fr. 3-21-17; 7-11-17; 1-16-18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

4/16/2018

The Final Joint Pretrial Stipulation Between the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors, Tsai Luan Ho, and Benjamin Kirk (the "Pretrial Stipulation") will be approved by the Court, with some minor modifications. Specifically, the Court has amended ¶¶91–93 to remove the finding that Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") operated as a Ponzi scheme. Although the Court has found that Benjamin Kirk and Lucy Gao breached their fiduciary duties to Liberty by failing to use funds contributed to Liberty by investors for their intended purpose, the Court has not found that Liberty operated as a Ponzi scheme as that term is defined under Ninth Circuit law. See Hayes v. Palm Seedlings Partners (In re Agricultural Research and Technology Group, Inc.), 916 F.2d 528 (9th Cir. 1990) (setting forth the characteristics of a Ponzi scheme).

Trial shall take place on May 29 and May 30, 2018. The parties shall comply with the Order Re: Courtroom Procedures [Doc. No. 24] with respect to the submission of exhibits, exhibit lists, and trial briefs. The Court notes that ¶¶ 32 and 35 of the Pretrial Stipulation omit the identification of the exhibits referenced in those paragraphs. The parties should insure that all exhibits upon which they intend to rely at trial are delivered to the Court in accordance with the Order Re: Courtroom Procedures.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

4/16/2018

The initial Pretrial Conference in this matter was conducted on March 13, 2018. In connection with the March 13 Pretrial Conference, both parties submitted proposed Unilateral Pretrial Orders. The Court continued the Pretrial Conference and directed the parties to submit a proposed Joint Pretrial Stipulation. The parties failed to agree upon a Joint Pretrial Stipulation; once again, both parties have submitted proposed Unilateral Pretrial Orders.

The Court has reviewed the proposed Unilateral Pretrial Orders as well as the e-mail correspondence between counsel for both parties, in an attempt to ascertain the facts which remain subject to genuine dispute. The Court intends to enter the Pretrial Order in the form set forth below as Exhibit A.

The trial shall take place on May 1 and May 2, 2018. The parties are directed to comply with the Order Re: Courtroom Procedures with respect to the submission of trial briefs, exhibit lists, and exhibit binders. As set forth in the Pretrial Order below, any motions in limine or motions to exclude evidence must be filed by no later than April 24, 2018. Any opposition to any such motions is due by no later than April 27, 2018. Reply briefs will not be accepted.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so.

Exhibit A—Pretrial Order

1) THE FOLLOWING FACTS ARE ADMITTED AND REQUIRE NO PROOF:

- a) Defendant filed a petition for relief under Chapter 7 on January 5, 2017 (the "petition date").
- b) Plaintiff filed an adversary complaint on June 9, 2017.
- c) Prior to the petition date, between December 2008 and December 2016, Defendant owned and/or managed the property located at 1136 – 1138 E. 81st St., Los Angeles, CA, including 1138 ½ E. 81st St., Los Angeles, CA ("the subject property"). Defendant owned the subject property located at 1136, 1138 & 1138 1/2 E. 81st Street, Los Angeles, CA 90001 ("subject property") intermittently between April 2007 through October 27, 2008 and December 4, 2014 through February 2016. From October 27, 2008 through December 4, 2014, the subject property was owned by THE LIVING TRUST OF RODOLFO TEJEDA & WENDY TEJEDA DATED OCTOBER 27, 2008 wherein Rodolfo Tejada and Wendy Tejada were Trustees (the "Living Trust").
- d) As the owner and operator of rental property in California, the Defendant impliedly warranted that any property she rented to tenants was habitable.
- e) Between April 2007 and January 2013, Defendant maintained an account with Golden State Water Company ("GSWC"), to furnish water to the subject property.
- f) Between December 18, 2014 through February 2016, the subject property was owned by Defendant.
- g) On or about January 8, 2015, Menbere Mekbebe, EHS III ("Mekbebe"), from the Public Health Office called and spoke with Defendant, informing her of an office hearing scheduled for the following day (January 9, 2015) due to the 3 complaints for lack of running water at the subject property.
- h) On January 9, 2015, Plaintiff and Defendant attended an Office Hearing at the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health, conducted by Chief Environmental Health Specialist, Fahrudin Dean Zulcic. During the Office Hearing, Mr. Zulcic ordered Defendant to immediately restore water utility service to the subject property.

- i) On January 9, 2015, during the Office Hearing, Mr. Zulcic called Golden State Water Company ("GSWC" and/or "Golden State") and verified that someone other than Defendant had a utility account under their names for all units at the subject property (due to the property having a master-meter).
 - j) On or about March 25, 2015, Debtor/Defendant's mortgage lender executed a Notice of Default ("NOD") which was recorded at the Los Angeles County Recorder's Office on April 2, 2015, instrument number 20150362193.
 - k) On or about October 22, 2015, due to the continued mortgage default, a Notice of Trustee's Sale ("NOTS") was executed and recorded at the Los Angeles County Recorder's Office on October 26, 2015, instrument number 20151307619.
 - l) Since the purchase of the subject property by Defendant through the date of short sale (February 2016), the water utility service at the subject property was measured by one master-meter for all units. Defendant has no knowledge of the water utility meter set up after the short sale of the subject property.
 - m) Between September 2016 through the present, Defendant was employed as a realtor for Century 21.
- 2) THE FOLLOWING ISSUES OF FACT, AND NO OTHERS, REMAIN TO BE LITIGATED:
- a) Whether Defendant terminated her utility account with GSWC because she lacked the financial ability to continue making payments on the utility account.
 - b) Whether Defendant's financial inability to make payments on the GSWC account resulted from Defendant's inability to collect rent from tenants residing at the subject property.
 - c) Whether Plaintiff and Defendant entered into an agreement pursuant to which Defendant leased the subject property to Plaintiff on or about September 1, 2012.
 - d) Whether Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 (the lease agreement) is a valid contract, or whether the lease agreement was forged.
 - e) Whether Plaintiff agreed to make monthly rental payments to Defendant.
 - f) Whether Defendant agreed to furnish the subject property with water utility service.
 - g) Whether Plaintiff paid rent to Defendant and/or to Defendant's husband, Rodolfo Tejada.

- h) Whether Plaintiff advised tenants of the subject property of her intent to close her account with GSWC prior to terminating her utility account with GSWC.
- i) Whether Defendant had any plan for how tenants of the subject property would receive water utility services after Defendant closed her account with GSWC.
- j) Whether, at the time she closed her account with GSWC, Defendant knew if a tenant would or could open an account with GSWC so that the subject property could continue to receive water utility service.
- k) Whether, between January 3, 2013 and February 2016, water utility service for the subject property was under the names of various parties other than the Defendant.
- l) Whether Defendant closed her account with GSWC for the purpose of causing tenants to vacate the property, or whether Defendant closed the account because she lacked the financial ability to continue paying for water utility service.
- m) Whether Defendant's motive in notifying the Los Angeles County Department of Children and Family Services ("DCFS") that the property lacked water service was to harass Plaintiff so that she would abandon the property, or whether instead Defendant notified DCFS because she was instructed to do so in order to avoid liability.
- n) Whether Defendant attempted to open a new GSWC account on or about January 2015, but was unable to do so because she could not afford to pay the outstanding balance of the existing account, which was under someone else's name at the time.
- o) Whether Defendant offered to reduce Plaintiff's rent after discontinuing her account with GSWC.
- p) Whether Plaintiff was required to purchase, on a daily basis, five 5-gallon containers of water as a result of the lack of water service at the property.
- q) Whether Plaintiff was required to purchase more expensive and less nutritious food as a result of the lack of water service at the property.
- r) The amount of damages suffered by Plaintiff in the event the Court finds that the Defendant is liable.

3) THE FOLLOWING ISSUES OF LAW, AND NO OTHERS, REMAIN TO BE LITIGATED:

- a) Whether Defendant intended to inflict willful and malicious injury upon Plaintiff, within the meaning of §523(a)(6), by failing to furnish water service

Defendant called GSWC and attempted to have the water utility services placed under her name after she was contacted by and attended an office hearing with the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health but was refused due to outstanding invoices held in other parties' names since the closure of Defendant's account with GSWC.
 - g. Defendant did NOT willfully, intentionally or maliciously intend to create an uninhabitable condition on the subject property to evict Plaintiff or any other occupant.
 - h. Defendant's life was threatened by Elena Ruiz Luna and Ignacio when she inspected the subject property prior to listing the property for sale.

2. ALFREDO OROZCO, Water Distribution Operator 2 for Golden State Water Company (GSWC) – will testify that:
 - a. He worked the Central Basin West area for GSWC, which includes within its geographic scope the subject property, from June 2, 2014 until February 9, 2015.
 - b. He was first sent to the subject property on June 5, 2014, at the request of GSWC's customer, ELENA RUIZ LUNA, to shut-off the water service.
 - c. He returned to the subject property on June 16, 2014 to ensure that the service was off and discovered that the water service had been turned

- d. He turned off the water to the subject property on June 16, 2014.
- e. He returned to the subject property on November 13, 2014 and posted a 15-day Notice of Termination ("Notice"), even though the service had already been disconnected on September 2, 2014.
- f. On November 13, 2014, he handed the Notice to a heavy set Hispanic woman who approached him from inside the subject property and said she was in charge and she would take care of it.
- g. He returned to the subject property on December 4, 2014 and turned off the water meter, which disconnected the property from access to GSWC's water.
- h. Later that day, on December 4, 2014, he returned to check on the water meter and found that someone had already turned it back on. So, he removed the water meter to make tampering with it more difficult.
- i. He returned to the subject property on January 8, 2015 to check for tampering and found that a "jumper" was connected to GSWC's water line, feeding GSWC's water to the property without having it metered or being charged for it.
- j. He returned to the subject property on January 12, 2015 after GSWC received a complaint from a neighbor seeing a water hose from the property to an adjacent property.

- 3. MARIA VILLA, Customer Care and Billing Business Analyst for GSWC – will testify that:
 - a. She was responsible for providing support to all end users at GSWC of CC&B, which is the customer information system for GSWC. The customer information system contains information on the customers of GSWC, including dates that they became customers and the dates that they terminated their relationship with GSWC, the customer's name and account number, the property location, among other things.
 - b. She provided a declaration in the Civil Action on behalf of GSWC which contained screen shots of various customers' records from 04/03/2007 through 12/04/2014.

4. ROBERT NILA, Superintendent for GSWC – will testify that:
- a. As Superintendent of Central Basin West, his responsibilities included oversight of office staff, including customer service personnel, water distribution operations, billing issues, PUC complaints or issues, customer complaints, decisions to disconnect or reconnect customer service, and other related supervisory issues.
 - b. Jessica Munoz became the customer of record for water service on the subject property on June 27, 2013. On August 8, 2013, she applied for monthly credits on the water service for low-income households under a program approved by the California Public Utilities Commission ("PUC"), titled "California Alternative Rates for Water" and commonly called "CARW." Her application was approved, and the monthly credits were provided. The net effect was that the water service bills to Ms. Munoz were lower than they would be if at prevailing market rates.
 - c. On November 18, 2013, Ms. Munoz requested to be removed as the customer of record. On December 6, 2013, another occupant at the property, ELENA RUIZ LUNA, became the customer of record with GSWC under account number 6842618686. Almost immediately, Ms. Luna fell behind in paying the bills, requiring GSWC to send her a reminder notice the very first month the account was placed in her name.
 - d. By March 6, 2014, there was a balance owing of $1,092.48 on Ms. Luna's account. Ms. Luna complained that she thought that there were leaks in the water lines but refused GSWC's offer to have the lines inspected.
 - e. On May 13, 2014, GSWC issued a 15-day Notice of Termination to Ms. Luna, and on June 3, 2014, the service was disconnected at Ms. Luna's request.

- occupants had taken over the meter and turned it back on without authorization, so he had GSWC disconnect the meter again.
- g. On June 16, 2014, he dispatched Alfredo Orozco to return to the subject property to check on the meter. It was reported to him that the meter had been tampered with. His estimate based on meter reading data, was that occupants of the subject property had helped themselves to 15,708 gallons of water during the 11 days the water was supposed to have been disconnected.
 - h. On June 20, 2014, Ms. Luna contacted GSWC and asked that she be reinstated as customer of record. He authorized the reinstatement and Ms. Luna was assigned a new account number, number 0893738721. As a condition of reinstatement, Ms. Luna agreed to make a partial payment on the overdue amount and agreed to a payment plan to repay the remainder that was in arrears. Ms. Luna made the initial partial payment of $700.00 and GSWC reconnected the water service. However, Ms. Luna reneged on honoring the repayment plan and the unpaid balance escalated monthly.
 - i. On August 24, 2014, with Ms. Luna owing $1,793.84, he authorized the posting of a 15-day Notice of Termination on the subject property. On September 2, 2014, he authorized the disconnection of water service to the subject property. Even though the water meter service had been disconnected, Ms. Luna remained the customer of record on the account.
 - j. Ms. Luna's account balance had increased from $1,793.84 in August 2014 to $4,649.50 on November 6, 2014 due to the unauthorized tampering and taking of GSWC's water.
 - k. On December 4, 2014, he dispatched Mr. Orozco to disconnect water service to the property. At that time, the unpaid balance due by Ms. Luna was $5,443.56.
 - l. He did not speak with Carlos Jauragui from SAJE until January 19, 2015, at which time he explained the water theft and multiple customers being removed as customers of record to avoid the financial obligation that went with being a customer of record since WENDY TEJEDA closed her account.

Chapter 7

On November 10, 2015, Moysey Chernyavsky (the "Plaintiff") filed a Second Amended Complaint for Malicious Prosecution (the "Malicious Prosecution Complaint") against Michael Dekhtyar (the "Defendant") in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "LASC"). Plaintiff alleged that Defendant had engaged in malicious prosecution in connection with three actions: (1) Chernyavsky v. Dekhtyar, LASC Case No. BC440114 (filed June 21, 2010); (2) Dekhtyar v. Cothran and Chernyavsky, LASC Case No. BC460343 (filed April 27, 2011); and (3) Sanchez v. Dekhtyar, LASC Case No. TC26535 (filed June 6, 2012).

On February 29, 2016, the LASC entered judgment in Plaintiff's favor in the Malicious Prosecution Complaint, in the amount of $25,500 (the "Malicious Prosecution Judgment"). The LASC found that Defendant had engaged in malicious prosecution in connection with a cross-complaint that Defendant had filed in the BC440114 action. The LASC did not find that Defendant had engaged in malicious prosecution with respect to the BC460343 or TC26535 actions. Defendant has appealed the Malicious Prosecution Judgment, and briefing on the appeal has been completed.

The cross-complaint filed in the BC440114 action that was the basis for the Malicious Prosecution Judgment (the "BC440114 Cross-Complaint") was dismissed with prejudice on February 6, 2013. The LASC stated that the dismissal was based upon Defendant's failure to timely file an amended cross-complaint after the LASC had sustained Plaintiff's demurrer.

On August 18, 2017, Plaintiff filed the instant action, alleging that the indebtedness established by the Malicious Prosecution Judgment is non-dischargeable pursuant to §523(a)(6). Plaintiff now moves for summary judgment.

Summary of Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment

Plaintiff makes the following arguments in support of the Motion:

Defendant is collaterally estopped from contesting liability under §523(a)(6), because the elements of a malicious prosecution claim mirror those of a §523(a)(6) action. Under California law, to establish a cause of action for malicious prosecution, "a plaintiff must demonstrate that the prior action (1) was initiated by or at the direction of the defendant and legally terminated in the plaintiff's favor, (2) was brought without probable cause, and (3) was initiated with malice." Siebel v. Mittlesteadt, 41 Cal. 4th 735, 740, 161 P.3d 527, 530 (2007).

"Section 523(a)(6) excepts from discharge debts arising from a debtor's 'willful and malicious' injury to another person or to the property of another. The 'willful' and "malicious' requirements are conjunctive and subject to separate analysis." Plyam v. Precision Development, LLC (In re Plyam), 530 B.R. 456, 463 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 2015) (internal citations omitted).

An injury is "willful" when "a debtor harbors 'either subjective intent to harm, or a subjective belief that harm is substantially certain.' The injury must be deliberate or intentional, 'not merely a deliberate or intentional act that leads to injury.'" Id. at 463 (internal citations omitted). An injury is "malicious" if it "involves '(1) a wrongful act, (2) done intentionally, (3) which necessarily causes injury, and (4) is done without just cause or excuse.'" Carrillo v. Su (In re Su), 290 F.3d 1140, 1146-47 (9th Cir. 2002) (internal citations omitted).

To obtain the Malicious Prosecution Judgment, Plaintiff was required to establish that Defendant acted with malice. A showing that Defendant acted with malice is equivalent to a showing that Defendant inflicted willful injury within the meaning of § 523(a)(6). Consequently, Plaintiff is entitled to judgment that the Malicious Prosecution Judgment is excepted from Defendant's discharge.

Summary of Defendant's Opposition to the Motion

Defendant makes the following arguments in Opposition to the Motion:

Plaintiff is not entitled to summary judgment on collateral estoppel grounds because the issues raised in the Malicious Prosecution Complaint are not the same as the issues raised in the instant non-dischargeability action. Entry of the Malicious Prosecution Judgment was based in part on the dismissal with prejudice of the BC440114 Cross-Complaint. But the LASC erred in dismissing the BC440114 Cross-Complaint. After the LASC sustained Plaintiff's demurrer to the BC440114 Cross-Complaint, it ordered Defendant to file an amended cross-complaint within fifteen days. That order was issued on December 17, 2012, meaning that normally Defendant would have been required to file the amended cross-complaint on January 1, 2013. However, January 1, 2013, was a court holiday, so the actual deadline for Defendant to file the amended cross-complaint was January 2, 2013. Defendant filed the amended cross-complaint on January 2, 2013.

The LASC dismissed the BC440114 Cross-Complaint pursuant to Cal. Code Civ. Proc. §581(f)(2), which authorizes dismissal of a pleading if an amended pleading is not timely filed. Because Defendant did timely file an amended cross-complaint, the dismissal was in error. Consequently, the subsequent judgment that Defendant engaged in malicious prosecution in connection with the BC440114 Cross-Complaint was also in error. To prevail on a malicious prosecution claim, Plaintiff must establish that the action upon which the malicious prosecution claim is predicated was "legally terminated in plaintiff's favor." Siebel v. Mittlesteadt, 41 Cal. 4th 735, 740, 161 P.3d 527, 530 (2007). Plaintiff cannot meet this standard given that dismissal of the BC440114 Cross-Complaint was the result of judicial error.

Summary of Plaintiff's Reply in Support of the Motion for Summary Judgment

Plaintiff makes the following arguments in his Reply in support of the Motion for Summary Judgment:

Defendant's argument that the dismissal of the BC440114 Cross-Complaint was dismissed in error does not defeat Plaintiff's entitlement to entry of judgment. Defendant could have moved to set aside the dismissal of the BC440114 Cross-Complaint, but he failed to do so. Further, the fact that two demurrers were granted with respect to the BC440114 Cross-Complaint establishes that the cross-complaint was frivolous, which is why the LASC subsequently entered the Malicious Prosecution Judgment.

The Court should take judicial notice of a Chapter 13 petition that Defendant filed before Judge Zurzolo in 2011. Defendant's Chapter 13 petition was dismissed and Defendant was permanently barred from commencing future bankruptcy petitions.

[Note 1] Defendant commenced the subsequent LASC actions to exact revenge upon Plaintiff for the role that Plaintiff played in securing the dismissal and bar.

II. Findings and Conclusions

At the outset, the Court declines to take judicial notice of Defendant's prior Chapter 13 petition. The issue in the present action is whether the indebtedness established by the Malicious Prosecution Judgment is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(6). Defendant's prior Chapter 13 petition is not relevant to this issue. Further, the probative value of the litigation that occurred between Plaintiff and Defendant in the prior Chapter 13 petition is substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice and waste of time. Finally, Plaintiff's request for judicial notice was not proper because it was presented for the first time in Plaintiff's reply papers, which deprived Defendant of any opportunity to respond.

Turning to the merits, summary judgment is appropriate "if the movant shows that there is no genuine dispute as to any material facts and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Civil Rule 56 (made applicable to these proceedings by Bankruptcy Rule 7056). The moving party has the burden of establishing the absence of a genuine issue of material fact and that it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 323 (1986). "[S]ummary judgment will not lie if the dispute about a material fact is "genuine," that is, if the evidence is such that a reasonable jury could return a verdict for the nonmoving party." Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248 (1986). "A fact is 'material' only if it might affect the outcome of the case[.]" Fresno Motors, LLC v. Mercedes Benz USA, LLC, 771 F.3d 1119, 1125 (9th Cir. 2014). If the moving party shows the absence of a genuine issue of material fact, the nonmoving party must "go beyond the pleadings and by her own affidavits, or by the 'depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file,' designate 'specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial.'" Celotex, 477 U.S. at 324 (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(e)). The court is "required to view all facts and draw all reasonable inferences in favor of the nonmoving party" when reviewing the Motion. Brosseau v. Haugen, 543 U.S. 194, 195 n.2 (2004).

To determine the preclusive effect of an existing state court judgment, the "bankruptcy court must apply the forum state's law of issue preclusion." Plyam v. Precision Development, LLC (In re Plyam), 530 B.R. 452, 462 (9th Cir. BAP 2015). California preclusion law requires that:

- 1) The issue sought to be precluded from relitigation is identical to that decided in a former proceeding;
- 2) The issue was actually litigated in the former proceeding;
- 3) The issue was necessarily decided in the former proceeding;
- 4) The decision in the former proceeding is final and on the merits; and
- 5) The party against whom preclusion is sought was the same as, or in privity with, the party to the former proceeding.

Lucido v. Super. Ct., 795 P.2d 1223, 1225 (Cal. 1990).

Even if all five elements are satisfied, preclusion is appropriate "only if application of preclusion furthers the public policies underlying the doctrine." Harmon v. Kobrin (In re Harmon), 250 F.3d 1240, 1245 (9th Cir. 2001) (citing Lucido v. Super. Ct., 795 P.2d at 1225). In California, the public policies supporting preclusion are "preservation of the integrity of the judicial system, promotion of judicial economy, and protection of litigants from harassment by vexatious litigation." Lucido, 795 P.2d at 1227.

First, the Malicious Prosecution Judgment is not entitled to preclusive effect because it is not final, given the pending appeal. "Unlike the federal rule and that of several states, in California the rule is that the finality required to invoke the preclusive bar of res judicata is not achieved until an appeal from the trial court judgment has been exhausted or the time to appeal has expired." Franklin & Franklin v. 7-Eleven Owners for Fair Franchising, 85 Cal. App. 4th 1168, 1174, 102 Cal. Rptr. 2d 770, 774 (2000).

Second, at this juncture, according preclusive effect to the Malicious Prosecution Judgment would contravene the public policies of promoting judicial economy and preserving the integrity of the judicial system. An appeal of the Malicious Prosecution Judgment is pending before the Second Appellate District. The appeal has been fully briefed and the parties are awaiting a hearing date. The Court expresses no opinion as to Defendant's chances of obtaining reversal of the Malicious Prosecution Judgment. However, in view of the circumstances surrounding the dismissal of the BC440114 Cross-Complaint, the Court does not view the appeal solely as a delay tactic. Judicial economy would not be served were the Court to give preclusive effect to a judgment which might be overturned.

The Court will stay prosecution of the instant action pending entry of final judgment in the appeal of the Malicious Prosecution Judgment. All litigation deadlines previously set by the Court are VACATED. A Status Conference shall take place on July 17, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report, which should discuss the status of the appeal, must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

Depending upon the outcome of the appeal, the public policy considerations which prevent the Court from according preclusive effect to the Malicious Prosecution Judgment might no longer apply in the future. Therefore, the denial of the Motion for Summary Judgment is without prejudice to Plaintiff's ability to bring a renewed motion at a later date, should circumstances warrant.

The Court will enter appropriate orders.

Rulings on Plaintiff's Evidentiary Objections to Defendant's Declaration

- 1) Defendant's Decl. ¶3: "The State Court Judgment ultimately arose from a business relationship between Plaintiff and me. We have jointly owned a number of Denny's restaurants in Southern California. In 2003, I was introduced by Plaintiff to Herman Cothran ("Cothran"), who claimed to own a patent on a unique type of food over/smoker devise. Based on representations by both Cothran and Plaintiff, I invested in updating Cothran's smoker. Plaintiff owned an interest, but had made no investment. After I invest over a million dollars into the patent and restaurant project, I learned that Cothran had defrauded me and that Plaintiff has played a part. We tried to work things out, but these disputes lead to law suits between Plaintiff, Cothran and myself in the California Superior Court."

Plaintiff's Objections: Improper legal conclusion, lack of competence, lack of foundation, improper opinion testimony, bias, hearsay, Federal Rules of Evidence 104, 402, 601, 602.

Ruling: Objections overruled. However, the Court does not consider the testimony offered in ¶3 because it is not relevant to the issues raised by the Motion for Summary Judgment—namely, whether Defendant is precluded from contesting that the indebtedness established by the Malicious Prosecution Judgment is non-dischargeable pursuant to §523(a)(6).

- 2) Defendant's Decl. ¶6: "This was an error by the court because the fifteenth day after the December 17 hearing fell on January 1, 2013, a court holiday and I had until January 2, 2013 to file the amended cross-complaint. A true and correct copy of the conformed faced page of the cross complaint showing it was filed on January 2, 2013 is attached hereto as Exhibit "D" and is incorporated by reference. I'm not asking for the Court to accept my allegations as true, just that the document was filed on January 2, 2013, the very first day the court was open for business after the last day to file fell on the January 1, 2013, New Year's Day holiday. I should have been given the extra day pursuant to California court rules."

Ruling: Objections overruled. Defendant is qualified to testify that, in his opinion, the LASC erred in dismissing the BC440114 Cross-Complaint. Plaintiff's objections go to the weight of the evidence, not its admissibility.

- 3) Defendant's Decl. ¶7: "I have lost everything because of my relationship with Plaintiff. I truly believe he is at least partially responsible for my slide into insolvency. I am informed and believe that part of introducing me to Herman Cothran was so Cothran could raise funds to repay an obligation he owed Plaintiff. I truly believe that my claims against Plaintiff were and are justified and that I pursued my claims to recover damages I believed he caused me. I had no intent to cause him any harm, economic or otherwise, by filing the cross-complaint in the BC440114 state court action. Certainly, its dismissal in Plaintiff's favor was not on the merits as was because by an error by the Superior Court."

Plaintiff's Objections: Improper legal conclusion, lack of competence, lack of foundation, improper opinion testimony, bias, hearsay, Federal Rules of Evidence 104, 402, 601, 602.

Ruling: Objections overruled. However, the Court does not consider the testimony offered in ¶7 because it is not relevant to the issues raised by the Motion for Summary Judgment—namely, whether Defendant is precluded from contesting that the indebtedness established by the Malicious Prosecution Judgment is non-dischargeable pursuant to §523(a)(6).

Note 1

The Court notes that Defendant obtained relief from the order barring him from commencing any future bankruptcy petitions. Thus, Defendant was authorized to file the instant petition. See Order Vacating Bar and Granting Motion for Permission to File a Chapter 7 Bankruptcy Case [Doc. No. 59, Case No. 2:11-bk-19548-VZ].

#1.00 FINAL HEARING RE: [17] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations REAL PROPERTY RE: 2278 Canyonback Road, Los Angeles, CA 90049 .

fr: 2-20-18

Docket 17

Tentative Ruling:

4/20/2018

Hearing required with respect to the issue of equity and adequate protection. Set forth below are the court's rulings on the evidentiary matters as raised by the parties.

I. Procedural Background

Deepak and Mira Vasandani (the "Debtors") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on January 8, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. On January 25, 2018, Grandpoint Bank (the "Movant") filed the "Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay with Supporting Declarations REAL PROPERTY RE: 2278 Canyonback Road, Los Angeles, CA 90049" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 17]. On February 6, 2018, the Debtors filed the Opposition to the Motion (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 27]. The Movant filed its Reply to the Opposition on February 13, 2018 (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 36]. The central dispute between the parties is the value of the subject property for the purposes of determining the Motion. The Court held a hearing on the Motion on February 20, 2018, and entered the Order Continuing Hearing on the Motion on February 22, 2018 [Doc. No. 45]. In the Order Continuing Hearing on the Motion, the Court stated that the purpose of the continued hearing was to take testimony from live witnesses to establish the burdens of proof set forth in § 362(g) on the issues of adequate protection and equity in the Property.

Both the Movant and the Debtors submitted supplemental briefs and additional evidence in connection with the continued hearing. On March 23, 2018, the Movant filed the "Movant's Supplemental Brief in Support of the Motion" (the "Movant's Supplemental Brief") [Doc. No. 48]. The Movant concurrently filed the "[Supplemental] Declaration of Jorge Varela in Support of the Motion" (the "Supp. Varela Decl.") [Doc. No. 49]. On April 16, 2018, the Debtors filed the "Debtors' Supplemental Opposition Brief to Movant's Supplemental Brief and the Motion" (the "Debtors' Supplemental Opposition") [Doc. No. 51]. On April 17, 2018, the Debtors filed the "Supplemental Declaration of Appraiser Michael Yates in Support of the Motion" (the "Supp. Yates Decl.") [Doc. No. 53].

II. Evidentiary Objections & Motions to Strike

A. Movant's Evidentiary Objections to the Declaration of Deepak B. Vasandani

On April 18, 2018, the Movant filed its "Evidentiary Objections to Supplemental Declaration of Deepak B. Vasandani and Motion to Strike Exhibits" (the "Evidentiary Objections") [Doc. No. 55]. The Movant objects to the Supplemental of Deepak B. Vasandani (the "Supp. Vasandani Decl.") [Doc. No. 51] on the following grounds:

- (1) Supp. Vasandani Decl. at ¶ 4: "Attached hereto as Exhibit '1' and incorporated herein by this reference is a true and correct copy of a payoff statement provided to me by Grandpoint in December 2018 [sic], in relation to the payoff amount due on the second deed of trust as of September 28, 2018 [sic]."

Movant's Objection: Best Evidence, Fed. R. Evid. 1002.

Ruling: OVERRULED. Fed. R. Evid. 1003 provides that, "A duplicate is admissible to the same extent as the original unless a genuine question is raised about the original's authenticity or the circumstances make it unfair to admit the duplicate." The Movant has not raised a genuine issue about the original's authenticity or how, if at all, the circumstances make it unfair to admit the duplicate. Cf. Maxwell Macmillan Realization Liquidating Tr. v. Aboff (In re Macmillan), 186 B.R. 35, 48 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1995) (finding that the debtors raised legitimate questions as to the authenticity of a photocopy).

- (2) Supp. Vasandani Decl. at ¶ 5: "Attached hereto as Exhibit '2' and incorporated herein by this reference is a true and correct copy of a payoff statement provided to me by Grandpoint in December 2018 [sic], in relation to the payoff amount due on the third deed of trust as of September 28, 2018 [sic]."

Movant's Objection: Best Evidence, Fed. R. Evid. 1002.

Ruling: OVERRULED. Fed. R. Evid. 1003 provides that, "A duplicate is admissible to the same extent as the original unless a genuine question is raised about the original's authenticity or the circumstances make it unfair to admit the duplicate." The Movant has not raised a genuine issue about the original's authenticity or how, if at all, the circumstances make it unfair to admit the duplicate. Cf. Maxwell Macmillan Realization Liquidating Tr. v. Aboff (In re Macmillan), 186 B.R. 35, 48 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1995) (finding that the debtors raised legitimate questions as to the authenticity of a photocopy).

- 3) Supp. Vasandani Decl. at ¶ 6: "On April 11, 2018, Michael Yates, a California Certified General Real Estate Appraiser, BRE ID No. AG 026353, came to our home and did an updated Appraisal and value analysis on our Property for the purpose of arriving at an updated opinion of value."

Movant's Objection: Lacks Foundation, Fed. R. Evid. 602.

Ruling: OVERRULED. The Supplemental Vasandani Declaration sufficiently establishes that, based on the fact of his ownership of the Property where the Vasandani family currently resides, Supp. Vasandani Decl. at ¶ 3, Mr. Vasandani has personal knowledge that Mr. Yates came to their Property on April 11, 2018, for the purpose of conducting his appraisal. See also id. at ¶ 1 ("I have personal knowledge of the matters set forth in this declaration . . .").

- (4) Supp. Vasandani Decl. at ¶ 7: "This updated appraisal report was provided to us on April 16, 2018."

Movant's Objection: Lacks Foundation, Fed. R. Evid. 602.

Ruling: OVERRULED. The Supplemental Vasandani Declaration sets forth sufficient facts that Mr. Vasandani has personal knowledge that the Updated Appraisal Report was provided to him on April 16, 2018. The Court notes that the testimony of the Michael Yates, see "Supplemental Declaration of Appraiser Michael Yates" (the "Supp. Yates Decl") [Doc. No. 53], describes the investigation and its results and therefore cures any authentication or foundation problems. See Fortier v. Dona Anna Plaza Partners, 747 F.3d 1324, 1332 (10th Cir. 1984).

- (5) Supp. Vasandani Decl. at ¶ 8: "Attached hereto as Exhibit '3' and incorporated herein by reference is a true and correct copy of the opinion of value analysis report ('Appraisal Report') appraiser Michael Yates prepared which substantiates the methods used to arrive at the estimated market value."

Movant's Objections: Hearsay, Fed. R. Evid. 802; Lack of Authentication, Fed. R. Evid. 901–902; Lacks Foundation, Fed. R. Evid. 602

Ruling: SUSTAINED. The Supplemental Vasandani Declaration does not lay sufficient foundation. Furthermore, to the extent that the document is being offered for its truth, and no hearsay exception applies with regards to Mr. Vasandani, the objection is SUSTAINED as hearsay. The court notes, however, that the Updated Appraisal Report attached to the Supplemental Yates Declaration has been admitted into evidence.

- (7) Supp. Vasandani Decl. at ¶ 9: "The reported analysis, opinions and conclusions are limited only by their reported assumptions and the limiting conditions set forth in the report. As a result of the valuation and an analysis of relevant data, in the Appraisal opinion, as of April 11, 2018, the estimated market value of the subject property was $2,050,000."

Movant's Objection: Best Evidence, Fed. R. Evid. 1002; Lacks Foundation, Fed. R. Evid. 602.

Ruling: The Movant's objection under Fed. R. Evid. 1002 is OVERRULED. The Movant's objection under Fed. R. Evid. 602 is SUSTAINED as to the statement regarding the reported analysis, opinions and conclusions; the Movant's objection under Fed. R. Evid. 602 is OVERRULED as to the statement regarding valuation because the Supplemental Vasandani Declaration sets forth sufficient facts that Mr. Vasandani has personal knowledge of the Updated Appraisal Report based on it being provided to him on April 16, 2018.

- (8) Supp. Vasandani Decl. at ¶ 12: "I believe Movant's updated appraisal is even more inaccurate, inconclusive, intentionally misleading, and more inherently flawed than the drive-by appraisal."

Movant's Objection: Lacks Foundation, Fed. R. Evid. 602.

Ruling: SUSTAINED. The statement lacks foundation.

- (9) Supp. Vasandani Decl. at ¶ 13: "Comp 1 is a property located on the opposite side of the street from the Property, and the side of the street Comp 1 is located do not have any view [sic], whereas the side Debtors' Property is located on have [sic] panoramic and golf course views. This accounts for a significant difference in market value."

Chapter 11

On April 18, 2018, the Movant filed the "Motion to Strike Late-Filed Declaration of Michael Yates and All Exhibits Attached Thereto" (the "Grandpoint Motion to Strike") [Doc. No. 56]. The Movant requests that the Court strike the Supplemental Yates Declaration on the grounds that it was filed one day later than the deadline set by the Court in the "Order Continuing Hearing on the Motion" (the "Order Continuing Hearing") [Doc. No. 45].

The Grandpoint Motion to Strike is DENIED. The Court may, in its discretion, allow a late-filed declaration. Mr. Yates states that his Supplemental Declaration was not timely filed because he had "a personal family emergency." Supp. Yates Decl. at ¶ 21. Based on this, the Court finds sufficient cause exists to excuse the late filing of the Supplemental Yates Declaration.

C. The Debtors' Motion to Strike

On April 19, 2018, the Debtors filed the "Debtors' Motion to Strike: (1) Grandpoint Bank's Evidentiary Objections to Supplemental Declaration of Deepak B. Vasandani and Motion to Strike Exhibits; and (2) Grandpoint Bank's Motion to Strike Late-Filed Declaration of Michael Yates and All Exhibits Attached Thereto" [Doc. No. 60]. The Debtors argue that the above referenced motions filed by the Movant exceed the scope of the Court's Order Continuing Hearing [Doc. No. 45] in which the Court set a briefing schedule which included the Supplemental Briefs and list of witnesses only.

The Debtors' Motion to Strike is DENIED. This is an evidentiary hearing and the Court does not consider either the Grandpoint Evidentiary Objections or the Grandpoint Motion to Strike "additional briefing" as that term was used in the Court's Order Continuing Hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

4/20/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Movant cause a notice to quit to be served on the Debtor on January 11, 2018. The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on January 23, 2018.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

Tentative Ruling:

4/20/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Debtor continues to occupy the property after a foreclosure sale held on September 18, 2017. The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on December 27, 2018.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. Chapter 7

Chana Christine Andrews (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on February 15, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. On February 28, 2018 Mardean E. Alesso, Donald Kenneth Black, and Steven Edward Black (the "Alesso Defendants") filed the "Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362" (the "Stay-Relief Motion") [Doc. No. 8]. On March 20, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Motion to Avoid Lien with Mardean E. Alesso, Donald Kenneth Black, and Steven Edward Black" (the "Lien Avoidance Motion") [Doc. No. 13]. On March 23, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Limited Opposition to the Stay-Relief Motion" (the "Stay-Relief Opposition") [Doc. No. 14], in which the Debtor stated her non-opposition to the relief sought by Stay-Relief Motion, but requested that the Court determine resolve the Lien Avoidance Motion before granting relief from stay in order to determine the Debtor's interest in the personal property that is the subject of both the Stay-Relief Motion and the Lien Avoidance Motion. On April 5, 2018, the Court entered the "Order (1) Setting Hearing on Motion to Avoid Lien; and (2) Continuing Hearing on Stay-Relief Motion" (the "Continued Hearing Order") [Doc. No. 18]. The Continued Hearing Order continued the hearing on the Stay-Relief Motion to be heard concurrently with the Lien Avoidance Motion.

Background

Pre-Petition, the Debtor and the Alesso Defendants were parties to the certain action in the Los Angeles Superior Court captioned Andrews et al. vs. Alesso et al., Case No. MC025119 (the "State Action"). On December 29, 2014, the Debtor and Jessica Andrews (the "Andrews") commenced the State Action against two dozen parties, including the Alesso Defendants. The State Action asserted claims on multiple intentional tort and contract theories arising out of the Andrews' purchase of a home from the Alesso Family Trust. "Declaration of Jason Wallach in Opposition to Motion to Avoid Lien" (the "Wallach Decl.") [Doc. No. 16] at ¶ 2. The State Court bifurcated the claims in the State Action against the Alesso Defendants (the "Alesso Claims"), and held a six day bench trial on the Alesso Claims. Id. On March 14, 2016, the State Court entered the "Judgment After Trial" on the Alesso Claims. Id. at ¶ 3; see id., Exhibit 1 (the "Amended Judgment"). The Judgment After Trial granted the Alesso Defendants dismissal of all the Alesso Claims and granted recovery of costs and attorney's fees against the Andrews jointly and severally. Id. at ¶ 3; see also Amended Judgment. On May 4, 2016, the State Court amended the Judgment After Trial and awarded the Alesso Defendants "Total costs of $7,503.75 plus additional Interest on the Amended Judgment has accrued from May 4, 2016 through February 26, 2018 at the rate of 10% per year. Id. at ¶ 5. The Amended Judgment was affirmed by the California Court of Appeal. Id. at ¶ 6. During the period from approximately May 4, 2016 through June 17, 2016, the Andrews entered into three separate settlements with other of the remaining defendants in the State Action which, in the aggregate, awarded the Andrews a total of $96,000.00 (the "Settlement Proceeds")¹ [Note 1]. Id. at ¶ 10; "Declaration of Chana Christine Andrews" (the "Andrews Decl.") [Doc. No. 13] at ¶ 5. The Settlement Proceeds were deposited in the Client Trust Account of Attorney Henry M. Lee the "Attorney Account," where such funds currently remain held. Andrews Decl. at ¶ 5.

On March 22, 2016, after the entry of the Judgment After Trial but prior to the entry of the Amended Judgment, the Alesso Defendants filed a Notice of Lien upon the Andrews' remaining claims in the State Action in the amount of $7,503.75 (the "Original Lien"). Wallach Decl. at ¶ 8; id., Exhibit 2; Andrews Decl. at ¶ 7. On June 3, 2016—after the State Court entered Amended Judgment and the JA Approval Order on May 4, 2016—the Alesso Defendants filed the Amended Notice of Lien in the amount of $171,872.87 (the "Amended Lien"). Wallach Decl. at ¶ 9; id., Exhibit 3; Andrews Decl. at ¶ 8.

The Stay-Relief Motion

The Motion

The Stay-Relief Motion filed by the Alesso defendants seeks relief from the automatic stay with regards to the $96,000.00 currently being held in the Attorney Account—in which the Debtor has claimed a 1/2 interest, see Debtor's Schedule A/B [Doc. No. 1] at ¶ 25—pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and 362(d)(2). The Alesso Defendants contend that relief should be granted under § 362(d)(1) on the basis that the Debtor does not have an equity cushion in her share of the Settlement Funds because the Alesso Defendants have a lien on those funds in the total amount of $220,000.00; thus, the Alesso Defendants' interest in the Settlement Funds is not adequately protected. Stay-Relief Motion, Memorandum of Points and Authorities at 2. For the same reasons, the Alesso Defendants contend that the Debtor does not have any equity in the Settlement Funds, and the funds are not necessary for an effective reorganization because this is a Chapter 7 case.

Chapter 7

The Debtor's Limited Opposition

The Stay-Relief Opposition does not oppose the relief sought by the Stay-Relief Motion, but rather, stated the reasons why the Lien Avoidance Motion must be determined concurrently with the Stay-Relief Motion.

The Stay-Relief Reply

The Stay-Relief Reply filed by the Alesso Defendants states that the Debtor acknowledges, in her Schedules and/or the Stay-Relief Opposition, that (a) she only has an interest in half of the Settlement Funds, (b) if the Debtor's claimed exemption of $19,825.00 is upheld, it still will not cover $25,175.00 of her half of the Funds or the other half of the Funds which she has no interest in, and (c) the Debtor's state court attorney, who is currently holding the Funds in the Attorney Account, may claim a right to a portion of the Funds. The Stay-Relief Reply further argues that the aforementioned issues and the Alesso Defendants' rights to the funds are uniquely state law issues, and the Alesso Defendants should be granted relief from stay to proceed in the State Court on those issues with the understanding that this Court's ruling on the Lien Avoidance Motion and the related issue of the Debtor's exemption will be binding on the parties.

The Lien Avoidance Motion

The Motion

The Debtor claims a "wild card" exemption in the Settlement Funds pursuant to Cal. Code Civ. P. § 703.140(b)(5) in the amount of $19,825.00 (the "Wild Card Exemption"). Lien Avoidance Motion at 2; Andrews Decl. at ¶ 3. The Lien Avoidance Motion seeks to avoid the Amended Lien to the extent that the Amended Lien impairs the Debtor's Wild Card Exemption. Andrews Decl. at ¶ 9.

The Lien Avoidance Opposition

On April 2, 2018, the Alesso Defendants filed the "Notice of Opposition and Request for a Hearing" (the "Lien Avoidance Opposition") [Doc. No. 16]. The Alesso Defendants oppose the Lien Avoidance Motion on basis that, given the time of the filing of the Original Lien and the Amended Lien, coupled with the State Court's language in the Amended Judgment and the respective Settlement Orders, there was no "fixing of a lien upon an interest of the debtor" in the temporal sense, and § 522(f) does not apply. Lien Avoidance Opposition at 4 (citing Farrey v. Sanderfoot, 500 U.S. 291, 298 (1991)). The Alesso Defendants contend that because the State Court clearly recognized the pre-existing Amended Lien and ordered that the Settlement Funds were "subject to the lien of the Alesso Defendants," see, e.g., Termite Approval Order [Wallach Decl., Exhibit 5], earlier than the creation of the Debtor's asset and property of the estate, the Amended Lien existed and, at the latest, the Amended Lien attached to the Settlement Funds simultaneously with the approval of the creation of that asset. Lien Avoidance Opposition at 2.

The Lien Avoidance Reply

The Debtor's Reply to the Lien Avoidance Opposition rejects the argument of the Alesso Defendants and argues that the Debtor obtained an interest in the property prior to the Alesso Defendants perfection of the Original Lien and/or Amended Lien. Specifically, the Debtor argues that her interest was acquired prior to the filing of the State Action, when the Debtor's damages claimed in the State Action accrued. Lien Avoidance Reply at 2. The Debtor further contends that Sanderfoot is distinguishable because the Settlements did not extinguish the Debtor's previous interest—i.e., her injury.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Lien Avoidance Motion

Section 522(f) sets forth the standard for avoidance of a lien that impairs an exemption to which the Debtor is entitled. Section 522(f)(1) states:

Notwithstanding any waiver of exemptions, the debtor may avoid the fixing of a lien on an interest of the debtor in property to the extent that such lien impairs an exemption to which the debtor would have been entitled under subsection (b) of this section, if such lien is --

(1) a judicial lien

The Supreme Court has explained that, as the term is used in § 522(f), "The gerund 'fixing' refers to a temporal event" and that such event—i.e., "the fastening of liability"—"presupposes an object onto which the liability can fasten. The statute defines this pre-existing object as 'an interest of the debtor in property.' Therefore, unless the debtor had the property interest to which the lien attached at some point before the lien attached to that interest, he or she cannot avoid the fixing of the lien under the terms of § 522(f)(1)." Farrey v. Sanderfoot, 500 U.S. 291, 297 (1991). Thus, in circumstances where the Debtor "at no point possessed the interest without the judicial lien" then § 522(f) does not permit the Debtor to avoid the lien because "[t]here [is] no fixing to avoid." Id. at 298.

Here, the Court finds that given the chronology of events in the State Action, there was no "fixing of a lien upon an interest of the debtor" and, therefore, the Debtor cannot avoid the lien of the Alesso Defendants under § 522(f). It is clear from the facts that the Debtor did not exercise control over the Settlement Funds or have an interest in the Settlement Funds at any time prior to the point in time when the Original Lien (and subsequently, the Amended Lien) was "fixed" on the Settlement Funds. The Alesso Defendants filed the Original Lien against the Debtor's remaining causes of action in the State Action on March 22, 2016. Section 708.410(a) of the California Code of Civil Procedure, which governs the fixing of a lien of a judgment creditor in pending actions or proceedings, states:

A judgment creditor who has a money judgment against a judgment debtor who is a party to a pending action or special proceeding may obtain a lien under this article, to the extent required to satisfy the judgment creditor's money judgment, on both of the following:

- (1) Any cause of action of such judgment debtor for money or property that is the subject of the action or proceeding.
- (2) The rights of such judgment debtor to money or property under any judgment subsequently procured in the action or proceeding.

Thus, as of the filing of the Original Lien in accordance with Cal. Code Civ. P. § 708.410(a) on March 22, 2016, the Alesso Defendants' lien was fixed upon both the Debtor's causes of action against the remaining defendants in the State Action as well as the rights of the Debtor "to money or property under any judgment subsequently procured" in the State Action. Thus, on May 4, 2016 when the State Court entered the JA Approval Order (the first of the three Settlements), see Wallach Decl., Exhibit 4, the Alesso Defendants' pre-existing lien attached to the Settlement Funds as soon as they were created. Therefore, the Debtor "at no point possessed the interest without the judicial lien," Sanderfoot, 500 U.S. at 298, and, accordingly, the Alesso Defendants' lien cannot be avoided under § 522(f) because "[t]here [is] no fixing to avoid," id.

The Court is not persuaded by the Debtor's argument that the Debtor had an interest in the JA Settlement Funds before the Alesso Defendants filed their Original Lien based on the finding of the State Court in the JA Approval Order that JA "tendered the funds due to [the Andrews] before the Motion was filed and before the Alesso Defendants filed their Notice of Lien." See JA Approval Order at 3. Notwithstanding the transfer of funds from the JA defendants to the Debtor prior to the entry of the JA Approval Order—and this is true of each of the respective Settlements—no property interest in the Settlement Funds was created until the State Court entered the respective orders approving the Settlements, i.e. May 4, 2016 and/or June 17, 2016.

For the same reasons, the Court is not persuaded by the Debtor's argument that her interest—her injury—in the funds preceded the "fixing" of the Alesso Defendants' lien. For the reasons previously stated, this argument is not supported by the facts. First, the Debtor cites no authority in support of the argument that the Debtor somehow had a property interest in the Settlement Funds prior to commencing the State Action, and before those funds were ever created. The Court is not persuaded by the Debtor's logic with respect to this argument. Furthermore, in each of the three Settlement Orders the State Court ordered that the particular settlement funds, which were to be held in the Attorney Account, "are subject to the lien of the Alesso Defendants . . ." See Wallach Decl., Exhibits 4–6. This language appears to the Court to have been included for the express purpose of placing the Settlement Funds in trust, subject to Alesso Defendants' pre-existing lien, pending the final resolution of any and all of the disputes between the Andrews and the Alesso Defendants. Thus, the Debtor never controlled or had any interest in the Settlement Funds, and such disposition of the Settlement Funds became final when the California Court of Appeal affirmed the Amended Judgment in favor of the Alesso Defendants.

Chapter 7

Based on the foregoing, the Debtor's Lien Avoidance Motion is DENIED.

The Stay-Relief Motion

For the reasons set forth below, the Stay-Relief Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(2) to permit the Alesso Defendants, their successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce their remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. The Alesso Defendants may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1)

Under § 362(d)(1), the court shall grant relief “for cause, including the lack of adequate protection of an interest in property of such party in interest.” Generally, what constitutes cause for purposes of § 362(d) “has no clear definition and is determined on a case-by-case basis.” In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir. 1990); see also Little Creek Dev. Co. v. Commonwealth Mortgage Corp. (In the Matter of Little Creek Dev. Co.), 779 F.2d 1068, 1072 (5th Cir. 1986) (relief from the automatic stay may “be granted ‘for cause,’ a term not defined in the statute so as to afford flexibility to the bankruptcy courts”). However, cause under § 362(d)(1) expressly includes a lack of adequate protection. Section 361 sets forth three non-exclusive examples of what may constitute adequate protection: (1) periodic cash payments equivalent to decrease in value; (2) an additional or replacement lien on other property; or (3) other relief that provides the indubitable equivalent. See In re Mellor, 734 F.2d 1396, 1400 (9th Cir. 1984). The Ninth Circuit has established that an equity cushion of 20% constitutes adequate protection for a secured creditor. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass’n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor’s interest in its collateral).

Here, the Alesso Defendants have established that cause exists to grant relief under § 362(d)(1). The Debtor does not have an equity cushion in her share of the Settlement Funds because the Alesso Defendants have a lien on those funds in the total amount of $220,000.00; thus, the Alesso Defendants' interest in the Settlement Funds is not adequately protected.

Under § 362(d)(2), relief from the automatic stay must be granted if the debtor has no equity in the property, and the property is not necessary to an effective reorganization. Since a Chapter 7 case does not contemplate reorganization, the sole issue before the Court when stay relief is sought under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) is whether the Debtor has equity in the property. See, e.g., Martens v. Countrywide Home Loans (In re Martens), 331 B.R. 395, 398 (8th Cir. BAP 2005); Ramco Indus. v. Preuss (In re Preuss), 15 B.R. 896, 897 (9th Cir. BAP 1981).

Here, for the reasons stated above, the Court finds that the Debtor does not have any equity in the in the Settlement Funds because the Alesso Defendants have a lien on those funds in the total amount of $220,000.00.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing: (1) the Debtor's Motion to Avoid Lien is DENIED; and (2) the Alesso Defendants' Stay-Relief Motion is GRANTED under 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and 362(d)(2).

The Alesso Defendants shall lodge a conforming order within seven (7) days of the hearing.

RE: [28] Order Requiring Plaintiff To Appear And Show Cause Why This Action Should Not Be Dismissed For Failure To Prosecute

Docket 0

Tentative Ruling:

4/23/2018

This action is dismissed, pursuant to Civil Rule 41(b), based upon Plaintiff's failure to prosecute.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Order Requiring Plaintiff to Appear and Show Cause Why this Action Should Not be Dismissed for Failure to Prosecute [Doc. No. 28] (the "OSC")
 - a) Bankruptcy Noticing Center Certificate of Notice [Doc. No. 30]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On March 16, 2018, the Court issued an Order Requiring Plaintiff to Appear and Show Cause Why this Action Should Not be Dismissed for Failure to Prosecute [Doc. No. 28] (the "OSC"). The OSC required Plaintiff to show cause why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute and failure to comply with the Court's orders, pursuant to Civil Rule 41(b), based upon the following:

- 1) In connection with a Pretrial Conference conducted on March 13, 2018, at 10:00 a.m., Plaintiff failed to take any action to comply with its obligations regarding the preparation of either a proposed Joint Pretrial Stipulation or proposed Unilateral Pretrial Order, notwithstanding the Court's issuance of an Order to Comply With Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1 Re: Pretrial and Trial Procedures [Doc. No. 25] (the "Order to Comply"). The Order to Comply warned Plaintiff that non-compliance could result in dismissal of the action. Further, Plaintiff did not appear at the Pretrial Conference.
- 2) At the first Status Conference, the Court ordered Plaintiff to submit an order assigning this matter to mediation (the "Mediation Order"). After Plaintiff failed to timely submit the Mediation Order, the Court issued an Order Directing Plaintiff to Lodge Completed Request for Assignment to Mediation Program as Previously Ordered by the Court [Doc. No. 23], which Plaintiff likewise disregarded.

OSC at 1–2.

The OSC ordered Plaintiff to file a written response by no later than April 10, 2018. Plaintiff has failed to respond to the OSC.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Civil Rule 41(b), made applicable to these proceedings by Bankruptcy Rule 7041, provides in relevant part: "If the plaintiff fails to prosecute or to comply with these rules or a court order, a defendant may move to dismiss the action or any claim against it. Unless the dismissal order states otherwise, a dismissal under this subdivision (b) ... operates as an adjudication on the merits."

The Court weighs five factors in determining whether to dismiss a case for lack of prosecution:

- 1) the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation;
- 2) the court's need to manage its docket;
- 3) the risk of prejudice to the defendants;
- 4) the public policy favoring the disposition of cases on their merits; and
- 5) the availability of less drastic sanctions.

Moneymaker v. CoBEN (In re Eisen), 31 F.3d 1447, 1451 (9th Cir. 1994).

Here, factors one, two, three, and five weigh in favor of dismissing the action for lack of prosecution. The Court finds that dismissal is warranted as a result of Plaintiff's failure to prosecute.

1. Public's Interest in Expeditious Resolution of Litigation

To dismiss a case for lack of prosecution, "the court must find unreasonable delay." Eisen, 41 F.3d at 1451. The Court finds that Plaintiff has unreasonably delayed the prosecution of this case. First, Plaintiff failed to submit the Mediation Order, notwithstanding the fact that Plaintiff was twice ordered to do so by the Court. Second, Plaintiff failed to take any action in connection with the Pretrial Conference. Finally, Plaintiff has failed to respond to the OSC.

2. The Court's Need to Manage its Docket

United States Bankruptcy Court

Chapter 7

"This factor is usually reviewed in conjunction with the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation to determine if there is unreasonable delay." Eisen, 31 F.3d at 1452. As discussed above, Plaintiff has engaged in unreasonable delay in the prosecution of this action. This factor weighs in favor of dismissal.

3. The Risk of Prejudice to the Defendants

"[T]he failure to prosecute diligently is sufficient by itself to justify a dismissal, even in the absence of a showing of actual prejudice to the defendant from the failure.... The law presumes injury from unreasonable delay." Eisen, 31 F.3d at 1452. If the Plaintiff offers "an excuse for his delay that is anything but frivolous, the burden of production shifts to the defendant to show at least some actual prejudice." Id. at 1453. "Prejudice itself usually takes two forms—loss of evidence and loss of memory by a witness." Nealey v. Transportacion Maritima Mexicana, S. A., 662 F.2d 1275, 1281 (9th Cir. 1980).

Because Plaintiff has offered no explanation for the delay, this factor weighs in favor of dismissal.

4. The Public Policy Favoring the Disposition of Cases on Their Merits

"[C]ourts weigh this factor against the plaintiff's delay and the prejudice suffered by the defendant." Eisen, 31 F.3d at 1454. "Although there is indeed a policy favoring disposition on the merits, it is the responsibility of the moving party to move towards that disposition at a reasonable pace, and to refrain from dilatory and evasive tactics." Morris v. Morgan Stanley & Co., 942 F.2d 648, 652 (9th Cir. 1991).

The public policy favoring resolution of disputes on their merits does not outweigh Plaintiff's unreasonable delay in prosecuting this action.

5. The Availability of Less Drastic Sanctions

Plaintiff has failed to comply with multiple orders of the Court. Plaintiff failed to submit the Mediation Order, despite being ordered to do so twice. In addition, Plaintiff failed to take any action in connection with the Pretrial Conference, and failed to respond to the OSC. These repeated failures to comply with the Court's orders and to take any action to prosecute the case show that less drastic sanctions would not remediate Plaintiff's dilatory conduct.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Court will dismiss this action for failure to

 - a) Bankruptcy Noticing Center Certificate of Notice [Doc. No. 9]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On March 23, 2018, the Court issued an Order Requiring Plaintiff to Appear and Show Cause (1) Why this Action Should Not be Remanded to the Los Angeles Superior Court and (2) Why the Court Should Not Sua Sponte Grant Relief from the Automatic Stay to Permit the Remanded Action to Proceed [Doc. II. Findings and Conclusions

The Preliminary Findings and Conclusions set forth in the OSC shall become the findings of the Court. Those findings are as follows:

A. Background Information

The Debtor, the Walker Family Trust, commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on January 29, 2018. The petition was signed by Kenneth Adler in his capacity as “Managing Trustee” of the Debtor. According to its schedules, the Debtor is a real estate investment company that has been in existence since October 2015. See Statement of Financial Affairs for Non-Individuals Filing for Bankruptcy (Official Form 207) [Bankr. Doc. No. 7] at ¶25.1. The only assets scheduled by the Debtor are (1) real property located at 5701 7th Avenue, Los Angeles, California (which the Debtor values at $190,000) and (2) claims for forfeiture against Gregory William Walker and Nicole Renee Thrower (which the Debtor values at $126,666.66). See Schedule A/B [Bankr. Doc. No. 7] at ¶¶55.1 and 74.

On January 29, 2018—the same date that the petition was filed—the Debtor removed to the Bankruptcy Court the action Walker Family Trust v. Nicole Renee Thrower and Gregory William Walker (the “Probate Action”). Because the Debtor failed to comply with Bankruptcy Rule 9027(a)(1) [Note 1], the Court has only a partial record of the proceedings in the Probate Action. A significant issue in the Probate Action is whether Ms. Thrower and Ms. Walker effectively transferred their interests in the estate of Alfredo William Walker into the Walker Family Trust. Ms. Thrower and Mr. Walker are the children of Alfredo William Walker, who died intestate.

B. Equitable Grounds Support Remand of the Probate Action

Title 28 U.S.C §1452 provides that the Court may remand an action “on any equitable ground.” Courts consider the following factors in determining whether equitable grounds support remand:

- 1) the effect or lack thereof on the efficient administration of the estate if the Court recommends [remand or] abstention;
- 2) the extent to which state law issues predominate over bankruptcy issues;
- 3) the difficult or unsettled nature of applicable law;
- 4) the presence of related proceeding commenced in state court or other nonbankruptcy proceeding;
- 5) the jurisdictional basis, if any, other than § 1334;
- 6) the degree of relatedness or remoteness of proceeding to main bankruptcy case;

- 7) the substance rather than the form of an asserted core proceeding;
- 8) the feasibility of severing state law claims from core bankruptcy matters to allow judgments to be entered in state court with enforcement left to the bankruptcy court;
- 9) the burden on the bankruptcy court's docket;
- 10) the likelihood that the commencement of the proceeding in bankruptcy court involves forum shopping by one of the parties;
- 11) the existence of a right to a jury trial;
- 12) the presence in the proceeding of nondebtor parties;
- 13) comity; and
- 14) the possibility of prejudice to other parties in the action.

Citigroup, Inc. v. Pacific Investment Management Co., LLC (In re Enron Corp.), 296 B.R. 505, 509 n. 2 (C.D. Cal. 2003).

Here, multiple Enron factors support remand. The most salient factor is that remanding the action will not interfere with the administration of the bankruptcy estate (factor one). The State Court can adjudicate the issues raised by the Probate Action. Because the Court will not lift the stay of the enforcement of any final judgment reached by the State Court at this time, such adjudication will not interfere with administration of the bankruptcy estate. Parties will retain the ability to object, before the Bankruptcy Court, to the enforcement of any final judgment that the State Court may ultimately enter.

Factor ten, the likelihood that the removal involved forum shopping, strongly supports remand. The only creditors scheduled by the Debtor are Ms. Thrower and Mr. Walker, who are both parties to the Probate Action. The only liabilities scheduled by the Debtor are the disputed claims of Ms. Thrower and Mr. Walker. Thus, it appears that the Debtor's primary objective in filing the petition was to facilitate removal of the Probate Action to the Bankruptcy Court, rather than to achieve other legitimate objectives under the Bankruptcy Code.

Factor two supports remand, because the Probate Action arises entirely under state law. Factor eleven supports remand, because the Debtor has demanded a jury trial.

Chapter 7

[Note 2] Factors eleven (the presence of nondebtor parties) and thirteen (comity) also support remand. The remaining factors are either neutral or do not apply.

C. Stay Relief is Appropriate to Permit the Remanded Action to Proceed

The Court further finds that it is appropriate to lift the automatic stay, pursuant to §362(d)(1), to permit the Probate Action to proceed to final judgment in the State Court, provided that any final judgment entered by the State Court may not be enforced absent further order of this Court.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, this action is remanded to the Los Angeles Superior Court. The Court will sua sponte lift the automatic stay, pursuant to §362(d)(1), to permit the Probate Action to proceed to final judgment in the State Court. The Court will enter appropriate orders.

No appearances required

The hearing on the Debtor's Motion for Confirmation of the Debtor's First Amended Plan of Reorganization is CONTINUED to June 6, 2018 at 10:00 a.m. in order for the Debtor to make the contemplated modifications to the treatment of the Class 5(b) Impaired Secured Claim of Homestreet Bank, and to file a Second Amended Plan, subject to the following deadlines:

- (1) The Debtor shall have through and including May 16, 2018 to file the Second Amended Plan;
- (2) The deadline for any supplemental opposition to the Second Amended Plan to be filed is May 23, 2018;

The Court finds that the Debtor is not required to re-solicit votes because the proposed plan modifications: (a) will not affect the contemplated distributions to other classes of creditors under the Plan; and (b) the proposed modifications attempt to resolve the objections of secured creditor Homestreet Bank. See 11 U.S.C. § 1127(a) (providing that the proponent of a plan may modify such plan at any time before confirmation).

The Court will prepare the Order Continuing the Confirmation Hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Oh Hyung Kim (the "Debtor") seeks relief from the in rem provisions of an order granting stay relief entered in the Chapter 7 petition of Chul Hyun Gong (Case No. 2:15-bk-12452-ER) on October 26, 2016 (the "RFS Order"). The RFS Order granted in rem relief, pursuant to §362(d)(4), to U.S. Bank, National Association ("U.S. Bank") with respect to property located at 818 East Acacia Avenue, Unit C, Glendale, CA 91205 (the "Property").

In August 2011, the Debtor became delinquent in payments on the Property's mortgage. The Debtor retained Town Bancorp to avoid foreclosure of the Property. Based upon Town Bancorp's advice, the Debtor transferred two-thirds of his interest in the Property to Town Bancorp and Hancock Corporation on September 6, 2011.

Chapter 7

Town Bancorp and Hancock Corporation transferred their interest in the Property to Unimae and Pax America Development, LLC on June 19, 2012. The Debtor asserts that he was not informed of the transfer. Subsequent to 2012, the Property was involved in the following seven bankruptcy petitions:

- 1) Esther Bak, dba Town Bancorp, Case No. 2:11-bk-52937-EC;
- 2) Seung In Kim, dba Hancock Corporation, Case No. 2:11-bk-54640-BB;
- 3) Kwang Jae Lee, dba Town Bancorp, Case No. 2:12-bk-11919-TD;
- 4) Sook Yang Ha, dba Hancock Corporation, Case No. 2:12-bk-12902-RK;
- 5) Don Ho Kim, dba Town Bancorp, Case No. 2:12-bk-17636-RN;
- 6) Ok Hui Kim, dba Unimae, Case No. 2:14-bk-21316-ER;
- 7) Chul Hyun Gong, dba Pax America Development, Case No. 2:15-bk-12452-RK.

The Debtor states that he became disillusioned with Town Bancorp's efforts to assist him in avoiding foreclosure, and concluded that the best way to avoid foreclosure was through a short sale. On September 22, 2015, the Debtor filed an action to quiet title in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court"). On March 24, 2016, the Debtor obtained a judgment quieting title in his name and removing Unimae and Pax America Development, LLC from title. The judgment was recorded on April 22, 2016.

On October 26, 2016, U.S. Bank obtained stay-relief with respect to the Property in the case of Chul Hyun Gong, Case No. 2:15-bk-12452-RK. In his bankruptcy petition, Mr. Gong stated that he had done business using the name "Pax America Development." The Court granted relief under §362(d)(4), based on findings that the filing of the petition was part of a scheme to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors that involved multiple bankruptcy cases affecting the Property and the transfer of an ownership interest in the Property without the consent of the secured creditor or court approval.

Debtor commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition, Case No. 2:18-bk-10687-ER (the "First Petition") on January 22, 2018. The First Petition was a face-sheet filing. On February 9, 2018, the Court dismissed the First Petition based on Debtor's failure to file multiple schedules. On March 22, 2018, Wesley H. Avery, who had been appointed as the Chapter 7 Trustee with respect to the First Petition, filed a negative-notice motion seeking to side aside the dismissal of the First Petition. In the motion, Trustee Avery argued that the dismissal should be set aside because administration of the Property could benefit creditors. The Court has not yet ruled upon Trustee Avery's motion to set aside the dismissal.

On March 23, 2018, the Debtor commenced a second voluntary Chapter 7 petition, Case No. 2:18-bk-13238-ER (the "Second Petition"). Carolyn A. Dye has been appointed as the Chapter 7 Trustee. The instant Motion seeking relief from the RFS Order has been filed in the Second Petition.

On February 20, 2018, a Notice of Trustee's Sale was recorded with respect to the Property. On March 26, 2018, the Property was sold at a non-judicial foreclosure sale. Nationstar, in its capacity as servicer for U.S. Bank, asserts that the foreclosure sale was appropriate, notwithstanding the pendency of the Debtor's Second Petition, because RFS Order's in rem provisions.

In addition to seeking to set aside the in rem provisions of the RFS Order, the Debtor also moves to vacate the March 26, 2018 foreclosure sale.

Summary of the Debtor's Motion

The Debtor argues that the in rem provisions of the RFS Order should be set aside, and that the March 26, 2018 foreclosure sale should be vacated, for the following reasons:

- 1) Debtor never received notice of U.S. Bank's lift-stay motion. Debtor does not know, and has never met, Mr. Gong.
- 2) The RFS Order applied to the Property based on the fact that Mr. Gong had done business under the name "Pax America Development." However, Pax America Development was removed from title to the Property on March 24, 2016, as a result of the quiet title judgment that the Debtor obtained in the State Court. Further, Mr. Gong's name does not appear on any of the documents that Pax America Development has filed with the California Secretary of State. Mr. Gong has not recorded in Los Angeles County a Fictitious Business Name Statement indicating that he conducted business under the name "Pax America Development." Thus, it was not proper for U.S. Bank to obtain stay-relief with respect to the Property based on a purported connection between Mr. Gong and Pax America Development.
- 3) Because the RFS Order should never have been issued, the foreclosure sale was improper and should be vacated.

Summary of Nationstar's Opposition to the Motion

Nationstar, in its capacity as servicer for U.S. Bank, opposes the Motion. Nationstar makes the following arguments and representations in support of its Opposition:

- 1) The Debtor has admitted that he transferred a two-thirds interest in the Property, by way of an unauthorized Grant Deed, to Town Bancorp and Hancock Corporation. Further, Debtor has admitted that he is severely delinquent. Therefore, the §362(d)(4) relief granted in the RFS Order was appropriate. The Debtor has failed to show "good cause" for relief from the in rem provisions.
- 2) The Court lacks jurisdiction to vacate the RFS Order because it was entered in a different case. If the RFS Order were vacated, the Chapter 7 Trustee in Mr. Gong's case would have an interest in the Property.
- 3) The Motion effectively seeks recovery of the Property by seeking to rescind the foreclosure sale. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 7001(1), proceedings to "recovery money or property" are adversary proceedings, not contested matters. The Debtor cannot obtain the relief he seeks by way of a motion.
- 4) Although the Debtor claims he did not receive notice of the motion that resulted in entry of the RFS Order, the motion was mailed to the Debtor's address and the mail was not returned. See Decl. of Richard Jamison at ¶¶3-6.
- 5) The Debtor has provided no evidence as to why Civil Rule 59(e) regarding the finality of the RFS Order does not apply, nor has the Debtor demonstrated that he qualifies for relief from the RFS Order under Civil Rule 60. Throughout 2017 the Debtor has been involved in litigation against Nationstar before the State Court. In view of this litigation, the Debtor had the obligation to exercise reasonable diligence in reviewing the property records for the Property. Had the Debtor exercised such diligence, he would have discovered the RFS Order. The Debtor offers no explanation for why he has waited fourteen months subsequent to entry of the RFS Order to bring the instant Motion.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 362(d)(4) allows a secured creditor to obtain stay-relief with respect to real property, "if the court finds that the filing of the petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, or defraud creditors that involved either (A) transfer of all or part ownership of, or other interest in, such real property without the consent of the secured creditor or court approval; or (B) multiple bankruptcy filings affecting such real property." If properly recorded, orders granting stay-relief under §362(d)(4) "shall be binding in any other case under this title purporting to affect such real property filed not later than 2 years after the date of the entry of such order by the court."

Chapter 7

However, "a debtor in a subsequent case under this title may move for relief from such order based upon changed circumstances or for good cause shown."

The Debtor has failed to establish that he is entitled to be relieved of the in rem provisions of the RFS Order. First, the Court rejects the Debtor's argument that he must be relieved from the RFS Order because he did not receive notice of the corresponding lift-stay motion (the "RFS Motion"). The Proof of Service attached to the RFS Motion indicates that the motion was served upon the Debtor at the Property's address. Richard Jamison, who is employed as the office manager of the law firm that filed the RFS Motion, testifies that he mailed the RFS Motion to the Property's address in accordance with the firm's normal business practices, and that he did not receive any return mail. The Debtor offers no evidence controverting Mr. Jamison's testimony that he followed the firm's ordinary business practices in mailing the RFS Motion. Debtor simply states that he did not receive the RFS Motion.

In Mahon v. Credit Bureau of Placer Cty. Inc., 171 F.3d 1197, 1201–02 (9th Cir. 1999), the Ninth Circuit rejected arguments similar to those made by the Debtor. In Mahon, the Mahons testified that they had not received a notice from Credit Bureau. Credit Bureau established that the notice had been mailed to the Mahons in accordance with its customary business practices. The Mahon court concluded that mere testimony that the notice was not received was insufficient to create a genuine issue of material fact:

The Mahons offered no evidence that the Credit Bureau failed to follow its ordinary business procedure in sending them the Notice. They simply say they did not receive the Notice, just as they say they did not receive any of the monthly statements sent to them by Dr. Bowen's office over a period of more than two years.

We conclude there is no genuine dispute of the fact that the Credit Bureau sent the required Validation of Debt Notice to the Mahons.

Mahon, 171 F.3d at 1202.

Here, the Court finds that the Proof of Service attached to the RFS Motion, accompanied by Mr. Jamison's testimony that the RFS Motion was mailed to the Debtor in accordance with ordinary business practices, establishes that the Debtor received notice of the RFS Motion. Similar to the situation in Mahon, the Court makes this finding notwithstanding the Debtor's testimony that he did not receive the RFS Motion.

Second, the Court finds that the Debtor has not established good cause to set aside the in rem provisions of the RFS Order. Although the Debtor asserts that he was not informed that Town Bancorp and Hancock Corporation transferred their interest in the Property to Unimae and Pax America Development, the Debtor admits that he transferred a two-thirds interest in the Property to Town Bancorp and Hancock Corporation. The Debtor further admits that the purpose of this transfer was to “avoid a foreclosure” of the Property. Debtor’s Decl. at ¶¶7–8 [Doc. No. 28]. Town Bancorp and Hancock Corporation proved highly successful at delaying the foreclosure of the Property. Subsequent to the transfer, the Property was involved in at least seven bankruptcy petitions:

- 1) Esther Bak, dba Town Bancorp, Case No. 2:11-bk-52937-EC;
- 2) Seung In Kim, dba Hancock Corporation, Case No. 2:11-bk-54640-BB;
- 3) Kwang Jae Lee, dba Town Bancorp, Case No. 2:12-bk-11919-TD;
- 4) Sook Yang Ha, dba Hancock Corporation, Case No. 2:12-bk-12902-RK;
- 5) Don Ho Kim, dba Town Bancorp, Case No. 2:12-bk-17636-RN;
- 6) Ok Hui Kim, dba Unimae, Case No. 2:14-bk-21316-ER;
- 7) Chul Hyun Gong, dba Pax America Development, Case No. 2:15-bk-12452-RK.

The Debtor’s own testimony establishes that he was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, or defraud creditors involving both the transfer of the Property without the consent of the secured creditor and multiple bankruptcies affecting the Property. The in rem provisions of the RFS Order were fully warranted. The Debtor has failed to demonstrate changed circumstances sufficient to set aside the RFS Order. For example, the Debtor has not asserted that he has now brought the delinquent mortgage payments current, or even that he has any realistic possibility of curing the arrearages.

The Debtor argues that the RFS Order was not appropriate because at the time it was issued, Pax America Development had been removed from title as a result of the Debtor’s quiet title action. (As discussed, the Debtor in the case in which the RFS Order was entered conducted business under the name Pax America Development.) Along similar lines, the Debtor argues that there is no connection between Mr. Gong and Pax America Development, based upon the absence of Mr. Gong’s name in Pax America’s filings with the California Secretary of State. The Court finds that these issues are irrelevant. What matters is that as a result of the Debtor’s transfer of the Property to Town Bancorp and Hancock Corporation, the secured creditor was repeatedly hindered from exercising its foreclosure rights. Whether Pax America actually held any legal or beneficial interest in the Property at the time of issuance of the RFS Order is immaterial; the key is that Pax America asserted an interest in the Property, for the purpose of preventing the secured creditor from pursuing its state law remedies. Section 362(d)(4) was enacted to address precisely this situation.

The Debtor seeks relief from the RFS Order only under §362(d)(4), not under Civil Rules 59(e) or 60. However, based upon the analysis set forth above, the Court finds that the Debtor would likely not be entitled to relief under either Civil Rules 59 (e) or 60, even if the Debtor had invoked those provisions. But, the Court here is not ruling on such relief.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED. Nationstar shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

4/24/2018

Tentative Ruling:

For the reasons set forth below, the Court GRANTS the Debtor's Motion. The Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral through and including July 24, 2018, in accordance with the terms of the Motion. A hearing on whether the Debtor may use cash collateral subsequent to July 24, 2018 will take place on July 17, 2018 at 10:00 a.m. Papers in support of the continued use of cash collateral must be filed and served by June 26, 2018. Objections, if any, to the Debtor's continued use of cash collateral must be filed and served by July 3, 2018. Any reply may be filed and served by July 10, 2018.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion in Individual Chapter 11 Case for Order Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 5]
- 2) No opposition has been filed as of the date of this tentative ruling.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Samuel Antonio Acevedo and Lucy Acevedo (the "Debtors") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on April 3, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor owns certain real property located at 6220 Palladio Lane, Fontana, CA 92336 (the "Property").

Concurrent with the filing of the Petition, the Debtor filed the "Notice of Motion and Motion in Individual Chapter 11 Case for Order Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 5]. The Debtor seeks authorization to use cash collateral with respect to the Property. The Debtor states that the Property has a value of $475,000.00. Motion at 4. The Property generates rental income in the total amount of $2,200.00 per month which are paid to the Debtor pursuant to the certain "Lease Agreement" attached as "Exhibit 1" to the Motion. The Property is encumbered by the lien of Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., in the total amount of $381,367.03 (the "Wells Fargo DOT"). The Debtor's monthly payments on the Wells Fargo DOT are $2,322.85. The Debtor has prepetition arrears in the amount of $111,415.34. The Debtor claims equity in the Property in the amount of $93,633.00.

The Debtor offers the following as adequate protection: (1) the equity in the Property; (2) the maintenance of the Property; (3) payments in the following amounts to Wells Fargo from the rental income: (a) property insurance payments in the amount of $58 per month; (b) property tax payments in the amount of $422 per month; (c) reserve $200 per month for maintenance and repair; and (d) the remaining $1,520 per month to Wells Fargo; and (4) the Debtor offers a lien in the Replacement Collateral.

No opposition has been filed.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of Section 363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368-69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. Section 363(c)(2)(B); Section 363(e). A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988).

The Court finds that the secured creditor's interest in the Property is adequately protected based upon the terms set forth in the Motion and the Budget. Therefore, the Court authorizes the use of cash collateral on an interim basis in accordance with the terms of the Motion and the Budget attached thereto through and including July 24, 2018.

#6.00 HearingRE: [46] Motion to Approve Compromise Under Rule 9019 (with proof of service) (Curlee, Brett)

Docket 46

Tentative Ruling:

4/25/2018

The Court, finding the terms of the Stipulation to Compromise to be fair, reasonable, and adequate, GRANTS the Trustee's Motion.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Trustee's Motion for Approval of Compromise (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 46]
- 2) No opposition on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Patricio Diaz Guevarra (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on September 6, 2017 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. On March 31, 2018, the Trustee filed the "Trustee's Motion for Approval of Compromise" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 46]. The Motion seeks approval of the certain "Stipulation to Compromise Controversy" (the "Stipulation") [Doc. No. 46, Exhibit 1] entered into between the Trustee and the Debtor.

At the time the Petition was filed, the Debtor listed a 50% interest in his residence. The Trustee investigated and determined that the Debtor's residence had at least $30,000.00 in equity that could be liquidated for the benefit of the Estate. Furthermore, contrary to the 50% interest claimed by the Debtor in the Debtor's Schedules, the Trustee contended that the Debtor either owned his residence or had a 2/3 interest therein. Upon learning of the Trustee's contention in this regard, the Debtor filed the "Motion to Convert Case from Chapter 7 to 13" [Doc. No. 14], which is currently pending. The Trustee and the Debtor entered into settlement discussions after the trustee received a full price offer of $479,050.00 for the residence. These negotiations culminated in the execution of the Stipulation, which the Motion now seeks approval.

The Proposed Settlement Agreement

The material terms of the Stipulation, see Motion at Ex. 1, are as follows:

1. Debtor's Payment to the Estate: The Debtor has agreed to pay the Estate $58,500.00 in exchange for the Estate releasing any and all claims it may have against the Debtor and abandoning all of the assets of the Estate, whether known or unknown.
2. Receipt of Payment: The Trustee has received payment in full from the debtor in the above-described amount.
3. Waiver of Exemption: The Debtor agrees to waive any exemption in the funds paid pursuant to the Stipulation.

The Stipulation is a favorable compromise for the Estate. "Declaration of Wesley H. Avery" ("Avery Decl.") [Doc. No. 46] at ¶ 17.

No opposition to approval of the Settlement Agreement has been filed.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Motion to Approve Settlement

The Court approves the Settlement Agreement. Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a) permits the Court to approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "Each factor need not be treated in a vacuum; rather, the factors should be considered as a whole to determine whether the settlement compares favorably with the expected rewards of litigation." In re Western Funding Inc., 550 B.R. 841, 851 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2016). Furthermore, "compromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983).

The A&C Properties factors weigh in favor of approving the Amended Settlement Agreement. Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the compromise is adequate, fair, and reasonable.

(1) Probability of Success in the Litigation and Complexity of the Litigation, and the Expense, Inconvenience and Delay Necessarily Attending It

Under the circumstances, these factors are the most pertinent, and they weigh strongly in favor of approving the Stipulation. The Trustee has a well-founded belief that the Trustee would prevail in opposing the Debtor's Motion to Convert the Case. The Stipulation, however, minimizes the costs and expenses that would necessarily be incurred in such litigation. The compromise amount is substantially more than the value that the Trustee would recover from the sale of the Property.

The Stipulation brings a significant sum of money into the Estate and avoids litigation between the Debtor and the Estate.

(2) Paramount Interests of Creditors

The Stipulation is in the best interest of creditors in that they stand to receive a 100% dividend on their claims.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Trustee's Motion to Approve the Stipulation between the Trustee and the Debtor is GRANTED.

The Trustee shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative

#7.00 HearingRE: [410] Motion For Final Decree and Order Closing Case. [Motion of the Liquidating Trustee for Final Decree and Closing the Case]

Docket 410

Tentative Ruling:

4/25/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Liquidating Trustee's Motion for entry of a final decree closing the case is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Motion of the Liquidating Trustee for Final Decree and Closing the Case [Doc. No. 410] (the "Motion")
 - a) Notice of Motion of the Liquidating Trustee for Final Decree and Closing the Case
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 8, 2016, the Court entered an order confirming the First Amended Liquidating Plan of Rosales Meat Distributors, Inc. (the "Plan"). Doc. No. 317. The Plan provided for the appointment of a Liquidating Trustee to liquidate the Debtor's assets. The Liquidating Trustee now seeks entry of a final decree closing the case.

On August 26, 2016, the Liquidating Trustee sold the Debtor's vehicles, inventory, and furniture, fixtures, and equipment to Rosales Food Services, Inc. for $56,304.85. The Liquidating Trustee has collected $93,650.70 of the Debtor's outstanding receivables. The Liquidating Trustee has paid all allowed administrative claims; has paid all post-confirmation tax liabilities; and has made payments to holders of priority tax claims and holders of unsecured claims in accordance with the Plan. The Liquidating Trustee may receive $41,983.92 from a release of a deed of trust. The only remaining assets are (1) additional receivables and (2) the possible recovery in connection with the release of the deed of trust.

Chapter 11

Bankruptcy Rule 3022 provides:

After an estate is fully administered in a chapter 11 reorganization case, the court, on its own motion or on motion of a party in interest, shall enter a final decree closing the case.

To determine whether an estate has been fully administered, the Court considers:

- (1) whether the order confirming the plan has become final;
- (2) whether deposits required by the plan have been distributed;
- (3) whether the property proposed by the plan to be transferred has been transferred;
- (4) whether the debtor or the successor of the debtor under the plan has assumed the business of the management of the property dealt with by the plan;
- (5) whether payments under the plan have commenced; and
- (6) whether all motions, contested matters, and adversary proceedings have been finally resolved.

In re Ground Systems, Inc., 213 B.R. 1016, 1019 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1997) (quoting the Advisory Committee's notes for Rule 3022).

All of the applicable Ground Systems factors have been satisfied. Accordingly, the Court finds that the estate has been fully administered.

With respect to factor one, the order confirming the Plan has become final. Factor two does not apply because the Plan did not require any deposits to be made. With respect to factor three, all of the Debtor's assets were transferred to the custody of the Liquidating Trustee on or shortly after the Effective Date of the Plan. With respect to factor four, the property dealt with under the Plan has been liquidated by the Liquidating Trustee. With respect to factor five, payments under the Plan have commenced—in fact, virtually all payments contemplated by the Plan have been made. With respect to factor six, the only adversary proceeding commenced by the Liquidating Trustee was resolved by a judgment in favor of the defendants that was entered on September 17, 2017.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Liquidating Trustee shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Docket 102

Tentative Ruling:

4/25/2018

The Debtor's Motion—which seeks to pay UST fees from sales proceeds currently held in the Debtor's attorney's client-trust account—is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Order Approving Payment of U.S. Trustee Fees from Trust Account [Doc. No. 102] (the "Motion")
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Beach Dans, Inc. (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on October 18, 2017. The Debtor's principal asset was a Denny's-franchised restaurant located at 601 Long Beach Blvd., Long Beach, CA 90802 (the "Restaurant"). On December 8, 2017, the Court approved the sale of the Restaurant for $1,010,000. See Doc. No. 57. The sale closed on December 28, 2017.

The Debtor's counsel, Goe & Forsythe, LLP ("G&F"), currently holds $838,809.92 in sales proceeds in its client trust account. G&F seeks authorization to pay quarterly fees to the United States Trustee (the "UST") for the first quarter of 2018. Fees of $1,625.00 are due by April 30, 2018.

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(b)(1) authorizes the Debtor to use property of the estate, other than in the ordinary course of business, upon Court approval. The Court approves the payment of the UST fees as requested in the Motion.

In April 2017, the parties reached a settlement in principle. At the previous status conference, conducted in August 2017, the Defendants advised the Court that they had not yet raised the funds necessary to perform under the settlement agreement. The Court continued the status conference to give the Defendants one final opportunity to raise the settlement funds, but advised that if Defendants failed to raise the settlement funds by the continued status conference, a trial date would be set. Defendants have not raised the settlement funds. Accordingly, the Court HEREBY ORDERS that the following dates will apply to this proceeding:

2/23/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

#102.00 HearingRE: [10] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations REAL PROPERTY RE: 11655 Starlight Avenue, Whittier, CA 90604 . (Schloss, Edward)

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

4/26/2018

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Since a chapter 7 case does not contemplate reorganization, the sole issue before the Court when stay relief is sought under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) is whether the Debtor has equity in the property. See e.g. Nev. Nat'l Bank v. Casbul of Nev., Inc. (In re Casgul of Nev., Inc.), 22 B.R. 65, 66 (9th Cir. BAP 1982); Ramco Indus. v. Preuss (In re Preuss), 15 B.R. 896 (9th Cir. BAP 1981).

The subject property has a value of $474,535.00 and is encumbered by a perfected deed of trust or mortgage in favor of the Movant. The liens against the property and the expected costs of sale total $750,758.30. The Court finds there is no equity and there is no evidence that the trustee can administer the subject real property for the benefit of creditors.

Further, the Court finds that there are facts presented in the Motion sufficient for the court to find bad faith pursuant to § 362(d)(4). Debtor's filing of the petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors that involved: (a) the

Tentative Ruling:

4/26/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set on a shortened notice in accordance with this Judge's procedures. Oppositions, if any, will be considered at the hearing.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Debtor continues to occupy the property after a foreclosure sale held on January 12, 2018. The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on February 13, 2018.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of this bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States

#2.00 Hearing
RE: [36] Motion in Limine No. 1; Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Support Thereof

Docket 36

Tentative Ruling:

The Motion is GRANTED for the reasons set forth below.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Plaintiff's Motion in Limine No. 1 [Doc. No. 36] (the "Motion")
- 2) Defendant's Opposition to Plaintiff's Motion in Limine No. 1 [Doc. No. 44] (the "Opposition")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background

The Complaint alleges that Wendy Tejada (the "Defendant") was the landlord of Sorayda Velasquez (the "Plaintiff") between September 2012 and February 2016. Complaint at ¶8. The gravamen of the Complaint is that Defendant purposefully disconnected Defendant's water service in order to induce the Defendant to vacate the property. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant's indebtedness is non-dischargeable pursuant to §523(a)(6).

As set forth in the Pretrial Order [Doc. No. 35], the following facts are admitted and require no proof:

- a) Defendant filed a petition for relief under Chapter 7 on January 5, 2017 (the "Petition Date").
- b) Plaintiff filed an adversary complaint on June 9, 2017.
- c) Prior to the petition date, between December 2008 and December 2016, Defendant owned and/or managed the property located at 1136 – 1138 E. 81st St., Los Angeles, CA, including 1138 ½ E. 81st St., Los Angeles, CA (the "Property"). Defendant owned the Property intermittently between April 2007 through October 27, 2008 and December 4, 2014 through February 2016. From October 27, 2008 through December 4, 2014, the Property was owned by THE LIVING TRUST OF RODOLFO TEJEDA & WENDY TEJEDA DATED OCTOBER 27, 2008 wherein Rodolfo Tejada and Wendy Tejada were Trustees (the "Living Trust").

- d) As the owner and operator of rental property in California, the Defendant impliedly warranted that any property she rented to tenants was habitable.
- e) Between April 2007 and January 2013, Defendant maintained an account with Golden State Water Company ("GSWC"), to furnish water to the Property.
- f) Between December 18, 2014 through February 2016, the Property was owned by Defendant.
- g) On or about January 8, 2015, Menbere Mekbeb, EHS III ("Mekbeb"), from the Public Health Office called and spoke with Defendant, informing her of an office hearing scheduled for the following day (January 9, 2015) due to the three complaints for lack of running water at the Property.
- h) On January 9, 2015, Plaintiff and Defendant attended an Office Hearing at the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health, conducted by Chief Environmental Health Specialist, Fahrudin Dean Zulcic. During the Office Hearing, Mr. Zulcic ordered Defendant to immediately restore water utility service to the Property.
- i) On January 9, 2015, during the Office Hearing, Mr. Zulcic called Golden State Water Company ("GSWC" and/or "Golden State") and verified that someone other than Defendant had a utility account under their names for all units at the subject property (due to the property having a master-meter).
- j) On or about March 25, 2015, Debtor/Defendant's mortgage lender executed a Notice of Default ("NOD") which was recorded at the Los Angeles County Recorder's Office on April 2, 2015, instrument number 20150362193.
- k) On or about October 22, 2015, due to the continued mortgage default, a Notice of Trustee's Sale ("NOTS") was executed and recorded at the Los Angeles County Recorder's Office on October 26, 2015, instrument number 20151307619.

