- c) Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Objection to Motion to Continue Hearing on Debtors' [Bidding Procedures Motion] [Doc. No. 608]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

Debtors seek approval of procedures governing the sale of Saint Louise Regional Hospital ("St. Louise"), O'Connor Hospital ("O'Connor"), and related assets. Both hospitals are located in Santa Clara County. See generally Doc. No. 365 (the "Bidding Procedures Motion"). Pursuant to an Asset Purchase Agreement (the "APA") dated October 1, 2018, the assets to be sold (the "Assets") consist of:

all assets, businesses, real property, personal property, equipment, supplies, software, contracts, leases, licenses/permits, books, records, offices, facilities, and all other tangible and intangible property (a) whatsoever and wherever located that is owned, leased, or used primarily in connection with the Businesses by a Hospital Seller, (b) located in Santa Clara County, California that is owned, leased, or used primarily in connection with the Businesses by Verity Holdings, and (c) whatsoever and wherever located that is owned, leased, or used by Verity primarily in connection with the Businesses, in each case, except for the Excluded Assets.

APA at ¶1.8.

Certain of the Debtors' liabilities are excluded from the sale. Most significant is the exclusion of all "Labor Obligations," defined in the APA to include all "collective bargaining agreements ... that are in place with any labor unions" APA at ¶8.13.

Under the APA, the County of Santa Clara is the stalking horse bidder (the "Stalking Horse Bidder"). The proposed Breakup Fee is $9.4 million, or 4.0% of the $235 million purchase price. The Stalking Horse Bidder is also entitled to reimbursement for its reasonable due diligence expenses (the "Expense Reimbursement"). The Stalking Horse Bidder has agreed to cap the sum of the Breakup Fee and the Expense Reimbursement at 5% of the purchase price (i.e., the Breakup Fee is 4% of the purchase price and therefore the Expense Reimbursement cannot exceed 1% of the purchase price, or $2.35 million).

Qualified overbidders (the "Overbidders") may participate in an auction to be held at the offices of the Debtors' counsel on December 10, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. To qualify to participate in the auction, Overbidders must provide a good-faith deposit in the amount of $23.5 million. The proposed minimum overbid amount is the Breakup Fee ($9.4 million) plus an additional bidding increment of $7.5 million. Overbids will be evaluated based upon several factors, including (1) the amount of such bid; (2) the risks and timing associated with consummating such bid; (3) any proposed revisions to the form of the APA; and (4) any other factors deemed relevant by the Debtors in their reasonable discretion, in consultation with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee"). If an auction is conducted, a hearing before the Court to approve the results of the auction (the "Sale Hearing") will take place on December 18, 2018.

The Debtors will seek to assume and assign certain contracts and leases to be identified in the Purchase Agreement (the "Assumed Executory Contracts"). Initially, the Assumed Executory Contracts will be those contracts and leases that the Debtors believe may be assumed and assigned as part of the orderly transfer of the Assets. The successful bidder may choose to exclude (or to add) certain contracts or leases to the list of Assumed Executory Contracts.

The Debtors will file with the Court and serve a Cure Notice upon each counterparty to the Assumed Executory Contracts. The Cure Notice will state the date, time, and place of the Sale Hearing as well as the date by which any objection to the assumption and assignment of Assumed Executory Contracts must be filed and served. The Cure Notice will also identify the amounts, if any, that the Debtors believe are owed to each counterparty to an Assumed Executory Contract in order to cure any defaults that exist under such contract (the "Cure Amounts"). To the extent that there is a contract added to the list of contracts to be assumed by the successful bidder selected at the auction, the Bidding Procedures Motion shall be deemed to constitute a separate motion to assume and assign that contract to the successful bidder pursuant to §365.

A. Summary of the Objections Filed to the Bidding Procedures Motion and the Debtors' Replies in Support of the Motion

The objections to the Bidding Procedures Motion, and the Debtors' reply to each objection, are summarized below. [Note 1]

1. Objection of the Federal Communications Commission [Doc. No. 437]

The Federal Communications Commission (the "FCC") states that certain of the Debtors hold wireless licenses, the transfer of which is subject to FCC approval. To preserve its rights, the FCC requests that any order approving the Bidding Procedures

Motion (the "Bidding Procedures Order") contain the following language:

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Order or any other Order of this Court, no sale, transfer or assignment of any rights and interests of a regulated entity in any federal license or authorization issued by the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") shall take place prior to the issuance of FCC regulatory approval for such sale, transfer or assignment pursuant to the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder. The FCC's rights and powers to take any action pursuant to its regulatory authority, including, but not limited to, imposing any regulatory conditions on such sales, transfers and assignments and setting any regulatory fines or forfeitures, are fully preserved, and nothing herein shall proscribe or constrain the FCC's exercise of such power or authority to the extent provided by law.

The Debtors assert that the FCC's objection is premature because any Licenses that may be subject to FCC regulation have not yet been designated for assumption and assignment.

2. Objection of the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation [Doc. No. 439]

The Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (the "PBGC") argues that the proposed Bidding Procedures should be modified to require that all bidders expressly state whether they intend to assume the Debtors' pension obligations. PBGC asserts that a bidder's assumption of pension liabilities would effectively eliminate or reduce PBGC's claims against each of the Debtors, thereby providing value to the Debtors' respective estates and increasing recoveries for other creditors. Accordingly, PBGC contends that when evaluating overbids, the Debtors should give credit for the value of the pension plans' liabilities that an Overbidder agrees to assume.

In reply, the Debtors assert that they have repeatedly stated that in assessing the highest and best offers, they will consider all forms of consideration, including the assumption of pension liabilities. The Debtors state that the inclusion of any particular language providing whether or not a bidder will assume particular liabilities is unnecessary, and that given the scope of pension liabilities, it would be remarkable if any Qualified Bidder's bid failed to indicate whether pension liabilities would be assumed.

3. Objection of Cigna Entities [Doc. Nos. 445 and 561]

The Debtors are parties to various agreements with Cigna Healthcare of California, Inc. ("Cigna CA") and Life Insurance Company of North America ("LINA," and together with Cigna CA, "Cigna"). The Cigna Provider Agreements provide covered healthcare services to eligible participants within the Cigna Provider Network who receive treatment at the Debtors' hospitals. The agreements with LINA provide group disability benefits for the Debtors' employee benefits program (the "LINA Contracts").

Cigna objects to the Bidding Procedures Motion on the following grounds:

- 1) The proposed Bidding Procedures do not provide Cigna sufficient time to object to the assignment and assumption of executory contracts. If the successful purchaser does not assume the Cigna Provider Agreements, patients receiving treatment at the hospitals will be severely prejudiced, because they will no longer be part of the Cigna Provider Network and therefore will no longer be eligible to receive healthcare at the hospitals. Cigna must receive at least sixty days' notice of any decision to assume or reject the Cigna Provider Agreements.
- 2) Similarly, the proposed Bidding Procedures do not provide Cigna with sufficient notice of the disposition of the LINA Contracts. The Bidding Procedures should be altered to provide that, absent consent from Cigna, unequivocal and irrevocable notice of the proposed assumption and assignment of the LINA Contracts must be provided to Cigna and its counsel at least ten days prior to any hearing thereon.

In reply, the Debtors state that the notice demanded by Cigna is unreasonable, unduly burdensome to the estate, and could potentially delay the closing of the sale by up to two months. The Debtor states that the assumption and assignment procedures it has proposed are customary and reasonable, and that Cigna has failed to offer any support for the extraordinary divergence from customary practice that it requests.

4. Objection of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services [Doc. Nos. 447, 562, and 613]

The United States Department of Health and Human Services and the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (collectively, "HHS") objects to the APA's characterization of Medicare Provider Agreements held by St. Louise and O'Connor as licenses rather than as executory contracts. According to HHS, the Medicare Provider Agreements are executory contracts which may only be assumed and assigned in conformance with the requirements of §365.

The Debtors assert that HHS should be judicially estopped from arguing that the Medicare Provider Agreements are executory contracts, because HHS has argued before other federal courts that Medicare Provider Agreements are licenses.

On October 22, 2018, the Debtors and HHS entered into a stipulation, which provides that the issues raised by HHS' objection should be addressed in connection with the Sale Hearing rather than the Bidding Procedures Motion.

5. Objection of OCH Forest 1 [Doc. Nos. 452 and 561]

OCH Forest 1 ("OCH") entered into a Partnership Agreement with O'Connor, under which OCH is the General Partner and O'Connor is the Limited Partner. The purpose of the Partnership Agreement was to develop and invest in a medical office building located at 455 O'Connor Drive, San Jose, CA (the "455 Property"). Under the Partnership Agreement, OCH holds a right of first refusal with respect to the transfer of the 455 Property. OCH does not object to the proposed sale, but objects to any modification of the Partnership Agreement.

Debtors assert that nothing in the Bidding Procedures Motion impairs OCH's rights and that OCH's objection is premature and should be addressed in connection with the Sale Hearing.

6. Objection of the California Attorney General and the Attorney General's Motion to Continue the Hearing on the Bidding Procedures Motion [Doc. Nos. 463, 599, 605, 608, and 619]

In July 2015, the California Attorney General (the "Attorney General") reviewed a transaction between the Debtors' predecessor, Daughters of Charity Ministry Services Corporation ("Daughters") and BlueMountain Capital Management, LLC ("Blue Mountain"). In connection with the July 2015 transaction, the Attorney General imposed various conditions governing the operation of the Debtors' hospitals (the "2015 Conditions"). Among other things, the 2015 Conditions require the hospitals to furnish specified amounts of charitable care, to continue to provide certain types of health care services, and to continue to operate emergency departments in accordance with minimum requirements.

The Attorney General asserts that any purchaser of the Assets remains bound by the 2015 Conditions. The Debtor disputes this contention, arguing that pursuant to § 363, the sale of the Assets may be free and clear of the 2015 Conditions. However, the Debtor further asserts that any disputes regarding the applicability of the 2015 Conditions are premature because it is possible that the winning purchaser will voluntarily agree to abide by the 2015 Conditions.

On October 19, 2018, the Attorney General filed a motion seeking to continue the hearing on the Bidding Procedures Motion by at least three weeks. The Attorney General contends that he is unable to adequately review the APA because the schedules to the APA have not yet been supplied.

The Debtors and the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") oppose any continuance of the Bidding Procedures Motion on the grounds that the Attorney General will have adequate time to review the APA schedules prior to the final Sale Hearing.

7. Objections of Entities Who Are Parties to or Benefit from Various Collective Bargaining Agreements with Certain of the Debtors [Doc. Nos. 450, 458, 460, 465, and 597]

The International Union of Operating Engineers, Stationary Engineers Local 39 ("Local 39"), the Service Employees International Union, United Healthcare Workers-West ("SEIU-UHW"), the California Nurses Association (the "CNA"), and the Engineers and Scientists of California Local 20, IFPTE, AFL-CIO/CLC ("IFPTE Local 20") (collectively, the "Unions") are parties to collective bargaining agreements ("CBAs") with certain of the Debtors. The Debtors have filed a motion seeking to enter into a new CBA with Local 39, which is currently set for hearing on November 6, 2018.

Debtor VHS participates in a multi-employer defined benefit pension plan, the Retirement Plan for Hospital Employees (the "RPHE"). Pursuant to CBAs with the Unions, the Debtors are obligated to make pension contributions to the RPHE.

RPHE asserts that the Bidding Procedures should be modified as suggested by the PBGC, in order to encourage Overbidders to assume obligations arising under the RPHE. The Unions object to the Stalking Horse Bidder's proposal to purchase the Assets free and clear of the Debtors' pension obligations and the obligations under the unrejected CBAs. According to the Unions, any attempt to sell the assets free and clear of the CBAs constitutes an impermissible end-run around the requirements of § 1113. CNA further asserts that any purchaser of the Assets should be required to assume all pension obligations under the RPHE, given that the assumption of such obligations would avoid the accrual of a large withdrawal liability claim against the Debtors under 29 U.S.C. §1384.

Debtors dispute the Union's contention that they must obtain relief under §1113 before proceeding with the sale. Debtors rely upon Local 211 v. Family Snacks, Inc., Official Unsecured Creditors' Comm. (In re Family Snacks, Inc.), 257 B.R. 884, 897 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2001):

should not apply because the only meaningful time the court can make a decision on rejection is prior to the sale. We see no basis for such a distinction, unless it is to give the union veto power over a going concern sale which, as we know from experience, is often the best way to reap the greatest benefit for all creditors. Section 1113 was never intended to give unions such power. Its sole purpose is to keep a debtor from unilaterally rejecting a CBA and to plainly articulate the rules for going about rejection. If, as Ionosphere concluded, a debtor who is liquidating piecemeal should not be forced into Chapter 7 in order to preserve its assets for equitable distribution to all creditors, the same is true for a debtor who is selling its assets on a going concern basis.

Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 897.

Debtors state that they will continue to work with the Unions to achieve a transfer of the hospitals in a manner that is in the best interest of all constituents. Debtors state that any bids that assume CBAs will be given appropriate weight and deference.

8. Objection of the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors [Doc. Nos. 490, 491, and 561]

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the “Committee”) objects to the Bidding Procedures Motion on the following grounds:

- 1) The proposed Breakup Fee is too high and will chill bidding. The Breakup Fee should be reduced from 4% to 3%. A study conducted by Cynthia Nelson, a Senior Managing Director in the Corporate Finance & Restructuring group at FTI Consulting, Inc. (the “FTI Fee Study”) shows that in bankruptcy sales of between $50 million to $250 million, breakup fees are generally set at 3% or less.
- 2) The minimum overbid increment should be reduced from $7.5 million to $5 million to encourage bidding.
- 3) The proposed sale includes more than just the assets necessary to operate the O’Connor and St. Louise hospitals. The APA also includes an urgent care facility containing medical office space located in Morgan Hill, CA (the “De Paul Property”). If the De Paul Property is not separately valued as part of the stalking horse bid, creditors will be unable to ascertain whether the highest price was obtained for this property. The Stalking Horse Bidder and all other Overbidders should be required to allocate with specificity the portion of the overall purchase price attributable to the De Paul Property.

Chapter 11

In response to the Committee's objection, the Debtor asserts that the Breakup Fee and minimum overbid increment are consistent with relief granted by other Bankruptcy Courts, were negotiated between the Debtors and the Stalking Horse Bidder in good faith, and were agreed to in the exercise of the Debtors' reasonable business judgment. Regarding the allocation of the purchase price, the Debtors assert that the APA already contemplates that the Stalking Horse Bidder will provide schedules allocating the purchase price among the various Assets being sold.

9. Objections of UMB Bank, Wells Fargo, and U.S. Bank [Doc. Nos. 557, 621, and 622]

UMB Bank, N.A., in its capacity as successor master trustee for certain master trust indenture obligations ("UMB"), and Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., in its capacity as indenture trustee for the series 2005 revenue bonds ("Wells Fargo") object to the Bidding Procedures Motion on the following grounds:

- 1) Based upon a study prepared by Benjamin Ilhardt, the Senior Vice President of Houlihan Lokey Capital, Inc. (the "HL Fee Study"), the Breakup Fee is too high. The Houlihan Study shows that in comparable cases, breakup fees ranged from a minimum of 1.5% to a maximum of 3.8%, with a mean of 2.8% and a median of 3.0%. An appropriate break-up fee in this case would not exceed 3% of the stalking horse bid—that is, $7.05 million.
- 2) The HL Fee Study further demonstrates that the proposed Expense Reimbursement of $2.35 million is excessive. An appropriate expense reimbursement would be no more than $1.4 million.
- 3) The minimum overbid increment of $7.5 million should be reduced to $1 million.

Similar to UMB and Wells Fargo, U.S. Bank, N.A., in its capacity as Note Trustee for the Series 2017 Notes ("U.S. Bank"), asserts that the Bid Protections proposed by the Debtors are not reasonable and will chill competition.

Debtors reply to the objections of UMB, U.S. Bank, and Wells Fargo as follows:

- 1) The Bid Protections provided to Santa Clara County were necessary to induce it to serve as the stalking horse purchaser. Retaining Santa Clara as the stalking horse purchaser was essential given that a sale to Santa Clara can close rapidly, as it is not subject to review by the California Attorney General under Cal. Corp. Code §5914.
- 2) Santa Clara is not purchasing certain excluded assets, including accounts receivable, which should generate an additional $65 million in incremental proceeds to the estate. When the Breakup Fee is computed as a percentage of the sale price plus the $65 million in incremental proceeds, it is only 3.1%.

- 3) The testimony of Benjamin Ilhardt in support of the HL Fee Study is objectionable because Mr. Ilhardt is not qualified as an expert, and the types of sales cited in the HL Fee Study are not comparable as they do not involve health care or public entities.

10. Reservation of Rights of Premier and Infor [Doc. Nos. 444, 561, and 592]

Premier, Inc. and its subsidiaries (collectively, “Premier”) provides information technology and related services to the Debtors. Infor (US), Inc. (“Infor”) licenses copyrighted software to the Debtors and provides related maintenance and support services. Both Premier and Infor assert that the Debtors may not assume or assign any of their intellectual property absent consent.

Debtors state that nothing in the Bidding Procedures Motion prevents Premier and Infor from presenting their objections in connection with the Sale Hearing.

11. Reservation of Rights of Verity MOB Financing II [Doc. No. 500]

Verity MOB Financing LLC and Verity MOB Financing II LLC (collectively, the “MOB Financing Entities”) assert security interests in certain of the Debtors’ assets. The MOB Financing Entities filed a Reservation of Rights, stating that they are in ongoing negotiations with the Debtors regarding their right to credit-bid and hope to resolve their issues prior to the October 24 hearing on the Bidding Procedures Motion.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Attorney General’s Motion for a Continuance is Denied

The Attorney General’s motion for a three week continuance of the Bidding Procedures Motion is DENIED. The hospitals that are the subject of the Bidding Procedures Motion are operating at a loss, meaning that every day that a future sale is postponed imposes significant costs upon the estate and upon creditors. The fact that APA schedules have not yet been provided does not constitute sufficient cause for a continuance.

On a related note, certain parties have suggested that the sale timeline proposed by the Debtors is too aggressive and that professionals require more time to review various matters pertaining to the sale. It is important for the Court to point out that sales on a rapid timeline are routine in bankruptcy, since delay almost always imposes additional costs upon creditors. The sale timeline proposed here affords professionals a sufficient opportunity to represent their client's interests.

B. Certain Objections Are Premature and Will Not be Decided in Connection with this Hearing

This hearing involves only the approval of the Bidding Procedures that will be used at the auction of the Assets. The Court finds that many of the objections are more appropriately considered at the final Sale Hearing, at which point the identity of the successful purchaser will be known. Many objections are based upon hypothetical future events and raise issues that may never ripen. For example, it is unknown whether the successful purchaser will assume the Debtors collective bargaining obligations; nor does the Court know which executory contracts or unexpired leases will be assumed.

For these reasons, the Court does not at this time rule upon the objections asserted by the Federal Communications Commission, the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the California Attorney General, the Unions who are parties to various CBAs (Local 39, SEIU-UHW, CNA, IFPTE Local 20), the Retirement Plan for Hospital Employees, OCH Forest 1, Premier, Infor, and the MOB Financing Entities. All such objections are preserved for the Sale Hearing and may be raised at that time.

The Court declines to require the Debtors to include the language proposed by the Federal Communications Commission (the "FCC") in the Bidding Procedures Order. The FCC's language pertains to the final transfer of assets, which is not at issue in the Bidding Procedures Motion. The FCC's ability to assert that such language should be included in a final order approving the sale is preserved.

C. Additional Language Regarding Overbidders' Intent with Respect to the Assumption or Rejection of Pension Obligations is Not Required

The PBGC argues that the Bidding Procedures Order must include additional intended to encourage potential Overbidders to assume the Debtors' pension obligations. The Court finds that the Debtors have made abundantly clear that they are soliciting offers that provide for the assumption of pension obligations. No additional language in the Bidding Procedures Order is required.

D. The Bidding Procedures Are Approved

The objections to the proposed Bidding Procedures are overruled. The Court finds that the Bidding Procedures are likely to maximize the proceeds received by the estate. See Simantob v. Claims Prosecutor, LLC (In re Lahijani), 325 B.R. 282, 288–89 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005) (“The court’s obligation in § 363(b) sales is to assure that optimal value is realized by the estate under the circumstances.”).

The Committee and secured creditors UMB, Wells Fargo, and U.S. Bank (collectively, the “Secured Creditors”) assert that the proposed Breakup Fee is too high. The objections to the Breakup Fee are overruled.

In evaluating the Breakup Fee, the Court first must rule upon the Debtors’ evidentiary objections to the HL Fee Study. The Court finds that Benjamin Ilhardt, as a Senior Vice President in the Financial Restructuring Group of Houlihan Lokey Capital, Inc., is qualified to introduce expert testimony regarding the reasonableness of breakup fees. However, the Court affords the HL Fee Study only minimal weight. The sale transactions selected for the HL Fee Study are comparable in amount to the instant sale, but do not involve companies in the healthcare industry.

This distinction is key in view of the significantly greater regulatory compliance obligations placed upon healthcare entities. More due diligence is required to adequately value entities that are subject to additional regulations. Regulations introduce additional complication in assessing an entity’s future cash flow; this issue is of particular salience in the healthcare sector, where regulations are frequently subject to change. For instance, buyers of a healthcare entity are required to assess the possibility that the Affordable Care Act could be subject to significant revision, and to consider the impact of such possible revision on the viability of any healthcare entity’s continuing operations. Against this backdrop, it is not surprising that the Debtors would be required to negotiate a higher than average Breakup Fee to induce Santa Clara County to become the Stalking Horse Bidder.

For the same reasons, the Court accords only minimal weight to the FTI Fee Study submitted by the Committee. Like the HL Fee Study, the FTI Study does not involve any sales in the healthcare industry. The breakup fees for such sales do not afford a truly comparable yardstick for assessing the Breakup Fee at issue here.

The Committee and the Secured Creditors similarly contend that the proposed Expense Reimbursement is too high. These objections, which once again are premised upon comparing this healthcare sale to sales in other industries, are overruled. Where more due diligence is required, a higher Expense Reimbursement amount will be necessary.

The Committee and the Secured Creditors contend that the minimum overbid increment of $7.5 million should be reduced. The Court finds that the Debtors exercised reasonable business judgment in establishing the overbid increment, and declines the invitation of the parties to overrule the Debtors’ business judgment.

Chapter 11

However, it may be prudent for the Debtor to allow itself the leeway to accept incremental bids at less than $7.5 million should the bidding process become stalled.

E. Cigna's Objections are Overruled

The Court finds that the procedures proposed by the Debtor regarding the assumption of executory contracts and unexpired leases are customary and reasonable for sales of this type. Cigna demands 60 days' notice regarding an assumption/rejection decision pertaining to the Cigna Provider Agreements. Such a lengthy notice period would unduly delay the closing of the sale, to the detriment of the estate and creditors. The ten day notice period demanded by Cigna with respect to the disposition of the LINA Contracts would likewise impose unreasonable delay.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Bidding Procedures Motion is GRANTED. The hearing to approve the sale and authorize the assumption and assignment of Assumed Executory Contracts shall take place on December 18, 2018, at 10:00 a.m.

The Court will sign enter the Bidding Procedures Order in the form proposed by the Debtors. Because bids must be solicited on a shortened timeframe, no objections to the form of the Bidding Procedures Order will be entertained subsequent to this hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz, the Judge's Law Clerks, at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1

Certain of the objections propounded by various parties have now been resolved. Only objections that remain unresolved are discussed herein.

10/23/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is DENIED without prejudice.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Summary of Motion

Stanford Health Care ("SHC") moves for an order shortening the time by which O'Connor Hospital (the "Debtor") must assume or reject the Affiliation Agreement (the "Agreement") with SHC.

SHC is affiliated with Stanford University School of Medicine and the pediatric hospital, Lucile Salter Packard Children's Hospital. SHC personnel oversee: (a) 115 medical residency and fellowship programs accredited by the Accreditation Counsel for Graduate Medical Education ("ACGME"); (b) three medical residency and fellowship programs pending accreditation by the ACGME; and (c) sixty non-standard fellowship medical residency and fellowship programs. These programs are carried out at 35 participating training sites, and involve 1,350 medical residents and fellows (collectively, the "Trainees") who are obtaining their post-graduate medical training through SHC.

To address an increasing need for a physician residency training program in primary care, SHC entered into discussions with the Debtor about developing a joint physician training program. As a result of those discussions, SHC and the Debtor executed the Agreement, which was made effective as of July 1, 2017.

Pursuant to the Agreement, the SHC and the Debtor formed the Stanford Health Care/O'Connor Hospital Family Medicine Program and the Stanford Health Care/O'Connor Hospital Family Medicine/Sports Medicine Program (together, the "Joint Program"). These programs train doctors in these fields by providing three-year residency training programs in family medicine and one-year fellowships in sports medicine with the Debtor. The Joint Program has been reviewed and approved by the ACGME.

The Agreement specifies the terms and condition under which the Joint Program is funded and operated. Under the Agreement and Joint Program, the Debtor receives the services of approximately 27 doctors who provide a substantial portion of the patient care at the Debtor's hospital at virtually no cost to the Debtor.

SHC moves to compel the Debtor to assume or reject the Agreement by no later than November 15, 2018, and seeks a determination that, in the event of rejection, the automatic stay will not bar SHC from terminating the Agreement. SHC contends that because the Agreement provides great benefit to the Debtor, there is no reason to delay the decision to assume or reject it. More importantly, SHC states that there is a looming deadline which necessitates a prompt decision on assumption or rejection. Specifically, the Joint Program is currently in the process of conducting interviews for next year's Joint Program. SHC must rank and submit its list of desired applicants based on those interviews by January 15, 2019. SHC must declare the total number of residents it can accept into the Joint Program by January 31, 2019. These dates are fixed national deadlines; there is no flexibility. Any delay in assuming the Agreement jeopardizes the success of the Joint Program by reducing the number and quality of doctors, if any, who will join the Joint Program next year.

Additionally, SHC needs to know whether the Debtor intends to assume or reject the Agreement as soon as possible so that it can take the appropriate steps to find other comparable residency slots for current Trainees. SHC also contends that the Debtor's market value may be negatively impacted if it rejects the Agreement and the California Attorney General will likely oppose Debtor's attempt to reject the Agreement.

The Debtor opposes the Motion, contending that the relief sought by SHC is premature and would complicate the Debtor's efforts to sell its hospital. The Debtor has filed a Bidding Procedures Motion in connection with the sale of the hospital and, pursuant to that motion, the Debtor requests a late November 2018 auction. The Bidding Procedures Motion further provides that within 48 hours of the conclusion of the auction, the Debtors will provide notice to executory contract counterparties identifying the successful bidder and the contracts to be assumed and assigned along with the cure amounts. Therefore, given this timetable, Debtor contends that SHC will not be prejudiced by having to wait a few additional weeks.

The Debtor also submits that it will be prejudiced if it is forced to decide whether to assume or reject the Agreement prior to the sale. The Debtor asserts that if it decides to assume the Agreement, it will be required to pay cure costs of almost $900,000 (according to SHC's calculations) without knowing whether the successful bidder will want to assume the Agreement. The Debtor also states that, contrary to SHC's contentions, the Agreement is not revenue positive. Rather, the 2018 costs to the Debtor are ($1,770,542). Declaration of Carl James ("James Decl."), p. 16:1-2.

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") agrees with the Debtor that it would be premature for the Debtor to be required to make a decision regarding assumption or rejection of the Agreement at this time. The Committee requests that the Motion be denied without prejudice.

Summary of SHC Reply

In support of its Reply, SHC reemphasizes the likelihood that any successful bidder will assume the Agreement and the opposition the Debtor will face from the California Attorney General (the "Attorney General") if the Debtor attempts to reject the Agreement. SHC also argues that its evidence demonstrating that it will likely suffer irreparable harm from any further delay because potential applicants will likely have made their residency decisions before the auction and/or sale hearing remains uncontroverted.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Pursuant to §365(d)(2), the Debtor may assume or reject an executory contract at any time prior to plan confirmation. However, the Court may order the Debtor, for cause, to "determine within a specified period of time whether to assume or reject" an executory contract. §365(d)(2). "In deciding whether to accelerate the debtor's decision, the court must balance the interests of the contracting party against the interests of the debtor and its estate." In re Physician Health Corp., 262 B.R. 290, 292

(Bankr. D. Del. 2001).

Having weighed the evidence before it, the Court finds that the Debtor's interests in maintaining flexibility with respect to the marketing of its assets outweighs SHC's interest in obtaining a more immediate decision regarding whether the Agreement will be assumed or rejected. SHC contends that it will suffer irreparable harm if the Debtor does not make a decision by November 15, 2018, with respect to assumption or rejection. However, SHC also presents arguments and evidence in support of its position that assumption "is a no brainer" and highly probable under any scenario. These arguments seems to cut against a finding of irreparable harm to SHC because SHC is presumably making these same representations to potential candidates as they consider whether to take on the risk of possible rejection in making their residency application decisions.

In any event, any prejudice to SHC resulting from an approximate three-week delay in knowing whether the Debtor will assume or reject the Agreement is outweighed by the interest of preserving the Debtor's flexibility with respect to the marketing of its assets. Maintaining such flexibility benefits the Debtor as well as creditors.

Although SHC contends that it may be much later than late November before the Debtor gives notice of its intention to assume or reject its executory contracts, SHC's argument appears to be based an old information (SHC Reply, Exhibits C & D). Concurrently with this Motion, the Court is issuing a tentative ruling with respect to the Debtor's proposed Bidding Procedures Motion. Among the approved provisions therein, is a requirement that within 48 hours of the conclusion of the auction, the Debtor must provide notice to executory contract counterparties of its intent to assume or reject. In the event the auction is delayed or the Debtor fails to comply with that provision, SHC is free to renew its Motion on an expedited basis.

Finally, SHC takes the position that the Attorney General will insist upon assumption of the Agreement and has argued that the Debtor cannot sell the hospital free and clear of the Agreement. However, the Attorney General did not file a response to the Motion and that issue is not presently before the Court. Furthermore, it is premature to determine the enforceability of the Agreement until the final bidder is known.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED without prejudice. The Debtor shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Debtors”) filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors’ motion for joint administration of the Debtors’ Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

On October 5, 2018, the Court granted, on an interim basis, the Debtor’s motion for authorization to open a revolving credit card account with City National Bank. Doc. No. 414. The proposed credit card facility has a credit line of $20,000. The Debtors use the credit line to pay for immediate expenses arising in the course of delivering health care services, such as purchasing fuel for patient transportation vehicles and purchasing emergency supplies for the Debtors’ facilities. The Debtors state that since filing for bankruptcy, they have had no access to a credit card to use in everyday transactions. This is the final hearing on the Motion seeking authorization to borrow under the credit facility. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Motion is GRANTED on a final basis. The Debtors require a credit facility in order to pay for everyday expenses. Absent the proposed credit facility, employees of the Debtors will continue to be required to use their personal credit cards to pay for emergency business expenses, and subsequently seek reimbursement from the Debtors—a cumbersome and unnecessary process.

Pursuant to §363(b)(1), the Court authorizes the Debtor to use property of the estate to fund the $20,000 deposit with City National Bank, on a final basis. Pursuant to §364(d), the Debtors are authorized to incur the secured credit under the proposed facility, on a final basis.

2. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Beach Dans, Inc. (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on October 18, 2017. The Debtor's principal asset was a Denny's-franchised restaurant located at 601 Long Beach Blvd., Long Beach, CA 90802 (the "Restaurant"). On December 8, 2017, the Court approved the sale of the Restaurant for $1,010,000. See Doc. No. 57. The sale closed on December 28, 2017.

The Debtor's counsel, Goe & Forsythe, LLP ("G&F"), currently holds $801,974.68 in sales proceeds in its client trust account. G&F seeks authorization to pay quarterly fees to the United States Trustee (the "UST") for the third quarter of 2018. Fees of $650.00 are due by October 31, 2018.

Tentative Ruling:

Plaintiff has demanded a jury trial. However, "[b]ankruptcy litigants ... have no Seventh Amendment right to a jury trial in dischargeability proceedings." American Express v. Hashemi (In re Hashemi), 104 F.3d 1122, 1124 (9th Cir. 1996). A bench trial will be conducted in this matter.

Having reviewed Defendant's Unilateral Status Report, the Court HEREBY ORDERS that the following dates shall apply to this action:

- 1) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 4/12/2018.
- 2) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 6/26/2018.
- 3) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 7/26/2018.
- 4) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 8/14/2018. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)

- 5) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 8/21/2018. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- 6) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 8/25/2018. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- 7) A Pretrial Conference is set for 9/11/2018 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- 8) Trial is set for the week of 10/29/18. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.

The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

The Court will enter a Scheduling Order.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlager or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

#101.00 HearingRE: [11] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations PERSONAL PROPERTY RE: 2016 Ford Flex, VIN 2FMGK5C8XGBA06755 . (Wang, Jennifer)

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

10/25/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Movant has established a prima facie case that cause exists, and Debtor has not responded with evidence establishing that the property is not declining in value or that Movant is adequately protected.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

10/25/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

#103.00 HearingRE: [36] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations REAL PROPERTY RE: 1947 237th Pl, Torrance, CA 90501 . (Wong, Jennifer)

Docket 36

Tentative Ruling:

10/25/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is DENIED without prejudice.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Real Property) [Doc. No. 36] (the "R/S Motion")
2. Debtor's Response to Motion Regarding the Automatic Stay and Declaration(s) in Support [Doc. No. 38] (the "Opposition")
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, Movant has not filed a reply

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor-in-possession Ronelio Garcia (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on September 4, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). On October 5, 2018, Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., ("Movant") filed a "Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Real Property)" [Doc. No. 36] (the "R/S Motion") seeking relief from the automatic stay pursuant to §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(2) with respect to real property located at 1947 237th Pl., Torrance, CA 90501-6103 (the "Property"). Movant asserts that cause exists to grant it relief from stay because the Debtor only has $732.43 in equity in the Property and has failed to make approximately 20 monthly payments. Movant states that its total claim as of October 5, 2018 was $924,267.57, which almost entirely exceeds the Property's alleged fair market value of $925,000. After factoring in costs of sale, Movant asserts that the Debtor has no equity in the Property and Movant's interest is not adequately protected by an equity cushion.

On October 15, 2018, the Debtor filed an opposition to the R/S Motion [Doc. No. 38] (the "Opposition"). In support of the Opposition, the Debtor attached his declaration stating that the Property is currently listed for sale for $1,150,000, that he intends to cure arrears as soon as the sale closes and offers to make adequate protection payments of one contractual payment per month. Based on this fair market value, the Debtor contends that Movant is adequately protected by a 19.56% equity cushion, or $225,000. The Debtor also disputes Movant's contention that the Property is not necessary for an effective reorganization.

As of the date of the preparation of this tentative ruling, Movant has not filed a reply.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1)

Under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1), the Court shall grant relief if the movant's interest in the property is not protected by an adequate equity cushion.

In this case, Movant submitted an "Exterior-Only Inspection Residential Appraisal Report" dated June 7, 2018 in support of its $925,000 valuation. Debtor submitted a declaration stating that the Property is currently listed at $1,150,000, but did not attach a listing agreement or competing appraisal. The Debtor has also offered to begin making monthly adequate protection payments to Movant in the amount of $8,829.09 until the Property is sold.

Relief from stay under § 362(d)(1) is DENIED without prejudice. To ensure that Movant's interest is adequately protected, the Debtor is directed to make monthly adequate protection payments to Movant in the amount of $8,829.00 and to pay Movant's claim, in full, upon the close of escrow – which will presumably occur within the next few months. If the Debtor fails to make any adequate protection payments by the close of business on the 5th day of each month, on declaration so stating, Movant may lodge an order granting relief from stay under § 362(d)(1), and the Court will enter such order without further notice or hearing.

Under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2), the court shall grant relief from the stay if "(A) the debtor does not have any equity in such property; and (B) such property is not necessary for an effective reorganization."

On this record the Court is not persuaded to find that the Debtor lacks equity in the Property or that the Property is not necessary for an effective reorganization. Accordingly, Movant's request for relief under § 362(d)(2) is denied without prejudice.

The Debtor shall lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Jessica Vogel at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

RE: [16] Motion for Approval of Cash Collateral Stipulation

fr. 5-16-18; 7-18-18; 8-20-18

Docket 16

Tentative Ruling:

10/30/2018:

No appearances required. For the reasons set forth below, CONTINUE hearing to January 16, 2019 at 10:00 a.m.

This is a continued hearing on the "Motion for Approval of Cash Collateral Stipulation" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 16]. The Court held an initial hearing on the Motion on May 16, 2018. The Debtor and the United States, on behalf of the IRS, appeared at the hearing. The parties agreed on the record at the hearing that the parties would stipulate to further use of cash collateral for 60 days, through July 18, 2018. See Doc. Nos. 21, 27. The Debtor's interim use of cash collateral has been extended a number of times. See Doc. Nos. 31, 33, 60. On September 19, 2018, the Court entered an order authorizing the Debtor's continued interim use of cash collateral through October 31, 2018 [Doc. No. 70]. As set forth in that order, the Court directed the IRS to file any opposition to the Debtor's continued use of its cash collateral by October 17, 2018. Id. As of the date of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the IRS has not objected.

Based on the foregoing, the Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral on an interim basis through January 16, 2019. The Debtor's continued use of cash collateral remains conditioned upon the Debtor's tender of $1,000 monthly adequate protection payments to the IRS, in the form of a cashier's check or money order in their office, no later than the close of business on the 9th of each month. If at the close of business on the 9th of the month, the IRS does not receive the Debtor's adequate protection payment, on declaration so stating, the IRS may lodge an order dismissing or converting the case, and the Court will enter such order without further

A final hearing regarding the Debtor's use of cash collateral shall be held on January 16, 2019 at 10:00 a.m. The deadline for the IRS to oppose the continued use of cash collateral is January 2, 2019. The deadline for the Debtor to file a reply to any opposition filed by the IRS is January 9, 2019.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Jessica Vogel at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018, Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

A hearing on the Debtors' motion seeking approval of a Key Employee Retention Plan ("KERP") and Key Employee Incentive Plan ("KEIP") (the "KERP/KEIP Motion") is set for November 13, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. In support of the KERP/KEIP Motion, the Debtors seek authorization to file under seal the following information (the "Confidential Information"):

- 1) The identity and salary of the twenty employees subject to the KERP.
- 2) The identity and salary of the twenty-five employees subject to the KEIP.

The Debtors assert that if the Confidential Information is publicly disclosed, they will be irreparably harmed because employee morale will be affected negatively, employees not subject to the KERP or KEIP will leverage the Confidential Information against the Debtors, and competitors will seek to poach the Debtors' employees.

The United States Trustee (the "UST") is the only party who opposes the Motion to Seal. The UST argues that the Confidential Information is not a "trade secret or confidential research, development, or commercial information" within the meaning of §107(b)(1), and is not otherwise subject to protection under any of the other provisions of §107. The UST asserts that the testimony offered in support of the Motion to Seal by the Debtors' CEO, Richard G. Adcock (the "Adcock Declaration"), is speculative and is an unqualified opinion.

In reply to the UST, the Debtors maintain that the Confidential Information is commercial information within the meaning of §107(b)(1), and cite multiple unpublished decisions in which similar information was sealed. The Debtors argue that Mr. Adcock's testimony is admissible, and point to numerous other bankruptcy proceedings in which similar testimony was admitted.

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") has no objection to the Motion to Seal. The Committee requests that, in the event the Motion is granted, any order granting the Motion be without prejudice to the rights of any party in interest to move to unseal all or part of the Confidential Information.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 107(b) provides in relevant part: "On request of a party in interest, the bankruptcy court shall ... protect an entity with respect to a trade secret or confidential research, development, or commercial information." Bankruptcy Rule 9018 implements §107, and provides in relevant part:

On motion or on its own initiative, with or without notice, the court may make any order which justice requires ... to protect the estate or any entity in respect of a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information If an order is entered under this rule without notice, any entity affected thereby may move to vacate or modify the order, and after a hearing on notice the court shall determine the motion.

Commercial information is "information which would cause 'an unfair advantage to competitors by providing them information as to the commercial operations of the debtor.'" Video Software Dealers Ass'n v. Orion Pictures Corp. (In re Orion Pictures Corp.), 21 F.3d 24, 27 (2d Cir. 1994) (internal citations omitted); Ad Hoc Protective Comm. for 10 1/2% Debenture Holders v. Itel Corp. (In re Itel Corp.), 17 B.R. 942, 944 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1982) (explaining that "commercial information" is information that, if disclosed, would afford "an unfair advantage to competitors by providing them information as to the commercial operations of the debtor").

Confidential commercial information qualifies for protection under §107(b) even if it does not rise to the level of a trade secret. Orion Pictures Corp., 21 F.3d at 27. A party seeking a protective order under §107 need not satisfy Civil Rule 26, which provides that a protective order may issue only "for good cause":

When Congress addressed the secrecy problem in § 107(b) of the Bankruptcy Code it imposed no requirement to show "good cause" as a condition to sealing confidential commercial information. This omission is particularly significant because FRCP 26(c), from which the language of § 107(b) appears to have been drawn, expressly required “good cause” to be established before a discovery protective order could be granted—even when the material sought to be protected was “a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information.”

Orion Pictures Corp., 21 F.3d at 28.

Protection under §107 is mandatory upon a showing that the information at issue falls within a protected category:

In other areas of the law, courts have relied on showings of “compelling reasons,” or balancing the interests of privacy and public right to know, when reviewing a request for judicial non-disclosure. The mandatory language of § 107(b) negates the need for such inquiries. Thus, if the information fits any of the specified categories, the court is required to protect a requesting interested party and has no discretion to deny the application. The discretion lies not in whether a court may protect an interested party, but in whether the matters complained of fall within the exception and in what type of protective remedy is necessary under the facts of each case.

Phar-Mor, Inc. v. Defendants Named Under Seal (In re Phar-Mor, Inc.), 191 B.R. 675, 679 (Bankr. N.D. Ohio 1995) (internal citations and quotation marks omitted); see also Father M, et al. v. Various Tort Claimants (In re Roman Catholic Archbishop of Portland in Oregon), 661 F.3d 417, 430–31 (9th Cir. 2011) (“[Section] 107 eliminates a court’s discretion by making it mandatory for a court to protect documents falling into one of the enumerated exceptions.... Under § 107, the strength of the public’s interest in a particular judicial record is irrelevant; if the exception pertains, the bankruptcy court must issue a protective order on a motion by the affected person or party.”).

The Court finds that the Confidential Information constitutes “confidential ... commercial information” within the meaning of §107(b). The Motion to Seal is supported by unconverted testimony from Mr. Adcock, establishing that disclosure of the Confidential Information would likely cause competitors to poach the Debtors’ key employees. [Note 1] Therefore, disclosure of the Confidential Information would provide competitors an unfair advantage by giving them insight into the Debtors’ compensation structure. Mr. Adcock's testimony further establishes that disclosure would harm both the morale of the Debtors' employees who are not eligible to participate in the KERP and KEIP, and the morale of certain key employees (who would learn their peers' compensation). The Court finds that disclosure would unfairly disadvantage the Debtors relative to competitors not required to disclose equivalent information.

The Court's finding is bolstered by the decisions of multiple other bankruptcy courts, who have found that compensation data of the type at issue here is subject to protection under §107(b). See, e.g., In re Allied Holdings, Inc., 377 B.R. 716, 717–18, n.1 (Bankr. N.D. Ga. 2005) (sealing employee names and compensation data); In re Georgetown Steel, LLC, 306 B.R. 542, 546 (Bankr. D. S.C. 2004) (finding that publication of compensation data would "place Debtor at a competitive disadvantage" in retaining employees); In re A123 Systems, Inc., Case No. 12-2859 [Doc. No. 247] (Bankr. D. Del. Nov. 6, 2012) (sealing employee names and compensation data); In re Brookstone, Case No. 14-10752 [Doc. No. 24] (Bankr. D. Del. Apr. 3, 2014) (same).

Because the Confidential Information constitutes "commercial information" as that term is defined in §107(b), protection is mandatory. See Phar-Mor, Inc., 191 B.R. at 679; Father M, 661 F.3d at 430–31 (cited above). The UST's objection to the Motion is overruled.

There is no merit to the UST's argument that disclosure of the Confidential Information will not subject the Debtors to the poaching of its key employees. The UST's theory is that competitors could simply ask key employees whom they sought to recruit about the terms of their compensation. The UST's argument overlooks the reality that the Debtors' key employees would be unlikely to disclose such information to competitors or recruiters. Under the KERP and KEIP, employees forfeit their right to receive incentive payments if they disclose Confidential Information to anyone not authorized to receive it.

The Committee's request that the order granting the Motion be without prejudice to the ability of any party to move to unseal the Confidential Information is GRANTED. The Debtor shall include language to that effect in its proposed order on the Motion.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion to Seal is GRANTED in its entirety. The Debtor shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference within seven days of the hearing.

Declaration

Adcock Decl. ¶5: "I have read the KEIP/KERP Motion, the Seal Motion and the Kearns Declaration, and agree with the factual representations contained therein."

UST Objection: "Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(i), in pertinent part, states '[t]he verification of a motion is not sufficient to constitute evidence on a motion, unless otherwise ordered by the court.'"

Ruling: Objection overruled. As the Debtors note, paragraph five of the Adcock Declaration is not intended to proffer as evidence statements elsewhere in the moving papers. The Court notes that in making the findings of fact necessary to adjudicate the Motion to Seal, it relies only upon facts supported by declaration testimony, not upon representations or argument set forth in the moving papers.

Adcock Decl. ¶8: "The Debtors seek to seal the Confidential Information (as defined in the Seal Motion) to protect their employees and their trade secrets, not as any litigation tactic. The Debtors will be harmed if Confidential Information could be obtained by competitors who would be able to "poach" employees and negotiate at an advantage against the Debtors. Additionally, compensation information is protected to prevent employees from examining what their peers earn. Employee morale would be negatively affected by publishing the identities and salaries of the KERP and KEIP Participants. Absent sealing of the Confidential Information and based upon my observations and experience, I believe critical employees will leave and/or otherwise will not perform as necessary and the Debtors' will have a limited ability to hire qualified replacement employees in the future."

UST Objection: "FRE Rules 103(c), 602, 611(a), and 701/703. The contention that competitors may 'poach' and negotiate at an advantage against the Debtors assumes facts not in evidence, is speculative and is an unqualified opinion. Also FRE Rule 602 and 701 regarding speculation that competitors will actually use information to 'poach' employees or otherwise negotiate at an advantage against the Debtors. It is also speculative that morale may be negatively impacted by the publication of the identities and salary of the KERP and KEIP participants and that critical employees may leave or otherwise not perform as necessary or that Debtors' will have limited ability to hire replacement employees.

"The United States Trustee notes and presumes a number of KERP and KEIP participants include Debtors' former or present insiders, officers or directors whose compensation and bonuses in the one year prior to filing have already been disclosed in connection with the response to questions 4 and 30 of the statement of Financial Affairs or in the Notice of Setting of Insider Compensation."

Ruling: The UST's objections under Rules 701 and 703 are OVERRULED. Rule 701 provides that testimony offered by a lay witness must not be based upon scientific, technical, or otherwise specialized knowledge within the scope of Rule 702. Rule 703 provides that an expert may offer testimony based upon "facts or data in the case that the expert has been made aware of or personally observed."

The declaration filed by Mr. Adcock in support of the Motion to Seal (the "Adcock Decl.") [Doc. No. 634] incorporates by reference Mr. Adcock's declaration filed in support of the Debtors' first-day motions (the "Adcock First Day Decl.") [Doc. No. 8]. The Court considers both the Adcock Declaration and the Adcock First Day Decl. in adjudicating the UST's evidentiary objections.

Mr. Adcock's declarations establish that he is qualified to offer expert opinion regarding the business operations of a large integrated healthcare system such as that operated by the Debtors. Specifically, Mr. Adcock's testimony shows that:

- 1) Mr. Adcock has 25 years' experience in the healthcare industry, including 15 years' experience with not-for-profit operations. Adcock Decl. at ¶3. Mr. Adcock has accumulated extensive senior-level experience in the areas of healthcare delivery, hospital acute care services, health plan management, product management, acquisitions, integrations, population health management, budgeting, disease management, medical devices, human resources, and personnel management. Id.
- 2) Mr. Adcock became VHS' Chief Operating Officer ("COO") in August 2017. Mr. Adcock became VHS' Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") in January 2018. In his roles as COO and CEO at VHS, Mr. Adcock has become intimately familiar with all aspects of VHS and its affiliates. Id. at ¶2; see also Adcock First Day Decl. at ¶¶11–130 (providing a comprehensive overview of all aspects of the Debtors' business operations).
- 3) From 2014 until 2017, Mr. Adcock served as Executive Vice President and Chief Innovation Officer of Sanford Health, a large integrated health system headquartered in the Dakotas. First Day Decl. at ¶4. Mr. Adcock has also served as a Director of Engineering at GE Medical Systems and the Vice President of Research and Development at Micro Medical Systems. Id. at ¶5.

"experience" or "training." Here, Mr. Adcock's declarations amply establish that he has sufficient experience and training to testify as an expert regarding the business operations of the Debtors. As noted by one bankruptcy court, witnesses who have worked in the industry at issue "may be prime candidates for providing relevant [expert] testimony." Stanziale v. Southern Steel & Supply, LLC (In re Conex Holdings, LLC), 518 B.R. 269, 286 (Bankr. D. Del. 2014).

It is within the scope of Mr. Adcock's expertise to testify that disclosure of the Confidential Information would negatively affect the morale of the Debtors' employees, would likely cause competitors to poach employees from the Debtors, and would likely cause the Debtors' critical employees to leave or to fail to perform as necessary.

For the same reasons, the UST's objection under Rule 602 (which requires testimony to be supported by personal knowledge) is overruled. Mr. Adcock's declarations contain sufficient evidence showing that he has personal knowledge of the Debtors' business operations.

Rule 611(a) requires the Court to "exercise reasonable control over the mode and order of examining witnesses" so as to effectively determine the truth, avoid wasting time, and protect witnesses from undue embarrassment. The Court finds that consideration of Mr. Adcock's declarations, in their entirety, is consistent with the objectives of Rule 611(a), and overrules the UST's objection under that rule.

Rule 103(c) provides that the "court may make any statement about the character or form of the evidence, the objection made, and the ruling." There is no basis for excluding any portion of Mr. Adcock's declarations under Rule 103(c). The UST's objection under Rule 103(c) is overruled.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Court finds that there is sufficient evidence to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(4). The filing of the petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, which involved the transfer of all or part ownership of, or other interest in, the Property without the consent of Movant or court approval and multiple bankruptcy cases affecting the Property. #3.00 HearingRE: [11] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations REAL PROPERTY RE: 6856 White Avenue, Long Beach, CA 90806 . (Weber, Edward)

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

11/1/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Court finds that there is sufficient evidence to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(4). The filing of the petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, which involved multiple bankruptcy cases affecting the Property. Declaration of Marcel Bruetsch in support of Motion at paragraph 18.

For the same reasons, the Motion is GRANTED pursuant to section 362(d)(1) based on Debtor's bad faith filing. The 14-day period specified in Fed.R.Bankr.P. 4001(a)(3) is waived. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. If recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in real property, the order shall be binding in any other case under this title purporting to affect such real property filed not later than 2 years after the date of the entry of such order by the Court, except that a debtor in a subsequent case under this title may move for relief from such order based upon changed circumstances or for good cause shown, after notice and a hearing. #4.00 HearingRE: [8] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations PERSONAL PROPERTY RE: 2016 HONDA ACCORD, VIN: 1HGC R2F5 6GA1 41047 .

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

11/1/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

The Motion is DENIED without prejudice. Pursuant to the Court's "Self-Calendaring Instructions" for residential unlawful detainer motions for relief from stay on shortened notice, no later than 7-days prior to the hearing, the motion and supporting documents are required to be served by posting or personal service on the Debtor. Here, although the proof of service attached to the Motion is dated 10/29/18, it does not state what date the pleadings were served on the Debtor and does not specify that the Debtor was served either by personal delivery or posting (as opposed to overnight mail service, facsimile transmission and/or e-mail) as required by the Court's Self-Calendaring Instructions. The Movant may refile the Motion with service upon the Debtor in a manner consistent with the Court's Self-Calendaring Instructions.

voluntary Chapter 11 petition on July 6, 2017 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor operates a trucking company throughout the western United States. Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtor employed each of its drivers as an independent contractor, with wages paid through a 1099. As a result, no withholdings for taxes or other required withholdings were taken from their compensation. These employment practices led to two lawsuits – the Class Action (defined below) and the Enforcement Action (defined below and referred to by the Debtor as the California Lawsuit) before the Superior Court of the State of California (the "State Court"). The Debtor sought bankruptcy protection to limit its potential liability in the Class Action and Enforcement Action and to reorganize its affairs.

The Enforcement Action

The State of California (the "State") commenced the Enforcement Action against the Debtor and its principal, Alfredo Barajas, on September 5, 2008. The Enforcement Action alleges that the Debtor misclassifies its driver employees as independent contractors, and thus commits "unfair competition" within the meaning of California Business and Professions Code §17200, by failing to pay the minimum wage, secure workers' compensation insurance, and report and remit payroll taxes. The State seeks an injunction, civil penalties, and restitution of unpaid wages.

In August 2009, the Debtor and Mr. Barajas filed a motion for judgment on the pleadings in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court"), arguing that the State's claims against them were pre-empted by the Federal Aviation Administration Authorization Act. On September 22, 2009, the State Court granted the motion and entered judgment in favor of the Debtor and Mr. Barajas. On December 7, 2009, the State appealed the judgment. The Enforcement Action was stayed during the appeal, which lasted from December 7, 2009 to April 8, 2015. The State Court's judgment in favor of the Debtor and Mr. Barajas was ultimately reversed and litigation began anew in the State Court in April 2015.

On February 18, 2016, the State filed a supplemental complaint (the "Supplemental Complaint"), adding the Debtor's sister company, Green Anchor Lines, Inc. ("Green Anchor") as a defendant. The State alleges that Green Anchor supplied the Debtor's drivers from 2009 through at least December 2016. The Supplemental Complaint makes the same allegations and seeks the same relief as the

The Class Action

On June 14, 2017, Carlos Mosquera and Juan Francisco Rodriguez, on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated (the "Class Claimants") commenced an action against the Debtor in the State Court Court (the "Class Action"). The Class Action seeks restitution and damages from the Debtor due to the Debtor's employment practices for all drivers, statutory penalties under the California Labor Code, and an injunction. The Class Action is brought under the Private Attorneys General Act ("PAGA").

The Class Action has not been set for trial but, absent approval of the parties' settlement agreement, the Debtor expects trial will likely be set for the latter half of 2019 and that it will be forced to incur significant attorneys' fees and expenses in preparing for trial.

The Removal and Remand Proceedings

On or about July 7, 2017, the Debtor removed both the Enforcement Action and Class Action to this Court.

On July 28, 2017, the State moved to remand the Enforcement Action back to State Court for adjudication, which this Court granted by Order entered September 15, 2017. See People of the State of California, ex rel. Edmund G. Brown Jr., Attorney General of the State of California v. Pac Anchor Transportation, Inc., et al. 2:17-ap-01345-ER, Adv. Dkt. Nos. 10, 23.

On September 5, 2017, this Court sua sponte issued an Order to Show Cause why the Class Action should not be remanded to the State Court for adjudication. On October 2, 2017, the Committee, Class Claimants, and the Debtor filed a stipulation with this Court agreeing to remand the Class Action to State Court and to a modification of the automatic stay of 11 U.S.C § 362 to allow for adjudication by the State Court (the "Remand Stipulation"), which the Court approved by Order entered October 4, 2017 (the "Remand Order"). *See Mosquera et al v. Remand Order stated:

Plaintiffs shall have until January 2, 2018 to file a proof of claim in Debtor's bankruptcy proceeding and Plaintiffs may file a single proof of claim on behalf of the entire class that Plaintiffs represent without the need to file a motion with the bankruptcy court or take any other procedural action. By virtue of this Order, Plaintiffs shall be authorized to file a single proof of claim on behalf of the entire class without taking any other action or seeking any other authority to do so.

Remand Order, ¶ 5.

The State and Class Claimants' Proofs of Claim

On January 2, 2018, the State filed Proof of Claim Number 12 which consists entirely of the Enforcement Action Complaint and what appears to be two copies of the Supplemental Complaint ("State Claim 12"). Minutes later, the State filed Proof of Claim Number 13 using the Court mandated form and asserting a claim for $22,300,000 for "[r]estitution for unpaid wages, unreimbursed expense, and civil penalties." The State asserts that $500,000 of its claim is entitled to priority treatment pursuant to § 507(a)(4) and $15,000,000 is entitled to priority treatment pursuant to § 507(a)(7) ("State Claim").

The Committee, Class Claimants, and the Debtor subsequently stipulated to continue the deadline for the Class Claimants to file a proof of claim on behalf of the entire class to February 2, 2018, which this Court approved by Order entered January 9, 2018 (the "Continued Bar Date Order"). See Doc. Nos. 176, 178. On February 2, 2018, the Class Claimants filed proof of claim number 14 ("Class Claim 14" or "Class Claim").

Summary of the Settlement Motion

On July 30, 2018, the Debtor filed a motion seeking approval of a settlement between the Debtor, the Class Claimants, and the Committee (collectively, the "Parties") that will resolve the Class Action [Doc. No. 286] (the "Settlement Motion"). A copy of the proposed settlement agreement (the "Agreement") is attached to the Declaration of Alfredo Barajas (the "Barajas Decl.") as Exhibit 1. A copy of the fully executed Agreement appears on the docket as entry number 313.

Pursuant to the terms of the Agreement, three conditions must be satisfied before its terms become effective and binding upon the Parties: (1) certification of the class, appointment of class representatives, approval of attorneys' fees and costs, and approval of the Agreement by the State Court; (2) approval by the Bankruptcy Court; and (3) confirmation of a chapter 11 plan of reorganization incorporating the terms of the Agreement.

The salient terms of the Agreement are as follows:

- The Debtor and Committee will jointly propose and seek approval of a disclosure statement and plan of reorganization ("Plan").
- The Plan will include the following provisions, among others:
 - The Debtor will propose to pay general unsecured creditors, inclusive of the claims of the Class Claimants and their attorneys' fees and costs, $4,500,000, as follows: (i) $750,000 on the effective date of the Plan; and (ii) quarterly distributions of $187,500, beginning April 1, 2019 and ending January 1, 2024, for a total of $3,750,000.
 - These payments will be made to a disbursing agent/claims administrator chosen by the Committee.
 - In the event the Bankruptcy Court confirms the Plan but the State Court does not conduct a fairness hearing and issue an order approving the Agreement prior to December 27, 2018, the Debtor shall make all distributions required under the Plan to a person or entity chosen by the Committee. If the State Court denies the Agreement, the funds shall be returned to the Debtor, confirmation of the Plan will be revoked, and the Agreement shall become void and of no force and effect.
 - On the effective date, the Committee will be replaced by a post-confirmation committee (the "Plan Committee") to monitor the Debtor's compliance with the Plan and take enforcement actions in the event of default.
 - Except as provided therein, all existing statute of limitations for the commencement of all avoidance claims under 11 U.S.C. § 542 et seq. will be tolled from the effective date of the Plan until final payment is

- The Plan will establish a liquidating trust pursuant to the terms of the liquidating trust agreement attached to the Plan.
 - In the event of default, subject to certain provisions set forth in the Agreement and at the election of the Plan Committee, the Debtor's assets will vest in the Liquidating Trust.
- The Liquidating Trust will have standing to pursue all avoidance claims against the Debtor's insiders.
- The Debtor is enjoined from employing drivers as independent contractors or owner operator drivers. Debtor must only use employee drivers.
- The Parties will draft and execute a separate settlement agreement that will fully resolve the Class Action.
- The Agreement is subject to approval by the State Court in two steps: (1) preliminary approval; and (2) an order after a fairness hearing.
- In the event Alfredo Barajas and Elizabeth Zarate (the "Principles" or "Insiders") file their own bankruptcy case, the Liquidating Trust will have a $100,000 claim against the Insiders in full satisfaction of any existing avoidance claims.
- The Agreement is subject to approval by the Bankruptcy Court. The Bankruptcy Court Order approving the Agreement shall provide:
 - That the Class Claimants in the Class Action are given the retroactive authority under Rule 9014 to file a class proof of claim consistent with the Remand Order.
 - That the class of creditors designated in the Class Action is deemed certified as a class for all purposes (voting, allowance) under Rule 7023.
 - Class Claimants, as representatives of the class members, have the standing to vote for the Plan on behalf of each of the class members.
 - For purposes of voting and distribution of funds under the Plan, the entire class of creditors designated in the Class Action will hold an allowed unsecured claim in the aggregate sum of $14,000,000 and a claim for penalties in the sum of $31,000,000.

Chapter 11

The Debtor also requests that the order granting the Settlement Motion and approving the Agreement specifically state that the State's objection to Class Claim 14, filed on June 21, 2018 (Dkt. No. 266) (the "Objection to Class Claim 14") is overruled as moot. Debtor asserts that State's objection is based on the Class Claimant's alleged failure to file a motion under Bankruptcy Rule 9014 to obtain authority to file a single proof of claim for the putative class and a lack of certification of the Class Action. However, the Debtor contends that the objection should be overruled because the Remand Order waived the need for the Class Claimants to file a formal motion under Bankruptcy Rule 9014. [Note 1]

Summary of the State's Opposition

The State objects to approval of the Agreement and contends that the proposed settlement falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness. The State's main points of objection are summarized as follows:

- The settlement is not proposed in good faith because it is designed to disenfranchise the State by giving a controlling vote to Carlos Mosquera on behalf of the class of creditors designated in the Class Action without compliance with certain procedural requirements to confer standing on him to act on behalf of the class. Specifically, the Settlement Motion seeks to treat Class Claim 14 as a class, but Mr. Mosquera has not obtained class certification in the State Court or filed a motion under Bankruptcy Rules 9014 and 7023 to allow his claim to bind the other putative class members.
- The State's right to due process will be violated if the Court approves the Agreement, which inflates the votes of a class that has not been finally certified for purposes of plan confirmation. The State will also be prejudiced because it contends that it is the rightful party in interest to pursue claims for restitution and under the Agreement, its $15,000,000 claim for civil penalties will be reduced to less than $10,000.
- The agreement is not in the best interest of the estate. The putative class of creditors will be better off if the State is allowed to pursue the restitution claim because it can pursue claims that the Class Claimant is barred from pursuing by applicable statute of limitations and because any recovery it may ultimately receive will not be reduced by potentially 1/3 for payment of attorneys' fees and costs.

- The Agreement seeks to release at least $8,000,000 in potential avoidance claims against the Insiders in exchange for no consideration, other than the ability to file a $100,000 claim in their future bankruptcies. The Debtor and Committee fail to provide sufficient evidence or analysis in support of their reason for entering into the Agreement in light of the limitations on the avoidance actions.
- The Agreement does not contain any effective enforcement mechanism in the event of default, since the property re-vests in the Debtor, who would be free to dispose of it as it sees fit, which could leave no assets for the Liquidating Trust.

Summary of the Debtor and Committee Reply Briefs

The Committee responds to the State's contention that the Committee and Class Claimants have agreed to waive large potential fraudulent transfer claims for "no real consideration" by arguing that the State's arguments are detached from the reality of the facts of this case. The Debtor is a family-trucking business run primarily by Mr. Barajas. Without Mr. Barajas's willingness to continue to operate the Debtor's business, unsecured creditors face the much more uncertain prospect of chapter 7 liquidation. The Committee submits that there is substantial value to both creditors and the community in which Debtor operates to allow the Debtor to continue to operate. Additionally, the Committee reiterates its belief that a judgment against the Insiders would likely be worthless and that the settlement achieves an excellent outcome from unsecured creditors in this case.

The Committee also contends that the State mischaracterizes the Agreement's enforcement mechanisms in the event Debtor defaults. The Committee states that paragraphs K, L, and M in the Agreement provide for a comprehensive enforcement regime and preserves the Liquidating Trustee's ability to pursue the Insiders with respect to any avoidance actions in the event of a default.

Finally, the Committee highlights that the State has not presented any evidence establishing the value and viability of any potential avoidance actions and has not presented any viable alternatives to resolve this chapter 11 case in a manner that would better serve the interests of general unsecured creditors. Therefore, the Committee requests the Court overrule the State's Opposition.

The Debtor responds to the State's Opposition as follows. Debtor contends that the State's contention that the Agreement is not proposed in good faith because the Agreement disenfranchises the State of their vote on Debtor's Plan and the State will only receive $10,000 lacks merit. First, Debtor states that the Agreement does not affect the State's right to vote on the Plan, so it is not being disenfranchised of its right to vote. Second, Debtor contends that the fact that the State will only receive $10,000 does not support a finding that the Agreement was proposed in bad faith. Debtor asserts that the State elected not to participate in mediation and therefore deprived itself of the right to object to the proposed terms of its treatment as a result of the Settlement.

Debtor also contends that the State's arguments regarding Debtor's decision not to pursue its affirmative defenses are similarly without merit because it is within Debtor's reasonable business judgment to evaluate the risks of litigation and determine that it is in the best interests of the estate not to pursue all defenses it might have available to it. Debtor also contends that the State's contention that the Agreement is not in the putative class' best interest because of the amount of attorneys' fees to be paid from the settlement proceeds lacks merit because the Class Claimants have chosen competent counsel to represent them and it is within their discretion to decide when and how they want to resolve their claims.

With respect to the State's arguments regarding the waiver of avoidable transfer claims against Insiders, Debtor submits that even under a more heightened scrutiny, the Agreement is still fair and reasonable. The Debtor highlights that the Agreement was negotiated with the Class Claimants and Committee and that Committee counsel performed a competent review of relevant financial documents.

Finally, Debtor submits that any objection the State has to the purported lack of effective enforcement mechanisms in the Plan in the event of a default should be raised in the context of the confirmation hearing and, in any event, asserts that there is no evidence to support a finding that Debtor's principals intend to engage in any

Summary of State's Supplemental Declaration

On November 5, 2018, the State filed a Supplemental Declaration of Timothy J. Kolesnikow (the "Supplemental Kolesnikow Decl.") refuting the Debtor and Committee's contentions that they have provided the State with adequate documentation regarding the Insider transfers. The State contends that it has not received all of the financial documents it has requested.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that approval of the Settlement Motion requires this Court to conduct an analysis of Civil Rule 23, made applicable herein by Bankruptcy Rule 7023 and 9014. The Class Claimants have not filed a separate motion under Bankruptcy Rule 7023 seeking class certification for purposes of filing a single class claim. However, such a request is implicit in the Parties' request that the Court approve certain provisions in the Agreement regarding class certification and Carlos Mosquera and Juan Francisco Rodriguez's standing to file a claim on behalf of the entire class. See Agreement, ¶¶ 6A – 6D. Specifically, paragraph 6A states that the Bankruptcy Court's order approving the Agreement shall provide "[t]hat the class of creditors designated in the Class Action is deemed certified as a class for all purposes (voting, allowance) under Rule 7023."

Accordingly, the Court finds it appropriate to treat the Settlement Motion as a request for the Court to apply Bankruptcy Rule 7023 in this contested matter. See In re Mortg. & Realty Tr., 125 B.R. 575, 579-80 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1991) (citing Reid v. White Motor Corp., 886 F.2d 1462 (6th Cir. 1989); In re American Reserve Corp., 840 F.2d 487 (7th Cir. 1988)) ("[Bankruptcy] Rule 9014 allows a court to 'invoke [Bankruptcy] Rule 7023 and thereby Fed. R. Civ. P. 23, the class action rule, to 'any stage' in contested matters....").

In the alternative, the Court sua sponte considers class certification under Bankruptcy Rule 7023. See e.g., Mortland v. Aughney, 2011 WL 2653515, at *2 (N.D. Cal. July 6, 2011) (contemplating trial court's authority to sua sponte consider class certification but affirming trial court's decision to not apply Bankruptcy Rule 7023 because class representatives had not met the criteria for certifying a class). The Court finds it appropriate to excuse any purported procedural deficiencies in light of the Court's Remand Order, which the putative class members reasonably and justifiably relied on in choosing to forego filing individual proofs of claim by the claims bar date and in only now seeking relief under Bankruptcy Rule 7023.

The Court also finds that the State has not been deprived of due process or unfairly prejudiced as a result of the delay and lack of a formal motion under Bankruptcy Rule 7023 because: (a) the State received electronic notice of the Continued Bar Date Order and did not seek reconsideration of that order [See Doc. Nos. 176, 178]; and (b) the State has had a number of opportunities to address issues relevant to Bankruptcy Rule 7023's application and should have raised any substantive arguments against class certification in its objection to the Class Claim [Doc. No. 266], or opposition to the Settlement Motion [Doc. No. 373]. Nothing foreclosed the State from pleading these issues in the alternative.

A. Class Certification is Appropriate Under Bankruptcy Rule 7023

Whether to permit a class action proof of claim is a matter of discretion. In re Chaparral Energy, Inc., 571 B.R. 642, 646 (Bankr. D. Del. 2017). In exercising that discretion, a two-step analysis is performed:

First, the court must decide whether it is beneficial to apply Bankruptcy Rule 7023, via Bankruptcy Rule 9014(c), to the claims administration process. Second, the court must determine whether the requirements of Federal Rule 23 have been satisfied, such that a class proof of claim may be properly filed.

Id. (internal citations omitted).

1. The Court Exercises its Discretion to Apply Bankruptcy Rule 7023

Courts have developed a three-factor framework for consideration in deciding whether to apply Bankruptcy Rule 7023 to the claims administration process. Chaparral Energy, 571 B.R. at 646. Those factors are: (1) whether the class was certified pre-petition; (2) whether the members of the putative class received notice of the bar date; and (3) whether class certification will adversely affect the administration of the estate. Id. (citing In re Musicland Holding Corp., 362 B.R. 644, 654 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2007) (the "Musicland factors")). No one factor is dispositive; a factor may take on more or less importance in any given case. Id.

