ordered to submit a proposed scheduling order setting forth the court's rulings within 7 days of hearing.

Docket 1

 VACATED  REASON: Dismissed by stip & order entered on 1/26/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/21/18. Off calendar. Adversary proceeding dismissed by stipulation and order entered on 1/26/18. No appearances are required on 5/22/18.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the joint status report required under LBR 7016-1 to be filed 14 days before the status conference, which was late-filed on 11/27/17, and the court has reviewed the declaration of counsel for United States Trustee re: unilateral filing of status report stating that counsel for defendant was unresponsive to requests to prepare the joint status report. Appearances are required on 11/28/17 to address why monetary sanctions of $100 should not be imposed against Oaktree Law, counsel for defendant, for failure to timely submit a joint status report as required by LBR 7016-1.

Set discovery cutoff date of 5/18/18, a pretrial conference for 6/19/18 at 2:00 p.m. and a deadline for filing a joint pretrial stipulation of 6/12/18. United States Trustee to submit a proposed scheduling order within 7 days of hearing.

[11 U.S.C. §523(a)(2)(A)]
fr. 4/18/17, 9/26/17, 11/14/17

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/21/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 6/5/18 at 2:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 5/22/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/13/17. The court has reviewed the joint status report. Appearances are required on 11/14/17 to discuss the possibility of joint mediation, scheduling of further proceedings, including pretrial conference and trial, but counsel may appear by telephone. The consensus of the parties seems to be a discovery cutoff date of March 2018, i.e., March 31, 2018, a pretrial conference in April 2018, and a trial date in June 2018. The parties should be prepared to discuss how the case should be tried, given there are 6 sets of plaintiffs, and the length of trial, so that all parties have a full and fair opportunity to present their various cases. Perhaps it would be helpful to consider trying certain claims based on commonality of witnesses and facts, such as the particular type of investment vehicle involved. Defendant indicated an interest in mediation, but plaintiffs indicated no interest in mediation, and the court would like to hear from plaintiffs why mediation would not be helpful in resolving their claims, given that collectibility of defendant is probably an issue.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the joint status report. Set a discovery cutoff date of 9/1/17 and a further postdiscovery status conference for 9/26/17 at 1:30 p.m. with a joint status report due on 9/19/17. Order the matter to mediation, the parties are to file a request for selection of mediator and alternate mediator by 5/19/17 and complete mediation by 9/26/17. Appearances are required on 4/18/17, but counsel may appear by telephone. Plaintiff to submit a proposed scheduling order within 7 days of hearing.

#47.00 Hearing re: Motion for judgment on the fourth cause of action to determine non-dischargeability of debt pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(6)

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

Deny plaintiff's motion for judgment on the pleadings because: (1) no proof of service on defendant (LBR 9013-1(a), FRBP 7005 and FRCP 5(b)(2) requires mail service on defendant - no proof of consent by defendant to electronic service); (2) no proof of standing to assert claim of Amanda Lollar - defendant denies that plaintiff is Lollar's assignee in her answer, which also precludes judgment on the pleadings; (3) no showing that plaintiff is entitled to judgment on the pleadings that the elements of collateral estoppel meet the standards of Texas law under which the state court judgment was entered and the judgment entitled to collateral estoppel effect under Texas law meets the federal standards for debt dischargeability claims under 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(6) under In re Plyam, 530 B.R. 456 (9th Cir. BAP 2015).

Although defendant filed a motion for continuance in order to have more time to respond to plaintiff's reply, the court is inclined to deny the motion for continuance because the court thinks plaintiff's motion needs to be substantially revised to address the court's concerns about the application of collateral estoppel here since plaintiff's analysis is conclusory and insufficient because there is no analysis of Texas law of collateral estoppel to show the collateral estoppel effect of the Texas judgment. The court is not so sure that the motion can be granted on its face because the opinion of the Texas Court of Appeals stated at page 20 of its memorandum opinion (attached as Exhibit 2 to Plaintiff's Complaint) that the standard of proof requires only at least negligence for defamation claims between private parties concerning private speech, which does not meet the willfulness standard of 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(6) as indicated in In re Plyam, supra, and at page 59 of its memorandum opinion that recovery of exemplary or punitive damages in Texas civil practice can be met by showing gross negligence which also does not meet the willfulness standard of 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(6) as indicated in In re Plyam, supra. will have to provide a complete analysis of the requirements of Texas law to prove a defamation claim and entitlement to exemplary damages and to establish the collateral estoppel effect of a judgment on a defamation claim and a claim for exemplary damages in order to show that these requirements satisfy the federal standards of debt dischargeability under 11 U.S.C. 523(a) (6). Denial of the motion will be without prejudice to allow plaintiff the opportunity to remedy these deficiencies. In resubmitting the motion, plaintiff should also submit a copy of the state court complaint which relates to the state court judgment so that the court can see what exactly were the claims upon which judgment was rendered. Plaintiff should also submit any express findings of fact made by the Texas trial court which were not attached to the complaint, which findings may show whether the standards of proof met in the state court case satisfy the federal standard of willfulness and malice under 11 U.S.C. 523(a)(6).

#6.00 Hearing re: Application to employ the Law Offices of Philip Kaufler as debtor's state court and appellate court special litigation counsel

Docket 45

Tentative Ruling:

Approve application of debtor to employ special litigation counsel for the reasons stated in the application and the lack of timely written opposition (creditor Second Generation, Inc., filed a withdrawal of its opposition on 5/17/18). Appearances are optional on 5/23/18, but counsel may appear by telephone. Applicant to submit a proposed order within 7 days of hearing.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/21/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 5/23/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed debtor's status report. The proposed claims bar date of 7/13/18 and proposed date for filing a disclosure statement of 6/4/18 seem reasonable. Appearances are required on 4/11/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

fr. 4/24/18

Docket 39

 VACATED  REASON: Cont'd from 5/23/18 to 5/30/18 at 1:30 p.m. per order entered on 4/26/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/21/18. Off calendar. Continued to 5/30/18 at 1:30 p.m. by prior order entered on 4/26/18. No appearances are required on 5/23/18.

Revised tentative ruling as of 4/23/18 at 5:30 p.m. Off calendar. The court is issuing a written order continuing the hearing on the motion to 5/23/18 at 1:30 p.m. The order requires the parties to redact personal identifier information in their papers as required by FRBP 7037 and LBR 7037-1. The parties improperly stated the names of minor children and other personal identifiers in their papers. The parties also cited to numerous unreported court decisions in their papers and failed to provide the court with unmarked, complete copies of these decisions as required by LBR 9013-2(c)(3)(D). No appearances are required on 4/24/18.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/21/18. Off calendar. Hearing vacated by prior order entered on 4/17/18. No appearances are required on 5/25/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as a contested matter under FRBP 9014 and set an evidentiary hearing on the issues of good faith and abuse under 11 U.S.C.
707(b) because there are disputed and material issues of fact, although creditor's showing is pretty weak. Appearances are required on 3/20/18 to

#1.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. VS Debtor)

Docket 25

Courtroom Deputy:

- NONE LISTED -

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and 11 U.S.C. 362 (d)(2) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and available in hard copy in the courtroom. If movant does not appear, the court will assume that movant submits on the tentative ruling, which the court will adopt unless another party appears, which may result in setting a continued hearing.

Docket 10

Courtroom Deputy:

[Cont'd from 3/27/18 to 5/29/18 at 11:00 a.m. per stip & order entered on 3/26/18]

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/25/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 5/29/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 5/29/18 at 11:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 3/27/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/27/17. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 1/30/18 at 10:30 a.m. No appearances are required on 11/28/17.