Pretrial Order at ¶2.

B. Summary of Plaintiff's First Motion in Limine and the Defendant's Opposition Thereto

Plaintiff moves for an order barring Defendant from asserting that Defendant did not mutually assent to the terms of the Lease (Plaintiff's Ex. 1) because a prior owner and/or manager—Defendant's ex-husband—Rodolfo Tejada—had assented to the Lease. Plaintiff asserts that as a matter of law, Defendant, as a successor landlord, remains bound by all the terms and conditions of a lease agreement entered into by a prior landlord. Plaintiff asserts that she has the same rights and remedies to enforce the original landlord's covenants against Defendant, the successor landlord.

Defendant contends that the Motion mischaracterizes Defendant's position with respect to the Lease. Defendant asserts that the Lease proffered by Plaintiff is not the same lease that Plaintiff executed in 2012. According to Defendant, the Lease presented by Plaintiff contains materially different terms from the lease agreed upon by the parties. Defendant's position is that the actual lease provided for monthly rent of approximately $1,100.00, whereas the Lease proffered by Plaintiff provides for monthly rent of $673.00.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Court will preclude Defendant from asserting that Defendant is not bound by the terms of the Lease solely because the Lease was assented to by Defendant's ex-husband, Rodolfo Tejada. Under California law, "a sale by a lessor of real property during an unexpired term does not of itself abrogate the lease. Its effect is to grant all the rights of the original lessor to the grantee of the reversion. The grantee then becomes the landlord by operation of law and the tenant becomes a tenant of the grantee of the reversion." Kirk Corp. v. First Am. Title Co., 220 Cal. App. 3d 785, 809, 270 Cal. Rptr. 24, 38 (Ct. App. 1990) (internal citations omitted). However, the Court notes that Defendant has not taken the position that Defendant is not bound by the Lease because it was executed by Defendant's ex-husband. Instead, Defendant's position is that "the lease presented by Plaintiff is a forgery to the extent Plaintiff claims that it was the lease presented to her by Defendant and her ex-husband in 2012." Opposition at 3.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. The Court will enter an appropriate order.

- 2) Defendant's Opposition to Plaintiff's Motion in Limine No. 2 [Doc. No. 45] (the "Opposition")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background

The Complaint alleges that Wendy Tejada (the "Defendant") was the landlord of Sorayda Velasquez (the "Plaintiff") between September 2012 and February 2016. Complaint at ¶8. The gravamen of the Complaint is that Defendant purposefully disconnected Defendant's water service in order to induce the Defendant to vacate the property. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant's indebtedness is non-dischargeable pursuant to §523(a)(6).

As set forth in the Pretrial Order [Doc. No. 35], the following facts are admitted and require no proof:

- a) Defendant filed a petition for relief under Chapter 7 on January 5, 2017 (the "Petition Date").
- b) Plaintiff filed an adversary complaint on June 9, 2017.
- c) Prior to the petition date, between December 2008 and December 2016, Defendant owned and/or managed the property located at 1136 – 1138 E. 81st St., Los Angeles, CA, including 1138 ½ E. 81st St., Los Angeles, CA (the "Property"). Defendant owned the Property intermittently between April 2007 through October 27, 2008 and December 4, 2014 through February 2016. From October 27, 2008 through December 4, 2014, the

- e) Between April 2007 and January 2013, Defendant maintained an account with Golden State Water Company ("GSWC"), to furnish water to the Property.
- f) Between December 18, 2014 through February 2016, the Property was owned by Defendant.
- g) On or about January 8, 2015, Menbere Mekbeb, EHS III ("Mekbeb"), from the Public Health Office called and spoke with Defendant, informing her of an office hearing scheduled for the following day (January 9, 2015) due to the three complaints for lack of running water at the Property.
- h) On January 9, 2015, Plaintiff and Defendant attended an Office Hearing at the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health, conducted by Chief Environmental Health Specialist, Fahrudin Dean Zulcic. During the Office Hearing, Mr. Zulcic ordered Defendant to immediately restore water utility service to the Property.
- i) On January 9, 2015, during the Office Hearing, Mr. Zulcic called Golden State Water Company ("GSWC" and/or "Golden State") and verified that someone other than Defendant had a utility account under their names for all units at the subject property (due to the property having a master-meter).
- j) On or about March 25, 2015, Debtor/Defendant's mortgage lender executed a Notice of Default ("NOD") which was recorded at the Los Angeles County Recorder's Office on April 2, 2015, instrument number 20150362193.

- r) The amount of damages suffered by Plaintiff in the event the Court finds that the Defendant is liable.

Pretrial Order at ¶2.

Defendant argues that she is not liable under §523(a)(6) because she attempted to restore water service to the Property subsequent to the January 9, 2015 hearing conducted by the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health. According to Defendant, after she closed her GSWC account, other tenants at the Property opened accounts with GSWC. Defendant states that she was advised by GWSC that payments of approximately $6,000 remained outstanding in connection with an account opened by one of the tenants. Defendant states that GSWC refused to re-establish an account in her name until this bill was brought current, and that she could not afford to bring the bill current.

B. Summary of Plaintiff's Second Motion in Limine

Plaintiff moves for an order barring Defendant from asserting that Defendant did not have control over the GWSC water utility account used to furnish the Property's five rental units with water. Plaintiff makes the following arguments in support of the Motion:

The water utility service for the Property was measured by a single master-meter. That the GSWC utility account listed the customer of record as various parties other than Defendant is irrelevant because as owner of the Property, Defendant had sole control over accounts furnishing master-metered utilities.

Defendant cannot escape the obligation to perform duties owed to her tenants by delegating those duties to other tenants. Defendant remained responsible to furnish water to the units regardless of whether another tenant allegedly retained control of the GSWC account. Under the doctrine of non-delegable duty, "a landlord cannot escape liability for failure to maintain property in a safe condition by delegating the duty to an independent contractor." Srithong v. Total Inv. Co., 23 Cal. App. 4th 721, 726, 28 Cal. Rptr. 2d 672, 674 (1994).

Cal. Civ. Code §1941 provides:

The lessor of a building intended for the occupation of human beings must, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, put it into a condition fit for such occupation, and repair all subsequent dilapidations thereof, which render it untenable

Cal. Civ. Code §1941.1(a)(3) provides that a dwelling shall be deemed untenable if it lacks a "water supply ... capable of producing hot and cold running water" Cal. Health & Saf. Code §17920.3(a)(5) provides that a building lacking "hot and cold running water to plumbing fixtures in a dwelling unit" shall "be deemed and hereby is declared to be a substandard building"

By failing to provide water service to the Property, Defendant failed to maintain the Property in a safe condition. Because Defendant's obligation to maintain safety is non-delegable, the fact that the GSWC account allegedly was under the control of other tenants is irrelevant.

C. Summary of Defendant's Opposition to the Motion

Defendant opposes the Motion, and makes the following arguments in support of her Opposition:

The legal issue to be determined is whether Defendant acted willfully and maliciously with respect to the events concerning the absence of water at the Property. Defendant intends to introduce evidence showing that after other tenants assumed control over the GSWC account, she lacked any control over the account. Defendant further intends to introduce evidence that the tenant with the GSWC account was responsible for disconnecting the water service.

II. Findings and Conclusions

"Section 523(a)(6) excepts from discharge debts arising from a debtor's 'willful and malicious' injury to another person or to the property of another. The 'willful' and 'malicious' requirements are conjunctive and subject to separate analysis." Plyam v. Precision Development, LLC (In re Plyam), 530 B.R. 456, 463 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 2015) (internal citations omitted).

As the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel has explained:

Under § 523(a)(6), the willful injury requirement speaks to the state of mind necessary for nondischargeability. An exacting requirement, it is satisfied when a debtor harbors "either a subjective intent to harm, or a subjective belief that harm is substantially certain." Carrillo v. Su (In re Su), 290 F.3d at 1144 (9th Cir. 2002); see also Petralia v. Jercich (In re Jercich), 238 F.3d at 1208 (9th Cir. 2001). The injury must be deliberate or intentional, "not merely a deliberate or intentional act that leads to injury." Kawaauhau v. Geiger, 523 U.S. 57, 61, 118 S.Ct. 974, 140 L.Ed.2d 90 (1998) (emphasis in original). Thus, "debts arising from recklessly or negligently inflicted injuries do not fall within the compass of § 523(a)(6)." Id. at 64, 118 S.Ct. 974....

[R]ecklessly inflicted injuries do not satisfy the § 523(a)(6) willfulness requirement. See 523 U.S. at 61–62, 118 S.Ct. 974. This necessarily includes all degrees of reckless conduct, whether arising from recklessness simple, heightened, or gross; conduct that is reckless merely requires an intent to act, rather than an intent to cause injury as required under Geiger.

Id. at 463–64.

An injury is "malicious" if it "involves '(1) a wrongful act, (2) done intentionally, (3) which necessarily causes injury, and (4) is done without just cause or excuse.'" Carrillo v. Su (In re Su), 290 F.3d 1140, 1146–47 (9th Cir. 2002) (internal citations omitted).

This dischargeability action involves two distinct issues: "first, the establishment of the debt itself ...; and second, a determination of the nature of that debt"—that is, a determination of whether the debt is non-dischargeable within the meaning of §523 (a)(6). Thomas M. Banks v. Gill Distribution Centers, Inc., Ronald Richardson, Transworld Distribution Servs., Inc. dba Richardson Warehouse Co. (In re Gill Distribution Centers, Inc., Ronald Richardson, Transworld Distribution Servs., Inc. dba Richardson Warehouse Co.), 263 F.3d 862, 868 (9th Cir. 2001). As the creditor seeking to have a debt declared non-dischargeable, Plaintiff has the burden of proof under the preponderance of the evidence standard. Grogan v. Garner, 498 U.S. 279,

287, 111 S.Ct. 654 (1991).

Here, Plaintiff cannot establish the debt unless Plaintiff first shows that Defendant and Plaintiff entered into a lease agreement with respect to the Property. Absent a lease agreement giving rise to a landlord/tenant relationship, Defendant would have no obligation to furnish water service to the Property. Plaintiff must show the existence of a lease agreement by a preponderance of the evidence.

Plaintiff's Motion presupposes that Defendant owed duties to Plaintiff in her capacity as Plaintiff's landlord. However, as set forth in the Pretrial Order, an issue of fact remaining to be litigated is whether the Lease proffered by Plaintiff is authentic. Because the existence of a landlord/tenant relationship between Plaintiff and Defendant remains at issue, the Motion must be denied.

Even if Plaintiff can establish the existence of a landlord/tenant relationship, Plaintiff must then establish that the indebtedness arising from Defendant's failure to provide water service is non-dischargeable within the meaning of §523(a)(6). That will require Plaintiff to show that Defendant's failure to provide water was both "willful" and "malicious." As noted, the willfulness requirement is "exacting," Plyam, 530 B.R. 463; "debts arising from recklessly or negligently inflicted injuries" do not satisfy the requirement. Kawaauhau v. Geiger, 523 U.S. 57, 64, 118 S. Ct. 974, 978, 140 L. Ed. 2d 90 (1998).

Plaintiff is correct that, under California law, a landlord has an obligation to supply hot and cold running water to the Property. See Cal. Civ. Code §1941 (providing that the "lessor of a building intended for the occupation of human beings must, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, put it into a condition fit for such occupation, and repair all subsequent dilapidations thereof, which render it untenable") and Civ. Code §1941.1(a)(3) (stating that a dwelling shall be deemed untenable if it lacks a "water supply ... capable of producing hot and cold running water").

Plaintiff is also right that California law further imposes upon landlords a duty to maintain the Property that they lease in a safe condition, and that this duty is non-delegable. See Srithong v. Total Inv. Co., 23 Cal. App. 4th 721, 726, 28 Cal. Rptr. 2d 672, 674 (1994) ("[A] landlord cannot escape liability for failure to maintain property in a safe condition by delegating the duty to an independent contractor"). Therefore, assuming Plaintiff can establish a landlord/tenant relationship, Plaintiff owed Defendant a non-delegable duty to provide the Property with running water. See Knell v. Morris, 39 Cal.2d 450, 456 (Cal. 1952) (holding that landlord had a non-delegable duty to maintain water heaters in good working order).

However, the fact that Defendant may have owed Plaintiff a non-delegable duty to provide water does not make it irrelevant that other tenants may have controlled the GSWC water account. If Plaintiff succeeds in establishing the indebtedness, Plaintiff must then show that Defendant's failure to provide water was "willful" and "malicious" within the meaning of §523(a)(6). In determining whether this high standard has been met, the circumstances regarding control of the GSWC account have a great deal of relevance. For example, if at the time she closed the GSWC account, Defendant had a good-faith belief that a reliable tenant had assumed responsibility for the account, it would be difficult for Plaintiff to show that injuries stemming from the absence of water were either willful or malicious. At most, these circumstances would support a finding that Plaintiff negligently failed to fulfill her obligation to provide water. Negligence is not enough to render a debt non-dischargeable under §523(a)(6). Even a showing that Defendant acted with extreme carelessness regarding the arrangements for the provision of water would not necessarily meet the high bar imposed by §523(a)(6).

Of particular relevance are the circumstances surrounding Defendant's termination of the GSWC account in January 2013. Did Defendant advise tenants at the Property that she would be closing the account? Did she attempt to make arrangements for another tenant to take over the account? Did she conduct any investigation into whether another tenant would or could open an account?

In conclusion, the Motion is DENIED for the reasons set forth above. The Court will enter an appropriate order.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Defendant's Motion in Limine 1 to Exclude all Evidence and Issues Not Disclosed or Raised in the Pre-Trial Order [Doc. No. 40] (the "Motion")
- 2) No Opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

The Complaint alleges that Wendy Tejada (the "Defendant") was the landlord of Sorayda Velasquez (the "Plaintiff") between September 2012 and February 2016. Complaint at ¶8. The gravamen of the Complaint is that Defendant purposefully disconnected Defendant's water service in order to induce the Defendant to vacate the property. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant's indebtedness is non-dischargeable pursuant to §523(a)(6).

On April 24, 2018, the Court entered a Pretrial Order setting forth the facts that are admitted, the facts that remain to be litigated, and the issues of law that remain to be litigated.

Defendant moves for an order excluding the presentation of any issues or evidence not set forth in the Pretrial Order. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Motion is GRANTED. The Court entered the Pretrial Order to narrow the issues and evidence to be presented at trial. The Pretrial Order provides that it "supersedes the pleadings and governs the course of trial of this cause, unless modified to prevent manifest injustice." Therefore, the parties will not be allowed to present any issues or evidence not set forth in the Pretrial Order.

#2.00 HearingRE: [9] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations REAL PROPERTY RE: 1102 North Langham Street, Covina, CA 91724 .

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Since a chapter 7 case does not contemplate reorganization, the sole issue before the Court when stay relief is sought under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) is whether the Debtor has equity in the property. See, e.g., Martens v. Countrywide Home Loans (In re Martens), 331 B.R. 395, 398 (8th Cir. BAP 2005); Ramco Indus. v. Preuss (In re Preuss), 15 B.R. 896, 897 (9th Cir. BAP 1981).

The subject property has a value of $503,370.00 and is encumbered by a perfected deed of trust or mortgage in favor of the Movant. The liens against the property and the expected costs of sale total $712,923.46. The Court finds there is no equity and there is no evidence that the trustee can administer the subject real property for the benefit of creditors.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the

#3.00 HearingRE: [21] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations PERSONAL PROPERTY RE: 2017 HONDA CIVIC, VIN: 19XF C1F3 5HE2 02344 .

Docket 21

Tentative Ruling:

5/4/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

The Court notes the "Reaffirmation Agreement" between the Debtor and the Movant filed on April 17, 2018 [Doc. No. 23], which is pending Court approval. However, the pending Reaffirmation Agreement is not cause for denying the Motion.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

#5.00 HearingRE: [8] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations UNLAWFUL DETAINER RE: 14919 Halldale Ave, Gardena CA 90247 . (Flanagan, James)

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set on a shortened notice in accordance with this Judge's procedures. Oppositions, if any, will be considered at the hearing.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on January 19, 2018.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of this bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

5/7/2018

Pursuant to the parties' request, a continued Status Conference shall be conducted on July 10, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. The litigation deadlines previously set by way of the Scheduling Order [Doc. No. 24] entered on March 9, 2018, shall remain unchanged.

The Court will enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

The Court has set litigation deadlines and has entered an order assigning this matter to mediation. The parties have requested that the Court set a continued status conference so that the parties may (1) update the Court on the status of the mediation and (2) request a continuance of litigation deadlines, if necessary. Accordingly, a continued Status Conference shall be held on May 8, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. The litigation deadlines set by the Court on December 11, 2017, see Doc. No. 20, shall remain in effect.

The Court will enter an appropriate order.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlager or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Pursuant to the parties' request, the Court will continue the litigation deadlines previously ordered by sixty days, as follows:

- 1) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties—which has already elapsed— is 3/15/2018.
- 2) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 5/29/2018.
- 3) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 6/28/2018.
- 4) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 7/17/2018. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest previous date which is available for self-calendaring.)

(If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest previous date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- 7) A Pretrial Conference is set for 8/14/2018 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- 8) As set forth in the in the scheduling order entered on December 11, 2017 [Doc. No. 21], Defendant is entitled to a jury trial. All proceedings through and including the Pretrial Conference will take place before the Bankruptcy Court. After the Pretrial Conference has been completed, this action will be transferred to the District Court, which will conduct the jury trial. See generally Sigma Micro Corp. v. Healthcentral.com (In re Healthcentral.com), 504 F.3d 775, 787–88 (9th Cir. 2007) (providing that where a right to a jury trial exists, the Bankruptcy Court retains jurisdiction to hear and determine all pretrial matters, and the action should be transferred to the District Court only once it has reached the trial stage).

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Crestalliance LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on November 22, 2017 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. On January 17, 2018, the Court entered the "Order Converting Case to Chapter 7" [Doc. No. 22]. David M. Goodrich accepted appointment as the Chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee") for the Debtor's bankruptcy case. On March 6, 2018, the Trustee filed the "Application to Employ Neiman Realty, Inc. as Real Estate Broker to Market and Sell Real Properties" [Doc. No. 33]. The Court entered the "Order Granting the Application to Employ Neiman Realty" on March 28, 2018 [Doc. No. 46].

The Motion

On April 4, 2018, the Trustee filed the "Motion for Order: Authorizing Sale of 592 East 6th Street, Azusa, CA 91702, Free and Clear of Liens, Claims, and Interests; (2) Approving Proposed Overbid Procedures; (3) Determining that Buyers are Good Faith Purchasers; (4) Authorizing Payment of Costs of Sale from Escrow; (5) Waiving the Fourteen Day Stay Prescribed by Rule 6004(h) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure" (the "Sale Motion") [Doc. No. 50]. The Debtor holds an interest in the real property located at 592 East 6th Street, Azusa, CA 91702 (the "Property"). See "Schedule A/B" [Doc. No. 10]. On February 22, 2018, Michael P. Spagnola and Dianna L. Spagnola (the "Buyers") submitted the "Purchase Agreement", see "Declaration of David M. Goodrich" ("Goodrich Decl.") [Doc. No. 50], Exhibit 1, to the Trustee whereby the Buyers have agreed to purchase the Property for the sum of $600,000.00, id. at ¶ 6. The Buyers' offer was the highest offer the Trustee has received. Id. The Trustee believes that the proposed sale of the Property will generate approximately $126,058.00 of net proceeds for the Estate. Id. at ¶ 8. Therefore, the Trustee seeks an order: (a) authorizing the sale of the Property to the Buyers free and clear of all liens, claims, and interests; (b) Approving Proposed Overbid Procedures; (c) Determining that Buyers are Good Faith Purchasers; (d) Authorizing Payment of Costs of Sale from Escrow; (e) Waiving the Fourteen Day Stay Prescribed by Rule 6004(h) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure. The key sale terms are as follows:

- 2) Property for Sale: 592 East 6th Street, Azusa, CA 91702;
- 3) Purchase price: $600,000.00;

Overbidders shall provide the Trustee with a cashier's check in the amount of $18,000.00, as well as evidence of the Overbidder's financial ability to pay the full amount of the Overbid.

The Response

On April 24, 2018, Deutsche Bank National Trust Company (the "Creditor"), which is beneficiary of the first deed of trust encumbering the Property, filed the Response to the Sale Motion (the "Response") [Doc. No. 62]. The Response states that the estimated payoff amount of the Creditor's lien as of April 24, 2018 is $447,966.41, which amount may not include interest and additional advances that may come due prior to the date of the proposed sale. The Creditor does not oppose the Sale Motion on the condition that the following provisions are included in the Order: (1) Creditor's Deed of Trust shall attach to the sale proceeds; (2) Creditor's Deed of Trust shall be paid in full from the sale proceeds through escrow; (3) in the event that the sale of the Property does not take place, Creditor shall retain its lien for the full amount due under the Note and Deed of Trust; (4) Creditor reserves the right to require an updated payoff demand prior to any close of escrow to ensure its claim is paid in full; and (5) Creditor's claim shall not be surcharged in any way with the costs of the sale or any other administrative claims, costs or expenses in connection with the sale of the Property.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 363(b) of the Bankruptcy Code permits the trustee to sell estate property outside the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The trustee must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20. Here, the Trustee articulates a sufficient business justification for the sale. The Trustee believes the proposed sale of the Property is in the best interest of the Estate because the sale will generate significant cash proceeds for the Estate. Additionally, the Trustee believes that the sale price is reasonable considering that, prior to the listing of the Property by the Trustee, the Debtor accepted an offer after marketing the Property in the amount of $595,000.00. Furthermore, the Trustee has made extensive efforts to market the Property. Additionally, the sale is subject to overbids, which allows any party wishing to purchase the Property at a higher price to do so. The purchase offer of $600,000.00 was obtained by the Trustee through arm's length negotiations.

Lastly, the Trustee has met the conditions for the sale of the Property free and clear of all liens. Section 363(f) permits a sale of property "free and clear of any interest in such property of an entity other than the estate" if any one of the following conditions is met:

- (1) applicable nonbankruptcy law permits the sale of such property free and clear of such interest;
- (2) such entity consents;
- (3) such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is to be sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;
- (4) such interest is in bona fide dispute; or
- (5) such entity could be compelled, in a legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a money satisfaction of such interest.

11 U.S.C. § 363(f). Here, the Court finds that the Sale Motion satisfies the requirements of §§ 363(f)(3). The price at which the Property will be sold ($600,000.00) is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on the Property ($426,357.00). Furthermore, the Sale Motion provides that the Creditor's lien will be paid in full from the sale proceeds. Lastly, the proposed Sale Order shall incorporate the conditional language set forth in the Creditor's Response regarding the Creditor's lien.

Auction Procedures

The Court will distribute numbered auction paddles to the proposed purchaser and all qualified overbidders. The initial overbid will be $10,000.00. Subsequent overbids will be increments of $1,000.00, with the increments subject to adjustment by the Court depending upon the bidding. The Court will announce each bid level. To remain in the auction, bidders must participate at all bid levels. That is, parties who do not bid in a round cannot later change their minds and re-enter the auction. Parties may make a bid higher than that announced by the Court by approaching the podium and stating their bid.

If a bidder other than the Buyers prevails at the auction, the Court will take testimony to determine whether that bidder is entitled to the protections of §363(m).

III. Conclusion

In conclusion, based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Trustee's Sale Motion in its entirety. The Court will conduct the auction in accordance with the procedures set forth above.

The Trustee shall submit an appropriate order within seven days of the hearing. The Order shall incorporate the conditional language set forth by the Creditor in the Response to the Sale Motion.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background

1. Sale of the Hotel

Crystal Waterfalls, LLC ("Crystal") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on November 19, 2015. Crystal's primary asset was a hotel property located at 1211 E. Garvey Street, Covina, CA (the "Hotel"). On December 2, 2016, the Court approved the sale of the Hotel for $22.6 million. Doc. No. 284. After payment of undisputed liens, taxes, and costs of sale, net proceeds to the estate were approximately $9.3 million.

2. HCL Complaint

On December 10, 2015, Crystal commenced an adversary proceeding against HCL 2011, LLC ("HCL") by filing a complaint alleging claims for relief for cancellation of written instrument, quiet title, and declaratory relief (the "HCL Complaint"). On January 22, 2018, the Court approved a settlement agreement resolving the HCL Complaint (the "HCL Settlement Agreement"). Pursuant to the terms of the HCL Settlement Agreement, Crystal has paid HCL $3.5 million on account of its allowed secured claim. On February 9, 2018, Crystal voluntarily dismissed the HCL Complaint.

3. Huesing Complaint

On July 29, 2016, Crystal commenced an adversary proceeding against Huesing Holdings, LLC ("Huesing") by filing a complaint alleging claims for relief for cancellation of written instrument, quiet title, avoidance of fraudulent transfer, and recovery of the avoided transfer (the "Huesing Complaint"). On December 22, 2017, the Court approved a settlement of the Huesing Complaint entered into among Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty"), the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors for Liberty Asset Management Corporation (the "Liberty Committee"), and Crystal (the "Huesing Settlement"). Doc. Nos. 449–450. Pursuant to the Huesing Settlement, Crystal has paid Huesing $2.65 million on account of Huesing's allowed secured claim. On January 30, 2018, Crystal and Huesing stipulated to the dismissal of the Huesing Complaint.

4. Liberty Complaint

On March 22, 2016, Liberty filed a complaint against Crystal (the "Liberty Complaint"). The Liberty Complaint alleges, among other things, that Liberty is the sole equity holder in Crystal, and that Lucy Gao and Golden Bay Investments, LLC, hold no equity interests in Crystal. On August 10, 2016, the Liberty Committee was granted derivative standing to prosecute the Liberty Complaint on behalf of Liberty's estate. Doc. No. 177, Case No. 2:16-bk-13575-ER. On February 27, 2017, Crystal and the Liberty Committee filed a stipulation requesting a continuance of the litigation deadlines governing the Liberty Complaint (the "Stipulation"). In support of the Stipulation, the parties represented that Crystal intended to propose a plan of reorganization providing that all of Crystal's equity belonged to Liberty, and that such a plan would likely resolve the Liberty Complaint. On February 28, 2017, the Court entered an order approving the Stipulation and continuing the Pretrial Conference to September 12, 2017. Doc. No. 24, Adv. No. 2:16-ap-01145-ER. The Court subsequently entered additional orders providing for further continuances of the Pretrial Conference, pending resolution of Crystal's Chapter 11 case. Doc. Nos. 24, 26, and 28, Adv. No. 2:16-ap-01145-ER. The Pretrial Conference is currently scheduled for July 17, 2018, at 11:00 a.m.

5. B3 Proof of Claim

On October 31, 2016, B3 Capital Venture, LLC ("B3") filed a Proof of Claim (the "B3 Proof of Claim"). On February 16, 2017, the Court entered a Memorandum of Decision and accompanying Order, finding that B3 held an allowed secured claim in the amount of $8,622,769.67. Doc. Nos. 352-53. On March 27, 2017, the Court entered a Memorandum of Decision and accompanying Order denying B3's motion for reconsideration of the order setting the allowed amount of B3's claim at $8,622,769.67. Doc. Nos. 365-66 (the orders determining the allowed amount of B3's claim and denying B3's motion for reconsideration, the "B3 Claim Orders"). B3 appealed the B3 Claim Orders to the District Court. On October 20, 2017, the District Court affirmed the B3 Claim Orders. B3's appeal of the District Court's affirmance is currently pending before the Ninth Circuit. Briefing on the appeal is scheduled to be completed in June 2018. Crystal has paid B3 the entire balance of its allowed claim, in the amount of $8,622,769.67.

Chapter 11

On May 19, 2017, the Court denied Crystal's motion to use a portion of the net sales proceeds of the Hotel to pay creditors of Sequoia Hospitality F&B, Inc. ("Sequoia"). Lucy Gao, Crystal's principal, is also the principal of Sequoia. Crystal argued that Sequoia was entitled to a $170,000 early termination fee (the "Termination Fee") based upon Crystal's early termination of a lease executed between Crystal and Sequoia. Crystal sought authorization to pay Sequoia's creditors $106,181.08, based upon Sequoia's alleged entitlement to the Termination Fee. The Liberty Committee and HCL opposed the motion, arguing that the lease giving rise to the Termination Fee was invalid and that the Termination Fee was an improper attempt by Ms. Gao to use estate funds to pay the creditors of Sequoia, another entity which she controlled.

The Court denied the motion, concluding that the Termination Fee was not negotiated at arms-length and amounted to an improper attempt by Ms. Gao to divert funds from Crystal's creditors to creditors of Sequoia. The Court explained:

The purported Restaurant Lease, the breach of which furnishes the justification for the Termination Fee, was not negotiated at arms-length either; Sequoia never paid the [Crystal] any rent on account of the lease. Even if Sequoia was damaged by the [Crystal's] rejection of the lease (a finding the Court does not make), Sequoia would not be entitled to the Termination Fee, because its damages would be offset by the fact that it was never required to pay rent under the purported Restaurant Lease.

The Court will not permit the [Crystal] to use estate property in a manner that does not benefit the estate and creditors. The Termination Fee provides no benefit to the estate. Sequoia has failed to timely file a claim for damages in connection with rejection of the lease. Accordingly, any claim by Sequoia for § 365(g) rejection damages is barred. Since the estate has no liability to Sequoia on account of the lease's rejection, the estate would derive no benefit from paying the Termination Fee. Only Sequoia and Ms. Gao, who collusively negotiated the Termination Fee, would benefit from its payment.

Crystal moves for a structured dismissal of its Chapter 11 case. Approximately $5.5 million remains in the estate. Crystal proposes to pay in full creditors who have filed proofs of claim, whose claims have not already been paid or settled. Claims in the total amount of $1,509,104.35 will be paid, comprised of $274,248.35 in payments to unsecured creditors and $1,234,856 in payments on account of postpetition taxes. The foregoing figures do not include professional fees. Crystal proposes to establish a reserve in the amount of $3 million, to be held in the trust account of Crystal's counsel, for the purposes of (1) satisfying any additional sums that may be owed to B3 in the event that B3 prevails upon its appeal and (2) satisfying any additional legal fees incurred by Crystal in connection with B3's appeal. Crystal also seeks authorization to pay creditors of Sequoia $65,618.63.

Crystal asserts that the proposed structured dismissal is consistent with the priority scheme of the Bankruptcy Code, given that creditors are being paid in full. Crystal further asserts that a structured dismissal will be more cost effective than a Plan of Liquidation.

Crystal's general bankruptcy counsel, Landsberg Law, and its accounting firm, Grobstein Teeple, seek approval of professional fees on a final basis. By way of its Third and Final Fee Application, Landsberg Law seeks fees and expenses of $278,669.93. Landsberg Law also seeks final approval of fees previously awarded on an interim basis. On June 29, 2016, the Court approved Landsberg Law's First Interim Fee Application and awarded fees and expenses in the amount of $122,510.84. Doc. No. 152. On January 12, 2017, the Court approved Landsberg Law's Second Interim Fee Application and awarded fees and expenses in the amount of $189,681.01. Doc. No. 319.

By way of its First and Final Application for Compensation, Grobstein Teeple seeks fees in the amount of $30,971.00. Grobstein Teeple does not seek expenses.

C. Responses and Limited Oppositions to the Motion for a Structured Dismissal

The Liberty Committee does not oppose the proposed structured dismissal, provided that certain provisions are included in the order approving the motion (the "Approval Order"). The Liberty Committee states that it has been negotiating with Crystal on the terms of the Approval Order and anticipates resolving any disputed issues prior to the hearing. The Liberty Committee asserts that the Approval Order must contain the provisions stating the following:

- 1) Membership Interests. Liberty is the beneficial owner of the membership interests in Crystal, and Gao and Golden Bay relinquish any and all right, title, and/or interests they may have in Crystal. One hundred percent of the membership interests in Crystal are beneficially vested in Liberty.

- 2) Reserve Fund. The Reserve Fund shall be funded in the amount of $3 million and shall be maintained in the client trust account of Landsberg Law. All distributions from the Reserve Fund shall be authorized and overseen by the Disbursing Agent. Howard Grobstein of Grobstein Teeple LLP shall be appointed as the Disbursing Agent. The Reserve Fund shall be used to pay the following:
 - a) Amounts owing to B3, if any.
 - b) Professional fees and expenses relating to B3's appeal of the B3 Claim Orders.
 - c) Professional fees and expenses related to the closing of the bankruptcy case and the winding up of Crystal's affairs.
 - d) Sums owing on account of Crystal's final tax returns.
 - e) Fees and expenses of the Disbursing Agent.
 - f) Fees owed to the United States Trustee.
 - g) Professional fees owed to Grobstein Teeple as Crystal's financial advisors.
- 3) Payment of Claims. The Disbursing Agent shall pay creditors within thirty days of entry of the Approval Order. The Disbursing Agent shall also pay the claims of Sequoia's creditors, in the total amount of $65,618.63, within thirty days of entry of the Approval Order.
- 4) Residual Proceeds. All residual proceeds shall be distributed to Liberty.
- 5) Insiders. Neither Crystal nor the Disbursing Agent shall make any payments to or for the benefit of Lucy Gao, Benjamin Kirk, Shelby Ho, Golden Bay, or any person or entity affiliated with them.
- 6) Conditions to Dismissal. Crystal's case shall not be dismissed unless all of the following conditions have been satisfied:
 - a) The Approval Order has been entered in a form acceptable to the Liberty Committee.
 - b) The Disbursing Agent has paid all claims and has provided proof of payment to the Court and to the Liberty Committee.
 - c) Crystal has funded the Reserve Fund with $3 million and has provided proof of funding to the Court and the Liberty Committee.
 - d) Crystal has paid all fees owed to the United State Trustee.
 - e) Crystal has made an initial distribution to Liberty or the Liberty Committee.

Chapter 11

The United States Trustee (the "UST") filed a Limited Opposition to Crystal's motion for a structured dismissal. The UST does not oppose the proposed structured dismissal, but requests that the dismissal order be condition upon the full payment of all outstanding quarterly fees.

B3 filed a statement indicating that it does not oppose the proposed structured dismissal, provided that the Court retains jurisdiction with respect to issues arising from B3's appeal of the B3 Claim Orders.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. Motion for a Structured Dismissal

Pursuant to §349, a dismissal of a Chapter 11 case typically "revests the property of the estate in the entity in which such property was vested immediately before the commencement of the case." In other words, a dismissal aims to re-establish the prepetition financial status quo. However, §349(b) permits the Court to alter the effect of a dismissal "cause." As the Supreme Court has explained:

A dismissal that does so (or which has other special conditions attached) is often referred to as a "structured dismissal," defined by the American Bankruptcy Institute as a "hybrid dismissal and confirmation order ... that ... typically dismisses the case while, among other things, approving certain distributions to creditors, granting certain third-party releases, enjoining certain conduct by creditors, and not necessarily vacating orders or unwinding transactions undertaken during the case."

Although the Code does not expressly mention structured dismissals, they "appear to be increasingly common."

Czyzewski v. Jevic Holding Corp., 137 S. Ct. 973, 979, 197 L. Ed. 2d 398 (2017).

A bankruptcy court cannot approve a structured dismissal "that provides for distributions that do not follow ordinary priority rules without the affected creditors' consent." Id. at 983.

Here, the proposed structured dismissal does not violate the Bankruptcy Code's priority scheme, because creditors who have filed proofs of claim are being paid in full. In addition, no creditors have objected to the terms of the contemplated structured dismissal. Consequently, approval of the structured dismissal does not run afoul of Jevic. In view of the absence of objections and the support of the Liberty Committee, the Court will approve the proposed structured dismissal.

The Court previously denied Crystal's motion to pay creditors of Sequoia. At that time, both the Liberty Committee and HCL 2011 opposed payment of Sequoia's creditors. The Liberty Committee and HCL 2011 have both withdrawn their opposition to such payment. Liberty—whom the Liberty Committee represents—holds all equity interests in Crystal. Since Liberty, in its capacity as the holder of Crystal's equity, is the entity entitled to receive the proceeds that will be paid to Sequoia's creditors, Liberty may consent to payment of such proceeds to Sequoia's creditors. The Court will approve the payment of $65,618.63 to Sequoia's creditors.

The Court notes that Crystal does not propose to pay anything to Sandy Murchison. In its Amended Schedule F filed on March 18, 2016 [Doc. No. 85], Crystal scheduled Ms. Murchison as an unsecured creditor holding a claim on account of a lawsuit in the amount of $18,750. Crystal did not schedule Ms. Murchison's claim as contingent, unliquidated, or disputed. Consequently, Ms. Murchison was not required to file a Proof of Claim in order for her claim to be deemed allowed. See Bankruptcy Rule 3003(b) ("The schedule of liabilities filed pursuant to §521(l) of the Code shall constitute prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claims of creditors, unless they are scheduled as disputed, contingent, or unliquidated."). Therefore, notwithstanding the fact that Ms. Murchison did not file a Proof of Claim, she holds an allowed unsecured claim against the estate in the amount of $18,750. The Court holds that Crystal must pay Ms. Murchison this amount at the same time it distributes funds to unsecured creditors who filed proofs of claim.

The provisions which the Liberty Committee asserts should be included in the Approval Order are appropriate. The following procedures shall apply to entry of the Approval Order:

- 1) Crystal and the Liberty Committee shall continue to negotiate in good faith to settle the final terms of the Approval Order. Upon settlement of the form of the order, counsel for the Liberty Committee shall endorse the proposed Approval Order as to form pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9021-1(b)(3)(C). The Court anticipates that it will be possible for the parties to agree upon the final terms of the Approval Order. In the event that such agreement cannot be reached, objections to the Approval Order may be filed consistent with the procedures set forth in LBR 9021-1(b)(3)(B).

- 2) Promptly upon Crystal's payment of outstanding quarterly fees, the UST shall file a declaration indicating that quarterly fees are current. The Court will not enter the Approval Order absent such a declaration.
- 3) The case will not be dismissed until all the conditions precedent to dismissal that are set forth in the Liberty Committee's Limited Opposition at ¶8 have been satisfied. Once these conditions have been satisfied, the Liberty Committee shall file a declaration to that effect, accompanied by a proposed order dismissing the case.

B. Professional Fees

Section 330(a)(1) allows the Court to award "reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered" by a professional. In determining the amount of compensation to award, the Court considers the nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

- (A) the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;
- (C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;
- (D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;
- (E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field; and
- (F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation charged by comparably skilled practitioners in cases other than cases under this title.

§330(a)(3).

Having reviewed the Third and Final Fee Application filed by Landsberg Law, APC, the Court awards the following fees and expenses:

Chapter 11

Expenses: $969.93

In addition, the Court confirms as final the interim fees and expenses previously awarded.

Grobstein Teeple did not provide proper notice of its First and Final Application for Compensation. First, Grobstein Teeple did not provide 21 days' notice of its fee application, as required by Bankruptcy Rule 2002(a)(6). Grobstein Teeple did not file its fee application until April 25, 2018; to have been timely, the fee application should have been filed by no later than April 19, 2018. Second, Grobstein Teeple failed to provide notice of its fee application to all parties entitled to notice thereof. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 2002(a)(6), "all creditors" must receive notice of a request for compensation in excess of $1,000. Here, Grobstein provided notice only to those creditors who receive electronic notice of matters filed in this case.

Notwithstanding these notice deficiencies, the Court will consider Grobstein's fee application at this hearing. Crystal's motion for a structured dismissal was served upon all creditors. That motion advised creditors that Grobstein Teeple would be seeking allowance of its fees. Thus, creditors were aware of Grobstein's fee application. Although Grobstein filed its fee application six days late, the fee application was filed fifteen days prior to this hearing. Creditors have had sufficient time to file an objection and have not done so.

Having reviewed Grobstein's fee application, the Court awards the following fees on a final basis (Grobstein does not seek expenses):

Fees: $30,971.00

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, Crystal's motion for a structured dismissal is GRANTED. The fee applications of Crystal's professionals—Landsberg Law, APC and Grobstein Teeple—are GRANTED. The order on the motion for a structured dismissal shall be submitted in accordance with the procedures set forth above. The orders on the fee applications shall be submitted by the respective fee applicants within seven days of the hearing.

#1.00 HearingRE: [7] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations PERSONAL PROPERTY RE: 2017 HONDA ACCORD, VIN: 1HGC R2F1 2HA1 43070 .

Docket 7

Tentative Ruling:

5/10/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

5/14/2018

Plaintiff commenced this action on December 15, 2016. On January 3, 2018, this action was reassigned from the Hon. Deborah J. Saltzman to the undersigned Judge. The Court set a Status Conference for February 21, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. On February 7, 2018, the Court approved the parties' stipulation to continue the Status Conference to May 15, 2018. The parties represented that they were engaged in settlement negotiations and stated that they needed additional time to see if they could reach a settlement agreement.

On May 2, 2018, the Court issued an Order to Comply with Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1 Re: Status Conference [Doc. No. 28] (the "Order to Comply"), based upon the parties' failure to timely file a Joint Status Report as ordered by the Court. In response to the Order to Comply, the parties filed a Joint Status Report, as well as a stipulation seeking a further continuance of the Status Conference. See Doc. No. 30 (the "Stipulation"). In the Stipulation, the parties again represented that they were continuing to discuss settlement and need additional time to see if they can reach an agreement.

On May 7, 2018, the Court entered an Order Disapproving Stipulation for Further Continuance of Status Conference [Doc. No. 32]. The Court explained:

The parties have failed to establish that they are making significant progress toward settlement. Absent such a showing, a further continuance of the Status Conference will result only in additional delay. The Court is obligated to ensure the speedy determination of every action.

In the Court's experience, settlements are most likely to be achieved against the backdrop of litigation deadlines. Therefore, having reviewed the Joint Status Report filed by the parties, the Court HEREBY ORDERS as follows:

- 1) The following dates shall apply to this action:
 - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 6/14/2018.
 - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 8/28/2018.
 - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 9/27/2018.
 - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 10/16/2018. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 10/23/2018. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 10/27/2018. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 11/13/2018 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
 - h) Trial is set for the week of 11/26/2018. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference.

Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.

- 2) The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

The Court will enter a Scheduling Order. Plaintiff shall submit the order assigning this matter to mediation within fifteen days of the hearing, as set forth in ¶2, above.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Docket 34

Tentative Ruling:

5/14/2018

The UST's motion—which seeks a 90-day extension of the UST's deadline to object to the Debtor's discharge and/or to file a motion to dismiss the case—is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion of the United States Trustee for Extension of Deadline Date for Filing a Motion to Dismiss Under 11 U.S.C. §707(b)(3) and a Complaint Objecting to the Debtor's Discharge Under 11 U.S.C. §727 by the United States Trustee Only [Doc. No. 34] (the "Motion")
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Rafik Madadian (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 case on January 4, 2018. The United States Trustee (the "UST") requests a 90-day extension of the deadline for filing a motion to dismiss under §707(b)(3) and/or a complaint objecting to the Debtor's discharge under §727. The UST states that it needs additional time to obtain documents pertaining to the Debtor's financial affairs and to conduct a Bankruptcy Rule 2004 examination of the Debtor. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 4004(a) requires that a complaint objecting to a debtor's discharge be filed within 60 days after the first date set for the §341(a) meeting of creditors. Bankruptcy Rule 4004(b) provides that the deadline may be extended "for cause," provided that the motion for an extension is filed before the deadline has expired.

Here, the UST has shown cause for a 90-day extension of the deadline. The UST requires additional time to investigate the Debtor's financial affairs and to conduct a Bankruptcy Rule 2004 examination of the Debtor.

The Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. As to the UST only, the deadline to object to the Debtor's discharge and/or to file a motion to dismiss the case under §707 (b)(3) is extended to and including July 16, 2018.

The UST shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

5/14/2018

The Court GRANTS the United States Trustee's Motion in its entirety. Dismissal of the case serves the best interest of creditors and the estate. The case is dismissed with a 180-day re-filing bar, judgment is entered in favor of the Trustee for unpaid quarterly fees, and the Debtor is ordered to pay the unpaid quarterly fees to the Trustee.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Motion Under 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(1) to Convert, Dismiss or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee with an Order Directing Payment of Quarterly Fees and For Judgment Thereon ("Motion") [Doc. No. 13]
 - a) Declaration of Maria A. Ramos in Support of the Motion [Doc. No. 13]
- 2) No opposition filed as of the date of this tentative ruling

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Avelina Conde Castillo (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on February 27, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Petition was deficient of a number of required documents and disclosures.

The Motion

The United States Trustee ("UST") filed the "Motion Under 11 U.S.C. § 1112 (b)(1) to Convert, Dismiss or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee with an Order Directing Payment of Quarterly Fees and For Judgment Thereon" (the "Motion") [Doc. Based on a review of the Debtor's Schedules, the UST believes that dismissal is in the best interest of creditors because it appears that there are no unencumbered assets that a trustee can readily administer in a Chapter 7 case. Additionally, this is the eighth bankruptcy filing between the Debtor and her spouse. See Declaration of Maria A. Ramos ("Ramos Decl.") [Doc. No. 13] at 6. Based on this, the UST believes it is in the best interest of creditors to dismiss the case with a 180-day re-filing bar. The UST requests that if the case is dismissed, the Court order the Debtor to pay any quarterly fees due to the UST and enter judgement in favor of the UST for any such fees. Alternatively, the UST requests that the Court set deadlines for the Debtor to file a disclosure statement and plan, to obtain court approval of the adequacy of information in the disclosure statement, and to obtain court confirmation of a plan of reorganization at that the Court order that the Debtor remain in full and timely compliance with the UST requirements.

chapter 7 upon a showing of "cause." Section 1112(b)(4) provides a nonexclusive list of factors that constitute "cause," including: "(C) failure to maintain appropriate insurance that poses a risk to the estate or to the public;" "(F) unexcused failure to satisfy timely any filing or reporting requirement established by this title or by any rule applicable to a case under this chapter;" "(H) failure timely to provide information or attend meetings reasonably requested by the United States trustee (or the bankruptcy administrator, if any);" "(I) failure timely to pay taxes owed after the date of the order for relief or to file tax returns due after the date of the order for relief;" "(J) failure to file a disclosure statement, or to file or confirm a plan, within the time fixed by this title or by order of the court;" and "(K) failure to pay any fees or charges required under chapter 123 of title 28." 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(4). Here, the Court finds sufficient "cause" for dismissal or conversion of the Debtor's case pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b). The Debtor has, among other things, failed to provide multiple required documents and disclosures and has failed to pay quarterly fees to the UST as described above.

Having determined that cause exists, the Court must next determine whether dismissal or conversion serves the best interests of creditors or the estate. See In re Products Int'l Co., 395 B.R. 101, 107 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2008) (citing In re Nelson, 343 B.R. 671 (9th Cir. 2006)). "[W]hen deciding between dismissal and conversion under 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b), the court must consider the interests of all of the creditors." Shulkin Hutton, Inc. v. Treiger (In re Owens), 552 F.3d 958, 961 (9th Cir. 2009) (emphasis in original) (quoting Rollex Corp. v. Associated Materials, Inc. (In re Superior Siding & Window, Inc.), 14 F.3d 240, 243 (4th Cir. 1994)). Here, dismissal of the case serves the best interest of creditors and the estate. The Debtor is a repeat filer and has, in the past, failed to follow through with the bankruptcy case. Additionally, the Debtor's schedules do not list any meaningful assets which could be readily administered by the trustee in a Chapter 7 case.

III. Conclusion

In conclusion, the Court GRANTS the United States Trustee's Motion in its entirety. Dismissal of the case serves the best interest of creditors and the estate. The case is dismissed with a 180-day filing bar, judgment is entered in favor of the Trustee for unpaid quarterly fees, and the Debtor is ordered to pay the unpaid quarterly fees to the Trustee.

9, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor's Schedules D, E, and F indicate that the Debtor's debts are primarily consumer debts. The Debtor's nonpriority unsecured debt totals $24,950.00. In the period six months preceding the Petition, the Debtor previously filed a Chapter 13 petition on September 26, 2017, Case No. 2:17-bk-21770-VZ (the "Chapter 13 Case"). The Debtor's Chapter 13 Case was dismissed on February 6, 2018 based on, among other things, the Debtor's failure to comply with the Chapter 13 filing requirements. See Chapter 13 Case, Doc. Nos. 24 and 26.

The Motion

On April 17, 2018, the United States Trustee ("UST") filed the "United States Trustee's Notice of Motion and Motion to Dismiss Chapter 7 Case Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(1), (b)(2), and (3)(B) and Contingent Motion to Extend Bar Date for Filing Complaint under 11 U.S.C. § 727 Objecting to Debtor's Discharge" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 20]. The Motion seeks dismissal of the Debtor's case under § 707(b)(2). The UST contends that the presumption of abuse under § 707(b)(2) arises in this case because the UST's investigation of the Debtor's case revealed that the Debtor understated her household income for the purposes of the Means Test. The Debtor's "Amended Statement of Current Monthly Income and Means Test Calculation" ("Form 22A") filed on February 28, 2018, see Doc. No. 10, states that the Debtor's annualized Current Monthly Income ("CMI") is $61,332.00. Form 22A [Doc. No. 10]; see also "Request for Judicial Notice in Support of the Motion" ("RJN") [Doc. No. 21], Ex. 1 & Ex. 2. Based on its investigation, however, the UST contends the correct amount of $113,951.52 represents the Debtor's annualized Current Income during the six month "look back" period. The UST further contends that the Debtor's annualized CMI exceeds the applicable state median family income for the Debtor's family size. The UST argues that dismissal is warranted based on the presumption of abuse under § 707(b)(2) because, according to the UST's calculations, the Debtor has $1,660.51 in monthly disposable income after allowed deductions, equaling $99,630.60 of disposable income over a five year period, which is sufficient to repay in full the Debtor's scheduled unsecured debt in the amount of $24,950.00. The UST further argues that even if the Court does not find that the §707(b) presumption of abuse arises in this case, the Debtor's case should be dismissed pursuant to §707(b)(3)(B), because the totality of the circumstances of the Debtor's financial situation demonstrates abuse. Such abuse is demonstrated, the UST asserts, based on the Debtor's ability to repay a substantial amount of their unsecured debt.

Chapter 7

No Opposition to the Motion

As of the date of this tentative ruling, no opposition to the Motion has been filed.

The Debtor's Motion to Convert to Chapter 13

Subsequent to the filing of the Motion by the UST, on May 9, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Motion to Convert Case from Chapter 7 to 13" (the "Motion to Convert") [Doc. No. 25]. The Debtor alleges that the case has not been previously converted, and that the Debtor is eligible for relief under Chapter 13.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

This Court has explained the function and purpose of the Means Test as follows:

Among the significant changes effected by the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005 ("BAPCPA") was the introduction of the § 707(b)(2) Means Test. Designed to ferret out abusive bankruptcy petitions, the Means Test creates a "presumption of abuse" if the debtor's Current Monthly Income (CMI)—as determined by a detailed statutory formula—is above a certain amount. Debtors unable to rebut the presumption of abuse may have their cases dismissed or be required to fund a Chapter 13 plan. However, even debtors who survive the Means Test may see their cases dismissed pursuant to § 707(b)(3)(B), which permits the Court to dismiss a case if "the totality of the circumstances . . . of the debtor's financial situation demonstrates abuse."

In re Jensen, 407 B.R. 378, 380–81 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2009).

CMI for purposes of the Means Test calculation is defined as the "average monthly income from all sources that the debtor receives . . . during the 6-month period ending on the last day of the calendar month immediately preceding the date of the commencement of the case . . ." § 101(10A).

The Debtor's CMI and Monthly Expenses

According to the Debtor's Form 22A [Doc. No. 10], the Debtor states that her CMI is $61,332.00. The UST contends that the Debtor understated her CMI on Form

Chapter 7

22A, and that the correct amount is $113,951.52. Having considered the Motion and the evidence submitted by the UST in support of the Motion, and having received no opposition to the Motion, the Court finds that the Debtor's CMI is $113,951.52. The UST's calculation accurately reflects the Debtor's CMI. The UST's calculation of the Debtor's CMI is based on copies of the Debtor's payroll records provided by the Debtor to the UST for the "look-back" period under the Means Test. See "Declaration of Wendy Carole Sadovnick" ("Sadovnick Decl.") [Doc. No. 20] at ¶¶ 2-4; see also id. at Ex. 4.

The Court further finds that the UST's calculations of the Debtor's monthly expenses, to which the Debtor has not filed an objection, are accurate and are supported by the evidence in the record.

The Means Test Calculation

Based on the findings set forth above, the presumption of abuse arises. The Debtor's CMI is $113,951.52. The Debtor's total allowable monthly expenses are $7,835.45. That leaves the Debtor with monthly disposable income of $1,660.51, or disposable income over a 60-month period of $99,630.60. The Debtor's disposable income far exceeds the $12,850 threshold triggering the presumption of abuse under § 707(b)(2)(A)(i)(II).

The Debtor has Failed to Rebut the Presumption of Abuse

Section 707(b)(2)(B)(i) provides that the presumption of abuse may be rebutted by "demonstrating special circumstances, such as a serious medical condition or a call or order to active duty in the Armed Forces, to the extent such special circumstances . . . justify additional expenses or adjustments of current monthly income for which there is no reasonable alternative." To establish special circumstances, the Debtor must itemize each additional expense and provide "a detailed explanation of the special circumstances that make such expenses or adjustment to income necessary and reasonable." § 707(b)(2)(B)(ii).

The Debtor did not file an opposition to the Motion; therefore, the Debtor has failed to rebut the presumption of abuse.

Because the Court finds that the presumption of abuse arises under § 707(b) and has not been rebutted, the Court does not consider the UST's argument in the alternative that the case should be dismissed pursuant to § 707(b)(3)(B).

The Debtor Has Consented to Conversion to Chapter 13

Where the §707(b) presumption of abuse arises and has not been rebutted, the Court must dismiss the case, unless the Debtor consents to conversion to Chapter 13. § 707(b)(1). The UST states that the Motion seeks only dismissal, not conversion. However, § 707(b)(1) expressly provides the Debtor the option to convert to Chapter 13 if the Court finds that relief under Chapter 7 would be abusive. Therefore, based on the Debtor's Motion to Convert, which the Court construes as the Debtor's election to convert the case to Chapter 13, the case will be converted to Chapter 13. However, because the Debtor filed a previous chapter 13 which was dismissed, her right to convert this case should not be unfettered.

Debtor can convert this case to chapter 13, however the order entered in pursuant to this motion will prohibit the Debtor from subsequently reconverting this case to chapter 7 or 11, or from filing a new case in any chapter for 180-days if she fails to confirm a chapter 13 plan in this case.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the UST's Motion is GRANTED under 11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(1) and, having considered the Debtor's Motion to Convert, pursuant to § 707(b)(1) the Debtors case shall be converted from Chapter 7 to Chapter 13. If the Debtor fails to confirm a Chapter 13 plan, the Debtor's case will be dismissed with a 180-day bar to refile pursuant to the order on this Motion.

The UST shall lodge a conforming order within seven (7) days of the hearing.

Appearances for this judgment debtor examination are required.

The Judgment Creditor has not served the Order to Appear for Examination (the "ORAP") upon Diana Avanesova aka Diana Avanesian (the "Judgment Debtor") in accordance with the requirements of Cal. Civ. Proc. §708.110(d). The Proof of Service states that the ORAP was served via Federal Express. Cal. Civ. Proc. § 708.110(d) requires that an ORAP be personally served upon the judgment debtor.

In addition, the Proof of Service states that the ORAP was served upon the Law Office of Vahe Hovanessian. The Judgment Creditor has not presented any evidence establishing that Mr. Hovanessian is representing the Judgment Debtor. Even if Mr. Hovanessian were representing the Judgment Debtor, the Judgment Creditor is still required to personally serve the ORAP upon the Judgment Debtor.

If the Judgment Debtor does not appear, a second ORAP must be lodged for signature and properly served.

#3.00 APPLICANT: Trustee - Elissa D. Miller

Hearing re [149] and [150] Trustee's Final Report and Applications for Compensation

Docket 0

Tentative Ruling:

5/15/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Debtor's objection to the Trustee's Final Report is OVERRULED. The Court APPROVES the fees and expenses, and payment, as requested by the Trustee, as follows :

Total Fees: $6,500.00

Total Expenses: $510.90

Charges, U.S. Bankruptcy Court: $350.00

International Sureties: all amounts previously paid to this applicant are approved on a final basis.

The Debtor's Objection

On May 2, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Objection to Professional Fees" (the "Objection") [Doc. No. 153]. The Objection contends that disbursement proposed to the Debtor's creditors is unfair.

The Debtor's Objection is OVERRULED. First, the Court finds that the Debtor lacks standing to object to the Trustee's Final Report. Generally, a Chapter 7 debtor does not have standing to object to the Trustee's proposed distributions unless there is a sufficient possibility of a surplus to give the Chapter 7 debtor a pecuniary interest in the distribution of assets of the estate. See Heath v. Am. Express Travel Related Servs. Co. (In re Heath), 331 B.R. 424, 429 (9th Cir. BAP 2005); In re Lona, 393 B.R. 1, 4 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2008); Willard v. O'Neil (In re Willard), 240 B.R. 664, 668 (Bankr.D.Conn.1999). Here, the Court finds that there is no possibility of a surplus; therefore, the Debtor does not have standing to object.

Additionally, the Court notes that the professional fees to which the Debtor objects were incurred primarily as a result of the Debtor's actions; specifically, the Debtor's failure to disclose valuable assets and failure to cooperate in discovery.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. To submit on the tentative ruling contact Daniel Koontz or Cameron Schlagel, the Judge's law clerks, at 213-894-1522.

#11.00 Show Cause Hearing re [19] Order Requiring Debtor To Appear And Show Cause Why Case Should Not Be Dismissed Because Of Debtor's Failure To Pay The Filing Fee In Installments.

Docket 0

Tentative Ruling:

5/15/2018

The case is dismissed based on the Debtor's failure to pay the filing fee as ordered by the Court. Fees are delinquent in the amount of $105.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Order on the Application to Have the Chapter 7 Filing Fee Waived (the "Fee Installment Order") [Doc. No. 7]
- 2) Order Requiring Debtor to Appear and Show Cause Why Case Should Not be Dismissed Because of Debtor's Failure to Pay the Filing Fee in Installments [Doc. No. 10] (the "First OSC")

Chapter 7

See Fee Installment Order.

The Debtor made the first installment payment by the deadline set forth in the Fee Installment Order. On December 28, 2017, the Court issued an order requiring the Debtor to show cause why the case should not be dismissed, based on the Debtor's failure to timely make the second installment payment (the "First OSC"). See Doc. No. 10. On January 8, 2018, the Debtor paid the second and third installment payments. The Court subsequently discharged the First OSC. See Doc. No. 16.

Based on the Debtor's failure to timely make the final installment payment, the Court issued a second order requiring the Debtor to show cause why the case should not be dismissed (the "Second OSC"). See Doc. No. 19. The Second OSC ordered the Debtor to make the final installment payment by no later than one week prior to the hearing. The Debtor has not made the delinquent payment and has not responded to the Second OSC.

Bankruptcy Rule 1017(b)(1) provides: "If any installment of the filing fee has not been paid, the court may, after a hearing on notice to the debtor and the trustee, dismiss the case."

The Debtor's case is dismissed based on the Debtor's failure to comply with the Court's Fee Installment Order and the Second OSC. The Court will enter an order dismissing the case.

Chapter 11

On March 23, 2018, the Court issued an order finding that the Disclosure Statement filed in connection with the Debtor's Chapter 11 Plan did not contain adequate information. See Doc. No. 173. On April 9, 2018, the Debtor filed an Amended Chapter 11 Plan (the "Plan") and an Amended Disclosure Statement (the "Disclosure Statement"). See Doc. Nos. 177–78.

The Debtor's Motion for Approval of the Disclosure Statement, the Oppositions of the IRS and SLS, and the Debtor's Replies in Support of the Motion

The Debtor seeks approval of the Disclosure Statement. The IRS filed an opposition asserting that the Disclosure Statement fails to contain adequate information. Although the Debtor has not yet filed a motion seeking confirmation of the Plan, SLS filed an objection to plan confirmation.

The Plan provides two options for payment of the largest remaining claims—the secured claim of SLS in the amount of $1,648,975.29, and the priority secured claim of the IRS in the amount of $152,073.43. Option One is that the Debtor will make monthly payments over five years on account of both claims. Option Two is that the Debtor will pay the claims in full from funds on deposit in the Court's registry upon confirmation of the Plan.

Both the IRS and SLS object to Option One (the payment of their claims over a period of five years). IRS and SLS assert that their claims must be paid in full upon confirmation of the Plan, pursuant to Option Two. In reply to these objections, the Debtor states that he will defer to the discretion of the Court and will likely accept an order of the Court requiring payment of the claims of the IRS and SLS upon confirmation, provided that the balance remaining in the registry after payment to all creditors is distributed to the Debtor.

In addition, the IRS asserts that the Disclosure Statement does not contain adequate information because it does not discuss the tax consequences of the sale of the Residence, and does not discuss how the Debtor intends to pay the IRS' administrative tax claim. In reply, the Debtor contends that the tax issues pertaining to the sale of the Residence "are irrelevant to the issue of whether the ... Plan should be confirmed," and that even if the issue is relevant, the tax consequences from the sale are likely to be minimal. See Doc. No. 184 at p. 5.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 1125 provides that a disclosure statement must contain "information of a kind, and in sufficient detail, as far as is reasonably practicable in light of the nature and history of the debtor and the condition of the debtor's books and records, ... that would enable ... a hypothetical investor of the relevant class to make an informed judgment about the plan." In determining whether a disclosure statement provides adequate information, "the court shall consider the complexity of the case, the benefit of additional information to creditors and other parties in interest, and the cost of providing additional information." §1125.

Courts interpreting § 1125(a) have explained that the "primary purpose of a disclosure statement is to give the creditors the information they need to decide whether to accept the plan." In re Monnier Bros., 755 F.2d 1336, 1342 (8th Cir. 1985). "According to the legislative history, the parameters of what constitutes adequate information are intended to be flexible." In re Diversified Investors Fund XVII, 91 B.R. 559, 560 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1988). As explained by one court:

Relevant factors for evaluating the adequacy of a disclosure statement may include: (1) the events which led to the filing of a bankruptcy petition; (2) a description of the available assets and their value; (3) the anticipated future of the company; (4) the source of information stated in the disclosure statement; (5) a disclaimer; (6) the present condition of the debtor while in Chapter 11; (7) the scheduled claims; (8) the estimated return to creditors under a Chapter 7 liquidation; (9) the accounting method utilized to produce financial information and the name of the accountants responsible for such information; (10) the future management of the debtor; (11) the Chapter 11 plan or a summary thereof; (12) the estimated administrative expenses, including attorneys' and accountants' fees; (13) the collectability of accounts receivable; (14) financial information, data, valuations or projections relevant to the creditors' decision to accept or reject the Chapter 11 plan; (15) information relevant to the risks posed to creditors under the plan; (16) the actual or projected realizable value from recovery of preferential or otherwise voidable transfers; (17) litigation likely to arise in a nonbankruptcy context; (18) tax attributes of the debtor; and (19) the relationship of the debtor with affiliates.

In re Metrocraft Pub. Services, Inc., 39 B.R. 567, 568 (Bankr. Ga. 1984).

amount of money—approximately $2 million—it is not particularly complex, and there are few creditors. Whatever benefit creditors might obtain from additional information would be outweighed by the additional costs of providing such information. To the extent that the IRS and SLS object that the Disclosure Statement fails to contain adequate information, those objections are overruled.

The objections of the IRS and SLS are more appropriately characterized as objections to the confirmability of the Plan. As noted, the Plan provides two options for payment of the (1) SLS Claim of $1,648,975.29 and the (2) IRS Claim of $152,073.43—a lump sum payment to be made at confirmation or payment with interest over five years. IRS and SLS object to payment over a five year period and assert that their claims must be paid in full upon confirmation. With respect to the treatment of the claims of IRS and SLS, the Debtor states that he will defer to the discretion of the Court and will likely accept an order of the Court requiring payment of the claims of the IRS and SLS upon confirmation, provided that the remaining balance remaining in the registry after payment of all creditors is distributed to the Debtor.

In the Court's view, payment of the claims of the IRS and SLS in full upon confirmation, from existing funds on deposit in the Court's registry, is a far more efficient means of facilitating reorganization than payment of those claims over a five-year period. With respect to the claim of SLS, payment over a five-year period would likely result in additional litigation to establish the appropriate rate of interest. (The rate of interest upon the claim of the IRS is set by statute pursuant to §511.)

The Court generally does not fashion the precise terms of a Plan on behalf of a Debtor. However, the Debtor has expressed a willingness to defer to the Court with respect to the treatment of the claims of the IRS and SLS. The Court will deem the Plan to be amended to provide that the claims of IRS and the SLS shall be paid in full, from the funds on deposit in the Court's registry, upon the Effective Date [Note 2] of the Plan. The option that the claims of the IRS and SLS be paid over five years shall be deemed to be stricken from the Plan.

So that this case may be resolved expeditiously, it shall not be necessary for the Debtor to file a Second Amended Plan; instead, the Plan shall be deemed to be modified as set forth herein. As set forth in greater detail below, a copy of this ruling must be served upon interested parties along with the other Plan solicitation materials. See Bankruptcy Rule 3017(d)(4) (providing that in connection with plan confirmation, the Court may direct the Debtor to transmit to interested parties "any other information as the court may direct, including any court opinion approving the

The following dates will apply with respect to the solicitation of votes and plan confirmation:

- 1) A hearing on the confirmation of the Plan shall take place on July 11, 2018, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) In accordance with FRBP 3017(a), the Disclosure Statement, the Plan, a notice of hearing on confirmation of the Plan (the "Confirmation Hearing Notice"), and if applicable, a ballot conforming to Official Form No. 14, shall be mailed to all creditors, equity security holders and to the Office of the United States Trustee, pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3017(d), on or before May 23, 2018. This ruling shall be attached to the Confirmation Hearing Notice. The Confirmation Hearing Notice shall contain the following language: "Please take notice that the Plan, attached hereto as Exhibit _____, has been modified by the Bankruptcy Court. The modifications to the Plan are explained in the ruling of the Bankruptcy Court issued on May 16, 2018, attached hereto as Exhibit _____."
- 3) June 13, 2018 is fixed as the last day for creditors and equity security holders to return to Debtor's counsel ballots containing written acceptances or rejections of the Plan, which ballots must be actually received by Debtor's counsel by 5:00 p.m. on such date.
- 4) June 20, 2018 is fixed as the last day on which the Debtors must file and serve a motion for an order confirming the Plan (the "Confirmation Motion") including declarations setting forth a tally of the ballots cast with respect to the Plan ("Ballots"), and attaching thereto the original Ballots, and setting forth evidence that the Debtors have complied with all the requirements for the confirmation of the Plan as set forth in Section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code.
- 5) June 27, 2018 (the "Objection Date"), is fixed as the last day for filing and serving written objections to confirmation of the Plan, as provided in Rule 3020(b)(1) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure.
- 6) July 5, 2018 is fixed as the last day on which the Debtor may file and serve their reply to any opposition to the Confirmation Motion (the "Reply").

the Residence Must be Determined At Plan Confirmation

The IRS asserts that the Disclosure Statement does not contain adequate information because it does not discuss the tax consequences of the sale of the Residence, and does not discuss how the Debtor intends to pay the IRS' administrative tax claim. The Debtor asserts that the taxes owed on account of the sale of the Residence are irrelevant to the confirmation of the Plan. The Debtor is incorrect as a matter of law. Section 503(b)(1)(B)(i) provides in relevant part: "After notice and a hearing, there shall be allowed administrative expenses, ... including any tax incurred by the estate, whether secured or unsecured" The Residence was property of the estate at the time it was sold, and therefore the IRS holds an allowable administrative expense claim on account of any taxes arising from that sale. Because such a claim is entitled to priority pursuant to §507(a)(2), it must be paid in full on the effective date of the Plan, unless the IRS agrees to alternative treatment. §1129(a)(9)(A). Thus, the amount of the IRS' administrative expense claim is highly relevant to confirmation of the Plan.

Section 503(b)(1)(D), which was added to the Bankruptcy Code by the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005 ("BAPCPA"), states that a "governmental unit shall not be required to file a request for the payment of [a §503(b)(1)(B)(i) administrative expense] as a condition of its being an allowed administrative expense." As noted by one court, the fact that governmental units may hold an allowed administrative expense even without filing a request for payment of such an expense creates a "peculiar situation":

Under current law, therefore, a governmental unit is not required to file any request for payment of an administrative expense—"timely," "tardily," or at all—in order to be allowed an administrative expense for a tax incurred by the estate under § 503(b)(1)(B)(i). Thus, the fact that no taxing authority has filed such a request in this case does not necessarily mean that no such administrative expense can be allowed.

This creates procedural questions for the Chapter 13 Trustee, and for the Court. The real estate taxing authority here, which appears to be either Orchard Lake Village, Michigan or the Oakland County Treasurer, has an allowed administrative claim if there are any real estate taxes that were incurred by the Chapter 13 bankruptcy estate that remain unpaid, and the Trustee, in turn, must pay any such allowed administrative claim from the funds on hand, under § 1326(a)(2), along with other allowed administrative expenses. But how is the Chapter 13 Trustee to know whether such taxing authority actually has such an administrative claim, and if so, what is the amount of such claim, when the Trustee has heard nothing from the taxing authority? In this case, no governmental unit has filed any claim for unpaid real estate taxes. And Debtor's schedules and plan make no mention of any real estate taxes. What is a Chapter 13 Trustee in this situation to do?

The Halabu court addressed this procedural conundrum by requiring the party who had alerted the Court to the possible existence of an administrative expense claim to provide notice to the governmental units holding the claim. Id. at 702. The court then held hearings to establish the amount of the claim. Id.

The Ninth Circuit took a similar approach in Dreyfus v. Cory (In re Cloobek), 788 F.3d 1243 (9th Cir. 2015). The Ninth Circuit held that if “the governmental unit does not file a request for payment but the tax obligation is discovered by the trustee, it will be the trustee’s [or debtor-in-possession’s] responsibility, rather than the government unit’s responsibility, to provide the notice and obtain the hearing.” Id. at 1246.

The Court will adopt procedures similar to those espoused in In re Cloobek to establish the amount of the IRS’ administrative tax claim, if any. The amount of the IRS’ administrative tax claim will be determined at the hearing on the confirmation of the Plan. To assist in this determination, the Debtor and the IRS must submit briefing on this issue; such briefing must be submitted separately from any other papers filed in connection with the confirmation hearing. By no later than June 5, 2018, the Debtor must file a declaration, accompanied by appropriate evidence and legal analysis, setting forth the Debtor’s contentions with respect to the amount of the IRS’ administrative tax claim. The IRS must file papers and evidence in opposition to the Debtor’s declaration by no later than June 19, 2018. The Debtor must file a reply by no later than June 26, 2018. The amount of the IRS’ administrative tax claim will be determined at the July 11, 2018 confirmation hearing. Consistent with the requirements of §1129(a)(9)(A), the Plan shall be deemed to be modified to provide for payment of the IRS’ administrative tax claim in full upon the Effective Date of the Plan.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Court finds that the Disclosure Statement contains adequate information. A confirmation hearing shall take place on July 11,

Note 1

In the Motion, the Debtor states that he deposited $3,127,432.99 into the Court's registry. See Doc. No. 178 at p. 8. The Debtor's figure is incorrect. Registry deposits generate an electronic receipt reflecting the total amount deposited. Here, the electronic receipts appear on the docket immediately following docket entry 92, and bear receipt numbers 20223757, 20223760, 20223761, and 2022376. (As a result of technical limitations, receipts cannot be generated for deposits in excess of $1 million. Consequently, four electronic receipts were generated in connection with the single deposit that the Debtor made, so that no one receipt would exceed the $1 million cap.) The electronic receipts show that the Debtor deposited $3,014,642.94 into the Court's registry, not $3,127,432.99.

- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Green Jane, Inc. (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on March 6, 2017. On May 26, 2017, the Court converted the case to Chapter 7. Doc. Nos. 58 and 61. Pursuant to §365(d)(1), the initial deadline for the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") to assume or reject the Debtor's executory contracts or unexpired leases of residential real property was July 25, 2017 (such deadline, the "Assumption/Rejection Deadline"). The Court has extended the Assumption/Rejection Deadline three times, without prejudice to the Trustee's ability to seek further extensions; the Assumption/Rejection deadline is currently April 23, 2018. The Trustee seeks a fourth extension of the deadline to July 23, 2018. The Trustee states that his ability to investigate the executory contracts and unexpired leases has been inhibited, because the Trustee has been required to spend extensive time negotiating a compromise of disputes with BevTech and persons and entities affiliated with BevTech. (On April 24, 2018, the Court approved a compromise between the Trustee and the BevTech Parties.)

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(d)(1) provides:

In a case under chapter 7 of this title, if the trustee does not assume or reject an executory contract or unexpired lease of residential real property or of personal property of the debtor within 60 days after the order for relief, or within such additional time as the court, for cause, within such 60-day period, fixes, then such contract or lease is deemed rejected.

The Trustee has not cited, and the Court has been unable to locate, any Ninth Circuit authority setting forth what constitutes "cause" for an extension of the 60-day period specified in §365(d)(1). However, the Ninth Circuit BAP has stated that cause exists to extend §365(d)(4)'s deadline to assume an unexpired lease of nonresidential real property where the case involves numerous and complicated leases. Willamette Water Front, Ltd. v. Victoria Station Inc. (In re Victoria Station Inc.), 88 B.R. 231, 236 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988), aff'd, 875 F.2d 1380 (9th Cir. 1989). Applying Victoria Station's reasoning to the analogous situation presented by this case, the Court finds that cause exists to extend the Assumption/Rejection Deadline in view of the numerous complicated executory contracts and unexpired leases to which the Debtor is a party. The Trustee's counsel has not had an adequate opportunity to review these unexpired leases and executory contracts. Creditors and the estate would be prejudiced if the Assumption/Rejection Deadline were not extended, since some of the executory contracts and unexpired leases could prove to be valuable to the estate.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Trustee's deadline to assume or reject the Debtor's executory contracts and unexpired leases is extended to and including July 23, 2018, without prejudice to the Trustee's ability to seek a further extension. The Trustee shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Docket 16

Tentative Ruling:

5/15/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Debtor's motion, seeking approval of a Stipulation with the IRS providing for the use of cash collateral, is GRANTED in its entirety. However, the Court is concerned that the Stipulation provides for the use of cash collateral only through May 21, 2018. The Debtor's authorization under the Stipulation to use cash collateral will shortly expire, and it is unclear whether the Debtor and the IRS are prepared to renew the Stipulation to provide for the use of cash collateral beyond May 21, 2018. The parties must appear to address this issue.

 - a) Stipulation for Interim Use of Cash Collateral Between the United States and Debtor [Doc. No. 15] (the "Stipulation")
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Henderson Mechanical Systems, Inc. (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on April 9, 2018. The Debtor operates in the mechanical contractors business within the special trade contractors sector. On April 13, 2018, the Court authorized the Debtor to pay the aggregate amount of $9,689.81 in prepetition wages to its ten employees. See Doc. No. 10. On May 1, 2018, Kevin Tang of Tang & Associates filed an application seeking employment as the Debtor's general bankruptcy counsel. See Doc. No. 18.

The Debtor seeks approval of a stipulation entered into between the Debtor and the United States, on behalf of its agency the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS"), providing for the interim use of cash collateral (the "Stipulation"). On April 16, 2018, the IRS filed a Proof of Claim for $482,180.13, asserting (1) a secured claim of $96,886.97 for unpaid payroll and corporate taxes and associated penalties, and (2) a priority tax claim of $385,293.17 for unpaid estimated payroll taxes. On July 6, 2016—prior to the commencement of the case—the IRS recorded a Notice of Federal Tax Lien against the Debtor.

The Stipulation authorizes the Debtor to use the IRS' cash collateral for ordinary and necessary expenses until Monday, May 21, 2018. In exchange, the Debtor must do the following:

- 1) Provide corporate income tax returns to the Assistant U.S. Attorney for the tax period ending December 31, 2016 through the period ending December 31, 2017, by no later than May 21, 2018.
- 2) Make adequate protection payments of $1,000 per month to the United States, retroactive to the petition date, with the first payment to be made by no later than April 27, 2018.
- 3) Grant the IRS a replacement lien upon all post-petition accounts receivable and after-acquired property.
- 4) Grant the IRS a super-priority claim, pursuant to §507(b), to the extent of any diminution in the value of the IRS' collateral.

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of Section 363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368-69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. §363(c)(2)(B) and (e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S.

#22.00 HearingRE: [216] Application for Compensation First Interim Application for Compensation and Reimbursement of Expenses by Armory Consulting Company as Financial Advisor to the Official Committee Of Unsecured Creditors; Declarations of James Wong and Cheryl A. Kenner in Support Thereof (with Exhibits A, B, C, D and E) (with proof of service) for Daniel H Reiss, Creditor Comm. Atty, Period: 11/2/2017 to 3/31/2018, Fee: $59,769.00, Expenses: $218.95.

Docket 216

Tentative Ruling:

5/15/2018

Having reviewed the first interim application for fees and expenses filed by this applicant, the court approves the application and awards the fees and expenses set forth below.

Fees: $59,769.00

Expenses: $218.95

The Court notes the "Debtor and Debtor-in-Possession's Reservation of Rights With Respect to Armory Consulting Company's First Interim Application for Compensation and Reimbursement of Expenses" (the "Reservation of Rights") [Doc. no. 235] filed on May 2, 2018. However, the Reservation of Rights notwithstanding, the Court approves the fees and expenses requested by this applicant for the subject period on an interim basis, given that all interim fee awards are subject to approval on a final basis.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. To submit on the tentative ruling contact Daniel Koontz or Cameron Schlagel, the Judge's law clerks, at 213-894-1522, by no later than one hour prior to the hearing.

- 3) Notice of Combined Hearing on Debtor's Second Amended Disclosure Statement and Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization [Doc. No. 161]
- 4) No opposition has been filed as of the date of this tentative ruling

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

32 Cold, LLC, the Debtor and debtor in possession (the "Debtor"), seeks approval of the "Second Amended Disclosure Statement in Support of Plan of Reorganization" ("Disclosure Statement" or "DS") [Doc. No. 159], and confirmation of the "Second Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan") [Doc. No. 160].

Background

The Debtor filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on November 9, 2016 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor is a small business debtor, as that term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(51D). The Debtor operates as a full-service public refrigerated warehouse facility that offers cold storage and related services. The Debtor has five principals and no affiliates. Each of the Debtor's five principals is a 20% shareholder, and officer of the Debtor. The Debtor's Petition was precipitated by a series of rental and customer transactions entered into by the Debtor in an effort to expand the Debtor's business. One of these transactions was with Red Chamber Co. ("Red Chamber"), one of the Debtor's largest customers. Around October 2015, the Debtor and Red Chamber agreed to a ten-year contract for a $60,000.00 monthly storage minimum. In order to accommodate Red Chamber's storage requirements, the Debtor entered into a lease of a certain cold-storage facility with T.C. Collins/Guardian ("Guardian") (the "T.C. Collins Property"). In January 2016, Red Chamber breached its contract with the Debtor, and the Debtor was left with vacant space, three active lease agreements, and insufficient customer inventory to fill the vacant storage space. The Debtor was also forced to defend against a lawsuit filed by Red Chamber against the Debtor in the Los Angeles Superior Court, which cause more financial stress on the Debtor. In an effort to offset these expenses, the Debtor entered into an agreement with Camino Foods ("Camino") to store its products in the Debtor's vacant space (the "Camino Agreement"). The Camino Agreement proved to be detrimental to the Debtor's business and, upon the filing of the Petition, Camino filed a Proof of Claim in the amount of $1,000,000.00 (the "Camino Claim"). On December 30, 2017, the Debtor and Camino entered into a compromise regarding the Camino Claim, which compromise was approved by the Court on February 6, 2018. See "Order Granting Motion to Approve Compromise under Rule 9019 between Debtor and Camino" [Doc. No. 153].

At the time of filing, the Debtor was operating from three leased locations. Rexford Leases ("Rexford") is the landlord for two of the Debtor's leases: (1) the property located at 6700 Alameda Street, Huntington Park, CA 90255 (the "Alameda Property"); and (2) the property located at 6020 Sheila Street, Commerce, CA 90040 (the "Sheila Property"). Post-petition, the Debtor entered into stipulations with Rexford regarding the terms of the Debtor's leases of the Alameda Property and the Sheila Property. See Disclosure Statement, Ex's. I-1-2. On January 10, 2017, the Court entered the "Order Approving Debtors Motion to Approve Compromise Under Rule 9019 Between Debtor and Rexford, and to Authorize Debtor to Assume the Alameda Lease and Sheila Lease" [Doc. No. 70]. The Debtor's third lease with Guardian was rejected pursuant to a post-petition stipulation between the Debtor and Guardian, see Doc. No. 83, which was approved by the Court on March 23, 2017, see "Order Approving Stipulation for Order Deeming Debtor's Unexpired Lease Rejected;

Summary of the Disclosure Statement and Plan

On April 5, 2018 the Debtor filed the: (1) "Second Amended Disclosure Statement in Support of Plan of Reorganization" ("Disclosure Statement" or "DS") [Doc. No. 159]; (2) "Second Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization" (the "Plan") [Doc. No. 160]; and (3) "Notice of Combined Hearing on Debtor's Second Amended Disclosure Statement and Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization" [Doc. No. 161]. The Plan will become effective (the "Effective Date") on the first day of the calendar month following the date of entry of the Confirmation Order. The anticipated Effective Date is June 1, 2018.

The Plan includes "Unclassified Claims" as follows:

Administrative Claims

The Disclosure Statement outlines the following administrative claims, which include certain professional fees and expenses that will only be paid after Court approval:

- (1) the Debtor's general bankruptcy counsel, Sheila Esmaili, in the estimated amount of $75,000.00, to be paid in full on or before the Effective Date;
- (2) the Guardian Life Insurance Company of America, in the amount of $75,000.00, paid in full based on the payment plan approved pursuant to the Stipulation for Plan Treatment entered into between the Debtor and Guardian [Doc. No. 98], which was approved by the Court's "Order Approving

- (4) Clerk's Office Fees in the estimated amount of 0.00, paid in full on the Effective Date.

Priority Tax Claims

Second, the Disclosure Statement lists the following priority tax claims:

- (1) the Employment Development Department in the amount of $1,009.42, which will be paid in monthly payments in the amount of $21.03 over a period of 48 months, with payments commencing on the Effective Date; and
- (2) the Franchise Tax Board ("FTB") in the claimed amount of $813.76, paid in monthly payments in the amount of $16.95 for a period of 48 months commencing on the Effective Date.

Classified Claims & Interests

The Debtor lists the following unimpaired secured claims in Classes 1 through 5, respectively:

- (1) Class 1: U.S. Bank, N.A., in the amount $15,054.68; the Debtor will cure any pre- or post-petition defaults, reinstate the maturity of the claim as such maturity existed before the default, maintain current payments, and not otherwise alter the legal, equitable, or contractual rights to which the claim entitles the holder of the claim;
- (2) Class 2: Wells Fargo Equipment Finance, a division of Wells Fargo Bank, N.A.; the Debtor will cure any pre- or post-petition defaults, reinstate the maturity of the claim as such maturity existed before the default, maintain current payments, and not otherwise alter the legal, equitable, or contractual rights to which the claim entitles the holder of the claim; and
- (3) Class 3: Raymond Leasing Corp. in the amount $2,806.83; the Debtor will cure any pre- or post-petition defaults, reinstate the maturity of the claim as such maturity existed before the default, maintain current payments, and not otherwise alter the legal, equitable, or contractual rights to which the claim entitles the holder of the claim;

- (4) Class 4: Ford Credit (Collateral: 2014 Ford Fusion) in the amount of $19,957.98; the Debtor will cure any pre- or post-petition defaults, reinstate the maturity of the claim as such maturity existed before the default, maintain current payments, and not otherwise alter the legal, equitable, or contractual rights to which the claim entitles the holder of the claim; and
- (5) Class 5: Ford Credit (Collateral: 2014 Ford Fusion) in the amount of $19,338.57; the Debtor will cure any pre- or post-petition defaults, reinstate the maturity of the claim as such maturity existed before the default, maintain current payments, and not otherwise alter the legal, equitable, or contractual rights to which the claim entitles the holder of the claim.

Impaired Secured Claim

The Debtor outlines the following impaired secured claim in Class 6:

- (1) Class 6: On Deck Capital, Inc., as assignee of Celtic Bank as an impaired class in the amount of $77,538.40, paid $646.15 per month, with interest calculated at 0.00%, beginning on the Effective Date for a period of 120 months.

Priority Unsecured Claims

The Debtor does not have any priority unsecured claims referred to in §§ 507(a) (3), (4), (5), (6) or (7).

General Unsecured Claims

- (1) Class 7: this class includes unsecured claims that are not entitled to priority under § 507(a). Each member of Class 7 shall be paid 1.80% of its claim over five years in equal monthly installments, due on the first day of each calendar month, without interest, commencing on the Effective Date.

Classes of Interest Holders and Insider Claims

The Debtor anticipates it will resolve disputed claims of the estate, and will not receive any objections to the Plan that will result in a cram-down of the unsecured class. Thus, each of the Debtor's five principals will retain their equity interest, although no new value will be offered under the Plan.

Assumption of Unexpired Leases

The Debtor intends to assume the certain "Unexpired Leases" and "Executory Contracts” which are set forth in detail in Exhibit “G” to the Disclosure Statement. See also Disclosure Statement at 27 (table of Unexpired Leases and Executory Contracts to be assumed or rejected). On the Effective Date, the Debtor will assume each of the Unexpired Leases and Executory Contracts as obligations of the Reorganized Debtor.

Effectuating the Plan

The Debtor estimates that it will have cash on hand on the Effective Date after making Plan payments. See Disclosure Statement, Ex. C (“Cash Projections”). Based on the Cash Projections, the Debtor predicts a total yearly income (for year one of the Plan) at $4,932,900.00 and yearly expenses, including Plan payments, of $4,921,847.76, leaving about $11,052.24.00 in positive net cash flow for year one of the Plan. Disclosure Statement, Ex. C.

Debtor’s COO Joseph Smith will continue to manage the Debtor. Attached to the Disclosure Statement is a liquidation analysis (“Liquidation Analysis”). Disclosure Statement, Ex. A. The Liquidation Analysis concludes that the General Unsecured Creditors would receive nothing under Chapter 7 because the Debtor’s assets would sell for approximately $132,217.62.

The Debtor contends that the Plan is feasible because the Debtor will have enough cash on hand to make Effective Date Payments which total $79,754.13. Additionally, the Debtor anticipates based on the Debtor’s Monthly Operating reports that it will have sufficient post-petition net income to make the monthly Plan payments which total approximately: $28,049.56 for year one; $15,049.56 for years two through four; and $14,593.80 for year five.

Finally, the Debtor states that the primary risk factor under the Plan is the Debtor’s ability to generate sufficient and consistent income on a monthly basis to meet all Plan payment obligations.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

The Debtor seeks approval of the Disclosure Statement, and Confirmation of the Plan.

Adequacy of Disclosure Statement and in sufficient detail, as far as is reasonably practicable in light of the nature and history of the debtor and the condition of the debtor's books and records . . . that would enable. . . a hypothetical investor of the relevant class to make an informed judgment about the plan." In determining whether a disclosure statement provides adequate information, "the court shall consider the complexity of the case, the benefit of additional information to creditors and other parties in interest, and the cost of providing additional information." 11 U.S.C. § 1125(a). Courts interpreting § 1125(a) have explained that the "primary purpose of a disclosure statement is to give the creditors the information they need to decide whether to accept the plan." In re Monnier Bros., 755 F.2d 1336, 1342 (8th Cir. 1985). "According to the legislative history, the parameters of what constitutes adequate information are intended to be flexible." In re Diversified Investors Fund XVII, 91 B.R. 559, 560 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1988). "Adequate information will be determined by the facts and circumstances of each case." Oneida Motor Freight, Inc. v. United Jersey Bank, 848 F.2d 414, 417 (3d Cir. 1988), accord. In re Ariz. Fast Foods, Inc., 299 B.R. 589 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2003).

Relevant factors for evaluating the adequacy of a disclosure statement may include: (1) the events which led to the filing of a bankruptcy petition; (2) a description of the available assets and their value; (3) the anticipated future of the company; (4) the source of information stated in the disclosure statement; (5) a disclaimer; (6) the present condition of the debtor while in Chapter 11; (7) the scheduled claims; (8) the estimated return to creditors under a Chapter 7 liquidation; (9) the accounting method utilized to produce financial information and the name of the accountants responsible for such information; (10) the future management of the debtor; (11) the Chapter 11 plan or a summary thereof; (12) the estimated administrative expenses, including attorneys' and accountants' fees; (13) the collectability of accounts receivable; (14) financial information, data, valuations or projections relevant to the creditors' decision to accept or reject the Chapter 11 plan; (15) information relevant to the risks posed to creditors under the plan; (16) the actual or projected realizable value from recovery of preferential or otherwise voidable transfers; (17) litigation likely to arise in a nonbankruptcy context; (18) tax attributes of the debtor; and (19) the relationship of the debtor with affiliates.