In this case, the first Musicland factor weighs against applying Bankruptcy Rule 7023 to the Class Claim, because the putative class was not certified pre-petition. However, as the Chaparral Energy court noted, the failure to obtain class certification pre-petition, is not fatal to applying Bankruptcy Rule 7023. See Chaparral Energy, 571 B.R. at 646 (collecting cases allowing the filing of a class proof of claim where class not certified pre-petition).

The Court finds that the second Musicland factor weighs in favor of applying Bankruptcy Rule 7023 to the Class Claim. Here, all known putative class members received notice of the claims bar date. See Dkt. No. 46. The Court recognizes that "other courts have declined to apply Bankruptcy Rule 7023 on the basis that class certification would constitute an improper extension of the bar date for potential claimants who were served with notice but did not timely file proofs of claim." See In re MF Global, Inc., 512 B.R. 757, 763-64 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2014); citing Musicland, 362 B.R. at 656 ("Allowing the class proof of claim would extend the bar date for those creditors who failed to file a timely claim to the prejudice of those creditors who did").

However, the Court finds that the Remand Order makes this case distinguishable from other cases because the putative class members reasonably and justifiably relied on the Remand Order in deciding not to file individual proofs of claim. In fact, aside from the Class Claim, none of the putative class members filed a proof of claim. Accordingly, if this Court were to now decline to apply Bankruptcy Rule 7023 to the Class Claim, the drivers would be unfairly prejudiced.

The third Musicland factor weighs strongly in favor of applying Bankruptcy Rule 7023. The Court finds that class certification will not adversely affect the administration of the case and, in light of the pending settlement, will enable a more expedient and judicious administration of the case.

2. The Class Claim Satisfies the Requirements of Civil Rule 23(a)

Class certification involves a two-part analysis. Chiang v. Neilson (In re Death Row Records, Inc.), 2012 Bankr. LEXIS 1227, at *41 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. Mar. 21, 2012). First, the movant must demonstrate that the proposed class satisfies the requirements of Civil Rule 23(a) that:

- (1) the members of the proposed class be so numerous that joinder of all claims would be impracticable;
- (2) there be questions of law or fact common to the class;
- (3) the claims or defenses of the representative parties must be typical of the claims or defenses of absent class members; and
- (4) the representative parties must fairly and adequately protect the interest of the class.

Id. at *42.

If a movant meets the requirements of Civil Rule 23(a), then at least one of the three subsections of Civil Rule 23(b) must also be met before a class action may proceed. Id.

When determining whether the Civil Rule 23 requirements are met, courts may consider the allegations made in the pleadings, but sometimes must look beyond the pleadings. Blackie v. Barrack, 524 F.2d 891, 901 (9th Cir. 1975); Gen. Tel. Co. of Southwest v. Falcon, 457 U.S. 147, 160 (1982). Courts may also consider judicially noticeable matters as well as circumstantial and anecdotal evidence, including evidence provided in declarations. Dukes v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 603 F.3d 571 (9th Cir. 2010).

b. Civil Rule 23(a)

i. Numerosity

Civil Rule 23(a)(1) requires that the class be "so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable." Though there is no exact numerical cut-off, "numerosity is presumed where the plaintiff class contains forty or more members." In re Cooper

Chapter 11

The Court finds the numerosity requirement satisfied because there are approximately 200 members in the putative class. First Amended Class Action and PAGA Complaint (the "Class Complaint"), ¶ 26.

ii. Commonality

Commonality focuses on the relationship of common facts and legal issues among class members, but:

All questions of fact and law need not be common to satisfy [Civil Rule 23(a)(2)]. The existence of shared legal issues with divergent factual predicates is sufficient, as is a common core of salient facts coupled with disparate legal remedies within the class.

Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1101, 1019 (9th Cir. 1998).

Here, the Court finds that there are a number of substantive factual and legal issues common to all class members. There is no dispute that the putative class members are all current or former independent contractors of the Debtor who worked for the Debtor from approximately September 5, 2004 to June 14, 2017 (the date the Class Complaint was filed). There is also no dispute that the common thread underlying the putative members' claims against the Debtor stem from the Debtor's classification of the drivers as independent contractors and related employment practices. The Court also finds that the allegations in paragraph 27(a) – (t) in the Class Complaint provide further evidentiary support in favor of finding that commonality exists.

iii. Typicality

Civil Rule 23(a)(3) requires that the claims of the class representative be typical of the class claims. In re Death Row Records, 2012 LEXIS, at *45. In examining typicality, courts consider "whether other members have the same or similar injury, whether the action is based on conduct which is not unique to the named plaintiffs and whether other class members have been injured by the same course of conduct." Id.

Here, the Court finds that the claims of Messrs. Mosquera and Rodriguez are typical of the claims of the other putative class members. Messrs. Mosquera and Rodriguez worked as drivers for the Debtor and were exposed to the same treatment as the other drivers and sustained the same types of damages and losses resulting from the alleged misclassification as independent contractors and unfair business practices. See Class Complaint, ¶ 28. Therefore, the Court finds that the Class Action involves claims for relief based upon conduct by the Debtor that is not unique to Messrs. Mosquera and Rodriguez. Consequently, all class members have been injured by the same alleged course of conduct.

iv. Adequacy of Representation

Civil Rule 23(a)(4) requires a determination that the class representative will adequately protect the interests of the class. In re Death Row Records, 2012 LEXIS, at *46. In determining whether the interests of a class will be adequately represented, the court must determine that the class representative does not have an interest antagonistic to the class and that the class counsel must be qualified, experienced and able to conduct the litigation. Id. (citing 5 James Wm. Moore, Moore's Federal Practice § 23.25[3][a] 3d ed. 2007).

There is nothing in the record to support a finding that Messrs. Mosquera and Rodriguez have any conflicts with the interests of the other putative class members. In fact, the record supports an opposite finding in view of the U.S. Trustee's decision to appoint Messrs. Mosquera and Rodriguez as members of the Committee of Unsecured Creditors with fiduciary duties owing to all unsecured creditors. See Doc. No. 53. Moreover, the proposed Agreement, which will provide a significant payout to the drivers, provides further support for finding that Messrs. Mosquera and Rodriguez have adequately represented the putative class members' interests. Finally, the entire class of putative creditors received notice of the Settlement Motion and none of them have objected.

Kabatech LLP, proposed Class Action counsel for Messrs. Mosquera and Rodriguez, is experienced in complex class action litigation. Class Complaint, ¶ 29. Further, the Court approved the application to employ Levene, Neale, Bender Yoo &

Brill ("LNBYB") as Committee counsel after notice and an opportunity to request a hearing [Doc. No. 78]. In so doing, the Court found LNBYB competent to represent the interests of all general unsecured creditors, including the putative class claimants.

c. Civil Rule 23(b)

Once the requirements of Civil Rule 23(a) are met, at least one of the requirements of Civil Rule 23(b) must also be satisfied before a class can be certified. In re Death Row Records, 2012 LEXIS, at *47.

In this case, the Court finds that Civil Rule 23(b)(3) is satisfied. Civil Rule 23(b)(3) is satisfied when:

The court finds that the questions of law or fact common to class members predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, and that a class action is superior to other available methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy. The matters pertinent to these findings include:

- (A) the class members' interests in individually controlling the prosecution or defense of separate actions;
- (B) the extent and nature of any litigation concerning the controversy already begun by or against class members;
- (C) the desirability or undesirability of concentrating the litigation of the claims in the particular forum; and
- (D) the likely difficulties in managing a class action.

Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3).

The Supreme Court has applied the standard set forth in Civil Rule 23(b)(3) as follows:

To qualify for class certification under [Civil] Rule 23(b)(3), a class must meet two requirements beyond the [Civil] Rule 23(a) prerequisites: Common questions must 'predominate over any questions affecting only individual members;' and class resolution must be 'superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy.' In adding 'predominance' and ‘superiority’ to the qualification-for-certification list, the Advisory Committee sought to cover cases ‘in which a class action would achieve economies of time, effort, and expenses, and promote ... uniformity in decision as to persons similarly situated, without sacrificing procedural fairness or bringing about undesirable results.’

Amchem Products, Inc., v. Windsor, 531 U.S. 591, 616 (1997).

As described in section II.A.2.b.ii above, the Court finds that common questions of law and fact predominate over any questions affecting individual class members. The Court also finds that, in light of the proposed Agreement and the risks of protracted litigation and possible liquidation of this estate absent approval of the settlement, authorizing a single class claim is far superior to other available methods. Further, if the class members were required to file separate proofs of claim, the Debtor could object to the validity of each claim and it would be overly expensive and burdensome for each of the drivers (and the estate) to have to defend their claim on an individual basis. See also Class Complaint, ¶ 30.

For the reasons set forth above, the Court overrules the State’s objections and finds it appropriate to certify the class for purposes of filing a single proof of claim and voting on Debtor’s chapter 11 plan of reorganization. Certification shall be nunc pro tunc to the date of the filing of the proof of claim. See In re Musicland Holding Corp., 362 B.R. 644, 652 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2007) (citing In re Matter of American Reserve Corp., 840 F.2d 487, 493 (7th Cir. 1988) (“If the court certifies the class, ... the self-appointed agent has become ‘authorized,’ and the original filing is effective for the whole class”)).

B. The Agreement is Fair, Reasonable, and in the Best Interest of Creditors

The Court approves the Agreement. Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a) permits the Court to approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v.

Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). "While insider status alone is not fatal to dealings between a debtor and an insider, the court must scrutinize dealings more carefully." In re Hyloft, Inc., 451 B.R. 104, 113 (Bankr. D. Nev. 2011).

The A&C Properties factors weigh in favor of approving the Agreement. Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the compromise is adequate, fair, and reasonable. Further, the Court finds that all of the conditions precedent to the effectiveness of the Agreement ensure that the Agreement is fair and appropriate in light of the facts and circumstances of this case, the Class Action, and the Enforcement Action.

1. Probability of Success in the Litigation

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Agreement. Under the Agreement, the Parties have resolved all disputes between them and paved the way for a confirmable plan of reorganization that eliminates the uncertainty and costs of protracted litigation. Absent the Agreement, the Class Action would almost certainly involve continued litigation and appeals that could take several years to conclude. Although the Debtor might ultimately be successful, at least in part, if litigation were to continue, the Debtor's success would harm the largest body of unsecured creditors – the Class Claimants – by reducing their claim. Conversely, if the Class Claimants were to prevail, such victory may ultimately prove to be fruitless if the Debtor is unable to satisfy such a judgment and is forced to liquidate.

2. Difficulties to be Encountered in Collection

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Agreement. Under the Agreement, the Debtor proposes to pay $4,500,000 to general unsecured creditors in exchange for, among other things, dismissal of the Class Action. The Debtor states that if the Agreement is not approved, it will be forced to choose between continuing to litigate with the Class Action and closing down its business and proceeding with liquidation. Accordingly, approving the Agreement ensures that the Debtor's creditors will recover a sizeable distribution and reduces the possibility that the Debtor will seek to liquidate.

The Court is not persuaded to find that the Agreement is unfair simply because the proposed payment to general unsecured creditors is subject to payment of attorneys' fees and costs. The alternative to approving the settlement is continued litigation that will result in substantial administrative expenses that would be entitled to priority payment before the claims of general unsecured creditors.

3. Complexity of the Litigation and the Expense, Inconvenience and Delay Necessarily Attending It

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Agreement. Continued litigation will undoubtedly be complex, expensive and protracted. If the Debtor is forced to continue litigating both the Class Action and the Enforcement Action, it will be unable to confirm its current Plan and unsecured creditors, including the Class Claimants, will have to wait significantly longer to receive a distribution on their claims, or will receive nothing at all. Under the Agreement, general unsecured creditors will receive an immediate pro rata share of $750,000 and a pro rata share of quarterly payments totaling an additional $3,750,000.

4. Paramount Interest of Creditors

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Agreement. The Court finds that the Agreement is in the best interest of creditors because it resolves expensive litigation and paves the way for a confirmable plan of reorganization that will net unsecured creditors $4,500,000 in total distributions. The Agreement is a realistic settlement that vindicates the rights of the drivers while still allowing the Debtor to attempt to reorganize its affairs and continue to operate.

Absent approval of the Agreement and confirmation of the Debtor's Plan, there is an increased likelihood that the Debtor will be forced to fire its employees, shut down its business, and liquidate its assets. Although the State vigorously argues that denying the Agreement to allow it to pursue its claims on behalf of the putative class claimants will result in a larger recovery for those creditors, given the realities of bankruptcy, even if successful, it would likely be a pyrrhic victory. The Court finds its compelling that none of the putative members of the Class Action have opposed the Settlement Motion.

The Court is also unpersuaded by the State's argument that the Agreement grants the Insiders a release of nearly $8,000,000 in potential avoidance claims in exchange for little to no consideration and no explanation or evidence. In support of the Settlement Motion, the Debtor attached the declaration of Committee counsel Daniel H. Reiss (the "Reiss Decl."). Mr. Reiss testifies that he reviewed a number of financial documents, a verified financial statement prepared by Trojan & Co., CPA firm, and notices of liens issued by the IRS and Franchise Tax Board and determined that there is little value to pursuing causes of actions against the Insiders when weighed against the cost of litigation or the ability to recover against them. Reiss Decl., ¶ 9. Mr. Reiss also testifies that the Committee employed Van Horn Appraisers & Auctioneers to value the Debtor's rolling stock. After reviewing the valuation opinion (Exhibit 4), Mr. Reiss determined based upon the net valuation of the Debtor's vehicles, accounts receivable and cash on hand that general unsecured creditors would receive more under the Agreement than through a chapter 7 liquidation. Id. at ¶ 10.

Similarly, the Court unpersuaded by the State's arguments regarding the lack of any meaningful enforcement mechanisms.

For these reasons, the State's objections are overruled.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Settlement Motion is GRANTED.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor-in-possession, Pac Anchor Transportation, Inc., consisting of the merger of Pac Anchor Transportation, Inc., and Green Anchor Lines, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary Chapter 11 case on July 6, 2017.

The Enforcement Action

Pre-petition, the State of California, Department of Justice (the "State") commenced the Enforcement Action against the Debtor and its principal, Alfredo Barajas, on September 5, 2008. The Enforcement Action alleges that the Debtor misclassifies its driver employees as independent contractors, and thus commits "unfair competition" within the meaning of California Business and Professions Code §17200, by failing to pay the minimum wage, secure workers' compensation insurance, and report and remit payroll taxes (the "Complaint"). The State seeks an injunction, civil penalties, and restitution of unpaid wages.

In August 2009, the Debtor and Mr. Barajas filed a motion for judgment on the pleadings in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court"), arguing that the State's claims against them were pre-empted by the Federal Aviation Administration Authorization Act. On September 22, 2009, the State Court granted the motion and entered judgment in favor of the Debtor and Mr. Barajas. On December 7, 2009, the State appealed the judgment. The Enforcement Action was stayed during the appeal, which lasted from December 7, 2009 to April 8, 2015. The State Court's judgment in favor of the Debtor and Mr. Barajas was ultimately reversed and litigation began anew in the State Court in April 2015.

On February 18, 2016, the State filed a supplemental complaint (the "Supplemental Complaint"), adding the Debtor's sister company, Green Anchor Lines, Inc. ("Green Anchor") as a defendant. The State alleges that Green Anchor supplied the Debtor's drivers from 2009 through at least December 2016. The Supplemental Complaint makes the same allegations and seeks the same relief as the original complaint.

The Class Action

On June 14, 2017, Carlos Mosquera and Juan Francisco Rodriguez, on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated (the "Class Claimants") commenced an action against the Debtor in the State Court (the "Class Action"). The Class Action seeks restitution and damages from the Debtor due to the Debtor's employment practices for all drivers, statutory penalties under the California Labor Code, and an injunction. The Class Action is brought under the Private Attorneys General Act ("PAGA").

On February 2, 2018, the Class Claimants filed proof of claim number 14 (the "Class Claim") asserting a claim for $52,400,000 for damages alleged in the Class Action.

Proofs of Claim 12 and 13

On January 2, 2018, the State filed Proof of Claim Number 12 which consists entirely of the Enforcement Action Complaint and what appears to be two copies of the Supplemental Complaint ("Claim 12"). Minutes later, the State filed Proof of Claim Number 13 using the Court mandated form and asserting a claim for $22,300,000 for "[r]estitution for unpaid wages, unreimbursed expense, and civil penalties" ("Claim 13" or "State Claim"). The State asserts that $500,000 of its claim is entitled to priority pursuant to § 507(a)(4) and $15,000,000 is entitled to priority pursuant to § 507(a)(8).

Summary of Debtor's Objection to Claim 12 and Claim 13

Claim 13 – the State Claim

Debtor filed a limited objection to the State Claim on the grounds that: (1) the non-penalty portion of the State's claim is wholly duplicative of the non-penalty portion of the Class Claim; (2) the State impermissibly seeks priority treatment pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 507(a)(4) [wage, salaries, or commissions (up to $12,850) earned within 180 days before the bankruptcy petition is filed or the cessation of the debtor's business, whichever is earlier], in the sum of $500,000; and (3) the State impermissibly seeks priority treatment pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 507(a)(8) [taxes or penalties owed to governmental units] in the sum of $15,000,000.

Debtor requests that the Court disallow the State's claim for restitution in the amount of $7,300,000 ($6,800,00 as a general unsecured claim and $500,000 as an alleged priority claim under § 507(a)(4)), in its entirety, on the grounds that the State's claim for restitution is identical to the restitution portion of the Class Claim. Debtor contends that the State's restitution claim stems from the same statutes, claimants and alleged violations as in the Class Action (except the Debtor asserts that the Class Action covers a longer period). Debtor submits that because it has reached a settlement with the Class Claimants which resolves the Class Action's claim to restitution, any recovery by the State, on behalf of those same claimants, must be disallowed as duplicative.

In the alternative, Debtor requests that if the Court is not inclined to disallow the State's restitution claim as duplicative, the Court reclassify the $500,000 portion of the State's claim for unpaid wages as a general unsecured claim because the State has not presented evidence to establish that it is entitled to priority treatment under § 507(a)(4).

Finally, Debtor requests that the Court reclassify the State's claim for $15,000,000 in penalties as a general unsecured claim because the State has not presented evidence establishing that it is entitled to priority treatment under § 507(a)(8). Debtor contends that the State has conceded that its claim is not a penalty related to taxes, but instead for alleged unfair competition.

Claim 12

Debtor also objects to the State's Claim 12 on the basis that it does not conform to the Official Form and appears to have been amended by the State Claim, thereby making it wholly duplicative of the State Claim. Therefore, Debtor requests that the Court disallow the State's Claim 12 in its entirety.

Chapter 11

The State opposes Debtor's Objection to the State Claim (Claim 13) as follows. As a preliminary matter, the State contends that Debtor's argument that the State Claim is duplicative of the Class Claim is premature because the proposed settlement with the Class Claimants has not yet been approved. The State argues that the Debtor has not identified any law or code section to show that its claim is presently invalid.

Next, the State contends that its claim is not duplicative of the Class Claim for a number of reasons. First, the State asserts that some of the Class Claimants' claims are barred by applicable statute of limitations ("SOL"). The State contends that Class Action claims five, nine and ten, which seek damages for minimum wage violations, failure to reimburse business expenses, and unlawful deductions from wages, are governed by a three-year SOL. The State also states that Class Action claim twelve, which seeks damages for unfair competition, is governed by a four-year SOL. Accordingly, the State contends that any claim for damages stemming from before June 14, 2013 is time-barred. By contrast, the State asserts that its claims, which were first asserted on September 5, 2008, reach back as far as September 5, 2004. Therefore, the State submits that its claim for restitution stemming from September 4, 2005 to June 13, 2013 is not duplicative of the amounts sought in the Class Claim. Therefore, the State requests that the Court allow its claim for restitution in full or, alternatively, for the periods prior to June 14, 2013; however, the State has not provided any calculation as to what amount that would be.

The State also highlights that the Debtor raised the statute of limitations defense in a Joint Initial Status Conference Statement filed in the Class Action. See State's RJN. The State contends that the Debtor's attempt to now waive this valid defense in connection with the currently pending settlement is in derogation of its responsibilities as a fiduciary for the estate and all of its other creditors and improperly favors the Class Claimants over others.

Second, the State contends that its claim is not duplicative of the Class Claim because the public interests that it seeks to enforce are distinct from those raised by the Class Claimants under the PAGA. The State contends that the Class Action claims seek to vindicate the Labor and Workforce Development Agency's interest in enforcing the Labor Code, while the Enforcement Action seeks to prevent and deter unfair business practices on a broader level.

Chapter 11

Next, with respect to the priority status of its claim for $500,000 in unpaid wages under § 507(a)(4), the State states that the liability and amount of the unpaid wages for the 180-days prior to the petition date will be determined by the State Court. The State also contends that the Debtor's objection on this ground merely a formal objection, without any evidence. Accordingly, the State contends that the Debtor has not satisfied its burden under In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991) to shift the burden back to the State to prove the validity of its claim. The State also contends that based upon its review of the Debtor's financial statements and the Debtor's own admissions, it is evident that approximately 40 to 80 drivers were employed by the Debtor during the 180-day pre-petition period and were misclassified as independent contractors. See Declaration of Timothy Kolesnikow, ¶¶ 8, 9 & Exhs 5, 6. Therefore, the State requests the Court overrule the Debtor's objection on this basis.

Finally, the State does not contest the Debtor's request to reclassify its claim for $15,000,000 in penalties from a priority claim to a general unsecured claim.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the State has not filed an opposition to Debtor's Objection to Claim 12.

Debtor's Reply

Debtor responds to the State's opposition as follows. First, the Debtor asserts that approval of the concurrently-pending settlement agreement will resolve all of the State's claims and that the State concedes that its claim for restitution is duplicative of the restitution damages being settled in the Class Action. Further, the Debtor states that disallowance of the State Claim is intended to be conditional – subject to the Debtor's ability to successfully confirm its plan. The Debtor states that if its plan is not confirmed, then disallowance of the State's Claim would no longer be effective.

Next, Debtor refutes the State's contention that it did not cite any legal authority establishing its claim should be disallowed. Debtor reiterates its position that applicable Ninth Circuit authority bars the State from double recovery with respect to any amounts settled in the Class Action for the same claims. Debtor also contends that the State will be estopped from continuing to litigate its duplicate claims under a theory of res judicata if the settlement is approved.

Chapter 11

In response to the State's SOL arguments, the Debtor contends that it is within its reasonable business judgment to waive its affirmative defenses in exchange for certain concessions from the Class Claimants and to achieve a settlement that resolves the Class Action and benefits the estate as a whole. In response to the State's contention that its claim is not duplicative because it seeks to protect a different public interest than in the Class Action, Debtor contends that this argument is irrelevant to whether the claims are duplicative. Debtor also states that the settlement achieves the interests the State seeks to protect because it results in an agreed upon injunction, payment of restitution, and allowance of the State's claim for penalties.

Finally, Debtor responds to the State's arguments regarding priority treatment under § 507(a)(4) by asserting that it is the State, and not it, that has failed to carry its burden of proof.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. If an objection to a claim is made, the court, after notice and a hearing, shall allow such claim, except to the extent the "claim is unenforceable against the debtor and property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other because such claim is contingent or unmatured." 11 U.S.C. § 502(b)(1).

The Court presumes that a proof of claim filed in accordance with FRBP 3001 is valid and the amounts therein claimed correct. See In re Southern Cal. Plastics, Inc., 165 F.3d 1243, 1247-48 (9th Cir. 1999). An objecting party may rebut this presumption by presenting "facts tending to defeat the claim." Wright v. Holm (In re Holm), 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991). The Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel has held that a "claim objection that does not actually contest the debtor's liability or the amount of the debt is not enough to disallow a proof of claim, even if the proof of claim lacks documentation required by Rule 3001(c)." In re Campbell, 336 B.R. 430, 434 (9th Cir. BAP 2005), citing In re Heath, 331 B.R. 424 (9th Cir. BAP 2005). However, once the objecting party overcomes the presumption, "the burden reverts in the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of the evidence." Ashford v. Consolidated Pioneer Mortgage (In re Consolidated Pioneer Mortgage), 178 B.R. 222, 226, aff'd 91 F.3d 151 (9th Cir. 1996). Indeed, notwithstanding the burden-shifting scheme, "the ultimate burden of persuasion is always on the claimant." Holm, 931 F.2d at 623.

The Court finds that Claim 12 was not filed in accordance with FRBP 3001 and appears to be amended by the State Claim (Claim 13). Additionally, the State has not opposed Debtor's objection to Claim 12. Accordingly, Claim 12 is disallowed in its entirety.

With respect to the State Claim (Claim 13), the Court finds that the claim was filed in accordance with FRBP 3001 and is therefore presumed valid. However, the Court finds that the Debtor has rebutted the presumption of validity by providing "facts tending to defeat the claim" – namely, that the $7,300,000 portion of the State Claim that seeks restitution is duplicative of the amounts being settled in the Class Action and deemed allowed in the Class Claim. See California v. IntelliGender, LLC, 771 F.3d 1169, 1176 (9th Cir. 2014) ("insofar as the State sought restitution on behalf of members of the settlement class, such relief should be enjoined because allowing the claims to go forward would amount to a double recovery).

The State's contention that the Debtor's objection is premature is overruled. As set forth in this Court's concurrently posted tentative ruling on the Settlement Motion (see November 6, 2018, 10:00 a.m., Cal. No. 5), the Court finds that the proposed settlement, which resolves the Class Action and provides for payment in satisfaction of the Class Claimants' restitution claims, is fair, reasonable, and in the best interests of the estate. The Court has considered the relief and arguments advanced in both the Class Action and Enforcement Action and finds that the proposed settlement of the Class Action provides the best chance of recovery for the Class Claimants. The proposed settlement is a realistic settlement that vindicates the rights of the drivers while still allowing the Debtor to attempt to reorganize its affairs and continue to operate. Conversely, if the Court were to deny the settlement agreement and allow the Enforcement Action to continue litigation on the restitution claims, the most likely result would be that the Debtor will liquidate, and general unsecured creditors will receive nothing.

In light of the Court's tentative ruling approving the settlement agreement, the Court has also concurrently posted a tentative ruling on the State's objection to the Class Claim that denies the claim objection as moot (see November 6, 2018, 10:00 a.m., Cal. No. 4). If the Debtor is unable to confirm its pending plan of reorganization, this tentative ruling on the issue of duplication will be vacated.

The Court overrules the State's arguments regarding applicable SOL's. First, the State filed the only objection to the Class Claim and it did not assert any SOL arguments in that objection. Therefore, the Court does not find the argument properly before it in connection with this claim objection. Second, and more importantly, this argument is mooted by the Court's tentative ruling approving the settlement agreement.

The Court also finds that the Debtor has rebutted the presumption of validity of the State's entitlement to priority treatment under § 507(a)(8) for the $15,000,000 portion of its claim relating to penalties. In its Opposition, the State concedes that it is not entitled to priority treatment. Accordingly, the State shall have an allowed general unsecured claim in the amount of $15,000,000.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Debtor's Objections to Claims 12 and 13 are SUSTAINED in their entirety. Claim 12 is disallowed in its entirety on a final basis. The portion of the State Claim for $7,300,000 in restitution is conditionally disallowed as duplicative of the Class Claim. If the Debtor is unable to confirm its chapter 11 plan of reorganization, then this Court's ruling will be deemed vacated. The State Claim for $15,000,000 in penalties is reclassified as a general unsecured claim.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

Maria G. Gallarza-Dominguez (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 26, 2018. Doc. No. 1. Debtor has an interest in real property located at 10735 Lesterford Ave., Downey, CA 90241-3063 (the "Property"). The Property is encumbered by a First Deed of Trust (the "DOT") in favor of Deutsche Bank National Trust Company, as Trustee for American Home Mortgage Assets Trust 2007-3, Mortgage-Backed Pass-Through Certificates Series 2007-3 ("Deutsche"). Deutsche asserts a secured claim against the Property in the amount of $1,195,778.35. See Proof of Claim 5-1 ("Claim 5").

The Debtor seeks an order valuing the Property at $600,000, for the purpose of bifurcating Deutsche's claim for plan treatment purposes (the "Valuation Motion"). In support of the claimed valuation, the Debtor submits an Appraisal Report prepared by Perez & Associates (the "Appraisal").

Deutsche opposes the Valuation Motion and asserts that there may be significantly more equity in the Property than alleged by Debtor. Deutsche requests that the hearing on the Valuation Motion be continued for at least sixty days to permit Deutsche to further investigate the Property's value and to obtain a verified full interior appraisal, if necessary.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Court agrees that Deutsche should have the opportunity to further investigate the Property's value and to obtain a full interior appraisal of the Property, should Deutsche deem it necessary. A continued hearing on the Valuation Motion shall take place on January 9, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. Deutsche shall submit further evidence in support of its position as to the Property's value by no later than December 26, 2018. Should Deutsche determine that it wishes to obtain a full interior appraisal, the Debtor shall reasonably cooperate with Deutsche in providing access to the Property. The Debtor's opposition to Deutsche's additional valuation evidence is due by January 2, 2019. No further briefing will be accepted unless otherwise ordered by the Court.

The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

RE: [20] Requiring Debtor To Appear And Show Cause Why Case Should Not Be Dismissed Because Of Debtors Failure To Pay The Filing Fee In Installments

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

11/6/2018

The case is dismissed based on the Debtor's failure to pay the filing fee as ordered by the Court. Fees are delinquent in the amount of $83.75; in addition, the Debtor's final installment payment (in the amount of $83.75) comes due on November 15, 2018.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Order Approving Payment of Filing Fee in Installments (the "Fee Installment Order") [Doc. No. 12]
- 2) Order Requiring Debtor to Appear and Show Cause Why Case Should Not be Dismissed Because of Debtor's Failure to Pay the Filing Fee in Installments (the "OSC") [Doc. No. 22]
 - a) Notice of OSC [Doc. No. 25]

On July 13, 2018, the Court entered an order requiring Gary Finesilver ("Debtor") to pay the filing fee according to the following schedule:

- First installment payment: $83.75 on or before 8/15/2018;
- Second installment payment: $83.75 on or before 9/14/2018;
- Third installment payment: $83.75 on or before 10/15/2018; and
- Final installment payment: $83.75 on or before 11/15/2018.

See Fee Installment Order.

The Debtor made the first and second installment payments, but failed to make the third installment payment. Fees are delinquent in the amount of $83.75. In addition, a final installment payment in the amount of $83.75 comes due on November 15, 2018.

Chapter 7

On September 28, 2018, the Court issued an Order Requiring Debtor to Appear and Show Cause Why Case Should Not be Dismissed Because of Debtor's Failure to Pay the Filing Fee in Installments (the "OSC"). The OSC ordered the Debtor to make the delinquent installment payments by no later than one week prior to the hearing. The Debtor has not made the delinquent payment and has not responded to the OSC.

Bankruptcy Rule 1017(b)(1) provides: "If any installment of the filing fee has not been paid, the court may, after a hearing on notice to the debtor and the trustee, dismiss the case."

The Debtor's case is dismissed based on the Debtor's failure to comply with the Court's Fee Installment Order and OSC. The Court will enter an order dismissing the case.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

VHS moves to reject a Health System Management Agreement (the "Management Agreement") between VHS and Integrity Healthcare, LLC ("Integrity"), pursuant to § 365(a). VHS and Integrity entered into the Management Agreement as of December 14, 2015. Integrity has not provided any services under the Management Agreement subsequent to the Petition Date.

Pursuant to the Management Agreement, Integrity provided VHS a Chief Executive Officer, Chief Operations Officer and President, a Chief Medical Officer, and Chief Financial Officer. VHS has determined that it is more cost effective to directly employ the professionals that had been provided by Integrity.

In connection with the 2015 recapitalization of VHS, the California Attorney General (the "Attorney General") imposed various conditions upon VHS (the "2015 Conditions"). Among the 2015 Conditions is the requirement that the Attorney General be given 60 days' notice of any proposed modification or rescission of the Management Agreement. VHS provided the Attorney General notice of its decision to terminate the Management Agreement on August 21, 2018.

On October 19, 2018, the Attorney General consented to VHS' termination of the Management Agreement. See Letter from Attorney General to VHS [Doc. No. 627].

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") has no objection to the rejection of the Management Agreement. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(a) provides that the Debtor, "subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." In Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), the Ninth Circuit explained the standard the Bankruptcy Court must apply in determining whether to approve the rejection of an executory contract:

In making its determination, a bankruptcy court need engage in "only a cursory review of a [debtor-in-possession]'s decision to reject the contract. Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor-in-possession]'s rejection decision." ...

Thus, in evaluating the rejection decision, the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate. See Navellier v. Sletten, 262 F.3d 923, 946 n. 12 (9th Cir.2001); FDIC v. Castetter, 184 F.3d 1040, 1043 (9th Cir.1999); see also In re Chi-Feng Huang, 23 B.R. at 801 ("The primary issue is whether rejection would benefit the general unsecured creditors."). It should approve the rejection of an executory contract under § 365(a) unless it finds that the debtor-in-possession's conclusion that rejection would be "advantageous is so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice."

Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007).

The Court finds that VHS has shown sufficient cause to reject the Management Agreement. It is far cheaper for VHS to directly employ the professionals whose services had previously been provided pursuant to the Management Agreement. Rejection of the Management Agreement will result in substantial savings. Because Integrity has provided no services under the Management Agreement subsequent to the Petition Date, rejection shall be effective as of the Petition Date.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. VHS shall submit an order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Chapter 11

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the “Petition Date”), Verity Health Systems of California (“VHS”) and certain of its subsidiaries filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors’ motion for joint administration of the Debtors’ Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

Maria Zavala and Florencio Zabala (“Movants”) seek stay-relief, pursuant to § 362(d)(1), so that they may litigate a personal injury action against Debtor St. Francis Medical Center (“St. Francis”) in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the “State Court Action”). The State Court Action asserts medical malpractice claims against St. Francis and Dr. Lucien Alexandre. In the State Court Action, the recovery Movants seek is not limited to St. Francis’ insurance, and Movants are not willing to waive any deficiency claim against St. Francis.

In Opposition, Debtors argue that the Motion should be denied without prejudice, because it is premature and would undermine the Debtors’ efforts to successfully proceed under Chapter 11. Debtors assert that allowing the State Court Action to proceed would impair their ability to pursue critical issues, such as the pending sales of two of the Debtors’ hospitals.

In Reply to the Debtors’ Opposition, Movants assert that stay-relief will not impair the Debtors’ ability to proceed under Chapter 11, because trial in the State Court Action is not scheduled to commence until April 30, 2019. Movants further contend that Debtors have submitted no admissible evidence in support of the contention that lifting the stay would disrupt Debtors’ ability to achieve their objectives under Chapter 11.

In a Sur-Reply to the Movants’ Reply, Debtors contend that the Court can take judicial notice of the extensive docket in this case as evidence of the intensity of the Debtors’ efforts to produce meaningful results in these cases. Debtors reiterate that they do not oppose stay-relief; instead, Debtors’ position is that stay-relief should not be granted at this time, so that the Debtors can focus their full attention on other issues.

Movants filed a request to strike the Debtors’ Sur-Reply, arguing that sur-replies are not authorized under the Local Bankruptcy Rules. Movants contend that granting the Motion at this time will not unduly interfere with the Debtors’ ability to proceed under Chapter 11, since any amount of Movants’ claim that exceeds applicable insurance will be in the range of between 0.25% and 0.50% of the total claims scheduled by the Debtors.

Chapter 11

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") argues that stay-relief would be premature, particularly given that Movants are not limiting their recovery to applicable insurance.

II. Findings and Conclusions

As a preliminary matter, the Court declines to strike the Sur-Reply filed by the Debtors. Movants are corrected that a sur-reply is not authorized under the Local Bankruptcy Rules. However, consideration of the Sur-Reply does not prejudice Movants because Movants have filed papers responding to the Sur-Reply, and the Court has considered those arguments.

Section 362(d)(1) provides that the Court "shall grant relief from the [automatic stay] ..., such as by terminating, annulling, modifying, or conditioning such stay for cause" "Because there is no clear definition of what constitutes 'cause,' discretionary relief from the stay must be determined on a case by case basis." In re Castlerock Props., 781 F.2d 159, 163 (9th Cir. 1986). "[I]f the relief from stay is requested at the early stages of the bankruptcy case, the burden upon the debtor is less stringent. But, if relief from stay is requested later in the case, the debtor's showing is closely scrutinized." Sumitomo Trust & Banking Co. v. Grand Rapids Hotel, L.P., 140 B.R. 643, 700 (Bankr. W.D. Mich. 1992). "The longer the case goes on, the more the analysis may change and the balance of competing interests may compel a different result." Chrysler LLC v. Plastech Engineered Prods., Inc., 382 B.R. 90, 109 (Bankr. E.D. Mich. 2008).

The Court finds that lifting the stay at this juncture would be premature. This case is approximately two months old and the Debtors have been required to address many urgent issues. An auction of two of the Debtors' hospitals is set to occur on December 10–11, with a hearing to approve the results of the auction set for December 19, 2018. To successfully prosecute the case for the benefit of creditors, Debtors will be required to devote substantial resources to the auction and subsequent hearing to approve the results of the auction. Granting stay-relief at this juncture would require the Debtors to divert their attention from issues pertaining to the sale, which would be detrimental to creditors.

Movants assert that the Debtors have supplied no admissible evidence supporting the contention that the case is extremely demanding upon Debtors at this point. Based upon the review of the numerous and lengthy pleadings on file so far (the docket now exceeds 700 entries), the Court finds that the case is at a critical point and that the Debtors are required to devote substantial resources to ensuring a successful outcome for creditors.

Although Debtors require some breathing space in order to achieve their objectives, the Court is also cognizant of the burden that delay poses upon Movants. Therefore, the Court will grant the Motion at this time, but will stay the effectiveness of the order granting the Motion until January 15, 2019. This will provide the Debtors the opportunity to consummate the sale without having to address issues posed by the State Court Action. At the same time, Movants' ability to prosecute the State Court Action will not be unduly delayed.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED; however, the order granting the Motion shall not take effect until January 15, 2019. Movants shall submit an order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. Engineers, Stationary Engineers, Local 39 (“Local 39”). Debtors move for approval of new CBAs (each, a “Successor CBA”) that have been negotiated between the Debtors and Local 39.

The engineers represented by Local 39 are responsible for maintaining life safety systems in the hospitals. Sharrer Decl. [Doc. No. 410] at ¶6. Among other things, the engineers maintain systems related to fire suppression, medical gas, climate control, and bio-medical equipment. Id. Most hospitals in the San Francisco Bay Area (where O’Connor, St. Louise and Seton are located) employ stationary engineers represented by Local 39. Id. at ¶7. No other union in the region has the same structure, assets, or resources to provide qualified engineers to hospitals. Id.

The Existing CBAs expired on September 30, 2018. Id. at ¶9. On September 20, 2018, the Debtors entered into tentative agreements with Local 39 to approve Successor CBAs, which extend and modify the Existing CBAs. Id. at ¶8. The members of Local 39 ratified the Successor CBAs on September 25, 2018. Id. Had the Debtors not negotiated the Successor CBAs, the members of Local 39 would have had the right to strike starting on September 30, 2018 (the date upon which the Existing CBAs expired). Id. at ¶9.

In the event that Local 39 engaged in a strike, the Debtors would have been required to hire replacement workers at greater cost. Id. A strike would have disrupted normal hospital operations and may have reduced patient volume, since some patients may have refused to cross a picket line to enter. Id.

The Successor CBAs retain many of the terms of the Existing CBAs, but provide for the following modifications:

- 1) Increased hourly wages;
- 2) Increased annual employer contributions to the Apprentice and Journeyman Training Fund; and
- 3) Increased hourly employer contribution to the Stationary Engineers Local 39 Pension Trust Fund; and
- 4) Extension of the term of the Existing CBAs to September 30, 2019.

The primary non-modified terms of the Existing CBAs preserved in the Successor CBAs are as follows:

- 1) No strike, slowdown, or other stoppage of work by Local 39 or its represented employees during the life of the Successor CBA;

- 2) No restriction on the sale, merger, or assignment of the hospital's assets, except that Local 39 must be provided (i) sixty days' notice of any transfer and (ii) an opportunity to discuss the potential impact of a transfer on personnel covered by the Successor CBA.

The Debtors assert that entry into the Successor CBAs is within the ordinary course of business. However, the Successor CBAs do not take effect unless the Debtors obtain an order confirming the Debtors' authority to enter into the Successor CBAs. The Debtors contend that if entry into the Successor CBAs does not constitute a transaction within the ordinary course of business, the Debtors are authorized to enter into the Successor CBAs pursuant to §363(b)(1) and Bankruptcy Rule 9019.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. Entry Into the Successor CBAs is a Transaction Within the Ordinary Course of the Debtors' Business for Which Court Approval is Not Required

Section 363(c)(1) authorizes the Debtors to enter into transactions in the ordinary course of business without notice or hearing or Court approval. The Ninth Circuit applies two tests to determine whether a transaction has been conducted in the ordinary course of business: the "horizontal" test and the "vertical" or "creditor's expectation" test. See Burlington Northern Railroad Co. v. Dant & Russell, Inc. (In re Dant & Russell, Inc.), 853 F.2d 700, 704 (9th Cir. 1988). The horizontal test "may be described as involving an industry-wide perspective in which the debtor's business is compared to other like businesses. In this comparison, the test is whether the postpetition transaction is of a type that other similar businesses would engage in as ordinary business." Id. The vertical or creditor's expectation test "views the disputed transaction 'from the vantage point of a hypothetical creditor and inquires whether the transaction subjects a creditor to economic risks of a nature different from those he accepted when he decided to extend credit.'" Id. (internal citation omitted).

Here, both the horizontal and vertical tests are satisfied. In making this determination, the Court relies upon the testimony of Steven C. Sharrer, the Debtors' Chief Human Resources Officer. Mr. Sharrer has over twenty years' of human resources management experience in the healthcare industry and is therefore qualified to testify regarding standard business practices in the operation of hospitals. Sharrer Decl. at ¶2.

With respect to the horizontal test, Mr. Sharrer testifies that most hospitals in the San Francisco Bay Area enter into CBAs with Local 39 to facilitate the employment of stationary engineers represented by Local 39. Id. at ¶7. Mr. Sharrer's testimony establishes that the horizontal test is satisfied.

With respect to the vertical test, "[t]he touchstone of 'ordinariness' is ... the interested parties' reasonable expectations of what transactions the debtor in possession is likely to enter in the course of its business." Dant & Russell, Inc., 853 F.2d at 705. The Successor CBAs cover substantially the same services as the Existing CBAs and contain comparable provisions. Based upon its prepetition dealings with the Debtors, Local 39 could reasonably expect that the Debtors would enter into the Successor CBAs. Consequently, the vertical test is satisfied.

Because both the horizontal and vertical tests are met, entry into the Successor CBAs is a transaction in the ordinary course of business that the Debtors are authorized to consummate without notice or Court approval.

B. The Court Approves the Successor CBAs Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019

Although the Debtors are authorized to enter into the Successor CBAs in the ordinary course of business without Court approval under §363(c)(1), the Court finds it appropriate to grant the Debtors' request for approval of the Successor CBAs pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019.

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983).

The Successor CBAs do not resolve pending litigation, but can be construed as a settlement agreement given that the Debtors' entry into the Successor CBAs eliminates the risk of a strike that would harm the Debtors' business operations. Therefore, to the extent possible, the Court analyzes the Successor CBAs in accordance with the A&C Properties factors. As set forth below, the Court finds that the Successor CBAs constitute a fair and reasonable settlement that is in the best interests of the Debtors' estates and creditors.

Here, the most salient factor is the paramount interest of creditors. Mr. Sharrer's testimony establishes that the Successor CBAs remove the possibility of a strike. A strike would require the Debtors to hire expensive replacement workers, would disrupt normal hospital operations, and would reduce patient volume. Sharrer Decl. at ¶9. Creditors would be harmed by the diversion of additional estate resources to ameliorate the negative effects of a strike. Significantly, there is no opposition to the Motion from either the Committee or any of the Debtors' fifty largest creditors.

The third A&C Properties factor—the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience, and delay necessarily attending it—does not directly apply; however, the objectives which the factor seeks to vindicate are satisfied here. As discussed, the Successor CBAs eliminate the possibility of a strike which would severely disrupt the Debtors' operations. Thus, the Successor CBAs enable the Debtors to avoid considerable expense and inconvenience.

The two remaining A&C Properties are inapplicable.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h), the order on the Motion shall be effective immediately. It is appropriate for the Successor CBAs to become effective immediately because no opposition to the Motion is on file and because immediate effectiveness will avoid costs associated with uncertainty surrounding the operation of the hospitals without a labor agreement.

The Debtors shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Docket 119

Tentative Ruling:

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED and the hearing is VACATED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Motion for Entry of Discharge of Chapter 11 Case Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1141(d)(5) Upon Completion of Payments to Unsecured Creditors and Final Decree Closing Chapter 11 Case [Doc. No. 119] (the "Motion")
2. No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Reorganized Debtor Marco Antonio Cueto (the "Debtor") obtained an order confirming his chapter 11 plan of reorganization (the "Plan") on June 20, 2018 [Doc. No. 103]. The Effective Date of the Plan was July 1, 2018. Under the Plan, Debtor proposed to pay general unsecured creditors 100% of their claims within 1 year of the Effective Date.

Debtor now moves for an order granting him a discharge and for entry of a final decree closing his case pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1141(d)(5)(A). The Debtor states that he is current on his secured creditor payments required under the Plan and has paid off all unsecured creditor claims in full.

As of the date of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under 11 U.S.C. § 350(a) and Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3022, the Court shall enter a final decree closing a Chapter 11 case after the estate is fully administered. In determining whether an estate is fully administered, a court should consider:

- (1) whether the order confirming the plan has become final;
- (2) whether deposits required by the plan have been distributed;
- (3) whether the property proposed by the plan to be transferred has been transferred;
- (4) whether the debtor or the successor of the debtor under the plan has assumed the business of the management of the property dealt with by the plan;
- (5) whether payments under the plan have commenced; and
- (6) whether all motions, contested matters, and adversary proceedings have been finally resolved.

In re Ground Systems, Inc., 213 B.R. 1016, 1019 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1997) (quoting Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3022 advisory committee's notes (1991)).

The Court finds that the estate has been fully administered and that entry of a final decree and order closing the case is appropriate as follows: (1) the order confirming Debtor's Plan is now final; (2) there is no remaining property to be transferred under the Plan; (3) all payments required under the Plan have either been made in full or are proceeding consistent with the terms of the Plan; and (4) all motions, contested matters, and adversary proceedings have been finally resolved.

The Court further finds that the Debtor is entitled to entry of a discharge pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1141(d)(5)(C).

The Debtor shall lodge a conforming proposed order within 7 days of the hearing.

#2.00 HearingRE: [62] Motion to Extend Exclusivity Period for Filing a Chapter 11 Plan and Disclosure Statement

Docket 62

Tentative Ruling:

For the reasons set forth below, the Debtor's Motion to extend the exclusive period under which it may file and solicit votes on a Plan of Reorganization is GRANTED in its entirety and the HEARING IS VACATED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Debtor's Notice of Motion and Motion for an Order Extending the Exclusive Periods to File Its Plan of Reorganization and Secure Acceptance of its Plan of Reorganization Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1121(d) [Doc. No. 62] (the "Motion")
2. Amended Notice of Motion [Doc. No. 63]
3. No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and Debtor-in-Possession, Andrew's & Son Tradings Inc., dba Beston Shoes (the "Debtor") seeks an extension of the exclusive period under which it may file and solicit votes on a Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan"). The Debtor's exclusive period to file a Plan expires on November 10, 2018. The Debtor's exclusive period to solicit votes with respect to a Plan expires on January 9, 2019. The Debtor seeks an order (1) extending the exclusive period to file a Plan by ninety days, to and including February 8, 2019, and (2) extending the exclusive period to solicit votes with respect to the Plan by ninety days, to and including April 9, 2019. The foregoing extensions are without prejudice to the right to seek further extensions of the exclusivity periods.

The Debtor states that an extension of the exclusive periods is necessary because it has been busy operating its business in good faith, complying with the chapter 11 bankruptcy administrative requirements, and pursuing discussions with its creditors to maximize the value of its estate and has not had the amount of time necessary to prepare and finalize a plan of reorganization. The Debtor also believes it is appropriate to extend its deadlines to file a Plan because the terms of any proposed plan are in flux as it negotiates with its creditors.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 1121(b) gives the Debtor the exclusive right to file a plan during the first 120 days after the date of the order for relief. If the debtor files a plan within the 120-day exclusivity period, §1121(c)(3) provides that exclusivity is extended for an additional 60 days to maintain exclusivity during the plan solicitation period. If the plan has not been accepted by holders of impaired claims before 180 days after the date of the order for relief, then the exclusivity period terminates, unless the debtor has obtained an extension. §1121(c)(3). Section 1121(d) permits the Court to reduce or increase the exclusivity period "for cause." Section 1121 provides the bankruptcy court "maximum flexibility to suit various types of reorganization proceedings." In re Public Service Company of New Hampshire, 88 B.R. 521, 534 (Bankr. D.N.H. 1988).

The Court finds that cause exists to extend the exclusivity periods in accordance with the Debtor's request. This case has been pending for only a short time. The Debtor continues to operate a profitable business while negotiating with its creditors towards its goal of proposing a consensual Plan. An exclusivity extension is appropriate so that the Debtor will have additional time to analyze and review its claims and continue negotiating with creditors.

The exclusive period for the Debtor to file a Plan is extended from November 10, 2018 to and including February 8, 2019. The Exclusive period for the Debtor to solicit acceptances of its Plan is extended from January 9, 2019 to and including April 9, 2019. These extensions are without prejudiced to the Debtor's ability to request further extensions of exclusivity.

The Debtor shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On December 7, 2010, creditors commenced an involuntary petition against EPD Investment Co., LLC ("EPD"). The Court entered an Order for Relief on February 9, 2011. On February 1, 2012, Jerrold S. Pressman ("Pressman") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. On June 4, 2012, the bankruptcy cases of EPD and Pressman (collectively, the "Debtors") were substantively consolidated.

Pursuant to the operative Fourth Amended Complaint (the "Complaint") [Doc. No. 234] against John C. Kirkland and Poshow Ann Kirkland as Trustee of the Bright Conscience Trust Dated September 9, 2009 (the "BC Trust"), the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") seeks to (1) disallow or equitably subordinate proofs of claim filed by the BC Trust and (2) avoid allegedly fraudulent transfers from the Debtors to Mr. Kirkland and the BC Trust.

A. Summary of the Complaint's Allegations

The allegations of the Complaint are as follows: Between the 1970s and June 27, 2003, EPD Investment Co. was an unincorporated sole proprietorship run by Pressman. Complaint at ¶12. On June 27, 2003, EPD was formed as a California limited liability company to provide corporate protection and to satisfy Mr. Pressman's goal of retirement. Id. Upon EPD's formation in 2003, the EPD sole proprietorship's assets and liabilities were transferred from Mr. Pressman to EPD. Id. At all times, the members and managers of EPD were Mr. Pressman and his son, Keith Pressman ("Keith"). Id.

2003 and mid-2009, EPD repaid existing creditors by using funds from new creditors. Id. EPD was balance sheet insolvent from at least December 2003, according to its tax returns, and has never been profitable. Id. at ¶¶20–21. Many of EPD's creditors mistakenly believed that EPD owned substantial real property assets in Tennessee, Mississippi, and elsewhere, when in fact EPD owned no real property. Id. at ¶16. Instead, EPD owned promissory notes secured by Mr. Pressman's assets, and it was Mr. Pressman who held an ownership interest in entities owning property in Tennessee, Mississippi, and elsewhere. Id.

In mid-2009, EPD could not pay creditors because the companies Mr. Pressman partially owned lacked sufficient operating cash flow, and because EPD was no longer receiving cash infusions from new investors. Id. at ¶25.

Mr. Kirkland was outside counsel for the Mr. Pressman, EPD, and other business entities owned by the Mr. Pressman. Id. at ¶28. Mr. Kirkland invested and/or loaned in excess of $150,000 of his personal funds to EPD (Mr. Kirkland's "EPD Interests"). Id. at ¶29. In September 2009, after EPD had ceased making payments to most creditors, Mr. Kirkland assigned his EPD Interests to the BC Trust (his family trust), and/or to his wife Poshow Ann Kirkland as Trustee of the BC Trust, through a Notice of Assignment. The Notice of Assignment provides: "Notice is hereby given that all rights of John C. Kirkland under all such Loan Documents have been sold, transferred, and assigned to the Bright Conscience Trust Dated September 9, 2009." Id.

The BC Trust took the assignment subject to all claims and defenses of Mr. Kirkland, and did not take the assignment in good faith or for adequate consideration. Id. On September 11, 2009, the BC Trust filed and/or recorded a UCC-1 financing statement as to all assets of the Debtors. Id. On May 5, 2010, the BC Trust filed and/or recorded an amendment to the UCC-1 financing statement, which provided that "[t]his amendment is to clarify and confirm that the prior grant of security did not include the stock of North Hills Industrial Park, Inc., a California S-Corporation." Id.

Mr. Kirkland was aware that EPD operated as a Ponzi scheme. In 2005, Mr. Kirkland drafted letters to the California Franchise Tax Board which stated, among other things, that EPD's liabilities exceeded its assets, that EPD had negative cash flow, and that EPD required additional investment just to break even. Id. at ¶30(b)(i). Despite knowing that EPD operated as a Ponzi scheme, Mr. Kirkland took actions for the benefit of the BC Trust and to the detriment of EPD's other creditors, including:

- 2) Defending suits brought against EPD by its creditors absent a good-faith basis, while at the same time benefitting from payments made by EPD to his mortgage lender. Id. at ¶30e.
 - 3) Orchestrating transfers which he knew were fraudulent under the Bankruptcy Code, for the purpose of staving off litigation by EPD's unpaid creditors. Id. at ¶30f.
 - 4) Representing Plush Lounge, an entity that received significant transfers from EPD, and owed those sums to EPD, in litigation that severely depleted the assets of Plush Lounge, while simultaneously representing adverse party EPD. Id. at ¶30m.
 - 5) Filing false and misleading pleadings in EPD's involuntary bankruptcy proceeding, contesting that EPD owed funds to creditors.
 - 6) Contesting the EPD involuntary bankruptcy proceeding without a good-faith basis to do so, seeking to convert the proceeding to Chapter 11 without a good-faith basis to do so, and advising EPD and Mr. Pressman not to cooperate with the Trustee.

1. First Claim for Relief: Disallowance of Proofs of Claim, or, in the Alternative, Equitable Subordination of Proofs of Claim Against the BC Trust and Mr. Kirkland

On December 12, 2011, the BC Trust filed three proofs of claim in the bankruptcy case, all in the amount of $2.672 million. Id. at ¶39. On February 15, 2013, the BC Trust filed a proof of claim in Mr. Pressman's bankruptcy case—which has now been substantively consolidated with the EPD case—in the amount of $3.529 million. Id. All Proofs of Claim are secured claims, and were executed by Poshow Ann Kirkland as Trustee of the BC Trust. Id.

The BC Trust is the assignee of Mr. Kirkland's EPD Interests and the BC Trust's Proofs of Claim are based on the assignment of Mr. Kirkland's EPD Interests. Id. at ¶ 40. The BC Trust did not separately invest or loan funds to the Debtors; its rights are based solely on the assignment of Mr. Kirkland's EPD Interests, which assignment was orchestrated by Mr. Kirkland while he was counsel for Mr. Pressman and EPD. Id.

Mr. Kirkland engaged in inequitable conduct in his representation of EPD, as set forth above. The BC Trust, as Mr. Kirkland's assignee, stands in his shoes and took the assignment of the EPD Interests subject to Mr. Kirkland's actions. Accordingly, the BC Trust's claims should be disallowed or equitably subordinated. Id. at ¶42–47.

2. Second through Sixth Claims for Relief: Avoidance and Recovery of Intentional and Constructive Fraudulent Transfers

Prior to the filing of the petition, the Debtors made transfers to the BC Trust evidenced by the liens in favor of the BC Trust. The transfer to the BC Trust is avoidable as actually fraudulent pursuant to §544 (applying California Civil Code §§ 3439.04(a) and 3439.07) and §548(a)(1)(A). The transfer is avoidable as constructively fraudulent pursuant to §544 (applying California Civil Code §§ 3439.04(b), 3439.05, and 3439.07) because it was made without the Debtors receiving reasonably equivalent value at a time when the Debtors were (1) insolvent or (2) were engaged in a business or transaction for which any property remaining was an unreasonably small capital or (3) intended to incur debts beyond their ability to pay. For the same reasons, the transfer is avoidable as constructively fraudulent pursuant to §548(a)(1)(B).

Prior to the filing of the petition, the Debtors made transfers for the benefit of Mr. Kirkland and the BC Trust by issuing checks to a Union Bank account. Those transfers are avoidable as intentionally fraudulent pursuant to §544 (applying California Civil Code §§3439.04(a) and 3439.07) and §548(a)(1)(A). Those transfers are avoidable as constructively fraudulent pursuant to §544 (applying California Civil Code §§3439.04(b), 3439.05, and 3439.07) and §548(a)(1)(B).

All the avoidable transfers are recoverable pursuant to §550(a)(1).

B. The Bankruptcy Court's February 2018 Rulings

On February 17, 2018, the Bankruptcy Court issued a Report and Recommendation, recommending that the District Court enter final judgment, in favor of the Trustee, as to the second, third, and sixth claims for relief for avoidance and recovery of fraudulent transfers made with actual intent. Adv. Doc. No. 341. On that same date, the Court issued a Memorandum of Decision, stating that the Court intended to grant the Trustee's motion for summary adjudication disallowing the proofs of claim filed by the BC Trust. However, the Memorandum of Decision stated that the findings set forth therein would not become the order of the Court until the District Court acted upon the Report and Recommendation.

On June 25, 2018, the District Court rejected the Report and Recommendation, and denied the Trustee's motion for summary adjudication as to the second, third, and sixth claims for relief. On July 20, 2018, the Trustee moved for reconsideration of the District Court's rejection of the Report and Recommendation. On August 13, 2018, the District Court denied the Trustee's motion for reconsideration.

C. The Bankruptcy Court's September 2018 Order to Show Cause

On September 20, 2018, the Bankruptcy Court entered an Order Requiring Defendant and Trustee to Show Cause Why the Court Should Not Stay Adjudication of the Claims Against the BC Trust Until the District Court Has Entered Final Judgment Against John C. Kirkland [Adv. Doc. No. 372] (the "Order to Show Cause"). The Order to Show Cause required the parties to respond to the following Preliminary Findings and Conclusions:

John C. Kirkland has demanded a jury trial in this fraudulent conveyance action, has not filed a proof of claim against the estate, and does not consent to having the jury trial conducted by the Bankruptcy Court. Under these circumstances, Mr. Kirkland is entitled to a jury trial before the District Court. See Langenkamp v. Culp, 498 U.S. 42, 45 (1990) ("If a party does not submit a claim against the bankruptcy estate, however, the trustee can recover allegedly preferential transfers only by filing what amounts to a legal action to recover a monetary transfer. In those circumstances the preference defendant is entitled to a jury trial."); Bankruptcy Rule 9015(b) (stating that the Bankruptcy Court may conduct a jury trial only if the parties consent); and Executive Benefits Ins. Agency v. Arkison (In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc.), 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (holding that the Bankruptcy Court lacks constitutional authority to enter final judgment in a fraudulent conveyance action absent consent of the parties).

The BC Trust has filed proofs of claim against the estate. As a result, the Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction to enter final judgment with respect to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. See Langenkamp, 498 U.S. at 45.

The claims against Mr. Kirkland and the BC Trust present common issues of fact. For example, the Trustee asserts that the BC Trust's claims against the estate should be disallowed and/or equitably subordinated based upon Mr. Kirkland's alleged inequitable conduct. The Trustee's causes of action for disallowance and/or equitable subordination are pleaded against both the BC Trust and Mr. Kirkland.

As a result of the overlap between the claims asserted against Mr. Kirkland and the claims asserted against the BC Trust, the most efficient means for this action to proceed would be for the District Court to first adjudicate the claims against Mr. Kirkland. Once the District Court has entered findings with respect to Mr. Kirkland, the Bankruptcy Court can then try the claims against the BC Trust. If the Bankruptcy Court tried claims against the BC Trust prior to the District Court's trial of claims against Mr. Kirkland, findings by the Bankruptcy Court with respect to common issues of fact could prejudice Mr. Kirkland. For example, Mr. Kirkland could be collaterally estopped from contesting certain issues of fact that might prove material to the adjudication of the claims against him; were that to occur, Mr. Kirkland would effectively be deprived of his right to a jury trial. See Ross v. Bernhard, 396 U.S. 531 (holding that "where equitable and legal claims are joined in the same action," the right to jury trial on the legal claims "must not be infringed either by trying the legal issues as incidental to the equitable ones by a court trial of a common issue existing between the claims").

Final Ruling Re: September 11, 2018 Status Conference [Adv. Doc. No. 371] at 3–4.

The Order to Show Cause also directed Mr. Kirkland to file with the District Court a motion to withdraw the reference by no later than September 25, 2018. Mr. Kirkland timely filed the motion, which was initially set to be heard on October 29, 2018. On October 23, 2018, the District Court took the hearing on the motion to withdraw the reference off calendar, pending the Bankruptcy Court's adjudication of the Abandonment Motion (defined below).

D. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Trustee's Abandonment Motion

On September 25, 2018, the Trustee filed the instant Motion for: Order Authorizing Abandonment and Dismissal with Prejudice of Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Claims for Relief to Avoid and Recover Actually Fraudulent Transfers and Constructively Fraudulent Transfers in Adversary Proceeding [Bankr. Doc. No. 1278] (the "Abandonment Motion"). The Bankruptcy Court found that the Abandonment Motion mooted the October 2, 2018 hearing on the Order to Show Cause, and took the OSC hearing off calendar. Adv. Doc. No. 380.

By the Abandonment Motion, the Trustee seeks authorization to abandon the second through sixth claims for relief for avoidance and recovery of intentional and constructive fraudulent transfers (the "Fraudulent Transfer Claims"). The Trustee states that the abandonment will be effectuated "by means of a stipulation with the [BC Trust] and Kirkland or an ex-parte application by the Trustee in the Adversary Proceeding." Bankr. Doc. No. 1279 at 2. The Trustee argues that prosecution of the Fraudulent Transfer Claims will be unduly burdensome to the estate, because such prosecution will require the Trustee to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars in additional attorneys' fees conducting a jury trial before the District Court. Bankr. Doc. No. 1278 at 9.

The BC Trust and Kirkland (collectively, the "Defendants") oppose the Abandonment Motion. They argue that the Abandonment Motion is a bad-faith attempt by the Trustee to defeat Kirkland's right to a jury trial before the District Court. Defendants assert that the use of abandonment pursuant to §554(a) as a tactic to facilitate the dismissal of claims within a pending complaint is highly irregular, and that if the Trustee wishes to dismiss the second through sixth claims, he is required to proceed under Civil Rule 41(a)(2). Bankr. Doc. No. 1281 at 6-7.

In his reply papers (the "Reply"), the Trustee introduced new legal theories not presented in the Abandonment Motion. Whereas the Abandonment Motion had stated that abandonment would be effectuated by means of a stipulation with the Defendants or by an ex-parte application, the Reply argues that the Court should sua sponte dismiss the Fraudulent Transfer Claims. Bankr. Doc. No. 1282 at 20. The Trustee's theory is that once the Fraudulent Transfer Claims have been abandoned under § 554(a), the Court will lose subject matter jurisdiction over such claims, and must dismiss them pursuant to Civil Rule 12(h)(3). Id.

To provide Defendants an opportunity to respond to the legal theories raised for the first time in the Trustee's Reply, the Court continued the hearing on the Abandonment Motion and authorized Defendants to submit a Sur-Reply. Bankr. Doc. No. 1287. In the Sur-Reply, Defendants present the following arguments:

- 1) It is improper for the Trustee to seek dismissal of the Fraudulent Transfer Claims through the Abandonment Motion, which has been filed in the main bankruptcy case. Dismissal of the Fraudulent Transfer Claims must be litigated in the adversary proceeding.
- 2) The Trustee's attempt to manufacture a lack of subject matter jurisdiction via abandonment of the Fraudulent Transfer Claims fails, because subject matter jurisdiction is determined at the time an action is filed.
- 3) The Trustee assumes that dismissal of the Fraudulent Transfer Claims will deprive Mr. Kirkland of his right to a jury trial before the District Court. That assumption is incorrect. The Trustee's claims for disallowance and/or equitable subordination of the Proofs of Claim filed by the BC Trust are pleaded against both the BC Trust and Mr. Kirkland. The Trustee's theory is that the BC Trust's claims may be disallowed and/or equitably subordinated as a result of Mr. Kirkland's alleged bad-faith conduct. Mr. Kirkland has never filed a proof of claim and has not consented to the Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction. He is entitled to adjudication of the disallowance and equitable subordination claims before an Article III court.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 554(a) governs the Trustee's abandonment of property of the estate, and provides in relevant part: "After notice and a hearing, the trustee may abandon any property of the estate that is burdensome to the estate or that is of inconsequential value and benefit to the estate." Section 704 requires the Trustee to "collect and reduce to money the property of the estate for which such trustee serves, and close such estate as expeditiously as is compatible with the best interests of parties in interest." "The trustee is accountable for all property received ... and has the duty to maximize the value of the estate ..." Commodity Futures Trading Comm'n v. Weintraub, 471 U.S. 343, 352, 105 S.Ct. 1986, 1992, 85 L.Ed.2d 372 (1985). In accordance with the business judgment rule, the Court should "allow a trustee discretion in balancing the costs and benefits of administering an asset of the estate." In re Moore, 110 B.R. 924, 928 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1990).

Here, the Trustee seeks to abandon some, but not all, of the claims for relief asserted in litigation against Kirkland and the BC Trust. The Trustee brings the Abandonment Motion in the main bankruptcy case, not in the adversary proceeding, even though granting the Abandonment Motion would significantly affect the course of the adversary proceeding.

It is not procedurally proper for the Trustee to seek partial dismissal of the Complaint through the mechanism of abandonment, where the Trustee has not filed a motion in the adversary proceeding seeking dismissal in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure (the "Civil Rules").

The Civil Rules contain specific provisions governing the partial dismissal of a Complaint. Where, as here, the defendants oppose partial dismissal, the Ninth Circuit has held that partial dismissal may be sought under Civil Rule 15:

[W]ithdrawals of individual claims against a given defendant are governed by Fed.R.Civ.P. 15, which addresses amendments to pleadings. See Ethridge v. Harbor House Restaurant, 861 F.2d 1389 (9th Cir.1988). As we noted in Ethridge, "a plaintiff may not use Rule 41(a)(1)(i) to dismiss, unilaterally, a single claim from a multi-claim complaint." Id. at 1392. Instead, we agreed with two of our sister circuits that "Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 15(a) is the appropriate mechanism '[w]here a plaintiff desires to eliminate an issue, or one or more but less than all of several claims, but without dismissing as to any of the defendants.'" Id. (quoting 5 J. Moore et al., Moore's Federal Practice ¶ 41.06-1, at 41-83 to -84 (1987)) (alteration in original); see also Gen. Signal Corp. v. MCI Telecomms. Corp., 66 F.3d 1500, 1513(9th Cir.1995) ("[W]e have held that Rule 15, not Rule 41, governs the situation when a party dismisses some, but not all, of its claims." (citing Ethridge, 861 F.2d at 1392)); Gronholz v. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 836 F.2d 515, 518 (Fed.Cir.1987).

Hells Canyon Pres. Council v. U.S. Forest Serv., 403 F.3d 683, 687-88 (9th Cir. 2005).

The Trustee contends that the partial dismissal which he seeks may be obtained solely through the abandonment remedy provided in §554. The Trustee asserts that the Civil Rules are not relevant, because once the Fraudulent Transfer Claims have been abandoned, the Court will lose jurisdiction over those claims and will be required to dismiss them under Civil Rule 12(h)(3).

The Trustee's argument lacks merit. Adopting the Trustee's theory would allow the Trustee to engineer the partial dismissal of the Complaint, over the Defendants' opposition, absent compliance with the specific procedural rules that govern partial dismissal. The Court declines to construe §554 in a manner that would effectively nullify Civil Rule 15. The Trustee has not cited any authority, and the Court is aware of none, that would permit the use of abandonment in this manner. Every single case cited by the Trustee authorizes the abandonment of all the claims pleaded in a Complaint, and the Trustee cites no authority in which abandonment was authorized as a means of circumventing compliance with the provisions of the Civil Rules governing dismissal of an action.

Based upon the foregoing, the Abandonment Motion is DENIED.

- g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 6/11/2019 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
 - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
 - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. Appearances required. In the Amended Joint Status Report [Doc. No. 27] (the "Status Report"), Defendant states that it "has sent Plaintiff considerable information on its defenses and Plaintiff has not responded with any counter information or a good-faith counter proposal." Status Report at ¶5. Defendant states that it will file a motion for summary judgment asserting defenses under §547.

The Court understands that Plaintiff is prosecuting approximately thirty preference actions; nonetheless, Plaintiff's failure to meaningfully engage with the Defendant regarding a potential settlement is of concern. A negotiated resolution of this action will reduce costs and is in the best interests of all parties.

On September 13, 2018, the Court entered an order assigning this matter to formal mediation. Doc. No. 22. The parties should be prepared to discuss the status of mediation—has a mediation date been schedule? Have the parties made contact with the mediator?