Prior tentative ruling. As indicated in debtor's response of non-opposition to the motion, It appears that the subject property is not property of the estate since there was a marital dissolution judgment in 2010 between debtor and her former spouse, which allocated the property to the former spouse as his separate property in the their division of marital property. Thus, the motion should be granted under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) for cause since the property does not appear to be property of the estate. Appearances are required on 5/23/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Docket 1

Courtroom Deputy:

[Cont'd from 4/24/18 to 5/29/18 at 1:30 p.m. per stip & order entered on 3/28/18]

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/25/18. The court has reviewed the joint status report. Set a discovery cutoff date of 8/30/18, a pretrial conference for 10/23/18 at 2:00 p.m. and a deadline for filing a joint pretrial stipulation on 10/16/18. In the joint pretrial stipulation, the parties will need to address handling a bifurcated trial between claims to be tried before a jury in the district court and claims to be tried by the court in this court. Once the court approves the joint pretrial stipulation, the court will set a date for the court trial of the claims to be tried by this court and will make a referral of the jury triable claims to the district court. Appearances are required on 5/29/18 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. The court has reviewed the joint status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 2/6/18 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, including timing of amendment of pleadings, the proposed extended discovery cutoff date and the setting of a pretrial conference, but counsel may appear by telephone. Defendants have demanded a jury trial, but the court will defer referral of the jury triable claims to the district court for jury trial until the pretrial conference which this court will conduct (unless defendant successfully moves the district court to withdraw the reference). Plaintiff's potential postpetition transfer claims are core claims within this court's jurisdiction and do not appear to be jury triable.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/25/18. Off calendar. In light of the pending stipulation of the parties for dismissal of the adversary proceeding, awaiting the time for objection to dismissal of the claims to deny discharge of debtor pursuant to FRBP 7041 and LBR 9013-1(o), the court on its own motion continues the status conference for about 60 days to 8/1/18 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 5/29/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. Off calendar. The court has reviewed the joint status report in which the parties requested a continuance of the status conference to allow an opportunity to first discuss settlement before setting a pretrial schedule. The court on its own motion continues the status conference for about 60 days to 5/29/18 at 1:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 3/27/18.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the joint status report indicating that counsel has recently been retained by defendant and that the parties have not had their LBR 7026-1 initial meeting. Docket 133

Courtroom Deputy:

- NONE LISTED -

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/25/18. This contested matter of trustee's motion to disallow creditor's claim appears to have been resolved by the settlement approved by order entered on 4/18/18 and thus the status conference is moot due to the settlement. The court will assume that the matter is resolved by settlement and the status conference is moot if no appearance is made at the hearing. Appearances are optional on 5/29/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Treat as a contested matter under FRBP 9014 and set a schedule of pretrial and trial proceedings. The court will treat the hearing as a status conference. Parties should attempt to consult regarding their pretrial needs, such as discovery, and suggest a proposed schedule to the court at the hearing.

To the extent that the trustee contends that the claim lacks documentation, that objection may not be valid because it is not necessarily based on a writing since it seems that creditor lent money to debtor without a writing, such as a promissory note, but the record is unclear. An objection to claim based on lack of documentation if the claim is not based on a writing is not well-taken. See In re Los Angeles International Airport Associates, 106 F.3d 1479 (9th Cir. 1997). It seems that the trustee's objection goes to the substance as opposed to just the lack of documentation since trustee relies upon debtor's schedules listing the debt at $400,000. Given the deficiencies in pleading on both sides, the court believes that the parties should be given the benefit of a doubt and be allowed to present evidence in support of their respective positions for and against the claim and litigate the contested matter of the trustee's objection to creditor's claim in accordance with the usual burdens of proof associated with claims litigation as the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel of the Ninth Circuit stated in In re Campbell, 336 B.R. 430 (9th Cir. Docket 705

Courtroom Deputy:

- NONE LISTED -

Tentative Ruling:

It appears that the trustee is requesting authorization to execute the first amendments to management and operations transfer agreements to consummate the sale of debtors' assets and operations under the sale agreement to conform to the agreement between the buyer and California Department of Social Services, and not the lease agreements between the buyer through its landholding entities and its designated operating entities. It would be helpful to the court that trustee clarify these details. Prior tentative ruling as of 9/12/16. The court has reviewed the state court's order for dismissal without prejudice of the malpractice action in that court. It appears that the court should refer the case to the United States District Court because of the claim for personal injury damages must be determined by that court, which claim is intertwined with the dischargeability action. Alternatively, the court could abstain, allow plaintiff to refile the malpractice action in state court and not refer the case to the District Court. Appearances are required on 9/13/16, but the parties may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/22/16. No tentative ruling on the merits. #31.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion to substitute Lisa Moll-Watson for deceased defendant Gary E. Moll, as executor of the estate of Gary E. Moll, in this proceeding fr. 3/27/18

Courtroom Deputy:

- NONE LISTED -

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/25/18. This motion appears to be superseded by a new motion on calendar as matter number 33. Appearances are required on matter number 33.

Prior tentative ruling. No tentative ruling on the merits. It appears that the motion to substitute is timely filed within 90 days of suggestion of death by counsel for defendant under FRCP 25 (assuming for the sake of argument that counsel may properly suggest death of her client on the record, see In re Cardoza, 111 B.R. 906, 909 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 1990)). However, plaintiff has not substantiated that Lisa Moll-Watson is the proper party defendant as the executor of defendant's estate. The court requires that plaintiff submit proof that she is now the representative of defendant's decedent estate. Moreover, plaintiff has not properly served Ms. Moll-Watson since the address listed for her on the proof of service of the motion is the funeral home and not her address as listed on defendant's death certificate. Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel and self-represented parties may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures posted on the court's website.

[Note: Debtor/defendant, Gary Moll's death certificate filed on 12/5/17]

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/25/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 5/29/18, but counsel and self-represented parties may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures posted online on the court's website.

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/7/18. Off calendar. Continued by prior order to 5/29/18 at 2:30 p.m. to be conducted with hearing on plaintiff's motion to substitute party. No appearances are required on 5/15/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/13/17. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 11/14/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/30/17. The parties should appear telephonically to discuss the impact of the pending related state court action on this adversary proceeding, that is, whether the proceedings in this matter should be stayed pending the resolution of plaintiff's claims in state court. Appearances are required on 1/31/17, but counsel and plaintiff representing himself may appear by telephone.

Chapter 7

Prior tentative ruling as of 10/3/16. Since plaintiff is pursuing liquidation of his substantive claims in state court litigation, and the court would stay the proceedings in this court until the state court litigation is completed. Appearances are required on 10/4/16, but counsel and self-represented parties may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 10/3/16. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 10/4/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 9/12/16. The court has reviewed the state court's order for dismissal without prejudice of the malpractice action in that court. It appears that the court should refer the case to the United States District Court because of the claim for personal injury damages must be determined by that court, which claim is intertwined with the dischargeability action. Alternatively, the court could abstain, allow plaintiff to refile the malpractice action in state court and not refer the case to the District Court. Appearances are required on 9/13/16, but the parties may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/22/16. No tentative ruling on the merits. The parties should address the court's request for clarification of dismissal order for the state court malpractice case and possible referral of case to the United States District Court because of the claim for personal injury damages. Appearances are required on 8/23/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 8/8/16. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 8/9/16, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 7/18/16. Off calendar. The court noting that defendant has noticed a hearing on his motion to dismiss the first amended complaint on 8/9/16 at 3:30 p.m., the court continues on its own motion the status conference on 7/19/16 at 1:30 p.m. to the date and time of the hearing on defendant's motion to dismiss the first amended complaint on 8/9/16 at 3:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 7/19/16.