In re Metrocraft Pub. Services, Inc., 39 B.R. 567, 568 (Bankr. Ga. 1984). However, "[d]isclosure of all factors is not necessary in every case." Id.

Here, the Court finds that the Disclosure Statement satisfies many of the relevant Metrocraft factors, including: (1) the events which led to the filing of a bankruptcy petition; (2) a description of the available assets and their value; (3) the anticipated future of the company; (4) the source of information stated in the disclosure statement; (5) a disclaimer; (6) the present condition of the debtor while in Chapter 11; (7) the scheduled claims; (8) the estimated return to creditors under a Chapter 7 liquidation; (10) the future management of the debtor; (11) the Chapter 11 Plan or a summary thereof; (12) the estimated administrative expenses, including attorneys' and accountants' fees; (14) financial information, data, valuations or projections relevant to the creditors' decision to accept or reject the Chapter 11 Plan; (15) information relevant to the risks posed to creditors under the Plan; and (18) tax attributes of the debtor.

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that the Disclosure Statement contains adequate information and, therefore, the Court APPROVES the Disclosure Statement.

Confirmation of the Plan

As set forth below, the Court finds that the Plan complies with all applicable provisions of § 1129.

Section 1129(a)(1)

Section 1129(a)(1) requires that the "plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." According to the Collier, the "legislative history suggests that the applicable provisions are those governing the plan's internal structure and drafting: 'Paragraph (1) requires that the plan comply with the applicable provisions of chapter 11, such as section 1122 and 1123, governing classification and contents of a plan.'" Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 1129.01[1] (16th rev'd ed.) (citing S. Rep. No. 989, 95th Cong., 2d Sess. 126 (1978)).

1. Section 1122(a)

Section 1122(a) provides that "a plan may place a claim or an interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interests of such class."

Each of the secured claims is classified separately, as is appropriate because each secured claimant has unique rights with respect to specific collateral. The claims of unsecured creditors in Class 7 are substantially similar to each other. The Plan satisfies § 1122(a).

2. Section 1122(b)

Section 1122(b) provides that "a plan may designate a separate class of claims consisting only of every unsecured claim that is less than or reduced to an amount that the court approves as reasonable and necessary for administrative convenience."

There are no unsecured claims which would require separate classification under § 1122(b). Therefore, the Plan satisfies § 1122(b).

3. Section 1123(a)(1)

Section 1123(a)(1) requires that a plan "designate ... classes of claims, other than claims of a kind specified in section 507(a)(2) [administrative expense claims], 507(a)(3) [claims arising during the gap period in an involuntary case], or 507(a)(8) [priority tax claims], and classes of interest."

There are no involuntary gap claims because this is a voluntary Chapter 11 case. The Plan separately classifies § 507(a)(2) administrative expense claims and § 507(a)(8) priority tax claims. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(1).

4. Section 1123(a)(2)

Section 1123(a)(2) requires that the plan "specify any class of claims or interests that is not impaired under the plan."

The Plan specifies that Classes 1–5 are not impaired and that the holders of claims in those classes are not entitled to vote on the Plan. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(2).

5. Section 1123(a)(3)

Section 1123(a)(3) requires that the plan "specify the treatment of any class of claims or interests that is impaired under the plan."

The Plan details the treatment of the impaired class. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(3).

Chapter 11

Section 1123(a)(4) requires that the Plan "provide the same treatment for each claim or interest of a particular class unless the holder of a particular claim or interest agrees to a less favorable treatment of such particular claim or interest."

The Plan provides the same treatment to claims and interests of the same class. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(4).

7. Section 1123(a)(5)

Section 1123(a)(5) requires that the plan "provide adequate means for the plan's implementation."

The Plan describes the means for implementation of the Plan's provisions. The Plan provides for funding from: the Debtor's cash on hand on the Effective Date; and the Debtor's cash received from ongoing operations which, as set forth in the Cash Projections, are adequate for plan implementation. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(5).

8. Section 1123(a)(6)

Section 1123(a)(6) provides: "[A] plan shall provide for the inclusion in the charter of the debtor, if the debtor is a corporation ..., of a provision prohibiting the issuance of nonvoting equity securities, and providing, as to the several classes of securities possessing voting power, an appropriate distribution of such power among such classes, including, in the case of any class of equity securities having a preference over another class of equity securities with respect to dividends, adequate provisions for the election of directors representing such preferred class in the event of default in the payment of such dividends."

The Plan includes only one equity class; therefore, the Plan satisfies §1123(a)(6).

9. Section 1123(a)(7)

Section 1123(a)(7) requires that the plan's provisions with respect to the selection of officers and directors be consistent with public policy and the interests of creditors and equity security holders.

The Plan provides that, on the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor will be managed by the current COO of the Debtor, Joseph Smith. Mr. Smith has the requisite experience to operate the Reorganized Debtor. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(7).

Chapter 11

Section 1123(b) sets forth provisions that are permitted, but not required, in a plan of reorganization.

The Plan contains certain of § 1123(b)'s optional provisions including subparagraphs (1), (2), (3). The Plan is consistent with § 1123(b).

Section 1129(a)(2)

Section 1129(a)(2) requires that the "proponent of the plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title."

The Court finds that the Debtor as Plan proponent has:

- 1) Obtained Court approval of a Disclosure Statement in accordance with § 1125 (as is set forth above in the section on the "Adequacy of the Disclosure Statement"); and
- 2) Obtained Court approval of the employment of professional persons (see "Order Granting Application to Employ Sheila Esmail" [Doc. No. 64]).

Accordingly, the Debtor has satisfied the requirements of § 1129(a)(2).

Section 1129(a)(3)

Section 1129(a)(3) requires that the "plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law." As one court has explained:

The term 'good faith' in the context of 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3) is not statutorily defined but has been interpreted by case law as referring to a plan that 'achieves a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code.' 'The requisite good faith determination is based on the totality of the circumstances.'

In re Melcher, 329 B.R. 865, 876 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2005) (internal citations omitted).

The Plan presented here seeks results consistent with the purposes and objectives of the code. The Debtor negotiated the Plan provisions with its secured creditors and at least one member of each of the unsecured creditor classes. No objections to Plan Confirmation have been filed. The terms and conditions of the Plan allow the Debtor's business to reorganize while paying creditors at least as much as such creditors would receive in a Chapter 7 liquidation. The Plan satisfies §1129(a)(3).

Chapter 11

Section 1129(a)(4)

Section 1129(a)(4) requires that "[a]ny payment made or to be made by the proponent, by the debtor, or by a person issuing securities or acquiring property under the plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of, the court as reasonable."

The Plan provides for payment of attorney and other professional fees only upon application to, and approval by, the Court. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(4).

Section 1129(a)(5)

Section 1129(a)(5) requires that the plan disclose "the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint plan with the debtor, or a successor to the debtor under the plan." Section 1129(a)(5)(A)(ii) requires that the appointment to or continuation in office of an director or officer be consistent with the interests of creditors, equity security holders, and public policy. Section 1129(a)(5)(B) requires the plan proponent to disclose the identity of any insider to be employed by the reorganized debtor.

The Plan describes the current and future role of each of the Debtor's five Principals and Directors. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(5).

Section 1129(a)(6)

Section 1129(a)(6), which requires that a governmental regulatory commission with jurisdiction over rates charged by a debtor approve any rate changes provided for in the Plan, does not apply.

Section 1129(a)(7)

Section 1129(a)(7), known as the "best interests of creditors test," provides in relevant part: "With respect to each impaired class of claims or interests, each holder of a claim or interest of such class has accepted the plan; or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of this title on such

Chapter 11

Based upon its review of the Liquidation Analysis included with the Disclosure Statement, under Chapter 7 liquidation unsecured creditors would likely be paid 0% on their claims. Furthermore, liquidation would cause appointment of a trustee who would be entitled to compensation as an administrative expense. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(7).

Section 1129(a)(8)

Section 1129(a)(8) generally requires each class to accept the plan, unless the class is not impaired.

Classes 6 and 7 are impaired. Class 7 voted to confirm the Plan. Class 6 neither voted on the Plan nor filed an objection to the confirmation of the Plan. However, "[a]lthough actual acceptance of a plan by at least one class of impaired claims is necessary for a bankruptcy court's confirmation of a plan under § 1129(a)(10), Hanson v. First Bank of South Dakota, N.A., 828 F.2d 1310, 1313 (8th Cir.1987), not every creditor is obligated to vote on a plan." In re Ruti-Sweetwater, Inc., 836 F.2d 1263, 1267 (10th Cir. 1988). In circumstances where the holder of a claim in an impaired class neither votes on the plan nor raises any objection to confirmation, the court may deem the creditor's failure to vote or object to confirmation as acceptance of the plan so as to enable the court to confirm the plan without determining whether the plan discriminates unfairly or is fair and equitable under § 1129(b). Id.; cf. In re M. Long Arabians, 103 B.R. 211, 215–16 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1989) (distinguishing In re Ruti-Sweetwater, Inc. on the grounds that the crucial factor in In re Ruti-Sweetwater, Inc. was that "the creditor failed to object to the plan, thereby 'waiving, its right to challenge the plan," whereas the creditor in In re M. Long Arabians "attempted to reject the Plan and, in fact, objected to the Plan"). In In re Ruti-Sweetwater, Inc., the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the district court's holding that a creditor's failure to vote and failure to object to the plan constituted acceptance of the plan. 836 F.2d at 1266. In so holding, the panel of the Tenth Circuit agreed with the district court's finding that creditors are obligated to take an active role in protecting their claims:

Moreover, if non-voting, non-objecting creditors are not deemed to have accepted the plan, the debtor would be placed in the unique position of anticipating these creditors' objections to the plan and presenting evidence and arguments to refute those hypothetical objections in the confirmation hearing.

Id. at 1267.

Here, On Deck Capital, Inc. ("On Deck"), is the only member of Class 6. The Disclosure Statement states that "Failure to oppose the confirmation of the Plan may be deemed consent to the Plan's confirmation." Disclosure Statement at 24. The Court finds that On Deck's failure to vote on the Plan, coupled with its failure to object to the Plan, constitutes acceptance. Thus, the Court finds that the Plan complies with § 1129(a)(8).

Section 1129(a)(9)

Section 1129(a)(9) requires that holders of certain administrative and priority claims receive cash equal to the allowed claim amount on the effective date of the plan, unless the claimant agrees to different treatment.

The Plan provides for payment in full of taxing authority claims over a period not exceeding sixty months from the Effective Date. The Plan provides that the Debtor will pay other claims allowed under § 503(b) and entitled to priority under § 507(a) (2), including United States Trustee's fees, in full on the Effective Date except to the extent that a holder of these claims agreed to other terms. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a) (9).

Section 1129(a)(10)

Section 1129(a)(10) requires that at least one class of impaired claims accept the plan.

Class 7 is an impaired class that has accepted the Plan. The Plan satisfies § 1129 (a)(10).

Section 1129(a)(11)

Section 1129(a)(11), known as the "feasibility requirement," requires the Court to find that "[c]onfirmation of the plan is not likely to be followed by the liquidation, or the need for further financial reorganization, of the debtor or any successor to the debtor under the plan, unless such liquidation or reorganization is proposed in the plan."

Based upon its review of the Cash Projections included with the Disclosure Statement, the Court finds that the Debtor's projected income and cash available on the Effective date are sufficient to make required plan payments. The Plan is feasible and satisfies § 1129(a)(11).

Section 1129(a)(12)

Section 1129(a)(12) requires that the Debtor pay all United States Trustee fees prior to confirmation or provide for payment of those fees on the effective date.

The Plan and the projections in the Disclosure Statement include payment of all Administrative Claims. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(12).

Section 1129(a)(13)

Section 1129(a)(13), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of retirement benefits, does not apply.

Section 1129(a)(14)

Section 1129(a)(14), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of domestic support obligations, does not apply.

Section 1129(a)(15)

Section 1129(a)(15)(B) applies only to an individual case. As the Debtor is not an individual, § 1129(a)(15)(B) does not apply.

Section 1129(a)(16)

Section 1129(a)(16) provides: "All transfers of property under the plan shall be made in accordance with any applicable provisions of nonbankruptcy law that govern the transfer of property by a corporation or trust that is not a moneyed, business, or commercial corporation or trust."

The Debtor is a Corporation that engages in a business for profit and, therefore, § 1129(a)(16) does not apply.

Section 1129(d)

Section 1129(d) provides: "Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, on request of a party in interest that is a governmental unit, the court may not confirm a plan if the principal purpose of the plan is the avoidance of taxes or the avoidance of the application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933."

No governmental unit has requested that the court not confirm the Plan on the grounds that the Plan's purpose is the avoidance of taxes. The Plan was proposed in good faith, and the principal purpose of the Plan is to allow the Debtor to continue operating its business while paying creditors at least as much as they would receive in a Chapter 7 liquidation. The Plan satisfies § 1129(d).

Based on the foregoing, the Debtor's Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization is CONFIRMED.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Court: (1) APPROVES the Disclosure Statement as containing adequate information; and (2) CONFIRMS the Debtor's Amended Plan.

The Debtor shall lodge a confirming order within seven (7) days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. 5/17/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

5/17/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Debtor continues to occupy the property after a foreclosure sale held on July 17, 2017. The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on December 13, 2017.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

RE: [24] Motion for Default Judgment Under LBR 7055-01
fr: 10-18-17

Docket 24

Tentative Ruling:

5/21/2018

To enable the Trustee to correct a service defect, the hearing on the Motion is CONTINUED to June 20, 2018, at 10:00 a.m.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Motion for Default Judgment Under LBR 7055-1 [Doc. No. 31] (the "Motion")
 - a) Notice of Motion for Default Judgment [Doc. No. 32]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Shasa USA LLC (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on February 4, 2015 (the "Petition Date"). Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtor was a retailer in the women's "fast fashion" clothing industry, and competed with other fashion retailers such as Forever 21, H&M, Wet Seal, and Deb Shops. The Debtor updated the clothing and fashion accessories for sale at its retail stores on a monthly basis. The clothing and accessories sold by the Debtor were intended to be used a few times and then thrown away because the clothing was no longer fashionable. Consumers would return to the Debtor's stores to buy the current monthly fashion. Clothing and accessories sold by the Debtor were priced in the typical range of $5.00 to $15.00.

In the 90-day period prior to the Petition Date, the Debtor did not have sufficient funds to pay all its debts, and fell behind on its payments to creditors. During this time period, many of the Debtor's creditors contacted the Debtor and demanded that their bills be paid.

On January 30, 2017, the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") commenced this preference action against McGinn USA, Inc., d/b/a Plastic Island (the “Defendant”), seeking to avoid transfers in the total amount of $340,865.28 that the Debtor made to the Defendant during the ninety day period prior to the Petition Date. The Clerk of the Court entered Defendant’s default on March 21, 2017. The Trustee seeks entry of default judgment against the Defendant. A prior hearing on the Motion was conducted on October 18, 2017, but was continued because the Defendant commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition, Case No. 2:17-bk-21078-BR. The Defendant’s Chapter 7 petition was closed on December 19, 2017. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Service of the Motion was Inadequate

The Trustee commenced this action against McGinn USA, Inc. Aioli International, Inc. is the successor entity to McGinn USA, Inc. See Voluntary Chapter 7 Petition of Aioli International, Inc. [Doc. No. 1, Case No. 2:17-bk-21078-BR] at ¶2 (stating that Aioli International, Inc. was formerly known as McGinn USA, Inc.). According to the records of the California Secretary of State, Aioli International, Inc. was dissolved on May 3, 2018. To determine whether the Motion was properly served, the Court relies upon the documents that Aioli International has filed with the California Secretary of State.

Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 7004(b)(4)—made applicable to the instant Motion by Bankruptcy Rule 9014(b)—service upon a domestic corporation is effectuated “by mailing [the Motion] to the attention of an officer, a managing or general agent, or to any other agent authorized by appointment or by law to receive service of process and, if the agent is one authorized by statute to receive service and the statute so requires, by also mailing a copy to the defendant.” Cal. Civ. Proc. Code §416.10 provides that service upon a corporation may be made by serving the person that the corporation has designated as its agent for service of process; there is no requirement that both the agent for service of process and some other agent of the corporation be served.

Where, as here, a corporation has been dissolved, service upon the corporation’s agent for process is sufficient to provide the corporation actual notice of the litigation. See Pulte Homes Corp. v. Williams Mech., Inc., 2 Cal. App. 5th 267, 274, 206 Cal. Rptr. 3d 244, 250 (Cal. Ct. App. 2016) (“Here, however, Williams [the corporation] dissolved in 2012 and has been wound up; presumably it no longer has any directors, officers, agents or employees. At least under these circumstances, we believe that notice to the person designated by the corporation as its agent for service of process is actual notice. corporation has expressly held that person out to the world as authorized to receive notice of actions. Indeed, in the case before us, if actual notice to Morris [the agent for service of process] was not sufficient to make a default judgment stick, who else was there?”).

Here, the Trustee served the Motion upon Yun Jun Choi, the agent for service of process of the Defendant’s successor entity. However, the Motion was served upon Mr. Choi at an outdated address taken from the Statement of Information that Defendant filed with the California Secretary of State in 2016. Mr. Choi’s current address, as reflected in the Statement of Information filed in 2017, is as follows:

Chapter 11

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Rabenu Enterprises, LLC (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on May 20, 2018. The Debtor's primary asset is commercial real property located at 751-757 Towne Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90021 (the "Property"). The encumbrances against the Property are as follows:

- 1) Delinquent property taxes for the fiscal year 2017-18, owed to the Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector, in the amount of $48,020.61.
- 2) Delinquent property taxes for the fiscal year 2016, owed to the Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector, in the amount of $114,722.36.
- 3) First priority deed of trust, in favor of the State Bank of India ("SBIC"), in the principal amount of $2.8 million.
- 4) Second priority deed of trust, in favor of Hana Financial, in the principal amount of $200,000.
- 5) Third priority deed of trust, in favor of Investment Management Company, LLC ("IMC"), in the principal amount of $225,000.

The Debtor seeks authorization to borrow $3.6 million from The Evergreen Advantage, LLC ("Evergreen") (the $3.6 million loan, the "Evergreen Loan"). The Court set the hearing on the Motion on shortened notice, so that it could be heard prior to a motion for stay-relief and a motion to dismiss brought by SBIC, the holder of the first deed of trust. (SBIC's stay-relief motion is scheduled to be heard on June 4, 2018; its motion to dismiss is scheduled to be heard on June 20, 2018.)

The Evergreen Loan will be secured by a first priority deed of trust against the Property. The Debtor states that it was not able to obtain financing on more favorable terms. The Debtor intends to use the Evergreen Loan to pay off all indebtedness against the Property except for $50,000 owed to IMC, holder of the third deed of trust.

The Evergreen Loan is interest-only, with a balloon payment coming due in approximately nine months, on February 1, 2019. The loan carries an option for a three-month extension. The interest rate is 11%; monthly payments are approximately $33,000.

SBIC, the holder of the first deed of trust, filed a limited opposition to the Motion. SBIC does not oppose the Motion, provided that it is paid in full from the proceeds of the loan by no later than June 1, 2018. SBIC is concerned that the Motion is a delay tactic by the Debtor to prevent SBIC from exercising its remedies against the Property. In its upcoming motion for stay-relief and motion to dismiss, SBIC argues that the Debtor filed the petition in bad faith to hinder SBIC's foreclosure remedies, and that the Debtor has no ability to reorganize.

IMC, the holder of the third deed of trust, also filed a limited opposition to the Motion. According to IMC, the Motion does not accurately set forth the terms of a Subordination Agreement entered into between IMC and the Debtor. Per IMC, the Subordination Agreement provides that the Debtor shall pay IMC $100,000 from the proceeds of the Evergreen Loan. After payment of the $100,000, a balance of $225,000 will remain owing to IMC. The $225,000 balance will be subordinated to the Evergreen Loan. (The Motion states that the balance due to IMC that will be subordinated to the Evergreen Loan is only $50,000.) IMC does not oppose the Motion, provided that the Subordination Agreement is deemed to be approved by the Court in its entirety, and provided that the Motion is deemed to be corrected to accurately reflect the terms of the Subordination Agreement.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 364 provides in relevant part:

(c) If the trustee is unable to obtain unsecured credit allowable under section 503(b)(1) of this title as an administrative expense, the court, after notice and a hearing, may authorize the obtaining of credit or the incurring of debt—

- (1) with priority over any or all administrative expenses of the kind specified in section 503(b) or 507(b) of this title;
- (2) secured by a lien on property of the estate that is not otherwise subject to a lien; or
- (3) secured by a junior lien on property of the estate that is subject to a lien.

(d)(1) The court, after notice and a hearing, may authorize the obtaining of credit or the incurring of debt secured by a senior or equal lien on property of the estate that is subject to a lien only if—

- (A) the trustee is unable to obtain such credit otherwise; and
- (B) there is adequate protection of the interest of the holder of the lien on the property of the estate on which such senior or equal lien is proposed to be granted.

(2) In any hearing under this subsection, the trustee has the burden of proof on the issue of adequate protection.

Having reviewed the declaration of the Debtor's co-manager, Benjamin Saeedian, the Court finds that the Debtor has been unable to obtain financing on terms more favorable to the terms of the Evergreen Loan. Secured creditors are adequately protected because the proceeds of the Evergreen Loan will be sufficient to pay all secured creditors, other than IMC, in full. Whether IMC is adequately protected depends on the Subordination Agreement with the Debtor. There is an issue regarding this since the Subordination Agreement provides that IMC will receive $100,000 from the proceeds of the Evergreen Loan and will subordinate the $225,000 that remains owing on its promissory note to the Evergreen Loan. But, the Motion states that the amount to be paid to IMC from the loan proceeds is $50,000.

If the matter is resolved, the court is prepared to grant the Motion as follows: The Debtor is authorized to distribute the proceeds of the Evergreen Loan to secured creditors and to pay any reasonable fees and costs associated with closing the Evergreen Loan. To minimize litigation costs associated with SBIC's upcoming motion for stay-relief and motion to dismiss, the order approving the Motion shall take effect immediately upon entry, notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h).

The Debtor shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

- 6) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 4/30/2018. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- 7) A Pretrial Conference is set for 5/15/2018 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- 8) Trial is set for the week of 5/29/2018. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The Court's courtroom deputy will contact counsel 2-3 weeks prior and advise counsel which day of the week the matter will be tried. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.

The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Nathaniel Reinhardt or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

The Plaintiff in this matter is the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors for Chapter 11 Debtor Liberty Asset Management Corporation. [Note 1] On August 10, 2016, the Court approved a stipulation between Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") and Plaintiff which granted Plaintiff derivative standing to pursue this action on behalf of Liberty's estate. Bankr. Doc. No. 177. [Note 2]

On April 17, 2018, the Court entered an order dismissing Defendant Benjamin Kirk from this action. Adv. Doc. No. 91. As a result, the only remaining defendant is Tsai Luan Ho aka Shelby Ho ("Ms. Ho").

Plaintiff seeks to avoid, as actually and constructively fraudulent, certain transfers from Liberty to Ms. Ho, pursuant to §544 (applying Cal. Civ. Code §3439.04(a)(1)–(2)) and §548(a)(1)(A). Ms. Ho asserts a good-faith defense under §548(c), based upon the contention that she received the transfers as a commission for recruiting investors for Liberty. Ms. Ho further contends that Plaintiff has failed to establish that Liberty had any actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors.

On December 29, 2017, the Court entered judgment in favor of Plaintiff in a separate action commenced by Plaintiff against Lucy Gao and Benjamin Kirk. See Memorandum of Decision Finding that Plaintiff is Entitled to Judgment Against Defendants in the Amount of $74,140,695.29 [Doc. No. 141, Adv. No. 2:16-ap-01337-ER] (the "Memorandum of Decision") and Judgment in Favor of Plaintiff and Against Defendants, Jointly and Severally, in the Amount of $74,140,695.29 [Doc. No. 141, Adv. No. 2:16-ap-01337-ER] (the "Judgment").

In the Memorandum of Decision, the Court found that Ms. Gao and Mr. Kirk were liable to Liberty in the amount of approximately $74 million, for breaching their fiduciary duties to Liberty and for failing to properly account for Liberty's assets. The Court made various findings regarding Liberty's business operations, including that:

- 1) Investors contributed funds to Liberty that were earmarked for investments in specific properties, pursuant to investment contracts entered into between Liberty and the investors. Liberty did not use the funds in accordance with the investment contracts to purchase the properties for which the funds had been earmarked. Rather than segregating the funds contributed by each investor to insure that such funds were used for their intended purpose, Liberty treated all investor funds as a single capital pool. Liberty used this capital pool to attempt to acquire whatever property it was pursuing at the time, regardless of whether that property was the one specified by the investor. Memorandum of Decision at 6.

- 2) Liberty received approximately $36.26 million for the purchase of specified real properties from various investors, but failed to purchase any of the properties in question and failed to return any of the investors' funds. Id. at 7.
- 3) Liberty engaged in the business of acquiring and selling commercial properties. As of 2012, Liberty's business of acquiring and selling commercial properties was not profitable. Id. at 7.

At issue is whether Ms. Ho should be precluded from contesting any of the findings of fact made by the Court in the Memorandum of Decision. Ms. Ho argues that the Memorandum of Decision is irrelevant to this action, because she was not a party to the prior action and was not in privity with Mr. Kirk and Ms. Gao. Plaintiff asserts that the findings made by the Court in the Memorandum of Decision are relevant to this action.

For purposes of this action, the Court will treat as established the findings of fact regarding Liberty's business operations that are summarized in ¶¶1–3, above. Ms. Ho will be precluded from introducing any evidence or testimony contesting these findings of fact.

"Issue preclusion ... bars 'successive litigation of an issue of fact or law actually litigated and resolved in a valid court determination essential to the prior judgment,' even if the issue recurs in the context of a different claim." Taylor v. Sturgell, 553 U.S. 880, 892–93, 128 S. Ct. 2161, 2171–72, 171 L. Ed. 2d 155 (2008). As the Ninth Circuit has held:

[Issue preclusion] is not generally applicable unless there exists either identity or privity between the parties to the relevant litigation. The person being estopped from relitigating an issue must have been either a party to the prior lawsuit or have been so closely related to the interest of the party to be fairly considered to have had his day in court.... Privity exists when there is "substantial identity" between parties, that is, when there is sufficient commonality of interest.

United States v. Gottheiner (In re Gottheiner), 703 F.2d 1136, 1139 (9th Cir. 1983).

Subsequent Ninth Circuit decisions have found that privity exists "when two parties are so closely aligned in interest that one is the virtual representative of the other." Irwin v. Mascott, 370 F.3d 924, 929 (9th Cir. 2004) (citing Nordhorn v. Ladish Co., Inc., 9 F.3d 1402, 1405 (9th Cir. 1993)). As further explained by the Ninth Circuit:

A close relationship between the named party and the nonparty supports a finding of virtual representation.... An identity of relevant interests between the named party and the non-party is necessary to such a finding.... Finally, adequate representation by the named party is a pre-requisite to a finding of virtual representation.

Irwin, 370 F.3d at 929–30.

With respect to the Court's findings of fact regarding Liberty's business operations, Mr. Kirk qualifies as the virtual representative of Ms. Ho. First, in the Pretrial Stipulation, the parties have stipulated to facts establishing a close relationship between Mr. Kirk and Ms. Ho. Mr. Kirk was the president and CEO of Liberty, and Ms. Ho raised millions of dollars for Liberty by recruiting investors. Second, with respect to the issues of fact found by the Court regarding Liberty's business operations, Mr. Kirk and Ms. Ho's interests are aligned. The Court's findings that Liberty failed to use investor funds in accordance with the relevant Investment Contracts, lost approximately $36 million in investor funds, and was not profitable subsequent to 2012 are adverse to both Mr. Kirk and Ms. Ho. As to Mr. Kirk, these findings aided in establishing Plaintiff's claim that Mr. Kirk breached his fiduciary duties to Liberty. As to Ms. Ho, these findings form one component of the Plaintiff's claim that transfers from Liberty to Ms. Ho are avoidable as actually and constructively fraudulent. For example, the findings that Liberty misappropriated investor funds and was not profitable subsequent to 2012 lends support to Plaintiff's contention that Liberty was a Ponzi scheme. A finding that Liberty was a Ponzi scheme in turn supports Plaintiff's contention that the transfers at issue were fraudulent. In the Ninth Circuit, a debtor's intent to engage in a fraudulent transfer is established where the debtor operated a Ponzi scheme. Barclay v. Mackenzie (In re AFI Holding, Inc.), 525 F.3d 700, 704 (9th Cir. 2008).

Finally, with respect to the issues regarding Liberty's business operations, Mr. Kirk adequately represented Ms. Ho's interests in the prior litigation. As set forth in the Memorandum of Decision, Mr. Kirk testified at length in the prior litigation. Through his testimony, Mr. Kirk attempted—albeit unsuccessfully—to contest

#13.00 HearingRE: [111] Motion / The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Motion In Limine to Exclude Previously Undisclosed Evidence (Greenwood, Gail)

Docket 111

Tentative Ruling:

5/25/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Committee's Motion In Limine is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Motion In Limine to Exclude Evidence (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 111]
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file as of 5/24/18

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

The Plaintiff in this matter is the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors for Chapter 11 Debtor Liberty Asset Management Corporation. [Note 1] On August 10, 2016, the Court approved a stipulation between Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") and Plaintiff which granted Plaintiff derivative standing to pursue this action on behalf of Liberty's estate. Bankr. Doc. No. 177. [Note 2]

On April 17, 2018, the Court entered an order dismissing Defendant Benjamin Kirk from this action. Adv. Doc. No. 91. As a result, the only remaining defendant is Tsai Luan Ho.

On March 27, 2018, the Court denied Ms. Ho's Motion to Reopen Discovery and Vacate Trial Date [Adv. Doc. No. 78] (the "Discovery Motion"). Adv. Doc. No. 84. In the Discovery Motion, Ms. Ho sought an extension of the discovery cutoff date established in the Court's Scheduling Order. The Court found that Ms. Ho was not entitled to modification of the deadlines set forth in the Scheduling Order because she had not diligently pursued discovery:

Ms. Ho maintains that discovery must be reopened because she has recently discovered evidence that her signatures on documents associated with the Mega Bank account were forged. However, communications between Ms. Ho's prior counsel and the Committee's counsel establish that Ms. Ho was aware of the alleged forgeries prior to the June 30, 2017 discovery cutoff. On June 13, 2017, Ms. Ho's prior counsel sent the Committee's counsel an e-mail which states in relevant part:

While you are waiting for my documents I am voluntarily sending you the documents we received from Mega Bank as it relates to the 88 San Fernando LLC account.

I have confirmed that each signature that which appears to be my client's has been forged.

You will see that it was set up by Vanessa and the money was deposited into this account and then went out over forged signatures.

Maybe you can find some money from the true actors.

See Opposition at Ex. C [Doc. No. 80].

Therefore, Ms. Ho had the opportunity to conduct whatever discovery she deemed necessary with respect to the alleged forgeries associated with the Mega Bank account. For unknown reasons, Ms. Ho, a real estate and business professional advised by sophisticated counsel, failed to undertake such discovery. Unfortunately, Ms. Ho's lack of diligence is not good cause for setting aside the litigation deadlines governing these proceedings.

Final Ruling Denying the Discovery Motion [Doc. No. 83] at 5.

The Court explained that although Ms. Ho's lack of diligence was by itself sufficient cause to deny the Discovery Motion, an examination of the other factors which the Court could consider in connection with a request to modify a scheduling order also supported denial of the Discovery Motion:

In ruling on a motion to amend a scheduling order to reopen discovery, the following factors may be considered:

- 1) whether trial is imminent,
- 2) whether the request is opposed,
- 3) whether the non-moving party would be prejudiced,
- 4) whether the moving party was diligent in obtaining discovery within the guidelines established by the court,
- 5) the foreseeability of the need for additional discovery in light of the time allowed for discovery by the district court, and

6) the likelihood that the discovery will lead to relevant evidence.

City of Pomona v. SQM N. Am. Corp., 866 F.3d 1060, 1066 (9th Cir. 2017).

Upon consideration of the Pomona factors, the Court finds that Ms. Ho has failed to establish good cause to reopen discovery and to continue the trial date. The Court places substantial weight upon factor six, the likelihood that the discovery will lead to relevant evidence. This factor is challenging to apply in practice, as it is impossible to know precisely what additional evidence further discovery will yield. Further, in applying this factor, the Court must also be mindful of Civil Rule 26(b)(1), which provides that discovery must be "proportional to the needs of the case, considering the importance of the issues at stake in the action, the amount in controversy, the parties' relative access to relevant information, the parties' resources, the importance of the discovery in resolving the issues, and whether the burden or expense of the proposed discovery outweighs its likely benefit."

Recognizing that its determination is not an exact science, the Court finds that Ms. Ho has failed to establish that it is likely that further discovery will produce material relevant evidence. Prior to expiration of discovery cutoff date, Ms. Ho was represented by Dykema, a sophisticated law firm. At the time it sought leave to withdraw from representing Ms. Ho, Dykema had billed Ms. Ho $363,068.93 for services rendered. Thus, Dykema's attorneys expended substantial work in connection with this case. Further, counsel had ample time to pursue discovery into relevant issues. The discovery cutoff date of June 30, 2017 gave Ms. Ho approximately one year to conduct discovery (the Complaint was filed on August 16, 2016).

The Court cannot rule out the possibility that Dykema may have overlooked potentially promising areas which, if pursued by Ms. Ho's new counsel, could yield potential evidence. Such an outcome, while possible, is unlikely, particularly given the posture in which the instant Motion comes before the Court. First, the Motion relies substantially upon the Mega Bank account statements as the justification for reopening discovery. But the e-mail excerpted above clearly establishes that Ms. Ho's prior counsel was fully aware of the possibility that the signatures contained on the Mega Bank statements were forgeries. Why, then, did present counsel wait until now to seek to reopen discovery? The most plausible explanation is that the instant Motion is nothing more than a belated attempt by Ms. Ho to enhance her negotiating leverage after mediation before Rebecca Callahan proved unsuccessful. That conclusion is bolstered by the fact that Ms. Ho's new counsel advised the Court on November 14, 2017, that it did "not believe at this time that discovery has to be reopened."

Factor five, foreseeability of the need for additional discovery in light of the time allowed for discovery by the court, weighs against granting the Motion. The discovery cutoff deadline allowed approximately one year for discovery to be conducted. A one-year discovery period is proportional to the needs of this case. The Complaint seeks damages against Ms. Ho "in excess of $13 million." While this is a substantial amount, the damages sought are not so high as to warrant years of discovery.

Factor four, Ms. Ho's lack of diligence, weighs against granting the Motion, for the reasons discussed above. Factor one, the imminence of trial, and factor two, the Committee's opposition to the Motion, also weigh against reopening discovery.

Final Ruling Denying the Discovery Motion [Doc. No. 83] at 5–7.

On April 18, 2018, the Court entered an order approving the Final Joint Pretrial Stipulation Between the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors, Tsai Luan Ho, and Benjamin Kirk as Modified by the Court [Doc. No. 89] (the "Pretrial Stipulation"). See Order After Pretrial Conference [Doc. No. 93]. The Pretrial Stipulation contains a list of exhibits which Ms. Ho may seek to introduce into evidence.

Plaintiff moves to exclude Ms. Ho from relying upon exhibits which she failed to produce during discovery. Plaintiff's Motion was filed before Ms. Ho had served her exhibits upon the Plaintiff, so the Motion does not identify the exhibits which Plaintiff seeks to exclude by exhibit letter. [Note 3] Instead, the Motion refers to the exhibits to which Plaintiff objects as the "New Documents."

Summary of Plaintiff's Motion in Limine

Plaintiff moves in limine to prevent Ms. Ho from relying upon the New Documents at trial, and makes the following arguments in support of the Motion:

- 1) The Court should exclude the New Documents and any related testimony for the same reasons that the Court denied Ms. Ho's Discovery Motion. Ms. Ho had sufficient time to conduct discovery and failed to demonstrate diligence or good cause for reopening discovery.

- 2) The New Documents should be excluded pursuant to Civil Rule 37(c)(1) because Ms. Ho failed to produce them during discovery.
- 3) The New Documents should be excluded because they are irrelevant. Plaintiff seeks to avoid fraudulent transfers from Liberty to Ms. Ho. The New Documents purport to establish that Ms. Ho received no benefit from the fraudulent transfers. For example, certain of the New Documents purport to show that some of funds Ms. Ho received from Liberty were used to pay homeowners' association fees and other carrying costs associated with properties located at (a) 126 Atherton Avenue, Atherton, CA (the "Atherton Property") and (b) 88 E. San Fernando, San Jose, CA (the "San Jose Units"). The Atherton Property and San Jose Units were sold in Chapter 11 bankruptcy cases pending in the Northern District of California, and Ms. Ho did not receive any proceeds from the sales. However, whether Ms. Ho received any benefit from the fraudulent transfers has no relevance to the issue at hand. The issue is whether the transfers themselves were fraudulent, not whether such fraudulent transfers benefitted Ms. Ho.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Ms. Ho's attempt to introduce the New Documents at trial is not well taken. In its Final Ruling Denying the Discovery Motion, the Court set forth in detail the reasons why Ms. Ho would not be permitted to reopen discovery. Ms. Ho's attempt to introduce the New Documents at trial is a frivolous attempt to circumvent the Court's previous ruling which will not be tolerated.

Exclusion of the New Documents is also required under Civil Rule 37(c)(1). [Note 4] Civil Rule 26(a)(1)(A)(ii) requires parties to produce all documents that they may use to support their claims and defenses. Civil Rule 37(c) provides that a party who fails to timely produce the information required by Rule 26 may not rely upon that information at trial, "unless the failure was substantially justified or is harmless." The burden is on the non-compliant party to "demonstrate that failure to comply with Rule 26(a) is substantially justified or harmless." Torres v. City of Los Angeles, 548 F.3d 1197, 1213 (9th Cir. 2008). Exclusion of evidence under Rule 37(c) does not require the Court "to make a finding of willfulness or bad faith," and the "implementation of the sanction is appropriate 'even when a litigant's entire cause of action ... [will be] precluded.'" Hoffman v. Constr. Protective Servs., Inc., 541 F.3d 1175, 1180 (9th Cir. 2008).

Chapter 11

Ms. Ho's attempt to introduce the New Documents is neither harmless nor substantially justified. To the contrary, in view of the Court's previous denial of Ms. Ho's motion to reopen discovery, Ms. Ho's attempt to introduce the New Documents is in bad faith and would be prejudicial to the Plaintiff.

Finally, the New Documents are irrelevant and must be excluded pursuant to Evidence Rule 402. At issue is whether Plaintiff is entitled to avoid certain transfers from Liberty to Ms. Ho as actually or constructively fraudulent. The New Documents purport to show that Ms. Ho did not benefit from the transfers because some of the transferred funds were used to maintain properties that were ultimately sold. Ms. Ho argues that she did not benefit from the sales because the sales proceeds were used exclusively to pay creditors.

The Court makes no finding as to whether Ms. Ho benefitted from the transfers, because such a finding has no bearing upon whether the transfers were fraudulent. [Note 5] The issue is whether Plaintiff can establish that the transfers were actually fraudulent pursuant to §544 (applying Cal. Civ. Code §3439.04(a)(1)) and §548(a)(1)(A), or constructively fraudulent pursuant to §544 (applying Cal. Civ. Code §3439.04(a)(2)). Under §548(a)(1)(A), a transfer is avoidable as actually fraudulent if the debtor makes the transfer "with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud" the debtor's creditors. Cal. Civ. Code §3439.04(a)(1), made applicable by §544, contains a similar standard. Under Cal. Civ. Code §3439.04(a)(2), a transfer is avoidable as constructively fraudulent if (a) the debtor does not receive reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfer, and (b) the debtor was engaged in a business for which the remaining assets of the debtor were unreasonably small in relation to the business, or intended to incur debts beyond the debtor's ability to repay.

None of these standards contain any requirement that the fraudulent transferee ultimately receive any benefit on account of the fraudulent transfer. Certainly some fraudulent transferees benefit from receiving a fraudulent transfer. But in many cases fraudulent transferees choose to receive transfers only to help the debtor evade creditors, with no personal benefit to themselves. This often occurs in situations where the fraudulent transferee is a family member or close friend of the debtor, and the debtor retains control or possession of the fraudulently-transferred property. Therefore, the question of whether Ms. Ho received any personal benefit in connection with the transfers has no relevance to the adjudication of whether the transfers are avoidable as fraudulent.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. Ms. Ho may not rely upon the New Documents at trial. Plaintiff shall submit an order, incorporating this

The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Since a chapter 7 case does not contemplate reorganization, the sole issue before the Court when stay relief is sought under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) is whether the Debtor has equity in the property. See e.g. Nev. Nat'l Bank v. Casbul of Nev., Inc. (In re Casgul of Nev., Inc.), 22 B.R. 65, 66 (9th Cir. BAP 1982); Ramco Indus. v. Preuss (In re Preuss), 15 B.R. 896 (9th Cir. BAP 1981).

The subject property has a value of $1,318,951.00 and is encumbered by a perfected deed of trust or mortgage in favor of the Movant. The liens against the property and the expected costs of sale total $1,624,688.60. The Court finds there is no equity and there is no evidence that the trustee can administer the subject real property for the benefit of creditors. Additionally, the Court notes that the Debtor did not list the property in the Debtor's Schedules.

Further, the Court finds that there are facts presented in the Motion sufficient for the court to find bad faith pursuant to § 362(d)(4). Debtor's filing of the petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors that involved: (a) the transfer of all or part ownership of, or interest in, the Property without the consent of Movant or court approval; and (b) multiple bankruptcy cases affecting the Property. "Declaration of Beatrice Birbal" at para. 18. The Court does not make any finding as to whether the Debtor was involved in this bad faith scheme.

The 14-day period specified in Fed.R.Bankr.P. 4001(a)(3) is waived. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. If recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in real property, the order shall be binding in any other case under this title purporting to affect such real property filed not later than 2 years after the date of the entry of such order by the Court, except that a debtor in a subsequent case under this title may move for relief from such order based upon changed circumstances or for good cause shown, after notice and a hearing.

The stay is annulled retroactive to the petition date, so that enforcement actions taken by Movant, if any, before receipt of notice of the automatic stay will not be deemed to have been voided by the automatic stay.

All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Cameron Schlagel, the Judge's law clerks at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Docket 1

 VACATED  REASON: STATUS CONFERENCE 7-24-18 AT 10:00 A.M.

Tentative Ruling:

7/10/2017 (amended after hearing): The Committee and Ms. Ho engaged in a day-long session of mediation on June 26, 2017, and a second mediation session is scheduled to take place on July 26, 2017. Based upon the request of both the Committee and Ms. Ho that trial not be scheduled until 2018 in order to reduce attorneys' fees, the Court ORDERS that the following dates shall apply:

A continued status conference will take place on October 17, 2017, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report, which should discuss the status of settlement negotiations between the Committee and Ms. Ho, must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

A pretrial conference will take place on January 16, at 11:00 a.m. A Joint Pretrial Stipulation must be submitted, via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system, by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

Trial will take place during the week of February 26, 2018. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The Court's courtroom deputy will contact counsel 2-3 weeks prior and advise counsel which day of the week the matter will be tried. Docket 22

Tentative Ruling:

5/31/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on July 6, 2017.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

Furthermore, the Court finds that there is sufficient evidence to grant relief

The Court has set hard deadlines by which the Debtor and Red Booth must obtain approval of the First Amended Joint Disclosure Statement, and confirm the First Amended Joint Plan. In its ruling extending the preliminary injunction, the Court recognized that “Issuance of a § 105(a) preliminary injunction is a powerful remedy that the Court does not employ lightly,” and, therefore, the Court stated that the preliminary injunction was extended “to afford the Debtor the protection of a preliminary injunction for the brief period of time necessary for the Debtor to obtain timely confirmation and approval of the First Amended Plan.” Adv. Docket 16

Tentative Ruling:

5/31/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Court finds that the Motion is moot.

This is a hearing on the "Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. section 362" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 29] filed by the State Bank of India (California) ("SBIC"). On May 22, 2018, the Court held a hearing on the Debtor's "Motion for Order Authorizing Refinancing of Secured Debt and Related Relief" (the "Refinancing Motion") [Doc. No. 20]. See also Tentative Ruling at Doc. No. 46. The Movant, SBIC, filed a Limited Opposition to the Refinancing Motion [Doc. No. 39] stating that SBIC did not oppose the Refinancing Motion provided that SBIC was paid in full from the proceeds of the loan no later than June 1, 2018. See also Tentative Ruling at Doc. No. 46. After the hearing on the Refinancing Motion, and on the same date, the Court entered the Order Granting the Refinancing Motion [Doc. No. 47], pursuant to which the proceeds of the loan were to be distributed by the Debtor to pay, among other claims, the Movant's claim in full.

In light of the Order Granting the Refinancing Motion, and it appearing that the Movant's claim was paid in full from the proceeds of the loan--in the absence of any evidence or argument to the contrary--the Motion is moot.

Tentative Ruling:

5/31/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Court GRANTS the Motion pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit the Movants to proceed under applicable non-bankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the non-bankruptcy forum, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtor or estate property.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Action in Nonbankruptcy Forum) (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 16]
- 2) No Opposition to the Motion has been filed as of the date of this tentative ruling

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Rabenu Enterprises, LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on April 20, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. On May 9, 2018, Logan Mortgage, Inc. (the "Movant") filed the "Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Action in Nonbankruptcy Forum)" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 16].

The Motion

The Motion seeks stay-relief pursuant to § 362(d)(1), so that the Movant may proceed under applicable nonbankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the nonbankruptcy forum in an action currently pending in the California Superior Court, County of Los Angeles, captioned Logan Mortgage, Inc. v. Rabenu Enterprises, et al., Case No. BC671887 (the "State Court Action"). The State Court Action was filed on August 10, 2017. Trial is estimated to require 2 days of trial/hearings. The Complaint in the State Court Action asserts claims for: breach of written contract; and quantum meruit. A mandatory settlement conference is scheduled for July and the Movant is in the midst of taking discovery. The Debtor is a co-defendant in the State Court Action along with certain non-debtors.

The Movant contends that cause exists to grant stay-relief under §362(d)(1) for the following reasons:

- (1) The Movants seek recovery primarily from third parties and agrees that the stay will remain in effect as to the enforcement of any resulting judgment against the Debtor or bankruptcy estate, except that Movant will retain the right to file a proof of claim under 11 U.S.C. § 501 and/or an adversary complaint under 11 U.S.C. § 523 or § 727 in this bankruptcy case.
- (2) Mandatory abstention applies under 28 U.S.C. § 1334(c)(2), and Movant agrees that the stay will remain in effect as to the enforcement of any resulting judgment against the Debtor or bankruptcy estate, except that Movant will retain the right to file a proof of claim under 11 U.S.C. § 501 and/or an adversary complaint under 11 U.S.C. § 523 or § 727 in this bankruptcy case.
- (3) The claims arise under nonbankruptcy law and can be most expeditiously resolved in the nonbankruptcy forum, because the State Court Action involves non-debtor parties and a single trial in the nonbankruptcy forum is the most efficient use of judicial resources.

The Movant seeks to proceed under applicable nonbankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the nonbankruptcy forum, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtor or property of the Debtor's bankruptcy estate. The Movant also requests waiver of the 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

summary proceeding that does not involve an adjudication of the merits of the underlying claims. As recognized by the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel in In re Luz Int'l, Ltd.:

Given the limited grounds for obtaining a motion for relief from stay, read in conjunction with the expedited schedule for a hearing on the motion, most courts hold that motion for relief from stay hearings should not involve an adjudication of the merits of claims, defenses, or counterclaims, but simply determine whether the creditor has a colorable claim to the property of the estate. See In re Johnson, 756 F.2d 738, 740 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 474 U.S. 828, 106 S.Ct. 88, 88 L.Ed.2d 72 (1985) ("Hearings on relief from the automatic stay are thus handled in a summary fashion. The validity of the claim or contract underlying the claim is not litigated during the hearing.").

The automatic stay of 11 U.S.C. § 362(a) stays all action involving the following, in pertinent part:

- (1) the commencement or continuation, including the issuance or employment of process of a judicial, administrative, or other action or proceeding against the debtor that was or could have been commenced before the commencement of the case under this title, or to recover a claim against the debtor that arose before the commencement of the case under this title.

11 U.S.C. § 362(a)(1).

Section 362(d)(1) permits a bankruptcy court to grant relief from the automatic stay upon a showing of "cause." Cause is a flexible concept and courts often conduct a fact intensive, case-by-case balancing test, examining the totality of the circumstances to determine whether sufficient cause exists to lift the stay. In re SCO Grp., Inc., 395 B.R. 852, 856 (Bankr. D. Del. 2007) (citing Baldino v. Wilson (In re Wilson), 116 F.3d 87, 90 (3d Cir. 1997); In re Laguna Assocs. Ltd., 30 F.3d 734, 737 (7th Cir.

1994)); In re MacDonald, 755 F.2d 715, 717 (9th Cir. 1985). "Among factors appropriate to consider in determining whether relief from the automatic stay should be granted to allow state court proceedings to continue are considerations of judicial economy and the expertise of the state court." In re Kronemyer, 405 B.R. 915, 921 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2009) (citing In re MacDonald, 755 F.2d 715, 717 (9th Cir. 1985)).

Here, to the extent the automatic stay applies under the circumstances described above, the Court finds that the causes of actions in the state court complaint attached to the Motion involve state law violations and are within the expertise of the state court. Allowing the Movant to continue the State Court Action will best promote the judicial economy by adjudicating a final judgment as to the underlying claims that may either support or negate the filing of a proof of claim and/or an adversary complaint. Therefore, the factors set forth in In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984) mitigate in favor of relief from stay.

Based on the foregoing, to the extent the automatic stay applies, the Court GRANTS the Motion pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit the Movant to proceed under applicable non-bankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the nonbankruptcy forum, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtor or estate property. The Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim or any other claim against the Debtor or property of the estate, except that the Movant will retain the right to file a proof of claim and/or an adversary complaint under §§523 or 727. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. Relief from stay is not necessary as to non-debtors, but the order may include them so that the action may proceed as set forth above.

The Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

6/4/2018

Plaintiff states that the parties have been discussing settlement and requests a one-month continuance of the status conference to see if the case can be settled. The Court will hold a continued status conference in one month as requested by the Plaintiff, but will maintain the previously ordered litigation deadlines. In the Court's experience, the maintenance of litigation deadlines is the best means of facilitating settlement. Accordingly, the Court HEREBY ORDERS as follows:

- 1) The dates previously ordered shall continue to apply, as follows:
 - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 7/12/2018.
 - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 10/30/2018.
 - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 11/29/2018.
 - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 12/19/2018. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 12/26/2018. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for

(If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 1/15/2019 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
 - h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
 - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
 - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.

2) The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

The Court will enter a Scheduling Order. Plaintiff shall submit the order assigning the matter to mediation.

Tentative Ruling:

6/4/2018

The Answer to the Complaint was signed by Lorenzo Arteaga and Angelica M. Arteaga as "Defendants in pro se." However, the Answer was electronically filed via CM/ECF by attorney Michael F. Checkian at 8:17 p.m. on April 9, 2018.

Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 9011-2(b)(1) states that the "electronic filing or lodging of a document by a Filer through the CM/ECF ... system, constitutes a signature on that document by such Filer and shall subject the Filer to the same consequences as if the Filer had signed such document by hand, including sanctions under FRBP 9011 and liability for perjury." LBR 9011-2(b)(1) further provides that the electronic filing of a document through CM/ECF constitutes a signature on the document by the filer even if the document does not include in the signature block an "/s/" followed by the name of the filer.

Pursuant to LBR 9011-2(b)(1), by electronically filing the Answer on behalf of the Defendants, Mr. Checkian is deemed to have signed the Answer, notwithstanding the absence of his signature upon the Answer itself. By signing the Answer, Mr. Checkian is deemed to have made an appearance on behalf of the Defendants, and he will be treated as the Defendants' counsel of record, unless the Court authorizes him to withdraw from representation. The Clerk of the Court is directed to update the docket to reflect Mr. Checkian's representation of the Defendants.

The Court notes that in addition to filing and apparently drafting the Answer on behalf of the Defendants, Mr. Checkian has performed other legal services for the Defendants in this litigation. In response to the Court's Order to Comply, Plaintiff's counsel, Karen Ragland, filed a declaration stating that she received a proposed Status Report from the Defendants from Mr. Checkian.

HEREBY ORDERS as follows:

- 1) The dates previously ordered shall continue to apply, as follows:
 - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 7/12/2018.
 - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 10/30/2018.
 - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 11/29/2018.
 - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 12/19/2018. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 12/26/2018. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 12/29/2018. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 1/15/2019 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.

- i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
- ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.
- iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.

#8.00 Status Hearing RE: [1] Adversary case 2:18-ap-01069. Complaint by Jesus J Nevarez against Shellpoint Mortgage Servicing , Quality Loan Servicing Corp , Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc , Bank of America N.A. . (Fee Not Required). Nature of Suit: (21 (Validity, priority or extent of lien or other interest in property)) ,(71 (Injunctive relief - reinstatement of stay)) ,(81 (Subordination of claim or interest)) ,(91 (Declaratory judgment)) ,(01 (Determination of removed claim or cause))(Serrano, Vera)

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

6/4/2018

In this action, Jesus Jose Nevarez ("Plaintiff"), proceeding in pro se, seeks a judgment (1) enjoining Shellpoint Mortgage Servicing ("Defendant") from foreclosing upon his residential property (the "Property") and requiring Defendant to modify Plaintiff's loan; (2) requiring Defendant to provide Plaintiff all paperwork pertaining to Plaintiff's loan; (3) requiring Defendant to submit a Proof of Claim in Plaintiff's underlying Chapter 7 bankruptcy case; and (4) requiring Defendant to provide to Plaintiff all records pertaining to any payments that Defendant has received on account of Plaintiff's loan.

By separate order, the Court will require Plaintiff to show cause why this action should not be dismissed, pursuant to Civil Rule 12(b)(6), for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. See Omar v. Sea-Land Service, Inc., 813 F.2d 986, 991 (9th Cir. 1987) ("A trial court may dismiss a claim sua sponte under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6)"). The previously ordered litigation deadlines are VACATED. In the Order to Show Cause, the Court will require Plaintiff to address the Preliminary Findings set forth below.

Preliminary Findings

The Complaint alleges that Defendant refused to provide the requested loan documents to Plaintiff in view of the automatic stay arising in Plaintiff's Chapter 7 case. Transmission of such loan documents could be construed as an attempt to collect a debt in violation of the stay; thus, Defendant's refusal to provide the documents did not violate applicable law.

On March 9, 2018, the Court entered an order confirming that a loan modification discussion would not violate the automatic stay. Bankr. Doc. No. 16. Plaintiff filed the instant Complaint shortly thereafter, on March 13, 2018, possibly before Defendant had received notice of the order. Therefore, it appears that the issues regarding Defendant's alleged refusal to provide loan documents may have been resolved.

The Complaint fails to allege specific facts showing that Defendant is barred from exercising its remedies, including foreclosure, with respect to the Property. See Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (requiring that a Complaint set forth specific facts showing that the pleader is entitled to relief, as opposed to threadbare, conclusory allegations). Nor does the Complaint allege any specific facts showing that the terms of the note require Defendant to offer Plaintiff a loan modification. Finally, the Complaint's demand that Defendant be required to file a Proof of Claim fails as a matter of law because this is a no-asset case in which creditors are not required to file Proofs of Claim.

Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, by separate order the Court will require the Plaintiff to show cause why this action should not be dismissed, pursuant to Civil Rule 12(b)(6). The previously-ordered litigation deadlines are VACATED. The Court will enter an appropriate order.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

6/4/2018

Trial is currently set for the week of January 28, 2019. Plaintiff requests that trial take place during the week of February 4, 2019, because of a conflict with trial in another action in which settlement does not appear to be possible. Defendant is also amenable to trial during the week of February 4, 2019.

The week of February 4, 2019 is not available for trials; however, the Court will continue the trial to the week of February 25, 2019. Associated litigation deadlines will also be continued so that they correspond to the continued trial date.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS as follows:

- 1) The following dates shall apply to this proceeding:
 - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 8/16/2018.
 - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 11/27/2018.

Appearances required.

On September 14, 2017, the Court approved a settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") resolving this action. See Doc. Nos. 419, 428, and 433, Case No. 2:16-bk-13575-ER. The material terms of the Settlement Agreement are as follows:

- 1) Defendants shall pay Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") $1 million (the "Settlement Payment"). Settlement Agreement at ¶1 [Doc. No. 419 at Ex. A, Case No. 2:16-bk-13575]. Upon full payment of the Settlement Amount, Liberty "will promptly file a notice or stipulation of dismissal of the action." Id. at ¶6.
- 2) Defendants shall execute and deliver to Liberty a Stipulated Judgment against Defendants and in favor of Liberty in the amount of $1.5 million. Liberty shall not record the Stipulated Judgment unless Defendants fail to make the Settlement Payment. Settlement Agreement at ¶2.
- 3) Defendants shall use their best efforts to sell property located at 17634 Bellflower Boulevard, CA (the "Bellflower Property") to a third party within twelve months (the "Sale Period"). Settlement Agreement at ¶3. Defendants shall receive the first $150,000 of the sales proceeds (net of certain costs), with Liberty to receive the balance. If the Bellflower Property is not sold within the Sale Period, Liberty shall have the option, subject to Bankruptcy Court approval, to purchase the Bellflower Property from Defendants for $150,000. Id. at ¶5.

Defendants have made the Settlement Payment. At a Status Conference conducted on March 6, 2018, Defendants stated that issues remain regarding the sale of the Bellflower Property:

Defendant wants to sell the [Bellflower Property] but has not yet received approval by [Liberty] (although Defendant has the right to sell the property, without such written approval). If the matter cannot be resolved between the parties it will require Defendant to file a Motion with the Court seeking approval of the sale of the dilapidated [Bellflower Property] to an adjoining landowner for its fair market value as provided to [Liberty], in writing, by Defendant. Therefore, the case should not be dismissed and a further status conference [should be] set out for 75 days.

Joint Status Report [Doc. No. 89] at ¶G.

At the March 6 Status Conference, Liberty asserted that because the Settlement Amount had been paid, it has "circulated a stipulation for dismissal ... and will file [the] stipulation once it is signed by Defendant." Id. at ¶G.

The Court made the following findings at the March 6 Status Conference:

In the Court's view, dismissal of the action at this juncture would be premature, given that the issues regarding the Bellflower Property have not been resolved and given that Defendants have not consented to execution of a stipulation for dismissal. However, on the present record, there is no compelling reason why consummation of the Settlement Agreement's provisions regarding sale of the Bellflower Property should require Court intervention. Those provisions are straightforward and the Court expects the parties to negotiate and resolve any issues regarding the sale in good faith.

Final Ruling at 5–6.

In the Status Report filed in connection with this Status Conference, the parties make conflicting representations regarding the Bellflower Property. Plaintiff states that the sales and marketing efforts of the Bellflower Property are continuing; Defendants state that the Bellflower Property has been sold. The parties must appear to clarify this inconsistency.

If the Bellflower Property has in fact been sold, the Court would be inclined to approve a stipulated dismissal of this action, with the Court retaining jurisdiction to enforce the terms of the Settlement Agreement.

 - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.
 - iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
 - iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii).

Nature of Suit: (01 (Determination of removed claim or cause)) (Steinberg, Peter)

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

6/4/2018

Beverly Hills South Pacific Surgery Center, Inc., the Defendant herein and the Debtor in the underlying Chapter 11 case, removed this action to the Bankruptcy Court on April 19, 2018. Prior to the removal, trial before the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court") was set for March 19, 2018. The Debtor and Defendant filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on March 15, 2018.

According to the Complaint, Plaintiff entered into a contract to provide medical billing and collection services to the Debtor and Defendant on June 26, 2009. The Complaint alleges that the Debtor and Defendant breached the contract, and seeks damages in excess of $400,000.

By separate order, the Court will require the Debtor and Defendant to show cause why this action should not be remanded to the State Court. Title 28 U.S.C §1452 provides that the Court may remand an action "on any equitable ground." Courts consider the following factors in determining whether equitable grounds support remand:

- 1) the effect or lack thereof on the efficient administration of the estate if the Court recommends [remand or] abstention;
- 2) the extent to which state law issues predominate over bankruptcy issues;
- 3) the difficult or unsettled nature of applicable law;
- 4) the presence of related proceeding commenced in state court or other nonbankruptcy proceeding;

- 5) the jurisdictional basis, if any, other than § 1334;
- 6) the degree of relatedness or remoteness of proceeding to main bankruptcy case;
- 7) the substance rather than the form of an asserted core proceeding;
- 8) the feasibility of severing state law claims from core bankruptcy matters to allow judgments to be entered in state court with enforcement left to the bankruptcy court;
- 9) the burden on the bankruptcy court's docket;
- 10) the likelihood that the commencement of the proceeding in bankruptcy court involves forum shopping by one of the parties;
- 11) the existence of a right to a jury trial;
- 12) the presence in the proceeding of nondebtor parties;
- 13) comity; and
- 14) the possibility of prejudice to other parties in the action.

Citigroup, Inc. v. Pacific Investment Management Co., LLC (In re Enron Corp.), 296 B.R. 505, 509 n. 2 (C.D. Cal. 2003).

In the Court's view, multiple Enron facts support remand. First, with respect to factor one, remand will not impair the efficient administration of the estate. After the State Court determines Debtor and Defendant's liability and damages, if any, the Debtor can seek confirmation of a Chapter 11 Plan. Second, with respect to factor two, the action involves only issues of state law. Third, with respect to factor ten, it appears that the removal may have involved forum shopping, given that the bankruptcy petition was commenced on the eve of trial. Finally, although not one of the specifically delineated Enron factors, the Court notes that the interests of judicial efficiency weigh in favor of remand, because prior to removal the State Court was on the verge of trying the action.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court will issue a separate order, requiring the Debtor and Defendant to show cause why this action should not be remanded to the State Court.

Chapter 7

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On May 24, 2018, Defendant MBN Real Estate Investments, LLC, filed an Ex-Parte Application for Order to Extend Time for the Disclosure of Rebuttal Experts, or, in the Alternative, Ex-Parte Application for Order Shortening Time to Hear Motion [Doc. No. 220] (the "Motion"). On May 25, 2018, the Court issued an order setting a hearing on the Motion on shortened time. Doc. No. 221.

Trial in this action was initially set for the week of May 29, 2018. On May 9, 2018, the Court approved a stipulation continuing the trial to July 30, 2018. Doc. No. 210. The parties stipulated to the continuance to provide time for Plaintiff to pursue a motion to set aside a judgment which dismissed the action as to Defendant Morad Neman. Doc. No. 138.

Defendant moves to extend the deadline to disclose two rebuttal experts from March 7, 2018 to July 10, 2018. The March 7 deadline was set by a Scheduling Order entered on January 30, 2018. Doc. No. 186. Defendant states that if the Motion is granted, it will make its rebuttal experts available for deposition on July 12 and 13, 2018. Defendant states that the extension is necessary because the law firm responsible for trial strategy did not associate into the case until April 26, 2018, after the deadline to disclose rebuttal experts had passed.

In opposition to the Motion, Plaintiff argues that Defendant's failure to timely disclose rebuttal experts is neither substantially justified nor harmless. Plaintiff further argues that Defendant has failed to show good cause for the granting of relief upon an ex-parte application.

In its Reply in support of the Motion, Defendant asserts that Plaintiff's arguments regarding the ex-parte nature of the Motion are irrelevant because the Court set a briefing schedule on the Motion. Defendant states that Plaintiff will not be adversely affected if the extension is granted because it has offered to provide the rebuttal experts for deposition on July 12 and 13, 2018, prior to the trial date.

II. Findings and Conclusions

At the outset, the Court notes that contrary to the implication of Plaintiff's arguments, this is not an ex-parte matter. Although the Motion initially sought ex-parte relief in the alternative, the Court declined to consider the Motion on an ex-parte basis and instead set a briefing schedule. Plaintiff has filed an opposition to the Motion.

Turning to the merits, Defendant's deadline to disclose rebuttal experts was set by a Scheduling Order entered on January 30, 2018. Doc. No. 186. Civil Rule 16(b)(4) provides that a scheduling order "may be modified only for good cause and with the judge's consent." "Rule 16(b)'s good cause' standard primarily considers the diligence of the party seeking the amendment. The district court may modify the pretrial schedule 'if it cannot reasonably be met despite the diligence of the party seeking the extension.'" Johnson v. Mammoth Recreations, Inc., 975 F.2d 604, 609 (9th Cir. 1992) (internal citations omitted).

Because Defendant has failed to show it acted diligently with respect to the rebuttal expert disclosure deadline, the Motion is DENIED. Defendant seeks an extension based on the fact that its lead trial counsel had not associated into the case until after the rebuttal expert disclosure deadline had elapsed. However, Plaintiff was represented by sophisticated counsel at the time of the deadline. That counsel should have been aware that actions he took with regard to the disclosure (or nondisclosure) of experts and rebuttal experts would have a meaningful impact upon the trial. The fact that lead trial counsel had not yet associated in and therefore did not have an opportunity to review these decisions does not establish cause for an extension.

Plaintiff shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. On May 24, 2018, the Court issued an Order to Comply with Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1 Re: Pretrial and Trial Procedures [Doc. No. 29] (the "Order to Comply"). In response to the Order to Comply, Plaintiff filed a declaration stating that the action has settled, that the parties have agreed to execute a Stipulated Judgment, and that the parties anticipate filing the Stipulated Judgment prior to the Pretrial Conference. As of the date of issuance of this tentative ruling, the Stipulated Judgment has not been filed.

Plaintiff is ORDERED to file the Stipulated Judgment by no later than June 19, 2018. The trial date is VACATED. The Court will enter an appropriate order.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. Complaint by Chasen Kyle Stanley against Education Finance Partners, ACS Loan Science, Asset Recovery Solutions, LLC, DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, Navient, Federal Loan Services, National Payment Center, Sallie Mae, Associated Recovery Systems. (Charge To Estate). Nature of Suit: (63 (Dischargeability - 523(a)(8), student loan)) (Potier, Amanda)

FR. 6-12-18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

6/4/2018

This action to determine the dischargeability of Plaintiff's student loans involves multiple Defendants. Stipulated judgments have been entered with respect to Defendants Navient Solutions, LLC (aka Navient), Doc. No. 51, and the United States Department of Education, Doc. No. 55. Defendant Sallie Mae has been dismissed, Doc. No. 49. The Clerk of the Court has entered default with respect to remaining Defendants (1) Education Finance Partners, (2) ACS Loan Science, (3) Asset Recovery Solutions, LLC, (4) National Payment Center, (5) Associated Recovery Systems, and (6) Federal Loan Services (collectively, the "Defaulted Defendants"). Plaintiff has filed motions seeking the entry of default judgment against each of the Defaulted Defendants.

Generally, it is not necessary for the plaintiff to serve a Motion for Default Judgment upon a defendant whose default has been entered. Civil Rule 5(a)(2)—made applicable to these proceedings by Bankruptcy Rule 7005—provides that "[n]o service is required on a party who is in default for failing to appear." Here, the Court will require Plaintiff to serve the Motions for Default Judgment upon the certain of the Defaulted Defendants. As set forth in greater detail below, the Court is concerned that some of the Defaulted Defendants may not have received sufficient notice of the Complaint.

Chapter 7

The Complaint seeks a judgment that three student loans have been discharged by the Plaintiff's Chapter 7 case. The Complaint alleges that Plaintiff is liable to multiple parties in connection with each student loan. Specifically, the Complaint alleges that the following loans have been discharged:

- 1) Loan #8573, in the approximate amount of $23,478, made between the Plaintiff and (a) Education Finance Partners, (b) ACS Loan Science, and (c) Asset Recovery Solutions, LLC.
- 2) Loan #7469, made between the Plaintiff and (a) the United States Department of Education, (b) Navient, (c) Federal Loan Services, and (d) National Payment Center.
- 3) Loan #0280, made between the Plaintiff and (a) Sallie Mae and (b) Associates Recovery Systems.

It appears that in addition to suing the originator of the debt, Plaintiff also named the servicers and guarantors associated with each loan.

The Court will enter default judgment upon each named Defendant, provided the Court is satisfied that each Defendant has been properly served. However, in entering default judgment, the Court is determining only that any indebtedness which Plaintiff may owe to such Defendant has been discharged. The Court is not making a finding that Plaintiff is in fact indebted to each Defendant named in the Complaint.

This clarification is necessary in view of the large and complex ecosystem that has developed in the United States to service student loan debt. Student loans are typically owned by noteholders who contract with third parties, known as servicers, to collect the indebtedness. However, depending upon the precise terms of elaborate Loan Master Servicing Agreements entered into between noteholders and servicers, the servicers may have some residual economic interest in the cash flow stream generated by the underlying notes. In this sense, it could be argued that a student loan borrower owes at least a portion of the indebtedness arising from a student loan to the servicer.

In some cases, further complication results from the introduction of an administrative agent into the mix. The administrative agent supervises the servicer and in some cases provides consulting services to increase collections. Again depending upon the relevant contracts, an administrative agent may have a residual economic interest in the cash flows generated by the underlying note.

On the present record, the Court cannot determine the level of Plaintiff's indebtedness, if any, to each Defendant. Attempting to make such a determination is not necessary and would prove unduly burdensome. However, because it appears that

Education Finance Partners

According to the Complaint, this entity is a business of form unknown headquartered in California. The records of the California Secretary of State indicate that this entity is a Delaware corporation whose agent for service of process resigned in April 2009. It appears that this entity may have been dissolved.

The Court has been unable to determine the basis for Plaintiff's assertion that this entity can be served at 2227 220th Street, Carson, CA 90810. Nor can the Court determine the basis for the assertion that the entity is a California corporation; as noted, the records of the California Secretary of State show that this entity is (or was) a Delaware corporation.

The Court will not enter default judgment against a corporate entity unless Plaintiff establishes the jurisdiction in which the entity exists. Should Plaintiff wish to pursue the entry of default judgment against Education Finance Partners, Plaintiff must serve the Motion for Default Judgment upon this entity. Concurrently with such service, Plaintiff must submit a declaration establishing the entity's existence and establishing that the entity was served at the proper address.

Federal Loan Services

According to the Complaint, this entity is a business of form unknown headquartered in Pennsylvania. The records of the Pennsylvania Secretary of State do not contain a listing for "Federal Loan Services." The address upon which this entity was served corresponds to the current address of the Pennsylvania Higher Education Authority ("PHEAA").

The Court will not enter default judgment against a corporate entity unless Plaintiff establishes that such an entity actually exists. Should Plaintiff wish to pursue the entry of default judgment against Federal Loan Services, Plaintiff must serve the Motion for Default Judgment upon this entity. Concurrently with such service, Plaintiff must submit a declaration establishing the entity's existence and establishing that the entity was served at the proper address.

National Payment Center

According to the Complaint, this entity is a business of form unknown headquartered in Minnesota. The records of the Minnesota Secretary of State do not contain a listing for "National Payment Center."

The Court will not enter default judgment against a corporate entity unless Plaintiff establishes that such an entity actually exists. Should Plaintiff wish to pursue the entry of default judgment against National Payment Center, Plaintiff must serve the Motion for Default Judgment upon this entity. Concurrently with such service, Plaintiff must submit a declaration establishing the entity's existence and establishing that the entity was served at the proper address.

Plaintiff shall serve the Motions for Default Judgment, as directed above, by no later than June 12, 2018. In the event that Plaintiff elects not to pursue default judgment against any of the Defaulted Defendants, Plaintiff shall file a notice dismissing each such Defaulted Defendant by no later than June 12, 2018. The trial, set for the week of June 25, 2018, is VACATED.

The Motions for Default Judgment shall be served on a negative notice basis, in accordance with the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(o). In the event no timely opposition is filed, Plaintiff shall submit proposed default judgments in connection with each Motion. The hearings on the Motions for Default Judgment—currently set for June 21, 2018—are taken off calendar.

Appearances required.

The Court has reviewed the Complaint and the Pretrial Stipulation. In the interests of judicial efficiency, the Court requires further information regarding the stipulated facts set forth in the Pretrial Stipulation. The Court is concerned that this action may not state a claim upon which relief can be granted against the Defendant, Brad Hilton Robbins.

The following facts have been established by the Pretrial Stipulation. Defendant Brad Hilton Robbins is and was at all relevant times the owner of Century Specialties Corporation ("Century"). Beginning in 2014 and continuing at least through January 2016, Mr. Robbins caused Century's president, Mr. Jun Ando, to make representations to Plaintiff Swan Fence, Inc. ("Swan Fence") regarding the sum of receivables owed to Century. Based upon these representations, Swan Fence extended credit.

The Court's concern arises from the Pretrial Stipulation's failure to specify whether Swan Fence extended credit to Mr. Robbins, to Century, or to both. The Pretrial Stipulation's list of facts remaining to be litigated suggests that Swan Fence extended credit to Century, although the Pretrial Stipulation is not entirely clear. If Swan Fence extended credit only to Century, it is unclear how Swan Fence could hold Mr. Robbins liable for the indebtedness (even if Mr. Robbins made misrepresentations underlying state court action in which Plaintiffs seek to establish the indebtedness which is alleged to be non-dischargeable (the "State Court Action"). The Court made it abundantly clear that it was necessary for Plaintiffs to obtain a final judgment in the State Court Action before the instant action could be litigated:

The most efficient way to resolve this action is for Plaintiffs to prosecute the State Court Action to final judgment. In the event Plaintiffs obtain a final judgment in their favor, Plaintiffs may then return to this Court for a determination as to whether the judgment is dischargeable....

To be clear, Plaintiffs are required to obtain a judgment in the State Court Action if they wish to pursue in this Court their non-dischargeability claim. In the event that, for whatever reason, Plaintiffs do not prosecute the State Court Action to final judgment, Plaintiffs will not be permitted to return to this Court to attempt to establish Defendant's liability.

Final Ruling Denying Defendant's Motion to Dismiss [Doc. No. 11] at 6.

On January 25, 2018, the State Court issued an order providing in relevant part:

FINAL STATUS CONFERENCE

Case is not called for hearing.

[Plaintiffs'] Counsel represents case has not been served....

All future dates are ... placed off calendar.

An Order to Show Cause Re: dismissal for failure to serve is set for April 4, 2018 at 8:30 a.m. in Department 91. If the case is not served with proof of service filed by this hearing date, the case may be dismissed.

Minute Order Dated January 25, 2018.

On April 25, 2018, this Court issued an Order Requiring Plaintiff to Show Cause Why this Action Should Not be Dismissed for Failure to Prosecute [Doc. No. 21] (the "Order to Show Cause"). The Order to Show Cause required Plaintiffs to respond to the Court's Preliminary Findings, which provided in relevant part:

The fact that service defects existed at the time of the final status conference in the State Court Action is of serious concern to this Court. The Court has clearly advised Plaintiffs that it was necessary for them to obtain a final judgment in the State Court Action if they wished to prosecute the instant action. Given the Court's admonition, Plaintiff's apparent failure to diligently prosecute the State Court Action is tantamount to a failure to prosecute the instant action. Unless Plaintiff can demonstrate to the Court that it has been diligently prosecuting the State Court Action, the Court will likely order the dismissal of the instant action for failure to prosecute.

Order to Show Cause at 3.

On April 24, 2018, the State Court issued an order dismissing the State Court Action based upon Plaintiffs' failure to appear and failure to prosecute. (The dismissal of the State Court Action was not referenced in this Court's Order to Show Cause, because the dismissal had not been docketed as of the issuance of the Order to Show Cause.) In support of dismissal, the State Court's order stated that neither Plaintiffs or Defendant had appeared or had contacted the court in connection with the hearing on the Order to Show Cause Re: Dismissal.

On June 1, 2018, Plaintiffs filed an untimely opposition to this Court's Order to Show Cause. Plaintiffs state that they have obtained an order vacating the dismissal of the State Court Action. Plaintiffs further assert that despite setbacks, they are now diligently prosecuting the State Court Action. To support this contention, Plaintiffs attach a copy of an order issued by the State Court on May 31, 2018, requiring the Los Angeles Police Department to release evidence to the Plaintiffs.

Defendant submitted a declaration supporting dismissal of the instant case. In the declaration, Defendant asserts that the Complaint in the State Court Action has never been served upon him. Defendant further asserts that Plaintiffs have failed to serve various ex-parte motions in the State Court Action upon him.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Civil Rule 41(b), made applicable to these proceedings by Bankruptcy Rule 7041, provides in relevant part: "If the plaintiff fails to prosecute or to comply with these rules or a court order, a defendant may move to dismiss the action or any claim against it. Unless the dismissal order states otherwise, a dismissal under this subdivision (b) ... operates as an adjudication on the merits."

The Court weighs five factors in determining whether to dismiss a case for lack of prosecution:

- 1) the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation;
- 2) the court's need to manage its docket;
- 3) the risk of prejudice to the defendants;
- 4) the public policy favoring the disposition of cases on their merits; and
- 5) the availability of less drastic sanctions.

Moneymaker v. CoBEN (In re Eisen), 31 F.3d 1447, 1451 (9th Cir. 1994).

As noted above, Plaintiffs' diligence in prosecuting the State Court Action is relevant to assessing Plaintiffs' diligence in prosecuting the instant action. The Court has made clear to Plaintiffs that obtaining final judgment in the State Court Action is a pre-requisite to litigating the instant action. Plaintiffs' prosecution of the State Court Action has hardly been a model of diligence. However, the dismissal of the State Court Action has been vacated and that action is now proceeding toward trial. Notwithstanding Plaintiffs' dilatory conduct, dismissal of the instant action would be too harsh a sanction in view of the public policy favoring disposition of cases on their merits. The Order to Show Cause is discharged.

The Court does not address Defendant's contention that he has not been properly served in the State Court Action. The dismissal of the State Court Action has been vacated and that action is now proceeding on the State Court's calendar. Issues regarding service of a state court complaint are for the state court to determine - not this court.

A continued status conference to monitor the progress of the State Court Action shall be held on September 11, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. In addition to the Joint Status Report, Plaintiff must submit a detailed declaration, accompanied by supporting exhibits as appropriate, setting forth the actions Plaintiff has undertaken to prosecute the State Court Action to completion.

The Court will enter appropriate orders.

Docket 12

Tentative Ruling:

6/5/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Court finds that the redemption value of the Debtors' Vehicle is $13,665.05.

- 2) Opposition to the Motion (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 13]
- 3) Debtors' Reply to the Opposition (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 19]

- 6) Supplemental Declaration of Bret Allen in Opposition to the Motion (the "Supp. Allen Decl.") [Doc. No. 27]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Daniel Domenzain and Elizabeth Domenzain (the "Debtors") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on January 3, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The "Order of Discharge" was granted to the Debtors on April 23, 2018 [Doc. No. 22].

Procedural History

On February 21, 2018, the Debtors filed the "Motion to Redeem Property of the Estate" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 12]. The Motion seeks to redeem certain personal property consisting of a 2012 Volkswagen Routan (the "Vehicle"), which is intended primarily for personal or family use, pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 722.

On March 6, 2018, Exeter Finance, LLC (the "Creditor") filed the "Opposition to the Motion" (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 13], in which the Creditor requested a continuance in order to allow the Creditor to inspect and evaluate the Vehicle.

On April 13, 2018, the Debtors filed the "Reply to the Opposition" (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 19]. The Reply argued that the Debtors gave the Creditor permission to contact the Debtors to schedule an evaluation of the Vehicle, however, the Debtors were not contacted by the Creditor to schedule the evaluation. The Debtors further argued that the Opposition failed to state a basis upon which to deny the Motion, and that the Opposition failed to include any evidence that would tend to rebut the Debtors' Valuation of the Vehicle. Based on this, the Debtors requested that the Court grant the Motion.

On April 26, 2018, the Court entered the "Order Setting Hearing and Briefing Schedule on the Motion" (the "Order Setting Hearing") [Doc. No. 24]. In its Order Setting Hearing, the Court stated, in pertinent part:

There is no merit to Debtor's position that Movant is not entitled to a hearing in connection with the Motion. Debtor contends that Exeter Finance LLC ("Creditor"), the entity holding a security interest in the vehicle, failed to request a hearing in its Opposition to the Motion. The Debtor's argument places substance over form. In the Opposition, Creditor "requests a continuance of this matter until it is able to inspect the vehicle" and states that it "needs approximately a 30-day extension of the existing hearing date to inspect the vehicle and submit its evidence to the Court." Opposition at 2. While these statements lack clarity and create confusion—especially considering that the Motion had not been set for hearing at the time the Opposition was filed—the Court deems the statements to constitute a request for a hearing on the Motion. Consequently, pursuant to the procedures set forth in LBR 9013-1(o), Creditor is entitled to a hearing on a Motion.

Doc. No. 24 (footnotes omitted). Based on this, the Court set a hearing on the Motion, and set a deadline for, among other things, the Creditor to submit evidence regarding the value of the Vehicle. Id.

The Debtors' Appraisal

As evidence of the value of the Vehicle, the Debtors submit the independent valuation prepared by Collateral Valuation Services, LLC. See Motion, Ex. A (the "Debtors' Appraisal"). The Debtors' Valuation was prepared on February 1, 2018, and appraises the value of the Vehicle as $6,083.00 "based on KBB." Id. Additionally, the Debtors submit an online printout from Kelley Blue Book. See Motion, Ex. B. Based on this evidence, the Debtors contend that the redemption value of the Vehicle is $6,083.00.

The Creditor's Appraisal

Pursuant to the Order Setting Hearing, on May 17, 2018, the Creditor filed the "Supplemental Declaration of Bret Allen in Opposition to the Motion" (the "Supp. Allen Decl.") [Doc. No. 27], which included an appraisal of the Vehicle prepared by Property Damage Appraisers on May 16, 2018, see Supp. Allen Decl., Ex. A; however, the appraisal submitted by the Creditor was not accompanied by a declaration from the Creditor's Appraiser. On May 18, 2018, the Creditor filed the "Supplemental Declaration of Jeff Goldenberg in Opposition to the Motion" (the "Supp. Goldenberg Decl.") [Doc. No. 28], the appraiser who prepared the appraisal attached to the Supplemental Allen Declaration. The appraisal of the Vehicle prepared by Mr. Goldenberg on May 16, 2018 as a representative of Property Damage Appraisers, is attached as "Exhibit A" to the Supplemental Goldenberg Declaration (the "Creditor's Appraisal").

The Creditor's Appraisal appraises the value of the Vehicle as $13,665.05. The Creditor's Appraisal also lists the sale or list price and adjusted value of six vehicles which were determined by Mr. Goldenberg to be comparable to the Debtors' Vehicle.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 722 of the Bankruptcy Code provides in full:

under section 522 of this title or has been abandoned under section 554 of this title, by paying the holder of such lien the amount of the allowed secured claim of such holder that is secured by such lien in full at the time of redemption.

11 U.S.C. § 722. "The changes made to Bankruptcy Code § 506 by BAPCPA now make clear that the valuation is 'as of the date of the filing of the petition.'" In re Ayers, 2010 Bankr. LEXIS 519 n.3 (N.D. Cal. Bankr. 2010).

The amount to be paid to a creditor to redeem pursuant to § 722 is determined by 11 U.S.C. § 506(a) which provides in relevant part:

(a)(2) if the debtor is an individual in a case under chapter 7 . . . , such value with respect to personal property securing an allowed claim shall be determined based on the replacement value of such property as of the date of the filing of the petition without deduction for costs of sale or marketing. With respect to property acquired for personal, family, or household purposes, replacement value shall mean the price a retail merchant would charge for property of that kind considering the age and condition of the property at the time value is determined.

11 U.S.C. § 506(a)(2). Courts consider retail values in the N.A.D.A. Guide or Kelly Blue Book in determining the replacement value of a vehicle for purposes of § 506(a)(2). In re Labostrie, 2012 WL 6554727 at *3 (BAP 9th Cir. 2012); In re Morales, 387 B.R. 36, 43 and 46 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2008). Moreover, this Court has held that:

absent unusual circumstances, the retail value should be calculated by adjusting the Kelley Blue Book or N.A.D.A. Guide retail value for a like vehicle by a reasonable amount in light of any additional evidence presented regarding the condition of the vehicle and any other relevant factors. Value should be calculated as of the petition date, not the valuation hearing. The burden in proving the reasonableness of any deviation from the guide retail value rests with the debtor because the debtor has the best access to information about the condition of the vehicle.

The Court further acknowledged that "the condition of the vehicle might easily be established based predominantly on declarations submitted with the motion." Id. at 48. Further, the fair market value "is the price which a willing seller under no compulsion to sell and a willing buyer under no compulsion to buy would agree upon after the property has been exposed to the market for a reasonable time." In re Taffi, 96 F.3d 1190 (9th Cir. 1996) (en banc), cert. denied, 521 U.S. 1103 (1997).

Here, the Court finds that the Creditor's Appraisal is the most accurate evidence of the redemption value of the Vehicle, and that the Debtor has not submitted sufficient evidence to show that the Creditor's Appraisal is unreasonable. Importantly, the Creditor's Appraisal contains a list of six comparable vehicles to the Debtors' Vehicle, which together have an average base value of $12,422.77. In contrast, the Debtors' Appraisal does not list any comparable vehicles, and the Debtors' have not submitted any additional evidence that the Creditor's Appraisal is unreasonable. Furthermore, the Debtors' Appraisal, which is "based on KBB," appears to set forth the trade-in value of the Vehicle, see Motion, Ex. B (Kelly Blue Book "Trade-in Range"). The trade-in value is not typically indicative of "the price which a willing seller under no compulsion to sell and a willing buyer under no compulsion to buy would agree upon after the property has been exposed to the market for a reasonable time." In re Taffi, 96 F.3d at 1190; see also 11 U.S.C. § 506(a)(2) (the movant must establish a redemption value based on "the price a retail merchant would charge for property of that kind considering the age and condition of the property").

Therefore, in accordance with § 506(a)(2), the Court finds that the Creditor's Appraisal of $13,665.05 more accurately reflects the price a retail merchant would charge for the Vehicle.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that the redemption value of the Debtors' Vehicle is $13,665.05.

The Creditor shall lodge a conforming order within seven (7) days of the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors for Liberty Asset Management Corporation (the "Committee") seeks confirmation of its First Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation Dated January 31, 2018 Proposed by the Official Unsecured Creditors' Committee for Liberty Asset Management Corporation (the "Plan"). Creditors entitled to vote support the Plan by an overwhelming margin. The only party objecting to confirmation is Benjamin Kirk, who claims an equity interest in Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") which will be cancelled under the Plan. For the reasons set forth below, Mr. Kirk's opposition is overruled and the Plan is CONFIRMED.

The key provisions of the Plan are as follows:

- 1) All of the Debtor's assets will be liquidated. The liquidation will be overseen by a Plan Administrator, Bradley D. Sharp of Development Specialists, Inc. ("DSI"). The Plan Administrator's current hourly rate is $640.00. It is estimated that total fees and costs payable to the Plan Administrator will not exceed $200,000. The Plan Administrator may retain counsel to assist him in liquidating the estate's assets. It is contemplated that the Committee's counsel will serve as the Plan Administrator's counsel.
- 2) Upon the Effective Date, the Plan Administrator shall establish the amount of the Plan Reserves. The Plan Reserves shall consist of assets necessary to fund litigation related to ongoing causes of action, fees owing to the United States Trustee, and the Plan Administrator's fees and expenses.
- 3) The Debtor's principal remaining assets consist of cash; real estate; twenty million shares of common stock in California International Bank, N.A.; interests in investment entities that owned real estate; and causes of action against Benjamin Kirk, Lucy Gao, Shelby Ho, and Steven Tsang. The primary litigation asset is a judgment entered against Mr. Kirk and Ms. Gao in the amount of approximately $74 million; an appeal of that judgment is currently pending before the District Court. The Committee estimates that, not including that Kirk/Gao Judgment, there will be between $11.9 and $13.8 million available for distribution to holders of general unsecured claims (Class 3).

- 4) The Committee estimates that the aggregate amount of general unsecured claims (Class 3) will be approximately $75 million to $80 million. The Plan Administrator will make a distribution to holders of Class 3 claims on a quarterly basis, provided that the Plan Administrator has cash on hand of at least $100,000 to distribute.

The Plan's classification scheme, and the votes submitted by creditors, may be summarized as follows:

- 1) Class 1 consists of priority claims. Class 1 is unimpaired and is deemed to accept the Plan.
- 2) Class 2 (and its attendant subclasses) consists of the secured claim of Los Angeles County (Class 2.A), the secured claim of Los Angeles County on account of property located in Azusa (Class 2.A.1), and the secured claim of Los Angeles County on account of property located in Mel Canyon (Class 2.A.2). Class 2 is unimpaired and is deemed to accept the Plan.
- 3) Class 3 consists of the claims of general unsecured creditors. Creditors holding 71% in number and 94% in dollar amount accepted the Plan. (This tabulation does not include the claims of Richbest Holdings LLC, Minyu Jessica Chang, YCJS 2012 LLC, and Shelby Ho, all of which have been disallowed for the reasons set forth in concurrently-issued tentative rulings.)
- 4) Class 4 consists of Liberty's equity interests. No property will be distributed to Class 4 under the Plan. Class 4 is deemed to reject the Plan.