Adcock and Christopher J. Kearns Filed Concurrently Herewith (Maizel, Samuel)

Docket 631

Tentative Ruling:

11/9/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Debtors' Motion for Entry of Order Authorizing and Approving (I) Key Employee Incentive Plan, and (II) Key Employee Retention Plan [Doc. No. 631] (the "Motion")
- 2) Order Granting Debtors' Motion for Entry of an Order Sealing Employee Information and Denying Evidentiary Objections Thereto [Doc. No. 735]
- 3) Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Response to [Motion] [Doc. No. 739]
- 4) United States Trustee Response to [Motion] [Doc. No. 769]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018, Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

The Debtors seek approval of a Key Employee Retention Plan ("KERP") and Key Employee Incentive Plan ("KEIP"). On November 1, 2018, the Court entered an order authorizing the Debtors to file under seal certain information in support of the Motion. See Order Granting Debtors' Motion for Entry of an Order Sealing Employee Information and Denying Evidentiary Objections Thereto [Doc. No. 735] and Final Ruling Granting Debtors' Motion for Entry of an Order Sealing Employee Information [Doc. No. 721]. The information filed under seal (the "Confidential Information") consists of the identity and salary of the twenty employees subject to the KERP, and the identity and salary of the twenty-five employees subject to the KEIP.

The Debtors have discussed the KERP and KEIP with the United States Trustee (the "UST") and the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee"). The concerns of the Committee and the UST have been resolved through discussions and/or certain modifications that the Debtors have agreed to make to the KERP and KEIP. There are no unresolved objections to the Motion.

The KEIP is designed to incentivize key employees to obtain the maximum sales price for the Debtors' assets. KEIP participants are entitled to receive bonus payments, expressed as a percentage of their annual salary, if certain sale price benchmarks are achieved. The bonus payment structure varies depending upon each key employee's envisioned role in the sale process, and was developed in consultation with outside consultants.

Two pools of employees are eligible for the KEIP: (1) key employees of VHS (the "VHS Participants") whose assistance is required to maximize value from the sales of all of VHS' material assets, however long that may take; and (2) key employees of one of the hospitals or Verity Medical Foundation (the "Entity Participants"), whose assistance is needed to maintain operations until the sale of the particular facility in which he or she works.

If consideration for the sales is $950 million or more, the nine KEIP VHS Participants are eligible to receive bonus payments aggregating approximately $5.3 million (or 0.56% of the sales consideration).

KEIP Entity Participants receive bonus payments based upon (1) performance against the DIP budget and the (2) timing of the sale of their respective employers' business/assets (the longer the sale takes, the lower the bonus payment). The maximum KEIP payment for the sixteen Entity Participants is just below $1.6 million.

The KERP is intended to facilitate the Debtors' continued operation until its assets can be sold by encouraging certain key employees to remain employed with the Debtors. The KERP is available to twenty employees and provides a maximum potential benefit of 30% of an employees' annual salary, based upon the following criteria: 6% of annual salary for retention through December 31, 2018; 6% of annual salary for retention through March 31, 2019; and 6% of annual salary for retention through June 30, 2019, plus 12% of annual salary in the event of separation by management.

The Debtors request that all amounts earned and payable under the KEIP and KERP be afforded administrative-expense priority pursuant to §§503(b), 503(c), and 507(a). Ally Bank, the DIP Lender, supports the funding of the KEIP and KERP through DIP financing proceeds.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Debtor Has Shown Sufficient Business Justification for the Incentive Programs

Section 363(b)(1) authorizes the Debtors to use property of the estate, other than in the ordinary course of business, after notice and a hearing. The Debtors are required to articulate a business justification for use of estate property outside the ordinary course of business. Walter v. Sunwest Bank (In re Walter), 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20.

Here, the Debtors have sufficiently articulated a business justification for making the bonus payments contemplated under the KEIP and KERP. The Debtors have shown that the bonus payments are required to retain key employees who are necessary to preserve the value of the Debtors' assets.

B. Application of the Dana Corp. Factors Supports Approval of the Incentive Programs

Courts have relied upon the following factors in evaluating key employee incentive and retention plans such as those at issue here:

- Is there a reasonable relationship between the plan proposed and the results to be obtained, i.e., will the key employee stay for as long as it takes for the debtor to reorganize or market its assets, or, in the case of a performance incentive, is the plan calculated to achieve the desired performance? (emphasis added)
- Is the cost of the plan reasonable in the context of the debtor's assets, liabilities and earning potential?
- Is the scope of the plan fair and reasonable; does it apply to all employees; does it discriminate unfairly?
- Is the plan or proposal consistent with industry standards?

Chapter 11

– What were the due diligence efforts of the debtor in investigating the need for a plan; analyzing which key employees need to be incentivized; what is available; what is generally applicable in a particular industry?

– Did the debtor receive independent counsel in performing due diligence and in creating and authorizing the incentive compensation?

The factors set forth in Dana Corp. are met here. First, the KEIP appropriately incentivizes participants by awarding bonuses to employees only after the Debtors achieve specific sales results. Payments under the KEIP are also tied to the efficiency of the sale, and the KEIP has been structured in a way that pushes participants to close the sale in a speedy fashion.

Second, the KEIP is reasonable in the context of the Debtors' assets, liabilities, and earning potential. The maximum payment available to the nine key executives under the KEIP amounts to less than 1% of the sales price. The Court finds that the KEIP comports with industry standards.

Third, the scope of the KEIP is fair and reasonable. The KEIP applies to only those employees whose efforts are critical to ensure a successful sale of the Debtors' assets. In addition, the KEIP has been carefully crafted to award different payments to different employees, depending upon their anticipated role in the sales process.

Fourth, the exhibits filed in support of the Motion establish that the Debtors have performed extensive due diligence in developing the KEIP and KERP. The incentive plans have been developed by the Debtors in consultation with Berkeley Research Group, the Debtors' financial advisors.

C. The Incentive Programs Meet the Requirements Imposed by §503(c)(3)

Section 503(c)(3) requires that payments to a debtor's employees outside the ordinary course of business be "justified by the facts and circumstances of the case" to be allowable as an administrative expense. The majority of courts have found that this standard is no different from the business judgment standard under §363(b). See, e.g., Global Home Prods., 369 B.R. at 783-84; In re Velo Holdings, Inc., 472 B.R. 201, 212 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2012) (collecting cases); In re Nobex Corp., 2006 WL 4063024, 2006 Bankr. (Bankr. D. Del. Jan. 19, 2006) (court concluded that section 503(c)(3) was nothing more than a reiteration of the standard under section 363 under which courts had previously authorized transfers outside the ordinary course of business based on the business judgment of the debtor).

Having found that the incentive plan payments are appropriate under §363(b)(1), the Court finds that the incentive plans also meet the standard set forth in §503(c)(3), and accordingly are allowable as an administrative expense.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Debtor shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

fr. 2-21-18; 9-11-18; 10-16-18

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

The Joint Pre-Trial Conference Statement (the "Pretrial Statement") submitted by the parties will be entered as the Pretrial Order and shall govern the course of trial of this cause, unless modified to prevent manifest injustice. Trial is set for Monday, November 26, 2018, commencing at 9:00 a.m. The deadline for the submission of trial briefs, exhibits, and other materials described in the Order Re: Courtroom Procedures [Doc. No. 55] is November 16, 2018.

The parties estimate that trial of this action will require five days. Based upon its review of the Pretrial Statement, the Court believes that this matter can be tried in one day.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

#120.00 HearingRE: [31] U.S. Trustee Motion to dismiss or convert or appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee with an Order Directing Payment of Quarterly Fees and for Judgment Thereon . (united states trustee (hy))

Docket 31

Tentative Ruling:

11/9/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED and the case is CONVERTED to chapter 7.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion Under 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(1) to Convert, Dismiss or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee with Order Directing Payment of Quarterly Fees and For Judgment Thereon [Doc. No. 31] (the "Motion")
 - a. Declaration of Maria A. Ramos
2. Debtor's Response to Motion to Dismiss, Declaration of Ronelio Garcia [Doc. No. 43] ("Debtor's Response")
3. No reply is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and Debtor-in-Possession, Ronelia Garcia (the "Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on September 4, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). The Office of the United States Trustee (the "UST") filed a Motion to Convert, Dismiss or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee pursuant to § 1112(b) (the "Motion"). The UST recommends that the case be converted to a case under chapter 7 based upon the following:

- i. To date, no Disclosure Statement or Plan of Reorganization has been filed
- ii. Debtor has not filed:
 - a. Schedules G and I
 - b. Statement of Financial Affairs
 - c. Notice of Setting/Increasing Insider Compensation

In addition to the foregoing, the UST states that this is the Debtor's third bankruptcy filing and that conversion appears to be in the best interest of creditors because there are real property assets that a trustee can evaluate and administer in a chapter 7 case. See In re Ronelio Garcia, Case No. 2:10-bk-50600-ER (Chapter 11

Debtor opposes conversion and instead requests that the Court dismiss his case. In support, Debtor states (i) that he filed this case to try to stop a foreclosure of his home and to reorganize the debts on his home; (ii) he and his wife have decided they need to sell their home because it costs too much to keep it up and they will be better off if they downsize; (iii) in their previous case, the debtor and his wife hired a bookkeeper to do their monthly operating reports, handle collections of rents and, as a result, they were able to comply with the UST requirements; however, Debtors can no longer afford to pay a bookkeeper. Debtor requests that the Court dismiss the case so that he can pay his creditors directly and he will take the risk that his home is foreclosed before he can sell it, as the amount of equity is small and the cost of keeping the house is too great.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the UST has not filed a reply.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under § 1112(b), the Court shall dismiss or convert a case to one under chapter 7 upon a showing of "cause." 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b). Section 1112(b)(4) provides a nonexclusive list of factors that constitute "cause," including in relevant part: "(A) substantial or continuing loss to or diminution of the estate and the absence of a reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation;" "(B) gross mismanagement of the estate;" "(C) failure to maintain appropriate insurance that poses a risk to the estate or to the public;" "(F) unexcused failure to satisfy timely any filing or reporting requirement established by this title or by any rule applicable to a case under this chapter;" "(H) failure to timely provide information or attend meetings reasonably required by the United States Trustee;" and "(J) failure to file a disclosure statement, or to file or confirm a plan, within the time fixed by this title or by order of the court." "The enumerated causes are not exhaustive, and 'the court will be able to consider other factors as they arise, and to use its equitable powers to reach an appropriate result in individual cases.'" In re Consolidated Pioneer Mortgage Entities, 248 B.R. 368, 375 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000) (quoting H.R. Chapter 11

Based upon the long list of deficiencies identified above, the Court finds that "cause" exists to convert this case to a case under chapter 7 pursuant to § 1112(b). The Debtor has, among other things, failed to provide multiple required documents and disclosures and has failed to pay quarterly fees to the UST as described above.

The Court also notes that the Debtor's current position that the "amount of equity [in his residence] is small" conflicts with the Debtor's prior representations in his opposition to Motion for Relief From the Automatic Stay in which Debtor states that there is $225,000 in equity in the Debtor's residence. See Doc. No. 38. The Debtor's inconsistent positions, coupled with the Debtor and his wife's history of bankruptcy filings, do not give this Court any confidence that the Debtor will sell his house and pay off his creditors.

Therefore, the Court finds that conversion to chapter 7 is in the best interest of the estate and the Debtor's creditors and will increase the likelihood that creditors will receive a distribution.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the UST Motion is GRANTED and the case is CONVERTED to chapter 7.

The UST is directed to upload a conforming order within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. Chapter 11

Rideshare Port Management, LLC ("Rideshare") (Case No. 2:17-bk-22974-ER) and Red Booth, Inc. (Case No. 2:17-bk-22975-ER) ("Red Booth," and together with Rideshare, the "Debtors"), filed separate petitions for relief under chapter 11 on October 23, 2017. The Debtors have not moved for substantive consolidation or joint administration but state that they have a working relationship and their businesses are codependent.

On February 9, 2018, the Debtors filed a joint disclosure statement and plan [Rideshare Doc Nos. 53, 54; Red Booth Doc Nos. 69, 70]. At a hearing on April 5, 2018, the Court found that the joint disclosure statement did not contain adequate information, directed the Debtors to file an amended joint disclosure statement and amended plan, and set a deadline of July 24, 2018 for the Debtors to obtain confirmation and approval of the amended pleadings. See Rideshare Doc. No. 76; Red Booth Doc No. 103.

On May 11, 2018, the Debtors filed their first amended joint disclosure statement and first amended plan [Rideshare Doc. Nos. 94, 95; Red Booth Doc Nos. 114, 115]. The Court conducted a hearing on the adequacy of the first amended joint disclosure statement on July 5, 2018. In advance of the hearing, the Court posted a tentative ruling indicating the Court's intent to deny the motion for approval of the first amended joint disclosure statement with prejudice based upon the Court's determination that the first amended joint disclosure statement still lacked adequate information and the first amended joint plan was patently unconfirmable. See Rideshare Doc. No. 114; Red Booth Doc No. 132.

Counsel for the Debtors appeared at the hearing and asked whether the tentative ruling precluded the Debtors from amending the disclosure statement and plan and trying to get the outstanding issues resolved. Audio transcript, 11:16:32 a.m. – 11:16:40 a.m. The Court stated on the record that it was persuaded to reconsider setting a hearing on an Order to Show Cause why the cases should not be dismissed, "to allow [the Debtors] an opportunity to negotiate further and get to a confirmable plan." Audio transcript, 11:16:41 a.m. – 11:17:02 a.m.

The Court notes that the amended tentative ruling only reflects that it was "amended after hearing to remove date for Order To Show Cause previously referenced in the tentative ruling" [Rideshare Doc. No. 114; Red Booth Doc No. 132], and that the order denying approval of the first amended joint disclosure statement in the Rideshare case states that such denial is with prejudice [Rideshare Doc. UST's Motions to Convert, Dismiss or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee

The Office of the United States Trustee (the "UST") filed separate Motions to Convert, Dismiss or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee with an Order Directing Payment of Quarterly Fees and for Judgment Thereon in both Debtors' cases. The UST recommends that the cases be dismissed based upon the following:

- Rideshare:
 - An order denying the adequacy of debtor's Disclosure Statement was entered on 7/16/18 (PACER Dkt. #124)
 - The Debtor has failed to provide sufficient evidence of worker's compensation insurance. Debtor's previously submitted proof of worker's compensation insurance showed an expiration date of 7/2/18
 - Third quarter UST fees for 2018 are fully accrued and must be paid no later than 10/31/18
 - Debtor owns no real property and at the time of filing, listed only $5,631.98 in cash. Debtor had no accounts receivables and no inventory. Additionally, the last filed Monthly Operating Report ("MOR") for the period ending August 2018 shows a total of $2,157 in three accounts consisting of $1,574.39 in the general DIP account, $358.51 in the payroll account, and $224.10 in the tax account. Debtor has not filed its September MOR which was due no later than October 15, 2018. Thus, the Debtor's schedules do not list any meaningful assets that a trustee can administer, so based on the evidence currently available, conversion would not appear to benefit creditors.

compensation insurance showed an expiration date of 8/13/18

- Third quarter UST fees for 2018 are fully accrued and must be paid no later than 10/31/18
- Debtor owns no real property and at the time of filing, listed only $199.62 in cash. Debtor had no accounts receivables and no inventory. Additionally, the last filed Monthly Operating Report ("MOR") for the period ending August 2018 shows a total of $209.07 in three accounts consisting of $69.09 in the general DIP account, $7.94 in the payroll account, and $129.04 in the tax account. Debtor has not filed its September MOR which was due no later than October 15, 2018. Thus, the Debtor's schedules do not list any meaningful assets that a trustee can administer, so based on the evidence currently available, conversion would not appear to benefit creditors.

Debtors' Oppositions

Rideshare

Debtors state that since denial of the first amended joint disclosure statement, the Debtors have been diligent in their reorganizational efforts and should be afforded the opportunity to confirm a plan. The Debtors have engaged in ongoing settlement negotiations with their principals and objecting creditors Kaushaal Laxmee ("Laxmee"), Gary Oganessian, Alex Lichtenman and Howard Miller (collectively, the Objecting Creditors") respecting a consensual plan and consensual treatment of the claims. The parties believed they had reached consensual terms and were in the process of documenting the settlement and revising the plan but discovered a material misunderstanding that requires further negotiations. The Debtors cannot assure the Court, UST or parties in interest that the open issues will be resolved, but assert that it is in the best interest of Debtors' creditors to allow the Debtors additional time to negotiate. Therefore, Debtors request that the Court set a January 31, 2019 deadline for them to file a further amended joint disclosure statement and plan.

In the meantime, Rideshare states that it is in compliance with the deficiencies identified by the UST as follows: (i) proof of current Worker's Compensation insurance is attached to the Declaration of Rattan Joesa (the "Roesa Decl.") as Exhibit 1; (ii) Rideshare has paid its 3rd quarter UST fees and proof of payment is attached to the Roea Decl. as Exhibit 2; and (iii) a copy of its September MOR is attached to the Roea Decl. as Exhibit 3.

Debtors also submit that they are viable and profitable businesses that were forced to file for bankruptcy because of pending litigation and the resulting financial drain. The Debtors are otherwise current on all obligations and believe they can become more profitable in the future. Further, the Debtors' value stems from their ability to operate as a going concern and any liquidation value is not significant. If the Debtors are forced to liquidate, they will be forced to fire employees and creditors will receive little if anything. The Debtors also highlights that no creditors have joined in on the UST's request to dismiss. The Debtors submit that appointing a chapter 11 trustee is not in the best interest of the estate because it will only lead to further administrative claims and costs. The Debtors highlight that the UST has not alleged any fraud, dishonesty, or mismanagement.

Red Booth

Red Booth's opposition is substantially similarly to Rideshare's. However, in addition to the foregoing arguments, Red Booth states that it is in compliance with the deficiencies identified by the UST as follows: (i) Red Booth no longer has any employees and therefore does not maintain Worker's Compensation insurance; (ii) Red Booth has paid its 3rd quarter UST fees and proof of payment is attached to the Roea Decl. as Exhibit 1; and (iii) a copy of its September MOR is attached to the Roea Decl. as Exhibit 2.

UST's Replies

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the UST has not filed replies.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under § 1112(b), the Court shall dismiss or convert a case to one under chapter 7 upon a showing of "cause." 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b). Section 1112(b)(4) provides a nonexclusive list of factors that constitute "cause" including, among other things: "(A) substantial or continuing loss to or diminution of the estate and the absence of a reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation;" "(B) gross mismanagement of the estate;" "(E) failure to comply with an order of the court;" "(F) unexcused failure to satisfy timely any filing or reporting requirement established by this title or by any rule applicable to a case under this chapter;" "(J) failure to file a disclosure statement, or to file or confirm a plan, within the time fixed by this title or by order of the court." "The enumerated causes are not exhaustive, and 'the court will be able to consider other factors as they arise, and to use its equitable powers to reach an appropriate result in individual cases.'" In re Consolidated Pioneer Mortgage Entities, 248 B.R. 368, 375 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000) (quoting H.R. No. 95-595, 95th Cong., 1st Sess. 405-06 (1977), aff'd, 264 F.3d 803 (9th Cir. 2001)).

Here, the Debtors submit that they have cured any outstanding deficiencies identified by the UST with respect to insurance, quarterly fees, and monthly operating reports. Further, it appears the ambiguous record led the UST to believe that the Debtors could not file a joint amended disclosure statement and, as a result, no further purpose was served by keeping these cases in bankruptcy. However, because this Court orally modified its ruling denying the first amended joint disclosure statement, to remove the portion of the ruling contemplating denial with prejudice, the Court finds it appropriate to permit the Debtors a final opportunity to propose an amended joint disclosure statement as set forth below.

The Debtors are directed to remain in timely compliance with applicable filing and reporting requirements in future.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons stated above, the Motions are DENIED without prejudice. The Debtors shall have until no later than January 31, 2019 to file a second amended joint disclosure statement and plan.

The Court will conduct a hearing on the adequacy of the second amended joint disclosure statement on March 19, 2019 at 10:00 a.m.

If the Court does not approve the adequacy of the disclosure statement at that hearing, the Court will issue an order after the hearing dismissing these cases pursuant to 1112(b)(4)(A) and (J) without further notice or hearing.

Docket 171

Tentative Ruling:

11/14/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. There being no opposition to the Motion, the Court finds that this matter is suitable for disposition without oral argument. The hearing on the Motion is VACATED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Debtor's Motion for Order Approving Rejection of Unexpired Leases of Non-Residential Real Property Located at (A) 3265 W. Shaw Avenue, Fresno, CA, (B) 15385 Main St., Hesperia, CA, and (C) 11150 Olympic Boulevard, Suite 600, Los Angeles, CA [Doc. No. 171] (the "Motion")
 - a) Notice of Hearing on [Motion] [Doc. No. 172]
 - b) Proof of Service [Doc. No. 179]
- 2) Wells Fargo Bank's Statement of Position in Response to Debtor's Motion for Order Approving Rejection of Unexpired Leases of Nonresidential Real Property [Doc. No. 190]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Sultan Financial Corporation (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on July 13, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). As of the Petition Date, the Debtor operated sixteen Aaron's Sales & Lease Stores.

The Debtor moves to reject unexpired leases of nonresidential real property located at 3265 W. Shaw Avenue, Fresno, CA 93711 (the "Shaw Ave. Lease"), 153855 Main St., Hesperia, CA (the "Hesperia Lease"), and 11150 Olympic Boulevard, Suite 600, Los Angeles, CA (the "Headquarters Lease"). The Debtor is the lessee under all three leases.

On October 24, 2018, the Court approved a compromise between the Debtor, Aaron's, Inc. ("Aaron's"), and various other parties, pursuant to which Aaron's will purchase all of the Debtor's business locations, other than those locations subject to the Shaw Ave. Lease and Hesperia Lease. See Doc. No. 181 (the "Settlement and Sale Order"). Accordingly, the Debtor seeks to reject both the Shaw Ave. Lease and the Hesperia Lease, effective as of the closing date of the Aaron's sale (projected to be November 12, 2018). In addition, the Debtor seeks to reject the Headquarters Lease, effective as of December 31, 2018, because the Debtor no longer needs the leased space.

Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. ("Wells Fargo") asserts a lien in the property subject to the Shaw Ave. Lease. Wells Fargo does not oppose rejection of the Shaw Ave. Lease, provided that any order approving the Motion state that rejection of the Shaw Ave. Lease occurs concurrently with the closing of the sale of the Debtor's assets to Aaron's.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(a) provides that the Debtor, "subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." In Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), the Ninth Circuit explained the standard the Bankruptcy Court must apply in determining whether to approve the rejection of an executory contract:

In making its determination, a bankruptcy court need engage in "only a cursory review of a [debtor-in-possession]'s decision to reject the contract. Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor-in-possession]'s rejection decision." ...

Thus, in evaluating the rejection decision, the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate. See Navellier v. Sletten, 262 F.3d 923, 946 n. 12 (9th Cir.2001); FDIC v. Casterter, 184 F.3d 1040, 1043 (9th Cir.1999); see also In re Chi-Feng Huang, 23 B.R. at 801 ("The primary issue is whether rejection would benefit the general unsecured creditors."). It should approve the rejection of an executory contract under § 365(a) unless it finds that the debtor-in-possession's conclusion that rejection would be "advantageous is so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice."

Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007).

The Debtor has shown sufficient cause to reject the Shaw Ave. Lease, the Hesperia Lease, and the Headquarters Lease. Once the transactions contemplated by the Sale and Settlement Order have closed, the Debtor will no longer conduct business at the Shaw Ave. and Hesperia locations. As a result of the sale of most of its assets, after December 31, 2018, the Debtor will no longer need the space furnished under the Headquarters Lease.

For these reasons, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The order on the Motion should contain language providing that the rejection of the Shaw Ave. Lease is effective as of the date of the closing of the sale of the Debtor's assets to Aaron's. The order on the Motion shall be endorsed as to form by Wells Fargo, pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9021-1(b)(3)(C). The order should also incorporate this tentative ruling by reference, and shall be submitted within seven days of the hearing.

#1.00 HearingRE: [26] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations PERSONAL PROPERTY RE: 2013 Honda Accord, VIN 1HGCR2F5XDA220877 . (Wang, Jennifer)

Docket 26

Tentative Ruling:

11/16/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on September 25, 2018.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

#7.00 HearingRE: [582] Notice of motion and motion for relief from automatic stay with supporting declarations ACTION IN NON-BANKRUPTCY FORUM RE: Noble Williams v St Vincent Medical Center, et al., BC683258 .

Docket 582

Tentative Ruling:

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. §362 [Doc. No. 582] (the "Motion")
- 2) Debtors' Response to Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Filed on Behalf of Nobel Williams [Doc. No. 776]
- 3) Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Response to Motion for Relief from Stay (Non-Bankruptcy Forum) Filed by Noble Williams [Doc. No. 824]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

Noble Williams ("Movant") seeks stay-relief, pursuant to §362(d)(1), for the purpose of litigating a personal injury action (the "State Court Action") against Debtor St. Vincent Medical Center ("St. Vincent"). Movant seeks recovery only from applicable insurance, and waives any deficiency or other claim against the estate. The State Court Action asserts claims for negligence and premises liability, based upon injuries Movant sustained when he fell stepping out of an elevator at St. Vincent Medical Center. In support of the Motion, Movant contends that the claims asserted in the State Court Action (the "State Court Claims") are nondischargeable. Doc. No. 582 at ¶4.d.

Because Movant waives any deficiency claim and seeks recovery only against applicable insurance, Debtors do not oppose stay-relief. However, Debtors dispute

Movant's contention that the State Court Claims are nondischargeable. Debtors point out that nondischargeability under §523(a)(6) is limited "to those situations in which the debtor possesses subjective intent to cause harm or knowledge that harm is substantially certain to result from his actions," Carillo v. Su (In re Su), 290 F.3d at 1145 (9th Cir. 2002), and argue that the State Court Action's negligence claims do not meet this standard.

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") does not oppose the Motion, also based upon the fact that Movant seeks recovery only from applicable insurance. The Committee agrees with the Debtors' position regarding nondischargeability.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 362(d)(1) provides that the Court "shall grant relief from the [automatic stay] ..., such as by terminating, annulling, modifying, or conditioning such stay for cause" "Because there is no clear definition of what constitutes 'cause,' discretionary relief from the stay must be determined on a case by case basis." In re Castlerock Props., 781 F.2d 159, 163 (9th Cir. 1986).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to §362(d)(1). The State Court is best suited to adjudicate the personal injury claims which arise under non-bankruptcy law.

The Court makes no findings as to whether the State Court Claims are non-dischargeable. The Motion is granted only because the State Court Claims can be tried more expeditiously by the State Court—regardless of whether those claims are non-dischargeable.

The automatic stay remains in effect with respect to the enforcement of any judgment against the Debtors or estate property. Movants are permitted to enforce any final judgment only by collecting upon available insurance in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law. Movants may not pursue any deficiency claim or any other claim against the Debtors or property of the estates.

Because Debtors do not oppose stay-relief, the order granting the Motion shall take effect immediately upon entry, notwithstanding Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 4001(a)(3). Movant's request that the order be binding and effective in any bankruptcy case commenced by or against the Debtors for a period of 180 days is DENIED.

Movant shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing. [Note 1]

Docket 696

Tentative Ruling:

11/16/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED; however, the order granting the Motion shall not take effect until January 15, 2019.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. §362 [Doc. No. 696] (the "Motion")

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

Josefina Robles, by and through her conservator, Sergio Robles ("Movant"), seeks stay-relief, pursuant to §362(d)(1), for the purpose of litigating a personal injury action against Debtor St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis") in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court Action"). The State Court Action asserts claims against St. Francis and various other third-party defendants. In the State Court Action, the recovery Movant seeks is not limited to applicable insurance, and Movant is not willing to waive any deficiency claim against St. Francis.

Debtors argue that the Motion should be denied without prejudice, because it is premature and would undermine the Debtors' efforts to successfully proceed under Chapter 11. Debtors assert that allowing the State Court Action to proceed would impair their ability to pursue critical issues, such as the pending sales of two of the Debtors' hospitals. Debtors further oppose the Motion on the ground that Movant is not willing to limit her recovery to applicable insurance. The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") opposes the Motion for the same reasons.

Movant makes the following arguments in reply to the opposition of the Debtors and the Committee:

- 1) The Debtors' assertion that the granting of the Motion would interfere with the case by distracting the Debtors' professionals with personal injury litigation is disingenuous. As soon as stay-relief is granted, defense of the State Court Action will be assigned to litigation and/or coverage counsel. In e-mail communications with the Movant, Debtors have already identified the lawyer who will ultimately defend against the State Court Action.
- 2) Movant has sustained horrific injuries as a result of the negligence of the doctors and nurses at St. Francis, and should not be required to wait to seek redress.

II. Findings and Conclusions

As explained by the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel in Kronemyer v. American Contractors Indemnity Co. (In re Kronemyer) (internal citations omitted): "What constitutes 'cause' for granting relief from the automatic stay is decided on a case-by-case basis. Among factors appropriate to consider in determining whether relief from the automatic stay should be granted to allow state court proceedings to continue are considerations of judicial economy and the expertise of the state court, ... as well as prejudice to the parties and whether exclusively bankruptcy issues are involved." 405 B.R. 915, 921. The factors articulated in In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799-800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984) and adopted by the bankruptcy court in Truebro, Inc. v. Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc. (In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc), 311 B.R. 551, 559-60 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2004) are also "appropriate, nonexclusive factors to consider in deciding whether to grant relief from the automatic stay to allow pending litigation to continue in another forum." Kronemyer, 405 B.R. at 921. factors are as follows:

- 1) Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues;
- 2) The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case;
- 3) Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary;
- 4) Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases;
- 5) Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation;
- 6) Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question;
- 7) Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties;
- 8) Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c);
- 9) Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f);
- 10) The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties;
- 11) Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial, and
- 12) The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt."

Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 599.

The primary disagreement between Movant and the Debtors is the extent to which allowing the State Court Action to proceed would interfere with the case. Movant asserts that lifting the stay would have very little impact on the ability of the Debtors' professionals to attend to other pressing matters; the Debtors dispute this contention.

The Court finds that although it certainly would be possible for the Debtors to defend against the State Court Action at this time, requiring them to do so would nonetheless interfere with the case by distracting the Debtors' professionals from other pressing matters. The State Court Action alleges that Movant suffered extremely serious injuries as a result of the alleged malpractice of physicians employed by Debtor St. Francis. If these allegations are proven, the damages would be substantial. While it is true that primary responsibility for the Debtors' defense could be assigned to special litigation counsel, the Debtors' general bankruptcy counsel would still be required to monitor the litigation, given the seriousness of the allegations. Contrary to Movant's contention, Debtors' general bankruptcy counsel cannot simply assign the State Court Action to special litigation counsel and then forget about it.

An auction of two of the Debtors' hospitals is set to occur on December 10–11, with a hearing to approve the results of the auction set for December 19, 2018. To successfully prosecute the case for the benefit of creditors, Debtors will be required to devote substantial resources to the auction and the subsequent hearing to approve the results of the auction. Granting stay-relief at this juncture would require the Debtors to divert their attention from issues pertaining to the sale, which would be detrimental to creditors.

In view of the findings set forth above, Curtis factors two, five, seven, and eleven weigh against granting stay-relief at this time. However, after the December 19 auction has concluded, application of the Curtis factors will yield a different result. Although the relevant Curtis factors do not warrant stay-relief now, stay-relief will be warranted as of January 15, 2019.

Granting stay-relief now would interfere with the bankruptcy case by distracting the Debtors' professionals from other pressing matters (the second Curtis factor). With respect to factor five, the damages sought in the State Court Action are substantial; Movant has not agreed to limit her recovery to applicable insurance; and it is therefore not known whether available insurance proceeds will be sufficient to cover any judgment Movant may obtain. Factor five therefore weighs against granting immediate stay-relief. The litigation's interference with the case has the potential to reduce creditor recoveries; therefore, factor seven weighs against granting immediate stay-relief. The State Court Action has not reached the trial stage, so factor eleven also weighs against granting immediate stay-relief.

Factor twelve—the balance of the hurt—is neutral. As discussed, granting immediate stay-relief will harm the Debtors by distracting the Debtors' professionals from other pressing matters. On the other hand, Movant has sustained serious injuries and is prejudiced by the inability to pursue legal redress.

To the extent that they apply, the remaining Curtis factors weigh in favor of immediate stay-relief. The State Court Action will completely resolve the issues (factor one); the State Court is the tribunal best suited to hear the Movant's claims (factor three); and lifting the stay would result in a more expeditious determination of the State Court Action (factor ten). Nonetheless, these factors are outweighed by the harm that immediate stay-relief would impose upon the Debtors.

As noted, the Curtis factors are not the exclusive guideposts for assessing the appropriateness of stay-relief. Particularly relevant to this case is the reasoning of Sumitomo Trust & Banking Co. v. Grand Rapids Hotel, L.P., 140 B.R. 643, 700 (Bankr. W.D. Mich. 1992), wherein the court held:

[I]f the relief from stay is requested at the early stages of the bankruptcy case, the burden upon the debtor is less stringent. But, if relief from stay is requested later in the case, the debtor's showing is closely scrutinized.

Sumitomi Trust, 140 B.R. at 700. See also Chrysler LLC v. Plastech Engineered Prods., Inc., 382 B.R. 90, 109 (Bankr. E.D. Mich. 2008) ("The longer the case goes on, the more the analysis may change and the balance of competing interests may compel a different result.").

Movant's attempts to distinguish Sumitomi Trust and Plastech Engineered Prods. are unavailing. Movant notes that Sumitomo Trust addressed stay-relief under §362(d)(2)(B), whereas the present Motion was filed under §362(d)(1). That is a distinction without a difference. Movant notes that the facts of Plastech Engineered Prods. were considerably different from the facts of this case. Those differences are immaterial. Plastech Engineered Prods. stands for the general proposition that at the outset of the case, a stay-relief motion should be closely scrutinized to further the Bankruptcy Code's objective of providing debtors breathing space to reorganize. That general proposition is valid regardless of the type of business that the debtor conducts.

Having considered the applicable Curtis factors and the principles set forth in Sumitomo Trust and Plastech Engineered Prods., the Court finds that Movant is entitled to stay-relief, effective as of January 15, 2019. This result gives the Debtors some breathing space to achieve their objectives, while at the same time delaying Movant's ability to proceed with the State Court Action by only two months.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED; however, the order granting the Motion shall not take effect until January 15, 2019. Movants shall submit an order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing. [Note 1]

- 3) Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Response to Motion for Relief from Stay (Non-Bankruptcy Forum) Filed by Refugio Estrada and Livier Marquez Estrada [Doc. No. 825]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

Refugio Estrada and Livier Marquez Estrada ("Movants") seek stay-relief, pursuant to §362(d)(1), for the purpose of litigating a personal injury action against Debtor O'Connor Hospital ("O'Connor"). Movants seek recovery only from applicable insurance, and waive any deficiency or other claim against the estate.

Because Movants waive any deficiency claim and seek recovery only against applicable insurance, Debtors do not oppose the Motion. The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors does not oppose the Motion for the same reason.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 362(d)(1) provides that the Court “shall grant relief from the [automatic stay] ..., such as by terminating, annulling, modifying, or conditioning such stay for cause” “Because there is no clear definition of what constitutes ‘cause,’ discretionary relief from the stay must be determined on a case by case basis.” In re Castlerock Props., 781 F.2d 159, 163 (9th Cir. 1986).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to §362(d)(1). The State Court is best suited to adjudicate the personal injury claims which arise under non-bankruptcy law.

The automatic stay remains in effect with respect to the enforcement of any judgment against the Debtors or estate property. Movants are permitted to enforce any final judgment only by collecting upon available insurance in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law. Movants may not pursue any deficiency claim or any other claim against the Debtors or property of the estates.

Because there is no opposition to the Motion, the order granting the Motion shall take effect immediately upon entry, notwithstanding Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 4001(a)(3).

Movant shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing. [Note 1]

No appearance is required if submitting on the court’s tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1

To ensure that the Debtors have the opportunity to review Movants’ proposed order as to form, Movants shall either (a) submit a Notice of Lodgment of the proposed order in accordance with the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9021-1(b)(3)(A) or, in the alternative, shall (b) obtain Debtors’ endorsement as to the form of the proposed order pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9021-1(b)(3)(C).

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On October 18, 2018, the Court entered interim orders granting the Debtor's first-day motions (1) seeking authorization to use cash collateral (the "Cash Collateral Motion") and (2) seeking authorization to enter into a revolving credit agreement (the "Financing Motion"). See Order (A) Authorizing Debtor to Use Cash Collateral on an Interim Basis Pending a Final Hearing; (B) Granting Replacement Liens; and (C) Setting Final Hearing [Doc. No. 43] (the "Interim Cash Collateral Order") and Interim Order on Emergency Motion of Debtor for Interim and Final Orders to Borrow Money and to Grant Administrative Priority to Lender [Doc. No. 45] (the "Interim Financing Order"). This is a continued hearing on the Cash Collateral and Financing Motions. No opposition to either motion is on file.

A. Background

F.A.S.S.T., LLC (the "Debtor" or "FASST") owns and operates a training facility/gymnasium that is open to the public doing business as Velocity Sports Club. The Debtor was established in 2010 as a franchisee of Velocity Sports Performance ("VSP"). The Debtor subsequently became an affiliate of VSP and pays for the use of the name and a listing on the VSP website.

Prior to November 2016, VSP heavily marketed for its franchisees and affiliates. In November 2016, the VSP franchisor changed ownership and, unbeknownst to the Debtor, stopped providing the same level of marketing. The diminished marketing efforts resulted in a decline in membership which, in turn, caused a 25% drop in the Debtor's receivables.

By the time the Debtor learned of the reduced marketing efforts, it had already fallen behind on its monthly rent obligations and was forced to obtain loans from predatory lenders with high interest rates and to incur sizeable credit card obligations. The Debtor has taken steps to create its own website and establish a greater social media presence and, as a result, has seen an increase in membership and profitability. Nevertheless, the Debtor now seeks bankruptcy protection to restructure its debt load, restore profitability, and preserve the value of its assets.

B. The Cash Collateral Motion

The Debtor seeks authorization to use cash collateral to pay the ordinary expenses of operating its business. According to the Debtor, the present amount of total allegedly secured debt is $190,000; however, the Debtor is still investigating the validity of the security interests asserted by various creditors and has been unable to definitively ascertain the amount and priority of secured indebtedness. The Debtor states that it is aware of the following potential secured creditors:

- 1) Cash Capital, a factor who asserts an ownership interest in 12% of the Debtor's receivables, based upon a loan.
- 2) WebBank/Can Capital Asset Servicing, Inc. ("WebBank"), which asserts secured indebtedness of approximately $140,000.
- 3) Three unspecified creditors who have recorded UCC-1 financing statements. The Debtor contests the validity of the asserted security interests based upon the fact that the financing statements were filed under the name of Corporation Servicing Company as "representative" of the creditors.
- 4) Cryo Center, which has also recorded a UCC-1 financing statement. The Debtor contends that it has paid off Cryo Center's indebtedness.

At the first-day hearing on the Cash Collateral Motion, the Court stated that the evidentiary showing that the Debtor had made in support of the use of cash collateral would likely not be sufficient to support the continued use of cash collateral beyond November 19. The Court explained:

In particular, notwithstanding the fact that under §363(p) it is creditors who have the burden of proof regarding the validity, priority, and extent of a security interest, the minimal and conclusory evidence supplied by the Debtor in support of its challenge to the validity of the security interests at issue here is not sufficient to excuse the Debtor from complying with its adequate protection obligations. With respect to those adequate protection obligations, it is of substantial concern to the Court that the Debtor has failed to supply meaningful evidence (1) regarding the value of its business or (2) regarding the contention that its business is not declining in value.

Final Ruling Authorizing Interim Use of Cash Collateral [Doc. No. 30] at 5–6.

The Debtor has submitted the following additional evidence as to the value of its business: (1) a declaration from Troy Finfrock, a consultant on gym operations who currently operates seven gyms in the State of Oregon and who has owned gyms over the past thirty years in Oregon, California, Arizona, and New Mexico (the "Finfrock Decl.") and (2) an updated six-month income projection and for the Debtor (the "Updated Income Projection").

Mr. Finfrock conducted an on-site inspection of the gym and spent several hours talking with management. He reaches the following conclusions regarding the gym's value:

- 1) The gym consists of approximately 12,000 square feet of rented space. Operational profit for a gym of this size should be in the range of $150,000 to $250,000 per year. The Debtor's budget projects annual profit of only $80,000 per year. The primary reason for the shortfall is because the rent is too high. Rent for this size of a gym should be approximately 22% of revenue; the Debtor's rent is approximately 43% of revenue. There are only three ways to increase the Debtor's profit: raise gross revenue, decrease the rent, or do some combination of both.
- 2) Using the current projected profit of $80,000 per year, the gym is worth approximately $365,000. This valuation is based on multiplying EBITDA by four (a standard multiple for this type of business) (here, $80,000 x 4 = $320,000), subtracting customer prepaid liability (approximately $15,000), and adding the value of the used equipment (approximately $60,000).
- 3) The gym's value is not declining because it is expected to be at least somewhat profitable.

Chapter 11

The Debtor's position is that it should be authorized to use cash collateral without making any adequate protection payments to secured creditors, because (1) the gym is not declining in value and (2) the Debtor is still investigating the validity of the security interests asserted by secured creditors. No secured creditors have opposed the Cash Collateral Motion. The Debtor asserts that any secured creditors are adequately protected by (1) the continued operation of the Debtor's business and by (2) replacement liens to be granted to any secured creditors.

C. The Financing Motion

The Debtor makes the following arguments and representations in support of the Financing Motion:

The Debtor seeks authorization to borrow up to the sum of $35,000 on a revolving basis from Robert Renae (the "Lender") to supplement the Debtor's ongoing cash flow needs during the pendency of this bankruptcy case. The terms of the proposed loan ("Loan") are as follows:

- i. Amount to be Borrowed: $35,000, on a revolving basis, as needed.
- ii. Interest Rate: 6% per annum, payable, and paid, at the end of each month on outstanding balances.
- iii. Due Date: Variable, i.e., as funds are available. However, the Loan will become completely due and payable on the occurrence of any of the following events: (a) the conversion of this Chapter 11 proceeding to a proceeding under Chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code; (b) the dismissal of the case; or (c) the appointment of a Chapter 11 Trustee.
- iv. Security: None.
- v. Priority of repayment: The Loan shall be granted an administrative priority equal to all other "priority one chapter 11 expenses of administration," provided however, that Lender's claim will be subject to a "carve out" for (i.e., a priority position subordinate to), the following: (a) aggregate unpaid and allowed fees and costs payable under sections 330 and 331 of the Bankruptcy Code to professionals retained by Debtor, including those incurred by General Counsel to Debtor (the Law Offices of Robert M. Yaspan); and (b) the unpaid fees of the Clerk of the Bankruptcy Court and the United States Trustee pursuant to 28 U.S.C. section 1930(a).

The Debtor states that it sought such financing from banking institutions on both a secured and unsecured basis, but its attempts have been unavailing. The Debtor further states that without the Loan, it is concerned that it will not be able to pay its expenses after October 20, 2018.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. Cash Collateral

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtor "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions of 11 U.S.C. § 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. 11 U.S.C. §§ 363(c)(2)(B), 363(e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988).

Having reviewed the Finfrock Decl. and the Updated Income Projection, the Court finds that the Debtor has established that the gym is not declining in value. The Court finds that the secured creditors' interest in cash collateral is adequately protected by (1) the proposed replacement liens and by (2) the replacement income generated by the continued operation of the Debtor's business. See In re Megan-Racine Associates, Inc., 202 B.R. 660, 663 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1996) (concluding that "[a]s long as there was a continuous income stream being generated by the Debtor, the fact that the Debtor consumed a portion of those monies to operate and maintain the facility each month did not diminish the value of the [secured creditor's] interest in the [cash collateral]").

The Court authorizes the further interim use of cash collateral through and including February 13, 2019. A further interim hearing on the continued use of cash collateral shall take place on February 13, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. The Debtor shall provide notice of the further interim hearing, and shall file a proof of service so indicating, by no later than November 26, 2018. The Debtor shall submit additional evidence in support of the continued use of cash collateral by no later than January 23, 2019. Such additional evidence shall include, at a minimum, updated financial projections as well as a discussion of the results of the Debtor's efforts to improve the profitability of the gym. The Debtor shall also submit information regarding the results of its investigation as to the validity of the security interests asserted by the secured creditors.

Any opposition to the use of cash collateral beyond February 13, 2019 shall be submitted by no later than January 30, 2019. The Debtor's reply, if any, shall be submitted by no later than February 6, 2019.

B. DIP Financing

Section 364 provides in relevant part:

- (b) The court, after notice and a hearing, may authorize the trustee to obtain unsecured credit or to incur unsecured debt other than under subsection (a) of this section, allowable under section 503(b)(1) of this title as an administrative expense.

11 U.S.C. § 364(b).

Having reviewed the declaration submitted by Charles DeBus, the Debtor's managing member (the "DeBus Decl."), the Court finds that the terms of the proposed Loan are reasonable and that the Debtor was unable to obtain financing on more favorable terms than those proposed by the Lender. DeBus Decl., ¶ 49. The Court approves the Loan on a final basis.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral through and including February 13, 2019. A hearing on the further interim use of cash collateral shall take place on February 13, 2019. The Financing Motion is GRANTED on a final basis. - 2) Response of Michael Lane, Liquidating Trustee of the Gardens Regional Hospital and Medical Center Liquidating Trust, to Motion for Relief from Stay [Doc. No. 1370]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Manuel Ramirez ("Movant") seeks stay-relief, pursuant to §362(d)(1), for the purpose of litigating a personal injury action (the "State Court Action") against the Debtor.

On September 18, 2018, the Court entered an order confirming the Debtor's Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation [Doc. No. 1274] (the "Plan"). See Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law and Order Approving Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation [Doc. No. 1327] (the "Confirmation Order"). remaining assets. Confirmation Order at ¶62.

The Liquidating Trustee's counsel has been in communication with Movant's counsel subsequent to the filing of the Motion. The Liquidating Trustee does not oppose the Motion, provided that the order on the Motion contains the following language (which has been agreed upon by the Liquidating Trustee and the Movant):

Pursuant to the Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation [Docket No. 1274] (the "Plan"), confirmed by the Court on September 18, 2018 [Docket No. 1327], "[a]ll injunctions or stays provided for in the Chapter 11 Case under Sections 105 or 362 of the Bankruptcy Code, or otherwise, and in existence on the Confirmation Date, shall remain in full force and effect until the Effective Date[.]" Plan, Section XI(A) (emphasis added). The Effective Date of the Plan occurred on October 10, 2018 [Docket No. 1351]. As such, the automatic stay under section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code is no longer in effect.

Further, pursuant to section IV(B)(5) of the Plan:

Docket 1353

Tentative Ruling:

11/16/2018

The Movant and the Liquidating Trustee have agreed upon the form of an order (the "Stipulated Order") resolving the Motion. The Court will enter the Stipulated Order.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. §362 (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 1353]
 - a) Declaration of Maisie C. Sokolove in Support of Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay [Doc. No. 1354]
 - b) Request for Judicial Notice in Support of Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay [Doc. No. 1355]
- 2) Response of Michael Lane, Liquidating Trustee of the Gardens Regional Hospital and Medical Center Liquidating Trust, to Motion for Relief from Stay [Doc. No. 1371]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Nelson Fermaint ("Movant") seeks stay-relief, pursuant to §362(d)(1), for the purpose of litigating a personal injury action (the "State Court Action") against the Debtor.

On September 18, 2018, the Court entered an order confirming the Debtor's Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation [Doc. No. 1274] (the "Plan"). See Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law and Order Approving Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation [Doc. No. 1327] (the "Confirmation Order"). The Confirmation Order appoints Michael R. Lane as the Liquidating Trustee, who is charged with liquidating the Debtor's remaining assets. Confirmation Order at ¶62.

The Liquidating Trustee's counsel has been in communication with Movant's counsel subsequent to the filing of the Motion. The Liquidating Trustee does not oppose the Motion, provided that the order on the Motion contains the following language (which has been agreed upon by the Liquidating Trustee and the Movant):

Pursuant to the Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation [Docket No. 1274] (the "Plan"), confirmed by the Court on September 18, 2018 [Docket No. 1327], "[a]ll injunctions or stays provided for in the Chapter 11 Case under Sections 105 or 362 of the Bankruptcy Code, or otherwise, and in existence on the Confirmation Date, shall remain in full force and effect until the Effective Date[.]" Plan, Section XI(A) (emphasis added). The Effective Date of the Plan occurred on October 10, 2018 [Docket No. 1351]. As such, the automatic stay under section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code is no longer in effect.

Further, pursuant to section IV(B)(5) of the Plan:

Holders of Litigation Claims may proceed to a final judgment or settlement with respect to such Litigation Claims provided that any Holder of a Litigation Claim may only recover on such judgment or in connection with any such settlement solely by collecting upon available insurance in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law or from any non-Debtor Person co-liable with the Debtor in connection with any such Litigation Claim (the "Third-Party Recovery Claims"). Holders of Third-Party Recovery Claims may not pursue any deficiency Claim or any other Claim against the Debtor, property of the Estate or property of the Liquidating Trust Estate and any such Claims shall be forever barred pursuant to section VI(F).

Except with respect to Third-Party Recovery Claims, each Holder of a Litigation Claim is enjoined from continuing on or filing any future Claims or causes of action arising out of or related to any Litigation Claim against the Debtor in any forum whatsoever, including any state, federal, or non-U.S. court or any administrative or arbitral forum.

Plan, Section (IV)(B)(5) (emphasis added).

The Movant is entitled to relief consistent with sections XI(A) and IV(B)(5) of the Plan. Nothing herein shall be deemed to amend, modify or alter in any way any provisions of the Plan, all of which shall continue to remain in full force and effect.

Docket 7

Tentative Ruling:

11/16/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that, after deducting costs of sale, there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

11/16/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion in Individual Case for Order Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate [Doc. No. 8] (the "Motion")
 - a. Amended Notice of Motion [Doc. No. 11]
2. No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On June 5, 2018, Ernestine J. Thibodeaux ("Ms. Thibodeaux") filed a voluntary petition under chapter 7 [Case No. 2:18-bk-16487-BR] (the "Prior Case"). On September 17, 2018, the Chapter 7 Trustee, United States Trustee, and Ms. Thibodeaux's counsel filed a stipulation to dismiss the case based upon a number of identified deficiencies with the case commencement documents [Doc. No. 29] (the "Stipulation"). Pursuant to the Stipulation, Ms. Thibodeaux's counsel agreed to return any monies received for preparing and filing the petition and schedules to Ms. Thibodeaux and to assist Ms. Thibodeaux and her husband with filing a joint chapter 7 petition free of charge. Id. On September 20, 2018, the Court entered an order approving the Stipulation and dismissing the case [Doc. No. 30].

On October 28, 2018, Ms. Thibodeaux and Schaun Carleton Clark (together, the "Debtors") filed this voluntary joint chapter 7 case. Debtors now move to continue the automatic stay as to all creditors pursuant to § 362(c)(3)(B). [Note 1] Debtors state that the Prior Case was dismissed through no fault of theirs and that they filed this case in good faith.

As of the date of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 362(c)(3)(A) provides that the automatic stay terminates by its own terms thirty days after a debtor's bankruptcy filing, when the debtor has filed a prior bankruptcy case that was dismissed within one year of the second bankruptcy filing. However, pursuant to § 362(c)(3)(B), the debtor or any other interested party may seek to continue the automatic stay beyond the thirty-day period. The movant must demonstrate that the case was filed "in good faith as to the creditors to be stayed." 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3)(B). Under certain circumstances, a presumption of bad faith arises that the movant may rebut only by presenting clear and convincing evidence of the debtor's good faith. See 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3)(C)(i) – (ii).

Based upon a review of the Stipulation and order entered in the Prior Case, the Court does not find that any of the factors triggering the presumption of bad faith exist. The Court further finds that Debtors have established by a preponderance of the evidence that this case was filed in good faith. The Debtors state that they spent several hours with their current counsel to gather information necessary to file complete and accurate case commencement documents in this case. Motion, pdf p. 13:15-16. The Debtors also state that they each work two jobs and that they filed this case to get a fresh start from their unsecured debts to allow them an opportunity to raise and care for their ten-member family. Id. at pdf p. 13:17-19; 14:24-25.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED.

Debtors are directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: Debtors incorrectly checked the boxes (i) requesting an order imposing the automatic stay as to all creditors; and (ii) requesting relief under § 362(c)(4); however, since there has only been one bankruptcy filing within the one-year period prior to the petition date, the automatic stay is in effect for the first thirty-days of this bankruptcy case, through November 27, 2018, pursuant to § 362(c)(3)(B). Therefore, the Debtors should only have checked the boxes requesting an order continuing the automatic stay beyond the thirty-day period pursuant to § 362(c)(3)(B).

Chapter 7

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Lux Beauty Group, Inc. (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on August 24, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtor contracted with Unique Formulation Research, Inc. dba Act Labs ("Act Labs") for the manufacture, packaging, and shipping of cosmetics and related products. The Debtor scheduled Act Labs as a general unsecured creditor owed $169,000.

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") moves to sell certain of the estate's assets to Kahn Financial Group, LLC ("Kahn"), free and clear of liens, claims, interests and encumbrances. The assets to be sold (the "Assets") consist of all of the Debtors' patents, trademarks, trade secrets, and copyrights (the "Intellectual Property"); two metal tube filling machines currently in the possession of Act Labs; and certain other cosmetic products, also in the possession of Act Labs. Douglas Kahn, the manager of the proposed purchaser Kahn, owns 3,334 shares of the Debtor, which is less than 1% of the Debtor's outstanding shares. The proposed purchase price is $45,000, and the sale is subject to overbids.

Act Labs asserts a possessory lien on the finished cosmetic goods that are among the Assets being sold. Act Labs does not consent to sale of the Assets free and clear of liens. Act Labs consents to the sale, provided that the sale order state that the sale is without prejudice to Act Lab's ability to assert its possessory lien, and that any such lien shall attach to the sale proceeds.

Kahn, the proposed purchaser, contends that Act Labs' Opposition should be overruled for a lack of evidence. Noting that Act Labs' possessory lien can attach only to finished goods, Kahn argues that Act Labs has failed to sufficiently identify the finished goods subject to its possessory lien, and has failed to quantify the value of its services giving rise to that lien. In the alternative, Kahn asserts that any possessory lien must be limited to only the finished cosmetic goods, not the Intellectual Property. Kahn states that its primary interest is in the Intellectual Property, and that it is buying the finished goods only to protect the Intellectual Property by ensuring that no other party can sell the finished goods under the trademarks it is purchasing. Kahn argues that if the Court is not willing to overruled the Opposition based on a lack of evidence, the Court should allocate a nominal portion of the purchase price to Act Labs' asserted lien, which can later by litigated by the Trustee and Act Labs after the sale closes.

The Trustee has not responded to Act Labs' Opposition.

Chapter 7

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(b) permits the Trustee to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The debtor must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20.

The Trustee has demonstrated sufficient business justification for the sale. The Trustee has a statutory obligation to liquidate the estate's assets; the sale furthers such obligation.

Section 363(f) provides that estate property may be sold free and clear of liens, claims, and interests, providing one of the following conditions is satisfied:

- 1) Applicable nonbankruptcy law permits sale of such property free and clear of such interest;
- 2) Such entity consents;
- 3) Such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;
- 4) Such interest is in bona fide dispute; or
- 5) Such entity could be compelled, in a legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a money satisfaction of such interest.

The Court approves the sale, free and clear of the lien asserted by Act Labs. The lien asserted by Act Labs shall attach to the sale proceeds with the same validity and priority as such lien had prepetition. The Court declines Kahn's request to allocate a portion of the purchase price to which Act Labs' asserted lien attaches. Although Kahn is correct that the possessory lien asserted by Act Labs cannot attach to the Intellectual Property, the present record does not contain sufficient evidence to permit the Court to determine how much of the purchase price is attributable to the Intellectual Property versus the finished cosmetic goods.

Having reviewed the declaration submitted by the Trustee, the Court finds that the sale to Kahn was negotiated at arms-length, and that Kahn is entitled to the protections of §363(m). In the event that an overbidder prevails at the auction, the Court will take testimony from such overbidder to determine whether §363(m) protections are warranted.

The proposed breakup fee of $5,000 is approved. The Court finds that the breakup fee was necessary to induce Kahn to enter into the Asset Purchase Agreement.

Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(f), the order approving the sale shall take effect immediately upon entry.

Auction Procedures

In the event that any qualified overbidders are present, the Court will distribute numbered auction paddles to the proposed purchaser and all qualified overbidders. The initial overbid will be $5,000, with subsequent overbids to be increments of $1,000. The overbid increment is subject to adjustment by the Court to facilitate bidding. The Court will announce each bid level. To remain in the auction, bidders must participate at all bid levels. That is, parties who do not bid in a round cannot later change their minds and re-enter the auction. Parties may make a bid higher than that announced by the Court by approaching the podium and stating their bid.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Sale Motion is GRANTED. The Trustee shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Note 1

The Trustee requested a minimum overbid of $10,000 and subsequent overbids of $5,000. An overbid of $10,000 would chill bidding given the sales price of $45,000.

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set on a shortened notice in accordance with this Judge's procedures. Oppositions, if any, will be considered at the hearing.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Debtor continues to occupy the property after a foreclosure sale held on August 16, 2018. The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on September 4, 2018 and obtained a judgment in its favor on September 19, 2018.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with enforcement of its unlawful detainer judgment in accordance with state law.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of this bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The stay is annulled retroactive to the petition date, so that enforcement actions taken by Movant, if any, before receipt of notice of the automatic stay will not be deemed to have been voided by the automatic stay. I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

M&A Enterprises, LLC (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on May 29, 2018. The Debtor owns two adjacent apartment buildings, located at 2936 North Loma Avenue and 2935 North Mountain Avenue, San Bernardino, CA (the "Properties").

On September 10, 2018, the Court entered an order authorizing the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") to operate the Properties and to employ a property management company. See Order Granting Trustee’s Motion for Order Authorizing Trustee to: (1) Operate Real Property; (2) Use Cash Collateral Rents; and (3) Employ Property Manager and Enter into Property Management Agreement [Doc. No. 109] (the “Operations Order”). The Operations Order authorizes the Trustee to use rents from the Properties to operate the Properties in accordance with a six month budget (the “Budget”). The Budget authorizes the Trustee to spent $9,000 per month for repairs and maintenance.

The Trustee has received bills for repair and maintenance services totaling $34,740. Repair and maintenance expenses were higher than anticipated by the Budget as a result of a large number of emergency repairs. For example, on November 6, 2018, emergency repairs were necessary to remediate a flood involving raw sewage. The Trustee seeks authorization to pay the repair and maintenance bills to the extent that such bills exceed the amounts allowed by the Budget.

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Motion is Granted

The Court has previously authorized the Trustee to operate the Properties, pursuant to §721. The Court finds that the additional expenses which the Trustee seeks to pay in connection with various emergency repairs are necessary and appropriate. The Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

B. The Court is Prepared to Approve the Debtor’s Proposed Amendment to the Dismissal Order

On October 30, 2018, the Court entered an Order (1) Dismissing Debtor’s Bankruptcy Case and (2) Denying Emergency Motion of Louis Munoz to Re-Set Motion for Relief from Stay and Compel Trustee to Make Monthly Payments [Doc. No. 215] (the “Dismissal Order”). The Dismissal Order provides that the case shall be dismissed, effective as of November 23, 2018 (the “Effective Order”). The Dismissal Order further provides that if there is a projected surplus of funds held by the Trustee after making all distributions and payments, the Trustee shall deliver such surplus funds to the Debtor.

The Debtor requests that the Dismissal Order be amended to include the following language:

If Debtor does not procure a closed refinance of its choosing by the Effective Date, at Debtor's sole option, escrow shall immediately return to Debtor all monies provided by the Chapter 7 Trustee ($2.3 million) and any additional cash provided by Debtor ("total cash"). If Debtor opts for a return of its total cash, this amount shall be reduced only by actual costs incurred by the escrow company to the Effective Date and approved by Debtor.

The only change to the Dismissal Order sought by the Debtor is the inclusion of the language excerpted above. Subject to any comments by the Trustee, the Court is prepared to approve the proposed language and enter an Amended Dismissal Order.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. Subject to any comments by the Trustee, the Court is prepared to enter an Amended Dismissal Order containing the additional language proposed by the Debtor.

The Trustee shall immediately submit (a) an order on the Motion and (b) an Amended Dismissal Order containing the additional language proposed by the Debtor.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Tentative Ruling:

5/14/2018

Plaintiff commenced this action on December 15, 2016. On January 3, 2018, this action was reassigned from the Hon. Deborah J. Saltzman to the undersigned Judge. The Court set a Status Conference for February 21, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. On February 7, 2018, the Court approved the parties' stipulation to continue the Status Conference to May 15, 2018. The parties represented that they were engaged in settlement negotiations and stated that they needed additional time to see if they could reach a settlement agreement.

On May 2, 2018, the Court issued an Order to Comply with Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1 Re: Status Conference [Doc. No. 28] (the "Order to Comply"), based upon the parties' failure to timely file a Joint Status Report as ordered by the Court. In response to the Order to Comply, the parties filed a Joint Status Report, as well as a stipulation seeking a further continuance of the Status Conference. See Doc. No. 30 (the "Stipulation"). In the Stipulation, the parties again represented that they were continuing to discuss settlement and need additional time to see if they can reach an agreement.

On May 7, 2018, the Court entered an Order Disapproving Stipulation for Further Continuance of Status Conference [Doc. No. 32]. The Court explained:

The parties have failed to establish that they are making significant progress toward settlement. Absent such a showing, a further continuance of the Status Conference will result only in additional delay. The Court is obligated to ensure the speedy determination of every action.

In the Court's experience, settlements are most likely to be achieved against the backdrop of litigation deadlines. Therefore, having reviewed the Joint Status Report filed by the parties, the Court HEREBY ORDERS as follows:

- 1) The following dates shall apply to this action:
 - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 6/14/2018.
 - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 8/28/2018.
 - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 9/27/2018.
 - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 10/16/2018. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 10/23/2018. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 10/27/2018. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
 - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 11/13/2018 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
 - h) Trial is set for the week of 11/26/2018. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference.

Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.

- 2) The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

The Court will enter a Scheduling Order. Plaintiff shall submit the order assigning this matter to mediation within fifteen days of the hearing, as set forth in ¶2, above.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Cameron Schlagel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. #101.00 HearingRE: [717] Notice of motion and motion for relief from automatic stay with supporting declarations ACTION IN NON-BANKRUPTCY FORUM RE: Medical Negligence. (Danielyan, Mariam)

Docket 717

Tentative Ruling:

11/22/2018:

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. §362 [Doc. No. 717] (the "Motion")
- 2) Debtors' Response to Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Filed on Behalf of Aida Iniguez and Francisco Iniguez [Doc. No. 811]
- 3) Reply of Movants Aida Iniguez and Francisco Iniguez to Debtors' Response to Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay [Doc. No. 843] (the "Reply")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

Aida Iniguez and Francisco Iniguez ("Movants") seek stay-relief, pursuant to § 362(d)(1), for the purpose of litigating a medical malpractice action against Debtor St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis"). Movants commenced the action, captioned Aida Iniguez et al. v. Domingo C. Barrientos, St. Francis Medical Center, et al. (the "State Court Action"), on May 4, 2016. The State Court Action alleges that had St. Francis and its doctors properly diagnosed Movant Aida Iniguez, it would not have been necessary for Ms. Iniguez to have undergone the amputation of both her legs.

A status conference in the State Court Action is set for December 12, 2018. Prior to the commencement of the Debtors' bankruptcy cases, trial in the State Court Action was set for October 9, 2018. Movants seek recovery only from applicable insurance, and waive any deficiency or other claim against the estate.

Debtors oppose the Motion, arguing that being required to defend against the State Court Action would be disruptive to the Debtors' operations and would distract the Debtors from aggressively pursuing sales of the Debtors' hospitals.

Movant makes the following arguments in reply to the Debtors' opposition:

- 1) There is no merit to the contention that Debtors would be distracted from prosecuting the bankruptcy cases if the State Court Action proceeded. St. Francis is represented by insurance counsel and Movants seek recovery only from applicable insurance. Insurance counsel has been defending against the State Court Action for more than two years.
- 2) Debtors have taken inconsistent and contradictory positions in response to similar stay-relief motions. In another non-bankruptcy action also involving a tort claims against St. Francis, Debtors stated that they would consider stipulating to stay-relief if Movant sought recovery only from insurance. Here, Movants seek recovery only from insurance, yet Debtors oppose the Motion.

II. Findings and Conclusions

As explained by the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel in Kronemyer v. American Contractors Indemnity Co. (In re Kronemyer) (internal citations omitted): "What constitutes 'cause' for granting relief from the automatic stay is decided on a case-by-case basis. Among factors appropriate to consider in determining whether relief from the automatic stay should be granted to allow state court proceedings to continue are considerations of judicial economy and the expertise of the state court, ... as well as prejudice to the parties and whether exclusively bankruptcy issues are involved." 405 B.R. 915, 921. The factors articulated in In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799-800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984) and adopted by the bankruptcy court in Truebro, Inc. v. Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc. (In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc), 311 B.R. 551, 559-60 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2004) are also "appropriate, nonexclusive factors to consider in deciding whether to grant relief from the automatic stay to allow pending litigation to continue in another forum." Kronemyer, 405 B.R. at 921. The Curtis factors are as follows:

- 1) Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues;
- 2) The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case;

- 3) Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary;
- 4) Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases;
- 5) Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation;
- 6) Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question;
- 7) Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties;
- 8) Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c);
- 9) Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f);
- 10) The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties;
- 11) Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial, and
- 12) The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt."

Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 599.

Having considered the applicable Curtis factors, the Court finds that immediate stay-relief is appropriate. The Court's conclusion is driven primarily by the fact that Movants seek recovery only from applicable insurance and waive any deficiency or other claim against the Debtors or property of the estates (the fifth Curtis factor). The Court is cognizant of the reality that Debtors' bankruptcy counsel and its professionals may be required to devote some attention to the litigation, even though it is being defended by insurance counsel. However, having reviewed the the State Court Complaint, the Court finds that allowing the State Court Action to go forward at this time will not unduly distract the Debtors from pursuing other pressing matters in these bankruptcy cases. Requiring Movants to wait for stay-relief until the Debtors have made further progress selling the hospitals would mean that the trial, initially scheduled to go forward in October 2018, would likely be delayed until March 2019 or even later. In view of Movants' agreement to limit recovery to applicable insurance, the "balance of hurt" (factor twelve) warrants granting stay-relief now.

The remaining Curtis factors likewise support immediate stay-relief. Allowing the State Court Action to proceed will result in a complete resolution of the issues (factor one). The State Court is the tribunal best suited to adjudicate the litigation (factor three). The parties are at an advanced stage of the litigation (factor eleven). Stay-relief will facilitate the expeditious determination of the State Court Action (factor ten). Finally, given the Court's finding that allowing the State Court Action to proceed will not unduly distract the Debtors from other pressing matters, stay-relief will not prejudice the interests of creditors by interfering with the case and reducing creditor recoveries (factor seven).

Movants' request that the order granting stay-relief be binding and effective in any bankruptcy case commenced by or against the Debtors for a period of 180 days is DENIED. So that the status conference set for December 12, 2018 in the State Court Action may proceed, the order granting stay-relief shall be effective immediately upon entry, notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 4001(a)(3). Movants are permitted to enforce any final judgment only by collecting upon available insurance in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law. Movants may not pursue any deficiency claim or any other claim against the Debtors or property of the estates. The stay shall remain in effect with respect to the enforcement of any judgment against the Debtors or property of the Debtors' estates.

Movants shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing. [Note 1]

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1

To ensure that the Debtors have the opportunity to review Movants' proposed order as to form, Movants shall either (a) submit a Notice of Lodgment of the proposed order in accordance with the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9021-1(b)(3)(A) or, in the alternative, shall (b) obtain Debtors' endorsement as to the form of the proposed order pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9021-1(b)(3)(C).

Docket 52

Tentative Ruling:

11/22/2018:

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is DENIED, provided the Debtor makes monthly adequate protection payments of $815.85.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Personal Property) [Doc. No. 52] (the "Motion")
- 2) Debtor's Opposition to Motion for Relief from Stay Filed by CIT Bank N.A. [Doc. No. 60] (the "Opposition")
- 3) CIT Bank, N.A.'s Reply to Debtor's Opposition to Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from Automatic Stay [Doc. No. 64] (the "Reply")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and Debtor-in-possession, F.A.S.S.T., LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition on October 9, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor owns and operates a public training facility/gymnasium that does business under the name Velocity Sports Club.

Summary of the Motion

CIT Bank, N.A. ("Movant") seeks relief from the automatic stay with respect to certain fitness equipment identified in invoices attached to the Motion (the "Property") pursuant to §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(2). Movant states that it holds a security interest in the Property pursuant to a security agreement (Ex. 1) and UCC-1 financing statement (Ex. 3). Movant asserts that cause exists to grant it relief from the automatic stay because (i) postpetition arrears are $815.85; (ii) Movant's interest is not adequately protected by an equity cushion because Movant's $26,562.58 claim is equal to the fair market value of the Property; and (iii) proof of insurance has not been provided to Movant.

Movant asserts that the Property is worth $26,562.58. In support of its claimed valuation, Movant submits a declaration by Brian Knox, who is employed by the Movant as a Senior Legal Recovery Specialist. Mr. Knox testifies that the $26,562.58 valuation was determined as follows:

Movant has an Asset Management group that routinely re-markets equipment of the make, model, and year at issue herein in this industry. Movant's Asset Management group bases its valuation of the equipment on its original price, age and forecast of current market values, its conversations with outside vendors and experience in equipment financing and leasing.

Declaration of Brian Knox ("Knox Declaration"), ¶ 10(d).