Prior tentative ruling. The status conference will be heard at 3:00 p.m. with the hearing on defendant's motion to dismiss. Appearances are required on 3:00 p.m. calendar, not the 1:30 p.m. calendar. No tentative ruling on the merits for the status conference.

#35.00 Hearing re: Motion for order authorizing abandonment

Docket 81

Courtroom Deputy:

- NONE LISTED -

Tentative Ruling:

Treat as a contested matter under FRBP 9014 since there are disputed issues of material fact regarding the reasonableness of the trustee's exercise of business judgment to abandon all assets of the estate to the debtor. The court will conduct the hearing as a status conference, and the parties should be prepared to discuss scheduling of pretrial and trial proceedings, including what evidence or discovery they will need for trial. As a suggestion in response to the trustee's reply to the opposition of the two objecting creditors, the court would consider a continuance of the hearing to allow the objecting creditors and their counsel to meet and confer with the trustee to hear in detail why the trustee believes that the assets should be abandoned. Appearances are required on 5/29/18, but counsel and self-represented parties may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures posted online on the court's website.

Docket 18

 VACATED  REASON: Voluntary dismissal filed on 5/24/18-mb.

Courtroom Deputy:

- NONE LISTED -

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/25/18. The application for employment of the real estate broker appears to be moot due to the settlement between trustee and debtor, obviating the estate's need to employ a broker. The court will assume that the application is moot and deny it as moot if no appearance is made at the hearing. Appearances are optional on 5/29/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court is inclined to give debtor a short period of time to discuss possible settlement with trustee before ruling on the application in light of denial of motion to convert. Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court is inclined to trail the hearing on the employment application of the broker until the hearing on debtor's motion to convert, which has not been set yet by debtor in response to trustee's opposition to that motion. Appearances are required on 2/27/18 to discuss scheduling of the hearing on the motion to convert and the employment application, but counsel may appear by telephone. If debtor does not promptly notice the motion to convert for hearing, the court would proceed to rule on the employment application.

Docket 70

Tentative Ruling:

Grant debtor's motion to extend exclusivity to propose a plan and obtain acceptances for the reasons stated in the moving papers. It appears to the court that debtor is attempting to reorganize in good faith by prosecuting the unlawful detainer action to obtain possession of the property with the intent to lease out space once possession is recovered, the claims bar date is about to pass, so that debtor will know the universe of claims to deal with and to formulate a plan, this is a first request for extension of plan exclusivity, and the requested extension is only three months, in a case that was only filed four months ago, debtor should have an opportunity to make progress in the unlawful detainer action to generate income to formulate a plan, it does not appear that debtor is using the request to extend plan exclusivity to pressure creditors, if progress in recovering possession is not being made, then it may be appropriate that debtor should consider selling its real property to realize value for creditors. Adv#: 2:17-01415 Gross v. Kelly

#10.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for summary judgment, or alternatively for summary adjudication of the 1st and 2nd claims for relief

fr. 4/24/18, 5/23/18

Docket 39

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 5/25/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 5/30/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Revised tentative ruling as of 4/23/18 at 5:30 p.m. Off calendar. The court is issuing a written order continuing the hearing on the motion to 5/23/18 at 1:30 p.m. The order requires the parties to redact personal identifier information in their papers as required by FRBP 7037 and LBR 7037-1. The parties improperly stated the names of minor children and other personal identifiers in their papers. The parties also cited to numerous unreported court decisions in their papers and failed to provide the court with unmarked, complete copies of these decisions as required by LBR 9013-2(c)(3)(D). No appearances are required on 4/24/18.

Docket 21

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and 11 U.S.C. 362 (d)(2) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and available in hard copy in the courtroom. If movant does not appear, the court will assume that movant submits on the tentative ruling, which the court will adopt unless another party appears, which may result in setting a continued hearing.

#3.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Behrouz Shadsirat VS Debtors)

Docket 41

Tentative Ruling:

Since it appears that the state court litigation for which movant seeks stay relief based on mandatory abstention has been removed by debtors to this court, the court is inclined to deny the motion without prejudice because there is no pending litigation in state court for this court to abstain for. See In re Roman Catholic Bishop of San Diego, 374 B.R. 756, 760 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 2007), citing inter alia, Security Farms v. International Brotherhood of Teamsters, 124 F.3d 999, 1009-1010 (9th Cir. 1997). Movant will need to bring a motion for equitable remand under 28 U.S.C. 1452(b) in conjunction with a renewed stay relief motion for the state court litigation to proceed. Appearances are required on 6/5/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and 11 U.S.C. 362 (d)(2) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies, including stay annulment, for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

(Partners Federal Credit Union VS Debtor)

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

Movant failed to provide a judge's copy of the moving papers with separately tabbed exhibits as required by LBR 5005-2(d). If movant provides the court with a properly tabbed judge's copy of the moving papers as required by the rules, grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Deny stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) because moving papers admit that debtor has equity in the collateral, and thus, movant has failed to meet its burden of showing the lack of equity under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(1). The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

#8.10 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Kinecta Federal Credit Union VS Debtor)
fr. 5/8/18, 5/29/18

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 6/4/18. It does not appear that an amended notice of motion was filed and served on debtor personally. The proof of service itself is not an amended notice of motion, so it appears that service of the motion is still deficient. Appearances are required on 6/5/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Service of the motion is deficient since as indicated on the proof of service to the motion, there was no service on debtor required under LBR 4001-1(c)(1)(C)(i) which requires service not just on debtor's attorney, but debtor himself. Movant also failed to provide a judge's copy of the moving papers with separately tabbed exhibits as required by LBR 5005-2(d). Appearances are required on 5/8/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

fr. 9/26/17, 11/14/17, 5/22/18

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/21/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 6/5/18 at 2:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 5/22/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/13/17. The court has reviewed the joint status report. Appearances are required on 11/14/17 to discuss the possibility of joint mediation, scheduling of further proceedings, including pretrial conference and trial, but counsel may appear by telephone. The consensus of the parties seems to be a discovery cutoff date of March 2018, i.e., March 31, 2018, a pretrial conference in April 2018, and a trial date in June 2018. The parties should be prepared to discuss how the case should be tried, given there are 6 sets of plaintiffs, and the length of trial, so that all parties have a full and fair opportunity to present their various cases. Perhaps it would be helpful to consider trying certain claims based on commonality of witnesses and facts, such as the particular type of investment vehicle involved. Defendant indicated an interest in mediation, but plaintiffs indicated no interest in mediation, and the court would like to hear from plaintiffs why mediation would not be helpful in resolving their claims, given that collectibility of defendant is probably an issue.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the joint status report. Set a discovery cutoff date of 9/1/17 and a further postdiscovery status conference for 9/26/17 at 1:30 p.m. with a joint status report due on 9/19/17. #15.00 Cont'd hearing re: Trustee's motion for authority to execute amended sale documents to allow California Department of Social Services to approve transfer of operating licenses of debtors pursuant to order approving sale entered January 19, 2016 fr. 5/29/18

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 6/4/18. Grant the trustee's motion for authorization to sign the amended sale documents to allow the California Department of Social Services to approve of the operating licenses of the new operators pursuant to the court's sale order entered 1/19/16. Although the counsel declaration represents that the proposed language in the documents is acceptable to the California Department of Social Services and the buyer/new operator parties, appearances are required on 6/5/18 since such acceptance is not manifested in writing by those entities, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. It appears that the trustee is requesting authorization to execute the first amendments to management and operations transfer agreements to consummate the sale of debtors' assets and operations under the sale agreement to conform to the agreement between the buyer and California Department of Social Services, and not the lease agreements between the buyer through its landholding entities and its designated operating entities. It would be helpful to the court that trustee clarify these details. Otherwise, it appears that the motion should be granted for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Appearances are required on 5/29/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Docket 25

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 6/4/18. The motion appears to be moot if the court grants debtor's pending motions to approve compromise and to dismiss Chapter 11 bankruptcy case. Appearances are required on 6/6/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Revised tentative ruling as of 5/11/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 6/6/18 at 11:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 5/16/18.

