Docket 11

Tentative Ruling:

1/3/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court notes that Debtor's interest in the property consists of a lease that matured or was rejected on or about November 14, 2019. See Motion at 7 [Personal Property Declaration]. Additionally, as stated in the motion, the Debtor voluntarily surrendered the property on or about October 25, 2019. Id.

Docket 6

Tentative Ruling:

1/3/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Debtor continues to occupy the property after defaulting on a commercial lease on or about August 1, 2019. The Movant served a notice to pay or quit on the Debtor on November 26, 2019.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. Docket 11

1/3/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Court finds that there is sufficient evidence to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(4). The Debtor filed this voluntary Chapter 7 case on October 10, 2019. On November 30, 2016, Maria Carmen Cuevas and Kyle Pineda (the "Borrowers") executed a security instrument secured by real property located at 29 Maynard Street, San Francisco, CA, 94112 (the "Property"). See Motion, Ex. 4. As set forth on Exhibit 6 of the Motion, the Borrowers purportedly granted the Debtor a 3% interest in the Property by way of a grant deed. The grant deed is dated October 18, 2018. See Motion, Ex. 6. In fact, interests in the Property were purportedly transferred through unauthorized grant deeds to at least two other individuals. See Supplemental Declaration, ¶ 4. Accordingly, these third parties, including one of the Borrowers, filed multiple bankruptcy cases affecting interests in the Property. See id., ¶¶ 5-8. Therefore, this petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, which involved the transfer of all or part ownership of, or other interest in, the Property without the consent of Movant or court approval and multiple bankruptcy cases affecting the Property.

Moreover, Debtor's commencement documents do not reflect that he possesses any interests in real property. Doc. No. 1. The record further indicates that Debtor has no contractual obligations, or is otherwise in privity of contract, with either the Borrowers or the Movant. Accordingly, the Court cannot conclude that Debtor himself has actually engaged in any bad faith conduct. See In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 267 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012) (" [section] 362(d)(4) 'does not require that it be the debtor who has created the scheme or carried it out, or even that the debtor be a party to the scheme at all.'" ) (internal citations omitted). In sum, the Court determines that in rem relief under § 362(d)(4) is suitable.

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the Property in accordance with applicable law. The 14-day period specified in Fed.R.Bankr.P. 4001(a)(3) is waived. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. If recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in real property, the order shall be binding in any other case under this title purporting to affect the Property filed not later than 2 years after the date of the entry of such order by the Court, except that a debtor in a subsequent case under this title may move for relief from such order based upon changed circumstances or for good cause shown, after notice and a hearing. Any Federal, State, or local governmental unit that accepts notices of interests or liens in real property shall accept a certified copy of this order for indexing and recording. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

1/3/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED in part, DENIED in part.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Action in Nonbankruptcy Forum) [Doc. No. 8] (the "Motion")
2. Order and Notice of Dismissal for Failure to File Schedules, Statements, and/or Plan [Doc. No. 7]
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Sella Care, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 7 case on November 27, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). On December 16, 2019, the Debtor's case was dismissed due to its failure to file required commencement documents. On the same day, Fund Management International, LLC ("Movant") filed the Motion [Doc. No. 8].

Movant seeks relief from the automatic stay pursuant to § 362(d)(1) to proceed under applicable non-bankruptcy law to final judgment with an action pending before the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court") entitled Fund Management International, LLC v. Sella Property, LLC, et al., Case No. BC611563 (the "State Court Action"). The State Court Action was filed on March 1, 2016. In addition to the Debtor, other defendants in the State Court Action are Jun Ho Yang ("J. Yang"), the Debtor's principal; Ho Soon Yang ("H. Yang"), J. Yang's spouse (collectively with J. Yang, the "Yangs"); their son, Sae Hyun Yang; and two other affiliated entities (collectively with the Yangs, the "State Court Co-Defendants"). The complaint in the State Court Action asserts various causes of action arising from the Yangs' breach of a prior lawsuit settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") with Movant, and the State Court Co-Defendants' subsequent attempts to evade its collection by fraudulently conveying real property parcels. As further explained below, trial in the State Court Action has been repeatedly delayed and a new trial date is expected to be set on January 10, 2020.

The Movant states that the instant case is the third bankruptcy filing in a period of four months. The State Court Action had an original trial date of August 19, 2019. The Movant describes the two additional bankruptcy petitions as follows. On August 14, 2019, five days before the August 19 trial, J. Yang commenced a voluntary bankruptcy chapter 13 case. While listing Movant as his only creditor, Movant claims that J. Yang has other creditors as evidenced by the fact that he is currently being sued by his neighbors. J. Yang's bankruptcy case was subsequently dismissed with prejudice with a 180-day refiling bar because he failed to file requisite commencement documents. See Supplemental Declaration of Mark L. Edwards ["Edwards Decl."], ¶¶ 11-13. On October 13, 2019, four days before the State Court Action's continued trial date, H. Yang commenced a voluntary chapter 13. As with J. Yang's petition, H. Yang scheduled Movant as her only creditor, and on or about November 25, 2019, her case was also dismissed with a 180-day refiling bar. Edwards Decl., ¶¶ 15-17. Trial in the State Court Action had been reset to December 3, 2019, but this bankruptcy case was filed six days before.

The Movant contends that cause exists to grant stay-relief under §362(d)(1) for the following reasons:

1. The claims arise under nonbankruptcy law and can be most expeditiously resolved in the nonbankruptcy forum, because the State Court Action involves non-debtor parties and a single trial in the nonbankruptcy forum is the most efficient use of judicial resources.
2. The claims are nondischargeable in nature and can be most expeditiously resolved in the nonbankruptcy forum.

The Movant also requests in rem and prospective stay-relief under § 362(d)(4) as it claims to satisfy the three-part standard under In re First Yorkshire Holdings,

Inc., 470 B.R. 864, 870-71 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2012) as follows:

1. The Debtor holds an alleged security interest in certain real property parcels that are subject of the State Court Action, and which Movant alleges were fraudulently transferred.
2. There is an established pattern of multiple bankruptcy filings affecting trial proceedings in the State Court Action.
3. Prospective relief is appropriate because Movant anticipates that other defendants in the State Court Action may file bankruptcy petitions in the future.

Finally, based on the Court's review of the supporting brief, the Movant also seeks extraordinary relief that includes the following:

1. A finding that Movant holds a nondischargeable claim against J. Yang in the sum of $8,000,000;
2. A finding that Debtor is a vexatious litigant;
3. An award of attorneys' fees and costs of not less than $5,206; and
4. Sanctions against the Debtor of a sum not less than $10,000.

The Movant seeks to proceed under applicable nonbankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the nonbankruptcy forum. The Movant also requests waiver of the 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3). As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition has been filed.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, a motion for relief from the automatic stay is a summary proceeding that does not involve an adjudication of the merits of the underlying claims. As recognized by the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel in In re Luz Int'l, Ltd.:

Given the limited grounds for obtaining a motion for relief from stay, read in conjunction with the expedited schedule for a hearing on the motion, most courts hold that motion for relief from stay hearings should not involve an adjudication of the merits of claims, defenses, or counterclaims, but simply determine whether the creditor has a colorable claim to the property of the estate. See In re Johnson, 756 F.2d 738, 740 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 474 U.S. 828, 106 S.Ct. 88, 88 L.Ed.2d 72 (1985) ("Hearings on relief from the automatic stay are thus handled in a summary fashion. The validity of the claim or contract underlying the claim is not litigated during the hearing.").

Section 362(d)(4) provides that on request of a creditor whose claim is secured by an interest in real property after notice and a hearing, the court shall grant relief from the stay with respect to an act against the property if the court finds that the filing of the petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder or defraud creditors that involved either (1) the transfer of all or part ownership of or interest in the property without the consent of the secured creditor or court approval or (2) multiple bankruptcy filings affecting the property. 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(4). As one court explained: "[Section 362(d)(4)] permits the bankruptcy court to grant in rem relief from the automatic stay in order to address schemes using bankruptcy to thwart legitimate foreclosure efforts through one or more transfers of interest in real property." In re First Yorkshire Holdings, Inc., 470 B.R. 864, 870 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2012).

The Court finds that relief requested pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(4) is inapposite to Movant's request for relief from stay to prosecute the State Court Action. Movant's basis for in rem relief under § 362(d)(4) is premised on operative facts germane to the State Court Action, as summarized below. On or about April 29, 2003, Movant and the Yangs entered into the Settlement Agreement to settle a previous lawsuit for, inter alia, fraudulent conversion of Movant's investment funds for a sum of $3,000,000. See Motion, Ex. H ["Plaintiffs' Trial Brief"] at 2. In 2008, when the Yangs defaulted on Settlement Agreement obligations, Movant entered a judgment in state court pursuant to the parties' stipulation for entry of judgment. See id. On February 27, 2013, Movant recorded an abstract of judgment (the "Judgment") as to J. Yang and two other entities. See id., Ex. C [Abstract of Judgment]. On or about February 19, 2013, J. Yang entered into an agreement to purchase commercial real property at 1833 Manchester Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90047 (the "Manchester Property"). Id. at 4. In an effort to circumvent the Judgment, Movant alleges that J. Yang executed a promissory note in favor of the Debtor for "a line of credit" purportedly extended in connection with the purchase of Manchester Property. Id. at 6. On or about October 10, 2014, J. Yang purchased two undeveloped lots located on W. Court Street (the "Court Street Properties"), Los Angeles, CA 90026. Id. at 8. As with the Manchester Property, J. Yang allegedly executed a promissory note in favor of Debtor in connection with the purchase of the Court Street Properties. Id.

Based on the Court's review of Movant's trial brief, the State Court Action was filed to 1) void any existing conveyance and encumbrance of the Manchester and Court Street Properties, 2) to enjoin any future conveyance and encumbrance thereof, 3) to enforce certain provisions of the Settlement Agreement, and 4) to obtain damages and restitution. To the extent that Movant seeks to enforce these remedies in a nonbankruptcy forum, the Court finds it unnecessary to grant in rem relief under (d) (4). Here, Movant seeks to prevent additional bankruptcy filings from disrupting proceedings in the State Court Action. However, in rem relief under (d)(4) is premature at this point because these bankruptcy cases were not filed to derail any foreclosure proceedings against either the Manchester or Court Street Properties. Besides prosecuting the State Court Action, the Court is not aware of any pre-petition efforts by Movant to enforce its Judgment against these properties. Instead, as discussed below, these bankruptcy filings were merely attempts to postpone trial proceedings in the State Court Action. Therefore, in rem relief under § 362(d)(4) is not warranted at this stage.

Notwithstanding, the Court acknowledges Movant's concern of delayed trial proceedings in the State Court Action. Consequently, extraordinary relief is necessary to permit trial in the State Court Action to proceed without further interruption. The Court addresses such extraordinary relief below.

The automatic stay of 11 U.S.C. § 362(a) stays all action involving the following, in pertinent part:

the commencement or continuation, including the issuance or employment of process of a judicial, administrative, or other action or proceeding against the debtor that was or could have been commenced before the commencement of the case under this title, or to recover a claim against the debtor that arose before the commencement of the case under this title.

11 U.S.C. § 362(a)(1).

Section 362(d)(1) permits a bankruptcy court to grant relief from the automatic stay upon a showing of "cause." Cause is a flexible concept and courts often conduct a fact intensive, case-by-case balancing test, examining the totality of the circumstances to determine whether sufficient cause exists to lift the stay. In re SCO Grp., Inc., 395 B.R. 852, 856 (Bankr. D. Del. 2007) (citing Baldino v. Wilson (In re Wilson), 116 F.3d 87, 90 (3d Cir. 1997); In re Laguna Assocs. Ltd., 30 F.3d 734, 737 (7th Cir. 1994)); In re MacDonald, 755 F.2d 715, 717 (9th Cir. 1985). "Among factors appropriate to consider in determining whether relief from the automatic stay should be granted to allow state court proceedings to continue are considerations of judicial economy and the expertise of the state court." In re Kronemyer, 405 B.R. 915, 921 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2009) (citing In re MacDonald, 755 F.2d 715, 717 (9th Cir. 1985)).

The Court finds that Movant has established a prima facie case that "cause" exists to grant relief from stay under § 362(d)(1). First, relief is appropriate because the causes of action in the State Court Action arise under state law and a state court would be more intimately familiar with Movant's case and applicable California law to expeditiously move the litigation to final judgment. Second, the State Court Action essentially involves the conduct of third parties, where the Debtor's involvement has been reduced to that of a conduit for the property in question.

Last, the Court notes the recurring pattern of bankruptcy filings by Debtor and the State Court Co-Defendants. The Court finds that these bankruptcy petitions were filed for the sole purpose of interrupting trial proceedings in the State Court Action because 1) these petitions were commenced days before the trial was set to commence, 2) Movant is listed as the only creditor, or one of very few creditors, 3) few case commencement documents were submitted, and 4) each case was summarily dismissed with prejudice. See Memorandum of Points and Authorities at 2-4. reference is made to an earlier finding of bad faith reached by the bankruptcy court presiding over J. Yang's chapter 13 case. See Motion, Ex. B. In sum, the Debtor and the State Court Co-Defendants filed the above-referenced bankruptcy cases in bad faith, and these parties acted in concert to impair Movant's ability to prosecute the State Court Action.

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds it appropriate to grant extraordinary relief to prevent future bankruptcy abuses by Debtor or an affiliated party. Pursuant to the Court's inherent authority under § 105(a), this order is binding and effective for a period of 180 days in any bankruptcy case commenced by or against 1) the Debtor, 2) each of the State Court Co-Defendants, or 3) any other entity that may be formed by Debtor or a State Court Co-Defendant, so that no further automatic stay shall arise in that case as to the State Court Action. 11 U.S.C. § 105(a) ("No provision of this title providing for the raising of an issue by a party in interest shall be construed to preclude the court from, sua sponte...prevent[ing] an abuse of process.").

Therefore, the Court GRANTS the Motion pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit the Movant to proceed under applicable non-bankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the non-bankruptcy forum, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtor or estate property. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim or any other claim against the Debtor or property of the estate, except that the Movant will retain the right to file a proof of claim. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code.

The Court Will Issue an Order Requiring Debtor to Appear and Show Cause Why It Should Not be Sanctioned

The Bankruptcy Court has civil contempt authority under §105. Barrientos v. Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., 633 F.3d 1186, 1188 (9th Cir. 2011). Criminal contempt sanctions are not available under §105. Knupfer v. Lindblade (In re Dyer), 322 F.3d 1178, 1193 (9th Cir. 2003). A sanction is civil if it is "either compensatory or designed to coerce compliance." Id. at 1192. A sanction is criminal if the sanction is punitive—that is, "if the contemnor has no subsequent opportunity to reduce or avoid the fine through compliance," and the fine is not compensatory." Id. (internal citations omitted). contempt authority. Dyer, 322 F.3d at 1195.

In addition to its civil contempt authority under §105, a bankruptcy court “has inherent authority ‘to sanction a party who willfully disobeys court orders or acts in bad faith, such as willful improper conduct.’ Where a court imposes a sanction under its inherent power, it must make a finding of bad faith.” In re Count Liberty, LLC, 370 B.R. 259, 271-72 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2007). Inherent authority sanctions may be imposed “when a party has acted in bad faith, vexatiously, wantonly, or for oppressive reasons, delaying or disrupting litigation, or has taken actions in the litigation for an improper purpose.” Fink v. Gomez, 239 F.3d 989, 992 (9th Cir. 2001). Sanctions imposed pursuant to the Bankruptcy Court’s inherent power must be compensatory, not punitive. Miller v. Cardinale (In re Deville), 280 B.R. 483, 497-98 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2002) aff’d sub nom. In re DeVille, 361 F.3d 539 (9th Cir. 2004). “[A] court may sanction pursuant to its inherent authority even when the same conduct may be punished under another sanctioning statute or rule.” Id. at 496. The Bankruptcy Court’s inherent sanctioning authority “is broader than Rule 9011 sanctions and ‘extends to a full range of litigation abuses.’” Id.

Inherent authority sanctions have been imposed against a litigant who filed a series of bankruptcy petitions and notices of removal of a state court action to the bankruptcy court to delay a state court trial and to increase the opposing side’s litigation costs, In re Deville, 280 B.R. at 494–96; against a litigant who engaged in several years of vexatious litigation tactics in an effort to thwart the court’s jurisdiction, Chambers v. NASCO, Inc., 501 U.S. 32 (1991); and against a litigant who filed objections to gain a tactical advantage in a case pending before a different court, In re Itel Securities Litigation, 791 F.2d 672, 675 (9th Cir. 1986).

Pursuant to its inherent authority, the Court will issue an order requiring Debtor to appear and show cause why it should not be sanctioned in the amount of Movant’s reasonable attorney’s fees for commencing this bankruptcy case. As set forth above, the Court finds that the instant case was filed for the sole purpose of delaying trial proceedings in the State Court Action. The Court will issue the Order to Show Cause.

III. Conclusion

As a procedural matter, the Court notes that Debtor's case was dismissed on November 27, 2019. The Court vacates the dismissal for the limited purpose of January 12, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor's bankruptcy case was closed on July 5, 2018 and subsequently reopened on May 3, 2019. Rosendo Gonzalez was initially appointed chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee") and re-assumed his appointment after the case was reopened. On August 14, 2019, the Trustee filed a Notice of Assets [Doc. No. 40]. The Court concurrently filed the Notice of Possible Dividend and Order Fixing Time to File Claims (the "Notice of Claims Bar Date"), which set a deadline of November 18, 2019 (the "Claims Bar Date"), for creditors to file proofs of claim.

On November 22, 2019, Basilio Torices and Roxanne Martinez ("Claimants") filed an untimely Proof of Claim No. 13 (the "Claim") in this matter, asserting a claim for $18,900 premised upon a "Business Purchase Agreement" [Doc. No. 55-1]. See Claim.

B. The Non-Dischargeability Action

On April 16, 2018, the Claimants initiated an adversary proceeding by filing a complaint (the "Non-Dischargeability Complaint") against Debtor, alleging that the damages they incurred in connection with Debtor's willful and malicious actions were non-dischargeable under 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(6) (the "Non-Dischargeability Action") (Adv. Case No. 2:18-ap-01103-ER). On December 19, 2019, the Debtor received a favorable judgment on the Non-Dischargeability Complaint.

C. The Objection [Note 1]

On November 25, 2019, the Debtor filed an objection to the Claim [Doc. No. 51] (the "Objection"). Based on the arguments set forth in the Objection, the Debtor argues that the Claim must be disallowed in its entirety on the following three grounds: 1) Debtor was not served with the Claim, 2) the Claim was inexcusably filed late, and 3) Debtor disputes that she owes Claimants any money. The Debtor did not address the issue of standing in the moving papers.

The Claimants filed a timely opposition asserting, among other things, that the Debtor failed to properly serve the Objection in adherence to FRBP 3007, which is a fatal deficiency on behalf of Debtor [Doc. No. 55]. The Opposition is supported by declarations submitted by both Claimants and their counsel of record. The Claimants further explain that the Claim was timely filed on November 18, 2019, but due to a technical misunderstanding of the Court's filing platform, the Claim was filed in a matter sharing an identical case number as this case. See Declaration of Nick A. Urick, ¶¶ 2-4 (attached in support of the Opposition). Claimants contend that there is "no dispute" that they are entitled to the full amount of the Claim, which is comprised of payments made to the Debtor that were never repaid. See Declaration of Basilio Torices, ¶¶ 6-8. Finally, as with the Debtor, the issue of standing is not discussed by the Claimants.

On December 27, 2019, the Debtor filed a timely reply and evidentiary objections against all three declarations supporting the Opposition [Doc. No. 48].

As of the date of this tentative ruling, the Trustee has not filed any response.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. The Debtor Has Not Established Her Standing to Object to the Claim [Note 2]

A timely filed proof of claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. 11 U.S.C. § 502(a). The term "party in interest" is not defined in the Bankruptcy Code or the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, but courts have held that standing in a bankruptcy context requires an "aggrieved person" who is directly and adversely affected pecuniarily by an order of the bankruptcy court. In re Lona, 393 B.R. 1, 3 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2008) (citing Fondiller v. Robertson (In re Fondiller), 707 F.2d 441, 442-43 (9th Cir. 1983)). Standing is a jurisdictional issue that bankruptcy courts may raise sua sponte. See In re Euell, 271 B.R. 388, 390 (Bankr. D. Col. 2002) ("Federal courts have an independent obligation to examine their own jurisdiction, and standing 'is perhaps the most important of [the jurisdictional] doctrines.'") (quoting FW/PBS, Inc. v. City of Dallas, 493 U.S. 215, 231 (1990)); see also Menk v. LaPaglia (In re Menk), 241 B.R. 896, 903 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1999).

Chapter 7

Generally, a chapter 7 debtor does not have standing to object to claims because the debtor has no interest in the distribution of assets of the estate and, therefore, is not an "aggrieved person." Lona, 393 B.R. at 4; see also In re I & F Corp., 219 B.R. 483 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 1998) (chapter 7 debtor lacked standing to file objections to proofs of claim). However, there are two recognized exceptions to the proposition that a chapter 7 debtor lacks standing to object to a creditor's proof of claim: (1) when disallowance of the claim would create a surplus case, with the excess amounts payable to the debtor; and (2) where the claim at issue would not be dischargeable. See Wellman v. Ziino (In re Wellman), 378 B.R. 416 n. 5 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2007) (stating that a chapter 7 debtor has "[s]tanding to object to claims ... when there is a sufficient possibility of a surplus to give the chapter 7 debtor a pecuniary interest or when the claim involved will not be discharged."); see also In re Lona, 393 B.R. 1, 4 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2008) (citing In re Willard, 240 B.R. 664, 668 (Bankr. D. Conn. 1999); Menick v. Hoffman, 205 F.2d 365 (9th Cir. 1953)). The Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellant Panel recently reaffirmed this conclusion:

In the claim objection context, a chapter 7 debtor, 'in its individual capacity, lacks standing to object unless it demonstrates that it would be 'injured in fact' by the allowance of the claim...So when the 'estate is insolvent, a chapter 7 debtor ordinarily lacks standing to object to proofs of claim.' But when 'there is a sufficient possibility of a surplus to give the chapter 7 debtor a pecuniary interest or when the claim involved will not be discharged [ ]' the chapter 7 debtor has standing.

In re Doorman Prop. Maint., 2018 WL 3041128, at *6 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. June 19, 2018) (internal citations omitted). The burden is on the debtor to provide sufficient evidence that disallowance of the contested claim will produce a surplus distribution to the debtor. In re Walker, 356 B.R. 834, 847 (Bankr. S.D. Fla. 2006) (citing In re Cult Awareness Network, Inc., 151 F.3d 605, 608 (7th Cir. 1998)).

Here, the Debtor has failed to carry her burden to show that she is an "aggrieved person" with standing to disallow the Claim. First, the Court notes that Debtor prevailed on the Claimants' Non-Dischargeability Complaint, and as such, the full amount of the Claim will be subject to discharge. Second, the estate is presently insolvent. Accordingly, the Debtor has no right to a surplus because even discounting the Claim amount ($18,900), the sum of all other claims and administrative expenses (approximately $102,198.12) still surpasses estate assets (approximately $48,050.48) by a significant margin [Note 3]. The Debtor does not explain why she has an interest in the distribution of estate assets or how her rights would be affected by the allowance or disallowance of the Claim, if at all. The Court cannot determine that the Debtor has standing because the estate is currently insolvent, and whether the Trustee will succeed in recovering additional estate funds from any other administrable assets remains unknown. In sum, the Debtor has not established standing to assert this claim objection.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, Debtor's Objection is OVERRULED, and the Motion is DENIED without prejudice.

Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating the tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: Because the Court finds that the Debtor lacks standing to object to the Claim, the Court has not included a detailed summary of the parties' substantive arguments.

Note 2: For the same reason stated above, the Court will not address the procedural deficiency issues, or the merits of any other of the parties' substantive arguments.

Note 3: The total amount of claims against the estate ($114,023.12) reduced by the Claim amount ($18,900) is $95,123.12. See Claims Register. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the estate has generated gross receipts of $90,000 from the sale of Debtor's liquor license. From such sale proceeds, the Court authorized the Trustee to pay encumbrances, liens, and exemptions totaling approximately $41,949,52. See Doc. No. 48. Therefore, the estate currently possesses net receipts in the approximate sum of $48,050.48. Separately, the Trustee is entitled to reasonable compensation of approximately $7,075 pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 326.

- 4) Defendant's Reply to Opposition to Motion to Dismiss Under FRCP 12(b)(6) (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 27]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On March 6, 2008, Miguel Hernandez Cruz (the "Plaintiff") filed a complaint in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court") against Shamin Ahemmed (the "Defendant") and North End Pizzeria, asserting claims for wage and hour violations (the "State Court Complaint"). On June 16, 2009, the State Court entered judgment in favor of Plaintiff and against Defendant and North End Pizzeria (the "State Court Judgment"). The State Court Judgment provides that Defendant and North End Pizzeria are jointly and severally liable to Plaintiff in the amount of $107,100 for uncompensated overtime, $71,260 for uncompensated double time hours, and $124,866 in prejudgment interest.

On June 17, 2019, Defendant filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. On September 23, 2019, Plaintiff timely filed a Complaint Objecting to Discharge Pursuant to 11

U.S.C. § 523(a)(6) (the "Original Complaint") [Doc. No. 1]. After Plaintiff filed a motion to dismiss the Original Complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief could be granted, Defendant filed the operative First Amended Complaint Objecting to Discharge Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A) and (6) (the "Complaint") [Doc. No. 12] as of right, pursuant to Civil Rule 15(a)(1)(B).

The Complaint alleges that the indebtedness established by the State Court Judgment is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6). The material allegations of the Complaint are as follows:

The [State Court Judgment] was based on the following facts: Plaintiff was employed by the Defendant as a worker in Defendant's business known as North End Pizzeria, located in Los Angeles County. Plaintiff was employed between 2000 and 2008. He worked on average 70 hours a week and was only [paid] regular minimum hourly wages....

Plaintiff alleges that Defendant knew that he intentionally and illegally failed to pay Plaintiff lawful wages, that he took advantage of Plaintiff's outstanding work ethic, required Plaintiff work excessive hours without just compensation, and by failing to pay Plaintiff the lawful wages he was entitled to receive willfully and maliciously victimized Plaintiff without just cause or excuse, knowing at the time Defendant was so behaving he had a duty to obey the law and pay Plaintiff the lawful wages he was entitled to receive.

Complaint at ¶¶ 7 and 11.

Plaintiff moves to dismiss the Complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, pursuant to Civil Rule 12(b)(6). Plaintiff makes the following arguments in support of the Motion:

- 1) The Complaint fails to state a claim under § 523(a)(2)(A). The Complaint fails to allege that (a) Defendant made a false representation, (b) that Defendant knew the representation was false at the time it was made, (c) that Defendant made the representation with the purpose and intent of deceiving Plaintiff, (d) that Plaintiff relied upon the representation, or (e) that Plaintiff sustained damages as a result of the representation.
- 2) The Complaint fails to state a claim under § 523(a)(6). The Complaint does not allege any facts showing that Defendant had a subjective motive to inflict injury upon Plaintiff, or that Defendant harbored a subjective belief that injury was substantially certain. The facts alleged in the Complaint are sufficient only to show that a breach of contract occurred.

Defendant opposes the Motion and makes the following arguments in support of his Opposition:

- 1) The Court must give preclusive effect to the State Court Judgment. The State Court Complaint asserted a claim for fraud. The State Court Judgment provides that Defendant is liable to Plaintiff on each of the claims for relief alleged in the State Court Complaint. The Complaint incorporates the State Court Judgment by reference. Because the State Court Judgment is based in part upon fraud, the Complaint sufficiently states claims under § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6).
- 2) In the event the Court determines that the Complaint is not sufficiently pleaded, Plaintiff should be given leave to amend.

Plaintiff makes the following arguments in Reply to the Defendant's Opposition:

- 1) The State Court Judgment contains no findings of fact stating that the Defendant engaged in fraud. The State Court's Minute Order providing that judgment would be entered in Plaintiff's favor contains no finding of fraud. The State Court entered the State Court Judgment in the form proposed by Plaintiff. The reason that Plaintiff did not include a finding of fraud in the proposed form of judgment is that the State Court did not find that Defendant had engaged in fraud. Consequently, the State Court Judgment is not entitled to preclusive effect.
- 2) Plaintiff's Opposition quotes extensively from the State Court Complaint. Plaintiff cannot rely upon mere allegations to establish that Defendant engaged in fraud where there is no indication that the State Court made any findings as to the alleged fraud.
- 3) Plaintiff's Opposition does not address the sufficiency of the Complaint's allegations under § 523(a)(6). Plaintiff has apparently abandoned his argument with respect to the adequacy of those allegations.
- 4) Plaintiff has already amended the Complaint once. Plaintiff should not be provided an additional opportunity to amend.

Chapter 7

II. Findings and Conclusions

"To survive a motion to dismiss, a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.' A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (internal citations omitted). To state a plausible claim for relief, a complaint must satisfy two working principles:

First, the tenet that a court must accept as true all of the allegations contained in a complaint is inapplicable to legal conclusions. Threadbare recitations of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory statements, do not suffice.... Second, only a complaint that states a plausible claim for relief survives a motion to dismiss. Determining whether a complaint states a plausible claim for relief will ... be a context-specific task that requires the reviewing court to draw on its judicial experience and common sense. But where the well-pleaded facts do not permit the court to infer more than the mere possibility of misconduct, the complaint has alleged—but it has not "show[n]"—"that the pleader is entitled to relief."

Id. (citing Civil Rule 8(a)(2)).

Although the pleading standard Civil Rule 8 announces "does not require 'detailed factual allegations,' ... it demands more than an unadorned, the-defendant-unlawfully-harmed-me accusation.... A pleading that offers 'labels and conclusions' or a 'formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.' Nor does a complaint suffice if it tenders 'naked assertion[s]' devoid of 'further factual enhancement.'" Id. (citing Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)).

A. The Complaint Fails to State a Claim Under § 523(a)(2)(A)

Section 523(a)(2)(A) provides: "A discharge under section 727 ... of this title does not discharge an individual debtor from any debt for money, property, services, or an extension, renewal, or refinancing of credit, to the extent obtained by false pretenses, a false representation, or actual fraud, other than a statement respecting the debtor's or an insider's financial condition."

To state a claim for relief under § 523(a)(2)(A), a complaint must plausibly allege facts sufficient to enable the Court to draw the reasonable inference that the Defendant (1) made a representation (2) that the Defendant knew was false (3) for the purpose of deceiving the Plaintiff, and that (4) the Plaintiff relied upon the representation and (5) sustained damages as the proximate result of the misrepresentation having been made. Ghomeshi v. Sabban (In re Sabban), 600 F.3d 1219, 1222 (9th Cir. 2010).

Rather than specifically alleging facts necessary to establish the elements of § 523(a)(2)(A), the Complaint incorporates by reference the State Court Complaint. Such incorporation by reference does provide Defendant sufficient notice of the misconduct alleged. To state a claim under § 523(a)(2)(A), the Complaint must allege specific facts showing that Defendant engaged in conduct sufficient to establish liability under § 523(a)(2)(A). Those specific facts must be set forth in the body of the Complaint. Plaintiff's attempt to allege the elements of his claims through incorporation by reference of the State Court Complaint, which contains numerous allegations unrelated to Plaintiff's claims under § 523(a)(2)(A), makes it unreasonably difficult for Defendant to defend against the Complaint. The Complaint requires Defendant to guess at which of the allegations in the State Court Complaint pertain to the Plaintiff's § 523(a)(2)(A) claim.

B. The Complaint Fails to State a Claim Under § 523(a)(6)

"Section 523(a)(6) excepts from discharge debts arising from a debtor's 'willful and malicious' injury to another person or to the property of another. The 'willful' and 'malicious' requirements are conjunctive and subject to separate analysis." Plyam v. Precision Development, LLC (In re Plyam), 530 B.R. 456, 463 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 2015) (internal citations omitted).

An injury is "willful" when "a debtor harbors 'either subjective intent to harm, or a subjective belief that harm is substantially certain.' The injury must be deliberate or intentional, 'not merely a deliberate or intentional act that leads to injury.'" Id. at 463 (internal citations omitted). When determining intent, there is a presumption that the debtor knows the natural consequences of his actions. Ormsby v. First Am. Title Co. of Nevada (In re Ormsby), 591 F.3d 1199, 1206 (9th Cir. 2010). An injury is "malicious" if it "involves '(1) a wrongful act, (2) done intentionally, (3) which necessarily causes injury, and (4) is done without just cause or excuse.'" Carrillo v. Su (In re Su), 290 F.3d 1140, 1146–47 (9th Cir. 2002) (internal citations omitted). "Within the plain meaning of this definition, it is the wrongful act that must be committed intentionally rather than the injury itself." Jett v. Sicroff (In re Sicroff), 401 F.3d 1101, 1106 (9th Cir. 2005).

The Complaint's cause of action under § 523(a)(6) fails for the same reason as the cause of action under § 523(a)(2)(A). That is, the Complaint fails to allege specific facts showing that Defendant inflicted injury upon the Plaintiff, and that Defendant intended to inflict the injury or harbored a subjective belief that the injury was substantially certain. It is not sufficient for Plaintiff to attempt to allege his § 523(a)(6) claim by incorporating the State Court Complaint by reference.

C. Plaintiff is Granted Leave to Amend

To dismiss a complaint without leave to amend, the Court must find that “amendment would be futile.” Cervantes v. Countrywide Home Loans, Inc., 656 F.3d 1034, 1041 (9th Cir. 2011). As it may be possible for Plaintiff to allege facts stating claims under § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6), the Court will grant Plaintiff leave to amend. However, in the event that Plaintiff’s Second Amended Complaint fails to state claims under these sections, the Court will most likely not grant further leave to amend.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED, but Plaintiff is given leave to amend. Plaintiff shall file a Second Amended Complaint by no later than January 21, 2020. Upon the filing of the Second Amended Complaint, the Clerk of the Court will issue an updated Scheduling Order establishing the litigation deadlines that shall govern this action.

Defendant shall submit a proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court’s tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Docket 149

1/6/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Motion in Chapter 11 Case for Entry of A Final Decree and Order Closing Case [Doc. No. 149] (the "Motion")
- 2) Debtors Post-Confirmation Status Report #1 [Doc. No. 151]
- 3) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 27, 2019, the Court confirmed the Debtor's Second Amended Individual Debtor's Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan") [Doc. No. 114]. Doc. No. 130. The Plan provides for the Debtor to make payments to creditors over a 60-month period.

The Debtor seeks entry of a final decree and an order administratively closing the case. The Debtor intends to file a motion to reopen the case and seek entry of a discharge once all payments to creditors have been made.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Pursuant to § 350(a) and Bankruptcy Rule 3022, the Court shall enter a final decree closing a chapter 11 case after the estate is fully administered. In determining whether an estate is fully administered, a court should consider:

- (1) whether the order confirming the plan has become final;
- (2) whether deposits required by the plan have been distributed;
- (3) whether the property proposed by the plan to be transferred has been transferred;

In re Ground Systems, Inc., 213 B.R. 1016, 1019 (9th Cir. BAP 1997), quoting Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3022 advisory committee's notes (1991).

Here, the order confirming the Plan has become final, the Debtor has commenced making payments under the Plan, and there are no pending adversary proceedings or contested matters. The Court finds that entry of a final decree is appropriate.

Upon completion of all payments under the Plan, the Debtor shall file a motion to reopen the case, followed by a motion seeking entry of a discharge.

A Post-Confirmation Status Conference is currently scheduled for January 22, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. Having reviewed the Debtors' Post-Confirmation Status Report # 1, the Court finds that the Debtor is performing under the Plan. The Post-Confirmation Status Conference is taken off calendar. Unless otherwise ordered by the Court, no further Post-Confirmation Status Conferences will be conducted.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. The Debtor shall submit a proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing. The Court will prepare and enter an order taking the Post-Confirmation Status Conference off calendar.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession, United International Mortgage Solutions, Inc. (the "Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on September 12, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is a California corporation that owns three residential real properties:

- i. 1258 N. Virgil Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90029 (the "Virgil Property");
- ii. 5935 Playa Vista Dr., #414, Playa Vista, CA 90094 (the "Playa Vista Property"); and
- iii. 6205 Senford Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90056 (the "Senford Property," and together with the Virgil Property and Playa Vista Property, the "Properties").

The Virgil Property is a 5-unit residential rental property with a stated fair market value of $1,300,000. See Doc. No. 8. The Debtor asserts that the Virgil Property is encumbered by an $882,107 secured senior lien in favor of Seterus Inc. ("Seterus") and a $50,000 junior lien in favor of Errol Gordon ("Mr. Gordon"). The Debtor states that it currently collects $4,248.62 in monthly rent from the Virgil Property. On December 7, 2018, this Court entered an order granting Seterus' motion for relief from the automatic stay to proceed with a nonbankruptcy foreclosure with respect to the Virgil Property [Doc. No. 51].

The Senford Property is a single-family residence with an alleged fair market value of $1,000,000. See Doc. No. 8. According to the Debtor, the Senford Property is subject to a $285,000 senior lien held by Mr. Gordon and a property tax lien in the amount of $97,939 held by the Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector (the "LACTTC").

On December 3, 2019, the Debtor concurrently filed two post-petition financing motions implicating interests in the Virgil and Senford Properties (respectively, the "Virgil Property Financing Motion" and the "Senford Property Financing Motion") (collectively, the "Financing Motions"). By way of the Virgil Property Financing Motion, the Debtor seeks authorization: (i) to obtain a $971,615 refinance loan from Equity Wave Financing ("Equity") pursuant to §§ 363 and 364, (ii) grant Equity a first-priority deed of trust against the Virgil Property, and (iii) pay off both Seterus' ($882,107) and Mr. Gordon's liens in full ($50,000).

The material terms of the refinance loan are as follows:

Loan Amount: $971,615
Term: 3-year Fixed Rate Mortgage
Interest Rate: 8.50-9.50%

See Virgil Property Financing Motion, Ex. A. In addition, Mr. Gordon delivered to the Debtor an e-mail confirmation, accepting $50,000 in satisfaction for his junior lien against the Virgil Property. See id., Ex. B. Next, as set forth in the Senford Property Financing Motion, the Debtor seeks authorization: (i) to obtain a post-petition finance loan of $320,000 from Equity pursuant to §§ 363 and 364, (ii) grant Equity a second-priority deed of trust against the Senford Property (junior to Mr. Gordon's senior lien of $285,000), and (iii) reinstate the property tax lien owed to the LACTTC in the sum of $97,939. The Debtor states that Equity is unrelated to the Debtor and its insiders or affiliates.

The material terms of the financing loan are as follows:

Loan Amount: $320,000
Term: 40-year amortization; 3-year balloon
Interest Rate: 7.25%
Lender Fee: $1,495

See Senford Property Financing Motion, Ex. A.

Furthermore, the Debtor asserts that remaining loan proceeds will be deposited in a DIP bank account, along with the balance of the Virgil Property refinance loan, and applied against the following claims in full, as follows:

- iii. Playa Vista Parks HOA ("Playa HOA"): $70,080 (Claim No. 4);
- iv. Villa d'Este HOA ("Villa"): $31,855 (Claim No. 6).

The Debtor argues that the above-described post-petition financing is in the best interests of all creditors and the estate as it will enable it to fully pay-off both lienholders on the Virgil Property, resolve the upcoming foreclosure matter with Seterus, address LACTTC's property tax lien on the Senford Property, and generate sufficient funds to pay outstanding debts in full. The Debtor's vice president and 40% shareholder, Sandra McBeth provided a declaration in support of the Financing Motions stating that she has spent numerous hours and expended good faith efforts attempting to get financing and believes that these loans are the best that the Debtor can do.

Responses to the Financing Motions

On December 12, 2019, Nationstar Mortgage LLC dba Mr. Cooper ("Nationstar") filed a response to the Virgil Property Financing Motion. Nationstar states that it does not oppose the Virgil Property Financing Motion, provided that Nationstar is fully paid at the time of the "closing of the sale." Accordingly, Nationstar requests that the Court include certain language in its final order requiring that Nationstar's lien "...will be paid in full as of the closing of the sale, and the sale will be conducted through an escrow and based on a non-expired contractual payoff statement received directly from [Nationstar]." Secured creditor, Villa d'Este Maintenance Corporation ("Villa"), lodged a similar response on December 20, 2019. Villa acknowledges that the Financing Motions will enable Debtor to pay off four creditors, including Villa. However, Villa is concerned that Debtor has not affirmatively expressed an intention to use the borrowed funds to satisfy these claims. As such, Villa does not object to the Financing Motions insofar that the Court issue orders requiring Debtor to pay creditors from the loan proceeds.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, there is no substantive opposition on file.

Chapter 11

Section 364 governs the obtaining of credit or incurring of debt by a debtor in possession and sets forth the incentives that may be offered to induce potential lenders to extend post-petition credit. In re Stanton, 248 B.R. 823, 828 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000) aff'd, 285 F.3d 888 (9th Cir. 2002) opinion amended and superseded on denial of reh'g, 303 F.3d 939 (9th Cir. 2002) and aff'd, 303 F.3d 939 (9th Cir. 2002). Section 364 provides in relevant part:

(c) If the trustee is unable to obtain unsecured credit allowable under section 503(b)(1) of this title as an administrative expense, the court, after notice and a hearing, may authorize the obtaining of credit or the incurring of debt—

- (1) with priority over any or all administrative expenses of the kind specified in section 503(b) or 507(b) of this title;
- (2) secured by a lien on property of the estate that is not otherwise subject to a lien; or
- (3) secured by a junior lien on property of the estate that is subject to a lien.

(d)(1) The court, after notice and a hearing, may authorize the obtaining of credit or the incurring of debt secured by a senior or equal lien on property of the estate that is subject to a lien only if—

- (A) the trustee is unable to obtain such credit otherwise; and
- (B) there is adequate protection of the interest of the holder of the lien on the property of the estate on which such senior or equal lien is proposed to be granted.

(2) In any hearing under this subsection, the trustee has the burden of proof on the issue of adequate protection.

Based on its review of the declaration of Debtor's vice-president, Sandra McBeth, the Court determines that the Debtor has been unable to obtain financing on terms more favorable to the terms of the Equity loans, and thereby the Financing Motions are in the best interests of creditors and the estate. Secured creditors will be adequately protected because loan proceeds will be sufficient to pay all secured claims and tax liens in full, with the exception of Mr. Gordon's $285,000 senior lien against the Senford Property. Based on the material terms of the Equity loans, the Debtor will obtain loan proceeds in the approximate sum of $1,291,615, which will be sufficient to pay both secured liens encumbering the Virgil Property (totaling $932,107) [Note 1], as well as fully satisfying secured claims held by the IRS, the FTB, Playa HOA, and Villa (totaling $104,877). The Court further finds that Mr. Gordon's lien will be adequately protected as it will retain its senior priority over the proposed Equity lien. In any case, as indicated by his confirmation e-mail attached as Exhibit B to the Virgil Property Financing Motion, Mr. Gordon approved Debtor's proposed refinance of the Virgil Property and did not object to the Senford Property Financing Motion [Note 2].

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Financing Motions are GRANTED. As set forth above, the Debtor shall distribute the proceeds generated from the Equity loans to secured creditors and pay any reasonable fees and costs associated with closing the Equity loans. To expedite the closing of the financing loans, the order approving the Financing Motions shall take effect immediately upon entry, notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h). All other relief requested but not specifically granted above is denied.

The Debtor shall submit two conforming orders, one for each of its motions, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: The Debtor identifies the senior lienholder on the Virgil Property as Seterus, but Nationstar has previously filed briefing in this case stating that it is the first-priority lienholder on the Virgil Property by virtue of a recorded first deed of trust on the property. See, e.g., Doc. No. 118. In its response, Nationstar re-asserts this claim, but neither Debtor nor Nationstar have explained this discrepancy. Consequently, the Court remains unclear as to the identity of the party validly holding the senior lien on the Virgil Property. To the extent that these parties understand this ambiguity, the Court directs the Debtor to pay all liens encumbering the Virgil Property in full, as

- 1) Trustee's Notice of Motion and Motion to Approve Compromise (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 42]
  - a) Notice of Hearing on Trustee's Motion to Approve Compromise [Doc. No. 43]
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") seeks approval of a settlement agreement between the estate, on the one hand, and Steven Molina and Janet Estrada (collectively, the "Defendants"), on the other hand (the "Settlement Agreement"). No opposition to the Motion is on file.

On May 1, 2019, the Trustee filed a complaint against the Defendants (the "Complaint"), seeking to avoid and recover the transfer of property commonly known as 11468 Esther Street, Norwalk, CA 90650 (the "Norwalk Property"). The material allegations of the Complaint are as follows:

- 1) As of July 7, 2011, the Debtor held fee title to the Norwalk Property. By a grant deed recorded in Los Angeles County on May 23, 2012, the Debtor transferred the Norwalk Property to himself and Janet Estrada (the "2012 Transfer"). The grant deed described the 2012 Transfer as a bona fide gift for which the grantor received nothing in return.

- 2) By a grant deed recorded in Los Angeles County on November 24, 2015, the Debtor and Estrada transferred the Norwalk Property to the Debtor, Estrada, and Steven Molina (the "2015 Transfer"). The grant deed described the 2015 Transfer as a bona fide gift for which the grantor received nothing in return.
- 3) By a grant deed recorded in Los Angeles County on October 3, 2016, the Debtor, Molina, and Estrada transferred the Norwalk Property to Molina and Estrada (the "2016 Transfer," and together with the 2012 Transfer and the 2015 Transfer, the "Transfers"). The grant deed described the 2016 Transfer as a bona fide gift for which the grantor received nothing in return.

Based upon the foregoing allegations, the Complaint seeks avoidance of the Transfers and turnover of the Norwalk Property, pursuant to §§ 542, 544(b), 548(a)(1)(A), and 548(a)(1)(B), and 550(a).

On June 19, 2019, the Clerk of the Court entered defaults against both Defendants. After the Defendants opposed the Trustee's Motion for Default Judgment, the Court ordered the Defendants to file motions to set aside their defaults. The hearing on Defendants' motions to set aside their defaults have been continued to allow the Trustee and the Defendants to negotiate the Settlement Agreement.

The material terms of the Settlement Agreement are as follows:

- 1) Defendants will transfer the Norwalk Property to the Trustee by quitclaim deed.
- 2) The Trustee will market and sell the Norwalk Property with the assistance of a Court-approved real estate broker.
- 3) Net sale proceeds of the Norwalk Property will be split 50%-50% between the Trustee and the Defendants.
- 4) While the Norwalk Property is being marketed, Defendants will be permitted to collect rental income from tenants residing at the Norwalk Property. Defendants will be required to remain current on the property's mortgage, taxes, and insurance.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair, and reasonable, and is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Complexity of the Litigation

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. Although not especially complex, prosecution of the litigation would still result in the accrual of administrative costs that would reduce the recovery to unsecured creditors.

Probability of Success on the Merits

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The Defendants have asserted that the Trustee's § 544 claim fails with respect to the 2012 Transfer because there is no creditor who could avoid that transfer under applicable state law. The Defendants have raised colorable arguments and there can be no certainty that the Trustee would prevail in the litigation.

Paramount Interests of Creditors

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The Settlement Agreement will generate funds for the estate while avoiding additional costly litigation.

The possibility that additional litigation might yield a result nominally more favorable to the estate cannot be ruled out. Yet any such result obtained through litigation would be a pyrrhic victory from the perspective of the estate and creditors, because the additional administrative costs associated with the litigation would on net leave the estate worse off.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Liboria Zavalza (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary Chapter 11 case on April 3, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor's principal asset consists of an ownership interest in rental property located at 4053 & 4501(A) Randolph Street, Huntington Park, CA 90255 (the "Property"). According to monthly operating reports ("MORs"), the Debtor currently collects approximately $4,000 per month in rental income [Note 1]. Debtor's amended Schedule I states that she is unemployed [Doc. No. 37], however, the Disclosure Statement contemplates that she currently earns monthly wages of $1,550. See Disclosure Statement, Ex. A1.

The Property is subject to a first-priority deed of trust in favor of HSBC Bank, N.A., as Trustee for the Registered Holders of Nomura Home Equity Loan, Inc., Asset-Backed Certificates, Series 2007-3 (the "Bank") in the amount of $1,185,616.25. On August 20, 2019, the Court entered an order valuing the Property at $465,000 for purposes of plan confirmation, which resulted in the bifurcation of the Bank's claim into a secured claim of $465,000 and an unsecured claim of $722,892.12 [Doc. No. 63] (the "Valuation Order").

The Debtor now seeks approval of her Disclosure Statement ("Disclosure Statement"). Below is a description of the material provisions of the Debtor's Chapter 11 Plan (the "Plan"):

Administrative Claims

The Debtor anticipates that administrative fees for professionals will be approximately $10,000 on the Effective Date. See Disclosure Statement at 6. The Court notes that this figure is different from the $15,000 in professional fees requested by Debtor's counsel on a recent fee application [Doc. Nos. 83, 89]. Consistently, as set forth in Debtor's cash collateral motion [Doc. No. 87], the Debtor requested permission to use rental proceeds from the Property to satisfy professional fees in the sum of $15,000. For the reasons stated in the Court's tentative ruling, adopted as the final ruling, the cash collateral motion was granted [Doc. Nos. 94, 95].

Chapter 11

The Debtor asserts that there are no creditors in this class.

Class 5(a) – Secured Claim of the Bank

Pursuant to a court-approved stipulation [Doc. No. 72] between Debtor and the Bank (the "Stipulation"), the Bank holds a fully secured claim against the Property in the amount of $465,000. The Debtor will pay the Bank's secured claim in full, with a fixed 5% interest rate, by making monthly installment payments of $2,787.91 over 360 months, which commenced on November 1, 2019. The Bank's claim is impaired, and it is entitled to vote on the Plan.

Class 6(b) – General Unsecured Claims

This class consists of all allowed general unsecured claims, which the Debtor asserts total $730,167.23. As provided in the Stipulation, this class of claims includes the unsecured portion of the Bank's claim in the sum of $722,892.12. The Debtor proposes to pay this class 2% of its claims, without interest, over a 5-year period by making equal pro-rata monthly installment payments totaling $247.09. This class is impaired and entitled to vote on the Plan.

Means of Implementation

Based on the figures provided in the Disclosure Statement, the Debtor's Plan will be funded from the following sources:

1. Approximately $14,700 anticipated cash on hand on the Effective Date.
2. Additional estimated funds of $988 that will accumulate from projected income between now and the Effective Date.
3. A one-time $5,000 family contribution.
4. Future disposable income for 5 years. The Debtor anticipates having sufficient income to cover all proposed plan payments.

On November 14, 2019, the United States Trustee (the "UST") filed a timely objection, citing several deficiencies with the Disclosure Statement such that it failed to adequately inform interested parties of the Plan. Pursuant to the "adequate information" standard set in In re Metrocraft Publishing Services Inc., 39 B.R. 567 (Bankr. N.D. Ga 1984), the UST objected to the Disclosure Statement as follows:

1. As noted above, the Debtor's amended Schedule I states that she is unemployed. However, the Debtor's Plan depends on projected earnings totaling $1,550, but Debtor has failed to specify where she currently works and how much she earns. Similarly, the Debtor's projected expenses must account for personal income tax expenditures, if any.

2. The UST disputes the Debtor's claim that her rental income increased on or about September 2019. The UST contends that Debtor's claim is refuted by past MORs. Furthermore, the Debtor has not attached any rental agreements supporting an increase in rental income.
3. The feasibility of Debtor's Plan also relies on a purported $5,000 family contribution, but there is no evidence as to who will supply this cash to the Debtor.
4. Last, the Debtor avers that the Plan will be feasible because she will live in her sister's residence rent-free, but she has failed to include any evidence supporting her claim. Accordingly, the Debtor should submit evidence indicating that she will not be responsible for any rent or living expenses for the entire duration of the Plan.

Based on the foregoing, the UST requests that the Debtor amend her Disclosure Statement to address the aforementioned issues.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no reply is on file, but the Debtor filed Exhibit H to the Disclosure Statement, which contains the declaration of Josefina Zavalza, the Debtor's sister, and Exhibit I, which contains the declaration of Flor M. Baca, the Debtor's daughter [Doc. No. 98]. To support the execution of Debtor's Plan, Josefina Zavalza attests that she will permit the Debtor to reside with her rent-free for the 60-month duration of the Plan. Exhibit H, ¶¶ 2-4. Likewise, Ms. Baca declares that she is capable of gifting her mother $5,000, which will be used to fund the Plan. Exhibit I, ¶ 2. Ms. Baca understands that this monetary contribution will not be repaid. Id., ¶ 3.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 1125 requires a disclosure statement to contain "information of a kind, and in sufficient detail, as far as is reasonably practicable in light of the nature and history of the debtor and the condition of the debtor's books and records . . . that would enable. . . a hypothetical investor of the relevant class to make an informed judgment about the plan." Courts interpreting § 1125(a) have explained that the “primary purpose of a disclosure statement is to give the creditors the information they need to decide whether to accept the plan.” In re Monnier Bros., 755 F.2d 1336, 1342 (8th Cir. 1985). “According to the legislative history, the parameters of what constitutes adequate information are intended to be flexible.” In re Diversified Investors Fund XVII, 91 B.R. 559, 560 (Bankr. Relevant factors for evaluating the adequacy of a disclosure statement may include: (1) the events which led to the filing of a bankruptcy petition; (2) a description of the available assets and their value; (3) the anticipated future of the company; (4) the source of information stated in the disclosure statement; (5) a disclaimer; (6) the present condition of the debtor while in Chapter 11; (7) the scheduled claims; (8) the estimated return to creditors under a Chapter 7 liquidation; (9) the accounting method utilized to produce financial information and the name of the accountants responsible for such information; (10) the future management of the debtor; (11) the Chapter 11 plan or a summary thereof; (12) the estimated administrative expenses, including attorneys' and accountants' fees; (13) the collectability of accounts receivable; (14) financial information, data, valuations or projections relevant to the creditors' decision to accept or reject the Chapter 11 plan; (15) information relevant to the risks posed to creditors under the plan; (16) the actual or projected realizable value from recovery of preferential or otherwise voidable transfers; (17) litigation likely to arise in a nonbankruptcy context; (18) tax attributes of the debtor; and (19) the relationship of the debtor with affiliates.

Subject to the amendments discussed below, the Court determines that the Disclosure Statement contains adequate information, in light of the size and complexity of this case. Among other things, the Disclosure Statement describes (1) significant events that occurred during the Chapter 11 case, (2) the classification structure of the Plan, (3) a liquidation analysis, (4) a disclaimer, (5) risk factors, (6) a 5-year budget projection, (7) a record of the Debtor's historical income and expenses for the past 6 months, and (8) the means for execution of the Plan. Furthermore, since the Objection was filed on November 14, 2019, the Debtor has addressed some of the issues raised by the UST. Namely, the Debtor has provided declarations from family members supporting that she will receive a $5,000 cash gift from her daughter and that Debtor's sister will permit Debtor to live rent-free in her home throughout the duration of the Plan.

Other issues raised in the Objection remain outstanding. First, Debtor's projected future income is estimated to be $5,500, which consists of net wages of $1,550 and rental income of $4,000. See Disclosure Statement, Ex. A1. The Debtor's estimated budget projection for rental income is supported by MORs filed after October 22, 2019, which indicate an increase in proceeds totaling just under $4,000 per month. See Doc. Nos. 74, 86, 97 [Note 2]. However, as noted by the UST, the Debtor has not attached any evidence substantiating additional rental agreements. The Court deems the rental agreements financial information of significant importance to Debtor's creditors as it will enable them to assess whether Debtor can effectuate the Plan through its entire duration. Second, the Disclosure Statement implies that Debtor is currently employed, and will be earning monthly wages of $1,550. However, the Debtor represented that she was unemployed as recently as June 18, 2019 and has not formally updated the Court or interested parties of any changes in her employment status. See Doc. No. 37. If the Debtor is indeed employed, she must notify creditors of her current employment status. Last, the Debtor must update budget projections to specify any tax allocations on anticipated wages and supplemental income.

Accordingly, by no later than January 16, 2020, and prior to disseminating the voting package, the Debtor is directed to file an amended disclosure statement that corrects the issues discussed above. In addition to previously-disclosed information, the amended disclosure statement should minimally contain the following:

1. A declaration by Debtor attesting to her current employment status, as referenced in the Disclosure Statement. The declaration must include specific employment information, such as the name of Debtor's employer, employment start date, employment position, and the amount of monthly

- wages.
2. Evidence adequately supporting all of Debtor's rental agreements, including express language that the $4,000 figure is an estimate on projected rental income.
  3. Updated budget projections, providing specific allocations for Debtor's taxes.
  4. An amended feasibility analysis, with updated figures to reflect increased administrative expenses as indicated in Debtor's counsel's fee application [Doc. No. 83, 89].

Subject to the minor amendments discussed above, the Court finds that the Disclosure Statement contains adequate information. Among other things, the Disclosure Statement describes: (1) the Debtor's assets and their estimated values, (3) the classification structure of the Plan, (4) a Liquidation Analysis and monthly net income calculations, (5) risk factors, (6) estimated administrative expenses, (7) a five-year budget projection, and (8) the means for executing the Plan.

Additionally, although the following is a plan confirmation issue, the Court notes that the Debtor proposes to retain her interest in the Property, while paying general unsecured creditors 2% of their claims, without interest, and without providing a new value contribution. Accordingly, the Debtor should be aware that the absolute priority rule will not be satisfied unless Class 6(b) votes to accept the Plan.

III. Conclusion

The Disclosure Statement is APPROVED, subject to the amendments discussed above. The following dates and deadlines will apply to solicitation and confirmation of the Debtor's Plan:

- 1) A hearing will be held on the confirmation of the Debtor's Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization on April 08, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) In accordance with FRBP 3017(a), the amended disclosure statement, the Plan, a notice of hearing on confirmation of the Plan and, if applicable, a ballot conforming to Official Form No. 14, shall be mailed to all creditors, equity security holders and to the Office of the United States Trustee, pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3017(d), on or before January 23, 2020.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background

Michael Bonert ("Michael") and Vivien Bonert ("Vivien," and together with Michael, the "Debtors") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on September 12, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtors operated a pie manufacturing company known as Bonert's Incorporated ("Bonerts"). In 2016, Bonerts ceased conducting business after its lender caused its assets to be sold through a federal receivership. Proceeds of the receivership sale were used to pay secured creditors, but were not sufficient to pay unsecured trade creditors, some of whom obtained unopposed judgments against Bonerts.

On August 13 and 14, 2019, Capitol Distribution Company, LLC ("Capitol"), Stratas Foods LLC ("Stratas"), Packaging Corporation of America, and Seneca Foods Corporation (collectively, the "Creditors") filed four collection actions (the "Collection Actions") against the Debtors, Bonerts, and LLCs wholly owned by the Debtors that were affiliates of Bonerts (the "Affiliates"). The Collection Actions allege, inter alia, that the Debtors operated the Affiliates and Bonerts as a single enterprise for the purpose of defeating the rights of creditors; that the Debtors misappropriated assets of Bonerts and the Affiliates; and that the Debtors are liable for trade debt incurred by Bonerts as its alter ego. Two of the Collection Actions were filed in the United States District Court for the Central District of California (the "District Court") and two of the Collection Actions were filed in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court").

Debtors sought bankruptcy protection for the purpose of having all alter-ego claims arising in connection with the Debtors' operation of Bonerts and the Affiliates adjudicated before the Bankruptcy Court. Pursuant to this objective, on September 13 and 16, 2019, the Debtors removed all four of the Collection Actions to the Bankruptcy Court.

On October 17, 2019, the Court approved stipulations remanding two of the Collection Actions to the District Court. Both stipulations were without prejudice to any party's right (1) to move for referral of the action back to the Bankruptcy Court or (2) to move for an injunction against the prosecution of the action. The Collection Actions that originated in the State Court remain pending before this Court. Capitol and Stratas move to remand those Collection Actions to the State Court. The Debtors and the Affiliates oppose remand. The papers filed in connection with the two Motions to Remand are substantially identical.

Both Stratas and Capitol timely filed proofs of claim in the Debtors' bankruptcy case. [Note 1] Stratas asserts an unsecured claim in the amount of $57,830.40 based upon "goods sold." Proof of Claim 24-1 at ¶¶ 7–8. Capitol asserts an unsecured claim in the amount of $818,516.98, also based upon "goods sold." Proof of Claim 28-1 at ¶¶ 8–9.

B. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Motions to Remand

i. Timeliness of the Motions to Remand

Defendants (the Debtors and the Affiliates) argue that the Motions to Remand must be denied because they were not filed within 30 days of the removal of the actions, as required by the Local Bankruptcy Rules. Plaintiffs (Capitol and Stratas) argue that the Motions were timely when considering that under Bankruptcy Rule 9006(a), three days are added to the prescribed period when service is by mail.

ii. Application of the Equitable Factors

The parties' positions with respect to the fourteen equitable factors informing the remand decision are as follows:

Chapter 11

1. The Existence of a Right to a Jury Trial

Defendants' Position

There is no right to a jury trial on Plaintiffs' alter ego claims. "It is well-settled that the alter ego doctrine is 'essentially an equitable one and for that reason is particularly within the province of the trial court.' Thus, the 'constitutional guaranty of the right to a jury trial does not apply to actions involving the application of equitable doctrines and the granting of relief that is obtainable only in courts of equity.'" Dow Jones Co. v. Avenel, 151 Cal. App. 3d 144, 147-48, 198 Cal. Rptr. 457 (Cal. Ct. App. 1984) (internal citation omitted).

Even if Plaintiffs are entitled to a jury trial, the case can be tried by the District Court.

Plaintiffs' Position

Defendants argue that Plaintiffs have no right to a jury trial on their alter ego allegations, but ignore the fact that Plaintiffs are entitled to a jury trial on their breach of contract and UCC claims. Illinois Union Ins. Co. v. Intuitive Surgical, Inc., 179 F. Supp. 3d 958, 960 (N.D. Cal. 2016).

Plaintiffs do not consent to a jury trial before the Bankruptcy Court. This factor heavily favors remand. See Fed. Home Loan Bank of Chicago v. Banc of Am. Sec. LLC, 448 B.R. 517, 526 (C.D. Cal. 2011) ("Plaintiff's right to a jury trial is in itself a reason to grant equitable remand.").