Benjamin Kirk, who asserts an equity interest in Liberty, objects to confirmation of the Plan. Mr. Kirk asserts that the Plan does not provide for the "fair and equitable" treatment of Class 4, as required by §1129(b)(1). Mr. Kirk argues that the Plan fails to provide any oversight of professional fees because it allows the Plan Administrator to hire attorneys, financial advisors, and consultants on whatever fee arrangement he chooses. Mr. Kirk further argues that the Plan is not in the best interests of creditors as required by §1129(a)(7), because the professional fees incurred by the Plan Administrator to liquidate the remaining assets will exceed the costs of liquidation under Chapter 7.

The Committee has not submitted a Reply to Mr. Kirk's Opposition.

Chapter 11

A. Mr. Kirk's Objections to Confirmation Are Overruled

Mr. Kirk's objections to confirmation of the Plan are overruled. It is true that the Plan allows the Plan Administrator to liquidate the remaining assets with minimal oversight. Article VII(D)(2)(o) allows the Plan Administrator to "engage employees and professionals to assist the Plan Administrator with respect to his or her responsibilities, including, but not limited to, any professionals employed by the Debtor or Committee." Article VII(D)(2)(f) authorizes the Plan Administrator to "pay all expenses, including Plan Expenses" Pursuant to Article I, "Plan Expenses" include expenses incurred by the Plan Administrator to pay professional fees. Therefore, the Plan allows the Plan Administrator to pay professionals with minimal oversight.

Normally such provisions would give the Court pause. However, this case has been characterized by intense litigation between the Committee and Mr. Kirk regarding who was entitled to exercise ultimate control over Liberty's operations. The Committee eventually prevailed, but the dispute significantly increased administrative costs. Creditors—who support the Plan by an overwhelming margin—could have reasonably concluded that any mechanism providing for Court oversight of the Plan Administrator's fees would only invite further litigation (and its attendant costs) from Mr. Kirk. Creditors could have decided that an absence of Court oversight with respect to the Plan Administrator's fees would ultimately result in a larger recovery upon their claims. It is not the place of the Court to second-guess the creditors' voting decision.

Mr. Kirk's contention that the Plan does not provide Class 4 with fair and equitable treatment, as required by §1129(b)(1), is overruled. Mr. Kirk asserts that he holds 100% of the equity in Liberty. Testimony elicited in connection with a previous hearing established that Lucy Gao may hold a 20–50% beneficial interest in Liberty. The Court has never ruled upon the issue of who holds Liberty's equity, and makes no such ruling today. However, assuming arguendo that Mr. Kirk and Ms. Gao are the holders of Liberty's equity, the Plan does not deprive them of fair and equitable treatment. The only way that Class 4 could receive any distribution in connection with the liquidation of Liberty's assets would be if the Committee succeeds in collecting upon the $74 million judgment against Mr. Kirk and Ms. Gao. Absent that judgment, the Committee anticipates that between $11.9 million and $13.8 million will be available for distribution to general unsecured creditors. General unsecured claims are estimated to be between $75 million and $80 million. Therefore, Mr. Kirk and Ms.

Gao would not receive a distribution unless the Committee collected upon its judgment against them. Of course, if the Committee collected upon the judgment, the distribution would be economically meaningless since it would merely return to Mr. Kirk and Ms. Gao the funds that had been collected from them.

B. The Plan Complies With All Applicable Provisions of §1129

As set forth below, the Court finds that the Plan complies with all applicable provisions of §1129.

SECTION 1129(A)(1)

Section 1129(a)(1) requires that the "plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." According to the leading treatise, the "legislative history suggests that the applicable provisions are those governing the plan's internal structure and drafting: 'Paragraph (1) requires that the plan comply with the applicable provisions of chapter 11, such as section 1122 and 1123, governing classification and contents of a plan.'" Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 1129.01[1] (16th rev'd ed.) (citing S. Rep. No. 989, 95th Cong., 2d Sess. 126 (1978)).

1. Section 1122(a)

Section 1122(a) provides that "a plan may place a claim or an interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interests of such class."

The Plan's classification scheme complies with §1122(a). Class 1 consists of priority claims; Class 2 and its attendant subclasses consists of secured claims; Class 3 consists of general unsecured claims; and Class 4 consists of equity interests.

2. Section 1122(b)

Section 1122(b) provides that "a plan may designate a separate class of claims consisting only of ever unsecured claim that is less than or reduced to an amount that the court approves as reasonable and necessary for administrative convenience."

Section 1122(b) does not apply.

3. Section 1123(a)(1)

Section 1123(a)(1) requires that a plan "designate ... classes of claims, other than claims of a kind specified in section 507(a)(2) [administrative expense claims], 507(a)(3) [claims arising during the gap period in an involuntary case], or 507(a)(8) [priority tax claims], and classes of interest." There are no involuntary gap claims because this is a voluntary chapter 11 case. The Plan separately classifies § 507(a)(2) administrative expense claims. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(1).

4. Section 1123(a)(2)

Section 1123(a)(2) requires that the Plan "specify any class of claims or interests that is not impaired under the Plan." Classes that are impaired are separately classified. The Plan satisfied §1123(a)(2).

5. Section 1123(a)(3)

Section 1123(a)(3) requires that the Plan "specify the treatment of any class of claims or interests that is impaired under the Plan." The Plan specifies the treatment of general unsecured claims, which are impaired. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(3).

6. Section 1123(a)(4)

Section 1123(a)(4) requires that the Plan "provide the same treatment for each claim or interest of a particular class unless the holder of a particular claim or interest agrees to a less favorable treatment of such particular claim or interest." Each claim or interest in a particular class is afforded the same treatment as other claims or interests in that same class. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(4).

7. Section 1123(a)(5)

Section 1123(a)(5) requires that the Plan "provide adequate means for the plan's implementation." The Plan provides for the appointment of Bradley D. Sharp as the Plan Administrator who will be responsible for liquidating the remaining assets. The Plan contains provisions authorizing the Plan Administrator to hire professionals to complete the liquidation. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(5).

8. Section 1123(a)(6)

Section 1123(a)(6) provides: "[A] plan shall provide for the inclusion in the charter of the debtor, if the debtor is a corporation . . . , of a provision prohibiting the issuance of nonvoting equity securities, and providing, as to the several classes of securities possessing voting power, an appropriate distribution of such power among such classes, including, in the case of any class of equity securities having a preference over another class of equity securities with respect to dividends, adequate provisions for the election of directors representing such preferred class in the event of default in the payment of such dividends."

The Plan provides for the cancellation of all equity interests. Section 1123(a)(6) does not apply.

9. Section 1123(a)(7)

Section 1123(a)(7) requires that the Plan's provisions with respect to the selection of officers and directors be consistent with public policy and the interests of creditors and equity security holders.

The Plan identifies Mr. Sharp, an experienced professional, as the Plan Administrator. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(7).

10. Section 1123(b)

Section 1123(b) sets forth provisions that are permitted, but not required, in a plan of reorganization. The Plan contains certain of § 1123(b)'s optional provisions. The Plan is consistent with § 1123(b).

SECTION 1129(A)(2)

Section 1129(a)(2) requires that the "proponent of the plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." The Court finds that Committee as plan proponent has complied with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code by obtaining approval of a Disclosure Statement and by soliciting votes in connection with the Plan in the manner ordered by the Court. The Committee has satisfied the requirements of § 1129(a)(2).

SECTION 1129(A)(3)

Section 1129(a)(3) requires that the "plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law." As one court has explained:

The term 'good faith' in the context of 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3) is not statutorily defined but has been interpreted by case law as referring to a plan that 'achieves a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code.' 'The requisite good faith determination is based on the totality of the circumstances.'

In re Melcher, 329 B.R. 865, 876 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2005) (internal citations omitted).

The Plan presented here seeks results consistent with the purposes and objectives of the code—namely, the liquidation of the Liberty's remaining assets and the distribution of those assets to the holders of allowed general unsecured claims.

SECTION 1129(A)(4)

Section 1129(a)(4) requires that "[a]ny payment made or to be made by the proponent, by the debtor, or by a person issuing securities or acquiring property under the plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of, the court as reasonable." The Plan requires professionals to file fee applications to obtain payment for work performed during the pendency of the case. The plan satisfies § 1129(a)(4).

SECTION 1129(A)(5)

Section 1129(a)(5) requires that the Plan disclose "the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the Plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint Plan with the debtor, or a successor to the debtor under the Plan." Section 1129(a)(5)(A)(ii) requires that the appointment to or continuation in office of an director or officer be consistent with the interests of creditors, equity security holders, and public policy. Section 1129(a)(5)(B) requires the Plan proponent to disclose the identity of any insider to be employed by the reorganized debtor.

The Plan discloses the identity of the Plan Administrator. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(5).

SECTION 1129(A)(6)

Section 1129(a)(6), which requires that a governmental regulatory commission with jurisdiction over rates charged by a debtor approve any rate changes provided for in the plan, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(A)(7)

Section 1129(a)(7), known as the "best interests of creditors test," provides in relevant part: "With respect to each impaired class of claims or interests, each holder of a claim or interest of such class has accepted the plan; or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of this title on such date."

Chapter 11

For the reasons set forth in Section A, above, the Court finds that the Plan satisfies §1129(a)(7). In addition, the Court notes that liquidation under the Plan will be less expensive than liquidation under Chapter 7, because the Plan Administrator has the option to engage the Committee, which is already familiar with the case, to assist with the liquidation process.

SECTION 1129(A)(8)

Section 1129(a)(8) requires each class to accept the Plan, unless the class is not impaired. Class 3, the only class which is impaired, has accepted the Plan. The Plan satisfies §1129(a)(8).

SECTION 1129(A)(9)

Section 1129(a)(9) requires that holders of certain administrative and priority claims receive cash equal to the allowed claim amount on the effective date of the plan, unless the claimant agrees to different treatment. The Plan provides for the payment of administrative and priority claims upon the Effective Date. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(9).

SECTION 1129(A)(10)

Section 1129(a)(10) requires that at least one class of impaired claims accept the plan. Class 3 is impaired and has accepted the Plan. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(10).

SECTION 1129(A)(11)

Section 1129(a)(11), known as the "feasibility requirement," requires the Court to find that "[c]onfirmation of the plan is not likely to be followed by the liquidation, or the need for further financial reorganization, of the debtor or any successor to the debtor under the plan, unless such liquidation or reorganization is proposed in the plan."

The Plan provides for the appointment of an experienced Plan Administrator to liquidate the remaining assets. The Plan is feasible and satisfies §1129(a)(11).

SECTION 1129(A)(12)

Section 1129(a)(12) requires that the Debtor pay all United States Trustee fees prior to confirmation or provide for payment of those fees on the effective date. All fees payable to the UST will be paid prior to the Effective Date of the Plan. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(12).

Liberty is a for-profit entity. Section 1129(a)(6) does not apply.

SECTION 1129(D)

Section 1129(d) provides: "Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, on request of a party in interest that is a governmental unit, the court may not confirm a Plan if the principal purpose of the Plan is the avoidance of taxes or the avoidance of the application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933." No governmental unit has requested that the court not confirm the Plan on the grounds that the Plan's purpose is the avoidance of taxes. No securities are issued under the Plan. The Plan satisfies § 1129(d).

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background [Note 1]

Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on March 21, 2016. From March 21, 2016 to January 29, 2017, the Hon. Thomas B. Donovan presided over this case. On January 30, 2017, the case was reassigned to the undersigned Judge. Doc. No. 325.

Liberty was a real estate investment company that bought and sold real property using a combination of its own cash, cash from investors, and bank loans. Real property acquired by Liberty was not titled in the name of Liberty or its investors, but instead was purchased in the name of various limited liability companies. At all times since its formation, Benjamin Kirk was Liberty's President, CEO, CFO, and sole shareholder. Mr. Kirk's primary role was soliciting investors for Liberty and identifying real properties for purchase and sale.

B. Claim 24 Asserted by Richbest Holding LLC

On October 25, 2016, Richbest Holding LLC ("Richbest") filed Proof of Claim 24-1 ("Claim 24"). Minyu Jessica Chang is the managing member of Richbest. Chang Decl. at ¶1 [Doc. No. 645]. Richbest asserts a general unsecured claim in the amount of $750,000.

In support of Claim 24, Ms. Chang submitted a declaration stating that she met Benjamin Kirk and Shelby Ho in 2011, and agreed to accept a referral fee of $1 million, which was later negotiated downward to $750,000, in exchange for locating a purchaser for property located in San Francisco. Ms. Chang located a purchaser for the property and the transaction successfully closed.

On July 6, 2013, Richbest and Liberty executed two Disclosure Acknowledgment and Commitment to Purchase and Sell Real Estate Assets Agreement (the "First Investment Contracts"). Ms. Chang states that she agreed to accept two properties from Mr. Kirk in lieu of a cash referral fee, and caused her wholly-owned entity Richbest to execute the Investment Contracts for the purpose of receiving title to the properties. Ms. Chang states that the properties set forth in the Investment Contract were never transferred to her.

On January 8, 2014, Liberty and Richbest executed a Disclosure Acknowledgment and Commitment to Purchase and Sell Real Estate Assets Agreement (the "Second Investment Contract"). Ms. Chang states that Ms. Ho advised her that the properties referenced in the First Investment Contracts were undesirable and that it was better for her to take a partial ownership interest in the property referenced in the Second Investment Contract. Ms. Chang states that based upon these representations, she caused Richbest to cancel the First Investment Contracts and enter into the Second Investment Contract. Ms. Chang states that she never received title to the ownership interested contemplated by the Second Investment Contract.

In further support of the claim, Ms. Chang also submitted a letter signed by herself and countersigned by Ms. Ho. The letter provides in relevant part:

I am writing to confirm our understanding with respect to referral fees that you and your company have agreed to pay to Ms. Jessica Chang ("Broker") for the referral of the property (currently known as Saks Fifth Ave men [sic] Store building) located at 220 Post Street, San Francisco, CA. Claim 24 at p. 6.

C. Summary of the Committee's Objection to Claim 24 Filed by Richbest

The Committee asserts that Claim 24, filed by Richbest, should be disallowed for the following reasons:

- 1) The claim is unenforceable against Liberty because the referral agreement was between North American Capital Co. ("NAC") and Ms. Chang personally, not between Liberty and Richbest.
- 2) Ms. Chang states that Ms. Ho informed her that the referral fee would be paid by Liberty. This representations amounts to an oral modification of the agreement between NAC and Ms. Chang. Pursuant to the statute of frauds, an agreement for a commission must be in writing by the party charged or by the party's agent. Richbest lacks a written referral agreement executed by Liberty. Any oral agreement is unenforceable.
- 3) According to the claim, Mr. Kirk agreed to give Ms. Chang properties in lieu of a cash referral fee, and Richbest and Liberty subsequently entered into various Investment Contracts and Cancellations. Liberty did not receive $750,000 in cash or services from Richbest. By 2012, Liberty was no longer profitable. Any promise by Liberty to transfer properties for no cash consideration was an intentionally or constructively fraudulent transfer for less than reasonably equivalent value, and claims based thereon should be disallowed.

D. Summary of Richbest's Opposition to the Committee's Claim Objection

Richbest makes the following arguments in its Opposition to the Committee's Claim Objection:

- 1) The Committee does not dispute the existence of the written agreement between NAC, on the one hand, and Richbest and Ms. Chang, on the other hand, which provided for the referral fee. Nor does the Committee dispute the existence of subsequent written agreements between Liberty, on the one hand, and Richbest and Ms. Chang, on the other hand, which provided that Liberty would transfer properties to satisfy its obligations in connection with the referral fee. The record therefore clearly establishes that like every other creditor of Liberty, Richbest and Ms. Chang are innocent victims whose claims must be paid.

- 2) There is no merit to the Committee's assertion that the claim is barred by the statute of frauds. The subsequent Investment Contracts and Cancellations entered into between Liberty and Richbest are sufficient to satisfy the statute of frauds.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Under Bankruptcy Rule 3001(f), a proof of claim executed and filed in accordance with the Bankruptcy Rules constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. To overcome the presumption of validity created by a timely-filed proof of claim, an objecting party must do one of the following: (1) object based on legal grounds and provide a memorandum of points and authorities setting forth the legal basis for the objection; or (2) object based on a factual ground and provide sufficient evidence (usually in the form of declarations under penalty of perjury) to create triable issues of fact. Durkin v. Bendor Corp. (In re G.I. Indus., Inc.), 204 F.3d 1276, 1280 (9th Cir. BAP 2000); United States v. Offord Finance, Inc. (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216, 222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996); Hemingway Transport, Inc. v. Kahn (In re Hemingway Transport, Inc.), 993 F.2d 915, 925 (1st Cir. 1993). Upon objection, a proof of claim provides "some evidence as to its validity and amount" and is "strong enough to carry over a mere formal objection without more." See Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Spec., Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing Wright v. Holm (In re Holm), 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). An objecting party bears the burden and must "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Holm, 931 F.2d at 623. When the objector has shown enough evidence to negate one or more facts in the proof of claim, the burden shifts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of evidence. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (citation omitted).

Section 502 requires the Court to disallow a claim that "is unenforceable against the debtor and the property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured." The documentation and testimony of Ms. Chang submitted in support of the claim do not establish that Richbest holds a claim that is enforceable against Liberty.

The letter memorializing the referral agreement provides that Ms. Ho and Ms.

Ho's company, NAC, agreed to pay Ms. Chang personally a referral fee. There is no reference in the letter to Richbest. Ms. Chang argues that the subsequent Investment Contracts executed between Liberty and Richbest are sufficient to establish that Richbest holds a claim. But none of these Investment Contracts contain any reference to Ms. Chang's referral fee. The nexus between the Investment Contracts and the referral fee is established only by Ms. Chang's testimony regarding oral representations that were made to her. The referral fee at issue qualifies as an agreement to employ an agent to purchase or sell real estate within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code §1624(a)(4). Pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code §1624(a)(4), such an agreement is not enforceable unless it is "in writing and subscribed by the party to be charged by the party's agent." Here, no such written agreement is present. As noted, the Investment Contracts do not qualify as a written agreement within the statute of frauds because they contain no mention of the transactions giving rise to the referral fee.

The Court is sympathetic to Ms. Chang's situation. However, the Court must enforce the clear requirements of the Bankruptcy Code and California law. Under applicable law, Richbest has failed to establish that it holds an enforceable claim against Liberty. Consequently, Richbest's claim must be disallowed.

Based upon the foregoing, the Claim Objection is SUSTAINED and Claim 24 is DISALLOWED in its entirety. The Committee shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlager or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. B. Claim 36 Asserted by Minyu Jessica Chang

On October 25, 2016, Minyu Jessica Chang ("Ms. Chang") filed Proof of Claim 36-1 ("Claim 36"). Ms. Chang asserts an unsecured claim in the amount of $907,500. In support of the claim, Ms. Chang attaches a Disclosure Acknowledgment and Commitment to Purchase and Sell Real Estate Assets Agreement (the "Investment Contract") entered into between Liberty and JC Investment Management 2011 LLC ("JC Investment"). Ms. Chang states that JC Investment is her LLC, and that she caused $690,000 to be wired to Shoreline Escrow Services, at the direction of Benjamin Kirk and Shelby Ho, in connection with the Investment Contract.

C. Summary of the Committee's Objection to Claim 36 Filed by Ms. Chang

The Committee asserts that Claim 36, filed by Ms. Chang, should be disallowed for the following reasons:

- 1) The claim is unenforceable against Liberty because the Investment Contract establishing the claim was entered into between Liberty and JC Investment. There is no evidence that the investment was assigned to Ms. Chang.
- 2) The claim is barred by the statute of limitations. The claim arises from Liberty's alleged breach of the Investment Contract, which was executed on November 3, 2011. JC Investment did not sue Liberty within four years of execution of the Investment Contract, and did not enter into any further agreements with Liberty regarding the alleged debt.

D. Summary of Ms. Chang's Opposition to the Committee's Claim Objection

Ms. Chang makes the following arguments in her Opposition to the Committee's Claim Objection:

- 1) Although it is true that the claim arises from the Investment Contract that was executed between Liberty and JC Investment, JC Investment is a single-purpose LLC, solely owned by Ms. Chang, that was created expressly for this transaction. JC Investment was dissolved after the dispute with Liberty arose. Based upon a unity of interest between Ms. Chang and JC Investment, the claim is enforceable against Liberty.
- 2) The claim is not barred by the statute of limitations, because the statute of limitations is tolled by Liberty's inequitable conduct and its concealment of the true facts from Ms. Chang.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Under Bankruptcy Rule 3001(f), a proof of claim executed and filed in accordance with the Bankruptcy Rules constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. To overcome the presumption of validity created by a timely-filed proof of claim, an objecting party must do one of the following: (1) object based on legal grounds and provide a memorandum of points and authorities setting forth the legal basis for the objection; or (2) object based on a factual ground and provide sufficient evidence (usually in the form of declarations under penalty of perjury) to create triable issues of fact. Durkin v. Benedor Corp. (In re G.I. Indus., Inc.), 204 F.3d 1276, 1280 (9th Cir. BAP 2000); United States v. Offord Finance, Inc. (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216, 222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996); Hemingway Transport, Inc. v. Kahn (In re Hemingway Transport, Inc.), 993 F.2d 915, 925 (1st Cir. 1993). Upon objection, a proof of claim provides "some evidence as to its validity and amount" and is "strong enough to carry over a mere formal objection without more." See Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Spec., Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing Wright v. Holm (In re Holm), 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). An objecting party bears the burden and must "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Holm, 931 F.2d at 623. When the objector has shown enough evidence to negate one or more facts in the proof of claim, the burden shifts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of evidence. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (citation omitted).

Section 502 requires the Court to disallow a claim that "is unenforceable against the debtor and the property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured." The documentation and testimony of Ms. Chang submitted in support of the claim do not establish that she holds a claim that is enforceable against Liberty.

There is no dispute that the claim arises in connection with a contract entered into between Liberty and JC Investment. To the extent a claim is enforceable, such claim must be enforced by JC Investment. Ms. Chang asserts that she should be entitled to enforce JC Investment's claim based upon a "unity of interest" between herself and JC Investment, but cites no authority for this novel proposition. [Note 2] The Court cannot so cavalierly disregard corporate formalities. Presumably Ms. Chang used JC Investment to facilitate the transaction to mitigate her exposure to liability or to obtain tax advantages. Having taken advantage of the protections afforded by the use of an LLC, Ms. Chang cannot simply disregard the LLC's existence because she failed to cause the LLC to take the actions necessary to protect its rights.

In addition, the claim is barred by the statute of limitations. Pursuant to Cal. Code Civ. Proc. §337, an action to recover upon a written contract must be brought within four years. Here, the Investment Contract was executed on November 3, 2011. Therefore, an action for breach of the Investment Contract became time-barred as of 2015.

There is no merit to Ms. Chang's contention that the statute of limitations is tolled based upon Liberty's alleged inequitable conduct. There is no dispute that Ms. Chang was aware that Liberty had failed to perform under the Investment Contract. This awareness triggered the statute of limitations. The reasons for Liberty's failure to perform under the Investment Contract do not toll the statute of limitations. If that were the case, the statute of limitations would be rendered meaningless because it could always be argued that the non-performing party's failure to perform was inequitable.

Based upon the foregoing, the Claim Objection is SUSTAINED and Claim No. 36, asserted by Ms. Chang, is DISALLOWED in its entirety. The Committee shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. Note 2

It is true that the concept of "unity of interest" may sometimes support a finding that an individual is the alter ego of a corporate entity. Such a finding is typically made to prevent a person from exploiting the corporate form to the detriment of creditors. Here, Ms. Chang invokes the "unity of interest" concept in an attempt to effectively revive the rights of a defunct corporate entity, when it is Mr. Chang who is responsible for failing to take the actions necessary to maintain the corporation's rights. The Court is unaware of any authority applying the "unity of interest" concept in such a manner.

Filed by Creditor Committee

Docket 591

Tentative Ruling:

6/5/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Committee's Claim Objection is SUSTAINED, and Claim No. 2 is DISALLOWED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Objection to Claim Number 2
Filed by YCJS 2012 LLC (the "Claim Objection") [Doc. No. 623]
 - a) Notice of Objection to Claim [Doc. No. 624]
- 2) No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background [Note 1]

Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on March 21, 2016. From March 21, 2016 to January 29, 2017, the Hon. Thomas B. Donovan presided over this case. On January 30, 2017, the case was reassigned to the undersigned Judge. Doc. No. 325.

Liberty was a real estate investment company that bought and sold real property using a combination of its own cash, cash from investors, and bank loans. Real property acquired by Liberty was not titled in the name of Liberty or its investors, but instead was purchased in the name of various limited liability companies. At all times since its formation, Benjamin Kirk was Liberty's President, CEO, CFO, and sole shareholder. Mr. Kirk's primary role was soliciting investors for Liberty and identifying real properties for purchase and sale.

B. Claim 2 Asserted by YCJS 2012 LLC

On April 13, 2016, YCJS 2012 LLC ("YCJS") filed Proof of Claim 2-1 ("Claim 2"). YCJS asserts an unsecured claim in the amount of $1,210,191.78, based upon breach of contract. The contract allegedly breached is a Disclosure Acknowledgment and Commitment to Purchase and Sell Distressed Real Estate Assets Agreement (the "Purchase and Sale Agreement") entered into between Liberty and YCJS on October 10, 2012. The Purchase and Sale Agreement provided that Liberty would purchase, on YCJS' behalf, property located at 119 Furlong Lane, Bradbury, CA 91008 (the "Bradbury Property") in exchange for a $900,000 payment. On account of the $900,000 payment, YCJS would acquire a 10% interest in the Bradbury Property.

C. YCJS and the San Jose Units

On July 2, 2015, Lucy Gao, Benjamin Kirk, and Tsai-Luan Ho (aka Shelby Ho) executed a Memorandum of Understanding (the "MOU") pertaining to two condominium units located at 88 E. San Fernando Street, Units 89 and 99, San Jose, CA 95113 (the "San Jose Units"). Pursuant to the MOU, Mr. Kirk and Ms. Gao transferred a 100% ownership interest in NC Project Management LLC—which held title to the San Jose Units—to Ms. Ho. Ms. Ho agreed to transfer one of the San Jose Units (Unit 89) to YCJS on or before September 30, 2015, for the purpose of satisfying Liberty's indebtedness to YCJS.

In a Pretrial Stipulation entered into in connection with pending litigation between the Committee and Ms. Ho, Ms. Ho has admitted the following facts:

- 1) On August 5, 2015, on behalf of NC Project Management LLC, Ms. Ho quitclaimed all interest in the San Jose Units to her solely-owned entity, Big Max LLC ("Big Max").
- 2) Ms. Ho did not transfer any portion of the San Jose Units to YCJS, allegedly because YCJS did not want the property.
- 3) On August 3, 2016, Ms. Ho granted YCJS a lien on the San Jose Units to secure payment of $1.23 million.
- 4) On or after August 2015, Ms. Ho caused the San Jose Units to be encumbered with various deeds of trust and received the net proceeds generated from these financings.
- 5) On January 10, 2018, Ms. Ho caused Big Max to commence a voluntary Chapter 11 petition in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of California, Case No. 18-bk-30031-DM.

D. The Settlement Between YCJS and Big Max

On March 29, 2018, YCJS filed Claim 6 in Big Max's Chapter 11 case, asserting a secured claim in the amount of $1.3 million based upon the lien Ms. Ho had granted YCJS against the San Jose Units. On April 30, 2018, the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of California approved a settlement agreement between YCJS and Big Max (the "Settlement Agreement"). Doc. No. 71, Case No. 18-bk-30031-DM. The Settlement Agreement provided that YCJS would hold an allowed secured claim in the amount of $1.3 million in the Big Max case, and further provided that YCJS would receive payment in full on its claim from the sales proceeds of the San Jose Units. See Doc. Nos. 59 and 71, Case No. 18-bk-30031-DM.

E. Summary of the Committee's Objection to Claim No. 2 Filed by YCJS

The Committee asserts that Claim No. 2, filed by YCJS, should be disallowed on the grounds that YCJS's indebtedness will be satisfied from the Settlement Agreement reached in the Big Max case. The Committee argues that YCJS cannot seek a double recovery from Liberty, to the detriment of Liberty's other creditors who will not receive a full recovery.

No opposition to the Committee's Claim Objection is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 502 requires the Court to disallow a claim that "is unenforceable against the debtor and the property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured."

Under Bankruptcy Rule 3001(f), a proof of claim executed and filed in accordance with the Bankruptcy Rules constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. Transport, Inc.), 993 F.2d 915, 925 (1st Cir. 1993). Upon objection, a proof of claim provides "some evidence as to its validity and amount" and is "strong enough to carry over a mere formal objection without more." See Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Spec., Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing Wright v. Holm (In re Holm), 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). An objecting party bears the burden and must "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Holm, 931 F.2d at 623. When the objector has shown enough evidence to negate one or more facts in the proof of claim, the burden shifts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of evidence. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (citation omitted).

Here, YCJS' claim is unenforceable because the indebtedness arising from Liberty's alleged breach of its contract with YCJS will be satisfied in connection with the Settlement Agreement reached in the Big Max case. Allowing YCJS' claim in this case would permit YCJS to obtain a double recovery, to the detriment of unsecured creditors who are unlikely to obtain a full recovery on account of their claims.

On October 10, 2012, Liberty and YCJS entered into the Purchase and Sale Agreement, which provided that Liberty would purchase the Bradbury Property on YCJS' behalf, and that YCJS would receive a 10% interest in the Bradbury Property in exchange for paying Liberty $900,000. Liberty subsequently rolled the Purchase and Sale Agreement pertaining to the Bradbury Property into a similar agreement pertaining to property located at 3981 Alemany Blvd., San Francisco, CA (the "3981 Property"). After Liberty failed to transfer the 3981 Property to YCJS, Mr. Kirk and Ms. Gao, acting on Liberty's behalf, caused Liberty to enter into a Memorandum of Understanding with Ms. Ho, the purpose of which was to satisfy Liberty's indebtedness to YCJS. Specifically, the Memorandum of Understanding provided that Ms. Ho would transfer one of the San Jose Units (Unit 89) to YCJS on or before September 30, 2015.

Ms. Ho failed to transfer Unit 89 to YCJS and instead granted YCJS a lien against the San Jose Units in the amount of approximately $1.23 million. The Settlement Agreement approved in the Big Max case provides that YCJS shall have an allowed secured claim in the amount of $1.3 million against the Big Max estate, and further provides that YCJS shall receive payment of its claim in full from the sales proceeds of the San Jose Units. See Doc. Nos. 59 and 71, Case No. 18-bk-30031-DM. Accordingly, Liberty's indebtedness to YCJS, which initially arose on account of Liberty's alleged breach of the Purchase and Sale Contract pertaining to the Bradbury Property, has been satisfied in full in connection with the Settlement Agreement approved in the Big Max case. As a result of the satisfaction of YCJS' indebtedness, YCJS claim against the Liberty estate is unenforceable.

B. The Claims Bar Date

On August 12, 2016, the Court issued an order setting October 30, 2016, as the deadline to file proofs of general unsecured claims. Doc. No. 178. On August 19, 2016, Liberty's Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") provided notice of the claims bar date to all known creditors. Doc. No. 186.

C. Claims Filed or Asserted by Tsai Luan Ho aka Shelby Ho

On October 29, 2016, Tsai Luan Ho aka Shelby Ho filed Proof of Claim No. 30-2 on behalf of her wholly-controlled entity Great Vista Real Estate Corporation ("Great Vista"). On October 30, 2016, Ms. Ho filed Proof of Claim 33-1 on behalf of Washe LLC.

Approximately thirteen months later, on November 17, 2017, Ms. Ho filed Proof of Claim No. 39 ("Claim 39") on behalf of herself. Ms. Ho asserts a general unsecured claim, in the amount of $11,503,387, on account of "commissions earned on real estate transactions."

D. Summary of the Committee's Objection to Claim No. 39 Filed by Ms. Ho

The Committee asserts that Claim No. 39, filed by Ms. Ho, should be disallowed for the following reasons:

- 1) Pursuant to §502(b)(9), the claim must be disallowed because it was filed almost a year after the claims bar date.
- 2) Ms. Ho cannot escape application of the claims bar date by asserting that Claim No. 39 qualifies as an amended claim. There is no relationship between Claim No. 39 and the claims that Ms. Ho caused to be filed on behalf of Great Vista and Washe LLC.
- 3) Pursuant to the statute of frauds, codified at Cal. Civ. Code §1624(a)(4), the claim for real estate commissions is not enforceable because there is no written agreement supporting the claim.
- 4) Even if the statute of frauds did not bar the claim, the claim would still be time-barred because the statute of limitations applicable to enforcement of an oral contract is two years, and the majority of transactions supporting Claim 39 took place in 2011, five years prior to the petition date.
- 5) Pursuant to §502(d), the claim should be disallowed because the Committee is pursuing fraudulent transfer claims against Ms. Ho in a pending adversary proceeding.

Under Bankruptcy Rule 3001(f), a proof of claim executed and filed in accordance with the Bankruptcy Rules constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. To overcome the presumption of validity created by a timely-filed proof of claim, an objecting party must do one of the following: (1) object based on legal grounds and provide a memorandum of points and authorities setting forth the legal basis for the objection; or (2) object based on a factual ground and provide sufficient evidence (usually in the form of declarations under penalty of perjury) to create triable issues of fact. *Durkin v. When the objector has shown enough evidence to negate one or more facts in the proof of claim, the burden shifts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of evidence. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (citation omitted).

Section 502(b)(9) requires the Court to disallow a claim if the "proof of such claim is not timely filed." Here, Ms. Ho filed Claim 39 approximately one year subsequent to the claims bar date. Notice of the claims bar date was provided to Ms. Ho and her attorney. In addition, Ms. Ho's awareness of the claims bar date is established by the fact that she caused proofs of claim to be filed on behalf of two other entities in which she held an interest. Because Claim No. 39 was not timely filed, it is DISALLOWED.

Section 502 requires the Court to disallow a claim that "is unenforceable against the debtor and the property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured." Here, the claim is unenforceable under California law and therefore must be disallowed for this additional reason. Specifically, Cal. Civ. Code §1624(a)(4) provides that an agreement

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Marco Antonio Cueto (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 Petition on July 11, 2017 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor has continued to operate his business as a debtor-in-possession, and no Committee of Unsecured Creditors has been appointed in this case. On February 22, 2018, the Court entered the "Order Approving First Amended Chapter 11 Disclosure Statement" (the "Disclosure Statement Order ") [Doc. No. 84].

On January 9, 2018, the Debtor filed the "First Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization" (the "First Amended Plan") [Doc. No. 68]. The Debtor filed the "Motion to Confirm First Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 90] on April 4, 2018.

On April 11, 2018, Creditor HomeStreet Bank ("HomeStreet") filed the Opposition to Motion (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 95]. The Opposition objected to the confirmation of the First Amended Plan on the following grounds: (1) the Amended Plan's proposal to repay HomeStreet's Secured Claim with interest payable at 5% amortized over 30 years from the Effective Date was insufficient—HomeStreet contended that 5.875% is an appropriate interest rate using the prime rate of 4.50% and adding a risk adjustment of 1.50%; (2) the First Amended Plan's proposal to pay a monthly payment of $1,699.00 per month for 30 years beginning on the Effective Date was not sufficient to cure the arrearage amounts as of the Petition Date; (3) the First Amended Plan did not contain a specific undertaking as to which party will be responsible for post-confirmation real estate taxes and casualty insurance; and (4) the First Amended Plan proposed an extension of the maturity date of HomeStreet's loan to 2048—HomeStreet objected to any extension of the maturity date.

Chapter 11

On April 16, 2018, the Debtor filed the Reply to the Opposition (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 96]. The Reply stated that the Debtor was willing to modify the First Amended Plan in order to resolve each of the objections raised in the Opposition.

The Court held a hearing on the Motion on April 25, 2018. The Court continued the hearing to June 6, 2018 at 10:00 a.m. in order for the Debtor to make the contemplated modifications to the treatment of the Class 5(b) Impaired Secured Claim of HomeStreet, and to file a Second Amended Plan. See "Ruling after Hearing RE Hearing on Confirmation of First Amended Plan" [Doc. No. 98].

The Second Amended Plan

On May 16, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Second Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization" (the "Second Amended Plan") [Doc. No. 100]. The Second Amended Plan is summarized as follows:

- (1) Unclassified Claims including Administrative Priority and Tax claims: these claims include (i) professional fees and costs; (ii) United States Trustee's fees; and (iii) postpetition domestic support obligations. Such claims shall be paid in full on, or as soon as practicable after the Effective Date or upon allowance of such claim, whichever is later. Holders of priority tax claims are entitled to priority under § 507(a)(8), and such claims shall be paid over five years from the date of the entry of the order for relief with 4% interest. Holders of involuntary gap period claims allowed under § 502(f), which are entitled to priority under § 507(a)(3), will be paid in full on, or as soon as practicable after the Effective Date or upon allowance of such claim, whichever is later.
 - (a) Priority Tax Claim of the IRS: The IRS has an Unsecured Priority Claim in the amount of $1,827.40. The Debtor proposes to pay the Unsecured Priority Claim of the IRS in equal monthly payments of $156.00 over a one year period with an interest rate of 4%.
- (2) Administrative Claims/Fees: The Debtor estimates his attorney fees and costs to Anyama Law Firm to be $10,000.00. The Debtor proposes to pay his administrative fees from his earnings in the amount of $10,000.00 on the Effective Date of the Plan. The Debtor understands that Administrative fees are subject to Court approval after notice and a hearing.

- (3) Class 5(b)—Impaired Secured Claim of Home Street Bank: HomeStreet Bank is the First lienholder on the Debtor's real property located at 15111 Freeman Ave., Apt. 72, Lawndale, CA 90260 (the "Freeman Property") and as of July 11, 2017, has an allowed secured claim in the amount of $337,995.57 (the "HomeStreet Claim"). The Debtor proposes to pay the HomeStreet Claim over 30 years. The Second Amended Plan proposes to pay Home Street Claim over a period of 30 years with the total amount of payments over time totaling $719,767.00, with an interest rate of 5.875%. The first payment date is the Plan Effective Date. The Debtor proposes to pay monthly installments on the first day of each month in the amount of $1,999.00 with an anticipated final payment date of June 1, 2048.
- (4) Class 5(c)—Impaired Secured Claim of Citi Mortgage: Citi Mortgage is the Second lienholder on the Freeman Property and as of July 11, 2017, has an impaired secured claim for $118,475.52. The total amount of payments over time to satisfy the Home Street Claim is $118,475.52, with an interest rate of 0%. The first payment date was December 1, 2017. The Debtor proposes to pay monthly installments on the first day of each month in the amount of $416.71 with an anticipated final payment date of February 21, 2037. The payments are based on the "Stipulation Agreement" entered into between the Debtor and Citi Mortgage. See "First Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization" (the "Second Amended Plan") [Doc. No. 100] Exhibit 1.
- (5) Class 6(b): Other General Unsecured Creditors: Other general unsecured creditors will be paid 100% of their allowed claims over one year in equal monthly installments due on the first day of each calendar month without interest starting on the first such date after the Effective Date. The total amount of the two claims in this class is $1,040.42. See "First Amended Disclosure Statement in Support of Plan of Reorganization" (the "Amended Disclosure Statement") [Doc. No. 67], Exhibit C.
- (6) Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases: The Debtor assumes the unexpired lease with Christina E. Blais, 15111 Freeman Ave., Apt. 72, Lawndale, CA 90260 (the "Blais Lease"). See Amended Disclosure Statement, Exhibit E. The Blaise Lease is a one year lease commencing on July 1, 2017 and ending July 1, 2018.

- (7) Sources of Plan Payments: The Debtor intends to make the payments required under the Plan from the following sources:
- (a) Available Cash: The Debtor projects $10,500.00 cash will be available on the Effective Date.
- (b) Future Disposable Income: The Debtor estimates that projected monthly disposable income available to creditors for the one year period following confirmation will be $1,024.46. This is based on the monthly income of $10,142.59 and expenses of $9,118.13 as set forth in the "Debtor's Declaration of Current/Postpetition Income and Expenses," Amended Disclosure Statement Exhibit A.
- (8) Risk Factors: The Plan has the following risks: the Debtor has a one year rental agreement with his tenant. The tenant may refuse to renew the lease which may result in a lapse in time before the Debtor can secure new tenants. Furthermore, tenants may default on their rental obligations.
- (9) Liquidation Analysis: Pursuant to the Debtor's liquidation analysis, the Disclosure Statement shows that, under Chapter 7 liquidation, unsecured creditors would likely be paid 0% on their claims. The Debtor asserts that under the proposed Plan, unsecured creditors would receive 100% recovery.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As set forth below, the Court finds that the Second Amended Plan complies with all applicable provisions of § 1129.

Section 1129(a)(1)

Section 1129(a)(1) requires that the "plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." According to the Collier, the "legislative history suggests that the applicable provisions are those governing the plan's internal structure and drafting:

1. Section 1122(a)

Section 1122(a) provides that "a plan may place a claim or an interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interests of such class."

Each of the secured claims is classified separately, as is appropriate because each secured claimant has unique rights with respect to specific collateral. The claims of unsecured creditors in Class 6 are substantially similar to each other. The Second Amended Plan satisfies § 1122(a).

2. Section 1122(b)

Section 1122(b) provides that "a plan may designate a separate class of claims consisting only of every unsecured claim that is less than or reduced to an amount that the court approves as reasonable and necessary for administrative convenience."

The Amended Plan does not separately classify certain unsecured claims. Section 1122(b) is inapplicable.

3. Section 1123(a)(1)

Section 1123(a)(1) requires that a plan "designate ... classes of claims, other than claims of a kind specified in section 507(a)(2) [administrative expense claims], 507(a)(3) [claims arising during the gap period in an involuntary case], or 507(a)(8) [priority tax claims], and classes of interest."

There are no involuntary gap claims because this is a voluntary Chapter 11 case. The Second Amended Plan separately classifies § 507(a)(2) administrative expense claims and § 507(a)(8) priority tax claims. The Second Amended Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(1).

4. Section 1123(a)(2)

Section 1123(a)(2) requires that the plan "specify any class of claims or interests that is not impaired under the plan."

There are no unimpaired classes. The Amended Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(2).

5. Section 1123(a)(3)

Section 1123(a)(3) requires that the plan "specify the treatment of any class of claims or interests that is impaired under the plan."

The description of each class set forth in the Second Amended Plan details the treatment of the impaired classes. The Second Amended Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(3).

6. Section 1123(a)(4)

Section 1123(a)(4) requires that the Plan "provide the same treatment for each claim or interest of a particular class unless the holder of a particular claim or interest agrees to a less favorable treatment of such particular claim or interest."

The Second Amended Plan provides the same treatment to claims and interests of the same class. The Second Amended Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(4).

7. Section 1123(a)(5)

Section 1123(a)(5) requires that the plan "provide adequate means for the plan's implementation."

The Second Amended Plan describes the means for implementation of the Second Amended Plan's provisions. The Second Amended Plan provides for funding from: $10,500.00 of cash on hand on the Effective Date, and additional cash from projected disposable income, which is projected to be $850.46 per month for the one-year period following confirmation. The Second Amended Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(5).

8. Section 1123(a)(6)

Section 1123(a)(6) provides: "[A] plan shall provide for the inclusion in the charter of the debtor, if the debtor is a corporation ..., of a provision prohibiting the issuance of nonvoting equity securities, and providing, as to the several classes of securities possessing voting power, an appropriate distribution of such power among such classes, including, in the case of any class of equity securities having a preference over another class of equity securities with respect to dividends, adequate provisions for the election of directors representing such preferred class in the event of default in the payment of such dividends."

The Debtor is an individual. Section 1123(a)(6) does not apply.

Chapter 11

Section 1123(a)(7) requires that the plan's provisions with respect to the selection of officers and directors be consistent with public policy and the interests of creditors and equity security holders.

The Debtor is an individual. Section 1123(a)(6) does not apply.

10. Section 1123(b)

Section 1123(b) sets forth provisions that are permitted, but not required, in a plan of reorganization.

The Second Amended Plan contains certain of § 1123(b)'s optional provisions. The Second Amended Plan is consistent with § 1123(b).

Section 1129(a)(2)

Section 1129(a)(2) requires that the "proponent of the plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title."

The Court finds that the Debtor as Second Amended Plan proponent has:

- 1) Obtained Court approval of a Disclosure Statement in accordance with § 1125 (see "Order Approving Disclosure Statement and Fixing Time for Filing Acceptance or Rejections of Plan" [Doc. No. 84]); and
- 2) Obtained Court approval of the employment of professional persons (see "Order Granting Motion in Individual Chapter 11 Case for Order Employing Professional" [Doc. No. 15]).

Accordingly, the Debtor has satisfied the requirements of § 1129(a)(2).

Section 1129(a)(3)

Section 1129(a)(3) requires that the "plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law." As one court has explained:

The term 'good faith' in the context of 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3) is not statutorily defined but has been interpreted by case law as referring to a plan that 'achieves a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code.' 'The requisite good faith determination is based on the totality of the circumstances.'

Chapter 11

The Second Amended Plan presented here seeks results consistent with the purposes and objectives of the code. The Debtor negotiated the Second Amended Plan provisions with its secured creditors and at least one member of the unsecured creditor classes. The Second Amended Plan satisfies §1129(a)(3).

Section 1129(a)(4)

Section 1129(a)(4) requires that "[a]ny payment made or to be made by the proponent, by the debtor, or by a person issuing securities or acquiring property under the plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of, the court as reasonable."

The Second Amended Plan provides for payment of attorney and other professional fees only upon application to, and approval by, the Court. The Second Amended Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(4).

Section 1129(a)(5)

Section 1129(a)(5) requires that the plan disclose "the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint plan with the debtor, or a successor to the debtor under the plan." Section 1129(a)(5)(A)(ii) requires that the appointment to or continuation in office of an director or officer be consistent with the interests of creditors, equity security holders, and public policy. Section 1129(a)(5)(B) requires the plan proponent to disclose the identity of any insider to be employed by the reorganized debtor.

The Debtor is an individual; therefore, § 1129(a)(5) does not apply.

Section 1129(a)(6)

Section 1129(a)(6), which requires that a governmental regulatory commission with jurisdiction over rates charged by a debtor approve any rate changes provided for in the Second Amended Plan, does not apply.

Section 1129(a)(7)

Section 1129(a)(7), known as the "best interests of creditors test," provides in relevant part: "With respect to each impaired class of claims or interests, each holder of a claim or interest of such class has accepted the plan; or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of this title on such date."

Based upon its review of the Liquidation Analysis included with the Disclosure Statement, under Chapter 7 liquidation unsecured creditors would likely be paid 0% on their claims. The Second Amended Plan provides each holder of a claim in an impaired with a recovery or property of value, as of the Effective Date, that is not less than the amount that such holder would receive in a Chapter 7 liquidation. The Second Amended Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(7).

Section 1129(a)(8)

Section 1129(a)(8) requires each class to accept the plan, unless the class is not impaired. To accept a plan, members of a class must affirmatively vote in favor of the plan. In re M. Long Arabians, 103 B.R. 211, 215-16 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1989).

Classes 5(c), and 6(b) are both impaired and both classes voted to confirm the Second Amended Plan. Class 5(b) voted against the Classes 5(c), and 6(b) are both impaired and both classes voted to confirm the First Amended Plan; however, it appears that the Second Amended Plan has addressed the issues raised by HomeStreet in its initial Opposition to the Motion.

In addition to the above, to be "fair and equitable," a plan must comply with the "absolute priority rule." See Case v. Los Angeles Lumber Co., 308 U.S. 106 (1939). In applying § 1129(b)(2)(B), this Court follows the approach set forth in In re Arnold, 471 B.R. 578 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012) and applies the absolute priority rule to individual chapter 11 debtors. Collier defines that absolute priority rule:

A plan of reorganization may not allocate any property whatsoever to any junior class on account of the members' interest or claim in a debtor unless all senior classes consent, or unless such senior classes receive property equal in value to the full amount of their allowed claims, or the debtor's reorganization value, whichever is less.

Chapter 11

As required by the Bankruptcy Code, the Second Amended Plan places claims and interests into various Classes according to their priority, with the exception of the "unclassified claims" consistent with the provisions of § 1123(a)(1). The Second Amended Plan complies with the absolute priority rule.

In sum, the Second Amended Plan satisfies the applicable requirements of § 1129(a)(8) and § 1129(b).

Section 1129(a)(9)

Section 1129(a)(9) requires that holders of certain administrative and priority claims receive cash equal to the allowed claim amount on the effective date of the plan, unless the claimant agrees to different treatment.

The Second Amended Plan provides for payment of attorney and other professional fees only upon application to, and approval by, the Court. The Debtor will pay other claims allowed under § 503(b) and entitled to priority under § 507(a)(2), including United States Trustee's fees, in full on the Effective Date except to the extent that a holder of these claims agrees to other terms.

The Second Amended Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(9).

Section 1129(a)(10)

Section 1129(a)(10) requires that at least one class of impaired claims accept the plan.

Classes 5(c), and 6(b) are both impaired and both classes voted to confirm the Second Amended Plan. The Second Amended Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(10).

Section 1129(a)(11)

Section 1129(a)(11), known as the "feasibility requirement," requires the Court to find that "[c]onfirmation of the plan is not likely to be followed by the liquidation, or the need for further financial reorganization, of the debtor or any successor to the debtor under the plan, unless such liquidation or reorganization is proposed in the plan."

Based upon its review of the budget projections included with the Amended Disclosure Statement, the Court finds that the Debtor's projected income and cash available on the Effective date are sufficient to make required plan payments. The Second Amended Plan is feasible and satisfies § 1129(a)(11).

Section 1129(a)(12)

Section 1129(a)(12) requires that the Debtor pay all United States Trustee fees prior to confirmation or provide for payment of those fees on the effective date.

The Second Amended Plan and the projections in the Amended Disclosure Statement include payment of all Administrative Claims. The Second Amended Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(12).

Section 1129(a)(13)

Section 1129(a)(13), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of retirement benefits, does not apply.

Section 1129(a)(14)

Section 1129(a)(14), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of domestic support obligations, does not apply.

Section 1129(a)(15)

Section 1129(a)(15) provides:

(15) In a case in which the debtor is an individual and in which the holder of an allowed unsecured claim objects to the confirmation of the plan--

(A) the value, as of the effective date of the plan, of the property to be distributed under the plan on account of such claim is not less than the amount of such claim; or

(B) the value of the property to be distributed under the plan is not less than the projected disposable income of the debtor (as defined in section 1325(b)(2) [11 USCS § 1325(b)(2)]) to be received during the 5-year period beginning on the date that the first payment is due under the plan, or during the period for which the plan provides payments, whichever is longer.

The Court's "Ruling after Hearing RE Hearing on Confirmation of First Amended Plan" [Doc. No. 98], set May 23, 2018 as the deadline for any supplemental opposition to the Second Amended Plan. As of the date of this tentative ruling, no supplemental opposition to the Second Amended Plan has been filed. Therefore, the Second Amended Plan meets the requirements of § 1129(a)(15).

Section 1129(a)(16)

Section 1129(a)(16) provides: "All transfers of property under the plan shall be made in accordance with any applicable provisions of nonbankruptcy law that govern the transfer of property by a corporation or trust that is not a moneyed, business, or commercial corporation or trust."

The Debtor is an individual; therefore, § 1129(a)(16) does not apply.

Section 1129(d) provides: "Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, on request of a party in interest that is a governmental unit, the court may not confirm a plan if the principal purpose of the plan is the avoidance of taxes or the avoidance of the application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933."

No governmental unit has requested that the court not confirm the Second Amended Plan on the grounds that the Second Amended Plan's purpose is the avoidance of taxes. The Second Amended Plan was proposed in good faith, and the principal purpose of the Second Amended Plan is to allow the Debtor to restructure his finances while paying creditors at least as much as they would receive in a Chapter 7 liquidation. The Second Amended Plan satisfies § 1129(d).

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Debtor's Second Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization is CONFIRMED.

The Debtor shall upload a conforming order within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Rund in Support Thereof (Davis, Michael)

Docket 1265

Tentative Ruling:

6/5/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Settlement Agreement is APPROVED and the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Chapter 7 Trustee's Motion for Approval of Compromise with MUFG Union Bank, NA, a National Association fka Union Bank of California, NA [Doc. No. 1265] (the "Motion")
 - a) Notice of Motion [Doc. No. 1266]
- 2) No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") seeks approval of a compromise with MUFG Union Bank, NA, a National Association fka Union Bank of California, NA ("Union Bank"). On December 3, 2012, the Trustee commenced an adversary proceeding against Union Bank, alleging that the Trustee was entitled to avoid transfers from Union Bank to EPD in the amount of $104,852.82. Pursuant to the proposed Settlement Agreement, Union Bank will pay the estate $75,000 in full and complete satisfaction the Trustee's claims against Union Bank.

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that all three of the settlement agreements are adequate, fair, and reasonable, and are in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Paramount Interests of Creditors

This factor weighs strongly in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The Settlement Agreement will yield $75,000 for the estate—approximately three-quarters of the amount sought by the Trustee in the Complaint. No creditors have objected to approval of the Settlement Agreement.

Difficulties to Be Encountered in the Matter of Collection

The Trustee is unaware of any issues that would make it difficult to collect a potential judgment against Union Bank. Nonetheless, this factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement, because even if the Trustee obtained judgment in the full amount demanded by the Complaint, the costs of collecting such a judgment would diminish the recovery, potentially leaving the estate worse off.

Complexity of the Litigation

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The litigation is fact-intensive and, in view of the comparatively small amount at issue, litigation costs could easily swamp any excess recovery that the Trustee might obtain should he pursue the action to final judgment.

Probability of Success on the Merits

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. As noted, even if additional litigation could potentially yield an increased recovery, from the perspective of the estate and creditors, the victory would be pyrrhic given that the increased administrative costs would swamp any additional recovery for creditors.

#1.00 HearingRE: [68] Motion to Avoid Lien JUDICIAL LIEN with FINANCIAL PACIFIC LEASING

Docket 68

Tentative Ruling:

6/6/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Second Renewed Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Second Renewed Motion to Avoid Judicial Lien of Financial Pacific Leasing LLC (the "Second Renewed Motion") [Doc. No. 68]
- 2) No Opposition has been filed as of the date of this tentative ruling

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Jeannette Broberg (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on April 26, 2010 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. On March 21, 2011, the Court entered the Order of Discharge [Doc. No. 27], and on April 8, 2011, the Debtor's case was ordered closed pursuant to the "Order Closing Case" [Doc. No. 29].

On December 25, 2017, the Debtor filed the "Motion to Reopen Case" (the "Motion to Reopen") [Doc. No. 30]. On January 12, 2018, the Court entered the "Order Granting Motion to Reopen to File Lien Avoidance Motions" [Doc. No. 36]. On December 25, 2017, the Debtor filed, among other Lien Avoidance Motions, the First Motion to Avoid Judicial Lien of Powell Industries [Doc. No. 31]. On January 31, 2018, the Court entered the Order Denying the First Motion Avoid Judicial Lien of Powell Industries without Prejudice [Doc. No. 42], and ordered the Debtor to file a renewed motion pursuant to LBR 9013-1(o), served in a manner authorized under FRBP 7004(b).

On February 13, 2018, the Debtor filed the Renewed Motion to Avoid Judicial Lien of Powell Industries (the "Renewed Motion") [Doc. No. 53]. After the hearing on the Renewed Motion, the Court determined that service of the Renewed Motion did not comply with the Court's instructions to serve the Renewed Motion in a manner authorized under FRBP 7004(b). Thus, the Court denied the Renewed Motion without prejudice and directed the Debtor to file a Second Renewed Motion in accordance with the detailed and specific instructions for service set forth by the Court.

On April 25, 2018, the Debtor filed the Second Renewed Motion to Avoid Judicial Lien of Financial Pacific Leasing LLC (the "Second Renewed Motion") [Doc. No. 68]. The Second Renewed Motion was served on Financial Pacific Leasing LLC in a manner authorized by FRBP 7004(b). The Debtor is the owner of certain real property located at 7651 Kyle Street, Tujunga, CA 91042 (the "Property"). Second Renewed Motion at 2; "Declaration of Jeannette Broberg" ("Broberg Declaration") [Doc. No. 68] at ¶ 3. The Debtor claimed an exemption in the Property as her principal residence under Cal. Code Civ. P. § 703.140(b)(1). Petition, Schedule C. According to the Debtor's Schedule A, the Property has a fair market value of $250,000.00. The Property is encumbered by a First Deed of Trust held by Wells Fargo Bank N.A. in the amount of $352,818.00. The Second Renewed Motion seeks to avoid the judicial lien of Financial Pacific Leasing LLC in the amount of $53,802.82, recorded on February 22, 2010. See Second Renewed Motion, Exhibit D. The Second Renewed Motion contends that the above-described judicial lien of Financial Pacific Leasing LLC impairs exemptions to which the Debtor would be entitled under 11 U.S.C. § 522(b).

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Pursuant to § 522(f), a debtor may avoid the fixing of a lien on an interest of the debtor in property to the extent that such lien impairs an exemption if such lien is a judicial lien, other than a judicial lien that secures a debt of a kind that is specified in § 523(a)(5). 11 U.S.C. § 522(f). "For the purposes of this subsection, a lien shall be considered to impair an exemption to the extent that the sum of: (i) the lien; (ii) all other liens on the property; and (iii) the amount of the exemption that the debtor could claim if there were no liens on the property, exceeds the value that the debtor's interest in the property would have in the absence of any liens." Id. A debtor's interest in the property is determined by the "fair market value as of the date of the filing of the petition." 11 U.S.C. §§ 522(a), (f). To prevail on a motion to avoid a judicial lien, the debtor must show that: (1) he has an interest in the homestead property; (2) he is entitled to a homestead exemption; (3) the asserted lien impairs that exemption; and

Based on the pleadings and supporting declarations filed and reviewed, the Court finds that the Debtor has satisfied the requirements of § 522(f) and GRANTS the Second Renewed Motion.

The calculation of impairment is as follows: $250,000 (FMV) - $1.00 (the Debtor’s Exemption) - $352,818.00 (Wells Fargo First Mortgage) = ($102,819.00). Thus, the Court finds that the Judicial Lien of Financial Pacific Leasing LLC impairs the Debtor’s Exemption. Based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Debtor’s Second Renewed Motion. The Judicial Lien of Financial Pacific Leasing LLC is avoided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 522(f) in its entirety.

The Debtor shall lodge a conforming order within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 49

Tentative Ruling:

6/6/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED. The Court finds that the Chapter 7 Trustee is entitled to partial summary adjudication in his favor with respect to the Complaint's first, third, and fifth claims for relief.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Chapter 7 Trustee's Notice of Motion and Motion for Summary Judgment on First, Third, and Fifth Claims for Relief [Doc. No. 49] (the "Motion")
 - a) Notice of Lodgment of Proposed Summary Judgment [Doc. No. 50]
 - b) Plaintiff's Proposed Statement of Uncontroverted Facts and Conclusions of Law Re Motion for Summary Judgment on First, Third, and Fifth Claims for Relief
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Anne Lan Peterson (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on December 14, 2011. On April 16, 2012, the Debtor received a discharge, and on April 30, 2012, the Debtor's case was closed as a "no asset" case. Bankr. Doc. Nos. 18 and 20.

The Debtor was married to Ronald Peterson ("Ronald") [Note 1], one of the defendants herein, from 1997 to 2010. Divorce proceedings between the Debtor and Ronald have been lengthy and contentious. In an apparent attempt to gain a tactical advantage in the divorce litigation, Ronald notified the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") of undisclosed assets, and the Debtor's case was reopened.

Chapter 7

On October 19, 2017, the Trustee initiated the instant Complaint against Ronald and two LLCs—Maitreya, LLC, a Nevada LLC ("Maitreya Nevada") and Maitreya, LLC, an Arizona LLC ("Maitreya Arizona"). The Complaint seeks a declaration that real property located at 359 W. Langston Street, Upland, California 91786 (the "Real Property") is community property of the Debtor and Ronald, and therefore property of the estate pursuant to §541(a)(2). The Complaint seeks turnover of the Real Property, avoidance of the post-petition transfer of the Property to Maitreya Arizona, and dissolution of Maitreya Nevada pursuant to Nevada Revised Statute §86.495, on the grounds that the Trustee, as the sole owner, is entitled to liquidate Maitreya Nevada.

The Trustee moves for partial summary adjudication on his claims for (1) declaratory judgment that the Real Property is community property and therefore property of the estate, (2) turnover of the Real Property, and (3) dissolution of Maitreya Nevada (the first, third, and fifth claims for relief). The Trustee states that if the Motion is granted, he will consent to dismissal, without prejudice, of the remaining claims. No Opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Summary judgment is appropriate "if the movant shows that there is no genuine dispute as to any material facts and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Civil Rule 56 (made applicable to these proceedings by Bankruptcy Rule 7056). The moving party has the burden of establishing the absence of a genuine issue of material fact and that it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. *Celotex Corp. v. declaratory judgment that the Real Property is community property and therefore property of the estate, (2) turnover of the Real Property, and (3) dissolution of Maitreya Nevada.

A. Material Facts as to Which there is No Genuine Dispute

Having reviewed the Motion, the pleadings on file, and the evidence submitted in support of the Motion, the Court finds that there is no genuine dispute as to the following material facts:

- 1) At all relevant times, defendant Ronald was and is an individual residing in the County of San Bernardino, State of California.
- 2) Ronald was married to the Debtor from 1997 to 2010.
- 3) At all relevant times, defendant Maitreya Nevada was and is a limited liability company operating by virtue of the laws of the State of Nevada.
- 4) At all relevant times, defendant Maitreya Arizona was and is a limited liability company by virtue of the laws of the State of Arizona. (Ronald, Maitreya Nevada, and Maitreya Arizona are collectively referred to as the "Defendants.")
- 5) The Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief (the "Petition") under Chapter 7 of title 11 of the United States Code (the "Bankruptcy Code") on or about December 14, 2011 (the "Petition Date").
- 6) The Debtor's bankruptcy case was closed on April 30, 2012, reopened in March 2013, closed again in June 2013, and reopened again on July 6, 2016. The Trustee was reappointed on or about July 14, 2016.
- 7) On or about September 28, 2001, the Debtor and Ronald acquired and took title by Grant Deed (the "2001 Grant Deed") to a parcel of real property in San Bernardino County commonly known as 359 W. Langston Street, Upland, California 91786 (the "Real Property"), as "husband and wife as joint tenants."
- 8) The organizing documents for Maitreya Nevada were filed with the Nevada Secretary of State on or about February 10, 2004.
- 9) On or about February 23, 2004, the Debtor and Ronald executed and recorded in the San Bernardino County Recorder's Office, document number 2004-0126221, a Grant Deed transferring title to the Real Property to Maitreya Nevada (the "2004 Grant Deed"). The documentary transfer tax with respect to the recording of the 2004 Grant Deed was $0.00.
- 10) There was no written agreement between Maitreya Nevada and Ronald and/or the Debtor relating to the recording of the 2004 Grant Deed.

- 11) According to Ronald, the only reason the 2004 Grant Deed was recorded was that it appeared to Ronald to be a way to protect the Real Property from people who he believed wished Ronald and the Debtor harm.
- 12) On or about March 31, 2010, in proceedings pending in case number FAMRS1001158 in the San Bernardino Superior Court (the "State Court"), the Debtor served a Schedule of Assets and Debts on Ronald, which lists her interest in the Real Property, along with personal property (the "Personal Property").
- 13) On June 27, 2016, the State Court entered an order finding, among other things, that a prenuptial agreement entered into between Ronald and the Debtor was void because the Debtor was not fully apprised of the nature of the agreement.
- 14) Ronald caused the organizing documents for Maitreya Arizona to be filed with the Arizona Secretary of State on or about February 17, 2012.

B. The Trustee is Entitled to Partial Summary Adjudication on the First Claim for Relief for a Declaration that the Real Property is Property of the Estate

Pursuant to §541(a)(2), "[a]ll interests of the debtor and the debtor's spouse in community property as of the commencement of the case" constitute property of the estate. Because the State Court had not entered an order providing for the final disposition of property between the Debtor and Ronald as of the commencement of the Debtor's Chapter 7 petition, all community property of the Debtor and Ronald is property of the estate. See Keller v. Keller (In re Keller), 185 B.R. 796, 799–800 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995).

In Marriage of Valli, the California Supreme Court summarized the standards applicable to the determination of whether property is separate property or community property:

Property that a spouse acquired before the marriage is that spouse's separate property. (Fam.Code, § 770, subd. (a)(1).) Property that a spouse acquired during the marriage is community property (id., § 760) unless it is (1) traceable to a separate property source (In re Marriage of Lucas (1980) 27 Cal.3d 808, 815, 166 Cal.Rptr. 853, 614 P.2d 285; In re Marriage of Mix (1975) 14 Cal.3d 604, 610, 612, 122 Cal.Rptr. 79, 536 P.2d 479), (2) acquired by gift or bequest (Fam.Code, § 770, subd. (a)(2)), or (3) earned or accumulated while the spouses are living separate and apart (id., § 771, subd. (a)). A spouse's claim that property acquired during a marriage is separate property must be proven by a preponderance of the evidence. (In re Marriage of Etefagh (2007) 150 Cal.App.4th 1578, 1591, 59 Cal.Rptr.3d 419; see Estate of Murphy (1976) 15 Cal.3d 907, 917, 126 Cal.Rptr. 820, 544 P.2d 956 [a spouse asserting that property acquired by purchase during a marriage is separate property must prove that the property is not community].) ...

Married persons may, through a transfer or an agreement, transmute—that is, change—the character of property from community to separate or from separate to community. (Fam.Code, § 850.) A transmutation of property, however, "is not valid unless made in writing by an express declaration that is made, joined in, consented to, or accepted by the spouse whose interest in the property is adversely affected." (Id., § 852, subd. (a).)
In re Marriage of Valli, 58 Cal. 4th 1396, 1400, 324 P.3d 274, 276 (2014)

Valli v. Valli (In re Marriage of Valli), 58 Cal. 4th 1396, 1400, 324 P.3d 274, 276 (2014).

Here, the Real Property is community property and is therefore property of the estate. The Debtor and Ronald acquired the Real Property while they were married; the Grant Deed providing for the transfer of title states that the Debtor and Ronald took title as "husband and wife as joint tenants." Because the Real Property was acquired during marriage, the Real Property is community property unless it is (1) traceable to a separate property source, (2) acquired by gift or bequest, or (3) earned or accumulated while Ronald and the Debtor were living separate and apart.

In testimony elicited during a Rule 2004 Examination, Ronald attempted to assert that he made the down payment on the Real Property using his separate property. In support of this contention, Ronald produced a $5,000 check from his company Rotten Records, as well as a cashier's check, in the amount of $78,441.79, that was purchased by Rotten Records. Ronald claimed that these checks were used to make a down payment in the approximate amount of $83,000.

Notwithstanding the two checks and Ronald's testimony during the Rule 2004 Examination, the Court finds that there is no genuine dispute that the Real Property is community property. First, Ronald has failed to establish that the two checks were actually used to make the down payment. Even if Ronald could demonstrate that the checks were used for the down payment, he has not shown that the funds were his separate property. The fact that the funds purportedly originated from Ronald's company, Rotten Records, does not demonstrate that the funds were separate property; business income generated by Rotten Records during the marriage would constitute community property. The cashier's check for $78,441.79 is dated September 26, 2001; the check for $5,000 is dated July 18, 2001. Ronald and the Debtor were married in 1997. Therefore, for the checks to qualify as Ronald's separate property, Ronald would have to show that the funds were traceable to work he performed prior to 1997. Ronald has not made this showing.

Nothing in the record suggests that the Real Property was acquired by gift or bequest or was earned or accumulated while Ronald and the Debtor were living apart. Since the Real Property was acquired during marriage and none of the exceptions apply, the Real Property is community property.

There can be no genuine dispute that the Real Property is property of the estate notwithstanding the transfer of the Real Property to Maitreya Nevada in 2004. The Debtor and Ronald hold 100% of the equity interests in Maitreya Nevada, and the Real Property was community property at the time it was transferred to Maitreya Nevada in 2004. The Debtor and Ronald did not pay any transfer taxes in connection with the transfer, and the purpose of the transfer was to shield the Real Property from people who wished to inflict harm upon the Debtor and Ronald. Under these circumstances, the Real Property remained community property of Ronald and the Debtor.

C. The Trustee is Entitled to Partial Summary Adjudication on the Third Claim for Relief for Turnover of the Real Property

Section 542 provides: "[A]n entity, other than a custodian, in possession, custody, or control, during the case, of property that the trustee may use, sell or lease under section 363 of this title ..., shall deliver to the trustee, and account for, such property or the value of such property, unless such property is of inconsequential value or benefit to the estate." The "property" referred to in §542 "is generally understood to mean 'property of the estate,' as defined in section 541." Collier on Bankruptcy 542.02[2] (16th rev'd ed. 2015).

As set forth in Section B, the Real Property is property of the estate. Accordingly, the Trustee is entitled to turnover of the Real Property.

D. The Trustee is Entitled to Partial Summary Adjudication on the Fifth Claim for Relief for Dissolution of Maitreya Nevada

Nevada Revised Statute §86.495 provides in relevant part:

Upon application by or for a member, the district court may decree dissolution of a limited-liability company whenever it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the business of the company in conformity with the articles of organization or operating agreement.

The Trustee requested that Ronald produce copies of Maitreya Nevada's organizational documents. Ronald did not produce any organizational documents, claiming that he does not have them. Ronald has admitted that the purpose of Maitreya Nevada was to shield marital assets from people who intended to harm Ronald and the Debtor. Given that Ronald and the Debtor's marriage is in the process of dissolution, Maitreya Nevada lacks a business purpose.

Having been created during the Debtor's marriage to Ronald, Maitreya Nevada is community property and is therefore property of the estate. The Trustee may exercise control over Maitreya Nevada. In view of the absence of any business purpose for Maitreya Nevada, the Trustee is entitled to partial summary adjudication on his claim for dissolution of the entity.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Court will enter partial summary adjudication, in the Trustee's favor, on the first, third, and fifth claims for relief. Pursuant to the Trustee's request, the Court will dismiss the remaining claims, without prejudice.

The Trustee lodged a proposed judgment at the time the Motion was filed. The Trustee is not required to lodge an additional proposed judgment.

Docket 102

Tentative Ruling:

6/6/2018

The Court will conduct the auction in accordance with the procedures set forth below.

Key Sale Terms:

- 1) Proposed purchaser: Don Dieser
- 2) Property for Sale: 1110 E. Acacia Avenue, El Segundo, CA 90245
- 3) Purchase price: $1,175,000.00
- 4) Overbids: The initial overbid shall be $1,200,000.00; subsequent overbids shall be in the amount of $50,000.00. The overbid increment is subject to adjustment by the Court to facilitate bidding.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On May 23, 2017, Michael McNulty (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor is the owner of certain real property located at 1110 E. Acacia Avenue, El Segundo, CA 90245 (the "Property"). The Debtor scheduled the Property to have a value of $876,000.00 with liens in the amount of $605,336.63.

Chapter 11

On April 27, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Motion in Individual Chapter 11 Case for Order Employing Brett Zebrowski as Real Estate Broker" (the "Broker Application") [Doc. No. 101]. The Court has not yet entered an order approving the Broker Application; however, the period to request a hearing pursuant to LBR 9013-1(o)(4) has expired, and no opposition and request for hearing has been filed. The Broker Application seeks to employ Brett Zebrowski as broker (the "Broker") with respect to the Property. The Broker Application states that the Broker's compensation will be in the amount of 6% of the listing price upon close of escrow, subject to court approval pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 330.

The Motion

On May 3, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Motion for Order Approving Sale of Real Property Free and Clear of Designated Lien, Providing for Overbids, and for Ancillary Relief" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 102]. The Motion seeks approval of the sale of the Property to Don Dieser (the "Purchaser"), or the prevailing bidder at the auction. The Debtor received an offer from the Purchaser to purchase the Property for $1,175,000.00 subject to the following contingencies: (1) the Purchaser has made a cash offer with the initial deposit of $35,250.00, and the balance of the purchase price to be deposited with the certain Escrow Holder; (2) approval of the termite report and any inspection results; (3) approval of Title; and (4) receipt of Seller-paid Fidelity National Home Warranty Policy with a cost not to exceed $675.00 to Seller. See "Purchase and Sale Agreement," Motion, Ex. C (the "Purchase Agreement").

The Broker Application provides for a 6% commission to be divided between the listing and selling agents. See Motion, Ex. D ("Listing Agreement"). The Broker represents the seller in the proposed sale transaction and will, thus, receive a 4% commission, while the broker representing the buyer will receive the remaining 2% commission.

The Debtor believes that the sale of the Property to the Buyer will yield significant value to the Estate, with such value allowing the Debtor to pay all his creditor's claims in full. The key sale terms are as follows:

- 1) Proposed purchaser: Don Dieser;
- 2) Property for Sale: 1110 E. Acacia Avenue, El Segundo, CA 90245;
- 3) Purchase price: $1,175,000.00;

- 4) Overbids: The Debtor proposes the initial overbid to be $1,185,000.00, and subsequent overbids to be in the amount of $1,000.00.

The Debtor seeks authority for the distribution of the sale proceeds through escrow as follows: (1) for normal closing costs; (2) for payment of broker's commissions as set forth in the "Listing Agreement", see Motion, Ex. D; (3) for the reimbursement of Buyer, in the event of successful overbid, of case-related expenses up to $1,500.00 pursuant to an appropriate demand; (4) for payment of real property taxes according to the terms of the Purchase Agreement; (5) for payment of all mortgage liens against the Property, with the sale to be free and clear of liens pursuant to § 363(f); and (6) for such other unanticipated items that may be necessary to close escrow, not to exceed an aggregate of $2,000.00.

The Conditional Non-Opposition

On May 24, 2018, Specialized Loan Servicing LLC (the "Secured Creditor") filed the "Conditional Non-Opposition to the Motion" (the "Non-Opposition") [Doc. No. 110]. The Secured Creditor holds a lien against the Property. On January 24, 2018, the Secured Creditor filed Proof of Claim No. 4-1 in the amount of $605,336.63 (the "Claim"). The Non-Opposition states that the Secured Creditor does not oppose the Motion provided that the Secured Creditor's Claim is paid in full for the balance owed, based on an updated payoff statement provided by the Secured Creditor.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 363(b) of the Bankruptcy Code permits the Chapter 11 Debtor-in-Possession (the "Debtor"), as trustee, to sell estate property outside the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The Debtor must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20. Here, the Debtor articulates a sufficient business justification for the sale. The Debtor believes the proposed sale of the Property is in the best interest of the Estate, and furthermore, that the sale price represents the fair market value of the Property. The sale of the Property will provide the benefit of receiving immediate payment for the Property, which will allow the Debtor to pay all the creditors' claims in full. Additionally, the sale is subject to overbids, which allows any party wishing to purchase the Property at a higher price to do so. The purchase offer of $1,175,000.00 was obtained by the Debtor through arm's length negotiations.

Lastly, the Debtor has met the conditions for the sale of the Property free and clear of all liens. Section 363(f) permits a sale of property "free and clear of any interest in such property of an entity other than the estate" if any one of the following conditions is met:

- (1) applicable nonbankruptcy law permits the sale of such property free and clear of such interest;
- (2) such entity consents;
- (3) such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is to be sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;
- (4) such interest is in bona fide dispute; or
- (5) such entity could be compelled, in a legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a money satisfaction of such interest.

11 U.S.C. § 363(f). Here, the Court finds that the Sale Motion satisfies the requirements of § 363(f)(3). The price at which the Property is to be sold is greater than the aggregate value of all the liens on the Property.

Auction Procedures

The Court will distribute numbered auction paddles to the proposed purchaser and all qualified overbidders. The initial overbid will be $1,200,000.00. Subsequent overbids will be increments of $50,000.00, with the increments subject to adjustment by the Court depending upon the bidding. The Court will announce each bid level. To remain in the auction, bidders must participate at all bid levels. That is, parties who do not bid in a round cannot later change their minds and re-enter the auction. Parties may make a bid higher than that announced by the Court by approaching the podium and stating their bid.

If a bidder other than the Purchaser prevails at the auction, the Court will take

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Valeria Leiva (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on November 26, 2012 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. On March 4, 2013, the Court entered the Order of Discharge [Doc. No. 15], and on March 15, 2013, the Debtor's case was ordered closed.

On April 11, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Motion to Reopen Case" (the "Motion to Reopen") [Doc. No. 18]. On April 16, 2018, the Court entered the "Order Granting Motion to Reopen to File a Motion to Avoid Judicial Lien" [Doc. No. 21]. On April 26, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Motion to Avoid Judicial Lien with Brian L. Miller, dba Westhill Management Company" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 23].

The Debtor is the owner of certain real property located at 1128 Strawberry Lane, Glendora, CA 91740 (the "Property"). Motion, Ex. 1. The Debtor claims an exemption in the Property as her principal residence under Cal. Code Civ. P. § 703.140(b)(1). According to the Debtor's Schedule A, the Property has a fair market value of $240,000.00. The Debtor additionally submits the certain appraisal of the Property performed by Jose Miguel Castillo which indicates a value of $239,000.00. See Motion, Ex. 4. The Property is encumbered by a First Deed of Trust held by Wells Fargo Home Mortgage in the amount of $274,856.00. The Motion seeks to avoid the judicial lien with Brian L. Miller, dba Westhill Management Company in the amount of $12,749.05, recorded on October 3, 2012. See Motion, Ex. D. The Motion contends that the Subject Lien impairs an exemption to which the Debtor would be entitled under 11 U.S.C. § 522(b).

The Opposition

On May 11, 2018, Brian Miller dba Westhill Management Co. (the "Lienholder") filed the "Response to the Motion" (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 24]. The Opposition requested a hearing date, and stated that the Lienholder believes that the value of the Property provided by the Debtor in the Motion is too low. The Lienholder requested that the hearing be set on a date to allow sufficient time for the Lienholder to complete an independent appraisal of the Property.

As of the date of this tentative ruling, the Lienholder has not filed any additional documents to supplement the Opposition.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Pursuant to § 522(f), a debtor may avoid the fixing of a lien on an interest of the debtor in property to the extent that such lien impairs an exemption if such lien is a judicial lien, other than a judicial lien that secures a debt of a kind that is specified in § 523(a)(5). 11 U.S.C. § 522(f). "For the purposes of this subsection, a lien shall be considered to impair an exemption to the extent that the sum of: (i) the lien; (ii) all other liens on the property; and (iii) the amount of the exemption that the debtor could claim if there were no liens on the property, exceeds the value that the debtor's interest in the property would have in the absence of any liens." Id. A debtor's interest in the property is determined by the "fair market value as of the date of the filing of the petition." 11 U.S.C. §§ 522(a), (f). To prevail on a motion to avoid a judicial lien, the debtor must show that: (1) he has an interest in the homestead property; (2) he is entitled to a homestead exemption; (3) the asserted lien impairs that exemption; and (4) the lien is a judicial lien. In re Meeks, 349 B.R. 19, 21 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2006). "As the moving party, the debtor carries the burden of proof on all factors." Id.; see also In re Pederson, 230 B.R. 158, 160 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1999); In re Catli, 999 F.2d

Based on the pleadings and supporting declarations filed and reviewed, and in the absence of contrary evidence being filed by the Lienholder, the Court finds that the Debtor has satisfied the requirements of § 522(f) and GRANTS the Motion.

The calculation of impairment is as follows: $240,000 (FMV) - $0.00 (the Debtor's Exemption) - $274,856.00 (Wells Fargo First Mortgage) = ($34,856.00). Thus, the Court finds that the Subject Lien impairs the Debtor's Exemption. Based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Debtor's Second Renewed Motion. The Judicial Lien of Brian L. Miller, dba Westhill Management Company is avoided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 522(f) in its entirety.

The Debtor shall lodge a conforming order within 7 days of the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Court finds that there is sufficient evidence to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(4). The filing of the petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, which involved the transfer of all or part ownership of, or other interest in, the Property without the consent of Movant or court approval and multiple bankruptcy cases affecting the Property. Declaration of Melba Arredondo in support of Motion at paragraph 18.

For the same reasons, the Motion is GRANTED pursuant to section 362(d)(1) based on Debtor's bad faith filing. The 14-day period specified in Fed.R.Bankr.P. 4001(a)(3) is waived. Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

6/7/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set on a shortened notice in accordance with this court's approved procedures. Pursuant to the Court's "Order Granting Application and Setting Hearing on Shortened Notice" [Doc. No. 13], the deadline for any written opposition to the Motion to be filed was June 7, 2018. No opposition has been filed as of the date of this tentative ruling.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on March 9, 2018.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

The Court further finds that there is sufficient evidence to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(4). The filing of the petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, which involved the transfer of all or part ownership of, or other interest in, the Property without the consent of Movant or court approval. Declaration of Stephen A. Ellis in support of Motion at paragraph 18.

The stay is annulled retroactive to the petition date, so that enforcement actions taken by Movant, if any, before receipt of notice of the automatic stay will not be deemed to have been voided by the automatic stay.

The 14-day period specified in Fed.R.Bankr.P. 4001(a)(3) is waived. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. If recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in real property, the order shall be binding in any other case under this title purporting to affect such real property filed not later than 2 years after the date of the entry of such order by the Court, except that a debtor in a subsequent case under this title may move for relief from such order based upon changed circumstances or for good cause shown, after notice and a hearing. Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

6/18/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Court finds that there is sufficient evidence to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(4). The filing of the petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, which involved multiple bankruptcy cases affecting the Property. Declaration of Kevin Mayers in support of Motion at paragraph 18.

For the same reasons, the Motion is GRANTED pursuant to section 362(d)(1) based on Debtor's bad faith filing. The 14-day period specified in Fed.R.Bankr.P. 4001(a)(3) is waived. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. If recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in real property, the order shall be binding in any other case under this title purporting to affect such real property filed not later than 2 years after the date of the entry of such order by the Court, except that a debtor in a subsequent case under this title may move for relief from such order based upon changed circumstances or for good cause shown, after notice and a hearing. Docket 14

Tentative Ruling:

6/18/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with an unlawful detainer action in state court. The unlawful detainer action may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of this bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code.

Tentative Ruling:

6/18/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion in Individual Case for Order Confirming Termination of Stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(j) or that No Stay is in Effect under 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(4)(A)(ii) 18951 Damasco St., West Covina, CA 91792 (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 128]
- 2) No opposition has been filed as of the date of this tentative ruling

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Pablo Javier Aspiazu (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on September 26, 2014 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor received a discharge on June 26, 2017. Order of Discharge [Doc. No. 85]. The Debtor claimed an interest in certain real property located at 18951 Damasco St., West Covina, CA 91792 (the "Property"). See Petition, Schedule A [Doc. No. 1]. Wesley H. Avery was appointed as the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee").

On January 27, 2015, the Trustee filed the Motion Objecting to the Debtor's Amended Claims of Exemption in [the Property] (the "Trustee's Objection") [Doc. No. 35]. The Court held a hearing on the Trustee's Objection on April 20, 2016. See Doc. No. 61. On April 29, 2016, the Court entered the Order Sustaining the Trustee's Objection [Doc. No. 62].

Chapter 7

On August 2, 2017, the Trustee filed the Motion to Approve Compromise under Rule 9019 (the "Compromise Motion") [Doc. No. 99], which sought approval of the terms of the certain Settlement Agreement entered into by the Debtor and the Trustee on July 27, 2017, whereby the Debtor agreed to purchase the Estate's interest in the Property. See Compromise Motion at 4, 6. On August 24, 2017, the Court entered the Order Granting the Compromise Motion [Doc. No. 106], which approved the terms of the Settlement Agreement.

The Motion

On May 25, 2018, Creditor Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. (the "Movant") filed the Motion in Individual Case for Order Confirming Termination of Stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(j) or that No Stay is in Effect under 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(4)(A)(ii) (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 128]. The Motion seeks an order under 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(1) that no automatic stay is currently in effect. Motion at 5. The Motion requests that the Court take Judicial Notice pursuant to FRE 201 of the Order of Discharge [Doc. No. 85], and the Order Granting the Compromise Motion [Doc. No. 106]. The Motion contends that no automatic stay is in effect because under 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3) "Thirty days have elapsed since the filing of the petition . . . and no order has been entered continuing the stay." Motion at 3. The Motion further contends that there is no automatic stay in effect because the Trustee sold the Estate's interest in the Property to the Debtor pursuant to the terms of the Settlement Agreement, which were approved by the Court in the Order Granting the Compromise Motion [Doc. No. 106].

No opposition to the Motion has been filed as of the date of this tentative ruling.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

The filing of a petition for bankruptcy operates as an automatic stay of the commencement or continuation of any action against a bankruptcy debtor or against the property of a bankruptcy estate. 11 U.S.C. § 362(a). 11 U.S.C. § 362(c) provides, in pertinent part:

(c) Except as provided in subsections (d), (e), (f), and (h) of this section-- subsection (a) of this section continues until such property is no longer property of the estate;

(2) the stay of any other act under subsection (a) of this section continues until the earliest of--

(A) the time the case is closed;

(B) the time the case is dismissed; or

(C) if the case is a case under chapter 7 of this title [11 USCS §§ 701 et seq.] concerning an individual or a case under chapter 9, 11, 12, or 13 of this title [11 USCS §§ 901 et seq., 1101 et seq., 1201 et seq., or 1301 et seq.], the time a discharge is granted or denied

Congress described the purpose of section 362(c) and the interrelationship of paragraphs (1) and (2):

Subsection (c) of section 362 specifies the duration of the automatic stay. Paragraph (1) terminates a stay of an act against property of the estate, such as by sale, abandonment, or exemption. It does not terminate the stay against property of the debtor if the property leaves the estate and goes to the debtor. Paragraph (2) terminates the stay of any other act on the earliest of the time the case is closed, the time the case is dismissed, or the time a discharge is granted or denied (unless the debtor is a corporation or partnership in a Chapter 7 case.)

S. Rep. No. 989, 95th Cong., 2d Sess. 5 (1978), reprinted in 1978 U.S.C.C.A.N. 5787, 5838; H.R. Rep. No. 598, 95th Cong., 2d Sess. 5 (1978), reprinted in 1978 U.S.C.C.A.N. 5963, 6299. Thus, pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(2), the stay "terminates automatically . . . when a discharge is granted or denied or when the case is closed or dismissed." In re Cornist, 7 B.R. 118, 120 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 1980). This is because, once the debtor is granted a discharge, "the permanent injunction of 11 U.S.C.S. § 524 replaces the automatic stay of 11 U.S.C.S. § 362 and prevents creditors from ever collecting a discharged debt." In re Ulrich, 456 B.R. 345, 347 (Bankr. N.D. Ohio 2011).

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED.

Henderson Mechanical Systems, Inc. and Sheet Metal Workers' Trust Funds
[submitted by the United States Trustee] [Doc. No. 41]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

This hearing on the Debtor's Motion for Order Approving the Settlement Agreement Between Henderson Mechanical Systems, Inc. and Sheet Metal Workers' Trust Funds [Doc. No. 36] (the "Motion") has been set on shortened notice, based on declaration testimony submitted by the Debtor's president stating that if the Debtor did not begin performing under the Settlement Agreement by June 20, 2018, the union that supplies the Debtor's labor force (the "Union") would likely initiate a strike that would destroy the Debtor's going-concern value.

The Debtor commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on April 9, 2018. The Debtor is a subcontractor that fabricates and installs heating, ventilating, and air-conditioning systems for general contractors. Pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement ("CBA") with the Union, the Debtor is required to make monthly contributions on behalf of employees represented by the Union to various trust funds (collectively, the "Trust Funds").

As a result of its failure to make the required monthly payments, the Debtor owes the Trust Funds prepetition indebtedness in the amount of $93,503.27 and post-petition indebtedness in the amount of $54,126.44. Settlement Agreement at ¶I.B. Under the Settlement Agreement, the Debtor will pay $112,571.24 to the Trust Funds in fourteen monthly installments of $8,000, commencing on June 20, 2018, followed by a final fifteenth installment payment of $571.24. Of the $112,571.24 amount, $78,184.79 is being paid on account of pre-petition indebtedness and $34,386.45 is being paid on account of post-petition indebtedness.

The Debtor states that funds from projects that are nearing completion will be sufficient to make the payments required under the Settlement Agreement. Specifically, the Debtor's president states that the following projects will produce the necessary funds:

- 1) Kittridge E.S. Project: The Debtor will be paid $42,123.00 upon completion of the project. The project is currently 96% complete and will be fully completed within several weeks.
- 2) Sun Valley Project: The Debtor is owed $140,000 in connection with this project. The general contractor, NSA Construction, makes monthly payments based upon performance. The project is currently 86% completed. The Debtor anticipates receiving a payment of approximately $20,000 in June.

- 3) Rowan M.S. Project: The Debtor is owed $25,000 in connection with this project. The general contractor, NSA Constructions, makes monthly payments based upon performance. The project is currently 96% completed. The Debtor anticipates receiving a payment of approximately $10,000 in June.

Supplemental Declaration of James Lee, III [Doc. No. 46] at ¶5.

The Court ordered the Debtor and the Trust Funds to submit supplemental briefing in support of the Motion. The Court ordered the Trust Funds to explain why the Union's threat to initiate a strike did not violate §362(a)(6)'s stay of "any act to collect, assess, or recover a claim against the debtor that arose before the commencement of the case under this title." The Court ordered the Debtor to cite legal authority in support of its request to make a substantial payments to the Trust Funds ahead of other creditors, and to further explain how such payments would not prejudice other creditors who are not being paid.