Revised tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 5/16/18 at 11:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 3/28/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Assuming the court does not grant creditors' pending stay relief motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3), grant motion to extend plan exclusivity under 11 U.S.C. 1121(d) because cause to extend plan exclusivity for a short period of time, about 90 days, to 7/1/18 is shown by debtor marketing the property "as is," proceeding with claims resolution process by having a bar date set, attempting to obtain LADRP approval of a final subdivision map and this is the first request to extend exclusivity. Granting a first extension of plan exclusivity does not necessarily favor further extensions unless debtor makes specific progress in either marketing the property or obtaining land use approvals to develop the real property. Appearances are required on 3/28/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#10.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Ta Siu & Qin Chen VS Debtor)
fr. 3/27/18, 5/16/18

Docket 29

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 6/4/18. The motion appears to be moot if the court grants debtor's pending motions to approve compromise and to dismiss Chapter 11 bankruptcy case. Appearances are required on 6/6/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Revised tentative ruling as of 5/11/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 6/6/18 at 11:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 5/16/18.

Revised tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 5/16/18 at 11:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 3/27/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Deny motion for relief from stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d) (1) on grounds of bad faith since the circumstances argued by movants that the debtor is a SARE and that there are few other creditors and movants are the major creditors, and thus, this is only a two-party dispute, by themselves do not make this case to be one filed in bad faith.

Deny motion for relief from stay under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) on condition that debtor pay adequate protection payments to movants based on the 8% nondefault contract rate of interest on the value of the creditors' interest in the real estate, retroactive to the date of the first adequate protection payment. It appears that: (1) counsel for the parties were negotiating adequate protection terms in good faith near the end of the 90-day period after the order for relief; (2) counsel for movants proposed 6% to counsel for debtor during the negotiation, but was unable to obtain client authorization for that proposal and notified counsel for debtor right before the end of the 90 day period; (3) given the shortness of time in the notification of lack of client authority by counsel for movant before the deadline, debtor made a first adequate protection payment at 6% rate preliminarily proposed by counsel for movant before the deadline, which seems to be in good faith; and (4) however, there was no agreement between the parties for adequate protection payments less than the 8% nondefault contract rate, and movants have not waived their rights under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) for at least adequate protection payments based on the nondefault contract rate of 8%, the statute says what it says, and debtor needs to pay that rate as adequate protection if it wants the stay to remain in place under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3). If debtor is not willing to pay the 8% rate, the court will grant the motion under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3). Debtor in its reply states that it has no problem paying 8%, but the value of the property for adequate protection purposes should be $3 million, yielding an adequate protection payment of $20,000, which is less than what was first paid. Apparently, during the adequate protection negotiations, the parties assumed that the value was $4.5 million, and there may be a material issue of fact of the adequacy of the adequate protection payments for purposes of 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) based on differences in valuation of the subject collateral. If the parties dispute valuation, the court will set an evidentiary hearing on valuation, and the parties should be prepared to discuss how they will prove up valuation for the purposes of this motion at the hearing.

Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel may appear by telephone in accordance with the court's telephone appearance procedures posted online on the court's website.

#11.00 Cont'd status conference re: Management of chapter 11 case
fr. 1/10/18, 4/11/18, 5/16/18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 6/4/18. The status conference appears to be moot if the court grants debtor's pending motions to approve compromise and to dismiss Chapter 11 bankruptcy case. Appearances are required on 6/6/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Revised tentative ruling as of 5/11/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 6/6/18 at 11:00 a.m. No appearances are required on 5/16/18.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed debtor's status report. The proposed claims bar date and notice dates proposed in the status report are satisfactory. Because debtor indicated on the petition that this is a single asset real estate case, debtor should advise the court whether it will be asking the court for an extension of the 90 day deadline for filing a plan or commencing adequate protection payments to avoid stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) for a creditor whose claim is secured by the real estate. Appearances are required on 1/10/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Chapter 11

#14.00 Hearing re: Motion in individual chapter 11 case for order authorizing use of cash collateral

Docket 43

Tentative Ruling:

As to creditor's objection that the motion for use of cash collateral should not be granted on grounds that a trustee should be appointed on grounds that debtor is mentally incapacitated and the use of the Beverly Hills property is not permitted by local law. The relief that a trustee should be appointed needs to be raised by a motion under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b) and not raised in an opposition to the motion. Whether debtor lacks proper land use regulatory permits is not relevant to the issue presented by the motion of whether he may use cash collateral as requested. As to the intended use of cash collateral, the court is not inclined to approve the payment of management fees as part of the motion since the funds in excess of expenses relating to the property generating the cash collateral should be deposited into the debtor-in-possession bank accounts. From these funds rather than under the guise of a "management fee," Debtor may use estate funds for ordinary course living expenses without first asking for court authorization under 11 U.S.C. 363. In re Seely, 492 B.R. 284 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2013). Otherwise, no tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 6/6/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Chapter 11

#5.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(US Bank National Association VS Debtor)
fr. 6/5/18

Docket 30

Tentative Ruling:

Treat as a contested matter under FRBP 9014 because there are disputed material issues of fact regarding whether cause is shown for lack of adequate protection and lack of good faith since movant has not met its burden of proof regarding debtor has insufficient equity in the subject property under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(1) because its valuation evidence regarding equity is inadmissible and the circumstances indicating that debtor was the victim of fraudulent conduct and is pursuing legal action to vindicate its rights to reorganize and pay creditors. Although the court may not be able to take judicial notice of the declaration of the appraiser filed in the state court case, the court will accord sufficient time for debtor to obtain and filed a declaration regarding valuation in this case, and likewise, for movant as well. The court will also afford the parties an opportunity to present evidence on good faith, which will necessarily entail debtor's prospects for successfully reorganizing and obtaining plan confirmation in this case. See In re Bonner Mall Partnership, 2 F.3d 899, 902 n. 4 (9th Cir. 1993). The case of In re Walter, 108 B.R. 244 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1989) does not necessarily dictate a finding of bad faith just because debtor filed for bankruptcy after failing to obtain a preliminary injunction to enjoin a foreclosure unless debtor cannot show that it can successfully reorganize and demonstrate reasonable prospects that a plan can be confirmed as recognized by the Bonner Mall decision. Appearances are required on 6/18/18 to discuss scheduling of pretrial and trial proceedings, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#6.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(ST America, LLC VS Debtor)

Docket 137

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Deny requests for extraordinary relief in paragraphs 7, 9 and 11 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009). The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU. Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing, in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and in hard copy available in the courtroom.

#10.10 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Partners Federal Credit Union VS Debtor)
fr. 6/5/18

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 6/18/18. Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Deny stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) because moving papers admit that debtor has equity in the collateral, and thus, movant has failed to meet its burden of showing the lack of equity under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(1). The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and available in hard copy in the courtroom. If movant does not appear, the court will assume that movant submits on the tentative ruling, which the court will adopt unless another party appears, which may result in setting a continued hearing.