2. The Jurisdictional Basis, if Any, Other than § 1334

Defendants' Position

If the Debtors are not found to be the alter ego of Bonerts, then Plaintiffs' breach of contract claims against the Debtors will be disallowed. These actions are core proceedings because their outcome will determine whether Plaintiffs can assert a claim against the estate.

Plaintiffs' Position

These actions are not core proceedings. There is no merit to Plaintiffs' argument that these actions should be considered core proceedings because they involve the allowance or disallowance of claims. Plaintiffs have yet to file proofs of claim against the estate. [Note 2] Further, these adversary proceedings are separate matters from any proofs of claim that Plaintiffs might file.

3. The Effect or Lack Thereof on the Efficient Administration of the Estate if the Court Remands the Action

Defendants' Position

Remanding these actions would increase the estate's legal fees by requiring the Debtors to defend against Plaintiffs' alter ego claims before multiple courts. If remand were to occur, Debtors would likely have two alter ego federal trials, two alter ego state court trials, and evidentiary hearings for at least six alter ego proofs of claims. These additional duplicative trials would consume the Debtors' time and require additional estate assets to be devoted to legal fees.

Plaintiffs' Position

Remanding these actions will have little to no effect on the efficient administration of the estate. The only potential effect will be a change in the value of the Debtors' membership interests in the Affiliates, which could increase or decrease the recovery available to claimants.

Returning these actions to the State Court will reduce duplication given Plaintiffs' right to a jury trial. Plaintiffs do not consent to a jury trial before the Bankruptcy Court, so any jury trial will have to occur before a different court. In addition, unless the automatic stay is lifted, the Debtors will not have to litigate the actions until the bankruptcy proceeding concludes, so the Debtors are not prejudiced by remand. Further, there is no reason to think that the two actions would not be consolidated before the State Court.

4. The Degree of Relatedness or Remoteness of the Proceeding to the Main Bankruptcy Case

Defendants' Position

The Debtors sought bankruptcy protection precisely because of the Collection Actions and similar claims brought by other creditors. The determination of whether the Debtors are alter egos of Bonerts or of any of the Affiliates is crucial to whether the Bonerts will have anything to pay creditors. The number of alter ego trials is also crucial to the amount of administrative claims that will be asserted against the estate.

Chapter 11

Plaintiffs' Position

The fact that the Collection Actions have the potential to affect the amount available for creditors does not weigh in favor of remand. See Hopkins v. Plant Insulation Co., 342 B.R. 703, 711 (D. Del. 2006) ("[T]he Court agrees with Flintkote that the primary impact of the California Action on Flintkote's bankruptcy proceeding is the potential to increase the recovery available for present and future asbestos claimants.... However, the Court is not persuaded that this potential impact will impede the administration of the estate, or is an otherwise sufficient impact to justify retention of federal jurisdiction over the California Action.").

5. The Substance Rather than the Form of an Asserted Core Proceeding

Defendants' Position

These actions are core proceedings because their outcome will determine whether Plaintiffs can assert a claim against the estate.

Plaintiffs' Position

These actions do not qualify as core proceedings. Defendants' assertion that these actions involve allowance or disallowance of claims conflates these adversary proceedings with the separate process for filing proofs of claim. Therefore, this factor favors remand.

6. The Extent to Which State Law Issues Predominate Over Bankruptcy Issues

Defendants' Position

Although state law claims predominate, these same state law claims will also predominate in any proofs of claim that Plaintiffs assert against the estate. Because the Bankruptcy Court will have to conduct evidentiary hearings to determine the proofs of claim, it should also adjudicate these actions.

Plaintiffs' Position

The Debtors have conceded that state law claims predominate. The fact that the same issues may be addressed in proofs of claim does not weigh against remand, given that the actions involve claims against the non-debtor affiliates.

Chapter 11

Defendants' Position

Remanding these actions will not lessen the burden on the Bankruptcy Court's docket. The Court will have to address the alter ego issues raised in these actions once Plaintiffs file proofs of claim.

Plaintiffs' Position

The Debtors continue to conflate proceedings related to bankruptcy claims with these adversary proceedings. Adjudication of these proceedings with multiple non-debtor defendants will increase the burden on the Court.

8. The Difficult or Unsettled Nature of Applicable Law

Defendants' Position

The alter ego claims at issue in these actions are not complex, and bankruptcy courts are familiar with such law as it is considered in the claims process or when a party seeks substantive consolidation.

Plaintiffs' Position

California courts have developed differing, expansive tests to establish single-enterprise or alter ego liability. See, e.g., Dixon v. Magna-RX, Inc., 2016 WL 1397584, at *6 (C.D. Cal. Mar. 31, 2016) (setting forth a sixteen-factor test used to determine whether to pierce the corporate veil). These complex, state law tests illustrate how this factor weighs in favor of remand, where experienced California courts may address these issues of state law.

9. The Likelihood that Commencement of the Proceeding in Bankruptcy Court Involves Forum Shopping By One of the Parties

Defendants' Position

The Debtors' removal of these actions to the Bankruptcy Court was not forum shopping. The Debtors could not afford to litigate the Collection Actions filed by the Plaintiffs and the other Creditors before four different courts.

Plaintiffs' Position

Chapter 11

The Debtors' decision to remove these actions plainly represents a strategy to dilute Plaintiffs' recovery by trying to amass all potential creditors in one forum in an effort to discourage any single creditor from proceeding with its case. The Debtors' forum shopping supports remand.

10. The Possibility of Prejudice to Other Parties in the Action

Defendants' Position

The Bankruptcy Court's retention of these proceedings would not prejudice Plaintiffs, because all parties would benefit from having fewer trials.

Plaintiffs' Position

If these actions are not remanded, Plaintiffs will either be required to forego their constitutional right to a jury trial, or endure the burden of a bifurcated trial with only some issues being tried before the Bankruptcy Court. In either situation, Plaintiffs would suffer severe prejudice. Remanding these actions to the State Court will benefit the Debtors, who will receive the benefit of the automatic stay.

11. The Presence in the Proceeding of Nondebtor Parties

Defendants' Position

All of the Affiliates have consented to the Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction and oppose remand of these actions. Therefore, this factor weighs against remand.

Plaintiffs' Position

Each of these actions involves multiple non-debtor Affiliates. The presence of these non-debtors weighs in favor of remand.

12. Comity

Defendants' Position

The Debtors recently answered the Complaints and no motions or orders have been issued by the State Court, so there are no issues of comity.

Plaintiffs' Position

The fact that no motions or orders have been issued by the State Court does not weigh against remand. Comity is recognition of another court, not simply a past decision of another court. See Port Auth. of New York & New Jersey v. CCI-Bowers Co., 1992 WL 164441, at *5 (D. N.J. June 15, 1992) ("Congress has made it plain that, in respect to non-core proceedings such as this (i.e., cases which assert purely state law causes of action), the federal court should not rush to usurp the traditional precincts of the state court.' Accordingly, deference to the state court mandates that this action be remanded."). Comity weighs in favor of remand.

Defendants' Position

The Bankruptcy Court could easily sever the alter ego claims and remand the remaining claims to the State Court. Unless and until Plaintiffs prevail upon their alter ego claims, this factor weighs against remand.

Plaintiffs' Position

Severing Plaintiffs' breach of contract and UCC claims from its fraudulent transfer claims is not feasible. Both the state law claims and fraudulent transfer claims will require Plaintiffs to introduce evidence of the unauthorized diversion of corporate funds to other than corporate purposes, as well as evidence that such diversion was meant to hinder, delay, and defraud creditors. That is, the evidence required to prove the state law claims substantially overlaps with the evidence required to prove the fraudulent transfer claims. If Plaintiffs' state law claims are severed, Plaintiffs will effectively have to put on the same case twice.

14. The Presence of a Related Proceeding Commenced in the State Court or the Bankruptcy Court

Defendants' Position

If all of the Collection Actions had been filed in one court and consolidated for trial, then remand would likely make sense. However, that is not the case here. The Bankruptcy Court will have to adjudicate the alter ego issues in connection with Plaintiffs' proofs of claim. It makes more sense to have all of the matters heard in the Bankruptcy Court. This factor favors denial of remand.

Plaintiffs' Position

Plaintiffs assert a right to a jury trial and have supported consolidation of the actions in State Court. Remanding these actions will allow the matters to proceed to a single jury trial before the State Court, as opposed to some bifurcated proceeding that begins in Bankruptcy Court and concludes with a jury trial in State Court.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Motions to Remand Were Filed Timely

Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 9027-1(c) requires that a motion for remand be filed "not later than 30 days after the date of filing of the notice of removal ...." Bankruptcy Rule 9006(f) provides that "[w]hen there is a right or requirement to act or to undertake some proceedings within a prescribed period after being served and that service is by mail ..., three days are added after the prescribed period would otherwise expire under Rule 9006(a)."

Notices of Removal of both of these actions were filed on September 16, 2019, and were served upon Plaintiffs by mail. Therefore, the deadline for Plaintiffs to file the Motions to Remand was 33 days after September 16, 2019 (30 days plus 3 days' for service by mail). Because the date that was 33 days subsequent to September 16, 2019 was Saturday, October 19, 2019, Plaintiffs' deadline was extended until Monday, October 21, 2019, pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9006(a)(1). [Note 3] Both Motions to Remand were filed on October 21, 2019, and were therefore timely.

B. The Motions to Remand Are Denied

Title 28 U.S.C § 1452 provides that the Court may remand an action "on any equitable ground." Courts consider the following factors in determining whether equitable grounds support remand:

- 1) the effect or lack thereof on the efficient administration of the estate if the Court recommends [remand or] abstention;
- 2) the extent to which state law issues predominate over bankruptcy issues;
- 3) the difficult or unsettled nature of applicable law;
- 4) the presence of related proceeding commenced in state court or other

- 7) the substance rather than the form of an asserted core proceeding;
- 8) the feasibility of severing state law claims from core bankruptcy matters to allow judgments to be entered in state court with enforcement left to the bankruptcy court;

- 13) comity; and
- 14) the possibility of prejudice to other parties in the action.

Citigroup, Inc. v. Pacific Investment Management Co., LLC (In re Enron Corp.), 296 B.R. 505, 509 n. 2 (C.D. Cal. 2003).

Having considered the Enron factors, the Court declines to remand these actions. The factors which are the most significant within the context of these cases are discussed first.

Chapter 11

Plaintiffs are correct that if these actions were remanded to the State Court, Plaintiffs would be entitled to a jury trial, at least with respect to their breach of contract claims. See Infor Glob. Sols. (Michigan), Inc. v. St. Paul Fire & Marine Ins. Co., 2009 WL 5909257, at *1 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 2, 2009) ("A party has a Seventh Amendment right to jury trial in a breach of contract action to determine whether the contract has been breached and the extent of the damages."). However, that does not mean that Plaintiffs are entitled to a jury trial before the Bankruptcy Court.

Both Plaintiffs have filed proofs of claim against the estate. In so doing, Plaintiffs have subjected themselves to the Bankruptcy Court's equitable power and have waived any Seventh Amendment right to a jury trial. Granfinanciera, S.A. v. Nordberg, 492 U.S. 33, 57–58, 109 S. Ct. 2782, 2799, 106 L. Ed. 2d 26 (1989). Plaintiffs cannot escape this result by contending that these actions are somehow separate and distinct from the proofs of claim that Plaintiffs have filed. Similar reasoning was rejected by the Supreme Court in Langenkamp v. Culp, 498 U.S. 42, 44–45, 111 S. Ct. 330, 331, 112 L. Ed. 2d 343 (1990). In Langenkamp, the Court held that creditors who had filed a proof of claim were not entitled to a jury trial in a subsequent preference action. The Court held: "[T]he creditor's claim and the ensuing preference action by the trustee become integral to the restructuring of the debtor-creditor relationship through the bankruptcy court's equity jurisdiction.... As such, there is no Seventh Amendment right to a jury trial." Id.

Here, Plaintiffs' proofs of claim are predicated upon the alter ego causes of action asserted in these adversary proceedings. Plaintiffs' proofs of claim are based upon "goods sold." However, according to the allegations in the Collection Actions, Plaintiffs did not sell goods directly to the Debtors. Plaintiffs instead allege that they sold goods to Bonerts. Therefore, Plaintiffs cannot prevail upon their claims against the bankruptcy estate unless they prevail upon the alter ego causes of action asserted in these proceedings.

Because Plaintiffs' proofs of claim depend upon the legal theories asserted in these actions, these actions—like the preference action in Langenkamp—have become integral to the claims allowance and disallowance process. As such, the adversary proceedings now will proceed under the Bankruptcy Court's equitable power, meaning that Plaintiffs have forfeited their Seventh Amendment right to a jury trial.

Since Plaintiffs are not entitled to a jury trial, this factor weighs against remand.

Wednesday, January 8, 2020

Chapter 11

As discussed above, these actions are integral to the claims allowance and disallowance process. Therefore, the actions are core proceedings. This factor weighs against remand.

Factor 5—The Jurisdictional Basis, if Any, Other than § 1334

For the reasons discussed in the Court's application of Factors 7 and 11, these actions are core proceedings that are integral to the claims allowance and disallowance process. This factor weighs against remand.

Factor 10—The Effect or Lack Thereof on the Efficient Administration of the Estate if the Court Remands the Action

Remanding these actions would impair the efficient administration of the estate. Whether the Debtors are liable to Plaintiffs as the alter ego of Bonerts will have to be determined in connection with the claims allowance and disallowance process. It makes no sense to subject the Debtors to duplicative litigation before the State Court when the issues raised in these adversary proceedings will have to be determined by the Bankruptcy Court in any event. Subjecting the Debtors to duplicative litigation will increase the administrative claims against the estate to the detriment of unsecured creditors.

Factor 9—The Burden on the Bankruptcy Court's Docket

Remanding these actions would not lessen the burden on the Court's docket because, as set forth in the discussion of Factor 9, the Court would still be required to adjudicate the matters at issue in these proceedings in connection with Plaintiffs' proofs of claim. This factor weighs against remand.

Factor 4—The Degree of Relatedness or Remoteness of the Proceeding to the Main Bankruptcy Case

These proceedings are closely related to the Debtors' main bankruptcy case. First, to the extent the actions assert substantial claims against the Debtors, they obviously will have an effect upon the Debtors' ability to distribute funds to other unsecured creditors. Second, to the extent the actions assert claims against the Affiliates, those

Chapter 11

Affiliates are wholly owned by the Debtors (either individually or through the Debtors' revocable trusts). Therefore, even with respect to the claims against the Affiliates, these actions will affect the Debtors' ability to make distributions to other unsecured creditors.

Factor 12—The Presence in the Proceeding of Non-Debtor Parties

The non-debtor parties in these actions—the Affiliates, which are wholly-owned by the Debtors—have all consented to the Bankruptcy Court's jurisdiction. In addition, the Affiliates oppose the remand of these actions. This factor weighs against remand.

Factor 8—The Feasibility of Severing State Law Claims from Core Bankruptcy Matters to Allow Judgments to Be Entered in State Court with Enforcement Left to the Bankruptcy Court

The Court agrees with the Plaintiffs that the evidence to be presented on the various claims for relief overlaps to a significant extent. Therefore, attempting to sever Plaintiffs' state law claims would not be feasible. As a result, this factor weighs against remand.

Factor 10—The Likelihood that Commencement of the Proceeding in Bankruptcy Court Involves Forum Shopping

It is true that the Debtors elected to seek bankruptcy protection for the express purpose of consolidating all of the alter ego actions brought against them before a single court. However, the Debtors' objective in seeking an alternative forum was not to influence the outcome of the litigation, but rather to consolidate all litigation before one court to reduce costs. That is, the Debtors removed these actions in pursuit of a valid bankruptcy purpose (maximizing the property available to satisfy creditors by litigating the claims of creditors in the most efficient manner), not "merely to obtain a tactical litigation advantage." NMSBPCSLDBHB, L.P. v. Integrated Telecom Express, Inc. (In re Integrated Telecom Express, Inc.), 384 F.3d 108, 120 (3d Cir. 2004). Because these actions were removed for a legitimate bankruptcy purpose, the Court does not view the removal as improper forum shopping. Accordingly, this factor weighs against remand.

Factor 14—The Possibility of Prejudice to Other Parties in the Action

Plaintiffs argue that they will be prejudiced if the actions are not remanded because they will be deprived of their right to a jury trial. This argument lacks merit. As discussed above, Plaintiffs have waived their right to a jury trial by filing proofs of claim. This factor weighs against remand.

Factor 3—The Difficult or Unsettled Nature of Applicable Law

In determining whether to pierce the corporate veil, California courts apply multi-factor tests. The fact that alter ego law involves the evaluation and application of multiple factors does not mean that the law in this area is unduly difficult or unsettled. Further, regardless of whether these actions were remanded, the Court would be required to adjudicate the alter ego issues in connection with Plaintiffs' proofs of claim. This factor weighs against remand.

Factor 4—The Presence of a Related Proceeding Commenced in the State Court or the Bankruptcy Court

There are no other proceedings related to these actions that are pending before the State Court. Remand will not enable the consolidation of these actions with other matters currently being tried in the State Court. This factor weighs against remand.

Factors 13 (Comity) and 2 (The Extent to Which State Law Issues Predominate Over Bankruptcy Issues)

These factors weigh in favor of remand. The claims asserted in these proceedings arise primarily under state law. However, given that all the remaining factors weigh strongly against remand, the Court accords these factors only minimal weight.

C. The Court Will Enter Final Judgment In These Actions

In the Motions to Remand and in the Joint Status Reports, Plaintiffs have contested the Court's authority to enter final judgment in these actions.   - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.
  - iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
  - iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.

binders and trial briefs.

- 2) These matters shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiffs will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motions to Remand are DENIED. The Court will prepare and enter (1) a Scheduling Order and (2) orders denying the Motions to Remand. Plaintiffs shall submit the order assigning these actions to mediation.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz, the Judge's Law Clerks, at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1

The claims bar date was December 20, 2019. The hearings on the Motions to Remand were initially set for December 11, 2019. Based upon a finding that the Motions could not be adjudicated until it was known whether Capitol and Stratas would file proofs of claim, the Court continued the hearings to January 8, 2020.

Note 2

After the briefing on the Motions to Remand had been completed, both Plaintiffs filed proofs of claim.

Note 3

Bankruptcy Rule 9006(a)(1) provides that where "the last day of the period [to take action] ... is a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the period continues to run until the end of the next day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday."

Docket 0

Tentative Ruling:

1/8/2020

Subject to additional argument that may be presented at the hearing, the Court is prepared to GRANT the Emergency Motion.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Debtors' Emergency Motion for Authorization to Close St. Vincent Medical Center (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 3906]
  - a) Order Setting Hearing on Debtors' Emergency Motion for Authorization to Close St. Vincent Medical Center [Doc. No. 3907]
  - b) Notice of Hearing on Debtors' Emergency Motion for Authorization to Close St. Vincent Medical Center [Doc. No. 3909]
  - c) Declaration of Service by Kurtzman Carson Consultants, LLC Regarding Docket Numbers 3906, 3907 and 3909 [Doc. No. 3913]
- 2) Opposition by California Nurses Association to Debtors' Emergency Motion for Authorization to Close St. Vincent Medical Center [Doc. No. 3914]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

As of the Petition Date, the Debtors operated six acute care hospitals in the state of California. On December 27, 2018, the Court authorized the Debtors to sell two of their hospitals—O'Connor Hospital and Saint Louise Regional Hospital—to Santa Clara County (the "Santa Clara Sale"). The Santa Clara Sale closed on February 28, 2019.

On February 19, 2019, the Court entered an order establishing bidding procedures (the "Bidding Procedures Order") [Doc. No. 1572] for the auction of the Debtors' four remaining hospitals—St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis"), St. Vincent Medical Center (including St. Vincent Dialysis Center) ("St. Vincent"), Seton Medical Center ("Seton"), and Seton Medical Center Coastside ("Seton Coastside") (collectively, the "Hospitals"). Under the Bidding Procedures Order, Strategic Global Management ("SGM") was designated as the stalking horse bidder. SGM's bid for all four of the Hospitals was $610 million. The Bidding Procedures Order approved an Asset Purchase Agreement (the "APA") between the Debtors and SGM.

The Hospitals were extensively marketed by the Debtors' investment banker, Cain Brothers, a division of KeyBank Capital Markets, Inc. ("Cain Brothers"). Cain Brothers notified ninety parties of the auction process. Sixteen of these parties requested continued access to a data room containing information about the Hospitals.

Notwithstanding Cain Brothers' thorough marketing efforts, the Debtors did not receive any qualified bids for all of the Hospitals. The Debtors received one bid to purchase only St. Vincent and one bid to purchase only St. Francis. After consulting with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") and the largest secured creditors, the Debtors determined not to conduct an auction. On May 2, 2019, the Court entered an order finding that SGM was the winning bidder and approving the sale to SGM (the "SGM Sale").

On November 27, 2019, the Court entered a memorandum of decision and accompanying order finding that as of November 19, 2019, all conditions precedent under the APA to SGM's obligation to close the SGM Sale had been satisfied. Doc. Nos. 3723–24. The Court found that pursuant to § 1.3 of the APA, SGM was obligated to close the SGM Sale by no later than December 5, 2019. Id. SGM did not close the sale by December 5, 2019. On December 27, 2019, the Debtors sent SGM a notice terminating the APA and asserting that SGM had materially breached the APA. Doc. No. 3899.

The Debtors seek authorization to implement a plan to close St. Vincent (the "Closure Plan"). The Debtors assert that there is no buyer interested in purchasing St. Vincent as a going-concern; that the operating losses generated by St. Vincent threaten the viability of the entire Verity Health System; and that if the Debtors do not immediately begin implementing the Closure Plan, they will lack sufficient funds to conduct an orderly closure.

The timeline contemplated by the Closure Plan is as follows (all dates are calculated with reference to entry of an order granting the Motion):

Summary of the California Nurses Association’s Opposition to the Motion

The California Nurses Association (the “CNA”), which represents registered nurses employed at St. Vincent, opposes the Motion. The CNA makes the following arguments and representations in support of its opposition:

The Debtors have not demonstrated that they have provided the notice of the contemplated closure that is required under California law. Specifically, the contemplated closure violates the following provisions of the Cal. Health & Safety Code:

- Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1255.1(a) requires that any hospital providing emergency medical services give 90 days’ advance notice of the elimination of such services to “the state department, the local government entity in charge of the provision of health services, and all health care service plans or other entities under contract with the hospital to provide services to enrollees of the plan or other entity.”
- Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1225.1(b) requires a hospital to provide 90 days’ advance notice of the closure “in a manner that is likely to reach a significant number of residents of the community” serviced by the hospital.
- Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1255.25(a)(1) requires that not less than 30 days prior to the closure, the hospital (1) post notice of the closure “at the entrance to all affected facilities” and (2) provide notice of the closure to the department and the board of supervisors of the county in which the hospital is located.

Chapter 11

- Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1255.25(b)(2) requires that not less than 30 days prior to closure, the hospital provide notice to Medicare and Medi-Cal beneficiaries, including information on the nearest available facilities providing similar healthcare services.

The notification requirements serve a vital role in helping underserved communities prepare for the devastating loss of essential healthcare services. As set forth in a January 7, 2020 letter from California State Senator Maria Elena Durazo and California State Assembly Member Wendy Carrillo, who represent constituents in the district in which St. Vincent is located, closure of the hospital will be “devastating” for the district, and the public notice requirement “is crucial because it gives [the public] time to figure out where patients should be going to receive care in the area” and “ensure[s] workers are not left unemployed ....”

In Norris Square Civic Ass’n v. St. Mary Hosp. (In re St. Mary Hosp.), the Bankruptcy Court enjoined a hospital from closing because it had failed to comply with applicable notice requirements imposed by state law. 86 B.R. 393, 400 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 1988). The Motion should be denied based on the Debtors’ failure to comply with the notice requirements imposed by California law.

The timeframe proposed by the Debtors for closing the emergency department creates an unreasonable risk to public safety. The Debtors plan to close the emergency department within three days after entry of an order granting the Motion. Even if ambulances are placed on diversion status, many residents of the community will still drive to the emergency department to receive care. Based on the most recent filing with the California Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development, the emergency department receives approximately 83 visits per day.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. CNA Lacks Standing to Enforce the Provisions of the California Health & Safety Code Against the Debtors

The provisions of the California Health & Safety Code cited by CNA are enforced by the California Department of Public Health (the “CDPH”). The CDPH has not filed an opposition to the Motion. CNA lacks standing to enforce the cited provisions of the Health & Safety Code against the Debtors on CDPH’s behalf.

CNA would have standing to enforce the California Health & Safety Code only if the statute created a private right of action. The California Supreme Court has explained that a private right of action exists under the following circumstances:

A violation of a state statute does not necessarily give rise to a private cause of action. Instead, whether a party has a right to sue depends on whether the Legislature has “manifested an intent to create such a private cause of action” under the statute....

A statute may contain “ ‘clear, understandable, unmistakable terms,’ ” which strongly and directly indicate that the Legislature intended to create a private cause of action. For instance, the statute may expressly state that a person has or is liable for a cause of action for a particular violation. (See, e.g., Civ.Code, § 51.9 [“A person is liable in a cause of action for sexual harassment” when a plaintiff proves certain elements]; Health & Saf.Code, § 1285, subd. (c) [“Any person who is detained in a health facility solely for the nonpayment of a bill has a cause of action against the health facility for the detention”].) Or, more commonly, a statute may refer to a remedy or means of enforcing its substantive provisions, i.e., by way of an action.

Lu v. Hawaiian Gardens Casino, Inc., 50 Cal. 4th 592, 597, 236 P.3d 346, 348 (2010) (internal citations omitted).

None of the sections cited by CNA contains language expressly creating a private right of action. Further, there is no indication that the legislature intended for private entities to have the ability to enforce those provisions against hospitals. See Lu, 50 Cal. 45th at 600 (providing that if a statute does not expressly create a private right of action, there must be a “clear indication” that the legislature intended to do so). To the contrary, the structure of the statute indicates that the legislature delegated enforcement responsibilities solely to the CDPH. The provisions cited by CNA are contained within the chapter of the statute pertaining to licensure. That chapter also contains provisions setting forth the circumstances under which a health facility’s license may be revoked, including the manner in which the CDPH must conduct hearings on license revocation. See Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1294 (the “state department may suspend or revoke any license or special permit issued under the provisions of this chapter upon any of the following grounds ....”); id. at § 100171 (containing procedures for hearings on licensure).

In addition, at least one court has held that a provision contained within Division 2 of the Health & Safety Code (the same division containing the provisions cited by CNA) does not create a private right of action. See John Muir Health v. Glob. Excel

Because CNA lacks standing to enforce the Cal. Health & Safety Code, the Court does not consider its arguments.

B. The Debtors Are Authorized to Close St. Vincent

Section 363(b) authorizes a debtor to use property of the estate outside the ordinary course of business upon court approval. The debtor must articulate a “business justification” to use property outside the ordinary course of business. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient “depends on the case,” in view of “all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding.” Id. at 19–20.

The Debtors’ decision to close St. Vincent constitutes a “use” of estate property within the meaning of § 363(b). The Debtors have articulated a sufficient business justification for closing St. Vincent. The following facts have been established by the declarations submitted in support of the Motion:

- No buyer has presented a realistic bid to purchase St. Vincent as a stand-alone hospital. Moloney Decl. at ¶ 4. Although James M. Moloney, the Debtors’ investment banker, had a telephone conversation with a potential bidder on January 6, 2020, that bidder had conducted limited due diligence and did not have experience with the regulatory approval process required to purchase a hospital. Id. Further, the the bidder’s intended use for St. Vincent was as a real-estate investment if the bidder’s hospital operating partner could not develop a viable plan to operate St. Vincent’s profitably. Id.
- St. Vincent is generating substantial operating losses. As of the Petition Date, St. Vincent accounted for approximately 23% of the patient volume of the entire Verity Health System, but was responsible for 60% of the operating losses. Chadwick Decl. at ¶ 6. If the Debtors do not implement the Closure Plan rapidly, they will lack sufficient funds to conduct an orderly closure of St. Vincent. Adcock Decl. at ¶ 7.
- The Debtors lack sufficient funds to continue to subsidize St. Vincent’s operating losses. Absent the closure of St. Vincent, the Debtors will be unable to continue operating their other hospitals. Chadwick Decl. at ¶ 9.

Chapter 11

Since there is no viable means for the Debtors to continue St. Vincent's operations, implementation of the Closure Plan is necessary to sustain public health and welfare. Public safety would be jeopardized if the Debtors allowed St. Vincent to remain open while lacking sufficient funds to support its operations. In this respect, the Court notes that the Debtors do not have the ability to borrow under any debtor-in-possession financing facility. The Debtors' cases are being financed by a consensual cash collateral stipulation executed between the Debtors and the principal secured creditors (the "Cash Collateral Stipulation"). Under the Cash Collateral Stipulation, the Debtors' ability to use cash collateral terminates on January 31, 2020.

The Closure Plan preserves patient safety. Acute care patients will be transferred to Good Samaritan Hospital, which is located approximately one mile from St. Vincent. Adcock Decl. at ¶ 8. St. Joseph Hospital has agreed to assume care of the kidney transplant patients who are part of the St. Vincent Transplant Program, subject to approval of the United Network for Organ Sharing. Id.

The Court is fully cognizant of the hardship that closure of St. Vincent will have upon employees and members of the surrounding community, and takes no pleasure in authorizing closure. The absence of any serious purchaser willing to acquire St. Vincent as a going-concern has placed all constituencies in this case in a difficult position. However, forcing the Debtors to keep St. Vincent open when there is insufficient money to operate it would only make the situation far worse.

#14.00 HearingRE: [145] Motion For Final Decree and Order Closing Case.

Docket 145

Tentative Ruling:

1/7/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Entry of Final Decree, Discharge, and Order Closing Debtor's Chapter 11 Case [Doc. No. 145] (the "Motion")
- 2) Post-Confirmation Status Report [Doc. No. 148]
- 3) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Andrew's & Son Tradings Inc. dba Beston Shoes (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on July 13, 2018. On September 26, 2019, the Court entered an order confirming the Debtor's Second Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization as of April 16, 2019 (the "Plan") [Doc. No. 134] (the "Confirmation Order"). The Plan's effective date was on October 10, 2019 (the "Effective Date"). The Plan provides for the Debtor to make payments to creditors over a 60-month period. The Debtor further asserts that the Plan has been substantially consummated because 1) the Confirmation Order has become final and non-appealable, 2) payments contemplated under the Plan were made on the Effective Date and remain ongoing, 3) the Debtor has re-assumed management of its business, and 4) all motions and contested matters have been resolved, and there are no pending adversary proceedings.

Based on the foregoing, the Debtor requests entry of a final decree and discharge and an order closing the case.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

Chapter 11

II. Findings and Conclusions

Pursuant to § 350(a) and Bankruptcy Rule 3022, the Court shall enter a final decree closing a chapter 11 case after the estate is fully administered. In determining whether an estate is fully administered, a court should consider:

- (1) whether the order confirming the plan has become final;
- (2) whether deposits required by the plan have been distributed;
- (3) whether the property proposed by the plan to be transferred has been transferred;
- (4) whether the debtor or the successor of the debtor under the plan has assumed the business of the management of the property dealt with by the plan;
- (5) whether payments under the plan have commenced; and
- (6) whether all motions, contested matters, and adversary proceedings have been finally resolved.

In re Ground Systems, Inc., 213 B.R. 1016, 1019 (9th Cir. BAP 1997), quoting Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3022 advisory committee's notes (1991). Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3022, a case may be fully administered even though all payments contemplated under a chapter 11 plan have not been completed. See id.

Here, the order confirming the Plan has become final, the Debtor has commenced making payments under the Plan, and there are no pending adversary proceedings or contested matters. The Court finds that entry of a final decree and discharge is appropriate.

A Post-Confirmation Status Conference is currently scheduled for January 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. Having reviewed the Post-Confirmation Status Report, the Court finds that the Debtor is performing under the Plan. The Post-Confirmation Status Conference is taken off calendar. Unless otherwise ordered by the Court, no further Post-Confirmation Status Conferences will be conducted.

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. The Debtor shall submit a proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing. The Court will prepare and enter an order taking the Post-Confirmation Status Conference off calendar.

#1.00 HearingRE: [8] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations PERSONAL PROPERTY RE: Blue Shield Bronze 60 PPO health insurance policy . (Still, Andrew)

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

1/10/2020

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362 (d)(1) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to terminate health insurance coverage pursuant to applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Court takes note of the following facts. Luther Raymond Livingston, III, (the "Debtor") purchased a Bronze 60 PPO health insurance policy (the "Policy") from Blue Shield (the "Movant") through the Covered California website. Declaration of Mary Ann Lagura ("Lagura Decl."), ¶ 3. Pursuant to the Policy's terms, the Debtor was required to tender monthly premium payments of $352.17 by the first day of each month. See id., ¶ 4, Ex. 2. Additionally, until October 2019, the Debtor received advance payments of premium tax credits of $2.37 from the government to apply against the Policy's monthly premium charges. See Lagura Decl., ¶ 4, Ex. 2. The Debtor defaulted on the Policy's premium payments starting on October 1, 2019. Lagura Decl., ¶ 6. On October 3, 2019, the Movant delivered to Debtor a past due letter, providing that his last day of paid coverage was September 30, 2019, and that the Policy would be terminated unless the Debtor paid late charges by December 31, 2019. Id., Ex. 3. On October 10, 2019, unbeknownst to the Movant, the Debtor commenced the instant bankruptcy case. Lagura Decl., ¶ 9.

Pursuant to applicable federal law [Note 1], on or about November 5, 2019, the Debtor was sent another past due notice, stating that Debtor's coverage would be terminated at the end of a three-month grace period on December 31, 2019. See Lagura Decl., Exs. 3, 4. The Movant further attests that Debtor has failed to remit payment for past due amounts or accrued arrearages totaling $701.97 as of the filing of this motion. Id., ¶¶ 7, 8.

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that Movant has asserted good cause to lift the automatic stay as to the Policy. See, e.g., In re Probulk, Inc., 407 B.R. 56, 62 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2009) ("a party to a contract [is prevented] from terminating the contract or taking action to deem the contract terminated after the bankruptcy case has commenced without seeking relief from the stay, and it is obviously applicable to insurance contracts.") (citing 3 Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 362.03[5][b] (15th ed. 2005) ("Certainly an insurer should not be permitted to cancel a policy merely because a debtor is in bankruptcy."). Furthermore, the stay is annulled retroactive to the petition date, so that enforcement actions taken by Movant, if any, before receipt of notice of the automatic stay will not be deemed to have been voided by the automatic stay.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

The Court conducted an initial Status Conference on March 19, 2019, and subsequently issued an order setting litigation deadlines. The Court did not order formal mediation, in view of the parties' representation that they had engaged in preliminary settlement discussions. At the Status Conference conducted on June 11, 2019, the Court advised the parties that the matter would be ordered to formal mediation at the August 13, 2019 Status Conference unless the parties had demonstrated they had engaged in meaningful settlement discussions.

Based upon its review of the Joint Status Report, it does not appear to the Court that the parties are making meaningful progress toward settlement. Good cause appearing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. *** VACATED *** REASON: DISMISSED 10-28-19

Tentative Ruling:

10/11/2019

The Court conducted an initial Status Conference on March 19, 2019. The Court did not order formal mediation, in view of the parties' representation that they had engaged in preliminary settlement discussions.

The Trustee and the Defendant have agreed upon an open-ended extension of Defendant's deadline to respond to the Complaint, terminable by the Trustee, to enable the parties to engage in settlement discussions.

Based upon its review of the Trustee's Unilateral Status Report, it does not appear to the Court that the parties are making meaningful progress toward settlement. Therefore, the Court will order the matter to formal mediation and will set a deadline by which Defendant must respond to the Complaint.

Good cause appearing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) Defendant shall respond to the Complaint by no later than 11/12/2019.
- 2) A continued Status Conference shall be held on 1/14/2020 at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.
- 3) The following litigation deadlines shall apply:
  - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 2/13/2020.

- c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 6/25/2020.
- d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 7/14/2020. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 7/21/2020. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 7/25/2020. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 8/11/2020 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
  - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.

- iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
- iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
  - i) Trial is set for the week of 8/24/2020. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.
- 4) The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

The Court notes that the Defendant, possibly in error, checked the box indicating that it does not consent to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of a final judgment. On March 20, 2019, the Court entered a Scheduling Order predicated upon the Defendant's consent to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of a final judgment. See Doc. No. 13 (the "Scheduling Order"). The Scheduling Order provides in relevant part:

Defendant has timely demanded a jury trial in this avoidance action, has not filed a proof of claim against the estate, and consents to having the jury trial conducted by the Bankruptcy Court. Under these circumstances, Defendant is entitled to a jury trial. See Langenkamp v. Culp, 498 U.S. 42, 45 (1990) ("If a party does not submit a claim against the bankruptcy estate, however, the trustee can recover allegedly preferential transfers only by filing what amounts to a legal action to recover a monetary transfer. In those circumstances the preference defendant is entitled to a jury trial."). Because both Plaintiff and Defendant have consented to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of final judgment, the jury trial will be conducted by the Bankruptcy Court. See Bankruptcy Rule 9015(b) (stating that the Bankruptcy Court may conduct a jury trial only with the consent of all parties).

Scheduling Order at ¶ 1.

Defendant is not allowed to withdraw its consent to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of a final judgment at this stage of the proceedings.

On March 20, 2019, the Court ordered the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") to submit an order assigning this matter to mediation (the "Mediation Order"). Doc. No. 31. The Trustee failed to submit the Mediation Order. On June 26, 2019, the Court once again ordered the Trustee to submit the Mediation Order. Doc. No. 17. The Mediation Order has not yet been submitted.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The Trustee shall submit the Mediation Order by no later than August 27, 2019. If the Trustee does not comply with this deadline, the Court will require the Trustee to appear and show cause why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute, pursuant to Civil Rule 41.
- 2) Defendant shall be deemed to have consented to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of a final judgment in this action.
- 3) The litigation deadlines previously ordered shall continue to apply, subject to an extension for good cause shown.
- 4) Absent further order of the Court, no further Status Conferences will be conducted.

The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. On May 9, 2019, the Court entered an order approving a settlement between the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") and Defendants John Ulzheimer and the Ulzheimer Group, LLC (collectively, the "Ulzheimer Defendants"). On May 22, 2019, the Trustee dismissed all claims against the Ulzheimer Defendants.

Defendants TCG Assets, Inc., TCG Int'l Holdings, Inc., Michael B. Citron, Kenneth R. Morris, the Law Office of Kenneth R. On August 2, 2019, all of the Remaining Defendants except for Nicholas Moffat ("Moffat") executed a settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement"). Mr. Singh has assured the Trustee that Moffat's signature is forthcoming, but no signature has been provided to the Trustee. However, the Remaining Defendants have made the first three installment payments required under the Settlement Agreement. The Trustee intends to seek approval of the Settlement Agreement. If Moffat does not sign the Settlement Agreement, the Trustee intends to strike Moffat from the Settlement Agreement and pursue a default judgment against Moffat.

Based upon the foregoing, and having reviewed the Trustee's Unilateral Status Report, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) A continued Status Conference shall be held on January 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. The Trustee shall submit a Status Report by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.
- 2) The Court will maintain the litigation deadlines set by way of the Order (1) Setting Litigation Deadlines and (2) Setting Continued Status Conference for October 15, 2019 at 10:00 a.m. [Doc. No. 23] issued on July 18, 2019. In the Court's experience, the maintenance of litigation deadlines is the best means of facilitating settlement.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

1/13/2020

Plaintiff has obtained final judgment in the State Court (the “State Court Judgment”) against Defendant, awarding Plaintiff damages of $225,000 for sexual battery (Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.5), gender violence (Cal. Civ. Code § 52.4), and violation of the Ralph Civil Rights Act (Cal. Civ. Code § 57.7). The portion of the State Court Judgment awarding Plaintiff attorneys’ fees in the amount of approximately $2.5 million remains subject to an appeal and is not yet final. However, the State Court Judgment’s award of costs in the amount of $84,090.34 is final.

On February 4, 2019, the Court found that the portion of the State Court Judgment awarding damages and costs was non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(6). Doc. Nos. 42 and 45–46. The Court stated that adjudication of the dischargeability of the fee portion of the State Court Judgment would occur once that aspect of the judgment became final. The fee portion of the State Court Judgment has not yet become final.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) A continued Status Conference shall be held on January 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) A Joint Status Report, which shall discuss the status of Defendant’s appeal of the fee portion of the State Court Judgment, shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

1/13/2020

Default was entered against Defendant Discover Bank on October 29, 2019. Doc. No. 13. The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") is in settlement communications with Defendant Jason Cho.

Having reviewed the Status Report submitted by the parties, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) Plaintiff shall file a Motion for Default Judgment (the "Motion") against Discover Bank by no later than February 14, 2020. The Motion shall be filed on a negative-notice basis, pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(o).
- 2) As to Defendant Jason Cho, the litigation deadlines previously ordered shall continue to apply, as follows:
  - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 12/12/2019.
  - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 3/24/2020.

- c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 4/23/2020.
- d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 5/19/2020. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 5/26/2020. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 5/23/2020. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 6/16/2020 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
  - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.

- iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
- iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
- i) Trial is set for the week of 6/22/2020. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.
- 3) As to the claims against Defendant Jason Cho, the matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

The Court will prepare and enter a Scheduling Order. Plaintiff shall submit the order assigning the matter to mediation.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

1/13/2020

Defendant U.S. Bank, N.A. ("U.S. Bank") has not responded to the Complaint. However, the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") and U.S. Bank are engaged in settlement discussions. As to Defendant Kenny Hwang, the Trustee's claims are currently stayed as a result of the filing of Hwang's voluntary Chapter 7 petition.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In view of the delay resulting from the stay arising in Defendant Hwang's Chapter 7 voluntary petition, the litigation deadlines previously ordered by the Court are VACATED.
- 2) A continued Status Conference shall be held on March 17, 2020, at 10:00 a.m., concurrently with the Status Conferences in related avoidance actions filed by the Trustee. A Joint Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

1/13/2020

On December 11, 2019, the Court entered an order granting in part and denying in part a Motion to Dismiss filed by Defendant In Young Hwang. Defendant In Young Hwang has until January 31, 2020, to file an Answer to the Complaint.

Having reviewed the Joint Status Report filed by the parties, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) Defendants Twig & Twine, Inc. and Danielle Steckler do not consent to the entry of final judgment by the Bankruptcy Court. The Court lacks constitutional authority to enter final judgment in this avoidance action absent consent of all the parties. See Executive Benefits Ins. Agency v. Arkison (In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc.), 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012). Because Defendants have not consented to entry of a final judgment by this Court, the Court will prepare and transmit to the District Court a Report and Recommendation containing proposed findings and a proposed judgment.

- 2) The litigation deadlines previously ordered shall continue to apply, as follows:
- a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 12/12/2019.
  - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 3/24/2020.
  - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 4/23/2020.
  - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 5/19/2020. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 5/26/2020. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 5/23/2020. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 6/16/2020 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
  - h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
    - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).

- ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.
  - iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
  - iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
- i) Trial is set for the week of 6/22/2020. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.
  - 2) The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

Tentative Ruling:

1/13/2020

On September 26, 2019, the Court entered an order denying the Motion for Summary Judgment filed by the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee"). Doc. No. 29. On that same date, the Court entered a Scheduling Order and ordered the parties to complete one day of mediation by no later than December 10, 2019. Doc. No. 28.

The parties conducted mediation before Howard Ehrenberg on December 4, 2019. Doc. No. 32. The matter did not settle.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The litigation deadlines set by way of the Scheduling Order [Doc. No. 28] shall continue to apply.
- 2) Absent further order of the Court, no additional Status Conferences will be conducted.

The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. FR. 12-18-18; 8-7-19

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

1/13/2020

On March 1, 2018, Maground, GmbH ("Plaintiff") commenced a complaint against Roberto Kai Hegeler (the "Debtor/Defendant") in the United States District Court for the Central District of California (the "District Court"), asserting claims for trademark infringement pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §§1114 and 1125(a), trademark dilution pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §1125(c), unfair competition and false advertising pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §1125(a), cybersquatting pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §1125(d), common law trademark infringement, breach of contract, conversion, and violations of Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§14247, 17200, and 17500 (the "District Court Action"). See Maground, GmbH v. Roberto Kai Hegeler and Maground, LLC (Doc. No. 1, Case No. 2:18-cv-01760-CJC-JC). On April 23, 2018, Debtor/Defendant filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. On May 4, 2018, the District Court stayed the District Court Action pending resolution of Debtor/Defendant's bankruptcy proceeding.

On July 23, 2018, Plaintiff commenced an action against Debtor/Defendant in the Bankruptcy Court (the "Non-Dischargeability Action"). On December 17, 2018, the Bankruptcy Court entered an order (1) sua sponte lifting the automatic stay to permit the District Court Action to proceed and (2) staying the Non-Dischargeability Action until entry of a final, non-appealable judgment in the District Court Action. Doc. No. 19 (the "Stay Order"). The Stay Order provided:

Chapter 7

The most efficient way to resolve the Non-Dischargeability Action is for Plaintiff to first prosecute the District Court Action to final judgment. In the event Plaintiff obtains judgment in its favor, Plaintiff may then return to the Bankruptcy Court to obtain a determination regarding whether such judgment is dischargeable. The District Court is better equipped than this Court to determine whether Defendant is indebted to Plaintiff on account of the allegations for trademark infringement, trademark dilution, and cybersquatting, all of which require the application of substantive non-bankruptcy law.

Stay Order at ¶ 3.

Trial in the District Court Action is set for November 3, 2020. Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) A continued Status Conference shall be held on July 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) A Joint Status Report, which shall discuss the status of the District Court Action, shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

1/13/2020

The Defendant currently lives in China. The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") does not know Defendant's whereabouts in China. The Trustee has been unable to serve the Summons and Complaint upon the Defendant. The Trustee has filed separate actions against both George Hsu and Lillian Hsu, and is currently seeking entry of default judgment in both of those proceedings. The Trustee anticipates that resolution of the actions against George Hsu and Lillian Hsu could result in a return of some of the transfers at issue in this proceeding. The Trustee asserts that at the moment, recovery of the transfers against George Hsu and Lillian Hsu is the most economic means of prosecuting this action.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) Pursuant to the Trustee's request, a continued Status Conference shall be held on April 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) The Trustee shall file a Status Report by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

1/13/2020

On June 28, 2019, the Clerk of the Court entered Defendant's default. On July 16, 2019, the Court granted Plaintiff relief from the automatic stay, to enable Plaintiff to continue litigating the underlying State Court Action through which Plaintiff intends to establish the indebtedness alleged to be non-dischargeable. Plaintiff has represented that a judgment in the State Court Action will assist Plaintiff in presenting a Motion for Default Judgment to this Court. Litigation of the State Court Action remains ongoing.

Having reviewed Plaintiff's Unilateral Status Report, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) A continued Status Conference shall take place on July 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) By no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing, Plaintiff shall file a Unilateral Status Report, which shall discuss the status of the State Court Action.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

1/13/2020

On February 26, 2019, the Court granted Plaintiff relief from the automatic stay, to enable Plaintiff to prosecute against Defendant two actions pending in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court Actions"). Plaintiff seeks to establish the indebtedness which is alleged to be non-dischargeable in this proceeding by way of the State Court Actions. On June 18, 2019, the Court granted Plaintiff's motion to abstain from adjudicating this dischargeability action until Plaintiff had obtained final, non-appealable judgments in the State Court Actions. Final judgment has not yet been entered in both of the State Court Actions.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) A continued Status Conference shall take place on May 12, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.

  - h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
    - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
    - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of

*** VACATED *** REASON: CONTINUED 3-17-20 AT 10:00 A.M.

Tentative Ruling:

7/15/2019

Having reviewed the Joint Status Report submitted by the parties, the Court

HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) A continued Status Conference shall be held on October 15, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.
- 2) In view of the parties' request that the matter not be ordered to mediation until after the completion of discovery, the Court will not order mediation at this time. The Court will most likely order the matter to formal mediation at the October 15, 2019 Status Conference.
- 3) The litigation deadlines previously ordered shall continue to apply, as follows:
  - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 8/15/2019.
  - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 11/26/2019.
  - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 12/26/2019.
  - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 1/14/2020. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert

- e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 1/21/2020. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 1/25/2020. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 2/11/2020 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
  - h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
    - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
    - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.

- iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(3)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
- iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(3)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(3)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
- i) Trial is set for the week of 2/24/2020. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.

The Court will prepare and enter a Scheduling Order.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

1/13/2020

On September 27, 2019, the Court entered an order lifting the automatic stay to enable Plaintiffs to prosecute a state court action (the "State Court Action") in which Plaintiffs seek to establish the indebtedness that is alleged to be non-dischargeable in this action. Bankr. Doc. No. 28 (the "RFS Order").

Plaintiffs have obtained a default judgment against the Defendant in the State Court Action (the "Default Judgment") and are prepared to adjudicate the non-dischargeability of the Default Judgment.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY FINDS AND ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) Plaintiffs obtained the Default Judgment on August 19, 2019, before the Court lifted the stay to enable Plaintiffs to prosecute the State Court Action. Unless Defendant files a written objection by no later than January 28, 2020, the Court will retroactively annul the stay so that the Default Judgment remains valid. (The RFS Order did not retroactively annul the stay.) In determining whether retroactive annulment is appropriate, courts apply a "balancing of the equities' test." Fjeldsted v. Curry (In re Fjeldsted), 293 B.R. 12, 24 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2003). The Court is prepared to find that retroactive annulment is appropriate here because the Court lifted the stay on its own motion for the purpose of streamlining the adjudication of this action. In the event Defendant files a written objection, the Court will determine whether a hearing is required and will notify the parties accordingly.

- 2) Because litigation of this action has been delayed by proceedings associated with the RFS Order, the litigation deadlines previously ordered are extended, as follows:
  - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 2/13/2020.
  - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 5/26/2020.
  - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 6/25/2020.
  - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 7/14/2020. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 7/21/2020. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 7/25/2020. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 8/11/2020 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor-in-possession, Andrew's & Sons Tradings, Inc. dba Beston Shoes (the "Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on July 13, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). On June 27, 2019, the Court issued the Scheduling Order continuing the confirmation hearing. See Doc. No. 126. The Court further directed the Debtor to reopen voting for certain non-voting classes, with supplemental notice to the affected creditors. See id. The supplemental notice had to unambiguously inform creditors that the deadline to submit a ballot had been extended to July 26, 2019, and that failure to timely cast a vote would be deemed acceptance of the Plan. See id. The Debtor complied with the directive, timely filing proof of service evidencing supplemental notice to such classes. See Doc. No. 125. On August 19, 2019, the Debtor filed a Plan Ballot Summary, indicating that only one of the non-voting classes had submitted a vote in the interim. See Doc. No. 130. Having reviewed the Supplemental Status Report, the Court finds it appropriate to CONFIRM the Plan.

Summary of the Plan

Chapter 11

Class 1 consists of the secured claim of First General Bank ("Loan 1"). First General Bank ("FGB") holds a first-priority blanket security lien against the Debtor's assets, which secures debt in the amount of $110,894.08. The Debtor proposes to pay FGB in full, plus 7.25% interest, by making monthly payments of $1,155.25 for a period of twelve years. FGB will retain its lien until paid in full.

FGB's claim is impaired and it voted to accept the Plan.

Class 2 – FGB – Accepts the Plan

Class 2 consists of the secured claim of FGB ("Loan 2"). FGB holds a second-priority blanket security lien against the Debtor's assets, which secures debt in the amount of $73,991.14. The Debtor proposes to pay FGB in full, plus 7.25% interest, by making monthly payments of $863.40 for a period of ten years. FGB will retain its lien until paid in full.

FGB's claim is impaired and it voted to accept the Plan.

Class 3 – Amazon Capital Services, Inc. – Deemed to Accept the Plan (No Ballot Cast Following Supplemental Notice)

Class 3 consists of the secured claim of Amazon Capital Services, Inc. ("ACS"). ACS holds a third-priority blanket security lien against the Debtor's assets, which secures debt in the amount of $477,488.27. The Debtor proposes to pay ACS in full, plus 5% interest, by making monthly payments of $4,416 for a period of twelve years. ACS will retain its lien until paid in full.

ACS's claim is impaired and ACS was entitled to vote on the Plan, but did not cast a ballot. ACS did not cast a ballot even after further notice that voting had been reopened as to Class 3.

Class 4 – Kings Cash Group – Deemed to Accept the Plan (No Ballot Cast Following Supplemental Notice)

Class 4 consists of the secured claim of Kings Cash Group ("KCG"). KCG holds a fourth priority blanket security lien against the Debtor's assets, which secures debt in the amount of $249,512.85. The Debtor proposes to treat KCG's claim as entirely unsecured and to pay KCG pursuant to the proposed terms of repayment for other general unsecured creditors in Class 9. KCG's lien will be avoided upon confirmation of the Plan pursuant to § 1141(c).

Chapter 11

KCG's claim is impaired and KCG was entitled to vote on the Plan, but did not cast a ballot. KCG did not cast a ballot even after further notice that voting had been reopened as to Class 4.

Class 5 – EBF Partners, LLC dba Everest Business Funding and Corporation Services Company – Accepts the Plan

Class 5 consists of the secured claim of EBF Partners, LLC dba Everest Business Funding and Corporation Service Company ("EBF"). EBF holds a fifth priority blanket security lien against the Debtor's assets, which secures debt in the amount of $246,734.40. The Debtor proposes to treat EBF's claim as entirely unsecured and to pay EBF pursuant to the proposed terms of repayment for other general unsecured creditors in Class 9. EBF's lien will be avoided upon confirmation of the Plan pursuant to § 1141(c).

EBF's claim is impaired and while EBF failed to previously cast a ballot, it voted to accept the Plan following additional notice that voting reopened as to Class 5.

Class 6 – Ally Financial – Accepts the Plan

Class 6 consists of the secured claim of Ally Financial ("Ally"). Ally holds a secured lien against the Debtor's 2011 Ford Truck F650, which secures debt in the amount of $20,178.97. On or about November 20, 2018, the Debtor entered into an adequate protection stipulation with Ally [See Doc. Nos. 72, 74]. The Debtor proposes to pay Ally in full, plus 5.5% interest, by making monthly payments of $490 through November 1, 2022 or until the claim is paid in full. Ally will retain its lien until paid in full.

Ally's claim is impaired and it voted to accept the Plan.

Class 7 – JP Morgan Chase Bank, N.A. – Accepts the Plan

Class 7 consists of the secured claim of JP Morgan Chase Bank, N.A. ("Chase"). Chase holds a secured lien against the Debtor's 2015 Tesla Model S, which secures debt in the amount of $47,414.57. On or about January 7, 2019, the Debtor entered into an adequate protection stipulation with Chase [See Doc. Nos. 79, 81]. of $895 for a period of 60 months, or until the claim is paid in full. Chase will retain its lien until paid in full.

Chase's claim is impaired and it voted to accept the Plan.

Class 8 – Hong Kong Motors – Deemed to Accept the Plan (No Ballot Cast Following Supplemental Notice)

Class 8 consists of the secured claim of Hong Kong Motors ("HKM"). HKM holds a secured lien against the Debtor's 2007 Nissan Altima, which secures debt in the amount of $4,500. The Debtor proposes to bifurcate HKM's claim into a secured claim of $2,835 (which the Debtor states is the current value of the collateral) and an unsecured claim of $1,665. The Debtor proposes to pay HKM's secured claim in full, plus 5% interest, by making monthly payments of $53 for a period of 60 months. HKM will retain its lien, up to the value of the collateral, until the secured portion of its claim is paid in full. The Debtor proposes to pay HKM's unsecured claim pursuant to the proposed terms of repayment for other general unsecured creditors in Class 9.

HKM's claim is impaired and HKM was entitled to vote on the Plan, but did not cast a ballot. HKM did not cast a ballot even after further notice that voting had been reopened as to Class 8.

Class 8(b) – New Commercial Capital – Deemed to Reject the Plan

Class 8(b) consists of the secured claim of New Commercial Capital ("NCC"). NCC has not filed a proof of claim in this case but recorded a UCC against the Debtor. The Debtor disputes that NCC holds a valid lien or is entitled to any distribution under the Debtor's Plan. To the extent NCC has a lien against any of the Debtor's assets, the Debtor proposes to strip NCC's lien as of the Effective Date.

NCC will not be paid anything under the Debtor's Plan, so it is deemed to have rejected the Plan pursuant to § 1126(g).

Class 8(c) – Corporation Service Company as Representative – Deemed to Reject the Plan

Class 8(c) consists of the secured claim of Corporation Service Company as Representative ("CSC"). CSC has not filed a proof of claim in this case but recorded CSC will not be paid anything under the Debtor's Plan, so it is deemed to have rejected the Plan pursuant to § 1126(g).

Class 8(d) – Bank of the West – Deemed to Reject the Plan

Class 8(d) consists of the secured claim of Bank of the West ("BoW"). BoW has not filed a proof of claim in this case but recorded a UCC against the Debtor. The Debtor disputes that BoW holds a valid lien or is entitled to any distribution under the Debtor's Plan. To the extent that BoW has a valid lien against any of the Debtor's assets, the Debtor proposes to strip BoW's lien as of the Effective Date.

BoW will not be paid anything under the Debtor's Plan, so it is deemed to have rejected the Plan pursuant to § 1126(g).

Class 8(e) – Employment Development Department – Unimpaired (Deemed to Accept)

Class 8(e) consisted of the secured claim of Employment Development Department ("EDD"). EDD filed a proof of claim asserting entitlement to a distribution of $47.18. The Debtor has already paid EDD's claim in full.

Accordingly, EDD is not impaired, was not entitled to vote, and is deemed to accept the Plan.

Class 9 – General Unsecured Claims – Accepts the Plan

Class 9 consists of general unsecured claims ("GUC") totaling $2,377,121. The Debtor proposes to pay $47,542.42, which represents approximately 2% of the total GUC claims, by making pro rata monthly payments of $792.37 for a period of five years.

Class 9 is impaired and has voted to accept the Plan.

Class 10 – Equity Interests – Unimpaired (Deemed to Accept)

Class 10 consists of Jiazheng Lu's 100% equity interest in the Debtor. Mr. Lu is

Mr. Lu's claim is not impaired and he was not entitled to vote on the Plan.

The Debtor estimates that it will have approximately $60,622.83 in administrative claims on the Effective Date and submits that it has sufficient cash on hand to pay all allowed administrative claims in full as required.

As of the date of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As set forth below, the Court finds that the Plan complies with all applicable provisions of § 1129. The plan is confirmed.

SECTION 1129(a)(1)

Section 1129(a)(1) requires that the "plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." According to the leading treatise, the "legislative history suggests that the applicable provisions are those governing the plan's internal structure and drafting: 'Paragraph (1) requires that the plan comply with the applicable provisions of chapter 11, such as section 1122 and 1123, governing classification and contents of a plan.'" Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 1129.01[1] (16th rev'd ed.) (citing S. Rep. No. 989, 95th Cong., 2d Sess. 126 (1978)).

1. Section 1122(a)

Section 1122(a) provides that "a plan may place a claim or an interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interests of such class."

The Plan's classification structure complies with § 1122(a).

2. Section 1122(b)

Section 1122(b) provides that "a plan may designate a separate class of claims consisting only of every unsecured claim that is less than or reduced to an amount that the court approves as reasonable and necessary for administrative convenience."

Tuesday, January 14, 2020

Hearing Room 1568

10:00 AM

CONT... Andrew's & Son Tradings Inc.

Chapter 11

The Plan does not contain any convenience classes. Section 1122(b) does not apply.

3. Section 1123(a)(1)

Section 1123(a)(1) requires that a plan "designate ... classes of claims, other than claims of a kind specified in section 507(a)(2) [administrative expense claims], 507(a)(3) [claims arising during the gap period in an involuntary case], or 507(a)(8) [priority tax claims], and classes of interest."

There are no involuntary gap claims because this is a voluntary chapter 11 case. The Plan provides that the Debtor does not have any priority tax claims. In addition, the Plan appropriately classifies administrative expense claims. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(1).

4. Section 1123(a)(2)

Section 1123(a)(2) requires that the Plan "specify any class of claims or interests that is not impaired under the Plan."

The Plan specifies that only Classes 8(e) and 10 are unimpaired. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(2).

5. Section 1123(a)(3)

Section 1123(a)(3) requires that the Plan "specify the treatment of any class of claims or interests that is impaired under the Plan."

The Plan specifies the treatment afforded to each impaired class—Classes 1 – 8(d) and 9. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(3).

6. Section 1123(a)(4)

Section 1123(a)(4) requires that the Plan "provide the same treatment for each claim or interest of a particular class unless the holder of a particular claim or interest agrees to a less favorable treatment of such particular claim or interest."

The Court previously determined that Classes 1 – 3 were similarly situated secured creditors, but the Plan treated Class 3 differently to the extent a lower rate of interest was offered to Class 3 than Classes 1 and 2. See Doc. No. 126. However, as ACS, the claimant in Class 3, failed to submit a ballot following renewed notice, ACS is deemed to accept the Plan. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(4).

7. Section 1123(a)(5)

Section 1123(a)(5) requires that the Plan "provide adequate means for the plan's implementation."

The Plan will be funded by income generated by Debtor's pre- and post-confirmation business operations. The Plan Proponent anticipates Debtor having approximately $63,341.94 of cash on hand on the Effective Date of the Plan to pay effective date payments of approximately $45,619.62. See Second Amended Disclosure Statement. [Note 1]

In support, the Plan Proponent submitted the following evidence of Debtor's ability to adequately implement the Plan: 1) historical financial statements for the years 2015, 2016, and 2017 (Disclosure Statement, Exhibit B(3)), 2) Debtor's post-petition income and expenses from July 1, 2018 through January 31, 2019 (Disclosure Statement, Exhibit B(4)), and 3) financial projections for the anticipated duration of the Plan (Disclosure Statement, Exhibit B(5)). Total monthly payments under the plan equal $8,688.37, and as Debtor's financial projections demonstrate, Debtor will have an average monthly net income of $8,695 for the duration of the Plan. The proposed funding sources provide an adequate means for the Plan's implementation. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(5).

8. Section 1123(a)(6)

Section 1123(a)(6) provides: "[A] plan shall provide for the inclusion in the charter of the debtor, if the debtor is a corporation ..., of a provision prohibiting the issuance of nonvoting equity securities, and providing, as to the several classes of securities possessing voting power, an appropriate distribution of such power among such classes, including, in the case of any class of equity securities having a preference over another class of equity securities with respect to dividends, adequate provisions for the election of directors representing such preferred class in the event of default in the payment of such dividends."