The Trust Funds submitted supplemental briefing stating that the automatic stay did not bar the contemplated strike because the Norris-LaGuardia Act, 29 U.S.C. § 101, prohibits federal injunctions or restraining orders against actions taken in connection with a labor dispute. The Trust Funds cite cases holding that strikes arising from labor disputes do not violate the automatic stay. See Crowe & Associates, Inc. v. Bricklayers and Masons Union Local No. 2 of Detroit, Michigan (Matter of Crowe & Assocs., Inc.), 713 F.2d 211, 214 (6th Cir. 1983) (holding that a strike did not violate §362(a)(6) because the Norris-LaGuardia Act bans a federal injunction against acts arising in connection with a labor dispute, and Congress did not intend the Bankruptcy Code to supersede the Norris-LaGuardia Act); Petrusch v. Teamsters Local 317, Syracuse NY (In re Petrusch), 667 F.2d 297, 298 (2d Cir. 1981) (holding that as a result of the Norris LaGuardia Act, a Bankruptcy Court lacked the jurisdiction to enjoin a labor union from picketing the debtor's business).

The Debtor submitted supplemental briefing stating that $40,658.23 of the prepetition indebtedness to be paid under the Settlement Agreement arises in connection with delinquent contributions to a health plan, and that such delinquent contributions qualify as a super-priority administrative expense. See In re Certified Air Techs., Inc., 300 B.R. 355, 372 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2003) (holding that prepetition indebtedness attributable to delinquent contributions to a health plan constituted a "retiree benefit," within the meaning of §1114(a), that was entitled to treatment as an administrative expense pursuant to §1114(e)(2)). The Debtor further asserts that creditors other than the Trust Funds will not be prejudiced as a result of the Settlement Agreement, because the Settlement Agreement prevents the strike, allowing the Debtor to stay in business and continue earning money that can be used to pay other creditors.

The Boards of Trustees for the Sheet Metal Workers' National Pension Fund and various other pension and benefit funds (collectively, the "National Funds") opposes the Motion. The National Funds provide pension benefits, apprenticeship training and educational benefits, safety oversight, and other services for employees represented by the Union. The National Funds state that the Debtor owes them $161,536.81 as a result of its failure to make required monthly contributions. The National Funds state that they would be prejudiced if the Court approves the Settlement Agreement with the Trust Funds, because approval of the Settlement Agreement would make it more difficult for the National Funds to direct Union employees from initiating a strike, thereby reducing the National Funds' bargaining leverage against the Debtor. The National Funds additionally argue that approval of the Settlement Agreement will leave the Debtor with insufficient funds to pay the sums owed the National Funds.

The United States Trustee (the "UST") opposes the Motion. (The UST filed its opposition before the Debtor filed supplemental briefing providing additional information regarding the Settlement Agreement.) The UST asserts that the Debtor has not provided the Court sufficient information about the proposed Settlement Agreement. According to the UST, the Debtor has failed to cite authority permitting it to pay pre-petition debt, and has failed to sufficiently disclose the source of the funds that will be used to make the payments due under the Settlement Agreement.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Automatic Stay Does Not Bar the Contemplated Strike

The Union has threatened to initiate a strike, which will commence on June 20, if the Debtor does not begin performance under the Settlement Agreement by that date. As a result of the Norris-LaGuardia Act's ban on any federal injunction against acts arising in connection with a labor dispute, the contemplated strike does not violate the stay of §362(a)(6). See Crowe & Associates, Inc. v. Bricklayers and Masons Union Local No. 2 of Detroit, Michigan (Matter of Crowe & Assocs., Inc.), 713 F.2d 211, 214 (6th Cir. 1983) (holding that a strike did not violate §362(a)(6) because the Norris-LaGuardia Act bans a federal injunction against acts arising in connection with a labor dispute, and Congress did not intend the Bankruptcy Code to supersede the Norris-LaGuardia Act); Petrusch v. Teamsters Local 317, Syracuse NY (In re Petrusch), 667 F.2d 297, 298 (2d Cir. 1981) (holding that as a result of the Norris LaGuardia Act, a Bankruptcy Court lacked the jurisdiction to enjoin a labor union from picketing the debtor's business). Consequently, this Court lacks the authority to enjoin the threatened strike.

B. The Settlement Agreement is Disapproved to the Extent that it Provides for Payment of the Trust Funds' Prepetition Indebtedness Ahead of Other Creditors

To the extent that the Settlement Agreement provides for the Trust Funds to receive payment on account of pre-petition indebtedness ahead of other prepetition creditors, the Court lacks the authority to approve the Settlement Agreement. However, the Court does have the ability to approve settlement payments to the extent that such payments are attributable to (1) post-petition indebtedness or (2) pre-petition indebtedness that qualifies for treatment as an administrative expense claim. For the reasons discussed below, the Debtor is authorized to make settlement payments attributable to post-petition indebtedness. The Debtor has not sufficiently established the portion of the settlement payments attributable to pre-petition indebtedness qualifying for administrative expense treatment; the Debtor may not make such payments absent further order of the Court.

Under the necessity of payment doctrine, some courts have approved payments of pre-petition debt to "critical vendors" or "essential suppliers," on the theory that such vendors and suppliers are essential to the Debtor's reorganization and would cease doing business with the Debtor absent payment of their prepetition debt. With respect to settlement payments attributable to pre-petition indebtedness not qualifying for treatment as an administrative expense claim, the Ninth Circuit has confined the "necessity of payment" doctrine to railroad reorganization cases. B&W Enterprises, Inc. v. Goodman Oil Co. (Matter of B & W Enterprises, Inc.), 713 F.2d 534, 537 (9th Cir. 1983). The Ninth Circuit has held that outside of railroad reorganization cases, the necessity of payment doctrine contravenes the Bankruptcy Code's priority distribution scheme. B&W Enterprises, 713 F.2d at 537; see also Matter of Crowe & Assocs., Inc., 713 F.2d 211, 214 (6th Cir. 1983) (stating that the Bankruptcy Court could not authorize the debtor to pay pre-petition debts owed in connection with a labor dispute, even if non-payment of the debt would result in a strike that would shut down the debtor's business).

C. The Debtor May Make Settlement Payments, to the Extent those Payments are Attributable to Post-petition Indebtedness

The Debtor owes the Trust Funds prepetition indebtedness in the amount of $93,503.27 and post-petition indebtedness in the amount of $54,126.44. Settlement Agreement at ¶I.B. Under the Settlement Agreement, the Debtor will pay $112,571.24 to the Trust Funds in fourteen monthly installments of $8,000, commencing on June 20, 2018, followed by a final fifteenth installment payment of $571.24. Of the $112,571.24 amount, $78,184.79 is attributable to pre-petition indebtedness and $34,386.45 is attributable to post-petition indebtedness.

1. Payments Attributable to Post-Petition Indebtedness

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983).

Here, the most salient factor is the paramount interest of creditors; the other factors are not relevant given the context in which the Motion arises. The Union has threatened to initiate a strike, which will commence on June 20, if the Debtor does not begin performance under the Settlement Agreement by that date. As set forth above, the contemplated strike does not violate the stay of §362(a)(6), and the Court lacks the ability to enjoin the strike. A strike would impair the Debtor's ability to continue generating income that could be used to pay creditors.

Section 363(b)(1) authorizes the Debtor to use property of the estate outside the ordinary course of business. The Court finds that the settlement payments attributable to post-petition indebtedness are a proper use of estate property outside the ordinary course of business, as such payments will mitigate the ongoing labor dispute. Under the Settlement Agreement, the first payment of $8,000 is due on June 20, 2018, with subsequent payments of $8,000 due on the twentieth day of each successive month thereafter. Because $34,386.45 of the payments to be made under the Settlement Agreement are attributable to post-petition indebtedness, the Debtor may make four installment payments, in the aggregate amount of $32,000, pursuant to §363(b)(1).

2. Payments Attributable to Pre-petition Indebtedness Qualifying as an Administrative Expense Claim

The Debtor argues that a substantial portion of the pre-petition indebtedness qualifies for treatment as an administrative expense claim, and therefore may be paid under the Settlement Agreement without violating the Bankruptcy Code's priority scheme. Specifically, the Debtor asserts that $40,658.23 of the $93,503.27 in pre-petition indebtedness arises from obligations to make contributions to an employee health plan.

In In re Certified Air Techs., Inc., 300 B.R. 355, 372 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2003), the court held that a creditor's claim for delinquent pre-petition contributions to an employee medical benefit fund qualified as an administrative expense claim, pursuant to §1114(e)(2). Section 1114(e)(2) provides that the Debtor's pre-confirmation payments for retiree benefits are administrative expenses. The Certified Air court reasoned that §1114(a) defined "retiree benefits" broadly, such that the phrase encompassed "indirect payments to any person or entity for the purpose of providing or reimbursing payments for medical, surgical, hospital care and other benefits." Certified Air, 300 B.R. at 371.

To the extent that payments under the Settlement Agreement are attributable to pre-petition indebtedness that qualifies as an administrative expense under §1114(e)(2), the Debtor is authorized to make such payments. In a similar context, courts have allowed debtors to pay pre-petition wages, based on the fact that claims for pre-petition wages are entitled to priority pursuant to §507(a)(4). A leading national bankruptcy treatise explains:

[B]ecause wages are priority claims, courts have often permitted debtors to pay prepetition wage claims in the ordinary course in response to a motion filed by a debtor in possession at the commencement of a chapter 11 case. The ability to ensure that the employees receive their unpaid prepetition salary and do not miss a paycheck is critical to obtaining the stability necessary for the transition to operating as a debtor in possession. If wage claims were not entitled to priority, it would be difficult to justify 'first day' orders approving payments of prepetition wages. There is no clear statutory authority for such first day orders, although a court with some confidence in the debtor's ability to satisfy claims through the third priority could justify the order under section 105.

The present record does not contain sufficient information to enable the Court to determine the portion of the settlement payments attributable to a §1114(e)(2) administrative expense claim. The Debtor states that it owes $40,658.23 in delinquent contributions to the employee health plan, but does not furnish any evidence to substantiate this contention. The Trust Funds, which are owed the delinquent contributions, have not filed proofs of claim.

The Debtor may bring, on regular notice, a motion (1) to establish the amount of the settlement payments that qualify as an administrative expense claim and (2) to approve the payment of such amounts. There is no need for such a motion to be heard on a shortened time frame. As set forth above, the first four payments under the Settlement Agreement are attributable to post-petition indebtedness and may be made pursuant to §363(b)(1).

D. The Objections of the National Fund and the UST are Overruled in Part

To the extent the Settlement Agreement provides for payment of post-petition indebtedness, the objections of the National Funds and UST are overruled. As noted, the Debtor's commencement of performance under the Settlement Agreement will mitigate the labor dispute with the Trust Funds. This will allow the Debtor to continue to generate income which can be used to pay creditors.

In the Court's view, a global settlement between the Debtor, the National Fund, and the Trust Funds would inure to the benefit of all parties. Such a settlement would allow the Debtor to continue focusing on reorganization efforts without the threat of imminent disruption from a labor stoppage. It appears from the Debtor's Supplemental Brief that such negotiations may have been initiated and may be on-going. [Doc. 46 at 3, lines 4-9].

In the event that a strike does occur, the Court would most likely require the Debtor to show cause why this case should not be dismissed or converted to Chapter 7. However, a strike would ultimately not be in the interest of any stakeholder, as it would cripple the Debtor's business, preventing the Debtor from earning income that could otherwise be used to cure the delinquent payments to the National Funds and the Trust Funds.

for $905,000 on October 20, 2016. Adv. Doc. No. 57. Accessories Mart subsequently assigned its interest in the litigation to JL AM Plus, LLC ("JLAMP"). On September 2, 2016, the Court entered a preliminary injunction, barring Mr. Neman and MBN Real Estate from transferring or encumbering the assets which are the subject of this litigation. Bankr. Doc. No. 138.

On November 22, 2016, JLAMP filed a First Amended Complaint for (1) Avoidance and Recovery of Fraudulent Transfers; (2) Avoidance and Recovery of Preferential Transfers; and (3) Unjust Enrichment (the "Complaint") [Adv. Doc. No. 68]. The Complaint's allegations are as follows:

- 1) Prior to commencing a voluntary Chapter 7 petition, Morad and Yaffa Javedanfar (the "Debtors") owned interests in (A) Boyd L.P. and Sky High LLC and (B) properties located at 310 East Boyd Street, Los Angeles, CA 90013 (the "Boyd Street Property"), 931 East Pico Boulevard, Los Angeles, CA 90021 (the "Pico Blvd. Property"), and 715 East 14th Street, Los Angeles, CA 90021 (the "14th Street Property") (collectively, the "Assets"). In or around December 2012, Debtors transferred their interests in Boyd LP and Sky High LLC to defendants Morad Neman and MBN Real Estate, LLC (collectively, the "Defendants"). On January 11, 2013, Debtors transferred their interests in the Boyd Street Property, the Pico Blvd. Property, and the 14th Street Property to the Defendants.
- 2) At the time of the transfers, Defendants knew of the Debtors' obligations to their creditors and knew that the Debtors were insolvent. The purpose of the transfers was to frustrate the rights of the Debtors' creditors.
- 3) There is a unity of interest between Mr. Neman and MBN, such that treatment of MBN as a distinct entity would permit an abuse of the corporate privilege and produce an inequitable result. Accordingly, Mr. Neman should be deemed to be the alter ego of MBN.

Based on the foregoing allegations, the Complaint seeks the following relief:

- 1) Avoidance of the transfers as constructively fraudulent, pursuant to §§544(b) and 548(a)(1)(B).
- 2) Avoidance of the transfers as preferences, pursuant to §547(b).
- 3) Restitution and disgorgement of the transferred Assets, and an award of punitive damages against the Defendants.

- 4) Imposition of a constructive trust upon the Assets and immediate turnover of the Assets.

On May 25, 2017, the Court entered final judgment in Mr. Neman's favor. See Judgment in Favor of Defendant Morad Neman [Doc. No. 138]; Memorandum of Decision Finding that Morad Neman is Entitled to Summary Judgment in His Favor [Doc. No. 136] (the "Memorandum of Decision"). The Court found that there was no genuine dispute that Mr. Neman was not the alter ego of MBN. Having found that Mr. Neman was not MBN's alter ego, the Court found that Mr. Neman was entitled to judgment in his favor, and that there was no just reason to delay the entry of judgment.

In determining that no genuine dispute existed with respect to the facts showing that Mr. Neman was not MBN's alter ego, the Court noted that the operative Complaint, which had already been amended once, contained only conclusory allegations with respect to JLAMP's alter ego theory:

The Complaint recites the legal formulation for alter ego liability by alleging (1) that there exists "a unity of interest in ownership between each defendant and every other defendant," (2) that each "defendant was a mere shell, instrumentality and conduit through which every other defendant acted," and (3) that each defendant "controlled, dominated, managed and operated every other defendant and intermingled its assets with theirs." Complaint at ¶ 11. The Complaint is entirely lacking in specific facts to support these conclusory allegations. There are no specific facts showing a unity of interest between Mr. Neman and MBN: the Complaint does not allege facts showing how Mr. Neman used MBN as a mere shell or instrumentality; it does not allege facts showing how Mr. Neman controlled or dominated MBN; and it does not allege facts showing the extent to which Mr. Neman's assets were comingled with MBN's assets.

Memorandum of Decision at 7.

The Court found that in its opposition to Mr. Neman's motion for summary judgment, JLAMP had failed to identify specific facts sufficient to cure the Complaint's deficiencies, whereas Mr. Neman had identified specific facts sufficient to show an absence of a genuine dispute with respect to JLAMP's alter ego theory:

Chapter 7

Nor does JLAMP supply, in its Opposition, facts with respect to alter ego sufficient to defeat the Motion. JLAMP shows that Mr. Neman is the trustee of the two trusts who own 100% of the membership interests in MBN. But JLAMP offers nothing to establish that Mr. Neman used the trusts to control or dominate MBN in a manner that would support disregarding MBN's separate legal existence. JLAMP shows that Mr. Neman formed MBN shortly before the Debtors transferred the Assets to MBN. This evidence goes to MBN's liability on JLAMP's fraudulent transfer claims, not to whether Mr. Neman should be deemed MBN's alter ego.

By contrast, Mr. Neman has presented facts showing that there is no genuine dispute that Mr. Neman cannot be held liable as MBN's alter ego. Based on the evidence submitted by Mr. Neman, the Court finds that MBN is a limited liability company in good standing that has a bank account and business address and that pays taxes and maintains appropriate books and records. Mr. Neman does not hold himself out as personally liable for MBN's debts, does not treat MNB's assets as his own, and does not commingle MBN's corporate funds with his personal assets. Accordingly, there is no basis for piercing MBN's corporate veil, and Mr. Neman is entitled to judgment in his favor with respect to JLAMP's alter ego allegations.

Id.

Finally, the Court rejected JLAMP's request to defer ruling upon Mr. Neman's motion for summary judgment until JLAMP could conduct additional discovery. The Court found that JLAMP's request was made in bad faith and would cause undue delay:

JLAMP argues that it should be entitled to conduct additional discovery so that it may obtain evidence to shore up the Complaint's alter-ego allegations and file a Second Amended Complaint. The Court declines to grant JLAMP leave to amend the Complaint. Civil Rule 15(a)(2) provides that the "court should freely give leave [to amend] when justice so requires." However, the liberality with which leave to amend is generally granted "is subject to several limitations. Leave need not be granted where the amendment of the complaint would cause the opposing party undue prejudice, is sought in bad faith, constitutes an exercise in futility, or creates undue delay." Ascon Properties,

Inc. v. Mobil Oil Co., 866 F.2d 1149, 1160 (9th Cir. 1989).

Here, leave to amend is sought in bad faith. JLAMP failed to allege sufficient facts to support its alter ego allegations in its Complaint—which has already been amended once—and failed to proffer any such facts in its opposition to Mr. Neman’s motion for summary judgment. JLAMP’s position is that it should be entitled to conduct additional discovery in order to obtain the facts sufficient to support its alter ego theory. Discovery is not a fishing expedition in which parties are permitted to hunt for any conceivable set of facts that might support a legal theory supported only by threadbare allegations lacking the required specificity. As the Supreme Court has explained, to “unlock the doors to discovery,” a complaint must allege specific facts allowing the Court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged. Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009). For its request for leave to amend to have been made in good faith, JLAMP was required to provide to the Court either evidence that Mr. Neman is MBN’s alter ego, or at the very least allege specific facts plausibly supporting alter ego liability.

Leave to amend would also cause undue delay. Having been filed on July 9, 2015, this action has been pending for almost two years. If JLAMP had any facts to support its alter ego theory, it should have alleged those facts by this point. The Complaint has already been amended once, making the Court’s “discretion to deny leave to amend ... particularly broad.” Ascon, 866 F.2d at 1160. Amendment at this juncture would cause undue prejudice to Mr. Neman, who has already been required to devote substantial time and expense to this litigation.

With respect to the second prong necessary to establish alter ego liability—that preserving MBN’s corporate veil will produce an inequitable result—JLAMP has failed to carry its burden. MBN, which holds title to the Assets, will remain a defendant in this action even after the dismissal of Mr. Neman. Thus, Mr. Neman’s dismissal will not bar JLAMP from recovering the Assets, should it succeed in proving its allegations.

its prior counsel, Duane Kumagai, with its present counsel, John S. Purcell, Andy S. Kong, and Douglas E. Hewlett of Arent Fox LLP. Adv. Doc. No. 130.

On July 17, 2017, the Court found that Mr. Neman was entitled to attorneys' fees, in the amount of $74,366.50, as the prevailing party in the adversary proceeding. Adv. Doc. No. 150.

On February 23, 2018, the Court granted two motions to compel filed by JLAMP. Adv. Doc. Nos. 196–97. The Court ordered Mr. Neman to submit to a deposition, in his capacity as MBN's manager, and ordered MBN to supply amended interrogatory responses. The Court ordered MBN to pay JLAMP $10,000 in attorneys' fees as compensation for the costs of litigating the motions to compel. On March 8, 2018, the Court granted a third motion to compel brought by JLAMP, this time ordering MBN to produce additional documents or to supply amended responses stating that the documents in question did not exist. The Court awarded JLAMP $6,000 in attorneys' fees as compensation for the cost of litigating the third motion to compel.

JLAMP's Motion to Set Aside the Judgment in Favor of Mr. Neman

JLAMP now moves to set aside the judgment in favor of Mr. Neman, and makes the following arguments and representations in support of the Motion:

JLAMP's discovery against MBN has yielded newly discovered evidence that supports setting aside the judgment in favor of Mr. Neman, pursuant to Civil Rule 60(b)(2). This newly discovered evidenced also establishes that Mr. Neman obtained judgment in his favor through fraud and discovery misconduct, and so the judgment should be set aside pursuant to Civil Rule 60(b)(3).

Mr. Neman obtained judgment in his favor by abusing the discovery process. JLAMP served Mr. Neman with interrogatories in March 2017. Mr. Neman refused to answer any questions about the transfers at issue. For each question about the consideration the Debtors received for the transfers, Mr. Neman objected. When asked to specify the consideration received by the Debtors in exchange for the transfer of their interest in Boyd Street to MBN, Mr. Neman responded: "Defendant objects further to Interrogatory No. 6 on the grounds that it is not limited as to scope and seeks information which has been provided by or on behalf of MBN and is, therefore, already in the custody of JLAM, or its counsel." When asked to specify the consideration received by the Debtors in exchange for the transfer of their interest in Pico Boulevard to MBN, Mr. Neman responded: "Defendant objects further to Interrogatory No. 14 on the grounds that it is not limited as to scope and therefore does not seek information which is relevant to this adversary proceeding.” When asked to specify the consideration received by the Debtors in exchange for the transfer of their interest in 14th Street to MBN, Mr. Neman responded: “Defendant objects further to Interrogatory No. 22 on the grounds that it is duplicative of discovery propounded to MBN which is, to the extent information exists, the custodian of relevant documents and data. Consequently, this Interrogatory appears to have been interposed for the sake of imposing an undue and unnecessary burden on Defendant.”

JLAMP noticed Mr. Neman’s deposition for May 16, 2017, but he refused to appear. Mr. Neman then leveraged the impact of his discovery abuse by moving for summary judgment on March 28, 2017, before JLAMP’s prior counsel had the benefit of discovery. Mr. Neman prevailed upon his motion for summary judgment by causing Simon Neman, MBN’s general counsel, to submit a declaration stating in part that (1) MBN and Mr. Neman do not commingle corporate funds; (2) MBN maintains books and records; and (3) Mr. Neman does not represent that he is personally liable for the debts of MBN.

As JLAMP learned after it succeeded in compelling Mr. Neman to submit to a deposition in his capacity as MBN’s manager, all these representations were false. Mr. Neman’s deposition testimony established that Mr. Neman commingles the funds of MBN with the funds of Sky High, Boyd Street, and other entities that he owns or controls:

Question (by JLAMP): --and that was a draw that appears to [be] Yedidia Investments. Is that kind of how those businesses worked, that Yedidia would take draws from MBN?

Answer (by Mr. Neman): No. I have many different LLCs. Sometimes I need money in one LLC. It’s—I’m the shareholders, or whatever. Sometimes I borrow money, I pay back.... It’s not necessarily—doesn’t mean anything. I needed money, maybe MBN I took money. But all I know is, MBN owes a lot of money to the trusts.

Question (by JLAMP): Do you ever have to run that past anybody other than yourself?

Answer (by Mr. Neman): No. When it’s shortage, I try to cover from any LLC. By the way, the money in the LLC comes from the trust, anyway.

Chapter 7

Mr. Neman's deposition testimony further established the following facts, which demonstrate Mr. Neman's personal liability for the fraudulent transfers at issue in this litigation:

- 1) At the time of the transfer of the Debtors' assets to MBN, the Debtor Morad Javedanfar was deeply in debt and had been unable to pay his bills for several years. Ben Neman Depo. Tr. at 36:4–40:1, 80:6–82:9, 83:3–85:11; Morad Javedanfar Depo. Tr. at 38:13–39:19, 71:23–73:12.
- 2) While the transfer occurred because of an alleged "pre-existing debt," there are no records to indicate that this debt actually existed or that the parties ever communicated about it. Morad Javedanfar Depo. Tr. at 57:11–62:18; Simon Neman Depo. Tr. Vol. II at 145:11-146:13, 148:23-149:12, 153:9-16, 158:17-159:10, 168:3-169:15.
- 3) There was certainly no debt owed to MBN, as MBN was created the day before the transfers and Mr. Neman admitted he did not assign any alleged debt from one entity to another. Further, no documents showing any assignment of debt were produced in discovery.
- 4) While both Mr. Neman and Mr. Javedanfar have referred to a debt of $950,000, they admit that there are no records showing how this debt arose. Ben Neman Depo. Tr. at 49:17–19; Javedanfar Depo. Tr. at 33:24–34:6, 87:23–88:11. Although Mr. Neman claims that he loaned hundreds of thousands of dollars to Mr. Javedanfar to cover capital contributions Mr. Javedanfar owed to Boyd Street and Sky High, these loans do not appear in the financial records of tax returns for those entities.

When seeking summary judgment, Mr. Neman argued that any actions that he had taken related to the transfers were in his role as MBN's manager, and not in his individual capacity. This representation was false from the outset, because the most serious allegations against Mr. Neman relate to his creating MBN so that he could then arrange for the improper transfer of the Debtors' assets to it. He could hardly have done this in his capacity as MBN's manager since he started this process long before MBN even began. To the contrary, the Debtors' assets were transferred, and MBN was created to facilitate the transfer, as a means to benefit Mr. Neman, Mr. Neman's trusts, and the other companies that Mr. Neman controls.

In obtaining summary judgment, Mr. Neman incorrectly represented that no inequitable result would occur if he were dismissed from the case. Some of JLAMP's causes of action, such as its §547 claim, are easier to prove against insiders.

Preferential transfers made to insiders can be avoided if they were made within one year prior to the petition, whereas preferential transfers made to non-insiders are avoidable only if they were made within ninety days prior to the petition.

Mr. Neman's Opposition to the Motion

Mr. Neman makes the following arguments and representations in opposition to JLAMP's motion to set aside the judgment in his favor:

First, there is no "newly discovered evidence" within the meaning of Civil Rule 60(b)(2). "In the Ninth Circuit, the party seeking reconsideration based on newly-discovered evidence must show the evidence: (1) is truly newly-discovered; (2) could not have been discovered through due diligence; and (3) is of such a material and controlling nature that it demands a probable change in the outcome." U.S. v. Westlands Water Dist., 134 F.Supp.2d 1111, 113 (E.D. Cal. 2001). "Evidence is not 'newly discovered' under the Federal Rules if it was in the moving party's possession at the time of trial or could have been discovered with reasonable diligence." Coastal Transfer Co. v. Toyota Motor Sales, U.S.A., 833 F.2d 208, 212 (9th Cir. 1987) (emphasis added).

Had JLAMP acted diligently in prosecuting this action against Mr. Neman, it could have uncovered the "newly discovered" evidence that it cites in support of its request to set aside the judgment. The Complaint was pending for almost two years before JLAMP served discovery upon Mr. Neman. When Mr. Neman asserted objections to the discovery, JLAMP did not meet and confer with counsel to discuss the objections and did not file a motion to compel the discovery, even after receiving notice of Mr. Neman's motion for summary judgment.

JLAMP's argument that Mr. Neman improperly thwarted discovery by refusing to appear for a deposition noticed for May 16, 2017, lacks merit. JLAMP unilaterally noticed the deposition without first consulting Mr. Neman, or Mr. Neman's counsel, to determine availability. Mr. Neman responded by explaining that he was not available on May 16, but would be made available at a date, time, and location agreed upon by the parties.

Second, JLAMP has failed to bring this Rule 60(b) motion within a reasonable time. The Ninth Circuit has found that "[w]hat constitutes 'reasonable time' depends upon the facts of each case, taking into consideration the interest in finality, the reason for delay, the practical ability of the litigant to learn earlier of the grounds relied upon, and prejudice to other parties." See Ashford v. Steuart, 657 F.2d 1053, 1055 (9th Cir.

1981). Judgment was entered in Mr. Neman's favor on May 25, 2017. JLAMP did not file this Motion until May 14, 2018, despite the fact that the "newly discovered" evidence has, in light of Mr. Neman's March 23, 2018 deposition, been in JLAMP's possession for more than two months.

Third, in support of its request to set aside the judgment under Rule 60(b)(3), JLAMP has failed to offer clear and convincing evidence that Mr. Neman engaged in fraud, misrepresentation, or other misconduct. Much of JLAMP's briefing focuses on irrelevant arguments not raised on Mr. Neman's motion for summary judgment, including allegedly fraudulent transfers, the creation of MBN, and Mr. Javedanfar's debt and bankruptcy. For example, JLAMP argues that summary judgment in Mr. Neman's favor was improper because Mr. Neman created MBN to benefit himself by facilitating the fraudulent transfer of the Debtors' assets to an entity he controlled. However, the Court has already rejected this argument. In the Memorandum of Decision granting summary judgment in Mr. Neman's favor, the Court stated: "JLAMP shows that Mr. Neman formed MBN shortly before the Debtors transferred the Assets to MBN. This evidence goes to MBN's liability on JLAMP's fraudulent transfer claims, not to whether Mr. Neman should be deemed MBN's alter ego." Memorandum of Decision at 8.

JLAMP argues that Mr. Neman is MBN's alter ego because he commingled MBN's funds. This argument fails, because the testimony JLAMP cites shows only that Mr. Neman commingled MBN's funds with the funds of other entities that he controlled. Nowhere does JLAMP show that Mr. Neman commingled MBN's funds with his own personal funds.

Finally, JLAMP has not demonstrated that an inequitable result would occur if the corporate veil was not pierced. "Alter ego is an extreme remedy, and is sparingly used." Sonora Diamond Corp. v. Superior Court (2000) 83 Cal.App.4th 523, 539 (Cal. 2000). To pierce the veil, JLAMP must show both a unity of interest between MBN and Mr. Neman, and that an inequitable result would occur if the corporate form were respected. Mesler v. Bragg Mgmt. Co., 39 Cal.3d 290, 300 (Cal. 1985). JLAMP states that if the veil is pierced, it will make it easier for JLAMP to prove its case. But making JLAMP's work easier is not the purpose of the alter ego doctrine. See generally Sonora Diamond, 83 Cal.App.4th at 539 (stating that "it is not sufficient to merely show that a creditor will remain unsatisfied if the corporate veil is not pierced").

JLAMP makes the following arguments and representations in its Reply to Mr. Neman's Opposition:

First, Mr. Neman's contention that JLAMP could have uncovered the newly discovered evidence presented in the Motion had it acted diligently is wrong. Mr. Neman responded to JLAMP's discovery with improper objections and refusals to answer. For example, in response to JLAMP's interrogatories asking about the consideration the Debtors received for the transfer of the properties at issue, Mr. Neman objected that the interrogatories were irrelevant. Before JLAMP had time to file a motion to compel, summary judgment was entered in Mr. Neman's favor.

Second, to set aside the judgment under Rule 60(b)(3), JLAMP need only show that Mr. Neman engaged in misconduct that prevented JLAMP from "fully and fairly presenting [its] case or defense." Bunch v. United States, 680 F.2d 1271, 1283 (9th Cir. 1982). Where the case "involves the withholding of information called for by discovery"—as occurred here—JLAMP "need not establish that the result in the case would be altered." Id.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Civil Rule 60(b) provides in relevant part:

On motion and just terms, the court may relieve a party or its legal representative from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for the following reasons: ...

- 2) newly discovered evidence that, with reasonable diligence, could not have been discovered in time to move for a new trial under Rule 59(b);
- 3) fraud (whether previously called intrinsic or extrinsic), misrepresentation, or misconduct by an opposing party.

Civil Rule 60(b)(2)–(3).

Pursuant to Civil Rule 60(c), a Rule 60(b) motion "must be made within a reasonable time—and for reasons (1), (2), and (3) no more than a year after entry of the judgment or order or the date of the proceeding." The standard for determining whether a Rule 60(b) motion has been filed timely "requires a case-by-case analysis," which must consider "the interest in finality, the reason for the delay, the practical ability of the litigant to learn earlier of the grounds relied upon, and prejudiced to other parties.”” Sallie Mae Servicing, LP v. Brian T. Williams (In re Williams), 287 B.R. 787, 792–93 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2002) (citing Ashford v. Stewart, 657 F.2d 1053, 1055 (9th Cir. 1981)).

Here, summary judgment was entered in Mr. Neman’s favor on May 25, 2017. JLAMP brought the instant Motion to set aside the judgment on May 14, 2018, within the one-year limit specified by Civil Rule 60(c). The Court finds that JLAMP brought the Motion with a reasonable time. The Motion is based upon deposition testimony offered by Mr. Neman in his capacity as MBN’s manager. Mr. Neman’s deposition was taken on March 23, 2018. JLAMP was required to file a motion to compel in order to obtain Mr. Neman’s deposition testimony. The Motion is also based upon deposition testimony offered by Morad Javedanfar, Simon Neman, and Saeed Farkhondehpour. Mr. Javedanfar’s deposition was taken on April 10, 2018; Simon Neman’s deposition was taken on April 19, 2018; and Mr. Farkhondehpour’s deposition was taken on April 27, 2018. JLAMP brought the Motion approximately three weeks after the last of these depositions.

Civil Rule 60(b)(2)—Newly Discovered Evidence

To set aside the judgment on the grounds of newly discovered evidence, JLAMP must show that the evidence "(1) is truly newly-discovered; (2) could not have been discovered through due diligence; and (3) is of such a material and controlling nature that it demands a probable change in the outcome." U.S. v. Westlands Water Dist., 134 F.Supp.2d 1111, 113 (E.D. Cal. 2001). "Evidence is not ‘newly discovered’ under the Federal Rules if it was in the moving party’s possession at the time of trial or could have been discovered with reasonable diligence." Coastal Transfer Co. v. Toyota Motor Sales, U.S.A., 833 F.2d 208, 212 (9th Cir. 1987).

By framing the Motion solely in terms of evidence adduced by Mr. Neman’s deposition testimony, JLAMP overlooks the context in which the judgment in Mr. Neman’s favor was entered. JLAMP incorrectly presupposes that Mr. Neman obtained judgment in his favor by stonewalling JLAMP’s discovery, when in fact judgment was entered in Mr. Neman’s favor largely as a result of JLAMP’s failure to allege or show any specific facts substantiating its alter ego theory:

The Complaint recites the legal formulation for alter ego liability by alleging (1) that there exists “a unity of interest in ownership between each defendant and every other defendant,” (2) that each “defendant was a mere shell, instrumentality and conduit through which every other defendant acted,” and (3) that each defendant “controlled, dominated, managed and operated every other defendant and intermingled its assets with theirs.” Complaint at ¶ 11. The Complaint is entirely lacking in specific facts to support these conclusory allegations. There are no specific facts showing a unity of interest between Mr. Neman and MBN: the Complaint does not allege facts showing how Mr. Neman used MBN as a mere shell or instrumentality; it does not allege facts showing how Mr. Neman controlled or dominated MBN; and it does not allege facts showing the extent to which Mr. Neman’s assets were comingled with MBN’s assets.

Nor does JLAMP supply, in its Opposition, facts with respect to alter ego sufficient to defeat the Motion. JLAMP shows that Mr. Neman is the trustee of the two trusts who own 100% of the membership interests in MBN. But JLAMP offers nothing to establish that Mr. Neman used the trusts to control or dominate MBN in a manner that would support disregarding MBN’s separate legal existence. JLAMP shows that Mr. Neman formed MBN shortly before the Debtors transferred the Assets to MBN. This evidence goes to MBN’s liability on JLAMP’s fraudulent transfer claims, not to whether Mr. Neman should be deemed MBN’s alter ego.

By contrast, Mr. Neman has presented facts showing that there is no genuine dispute that Mr. Neman cannot be held liable as MBN’s alter ego. Based on the evidence submitted by Mr. Neman, the Court finds that MBN is a limited liability company in good standing that has a bank account and business address and that pays taxes and maintains appropriate books and records. Mr. Neman does not hold himself out as personally liable for MBN’s debts, does not treat MNB’s assets as his own, and does not commingle MBN’s corporate funds with his personal assets. Accordingly, there is no basis for piercing MBN’s corporate veil, and Mr. Neman is entitled to judgment in his favor with respect to JLAMP’s alter ego allegations.

Memorandum of Decision at 7.

In addition, at the time it entered judgment in Mr. Neman’s favor, the Court was aware that discovery had not been completed. In fact, the Court expressly denied JLAMP’s request for additional time to conduct discovery. JLAMP’s request was denied because the Complaint, which had already been amended once, still did not contain specific factual allegations sufficient to support JLAMP’s alter ego theory:

Chapter 7

JLAMP argues that it should be entitled to conduct additional discovery so that it may obtain evidence to shore up the Complaint's alter-ego allegations and file a Second Amended Complaint. The Court declines to grant JLAMP leave to amend the Complaint. Civil Rule 15(a)(2) provides that the "court should freely give leave [to amend] when justice so requires." However, the liberality with which leave to amend is generally granted "is subject to several limitations. Leave need not be granted where the amendment of the complaint would cause the opposing party undue prejudice, is sought in bad faith, constitutes an exercise in futility, or creates undue delay." Ascon Properties, Inc. v. Mobil Oil Co., 866 F.2d 1149, 1160 (9th Cir. 1989).

Here, leave to amend is sought in bad faith. JLAMP failed to allege sufficient facts to support its alter ego allegations in its Complaint—which has already been amended once—and failed to proffer any such facts in its opposition to Mr. Neman's motion for summary judgment. JLAMP's position is that it should be entitled to conduct additional discovery in order to obtain the facts sufficient to support its alter ego theory. Discovery is not a fishing expedition in which parties are permitted to hunt for any conceivable set of facts that might support a legal theory supported only by threadbare allegations lacking the required specificity. As the Supreme Court has explained, to "unlock the doors to discovery," a complaint must allege specific facts allowing the Court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged. Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009). For its request for leave to amend to have been made in good faith, JLAMP was required to provide to the Court either evidence that Mr. Neman is MBN's alter ego, or at the very least allege specific facts plausibly supporting alter ego liability.

Leave to amend would also cause undue delay. Having been filed on July 9, 2015, this action has been pending for almost two years. If JLAMP had any facts to support its alter ego theory, it should have alleged those facts by this point. The Complaint has already been amended once, making the Court's "discretion to deny leave to amend ... particularly broad." Ascon, 866 F.2d at 1160. Amendment at this juncture would cause undue prejudice to Mr. Neman, who has already been required to devote substantial time and expense to this litigation.

Memorandum of Decision at 7–8.

The deficiencies in the Complaint referenced above were not the fault of JLAMP's current counsel, who substituted into the case shortly before Mr. Neman's motion for summary judgment was adjudicated. However, the Court's analysis under Civil Rule 60(b)(2) cannot turn on the fact that JLAMP's present counsel is not responsible for the circumstances that led to entry of judgment in Mr. Neman's favor. JLAMP's present counsel is bound by the actions—or inactions—of its prior counsel. To hold otherwise would allow parties to engage in gamesmanship by substituting counsel whenever a litigation setback occurred.

Nothing in JLAMP's Motion alters the Court's finding that JLAMP's prior request for leave to amend the Complaint to substantiate the alter ego allegations was properly denied. The fact that JLAMP's discovery has yielded the specific factual allegations regarding its alter ego theory that should have been alleged in the Complaint from the outset does not change this result. As the Court explained in the Memorandum of Decision, "[d]iscovery is not a fishing expedition in which parties are permitted to hunt for any conceivable set of facts that might support a legal theory supported only by threadbare allegations lacking the required specificity." Memorandum of Decision at 7.

Even if the Court were to overlook the Complaint's deficiencies, thereby disregarding the Supreme Court's directive that a Complaint must allege specific facts to "unlock the doors to discovery," Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009), JLAMP's newly discovered evidence does not support disregarding the corporate form. "Alter ego is an extreme remedy" that is "sparingly used" and may be invoked only if the movant shows the following:

First, there must be such a unity of interest and ownership between the corporation and its equitable owner that the separate personalities of the corporation and the shareholder do not in reality exist. Second, there must be an inequitable result if the acts in question are treated as those of the corporation alone. Among the factors to be considered in applying the doctrine are commingling of funds and other assets of the two entities, the holding out by one entity that it is liable for the debts of the other, identical equitable ownership in the two entities, use of the same offices and employees, and use of one as a mere shell or conduit for the affairs of the other. Other factors which have been described in the case law include inadequate capitalization, disregard of corporate formalities, lack of segregation of corporate records, and identical directors and officers. No one characteristic governs, but the courts must look at all the circumstances to determine whether the doctrine should be applied.

Sonora Diamond Corp. v. Superior Court, 83 Cal. App. 4th 523, 538–39, 99 Cal. Rptr. 2d 824, 836 (2000) (internal citations omitted).

Here, Mr. Neman’s deposition testimony shows that MBN engaged in sloppy record-keeping and that Mr. Neman may have, at various times, caused MBN to lend money to other entities he controlled. The testimony does not show definitively that Mr. Neman caused MBN to lend money to such entities, only the possibility that such lending might have occurred; Mr. Neman could not remember details of specific transactions. Mr. Neman’s testimony does not establish that MBN is the alter ego of Mr. Neman. At the very most, the testimony could be offered to support the contention that MBN is the alter ego of the other entities to which it loaned funds—although such a contention would have to be bolstered by additional evidence in order to justify imposition of the extreme remedy of alter ego.

JLAMP argues that its new evidence supports its most serious allegation against Mr. Neman—that Mr. Neman created MBN so that he could arrange for the improper transfer of the Debtor’s assets to it. However, the Court rejected this very argument when entering judgment in favor of Mr. Neman:

JLAMP shows that Mr. Neman formed MBN shortly before the Debtors transferred the Assets to MBN. This evidence goes to MBN’s liability on JLAMP’s fraudulent transfer claims, not to whether Mr. Neman should be deemed MBN’s alter ego.

Memorandum of Decision at 7.

Civil Rule 60(b)(3)—Fraud, Misrepresentation, or Misconduct

To set aside the judgment under Civil Rule 60(b)(3), JLAMP must:

- (1) prove by clear and convincing evidence that the verdict was obtained through fraud, misrepresentation, or other misconduct.
- (2) establish that the conduct complained of prevented the losing party from fully and fairly presenting his case or defense. Although when the case involves the withholding of information called for by discovery, the party need not establish that the result in the case would be altered.

Jones v. Aero/Chem Corp., 921 F.2d 875, 878–79 (9th Cir. 1990).

Once again, JLAMP's arguments under Civil Rule 60(b)(3) are based upon the false premise that Mr. Neman obtained judgment in his favor through discovery misconduct. The reality, as set forth above, is that the Court entered judgment in Mr. Neman's favor as a result of JLAMP's failure to allege or show facts substantiating its alter ego theory. JLAMP was not stymied by any misconduct by Mr. Neman; it was stymied by its own failure to sufficiently allege the facts necessary to support its alter ego theory in its Complaint.

JLAMP asserts that it lacked the facts necessary to properly oppose Mr. Neman's motion for summary judgment only because Mr. Neman did not cooperate during discovery. Had JLAMP's Complaint properly alleged the specific facts necessary to support its alter ego theory, this contention might have merit. But, as the Court ruled in the Memorandum of Decision, JLAMP cannot use a Complaint entirely devoid of the specific allegations necessary to state a claim as a springboard to unlock the doors to discovery, in the hopes of later uncovering those specific facts which should have been alleged from the outset.

mischaracterizes the record and contains improper legal argument. To the extent that the Purcell Declaration characterizes deposition testimony or other portions of the record, the Court relies upon the record itself and not upon Mr. Purcell's characterization thereof to adjudicate the Motion. Since it does not rely upon these aspects of Mr. Purcell's declaration, the Court does not rule upon Mr. Nemans' evidentiary objections thereto. See Operating Engineers' Pension Trust Fund v. Clark's Welding & Mach., 688 F. Supp. 2d 902, 907 (N.D. Cal. 2010) ("Because the Court does not rely on the statements in this declaration, it is not necessary for the Court to rule on these objections."). Further, to the extent Mr. Purcell's declaration contains legal argument, the Court does not construe the declaration as evidence.

#10.00 HearingRE: [23] Motion to disgorge attorney's fees under 11 U.S.C. section 329 by U.S. Trustee . (united states trustee (hy))

Docket 23

Tentative Ruling:

6/19/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the UST's Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) United States Trustee's Notice of Motion and Motion for an Order Disgorging Attorney Compensation Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 329 (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 23]
 - a) Request for Judicial Notice in Support of the Motion ("RJN") [Doc. No. 24]
- 2) Opposition to the Motion (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 29]
 - a) Declaration of Krystina T. Tran (the "Tran Decl.") [Doc. No. 29]
 - b) Declaration of Avelina Conde Castillo (the "Castillo Decl.") [Doc. No. 29]
- 3) Reply to the Opposition (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 32]
 - a) Request for Judicial Notice in Support of the Reply (the "Reply RJN") [Doc. No. 33]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Avelina Conde Castillo (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on February 27, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor was represented by Krystina T. Tran ("Debtor's Counsel") throughout the pendency of the Debtor's case. On March 29, 2018, the United States Trustee ("UST") filed the "Motion to Dismiss or Convert under 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b) to Convert or Dismiss Case with an Order Directing Payment of Quarterly Fees and for Judgment Thereon" (the "Dismissal Motion") [Doc. No. 13]. On May 17, 2018, the Court entered the "Order Granting the [Dismissal Motion] and Dismissing Case with 180-day Bar with Judgment for Payment of Quarterly Fees" (the "Dismissal Order") [Doc. No. 21]. The "Disclosure of Compensation of Attorney for Debtor(s)" [Doc. No. 1] indicates that Debtor's Counsel charged, and received from the Debtor, $5,000.00 for legal services (the "Retainer"). The Debtor's "Statement of Financial Affairs" [Doc. No. 1] indicates that the Debtor paid Debtor's counsel $5,000.00 on December 11, 2017, id. at ¶ 16.

The Motion

On May 17, 2018, the UST filed the "United States Trustee's Notice of Motion and Motion for an Order Disgorging Attorney Compensation Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 329" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 23]. The Motion seeks disgorgement of the $5,000.00 Retainer paid by the Debtor to Debtor's Counsel. The Motion contends that Debtor's Counsel failed to obtain an order authorizing employment pursuant to § 327(a), and, therefore, the Retainer and fees received should be disgorged under § 329, and pursuant to the Court's inherent authority under § 105(a). Furthermore, the UST contends that disgorgement is warranted under § 329(b), because the compensation paid to Debtor's counsel exceeded the reasonable value of the services provided. Specifically, the UST contends that Debtor's Counsel failed to provide competent legal services, which failure resulted in the dismissal of the Debtor's case.

The Opposition

On June 7, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Opposition to the Motion" (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 29]. The Opposition contends that disgorgement of the Retainer is not warranted because the Retainer was for "pre-bankruptcy legal work," which included pre-bankruptcy counseling and seeking alternative options to foreclosure on the Debtor's residence. Opposition at 1–2; "Declaration of Avelina Conde Castillo in Support of the Opposition" ("Castillo Decl.") [Doc. No. 29] at ¶¶ 7–9. Furthermore, the Opposition states that the Debtor paid the Retainer in December 2017—more than two months before the date the Petition was filed—and that § 327 is silent with respect to compensation for pre-bankruptcy work. Id.

The Opposition further contends that the dismissal of the Debtor's case was the result of the Debtor's inability to complete all the tasks required of her, and not due to ineffective representation by the Debtor's Counsel. See Castillo Decl. at ¶¶ 12–18.

Chapter 11

Ultimately, "the Debtor was too overwhelmed with the requirements and costs of a chapter 11, and felt she could not successfully move forward with the case," and the Debtor voluntarily decided to let the UST dismiss the case. Opposition at 5.

The Reply

On June 12, 2018, the UST filed the "Reply to the Opposition" (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 32]. The Reply argues that Debtor's Counsel's failure to seek authority from the Court to represent the Debtor requires disgorgement of fees received from the Debtor, whether pre-petition or post-petition. The UST argues that § 329 "allows return of any fees paid to an attorney in connection with a bankruptcy within a year before the date of filing", which, in the proper circumstances, includes fees paid for pre-petition services. Additionally, the Reply states that Debtor's Counsel has a pattern of failing to obtain an order authorizing employment, and that Debtor's Counsel has never filed an employment application in any of her prior Chapter 11 cases. Reply at 4-5; see also "Request for Judicial Notice in Support of the Reply" (the "Reply RJN") [Doc. No. 33]. Lastly, the Reply states that Debtor's Counsel failed to attend the meeting of creditors, and failed to submit UST compliance, among other things.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

The Bankruptcy Code and the Local Rules require counsel to seek authority from the court to represent a debtor in possession during a Chapter 11 case and to be compensated from the estate. See 11 U.S.C. § 327(a); FRBP 2014; LBR 2016-1. "Court approval of the employment of counsel for a debtor in possession is sine qua non to counsel getting paid. Failure to receive court approval for the employment of a professional in accordance with § 327 and Rule 2014 precludes the payment of fees." In re Shirley, 134 B.R. 940, 943 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1992) (footnote omitted); see also Atkins v. Wain, Samuel & Co. (In re Atkins), 69 F.3d 970, 973 (9th Cir. 1995) ("In bankruptcy proceedings, professionals who perform services for a debtor in possession cannot recover fees for services rendered to the estate unless those services have been previously authorized by a court order.").

11 U.S.C. § 329(a) requires any attorney representing a debtor to file "a statement of the compensation paid or agreed to be paid, if such payment or agreement was made after one year before the date of the filing of the petition" Section 329(b) provides that "[i]f such compensation exceeds the reasonable value of any such services, the court may cancel any such agreement, or order the return of any such payment, to the extent excessive, to the entity that made such payment." FRBP 2017 (a), which implements § 329(a), further provides:

On motion by any party in interest or on the court's own initiative, the court after notice and a hearing may determine whether any payment of money or any transfer of property by the debtor, made directly or indirectly and in contemplation of the filing of a petition under the Code . . . to an attorney for services rendered or to be rendered is excessive.

The burden is on the applicant to show the reasonableness of the fees. In re Williams, 357 B.R. 434,439 (B.A.P. 6th Cir. 2007) (emphasis added). "A bankruptcy court may sometimes exercise discretion to make an award for attorneys fees not authorized in advance, but only in exceptional circumstances where the attorney provides a satisfactory explanation for failure to obtain approval in advance and demonstrates that the service significantly benefitted the estate." Law Offices of Ivan W. Halperin v. Occidental Fin. Group (In re Occidental Fin. Group), 40 F.3d 1059, 1062 (9th Cir. 1994).

Here, the Court finds that Debtor's Counsel has failed to demonstrate the reasonableness of the $5,000.00 Retainer paid to Debtor's Counsel pre-petition. First, it is undisputed that Debtor's Counsel did not obtain Court approval of her fees in connection with this case, and the Court is not persuaded by the argument of Debtor's Counsel that pre-petition fees do not require approval under § 327, or that such fees are exempt from disgorgement under § 329. Furthermore, the Court finds that Debtor's Counsel has not provided a "satisfactory explanation" for the failure to obtain approval under § 327, or demonstrated how the service provided by Debtor's Counsel significantly benefitted the estate. See In re Occidental Fin. Group, 40 F.3d at 1062. As set forth in the "Disclosure of Compensation" [Doc. No. 1], Debtor's Counsel certified that the Retainer included preparation of the petition and schedules, representation of the Debtor at the meeting of creditors, and negotiations with secured creditors, among other things; however, Debtor's Counsel failed to attend the initial meeting of creditors and failed to submit UST compliance, which are services that are ordinarily expected of counsel in a Chapter 11 case. Considering the failure of Debtor's Counsel in this regard, and considering that the Debtor's case was dismissed on May 17, 2018, which is less than three months from the date the Petition was filed, the $5,000.00 Retainer paid to Debtor's Counsel exceeds the reasonable value of services provided to the Debtor.

Docket 24

Tentative Ruling:

6/19/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion for Default Judgment is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Motion for Default Judgment Under LBR 7055-1 [Doc. No. 34] (the "Motion")
 - a) Notice of Motion for Default Judgment [Doc. No. 35]
- 2) No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Shasa USA LLC (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on February 4, 2015 (the "Petition Date"). Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtor was a retailer in the women's "fast fashion" clothing industry, and competed with other fashion retailers such as Forever 21, H&M, Wet Seal, and Deb Shops. The Debtor updated the clothing and fashion accessories for sale at its retail stores on a monthly basis. The clothing and accessories sold by the Debtor were intended to be used a few times and then thrown away because the clothing was no longer fashionable. Consumers would return to the Debtor's stores to buy the current monthly fashion. Clothing and accessories sold by the Debtor were priced in the typical range of $5.00 to $15.00.

In the 90-day period prior to the Petition Date, the Debtor did not have sufficient funds to pay all its debts, and fell behind on its payments to creditors. During this time period, many of the Debtor's creditors contacted the Debtor and demanded that their bills be paid.

On January 30, 2017, the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") commenced this preference action against McGinn USA, Inc., d/b/a Plastic Island (the "Defendant"), seeking to avoid transfers in the total amount of $340,865.28 that the Debtor made to the Defendant during the ninety day period prior to the Petition Date. The Clerk of the Court entered Defendant's default on March 21, 2017. The Trustee seeks entry of default judgment against the Defendant. A prior hearing on the Motion was conducted on October 18, 2017, but was continued because the Defendant commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition, Case No. 2:17-bk-21078-BR. The Defendant's Chapter 7 petition was closed on December 19, 2017. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The hearing on this Motion was continued to enable the Trustee to correct a service defect. The Trustee has properly served the Motion and no Opposition is on file.

Once default has been entered, the well-pleaded factual allegations of the complaint are taken as true. Cripps v. Life Ins. Co. of North America, 980 F.2d 1261, 1267 (9th Cir.1992).

Section 547(b) permits the Trustee to avoid "any transfer of an interest of the debtor in property" if the transfer was:

- 1) to or for the benefit of a creditor;
- 2) for or on account of an antecedent debt owed by the debtor before such transfer was made;
- 3) made while the debtor was insolvent;
- 4) made—
 - a) on or within 90 days before the date of the filing of the petition; or
 - b) between ninety days and one year before the date of the filing of the petition, if such creditor at the time of such transfer was an insider; and
- 5) that enables such creditor to receive more than such creditor would receive if—
 - a) the case were a case under chapter 7 of this title;
 - b) the transfer had not been made; and
 - c) such creditor received payment of such debt to the extent provided by the provisions of this title.

For purposes of §547(b), a "transfer" means:

- a) the creation of a lien;
- b) the retention of title as a security interest;

§101(54).

It is the Trustee's burden to establish all the elements of §547(b) by a preponderance of the evidence. §547(g); Hall-Mark Electronics Corp. v. Sims (In re Lee), 179 B.R. 149, 155 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995) aff'd, 108 F.3d 239 (9th Cir. 1997). Section 547(c) sets forth certain defenses to transfer liability. The Defendant has the burden of establishing that the §547(c) defenses apply, again under the preponderance of the evidence standard. §547(g).

The Trustee has alleged facts sufficient to establish that the Defendant received transfers avoidable under §547(b). The declaration attached to the Motion for Default Judgment support the Trustee's entitlement to the damages requested against the Defendant. The Trustee engaged the services of an accountant and forensic data firm to reconstruct the Debtor's business records. The Trustee has submitted invoices and/or reconstructed business records of the Debtor showing that the Defendant received preferential payments, in the amount of $340,865.28, during the 90-day period prior to the Petition Date.

The Court will enter default judgment, as requested by the Trustee, against the Defendant. The Trustee shall submit a conforming judgment within seven days of the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

6/19/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Court GRANTS the Debtor's Motion. The Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral through and including September 30, 2018, in accordance with the terms of the Third Stipulation with Citizen's Business Bank. Furthermore, having received no objection or further stipulation, the Court extends the terms of the Third IRS Stipulation through and including September 30, 2018. A hearing on whether the Debtor may use cash collateral subsequent to September 30, 2018 will take place on September 12, 2018 at 10:00 a.m. Papers in support of the continued use of cash collateral must be filed and served by August 22, 2018. Objections, if any, to the Debtor's continued use of cash collateral must be filed and served by August 29, 2018. Any reply may be filed and served by September 5, 2018.

Chapter 11

5) No opposition has been filed as of the date of this tentative ruling.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Base Architecture Planning & Engr Inc. (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on July 14, 2017. The Debtor is an urban design, architecture, planning, and civil engineering firm located in Los Angeles. The Debtor specializes in designing and constructing airport facilities, transit projects, municipal and civic facilities, schools, and commercial offices. The Debtor has 22 active contracts with different property owners and government agencies, which it expects to assume. The immediate cause of the petition was the entry of a judgment against the Debtor in the amount of $70,000 on May 25, 2017.

On May 17, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Supplemental to Motion for Authority to Use Cash Collateral" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 122]. The Debtor seeks authorization to use cash collateral in accordance with: (1) the stipulation executed between the Debtor and Citizens Business Bank (the "Bank Stipulation") [Doc. No. 85]; and (2) the stipulation executed between the Debtor and the Internal Revenue Service (the "First IRS Stipulation") [Doc. No. 26]. The Debtor states that it owes Citizens Business Bank (the "Bank") $212,120.15 as of the petition date; that the Debtor owes the IRS $500,000; that the indebtedness of the Bank is senior to the indebtedness of the IRS; that both the Bank and the IRS hold blanket liens on all the Debtor's assets; and that the Bank holds a personal guaranty against the Debtor's primary shareholder, Michael H. Anderson, as well as liens against two real properties. The Debtor seeks to extend the two stipulations through and including September 30, 2018.

The material terms of the Bank Stipulation are as follows:

- 1) The Debtor acknowledges and agrees (a) that it is liable to the Bank in the amount of $212,120.15; (b) that the Bank's indebtedness is secured by a valid, perfected security interest on substantially all assets of the Debtor; (c) and that the Bank's indebtedness constitutes an allowed claim under the Bankruptcy Code.
- 2) Solely during the operative period of the Bank Stipulation, the Debtor waives the rights (a) to surcharge the Bank's collateral pursuant to §506(c) or (b) to incur financing or indebtedness from any party other than the Bank that includes the granting by the Debtor of liens, claims, or interests in favor of such other party that are senior to or pari passu with the liens, claims, and interests in favor of the Bank.

- 3) The Debtor will make monthly adequate protection payments to the Bank in the amount of $5,000.00, commencing on November 1, 2017. As further adequate protection, the Bank will receive a replacement lien on the rents, proceeds, and profits of its collateral, with such replacement lien having the same validity, extent, and priority as the Bank's prepetition lien. In addition, if the foregoing protection is insufficient to satisfy in full the Bank's claim, the Bank will be granted a superpriority administrative claim pursuant to §507(b).
- 4) The Bank Stipulation authorizes the Debtor to use cash collateral through April 30, 2018.

The material terms of the First IRS Stipulation, which were incorporated by the Second IRS Stipulation, are as follows:

- 1) The Debtor will make monthly adequate protection payments to the United States in the amount of $500.00, retroactive to the petition date, with payments to commence within seven calendar days after the Court approves the IRS Stipulation.
- 2) As further adequate protection, the IRS will receive a replacement lien on the Debtor's post-petition accounts receivable and on all other property acquired by the Debtor subsequent to the petition, with such replacement lien having the same validity, extent, and priority as the IRS' pre-petition lien. To the extent that the foregoing protection proves insufficient, the IRS will be granted a superpriority administrative claim pursuant to §507 (b).
- 3) The Debtor must remain current on its post-petition tax obligations, including its obligation to timely make federal payroll tax deposits and estimated income tax payments.

The "Third Stipulation between Debtor and Internal Revenue Service Regarding Interim Use of Cash Collateral and Adequate Protection" (the "Third IRS Stipulation") [Doc. No. 98] was filed on February 7, 2018. The Third IRS Stipulation incorporates the material terms of the First IRS Stipulation, and stipulates that the Debtor may continue to use cash collateral in accordance with the terms of the First IRS Stipulation until March 31, 2018.

Chapter 11

The Debtor seeks to extend the terms of each of the Bank Stipulation and the Third IRS Stipulation through and including September 30, 2018.

Pursuant to the Court's "Order Approving Fourth Request for Interim Use of Cash Collateral and Adequate Protection" entered on May 11, 2018 [Doc. No. 119], the deadline for filing an objection to the Motion was May 23, 2018. No objection to the Debtor's continued use of cash collateral has been filed as of the date of this tentative ruling.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of Section 363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368-69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. Section 363(c)(2)(B); Section 363(e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988).

The Court finds the terms of the Bank Stipulation, including the Debtor's acknowledgment of the validity of the Bank's indebtedness and its acknowledgment that the Bank holds an allowed claim under the Bankruptcy Code, to be acceptable. The terms of the Third IRS Stipulation are also acceptable. The Court, therefore, authorizes the continued use of cash collateral provided that the Debtor continues to comply with the terms of both Stipulations, including making the adequate protection payments required under the Bank Stipulation and the First IRS Stipulation.

Conclusion

In conclusion, for the reasons set forth above, the Court GRANTS the Debtor's Motion. The Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral through and including

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Beverly Hills South Pacific Surgery Center, Inc., the debtor and debtor in possession (the "Debtor"), filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on March 15, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. On June 28, 2017, the Debtor filed the "Motion for an Order Extending Deadline to Assume, Assume and Assign, or Reject Nonresidential Real Property Leases" [Doc. No. 88]. Chapter 11

The Motion seeks authorization for the Debtor to assume the non-residential lease of the certain real property located at 99 N. La Cienega Boulevard, Suite 102, Beverly Hills, CA (the "Property"). Previously, 99 N. La Cienega, L.P. (the "Lessor") entered into a lease of the Property with Gary Dermendjian, M.D., Simin Hashemizadeh (the "Lease"). The Debtor was and is not a party to the Lease; however, the Debtor, with the permission of the Lessor and Mr. Dermendjian and Mr. Hashemizadeh, possesses the premises where the Debtor conducts its business, and makes the lease payments according to the terms of the Lease. To enable assumption of the Lease under § 365, the parties have entered into the following two documents: (1) the "Assumption and Consent Agreement" [Doc. No. 40, Ex. B]; and (2) the "Stipulation Approving Assumption of the Lease of [the Property]" [Doc. No. 40, Ex. A]. The Motion states that the Lease is "current," and is the most appropriate place for the Debtor to operate and generate income, as it has since 2009. The Motion further states that the Lease is necessary to the Debtor's operation and the Debtor's continued operation is in the best interest of the Debtor and all of its creditors.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

"[T]he trustee, subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." 11 U.S.C. § 365(a). "A motion to assume or reject is a summary proceeding, 'intended to efficiently review the trustee's or debtor's decision to adhere to or reject a particular contract in the course of the swift administration of the bankruptcy estate.'" 3-365 Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 365.03[2] (Alan N. Resnick & Henry J. Sommer eds., 16th ed. 2017) (quoting Orion Pictures Corp. v. Showtime Networks (In re Orion Pictures Corp.), 4 F.3d 1095, 1098 (2d Cir. 1993)). Under § 365, the Court may authorize the assumption or rejection of an unexpired lease by the trustee if the trustee's rationale for maintaining the contract is supported by sound business judgment and not premised on "bad faith, whim or caprice." In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc., 476 F.3d 665, 669–70 (9th Cir. 2007); Lubrizol Enterprises, Inc. v. Richmond Metal Finishers, Inc., 756 F.2d 1043, 1046–1047 (4th Cir. 1985). In reviewing a trustee's decision to assume or reject a lease, the bankruptcy court "need engage in only a cursory review of" the decision. Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d at 669 (internal citations omitted). "Thus, in evaluating the [trustee's decision], the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate." Id.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Debtor shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") seeks approval of a compromise with First American Title Company ("First American"). First American acted as the escrow agent in connection with a sale approved by the Court on November 2, 2015. Doc. No. 858. The property that was sold was subject to a disputed lien held by Andrew Holdings, Inc. (the "Disputed Lien"). Pursuant to the Sale Order, the property was sole free and clear of the Disputed Lien, with the Disputed Lien attaching to the sale proceeds. The Escrow Instructions transmitted to First American stated that any indebtedness allegedly secured by the Disputed Lien should not be paid at closing, but instead, that the sum of $333,440.38 should be retained by First American on account of the Disputed Lien. Notwithstanding express instructions to the contrary, First American disbursed $333,440.00 to the holder of the Disputed Lien.

Upon discovering that First American had paid off the Disputed Lien, the Trustee demanded that First American return the $333,440.38 paid on account of the Disputed Lien to the Trustee. First American returned the funds to the Trustee, but informed the Trustee that it was asserting a claim against the funds, on the theory that First American became subrogated to the rights of the Disputed Lienholder upon paying off the Disputed Lien.

The Trustee now moves for approval of a Settlement Agreement reached with First American. The Trustee will return to First American $50,000 of the $333,440.38 that the Trustee is currently holding on account of the Disputed Lien. Consistent with the terms of a prior Settlement Agreement between the Trustee, on the one hand, and Sarath and Hemanthi Gunatilake, on the other hand, that the Court approved on December 1, 2014, the Trustee will pay $141,720 to the Gunatilakes. The estate will retain $141,720 of the funds.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair, and reasonable, and is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Complexity of the Litigation

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The disputes being resolved by the settlement are factually complex and highly contested. Once the Trustee and the Gunatilakes discovered that the funds had been disbursed to the Disputed Lienholder, the two confronted First American with the error. First American initially responded by arguing that the Trustee and the estate had no valid interest in the property that had just been sold, and therefore no valid interest in the funds that had been wrongfully disbursed. First American agreed to return the funds to the Trustee only after the Trustee had prepared and threatened to file an adversary complaint. Upon returning the funds, First American switched tactics and began arguing that it was subrogated to the rights of the Disputed Lienholder.

The Court finds that resolution of these issues would be time-consuming and costly. The Court would have to determine the validity of the Disputed Lien and then would have to determine whether First American is subrogated to the rights of the Disputed Lienholder.

Probability of Success on the Merits

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The possibility that additional litigation might yield a result nominally more favorable to the estate cannot be ruled out. Yet any such result obtained through litigation would be a pyrrhic victory from the perspective of the estate and creditors, because the additional administrative costs associated with the litigation would on net leave the estate worse off.

Paramount Interests of Creditors

This factor weighs strongly in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The Settlement Agreement allows the estate to retain $141,720 of the funds attributable to the Disputed Liens. No creditors have objected to approval of the Settlement Agreement. As noted above, litigation of this matter would almost certainly leave creditors and the estate worse off in view of the increased administrative costs.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Settlement Agreement is APPROVED and the Motion is GRANTED. The Trustee shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

#21.00 HearingRE: [532] Motion For Final Decree and Order Closing Case. MTN to Discharge and MTN for Final Decree

Docket 532

Tentative Ruling:

6/20/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion to Reopen and the Motion for Discharge are both GRANTED in their entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Post-Confirmation Debtor's Motion to Reopen His Individual Chapter 11 Case [Doc. No. 531] (the "Motion to Reopen")
 - a) Notice of Post-Confirmation Debtor's Motion to Reopen His Individual Chapter 11 Case [Doc. No. 535]
- 2) Post-Confirmation Debtor's Motion for Discharge of His Individual Chapter 11 Case and for Final Decree [Doc. No. 532] (the "Motion for Discharge")
 - a) Notice of Post-Confirmation Debtor's Motion for Discharge of His Individual Chapter 11 Case and for Final Decree [Doc. No. 536]
- 3) Limited Opposition of the United States Trustee to Post-Confirmation Debtor's Motion for Discharge of His Individual Chapter 11 Case and for Final Decree [Doc. No. 537]
- 4) Declaration of Post-Confirmation Debtor in Response to U.S. Trustee's Limited Objection Regarding Payment of Trustee Fees During Reopening of Case [Doc. No. 538]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On March 13, 2013, the Court confirmed the Debtor's Fourth Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan"). See Order Confirming Debtors' 4th Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization [Doc. No. 457]. The Plan provided for the Debtor to make payments to creditors over a 60-month period. On March 19, 2014, the case was closed so that the Debtor would not have to continue paying fees to the United States Trustee (the "UST") during the 60-month payment period.

Chapter 11

The Debtor moves to reopen the case and moves for entry of a discharge and a final decree. The Debtor states that all payments have been made in accordance with the Plan. The UST filed a limited opposition. The UST does not oppose the entry of a discharge or final decree, but requests that entry of a discharge and final decree be conditioned upon the Debtor's payment of UST fees for the current quarter. To ensure such payment, the UST requests the opportunity to sign off on the proposed orders providing for the entry of discharge and the entry of a final decree. In response to the UST's limited objection, the Debtor submitted a declaration stating that the Debtor mailed a check for $325 to the UST on June 11, 2018, to cover UST fees for the current quarter.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Motion to Reopen the case is GRANTED. The case will be reopened for the sole purpose of entering the Debtor's discharge and entering the final decree.

Pursuant to the confirmed Plan, the Debtor is entitled to a discharge upon the completion of all payments contemplated by the Plan. The declaration testimony submitted with the Motion for Discharge establishes that the Debtor has made all payments required under the Plan, except that the Debtor was unable to make certain de minimis payments because the creditors to whom the payments were owed had either ceased doing business or refused to accept the funds tendered by the Debtor. With respect to these de minimis payments, the Court finds that the Debtor made a good-faith attempt to comply with the Plan's provisions. Accordingly, the Debtor is entitled to entry of a discharge as provided for in the Plan.

The Plan provides for the reduction of the amounts of certain impaired secured claims upon the completion of all Plan payments. As the Debtor has performed under the Plan, the promissory notes pertaining to the secured impaired classes shall be amended as provided for in the Plan.

Entry of a final decree is appropriate. Pursuant to §350(a) and Bankruptcy Rule 3022, the Court shall enter a final decree closing a chapter 11 case after the estate is fully administered. In determining whether an estate is fully administered, a court should consider:

- (1) whether the order confirming the plan has become final;
- (2) whether deposits required by the plan have been distributed;
- (3) whether the property proposed by the plan to be transferred has been transferred;
- (4) whether the debtor or the successor of the debtor under the plan has assumed the business of the management of the property dealt with by the plan;

(5) whether payments under the plan have commenced; and

(6) whether all motions, contested matters, and adversary proceedings have been finally resolved.

In re Ground Systems, Inc., 213 B.R. 1016, 1019 (9th Cir. BAP 1997), quoting Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3022 advisory committee's notes (1991).

Here, the estate has been fully administered because the Debtor has made all payments required under the Plan.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion to Reopen and the Motion for Discharge are both granted in their entirety. The Debtor shall submit conforming orders, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing. To ensure that the UST has received all required fees, the orders shall be endorsed as to form by the UST pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9021-1(b)(3).

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

#23.00 HearingRE: [195] Motion to Approve Compromise Under Rule 9019 of Claim #4 by Rainbow International of Van Nuys, with proof of service

Docket 195

Tentative Ruling:

6/20/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion for Order Approving Settlement of Claim #4 by Rainbow International of Van Nuys, for $7,500 Pursuant to FRBP 9019 and Authorizing Distribution from Court Registry [Doc. No. 195] (the "Motion")
- 2) No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background

Attorney John Fuchs (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 13, 2017. The Debtor is being represented in this case by his law firm, the Fuchs Law Group, APC. The work on the Debtor's behalf in this case has been performed by Mr. Fuchs and his associate, Gail S. Gilfillan. Fuchs Decl. [Doc. No. 44] at ¶1.

On October 25, 2017, the Court approved the Debtor's motion to sell real property located at 17726 Calle de Palermo, Pacific Palisades, CA 90272 (the "Residence"). See Order Authorizing the Sale of the Estate's Right, Title, and Interest in Real Property Located at 17726 Calle de Palermo, Pacific Palisades, CA 90272 (the "Sale Order"). The Sale Order required the Debtor to deposit the net sales proceeds of the Residence into the Court's registry. Sale Order at ¶5.

On November 16, 2017, the Court authorized the Debtor to pay from the sales proceeds of the Residence (1) his homestead exemption in the amount of $175,000; (2) the actual and customary ordinary closing costs; and (3) real estate brokerage commissions in the amount of $169,750. See Doc. No. 82. On December 5, 2017, the Debtor deposited $3,014,642.94 into the Court's registry from the sale of the Residence. See Doc. No. 92.

On December 20, 2017, the Court approved settlement agreements between the Debtor and secured creditors Logan Mortgage, Inc. ("Logan"), JSC Pacific LLC ("JSC Pacific"), and the Dawn Miller O.D. Retirement Trust (the "Miller Trust"). Pursuant to the settlement agreements, the Court authorized the Debtor to pay from the funds on deposit in the Court's registry (1) $619,941.79 to Logan, (2) $74,535.00 to JSC Pacific, and (3) $619,941.79 to the Miller Trust. The settlement agreements resolved the secured claims of Logan, JSC Pacific, and the Miller Trust. On December 20, 2017, the Court entered an order authorizing the Clerk of the Court to disburse from the Court's registry funds in the aggregate amount of $919,905.65, for the purpose of paying Logan, JSC Pacific, and the Miller Trust. See Doc. No. 107.

On May 18, 2018, the Court approved the Disclosure Statement submitted in support of the Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan"). See Doc. No. 192. A plan confirmation hearing is set for July 11, 2018, at 10:00 a.m.

B. Claim No. 4, Asserted by Rainbow International of Van Nuys

On July 14, 2017, Rainbow International of Van Nuys ("Rainbow") filed Proof of Claim 4-1 ("Claim 4"), asserting an unsecured claim in the amount of $16,149.96, based upon water remediation and repair services that Rainbow performed after a flood occurred at the Residence. On February 14, 2018, the Court conducted a hearing on the Debtor's objection to Claim 4 (the "Claim Objection"). The Court found that the Debtor's Claim Objection involved disputed issue of material fact that had to be resolved at a trial at which live witness testimony would be taken. The Court set trial for the week of August 27, 2018, and referred the matter to the Mediation Panel.

On May 17, 2018, the parties participated in mediation before Craig C. Lang, Esq. and settled the Claim Objection. The Debtor now moves for approval of the settlement reached at mediation. The settlement provides that Rainbow will hold an allowed unsecured claim in the amount of $7,500, and that Rainbow's claim will be paid in full from the proceeds on deposit in the Court's Registry upon confirmation of the Debtor's Plan.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Paramount Interests of Creditors

This factor weighs strongly in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The settlement reduces Rainbow's claim from $16,149.96 to $7,500—a reduction of $8,649.96. Further, no creditors have objected to approval of the settlement.

Difficulties to Be Encountered in the Matter of Collection

This factor does not apply since the payment under the Settlement Agreement will be made from funds currently being held in the Court's registry, once the Plan has been confirmed.

Complexity of the Litigation

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The litigation is fact-intensive and would be time consuming to try, especially in view of the comparatively small amount at stake.

Probability of Success on the Merits

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. Even if additional litigation could succeed in further reducing the amount of the claim, the victory would be pyrrhic because the costs of the additional litigation would more than offset any additional recovery.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED and the Settlement Agreement is approved. Upon confirmation of the Debtor's Plan, the Court will enter

The hearing on the Motion is CONTINUED to a final hearing on June 21, 2018 at 10:00 a.m., to be heard concurrently with the Debtor's Motion to Approve the First Amended Joint Disclosure Statement [Doc. Nos. 94, 95, & 98].

The Court has set hard deadlines by which the Debtor and Red Booth must obtain approval of the First Amended Joint Disclosure Statement, and confirm the First Amended Joint Plan. In its ruling extending the preliminary injunction, the Court recognized that "Issuance of a § 105(a) preliminary injunction is a powerful remedy that the Court does not employ lightly," and, therefore, the Court stated that the preliminary injunction was extended "to afford the Debtor the protection of a preliminary injunction for the brief period of time necessary for the Debtor to obtain timely confirmation and approval of the First Amended Plan." 6/20/2018:

For the reasons set forth below, Equity's Motion to Remand is GRANTED, and the UD Action is remanded to the State Court.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Motion of Plaintiff, Equity Saver Construction, Inc., for Order Remanding Unlawful Detainer Action to State Court [Doc. No. 6] (the "Motion to Remand")
- 2) Opposition to Motion to Remand [Doc. No. 11]
- 3) Reply to Defendants' Opposition to Plaintiff's Motion to Remand Unlawful Detainer Action to Superior Court [Doc. No. 15]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Before the Court is the motion of Equity Saver Construction, Inc. ("Equity") to remand to the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court") the action Equity Saver Construction, Inc. v. Aida Fuentes and Rudy Fuentes (the "UD Action"). Defendants Rudy and Aida Fuentes removed the UD Action to the Bankruptcy Court on April 13, 2018. [Note 1] To provide the necessary context for the issues raised by the Motion to Remand, the Court sets forth a detailed description of previous decisions and orders entered in Rudy and Aida's bankruptcy cases in Section I.A., "Prior Findings." Chapter 7

In 2002, Aida Fuentes ("Aida") [Note 3] owned property located at 16335 East Elgenia Street, Covina, CA (the "Property") as her sole and separate property. In July 2006, Aida married Rudy Fuentes. On September 12, 2011, Aida recorded a grant deed conveying all of her right, title, and interest in the Property to Rudy as his sole and separate property.

Aida commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on January 18, 2013. David M. Goodrich was appointed as the Trustee. [Note 4] On March 12, 2014, the Trustee commenced an adversary proceeding against Rudy and Aida, seeking to avoid the September 2011 transfer of the Property as actually and constructively fraudulent. See Goodrich v. Fuentes, et al., Adv. No. 2:14-ap-01159-ER. On April 30, 2015, the Court entered judgment in favor of the Trustee and against Rudy, and avoided the September 2011 transfer. See Order: (1) Granting Motion for Summary Judgment Against Defendant Rudy E. Fuentes on Third, Sixth, and Tenth Claims for Relief in Trustee's Complaint, (2) Dismissing with Prejudice First, Second, Fourth, Fifth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Claims for Relief Against Defendant Rudy E. Fuentes in Trustee's Complaint; and (3) Dismissing Without Prejudice Tenth Claim for Relief Against Defendant Aida Fuentes in Trustee's Complaint [Doc. No. 61, Adv. No. 2:14-ap-01159-ER] (the "Judgment").

With respect to the Trustee's claim seeking turnover of the Property as against Rudy, the Court ordered that the Trustee was entitled to final judgment in his favor, but further ordered that turnover "shall be subject to Rudy's homestead exemption in the Property and the Trustee's acquisition of an order authorizing a sale of the Property." See Judgment at ¶3. The Judgment that avoided the September 2011 transfer is now final and non-appealable. As a result of the Judgment, Rudy has only a possessory interest in the Property.

On September 8, 2014, Rudy commenced a separate voluntary Chapter 7 petition, and claimed a $175,000 homestead exemption in the Property. Sam S. Leslie was appointed as the Trustee in Rudy's case. On December 8, 2015, Trustee Goodrich moved to disallow Rudy's homestead exemption (the "Disallowance Motion"). On February 19, 2015, the Court denied the Trustee's Disallowance Motion, finding that Rudy was entitled to an exemption of $175,000 based on his possessory interest in the Property. *See Order Denying Motion of David Goodrich for Order: (1) Disallowing Homestead Exemption in Fraudulently Transferred Real Property; or (2) in the Alternative Extending Time to Object to Debtor's Homestead Exemption [Doc. District Court, which affirmed the Bankruptcy Court's decision. The Trustee appealed the District Court's affirmance to the Ninth Circuit. On April 17, 2017, the Ninth Circuit issued a Memorandum of Decision affirming the District Court's ruling. However, the Ninth Circuit clarified that although Rudy was entitled to a homestead exemption, that exemption was limited to his possessory interest in the Property:

In order to qualify as a "homestead" under the automatic homestead exemption, certain residency requirements must be satisfied. Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 704.710(c). If the residency requirements are satisfied, a judgment debtor can claim a homestead exemption in the interest he or she has in the property, "regardless of whether the judgment debtor's interest is a fee, leasehold, or lesser interest." Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 704.820 Law Revision Commission Comments to 1982 Addition; see also Elliott v. Weil (In re Elliott), 523 B.R. 188, 196 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2014) ("[T]he [California] automatic homestead exemption applies to any interest in the property if the debtor satisfies the continuous residency requirement.").

The parties do not dispute that [Rudy] Fuentes has satisfied these residency requirements. In addition, [Rudy] Fuentes holds a possessory interest in the Property, which is an interest in real property that California law recognizes. See, e.g., Cal. Rev. & Tax. Code § 107; Cal. Code Regs. tit. 18, § 20. Because [Rudy] Fuentes has satisfied the residency requirements, he can claim a homestead exemption in his bankruptcy for the possessory interest that he holds in the Property. However, this possessory interest can be sold by his creditors unless "no bid is received at a sale of [the possessory interest] pursuant to a court order for sale that exceeds the amount of the homestead exemption plus any additional amount necessary to satisfy all liens and encumbrances on the property" Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 704.800(a).

Further, [Rudy] Fuentes's possessory interest is still subject to all other provisions of California and federal law, which may "extinguish[] . . . [his] equitable possessory interests in the real property at issue." See Eden Place, LLC v. Perl (In re Perl), 811 F.3d 1120, 1128 (9th Cir. 2016).

Memorandum of Decision ("Ninth Circuit Memorandum") at 3–5 [Doc. No. 22, Case No. 15-56618].

In a footnote, the Ninth Circuit explained that "[Rudy] Fuentes is not guaranteed to receive any particular amount of money if any other interest (besides his possessory interest) in the Property is sold." Id. at 5. The Ninth Circuit made no statements with respect to the amount of money, if any, that Rudy was entitled to receive on account of his homestead exemption.

Aida claimed a homestead exemption in the Property in the amount of $175,000. On June 23, 2017, the Court granted the Trustee's motion to disallow Aida's homestead exemption. The Court found that, pursuant to §522(g), Aida was not entitled to a homestead exemption:

Section 522(g) provides:

Notwithstanding sections 550 and 551 of this title, the debtor may exempt under subsection (b) of this section property that the trustee recovers under section 510(c)(2), 542, 543, 550, 551, or 553 of this title, to the extent that the debtor could have exempted such property under subsection (b) of this section if such property had not been transferred, if—

- (1) (A) such transfer was not a voluntary transfer of such property by the debtor; and
(B) the debtor did not conceal such property; or
- (2) the debtor could have avoided such transfer under subsection (f)(1)(B) of this section.

"Section 522(g) ... limits the ability of a debtor to claim an exemption where the trustee has recovered property for the benefit of the estate." Hitt v. Glass (In re Glass), 164 B.R. 759, 761 (9th Cir. BAP 1994). Its purpose "is to prevent a debtor from claiming an exemption in recovered property which was transferred in a manner giving rise to the trustee's avoiding powers, where the transfer was voluntary or where the transfer or property interest was concealed." Id. at 764.

There is no dispute that Aida voluntarily transferred the Property to Rudy prior to the petition. The Trustee obtained a judgment avoiding the transfer as fraudulent and recovering the Property. Because Aida voluntarily transferred property that the Trustee recovered, she is not entitled to a homestead exemption under §522(g). It is not necessary for the Court to find that Aida concealed the transfer; the mere fact that she voluntarily transferred property that the Trustee subsequently recovered is sufficient to defeat her right to a homestead exemption.

Final Ruling Granting Trustee's Motions to Disallow Aida's Homestead Exemption and to Employ a Real Estate Broker to Market the Property [Doc. No. 54, Case No. 2:13-bk-11518-ER] at 7-8.

Over Aida's objection, the Court granted the Trustee's application to employ a real estate broker to market the Property. The Court rejected Aida's contention that there was no equity in the Property to be administered for the benefit of creditors:

Aida's opposition ... is premised upon the inaccurate assumption that Rudy is entitled to payment of his $175,000 homestead exemption from the proceeds of the Property's sale. Aida's opposition ignores the language of the Ninth Circuit's Memorandum of Decision affirming the allowance of Rudy's homestead exemption. The Ninth Circuit held that Rudy is entitled to a homestead exemption, but only to the extent of his possessory interest in the Property. The Ninth Circuit further noted that Rudy is not guaranteed to receive any money on account of his homestead exemption if an interest in the Property other than his possessory interest is sold.

The Trustee is not seeking to sell Rudy's possessory interest in the Property. The Trustee will either sell the Property subject to Rudy's possessory interest, or will take action to extinguish Rudy's possessory interest prior to the sale. Rudy holds no other interest in the Property aside from his possessory interest. Rudy's homestead exemption cannot attach to the proceeds stemming from the sale of interests in the Property that he does not hold. Because Rudy's homestead exemption cannot attach to the sale proceeds, there is equity in the Property for distribution to unsecured creditors, and there is no merit to Aida's contention that the Trustee is pursuing the sale of the Property in bad faith.

This result is compelled by the language of the statute and the decision of the Ninth Circuit. The statute makes clear that a debtor's homestead exemption is limited to the debtor's interest in the property. See, e.g., Cal. Civ. Proc. Code §704.740 (providing that "the interest of a natural person in a dwelling may not sold under this division to enforce a money judgment except pursuant to a court order ..."); id. at §704.820 (providing that where a judgment debtor holds less than a fee simple interest in the property, only "the interest of the judgment debtor in the dwelling and not the dwelling shall be sold," and further providing that where there is more than one judgment debtor, "each of the judgment debtors entitled to a homestead exemption is entitled to apply his or her exemption to his or her own interest").

The Ninth Circuit's Memorandum further established that Rudy's homestead exemption applies only to his possessory interest in the Property. The court explained that Rudy "can claim a homestead exemption in his bankruptcy for the possessory interest that he holds in the Property." Memorandum at 4. The court further stated that Rudy "is not guaranteed to receive any particularly amount of money if any other interest (besides his possessory interest) in the Property is sold." Id. at 5.

The proposition that a debtor's homestead exemption can apply only to the debtor's interest in property is corroborated by the logic of other cases interpreting California's homestead statute. For example, in Schwaber v. Reed (In re Reed), 940 F.2d 1317, 1323 (9th Cir. 1991), the Ninth Circuit was confronted with a situation in which the debtor held only a one-half interest in property. For purposes of determining whether the debtor's homestead exemption could defeat the Trustee's sale of the property, the court compared the value of the exemption to the value of the debtor's one-half interest. The court did not use the value of the entire property to conduct the equity calculation. The court's approach is consistent with the principle that the homestead exemption applies only to the debtor's interest in the property. If the debtor's homestead exemption could apply to interests in the property that the debtor did not hold, the Reed court would have been required to perform the equity calculation using the value of the entire property, not just the value of the debtor's one-half interest. The limitation of a homestead exemption to the debtor's interest was also made clear in Elliot v. Weil (In re Elliott), 523 B.R. 188, 196 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2014). In that case, the court said that the "homestead exemption applies to any interest in the property." Id. at 196 (emphasis altered).

turnover order issued by this Court with respect to Aida only would be impossible to enforce. Therefore, the Court will deny the Turnover Motion without prejudice. The Sale Motion will also be denied without prejudice, given that closing of the sale is contingent upon the Trustee's ability to deliver the Property to the Buyers in vacant condition.

In light of the unenforceability of a turnover order issued only with respect to Aida, the possessory rights of both Aida and Rudy in the Property must be litigated simultaneously. If settlement cannot be achieved and the Trustee commences future proceedings to obtain possession of the Property, the hearing as to Aida's right to continued possession must take place concurrently with the hearing as to Rudy's right to continued possession.

Having found that the rights of both Aida and Rudy in the Property must be litigated simultaneously as a result of the unenforceability of a turnover order issued only with respect to Aida, the Court issued an order reopening Rudy's bankruptcy case to permit adjudication of Aida and Rudy's possessory rights to the Property to occur. See Order Reopening Case [Doc. No. 79, Case No. 2:14-bk-27148-ER]. On September 28, 2017, the Court denied the Trustee's motion for reconsideration of the Court's order reopening Rudy's bankruptcy case. Chapter 7 Trustee of the estate of Aida Fuentes. The Court granted the Motion to Dismiss but gave Rudy leave to amend. The Court explained:

Given the contentious nature of this litigation, the Court finds that the caption of the Complaint must be amended to make it absolutely clear that David M. Goodrich is being sued in his capacity as a Chapter 7 Trustee, not in his individual capacity. Upon reading the Complaint, it is clear that Rudy did not intend to sue David M. Goodrich in his individual capacity; nonetheless, the Complaint's caption is misleading and therefore creates ambiguity.

Ruling Granting Motion to Dismiss with Leave to Amend [Doc. No. 17, Case No. 2:17-ap-01475-ER] at 7.

On November 21, 2017, Rudy filed a First Amended Complaint [Doc. No. 16, Case No. 2:17-ap-01475-ER] (the "Valuation Complaint"). The Valuation Complaint alleged that Rudy's possessory interest in the Property had a value of no less than $175,000; that Rudy held an equitable interest in the Property as a result of community payments on the Property's mortgage; and that the Trustee's attempts to sell the Property without paying Rudy any amount on account of his homestead exemption constituted a taking of Rudy's property without just compensation. Based on these allegations, the Valuation Complaint sought (1) a declaration that Rudy's possessory interest has a value of $175,000; (2) a declaration that Rudy holds an equitable interest in the Property by virtue of community payments on the Property's mortgage; (3) a declaration that any termination of Rudy's possessory and equitable interests in the Property must provide for payment of or adequate protection of those interests; and (4) an injunction preventing the Trustee from selling the Property without paying Rudy $175,000 on account of his homestead exemption.