Prior tentative ruling. Movant failed to provide a judge's copy of the moving papers with separately tabbed exhibits as required by LBR 5005-2(d). If movant provides the court with a properly tabbed judge's copy of the moving papers as required by the rules, grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Deny stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) because moving papers admit that debtor has equity in the collateral, and thus, movant has failed to meet its burden of showing the lack of equity under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(1). Docket 1 per stip & order entered on 6/18/18-mb.

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 6/18/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 7/10/18 at 2:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 6/19/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/21/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 6/5/18 at 2:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 5/22/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/13/17. See tentative ruling for matter no. 13 on the hearing calendar of 11/14/17. Appearances are required on 11/14/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the joint status report. Set a discovery cutoff date of 10/31/17 and a further postdiscovery status conference for 11/10/17 at 1:30 p.m. with a joint status report due on 11/3/17. Order the matter to mediation, the parties are to file a request for selection of mediator and alternate mediator by 5/19/17 and complete mediation by 11/10/17. Appearances are required on 4/18/17, but counsel may appear by telephone. Plaintiff to submit a proposed scheduling order within 7 days of hearing.

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/21/18. Off calendar. Continued by stipulation and order to 6/5/18 at 2:00 p.m. No appearances are required on 5/22/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 11/13/17. The court has reviewed the joint status report. Appearances are required on 11/14/17 to discuss the possibility of joint mediation, scheduling of further proceedings, including pretrial conference and trial, but counsel may appear by telephone. The consensus of the parties seems to be a discovery cutoff date of March 2018, i.e., March 31, 2018, a pretrial conference in April 2018, and a trial date in June 2018. The parties should be prepared to discuss how the case should be tried, given there are 6 sets of plaintiffs, and the length of trial, so that all parties have a full and fair opportunity to present their various cases. Perhaps it would be helpful to consider trying certain claims based on commonality of witnesses and facts, such as the particular type of investment vehicle involved. Defendant indicated an interest in mediation, but plaintiffs indicated no interest in mediation, and the court would like to hear from plaintiffs why mediation would not be helpful in resolving their claims, given that collectibility of defendant is probably an issue.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the joint status report. Set a

Docket 1203

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 6/18/18 at 4:00 p.m. Grant trustee's motion for disgorgement as to Parker Mills LLP for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely opposition. Docket 25

Tentative Ruling:

The state of the pleadings is confusing. The 9-page agreement to settle Case No. BC 619694 in Exhibit A to the motion has all signatures and appears to be complete. The 12-page agreement to settle Case No. BC 643910 in Exhibit B to the motion lacks the signatures of the settling parties, except the trustee, and may not be complete because page 12 of 12 is not included. Another version of the motion was filed on 6/12/18 with a hearing date and time of 7/10/18 at 2:30 p.m., but no notice of motion accompanied this version of the motion, and Exhibit B had the signatures of the settling parties, but lacked page 12 of 12. Chapter 7

#32.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for order compelling debtor to turn over possession of and vacate real property located at 6735 Yucca Street, Unit 410, Los Angeles, California fr. 12/12/17, 12/19/17, 1/16/18

Docket 92

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 6/18/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 6/19/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/26/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 3/27/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

No updated tentative ruling as of 1/12/18. Appearances are required on 1/16/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Grant trustee's motion for turnover of the subject property for the reasons stated in the moving papers since the subject property is property of the bankruptcy estate under the trustee's supervision pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 541(a) and 704(a). Debtor's arguments lack merit. To the extent that debtor seeks stay pending appeal of the state court judgment, it is not properly raised in the opposition, and it is not properly raised in this court since the appeal is pending in the state court system. Appearances are required on 12/12/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 6/18/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 6/19/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. The court agrees with defendants that actions to set aside fraudulent transfers of assets of a bankruptcy debtor belongs to the bankruptcy estate and may be the basis for a motion to dismiss because actions to collect upon assets of the estate are subject to the automatic stay and relief from stay has not been obtained by the plaintiffs. In re MortgageAmerica Corp., 714 F.2d 1266, 1275 (5th Cir. 1983); In re Curry & Sorenson, Inc., 57 B.R. 824, 827-828 (9th Cir. BAP 1986); but see, In re Colonial Realty Co., 980 F.2d 125, 130-132 (2nd Cir. 1992). As noted by plaintiffs, there is a division in circuit authority as to whether property of the bankruptcy estate includes property subject to a fraudulent transfer avoidance action is part of the bankruptcy estate before the avoidance action. See Peter Spero, Fraudulent Transfers, Prebankruptcy Planning and Exemptions, Section 3.3 (Westlaw online Sept. 2017 update), citing, In re MortgageAmerica Corp., supra; In re Colonial Realty Co., supra; Rajala v. Garner, 709 F.3d 1031 (10th Cir. 2013); In re Allen, 768 F.3d 274 (3rd Cir. 2014). There is no definitive case authority in the Ninth Circuit, though the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel of the Ninth Circuit has stated that a fraudulent transfer avoidance action to recover property fraudulently transferred by a bankruptcy debtor is an asset of the debtor's bankruptcy estate. In re Curry & Sorenson, Inc., supra. The court will follow the BAP rule in Curry &

Sorenson, Inc., as the current law of the Ninth Circuit.

Having said this, however, before the court rules on defendants' motions to dismiss, the court notes that plaintiffs could obtain authority of this court to allow them as parties other than the trustee or debtor-in-possession to pursue litigation on behalf of the estate (as opposed for themselves only). In re Curry & Sorenson, Inc., supra; In re Spauding Composites Co., 207 B.R. 899, 903 (9th Cir. BAP 1997). If plaintiffs are seeking to enforce their own interests as creditors, the court would thus grant the motions to dismiss, but if plaintiffs are seeking authorization from the court to pursue the litigation on behalf of the estate and its creditors, they should file and serve an appropriate motion, and the court would consider it subject to hearing from other interested parties.

Deny request for an order to show cause and/or sanctions for violation of stay since the stay is not intended to protect non debtor parties. 11 U.S.C. 362(a); see also, Ingersoll-Rand Financial Corp. v. Miller Mining Co., 817 F.2d 1424, 1427 (9th Cir. 1987). Moreover, it would be difficult to show civil contempt here that plaintiffs willfully violated a specific and definite order of the court by clear and convincing evidence, see, e.g., In re Dyer, 322 F.3d 1178, 1190-1191 (9th Cir. 2003), in bringing the fraudulent transfer action against defendants, given the uncertainty of the law as indicated by the lack of definitive case authority in the Ninth Circuit and otherwise divided circuit authority on the question of whether a fraudulently transferred property before avoidance is property of a debtor's bankruptcy estate circuit.

Appearances are required on 3/20/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

As noted by plaintiffs, there is a division in circuit authority as to whether property of the bankruptcy estate includes property subject to a fraudulent transfer avoidance action is part of the bankruptcy estate before the avoidance action. See Peter Spero, Fraudulent Transfers, Prebankruptcy Planning and Exemptions, Section 3.3 (Westlaw online Sept. 2017 update), citing, In re MortgageAmerica Corp., supra; In re Colonial Realty Co., supra; Rajala v. Garner, 709 F.3d 1031 (10th Cir. 2013); In re Allen, 768 F.3d 274 (3rd Cir. 2014). There is no definitive case authority in the Ninth Circuit, though the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel of the Ninth Circuit has stated that a fraudulent transfer avoidance action to recover property fraudulently transferred by a bankruptcy debtor is an asset of the debtor's bankruptcy estate. In re Curry & Sorenson, Inc., supra. The court will follow the BAP rule in Curry & Sorenson, Inc., as the current law of the Ninth Circuit.