Chapter 11

Debtor's Confirmation Brief affirms that the Confirmation Order will contain a provision amending the Debtor's charter to include the requisite language set forth above. The Plan will satisfy § 1123(a)(6) through the proposed inclusion language within the Confirmation Order.

9. Section 1123(a)(7)

Section 1123(a)(7) requires that the Plan's provisions with respect to the selection of officers and directors be consistent with public policy and the interests of creditors and equity security holders.

The Reorganized Debtor will continue to be managed by the sole shareholder and President, Jiazheng Lu. The Plan will not change or select any officer, director, or trustee. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(7).

10. Section 1123(a)(8)

Section 1123(a)(8), which imposes certain requirements upon individual debtors, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(2)

Section 1129(a)(2) requires that the "proponent of the plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." The Court finds that the Plan Proponent has:

- 1) Obtained Court approval of a Disclosure Statement in accordance with § 1125 (see "Order Approving Disclosure Statement and Setting Hearing on Confirmation of Plan" [Doc. No. 111]);
- 2) Obtained Court approval of the employment of professional persons (see "Order Granting Application to Employ Steven P. Chang, Law Offices of Langley & Chang" [Doc. No. 53]); and
- 3) Filed monthly operating reports.

Accordingly, the Plan Proponent have satisfied the requirements of § 1129(a)(2).

SECTION 1129(a)(3)

Section 1129(a)(3) requires that the "plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law." As one court has explained:

The term 'good faith' in the context of 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3) is not statutorily defined but has been interpreted by case law as referring to a plan that 'achieves a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code.' 'The requisite good faith determination is based on the totality of the circumstances.'

In re Melcher, 329 B.R. 865, 876 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2005) (internal citations omitted).

The Plan seeks objectives that are consistent with those of the Bankruptcy Code and the Plan Proponent has complied with the requirements of the Code throughout this case. Under Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3015(f), the Court is not required to receive evidence as to good faith because no party has objected to confirmation. Section 1129(a)(3) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(a)(4)

Section 1129(a)(4) requires that "[a]ny payment made or to be made by the proponent, by the debtor, or by a person issuing securities or acquiring property under the plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of, the court as reasonable."

The Plan provides that payment of all professional fees is subject to review by the Court. The plan satisfies § 1129(a)(4).

SECTION 1129(a)(5)

Section 1129(a)(5) requires that the Plan disclose "the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the Plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint Plan with the debtor, or a successor to the debtor under the Plan." Section 1129(a)(5)(A)(ii) requires that the appointment to or continuation in office of a director or officer be consistent with the interests of creditors, equity security holders, and public policy. Section 1129(a)(5)(B) requires the Plan proponent to disclose the identity of any insider to be employed by the reorganized debtor.

The Plan discloses that Mr. Lu, an insider, will remain as sole shareholder and President. In addition, the Debtor delivered Insider Compensation notices on July 18, 2018, which were not opposed. The Declaration by Jiazheng Lu (the "Lu Declaration") filed in support of the Plan and Disclosure Statement further attests to the identity and role of Mr. Lu as insider, as well as his post-confirmation equity interests. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(5).

SECTION 1129(a)(6)

Section 1129(a)(6), which requires that a governmental regulatory commission with jurisdiction over rates charged by a debtor approve any rate changes provided for in the plan, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(7)

Section 1129(a)(7), known as the "best interests of creditors test," provides in relevant part: "With respect to each impaired class of claims or interests, each holder of a claim or interest of such class has accepted the plan; or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of this title on such date."

Classes 8(e) and 10 are unimpaired and are deemed to have accepted the Plan. Classes 1 – 8 and 9 have either accepted the Plan or are deemed to have accepted the Plan. See Plan Ballot Summary (regarding Second Amended Chapter 11 Plan) [Doc. No. 130]. Classes 8(b), 8(c), and 8(d) are impaired, but did not file a proof of claim in this case. These claims are subject to cram down under § 1129(b). As discussed below, the requirements of § 1129(b) have been satisfied with respect to Classes 8(b), 8(c), and 8(d). The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(7).

SECTION 1129(a)(8)

Section 1129(a)(8) requires each class to accept the Plan, unless the class is not impaired.

Classes 8(e) and 10 are unimpaired and are deemed to have accepted the Plan. Classes 1 – 8 and 9 have either accepted the Plan or are deemed to have accepted the Plan. See Plan Ballot Summary (regarding Second Amended Chapter 11 Plan) [Doc. No. 130]. Except for such classes subject to § 1129(b), Section 1129(a)(8) is satisfied because all classes of creditors have either accepted the Plan or were deemed to have accepted the Plan.

Section 1129(a)(9) requires that holders of certain administrative and priority claims receive cash equal to the allowed claim amount of their claims on the effective date of the plan, unless the claimant agrees to different treatment.

The Plan provides for the payment of all outstanding allowed administrative claims in full as soon as the fees are approved by the Court and none of the professionals have requested a different payment arrangement. The Plan also provides for payment of priority tax claims in a manner consistent with § 1129(a)(9)(C). The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(9).

SECTION 1129(a)(10)

Section 1129(a)(10) requires that "at least one class of claims that is impaired under the plan has accepted the plan, determined without including any acceptance of the plan by any insider."

Classes 1, 2, 5, 6, 7, and 9 are impaired, do not consist of insiders, and have accepted the Plan. Section 1129(a)(10) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(a)(11)

Section 1129(a)(11), known as the "feasibility requirement," requires the Court to find that "[c]onfirmation of the plan is not likely to be followed by the liquidation, or the need for further financial reorganization, of the debtor or any successor to the debtor under the plan, unless such liquidation or reorganization is proposed in the plan."

The Debtor has sufficient cash on hand to pay the amounts that are due on the Effective Date. Based upon its review of the balance sheets, budget projections, and the Lu Declaration included with the Disclosure Statement, the Court finds that confirmation is not likely to be followed by liquidation or the need for further financial reorganization. The Plan is feasible and satisfies § 1129(a)(11).

SECTION 1129(a)(12)

Section 1129(a)(12) requires that the Debtor pay all United States Trustee fees prior to confirmation or provide for payment of those fees on the effective date.

SECTION 1129(a)(14)

Section 1129(a)(14), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of domestic support obligations, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(15)

Section 1129(a)(15), which imposes certain requirements upon individual debtors, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(16)

Section 1129(a)(16) provides: "All transfers of property under the plan shall be made in accordance with any applicable provisions of nonbankruptcy law that govern the transfer of property by a corporation or trust that is not a moneyed, business, or commercial corporation or trust."

The Plan does not provide for the transfer of any property. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(16).

SECTION 1129(b)

The Plan provides for no payment to Classes 8(b), (c), and (d) ("Classes 8(b)-(d)"), and further provides for the avoidance of the liens asserted by the claimants in these classes. Pursuant to § 1126(g), Classes 8(b)–(d) are deemed to reject the Plan.

Where certain classes are deemed to reject a plan, the plan may still be confirmed "if the plan does not discriminate unfairly, and is fair and equitable" with respect to the rejecting classes. § 1129(b)(1).

Section 1129(b)(2)(A) provides that a plan is "fair and equitable" with respect to a class of secured claims if the plan provides one of the following types of treatment:

Chapter 11

- (i)(I) that the holders of such claims retain the liens securing such claims, whether the property subject to such liens is retained by the debtor or transferred to another entity, to the extent of the allowed amount of such claims; and
- (II) that each holder of a claim of such class receive on account of such claim deferred cash payments totaling at least the allowed amount of such claim, of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, of at least the value of such holder's interest in the estate's interest in such property;

- (ii) for the sale, subject to section 363(k) of this title, of any property that is subject to the liens securing such claims, free and clear of such liens, with such liens to attach to the proceeds of such sale, and the treatment of such liens on proceeds under clause (i) or (iii) of this subparagraph; or

- (iii) for the realization by such holders of the indubitable equivalent of such claims.

The Debtor contends that there is no reason to believe that any monies are owed to the claimants in Classes 8(b)–(d), who all failed to file proofs of claim in this case.

The Court previously found that in order to obtain a distribution from the estate, the holders of claims in Classes 8(b)–(d) were required to file proofs of claim. See Ruling Continuing Confirmation Hearing [Doc. No. 123]. The Court reasoned that because the Debtor scheduled the claims in Classes 8(b)–(d) as "unknown," holders of claims in these classes were effectively on notice of the need to file proofs of claim in the event they wished to receive a distribution from the estate. The Court noted that Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3003(c)(2) requires a creditor holding a claim that is not scheduled or is scheduled as disputed, contingent, or unliquidated to file a proof of claim in order to be treated as a creditor for purposes of voting and distribution. The Court concluded that claimants scheduled as holding "unknown" claims, like claimants, are scheduled as holding disputed, contingent, or unliquidated claims, and required to file a proof of claim in order to be treated as a creditor for voting and distribution purposes.

Because the holders of claims in Classes 8(b)–(d) did not file proofs of claim, they do not hold allowed claims and are not entitled to receive a distribution from the estate. Under § 1129(b)(2)(A)(i)(I), Classes 8(b)–(d) are entitled to retain their liens, but only "to the extent of the allowed amount" of their claims. Since they did not hold allowed claims, the Plan's provision avoiding the liens of the claimants in Classes 8(b)–(d) is consistent with § 1129(b)(2)(A)(i)(I). The Plan also satisfies § 1129(b)(2)(A)(i)(II) with respect to these classes. As they do not hold allowed claims, it is not necessary for Classes 8(b)–(d) to receive any cash payments.

In sum, the "fair and equitable" requirement set forth in § 1129(b)(2) is satisfied with respect to Classes 8(b)–(d).

SECTION 1129(c)

Section 1129(c), which states that the court may confirm only one plan in a particular case, is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(d)

Section 1129(d) provides: "Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, on request of a party in interest that is a governmental unit, the court may not confirm a Plan if the principal purpose of the Plan is the avoidance of taxes or the avoidance of the application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933."

No governmental unit has requested that the court not confirm the Plan on the grounds that the Plan's purpose is the avoidance of taxes or application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1944. The Plan satisfies § 1129(d).

Post-Confirmation Status Conference

A Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall be held on January 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Post-Confirmation Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

Discharge

Upon the Effective Date of the Plan (14 days after entry of the order confirming the Plan), the Clerk of the Court is directed to enter an order of discharge.

Chapter 11

For the reasons set forth above, the Plan is CONFIRMED.

The Debtor shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing. The confirmation order shall include a provision directing the Debtor to amend its charter with requisite language pursuant to §1123(a)(6).

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: The Court notes that cash Debtor possessed as of the end of April 30, 2019 equaled $115,908.80 as represented in paragraph 6 of the Declaration of Jiazheng Lu. For the purposes of Section 1123(a)(5)'s feasibility analysis, the Court will proceed with the dollar amounts proffered in the Second Amended Disclosure Statement.

According to a declaration submitted by Andrew E. Smyth, Defendant's counsel (the "Smyth Decl."), Plaintiff's counsel has refused to cooperate in the preparation of a proposed Joint Pretrial Stipulation (the "Pretrial Stipulation"). Specifically, Defendant's counsel states that he has telephoned Plaintiff's counsel on January 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, and 9, 2020, but that none of his calls have been returned.

By separate order, the Court will require Plaintiff to appear and show cause why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute, pursuant to Civil Rule 41.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Chapter 7

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Rederick R. Chatman (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on July 31, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). Debtor owes primarily consumer debts, consisting of $50,948 in nonpriority unsecured debt. See RJN, Ex. 1 [Debtor's Official Form 101 and Schedule E/F] [Note 1]. As indicated on Debtor's Means Test form (the "Debtor's Means Test"), Debtor has a current monthly income ("CMI") of $16,656 and allowed deductions of $17,046, demonstrating monthly disposable income of -$390. See RJN, Ex. 2. Debtor stated that there was no presumption of abuse as he possessed -$23,400 in total disposable income over the next sixty months. Id. The § 341(a) meeting of the creditors initially took place on September 5, 2019 and was concluded on November 15, 2019 after being twice continued. On October 29, 2019, the United States Trustee's Office (the "UST") filed a Statement of Presumed Abuse (the "10-Day Statement") and subsequently filed a motion to dismiss the Debtor's Chapter 7 case for abuse pursuant to §707(b) (the "Motion") on November 1, 2019 [Doc. No. 21]. The parties stipulated to a continuance of the hearing date on the Motion and filing deadlines [Doc. No. 27].

Summary of the Motion

As set forth on the moving papers, the UST moves to dismiss the Debtor's case for presumed abuse, based on the Debtor's failure to pass the means test set forth in § 707(b)(2) (the "Means Test"), or in the alternative, for abuse under the "totality of the circumstances" test pursuant to §707(b)(3)(B). According to the UST, the proper Means Test calculation shows that the Debtor has $3,283.04 in monthly disposable income, after allowed deductions, equating to $196,982.40 in income available to fully repay unsecured creditors over a sixty-month period. Motion, Ex. 2. The UST supplied a revised Means Test form (the "UST's Means Test") [Exhibit 2 of the Motion], which corrects errors and other inaccurate information provided on Debtor's Means Test [RJN, Ex. 2]. In support of the Motion, the UST attached the declaration of bankruptcy analyst, Wendy Carole Sadovnick, who explains that the UST's Means Test is based on her review of the Debtor's schedules, his testimony at the § 341(a) meeting, and other financial documents submitted by Debtor. See Declaration of Wendy Carole Sadovnick [Sadovnick Decl.], ¶¶ 2-3. The UST asserts that Debtor provided an erroneous Means Test calculation because 1) Debtor's actual CMI of $16,012.88 is overstated by $643, and 2) Debtor misrepresented allowed expense deductions as itemized below.

1. Line 5 (household size). According to Debtor's § 341(a) meeting testimony, Debtor's actual household size is of two (2) individuals, not four (4).
2. Debtor's actual household size implicates modifications of the following line items:
  - a. Line 6 (Food and Clothing Expenses, from $1,786 to $1,288)
  - b. Line 7g (Out-of-pocket healthcare expenses, from $220 to $110)
  - c. Line 8 (Housing and Utilities, from $713 to $607)
  - d. Line 9 (Local Housing Allowance, from $2,403 to $2,045)
3. Line 12 (vehicle operation expense, from $410 to $746)
4. Line 13b (monthly car payments, from $551 to $478.96) & Line 13c (from $29.04 to $0)
5. Line 13e (monthly car payments for second car, from $62 to $0) & Line 13f (from $446 to $243.84)
6. Lines 14 and 15 (for public transportation, expenses of $217 per item were permitted pending supporting documentation from Debtor)
7. Line 19 (court-ordered child support payments, from $750 to $0). Based on Debtor's testimony, no court order exists requiring child support payments.
8. Line 21 (childcare expenses, from $680 to $227)
9. Line 22 (healthcare expenses, expenses of $350 remain the same pending documentation)
10. Line 23 (for optional and telephone services, from $250 to $0)
11. Line 26 (for contributions to family members, from $0 to $3,500). Debtor's expenses increased based on documentation indicating that Debtor pays for his mother's care in a senior facility.
12. Line 31 (for charitable contributions, from $400 to $0)
13. Line 35 (for priority claims, from $61 to $0)
14. Line 36 (for Chapter 13 administrative expenses, from $0 to $336.66)

See Sadovnick Decl., ¶¶ 5-29.

Based on the foregoing, the Debtor's allowable expense deductions total only $12,789.84, indicating that Debtor's disposable income over sixty months is more than enough to repay unsecured claims in five years. Id., ¶ 28. Anticipating that Debtor will attempt to rebut the presumption of abuse, the UST argues that Debtor must establish "special circumstances to the extent such special circumstances justify additional expenses or adjustments to [Debtor's CMI] for which there is no reasonable alternative." Motion at 15 (citing 11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(2)(B)(I) & (ii).) The UST further relies on the decision in In re Castle, which stands for the proposition that events that constitute special circumstances are "akin" to a "serious medical condition" or "a call or order to active duty in the Armed Forces." 362 B.R. 846, 851 (Bankr. N.D. Ohio 2006). Accordingly, the Debtor has not previously demonstrated any situation qualifying as a "special circumstance." Even if the Court does not find presumed abuse, the UST maintains that this case can be dismissed as "abusive" under § 707(b)(3)(B) based on the "totality of the circumstances." The UST asserts that based on adjustments to Debtor's Schedules I and J, which are in turn derived from revisions reflected in the UST's Means Test, Debtor would have disposable income of $190,062 over the next five years, a sufficient amount to pay 100% of unsecured claims. See Sadovnick Decl., ¶¶ 34 and 35. In the alternative, if the Court does not grant this Motion, the UST requests an order extending the bar date to file a nondischargeability action under § 727.

Summary of the Opposition

On January 7, 2019, the Debtor filed an untimely opposition, responding to the UST's arguments as follows [Note 2]. First, although the Debtor submits that his CMI is $16,012.88, he disputes the UST's adjusted deductions to Lines 5, 19, 21, and 23, and maintains that he cannot afford to pay unsecured creditors over the next five years. Debtor failed to contest adjustments as to all other lines. With respect to Line 5, Debtor contends that he actually lives in a four-person household because he is financially responsible for his two sons (ages 27 and 5) and his daughter (age 16). In support, Debtor further claims that he shares joint legal and physical custody of his two youngest children, as shown in notarized statements submitted by each child's mother. With respect to Line 21, Debtor now reports that childcare expenses amount to $777, not $680 as originally reported. The Debtor further disputes the modification in Line 23 for optional telephone services as these costs were actually incurred for Debtor and his dependents. The Court notes that Debtor failed to attach his declaration, referenced notarized statements, or any other financial record supporting his contentions.

Next, even if the presumption of abuse is triggered, the Debtor claims that special circumstances exist here to rebut such presumption. First, Debtor, who works in the oil refinery industry, has experienced a significant decrease in income based on external market forces. See Opposition at 5. Second, under California law, Debtor claims that he is legally required to financially support his two minor children. See id. at 6-7 (the Debtor referenced California Family Code § 7611(d) without further discussion). Third, Debtor indicates he will incur $5,000 in attorney's fees to obtain a child support order in a paternity action. See id. at 7. Finally, the Debtor argues that the UST filed the mandatory 10-Day Statement late on October 29, 2019, when it should have been filed no later than September 15, 2019, ten days after the first creditor's meeting on September 5, 2019. The Court further notes that Debtor provided updated figures for the Means Test, which show total allowed deductions of $13,903.84, monthly disposable income of $2,109, and disposable income of $126,542.40 over sixty months. Debtor's revised calculations would indicate a presumption of abuse under § 707(b)(2).

Summary of the Reply

At the outset, the UST argues that Debtor's untimely opposition should be ignored as it prejudiced the UST's ability to prepare a reply, and it also failed to include a proof of service. Next, relying on the opinion in In re Reed, 422 B.R. 214, 225 (C.D. Cal. 2009), the UST posits that the 10-Day Statement was timely filed as the ten-day deadline was triggered at the conclusion of the meeting of creditors on November 15, 2019. In response to Debtor's substantive arguments, the UST contends that Debtor failed to proffer any evidence rebutting the revised figures provided in the UST's Means Test, which were based on Debtor's financial information and his sworn testimony. Accordingly, the Opposition is only substantiated by the declaration of Debtor's counsel, which is objectionable hearsay pursuant to Federal Rule of Evidence § 801.

The UST further remarks upon Debtor's amended, and unsubstantiated, Means Test provided in the Opposition. Even under this updated calculation, the UST states, the presumption of abuse arises under § 707(b)(2). The UST contends that Debtor has failed to rebut presumed abuse because he did not offer evidence supporting special circumstances. Even so, the UST avers that neither Debtor's childcare expenses nor his reduced income in June 2019 can be deemed a "special circumstance" under § 707(b)(2)(B)(i), e.g., a "serious medical condition or call or order to active duty in the Armed Forces". In fact, the UST notes that Debtor's amended Means Test, which includes childcare expense deductions, triggers the presumption of abuse. In sum, the UST reiterates that the Debtor has failed to rebut the presumption of abuse, and this case should be dismissed. In the event the Court determines that Debtor's case is not presumptively abusive, the UST restates the alternative relief described above.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. Procedural Issues

i. Debtor's Opposition will be reviewed notwithstanding procedural defects

As a preliminary matter, the Court recognizes that Debtor's Opposition was not in compliance with Local Bankruptcy Rules 9013-1(e) and 9013-1(f), and Rule 9014(b) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure. Notwithstanding these procedural defects, the Court considers that the UST apparently received the Motion and had an opportunity to submit a well-argued and timely reply. Therefore, Debtor's untimeliness was not prejudicial to the UST. In light of the foregoing, and for the purposes of this tentative ruling, the Court will overlook issues regarding the late filing and the sufficiency of service.

ii. The UST's 10-Day Statement was timely

The Debtor argues that the Motion should be denied because the UST untimely filed the mandatory 10-Day Statement on October 29, 2019.

The Court acknowledges the split in authority regarding the deadline by which the UST is required to submit the 10-Day Statement. For instance, certain bankruptcy courts construe the plain language found in § 704(b)(1) that "not later than 10 days after the date of the first [§ 341(a) meeting]," means that the UST must file the 10-Day Statement ten days after the first § 341(a) creditor meeting. In re Close, 353 B.R. 915, 918 (Bankr. D. Kan. 2006). In In re Cadwalllder, No. 06-36424, 2007 WL 1864154 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. June 28, 2007), the Court reached a different conclusion, determining that the ten-day period begins running once the first creditor meeting has concluded. See at *13 ("The ten days in which the U.S. Trustee must file his statement runs from the end of the creditors' meeting, not the commencement of the creditors' meeting.") Courts following the Cadwalllder decision reason that the UST's office should not be compelled to determine whether a case is presumptively abusive until it has had an opportunity to review a debtor's financial information. See, e.g., In re Reed, 422 B.R. at 225 ("To require the UST to make an immediate determination of abuse based on incomplete or inaccurate information would not only be illogical but would be contrary to BAPCPA's goals of restoring 'integrity in the bankruptcy system' and 'ensuring' that the system is fair to both debtors and creditors.") (internal citations omitted); see also Alan N. Resnick, 6 Collier on Bankruptcy § 704.17[1], at 704-36 to 704-37 (rev. 15th ed. 2006) (stating that the "first meeting of the creditors" deadline refers to the conclusion of the § 341(a) meeting).

This Court agrees with the Cadwallder court and Collier in finding that the 10-Day Statement must be filed ten days after the conclusion of the § 341(a) creditor meeting. Consistent with the rationale adopted by Cadwallder courts, it is understandable that the UST was not able to file the 10-Day Statement ten days after the first creditor's meeting on September 5 because Debtor delayed in producing requested financial records until October 15. As such, it would have been unrealistic to expect that the UST make a determination of abuse without required financial records. In short, because the § 341(a) creditor meeting concluded on November 15, 2019, the 10-Day Statement was timely submitted on October 19, 2019.

B. Debtor's Case is Presumptively Abusive

This Court has explained the function and purpose of the Means Test as follows: Among the significant changes effected by the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005 ("BAPCPA") was the introduction of the § 707(b)(2) Means Test. Designed to ferret out abusive bankruptcy petitions, the Means Test creates a "presumption of abuse" if the debtor's Current Monthly Income (CMI)—as determined by a detailed statutory formula—is above a certain amount. Debtors unable to rebut the presumption of abuse may have their cases dismissed or be required to fund a Chapter 13 plan. However, even debtors who survive the Means Test may see their cases dismissed pursuant to § 707(b)(3)(B), which permits the Court to dismiss a case if "the totality of the circumstances ... of the debtor's financial situation demonstrates abuse."

In re Jensen, 407 B.R. 378, 380–81 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2009).

"Current monthly income" ("CMI") for purposes of the Means Test calculation is defined as the "average monthly income from all sources that the debtor receives ... during the 6-month period ending on the last day of the calendar month immediately preceding the date of the commencement of the case ...." 11 U.S.C. § 101(10A).

i. The Debtor's CMI is $16,012.88

The Debtor initially stated that his CMI was $16,656. See RJN, Ex. 1. Based on Debtor's pay advices, the UST contends that this figure is overstated and that the Debtor's CMI is actually $16,012.88. See Sadovnick Decl., ¶ 7. Without explanation, the Debtor concedes the original CMI figure was overstated. See Opposition at 7 (Debtor's amended Means Test includes the figure provided by the UST). Noting the lack of opposition, the Court finds that Debtor has a CMI of $16,012.88 for purposes of the Means Test.

ii. Debtor is entitled to claim allowed deductions totaling $12,729.84

The UST listed twenty line adjustments to Debtor's Means Test. In the Opposition, the Debtor concedes all but four adjustments to Lines 5 (household size), 19 (court-ordered child support payments), 21 (childcare expenses), and 23 (additional telephone services). The Court notes that the Opposition is only supported by the declaration of Debtor's counsel, who is deemed unqualified to possess personal knowledge of Debtor's financial conditions. To the extent that Debtor did not supply his own declaration or any corroborating evidence, the statements concerning Lines 5, 19, and 21 are uncorroborated [Note 3]. With respect to childcare expenses, Debtor references a series of monthly payments made to the mothers of his two minor children for $500 and $750. The $500 payment is alluded in the affidavit of Sandi Clinkscales in Exhibit 8 of the Motion, while Exhibit 9 contains a record of payments disbursed to Tanga Paul through the electronic payment application, Venmo. However, the Court is concerned that none of these payments appear to come from Debtor's bank account (Exhibit 10), and Debtor did not explain this discrepancy. With respect to Line 23, the Court is unpersuaded by Debtor's statement because he has not explained why additional telephone services are not already accounted for in Line 8 (housing and utilities allowances). As discussed below, the problem with Debtor's position transcends his uncorroborated assertions, because even if the Court were to accept Debtor's amended Means Test, the presumption of abuse will still arise. In sum, the Debtor has failed to rebut the UST's deduction adjustments, as such, the Court finds that Debtor may only claim $12,729.84 for the purposes of the Means Test calculations.

iii. Means Test Calculation

Chapter 7

Based on the findings set forth above, the presumption of abuse arises. Debtor's CMI is $16,012.88. The Debtor's total allowable monthly expenses are $12,729.84. That leaves the Debtor with monthly disposable income of $3,283.04, or disposable income over a 60-month period of $196,982.40, which would be sufficient to pay off unsecured claims totaling $50,948. The Debtor's disposable income far exceeds the $12,850 threshold triggering the presumption of abuse under §707(b)(2)(A)(i)(II).

C. The Debtor Has Failed to Rebut the Presumption of Abuse

Section 707(b)(2)(B)(i) provides that the presumption of abuse may be rebutted by "demonstrating special circumstances, such as a serious medical condition or a call or order to active duty in the Armed Forces, to the extent such special circumstances ... justify additional expenses or adjustments of current monthly income for which there is no reasonable alternative." To establish special circumstances, the Debtor must itemize each additional expense and provide "a detailed explanation of the special circumstances that make such expenses or adjustment to income necessary and reasonable." § 707(b)(2)(B)(ii).

According to the Debtor, special circumstances exist to rebut the presumption of abuse because 1) Debtor's income decreased in June 2019 due to external market forces, 2) he is legally required to financially support his two minor children, and 3) Debtor will incur $5,000 in attorney's fees for to obtain a child support order. The Court addresses Debtor's contentions in order.

First, the Debtor volunteers that as oil refinery worker his salary is contingent on his employer's ability to secure agreements with third parties, as well as on the United States' foreign relations. Debtor's evidentiary support is limited to a reference of his pay advises, attached as Exhibit 4 of the Motion, which demonstrate that he earned in $5,221 in June 2019. The Debtor fails to discuss the impact of his fluctuating income in detail, but the Court understands Debtor's position to be that his CMI of $16,012.88 should be adjusted in light of the external factors described above. The Court rejects this argument because Debtor's pay advises indicate that he was paid below his average CMI only once in the six months preceding the Petition Date. There is no evidence that Debtor's income has continued to decrease post-petition, and in fact, Debtor earned above-averages wages of $19,866.50 and $19,216.50 for the months of April and May 2019, respectively. See Motion, Ex.4. If there is evidence that Debtor's income has substantially decreased, then Debtor did not comply with §§ 707(b)(2)(B)(ii) and (iii), which require debtors to "itemize each additional expense or adjustment of income," provide documentation thereon, and a declaration under oath as to the veracity of information supplied. However, even if Debtor had complied with the Code, the Court notes that the Supreme Court has previously rejected the notion that a prepetition decline in income constitutes a "special circumstance" under § 707(b)(2)(B)(i), and Debtor has not offered any authority to the contrary. See Hamilton v. Lanning, 560 U.S. 505, 523 (2010) (discussing "special circumstances" under § 707(b)(2)).

Second, Debtor maintains that the fact that he incurs $1,700 in monthly child support payments constitutes a special circumstance. At least one bankruptcy court in the Ninth Circuit has concluded that child support payments may meet the "necessary and reasonable" standard for the purposes of a special circumstances analysis. See In re Littman, 370 B.R. 820, 831 (Bankr. D. Idaho 2007) (determining that child support payments were necessary and reasonable as ordered by a state court applying Idaho law.) However, unlike Littman, Debtor has provided no authority or evidentiary support indicating that the purported child support payments are necessary or reasonable. He has similarly not explained how California Family Code § 7611(d) compels Debtor to disburse the specific amounts claimed as necessary childcare expenses [Note 4]. As noted above, these payments are only generally referenced in Exhibits 9 and 10 of the Motion, but Debtor has neither itemized these expenses nor can these payments be traced back to Debtor's bank account. Debtor's poorly-supported allegations are fatal to his position. See In re Fechter, 456 B.R.65, 74 (Bankr. D. Mont. 2011) ("[The] lack of evidence weighs against the Debtors as the parties with the burden of rebutting the presumption of abuse.") Consequently, the Court cannot determine which of these alleged childcare payments were "reasonable or necessary." For the reasons stated above, the Court also cannot find Debtor's alleged $5,000 legal expense to obtain a child support decree is necessary or reasonable.

Because the Court finds that the presumption of abuse arises under §707(b) and has not been rebutted, the Court does not consider either of the UST's arguments in the alternative that the case should be dismissed pursuant to §707(b)(3)(B) or that the deadline to file a § 727 action be extended.

Chapter 7

Where the §707(b) presumption of abuse arises and has not been rebutted, the Court must dismiss the case, unless the Debtor consents to conversion to Chapter 13. §707(b)(1). The UST states that the Motion seeks only dismissal, not conversion. However, §707(b)(1) expressly provides debtors the option to convert to Chapter 13 if the Court finds that relief under Chapter 7 would be abusive. Therefore, based upon the Debtor's election, the case will either be dismissed or will be converted to Chapter 13.

III. Conclusion

Over a sixty-month period, the Debtor has $196,982.40 in income available to repay unsecured creditors. The §707(b) presumption of abuse arises and has not been rebutted. The case will be dismissed, unless the Debtor consents to conversion to Chapter 13.

The Debtor should appear to advise the Court whether he consents to conversion to Chapter 13 (a telephonic appearance is acceptable). The UST is not required to appear. If the Debtor intends to contest the tentative ruling, he must advise the UST of his intention to do so prior to the hearing.

Note 1: Federal Rule of Evidence 201 allows a court to take judicial notice of facts that are not subject to reasonable dispute because they are either "(1) generally known within the territorial jurisdiction of the trial court or (2) capable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned." In re Blumer, 95 B.R. 143, 147 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988). A court may take judicial notice of bankruptcy petitions and schedules as these documents are public record capable of accurate and ready determination. Becker v. Wells Fargo Bank, Nat. Ass'n, 2012 WL 5187792 (E.D. Cal. Oct. 18, 2012). Here, the UST requests that the Court take judicial notice of Debtor's schedules, Means Test, and two publicly-available bankruptcy court opinions. The Court finds it appropriate to take judicial notice of the above stated documents in support of the Motion. Therefore, UST's request for judicial notice is granted.

Note 2: Pursuant to the order approving the parties' stipulation [Doc. No. 28], Debtor's opposition was due at least 14 days before the continued hearing date of January 14, 2020, but Debtor filed the Opposition on January 7, 2020.

Moreover, "[t]he failure of the responding party to raise its objection or challenge in a Response will be deemed consent to the bankruptcy court's authority to enter a final order on the underlying motion." Local Rule 9013-1(f)(3).

Note 4: California Family Code § 7611(d) provides: "A person is presumed to be the natural parent of a child if the person meets the conditions provided in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 7540) or Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 7570) of Part 2 or in any of the following subdivisions...[t]he presumed parent receives the child into their home and openly holds out the child as their natural child."

On September 14, 2017, the Court dismissed without prejudice all claims for relief that were (a) not set forth in the Joint Pretrial Stipulation [Doc. No. 104] and/or (b) were not adjudicated in connection with the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law Regarding Motion by the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors for Summary Adjudication of Defendants' Liability for Breach of Fiduciary Duties and Accounting [Doc. No. 57]. See Order Dismissing Remaining Claims Without Prejudice [Doc. No. 136].

On December 29, 2017, the Court entered a Judgment in Favor of Plaintiff and Against Defendants, Jointly and Severally, in the Amount of $74,140,695.29 [Doc. No. 142] (the "Judgment"). On February 8, 2019, the District Court reversed and remanded the Judgment and the Order Granting the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Motion for Summary Adjudication of Defendants' Liability for Breach of Fiduciary Duties and Accounting [Doc. Tentative Ruling:

4/15/2019

At the prior Status Conference, the Court advised the parties that it would set litigation deadlines in the event the action had not settled by the date of this Status Conference. The action has not settled. Good cause appearing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS as follows:

- 1) The following litigation deadlines shall apply:
  - a) A continued Status Conference is set for 6/11/2019 at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.
  - b) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 7/11/2019.
  - c) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 10/29/2019.
  - d) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 11/28/2019.
  - e) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 12/17/2019. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendar dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert

- f) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 12/24/2019. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - g) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 12/28/2019. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - h) A Pretrial Conference is set for 1/14/2020 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
  - i) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
    - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
    - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points

- iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
- iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
- i) Trial is set for the week of 1/27/2020. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.
- 2) In view of the parties' representation that they are involved in active settlement negotiations, the Court will not at this time order the parties to attend formal mediation.

The Court will prepare and enter a Scheduling Order.

#1.00 Hearing
RE: [68] Motion to strike and Motion for Sanctions and Request to Strike
Defendants' Answers

FR. 12-11-19

Docket 68

Tentative Ruling:

1/14/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is DENIED without prejudice. However, on its own motion, the Court strikes the Purported Substitution from the record. Aver shall remain counsel of record for Leon unless and until he obtains authorization from the Court to withdraw. Defendants shall respond to the Requests for Admission by no later than February 14, 2020.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Sanctions and Request to Strike Defendants' Answers (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 68]
- 2) Opposition to "Motion for Sanctions and Request to Strike Defendants' Answers" (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 70]
- 3) Trustee's Reply to Opposition to Motion for Sanctions and Request to Strike Defendants' Answers (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 74]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background

Sharp Edge Enterprises (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on March 13, 2017 (the "Petition Date"). On August 22, 2018, the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") filed a First Amended Complaint: (1) For Breach of Oral Contract; (2) For Turnover of Property to the Estate; (3) Common Counts: Open Book Account; (4) Common Counts: Account Stated; and (5) To Avoid and Recover Fraudulent Transfers (the "Complaint") [Doc. Abraham Reihanian, as trustee of the Abraham Reinhanian and Nosrad Yahid Revocable Trust (UAD July 18, 2011) (“Abraham,” and together with Leon, the “Defendants”) [Note 1].

On April 23, 2019, upon the motion of the Trustee, the Court entered an order (1) finding that Abraham was not competent to represent himself in this proceeding and (2) appointing Leon as Abraham’s guardian ad litem. Doc. No. 44. On June 26, 2019, the Court denied the Trustee’s motion for a pre-judgment writ of attachment against Leon’s assets. Doc. No. 61.

On September 20, 2019, Leon’s counsel, Raymond H. Aver, filed a Substitution of Attorney form (the “Purported Substitution”) [Doc. No. 67]. The Purported Substitution states that “Leon Reihanian, In Pro Per,” is substituting in for Aver. The language on the form in which the new attorney is required to affirm that he or she is admitted in this district is crossed out.

On October 4, 2019, the Trustee served written discovery upon the Defendants at the following addresses:

Leon Reihanian, In Pro Per
825 South Vail Avenue
Montebello, CA 90640

Abraham Reihanian
c/o Leon Reihanian, Guardian Ad Litem
825 South Vail Avenue
Montebello, CA 90640

The above address is the address set forth on both the Purported Substitution and Leon’s Answer to the Complaint, which was filed on August 26, 2019. Doc. No. 66. The written discovery that the Trustee mailed to this address was returned to sender.

The Trustee contacted Aver to obtain the Defendants’ current contact information, but did not receive an address different from that set forth on the Purported Substitution and Leon’s Answer. Kim Decl. [Doc. No. 68] at ¶ 68.

B. Summary the Motion

The Trustee seeks entry of an order (1) striking the Answers of both Defendants and (2) sanctioning Defendants and Aver in the amount of $9,730. The Trustee makes the following arguments and representations in support of the Motion:

Chapter 7

The filing of the Purported Substitution was a violation of the Local Bankruptcy Rules. To withdraw from representation, Aver was required to seek court authorization. Sanctions are warranted based on this violation, as well as the fact that Aver has failed to provide Defendants' current contact information. Absent Defendants' contact information, the Trustee cannot serve written discovery and cannot prosecute the case.

The Trustee contacted Aver on October 4, 17, and 22 in an attempt to obtain Defendants' current contact information. Aver did not furnish current contact information in response to the Trustee's requests. Kim Decl. at ¶ 3.

C. Summary of Aver's Declaration in Opposition to the Motion

Aver filed a declaration in opposition to the Motion which may be summarized as follows:

The Trustee should have served the written discovery upon Defendants at the following address, which Leon provided in a deposition conducted on June 6, 2018:

408 North Palm Avenue
Beverly Hills, CA 90210

The address Leon provided in his deposition remains his current address. Neither Aver nor Leon is to blame for the Trustee's failure to properly serve the written discovery.

D. Summary of the Trustee's Reply

The Trustee makes the following arguments in reply to Aver's declaration:

Before the Motion was filed, Aver repeatedly ignored the Trustee's requests for Defendants' current address. Had Aver responded to these requests, the Motion would have been unnecessary.

It was reasonable for the Trustee to assume that the address set forth in the Purported Substitution was Leon's current address. The Purported Substitution was filed months after Leon's deposition.

There has been no response to the written discovery, which the Trustee served upon Aver on October 22 and 25, 2019. At a minimum, the Requests for Admissions should be deemed admitted.

Finally, the hearing on the Motion was continued based on discussions with the Trustee and Leonardo Drubach, who stated that he was in the process of being retained to represent Leon. The continuance was sought based upon an understanding that Drubach would engage in good faith settlement discussions with the Trustee. However, the Trustee never received any substantive response to settlement offers, and was informed on January 8, 2020, that Drubach would not represent Leon. This is indicative of Leon's overall conduct of delay and unwillingness to take this action seriously.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Court Sua Sponte Strikes the Purported Substitution from the Record

Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2091-1 requires an attorney to obtain leave of court to withdraw from representation, unless a new attorney agrees to serve as substitute counsel. The "Substitution of Attorney" form is intended to be used when a client decides to hire a different attorney. It is not meant for situations such as the present case, in which the attorney wishes to withdraw and leave the client to proceed in pro se. LBR 2091-1(b) makes clear the proper use of the "Substitution of Attorney" form; that proper use is further reinforced by the form itself, which requires that the substituting attorney identify the "new attorney."

Here, Aver filed the Purported Substitution to circumvent LBR 2091-1's requirement that he obtain leave of Court to withdraw from representing Leon. Aver should have filed a motion seeking authorization to withdraw from representation.

On its own motion, the Court strikes the Purported Substitution from the record. Unless and until he obtains authorization to withdraw, Aver remains counsel of record for Leon.

B. The Trustee's Request to Strike the Answers is Denied Without Prejudice

The Trustee's request to strike the Answers filed by Leon and Abraham amounts to a case dispositive sanction. Under the circumstances, the imposition of a case dispositive sanction would be too extreme a remedy.

To impose case dispositive sanctions, the Court is "required to consider whether the ... noncompliance involved willfulness, fault, or bad faith, and also to consider the availability of lesser sanctions." R & R Sails, 673 F.3d at 1247 (internal citations omitted). When imposing case-dispositive sanctions, the Court must consider the following factors:

Chapter 7

- 1) the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation;
- 2) the court's need to manage its docket;
- 3) the risk of prejudice to the party who has litigated diligently;
- 4) the public policy favoring the disposition of cases on their merits; and
- 5) the availability of less drastic sanctions.

Moneymaker v. CoBEN (In re Eisen), 31 F.3d 1447, 1451 (9th Cir. 1994); see also Hester v. Vision Airlines, Inc., 687 F.3d 1162, 1169 (9th Cir. 2012) (applying the Eisen factors to determine whether it was appropriate for a court to strike a pleading and enter default).

There are three sub-parts to the fifth factor, the availability of less drastic sanctions: "whether the court has considered lesser sanctions, whether it tried them, and whether it warned the recalcitrant party about the possibility of case-dispositive sanctions." Connecticut Gen. Life Ins. Co. v. New Images of Beverly Hills, 482 F.3d 1091, 1096 (9th Cir. 2007). The application of these factors is not mechanical; instead, the factors provide the Court "with a way to think about what to do, not a set of conditions precedent for sanctions or a script that the [Court] must follow." Id.

Aver's improper conduct consists of attempting to withdraw from representation without leave of Court, and failing to continue to represent Leon. It is possible that lesser sanctions may remediate this improper conduct. Aver is ORDERED to continue representing Leon unless and until he obtains leave to withdraw. Aver's attempted abuse of the withdrawal process, combined with his failure to promptly communicate with the Trustee, has caused significant delay in this action. Given these facts, the Court will not look with favor upon any motion to withdraw.

Striking the Answers or deeming the Requests for Admissions admitted would punish Defendants for Aver's improper conduct. As a result of Aver's improper conduct, the Trustee did not have Defendants' correct address, which resulted in Defendants not receiving actual notice of the Requests for Admission. The Court cannot find that Defendants have engaged in the type of willful bad-faith conduct necessary to support what would amount to a case-dispositive sanction.

Defendants, with the assistance of their counsel, shall respond to the Requests for Admission by no later than February 14, 2020.

C. The Trustee's Request for Monetary Sanctions is Denied Without Prejudice

The Trustee's request for monetary sanctions against Defendants and Aver, in the amount of $9,730, is denied without prejudice as procedurally improper. LBR 9020-1 specifies the procedure for seeking contempt sanctions. Specifically, the party seeking sanctions must apply to the Court for issuance of an order requiring the alleged contemnor to show cause why he or she should not be held in contempt. The alleged contemnor must be provided the opportunity to object to issuance of an order to show cause. As one court has explained:

Obtaining an order to show cause requires a demonstration of facts that, if not rebutted, could be sufficient to warrant an order of contempt. Courts should be cautious when authorizing contempt proceedings. Orders to show cause should not issue merely because someone requests one.

Contempt is serious business that nobody takes lightly. The mere existence of an order to show cause suggests that the court has made a preliminary determination that an order of contempt is a realistic possibility.

Costa v. Welch (In re Costa), 172 B.R. 954, 963 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 1994).

Here, the Trustee failed to obtain an order to show cause as required by LBR 9020-1. Therefore, it is inappropriate for the Court to award the Trustee monetary sanctions.

D. The Litigation Deadlines Previously Ordered Are Extended

The delays resulting from Aver's conduct requires the Court to extend the litigation deadlines previously ordered. Otherwise, through no fault of his own, the Trustee would be unable to obtain discovery prior to the discovery cutoff deadline. The following litigation deadlines shall apply:

- 1) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 2/13/2020.
- 2) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 5/26/2020.
- 3) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 6/25/2020.
- 4) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 7/14/2020. - 7) A Pretrial Conference is set for 8/11/2020 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- 8) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:

  - b) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. ### III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED without prejudice. On its own motion, the Court strikes the Purported Substitution from the record. appointed to serve as the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") and continues to serve in that capacity. To date, there are twelve proofs of claim filed. On July 21 and July 22, 2019, the Debtor filed objections to Claim No. 1 [Doc. No. 101], Claim No. 7 [Doc. No. 102], Claim No. 8 [Doc. No. 103], and Claim No. 9 [Doc. No. 104] (collectively, the "Claim Objections"). The Debtor seeks an order disallowing Claim Nos. 1, 7, 8, and 9 (collectively, the "Claims") in their entirety on the grounds summarized below.

A. Objection to Claim No. 1

On October 31, 2018, American Express National Bank ("AmEx") filed Proof of Claim No. 1 ("Claim No. 1") asserting an unsecured claim of $5,130 for credit card debt. In support of the Claim, AmEx attached an account statement dated April 28, 2010. Debtor alleges that Claim # 1 is barred by the applicable California 4-year statute of limitations set forth in California Code of Civil Procedure ("CCP") § 337. The Debtor states that the last activity on this account was the last payment he made in 2010, which is well beyond the 4-year statute of limitations.

B. Objection to Claim No. 7

On December 13, 2018, AmEx filed Proof of Claim No. 7 ("Claim No. 7") asserting an unsecured claim of $1,469.12 for credit card debt. In support of the Claim, AmEx attached an account statement dated July 8, 2010. Debtor alleges that Claim # 7 is barred by the applicable California 4-year statute of limitations set forth in CCP § 337. The Debtor states that the last activity on this account was the last payment he made in 2010, which is well beyond the 4-year statute of limitations.

C. Objection to Claim No. 8

On December 14, 2018, AmEx filed Proof of Claim No. 8 ("Claim No. 8") asserting an unsecured claim of $2,046.58 for credit card debt. In support of the Claim, AmEx attached an account statement dated July 7, 2010. Debtor alleges that Claim # 8 is barred by the applicable California 4-year statute of limitations set forth in CCP § 337. The Debtor states that the last activity on this account was the last payment he made in 2010, which is well beyond the 4-year statute of limitations.

D. Objection to Claim No. 9

On December 14, 2018, AmEx filed Proof of Claim No. 9 ("Claim No. 9") asserting an unsecured claim of $2,149.63 for credit card debt. In support of the Claim, AmEx attached an account statement dated June 18, 2010. Debtor alleges that Claim # 9 is barred by the applicable California 4-year statute of limitations set forth in CCP § 337. The Debtor states that the last activity on this account was the last payment he made in 2010, which is well beyond the 4-year statute of limitations.

The Claim Objections were initially set to be heard on September 4, 2019, but at that time, the Court could not determine that Debtor had standing to object to the Claims as Debtor had failed to prove that there would be a surplus in this case or that the Claims would be nondischargeable. Therefore, the Court continued the hearing to the present date to give Debtor an opportunity to address the issue of standing (the "Continuance Order") [Doc. No. 122].

Summary of Status Report

The Debtor submitted an omnibus status report (the "Status Report") on January 7, 2020 in response to the Court's concerns. The submission was untimely. The Status Report is supported by the one-page declaration of Debtor's counsel, Guy R. Bayley, who attached therein copies of the Court's order and tentative ruling approving the Trustee's § 9019 motion. Counsel recounts that following approval of the Trustee's compromise, Debtor expects a substantial cash out of approximately $150,000 stemming from the refinance of the Woodbury Property that was abandoned to the Debtor [Note 1]. According to counsel, Debtor intends to apply excess loan proceeds to cure arrears against the Oxford Property. Counsel states that Debtor does not have significant unsecured debts.

Although not included in the Status Report, the Court reviewed the compromise between the Trustee and the Debtor (the "Settlement Agreement") [Doc. No. 130-1], pursuant to which, the the Woodbury Property shall be abandoned to the Debtor in exchange of $162,103.05 (the "Compromise Sum") paid to the estate. Settlement Agreement at 2. As set forth in the Settlement Agreement, the Compromise Sum will be funded from the refinance of the Woodbury Property. Id. The Court approved the Settlement Agreement on December 2, 2019 [Doc. No. 137].

Chapter 7

The Claim Objections were not previously opposed, and as of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that the Status Report was not in compliance with the Continuance Order as it was filed after the deadline of December 27, 2019. Nevertheless, the Status Report's tardy filing was not prejudicial to any interested party as the Claim Objections remain unopposed. Therefore, the Court will overlook filing deficiencies for the purposes of this tentative ruling.

A. Standing Issues

Generally, a chapter 7 debtor does not have standing to object to claims because the debtor has no interest in the distribution of assets of the estate and therefore, is not an "aggrieved person." Lona, 393 B.R. at 4. However, there are two recognized exceptions to the proposition that a chapter 7 debtor lacks standing to object to a creditor's proof of claim: (1) when disallowance of the claim would create a surplus case, with the excess amounts payable to the debtor; and (2) where the claim at issue would not be dischargeable. In re Cherne, 514 B.R. 616, 621 (Bankr. D. Idaho 2014) (citing Wellman v. Ziino, 378 B.R. 416 n.5 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2007); Menick v. Hoffman, 205 F.2d 365 (9th Cir. 1953)). The burden is on the debtor to provide sufficient evidence that disallowance of the contested claim will produce a surplus distribution to the debtor. In re Walker, 356 B.R. 834, 847 (Bankr. S.D. Fla. 2006) (citing In re Cult Awareness Network, Inc., 151 F.3d 605, 608 (7th Cir. 1998)).

Because there are no outstanding nondischargeability actions, the threshold issue is whether there will be a surplus in this case, creating standing for the Debtor to object to the Claims. Having reviewed the Status Report and the Settlement Agreement [Doc. No. 130-1], it is clear to the Court that Debtor's refinance of the Woodbury Property will generate estate assets totaling $162,103.05. Because unsecured claims total approximately $18,698.70 (inclusive of the Claims), there will be an estimated $143,404.35 left over to pay administrative fees and costs and priority claims of $1,741.40. See Claims Register. Based on the foregoing, the Court anticipates that Debtor will have an interest in surplus funds, which will be impacted by the allowance or disallowance of the Claims. In sum, the Debtor has standing to litigate the Claim Objections.

B. The Claim Objections are SUSTAINED in full

Under 11 U.S.C. § 502(a), a claim is deemed allowed unless a party in interest objects. The term "party in interest" is not defined in the Bankruptcy Code or the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, but courts have held that standing in a bankruptcy context requires an "aggrieved person" who is directly and adversely affected pecuniarily by an order of the bankruptcy court. In re Lona, 393 B.R. 1, 3 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2008) (citing Fondiller v. Robertson (In re Fondiller), 707 F.2d 441, 442-43 (9th Cir. 1983)).

Title 11 U.S.C. § 502 provides that claims should be allowed "except to the extent that such claim is unenforceable against the debtor . . . under any . . . applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured." CCP § 337 provides that any action to recover "upon any contract, obligation or liability founded upon an instrument in writing" must be brought within four years. Debtor objects to Claims 1, 7-9 on the grounds that the Claims are barred by the statute of limitations. For the reasons set forth below, the objections are SUSTAINED in full.

1. Objection No. 1 is SUSTAINED, and Claim No. 1 is DISALLOWED.

AmEx filed as evidence of its claim an account statement dated April 28, 2010 indicating that the last transaction date was October of 2009, nine years before the bankruptcy petition was filed. See Claim No. 1. The Court finds that this claim arises from credit card debt. Credit card agreements and debts are governed by CCP § 337(1). See 3 Witkin, Cal. Proc. 5th (2008) Actions, § 508. CCP § 337(1) states that the statute of limitations for an action to recover upon such debts is four years. Here, there is no evidence that AmEx has taken any action to recover upon the debt in the last nine years. Claim No. 1 is time-barred under CCP § 337(1). The Debtor's objection to the claim is SUSTAINED and Claim No. 1 is DISALLOWED in its entirety.

2. Objection No. 7 is SUSTAINED, and Claim No. 7 is DISALLOWED.

AmEx filed as evidence of its claim an account statement dated July 8, 2010 indicating that the last transaction date was October of 2009, nine years before the bankruptcy petition was filed. See Claim No. 7. 3. Objection No. 8 is SUSTAINED, and Claim No. 8 is DISALLOWED.

AmEx filed as evidence of its claim an account statement dated July 7, 2010 indicating that the last transaction date was October of 2009, nine years before the bankruptcy petition was filed. See Claim No. 8. 4. Objection No. 9 is SUSTAINED, and Claim No. 9 is DISALLOWED.

AmEx filed as evidence of its claim an account statement dated June 18, 2010 indicating that the last transaction date was October of 2009, nine years before the bankruptcy petition was filed. See Claim No. 9. The Court finds that this claim arises from credit card debt. Credit card agreements and debts are governed by CCP § 337(1). See 3 Witkin, Cal. Proc. 5th (2008) Actions, § 508. ### I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtors-in-possession, Samuel Antonio Acevedo and Lucy Acevedo (together, the "Debtors"), filed this voluntary Chapter 11 case on April 3, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtors' primary asset consists of a rental property located at 6220 Palladio Lane, Fontana, CA 92336 (the "Rental Property"), which they rent out for an additional $3,100 in monthly income [see Doc. No. 85]. The Debtors sought bankruptcy protection after experiencing several years of financial hardship precipitated by Mr. Acevedo's unexpected loss of employment. In addition, the Debtors' fell behind on mortgage payments on the Rental Property after depleting their savings. Both Debtors are now employed and generate regular monthly income.

On March 13, 2019, the Debtors obtained an order granting their motion to value the Rental Property at $435,000 for purposes of plan confirmation [Doc. No. 45] (the "Rental Property Valuation Order"). On March 19, 2019, the Debtors obtained an order granting their motion to value their 2016 Honda Accord (the "Vehicle") at $15,977 for purposes of plan confirmation, which resulted in the bifurcation of American Honda Finance's claim into a secured claim of $15,977 and an unsecured claim of $3,731.60 [Doc. No. 50] (the "Vehicle Valuation Order").

The Debtors submitted the First Amended Disclosure Statement on July 26, 2019, and subsequently, the Second Amended Disclosure Statement on September 26, 2019, which were both disapproved by the Court for reasons stated in separate tentative rulings [Doc. Nos. 89 and 100]. Subject to the Court's proposed amendments, the Debtors' Third Amended Disclosure Statement was approved on October 24, 2019 [Doc. No. 102] (the "Scheduling Order"), at which time the Court also established deadlines concerning solicitation and confirmation of Debtors' chapter 11 plan.

The Debtors now seek approval of their Second Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization (hereinafter, the "Plan"). A summary of the Debtors' Plan is set forth below.

Summary of the Plan

Administrative Claims

The Debtors anticipate that administrative fees for professionals will be approximately $6,000 on the Effective Date, consisting of $4,000 for remaining chapter 11 fees and $2,000 for administrative fees owed to former counsel [Note 1]. The Debtors propose to pay all administrative claims in full, on the Effective Date, from available cash on hand and with the assistance of a one-time $7,000 family contribution payment.

Priority Tax Claims

As set forth in the Third Amended Disclosure Statement, the Debtors propose to pay the Internal Revenue Service's (the "IRS") claim of $1,681, in full, plus 6% interest, within five years from the Petition Date, by making equal monthly installments of $32.50 beginning on the Effective Date. However, the Plan provides otherwise: priority tax "[p]ayments will be made quarterly, due on the first day of the quarter starting on the first such date after the Effective Date..." See Plan at 2, Art. I, Section C.

Reject (No Ballot Cast)

Class 5(a) consists of the secured claim of Wells Fargo. Wells Fargo holds a first-priority deed of trust against the Rental Property securing debt in the approximate amount of $382,478.36. The Debtors propose to pay Wells Fargo's claim in full by making monthly installment payments of $2,053.23 over a thirty-year period, at a 5% interest rate per annum. Wells Fargo's claim is impaired, and Wells Fargo was entitled to vote on the Plan, but did not cast a ballot. Therefore, Wells Fargo is deemed to reject the Plan.

Class 5(b) – American Honda Finance Corporation ("Honda") – Deemed to Reject (No Ballot Cast)

Class 5(b) consists of Honda's secured claim. Honda holds a perfected security interest in the Vehicle. Pursuant to the Vehicle Valuation Order, Honda holds a secured claim of $15,977 and an unsecured claim of $3,731.60. Accordingly, the Debtors propose to pay Honda's secured claim in full, plus 6.75% interest, by making monthly installment payments of $314 over a five-year period. Honda's claim is impaired, and Honda was entitled to vote on the Plan, but did not cast a ballot. Therefore, Honda is deemed to reject the Plan.

Class 6(b) – General Unsecured Claims – Deemed to Reject (No Ballot Cast)

This class consists of all allowed general unsecured claims, which the Debtors estimate hold aggregate claims in the amount of $29,776.01. The Debtors propose to pay this class 70% of their claims, without interest, over a 5-year period by making equal pro-rata monthly installment payments totaling $347.39. This class is impaired, it was entitled to vote on the Plan, but no claimant in this class casted a ballot. Therefore, Class 6(b) is deemed to reject the Plan.

In fact, as of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Debtors did not receive any ballots for or against the Plan.

Summary of the Debtors' Confirmation Brief

Debtors concede that their Plan does not satisfy all mandatory requirements under § 1129 because no impaired class voted in favor of the Plan. With the exception of this requirement, the Debtors posit that the Plan complies with §1129 in all other respects. The Court previously expressed concerns that the Plan would not satisfy the absolute priority rule, absent creditor approval. Accordingly, Debtors propose to pay general unsecured creditors only 70% of their claims, while retaining their interest in the Rental Property. Debtors contend the absolute priority rule is inapplicable here because each unsecured creditor is poised to receive more through the Plan than in chapter 7 liquidation, and no such creditor objected to the Plan. Therefore, Debtors assert that cram down is unnecessary. For the reasons set forth above, the Debtors "hope" to have the necessary votes to confirm the Plan. In the alternative, the Debtors request more time to amend the Plan to fully pay off only those unsecured creditors who filed a proof of claim because Debtors contend, without any admissible proof or specificity, that some scheduled unsecured claims are no longer valid or have been "charged off." See Declaration of Lionel E. Giron, ¶ 7.

Summary of Wells Fargo's Objection

On December 31, 2019, Wells Fargo filed a timely objection against the Debtors' Plan (the "Objection"). The Objection states three issues with Debtors' Plan. First, Wells Fargo argues that the Plan is not fair and equitable because it fails to properly compensate Wells Fargo's claim pursuant to §§ 1129(b)(1) and (b)(2)(A)(ii). Accordingly, as a non-consenting secured creditor, Debtors' proposal to pay Wells Fargo's claim at an interest rate of 5% inappropriately accounts for Debtors' risk of nonpayment. Wells Fargo relies on the Supreme Court's opinion in Till v. SCS Credit Corp. (In re Till), 541 U.S. 465, 478-79 (2004) in support that the proposed interest rate will not adequately compensate its claim. As determined in Till, an appropriate rate of interest payable to non-consenting creditors is determined by reference to the national prime rate, subject to adjustments based on the risk of future default. Given that the national prime rate was approximately 4.75% on December 31, 2019, Debtors' proposed 5% interest rate provides a 25-point increase over the prime rate, an insufficient adjustment according to Wells Fargo. Therefore, Wells Fargo argues that it will not receive at least the allowed value of its claim under the Plan. Additionally, Wells Fargo notes that the Plan fails to specify whether the Rental Property loan will remain in an escrow account, or if it will be removed from escrow, subject to Wells Fargo's demand for proof of Debtors' ability pay taxes and maintain insurance. Last, Wells Fargo argues that the Plan also fails to comply with § 1129(a)(10) as no impaired class has accepted Debtors' Plan.

In light of the foregoing, Wells Fargo asks that the Court deny the Plan in its entirety, or in the alternative, that the Plan be amended in accordance with the Objection.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. Issues Preventing Confirmation of the Debtors' Plan

i. No Class Submitted a Vote

Classes 5(a), 5(b), and 6(b) are all impaired, entitled to vote, but no class casted a ballot (the "Non-Voting Classes"). Therefore, the Plan does not satisfy the requirement under §1129(a)(10). Debtors propose to amend their Plan to avoid paying certain unsecured creditors, thereby ensuring that all unsecured creditors who filed a proof of claim receive 100% of their claims. Debtors' proposed course of action will not remedy the deficiency under §1129(a)(10) because, even if Class 6(b) is no longer impaired, Debtors cannot guarantee that either of the two other impaired classes will vote in favor of the Plan. If Debtors do not receive any votes in favor of their amended plan, they will again fail to comply with § 1129(a)(10).

Moreover, the Debtors claim that the Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(8). Section 1129(a)(8) provides that each class of claims or interests must either accept the plan or not be impaired under the plan. Debtors assert that their Plan satisfies this requirement because administrative claims are not impaired under the Plan, and therefore, at least "these classes" are deemed to have accepted the Plan. Confirmation Brief at 11. Debtors' interpretation is misguided because administrative claims are treated as "nonclassified claims" and not entitled to vote on plan confirmations. 11 U.S.C. §§ 1126(c) & (d); Ahart, et al., Cal. Practice Guide: Bankruptcy Ch. 11-H (The Rutter Group 2019), ¶ 11:1197.) Therefore, Debtors' Plan also fails to comply with § 1129(a)(8).

The Court recognizes the split of authority regarding whether a non-voting, non-objecting, class of creditors is deemed to have accepted or rejected a plan. See Bell Road Inv. Co. v. M. Long Arabians (In re M. Long Arabians), 103 B.R. 211 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1989) (members of a class must affirmatively vote in favor of the plan in order for that class to have accepted plan treatment); compare Heins v. Ruti-

Sweetwater, Inc. (In re Ruti-Sweetwater, Inc.), 863 F.2d 1263 (10th Cir. 1988) (Non-voting, non-objecting creditor who is a member of a class that casts no votes is deemed to have accepted the plan of reorganization for purposes of section 1129(a)(8) and 1129(b)).

Plan proponents have dealt with the problem of a non-voting class by including prominent language in the Plan, Disclosure Statement and Plan Ballot providing that creditors who did not vote would be deemed to accept the plan. See, e.g., In re Adelpia Communications, 368 B.R. 140, 260-62 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2007) ("Section 7.3 of the Plan adopts a presumption that '[i]f no holders of Claims or Equity Interests eligible to vote in a particular Class vote to accept or reject the Plan, the Plan shall be deemed accepted by the holders of such Claims or Equity Interests in such Class.'... I overruled the ACC Bondholder Group's objection, and uphold the Plan presumption with respect to the non-voting creditors in these classes.").