Summary of the Debtor's Opposition

Debtor opposes the Motion on the grounds that Movant has failed to provide any admissible evidence in support of the Property's fair market value and, as a result, failed to carry its burden of proof to establish a lack of equity under §§ 362(d)(1) or (d)(2). With respect to § 362(d)(1), Debtor asserts that the only evidence presented is inadmissible because Movant's custodian of records, Mr. Knox, is unqualified to testify regarding the Property's value. Debtor also asserts that Movant has not presented any evidence to establish that its interest is not adequately protected or that the Property is declining in value. Debtor intends to bring its own separate motion to determine the value of Movant's security interest in the collateral and to request to strip down Movant's interest to that value.

With respect to the relief requested under § 362(d)(2), Debtor contends that in addition to its failure to submit admissible evidence regarding Debtor's lack of equity in the Property, Movant has failed to demonstrate that the gym equipment is not necessary for the Debtor's effective reorganization.

Debtor also states that Movant has not introduced any evidence to support its contentions regarding the Debtor's insurance coverage. Debtor attaches a copy of its existing insurance policy to the Declaration of Charles Debus as Exhibit A.

Finally, Debtor states that notwithstanding Movant's failure to carry its burden of proof, the Debtor is willing to make adequate protection payments in the amount of the monthly payment due under the note ($815.85) for the period of time it takes the Debtor to determine the value of Movant's security, its allowed claim, and other related issues or until Debtor's plan is confirmed, whichever is earlier. However, Debtor is willing to make the proposed adequate protection payments only if any overpayments are subject to disgorgement once the value of the Property has been adjudicated.

Summary of Movant's Reply in Support of the Motion

Movant asserts that the Debtor has failed to establish that the Property is insured as required by the Master Equipment Finance Agreement between Debtor and Movant. According to Movant, the insurance policy produced by the Debtor is inadequate because it does not name either Movant or the Office of the United States Trustee as additional insured parties. Movant disputes Debtors' contention that Mr. Knox is not qualified to testify as to the Property's value. Movant states that Debtors' proposal to make adequate protection payments only if such payments are subject to disgorgement is nonsensical because adequate protection payments cannot, by definition, be subject to disgorgement.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Mr. Knox is Qualified to Testify as to the Value of the Property

The Debtor's objection to Mr. Knox's testimony in support of the Property's valuation is OVERRULED. Mr. Knox is employed by Movant as a Senior Legal Recovery Specialist. In the course of his job duties, Mr. Knox is required to assess the value of collateral. As such, he is qualified to offer expert valuation testimony. See Federal Rule of Evidence ("FRE") 702 (providing that an expert may be qualified by "experience"); see also Stanziale v. Southern Steel & Supply, LLC (In re Conex Holdings, LLC, 518 B.R. 269, 286 (Bankr. D. Del. 2014) (stating that witnesses who have worked in the industry at issue "may be prime candidates for providing relevant testimony").

Mr. Knox explains that he arrived at his conclusions regarding the Property's value by consulting with Movant's Asset Management Group, which routinely markets equipment similar to the Property. As an expert qualified to offer valuation testimony, Mr. Knox is entitled to rely upon the conclusions of the Asset Management Group in forming his opinion.

Under § 362(d)(1), the court shall grant relief "for cause, including the lack of adequate protection of an interest in property of such party in interest." Generally, what constitutes cause for purposes of § 362(d) "has no clear definition and is determined on a case-by-case basis." In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir. 1990); see also Little Creek Dev. Co. v. Commonwealth Mortgage Corp. (In the Matter of Little Creek Dev. Co.), 779 F.2d 1068, 1072 (5th Cir. 1986) (relief from the automatic stay may "be granted 'for cause,' a term not defined in the statute so as to afford flexibility to the bankruptcy courts"). However, cause under § 362(d)(1) expressly includes a lack of adequate protection. Section 361 sets forth three non-exclusive examples of what may constitute adequate protection: (1) periodic cash payments equivalent to decrease in value; (2) an additional or replacement lien on other property; or (3) other relief that provides the indubitable equivalent. See In re Mellor, 734 F.2d 1396, 1400 (9th Cir. 1984). The Ninth Circuit has established that an equity cushion of 20% constitutes adequate protection for a secured creditor. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see also Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral).

Charles DeBus, the Debtor's managing member, states that he has "not yet sorted out and formed an opinion as to the value of the equipment covered by Movant's financing." DeBus Decl. at ¶2. Mr. Knox's declaration is the only valuation evidence before the Court. For purposes of this Motion only, the Court finds, based upon Mr. Knox's testimony, that the Property is worth $26,562.58.

Because Movant's claim is also $25,562.58, Movant's interest in the Property is not adequately protected. To avoid stay-relief, the Debtor must make monthly adequate protection payments to Movant in the amount of $815.18 (which is the amount due under the note). The adequate protection payments shall not be subject to disgorgement once the value of the Property has been adjudicated, as proposed by the Debtor. The Debtor's proposal is fundamentally inconsistent with the concept of adequate protection. By definition, adequate protection payments cannot be subject to disgorgement; otherwise, such payments would not protect the secured creditor's interest in its collateral.

Section 362(d)(2) requires the Court to grant stay-relief if the Debtor lacks equity in the property and if the property is not necessary to an effective reorganization.

As discussed above, for purposes of this Motion only, the Court finds that the Debtor lacks equity in the Property. However, the Property is necessary for an effective reorganization. Obviously the Debtor cannot continue to operate its gym without exercise equipment. The Court declines to grant stay-relief under §362(d)(2).

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED, provided that the Debtor makes monthly adequate protection payments of $815.18.

Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

11/29/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

#2.00 HearingRE: [187] Notice of motion and motion for relief from automatic stay with supporting declarations ACTION IN NON-BANKRUPTCY FORUM RE: Insurance proceeds only.

Docket 187

Tentative Ruling:

11/29/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit the Movant to proceed under applicable non-bankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the non-bankruptcy forum, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtor or estate property.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Action in Nonbankruptcy Forum) [Doc. No. 187] (the "Motion")
2. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Sultan Financial Corporation dba Aaron's Sales and Lease (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on July 13, 2018. On October 29, 2018, Ollie Driver ("Movant") filed a "Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Action in Nonbankruptcy Forum) [Doc. No. 187] (the "Motion").

As set forth in the Motion, Movant seeks stay relief pursuant to § 362(d)(1) to proceed to final judgment in the nonbankruptcy action captioned Ollie Driver v. Sultan Financial Corporation, et al (Case No. MC026148) pending in the Superior Court of California, North District (the "State Court Action"). Movant commenced the State Court Action on May 3, 2017 by filing a complaint for (1) premises liability and (2) negligence stemming from Movant's slip and fall accident. Movant states that the parties to the State Court Action have agreed to mediate and discovery is nearly complete.

Movant asserts that cause exists to grant stay relief because (i) Movant seeks recovery only from applicable insurance, if any, and waives any deficiency or other claim against the Debtor or property of the Debtor's bankruptcy estate; and (ii) Movant's claims arise under nonbankruptcy law and can be most expeditiously resolved in the nonbankruptcy forum. Movant seeks to proceed under applicable nonbankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the nonbankruptcy forum, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtor or property of the Debtor's bankruptcy estate. Movant also requests waiver of the 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3).

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, a motion for relief from the automatic stay is a summary proceeding that does not involve an adjudication of the merits of the underlying claims. As recognized by the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel in In re Luz Int'l, Ltd.:

Given the limited grounds for obtaining a motion for relief from stay, read in conjunction with the expedited schedule for a hearing on the motion, most courts hold that motion for relief from stay hearings should not involve an adjudication of the merits of claims, defenses, or counterclaims, but simply determine whether the creditor has a colorable claim to the property of the estate. See In re Johnson, 756 F.2d 738, 740 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 474 U.S. 828, 106 S.Ct. 88, 88 L.Ed.2d 72 (1985) ("Hearings on relief from the automatic stay are thus handled in a summary fashion. The validity of the claim or contract underlying the claim is not litigated during the hearing.").

The automatic stay of 11 U.S.C. § 362(a) stays all action involving the following, in pertinent part:

(1) the commencement or continuation, including the issuance or employment of process of a judicial, administrative, or other action or proceeding against the debtor that was or could have been commenced before the commencement of the case under this title, or to recover a claim against the debtor that arose before the commencement of the case under this title.

11 U.S.C. § 362(a)(1).

Section 362(d)(1) permits a bankruptcy court to grant relief from the automatic stay upon a showing of "cause." Cause is a flexible concept and courts often conduct a fact intensive, case-by-case balancing test, examining the totality of the circumstances to determine whether sufficient cause exists to lift the stay. In re SCO Grp., Inc., 395 B.R. 852, 856 (Bankr. D. Del. 2007) (citing Baldino v. Wilson (In re Wilson), 116 F.3d 87, 90 (3d Cir. 1997); In re Laguna Assocs. Ltd., 30 F.3d 734, 737 (7th Cir. 1994)); In re MacDonald, 755 F.2d 715, 717 (9th Cir. 1985). "Among factors appropriate to consider in determining whether relief from the automatic stay should be granted to allow state court proceedings to continue are considerations of judicial economy and the expertise of the state court." In re Kronemyer, 405 B.R. 915, 921 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2009) (citing In re MacDonald, 755 F.2d 715, 717 (9th Cir. 1985)).

Here, to the extent the automatic stay applies under the circumstances described above, the Court finds that the causes of actions in the state court complaint attached to the Motion involve nonbankruptcy law and are within the expertise of the state court. Allowing the Movant to continue the State Court Action will best promote the judicial economy by adjudicating a final judgment as to the underlying claims that may either support or negate the filing of a proof of claim and/or an adversary complaint.

Based on the foregoing, to the extent the automatic stay applies, the Court GRANTS the Motion pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit the Movant to proceed under applicable non-bankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the nonbankruptcy forum, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtors or estate property. The Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim or any other claim against the Debtors or property of the estate, except that the Movant will retain the right to file a proof of claim and/or an adversary complaint under §§523 or 727 (to the extent applicable). This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code.

All other relief is denied.

#20.00 Show Cause Hearing re [13] Debtor To Appear And Show Cause Why Case Should Not Be Dismissed Because Of Debtor's Failure To Pay The Filing Fee In Installments.

Docket 0

Tentative Ruling:

12/3/2018

The case is dismissed based on the Debtor's failure to pay the filing fee as ordered by the Court. Fees are delinquent in the amount of $315.00.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Order on Application to Pay Filing Fee in Installments (the "Fee Installment Order") [Doc. No. 10]
- 2) Order Requiring Debtor to Appear and Show Cause Why Case Should Not be Dismissed Because of Debtor's Failure to Pay the Filing Fee in Installments (the "OSC") [Doc. No. 13]
 - a) Certificate of Notice [Doc. No. 17]

On October 4, 2018, the Court entered an order requiring Michael Andre Walker ("Debtor") to pay the filing fee according to the following schedule:

- First installment payment: $20.00 on or before 10/4/2018;
- Second installment payment: $78.75 on or before 10/18/2018;
- Third installment payment: $78.75 on or before 11/1/2018; and
- Final installment payment: $157.50 on or before 11/29/2018.

See Fee Installment Order.

The Debtor made the first installment payment, but failed to make any of the remaining installment payments. Fees are delinquent in the amount of $315.00.

On September 26, 2018, the Court issued an Order Requiring Debtor to Appear and Show Cause Why Case Should Not be Dismissed Because of Debtor's Failure to Pay the Filing Fee in Installments (the "OSC"). The OSC ordered the Debtor to make the delinquent installment payments by no later than one week prior to the hearing.

Docket 818

Tentative Ruling:

For the reasons set forth below, the Plan Administrator's Claim Objection is SUSTAINED, and Claim No. 26 is DISALLOWED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

 - a) Notice of Motion for: Plan Administrator's Objection to Claim Number 26-1
Filed by Jean Hung [Doc. No. 817]
 - b) [Amended] Notice of Objection to Claim [Doc. No. 824]
- 2) No Opposition to the Claim Objection is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background [Note 1]

Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on March 21, 2016. From March 21, 2016 to January 29, 2017, the Hon. Thomas B. Donovan presided over this case. On January 30, 2017, the case was reassigned to the undersigned Judge. Doc. No. 325.

Liberty was a real estate investment company that bought and sold real property using a combination of its own cash, cash from investors, and bank loans. Real property acquired by Liberty was not titled in the name of Liberty or its investors, but instead was purchased in the name of various limited liability companies. At all times since its formation, Benjamin Kirk was Liberty's President, CEO, CFO, and sole shareholder. Mr. Kirk's primary role was soliciting investors for Liberty and identifying real properties for purchase and sale.

B. The Claims Bar Date

On August 12, 2016, the Court issued an order setting October 30, 2016, as the deadline to file proofs of general unsecured claims. Doc. No. 178. On August 19, 2016, Liberty's Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") provided notice of the claims bar date to all known creditors. Doc. No. 186.

C. Claim 26-1, Asserted by Jean Hung

On October 28, 2016, Jean Hung filed Proof of Claim No. 26-1 ("Claim 26"). Claim 26 seeks $750,000, based upon a settlement entered into between Ms. Hung, on the one hand, and Gold River Valley LLC ("Gold River") and Liberty Gardens LLC ("Liberty Gardens"), on the other hand. Claim 26 further alleges that "Liberty subsequently agreed to repay the $750,000 under a promissory note" secured by property located at 544 San Antonio Road, Mountain View, CA 94040 (the "544 San Antonio Property"). Claim 26 includes an installment note dated May 28, 2014, payable to Ms. Hung personally by 544 San Antonio Road LLC ("544 San Antonio") through its managing member, Tsai Luan Ho aka Shelby Ho.

D. Summary of the Plan Administrator's Objection to Claim 38

The Plan Administrator asserts that Claim 26 must be disallowed for the following reasons:

- 1) Claim 26 is based upon a settlement agreement with Gold River and Liberty Gardens (the "Settlement Agreement"). The Settlement Agreement contains an integration clause. Because Liberty is not a party to the Settlement Agreement, it is not enforceable against Liberty.
- 2) Claim 26 includes a $750,000 promissory note signed by Ms. Ho and 544 San Antonio. Apparently, Ms. Hung attached this note to Claim 26 to implicitly argue that the note was issued by Liberty and that Liberty had agreed to pay the debt that was left unsecured after the property that had been secured by the note was sold. The promissory note does not establish the validity of the claim. The Settlement Agreement requires a written modification. Even assuming that the promissory note constituted a written modification of the Settlement Agreement, it was not signed by Liberty.

No opposition to the Claim Objection is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Under Bankruptcy Rule 3001(f), a proof of claim executed and filed in accordance with the Bankruptcy Rules constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. To overcome the presumption of validity created by a timely-filed proof of claim, an objecting party must do one of the following: (1) object based on legal grounds and provide a memorandum of points and authorities setting forth the legal basis for the objection; or (2) object based on a factual ground and provide sufficient evidence (usually in the form of declarations under penalty of perjury) to create triable issues of fact. Durkin v. Bendor Corp. (In re G.I. Indus., Inc.), 204 F.3d 1276, 1280 (9th Cir. BAP 2000); United States v. Offord Finance, Inc. (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216, 222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996); Hemingway Transport, Inc. v. Kahn (In re Hemingway Transport, Inc.), 993 F.2d 915, 925 (1st Cir. 1993). Upon objection, a proof of claim provides "some evidence as to its validity and amount" and is "strong enough to carry over a mere formal objection without more." See Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Spec., Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing Wright v. Holm (In re Holm), 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). An objecting party bears the burden and must "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Holm, 931 F.2d at 623. When the objector has shown enough evidence to negate one or more facts in the proof of claim, the burden shifts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of evidence. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (citation omitted).

Section 502 requires the Court to disallow a claim that "is unenforceable against the debtor and the property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured."

Here, Claim 26 is unenforceable against Liberty because Liberty is not a party to the Settlement Agreement which is the basis for the claim. The parties to the Settlement Agreement are the claimant, Ms. Hung, on the one hand, and Gold River and Liberty Gardens, on the other hand. Ms. Hung has failed to demonstrate how the Settlement Agreement with these entities establishes an enforceable claim against Liberty.

Ms. Hung asserts that "Liberty agreed to repay ... a total of $750,000." Attachment to Claim 26. In support of this contention, Ms. Hung attaches a promissory note in the amount of $750,000. The note is secured by the 544 San Antonio Property. The Court finds that the promissory note does not support Ms. Hung's contention that Liberty agreed to repay $750,000, because it is not signed by Liberty.

C. Claims 5-5 and 41-1, Asserted by the Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector

On July 10, 2018, the Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector (the "Claimant") filed Proof of Claim No. 5-5 ("Claim 5-5"), asserting a secured claim in the amount of $718,375.69, based upon unpaid property taxes.

On July 2, 2018, Claimant filed Proof of Claim No. 41-1 ("Claim 41-1"), asserting a secured claim in the amount of $142,817.79, based on unpaid property taxes.

D. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Plan Administrator's Claim Objection

In response to the Plan Administrator's Claim Objection, claimant has concluded that Claim 5 should be reduced to $1,066.78 as of November 2018, and that Claim 41 should be reduced to $1,405.92 as of November 2018. The Plan Administrator agrees with these conclusions.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Claimant and the Plan Administrator have agreed that Claim 5 should be reduced to $1,066.78 and that Claim 41 should be reduced to $1,405.92. Having reviewed the claims and the papers filed in connection with the Claim Objection, the Court finds that the resolution reached between the Claimant and the Plan Administrator is appropriate. As requested by the parties, Claim 5 is allowed as a secured claim in the amount of $1,066.78, and Claim 41 is allowed as a secured claim in the amount of $1,405.92.

#26.00 Hearing re [801] Objection to Claim Number 34-1 Filed by HT 2011 REO Management LLC Filed by Other Professional Bradley D. Sharp

Docket 0

Tentative Ruling:

12/3/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Plan Administrator's Claim Objection is SUSTAINED, and Claim No. 34 is DISALLOWED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Plan Administrator's Objection to Claim Number 34-1 Filed by HT 2011 REO Management LLC [Doc. No. 801] (the "Claim Objection")
 - a) Notice Objection to Claim [Doc. No. 802]
- 2) No Opposition to the Claim Objection is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background [Note 1]

Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on March 21, 2016. From March 21, 2016 to January 29, 2017, the Hon. Thomas B. Donovan presided over this case. On January 30, 2017, the case was reassigned to the undersigned Judge. Doc. No. 325.

Liberty was a real estate investment company that bought and sold real property using a combination of its own cash, cash from investors, and bank loans. Real property acquired by Liberty was not titled in the name of Liberty or its investors, but instead was purchased in the name of various limited liability companies. At all times since its formation, Benjamin Kirk was Liberty's President, CEO, CFO, and sole shareholder. Mr. Kirk's primary role was soliciting investors for Liberty and identifying real properties for purchase and sale.

On August 12, 2016, the Court issued an order setting October 30, 2016, as the deadline to file proofs of general unsecured claims. Doc. No. 178. On August 19, 2016, Liberty's Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") provided notice of the claims bar date to all known creditors. Doc. No. 186.

C. Claim 34-1, Asserted by HT 2011 REO Management LLC

On October 30, 2016, HT 2011 REO Management LLC ("HT 2011") filed Proof of Claim 34-1 ("Claim 34"). HT 2011 asserts an unsecured claim in the amount of $690,000. In support of its claim, HT 2011 attaches an investment agreement dated June 22, 2012 for the purchase of property located at 904 Old Town Court, Cupertino, California. The investment agreement required HT 2011 to deposit $690,000 to an escrow account by Skyline Escrow Services ("Skyline"), an internal escrow company operated by Liberty.

D. Summary of the Plan Administrator's Objection to Claim 38

The Plan Administrator asserts that Claim 34 must be disallowed for the following reasons:

- 1) The Plan Administrator has reviewed Skyline's bank statements for the month of the investment agreement and the following two months, and could not identify any deposits by HT 2011 or its principal, Helen Tan. The Plan Administrator has requested evidence from HT 2011 that it deposited the funds into escrow, but has not received any documents.
- 2) HT 2011 was a significant investor in Liberty and may have received preferential treatment. According to deposition testimony by Shelby Ho, HT 2011's principal, Helen Tan, is a longtime friend of Ms. Ho and a real estate agent. HT 2011 successfully invested $2 million in a portfolio of distressed properties held by an entity controlled by Liberty. Ms. Tan made numerous short term loans to Liberty. In view of HT 2011's close ties to an insider, it is incumbent upon HT 2011 to demonstrate that it actually advanced money to Liberty.

of the claim. To overcome the presumption of validity created by a timely-filed proof of claim, an objecting party must do one of the following: (1) object based on legal grounds and provide a memorandum of points and authorities setting forth the legal basis for the objection; or (2) object based on a factual ground and provide sufficient evidence (usually in the form of declarations under penalty of perjury) to create triable issues of fact. Durkin v. Bendor Corp. (In re G.I. Indus., Inc.), 204 F.3d 1276, 1280 (9th Cir. BAP 2000); United States v. Offord Finance, Inc. (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216, 222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996); Hemingway Transport, Inc. v. Kahn (In re Hemingway Transport, Inc.), 993 F.2d 915, 925 (1st Cir. 1993). Upon objection, a proof of claim provides "some evidence as to its validity and amount" and is "strong enough to carry over a mere formal objection without more." See Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Spec., Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing Wright v. Holm (In re Holm), 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). An objecting party bears the burden and must "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Holm, 931 F.2d at 623. When the objector has shown enough evidence to negate one or more facts in the proof of claim, the burden shifts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of evidence. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (citation omitted).

As the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel has explained, a claimant's failure to respond to requests for information supporting its claim supports an objection:

[W]e agree with courts in the majority that creditors have an obligation to respond to formal or informal requests for information....

If the creditor does not provide information or is unable to support its claim, then that in itself may raise an evidentiary basis to object to the unsupported aspects of the claim, or even a basis for evidentiary sanctions, thereby coming within Section 502(b)'s grounds to disallow the claim.

Heath v. Am. Express Travel Related Svcs. Co. (In re Heath), 331 B.R. 424, 436-37 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005)

Section 502 requires the Court to disallow a claim that "is unenforceable against the debtor and the property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured."

The Court finds that Claim 34 is unenforceable against Liberty. The claimant alleges that it invested $690,000 with Liberty. The investment contract attached to the claim required the claimant to wire the funds to Skyline. The Plan Administrator's review of Skyline's bank statements shows that the claimant never deposited the funds with Skyline. When the Plan Administrator asked the claimant to furnish additional information in support of its claim, the claimant failed to respond.

By showing that Skyline's bank statements contained no record of an investment by the claimant, the Plan Administrator negated the claimant's allegation that it had invested funds with Liberty. By failing to respond to the Plan Administrator's request for additional information in support of the claim, the claimant has failed to carry its burden of proof in support of the claim's validity.

Based upon the foregoing, the Claim Objection is SUSTAINED and Claim 34 is DISALLOWED in its entirety. The Plan Administrator shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

C. Claim 34-1, Asserted by HT 2011 REO Management LLC

On October 31, 2016, Brook Parker LLC ("Brook Parker") filed Proof of Claim 35-2 ("Claim 35"). Brook Parker asserts an unsecured claim of $516,686.14, based on "monies advanced," and attaches a promissory note dated June 14, 2013 in the same amount signed by Benjamin Kirk.

D. Summary of the Plan Administrator's Objection to Claim 38

The Plan Administrator asserts that Claim 35 must be disallowed for the following reasons:

- 1) The promissory note attached to the claim does not contain any recitals regarding payment by Brook Parker, such as the date of payment or the circumstances of payment. The Plan Administrator has no record that Brook Parker advanced any funds to Liberty. Moreover, the amount stated in the promissory note conflicts with Liberty's schedules, which refer to a property investment in a different amount.
- 2) The Plan Administrator requested evidence of payment from Brook Parker, but did not receive any documents. In view of the absence of any records evidencing that Brook Parker advanced funds to Liberty, the Plan Administrator believes it is incumbent upon Brook Parker to demonstrate that it actually advanced funds.

No opposition to the Claim Objection is on file.

Section 502 requires the Court to disallow a claim that "is unenforceable against the debtor and the property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured."

The Court finds that Claim 35-2 is unenforceable against Liberty. The claimant alleges that it advanced $516,686.14 to Liberty. However, the promissory note supporting the alleged loan does not contain recitals regarding the date of payment or the circumstances of payment. The Plan Administrator has no record of any payment, and the alleged payment conflicts with Liberty's schedules. Further, when the Plan Administrator requested additional information from Brook Parker regarding the claim, Brook Parker failed to provide any documentation.

The Plan Administrator has presented facts sufficient to overcome the prima facie validity afforded to the claim. By failing to furnish additional evidence in support of the claim in response to the Plan Administrator's requests, and by failing to respond to

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on March 21, 2016. Oak River Asset Management Corporation ("Oak River") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on July 12, 2016. Liberty holds a 100% equity interest in Oak River. From March 21, 2016 to January 29, 2017, the Hon. Thomas B. Donovan presided over Liberty and Oak River's cases. On January 30, 2017, both cases were reassigned to the undersigned Judge.

On June 18, 2018, the Court entered an order in the Liberty case confirming the First Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation Dated January 31, 2018 [Doc. No. 609, Ex. A] (the "Liberty Plan"). See Order Confirming First Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation Dated January 31, 2018 [Doc. No. 665, Case No. 2:16-bk-13575-ER] (the "Liberty Confirmation Order"). The Liberty Plan provides for the appointment of a Plan Administrator (the "Liberty Plan Administrator") responsible for liquidating the assets of Liberty's estate.

Oak River is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Liberty. Under the Liberty Plan, any surplus proceeds from the Oak River estate will be distributed to creditors of Liberty's estate.

AHA 2012 LLC ("AHA"), YCJS 2012 LLC ("YCJS"), and Frank Lee, as Trustee of the Lee Living Trust Dated 6/23/1987, and Christopher Lee (the "Lee Investors") (collectively, the "Claimants") have filed identical proofs of claim against both the Liberty and Oak River estates. At issue is whether Claimants are entitled to receive a distribution from Liberty's estate or from Oak River's estate. Because more claims have been filed against the Liberty estate than the Oak River estate, Claimants' distribution will be significantly larger if it is paid from the Oak River estate rather than from the Liberty estate. Claimants assert that they are entitled to receive a distribution from Oak River's estate; the Liberty Plan Administrator and Oak River assert that Claimants' distribution must be paid from the Liberty estate.

The claims arise from Claimants' attempt to invest in real property located at 119 Furlong Lane, Bradbury, CA 911008 (the "Furlong Property"). Pursuant to this objective, each claimant executed a contract titled Disclosure Acknowledgment and Commitment to Purchase and Sell Real Property Agreement (the "Purchase and Sale Agreement"). The contracts were substantially identical. Each Purchase and Sale Agreement was entered into between the Claimant, on the one hand, and "Liberty Asset Management Corporation and its respective parent or subsidiary companies and affiliates," on the other hand. The Purchase and Sale Agreements required Liberty and/or its subsidiaries and affiliates to purchase the Furlong Property on the Claimants' behalf, after which each Claimant would receive a fractional interest in the Property proportionate to the Claimant's investment. The Purchase and Sale Agreements further provided:

The investor acknowledges that LAMC is not the current owner of the real property [the Furlong Property] ... but has the same under purchase contract with its rights as Purchaser thereunder freely assignable to the investor

Each Claimant anticipated that after Liberty purchased the Furlong Property on their behalf, the Property would quickly be sold for a substantial profit. After several months, Claimants became suspicious as to why the Furlong Property had not been sold. At several times during 2014 and 2015, certain of the Claimants met with Benjamin Kirk and Shelby Ho to discuss the status of the Furlong Property. After these discussions provided fruitless, on January 19, 2016, Claimants commenced litigation against Liberty, Oak River, and other parties in the Los Angeles Superior Court. Claimants asserted causes of action for breach of contract, intentional misrepresentation, negligent misrepresentation, rescission, unfair competition, violation of the Corporate Securities Law of 1968, conversion, conspiracy, and alter ego. Only the causes of action for conspiracy and alter ego were pleaded against Oak

On June 17, 2016, the litigation was removed to the Bankruptcy Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1452(a). An adversary proceeding is pending in the Liberty bankruptcy, but litigation has been stayed by mutual consent of the parties.

Paragraph 8 of the Proof of Claim form requires the claimant to identify the basis for the claim. The initial Proofs of Claim filed by each Claimant identified the basis for the claim as "breach of contract." On November 19, 2018—subsequent to the filing of the instant Claim Objections—each Claimant filed an Amended Proof of Claim. The Amended Proofs of Claim are identical to the initial Proofs of Claim, except that the Amended Proofs of Claim set forth additional bases for the claims in response to Paragraph 8. Specifically, in addition to "breach of contract," the Claimants assert that the claims are based upon "quasi contract, constructive trust, fraud, conspiracy to defraud, [and] conversion [of] equity."

AHA asserts an unsecured claim in the amount of $959,868.49. Olivia Chang is a member of AHA. Declaration of Olivia Chang in Support of Response to Objection to Claim [Doc. No. 162] (the "Chang Decl.") at ¶1. In February 2012, Tsai Luan Ho, aka Shelby Ho, acting on behalf of Liberty, spoke to Ms. Chang regarding an investment opportunity in two condominiums located in San Mateo, California (the "San Mateo Properties"). Id. at ¶3. On March 5, 2012, Ms. Chang caused AHA to invest $644,000 with Liberty, for the purpose of acquiring the San Mateo Properties. Id. at ¶4. Ms. Chang no longer has the documents memorializing this transaction. Id. At the same time, Ms. Chang caused AHA to invest an additional $500,000 with Liberty to purchase a loan against real property located at 3020 Kirkham Street, San Francisco, California (the "Kirkham Property"). Id. at ¶5 and Ex. A.

On March 9, 2012, Ms. Chang transferred $1,144,000 to Arch Escrow on account of the investments in the San Mateo and Kirkham Properties. Id. at ¶6 and Ex. B. Liberty never transferred title to the San Mateo Properties to AHA or to Ms. Chang. Id.

In June 2012, Ms. Ho informed Ms. Chang that Liberty's principal, Benjamin Kirk, wanted Liberty to retain the San Mateo Properties. Id. at ¶7. On July 25, 2012, Ms. Chang caused AHA to execute a Cancellation of Real Estate Owned/Non-Performing Notes Purchase and Sale Agreement and Release of Deposit (the "Cancellation Agreement"). Id. at ¶7 and Ex. C. The Cancellation Agreement required Liberty to refund $644,000 to AHA within two business days. Id. at ¶8. Liberty did not refund the $644,000 to AHA or to Ms. Chang. Id.

In lieu of the refund, Mr. Kirk told Ms. Chang that an investment opportunity in the Furlong Property was available. Id. at ¶9. Mr. Kirk and Ms. Ho told Ms. Chang that Liberty owned the Furlong Property. Id. Mr. Kirk promised that he had already solicited a buyer for the Furlong Property at a purchase price that would double AHA's investment. Id. at ¶10.

On November 27, 2012, Ms. Chang caused AHA to execute a Disclosure Acknowledgment and Commitment to Purchase and Sell Real Property Agreement (the "AHA Purchase and Sale Agreement"). The AHA Purchase and Sale Agreement was entered into between AHA, on the one hand, and "Liberty Asset Management Corporation and its respective parent or subsidiary companies and affiliates," on the other hand. Id. at ¶11 and Ex. D. Pursuant to the AHA Purchase and Sale Agreement, Liberty and/or its affiliated companies were required to purchase the Furlong Property on AHA's behalf, so that AHA could obtain an 8% interest in the Property. Id. at ¶12.

The Lee Investor's Claim

The Lee Investors assert an unsecured claim in the amount of $959,868.49. Frank Lee is the trustee of The Lee Living Trust dated 06/23/1987 (the "Lee Trust"). Declaration of Frank Lee in Support of Response to Objection to Claim (the "Lee Decl.") at ¶1. In February 2013, Mr. Lee met with Ms. Ho to discuss an investment opportunity in the Furlong Property. Id. at ¶3. On February 25, 2013, Mr. Lee and his son, Christopher Deryen Lee, executed a Disclosure Acknowledgment and Commitment to Purchase and Sell Real Property Agreement (the "Lee Purchase and Sale Agreement"). Id. at ¶4. Like all the Purchase and Sale Agreements at issue, the Lee Purchase and Sale Agreement provided that Liberty and/or its affiliated companies would purchase the Furlong Property on the Lee Investor's behalf, and that subsequent to the purchase, the Lee Investors would obtain a fractional interest in the Property proportionate to their investment. Id. at Ex. A.

On February 26, 2013, Mr. Lee wired $900,000 to Sincere Escrow with the expectation of acquiring a 10% interest in the Furlong Property. Id. at ¶¶5-7.

The YCJS Claim

YCJS asserts an unsecured claim in the amount of $1,210,191.78. Yuchi Wang is a member of YCJS. Declaration of Yuchi Wang in Support of Response to Objection to Claim (the "Wang Decl.") at ¶1. In September 2012, Mr. Wang discussed investing in the Furlong Property with Ms. Ho. Id. at ¶3. In October 2012, Ms. Wang caused YCJS to execute a Disclosure Acknowledgment and Commitment to Purchase and Sell Real Property Agreement (the "YCJS Purchase and Sale Agreement"). Id. at ¶4. The YCJS Purchase and Sale Agreements was substantially identical to the Purchase and Sale Agreements executed by AHA and the Lee Investors. Like those agreements, the YCJS Purchase and Sale Agreement provided that Liberty and/or its affiliated companies would purchase the Furlong Property on YCJS' behalf, and that YCJS would obtain a fractional interest in the Property in proportion to the amount that it had invested. Id. at ¶4 and Ex. To consummate the transaction, Ms. Wang caused her husband to make five wire transfers to Skyline Escrow during the month of October 2012, in the total amount of $900,000. Id. at ¶5 and Ex. B.

Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Claim Objections

Oak River and the Plan Administrator (collectively, "Movants") assert that Claimants do not hold valid claims against Oak River's estate, because each Purchase and Sale Agreement was entered into with Liberty, not Oak River. Claimants contend that the Purchase and Sale Agreements are enforceable against Oak River. Claimants point out that the contracts were executed by "Liberty Asset Management Corporation and its respective parent or subsidiary companies and affiliates," and that there is no dispute that Oak River is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Liberty.

Claimants assert multiple theories of recovery against Oak River. First, Claimants argue that Oak River, as a subsidiary of Liberty, is a party to the Purchase and Sale Agreements, and is liable for breach of contract damages. Second, Claimants assert that they are entitled to restitution in lieu of breach of contract damages, because the contract with Liberty was procured by fraud. Third, Claimants contend that they are entitled to imposition of a constructive trust to prevent unjust enrichment. Fourth, Claimants assert that they are entitled to compensation from Oak River on the grounds of fraud. Fifth, Claimants assert that Oak River is liable as a conspirator in the scheme to retain the Furlong Property for the benefit of Liberty and itself.

Movants dispute each of these theories of recovery. First, Movants contend that Oak River is not liable for breach of contract because it is not a named party to any of the Purchase and Sale Agreements. Second, Movants argue that Oak River would not be unjustly enriched if Claimants were required to receive their recovery from Liberty's estate rather than Oak River's estate. Movants emphasize that all net equity from Oak River will be distributed to creditors of the Liberty estate. Third, Movants assert that Claimants' constructive trust theory fails, because Claimants (1) cannot trace their investment to either Oak River or the purchase of the Furlong Property, and (2) a constructive trust would unjustly enrich the Claimants at the expense of other Liberty investors.

Movants argue that allowing Claimants to recover against the Oak River estate would contravene the bankruptcy policy of ratable distribution among all creditors. Movants emphasize that many investors have been defrauded by the activities of Liberty and its various subsidiaries, and that allowing Claimants to recover against a specific subsidiary would unjustly enrich Claimants to the detriment of other victims of Liberty's fraudulent activities.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 502 requires the Court to disallow a claim that "is unenforceable against the debtor and the property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured."

Under Bankruptcy Rule 3001(f), a proof of claim executed and filed in accordance with the Bankruptcy Rules constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. To overcome the presumption of validity created by a timely-filed proof of claim, an objecting party must do one of the following: (1) object based on legal grounds and provide a memorandum of points and authorities setting forth the legal basis for the objection; or (2) object based on a factual ground and provide sufficient evidence (usually in the form of declarations under penalty of perjury) to create triable issues of fact. Durkin v. Benedor Corp. (In re G.I. Indus., Inc.), 204 F.3d 1276, 1280 (9th Cir. BAP 2000); United States v. Offord Finance, Inc. (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216, 222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996); Hemingway Transport, Inc. v. Kahn (In re Hemingway Transport, Inc.), 993 F.2d 915, 925 (1st Cir. 1993). Upon objection, a proof of claim provides "some evidence as to its validity and amount" and is "strong enough to carry over a mere formal objection without more." See Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Spec., Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing Wright v. Holm (In re Holm), 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). An objecting party bears the burden and must "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Holm, 931 F.2d at 623. When the objector has shown enough evidence to negate one or more facts in the proof of claim, the burden shifts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of evidence. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (citation omitted).

To determine whether the claims are enforceable against Oak River, the Court looks first to the Purchase and Sale Agreements upon which each Claim is based. As noted, each Purchase and Sale Agreement was entered into between the Claimant, on the one hand, and "Liberty Asset Management Corporation and its respective parent or subsidiary companies and affiliates," on the other hand. There is no dispute that at the time each Purchase and Sale Agreement was executed, Oak River was a wholly-owned subsidiary of Liberty. Therefore, under the plain language of the Purchase and Sale Agreements, Oak River was a party to each contract.

Movants make much of the fact that Oak River was not a "named party" to any of the Purchase and Sale Agreements. This distinction is immaterial. A contract may use shorthand to define key terms, provided that the definitions are clearly ascertainable. As indicated, no party has disputed that Oak River was a wholly-owned subsidiary of Liberty at all relevant times.

A contract enforceable against multiple corporate entities, where those entities conduct business as part of a larger economic enterprise, is not unusual. Many corporations conduct business in this manner, as it allows them to obtain tax and regulatory advantages. Corporations that so conduct business can, and frequently do, enter into contracts that are enforceable against each specific corporate entity within the larger economic enterprise. It is permissible for such a contract to incorporate the subsidiary entities through shorthand language similar to that used in the instant contracts. Such shorthand is often a necessity—large enterprises often conduct businesses through hundreds of subsidiaries; listing the name of each subsidiary would make a contract unwieldy. It is worth emphasizing that although Liberty used subsidiary entities for fraudulent ends, there is nothing per se illegitimate about either a corporation's use of subsidiaries to conduct business, or the use of contracts containing shorthand language incorporating multiple subsidiaries by reference.

Because each Purchase and Sale Agreement is, by its terms, enforceable against Oak River, Claimants are entitled to receive a distribution from Oak River's estate. There is no dispute that Oak River held title to the Furlong Property but failed to transfer such title to the Claimants, as required by the Purchase and Sale Agreements. Therefore, Claimants are entitled to recover from Oak River for breach of contract. It is not necessary for the Court to consider whether Claimants might also be entitled to recover against Oak River under any of the other theories asserted.

Movants contend that allowing Claimants to recover against the Oak River estate would enable Claimants to receive a greater distribution, to the detriment of other investors who were also defrauded by Liberty. This argument overlooks the fact that Claimants have identified contracts giving rise to a right to be paid from Oak River's estate. The practical effect of acknowledging Claimants' contractual rights will be a reduction in the distribution to other victims of Liberty's fraudulent activities. However, there is nothing nefarious about this result, as Movants imply. Oak River's estate has not been substantively consolidated with Liberty's estate. Unless and until it is shown that the substantive consolidation of both estates is an appropriate remedy, the simple reality is that the recoveries obtained by creditors of Oak River's estate will vary from the recoveries obtained by creditors of Liberty's estate.

Claimants assert that they are entitled to 10% interest on the amounts they invested. Claimants assert that they are entitled to prejudgment interest pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code §3288, which provides: "In an action for the breach of an obligation not arising from contract, and in every case of oppression, fraud, or malice, interest may be given, in the discretion of the jury."

The Court declines to award the prejudgment interest sought by the Claimants. Cal. Civ. Code §3288 applies to actions "for the breach of an obligation not arising from contract" (emphasis added). The statute does not apply to the instant claims, which arise from a contractual breach. See, e.g., Segura v. McBride, 5 Cal. App. 4th 1028, 1040, 7 Cal. Rptr. 2d 436, 444 (1992) ("Section 3288 provides for prejudgment interest in actions other than contract Segura's claim was for unliquidated damages on an action other than contract and, thus, comes within the purview of section 3288.").

Even if Cal. Civ. Code §3288 did apply, the Court would not exercise its discretion to award prejudgment interest. Awarding prejudgment interest would substantially increase Claimants' claims, thereby reducing the distribution from Oak River's estate to Liberty's estate. The effect would be to further reduce the recovery to Liberty's other creditors, who were also a victim of its fraudulent business practices.

Therefore, the portion of the claims based upon prejudgment interest is disallowed. Each claim shall be limited to the amount initially invested in connection with the Purchase and Sale Agreements. Accordingly, the Court finds that AHA holds a general unsecured claim in the amount of $720,000; that YCJS holds a general unsecured claim in the amount of $900,000; and that the Lee Investors hold a general unsecured claim in the amount of $900,000.

Claimants have filed identical claims against the Liberty and Oak River estates. Claimants seek payment from the Liberty estate only to the extent that funds in the Oak River estate will be insufficient to pay their claims in full. As discussed, each Purchase and Sale Agreement was entered into by "Liberty Asset Management Corporation and its respective parent or subsidiary companies and affiliates" Therefore, the Purchase and Sale Agreements are enforceable against both the Oak River estate and the Liberty estate. The Court finds that to the extent the Oak River estate does not contain funds sufficient to pay Claimants' claims in full, Claimants are entitled to assert a claim for the remaining unpaid amounts against the Liberty estate.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Claims Objections are GRANTED IN PART and DENIED IN PART. Claimants hold general unsecured claims against the Oak River estate in the following amounts:

- 4) AHA--$720,000
- 5) YCJS--$900,000
- 6) Lee Investors--$900,000

To the extent that the Oak River estate does not contain sufficient funds to pay Claimants' claims in full, Claimants hold general unsecured claims for the remaining unpaid amounts against the Liberty estate.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and Debtor-in-possession, Dwight Stephens (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary individual chapter 11 petition on March 21, 2018. Debtor presently seeks approval of his Disclosure Statement [Doc. No. 35]. The following provisions are the material provisions of Debtor's Plan [Doc. No. 36]:

- i. The Plan is a reorganizing plan. The Debtor proposes to fund the Plan with (a) pre- and post-confirmation employment and social security income; and (b) a one-time, $50,000, contribution from Debtor's non-filing spouse that will come from a reverse mortgage associated with real property located at 5337 S. Verdun Avenue, Los Angeles, CA (the "Verdun Property"). Debtor states that the Verdun Property is the separate property of his non-filing spouse because the funds used to acquire the Verdun Property were the separate property of his non-filing spouse. Debtor states that he has never been on title for the Verdun Property, but is a co-obligor on the ii. Debtor proposes a March 2019 effective date.

iii. Debtor anticipates having approximately $54,000 in cash on hand to pay $52,345 in anticipated effective date payments.

iv. Debtor proposes to repay priority tax claims in full with 5% interest over 24 months.

v. Class 2(a) consists of the unimpaired secured claim of Mr. Cooper, which holds a first-priority lien on the Property. Debtor and his non-filing spouse are currently making $1,041 monthly mortgage payments, but Debtor anticipates this payment will be reduced to $500/month after obtaining a reverse mortgage.

vi. Class 6(a) consists of general unsecured claims of $100 or less and any allowed general unsecured claim larger than $100, but whose holder agrees to reduce its claim to $100. Debtor proposes to pay each member of this class 100% of their claim on the effective date.

vii. Class 6(b) consists of the following remaining general unsecured claims:

(a) Benito Barbosa. Mr. Barbosa filed Proof of Claim 4-1 asserting an unsecured claim of $2,139,530.42 resulting from a pre-petition judgment. Debtor proposes to treat Mr. Barbosa's claim as an allowed general unsecured claim in that amount.

(b) Direct Capital Corporation ("DCC"). DCC filed Proof of Claim 2-1 (the "DCC Claim") asserting a priority claim in the amount of $97,111.83 pursuant to a recorded abstract of judgment. Debtor proposes to treat DCC's claim as wholly unsecured on the basis that Debtor has no estate property to which the abstract could attach.

(c) Spectrum Business ("SB"). SB has not filed a proof of claim. Debtor proposes to pay SB as an allowed general unsecured claimant in the amount of $615.

(d) University of Illinois ("UI"). UI has not filed a proof of claim. Debtor proposes to pay UI as an allowed general unsecured claimant in the amount of $350.

Debtor proposes to pay $93,250, or 4%, in pro-rata distributions to Class 6(b) over a five year period with no interest as follows: $50,000 (month 1); $500/mo (months 2-24); $900/mo (months 25-60). Debtor's liquidation analysis states that this distribution exceeds the 0% distribution general unsecured creditors would receive if the case were converted to a case under chapter 7.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 1125 requires a disclosure statement to contain "information of a kind, and in sufficient detail, as far as is reasonably practicable in light of the nature and history of the debtor and the condition of the debtor's books and records . . . that would enable. . . a hypothetical investor of the relevant class to make an informed judgment about the plan." In determining whether a disclosure statement provides adequate information, "the court shall consider the complexity of the case, the benefit of additional information to creditors and other parties in interest, and the cost of providing additional information." 11 U.S.C. § 1125(a).

Courts interpreting § 1125(a) have explained that the "primary purpose of a disclosure statement is to give the creditors the information they need to decide whether to accept the plan." In re Monnier Bros., 755 F.2d 1336, 1342 (8th Cir. 1985). "According to the legislative history, the parameters of what constitutes adequate information are intended to be flexible." In re Diversified Investors Fund XVII, 91 B.R. 559, 560 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1988). "Adequate information will be determined by the facts and circumstances of each case." Oneida Motor Freight, Inc. v. United Jersey Bank, 848 F.2d 414, 417 (3d Cir. 1988), accord. In re Ariz. Fast Foods, Inc., 299 B.R. 589 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2003).

Relevant factors for evaluating the adequacy of a disclosure statement may include: (1) the events which led to the filing of a bankruptcy petition; (2) a description of the available assets and their value; (3) the anticipated future of the company; (4) the source of information stated in the disclosure statement; (5) a disclaimer; (6) the present condition of the debtor while in Chapter 11; (7) the scheduled claims; (8) the estimated return to creditors under a Chapter 7 liquidation; (9) the accounting method utilized to produce financial information and the name of the accountants responsible for such information; (10) the future management of the debtor; (11) the Chapter 11 plan or a summary thereof; (12) the estimated administrative expenses, including attorneys' and accountants' fees; (13) the collectability of accounts receivable; (14) financial information, data, valuations or projections relevant to the creditors' decision to accept or reject the Chapter 11 plan; (15) information relevant to the risks posed to creditors under the plan; (16) the actual or projected realizable value from recovery of preferential or otherwise voidable transfers; (17) litigation likely to arise in a nonbankruptcy context; (18) tax attributes of the debtor; and (19) the relationship of the debtor with affiliates.

In re Metrocraft Pub. Services, Inc., 39 B.R. 567, 568 (Bankr. Ga. 1984). However, “[d]isclosure of all factors is not necessary in every case.” Id.

Here, there are a number of issues that require this Court to continue the hearing on approval of the adequacy of the Disclosure Statement. First, the Debtor states that the Verdun Property is not property of the estate because Debtor’s non-filing spouse used separate property funds to acquire the Verdun Property. However, the Debtor also states that he is a co-obligor on the mortgage, so it is conceivable that Debtor has a community property interest in the Verdun Property if his non-filing spouse and he have been using community property income to service the mortgage and make repairs.

If this is the case, then the Debtor’s liquidation analysis, which values the Debtor’s interest in the Verdun Property as $0.00 is incorrect and needs to be amended. If this is not the case, then the Disclosure Statement, Plan, and Debtor’s Schedules do not adequately explain how Mr. Cooper is a secured creditor of the Debtor’s estate or why the Debtor’s Plan proposes to treat Mr. Cooper as such. Any amended disclosure statement must clearly show why Debtor’s interest in the Verdun Property is $0.00.

Second, the Debtor states that the DCC Claim is not entitled to treatment as a secured creditor because the Debtor does not have any secured claim upon which DCC’s claim could attach. [Note 1] Accordingly, Debtor proposes to treat the DCC Claim as a general unsecured Class 6(b) claim. However, pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), “[a] claim or interest ... is deemed allowed, unless a part in interest ... objects.” Based upon a review of the docket, it appears that the Debtor has not filed an objection to the DCC Claim or otherwise indicated an intention to do so. Therefore, DCC currently holds a secured claim and, absent Debtor moving to reclassify the claim through a properly noticed claim objection motion, the Disclosure Statement and Plan need to be amended to reflect this.

Due to the sizeable amount of the DCC Claim, it appears appropriate to continue the hearing on consideration of the Disclosure Statement until after the extent and validity of the DCC Claim has been resolved. Therefore, the following dates and deadlines shall apply:

1. The Disclosure Statement Hearing is CONTINUED to January 16, 2019 at 10:00 a.m. No further briefing will be permitted. At the continued hearing, the Court will conduct a status conference to set a deadline for the Debtor to file an amended Disclosure Statement and Plan and to determine whether a further hearing is necessary.

2. The deadline for the Debtor to file an objection to the DCC Claim is December 14, 2018. If the Debtor elects to object to the DCC Claim, the Court will conduct a hearing on Debtor's Claim Objection on January 16, 2019 at 10:00 a.m. Opposition and reply deadlines will be in accordance with applicable local rules.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a scheduling order consistent with this ruling within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Jessica Vogel at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: For the same reasons as described above in connection with Mr. Cooper's claim, there is insufficient information for the Court to be able to assess the validity of Debtor's position.

Docket 56

Tentative Ruling:

12/3/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED and the case is DISMISSED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Motion to Dismiss Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 707(a)(3) for Failure to Produce Any Acceptable Documentation for Verification of Social Security Number [Doc. No. 56] (the "Motion")
2. Notice of Motion [Doc. No. 57]
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Oh Hyung Kim ("Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 7 case on March 23, 2018. Shortly thereafter, Carolyn A. Dye was appointed as Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee"). The Trustee now moves to dismiss this case pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 707(a)(3) based upon the Debtor's failure to present any acceptable documentation for verification of the Debtor's social security number. The Trustee states that she advised the Debtor and Debtor's counsel several times of the requirement to produce such documentation pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 521(h) and continued the 341(a) Meeting of Creditors a number of times to afford the Debtor an opportunity to comply. Notwithstanding, the Debtor has not complied.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

Chapter 7

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Pursuant to section 521(a)(3), a "debtor shall ... cooperate with the trustee as necessary to enable the trustee to perform the trustee's duties" Section 521(h) provides, in relevant part:

- If requested by the ... trustee, the debtor shall provide –
- (1) a document that establishes the identity of the debtor, including a driver's license, passport, or other documentation that contains a photograph of the debtor; or
 - (2) such other personal identifying information relating to the debtor that establishes the identity of the debtor.

11 U.S.C. § 521(h).

Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 4002(b)(1)(B) provides:

- (1) Personal Identification. Every individual debtor shall bring to the meeting of creditors under § 341:
 - ...
 - (B) evidence of social-security number(s), or a written statement that such documentation does not exist.

In this case, the Trustee seeks dismissal under 707(a)(3) on the grounds that the Debtor has failed to cooperate with the Trustee by failing to produce evidence verifying the Debtor's social security number. However, the Court notes that section 707(a)(3) is expressly limited to a motion by the United States Trustee. 11 U.S.C. § 707(a)(3) ("[t]he court may dismiss a case under this chapter ... but only on a motion by the United States Trustee"). Nevertheless, the Motion put the Debtor on notice of the possibility that the case would be dismissed for failure to comply with section 521. Therefore, the Court finds it appropriate to sua sponte treat the Motion as a request to dismiss under section 521(i). That section provides that, "notwithstanding section 707(a)," a party in interest may request dismissal for failure to comply with section 521. See 11 U.S.C. § 521(i)(2). [Note 1]

The Trustee has submitted sufficient evidence to find that the Debtor has failed to comply with sections 521(a)(3) and 521(h) and the Debtor has not responded with any evidence to controvert the Trustee's evidence or otherwise opposed dismissal of this case. For these reasons, the Trustee's Motion is GRANTED.

The Trustee shall lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Jessica Vogel at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: As alternative grounds for dismissal, the Court finds it appropriate to sua sponte treat the Motion as a request for relief as follows.

First, the Trustee has demonstrated cause to dismiss under section 707(a)(1) in light of the fact that (a) this is the Debtor's second case bankruptcy case and the Debtor filed this case only a day after the chapter 7 trustee in Debtor's prior case moved to set aside dismissal of that case (Case No. 2:18-bk-10687-ER); and (b) the Debtor has failed to cooperate with the Trustee by failing to produce a valid 2017 W-2 and to appear at the May 8, 2018, September 6, 2018, and September 19, 2018 341(a) Meeting of Creditors.

Second, the Trustee has presented sufficient evidence to dismiss this case under Local Bankruptcy Rule 1017-2(b) based upon (a) Debtor's failure to produce evidence validating his social security number, which this Court treats as a failure to appear at any 341(a) Meeting of Creditors (see In re Borsotti, 2017 Bankr. LEXIS 3112, at *9 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. Sep. 14 2017) ("It is appropriate for the Trustee to treat someone who fails to provide such ID as not having appeared at a 341(a) meeting.")); and (b) debtor's actual failure to appear at three 341(a) Meeting of Creditors.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and Debtor-in-possession, United International Mortgage Solutions, Inc. ("Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on September 12, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is a California corporation that owns, among others, a five-unit residential rental property located at 1258 N. Virgil Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90029

(the "Virgil Property"). The Virgil Property is encumbered by a first priority deed of trust in favor of Seterus, Inc. ("Seterus"), as agent for Federal National Mortgage Associate ("Fannie Mae") securing debt in the approximate amount of $882,106. The Virgil Property is also encumbered by a second priority deed of trust in favor of Errol Gordon ("Gordon") securing debt in the approximate amount of $50,000.

Debtor presently seeks authority to use Fannie Mae and Gordon's cash collateral consisting of $4,248.62 in monthly rental income as set forth in a proposed budget attached as Exhibit A to the Cash Collateral Motion. Debtor further requests authority to deviate from the proposed expenses set forth in the budget by 10% without the need for further Court order, provided that it does not pay any expenses outside of the approved categories. In support of its request, Debtor submits that Fannie Mae and Gordon's interests are adequately protected for purposes of section 363(c)(2) because the Debtor estimates the value of the Virgil Property to be $1,300,000, which leaves a sizeable equity cushion. Debtor also submits that its proposed use of cash collateral preserves the value of the Virgil Property and avoids irreparable harm that might result from its failure to pay property insurance, taxes, utilities and maintenance.

Fannie Mae and Seterus (together, the "Secured Creditor Parties") each filed objections to the Debtor's proposed use of Fannie Mae's cash collateral. Collectively, the Secured Creditor Parties object to the Debtor's line items relating to (i) property insurance and taxes on the basis that the loan is impounded for taxes and insurance; (ii) CPA for 2016 and 2017; (iii) MOR preparer; and (iv) UST fees. The Secured Creditor Parties also assert that Fannie Mae has not consented to the Debtor's use of its cash collateral and the Debtor has not demonstrated that Fannie Mae's interest is adequately protected. The Secured Creditor Parties state that the underlying loan obligation has been in default since 2010 and that Debtor admits that it has failed to make the first two post-petition mortgage payments. Furthermore, the Secured Creditor Parties highlight that Debtor's proposed monthly payments do not cover the minimum monthly payments required under the loan documents and raise a number of issues relating to a pending Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay with respect to the Virgil Property.

In reply, Debtor maintains its position that Fannie Mae is adequately protected by a 28.3% equity cushion but agrees to a slightly modified budget that removes line items for the CPA for 2016 and 2017 and the MOR preparer. However, Debtor objects to removing the line items for property insurance and taxes because Debtor asserts that it makes those payments directly to the service providers and therefore Fannie Mae should not also be making those payments.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of § 363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368-69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtor "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of § 363 – that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. 11 U.S.C. §§ 363(c)(2)(B), 363(e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365, 382 (1988). Section 361 sets forth three non-exclusive examples of what may constitute adequate protection: (1) periodic cash payments equivalent to decrease in value; (2) an additional or replacement lien on other property; or (3) other relief that provides the indubitable equivalent. See In re Mellor, 734 F.2d 1396, 1400 (9th Cir. 1984).

In this case, the Debtor has failed to present an appraisal setting forth the value of the Virgil Property in support its assertion that Fannie Mae is adequately protected by an equity cushion and instead relies on its own self-serving schedules. Conversely, Fannie Mae has presented evidence to show that the loan has been delinquent since 2010, that its foreclosure efforts have been thwarted by no less than eight bankruptcy filings claiming an interest in the Virgil Property, and that the Debtor has failed to make post-petition payments. See Doc. No. 35, Ex. 1 & 2 and Doc. No. 26. On this record, the Court finds that Fannie Mae is not adequately protected.

Additionally, for the reasons set forth in this Court's concurrently issued tentative ruling on Fannie Mae's motion for relief from the automatic stay, the Court finds it appropriate to grant relief from stay to allow Fannie Mae to proceed with foreclosure. In doing so, the Court finds that the Virgil Property is not necessary for reorganization, which provides a further basis for denying the Cash Collateral Motion.

For the reason set forth above, the Cash Collateral Motion is DENIED.

Fannie Mae is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order within 7 days of the hearing, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

Sandra McBeth ("McBeth") is the vice president and 40% shareholder of the Debtor.

Motion

Seterus acting as agent for Fannie Mae (together, the "Movants") seek relief from the automatic stay with respect to the Virgil Property pursuant to §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(4). Movants assert that cause exists to grant them relief from stay under § 362(d)(1) because this bankruptcy case was filed in bad faith and other bankruptcy cases have been filed in which an interest in the Virgil Property was asserted.

Movants also asserts that cause exists to grant in rem relief from stay under § 362(d)(4) because the Debtor's filing of the bankruptcy petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, or defraud creditors that involved (i) the transfer of all or part ownership of, or other interest in, the Virgil Property without the consent of Movants or court approval; and (ii) multiple bankruptcy cases affecting the Virgil Property. Movants state that on October 25, 2018, Movants obtained an order granting in rem relief under § 362(d)(4) with respect to the Virgil Property in McBeth's bankruptcy case (Case No. 2:18-bk-17700-SK). RJN, Exhibit 1. Movants assert that the merits of Movants' interest in the Virgil Property and entitlement to relief from stay has already been established in McBeth's bankruptcy case and that the findings and conclusions made in that case have res judicata effect in this case. RJN, Exhibits 2-4. Movants also identify the following additional bankruptcy cases affecting the Virgil Property: (i) Sandra K. Reynolds (Case No. 2:11-bk-43451-TD); (ii) United Int'l Mortg. Solutions aka Sandra McBeth (Case No. 2:12-bk-10130-TD); and (iii) Sandra McBeth (Case No. 2:14-bk-33759-VZ).

Opposition

Debtor opposes the Motion. With respect to Movants' request for relief under section 362(d)(1), Debtor contends that Movants have failed to present evidence sufficient to warrant relief. First, Debtor objects to the Declaration of Shanell McBride (the "McBride Decl.") on the basis that it contains errors and appears to be an old declaration that has been reused. Next, Debtor refutes Movants' contention that this case was filed in bad faith. Debtor concedes that McBeth is the sole borrower on the loan and that she transferred her interest in the Virgil Property to the Debtor in 2011. Debtor also does not dispute that McBeth has previously filed for bankruptcy. However, Debtor states that it filed this case to address the defaulted loans and liens secured by the Virgil Property and to reorganize its affairs. Debtor states it has existed since 2008 and was not created for the sole purpose of this bankruptcy filing. Debtor also states that McBeth's transfer of the Virgil Property to the Debtor was for the legitimate purpose of shielding McBeth from personal liability. Therefore, Debtor requests the Court deny the Motion under section 362(d)(1).

With respect to Movants' request for relief under section 362(d)(4), the Debtor again concedes that McBeth has previously filed for bankruptcy and that she transferred her interest in the Virgil Property to the Debtor. However, Debtor again highlights that the facts do not support a finding that these things were done to facilitate this bankruptcy filing and to hinder, delay or defraud Movants. Rather, Debtor asserts that there is no scheme and Debtor intends to reorganize its debts in the form of payment of all debts in full. Debtor asserts that Movant has not presented any evidence to show that the Debtor was involved in any scheme to delay, hinder or defraud creditors. Therefore, Debtor requests the Court deny the Motion under section 362(d)(4).

Debtor also contends that it is not barred by the doctrine of res judicata from relitigating these issues in this case because this case was filed before Movants' obtained an in rem relief from stay order in McBeth's individual case and Movant did not seek annulment.

Reply

Movants contend that res judicata does apply to this proceeding because it involves identical issues, the matter was finally decided in McBeth's case, and there is privity between McBeth and the Debtor.

With respect to Debtor's contention that Movants' have failed to demonstrate how the Debtor's acts have hindered or delayed creditors, Movants assert that their evidence supports such a finding. Movants state that on August 23, 2011, a Notice of Default was recorded with respect to the Virgil Property (SRJN, Ex.1) and that shortly thereafter, on September 6, 2011, McBeth transferred her interest in the Virgil Property to the Debtor (SRJN, Ex. 2). Further, Movants state that shortly before the scheduled foreclosure sale was set to take place, Debtor filed a prior chapter 7 bankruptcy petition which succeeded in delaying the foreclosure sale (SRJN, Ex. 2, 3, 4).

Movants state that McBeth and the Debtor have filed a combined total of at least eight bankruptcy cases between 2008 and 2017 that have affected the Virgil Property. Movants also assert that Debtor previously transferred a fractional 10% interest in the Virgil Property to Kenyatta Monifa who file a bankruptcy petition on the same day and that an individual named Walter Wallace filed for bankruptcy in 2018 and claimed an interest in the Virgil Property (SRJN, Ex. 5, 6, 7). Movant highlights that McBeth has been prohibited from filing chapter 11 cases without the consent of the Court and contends that McBeth has used the Debtor and other individuals to facilitate a scheme to delay, hinder and defraud Movants' attempts to foreclose (SRJN, Ex. 8).

Finally, Movants highlight that McBeth has been delinquent on her loan since February 2010, having not made a single payment, and that Debtor has already missed two post-petition monthly mortgage payments. Accordingly, Movants submit that they have presented ample evidence to warrant this Court granting relief from stay under sections 362(d)(1) and (d)(4).

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that the parties dispute whether res judicata prevents the Debtor from re-litigating these issues in this case. However, as explained below, because the Court finds there is ample evidence in the record to find that Movants have satisfied their burden under section 362(d)(4), the Court need not determine this issue as it will not change the outcome.

Request for Judicial Notice

The Court grants Movants' request and takes judicial notice of RJN, Exhibit 1 and SRJN, Exhibits 1-8.

(B) multiple bankruptcy filings affecting such real property.

11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(4).

The record supports granting relief under section 362(d)(4). First, the Court finds that the Debtor's bankruptcy filing was part of a scheme to delay, hinder or defraud creditors. Movants have presented evidence to show that as early as 2011, McBeth has been in default of her loan obligations with respect to the Virgil Property (SRJN, Ex. 1) and that since that time, McBeth, the Debtor, and other individuals have filed no less than nine bankruptcy cases affecting the Virgil Property. [Note 1] The evidence also shows that there have been at least two transfers of all or part ownership of the Virgil Property without Movants' consent (SRJN, Ex. 2, 5). The Court also finds that under McBeth's apparent control, the Debtor has used this bankruptcy filing to further this scheme.

Next, the Court finds that the object of the scheme is to delay and hinder Movants' ability to foreclose on the Virgil Property and that McBeth and the Debtor have succeeded in forestalling the foreclosure process for over seven years.

Finally, for the reasons set forth above, the Court finds that the scheme satisfies both sections of 362(d)(4)(A) and (B) because the evidence shows that there have been two transfers without Movants' consent and nine bankruptcy filings affecting the Virgil Property.

The Court is not persuaded by the Debtor's contentions that McBeth's transfer of the Virgil Property was for a legitimate purpose or that this bankruptcy case was filed with the good faith intention of reorganizing. Instead, Movants' evidence reveals that McBeth transferred the Virgil Property without Movants' consent and on the eve of a trustee's sale and that since such transfer, McBeth and the Debtor have filed successive bankruptcy petitions to thwart Movants' foreclosure efforts.

Movants Are Entitled to Relief from Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1)

Section 362(d)(1) directs the court to grant relief from the automatic stay upon a showing of "cause." In re Mense, 509 B.R. 269, 277-78 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2014) (citing 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1)). "What constitutes 'cause' for granting relief from the automatic stay is decided on a case-by-case basis." Id. (internal citations omitted).

Movants have requested that this Court find that the petition was filed in bad faith with respect to the Virgil Property. Debtor argues that the case was not filed in bad faith because the Virgil Property was not transferred to the Debtor immediately before it filed for bankruptcy, there is significant equity in the Virgil Property, and the Debtor intends to pay all debts in full through a plan of reorganization. Movants counter that the Debtor previously filed bankruptcy only days after McBeth transferred the Virgil Property to the Debtor and that McBeth, the Debtor, and third parties have successfully delayed Movants' ability to foreclose for nearly seven years through a series of multiple bankruptcy filings. Movants also contend that Debtor's bad faith is evidenced by its failure to make post-petition payments to Movants as required by applicable loan documents.

The Court finds that the Debtor has acted in bad faith with respect to the Virgil Property. In addition to the findings above, based upon this Court's review of the prior bankruptcy cases, it appears that almost all were dismissed shortly after being filed and no legitimate efforts to reorganize were undertaken. In this case, the Debtor's failure to make post-petition mortgage payments suggests that the Debtor's true intention in filing this case is to further delay and hinder Movants' ability to foreclose on the Virgil Property. Furthermore, as set forth in the Court's concurrently issued tentative ruling on Debtor's Motion for Authority to Use Movants' Cash Collateral with respect to the Virgil Property, the Debtor has failed to demonstrate that Movants' interest is adequately protected to warrant authorization of its use of cash collateral. This provides another basis to find that this case was not filed in good faith with respect to the Virgil Property.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons stated above, the Motion is GRANTED under sections 362(d)(1) and (d)(4). Movants' request for in rem relief is granted. If the order granting relief from stay is recorded in compliance with applicable state laws governing notices of interest or liens in real property, the order shall be binding in any other case under this title purporting to affect the Virgil Property filed not later than 2 years after the date of the entry of the order by the court, except that a debtor in a subsequent case under this title may move for relief from the order based upon changed circumstances or for good cause shown, after notice and a hearing. All other relief is denied.

Movants are directed to submit a proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Jessica Vogel at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Note 1: Based upon this Court's review of Movants' evidence and a search of McBeth's social security number, it appears McBeth or related entities/individuals have filed the following bankruptcy cases affecting the Virgil Property: (1) *In re Sandra K. I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background

Anne Lan Peterson (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on December 14, 2011. On April 16, 2012, the Debtor received a discharge, and on April 30, 2012, the Debtor's case was closed as a "no asset" case. Bankr. Doc. Nos. 18 and 20.

The Debtor was married to Ronald Peterson ("Ronald") [Note 1] from 1997 to 2010. Divorce proceedings between the Debtor and Ronald have been lengthy and contentious. In an apparent attempt to gain a tactical advantage in the divorce litigation, Ronald notified the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") of undisclosed assets, and the Debtor's case was reopened.

On October 19, 2017, the Trustee initiated a Complaint against Ronald and two LLCs—Maitreya, LLC, a Nevada LLC ("Maitreya Nevada") and Maitreya, LLC, an Arizona LLC ("Maitreya Arizona") (Ronald, Maitreya Nevada, and Maitreya Arizona collectively, the "Defendants"). The Complaint sought a declaration that real property located at 359 W. Langston Street, Upland, California 91786 (the "Property") is community property of the Debtor and Ronald, and therefore property of the estate pursuant to §541(a)(2). The Complaint sought turnover of the Property, avoidance of the post-petition transfer of the Property to Maitreya Arizona, and dissolution of Maitreya Nevada pursuant to Nevada Revised Statute §86.495, on the grounds that the Trustee, as the sole owner, is entitled to liquidate Maitreya Nevada.

On June 14, 2018, the Court entered final judgment (the "Judgment") in favor of the Trustee, and against the Defendants, on the Trustee's first, third, and fifth claims for relief. Among other things, the Judgment provided that the Property is "community property of the Debtor and Ronald," and further provided that the Property is "property of the Debtor's bankruptcy estate under 11 U.S.C. §541(a)(2)

...." Judgment at ¶¶2–3. The Judgment ordered Defendants to turnover the Property to the Trustee by no later than July 6, 2018, at 5:00 p.m. Defendants failed to comply with the Court's order and did not turnover the Property by the July 6 deadline.

On July 12, 2018, the Court denied Defendants' motion for reconsideration of the Judgment (the "Motion for Reconsideration"). In the Motion for Reconsideration, Defendants asserted that the only claims filed in the Debtor's bankruptcy case were on account of debts the Debtor incurred after she separated from Ronald. Defendants maintained that as a result, the claims are not payable from property of the estate because they do not qualify as "community claims" within the meaning of §101(7). Defendants' theory was that the absence of any creditors entitled to receive a distribution from the estate precluded the Trustee from administering estate property. In denying the Motion for Reconsideration, the Court noted that Defendants had been provided an opportunity to present their arguments before the Court entered the Judgment, but had failed to do so. Observing that Defendants had offered no explanation whatsoever for their failure to timely raise these arguments, the Court determined that the "extraordinary circumstances" necessary to support reconsideration were not present. See Zurich Am. Ins. Co. v. Int'l Fibercom, Inc. (In re Int'l Fibercom, Inc.), 503 F.3d 933, 941 (9th Cir. 2007). Defendants have appealed the denial of the Motion to Reconsideration to the District Court.