Having said this, however, before the court rules on defendants' motions to dismiss, the court notes that plaintiffs could obtain authority of this court to allow them as parties other than the trustee or debtor-in-possession to pursue litigation on behalf of the estate (as opposed for themselves only). In re Curry & Sorenson, Inc., supra; In re Spauding Composites Co., 207 B.R. 899, 903 (9th Cir. BAP 1997). If plaintiffs are seeking to enforce their own interests as creditors, the court would thus grant the motions to dismiss, but if plaintiffs are seeking authorization from the court to pursue the litigation on behalf of the estate and its creditors, they should file and serve an appropriate motion, and the court would consider it subject to hearing from other interested parties.

Deny request for an order to show cause and/or sanctions for violation of stay since the stay is not intended to protect non debtor parties. 11 U.S.C. 362(a); see also, Ingersoll-Rand Financial Corp. v. Miller Mining Co., 817 F.2d 1424, 1427 (9th Cir. 1987). Moreover, it would be difficult to show civil contempt here that plaintiffs willfully violated a specific and definite order of the court by clear and convincing evidence, see, e.g., In re Dyer, 322 F.3d 1178, 1190-1191 (9th Cir. 2003), in bringing the fraudulent transfer action against defendants, given the uncertainty of the law as indicated by the lack of definitive case authority in the Ninth Circuit and otherwise divided circuit authority on the question of whether a fraudulently transferred property before avoidance is property of a debtor's bankruptcy estate circuit.

Appearances are required on 3/20/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#1.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(U.S. Bank National Association VS Debtor)

Docket 495

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (4) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies and for in rem relief for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Deny the request for extraordinary relief in paragraph 3 since the debtor is not the borrower under the relevant loan agreements. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

The court does not make a finding of bad faith as to debtor. See In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012).

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU. Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing, in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and in hard copy available in the courtroom.

#2.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Philip W. Saunders VS Debtor)

Docket 36

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) for cause to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. Deny relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2) for failure to meet burden of showing lack of equity since valuation evidence in the preliminary title report is inadmissible hearsay and lacks sufficient foundation under FRE 801 and 901 and failure to provide other supporting evidence of valuation (various references to proofs of claim and "title" but no documents). Deny relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(3) for lack of showing that requirements of that provision are met (i.e., debtor did not check off box on the petition admitting single asset real estate entity status, and it has not been shown that the court has made a determination of SARE status). The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

#3.00 Cont'd hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Kinecta Federal Credit Union VS Debtor)
fr. 5/8/18, 5/29/18, 6/5/18

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 6/25/18. Despite filing an amended proof of service of the moving papers, movant has still not filed a proof of service of an amended notice of motion to debtor, advising debtor that the date and time of the hearing on the motion and the deadline for response as required by Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(c)(2) and (d)(1) and (2). If movant cannot show that debtor has been served with a proper amended notice of motion for this hearing, deny motion without prejudice. Appearances are required on 6/26/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Tentative ruling as of 6/4/18. It does not appear that an amended notice of motion was filed and served on debtor personally. The proof of service itself is not an amended notice of motion, so it appears that service of the motion is still deficient. Appearances are required on 6/5/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling. Service of the motion is deficient since as indicated on the proof of service to the motion, there was no service on debtor required under LBR 4001-1(c)(1)(C)(i) which requires service not just on debtor's attorney, but debtor himself. Movant also failed to provide a judge's copy of the moving papers with separately tabbed exhibits as required by LBR 5005-2(d). Appearances are required on 5/8/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 6/20/16. The court has reviewed the joint status report of some of the parties appearing in this matter, including the attached statement of the Burris Parties, as well as the separate status statement of Eric Herrera.

The court also notes the parties used an obsolete version of the Joint Status Report form from December 2012, and in the future, the parties should use the current version of the form adopted in December 2015. The new joint status report form solicits the parties' positions as to whether they consent to the bankruptcy court's determination of noncore claims in light of *Stern v. #9.00 Cont'd status conference re: Complaint to determine dischargeability of student loans fr. DS, 1/23/18, 2/6/18, 3/20/18

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 6/25/18. The court has reviewed the joint status report. Set a discovery cutoff date of 8/31/18. The court will discuss with the parties the need for a pretrial conference and a cutoff date for a summary judgment hearing. If the parties can work cooperatively on their witness and exhibit lists, given the relatively few exhibits and witnesses, a pretrial conference may not be necessary. It seems to the court that it would be easier just to try the case and set a date since summary judgment motion proceedings may delay setting of trial. Appearances are required on 6/26/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/5/18. Off calendar. Continued on the court's own motion to 3/20/18 at 2:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 2/6/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Continued ;by stipulation and order to 2/6/18 at 2:30 p.m. No appearances are required on 1/23/18.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 6/25/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 6/26/18.

Prior tentative ruling as of 4/9/18. The court has reviewed the joint pretrial stipulation, and after its review, the court is of the opinion that the matter is not ready for trial. The parties have indicated that expert discovery has not been completed. Plaintiffs have stated that they will call expert witnesses at trial, and defendant reserved his right to do so. The court believes that the parties should disclose the identity of their expert witnesses and be required for such expert witnesses to produce their expert reports, and a deposition schedule be set. As to evidentiary objections to exhibits, the parties have each stated that they reserve all objections to some exhibits, which is not permitted by the court's rules and procedures, and the court will disregard the reservation of rights to object, which means that the parties asserting an objection must state specific grounds for an objection or the objections based on reservations of rights will be overruled, and such exhibits will be received into evidence. The court will allow parties some time to interpose objections based on specific grounds as to those exhibits. As to presentation of deposition testimony, plaintiffs state that they will object to the use of deposition testimony of plaintiffs, but do not state a reason. It appears to the court that the parties should mark and countermark deposition transcripts in accordance with the court's local rules and the parties can interpose objections to admission of deposition testimony at that time. In the joint pretrial stipulation, defendant stated that the trial should be bifurcated to first determine the existence of a debt and then determine whether such debt is dischargeable, but plaintiffs stated no position as to bifurcation. The court is not inclined to bifurcate the trial since there is no apparent benefit to the court or the parties by doing so, but plaintiffs will need to state their position on the issue. The parties should be prepared to discuss scheduling of expert discovery, submission of an amended joint pretrial stipulation and dates for a further pretrial conference. Appearances are required on 4/10/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

No updated tentative ruling as of 10/16/17. Appearances are required on 10/17/17, but counsel may appear by telephone.

No updated tentative ruling as of 8/7/17. The court has reviewed plaintiffs' status report stating that they intend to proceed with prosecution of the adversary complaint. According to the status report, plaintiffs seek specified damages of $32,018.06 for rent and settlement costs, plus an unspecified amount of damages for attorneys' fees they have incurred. Plaintiffs should be prepared to disclose: (1) the amount of attorneys' fees that they incurred and are seeking an award and (2) the substantive legal basis for an award of attorneys' fees because none was alleged in the complaint or specified in the purchase and sale agreement for the subject property (preliminarily, the court is of the view that the attorneys' fees clause in the lease agreement would not apply since the alleged fraud was with the purchase and sale agreement). Appearances are required on 8/8/17 to discuss scheduling of further proceedings, including pretrial conference and trial, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 6/26/17. The court has reviewed the joint pretrial stipulation. No tentative ruling on the merits. The court will discuss the issues raised in the joint pretrial stipulation regarding the effect of the approval of the settlement between trustee and the Franowicz/Gallagher parties. Appearances are required on 6/27/17.