Unfortunately, the Debtors did not include any such language in the Plan, Disclosure Statement or Ballot. In fact, the Debtors' Ballot expressly stated that failure to return a timely ballot would result in the vote not being counted as "either an acceptance or rejection of the Plan." See Third Amended Disclosure Statement, Ex. D.

Therefore, the Court finds it appropriate to reopen voting and directs the Debtors to serve an amended plan and disclosure statement, and a supplemental notice to all creditors and file a proof of service evidencing the same by no later than January 29, 2020, that: (i) notes that such classes previously received copies of the Debtors' solicitation package and have failed to timely return a ballot; (ii) unambiguously states that the deadline to submit a ballot has been extended to February 21, 2020, (iii) notifies such classes that the failure to timely return a ballot by the February 21st deadline will be deemed acceptance of the amended Plan; and (iv) notifies creditors that additional copies of the amended solicitation package can be obtained by contacting Debtors' counsel.

In the event the Non-Voting Classes do not return ballots by the February 21, 2020 deadline, those classes will be deemed to have accepted the amended Plan.

and/or Unsupported

Chapter 11

As stated in the Confirmation Brief, Debtors propose to avoid the claims of certain unsecured creditors. Debtors argue that these creditors will not receive any distribution under an amended plan on the basis that a) these claimants did not submit a proof of claim and/or b) Debtors assume that the balances on these claims have been excused, no longer exist, or have since been "charged off." See Confirmation Brief at 7. Debtors appear to argue that § 1123(b)(3) enables them to amend the Plan to exclude these unsecured creditors.

A claim or interest listed in the debtor's schedules as "undisputed," "unliquidated," and "noncontingent," and for which no objection is filed, is deemed "filed" and "allowed" in the amount scheduled. 11 U.S.C. § 1111(a) ("A proof of claim or interest is deemed filed...for any claim or interest that appears in the schedules filed under section 521(a)(1) or 1106(a)(2) ..."); FRBP 3003(c)(2). Here, the Debtors listed all of the unsecured claims disseminated in the Third Amended Disclosure Statement (see Exhibit C) in their Schedule E/F [Doc. No. 1]. None of these claims is identified as "contingent," "unliquidated," or "disputed." In addition, the Debtors have not formally objected to any specific claim. Aside from their uncorroborated speculation, the Debtors have not established that any unsecured claim is invalid. In sum, pursuant to § 1111(a), each unsecured claim listed in Exhibit C of the Disclosure Statement is deemed to be filed and allowed.

Debtors' argument to exclude payment to certain unsecured creditors pursuant to § 1123(b)(3) is not adequately briefed. Section 1123(b)(3) governs the treatment of claims or interests of the debtor or the estate, which allows the plan to provide for (A) the settlement or adjustment of any claim or interest belonging to the debtor or the estate, or (B) the retention and enforcement of any claim or interest by either the debtor, the trustee, or a representative of the estate specifically appointed for that purpose. If it is Debtors' position that § 1123(b)(3) authorizes them to object to and disallow claims through a plan confirmation motion, then Debtors have not proffered any legal authority establishing their contention. To that extent, the Court finds Debtors' arguments unpersuasive.

If Debtors intend to pursue this course of action, they must submit a supplemental brief addressing this issue. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the general unsecured class fails to submit a timely ballot, it will be deemed to accept the Plan, and this issue will be moot.

iii. Additional Issues Not Addressed by Debtors

The Court further finds that the Confirmation Brief fails to adequately address the following issues:

1. The Debtors have not submitted evidence establishing that the 5% interest rate proposed for Class 5(a) appropriately considers the risk of nonpayment sustained by Wells Fargo. If Debtors cannot demonstrate in good faith that a 5% interest rate will result in Wells Fargo receiving the present value of its claim, they may amend their Plan to pay Wells Fargo's claim with a suitable rate of interest [Note 2]. However, if Class 5(a) fails to submit a timely ballot, it will be deemed to accept the Plan, and this issue will be moot.
2. The Court finds Wells Fargo's objection regarding the treatment of escrow on the Rental Property loan well founded. Given that this issue affects Debtors' distribution under the Plan regardless of Class 5(a)'s vote, Debtors shall specify the treatment of escrow in their amended Plan and Disclosure Statement.
3. Finally, the Debtors shall specify whether the payment of priority taxes will be on a monthly or quarterly basis in their amended Plan and Disclosure Statement.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Court is not in a position to confirm the Debtors' Plan at this time. The hearing is CONTINUED to April 15, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. The continued hearing is subject to the following deadlines:

1. By no later than January 24, 2020, and prior to disseminating the amended voting package, the Debtors are directed to file an amended disclosure statement and chapter 11 plan that addresses the issues discussed above.
2. As instructed above, the Debtors shall serve the amended plan, disclosure statement, and ballot, notice of the continued hearing date, and a supplemental notice to all creditors and file a proof of service evidencing

Note 1: Notwithstanding Debtors' estimated administrative expenses, the Court notes that Debtors' counsel applied for interim fees and expenses in the sum of $14,028.50 [Doc. No. 70]. Counsel's fees and costs were approved on an interim basis on July 19, 2019 [Doc. No. 79].

Note 2: At this stage, the Court finds that it is premature to determine whether Debtors' proposed interest rate on Wells Fargo's claim will result in that creditor receiving the present value of its claim.

Docket 3849

Tentative Ruling:

1/14/2020

On October 25, 2018, the Court entered an Order on Debtors' Motion Establishing Procedures for Monthly Payment of Fees and Expense Reimbursement [Doc. No. 661], and on October 16, 2018, the Court entered an Amended Order on Debtors' Motion Establishing Procedures for Monthly Payment of Fees and Expense Reimbursement [Doc. No. 826] (the "Fee Procedures Order"). [Note 1] Pursuant to the Fee Procedures Order, each professional employed by the estate may file a monthly fee application (each, a "Monthly Application") seeking payment of interim compensation in an amount equal to 80% of the fees sought and 100% of the expenses incurred during the prior month. If no objection is filed and served within ten calendar days after the date of the filing of the notice of the Monthly Application, the Monthly Application is deemed approved on an interim basis, and the Debtor is authorized to pay 80% of the fees and 100% of the expenses requested in the Monthly Application without further order of the Court. [Note 2] The failure to object to a Monthly Application does not result in a waiver of a party's ability to object to an interim fee application.

On November 14, 2018, the Court entered an order authorizing the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") to retain FTI Consulting, Inc. ("FTI") as its financial advisor. Pursuant to the procedures set forth in the Fee Procedures Order, FTI has submitted twelve Monthly Applications [Doc. Nos. 869, 870, 1176, 1419, 1677, 1952, 2272, 2470, 2636, 2817, 2989, and 3183], none of which have been opposed.

The Debtors filed a reservation of rights (the "Reservation of Rights") [Doc. Docket 3852

Tentative Ruling:

1/14/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Debtors' Notice and Motion for Approval of Compromise Between Debtors and Hunt Spine Institute, Inc., Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9019 (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 3852]
  - a) Declaration of Service by Kurtzman Carson Consultants, LLC Regarding Docket Numbers 3846, 3847, 3851, 3852, and 3853 [Doc. No. 3895]
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases.

Debtors seek approval of a settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") with Hunt Spine Institute, Inc. ("Hunt"). No opposition to the Motion is on file.

On July 5, 2017, Debtor Verity Medical Foundation ("VMF") entered into a Professional Services Agreement (the "PSA") with Hunt. Under the PSA, Hunt physicians must maintain a specified work relative value unit in order for Hunt to receive base compensation (the "Minimum Productivity Requirement").

On October 17, 2018, the Court entered an order approving the stipulated rejection of the PSA. Doc. No. 524.

Chapter 11

Hunt asserts a priority claim in the amount of $270,467.16 for post-petition services rendered prior to rejection of the PSA, and a pre-petition claim in the amount of $3,365,190.00, which includes damages arising from the rejection of the PSA (collectively, the "Hunt Claims"). The Debtors dispute the Hunt Claims and assert that Hunt did not comply with the PSA's Minimum Productivity Requirement. Hunt maintains that it did comply with the Minimum Productivity Requirement, and that the Debtors failed to properly measure the Minimum Productivity Requirement.

The material terms of the Settlement Agreement are as follows:

- 1) In full satisfaction of the Hunt Claims, Hunt shall be entitled to an allowed administrative expense claim in the amount of $100,000, which shall be paid in full within ten days after the effective date of the Settlement Agreement.
- 2) Hunt and the Debtors shall exchange mutual releases.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair, and reasonable, and is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Probability of Success on the Merits and Complexity of the Litigation

These factors weigh in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The outcome of the litigation is uncertain, and could potentially involve expert testimony regarding whether Hunt's practices satisfied the requirements of the PSA. Litigation would also be costly, as the PSA contains specialized terms, such as the "work relative value unit" used to calculate the Minimum Productivity Requirement. Adjudication of whether Hunt performed under the PSA would require examination of extensive billing records, and therefore would be time consuming.

The possibility that additional litigation might yield a result nominally more favorable to the estates cannot be ruled out. Yet any such result obtained through litigation would be a pyrrhic victory from the perspective of the estates and creditors, because the additional administrative costs associated with the litigation would on net leave the estates worse off.

Difficulties to be Encountered in the Matter of Collection

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. Hunt lost substantial income as a result of the termination of the PSA. Its ability to satisfy a judgment entered in favor of the Debtors is unknown.

Paramount Interests of Creditors

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. Neither the Committee nor any other creditors have objected to the Settlement Agreement.

Likelihood of Success on the Merits

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. As discussed, the Settlement Agreement resolves a number of complicated issues, and there is no assurance that the Debtors would prevail.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Settlement Agreement is APPROVED and the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Debtors shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

Individual Debtors are parties to multiple real-property, non-residential leases necessary for the operation of the Debtors' business, including office and operational space (the "Leases"). On February 19, 2019, the Court extended the Debtors' deadline to assume or reject these unexpired leases (such deadline, the "Assumption/Rejection Deadline") by 90 days, to and including March 29, 2019. Debtors now move for an extension of the Assumption/Rejection Deadline from December 24, 2019, to and including March 23, 2020. Debtors state that the extension is necessary because the contemplated sale of the Debtors' remaining hospitals to Strategic Global Management did not close. Debtors state that they have not made a final determination regarding assumption or rejection of specific leases given the uncertainty surrounding the disposition of their remaining hospitals.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(d)(4) provides:

(A) Subject to subparagraph (B), an unexpired lease of nonresidential real property under which the debtor is the lessee shall be deemed rejected, and the trustee shall immediately surrender that nonresidential real property to the lessor, if the trustee does not assume or reject the unexpired lease by the earlier of—

- (i) the date that is 120 days after the date of the order for relief; or
- (ii) the date of the entry of an order confirming a plan.

(B)

- (i) The court may extend the period determined under subparagraph (A), prior to the expiration of the 120-day period, for 90 days on the motion of the trustee or lessor for cause.
- (ii) If the court grants an extension under clause (i), the court may grant a subsequent extension only upon prior written consent of the lessor in each instance.

"[T]he legislative purpose behind §365(d)(4) was to protect lessors from extended periods where the premises remained vacant and no rental payments made."

Willamette Water Front Ltd. v. Victoria Station, Inc. (In re Victoria Station Inc.), 88 B.R. 231, 237 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988), aff'd, 875 F.2d 1380 (9th Cir. 1989).

In its prior rulings extending the Assumption/Rejection deadline, the Court has deemed a Lessor's non-opposition to constitute "consent" for purposes of § 365(d)(4) (B)(ii). See, e.g., Doc. No. 2760-1. The Court finds it appropriate to continue to deem the Lessor's non-opposition to constitute consent. Because the Debtors remain current on lease payments, this approach does not prejudice the Lessors. In addition, absent extension of the deadline, the Debtors will lack the flexibility necessary to allow them to assume and assign the leases to a future purchaser of one or more of the remaining

Forsley in Support with proof of service

Docket 110

Tentative Ruling:

1/14/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Extension of Exclusivity Periods to File a Disclosure Statement and Plan, and Seek Acceptances of Plan of Reorganization (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 110]
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Michael Bonert ("Michael") and Vivien Bonert ("Vivien," and together with Michael, the "Debtors") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on September 12, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtors operated a pie manufacturing company known as Bonert's Incorporated ("Bonerts"). In 2016, Bonerts ceased conducting business after its lender caused its assets to be sold through a federal receivership. Proceeds of the receivership sale were used to pay secured creditors, but were not sufficient to pay unsecured trade creditors, some of whom obtained unopposed judgments against Bonerts.

On August 13 and 14, 2019, Capitol Distribution Company, LLC ("Capitol"), Stratas Foods LLC ("Stratas"), Packaging Corporation of America, and Seneca Foods Corporation (collectively, the "Creditors") filed four collection actions (the "Collection Actions") against the Debtors, Bonerts, and LLCs wholly owned by the Debtors that were affiliates of Bonerts (the "Affiliates"). The Collection Actions allege, inter alia, that the Debtors operated the Affiliates and Bonerts as a single enterprise for the purpose of defeating the rights of creditors; that the Debtors misappropriated assets of Bonerts and the Affiliates; and that the Debtors are liable for trade debt incurred by Bonerts as its alter ego. Two of the Collection Actions were filed in the United States District Court for the Central District of California (the "District Court") and two of the Collection Actions were filed in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court").

Debtors sought bankruptcy protection for the purpose of having all alter-ego claims arising in connection with the Debtors' operation of Bonerts and the Affiliates adjudicated before the Bankruptcy Court. Pursuant to this objective, on September 13 and 16, 2019, the Debtors removed all four of the Collection Actions to the Bankruptcy Court.

On October 17, 2019, the Court approved stipulations remanding two of the Collection Actions to the District Court. Both stipulations were without prejudice to any party's right (1) to move for referral of the action back to the Bankruptcy Court or (2) to move for an injunction against the prosecution of the action. On January 13, 2020, the Court denied motions brought by Capitol and Stratas to remand two of the Collection Actions.

The Debtors move for entry of an order extending the exclusivity periods to file a Chapter 11 Plan and solicit acceptances thereof for four months, through and including May 12, 2020 (filing a plan) and July 13, 2020 (obtaining acceptances).

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 1121(b) gives the Debtor the exclusive right to file a plan during the first 120 days after the date of the order for relief. Section 1121(d) permits the Court to reduce or increase the exclusivity period "for cause." Section 1121 provides the bankruptcy court "maximum flexibility to suit various types of reorganization proceedings." In re Public Service Company of New Hampshire, 88 B.R. 521, 534 (Bankr. D.N.H. 1988).

The Court finds that cause exists to extend the exclusivity period as requested by the Debtors in the Motion. Claims in the approximate amount of $4 million are predicated upon the assertion that the Debtors are alter-egos of other entities. Debtors intend to challenge these claims. The litigation over the allowability of the alter-ego claims will be complex. The Debtors will not be in a position to prepare a Disclosure Statement that discloses adequate information to creditors until greater clarity regarding the allowability of the alter-ego claims has been obtained.

The exclusivity period for the Debtors is extended through and including May 12,

Cash Collateral

Docket 5

Tentative Ruling:

1/14/2020

Subject to any opposition which may be presented at the hearing, the Court is prepared to authorize the Debtor to use cash collateral on an interim basis.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Emergency Motion for Interim and Final Orders Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 5]
  - a) First Day Declaration of Richard J. Laski [Doc. No. 7]
  - b) Amended Order Setting Hearing on First Day Motions [Doc. No. 14]
  - c) Notice of Hearing [Doc. No. 20]
  - d) Declaration of Aylin Sookassians Re Notice of Emergency Hearings on Debtor's First Day Motions [Doc. No. 21]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On January 10, 2020 (the "Petition Date"), 450 S. Western, LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition.

The Debtor owns and operates a three-story, 80,316 square foot shopping center—commonly known as California Marketplace—located at the intersection of South Western Avenue and 5th Street. The shopping center serves the Los Angeles Korean community and contains 28 stores. As of the Petition Date, the shopping center had a 98% occupancy rate.

The Debtor sought bankruptcy protection primarily as the result of litigation with Admire Capital Lending, LLC ("Admire") and Belmont Two Investment Holdings, LLC ("Belmont"). On September 10, 2015, the Debtor entered into an unsecured promissory note with Belmont and Admire, in the principal amount of $9.75 million (the "Note"). In litigation before the Los Angeles Superior Court, Belmont and Admire assert a right to convert the Note to equity (the "Conversion Option"). The Debtor disputes the Conversion Option.

As of the Petition Date, the Debtor has secured debt in the estimated amount of approximately $43 million, as follows:

- 1) G450 LLC—$29,932,758.97
- 2) Pontis Capital, LLC—$4,654,666.66
- 3) Five West Capital, LP—$5,818,333.44
- 4) Evergreen Capital Asset—$1,260,164.91
- 5) Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector—$1,653,568.21
- 6) Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector—$246,421.96

The Debtor seeks authorization to use cash collateral. The Debtor hopes to enter into a stipulation with G450 LLC authorizing the use of cash collateral. The Debtor proposes to make an adequate protection payment, in the amount of $50,000, to G450 LLC during the week of January 26, 2020. Cash collateral will be used to fund payroll and payroll taxes, the salary of Chief Financial Officer Joshua Park, the fees of the Chief Restructuring Officer, and expenses for maintenance and utilities.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of §363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368–69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. § 363(c)(2)(B) and (e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988).

Nothing in the record indicates that the California Marketplace, the Debtor's primary asset, is declining in value. The California Marketplace is 98% leased, and the bankruptcy was precipitated by litigation with Belmont and Admire, not operating losses. Based on the absence of evidence of declining value and the proposed adequate protection payment to G450, the Court is prepared to find that secured creditors with an interest in the Debtor's cash collateral are adequately protected. In addition, the use of cash collateral to maintain the California Marketplace's operations constitutes further adequate protection. See In re Megan-Racine Associates, Inc., 202 B.R. 660, 663 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1996) (concluding that "[a]s long as there was a continuous income stream being generated by the Debtor, the fact that the Debtor consumed a portion of those monies to operate and maintain the facility each month did not diminish the value of the [secured creditor's] interest in the [cash collateral]").

Cash collateral may not be used to pay the Debtor's proposed Chief Restructuring Officer (the "CRO") unless and until the Court approves the CRO's employment application. (A hearing on the employment application is set for February 4, 2020.)

The Court notes that the proposed cash collateral budget (the "Budget") provides for monthly payments of $23,500 to be made to Joshua Park, the Debtor's Chief Financial Officer (the "CFO"). These payments constitute a significant portion of the Debtor's monthly expenditures, which are forecast to be between $156,300 and $192,200. It is not clear from the record whether Mr. Park is an insider. The Debtor should be prepared to justify the necessity of making these substantial payments to Mr. Park. Of course, if Mr. Park is an insider, he may be compensated only after the Debtor files a Notice of Setting/Increasing of Insider Compensation in accordance with Local Bankruptcy Rule 2014-1(a)(1).

The Court finds that the remainder of the expenditures proposed in the Budget are necessary to sustain the California Marketplace's operations. Without the ability to use cash collateral to sustain operations, the Debtor would be irreparably harmed.

A final hearing on the Motion shall take place on February 19, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. Opposition to final approval of the use of cash collateral shall be filed by no later than February 5, 2020. The Debtor's reply shall be filed by no later than February 12, 2020. By no later than February 17, 2020, the Debtor shall provide notice of the final hearing and shall file a proof of service so indicating.

Docket 6

Subject to any opposition which may be presented at the hearing, the Court is prepared to enter an order directing that all post-petition rental payments be made to the Debtor.

  - a) First Day Declaration of Richard J. Laski [Doc. No. 7]

  - c) Notice of Hearing [Doc. No. 20]
  - d) Declaration of Aylin Sookassians Re Notice of Emergency Hearings on Debtor's First Day Motions [Doc. No. 21]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On January 10, 2020 (the "Petition Date"), 450 S. Western, LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition.

The Debtor owns and operates a three-story, 80,316 square foot shopping center—commonly known as California Marketplace—located at the intersection of South Western Avenue and 5th Street. The shopping center serves the Los Angeles Korean community and contains 28 stores. As of the Petition Date, the shopping center had a 98% occupancy rate.

The Debtor moves for entry of an order directing tenants leasing space from the Debtor (the "Tenants") to make post-petition rental payments to "450 S. WESTERN, LLC as Debtor and Debtor-in-Possession," with such payments addressed to:

450 S. Western LLC
Attn: Richard Laski
450 S. Western Ave., #201
Los Angeles, CA 90020

The Debtor states that such an order is necessary because its bankruptcy filing may cause confusion for the Tenants, many of whom have no experience dealing with a landlord in bankruptcy.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Rents accrued subsequent to the Petition Date are property of the estate. See § 541(a)(6) (providing that property of the estate includes "[p]roceeds, product, offspring, rents, or profits from property of the estate"). Section 542(a) requires any entity in possession of property of the estate to immediately turnover such property to the Debtor.

The Court is prepared to GRANT the Motion. Pursuant to §§ 541(a)(6) and 542(a), the Tenants are required to remit post-petition rental payments to the Debtor. Entry of an order specifically directing tenants as to the manner in which this is to be accomplished is necessary to avoid confusion and ensure the Debtor's continued access to rental income. The Debtor relies upon a steady stream of rental income to sustain its operations.

Docket 1

*** VACATED *** REASON: DISMISSED 10-17-19

Tentative Ruling:

4/15/2019

On September 14, 2017, the Court dismissed without prejudice all claims for relief that were (a) not set forth in the Joint Pretrial Stipulation [Doc. No. 104] and/or (b) were not adjudicated in connection with the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law Regarding Motion by the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors for Summary Adjudication of Defendants' Liability for Breach of Fiduciary Duties and Accounting [Doc. No. 57]. See Order Dismissing Remaining Claims Without Prejudice [Doc. No. 136].

On December 29, 2017, the Court entered a Judgment in Favor of Plaintiff and Against Defendants, Jointly and Severally, in the Amount of $74,140,695.29 [Doc. No. 142] (the "Judgment"). On February 8, 2019, the District Court reversed and remanded the Judgment and the Order Granting the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Motion for Summary Adjudication of Defendants' Liability for Breach of Fiduciary Duties and Accounting [Doc. No. 58].

Having reviewed the Status Report filed by the Plan Administrator, the Court HEREBY ORDERS as follows:

- 1) The following litigation deadlines shall apply to the adjudication of the Plan Administrator's claims for breach of fiduciary duty and failure to account:
  - a) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 11/28/2019.
  - b) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to

(For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- c) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 12/24/2019. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - d) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 12/28/2019. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - e) A Pretrial Conference is set for 1/14/2020 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
  - f) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
    - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
    - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1.

The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.

- iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
- iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
- i) Trial is set for the week of 1/27/2020. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.

The Court will prepare and enter a Scheduling Order.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

4/15/2019

At the prior Status Conference, the Court advised the parties that it would set litigation deadlines in the event the action had not settled by the date of this Status Conference. The action has not settled. Good cause appearing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS as follows:

- 1) The following litigation deadlines shall apply:
  - a) A continued Status Conference is set for 6/11/2019 at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.
  - b) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 7/11/2019.
  - c) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 10/29/2019.
  - d) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 11/28/2019.
  - e) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 12/17/2019. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert

fr: 1-21-20

Docket 12

Tentative Ruling:

1/24/2020

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

1/24/2020

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend

Tentative Ruling:

1/25/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is DENIED, subject to the condition that Debtor must obtain an order authorizing sale of the Property by no later than June 15, 2020, either through a sale motion or approval of a Chapter 11 plan that provides for the Property's sale. The sale of the Property must close by no later than July 15, 2020. If the Debtor fails to comply with either deadline, the Court will grant the stay-relief requested herein, without further notice or hearing. In the event the Debtor fails to comply with these deadlines, Movant shall submit a declaration so attesting, accompanied by a proposed order lifting the automatic stay.

on December 19, 2019 (the "Petition Date") [Doc. No. 1]. On Schedule A/B, the Debtor listed an ownership interest in real property located at 15 Upper Blackwater Canyon Road, Rolling Hills, CA 90274 (the "Property") worth $7,950,000, based on the Debtor's fair market value estimation. On Schedule D, the Debtor listed the secured claim of So-Cal Capital, LLC (the "Movant"), the holder of a first-priority deed of trust on the Property, in the amount of $4,331,518. See Doc. No. 1; see also the Declaration of Patrick Lacey at 8, ¶ 11; Exs. A-C. In addition to Movant's interest, the Debtor states that the Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector and the Rolling Hills Community Association hold secured claims against the Property, in the amounts of $61,918.18 and $11,255.34 respectively. See Doc. No. 1. Larry Underwood, the Debtor's principal ("Underwood"), supplied the information in Debtor's schedules under penalty of perjury.

Summary of the Motion

On January 6, 2020, the Movant filed the "Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 9]. The Motion is primarily supported by the sworn declaration of Patrick Lacey (the "Lacey Declaration") and by the appraisal report prepared by Jared E. Harris (the "Movant's Appraisal") (Ex. C). Movant presently seeks relief from the automatic stay under § 362(d)(1) with regards to the Property. Pursuant to the terms of a promissory note securing Movant's deed of trust, Debtor was obligated to tender twelve interest-only payments on the first of every month, ending with a balloon payment on October 1, 2019. Lacey Declaration, ¶ 21. By the time the loan matured, the Debtor failed to make the balloon payment or the last three interest-only payments. Id., ¶ 31. The Movant took the following foreclosure actions relating to the Property: (a) notice of default recorded on August 22, 2019; (b) notice of sale recorded on November 25, 2019; and (c) although foreclosure sales were set for December 20, 2019 and January 10, 2020, no sale has yet taken place. Id., ¶ 9.

The Motion requests stay-relief pursuant to § 362(d)(1) on two separate grounds. First, Movant argues that its interest in the Property is not adequately protected as the Property's fair market value is declining and Debtor has ceased to make payments protecting Movant's interest against that decline. The Lacey Declaration states that Movant's total claim against the Property—inclusive of accrued interest, late charges, and costs (attorney's fees, foreclosure fees, and other costs)—is $4,355,880. Lacey Declaration, ¶ 8. As set forth in the Movant's Appraisal, the fair market value of the Property is $7,000,000 as of July 26, 2018. See id., Ex. C. Based on these figures, Movant calculates the approximate amount of its equity cushion is $2,644,120, or 37.8% of the Property's fair market value. Id., ¶ 11(g). Movant stresses that stay-relief is appropriate because Debtor has not tendered any payments since July 2019 and loan arrears are accruing at the rate of $67,750 per month. Id., ¶¶ 31, 34. In addition, on or about August 2019, the Property was listed for sale for the amount of $7,950,000. Id., ¶ 28. Based on conversations with the listing agent, and judging by the Property's high asking price, Mr. Lacey asserts that Underwood's stated intention to sell the Property is dubious. Id., ¶ 29. Mr. Lacey further avers that he is a licensed real estate broker in California and has experience in bankruptcy, valuation, complex litigation, and in other real estate projects. See id., ¶ 35. Based on his professional experience, Mr. Lacey claims that the Property "is likely to suffer a severe decrease in market price" in 2020 as anticipated by "industry analysts." See id.

Second, the Movant advances that this case was filed in bad faith because Debtor listed Movant as the only creditor, or one of few creditors. In support, the Movant attached Debtor's Verification of Master Mailing List of Creditors as Exhibit F of the Motion, which mentions only two other creditors apart from Movant. Although the Motion describes Underwood's pre-petition promises to bring the loan current, as well as Movant's frustrated efforts to foreclose on the Property, there are no other facts expressed in support of bad faith under § 362(d)(1).

Summary of the Opposition

On February 6, 2018, the Debtor filed a response to the Motion, which contains a memorandum of points and authorities (the "Opposing Brief") [Doc. No. 11]. The Debtor argues that the Motion should be denied because the Movant is protected by a substantial equity cushion, there is no evidence proffered supporting that the Property's value is declining, and the record here does not support that the case was filed in bad faith. At the outset, the Debtor disputes Movant's fair market valuation and affirms the Property's original valuation of $7,950,000. Debtor's valuation is supported by the Property's current listing price of $7,950,000, and by an appraisal report prepared by Kenny Cho on July 30, 2018, which sets fair market value at $8,400,000 (the "Debtor's Appraisal"). See Declaration of Lawrence Underwood ("Underwood Decl."), ¶ 4; Ex. 1. Based on these figures, the Debtor estimates that Movant's equity cushion is $3,544,346.89, or 44.6% of the Property's fair market value. That said, the Debtor recognizes that even under Movant's own calculations, Movant is protected by an equity cushion constituting 37.8% of Property's alleged value. Therefore, in accordance with the opinion in Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984), Movant is adequately protected and is in "no way at risk of not getting paid in full." Opposing Brief at 3. According to Underwood, there are numerous parties interested in buying the Property, which is likely to be sold within six months. Underwood Decl. ¶ 3.

The Debtor also disputes Movant's bad faith argument, contending that the single act of initiating bankruptcy to halt foreclosure is not bad faith. In support, the Debtor relies on the decision in In re Cal-Alta Props., Ltd., in which the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel considered a list of factors, reversing a finding of bad faith as the property at issue had over $1 million in equity, and the debtor-entity had not been formed on the eve of bankruptcy. Opposing Brief at 4 (citing In re Cal-Alta Props., Ltd., 87 B.R. 89, 92 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988)). In juxtaposition with In re Cal-Alta, the Debtor notes that Movant's interest is adequately protected by a significant equity cushion in the millions. The Debtor further argues the fact this case was commenced in response to a foreclosure sale does not indicate bad faith as Debtor is diligently advancing its case. Accordingly, Debtor has retained bankruptcy counsel, who is preparing an application to employ a real estate broker to facilitate the Property's sale. Therefore, the Motion should be denied.

Summary of the Reply

Movant filed its reply to the Opposition on January 21, 2020. In the Reply, the Movant stresses the necessity for stay-relief because the Property's equity cushion may be even less than projected in Movant's Appraisal, as well as based on the Debtor's bad faith. The Movant clarifies its bad faith argument by asserting that the lack of meaningful efforts to sell the Property evidences Debtor's bad faith. According to Movant, the Property's sale listing was cancelled on or about January 2, 2020 and the absence of a motion to approve a broker contradicts Debtor's claim that the Property will be sold within six months. See Reply at 2 (quoting Opposing Brief at 2:15-16). In addition, the Movant notes that Debtor has not identified any interested parties, and it failed to adjust the Property's listing price following its unsuccessful sale. See Reply at 3 (citing Lacey Decl., ¶ 28). The Movant further doubts Debtor's sincerity because the Property is not currently on sale. Separately, the Movant now claims that the Property's fair market value may be even lower as demonstrated by the recent sale of 3 Appaloosa Lane, Rolling Hills, CA 90274 (the "Appaloosa Property"), a residential property adjacent to the Property. Movant indicates that the Appaloosa Property is a 7,393-square-foot residence that was initially listed for $7,998,000 on April 16, 2018, but was only finally sold for $6,600,000 on August 9, 2019. See Lacey Decl. in Support of Reply, ¶ 8; Ex. J. The Movant argues that the prolonged sale of the Appaloosa Property evinces existing market volatility, and it implies a substantially lower equity cushion of 14.6% based on the Property's re-calculated market value of $5,577,678. In sum, the Movant requests that Court grants the Motion, or alternatively, that it directs the Debtor to tender monthly adequate protection payments of $64,700 and sell the Property within 90 days.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 362(g) provides that a party seeking relief from stay has the burden of proof on the issue of debtor's equity in the property, and the party opposing relief has the burden of proof on all other issues.

Value of the Property

As an initial matter, the Court must address the valuation of the Property. The Movant bears the initial burden to show there is no equity in the Property, which is in turn dependent upon the fair market value of the Property. See 11 U.S.C. § 362(g). The Movant posits that, based on the Movant's Appraisal, the Property has a value of $7,000,000, which may be even lower as supported by the sale of the Appaloosa Property. In contrast, the Debtor contends that the Property is worth $7,950,000 million based on the $8,400,000 valuation specified in the Debtor's Appraisal.

Bankruptcy courts have assessed the admissibility of appraisal reports for the purposes of a motion for relief from the automatic stay under the "business record" exception of the hearsay rule prescribed in Federal Rule of Evidence ("FRE") 803(6). See, e.g., In re Applin, 108 B.R. 253 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 1989); In re CGR Inv'rs Ltd. P'ship, 464 B.R. 678 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 2010). An admissible business record must meet three requirements: (1) it must be "kept in the course of a regularly conducted business activity"; (2) it must be "the regular practice of that business activity" to make the record; and (3) the "source of information or the method or circumstances of preparation" must not indicate lack of trustworthiness. Waddell v. Comm'r of Internal Revenue, 841 F.2d 264, 267 (9th Cir. 1988); FRE 803(6). Given that real estate appraisals generally lack "the circumstantial guarantees of trustworthiness," written appraisals may serve as evidence only if the opinion of valuation is supported "by the affidavit or deposition testimony of the appraiser laying a proper evidentiary foundation for the appraiser's expertise." In re Applin, 108 B.R. at 261 (citing Waddell, 841 F.2d at 267). The admissibility of such proffered evidence is a matter of discretion with the trial court. Waddell, 841 F.2d at 267.

The Court finds that the Debtor's Appraisal does not satisfy the admissibility requirements under FRE 803(6) because the document is not authenticated by the appraiser, Kenny Cho, and therefore, it is inadmissible. For the same reasons, the Court dismisses the Property's re-calculated value of $5,577,678 presented in the Reply, which was entirely derived from the sale of the Appaloosa Property [Note 1]. The Movant has far from established that the Property's value may be accurately determined by reference to the sale of one property alone, and one which may or may not be construed as a "comparable". This valuation method is only supported by Mr. Lacey's reply declaration, but there is no evidence proffered that Mr. Lacey is a qualified appraisal expert. In fact, reference to the Movant's Appraisal indicates that the Property's valuation analysis consisted of more than just one comparable real estate sale. See Lacey Decl., Ex. D (Movant's Appraisal took into consideration as many as ten (10) comparable sales within twelve months of its preparation.). In sum, the Movant has failed to establish that the valuation method presented in the Reply is trustworthy or accurate.

In contrast, the Court determines that the Movant's Appraisal satisfies the standard under FRE 803(6). In the Motion, the Movant presented Mr. Lacey's declaration to which the Movant's Appraisal was attached. Mr. Lacey, who declares to be a record custodian for Movant, establishes that soliciting real property appraisals prior to the closing of promissory notes secured by real property is in "the ordinary course of business" for the Movant. Lacey Decl., ¶ 2. In addition, the appraiser attached his appraiser license and an affidavit certifying the statements of fact contained therein. See generally Lacey Decl., Ex. D. Notwithstanding the admissibility of Movant's Appraisal, the Court places little weight in the Property's valuation of $7,000,000 because the effective appraisal date is July 26, 2018, nearly seventeen (17) months before the Petition Date and the initial foreclosure sale date. Therefore, the Court determines that both appraisals are inapt to determine the Property's value. See In re Deico Electronics, Inc., 139 B.R. 945, 947 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1992) (holding that bankruptcy courts must determine value of collateral in adequate protection analyses as of the date creditor would have obtained state law remedies had petition not been filed.).

The Court finds that the best existing measure of the Property's fair market value comes from Debtor's schedules, and thereby finds that the Property has a value of $7,950,000. See In re Cocreham, Nos. 13-26465-A-13J, PGM-2, 2013 Bankr. LEXIS 3537, at *6-7 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. Aug. 23, 2013) (determining that the debtor, as a homeowner, was competent to offer a lay opinion as to its value).

11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1)

A. Lack of Adequate Protection

Under § 362(d)(1), the court shall grant relief "for cause, including the lack of adequate protection of an interest in property of such party in interest." Generally, what constitutes cause for purposes of § 362(d) "has no clear definition and is determined on a case-by-case basis." In re Tucson Estates, Inc., 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir. 1990); see also Little Creek Dev. Co. v. Commonwealth Mortgage Corp. (In the Matter of Little Creek Dev. Co.), 779 F.2d 1068, 1072 (5th Cir. 1986) (relief from the automatic stay may "be granted 'for cause,' a term not defined in the statute so as to afford flexibility to the bankruptcy courts"). However, cause under § 362(d)(1) expressly includes a lack of adequate protection. Section 361 sets forth three non-exclusive examples of what may constitute adequate protection: (1) periodic cash payments equivalent to decrease in value; (2) an additional or replacement lien on other property; or (3) other relief that provides the indubitable equivalent. See In re Mellor, 734 F.2d at 1400. The Ninth Circuit has established that an equity cushion of at least 20% constitutes adequate protection for a secured creditor. Id. at 1401; see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral).

Here, the Property's fair market value is determined to be $7,950,000, and it is uncontested that the amount of Movant's claim is approximately $4,355,880. There are no claims senior to Movant's lien. Based on these figures, the Court finds that Movant is adequately protected by an equity cushion of $3,594,120, which constitutes 45.2% of the Property's fair market value. Moreover, the Movant has not established its contention that the Property is declining in value. Apart from Mr. Lacey's uncorroborated conclusion that the Property's value is likely to drop this year, the Movant has not proffered documents or expert testimony indicating that the Property has in fact declined in value. In sum, the Court determines that Movant is not entitled to relief for lack of adequate protection at this time.

B. Bad Faith

As many cases have recognized, a "debtor's lack of good faith in filing a petition for bankruptcy may be the basis for lifting the automatic stay" under §362(d) (1). In re Laguna Assocs. Ltd. P'ship, 30 F.3d 734, 737 (6th Cir. 1994); see also Carolin Corp. v. Miller, 886 F.2d 693, 699 (4th Cir. 1989) ("Section 362(d)(1)'s 'for cause' language authorizes the court to determine whether, with respect to the interests of a creditor seeking relief, a debtor has sought the protection of the automatic stay in good faith."); In re Arnold, 806 F.2d 937, 939 (9th Cir. 1986) ("The debtor's lack of good faith in filing a bankruptcy petition has often been used as a cause for removing the automatic stay."). "Good faith is an amorphous notion, largely defined by factual inquiry. In a good faith analysis, the infinite variety of factors facing any particular debtor must be weighed carefully." In re Okoreeh-Baah, 836 F.2d 1030, 1033 (6th Cir. 1988). The determination of bad faith depends on an amalgam of various factors and not upon a single fact. See Matter of Littlecreek Development Co., 779 F.2d 1068, 1072 (5th Cir.1986). Bankruptcy courts should examine factors that may include "the debtor's financial condition, motives, and the local financial realities." Id.

Here, Movant's bad faith argument rests on the fact that Debtor listed Movant as one of few creditors in its commencement documents. Additionally, Movant claims that Debtor is not seriously intending to sell the Property. The facts presented by Movant are not sufficient to reach a finding of bad faith. Although the Court notes that the Debtor listed only three creditors and commenced this case just before the original foreclosure sale date, these facts do not persuade the Court that Debtor engaged in bad faith. See Matter of Littlecreek Development Co., 779 F.2d at 1073 ("filing a bankruptcy petition on the eve of a scheduled foreclosure sale is not, by itself, sufficient to constitute bad faith") (internal citations omitted). There are countervailing factors here indicating that this bankruptcy case is legitimate. For instance, Underwood, the Debtor's principal, declares that the bankruptcy petition was filed to permit the Debtor to sell the Property and pay off secured creditors. With that objective in mind, the Debtor has retained counsel and will seek to employ a real estate broker to sell the property. The Court verifies that an application to employ the Law Offices of Michael Jay Berger was granted on January 22, 2020 [Doc. No. 15].

And although the Debtor basically holds only one asset, i.e., the Property, it fully secures all three secured claims. Having reviewed the Debtor's first monthly operating report [Doc. No. 12], the Court further notes that Debtor has opened a debtor-in-possession account. Additionally, there is no evidence that the Debtor was incorporated for the single purpose of seeking bankruptcy relief, or otherwise that the Property was transferred to Debtor on the eve of the bankruptcy filing.

Having considered the facts of this matter in their totality, the Court cannot conclude that Debtor's bankruptcy petition was filed in bad faith.

Therefore, Movant has not established entitlement to relief from stay pursuant to § 362(d)(1).

Alternative Relief

Movant's request for an order requiring Debtor to sell the Property within 90 days is DENIED. As indicated by the Appaloosa Property sale, highly-valued real estate in an affluent neighborhood may take a longer to successfully market and sell. Therefore, the Court finds that a deadline set approximately four months away should afford Debtor a suitable amount of time to sell the Property. The Court believes this time frame will induce the Debtor to act diligently, and it is apropos given Movant's approximate equity cushion of more than $3 million, which is approximately forty-six (46) times the arrearage amount accruing on the Property each month.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED, subject to the condition that Debtor must obtain an order authorizing sale of the Property by no later than June 15, 2020, either through a sale motion or approval of a Chapter 11 plan that provides for the Property's sale. The sale of the Property must close by no later than July 15, 2020. If the Debtor fails to comply with either deadline, the Court will grant the stay-relief requested herein, without further notice or hearing. In the event the Debtor fails to comply with these deadlines, Movant shall submit a declaration so attesting, accompanied by a proposed order lifting the automatic stay.

The Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Note 1: The re-calculated value of the Property appears to be based off of the purchase price for the Appaloosa Property, which amounts to $893 per square footage, not to $892 as indicated in the Reply. See Reply at 5. Movant's re-calculated valuation of the Property is as follows: 6,246 (the Property's alleged total square footage) x $893 [square footage price of Appaloosa Property] = $5,577,678.

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 26

Tentative Ruling:

2/3/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion for Default Judgment is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Plaintiff's Motion for Default Judgment Under LBR 7055-1 (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 26]
  - a) Notice of Motion for Default Judgment [Doc. No. 27]
- 2) No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Fu Kong, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 26, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). On January 9, 2019, the Court entered an order converting the case to Chapter 7. Doc. No. 115.

On August 6, 2019, the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") commenced this avoidance action against George Hsu (the "Defendant"). The Clerk of the Court entered Defendant's default on December 4, 2019. The Trustee now moves for entry of default judgment against the Defendant. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Once default has been entered, the well-pleaded factual allegations of the complaint are taken as true. Cripps v. Life Ins. Co. of North America, 980 F.2d 1261, 1267 (9th Cir.1992). Based upon the Complaint's well-pleaded allegations and the evidence submitted in support of the Motion, the Court finds that the Trustee is entitled to judgment against the Defendant in the amount of $1,233,373.48.

Chapter 7

Section 547(b) permits the Trustee to avoid "any transfer of an interest of the debtor in property" if the transfer was:

- 1) to or for the benefit of a creditor;
- 2) for or on account of an antecedent debt owed by the debtor before such transfer was made;
- 3) made while the debtor was insolvent;
- 4) made—
  - a) on or within 90 days before the date of the filing of the petition; or
  - b) between ninety days and one year before the date of the filing of the petition, if such creditor at the time of such transfer was an insider; and
- 5) that enables such creditor to receive more than such creditor would receive if—
  - a) the case were a case under chapter 7 of this title;
  - b) the transfer had not been made; and
  - c) such creditor received payment of such debt to the extent provided by the provisions of this title.

For purposes of § 547(b), a "transfer" means:

- a) the creation of a lien;
- b) the retention of title as a security interest;
- c) the foreclosure of a debtor's equity of redemption; or
- d) each mode, direct or indirect, absolute or conditional, voluntary or involuntary, of disposing of or parting with—
  - i) property; or
  - ii) an interest in property.

It is the Trustee's burden to establish all the elements of § 547(b) by a preponderance of the evidence. §547(g); Hall-Mark Electronics Corp. v. Sims (In re Lee), 179 B.R. 149, 155 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995) aff'd, 108 F.3d 239 (9th Cir. 1997). Section 547(c) sets forth certain defenses to transfer liability. The Defendant has the burden of establishing that the § 547(c) defenses apply, again under the preponderance of the evidence standard. § 547(g).

transfers avoidable under § 547(b) and that Defendant is an insider of the Debtor. The Complaint and the exhibits attached thereto establish that within the one-year period prior to the Petition Date, the Defendant received preferential transfers in the total amount of $120,923.48 (consisting of $6,458.71 in SOFA Transfers and $114,464.77 in One-Year 3048 Transfers [Note 1]).

The Trustee is Entitled to Judgment on the Fourth Claim for Relief Under § 548(a)(1)(A)

Section 548(a)(1)(A) provides: “The trustee may avoid any transfer ... of an interest of the debtor in property ... that was made or incurred on or within 2 years before the date of the filing of the petition, if the debtor voluntarily or involuntarily made such transfer ... with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud any entity to which the debtor was or became, on or after the date that such transfer was made ... indebted.”

Because “it is often impracticable, on direct evidence, to demonstrate an actual intent to hinder, delay or defraud creditors,” courts “frequently infer fraudulent intent from the circumstances surrounding the transfer, taking particular note of certain recognized indicia or badges of fraud.” Acequia, Inc. v. Clinton (In re Acequia, Inc.), 34 F.3d 800, 805 (9th Cir. 1994). Those badges of fraud include “(1) actual or threatened litigation against the debtor; (2) a purported transfer of all or substantially all of the debtor’s property; (3) insolvency or other unmanageable indebtedness on the part of the debtor; (4) a special relationship between the debtor and the transferee; and, after the transfer, (5) retention by the debtor of the property involved in the putative transfer.” Id.

The Complaint and the exhibits attached thereto establish that within the two years prior to the Petition Date, the Defendant received transfers avoidable under § 548(a)(1)(A) in the amount of $433,323.48 (consisting of $6,458.71 in SOFA Transfers, $114,464.77 in One-Year 3048 Transfers, and $312,400 in Two-Year 3048 Transfers).

The Trustee is Entitled to Judgment on the Second Claim for Relief Under § 544(b), Applying Cal. Civ. Code § 3439.04(a)(1)

Section 544(b)(1) permits the trustee to "avoid any transfer of an interest of the debtor in property ... that is voidable under applicable law by a creditor holding an unsecured claim that is allowable under section 502 of this title or that is not allowable only under section 502(e) of this title." The "applicable law" in this case is

The Complaint and the exhibits attached thereto establish that within the four years prior to the Petition Date, the Defendant received transfers avoidable under § 544(b), applying Cal. Civ. Code § 3439.04(a)(1), in the amount of $1,223,373.48 (consisting of $6,458.71 in SOFA Transfers, $114,464.77 in One-Year 3048 Transfers, $312,400 in Two-Year 3048 Transfers, and $790,050 in Four-Year 3048 Transfers).

The Trustee is Entitled to Judgment on the Fifth Claim for Relief Under § 548(a)(1)(B)

Section 548(a)(1)(B) provides that a transfer is avoidable if the debtor "received less than a reasonably equivalent value in exchange for such transfer" and if the debtor:

- 1) was insolvent on the date that such transfer was made ... or became insolvent as a result of such transfer ...;
- 2) was engaged in a business or a transaction, or was about to engage in a business or a transaction, for which any property remaining with the debtor was an unreasonably small capital;
- 3) intended to incur, or believed that the debtor would incur, debts that would be beyond the debtor's ability to pay as such debts matured; or
- 4) made such transfer to or for the benefit of an insider ... under an employment contract and not in the ordinary course of business.

§ 548(a)(1)(B).

The Complaint and the exhibits attached thereto establish that within the two years prior to the Petition Date, the Defendant received transfers avoidable under § 548(a)(1)(B) in the amount of $433,323.48 (consisting of $6,458.71 in SOFA Transfers, $114,464.77 in One-Year 3048 Transfers, and $312,400 in Two-Year 3048 Transfers).

Chapter 7

Section 544(b) authorizes the avoidance of transfers under applicable state law. California Civ. Code § 3439.05, which is similar to § 548(a)(1)(B), provides that a "transfer made ... by a debtor is fraudulent as to a creditor whose claim arose before the transfer was made ... if the debtor made the transfer ... without receiving reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfer ... and the debtor was insolvent at that time or the debtor became insolvent as a result of the transfer."

For the same reasons that the Transfers were constructively fraudulent under § 548(a)(1)(B), the Transfers are constructively fraudulent under § 544(b), applying California Code of Civil Procedure § 3439.05.

The Complaint and the exhibits attached thereto establish that within the four years prior to the Petition Date, the Defendant received transfers avoidable under § 544(b), applying Cal. Civ. Code § 3439.05, in the amount of $1,223,373.48 (consisting of $6,458.71 in SOFA Transfers, $114,464.77 in One-Year 3048 Transfers, $312,400 in Two-Year 3048 Transfers, and $790,050 in Four-Year 3048 Transfers).

The Trustee is Entitled to Judgment on the Sixth Claim for Relief Under § 550(a)

Where a transfer has been avoided under §§ 544 or 548, § 550(a) authorizes the trustee to "recover, for the benefit of the estate, the property transferred, or, if the court so orders, the value of such property ...."

The Trustee is entitled to recovery of the avoided transfers pursuant to § 550(a).

The Trustee is Entitled to Judgment on the Seventh Claim for Relief Under § 551

Section 551 provides that transfers avoided under §§ 544 or 548 are preserved for the benefit of the estate.

The Trustee is entitled to preservation of the avoided transfers pursuant to § 551.

The Trustee is Entitled to an Order Directing Defendant to Turnover the Avoided Transfers to the Estate

The Trustee seeks entry of an order directing the Defendant to turnover the avoided transfers to the Trustee. The Court finds entry of such an order to be appropriate.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Trustee is entitled to entry of judgment against the Defendant, in the total amount of $1,233,373.48. Within seven days of the hearing,

#3.00 HearingRE: [37] Motion Plaintiff's Motion for Default Judgment Under LBR 7055-1

Docket 37

Tentative Ruling:

2/3/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion for Default Judgment is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Plaintiff's Motion for Default Judgment Under LBR 7055-1 (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 37]
  - a) Notice of Motion for Default Judgment [Doc. No. 33]
- 2) No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Fu Kong, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 26, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). On January 9, 2019, the Court entered an order converting the case to Chapter 7. Doc. No. 115.

On August 6, 2019, the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") commenced this avoidance action against Lillian Yu-Li Hsu (the "Defendant"). The Clerk of the Court entered Defendant's default on December 20, 2019. The Trustee now moves for entry of default judgment against the Defendant. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Once default has been entered, the well-pleaded factual allegations of the complaint are taken as true. Cripps v. Life Ins. Co. of North America, 980 F.2d 1261, 1267 (9th Cir.1992). Based upon the Complaint's well-pleaded allegations and the evidence submitted in support of the Motion, the Court finds that the Trustee is entitled to judgment against the Defendant in the amount of $1,233,373.48.

Chapter 7

Section 547(b) permits the Trustee to avoid "any transfer of an interest of the debtor in property" if the transfer was:

- 1) to or for the benefit of a creditor;
- 2) for or on account of an antecedent debt owed by the debtor before such transfer was made;
- 3) made while the debtor was insolvent;
- 4) made—
  - a) on or within 90 days before the date of the filing of the petition; or
  - b) between ninety days and one year before the date of the filing of the petition, if such creditor at the time of such transfer was an insider; and
- 5) that enables such creditor to receive more than such creditor would receive if—
  - a) the case were a case under chapter 7 of this title;
  - b) the transfer had not been made; and
  - c) such creditor received payment of such debt to the extent provided by the provisions of this title.

For purposes of § 547(b), a "transfer" means:

- a) the creation of a lien;
- b) the retention of title as a security interest;
- c) the foreclosure of a debtor's equity of redemption; or
- d) each mode, direct or indirect, absolute or conditional, voluntary or involuntary, of disposing of or parting with—
  - i) property; or
  - ii) an interest in property.

§ 101(54).

It is the Trustee's burden to establish all the elements of §547(b) by a preponderance of the evidence. §547(g); Hall-Mark Electronics Corp. v. Sims (In re Lee), 179 B.R. 149, 155 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995) aff'd, 108 F.3d 239 (9th Cir. 1997). Section 547(c) sets forth certain defenses to transfer liability. The Defendant has the burden of establishing that the § 547(c) defenses apply, again under the preponderance of the evidence standard. § 547(g).

The Trustee has alleged facts sufficient to establish that the Defendant received transfers avoidable under § 547(b) and that Defendant is an insider of the Debtor. The Complaint and the exhibits attached thereto establish that within the one year prior to the Petition Date, the Defendant received preferential transfers in the total amount of $152,602.

The Trustee is Entitled to Judgment on the Second Claim for Relief Under § 548(a)(1)(A)

Section 548(a)(1)(A) provides: “The trustee may avoid any transfer ... of an interest of the debtor in property ... that was made or incurred on or within 2 years before the date of the filing of the petition, if the debtor voluntarily or involuntarily made such transfer ... with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud any entity to which the debtor was or became, on or after the date that such transfer was made ... indebted.”

Because “it is often impracticable, on direct evidence, to demonstrate an actual intent to hinder, delay or defraud creditors,” courts “frequently infer fraudulent intent from the circumstances surrounding the transfer, taking particular note of certain recognized indicia or badges of fraud.” Acequia, Inc. v. Clinton (In re Acequia, Inc.), 34 F.3d 800, 805 (9th Cir. 1994). Those badges of fraud include “(1) actual or threatened litigation against the debtor; (2) a purported transfer of all or substantially all of the debtor’s property; (3) insolvency or other unmanageable indebtedness on the part of the debtor; (4) a special relationship between the debtor and the transferee; and, after the transfer, (5) retention by the debtor of the property involved in the putative transfer.” Id.

The Complaint and the exhibits attached thereto establish that within the two years prior to the Petition Date, the Defendant received transfers avoidable under § 548(a)(1)(A) in the amount of $152,602.

The Trustee is Entitled to Judgment on the Third Claim for Relief Under § 548(a)(1)(B)

Section 548(a)(1)(B) provides that a transfer is avoidable if the debtor "received less than a reasonably equivalent value in exchange for such transfer" and if the debtor:

- 1) was insolvent on the date that such transfer was made ... or became insolvent as a result of such transfer ...;
- 2) was engaged in a business or a transaction, or was about to engage in a

- 4) made such transfer to or for the benefit of an insider ... under an employment contract and not in the ordinary course of business.

§ 548(a)(1)(B).

The Complaint and the exhibits attached thereto establish that within the two years prior to the Petition Date, the Defendant received transfers avoidable under § 548(a)(1)(B) in the amount of $152,602.

The Trustee is Entitled to Judgment on the Fourth Claim for Relief Under § 550(a)

Where a transfer has been avoided, § 550(a) authorizes the trustee to "recover, for the benefit of the estate, the property transferred, or, if the court so orders, the value of such property ...."

The Trustee is entitled to recovery of the avoided transfers pursuant to § 550(a).

The Trustee is Entitled to Judgment on the Fifth Claim for Relief Under § 551

Section 551 provides that avoided transfers are preserved for the benefit of the estate. The Trustee is entitled to preservation of the avoided transfers pursuant to § 551.

The Trustee is Entitled to an Order Directing Defendant to Turnover the Avoided Transfers to the Estate

The Trustee seeks entry of an order directing the Defendant to turnover the avoided transfers to the Trustee. The Court finds entry of such an order to be appropriate.

Tentative Ruling:

2/3/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED, without prejudice to the Committee's ability to move to terminate exclusivity for cause at any time, pursuant to § 1121(d)(1).

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 2) Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Response to Debtors' Motion for Entry of an Order Pursuant to Section 1121 of the Bankruptcy Code Extending the Exclusive Periods to File a Chapter 11 Plan and Solicit Acceptances [Doc. No. 3925]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018, Verity Health System of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

On December 6, 2019, the Court entered an order extending the exclusive period for the Debtors to file a plan to December 31, 2019 and to solicit acceptances to February 29, 2019. Doc. No. 3769.

The Debtors move to further extend the exclusivity period to March 2, 2020 (filing

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") does not object to the Motion, but reserves its right to seek termination of exclusivity pursuant to § 1121(d)(1) at any time.

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 1121(b) gives the Debtor the exclusive right to file a plan during the first 120 days after the date of the order for relief. Section 1121(d) permits the Court to reduce or increase the exclusivity period "for cause." Section 1121 provides the bankruptcy court "maximum flexibility to suit various types of reorganization proceedings." In re Public Service Company of New Hampshire, 88 B.R. 521, 534 (Bankr. D.N.H. 1988). A "transcendent consideration is whether adjustment of exclusivity will facilitate moving the case forward toward a fair and equitable resolution." Official Comm. of Unsecured Creditors v. Henry Mayo Newhall Mem'l Hosp. (In re Henry Mayo Newhall Mem'l Hosp.), 282 B.R. 444, 453 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2002). In determining whether cause exists to extend the exclusivity period, courts consider a variety of factors, including:

- 1) the size and complexity of the case;
- 2) the necessity of sufficient time to permit the debtor to negotiate a plan of reorganization and prepare adequate information;
- 3) the existence of good faith progress toward reorganization;
- 4) the fact that the debtor is paying its bills as they become due;
- 5) whether the debtor has demonstrated reasonable prospects for filing a viable plan;
- 6) whether the debtor has made progress in negotiations with its creditors;
- 7) the amount of time which has elapsed in the case;
- 8) whether the debtor is seeking an extension of exclusivity in order to pressure creditors to submit to the debtor's reorganization demands; and
- 9) whether an unresolved contingency exists.

In re Dow Corning Corp., 208 B.R. 661, 664–65 (Bankr. E.D. Mich. 1997).

The Court finds that cause exists to further extend the exclusivity period to March 2, 2020 (filing a plan) and April 30, 2020 (obtaining acceptances), as requested by the Debtors. This extension is without prejudice to the Committee's ability to seek to terminate exclusivity for cause at any time, pursuant to § 1121(d)(1).

An extension of exclusivity is warranted for multiple reasons. First, these are complex cases. In addition to bankruptcy law, the Debtors' sale of their hospitals implicates issues of healthcare regulatory law, labor law, and mergers and acquisitions law. Second, the Debtors have made significant progress in these cases. The Debtors' sale of O'Connor Hospital ("O'Connor") and Saint Louise Regional Hospital ("Saint Louise") to the County of Santa Clara closed on February 28, 2019. The Debtors made a diligent effort to close the Court-approved sale of their remaining hospitals to Strategic Global Management (the "SGM Sale"). After the SGM Sale did not close, the Debtors began marketing the remaining hospitals to alternative buyers.

Third, the Debtors require additional time to sell their remaining hospitals. The sale of the remaining hospitals is a prerequisite to confirming a Plan of Liquidation.

Fourth, the Debtors are paying their ordinary course administrative expense as they come due. As a result, creditors are not prejudiced by the requested extension.

Fifth, the Debtors have filed a Plan. Although objections to the Plan remain outstanding, the Debtors are working with stakeholders to resolve issues through an amended Plan.

Sixth, the cases have not been pending for an unreasonable amount of time in view of their complexity. The cases have been pending for approximately seven months.

Seventh, the Debtors did not seek the extension to pressure creditors, as evidenced by the fact that the Debtors continue to negotiate with the Committee to attempt to resolve the Committee's objections to the Plan.

Eighth, various unresolved contingencies exist, the most significant of which is the need to pursue alternative transactions for the sale of the remaining hospitals.

In sum, consideration of the Dow Corning factors supports the extension of exclusivity requested by the Debtors. The Motion is GRANTED, without prejudice to the Committee's ability to move to terminate exclusivity for cause at any time, pursuant to § 1121(d)(1).

The Debtors shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference within seven days of the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

JW Wireless, Inc. (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on May 17, 2016. John J. Menchaca, the Chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee"), proposes to sell all known and unknown remaining assets of the estate (the "Remnant Assets"), which exclude the following: (a) cash [Note 1], (b) "Goods" (as that term is defined in § 9-102(a)(44) of the UCC), (c) the purchase price of the Remnant Assets, and (d) the claims and related proceeds held by the estate against the Adversary Proceeding Parties. The proposed purchaser is Oak Point Partners, LLC ("Oak Point"). The purchase price is $4,000. The Trustee is not currently aware of any Remnant Assets. The Trustee asserts that the sale of the Remnant Assets allows the estate to realize additional funds, and it provides an efficient means to close the case, while avoiding the expense associated with reopening the case in the future to administer later-discovered assets. In addition, a UCC search did not disclose any liens on the Remnant Assets (Exhibit B of the Sale Motion), and the Trustee has not received any notice of claims, liens, or interests. Therefore, the Trustee submits that any asserted lien, interest, or claim would be in bona fide dispute.

The sale is subject to overbids; however, no overbidders contacted the Trustee within the deadline set forth in the Sale Motion. Accordingly, the Trustee requests that appearances at the Sale Hearing be waived. No opposition to the Sale Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(b) permits the Trustee to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The Trustee must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20. Section 363(f) provides that estate property may be sold free and clear of liens, claims, and interests, providing one of the following conditions is satisfied:

- 1) Applicable nonbankruptcy law permits sale of such property free and clear of such interest;
- 2) Such entity consents;
- 3) Such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;
- 4) Such interest is in bona fide dispute; or
- 5) Such entity could be compelled, in a legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a money satisfaction of such interest.

The Trustee's UCC search has not revealed any liens asserted against the Remnant Assets. Furthermore, the Remnant Assets include unknown assets of the estate and therefore cannot be delineated with particularity. The Trustee asserts that to the extent that any interests may be asserted in the Remnant Assets §363(f) has been satisfied.

The sale is approved free and clear of liens, claims, and interests, pursuant to § 363(f). Although the sale of unknown assets does not permit the kind of precise analysis that the Court normally undertakes when applying §363(f), sales of unknown assets have become common in bankruptcy, and have been recognized by courts as a useful and efficient means of allowing Trustees to complete the administration of the estate. Moreover, the Trustee has demonstrated sufficient business justification for the sale. The sale is consistent with the Trustee's statutory obligation to liquidate the estate's assets. Additionally, to the extent that any liens are asserted against the Remnant Assets in the future, the Court finds that any such lien would be in bona fide dispute. Pursuant to § 363(f)(4), the Court finds it appropriate to approve the sale, free and clear of liens, claims, and interests, with such liens, claims and interests (if any) to attach to the sale proceeds.

Good Faith Determination Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 363(m)

Having reviewed the declaration of the Trustee submitted in support of the Sale Motion, the Court finds that the sale to Oak Point was negotiated at arm's length and in good faith. Oak Point is entitled to the protections of § 363(m) as a good-faith purchaser.

Auction Procedures

The overbidding procedures set forth in the Sale Motion are approved as specified below.