Concurrently with the denial of the Motion for Reconsideration, the Court directed the Clerk of the Court to issue a Writ of Possession, authorizing the United States Marshal (the "U.S. Marshal") to enforce the Judgment by placing the Trustee in possession of the Property. On August 10, 2018, the U.S. Marshal evicted Ronald, his fiancée, and their two children from the Property.

On July 26, 2018, Ronald appealed the Court's denial of his Motion to Reconsideration to the District Court. On November 16, 2018, the District Court dismissed Ronald's appeal with prejudice for failure to prosecute.

On August 16, 2018, the Court overruled Ronald's objections to Proofs of Claim filed by Shaco, Inc. ("Shaco") and Kathy K. Settle ("Ms. Settle"). The Court found that Ronald's claim objections were an improper attempt to gain a litigation advantage in the adversary proceeding brought by the Trustee:

In his Claim Objections, Ronald asserts that the claims do not qualify as "community claims" and therefore may not be paid from the estate's community property. The estate's primary community property asset is the Property. As discussed above, Ronald has vigorously contested the Trustee's attempts to enforce the Judgment and gain possession of the Property. Ronald's objective in prosecuting the Claim Objections is to prevent the Trustee from enforcing the Judgment.

Ronald raised the arguments he asserts now in his motion for Reconsideration of the Judgment. In denying Ronald's Motion for Reconsideration, the Court found that Ronald had failed to show that "extraordinary circumstances" excused his failure to timely raise his arguments regarding the allowability of the claims. See Zurich Am. Ins. Co. v. Int'l Fibercom, Inc. (In re Int'l Fibercom, Inc.), 503 F.3d 933, 941 (9th Cir. 2007). Based upon this finding, the Court refused to consider the arguments. Ronald cannot procedurally circumvent the Court's determination by now seeking to present these identical arguments in a different context.

The Court declines to find that Ronald lacks standing to object to the claims. It would be more precise to say that the Ronald has interposed the Claim Objections for the improper purpose of attempting to escape the consequences of his failure to timely raise the arguments he now presents. Had Ronald timely raised these arguments in opposition to the Trustee's motion for summary judgment, they would have been properly before the Court. But raising the arguments now—after the Court's express determination that the arguments would not be considered because they were untimely—is not proper.

Final Ruling Overruling Objection to Claim Number 2 [Doc. No. 81, Case No. 2:11-bk-60846-ER] at 4–5. [Note 2]

The Court went on to find that even had Ronald's claim objections been properly before it, the objections lacked merit. With respect to Ronald's argument that the Trustee was barred from administering any of the estate's community property because there were no creditors eligible to receive a distribution from such property, the Court stated:

Where an estate includes community property, distribution of such property is governed by §726(c). Section 726(c) provides a framework for the distribution of community property to holders of community claims.

A "community claim" is a "claim that arose before the commencement of the case concerning the debtor for which property of the kind specified in section 541(a)(2) is liable [community property of the estate], whether or not there is any such property at the time of the commencement of the case." § 101(7).

"The Bankruptcy Code's distribution scheme regarding community property is generally intended to parallel state law." In re Cohen, 522 B.R. 232, 240 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2014). California Family Code §910(a) provides that "the community estate is liable for a debt incurred by either spouse before or during marriage, regardless of which spouse has the management and control of the property and regardless of whether one or both spouses are parties to the debt or to a judgment for the debt." For purposes of §910(a), "during marriage" does not include the period after the parties are separated.

The Court assumes without deciding that the indebtedness asserted by the claimants was incurred by the Debtor after she separated from Ronald. As such, the claims would not constitute community claims.

To provide for the distribution of community property, §726(c) creates four "sub-estates," described in §726(c)(A), (B), (C), and (D). Only holders of community claims are eligible to receive a distribution from sub-estates (A), (B), and (D). However, sub-estate (C) provides for a distribution to holders of all claims against the Debtor, provided that such distribution is not from the estate's community property.

The distribution contemplated by the Trustee is consistent with the § 726(c). First, the Trustee will liquidate the Property, the estate's primary community asset. Once the Property has been liquidated, costs of administration will be paid from cash on hand. Subsequent to the payment of costs of administration, the remaining funds will be divided in half, with one half allocable to the Debtor, and the other allocable to Ronald. Once the remaining funds have been divided, the Debtor's share of such funds will no longer constitute community property. Instead, such funds will be property of the estate liable for separate property claims against the Debtor—such as the claims asserted by Shaco and Settle (provided that such claims are in fact properly characterized as separate property claims). Such funds may be distributed to the claimants pursuant to §726(c)(2)(C).

Faced with similar facts, this was exactly the result reached by the court in In re Herrera, No. AP 16-90131-MM, 2017 WL 5473768, at *10 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. Nov. 13, 2017), aff'd sub nom. Herrera v. Pons, No. 17-CV-2392-GPC-NLS, 2018 WL 2229369 (S.D. Cal. May 16, 2018). The Herrera court found that proceeds of a community property asset could be distributed to pay the

B. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Trustee's Sale Motion

The Trustee moves to sell the Property, free and clear of liens, claims, and interests, pursuant to §363(f). The proposed purchasers are Joe Miclat and Christina Criss. The proposed sale price is $580,000, and the sale is subject to overbids.

The Trustee has filed an interim fee application and a motion seeking authorization to pay administrative expenses from the sale proceeds of the Property. Hearings on both matters are set for December 18, 2018.

Ronald opposes the Sale Motion. He asserts that 50% of the sales proceeds must be paid to him directly from escrow. In support of this contention, Ronald makes essentially the same argument that he raised in the Claim Objections and the Motion for Reconsideration. That is, Ronald contends that he has no liability for the two claims that have been filed in this case, because they are not community claims, and that consequently, he is entitled to immediately receive 50% of the Property's sales proceeds. Ronald further asserts that he holds a $100,000 homestead exemption in the Property which should be paid from the sales proceeds. He also contends that the Trustee cannot sell his purported co-ownership interest in the Property under §363(h) because the Trustee has not shown that the benefit to the estate of a sale outweighs the detriment to him.

In reply to Ronald's opposition, the Trustee asserts that the his proposed distribution of the Property's sales proceeds is not properly before the Court, but that the contemplated distribution is consistent with the priority scheme set forth in § 726(c). The Trustee contends that Ronald has not actually claimed a homestead exemption in accordance with the procedural requirements of the Bankruptcy Rules and Bankruptcy Code. The Trustee reserves the right to object to any homestead exemption that Ronald may assert in the future. Finally, the Trustee argues that Ronald's arguments under §363(h) are irrelevant, because §363(h) does not apply to the sale of community property assets of the estate.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. Ronald's Objections Are Overruled

Ronald asserts multiple objections to the Sale Motion, none of which have merit. For the reasons explained below, all of Ronald's objections are overruled.

First, Ronald asserts that the Trustee cannot sell his purported co-ownership interest in the Property under §363(h) because the Trustee has not shown that the benefit to the estate of a sale outweighs the detriment to him.

Under §363(h), the Trustee is authorized to "sell both the estate's interest ... and the interest of any co-owner in property in which the debtor had, at the time of the commencement of the case, an undivided interest as a tenant in common, joint tenant, or tenant by the entirety," if the Trustee meets certain requirements.

By its terms, §363(h) applies only to situations in which the estate and a co-owner hold an undivided interest in Property which the Trustee seeks to sell. It does not apply to the instant case, because the Property is property of the estate in its entirety. The Court has found that the Property is "community property of the Debtor and Ronald" and that the Property is "property of the Debtor's bankruptcy estate under 11 U.S.C. §541(a)(2)" Judgment at ¶¶2-3. Ronald's appeal of these findings has been dismissed for failure to prosecute.

Ronald's arguments with respect to §363(h) are not well taken. Ronald retained new counsel on October 15, 2018. See Substitution of Attorney [Doc. No. 144, Case No. 2:17-ap-01505-ER]. Had counsel conducted even a cursory review of the docket, he would have discovered the Judgment, which establishes unequivocally that the sale of the Property is not subject to §363(h).

Second, Ronald points to §365(j) in support of his objection to the Trustee's contemplated distribution of the sales proceeds, and in support of his demand to be paid 50% of the proceeds directly from escrow. Section 365(j) applies to sales of Property under §365(g) or (h). It does not apply to the instant sale, because the Trustee is not selling the Property under either of those subsections. Further, the Trustee has set for hearing a motion seeking authorization to disburse some of the Property's sale proceeds to pay administrative expenses. Ronald's objections are properly asserted in connection with the hearing on that motion, rather than in connection with this hearing.

Third, Ronald contends that he must be paid 50% of the sales proceeds directly from escrow because he holds a $100,000 homestead exemption in the Property. It is not procedurally proper for Ronald to assert his alleged entitlement to a homestead exemption in this context. The Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rules contain detailed procedures setting forth the manner in which a homestead exemption in community property may be asserted by a non-debtor such as Ronald. See §522(l) (authorizing a dependent of the debtor to claim property as exempt if the debtor fails to do so); see also Michael G. D’Alba, Non-Filing Spouses, Homestead Exemptions, and Voidable Transactions, 34 Cal. Bankr. J. 77 (2017); see also Burman v. Homan (In re Homan), 112 B.R. 356 (BAP 9th Cir. 1989) (discussing circumstances under which a non-debtor spouse may claim a homestead exemption in community property). In certain instances, a non-debtor spouse such as Ronald is not permitted to claim an exemption in community property. See Homan, 112 B.R. at 359 (“The conclusion that [non-Debtor] Carolyn is bound by [Debtor] Daniel’s failure to file a homestead exemption in the Island Property is not subject to modification under the provision of the Bankruptcy Code which permits a nondebtor spouse to declare exemptions as a dependent of a debtor spouse. 11 U.S.C. § 522(a)(1) and § 522(l). Where a debtor files a list of property exemptions claimed under federal law, even an incomplete list, nothing in the language or legislative history of Section 522(l) suggests that nondebtor dependents may supplement this list with state exemptions or further federal exemptions.”). If and when Ronald properly asserts an exemption in the Property, the Court will determine whether Ronald is entitled to claim an exemption, and if so, whether the exemption is valid.

Fourth, Ronald challenges the Trustee’s contemplated distribution of the Property’s sales proceeds. Ronald argues that the Trustee is not authorized to first pay the estate’s administrative expenses from the proceeds before distributing to Ronald his alleged 50% share of those proceeds. Because the Trustee has filed a separate motion seeking approval of his contemplated distribution of the proceeds, the Court declines to consider Ronald’s argument at this time. However, it is important to note that throughout this case, the Trustee has consistently explained his intent regarding the distribution of estate assets. In connection with Ronald’s Claim Objections, the Court conducted a preliminary analysis of the propriety of the Trustee’s proposed distribution (see Section I.A., above). While the Court makes no final ruling at this time, the Court’s examination of the proposed distribution (set forth in Section I.A., above), shows that it is consistent with §726(c).

course of business, subject to court approval. The Trustee must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20.

Pursuant to §704(a), the Trustee has an obligation to "collect and reduce to money the property of the estate for which such trustee serves," and to "close such estate as expeditiously as is compatible with the best interests of parties in interest." The sale is consistent with the Trustee's fiduciary obligation to creditors to liquidate the estate's property.

Pursuant to §363(f), the Trustee is authorized to sell the Property free and clear of all liens, claims, and interests, which include (without limitation) the following:

- 1) Any right, claim, lien, or interest asserted by Maitreya LLC ("Maitreya"). Maitreya's right, claim, lien, or interest (if any) was extinguished by the Judgment.
- 2) Any lien arising from the Debtor's recordation of an Abstract of Support Judgment issued by the Family Court (the "Support Lien"). To the extent the Support Lien purports to secure a right to payment from the estate (as opposed to a right to payment from Ronald), such lien is void as a violation of the automatic stay.
- 3) The Deed of Trust securing indebtedness in the original amount of $224,534.00, originally issued by Wells Fargo Home Mortgage. This indebtedness has been paid in full, as reflected by a reconveyance recorded on January 27, 2017.
- 4) Tax liens for real property taxes recorded by San Bernardino County. To the extent property taxes are not current, they will be paid through escrow.
- 5) Any rights, claims, liens, or interests asserted by Ronald. The Court will determine at a later date whether Ronald is entitled to a right to payment from any surplus community funds pursuant to §726(c).
- 6) The Notice of Pendency of Action (the "Lis Pendens") recorded by the Trustee in connection with the adversary proceeding. The Lis Pendens has been superseded by the Judgment.

Having reviewed the declarations submitted by Lisa Ta, the Trustee's real estate broker, and the proposed purchasers, Joe Miclat and Christina Criss Agnes, the Court finds that the sale transaction was negotiated at arms-length and in good-faith, and that the proposed purchasers are entitled to the protections of §363(m). In the event that an overbidder prevails at the auction, the Court will take testimony at the hearing to determine whether such overbidder is entitled to the protections of §363(m).

The Trustee is authorized to pay the real estate broker a 6% commission directly from escrow. The Trustee is authorized, at his discretion, to pay from escrow any other closing costs. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 6004(f)(2), the Trustee is authorized to execute all documents necessary to consummate the sale. Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h), the order approving the sale shall take effect immediately upon entry.

C. Auction Procedures

The Court will distribute numbered auction paddles to the proposed purchaser and all qualified overbidders. The initial overbid will be $590,000, with subsequent overbids to be increments of $5,000. The overbid increment is subject to adjustment by the Court to facilitate bidding. The Court will announce each bid level. To remain in the auction, bidders must participate at all bid levels. That is, parties who do not bid in a round cannot later change their minds and re-enter the auction. Parties may make a bid higher than that announced by the Court by approaching the podium and stating their bid.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, Ronald's objections to the Sale Motion are OVERRULED, and the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

IV. Evidentiary Rulings

The Trustee objections to those portions of Ronald's testimony which contain legal argument and legal conclusions. Specifically, Ronald testifies that he is the co-owner of the Property; that as a co-owner, he holds a homestead exemption; and that he is not liable for claims filed against the Debtor because they are post-separation debts rather than community property claims. The Court construes this testimony only as legal argument, not as evidence.

Ronald testifies regarding the harmful effects that the eviction from the Property has had on his business and family. The Trustee's objection to this testimony as irrelevant is SUSTAINED. The issue before the Court is the appropriateness of the sale, not the merits of the Court's order directing the U.S. Marshal to enforce the Judgement by evicting Ronald from the Property.

Docket 815

Tentative Ruling:

12/4/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Entry of an Order to Authorize Debtors to Refund Prepetition Patient Deposits and Overpayments [Doc. No. 815] (the "Motion")
 - a) Declaration of Service by Kurtzman Carson Consultants, LLC Regarding Docket Numbers 811 and 815 [Doc. No. 861]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018, Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

The Debtors seek authorization to establish a Patient Refund Program, under which the Debtors would be authorized (but not required) to refund prepetition deposits up to a cap of $1 million. Funds for payments to be made under the Patient Refund Program will be allocated from the budget of the Debtors' Debtor in Possession financing with Ally Bank. The Program is necessary because patients at the Debtors' hospitals frequently pre-pay for procedures based on estimates (each such payment, a "Deposit"). Once the bill is finalized, the amount owed by the patient is sometimes less than the original estimate, requiring a refund.

Approximately 7,500 patients would be eligible to receive refunds under the contemplated Patient Refund Program. The Debtors estimate that the Deposits owed to 99% of these patients are below the $2,850 deposit priority cap of §507(a)(7). The vast majority of the Deposits are refunds of co-payments made by patients in advance of future services that ultimately cost less than the co-payment.

The Patient Refund Program is supported by Ally Bank, the DIP Lender. The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors has no objection to the Motion. The Committee has reached an agreement with the Debtors, pursuant to which the Debtors will provide weekly reporting to the Committee regarding the Patient Refund Program.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. Section 507(a)(7) accords seventh-priority status to "allowed unsecured claims of individuals, to the extent of $2,850 for each such individual, arising from the deposit, before the commencement of the case, of money in connection with the ... purchase of services, for the personal, family, or household use of such individuals, that were not delivered or provided." The vast majority of payments to be made under the Patient Refund Program are below the § 507(a)(7) priority cap. The payment of such priority claims outside the context of a Chapter 11 Plan is appropriate, because any confirmed Plan would be required to pay priority claims pursuant to §1129(a)(9)(B).

To the extent that payments exceed the §507(a)(7) priority cap, such payments are justified because the Patient Refund Program preserves the going-concern value of the estates by maintaining patient satisfaction. Absent the Patient Refund Program, patients would not receive timely refunds of overpayments. Such patients—many of whom are low income—would likely become dissatisfied with the Debtors and might subsequently choose to receive healthcare at other hospitals. Such a decrease in business would reduce the sales price the Debtors would receive for their hospitals, and/or make any reorganization more difficult.

Cognizant of the importance of maintaining the Debtors' going-concern value, the Court has previously authorized the Debtors to establish a program under which certain Critical Vendors would receive payments on account of prepetition claims (the “Critical Vendors Program”). See Final Order Granting Debtors’ Emergency Motion for Entry of an Order Authorizing Debtors to Honor Prepetition Obligations to Critical Vendors [Doc. No. 436] and Final Ruling Granting Debtors Emergency Motion for Entry of an Order Authorizing Debtors to Honor Prepetition Obligations to Critical Vendors [Doc. No. 386]. The Court finds that the Patient Refund Program, like the Critical Vendors Program, is necessary to preserve the going-concern value of the Debtors’ assets so that the Debtors can receive the maximum sale price if and when such assets are sold.

The Court notes that in dicta, the Supreme Court has recently recognized that Bankruptcy Courts have authorized programs permitting debtors to pay prepetition claims outside the context of a Plan. In Czyzewski v. Jevic Holding Corp., 137 S. Ct. 973, 985, 197 L. Ed. 2d 398 (2017), the Supreme Court noted that Bankruptcy Courts routinely authorize “critical vendor” orders that allow payment of an essential suppliers’ prepetition invoices.” The court reasoned that such critical vendor orders were necessary to “enable a successful reorganization and make even the disfavored creditors better off.” Id.

In the context of a cross-collateralization clause, the Ninth Circuit has recognized that “[c]ases have permitted unequal treatment of pre-petition debts when necessary for rehabilitation, in such contexts as (i) pre-petition wages to key employees; (ii) hospital malpractice premiums incurred prior to filing; (iii) debts to providers of unique and irreplaceable supplies; and (iv) peripheral benefits under labor contracts.” Burchinal v. Central Wash. Bank (In re Adams Apple, Inc.), 829 F.2d 1484, 1490 (9th Cir. 1987).

Other Bankruptcy Courts have recognized that programs similar to the Patient Refund Program are necessary to preserve goodwill and going-concern value:

There are occasions when [the Debtor in Possession’s duty to operate its business for the benefit of creditors] can only be fulfilled by the preplan satisfaction of a prepetition claim.... Another category of prepetition claims which must be dealt with is the prepetition warranty or refund claims of consumer customers which, if not honored, could so harm the debtor's good will as to destroy its going concern value (like employees, the bankruptcy court cannot force consumers to deal with the debtor, nor is there a practical alternative to satisfying warranty or refund claims). Rental deposits and other claims that arise prepetition but come due post petition may require payment to avoid sanctions under state law as well as loss of good will.... It may be that payment of a prepetition unsecured claim is the only means to effect a substantial enhancement of the estate, and here, too, payment would be justified.

Docket 15

Tentative Ruling:

12/6/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

12/6/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). Debtor filed a response indicating that he does not oppose the granting of the Motion (Doc. No. 11).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

#4.00 HearingRE: [18] Notice of motion and motion for relief from automatic stay with supporting declarations ACTION IN NON-BANKRUPTCY FORUM RE: .

Docket 18

Tentative Ruling:

12/6/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Action in Nonbankruptcy Forum) (Doc. No. 18) (the "R/S Motion")
2. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Nicholas Mondale Greer ("Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 7 case on September 18, 2018. State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company ("Movant") seeks relief from the automatic stay pursuant to § 362(d)(1) to proceed to final judgment in the nonbankruptcy action captioned State Farm Mutual Auto. Ins. Co. v. Nicholas Greer (Case No. 30-2018-00997106-CU-UC-CJC) pending in the Orange County Superior Court of California (the "State Court Action"). Movant commenced the State Court Action on June 5, 2018 by filing a complaint for subrogation recovery. Trial is scheduled to begin February 14, 2019.

Movant asserts that cause exists to grant stay relief because Movant seeks recovery only from applicable insurance, if any, and waives any deficiency or other claim against the Debtor or property of the Debtor's bankruptcy estate.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

Chapter 7

Section 362(d)(1) permits a bankruptcy court to grant relief from the automatic stay upon a showing of "cause." Cause is a flexible concept and courts often conduct a fact intensive, case-by-case balancing test, examining the totality of the circumstances to determine whether sufficient cause exists to lift the stay. In re SCO Grp., Inc., 395 B.R. 852, 856 (Bankr. D. Del. 2007) (citing Baldino v. Wilson (In re Wilson), 116 F.3d 87, 90 (3d Cir. 1997); In re Laguna Assocs. Ltd., 30 F.3d 734, 737 (7th Cir. 1994)); In re MacDonald, 755 F.2d 715, 717 (9th Cir. 1985). "Among factors appropriate to consider in determining whether relief from the automatic stay should be granted to allow state court proceedings to continue are considerations of judicial economy and the expertise of the state court." In re Kronemyer, 405 B.R. 915, 921 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2009) (citing In re MacDonald, 755 F.2d 715, 717 (9th Cir. 1985)).

Here, the Court finds that the State Court Action involves nonbankruptcy law and is within the expertise of the state court. Allowing the Movant to continue the State Court Action will best promote the judicial economy by adjudicating a final judgment as to the underlying claims that may either support or negate the filing of a proof of claim and/or an adversary complaint.

Based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Motion pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit the Movant to proceed under applicable nonbankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the nonbankruptcy forum, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtors or estate property. The Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim or any other claim against the Debtors or property of the estate, except that the Movant will retain the right to file a proof of claim and/or an adversary complaint under §§ 523 or 727 (to the extent applicable). The order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code.

All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload a conforming order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Jessica Vogel

#5.00 HearingRE: [16] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations UNLAWFUL DETAINER RE: 200 S. Olive Street #1710, Los Angeles, CA 90012 .

Docket 16

Tentative Ruling:

12/6/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set on a shortened notice in accordance with Judge Robles' procedures. Oppositions, if any, will be considered at the hearing. In the event of no opposition, the Court's tentative ruling is as follows.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the filing of an unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. An unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

Movant's request for annulment is denied for lack of sufficient cause shown.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of this bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

This action has settled and the Court has approved the Settlement Agreement. The Settlement Agreement provides for the Defendant to make installment payments in the total amount of $40,000 over a period of approximately one year, with the final payment of $2,500 to be made on November 20, 2018. The Settlement Agreement further provides that the Trustee will dismiss the action upon receipt of the final payment.

When the Status Report was filed on November 28, 2018, the Trustee had received all payments except for the final payment of $2,500, which was due on November 20, 2018. The parties shall appear to advise the Court of the status of the final payment.

Having reviewed the Joint Status Report submitted by the parties, the Court HEREBY ORDERS as follows:

- 1) With respect to Defendant Abraham Reihanian, as Trustee of the Abraham Reihanian and Nosrat Yahid Revocable Trust, the Trustee shall file a Motion for Default Judgment by no later than January 18, 2018. At the Trustee's option, the Motion may be filed on a negative notice basis, or may be set for hearing.
- 2) With respect to Defendant Leon Reihanian, the litigation deadlines previously ordered by the Court shall continue to apply, as follows:
 - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 1/10/2019.
 - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 4/30/2019.
 - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 5/30/2019.
 - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 6/18/2019. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 7/16/2019 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
 - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
 - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Docket 1

On November 16, 2017, the Court entered an order staying this adversary proceeding and vacating litigation deadlines pending the completion of Defendant's appeal of the State Court Judgment giving rise to the indebtedness alleged to be non-dischargeable. On April 16, 2018, the California Court of Appeal reversed and remanded to the trial court the portion of the State Court Judgment awarding attorneys' fees. The trial court subsequently awarded attorneys' fees of $2,538,458.35. An appeal of the trial court's award of attorneys' fees is now pending. The other aspects of the State Court Judgment—judgment on the merits in the amount of $225,000, and an award of costs in the amount of $84,090.34—are now final.

On October 16, the Court conducted a Status Conference and ordered Plaintiff to file a motion for summary judgment by no later than November 13, 2018. Plaintiff's motion for partial summary adjudication (the "Motion") is set to be heard on January 23, 2019. Plaintiff seeks partial summary adjudication with respect to its claim that the judgment of $225,000 and the award of costs of $84,090.34 is excepted from Debtor/Defendant's discharge. Debtor/Defendant states that he will not oppose Plaintiff's Motion, but reserves all rights with respect to the dischargeability of the State Court's award of attorneys' fees.

The hearing on Plaintiff's Motion shall go forward on January 23, 2019. Once that Motion has been adjudicated, the Court will issue a further order governing the adjudication of any remaining issues.

The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

Tentative Ruling:

12/10/2018

The Court is prepared to grant the United States Trustee's unopposed motion seeking a 90-day extension of the deadline to file a complaint objecting to the debtor's discharge and/or a motion to dismiss pursuant to §707(b)(3). See Cal. No. 103, below. If the UST files a complaint objecting to discharge and prevails, or if the case is dismissed under §707(b)(3), this action will be rendered moot. The Court finds it appropriate to stay this action until it has been determined whether the Debtor will receive a discharge and/or whether the case will be dismissed. Accordingly, the Court HEREBY ORDERS as follows:

- 1) This action is STAYED pending further order of the Court. The litigation deadlines previously ordered are VACATED.
- 2) The United States shall not be required to respond to the Complaint at this time. In the event the case is not dismissed and it is determined that the Debtor is eligible to receive a discharge, the Court will set a new deadline for the United States to respond to the Complaint.
- 3) A continued Status Conference shall be held on May 14, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

12/10/2018

The Court has previously found that resolution of the Chapter 11 case of Crystal Waterfalls, LLC ("Crystal") may resolve this action. See Order Continuing Pretrial Conference Pending Confirmation of Crystal Waterfalls, LLC's Chapter 11 Plan [Doc. No. 26]. On June 8, 2018, the Court entered an Order Approving Motion for Structured Dismissal of Chapter 11 Case [Bankr. Doc. No. 478] (the "Approval Order") in Crystal's bankruptcy case. The Approval Order provides that the structured dismissal of Crystal's Chapter 11 case shall occur through a two-step process. First, Crystal is required to make payments to various creditors, obtain orders disallowing certain claims, and satisfy various other conditions. Upon satisfaction of the conditions, Crystal's case will be dismissed.

Based upon its review of the Joint Status Report submitted by the parties, the Court finds that most of the actions contemplated by the Approval Order have been completed. Pursuant to the Plan Administrator's request, a continued Status Conference shall be held on January 15, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you

#100.00 HearingRE: [30] Motion for fine and/or disgorgement of fees against bankruptcy petition preparer Cubby Wayne Williams (Maroko, Ron)

Docket 30

Tentative Ruling:

12/10/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion Under 11 U.S.C. § 110(h)(5) for Fines Against Bankruptcy Petitioner Preparer for Failing to Comply with a Court Turnover Order; Request for Injunction Under 11 U.S.C. § 110(j)(3) [Doc. No. 30] (the "110 Motion")
2. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On July 25, 2018, the Office of the United States Trustee (the "UST") filed a Motion for Fines and/or Disgorgement of Fees Against Bankruptcy Petitioner Preparer [Doc. No. 13] (the "Original 110 Motion") against Cubby Wayne Williams ("Williams") and Williams Financial Network ("WFN" and together with Williams, the "Respondents"). Following the expiration of the opposition deadline set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(o), the Court entered an order granting the Original 110 Motion [Doc. No. 15] (the "110 Order") on August 20, 2018. Pursuant to the 110 Order, the Court (i) imposed fines against Williams in the total amount of $15,000, payable to the UST within thirty-days of entry of the order, (ii) ordered Williams to disgorge $300 to the Debtor; and (iii) directed Williams to file a declaration of compliance with the Court within forty-five days of entry of the order. The 110 Order specifically stated:

[F]ailure to file [the] declaration [of compliance] with the Court is presumptive evidence that the payment was not made to Sharlyce

Borders and may subject Cubby Wayne Williams to a motion for additional fines under 11 U.S.C. § 110(h)(5) and an injunction against acting as a bankruptcy petition preparer under 11 U.S.C. § 110(j)(3).

Doc. No. 15, p. 2, lines 19-22.

On October 17, 2018, the UST filed the instant 110 Motion stating that Williams has not paid the $15,000 fines to the UST and forty-five days have elapsed since entry of the Court's 110 Order and Williams has not filed a declaration attesting to his compliance with that order. Accordingly, the UST seeks an additional $500 fine against Williams under section 110(h)(5) for his failure to comply with the Court's 110 Order. The UST further requests that the Court impose an injunction against Williams pursuant to section 110(j)(3) that enjoins him from acting as a bankruptcy petition preparer until he has fully complied with the 110 Order. [Note 1]

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As set forth in section 110(h)(5), "[a] bankruptcy petition preparer shall be fined not more than $500 for each failure to comply with a court order to turn over funds within 30 days of service of such order." 11 U.S.C. § 110(h)(5).

Based upon a review of the docket, and the Declaration of Ron Maroko filed in support of the 110 Motion, the Court finds that Williams has not complied with the 110 Order. The Court therefore imposes an additional fine of $500 and orders the immediate turnover of such fine, as well as the $15,000 in delinquent fines, to the UST. Williams is also directed to immediately disgorge and turnover $300 to the Debtor in accordance with the 110 Order.

Section 110(j)(3) states,

The court, as part of its contempt power, may enjoin a bankruptcy petition preparer that has failed to comply with a previous order issued under this section. The injunction under this paragraph may be issued on the motion of the court, the trustee, or the United States Trustee

Chapter 7

In light of Williams' failure to comply with the 110 Order, or otherwise respond to this 110 Motion, the Court finds it appropriate to enjoin Williams from acting as a bankruptcy petition preparer until Williams demonstrates that he has fully complied with the 110 Order and paid the additional $500 fine imposed herein.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED.

The UST shall lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Jessica Vogel at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: The UST also requests that any injunction imposed by the undersigned bankruptcy Judge not be lifted until Williams makes a showing that he has fully complied with orders entered by other bankruptcy Judges in this district. Motion, fn. 1. The UST identifies the following cases: "the Brown case (2:18-bk-15089-BB);" "the Stiner-Lyons case (2:15-bk-27573-BB);" "the Dykes case (2:10-bk-50324-BR)." However, the UST has not identified any authority for this Court to enforce orders entered in cases not before the undersigned Judge. Further, the UST's request would usurp the authority of the judges in those cases to determine compliance with their own orders. Accordingly, that request is denied.

Chapter 11

Based on the foregoing, the Debtor requests that the Court deny the Motion.

The UST submits the following arguments in Reply to the Debtor's Opposition:

1. The Opposition was filed five days late, on December 2, 2018, leaving the UST little time to prepare this Reply.
2. The Debtor has been lackadaisical in fulfilling its debtor-in-possession requirements. Debtor waited almost 3 months to file its 7-day package and only did so on the eve of the hearing on this Motion. Moreover, the 7-day package is still deficient because the following items are still missing: (i) insurance for 3222 Agua Dulce Canyon Road, Santa Clarita, CA expired on May 23, 2018; (ii) no voided DIP checks have been provided for two accounts; (iii) no projected cash flow for the first 90 days; and (iv) no tax returns.
3. The Debtor's original Schedules and Statement of Financial Affairs ("SOFA") were essentially blank and Debtor did not file amended Schedules or SOFA until the day after the continued 341(a) Meeting of Creditors took place.
4. The Debtor's principal, Ronit Waizgan, continues to fail to fulfill her fiduciary duties. At the third 341(a) Meeting of Creditors, the Debtor's principal testified that (i) Mr. Yakovi loaned money to the Debtor post-petition without court authorization and this was not listed on the monthly operating report; (ii) the Debtor collected rent but did not properly report them on the monthly operating report; (iii) the city collected rents on one of the Debtor's properties and this was not accounted for on the monthly operating report; and (iv) the Debtor has never filed tax returns. Additionally, Ms. Waizgan showed little knowledge about the Debtor even though she is the one who signed the Schedules.

Based upon the foregoing, the UST requests that the Court convert this case.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under § 1112(b), the Court shall dismiss or convert a case to one under chapter 7 upon a showing of "cause." 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b). Section 1112(b)(4) provides a nonexclusive list of factors that constitute "cause," including in relevant part: "(B) gross mismanagement of the estate; (C) failure to maintain appropriate insurance that poses a risk to the estate or to the public;" "(F) unexcused failure to satisfy timely any filing or reporting requirement established by this title or by any rule applicable to a case under this chapter;" "(H) failure to timely provide information or attend meetings reasonably required by the United States Trustee;" and "(J) failure to file a disclosure statement, or to file or confirm a plan, within the time fixed by this title or by order of the court." "The enumerated causes are not exhaustive, and 'the court will be able to consider other factors as they arise, and to use its equitable powers to reach an appropriate result in individual cases.'" In re Consolidated Pioneer Mortgage Entities, 248 B.R. 368, 375 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000) (quoting H.R. No. 95-595, 95th Cong., 1st Sess. 405-06 (1977), aff'd, 264 F.3d 803 (9th Cir. 2001).

In this case, the Court finds that sufficient "cause" exists within the meaning of § 1112(b) to convert this case to a case under chapter 7. As set forth in the Declarations of Maria A. Ramos and Gary Baddin filed in support of the Motion and Reply, the Debtor has enjoyed the benefit of an approximately 90-day breathing spell yet inexplicably failed to comply with almost all of its obligations as a debtor-in-possession. The Debtor offers no explanation for its derogation of duties. Instead, the Opposition simply acknowledges the deficiencies and states that the Debtor is now in compliance with all UST filing and reporting requirements. However, the UST represents in its Reply that several deficiencies remain.

The Court finds it even more troubling that Debtor's principal appears to lack the necessary competence to manage the affairs of the Debtor as a debtor-in-possession. The UST's evidence supports a finding that there has been a gross mismanagement of the estate and the Court has no confidence that the Debtor and its chosen counsel are capable of navigating their way through confirmation of a plan of reorganization.

For these reasons, the Motion is GRANTED under § 1112(b)(4)(B), (C), (F), and (H). Based upon the representations by the UST, and the Court's review of the Debtor's Schedules, there appear to be assets that a trustee can administer for the benefit of creditors. Accordingly, the case is CONVERTED to a case under Chapter 7.

The UST is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Jeremy Wyatt LeClair (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 case on August 29, 2018 in the Western District of North Carolina (Charlotte). On August 30, 2018, the case was transferred to the Central District of California, Los Angeles Division. The United States Trustee (the "UST") requests a 90-day extension of the deadline for filing a motion to dismiss under §707(b)(3) and/or a complaint objecting to the Debtor's discharge under §727, and requests that the extension be made applicable to both the UST and the Chapter 7 Trustee. The UST states that it needs additional time to investigate the Debtor's scheduled debts of over $63 million. The UST states that the extension is necessary because the Debtor failed to produce documents requested by the UST and failed to appear at the October 4, 2018 meeting of creditors. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

discharge be filed within 60 days after the first date set for the §341(a) meeting of creditors. Bankruptcy Rule 4004(b) provides that the deadline may be extended "for cause," provided that the motion for an extension is filed before the deadline has expired.

Bankruptcy Rule 1017(e)(1) requires that a motion to dismiss brought under § 707(b)(3) be filed within 60 days after the first date set for the §341(a) meeting of creditors, unless the deadline is extended "for cause."

Here, the UST has shown cause for a 90-day extension of both the deadline for filing a §727 complaint and the deadline for filing a motion to dismiss under §707(b)(3). The Debtor's failure to respond to the UST's requests for documentation or to appear at the October 4, 2018 meeting of creditors justifies the extension.

The Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The UST shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Docket 19

Tentative Ruling:

12/10/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion Under 11 U.S.C. § 110 for Fines and/or Disgorgement of Fees Against Bankruptcy Petition Preparer; Request for § 110(i) Damages [Doc. No. 19] (the "110 Motion")
2. Request for Judicial Notice in Support of 110 Motion [Doc. No. 20] ("RJN")
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

The Office of the United States Trustee (the "UST") seeks an order assessing fines and/or disgorgement of fees against German Pena ("Respondent"). The UST alleges that Respondent is a bankruptcy petition preparer within the meaning of section 110(a)(2), having received compensation from the debtors in this case for preparing the debtors' bankruptcy petition and schedules. [Note 1] The UST further alleges that Respondent's actions or omissions in connection with preparing the debtors' petition and schedules resulted in violations of sections 110(b)(1), (b)(2), (c)(1), (h)(2), and (f). Accordingly, the UST requests that this Court assess $500 in fines against Respondent for each of the nine violations, for a total fine of $4,500. The UST also contends that Respondent failed to disclose his identity, thereby warranting a trebling of the fines under § 110(1)(2)(D), such that the total fines payable to the UST should be $13,500.

Next, the UST states that the Debtors testified that they paid Respondent $1,500 in compensation for bankruptcy preparation services. However, in light of the multiple violations of section 110, the UST contends that Respondent's fees exceeded the reasonable value of Respondent's services and should be entirely disgorged. Alternatively, the UST asserts that the Court should order Respondent to disgorge all fees because he has previously been enjoined from preparing or assisting in the preparation of bankruptcy documents. Motion, fn. 5, citing Case No. 2:14-bk-23297-ER. [Note 2] The UST contends that pursuant to section 110(i), this court should exercise its authority and order liquidating damages in the amount of $3,000.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

1. Bankruptcy Petition Preparer

Section 110(a) defines "bankruptcy petition preparer" as a "person, other than an attorney for the debtor or an employee of such attorney under the direct supervision of such attorney, who prepares for compensation a document for filing[.]" See In re Crowe, 243 B.R. 43, 49 (9th Cir. BAP 1999) aff'd, 246 F.3d 673 (9th Cir. 2000) (quoting an earlier version 11 U.S.C. § 110(a)).

Respondent's status as a bankruptcy petition preparer is not in dispute, and the Court finds that, based on the Declarations of Juan Carlos Navarro Vasquez (the "Vasquez Decl."), and Maria Ramos ("Ramos Decl."), Respondent falls squarely within the definition set forth in § 110(a).

2. Violations of 11 U.S.C. § 110

a. Violation of § 110(b)(1)

Section 110(b)(1) provides: "A bankruptcy petition preparer who prepares a document for filing shall sign the document and print on the document the preparer's name and address." For purposes of § 110, the Schedules, Statement of Affairs,

Statement of Intention, and petition are considered four separate documents. The petition preparer's failure to sign any one of these documents constitutes separate violations of § 110. In re Jolly, 313 B.R. 295, 300 (Bankr. S.D. Iowa 2004).

The evidence filed in support of the 110 Motion reveals that Respondent failed to sign the petition, schedules or statement of financial affairs or file Official Form 119 as required by § 110(b)(1). Exhibit B, pp 12-24, Exhibit C, pp. 25-84 and specifically pages 19, 57, and 69. Therefore, the Court finds Respondent committed three violations of § 110(b)(1).

b. Violation of § 110(b)(2)

Section 110(b)(2) states that "before preparing any document for filing or accepting any fees from or on behalf of a debtor, the bankruptcy petition preparer shall provide to the debtor a written notice . . . inform[ing] the debtor in simple language that a bankruptcy petition preparer is not an attorney and may not practice law or give legal advice." This notice to debtor shall be signed by both preparer and debtor and must be filed with the Court at the time the prepared documents are filed. 11 U.S.C. § 110(b)(2).

The evidence filed in support of the 110 Motion reveals that Respondent failed to ever file Official Form 119. Exhibit B, pp. 12-24. Therefore, the Court finds Respondent committed one violation of § 110(b)(2).

c. Violation of § 110(c)(1)

Section 110(c)(1) mandates that petition preparers "shall place on the document, after the preparer's signature, an identifying number that identifies individuals who prepared the document" (petition preparers commonly use a social security number as the identifying number).

The evidence filed in support of the 110 Motion reveals that Respondent failed to place an identifying number of the forms as required by this section. Exhibit B, pp. 12-24. Therefore, the Court finds Respondent committed three violation of § 110(c)(1).

d. Violation of § 110(h)(2)

Section 110(h)(2) requires petition preparers to file with the petition a declaration under penalty of perjury "disclosing any fees received from the debtor or on behalf of the debtor within 12 months immediately prior to the filing of the case, and any unpaid fee charged to the debtor."

The evidence filed in support of the 110 Motion reveals that Respondent failed to file any declaration under penalty of perjury that accurately disclosed the fee received from the Debtors concurrently with the petition. Exhibit B, pp. 12-24. Therefore, the Court finds Respondent committed one violation of § 110(h)(2).

e. Violation of § 110(f)

Section 110(f) prohibits "[a] bankruptcy petition preparer" from "us[ing] the word 'legal' or any similar term in any advertisements, or advertise under any category that includes the word 'legal' or any similar term."

In support of the 110 Motion, the UST attached a copy of Respondent's business card identifying Respondent as "Peser Legal Academy, Inc.," with a website of "peserlaw.com." Exhibit A. Therefore, for using the word "legal" in its business card, the Court finds that Respondent committed one violation of § 110(f).

Based upon the foregoing, the Court finds Respondent liable for nine violations of § 110.

e. Disgorgement of Fees

Under section 110(h)(3)(A)(i), the court shall order the turnover of all fees in excess of the reasonable value of the services rendered for the documents prepared. Additionally, section 110(h)(3)(B) provides: "All fees charged by a bankruptcy petition preparer may be forfeited in any case in which the bankruptcy petition preparer fails to comply with . . . subsection (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), or (g)."

Here, the Court finds that disgorgement is appropriate pursuant to § 110(h)(3)(B), based on Respondent's violations of section 110. Accordingly, the $1,500 paid for

f. Liquidated damages

Under section 110(i)(1), this Court can order the bankruptcy petition preparer to pay (a) the debtor's actual damages and (b) the greater of $2,000 or twice the amount paid by the debtor if this Court determines the bankruptcy petition preparer's actions were fraudulent, unfair or deceptive. 11 U.S.C. § 110(i)(1)(A), (B), (i) and (ii).

In this case, debtor Juan Carlos Navarro Vasquez testified that Respondent "told [Debtors] to say that Marisol Ville filed the papers" for debtors and to include other false information in their bankruptcy papers. Ramos Decl., 1:17-22. The Court finds this type of conduct is intentionally deceptive and fraudulent, especially in light of this Court's prior order enjoining Respondent from acting as a bankruptcy petition preparer. Accordingly, Respondent is ordered to pay Debtors $3,000 in liquidated damages.

g. Trebling of Fines

Under section 110(l)(1), the court shall triple the amount of a fine in any case in which the court finds that a bankruptcy petition preparer:

- (A) advised the debtor to exclude assets or income that should have been included on applicable schedules;
- (B) advised the debtor to use a false Social Security account number;
- (C) failed to inform the debtor that the debtor was filing for relief under this title; or
- (D) prepared a document for filing in a manner that failed to disclose the identity of the bankruptcy petition preparer.

11 U.S.C. § 110(l)(1).

Here, in light of this Court's prior order enjoining Respondent from acting as a bankruptcy petition preparer and Respondent's failure to disclose his identity when preparing Debtor's documents, the Court finds it appropriate to treble fines pursuant to section 110(l)(1)(D) for a total fine of $13,500.

Based on the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. Respondent is liable for five violations of 11 U.S.C. § 110, warranting an order assessing $7,500 in treble fines against Respondent, to be turned over to the UST's office within thirty-days of the entry of an order on this 110 Motion.

Furthermore, pursuant to § 110(h)(3)(B), the $1,500 payment is ordered disgorged and turned over to the Debtors and Respondent is ordered to pay an additional $3,000 in liquidated damages to the Debtors within forty-five days of the entry of an order on this 110 Motion.

The UST shall lodge a conforming order, incorporating this ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

Note 1: The UST has concurrently filed a separate motion under section 110 seeking fines and disgorgement against Marisol Valle and Peser Legal Academy, Inc., in connection with services assisting the debtors prepare their petition and schedules in this case (see Calendar No. 104, December 11, 2018 at 11:00 a.m.). As set forth in footnote 1 of the Court's tentative ruling for that matter, the Court finds it appropriate to grant both of the UST's motions and assess fines against Mr. Pena, Ms. Valle, and Peser Legal Academy, Inc.

Note 2: On September 30, 2014, this Court entered an Order on U.S. Trustee's Motion Under 11 U.S.C. § 110 for Fines and/or Disgorgement of Fees Against Bankruptcy Petition Preparer [2:14-bk-23297-ER; Doc. findings that Mr. Pena violated numerous provisions of 11 U.S.C. § 110. Mr. Pena failed to comply with the First Penalties Order. Accordingly, on April 9, 2015, this Court entered a further Order on U.S. Trustee's Motion Under 11 U.S.C. § 110(h)(5) for Fines Against Bankruptcy Petition Preparer; Injunction [2:14-bk-23297-ER; Doc. Pursuant to the Second Penalties Order, this Court imposed an additional $500 penalty against Mr. Pena, ordered Mr. Pena to immediately pay all outstanding amounts previously assessed, and enjoined Mr. Pena from "preparing or assisting in preparing any bankruptcy documents for filing in the Central District of California" Mr. Pena has not complied with the Second Penalties Order. Therefore, Mr. Pena is in contempt of Court for his failure to comply with the First Penalties Order and the Second Penalties Order and this Court's injunction remains in full force and effect.

Docket 15

Tentative Ruling:

12/10/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motions is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion Under 11 U.S.C. § 110 for Fines and/or Disgorgement of Fees Against Bankruptcy Petition Preparer [Doc. No. 15] (the "110 Motion")
2. Notice of Hearing on 110 Motion [Doc. No. 18]
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

The Office of the United States Trustee (the "UST") seeks an order assessing fines and/or disgorgement of fees against Marisol Valle ("Valle") and Peser Legal Academy, Inc. ("PLA," and together with Valle, the "Respondent"). The UST alleges that Respondent is a bankruptcy petition preparer within the meaning of section 110(a)(2), having received compensation from the debtors in this case for preparing the debtors' bankruptcy petition and schedules. [Note 1] The UST further alleges that Respondent's actions or omissions in connection with preparing the debtors' petition and schedules resulted in violations of sections 110(b)(1), (b)(2), (c)(1), (h)(2) and (f). Accordingly, the UST requests that this Court assess $500 in fines against Respondent for each of the five violations, for a total fine of $2,500, and direct Respondent to turn over such funds to the UST.

Next, the UST states that the Debtors testified that they paid Respondent $200 in compensation for bankruptcy preparation services. However, in light of the multiple violations of section 110, the UST contends that Respondent's fees exceeded the reasonable value of Respondent's services. Therefore, the UST requests the Court order Respondent to disgorge the entire $200 in fees and return those funds directly to the Debtor.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

1. Bankruptcy Petition Preparer

Section 110(a) defines "bankruptcy petition preparer" as a "person, other than an attorney for the debtor or an employee of such attorney under the direct supervision of such attorney, who prepares for compensation a document for filing[.]" See In re Crowe, 243 B.R. 43, 49 (9th Cir. BAP 1999) aff'd, 246 F.3d 673 (9th Cir. 2000) (quoting an earlier version 11 U.S.C. § 110(a)).

Respondent's status as a bankruptcy petition preparer is not in dispute, and the Court finds that, based on the Declarations of Juan Carlos Navarro Vasquez (the "Vasquez Decl."), and Maria Ramos ("Ramos Decl."), Respondent falls squarely within the definition set forth in § 110(a).

2. Violations of 11 U.S.C. § 110

a. Violation of § 110(b)(1)

Section 110(b)(1) provides: "A bankruptcy petition preparer who prepares a document for filing shall sign the document and print on the document the preparer's name and address." For purposes of § 110, the Schedules, Statement of Affairs, Statement of Intention, and petition are considered four separate documents. The petition preparer's failure to sign any one of these documents constitutes separate violations of § 110. In re Jolly, 313 B.R. 295, 300 (Bankr. S.D. Iowa 2004).

The evidence filed in support of the 110 Motion reveals that Respondent failed to

b. Violation of § 110(b)(2)

Section 110(b)(2) states that "before preparing any document for filing or accepting any fees from or on behalf of a debtor, the bankruptcy petition preparer shall provide to the debtor a written notice . . . inform[ing] the debtor in simple language that a bankruptcy petition preparer is not an attorney and may not practice law or give legal advice." This notice to debtor shall be signed by both preparer and debtor and must be filed with the Court at the time the prepared documents are filed. 11 U.S.C. § 110(b)(2).

The evidence filed in support of the 110 Motion reveals that Respondent failed to timely sign and file Official Form 119 concurrently with the filing of the petition on August 3, 2018. Exhibit B, pp. 12-24. Instead, Respondent waited until August 15, 2018 to sign Official Form 119 and another two days, until August 17, 2018, to file the form on the docket (Doc. No. 9). Therefore, the Court finds Respondent committed one violation of § 110(b)(2).

c. Violation of § 110(c)(1)

Section 110(c)(1) mandates that petition preparers "shall place on the document, after the preparer's signature, an identifying number that identifies individuals who prepared the document" (petition preparers commonly use a social security number as the identifying number).

The evidence filed in support of the 110 Motion reveals that Respondent failed to place an identifying number of the forms as required by this section. Exhibit B, pp. 12-24. Therefore, the Court finds Respondent committed one violation of § 110(c)(1).

d. Violation of § 110(h)(2)

Section 110(h)(2) requires petition preparers to file with the petition a declaration under penalty of perjury "disclosing any fees received from the debtor or on behalf of the debtor within 12 months immediately prior to the filing of the case, and any unpaid fee charged to the debtor."

Chapter 7

The evidence filed in support of the 110 Motion reveals that Respondent failed to timely file a declaration under penalty of perjury that accurately disclosed the fee received from the Debtors concurrently with the petition. Exhibit B, pp. 12-24. Therefore, the Court finds Respondent committed one violation of § 110(h)(2).

e. Violation of § 110(f)

Section 110(f) prohibits "[a] bankruptcy petition preparer" from "us[ing] the word 'legal' or any similar term in any advertisements, or advertise under any category that includes the word 'legal' or any similar term."

In support of the 110 Motion, the UST attached a copy of Respondent's business card identifying Respondent as "Peser Legal Academy, Inc.," with a website of "peserlaw.com." Exhibit A. Therefore, for using the word "legal" in its business card, the Court finds that Respondent committed one violation of § 110(f).

e. Disgorgement of Fees

Under section 110(h)(3)(A)(i), the court shall order the turnover of all fees in excess of the reasonable value of the services rendered for the documents prepared. Additionally, section 110(h)(3)(B) provides: "All fees charged by a bankruptcy petition preparer may be forfeited in any case in which the bankruptcy petition preparer fails to comply with . . . subsection (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), or (g)."

Here, the Court finds that disgorgement is appropriate pursuant to § 110(h)(3)(B), based on Respondent's violations of section 110. [Note 2] Accordingly, the $200.00 paid for Respondent's services are ordered disgorged.

Based on the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. Respondent is liable for five violations of 11 U.S.C. § 110, warranting an order assessing $2,500 in fines against Respondent, to be turned over to the UST's office within thirty-days of the entry of an order on this 110 Motion.

disgorged and turned over to the Debtors within forty-five days of the entry of an order on this 110 Motion.

If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: The UST has concurrently filed a separate motion under section 110 seeking fines and disgorgement against German Pena in connection with his services assisting the debtors prepare their petition and schedules in this case (see Calendar No. 104, December 11, 2018 at 11:00 a.m.). As set forth in the declaration of Juan Carlos Navarro Vasquez (translated by the declaration of Maria Ramos), Mr. Vasquez states that he was referred to Mr. Pena for bankruptcy assistance and that co-debtor Angelina Lopez and he were never introduced to Ms. Valle, although they did see her. Ramos Decl., 1:8, 17-22. However, Ms. Valle's name and signature appear on the Declaration and Signature of Bankruptcy Petition Preparer filed in the Debtors' case (Exhibit 1, pp. 26-27). Additionally, the UST attached a copy of an order issued in another case in this district in which Mr. Pena, Ms. Valle, and Peser Legal Academy, Inc., were determined to be jointly and severally liable for violating section 110 and ordered to pay fines and disgorge any monies received in connection with bankruptcy petition services in that case. See Motion, Exhibit D (Case No. 2:17-bk-25234-BB, Doc. No. 22). Accordingly, the Court finds it appropriate to grant both of the UST's motions and assess fines against Mr. Pena, Ms. Valle, and Peser Legal Academy, Inc.

Note 2: The Court further finds disgorgement is appropriate because, as the UST points out, Respondent has previously been fined for similar violations. Motion, Exhibit D, pp. 28-30 (Case No. 2:17-bk-25234-BB).

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Order Requiring Petitioning Creditor to Appear and Show Cause Why this Involuntary Petition Should Not be Dismissed [Doc. No. 10-1] (the "OSC")
 - a) Bankruptcy Noticing Center Certificate of Notice [Doc. No. 13]
- 2) No response to the OSC has been filed

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On October 23, 2018, the Court issued an Order Requiring Petitioning Creditor to Appear and Show Cause Why this Involuntary Petition Should Not be Dismissed [Doc. No. 10-1] (the "OSC"). The OSC required the Petitioning Creditor to file a written response to the following Preliminary Findings and Conclusions by no later than November 13, 2018:

On July 20, 2018, Petro-Token Management LLC (the "Petitioning Creditor") commenced an Involuntary Petition Against an Individual [Doc. No. 1] (the "Involuntary Petition") against Edwin Wellington Terry (the "Alleged Debtor"). Petitioning Creditor's authorized representative is Marshall Broadway. Mr. Broadway is not licensed to practice law in the State of California, and Petitioning Creditor is not represented by any other individual who is licensed to practice law in the State of California.

It is well established that a corporation, trust, limited liability company, or other type of business entity "may appear in the federal courts only through licensed counsel." Rowland v. California Men's Colony, Unit II Men's Advisory Council, 506 U.S. 194, 202 (1993). This requirement is reiterated in Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 9011-2(a). Here, the Petitioning Creditor is a business entity but is not represented by counsel. Because the Petitioning Creditor is not represented by counsel, it is not authorized to appear before the Court. Consequently, the Court cannot take into consideration the Petitioning Creditor's representation that it holds a claim against the Alleged Debtor. There being no evidence before the Court that the Petitioning Creditor is entitled to an order for relief against the Alleged Debtor, the Involuntary Petition must be dismissed.

Even if Petitioning Creditor was represented by counsel, the Involuntary Petition does not establish that Petitioning Creditor is entitled to an order for relief against the Alleged Debtor. Pursuant to §303(b)(2), a single Petitioning Creditor is entitled to an order for relief if that Petitioning Creditor holds a noncontingent, undisputed claim of at least $15,775 against the Alleged Debtor. Here, the Involuntary Petition asserts that the Petitioning Creditor holds a claim of $12,500. Because the alleged debt does not meet the threshold set forth in §303(b)(2), Petitioning Creditor is not entitled to entry of an order for relief even assuming that the allegations set forth in the Involuntary Petition are true.

The OSC further required the Petitioning Creditor to provide additional information to the Court, and set forth the reasons why the additional information was required:

Mr. Broadway has represented to the Court that he is the Petitioning Creditors' authorized representative. The Involuntary Petition does not indicate the jurisdiction in which the Petitioning Creditor has been incorporated. The Court has been unable to verify the corporate existence of the Petitioning Creditor. The records of the California Secretary of State establish that no business entities bearing the name "Petro-Token Management LLC" or names similar thereto have been incorporated in the State of California.

Petitioning Creditor is entitled to the relief demanded only if it is a valid corporate entity. To enable the Court to verify the Petitioning Creditor's corporate existence, Mr. Broadway shall file the following documents with the Court:

- 1) The Petitioning Creditors' Articles of Incorporation.
- 2) Documents evidencing Mr. Broadway's authority to take action on behalf of the Petitioning Creditor.
- 3) If applicable, documents showing that any suspension of the Petitioning Creditor's corporate status has been cured through reinstatement.

Mr. Broadway shall submit a declaration, signed under penalty of perjury, authenticating the documents set forth above. Mr. Broadway's declaration shall also set forth the date of the Petitioning Creditor's incorporation and the jurisdiction in which the Petitioning Creditor was incorporated.

Petitioning Creditor has failed to respond to the OSC.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Preliminary Findings and Conclusions are hereby adopted as the findings of the Court, and the case is dismissed based upon those findings. In addition, Petitioning Creditor's failure to supply the additional information required by the OSC further supports dismissal.

The Court will prepare and enter an order dismissing the case.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and Debtor in Possession, Pac Anchor Transportation, Inc., consisting of the merger of Pac Anchor Transportation, Inc., and Green Anchor Lines, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on July 6, 2017 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is a trucking company that provides trucking services throughout the Western United States. A material portion of its business is drayage to and from the Los Angeles and Long Beach ports.

The Debtor and the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee," and together with the Debtor, the "Proponents") seek confirmation of their Joint Proposed Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization [Doc. No. 282] (the "Plan"). The material provisions of the Plan are as follows:

1. The Plan is a reorganizing plan. The Proponents seek to accomplish payment under the Plan with both pre- and post-confirmation income from the Debtor's continued business operations generated from the Effective Date through and including approximately January 1, 2024.
2. The Effective Date will be 10 days after entry of the order confirming the plan or final approval of the class action settlement in the Superior Court of the State of California. The Proponents estimate the Effective Date will be on or before December 31, 2018.
3. On the Effective Date, the Committee will cease to exist and will be replaced by a Plan Committee that will monitor Debtor's compliance with the Plan and serve as disbursing agent.
4. The Plan consists of 15 classes of claims. Only Class 11 and Class 14 are impaired and entitled to vote.

5. Class 11 consists of general unsecured claims. The Plan proposes to pay Class 11 $4,500,000 over approximately 5 years. This represents an approximate 21.116% distribution on such claims.
6. Class 14 consists of civil and tax penalty claims. The Plan proposes to pay Class 14 a one-time $10,000 payment on January 1, 2024. This represents an approximate 0.02% distribution on such claims.
7. The Debtor shall establish a post-confirmation liquidating trust that will become effective on the Effective Date. Nigel Hamer (rather than Timothy J. Yoo or his designee), shall serve as trustee. In the event of an uncured default under the Plan, at the election of the Plan Committee, the assets of the Debtor will be transferred to and vest in the Liquidation Trust. Among other things, preferential and fraudulent transfer claims will be tolled, and the trustee will be vested with standing to pursue such claims.

Summary of the People's Opposition to the Plan

California's Attorney General, acting on behalf of the People of the State of California (the "People"), opposes confirmation of the Plan. The People assert that the Plan cannot be confirmed for the following reasons:

1. The Plan is not proposed in good faith as required by § 1129(a)(3) because the Debtor is still employing drivers as independent contractors allegedly in violation of California law and the Plan does not contain an injunction preventing the Debtor from classifying and treating drivers as independent contractors post-confirmation.
2. The Plan does not satisfy § 1129(a)(9) because the Plan does not provide for payment in full of the People's asserted priority Administrative Claim.
3. The Plan is not feasible as required by § 1129(a)(11) because the projections do not take into account an additional $150,000 needed to pay 21 newly converted drivers as employees.
4. The Plan improperly releases third parties from liability in violation of § 524(e).

Summary of the Debtor's Reply

Chapter 11

The Debtor makes the following arguments in Reply to the People's Opposition:

1. The Plan is proposed in good faith. The Debtor has not employed any independent contractor drivers since September 1, 2017, and disputes that any of its employment practices have been in violations of California law. The Debtor's good faith is further demonstrated by its approved settlement with the truck drivers and commitment to only use employee drivers following the effective date of the plan. The Debtor does not object to including an injunction provision in the confirmation order.

2. The Plan is feasible. Debtor concedes that if the Administrative Claim is allowed, the Plan will be rendered infeasible, but the Debtor objects to the allowance of the Administrative Claim on a number of grounds (set forth in more detail in its objection to Motion to Allow Administrative Claim).

3. The Debtor's projections are not misleading. The Debtor utilizes Owner-Operator drivers and the projections take this change in business model into account.

4. The Plan does not release third parties from liability. The Settlement only releases insider claims for fraudulent conveyances and the People will retain its claim against Mr. Barajas in the state court action.

5. The People should be estopped from challenging the Plan on the basis of illegality and infeasibility because of its delay in challenging the Debtor's use of Owner-Operator drivers.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. The People's Objections are Overruled.

The People's objections are overruled in their entirety.

1. The People have not established that the Plan was not proposed in good faith within the meaning of § 1129(a)(3)

Section 1129(a)(3) requires that the "plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law." As one court has explained:

The term 'good faith' in the context of 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3) is not statutorily defined but has been interpreted by case law as referring to a plan that 'achieves a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code.' 'The requisite good faith determination is based on the totality of the circumstances.'

In re Melcher, 329 B.R. 865, 876 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2005) (internal citations omitted).

The People contend that the Plan is not proposed in good faith because the Debtor continues to misclassify its drivers in violation of California law and mislead this Court and its creditors. The Court finds that the People's evidence in support of this contention is wholly insufficient and does not establish, even by a preponderance of the evidence, that the Plan was not proposed in good faith.

First, the People simply conclude that the Debtor is misclassifying its drivers in violation California law without identify which California law(s) it believes are implicated or any specific analysis as to how the Debtor's conduct violated such provision(s). [Note 1]

Next, the People's evidence does not support a finding that the Debtor has continued to misclassify drivers as "independent contractors" postpetition or that the Debtor intends to continue to do so after confirmation of the Plan. The People rely on the Debtor's Monthly Operating Reports ("MORs") and Plan projections to establish the alleged ongoing misclassification, but as the Debtor points out, the People have conflated the terms "subcontractor" with "independent contractor." Debtor's principal, Mr. Alfredo Barajas, testifies that the Debtor's use of the term "subcontractors" includes "Owner-Operators, Entities, and non-drivers such as computer serving, maintenance on Debtor's fuel pumps, and vehicle repairs." Barajas Decl., ¶ 11. The Court finds that this sufficiently undermines the People's arguments on this point.

The Court also finds that the excerpts of deposition testimony from Mr. Barajas (Ex. 1 & 2), and Debtor's former employee, Carlos Mosquera (Ex. 3) do not establish that the Debtor has continued to misclassify its employees. With respect to the Barajas testimony, the Court finds that most of the testimony was given pre-petition, on January 29, 2009, March 24, 2017, June 21, 2017 which the Court does not find particularly helpful in establishing alleged postpetition violations in light of Debtor's testimony that it has changed its business model since filing this bankruptcy case. Mr. Barajas' postpetition testimony also does not establish that the Debtor has violated California law. The People did not provide the full deposition transcript and the excerpts that were provided make it difficult to determine the context in which the People's questions were propounded. As a result, the testimony is at times vague as to whether Mr. Barajas is describing postpetition or prepetition employment practices [Note 2] and whether Mr. Barajas is describing the Debtor's employment practices with respect to all subclasses of drivers (e.g., employees, Owner-Operators, Entities, Independent Contractors) or only with respect to employee drivers. [Note 3] The Court also does not find the Mosquera testimony useful because his testimony appears to describe his prepetition employment experience with the Debtor and the People's contention is that the Debtor has continued to misclassify drivers postpetition.

The Court is also unpersuaded by the People's contention that the Debtor's principal, Alfredo Barajas, has misled this Court with respect to the Debtor's postpetition employment practices. Debtor submitted the Declaration of Mr. Barajas in which he testifies that the Debtor began converting all of its drivers from independent contractors to employees at the outset of this case and has not used independent contractors since September 1, 2017. Barajas Decl., ¶¶ 9-10. Mr. Barajas further testifies that the Debtor has utilized four different types of drivers, including Owner-Operators (drivers who drive their own trucks) and submits that the People have never alleged that Debtor's use of Owner-Operators violates California law. Id., ¶¶ 5, 6, 10.

Finally, the Court finds that the Debtor's agreement to include an injunction provision in the confirmation order will sufficiently address the People's concerns on this issue.

In sum, the Court finds that the Plan, which was proposed as a joint plan by the Debtor and the Committee of Unsecured Creditors, is designed to achieve results that are consistent with the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor has changed its business model to prevent future litigation and through the Plan, the Debtor seeks to reorganize its affairs and avoid liquidation, while still paying out a large distribution to unsecured creditors.

2. The Plan Satisfies § 1129(a)(9)

Section 1129(a)(9) requires that holders of certain administrative and priority claims receive cash equal to the allowed claim amount of their claims on the effective date of the plan, unless the claimant agrees to different treatment.

The People contend that the Plan does not satisfy § 1129(a)(9) because the Plan does not provide for payment in full of the People's asserted $4,000,000 priority Administrative Claim on the effective date.

For the reasons set forth in the concurrently posted tentative ruling on the People's request for an administrative claim (See Cal. No. 5.50, December 12, 2018), the Court is prepared to deny the People's request for an Administrative Claim in full. Accordingly, the Debtor's Plan will not be rendered infeasible by the need to pay such claim and is not deficient within the meaning of § 1129(a)(9) in failing to provide for that claim. The People's objection is overruled on this basis.

3. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(11)

Section 1129(a)(11), known as the "feasibility requirement," requires the Court to find that "[c]onfirmation of the plan is not likely to be followed by the liquidation, or the need for further financial reorganization, of the debtor or any successor to the debtor under the plan, unless such liquidation or reorganization is proposed in the plan."

The Court overrules the People's assertion that the Plan is infeasible under § 1129(a)(11), because its contention on this ground is premised entirely upon speculation and unsupported conclusions that the Debtor's projections do not take into account an extra $150,000 in expenses arising from the Debtor's conversion of Owner-Operator drivers to employees following the Effective Date. However, as the Debtor explains, the People have incorrectly conflated the term "subcontractor" with "independent contractor." The Debtor submits that its projections have properly taken into account its new employment model. Barajas Decl., ¶¶ 12-17.

4. The Plan does not contain an improper release of third-party liability in violation of Section 524(e) states that "discharge of a debt of the debtor does not affect the liability of any other entity on, or the property of any other entity, for such debt." 11 U.S.C. § 524(e). Section 524(e) "precludes bankruptcy courts from discharging the liabilities of non-debtors." Resorts Int'l v. Lowenschuss, 67 F.3d 1394, 1401 (9th Cir. 1995).

The People contend that the Plan improperly releases third parties from liability in violation of § 524(e) on two grounds. First, the People assert that "there is an indefinite stay of the Enforcement Action against owner Alfredo Barajas based in part upon expected confirmation of the plan. This is tantamount to a release of a third party, and deprives the People of their right to proceed against Mr. Barajas for his individual liability for misclassification." Amended Opposition, p. 21:27-22:2.

However, the People are mistaken that the Court has issued an indefinite stay of the Enforcement Action against Mr. Barajas by way of its Order Granting Motion for Preliminary Injunction in the Pac Anchor, Transportation, Inc., Consisting of the Merger of Pac Anchor Transportation, Inc., and Green Anchor Lines, Inc. v. People of the State of California, ex rel. Xavier Becerra, Attorney General of the State of California, Adv. Case No. 2:18-ap-01244-ER (the "Adversary Proceeding"), docket number 40. That order only imposes a preliminary injunction with respect to enforcement of the Enforcement Action against the Debtor. Id. In fact, in Debtor's reply in support of its request for a preliminary injunction, the Debtor states "Debtor is not requesting a stay as to Mr. Barajas. The Motion only seeks injunctive relief as to Debtor." Adversary Proceeding, Dkt. 34, PDF p. 18: 9-10.

Second, the People contend that the Plan effectuates the provisions of a court approved settlement between the Debtor, committee of unsecured creditors, and Carlos Mosquera and Juan Francisco Rodriguez on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated [Doc. Nos. 286, 287 & 413] (the "Settlement"), that the People assert improperly releases Alfredo Barajas and Elizabeth Zarate (the "Insiders") from fraudulent transfer liability. Although the People fail to reference the specific provision it finds objectionable, that provisions states:

seeking relief under Title 11 of the United States Code, which petition is not dismissed prior to confirmation of a plan under chapter 13 or 11 or approval of a final report under chapter 7, the Liquidating Trustee shall have a claim in the sum of $100,000 in full and complete satisfaction of any and all claims that may exist against Alfredo Barajas and/or of Elizabeth Zarate arising under California law arising under California law or arising under 11 U.S.C. § 542 et seq.

Doc. No. 287-1, Settlement, ¶ 5.

The People contend that this provision is tantamount to the release of third parties' liability. The Court does not agree. The Court approved this provision as part of a broader settlement within the context of a motion brought under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9019, based upon this Court's determination that it was one of several forms of bargained for consideration. The Court concluded that the provision was a liquidation of potential judgment liability against the Insiders, based upon the Committee's determination that the Insiders were largely judgment proof. Furthermore, the provision is not akin to a general release of liability on all claims that could be brought against the Insiders. Instead, it is a limited release respecting the Estate's § 542 fraudulent transfer claims against the Insiders. Accordingly, the People's objections are overruled on this basis.

For the foregoing reasons, the Court finds that the Plan does not violate § 524(e).

B. The Plan Complies with All Applicable Provisions of 11 U.S.C. § 1129

As set forth below, the Court finds that the Plan complies with all applicable provisions of § 1129. The Plan is confirmed.

SECTION 1129(a)(1)

Section 1129(a)(1) requires that the "plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." According to the leading treatise, the "legislative history suggests that the applicable provisions are those governing the plan's internal structure and drafting: 'Paragraph (1) requires that the plan comply with the applicable provisions of chapter 11, such as section 1122 and 1123, governing classification and contents of a plan.'" Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 1129.01[1] (16th rev'd ed.) Cong., 2d Sess. 126 (1978)).

Chapter 11

1. Section 1122(a)

Section 1122(a) provides that "a plan may place a claim or an interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interests of such class."

The Plan's classification structure complies with § 1122(a).