Prior tentative ruling as of 5/27/16. Set discovery completion date of 12/31/16 and set a post-discovery status conference for 1/17/17 at 1:30 p.m. Order the matter to mediation under the court's mediation program, and parties to file a request for selection of mediator and alternate by 9/30/16 and to complete mediation by 1/17/17. Appearances are required on 5/31/16, but counsel may appear by telephone. Plaintiffs to submit a proposed scheduling order within 7 days of hearing.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/22/16. The court has reviewed the joint status report. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 2/24/16 to address scheduling and referral to mediation, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Docket 23

Tentative Ruling:

No tentative ruling as of 6/25/18. The procedural posture in this matter is unclear since the debtor's claim of exemption disputed by movant is not included in the moving papers, and debtor has not filed any response to the motion. Movant is asking the court to reconsider the amount of exemption that debtor is claiming on his claim of exemption, which is not apparently in the record. #3.00 CONT'D EVIDENTIARY HEARING RE: Motion for relief from stay
(U.S. Bank Trust N.A. VS Debtor)
fr. 1/4/18, 3/21/18, 4/25/18

Docket 79

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 6/25/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/19/18. No tentative ruling on the merits.
Appearances are required on 3/21/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 1/3/18. On movant's claim under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(2), it has met its burden of proof under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(1) to demonstrate lack of equity in the subject property based on the stipulated value for the property. Debtor as the party opposing relief has the burden on the remaining issue of demonstrating under 11 U.S.C. 362(g)(2) and (d)(2) that the property is necessary to its effective reorganization, i.e., a confirmed reorganization plan is in reasonable prospect. Specifically, debtor must produce some evidence that its plan could be confirmed by a reasonable bankruptcy judge. In re Bonner Mall Partnership, 2 F.3d 899, 902 n. 4 (9th Cir. 1993). Debtor's projected income based on its principal's consulting income of $12,500 per month is not supported by any credible evidence for this projection. The demonstrated history in this case does not support the projection, and there is no credible explanation of how the income can be generated at that level to demonstrate plan feasibility under 11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(11). Debtor has not shown that it is likely to have at least one impaired class of claims to accept its plan under 11 U.S.C. 1129(a)(10) since there is no credible evidence indicating any creditor support for the plan (debtor's conclusory assertions are not evidence). Based on what has been submitted in the papers, the court is inclined to find that debtor has not met its burden of proof on the second

Prior tentative ruling. Debtor in his status report filed on 2/22/17 indicated that he and his counsel are working on revising and amending the original disclosure statement to include a revised and updated liquidation analysis and taking into account resolutions of claims of creditors, including First Republic Bank (however, the court notes that it disapproved without prejudice the stipulation resolving claim of First Republic Bank in light of objection of creditor Cindy Magelby since it appears that debtor will need to bring a FRBP 9019 motion). Prior tentative ruling. Treat as contested matter under FRBP 9014 because the declarations of the witnesses in support of the moving and opposing papers raise material issues of fact to be resolved in an evidentiary hearing. Treat the hearing on 12/13/17 as a status conference to set a pretrial and trial schedule. Chapter 7

(Rehabbers Financial, Inc. dba Aztec Financial VS Debtor)

PROPERTY RE: 41 E. Forest Avenue, Arcadia, California 91006

Docket 41

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (2) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

No tentative ruling on motion as to stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(4) as to whether the bankruptcy petition was in aid of a scheme to hinder, delay or defraud creditor since the prior multiple filing was due to lack of counsel in the prior bankruptcy case and apparently debtor was making payments from September 2016 to the time of default in November 2017.

Appearances are required on 7/3/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Chapter 11

#3.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(People of the State of California and The City of Beverly Hills. VS Debtor)

Docket 55

Tentative Ruling:

Overrule debtor's objections to declaration of Eric Markus for the reasons stated in movant's response. The declaration merely summarizes movant's allegations in the state court complaint and its reasons for seeking stay relief and does not go to the truth of the matters stated therein, only stating what is alleged in the complaint or what movant alleges to support its request for stay relief, and is not hearsay under FRE 801 and 802. The court does not determine the merits of movant's claims, but only determines whether movant has a colorable claim to enforce its rights in a nonbankruptcy forum. Moreover, personal knowledge is not needed under FRE 602 because the court can take judicial notice of what is alleged in the state court complaint under FRE 201 and the court determines that the declaration is admissible as merely asserting what the party's contentions are to request stay relief and thus, raising a preliminary question which does not bind the court to the rules of evidence under FRE 104.

Grant motion for stay relief under 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (b)(4) for the reasons stated in the moving papers, that is, to allow movant as a governmental unit to seek relief in a nonbankruptcy forum to enforce its police and regulatory power since land use regulation is within the scope of that power. However, under 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(4), movant may not enforce any monetary relief against debtor or property of the bankruptcy estate because the automatic stay remains as to enforcement of such relief. No tentative ruling on the request for waiver of the 14-day stay on enforcement under FRBP 4001(a)(3).

Appearances are required on 7/3/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#4.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Toyota Motor Credit Corporation VS Debtor)

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and available in hard copy in the courtroom. If movant does not appear, the court will assume that movant submits on the tentative ruling, which the court will adopt unless another party appears, which may result in setting a continued hearing.

Docket 56

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 7/2/18. Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) and (d)(2) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

Prior tentative ruling. Movant failed to provide a judge's copy of the moving papers which complies with LBR 5005-2(d) and 9004-1(a)(1) requiring separately tabbed exhibits and single-sided pages. Movant failed to tab the exhibits and double-sided pages. The court will not consider the motion until movant corrects these deficiencies and complies with the court's rules. Chapter 7

#5.00 Hearing re: First interim application for award of compensation and reimbursement of expenses of Danning, Gill, Diamond & Kollitz, LLP, as general counsel for chapter 7 trustee

Docket 87

Tentative Ruling:

The court notes that the zipcode on the proof of service of notice for Creditor Citibank is incorrect and does not match the mailing matrix. The court notes that debtor filed a reservation of rights regarding applicant's interim fee application. In reviewing the fee application, the court notes that applicant billed $1,074.50 in fees (2.1 hours by Ms. Singh at $295/hour and 0.7 hour by Mr. Israel) for preparation and review of a simple stipulation and order to extend time to file a complaint under 11 U.S.C. 727, filed on 10/30/17, which is excessive for the task performed and indicates that more careful exercise of billing judgment by applicant and closer scrutiny by the court may be warranted. In the court's view, only 0.5 hour by the associate and 0.2 hour by the partner is warranted for this task, which is essentially a form document that requires minimal preparation, review and discussion. In lieu of holding back the fee application for closer scrutiny since this is only an interim application and the court will not be reviewing the application on a final basis at this time, the court will order a 10% holdback on the requested amount, which applicant can request later in the final fee application, or the court can closely scrutinize the fee application which will require additional time before a ruling is made. The court also comments that if debtor has concerns regarding applicant's fee application, it must raise specific objections to the billing entries in the fee application.

Approve interim fee application of attorneys for trustee for reasons stated in the fee application and for lack of timely written objection, subject to a 10% holdback. Appearances are optional on 6/19/18, but trustee and applicants may appear by telephone. Trustee or applicants to submit a proposed order within 7 days of hearing.

(Behrouz Shadsirat VS Debtors)
fr. 6/5/18

Docket 41

Tentative Ruling:

No updated tentative ruling as of 7/2/18. Appearances are required on 7/3/18.