Chapter 7

The Sale Motion states that overbidders were required to contact the Trustee by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing if they wished to submit an overbid. Each competing bidder is required to submit a cashier's check to the Trustee in the amount of their first overbid. Any overbidder is required to purchase the Remnant Assets under the same terms and conditions specified in the purchase agreement, other than the purchase price.

The Sale Motion further states that no auction would take place if the Trustee did not receive a timely bid from a qualified overbidder. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Trustee has not advised the Court that any overbids were received. Therefore, the Court will approve the sale of the Remnant Assets to Oak Point, will not conduct an auction, and will waive appearances at the Sale Hearing.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Sale Motion is GRANTED.

The Trustee shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven (7) days of the hearing. Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h), the order approving the sale shall take immediate effect upon entry.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. RE: [3] Motion For Order (1) Approving Retention Agreement Of Wilshire Partners Of CA, LLC And (2) Authorizing Monthly Fee Statement Procedures And Payment, With Proof Of Service

Tentative Ruling:

2/03/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Motion for Order (1) Approving Engagement Agreement of Wilshire Partners of CA, LLC and (2) Authorizing Monthly Fee Statement Procedures and Payment (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 3]
  - a) First Day Declaration of Richard J. Laski [Doc. No. 7]
  - b) Supplemental Declaration of Richard J. Laski in Support of [Motion] (the "Supplemental Laski Decl.") [Doc. No. 40]
  - c) Notice of [Motion] [Doc. No. 4]
- 2) No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On January 10, 2020 (the "Petition Date"), 450 S. Western, LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition.

The Debtor owns and operates a three-story, 80,316 square foot shopping center—commonly known as California Marketplace—located at the intersection of South Western Avenue and 5th Street. The shopping center serves the Los Angeles Korean community and contains 28 stores. As of the Petition Date, the shopping center had a 98% occupancy rate.

The Debtor moves for an order approving a pre-petition agreement (the "Agreement") to engage Richard J. Laski of Wilshire Partners of CA, LLC ("Wilshire Partners") as the Debtor's Chief Restructuring Officer (the "CRO"). The Debtor seeks authorization to pay the CRO under § 363. The Debtor does not seek to employ the CRO as an estate professional under § 327.

The material terms of the Agreement are as follows:

- 1) Laski shall not be paid more than $30,000 per month, although any fees earned in excess of $30,000 per month may be rolled over and paid in subsequent months, in the event that subsequent monthly fees are less than $30,000.
- 2) On the fifteenth day of each month, Wilshire Partners shall file and serve a statement of fees earned during the preceding calendar month (the “Fee Statement”). Any interested party shall have ten days to object to the Fee Statement. If an objection is filed, a hearing on approval of the Fee Statement will be set by the Debtor, and the fees shall be subject to review and approval by the Court. If no objection is filed, or if an objection is filed but is resolved, the Debtor shall be authorized to pay Wilshire Partners, provided that such payments are consistent with the Debtor’s cash collateral budget.

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 327(a) provides that the Debtor may employ professionals upon approval of the Court. For purposes of § 327(a), “‘professional person’ is limited to persons in those occupations which play a central role in the administration of the debtor proceeding. Court approval is required for the retention of attorneys, accountants, appraisers, auctioneers and persons in other professions intimately involved in the administration of the estate.” Matter of Delta Petroleum (P.R.) Ltd., 164 B.R. 425, 427–28 (Bankr. D.P.R. 1994).

Section 363(b) authorizes the Debtor to use property of the estate outside of the ordinary course of business. Courts have authorized the retention of CROs under § 363(b) rather than under § 327(a). As explained by one court:

The role of a CRO is often critical to success in bankruptcy. The CRO is responsible for leading the company through the bankruptcy process with the help of debtor’s counsel. The reason the CRO issue continually arises in chapter 11 cases is because the role of CRO is critical and necessary in many chapter 11 cases where previous management has been released or has

The benefits of using 11 U.S.C. § 363(b) are that the CRO does not have to be disinterested, the CRO is not required to file fee applications for review under 11 U.S.C. § 330 and the CRO can be covered by the existing directors' and officers' liability insurance or otherwise be indemnified.

In re Ajubeo LLC, No. BR 17-17924-JGR, 2017 WL 5466655, at *3 (D. Colo. Sept. 27, 2017).

In response to concerns raised by the United States Trustee (the "UST"), the CRO filed a supplemental declaration in support of the Motion (the "Supplemental Decl."). The Supplemental Decl. provides in relevant part:

For the avoidance of doubt neither I nor Wilshire partners have been engaged to provide valuation, accounting, or investment banking services to the Debtor. Rather, as provided for in the CRO Motion, I have been engaged as the chief restructuring officer ("CRO") to run the Debtor's business in this chapter 11 bankruptcy case, provide direction to estate professionals and make executive decisions with respect to the Company.

Supplemental Decl. at ¶ 3.

The UST has not filed an objection to the Motion. No other party has filed an objection to the Motion.

The Court will approve the Agreement pursuant to § 363(b) and will not require the CRO to seek employment under § 327(a). The provisions of the Agreement contain sufficient safeguards to insure that the CRO's fees are proportionate to the services rendered. Specifically, parties in interest have an opportunity to object to the CRO's fees, and any objections will be adjudicated by the Court. The CRO's monthly fees are capped at $30,000. Further, payments to the CRO must be consistent with the Debtor's cash collateral budget.

The CRO will not provide valuation, accounting, or investment banking services to the Debtor. Given this limitation upon the scope of the CRO's services, the Court finds that the Debtor is not required to retain the CRO as a "professional person" pursuant to § 327(a). For purposes of § 327(a), a "professional person" is limited to those individuals who provide services that "play a central role in the administration of the debtor proceeding." Delta Petroleum, 164 B.R. at 427-28. Although the CRO's services will have an effect upon the estate's administration, they will not be central to estate administration because the CRO will not provide valuation, accounting, or investment banking advice.

In addition, the Court notes that the retention of CROs upon terms substantially similar to those proposed here has been approved in other cases in this district. See, e.g., In re Westcliff Medical Laboratories, Inc. [Case No. 8:10-bk-16743-TA – Dkt. No. 64]; In re Barley Forge Brewing Company, LLC [Case No. 8:19-13920-TA – Dkt. No. 63].

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. Within seven days of the hearing, the Debtor shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

Chapter 7

#25.00 HearingRE: [35] Motion to Approve Compromise Under Rule 9019 ; and for Approval of Payment of Contingency and Special Counsel Fees (Dye (TR), Carolyn)

Docket 35

Tentative Ruling:

2/4/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Settlement Agreement is APPROVED and the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Chapter 7 Trustee's Motion for Approval of (i) Settlement Agreement and Release of Claims Arising Out of State Court Case (18STCV01848) and (ii) for Approval of Payment of Contingency and Special Counsel Fees (the "Motion")
  - a) Notice of [Motion] [Doc. No. 36]
- 2) No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") seeks approval of a Settlement Agreement and Release (the "Settlement Agreement"). No opposition to the Motion is on file.

Pepper Carlson (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on May 25, 2018. The Debtor received a discharge on September 4, 2018, and the Debtor's case was closed on September 5, 2018. The case was reopened on February 7, 2019, to provide the Trustee the opportunity to administer an undisclosed asset—the Debtor's claims for wage and hour violations, asserted in an action pending before the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court Action").

On July 24, 2019, the Court authorized the Trustee to employ Akerman LLP ("Akerman") to estimate the value of the State Court Action. Doc. No. 28 (the "Akerman Employment Order"). Akerman was employed pursuant to § 328, and its compensation is capped at $4,500 absent further order of the Court. The Trustee selected Akerman because it typically defends employers in wage and hour litigation, and the Trustee wanted a valuation estimate from the defense perspective.

On September 24, 2019, the Court authorized the Trustee to employ Danny Yadision to prosecute the estate's interest in the State Court Action. Doc. No. 33 (the "Yadision Employment Order"). Yadision was employed on a contingency fee basis pursuant to § 328, and is entitled to receive 40% of the gross recovery in the State Court Action.

After consulting with Akerman, the Trustee decided to reject an early settlement offered by the Defendants, and requested that Yadision continue to prosecute the State Court Action. The parties subsequently reached the Settlement Agreement, which will provide the estate net proceeds of $66,022.50. The material terms of the Settlement Agreement are as follows:

- 1) The total settlement amount is $135,000 (the "Settlement Amount"). [Note 1]
- 2) Of the Settlement Amount, $6,750 will be attributed to the settlement and release of Plaintiff's claims under the Private Attorneys General Act ("PAGA") (Plaintiff asserts the PAGA claims as a representative of other similarly situated employees). Of the $6,750 attributable to settlement of the PAGA claims, $5,062.50 will be paid to the California Labor & Workforce Development Agency.

The Trustee also seeks approval of the payment of professional fees to Yadision and Akerman. The Trustee seeks to pay Yadision 40% of the Settlement Amount, pursuant to the Yadision Employment Order. The Trustee seeks authorization to pay Akerman $6,915. The Trustee argues that fees in excess of the $4,500 cap set forth in the Akerman Employment Order are warranted because Akerman's contentions regarding the State Court Action's value helped facilitate the Settlement Agreement.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Settlement Agreement is Approved

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair, and reasonable, and is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Probability of Success on the Merits

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. Litigating the State Court Action through trial would expose the estate to substantial uncertainty. The outcome of a trial of the State Court Action depends upon the Debtor's credibility with respect to certain key facts, such as the amount of overtime hours the Debtor worked, the circumstances surrounding the retaliation that the Debtor believed she experienced based upon her employer's alleged failure to accommodate an illness, and the facts pertaining to the Debtor's illness and recovery. The uncertainty regarding the outcome of a trial strongly supports approval of the Settlement Agreement. See In re Aloha Racing Found., Inc., 257 B.R. 83, 88 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 2000) (internal citations omitted) ("The burden is not on ... the Trustee to conclusively establish that he would be successful at a trial on these issues. That would defeat the purpose of settlement and would eliminate any cost savings from the settlement. 'All that he must do is establish to the reasonable satisfaction of [this Court] that, all things considered, it is prudent to eliminate the risks of litigation to achieve specific certainty though it might be considerably less (or more) than were the case fought to the bitter end.'").

Complexity of the Litigation

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. As discussed above, the litigation involves many disputed issues of fact. Trial would be time consuming and expensive.

The possibility that additional litigation might yield a result nominally more favorable to the estate cannot be ruled out. Yet any such result obtained through litigation would be a pyrrhic victory from the perspective of the estate and creditors, because the additional administrative costs associated with the litigation would on net leave the estate worse off.

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The Settlement Agreement will yield net proceeds to the estate of $66,022.50 while avoiding additional costly litigation. No creditors have objected to approval of the Settlement Agreement.

Difficulties To Be Encountered in the Manner of Collection

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The Settlement Agreement will allow the estate to avoid the costs associated with enforcing any judgment that might be obtained after trial.

The Trustee is Authorized to Pay the Professional Fees of Yadidsion and Akerman from the Settlement Amount

In the Yadidsion Employment Order, the Court authorized the Trustee to pay Yadidsion 40% of the gross amount recovered in the State Court Action, pursuant to § 328. Therefore, the Trustee is authorized to pay Yadidsion's professional fees from the Settlement Amount.

In the Akerman Employment Order, the Court authorized the Trustee to pay Akerman up to $4,500, pursuant to § 328. The Court stated that fees in excess of $4,500 could not be paid "absent further order of the Court." Akerman Employment Order at ¶ 2.

Akerman seeks fees in the amount of $6,915. The Trustee supports Akerman's fee request, and states that Akerman's valuation analysis helped facilitate the Settlement Agreement.

Prior to the Trustee's engagement of Akerman, the Defendants had offered only a de minimis settlement. The Court finds that Akerman's independent valuation of the Plaintiff's claims played a key role in facilitating the Settlement Agreement. Specifically, Akerman's valuation—derived from the perspective of counsel with experience defending employers against wage and hour claims—corroborated Yadidsion's position as to the value of Plaintiff's claims. Accordingly, the Court finds it appropriate to increase the $4,500 cap and allow Akerman to receive fees in the amount of $6,915.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. Within seven days of the hearing, the Trustee shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Background

Marlon Camar Salamat ("Marlon") and Daisy Anne Boiser Salamat ("Daisy") (collectively, the "Debtors") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 case on June 17, 2019 (the "Petition") [Doc. No. 1] [Note 1]. On September 17, 2019, unsecured creditor Angela Sandra Legaspi Fernando (the "Movant") timely commenced a complaint seeking a non-dischargeability judgment against Debtors pursuant to §§ 523(a)(2), (a)(4), and (a)(6) (the "Dischargeability Action"). On September 30, 2019, the Debtors each obtained a discharge, and the case was closed on October 16, 2019. On Movant's request, the case was reopened on October 22, 2019 [Doc. No. 35].

On October 25, 2019, the Movant filed a Motion for Order Confirming Order of Discharge does not Apply to Corporate Entities, that No Stay was in Effect under 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(4)(A)(ii), and that State Court Litigation may Proceed Against Corporate Defendants (the "October 25 Motion"). The October 25 Motion sought to determine whether Movant could litigate an action pending at the Los Angeles Superior Court, captioned Angela Fernando v. Marlon Salamat, et al., Case No. BC722168 (the "State Court Action") with respect to two corporate defendants, Iconcare Rehab, Inc. ("Iconcare") and At Home Therapy, LLC ("At Home") (collectively, the "Entities"). On commencement documents, the Debtors listed Iconcare and At Home as doing business as ("dba") entities. See Petition at 2. The State Court Action generally alleges that Marlon, whose purportedly wrongful conduct was occasionally perpetrated through At Home, fraudulently induced Movant to invest thousands of dollars, in money and services, for the incorporation and operation of Iconcare [Note 2]. By way of its November 22, 2019 order [Doc. No. 41] (the "November 22 Order"), the Court granted the October 25 Motion and adopted the tentative ruling as its final ruling (the "Court's Ruling").

On January 12, 2020, the Movant filed the Motion by which she now requests authorization to enter a request for entry of default against the Debtors in the State Court Action. Alternatively, Movant seeks guidance from this Court on the extent of her ability to prosecute the State Court Action against the Debtors.

Notwithstanding Debtors' discharge, Movant argues that she is entitled to enter default judgment against them in the State Court Action for two reasons. The Movant begins by relying on "In re Ruvalcaba" in support of the proposition that "the discharge injunction does not apply to debts that have yet to be discharged." See Motion at 4 (erroneously citing to "In re Ruvalcaba" instead of In re Munoz (Ruvalcaba v. Munoz), 287 B.R. 546, 555-56 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2002)). The Movant argues that the discharge injunction ceased to apply to her claims at the time the Dischargeability Action was filed. Movant's rationale is confusingly articulated, but the following summary represents the Court's best understanding of Movant's position. The Movant's argument focuses upon § 524(a)(1)'s language that— "[a] discharge in a [Chapter 7 case] voids any judgment at any time obtained". See Motion at 4 (emphasis added). Accordingly, Movant seemingly reasons that the discharge injunction does not prevent her from proceeding against Debtors in the State Court Action because otherwise § 524(a)(1) would provide that a "discharge operates to void any non-bankruptcy case or judgment prior to the order for relief." Id. Unfortunately, the Movant fails to expand on her argument or meaningfully discuss case law that would further clarify her position [Note 3]. In sum, the Court understands that Movant's position is that the debts at issue are not protected by the discharge injunction, and she is entitled to the requested relief, because of (a) the timely filing of the adversary proceeding, (b) the voidability of future judgments under § 524(a)(1), or (c) a combination of (a) and (b).

when it ruled the following with respect to the October 25 Motion: "[t]o the extent that the Movant obtains a judgment in the State Action for which the Debtors are personally liable, such judgment will be unenforceable pending resolution of the Adversary Proceeding." See Court's Ruling [Doc. No. 39] at 91 (adopted as the Court's final ruling through the November 22 Order) [Note 4].

Summary of the Opposition

On January 17, 2020, the Debtors timely filed an opposition to the Motion (the "Opposition"). The Court also finds the Opposition difficult to understand, but the following summary synthesizes what the Court believes to be the most salient, relevant points. The Debtors accuse Movant of engaging in "forum shopping," "grossly improper" conduct, and "frivolous" motion practice. See Opposition at 4-6. In the main, the Debtors counter that either the Dischargeability Action or the November 22 Order, or both, have a preclusive effect with respect to the relief requested in the Motion. The Opposition contends that the November 22 Order must be given res judicata effect because "[i]t is a final order that [Movant] did not appeal." See Opposition at 4-5. In support, the Debtors rely on the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel's decision in In re Boukatch. 533 B.R. 292, 299 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2015) ("res judicata precludes a creditor from bringing a collateral attack of that order") (internal citations omitted). The Opposition also argues that Movant unreasonably misinterprets the Court's Ruling, which expressly authorized the Movant to proceed only with respect to the Entities. Finally, the Debtors request that the Court award them $2,500 in attorney's fees as they were compelled to defend Movant's allegedly frivolous motion that is unsupported by legal authority, unreasonably interprets the Court's Ruling, and otherwise presents an "incomprehensible position." See Opposition at 5-6.

Summary of the Reply

In her timely-filed Reply, the Movant responded to Debtors' main points more cohesively than she presented her position in the moving papers. First, Movant rebuts that Debtors have failed to comply with FRBP 9011's rules with respect to their request of $2,250 in attorney's fees. As prescribed in FRBP 9011(c)(1)(A), and reiterated in Barber v. Miller, the Movant propounds that a motion for sanctions may not be filed in court, unless such motion is first served upon the violating party, and that the violating party is then given twenty-one (21) days to cure the perceived offense. According to the Movant, the Debtors did not follow any such procedure. In any event, the Movant maintains that the Motion is not frivolous because she seeks to clarify the language in the Court's Ruling. Movant states this Motion is pressing in light of an e-mail sent by Debtors' counsel to Movant's state court counsel, who cautions that seeking Debtors' default in the State Court Action would result in violation of the discharge injunction. See Reply, Ex. A (Debtors' counsel's letter). Additionally, the Movant rejects the notion that she aims to bypass the Dischargeability Action by prosecuting the State Court Action, which has been pending for over a year. Similarly, Movant claims that she is not asking for a reconsideration of the November 22 Order, but that she simply wishes for clarification; therefore, she argues that res judicata is inapplicable.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. The Discharge Injunction Does Not Bar Continued Prosecution of the State Court Action

The Movant requests guidance from this Court as to whether continued prosecution of the State Court Action violates the discharge injunction; Movant, however, does not request a declaratory judgment [Note 5]. Debtors counter that the inapplicability of the discharge injunction is not supported by law, and that such continued prosecution is superseded by the Dischargeability Action.

To clarify whether or not the State Court Action may proceed, the Court determines that Movant's continued prosecution of the State Court Action against the Debtors does not violate the discharge injunction. As one court has explained, where a creditor timely files a dischargeability complaint, the debt that is the subject of that complaint is not discharged until judgment is entered in the debtor's favor. Therefore, until such judgment is entered, the discharge injunction does not apply to the debt:

The permanent injunction provided by § 524(a)(2) enjoining creditor actions against debts discharged under § 727 must be read in conjunction with § 727(b), which provides: Except as provided in section 523 of this title, a discharge under subsection (a) of this section discharges the debtor from all debts that arose before the date of the order for relief under this chapter [.]” (Emphasis added). Thus, the discharge injunction does not enjoin actions of creditors who successfully invoke § 523, which provides a list of exceptions to discharge....

In other words, upon the timely filing of a complaint objecting to dischargeability of a debt under § 523, the discharge injunction does not apply with respect to that debt until the bankruptcy court makes a determination as to the dischargeability of that debt.

Section 523 compels this result. Section 523(a) provides, in pertinent part, that “[a] discharge under section 727 ... does not discharge an individual debtor from any debt,” and then goes on to list the 19 exceptions, which includes paragraphs (2), (4) and (6)...

Hence, a debt is not discharged if a timely complaint is filed objecting to discharge of that debt under § 523(a)(2) (fraud), or (4)(fraud or defalcation while acting in fiduciary capacity, larceny, or embezzlement) or (6) (willful and malicious injury) unless and until the bankruptcy court denies the objection.

Eastberg (In re Eastberg)*, 447 B.R. 624, 633-34 (B.A.P. 10th Cir. 2011) (bankruptcy courts may exercise discretion to determine, on a case-by-case basis, whether the “validity and extent of a debt” should be litigated in state court or bankruptcy court); see also In re Pitts, 497 B.R. 73 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2013), aff’d, 515 B.R. 317 (C.D. Cal. 2014), aff’d, No. 14-56502, 2016 WL 4598591 (9th Cir. Sept. 2, 2016) (“[U]pon the timely filing of a complaint objecting to the dischargeability of a debt, the discharge injunction does not apply with respect to that debt until the Court makes a determination of the dischargeability of the debt”).

Here, the Movant timely filed the Dischargeability Action. This Court has yet to ascertain the dischargeability of the debts at issue; accordingly, such debts have not been discharged, and the discharge injunction does not apply to them. Moreover, the discharge order (Official Form 318) [Doc. No. 28] (the "Discharge Order") entered in this bankruptcy proceeding notifies debtors that any debts subject to a § 523 determination are excepted from discharge. The Discharge Order provides that Debtors are entitled to a "discharge under 11 U.S.C. § 727," but it also cautions that "most debts are covered by the discharge, but not all." Page 2 of the Discharge Order states that non-dischargeable debts include "debts that the bankruptcy court has decided or will decide are not discharged in this bankruptcy case." In reaching this finding, it is this Court's objective to optimize administration of the adversary proceeding and to conserve judicial resources. Before this Court can adjudicate the Dischargeability Action, it is paramount that the State Court Action proceed to a final judgment. It would not be an efficient use of judicial resources for this Court to adjudicate the Debtors' liability, if any, on the claims asserted in the State Court Action: most of these claims arise under non-bankruptcy law and can be most efficiently resolved in state court, and relatedly, reaching a final judgment in such proceeding requires the adjudication of issues against defendants other than the Debtors. The best use of judicial resources is for Movant to obtain a final judgment against the Debtors in the State Court Action, and then to return to this Court for a determination as to whether that judgment is excepted from discharge.

The Debtors' opposing arguments are not persuasive. First, the Court finds no merit in the contention that Movant is forum shopping and seeks to concurrently litigate issues here and in state court. The proposition that bankruptcy courts' exclusive jurisdiction over dischargeability issues somehow prohibits state courts from determining facts germane to the dischargeability inquiry is a "fundamental misunderstanding." See In re Lakhany, 538 B.R. 555, 560 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2015). In fact, "bankruptcy courts regularly make non-dischargeability determinations, via issue preclusion, on facts determined elsewhere." Id. (referencing Grogan v. Garner, 498 U.S. 279, 290 (1991), where the Supreme Court overruled the reversal of a bankruptcy court's judgment of non-dischargeability predicated on issue preclusion). For this reason, the Court also rejects the argument that Movant improperly seeks to circumvent the Dischargeability Action. Further, the Court disagrees that the Motion was frivolously filed, because, as explained above, Movant has effectively asked to Court to engage in an inquiry not previously contemplated. Last, Debtors' theory that the November 22 Order precludes the relief sought herein by res judicata is not well taken. The October 25 Motion did not directly place at issue whether Movant could pursue the State Court Action against Debtors; accordingly, the Court limited its legal and factual findings to the application of the discharge injunction with respect to the Entities only. Therefore, res judicata is inapposite. [Note 6]

In conclusion, the discharge injunction does not bar the Movant from obtaining a final judgment against Debtors in the State Court Action. In sum, the Court aims to promote the efficient administration of justice by permitting the state court to liquidate the amount of Movant's claims, while preserving its exclusive jurisdiction to adjudicate whether such claims are non-dischargeable. The Court emphasizes as it did before: unless and until this Court determines that the judgment is excepted, the Movant may not take any action to enforce such judgment.

B. The Debtors are Not Entitled to an Award of Attorney's Fees

A bankruptcy court has inherent power to award sanctions "against a party who willfully disobeys a court order or acts in bad faith, 'which includes a broad range of willful improper conduct.' To impose inherent power sanctions, a court must find that a party acted 'in bad faith, vexatiously, wantonly, or for oppressive reasons.'" Miller v. Cardinale (In re Deville), 280 B.R. 483, 495-96 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2002) aff'd

Chapter 7

The Debtors request that the Movant be required to pay attorney's fees for filing this Motion. The Court cautions both parties that it looks with disfavor upon requests for sanctions. The Court understands the adversarial position of the parties. However, requests for sanctions are seldom an appropriate means of advancing a party's position in the litigation. The Court will impose sanctions only if all procedural requirements have been fastidiously complied with, and then only if the party against whom sanctions are sought has engaged in egregiously improper conduct. The Court does not consider Movant's request for clarification to have been made in bad faith. Therefore, Debtors' request for sanctions is denied.

Status of the Dischargeability Action

A status conference in the Dischargeability Action took place on December 10, 2019, at which time, the parties failed to apprise the Court of any updates regarding the State Court Action. In view of the findings made herein, a continued status conference will be conducted on May 12, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. The Joint Status Report should inform the Court about the status of the State Court Action. If necessary, the Court will reschedule any deadlines set forth in the December 16, 2019 scheduling order [Adv. No. 16].

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Movant may continue to prosecute the State Court Action against the Debtors without violating the discharge injunction. Movant may not enforce any state court judgment against the Debtors unless and until she obtains from this Court a judgment that the state court judgment is excepted from discharge. All other requested relief not discussed above is denied.

The Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Note 1: Because both debtors have the same surname, the Court refers to them by first name to avoid confusion. No disrespect is intended.

Note 2: The Court incorporates herein by reference its summary of the Dischargeability Action, as set forth in the Court's Ruling. Both the Dischargeability Action and the State Court Action are predicated on the same nucleus of operative facts.

Note 4: Any terms not defined herein have the meaning set forth in the Court's Ruling.

Note 5: Under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 7001(9), determinations regarding the scope of the discharge injunction "require a declaratory judgment obtained in an adversary proceeding." In re Munoz, 287 B.R. at 551. The instant Motion is a contested matter, not an adversary proceeding. However, the record is sufficiently developed to allow the Court to make findings regarding the scope of the discharge injunction. Requiring Movant to seek a declaratory judgment is not anticipated to yield further information helpful to the Court, but would further delay the State Court Action. That, in turn, would delay this Court's resolution of the Dischargeability Action. Determining the scope of the discharge injunction in connection with this contested matter does not prejudice the substantial rights of the parties and is not inconsistent with substantial justice. See Civil Rule 61 ("At every stage of the proceeding, the court must disregard all errors and defects that do not affect any party's substantial rights").

Note 6: The term res judicata has been broadly applied in reference to the preclusive effect of previous litigation and consists of two doctrines: (a) claim preclusion, or "true" res judicata, and (b) issue preclusion, which is also known as collateral estoppel. See Kaspar Wire Works v. Leco Eng. & Mach., Inc., 575 F.2d 530, 535 (5th Cir. 1978) (internal citations omitted). Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

FR. 1-27-20

Docket 29

Tentative Ruling:

2/7/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is DENIED without prejudice.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Real Property) [Doc. No. 31] (the "Motion")
2. Debtor's Response to Motion Regarding the Automatic Stay and Declaration(s) in Support [Doc. No. 43] (the "Opposition")
3. Stipulation Re Continuance of Hearing on Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 [Doc. No. 34]
4. As of the date of this tentative ruling, Movant has not filed a reply

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor-in-possession Ray Charles Patterson (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on August 28, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Bank of New York Mellon, as trustee for the Certificateholders of the Cwalt, Inc., ("Movant") seeks relief from stay pursuant §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(2) with respect to real property located at 7520 Shore Cliff Drive, Los Angeles, CA 90045 (the "Property"). Movant's claim is secured by a first-priority lien against the Property in the amount of $2,014,497.81 as of November 21, 2019. Motion at 8.

The relief-stay motion (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 29] alleges that Movant's interest in the Property is not adequately protected by an ample equity cushion, that Debtor has failed to make approximately 13 monthly payments, and that Debtor has no equity in the Property, which is also not necessary for chapter 11 reorganization. In support of the Motion, Movant relies on the Property's fair market value of $2,100,000, as Debtor stated in his commencement documents. See Motion at 8; Ex. 5 [Schedule A/B: Property]. Based on these figures, the Movant claims that its interest in Property is narrowly protected by an equity cushion of $85,502.19, or 4.07% of the Property's alleged fair market value. After factoring in costs of sale and all junior liens, Movant asserts that the Debtor has no equity in the Property. Aside from indicating that the Property was not necessary to Debtor's reorganization by checking the box in paragraph 4(b), the Movant did not supply any specific facts supporting its contention.

On January 27, 2020, the Debtor timely filed an opposition to the Motion [Doc. No. 47] (the "Opposition"). In support of the Opposition, the Debtor attached his declaration stating that, following an agreement with the Property's current tenant, the Property will begin generating monthly rental proceeds of $8,500 (the "Rental Proceeds") starting on March 1, 2020. Declaration of Ray Charles Patterson (the "Patterson Decl."), ¶ 9. Debtor also offers to make monthly adequate protection payments totaling the full amount of the Rental Proceeds through the plan confirmation date, with a $2,582 amount apportioned for monthly escrow payments. Id., ¶ 10. Because these proposed payments would adequately protect Movant's interest, the Debtor argues that there is no cause to lift the automatic stay under § 362(d)(1). With respect to § 362(d)(2), the Debtor concedes that there is no equity in the Property, and he references a contested appraisal attached to an outstanding valuation motion [Doc. No. 28] (the "Valuation Motion"), which lists the Property's fair market value at $1,100,000. Notwithstanding the lack of equity in the Property, the Debtor cites the Supreme Court's decision in United Sav. Ass'n v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Assoc. Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988), to support his contention that secured creditors are not entitled to stay-relief where the debtors can show that an asset is necessary for an effective reorganization. Accordingly, the Debtor disputes Movant's claim that the Property is not necessary for an effective reorganization. See Opposition at 5-6.

The Motion was originally set to be heard on January 27, 2020, but the parties stipulated to continue the hearing to February 10, 2020. On January 15, 2020, the Court entered an order approving the parties' stipulation, and thereon permitted Movant to file a reply to the Opposition, if any, by no later than February 3, 2020 [Doc. No. 36]. As of the date of the preparation of this tentative ruling, Movant has

11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1)

Under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1), the Court shall grant relief if the movant's interest in the property is not protected by an adequate equity cushion.

In this case, Movant relies on Debtor's own valuation of the Property as set forth in his commencement documents. Motion, Ex. 5. On the other hand, Debtor submitted a declaration stating that the Property's fair market value is now $1,100,000 based on an appraisal report, but that appraisal was not attached to the Opposition. The Debtor has also offered to begin making monthly adequate protection payments to Movant in the amount of $8,500 through the date of plan confirmation. Movant did not file a reply brief, so the Court does not know whether Movant finds the Debtor's offer acceptable.

On balance, the Court is persuaded to deny relief from stay under § 362(d)(1) without prejudice at this time. To ensure that Movant's interest is adequately protected, the Debtor is directed to make monthly adequate protection payments to Movant in the amount of $8,500.00, until this Court enters an order (a) approving Debtor's chapter 11 plan or (b) otherwise instructing the parties. Beginning in March 2020, if the Debtor fails to make any adequate protection payments by the close of business on the 5th day of each month, on declaration so stating, Movant may lodge an order granting relief from stay under § 362(d)(1), and the Court will enter such order without further notice or hearing.

11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2)

Under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2), the court shall grant relief from the stay if "(A) the debtor does not have any equity in such property; and (B) such property is not necessary for an effective reorganization."

The Court acknowledges that Debtor concedes to not possessing any equity in the Property, but reserves any findings with respect to the Property's value until the Valuation Motion is heard. However, on this record the Court is not persuaded to find that the Property is not necessary for an effective reorganization. While Movant fails to address this issue, Debtor, in his declaration, testifies that Rental Proceeds generated from the Property will be offered as adequate protection payments to the Movant. Patterson Decl., ¶¶ 10-11. Additionally, Debtor stresses that if stay-relief is granted "Loss of the [Property's] income will be disastrous to Debtor's financial rehabilitation." See Opposition at 6.

Accordingly, Movant's request for relief under § 362(d)(2) is DENIED without prejudice.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is DENIED. The Debtor is directed to make monthly adequate protection payments in the amount of $8,500 until such time as the Court orders otherwise. If the Debtor fails to make any adequate protection payments by the close of business on the 5th day of each month, on declaration so stating, Movant may lodge an order granting relief from stay under § 362(d)(1), and the Court will enter such order without further notice or hearing.

The Movant shall lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Docket 33

Tentative Ruling:

2/7/2020

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property, or to enter into a potential forbearance or loan modification agreement in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Movant has established a prima facie case that cause exists, and Debtor has not responded with evidence establishing that the property is not declining in value or that Movant is adequately protected. La Jolla Mortg. Fund v. Rancho El Cajon Assocs., 18 B.R. 283, 288 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1982) (finding that the debtor has the burden of proof in establishing that a creditor is adequately protected).

The subject property has a value of $305,000 (see Schedule A/B: Property [Doc. No. 1]) and is encumbered by a perfected senior deed of trust in favor of the Movant in the amount of $196,549.48 (See Motion at 8). Considering Movant's lien, all senior liens against the property, and the estimated costs of sale, there is an equity cushion of $84,050.52. Movant is protected by a 27.58% equity cushion in the property. Although there is some equity left in the property to protect Movant's claim, the Court notes that the property is also subject to two junior liens, collectively totaling at least $86,850.95. Moreover, there is no evidence that the trustee can administer the property for the benefit of unsecured creditors. The Ninth Circuit has established that an equity cushion of 20% constitutes adequate protection for a secured creditor. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral). However, because Movant's equity cushion in this case is expected to be depleted on account of escalating arrears and the costs of sale, the Court concludes that Movant's interest in the collateral is not adequately protected.

Based on the totality of the circumstances, this is cause to terminate the stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). See La Jolla Mortg. Fund, 18 B.R. at 288 ("a particular value cushion which may be adequate protection for a third or fourth mortgagee in one case, may be insufficient to constitute adequate protection for a first mortgagee in another case.") (internal citations omitted). Moreover, the Court deems the Debtor's failure to file a response or opposition as consent to granting the Motion pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(h).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Since a chapter 7 case does not contemplate reorganization, the sole issue before the Court when stay relief is sought under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) is whether the Debtor has equity in the property. See, e.g., Martens v. Countrywide Home Loans (In re Martens), 331 B.R. 395, 398 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2005); Ramco Indus. v. Preuss (In re Preuss), 15 B.R. 896, 897 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1981).

The subject property has an approximated value of $225,000 (see Motion, Ex.3) and is encumbered by a perfected deed of trust or mortgage in favor of the Movant in the amount of $43,635.10 (Motion at 8). The liens and unpaid property taxes against the property and the expected costs of sale total approximately $235,749.33. See Motion at 8; Ex. 4. Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

2/10/2020

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") commenced this avoidance action against Ji Young Kim (the "Defendant") on September 14, 2019. On November 14, 2019, the Clerk of the Court issued an alias summons.

The Trustee states that he has been unable to locate the contact information or current address for the Defendant. The Trustee states that the Defendant is believed to be a former sales manager of the Debtor. The Trustee requests an extension of the 90-day deadline to serve the Summons and Complaint set forth in Civil Rule 4(m).

Civil Rule 4(m) provides that if the plaintiff shows good cause for failing to meet the service deadline specified therein, "the court must extend the time for service for an appropriate period." The Court finds that the Trustee has shown cause for an extension of the deadline to serve the Defendant.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The Trustee shall obtain an alias summons, and shall serve the Summons and Complaint upon the Defendant, by no later than April 10, 2020.
- 2) A continued Status Conference shall be held on May 12, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. The parties shall submit a Joint Status Report by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

2/10/2020

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the “Trustee”) commenced this fraudulent transfer action against Hyun Hwang (the “Defendant”) on September 14, 2019. On December 11, 2019, the Court denied the Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss, and ordered the Defendant to file an Answer by no later than January 21, 2020. Doc. No. 25. Defendant timely filed an Answer. The Trustee seeks leave to file a First Amended Complaint to allege an additional $80,000 transfer from the Debtor to the Defendant.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In the event that Defendant declines to stipulate to the filing of a First Amended Complaint, the Trustee shall file a motion for leave to amend by no later than March 10, 2020.
- 2) A continued Status Conference is set for April 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

2/10/2020

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") commenced this fraudulent transfer action against Mirea Rea Hwang (the "Defendant") on September 14, 2019. On December 4, 2019, the Court conducted a hearing on the Defendant's Motion to Dismiss. The Court found that adjudication of the Complaint would violate the automatic stay arising in the bankruptcy petition filed by Defendant's spouse, Kenny Hwang ("K. Hwang"). The Court ordered that the action would be stayed, unless and until the Trustee obtained relief from the automatic stay in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case.

The Trustee has not moved for stay relief in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case. A continued meeting of creditors in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case is set for February 12, 2020.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
  - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Docket 1

2/10/2020

Default was entered against the only Defendant in this matter on October 29, 2019. On November 25, 2019, the Court ordered the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") to file a Motion for Default Judgment (the "Motion") against the Defendant by no later than January 10, 2020. As of the date of issuance of this tentative ruling, the Motion has not been filed.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The Trustee shall file the Motion by no later than March 10, 2020. The Motion shall be filed on a negative-notice basis, pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(o). If the Trustee does not comply with this deadline, the Court will issue an order requiring the Trustee to show cause why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute.
- 2) A continued Status Conference is set for April 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report, which shall discuss the status Hwang's Chapter 7 case, shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

Tentative Ruling:

2/10/2020

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") filed this fraudulent transfer action against Kenny Hwang ("K. Hwang"), Mirea Hwang ("M. Hwang"), Hyun Hwang ("H. Hwang"), Tri Blossom, LLC, and K2 America, Inc. (collectively, the "Defendants") on September 15, 2019. On December 4, 2019, the Court conducted a hearing on a Motion to Dismiss brought by Defendants K. Hwang, M. Hwang, H. Hwang, and Tri Blossom LLC. The Court found that adjudication of the Complaint would violate the automatic stay arising in the bankruptcy petition filed K. Hwang. The Court ordered that the action would be stayed, unless and until the Trustee obtained relief from the automatic stay in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case.

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

2/10/2020

The Court conducted a Status Conference in this matter on October 15, 2019, and set litigation deadlines. The Court did not assign the matter to formal mediation at the October 2019 Status Conference, based upon the parties' request that the matter not be assigned to mediation until after discovery had been completed. The Court set this continued Status Conference to determine whether the matter should be assigned to mediation. Plaintiffs state that they are open to mediation in late February, after they depose the Defendant. The Defendant likewise requests that the matter be assigned to mediation.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.
- 2) The parties may schedule mediation in late February, after Defendant's deposition has been completed.
- 3) The litigation deadlines previously set by way of the Scheduling Order issued

Tentative Ruling:

2/10/2020

Hearing CONTINUED to March 11, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. By no later than February 19, 2020, Defendant shall submit further briefing in support of her assertion that trial of this action should be continued until the criminal proceeding against Kirk and Gao has been resolved. The briefing shall (a) address the factors set forth in Fed. Sav. & Loan Ins. Corp. v. Molinaro, 889 F.2d 899, 903 (9th Cir. 1989) (discussed in greater detail below) and (b) any other applicable law supporting Defendant's contention that a continuance is required by reason of the criminal proceeding. Plaintiff's opposition to a continuance shall be submitted by February 26, 2020. Defendant's reply shall be submitted by March 4, 2020.

Trial in this adversary proceeding was initially set for May 29–30, 2018. On May 28, 2018, Defendant Tsai Luan Ho a/k/a Shelby Ho ("Ho") (the only remaining defendant) filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of California (the "Northern District Bankruptcy Court"). The Court took the trial off calendar. Based upon Plaintiff's representation that it intended to pursue a non-dischargeability action against Ho in the Northern District Bankruptcy Court, the Court subsequently dismissed this action without prejudice.

On July 20, 2018, Plaintiff filed a non-dischargeability action against Ho in the Northern District Bankruptcy Court (the "523 Action"). On August 23, 2018, the Chapter 7 Trustee in Ho's bankruptcy case filed a § 727 complaint to deny Ho's discharge (the "727 Action"). On April 9, 2019, the Northern District Bankruptcy Court entered judgment denying Ho's discharge, pursuant to § 727(a)(3) (the "Judgment Denying Discharge"). On April 16, 2019, Ho appealed the Judgment Denying Discharge to the United States District Court for the Northern District of California (the "District Court"). On June 7, 2019, the Northern District Bankruptcy Court denied Ho's motion for a stay pending appeal of the Judgment Denying Discharge. Ho's appeal of the Judgment Denying Discharge remains pending before the District Court. Proceedings in the 523 Action have been stayed pending resolution of the appeal of the Judgment Denying Discharge. On April 26, 2019, the Northern District Bankruptcy Court issued a minute order providing that the 523 Action "may be restored to the calendar after the District Court acts on the pending appeal" of the Judgment Denying Discharge.

On July 9, 2019, the Court conducted a hearing on Plaintiff's motion to reopen this adversary proceeding (the "Motion to Reopen"). Plaintiff sought an order reopening this proceeding and setting the matter for an immediate status conference in trial.

The Court ruled that it would not set this matter for trial until the District Court had decided Ho's appeal of the Judgment Denying Discharge. The Court reasoned:

In the event that the District Court overturns the Judgment Denying Discharge, Plaintiff will be required to pursue the 523 Action to obtain a recovery against Ho. The 523 Action is based upon the same nucleus of operative facts as this action. The potential for duplicative litigation weighs against proceeding to trial at this time. In addition to wasting judicial resources, the additional costs resulting from a duplicative trial would decrease the recoveries available for distribution to creditors by the Plan Administrator.

Ruling on Motion to Reopen [Doc. No. 135] at 4.

The Court set this Status Conference to monitor the status of Ho's appeal of the Judgment Denying Discharge. On December 11, 2019, the District Court affirmed the Judgment Denying Discharge. Ho has not appealed the affirmance to the Ninth Circuit, and the deadline to do so has expired.

Plaintiff requests that the action proceed to trial immediately. Ho opposes immediate trial for two reasons. First, Ho argues that the facts set forth in the Final Joint Pretrial Stipulation (the "Pretrial Stipulation") [Doc. No. 89] must be revisited in view of the District Court's reversal of the Memorandum of Decision Finding That Plaintiff Is Entitled to Judgment Against Defendants in the Amount of $74,140,695.29 entered in the Adv. No. 16-ap-01337 (the "Memorandum"). Ho further argues that additional discovery is necessary.

Second, Ho states that she intends to call Benjamin Kirk and Lucy Gao as witnesses on her behalf. Ho argues that the trial should be postponed until after a criminal action against Kirk and Gao has been resolved. Ho states that if the trial is not postponed, she will not be able to adequately defend herself because Kirk and Gao will invoke their Fifth Amendment rights and refuse to testify.

With respect to Ho's first argument, the District Court's reversal of the Memorandum does not require a reopening of discovery or modification of the Pretrial Stipulation. The Pretrial Stipulation is 139 paragraphs long. Only one paragraph refers to the Memorandum, and all that paragraph says is that Exhibit 3 is a copy of the Memorandum. Pretrial Stipulation at ¶ 3. [Note 1]

The Court notes that on March 27, 2018, it denied Ho's Motion to Reopen Discovery and Vacate Trial Date [Adv. Doc. No. 78] (the "Discovery Motion"). Adv. Doc. No. 84. In the Discovery Motion, Ms. Ho sought an extension of the discovery cutoff date established in the Court's Scheduling Order. The Court found that Ms. Ho was not entitled to modification of the deadlines set forth in the Scheduling Order because she had not diligently pursued discovery:

Ms. Ho maintains that discovery must be reopened because she has recently discovered evidence that her signatures on documents associated with the Mega Bank account were forged. However, communications between Ms. Ho's prior counsel and the Committee's counsel establish that Ms. Ho was aware of the alleged forgeries prior to the June 30, 2017 discovery cutoff. On June 13, 2017, Ms. Ho's prior counsel sent the Committee's counsel an e-mail which states in relevant part:

While you are waiting for my documents I am voluntarily sending you the documents we received from Mega Bank as it relates to the 88 San Fernando LLC account.

I have confirmed that each signature that which appears to be my client's has been forged.

You will see that it was set up by Vanessa and the money was deposited into this account and then went out over forged signatures.

Maybe you can find some money from the true actors.

Therefore, Ms. Ho had the opportunity to conduct whatever discovery she deemed necessary with respect to the alleged forgeries associated with the Mega Bank account. For unknown reasons, Ms. Ho, a real estate and business professional advised by sophisticated counsel, failed to undertake such discovery. Unfortunately, Ms. Ho's lack of diligence is not good cause for setting aside the litigation deadlines governing these proceedings.

Final Ruling Denying the Discovery Motion [Doc. No. 83] at 5.

The Court explained that although Ms. Ho's lack of diligence was by itself sufficient cause to deny the Discovery Motion, an examination of the other factors which the Court could consider in connection with a request to modify a scheduling order also supported denial of the Discovery Motion:

In ruling on a motion to amend a scheduling order to reopen discovery, the following factors may be considered:

- 1) whether trial is imminent,
- 2) whether the request is opposed,
- 3) whether the non-moving party would be prejudiced,
- 4) whether the moving party was diligent in obtaining discovery within the guidelines established by the court,
- 5) the foreseeability of the need for additional discovery in light of the time allowed for discovery by the district court, and
- 6) the likelihood that the discovery will lead to relevant evidence.

City of Pomona v. SQM N. Am. Corp., 866 F.3d 1060, 1066 (9th Cir. 2017).

Upon consideration of the Pomona factors, the Court finds that Ms. Ho has failed to establish good cause to reopen discovery and to continue the trial date. The Court places substantial weight upon factor six, the likelihood that the discovery will lead to relevant evidence. This factor is challenging to apply in practice, as it is impossible to know precisely what additional evidence further discovery will yield. Further, in applying this factor, the Court must also be mindful of Civil Rule 26(b)(1), which provides that discovery must be "proportional to the needs of the case, considering the importance of the issues at stake in the action, the amount in controversy, the parties' relative access to relevant information, the parties' resources, the importance of the discovery in resolving the issues, and whether the burden or expense of the proposed discovery outweighs its likely benefit."

Recognizing that its determination is not an exact science, the Court finds that Ms. Ho has failed to establish that it is likely that further discovery will produce material relevant evidence. Prior to expiration of discovery cutoff date, Ms. Ho was represented by Dykema, a sophisticated law firm. At the time it sought leave to withdraw from representing Ms. Ho, Dykema had billed Ms. Ho $363,068.93 for services rendered. Thus, Dykema's attorneys expended substantial work in connection with this case. Further, counsel had ample time to pursue discovery into relevant issues. The discovery cutoff date of June 30, 2017 gave Ms. Ho approximately one year to conduct discovery (the Complaint was filed on August 16, 2016).

The Court cannot rule out the possibility that Dykema may have overlooked potentially promising areas which, if pursued by Ms. Ho's new counsel, could yield potential evidence. Such an outcome, while possible, is unlikely, particularly given the posture in which the instant Motion comes before the Court. First, the Motion relies substantially upon the Mega Bank account statements as the justification for reopening discovery. But the e-mail excerpted above clearly establishes that Ms. Ho's prior counsel was fully aware of the possibility that the signatures contained on the Mega Bank statements were forgeries. Why, then, did present counsel wait until now to seek to reopen discovery? The most plausible explanation is that the instant Motion is nothing more than a belated attempt by Ms. Ho to enhance her negotiating leverage after mediation before Rebecca Callahan proved unsuccessful. That conclusion is bolstered by the fact that Ms. Ho's new counsel advised the Court on November 14, 2017, that it did "not believe at this time that discovery has to be reopened."

Factor five, foreseeability of the need for additional discovery in light of the time allowed for discovery by the court, weighs against granting the Motion. The discovery cutoff deadline allowed approximately one year for discovery to be conducted. A one-year discovery period is proportional to the needs of this case. The Complaint seeks damages against Ms. Ho "in excess of $13 million." While this is a substantial amount, the damages sought are not so high as to warrant years of discovery.

Factor four, Ms. Ho's lack of diligence, weighs against granting the Motion, for the reasons discussed above. Factor one, the imminence of trial, and factor two, the Committee's opposition to the Motion, also weigh against reopening discovery.

Final Ruling Denying the Discovery Motion [Doc. No. 83] at 5–7.

Molinaro, 889 F.2d 899, 902 (9th Cir. 1989), the Ninth Circuit articulated the factors the Court must consider when determining whether to stay civil proceedings pending the outcome of parallel criminal proceedings. The Molinaro factors are as follows:

- 1) the interest of the plaintiffs in proceeding expeditiously with this litigation or any particular aspect of it, and the potential prejudice to plaintiffs of a delay;
- 2) the burden which any particular aspect of the proceedings may impose on defendants;
- 3) the convenience of the court in the management of its cases, and the efficient use of judicial resources;
- 4) the interests of persons not parties to the civil litigation; and
- 5) the interest of the public in the pending civil and criminal litigation.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered. See Doc. No. 17.

As of the Petition Date, the Debtors operated six acute care hospitals in the state of California. On December 27, 2018, the Court authorized the Debtors to sell two of their hospitals—O'Connor Hospital and Saint Louise Regional Hospital—to Santa Clara County (the "Santa Clara Sale"). The Santa Clara Sale closed on February 28, 2019.

A. The Asset Purchase Agreement Between the Debtors and Strategic Global Management

On February 6, 2019, the Court conducted a hearing to establish bidding procedures for the auction of the Debtors' four remaining hospitals—St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis"), St. Vincent Medical Center (including St. Vincent Dialysis Center) ("St. Vincent"), Seton Medical Center ("Seton"), and Seton Medical Center Coastside ("Seton Coastside") (collectively, the "Hospitals"). That hearing required the Court to determine whether to approve an Asset Purchase Agreement (the "APA") between the Debtors and Strategic Global Management ("SGM"). The APA provided that SGM would serve as the stalking-horse bidder for the auction of the Hospitals.

At the February 6, 2019 hearing, the Court found that the termination rights granted to SGM in the APA were unduly broad. In response to the Court's concerns, the Debtors renegotiated the APA to limit SGM's termination rights. On February 19, 2019, the Court entered an order establishing bidding procedures for the auction of the Hospitals and approving the renegotiated APA (the "Bidding Procedures Order") [Bankr. Doc. No. 1572].

The renegotiated provision of the APA—set forth in Section 8.6—pertained to SGM's ability to terminate the transaction in the event that the California Attorney General (the "Attorney General") sought to impose conditions on the sale that were not substantially consistent with those conditions that SGM had agreed to accept (the "Purchaser Approved Conditions"). In the event that the Attorney General sought to impose conditions materially different from the Purchaser Approved Conditions (the "Additional Conditions"), the APA provided the Debtors an opportunity to seek an order from the Court that the Hospitals could be sold free and clear of the Additional Conditions under § 363(f) of the Bankruptcy Code (an order granting such relief, the "Supplemental Sale Order").

Notwithstanding thorough marketing efforts, the Debtors did not receive any qualified bids for all of the Hospitals. The Debtors received one bid to purchase only St. Vincent and one bid to purchase only St. Francis. After consulting with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") and the largest secured creditors, the Debtors determined not to conduct an auction. On May 2, 2019, the Court entered an order finding that SGM was the winning bidder and approving the sale of the Hospitals to SGM for $610 million (the "SGM Sale"). See Bankr. Doc. No. 2306 (the "Sale Order").

B. The Supplemental Sale Order

Pursuant to Cal. Corp. Code § 5914, the Debtors submitted the SGM Sale to the Attorney General for review. On September 25, 2019, the Attorney General consented to the SGM Sale, subject to Additional Conditions that were materially different from the Purchaser Approved Conditions. In response, the Debtors moved for entry of a Supplemental Sale Order. On October 23, 2019, the Court issued a Memorandum of Decision Granting the Debtors' Emergency Motion to Enforce the Sale Order (the "Sale Enforcement Memorandum") [Bankr. Doc. No. 3446]. The Sale Enforcement Memorandum found that the Debtors were entitled to entry of a Supplemental Sale Order, on the ground that § 363 of the Bankruptcy Code authorized the Debtors to sell the Hospitals free and clear of the Additional Conditions. The Sale Enforcement Memorandum directed the Debtors to lodge a proposed form of the Supplemental Sale Order.

Between October 23 and November 8, 2019, the Debtors, the Attorney General, and SGM attempted to negotiate a consensual form of the Supplemental Sale Order. See Bankr. Doc. No. 3573 (Debtors' description of attempts to arrive upon a consensual form of order). The Debtors reached an agreement with the Attorney General, under which the Attorney General would not appeal the Supplemental Sale Order, but only if the Court entered the Supplemental Sale Order in the exact form negotiated by the Debtors and the Attorney General.

SGM objected to the form of order negotiated between the Debtors and the Attorney General. On November 13, 2019, the Court conducted a hearing on SGM's objections. The Court overruled SGM's objections and entered the Supplemental Sale Order in the form negotiated between the Debtors and the Attorney General. See Doc. Nos. 3620 (transcript of hearing addressing SGM's objections) and 3611 (form of the Supplemental Sale Order entered by the Court). On November 29, 2019, SGM appealed the Supplemental Sale Order. See Bankr. Doc. No. 3726 (Notice of Appeal). The appeal is currently pending before the District Court (Case No. 2:19-cv-10352-DSF).

C. The Section 8.6 Memorandum of Decision and Order

At the hearing on SGM's objections to the form of the Supplemental Sale Order, SGM argued that after entry of the Supplemental Sale Order, it would have 21 business days to evaluate, in the exercise of its reasonable business judgment, whether the Supplemental Sale Order was acceptable (the "Evaluation Period"), pursuant to § 8.6 of the APA.

On November 18, 2019, the Court entered a memorandum of decision and accompanying order rejecting SGM's argument that it was entitled to the Evaluation Period. See Bankr. Doc. Nos. 3632 (the "Section 8.6 Memorandum") and 3633 (the "Section 8.6 Order"). The Court found that under the plain language of the APA, SGM was entitled to the Evaluation Period only if the Supplemental Sale Order was subject to a pending appeal. See Section 8.6 Memorandum at 3. The Court further found that based upon representations SGM had made at a February 6, 2019 hearing regarding the purpose of § 8.6 of the APA, SGM was judicially estopped from asserting that it was entitled to the Evaluation Period. Id. at 3–4. The Section 8.6 Order provided in relevant part: "The Debtors have complied with their obligation under the APA to obtain a final, non-appealable Supplemental Sale Order. Consequently, SGM is now obligated to promptly close the SGM Sale, provided that all other conditions to closing have been satisfied." Section 8.6 Order at ¶ 1.

On November 29, 2019, SGM appealed the Section 8.6 Order. See Bankr. Doc. No. 3727 (Notice of Appeal). The appeal is currently pending before the District Court, and has been consolidated with SGM's appeal of the Supplemental Sale Order.

D. The Material Adverse Effect Memorandum of Decision and Order

On November 27, 2019, the Court entered a memorandum of decision and accompanying order rejecting SGM's allegation that the Debtors had failed to comply with certain of the conditions and obligations imposed upon them by the APA, and that these alleged failures to perform had resulted in a Material Adverse Effect which relieved SGM of its obligation to close the SGM Sale. See Bankr. Doc. Nos. 3723 (the "Material Adverse Effect Memorandum") and 3724 (the "Material Adverse Effect Order"). The Court stated: "Article 1.3 [of the APA] obligates SGM to close the sale 'promptly but no later than ten (10) business days following the satisfaction' of all conditions precedent. As all conditions precedent were satisfied on November 19, 2019, SGM is obligated to close the sale by no later than December 5, 2019." Material Adverse Effect Memorandum at 7. The Material Adverse Effect Order provided in relevant part: "Pursuant to § 1.3 of the APA, SGM is obligated to close the SGM Sale

E. The Memorandum of Decision and Order Denying the Debtors' Application for Issuance of an Order Requiring SGM to Show Cause Why it Failed to Close the SGM Sale

SGM did not close the SGM Sale by December 5, 2019. On December 6, 2019, the Debtors moved for issuance of an order requiring SGM to show cause why it had failed to close the sale. See Bankr. Doc. No. 3773. On December 9, 2019, the Court issued a memorandum of decision and accompanying order denying the Debtors' application for an Order to Show Cause. See Bankr. Doc. Nos. 3783 (the "OSC Memorandum") and 3784 (the "OSC Order"). The Court held:

Requiring SGM's representatives to testify as to SGM's reasons for not closing the SGM Sale would not increase the likelihood of the sale actually closing. By failing to close, SGM risks the loss of its $30 million good-faith deposit as well as the possibility of damages for breach of contract in an amount of up to $60 million. Being compelled to offer testimony will not motivate SGM to close where the threat of the loss of up to $90 million has failed to accomplish that end. In the future, the Debtors will have the opportunity to litigate the issues of whether SGM has breached the APA and whether the Debtors are entitled to retain SGM's good-faith deposit. In the meantime, the Debtors' efforts would be better spent ensuring the health and safety of the patients at the affected Hospitals.

F. The Debtors' Complaint

On January 3, 2020, the Debtors filed a Complaint for Breach of Contract, Promissory Fraud, and Tortious Breach of Contract (Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing) (the "Complaint") [Adv. "Defendants," and all KPC entities collectively, "KPC"). The material allegations of the Complaint may be summarized as follows:

Debtors entered into the APA with SGM based upon SGM's representations that it would have the ability to pay the $610 million purchase price and that it would work diligently to close the sale. Complaint at ¶¶ 40–45. SGM never anticipated that the Debtors would obtain a final, non-appealable Supplemental Sale Order. Id. at ¶ 58. Instead, SGM believed that even if the Debtors obtained the Supplemental Sale Order, that order would remain subject to an appeal, triggering the Evaluation Period under § 8.6 of the APA and giving SGM the option to withdraw from the transaction and/or coerce the Debtors to agree to a substantially reduced purchase price. Id. at ¶ 76. Had the Debtors known that SGM was not serious about paying the $610 million purchase price, they would have pursued other options for the sale and disposition of the Hospitals. Id. at ¶ 45.

Debtors expended tremendous time, expenses, and resources to prepare for and close the SGM Sale in reliance on the APA and Sale Order. Id. at ¶ 59. Among other things, Debtors (a) sent "WARN Notices" to approximately 4,900 employees, pursuant to the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act of 1988, at three different times, as KPC continued to postpone the closing date; (b) spent months facilitating an efficient close of the sale, with approximately twenty different workstreams, meeting at least weekly with employees of KPC to ensure a smooth transition of operations and continued care of patients; (c) successfully negotiated and finalized modified collective bargaining agreements with the six unions representing the Hospitals' employees; and (d) coordinated changes in insurance coverages and insurance policies to ensure seamless coverage for employees and patients. Id. at ¶ 60.

Despite the Debtors' good faith efforts to work towards a prompt closing of the SGM Sale, Defendants dragged their feet and frustrated Debtors' efforts. Defendants failed to ensure that financing, resources, management, and personnel were in place for Defendants to assume operations of the Hospitals in 2019. Defendants did so knowing that the Debtors were continuing to operate at a loss of approximately $450,000 a day. Id. at ¶ 78. Among other things, Defendants (a) failed to timely engage with the Hospitals' primary revenue providers—health plans and physician groups—to provide assurances that their business relationships with the Hospitals would continue after the closing date; (b) failed to onboard a sufficient management team to run the Hospitals, and engaged in eleventh-hour efforts to hire away key members of the Debtors' management team; and (c) delayed decisions on the assumption or rejection of thousands of executory contracts, which created uncertainty for the counterparties to those contracts. Id. at ¶¶ 79–81.

On November 18, 2019, SGM's CEO, Peter Baranoff, telephoned Carsten Beith, at the Debtors' investment banker Cain, and stated that SGM could not obtain sufficient financing to close the SGM Sale. Id. at ¶ 86. Recognizing that the existence of financing is not a condition to close, SGM resorted to making unfounded and self-serving assertions that the Debtors breached the APA. Id. at ¶ 87. On November 22, 2019, SGM sent the Debtors letters setting forth issues that SGM asserted amounted to a Material Adverse Effect (the "November 22, 2019 Letters"). Id. at ¶ 88. The issues that SGM raised were not new—they were all known or discoverable during the diligence period that had expired at least nine months earlier. Id. And none of the issues altered SGM's obligation to close the SGM Sale by December 5, 2019, because the APA provided that the sale was "as is, where is." Id. Even after the Bankruptcy Court entered the Material Adverse Effect Order, which provided that SGM was required to close the SGM Sale by December 5, 2019, SGM refused to close the sale. Id. at ¶ 97.

Based upon the foregoing allegations, the Complaint asserts claims for breach of contract, promissory fraud, and tortious breach of contract for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. In Count I, for breach of contract, Debtors allege that the Defendants have materially and continually breached the APA by (a) failing to consummate and close the SGM Sale in accordance with the APA; (b) failing to have funds available to close the SGM Sale at the price set forth in the APA; (c) representing in § 3.9 of the APA and elsewhere that they had the ability to obtain "funds in cash in amounts equal to the purchase price"; (d) attempting to coerce the Debtors to agree to a substantially reduced purchase price; (e) failing to cooperate with the Debtors and move with alacrity towards closing the SGM Sale; (f) making unfunded and untimely assertions of alleged Material Adverse Effects; (g) asserting entitlement to an "Evaluation Period" when no such period existed after entry of the Sale Enforcement Order, the Section 8.6 Order and the Material Adverse Effect Order; (h) appealing the Sale Enforcement Order to avoid its obligation to close and despite the APA's requirement that the Defendants cooperate to render it a final, nonappealable order; and (i) filing meritless and frivolous Notices of Appeal. Id. at ¶ 100.

In Count II, for promissory fraud, Debtors allege that at the time Defendants entered into the APA, Defendants had no intention of performing in accordance with the APA, and that Defendants concealed their true intention not to fund the $610 million purchase price for the purpose of holding the estate, creditors, and patients at the Hospitals hostage in an attempt to extort a lower purchase price. Id. at ¶ 102.

In Count III, for tortious breach of contract, Debtors allege that Defendants tortiously breached the APA and the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing by (a) entering into the APA with no intention to perform their obligations thereunder; (b) failing to consummate and close the SGM Sale in accordance with the APA; (c) failing to have funds available to close the SGM Sale at the $610 million purchase price set forth in the APA; (d) attempting to coerce Plaintiffs to engage in a re-trade at a lower price; (e) failing to cooperate with Debtors and move with alacrity towards closing the SGM Sale; (f) making unfounded and untimely assertions of alleged Material Adverse Effects; (g) asserting entitlement to an Evaluation Period to which Defendants were not entitled; (h) filing meritless Notices of Appeal; and (i) failing to respond to Debtors' inquiries regarding SGM's intent and financial ability to perform under the APA. Id. at ¶ 107.