On January 31, 2018, the Court conducted a hearing on the Trustee's second motion to sell the Property. See Motion of Trustee for Order: (1) Authorizing Sale of Real Property Free and Clear of Liens and Encumbrances; (2) Approving Overbid Procedures; (3) Authorizing Payment of Any Undisputed Liens, Costs of Sale, and Property Taxes; and (4) Finding that Purchaser is Good Faith Purchaser Under 11 U.S.C. §363(m) [Doc. No. 95, Case No. 2:13-bk-11518-ER] (the "Second Sale Motion"). Unlike the First Sale Motion, the Second Sale Motion did not require the Trustee to deliver the Property to the buyer in vacant condition. No. 107, Case No. 2:13-bk-11518-ER].

On February 15, 2018, the Court denied Rudy’s emergency motion for a stay pending appeal of the Sale Order. See Order Denying “Emergency Motion for Stay Pending Appeal of Order Granting Motion Authorizing Sale of Real Property Free and Clear of Encumbrances” [Doc. No. 119, Case No. 2:13-bk-11518-ER]. On May 29, 2018, the District Court dismissed Rudy’s appeal of the Sale Order. The District Court found that the appeal was statutorily moot pursuant to §363(m). See Doc. No. 133, Case No. 2:13-bk-11518-ER (reproducing Doc. No. 13, Case No. 2:18-cv-01241-CAS).

Concurrently with the Sale Order, the Court issued an order dismissing the Valuation Complaint. See Order Dismissing Complaint [Doc. No. 39, Adv. No. 2:17-ap-01475-ER] and Memorandum of Decision (1) Granting Trustee’s Sale Motion and (2) Dismissing Adversary Proceeding [Doc. No. 40, Adv. No. 2:17-ap-01475-ER] (the “Memorandum Dismissing Valuation Complaint”). The Court found that, as a result of the sale of the Property, it lacked jurisdiction over the claims presented in the Valuation Complaint. The Court explained that its prior finding that issues pertaining to Rudy and Aida’s possessory interest in the Property needed to be adjudicated before the Bankruptcy Court, as opposed to the State Court, no longer applied given the Court’s decision to grant the Second Sale Motion:

It was against the backdrop of the First Sale Motion that the Court determined that it was necessary that Rudy’s bankruptcy case be reopened so that the Court could adjudicate issues regarding Rudy’s possessory interest and his homestead exemption in that possessory interest. Adjudication of those issues was necessary because the First Sale Motion required the Trustee to deliver the Property to the purchasers in vacant condition, free of Rudy’s possessory interest.

The Second Sale Motion completely changes the landscape. The Second Sale Motion does not require the Trustee to deliver the Property to the purchaser free of Rudy's possessory interest. As discussed previously, the Ninth Circuit has found that Rudy is not entitled to payment on account of his homestead exemption in his possessory interest unless that possessory interest is sold to pay his creditors. [Note 5] The Ninth Circuit's finding follows from a straightforward application of California law, which governs the treatment of Rudy's homestead exemption because California has opted out of the federal exemption scheme. See Cal. Code Civ. Proc. §703.130; Elliott v. Weil (In re Elliott), 523 B.R. 188, 192 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2014). The automatic homestead exemption at issue here "is not an absolute right to retain the homestead itself," but is instead "merely a debtor's right to retain a certain sum of money when the court orders sale of a homestead in order to enforce a monetary judgment." Schwaber v. Reed (In re Reed), 940 F.2d 1317, 1321 (9th Cir. 1991); see also Cal. Civ. Proc. Code §704.800(a) (providing that a homestead can be sold if a "bid is received at a sale of [the] homestead pursuant to a court order for sale that exceeds the amount of the homestead exemption plus any additional amount necessary to satisfy all liens and encumbrances on the property"). Here, Rudy holds only a possessory interest in the Property, and his homestead exemption applies only to that possessory interest. Rudy's right to be paid on account of his homestead exemption in the possessory interest is not triggered because the possessory interest is not being sold.

Because the Trustee is not seeking to sell Rudy's possessory interest and is not seeking to terminate that interest, the Court lacks "related to" jurisdiction to determine the value, if any, of Rudy's possessory interest or his homestead exemption in that possessory interest. Rudy has received a discharge and his estate has been fully administered. Issues pertaining to Rudy's possessory interest no longer affect the handling or administration of Rudy's bankruptcy case in any way.

There is no other jurisdictional basis for the Court to consider Rudy's claims regarding his possessory interest or his homestead exemption therein. The Court lacks "arising under" jurisdiction because Rudy's claims arise under state law, not under title 11. [Note 6] The Court lacks "arising in" jurisdiction because the claims are not an administrative proceeding of the type that has no existence outside of bankruptcy.

Rudy argues that the Court has jurisdiction over the remaining claims because adjudication of those claims will require interpretation of orders issued by this Court, the District Court, and the Ninth Circuit. Rudy is mistaken. State courts are often called upon to adjudicate issues requiring interpretation of orders issued by federal courts; the fact that such interpretation may be required does not automatically give rise to federal jurisdiction.

Civil Rule 12(h)(3) provides: "If the court determines at any time that it lacks subject-matter jurisdiction, the court must dismiss the action." Based upon its determination that it lacks jurisdiction, the Court sua sponte dismisses the Complaint's remaining claims. Rudy's argument that it is improper for the Court to dismiss the remaining claims sua sponte lacks merit. "Subject-matter limitations on federal jurisdiction serve institutional interests. They keep the federal courts within the bounds the Constitution and Congress have prescribed. Accordingly, subject-matter delineations must be policed by the courts on their own initiative even at the highest level." *Ruhrigas AG v. B. Equity's Motion to Remand, Rudy and Aida's Opposition, and Equity's Reply

On March 28, 2018, Equity commenced in the State Court an unlawful detainer action (the "UD Action") against Rudy and Aida with respect to the Property. On April 13, 2018, Rudy and Aida removed the UD Action to the Bankruptcy Court. Equity now moves to remand the UD Action to the State Court.

1. Summary of Equity's Motion to Remand

Equity makes the following arguments in support of its Motion to Remand:

The UD Action must be remanded, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 1447(c), because the Court lacks subject matter jurisdiction. As the Court recognized in the Memorandum Dismissing Valuation Complaint, issues pertaining to Rudy's possessory interest no longer affect the handling or administration of Rudy's bankruptcy case in any way. The Court lacks "related to" jurisdiction to adjudicate issues relating to Aida's continued occupancy of the Property. The Property is no longer property of Aida's estate since it was sold by the Trustee. The sale of the Property included the sale of Aida's possessory interest, because the Trustee of Aida's estate sold all of his right, title, and interest in the Property.

There is no "arising under" jurisdiction because Rudy's possessory interest in the Property arises under state law, not under title 11. Finally, there is no “arising in” jurisdiction because the claims asserted in the UD Action are not administrative proceedings of the type that have no existence outside of bankruptcy.

Given the Court’s findings regarding its lack of jurisdiction set forth in the Memorandum Dismissing Valuation Complaint, the removal of the UD Action to the Bankruptcy Court was frivolous and done in bad faith for the improper purpose of harassing Equity and delaying the UD Action. Although Equity does not seek issuance of contempt sanctions against Rudy and Aida’s counsel because it does not want to be tied up in litigation for an extended period, the Court should sua sponte issue an order requiring Rudy and Aida’s counsel, Robert Uriarte, to show cause why he should not be sanctioned, referred to the Bankruptcy Court’s Disciplinary Panel, disciplined under the procedures set forth in General Order 96-5, and/or reported to the California State Bar for violating California Rule of Professional Conduct 3-110.

2. Summary of Rudy and Aida’s Opposition

Rudy and Aida make the following arguments in Opposition to the Motion to Remand:

The Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction for multiple reasons. First, the UD Action is a collateral attack on multiple orders affirming Rudy’s right to possession of the Property. Second, the UD Action is an attempt to recover a pre-discharge claim against Rudy, in violation of the discharge injunction. Equity is the successor-in-interest to David M. Goodrich, who was a creditor of Rudy’s in his capacity as the Trustee of Aida’s estate. Equity’s claim against Rudy’s possessory interest in the Property is the exact claim that the Trustee pursued, lost, and had discharged in the course of Rudy’s bankruptcy case.

Third, Rudy is entitled to have a federal court enter declaratory judgment regarding the scope of his confirmed homestead exemption, and the UD Action relates to the scope of Rudy’s homestead exemption. Fourth, this action relates to the appeal of the Sale Order, as well as to Rudy’s claim against the proceeds of the sale of the Property. The sale proceeds reside in a bankruptcy estate that is currently being administered by the Bankruptcy Court.

3. Summary of Equity’s Reply

Equity makes the following arguments in Reply to Rudy and Aida’s Opposition:

Chapter 7

There is no merit to Rudy and Aida's contention that the UD Action is a collateral attack on orders entered by the Bankruptcy Court, the District Court, and the Ninth Circuit. To support the allegation of collateral attack, Rudy and Aida cite the Court's September 13, 2017 statement that it was necessary that issues relating to Rudy's possessory interest and homestead exemption be adjudicated before the Bankruptcy Court. However, on February 2, 2018, the Bankruptcy Court explained that its prior statement no longer applied as a result of the sale of the Property.

Second, Rudy and Aida argue that the UD Action violates Rudy's discharge injunction. The discharge injunction prohibits collection of all debts that arose before the date of the order for relief. Equity came into the picture long after the case was filed and is therefore not pursuing a claim that would have been discharged. Rudy and Aida's argument that Equity is the successor-in-interest to Trustee Goodrich makes no sense. Equity is Trustee Goodrich's successor-in-interest as the owner of the Property. To the extent Equity could be considered a creditor of Rudy under a successor-in-interest theory, Equity would only be a creditor with respect to the postpetition rental value of the Property. Such a claim is pre-discharge but not pre-petition and is therefore not subject to the discharge injunction.

Third, Rudy and Aida argue that the UD Action somehow relates to Rudy's declaratory judgment claim regarding the scope of Rudy's homestead exemption. This argument mischaracterizes the UD Action. Equity seeks possession of the Property which it purchased from Aida's bankruptcy estate. If successful, the UD Action would extinguish Rudy and Aida's possessory interest in the Property. Equity may also seek a judgment for the rental value of the Property during the time it has been unlawfully occupied by Aida and Rudy. But that is the extent of the UD Action.

Fourth, Aida and Rudy argue that the UD Action relates to the appeal of the Sale Order. However, the Sale Order was not entered in Rudy's case; it was entered in Aida's case. Further, the District Court has dismissed the Sale Order on mootness grounds.

II. Findings and Conclusions

All findings set forth in Section I.A., "Prior Proceedings," above, are adopted as the findings of the Court. For the reasons set forth below, the Court finds that it lacks subject-jurisdiction over the UD Action, and remands the UD Action to the State Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1447(c).

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that Aida and Rudy have not consented to the entry of final orders or judgments by the Bankruptcy Court. The absence of consent does not prevent the Court from remanding the UD Action to the State Court based upon a lack of subject-matter jurisdiction. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1447(d), an order remanding a case to the State Court from which it originated based upon a lack of subject-matter jurisdiction is not reviewable, and is therefore not a final order. See Things Remembered, Inc. v. Petrarca, 516 U.S. 124, 127 (1995) (“As long as a district court’s remand is based on a timely raised defect in removal procedure or on lack of subject-matter jurisdiction—the grounds for remand recognized by § 1447(c)—a court of appeals lacks jurisdiction to entertain an appeal of the remand order under § 1447(d).”); see also Quackenbush v. Allstate Ins. Co., 517 U.S. 706, 711–12 (1996).

Under the collateral order doctrine, an order remanding an action can qualify as a final order in certain limited circumstances. The collateral order doctrine is a “narrow exception” that “should stay that way and never be allowed to swallow the general rule that a party is entitled to a single appeal.” Digital Equip. Corp. v. Desktop Direct, Inc., 511 U.S. 863, 868 (1994). Applying the collateral order doctrine, the Ninth Circuit has held that an abstention-based remand order is a reviewable final order. See, e.g., Garamendi v. Allstate Ins. Co., 47 F.3d 350, 352 (9th Cir. 1995), aff’d sub nom. Quackenbush v. Allstate Ins. Co., 517 U.S. 706 (1996). However, abstention is not one of the grounds for remand expressly set forth in §1447(c), a fact specifically noted by the Garamendi court. See Garamendi, 47 F.3d at 352. The Court is aware of no authority setting forth any exceptions to the rule that a remand order based upon lack of subject matter jurisdiction is not final. Further, the Supreme Court has stated in both Things Remembered, 516 U.S. at 127, and Quackenbush, 517 U.S. at 711, that remand orders based upon lack of subject matter jurisdiction are non-reviewable and therefore not final.

Having found that Aida and Rudy’s objections to the entry of a final order by the Bankruptcy Court do not prevent the Court from remanding this action, the Court turns to the question of whether remand is required. The Court notes that Rudy and Aida repeatedly cite the finding made by the Court on September 13, 2017, that it was necessary for the possessory rights of Rudy and Aida in the Property to be litigated simultaneously before the Bankruptcy Court. Rudy and Aida completely ignore the Court’s subsequent finding, set forth in the Memorandum Dismissing Valuation Complaint and quoted above (see Section I.A., “Prior Proceedings”), that as a result of the Sale Order, adjudication of Rudy and Aida’s possessory rights to the Property before the Bankruptcy Court was no longer necessary, and that Bankruptcy Court lacked jurisdiction to adjudicate issues pertaining to Rudy’s homestead exemption in his possessory interest in the Property. These out-of-context quotations are bad-faith attempt to clutter the record and create further unnecessary confusion.

There is no merit to Rudy and Aida's contention that the UD Action constitutes a collateral attack on orders entered by the Bankruptcy Court, the District Court, and the Ninth Circuit. Rudy and Aida's predilection for obfuscating the record has obscured the reality that the ruling entered by the Ninth Circuit was actually quite simple, and can be stated in a single phrase: Rudy holds a homestead exemption in his possessory interest in the Property. As explained below, where, as here, Rudy's bankruptcy case has been fully administered, California law governs the scope of Rudy's homestead exemption in his possessory interest, and the federal courts have no jurisdiction to adjudicate issues pertaining thereto.

The Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction over "all cases under title 11." 28 U.S.C. § 1334(a). "Generally, in the bankruptcy context, the word 'case' is a term of art which refers to 'that which is commenced by the filing of a petition; it is the "whole ball of wax," the chapter 7, 9, 11, 12 or 13 case.'" Blevins Elec., Inc. v. First Am. Nat'l Bank (In re Blevins Elec., Inc.), 185 B.R. 250, 253 (Bankr. E.D. Tenn. 1995).

The Bankruptcy Court also has jurisdiction over "all civil proceedings arising under title 11, or arising in or related to cases under title 11." 28 U.S.C. §1334(b). The three types of jurisdiction conferred under 28 U.S.C. §1334(b) are known as "arising under," "arising in," and "related to" jurisdiction. "Arising under" jurisdiction exists if "the cause of action is created by title 11." Menk v. Lapaglia (In re Menk), 241 B.R. 896, 909 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1999). "Arising in" jurisdiction applies to "those administrative proceedings that, while not based on any right created by title 11, nevertheless have no existence outside bankruptcy." Id. "Related to" jurisdiction exists if "the outcome of the proceeding could conceivably have any effect on the estate being administered in bankruptcy.... An action is related to bankruptcy if the action could alter the debtor's rights, liabilities, options, or freedom of action (either positively or negatively) and which in any way impacts upon the handling and administration of the bankruptcy estate." Fietz v. Great Western Savings (In re Fietz), 852 F.2d 455, 457 (9th Cir. 1988) (internal citations omitted).

Title 28 U.S.C. §1447(c) provides that "[i]f at any time before final judgment it appears that the district court lacks subject matter jurisdiction, the case shall be remanded." Here, the Court lacks subject matter jurisdiction, making remand mandatory.

First, the Court lacks "related to" jurisdiction. Rudy has received a discharge and his estate has been fully administered. Therefore, the outcome of the UD Action could not have any conceivable effect upon Rudy's estate.

Second, the Court lacks "arising in" jurisdiction. The UD Action involves issues arising entirely under state law, not issues arising in connection with title 11.

Third, the Court lacks "arising under" jurisdiction. As noted, the UD Action arises under state law. It is not the type of administrative proceeding that has no existence outside of bankruptcy.

Rudy and Aida incorrectly maintain that the UD Action is a collateral attack upon orders entered by the Bankruptcy Court, the District Court, and the Ninth Circuit. Rudy supports this position by quoting, out of context, the Court's September 17, 2017 finding that issues regarding Rudy's possessory interest, and his homestead exemption therein, needed to be adjudicated before the Bankruptcy Court. As set forth above, the Court's September 17 finding is no longer applicable. The reasons that the September 17 finding no longer applies have been set forth in detail in the Memorandum Dismissing Valuation Complaint, excerpted above, and will not be repeated here.

As noted above, orders entered by this Court and the Ninth Circuit stand for the simple proposition that Rudy holds a homestead exemption in his possessory interest in the Property. Through the UD Action, Equity asserts that it has the ability to terminate Rudy's possessory interest because Equity, not Rudy or Aida, holds title to the Property. There is nothing about the UD Action that amounts to a collateral attack upon orders entered either by this Court, the District Court, or the Ninth Circuit.

Along similar lines, Rudy and Aida argue that the Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction because adjudication of the UD Action will require interpretation of orders entered by the Bankruptcy Court. Rudy and Aida are mistaken. As the Court has previously explained:

State courts are often called upon to adjudicate issues requiring interpretation of orders issued by federal courts; the fact that such interpretation may be required does not automatically give rise to federal jurisdiction.

Memorandum Dismissing Valuation Complaint at 15–16.

As set forth above, there is no reason why the State Court cannot interpret the simple proposition embodied in the orders of this Court and the Ninth Circuit—namely, that Rudy's homestead exemption is confined to his possessory interest in the Property. As a court of limited jurisdiction, this Court must aggressively enforce limitations on federal jurisdiction. As the Supreme Court has held, "[s]ubject-matter limitations on federal jurisdiction serve institutional interests. They keep the federal courts within the bounds the Constitution and Congress have prescribed. Accordingly, subject-matter delineations must be policed by the courts on their own initiative even at the highest level." Ruhrgas AG v. Marathon Oil Co., 526 U.S. 574, 583 (1999).

Rudy and Aida next argue that the UD Action violates Rudy's discharge injunction because it constitutes an attempt to collect upon a claim that was discharged. This argument lacks merit. The UD Action is an attempt to terminate Rudy's possessory interest in the Property. Rudy holds a homestead exemption in that possessory interest. The value of Rudy's homestead exemption is limited to the value, if any, of Rudy's possessory interest in the Property. If the possessory interest is sold to pay Rudy's creditors, Rudy would be entitled to receive a certain sum of money, on account of his homestead exemption, in connection with the sale. See Schwaber v. Reed (In re Reed), 940 F.2d 1317, 1321 (9th Cir. 1991) (stating that the automatic homestead exemption "is not an absolute right to retain the homestead itself," but is instead "merely a debtor's right to retain a certain sum of money when the court orders sale of a homestead in order to enforce a monetary judgment"). But if the possessory interest is not sold, Rudy is not entitled to any payment in connection with his homestead exemption. Where, as here, Rudy and Aida do not hold title to the Property and have not shown that they have any right to lawful possession thereof, Rudy and Aida have failed to show how Equity's attempt to terminate Rudy and Aida's possessory interest is an attempt to collect a debt that is prohibited by the discharge injunction.

Rudy and Aida argue that the UD Action relates to Rudy's declaratory judgment claim regarding the scope of Rudy's homestead exemption. Rudy and Aida assert that the declaratory judgment claim arises in the UD Action. The declaratory judgment claim to which Rudy and Aida refer is unclear. The UD Action was brought by Equity and seeks only possession of the Property and damages on account of the Property's rental value. Rudy and Aida have not supplied any pleadings filed in connection with the UD Action which assert a claim for declaratory judgment. Rudy did assert a claim for declaratory judgment in the Valuation Complaint, but the Valuation Complaint was dismissed on February 2, 2018, and Rudy has not appealed the dismissal.

Finally, there is no merit to Rudy and Aida's contention that the Court somehow has jurisdiction merely as a result of the appeal of the Sale Order. First, on May 29, 2018, the District Court dismissed the appeal of the Sale Order, reasoning that the appeal was statutorily moot pursuant to §363(m). Even if Rudy appeals the District Court's dismissal to the Ninth Circuit, such an appeal would not provide the Bankruptcy Court jurisdiction over the unrelated claims asserted in the UD Action.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion to Remand is GRANTED. The Court will enter an order remanding the UD Action to the State Court. At this juncture, the Court declines Equity's invitation to require Rudy and Aida's counsel, Robert Uriarte, to show cause why he should not be sanctioned or subject to discipline.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

The Notice of Removal [Doc. No. 1, Adv. No. 2:18-ap-01100] is ambiguous as to whether Aida and Rudy intended to remove the UD Action to the Bankruptcy Court or the District Court. The court named on the lead heading on the Notice of Removal is the "United States Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California—Los Angeles Division." However, the Notice of Removal's introductory paragraphs are addressed "to the Honorable U.S. District Court." The case caption on the Notice of Removal is also ambiguous, setting forth the case numbers for Rudy's bankruptcy case (Case No. 2:14-bk-27148-ER), Aida's bankruptcy case (Case No. 2:13-bk-11518-ER), and Rudy's appeal to the District Court of the Bankruptcy Court's order approving the sale of the Property (Case No. 2:18-cv-01241).

Notwithstanding the ambiguities set forth above, the Court finds that the UD Action has been removed to the Bankruptcy Court, not the District Court. First, the Notice of Removal was electronically filed in Rudy's bankruptcy case on April 9, 2018. See Doc. No. 85, Case No. 2:14-bk-27148-ER. As a result of a filing error, the Clerk of the Court instructed Rudy and Aida to re-file the Notice of Removal. See Doc. No. 86, Case No. 2:14-bk-27148-ER. On April 13, 2018, Rudy and Aida electronically filed the Notice of Removal in Rudy's bankruptcy case a second time. See Doc. No. 87, Case No. 2:14-bk-27148-ER. Second, in opposing the Motion to Remand, Rudy and Aida did not assert that they had intended to remove the UD Action to the District Court. Third, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §157(a), the District Court for the Central District of California has referred all proceedings arising under, arising in, or related to cases arising under Title 11 to the Bankruptcy Judges of the Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California. See General Order No. 13-05. Although the Court does not find that the UD Action arises in, arises under, or is related to Rudy and Aida's bankruptcy cases, Rudy and Aida take the position that the UD Action is related to their bankruptcy cases. For all these reasons, the Court finds that Rudy and Aida intended to remove the UD Action to the Bankruptcy Court, not to the District Court.

Bankruptcy Rule 9027(c) provides that removal takes effect once the removing party files a copy of the Notice of Removal in the court in which the action originated. Here, Rudy and Aida were required to file the Notice of Removal with the State Court. Because Rudy and Aida failed to comply with Local Bankruptcy Rule 9027-1 (d), which requires the removing party to file with the Bankruptcy Court copies of all documents on the State Court's docket, the Court cannot determine whether Rudy and Aida filed the Notice of Removal with the State Court as required by Bankruptcy Rule 9027(c).

Ascertaining if and when Aida and Rudy filed the Notice of Removal with the State Court would only create further delay, thereby rewarding Aida and Rudy's slipshod approach toward complying with basic procedural requirements. Therefore, the Court will deem the Notice of Removal to have been filed with the State Court as of April 9, 2018, the date the Notice of Removal was filed with the Bankruptcy Court. Any future attempt by Aida and Rudy to leverage a problem of their own making by attacking the validity of the removal would constitute egregious procedural gamesmanship that would almost certainly subject Rudy, Aida, and their counsel to sanctions.

Note 2

The lengthy summary set forth in Section I.A., "Prior Proceedings," is provided to ensure a complete record. However, the discussion in Section I.A. is largely irrelevant to the issue that the State Court will be required to adjudicate upon remand—namely, Equity's ability to terminate Rudy's possessory interest in the Property. With respect to issues pertaining to Rudy's possessory interest, Section II, "Findings and Conclusions," and Section I.B., "Equity's Motion to Remand, Rudy and Aida's Opposition, and Equity's Reply," will be of greater assistance to the State Court.

Note 4

Sam S. Leslie was appointed as the Chapter 7 Trustee for the bankruptcy estate of Rudy Fuentes. Trustee Leslie has had only minimal involvement in the litigation addressed in this Memorandum of Decision. Unless otherwise indicated, all references to the "Trustee" are to David M. Goodrich, the Trustee of Aida Fuentes' bankruptcy estate.

Note 5

See Ninth Circuit Memorandum at p. 5, n. 1.

Note 6

Where a debtor claims a homestead exemption and the Trustee seeks to sell the property subject to that exemption or objects to the homestead exemption, such issues are considered by the Bankruptcy Court. For the reasons discussed above, Rudy's claims regarding his homestead exemption do not arise in this context and therefore are not subject to federal jurisdiction. The Trustee is not seeking to sell Rudy's possessory interest (which is the property subject to his homestead exemption), and the Trustee's objections to the allow ability of Rudy's homestead exemption have already been adjudicated. California state law defines the scope of Rudy's possessory interest as well as the treatment of his homestead exemption in that possessory interest. These issues fall within the jurisdiction of the state court.

#102.00 HearingRE: [9] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations PERSONAL PROPERTY RE: 2016 Hyundai Elantra, VIN: KMHD35LH0GU303754 . (Wang, Jennifer)

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

6/21/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

#103.00 HearingRE: [13] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations PERSONAL PROPERTY RE: 2013 Volkswagen Passat .

Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

6/21/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

Complaint for Avoidance and Recovery of Transfers [Doc. No. 1] (the “Complaint”) against the Lancaster Baptist Church (the “Defendant” or the “Church”). The Complaint seeks to avoid and recover, as actually and constructively fraudulent, transfers made by the Debtors to the Church in the amount of $222,646.42.

On October 4, 2017, the Court entered a scheduling order which set February 16, 2018 as the deadline to amend pleadings and/or join other parties. See Doc. No. 4 (the “Initial Scheduling Order”). On January 22, 2018, after conducting a Status Conference, the Court entered a subsequent Scheduling Order which confirmed the litigation deadlines set by the Initial Scheduling Order—including the February 16, 2018 deadline to amend the pleadings and/or join parties. See Doc. No. 21 (the “Scheduling Order”).

On February 1, 2018, the Court entered an order assigning the matter to mediation and appointing David Gould as the mediator. See Doc. No. 24 (the “Mediation Order”). On March 12, 2018, the parties executed a stipulation to extend various litigation deadlines. See Doc. No. 26 (the “First Scheduling Stipulation”). The extension was sought because the first date upon which all parties were available to attend the mediation was April 12, 2018. On March 15, 2018, the Court approved the First Scheduling Stipulation, and extended upcoming litigation deadlines by approximately sixty days. However, the Court did not extend the deadline to amend the pleadings. See Doc. No. 28.

The parties attended mediation on April 12, 2018, but the action did not settle. On April 18, 2018, the Court approved a stipulation extending the Trustee’s deadline to respond to the Defendant’s First Set of Interrogatories by fourteen days, to and including May 9, 2018. See Doc. No. 32. On June 20, 2018, the parties executed a stipulation to continue the pretrial and trial dates by sixty days. See Doc. No. 41 (the “Second Scheduling Stipulation”). The continuance was sought to accommodate a scheduling conflict of the Trustee’s lead trial counsel as well as scheduling conflicts of both sides pertaining to religious holidays. On June 21, 2018, the Court approved the Second Scheduling Stipulation, and continued the pretrial conference and trial for approximately sixty days. See Doc. No. 43. The pretrial conference is currently set for November 13, 2018, and the trial is currently set for the week of November 26, 2018.

B. The Trustee’s Motion for Leave to Amend the Complaint

The Trustee seeks leave to amend the Complaint. As currently pleaded, the Complaint seeks to avoid transfers made by the Debtors to the Church within the seven years preceding the date of the petition (the “Petition Date”), in the total amount of $222,646.42. The proposed First Amended Complaint extends the avoidance period by an additional three years, seeking to avoid transfers made within ten years of the Petition Date. Total transfers sought to be avoided are $375,820.08 (an increase of approximately $150,000). The Trustee makes the following arguments in support of the Motion:

Pursuant to Civil Rule 15, leave to amend must be liberally granted. The Supreme Court has set forth four factors that should be considered when evaluating a request for leave to amend: (1) undue delay, (2) bad faith or dilatory motive, (3) futility of amendment, and (4) prejudice to the opposing party. See Foman v. Davis, 371 U.S. 178, 182 (1962).

First, the Church will not be prejudiced by the proposed First Amended Complaint. Because the Debtors sought bankruptcy protection on November 7, 2016, the Trustee's deadline to commence an avoidance action against the Church is November 7, 2018. The Trustee could simply initiate an entirely new adversary proceeding against the Church, but amending the instant Complaint is more efficient and conserves judicial resources.

Second, the proposed amendment is not futile, because it simply seeks to extend the avoidance period by an additional three years. Third, the amendment is not sought in bad faith. When investigating events surrounding the Debtors' default on a 2007 loan guaranteed by the Small Business Administration (the "SBA Loan"), the Trustee discovered the additional facts supporting the proposed First Amended Complaint. Finally, the Trustee has not unduly delayed filing the First Amended Complaint. After the parties attended mediation on April 12, 2018, the Trustee discovered the additional avoidable transfers made by the Debtors to the Church. On May 3, 2018, the Trustee asked the Church to stipulate to the amendments, but the Church declined. Shortly thereafter, the Trustee brought the instant Motion for leave to amend.

C. The Church's Opposition to the Motion

The Church opposes the Motion, and makes the following arguments and representations in support of its Opposition:

By seeking leave to amend pursuant to Civil Rule 15, the Trustee is seeking to circumvent Civil Rule 16's more stringent requirements for modifying a Scheduling Order. Because the Court has entered the Scheduling Order setting forth the litigation deadlines governing this action, Civil Rule 16, not Civil Rule 15, determines whether leave to amend should be granted.

Civil Rule 16 provides that a Scheduling Order “shall not be modified except upon a showing of good cause and by leave of the district judge” Civil Rule 16(b) (4). If good cause is shown, the party seeking leave to amend must still show that leave to amend is proper under Civil Rule 15. Johnson v. Mammoth Recreations, Inc., 975 F.2d 604, 608–9 (9th Cir. 1992).. The primary consideration when determining good cause is the diligence of the party seeking leave to amend. “[I]f the party was not diligent, the inquiry should end.” Johnson, 975 F.2d at 608–9.

Here, the Trustee has not shown diligence. The Court entered the Initial Scheduling Order on October 4, 2017, which provided that the deadline to amend the pleadings was February 16, 2018. The Court’s subsequent Scheduling Order, entered on January 22, 2018, reiterated the February 16 deadline. On March 9, 2018, after the deadline to amend the pleadings had elapsed, the parties agreed to extend the deadlines set forth in the Scheduling Order, but did not agree to extend the deadline to amend the pleadings.

The Trustee claims that the proposed amendments are based upon newly discovered facts. However, since August 30, 2017, the Trustee has been in possession of a list of the Debtors’ transfers to the Church going back to 2000. The facts concerning the SBA Loan have been a matter of public record since at least May 2010. Had the Trustee acted diligently, he could have easily discovered these facts prior to the deadline for amending the pleadings.

Even if the Trustee can show good cause for leave to amend, he is still not entitled to amend the Complaint, because the Church will be prejudiced by amendment, and amendment would be futile. With respect to prejudice, the Church, as a religious entity, does not have the ability to place even $223,000 of donations in an account for any time, much less ten years, while it waits to determine whether the donor will seek bankruptcy protection and subject the Church to an avoidance action. By the proposed amendments, the Trustee is now seeking to avoid an additional $150,000 in transfers.

Amendment would be futile. As a result of amendments to the Bankruptcy Code made by the Religious Liberty and Charitable Donation Protection Act of 1998 (the “RLCDPA”), the Debtors’ transfers are protected from avoidance. The RLCDPA added §548(a)(2)(A) to the Bankruptcy Code, which provides that charitable donations that are less than 15% of the Debtors’ gross annual income during the year in which the transfer is made may not be avoided. Section 548(a)(2)(B), also added by the RLCDPA, provides that even those transfers in excess of the 15% safe-harbor are protected from avoidance, if the transfers are “consistent with the practices of the debtor in making charitable contributions.” Here, amendment would be futile, because the transfers at issue either fall within the 15% safe-harbor, or were consistent with the Debtors’ practices in making charitable contributions.

The RLCDDPA’s provisions also prevent the Trustee from avoiding the transfers using non-bankruptcy law under §544(b)(1). Section 544(b)(2) provides that the avoidance powers granted by §544(b)(1) do not apply to transfers that are “charitable contributions” within the meaning of §548(a)(2).

D. The Trustee’s Reply to the Church’s Opposition

The Trustee makes the following arguments and representations in Reply to the Church’s Opposition:

First, there is no merit to the Church’s contention that the Trustee has not acted diligently in seeking leave to amend the Complaint. The Ninth Circuit decisions finding a lack of diligence by the party seeking leave to amend involve situations in which the party sought to raise new legal theories and/or add new parties to the action. Here, the Trustee does not seek to add new parties or raise new legal theories; the Trustee seeks only to extend the reach-back period by an additional three years.

Second, the Church will not be prejudiced by the filing of the First Amended Complaint. The Church maintains that it will be prejudiced because it cannot afford to segregate donations for the purpose of protecting itself from potential avoidance actions. But if the Trustee prevailed upon the claims asserted in the Complaint presently on file, the Church would be required to return to the estate approximately $223,000 in donations it received from the Debtors. The additional $150,000 in transfers placed in issue by the proposed amendments do not qualify as prejudice within the meaning of Civil Rule 16. Prejudice within the context of Civil Rule 16 refers to the burden imposed by being required to respond to additional discovery or new legal theories. See Lockheed Martin Corp. v. Network Solutions, Inc., 194 F.3d 980, 986 (9th Cir. 1999) (finding amendment would be prejudicial because it would require reopening discovery); Owens v. Kaiser Found. Health Plan, Inc., 244 F.3d 708, 712 (9th Cir. 2001) (same). Here, the Church is not prejudiced because the discovery deadline has not elapsed.

Third, the proposed amendments are not futile. The 15% safe-harbor provision of §548(a)(2)(A) fails to protect the majority of the transfers which the Trustee seeks to avoid. The Trustee’s calculations show that 2014 was the only year in which the Debtors’ donations to the Church fell below 15% of the Debtors’ income. Nor are the transfers protected on the ground that the transfers were consistent with the Debtors’ charitable giving practices. The Debtors' contributions to the Church were not consistent, regardless of whether consistency is assessed by evaluating the face amount of the contributions or the amount of the contributions as a percentage of the Debtors' gross annual income. The aggregate annual amount of contributions varied widely from a low of $28,876.05 in 2014 to a high of $81,133.00 in 2006. As a percentage of the Debtors' income, contributions ranged from 14.5% in 2014 to 44.88% in 2006.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Motion is Denied

Because the Court has entered a Scheduling Order, the Trustee's request for leave to amend is governed by both Civil Rules 16 and 15. To obtain leave to amend, the Trustee must first make a showing of good cause under Civil Rule 16. If the Trustee clears this hurdle, the Trustee must then show that amendment is appropriate under Civil Rule 15. See Johnson v. Mammoth Recreations, Inc., 975 F.2d 604, 608 (9th Cir. 1992); see also Civil Rule 16(b)(4) (stating that a scheduling order "shall not be modified except upon a showing of good cause and by leave of the district judge").

Civil Rule 16's "good cause" standard "primarily considers the diligence of the party seeking the amendment. The district court may modify the pretrial schedule 'if it cannot reasonably be met despite the diligence of the party seeking the extension.'" Johnson, 975 F.2d at 609.

Here, the Trustee has failed to establish that he could not reasonably meet the February 16, 2018 deadline to amend the pleadings. The Trustee has been aware of the February 16, 2018 deadline ever since the Court entered the Initial Scheduling Order on October 4, 2017. The February 16, 2018 deadline was reiterated in the Scheduling Order entered on January 22, 2018. Information pertaining to the Debtors' charitable contributions to the Church, going as far back as the year 2000, has been available to the Trustee since August 30, 2017. See August 30, 2017 E-mail from the Trustee's Counsel to the Church's Counsel [Doc. No. 37, Ex. B] (containing a table setting forth the Debtors' donations to the Church from 2000–2016, and showing the contributions as a percentage of the Debtors' income for the years 2006–2016). The Trustee claims that he discovered the facts apprising him of the need to amend the Complaint upon investigating the loan the Debtors received from the SBA. However, information concerning the SBA Loan was disclosed in the Debtors' petition, which was filed on November 7, 2016.

This case is not complex. For many months prior to the deadline to amend the pleadings, the Trustee has been in possession of sufficient information to apprise him of the need to thoroughly investigate the Debtors' transfers to the Church. Had the Trustee diligently investigated this information, he could have met the February 16, 2018 deadline to amend the pleadings—or at the very least, the Trustee could have sought leave to amend sooner than four months after that deadline had elapsed.

Absent a showing of diligence, the Trustee cannot clear the “good cause” hurdle imposed by Civil Rule 16, and it is not necessary for the Court to consider whether leave to amend would be futile under Civil Rule 15. However, as set forth below, in the Court's view the Trustee's case suffers from significant uncertainties. To be clear, the Court is not determining that leave to amend would be futile, or making any definitive ruling in connection with the issues discussed in Section B, below. The Court's objective is to draw the parties' attention to the fact that there is little binding Ninth Circuit authority with respect to the issues raised by the Complaint. Consequently, both the Trustee and the Church face substantial risk should they continue to litigate this action. In light of this reality, the Court believes that an additional day of mediation would be productive. The Court is aware that the parties previously were unable to reach a settlement at the mediation reached on April 12. The Court expects that with the benefit of the Court's perspective, additional mediation will be productive. Therefore, the Court will order the parties to conduct an additional day of mediation with Mr. Gould.

B. Issues to be Considered During Further Mediation

The primary issue is whether the Debtors' transfers to the Church are protected from the Trustee's avoidance powers pursuant to §548(a)(2)(B). Based on the record presently available to the Court, the transfers at issue may be summarized as follows (as noted, the following summary, as well as the accompanying discussion, is not intended as a finding of the Court, and is provided instead to facilitate further mediation):

Year	Debtors' Gross Income	Charitable Contribution	Charitable Contribution as a Percentage of Gross Income
2009	$175,237.00	$52,309.11	29.85%

Section 548(a)(2)(A) creates a safe-harbor for contributions that do not exceed 15% of the debtor’s gross annual income. Such transfers are generally not subject to avoidance by the Trustee. Transfers that do not fall within the scope of the §548(a)(2) (A) may not be avoided by the Trustee if those transfers are “consistent with the practices of the debtor in making charitable contributions.”

The Court is not aware of binding Ninth Circuit authority governing the determination of whether charitable contributions are “consistent with the practices of the debtor.” In Wolkowitz v. Breath of Life Seventh Day Adventist Church (In re Lewis), 401 B.R. 431, 446 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2009), the court reasoned that consistency should be determined by examining “the amount of the transfer versus past transfers, and the percentage of the debtor's income each year that is devoted to charitable contributions." Were this Court to adopt the standard set forth in Lewis, a strong argument could be made that the Debtors' charitable contributions were "consistent" within the meaning of §548(a)(2)(B). While there is some variation in the contributions, "the word 'consistent' is a fluid term and not rigid." Lewis, 249 B.R. at 447. The arithmetic mean of the contributions, when measured as a percentage of the debtors' income (and excluding the year 2010, in which the debtors had negative income) is 21.70%. The standard deviation of the same data set is only 4.5 percentage points. Consistency within the meaning of §548(a)(2)(B) cannot be defined strictly in statistical terms, but statistical analysis provides a helpful tool—and in this case, the statistical analysis strongly suggests that the contributions could qualify as "consistent" under §548(a)(2)(B).

In the Court's view, consistency is more reliably assessed by examining the contributions as a percentage of the Debtors' gross annual income, rather than by examining the face dollar amount of the contributions. In assessing the consistency of the Debtors' practices with respect to charitable contributions, it is appropriate for the Court to consider the religious context in which such contributions were made. The Debtors' religious tradition encourages observers to use a percentage of annual income as the yardstick for measuring charitable contributions. The Debtors donated to the Lancaster Baptist Church; the term "tithing," as understood by most adherents of this religious tradition, refers to a tenth of one's income. [Note 1]

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED. The parties are ordered to conduct an additional day of mediation. Such mediation should be conducted against the backdrop of the Court's guidance as set forth in Section II.B., above. The additional mediation must take place on or before August 31, 2018. The existing litigation deadlines shall remain in effect. A Status Conference to monitor the status of the mediation shall be conducted on September 18, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court takes judicial notice of the views of the Southern Baptist Convention regarding charitable contributions. In a statement issued in 2013, available at <<http://www.sbc.net/resolutions/1234/on-tithing-stewardship-and-the-cooperative-program>>, the Southern Baptist Convention defined "tithing" in terms of a percentage of one's annual income.

A. Background and Case History

Monge Property Investments, Inc. (the "Debtor"), filed a voluntary Chapter 11 Petition on May 31, 2012 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor is a California corporation in the business of owning and operating real property in Los Angeles County, CA. The Debtor's case was originally heard by Judge Donovan, from the Petition Date through March 13, 2017, at which time the case was reassigned from Judge Donovan to this Court. See Doc. No. 536.

Prior to the filing of the Petition, as a consequence of repeated building code violations five of the Debtor's properties (the "REP Properties") were placed into the Rent Escrow Program ("REP") by the Los Angeles Housing Department ("LAHD"), which resulted in the tenants paying rent in the amount of 50% of the contract rate to LAHD. Because the Debtor was receiving only a portion of its rents, the Debtor could not afford to maintain the REP Properties, or make mortgage payments. As a result, and shortly before the Petition Date, the Debtor was facing foreclosure on each of the five REP Properties.

Chapter 11

The events in the Debtor's case for the period from the Petition Date through January 22, 2014, included the following, among other events: (1) prosecution of a motion regarding utility service; (2) filing of the certain motions to use cash collateral; (3) the sale of the property located at 4722 Catalpa Street, Los Angeles, CA, which was approved over the objection of a party in interest; (4) prosecution of a motion against the LAHD for turnover of rents; (5) removal of an action from the California Superior Court regarding entitlement to certain funds related to the pre-bankruptcy foreclosure of the Debtor's property located at 1877 Marney Avenue, Los Angeles, CA; (6) the Debtor was a defendant in the adversary proceeding captioned Cal-Western Reconveyance Corp. v. Monge Property Investments, Inc., et. al, Adv. No. 12-ap-01951-TD, which was concluded and closed by an order of the Bankruptcy Court entered on May 8, 2013 [Adv. Doc. No. 31]; (7) the sale of the property located at 3665 S. Normandie Avenue, Los Angeles, CA; (8) litigation of an enforcement action instituted by the City of Los Angeles against the Debtor for alleged violations of the applicable Los Angeles Municipal Housing Code; and (9) the sale of the property located at 140-42 W. 52nd Place, Los Angeles, CA. See generally Reeder Application, Exhibit 10.

The Original Plan and Disclosure Statement

The Debtor filed the "Original Plan of Reorganization" [Doc. No. 268] and the "Disclosure Statement Describing [the] Original Plan of Reorganization" [Doc. No. 269] (collectively, the "Original Plan and Disclosure Statement") on January 22, 2014. Shortly thereafter, the Debtor withdrew the Original Plan and Disclosure Statement, and informed the Court that due to unliquidated tax issues, the Debtor needed to complete substantial tax reporting in order for the Original Plan to provide for the treatment of all claims, and for the Original Disclosure Statement to provide adequate information.

Tax Issues

After the filing of the Original Plan and Disclosure Statement, it was discovered that the Debtor had failed to file its California income tax returns since the Debtor's formation in 2003, and that only some Federal tax returns had been filed. Due to the lack of records for the company, resolution of the tax issues was a substantial task that required forensic work in order to determine the tax basis of the Debtor's properties for the purposes of calculating depreciation, and for determining capital gains. On February 28, 2018, the Debtor filed the Application to Employ Kneave Riggall, Esq. as Special Tax Counsel [Doc. No. 278], which was approved by the Court on April 9, 2014, see "Order Granting Application to Employ Kneave Riggall as Special Tax Counsel" [Doc. No. 286].

The First Amended Plan & Disclosure Statement, and the Stay of Proceedings

The Debtor filed the "First Amended Plan" [Doc. No. 486] and the "First Amended Disclosure Statement" [Doc. No. 486] on April 5, 2016. A hearing on the approval of the First Amended Disclosure Statement was held on May 11, 2016. See "Notice of Ruling on Proposed First Amended Plan of Reorganization" [Doc. No. 494]. The Court determined that, among other things, there were significant issues related to the ongoing Probate Matter, and denied approval of the First Amended Disclosure Statement. Id. On June 24, 2016, pursuant to the "Order After Hearing on First Amended Disclosure Statement and Plan of Reorganization" [Doc. No. 498], all further plan confirmation activity in the Debtor's case was stayed until the California Probate Code § 850 Petition filed by the Monge Estate was resolved by the Probate Court.

The Second Amended Plan and Disclosure Statement, and the Withdrawal of Debtor's Counsel

On March 15, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Second Amended Plan of Reorganization" (the "Second Amended Plan" [Doc. No. 608], the "Second Amended Disclosure Statement Describing [the] Second Amended Plan" (the "Second Amended Disclosure Statement") [Doc. No. 609], and the "Motion for Order Approving [the] Second Amended Disclosure Statement" [Doc. No. 610]. A hearing on the approval of the Second Amended Disclosure Statement was scheduled to be held on May 17, 2018 at 10:00 a.m. See Doc. No. 612.

On March 20, 2018, Valensi filed the "Motion by Valensi Rose, PLC, for An Order Granting it Leave to Withdraw as Counsel for [the Debtor]" (the "Motion to Withdraw") [Doc. No. 613]. On April 4, 2018, the Court held the hearing and granted the Motion to Withdraw. See "Order Requiring Ruben Monge, Jr. to Retain New Counsel to Represent [the Debtor]" (the "Withdrawal Order" [Doc. B. The Valensi Application

The Valensi Application [Doc. No. 648] is the fourth and final fee application filed by Valensi Rose, PLC ("Valensi"), former general insolvency counsel for the Debtor. Valensi seeks payment of professional compensation for the period May 1, 2015 through April 13, 2018 (the "Subject Period"), in the total amount of $119,428.05, and final approval of all fees and costs incurred in the case, including fees previously awarded on an interim basis. Valensi became counsel for the Debtor after David Reeder, the principal attorney of RLC, affiliated with Valensi on May 1, 2015. The order authorizing the Debtor to employ Valensi as general insolvency counsel was entered on June 11, 2015 [Doc. No. 400]. Prior to this final application, Valensi applied for, and was granted interim compensation on three occasions, for total interim compensation in the amount of $364,190.16. See Valensi Application at 2–3 & Exhibits 1–6.

The Valensi Opposition

On June 7, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Opposition to the [Valensi Application]" (the "Valensi Opposition") [Doc. No. 663]. The Debtor opposes the Valensi Application on the grounds that, (1) the Valensi Application fails to comply with the requirements of Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2016-1(a)(1)(J), and (2) the fees sought by the Valensi Application are excessive and unreasonable.

Regarding the first argument, the Debtor contends that the Valensi Application fails to comply with LBR 2016-1(a)(1)(J), which requires an application for professional compensation to be accompanied by "A separately filed declaration from the client indicating that the client has reviewed the fee application and has no objection to it" Specifically, the Valensi Opposition states that the "Declaration of David M. Reeder" (the "Reeder Declaration") [Doc. No. 648] attached to the Valensi Application does not state whether Valensi sought to obtain a declaration or approval from the Debtor prior to the filing of the Valensi Application.

Regarding the second argument, the primary dispute raised by the Valensi Opposition relates to the fees in the amount of $21,935.00 for the work performed by Valensi on the Debtor's Second Amended Plan and Second Amended Disclosure Statement. The Debtor argues that the description of the work performed for this category of fees overlaps with services performed by Payne Financial Forensics that were charged to the Debtor in the amount of $20,720.57. The Debtor further objects to specific fees related to certain time entries by Jessica Evans ($1,155.00) and David M. Reeder ($15,950.00), which the Debtor contends are for duplicative services. Regarding the fees requested for services on the Second Amended Plan and Second Amended Disclosure Statement, generally, the Debtor contends that the fees should be disallowed or reduced on the grounds that the Second Amended Plan was patently unconfirmable based on the proposed treatment of the priority claim of the IRS.

The Debtor additionally argues that, considering the short period of time between the date of entry of the Withdrawal Order and the date the Valensi Application was filed, the Debtor was not given sufficient time to review the billing statements attached to the Valensi Application. The Valensi Opposition, therefore, requests that the Court continue the hearing on the Valensi Application to afford the Debtor additional time to review the billing statements.

The Valensi Reply

On June 14, 2018, Valensi filed the "Reply to the [Valensi Opposition]" (the "Valensi Reply") [Doc. No. 679]. The Valensi Reply argues that the Valensi Opposition is not supported by any evidence, but rather, is based only on the idea that the work performed by Valensi during the Subject Period was not complex. Regarding the Valensi Application's compliance with LBR 2016-1, the Valensi Reply states that there has been no contact between Mr. Reeder and the Debtor or its new counsel since the hearing on the Motion to Withdraw. Therefore, the Valensi Reply states, no declaration was obtained from the Debtor regarding the Valensi Application. The Valensi Reply further argues that the services performed related to the Second Amended Plan and Second Amended Disclosure Statement were reasonable and necessary in light of the changed circumstances in the Debtor's case between the preparation and submission of the First Amended Plan and Second Amended Plan, respectively. Insofar as the Debtor objects to certain time entries by Jessica Evans in the amount of $1,155.00, which the Debtor argues was "clerical" in nature, the Valensi Reply states that Valensi will reduce the amount of final fees sought by $1,155.00. Lastly, the Valensi Reply details the reasons for the passage of time in the Debtor's case, and explains that the delay was reasonable under the circumstances given the complexity of the underlying issues.

C. The Reeder Application

The Reeder Application [Doc. No. 650] is the final application of Reeder Law Corporation ("RLC"), former general insolvency counsel for the Debtor. The Reeder Application seeks final approval of fees previously awarded on an interim basis. The order authorizing the Debtor to employ RLC as general bankruptcy counsel was entered on July 18, 2012 [Doc. No. 90]. Prior to this final application, RLC applied for, and was granted interim compensation on five occasions, for total interim compensation in the amount of $336,001.92 for the period from May 31, 2012 through March 24, 2015. See Reeder Application at 2–3 & Exhibits 1–10.

As of the date of this tentative ruling, no opposition to the Reeder Application has been filed.

D. The Riggall Application

The Riggall Application [Doc. No. 651] is the final fee application filed by Kneave Riggall, Esq. ("Riggall"), former special tax counsel for the Debtor. Riggall seeks approval of professional compensation previously awarded on an interim basis in the total amount of $92,155.26. The order authorizing the Debtor to employ Riggall as special tax counsel was entered on April 9, 2014 [Doc. No. 286]. Prior to this final application, Riggall applied for, and was granted interim compensation on four occasions, for total interim compensation in the amount of $92,155.26. See Riggall Application at 2–3 & Exhibits 1–8.

The Riggall Opposition

On June 7, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Limited Opposition to the [Riggall Application]" (the "Riggall Opposition") [Doc. No. 661]. The Debtor opposes the Riggall Application on the grounds that the Riggall Application fails to comply with the requirements of Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2016-1(a)(1)(J).

The Riggall Reply

On June 14, 2018, Riggall filed the "Supplemental Declaration of Kneave Riggall in Reply to the [Riggall Opposition]" (the "Supplemental Riggall Declaration") [Doc. No. 677]. The Supplemental Riggall Declaration states that Riggall did not submit a

E. The Payne Application

The Payne Application [Doc. No. 652] is the third and final fee application filed by Payne Financial Forensics ("Payne"), former restructuring advisor for the Debtor. Payne seeks payment of professional compensation for the period November 1, 2016 through March 14, 2018 (the "Subject Period"), in the total amount of $7,205.00, and final approval of all fees and costs incurred in the case, including fees previously awarded on an interim basis. The order authorizing the Debtor to employ Payne as restructuring advisor to the Debtor was entered on July 22, 2013 [Doc. No. 230]. Prior to this final application, Payne applied for, and was granted interim compensation on two occasions, for total interim compensation in the amount of $13,515.57. See Payne Application at 2–3 & Exhibits 1–5.

The Payne Opposition

On June 7, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Limited Opposition to the [Payne Application]" (the "Payne Opposition") [Doc. No. 662]. The Debtor opposes the Payne Application on the grounds that the Payne Application fails to comply with the requirements of Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2016-1(a)(1)(J).

The Payne Reply

On June 14, 2018, Payne filed the "Supplemental Declaration of Lori L. Payne in Reply to the [Payne Opposition]" (the "Supplemental Payne Declaration") [Doc. No. 678]. The Supplemental Payne Declaration states that Payne did not submit a declaration by the principal of the Debtor regarding the Payne Application due to the fact that after Payne ceased to provide services to the Debtor, Payne has not had contact with the Debtor. Supplemental Payne Declaration at ¶ 4. Otherwise, the Supplemental Payne Declaration further states that she believes the Payne Application complies with the requirements of the Local Bankruptcy Rules. Id. at ¶ 5.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

LBR 2016-1

Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2016-1 sets for the requirements for compensation for professional persons. Under LBR 2016-1(J), the application for compensation generally must include "A separately filed declaration from the client indicating that the client has reviewed the fee application and has no objection to it . . ."

Having considered the Debtor's arguments with regards to the failure of the Fee Applications to comply with LBR 2016-1(J), the irregular circumstances under which the Fee Applications were filed, and that the Debtor was given notice of the Fee Applications and had an opportunity to object, the Court finds that the failure of the respective Fee Applications to comply with LBR 2016-1(J) is not, by itself, sufficient cause to disallow the fees requested in the respective Fee Applications. LBR 2016-1 (J) provides the court with some basis to find that a client has reviewed the bills and has no objection to it. Here, of course, objections were filed so the protection that the LBR provides is unnecessary.

Therefore, the Debtor's limited oppositions to the Riggall Application and the Payne Application are OVERRULED. To the extent the Debtor objects to the Valensi Application based on the failure to comply with LBR 2016-1(J), see Valensi Opposition at 2, the Valensi Opposition is OVERRULED.

The Valensi Application

Section 330(a)(1) allows the Court to award "reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered" by a professional. In determining the amount of compensation to award, the Court considers:

The nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

- (A) the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;

(C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;

(D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;

(E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field; and

(F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation charged by comparably skilled practitioners in cases other than cases under this title.

§ 330(a)(3).

"The statute does not require that the services result in a material benefit to the estate in order for the professional to be compensated; the applicant must demonstrate only that the services were 'reasonably likely' to benefit the estate at the time the services were rendered." Sheridan & Kotel, P.C. v. Bergen Brunswig Drug Co. (In re Mednet), 251 B.R. 103, 108 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000).

The Debtor's primary objection relates to the fees sought for services performed by Valensi in relation to the Second Amended Plan in the amount of $21,935.00. The Debtor contends that this portion of the Valensi's fees should be disallowed because, in addition to other arguments, the Second Amended Plan was patently unconfirmable. The Debtor reasons that the Second Amended Plan was patently unconfirmable because the IRS priority claim under § 507(a)(8) was treated in a manner that was inconsistent with § 1129(a)(9)(C)(ii), which provides that priority claims specified in § 507(a)(8) must be paid in full within five years from the Petition date. The Court is not persuaded by this argument. While it is true that under § 1129(a)(9)(C), claims of the kind specified in § 507(a)(8) must generally be paid within five years of the petition date, failure of a plan to provide such treatment does not necessarily mean that the plan is "patently unconfirmable." Importantly, the confirmation requirements of § 1129(a)(9)(C) are limited by the prefatory clause of § 1129(a)(9) which states "Except to the extent that the holder of a particular claim has agreed to a different treatment of such claim . . ." the plan must provide certain statutorily defined treatment. The Court notes that no hearing was held on either the approval of the Second Amended Disclosure Statement, or confirmation of the Second Amended Plan; thus, the Court does not make any findings with regards to whether the IRS ultimately would agree to the Second Amended Plan's treatment of its claim, or whether the Second Amended Plan met the confirmation requirements of § 1129. That being said, given the extended delays due to the complexity of this case—particularly the stay of proceedings pending the resolution of the Probate Matter pursuant to the "Order After Hearing on First Amended Disclosure Statement and Plan of Reorganization" [Doc. No. 498], which was in effect from approximately May 16, 2016 through November 15, 2017, see Doc. No. 592—the Court cannot rule out the possibility that the IRS would have agreed to the Second Amended Plan's treatment of its claim. Even if the IRS did not agree to the plan treatment, it is possible that the Second Amended Plan could have been amended to comply with the confirmation requirements of § 1129(a)(9)(C). Furthermore, the treatment of the IRS priority claim was the same in both the First Amended Plan, see Doc. No. 485 at 8, and the Second Amended Plan, see Doc. No. 608 at 8, yet the IRS did not file an objection to the approval of either the First or Second Amended Disclosure Statement. In the limited context of the Debtor's argument that the Second Amended Plan was patently unconfirmable, and given the consistent treatment of the IRS priority claim in both the First and Second Amended Plan, the Court considers the absence of any objection by the IRS—particularly to the approval of the First Amended Disclosure Statement, on which a full hearing was held—noteworthy. Cf. "Objection of Los Angeles Treasurer and Tax Collector to Debtor's First Amended Disclosure Statement" [Doc. No. 491] (arguing that the proposed treatment of the Tax Collector's claim did not comply with the statutory treatment required by § 1129(a)(9)(C)). Under the unusual circumstances of this case, it would not have been possible for the Debtor to comply with § 1129(a)(9)(C) because Judge Donovan had stayed the proceedings. Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that the fees requested for Valensi's services related to the Second Amended Plan and the Second Amended Disclosure Statement "were 'reasonably likely' to benefit the estate at the time the services were rendered." In re Mednet, 251 B.R. at 108.

Regarding the Valensi Opposition's argument that specific fees related to certain time entries by Jessica Evans $1,155.00 are duplicative of certain time entries by David M. Reeder, the Court finds that the voluntary reduction in the amount of $1,155.00 proposed by Valensi in the Reply to the Valensi Opposition is reasonable, and resolves the dispute raised by the Debtor related to this portion of the Valensi Application.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Fee Applications are GRANTED as follows:

- (1) The Valensi Application is GRANTED in the total amount of $118,273.05 ($119,428.05 less the voluntary reduction of $1,155.00) for the Subject Period; amounts previously awarded on an interim basis are approved as final.
- (2) The Reeder Application is GRANTED; amounts previously awarded on an interim basis in the total amount of $336,001.92 are approved as final.
- (3) The Riggall Application is GRANTED; amounts previously awarded on an interim basis in the total amount of $92,155.00 are approved as final. The Riggall Opposition is OVERRULED.
- (4) The Payne Application is GRANTED in the total amount of $7,205.07 for the Subject Period; amounts previously awarded on an interim basis are approved as final. The Payne Opposition is OVERRULED.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") seeks authorization, on an emergency basis, to (1) sell a 2016 Toyota Prius and 2017 Toyota Camry (collectively, the "Vehicles") to CarMax, Inc. ("CarMax") for between $15,000 and $25,000; (2) pay for insurance for the Vehicles; and (3) reimburse SulmeyerKupetz, the Trustee's proposed counsel, for the amounts it advances to tow the Vehicles to a CarMax facility. See Doc. No. 10 (the "Emergency Sale Motion"). The Trustee makes the following arguments and representations in support of the Emergency Sale Motion:

iLabPharma, Inc. (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on June 21, 2018. The Debtor operated a retail pharmacy open to the public in Lancaster, California and a wholesale pharmacy in Palmdale, California that serviced nursing homes, hospices, and similar healthcare facilities. The Debtor used the Vehicles to deliver prescriptions to certain of its customers.

On June 26, 2018, the Trustee learned that the Debtor's commercial vehicle policy for the Vehicles lapsed in March 2018. The Trustee immediately placed insurance upon the Vehicles through Trustee Resources Group, which agreed to be paid from the proceeds of the sale. However, the insurance covers only the Vehicles, not any drivers. This means that the Vehicles must be towed, rather than driven, to CarMax in order to be sold. SulmeyerKupetz, the Trustee's proposed counsel, has agreed to advance the towing costs, and seeks reimbursement of the towing costs.

CarMax is a nationwide chain with more than one hundred locations. CarMax purchases cars immediately upon presentation and writes a check on the spot to the seller. The purchase price CarMax pays is based upon recent sales data and websites such as Edmunds.com and KBB.com. CarMax has not informed the Trustee of the exact amount that it will pay for the Vehicles, and will not do so until the Vehicles are delivered to CarMax. The Trustee believes, based upon communications with CarMax and her own independent research, that the purchase price will be between $15,000 and $25,000 for both Vehicles.

The Vehicles are currently located in an open parking lot behind the Debtor's premises at 250 Grand Cypress Avenue, Palmdale, California (the "Cypress Avenue Lot"). If the sale to CarMax is not approved, the Trustee will be required to move the Vehicles to a secure location pending sale. There are no funds available in the estate to pay for storage costs pending a future sale. Therefore, the proposed sale to CarMax is in the best interest of the estate and creditors.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(b) permits the Trustee to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The Trustee must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20. "The court's obligation in § 363(b) sales is to assure that optimal value is realized by the estate under the circumstances." Simantob v. Claims Prosecutor, LLC (In re Lahijani), 325 B.R. 282, 288 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005).

The Court finds that under the circumstances, the proposed sale of the Vehicles to CarMax yields optimal value for the estate. CarMax is a reputable national chain that purchases used vehicles for a fair price. Absent an immediate sale to CarMax, it will be necessary for the Trustee to relocate the Vehicles to a secure storage location. The Trustee will be required to pay storage fees pending a future sale. The record does not reflect the amount of storage fees that the Trustee would be required to pay; however, the Court can take judicial notice of the fact that securely storing a vehicle in the Los Angeles area for an extended period of time is costly. While a future competitive auction might yield a higher price than the proposed sale to CarMax, on net the estate would most likely be worse off after taking into account the additional storage costs.

The Court finds that CarMax is a good-faith purchaser entitled to the protections of §363(m). CarMax is not an insider of the Trustee or of the Debtor. Nothing in the record raises the specter of bad faith or calls into question the propriety of the sale.

In order to deliver the vehicles to CarMax, the Trustee will be required to use the services of a towing company, because the insurance which the Trustee was able to obtain for the Vehicles does not cover any driver. The Trustee's proposed counsel has agreed to advance the costs of towing services. The Trustee's request for authorization to reimburse its proposed counsel for the towing charges is granted. The towing charges are a necessary expense to facilitate the sale.

The Trustee has insured the Vehicles through Trustee Resources Group, which has agreed to accept payment from the proceeds of the sale. The Trustee's request to pay to Trustee Resources Group the cost of one month's insurance for the Vehicles, in the approximate amount of $250, is granted. It was necessary for the Trustee to obtain insurance to protect the Vehicles against theft or damage prior to the completion of the sale to CarMax.

RE: [11] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations PERSONAL PROPERTY RE: 2016 Dodge Grant Caravan, VIN 2C4RDGBG9GR125433 . (Wang, Jennifer)

FR. 7-2-18

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

7/2/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

FR. 7-2-18

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

7/2/2018

On June 7, 2018, Financial Services Vehicle Trust (the "Creditor") filed the "Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 10]. On June 14, 2018, the Creditor filed the "Stipulation to Vacate the Automatic Stay" (the "Stipulation") [Doc. No. 12], in which the Creditor and the Debtor stipulate to resolve the Motion by the Debtor surrendering the subject collateral. On June 15, 2018, the Court entered the "Order Approving the Stipulation" [Doc. No. 14]. Therefore, the Motion is moot.

Docket 15

Tentative Ruling:

7/2/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set on a shortened notice in accordance with the applicable procedures. Oppositions, if any, will be considered at the hearing. The Court notes that the Motion states that the hearing is being heard on regular notice when, in fact, the Motion was set on shortened notice. While the Court does not find any defects in service because the Debtor was served by the Movant via personal service consistent with the Court's procedures, the failure by the Movant to check the box designating "SHORTENED NOTICE" could result in confusion regarding, for example, the availability of filing a written response to the Motion.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

#1.00 HearingRE: [199] Motion to Approve Compromise Under Rule 9019 of Claim #14 by Mikhaeil Rouel Corporation, Inc. dba Service Master Professional Restoration, with proof of service

Docket 199

Tentative Ruling:

7/3/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion for Order Approving Settlement of Claim #14 by Mikhaeil Rouel Corporation, Inc. dba Service Master Professional Restoration, for $7,500 Pursuant to FRBP 9019 and Authorizing Distribution from Court Registry [Doc. No. 199] (the "Motion")
- 2) No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background

Attorney John Fuchs (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 13, 2017. The Debtor is being represented in this case by his law firm, the Fuchs Law Group, APC. The work on the Debtor's behalf in this case has been performed by Mr. Fuchs and his associate, Gail S. Gilfillan. Fuchs Decl. [Doc. No. 44] at ¶1.

On October 25, 2017, the Court approved the Debtor's motion to sell real property located at 17726 Calle de Palermo, Pacific Palisades, CA 90272 (the "Residence"). See Order Authorizing the Sale of the Estate's Right, Title, and Interest in Real Property Located at 17726 Calle de Palermo, Pacific Palisades, CA 90272 (the "Sale Order"). The Sale Order required the Debtor to deposit the net sales proceeds of the Residence into the Court's registry. Sale Order at ¶5.

On November 16, 2017, the Court authorized the Debtor to pay from the sales proceeds of the Residence (1) his homestead exemption in the amount of $175,000; (2) the actual and customary ordinary closing costs; and (3) real estate brokerage commissions in the amount of $169,750. See Doc. No. 82. On December 5, 2017, the Debtor deposited $3,014,642.94 into the Court's registry from the sale of the Residence. See Doc. No. 92.

On December 20, 2017, the Court approved settlement agreements between the Debtor and secured creditors Logan Mortgage, Inc. ("Logan"), JSC Pacific LLC ("JSC Pacific"), and the Dawn Miller O.D. Retirement Trust (the "Miller Trust"). Pursuant to the settlement agreements, the Court authorized the Debtor to pay from the funds on deposit in the Court's registry (1) $619,941.79 to Logan, (2) $74,535.00 to JSC Pacific, and (3) $619,941.79 to the Miller Trust. The settlement agreements resolved the secured claims of Logan, JSC Pacific, and the Miller Trust. On December 20, 2017, the Court entered an order authorizing the Clerk of the Court to disburse from the Court's registry funds in the aggregate amount of $919,905.65, for the purpose of paying Logan, JSC Pacific, and the Miller Trust. See Doc. No. 107.

On May 18, 2018, the Court approved the Disclosure Statement submitted in support of the Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan"). See Doc. No. 192. A plan confirmation hearing is set for July 11, 2018, at 10:00 a.m.

B. Claim No. 14, Asserted by Mikhaeil Rouel Corporation, Inc. dba Service Master Professional Restoration

On October 19, 2017, Mikhaeil Rouel Corporation, Inc. dba Service Master Professional Restoration ("Service Master") filed Proof of Claim 14-1 ("Claim 14"), asserting an unsecured claim in the amount of $30,703.56, based upon water remediation work that Service Master performed after a flood occurred at the Residence. On February 14, 2018, the Court conducted a hearing on the Debtor's objection to Claim 4 (the "Claim Objection"). The Court found that the Debtor's Claim Objection involved disputed issue of material fact that had to be resolved at a trial at which live witness testimony would be taken. The Court set trial for the week of August 27, 2018, and referred the matter to the Mediation Panel.

The parties settled this matter prior to the scheduled mediation conference. The Debtor now moves for approval of the settlement. The settlement provides that Service Master will hold an allowed unsecured claim in the amount of $7,500, and that Service Master's claim will be paid in full from the proceeds on deposit in the Court's Registry upon confirmation of the Debtor's Plan.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Paramount Interests of Creditors

This factor weighs strongly in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The settlement reduces Service Master's claim from $30,703.56 to $7,500—a reduction of $23,203.56. Further, no creditors have objected to approval of the settlement.

Difficulties to Be Encountered in the Matter of Collection

This factor does not apply since the payment under the Settlement Agreement will be made from funds currently being held in the Court's registry, once the Plan has been confirmed.

Complexity of the Litigation

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The litigation is fact-intensive and would be time consuming to try, especially in view of the comparatively small amount at stake.

Probability of Success on the Merits

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. Even if additional litigation could succeed in further reducing the amount of the claim, the victory would be pyrrhic because the costs of the additional litigation would more than offset any additional recovery.

Chapter 11

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Rideshare Port Management, LLC (the "Debtor"), filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on October 23, 2017, Case No. 2:17-bk-22974-ER (the "Petition") [Bankr. Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor is in the business of providing rideshare van services to passengers, including services to Los Angeles International Airport ("LAX"). The Petition was precipitated by the Debtor having to defend multiple lawsuits—the Debtor has been named as a defendant in at least nine separate lawsuits—which the Defendant can no longer afford. Additionally, the increasing use by consumers of other rideshare services such as Uber has reduced the Debtor's market share, leading to a reduction in gross profits realized. The Debtor's ultimate goal is to reorganize.

Relevant or Related Entities and Individuals

There are four additional entities, and one individual, relevant or related to the Debtor, or the Debtor's business operations, and which are implicated in the discussion herein; therefore, an introduction of the entities and the individual is appropriate.

Rattan Joesa

Rattan Joesa ("Rattan") is the managing member of the Debtor, and holder of 95% of the Debtor's membership interest. Rattan's management of, and attention to, the Debtor is critical to the successful operations of the Debtor. Rattan's management duties require him to dedicate a substantial portion of his time to the Debtor's operations, as well as the operations of Red Vans, Inc. ("Red Vans"), and Red Booth, Inc. ("Red Booth") (Red Vans and Red Booth are discussed in more detail below). Rattan is the primary interface between the Debtor and LAX, and is involved in aspects of the Debtor's daily operations such as overseeing customer routing, dispatching, and pickup. Rattan is also responsible for ensuring that the Debtor—and the other entities which he manages—are in compliance with all relevant airport, local, state, and federal regulations. Rattan's compliance responsibilities require him to be available to attend meetings regarding airport procedures and policies, and to oversee quality of services, regulatory compliance, and implementation of security and safety standards. In sum, Rattan plays a central role in the Debtor's ongoing business operations.

Rideshare Airport Mangement, LLC

Rideshare Airport Management, LLC ("Airport Management") is a dba of the Debtor. There was a brief gap-period of registration with the Secretary of State during which the name "Rideshare Port Management, LLC" was registered by a third party. Thus, during the gap-period the Debtor used the alternate name "Rideshare Airport Management, LLC" until the name "Rideshare Port Management, LLC" became available again.

Red Booth, Inc.

Red Booth, Inc. ("Red Booth") is a California corporation headquartered in Los Angeles, and engaged in the business of providing curbside support for Red Vans Management Services, Inc. ("Red Vans"). One hundred percent of the stock interest in Red Booth is held by Self Help Trust. Red Booth filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on October 23, 2017, Case No. 2:17-bk-22975-ER, which is now pending before this Court.

Red Vans, Inc.

Red Vans, Inc. ("Red Vans") is a California corporation headquartered in Los Angeles. One hundred percent of the stock interest in Red Vans is held by the Garcha Family Trust. Red Vans is a concessionaire with the non-exclusive right to pick-up reservations and non-reservation passengers and their baggage by approved vehicles in and out of LAX, pursuant to that certain "LAX Non-Exclusive, Full-Service Passenger Stage Corporation Share Ride Concession Agreement" between the City of Los Angeles Department of Airports and Red Vans (the "LAX Agreement"). The LAX Agreement has a term of three years commencing August 1, 2016, and can be extended for up to two consecutive one-year periods. The Debtor states that the LAX Agreement is "absolutely essential to the business operations of Red Vans and a fortiori the Debtor and Red Booth."

Debtor. Prime Time holds a five percent membership interest in the Debtor, LLC.

The Adversary Proceeding

The Debtor, the Non-Debtor Entities, and Rattan are named as defendants in eight separate civil actions and arbitrations which together comprise the "State Court Actions." See "Declaration of Rattan Joea" ("Joea Decl.") [Adv. Doc. No. 25], at Ex. 1. According to the Debtor, the State Court Actions were initiated by or on behalf of former or disgruntled drivers who claim that they were wrongly classified as independent contractors rather than employees. The 14 plaintiffs in the State Court Actions are currently, or were previously in privity of contract with the Debtor. The Non-Debtor Entities and Rattan are named as defendants based on indirect, derivative liability, and alter ego theories. Thus, the Debtor asserted that it will necessarily be implicated under the principles of collateral estoppel by a finding of liability against either or both the Non-Debtor Entities and/or Rattan.

On November 9, 2017, the Debtor filed the "Complaint by Rideshare Port Management, LLC against Alex Lichterman, [et al.] for Declaratory Relief Regarding Applicability of the Automatic Stay; Preliminary Injunctive Relief Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 105, 362, 1107, 1121, 1129, FRBP 7065, FRCP 65(a) and (d), and LBR 7065-1(a) and (b)(2); [and] Temporary Restraining Order" (the "Adversary Complaint") [Adv. Doc. No. 1], commencing the adversary proceeding. On November 14, 2017, the Debtor filed the "Debtor's and Debtor in Possession's Notice of Motion and Motion for Issuance of A Preliminary Injunction Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 105, 362, 1107, 1121, 1129, FRBP 7065, FRCP 65(a) and (d), and LBR 7065-1(a) and (b)(2)" (the "Preliminary Injunction Motion") [Adv. Doc. No. 10]. On December 13, 2017, the Court entered the Order Granting the Preliminary Injunction Motion (the "Preliminary Injunction Order") [Adv. No. 17]. Pursuant to the Court's Preliminary Injunction Order, the preliminary injunction terminated by its own terms on March 7, 2018. The Court declined to make any finding as to whether the Automatic Stay under § 362(a)(3) applies to Rattan or the Non-Debtor entities.

The Extension of the Preliminary Injunction

On March 1, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Debtor's and Debtor in Possession's Notice of Motion and Motion to Extend Preliminary Injunction Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 105, 362, 1107, 1121, 1129, FRBP 7065, FRCP 65(a) and (d), and LBR 7065-1(a) and (b)(2)" (the "Motion to Extend Preliminary Injunction") [Adv. Doc. No. 25]. On March 22, 2018, Kaushaal Laxmee, Gary Oganessian, Alex Licterman and Howard Miller (collectively, the "Defendants") filed the Opposition to the Motion to Extend Preliminary Injunction (the "Adversary Opposition") [Adv. Doc. No. 38]. The Adversary Opposition contended that the preliminary injunction should not be extended because: (1) the proposed Joint Plan filed on February 9, 2018 [Rideshare Doc. No. 54], [Red Booth Doc. No. 70], demonstrated that the Debtor has no likelihood of success in reorganization; (2) the Defendants, not the Debtor, will suffer irreparable harm if the injunction was extended; (3) the balance of the equities weighed in favor of the Defendants; and (4) no public interest would be served by the requested extension. On March 29, 2018, the Debtor filed the Reply to the Adversary Opposition (the "Adversary Reply") [Adv. Doc. No. 40]. The Debtor argued that the extension of the preliminary injunction was warranted because, among other reasons, the Debtor and Red Booth intended to file a First Amended Joint Plan and Disclosure Statement that would cure the deficiencies with the initial Joint Plan and Disclosure Statement.

On April 5, 2018, the Court held a hearing on the Motion to Extend the Preliminary Injunction, and after determining that the Preliminary Injunction should be extended, the Court extended the Preliminary Injunction through July 24, 2018. Adv. Doc. No. 41. The Court also set deadlines for the Debtor to file, and to obtain confirmation and approval of, the Amended Joint Plan and Amended Joint Disclosure Statement. Id. The preliminary injunction provided for an immediate and temporary stay of any and all acts, actions, claims, and related proceedings against (1) the entities of (a) Red Vans , (b) Prime Time, (c) Airport Management (collectively, the "Non-Debtor Entities"); and (2) the Debtor's managing member, Rattan, to enforce any claims, judgments and/or any rights that the State Court Plaintiffs are asserting, or may seek to assert in connection with the civil actions and arbitrations (the "State Court Actions")¹ [Note 1].

The Motions for Relief from Stay

On May 9, 2018, Carlos Lizardo filed the "Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from Automatic Stay (Action in Non-Bankruptcy Forum) RE: Carlos Lizardo" (the "Lizardo Motion") [Doc. No. 90]. On the same date, Ronaldo Ramos and Vince Olivar filed the "Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from Automatic Stay (Action in Non-Bankruptcy Forum) RE: Ronaldo Ramos and Vince Olivar" (the "Ramos Motion") [Doc. No. 91]. The Lizardo Motion and the Ramos Motion (the "Motions") seek relief from the automatic stay in order to proceed with their respective State Court Actions against the Debtor, the Non-Debtor Entities, and Rattan.² [Note 2]. The Motions contend that the Debtor's bankruptcy was filed in bad faith, and that the claims in the State Court Actions can be most expeditiously resolved in the non-bankruptcy forum.

The Debtor's Responses

On May 21, 2018 the Debtor filed the (1) Response to the Ramos Motion [Doc. No. 100], and (2) Response to the Lizardo Motion [Doc. No. 101] (collectively, the "Responses"). The Responses argue that relief from stay should not be granted because, among other reasons, allowing the State Court Actions to proceed against Rattan or the Non-Debtor Entities will prejudice the joint reorganization efforts of the Debtor and Red Booth.

The Order Continuing the Hearings

The Motions came regularly for hearing on June 4, 2018. The Court continued the hearing on the Motions to a final hearing, to be heard concurrently with the Debtors' Motion to Approve the First Amended Joint Disclosure Statement. See Rulings at Doc. Nos. 102 & 103. On June 18, 2018, the Court entered the "Order Re: Stipulation to Continue Hearing on Motion of Debtor for an Order Authorizing and Approving the Adequacy of the Disclosure Statement Describing Plan Of Reorganization and Motion for Relief From Stay. (1) The Motion to Approve Adequacy of the Disclosure Statement is continued to July, 5, 2018, at 11:00 a.m.; (2). The Motion for Relief from Stay is continued to July 5, 2018 at 11:00 a.m." [Doc. No. 108].

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, a motion for relief from the automatic stay is a summary proceeding that does not involve an adjudication of the merits of the underlying claims. As recognized by the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel in In re Luz Int'l, Ltd.:

Given the limited grounds for obtaining a motion for relief from stay, read in conjunction with the expedited schedule for a hearing on the motion, most courts hold that motion for relief from stay hearings should not involve an adjudication of the merits of claims, defenses, or counterclaims, but simply determine whether the creditor has a colorable claim to the property of the estate. See In re Johnson, 756 F.2d 738, 740 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 474 U.S. 828, 106 S.Ct. 88, 88 L.Ed.2d 72 (1985) ("Hearings on relief from the automatic stay are thus handled in a summary fashion. The validity of the claim or contract underlying the claim is not litigated during the hearing.").

The automatic stay of 11 U.S.C. § 362(a) stays all action involving the following, in pertinent part:

- (1) the commencement or continuation, including the issuance or employment of process of a judicial, administrative, or other action or proceeding against the debtor that was or could have been commenced before the commencement of the case under this title, or to recover a claim against the debtor that arose before the commencement of the case under this title.

11 U.S.C. § 362(a)(1).

Section 362(d)(1) permits a bankruptcy court to grant relief from the automatic stay upon a showing of "cause." Cause is a flexible concept and courts often conduct a fact intensive, case-by-case balancing test, examining the totality of the circumstances to determine whether sufficient cause exists to lift the stay. In re SCO Grp., Inc., 395 B.R. 852, 856 (Bankr. D. Del. 2007) (citing Baldino v. Wilson (In re Wilson), 116 F.3d 87, 90 (3d Cir. 1997); In re Laguna Assocs. Ltd., 30 F.3d 734, 737 (7th Cir. 1994)); In re MacDonald, 755 F.2d 715, 717 (9th Cir. 1985). "Among factors appropriate to consider in determining whether relief from the automatic stay should be granted to allow state court proceedings to continue are considerations of judicial economy and the expertise of the state court." In re Kronemyer, 405 B.R. 915, 921 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2009) (citing In re MacDonald, 755 F.2d 715, 717 (9th Cir. 1985)).

Here, to the extent the automatic stay applies under the circumstances described above, the Court finds that the causes of actions in the state court complaint attached to the Motions involve state law violations and are within the expertise of the state court. Allowing the Movants to continue the State Court Action will best promote the judicial economy by adjudicating a final judgment as to the underlying claims that may either support or negate the filing of a proof of claim and/or an adversary complaint.

Based on the foregoing, to the extent the automatic stay applies, the Court GRANTS the Motions pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit the Movants to proceed under applicable non-bankruptcy law to enforce their remedies to proceed to final judgment in the nonbankruptcy forum, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtors or estate property. The Movants may not pursue any deficiency claim or any other claim against the Debtors or property of the estate, except that the Movants will retain the right to file a proof of claim and/or an adversary complaint under §§523 or 727. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code.

III. Conclusion

In conclusion, the (1) the Lizardo Motion for Relief from Stay, and (2) the Ramos Motion for Relief from Stay are GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit the Movants to proceed under applicable non-bankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the non-bankruptcy forum, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtors or estate property.

The Movants, respectively, shall submit conforming orders within seven days of the hearing.

The Adversary Proceeding and the Preliminary Injunction

On November 9, 2017, the Debtor filed the "Complaint by Rideshare Port Management, LLC against Alex Lichterman, [et al.] for Declaratory Relief Regarding Applicability of the Automatic Stay; Preliminary Injunctive Relief Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 105, 362, 1107, 1121, 1129, FRBP 7065, FRCP 65(a) and (d), and LBR 7065-1(a) and (b)(2); [and] Temporary Restraining Order" (the "Adversary Complaint") [Adv. Doc. No. 1], commencing this adversary proceeding. On November 14, 2017, the Debtor filed the "Debtor's and Debtor in Possession's Notice of Motion and Motion for Issuance of A Preliminary Injunction Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 105, 362, 1107, 1121, 1129, FRBP 7065, FRCP 65(a) and (d), and LBR 7065-1(a) and (b)(2)" (the "Preliminary Injunction Motion") [Adv. Doc. No. 10]. On December 13, 2017, the Court entered the Order Granting the Preliminary Injunction Motion (the "Preliminary Injunction Order") [Adv. No. 17]. Pursuant to the Court's Preliminary Injunction Order, the preliminary injunction terminated by its own terms on March 7, 2018. The Court declined to make any finding as to whether the Automatic Stay under § 362(a)(3) applies to Rattan or the Non-Debtor entities.

On March 1, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Debtor's and Debtor in Possession's Notice of Motion and Motion to Extend Preliminary Injunction Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 105, 362, 1107, 1121, 1129, FRBP 7065, FRCP 65(a) and (d), and LBR 7065-1(a) and (b)(2)" (the "Extension Motion") [Adv. Doc. No. 25]. The Extension Motion requested an order extending the preliminary injunction to permit the Debtors to file the Joint Amended Plan and Joint Amended Disclosure Statement. The Extension Motion was opposed by Kaushaal Laxmee, Gary Oganessian, Alex Licterman and Howard Miller (collectively, the "Creditors"). See Opposition to the Extension Motion [Adv. Doc. No. 38]. The Court held a hearing on the Extension Motion on April 5, 2018. The Court adopted the tentative ruling as the Court's final ruling, and granted the Extension Motion. See Adv. Doc. No. 41. Pursuant to the Court's ruling, the preliminary injunction was extended through July 24, 2018. Id. The Court additionally set a deadline for the Debtors to obtain confirmation of the Amended Plan, and the Court stated that, given that a preliminary injunction is extraordinary relief that the Court does not take lightly, the Court would not be inclined to grant a further extension of the preliminary injunction. See id. at 12.

Description of the Amended Plan and Amended Disclosure Statement

The Amended Plan will become effective (the "Effective Date") within 60 days after the date of entry of the Confirmation Order.

The Amended Plan includes "Unclassified Claims" as follows:

- 1) Administrative Priority Claims: these claims include (i) professional fees and costs; and (ii) United States Trustee's fees. Such claims shall be paid in full on, or as soon as practicable after the Effective Date or upon allowance of such claim, whichever is later.
- 2) Unclassified Priority Claims/Priority Tax Claims: Unsecured Claims of Governmental Units entitled to priority under § 507(a)(8). These claims will be paid in full on the Effective Date unless the Debtor files an objection to such claim prior to the Effective Date. The Debtors are not aware of any Unclassified Priority Claims at this time.

The Amended Plan's classification scheme for Claims and Interests is as follows:

- 1) Class 1: Secured Tax Claims Against the Rideshare Debtor: this class includes allowed secured tax claims against the Rideshare Debtor. Class 1 is unimpaired. Each holder of a Class 1 Claim will be paid in the amount of the allowed claim pursuant to one of the three alternative treatments set forth in the Plan.
- 2) Class 2: Secured Tax Claims Against the Rideshare Debtor: this class includes allowed secured tax claims against the Rideshare Debtor. Class 1 is unimpaired. Each holder of a Class 1 Claim will be paid in the amount of the allowed claim pursuant to one of the three alternative treatments set forth in the Plan.
- 3) Class 3: Convenience Claims: Class 3 consists of Convenience Claims (as that term is defined in the Amended Plan and Amended Disclosure Statement) against the Debtors. Class 3 is impaired under the Plan and entitled to vote on the Plan.

- 4) Class 4: Allowed Claims of the Holders of General Unsecured Claims Against the Rideshare Debtor: Class 4 excludes (i) disputed employment claims; (ii) general unsecured claims that qualify and elect treatment in Class 3; and/or (iii) general unsecured claims that qualify for treatment in Classes 5, 6, and/or 7. The Debtors' estimate of the amount of the Class 4 Claims is $277,057.00. Holders of Class 4 Claims are impaired under the Plan. After the Effective Date, the Holders of Class 4 Claims will receive one of either: (a) net proceeds of the New Value Contribution; (b) quarterly plan payments; (c) unused proceeds of the Class 4 Plan Reserve Account; or (d) liquidation value/final payment.
- 5) Class 5: Allowed Claims of the Holders of General Unsecured Claims Against the Red Booth Debtor: Class 5 excludes (i) disputed employment claims; (ii) general unsecured claims that qualify and elect treatment in Class 3; and/or (iii) general unsecured claims that qualify for treatment in Classes 4, 6, and/or 7. The Debtors' estimate of the amount of the Class 5 Claims is $31,275.00. Holders of Class 5 Claims are impaired under the Plan. After the Effective Date, the Holders of Class 5 Claims will receive one of either: (a) net proceeds of the New Value Contribution; (b) quarterly plan payments; (c) unused proceeds of the Class 5 Plan Reserve Account; or (d) liquidation value/final payment.
- 6) Class 6: Disputed Employment Claims: Class 6 consists of the Disputed Employment Claims. Class 6 is impaired under the Plan and entitled to vote on the Plan. The Holders of Class 6 Claims may select one of two options under the Plan. The Debtors intend to file an action to determine the Disputed Employment Claims by seeking appointment of a representative and certification pursuant to FRBP 7023 and FRCP 23.
- 7) Class 7: Allowed Subordinated Claims for Penalties and All Other Subordinated Allowed Claims: Class 7 consists of allowed subordinated claims for penalties, if any, and all other allowed subordinated claims. Class 7 is impaired under the Plan and entitled to vote on the Plan.

- 8) Class 8: Interests in the Rideshare Debtor: Class 8 consists of the Interests in the Rideshare Debtor. The Interests are impaired under the Plan and entitled to vote on the Plan. The Interests in the Rideshare Debtor shall be deemed not to receive any distribution under the Plan on account of their Interests, and instead the Interests of the Rideshare Debtor shall be retained on account of the New Value Contribution.

- 9) Class 9: Interests in the Red Booth Debtor: Class 9 consists of the Interests in the Red Booth Debtor. The Interests are impaired under the Plan and entitled to vote on the Plan. The Interests in the Red Booth Debtor shall be deemed not to receive any distribution under the Plan on account of their Interests, and instead the Interests of the Rideshare Debtor shall be retained on account of the New Value Contribution.

The Amended Disclosure Statement states that the Amended Plan will be funded by the (i) revenue generated by the Reorganized Debtors; (ii) the "New Value Contribution" by Rattan in the amount of $51,000.00, see Amended Disclosure Statement at 79; and (iii) net recoveries from Rights of Action, if any. The Debtors anticipate that there will be approximately $305,000 of cash required to fund the Effective Date Payments, and the Debtors will have approximately $76,000.00 of available cash on the Effective Date. The Amended Disclosure Statement states that the Plan Funders are discussing a partial additional cash infusion by Red Vans—in an unspecified amount—and deferral arrangement with the Debtors' Professionals.

The plan's risk factors, as detailed in the Amended Disclosure Statement, include the risk that the Debtor's projections of its income and expenses between the date of the Amended Disclosure Statement and the date of the proposed distributions may prove to be overly optimistic.