2. Section 1122(b)

Section 1122(b) provides that "a plan may designate a separate class of claims consisting only of every unsecured claim that is less than or reduced to an amount that the court approves as reasonable and necessary for administrative convenience."

The Plan does not contain any convenience classes. Section 112(b) does not apply.

Section 1123(a)(1) requires that a plan "designate ... classes of claims, other than claims of a kind specified in section 507(a)(2) [administrative expense claims], 507(a)(3) [claims arising during the gap period in an involuntary case], or 507(a)(8) [priority tax claims], and classes of interest."

There are no involuntary gap claims because this is a voluntary chapter 11 case. The Plan appropriately classifies administrative expense claims and unsecured priority tax claims. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(1).

4. Section 1123(a)(2)

Section 1123(a)(2) requires that the Plan "specify any class of claims or interests that is not impaired under the Plan."

The Plan specifies that Classes 1 – 10, 12, 13 and 15 are unimpaired. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(2).

5. Section 1123(a)(3)

Section 1123(a)(3) requires that the Plan "specify the treatment of any class of claims or interests that is impaired under the Plan."

Chapter 11

The Plan specifies the treatment of impaired Classes 11 and 14. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(3).

6. Section 1123(a)(4)

Section 1123(a)(4) requires that the Plan "provide the same treatment for each claim or interest of a particular class unless the holder of a particular claim or interest agrees to a less favorable treatment of such particular claim or interest."

The Plan provides the same treatment to claims and interests of the same class. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(4).

Section 1123(a)(5) requires that the Plan "provide adequate means for the plan's implementation."

The Plan will be funded by income generated by the Debtor's pre- and post-confirmation business operations. The Debtor anticipates having approximately $2,288,000 of cash on hand on the Effective Date of the Plan to pay anticipated effective date payments. The Proponents submitted evidence in support of Debtor's ability to adequately implement the Plan, in the form of: (1) balance sheets and income statements for the years of 2014, 2015, and 2016 (Disclosure Statement, Exhibit B), and (2) financial projections for the anticipated duration of the Plan (Disclosure Statement, Exhibit C). The proposed funding sources provide an adequate means for the Plan's implementation. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(5).

8. Section 1123(a)(6)

Section 1123(a)(6) provides: "[A] plan shall provide for the inclusion in the charter of the debtor, if the debtor is a corporation ..., of a provision prohibiting the issuance of nonvoting equity securities, and providing, as to the several classes of securities possessing voting power, an appropriate distribution of such power among such classes, including, in the case of any class of equity securities having a preference over another class of equity securities with respect to dividends, adequate provisions for the election of directors representing such preferred class in the event of default in the payment of such dividends."

Chapter 11

The Plan specifies that the Debtor's bylaws will be amended to include the requisite language set forth above. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(6).

9. Section 1123(a)(7)

Section 1123(a)(7) requires that the Plan's provisions with respect to the selection of officers and directors be consistent with public policy and the interests of creditors and equity security holders.

The Reorganized Debtor will be managed by the sole shareholder, general manager, President and CEO, Alfredo Barajas, and Mr. Barajas' wife, Elizabeth Zarate (together, the "Insiders"). The Insiders will receive compensation for their management services as set forth in paragraph 15 of the Declaration of Alfredo Barajas (the "Barajas Decl.") filed in support of the Confirmation Brief. In addition, non-insider employee Bianca Bugarin will be responsible for all financial matters. The Insiders and Ms. Bugarin have extensive experience in the daily management of the Debtor. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(7).

10. Section 1123(a)(8)

Section 1123(a)(8) which imposes certain requirements upon individual debtors, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(2)

Section 1129(a)(2) requires that the "proponent of the plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." The Court finds that the Plan Proponents have:

- 1) Obtained Court approval of a Disclosure Statement in accordance with § 1125 (see "Order Approving Disclosure Statement and Setting Hearing on Confirmation of Plan" [Doc. No. 358]);
- 2) Obtained Court approval of the employment of professional persons (see "Order Granting Application by Debtor-In-Possession to Employ Trojan and Company Accountancy Corporation as Special General Certified Public Accountant" [Doc. 3) Filed monthly operating reports.

Accordingly, the Plan Proponents have satisfied the requirements of § 1129(a)(2).

Section 1129(a)(3) requires that the "plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law." As one court has explained:

The term 'good faith' in the context of 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3) is not statutorily defined but has been interpreted by case law as referring to a plan that 'achieves a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code.' 'The requisite good faith determination is based on the totality of the circumstances.'

In re Melcher, 329 B.R. 865, 876 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2005) (internal citations omitted).

As discussed in section II.A.1 above, the Plan seeks objectives that are consistent with those of the Bankruptcy Code and the Plan Proponents have complied with the requirements of the Code throughout this case. The Court rejects the People's contentions and finds that the Plan was proposed in good faith. Section 1129(a)(3) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(a)(4)

Section 1129(a)(4) requires that "[a]ny payment made or to be made by the proponent, by the debtor, or by a person issuing securities or acquiring property under the plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of, the court as reasonable."

The Plan provides that all professional fees are subject to review by the Court. The plan satisfies § 1129(a)(4).

SECTION 1129(a)(5)

Section 1129(a)(5) requires that the Plan disclose "the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the Plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint Plan with the debtor, or a successor to the debtor under the Plan." requires that the appointment to or continuation in office of a director or officer be consistent with the interests of creditors, equity security holders, and public policy. Section 1129(a)(5)(B) requires the Plan proponent to disclose the identity of any insider to be employed by the reorganized debtor.

The Plan discloses that Mr. Barajas, an insider, will continue to serve as the Debtor's president and chief executive officer subsequent to confirmation. The Plan further discloses that Ms. Burgin, a non-insider employee, will be responsible for all financial matters of the Debtor subsequent to confirmation. The Barajas Decl. filed in support of the Plan and Disclosure Statement disclose the identities, relationships, roles and post-confirmation compensation of five additional insider employees. The Plan discloses that a Liquidating Trust will be created on the Effective Date and that Nigel Hamer as the Liquidating Trustee. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(5).

SECTION 1129(a)(6)

Section 1129(a)(6), which requires that a governmental regulatory commission with jurisdiction over rates charged by a debtor approve any rate changes provided for in the plan, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(7)

Section 1129(a)(7), known as the "best interests of creditors test," provides in relevant part: "With respect to each impaired class of claims or interests, each holder of a claim or interest of such class has accepted the plan; or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of this title on such date."

Classes 1-10, 12, 13 and 15 are unimpaired and are deemed to have accepted the Plan. Classes 11 and 14 have accepted the Plan. See Ballot Summary [Doc. No. 434]. Section 1129(a)(7) is satisfied because all classes of creditors have accepted the Plan.

SECTION 1129(a)(8)

Section 1129(a)(8) requires each class to accept the Plan, unless the class is not impaired.

Classes 1-10, 12, 13 and 15 are unimpaired and are deemed to have accepted the Plan. Classes 11 and 14 have accepted the Plan. See Ballot Summary [Doc. No. 434]. Section 1129(a)(8) is satisfied because all classes of creditors have accepted the Plan.

SECTION 1129(a)(9)

Section 1129(a)(9) requires that holders of certain administrative and priority claims receive cash equal to the allowed claim amount of their claims on the effective date of the plan, unless the claimant agrees to different treatment.

The Plan provides for the payment of administrative claims and the priority tax claims of the Franchise Tax board and Los Angeles County Tax Collector in full on or before the Effective Date. Class 10 consists of priority unsecured wage claims. Pursuant to an order of this Court, the Debtor paid the priority unsecured wage claims in full after the commencement of this case. See Barajas Decl., ¶ 24; "Order Granting Emergency Motion of Debtor and Debtor-In-Possession for an Order Authorizing Debtor-In-Possession to Pay Pre-Petition Payroll and Related Payroll Taxes and to Honor Pre-Petition Employment Procedures" [Doc. No. 28].

As discussed above in section II.A.2, the People have not established entitlement to an Administrative Claim for penalties pursuant to § 503(b). Accordingly, the Plan need to provide for such claim.

The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(9).

SECTION 1129(a)(10)

Section 1129(a)(10) requires that "at least one class of claims that is impaired under the plan has accepted the plan, determined without including any acceptance of the plan by any insider."

Classes 11 and 14 are impaired, do not consist of insiders, and have accepted the Plan. Section 1129(a)(10) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(a)(11)

Section 1129(a)(11), known as the "feasibility requirement," requires the Court to find that "[c]onfirmation of the plan is not likely to be followed by the liquidation, or the need for further financial reorganization, of the debtor or any successor to the debtor under the plan, unless such liquidation or reorganization is proposed in the plan."

The Debtor has sufficient cash on hand to pay the amounts that are due on the Effective Date. Based upon its review of the budget projections included with the Disclosure Statement, the Court finds that confirmation is not likely to be followed by liquidation or the need for further financial reorganization. The Court has overruled the People's objections on this ground for the reasons set forth above in section II.A.3.

The Plan is feasible and satisfies § 1129(a)(11).

SECTION 1129(a)(12)

Section 1129(a)(12) requires that the Debtor pay all United States Trustee fees prior to confirmation or provide for payment of those fees on the effective date.

To the Court's knowledge, UST fees are current. Section 1129(a)(12) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(a)(13)

Section 1129(a)(13), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of retirement benefits, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(14)

Section 1129(a)(14), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of domestic support obligations, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(15)

Section 1129(a)(15), which imposes certain requirements upon individual debtors, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(16)

Section 1129(a)(16) provides: "All transfers of property under the plan shall be made in accordance with any applicable provisions of nonbankruptcy law that govern the transfer of property by a corporation or trust that is not a moneyed, business, or commercial corporation or trust."

The Plan provides that on the Effective Date, all claims arising under 11 U.S.C. § 542 et seq., together with any and all other claims (the "Adversarial Claims") which may be made against Debtor's insiders (as defined by Title 11 of the United States Code), shall vest exclusively in a Liquidating Trust in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law, and confers standing to pursue such Adversarial Claims upon the liquidating trustee. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(16).

SECTION 1129(b)

Section 1129(b), which contains requirements for cram-down, does not apply. All impaired classes (Classes 11 and 14) have accepted the Plan.

SECTION 1129(c)

Section 1129(c), which states that the court may confirm only one plan in a particular case, is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(d)

Section 1129(d) provides: "Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, on request of a party in interest that is a governmental unit, the court may not confirm a Plan if the principal purpose of the Plan is the avoidance of taxes or the avoidance of the application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933."

No governmental unit has requested that the court not confirm the Plan on the grounds that the Plan's purpose is the avoidance of taxes or application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1944. The Plan satisfies § 1129(d).

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Plan is confirmed. The Court will conduct a post-confirmation status report on April 10, 2019. The Debtor is directed to file a post-confirmation status report 14-days prior to the hearing.

The Debtor shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing. The confirmation order shall include a provision incorporating the injunction contemplated in the Settlement Agreement.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Jessica Vogel at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: The Court presumes the People's contentions regarding violations of California law mirror the claims pled in its state court complaint. However, those claims have not been finally adjudicated in the People's favor and the Debtor continues to dispute that its conduct violated California law. Accordingly, even if the Court presumes the claims pled in the state court complaint are the same state court violations issue here, there is insufficient evidence before this Court to conclude that the Debtor's post-petition employment practices violated California law.

Docket 419

Tentative Ruling:

12/11/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Motion to Assume Non-Residential Lease of Real Property Located at 425 Quay Avenue, Wilmington, CA 90744 Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 365 [Doc. No. 419] (the "Assumption Motion")
2. Notice of Assumption Motion [Doc. No. 420]
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and Debtor in Possession, Pac Anchor Transportation, Inc., consisting of the Merger of Pac Anchor Transportation, Inc., and Green Anchor Lines, Inc., (the "Debtor") seeks authorization to assume the non-residential lease of real property located at 425 Quay Avenue, Wilmington, CA 90744 (the "Property") pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 365. The Debtor and Prologis USLV New CA 4, LLC as successor in interest to KTR Southbay VII LLC ("Landlord") are parties to the lease agreement, pursuant to which the Landlord leases the Property to the Debtor (the "Lease"). The Debtor states that it currently rents office space and an industrial lot on the Property, which it uses as its principal place of business. The Lease commenced on June 1, 2013 and it set to expire on September 30, 2020. The Debtor is current on payments and has not defaulted under the Lease. The current deadline for the Debtor to assume or reject the Lease is December 31, 2018.

The Debtor seeks to assume the Lease only if the Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan") is confirmed. The hearing on Plan confirmation is set concurrently with the hearing on this Assumption Motion. In the event the Plan is confirmed, the Debtor will need use of the Property to operate its business and perform the terms of the Plan. If the Plan is not confirmed, the Debtor will evaluate whether the Lease is necessary to its reorganization efforts.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

"[T]he trustee, subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." 11 U.S.C. § 365(a). "A motion to assume or reject is a summary proceeding, 'intended to efficiently review the trustee's or debtor's decision to adhere to or reject a particular contract in the course of the swift administration of the bankruptcy estate.'" 3-365 Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 365.03[2] (Alan N. Resnick & Henry J. Sommer eds., 16th ed. 2017) (quoting Orion Pictures Corp. v. Showtime Networks (In re Orion Pictures Corp.), 4 F.3d 1095, 1098 (2d Cir. 1993)). Under § 365, the Court may authorize the assumption or rejection of an unexpired lease by the trustee if the trustee's rationale for maintaining the contract is supported by sound business judgment and not premised on "bad faith, whim or caprice." In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc., 476 F.3d 665, 669–70 (9th Cir. 2007); Lubrizol Enterprises, Inc. v. Richmond Metal Finishers, Inc., 756 F.2d 1043, 1046-1047 (4th Cir. 1985). In reviewing a trustee's decision to assume or reject a lease, the bankruptcy court "need engage in only a cursory review of" the decision. Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d at 669 (internal citations omitted). "Thus, in evaluating the [debtor's decision], the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate." Id.

Applying the business judgment rule, the Court approves the Debtor's decision to assume the Lease. The Lease is necessary to the Debtor's operation, and the Court finds that the Debtor's decision to assume the Lease is a prudent exercise of the Debtor's business judgment.

Docket 421

Tentative Ruling:

12/11/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Motion to Assume Non-Residential Lease of Real Property Located at 100 Oceangate, Suite 1450, Long Beach, CA 90802 Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 365 [Doc. No. 421] (the "Assumption Motion")
2. Notice of Assumption Motion [Doc. No. 422]
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and Debtor in Possession, Pac Anchor Transportation, Inc., consisting of the Merger of Pac Anchor Transportation, Inc., and Green Anchor Lines, Inc., (the "Debtor") seeks authorization to assume the non-residential lease of real property located at 100 Oceangate, Suite 1450 Long Beach, CA 90802 (the "Property") pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 365. The Debtor and 100 Oceangate, LLC ("Landlord") are parties to the lease agreement, pursuant to which the Landlord leases the Property to the Debtor (the "Lease"). The Debtor states that it currently rents office space on the Property, which it uses to conduct its office and administrative operations. The Lease commenced on June 1, 2017 and it set to expire on July 31, 2021. The Debtor is current on payments and has not defaulted under the Lease. The current deadline for the Debtor to assume or reject the Lease is December 31, 2018.

The Debtor seeks to assume the Lease only if the Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan") is confirmed. The hearing on Plan confirmation is set concurrently with the hearing on this Assumption Motion. In the event the Plan is confirmed, the Debtor will need use of the Property to operate its business and perform the terms of the Plan. If the Plan is not confirmed, the Debtor will evaluate whether the Lease is necessary to its reorganization efforts.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

"[T]he trustee, subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." 11 U.S.C. § 365(a). "A motion to assume or reject is a summary proceeding, 'intended to efficiently review the trustee's or debtor's decision to adhere to or reject a particular contract in the course of the swift administration of the bankruptcy estate.'" 3-365 Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 365.03[2] (Alan N. Resnick & Henry J. Sommer eds., 16th ed. 2017) (quoting Orion Pictures Corp. v. Showtime Networks (In re Orion Pictures Corp.), 4 F.3d 1095, 1098 (2d Cir. 1993)). Under § 365, the Court may authorize the assumption or rejection of an unexpired lease by the trustee if the trustee's rationale for maintaining the contract is supported by sound business judgment and not premised on "bad faith, whim or caprice." In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc., 476 F.3d 665, 669–70 (9th Cir. 2007); Lubrizol Enterprises, Inc. v. Richmond Metal Finishers, Inc., 756 F.2d 1043, 1046-1047 (4th Cir. 1985). In reviewing a trustee's decision to assume or reject a lease, the bankruptcy court "need engage in only a cursory review of" the decision. Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d at 669 (internal citations omitted). "Thus, in evaluating the [debtor's decision], the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate." Id.

Applying the business judgment rule, the Court approves the Debtor's decision to assume the Lease. The Lease is necessary to the Debtor's operation, and the Court finds that the Debtor's decision to assume the Lease is a prudent exercise of the Debtor's business judgment.

4. The People may present arguments in reply to the Opposition at the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and Debtor in Possession, Pac Anchor Transportation, Inc., consisting of the merger of Pac Anchor Transportation, Inc., and Green Anchor Lines, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on July 6, 2017 (the "Petition Date"). A hearing on confirmation of the Debtor and the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' (the "Committee," and together with the Debtor, the "Proponents" or "Plan Proponents") Joint Proposed Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization [Doc. No. 282] (the "Plan") is presently scheduled for December 12, 2018 at 10:00 a.m. The People of the State of California, ex rel Attorney General Xavier Becerra (the "People") oppose confirmation of the Plan.

Since the outset of this case, the People have been the primary and now sole objector to the Debtor's efforts to reorganize its affairs. On November 14, 2018, this Court entered an Order approving a settlement between the Debtor, the Debtor's principals, the Committee, and representatives of a body of truck drivers in a pending class action (the "Class Claimants") [Doc. No. 413]. The Court also sustained Debtor's objection to the People's Proofs of Claim 12 and 13 and overruled the People's objection to the Class Claimants' Proof of Claim 14 (the "Class Claim") [Doc. Nos. 414, 415, and 416].

On November 9, 2018, the People responded by filing a second objection to the Class Claim [Doc. Nos. 400, 401, 402 and 403] (the "Second Objection"), which necessitated the Debtor filing a motion to estimate and temporarily allow the Class Claim for plan confirmation voting purposes and requesting a hearing on shortened notice [Doc. Nos. 406, 407 and 408] (the "Estimation Motion"). After the Court granted that request and set a hearing for November 21, 2018, the People withdrew the Second Objection [Doc. No. 430], thereby mooting Estimation Motion.

On November 30, 2018, the People filed an Administrative Proof of Claim asserting a claim for a priority administrative expense claim in the estimated amount of $4,000,000 for civil penalties pursuant to California Business & Professions Code section 17206 [Doc. No. 452-1] (the "Administrative Claim"). On December 3, 2018, the Court issued an Order (1) Deeming Briefing Submitted by the People of the State of California to Constitute a Motion for Determination of the Allowability of the People's Administrative Claim and (2) Setting Motion for Hearing on December 12, 2018, at 10:00 a.m., Concurrently with the Hearing on the Debtor's Confirmation Motion [Doc. No. 453]. As set forth in that Order, the Court explained:

- 1) The People incorrectly assert that the Administrative Claim is deemed allowed unless an interested party objects. Claims filed under § 501 are deemed allowed absent an objection; however, "[a]dministrative priority claims under § 503(b)(1)(A) are held to a stricter standard. Because they must be presented to the court by motion, they are not deemed allowed as priority claims." Bofuff v. Cook Inlet Energy LLC (In re Cook Inlet Energy LLC), 583 B.R. 494, 501 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2018); see also § 503(b)(1) (providing that administrative expense claims are allowable only after notice and a hearing).
- 2) The People attach extensive briefing in support of the allowability of the Administrative Claim. The Court deems the briefing to constitute a motion requesting allowability of the Administrative Claim.
- 3) Opposition to the allowability of the Administrative Claim must be filed by no later than December 6, 2018. The People may present arguments in reply to any opposition at the hearing.
- 4) The Court has previously found that if the Plan is not confirmed in 2018, the Debtor could potentially accrue additional tax liability of approximately $300,000. This reality necessitates a shortened briefing schedule on the issue of the allowability of the People's Administrative Claim.

Summary of Administrative Claim Motion

The People seek allowance and payment of an estimated $4,000,000 in civil penalties as a priority administrative claim pursuant to California Business & Professions Code section 17206 and 28 U.S.C. § 959(b) based upon the Debtor's alleged post-petition violations of California Labor Code and Unemployment Insurance Code. The People's arguments are summarized as follows:

- 1) Since the inception of this bankruptcy case the Debtor has continued to misclassify and treat a number of its employee drivers as "independent contractors" in violation of California law. As a result, the Debtor has failed to pay unemployment insurance and employment training and fund taxes, and to withhold state disability and income taxes, or provide workers' compensation to its drivers. This has benefitted the Debtor in an approximate amount of $2,500,000.

- 2) Each violation carries with it a mandatory civil penalty of up to $2,500 (Bus. & Prof. Code § 17206(b)). The actual amount of any civil penalties imposed is within the Court's discretion.
- 3) The People's evidence supports a finding that Debtor has continued to misclassify at least twenty-one employee drivers (and potentially as many as seventy five) as "independent contractors" under the so-called "ABC" test [Note 1] and that the violations are so egregious and numerous to support an award of $4,000,000.
- 4) The imposition of penalties is in the public's interest because the Debtor's misconduct should be sanctioned and failure to impose appropriate penalties could set a bad precedent that incentivizes employers to violate California labor laws. Further, the People have an interest in preventing any further misclassification because the Debtor's failure to pay applicable employment taxes directly harms the public coffers.

Summary of Debtor's Opposition

Debtor filed an Opposition to the Motion. The Debtor's arguments are summarized as follows:

- 1) The People have failed to carry its burden of proof. The People incorrectly conflate the term "subcontractor" with independent contractor" and, in reliance on that misassumption, makes a series of other misassumptions in support of its requested $4,000,000 penalties request.
- 2) In reality, Debtor's use of the term "subcontractor" includes "owner-operators" (drivers who own their own trucks) ("Owner Operators"), entities, and non-drivers (e.g. computer serving, maintenance on Debtor's fuel pumps, and vehicle repairs).
- 3) In fact, in response to pending litigation, Debtor began converting its independent contractors to employees in May 2017 and has not used any independent contractors since September 1, 2017. Debtor has utilized some owner-operator drivers, but the People have never alleged that Debtor's use of this type of driver violates California law until now.

- 4) The Debtor's post-petition conduct demonstrates it has acted in good faith and not in violation of its debtor-in-possession duties or California law. Further, as part of its settlement with the Committee and Class Claimants, the Debtor agreed to an injunction preventing the use of independent contractors and owner-operators in the future and intends to only subcontract out work from other entities whose employment practices are consistent with the injunction to maintain its business operations.
- 5) The Administrative Claim is unsupported by any admissible evidence to support a finding that Debtor is liable for the alleged violations and the evidence offers no credible support for how the People arrived at its requested $4,000,000 penalty figure and contains several inaccurate assumptions.
- 6) The alleged penalties are not "actual and necessary expenses" under Reading, because the penalties are sought to punish the Debtor and deter others from wrong doing and provide no benefit to the estate.
- 7) The People should be barred from asserting an Administrative Claim by the doctrines of res judicata, estoppel, and laches.
- 8) Even if the Court finds that the People are entitled to an Administrative Claim, (i) the Court has the discretion to disallow the claim in full or significantly reduce the penalty amount; (ii) Debtor requests that any award of penalties be equitably subordinated.

The People's Reply

Pursuant to the Court's Order Setting Hearing on Administrative Claim, the People may present arguments in reply to the Debtor's Opposition at the hearing [Doc. No. 453].

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. Applicable Standards

Section 507(a)(2) gives priority treatment to "administrative expenses allowed under section 503(b)." Section 503(b)(1)(A) provides, in relevant part:

- (b) After notice and a hearing, there shall be allowed administrative 11 U.S.C. § 503(b)(1)(A).

In order to keep administrative costs to the estate at a minimum, "the actual, necessary costs and expenses of preserving the estate," are construed narrowly. In re DAK Indus., Inc., 66 F.3d 1091, 1094 (9th Cir. 1995). To establish an administrative expense claim, a claimant must show that the debt: (a) arose from a transaction with the debtor . . . ; and (b) directly and substantially benefitted the estate." Id.

The People assert that the Reading Exception applies in this case. In Reading Co., v. Brown, the Supreme Court addressed the allowability of an administrative claim that did not "benefit" the estate in the typical sense. 4 Collier on Bankruptcy, ¶ 503.06 (16th 2018) (citing Reading Co., v. Brown, 391 U.S. 471, 88 S. Ct. 1759, 20 L. Ed. 2d 751 (1968)). The Court held that considerations of fundamental fairness and logic required the allowance of a claim of administrative priority for damages resulting from the postpetition negligence of a receiver in a Chapter XI case because such damages were "actual and necessary costs" of administration." Id.

In Gonzalez v. Gottlieb (In re Metro Fulfillment, Inc.), 294 B.R. 306 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2003), the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel (the "BAP") applied Reading in support of its finding that penalty wages for debtor's postpetition violation of California law were entitled to administrative expense priority.

B. The People Have Not Proved By A Preponderance Of The Evidence That It Is Entitled To An Administrative Claim

1. The People have not established that the Debtor violated California law

For this Court to find that the People are entitled to an administrative claim for penalties, this Court must first determine that the Debtor's postpetition conduct violated California law. However, the People do not identify what specific California laws it believes Debtor violated. The People simply conclude that the Debtor violated

California Labor Code and Unemployment Insurance Code as a result of its alleged misclassification of drivers but provide no specific reference to which sections of the California Labor Code and Unemployment Code it contends are implicated or any specific analysis as to how the Debtor's conduct violated each of those provisions. [Note 2] On this basis alone, the Court finds that the People have not carried their burden of proof.

Additionally, the People's purported evidence does not support a finding that Debtor has continued to misclassify drivers as "independent contractors" postpetition. The People attach certain declaration testimony and the Debtor's Monthly Operating Reports ("MORs") and Plan projections to prove Debtor's culpability. The Debtor contends that the People have mischaracterized this evidence and that the People's arguments are premised upon speculation and unsupported conclusions. The Court agrees.

First, as the Debtor points out, the People appear to conclude that "subcontractor" is synonymous with "independent contractor" without adequate evidentiary support. Based upon this conflation of terms, the People contend that the Debtor's MORs -- which include a line item for payment to "subcontractors" -- establish the Debtor's postpetition misclassification of its drivers. However, in support of its Opposition, the Debtor submitted the declaration of Debtor's President and CEO, Alfredo Barajas (the "Barajas Decl.") who testifies that the Debtor's use of the term "subcontractors" includes "Owner-Operators, Entities, and non-drivers such as computer serving, maintenance on Debtor's fuel pumps, and vehicle repairs." Barajas Decl., ¶ 11. The Court finds that this sufficiently undermines the People's arguments on this point.

Second, the People rely on the testimony from Mr. Barajas describing the Debtor's post-petition use of Owner-Operator truck drivers to support its contention that the Debtor's misclassification continues. Debtor does not dispute this fact. However, the People have not identified any authority to establish that the Debtor's use of Owner-Operators violates California law. Nor have the People provided persuasive evidence to find that the Debtor's employment practices with respect to the affected Owner-Operator drivers satisfies the ABC Test such that the drivers should have been classified as employee drivers. [Note 3] employees, the People submitted the following evidence: (i) Mr. Barajas testimony from 2009, 2017 and 2018 describing the Debtor's employment practices [Exhibit 1]; (ii) a copy of an "Independent Contractor Transportation Agreement" [Ex. 7] (the "ICTA") and 2018 testimony from Mr. Barajas establishing that the Debtor's use of the agreement "sometime after 2013" [Ex. 1; Vol. V. pp. 602:10-603:14, 604:10-15]; and (iii) testimony from Mr. Carlos Armando Mosquera describing his experience as a past employee of the Debtor's [Ex. 3]. As discussed below, the Court finds this evidence inadequate.

With respect to the Barajas testimony, the Court finds that most of the testimony was given pre-petition, on January 29, 2009, March 24, 2017, June 21, 2017 which the Court does not find particularly helpful in establishing alleged postpetition violations in light of Debtor's testimony that it has changed its business model since filing this bankruptcy case. Mr. Barajas' postpetition testimony also does not establish by a preponderance of the evidence that the Debtor has violated California law. The People did not provide the full deposition transcript and the excerpts that were provided make it difficult to determine the context in which the People's questions were propounded. As a result, the testimony is at times vague as to whether Mr. Barajas is describing postpetition or prepetition employment practices [Note 4] and whether Mr. Barajas is describing the Debtor's employment practices with respect to all subclasses of drivers (e.g., Owner-Operators, Entities, etc.) or only with respect to employee drivers. [Note 5]

The Court similarly finds that the ICTA does not establish any postpetition violations of California law because the People have not demonstrated that any Owner-Operator drivers signed the agreement or presented any specific evidence concerning the Debtor's postpetition interactions with any Owner-Operators.

Finally, the Court does not find the Mosquera testimony useful because his testimony appears to describe his prepetition employment experience with the Debtor and there is nothing in the testimony establishing that the Debtor's supervision and control of Mr. Mosquera was identical to its supervision and control of Owner-Operator drivers.

In sum, the Court finds that the People have not submitted evidence establishing by a preponderance of the evidence that the Debtor has misclassified drivers

Chapter 11

2. The People have not submitted admissible evidence upon which this Court could quantify the alleged violations

The Court further finds that the People have failed to carry their burden of proof with respect to the number of any alleged violations. In Debtor's Opposition, the Debtor concedes that after filing for bankruptcy it began transitioning all of its independent contractors to employees through September 1, 2017, after which it states that it has not utilized any independent contractors. However, as discussed above, the People have failed to adequately establish that the Debtor misclassified these drivers in violation of California law. Further, even if the People had shown that there were postpetition misclassifications in violation, the People's evidence provides no meaningful basis for this Court to quantify the number of postpetition violations. The only evidence the People provided in support of its request for $4,000,000 in penalties is a chart prepared by the People's attorney which this Court has ordered stricken from the record pursuant to the Debtor's Evidentiary Objection as set forth below. With what is left of the record, the People ask this Court to adopt their unsupported speculations underlying the alleged violations and arbitrarily choose a penalty figure. This is something the Court is unwilling to do.

In light of this Court's prior determination that if the Plan is not confirmed in 2018, the Debtor could potentially accrue additional tax liability of approximately $300,000, the Court is not inclined to provide the People with a further opportunity to submit additional evidence. First, the People failed to file the appropriate motion for allowance of an administrative expense under § 503(b). As a result, the Court has had to characterize it as a motion in order to resolve the issues asserted in the Administrative Claim and the People's related objections to the Plan. Second, given the numerous deficiencies with the People's arguments and evidence, the Court is not confident that additional time would change the outcome. Finally, any continuance of the hearing on the Administrative Claim would necessitate continuing the Plan confirmation hearing and result in prejudice to the estate and its creditors.

For the reasons set forth above, the People's request for an Administrative Claim is denied in full.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, subject to the People's arguments in reply at the hearing, the tentative ruling is to DENY the Motion and disallow the Administrative Claim in its entirety.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Jessica Vogel at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: The ABC test presumptively considers all workers to be employees and permits workers to be classified as independent contractors only if the hiring business demonstrates that the worker in question satisfies each of three conditions: (a) that the worker is free from the control and direction of the hirer in connection with the performance of the work, both under the contract for the performance of the work and in fact; and (b) that the worker performs work that is outside the usual course of the hiring entity's business; and (c) that the worker is customarily engaged in an independently established trade, occupation, or business of the same nature as that involved in the work performed. *Dynamex Operations W., Inc. v. Note 2: The Court presumes the People's contentions regarding violations of California labor law mirror the claims pled in its state court complaint. However, those claims have not been finally adjudicated in the People's favor and the Debtor continues to dispute that its conduct violated California law. Accordingly, even if the Court presumes the claims pled in the state court complaint are the same state court violations issue here, there is insufficient evidence before this Court to conclude that the Debtor's post-petition employment practices violated California law.

Note 3: The People rely on Dynamex Operations West, Inc. v. Superior Ct., 3 Cal. 5th 903, 912 (Cal. 2018) in support of its contention that the Debtor bears the burden to establish that the drivers were properly classified as independent contractors and/or Owner-Operators. While Dynamex might control which party has the burden of proof in establishing liability under state law, under 11 U.S.C. § 503(b), the burden is on the People to establish their entitlement to an administrative claim.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Fu Kong Inc. (the "Debtor"), filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 26, 2018 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor is an importer, wholesaler, and designer of women's apparel under the brands "Lu Lu" and "Shu Shu." The Debtor has 29 years of experience in the industry and has created designs and sold women's apparel under various labels to high end retailers such as Nordstrom, Saks, Lord & Taylor, Dillard's, Macy's, and Stein Mart. Lillian Yu-Li Hsu is the Debtor's president, sole shareholder, and sole director; George Hsu was, until his termination on August 1, 2018, the Debtor's secretary.

The Petition was precipitated by the Debtor's recent cash flow problems due to a slowdown in business in the last three to six months, and a delayed shipment due to production issues in China which delay resulted in a number of the Debtor's customers to cancel orders. The Debtor's ability to generate income was also interfered with for a few weeks due to the father of George Hsu having an emergency health issue.

On June 1, 2018, the Debtor's secured lender, Cathay Bank (the "Secured Lender"), filed a lawsuit against the Debtor in Los Angeles Superior Court, Case No. KC070342 (the "State Court Action"), for failing to make payments on a business loan, seeking possession of the Debtor's assets and appointment of a receiver, foreclosure of the commercial warehouse leased by the Debtor, and foreclosure of Lillian and George Hsu's principal residence. Other of the Debtor's creditors have also recently began attempting to collect debts.

On July 9, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Motion for Order: (1) Authorizing Debtor to Use Cash Collateral; (2) Granting Adequate Protection to Secured Creditors" (the "Emergency Cash Collateral Motion") [Doc. No. 11]. The Debtor submitted the "Original Budget" [Doc. No. 11, Ex. 1] in connection with the Emergency Cash Collateral Motion. On July 13, 2018, the Court held a hearing on the Emergency Cash Collateral Motion, and on July 16, 2018, the Court entered the "Order (1) Authorizing Debtor to Use Cash Collateral On An Interim Basis Through and Including August 9, 2018, (2) Granting Adequate Protection to Cathay Bank, and (3) Setting Continued Hearing on the Further Interim Use of Cash Collateral" (the "Interim Order") [Doc. No. 21]. Pursuant to the Interim Order, on July 16, 2018, the Debtor made an adequate protection payment in the amount of $6,780.32 to Cathay Bank. "Declaration of George Hsu" (the "Hsu Declaration") [Doc. No. 40] at ¶ 13¹ [Note 1].

The Renewed Cash Collateral Motion

On July 26, 2018, the Debtor filed the "Motion for Order Authorizing Further Interim Use of Cash Collateral" (the "Renewed Cash Collateral Motion") [Doc. No. 40].

The Secured Lender is the holder of a promissory note in the total current amount of $1,574,163.00 (the "Loan"), secured by the Debtor's assets including inventory and accounts receivable. The Secured Lender's Loan is also secured by two real properties: (1) the Loan is secured by a second deed of trust on the Debtor's principals' residence located at 1324 N. Vosburg Dr., Azusa, CA 91702 (the "Vosburg Property"), which was appraised at $1.225 million on September 20, 2017, with approximately $975,000.00 in equity to satisfy the Loan; and (2) the Loan is secured by a second deed of trust on the industrial warehouse leased by the Debtor located at 2455 Lee Avenue, S. El Monte, CA 91733 (the "El Monte Property"), which was appraised at $2.0 million as of July 22, 2018, see "Declaration of Tony Hwang" (the "Hwang Declaration") [Doc. No. 40], Ex. 3, with approximately $941,919.35 in equity. Based on these figures, the Secured Lender is protected by equity in the approximate amount of $1,916,919.35 on the $1,574,163.00 principal balance of the Loan.

The Debtor has four additional working capital lenders that each have UCC-1 security interests in the Debtor's assets and accounts receivable: (1) Funding Metrics, LLC; (2) Landing Club Corp; (3) Wide Merchant Investment Inc.; and (4) Yellowstone Capital West, LLC (collectively, the "Capital Secured Creditors").

As of July 26, 2018, the Debtor has $11,761.91 in cash, and the Debtor anticipates that as of August 10, 2018, the Debtor will have approximately $18,949.91 in cash. Renewed Cash Collateral Motion at 7. The Debtor seeks authorization to continue to use the cash collateral in accordance with the "Amended Budget", see Hsu Declaration, Ex. 1, for the period of August 10, 2018 through and including December 31, 2018. Beginning in September or October 2018, the Debtor projects up to $100,000.00 to $200,000.00 in monthly gross revenue at a 15% to 20% profit margin through selling custom fabrics. The Debtor additionally submits further documentation to support the income projections in the Amended Budget. See Renewed Cash Collateral Motion, Ex. 5 ("Purchase Orders and Documentation Supporting Income Projections"). These documents purport to show that the Debtor has received $438,952.40 in purchase orders, with an additional $53,400.00 in pending purchase orders; however, the Amended Budget projects $850,000.00 in income for the period of August through December 2018 "because Debtor believes it will be able to generate such income." Renewed Cash Collateral Motion at 12; Hsu Declaration at ¶ 34. Just over half of the purchase orders, which total $438,952.40, consist of certain unsigned purchase orders by Pacico, Inc., dated July 26, 2018, which orders collectively total $298,200.00. See Renewed Cash Collateral Motion, Ex. 5. The Debtor further states that its belief in this regard is based on the Debtor anticipating large purchase orders from Intex Usa, Inc., and Casual Express Apparel, Inc. Id.

The Amended Budget represents the Debtor's best estimate of the necessary business expenses; however, because the needs of the business may fluctuate, the Debtor requests authority to deviate from the total expenses contained in the Amended Budget by no more than 20% and to deviate by expense category without the need for further court order. The Amended Budget reflects certain changes in response to the Court's Interim Cash Collateral Order. Among these changes, the Amended Budget: (1) provides for payment of rent on the El Monte Property in the amount of $5,000.00 per month, reduced from $10,000.00 per month in the Original Budget; (2) does not include a line item for payment of property tax on the El Monte Property, because the lessors are responsible for payment of such taxes; (3) the line item for "Auto Expense" is reduced to $500 per month, which the Debtor explains is a car allowance paid by the Debtor to Lillian Hsu for the business use of her personal car, see Renewed Cash Collateral Motion at 9; (4) includes a line item for "Commission" in varying amounts for each of the months August through December 2018, which expense is necessary to pay the Debtor's "road representatives" who travel to various stores around the country to promote and sell the Debtor's products, see id. at 10; and (5) includes a line item for "Wages" in the amount of $26,000.00, which expense is necessary to pay the Debtor's Principals, and which will only be paid after the expiration of the 15-day period required for insider compensation, see id. at 11 (on July 25, 2018 the Debtor filed the "Notice of Setting/Increasing Insider Compensation" for each of the Debtor's Principals, see Doc. Nos. 35, 36).

The Debtor contends that the use of cash collateral is necessary to continue business operations. The Debtor states that, based on the figures set forth above, the Secured Lender is adequately protected by the Debtor's inventory (which, according to the Debtor, has an approximate value of $1.4 million), the equity in the Vosburg Property and the El Monte Property, and has an equity cushion of approximately 21.77%. The Debtor disputes the appraisal figures relied on by the Secured Lender in its Opposition to the Emergency Cash Collateral Motion [Doc. No. 18], wherein the Secured Lender contends that its loan is not fully secured. The Debtor contends that the Secured Lender's respective appraisals of the Vosberg Property and the El Monte Property, which were based on exterior viewings, are less reliable than the Debtor's respective appraisals, which were based on full inspections. Compare "Declaration of Glenn W. Lee" (the "Lee Declaration") [Doc. No. 18] at ¶ 4, and "Declaration of Thomas C. Anderson" (the "Anderson Declaration") [Doc. No. 18] at ¶ 4 (Secured Lender's appraisals), with "Declaration of Frank Avina" [Doc. No. 40] at ¶ 2 & Ex. 2, and Hwang Declaration, Ex. 3 (Debtor's appraisal of the El Monte Property as of July 22, 2018). Based on its appraisal figures, the Debtor further contends that it should not be required to make any further adequate protection payments to the Secured Lender. Additionally, the Debtor states that the Secured Lender and the Capital Secured Creditors are adequately protected by the Debtor's continued business operations because the Debtor will continue to generate revenue and preserve the business.

The Renewed Opposition

On August 2, 2018, the Secured Lender filed the "Further Opposition of Creditor, Cathay Bank to [the Renewed Cash Collateral Motion]" (the "Renewed Opposition") [Doc. No. 46]. The Secured Lender opposes further use of the cash collateral by the Debtor. According to the Renewed Opposition, as of June 29, 2018, the total owing on the Loan is $1,589,689.04. Both the Vosburg Property and the El Monte Property are owned by Lillian and George Hsu. Renewed Opposition at 4. In addition to the Loan to the Debtor, the Secured Lender has made two additional loans to the Hsus, personally: a home equity line of credit secured by a first deed of trust on the Vosburg Property, and a commercial real estate loan secured by a first deed of trust on the El Monte Property. The Debtor defaulted on the Loan after failing to make the payment due on February 18, 2018. The Loan matured on June 18, 2018.

On June 1, 2018, the Secured Lender commenced the State Court Action, and on June 5, 2018, the State Court entered a temporary restraining order and an order to show cause re: appointment of receiver. During the period from the issuance of the TRO on June 5, 2018, through June 26, 2018, the Secured Lender experienced significant difficulties in its attempts to get the Debtor's compliance with the TRO. Such difficulties included, among other things, multiple delays by the Debtor's principals of the field examination of the Debtor's records, and the Debtor's failure to produce certain documents requested by the Secured Lender. The hearing on the State Court OSC was set for June 27, 2018, and on June 26, 2018, the State Court entered its tentative ruling granting the receivership and related relief. The Debtor filed the Petition shortly thereafter.

The Secured Lender points out the following discrepancies with respect to the Renewed Cash Collateral Motion, the Debtor's Schedules, and certain past representations made to the Secured Lender:

- (1) Schedule A/B, ¶ 11, lists the amount of accounts receivable as $3,250.00; however, in written financial statements provided by the Debtor to the Secured Lender pre-petition, the Debtor represented that as of December 31, 2017, it had $1,200,370.78 in accounts receivable. The Secured Lender argues that the Debtor has failed to explain this discrepancy. Furthermore, at the 341(a) meeting of creditors on August 1, 2018, Ms. Hsu testified that the December 31, 2017 financial statements were inaccurate. Supplemental Bloom Declaration at ¶ 4(a).

- (2) The Debtor's Statement of Financial Affairs, Part 1, states that the gross sales of the Debtor in 2017 totaled "$1,200,00.00" [sic]; however, in the 2017 Financial Statements provided to the Secured Lender, the gross sales of the Debtor were stated as $6,250,267.00. Renewed Opposition at 5. The Secured Lender argues that based on the Debtor's failure to explain this discrepancy, it continues to appear that either the 2017 signed financial statement given by the Debtor to the Secured Lender, or the Debtor's Schedules, are fraudulent. Id.

The Renewed Opposition further contends that, notwithstanding the changes to the Amended Budget as compared to the Original Budget, the Amended Budget is unrealistic based on the disparity between the Amended Budget's projections and the Debtor's past performance. The Debtor's 2016 tax return shows that the Debtor had gross sales in the amount of $6,167,200.00, and reported cost of goods sold of $4,783,280.00 (77.6% cost of goods). The Debtor's unaudited 2017 Financial statements show that the Debtor had gross sales in the amount of $6,250,267.00, and reported cost of goods sold of $4,898,057.00 (78.4% cost of goods). In contrast, the Amended Budget projects gross sales of $850,000.00, with a projected cost of goods sold of 60.06% of the projected gross sales. The Renewed Opposition raises additional issues regarding the assumption in the Budget that the Debtor will be able to obtain new credit, as well as significant discrepancies between the Debtor's net profit before taxes in 2016 and 2017 (.9% and 1.7% of gross sales, respectively), and the projected net profit before taxes of 30.7% of gross sales in the Budget. Furthermore, the Opposition contends that the Amended Budget is not supported by sufficient documentation or business records. Specifically, the Secured Lender argues that the newly provided "purchase orders" from Pacico, Inc., are not signed, and fail to set forth material provisions such as payment terms, delivery terms, and cancellation terms. Furthermore, the Pacico purchase orders only account for part of the $855,000.00 in projected sales, without any documentation to support the remaining projections. Previously, the Secured Lender discovered that the Debtor "maintained no general ledger and that no accounts receivable ageings were available, no inventory ageings were available, and the Debtor's accounts payable ageings appear[ed] to be highly inaccurate" "Declaration of Margaret Waye" ("Waye Declaration") [Doc. No. 18] at ¶¶ 16, 20, 21, 22. The Renewed Opposition also contends that the Debtor still has not provided sufficient information with respect to the lease of the El Monte Property

Lastly, the Renewed Opposition contends that the Secured Lender's interest in the collateral is not adequately protected. The Secured Lender disputes the Debtor's valuation of the Vosburg Property and El Monte Property. First, the Secured Lender points out that the Court previously rejected the Debtor's appraisal of the Vosburg Property, yet the Debtor submits the same appraisal in support of the Renewed Cash Collateral Motion. Thus, the Secured Lender contends that based on the its appraisal of the Vosburg Property on May 7, 2018, the Vosburg Property has a value of $978,000.00, leaving gross equity in the amount of $696,258.71 (including a reduction for delinquent property taxes). Regarding the El Monte Property, the Secured Lender argues that the Debtor's appraisal inflates the value of the El Monte Property by simply adding $200,000.00 to $250,000.00 in adjustments to the comparable sales. Additionally, the Secured Lender discovered that there is an additional third deed of trust in the amount of over $1 million recorded against the El Monte Property, which means that the encumbrances greatly exceed the amount of any appraisal.

The Reply

The Debtor filed the Reply to the Renewed Opposition on August 6, 2018 (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 48]. At the outset, the Debtor admits the misconduct of its now-former secretary, George Hsu, who provided false financial information to the Secured Lender pre-petition. The Debtor states that George Hsu has been removed, and that the Debtor is committed to maintaining accurate business records moving forward. Lillian Hsu disclaims having any knowledge of the actions taken by George Hsu regarding the financial statement provided to the Secured Lender pre-petition. The Reply submits additional evidence in support of the Renewed Cash Collateral Motion including, among other evidence: the Declaration of Lillian Hsu (the "L. Hsu Declaration"); signed purchase orders from Pacico, Inc., see L. Hsu Declaration, Exhibit 1; and further documentation to substantiate the list of received purchase orders and projected sales, see id., Exhibit 2. The Debtor explains that it anticipates large purchase orders being made by Intex USA, Inc. ("Intex") and Casual Express Apparel Inc. ("Casual Express") in the near future, which orders will account for the difference between the total amount of the received purchase orders and the Debtor's projection of gross income. The Reply contends that the Secured Lender's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected by the equity in the Vosburg Property and the El Monte Property, the Debtor's business operations, and the approximately $1.4 million in inventory. The Debtor argues that the Debtor's appraisals of each of the Properties are superior to those submitted by the Secured Lender, and that calculation of equity for the purpose of determining adequate protection should be based on the Debtor's appraisals.

The Evidentiary Objections

On August 8, 2018, the Secured Lender filed the "Evidentiary Objections to the Reply Declarations Submitted by Debtor Fu Kong, Inc. In Support of its Motion to Use Cash Collateral" (the "Evidentiary Objections") [Doc. No. 49]. The Secured Lender objects (on various grounds) to the Declaration of Lillian Hsu and the Declaration of George Hsu, submitted in support of the Reply.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

The Evidentiary Objections

For the reasons set forth below, the Secured Lender's Evidentiary Objections to the Declaration of Lillian Hsu and the Declaration of George Hsu are OVERRULED. To the extent the Secured Lender objects based on the respective declarations containing numerous statements that end with "to the best of my knowledge," "to the best of my knowledge, information, and belief," or any similar variation, the Court finds the objections lack merit. Additionally, the Court finds that as officers of the Debtor (in the case of George Hsu, a former officer of the Debtor), the Hsu's have the requisite personal knowledge to testify to the Debtor's operations, and the events and circumstances that arose in the ordinary course of business. See, e.g., Stuart v. UNUM Life Ins. Co. of Am., 217 F.3d 1145, 1155 (9th Cir. 2000); Barthelemy v. Air Lines Pilots Ass'n, 897 F.2d 999, 1018 (9th Cir. 1990) (CEO's personal knowledge of various corporate activities inferred from position).

The Court further notes that to the extent that declaration testimony purports to characterize the contents of evidence set forth in the record, the Court does not rely upon such testimony. Instead the Court has independently reviewed the evidence in the record, and draws its own conclusions as to whether the proffered evidence corroborates the position advanced by its proponent.

The Renewed Cash Collateral Motion

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of Section 363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368-69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. Section 363(c)(2)(B); Section 363(e). A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988).

Here, the Court finds that the Secured Lender is not adequately protected by the equity in the Vosburg Property and the El Monte Property; therefore, the Court finds that the Debtor must make monthly adequate protection payments to the Secured Lender in the amount of $6,780.32.

First, in connection with the Emergency Cash Collateral Motion the Court accepted the Secured Lender's appraisal of the Vosburg Property; nevertheless, the Debtor still attempts to rely on its appraisal of the Vosburg Property, which the Court previously rejected. The Debtor has failed to show that the Court should reconsider its previous rejection of the appraisal. Based on the Secured Lender's Appraisal, there is only $627,678.71 of equity in the Vosburg Property.

Secondly, with respect to the El Monte Property, the Court finds that the Secured Lender's Appraisal is the most reliable valuation, particularly because of the ambiguity identified by the Secured Lender with respect to whether the Debtor's appraisal is in fact an appraisal, or just an evaluation. Therefore, the Court finds that the value of the El Monte Property is $1,630,000.00.

In sum, the Secured Lender's Loan is secured by property with available equity of $1,111,798.06, while the principal balance on the Loan is $1,589,689.04, leaving $477,890.98 unsecured by real property. The Debtor argues that the Secured Lender has recourse to the Debtor's inventory, which the Debtor claims has a value of $1.4 million; however, given the lack of documentary evidence to support the claimed value of the collateral, the Court cannot accept the Debtor's valuation of the inventory for the purposes of determining whether the Secured Lender's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. As discussed, there is not sufficient equity in the Vosburg and El Monte Properties to provide adequate protection. Therefore, the Debtor must make monthly adequate protection payments to the Secured Lender in the amount of $6,780.32.

With respect to the arguments raised by counsel for the Secured Lender at the hearing regarding the viability of the Debtor's business, such arguments are not relevant to the Court's determination of whether to authorize the Debtor to use cash collateral. Rather, in the absence of affirmative express consent by the creditor, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. Section 363(c)(2)(B); Section 363(e). The Secured Lender has not shown that its interest in the cash collateral is not adequately protected by the combination of the equity in the Vosburg and El Monte Properties, the Debtor's inventory, the monthly adequate protection payments ordered by the Court, and the deadline set by the Court for the Debtor to obtain approval of a Chapter 11 disclosure statement.

With respect to the evidence submitted in support of the Renewed Cash Collateral Motion and the Amended Budget, and having considered the Renewed Opposition filed by the Secured Lender, the Court finds that the documentation submitted with the Reply, coupled with the statements of Ms. Hsu regarding the anticipated purchase orders from Intex and Casual Express, see L. Hsu Declaration at ¶¶ 11–12, is sufficient to support the further interim use of cash collateral. The evidence submitted as Exhibit 1 to the Lillian Hsu Declaration (the signed Pacico purchase orders) is sufficient to rebut the argument of the Secured Lender with respect to the authenticity of the Pacico purchase orders. Additionally, the documentation submitted as Exhibit 2 to the Lillian Hsu Declaration is sufficient to support the Renewed Cash Collateral Motion with respect to the total amount of purchase orders received by the Debtor. While there remains a sizeable difference in the total amount of the purchase orders received ($492,352.40), and the projected gross sales ($855,000.00), the Court finds that Ms. Hsu provided sufficient information detailing the status of the Debtor's negotiations with Intex and Casual Express to support the projected gross sales.

The Secured Lender additionally argues that there are significant disparities between the Amended Budget projections and the past performance of the Debtor, however, the Court finds that the Reply offers a sufficient explanation of these discrepancies. Importantly, the Debtor explains that the disparity between the cost of goods in the past and the cost which is set forth in the Amended Budget is attributable to the inclusion of $30,000.00 per month in projected sales of existing inventory in the Amended Budget, and the Debtor maintains that it will be able to afford the cost of purchasing new goods without third party financing based on its new business model. The Debtor's new business model includes an invoicing system whereby the Debtor's customers are invoiced with 30 days for repayment, while the Debtor's suppliers invoice the Debtor with 60 to 90 days for repayment. This model allows the Debtor to collect payments from its customers before the Debtor it pays its suppliers. Thus, the Debtor has submitted sufficient documentary evidence in connection with the Reply to support the further use of cash collateral on an interim basis.

The Court notes that the Debtor has acknowledged the past misrepresentations made by its former secretary, George Hsu. The Debtor fired George Hsu on August 1, 2018, and the Court expects all future representations to be accurate. The Court takes the statements of Lillian Hsu at the 341(a) meeting of creditors, as well as in her declaration in support of the Reply that George Hsu was fired as Secretary of the Debtor on August 1, 2018, to mean that George Hsu will not play any role whatsoever in the Debtor's business operations moving forward. And to be clear, the Court expects that George Hsu will not participate in any capacity in the Debtor's ongoing business operations.

III. Conclusion

In ordering the deadlines set forth below, the Court understands there is a hearing on the Secured Lender's Motion to Appoint a Trustee or Examiner [Doc. Motion to Appoint a Trustee or Examiner.

Based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Renewed Cash Collateral Motion. The Debtor is authorized to use the cash collateral in accordance with the terms of the Amended Budget and consistent with this tentative ruling through and including October 16, 2018. The Debtor shall make monthly adequate protection payments to the Secured Creditor in the amount of $6,780.32, in accordance with the terms and dates set forth in the Parties' Loan Agreement. The Court will hold a hearing on the further use of cash collateral on October 16, 2018 at 10:00 a.m. The deadline for the Debtor to file a motion for authorization of further interim use of cash collateral is October 2, 2018. The deadline to file any written opposition to the further interim use of cash collateral is October 9, 2018. The deadline for the Debtor to obtain approval of a disclosure statement in support of a Chapter 11 plan is December 19, 2018.

The Debtor shall lodge a conforming order within seven (7) days of the hearing.

- 2) Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Response to [Motion] [Doc. No. 973]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018, Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

Debtors VHS and O'Connor Hospital ("O'Connor") seek authorization to enter into a new collective bargaining agreement (the "CBA") with the Engineers and Scientists of Local 20, IFPTE ("Local 20"). O'Connor's employee physical therapists, physical therapist assistants, occupational therapists, speech language pathologists, registered dietitians, and discharge coordinators have selected Local 20 as their exclusive representative (the "Local 20 Therapy Plus Unit"). There are approximately 45 members of the Local 20 Therapy Plus Unit. These positions are historically difficult to fill. Qualified candidates are scarce as a result of the education, training, and licensure that is required.

Certain terms of the CBA have not yet been finalized. The parties have agreed that successorship obligations shall apply in the event of a change of ownership of O'Connor. That means that a purchaser acquiring O'Connor is not required to assume the terms of the CBA. Other principle terms to which the parties have agreed include the following:

- 1) Recognition of Local 20 as the exclusive representative of the Local 20 Therapy Plus Unit.
- 2) Indemnification of O'Connor by Local 20 related to employee membership.
- 3) Prohibition on strikes and lockouts during the term of the CBA.

Terms that remain to be negotiated include wages, certain work rules, and term.

The Debtors assert that entry into the CBA is within the ordinary course of business. In the alternative, the Debtors maintain that entry into the CBA may be authorized under §§363(b)(1) and 105(a). The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors has no objection to the Motion.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(c)(1) authorizes the Debtors to enter into transactions in the ordinary course of business without notice or hearing or Court approval. The Ninth Circuit applies two tests to determine whether a transaction has been conducted in the ordinary course of business: the "horizontal" test and the "vertical" or "creditor's expectation" test. See Burlington Northern Railroad Co. v. Dant & Russell, Inc. (In re Dant & Russell, Inc.), 853 F.2d 700, 704 (9th Cir. 1988). The horizontal test "may be described as involving an industry-wide perspective in which the debtor's business is compared to other like businesses. In this comparison, the test is whether the postpetition transaction is of a type that other similar businesses would engage in as ordinary business." Id. The vertical or creditor's expectation test "views the disputed transaction 'from the vantage point of a hypothetical creditor and inquires whether the transaction subjects a creditor to economic risks of a nature different from those he accepted when he decided to extend credit.'" Id. (internal citation omitted).

Here, both the horizontal and vertical tests are satisfied. With respect to the horizontal test, agreements similar to the CBA are typical in the hospital industry. With respect to the vertical test, "[t]he touchstone of 'ordinariness' is ... the interested parties' reasonable expectations of what transactions the debtor in possession is likely to enter in the course of its business.” Dant & Russell, Inc., 853 F.2d at 705. The Debtors were engaged in negotiations with Local 20 prior to the date of the petition. Therefore, a hypothetical creditor would reasonably expect that the debtor in possession would enter into the CBA subsequent to the date of the petition.

Although the Debtors are not required to obtain Court approval to enter into the CBA, the Court will enter an order granting the Motion to provide certainty and to facilitate the parties’ negotiation of the remaining terms. Because no parties have opposed the Motion, the order shall take effect immediately upon entry, notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h).

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Debtors shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court’s tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

Debtor VHS, a California nonprofit public benefit corporation, is the sole corporate member of the following five California nonprofit public benefit corporations: O'Connor Hospital, Saint Louise Regional Hospital, St. Francis Medical Center, St. Vincent Medical Center, Seton Medical Center, and Seton Medical Center Coastside (collectively, the "Hospitals").

The Debtors in these cases include five philanthropic foundations (the "Philanthropic Foundations"), each an affiliate and supporting organization of their corresponding Hospital. The Philanthropic Foundations are O'Connor Hospital Foundation, Saint Louise Regional Hospital Foundation, St. Francis Medical Center of Lynwood Foundation, St. Vincent Foundation, and Seton Medical Center Foundation.

The Philanthropic Foundations support the philanthropic needs of their corresponding Hospitals. This enables the Hospitals to benefit from gifts, such as funds raised through grants for specified and restricted use by the Hospitals (the "Restricted Funds"). These Restricted Funds are subject to specific program limitations, which vary depending on the grant agreement.

The Philanthropic Foundations have separate bank accounts (the "Foundation Accounts") from their corresponding Hospital. Typically, the Foundations' Restricted Funds are held in the Foundation Account until released to the Hospital's Accounts Payable ("AP") account, to reimburse the Hospital for expenditures made in support of philanthropic programs.

Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtors had cut checks, payable from Hospital AP accounts, to pay various prepetition vendors (the "Prepetition Vendors") on account of services those vendors had furnished in connection with various grant programs. The Debtors seek authorization to pay a total of $443,468 in non-estate funds to the Prepetition Vendors. The Debtors' position is that the funds held in the Hospital AP accounts are not property of the estate because the Hospitals are merely acting as conduits for the funds. The Debtors file the Motion in abundance of caution because the Prepetition Vendors are creditors of the Debtors. The Debtors state that failure to pay the Prepetition Vendors would threaten the Debtors' relationship with various grant funders.

The Debtors seek authorization to pay a subgroup of eligible Prepetition Vendors (the "Vendor Subgroup") from funds approved for prepetition payments to critical vendors (the "Critical Vendors Program"). See Final Order Granting Debtors' Emergency Motion for Entry of an Order Authorizing Debtors to Honor Prepetition Obligations to Critical Vendors (the "Critical Vendor Order") [Doc. No. 436]. The Debtors had intended to pay the Vendor Subgroup prior to the Petition Date using non-estate Restricted Funds. However, those Restricted Funds were deposited in a Hospital AP account and the related checks to the Vendor Subgroup were cut, but ultimately never mailed because of the occurrence of the Petition Date. The Debtors believe that no more than $40,969 of otherwise Restricted Funds intended for the Vendor Subgroup were trapped in the Hospital AP accounts and therefore commingled with estate funds. To avoid the expense of tracing the Vendor Subgroup funds, the Debtors intend to pay the Vendor Subgroup $40,969 from funds approved for the Critical Vendor Program.

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors has no objection to the Motion.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 541(a) provides that “all legal or equitable interests of the debtor in property as of the commencement of the case” constitutes “property of the estate.” “The bankruptcy estate takes whatever interests a debtor has in property as of the petition date, subject to the same limitations and restrictions on the use of the property that existed prepetition.” In re Roman Catholic Archbishop of Portland in Oregon, 345 B.R. 686, 705 (Bankr. D. Or. 2006).

Here, the Restricted Funds do not constitute property of the estate, because those funds are held in trust by the Debtors on behalf of the Philanthropic Foundations pending distribution of the funds for purposes consistent with the mission of the Foundations. It is therefore appropriate for the Debtors to use those funds to pay the Prepetition Vendors.

In addition, courts have held that where, as here, a debtor acts as a mere conduit for certain funds, such funds do not constitute property of the estate. See, e.g., Golden Mortgage Fund #14 v. Kennedy (In re Golden Triangle Capital, Inc.), 171 B.R. 79, 82 (9th Cir. BAP 1994). The Court finds that although the Debtors have legal title to the funds, the Debtors are acting only as a conduit for the funds. The Debtors do not have unfettered discretion over how the funds are spent. Instead, the Debtors are obligated to distribute the funds only in accordance with the provisions of the various grant programs.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Debtors shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court’s tentative ruling. Chapter 7

Fuentes and Rudy E. Fuentes to First and Final Application for Award of Compensation and Reimbursement of Expenses of Robert A. Hessling, APC, as General Counsel for Trustee [Doc. No. 146] (the "Reply")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Robert A. Hessling, APC (“RAH”), general bankruptcy counsel to Chapter 7 Trustee David M. Goodrich (the “Trustee”), applies for allowance of fees of $215,763.50 and expenses of $6,602.25. The Trustee applies for fees of $21,302.58 and expenses of $526.46. Hahn Fife & Company, LLP (“Hahn Fife”), the Trustee’s accountant, applies for fees of $2,176.50 and expenses of $281.80. All fee applications are brought on a final basis.

Claims against the estate total $13,772.60. As of July 13, 2018, the estate had cash on hand of $141,446.42. To enable creditors to receive a 100% distribution, RAH has voluntarily subordinated its administrative expense claim to the claims of general unsecured creditors. To ensure that other administrative expenses are paid in full, RAH has voluntarily subordinated its administrative expense claim to the administrative claim of Hahn Fife and to Court costs and fees.

The Trustee seeks to pay $127,436.60 in administrative expenses, to be distributed as follows:

Applicant	Total Requested	Proposed Payment
Trustee Fees	$21,302.58	$10,565.97
Trustee Expenses	$526.46	$526.46
Fees for RAH	$215,763.50	$107,017.62
Expenses for RAH	$6,602.25	$6,602.25
Fees for Hahn Fife	$2,176.50	$2,176.50
Expenses for Hahn Fife	$281.80	$281.80
Court Costs	$293.00	$293.00

The Trustee proposes to pay the remaining balance of $13,772.60 to four general unsecured creditors. This payment will provide a 100% dividend to holders of allowed general unsecured claims.

Aida Fuentes (“Aida”) and her husband, Rudy Fuentes (“Rudy”) [Note 1] oppose the Trustee’s proposed distribution. [Note 2] Aida and Rudy argue that the distribution contravenes the Handbook for Chapter 7 Trustee’s directive that a “trustee shall not administer an estate or an asset in an estate where the proceeds of liquidation will primarily benefit the trustee or the professionals” Aida and Rudy contend that the fees awarded to the Trustee and the estate’s professionals should be reduced to some unspecified multiple of the distribution to general unsecured claimants, with the balance returned to Aida.

In reply, the Trustee and RAH (collectively, “Applicants”) argue that they should be commended, not condemned, for providing legal services which ultimately resulted in a 100% distribution to unsecured creditors. Applicants point out that they provided such services despite knowing that they would not receive full compensation. Applicants assert that the services were performed in furtherance of their fiduciary obligation to “collect and reduce to money the property of the estate,” §704, and were necessary only because of Aida and Rudy’s aggressive litigation strategy.

To provide context for the findings made herein, the Court describes the case history and its prior rulings in detail.

A. Case History

In 2002, Aida owned property located at 16335 East Elgenia Street, Covina, CA (the “Property”) as her sole and separate property. In July 2006, Aida married Rudy Fuentes. On September 12, 2011, Aida recorded a grant deed conveying all of her right, title, and interest in the Property to Rudy as his sole and separate property.

Aida commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on January 18, 2013. David M. Goodrich was appointed as the Trustee. On March 12, 2014, the Trustee commenced an adversary proceeding against Rudy and Aida, seeking to avoid the September 2011 transfer of the Property as actually and constructively fraudulent. See Goodrich v. Fuentes, et al., Adv. No. 2:14-ap-01159-ER. On April 30, 2015, the Court entered judgment in favor of the Trustee and against Rudy, and avoided the September 2011 transfer. See Order: (1) Granting Motion for Summary Judgment Against Defendant Rudy E. Fuentes on Third, Sixth, and Tenth Claims for Relief in Trustee’s Complaint, (2) Dismissing with Prejudice First, Second, Fourth, Fifth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Claims for Relief Against Defendant Rudy E. Fuentes in Trustee’s Complaint; and (3) Dismissing Without Prejudice Tenth Claim for Relief Against Defendant Aida Fuentes in Trustee’s Complaint [Doc. No. 61, Adv. No. 2:14-ap-01159-ER] (the “Judgment”).

With respect to the Trustee’s claim seeking turnover of the Property as against Rudy, the Court ordered that the Trustee was entitled to final judgment in his favor, but further ordered that turnover “shall be subject to Rudy’s homestead exemption in the Property and the Trustee’s acquisition of an order authorizing a sale of the Property." See Judgment at ¶3. The Judgment that avoided the September 2011 transfer is now final and non-appealable. As a result of the Judgment, Rudy has only a possessory interest in the Property.

On September 8, 2014, Rudy commenced a separate voluntary Chapter 7 petition, and claimed a $175,000 homestead exemption in the Property. Sam S. Leslie was appointed as the Trustee in Rudy's case. On December 8, 2015, Trustee Goodrich moved to disallow Rudy's homestead exemption (the "Disallowance Motion"). On February 19, 2015, the Court denied the Trustee's Disallowance Motion, finding that Rudy was entitled to an exemption of $175,000 based on his possessory interest in the Property. See Order Denying Motion of David Goodrich for Order: (1) Disallowing Homestead Exemption in Fraudulently Transferred Real Property; or (2) in the Alternative Extending Time to Object to Debtor's Homestead Exemption [Doc. No. 56, Case No. 2:14-bk-27148-ER].

The Trustee appealed the Court's denial of the Disallowance Motion to the District Court, which affirmed the Bankruptcy Court's decision. The Trustee appealed the District Court's affirmance to the Ninth Circuit. On April 17, 2017, the Ninth Circuit issued a Memorandum of Decision affirming the District Court's ruling. However, the Ninth Circuit clarified that although Rudy was entitled to a homestead exemption, that exemption was limited to his possessory interest in the Property:

In order to qualify as a "homestead" under the automatic homestead exemption, certain residency requirements must be satisfied. Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 704.710(c). If the residency requirements are satisfied, a judgment debtor can claim a homestead exemption in the interest he or she has in the property, "regardless of whether the judgment debtor's interest is a fee, leasehold, or lesser interest." Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 704.820 Law Revision Commission Comments to 1982 Addition; see also Elliott v. Weil (In re Elliott), 523 B.R. 188, 196 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2014) ("[T]he [California] automatic homestead exemption applies to any interest in the property if the debtor satisfies the continuous residency requirement.").

The parties do not dispute that [Rudy] Fuentes has satisfied these residency requirements. In addition, [Rudy] Fuentes holds a possessory interest in the Property, which is an interest in real property that California law recognizes. See, e.g., Cal. Rev. & Tax. Code § 107; Cal. Code Regs. tit. 18, § 20. Because [Rudy] Fuentes has satisfied the residency requirements, he can claim a homestead exemption in his bankruptcy for the possessory interest that he holds in the Property. However, this possessory interest can be sold by his creditors unless "no bid is received at a sale of [the possessory interest] pursuant to a court order for sale that exceeds the amount of the homestead exemption plus any additional amount necessary to satisfy all liens and encumbrances on the property" Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 704.800(a).

Further, [Rudy] Fuentes's possessory interest is still subject to all other provisions of California and federal law, which may "extinguish[] . . . [his] equitable possessory interests in the real property at issue." See Eden Place, LLC v. Perl (In re Perl), 811 F.3d 1120, 1128 (9th Cir. 2016).

Memorandum of Decision ("Ninth Circuit Memorandum") at 3–5 [Doc. No. 22, Case No. 15-56618].

In a footnote, the Ninth Circuit explained that "[Rudy] Fuentes is not guaranteed to receive any particular amount of money if any other interest (besides his possessory interest) in the Property is sold." Id. at 5. The Ninth Circuit made no statements with respect to the amount of money, if any, that Rudy was entitled to receive on account of his homestead exemption.

Aida claimed a homestead exemption in the Property in the amount of $175,000. On June 23, 2017, the Court granted the Trustee's motion to disallow Aida's homestead exemption. The Court found that, pursuant to §522(g), Aida was not entitled to a homestead exemption:

Section 522(g) provides:

Notwithstanding sections 550 and 551 of this title, the debtor may exempt under subsection (b) of this section property that the trustee recovers under section 510(c)(2), 542, 543, 550, 551, or 553 of this title, to the extent that the debtor could have exempted such property under subsection (b) of this section if such property had not been transferred, if—

- (1) (A) such transfer was not a voluntary transfer of such property by the debtor; and
(B) the debtor did not conceal such property; or
- (2) the debtor could have avoided such transfer under subsection (f)(1)(B) of this section.