G. SGM's Emergency Motion to Stay the Adversary Proceeding

On January 16, 2020, SGM filed an emergency motion to stay the adversary proceeding that had been commenced by the filing of the Complaint (the "Stay Motion"). The Court declined to set a hearing on the Stay Motion on 48 hours' notice, as requested by SGM. Instead, the Court sua sponte extended the deadline for Defendants to respond to the Complaint to February 19, 2020, to enable the Stay Motion to be heard on regular notice. See Doc. No. 15.

In the Stay Motion, SGM asserts that the Court lacks jurisdiction to adjudicate the adversary proceeding until final resolution of SGM's appeals of the Sale Enforcement Order, the Section 8.6 Order, and the Material Adverse Effect Order (collectively, the "Orders"). SGM argues that the issues raised by the Orders touch directly on the issues raised in the adversary proceeding. SGM contends that the Complaint relies heavily on the finding in the Material Adverse Effect Order that the Debtors had complied with all the conditions required for closing and that SGM was obligated to close on December 5, 2019. SGM further maintains that the Complaint overlaps with the Orders because the Complaint alleges that SGM breached the APA by (a) asserting entitlement to an Evaluation Period when no such period existed after entry of the Orders; (b) appealing the Sale Enforcement Order to avoid its obligation to close and despite the APA's requirement that Defendants cooperate to render the Sale Enforcement Order final and non-appealable; and (c) filing meritless and frivolous Notices of Appeal of the Orders.

H. The Debtors' Opposition to the Stay Motion

The Debtors arguments in opposition to the Stay Motion may be summarized as follows:

The divestiture rule provides that the filing of a notice of appeal "confers jurisdiction on the court of appeals and divests the district court of those aspects of the case involved in the appeal." Griggs v. Provident Consumer Discount Co., 459 U.S. 56, 58 (1982). The Ninth Circuit has held:

The "divestiture of jurisdiction rule is not based upon statutory provisions or the rules of civil or criminal procedure. Instead, it is a judge made rule originally devised in the context of civil appeals to avoid confusion or waste of time resulting from having the same issues before two courts at the same time." United States v. Claiborne, 727 F.2d 842, 850 (9th Cir. 1984). Though Griggs referred to the "divestiture rule" as jurisdictional, the Supreme Court has since made clear that "[o]nly Congress may determine a lower federal court's subject-matter jurisdiction." Hamer v. Neighborhood Hous. Services of Chicago, — U.S. —, 138 S.Ct. 13, 17, 199 L.Ed.2d 249 (2017) (quoting Kontrick v. Ryan, 540 U.S. 443, 452, 124 S.Ct. 906, 157 L.Ed.2d 867 (2004)). Accordingly, "jurisdictional" rules derived from sources other than Congress are more accurately characterized as "mandatory claim-processing rules" that may be applied in a "less stern" manner than true jurisdictional rules.

As a pragmatic rule, divestiture (a) does not preclude the Court from exercising jurisdiction over all other matters that it must undertake to implement or enforce the judgment or order, and (b) in the absence of a stay pending appeal, only prohibits modification of the order on appeal. A careful reading of the Orders and the Complaint shows that application of the divestiture rule is not appropriate here. The Orders cover discrete issues concerning the Debtors' efforts to close the now-terminated SGM Sale. The Orders are not dispositive of the claims asserted in the Complaint. The Court acknowledged as much in the OSC Memorandum, which stated that "[i]n the future, the Debtors will have an opportunity to litigate the issues of whether SGM has breached the APA and whether the Debtors are entitled to retain SGM's good-faith deposit." OSC Memorandum at 2. The divestiture rule only prohibits the Court from altering or amending the Orders, and the Complaint does not seek such relief. See Sherman v. SEC (In re Sherman), 491 F.3d 948, 967 (9th Cir. 2007) (internal citation omitted) (holding that where divestiture applies, the "bankruptcy court retains jurisdiction over all other matters that it must undertake 'to implement or enforce the judgment or order,' although it 'may not alter or expand upon the judgment.' If a party wants to stay all of the proceedings in bankruptcy court while an appeal is pending, it must file a motion for a stay.").

The divestiture rule is not properly invoked with respect to the Section 8.6 Order and Material Adverse Effect Order, because both orders are interlocutory. "Filing an appeal from an unappealable decision does not divest the district court of jurisdiction." United States v. Hickey, 580 F.3d 922, 928 (9th Cir. 2009). The Section 8.6 Order is interlocutory because its findings were limited to the Debtors' satisfaction of § 8.6 of the APA, and it did not address whether other conditions to closing had been satisfied. See Section 8.6 Order at 2 (finding that "SGM is now obligated to promptly close the SGM Sale, provided that all other conditions to closing are satisfied") (emphasis added). The Material Adverse Effect Order is interlocutory because it did not compel SGM to close the SGM Sale. Rather, it interpreted the Material Adverse Effect clause and closing conditions in the APA, determined that those provisions were satisfied, and, in light of those findings and the Debtors' outstanding contractual demand, determined that December 5, 2019 was the closing date under § 1.3 of the APA.

Even if the divestiture rule did apply—which it does not—the Court could still adjudicate the Complaint because the divestiture rule is subject to exceptions. As explained by the United States District Court for the Northern District of California:

[T]here are generally three situations where a notice of appeal does not divest the district court of jurisdiction: (1) where the issue before the district court is separate from, or collateral to, the matter involved in the appeal; (2) where application of the divestiture of jurisdiction rule would wholly undermine its purpose; and (3) where the appeal is clearly defective or frivolous, usually by reason of untimeliness, lack of essential recitals, or reference to a nonappealable order.

The appeals of the Orders are constitutionally and equitably moot. As a result, the appeals are clearly defective and frivolous, and application of the divestiture rule would wholly undermine its purpose.

The relief set forth in each of the Orders contemplates the effectiveness and closing of the SGM Sale pursuant to the APA. The Court cannot grant relief with respect to closing the SGM Sale given the dramatic change in circumstances after SGM's refusal to close. The APA was terminated on December 27, 2019. The Debtors obtained orders authorizing them to undertake alternative transactions and authorizing the closure of St. Vincent Medical Center. It is no longer possible for the Debtors to close the transaction contemplated by the APA. Consequently, the Orders—which each pertain to the closing of the SGM Sale—are moot.

Finally, SGM has waived its ability to assert that the divestiture rule applies. The APA provides that disputes regarding the occurrence of a Material Adverse Effect "shall be exclusively settled by a determination made by the Bankruptcy Court ...." APA at § 9.1(c). This provision constitutes an enforceable contractual appeal waiver. See Minesen Co. v. McHugh, 671 F. 3d 1332, 1339 (D.C. Cir. 2012) (extensive case law permits voluntary waivers of rights to appeal); Slattery v. Ancient Order of Hibernians in Am., No. 97-7173, 1998 WL 135601, at *1 (D.C. Cir. Feb. 9, 1998) (dismissing appeal where parties "agree[d] not to appeal any decision by the district court relating to defendants' motion for attorneys' fees"). Because SGM has waived its appellate rights with respect to Material Adverse Effect determination, it cannot invoke the divestiture rule.

Section 12.3 of the APA provides that "the parties irrevocably elect, as the sole judicial forum for the adjudication of any matters arising under or in connection with the Agreement, and consent to the exclusive jurisdiction of, the Bankruptcy Court." As a result of this waiver, SGM cannot invoke the divestiture rule with respect to the Sale Enforcement Order or the Section 8.6 Order.

I. The Committee's Opposition to the Stay Motion and the Committee's Motion to Intervene

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") filed an opposition to the Stay Motion (the "Committee Opposition"). In its reply briefing, SGM asserted that the Committee Opposition should be stricken because the Committee (1) is not a party to the adversary proceeding, (2) has not obtained Court permission to intervene in the adversary proceeding, and (3) has no standing to participate in the adversary proceeding.

The Court authorized the Committee to notice a hearing on an emergency motion to intervene (the "Intervention Motion") concurrently with the hearing on the Stay Motion. The Committee seeks to intervene for the limited purpose of opposing the Stay Motion. The Committee has not yet decided whether it will move to intervene as to the remainder of the adversary proceeding.

In support of the Intervention Motion, the Committee argues that multiple circuit courts have held that, under § 1109(b), a creditors' committee may appear and be heard in any proceeding in the bankruptcy court—including adversary proceedings. See, e.g., In re Caldor Corp., 303 F.3d 161, 175-76 (2nd Cir. 2002) (term loan holder committee had unconditional right under Section 1109(b) to intervene in adversary proceeding against Chapter 11 debtors); Matter of Marin Motor Oil, Inc., 689 F.2d 445, 451-54 (3rd Cir. 1982) (under Section 1109(b), creditors' committee had "absolute right" to intervene in adversary proceeding). In the alternative, the Committee asserts that it meets the requirements for intervention as of right under Civil Rule 24(a)(2). Specifically, the Committee maintains that it has a significant protectable interest in this matter, given that the Debtors' claims against SGM for breach of contract represent a significant source of money that might be available to provide a recovery to unsecured creditors.

The Committee's arguments in opposition to the Stay Motion may be summarized as follows:

The Stay Motion is nothing more than an attempt by SGM to indefinitely delay resolution of the Complaint. SGM's breach of the APA cost the estates not less than $100 million, resulted in a material loss of jobs, and adversely impacted local access to healthcare.

The Committee is concerned that, in the course of the delay that SGM seeks, SGM's principals will strip SGM of its assets, negating its ability to satisfy a future judgment.

SGM's misconduct is illustrated by its appeal of the Supplemental Sale Order. The rationale for § 8.6 of the APA was that it might prove risky for SGM to close the sale if the Supplemental Sale Order was appealed, given that an appeal could expose SGM to the more onerous Additional Conditions that it had not agreed to accept. To that end, § 8.6 gave SGM the option to walk away if an appeal of the Supplemental Sale Order remained pending at the time of closing. It was never contemplated that SGM itself could trigger such optionality (i.e., grant itself a right to walk away) by filing an appeal of the very Supplemental Sale Order it needed for comfort. But this now appears to be precisely SGM's position.

J. SGM's Reply in Support of the Stay Motion

SGM's arguments in reply to the Debtors' opposition may be summarized as follows:

The divestiture rule applies where, as here, the issues in the lower court "involve aspects of the case that are the subject of the pending appeal." Mercado-Guillen v. McAleenan, 2019 WL 1995331, at *2 (N.D. Cal. May 6, 2019). At base, the Complaint seeks to hold SGM liable for failing to close the SGM Sale in accordance with the APA. Complaint at ¶ 100. However, it is undisputed that SGM had no duty to close the SGM Sale until the Debtors had satisfied all conditions precedent to closing. SGM has appealed the Material Adverse Effect Order, which found that the Debtors had satisfied all conditions precedent. The Bankruptcy Court cannot adjudicate the issue of whether the Debtors had satisfied the conditions precedent to closing while that same issue is being considered by the District Court in connection with the appeal.

The Debtors assert that the Court need not stay the adversary proceeding because SGM did not seek a stay of any of the appealed Orders. However, the Orders from which SGM appealed are not enforceable orders; if they were, the Debtors would not have filed the Complaint to obtain damages. SGM had no need to seek a stay until the Debtors filed the Complaint, which created the prospect of two courts ruling on the same issues at the same time.

The Debtors assert that the divestiture rule does not apply because SGM's appeals are frivolous. It is not appropriate for the Bankruptcy Court to determine whether the appeals are frivolous; such a determination would usurp the authority of the District Court.

Along similar lines, the Debtors assert that the divestiture rule does not apply because the Orders were interlocutory. Questions about the District Court's jurisdiction over the appeals should be left to the District Court. However, the Debtors' contention that the Orders were interlocutory is mistaken. The Material Adverse Effect Memorandum unambiguously and finally decided that "all conditions precedent to closing have been satisfied" and that "SGM is obligated to close the sale by no later than December 5, 2019." Material Adverse Effect Memorandum at 7. This was a final order—after its entry, there were no other sale conditions left for the Court to interpret, and SGM was obligated to close the sale.

If SGM is not permitted to proceed with its appeals of the Orders prior to adjudication of the Complaint, then SGM will be subject to the Debtors' argument that the Orders preclude SGM from contesting the Complaint's allegations—in particular, the allegation that SGM failed to timely close the sale notwithstanding its obligation to do so. This would enable the Debtors to obtain a judgment in their favor on their breach of contract claims without the Defendants ever having had the opportunity to present evidence in defense of those claims.

There is no merit to the Debtors' contention that the appeals are moot because the APA has been terminated. It is true that it is no longer possible for the sale contemplated by the APA to close. But that has nothing to do with the Complaint, which requires a determination over which party breached the APA.

The Debtors' argument that SGM waived its rights to appeal or to invoke the divestiture rule are likewise without merit. The waiver of a right to appeal must be express. In re Deepwater Horizon, 785 F.3d 986, 997 (5th Cir. 2015). The "exclusively settled" and "sole judicial forum" language in §§ 9.3(c) and 12.3 of the APA simply provides the forum in which disputes arising under the APA would be adjudicated. Nothing in either section can reasonably be interpreted as an express waiver of the right to appellate review.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Committee is Authorized to Intervene for the Limited Purpose of Opposing the Stay Motion

The Committee is authorized to intervene for the limited purpose of opposing the Stay Motion. The Court declines SGM's request to strike the Committee Opposition.

The Second and Third Circuits have both held that, pursuant to § 1109(b), a creditors' committee has an unconditional right to intervene in an adversary proceeding within a Chapter 11 case. See Term Loan Holder Committee v. Ozer Group, LLC (In re Caldor Corp.), 303 F.3d 161, 176 (2d Cir. 2002) and Committee v. Michaels (Matter of Marin Motor Oil, Inc.), 689 F.2d 445, 451 (3d Cir. 1982).

Here, the Committee has sought authorization to intervene solely for the purposes of opposing the Stay Motion. SGM acknowledges that the Committee has the authority to be heard on issues arising in the main bankruptcy case, but contends that the Committee's right to be heard does not apply to the instant adversary proceeding. However, SGM initially filed the Stay Motion in the main bankruptcy case; it re-filed the Stay Motion in the adversary proceeding only after being ordered to do so by the Court. SGM's decision to initially file the Stay Motion in the main bankruptcy case severely undercuts its assertion that the Committee lacks standing with respect to the Stay Motion.

Even if the Stay Motion had not initially been filed in the main bankruptcy case, the Court would find it appropriate to permit the Committee to intervene for the limited purpose of opposing the Stay Motion. The timing of the adjudication of the Complaint will significantly affect the creditors that the Committee represents. In the event the Debtors prevail, the creditors that the Committee represents may be entitled to a portion of the recovery. The Committee has an interest in assuring that the Complaint is not stayed pending the outcome of SGM's appeals of the Orders. That interest is significant enough to confer standing upon the Committee to oppose the Stay Motion.

In the event the Committee wishes to be heard in connection with future issues arising in this adversary proceeding, the Committee shall file a further motion to intervene.

B. The Stay Motion is Denied

"The filing of a notice of appeal is an event of jurisdictional significance—it confers jurisdiction on the court of appeals and divests the district court of its control over those aspects of the case involved in the appeal." Griggs v. Provident Consumer Disc. Co., 459 U.S. 56, 58, 103 S.Ct. 400, 74 L.Ed.2d 225 (1982).

The premise of the Stay Motion is that the Orders contain findings which (a) preclude SGM from defending itself against the Complaint's allegations and (b) require the Court to enter judgment in the Debtors' favor on the breach of contract claim. Based upon this premise, SGM asserts that the adversary proceeding must be stayed until the completion of its appeals of the Orders.

SGM's premise is not correct. The Orders do not adjudicate whether SGM had breached the APA; nor do the Orders contain findings that compel the Court to rule in the Debtors' favor with respect to the Complaint's breach of contract claim. The Orders were entered "[t]o facilitate an expeditious and successful resolution of these cases," Section 8.6 Order at 2. To that end, the Orders contained various findings necessary to allow the SGM Sale to proceed. The sole purpose of those findings was to provide the framework necessary for the Debtors and SGM to promptly close the SGM Sale. The findings were not intended to create a springboard for a claim for breach of contract against SGM.

Significantly, nothing in the Orders determined SGM's liability, if any, for breach of the APA. The limited scope of the Orders was made clear in the OSC Memorandum, in which the Court emphasized that the issue of whether SGM had breached the APA had not yet been decided: "In the future, the Debtors will have the opportunity to litigate the issues of whether SGM has breached the APA and whether the Debtors are entitled to retain SGM's good-faith deposit." OSC Memorandum at 2.

The APA was terminated on December 27, 2019. St. Vincent, one of the Hospitals whose sale was contemplated by the APA, has now closed. The SGM Sale is dead and cannot be resuscitated. The findings in the Orders—which the Court made only to facilitate the closing of the SGM Sale—cannot spring back to life in the entirely different context of the Debtors' breach of contract claim. The Orders do not preclude SGM from contesting the Debtors' allegation that SGM breached the APA. SGM remains free to present evidence in this proceeding in support of its position that as of December 5, 2019, it was not obligated to close the SGM Sale. The corollary is that the Debtors cannot rely solely upon the Material Adverse Effect Order to support their allegation that SGM was obligated to close as of December 5, 2019.

Because the findings in the Orders were limited to the failed SGM Sale, those findings are not dispositive of the claims asserted in the Complaint. Consequently, SGM's appeal of the Orders has not divested this Court of jurisdiction over the separate issues arising in the Complaint.

An additional reason for the inapplicability of the divestiture rule is that SGM has waived its right to appeal the Orders. To prevent abusive appeals undertaken "to run up an adversary's costs or to delay trial," the Court may decline to apply the divestiture rule if it certifies that an appeal has been waived. Rodriguez v. Cty. of Los Angeles, 891 F.3d 776, 791 (9th Cir. 2018). SGM has waived its right to appeal any of the Orders. With respect to the Material Adverse Effect Order, the APA provides that "any dispute between Purchaser [SGM] and Sellers [the Debtors] as to whether a Material Adverse Effect has occurred for any purpose under this Agreement shall be exclusively settled by a determination made by the Bankruptcy Court." APA at § 9.1(c) (emphasis added). With respect to the Sale Enforcement Order and the Section 8.6 Order, § 12.3 of the APA provides that "the parties irrevocably elect, as the sole judicial forum for the adjudication of any matters arising under or in connection with the Agreement, and consent to the exclusive jurisdiction of, the Bankruptcy Court ...." The Court will certify to the District Court that SGM has waived its right to appeal the Orders. For this additional reason, the divestiture rule does not apply.

Based upon the foregoing, the Stay Motion is DENIED. The Court will prepare

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

2/10/2020

Plaintiff has failed to take any action whatsoever to fulfill her obligations in connection with this Pretrial Conference. Pursuant to a Scheduling Order issued on July 2, 2019 [Doc. No. 56], Plaintiff was obligated to submit a proposed Joint Pretrial Stipulation. After Plaintiff failed to timely submit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, the Court issued an Order to Comply. The Order to Comply required the parties to submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation by no later than ten days prior to the Pretrial Conference. If Defendant failed to cooperate with Plaintiff, the Order to Comply required Plaintiff to lodge a separate proposed Pretrial Order by no later than seven days prior to the Pretrial Conference. Plaintiff has failed to respond to the Order to Comply.

The Defendant has requested a continuance of the trial until the end of 2020, based upon his work schedule. The Defendant further states that he attempted to schedule mediation with the mediators assigned by the Court, but that his attempts were unsuccessful.

By separate order, the Court will require the Plaintiff to appear and show cause why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute, pursuant to Civil Rule 41. The date and time of that hearing will be set forth in the Order to Show Cause.

Docket 10

Tentative Ruling:

2/11/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant. See Doc. No. 1.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 15, 2014, Wesley Brian Ferris (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition. The Court entered an order confirming Debtor's First Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan") [Doc. No. 171] on March 8, 2017. Doc. No. 190. The effective date of Debtor's Plan was April 7, 2017 (the "Effective Date").

The Debtor filed the Eighth Post-Confirmation Status Report on February 5, 2020 (the "Status Report") [Doc. No. 210]. The Status Report explains that the Debtor has faced difficulties in consummating the Plan because of issues arising from the secured

Class 2

Class 2 consists of the Bank of New York Mellon's secured loan (the "Greystone Loan"), which was, until recently, serviced by Bayview Loan, LLC ("Bayview"). On January 31, 2020, Shellpoint Mortgage Servicing ("Shellpoint") was designated as the new servicer on the Greystone Loan. On February 2, 2019, Bayview filed a Notice of Breach of Confirmed Chapter 11 Plan re Real Property Located at 443 East Greystone Avenue, Monrovia, CA 91016 [Doc. No. 241] stating that as of February 6, 2019, the Debtor had failed to make twenty (20) post-confirmation payments (from July 2017 to February 2019), and that the total outstanding default was approximately $65,128.45.

As set forth in the Status Report, the Debtor contends this issue stemmed from confusion regarding Debtor's mailing address: Bayview's billing statements were delivered to Debtor's counsel's old office address, and as consequence, Debtor's attempts to tender plan payments were rejected because such payments were not accompanied by the billing stubs he failed to receive. Status Report at 5. At the November 13, 2019 status conference, Bayview, through its counsel, advised the Court that Bayview had honored the Greystone Loan terms provided in the Plan as early as January 2019. Bayview also maintained that the Debtor had not cured arrears on the loan, but that it would work with the Debtor on an updated default balance. Although Debtor reports that it provided Bayview with a required change of address form, he asserts that numerous attempts to obtain an updated balance statement from Bayview have been ignored. Status Report at 5-6.

The Debtor further reports that he has requested Shellpoint's primary contact person's information on whom he will serve a motion or adversary action to enforce the Greystone Loan terms as stated in the Plan. Status Report at 6. Greystone remains rented, but the Debtor anticipates he will need to cover a modest deficiency on plan payments from his personal income. Id. at 8.

Class 1

The Class 1 claim (the "Alta Vista Loan") is serviced by Specialized Loan Servicing ("Specialized"). The Debtor claims that he remained current on plan payments on the Alta Vista Loan until the property became vacant and he became unemployed. The Status Report alleges that because Specialized never delivered a monthly bill statement after the Effective Date, the Debtor does not know the exact amount of arrears or the loan's remaining balance. Status Report at 7. Debtor also claims that his counsel has sent numerous e-mails to Specialized's counsel concerning repayment, but has received no response. Id. It is Debtor's position that, until he obtains the requested information from Specialized, through a discovery motion, he will be incapable of becoming current on the Alta Vista Loan or selling the property. Id. at 8-9. Alta Vista is listed for rent, and having accomplished cosmetic improvements on the property, the Debtor expects it will soon be rented.

The Debtor requests that the post-confirmation status conference be continued again for 120-180 days.

II. Findings and Conclusions

No appearances required. This is a post-confirmation status conference. A continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall be held on June 17, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Post-Confirmation Status Report must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

With respect to the Class 2 claim, the Court will afford Debtor an opportunity to discuss with Shellpoint the payment of the Greystone Loan, and any arrears accrued, in conformity with the Plan. In the event that the Debtor fails to reach a resolution with Shellpoint with respect to the implementation of Plan provisions, the Debtor shall file and serve a motion to enforce the Plan by no later than May 19, 2020.

With respect to the Class 1 claim, the premise of Debtor's argument that Specialized is obligated to provide him with an updated statement on the Alta Vista Loan is not well taken. The Debtor, as proponent of the Plan, has the responsibility of carrying out the terms of the confirmed plan, which reasonably includes keeping track of plan payments and any arrears accrued thereon. See 11 U.S.C. § 1142(a) ("[T]he

Moreover, the Court is perplexed as to why the Debtor is incapable of accurately estimating the remaining balance on the Alta Vista Loan by reference to the Plan [Doc. No. 131] and his personal financial records. Based on the foregoing, in the Post-Confirmation Status Report, the Debtor must explain how he will come back into compliance with the terms of the Plan, and whether in doing so, he will become current on the Alta Vista loan or sell the Alta Vista property.

The Court will prepare the order.

in real property located at 11421 Angell Street, Norwalk, CA 90650 (the "Property"). On July 25, 2019, the Court denied the Debtors' motion to convert to Chapter 13 (the "Conversion Motion"). See Doc. No. 41. The Court found that the Debtors' bad faith failure to provide accurate and complete information in their schedules and in response to questioning under oath warranted denial of the Conversion Motion. See Final Ruling Denying Conversion Motion [Doc. No. 40].

On June 18, 2019, the Court authorized the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") to employ Keller Williams Realty (the "Broker") to market the Property. See Doc. No. 35.

On September 27, 2019, upon motion of the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee"), the Court ordered the Debtors to cooperate with the Trustee's real estate broker with respect to the marketing of the Property. The Court further ordered the Debtors to pay the Trustee's counsel $500 in attorneys' fees as a sanction for failing to fulfill their statutory obligation to cooperate with the Trustee. See Doc. No. 59 (the "Sanctions Order"). The sanction was to be paid by no later than November 1, 2019. Id.

The Debtors failed to pay the sanction by November 1, 2019, as ordered by the Court. On January 13, 2020, the Court issued an order requiring the Debtors to show cause why they should not be held in contempt for knowingly violating the Sanctions Order. See Doc. No. 63. The Debtors were also ordered to show cause why they should not be required to pay the Trustee additional sanctions to compensate him for the costs of enforcing the Sanctions Order.

The Debtors have not responded to the Order to Show Cause.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Bankruptcy Court has authority to impose compensatory civil contempt sanctions pursuant to § 105. Renwick v. Bennett (In re Bennett), 298 F.3d 1059, 1069 (9th Cir. 2002). "The standard for finding a party in civil contempt is well settled: The moving party has the burden of showing by clear and convincing evidence that the contemnors violated a specific and definite order of the court." Knupfer v. Lindblade (In re Dyer), 322 F.3d 1178, 1191 (9th Cir. 2003). "The burden then shifts to the contemnors to demonstrate why they were unable to comply." F.T.C. v. Affordable Media, 179 F.3d 1228, 1239 (9th Cir. 1999).

There is no dispute that the Debtors failed to comply with the Sanctions Order, which required them to pay the Trustee $500. The Debtors have been provided an opportunity to demonstrate that they lacked the ability to comply with the Sanctions Order. The Debtors did not make use of that opportunity, having failed to submit any response to the Order to Show Cause.

The Court will hold the Debtors in contempt for violating the Sanctions Order, and will require the Debtors to pay the Trustee's counsel an additional sanction of $500, to compensate the Trustee for the costs of enforcing the Sanctions Order. [Note 1] By no later than April 30, 2020, the Debtors shall pay the Trustee $1,000, consisting of the original sanction of $500 plus the $500 sanction ordered in connection with this hearing.

Within seven days of the hearing, the Trustee shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1

The Trustee asserts that a sanction of $1,400 is warranted, based on the fact that counsel spent 3.5 hours attempting to enforce the Sanctions Order at a billing rate of $400 per hour. A sanction of $1,400 is excessive. The Court previously sanctioned the Debtors $500 to compensate the Trustee for the costs of compelling the Debtors' cooperation with the Trustee's real estate broker. The effort required to enforce the Sanctions Order was comparable to that required to compel cooperation with the real estate broker.

RE: [25] Order Requiring Plaintiff To Appear And Show Cause Why This Action Should Not Be Dismissed For Failure To Prosecute, Pursuant To Civil Rule 41(B) .

Docket 25

Tentative Ruling:

2/18/2020

This action is dismissed, pursuant to Civil Rule 41(b), based upon Plaintiff's failure to prosecute.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Order Requiring Plaintiff to Appear and Show Cause Why this Action Should Not be Dismissed for Failure to Prosecute [Doc. No. 24] (the "OSC")
  - a) Bankruptcy Noticing Center Certificate of Notice [Doc. No. 30]
- 2) Response to Order to Show Cause (the "Response") [Doc. No. 32]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On January 14, 2020, the Court issued an Order Requiring Plaintiff to Appear and Show Cause Why this Action Should Not be Dismissed for Failure to Prosecute (the "Order to Show Cause") [Doc. No. 24]. The Order to Show Cause required Plaintiff to show cause why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute, based upon Plaintiff's (a) failure to cooperate with the Defendant in the preparation of a proposed Joint Pretrial Stipulation, even after the Court issued an Order to Comply, and (b) failure to appear at the Pretrial Conference.

Plaintiff's counsel requests that the Order to Show Cause be discharged on the ground of excusable neglect. Counsel testifies as follows in support of the request:

I was out of town during the 2019 winter holidays and was unable to access my office. When I returned from my trip, I became sick with influenza (flu) during the time when this Honorable Court issued the Order to Comply on January 2, 2020. As a result, I inadvertently failed to calendar the Pretrial Conference and respond to opposing counsel's communication to prepare the Joint Pretrial Stipulation.

Iwuchuku Decl. at ¶¶ 3–5.

Defendant did not file an opposition to Plaintiff's response to the Order to Show Cause.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Civil Rule 41(b), made applicable to these proceedings by Bankruptcy Rule 7041, provides in relevant part: "If the plaintiff fails to prosecute or to comply with these rules or a court order, a defendant may move to dismiss the action or any claim against it. Unless the dismissal order states otherwise, a dismissal under this subdivision (b) ... operates as an adjudication on the merits."

The Court weighs five factors in determining whether to dismiss a case for lack of prosecution:

- 1) the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation;
- 2) the court's need to manage its docket;
- 3) the risk of prejudice to the defendants;
- 4) the public policy favoring the disposition of cases on their merits; and
- 5) the availability of less drastic sanctions.

Moneymaker v. CoBEN (In re Eisen), 31 F.3d 1447, 1451 (9th Cir. 1994).

There are three sub-parts to the fifth factor, the availability of less drastic sanctions: "whether the court has considered lesser sanctions, whether it tried them, and whether it warned the recalcitrant party about the possibility of case-dispositive sanctions." Connecticut Gen. Life Ins. Co. v. New Images of Beverly Hills, 482 F.3d 1091, 1096 (9th Cir. 2007). The application of these factors is not mechanical; instead, the factors provide the Court "with a way to think about what to do, not a set of conditions precedent for sanctions or a script that the [Court] must follow." Id.

Here, factors one, two, three, and five weigh in favor of dismissing the action for lack of prosecution. The Court finds that dismissal is warranted as a result of Plaintiff's failure to prosecute.

1. Public's Interest in Expeditious Resolution of Litigation

Chapter 7

"The public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation always favors dismissal." Pagtalunan v. Galaza, 291 F.3d 639, 642 (9th Cir. 2002). This factor weighs in favor of dismissal.

2. The Court's Need to Manage its Docket

Courts have the "power to manage their dockets without being subject to the endless vexatious noncompliance of litigants ...." Ferdik v. Bonzelet, 963 F.2d 1258, 1261 (9th Cir. 1992), as amended (May 22, 1992). "This factor is usually reviewed in conjunction with the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation to determine if there is unreasonable delay." Eisen, 31 F.3d at 1452.

As discussed in connection with factor three, below, Plaintiff has failed to offer a legitimate excuse for his non-compliance. Plaintiff's non-compliance has made it impossible for the Court to maintain the dates for the Pretrial Conference and trial that were previously ordered. These dates are carefully allocated, well in advance, to balance multiple pending adversary proceedings. This factor weighs in favor of dismissal.

3. The Risk of Prejudice to the Defendants

"[T]he failure to prosecute diligently is sufficient by itself to justify a dismissal, even in the absence of a showing of actual prejudice to the defendant from the failure.... The law presumes injury from unreasonable delay." Eisen, 31 F.3d at 1452. If the Plaintiff offers "an excuse for his delay that is anything but frivolous, the burden of production shifts to the defendant to show at least some actual prejudice." Id. at 1453. "Prejudice itself usually takes two forms—loss of evidence and loss of memory by a witness." Nealey v. Transportacion Maritima Mexicana, S. A., 662 F.2d 1275, 1281 (9th Cir. 1980).

Plaintiff blames the failure to fulfill his obligations in connection with the Pretrial Conference on his case of influenza. Plaintiff does not specify exactly when he became ill, although his declaration does indicate that he was ill as of January 2, 2020, at the time the Court issued the Order to Comply. Plaintiff's excuse for the delay is not sufficient to rebut the presumption of prejudice to the Defendant.

First, pursuant to the Scheduling Order [Doc. No. 16] issued by the Court on May 31, 2019, Plaintiff was required to complete certain tasks in preparation for the Pretrial Conference well before he became ill. There is no evidence that any of these tasks were ever completed. For example, Plaintiff was required to exchange copies of all exhibits intended for introduction at trial by December 15, 2019. Scheduling Order at ¶ 2(h) (requiring the exchange of exhibits thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference). Plaintiff was required to meet and confer with Defendant for the purpose of preparing for the Pretrial Conference by no later than December 17, 2019. See Local Bankruptcy Rule (“LBR”) 7016-1(b)(1)(C). Plaintiff was required to serve a proposed Pretrial Stipulation upon the Defendant by no later than December 24, 2019. See LBR 7016-1(c)(2). Plaintiff’s attempt to blame his failure to complete these tasks upon an illness that he did not contract until after the deadlines had elapsed is unavailing.

Second, Plaintiff’s testimony is not sufficient to excuse his failure to take any action whatsoever in connection with the Pretrial Conference. The Court understands that appropriate accommodations must be afforded to counsel who become ill during the course of representation. However, a case of influenza does not justify Plaintiff’s complete failure to participate in the Pretrial Conference. Defendant’s counsel telephoned Plaintiff’s counsel on January 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, and 9, 2020, in an attempt to make arrangements for the Pretrial Conference. Smyth Decl. [Doc. No. 23] at ¶ 6. Plaintiff did not return any of Defendant’s calls. At the very minimum, Plaintiff should have contacted Defendant to see if it would be possible to request a stipulated continuance of the Pretrial Conference.

Because Plaintiff has not offered a legitimate explanation for the delay, this factor weighs in favor of dismissal.

4. The Public Policy Favoring the Disposition of Cases on Their Merits

“[C]ourts weigh this factor against the plaintiff’s delay and the prejudice suffered by the defendant.” Eisen, 31 F.3d at 1454. Normally, “the public policy favoring disposition of cases on their merits strongly counsels against dismissal.” In re PPA Prods., 460 F.3d at 1228. However, “a case that is stalled or unreasonably delayed by a party’s failure to comply with deadlines and discovery obligations cannot move forward toward resolution on the merits.” Id. This factor therefore “lends little support” to a party “whose conduct impedes progress in that direction.” Id. (citations and quotations omitted). In other words, parties have a responsibility “to refrain from dilatory and evasive tactics.” Morris v. Morgan Stanley & Co., 942 F.2d 648, 652 (9th Cir. 1991).

The public policy favoring resolution of disputes on their merits does not outweigh Plaintiff’s unreasonable delay in prosecuting this action.

Chapter 7

Upon review of the history of this case, the Court is convinced that less drastic sanctions would not adequately remediate Plaintiff's dilatory conduct. As discussed above, Plaintiff failed to complete multiple tasks in preparation for the Pretrial Conference by the required deadlines; these deadlines occurred before Plaintiff's illness. In an Order to Comply issued prior to the Pretrial Conference, the Court warned Plaintiff that the failure to meaningfully participate in the Pretrial Conference would most likely result in the dismissal of the action for failure to prosecute. See Connecticut Gen. Life Ins. Co., 482 F.3d 1091, 1096 (9th Cir. 2007) (holding that this factor requires the Court to consider whether it warned the recalcitrant party about the possibility of case-dispositive sanctions). Notwithstanding this warning, Plaintiff failed to participate in the Pretrial Conference any manner. Plaintiff did not even return Defendant's multiple telephone calls.

Plaintiff's non-participation in the Pretrial Conference is not the first time that Plaintiff has failed to diligently prosecute this action. On May 31, 2019, the Court ordered Plaintiff to submit an order assigning the matter to mediation (the "Mediation Order") within fourteen days. See Doc. No. 16. Plaintiff did not submit the Mediation Order until approximately four months later. See Doc. No. 18. There is no indication that Plaintiff completed mediation.

This factor weighs in favor of dismissal.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the action is DISMISSED for failure to prosecute. The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On January 10, 2020 (the "Petition Date"), 450 S. Western, LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition. On January 15, 2020, the Court conducted a hearing on the Debtor's emergency motion for an interim order authorizing the use of cash collateral (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 5]. On January 16, 2020, the Court entered an interim order authorizing the Debtor to use cash collateral through and including February 20, 2020, and set this hearing on the final approval of the Debtor's use of cash collateral. See Doc. No. 31. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

The Debtor owns and operates a three-story, 80,316 square foot shopping center—commonly known as California Marketplace—located at the intersection of South Western Avenue and 5th Street. The shopping center serves the Los Angeles Korean community and contains 28 stores. As of the Petition Date, the shopping center had a 98% occupancy rate.

The Debtor sought bankruptcy protection primarily as the result of litigation with Admire Capital Lending, LLC (“Admire”) and Belmont Two Investment Holdings, LLC (“Belmont”). On September 10, 2015, the Debtor entered into an unsecured promissory note with Belmont and Admire, in the principal amount of $9.75 million (the “Note”). In litigation before the Los Angeles Superior Court, Belmont and Admire assert a right to convert the Note to equity (the “Conversion Option”). The Debtor disputes the Conversion Option.

As of the Petition Date, the Debtor has secured debt in the estimated amount of approximately $43 million, as follows:

- 1) G450 LLC—$29,932,758.97
- 2) Pontis Capital, LLC—$4,654,666.66
- 3) Five West Capital, LP—$5,818,333.44
- 4) Evergreen Capital Asset—$1,260,164.91
- 5) Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector—$1,653,568.21
- 6) Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector—$246,421.96

Cash collateral will be used to fund payroll and payroll taxes, expenses for maintenance and utilities, and other operating expenses. The Debtor will make monthly adequate protection payments to secured creditor G450 LLC (“G450”) in the amount of $50,000.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of §363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner

Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368–69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. § 363(c)(2)(B) and (e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988).

Nothing in the record indicates that the California Marketplace, the Debtor's primary asset, is declining in value. The California Marketplace is 98% leased, and the bankruptcy was precipitated by litigation with Belmont and Admire, not operating losses. Based on the absence of evidence of declining value and the proposed adequate protection payments to G450, the Court finds that secured creditors with an interest in the Debtor's cash collateral are adequately protected. In addition, the use of cash collateral to maintain the California Marketplace's operations constitutes further adequate protection. See In re Megan-Racine Associates, Inc., 202 B.R. 660, 663 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1996) (concluding that "[a]s long as there was a continuous income stream being generated by the Debtor, the fact that the Debtor consumed a portion of those monies to operate and maintain the facility each month did not diminish the value of the [secured creditor's] interest in the [cash collateral]").

The Debtor's cash collateral budget (the "Budget") is for the period from the Petition Date through and including April 4, 2020. The Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral in accordance with the Budget through and including April 4, 2020.

A hearing on the use of cash collateral subsequent to April 4, 2020, shall take place on April 1, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. The Debtor shall submit further evidence in support of the continued use of cash collateral, including an updated Budget, by no later than March 11, 2020. By that same date, the Debtor shall provide notice of the continued hearing and shall file a proof of service so indicating. Opposition to the continued use of cash collateral is due by March 18, 2020; the Debtors' reply to any opposition is due by March 25, 2020.

Within seven days of the hearing, the Debtor shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Sella Care, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 7 case on November 27, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). On December 16, 2019, the Debtor's case was dismissed due to its failure to file required commencement documents. On the same day, Fund Management International, LLC ("Movant") filed a motion seeking stay-relief (the "R/S Motion") [Doc. No. 8].

Background

The following summary is meant to provide a broad overview of the misconduct allegedly perpetrated by Debtor, its principals, and other affiliates. For purposes of clarity and brevity, and due to the volume of facts in this case, this tentative ruling will not include a lengthy restatement of the facts relevant to the underlying state court action. Instead, facts will be incorporated within this tentative ruling as needed to explain the Court's legal conclusions.

State Court Litigation History

On March 1, 2016, the Movant filed an action in the Los Angeles Superior Court entitled Fund Management International, LLC v. Sella Property, LLC, et al., Case No. BC611563 (the "State Court Action"). In addition to the Debtor, other defendants in the State Court Action include (a) Jun Ho Yang ("J. Yang"), one of the Debtor's principals; (b) Ho Soon Yang ("H. Yang"), J. Yang's spouse and another of the Debtor's principals (collectively with J. Yang, the "Yangs"); (c) their son, Sae Hyun Yang; and (d) two other affiliated entities (collectively with the Yangs, the "State Court Co-Defendants"). The State Court Action complaint asserts various causes of action arising from the Yangs' breach of a prior lawsuit settlement agreement with Movant (the "Settlement Agreement"), and the Yangs' subsequent attempts to evade collection of monies claimed by Movant by fraudulently conveying real property parcels to the Debtor entity and to other affiliated entities.

Overview of Bankruptcy Filings

The Movant alleges that the instant case is the third bankruptcy filing in a period of four months. The State Court Action had an original trial date of August 19, 2019. The Movant describes the two prior bankruptcy petitions as follows. On August 14, 2019, five days before the August 19 trial, J. Yang commenced a voluntary bankruptcy chapter 13 case. Although J. Yang listed Movant as his only creditor, Movant asserts that J. Yang has additional creditors in light of the fact that he is currently embroiled in a separate lawsuit with his neighbors (the "Rickleby Action"). See Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Support of R/S Motion ("MPA") [Doc. No. 8] at 3. J. Yang's bankruptcy case was subsequently dismissed with prejudice with a 180-day refiling bar as he failed to file requisite commencement documents. See id. at 4. As set forth in an order granting Movant stay-relief, the Honorable Martin R. Barash, who presided over J. Yang's bankruptcy case, found that J. Yang had filed the chapter 13 petition in bad faith on the eve of trial in the State Court Action. See the Declaration of Mark L. Edwards, Ex. B [Doc. No. 8]. On October 13, 2019, four days before the State Court Action's continued trial date, H. Yang commenced a voluntary chapter 13. As with J. Yang's petition, H. Yang scheduled Movant as her only creditor despite the outstanding Rickleby Action, and, on or about November 25, 2019, her case was similarly dismissed with prejudice with a 180-day refiling bar. MPA at 4. Trial in the State Court Action was reset to December 3, 2019, however, the instant bankruptcy petition was filed six days before. The continued trial date for the State Court Action is unknown.

Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay to Prosecute Action in Nonbankruptcy Forum

The R/S Motion sought authorization to prosecute the State Court Action against Debtor and the State Court Co-Defendants. The R/S Motion also requested in rem and prospective stay-relief with respect to various parcels of real property, an award of sanctions of not less than $10,000, an award of attorneys' fees of not less than $5,206, and asked the Court to make numerous fact findings, of which included that Debtor was a vexatious litigant. Chapter 7

Evergreen Dynasty Corp., 500 F.3d 1047, 1057-58 (9th Cir. 2007), the Movant argued that Debtor should be sanctioned as a vexatious litigant because Debtor and its principals had, by filing this petition, 1) interrupted trial proceedings in the State Court Action and 2) delayed payment of sanctions in favor of Movant in state court. Id. at 9-10. The Movant insisted that Debtor could also be sanctioned pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 105 and through the Court's inherent bankruptcy powers. Additionally, Movant cited to the California Civil Code ("Cal. Civ. Code") § 1717(a) in support of its attorneys' fees request. MPA at 10. The Court understands Movant's position is that attorneys' fees are payable in this proceeding given an attorney's fee provision found in paragraph 23 of the Settlement Agreement. Id. at 11. After reviewing all briefs, declarations, and exhibits in support of the R/S Motion, the Court issued a tentative ruling on January 6, 2020 (the "Court's Ruling") [Doc. No. 6], which it adopted as its final ruling in a January 7, 2020 order. The Court's Ruling also granted Movant's requested relief as follows:

The Court finds that Movant has established a prima facie case that "cause" exists to grant relief from stay under § 362(d)(1). First, relief is appropriate because the causes of action in the State Court Action arise under state law and a state court would be more intimately familiar with Movant's case and applicable California law to expeditiously move the litigation to final judgment. Second, the State Court Action essentially involves the conduct of third parties, where the Debtor's involvement has been reduced to that of a conduit for the property in question.

the Last, the Court notes the recurring pattern of bankruptcy filings by Debtor and State Court Co-Defendants. The Court finds that these bankruptcy petitions were filed for the sole purpose of interrupting trial proceedings in the State Court Action because 1) these petitions were commenced days before the trial was set to commence, 2) Movant is listed as the only creditor, or one of very few creditors, 3) few case commencement documents were submitted, and 4) each case was summarily dismissed with prejudice. See Memorandum of Points and Authorities at 2-4. Further reference is made to an earlier finding of bad faith reached by the bankruptcy court presiding over J. Yang's chapter 13 case. See Motion, Ex. B. In sum, the Debtor and the State Court Co-Defendants filed the above-referenced bankruptcy cases in bad faith, and these parties acted in concert to impair Movant's ability to prosecute the State Court Based on the foregoing, the Court finds it appropriate to grant extraordinary relief to prevent future bankruptcy abuses by Debtor or an affiliated party. Pursuant to the Court's inherent authority under § 105(a), this order is binding and effective for a period of 180 days in any bankruptcy case commenced by or against 1) the Debtor, 2) each of the State Court Co-Defendants, or 3) any other entity that may be formed by Debtor or a State Court Co-Defendant, so that no further automatic stay shall arise in that case as to the State Court Action. 11 U.S.C. § 105(a) ("No provision of this title providing for the raising of an issue by a party in interest shall be construed to preclude the court from, sua sponte...prevent[ing] an abuse of process.").

Court's Ruling at 21-22. The Court denied all other relief not specifically discussed in the Court's Ruling, but permitted Movant to assert its request for attorneys' fees and sanctions by way of an order to show cause hearing.

Order to Show Cause Re: Sanctions and Attorneys' Fees

On January 13, 2020, the Court issued an Order Requiring Debtor to Appear and Show Cause Why It Should Not Be Sanctioned in the Amount of Movant's Reasonable Attorney's Fees For Filing a Frivolous Chapter 7 Case ("OSC") [Doc. No. 15]. The OSC required Debtor to establish why "in commencing the instant petition, it was not acting in bad faith, vexatiously, and for an improper purpose." OSC at 2. The OSC generally described Debtor's sanctionable conduct as the "commenc[ement of] this chapter 7 petition for the purpose of interrupting trial proceedings in a related state court action." Id. The OSC also incorporated by reference the Court's Ruling, which further described Debtor's sanctionable conduct as noted above. Moreover, the OSC permitted Movant to submit a declaration setting forth the attorney's fees incurred in addressing Debtor's bankruptcy petition and to supplement its request for sanctions. All interested parties, including the Debtor and its counsel, were given timely notice of this OSC hearing. See Doc. No. 16.

Movant, through its counsel, timely filed two declarations setting forth the attorneys' fees expended in responding to this bankruptcy proceeding. In addition, Movant incorporated into its response those declarations proffered in support of the

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Debtor has not filed any response in compliance with the January 13, 2020 order.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. Monetary Sanctions under 11 U.S.C. § 105(a)

Section 105(a) provides:

The court may issue any order, process, or judgment that is necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this title. No provision of this title providing for the raising of an issue by a party in interest shall be construed to preclude the court from, sua sponte, taking any action or making any determination necessary or appropriate to enforce or implement court orders or rules, or to prevent an abuse of process.

This section has been recognized as endowing bankruptcy courts with the inherent power to award sanctions "against a party who willfully disobeys a court order or acts in bad faith, 'which includes a broad range of willful improper conduct.' To impose inherent power sanctions, a court must find that a party acted 'in bad faith, vexatiously, wantonly, or for oppressive reasons.'" Miller v. Cardinale (In re Deville), 280 B.R. 483, 495-96 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2002) aff'd sub nom. In re Deville, 361 F.3d 539 (9th Cir. 2004). A finding of bad faith is warranted where a litigant "knowingly or recklessly raises a frivolous argument." Primus Auto. Fin. Servs., Inc. v. Batarse, 115 F.3d 644, 648-49 (9th Cir. 1997).

Sanctions imposed pursuant to the Bankruptcy Court's inherent power must be compensatory, not punitive. Id. at 497-98. "[A] court may sanction pursuant to its inherent authority even when the same conduct may be punished under another sanctioning statute or rule." Id. at 496. The Bankruptcy Court's inherent sanctioning authority "is not displaced by the federal statutes and rules. It is broader than Rule 9011 sanctions and 'extends to a full range of litigation abuses.'" Id. (internal citations omitted). Inherent authority sanctions have been imposed against a litigant who filed a series of bankruptcy petitions and notices of removal of a state court action to the bankruptcy court to delay a state court trial and to increase the opposing side's litigation costs. In re Deville, 280 B.R. at 494–96. Sanctions were also awarded against a litigant who filed objections to gain a tactical advantage in a case pending before a different court. In re Intel Securities Litigation, 791 F.2d 672, 675 (9th Cir. 1986).

Here, the Debtor, acting through its principal, H. Yang, commenced this chapter 7 case in the eve of a twice-delayed trial in state court. Considering the two bankruptcy filings by the Yangs, the Court reaffirms that the Debtor acted in bad faith by commencing this petition to delay trial proceedings in the State Court Action for a third time. It is evident that the Debtor did not intend to seek chapter 7 relief: the Debtor only identified Movant as its only creditor, only submitted schedules C, I, and J, did not make any attempts to extend filing deadlines, and its case was summarily dismissed approximately two weeks after the Petition Date. The Debtor has, in fact, made no effort to oppose Movant's stay-relief motion or comply with this OSC. Debtor's wrongful conduct consisted of complicity with the Yangs to initiate bankruptcy proceedings to strategically delay trial proceedings, impair Movant's ability to foreclose on real property, as well as increase Movant's legal expenses. The Debtor's actions, along with those of the Yangs, demonstrate attempts to manipulate the bankruptcy system for the purpose of frustrating the State Court Action trial. The Court deems this conduct sanctionable. Accordingly, the Court determines that Debtor must pay an award of sanctions to compensate Movant for its reasonable attorneys' fees and costs as set forth below.

On balance, the Court further finds that Movant's request for attorneys' fees in the amount of $ 7,057.70 is excessive. Movant's activity in this case began the same day Debtor's case was dismissed, and it is essentially limited to the time spent preparing and filing one unopposed stay-relief motion and a four-page declaration concerning attorneys' fees with accompanying billing statements, which has not been—and will likely not be—contested by the Debtor. For instance, the Movant anticipates incurring a total of $1,235 in attorneys' fees through the date of the OSC, of which $800 are allocated for preparing the OSC response and $435 for making a telephonic court appearance on the hearing date. As the Debtor failed to respond to the OSC, the effort expended on the OSC response did not need to be substantial; nor does the Court believe that a lengthy hearing, if any, is necessary. In addition, the Court notes that Movant's counsel collectively billed approximately 10.6 hours for work on the Edwards Declaration and the MPA in support of the R/S Motion, and for which Movant now requests approximately $3,435. Having reviewed the record, and the extent of Movant's participation in this matter, the Court determines that an award of attorneys' fees of $5,000 is more in line with Movant's efforts. In sum, the Movant is entitled to an award of sanctions in the sum of $5,000 for reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

B. Attorney's Fees under Cal. Civ. Code § 1717(a)

The Movant separately seeks an award of attorneys' fees pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code § 1717(a). The Settlement Agreement provides with respect to attorney's fees:

costs shall party.
In the event that any party brings a proceeding, including any civil action arbitration to construe or enforce any of the terms or provisions of this Agreement, including the obtaining of any injunctive relief, the prevailing party in a proceeding shall be entitled to recover actual attorneys' fees, and expenses reasonably incurred in said proceeding. Prevailing party shall mean the party that obtained a net monetary judgment or the party that successfully defended and resisted the claim for relief of the other party.

MPA at 11. Cal. Civ. Code § 1717(a) provides in relevant part:

In any action on a contract, where the contract specifically provides that attorney's fees and costs, which are incurred to enforce that contract, shall be awarded either to one of the parties or to the prevailing party, then the party who is determined to be the party prevailing on the contract, whether he or she is the party specified in the contract or not, shall be entitled to reasonable attorney's fees in addition to other costs.

Cal. Civ. Code § 1717(a) applies only to attorney's fees incurred in actions involving a contract claim. Santisas v. Goodin, 17 Cal.4th 599, 71 Cal.Rptr.2d 830, 951 P.2d 399 (1998) (internal citations omitted). Under California law, "an action is 'on a contract' when a party seeks to enforce, or avoid enforcement of, the provisions of the contract." Penrod v. AmeriCredit Fin. Svcs., Inc. Pacific Gas and Elec. Co., 549 U.S. 443, 452, 127 S.Ct. 1199 (2007) (noting that the attorneys’ fees discussed in In re Johnson were denied as the request had "failed as a matter of state law"); see In re Coast Trading Co., 744 F.2d 686, 693 (9th Cir. 1984) ("the question of the applicability of the bankruptcy laws to particular contracts is not a question of the enforceability of a contract but rather involves a unique, separate area of federal law"); see also Bos v. Board of Trustees, 818 F.3d 486, 490 (9th Cir. 2016) (citing to In re Johnson favorably).

Here, the R/S Motion, brought forth under § 362(d), is not an action on the Settlement Agreement within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code § 1717(a). The R/S Motion sought authorization for Movant to prosecute the State Court Action against the Debtor and the State Court Co-Defendants. The question of whether the Settlement Agreement was valid or enforceable was not an issue that the Court had to consider in adjudicating the R/S Motion. Moreover, in its ruling, the Court noted that the issue concerning the enforceability of the Settlement Agreement was part of the State Court Action, and that the state court was better suited to "expeditiously" adjudicate such issue which "[arose] under state law." Court’s Ruling at 20. In short, the enforceability or validity of the Settlement Agreement was not adjudicated by way of the R/S Motion.

Therefore, the R/S Motion is not an action on a contract and the Movant is not entitled to an award of attorneys’ fees under Cal. Civ. Code § 1717(a).

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Movant’s request for sanctions is GRANTED in part in the amount of $5,000 pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 105(a).

The Movant shall submit a conforming order within seven days of the hearing. The order shall provide that this case will be closed 30 days after entry of the order without further notice or hearing.

- 1) Debtors-In-Possession's Post Confirmation Report on Status of Reorganization [sic] [Doc. No. 117]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On November 14, 2019, the Court entered an Order Confirming Debtor's Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization [Doc. No. 103] (the "Confirmation Order"). This is the first Post-Confirmation Status Conference. Debtor states that she is current on all payments required under the Plan, and foresees that she will continue making payments without issue. Debtor anticipates filing a motion for a final decree on or before March 1, 2020.

II. Findings and Conclusions

No appearances required. A continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall be held June 30, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Post-Confirmation Status Report must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. Debtor shall file and serve a motion for a final decree such that the motion is heard prior to the date of the continued Status Conference. If a favorable order on the motion for a final decree is entered, the continued Status Conference will go off calendar.

The Debtor shall submit an order setting the continued Status Conference within seven days of the hearing.

On September 12, 2016, Atlantic Wireless, Inc. ("Atlantic") filed a timely Proof of Claim No. 2 (the "Atlantic Claim") asserting a claim for $2,000,000 based upon the "[f]ailure of Debtor's affiliate to pay for assets acquired." See Atlantic Claim. Atlantic also attached an addendum describing the circumstances that provide the basis for its claim. Id.

B. The Avoidance Action

On April 10, 2018, the Trustee initiated an adversary proceeding by filing a complaint against Cellco Partnership dba Verizon Wireless, a Delaware limited partnership ("Verizon"), BJ Mobile, Inc., a California corporation ("BJ Mobile"), Jetworld, Inc., a California corporation ("Jetworld"), JW Wireless OKC, an Oklahoma limited liability company ("JW OKC"), JWK Management, Inc., a California corporation, Jetstar Auto Sports, Inc, a California corporation ("Jetstar"), Shaigan Ben Her ("Ben Her"), Lea Young Lee ("Lee"), Joan Yu ("J. Yu"), Chu Feng Yu ("C.F. Yu"), and Carolyn Rhyoo (collectively, with the exception of Verizon, the "Non-Verizon Defendants") seeking to avoid and recover preferential and fraudulent transfers (the "Avoidance Action") (Adv. Case No. 2:18-ap-01097-ER).

At a mediation held on August 23, 2019, the Trustee reached a compromise with the Non-Verizon Defendants, providing for the settlement of Avoidance Action in exchange of payments totaling $125,000. The Trustee subsequently entered into a settlement agreement with Verizon for an additional $125,000 payment to the estate. The Court entered orders approving the settlement agreements with both Verizon and the Non-Verizon Defendants on November 22 [Doc. No. 78] and December 16, 2019 [Doc. No. 82], respectively.

C. The Atlantic Claim Objections [Note 1]

[Doc. No. 43] (the "Atlantic Claim Objection"). On March 15, 2019, Jetworld, Jetstar, and Lee (together with the First Objecting Parties, the "Objectors") also filed an objection to the Atlantic Claim [Doc. No. 49] (the "Second Atlantic Claim Objection," and together with the Atlantic Claim Objection, the "Claim Objections") asserting substantially similar arguments as those set forth in the Atlantic Claim Objection. Atlantic filed a timely opposition to the Claim Objections [Doc. Nos. 46 & 55]. The Objectors filed timely replies in support of their Claim Objections [Doc. Nos. 48 & 56]. The Court herein incorporates by reference its general overview of all pleadings germane to the Claim Objections set forth in its final rulings [Doc. Nos. 58 & 59] (the "Court's Rulings") dated April 17, 2019.

D. The Trustee's Latest Status Report

The Claim Objections were initially set to be heard on April 18, 2019, but then continued to September 25, 2019 for reasons explained in the Court's Rulings. The hearing was continued yet again to February 12, 2020 pursuant to the parties' stipulation [Doc. No. 63]. In anticipation of the February 12, 2020 hearing, the Trustee submitted a status report (the "Status Report") briefing the Court on the Avoidance Action and the Claim Objections. The Status Report states that although the estate received settlement proceeds in the amount of $250,000 (the "Settlement Proceeds"), the Debtor will likely not receive any surplus funds following the final distribution of assets. In fact, the Settlement Proceeds will be insufficient to satisfy administrative expenses and creditor claims (excluding the Atlantic Claim). The Trustee reiterates that the Avoidance Action will be dismissed with prejudice once the Settlement Proceeds are paid. In sum, the Trustee claims that he is "not aware of any basis on which [the Objectors] might have standing to maintain their objection to the [Atlantic Claim]." Status Report at 2.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no party has filed a response to the Status Report.

11 U.S.C. § 502(a). The term "party in interest" is not defined in the Bankruptcy Code or the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, but courts have held that standing in a bankruptcy context requires an "aggrieved person" who is directly and adversely affected pecuniarily by an order of the bankruptcy court. In re Lona, 393 B.R. 1, 3 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2008) (citing Fondiller v. Robertson (In re Fondiller), 707 F.2d 441, 442-43 (9th Cir. 1983)).

1. The Debtor Does Not Have Standing

Generally, a chapter 7 debtor does not have standing to object to claims because the debtor has no interest in the distribution of assets of the estate and, therefore, is not an "aggrieved person." Lona, 393 B.R. at 4; see also In re I & F Corp., 219 B.R. 483 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 1998) (chapter 7 debtor-corporation lacks standing to file objections to proofs of claim). The Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellant Panel recently reaffirmed this conclusion:

In the claim objection context, a chapter 7 debtor, 'in its individual capacity, lacks standing to object unless it demonstrates that it would be 'injured in fact' by the allowance of the claim.' In the case of a corporation, this includes its officers, directors, and agents. So when the 'estate is insolvent, a chapter 7 debtor ordinarily lacks standing to object to proofs of claim.' But when 'there is a sufficient possibility of a surplus to give the chapter 7 debtor a pecuniary interest or when the claim involved will not be discharged...' the chapter 7 debtor has standing.

In re Doorman Prop. Maint., 2018 WL 3041128, at *6 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. June 19, 2018) (internal citations omitted). The burden is on the debtor to provide sufficient evidence that disallowance of the contested claim will produce a surplus distribution to the debtor. In re Walker, 356 B.R. 834, 847 (Bankr. S.D. Fla. 2006) (citing In re Cult Awareness Network, Inc., 151 F.3d 605, 608 (7th Cir. 1998)).

The Debtor previously asserted that it had standing to object to the Atlantic Claim because such claim's allowance or disallowance would affect Debtor's rights in the event this case resulted in a surplus. Although the Trustee was able to recover $250,000 for the benefit of the estate, allowed claims and administrative expenses are anticipated to total north of $273,000, even excluding the Atlantic Claim. See Claims Register. In addition, no other administrable assets have been identified. The Court finds it highly unlikely that this will be a surplus case, and in short, the Debtor has not established standing to assert its claim objection.

2. JW OKC, the Only Creditor to File a Proof of Claim, Did Not Establish Standing to Object to the Atlantic Claim

On April 17, 2019, the Court issued a ruling concerning JW OKC's standing to object to the Atlantic Claim. The Court held:

The Objectors have not demonstrated that they have standing to object to the Atlantic Claim. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3002(a), a "secured creditor, unsecured creditor, or equity security holder must file a proof of claim or interest for the claim or interest to be allowed . . ." Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3002(a). In this case, only JW OKC filed a proof of claim. Therefore, it is the only creditor with a potential pecuniary interest that might be affected by disallowance of the Atlantic Claim. However, it is premature for the Court to determine JW OKC's standing because JW OKC's claim may be disallowed pursuant to § 502(d) if the Trustee succeeds against it in the Avoidance Action and JW OKC fails to comply with any turnover obligations.

Additionally, even if the Court were to find that JW OKC has an allowed general unsecured claim, "[t]he majority of courts have ruled that, in cases where there is a bankruptcy trustee, general unsecured creditors do not have standing to object to claims of other creditors, unless the trustee has refused after request to object to the claim, and the court has then authorized the creditor to object." T. Jones, Inc., v. Simmons (In re Simmons), 2005 Bankr. Lexis 2954, at *9 (B.A. P. 9th Cir. Mar. 31, 2005). JW OKC does not argue that the Trustee has refused after its request to object to the Atlantic Claim and the Court has not authorized JW OKC to file an objection on its own behalf.