The Opposition

On June 7, 2018, the Creditors filed the Opposition to the Amended Disclosure Statement (the "Opposition") [Rideshare Doc. No. 67]. The Opposition contends that the Amended Disclosure Statement is inadequate in the following respects:

- (1) Neither the Amended Disclosure Statement or Amended Plan provide any valuation to support the adequacy of the New Value Contribution, and it is thus impossible to determine whether treatment of insider unsecured claims will violate the absolute priority rule;

- (2) The Amended Disclosure Statement references exhibits which have not been filed;
- (3) The Amended Disclosure Statement separately classifies unsecured "Disputed Employment Claims" from other general unsecured claims, which is impermissible gerrymandering;
- (4) The Amended Plan provides for an impermissible waiver of creditor rights against non-debtor parties;
- (5) The Amended Disclosure Statement states that the Debtors are administratively insolvent and lacks specific information as to how the administrative expenses will be covered; and
- (6) The Amended Disclosure Statement fails to describe the amount of funds being held back for disputed unsecured creditors, and when and how that holdback will occur.

Therefore, the Opposition request that the Court deny approval of the Amended Disclosure Statement.

The Reply

On June 21, 2018, the Debtors filed the Joint Reply to the Opposition (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 111]. The Reply argues that the Amended Disclosure Statement provides adequate information, and that the arguments raised by the Opposition regarding the adequacy of the Amended Disclosure statement are actually confirmation issues. Reply at 4. The Reply further argues that the Amended Plan is not patently unconfirmable. Id. at 5. Specifically, the Reply argues that: (1) the proposed classifications in the Amended Plan are appropriate, and are not improperly gerrymandered, id. at 5–10; and (2) the Amended Plan does not violate the absolute priority rule on account of the proposed new value contribution of $51,000 by Rattan Joa in exchange for 51% of the shares in the reorganized debtor, and because the remaining 49% of the shares will be issued to the Class 6 Creditors, id. at 10–11. The Reply contends that the disclosure regarding the New Value Contribution is adequate, and that the Debtors "should not be required to proof [sic] the adequacy [of the new value contribution as] a condition of approval of the Amended Disclosure Statement," because the issue of whether the amount of the New Value Contribution is adequate is an issue for confirmation. Id. at 11–12. With respect to the Plan Trust, the Reply states that the terms of the Plan Trust is adequately described in the Amended Plan. Id. at 13. Regarding the Opposition's argument that the Amended Plan is patently unconfirmable because there is not adequate means for satisfying Professional Fees, this is a confirmation issue. Id. Lastly, the Reply contends that the provision of the Amended Plan providing for the release of Red Vans is appropriate and consistent with applicable law. Id. at 14.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 1125 requires a disclosure statement to contain "information of a kind, and in sufficient detail, as far as is reasonably practicable in light of the nature and history of the debtor and the condition of the debtor's books and records . . . that would enable. . . a hypothetical investor of the relevant class to make an informed judgment about the plan." In determining whether a disclosure statement provides adequate information, "the court shall consider the complexity of the case, the benefit of additional information to creditors and other parties in interest, and the cost of providing additional information." 11 U.S.C. § 1125(a). Courts interpreting § 1125 (a) have explained that the "primary purpose of a disclosure statement is to give the creditors the information they need to decide whether to accept the plan." In re Monnier Bros., 755 F.2d 1336, 1342 (8th Cir. 1985). "According to the legislative history, the parameters of what constitutes adequate information are intended to be flexible." In re Diversified Investors Fund XVII, 91 B.R. 559, 560 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1988). "Adequate information will be determined by the facts and circumstances of each case." Oneida Motor Freight, Inc. v. United Jersey Bank, 848 F.2d 414, 417 (3d Cir. 1988), accord. In re Ariz. Fast Foods, Inc., 299 B.R. 589 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2003).

Relevant factors for evaluating the adequacy of a disclosure statement may include: (1) the events which led to the filing of a bankruptcy petition; (2) a description of the available assets and their value; (3) the anticipated future of the company; (4) the source of information stated in the disclosure statement; (5) a disclaimer;

(6) the present condition of the debtor while in Chapter 11; (7) the scheduled claims; (8) the estimated return to creditors under a Chapter 7 liquidation; (9) the accounting method utilized to produce financial information and the name of the accountants responsible for such information; (10) the future management of the debtor; (11) the Chapter 11 plan or a summary thereof; (12) the estimated administrative expenses, including attorneys' and accountants' fees; (13) the collectability of accounts receivable; (14) financial information, data, valuations or projections relevant to the creditors' decision to accept or reject the Chapter 11 plan; (15) information relevant to the risks posed to creditors under the plan; (16) the actual or projected realizable value from recovery of preferential or otherwise voidable transfers; (17) litigation likely to arise in a nonbankruptcy context; (18) tax attributes of the debtor; and (19) the relationship of the debtor with affiliates.

In re Metrocraft Pub. Services, Inc., 39 B.R. 567, 568 (Bankr. Ga. 1984). However, "[d]isclosure of all factors is not necessary in every case." Id.

Here, the Court finds that the Amended Disclosure Statement fails to provide adequate information. Among other deficiencies, the Amended Disclosure Statement: (a) does not provide adequate information regarding the New Value Contribution; (b) provides for interest holders in Class 8 to retain their interests due to the New Value Contribution, but does not provide a valuation offered for those interests, or specify whether the interests have been exposed to the market; (c) does not provide adequate disclosure with regards to how the Debtors intend to pay administrative claims given the lack of funds available to cover the administrative claims; (d) references omitted exhibits which are material to the adequacy of the Amended Disclosure Statement (e.g., the Plan Trust Agreement); and (e) does not adequately detail the amount of funds being withheld for disputed claims, or the timing of such withholding.

This is the Debtors' second attempt at gaining approval of a disclosure statement. The Court denied approval of the "Joint Disclosure Statement Describing Plan of Reorganization" (the "Original Disclosure Statement") [Rideshare Doc. No. 53] on April 5, 2018. See Doc. No. 76 (ruling after hearing on April 5, 2018). In its final ruling denying approval of the Original Disclosure Statement, the Court specifically noted that the Debtors "averred that the Debtors [were] negotiating with certain of the unsecured creditors, including the Creditors, towards a consensual resolution of their claims," Doc. No. 76 at 8, and that the Amended Disclosure Statement and Amended Plan would address the deficiencies of the Original Disclosure Statement and Plan, id. With respect to the Original Disclosure Statement, the following deficiencies, among others, were identified by the court: the Original Disclosure Statement (a) did not provide adequate information regarding the specific identities of the "Plan Funders," the amount of the contemplated New Value Contribution, or state whether the New Value Contribution had been exposed to the market, (b) provided for interest holders in Class 8 to retain their interests due to the New Value Contribution, but did not provide a valuation offered for those interests, (c) did not specify the interest rate that is being used to bring the present value equal to the liquidation value, where applicable, and (d) did not adequately describe the class treatments or detail the anticipated pay outs to respective classes, which made it impossible for voting claimholders to assess whether the treatment of insider unsecured claims will violate the absolute priority rule. Id. at 7.

Having reviewed the Amended Disclosure Statement and the Amended Plan, the Court finds that the Amended Disclosure Statement largely mirrors what has already been presented to the Court. The Court finds the Debtors' lack of diligence particularly problematic under the circumstances, given that the Debtors are enjoying the benefit of a preliminary injunction against the non-debtor entities. Importantly, and contrary to the representations made by the Debtors to the Court, there is no difference in the treatment of the unsecured claims, including the Creditors' claims, as between the Original Plan and the Amended Plan. The most notable change is that the Amended Disclosure Statement does disclose the identities of the "Plan Funders," as well as the amount of the New Value Contribution ($51,000.00). These changes notwithstanding, as set forth in more detail below, the Amended Disclosure Statement does not state whether the New Value Contribution has been exposed to the market, nor does it provide any disclosure regarding the method that was used to value the interests that are to be retained on account of the New Value Contribution. Additionally, the Amended Disclosure Statement fails to adequately describe how the Debtors intend to address the estimated $305,000.00 in administrative expenses, when the Debtors will only have approximately $76,000.00 funds on hand to make Effective Date payments. The disclosure related to the withholding of funds for the disputed claims is wholly inadequate, as the Amended Disclosure Statement provides very little detail regarding the amount of the funds to be withheld, or the timing of such withholding. The inadequacy of disclosure related to the withholding of funds for the disputed claims is underscored when viewed in conjunction with the above-described deficiencies—particularly the substantial gap between the estimated administrative expenses and the funds on hand to make Effective Date payments.

The Amended Disclosure Statement also fails to include the contemplated "Plan Trust Agreement." The Court is not persuaded by the Debtors' argument that the failure to file the Plan Trust Agreement with the Amended Disclosure Statement "does not impact any disclosure requirements." Reply at 13. To the contrary, the omission of the Plan Trust Agreement is significant given that the Plan Trust is an important component of the Amended Plan; thus, inclusion of the Plan Trust Agreement is relevant to the decision of those claim holders who are presented with the option of participating in the Plan Trust to cast their vote for or against confirmation of the Amended Plan. Furthermore, the failure to file this document is yet further evidence of the Debtors' lack of diligence in pursuing plan confirmation. The Court finds the Debtors' lack of diligence in this regard worthy of emphasis given that the Debtors are benefitting from a preliminary injunction against the non-debtor entities, and the Court has clearly advised the Debtors that the Debtors had only a limited amount of time to obtain confirmation of a plan.

The Amended Plan is Patently Unconfirmable

"[W]here a plan is on its face nonconfirmable, as a matter of law, it is appropriate for the court to deny approval of the disclosure statement describing the nonconfirmable plan." In re Arnold, 471 B.R. 578, 586 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012); see also In re American Capital Equip. LLC, 688 F.3d 145, 155 (3d. Cir. 2012) ("a bankruptcy court may address the issue of plan confirmation where it is obvious at the disclosure statement stage that a later confirmation hearing would be futile because the plan described by the disclosure statement is patently unconfirmable").

Here, based on the moving and opposing papers, it is likely that Class 6 will vote to reject the Amended Plan, and the Debtors will attempt a cram down pursuant to § 1129(b). Thus, among other requirements, the Amended Plan must comply with the absolute priority rule.

Two conditions exist for a cram down under § 1129(b). First, all the requirements of § 1129(a) must be met, with the exception of the plan's acceptance by each impaired class of claims or interests. See § 1129(a)(8). Second, the objection of an impaired creditor class may be overridden only if "the plan does not discriminate unfairly, and is fair and equitable, with respect to each class of claims or interests that is impaired under, and has not accepted, the plan." § 1129(b)(1). As to a dissenting class of unsecured creditors, the plan may be found to be "fair and equitable" only if the allowed value of the claim is to be paid in full, § 1129(b)(2)(B)(i), or, in the alternative, if "the holder of any claim or interest that is junior to the claims of such [impaired unsecured] class will not receive or retain under the plan on account of such junior claim or interest any property," § 1129(b)(2)(B)(ii). To comply with the new value doctrine, former equity owners are required to offer value that is "1) new, 2) substantial, 3) money or money's worth, 4) necessary for a successful reorganization and 5) reasonably equivalent to the value or interest received." In re Bonner Mall Partnership, 2 F.3d 899, 908 (9th Cir. 1993). In Bank of America Nat. Trust and Sav. Ass'n v. 203 North LaSalle Street Partnership, 526 U.S. 434 (1999), the Supreme Court held that "plans providing junior interest holders with exclusive opportunities free from competition and without benefit of market valuation fall within the prohibition of § 1129(b)(2)(B)(ii)," id. at 458. Thus, to satisfy the so-called new value exception, the interests must be exposed to the market.

Here, the New Value Contribution does not comply with the new value doctrine because the Debtors did not expose the interests to the market. Given the lack of exposure of the New Value Contribution to the market, and the absence of any valuation for the controlling interest in the Rideshare Debtor, the Amended Plan does not comply with § 1129(b). Additionally, insofar as the Debtors contend that the objections raised by the Opposition are issues that should be addressed in the context of plan confirmation, if the Debtors were not enjoying the benefits of the preliminary injunction against non-debtor entities, the Court might be more amenable to the Debtors' argument that certain of the deficiencies discussed herein are confirmation issues, not disclosure statement issues. Because the preliminary injunction prevents dissenting non-debtor entities from pursuing their state law remedies, the Court cannot overlook the Plan's multiple deficiencies. Not all of these deficiencies compel a conclusion that the Plan is patently unconfirmable. But taken together, they demonstrate the Debtors' lack of diligence in pursuing plan confirmation.

The Preliminary Injunction is Terminated

date. The Court further stated that it would not be inclined to grant a further extension of the preliminary injunction. A preliminary injunction against non-debtors is an extraordinary remedy that is reserved for "unusual circumstances." See In re Zale Corp., 62 F.3d 746, 761 (5th Cir. 1995); Patton v. Bearden, 8 F.3d 343, 349 (6th Cir. 1993); Teachers Ins. & Annuity Ass'n v. Butler, 803 F.2d 61, 65 (2d. Cir. 1986). Such circumstances include: "1) when the nondebtor and the debtor enjoy such an identity of interests that the suit against the nondebtor is essentially a suit against the debtor, and 2) when the third-party action will have an adverse impact on the debtor's ability to accomplish reorganization." In re Zale Corp., 62 F.3d at 761.

Here, the Court entered the preliminary injunction for the purpose of affording the Debtors the opportunity to confirm a plan of reorganization. The Court has given the Debtors two opportunities to obtain approval of a disclosure statement. In light of the absence of substantive changes to the Amended Disclosure Statement and Amended Plan to address the deficiencies identified with respect to the Original Disclosure Statement and Original Plan, it appears to the Court that the Debtors' bankruptcies were filed to forestall the litigation in the state court, and to bring state law issues regarding employment issues into the federal court.² [Note 2]. However, as set forth above, the Debtors have failed to diligently pursue confirmation of a plan of reorganization. Given the Debtors' lack of diligence in confirming a plan of reorganization, the Court will no longer permit the Debtors to benefit from the preliminary injunction against the non-debtors. In granting the extension of the preliminary injunction, the Court made clear that the preliminary injunction would not be extended past July 24, 2018, given that such an injunction is an extraordinary remedy. The Court cannot give the Debtors more time to file a Second Amended Disclosure Statement because doing so would require yet another extension of the injunction against the non-debtors.

Having considered the Amended Plan and Amended Disclosure Statement, and having found that the Debtors will be unable to obtain approval of the Amended Disclosure Statement and confirmation of the Amended Plan, the preliminary injunction shall terminate on the date of the entry of the order denying the Motion for Approval of the Amended Disclosure Statement.

#1.00 HearingRE: [14] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations PERSONAL PROPERTY RE: (1) Toyota Forklift, Model # 8BRU18, 1-Battery, 1-Charger .

Docket 14

Tentative Ruling:

7/6/2018

Tentative Ruling: .

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Movant has established that the fair market value of the subject property (equipment) is declining and that Debtor is making insufficient payments to protect Movant against this decline. Debtor has not responded with evidence establishing that the property is not declining in value or that Movant is adequately protected.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

7/6/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject property (equipment) and that the property is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Docket 7

Tentative Ruling:

7/6/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set on a shortened notice in accordance with Judge Robles' procedures. Oppositions, if any, will be considered at the hearing.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Debtor continues to occupy the property after a foreclosure sale held on May 7, 2018. The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on May 11, 2018, and judgment was entered in favor of the Movant on June 12, 2018.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of this bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States

#7.00 HearingRE: [14] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations UNLAWFUL DETAINER RE: 1000 S. Hope Street #513, Los Angeles, CA 90015 .

Docket 14

Tentative Ruling:

7/6/2018

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set on a shortened notice in accordance with the applicable procedures. Oppositions, if any, will be considered at the hearing. The Court notes that the Motion states that the hearing is being heard on regular notice when, in fact, the Motion was set on shortened notice. While the Court does not find any defects in service because the Debtor was served by the Movant via personal service on June 28, 2018 consistent with the Court's procedures, the failure by the Movant to check the box designating "SHORTENED NOTICE" could result in confusion regarding, for example, the availability of filing a written response to the Motion.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Movant caused a Notice to Quit to be served on the Debtor on April 10, 2018. The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on April 30, 2018. The trial in the unlawful detainer action is set for July 15, 2018.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. Chapter 7

The Motion

On June 7, 2018, secured creditor Luis Munoz dba San Bernardino Apartments (the "Movant") filed the "Motion for Entry of Order Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 543(d)(1) Maintaining Receiver Matthew Taylor as Custodian in Possession and Control of Real Estate of Debtor and Excusing Custodian from Compliance with 11 U.S.C. §§ 543(a) and (b)" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 8]. The property at issue is two adjacent apartment buildings located at 2936 North Loma Avenue and 2935 North Mountain Avenue, San Bernardino, CA (the "Property"). The Movant is the holder of the second and third deeds of trust secured by the Property.

In 2015, the Property was sold to Neram Village, Inc. ("Neram"). "Declaration of Joseph G. McCarty" (the "McCarty Decl.") [Doc. No. 9] at ¶ 4. As part of the sale transaction, the Movant received two notes and deeds of trust: (1) the second deed of trust, which was an All Inclusive Trust Deed ("AITD") wrap around the first deed of trust from East West Bank in the original principal amount of $3,432,154.81; and (2) the third deed of trust in the original principal amount of $1,123,845.18 (collectively, the "Loans"). Id. at ¶ 3. Subsequently, and without notifying the Movant, Neram encumbered the Property with a fourth deed of trust and fifth deed of trust. Id. at ¶ 4. The Debtor was the beneficiary of the fifth deed of trust. Id. On April 12, 2016, after Neram had failed to make payments to the Movant, the Movant commenced a judicial foreclosure action in the California Superior Court (the "State Court"). Id. at ¶ 5. The State Court appointed Eloisa Fernandez as receiver (the "Original Receiver"). Id. The Original Receiver made certain (necessary) repairs to the Property and Movant advanced funds to pay for the repairs and other expenses of the Property. Id. at ¶ 6. On June 12, 2017, the Debtor commenced a foreclosure action on its fifth deed of trust, and moved to remove the Original Receiver. Id. at ¶ 7. The Movant opposed the Debtor's motion and proposed that Matthew Taylor take over as receiver. Id. On June 19, 2017, the State Court entered an order appointing Mr. Taylor as receiver (the "Receiver"). Id.; see also id., Exhibit 1 (the State Court Order). Over the objection of the Debtor to the discharge of the Original Receiver and to the amount paid for repairs, the State Court discharged the Original Receiver. Id. at ¶ 8. The Debtor subsequently filed a cross-complaint which contests the advances for the repairs and the expenses of the Property. Id. at ¶ 9. The Debtor's cross-complaint is still pending.

Chapter 7

The Motion contends that the Receiver is currently fulfilling his duties to manage and maintain the Property; thus, the Motion requests that the Receiver be allowed to remain in possession of the Property to maintain the status quo until the Chapter 7 Trustee can assess whether the Property can be administered. It is the position of the Movant that there is no equity in the Property, and that the Petition was filed in bad faith to avoid foreclosure by the Movant.

The Trustee's Response

On June 26, 2018, the Trustee filed the "Response of Rosendo Gonzalez, Interim Chapter 7 Trustee, to [the Motion]" (the "Trustee's Response") [Doc. No. 26]. The Trustee's Response requests that the Court continue the hearing on the Motion for approximately 30-days so that the Trustee can determine whether he can administer the Properties. While the Debtor's schedules state that the Property is worth $13 million, on June 13, 2018, the Debtor's counsel has acknowledged to the proposed counsel for the Trustee, Brad D. Krasnoff of Danning, Gill, Diamond, and Kollitz, LLP, that the Debtor's estimated value of the Property is actually $6.5 million. "Declaration of Brad D. Krasnoff" (the "Krasnoff Decl.") [Doc. No. 26] at ¶ 4(a). On June 5, 2018—prior to the Debtor's schedules being filed on June 12, 2018—Mr. Krasnoff was informed by Joseph McCarty, counsel for the Movant, that both the Movant and the Receiver believe that the Property has a value between $5 million and $5.5 million. Id. at ¶ 4(b). Mr. McCarty further informed Mr. Krasnoff that the outstanding secured encumbrances against the Property, including those of the Movant, total approximately $5.6 million to $6 million. Id. at ¶ 4(c).

The Debtor's Opposition

On June 26, 2018, the Debtor filed the Opposition to the Motion (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 27]. The Debtor opposes retention of the receiver under § 543, and requests that the receiver be discharged and provide all cash and accounting to the Debtor. The Opposition explains that the Debtor's case was filed as a Chapter 7 due to time limitations in getting bankruptcy documents on file, and due to the fact that the Debtor's present counsel is not experienced in Chapter 11. The Opposition notes that the Debtor intends to convert the case to Chapter 11 (the Debtor's Motion to Convert is discussed in more detail below). The Debtor states that the Debtor intends to file amended schedules which will show the Debtor having significantly more assets than was reflected in the initial Schedules. See "Supplemental Declaration of Managing Member of the Debtor, Miguel Arreola, in Support of the Opposition" ("Supp. Arreola Decl.") [Doc. No. 30] at ¶¶ 3–7; see also "Amended Schedule A/B" [Doc. No. 38]. Specifically, on the Petition date the Debtor had cash and secured notes in the approximate amount of $5,880,431.00, as well as a pending judicial foreclosure lawsuit with a potential recovery of $1,395,000.00. Id. at ¶ 7.

The Opposition further states that the Debtor has never had management control of the Property because the Property has been continuously managed by the respective receivers. Opposition at 5; see also Supp. Arreola Decl. at ¶ 9. The Opposition contends that, in the absence of previous mismanagement by the Debtor, there is no justification for the Receiver to remain in control of the Property, especially considering that retention of the Receiver would cause the Estate to incur further fees for the Receiver who is paid $250 per hour. Opposition at 5.

The Reply

On July 3, 2018, the Movant filed the Reply to the Opposition (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 32]. The Reply contends that: (1) the Opposition admits that the Debtor's Schedules are inaccurate, and the Court should not consider the Opposition or the Motion to Convert until the Schedules have been amended and the need for amendment has been adequately explained; and (2) excusing the Receiver from turnover at this time is in the best interest of creditors.

First, the Reply contends that without the amended schedules, the Movant's position remains that the Petition was filed in bad faith to avoid foreclosure, and that a reorganization is not in prospect. The Reply additionally sets forth certain facts regarding the Debtor's prepetition foreclosure on the fifth deed of trust, seemingly in an effort to call into question whether the Petition was filed in bad faith. Secondly, the Reply points to the fact that the Trustee has only recently started his review of the case, and that maintaining the Receiver at least until the Trustee determines whether to administer the Property. Alternatively, the Reply states that a continuance of the hearing to be heard concurrently with the Debtor's Motion to Convert may be appropriate if the Debtor is required to make monthly adequate protection payments.

Chapter 7

On June 22, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Motion to Convert Case from Chapter 7 to Chapter 11" (the "Motion to Convert") [Doc. No. 17], as well as the "Notice of Opportunity to Request a Hearing" pursuant to LBR 9013-1(o).

On July 5, 2018, the Movant filed the "Notice of Opposition [to the Motion to Convert] and Request for a Hearing" (the "Opposition to the Motion to Convert") [Doc. No. 37]. The Opposition to the Motion to Convert states that the Movant opposes conversion of the case to Chapter 11 on the following grounds: (1) the Debtor's schedules are inaccurate and incomplete and a reorganization is not in prospect; (2) the Petition was filed in bad faith and the Debtor is attempting to abuse the bankruptcy process in order to further delay the Movant's foreclosure on the Property; and (3) the Court should not consider the Opposition or the Motion to Convert until the Schedules have been amended and the need for amendment has been adequately explained.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Having considered the arguments in connection with this matter, and for the reasons set forth below, the hearing on the Motion is CONTINUED to be heard concurrently with the Motion to Convert on August 22 at 10:00 a.m., subject to the briefing schedule set forth in more detail below.

The Trustee Needs Time to Investigate and to Take a Position on the Motion

Section 541 of the Bankruptcy Code provides that the commencement of a case under Title 11 creates an estate consisting of all legal and equitable interests of the debtor in property as of the commencement of the case. Section 323(a) provides that "[t]he trustee in a case under this title is the representative of the estate." Thus, after the estate is created and a trustee is appointed, "although the trustee is not vested with title of the debtor," 3 Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 323.02 (Richard Levin & Henry J. Sommer eds., 16th ed.), the trustee is the authorized individual through whom the estate acts as its representative under § 323(a).

Here, the Trustee requests that the hearing on the Motion be continued because the Trustee has not yet had the opportunity to investigate the Property to determine what actions the Trustee will take regarding the Property. Notwithstanding the Motion to Convert, the Petition was filed under Chapter 7, and the case is governed by the provisions of Chapter 7 pending the resolution of the Motion to Convert. Thus, the Court finds that a continuance of the hearing on the Motion is warranted under the circumstances in order to give the Trustee a reasonable period of time to investigate the Property and take a position on the Motion.

Chapter 7 Debtor's Standing to Oppose Actions for Turnover under §§ 542 and 543

The Court notes, but does not make any findings, that there is a potential issue as to whether the Chapter 7 Debtor has standing to oppose the Motion. This issue in particular weighs in favor of continuing the hearing on the Motion to be heard concurrently with Motion to Convert.

In the bankruptcy context, standing requires an "aggrieved person who is directly and adversely affected pecuniarily by an order of the bankruptcy court." In re Lona, 393 B.R. 1, 3 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2008) (citing Fondiller v. Robertson (In re Fondiller), 707 F.2d 441, 442-43 (9th Cir. 1983)). In most Chapter 7 cases, the debtor's liabilities exceed their assets, and because Chapter 7 debtors only receive distribution from the estate after all allowed claims are paid in full, a Chapter 7 debtor rarely has a "pecuniary interest" in the administration of the estate. See In re Cult Awareness Network, Inc., 151 F.3d 605, 607 (7th Cir. 1998). Thus, a Chapter 7 debtor only has standing if the debtor "can show a reasonable possibility of surplus after satisfying all debts." Id. at 608 (debtor lacked standing to object to sale because there was no "reasonable possibility of a surplus of assets").

Sections 542 and 543 are related statutes. Section 542 sets for the requirements for non-custodial turnovers of property of the estate to the trustee, see Collect Access LLC v. Hernandez (In re Hernandez), 483 B.R. 713, 725 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2012) (§ 543 "enables the bankruptcy trustee, or the debtor-in-possession in a reorganization case to seek turnover of the debtors' assets, for the benefit of the estate"), and § 543 governs turnover of property of the estate by a prepetition custodian to the trustee after a bankruptcy case is filed, see 5 Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 543.01 (Richard Levin & Henry J. Sommer eds., 16th ed.). Under §§ 542 and 543, "a chapter 7 debtor is not mentioned and generally has no standing to bring an action for turnover." In re Hernandez, 483 B.R. at 725. It logically follows that a Chapter 7 debtor generally does not have standing to oppose an action by a party in interest under § 543 to maintain a receiver.

Chapter 7

Here, the issue of the Debtor's standing is particularly important in light of the Debtor's Motion to Convert, which if granted would result in the Debtor, as debtor-in-possession under Chapter 11, having the powers and duties of the trustee, including the power to seek turnover under §§ 542 and 543. Thus, the Court finds that the hearing on the Motion should be continued to be heard concurrently with the Motion to Convert.

The Issue of Adequate Protection is Not Properly Before the Court

The Reply requests that the hearing on the Motion is continued, that the Debtor be ordered to make adequate protection payments to the Movant in the interim. Given the fact that the Movant has not filed a motion for relief from the automatic stay under § 362(d), the issue of adequate protection is not properly before the Court, and the Court, therefore, does not make any findings with regards to whether the Movant is entitled to adequate protection payments.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the hearing on the Motion is CONTINUED to be heard concurrently with the Motion to Convert. The continued hearing on the Motion and the hearing on the Motion to Convert will be held on August 22, 2018 at 10:00 a.m. The deadline for the Trustee file a written response or opposition to either or both the Motion or to the Motion to Convert is August 15, 2018.

The Court will prepare the order.

Chapter 11

from the Sale of the Debtor's Residence [Doc. No. 211]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Attorney John Fuchs (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 13, 2017. The Debtor is being represented in this case by his law firm, the Fuchs Law Group, APC. The work on the Debtor's behalf in this case has been performed by Mr. Fuchs and his associate, Gail S. Gilfillan. Fuchs Decl. [Doc. No. 44] at ¶1.

On October 25, 2017, the Court approved the Debtor's motion to sell real property located at 17726 Calle de Palermo, Pacific Palisades, CA 90272 (the "Residence"). See Order Authorizing the Sale of the Estate's Right, Title, and Interest in Real Property Located at 17726 Calle de Palermo, Pacific Palisades, CA 90272 [Doc. No. 62] (the "Sale Order"). The Sale Order required the Debtor to deposit the net sales proceeds of the Residence into the Court's registry. Sale Order at ¶5.

On November 16, 2017, the Court authorized the Debtor to pay from the sales proceeds of the Residence (1) his homestead exemption in the amount of $175,000; (2) the actual and customary ordinary closing costs; and (3) real estate brokerage commissions in the amount of $169,750. See Doc. No. 82. On December 5, 2017, the Debtor deposited $3,014,642.94 into the Court's registry from the sale of the Residence. See Doc. No. 92.

On December 20, 2017, the Court approved settlement agreements between the Debtor and secured creditors Logan Mortgage, Inc. ("Logan"), JSC Pacific LLC ("JSC Pacific"), and the Dawn Miller O.D. Retirement Trust (the "Miller Trust"). Pursuant to the settlement agreements, the Court authorized the Debtor to pay from the funds on deposit in the Court's registry (1) $619,941.79 to Logan, (2) $74,535.00 to JSC Pacific, and (3) $619,941.79 to the Miller Trust. The settlement agreements resolved the secured claims of Logan, JSC Pacific, and the Miller Trust. On December 20, 2017, the Court entered an order authorizing the Clerk of the Court to disburse from the Court's registry funds in the aggregate amount of $919,905.65, for the purpose of paying Logan, JSC Pacific, and the Miller Trust. See Doc. No. 107.

On February 23, 2018, the Court overruled the Debtor's objection to the Proof of Claim filed by Specializing Loan Servicing, in its capacity as servicer for the Bank of New York Mellon ("SLS"). The Court held that SLS holds an allowed secured claim in the amount of $1,648,975.29. See Doc. Nos. 141 and 149. On March 23, 2018, the Court overruled the Debtor's objection to the Proof of Claim filed by the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS"). The Court held that the IRS holds an allowed secured claim in the amount of $152,073.43 on account of unpaid taxes. See Doc. Nos. 169 and 174.

On February 23, 2018, the Court scheduled trial on the Debtor's objections to the claims of Rainbow International of Van Nuys ("Rainbow") and Mikhaeil Rouel Corporation, Inc. d/b/a Service Master Professional Restoration ("Service Masters") for the week of August 27, 2018. See Doc. Nos. 147–48. On June 26, 2018, the Court approved a compromise of the Debtor's objection to Rainbow's claim. See Doc. Nos. 208 and 210. Pursuant to the compromise, Rainbow holds an allowed unsecured claim in the amount of $7,500, which shall be paid in full from proceeds on deposit in the Court's registry upon confirmation of the Plan. On July 5, 2018, the Court approved a compromise of the Debtor's objection to Service Masters' claim. See Doc. No. 217. Pursuant to the compromise, Service Masters holds an allowed unsecured claim in the amount of $7,500, which shall be paid in full from proceeds on deposit in the Court's registry upon confirmation of the Plan.

On March 23, 2018, the Court issued an order finding that the Disclosure Statement filed in connection with the Debtor's Chapter 11 Plan did not contain adequate information. See Doc. No. 173. On April 9, 2018, the Debtor filed an Amended Chapter 11 Plan (the "Plan") and an Amended Disclosure Statement. See Doc. Nos. 177–78. On May 18, 2018, the Court issued an order (1) finding that the Amended Disclosure Statement contained adequate information, (2) setting deadlines pertaining to Plan confirmation, and (3) establishing procedures to determine the amount of the §503(b)(1)(B)(i) administrative expense claim asserted by the United States, on behalf of its agency the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS"). See Doc. No. 192 (the "Procedures Order").

Issuance of the Procedures Order was necessary because §503(b)(1)(D), added to the Bankruptcy Code by the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005 ("BAPCPA"), provides that a "governmental unit shall not be required to file a request for the payment of [a §503(b)(1)(B)(i) administrative expense] as a condition of its being an allowed administrative expense." As noted by one court, the fact that governmental units may hold an allowed administrative expense even without filing a request for payment of such an expense creates a "peculiar situation":

Under current law, therefore, a governmental unit is not required to file any request for payment of an administrative expense—"timely," "tardily," or at all—in order to be allowed an administrative expense for a tax incurred by the estate under § 503(b)(1)(B)(i). Thus, the fact that no taxing authority has filed such a request in this case does not necessarily mean that no such administrative expense can be allowed.

This creates procedural questions for the Chapter 13 Trustee, and for the Court. The real estate taxing authority here, which appears to be either Orchard Lake Village, Michigan or the Oakland County Treasurer, has an allowed administrative claim if there are any real estate taxes that were incurred by the Chapter 13 bankruptcy estate that remain unpaid, and the Trustee, in turn, must pay any such allowed administrative claim from the funds on hand, under § 1326(a)(2), along with other allowed administrative expenses. But how is the Chapter 13 Trustee to know whether such taxing authority actually has such an administrative claim, and if so, what is the amount of such claim, when the Trustee has heard nothing from the taxing authority? In this case, no governmental unit has filed any claim for unpaid real estate taxes. And Debtor's schedules and plan make no mention of any real estate taxes. What is a Chapter 13 Trustee in this situation to do?

The Halabu court addressed this procedural conundrum by requiring the party who had alerted the Court to the possible existence of an administrative expense claim to provide notice to the governmental units holding the claim. Id. at 702. The court then held hearings to establish the amount of the claim. Id.

The Ninth Circuit took a similar approach in Dreyfus v. Cory (In re Cloobek), 788 F.3d 1243 (9th Cir. 2015). The Ninth Circuit held that if “the governmental unit does not file a request for payment but the tax obligation is discovered by the trustee, it will be the trustee’s [or debtor-in-possession’s] responsibility, rather than the government unit’s responsibility, to provide the notice and obtain the hearing.” Id. at 1246.

By way of the Procedures Order, the Court adopted procedures similar to those espoused in In re Cloobek to establish the amount of the IRS’ administrative tax claim. Specifically, the Court (1) ordered the Debtor to file a declaration setting forth his position with respect to the amount of the IRS’ administrative tax claim, (2) ordered the IRS to file a responsive declaration, (3) ordered the Debtor to file a reply to the IRS’ responsive declaration, and (4) notified the parties that the amount of the IRS’ administrative tax claim would be determined at the confirmation hearing.

Summary of Papers Filed by the Debtor and the IRS Regarding the Amount of the IRS’ Administrative Tax Claim

The Debtor states that he is unable to calculate the exact amount owed the IRS on account of its administrative tax claim because he has not yet filed his 2017 tax return. (The Debtor obtained an extension to file his 2017 tax return and will be filing the return on or before October 15, 2018.) The Debtor proposes to resolve the IRS’ administrative tax claim by disbursing $25,000 to the IRS from the funds now on deposit in the Court’s registry. The $25,000 disbursement is the Debtor’s estimate of his 2017 tax liability and would be credited as a payment for the Debtor's 2017 taxes, such that the Debtor would be entitled to receive a refund in the event that his 2017 tax liability is less than $25,000. The Debtor asserts that the $25,000 figure is conservative, based upon the Debtor's estimate that his remaining projected 2017 tax liability will be $21,655. [Note 1]

The IRS agrees with the Debtor's proposal for resolving its administrative tax claim, except that the IRS contends that it should receive a payment of $36,626.34 from the registry funds. According to the IRS, the figures in the Debtor's declaration show that his tax liability for 2017 is $36,626.34, not $21,655. The IRS' position is that the taxable rate upon the Debtor's income is 28%, not 15%. The IRS further asserts that the Debtor should have made a payment to the IRS of $36,626.34 on April 17, 2018, because 26 U.S.C. §6151(a) requires that taxes be paid when due, regardless of whether the taxpayer has obtained a filing extension. The IRS states that the Debtor's failure to make the $36,626.34 payment on April 17, 2018 may result in the imposition of penalties under 26 U.S.C. §6656.

The Debtor disputes the IRS' position that it should receive $36,626.34 from the registry, arguing that such a payment vastly overestimates the Debtor's tax liability. The Debtor contends that an additional $50,000 in deductions and offsets against his estimated taxable income will further reduce his tax liability. However, the Debtor states that after an extended confrontation with the IRS, he "simply has no more fight in him," Doc. No. 211 at p.3, and will defer to the discretion of the Court regarding the amount to be paid to the IRS from the registry on account of the IRS' administrative tax claim.

Summary of Papers Filed by the Debtor and the IRS Regarding the Amount to Be Paid from the Court's Registry to the IRS on Account of Its Allowed Secured Claim

As noted previously, on March 23, 2018, the Court overruled the Debtor's objection to the IRS' Proof of Claim, and held that the IRS holds an allowed secured claim in the amount of $152,073.43, on account of unpaid prepetition taxes. The Debtor's Plan provides that the IRS' allowed secured claim shall be "[p]aid in full as allowed" from the funds on deposit in the Court's registry upon confirmation of the Plan. The IRS contends that it is entitled to post-petition interest on its secured claim, pursuant to §506(b), because it is over-secured. According to the IRS, the balance on its allowed secured claim, calculated as of August 1, 2018, the estimated Effective Date of the Plan, is $159,521.92, not $152,073.42.

The Debtor objects to paying the IRS post-petition interest on numerous grounds. According to the Debtor, the IRS is not entitled to post-petition interest because (1) its claim for post-petition interest is untimely; (2) delays in prosecution of the Debtor's case have largely been caused by objections interposed by the IRS, as well as the fact that the original Proof of Claim filed by the IRS was excessive and inaccurate, such that paying the IRS post-petition interest would reward its obstreperous behavior during the case; (3) the Debtor offered to partially satisfy the IRS' claim concurrently with the payment of other secured creditors, thereby reducing post-petition interest liability, but the IRS refused to accept the offer; and (4) the IRS has failed to set forth the applicable interest rate, the period for which post-petition is sought, and the principal balance on which the interest rate has been applied. The Debtor asserts that in the event the IRS' claim for post-petition interest is not denied in its entirety, the Court should adopt one of the following alternatives:

- 1) Reduce the post-petition interest by at least 50% because the IRS' objections have delayed resolution of the case and because post-petition interest liability would have been less had the IRS accepted the Debtor's prior offer to partially satisfy its secured claim; or
- 2) Reduce the post-petition interest by at least $506.91, based on the fact that the Debtor stipulated to the IRS' request for a 30-day continuance of the hearing on the Debtor's objection to the IRS' secured claim.

The IRS filed a Sur-Reply in response to the Debtor's objections to its demand for post-petition interest. The IRS states that the Sur-Reply was necessary to correct the following mis-statements made by the Debtor:

- 1) The Debtor's contention that the IRS' demand for post-petition interest is untimely is incorrect. The IRS has asserted its entitlement to post-petition interest as early as February 2018. See, e.g., Doc. - 2) The initial Proof of Claim filed by the IRS was not excessive or inaccurate. When the IRS filed its initial Proof of Claim, the Debtor had not yet filed his Form 1040 for the 2016 tax year. The IRS was required to file an Amended Proof of Claim after the Debtor filed his Form 1040.
- 3) The IRS did not refuse to accept a partial payment from the Debtor on account of its secured claim. SLS, Logan Mortgage, the Dawn Miller O.D. Retirement Trust ..., the ... IRS, and JSC Pacific LLC."

Overview of the Plan's Provisions

As set forth above, the vast majority of claims against the Debtor have already been paid in connection with various settlement agreements. The Plan provides for the payment, in full, of remaining creditors via proceeds on deposit in the Court's registry, except that the Debtor will continue making installment payments to creditors in connection with two automobile loans and a mortgage loan. SLS, which holds an allowed secured claim in the amount of $1,648,975.29, is the only creditor who voted on the Plan; SLS accepts the Plan. The Plan provides that the Debtor will continue to pay the claims of Mercedes Benz Financial Services and Loan Mart, both of are secured by automobiles, in accordance with the original installment schedule. Arrearages on the claim of Ocwen Mortgage Servicing ("Ocwen"), secured by the Debtor's condominium in Palm Desert, will be paid in full upon confirmation, and the Debtor will continue to make payments consistent with the installment schedule. The claims of general unsecured creditors Capital One ($4,921.19 and $1,663.65) and Union Bank ($450) will be paid in full from registry proceeds. As noted, the claims of Rainbow and Service Masters have been settled for $7,500 each; these amounts will also be paid from registry proceeds.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The IRS' Administrative Tax Claim

Section 503(b)(1)(B)(i) provides in relevant part: "After notice and a hearing, there shall be allowed administrative expenses, ... including any tax incurred by the estate, whether secured or unsecured ..." Pursuant to §507(a)(2), an administrative expense claim must be paid in full on the effective date of the Plan, unless the claimant agrees to alternative treatment. §1129(a)(9)(A).

Here, the Debtor and the IRS have agreed to an alternative treatment of the IRS' administrative tax claim. In contrast to the normal procedure contemplated by §503(b)(1)(B)(i), under which the Bankruptcy Court would determine the amount of the administrative tax claim, the Debtor and the IRS have agreed that the tax claim should not be determined until after the Debtor files his 2017 tax return, which is due on or before October 15, 2018. The parties have further agreed that the Debtor's liability on account of the administrative tax claim shall be determined through the IRS' normal administrative review process. The only disagreement between the parties is the amount of the estimated taxes that the Debtor should be required to pay at Plan confirmation.

The Court agrees with the Debtor and the IRS that the liability on account of the IRS' administrative tax claim can most efficiently be determined through the course of the IRS' normal administrative review, rather than by this Court. The Debtor's post-petition tax liability is the only issue that remains unresolved in this case. It does not make sense for the Court to retain jurisdiction solely to adjudicate this issue, as the amounts in dispute are minimal compared to the size of the case. Retention of jurisdiction would cause both the Debtor and the IRS to incur further additional and unnecessary expenses.

Therefore, the Court will not make a final determination regarding the Debtor's administrative tax liability. Instead, the Court will require the Debtor to make an estimated payment to the IRS on account of such tax liability, with such payment to be credited against whatever amount is ultimately deemed to be owed during the course of the IRS' normal administrative process. The Court will not retain jurisdiction to adjudicate any future disputes regarding post-petition tax liability.

In the typical case, it is appropriate for the Bankruptcy Court to be the ultimate arbiter of an administrative tax claim, because in the absence of a surplus estate, any increase in administrative claims reduces the recovery to other creditors. However, this is a surplus case in which creditors are being paid in full. Therefore, the ultimate determination of post-petition administrative tax liability will have no effect upon the overall creditor body. In view of these unusual circumstances, it is more efficient for this Court to refrain from adjudicating post-petition tax liability and to allow such liability to be determined in the manner that the IRS and the Debtor have agreed upon.

The only issue that remains for this Court to decide is the appropriate estimated payment that should be distributed to the IRS from the Court's registry. In establishing this estimated payment amount, the Court makes no findings regarding the ultimate post-petition tax liability. The Debtor asserts his post-petition tax liability is $21,655, and proposes to pay the IRS $25,000. The IRS maintains that post-petition tax liability is $36,626.34. Because the Court is making no findings regarding ultimate post-petition tax liability, the Court will require the Debtor to pay the IRS $30,813.17 from the registry. This figure represents the midpoint between the amount proposed by the Debtor and the amount demanded by the IRS. Averaging the figures is most consistent with the Court's statements that the figure is only an estimate and that the Court is not making any findings regarding post-petition tax liability.

The IRS' Allowed Secured Claim

Section 506(b) entitles the holder of an allowed secured claim that is over-secured to post-petition interest on that claim. The Supreme Court has held that holders of involuntary secured claims—such as the IRS' claim here, which arises from a statutory lien—are entitled to interest. See United States v. Ron Pair Enterprises, Inc., 489 U.S. 235, 240 (1989). Section 511(b) sets the interest rate that must be paid on tax claims.

The Debtor asserts that the amount of post-petition interest to be paid to the IRS should be reduced because the IRS has delayed resolution of the Debtor's case. The Debtor ignores the reality that it was entirely within the IRS' rights to object to actions taken by the Debtor during the case. The Debtor also does not take sufficient account of the practical reality that proceedings under Chapter 11 are often vigorously contested. Having chosen to avail himself of the protections afforded by Chapter 11, the Debtor is in no position to complain about the delays associated with the process. Nothing in the Bankruptcy Code or in cases interpreting the relevant Code provisions permits post-petition interest to be reduced simply because proceedings in Chapter 11 take time.

The plain language of the statute entitles the IRS to post-petition interest on its over-secured claim. The Debtor has identified no legal principles excusing his obligation to pay post-petition interest. Nor is there merit to the Debtor's contention that the IRS waived its rights to collect post-petition interest by failing to timely assert them. As the IRS Sur-Reply shows, the IRS has consistently asserted its entitlement to post-petition interest throughout this case.

The Debtor attempts to blame the IRS for the accrual of some of the post-petition interest, by asserting that the IRS refused to accept the Debtor's offer to partially satisfy its secured claim earlier in the case. The Debtor overlooks the fact that it was this Court that ordered that the net sales proceeds of the Residence remain in the registry and not be paid out to creditors. See Order Setting Hearing on Debtor's Motion for Authorization to Distribute Funds from Escrow [Doc. No. 69] ("The Debtor's request for discretionary authority to pay from escrow the undisputed amounts owed to secured creditors Specialized Loan Servicing, LLC ("SLS"), Logan Mortgage, the Dawn Miller O.D. Retirement Trust (the "Miller Trust"), the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS"), and JSC Pacific LLC ("JSC") is DENIED.").

In sum, the IRS is entitled to post-petition interest on its allowed secured claim, at the current statutory rate of 5%. The balance on the IRS' secured claim, with interest calculated through August 1, 2018, is $159,521.92. The exact amount of post-petition interest to which the IRS is entitled will be calculated by the Court at the time the order authorizing disbursement of funds from the Court's registry is entered.

The Plan is Confirmed

As set forth below, the Court finds that the Plan complies with all applicable provisions of § 1129. The Plan is confirmed.

SECTION 1129(A)(1)

Section 1129(a)(1) requires that the "plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." According to the leading treatise, the "legislative history suggests that the applicable provisions are those governing the plan's internal structure and drafting: 'Paragraph (1) requires that the plan comply with the applicable provisions of chapter 11, such as section 1122 and 1123, governing classification and contents of a plan.'" Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 1129.01[1] (16th rev'd ed.) Chapter 11

1. Section 1122(a)

Section 1122(a) provides that "a plan may place a claim or an interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interests of such class."

The Plan's classification structure complies with § 1122(a). It is appropriate for secured claims to be separately classified; the Plan's classification structure with respect to unsecured claims is also appropriate.

2. Section 1122(b)

Section 1122(b) provides that "a plan may designate a separate class of claims consisting only of ever unsecured claim that is less than or reduced to an amount that the court approves as reasonable and necessary for administrative convenience."

The Plan does not contain any convenience classes. Section 1122(b) does not apply.

3. Section 1123(a)(1)

Section 1123(a)(1) requires that a plan "designate ... classes of claims, other than claims of a kind specified in section 507(a)(2) [administrative expense claims], 507(a)(3) [claims arising during the gap period in an involuntary case], or 507(a)(8) [priority tax claims], and classes of interest." There are no involuntary gap claims because this is a voluntary chapter 11 case. The Plan appropriately classifies administrative expense claims. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(1).

4. Section 1123(a)(2)

Section 1123(a)(2) requires that the Plan "specify any class of claims or interests that is not impaired under the Plan." The Plan specifies that all classes are unimpaired. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(2).

5. Section 1123(a)(3)

Section 1123(a)(3) requires that the Plan "specify the treatment of any class of claims or interests that is impaired under the Plan." As there are no impaired classes, § 1123(a)(3) does not apply.

6. Section 1123(a)(4)

Section 1123(a)(4) requires that the Plan "provide the same treatment for each claim or interest of a particular class unless the holder of a particular claim or interest agrees to a less favorable treatment of such particular claim or interest." The Plan provides the same treatment to claims and interests of the same class. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(4).

7. Section 1123(a)(5)

Section 1123(a)(5) requires that the Plan "provide adequate means for the plan's implementation." The Plan provides for disbursement of funds on deposit in the Court's registry to pay most remaining creditors. The Debtor's Monthly Operating Reports establish that he has sufficient income to make the installment payments in connection with his automobile loans and mortgage loan. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(5).

8. Section 1123(a)(6)

Section 1123(a)(6) provides: "[A] plan shall provide for the inclusion in the charter of the debtor, if the debtor is a corporation . . . , of a provision prohibiting the issuance of nonvoting equity securities, and providing, as to the several classes of securities possessing voting power, an appropriate distribution of such power among such classes, including, in the case of any class of equity securities having a preference over another class of equity securities with respect to dividends, adequate provisions for the election of directors representing such preferred class in the event of default in the payment of such dividends."

Because no securities are being issued under the Plan, § 1123(a)(6) does not apply.

9. Section 1123(a)(7)

Section 1123(a)(7) requires that the Plan's provisions with respect to the selection of officers and directors be consistent with public policy and the interests of creditors and equity security holders. No officers or directors are being appointed under the Plan. Section 1123(a)(7) does not apply.

10. Section 1123(b)

Section 1123(b) sets forth provisions that are permitted, but not required, in a plan of reorganization. The Plan contains certain of § 1123(b)'s optional provisions. The Plan is consistent with § 1123(b).

SECTION 1129(A)(2)

Section 1129(a)(2) requires that the "proponent of the plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." The Court finds that Debtor as plan proponent has complied with orders of the Court throughout the case, and has complied with his obligations under Title 11. Consistent with such obligations, the Debtor has obtained approval of a Disclosure Statement and has appropriately served the Plan Solicitation

Package upon parties entitled to notice.

SECTION 1129(A)(3)

Section 1129(a)(3) requires that the "plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law." As one court has explained:

The term 'good faith' in the context of 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3) is not statutorily defined but has been interpreted by case law as referring to a plan that 'achieves a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code.' 'The requisite good faith determination is based on the totality of the circumstances.'

In re Melcher, 329 B.R. 865, 876 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2005) (internal citations omitted).

Bankruptcy Rule 3020 provides that if no timely objection to confirmation of the plan is filed, "the court may determine that the plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law without receiving evidence on such issues." Here, the only objections to confirmation pertain to the amount of taxes which the IRS is owed. No parties have asserted that the Debtor has acted in bad faith during this case. The Court finds that the Plan was proposed in good faith. Section 1129(a)(3) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(A)(4)

Section 1129(a)(4) requires that "[a]ny payment made or to be made by the proponent, by the debtor, or by a person issuing securities or acquiring property under the plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of, the court as reasonable." Because work in this case has been performed by the Debtor's law firm, no professional fees are sought in connection with the Plan. The Court finds that the Debtor's payment to his law firm of $5,000 in settlement proceeds received post-petition, as reimbursement for expenses associated with mailing out the Plan Solicitation Package, was reasonable. The plan satisfies § 1129(a)(4).

SECTION 1129(A)(5)

Section 1129(a)(5) requires that the Plan disclose "the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the Plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint Plan with the debtor, or a successor to the debtor under the Plan." Section 1129(a)(5)(A)(ii) requires that the appointment to or continuation in office of an director or officer be consistent with the interests of creditors, equity security holders, and public policy. (5)(B) requires the Plan proponent to disclose the identity of any insider to be employed by the reorganized debtor.

No directors or officers are appointed under the Plan. Section 1129(a)(5) does not apply.

SECTION 1129(A)(6)

Section 1129(a)(6), which requires that a governmental regulatory commission with jurisdiction over rates charged by a debtor approve any rate changes provided for in the plan, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(A)(7)

Section 1129(a)(7), known as the "best interests of creditors test," provides in relevant part: "With respect to each impaired class of claims or interests, each holder of a claim or interest of such class has accepted the plan; or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of this title on such date."

Creditors will be paid in full on account of their claims. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(7).

SECTION 1129(A)(8)

Section 1129(a)(8) requires each class to accept the Plan, unless the class is not impaired. No classes are impaired and therefore all classes are conclusively presumed to accept the Plan.

SECTION 1129(A)(9)

Section 1129(a)(9) requires that holders of certain administrative and priority claims receive cash equal to the allowed claim amount of their claims on the effective date of the plan, unless the claimant agrees to different treatment. As discussed above, the IRS, which holds an administrative tax claim, has agreed to alternative treatment of its claim. Section 1129(a)(9) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(A)(10)

Section 1129(a)(10) requires that "at least one class of claims that is impaired under the plan has accepted the plan, determined without including any acceptance of the plan by any insider." Because no classes are impaired, § 1129(a)(10) does not apply.

Chapter 11

Section 1129(a)(11), known as the "feasibility requirement," requires the Court to find that "[c]onfirmation of the plan is not likely to be followed by the liquidation, or the need for further financial reorganization, of the debtor or any successor to the debtor under the plan, unless such liquidation or reorganization is proposed in the plan."

The Plan is feasible. There are more than sufficient funds on deposit on the registry to pay creditors. As noted above, the Debtor's Monthly Operating Reports show that he earns sufficient income to continue making installment payments on his automobile and mortgage loans.

SECTION 1129(A)(12)

Section 1129(a)(12) requires that the Debtor pay all United States Trustee fees prior to confirmation or provide for payment of those fees on the effective date. To the Court's knowledge, UST fees are current. Section 1129(a)(12) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(A)(13)

Section 1129(a)(13), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of retirement benefits, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(A)(14)

Section 1129(a)(14), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of domestic support obligations, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(A)(15)

Section 1129(a)(15) prohibits individual debtors from retaining property unless certain minimum amounts are paid to creditors. Section 1129(a)(15) is satisfied because this is a surplus case in which creditors are being paid in full.

SECTION 1129(A)(16)

Section 1129(a)(16) provides: "All transfers of property under the plan shall be made in accordance with any applicable provisions of nonbankruptcy law that govern the transfer of property by a corporation or trust that is not a moneyed, business, or commercial corporation or trust."

The Plan does not provide for the transfer of any property in contravention of applicable nonbankruptcy law. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(16).

SECTION 1129(D)

Section 1129(d) provides: "Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, on request of a party in interest that is a governmental unit, the court may not confirm a Plan if the principal purpose of the Plan is the avoidance of taxes or the avoidance of the application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933." No governmental unit has requested that the court not confirm the Plan on the grounds that the Plan's purpose is the avoidance of taxes. No securities are issued under the Plan. The Plan satisfies § 1129(d).

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Plan is CONFIRMED. The Debtor shall submit (1) an order confirming the Plan and (2) an order authorizing the disbursements of the funds on deposit in the Court's registry (using Local Bankruptcy Rules Form F 7067-1.1.ORDER.REGISTRY.FUND) within seven days of the hearing. The Debtor must file a Notice of Lodgment of both orders. So that creditors may be paid as expeditiously as possible, any objection to the form of either order must be filed within 24 hours of the filing of the Notice of Lodgment. Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004, both orders shall take effect immediately upon entry.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. Note 1

The Debtor asserts that the capital gain from the sale of the Residence is approximately $152,528. According to the Debtor, his tax basis in the Residence is $2,522,115, based upon the following:

- 1) Land purchase and construction costs in the amount of $2,092,500.
- 2) Various upgrades made during ownership, including:
 - a) Extension of rear patio ($2,545);

- b) Remodeling of master show ($15,200);
- c) Upgrades to garage ($2,475); and

- 3) Costs to repair damages, over and above insurance coverage:
 - a) Repair costs from 2011 fire in kitchen ($96,500); and
 - b) Repair costs from 2015 flood ($196,000).
- 4) Litigation fees incurred in disputes with trust deed lenders and insurer State Farm:
 - a) Lawsuit against first and second trust deed lenders filed in 2010 ($12,000);
 - b) Lawsuit against Wells Fargo filed in 2013 ($32,000);
 - c) Lawsuit against the third trust deed lender filed in 2017 ($11,000); and
 - d) Lawsuit against State Farm in connection with the 2015 flood ($40,000).

Per the Debtor's figures, subtracting the sum of the tax basis and one-time $500,000 credit ($3,022,115) from the net sales proceeds of $3,174,642.94 yields the capital gain of $152,528. The Debtor estimates that the combined taxable income of the Debtor and his wife for 2017 (including capital gains taxes) will be $216,053; after accounting for taxes previously withheld, the Debtor estimates that he owes the IRS $21,655, based upon a 15% tax rate for ordinary income and capital gains.

Response to [Sale Motion] [Doc. No. 677]

- 3) Notice of Consent to [Sale Motion] [filed by Plan Administrator Bradley D. Sharp]
[Doc. No. 679]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on March 21, 2016. From March 21, 2016 to January 29, 2017, the Hon. Thomas B. Donovan presided over this case. On January 30, 2017, the case was reassigned to the undersigned Judge. Doc. No. 325.

On June 9, 2016, the Court granted Liberty's application to employ Lawrence R. Perkins as Chief Restructuring Officer ("CRO"), with such employment effective as of March 28, 2016. Doc. No. 94.

On June 18, 2018, the Court confirmed a Plan of Liquidation (the "Plan"), proposed by Liberty's Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee"). Doc. No. 665. The Plan provides for the liquidation of Liberty's assets, with such liquidation to be overseen by a Plan Administrator. Bradley D. Sharp of Development Specialists, Inc. ("DSI") is presently serving as the Plan Administrator. Mr. Sharp has retained Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones LLP, the law firm that advised the Committee, to represent him in overseeing the liquidation.

Liberty seeks authorization to sell vacant land located at 201 Mel Canyon Road, Duarte, CA 91010 (APN: 8602-018-005) (the "Mel Canyon Property"), free and clear of liens, claims, and interests, to Mai Thon Ly, for $75,000. Prior to September 13, 2016, Lowridge Place, LLC ("Lowridge"), an entity controlled by Lucy Gao, was the owner of record of the Mel Canyon Property. On September 13, 2016, the Court approved a stipulation (the "Turnover Stipulation," Doc. No. 215) executed by Liberty, the Committee, Lucy Gao, various entities controlled by Lucy Gao, and Benjamin Kirk. The Turnover Stipulation required the entity holding title to the Mel Canyon Property to convey the property to Liberty by quitclaim deed, and further provided that such entity released any and all claims it held to the Mel Canyon Property. Lucy Gao failed to comply with her obligations under the Turnover Stipulation to cause the entity holding title to the Mel Canyon Property to quitclaim the property to Liberty.

The Turnover Stipulation states that Mel Canyon LLC ("Mel Canyon"), not Lowridge, was the record owner of the Mel Canyon Property. It is unclear whether this statement was in error or whether the Mel Canyon Property was subsequently transferred from Mel Canyon to Lowridge. Whatever the circumstances, the Turnover Stipulation makes clear that all the properties referenced therein are to be transferred to Liberty, and that all the Gao-controlled entities referenced in the Turnover Stipulation relinquish any claims to such properties. The Court finds that as a result of the Turnover Stipulation, Liberty is now the beneficial owner of the Mel Canyon Property and has the right to prosecute the instant Sale Motion. The Court makes this finding notwithstanding Ms. Gao's failure to comply with her obligation to cause the Mel Canyon Property to be quitclaimed to Liberty.

A Preliminary Title Report conducted by Liberty showed that the Mel Canyon Property is encumbered by a deed of trust recorded in 1966 (the "1966 DOT"). The 1966 DOT secures indebtedness of $15,300. Liberty asserts that the 1966 DOT likely should have been reconveyed, because the Mel Canyon Property was purchased approximately half a century later with no reference to the obligation. Liberty has sent a letter to the trustor, trustee, and beneficiary related to the 1966 DOT in an attempt to clear title, but has not yet received a response. In the event the issue is not resolved prior to the hearing, Liberty requests that the obligation secured by the 1966 DOT attach to the sale proceeds with the same extent, validity, and priority it was entitled to prior to sale.

The Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector (the "LA Tax Collector") asserts an administrative tax claim, in the estimated amount of $6,484.89, and a secured tax claim, in the estimated amount of $9,164.26, against the Mel Canyon Property. The LA Tax Collector asserts that its claims should be paid from escrow.

The Plan Administrator consents to the sale, provided that the net sales proceeds are turned over to the Plan Administrator through escrow, and provided that the Plan Administrator's written approval of the closing statement is required.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(b) permits debtors to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. Debtors must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20.

Liberty has articulated a sufficient business justification for the sale. The sale is consistent with Liberty's confirmed liquidating Plan, will free Liberty of vacant land that continues to accrue tax obligations, and will generate substantial proceeds.

The Court notes that the sales price of $75,000 is lower than the price at which the Mel Canyon Property was initially listed—$149,000. Thom Bluemel, the real estate broker who marketed the Mel Canyon Property, testifies that there was limited interest in the property because it is located on a fault line, making development extremely difficult and risky. The Court finds that the $75,000 sales price is fair and reasonable.

Section 363(f)(3) provides that the Court may authorize a sale free and clear of liens, if the "price at which such property is to be sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property." Regardless of the validity of the 1966 DOT, the sales price of $75,000 exceeds the $15,300 obligation secured by the 1966 DOT. The Court approves the sale free and clear of liens, claims, and interests. The 1966 DOT shall attach to the sales proceeds with the same extent, validity, and priority it was entitled to prior to sale.

Having reviewed the declaration of Thom Bluemel, the real estate broker who marketed the Mel Canyon Property, the Court finds that purchaser Mai Thon Ly is entitled to the protections of §363(m).

The Court finds that the LA County Tax Collector holds an administrative tax claim, in the approximate amount of $6,484.89, and a secured tax claim, in the approximate amount of $9,164.26, against the Mel Canyon Property. (The amounts are an approximation because daily interest continues to accrue.) The tax claims shall be paid to the LA County Tax Collector directly from escrow. The exact amount of interest to which the LA County Tax Collector is entitled shall be calculated based upon the date that the funds are distributed to the Tax Collector from escrow. Liberty shall cooperate with the Tax Collector in the preparation of the proposed order to insure that the precise amounts to which the Tax Collector is entitled are reflected therein, and the proposed order submitted by Liberty shall be approved as to form by the Tax Collector, pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9021-1(b)(3)(C).

Net sales proceeds shall be turned over to the Plan Administrator through escrow, and the Plan Administrator's written approval of the closing statement is required.

Liberty is authorized to pay real estate brokerage commissions, in the total amount of $4,500, from the sales proceeds. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 6004(f), Liberty's representatives are authorized to execute whatever documents and instruments are necessary to effectuate the transfer of the Mel Canyon Property. Liberty is authorized to retain in an escrow account an appropriate amount of the sales proceeds on account of the disputed 1966 DOT. Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h), the order approving the sale shall take effect immediately upon entry.

#1.00 Hearing re: Motion to Use Cash Collateral (2) Granting adequate protection to secured creditors

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

7/13/2018: Tentative Ruling

Subject to any opposition which may be presented at the hearing, the Court is prepared to GRANT the Motion on an interim basis, and hold a further interim hearing on the continued use of cash collateral on August 9, 2018 at 10:00 a.m. The Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral through and including August 9, 2018, as outlined in the Budget and consistent with this tentative ruling. In granting the Motion on an interim basis, the Court finds that the Secured Creditor's interest in the collateral is not adequately protected by an equity cushion in the collateral; therefore, the Debtor shall make an adequate protection payment to the Secured Creditor in the amount of $6,780.32, the amount of the monthly payment on the Loan. See Waye Declaration, Exhibit 27. The Debtor is not authorized to use cash collateral to make payments to Lillian or George Hsu, or to pay pre-petition wages or pre-petition utilities. The deadline for the Debtor to file a motion for authorization of further interim use of cash collateral is July 26, 2018. The deadline to file any written opposition to the further interim use of cash collateral is August 2, 2018.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Fu Kong Inc. (the "Debtor"), filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 26, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor is an importer, wholesaler, and designer of women's apparel under the brands "Lu Lu" and "Shu Shu." The Debtor has 29 years of experience in the industry and has created designs and sold women's apparel under various labels to high end retailers such as Nordstrom, Saks, Lord & Taylor, Dillard's, Macy's, and Stein Mart. Lillian Yu-Li Hsu is the Debtor's president, sole shareholder, and sole director; George Hsu is the Debtor's secretary. The Debtor has six employees including Lillian and George Hsu.

The Petition was precipitated by the Debtor's recent cash flow problems due to a slowdown in business in the last three to six months, and a delayed shipment due to production issues in China which delay resulted in a number of the Debtor's customers to cancel orders. The Debtor's ability to generate income was also interfered with for a few weeks due to the father of George Hsu having an emergency health issue.

On June 1, 2018, the Debtor's secured lender, Cathay Bank (the "Secured Lender"), filed a lawsuit against the Debtor in Los Angeles Superior Court, Case No. KC070342 (the "State Court Action"), for failing to make payments on a business loan, seeking possession of the Debtor's assets and appointment of a receiver, foreclosure of the commercial warehouse leased by the Debtor, and foreclosure of Lillian and George Hsu's principal residence. Other of the Debtor's creditors have also recently began attempting to collect debts.

The Motion

On July 9, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Motion for Order: (1) Authorizing Debtor to Use Cash Collateral; (2) Granting Adequate Protection to Secured Creditors" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 11]. The Debtor concurrently filed the "Application for Order Setting Hearing on Shortened Notice" [Doc. No. 12], which the Court granted pursuant to the "Order Setting Hearing on Cash Collateral Motion" [Doc. No. 13] entered on July 9, 2018. On July 11, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Declaration of Kelvin J. Lo RE Telephonic Notice and Service of Order Setting Hearing on Cash Collateral Motion" [Doc. No. 16].

The Secured Lender is the holder of a promissory note in the total current amount of $1,574,163.00 (the "Loan"), secured by the Debtor's assets including inventory and accounts receivable. The Secured Lender's Loan is also secured by two real properties: (1) the Loan is secured by a second deed of trust on the Debtor's principals' residence located at 1324 N. Vosburg Dr., Azusa, CA 91702 (the "Vosburg Property"), which was appraised at $1.225 million on September 20, 2017, with approximately $975,000.00 in equity to satisfy the Loan; and (2) the Loan is secured by a second deed of trust on the industrial warehouse leased by the Debtor located at 2455 Lee Avenue, S. El Monte, CA 91733 (the "El Monte Property"), which is valued at $2.4 million, with approximately $1.075 million in equity. Based on these figures, the Secured Lender is protected by equity in the approximate amount of $2.05 million on the $1,574,163.00 principal balance of the Loan.

The Debtor has four additional working capital lenders that each have UCC-1 security interests in the Debtor's assets and accounts receivable: (1) Funding Metrics, LLC; (2) Landing Club Corp; (3) Wide Merchant Investment Inc.; and (4) Yellowstone Capital West, LLC (collectively, the "Capital Secured Creditors").

The Motion requests an order authorizing the Debtor to use cash collateral for payment of its ongoing operating expenses. These expenses include pre- and post-petition wages to the Debtor's employees who are critical to the Debtor's ongoing business operations, and an adequate assurance payment to Southern California Edison for the provision of post-petition electricity service. Pre-petition, the Debtor had $15,730.71 in its Chase bank account, which funds are being deposited into the Debtor's debtor-in-possession account. Beginning in September or October 2018, the Debtor projects up to $100,000.00 to $200,000.00 in monthly gross revenue at a 15% to 20% profit margin through selling custom fabrics. The Debtor's six-month "Budget" is attached as Exhibit A to the Motion. The Budget represents the Debtor's best estimate of the necessary business expenses; however, because the needs of the business may fluctuate, the Debtor requests authority to deviate from the total expenses contained in the Budget by no more than 10% and to deviate by expense category without the need for further court order.

The Motion contends that the use of cash collateral is necessary to continue business operations. The Debtor states that, based on the figures set forth above, the Secured Creditor is adequately protected by equity in the Vosburg Property and the El Monte Property, and has an equity cushion of approximately 30.2%. Additionally, the Debtor states that the Secured Creditor and the Capital Secured Creditors are adequately protected by the Debtor's continued business operations because the Debtor will continue to generate revenue and preserve the business.

The UST Opposition

On July 11, 2018, the United States Trustee ("UST") filed the Limited Opposition to the Motion (the "UST Opposition") [Doc. No. 17]. The UST does not oppose approval of the use of cash collateral, but notes that the Motion mentions payments of employee wages and payments for utility services. To the extent that any of the payments of employee wages or payments to Southern California Edison are for pre-petition payroll or pre-petition utilities, separate motions and court approval will be required before any such pre-petition debts may be paid.

The Opposition

On July 12, 2018, the Secured Lender filed the "Opposition of Creditor, Cathay Bank to [the Motion]" (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 18]. The Secured Lender opposes the Motion. According to the Opposition, as of June 29, 2018, the total owing on the Loan is $1,589,689.04. "Declaration of Margaret Waye" ("Waye Declaration") [Doc. No. 18] at ¶ 3; cf. "Declaration of Lillian Hsu" ("Hsu Declaration") [Doc. No. 11] at ¶ 10. Both the Vosburg Property and the El Monte Property are owned by Lillian and George Hsu. Opposition at 3. In addition to the Loan to the Debtor, the Secured Creditor has made two additional loans to the Hsus, personally: a home equity line of credit secured by a first deed of trust on the Vosburg Property, and a commercial real estate loan secured by a first deed of trust on the El Monte Property. Waye Declaration at ¶ 25. The Debtor defaulted on its loan after failing to make the payment due on February 18, 2018. The Loan matured on June 18, 2018. On June 1, 2018, the Secured Creditor commenced the State Court Action, and on June 5, 2018, the State Court entered a temporary restraining order and an order to show cause re: appointment of receiver. Id. at ¶ 9; see also id., Exhibit 6 (State Court Order Re: TRO and OSC). During the period from the issuance of the TRO on June 5, 2018, through June 26, 2018, the Secured Creditor experienced significant difficulties in its attempts to get the Debtor's compliance with the TRO. See generally id. at ¶¶ 11–25. Such difficulties included, among other things, multiple delays by the Debtor's principals of the field examination of the Debtor's records, id. at ¶¶ 11–18, and the Debtor's failure to produce certain documents requested by the Secured Creditor, id. at ¶¶ 18–22. The hearing on the State Court OSC was set for June 27, 2018, and on June 26, 2018, the State Court entered its tentative ruling granting the receivership and related relief. Id. at ¶ 10; see also id., Exhibit 7 (State Court Tentative Ruling). The Debtor filed the Petition shortly thereafter.

The Opposition raises the following issues regarding the Debtor's Schedules:

- (1) Schedule A/B purports to value inventory at $1,400,000.00, but lists the cost of inventory as "0". Opposition at 4.
- (2) On Schedule D, the value of the Secured Creditor's collateral is given as $15,265.00, and the Secured Creditor questions whether this is the true value of the Debtor's inventory or an attempt to deny the Secured Creditor's security interest in the inventory collateral. Id.
- (3) Schedule A/B, ¶ 11, lists the amount of accounts receivable as $3,250.00; however, in written financial statements provided by the Debtor to the Secured Creditor prepetition, the Debtor represented that as of December 31, 2017, it had $1,200,370.78 in accounts receivable. Way Declaration at ¶ 7; see also id., Exhibit 5.
- (4) The Debtor's Statement of Financial Affairs, Part 1, states that the gross sales of the Debtor in 2017 totaled "$1,200,00.00" [sic]; however, in the 2017 Financial Statements provided to the Secured Lender, the gross sales of the Debtor were stated as $6,250,267.00. Opposition at 4.
- (5) The Motion states that the Debtor has "temporary cash flow problems but is solvent;" the Debtor's summary of assets, however, shows that the Debtor has $1,459,729.00 in assets, and $4,550,870.38 in debts. Id.

Chapter 11

The Opposition further contends that the Budget is "fictional and unrealistic," based on the disparity between the Budget's projections and the Debtor's past performance. The Debtor's 2016 tax return shows that the Debtor had gross sales in the amount of $6,167,200.00, and reported cost of goods sold of $4,783,280.00 (77.6% cost of goods). Way Declaration, Exhibit 4. The Debtor's unaudited 2017 Financial statements show that the Debtor had gross sales in the amount of $6,250,267.00, and reported cost of goods sold of $4,898,057.00 (78.4% cost of goods). Id., Exhibit 5. In contrast, the Budget projects gross sales of $855,000.00, with a projected cost of goods sold of $278,000.00 (only 32.5% of the projected gross sales). The Opposition contends that the Debtor's projection that future goods purchased will sell for three times what they cost is completely unrealistic. The Opposition raises additional issues regarding the assumption in the Budget that the Debtor will be able to obtain new credit, as well as significant discrepancies between the Debtor's net profit before taxes in 2016 and 2017 (.9% and 1.7% of gross sales, respectively), and the projected net profit before taxes of 30.7% of gross sales in the Budget. Furthermore, the Opposition contends that the Budget is not supported by documentation or business records, which the Secured Creditor argues—based on the field inspection performed by the Secured Creditor on June 15, 2018, pursuant to the TRO, see Way Declaration at ¶¶ 16–22—is a result of the failure of the Debtor to maintain normal business records. Specifically, the Secured Creditor discovered that the Debtor "maintained no general ledger and that no accounts receivable agings were available, no inventory agings were available, and the Debtor's accounts payable agings appear[ed] to be highly inaccurate" Opposition at 6; Way Declaration at ¶¶ 16, 20, 21, 22. Given the absence of these financial records, the Secured Creditor contends that, when the issue of adequate protection is raised, the Debtor will be unable to support its projections with sufficient documentary evidence.

Lastly, the Opposition contends that the Secured Creditor's interest in the collateral is not adequately protected. The Secured Creditor disputes the Debtor's valuation of the Vosburg Property and El Monte Property. Based on the Secured Creditor's appraisal of the Vosburg Property on May 7, 2018, the Vosburg Property has a value of $978,000.00, leaving gross equity in the amount of $696,258.71 (including a reduction for delinquent property taxes). Way Declaration at ¶ 25; id., Exhibit 21 (Secured Creditor's Appraisal of the Vosburg Property). Based on the Secured Creditor's appraisal of the El Monte Property on May 8, 2018, the El Monte Property has a value of $1,630,000.00, leaving gross equity in the amount of $571,919.35 to secure the Loan. Id. at ¶ 25; id., Exhibit 25 (Secured Creditor's Appraisal of the El Monte Property). Thus, according to the Secured Creditor's calculations, the guarantees of the Loan are secured by real property with total available equity of $1,268,278.06, while the principal and interest balance on the Loan as of June 29, 2018, totals $1,589,689.04, leaving $321,410.98 unsecured by real property equity. The Opposition argues that the Debtor's valuation of the Vosburg property is based on an unrealistic appraisal, which is based upon older and more distant comparables than the Secured Creditor's appraisal of the Vosburg Property. Furthermore, the Opposition points out that the Debtor's valuation of the El Monte Property is based upon a listing price, which does not establish the value of the El Monte Property, i.e. what the property would actually sell for. Lastly, the Opposition states that the Debtor's valuation of the Vosburg Property is not supported by the declaration of an appraiser, and there is also no declaration in support of the value of the El Monte Property.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of Section 363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368-69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. Section 363(c)(2)(B); Section 363(e). A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988).

For the reasons set forth below, the Court finds it appropriate to GRANT the Motion on an interim basis, and to CONTINUE the hearing on the Motion in order to allow time to better assess whether the Debtor will be able to meet its financial obligations. In granting the Motion on an interim basis, the Court finds that the

Secured Creditor's interest in the collateral is not adequately protected by an equity cushion in the collateral; therefore the Court finds that the Debtor must make adequate protection payment in the amount of $6,780.32, the amount of the monthly payment on the Loan. See Waye Declaration, Exhibit 27. The Court will hold a further hearing on the interim use of cash collateral on August 9, 2018 at 10:00 a.m. The Court has questions regarding certain line item expenses in the Budget which lack sufficient detail, and particularly whether the Budget expense for "Wages" in the amount of $26,000.00 includes insider compensation.

The Budget lacks sufficient detail for certain line item expenses, and the Debtor has provided little information to support the income projections reflected in the Budget. First, the Budget includes an expense labeled "Warehouse/Office Rental" in the amount of $10,000.00 per month, presumably for the Debtor's lease of the El Monte Property; however, based on the "Listing Agreement" for the El Monte Property, see Motion, Exhibit C, and the representations by the Secured Creditor in the Opposition, it appears that the El Monte Property is owned by the Debtor's principal, Lillian Yu-Li Hsu, and her husband, George Hsu, as joint tenants. Given this apparent relationship, and in the absence of any information regarding the fair market rental value of the El Monte Property, the Court requires further information in order to ascertain whether the "Warehouse/Office Rental" is an arm's length transaction. The Budget lists an additional expense for "Travel Expense" in the amount of $6,000.00 for the months of July and October, and $2,000.00 for the month of August; however, the Debtor has not provided any information regarding the necessity of this expense or the relationship to the business. Another category of expenses in the Budget is for "Auto Expense" in the amount of $800.00 per month, but the Debtor has not provided any information regarding the nature of this expense to enable the Court to determine, for example, whether funds from the Debtor are being used to pay for the personal vehicle of the Debtor's principal. Additionally, as outlined by the Secured Creditor in the Opposition and based on the evidence submitted in support thereof, there are significant disparities between the Budget projections and the past performance of the Debtor. Coupled with the absence of any documentary evidence to support the projections in the Budget, such disparities raise questions about whether the Budget projections are realistic. These are only a few among many ambiguities in the Budget that require additional detail. Therefore, the Court finds that it appropriate to continue the Motion to a further interim hearing on August 9, 2018 at 10:00 a.m.

Under 11 U.S.C. § 101, and in relation to a corporation, the term "insider" includes the director, officer, or person in control of the debtor, as well as any relatives of the director, officer, or person in control of the debtor. 11 U.S.C. § 101(31)(B). Lillian Yu-Li Hsu is the Debtor's president and sole shareholder, which qualifies as an insider under the Bankruptcy Code. George Hsu, the husband of the Debtor's principal and the Debtor's secretary, also qualifies as an insider under the Bankruptcy Code. Under Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2014-1(a), the Debtor is required to file a Notice of Setting / Increasing Insider Compensation in order to make payments to the Debtor's insiders as defined under § 101(31). Here, it is not clear whether the Budget includes payments to Lillian or George Hsu. See Motion, Ex. 1. The Debtor has not filed a Notice of Setting / Increasing Insider Compensation or complied with the procedures of LBR 2014-1(a). Therefore, the Debtor is not authorized to use cash collateral to make payments to Lillian or George Hsu.

Lastly, as stated in the UST Opposition, to the extent that any of the payments of employee wages or payments to Southern California Edison are for pre-petition payroll or pre-petition utilities, separate motions and court approval will be required before any such pre-petition debts may be paid. Therefore, the Debtor is not authorized to use cash collateral to pay pre-petition wages or pre-petition utilities.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Motion on an interim basis, and CONTINUES the hearing on the Motion to August 9, 2018 at 10:00 a.m. The Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral through and including August 9, 2018, as outlined in the Budget and consistent with this tentative ruling. In granting the Motion on an interim basis, the Court finds that the Secured Creditor's interest in the collateral is not adequately protected by an equity cushion in the collateral; therefore, the Debtor shall make an adequate protection payment to the Secured Creditor in the amount of $6,780.32, the amount of the monthly payment on the Loan. The Debtor is not authorized to use cash collateral to make payments to Lillian or George Hsu, or to pay pre-petition wages or pre-petition utilities. The deadline for the Debtor to file a motion for authorization of further interim use of cash collateral is July 26, 2018. The deadline to file any written opposition to the further interim use of cash collateral is August 2, 2018.

Tentative Ruling:

Subject to any opposition which may be presented at the hearing, the Court is prepared to GRANT the Emergency Motion to Dismiss in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Emergency Motion of Chapter 7 Trustee for Order (1) Dismissing Case Effective Immediately Upon Entry of the Order Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §707(a), (2) Authorizing the Trustee to Reimburse Costs Incurred by Her Firm and to Trustee Resources Group from Secured Creditor's Cash Collateral, and (3) Authorizing Trustee to Return All Excess Proceeds Held and/or Received by Trustee to Debtor [Doc. No. 22] (the "Emergency Motion to Dismiss")
 - a) Order Setting Hearing on Trustee's Emergency Motion to Dismiss Chapter 7 Case [Doc. No. 21]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") seeks, on an emergency basis, an order (1) dismissing this case effective immediately upon entry, (2) authorizing reimbursement of costs incurred by the Trustee's firm and Trustee Resources Group, in the total amount of $1,841.79, from the cash collateral of AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation ("Amerisource"), and (3) authorizing the Trustee to, upon dismissal of the case, return to the Debtor all cash the Trustee is currently holding (approximately $9,377.44), less amounts paid as reimbursement.

iLabPharma, Inc. (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on June 21, 2018. The Debtor operated a retail pharmacy open to the public in Lancaster, California, and a wholesale pharmacy in Palmdale, California that serviced nursing homes, hospices, and similar healthcare facilities. At both sites, the Debtor stored a substantial amount of drug inventory (the "Drug Inventory"), including controlled substances locked in safes.

The Drug Inventory, and other assets of the Debtor, are subject to Amerisource's lien. Amerisource holds a claim against the estate in the approximate net amount of $120,000. The Trustee has determined that the value of the Drug Inventory and other assets is likely less than the amount of Amerisource's claim. Amerisource has not agreed to a carve-out from the sale of the Drug Inventory, and the Trustee has no funds not subject to Amerisource's lien to continue to safeguard the Drug Inventory and the Debtor's patient records.

According to the Trustee, the costs, burdens, and liabilities associated with regulatory requirements relating to the Drug Inventory and patient records far exceed the estate's available assets. For example, to keep the alarm system working at the facilities where the Drug Inventory is stored, the Trustee will be required to pay approximately $600 to Southern California Edison and $59.99 to the alarm company by no later than July 16, 2018. Pursuant to California regulations, before the Drug Inventory can be sold, returned, or destroyed, the controlled substances must be inventoried by a licensed pharmacist, and the pharmaceuticals that are not controlled substances must be inventoried by a pharmacy technician. In addition, the Debtor's patient records must be maintained by a licensed pharmacist.

On June 29, 2018, the Court authorized the Trustee to sell two of the Debtor's vehicles to CarMax, Inc. ("CarMax"). See Doc. Nos. 15–16. However, as a result of title issues with one of the vehicles, CarMax is still inspecting the vehicles and has not delivered any funds to the Trustee.

Based upon the lack of resources available to the estate to continue to safeguard the Drug Inventory and patient records, the Trustee requests that the case be dismissed immediately. The Trustee has conferred with the United States Trustee (the "UST"), who does not oppose dismissal.

The Trustee seeks authorization to reimburse her law firm and Trustee Resources Group, in the amount of $1,841.79, for out-of-pocket costs that have been incurred safeguarding the Drug Inventory. Such reimbursement would come from the $9,377.44 in Amerisource's cash collateral that the Trustee is currently holding.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 707(a) provides that a Chapter 7 petition may be dismissed "only for cause." In Hickman v. Hana (In re Hickman), 384 B.R. 832, 840 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2008), the court observed that the "term 'for cause' is defined in the Bankruptcy Code only by way of a list of three examples—unreasonable delay prejudicial to creditors, nonpayment of filing fees, and not filing schedules—that is plainly incomplete." The Hickman court explained that courts should examine the totality of the circumstances in determining whether "cause" under §707(a) is present. Id. at 840.

Examining the totality of the circumstances, the Court finds that there is ample cause for dismissal of this case. The Trustee has spent 53.7 hours attempting to administer the Drug Inventory. As a result of Amerisource's refusal to agree to a carve-out which would permit the Trustee to sell the Drug Inventory, the estate has no resources available to continue to comply with complex regulations governing the storage, sale, or disposal of the Drug Inventory. The Trustee's investigation has established that it is unlikely that the Drug Inventory can be sold for more than the amount of Amerisource's secured claim. Thus, even if the case were to continue, the likelihood of a distribution to unsecured creditors is negligible. As the Debtor is a corporation that is not entitled to a discharge, there is no reason for the Debtor to remain in bankruptcy if there are no assets for the Trustee to administer.

The Trustee does not cite a statutory basis for her request to reimburse her law firm and Trustee Resources Group from Amerisource's cash collateral. However, the Court notes that §506(c) authorizes the Trustee to surcharge a secured creditor's cash collateral to pay the "necessary costs and expenses of preserving, or disposing of," such collateral. The expenses incurred by the Trustee to safeguard the Drug Inventory have benefited Amerisource by reducing the likelihood that the Drug Inventory would be stolen. The Court finds that it is appropriate to surcharge Amerisource so that the Trustee's law firm and Trustee Resources Group may be reimbursed for modest out-of-pocket costs of $1,841.79.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court is prepared to grant the Emergency Motion to Dismiss in its entirety, subject to consideration of any opposition which may be presented at the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on April 13, 2018. An unlawful detainer judgment against the Debtor was entered on the the complaint for unlawful detainer on June 1, 2018. "Declaration of George Franzen" [Doc. No. 8] at ¶ 7.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. Tentative Ruling:

7/16/2018

On June 25, 2018, Plaintiff submitted a Request for Entry of Default. The Court declined to enter Defendant's default, because the Request for Entry of Default did not contain sufficient information to allow the Court to determine whether Defendant had been properly served. Plaintiff has subsequently submitted all the required information—including a copy of the Complaint, as translated into Chinese, that was served upon the Defendant, and the documents showing compliance with the international treaty governing service upon a foreign corporation.

Plaintiff states that it intends to proceed with obtaining a default, but states that it may take an additional six months for Plaintiff to insure that Defendant has been properly served. Plaintiff requests that a continued Status Conference be conducted in six months.

Pursuant to Plaintiff's request, a continued Status Conference shall take place on January 15, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. Plaintiff shall file a Status Report by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. The Court will enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

7/16/2018

Having reviewed the Joint Status Report submitted by the parties, the Court HEREBY ORDERS as follows:

- 1) Defendants Jetworld, Inc., Jetstart Auto Sports, Inc., and Lea Young Lee have timely demanded a jury trial in this avoidance action, have not filed proofs of claim against the estate, and do not consent to having the jury trial conducted by the Bankruptcy Court. Under these circumstances, Defendants are entitled to a jury trial before the District Court. See Langenkamp v. Culp, 498 U.S. 42, 45 (1990) ("If a party does not submit a claim against the bankruptcy estate, however, the trustee can recover allegedly preferential transfers only by filing what amounts to a legal action to recover a monetary transfer. In those circumstances the preference defendant is entitled to a jury trial."); Bankruptcy Rule 9015(b) (stating that the Bankruptcy Court may conduct a jury trial only if the parties consent).
- 2) All proceedings through and including the Pretrial Conference will take place before the Bankruptcy Court. After the Pretrial Conference has been completed, this action will be transferred to the District Court, which will conduct the jury trial. See generally Sigma Micro Corp. v. Healthcentral.com (In re Healthcentral.com), 504 F.3d 775, 787–88 (9th Cir. 2007) (providing that where a right to a jury trial exists, the Bankruptcy Court retains jurisdiction to hear and determine all pretrial matters, and the action should be transferred to the District Court only once it has reached the trial stage).

- 3) The litigation deadlines previously ordered shall continue to apply, as follows:
- a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 8/16/2018.
 - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 11/27/2018.
 - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 12/27/2018.
 - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 1/15/2019. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel’s responsibility to check the Judge’s self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court’s website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 1/22/2019. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 1/26/2019. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 2/12/2019 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court’s Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
 - h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:

- i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
 - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.
 - iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
 - iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii).
- 4) The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Tentative Ruling:

11/13/2017

Tentative Ruling:

Defendant states that he does not consent to entry of a final judgment by the Bankruptcy Court. However, this non-dischargeability action is a core proceeding in which the Bankruptcy Court has authority to enter final judgment even absent the Defendant's consent. Therefore, final judgment in this matter will be entered by the Bankruptcy Court.

Plaintiff and Defendant having submitted Unilateral Status Reports, the Court ORDERS that the dates previously ordered shall apply, as follows:

- 1) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 12/14/2017.
- 2) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 2/28/2018.
- 3) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 3/30/2018.
- 4) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 4/17/2018. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)

FR. 5-15-18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

7/16/2018

On February 2, 2018, Margaret Tully Imhoff ("Plaintiff"), proceeding in pro per, commenced this action to discharge $166,102.19 in student loan indebtedness, on the grounds of undue hardship pursuant to §523(a)(8). Defendants Educational Credit Management Corporation ("ECMC") and the United States Department of Education ("Education") have both noticed motions to compel the Plaintiff to respond to written discovery for August 16, 2018. Both Motions allege that notwithstanding multiple extensions, Plaintiff failed to respond to written discovery and failed to respond to the Defendants' requests to meet and confer regarding discovery.

In connection with this Status Conference, ECMC and Education filed Unilateral Status Reports. Both Status Reports state that Plaintiff failed to contact the Defendants to prepare a Joint Status Report. On July 6, 2018, the Court issued an Order to Comply [Doc. No. 27], requiring Plaintiff to file a Unilateral Status Report. Plaintiff has taken no action in response to the Order to Comply.

By separate order, the Court will require Plaintiff to appear and show cause, if any there be, why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute and failure to comply with the Court's orders, pursuant to Civil Rule 41(b). The hearing on the Order to Show Cause shall take place on August 16, 2018, at 10:00 a.m., concurrently with the hearings on the motions to compel filed by the Defendants. The briefing schedule on the Order to Show Cause will be set forth in a separate order.

The litigation deadlines previously ordered by the Court shall continue to apply, as follows:

(d),(e)) ,(68 (Dischargeability - 523(a)(6), willful and malicious injury)) ,(02 (Other (e.g. other actions that would have been brought in state court if unrelated to bankruptcy))) (Collins, Kim S.)