Prior tentative ruling. Since it appears that the state court litigation for which movant seeks stay relief based on mandatory abstention has been removed by debtors to this court, the court is inclined to deny the motion without prejudice because there is no pending litigation in state court for this court to abstain for. See In re Roman Catholic Bishop of San Diego, 374 B.R. 756, 760 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 2007), citing inter alia, Security Farms v. International Brotherhood of Teamsters, 124 F.3d 999, 1009-1010 (9th Cir. 1997). Movant will need to bring a motion for equitable remand under 28 U.S.C. 1452(b) in conjunction with a renewed stay relief motion for the state court litigation to proceed. Appearances are required on 6/5/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

#8.00 Hearing re: Motion to remand [State Court Lawsuit]

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 7/2/18 at 5:30 p.m. Having reviewed the moving and opposing papers, the court is of the view that the ruling will depend on the analysis of the various equitable remand factors set forth in In re Cedar Funding, Inc., 419 B.R. 807, 820-821 and n. 18 (9th Cir. BAP 2009), citing, In re Enron Corp., 296 B.R. 505, 508 n. 2 (C.D. Cal. 2003) and the ruling may well turn on the impact of movant's filing of a proof of claim in this bankruptcy case as discussed in In re Conejo Enterprises, Inc., 96 F.3d 346, 353-354 (9th Cir. 1996). (In this regard, the court notes that the reliance of respondents on the superseded opinion in In re Conejo Enterprises, Inc., 71 F.3d 1460, 1467 (9th Cir. 1995) for the proposition that "by filing a proof of claim a creditor forsakes its right to adjudicate before a jury any issue that bears directly on the allowance of that claim" is misplaced because the earlier opinion was superseded and the language of the earlier opinion was not incorporated into the superseding opinion and is thus inoperative.) Counsel should be prepared to discuss the equitable remand factors and the impact of filing of a proof of claim by movant on the analysis of these factors. Appearances are required on 7/3/18.

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

Service of notice of motion is insufficient since not all creditors were served with notice of motion as required by FRBP 2002(a)(4), 9013 and 9014 since the motion is brought under 11 U.S.C. 707(a)(1) for cause, namely, unreasonable delay prejudicial to creditors, rather than 11 U.S.C. 707(a)(3) for failure to file information required under 11 U.S.C. 521(a)(1). Movant to serve amended notice of motion on all creditors with a new hearing date, or alternatively, deny motion without prejudice, but grant motion to extend deadline to file either a motion to dismiss for abuse under 11 U.S.C. 707(b)(3) or an adversary proceeding under 11 U.S.C. 727. #1.00 Hearing re: Temporary restraining order and order to show cause re preliminary injunction
fr. 6/29/18

Docket 12

Tentative Ruling:

Revised tentative ruling as of 7/6/18 at 3:00 p.m. The court has reviewed plaintiff's memorandum of points and authorities filed on 7/5/18. As articulate as plaintiff's brief is, its basic argument that plaintiff has an equitable right to property by mere possession of the property is flawed because it is contrary to the Ninth Circuit's holding in In re Perl, 811 F.3d 1120 (9th Cir. 2016), disapproving a similar argument adopted in In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002). It appears that based on In re Perl, 811 F.3d at 1130, plaintiff was divested of all legal and equitable possessory rights that would otherwise be protected by an automatic stay when the unlawful detainer judgment and writ of possession were entered pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure 415.46. See also, California Code of Civil Procedure 1161(1); 11 U.S.C. 362(b)(10). The case relied upon by plaintiff, King v. Gotz, 70 Cal. 236 (1886), is distinguishable because it involved a claim of homestead on encumbered real property, and did not involve rights of landlord tenant law, and the quoted language, that "the mere possession of real estate is constantly treated as property, which may be purchased and sold" is dicta. Appearances are required on 7/9/18.

#1.00 Hearing re: Motion for relief from stay
(Summit Pointe Homeowners Association VS Debtor)

Docket 1218

Tentative Ruling:

Deny motion for stay relief as moot because stay terminated as to debtor on denial of discharge on 12/21/17 pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(2)(C) and as to the subject property as property of the estate upon abandonment on 3/15/17 pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(c)(1).

If movant requests, the court will issue an order confirming that the stay has been terminated pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(j).

Deny request for extraordinary relief in paragraph 5 for stay annulment to petition date for failing to show that the legal standards of National Environmental Waste Corp. v. City of Riverside (In re National Environmental Waste Corp.), 129 F.3d 1052 (9th Cir. 1997) and In re Gasprom, Inc., 500 B.R. 598 (9th Cir. BAP 2013) have been met.

Deny request for extraordinary relief in paragraphs 10 and 11 for lack of legal authority and/or evidentiary support. In re Van Ness, 399 B.R. 897 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009).

(Ford Motor Credit Company LLC VS Debtor)

Docket 148

Tentative Ruling:

Grant movant relief from stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 362(d)(1) to pursue non-bankruptcy remedies for the reasons stated in the moving papers and for lack of timely written opposition. The 14-day waiting period under FRBP 4001(a) (3) is waived.

Movant must lodge a proposed order within 7 days. All registered CM/ECF users must lodge an order using the court's mandatory form order on LOU.

Movant may submit on the tentative ruling without an appearance at the hearing in accordance with Judge Kwan's tentative ruling procedures posted online on the court's website and available in hard copy in the courtroom. If movant does not appear, the court will assume that movant submits on the tentative ruling, which the court will adopt unless another party appears, which may result in setting a continued hearing.

Prior tentative ruling as of 3/19/18. No tentative ruling on the merits. Appearances are required on 3/20/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Prior tentative ruling as of 2/26/18. Off calendar. The court on its own motion continues the status conference to 3/20/18 at 3:00 p.m. A separate order is being entered. No appearances are required on 2/27/18.

Prior tentative ruling. The court has reviewed the joint status report and also notes on the case docket that there is a hearing on the motion of defendant JP Morgan Chase Bank, N.A. to dismiss plaintiff's amended complaint on 2/27/18 at 3:00 p.m., which may have an impact on scheduling in this adversary proceeding. Therefore, the court on its own motion continues the status conference to 2/27/18 at 3:00 p.m. to be conducted with the hearing on the motion to dismiss the amended complaint. Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Off calendar. The court has reviewed the unilateral status reports filed by the parties. The court continues the status conference to 7/31/18 at 2:30 p.m. to be conducted with the hearing on defendants' amended motion to dismiss. No appearances are required on 7/10/18.

Although the parties failed to file a timely joint status report as required by Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1 and the court's status conference order, the court will not require at this time for the parties to file an updated and amended joint status report in light of the pendency of defendants' motion to dismiss.

However, the court notes that plaintiff has a jury trial demand on the face of the complaint, which the court will strike because there is no right to a jury trial on debt dischargeability and discharge denial claims in the adversary proceeding. The court also notes that the parties' consent to this court's jurisdiction to enter a final judgment on these core claims is not needed.

[11 U.S.C. §523(a)(2)(A)]
fr. 5/22/18, 6/5/18, 6/19/18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

Updated tentative ruling as of 7/9/18. The court has reviewed the joint pretrial stipulation filed on 7/3/18. The joint pretrial stipulation will need revision because it does not contain all the statements required for a joint pretrial stipulation set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b)(2), the witness list is incomplete as stated in the joint pretrial stipulation and the exhibit list is incomplete because not all of the exhibits are specifically listed and no objections to the exhibits are stated unless the parties waive objections. Appearances are required on 7/10/18, but counsel may appear by telephone.

Appearances are required on 11/14/17 to discuss the possibility of joint mediation, scheduling of further proceedings, including pretrial conference and trial, but counsel may appear by telephone. The consensus of the parties seems to be a discovery cutoff date of March 2018, i.e., March 31, 2018, a pretrial conference in April 2018, and a trial date in June 2018.