"Section 522(g) ... limits the ability of a debtor to claim an exemption where the trustee has recovered property for the benefit of the estate." Hitt v.

Glass (In re Glass), 164 B.R. 759, 761 (9th Cir. BAP 1994). Its purpose "is to prevent a debtor from claiming an exemption in recovered property which was transferred in a manner giving rise to the trustee's avoiding powers, where the transfer was voluntary or where the transfer or property interest was concealed." Id. at 764.

There is no dispute that Aida voluntarily transferred the Property to Rudy prior to the petition. The Trustee obtained a judgment avoiding the transfer as fraudulent and recovering the Property. Because Aida voluntarily transferred property that the Trustee recovered, she is not entitled to a homestead exemption under §522(g). It is not necessary for the Court to find that Aida concealed the transfer; the mere fact that she voluntarily transferred property that the Trustee subsequently recovered is sufficient to defeat her right to a homestead exemption.

Final Ruling Granting Trustee's Motions to Disallow Aida's Homestead Exemption and to Employ a Real Estate Broker to Market the Property [Doc. No. 54, Case No. 2:13-bk-11518-ER] at 7-8.

Over Aida's objection, the Court granted the Trustee's application to employ a real estate broker to market the Property. The Court rejected Aida's contention that there was no equity in the Property to be administered for the benefit of creditors:

Aida's opposition ... is premised upon the inaccurate assumption that Rudy is entitled to payment of his $175,000 homestead exemption from the proceeds of the Property's sale. Aida's opposition ignores the language of the Ninth Circuit's Memorandum of Decision affirming the allowance of Rudy's homestead exemption. The Ninth Circuit held that Rudy is entitled to a homestead exemption, but only to the extent of his possessory interest in the Property. The Ninth Circuit further noted that Rudy is not guaranteed to receive any money on account of his homestead exemption if an interest in the Property other than his possessory interest is sold.

The Trustee is not seeking to sell Rudy's possessory interest in the Property. The Trustee will either sell the Property subject to Rudy's possessory interest, or will take action to extinguish Rudy's possessory interest prior to the sale. Rudy holds no other interest in the Property aside from his possessory interest. Rudy's homestead exemption cannot attach to the proceeds stemming from the sale of interests in the Property that he does not hold. Because Rudy's homestead exemption cannot attach to the sale proceeds, there is equity in the Property for distribution to unsecured creditors, and there is no merit to Aida's contention that the Trustee is pursuing the sale of the Property in bad faith.

This result is compelled by the language of the statute and the decision of the Ninth Circuit. The statute makes clear that a debtor's homestead exemption is limited to the debtor's interest in the property. See, e.g., Cal. Civ. Proc. Code §704.740 (providing that "the interest of a natural person in a dwelling may not sold under this division to enforce a money judgment except pursuant to a court order ..."); id. at §704.820 (providing that where a judgment debtor holds less than a fee simple interest in the property, only "the interest of the judgment debtor in the dwelling and not the dwelling shall be sold," and further providing that where there is more than one judgment debtor, "each of the judgment debtors entitled to a homestead exemption is entitled to apply his or her exemption to his or her own interest").

The Ninth Circuit's Memorandum further established that Rudy's homestead exemption applies only to his possessory interest in the Property. The court explained that Rudy "can claim a homestead exemption in his bankruptcy for the possessory interest that he holds in the Property." Memorandum at 4. The court further stated that Rudy "is not guaranteed to receive any particularly amount of money if any other interest (besides his possessory interest) in the Property is sold." Id. at 5.

The proposition that a debtor's homestead exemption can apply only to the debtor's interest in property is corroborated by the logic of other cases interpreting California's homestead statute. For example, in Schwaber v. Reed (In re Reed), 940 F.2d 1317, 1323 (9th Cir. 1991), the Ninth Circuit was confronted with a situation in which the debtor held only a one-half interest in property. For purposes of determining whether the debtor's homestead exemption could defeat the Trustee's sale of the property, the court compared the value of the exemption to the value of the debtor's one-half interest. The court did not use the value of the entire property to conduct the equity calculation. The court's approach is consistent with the principle that the homestead exemption applies only to the debtor's interest in the property. If the debtor's homestead exemption could apply to interests in the property that the debtor did not hold, the Reed court would have been required to perform the equity calculation using the value of the entire property, not just the value of the debtor's one-half interest. The limitation of a homestead exemption to the debtor's interest was also made clear in Elliot v. Weil (In re Elliott), 523 B.R. 188, 196 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2014). In that case, the court said that the "homestead exemption applies to any interest in the property." Id. at 196 (emphasis altered).

Id. at 5–6.

In addition, the Court rejected Aida's contention that the Trustee was attempting to administer the Property solely to generate fees for the estate's professionals:

Aida's request that the Trustee be required to appear and show cause why he should not be removed is denied. There is no merit to Aida's contentions that the motions mischaracterize the record in an attempt to mislead the Court, that the Trustee's pursuit of the sale is motivated by animus and vindictiveness, or that the Trustee is seeking to administer the Property solely to generate administrative fees. Pursuant to §704(a), the Trustee has a fiduciary obligation to creditors to "collect and reduce to money the property of the estate." The Trustee's efforts to administer the Property are wholly consistent with this fiduciary obligation, as there is substantial equity in the Property for distribution to creditors. In fact, the Trustee would be violating his statutory and fiduciary obligations if he elected not to administer the Property.

Id. at 6–7.

The Court overruled Aida's remaining arguments in opposition to the Trustee's application to employ a real estate broker:

Nor is there merit to Aida's assertion that the Trustee has engaged in unreasonable delay in objecting to Aida's homestead exemption now. The Ninth Circuit only recently issued its decision clearing the way for the Trustee to administer the Property. Prior to the Ninth Circuit's decision, it would have made no sense for the Trustee to object to Aida's homestead exemption, because it was not until the Ninth Circuit's decision that it became clear that Rudy's homestead exemption could not attach to the proceeds of the Trustee's sale of the fee simple interest in the Property.

In briefing before the Ninth Circuit, Aida implied that the Trustee might be time-barred from objecting to her homestead exemption. See Appellee's Brief at 4 (“It is important to note that Goodrich did not request in his objection to Aida’s homestead exemption, for an extension of time to file additional objections to the claimed exemption as mandated under FRBP Rule 4003(b).”). Although Aida does not reiterate that argument here, the Court finds it important to clarify that the argument lacks merit. The order which denied the Trustee’s previous objection to Aida’s exemption as premature provides that the denial was “without prejudice to the Trustee’s right to file another motion based upon 11 U.S.C. §522(g) to disallow the Debtor’s amended homestead exemption ... after the completion of any adversary proceeding filed by the Trustee to avoid and recover the Debtor’s alleged fraudulent transfer of the Property.” Accordingly, the Trustee has preserved his right to object to Aida’s homestead exemption.

Id. at 7.

On September 13, 2017, the Court conducted hearings on the Trustee’s motion seeking to compel Aida to turnover the Property (the "Turnover Motion") and the Trustee’s motion for an order authorizing the sale of the Property free and clear of liens and encumbrances (the "First Sale Motion"). The Court denied the Turnover Motion without prejudice, finding that because Aida, Rudy, and their children all lived at the Property, any turnover order issued by the Court with respect to Aida only would be impossible to enforce. See Order Denying Without Prejudice Chapter 7 Trustee’s Turnover Motion (the "Turnover Denial Order") [Doc. No. 86, Case No. 2:13-bk-11518-ER]. The Court denied the First Sale Motion without prejudice since the closing of the sale was contingent upon the Trustee’s ability to deliver the Property to the buyers in vacant condition. See Order Denying Without Prejudice Chapter 7 Trustee’s Sale Motion [Doc. No. 85, Case No. 2:13-bk-11518-ER].

In the Turnover Denial Order, the Court found that in light of the unenforceability of a turnover order issued only with respect to Aida, it was necessary for the possessory rights of both Aida and Rudy in the Property to be litigated simultaneously. The Court further held that the issues regarding Rudy’s possessory interest and homestead exemption must be adjudicated before this Court—as opposed to being adjudicated before a state court by way of an unlawful detainer action—because those issues require interpretation of the Judgment avoiding the 2011 transfer of the Property and the application of bankruptcy law. On September 14, 2017, the Court issued an order reopening Rudy’s bankruptcy case to permit such adjudication to occur. See Order Reopening Case [Doc. No. 79, Case No. 2:14-bk-27148-ER]. On September 28, 2017, the Court denied the Trustee's motion for reconsideration of the Court's finding that it was necessary for the issues regarding Rudy's possessory interest and homestead exemption to be adjudicated before the Bankruptcy Court. See Order Denying Chapter 7 Trustee's Motion for Reconsideration [Doc. No. 93, Case No. 2:13-bk-11518-ER].

On September 18, 2017, Rudy filed an Adversary Complaint For: (1) Declaratory Judgment Re Value of Debtor's Possessory, Equitable and Homestead Interests in Real Property; (2) Valuation of Interests; and (3) Injunctive Relief [Doc. No. 1, Case No. 2:17-ap-01475-ER] (the "Original Valuation Complaint") in his reopened bankruptcy case. The Trustee moved to dismiss the Original Complaint, for failure to state a claim, based on the fact that the Original Complaint named "David M. Goodrich" as a defendant in his individual capacity rather than in his capacity as the Chapter 7 Trustee of the estate of Aida Fuentes. The Court granted the Motion to Dismiss but gave Rudy leave to amend. The Court explained:

Given the contentious nature of this litigation, the Court finds that the caption of the Complaint must be amended to make it absolutely clear that David M. Goodrich is being sued in his capacity as a Chapter 7 Trustee, not in his individual capacity. Upon reading the Complaint, it is clear that Rudy did not intend to sue David M. Goodrich in his individual capacity; nonetheless, the Complaint's caption is misleading and therefore creates ambiguity.

Ruling Granting Motion to Dismiss with Leave to Amend [Doc. No. 17, Case No. 2:17-ap-01475-ER] at 7.

On November 21, 2017, Rudy filed a First Amended Complaint [Doc. No. 16, Case No. 2:17-ap-01475-ER] (the "Valuation Complaint"). The Valuation Complaint alleged that Rudy's possessory interest in the Property had a value of no less than $175,000; that Rudy held an equitable interest in the Property as a result of community payments on the Property's mortgage; and that the Trustee's attempts to sell the Property without paying Rudy any amount on account of his homestead exemption constituted a taking of Rudy's property without just compensation. Based on these allegations, the Valuation Complaint sought (1) a declaration that Rudy's possessory interest has a value of $175,000; (2) a declaration that Rudy holds an equitable interest in the Property by virtue of community payments on the Property's mortgage; (3) a declaration that any termination of Rudy's possessory and equitable interests in the Property must provide for payment of or adequate protection of those

No. 95, Case No. 2:13-bk-11518-ER] (the "Second Sale Motion"). Unlike the First Sale Motion, the Second Sale Motion did not require the Trustee to deliver the Property to the buyer in vacant condition. Over Rudy's opposition, the Court approved the sale of the Property to Equity Saver Construction, Inc. ("Equity") for $360,000. See Order Granting Motion of Trustee for Order: (1) Authorizing Sale of Real Property Free and Clear of Liens and Encumbrances; (2) Approving Overbid Procedures; (3) Authorizing Payment of Any Undisputed Liens, Costs of Sale, and Property Taxes; and (4) Finding that Purchaser is Good Faith Purchaser Under 11 U.S.C. §363(m) [Doc. to Rudy and Aida's possessory interest in the Property needed to be adjudicated before the Bankruptcy Court, as opposed to the State Court, no longer applied given the Court's decision to grant the Second Sale Motion:

It was against the backdrop of the First Sale Motion that the Court determined that it was necessary that Rudy's bankruptcy case be reopened so that the Court could adjudicate issues regarding Rudy's possessory interest and his homestead exemption in that possessory interest. Adjudication of those issues was necessary because the First Sale Motion required the Trustee to deliver the Property to the purchasers in vacant condition, free of Rudy's possessory interest.

The Second Sale Motion completely changes the landscape. The Second Sale Motion does not require the Trustee to deliver the Property to the purchaser free of Rudy's possessory interest. As discussed previously, the Ninth Circuit has found that Rudy is not entitled to payment on account of his homestead exemption in his possessory interest unless that possessory interest is sold to pay his creditors. The Ninth Circuit's finding follows from a straightforward application of California law, which governs the treatment of Rudy's homestead exemption because California has opted out of the federal exemption scheme. See Cal. Code Civ. Proc. §703.130; Elliott v. Weil (In re Elliott), 523 B.R. 188, 192 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2014). The automatic homestead exemption at issue here "is not an absolute right to retain the homestead itself," but is instead "merely a debtor's right to retain a certain sum of money when the court orders sale of a homestead in order to enforce a monetary judgment." Schwaber v. Reed (In re Reed), 940 F.2d 1317, 1321 (9th Cir. 1991); see also Cal. Civ. Proc. Code §704.800(a) (providing that a homestead can be sold if a "bid is received at a sale of [the] homestead pursuant to a court order for sale that exceeds the amount of the homestead exemption plus any additional amount necessary to satisfy all liens and encumbrances on the property"). Here, Rudy holds only a possessory interest in the Property, and his homestead exemption applies only to that possessory interest. Rudy's right to be paid on account of his homestead exemption in the possessory interest is not triggered because the possessory interest is not being sold.

Because the Trustee is not seeking to sell Rudy's possessory interest and is not seeking to terminate that interest, the Court lacks "related to" jurisdiction to determine the value, if any, of Rudy's possessory interest or his homestead exemption in that possessory interest. Rudy has received a discharge and his estate has been fully administered. Issues pertaining to Rudy's possessory interest no longer affect the handling or administration of Rudy's bankruptcy case in any way.

There is no other jurisdictional basis for the Court to consider Rudy's claims regarding his possessory interest or his homestead exemption therein. The Court lacks "arising under" jurisdiction because Rudy's claims arise under state law, not under title 11. The Court lacks "arising in" jurisdiction because the claims are not an administrative proceeding of the type that has no existence outside of bankruptcy.

Rudy argues that the Court has jurisdiction over the remaining claims because adjudication of those claims will require interpretation of orders issued by this Court, the District Court, and the Ninth Circuit. Rudy is mistaken. State courts are often called upon to adjudicate issues requiring interpretation of orders issued by federal courts; the fact that such interpretation may be required does not automatically give rise to federal jurisdiction.

Civil Rule 12(h)(3) provides: "If the court determines at any time that it lacks subject-matter jurisdiction, the court must dismiss the action." Based upon its determination that it lacks jurisdiction, the Court sua sponte dismisses the Complaint's remaining claims. Rudy's argument that it is improper for the Court to dismiss the remaining claims sua sponte lacks merit. "Subject-matter limitations on federal jurisdiction serve institutional interests. They keep the federal courts within the bounds the Constitution and Congress have prescribed. Accordingly, subject-matter delineations must be policed by the courts on their own initiative even at the highest level." *Ruhrigas AG v. II. Findings and Conclusions nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

- (A) the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;
- (C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;
- (D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;
- (E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field; and
- (F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation charged by comparably skilled practitioners in cases other than cases under this title.

§330(a)(3).

"The statute does not require that the services result in a material benefit to the estate in order for the professional to be compensated; the applicant must demonstrate only that the services were 'reasonably likely' to benefit the estate at the time the services were rendered." Sheridan & Kotel, P.C. v. Bergen Brunswig Drug Co. (In re Mednet), 251 B.R. 103, 108 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000).

There can be no question that the services provided by RAH generated a material benefit to the estate. As a result of RAH's efforts, the Trustee was able to liquidate the Property for the benefit of creditors. Liquidation of the Property allowed all unsecured creditors to be paid in full.

The Court does not agree with Aida and Rudy's contention that the Trustee's decision to liquidate the Property primarily benefited the trustee and the estate's professionals in contravention of guidelines set forth in the Handbook for Chapter 7 Trustees (the "Handbook"). The relevant portion of the Handbook states:

A chapter 7 case must be administered to maximize and expedite dividends to creditors. A trustee shall not administer an estate or an asset in an estate where the proceeds of liquidation will primarily benefit the trustee or the professionals, or unduly delay the resolution of the case. The trustee must be guided by this fundamental principle when acting as trustee. Accordingly, the trustee must consider whether sufficient funds will be generated to make a meaningful distribution to unsecured creditors, including unsecured priority creditors, before administering a case as an asset case.

Handbook at 4-1.

Aida and Rudy argue that administration of the Property in this case primarily benefited the Trustee and professionals, because the fees sought by Applicants significantly exceed the distribution to unsecured creditors. By focusing solely on the ratio between the costs of administration and the distribution to creditors, Aida and Rudy pay insufficient attention to the Handbook's directive that the "trustee must consider whether sufficient funds will be generated to make a meaningful distribution to unsecured creditors ... before administering a case as an asset case." Here, the Trustee's decision to administer the Property resulted in unsecured creditors being paid in full. Under these circumstances, it cannot be said that the Trustee or his general counsel have disregarded the Handbook's guidelines.

Debtors who voluntarily elect to pursue relief under Chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code are subject to a tradeoff: in exchange for a discharge, all of a debtor's non-exempt property is subject to liquidation to pay creditors. Aida and Rudy seek to evade the burdens imposed by that tradeoff by contending that where administrative claims are high relative to the claims of creditors, Trustees are required to relinquish their fiduciary obligations to creditors and allow the debtors to retain assets that would otherwise be subject to liquidation. There is no support in the Bankruptcy Code or in caselaw for such a result.

Aida and Rudy's reliance upon Jubber v. Bird (In re Bird), 577 B.R. 365, 369 (B.A.P. 10th Cir. 2017) is misplaced. In Jubber, the court declined to award compensation to the estate's professionals for attempting to administer an over-encumbered property. Unlike the real property at issue in Jubber, the Property here was not over-encumbered and had substantial realizable equity. Jubber is easily distinguishable.

The Court finds that RAH's fees and expenses are subject to a reduction as a result of deficiencies in the First Sale Motion. As discussed, the First Sale Motion required the Trustee to deliver the Property to the prospective purchasers in vacant condition. To effectuate the contemplated sale, RAH filed the Turnover Motion (defined above) against Aida only. The Court denied the Turnover Motion, finding that because Aida, Rudy, and their children all lived at the Property, any turnover order issued by the Court with respect to Aida only would be impossible to enforce. See Turnover Denial Order. The Court denied the First Sale Motion without prejudice since the closing of the sale was contingent upon the Trustee's ability to deliver the Property to the buyers in vacant condition.

RAH ultimately effectuated a successful sale by modifying the transaction so that it did not require delivery of the Property to the purchasers in vacant condition. Given the contentious nature of the litigation, RAH should have been aware of the issues posed by the structure of the First Sale Motion. In particular, RAH should have realized the inherent unsoundness of a Turnover Order issued only against Aida, where the Trustee's objective was to evict Aida, Rudy, and all other occupants from the Property.

Between August 4, 2017 and September 27, 2017, RAH billed $13,652 in fees for services performed in connection with the First Sale Motion, the Turnover Motion, and a failed attempt to obtain reconsideration of the Turnover Denial Order. RAH is not entitled to compensation on account of these services. See Doc. No. 136-2, Ex. 1, at pp. 9–14. [Note 3] During this same period, RAH billed $35.40 in expenses for these same services. See Doc. No. 136-3, Ex. 2, at pp. 21–22.

For these reasons, RAH's fees are reduced by $13,652 and RAH's expenses are reduced by $35.40. RAH is awarded fees, on a final basis, of $202,111.50 (reduced from the $215,763.50 requested). RAH is awarded expenses, on a final basis, of $6,576.75 (reduced from the $6,602.25 requested).

The Trustee's proposed distribution provides for payment to the Trustee of only $10,565.97, notwithstanding the fact that the Court has awarded the Trustee fees in the amount of $21,302.58 (see Section II.B, below). To enable the Trustee to recover more of the fees he has been awarded, the $35.40 in RAH's disallowed expenses shall be paid to the Trustee.

B. The Court Awards the Fees and Expenses Requested by the Trustee

Section 326 allows the Court to award compensation to a Chapter 7 Trustee, and provides in relevant part:

In a case under chapter 7 ..., the court may allow reasonable compensation under section 330 of this title of the trustee for the trustee's services, payable after the trustee renders such services, not to exceed 25 percent on the first $5,000 or less, 10 percent on any amount in excess of $5,000 but not in excess of $50,000, 5 percent on any amount in excess of $50,000 but not in excess of $1,000,000, and reasonable compensation not to exceed 3 percent of such moneys in excess of $1,000,000, upon all moneys disbursed or turned over in the case by the trustee to parties in interest, excluding the debtor, but including holders of secured claims.

Section 330(a)(7) provides:

In determining the amount of reasonable compensation to be awarded to a trustee, the court shall treat such compensation as a commission, based on section 326.

The Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel (“BAP”) explains the proper application of §326(a) as follows:

Section 326(a) provides a formula for determining the maximum compensation a trustee may receive in a chapter 7 case. In our decision in Salgado–Nava, we analyzed the interaction between this maximum compensation formula and the provision of § 330(a)(7) that the bankruptcy court must “treat [a trustee's] compensation as a commission, based on section 326.” In re Salgado–Nava, 473 B.R. at 915–22. We held that a trustee’s request for compensation should be presumed reasonable as long as the amount requested does not exceed the statutory maximum calculated pursuant to § 326. “[A]bsent extraordinary circumstances, bankruptcy courts should approve chapter 7, 12 and 13 trustee fees without any significant additional review.” Id. at 921. If the court has found that extraordinary circumstances are present, only then does it become appropriate to conduct a further inquiry to “determine whether there exists a rational relationship” between the compensation requested and the services rendered.

Fear v. United States Trustee (In re Ruiz), 541 B.R. 892, 896 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2015).

As discussed above, the efforts of the Trustee and his counsel resulted in a 100% distribution to creditors. The extraordinary circumstances warranting a departure from the §326 formula are not present in this case. Aida and Rudy’s objections to the Trustee’s fees and expenses are overruled. The Court awards the fees and expenses requested by the Trustee.

C. The Court Awards the Fees and Expenses Requested by the Trustee's

Accountant

Aida and Rudy do not object to the fees and expenses requested by Hahn Fife, the Trustee's accountant. Having reviewed Hahn Fife's First and Final Fee Application, the Court approves the application and awards the fees and expenses requested, on a final basis.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Trustee's proposed distribution to administrative claimants, set forth below, is approved, except that the amount to be paid to the Trustee has been increased by $34.50 on account of the partial disallowance of RAH's expenses.

Applicant	Total Requested	Total Allowed	Authorized Payment
Trustee Fees	$21,302.58	$21,302.58	$10,600.47
Trustee Expenses	$526.46	$526.46	$526.46
Fees for RAH	$215,763.50	$202,111.50	$107,017.62
Expenses for RAH	$6,602.25	$6,602.25	$6,576.75
Fees for Hahn Fife	$2,176.50	$2,176.50	$2,176.50
Expenses for Hahn Fife	$281.80	$281.80	$281.80
Court Costs	$293.00	$293.00	$293.00

The Trustee shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Anyama in Support thereof for Onyinye N Anyama, Debtor's Attorney, Period: 5/30/2017 to 11/6/2018, Fee: $22805, Expenses: $1021.74.

Docket 160

Tentative Ruling:

12/11/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Court finds that Applicant is entitled to fees and expenses of $2,500 for work performed in connection with the Second Case (defined below).

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) First and Final Fee Application for Compensation for Legal Services Rendered and Reimbursement of Expenses Incurred by Attorney [Doc. No. 160] (the "Fee Application")
- 2) United States Trustee's Objection to First and Final Fee Application for Compensation for Legal Services Rendered and Reimbursement of Expenses Incurred by Attorney [Doc. No. 173] (the "Opposition")
- 3) Debtor's Response to the United States Trustee's Objection to the First and Final Fee Application for Compensation for Legal Services Rendered and Reimbursement of Expenses Incurred by Attorney [Doc. No. 175] (the "Reply")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Anyama Law Firm ("Applicant") applies for allowance of fees and expenses. Applicant initially sought fees of $22,805 and expenses of $1,021.74, for a total award of $23,826.74. After the United States Trustee (the "UST") objected to Applicant's fees as unreasonable, Applicant reduced the total fees and expenses requested to $17,000.

This is the second Chapter 11 bankruptcy case in which Michael McNulty (the "Debtor") has been represented by Applicant. The first case (Case No. 2:15-bk-22962-ER) (the "First Case") was commenced on August 8, 2015. At a hearing held on February 8, 2017, the Court declined to confirm the Chapter 11 Plan drafted by Applicant. The Court found the Plan to be deficient in numerous respects, including without limitation the following:

- 1) Applicant failed to file, on behalf of the Debtor, a summary of the ballots indicating how creditors had voted on the Plan.
- 2) Applicant represented that the Debtor intended to file a stipulation resolving various general unsecured claims, but failed to file the stipulation by the date of the confirmation hearing.
- 3) The Plan did not satisfy the “best interests of creditors” test imposed by § 1129(a)(7).
- 4) The Plan was not feasible because the budget filed in support of the Plan failed to account for increased payments required under a stipulation the Debtor had reached with a creditor.

See generally Final Ruling Denying Motion for Plan Confirmation [Doc. No. 84, Case No. 2:15-bk-22962-ER].

On March 28, 2017, the Court dismissed the First Case pursuant to § 1112(b). The Court found that the Debtor’s failure to file any post-petition tax returns or pay any post-petition taxes, as well as the failure to obtain confirmation of a Plan notwithstanding the fact that the case had been pending for almost two years, constituted cause for dismissal. See Final Ruling Dismissing Case [Doc. No. 98, Case No. 2:15-bk-22962-ER].

On May 4, 2017, the Court denied Applicant’s request for compensation in the First Case. The Court based the denial on Applicant’s failure to correct various deficiencies in the Fee Application, even though the Court had continued the hearing on the application to provide Applicant an opportunity to correct the errors. See Final Ruling Denying Fee Application [Doc. No. 107, Case No. 2:15-bk-22962-ER].

On May 23, 2017—shortly after dismissal of the First Case—Applicant filed the instant Chapter 11 petition on Debtor’s behalf (Case No. 2:17-bk-26460-ER) (the “Second Case”). On January 29, 2018, the Court declined to approve Debtor’s Disclosure Statement. On June 15, 2018, the Court entered an order approving the Debtor’s sale of real property (the “Sale Order”).

On September 19, 2018, the Court entered an Order Requiring the Debtor To Appear and Show Cause Why This Case Should Not Be Dismissed or Converted [Doc. No. 137, Case No. 2:17-bk-24606-ER] (the “OSC”). In connection with the hearing on the OSC, it was revealed that notwithstanding the issuance of the Sale Order, the Debtor had been unable to close on the sale of the rental property (the "Rental Property") which was the estate's primary asset. The Court determined that conversion to Chapter 7 was warranted as a result of Applicant's failure to diligently prosecute the case on the Debtor's behalf:

The Court finds that "cause" exists to convert this case to a case under chapter 7. First, the Court finds it troubling to learn that the Debtor has been unable to close escrow, presumably because title to the Rental Property is in both the Debtor's late wife's and Debtor's name. Either Debtor has not been entirely truthful in his schedules and relevant pleadings regarding the Rental Property, or his counsel's and his conduct has been negligent in reviewing necessary documents to determine the true nature of ownership. The Court is further troubled by the Debtor's lack of candor relating to the probate case. For example, the Debtor does not explain what the issue was that prevented consummation of the sale, what steps Debtor is taking to remedy that issue, how long the probate proceedings are expected to take, or whether the buyer is willing to wait for those issues to be resolved and move forward with the sale. Instead, the Court and creditors are left to guess about these issues.

Next, the Debtor concedes that the sole asset with any value in this case is the Debtor's Rental Property. However, in the seventeen months since this case was filed, the Debtor has been unable to obtain approval of a disclosure statement, confirm a plan, or administer the Rental Property. These failings are exacerbated by the fact that the Debtor has essentially had the benefit of the automatic stay for over three years. See Case No. 2:15-bk-22962-ER. Meanwhile, the Debtor continues to accrue administrative fees that reduce the potential payout to creditors.

Final Ruling Converting Case [Doc. No. 153, Case No. 2:17-bk-16360-ER].

Heide Kurtz has been appointed as the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") and is now administering the Rental Property. As a result of Applicant's failure to diligently prosecute the Second Case, the Trustee has been required to file a motion to amend the Sale Order. Deficiencies with respect to the sale of the Rental Property that Applicant failed to address include the following:

- 1) Applicant failed to address in the Sale Motion the co-ownership interest of Debtor's now-deceased fiancée.

- 2) While the Sale Motion specifically requested that the sale be free and clear of all liens, the Sale Order was silent regarding a junior deed of trust recorded in favor of AKT American Capital Corporation.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 330(a)(1) allows the Court to award "reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered" by a professional. In determining the amount of compensation to award, the Court considers the nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

- (A) the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;
- (C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;
- (D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;
- (E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field; and
- (F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation charged by comparably skilled practitioners in cases other than cases under this title.

§330(a)(3).

As the recitation of the case history set forth in Section I illustrates, Applicant has failed to competently represent the Debtor. The Second Case was commenced on May 23, 2017 and was converted to Chapter 7 on October 25, 2018. During this seventeen-month period, Applicant made no meaningful progress toward either reorganization or a sale of the Rental Property. Applicant's failure to diligently pursue the sale transaction has required the Trustee to incur administrative costs to correct Applicant's oversights.

Chapter 7

Because the vast majority of Applicant's services were not competently performed, they were not beneficial to the estate. Having reviewed the Fee Application, the Court finds that Applicant is entitled to only $2,500 in fees and expenses.

Many of the services billed by Applicant were necessary only because Applicant failed to competently represent Debtor in the First Case, and therefore was required to file additional motions in this case. Applicant is not entitled to compensation on account of any of these services, which included filing a motion to impose the automatic stay, filing a motion for authorization to use cash collateral, and filing an employment application.

Applicant is not entitled to any compensation on account of objecting to the Internal Revenue Service's Proof of Claim (the "IRS Claim"). The Claim Objection was overruled because it was directed to an earlier version of the IRS Claim, but failed to address an updated Proof of Claim which incorporated the Debtor's latest tax returns. Diligent investigation of the Debtor's tax situation would have enabled Applicant to file a Claim Objection which could have addressed the merits of the Debtor's tax issues.

In view of oversights and errors made by Applicant in connection with the Sale Motion, the Court finds that Applicant is entitled to receive only $1,000 in connection with work performed regarding the sale of the Rental Property. As noted above, these errors have required the Trustee to incur administrative expenses to correct Applicant's oversights. The errors were significant and prevented the sale from closing. Most egregiously, Applicant failed to account for the co-ownership interest held by the estate of the Debtor's deceased fiancée.

Applicant is not entitled to any compensation for work performed in connection with the Debtor's Disclosure Statement. As set forth in the Court's Final Ruling Disapproving Disclosure Statement [Doc. No. 86, Case No. 2:16-bk-16360-ER], the Disclosure Statement contained multiple deficiencies. Among other problems, the Disclosure Statement failed to provide creditors adequate information with respect to the estate's assets, the estimated return to creditors under a Chapter 7 liquidation, of financial information and financial projections. Id. After the Court granted several continuances of the hearing on the Debtor's motion to approve the Disclosure Statement, Applicant withdrew the Disclosure Statement.

Applicant opposed the UST's Motion to Dismiss (the "UST MTD"), which was brought based on the Debtor's failure to pay UST quarterly fees. Since the failure to pay quarterly fees is attributable to the Debtor rather than Applicant, the Court finds that Applicant is entitled to compensation of $500 for work performed opposing the UST MTD. Applicant's work preparing a very brief opposition to the UST MTD does not warrant fees in excess of $500.

Applicant did file and prepare Monthly Operating Reports ("MORs"). These services provided some benefit to the estate. However, the extent of such benefits is qualified by the fact that Applicant would not have been required to prepare nearly as many MORs had she diligently pursued this case to completion. Consequently, the Court finds that Applicant is entitled to receive only $1,000 for work performed preparing MORs.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Court finds that Applicant is entitled to fees and expenses of only $2,500 in connection with the Second Case. The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

Docket 167

Tentative Ruling:

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Chapter 7 Trustee's Motion to Amend Order Approving Sale of Real Property [Doc. No. 167] (the "Motion to Amend")
 - a) Notice of Errata to Chapter 7 Trustee's Motion to Amend Order Approving Sale of Real Property [Doc. No. 170]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Michael McNulty (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on May 23, 2017. As a result of the failure of Debtor's counsel to diligently prosecute the case on his behalf, the case was converted to Chapter 7 on October 25, 2018. Doc. No. 154.

Prior to conversion, Debtor obtained authorization to sell the estate's principal asset, a rental property (the "Rental Property"). See Order Granting Motion for Order Approving Sale of Real Property Free and Clear of Designated Lien, Providing for Overbids, and for Ancillary Relief [Doc. No. 118] (the "Sale Order"). The Debtor was unable to close the sale because the Sale Order did not address the ownership interest of the Debtor's now-deceased fiancée, Ms. Obrien, and failed to account for a junior deed of trust recorded in favor of AKT American Capital Corporation ("AKT").

The Trustee moves to amend the Sale Order to address the oversights attributable to Debtor's former Chapter 11 counsel. The proposed amended Sale Order will authorize the Trustee to sell the Rental Property pursuant to §363(h), with 50% of the sale proceeds to be distributed to the estate of Ms. O'Brien. The order will be further amended to provide that the sale is free and clear of the junior lien of AKT. The Sale Motion requested a sale free and clear of AKT's lien, but this provision was omitted from the Sale Order.

Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

12/14/2018

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on August 29, 2018.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background

Anne Lan Peterson (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on December 14, 2011. On April 16, 2012, the Debtor received a discharge, and on April 30, 2012, the Debtor's case was closed as a "no asset" case. Bankr. Doc. Nos. 18 and 20.

The Debtor was married to Ronald Peterson ("Ronald") [Note 2] from 1997 to 2010. Divorce proceedings between the Debtor and Ronald have been lengthy and contentious. In an apparent attempt to gain a tactical advantage in the divorce litigation, Ronald notified the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") of undisclosed assets, and the Debtor's case was reopened.

1. The Trustee's Complaint and Ronald's Purported Cross-Complaint

On January 22, 2018, the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") filed the Trustee's First Amended Complaint: (1) For Declaratory Relief; (2) In the Alternative, for Sale of Real Property Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §363(h); (3) For Turnover; (4) For Violation of Automatic Stay; and (5) For Dissolution of Limited Liability Company [Adv. Doc. No. 21] (the "Complaint") against Ronald Peterson ("Ronald") and two limited liability companies—Maitreya, LLC, a Nevada LLC ("Maitreya Nevada") and Maitreya, LLC, an Arizona LLC ("Maitreya Arizona") (Ronald, Maitreya Nevada, and Maitreya Arizona collectively, the "Defendants"). The Complaint sought a declaration that real property located at 359 W. Langston Street, Upland, California 91786 (the "Property") is community property of the Debtor and Ronald, and therefore property of the estate pursuant to §541(a)(2). The Complaint sought turnover of the Property, avoidance of the post-petition transfer of the Property to Maitreya Arizona, and dissolution of Maitreya Nevada pursuant to Nevada Revised Statute §86.495, on the grounds that the Trustee, as the sole owner, is entitled to liquidate Maitreya Nevada.

On February 26, 2018, Ronald, Maitreya Nevada, and Maitreya Arizona filed an Answer to the Complaint. Adv. Doc. No. 42. The Answer asserted four affirmative defenses but did not assert any counterclaims.

On June 7, 2018, the Court conducted a hearing on the Trustee's motion for summary judgment (the "MSJ") on the Complaint's first, third, and fifth claims for relief. On June 6, 2018—the day prior to the hearing on the MSJ—the Court posted, at 12:20 p.m., a tentative ruling indicated its intent to grant the MSJ. Approximately eleven hours later, at 11:03 p.m., Ronald filed a Cross-Complaint for: (1) Breach of Fiduciary Duty 1; (2) Breach of Fiduciary 2; (3) Breach of Contract; and (4) Negligence [Bankr. Doc. No. 64; Adv. Doc. No. 66] (the "Purported Cross-Complaint") [Note 3] against the Trustee and the Debtor.

On June 14, 2018, the Court entered summary judgment, in the Trustee's favor, on the Complaint's first, third, and fifth claims for relief. Adv. Doc. No. 64 (the "Judgment"). Among other things, the Judgment provided that the Property is "community property of the Debtor and Ronald," and further provided that the Property is "property of the Debtor's bankruptcy estate under 11 U.S.C. §541(a)(2)" Judgment at ¶¶2–3. The Court found that the filing of the Purported Cross-Complaint was not cause to delay entry of the Judgment. In addition, the Court found, pursuant to Civil Rule 54(b), that there was no just reason to delay entry of final judgment in the Trustee's favor with respect to the first, third, and fifth claims for relief. The Court ordered the Defendants to turnover the Property to the Trustee by no later than July 6, 2018, at 5:00 p.m. Judgment at ¶5.

Defendants failed to turnover the Property to the Trustee as ordered by the Court. On July 12, 2018, the Court denied Defendants' motion for reconsideration of the Judgment (the "Motion for Reconsideration"). See Memorandum of Decision Denying Motion for Reconsideration [Adv. Doc. No. 96] and Order Denying Motion for Reconsideration [Adv. Doc. No. 97]. In the Motion for Reconsideration, Defendants asserted that the only claims filed in the Debtor's bankruptcy case were on account of debts the Debtor incurred after she separated from Ronald. Defendants maintained that as a result, the claims were not payable from property of the estate because they did not qualify as "community claims" within the meaning of §101(7). Defendants' theory was that the absence of any creditors entitled to receive a distribution from the estate precluded the Trustee from administering estate property. In denying the Motion for Reconsideration, the Court noted that Defendants had been provided an opportunity to present their arguments before the Court entered the Judgment, but had failed to do so. Observing that Defendants had offered no explanation whatsoever for their failure to timely raise these arguments, the Court determined that the "extraordinary circumstances" necessary to support reconsideration were not present. See Zurich Am. Ins. Co. v. Int'l Fibercom, Inc. (In re Int'l Fibercom, Inc.), 503 F.3d 933, 941 (9th Cir. 2007).

Concurrently with the denial of the Motion for Reconsideration, the Court directed the Clerk of the Court to issue a Writ of Possession, authorizing the United States Marshal (the "U.S. Marshal") to enforce the Judgment by placing the Trustee in possession of the Property. Adv. Doc. No. 98. On August 10, 2018, the U.S. Marshal evicted Ronald, his fiancée, and their two children from the Property.

On July 26, 2018, Ronald appealed the Court's denial of his Motion to Reconsideration to the District Court. Adv. Doc. No. 110. On November 16, 2018, the District Court dismissed Ronald's appeal with prejudice for failure to prosecute. Adv. Doc. No. 145.

The Purported Cross-Complaint filed by Ronald on the eve of the summary judgment hearing alleged, among other things, that Ronald and the Trustee had entered into a contract providing that Ronald would purchase the estate's interest in the Property for $125,000, but that the Trustee breached the contract notwithstanding Ronald's fulfillment of all his obligations thereunder. Purported Cross-Complaint at ¶¶30–33. [Note 4]

On June 18, 2018, the Court issued an order requiring Ronald to appear and show cause why the Court should not (1) construe the Purported Cross-Complaint as a Counter-Complaint, (2) find that the claims asserted in the Counter-Complaint are compulsory, and (3) dismiss the Counter-Complaint as untimely. Adv. Doc. No. 69. In its Preliminary Findings and Conclusions, the Court first found that the Purported Cross-Complaint was more properly characterized as a Counter-Complaint, because it sought relief against an opposing party (the Trustee), not a co-party. The Court next found that the claims asserted in the Purported Cross-Complaint were compulsory counterclaims, because they arose from the same set of operative facts as the claims asserted in the Complaint.

On July 27, 2018, the Court entered an order adopting its Preliminary Findings and Conclusions and dismissing the Purported Cross-Complaint, as to the Trustee, with prejudice. Adv. Doc. No. 113 (the "Dismissal Order"). The Dismissal Order is now final and non-appealable.

2. Ronald's Claim Objections

On August 16, 2018, the Court overruled Ronald's objections to Proofs of Claim filed by Shaco, Inc. ("Shaco") and Kathy K. Settle ("Ms. Settle"). The Court found that Ronald's claim objections were an improper attempt to gain a litigation advantage in the adversary proceeding brought by the Trustee:

In his Claim Objections, Ronald asserts that the claims do not qualify as "community claims" and therefore may not be paid from the estate's community property. The estate's primary community property asset is the Property. As discussed above, Ronald has vigorously contested the Trustee's attempts to enforce the Judgment and gain possession of the Property. Ronald's objective in prosecuting the Claim Objections is to prevent the Trustee from enforcing the Judgment.

Ronald raised the arguments he asserts now in his motion for Reconsideration of the Judgment. In denying Ronald's Motion for Reconsideration, the Court found that Ronald had failed to show that "extraordinary circumstances" excused his failure to timely raise his arguments regarding the allowability of the claims. See Zurich Am. Ins. Co. v. Int'l Fibercom, Inc. (In re Int'l Fibercom, Inc.), 503 F.3d 933, 941 (9th Cir. 2007). Based upon this finding, the Court refused to consider the arguments. Ronald cannot procedurally circumvent the Court's determination by now seeking to present these identical arguments in a different context.

The Court declines to find that Ronald lacks standing to object to the claims. It would be more precise to say that the Ronald has interposed the Claim Objections for the improper purpose of attempting to escape the consequences of his failure to timely raise the arguments he now presents. Had Ronald timely raised these arguments in opposition to the Trustee's motion for summary judgment, they would have been properly before the Court. But raising the arguments now—after the Court's express determination that the arguments would not be considered because they were untimely—is not proper.

Final Ruling Overruling Objection to Claim Number 2 [Bankr. Doc. No. 81] at 4–5.
[Note 5]

The Court went on to find that even had Ronald's claim objections been properly before it, the objections lacked merit. With respect to Ronald's argument that the Trustee was barred from administering any of the estate's community property because there were no creditors eligible to receive a distribution from such property, the Court stated:

Where an estate includes community property, distribution of such property is governed by §726(c). Section 726(c) provides a framework for the distribution of community property to holders of community claims.

A "community claim" is a "claim that arose before the commencement of the case concerning the debtor for which property of the kind specified in section 541(a)(2) is liable [estate community property], whether or not there is any such property at the time of the commencement of the case." §101(7).

"The Bankruptcy Code's distribution scheme regarding community property is generally intended to parallel state law." In re Cohen, 522 B.R. 232, 240 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2014). California Family Code §910(a) provides that "the community estate is liable for a debt incurred by either spouse before or during marriage, regardless of which spouse has the management and control of the property and regardless of whether one or both spouses are parties to the debt or to a judgment for the debt." For purposes of §910(a), "during marriage" does not include the period after the parties are separated.

The Court assumes without deciding that the indebtedness asserted by the claimants was incurred by the Debtor after she separated from Ronald. As such, the claims would not constitute community claims.

To provide for the distribution of community property, §726(c) creates four "sub-estates," described in §726(c)(A), (B), (C), and (D). Only holders of community claims are eligible to receive a distribution from sub-estates (A), (B), and (D). However, sub-estate (C) provides for a distribution to holders of all claims against the Debtor, provided that such distribution is not from the estate's community property.

The distribution contemplated by the Trustee is consistent with the § 726(c). First, the Trustee will liquidate the Property, the estate's primary community asset. Once the Property has been liquidated, costs of administration will be paid from cash on hand. Subsequent to the payment of costs of administration, the remaining funds will be divided in half, with one half allocable to the Debtor, and the other allocable to Ronald. Once the remaining funds have been divided, the Debtor's share of such funds will no longer constitute community property. Instead, such funds will be property of the estate liable for separate property claims against the Debtor—such as the claims asserted by Shaco and Settle (provided that such claims are in fact properly characterized as separate property claims). Such funds may be distributed to the claimants pursuant to §726(c)(2)(C).

Faced with similar facts, this was exactly the result reached by the court in In re Herrera, No. AP 16-90131-MM, 2017 WL 5473768, at *10 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. Nov. 13, 2017), aff'd sub nom. Herrera v. Pons, No. 17-CV-2392-GPC-NLS, 2018 WL 2229369 (S.D. Cal. May 16, 2018). The Herrera court found that proceeds of a community property asset could be distributed to pay the Debtor's post-separation debts pursuant to §726(c)(2), but only after the non-debtor had received his half of those proceeds. Id. at *10. The precise manner in which funds will be distributed is not yet before the Court. However, contrary to Ronald's contention, funds can be distributed to claimants in a manner consistent with §726(c) and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code.

Id. at 5–7.

3. The Trustee's Sale Motion

On December 6, 2018, the Court approved, over Ronald's opposition, the Trustee's motion to confirm the sale of the Property to Jose Miclat and Cristina Criss (the "Sale Motion"). Bankr. Doc. Nos. 119–20. The Trustee is holding net sales proceeds of approximately $530,000.

4. Ronald's Assertion of a Homestead Exemption

In opposition to the Sale Motion, Ronald contended that the Trustee was required to pay him 50% of the sales proceeds directly from escrow on account of Ronald's purported $100,000 homestead exemption in the Property. The Court rejected Ronald's contention:

It is not procedurally proper for Ronald to assert his alleged entitlement to a homestead exemption in this context. The Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rules contain detailed procedures setting forth the manner in which a homestead exemption in community property may be asserted by a non-debtor such as Ronald. See §522(l) (authorizing a dependent of the debtor to claim

In certain instances, a non-debtor spouse such as Ronald is not permitted to claim an exemption in community property. See Homan, 112 B.R. at 359 ("The conclusion that [non-Debtor] Carolyn is bound by [Debtor] Daniel's failure to file a homestead exemption in the Island Property is not subject to modification under the provision of the Bankruptcy Code which permits a nondebtor spouse to declare exemptions as a dependent of a debtor spouse. 11 U.S.C. § 522(a)(1) and § 522(l). Where a debtor files a list of property exemptions claimed under federal law, even an incomplete list, nothing in the language or legislative history of Section 522(l) suggests that nondebtor dependents may supplement this list with state exemptions or further federal exemptions."). If and when Ronald properly asserts an exemption in the Property, the Court will determine whether Ronald is entitled to claim an exemption, and if so, whether the exemption is valid.

Final Ruling Granting Sale Motion [Bankr. Doc. No. 119] at

On December 29, 2011, Debtor filed Schedule C, claiming various property as exempt. Bankr. Doc. No. 11. Debtor did not assert an exemption in the Property. On February 1, 2012, Debtor filed an Amended Schedule C, but again did not assert an exemption in the Property. Bankr. Doc. No. 15. On December 14, 2018, Ronald filed a Schedule C, pursuant to §522(l), asserting a $100,000 exemption in the Property.

B. Summary of Papers filed in Connection with the Trustee's Interim Fee Application and Motion for Authorization to Pay Administrative Expenses from Community Property Proceeds Held by the Estate

Danning, Gill, Diamond & Kollitz LLP, the Trustee's general bankruptcy counsel ("DGDK"), applies for allowance of fees of $152,611.00 and expenses of $9,598.10, on an interim basis. The Trustee moves for authorization to pay such proceeds from the community property proceeds generated by sale of the Property.

Ronald opposes both motions on several grounds. First, Ronald argues that the requested fees and expenses are unreasonable compared to the approximately $137,000 to be paid to creditors, and contends that payment of DGDK's fees contravenes the Handbook for Chapter 7 Trustee's directive that a "trustee shall not administer an estate or an asset in an estate where the proceeds of liquidation will primarily benefit the trustee or the professionals"

Second, Ronald reiterates essentially the same argument that he raised in the Claim Objections and Motion for Reconsideration and in opposition to the Sale Motion. That is, Ronald contends that he has no liability for the two claims that have been filed in this case, because they are not community claims, and that consequently, he is entitled to receive 50% of the Property's sales proceeds before any of those proceeds are used to pay administrative expenses. Ronald further asserts that he holds a $100,000 homestead exemption in the Property which likewise immediately be paid.

Third, Ronald claims that he offered to settle with the Trustee for an amount which would have provided for payment in full of the claims filed against the estate; that the Trustee refused this settlement offer without good cause; and that accordingly, the Trustee is not entitled to receive fees which were incurred only as a result of the Trustee's unjustified rejection of Ronald's settlement offer.

The Trustee and DGDK (collectively, "Movants") filed a joint reply to Ronald's opposition. Movants assert that the opposition is another attempt by Ronald to relitigate issues that have already been determined against him on multiple previous occasions. Movants assert that Ronald mischaracterizes the settlement discussions, and maintain that the Court's dismissal with prejudice of Ronald's allegations regarding his settlement offer bars Ronald from raising the issue. Finally, Movants contend that pursuant to §726, it is permissible to pay the costs of administration from community property proceeds held by the estate before distributing to Ronald his pro rata share of such proceeds.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Trustee is Authorized to Pay Administrative Expenses from Community Property Proceeds Held by the Estate

Section 726(c)(1) provides that administrative expense claims shall be paid either from community property of the estate, or from other property of the estate, "as the interest of justice requires." The legislative history contains specific examples of how this may be done:

First, administrative expenses are to be paid, as the court determines on any reasonable equitable basis, from both kinds of property. The court will divide administrative expenses according to such factors as the amount of each kind of property in the estate, the cost of preservation and liquidation of each kind of property, and whether any particular administrative expenses are attributable to one kind of property or the other.

House and Senate Reports to Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978 (H.R. Rep. No. 595, 95th Cong., 1st Sess. 383–384 (1977); S. Rep. No. 989 95th Cong., 2d Sess. 97–98 (1978)).

Here, all property held by the estate is community property. The Court finds that the interests of justice permit payment of the estate’s administrative expenses from community property. The vast majority of administrative costs were incurred in connection with the Trustee’s fraudulent transfer litigation against Ronald, the Trustee’s efforts to enforce the Judgment against Ronald, and other litigation made necessary as a result of actions taken by Ronald. As set forth above, the Court found that all the arguments asserted by Ronald lacked merit. Under the circumstances, it does not offend the interests of justice for the Trustee to first pay administrative costs from the estate’s community property proceeds before distributing to Ronald his pro rata share of such proceeds, even though such a distribution will reduce the funds that Ronald ultimately receives.

B. DGDK’s Fee Application is Approved

Section 330(a)(1) allows the Court to award "reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered" by a professional. In determining the amount of compensation to award, the Court considers the nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

- (A) the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;
- (C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;
- (D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;

§330(a)(3).

"The statute does not require that the services result in a material benefit to the estate in order for the professional to be compensated; the applicant must demonstrate only that the services were 'reasonably likely' to benefit the estate at the time the services were rendered." Sheridan & Kotel, P.C. v. Bergen Brunswig Drug Co. (In re Mednet), 251 B.R. 103, 108 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000).

There can be no question that the services provided by DGDK generated a material benefit to the estate. As a result of DGDK's efforts, the Trustee was able to liquidate the Property for the benefit of creditors. Liquidation of the Property will most likely allow all unsecured creditors who have filed Proofs of Claim to be paid in full. Having reviewed DGDK's Fee Application, the Court finds that the fees and expenses requested are reasonable based upon the work performed.

The Court does not agree with Ronald's contention that the Trustee's decision to liquidate the Property primarily benefited the trustee and the estate's professionals in contravention of guidelines set forth in the Handbook for Chapter 7 Trustees (the "Handbook"). The relevant portion of the Handbook states:

A chapter 7 case must be administered to maximize and expedite dividends to creditors. A trustee shall not administer an estate or an asset in an estate where the proceeds of liquidation will primarily benefit the trustee or the professionals, or unduly delay the resolution of the case. The trustee must be guided by this fundamental principle when acting as trustee. Accordingly, the trustee must consider whether sufficient funds will be generated to make a meaningful distribution to unsecured creditors, including unsecured priority creditors, before administering a case as an asset case.

Ronald argues that administration of the Property in this case primarily benefits DGDK, because the fees sought by DGDK are roughly equal to the distribution to creditors. By focusing solely on the ratio between the costs of administration and the distribution to creditors, Ronald pays insufficient attention to the Handbook's directive that the "trustee must consider whether sufficient funds will be generated to make a meaningful distribution to unsecured creditors ... before administering a case as an asset case." Here, the Trustee's decision to administer the Property will most likely result in unsecured creditors being paid in full. Under these circumstances, it cannot be said that the Trustee or his general counsel have disregarded the Handbook's guidelines.

In support of his contention that he is entitled to receive his pro rata share of the estate's community property prior to payment of costs of administration, Ronald asserts that he is entitled to a $100,000 homestead exemption in the Property. Ronald filed a Schedule C claiming the homestead exemption on December 14, 2018.

Section 522(l) provides:

The debtor shall file a list of property that the debtor claims as exempt under subsection (b) of this section. If the debtor does not file such a list, a dependent of the debtor may file such a list, or may claim property as exempt from property of the estate on behalf of the debtor. Unless a party in interest objects, the property claimed as exempt on such list is exempt.

Ronald is not entitled to assert an exemption on the Debtor's behalf pursuant to § 522(l). First, a claim of exemption asserted under §522(l) must be filed within 44 days of the date of the petition. Bankruptcy Rule 4003(a). Here, the petition was filed on December 14, 2011. Ronald did not file a claim of exemption until approximately seven years later, well beyond the applicable deadline. Second, Ronald may not assert exemptions on the Debtor's behalf because the Debtor did file claims of exemption. The Debtor's failure to exempt the Property does not permit Ronald to supplement the Debtor's exemptions. As explained in In re Homan, 112 B.R. 356, 359 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1989): "Where a debtor files a list of property exemptions claimed under federal law, even an incomplete list, nothing in the language or legislative history of Section 522(l) suggests that nondebtor dependents may supplement this list with state exemptions or further federal exemptions." See also Kapila v. Morgan (In re Morgan), 286 B.R. 678, 683-84 (Bankr. E.D. Wis. 2002) ("Section 522(l) provides that a dependent of the debtor, including the debtor's spouse, whether or not actually dependent, may file a list of claimed exemptions if the debtor fails to do so. However, he did so. Since the right is his alone, she may not supplement that list, even if she disagrees with his choices."); In re Duncan, 294 B.R. 339, 344 (B.A.P. 10th Cir. 2003) (citing In re Morgan with approval).

Next, Ronald contends that he has no liability for the two claims that have been filed in this case, because they are not community claims, and that consequently, he is entitled to be paid his pro rata share of the estate's community property prior to payment of any costs of administration. Ronald's argument lacks merit.

As set forth in Section I.A.2, above, the Court has previously indicated its preliminary approval of the Trustee's proposal with respect to the distribution of the estate's community property. With respect to the payment of administrative expenses, the Court now adopts its prior preliminary findings on a final basis. Assuming without deciding that the claims on file constitute community claims, there is nothing about the Trustee's contemplated distribution that violates §726(c). As explained in Section II.A., above, §726(c)(1) provides that administrative expenses may be paid from estate community property prior to the division of such property between the debtor and non-debtor. For the reasons set forth in Section II.A., the interests of justice support payment of administrative expenses from estate community property prior to the division of the remaining community property between Ronald and the Debtor.

Finally, Ronald claims that the Trustee refused in bad faith a settlement offer which would have provided the estate with funds sufficient to pay creditors in full. Ronald contends that the Trustee is not entitled to receive fees which were incurred only as a result of the Trustee's unjustified rejection of Ronald's settlement offer.

In his Purported Cross-Complaint, Ronald alleged that he and the Trustee had entered into a contract providing that Ronald would purchase the estate's interest in the Property for $125,000, but that the Trustee breached the contract notwithstanding Ronald's fulfillment of all his obligations thereunder. Purported Cross-Complaint at ¶¶30–33. The Court dismissed the Purported Cross-Complaint, as to the Trustee, with prejudice on June 27, 2018. Adv. Doc. No. 133 (the "Dismissal Order"). The Dismissal Order is now final and non-appealable. As a result, Ronald is precluded from raising any arguments regarding the Trustee's alleged failure to entertain a settlement.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Trustee is authorized to pay administrative expenses from the estate's community property. DGDK is awarded, on an interim basis, fees of $152,611.00 and expenses of $9,598.10. The Trustee and DGDK shall submit conforming orders, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

IV. Evidentiary Rulings

The Trustee objections to those portions of Ronald's testimony which contain legal argument and legal conclusions. Specifically, Ronald testifies that he is the co-owner of the Property; that as a co-owner, he holds a homestead exemption; and that he is not liable for claims filed against the Debtor because they are post-separation debts rather than community property claims. The Court construes this testimony only as legal argument, not as evidence.

Ronald testifies regarding the harmful effects that the eviction from the Property has had on his business and family. The Trustee's objection to this testimony as irrelevant is SUSTAINED. The issue before the Court is the appropriateness of DGDK's Fee Application and the Trustee's motion seeking authorization to pay administrative expenses, not the merits of the Court's order directing the U.S. Marshal to enforce the Judgement by evicting Ronald from the Property.

Ronald testifies regarding the Trustee's alleged bad-faith refusal to entertain a settlement. Because the dismissal of the Purported Cross Complaint precludes Ronald from raising arguments regarding the settlement, the Court does not rely upon this testimony, and therefore finds it unnecessary to rule upon the Trustee's objections to such testimony. See Operating Engineers' Pension Trust Fund v. Clark's Welding & Mach., 688 F. Supp. 2d 902, 907 (N.D. Cal. 2010) ("Because the Court does not rely on the statements in this declaration, it is not necessary for the Court to rule on these objections.").

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

Debtors seek approval of procedures governing the sale of Saint Louise Regional Hospital ("St. Louise"), O'Connor Hospital ("O'Connor"), and related assets. Both hospitals are located in Santa Clara County. See generally Doc. No. 365 (the "Bidding Procedures Motion"). Pursuant to an Asset Purchase Agreement (the "APA") dated October 1, 2018, the assets to be sold (the "Assets") consist of:

all assets, businesses, real property, personal property, equipment, supplies, software, contracts, leases, licenses/permits, books, records, offices, facilities, and all other tangible and intangible property (a) whatsoever and wherever located that is owned, leased, or used primarily in connection with the Businesses by a Hospital Seller, (b) located in Santa Clara County, California that is owned, leased, or used primarily in connection with the Businesses by Verity Holdings, and (c) whatsoever and wherever located that is owned, leased, or used by Verity primarily in connection with the Businesses, in each case, except for the Excluded Assets.

APA at ¶1.8.

Certain of the Debtors' liabilities are excluded from the sale. Most significant is the exclusion of all "Labor Obligations," defined in the APA to include all "collective bargaining agreements ... that are in place with any labor unions" APA at ¶8.13.

Under the APA, the County of Santa Clara is the stalking horse bidder (the "Stalking Horse Bidder"). The proposed Breakup Fee is $9.4 million, or 4.0% of the $235 million purchase price. The Stalking Horse Bidder is also entitled to reimbursement for its reasonable due diligence expenses (the "Expense Reimbursement"). The Stalking Horse Bidder has agreed to cap the sum of the Breakup Fee and the Expense Reimbursement at 5% of the purchase price (i.e., the Breakup Fee is 4% of the purchase price and therefore the Expense Reimbursement cannot exceed 1% of the purchase price, or $2.35 million).

Qualified overbidders (the "Overbidders") may participate in an auction to be held at the offices of the Debtors' counsel on December 10, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. To qualify to participate in the auction, Overbidders must provide a good-faith deposit in the amount of $23.5 million. The proposed minimum overbid amount is the Breakup Fee ($9.4 million) plus an additional bidding increment of $7.5 million. Overbids will be evaluated based upon several factors, including (1) the amount of such bid; (2) the risks and timing associated with consummating such bid; (3) any proposed revisions to the form of the APA; and (4) any other factors deemed relevant by the Debtors in their reasonable discretion, in consultation with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee"). If an auction is conducted, a hearing before the Court to approve the results of the auction (the "Sale Hearing") will take place on December 18, 2018.

The Debtors will seek to assume and assign certain contracts and leases to be identified in the Purchase Agreement (the "Assumed Executory Contracts"). Initially, the Assumed Executory Contracts will be those contracts and leases that the Debtors believe may be assumed and assigned as part of the orderly transfer of the Assets. The successful bidder may choose to exclude (or to add) certain contracts or leases to the list of Assumed Executory Contracts.

The Debtors will file with the Court and serve a Cure Notice upon each counterparty to the Assumed Executory Contracts. The Cure Notice will state the date, time, and place of the Sale Hearing as well as the date by which any objection to the assumption and assignment of Assumed Executory Contracts must be filed and served. The Cure Notice will also identify the amounts, if any, that the Debtors believe are owed to each counterparty to an Assumed Executory Contract in order to cure any defaults that exist under such contract (the "Cure Amounts"). To the extent that there is a contract added to the list of contracts to be assumed by the successful bidder selected at the auction, the Bidding Procedures Motion shall be deemed to constitute a separate motion to assume and assign that contract to the successful bidder pursuant to §365.

Chapter 11

A. Summary of the Objections Filed to the Bidding Procedures Motion and the Debtors' Replies in Support of the Motion

1. Objection of the Federal Communications Commission [Doc. No. 437]

The Federal Communications Commission (the "FCC") states that certain of the Debtors hold wireless licenses, the transfer of which is subject to FCC approval. To preserve its rights, the FCC requests that any order approving the Bidding Procedures Motion (the "Bidding Procedures Order") contain the following language:

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Order or any other Order of this Court, no sale, transfer or assignment of any rights and interests of a regulated entity in any federal license or authorization issued by the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") shall take place prior to the issuance of FCC regulatory approval for such sale, transfer or assignment pursuant to the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder. The FCC's rights and powers to take any action pursuant to its regulatory authority, including, but not limited to, imposing any regulatory conditions on such sales, transfers and assignments and setting any regulatory fines or forfeitures, are fully preserved, and nothing herein shall proscribe or constrain the FCC's exercise of such power or authority to the extent provided by law.

The Debtors assert that the FCC's objection is premature because any Licenses that may be subject to FCC regulation have not yet been designated for assumption and assignment.

2. Objection of the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation [Doc. No. 439]

The Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (the "PBGC") argues that the proposed Bidding Procedures should be modified to require that all bidders expressly state whether they intend to assume the Debtors' pension obligations. PBGC asserts that a bidder's assumption of pension liabilities would effectively eliminate or reduce PBGC's claims against each of the Debtors, thereby providing value to the Debtors' respective estates and increasing recoveries for other creditors. Accordingly, PBGC contends that when evaluating overbids, the Debtors should give credit for the value of the pension plans' liabilities that an Overbidder agrees to assume.

Chapter 11

In reply, the Debtors assert that they have repeatedly stated that in assessing the highest and best offers, they will consider all forms of consideration, including the assumption of pension liabilities. The Debtors state that the inclusion of any particular language providing whether or not a bidder will assume particular liabilities is unnecessary, and that given the scope of pension liabilities, it would be remarkable if any Qualified Bidder's bid failed to indicate whether pension liabilities would be assumed.

3. Objection of Cigna Entities [Doc. Nos. 445 and 561]

The Debtors are parties to various agreements with Cigna Healthcare of California, Inc. ("Cigna CA") and Life Insurance Company of North America ("LINA," and together with Cigna CA, "Cigna"). The Cigna Provider Agreements provide covered healthcare services to eligible participants within the Cigna Provider Network who receive treatment at the Debtors' hospitals. The agreements with LINA provide group disability benefits for the Debtors' employee benefits program (the "LINA Contracts").

Cigna objects to the Bidding Procedures Motion on the following grounds:

- 1) The proposed Bidding Procedures do not provide Cigna sufficient time to object to the assignment and assumption of executory contracts. If the successful purchaser does not assume the Cigna Provider Agreements, patients receiving treatment at the hospitals will be severely prejudiced, because they will no longer be part of the Cigna Provider Network and therefore will no longer be eligible to receive healthcare at the hospitals. Cigna must receive at least sixty days' notice of any decision to assume or reject the Cigna Provider Agreements.
- 2) Similarly, the proposed Bidding Procedures do not provide Cigna with sufficient notice of the disposition of the LINA Contracts. The Bidding Procedures should be altered to provide that, absent consent from Cigna, unequivocal and irrevocable notice of the proposed assumption and assignment of the LINA Contracts must be provided to Cigna and its counsel at least ten days prior to any hearing thereon.

In reply, the Debtors state that the notice demanded by Cigna is unreasonable, unduly burdensome to the estate, and could potentially delay the closing of the sale by up to two months. The Debtor states that the assumption and assignment procedures it has proposed are customary and reasonable, and that Cigna has failed to offer any

4. Objection of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services [Doc. Nos. 447, 562, and 613]

The United States Department of Health and Human Services and the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (collectively, "HHS") objects to the APA's characterization of Medicare Provider Agreements held by St. Louise and O'Connor as licenses rather than as executory contracts. According to HHS, the Medicare Provider Agreements are executory contracts which may only be assumed and assigned in conformance with the requirements of §365.

The Debtors assert that HHS should be judicially estopped from arguing that the Medicare Provider Agreements are executory contracts, because HHS has argued before other federal courts that Medicare Provider Agreements are licenses.

On October 22, 2018, the Debtors and HHS entered into a stipulation, which provides that the issues raised by HHS' objection should be addressed in connection with the Sale Hearing rather than the Bidding Procedures Motion.

5. Objection of OCH Forest 1 [Doc. Nos. 452 and 561]

OCH Forest 1 ("OCH") entered into a Partnership Agreement with O'Connor, under which OCH is the General Partner and O'Connor is the Limited Partner. The purpose of the Partnership Agreement was to develop and invest in a medical office building located at 455 O'Connor Drive, San Jose, CA (the "455 Property"). Under the Partnership Agreement, OCH holds a right of first refusal with respect to the transfer of the 455 Property. OCH does not object to the proposed sale, but objects to any modification of the Partnership Agreement.

Debtors assert that nothing in the Bidding Procedures Motion impairs OCH's rights and that OCH's objection is premature and should be addressed in connection with the Sale Hearing.

6. Objection of the California Attorney General and the Attorney General's Motion to Continue the Hearing on the Bidding Procedures Motion [Doc. Nos. 463, 599, 605, 608, and 619]

In July 2015, the California Attorney General (the "Attorney General") reviewed a transaction between the Debtors' predecessor, Daughters of Charity Ministry Services Corporation ("Daughters") and BlueMountain Capital Management, LLC ("Blue Mountain"). In connection with the July 2015 transaction, the Attorney General imposed various conditions governing the operation of the Debtors' hospitals (the "2015 Conditions"). Among other things, the 2015 Conditions require the hospitals to furnish specified amounts of charitable care, to continue to provide certain types of health care services, and to continue to operate emergency departments in accordance with minimum requirements.

The Attorney General asserts that any purchaser of the Assets remains bound by the 2015 Conditions. The Debtor disputes this contention, arguing that pursuant to § 363, the sale of the Assets may be free and clear of the 2015 Conditions. However, the Debtor further asserts that any disputes regarding the applicability of the 2015 Conditions are premature because it is possible that the winning purchaser will voluntarily agree to abide by the 2015 Conditions.

On October 19, 2018, the Attorney General filed a motion seeking to continue the hearing on the Bidding Procedures Motion by at least three weeks. The Attorney General contends that he is unable to adequately review the APA because the schedules to the APA have not yet been supplied.

The Debtors and the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") oppose any continuance of the Bidding Procedures Motion on the grounds that the Attorney General will have adequate time to review the APA schedules prior to the final Sale Hearing.

7. Objections of Entities Who Are Parties to or Benefit from Various Collective Bargaining Agreements with Certain of the Debtors [Doc. Nos. 450, 458, 460, 465, and 597]

The International Union of Operating Engineers, Stationary Engineers Local 39 ("Local 39"), the Service Employees International Union, United Healthcare Workers-West ("SEIU-UHW"), the California Nurses Association (the "CNA"), and the Engineers and Scientists of California Local 20, IFPTE, AFL-CIO/CLC ("IFPTE Local 20") (collectively, the "Unions") are parties to collective bargaining agreements ("CBAs") with certain of the Debtors. The Debtors have filed a motion seeking to enter into a new CBA with Local 39, which is currently set for hearing on November 6, 2018.

Debtor VHS participates in a multi-employer defined benefit pension plan, the Retirement Plan for Hospital Employees (the "RPHE"). Pursuant to CBAs with the Unions, the Debtors are obligated to make pension contributions to the RPHE.

RPHE asserts that the Bidding Procedures should be modified as suggested by the PBGC, in order to encourage Overbidders to assume obligations arising under the RPHE. The Unions object to the Stalking Horse Bidder's proposal to purchase the Assets free and clear of the Debtors' pension obligations and the obligations under the unrejected CBAs. According to the Unions, any attempt to sell the assets free and clear of the CBAs constitutes an impermissible end-run around the requirements of § 1113. CNA further asserts that any purchaser of the Assets should be required to assume all pension obligations under the RPHE, given that the assumption of such obligations would avoid the accrual of a large withdrawal liability claim against the Debtors under 29 U.S.C. §1384.

Debtors dispute the Union's contention that they must obtain relief under §1113 before proceeding with the sale. Debtors rely upon Local 211 v. Family Snacks, Inc., Official Unsecured Creditors' Comm. (In re Family Snacks, Inc.), 257 B.R. 884, 897 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2001):

When a debtor is selling on a going concern basis, the union urges, Ionosphere should not apply because the only meaningful time the court can make a decision on rejection is prior to the sale. We see no basis for such a distinction, unless it is to give the union veto power over a going concern sale which, as we know from experience, is often the best way to reap the greatest benefit for all creditors. Section 1113 was never intended to give unions such power. Its sole purpose is to keep a debtor from unilaterally rejecting a CBA and to plainly articulate the rules for going about rejection. If, as Ionosphere concluded, a debtor who is liquidating piecemeal should not be forced into Chapter 7 in order to preserve its assets for equitable distribution to all creditors, the same is true for a debtor who is selling its assets on a going concern basis.

Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 897.

Debtors state that they will continue to work with the Unions to achieve a transfer of the hospitals in a manner that is in the best interest of all constituents. Debtors state that any bids that assume CBAs will be given appropriate weight and deference.

8. Objection of the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors [Doc. Nos. 490, 491, and 561]

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") objects to the Bidding Procedures Motion on the following grounds:

- 1) The proposed Breakup Fee is too high and will chill bidding. The Breakup Fee should be reduced from 4% to 3%. A study conducted by Cynthia Nelson, a Senior Managing Director in the Corporate Finance & Restructuring group at FTI Consulting, Inc. (the “FTI Fee Study”) shows that in bankruptcy sales of between $50 million to $250 million, breakup fees are generally set at 3% or less.

- 2) The minimum overbid increment should be reduced from $7.5 million to $5 million to encourage bidding.
- 3) The proposed sale includes more than just the assets necessary to operate the O’Connor and St. Louise hospitals. The APA also includes an urgent care facility containing medical office space located in Morgan Hill, CA (the “De Paul Property”). If the De Paul Property is not separately valued as part of the stalking horse bid, creditors will be unable to ascertain whether the highest price was obtained for this property. The Stalking Horse Bidder and all other Overbidders should be required to allocate with specificity the portion of the overall purchase price attributable to the De Paul Property.

In response to the Committee’s objection, the Debtor asserts that the Breakup Fee and minimum overbid increment are consistent with relief granted by other Bankruptcy Courts, were negotiated between the Debtors and the Stalking Horse Bidder in good faith, and were agreed to in the exercise of the Debtors’ reasonable business judgment. Regarding the allocation of the purchase price, the Debtors assert that the APA already contemplates that the Stalking Horse Bidder will provide schedules allocating the purchase price among the various Assets being sold.

9. Objections of UMB Bank, Wells Fargo, and U.S. Bank [Doc. Nos. 557, 621, and 622]

UMB Bank, N.A., in its capacity as successor master trustee for certain master trust indenture obligations (“UMB”), and Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., in its capacity as indenture trustee for the series 2005 revenue bonds (“Wells Fargo”) object to the Bidding Procedures Motion on the following grounds:

- 1) Based upon a study prepared by Benjamin Ilhardt, the Senior Vice President of Houlihan Lokey Capital, Inc. (the “HL Fee Study”), the Breakup Fee is too high. The Houlihan Study shows that in comparable cases, breakup fees ranged from a minimum of 1.5% to a maximum of 3.8%, with a mean of 2.8% and a median of 3.0%. An appropriate break-up fee in this case would not exceed 3% of the stalking horse bid—that is, $7.05 million.
- 2) The HL Fee Study further demonstrates that the proposed Expense Reimbursement of $2.35 million is excessive. An appropriate expense reimbursement would be no more than $1.4 million.

- 3) The minimum overbid increment of $7.5 million should be reduced to $1 million.

Similar to UMB and Wells Fargo, U.S. Bank, N.A., in its capacity as Note Trustee for the Series 2017 Notes (“U.S. Bank”), asserts that the Bid Protections proposed by the Debtors are not reasonable and will chill competition.

Debtors reply to the objections of UMB, U.S. Bank, and Wells Fargo as follows:

- 1) The Bid Protections provided to Santa Clara County were necessary to induce it to serve as the stalking horse purchaser. Retaining Santa Clara as the stalking horse purchaser was essential given that a sale to Santa Clara can close rapidly, as it is not subject to review by the California Attorney General under Cal. Corp. Code §5914.
- 2) Santa Clara is not purchasing certain excluded assets, including accounts receivable, which should generate an additional $65 million in incremental proceeds to the estate. When the Breakup Fee is computed as a percentage of the sale price plus the $65 million in incremental proceeds, it is only 3.1%.
- 3) The testimony of Benjamin Ilhardt in support of the HL Fee Study is objectionable because Mr. Ilhardt is not qualified as an expert, and the types of sales cited in the HL Fee Study are not comparable as they do not involve health care or public entities.

10. Reservation of Rights of Premier and Infor [Doc. Nos. 444, 561, and 592]

Premier, Inc. and its subsidiaries (collectively, “Premier”) provides information technology and related services to the Debtors. Infor (US), Inc. (“Infor”) licenses copyrighted software to the Debtors and provides related maintenance and support services. Both Premier and Infor assert that the Debtors may not assume or assign any of their intellectual property absent consent.

Debtors state that nothing in the Bidding Procedures Motion prevents Premier and Infor from presenting their objections in connection with the Sale Hearing.

11. Reservation of Rights of Verity MOB Financing II [Doc. No. 500]

Verity MOB Financing LLC and Verity MOB Financing II LLC (collectively, the “MOB Financing Entities”) assert security interests in certain of the Debtors’ assets. The MOB Financing Entities filed a Reservation of Rights, stating that they are in ongoing negotiations with the Debtors regarding their right to credit-bid and hope to resolve their issues prior to the October 24 hearing on the Bidding Procedures Motion.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Attorney General's Motion for a Continuance is Denied

The Attorney General's motion for a three week continuance of the Bidding Procedures Motion is DENIED. The hospitals that are the subject of the Bidding Procedures Motion are operating at a loss, meaning that every day that a future sale is postponed imposes significant costs upon the estate and upon creditors. The fact that APA schedules have not yet been provided does not constitute sufficient cause for a continuance.

On a related note, certain parties have suggested that the sale timeline proposed by the Debtors is too aggressive and that professionals require more time to review various matters pertaining to the sale. It is important for the Court to point out that sales on a rapid timeline are routine in bankruptcy, since delay almost always imposes additional costs upon creditors. The sale timeline proposed here affords professionals a sufficient opportunity to represent their client's interests.

B. Certain Objections Are Premature and Will Not be Decided in Connection with this Hearing

This hearing involves only the approval of the Bidding Procedures that will be used at the auction of the Assets. The Court finds that many of the objections are more appropriately considered at the final Sale Hearing, at which point the identity of the successful purchaser will be known. Many objections are based upon hypothetical future events and raise issues that may never ripen. For example, it is unknown whether the successful purchaser will assume the Debtors collective bargaining obligations; nor does the Court know which executory contracts or unexpired leases will be assumed.

For these reasons, the Court does not at this time rule upon the objections asserted by the Federal Communications Commission, the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the California Attorney General, the Unions who are parties to various CBAs (Local 39, SEIU-UHW, CNA, IFPTE Local 20), the Retirement Plan for Hospital Employees, OCH Forest 1, Premier, Infor, and the MOB Financing Entities. All such objections are preserved for the Sale Hearing and may be raised at that time.

The Court declines to require the Debtors to include the language proposed by the Federal Communications Commission (the “FCC”) in the Bidding Procedures Order. The FCC’s language pertains to the final transfer of assets, which is not at issue in the Bidding Procedures Motion. The FCC’s ability to assert that such language should be included in a final order approving the sale is preserved.

C. Additional Language Regarding Overbidders’ Intent with Respect to the Assumption or Rejection of Pension Obligations is Not Required

The PBGC argues that the Bidding Procedures Order must include additional intended to encourage potential Overbidders to assume the Debtors’ pension obligations. The Court finds that the Debtors have made abundantly clear that they are soliciting offers that provide for the assumption of pension obligations. No additional language in the Bidding Procedures Order is required.

D. The Bidding Procedures Are Approved

The objections to the proposed Bidding Procedures are overruled. The Court finds that the Bidding Procedures are likely to maximize the proceeds received by the estate. See Simantob v. Claims Prosecutor, LLC (In re Lahijani), 325 B.R. 282, 288–89 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005) (“The court’s obligation in § 363(b) sales is to assure that optimal value is realized by the estate under the circumstances.”).

The Committee and secured creditors UMB, Wells Fargo, and U.S. Bank (collectively, the “Secured Creditors”) assert that the proposed Breakup Fee is too high. The objections to the Breakup Fee are overruled.

In evaluating the Breakup Fee, the Court first must rule upon the Debtors’ evidentiary objections to the HL Fee Study. The Court finds that Benjamin Ilhardt, as a Senior Vice President in the Financial Restructuring Group of Houlihan Lokey Capital, Inc., is qualified to introduce expert testimony regarding the reasonableness of breakup fees. However, the Court affords the HL Fee Study only minimal weight. The sale transactions selected for the HL Fee Study are comparable in amount to the instant sale, but do not involve companies in the healthcare industry.

This distinction is key in view of the significantly greater regulatory compliance obligations placed upon healthcare entities. More due diligence is required to adequately value entities that are subject to additional regulations. Regulations introduce additional complication in assessing an entity’s future cash flow; this issue is of particular salience in the healthcare sector, where regulations are frequently subject to change. For instance, buyers of a healthcare entity are required to assess the possibility that the Affordable Care Act could be subject to significant revision, and to consider the impact of such possible revision on the viability of any healthcare entity's continuing operations. Against this backdrop, it is not surprising that the Debtors would be required to negotiate a higher than average Breakup Fee to induce Santa Clara County to become the Stalking Horse Bidder.

For similar reasons, the Court accords only minimal weight to the FTI Fee Study submitted by the Committee. Only three of the twenty sales examined in the FTI Fee Study are from the healthcare industry: Orixigen Therapeutics (a biopharmaceutical company), 4 West Holdings Inc. (an operator of skilled nursing facilities), and Angelica Corp. (a provider of medical laundry and linen management services). However, the due diligence required to value a biopharmaceutical company such as Orixigen Therapeutics or a provider of healthcare support services such as Angelica is very different from the due diligence required to value an operating hospital. Thus, the FTI Fee Study contains only one sale (that of 4 West Holdings) that is arguably comparable to the sale at issue here. As such, the probative value of the FTI Fee Study is limited.

~~—For the same reasons, the Court accords only minimal weight to the FTI Fee Study submitted by the Committee. Like the HL Fee Study, the FTI Study does not involve any sales in the healthcare industry. The breakup fees for such sales do not afford a truly comparable yardstick for assessing the Breakup Fee at issue here.~~

The Committee and the Secured Creditors similarly contend that the proposed Expense Reimbursement is too high. These objections, which once again are premised upon comparing this healthcare sale to sales in other industries, are overruled. Where more due diligence is required, a higher Expense Reimbursement amount will be necessary.

The Committee and the Secured Creditors contend that the minimum overbid increment of $7.5 million should be reduced. The Court finds that the Debtors exercised reasonable business judgment in establishing the overbid increment, and declines the invitation of the parties to overrule the Debtors' business judgment. However, it may be prudent for the Debtor to allow itself the leeway to accept incremental bids at less than $7.5 million should the bidding process become stalled.

E. Cigna's Objections are Overruled

The Court finds that the procedures proposed by the Debtor regarding the assumption of executory contracts and unexpired leases are customary and reasonable for sales of this type. Cigna demands 60 days' notice regarding an assumption/rejection decision pertaining to the Cigna Provider Agreements. Such a lengthy notice period would unduly delay the closing of the sale, to the detriment of the estate and creditors. The ten day notice period demanded by Cigna with respect to the disposition of the LINA Contracts would likewise impose unreasonable delay.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Bidding Procedures Motion is GRANTED. The hearing to approve the sale and authorize the assumption and assignment of Assumed Executory Contracts shall take place on December 18, 2018, at 10:00 a.m.

The Court will sign enter the Bidding Procedures Order in the form proposed by the Debtors. Because bids must be solicited on a shortened timeframe, no objections to the form of the Bidding Procedures Order will be entertained subsequent to this hearing.

#4.00 Show Cause Hearing RE: [15] Order Requiring Debtor To Appear And Show Cause Why Case Should Not Be Dismissed Because Of Debtor's Failure To Pay The Filing Fee In Installments.

Docket 16

Tentative Ruling:

12/17/2018

The case is dismissed based on the Debtors' failure to pay the filing fee as ordered by the Court. Fees are delinquent in the amount of $200.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Order Approving Payment of Filing Fee in Installments (the "Fee Installment Order") [Doc. No. 7]
- 2) Order Requiring Debtor to Appear and Show Cause Why Case Should Not be Dismissed Because of Debtor's Failure to Pay the Filing Fee in Installments (the "OSC") [Doc. No. 15]
 - a) Notice of OSC [Doc. Nos. 18-19]

On August 9, 2018, the Court entered an order requiring Mallory Regina Jones and Douglas Ryan Jones (the "Debtors") to pay the filing fee according to the following schedule:

- First installment payment: $20 on or before 8/09/2018;
- Second installment payment: $105 on or before 9/07/2018;
- Third installment payment: $105 on or before 5/10/2017; and
- Fourth installment payment: $105 on or before 11/09/18.

See Fee Installment Order.

The Debtors made the first and second installment payments, but failed to make the third and fourth installment payments. Fees are delinquent in the amount of $200.

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") has noticed a Motion to Dismiss the case for January 8, 2019. The Trustee states that notwithstanding several requests, the Debtors have failed to file Amended Schedules, as requested by the Trustee, and have failed to make arrangements with the Trustee to verify their Social Security numbers.

On November 8, 2018, the Court issued an Order Requiring Debtor to Appear and Show Cause Why Case Should Not be Dismissed Because of Debtor's Failure to Pay the Filing Fee in Installments [Doc. No. 15] (the "OSC"). The OSC ordered the Debtors to make the delinquent installment payments by no later than one week prior to the hearing. The Debtors have not made the delinquent payment and has not responded to the OSC.

Bankruptcy Rule 1017(b)(1) provides: "If any installment of the filing fee has not been paid, the court may, after a hearing on notice to the debtor and the trustee, dismiss the case."

Further, as set forth in the Installment Order:

"The debtor must pay the entire filing fee.... The debtor must also pay the entire filing fee to receive a discharge. If the debtor does not make any payment when it is due, the bankruptcy case may be dismissed and the debtor's right in future may be affected."

The Debtor's case is dismissed based on the Debtor's failure to comply with the Court's Fee Installment Order and OSC. The Court will enter an order dismissing the case.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

SB 246 & Cebada Group, Inc. ("Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 7 case on June 30, 2009. John J. Menchaca, the duly appointed chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee"), seeks approval of and authorization to pay interim Trustee fees and expenses in the amount of $166,962.59 in fees and $1,840.50 in expenses incurred during the period of June 30, 2009 through November 28, 2018 pursuant to §§ 326 and 331.

The Trustee states that he is presently holding approximately $1,206,196.49 in estate funds. The Trustee further states that he believes he has sufficient funds to pay all creditors in full and to close the case during the first quarter of 2019. However, prior to performing the final wind down of the estate, the Trustee needs to prepare and file tax returns. The Trustee states that in order to reduce or eliminate the Estate's tax burden, the Trustee needs to pay out the allowed administrative expenses of the Estate prior to filing such returns so that such expenses can be deducted from the Estate's income.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Pursuant to § 326(a) the Court may award reasonable compensation under section 330 to a trustee for the trustee's services. See 11 U.S.C. § 326(a). A trustee's fees are calculated based upon the total amount of moneys disbursed or turned over by the Trustee. Id. Section 331 authorizes the Court to allow such compensation or reimbursement on an interim basis. See 11 U.S.C. § 331.

Here, the Trustee states that the anticipated total disbursements to parties other than the debtor are expected to be $4,790,419.81 and that he has incurred expenses in the total amount of $1,840.50. Accordingly, the Court finds it appropriate to approve fees in the total amount of $166,962.59 and reimbursement of expenses in the total amount of $1,840.50 on an interim basis and authorize the Trustee to disburse fees and expenses in accordance with this ruling.

The Trustee is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Jessica Vogel at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. #6.00 HearingRE: [193] Motion For Final Decree and Order Closing Case. Memorandum of Points and Authorities; Declaration of Arto Atmadjian in support thereof

Docket 193

Tentative Ruling:

12/18/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED. In the event the Debtor makes all payments required under the Plan and is eligible for a discharge, such discharge shall not affect the Debtor's liability under the Judgment (defined below) entered in the adversary proceeding Linda Strause et al. v. Atmadjian, Case No. 2:16-ap-01250-ER.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion of Arto Atmadjian for Entry of an Order for Final Decree Closing the Debtor's Chapter 11 Case [Doc. No. 193] (the "Motion")
2. Debtor's Fifth-Post Confirmation Status Report [Doc. No. 195]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Arto Atmadjian (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition on February 22, 2016 (the "Petition Date"). On June 28, 2016, this Court entered an order converting this case to a case under chapter 11 [Doc. No. 70]. The Debtor successfully obtained an order confirming his amended chapter 11 plan of reorganization (the "Plan") on May 10, 2017 [Doc. No. 135]. The source of funding for the Plan was a $50,000 new value contribution and income generated from the Debtor's business operations for a period of five years.

The Debtor states that he has made all required Effective Date payments contemplated in the Plan and is current on all other payments required under the Plan. Aside from a motion for relief from stay, which Debtor anticipates will be resolved prior to the hearing on this Motion, the Debtor states that there are no other pending matters or open proceedings. The Debtor states that he is current with all UST requirements and payments or will be current prior to entry of the final decree.

Based upon the foregoing, the Debtor submits that the Plan has been substantially consummated and therefore requests that the Court authorize the closing of this case and entry of a final decree.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under 11 U.S.C. § 350(a) and Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3022, the Court shall enter a final decree closing a chapter 11 case after the estate is fully administered. In determining whether an estate is fully administered, a court should consider:

- (1) whether the order confirming the plan has become final;
- (2) whether deposits required by the plan have been distributed;
- (3) whether the property proposed by the plan to be transferred has been transferred;
- (4) whether the debtor or the successor of the debtor under the plan has assumed the business of the management of the property dealt with by the plan;
- (5) whether payments under the plan have commenced; and
- (6) whether all motions, contested matters, and adversary proceedings have been finally resolved.

In re Ground Systems, Inc., 213 B.R. 1016, 1019 (9th Cir. BAP 1997), quoting Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3022 advisory committee's notes (1991).

The Court finds that entry of a final decree closing this case is warranted as follows: (i) the order confirming the Plan is now final; (ii) all deposits required by the Plan have been made; (iii) the Plan does not propose the transfer of any property; (iii) payments under the Plan have commenced; and (iv) all pending motions have been resolved and there are no outstanding adversary proceedings or other contested matters. In sum, the Court's involvement in the case is no longer required and the Court finds the case has been "fully administered."

Chapter 11

On November 29, 2017, the Court entered judgment against the Debtor in the non-dischargeability action Linda Strause, David Strause, and Colin Strause v. Arto Atmadjian [Doc. No. 74, Case No. 2:16-ap-01250-ER] (the "Judgment"). The Court found that Debtor was indebted to Linda and David Strause, jointly and severally, in the amount of $14,000, and that such indebtedness was non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A), (a)(4) (on the grounds of embezzlement), and (a)(6). Judgment at ¶1. The Court further found that Debtor was indebted to Colin Strause in the amount of $14,500, and that such indebtedness was non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A), (a)(4) (on the grounds of embezzlement), and (a)(6). Judgment at ¶2. On February 6, 2018, the Court denied Debtor's motion seeking reconsideration of the Judgment. Doc. Nos. 79–80, Case No. 2:16-ap-01250-ER. Debtor did not appeal the denial of his motion for reconsideration. As a result, the Judgment is now final and non-appealable.

Pursuant to § 1141(d)(5), the Debtor is not entitled to a discharge until all payments contemplated by the Plan have been made. See Plan, Section IV.A. In the event Debtor becomes eligible to receive a discharge, the discharge shall not affect the Debtor's liability in connection with the Judgment. See § 1141(d)(2) ("A discharge under this chapter does not discharge a debtor who is an individual from any debt excepted from discharge under section 523 of this title"); see also Comput. Task Grp. v. Brotby, 303 B.R. 177 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2003) ("The reference to § 1141(d)(2) in § 1141(a) makes it clear that while all creditors are bound by the provisions of a confirmed plan, this binding effect cannot operate to discharge an otherwise nondischargeable debt"). However, payments made to the Strauses in accordance with the terms of the Plan will result in a reduction of the amounts owed.

The Plan provides that any creditor who accepts a distribution under the Plan "will be deemed to have specifically consented" to an injunction barring such creditor from taking any action to enforce its indebtedness. Plan at Section II.D.7. To the extent that the Strauses have accepted distributions under the Plan, this language could be construed to enjoin the Strauses from enforcing the unpaid portion of the Judgment. This construction contravenes the plain language of § 1141(d)(2), which clearly provides that a Plan cannot discharge any judgment excepted from discharge under § 523. There is nothing in the record suggesting that Debtor construes the Plan in this manner. However, the Court finds it important to emphasize that any such construction, being in direct contravention of § 1141(d)(2), would be unenforceable.

Docket 1382

Tentative Ruling:

On September 20, 2016, the Court entered an Order on Debtor's Motion for Order Establishing Procedures for Monthly Payment of Fees and Expense Reimbursement [Doc. No. 406] (the "Fee Procedures Order"). Pursuant to the Fee Procedures Order, each professional employed by the estate may file a monthly fee application (each, a "Monthly Application") seeking payment of interim compensation in an amount equal to 80% of the fees sought and 100% of the expenses incurred during the prior month. If no objection is timely filed and served within ten calendar days after the date of the filing of the notice of the Monthly Application, the Monthly Application is deemed approved on an interim basis, and the Debtor is authorized to pay 80% of the fees and 100% of the expenses requested in the Monthly Application without further order of the Court.

On August 5, 2016, the Court approved the application submitted by the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") to employ Weiland, Golden, Goodrich LLP ("Weiland") as its co-counsel. Pursuant to the procedures set forth in the Fee Procedures Order, Weiland has submitted two Monthly Applications, none of which have been opposed.

On September 17, 2018, the Court awarded Weiland, on an interim basis, fees of $73,685.00 and expenses of $2,890.43. See Doc. No. 1326.

No objections have been filed to Weiland's Application for Payment of Final Fees and/or Expenses [Doc. No. 1382] (the "Application"). Having reviewed the Application, the Court approves, on a final basis, the fees and expenses set forth below, which may be paid (to the extent not previously paid) subject to available cash on hand in the estate. Fees previously awarded on an interim basis are now confirmed as final.

Application in exchange for Dentons' offer to discount its fees by $70,361.00. No other objections to Dentons' Final Application for Allowance and Payment of Compensation and Reimbursement of Expenses [Doc. No. 1385] (the "Application") have been filed. Having reviewed the Application, the Court approves, on a final basis, the fees and expenses set forth below, which may be paid (to the extent not previously paid) subject to available cash on hand in the estate. Fees previously awarded on an interim basis are now confirmed as final.

Fees: $3,279,815.60 (consisting of $3,179,815.60 previously awarded on an interim basis, and $100,000.00 sought in connection with this application)

Expenses: $135,561.47 (consisting of $109,170.60 previously awarded on an interim basis, and $26,390.87 sought in connection with this application)

Docket 1386

Tentative Ruling:

12/18/2018

On August 16, 2016, the Court entered an order approving the Debtor's application to employ Wilshire Pacific Capital Advisors, LLC ("WPCA") as its financial advisor. See Doc. No. 319.

On September 18, 2018, the Court entered an order confirming the Debtor's Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation (the "Plan"). See Doc. No. 1327-1. Michael R. Lane was appointed as the Liquidating Trustee.

The Liquidating Trustee has agreed not to object to WPCA's Final Fee Application, in exchange for WPCA's offer to reduce its fees by $71,481.00. No other objections to WPCA's Final Fee Application have been filed. Having reviewed the Application, the Court approves, on a final basis, the fees and expenses set forth below, which may be paid (to the extent not previously paid) subject to available cash on hand in the estate.

Note 1

The figures set forth above are based upon the Liquidating Trustee's representation that WPCA agreed to reduce its final fee request of $1,192,908.50 by $71,481.00. The Liquidating Trustee's Statement Concerning Final Fee Applications of Dentons US LLP and Wilshire Pacific Capital Advisors, LLC [Doc. No. 1401] (the "Final Statement") states that the Liquidating Trustee and WPCA have agreed that WPCA shall be entitled to fees and expenses totaling $1,122,137.00. The Court notes that the sum of fees and expenses set forth above is $1,122,136.11 (that is, $0.89 less than the figure set forth in the Final Statement). This de minimis discrepancy appears to be the result of a mathematical error.

#13.00 HearingRE: [1378] Application for Compensation (Final) for Sills Cummis & Gross P.C. for OFFICIAL COMMITTEE OF UNSECURED CREDITORS, Creditor Comm. Atty, Period: 6/6/2016 to 10/9/2018, Fee: $1,274,685.80, Expenses: $33,840.73. (Bisconti, Anthony)

Docket 1378

Tentative Ruling:

12/18/2018

Hearing required.

The Court is inclined to award the fees and expenses requested in the Application; however, Sills Cummis & Gross P.C. is required to appear to explain the mathematical discrepancy discussed below.

On September 20, 2016, the Court entered an Order on Debtor's Motion for Order Establishing Procedures for Monthly Payment of Fees and Expense Reimbursement [Doc. No. 406] (the "Fee Procedures Order"). Pursuant to the Fee Procedures Order, each professional employed by the estate may file a monthly fee application (each, a "Monthly Application") seeking payment of interim compensation in an amount equal to 80% of the fees sought and 100% of the expenses incurred during the prior month. If no objection is timely filed and served within ten calendar days after the date of the filing of the notice of the Monthly Application, the Monthly Application is deemed approved on an interim basis, and the Debtor is authorized to pay 80% of the fees and 100% of the expenses requested in the Monthly Application without further order of the Court.

On August 5, 2016, the Court approved the application submitted by the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") to employ Sills Cummis & Gross P.C. ("Sills") as its co-counsel. Pursuant to the procedures set forth in the Fee Procedures Order, Sills has submitted 22 Monthly Applications [Doc. Nos. 417, 476, 544, 588, 644, 671, 700, 753, 838, 837, 911, 946, 980, 1032, 1067, 1080, 1118, 1145, 1170, 1197, 1249, 1288, and 1302], none of which have been opposed.

On September 13, 2018, the Court awarded Sills, on an interim basis, fees of $1,148,827.50 and expenses of $32,455.22, for the period of June 5, 2016 through

May 31, 2018. See Doc. Nos. 1317 and 1321.

Sills seeks final allowance of the fees and expenses previously awarded on an interim basis. In addition, Sills seeks final allowance of fees of $74,902.00 and expenses of $382.14 for the period August 1, 2018 through October 9, 2018. Including fees and expenses previously awarded on an interim basis, Sills seeks final allowance of fees of $1,274,685.80 and expenses of $33,840.73.

No objections have been filed to Sills Cummis & Gross P.C.'s Final Application for Allowance and Payment of Compensation and Reimbursement of Expenses [Doc. No. 1378] (the "Application"). The Court is prepared to award the fees and expenses requested, on a final basis. However, the Court requires clarification with respect to a mathematical discrepancy in the Application. The Court has previously awarded interim fees of $1,148,827.50. Sills seeks allowance of additional fees of $74,902.00 to cover the remaining work. The sum of these figures would yield a total final award of $1,223,729.50 ($1,148,827.50 + $74,902.00). Yet Sills seeks a total final fee award of $1,274,865.80. A similar discrepancy exists with respect to the final expenses sought by Sills.

It appears that Sills may have omitted a request for the payment of fees and expenses incurred between June 1, 2018 and July 31, 2018. Sills has previously been awarded interim fees for work performed through May 31, 2018. Yet in the Application, Sills requests final fees for the period beginning August 1, 2018 (not the period beginning June 1, 2018).

#13.10 Status Hearing re [1327] Post-Confirmation Status Conference

fr. 12-18-18

Docket 0

Tentative Ruling:

Summary of Status Report:

The Liquidating Trustee has distributed $25,576.34 to holders of Convenience Claims. The Liquidating Trustee is in the process of examining general unsecured claims, which total approximately $49 million. No distributions have been made to holders of general unsecured claims.

On June 21, 2017, the Court held that the principles of equitable recoupment permitted the State of California to withhold approximately $4 million in Medi-Cal payments and supplemental hospital quality assurance payments owed to the Debtor, for the purpose of recovering unpaid hospital quality assurance fees that the Debtor was required to pay to the State under the Medi-Cal Hospital Reimbursement Improvement Act of 2013. *In re Gardens Reg'l Hosp. & Med. An appeal of the decision is currently pending before the Ninth Circuit. The appeal has been fully briefed but has not yet been set for oral argument.

To conserve costs, the Liquidating Trustee requests that the Court not require a further post-confirmation Status Conference until at least ninety days after the Ninth Circuit issues its opinion in the appeal of the recoupment decision.

Tentative Ruling:

Having reviewed the Liquidating Trustee's post-confirmation Status Report, the Court finds that the Liquidating Trustee is sufficiently fulfilling its obligations under the Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation.

Docket 156

Tentative Ruling:

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion for Order Approving Payment of Administrative and Priority Claims [Doc. No. 156] (the "Motion")
2. As of the date of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession, Beach Dans, Inc. (the "Debtor"), seeks an order allowing it to use a portion of the $541,324.68 in estate funds presently being held in the Debtor's attorney's trust account that were generated from the Debtor's sale of its personal property and business (the "Sale Proceeds") to pay certain administrative and priority claims pursuant to §§ 503 and 507 as follows:

Administrative Claims:

- Enrique Vasquez for post-petition landscaping services: $1,425.00
- California Department of Tax and Fee Administration ("CDFTA") (Claim No. 9): $59,251.86
- Southern Fresh Produce for post-petition goods: $8,132.63

Pre-Petition Priority Claims:

- Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") (Claim No. 1, priority portion, as amended): $145,496.95

- Employment Development Department ("EDD") (Claim No. 7, priority portion): $21,652.04

Total: $330,999.32

Debtor states that the claims of Enrique Vazquez, CDFTA and Southern Fresh Produce are properly classified as administrative claims under § 503(b)(1)(A) because the claimants provided goods or services that were actual and necessary costs and expenses to preserve the estate. Debtor states that the only other administrative claims are those held by the estate's professionals and those entities consent to these proposed payments. Declaration of Peter Yoon.

Further, Debtor states that the IRS, FTB and CDFTA and EDD hold priority claims that should be paid now in order to avoid any additional expenses to the estate.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 503(b) states in relevant part:

(b) After notice and a hearing, there shall be allowed, administrative expenses, other than claims allowed under section 502(f) of this title, including – provided post-petition goods or services to the Debtor that directly and substantially benefitted the estate.

Moreover, as of the date of this Tentative Ruling, the court has not received any opposition. Pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), failure to file a timely opposition may be deemed consent to the granting of the motion. Therefore, the Debtor's request to treat those claims as administrative claims under § 503(b)(1)(A) is granted.

The Court also finds it appropriate to grant the Debtor's request to pay the priority claims of the IRS, FTB, CDFTA and EDD. Pursuant to § 502(a), those claims are deemed allowed because no party in interest has objected.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by references, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. Docket 899

Tentative Ruling:

12/18/2018

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Debtors' Notice of Motion and Motion for Entry of an Order Pursuant to Section 1121 of the Bankruptcy Code Extending the Exclusive Periods to File a Chapter 11 Plan and Solicit Acceptances [Doc. No. 899] (the "Motion")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018, Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

The Debtors move for entry of an order extending the exclusivity periods to file a Chapter 11 Plan and solicit acceptances thereof for 120 days, through and including April 30, 2019 (filing a plan) and June 27, 2019 (obtaining acceptances). Debtors state that the requested extension is necessary because they are currently exploring options to sell some or all of their remaining hospitals.

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") does not object to the requested extension, subject to the Committee's statutory right to seek to terminate exclusivity for cause pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §1121(d).

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 1121(b) gives the Debtor the exclusive right to file a plan during the first 120 days after the date of the order for relief. If the debtor files a plan within the 120-day exclusivity period, §1121(c)(3) provides that exclusivity is extended for an additional 60 days to maintain exclusivity during the plan solicitation period. If the plan has not been accepted by holders of impaired claims before 180 days after the date of the order for relief, then the exclusivity period terminates, unless the debtor has obtained an extension. §1121(c)(3). Section 1121(d) permits the Court to reduce or increase the exclusivity period "for cause." Section 1121 provides the bankruptcy court "maximum flexibility to suit various types of reorganization proceedings." In re Public Service Company of New Hampshire, 88 B.R. 521, 534 (Bankr. D.N.H. 1988).

The Court finds that cause exists to extend the exclusivity periods in accordance with the Debtors' request. This case is complex and has been pending for only a short time. An extension of the exclusivity period is appropriate to provide the Debtors additional time to explore the possibility of selling their remaining assets.

The exclusive period for the Debtors to file a Plan is extended to and including April 30, 2019. The exclusive period for the Debtors to solicit acceptances of a Plan is extended to and including June 27, 2019. The requested extension is subject to the Committee's statutory right to seek to terminate exclusivity for cause pursuant to § 1121(d).

The Debtors shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

On October 31, 2018, the Court entered an Order (I) Approving Form of Asset Purchase Agreement for Stalking Horse Bidder and for Prospective Overbidders to Use, (2) Approving Auction Sale Format, Bidding Procedures and Stalking Horse Bid Protections, (3) Approving Form of Notice to Be Provided to Interested Parties, (4) Scheduling a Court Hearing to Consider Approval of the Sale to the Highest Bidder and (5) Approving Procedures Related to the Assumption of Certain Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases; and (II) an Order (A) Authorizing the Sale of Property Free and Clear of All Claims, Liens and Encumbrances [Doc. No. 724] (the "Bidding Procedures Order," and the motion for entry of the Bidding Procedures Order, the "Bidding Procedures Motion"). The Bidding Procedures Order established procedures governing the auction of Saint Louise Regional Hospital ("St. Louise"), O'Connor Hospital ("O'Connor"), and related assets (collectively, the "Assets"). Pursuant to an Asset Purchase Agreement (the "APA") dated October 1, 2018, the County of Santa Clara ("Santa Clara") was designated as the stalking horse bidder (the "Stalking Horse Bidder").

The Assets consist of:

all assets, businesses, real property, personal property, equipment, supplies, software, contracts, leases, licenses/permits, books, records, offices, facilities, and all other tangible and intangible property (a) whatsoever and wherever located that is owned, leased, or used primarily in connection with the Businesses by a Hospital Seller, (b) located in Santa Clara County, California that is owned, leased, or used primarily in connection with the Businesses by Verity Holdings, and (c) whatsoever and wherever located that is owned, leased, or used by Verity primarily in connection with the Businesses, in each case, except for the Excluded Assets.

APA at ¶1.8.

Certain liabilities are excluded from the sale. Most significant is the exclusion of all "Labor Obligations," defined in the APA to include all "collective bargaining agreements ... that are in place with any labor unions" APA at ¶8.13.

The Bidding Procedures Order established a deadline of November 30, 2018, at 4:00 p.m. (PST) for bidders to submit partial bids for the Assets and a deadline of December 5, 2018, at 4:00 p.m. (PST) to submit full bids for the Assets. The Partial Bid Auction [Note 1] was set for December 10, 2018, and the Full Bid Auction was set for December 11, 2018. Because no qualified bids were submitted, neither auction occurred. See Notice that No Auction Shall Be Held Re Debtors' Motion for the Entry of [the Bidding Procedures Order] [Doc. No. 1005]. Procedures Order, this hearing has been set to consider the Debtors' motion for entry of an order approving the sale of the Assets (the "Sale Motion," and the hearing on the Sale Motion, the "Sale Hearing"). The Debtors expect that the sale will close no earlier than February 28, 2019.

The Debtors are in the process of negotiating with certain parties who object to certain aspects of the Sale Motion. The status of those negotiations is as follows:

Centers for Medicare and Medicare Services Objection

The United States Department of Health and Human Services and the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (collectively, "HHS") objects to the APA's characterization of Medicare Provider Agreements (the "Provider Agreements") held by St. Louise and O'Connor as licenses rather than as executory contracts. According to HHS, the Medicare Provider Agreements are executory contracts which may only be assumed and assigned in conformance with the requirements of §365.

The Debtors and CMS are negotiating for a consensual resolution of issues pertaining to the transfer of the Provider Agreements. The Debtors and CMS have agreed that, no later than 4:00 p.m. on January 18, 2019, either (a) the Debtors will file a notice that issues pertaining to the transfer of the Provider Agreements have been resolved, or (b) HHS will file an objection to the sale and the proposed transfer of the Provider Agreement. If a hearing is necessary, the Debtors request that it be held on January 30, 2019, at 10:00 a.m.

California Attorney General Objection

In July 2015, the California Attorney General (the "Attorney General") reviewed a transaction between the Debtors' predecessor, Daughters of Charity Ministry Services Corporation ("Daughters") and BlueMountain Capital Management, LLC ("Blue Mountain"). In connection with the July 2015 transaction, the Attorney General imposed various conditions governing the operation of the Debtors' hospitals (the "2015 Conditions"). Among other things, the 2015 Conditions require the hospitals to furnish specified amounts of charitable care, to continue to provide certain types of health care services, and to continue to operate emergency departments in accordance with minimum requirements. The Attorney General asserts that any purchaser of the Assets remains bound by the 2015 Conditions.

The Debtors and the Attorney General are negotiating for a consensual resolution of these issues. By January 18, 2019, the Debtors will file either (a) a notice that issues regarding the applicability of the 2015 Conditions have been resolved, or (b) a notice that no resolution was reached and that a hearing will be required on the applicability of the 2015 Conditions. If a hearing is necessary, the Debtors request that it be held on January 30, 2019, at 10:00 a.m.

Collective Bargaining Agreements

The Debtors and various unions whose Collective Bargaining Agreements (the "CBAs") are implicated by the Sale Motion have met to discuss the impact of the sale on the CBAs. The Debtors will shortly be filing motions, pursuant to §1113, to reject and/or modify those CBAs (the "CBA Motions"). The Debtors propose that a hearing on the CBA Motions occur no later than January 30, 2019.

Assumption of Certain Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases

The Bidding Procedures Order established procedures governing the assumption and assignment of executory contracts and unexpired leases. Pursuant to those procedures, the Debtors filed and served a Notice to Counterparties to Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases of the Debtors that May Be Assumed and Assigned [Doc. No. 810] (the "Cure Notice") on November 12, 2018. The Cure Notice identifies the amounts, if any, that the Debtors believe are owed to each counterparty on account of executory contracts and unexpired leases which the Debtors seek to assume pursuant to §365 (the "Assumed Executory Contracts"). The Cure Notice identified 1,166 executory contracts and unexpired leases subject to assumption by O'Connor, and 1,050 executory contracts and unexpired leases subject to assumption by St. Louise.

Numerous counterparties to Assumed Executory Contracts have filed objections to the Cure Notice (collectively, the "Assumption Objections"). Objections asserted by counterparties fall into several categories. First, counterparties assert that the Cure Amounts identified in the Cure Notice are inaccurate, or that the Cure Notice does not identify with sufficient particularity the executory contract or unexpired lease which the Debtors seek to assume, making it impossible for the counterparty to determine the accuracy of the Cure Amount.

Second, because the Debtors historically have operated their six hospitals as a unified system, many of the contracts at issue are between the counterparty and the entire hospital system—not just the two hospitals that are the subject of the Sale Motion. Counterparties to contracts of this type assert that any cure amount must be sufficient to cure all defaults under the contract—not just defaults related to the hospitals that are being sold.

Third, certain of the contracts involve the licensing of software. Counterparties to contracts of this type assert that pursuant to Catapult Entertainment, Inc., 165 F.3d 747 (9th Cir. 1999), the contracts may not be assumed absent the counterparties' consent.

Santa Clara has advised the Debtors that it wishes to assume additional executory contracts and/or unexpired leases that have not yet been designated. The Debtors intend to file a list of these additional contracts (the "Designated Contracts List") prior to the Sale Hearing. The Debtors request that the Court continue all matters related to Cure Amounts and Assumption and Assignment to a date prior to the closing of the sale.

CNA's Objection and the Debtors' Response

The California Nurses Association ("CNA") represents approximately 544 registered nurses at O'Connor and approximately 204 registered nurses at St. Louise. Nurses employed at O'Connor and St. Louise are covered by Master Collective Bargaining Agreements (the "CBAs") containing successorship clauses which purport to bind any purchaser of St. Louise or O'Connor.

Pursuant to §5.3.1 of the APA, Santa Clara will hire substantially all workers employed at O'Connor and St. Louise on a "provisional basis," with certain employees to be permanently hired on "terms and conditions of employment generally consistent with those offered to other Purchaser employees in the same or substantially similar Purchaser classification."

On December 6, 2018, representatives of CNA met with the Debtors' representatives and with Debtors' counsel to discuss the Debtors' proposal regarding the CBAs. Discussions were memorialized in a letter sent from Debtors' counsel to CNA's counsel on December 7, 2018 (the "Letter"). The Letter provides that the Debtors "will need to terminate" the CBAs pertaining to O'Connor and St. Louise "because they will no longer own or operate the Hospitals," and because Santa Clara "does not seek to be bound by the terms of, or obligations under, the CBAs." Letter at 1-2. The Letter further states that the Debtors will shortly file a §1113 motion to reject the CBAs.

CNA contends that any §1113 motion that the Debtors file cannot be granted as a result of the Debtors' alleged failure to timely negotiate with CNA in good faith. According to CNA:

- 1) The Debtors have already violated the CBA's successor clause by moving for the sale of St. Louise and O'Connor prior to filing a §1113 motion. Even if the Debtors could claim retroactive rejection of the CBAs based on a subsequent § 1113 motion (which is by itself doubtful), their conduct thus far has made rejection of the CBAs an impossibility. Specifically, the Debtors have bound themselves to the APA with Santa Clara prior to making any effort to modify the existing CBAs.

- 2) In In re Lady H Coal Co., Inc., 193 B.R. 233, 242 (Bankr. S.D.W. Va. 1996), the court rejected the Debtor's attempt to reject a CBA where, as here, the Debtors did not seek rejection of the CBA until after they had entered into a sale agreement with a party not willing to assume the CBA. The Lady H court explained "that a debtor has a duty under § 1113 to not obligate itself prior to negotiations with its union employees, which would likely preclude reaching a compromise," and held that "the Debtors could not have bargained in good faith as the Debtors were, prior to any negotiations with the union, locked into at an agreement where the purchaser was not assuming the [CBA]." Lady H, 193 B.R. at 242. Similarly, in In re Karykeion, Inc., 435 B.R. 663, 682 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2010), the court stated that the "[u]nions are correct that beginning negotiations when one party is already locked into a position does not constitute good faith."
- 3) Here, the Debtors did not engage with CNA prior to entering into the APA with Santa Clara or during initial negotiations with potential buyers, and therefore was unable to convey CNA's concerns to such buyers. This precluded the Debtors from seeking a more employee-friendly APA at the time the Debtors had the greatest bargaining leverage over Santa Clara.

The Debtors dispute the contention that they are required to obtain relief under §1113 before proceeding with the sale. In support of this position, Debtors rely upon Local 211 v. Family Snacks, Inc., Official Unsecured Creditors' Comm. (In re Family Snacks, Inc.), 257 B.R. 884, 897 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2001):

When a debtor is selling on a going concern basis, the union urges, Ionosphere should not apply because the only meaningful time the court can make a decision on rejection is prior to the sale. We see no basis for such a distinction, unless it is to give the union veto power over a going concern sale which, as we know from experience, is often the best way to reap the greatest benefit for all creditors. Section 1113 was never intended to give unions such power. Its sole purpose is to keep a debtor from unilaterally rejecting a CBA and to plainly articulate the rules for going about rejection. If, as Ionosphere concluded, a debtor who is liquidating piecemeal should not be forced into Chapter 7 in order to preserve its assets for equitable distribution to all creditors, the same is true for a debtor who is selling its assets on a going concern basis.

Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 897.

Local 39's Objection and the Debtors' Response

On November 14, 2018, the Court authorized the Debtors to enter into a post-petition CBA (the "Postpetition CBA") with the International Union of Operating Engineers, Stationary Engineers, Local 39 ("Local 39"). Local 39 objects to the sale of hospitals free and clear of the Postpetition CBA. Local 39's position is that a sale free and clear contravenes the requirements of §1113.

Debtors assert that the premise of Local 39's objection is misplaced, because § 1113 does not govern postpetition CBAs.

II. Findings and Conclusions

For the reasons set forth in greater detail below and subject to such oral argument as may be presented at the hearing, the Court tentatively GRANTS the Sale Motion. Before proceeding to the merits of the Sale Motion, the Court addresses the procedures that shall govern the adjudication of various outstanding issues.

A. Procedures Governing the Adjudication of Assumption Objections

Most of the Assumption Objections stem from relatively minor disagreements over Cure Amounts. Given the voluminous records involved in the operation of the hospitals, such discrepancies are not surprising. It is the Court's expectation that upon more thorough review, most Assumption Objections can be consensually resolved.

The Court will adjudicate only those Assumption Objections that cannot be resolved after good-faith negotiations between the parties. The following procedures shall govern the adjudication of such objections.

By no later than Friday, January 18, 2019, the Debtors shall file a notice containing a list of (a) the Assumption Objections that have been resolved and (b) the Assumption Objections as to which Court intervention is required. As to the Assumption Objections for which Court intervention is required, the following briefing schedule shall apply:

- 1) A hearing on the Assumption Objection shall take place on Wednesday, January 30, 2019, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) The Debtors' opposition to each outstanding Assumption Objection shall be submitted by no later than Friday, January 18, 2019.
- 3) The counterparties' reply in support of its Assumption Objection shall be submitted by no later than Friday, January 25, 2019.

The foregoing procedures apply to contracts subject to assumption that have already been designated. As to contracts that have not yet been designated, the deadlines set forth above shall also apply, but shall be supplemented by the following additional deadlines:

- 1) The Debtors shall file the Designated Contracts List by no later than December 19, 2018.
- 2) Counterparties subject to contracts set forth in the Designated Contracts List who object to assumption and/or the proposed Cure Amounts shall be subject to the procedures set forth in the Bidding Procedures Order pertaining to the assertion of an Assumption Objection, except that the applicable deadlines shall be extended to reflect the later filing of the Designated Contracts List. Any such counterparties who object to assumption and/or the proposed Cure Amount shall file an Assumption Objection by no later than January 2, 2019.
- 3) Upon the filing of the Assumption Objection, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to resolve objections to Cure Amounts. To the extent that a negotiated resolution cannot be achieved, Assumption Objections filed in connection with the Designated Contracts List shall be adjudicated in the same manner as all other Assumption Objections (that is, a hearing on such Assumption Objections shall take place on January 30, 2019, and the remainder of the briefing deadlines set forth above shall apply).

B. Procedures Governing the Adjudication of Objections Asserted by HHS and the California Attorney General

The Court is amenable to the Debtors' proposal regarding the adjudication of issues pertaining to (a) the transfer of the Debtors' Provider Agreements and (b) the applicability of the 2015 Conditions.

The following procedures shall govern the adjudication of HHS' objection regarding the transfer of the Provider Agreements:

CONT... Verity Health System of California, Inc.

Chapter 11

- 1) By no later than Friday, January 18, 2019, either (a) the Debtors shall file a notice that the issues have been resolved, or (b) HHS shall file an objection to the sale and the proposed transfer of the Provider Agreement.
- 2) If the issues are not resolved, a hearing on HHS' objection shall take place on Wednesday, January 30, 2019, at 10:00 a.m.
- 3) The Debtors' reply to HHS' objection shall be filed by no later than Friday, January 25, 2019.

The Court notes that the issues governing the transferability of the Medicare Provider Agreements largely overlap with the issues governing the transferability of the Medi-Cal Provider Agreements. Therefore, to the extent that the Debtors are unable to reach an agreement resolving the Attorney General's objection to the Sale Motion [Doc. No. 906], the same procedures and briefing schedule as set forth above shall apply.

The following procedures shall govern the adjudication of the applicability of the 2015 Conditions:

- 1) By no later than Friday, January 18, 2019, either (a) the Debtors shall file a notice that the issues have been resolved, or (b) a notice stating that no resolution was reached and that a hearing will be required.
- 2) If the issues are not resolved, a hearing shall take place on Wednesday, January 30, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. The Debtors shall file a reply to the Attorney General's objection to the Bidding Procedures Motion [Doc. No. 463] by no later than Friday, January 25, 2019.

C. CNA's Objection is Overruled

CNA asserts that the Debtors' alleged failure to negotiate in good faith with respect to its CBA forecloses any possibility that the Debtors could prevail on a §1113 motion. CNA's argument lacks merit.

CNA's position is that the Debtors should have initiated negotiations regarding the CBA before the conclusion of the auction. In the Court's view, such negotiations would have been a needless diversion of the Debtors' resources better devoted to marketing the Assets. Adopting CNA's position would mean that the Debtors would have been required to begin negotiating with CNA before it became known who would submit the highest bidder for the Assets, and whether such bidder would wish to assume the CBAs. Such shadow boxing would necessarily have been preliminary, speculative, and would have accomplished nothing.

Ultimately, although no additional bidders appeared, that does not mean that the Debtors were incorrect to concentrate their efforts on soliciting bidders rather than engaging in speculative negotiations with CNA.

CNA relies upon Lady H and Karykeion for the proposition that it is now impossible for the Debtors to conduct the good-faith negotiations that are a pre-requisite for obtaining relief under §1113, because the Debtors are now obligated to proceed under the APA which provides for the rejection of the CBAs. [Note 2]

The Court declines to follow Lady H or Karykeion for the propositions cited. In the Court's view, the better-reasoned approach is set forth in Family Snacks, which held that the debtor was not required to initiate the §1113 process (including the requirements of negotiating with the unions) prior to selling its assets. The Family Snacks court correctly observes that "there is nothing in the language of §1113 that dictates when an application to reject must be made." Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895. Further, the Family Snacks court reasoned that requiring the §1113 process to be completed prior to an asset sale would give unions undue power over the sale process to the detriment of other creditors:

When a debtor is selling on a going concern basis, the union urges, Ionosphere should not apply because the only meaningful time the court can make a decision on rejection is prior to the sale. We see no basis for such a distinction, unless it is to give the union veto power over a going concern sale which, as we know from experience, is often the best way to reap the greatest benefit for all creditors. Section 1113 was never intended to give unions such power. Its sole purpose is to keep a debtor from unilaterally rejecting a CBA and to plainly articulate the rules for going about rejection. If, as Ionosphere concluded, a debtor who is liquidating piecemeal should not be forced into Chapter 7 in order to preserve its assets for equitable distribution to all creditors, the same is true for a debtor who is selling its assets on a going concern basis.

Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 897.

As set forth below, the Court's adjudication of §1113 issues—including whether the Debtor has met its obligation to negotiate with CNA in good faith—will take place at a later date. At this juncture, however, it is important for the Court to emphasize that CNA's position that it is now impossible for the Debtors to obtain relief under § 1113 is without merit.

D. Local 39's Objection is Overruled

Local 39 objects to the sale free and clear of its Postpetition CBA. Local 39's contention that such a sale contravenes §1113 is misdirected. Section 1113 does not apply to the Postpetition CBA because it was entered into subsequent to the date of the petition. As one court has held:

The Union's first contention is that section 1113 applies to all collective bargaining agreements, whether entered into before or after the commencement of the reorganization case. I do not agree. Nothing in the language of the statute or its legislative history indicates that section 1113 was intended to govern disputes with respect to postpetition collective bargaining agreements. Indeed, I have been directed to and have found no case law which is supportive of that notion.

In re Leslie Fay Companies, Inc., 168 B.R. 294, 300 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1994).

E. Procedures Governing Adjudication of Section 1113 Motions

The hearing on the CBA Motions to be filed by the Debtors shall take place on January 30, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. The following briefing deadlines shall apply:

- 1) Debtors shall file the CBA Motions by no later than January 2, 2019.
- 2) Objections to the CBA Motions shall be filed by no later than January 16, 2019.
- 3) Replies in support of the CBA Motions shall be filed by no later than January 23, 2019.

All briefing filed in connection with the CBA Motions must contain citations to all evidence upon which the parties intend to rely. To the extent that parties seek to introduce live witness testimony to support their positions, such witnesses must be identified, and a summary of each witnesses' anticipated testimony must be provided. Upon review of the briefing, the Court will determine whether an evidentiary hearing is required. On Friday, January 25, 2019, the Court will advise the parties whether it

F. The Sale Motion is Granted

Section 363(b) permits the debtor or trustee to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to Court approval. The debtor or trustee must articulate a business justification for the sale of the property. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988) (citing In re Continental Air Lines, 780 F.2d 1223 (5th Cir. 1986)). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. "The court's obligation in § 363(b) sales is to assure that optimal value is realized by the estate under the circumstances." Simantob v. Claims Prosecutor, LLC (In re Lahijani), 325 B.R. 282, 288–89 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005).

The Debtors have demonstrated sufficient business justification for the sale. The Debtors incur significant operational losses at their hospitals, such that continued operations are not financially viable. A sale is the best means to preserve value for creditors.

Based upon its review of the Moloney Declaration filed in support of the Sale Motion, the Court finds that the Debtors have adequately marketed the Assets. Cain Brothers ("Cain"), the Debtors' financial advisors, have been marketing the Assets since June 2018. Twenty-five parties executed non-disclosure agreements and were provided access to a data room containing information about the Assets. Cain has remained in contact with potential purchasers and has been available to provide information.

Pursuant to §363(f)(2), the sale is free and clear of all liens asserted by secured claimants. All parties asserting secured claims have consented to the sale.

Having reviewed the Declaration of Jeffrey Smith [Doc. No. 1044], the Court finds that Santa Clara is a good-faith purchaser entitled to the protections of §363(m).

Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004, the order approving the sale shall take effect immediately upon entry.

The Debtors shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz, the Judge's Law Clerks, at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the

(Estuar, Paul)

Docket 100

Tentative Ruling:

12/18/2018:

Tentative Ruling: For the reasons set forth below, counsel for Plaintiff Sorayda Velasquez is awarded attorneys' fees of $34,575.00, and such fees are excepted from Defendant Wendy Tejada's discharge.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion of Plaintiff Sorayda Velasquez for an Award of Attorney's Fees Against Defendant Wendy Tejada [Doc. Nos. 99–100]
 - a) Order Directing Plaintiff to (1) Refile Amended Fee Motion Using Correct Docket Event Code and to (2) Renote Hearing on Amended Fee Motion [Doc. No. 96]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 7, 2018, the Court entered judgment in favor of Plaintiff Sorayda Velasquez, and against Defendant Wendy Tejada. See Memorandum of Decision Finding that Tejada's Indebtedness to Velasquez, in the Amount of $28,000.00, is Excepted from Discharge [Doc. No. 63] (the "Memorandum of Decision") and Judgment in Favor of Plaintiff Sorayda Velasquez [Doc. No. 64] (the "Judgment"). The Court found that Defendant Tejada was indebted to Plaintiff Velasquez in the amount of $28,000, and that such indebtedness was excepted from Tejada's discharge pursuant to §523(a)(6). The Court declined to award attorneys' fees:

Cal. Civ. Code §789.3(a) provides for an award of attorneys' fees. However, Velasquez's counsel did not present any evidence establishing the amount of fees incurred. Therefore, the Court will not award any attorneys' fees.

Memorandum of Decision at 14.

Tejada's appeal of the Judgment is currently pending before the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel. On October 19, 2018, the Court entered an Order Taxing Costs of $3,281.20 to Defendant [Doc. No. 95].

On August 21, 2018, Plaintiff filed a motion seeking attorneys' fees, followed by an amended motion seeking attorneys' fees [Doc. No. 73] (the "Amended Fee Motion"), and set the motion for hearing on October 24, 2018. On October 19, 2018, the Court entered an Order Directing Plaintiff to (1) Refile Amended Fee Motion Using Correct Docket Event Code and to (2) Renotice Hearing on Amended Fee Motion [Doc. No. 96] (the "Renoticing Order"). As set forth in the Renoticing Order:

Plaintiff has filed a motion seeking an award of attorneys' fees [Doc. No. 72] (the "Fee Motion") and an amended motion seeking attorneys' fees [Doc. No. 73] (the "Amended Fee Motion"). Docket entries 73 and 82 indicate that the Clerk of the Court (the "Clerk") has advised Plaintiff to refile the Amended Fee Motion using the correct docket event code. The Clerk has further advised Plaintiff that the Amended Fee Motion is not on calendar for October 24, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. See Doc. Nos. 73 and 82. Plaintiff has not refiled the Amended Fee Motion using the correct docket event code. No opposition to the Amended Fee Motion is on file, possibly as a result of Defendant's reliance upon the docket entries stating that the Amended Fee Motion is not on calendar.

The Renoticing Order further provided that the October 24, 2018 hearing on the Amended Fee Motion would not go forward, and required Plaintiff to refile the Amended Fee Motion using the correct docket event code and renotice the Amended Fee Motion for hearing. Renoticing Order at ¶¶1–2.

Plaintiff renoticed the Amended Fee Motion as required by the Renoticing Order. Doc. Nos. 99–100. However, no Proof of Service is attached to the Amended Fee Motion.

Plaintiff seeks an award of attorneys' fees, in the amount of $34,575.00, pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code §789.3. No opposition to the Amended Fee Motion has been filed.

Chapter 7

A. Notice of the Amended Fee Motion was Sufficient

Notwithstanding the absence of a Proof of Service, the Court finds that notice of the Amended Fee Motion was sufficient.

Attorneys who file documents electronically receive electronic notice of docket activity, by means of the Court's Notice of Electronic Filing ("NEF") system. Each docket entry contains an electronic receipt which indicates which parties received notice of that docket entry by means of the NEF system. Here, the electronic receipt associated with the Amended Fee Motion shows that Tejada's counsel, Donald E. Iwuchuki, received electronic notice of the Amended Fee Motion at the following e-mail addresses: <donalদিwuchuku@gmail.com> and <r60703@notify.bestcase.com>.

B. The Fee Motion is Granted

In the Memorandum of Decision, the Court found that Tejada intentionally disconnected the water service to Velasquez's apartment for the purpose of terminating Velasquez's tenancy, in violation of Cal. Civ. Code §789.3(a). Based upon this violation of Cal. Civ. Code §789.3(a), the Court found that Tejada was indebted to Velasquez in the amount of $28,000, and that such indebtedness was excepted from Tejada's discharge. Although Cal. Civ. Code §789.3(a) provides that the prevailing party is entitled to an award of attorneys' fees, the Court decline to award Plaintiff Velasquez's counsel fees based on a lack of evidence.

Velasquez's counsel has now submitted detailed billing records regarding the work performed in this matter. Counsel seeks attorneys' fees of $34,575.00 for spending 99.2 hours litigating this action. Counsel's billing rate is $375.00 per hour.

Having reviewed counsel's billing records, and having observed firsthand counsel's litigation of this action, the Court finds that the fees requested are reasonable in view of the results obtained. Counsel's billing rate is comparable to the rates billed by attorneys of comparable skill, experience, and reputation. With respect to the number of hours billed, the Court notes that litigation of this action through trial required counsel to conduct discovery, conduct a deposition, engage in mediation, prepare a pretrial stipulation, litigate several motions in limine, prepare a trial brief, and prepare for and attend the trial, among other things. The accomplishment of all this in only 99.2 hours shows that counsel efficiently litigated this matter, spending time only on tasks that were strictly necessary.

"Established case law holds that a debtor's obligation for attorneys' fees and costs is excepted from discharge under section 523(a)(6) as a 'debt for' debtor's willful and malicious injury when awarded by the state court 'with respect to' or 'by reason of' the same underlying conduct that precluded discharge of the underlying compensatory damages award." Suarez v. Barrett (In re Suarez), 400 B.R. 732, 738–39 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2009), aff'd, 529 F. App'x 832 (9th Cir. 2013).

Here, the Court awarded Velasquez $28,000 based upon Tejada's violation of Cal. Civ. Code §789.3(a). Although these damages were not fixed by the state court, Suarez's reasoning applies because the damages arise under California law.

In seeking attorneys' fees, counsel does not distinguish between fees incurred establishing Tejada's violation of Cal. Civ. Code §789.3(a), and fees incurred establishing that such violation was excepted from Tejada's discharge. In this case, the failure to make such a distinction is immaterial. To establish that Tejada violated Cal. Civ. Code §789.3(a), counsel introduced evidence showing that Tejada deliberately disconnected water service to Velasquez's apartment, for the purpose of inducing Velasquez to vacate the unit; that Velasquez could not afford to move because rents had risen; that the absence of water imposed a severe hardship upon Velasquez and her children; and that Tejada was aware that disconnecting the water would create hardship. Counsel relied upon this same evidence to establish that the indebtedness arising under Cal. Civ. Code §789.3(a) was excepted from Tejada's discharge.

Counsel has not sought reimbursement for a substantial number of hours spent litigating this matter. Riles Decl. at ¶7. In view of the substantial reduction in the number of hours billed, and the overlap between establishing liability under Cal. Civ. Code §789.3(a) and establishing the non-dischargeability of such liability, an award of $34,575.00 will not result in counsel obtaining compensation for litigating dischargeability issues.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Amended Fee Application is GRANTED. Counsel shall submit a judgment for the fees awarded herein within seven days of the hearing. [Note 1] The judgment shall incorporate this tentative ruling by reference.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession, Henderson Mechanical Systems, Inc. (the "Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on April 9, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is a subcontractor that fabricates and installs heating, ventilating, and air-conditioning systems for general contractors.

UST Motion

On November 1, 2018, the Office of the United States Trustee (the "UST") filed a Motion under §1112(b) seeking to convert this case to a case under chapter 7 based upon the following:

- i. Debtor has not filed:
 - a. Sufficient evidence of current insurance including the declaration page for Debtor's commercial liability policy that purportedly expired 9/11/2018;
 - b. A September Monthly Operating Report ("MOR");
- ii. Paid quarterly UST fees for the third quarter of 2018 in the estimated amount of $4,875.

Doc. No. 78, Declaration of Gary Baddin.

The UST asserts that, based upon its review of the Debtor's Schedules, conversion appears to be in the best interest of creditors because there may be assets that a trustee can evaluate and readily administer in a Chapter 7. If the case is converted, the UST also requests that the Court direct Debtor's chapter 11 counsel to file a fee application under § 330 within thirty days of conversion.

Alternatively, in the event the Court determines that dismissal is in the best interest of creditors, the UST requests that the Court enter an order prohibiting the Debtor from filing another bankruptcy petition for a period of 180-days and order the Debtor to pay all outstanding UST fees and enter a judgment in favor of the UST for any unpaid amounts.

Finally, in the event the Court denies conversion and dismissal, the UST requests that the Court set a date certain for the Debtor to obtain confirmation of a chapter 11 plan of reorganization.

On December 3, 2018, this Court entered an Order continuing the hearing on the UST Motion from December 12, 2018 to December 19, 2018 to be heard concurrently with the IRS Motion (defined below).

On December 12, 2018, the Debtor filed an untimely Opposition to the UST Motion [Doc. No. 96]. The Debtor states that it has resolved all of the compliance issues raised by the UST as follows: (i) Debtor filed its delinquent September MOR on November 20, 2018 [Doc. No. 82]; (ii) Debtor will pay the UST's third quarter fees in the amount of $4,875 on or before December 14, 2018; and (iii) Debtor is adequately insured with commercial liability insurance with coverage through September 14, 2019 and has provided the policy declaration to the UST.

On December 14, 2018, the UST filed a Reply to the arguments set forth in the Opposition [Doc. No. 97]. First, the UST highlights that the Debtor filed its Opposition an entire week late, despite the fact that the hearing was originally scheduled for December 12, 2018 and the Debtor had an additional weeks' notice to prepare and file its opposition. Second, the UST maintains its position that conversion is in the best interest of creditors because the Debtor still has not cured the outstanding compliances issues. Specifically, the UST states that the Debtor has not cured outstanding UST fees in the amount of $4,881.01 and has not submitted proof of commercial liability insurance. The UST also highlights that the Opposition is not supported by declaration of the Debtor or Debtor's counsel and has no evidentiary support.

The UST also asserts that despite the Debtor having been in bankruptcy for almost six months, the Debtor's October 2018 MOR reveals that the Debtor has little money in its debtor-in-possession bank accounts. See Exhibit 1.

IRS Motion

Chapter 11

On November 28, 2018, the United States of America, acting on behalf of its agency, the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") filed a motion to dismiss this case under § 1112(b) [Doc. No. 84]. The IRS states that pursuant to its Second Amended Proof of Claim No. 1-2 (the "IRS Claim"), it holds a claim against the Debtor's estate in the total amount of $1,102,516.74, which is comprised of (i) a secured claim of $96,886.97 for unpaid payroll tax, corporate tax, and penalties pursuant to 26 U.S.C. § 6721(e) for various tax periods between September 30, 2010 through December 31, 2012; (ii) a priority tax claim for $754,131.29 for unpaid estimated payroll taxes for various tax periods between June 30, 2012 through December 31, 2018 because the Debtor failed to file and/or pay tax returns for these same periods; and (iii) a general unsecured claim for $295,703.93 arising from tax penalties.

The IRS argues that cause exists to dismiss this case under § 1112(b)(4)(I) on the grounds that the Debtor has failed to timely pay payroll taxes and failed to timely file payroll tax returns. The IRS states that the Debtor has failed to file its Form 941 for the second and third quarters of 2018 and to timely pay any payroll taxes for those quarters. The IRS estimates the amounts owing for each quarter is $50,000 in additional tax liability.

Additionally, the IRS argues that cause exists to dismiss this case under § 1112(b)(4)(A), because of the substantial or continuing loss to or diminution of the estate, without a reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation. The IRS asserts that there is not a reasonable likelihood that the Debtor will be able to confirm a plan of reorganization because the Debtor's continued failure to pay post-petition payroll tax obligations entitles the IRS to an administrative expense claim in the approximate amount of $100,000 under § 503(b) and (c), which must be paid in full on the effective date of any confirmed plan. Further, the IRS asserts that the Debtor's failure to pay post-petition payroll taxes results in a continuing loss and diminution to the estate because of the daily accrual of interest and penalties imposed on the delinquent taxes.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Debtor has not filed an opposition to the IRS Motion.

Under § 1112(b), the Court shall dismiss or convert a case to one under chapter 7 upon a showing of "cause." Section 1112(b)(4) provides a nonexclusive list of factors that constitute "cause," including, in relevant part: "(A) substantial or continuing loss to or diminution of the estate and the absence of a reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation;" "(B) gross mismanagement of the estate;" "(C) failure to maintain appropriate insurance that poses a risk to the estate or to the public;" "(E) failure to comply with an order of the court;" "(F) unexcused failure to satisfy timely any filing or reporting requirement established by this title or by any rule applicable to a case under this chapter;" "(H) failure timely to provide information or attend meetings reasonably requested by the United States trustee (or the bankruptcy administrator, if any);" "(I) failure timely to pay taxes owed after the date of the order for relief or to file tax returns due after the date of the order for relief;" and "(J) failure to file a disclosure statement, or to file or confirm a plan, within the time fixed by this title or by order of the court." 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(4).

The Court finds sufficient "cause" exists to dismiss or convert the Debtor's case pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b). The Debtor has, among other things, (i) failed to provide evidence demonstrating that its insurance policy is current [§1112(b)(4)(C) & (H)], (ii) failed to timely file Monthly Operating Reports for July, September and October 2018 or pay UST 3rd quarter fees for 2018 [§1112(b)(4)(F)], (iii) failed to pay postpetition tax obligations and to file tax returns [§ 1112(b)(4)(I)]; (iv) failed to comply with the deadline set by this Court to file a disclosure statement [§ 1112(b)(4) (E) and (J)].

Additionally, as the IRS highlights, "cause" exists under § 1112(b)(4)(A) based upon the continued diminution of the estate resulting from the daily accrual of interest and penalties and because the ever-growing tax obligations indicate the absence of a reasonable likelihood that the Debtor will be able to confirm a plan of reorganization.

The Court further notes that, despite the Debtor's substitution of counsel on November 15, 2018 [Doc. No. 81], Debtor's new counsel has not demonstrated that it can competently represent the Debtor. Mr. Giron failed to file a disclosure statement by the November 30, 2018 deadline set by this Court or timely seek an extension of that deadline. See Doc. Nos. 73, 90 & 93. Further, Mr. Giron filed an untimely opposition to the UST Motion, has not opposed the IRS Motion, and has not obtained authorization to be employed.

Chapter 11

All of the foregoing reasons lead this Court to conclude that the Debtor has grossly mismanaged the estate [§ 1112(b)(4)(B)] and should no longer remain a debtor-in-possession.

Having determined that cause exists, the Court must next determine whether dismissal or conversion serves the best interests of creditors or the estate. See In re Products Int'l Co., 395 B.R. 101, 107 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2008) (citing In re Nelson, 343 B.R. 671 (9th Cir. 2006)). "[W]hen deciding between dismissal and conversion under 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b), the court must consider the interests of all of the creditors." Shulkin Hutton, Inc. v. Treiger (In re Owens), 552 F.3d 958, 961 (9th Cir. 2009) (emphasis in original) (quoting Rollex Corp. v. Associated Materials, Inc. (In re Superior Siding & Window, Inc.), 14 F.3d 240, 243 (4th Cir. 1994)).

The Court finds that conversion to chapter 7 would not be in the best interest of creditors because, given the sizeable pre- and post-petition tax liabilities owing to the IRS, it is unlikely that there will be any distribution to creditors other than the IRS. Also, if a trustee was unable to immediately terminate any on-going projects there would be no funds (or insufficient funds) to obtain requisite insurance. Moreover, the IRS, the major creditor in the case, has requested that this case be dismissed.

Therefore, the Court finds it appropriate to dismiss this case with a 180-day bar to re-filing a bankruptcy petition under any chapter.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motions are GRANTED. The case is dismissed with a 180-day bar to being a debtor in bankruptcy. The Debtor is ordered to pay any outstanding UST quarterly fees. The UST's request for entry of a judgment in its favor for any unpaid quarterly fees is granted.

The IRS and UST are directed to each lodge proposed orders, incorporating this tentative ruling, within 7 days of the hearing.