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

7/16/2018

Notwithstanding the issuance of an Order to Comply, neither Plaintiff or Defendant filed a Unilateral Status Report as ordered by the Court. Plaintiff is advised that continued failure to comply with the Court's orders will most likely result in dismissal of the action for failure to prosecute. Defendant is advised that continued failure to comply with the Court's orders will most likely result in entry of default judgment against the Defendant.

Plaintiff asserts claims under 18 U.S.C. §157, California Vehicle Code §12500(a), and California Ins. Code §11580.1. These are regulatory and criminal statutes which Plaintiff lacks standing to assert. The Court sua sponte dismisses the claims under the aforementioned statutes, for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. See Omar v. Sea-Land Service, Inc., 813 F.2d 986, 991 (9th Cir. 1987) ("A trial court may dismiss a claim sua sponte under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6). Such a dismissal may be without notice where the claimant cannot possibly win relief.").

By no later than July 31, 2018, Plaintiff must file a First Amended Complaint that does not contain any of the claims that have been dismissed. The Court notes that Plaintiff has failed to file a Proof of Service establishing that original Summons and Complaint were properly served upon the Defendant. Plaintiff must properly serve Summons and First Amended Complaint in accordance with Bankruptcy Rule 7004(e). Plaintiff must file a Proof of service establishing proper service by no later than August 10, 2018. If Plaintiff does not effectuate proper service, the Court will require Plaintiff to appear and show cause why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute.

Upon filing of the First Amended Complaint, the Clerk of the Court will issue a Scheduling Order setting forth updated litigation deadlines, including the date of a continued Status Conference.

The Court will enter an appropriate order.

Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
 - h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
 - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
 - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.
 - iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.

RE: [5] Motion to Use Cash Collateral Notice of Motion and Motion in Individual Case for Order Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral

fr. 4-25-18

Docket 5

Tentative Ruling:

7/16/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This is a continued hearing on the "Motion in Individual Chapter 11 Case for Order Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 5]. For the reasons set forth below, and having received no opposition to the further use of cash collateral, the Court GRANTS the Debtor's Motion, and authorizes the Debtors to use cash collateral on a final basis in accordance with the terms of the Motion. The Deadline for the Debtors to file a Chapter 11 Disclosure Statement and Chapter 11 Plan is September 14, 2018. The deadline for the Debtors to obtain approval of the disclosure statement is November 7, 2018.

Samuel Antonio Acevedo and Lucy Acevedo (the "Debtors") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on April 3, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor owns certain real property located at 6220 Palladio Lane, Fontana, CA 92336 (the "Property").

The Court held a hearing on the Motion on April 25, 2018. The Motion was unopposed. On April 26, 2018, the Court entered the "Order RE: Notice of Motion and Motion in Individual Chapter 11 Case for Order Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral" (the "Cash Collateral Order") [Doc. No. 14], which granted the Motion on an interim basis, continued the hearing on the Motion, and authorized the use of cash collateral through July 24, 2018. Pursuant to the Court's Cash Collateral Order, the deadline to file written opposition to the further use of cash collateral was July 2, 2018. No opposition has been filed as of the date of this tentative ruling. The Court finds that, based on the Debtor's Monthly Operating reports, see Doc. Nos. 19, 20, the Debtor

RE: [8] Debtor's Emergency Motion For Order Authorizing The Payment Of Certain Prepetition Taxes

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

7/16/2018

Tentative Ruling

Subject to any opposition which may be presented at the hearing, the Court is prepared to GRANT the Pre-Petition Tax Motion. The Debtor is authorized, in its discretion as debtor-in-possession, to pay the Taxes in the ordinary course of business.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Emergency Motion for Order Authorizing Payment of Certain Pre-Petition Taxes (the "Pre-Petition Tax Motion") [Doc. No. 8]
- 2) Omnibus Declaration of Randall C. Sultan in Support of Debtor's "First-Day" Motions (the "Sultan Declaration") [Doc. No. 10]
- 3) Order Setting hearing on First Day Motions [Doc. No. 2]
 - a) Proof of Service for First Day Motions and Related Documents [Doc. No. 24]
- 4) No Opposition filed as of the date of the tentative ruling

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Sultan Financial Corporation (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on July 13, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. Randall C. Sultan is the Chief Executive Officer of the Debtor. "Omnibus Declaration of Randall C. Sultan in Support of Debtor's 'First-Day' Motions" (the "Sultan Declaration") [Doc. No. 10] at ¶ 2. incorporated in the State of California on January 27, 1986. Id. at ¶ 4. The "Randall and Patricia Sultan Family Revocable Trust" (the "Sultan Family Trust") owns all the stock in the Debtor, and Randall Sultan is the sole member of the Debtor's board of directors. Id. Since 1997, the Debtor has developed and operated Aaron's Sales & Lease Stores ("Aaron's"), and currently operates sixteen Aaron's stores throughout Southern California (the "Stores"). Id. at ¶ 6. The Debtor and Aaron's have executed a separate "Franchise Agreement" for each of the Stores that are currently open (collectively, the "Franchise Agreements"). Id. at ¶ 27. The Petition was precipitated by changes to the Franchise Agreements, which caused the Debtor's profits to decline, and a subsequent dispute between the Debtor and Aaron's related to these changes. See id. at ¶¶ 29–35. The Debtor is in the "rent-to-own industry" ("RTO"). Id. at ¶ 7. RTO stores, including the Debtor's, rent household goods such as appliances, consumer electronics, and furniture to customers on a weekly or monthly basis. Id. After a prescribed period of months of continuous rental payments by the customer, the merchandise automatically passes to the customer. Id. Approximately 35% of all rental contracts go to term. Id. As of July 2, 2018, the total value of the Debtor's inventory for the Stores was $1,255,700.00. Id. at ¶ 9. The Debtor has approximately 13,040 customers with active contracts, and approximately 20,500 total contracts. Id. at ¶ 10. The aggregate value of the remaining payments due under this contracts is approximately $26,63,000.00. Id. Based on past performance, the Debtor collects approximately 55% of the outstanding lease value, which yields an estimated value for all outstanding contracts of $14,647,000.00. Id. The Debtor typically writes 1,700 new contracts each month. Id.

The Debtor's primary secured creditor is ZB, N.A., successor by merger to California Bank & Trust ("CBT" or the "Lender"). Id. at ¶ 12. On January 4, 2012, the Debtor and CBT entered into a Commercial Loan Agreement (the "CLA"), which provided for a revolving line of credit loan to the Debtor and term loans made by CBT to the Debtor (collectively, the "CBT Loans"). Id. The CLA has been amended fifteen times since January 2012. Id. To secure the payments of all amounts due under the CBT Loans as well as all other obligations to the Lender, the Debtor executed a Security Agreement whereby the Debtor granted the Lender a lien and security interest in all of its assets. Id. at ¶ 13. As of July 13, 2018, the total amount owing on the CBT Loans is $15,556,285.54. Id. at ¶ 15.

The Debtor does not own any real estate; however, the Debtor leases its corporate headquarters and its sixteen Stores (the "Real Estate Leases"). Id. at ¶ 19. Six of the Real Estate Leases are with entities in which Randall Sultan has an ownership interest, while the remaining eleven Real Estate Leases are with unrelated parties. Id. The Debtor also leases thirty vehicles that are used at the Stores for customer deliveries and returns (the "Vehicle Leases"). Id. at ¶ 20.

The Sultan Declaration states that, in addition to the CBT Loans, there are multiple pre-petition unsecured claims against the Debtor. See id. at ¶ 25. As of the Petition Date the Debtor owes the following amounts to its franchisor, Aaron's: (1) $1,457,497.00 for inventory purchases; and (2) amounts due under the certain 2016 promissory note in favor of Aaron's which amounts total approximately $3,214,000.00 (the "Aaron's Note"). Id. at ¶ 21. The Debtor also leases certain equipment and signage from Aaron's. Id. There is currently a dispute between Aaron's and the Debtor, and the Debtor, therefore, asserts that all amounts owed to Aaron's are subject to offset, avoidance, setoff, recoupment, etc. Id. The Debtor has general unsecured non-insider trade claims totaling approximately $282,509.00. Id. at ¶ 22. Additionally, Randall Sultan has, on multiple occasions, loaned personal funds to the Debtor for general corporate purposes, which loans were evidenced by promissory notes (the "Shareholder Notes"). Id. at ¶ 23. The aggregate principal amount due under the Shareholder Notes is $950,000.00. Id.

The Pre-Petition Tax Motion

On the Petition Date, the Debtor filed the "Emergency Motion for Order Authorizing Payment of Certain Pre-Petition Taxes" (the "Pre-Petition Tax Motion") [Doc. No. 8]. The Pre-Petition Tax Motion requests an order authorizing: (1) the payment of pre-petition sales, use, and other similar taxes; (2) payment of pre-petition business and regulatory fees; (3) payment of other taxes or fees that may be imposed by various state and local authorities (collectively, the "Taxes"); and (4) to issue post-petition replacement checks to those persons or entities that received pre-petition checks on account of the Taxes that were not presented or cleared prior to the Petition Date. Id. at 1. The Debtor contends that the discretion to honor the pre-petition Taxes is essential to the Debtor's continued business operations and a successful reorganization. Id.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that the "Proof of Service for First Day Motions and Related Documents" [Doc. No. 24] shows compliance with the Court's order setting this matter on shortened notice. The Court finds that notice is adequate.

business. Additionally, § 363(c) allows a debtor-in-possession to use property of the estate in the ordinary course of business without notice or a hearing. Furthermore, § 363(b) provides in relevant part that "[t]he trustee, after notice and a hearing, may use, sell, or lease, other than in the ordinary course of business, property of the estate." In absence of objections or where business judgment is entailed in the analysis, the position of the trustee is afforded deference. In re Lahijani, 325 B.R. 282, 289 (9th Cir. 2005).

Here, the Court finds that payment of the pre-petition Taxes is necessary to the Debtor's continued business operations, and is in the interest of the Estate and the Debtor's creditors. If the Debtor fails to pay the Taxes, the various taxing, regulatory, and other authorities may take actions that could interrupt the Debtor's business operations. Furthermore, failure to pay the Taxes would result in the Debtor incurring increased interest and significant penalties, as well as expose the Debtor to risk of audit which would have a negative impact on the Debtor's reorganization efforts.

III. Conclusion

In conclusion, based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Pre-Petition Tax Motion. The Debtor is authorized, in its discretion as debtor-in-possession, to pay the Taxes in the ordinary course of business.

The Debtor shall lodge a conforming order within seven (7) days of the hearing.

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that the "Proof of Service for First Day Motions and Related Documents" [Doc. No. 24] shows compliance with the Court's order setting this matter on shortened notice. The Court finds that notice is adequate.

Section 507(a)(4) designates "wages, salaries, or commissions, including vacation, severance, and sick leave pay" that are earned by an individual "within 180 days before the date of the filing of the petition" as a fourth-priority claim. Since Debtor filed its voluntary Chapter 11 petition on October 23, 2017, only wages that were earned by the end of the day on October 23, 2017, are entitled to priority. Additionally, § 507(a)(4) imposes a limit of $12,850.00 for each individual employee for priority status. A leading national bankruptcy treatise explains:

[B]ecause wages are priority claims, courts have often permitted debtors to pay prepetition wage claims in the ordinary course in response to a motion filed by a debtor in possession at the commencement of a chapter 11 case. The ability to ensure that the employees receive their unpaid prepetition salary and do not miss a paycheck is critical to obtaining the stability necessary for the transition to operating as a debtor in possession. If wage claims were not entitled to priority, it would be difficult to justify 'first day' orders approving payments of prepetition wages. There is no clear statutory authority for such first day orders, although a court with some confidence in the debtor's ability to satisfy claims through the third priority could justify the order under section 105.

COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 507.06[2] (16th ed. 2017). Local Bankruptcy Rule 2081-1(a) provides that a motion to pay prepetition payroll must be supported by evidence that establishes the following: "(A) The employees are still employed; (B) The necessity for payment; (C) The benefit of the procedures; (D) The prospect of reorganization; (E) Whether the employees are insiders; (F) Whether the employees' claims are within the limits established by 11 U.S.C. § 507; and that (G) The payment will not render the estate administratively insolvent."

Here the Debtor has proffered sufficient evidence to support the Pre-Petition Wage Motion. The Debtor states that the Employees to whom the Debtor seeks to pay prepetition wages and benefits are still employed. The payment is necessary for the Debtor to maintain its current business operations because the Employees know and understand the Debtor's business operations, and, therefore, are vital to the success of the Debtors' reorganization. See Sultan Declaration at ¶ 45–46. If the Debtor is not permitted to meet its pre-petition obligations to the Employees, the Debtor will suffer hardship and may lose the ability to continue business operations, which will cause harm to the Estate and have an adverse impact on the Debtor’s ability to reorganize. The wages of each of the Employees, individually, for the subject payroll period is less than the amount of the priority claim to which each Employee is entitled under 11 U.S.C. § 507(a)(4). The Debtor has appropriately identified the Insiders who will only be paid after the Notice of Insider Compensation has been served and if no timely objections are filed. Lastly, the Court finds that the payment will not render the Estate administratively insolvent.

III. Conclusion

In conclusion, based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Pre-Petition Wage Motion. The Debtor is authorized to pay priority pre-petition wages as described and requested in the Pre-Petition Wage Motion, subject to the statutory limits set forth in the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor is not authorized to pay Employee Claims for any Insider until the requirements under LBR 2014-1 have been satisfied. The Debtor is authorized to continue to honor the pre-petition employee benefits programs as set forth in the Pre-Petition Wage Motion.

The Debtor shall lodge a conforming order within seven (7) days of the hearing.

notwithstanding, the Debtor proposes to provide adequate assurance to the Utility Providers by making a deposit equal to 50% of one month's utility service, which deposit is based on the average monthly payment for the three most recent billing periods before June 2018 for each respective Utility Provider, see id. at ¶¶ 49–52, into a segregated Debtor account (the "Adequate Assurance Deposits") upon entry of the order on the Utility Motion, with the exception of the City of Porterville, which currently holds a deposit in excess of the amount of the proposed Adequate Assurance Deposit. The Debtor anticipates that the total amount of the Adequate Assurance Deposits will be approximately $8,151.56. Id. at ¶ 52.

The Debtor contends that entry of the order sought will reduce the administrative costs to the Estate by establishing a procedure and process for the Debtor to deal with the Utility Providers. Absent entry of the order sought, the Utility Providers may discontinue service on the date 30-days following the Petition Date. Id. at ¶ 51.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that the "Proof of Service for First Day Motions and Related Documents" [Doc. No. 24] shows compliance with the Court's order setting this matter on shortened notice. The Court finds that notice is adequate.

Section 366(c)(2) provides that a utility companies may "alter, refuse, or discontinue utility service if, during the 30-day period beginning on the date of the filing of the petition, the utility does not receive from the debtor . . . adequate assurance of payment for utility service that is satisfactory to the utility." However, § 366(c)(3) provides that upon request of a party in interest and after notice and a hearing, the court "may order modification of the amount of an assurance of payment" under § 366(c)(2).

In In re Circuit City Stores, Inc., 2009 WL 484553 (Bankr. E.D. Va. Jan. 14, 2009), the court evaluated proposed procedures for determining adequate assurance of payment to utility providers. The Circuit City court concluded that the statute "does not prohibit a court from making a determination about the adequacy of an assurance of payment until only after a payment 'satisfactory to the utility' has been received from the debtor under § 366(c)(2). The first clause of § 366(c)(2) clearly renders the entire section subject to the court's authority outlined in § 366(c)(3). See 11 U.S.C. § 366(c)(2); see also 3 Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 366.03[2] (Alan N. Resnick & Henry J. Sommer eds., 15th ed. rev. 2008) (stating § 366(c)(2) means that the debtor must 'pay what the utility demands, unless the court orders otherwise.')." In re Circuit City Stores, supra, at *5.

The Circuit City court rejected the interpretation of § 363(c)(2) that "concludes that a bankruptcy court may not determine the appropriate amount of adequate assurance until the debtor has first paid whatever amount the utility has demanded." Id. at *3. Such an interpretation, the court reasoned, "is simply unworkable" and "could lead to absurd results." Id. For instance, a utility company might "simply fail to respond to a debtor's offer of adequate assurance, or it may choose to respond on the thirtieth day. In either event, the result would be calamitous for a debtor in the throes of bankruptcy." Id.

"The requirement is for 'adequate assurance' of payment, which . . . need not necessarily be provided by deposit." In re Adelpia Bus. Solutions, Inc., 280 B.R. 63, 80 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2002). "Whether utilities have adequate assurance of future payment is determined by the individual circumstances of each case." Id. "Accordingly, bankruptcy courts must be afforded reasonable discretion in determining what constitutes 'adequate assurance' of payment for continuing utility services." Virginia Elec. & Power Co. v. Caldor, Inc.-New York, 117 F.3d 646, 650 (2d Cir. 1997) (citations omitted).

The Court finds that the proposed procedures and the Adequate Assurance Deposits constitute "adequate assurance of payment" pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 366(c)(2). Any interruption in the utility services may have a significant negative impact on the Debtor's continued business operations, which would consequently reduce the Debtor's revenue and hamper its ability to reorganize. Furthermore, requiring the Debtor to first meet a utility provider's demands for adequate assurance of payment before requesting a court order modifying that request would enable utility providers to subject the Debtor to unreasonable demands. On the other hand, the Utility Providers will not be prejudiced by providing services to the Debtor since the Debtor is current on payments and has sufficient funds to pay all post-petition charges. The Utility Providers are further protected by the Adequate Assurance Deposits and the proposed procedures. The procedures set forth in the Utility Motion adequately identify the method by which the Debtor will calculate the Adequate Assurance Deposit for each respective Utility Provider, and the Court finds that the anticipated amount of the respective Adequate Assurance Deposits ($8,151.56) complies with the requirements of § 366(c)(2).

III. Conclusion

In conclusion, based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Utility Motion. The

The Cash Management Motion

On the Petition Date, the Debtor filed the "Emergency Motion for Order Authorizing Debtor to Maintain Bank Accounts, Cash Management System, and Use of Existing Business Forms" (the "Cash Management Motion") [Doc. No. 5].

The Cash Management Motion requests an order authorizing the Debtor's maintenance and continued use of its existing bank accounts, cash management system, and business forms for an initial 60-day post-petition transition period, subject to the authority to maintain these accounts on a permanent basis post-petition absent an objection by the United States Trustee ("UST"). including its lender, franchisor, depository institutions, and . . . its customers." Id. Furthermore, the Cash Management Motion states that if the Debtor is not granted the relief sought, the Debtor, the Estate, and creditors will be prejudiced by: (i) the resulting disruption in the Debtor's business operations; (ii) potential delay in the administration of the Estate; and (iii) the unnecessary cost to the Estate to set up new accounts and new systems and purchase/print new Business Forms. Id. at 5; see also Sultan Declaration at ¶ 57. To prevent inadvertent cashing of outstanding pre-petition checks by the Debtor's bank, the Debtor will provide the institutions where the Debtor's accounts are maintained with notice of the Petition, and directions that outstanding pre-petition checks are not to be honored in the absence of Court authorization for the payment of such obligations. The Debtor has twenty bank accounts (the "Debtor Accounts"), seventeen of which are with Bank of America, and three of which are with CBT. See id.; id., Ex. 1 (list of the Debtor Accounts); Sultan Declaration at ¶ 53. The Cash Management Motion explains that each of the Debtor's Stores has its own deposit account with Bank of America into which all cash, checks, and credit card receipts are deposited each day. Sultan Declaration at ¶ 53. The balances in the individual store accounts are then swept each day into the certain "Concentration Account" at Bank of America. Id. The amount in the Concentration Account are then transferred each day into the certain "General Disbursement Account" at CBT. Id. Pre-Petition, the Debtor's practice was to notify CBT of the obligations that the Debtor intended to pay each day, after which CBT swept all amounts in the General Disbursement Account that were not needed to pay the identified obligations, and applied that amount to the outstanding line of credit. Id. at ¶ 54. As provided by the Cash Collateral Stipulation, the Debtor seeks permission to modify the above-described practice after the Petition Date to eliminate the daily transfer from the General Disbursement Account to the line of credit balance. Id. Instead, the cash collections will be maintained in the General Disbursement Account until they are paid to creditors in accordance with the budget approved in the order on the Cash Collateral Motion.

The Cash Management Motion additionally requests that the Debtor be permitted to continue to use its correspondence and business forms, including but not limited to, invoices, purchase orders, checks, letterhead, envelopes and other business forms (collectively, the "Business Forms"), without reference to the Debtor's status as a debtor-in-possession. Id. at ¶ 56. II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that the "Proof of Service for First Day Motions and Related Documents" [Doc. No. 24] shows compliance with the Court's order setting this matter on shortened notice. The Court finds that notice is adequate.

11 U.S.C. §§ 1107(a) and 1108 authorize a debtor-in-possession to operate its business. Additionally, § 363(c) allows a debtor-in-possession to use property of the estate in the ordinary course of business without notice or a hearing. Furthermore, § 363(b) provides in relevant part that "[t]he trustee, after notice and a hearing, may use, sell, or lease, other than in the ordinary course of business, property of the estate." In absence of objections or where business judgment is entailed in the analysis, the position of the trustee is afforded deference. In re Lahijani, 325 B.R. 282, 289 (9th Cir. 2005).

The UST Guidelines mandate that all existing bank accounts that a Chapter 11 debtor-in-possession owns, has access to, or over which the debtor exercises possession, custody, or control, must be closed immediately upon filing of the petition. In business cases, a minimum of three new debtor-in-possession bank accounts (general, payroll and tax) must be opened in a bank appearing on the UST's list of approved depositories, with all estate funds kept in these accounts. See 11 U.S.C. §§ 541 and 1115. The Debtor seeks a waiver of these requirements, asserting that closing the existing accounts and opening new accounts will disrupt the Debtor's business and cash flow. Cash Management Motion at 4–5.

Here, the Court finds that the Debtor's maintenance and continued use of the Debtor Accounts, the Debtor's existing cash management system, and the Debtor's Business Forms for an initial 60-day post-petition transition period is in the interest of the Estate and the Debtor's creditors. The maintenance and continued use of the Debtor Accounts, the Debtor's existing cash management system, and the Debtor's Business Forms will facilitate the Debtor's transition to Chapter 11, and will minimize the costs to the Estate.

III. Conclusion

In conclusion, based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Cash Management Motion. The Debtor is authorized to maintain and continue to use its existing bank accounts, cash management system, and business forms for an initial 60-day post-petition transition period. The Court will conduct a further hearing on the continued use of the

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Sultan Financial Corporation (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on July 13, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. Randall C. Sultan is the Chief Executive Officer of the Debtor. "Omnibus Declaration of Randall C. Sultan in Support of Debtor's 'First-Day' Motions" (the "Sultan Declaration") [Doc. No. 10] at ¶ 2. Other members of the Debtor's senior management include Zackary Vandenberg, President, and Gregg Sultan, Vice President and General Counsel. Id. at ¶ 5. The Debtor was incorporated in the State of California on January 27, 1986. Id. at ¶ 4. The "Randall and Patricia Sultan Family Revocable Trust" (the "Sultan Family Trust") owns all the stock in the Debtor, and Randall Sultan is the sole member of the Debtor's board of directors. Id. Since 1997, the Debtor has developed and operated Aaron's Sales & Lease Stores ("Aaron's"), and currently operates sixteen Aaron's stores throughout Southern California (the "Stores"). Id. at ¶ 6. The Debtor and Aaron's have executed a separate "Franchise Agreement" for each of the Stores that are currently open (collectively, the "Franchise Agreements"). Id. at ¶ 27. The Petition was precipitated by changes to the Franchise Agreements, which caused the Debtor's profits to decline, and a subsequent dispute between the Debtor and Aaron's related to these changes. See id. at ¶¶ 29–35. The Debtor is in the "rent-to-own industry" ("RTO"). Id. at ¶ 7. RTO stores, including the Debtor's, rent household goods such as appliances, consumer electronics, and furniture to customers on a weekly or monthly basis. Id. After a prescribed period of months of continuous rental payments by the customer, the merchandise automatically passes to the customer. Id. Approximately 35% of all rental contracts go to term. Id. As of July 2, 2018, the total value of the Debtor's inventory for the Stores was $1,255,700.00. Id. at ¶ 9. The Debtor has approximately 13,040 customers with active contracts, and approximately 20,500 total contracts. Id. at ¶ 10. The aggregate value of the remaining payments due under this contracts is approximately $26,63,000.00. Id. Based on past performance, the Debtor collects approximately 55% of the outstanding lease value, which yields an estimated value for all outstanding contracts of $14,647,000.00. Id. The Debtor typically writes 1,700 new contracts each month. Id.

The Debtor's primary secured creditor is ZB, N.A., successor by merger to California Bank & Trust ("CBT" or the "Lender"). Id. at ¶ 12. On January 4, 2012, the Debtor and CBT entered into a Commercial Loan Agreement (the "CLA"), which provided for a revolving line of credit loan to the Debtor and term loans made by CBT to the Debtor (collectively, the "CBT Loans"). Id. The CLA has been amended fifteen times since January 2012. Id. To secure the payments of all amounts due under the CBT Loans as well as all other obligations to the Lender, the Debtor executed a Security Agreement whereby the Debtor granted the Lender a lien and security interest in all of its assets. Id. at ¶ 13. As of July 13, 2018, the total amount owing on the CBT Loans is $15,556,285.54. Id. at ¶ 15.

The Debtor does not own any real estate; however, the Debtor leases its corporate headquarters and its sixteen Stores (the "Real Estate Leases"). Id. at ¶ 19. Six of the Real Estate Leases are with entities in which Randall Sultan has an ownership interest, while the remaining eleven Real Estate Leases are with unrelated parties. Id. The Debtor also leases thirty vehicles that are used at the Stores for customer deliveries and returns (the "Vehicle Leases"). Id. at ¶ 20.

The Sultan Declaration states that, in addition to the CBT Loans, there are multiple pre-petition unsecured claims against the Debtor. See id. at ¶ 25. As of the Petition Date the Debtor owes the following amounts to its franchisor, Aaron's: (1) $1,457,497.00 for inventory purchases; and (2) amounts due under the certain 2016 promissory note in favor of Aaron's which amounts total approximately $3,214,000.00 (the "Aaron's Note"). Id. at ¶ 21. The Debtor also leases certain equipment and signage from Aaron's. Id. There is currently a dispute between Aaron's and the Debtor, and the Debtor, therefore, asserts that all amounts owed to Aaron's are subject to offset, avoidance, setoff, recoupment, etc. Id. The Debtor has general unsecured non-insider trade claims totaling approximately $282,509.00. Id. at ¶ 22. Additionally, Randall Sultan has, on multiple occasions, loaned personal funds to the Debtor for general corporate purposes, which loans were evidenced by promissory notes (the "Shareholder Notes"). Id. at ¶ 23. The aggregate principal amount due under the Shareholder Notes is $950,000.00. Id.

The Cash Collateral Motion

On the Petition Date, the Debtor filed the "Emergency Motion for an Interim Order: Authorizing Debtor Use of Cash Collateral Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 363; (2) Granting Adequate Protection to Pre-petition Senior CBT Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 361, 362, and 363; (3) Scheduling a Continued Hearing Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 4001; and (4) Granting Related Relief" (the "Cash Collateral Motion") [Doc. in which CBT has an interest (the "Cash Collateral"), on an interim basis, and to grant CBT adequate protection. Cash Collateral Motion [Doc. No. 4] at 2. The Debtor states that the Debtor has an immediate need to use the Cash Collateral to finance the ordinary costs of its operations, make payroll, and satisfy other working capital and operational needs. Id. The Debtor states that the use of Cash Collateral is necessary to preserve the value of the Debtor's business and the Estate. Id. The Debtor and CBT have agreed upon the terms of a "Stipulation for Authorization to Use Cash Collateral Under 11 U.S.C. § 363" (the "Cash Collateral Stipulation") [Doc. No. 4, Ex. 1].

Among other terms, the Cash Collateral Stipulation: (1) sets forth terms pertaining to the authorized use of the Cash Collateral, see Cash Collateral Stipulation at 5–6; (2) the limitations on the use of the Cash Collateral, see id. at 6–7; (3) grants the Lender a post-petition security interest and replacement lien pursuant to §§ 361 and 363(e) in all present and future, pre-petition and post-petition real and personal property assets in which the Debtor holds an interest, see id. at 7–9; (4) provides for monthly adequate protection payments in the amount of $88,027.00, which payment is due on or before the fifth day of each month while the Stipulation is in effect commencing on August 1, 2018, see id. at 9; (5) sets forth terms pertaining to the segregation of the Cash Collateral, see id. at 9–10; (6) sets forth terms pertaining to the maintenance of insurance of the Collateral, see id. at 10; and (7) reporting requirements, see id. at 10–12.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that the "Proof of Service for First Day Motions and Related Documents" [Doc. No. 24] shows compliance with the Court's order setting this matter on shortened notice. The Court finds that notice is adequate.

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of Section 363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368–69 (9th Cir. 1987).

Here, the Court finds that the terms of the Cash Collateral Stipulation comply with §§ 361 and 363. Because the Cash Collateral Stipulation constitutes "affirmative express consent" by CBT to the Debtor's use of the Cash Collateral, the Court GRANTS the Cash Collateral Motion. The Debtor is authorized to use the Cash Collateral in accordance with the terms of the Cash Collateral Stipulation.

Furthermore, the Court finds that the Debtor will suffer irreparable harm absent the interim use of cash collateral. See Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4001. The Court additionally finds that there is a reasonable likelihood that the Debtor will prevail at the final hearing on the use of cash collateral. See §363(c)(3).

III. Conclusion

In conclusion, based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Cash Collateral Motion. The Debtor's interim use of the Cash Collateral is authorized in accordance with the terms of the Cash Collateral Stipulation. The Court will conduct a further hearing on the use of cash collateral on September 18, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. The Debtor must submit further evidence in support of the use of cash collateral by no later than September 4, 2018. The additional evidence shall include an updated budget and updated financial projections. Any opposition to the continued use of cash collateral must be submitted by no later than September 11, 2018.

The Debtor shall lodge a conforming order within seven (7) days of the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3001(e)(4), the Court has issued an order specifying the division of rights associated with Proof of Claim No. 10, asserted by Gerald Goldstein (the "Goldstein Claim"). See Order (1) Finding that PWB Holds the Right to Receive Any Funds or Property Distributed From the Estate on Account of the Goldstein Claim and (2) Requiring PWB to Participate in the Claim Objection Trial to the Extent Set Forth Herein [Doc. No. 591] (the "Rule 3001 Order"). As set forth in the Rule 3001 Order, Pacific Western Bank ("PWB") "is entitled to receive any distribution from the estate that would otherwise be paid to Goldstein on account of the Goldstein Claim." Rule 3001 Order at 2. As further provided in the Rule 3001 Order:

Goldstein remains responsible for defending the Goldstein Claim against the Debtor's claim objection. Placing such responsibility with Goldstein is appropriate given that he has greater knowledge of the transactions underlying the Goldstein Claim than PWB. Nonetheless, PWB shall appear at the Pretrial Conference and trial and shall advise the Court in the event Goldstein's actions in defending the Goldstein Claim prejudice PWB's economic interest in that claim. Any objections of PWB to actions taken by Goldstein in connection with the prosecution and/or settlement of the Goldstein Claim that are not presented to the Court at the Claim Objection Trial shall be deemed to have been waived.

Id. at 2.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Debtor has submitted a proposed Unilateral Pretrial Order (the "Debtor's Pretrial Order"). The Debtor states that Goldstein participated in the preparation of the Debtor's Pretrial Order, but did not sign the order because he had not retained counsel. The Court set this matter for trial on January 30, 2018. Goldstein has had more than sufficient time to retain counsel and prepare for trial. Goldstein's failure to diligently comply with his trial preparation obligations is not cause for further delaying the trial. The Court will sign the Debtor's Pretrial Order.

The Debtor has submitted seven Motions in Limine. Goldstein has not opposed any of the Motions in Limine. For the reasons set forth below, all seven Motions in Limine are GRANTED.

First Motion in Limine

The Goldstein Claim alleges that the Debtor was responsible, under the terms of the The Amadeus Trust (the "Amadeus Trust"), to pay 50% of the costs of maintaining various properties held by the Amadeus Trust. The Goldstein Claim alleges that the Debtor failed to pay her share of the maintenance costs.

In the First Motion in Limine, the Debtor moves to exclude evidence of all amounts claimed prior to December 3, 2008, on the grounds that such amounts are beyond the applicable statute of limitations.

Under California law, an action to recover upon a written contract must be commenced within four years. Cal. Code Civ. Proc. §337(a). The Amadeus Trust is a written contract subject to the four-year statute of limitations. Debts allegedly accrued prior to December 3, 2008 are time-barred. The First Motion in Limine is GRANTED.

Second Motion in Limine

In the Second Motion in Limine, Debtor moves to preclude any writings omitted from the Goldstein Claim, pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3001(c)(2)(D)(i).

Bankruptcy Rule 3001(c) requires that any written materials supporting a claim must be filed with the Proof of Claim. Where a claimant fails to file written materials supporting the claim, Bankruptcy Rule 3001(c)(2)(D)(i) allows the Court to preclude the claimant from relying upon any omitted materials in connection with attempts to enforce the claim.

According to the Debtor, Goldstein has failed to respond to the Debtor's requests to supply additional documents substantiating the Goldstein Claim. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3001(c)(2)(D)(i), Goldstein will be precluded from introducing at trial any written documents in support of the Goldstein Claim that have not been previously provided to the Debtor. The Second Motion in Limine is GRANTED.

Third Motion in Limine

In the Third Motion in Limine, Debtor moves to preclude tabular compilations of amounts allegedly owed by the Debtor that are attached to the Goldstein Claim. The Debtor asserts that the tabular compilations are inadmissible hearsay and violate the best evidence rule. The Debtor notes that the tabular compilation is accompanied by the following disclaimer:

The information provided and the treatment of any financial issues are subject to the review of Mr. Goldstein's CPAs and/or counsel. We are not intending to act as Mr. Goldstein's accountant. The information presented has been assembled by documentation on hand and has not been reviewed by tax professionals on whom we rely upon to correct any omissions, errors, or other presentations.

The Debtor further asserts that no party with personal knowledge of the amounts represented in the compilations has provided an authenticating declaration.

The Court finds that the tabular compilation lacks sufficient indicia of reliability because it has not been properly authenticated. The Goldstein Claim was signed by Goldstein's counsel, who has not provided evidence that she has personal knowledge of the sums reflected within the tabular compilation. Neither Goldstein or Goldstein's accounting professionals have authenticated the compilation. As such, the compilation constitutes inadmissible hearsay. The Third Motion in Limine is GRANTED.

Fourth Motion in Limine

In the Fourth Motion in Limine, Debtor moves to preclude, as prejudicial hearsay, any evidence of payments that are not substantiated by persuasive evidence of tender and receipt. According to the Debtor, the tabular compilation submitted to support the Goldstein Claim contains a large number of voided and reversed transactions. The Debtor seeks to exclude the following:

- 1) Checks written but not tendered;
- 2) Checks tendered, but never deposited;
- 3) Checks deposited, but returned due to nonsufficient funds or a bank hold;
- 4) Checks identified as written from one account, but actually paid from another; and
- 5) Checks written to one payee but deposited by a differing party.

The Court agrees that evidence of payments bearing any of the characteristics enumerated above do not contain sufficient indicia of reliability to be admissible. Accordingly, such evidence will be excluded. The Fourth Motion in Limine is GRANTED.

Fifth Motion in Limine

In the Fifth Motion in Limine, the Debtor moves to preclude, as irrelevant, evidence of amounts lacking a contractual predicate in trust. The Debtor notes that the Amadeus Trust requires that both Trustees (the Debtor and Goldstein) approve trust expenditures, and that the Amadeus Trust further authorizes expenditures of funds only for trust-related purposes. The Debtor seeks to exclude Goldstein from introducing evidence of expenditures if such expenditures were not made in accordance with the contractual provisions of the Amadeus Trust.

The Goldstein Claim asserts that Goldstein spent approximately $11.5 million to preserve assets of the Amadeus Trust, and that the Debtor failed to reimburse Goldstein for her share of such expenditures. To the extent that expenditures were not authorized under the express terms of the Amadeus Trust, evidence of such expenditures is not relevant and will be excluded. The Fifth Motion in Limine is GRANTED.

Sixth Motion in Limine

In the Sixth Motion in Limine, Debtor moves to preclude, as irrelevant and prejudicial, evidence pertaining to trust properties that were sold at a loss. According to the Debtor, Goldstein is not entitled to recover funds expended in connection with properties that were disposed of at a loss. The Debtor asserts that the Amadeus Trust is not an agreement to share co-habitation expenses, but rather an agreement to hold property. The Debtor asserts that as co-trustee, she is not a guarantor or surety, and cannot be held responsible for costs Goldstein incurred in connection with properties disposed of at a loss.

The Court agrees that under the terms of the Amadeus Trust, the Debtor has no obligation to reimburse Goldstein in connection with assets disposed of at a loss. Accordingly, the Sixth Motion in Limine is GRANTED.

Seventh Motion in Limine

In the Seventh Motion in Limine, the Debtor moves to exclude, as irrelevant and prejudicial, the Second Amendment and Restatement of the Gerald Goldstein Revocable Trust that is attached to the Goldstein Claim at p. 62. The Debtor asserts that this document is not relevant because it pertains to a completely different trust than the Amadeus Trust that is at issue.

The Court finds that because the Goldstein Claim is predicated upon the Amadeus Trust, not the Gerald Goldstein Revocable Trust, documents pertaining to the Gerald Goldstein Revocable Trust are not relevant. The Seventh Motion in Limine is GRANTED.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Court will sign the Debtor's Pretrial Order. The seven

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

7/16/2018

The parties have not submitted a Joint Pretrial Stipulation. The Court has reviewed the Unilateral Pretrial Orders submitted by both the Plaintiff and Defendant.

Plaintiff has not conducted any discovery in this action. Plaintiff's position is that the State Court Judgment establishing the indebtedness alleged to be non-dischargeable is entitled to preclusive effect. Plaintiff asserts that according the State Court Judgment preclusive effect compels entry of judgment in Plaintiff's favor.

The Court finds that this matter can be most efficiently resolved by way of a Motion for Summary Judgment. The trial, set for the week of July 30, 2018, is VACATED. Plaintiff shall file a Motion for Summary Judgment by no later than August 17, 2018. In the event that Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment does not resolve this matter, the Court will set a continued trial date.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. #113.00 HearingRE: [428] U.S. Trustee Motion to dismiss or convert or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee with an Order Directing Payment of Quarterly Fees and for Judgment Thereon . (united states trustee (hy))

Docket 428

Tentative Ruling:

7/16/2018

Having reviewed the United States Trustee's Motion, the Debtor's Opposition, and relevant documents, for the reasons set forth herein, the Court DENIES the United States Trustee's Motion in its entirety. The Debtor must remain in full and timely compliance with the United States Trustee requirements as set forth in more detail below.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Motion Under 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(1) to Convert, Dismiss or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee with an Order Directing Payment of Quarterly Fees and For Judgment Thereon ("Motion") [Doc. No. 428]
- 2) Debtor's Response to the Motion [Doc. No. 433]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Deborah Earle (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on December 9, 2012 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Court entered the "Order Confirming Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization" on April 25, 2016 [Doc. No. 387].

The Motion

The United States Trustee ("UST") filed the "Motion Under 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b) (1) to Convert, Dismiss or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee with an Order Directing Payment of Quarterly Fees and For Judgment Thereon" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 160] on June 13, 2018. The Motion seeks to Convert, Dismiss or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee. The Motion states that the Debtor has failed to comply with the requirements of the United States Trustee Chapter 11 Notices and Guides, the Bankruptcy Code and/or Local Rules by failing to provide documents, financial reports or attend requested meetings as follows: (1) the Debtor has failed to file the required Quarterly Post-Confirmation Status Report for the period March 31, 2018 (the "March Quarterly Status Report"); and (2) the Debtor has failed to pay quarterly fees for the second quarter 2018, and fees for the second quarter 2018 continue to accrue.

Based on a review of the Debtor's Schedules, the UST believes that conversion is in the best interest of creditors because it appears that there are assets that a trustee can readily administer in a Chapter 7 case. Alternatively, the UST requests that the Court order that the Debtor remain in full and timely compliance with the UST requirements.

The Opposition

On July 11, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Response to [the Motion]" (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 433]. The Opposition contends that the Debtor has submitted the required March Quarterly Status Report, as well as payment of the second quarter 2018 fees. The March Quarterly Status Report was submitted to the UST on or about July 2, 2018. Opposition at 2; see also id. at Ex. A. With regards to the payment of the second quarter 2018 fees, a check in the amount of $650.00 dated July 9, 2018, was mailed to the UST's. Id., Ex. B.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under § 1112(b), the Court shall dismiss or convert a case to one under Chapter 7 upon a showing of "cause." Section 1112(b)(4) provides a nonexclusive list of factors that constitute "cause." Having considered the Motion, the Opposition, and relevant documents, the Court finds that, in light of the Debtor having submitted the missing document, and having paid the second quarter 2018 fees, the relief sought by the UST is not appropriate at this time. Therefore, the Court DENIES the UST's Motion. However, the Court orders that the Debtor must remain in full and timely compliance with the United States Trustee requirements as set forth below.

Terms of Continuing Compliance

The Debtor will remain in full and timely compliance with all UST Guideline Requirements. If the Debtor becomes delinquent in any of the UST reporting requirements, the UST may provide one-time written notice of delinquency to the Debtors' counsel of record to cure the deficiencies in the reporting requirements within seven (7) calendar days. If such deficiencies are not cured within seven (7) calendar

7/16/2018

The Court has previously continued the Pretrial Conference in this action based upon a finding that resolution of the Chapter 11 case of Crystal Waterfalls, LLC ("Crystal") may resolve this action. See Order Continuing Pretrial Conference Pending Confirmation of Crystal Waterfalls, LLC's Chapter 11 Plan [Doc. No. 26]. On June 8, 2018, the Court entered an Order Approving Motion for Structured Dismissal of Chapter 11 Case [Bankr. Doc. No. 478] (the "Approval Order") in Crystal's bankruptcy case. The Approval Order provides that the structured dismissal of Crystal's Chapter 11 case shall occur through a two-step process. First, Crystal shall be required to make payments to various creditors. Once satisfactory evidence of those payments has been received, the case will be dismissed.

Not all payments contemplated by the Approval Order have been made, and Crystal's Chapter 11 case remains pending. Accordingly, the Pretrial Conference is CONTINUED to September 11, 2018, at 10:00 a.m., and shall be converted to a Status Conference. The Plan Administrator appointed in the Chapter 11 case of Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty"), which is now pursuing this action as the successor in interest to the Plaintiff, shall file a Status Report by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

Chapter 7

On November 10, 2015, Moysey Chernyavsky ("Chernyavsky") filed a Second Amended Complaint for Malicious Prosecution (the "Malicious Prosecution Complaint") against Michael Dekhtyar ("Dekhtyar") in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "LASC"). Chernyavsky alleged that Dekhtyar had engaged in malicious prosecution in connection with three actions: (1) Chernyavsky v. Dekhtyar, LASC Case No. BC440114 (filed June 21, 2010); (2) Dekhtyar v. Cothran and Chernyavsky, LASC Case No. BC460343 (filed April 27, 2011); and (3) Sanchez v. Dekhtyar, LASC Case No. TC26535 (filed June 6, 2012).

On February 29, 2016, the LASC entered judgment in Chernyavsky's favor in the Malicious Prosecution Complaint, in the amount of $25,500 (the "Malicious Prosecution Judgment"). The LASC found that Dekhtyar had engaged in malicious prosecution in connection with a cross-complaint that Dekhtyar had filed in the BC440114 action. The LASC did not find that Dekhtyar had engaged in malicious prosecution with respect to the BC460343 or TC26535 actions.

On May 23, 2018, the California Court of Appeal for the Second Appellate District (the "California Appellate Court" or "Appellate Court") issued a lengthy opinion affirming the Malicious Prosecution Judgment [Doc. No. 38] (the "Affirmance"). Pursuant to California Rules of Court ("CRC") §8.500(e)(1) and 8.264(b)(1), the deadline for Dekhtyar to seek review before the California Supreme Court was forty days after issuance of the Affirmance—or July 2, 2018. Dekhtyar has not sought review before the California Supreme Court, so the California Appellate Court's affirmance of the Malicious Prosecution Judgment is now final.

In the Affirmance, the California Appellate Court concluded that "substantial evidence" [Note 1] supported the LASC's finding that Dekhtyar's litigation against Chernyavsky was motivated by hostility and a desire to retaliate:

[T]he court could reasonably infer that [Dekhtyar's] cross-complaint was actuated by hostility, rather than to secure relief for the claims he actually asserted.

The record also contains a significant amount of evidence that Dekhtyar felt animosity toward Chernyavsky based on their prior business dealings, which provided a motive to engage in malicious, retaliatory conduct. First, as noted, Chernyavsky had previously voted to remove Dekhtyar from his position as president of the Huntington Restaurant Group after concluding that he had improperly withdrawn funds from the company. Dekhtyar denied those claims at trial, and contended he should not have been removed from his position at Huntington. Second, Dekhtyar's declaration and trial testimony make clear that he held Chernyavsky responsible for the losses he incurred in the failed barbeque restaurant venture. His declaration asserts that Chernyavsky had encouraged him to invest in Herman Cothran's smoker technology, and then declined to assist him when the Hermans restaurant began failing. Third, the evidence showed Chernyavsky had seized control of Dekhtyar's ownership interest in Verax after he defaulted on the SBA loan and the promissory note. In his declaration, Dekhtyar contended that Chernyavsky had "forced [him] out" of Verax, which was his "last hope to maintain a source of income." Finally, in June of 2010, Chernyavsky filed his breach of contract claims against Dekhtyar seeking repayment of the promissory note. Chernyavsky testified that shortly after he filed his complaint, Dekhtyar had physically threatened him, telling him that he would "put him in a wheelchair." The court could reasonably infer from this evidence that Dekhtyar was extremely hostile toward Chernyavsky as a result of their past business dealings, and that he had filed the cross-claims as a retaliatory measure.

Affirmance at 26–27.

The California Appellate Court further concluded that substantial evidence supported the trial court's finding "that the factual allegations underlying Dekhtyar's cross-complaint were false, and that he knew they were false." Affirmance at 25. The California Appellate Court observed that it "is well-established that 'malice [can] be inferred from [the plaintiff's] knowingly false allegations.'" Id. (citing Nunez v. Pennisi, 241 Cal. App. 4th 861, 878, 193 Cal. Rptr. 3d 912, 927 (Cal. Ct. App. 2015)).

On August 18, 2017, Chernyavsky filed the instant action, alleging that the indebtedness established by the Malicious Prosecution Judgment is non-dischargeable pursuant to §523(a)(6). On March 7, 2018, Chernyavsky moved for summary judgment, arguing that Dekhtyar was precluded from contesting his liability under § 523(a)(6), because the elements of a malicious prosecution claim mirror those of a § 523(a)(6) action. On April 24, 2018, the Court denied without prejudice Chernyavsky's motion for summary judgment. At that time, the appeal of the Malicious Prosecution Judgment was still pending. The Court explained that under California law, the pending appeal meant that the Malicious Prosecution Judgment was not final for issue preclusion purposes. See Franklin & Franklin v. 7-Eleven Owners for Fair Franchising, 85 Cal. App. 4th 1168, 1174, 102 Cal. Rptr. 2d 770, 774 (2000) ("Unlike the federal rule and that of several states, in California the rule is that the finality required to invoke the preclusive bar of res judicata is not achieved until an appeal from the trial court judgment has been exhausted or the time to appeal has expired."). As a result, the Court could not accord preclusive effect to the Malicious Prosecution Judgment. The Court emphasized that once the Malicious Prosecution Judgment became final, Chernyavsky could bring a renewed motion for summary judgment. See Final Ruling Denying Motion for Summary Judgment Without Prejudice [Doc. No. 32] at pp. 6–7.

Now that the Malicious Prosecution Judgment has become final, Chernyavsky brings a renewed motion for summary judgment, again arguing that the Malicious Prosecution Judgment precludes Dekhtyar from contesting liability under §523(a)(6).

Dekhtyar disputes Chernyavsky's contention that the Malicious Prosecution Judgment is entitled to preclusive effect. According to Dekhtyar, nothing in the California Appellate Court's Affirmance of the Judgment establishes that Dekhtyar intended to injure Chernyavsky, had a desire to injure Chernyavsky, or believed injury to Chernyavsky was likely to occur. Thus, Dekhtyar argues, he cannot be precluded from contesting the willfulness element of §523(a)(6). Dekhtyar cites Arden v. Silas (In re Arden), 2015 WL 4068962 (9th Cir. BAP July 2, 2015), an unpublished opinion, for the proposition that a California judgment for malicious prosecution lacks preclusive effect. The Arden court reasoned that "[w]illfulness is not a separate and distinct element of the tort of malicious prosecution," and noted that under California law, "[m]erely because a tort is classified as intentional does not mean that any injury caused by the tortfeasor is willful." Arden, 2015 WL 4068962, at *11 (citing Ditto v. McCurdy, 510 F.3d 1070, 1078 (9th Cir. 2007)).

In his Reply to Dekhtyar's Opposition, Chernyavsky argues that the California Court of Appeal made specific findings that Dekhtyar engaged in the litigation with the intent to cause injury. Chernyavsky cites the California Appellate Court's determination that the record contained ample evidence that Dekhtyar's cross-complaint "was actuated by hostility" and that "Dekhtyar felt animosity toward Chernyavsky based on their prior business dealings, which provide a motive to engage in malicious, retaliatory conduct." Affirmance at 26–27.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Summary judgment is appropriate "if the movant shows that there is no genuine dispute as to any material facts and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Civil Rule 56 (made applicable to these proceedings by Bankruptcy Rule 7056). The moving party has the burden of establishing the absence of a genuine issue of material fact and that it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Celotex Corp. v.

Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 323 (1986). "[S]ummary judgment will not lie if the dispute about a material fact is "genuine," that is, if the evidence is such that a reasonable jury could return a verdict for the nonmoving party." Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248 (1986). "A fact is 'material' only if it might affect the outcome of the case[.]" Fresno Motors, LLC v. Mercedes Benz USA, LLC, 771 F.3d 1119, 1125 (9th Cir. 2014). If the moving party shows the absence of a genuine issue of material fact, the nonmoving party must "go beyond the pleadings and by her own affidavits, or by the 'depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file,' designate 'specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial.'" Celotex, 477 U.S. at 324 (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(e)). The court is "required to view all facts and draw all reasonable inferences in favor of the nonmoving party" when reviewing the Motion. Brosseau v. Haugen, 543 U.S. 194, 195 n.2 (2004).

To determine the preclusive effect of an existing state court judgment, the "bankruptcy court must apply the forum state's law of issue preclusion." Plyam v. Precision Development, LLC (In re Plyam), 530 B.R. 452, 462 (9th Cir. BAP 2015). California preclusion law requires that:

- 1) The issue sought to be precluded from relitigation is identical to that decided in a former proceeding;
- 2) The issue was actually litigated in the former proceeding;
- 3) The issue was necessarily decided in the former proceeding;
- 4) The decision in the former proceeding is final and on the merits; and
- 5) The party against whom preclusion is sought was the same as, or in privity with, the party to the former proceeding.

Lucido v. Super. Ct., 795 P.2d 1223, 1225 (Cal. 1990).

Even if all five elements are satisfied, preclusion is appropriate "only if application of preclusion furthers the public policies underlying the doctrine." Harmon v. Kobrin (In re Harmon), 250 F.3d 1240, 1245 (9th Cir. 2001) (citing Lucido v. Super. Ct., 795 P.2d at 1225). In California, the public policies supporting preclusion are "preservation of the integrity of the judicial system, promotion of judicial economy, and protection of litigants from harassment by vexatious litigation." Lucido, 795 P.2d at 1227.

As discussed above, the Malicious Prosecution Judgment is now final. Dekhtyar has not sought review before the California Supreme Court, and his deadline to do so expired on July 2, 2018. See CRC §§8.500(e)(1) and 8.264(b)(1). There is privity between the parties, and as the California Appellate Court's Affirmance reflects, the matters at issue were actually litigated and necessarily decided.

Chapter 7

The key dispute concerns the first element—whether the issue sought to be precluded from relitigation is identical to that decided in the prior state court proceedings. [Note 2] To resolve this dispute, the Court must determine whether the Malicious Prosecution Judgment establishes that Dekhtyar committed "willful and malicious injury" against Chernyavsky within the meaning of §523(a)(6).

"Section 523(a)(6) excepts from discharge debts arising from a debtor's 'willful and malicious' injury to another person or to the property of another. The 'willful' and 'malicious' requirements are conjunctive and subject to separate analysis." Plyam v. Precision Development, LLC (In re Plyam), 530 B.R. 456, 463 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 2015) (internal citations omitted).

An injury is "willful" when "a debtor harbors 'either subjective intent to harm, or a subjective belief that harm is substantially certain.'" The injury must be deliberate or intentional, 'not merely a deliberate or intentional act that leads to injury.'" Id. at 463 (internal citations omitted). When determining intent, there is a presumption that the debtor knows the natural consequences of his actions. Ormsby v. First Am. Title Co. of Nevada (In re Ormsby), 591 F.3d 1199, 1206 (9th Cir. 2010). An injury is "malicious" if it "involves '(1) a wrongful act, (2) done intentionally, (3) which necessarily causes injury, and (4) is done without just cause or excuse.'" Carrillo v. Su (In re Su), 290 F.3d 1140, 1146–47 (9th Cir. 2002) (internal citations omitted). "Within the plain meaning of this definition, it is the wrongful act that must be committed intentionally rather than the injury itself." Jett v. Sicroff (In re Sicroff), 401 F.3d 1101, 1106 (9th Cir. 2005).

Under California law, to "establish a cause of action for malicious prosecution, a plaintiff must demonstrate that the prior action (1) was initiated by or at the direction of the defendant and legally terminated in the plaintiff's favor, (2) was brought without probable cause, and (3) was initiated with malice." Siebel v. Mittlesteadt, 41 Cal. 4th 735, 740, 161 P.3d 527, 530 (Cal. 2007). "In the context of the tort of malicious prosecution, malice 'refers to an improper motive for bringing the prior action.' '[T]he cases speak of malice as being present when a suit is actuated by hostility[,] ... ill will, or for some purpose other than to secure relief' or where a plaintiff 'asserts a claim with knowledge of its falsity.'" Nunez v. Pennisi, 241 Cal.App.4th 861, 877, 193 Cal.Rptr.3d 912, 926 (Cal. Ct. App. 2015) (emphasis in original; internal citations omitted).

Here, the Malicious Prosecution Judgment precludes Dekhtyar from contesting that he committed "willful and malicious injury" to Chernyavsky within the meaning of §523(a)(6). With respect to willfulness, the decisions of the LASC and Appellate Court establish that Dekhtyar harbored a subjective intent to injure Chernyavsky. The California Appellate Court observed that substantial evidence supported the LASC's finding that Dekhtyar's "cross-complaint was actuated by hostility, rather than to secure relief for the claims he actually asserted." Affirmance at 26. The Appellate Court noted that the record contained "a significant amount of evidence that Dekhtyar felt animosity toward Chernyavsky based on their prior business dealings, which provided a motive to engage in malicious, retaliatory conduct." Id. This evidence included (1) Dekhtyar's resentment that Chernyavsky had voted to remove him as president of Huntington Restaurant Group; (2) Dekhtyar's testimony that he blamed Chernyavsky for losses Dekhtyar incurred in a failed barbeque venture; and (3) Dekhtyar's threat that he would "put [Chernyavsky] in a wheelchair." Id. Based upon all this evidence, the Appellate Court stated that substantial evidence supported the LASC's inference that "Dekhtyar was extremely hostile toward Chernyavsky as a result of their past business dealings, and that he ... filed the cross-claims as a retaliatory measure." Id. In short, the trial court's Malicious Prosecution Judgment, and the Appellate Court's subsequent affirmance, establish that Dekhtyar's purpose in commencing the litigation was to injure Chernyavsky.

Dekhtyar mistakenly relies upon In re Arden for the proposition that a malicious prosecution judgment does not establish "willfulness" for purposes of §523(a)(6). The Arden court noted that under California law, the "malice required in malicious prosecution 'is not limited to actual hostility or will toward [the] plaintiff but exists when the proceedings are instituted primarily for an improper purpose.'" Arden, 2015 WL 4068962 at *9. As a result, "in a malicious prosecution action, the proof may or may not establish a willful intent to injure on the part of the defendant." Id. at *10. The Arden court conducted a thorough review of the instructions provided to the jury responsible for the malicious prosecution verdict. Id. at *10–11. Unfortunately, that review shed no light on the jury's precise reasons for finding that the debtor acted with malice. The jury's malice finding could have been based on a determination that the debtor acted with hostility or ill will; alternatively, the finding could have been based on a determination that the debtor acted for an improper purpose. Id. This lack of clarity made it impossible for the Arden court to hold that on the record before it, the malicious prosecution judgment precluded the debtor from contesting that he had acted willfully within the meaning of §523(a)(6). Id. at *10–12.

In stark contrast to the situation faced by the Arden court, the record here contains a detailed explanation of the reasons underlying the Malicious Prosecution Judgment. Those findings, quoted above, clearly establish that the Judgment was predicated upon a determination that Dekhtyar acted with the intent to inflict injury upon Chernyavsky. As Arden acknowledged, in a malicious prosecution action, "the proof may or may not establish a willful intent to injure on the part of the defendant." Id. at *10. Here, there is abundant proof of Dekhtyar's willful intent to injure. Contrary to Dekhtyar's contention, Arden does not prevent the Court from according preclusive effect to the Malicious Prosecution Judgment.

The state court record also establishes that Dekhtyar's conduct was "malicious" for purposes of §523(a)(6). As found by the trial court and affirmed by the Appellate Court, the filing of the cross-complaint was tortious and therefore qualified as a wrongful act. As discussed, Dekhtyar's commencement of the litigation was intentional. Dekhtyar's decision to prosecute an action containing allegations which he "knew ... were false," Affirmance at 25, is an act which necessarily causes injury. Finally, there was no just cause or excuse for Dekhtyar's actions.

Having found that all five elements of issue preclusion are satisfied, the Court must determine whether the "application of preclusion furthers the public policies underlying the doctrine," Harmon, 250 F.3d at 1245—namely, "preservation of the integrity of the judicial system, promotion of judicial economy, and protection of litigants from harassment by vexatious litigation," Lucido, 795 P.2d at 1227. Applying preclusion law preserves the integrity of the judicial system by giving full effect to a judgment that was obtained after both parties were afforded full opportunity to litigate the matter. Preclusion promotes judicial economy by obviating the need for a duplicative and unnecessary trial. The avoidance of an unnecessary trial promotes the public policy against vexatious litigation.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, Chernyavsky's renewed Motion for Summary Judgment is GRANTED. All future hearings and litigation deadlines in this action are VACATED. Within seven days of the hearing, Chernyavsky shall submit (1) a proposed order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference and (2) a proposed judgment. (For purposes of the separate document rule, set forth in Civil Rule 58(a), both an order and a judgment must be submitted.)

judgment (1) enjoining Defendants from foreclosing upon his residential property (the "Property") and requiring Defendants to modify Plaintiff's loan; (2) requiring Defendants to provide Plaintiff all paperwork pertaining to Plaintiff's loan; (3) requiring Defendants to submit a proof of claim in Plaintiff's underlying Chapter 7 bankruptcy case; and (4) requiring Defendants to provide to Plaintiff all records pertaining to any payments that Defendants have received on account of Plaintiff's loan.

On June 12, 2018, the Court issued an order requiring Plaintiff to show cause why this action should not be dismissed, pursuant to Civil Rule 12(b)(6), for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted [Doc. No. 12] (the "Order to Show Cause"). The Court made the following preliminary findings:

Here, the Complaint fails to allege specific facts showing that the Defendants are not entitled to exercise their remedies with respect to the Property, including foreclosure. Instead, the Complaint alleges only that Plaintiff "suspects" that Defendant Shellpoint Mortgage Servicing does "not own the note of the trust deed in question ..." This threadbare, conclusory allegation does not allow the court to reasonably draw the inference that Plaintiff is entitled to an injunction barring the Defendants from foreclosing upon the Property.

The Complaint is similarly deficient with respect to Plaintiff's claim that the Court should order Defendants to modify Plaintiff's mortgage loan. No specific facts are alleged showing that Defendants are required, by the terms of the underlying Note and Deed of Trust, to enter into a loan modification agreement with the Plaintiff. The Complaint suffers the same defect with respect to the claim seeking an order requiring the Defendants to provide Plaintiff all paperwork pertaining to the Note and Deed of Trust. No specific facts are alleged showing that any provision of the Note or Deed of Trust requires Defendants to provide to Plaintiff (a) documents pertaining to the loan or (b) documents pertaining to payments that Plaintiff has made in connection with the loan.

Finally, the Complaint's request that Defendants be required by file a proof of claim in Plaintiff's underlying Chapter 7 bankruptcy case fails as a matter of law because nothing in the Bankruptcy Code or Bankruptcy Rules imposes an obligation upon creditors to file a proof of claim. Section 501(a) provides that a "creditor ... may file a proof of claim"; it does not state that a creditor must file a proof of claim.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Civil Rule 41(a) allows a Plaintiff to voluntarily dismiss an action by filing a Notice of Dismissal before the opposing party serves either an answer or motion for summary judgment. Chapter 11

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Beverly Hills South Pacific Surgery Center, Inc., the Defendant herein and the Debtor in the underlying Chapter 11 case, removed this action to the Bankruptcy Court on April 19, 2018. Prior to the removal, trial before the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court") was set for March 19, 2018. The Debtor and Defendant filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on March 15, 2018.

According to the Complaint, Plaintiff entered into a contract to provide medical billing and collection services to the Debtor and Defendant on June 26, 2009. The Complaint alleges that the Debtor and Defendant breached the contract, and seeks damages in excess of $400,000.

On June 11, 2018, the Court issued an order requiring the Defendant to show cause why this action should not be remanded to the State Court [Doc. No. 9] (the "Order to Show Cause"). Applying the equitable factors governing remand that are set forth in Citigroup, Inc. v. Pacific Investment Management Co., LLC (In re Enron Corp.), 296 B.R. 505, 509 n. 2 (C.D. Cal. 2003), the Court made the following preliminary findings:

In the Court's view, multiple Enron facts support remand. First, with respect to factor one, remand will not impair the efficient administration of the estate. After the State Court determines Debtor and Defendant's liability and damages, if any, the Debtor can seek confirmation of a Chapter 11 Plan. The State Court's determination of liability and damages will not unduly delay confirmation because the action was on verge of being tried prior to removal. Second, with respect to factor two, the action involves only issues of state law. For the same reason, factor eleven, comity, supports remand. Third, with respect to factor ten, it appears that the removal may have involved forum shopping, given that the bankruptcy petition was commenced on the eve of trial. Finally, although not one of the specifically delineated Enron factors, the Court notes that the interests of judicial efficiency weigh in favor of remand, because prior to removal the State Court was on the verge of trying the action.

Order to Show Cause at 3.

Defendant opposes remand for the following reasons:

- 1) If the action were remanded, trial before the State Court would likely not occur for months.
- 2) Plaintiff did not timely file a motion to remand, indicating that Plaintiff appears content to have this dispute adjudicated by the Bankruptcy Court.
- 3) Defendant is considering filing an action against Plaintiff, alleging that Plaintiff failed to pay Defendant for various collections services that Defendant provided. Based upon this non-payment, Defendant may be entitled to a setoff against the claims asserted by the Plaintiff. Should Defendant elect to pursue such an action, it would file a complaint before the Bankruptcy Court. In that event, a remand of this action would result in related proceedings being adjudicated by different tribunals.

Plaintiff supports remand for the following reasons:

- 1) Because Plaintiff's claims arise under state law and are not inextricably bound to the claims allowance process or rights created by the Bankruptcy Code, the claims are non-core, meaning that the Bankruptcy Court lacks subject-matter jurisdiction.
- 2) As the Court observed in the Order to Show Cause, the Enron factors support remand.
- 3) Defendant's real reason for removing the action is its failure to assert a compulsory cross-claim in the State Court regarding its set-off theory. Defendant is hoping to get a "second bite at the apple" by commencing a new adversary proceeding, arising from the same transaction, when such allegations should have instead been timely raised before the State Court.

Defendant makes the following arguments in Reply to Plaintiff's arguments in support of remand:

- 1) Debtor/Defendant has recently obtained an order setting the claims bar date in the underlying bankruptcy case for September 10, 2018. The claims allowance process can proceed more efficiently if this action is not remanded. If remand occurred, claims arising in connection with this action could not be estimated until after the State Court trial is completed. That trial likely will not commence until the winter or spring of 2019.
- 2) Based upon Plaintiff's allegations, Plaintiff is the largest creditor. Therefore, this action is substantially related to Debtor/Defendant's bankruptcy case.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Title 28 U.S.C §1452 provides that the Court may remand an action "on any equitable ground." Courts consider the following factors in determining whether equitable grounds support remand:

- 5) the jurisdictional basis, if any, other than § 1334;
- 6) the degree of relatedness or remoteness of proceeding to main bankruptcy case;
- 7) the substance rather than the form of an asserted core proceeding;
- 8) the feasibility of severing state law claims from core bankruptcy matters to allow judgments to be entered in state court with enforcement left to the bankruptcy court;
- 9) the burden on the bankruptcy court's docket;
- 10) the likelihood that the commencement of the proceeding in bankruptcy court involves forum shopping by one of the parties;
- 11) the existence of a right to a jury trial;
- 12) the presence in the proceeding of nondebtor parties;
- 13) comity; and
- 14) the possibility of prejudice to other parties in the action.

Citigroup, Inc. v. Pacific Investment Management Co., LLC (In re Enron Corp.), 296 B.R. 505, 509 n. 2 (C.D. Cal. 2003).

Nothing in Defendant's response causes the Court to depart from its preliminary conclusion that remand is appropriate. Defendant's primary objection to remand is that it may decide to file a complaint alleging that Plaintiff failed to pay Defendant for various collections services that Defendant provided. Defendant asserts that based upon this alleged non-payment, it may have been entitled to a setoff against the claims asserted by the Plaintiff. Defendant states that it is still investigating whether to pursue its setoff claims.

Of course, Defendant retains the ability to take whatever actions it deems necessary to preserve its rights against the Plaintiff. However, the possibility that Defendant might assert a setoff claim at some unspecified point in the future is not enough to avoid remand. Further, the fact that Defendant allowed the State Court action to reach the trial stage without presenting any of its setoff claims causes the Court to question how serious Defendant is about pursuing such claims.

Defendant next argues that the estate could be more efficiently administered if the action were adjudicated by the Bankruptcy Court. Defendant notes that of the claims that have been filed, Plaintiff's is the largest. Defendant predicts that if the action is remanded, trial will not occur until the winter or spring of 2019.

In the Court's view, Defendant's estimate of the trial timeline before the State Court is too pessimistic. Defendant is of course correct that in remanding the action, this Court loses the ability to control the timing of the adjudication of Plaintiff's claims. But Defendant places too little emphasis on the fact that Defendant sought bankruptcy protection only four days before trial before the State Court was scheduled to take place. Given this fact, it is likely that the action can be restored to the State Court's trial calendar reasonably quickly.

The State Court is best equipped to determine Defendant's liability and damages, if any, since Plaintiff's claims arise entirely under state law. After such a determination has been made, the claims allowance process before this Court can occur. Such a procedure is not unusual in bankruptcy cases and does not impair the Court's ability to efficiently oversee the administration of the estate.

The Court adopts as final the remainder of its preliminary findings. Specifically, the Court finds that removal of the action was significantly motivated by forum shopping. Of the claims on file so far, Plaintiff's claim is by far the largest, and Defendant sought bankruptcy protection on the eve of trial. In addition, factor eleven, comity, supports remand. Finally, although not one of the specifically delineated Enron factors, the Court notes that the interests of judicial efficiency weigh in favor of remand, because prior to removal the State Court was on the verge of trying the action.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the action is REMANDED to the State Court. The Court will enter an appropriate order.

On June 6, 2018, the IRS filed the “Renewed Stipulation for Interim Use of Cash Collateral between the United States and Debtor” (the “Renewed Stipulation”) [Doc. No. 31]. On June 8, 2018, the Court entered the “Order Approving Renewed Stipulation” [Doc. No. 33]. Among other terms, the Renewed Stipulation provided that: (1) the Debtor was authorized to use cash collateral through and including July 20, 2018; and (2) the use of cash collateral could be renewed upon subsequent stipulation with the United States or order of the Court. As of the date of this tentative ruling, no further stipulation related to the use of cash collateral subsequent to July 20, 2018 has been filed.

As of the date of this tentative ruling, no papers have been filed in connection with the continued hearing on the Motion. Thus, it is unclear whether the Debtor and the IRS are prepared to renew the Stipulation to provide for the use of cash collateral beyond July 20, 2018. Hearing required.

The Motion

On April 11, 2018, the Debtors filed the "Motion to Avoid Judicial Lien under 11 U.S.C. § 522(f)" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 61]. The Debtors are the owners certain real property located at 1813 Calle Fortuna, Glendale, CA 91208 (the "Property"). The Debtors claim a homestead exemption in the Property under Cal. Code Civ. P. § 704.730(a)(3), in the amount of $100,000.00. According to the Motion, the Debtors claim that the Property has a fair market value of $800,000.00. The Property is encumbered by a First Deed of Trust held by Bank of America, N.A., in the amount of $200,000.00 as of August 30, 2006. The Property is also encumbered by a second lien held by Plaza Mortgage in the amount of $530,000.00 as of March 25, 2016. The Property is additionally encumbered by a judicial lien held by Econo Lube N' Tune, LLC in the amount of $53,521.00 as of May 16, 2017 (the "Subject Lien"). The Motion seeks to avoid the Subject Lien on the grounds that the Subject Lien impairs an exemption to which the Debtor would be entitled under 11 U.S.C. § 522(b).

The Opposition

On April 24, 2018, Econo Lube N' Tune, LLC (the "Lienholder") filed the "Notice of Opposition and Request for a Hearing" (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 63]. The Opposition disputes the Debtors' valuation of the Property, which the Lienholder contends is not supported by any evidence, and submits an appraisal of the Property conducted by Charles Baker, a Senior Residential Appraisal and Residential Review Specialist, on February 16, 2017 (the "Baker Appraisal"). See "Declaration of Charles Baker" ("Baker Declaration") [Doc. No. 63], Ex. A. The Baker Appraisal is based on an exterior inspection of the Property, and analysis of comparable sales data collected by Mr. Baker. Mr. Baker states that, based on the Baker Appraisal, as of February 16, 2017—the Petition Date—in his opinion the fair market value of the Property was $900,000.00. Id. at ¶ 2.

Thus, based on the Baker Appraisal, the Opposition contends that the Subject Lien does not impair the Debtors' exemption in the Property, because the amount of the Subject Lien, plus all other liens, and the amount of the Debtors' exemption (which, in the aggregate, total $883,521.00), do not exceed the value that the Debtors' interest in the Property would have in the absence of any liens.

The Reply

The Reply states that after the Debtors received the Opposition, the Debtors retained two professional real estate appraisers to appraise the value of the Property as of the Petition Date. The first appraisal submitted in support of the Reply was performed by Gregg Freedman, a California State Certified General Appraiser and Accredited Senior Appraiser/Real Property (the "Freedman Appraisal"). See "Declaration of Gregg Freedman" ("Freedman Declaration") [Doc. No. 68], Ex. B. The Freedman Appraisal is based on an exterior inspection of the Property, and analysis of comparable sales data collected by Mr. Freedman. Based on the Freedman Appraisal, Mr. Freedman states that his opinion is that the fair market value of the Property as of the Petition Date was $849,000.00. Freedman Declaration at ¶ 5. The second appraisal submitted in support of the Reply was performed by Michael Han (the "Han Appraisal"). See "Declaration of Michael Han" ("Han Declaration") [Doc. No. 69], Ex. B. Mr. Han is a self-employed independent real estate appraiser for residential single family residences and 2-4 units, with experience appraising residential property in Southern California since 2004. Han Declaration at ¶ 3 & Ex. A. The Han Appraisal is based on an exterior inspection of the Property, and analysis of comparable sales data collected by Mr. Han. Mr. Han states that his opinion is that the fair market value of the Property as of the Petition Date was $845,000.00.

Additionally, in support of the Reply, the Debtors submit the "Supplemental Declaration of Gregg Freedman" (the "Supplemental Freedman Declaration") [Doc. No. 70], which was filed on July 5, 2018. Mr. Freedman states that since the filing of the Freedman Declaration, the Debtors requested that he perform a review of the Baker Appraisal. Supplemental Freedman Declaration at ¶ 4. Mr. Freedman reviewed the Baker Appraisal, and on July 5, 2018, prepared the "Review Report," see id., Ex. 1. The Review Report identifies areas of concern with regards to the Baker Appraisal, including but not limited to: (1) the comparable sales selected include both attached and detached comparable sales, many of which are "significantly larger" than the Debtors' Property, see Review Report at 3; (2) the Baker Appraisal does not indicate how Mr. Baker achieved his final opinion of value, and weighs the comparable sales in the order of date-of-sale, which Mr. Freedman finds potentially misleading because comparable sales "should not be weighted/emphasized solely upon date of sale but upon their degree of comparability," id.; (3) the Baker Appraisal indicates that the interior of the Property was not observed, yet Mr. Baker makes comments in the Baker Appraisal regarding improvements to the kitchen counters and wood flooring being installed, id. at 4; and (4) the Baker Appraisal includes a "Market Conditions Addendum to the Appraisal Report" which is typically prepared for lending purposes, and casts "doubt upon the accuracy of the final opinion developed," id. Based on the Review Report, Mr. Freedman states that he stands by his opinion that the fair market value of the Property as of the Petition Date was $849,000.00, and that he believes such value to be more accurate than the figure stated in the Baker Appraisal. Supplemental Freedman Declaration at ¶ 5.

Based on these figures, the Reply states that, if the Court adopts the Han Appraisal, the Subject Lien should be partially avoided, with $15,000.00 permitted to survive. Alternatively, if the Court adopts the Freedman Appraisal, the Subject Lien should be partially avoided, with $19,000.00 permitted to survive.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Pursuant to § 522(f), a debtor may avoid the fixing of a lien on an interest of the debtor in property to the extent that such lien impairs an exemption if such lien is a judicial lien, other than a judicial lien that secures a debt of a kind that is specified in § 523(a)(5). 11 U.S.C. § 522(f). "For the purposes of this subsection, a lien shall be considered to impair an exemption to the extent that the sum of: (i) the lien; (ii) all other liens on the property; and (iii) the amount of the exemption that the debtor could claim if there were no liens on the property, exceeds the value that the debtor's interest in the property would have in the absence of any liens." Id. A debtor's interest in the property is determined by the "fair market value as of the date of the filing of the petition." 11 U.S.C. §§ 522(a), (f). To prevail on a motion to avoid a judicial lien, the debtor must show that: (1) he has an interest in the homestead property; (2) he is entitled to a homestead exemption; (3) the asserted lien impairs that exemption; and (4) the lien is a judicial lien. In re Meeks, 349 B.R. 19, 21 (Bankr. sales utilized by the Freedman Appraisal are more comparable to the Debtors' Property than the comparable sales utilized by the Baker Appraisal. Importantly, two out of the three comparable sales utilized by the Baker Appraisal are significantly larger than the Debtors' Property, which resulted in Mr. Baker making larger adjustments in value. The gross living area of the Debtors' Property is 1,720 square feet, whereas Baker Comparable #1, with a sale price of $1,230,000.00, has a gross living area of 2,528 square feet as well as an additional bathroom, and Baker Comparable #3, with a sale price of $970,000.00, has a gross living area of 2,397 square feet. In contrast, Freedman Comparable #'s 2 and 3, with sale prices of $888,000.00 and $857,000.00, respectively, have the same gross living area as the Debtors' Property, and are substantially similar to the Debtors' Property in other respects as well. Additionally, based on the Review Report, the Court finds that the Baker Appraisal is inferior in other respects, including but not limited to, the weight given by Mr. Baker to the comparable sales based on the date-of-sale, and the ambiguity with regards to the interior improvements noted and given value by Mr. Baker notwithstanding the fact that the Baker Appraisal was an "exterior only" appraisal. Therefore, for the purposes of calculating impairment, the Court finds that the fair market value of the Debtors' Property on the Petition Date was $849,000.00.

Therefore, the threshold amount of impairment for the Property is $830,000.00 ($730,000.00 total senior liens + $100,000.00 homestead exemption). Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that the non-exempt value of the Subject Lien is $19,000.00. The amount of the Subject Lien in excess of the non-exempt value is avoided pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 522(f).

The Debtors shall lodge a conforming order within 7 days of the hearing.

#102.00 HearingRE: [120] Motion Notice Of Motion And Motion For Order Approving Payment Of U.S. Trustee Fees From Trust Account; Declaration Of Robert P. Goe In Support Thereof with proof of service

Docket 120

Tentative Ruling:

7/17/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED. The Debtor is authorized to pay the UST fees for the second quarter 2018 from the Trust Account.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Motion for Order Approving Payment of U.S. Trustee Fees from Trust Account (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 12]
- 2) As of the date of this tentative ruling, no opposition has been filed.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Beach Dans, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 Petition on October 18, 2017 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. Currently, there are certain "Sale Proceeds" in the amount of approximately $832,299.68 being held in the Debtor's attorney's trust account (the "Trust Account") following the sale of the Debtor's personal property and business to LB Denn, LLC for $1,010,000.00 plus inventory of $11,100.00.

On June 22, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Motion for Order Approving Payment of U.S. Trustee Fees from Trust Account" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 12]. The Motion requests an order authorizing the Debtor to pay fees owing to the United States Trustee ("UST") for the second quarter 2018 in the amount of approximately $325.00, which are due to be paid by July 31, 2018, from the Trust Account. The Debtor states that, now that the Debtor's business has been sold and substantially all estate funds are in the Trust Account, the Debtor lacks an alternative source of funds to pay the UST fees.

Docket 70

Tentative Ruling:

7/18/2018

Tentative Ruling:

The Trustee's objection to claim numbers 6, 7, and 8 filed by Chase Bank USA, N.A., is SUSTAINED and the Claims, respectively, are DISALLOWED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(b)(9).

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Motion by the Chapter 7 Trustee for Order Disallowing Unsecured Non-Priority Claims of Chase Bank USA, N.A., Claim Nos. 6, 7, and 8 in the Claims Register (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 70]
- 2) Notification of Asset Case and Request for Claims Bar Date [Doc. No. 19]
 - a) Notice of Possible Dividend and Order Fixing Time to File Claims (the "Bar Date Notice") [Doc. No. 20]
- 3) No opposition on file.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On September 6, 2017, Patricio Diaz Guevarra (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. Wesley H. Avery was appointed as Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee"). Among other creditors, the Debtor's "Schedule E/F" listed five claims for "Chase Cards," which claims included claims for $6,023.00, $8,787.00, and $4,536.96.

On November 15, 2017, the Trustee filed the "Notification of Asset Case and Request for Claims Bar Date" [Doc. No. 19], and on November 17, 2017, the Clerk of the Court entered and issued the "Notice of Possible Dividend and Order Fixing Time

The certificate of notice attached to the Bar Date Notice shows that the Bar Date Notice by electronic transmission was served by the Bankruptcy Noticing Center on "Chase Cards." Id.

The Motion

On June 18, 2018, the Trustee filed the "Motion by the Chapter 7 Trustee for Order Disallowing Unsecured Non-Priority Claims of Chase Bank USA, N.A., Claim Nos. 6, 7, and 8 in the Claims Register" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 70]. The Motion requests that the Court enter an order disallowing the following claims filed by Chase Bank USA, N.A. on June 13, 2018 (collectively, the "Chase Claims"): (1) Claim No. 6 in the amount of $6,023.00; (2) Claim No. 7 in the amount of $8,787.85; and (3) Claim No. 8 in the amount of $4,536.96. The Trustee contends that the Chase Claims should be disallowed on the basis that the Chase Claims were not timely filed. Section 502(a) provides that "A claim or interest, proof of which is filed under section 501 . . . is deemed allowed, unless a party in interest . . . objects." Pursuant to § 502(b)(9), when a claim objection is filed, "the court, after notice and a hearing, shall determine the amount of such claim . . . and shall allow such claim in such amount except to the extent that—(9) proof of such claim is not timely filed . . ." Under Bankruptcy Rule 3003(c)(2), "any creditor who fails to [file a proof of claim before the claim bar date set by the Court] shall not be treated as a creditor with respect to such claim for the purposes of voting and distribution." The Trustee contends that Chase Cards and Chase Bank USA, N.A., were served with the Bar Date Notice, but failed to timely file the Chase Claims. Therefore, the Trustee requests an order sustaining the Trustee's objection, and disallowing the Chase Claims as untimely.

No opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. 11 U.S.C. § 502(a). The term "party in interest" is not defined in the Code or the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, but courts have held that standing in a bankruptcy context requires an "aggrieved person" who is directly and adversely affected pecuniarily by an order of the bankruptcy court. In re Lona, 393 B.R. 1, 3 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2008) (citing Fondiller v. Robertson (In re Fondiller), 707 F.2d 441, 442-43 (9th Cir.

1983)). A chapter 11 debtor-in-possession has standing to object to a proof of claim because a trustee is considered a party-in-interest with standing to object. See 11 U.S.C. § 1107(a) (rights, powers, and duties of a debtor in possession); *In re G.I. Bankruptcy Code § 502(b) sets forth nine bases for a claim to be disallowed. To the extent that a claim falls within any of these paragraphs, upon proper objection, the Court will disallow the claim. Section 502(b)(9) mandates disallowance of a claim where "proof of such claim is not timely filed . . ." 11 U.S.C. § 502(b)(9). Here, the Chase Claims were filed on June 13, 2018, almost four months after the February 20, 2018, bar date; thus, the Court finds that the Chase Claims should be disallowed under § 502(b)(9) because the Chase Claims were not timely filed.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Trustee's objection to the Chase Claims, and each of them, is SUSTAINED and the Chase Claims (Claim Nos. 6, 7, and 8, respectively) are DISALLOWED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(b)(9).

The Trustee shall lodge a conforming order incorporating the Court's tentative ruling within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 60

Tentative Ruling:

7/18/2018

Tentative Ruling:

For the reasons set forth below, the Debtor's Motion to Dismiss is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion to Dismiss Chapter 11 Case [Doc. No. 60] (the "Motion")
- 2) Limited Opposition of the United States Trustee to Debtor's Motion to Dismiss Chapter 11 Case [Doc. No. 63] (the "Opposition")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Rabenu Enterprises, LLC (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on May 20, 2018. The Debtor's primary asset is commercial real property located at 751-757 Towne Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90021 (the "Property"). On May 22, 2018, the Court authorized the Debtor to borrow $3.8 million from The Evergreen Advantage, LLC ("Evergreen") to refinance the Property. See Doc. Nos. 46-47. The loan from Evergreen closed on May 25, 2018.

On June 6, 2018, the Court granted stay-relief to Logan Mortgage, Inc. ("Logan"), so that Logan could pursue a state court breach of contract action against the Debtor.

The Debtor moves to dismiss the case pursuant to §1112(b). The Debtor states that it sought bankruptcy protection primarily to prevent a foreclosure sale of the Property and to restructure the indebtedness against the Property. Now that those objectives have been achieved through the Court's approval of the Evergreen financing, the Debtor states that there is no reason for it to remain in bankruptcy. The Debtor notes that the automatic stay has been terminated as to Logan, the estate's only general unsecured creditor. In the event dismissal is not granted under §1112(b), the Debtor seeks dismissal under §305(a)(1).

The United States Trustee (the "UST") does not oppose dismissal, provided that the Debtor pays all fees owed to the UST before the case is dismissed.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 1112(b) provides that the Court, upon request of a party in interest, "shall convert a case under this chapter to a case under chapter 7 or dismiss a case under this chapter, whichever is in the best interests of creditors and the estate, for cause unless the court determines that the appointment under section 1104(a) of a trustee or an examiner is in the best interests of creditors and the estate."

Here, the Court finds that cause exists for dismissal, and that dismissal is in the best interests of creditors and the estate. By restructuring the financing against the Property, the Debtor has accomplished the objective that motivated it to seek bankruptcy protection. No creditors have objected to dismissal. Conversion to Chapter 7 would not be in the interests of creditors, because the estate's only general unsecured creditor has already obtained stay-relief to pursue its remedies in the state court.

The Court will not dismiss the case until all fees owing to the UST have been paid. To ensure payment of UST fees, the proposed dismissal order shall be endorsed as to form by the UST, pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9021-1(b)(3)(C).

Within seven days of the hearing, the Debtor shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

7/19/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant. See Doc. No. 18.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Debtor continues to occupy the property after a foreclosure sale held on December 21, 2017. The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on January 17, 2018.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not

 VACATED  REASON: DISMISSED 6-13-18

Tentative Ruling:

6/4/2018

Plaintiff states that the parties have been discussing settlement and requests a one-month continuance of the status conference to see if the case can be settled. The Court will hold a continued status conference in one month as requested by the Plaintiff, but will maintain the previously ordered litigation deadlines. In the Court's experience, the maintenance of litigation deadlines is the best means of facilitating settlement.

Accordingly, the Court HEREBY ORDERS as follows:

- 1) The dates previously ordered shall continue to apply, as follows:
 - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 7/12/2018.
 - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 10/30/2018.
 - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 11/29/2018.
 - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 12/19/2018. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. - f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 12/29/2018. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 1/15/2019 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
 - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
 - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Chapter 7 Involuntary Petition Against a Non-Individual [Doc. No. 1]
- 2) Summons and Notice of Status Conference in an Involuntary Bankruptcy Case [Doc. No. 4]
 - a) Certificate of Service by the Clerk of the Court of the Summons Upon the Petitioning Creditors [Doc. No. 6]

Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 1010-1 provides: "The court may dismiss an involuntary petition without further notice and hearing if the petitioner fails to ... serve the summons and petition within the time allowed by FRBP 7004 [and] file a proof of service of the summons and petition with the court." These requirements are prominently restated in bold type on the involuntary summons that is issued by the Clerk of the Court to the Petitioning Creditor:

To the Petitioning Creditor(s): If you fail to timely serve the summons and involuntary petition and/or to file proof of service ... thereof with the court or to appear at the status conference, this involuntary case may be dismissed in accordance with LBR 1010-1.

Here, Violeta Garcia, Bill Baker, and Marianne White (collectively, the "Petitioning Creditors") have failed to file a proof of service indicating that the summons and involuntary petition were served upon Universal Wellness Foundation, Inc. (the "Alleged Debtor"). Pursuant to LBR 1010-1, this involuntary petition is DISMISSED. The Court will prepare the order.

Chapter 11

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background [Note 1]

Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on March 21, 2016. From March 21, 2016 to January 29, 2017, the Hon. Thomas B. Donovan presided over this case. On January 30, 2017, the case was reassigned to the undersigned Judge. Doc. No. 325.

Liberty was a real estate investment company that bought and sold real property using a combination of its own cash, cash from investors, and bank loans. Real property acquired by Liberty was not titled in the name of Liberty or its investors, but instead was purchased in the name of various limited liability companies. At all times since its formation, Benjamin Kirk was Liberty's President, CEO, CFO, and sole shareholder. Mr. Kirk's primary role was soliciting investors for Liberty and identifying real properties for purchase and sale.

B. The Claims Bar Date

On August 12, 2016, the Court issued an order setting October 30, 2016, as the deadline to file proofs of general unsecured claims. Doc. No. 178. On August 19, 2016, Liberty's Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") provided notice of the claims bar date to all known creditors. Doc. No. 186.

C. Claims Filed or Asserted by Tsai Luan Ho aka Shelby Ho

On October 29, 2016, Tsai Luan Ho aka Shelby Ho filed Proof of Claim No. 30-2 on behalf of her wholly-controlled entity Great Vista Real Estate Corporation ("Great Vista"). On October 30, 2016, Ms. Ho filed Proof of Claim 33-1 on behalf of Washe LLC.

Approximately thirteen months later, on November 17, 2017, Ms. Ho filed Proof of Claim No. 39 ("Claim 39") on behalf of herself. Ms. Ho asserts a general unsecured claim, in the amount of $11,503,387, on account of "commissions earned on real estate transactions."

D. Summary of the Committee's Objection to Claim No. 39 Filed by Ms. Ho

The Committee asserts that Claim No. 39, filed by Ms. Ho, should be disallowed for the following reasons:

- 1) Pursuant to §502(b)(9), the claim must be disallowed because it was filed almost a year after the claims bar date.

Chapter 11

- 2) Ms. Ho cannot escape application of the claims bar date by asserting that Claim No. 39 qualifies as an amended claim. There is no relationship between Claim No. 39 and the claims that Ms. Ho caused to be filed on behalf of Great Vista and Washe LLC.
- 3) Pursuant to the statute of frauds, codified at Cal. Civ. Code §1624(a)(4), the claim for real estate commissions is not enforceable because there is no written agreement supporting the claim.
- 4) Even if the statute of frauds did not bar the claim, the claim would still be time-barred because the statute of limitations applicable to enforcement of an oral contract is two years, and the majority of transactions supporting Claim 39 took place in 2011, five years prior to the petition date.
- 5) Pursuant to §502(d), the claim should be disallowed because the Committee is pursuing fraudulent transfer claims against Ms. Ho in a pending adversary proceeding.