Even if the Court were to consider the Trustee's e-mail response to the Objectors' counsel, the Court concludes that the Trustee did not unambiguously refuse to object. Instead, the Trustee responded that he was "not inclined to file an objection to the Atlantic Wireless claim at this time."

See Second Atlantic Claim Objection, Jackson Decl., Ex. B (emphasis added). The Trustee's response is not a refusal to act, but rather an understandable reservation of rights given that the estate is presently insolvent and even a successful objection would not benefit creditors unless assets are recovered.

Court's Final Ruling [Doc. No. 59] at 27.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, JW OKC has not responded to the points the Court raised nearly ten months ago, nor did it supplement its previous contentions. Therefore, the Court considers JW OKC's silence as a concession of the issues referenced above and as consent to the Court's authority to enter a final order overruling its objection pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(c)(5). Additionally, the Court reaffirms its prior findings with respect to the other Objectors.

In conclusion, the Objectors did not establish standing to object to the Atlantic Claim.

The Court notes that on February 17, 2020, the Objectors filed a notice of withdrawal of the Atlantic Claim Objection and the Second Atlantic Claim Objection [Doc. No. 98 and Doc. No. 99 respectively] [Note 2].

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Claim Objections are OVERRULED, in full, and the Atlantic Claim will be ALLOWED in its entirety.

Note 1: Because the Court finds that the Objectors lack standing to object to the Atlantic Claim, the Court has not included a summary of the parties' substantive arguments.

Note 2: Notwithstanding the Objectors' withdrawal notices, the Court will issue the findings and conclusions reached in this tentative ruling. Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(k) provides that the voluntary dismissal of a motion is subject to Bankruptcy Rule 7041(a). Under Bankruptcy Rule 7041(a), where parties have responded to a motion, the motion may be voluntarily dismissed only upon a stipulation of dismissal signed by all parties who have responded. Here, both Atlantic and the Trustee responded to the Claim Objections and have not stipulated to the voluntary dismissal of either objection. Therefore, the Objectors' purported notice of withdrawal is ineffective.

Docket 30

Tentative Ruling:

2/18/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Court finds that the Plan described in the Disclosure Statement cannot be confirmed. Therefore, the Court declines to approve the Disclosure Statement. The Debtor is directed to file an amended disclosure statement and an amended plan by no later than March 20, 2020 and self-calendar a hearing for April 15, 2020 at 10:00 a.m.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor-in-possession, C & F Sturm, LLC (the "Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on October 1, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is managed and fully owned by Christina De Musee ("Musee"). The Debtor's only asset consists of real property located at 511 and 515 Las Vegas Boulevard South, Las Vegas, Nevada (the "Property").

On July 3, 2012, the Debtor entered into a settlement agreement with Palco

Promotions, Inc. ("Palco"), one of its current unsecured creditors (the "Settlement Agreement"). Disclosure Statement at 9. The distributions sought to be provided under the Debtor's chapter 11 plan are largely subject to the terms of the Settlement Agreement. As stated in the Disclosure Statement, the Settlement Agreement provides that the Property would be sold for $2,100,000 (the "Initial Purchase Price"), and it assigned Debtor and Palco the joint responsibility of marketing the Property. Disclosure Statement at 9. The Debtor claims that Palco never fulfilled its contractual obligation to market the Property, defrayed Musee's maintenance expenses with respect to the Property, and it consistently rejected any third-party offers to purchase the Property for less than the Initial Purchase Price. Id. Since the Settlement Agreement was executed, the Debtor alleges that Musee has personally contributed funds in excess of $150,000 for the Property's taxes, insurance, and maintenance costs. Id. These ongoing outlays have placed a significant burden on Musee's finances, leading to the filing of this bankruptcy petition.

As described in the Disclosure Statement, the Debtor's general plan is to sell the Property for $1,795,000 (the "Listing Price"), and to then use sale proceeds to fully pay those creditors holding allowed claims. It is the Debtor's position that the Initial Purchase Price is not mandatory because 1) the Settlement Agreement contemplates for a lower purchase price, 2) no buyer has been willing to purchase the Property at the Initial Purchase Price, or a greater sum, and 3) Musee can no longer subsidize an asset valued at pre-recession market rates. Disclosure Statement at 9. To accomplish the sale of the Property, the Debtor has retained, or will retain, the services of a bankruptcy counsel, a real estate broker, and an accountant. Id. at 10. On October 24, 2019, Palco filed an objection to the employment application of Debtor's real estate broker [Doc. No. 14] (the "Objection"). The Objection failed to assert a convincing challenge against the application, but instead contended that the petition had been filed in bad faith as the Property's Listing Price violates the terms of the Settlement Agreement. Declaration of Louis Palazzo ("Palazzo Decl."), ¶¶ 3-6 [Doc. No. 14]. On November 21, 2019, the Court overruled the Objection and granted the employment application [Doc. No. 25].

The Debtor presently seeks an order approving the adequacy of its Disclosure Statement. The Disclosure Statement details the events discussed above which led to this bankruptcy filing and provides a description of significant post-petition events. The Debtor proposes a liquidation plan (the "Plan") that will be entirely funded by the proceeds generated from the liquidation of the Property (the "Sale Proceeds"). The Debtor submits that the Sale Proceeds will be sufficient to pay, in full, administrative fees, capital gains taxes, costs of sale, and all classes of claims.

The Plan proposes the following classification scheme and treatments:

Administrative Claims

The Debtor anticipates that administrative fees for professionals will be approximately $147,700, of which $30,000 will be sought by Debtor's counsel, $10,000 by Debtor's accountant, and $107,000 by the real estate broker (based on the Listing Price). The Debtor proposes to pay all administrative claims, in full, upon the sale of the Property, from proceeds generated by the sale. In addition, quarterly fees owed to the United States Trustee, approximately totaling $18,275, will be paid in full when the Property is sold.

Priority Tax Claims

The Franchise Tax Board ("FTB") and the Clark County Treasurer ("Clark County") hold priority tax claims against the Debtor. The Debtor proposes to pay FTB's claim of $1,645.13, as well as Clark County's claim of $16,000, in full, in a lump sum payment "after the sale" of the Property.

Class 3 – Secured Claim of Unidentified Judgment Creditor

The Plan provides that Class 3 consists of a judgment creditor. Debtor has not identified this creditor or the total value of such creditor's claim. The Debtor proposes to pay this unnamed creditor, in full, from the Sale Proceeds. The Debtor states that this class is unimpaired and not entitled to vote on the Plan.

Class 6 – General Unsecured Claims

Class 6 consists of all allowed general unsecured claims, including Palco's claim, which the Debtor estimates hold aggregate claims in the amount of $349,972. See Disclosure Statement, Ex. B. Pursuant to the Plan, Palco's unsecured claim will be entirely determined in reference to a calculation set forth in the Settlement Agreement. Accordingly, assuming that the Property is sold for the Listing Price of $1,795,000, the Settlement Agreement provides that Palco would be entitled to 50% of any sales proceeds in excess of $1,400,000, which according to the Debtor, amounts to a $185,653 payout, net of pro-rata sale costs and professional fees. See Disclosure, Ex.

Chapter 11

A [Liquidation Analysis]. The Debtor proposes to pay Class 6, in full, from the Sale Proceeds. The Debtor states that this class is unimpaired and not entitled to vote on the Plan.

Class 8 – Musee’s Insider Claim

This class consists of Musee’s claim to the remaining balance of the Sale Proceeds, after all other claims have been satisfied. Musee is an insider. According to the Debtor, Musee’s claim is impaired, but because she authorized the Plan, she will not vote against it.

Means of Implementation

The Debtor’s Plan will be wholly funded from the Sale Proceeds, upon the sale of the Property at the Listing Price.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

The Debtor’s Plan is Not Confirmable

The Court generally does not consider plan confirmation issues at the disclosure statement phase. However, it is "well accepted that a court may disapprove of a disclosure statement, even if it provides adequate information about a proposed plan, if the plan could not possibly be confirmed." In re Main St. AC, Inc., 234 B.R. 771, 775 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 1999). This is because "it would be a waste of resources" to approve a disclosure statement describing a nonconfirmable plan. In re Silberkraus, 253 B.R. 890, 899 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2000), subsequently aff’d, 336 F.3d 864 (9th Cir. 2003).

The Court cannot approve the Disclosure Statement because the Plan, in its present form, cannot be confirmed for the following reasons:

The Plan is internally inconsistent

The Plan is fatally ambiguous and/or internally inconsistent. Put simply, the Plan provides for deadlines—i.e., the Distribution Date and the Effective Date—that trigger incompatible outcomes. The Plan defines the "Distribution Date" as "the [b]usiness date on which [c]ash will be distributed to the [h]olders of [a]llowed [c] claims...or as soon as practicable thereafter" (the "Distribution Date"). Plan at 6. The Plan aims to set the effective date as June 1, 2020, which is defined as the earlier of (a) thirty (30) days following the date of entry of the confirmation order, or (b) the date on which the stay on the confirmation order has been lifted (the "Effective Date"). See id.

United States Bankruptcy Court

For instance, Article 6.1 of the Plan presupposes that the Effective Date and the Distribution Date will be contemporaneous, and that the Plan will be funded by the Effective Date. Plan at 14 ("The Cash paid on the Effective Date will pay 100% of Unsecured Claims."). This is a problem because the Debtor cannot be certain that the Property will be sold before the Effective Date, enabling the payment of the Sale Proceeds on the Effective Date. This issue is exacerbated by the post-confirmation provisions of Article 7. Namely, Article 7.3 states that the Debtor "shall no longer exist after [the Distribution Date]," while Article 7.5 provides that "[a]fter the Effective Date the Debtor shall cease to exist." Compare Plan at 15, with id. at 16. Because the Distribution Date and the Effective Date are not guaranteed to coincide, it is unclear what event will trigger the Debtor's dissolution. Furthermore, Article 7.2 states that "all the property of the estate" will vest in the Debtor "[o]n the Effective Date." The same article entitles the Debtor to "operate," "use," "acquire," and "dispose" of "property" "[f]rom and after the Effective Date." Plan at 14. The Plan does not expressly provide for the creation of a liquidating trust, so the Court is mystified as to which entity or person will oversee the property of the estate if the Debtor's dissolution is triggered as of the Effective Date. Similarly, Article 7.6 contemplates that the Debtor itself will petition for a final decree "[o]nce the Plan has been substantially consummated," which is at odds with the dissolution triggered by either Articles 7.3 or 7.5. The Debtor must describe, in detail, the procedures and timeline concerning its dissolution, and specifically identify which entity or person will assume the Debtor's rights and responsibilities under the Plan.

The Plan is in conflict with 11 U.S.C. § 1142

The Plan may be construed as impairing the Court's authority to ensure its implementation pursuant to § 1142. Article 7.2 reads in relevant part: "From and after the Effective Date, the Debtor may operate and may use, acquire, and dispose of property, and compromise and settle any claims...without supervision or consent of the Bankruptcy Court, free from any restrictions by the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rules." Because Debtor will not receive a discharge until the Plan is fully consummated (see Article 7.1), this provision would effectively prohibit the Court from adjudicating any issues that may arise between the Effective Date and the Distribution Date, which is in turn contingent on the successful sale of the Property.

Disclosures concerning the sale of the Property are woefully deficient

The Plan contemplates that the Property will be sold, but otherwise it neglects to describe any procedures governing the sale. As a result, it is not clear when the Property will be sold, or if the Debtor will modify the Property's purchase price to increase its marketability. Given that the Plan will be entirely funded through the Property's sale, the Plan should contain specific information regarding the sale of the Property.

Palco's classification as an unimpaired creditor is erroneous

The Plan improperly classifies Palco as an unimpaired claimant. The Debtor believes that the Plan does not alter the rights available to Palco under the Settlement Agreement, and as such, the general unsecured class is not impaired and not entitled to vote on the Plan. Debtor's position is incorrect. Pursuant to the Settlement Agreement, the Property's original purchase price of $2,600,000 was lowered to $2,100,000 by agreement of Palco and the Debtor. See Doc. No. 14-1 [the Settlement Agreement] at 2, Article II, section 1, subsection (b) ("Based upon the changes in real estate market conditions, the Parties have agreed to reduce the [original purchase price] to $2,100,000 without any other offset."). Accordingly, the Property could only be sold for less than $2,100,000 "by written agreement of [Palco and the Debtor]." See id. There is no indication that Palco ever consented in writing to a decrease in the Property's purchase price. Therefore, the Plan is inconsistent with the terms of the Settlement Agreement. In sum, in selling the Property for $1,795,000, the Plan effectively modifies Palco's rights under the Settlement Agreement because Palco would be entitled to a higher dollar sum if the Property were to be sold for $2,100,000. See In re Ultra Petroleum Corporation, 943 F.3d 758, 763 (5th Cir. 2019) (A creditor is "impaired" within the meaning of the Bankruptcy Code if the plan alters the creditor's legal, equitable, or contractual rights).

Additional Issues

The Court further finds that both the Plan and the Disclosure Statement are inadequate in the following respects:

- The Debtor failed to serve the Disclosure Statement, Plan, and the Motion on the FTB.
- The proposed payout figures to Musee and Palco shown in the liquidation analysis (Exhibit A of the Disclosure Statement) do not match those figures stated in the table of general unsecured claims (Exhibit B of the Disclosure Statement). This is a problem because the Plan establishes the treatment of general unsecured creditors “as listed in Exhibit B attached to the Disclosure Statement.” Plan at 13.
- The Plan proposes to pay Palco’s claim pursuant to the distribution formula contained in the Settlement Agreement. See Plan at 13. The Settlement Agreement has not been affixed to the Disclosure Statement. However, the Settlement Agreement is paramount to the Plan’s execution, and it contains information “that would enable. . . a hypothetical investor of the relevant class to make an informed judgment about the plan.” 11 U.S.C. § 1125(a).
- The Debtor must identify the single claimant assigned to Class 3 and the total amount of such claimant’s interest.
- The Plan states that there are no claimants assigned to Class 1, but the Disclosure Statement identifies Clark County and the FTB as Class 1 claimants.
- The Disclosure Statement incorrectly states that the claims bar date was established as April 30, 2016; however, a bar date has not been set. Disclosure Statement at 22.

The issues discussed above were by no means an exhaustive summary of the problems encountered in the Plan. Moreover, many of the issues discussed concerning the Plan were reiterated in the Disclosure Statement. The Debtor is encouraged to thoroughly review both the Disclosure Statement and the Plan before submitting amended documents.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the approval of the Disclosure Statement is DENIED. The Debtor is directed to file an amended disclosure statement and an amended plan by no later than March 20, 2020 and self-calendar a hearing for April 15, 2020 at

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On December 8, 2019, Ann Tardaguila, as Trustee of the Tardaguila Living Trust dated June 16, 1999 (the "Plaintiff/Counter-defendant"), filed this non-dischargeability action against Gregory Tardaguila (the "Defendant/Counter-claimant"). Plaintiff/Counter-defendant alleges that she loaned Defendant/Counter-claimant in excess of $750,000; that Defendant/Counter-claimant failed to repay the indebtedness; and that Defendant/Counter-claimant committed actual fraud by diverting funds that could have been used to repay the indebtedness. The Complaint seeks a judgment that the indebtedness is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2) (A) and (a)(6), and seeks denial of Defendant/Counter-claimant's discharge pursuant to § 727(a)(2), (3), (4)(A), and (5).

Defendant/Counter-claimant filed a Counterclaim, in which he alleges that the note evidencing the indebtedness at issue in the Complaint (the "Note") is a sham that was created to change the character of the transaction from a gift to a loan. The Counterclaim alleges that the $750,000 loaned to Defendant/Counter-claimant was an advance upon his inheritance. The Counterclaim further alleges that the Defendant/Counter-claimant did not sign the Note until several years after the funds were advanced and that Defendant/Counter-claimant was induced to sign the Note under false pretenses. The Counterclaim (1) objects to any claim against the estate on account of the Note asserted by Plaintiff/Counter-defendant; (2) seeks cancellation of the Note; and (3) seeks damages for fraud and negligent misrepresentations.

As of the date of issuance of this tentative ruling, Plaintiff/Counter-defendant has not filed a Proof of Claim against the estate. The claims bar date is March 10, 2020.

Papers Filed in Connection with the Motion to Dismiss

Plaintiff/Counter-defendant moves to dismiss the Counterclaim, for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, pursuant to Civil Rule 12(b)(6). Plaintiff/Counter-defendant asserts that dismissal is appropriate for the following reasons:

- 1) The underlying events alleged in the Counterclaim occurred prior to the commencement of the Defendant/Counter-claimant's bankruptcy petition. As such, the claims are property of the estate, and the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") is the real party in interest entitled to prosecute the Counterclaim.
- 2) Defendant/Counter-claimant is judicially estopped from asserting the claims set forth in the Counter-claim, because he omitted any causes of action against Plaintiff/Counter-defendant from his bankruptcy schedules.
- 3) The claim for damages for fraud is barred by the statute of limitations.
- 4) The claim for cancellation of the Note is not properly pleaded.
Defendant/Counter-claimant has not alleged that he promptly notified Plaintiff/Counter-defendant of the facts entitling him to cancellation of the Note.

Defendant/Counter-claimant makes the following arguments in his Opposition to the Motion:

- 1) Defendant/Counter-claimant has standing to prosecute the Counter-claim, because the claims for damages for fraud and negligent misrepresentation will result in a surplus estate. Further, although Plaintiff/Counter-defendant has not filed a Proof of Claim, the allegations asserted in the Complaint constitute an informal Proof of Claim. Defendant/Counter-claimant has standing to object to this informal Proof of Claim, again because such an objection will produce a surplus estate.
- 2) Judicial estoppel does not apply, because Defendant/Counter-claimant has filed amended schedules listing his claims against the Plaintiff/Counter-defendant.
- 3) The fraud claim is not barred by the statute of limitations. The statute of limitations runs from the date that the fraud is discovered. Defendant/Counter-claimant did not discover the fraud until long after January 23, 2015, the date when the false representations were made.

In Reply to the Opposition, Plaintiff/Counter-defendant reiterates her arguments that (1) Defendant/Counter-claimant is judicially estopped from asserting the Counterclaims because they were omitted from his schedules; and that (2) the Counterclaims are property of the estate which only the Trustee can prosecute.

II. Findings and Conclusions

"To survive a motion to dismiss, a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.' A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (internal citations omitted). To state a plausible claim for relief, a complaint must satisfy two working principles:

First, the tenet that a court must accept as true all of the allegations contained in a complaint is inapplicable to legal conclusions. Threadbare recitations of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory statements, do not suffice.... Second, only a complaint that states a plausible claim for relief survives a motion to dismiss. Determining whether a complaint states a plausible claim for relief will ... be a context-specific task that requires the reviewing court to draw on its judicial experience and common sense. But where the well-pleaded facts do not permit the court to infer more than the mere possibility of misconduct, the complaint has alleged—but it has not "show[n]"—"that the pleader is entitled to relief."

Id. (citing Civil Rule 8(a)(2)).

Although the pleading standard Civil Rule 8 announces “does not require ‘detailed factual allegations,’ ... it demands more than an unadorned, the-defendant-unlawfully-harmed-me accusation.... A pleading that offers ‘labels and conclusions’ or a ‘formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.’ Nor does a complaint suffice if it tenders ‘naked assertion[s]’ devoid of ‘further factual enhancement.’” Id. (citing Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)).

The Counterclaims for Fraud and Negligent Misrepresentation Belong to the Estate and Can Be Prosecuted Only by the Trustee

The Counterclaims for fraud and negligent misrepresentation accrued prepetition and are therefore property of the bankruptcy estate. As an asset of the estate, only the Trustee can pursue these claims.

Defendant/Counter-claimant has implicitly acknowledged that the fraud and negligent misrepresentation Counterclaims are estate property. First, in his Opposition to the Motion to Dismiss, Defendant/Counter-claimant states that the “[p]arties were litigating the very same factual basis as to these damage claims in State Court at the time the [Defendant/Counter-claimant] filed the instant Chapter 7 case.” Obviously the claims had to have arisen pre-petition if they were being litigated prior to commencement of the case. Second, Defendant/Counter-claimant has scheduled “[c]laims against Ann Tardaguila [Plaintiff/Counter-Defendant]” at an estimated value of $1.2 million. Amended Schedule C at ¶ 33 [Bankr. Doc. No. 27]. Had these claims not arisen pre-petition, Defendant/Counter-claimant would not have been required to schedule them.

Civil Rule 17(a)(1) provides: "An action must be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest." "The modern function of the rule ... is simply to protect the defendant against a subsequent action by the party actually entitled to recover, and to insure generally that the judgment will have its proper effect as res judicata." U-Haul Int'l, Inc. v. Jartran, Inc., 793 F.2d 1034, 1039 (9th Cir. 1986). "Real party in interest doctrine ... ensures that the party bringing the action owns or has rights that can be vindicated by proving the elements of the claim for relief asserted." *Veal v. Am. Chapter 7

Mortgage Servicing, Inc. (In re Veal), 450 B.R. 897, 908 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2011).

The Trustee has filed an application to employ Danning, Gill, Israel & Krasnoff, LLP (“DGIK”) as his general bankruptcy counsel. DGIK’s employment is sought for the purposes of (1) administering the estate’s claims against Dominic and Kimberly DeDomenicantanio and (2) investigating whether the instant Counterclaim is property of the estate. By separate order, the Court will provide the Trustee notice of the determination that the Counterclaims for fraud and negligent misrepresentation are property of the estate. The Trustee will have the opportunity to prosecute the fraud and negligent misrepresentation claims on the estate’s behalf, should he elect to do so. The Trustee must file notice of such an election in the adversary proceeding by no later than March 13, 2020.

The Court declines to find that the fraud and misrepresentation Counterclaims must be dismissed on judicial estoppel grounds. It is true that these claims were not initially scheduled by Defendant/Counter-claimant. However, Defendant/Counter-claimant has filed amended schedules acknowledging the claims. Further, the application of judicial estoppel would prove detrimental to the estate, since it would deprive the Trustee the opportunity to pursue the Counterclaims, should he wish to do so.

With respect to Plaintiff/Counter-defendant’s assertion that the fraud and misrepresentation Counterclaims are barred by the statute of limitations, the Counterclaim does not contain sufficient detail to enable the Court to determine whether the statute of limitations applies. The Counterclaim alleges that the Note was dated January 23, 2015, but does not allege the date upon which Defendant/Counterclaimant discovered that he had been fraudulently induced to sign the Note. The statute of limitations begins to run from the date upon which Plaintiff/Counter-defendant discovered, or reasonably should have discovered, the fraud and negligent misrepresentations. As explained by the California Supreme Court, the “discovery rule” “postpones accrual of a cause of action until the plaintiff discovers, or has reason to discover, the cause of action.” Fox v. Ethicon Endo-Surgery, Inc., 110 P.3d 914, 920 (2005). “In order to rely on the discovery rule for delayed accrual of a cause of action, “[a] plaintiff whose complaint shows on its face that his claim would be barred without the benefit of the discovery rule must specifically plead facts to show (1) the time and manner of discovery and (2) the inability to have made earlier discovery despite reasonable diligence.” Id. at 920–21.

As a result of the lack of specificity regarding the date of Defendant/Counter-claimants’ discovery of the fraud and negligent misrepresentations, the fraud and misrepresentation Counterclaims will be dismissed, but the Trustee will be provided leave to file an amended Counterclaim in the event he elects to pursue the Counterclaims. The amended Counterclaim shall be filed by March 27, 2020, fourteen days after the Trustee's deadline to determine whether to prosecute the Counterclaims.

The Counterclaims' Remaining Claims Are More Appropriately Designated as Affirmative Defenses

In addition to asserting claims for fraud and negligent misrepresentation, the Counterclaim (1) objects to any claim against the estate asserted by the Plaintiff/Counter-defendant on account of the Note and (2) seeks cancellation of the Note. These remaining claims are more appropriately designated as affirmative defenses to the Complaint. Civil Rule 8(c)(2), made applicable to these proceedings by Bankruptcy Rule 7008, provides: "If a party mistakenly designates a defense as a counterclaim, or a counterclaim as a defense, the court must, if justice requires, treat the pleading as though it were correctly designated, and may impose terms for doing so." "Caselaw does not interpret the phrase 'justice so requires,' but we have held that a district court's decisions with regard to the treatment of affirmative defenses is reviewed for an abuse of discretion." 389 Orange St. Partners v. Arnold, 179 F.3d 656, 664 (9th Cir. 1999).

The Complaint alleges that Defendant/Counter-claimant borrowed in excess of $750,000 from Plaintiff/Counter-defendant; that Defendant/Counter-claimant failed to repay the indebtedness; and that Defendant/Counter-claimant committed actual fraud by diverting the funds that could have been used to repay the indebtedness. The Counterclaim alleges that the $750,000 that Defendant/Counter-claimant received was a gift, not a loan, and that Defendant/Counter-claimant was fraudulently induced to sign the Note only after the funds had been gifted. In other words, the Counter-claim asserts that the indebtedness alleged in the Complaint is not valid, and that accordingly the Complaint's non-dischargeability claims must fail.

If Defendant/Counter-claimant prevailed upon the Counter-claim's allegations, he would succeed in defeating Plaintiff/Counter-defendant's non-dischargeability claims. Specifically, if the $750,000 in funds was a gift, not a loan, Plaintiff/Counter-defendant could not establish liability for non-dischargeability, and Plaintiff/Counter-defendant would not be able to assert a claim against the estate on account of the Note. Beyond prevailing against Plaintiff/Counter-defendant with respect to the Complaint, Defendant/Counter-claimant would gain no additional affirmative relief by reason of the Counter-claim. As a result, the Counter-claim's remaining allegations are more appropriately treated as affirmative defenses. Construing the remaining allegations in this manner simplifies the procedural posture of the action and reduces costs going forward. In addition, the Court notes that the Answer already pleads the material allegations of the Counterclaim as affirmative defenses.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Court finds that (1) only the Trustee has standing to prosecute the Counterclaims for fraud and negligent misrepresentation and that (2) the Counterclaims' remaining allegations are more appropriately construed as affirmative defenses.

The Court will prepare and enter appropriate orders.

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

2/20/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case. In addition, the Court takes notice of Debtor's stated intention to surrender the vehicle. See Doc. No. 1.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 3972

Tentative Ruling:

2/20/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED; however, the order granting the Motion shall not take effect until after April 30, 2020.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 [Doc. No. 3972] (the "Motion")
- 2) Debtors' Response and Opposition to Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Filed on Behalf of Mesha Sanford AKA Samesha Sanford [Doc. No. 4067]

- 4) Creditor Mesha Sanford's Reply to Debtor's Opposition to Motion for Relief from Stay to Proceed with State Court Claims for Unlawful Employment Practices [Doc. No. 4089]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered.

Mesha Sanford (the "Movant") seeks stay relief, pursuant to § 362(d)(1), for the purposing of litigating a wrongful termination action against VHS in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court Action"). Movant seeks recovery only from applicable insurance.

Debtors oppose the Motion. Debtors argue that Movant can no longer assert a claim because she failed to timely file either a proof of claim or a proof of administrative claim. In the event the Court is inclined to grant the Motion, Debtors request that stay relief not take effect until after April 30, 2020, so they can retain their focus on the sale of their remaining assets. The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors joins the Debtors' opposition.

Movant makes the following arguments in reply to the opposition of the Debtors and the Committee:

- 1) Movant did not file a proof of claim, or an administrative proof of claim, because she never received notice of the claims bar date or the administrative claims bar date. The claims bar date notices were mailed to Movant's old address, not her current address. On October 15, 2018, while still employed at VHS, Movant submitted an Employee Change Form which notified VHS of her current address. VHS' awareness of Movant's current address is established by the fact that in February 2019, VHS sent a WARN Act notice to Movant's current address.
- 2) Lifting the stay will not interfere with the Debtors' efforts to liquidate their remaining assets, since Movant seeks recovery only from applicable insurance and the Debtors' insurance carrier will be obligated to defend the Debtors.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. Movant's Failure to File Proofs of Claim Does Not Require Denial of the Motion

A creditor who is not given formal notice of the claims bar date is not barred from subsequently asserting a claim against the estate. Levin v. Maya Const. Co. (In re Maya Const. Co.), 78 F.3d 1395, 1399 (9th Cir. 1996). "The fact that a creditor has actual knowledge that a Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceeding is going forward involving a debtor does not obviate the need for notice." Id.

Here, the Debtors mailed notice of the claims bar date and the administrative claims bar date to Movant's old address in Pasadena, California. Movant did not receive notice of either of the bar dates at her current address in Valencia, California. This was despite the fact that while still employed at VHS, Movant had formally notified the Debtors of her current Valencia address. See Sanford Decl. at ¶ 5 and Ex. A [Doc. No. 4089] (copy of Employee Change Form submitted by Movant to VHS providing notice of her Valencia address). Debtors were aware of Movant's Valencia address, having sent WARN Act notices to the Valencia address in February 2019 and March 2019. See Sanford Decl. at ¶¶ 6–7 and Exs. B and C.

Because Movant did not receive formal notice of either the claims bar date or the administrative claims bar date, she is not barred from asserting a claim against the estates.

In her reply brief, Movant requests additional relief that was not sought in the Motion—specifically, that the Court treat the Motion as an informal claim or allow Movant the opportunity to file a proof of claim. Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 9013-1(g)(4) prohibits the introduction of new evidence or arguments in reply papers. LBR 9013-1(g)(4) is a codification of the Ninth Circuit's well-established "general rule that [litigants] cannot raise a new issue for the first time in their reply briefs." Martinez-Serrano v. I.N.S., 94 F.3d 1256, 1259 (9th Cir. 1996). The Court declines to consider the additional relief requested in the reply, as doing so would deprive the Debtors of an opportunity to respond. Movant may seek such relief by way of a separately filed motion.

B. The Motion is Granted, But Stay Relief Shall Not Take Effect Until After April 30, 2020

As explained by the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel in Kronemyer v. American Contractors Indemnity Co. (In re Kronemyer) (internal citations omitted): "What constitutes 'cause' for granting relief from the automatic stay is decided on a case-by-case basis. Among factors appropriate to consider in determining whether relief from the automatic stay should be granted to allow state court proceedings to continue are considerations of judicial economy and the expertise of the state court, ... as well as prejudice to the parties and whether exclusively bankruptcy issues are involved." 405 B.R. 915, 921. The factors articulated in In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799-800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984) and adopted by the bankruptcy court in Truebro, Inc. v. Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc. (In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc.), 311 B.R. 551, 559-60 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2004) are also "appropriate, nonexclusive factors to consider in deciding whether to grant relief from the automatic stay to allow pending litigation to continue in another forum." Kronemyer, 405 B.R. at 921. The Curtis factors are as follows:

- 1) Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues;
- 2) The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case;
- 3) Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary;
- 4) Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause

- of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases;
- 5) Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation;
  - 6) Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question;
  - 7) Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties;
  - 8) Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c);
  - 9) Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f);
  - 10) The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties;
  - 11) Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial, and
  - 12) The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt."

Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 599.

The most important of the twelve factors is the effect of the non-bankruptcy litigation on the administration of the estate. Curtis, 40 B.R. at 806. The Curtis court held that "[e]ven slight interference with the administration may be enough to preclude relief in the absence of a commensurate benefit." Id.

Movant and Debtors dispute the extent to which granting immediate stay relief would interfere with Debtors' liquidation of their remaining assets. Movant asserts that immediate stay relief would have very little impact on the ability of the Debtors' professionals to attend to pressing matters pertaining to asset disposition; the Debtors dispute this contention.

The Court finds that although it certainly would be possible for the Debtors to defend against the State Court Action at this time, requiring them to do so would nonetheless interfere with the case by distracting the Debtors' professionals from urgent matters pertaining to the liquidation of their remaining assets. While it is true that primary responsibility for the Debtors' defense could be assigned to special litigation counsel, the Debtors' general bankruptcy counsel would still be required to monitor the litigation. The case is at a critical juncture. The Debtors' cash on hand is rapidly being depleted, giving the Debtors only a limited window to liquidate assets before funds are exhausted. The Debtors' most recent cash collateral budget projects that the Debtors' total cash balance will decrease from approximately $66 million at the end of January 2020 to approximately $29 million at the end of February 2020. See Doc. No. 4019 at Ex. A.

To enable the Debtors to focus upon disposing of their remaining assets, the Court will grant stay relief, but such relief shall not take effect until after April 30, 2020. This result gives the Debtors some breathing space to achieve their objectives, while at the same time delaying Movant's ability to proceed with the State Court Action by only approximately one month.

C. The Stay is Retroactively Annulled to the Petition Date

"[T]he proper standard for determining 'cause' to annul the automatic stay retroactively is a 'balancing of the equities' test." Fjeldsted v. Lien (In re Fjeldsted), 293 B.R. 12, 24 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2003). In weighing the equities, the general trend has been to focus on two factors: "(1) whether the creditor was aware of the bankruptcy petition; and (2) whether the debtor engaged in unreasonable or inequitable conduct, or prejudice would result to the creditor." Id.

Movant states that she was not aware of the bankruptcy petition at the time of the filing of the State Court Action. Nothing in the record indicates that prejudice would result to the Debtors from retroactive annulment of the stay. The Court finds it appropriate to retroactively annul the stay to the Petition Date.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED, except that stay relief shall not take effect until after April 30, 2020. The stay is annulled retroactively to the Petition Date. Within seven days of the hearing, Movant shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference. [Note 1]

Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

2/20/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED on the terms stated below.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay or for Order Confirming that the Automatic Stay Does not Apply Under 11 U.S.C. § 362(i) (Unlawful Detainer) [Doc. No. 8] (the "Motion")
2. Updated Proof of Service on Notice of the Motion [Doc. No. 10]
3. Debtor's Opposition to Motion for Relief of Automatic Stay Filed [Doc. No. 11] (the "Opposition")
4. As of the date of this tentative ruling, no reply is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On February 1, 2020, Gaura Taneja (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition (the "Petition Date"). Scott Ehrlich (the "Movant") seeks relief from the automatic stay pursuant to §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(2) to continue with an unlawful detainer action against the Debtor with respect to the Debtor's possession of residential premises located at 12933 Walsh Avenue, Los Angeles, California 90066 (the "Property"). [Note 1] The Movant asserts that there is cause to lift the stay because he acquired title to the Property before the Petition Date through a foreclosure sale and because this bankruptcy petition was filed in bad faith. Additionally, the Movant alleges that Debtor has no equity in the Property, and the Property is unnecessary to an effective organization.

In support of his Motion, the Movant attached a copy of a post-foreclosure Trustee's Deed Upon Sale dated December 9, 2019 (the "Trustee's Deed"). See Motion, Ex. 1. A cover sheet issued by the Los Angeles County's Recorder's Office indicates that the Trustee's Deed was recorded on December 18, 2019. See id. The Trustee's Deed identifies Superior Loan Servicing ("Superior") as the trustee and grantor, and Scott Ehrlich as the grantee. The Trustee's Deed provides for the purchase of the Property, and its conveyance to Movant, based on Movant's successful bid of $999,901.63 at a non-judicial foreclosure sale. See id. The Trustee's Deed further states that the foreclosure sale was compliant with the terms provided in a deed of trust executed by the Debtor with respect to the Property, which the Debtor defaulted upon on or about December 28, 2017. See id.

The Movant additionally attached the following documents in support of the Motion: 1) a Notice to Quit, dated December 19, 2019 (the "Notice"), and 2) a copy of the verified unlawful detainer complaint (the "UD Complaint"). See generally Motion, Exs. 2, 3. Both the Notice and the UD Complaint affirmatively identify the Debtor and another individual by the name of "Gaurasundara Prabhu."

The Movant also requests that the Court waive the 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) and for certain extraordinary relief with respect to the Property.

Debtor's Opposition

On February 14, 2020, the Debtor filed a timely opposition to the Motion (the "Opposition"), acknowledging receipt of the Motion. The Debtor, through his counsel, contends that the Motion should be denied because (i) "[t]here are title mistakes made by the creditor on the [Property];" and (ii) the Debtor intends to file an adversary proceeding to litigate the issue. See Opposition at 2. The one-page Opposition, which is virtually limited to the description of arguments provided above, fails to offer any discussion on the Property's alleged title defects. Further, the Debtor requests that the automatic stay not be lifted pending resolution of the adversary proceeding.

As of the date this tentative ruling was prepared, there is no reply on file, and no adversary proceeding has been filed. On February 20, 2020, the instant case was dismissed due to the Debtor's failure to timely file mandatory case commencement

A. Cause Exists to Grant Relief From Stay Pursuant to § 362(d)(1)

As a preliminary matter, a motion for relief from the automatic stay is a summary proceeding that does not involve an adjudication of the merits of the underlying claims. As recognized by the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel in In re Luz Int'l, Ltd.:

Given the limited grounds for obtaining a motion for relief from stay, read in conjunction with the expedited schedule for a hearing on the motion, most courts hold that motion for relief from stay hearings should not involve an adjudication of the merits of claims, defenses, or counterclaims, but simply determine whether the creditor has a colorable claim to the property of the estate. See In re Johnson, 756 F.2d 738, 740 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 474 U.S. 828, 106 S.Ct. 88, 88 L.Ed.2d 72 (1985) ("Hearings on relief from the automatic stay are thus handled in a summary fashion. The validity of the claim or contract underlying the claim is not litigated during the hearing.").

219 B.R. 837, 842 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1998) (citation omitted). In a summary proceeding, the court's discretion is broad. In re Santa Clara Cty. Fair Ass'n, Inc., 180 B.R. 564, 566 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995).

Section 362(d)(1) provides that "[o]n request of a party in interest and after notice and a hearing, the court shall grant relief from the stay . . . "To obtain relief from the automatic stay, the party seeking relief must first establish a prima facie case that 'cause' exists for relief under § 362(d)(1)." *Truebro, Inc. v. The Movant has made a prima facie showing that "cause" exists to lift the stay under § 362(d)(1) based upon the completion of a prepetition foreclosure sale, the prepetition recording of the Trustee's Deed, and the commencement of the unlawful detainer action prior to the Petition Date. See In re Bebensee-Wong, 248 B.R. 820, 823 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000) (affirming an order of stay-relief under § 362(d)(1) premised on the prepetition perfection of a trustee's deed upon sale); see also Kathleen P. March and Hon. Alan M. Ahart, California Practice Guide: Bankruptcy, ¶ 8:1196 (2010) ("[W]here a real property nonjudicial foreclosure was completed and the deed recorded prepetition, the debtor has neither equitable nor legal title to the property at the time the bankruptcy petition is filed.") (emphasis in original). Accordingly, at the time the Movant filed the UD Complaint, the Debtor did not possess title to the Property, and therefore, relief from stay is appropriate. See California Practice Guide: Bankruptcy, ¶ 8:1195 ("[T]here is no reason not to allow the creditor to repossess because filing a bankruptcy petition after loss of ownership cannot reinstate the debtor's title.") (internal citations omitted); see also id. at ¶ 8:1196 ("[T]he debtor is essentially a 'squatter,' and thus cause for relief from stay is established.").

The Debtor has not carried the burden to show that relief from stay is unwarranted. The Debtor's argument that the Motion should be denied, given the filing of an adversary proceeding at an unspecified later date is unpersuasive. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the Property must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002); see also In re Ho, No. BAP CC-10-1363-MKPAD, 2011 WL 4485895, at *6 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. Aug. 9, 2011) (bankruptcy court did not abuse its discretion in granting creditor relief from stay to continue unlawful detainer litigation despite a pending adversary proceeding); In re Robbins, 310 B.R. 626, 630 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2004) (granting or denying relief from stay while adversary proceeding is pending is within the sound discretion of the bankruptcy court). In sum, the Movant has established cause for relief from stay under § 362(d)(1).

Separately, the Movant claims that this petition was filed in bad faith on the single fact that Movant is listed as one of few creditors in Debtor's commencement documents. Here, on the facts presented, the Court cannot conclude that Debtor's bankruptcy petition was filed in bad faith. See Matter of Little Creek Dev. Co., 779 F.2d 1068, 1074 (5th Cir. 1986) (a finding of bad faith requires "an examination of all the particular facts and circumstances in each case.") (internal citations omitted).

B. Cause Exists to Grant Relief From Stay Pursuant to § 362(d)(2)

The Movant also argues that cause exists to lift the stay pursuant to § 362(d)(2). For relief to be granted under § 362(d)(2), the debtor must both (i) lack equity in the property, and (ii) the property must not be necessary for an effective reorganization. See 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2). Here, the Movant has established that the Debtor no longer possesses title to the Property, and this being a chapter 7 case, the Property is not necessary to an effective reorganization. Further, the Debtor did not adequately explain why the Movant's title is defective; and for the reasons set forth above, the Debtor has not sustained his burden of proof with respect to § 362(d)(2) either. Therefore, relief from the automatic stay is also appropriate under § 362(d)(2).

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(2) to permit the Movant to continue with prosecution of an unlawful detainer proceeding and proceed under applicable state law to final judgment. This order shall be binding and effective despite conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The Court also finds it appropriate to waive the 14-day stay prescribed by Federal Rule 4001(a)(3). All other relief is denied.

Finally, the Court notes that Debtor's case was dismissed on February 20, 2020 [Doc. No. 12]. The Court vacates the dismissal for the limited purpose of entering an order on this Motion. The Movant is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered.

Debtors seek approval of procedures governing the auction of St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis") and related assets (collectively, the "Purchased Assets"). See Doc. No. 4069 (the "Bidding Procedures Motion"). The Asset Purchase Agreement (the "APA") governing the sale of the Purchased Assets has not yet been filed with the Court. The form of asset purchase agreement for the Sale [Note 1] is posted in the Debtors' online data room (the "Draft APA"). The proposed bidding procedures (the "Bidding Procedures") require prospective bidders to submit an executed asset purchase agreement, in the form of the Draft APA, accompanied by a marked version evidencing any changes to the Draft APA.

A. Bidding Procedures Pertaining to the Auction

The material terms of the Bidding Procedures, as they pertain to the Auction, may be summarized as follows [Note 2]:

- 1) Only bidders submitting a Qualified Bid are entitled to participate in the Auction. In order to constitute a Qualified Bid, a Bid must satisfy the following requirements (the "Bid Requirements"):
  - a) Be accompanied by a deposit in the amount of 10% of the aggregate Purchase Price. Id. at ¶ 9(h).
  - b) Provide sufficient and adequate information to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Debtors, in consultation with the Consultation Parties, [Note 3] that the bidder has the financial wherewithal to consummate the

- c) Include a written statement that the bidder consents to the jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court (including waiving any right to a jury trial) in connection with any disputes related to the Bidding Procedures, the Auction, the Sale Hearing, the Sale Order, and/or the closing of the Sale. Id. at ¶ 9(j).
- d) State that the bidder is willing to serve as a Back-Up Bidder and that its Qualified Bid shall constitute the Back-Up Bid if the Debtors determine that it qualifies as the Back-Up Bid. Id. at ¶ 9(n). The Back-Up Bidder must keep the Back-Up Bid open and irrevocable until the earlier of (i) 30 days after entry of the Sale Order or (ii) the date of the closing of the Sale to the Winning Bidder. Id. at ¶ 14(a).
- 2) An Auction will be conducted only if the Debtors receive more than one Qualified Bid. Id. at ¶ 11. After the Opening Bid, successive bids shall be in increments of at least $2 million.
- 3) The Debtors, in their discretion, after consultation with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") and with the prior consent of the Prepetition Secured Creditors, may designate any Qualified Bidder as the Stalking Horse Bidder. Id. at ¶ 10. The Debtors have no obligation to make such a designation. Id. The designation of stalking horse status and the award of stalking horse protections may occur without further notice or order of the Court at any time up to and including the commencement of the Auction. Id. The Stalking Horse Bidder, if any, is entitled to a break-up fee of 2.5% of the Purchase Price (the "Break-Up Fee"). Id.
- 4) The Auction shall take place on April 7, 2020, at the offices of the Debtors' counsel.

B. Bidding Procedures Pertaining to the Assumption and Assignment of Unexpired Leases and Executory Contracts

The material terms of the Bidding Procedures, as they pertain to the assumption and assignment of executory contracts and unexpired leases, may be summarized as follows:

- 1) In connection with the Sale, the Debtors will seek to assume and assign certain executory contracts and unexpired leases (collectively, the "Assumed Executory Contracts") pursuant to § 365. (For simplicity, as used hereafter, the term "executory contract" means an executory contract and/or an unexpired lease, as the context requires.)

- 2) Qualified Bidders must designate executory contracts subject to assumption by no later than seven days prior to the Auction. The Winning Bidder will have the right to remove executory contracts up to thirty days prior to the Closing Date.
- 3) The Debtors will serve a Cure Notice upon the counterparty to each Assume Executory Contract. The Cure Notice will identify the amount, if any, that the Debtors believe is owed to each counterparty to cure any defaults that exist under such contract (the "Cure Amounts"). The Cure Notice will specify the deadlines for counterparties to (a) object to the sufficiency of the Cure Amount and/or (b) object to the assumption and assignment of the Assumed Executory Contracts.

C. Summary of UnitedHealthcare Insurance Company's Objection and the Debtors' Reply Thereto

UnitedHealthcare Insurance Company ("UnitedHealthcare") provides healthcare insurance benefits to members insured under its group medical policies through a network of providers. UnitedHealthcare is a party to various contracts with St. Francis, pursuant to which St. Francis is an in-network provider to UnitedHealthcare's members.

UnitedHealthcare asserts that the Debtors should be required to provide an irrevocable designation as to whether UnitedHealthcare's contracts will be assumed and assigned by no later than 70 days prior to the Closing Date. UnitedHealthcare contends that such notice is necessary to enable it to comply with regulations requiring that UnitedHealthcare provide its members at least 60 days' notice of the termination of a contract with a health care provider.

Debtors contend that the 30 days' notice of an irrevocable designation provided under the Bidding Procedures is sufficient. Debtors state that requiring a faster determination would give UnitedHealthcare an undue advantage in negotiations, since the contracts with UnitedHealthcare are critical to the future success of St. Francis.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Court's findings regarding the proposed bidding procedures are governed primarily by the need to insure that the Winning Bidder at the Auction closes the Sale. As the Court has stated on multiple prior occasions, the Debtors' cash flow situation is dire. If the Sale does not close, the Debtors most likely will not have sufficient funds to keep St. Francis open until negotiation and approval of a new sale transaction. The Debtors' most recent cash collateral budget projects that during the period of January 25 to February 29, 2020, the Debtors' cash balance will decrease from approximately $65.7 million to approximately $28.6 million. See Doc. No. 4019 at Ex. A. That translates to a cash burn rate of approximately $1.06 million per day, a significant increase from the cash burn rate of $450,000 per day that existed as of the Petition Date.

The Court's obligation is to approve bidding procedures that are most likely to maximize the proceeds received by the estates in connection with the Auction. See Simantob v. Claims Prosecutor, LLC (In re Lahijani), 325 B.R. 282, 288–89 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005) (“The court's obligation in § 363(b) sales is to assure that optimal value is realized by the estate under the circumstances.”). The closure of St. Francis would significantly reduce the price at which it could be sold. To insure that St. Francis is sold as a going-concern through the successful completion of the Sale, the bidding procedures proposed by the Debtors are modified as set forth below.

A. Strategic Global Management, Inc. and/or Related Persons and Entities Related Are Disqualified from Participating in the Auction

The instant Sale is necessary only because the sale to Strategic Global Management, Inc. (“SGM”) did not close (the “SGM Sale”). [Note 4] The Debtors are currently pursuing an action for damages against SGM based upon its failure to close (the “SGM Adversary”). In that action, the Debtors allege, among other things, that SGM lacked the financial wherewithal to complete the SGM Sale.

The Bidding Procedures require the Debtors to screen all Bids to determine whether they constitute Qualified Bids. A Bid is not a Qualified Bid unless it is accompanied by sufficient information establishing the Bidder's financial wherewithal to consummate the Sale. In view of the necessity that the Winning Bidder promptly close the Sale, the Debtors' ability to assess the financial wherewithal of Bidders is critical.

The SGM Adversary makes it very difficult, if not impossible, for the Debtors to determine whether SGM is a Qualified Bidder. SGM would be reluctant to provide the Debtors information regarding its finances, knowing that such information could be used against it in the SGM Adversary. Absent access to SGM's financial information, the Debtors would not be able to accurately assess SGM's financial ability to close the Sale.

An Auction in which SGM was allowed to participate, where the Debtors cannot meaningfully evaluate SGM's financial wherewithal, is not likely to result in the estates receiving maximum value for the Purchased Assets. SGM is disqualified from participating in the Auction.

SGM has not filed any papers in connection with the Bidding Procedures Motion. This does not prevent the Court from disqualifying SGM from participating in the Auction. "[T]he statutes governing the sale of assets of bankruptcy estates are intended to protect the creditors of such estates and not prospective purchasers." In re HST Gathering Co., 125 B.R. 466, 468 (W.D. Tex. 1991). A potential bidder such as SGM "is not within the 'zone of interests intended to be protected' under the bankruptcy statutes and regulations." Id. Applying this principle, the HST Gathering court upheld the bankruptcy court's refusal to accept a bid tendered in connection with an auction. The court held that the disappointed bidder lacked standing to appeal because he was "not a person whose interest was intended to be protected by the bankruptcy statutes or regulations." Id.; see also Kabro Assocs. v. Colony Hill Assocs. (In re Colony Hill Assocs.), 111 F.3d 269, 273 (2d Cir. 1997) ("[A]n unsuccessful bidder—whose only pecuniary loss is the speculative profit it might have made had it succeeded in purchasing property at an auction—usually lacks standing to challenge a bankruptcy court's approval of a sale transaction."); Stark v. Moran (In re Moran), 566 F.3d 676, 682 (6th Cir. 2009) ("A frustrated bidder lacks bankruptcy appellate standing when he merely alleges that he would have profited from his desired purchase, and does not allege, for instance, that fraud or impropriety prevented the estate from accepting his higher bid such that creditors would not receive as great a recovery as they would have had the estate accepted the higher bid.").

The Court's concerns regarding SGM's participation in the Auction also apply to persons and entities affiliated with SGM. In the SGM Adversary, Debtors assert that various persons and entities affiliated with SGM facilitated SGM's alleged misrepresentations and are liable for SGM's allegedly wrongful conduct. Like SGM, such persons and entities would be reluctant to provide financial information to the Debtors that could potentially be used against them in the SGM Adversary. Disqualification applies to the following persons and entities:

- 1) Any person or entity directly or indirectly related to or affiliated with SGM;
- 2) Any person or entity that directly or indirectly governs or controls, or is controlled or governed by either (a) SGM or (b) any person or entity related to or affiliated with SGM;

B. Conditions Precedent to Closing

The Court has not had the opportunity to review the Draft APA, which has not yet been filed. The Court recognizes that under the Bidding Procedures, the final form of the APA is subject to negotiation. To provide a framework for such negotiations, the Court provides the following guidance with respect to the types of APA provisions that are most likely to result in successful completion of the Sale. The Court's overriding objective is to prevent a bidder who later experiences buyer's remorse from attempting to withdraw from its obligation to close the Sale.

The Bidding Procedures state that the Purchased Assets will be transferred on an "as is, where is" basis, with all faults, and without representations or warranties of any kind ...." Bidding Procedures at ¶ 3. The Bidding Procedures also provide that "[n]o party may conduct any additional due diligence after" the April 3, 2020 Bid Deadline. Id. at ¶ 7.

Consistent with these provisions, the Court will likely not approve any APA provision allowing the Winning Bidder to withdraw based upon flaws or defects it discovers in the Purchased Assets after the Bid Deadline. Provisions allowing withdrawal based upon conditions asserted by the California Attorney General—including provisions similar to § 8.6 of the APA between the Debtors and SGM—will also likely not be approved.

Conditions precedent to closing are disfavored and should be limited to the extent possible. The Court understands that certain conditions precedent are inevitable in the context of the sale of a large hospital. Acceptable conditions precedent include provisions relating to the transfer of Medicare and Medi-Cal Provider Agreements and other necessary regulatory approvals. Conditions precedent relating to the operational condition of the Purchased Assets are disfavored and will not be approved absent compelling reasons.

C. UnitedHealthcare's Objection is Sustained

UnitedHealthcare written notice of an irrevocable designation as to whether the Debtors' contracts with UnitedHealthcare would be assumed and assigned. Such designation was to be provided within 48 hours after the conclusion of the auction. SGM Bidding Procedures Order at ¶ 7 [Doc. No. 1572]. The Court reasoned that notice within 48 hours of the auction would provide UnitedHealthcare at least 70 days' notice prior to the closing of the SGM Sale of the treatment of its contracts. On July 11, 2019, the Court granted UnitedHealthcare's motion to compel the Debtors' compliance with the SGM Bidding Procedures Order. Specifically, the Court ordered the Debtors to provide UnitedHealthcare an irrevocable designation as to the assumption and assignment of its contracts by no later than July 17, 2019. See Doc. Nos. 2694 and 2713.

The Court sees no reason why UnitedHealthcare should not be provided the same notice in connection with the instant Sale as it was provided in connection with the SGM Sale. Debtors shall provide UnitedHealthcare an irrevocable designation with respect to the assumption and assignment of UnitedHealthcare's contracts within 48 hours of the conclusion of the Auction. If no Auction is held, the notice shall be provided by no later than April 9, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.—48 hours after the date and time scheduled for the commencement of the Auction.

D. The Rights of SEIU-UHW and U.S. Bank, N.A. Are Preserved

The Service Employees International Union, United Healthcare Workers-West ("SEIU-UHW") represents approximately 895 individuals employed at St. Francis and is party to a collective bargaining agreement with St. Francis (the "SEIU-UHW CBA"). SEIU-UHW reserves its right to object, at the Sale Hearing, to the treatment of the SEIU-UHW CBA.

The Court finds that the treatment of the SEIU-UHW CBA is an issue more appropriately addressed at the Sale Hearing. At this point the identity of the Winning Bidder and the proposed treatment of the SEIU-UHW CBA is unknown. SEIU-UHW's right to assert objections with respect to the SEIU-UHW CBA at the Sale Hearing is preserved.

U.S. Bank, National Association ("U.S. Bank") asserts a security interest in a substantial portion of the Purchased Assets. U.S. Bank supports the Bidding Procedures Motion but has not reviewed the proposed form of order approving the Motion. U.S. Bank reserves its right to raise issues concerning the form of the Bidding Procedures Order at the hearing.

Docket 7

Tentative Ruling:

2/27/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On March 6, 2008, Miguel Hernandez Cruz (the "Plaintiff") filed a complaint in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court") against Shamin Ahemmed (the "Defendant") and North End Pizzeria, asserting claims for wage and hour violations (the "State Court Complaint"). On June 16, 2009, the State Court entered judgment in favor of Plaintiff and against Defendant and North End Pizzeria (the "State Court Judgment"). The State Court Judgment provides that Defendant and North End Pizzeria are jointly and severally liable to Plaintiff in the amount of $107,100 for uncompensated overtime, $71,260 for uncompensated double time hours, and $124,866 in prejudgment interest.

On June 17, 2019, Defendant filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. On September 23, 2019, Plaintiff timely filed a Complaint Objecting to Discharge Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(6) [Doc. No. 1] (the "Complaint"). After Plaintiff filed a motion to dismiss the Complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief could be granted, Defendant filed a First Amended Complaint Objecting to Discharge Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A) and (6) [Doc. No. 12] (the "First Amended Complaint") as of right, pursuant to Civil Rule 15(a)(1)(B).

On January 23, 2020, the Court granted Defendant's motion to dismiss the First Amended Complaint, but gave Plaintiff leave to amend. See Doc. No. 39. The Court found that Plaintiff's claims under § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6) were inadequately pleaded, because the First Amended Complaint incorporated the State Court Complaint by reference, rather than alleging specific facts that plausibly established Defendant's liability. See Doc. No. 27.

On January 20, 2020, Plaintiff filed the operative Second Amended Complaint Objecting to Discharge Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2)(A) and (6) [Doc. No. 29] (the "Second Amended Complaint"). The Second Amended Complaint alleges that the indebtedness established by the State Court Judgment is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A) and (6). The material allegations of the Second Amended Complaint may be summarized as follows:

On December 13, 2005, Plaintiff became employed at Defendant's restaurant, North End Pizzeria. Complaint at ¶ 6. To induce Plaintiff to take the job and remain employed at North End Pizzeria, Defendant represented to Plaintiff that Defendant would pay Plaintiff overtime and double time wages as required by California law, and that Defendant would provide Plaintiff meal and rest breaks in accordance with California law. Id.

Defendant made these representations for the purpose of deceiving Plaintiff, and he knew the representations were false at the time they were made. Id. at ¶ 8. During the eight years he was employed at North End Pizzeria, Plaintiff routinely worked 50–60 hours per week. Id. Defendant failed to pay Plaintiff overtime wages and failed to provide Plaintiff the meal and rest breaks required under California law. Id. Instead, Defendant falsified Plaintiff's time records to misrepresent Plaintiff's actual work hours, in order to create the appearance that Plaintiff had been properly paid. Id. at ¶ 7.

Plaintiff justifiably relied on Defendant's representations that he would be paid the wages he was owed under California law. Id. at ¶ 9. Plaintiff is not educated and was

Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Motion

Defendant moves to dismiss the Complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, pursuant to Civil Rule 12(b)(6). Defendant makes the following arguments in support of the Motion:

The Second Amended Complaint's allegations are not plausible. Neither the State Court Action, the Complaint, or the First Amended Complaint alleged that Defendant falsified time records, ripped the timekeeping machine out of the wall and threw it at Plaintiff, and threatened Plaintiff that he would not be able to find work elsewhere if he did not continue working at North End Pizzeria. Plaintiff concocted these new allegations in response to the Court's ruling granting the Defendant's motion to dismiss the First Amended Complaint.

Plaintiff has failed to allege facts showing that Defendant committed willful and malicious injury. The facts alleged show at most a breach of contract. Indebtedness arising from a breach of contract does not fall within the scope of § 523(a)(6) unless the contractual breach is also accompanied by tortious conduct.

Plaintiff makes the following arguments in opposition to the Motion:

There is no merit to Defendant's argument that the Second Amended Complaint's allegations are not plausible merely because they were not pleaded in prior complaints. Defendant's assertion that Plaintiff must have concocted these allegations in response to the Court's ruling on Defendant's prior motion to dismiss is nothing more than speculation.

The Second Amended Complaint contains sufficient factual allegations to support a reasonable inference that Defendant is liable under § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6).

Chapter 7

The State Court Complaint contained a cause of action for fraud. The State Court entered judgment for Plaintiff on all claims asserted in the State Court Complaint. The State Court's finding of Defendant's liability for fraud is entitled to preclusive effect.

Defendant makes the following arguments in reply to Plaintiff's opposition:

Plaintiff's contention that the State Court found that Defendant engaged in fraud is not correct. The State Court's May 26, 2009 Minute Order makes no reference to fraud, and the State Court Judgment that was entered to memorialize the Minute Order contains no mention of fraud.

The Second Amended Complaint contradicts itself. The Second Amended Complaint alleges that at the commencement of the employment relationship, Defendant informed Plaintiff that Plaintiff would be paid overtime wages. The Second Amended Complaint then alleges that near the end of the employment relationship, Plaintiff became aware of his entitlement to overtime wages, at which time Plaintiff confronted Defendant. The Second Amended Complaint alleges that Plaintiff did not confront Defendant earlier because he was ignorant of California labor law. Plaintiff could not have been ignorant of the law if, as alleged earlier, Defendant had induced Plaintiff to take the job by telling Plaintiff that he would be paid overtime wages.

II. Findings and Conclusions

"To survive a motion to dismiss, a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.' A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (internal citations omitted). To state a plausible claim for relief, a complaint must satisfy two working principles:

First, the tenet that a court must accept as true all of the allegations contained in a complaint is inapplicable to legal conclusions. Threadbare recitations of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory statements, do not suffice.... Second, only a complaint that states a plausible claim for relief survives a motion to dismiss. Determining whether a complaint states a plausible claim for relief will ... be a context-specific task that requires the reviewing court to draw on its judicial experience and common sense. But where the well-pleaded facts do not permit the court to infer more than the mere possibility of misconduct, the complaint has alleged—but it has not "show[n]"—"that the pleader is entitled to relief."

Id. (citing Civil Rule 8(a)(2)).

Although the pleading standard Civil Rule 8 announces “does not require ‘detailed factual allegations,’ ... it demands more than an unadorned, the-defendant-unlawfully-harmed-me accusation.... A pleading that offers ‘labels and conclusions’ or a ‘formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.’ Nor does a complaint suffice if it tenders ‘naked assertion[s]’ devoid of ‘further factual enhancement.’” Id. (citing Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)).

A. The Second Amended Complaint States a Claim Under § 523(a)(2)(A)

Section 523(a)(2)(A) provides: "A discharge under section 727 ... of this title does not discharge an individual debtor from any debt for money, property, services, or an extension, renewal, or refinancing of credit, to the extent obtained by false pretenses, a false representation, or actual fraud, other than a statement respecting the debtor's or an insider's financial condition."

To state a claim for relief under § 523(a)(2)(A), a complaint must plausibly allege facts sufficient to enable the Court to draw the reasonable inference that the Defendant (1) made a representation (2) that the Defendant knew was false (3) for the purpose of deceiving the Plaintiff, and that (4) the Plaintiff relied upon the representation and (5) sustained damages as the proximate result of the misrepresentation having been made. Ghomeshi v. Sabban (In re Sabban), 600 F.3d 1219, 1222 (9th Cir. 2010).

The Second Amended Complaint states a claim under § 523(a)(2)(A). The Second Amended Complaint alleges that Defendant induced Plaintiff to work for him by promising Plaintiff that he would be paid overtime wages in accordance with the law, but then subsequently failed to pay Plaintiff overtime wages even though Plaintiff routinely worked 50–60 hours per week. The Second Amended Complaint further alleges that Defendant falsified Plaintiff's time records to make it appear as though Plaintiff was being paid the wages he was owed. These allegations support a reasonable inference that from the outset of the employment relationship, Defendant never intended to pay Plaintiff the wages he was owed; that Defendant falsely represented otherwise to convince Plaintiff to take the job; and that Plaintiff justifiably relied upon Defendant's false representations to his detriment.

In his reply papers, Defendant argues for the first time that the allegations of the Second Amended Complaint are not plausible because they are contradictory.

Chapter 7

Defendant points to the allegation that at the outset of the employment relationship, Defendant represented to Plaintiff that Plaintiff would be paid overtime wages. Defendant maintains that this allegation contradicts the allegation that Plaintiff did not confront Defendant regarding nonpayment of overtime wages until much later, because Plaintiff was ignorant of the law.

Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 9013-1(g)(4) prohibits the introduction of new evidence or arguments in reply papers. LBR 9013-1(g)(4) is a codification of the Ninth Circuit's well-established "general rule that [litigants] cannot raise a new issue for the first time in their reply briefs." Martinez-Serrano v. I.N.S., 94 F.3d 1256, 1259 (9th Cir. 1996); see also Daghlian v. DeVry University, Inc., 461 F. Supp. 2d 1121, 1143 n. 37 (C.D. Cal. 2006) ("It is improper for the moving party to 'shift gears' and introduce new facts or different legal arguments in the reply brief than (those that were] presented in the moving papers."). Introduction of new arguments in reply papers deprives the opposing party of the opportunity to respond, which violates due process.

Because Defendant's argument regarding alleged contradictions in the Second Amended Complaint was raised only in Defendant's reply papers, the Court does not consider the argument. Even if the Court were to consider the argument, the Court does not find that the Second Amended Complaint's allegations contradict each other in a manner that renders the Complaint implausible. It is conceivable that Defendant could have represented to Plaintiff that Plaintiff would receive overtime wages, and that this representation could have induced Plaintiff to take the job. Yet if Plaintiff was ignorant of the law, this representation would not necessarily have been sufficient to put him on notice of the exact circumstances in which he was entitled to receive overtime pay. Thus, Plaintiff could have been aware of Defendant's alleged promise to pay overtime wages, while simultaneously not being aware that Defendant was allegedly breaking that promise.

The Court rejects Defendant's contention that certain allegations in the Second Amended Complaint are not plausible because they were not previously pleaded. The Complaint and the First Amended Complaint were very brief because they incorporated the State Court Complaint by reference. Plaintiff set forth the more detailed allegations in the Second Amended Complaint after the Court advised Plaintiff that a pleading incorporating the State Court Complaint by reference did not provide Defendant sufficient notice of the misconduct alleged. Contrary to Defendant's suggestion, the lack of detailed allegations in the prior pleadings does not suggest that Plaintiff concocted the allegations in bad faith to avoid dismissal of the action.

The parties devote substantial attention to an issue that is not relevant to the instant Motion—whether the State Court found that Defendant committed fraud, and whether such a finding, if any, is entitled to preclusive effect. As the Ninth Circuit has explained, a non-dischargeability action requires consideration of two distinct issues: first, a determination of whether the Defendant is indebted to the Plaintiff; and second, a determination of whether the indebtedness is non-dischargeable. Banks v. Gill Distribution Centers, Inc., 263 F.3d 862, 868 (9th Cir. 2001). Here, the State Court Judgment establishes the indebtedness. This dischargeability action will determine whether such indebtedness will be excepted from Defendant's discharge. One possible basis for a finding of non-dischargeability is a fraudulent representation within the meaning of § 523(a)(2)(A). However, the factual allegations of the Second Amended Complaint state a claim for relief under § 523(a)(2)(A) regardless of any findings made by the State Court concerning fraud. At a later stage in the litigation, any findings made by the State Court concerning fraud could potentially assist Plaintiff in proving his case. But in the context of a motion to dismiss, the only issue is whether the Second Amended Complaint sets forth allegations plausibly showing that Plaintiff is entitled to relief.

B. The Second Amended Complaint States a Claim Under § 523(a)(6)

"Section 523(a)(6) excepts from discharge debts arising from a debtor's 'willful and malicious' injury to another person or to the property of another. The 'willful' and 'malicious' requirements are conjunctive and subject to separate analysis." Plyam v. Precision Development, LLC (In re Plyam), 530 B.R. 456, 463 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 2015) (internal citations omitted).

An injury is "willful" when "a debtor harbors 'either subjective intent to harm, or a subjective belief that harm is substantially certain.' The injury must be deliberate or intentional, 'not merely a deliberate or intentional act that leads to injury.'" Id. at 463 (internal citations omitted). When determining intent, there is a presumption that the debtor knows the natural consequences of his actions. Ormsby v. First Am. Title Co. of Nevada (In re Ormsby), 591 F.3d 1199, 1206 (9th Cir. 2010). An injury is "malicious" if it "involves '(1) a wrongful act, (2) done intentionally, (3) which necessarily causes injury, and (4) is done without just cause or excuse.'" Carrillo v. Su (In re Su), 290 F.3d 1140, 1146–47 (9th Cir. 2002) (internal citations omitted). "Within the plain meaning of this definition, it is the wrongful act that must be committed intentionally rather than the injury itself." Jett v. Sicroff (In re Sicroff), 401

The Second Amended Complaint alleges facts supporting a reasonable inference that Defendant intended to harm Plaintiff by failing to pay Plaintiff the overtime wages he was owed. The Second Amended Complaint alleges that when confronted about the unpaid wages, Defendant became angry, threatened Plaintiff, and tore the timekeeping machine out of the wall. The Debtors assert that the Agreements provide no further benefit to the estates given St. Vincent's closure.

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(a) provides that the Debtor, "subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." In Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), the Ninth Circuit explained the standard the Bankruptcy Court must apply in determining whether to approve the rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease:

In making its determination, a bankruptcy court need engage in "only a cursory review of a [debtor-in-possession]'s decision to reject the contract. Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor-in-possession]'s rejection decision." ...

Thus, in evaluating the rejection decision, the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate. See Navellier v. Sletten, 262 F.3d 923, 946 n. 12 (9th Cir.2001); FDIC v. Castetter, 184 F.3d 1040, 1043 (9th Cir.1999); see also In re Chi-Feng Huang, 23 B.R. at 801 ("The primary issue is whether rejection would benefit the general unsecured creditors."). It should approve the rejection of an executory contract under § 365(a) unless it finds that the debtor-in-possession's conclusion that rejection would be "advantageous is so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice."

Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007).

The Court finds that the Debtors have shown sufficient cause to reject the

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(a) provides that the Debtor, "subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." In Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), the Ninth Circuit explained the standard the Bankruptcy Court must apply in determining whether to approve the rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease:

In making its determination, a bankruptcy court need engage in "only a cursory review of a [debtor-in-possession]'s decision to reject the contract. Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor-in-possession]'s rejection decision." ...

Thus, in evaluating the rejection decision, the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate. See Navellier v. Sletten, 262 F.3d 923, 946 n. 12 (9th Cir.2001); FDIC v. Casterter, 184 F.3d 1040, 1043 (9th Cir.1999); see also In re Chi-Feng Huang, 23 B.R. at 801 ("The primary issue is whether rejection would benefit the general unsecured creditors."). It should approve the rejection of an executory contract under § 365(a) unless it finds that the debtor-in-possession's conclusion that rejection would be "advantageous is so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice."

Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007).

The Court finds that the Debtors have shown sufficient cause to reject the Agreements. As a result of the closure of St. Vincent, the Agreements provide no benefit to the estates. The Debtors' continued performance under the Agreements would burden the estates with unnecessary expenses. Rejection of the Agreements shall be effective as of January 31, 2020.

  - d) Chapter 7 Voluntary Petition [Doc. No. 1]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Background

Russell Gando Osio ("Debtor") commenced a voluntary chapter 7 petition on July 16, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). Sam S. Leslie was appointed as chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee"). As indicated on Debtor's Schedule C, attached as Exhibit 2 of the Motion, the Debtor initially claimed exemptions under Code of Civil Procedure ("CCP") § 704.730. On January 17, 2020, the Debtor amended his commencement documents to disclose an interest in previously undisclosed tax refunds totaling $1,143 (the "Tax Refunds"), and he modified his claimed exemptions from under CCP § 704.730 to § 703.140 [Note 1]. The Debtor did not disclose the existence of the Tax Refunds on his initial petition or on subsequent amended schedules before January 17, 2020. The Trustee presently seeks an order sustaining his objection to Debtor's amended claim of exemptions for (a) the Tax Refunds and (b) $29,657 of settlement proceeds paid to the estate. The exemptions at issue were collectively claimed under California's "wildcard" exemption, codified in CCP § 703.140(b)(5). The Debtor opposes the Motion in full.

Previously, on December 6, 2019, the Court sustained the Trustee's objection with respect to the Debtor's claimed homestead exemption under CCP § 704.730, thereby compelling turnover of certain real property (the "Property") [Note 2]. See Order Denying Debtor's Motion for Reconsideration [Doc. No. 48]. The Court's findings and conclusions with respect to the Motion for Reconsideration may be found in the Court's final ruling [Doc. No. 45] and will be omitted from this tentative ruling. On December 12, 2019, the Trustee filed an uncontested motion to approve a settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") with the Debtor [Doc. No. 50] (the "9019 Motion"), which the Court granted on January 2, 2020 [Doc. No. 52]. In sum, the Settlement Agreement provides for the abandonment of the Property to the Debtor, in exchange for Debtor's payment of $41,523.08 to the estate (the "Settlement Proceeds") [Note 3]. As of February 27, 2020, filed claims against the estate totaled $91,888.41. See Claims Register.

The parties' principal points and arguments are summarized below.

The Motion

The Trustee filed the Motion on February 12, 2020 [Doc. No. 55]. Subsequent to the Court's approval of the Settlement Agreement, the Trustee asserts that he learned about the Debtor's interest in the Tax Refunds. Declaration of Sam S. Leslie ("Leslie Decl."), ¶ 17. According to the Trustee, it was only after demanding turnover of the Tax Refunds that the Debtor amended his commencement documents, therein claiming the exemptions above referenced. Id. at ¶ 18. The Trustee objects to the Debtor's amended wildcard exemptions on five (5) independent grounds.

The Motion first asserts that the Debtor waived his rights to claim exemptions under § 703.140 when he elected, and benefited from, exemptions under § 704.730. Based on the points asserted in the Motion, Trustee's position is that the Debtor utilized § 704.730 to his advantage by removing the Property from the reach of the estate. Motion at 10-11. The Trustee argues that because the abandonment of the Property is irreversible, the Debtor is attempting to reap a benefit under both exemption statutes by now claiming an exemption in the Settlement Proceeds.

Second, the Motion argues that the Debtor cannot claim an exemption in the Settlement Proceeds, as such assets did not exist on the Petition Date. In support, the Trustee cites to numerous cases which generally stand for the proposition that debtors' California exemptions can only be claimed in assets that existed as of the filing date. See Motion at 11. Accordingly, the Settlement Proceeds were not in "existence" at the time this petition was filed because such funds became part of the estate only after this Court approved the Settlement Agreement.

Third, the Trustee asserts that the Debtor will derive an unfair benefit from advancing two inconsistent positions as to the Settlement Proceeds, and therefore, the Debtor should be judicially estopped from claiming a wildcard exemption with respect to said assets. According to the Motion, California courts have previously applied estoppel doctrines to claimed exemptions, as determined by Jefferson v. Tom. See Motion at 12. The Motion articulates the elements of judicial estoppel that the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel adopted in Wilcox v. Parker (In re Parker), 471 B.R. 570 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2012): a) a party has asserted clearly inconsistent positions, 2) the party asserting inconsistent positions persuaded the court of the earlier position, and 3) allowing inconsistent positions would derive an unfair advantage on opposing party.

Fourth, the Trustee also advances that the Debtor should be equitably estopped from claiming a wildcard exemption in the Tax Refunds. The Motion cites to Simmons v. Ghaderi, which provides that a party seeking to invoke equitable estoppel must show: "(a) a representation or concealment of material facts; (b) made with knowledge, actual or virtual, of the facts; (c) to a party ignorant, actually and permissibly, of the truth; (d) with the intention, actual or virtual, that the ignorant party act on it; and (e) that party was induced to act on it." Motion at 14 (quoting Simmons v. Ghaderi, 44 Cal. 4th 570, 584 (2008)). The Trustee submits that all five elements of equitable estoppel have been satisfied here. In short, the Trustee argues that Debtor's actions to conceal the existence of the Tax Refunds from the estate for over four months satisfy the first four elements of equitable estoppel. With respect to the element of inducement, the Trustee attests that had he been aware of the Tax Refunds, he would have "require[d] that the [Settlement Proceeds] also include[d] said Tax Refunds as part of any settlement agreement." Leslie Decl., ¶ 20. By not disclosing the Tax Refunds, the Trustee claims that the Debtor induced him to act differently. Id.

Last, the Trustee argues that the doctrine of laches prevents the Debtor's belated claim of wildcard exemptions. The Trustee reasons that laches is applicable here because the Debtor failed to disclose the Tax Refunds for over four months, and he only did so until after the Settlement Agreement was executed.

The Opposition

On February 19, 2020, the Debtor filed a timely opposition to the Motion [Doc. No. 57] (the "Opposition"). The Opposition begins by furnishing a lengthy compilation of facts concerning the Debtor's marital status, ownership of the Property, as well as Debtor's agreement to license part of the Property to his father's business. The Court largely views this restatement of facts, and any evidence in support thereof, as unnecessary and inapposite to the issues raised by the Trustee. As to his substantive arguments, the Debtor first counters that he has the absolute right to amend his schedules before the case is closed under FRBP 1009(a). The Debtor further claims that his former attorney is wholly responsible for the omission of the Tax Refunds as Debtor provided such documents at the time this case was filed. See Declaration of Russell Osio ("Osio Decl."), ¶ 6. The Debtor also contends that the Trustee is mistaken in claiming that Debtor does not have an interest in the Settlement Proceeds. The premise of Debtor's argument appears to be that he is entitled to an interest in the Settlement Proceeds by virtue that he is the Property's titleholder. Accordingly, the Debtor posits that the net equity in the Property was transmuted into the Settlement Proceeds, and therefore, he is entitled to claim such funds under the wildcard exemption. See Opposition at 8 ("Here, the equity was converted to cash, and although the cash proceeds equal to the net equity were transferred...[the Debtor] can still exempt his interest in the proceeds subject to any underlying state law.").

Next, the Debtor contends that the Trustee failed to establish each of the three elements of judicial estoppel. Debtor's response to the judicial estoppel argument was muddled and confusingly articulated; the following summary represents the Court's best understanding of the Debtor's points. The Debtor claims that the first and second element fail because he has an "absolute" right to amend his petition, and therefore, it is not possible for him to have an inconsistent position. The Debtor further retorts that it is actually the Trustee who successfully persuaded the Court of "inaccurate" facts concerning the Property. Opposition at 11. Finally, as to the fair advantage element, the Debtor maintains that he has not benefitted from the purported inconsistency because the Court previously denied his homestead exemption under § 704.730.

Debtor's arguments concerning equitable estoppel are more coherently briefed. In short, the Debtor submits that the Trustee failed to establish an intentional concealment of a material fact because the Debtor did not intentionally omit the Tax Refunds, but instead, his former attorney failed to include such information in Debtor's commencement documents. Moreover, the Trustee did not rely on Debtor's purported misstatements because the Trustee unilaterally calculated the Settlement Proceeds payable to the estate, and the Debtor paid this amount. For many of the points summarized above, the Debtor argues that the doctrine of laches is similarly inapplicable.

Finally, if the Court decides to sustain the Trustee's objection, the Debtor requests an evidentiary hearing to permit the Court to assess his credibility.

The Trustee's Reply

On February 25, 2020, the Trustee filed a reply to the Opposition [Doc. No. 58] (the "Reply"). In reply, the Trustee counters that the Debtor does not possess the absolute right to amend his schedules because the Supreme Court has previously held that any basis for denying a state-created exemption may be found in state law. See Reply at 3 (citing to Law v. Siegel, 134 S.Ct. 1188, 1196-97 (2014)). Therefore, the Trustee maintains that Debtor's wildcard exemptions may be disallowed by reference to estoppel principles recognized by California courts. The Reply largely reiterates the points initially asserted in the Motion with regard to these equitable doctrines. The Trustee also disputes the Debtor's characterization of the Settlement Proceeds as net equity of the Property. Trustee points out that Debtor seems to adopt the position that the Property was liquidated into cash, which was then utilized to satisfy Debtor's contractual obligations under the Settlement Agreement. The Trustee affirms that this suggestion is false. The Settlement Proceeds did not come from the Property because the Property belonged to the estate at the time such proceeds were paid. In sum, the Property and the Settlement Proceeds consist of two separate assets; and on the petition date, the former was part of the estate and the latter was not. See Reply at 4-5. In support of the Reply, the Trustee attaches the opinion delivered in In re Gonzalez, which provides a comprehensive discussion on state-created exemptions where a debtor's conduct has been objected to as inequitable. See generally No. 2:15-BK-25283-RK, 2017 WL 2787594, at *8 (Bankr. ## II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Debtor's Right to Amend Petition

Debtors have ample flexibility in the timing of an exemption claim. FRBP 1009(a) provides debtors the right to amend any "voluntary petition, list, schedule, or statement...as a matter of course at any time before the case is closed." This general right to amend includes the ability of debtors to amend their schedules to add or alter claimed exemptions. See In re Arellano, 517 B.R. 228, 229 (Bankr. S.D. Cal. 2014) (citing Tyner v. Nicholson (In re Nicholson), 435 B.R. 622, 630 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2010) (abrogated on separate grounds)). However, the question of whether a debtor may amend his or her schedule to claim an exemption is separate from the question whether the exemption is allowable. In re Gonzalez, No. 2:15-BK-25283-RK, 2017 WL 2787594, at *8 (emphasis in original) (internal citations omitted).

Therefore, the Debtor is entitled to amend his bankruptcy schedules before the case is closed, however, doing so does not necessarily mean that his newly claimed exemptions are allowable.

B. The Debtor's Wildcard Exemption as to the Settlement Proceeds is Disallowed Based on California Law

A claimed exemption is "presumptively valid." In re Diener, 483 B.R. 196, 203 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2012) (citing Carter v. Anderson (In re Carter), 182 F.3d 1027, 1029

n.3 (9th Cir. 1999)). Once an exemption has been claimed, it is the objecting party's burden to prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the exemption is improper. Id. (citing FRBP 4003(c)); In re Kelley, 300 B.R. 11, 17 (9th Cir. BAP 2003). Initially, this means that the objecting party has the burden of production and the burden of persuasion. In re Carter, 182 F.3d at 1029 n.3. The objecting party must produce evidence to rebut the presumptively valid exemption. Id. If the objecting party can produce evidence to rebut the exemption, the burden of production then shifts to the debtor to come forward with unequivocal evidence to demonstrate that the exemption is proper. Id. The burden of persuasion, however, always remains with the objecting party. Id.

A debtor's right to claim particular exemptions and the amount of those exemptions is defined by California law, and not federal law. Under Law v. Siegel, the Supreme Court noted that "it is of course true that when a debtor claims a state-created exemption, the exemption's scope is determined by state law, which may provide that certain types of debtor misconduct warrant denial of the exemption." 134 S. Ct. at 1196-97. Accordingly, bankruptcy courts must look to state law in determining whether there is a basis to disallow an exception. Gray v. Warfield, 523 B.R. 170, 175 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2014). Amended Schedule C indicates that the Debtor claimed a state-created exemption. See Amended Schedule C [Doc. No. 54]. Bankruptcy courts in California have long recognized the application of equitable doctrines to state-created exemptions. See, e.g., In re Steward, 227 B.R. 895, 899 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1998) (applying estoppel principles to debtor's homestead exemption); In re Gonzalez, No. 2:15-BK-25283-RK, 2019 WL 1423080 at *28 (denying homestead exemption on equitable estoppel grounds); In re Gilman, 608 B.R. 714, 730 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2019) (applying a number of equitable theories—unclean hands, estoppel by unjust enrichment, equitable estoppel, and laches—to a homestead exemption and concluding debtor was entitled to exemption); In re Smith, No. 1:10-BK-11054, 2017 WL 1457942, at *4 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. Apr. 24, 2017) (finding that any equitable doctrines under California law could be applied to disallow an amended exemption).

The Trustee argues that the Debtor's amended wildcard exemption as to the Settlement Proceeds must be disallowed under the doctrines of judicial estoppel, equitable estoppel, and laches. The Court finds that the Trustee has satisfied his burden with respect to the doctrine of judicial estoppel. The purpose of judicial estoppel is to “protect the integrity of the judicial process.” Gordon v. Nissan Motor Co., 170 Cal. App. 4th 1103, 1113 (2009). To invoke judicial estoppel under California law, a party must show: 1) the same party has taken two positions, 2) the positions were taken in a judicial or quasi-judicial proceeding, 3) the party was successful in asserting the first position (i.e., the tribunal accepted the earlier position as true), 4) the two positions are totally inconsistent; and 5) the first position was not taken as a result of ignorance, fraud, or mistake. People v. Palmer, 58 Cal. 4th 110, 117 (2013); see In re Siller, 427 B.R. 872, 886 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2010) (applying judicial estoppel, but holding reversed on separate grounds), rev'd and remanded sub nom. Cotchett, Pitre & McCarthy v. Siller, No. CIV S-10-0779 KJM, 2012 WL 1657620 (E.D. Cal. May 10, 2012).

The Court finds that all the elements of judicial estoppel are present, and the Debtor’s exemption is disallowed.

1. Two positions asserted in a judicial proceeding

This first element is satisfied because the Debtor has taken two distinct positions: first, on December 7, 2019, the Debtor executed the Settlement Agreement (Motion, Ex. 9), under which he was required to pay $41,523.08 to the estate, and second, on January 17, 2020, the Debtor amended Schedule C to claim a wildcard exemption in the Settlement Proceeds in the sum of $29,657 (Doc. No. 54). The second element does not merit an extended discussion—the Debtor asserted both positions in this bankruptcy case.

2. The party persuaded the tribunal to adopt the first position

The Court finds that the Debtor successfully asserted the earlier position. In the 9019 Motion, the Trustee represented to the Court that his compromise with the Debtor would “preserve assets and enhance the Estate...[and] [t]he Agreement avoids costly and risky litigation and results in certainty and substantial benefit to the Estate.” 9019 Motion at 6. The Debtor’s promise to willingly pay the Settlement Proceeds constituted a significant factor in the Court’s decision to approve the Settlement Agreement. See Order Approving Compromise of Controversy [Doc. No. 52], n. 1 (“[T]he Court determines that the Settlement is reasonable, adequate under the circumstances, and in the best interest of creditors.”). Moreover, given the Debtor’s limited administrable assets, the Settlement Agreement was viewed as highly beneficial to the estate and creditors. In sum, the Debtor successfully persuaded the Court of his earlier position, i.e. a promise to pay the Settlement Proceeds to the estate. Therefore, this element is satisfied.

3. The two positions are inconsistent

The Court also finds that the Debtor's positions are entirely inconsistent. Judicial estoppel may be applied when the inconsistency at issue yields an unfair advantage to the asserting party. See Jhaveri v. Teitelbaum, 176 Cal. App. 4th 740, 751 (2009) ("The judicial estoppel doctrine precludes a party from gaining a litigation advantage by espousing one position and then seeking a second advantage by taking an incompatible position."); Ann Taylor Schwing, Judicial estoppel, 2 Cal. Affirmative Def. § 34:18 (2d ed.) ("[T]he inconsistency must be one that is fundamentally unfair or lacking in good faith."). The Debtor asserted two inconsistent positions by agreeing to pay the estate $41,523.08 for the abandonment of the Property and by later attempting to recover more than half of said sum. Unless the Court sustains the Trustee's objection, Debtor's amended exemption leaves only $11,866 of the Settlement Proceeds to pay for administrative expenses and claims totaling over $90,000. Stated differently, allowing Debtor to claim an amended exemption would enable him to circumvent the Settlement Agreement, inasmuch that the Property had been abandoned for substantially less than what the Debtor contractually promised to pay. This is a textbook example of an unfair advantage, at the detriment of the estate, that arises from the assertion of two inconsistent positions. This element is satisfied.

4. The first position was not asserted because of ignorance, fraud, or mistake

The Debtor, who was represented by counsel, entered into the Settlement Agreement following negotiations between the two parties. See Motion, Ex. 9 [Settlement Agreement] at 72 (page citations are to the pagination provided in the Motion). The Settlement Agreement further stipulates that each party "has read this entire Agreement...and executes it only after being fully advised by counsel...[and] fully understands the meaning of each term in this Agreement and fully understands that this Agreement is a full, final, complete and integrated Agreement..." See id. at 73. The Settlement Agreement is executed by both the Debtor and his former attorney.

See id. at 75, 76. Furthermore, the Debtor has not claimed that the execution of the Settlement Agreement was based on ignorance, fraud, or mistake. Therefore, the Court determines that the Trustee has satisfied this element.

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that the doctrine of judicial estoppel applies here. In the event that the Court sustains the Trustee's objection, the Debtor requests an evidentiary hearing to permit assessment of his credibility. However, none of the Court's factual findings above discussed require an assessment of the Debtor's credibility. The Court's determination is predicated on facts that can be readily ascertained from the papers, and to that extent, an evidentiary hearing is unnecessary. See Tan Lao v. Avery, No. 2:15-BK-27357-ER, 2017 WL 8186670, at *7 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 15, 2017) (“[A]n evidentiary hearing is generally appropriate when there are disputed and material factual issues that the bankruptcy court cannot readily determine from the [written] record.”) (internal citations omitted); Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(i)(1) (“The court may, at its discretion, in addition to or in lieu of declaratory evidence, require or allow oral examination of any declarant or any other witness.”) (emphasis added).

C. The Debtor Failed to Rebut the Trustee's Argument in the Alternative

The Trustee raised an alternative, but independent basis, to disallow Debtor's wildcard exemption given that the Settlement Proceeds and the Property are two distinct and separate assets. The Court is persuaded by the Trustee's argument, and finds that the burden of proof shifted onto the Debtor. In response, the Debtor argued that his interest in the Property's net equity was "transmuted" into the cash proceeds tendered to satisfy the Settlement Agreement. The Court is mystified by the Debtor's characterization of the Settlement Proceeds. At the time the Debtor tendered the Settlement Proceeds, the Court understands that the Property still belonged to the estate, and there is no evidence furnished that the Trustee approved the liquidation of the Property into cash. In short, the Debtor has not established that the Settlement Proceeds originated from the Property. Therefore, Debtor has failed to rebut the Trustee's position. See In re Carter, 182 F.3d at 1029 n.3 (“If the objecting party can produce evidence to rebut the exemption, the burden of production then shifts to the debtor to come forward with unequivocal evidence to demonstrate that the exemption is proper.”).

D. The Trustee Did Not Establish the Disallowance of Debtor's Exemption of the Tax Refunds under California Law

The Motion advances two separate equitable grounds to disallow the Debtor's wildcard exemption of the Tax Refunds: equitable estoppel and laches. With respect to both equitable doctrines the asserting party must prove detriment or prejudice occasioned by the party to be estopped. More specifically, one of the elements needed to invoke equitable estoppel requires the asserting party to show a change in position in reliance to the other party's conduct, causing prejudice or detriment to the party asserting estoppel. See State Compensation Ins. Fund v. Workers' Comp. Appeals Bd., 40 Cal. 3d 5, 16 (1985). To invoke the doctrine of laches, a party must show that it suffered prejudice as a result of an unreasonable delay. See Conti v. Bd. of Civil Serv. Commissioners, 1 Cal. 3d 351, 360 (1969) ("It is not so much a question of the lapse of time as it is to determine whether prejudice has resulted.").

The Court is unconvinced that the Trustee has proven that the element of detrimental inducement caused by the Debtor's amended exemption of the Tax Refunds. The Trustee's argument is essentially that Debtor's concealment of the Tax Refunds induced him to settle for a lower dollar amount, which resulted in the estate's detriment. See Motion at 16-17. However, the terms of the Settlement Agreement are exclusively confined to issues concerning the Property, and the dollar amount of the settlement consideration corresponds exactly to the Trustee's calculation of Debtor's net equity in the Property. Leslie Decl., ¶ 13. Moreover, there is no indication that the Trustee ever regarded the settlement as lacking or inadequate; and in fact, the Settlement Agreement plainly provides that the parties "engaged in negotiation." Motion, Ex. 9 at 71. The Court is not persuaded either that a) the Tax Refunds would have played a significant role in settlement discussions, or b) that the estate would have secured a substantial amount of such assets in connection with the Settlement Agreement. With regard to laches, the argument that Debtor's delayed amendment caused prejudice is incorrect because it relies on the premise that the Tax Refunds are non-exempt assets. For the reasons discussed above, the Debtor has the right to amend his schedules as a matter of course. In sum, the Court is unconvinced that the Trustee established prejudice, and therefore, it finds that laches and equitable estoppel are inapplicable. For the same reasons, the Court declines to apply judicial estoppel as to the exemption of the Tax Refunds. Judicial estoppel, supra, at § 34:18 ("The court retains discretion in the application of judicial estoppel, and the fact that a litigant can establish all of the specific elements of the doctrine does not necessarily lead to application of the doctrine.”).

The Court further rejects the theory that the Debtor somehow waived his right to claim § 703.710 exemptions. In accordance with Siegel, any theory of waiver must be defined by state law, and the Motion fails to cite any authority supporting the application of waiver under California law. Through its independent research, the Court discovered In re Arellano, a post-Siegel decision, where the bankruptcy court overruled a trustee’s objection against a debtor’s amended exemption of previously undisclosed income tax refunds, due to the trustee’s failure to assert an objection based in state law. See 517 B.R. at 232.

For the reasons stated above, the Debtor’s amended exemption claim as to the Tax Refunds will stand.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Trustee’s objection to the Debtor’s amended claimed exemptions is SUSTAINED-in-part with respect to the Settlement Proceeds, and OVERRULED-in-part with respect to the Tax Refunds. Any relief requested but not specifically discussed above is denied.

Debtor for Failure to Appear at 341(a) Examination [Doc. No. 119]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Bahram Zendedel (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on January 18, 2019. On November 21, 2019, upon the motion of the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee"), the Court ordered the Debtor to appear at a continued § 341(a) meeting of creditors to be held on December 19, 2019. See Doc. No. 99 (the "Order Granting Motion to Compel"). The Order Granting Motion to Compel was served upon the Debtor and the Debtor's counsel. See Doc. No. 101.

The Trustee's motion to compel the Debtor's attendance at the meeting of creditors (the "Motion to Compel") was necessary because the Debtor failed to appear at continued meetings of creditors scheduled on October 2, 2019 and October 21, 2019. The Debtor appeared at the hearing on the Motion to Compel through counsel, and advised the Court that the Debtor's non-appearance was the result of a communication error with the Trustee's office.

The Debtor failed to appear at the December 19, 2019 meeting of creditors as ordered by the Court. The Debtor appeared at the subsequent meeting of creditors, which was conducted on January 17, 2020.

The Trustee moves for an order holding the Debtor in civil contempt for his failure to comply with the Court's order requiring his appearance at the December 19, 2019 meeting of creditors. The Debtor and his counsel both filed declarations in opposition to the Motion. Counsel offers the following explanation for the Debtor's non-appearance:

After the Motion to Compel Hearing on November 19, 2019, the Court on the record stated the Motion would be granted and an order would be forthcoming. I was under the impression that a notice of continuance of the meeting of creditors would be delivered, and that was an assumption that I mistakenly made. Had I read the [Order Granting Motion to Compel] more carefully, I would have noticed that the continued meeting of creditor's date was in the order itself and I failed to calendar said date accordingly.

The moment I noticed that [the instant Motion] was filed, I immediately checked my e-mail to see how I missed the date of the notice of the continued meeting of creditors. I realized that there was no notice of a continued meeting of creditors so I went back to the [Order Granting Motion to Compel] signed and entered by the Court on November 21, 2019. It was then that I actually saw the continuance date for the meeting of creditors. I have to take complete responsibility for this because the Debtor was never made aware of the continued meeting of creditors being set on December 19, 2019....

I sincerely apologize to the Court. It's very embarrassing to me to miss said date and I know we get hammered with multiple e-mails every day with notices and information and I failed to carefully read the [Order Granting Motion to Compel].... I genuinely believed that a notice of the continued meeting of creditors was going to be served for me to calendar.

Akhkashian Decl. at ¶¶ 8–12 and 22.

The Debtor states that he did not attend the December 19, 2019 meeting of creditors because he "did not receive notice from my attorney, or anyone for that matter, that my appearance was required on December 19, 2019." Debtor's Decl. at ¶ 7.

In reply to the declarations filed by the Debtor and his counsel, the Trustee asserts that civil contempt sanctions should be imposed against the Debtor to compensate the estate for the costs of compelling the Debtor's attendance at the meeting of creditors. The Trustee notes that the Order Granting Motion to Compel was served upon the Debtor via first-class mail, and upon the Debtor's counsel via electronic notice, and that the Order unambiguously required the Debtor to appear for examination on December 19, 2019.

The Debtor states that he received no notice of the Order Granting Motion to Compel. However, the Order was sent via first-class mail to the Debtor at the address listed on his bankruptcy schedules. See Doc. No. 101 (Certificate of Notice, issued by the Bankruptcy Noticing Center, establishing that the Order was served upon the Debtor).

“Under the ‘mailbox rule,’ ‘upon proof that mail is properly addressed, stamped and deposited in an appropriate receptacle, it is presumed to have been received by the addressee in the ordinary course of the mails.’” Hasso v. Mozsgai (In re La Sierra Fin. Servs., Inc.), 290 B.R. 718, 733 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2002) (internal citations omitted). “[T]he presumption created by the mailbox rule can be rebutted by specific evidence of nonreceipt ....” In re Todd, 441 B.R. 647, 652 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2011). However, a “bare declaration of non-receipt” is not sufficient to rebut the presumption. In re Williams, 185 B.R. 598, 600 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995). Instead, the “presumption can only be overcome by clear and convincing evidence that the mailing was not, in fact, accomplished.” Moody v. Bucknum (In re Bucknum), 951 F.2d 204, 207 (9th Cir. 1991).

The Debtor states, in a conclusory fashion, that he did not receive the Order Granting Motion to Compel. See Debtor’s Decl. at ¶ 7 (“I did not receive notice from my attorney, or anyone for that matter, that my appearance was required on December 19, 2019.”). The Debtor’s declaration testimony does not contain evidence of nonreceipt that is sufficiently specific to rebut the mailbox rule’s presumption.

In sum, the Debtor received the Order Granting Motion to Compel but failed to appear at the December 19, 2019 meeting of creditors. The Debtor’s failure to comply with the Order warrants the imposition of contempt sanctions to compensate the Trustee for the costs of bringing the instant Motion, which was necessary to insure that the Debtor would attend future meetings of creditors.

The Trustee requests an opportunity to present additional evidence as to the amount of compensatory contempt sanctions that should be awarded. Additional evidence would be of no assistance to the Court. The Court has reviewed the Motion and the record of the Trustee’s efforts to compel the Debtor’s attendance at the meeting of creditors. Based upon that review, the Court finds that a compensatory contempt sanction of $1,000 is warranted. The Debtor shall pay the $1,000 contempt sanction to the Trustee by no later than June 29, 2020.

Chapter 7

B. The Court Will Require the Debtor's Counsel to Show Cause Why He Should Not Be Required to Disgorge $1,000 in Attorneys' Fees to the Debtor

The Trustee has not sought sanctions against the Debtor's counsel. The Court could not hold the Debtor's counsel in contempt for violating the Order Granting Motion to Compel. That Order pertains only to the Debtor and does not direct the Debtor's counsel to do anything.

The Debtor received the Order Granting Motion to Compel and was required to comply with it. However, the Debtor was also relying upon his counsel to advise him of his responsibilities in connection with his bankruptcy petition, and in this instance counsel failed to inform the Debtor of the date of the continued meeting of creditors. See Akhkashian Decl. at ¶ 13 ("I have to take complete responsibility for this because the Debtor was never made aware of the continued meeting of creditors being set on December 19, 2019.").

Section 329(a) requires any attorney representing a debtor to file "a statement of the compensation paid or agreed to be paid, if such payment or agreement was made after one year before the date of the filing of the petition . . . ." Section 329(b) provides that "[i]f such compensation exceeds the reasonable value of any such services, the court may cancel any such agreement, or order the return of any such payment, to the extent excessive, to the entity that made such payment." Bankruptcy Rule 2017(a) further provides:

On motion by any party in interest or on the court's own initiative, the court after notice and a hearing may determine whether any payment of money or any transfer of property by the debtor, made directly or indirectly and in contemplation of the filing of a petition under the Code . . . to an attorney for services rendered or to be rendered is excessive.

"Once a question has been raised about the reasonableness of an attorneys' fees under section 329, the attorney bears the burden of establishing that the fee is reasonable." 3 Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 329.01 (16th ed. 2019).

Here, the Debtor paid his counsel $2,350 to represent him in this Chapter 7 case. See Debtor's Attorney's Disclosure of Compensation Arrangement in Individual Chapter 7 Case [Doc. No. 25]. Debtor failed to attend three different meetings of creditors as a result of counsel's failure to advise Debtor of the date and time of the meetings. should not be required to disgorge $1,000 in attorneys' fees to the Debtor.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Debtor shall pay the Trustee $1,000 in compensatory contempt sanctions by no later than June 29, 2020. By separate order, the Court will require Debtor's counsel to show cause why he should not be required to disgorge $1,000 in attorney's fees to the Debtor. The Court will prepare and enter appropriate orders.

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

3/6/2020

Debtor's case was very likely hijacked by an unrelated third party. Debtor does not appear to have an interest in the subject property, or be in privity of contract with the property's original borrower or the Movant, the loan servicer on the property's original promissory note.

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Court finds that there is good cause to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). Franklin Ivan Ferrey (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary Chapter 7 case on December 20, 2019. On March 1, 2007, Mira Herman (the "Borrower") executed a security instrument secured by real property located at 3176 Westwood Lane, Occidental, CA, 95465 (the "Property"). See Motion, Ex. A. As indicated on Exhibit 1, page 38, of the Motion [Doc. No. 9-1], the Borrower purportedly granted the Debtor a $3,750 interest in the Property by way of a grant deed. The grant deed is dated May 7, 2018. See id. Furthermore, an additional interest in the Property was purportedly transferred through a grant deed in favor of two other individuals. See Motion, Supporting Documents at 56 [Doc. No. 9-1]. Accordingly, one of these parties filed an unrelated bankruptcy case implicating an interest in the Property. See id. at 59. Therefore, this petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, which involved the transfer of all or part ownership of, or other interest in, the Property without the consent of Movant or court approval.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, Debtor's commencement documents do not reflect that he possesses any interests in real property. Doc. No. 1. The record further indicates that Debtor has no contractual obligations, or is otherwise in privity of contract, with either the Borrower or the Movant. In sum, the Court cannot conclude that Debtor himself has actually engaged in any bad faith conduct. See In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 267 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012) ("[Section] 362(d)(4) 'does not require that it be the debtor who has created the scheme or carried it out, or even that the debtor be a party to the scheme at all.'" (internal citations omitted).

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies with respect to the Property in accordance with applicable law. The 14-day period specified in Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4001(a)(3) is waived. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. Docket 8

Tentative Ruling:

3/6/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set on a shortened notice in accordance with Judge Robles' procedures. Oppositions, if any, will be considered at the hearing.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on November 14, 2019, which is scheduled for trial on March 16, 2020.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

The Court notes that Debtor's case was dismissed on February 24, 2020. The Court vacates the dismissal for the limited purpose of entering an order on this Motion.

FR. 6-19-19; 2-11-20

Docket 1

Tentative Ruling:

3/9/2020

The Court has reviewed (a) the proposed Pretrial Orders submitted by Plaintiff Star Rae Foreman (“Foreman”) and Defendant Thomas Ernesto Merino (“Merino”) and (b) the entire record in this adversary proceeding. Based upon such review, the Court has developed the following Pretrial Order, which supersedes the pleadings and shall govern the course of trial of this cause, unless modified to prevent manifest injustice.

A. Admitted Facts

The following facts are admitted and require no proof:

- 1) On July 1, 2016, Foreman rented an apartment from Merino (the “Apartment”). The Apartment was one of several units located at 1343 West 40th Place, Los Angeles, CA 90804 (the “Property”). The Property was owned by Merino’s parents, German and Miriam Merino.
- 2) On May 30, 2017, Foreman filed an action against Merino in the Small Claims Division of the Los Angeles Superior Court (the “State Court Action”). The

Chapter 7

State Court Action alleged that Merino had failed to maintain the Apartment in a state of habitability and had harassed Foreman after she demanded that Merino take action to render the Apartment habitable.

- 3) At the time Foreman rented the Apartment from Merino, the Apartment was not in compliance with the requirements of the Los Angeles Municipal Code (the "LAMC"). The Apartment's non-compliance is established by a Substandard Order and Notice of Fee (the "Substandard Order") that was issued against the Property on July 27, 2017, by the Board of Building and Safety Commissioners of the City of Los Angeles. See Doc. No. 45 at pp. 27–30. The Substandard Order identified the following violations:
  - a) The Property is substandard due to illegal occupancy of the enclosed porch at the second floor and the accessory buildings as dwellings.
  - b) The Property is substandard due to hazardous electrical wiring.
  - c) The Property is substandard due to lack of adequate heating.
  - d) Smoke alarms are missing or disabled.
  - e) Carbon monoxide alarms are missing or disabled.
  - f) Electrical permit required for the relocation of the main electrical panel.
  - g) The accessory buildings were constructed and remodeled without the required permits and approvals.
  - h) The water heater is not connected to a venting system as required by the LAMC.
  - i) The yard is being used as a storage area in violation of the LAMC.
- 4) The Substandard Order required German and Miriam Merino to correct the violations.
- 5) At some time after renting the Apartment, Foreman demanded that Merino bring the Apartment into compliance with the requirements of the LAMC. Merino did not bring the Apartment into compliance with the requirements of the LAMC.
- 6) Trial of the State Court Action occurred on January 17, 2018. On that same date, the State Court entered judgment in favor of Foreman and against Merino, in the amount of $10,114.00 (consisting of damages in the amount of $9,999.00 and costs in the amount of $115.00) (the "State Court Judgment").
- 7) On September 25, 2018, Merino filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. On October 30, 2019, Merino received a discharge.
- 8) On December 27, 2018, Foreman timely filed a Complaint for Determination of Dischargeability and Objecting to Debtor's Discharge [Doc. No. 1] (the “Complaint”) against Merino.

- 9) On July 2, 2019, the Court granted in part and denied in part Merino’s motion to dismiss the Complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief could be granted. The Court dismissed the Complaint’s claims under § 727(a)(3) and (a)(4)(A) without leave to amend. The Court found that the Complaint stated claims for relief under § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6).

B. Disputed Issues of Fact

The following issues of fact, and no others, remain to be litigated:

- 1) At the time Merino rented the Apartment to Foreman, did Merino represent to Foreman that the Apartment (a) was a permitted unit that was (b) maintained in compliance with all requirements of the LAMC?
- 2) Did Merino know that these representations were false at the time he made them?
- 3) Did Merino make the false representations for the purpose of inducing Foreman to rent the Apartment?
- 4) Did Foreman justifiably rely upon Merino’s false representations in making the decision to rent the Apartment?
- 5) After Foreman demanded that Merino bring the Apartment into compliance with the requirements of the LAMC, did Merino threaten and harass Foreman?
- 6) Did Merino enter the Apartment without authorization in April 2017, and destroy Foreman’s property?
- 7) Did Merino lock Foreman out of the Apartment without properly complying with eviction procedures?
- 8) Did Merino cause his friend, Edwin Sagustume, to enter the Apartment and disable a security camera that Foreman had installed?
- 9) In addition to the non-compliance set forth in the Substandard Order, was the Apartment also non-compliant for failing to contain a lockable door?
- 10) By failing to bring the Apartment into compliance with the LAMC, did Merino harbor either (a) a subjective intent to injure Foreman or (b) a subjective belief that injury to Foreman was substantially certain?

C. Disputed Issues of Law

The following issues of law, and no others, remain to be litigated:

- 2) Is the indebtedness established by the State Court Judgment excepted from Merino's discharge pursuant to § 523(a)(6)?

D. Foreman is Not Entitled to Additional Time to Conduct Discovery or to File Other Motions

Foreman states that she is considering filing (a) a motion to compel Merino to respond to Foreman's discovery and (b) various other motions for sanctions against Merino.

On July 2, 2019, the Court entered a Scheduling Order [Doc. No. 56] which fixed January 25, 2020 as the last day to complete discovery and fixed January 21, 2020 as the last day for dispositive motions to be heard.

Civil Rule 16(b)(4) provides that a scheduling order "shall not be modified except upon a showing of good cause and by leave of the ... judge." Civil Rule 16's "good cause" standard "primarily considers the diligence of the party seeking the amendment. The ... court may modify the pretrial schedule 'if it cannot reasonably be met despite the diligence of the party seeking the extension.'" Johnson v. Mammoth Recreations, Inc., 975 F.2d 604, 608 (9th Cir. 1992).

Foreman has failed to show good cause for an extension of the Scheduling Order's deadline for filing pretrial motions, which has elapsed. Foreman is not entitled to file any pretrial motions.

E. Issues That Are Not Relevant

Both Foreman and Merino's proposed Pretrial Orders address various issues that are not relevant and that will not be addressed at trial. These issues are as follows:

Validity of the State Court Judgment

Merino contests the validity of the State Court Judgment. Merino's theory is that a judgment for violations of landlord/tenant law cannot be entered against someone who, like him, does not own the Property.

Merino's challenge to the validity of the State Court Judgment is not properly before the Court. Under the Rooker-Feldman doctrine, the Court cannot review the validity of the State Court Judgment:

At its core, the Rooker-Feldman doctrine stands for the unremarkable proposition that federal district courts are courts of original, not appellate, jurisdiction. See 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1332. Thus, it follows that federal district courts have "no authority to review the final determinations of a state court in judicial proceedings." Worldwide Church of God v. McNair, 805 F.2d 888, 890 (9th Cir.1986). Direct federal appellate review of state court decisions must occur, if at all, in the Supreme Court. See 28 U.S.C. § 1257.

Rooker–Feldman is not a constitutional doctrine. Rather, the doctrine arises out of a pair of negative inferences drawn from two statutes: 28 U.S.C. § 1331, which establishes the district court's "original jurisdiction of all civil actions arising under the Constitution, laws, or treaties of the United States"; and 28 U.S.C. § 1257, which allows Supreme Court review of "[f]inal judgments or decrees rendered by the highest court of a State in which a decision could be had."

Gruntz v. County of Los Angeles (In re Gruntz), 202 F.3d 1074, 1078 (9th Cir. 2000).

Whether Merino Represented to Foreman that He Owned the Property

Whether Merino represented to Foreman that he owned the Property is not relevant. As discussed above, the State Court Judgment remains valid and enforceable regardless of whether Merino owned the Property.

F. Foreman’s Allegations State a Claim Upon Which Relief Can Be Granted

Merino reasserts his contention—previously presented to the Court by way of a Motion to Dismiss—that the indebtedness established by the State Court Judgment does not fall within the exceptions to discharge set forth in § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6). The Court denied Merino’s motion to dismiss the Complaint’s claims under § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6). There is no merit to Merino’s assertion that Foreman can prove no set of facts establishing the non-dischargeability of the State Court Judgment.

G. Defendant’s Emergency Request for a Continuance of the Pretrial Conference is Denied

On February 12, 2020, the Court ordered Plaintiff and Defendant to appear in person at this Pretrial Conference. See Doc. No. 68. On the day prior to the Pretrial Conference, Defendant moved for a continuance of the Pretrial Conference to March 16, 2020, citing a work conflict. See Doc. No. 74.

The Court has entered an order denying Defendant’s request for a continuance.

Defendant has had almost one month's notice of the Pretrial Conference, which is more than sufficient time to make arrangements to attend.

As previously ordered, Defendant shall appear at the Pretrial Conference in person. The failure to appear will result in the imposition of sanctions as deemed appropriate by the court. Such sanctions may include, without limitation, the striking of Defendant's answer, the entry of Defendant's default, and the entry of judgment in favor of Plaintiff.

H. Trial Date

Trial shall take place on Monday, April 27, 2020. The trial day commences promptly at 9:00 a.m. The parties will have one day to try the case.

By no later than April 15, 2020, the parties shall deliver the following trial materials directly to Judge Robles' chambers (the "Trial Materials"):

- 1) A trial brief;
- 2) A set of proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law;
- 3) Trial exhibits;
- 4) A list of trial exhibits; and
- 5) A list of witnesses.

The trial exhibits shall be contained in exhibit binders. Foreman's exhibits shall be identified numerically commencing with "Exhibit 1." Merino's exhibits shall be identified alphabetically commencing with "Exhibit A." Exhibit tags are available on the Court's website at <https://www.cacb.uscourts.gov/forms/local\_bankruptcy\_rules\_forms> (follow the link "Exhibit Tag (Plaintiff)" or "Exhibit Tag (Defendant)").

Each party must deliver to chambers two (2) copies of the exhibit binder (one copy for the witnesses and one copy for the Judge).

By no later than April 15, 2020, each party must serve all of the Trial Materials upon the opposing party.

Defendant has failed to cooperate with the United States Trustee (the "UST") in the preparation of a Pretrial Order. Defendant has failed to provide the UST a list of exhibits or a list of witnesses. Because Defendant has failed to timely provide the UST a list of exhibits or a list of witnesses, Defendant will not be permitted to introduce any exhibits into evidence at trial. Defendant will be permitted to testify, but will not be permitted to call any other witnesses.

The Court has entered the Pretrial Order submitted by the United States Trustee. Trial shall take place on Monday, March 23, 2020. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. By no later than Monday, March 16, 2020, the parties shall deliver directly to Judge Robles' chambers the trial materials specified in the Order Re: Courtroom Procedures [Doc. No. 4].

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

#1.00 HearingRE: [24] Motion to Approve Compromise Under Rule 9019 ; and for Authority to Pay Special Litigation Counsel's Contingency's Fee (Dye (TR), Carolyn)

Docket 24

Tentative Ruling:

3/10/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED, and the Settlement is APPROVED. The Court further approves the fees and costs payable to the Special Litigation Counsel pursuant to the terms of the Settlement.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Chapter 7 Trustee's Motion for Authority (i) to Compromise Mesh Implant Claims (In re C.R. Bard, Case No. MDL 2187); and (ii) For Authority to Pay Special Litigation Counsel's Contingency's Fee [Doc. No. 24] (the "Motion")
2. Notice of Motion [Doc. No. 25]
3. Order Granting the Employment Application [Doc. No. 22] (the "Employment Application Order")
4. Trustee's Application to Employ Wagstaff & Cartmell, LLP and Bertram & Graf, LLC as Special Litigation Counsel (the "Employment Application") [Doc. No. 19]
5. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Case Background

Margaret Louise Soderberg (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary chapter 7 petition on May 15, 2013. At the outset of the case, Richard K. Diamond was appointed as chapter 7 trustee (the "Former Trustee"). On or about November 16, 2012, the Debtor engaged the services of Bertram & Graf ("Bertram") to represent her pre-petition claims asserted in In re C.R. Bard, Inc., Case No. MDL 2187, filed in the U.S. District Court for Southern District of West Virginia (the "Mesh Implant Litigation"). The Debtor did not disclose the Mesh Implant Litigation claims (the "Claims") in her schedules, nor did she attempt to exempt any portion thereof. As the Former Trustee did not locate any other administrable assets, the Debtor received her discharge on August 19, 2013, and the case was closed on August 23, 2013.

Bertram subsequently referred the settlement portion of the Mesh Implant Litigation to Wagstaff & Cartmell, LLP ("Wagstaff") (collectively with Bertram, the "Special Litigation Counsel"). After learning of the bankruptcy petition, Wagstaff contacted the Former Trustee, who in turn referred the case to the U.S. Trustee's office. On or about September 5, 2019, the case was reopened, and Carolyn A. Dye was appointed the chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee"). On request of the Trustee, the Court entered an order to employ Special Litigation counsel to finalize the Mesh Implant Litigation settlement (the "Settlement"). As set forth in the order approving the Employment Application [Doc. No. 22], Special Litigation Counsel is to be compensated on a contingency fee basis consistent with the original engagement agreement executed by the Debtor.

On November 13, 2019, a special master appointed in the Mesh Implant Litigation determined that the Debtor was entitled to a gross settlement sum of $81,000. Based on the strengths and weaknesses of Debtor's case in the Mesh Implant Litigation, the Trustee decided to accept the Settlement terms.

The Motion

On February 11, 2020, the Trustee filed the Motion [Doc. No. 24]. The Trustee seeks approval of the Settlement, pursuant to which the estate stands to receive $29,217.50 net of deductions for fees, expenses, and liens. See Motion, Ex. B [the Settlement]. As provided in the Settlement, the Special Litigation Counsel is entitled to fees and costs in the following amounts:

- Wagstaff fees: $4,495.50
- Wagstaff costs: $995.61
- Bertram fees: $25,474.50
- Bertram costs: $413.13
- Total: $31,378.74

See Motion, Ex. B.

The Trustee states that claims against the Debtor's estate total $23,151.76, and, apart from the Settlement proceeds, the estate has no other administrable assets. Moreover, the Trustee reasons that prevailing on the Claims will be "extremely difficult" because the Debtor elected to opt into the settlement class, and also because the Debtor is now deceased. According to the Trustee, the Settlement is a "win" for the estate and creditors. Given that the Settlement will generate immediate estate funds, while mitigating administrative expense, the Trustee submits that the proposed settlement is reasonable, adequate under the circumstances, and in the best interest of creditors pursuant to the factors enumerated in A & C Properties.

Separately, the Trustee requests that the Court approve the fees and costs of the Special Litigation Counsel as stated in the Settlement.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a) permits the Court to approve a compromise or settlement. In the Ninth Circuit, courts consider the following factors in determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement:

- (a) The probability of success in the litigation;
- (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection;
- (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it;
- (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises.

Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986).

"Each factor need not be treated in a vacuum; rather, the factors should be considered as a whole to determine whether the settlement compares favorably with the expected rewards of litigation." In re Western Funding Inc., 550 B.R. 841, 851 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2016). Furthermore, "compromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (Bankr. D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983).

Here, the Court finds that the Settlement is adequate, fair and reasonable, and in the best interest of the estate in accordance with the A & C Properties factors. Accordingly, the Trustee persuasively conveys that obtaining a more favorable result in the Mesh Implant Litigation is improbable and subject to prohibitive cost and difficulty given the Debtor's passing. Furthermore, the Court recognizes that the Settlement will generate a sizeable pool of funds to pay administrative expenses and most, if not all, of unsecured and priority claims. In fact, the Settlement proceeds are the only assets available to the estate. For this reason, the Settlement adequately considers the interests of creditors, and it reduces the likelihood of litigation, thereby avoiding unnecessary costs, delays, and uncertainties. In sum, the Court determines that the Trustee satisfied all of the A & C Properties factors, and therefore, the Settlement is approved.

Moreover, the Court has not received any objection to the Motion. Accordingly, pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court presumes all interested parties consent to the approval of the Settlement.

Finally, having reviewed the Settlement, the Court deems appropriate the fees and costs allocated to the Special Litigation Counsel. These fees and costs are approved in the amounts set forth in the Settlement. The Court approved the Special Litigation Counsel's employment, with payment of compensation to be governed pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 328. Because its requested compensation is commensurate with the Employment Application Order, the Special Litigation Counsel is not required to file a separate final fee application.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED, and the Settlement is APPROVED. The Court further approves the fees and costs payable to the Special Litigation Counsel pursuant to the terms of the Settlement.

The Trustee is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Management Corporation (the "Plan Administrator") seeks to avoid, as actually and constructively fraudulent, transfers from Liberty Asset Management Corporation ("Liberty") to Tsai Luan Ho aka Shelby Ho ("Ho").

Trial was initially set for May 29–30, 2018. On May 28, 2018, Ho filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of California (the "Northern District Bankruptcy Court"). [Note 1] The Court took the trial off calendar. Based upon Plaintiff's representation that it intended to pursue a non-discharge ability action against Ho in the Northern District Bankruptcy Court, the Court subsequently dismissed this action without prejudice.

On December 29, 2017, the Court entered a Memorandum of Decision Finding that Plaintiff is Entitled to Judgment Against Defendants in the Amount of $74,140,695.29 (the "Memorandum of Decision") and corresponding judgment (the "Judgment") in the adversary proceeding Plan Administrator v. Lucy Gao and Benjamin Kirk (Adv. No. 2:16-ap-01337-ER). On February 8, 2019, the District Court reversed the Memorandum of Decision and Judgment and remanded the action for further proceedings. The Plan Administrator subsequently entered into separate settlement agreements with Gao and Kirk. The action was dismissed after Gao and Kirk made all the payments required under the settlement agreements.

Prior to taking trial of the instant action off calendar, the Court issued two tentative rulings. The first tentative ruling granted Plaintiff's Motion in Limine to exclude certain evidence presented by Ho that had not been timely produced during discovery. The second tentative ruling held that Ho was precluded from contesting the following findings of fact contained in the Memorandum of Decision:

- 1) Investors contributed funds to Liberty that were earmarked for investments in specific properties, pursuant to investment contracts entered into between Liberty and the investors. Liberty did not use the funds in accordance with the investment contracts to purchase the properties for which the funds had been earmarked. Rather than segregating the funds contributed by each investor to insure that such funds were used for their intended purpose, Liberty treated all investor funds as a single capital pool. Liberty used this capital pool to attempt to acquire whatever property it was pursuing at the time, regardless of whether that property was the one specified by the investor. Memorandum of Decision at 6.
- 2) Liberty received approximately $36.26 million for the purchase of specified real properties from various investors, but failed to purchase any of the

- 3) Liberty engaged in the business of acquiring and selling commercial properties. As of 2012, Liberty's business of acquiring and selling commercial properties was not profitable. Id. at 7.

Although Ho was not a party to the litigation that produced the Memorandum of Decision, the Court found that preclusion was appropriate because Kirk qualified as the virtual representative of Ho. See Irwin v. Mascot, 370 F.3d 924, 929 (9th Cir. 2004) (holding that privity exists for issue preclusion purposes "when two parties are so closely aligned in interest that one is the virtual representative of the other").

On July 20, 2018, Plaintiff filed a non-discharge ability action against Ho in the Northern District Bankruptcy Court (the "523 Action"). On August 23, 2018, the Chapter 7 Trustee in Ho's bankruptcy case filed a § 727 complaint to deny Ho's discharge (the "727 Action"). On April 9, 2019, the Northern District Bankruptcy Court entered judgment denying Ho's discharge, pursuant to § 727(a)(3) (the "Judgment Denying Discharge"). On April 16, 2019, Ho appealed the Judgment Denying Discharge to the United States District Court for the Northern District of California (the "District Court"). On June 7, 2019, the Northern District Bankruptcy Court denied Ho's motion for a stay pending appeal of the Judgment Denying Discharge. Ho's appeal of the Judgment Denying Discharge remains pending before the District Court. Proceedings in the 523 Action have been stayed pending resolution of the appeal of the Judgment Denying Discharge. On April 26, 2019, the Northern District Bankruptcy Court issued a minute order providing that the 523 Action "may be restored to the calendar after the District Court acts on the pending appeal" of the Judgment Denying Discharge.

On July 9, 2019, the Court conducted a hearing on Plaintiff's motion to reopen this adversary proceeding (the "Motion to Reopen"). Plaintiff sought an order reopening this proceeding and setting the matter for an immediate status conference in trial.

The Court ruled that it would not set this matter for trial until the District Court had decided Ho's appeal of the Judgment Denying Discharge. The Court reasoned:

In the event that the District Court overturns the Judgment Denying Discharge, Plaintiff will be required to pursue the 523 Action to obtain a recovery against Ho. The 523 Action is based upon the same nucleus of operative facts as this action. The potential for duplicative litigation weighs against proceeding to trial at this time. In addition to wasting judicial resources, the additional costs resulting from a duplicative trial would decrease the recoveries available for distribution to creditors by the Plan Administrator.

Ruling on Motion to Reopen [Doc. No. 135] at 4.

On December 11, 2019, the District Court affirmed the Judgment Denying Discharge. Ho has not appealed the affirmance to the Ninth Circuit, and the deadline to do so has expired.

At a Status Conference held on February 11, 2020, Ho argued that trial of this action should be postponed until after a criminal action against Kirk and Gao has been resolved. Ho stated that she intends to call Kirk and Gao as witnesses on her behalf. Ho anticipates that Kirk and Gao will testify that Ho was never an officer, agent, principal, or co-conspirator of Kirk, Gao, or Liberty. According to Ho, if trial is not postponed, she will be unable to adequately defend herself because Kirk and Gao will invoke their Fifth Amendment rights and refuse to testify.

The Court directed the parties to submit further briefing addressing whether the trial should be postponed until after the conclusion of the criminal action against Kirk and Gao.

The Plan Administrator opposes any further continuance, and notes that a trial date has not been set in the criminal action against Kirk and Gao. The Plan Administrator argues that applicable precedent does not permit Ho to delay trial merely because potential witnesses may assert their Fifth Amendment right to refuse to testify. The Plan Administrator also fears that delay will result in the loss of memory of key witnesses.

Ho asserts that the testimony of Gao and Kirk goes to issues that are fundamental to the action—the extent to which Ho was aware of or participated in Gao and Kirk’s alleged misdeeds.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Court declines to set this action for trial at this time. Gao and Kirk’s testimony goes to key issues set forth in the Pretrial Order, including:

- Whether Ho was a partner and/or agent of Liberty, and whether Ho owes a fiduciary duty to Liberty to account for alleged benefits received?
- Whether Liberty or its Investment Entities made transfers to Ho with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud its current or future creditors?

- Whether written disclosures and written brokerage agreements with the investors were the sole responsibility of Kirk and Gao?
- Whether as of the Petition Date, Liberty owed Ho at least $10 million in unpaid and past due commissions and other compensation?

If Kirk and Gao invoked their Fifth Amendment rights and refused to testify, the Court would be required to decide these issues without the benefit of hearing testimony from material witnesses.

Further, issues of whether Kirk and Gao would be entitled to invoke their Fifth Amendment rights—including the extent, if any, to which prior deposition testimony may have resulted in a waiver of those rights—would introduce additional complications at trial.

A continued Status Conference to monitor the status of the criminal action against Kirk and Gao shall take place on September 8, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered.

A. Background

On October 4, 2018, the Court entered a Final Order (I) Authorizing Postpetition Financing, (II) Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral, (III) Granting Liens and Providing Superpriority Administrative Expense Status, (IV) Granting Adequate Protection, (V) Modifying Automatic Stay, and (VI) Granting Related Relief [Doc. No. 409] (the "Final DIP Order"). The Final DIP Order authorized the Debtors to borrow up to $185 million (the "DIP Financing") from Ally Bank (the "DIP Lender") under a credit agreement (the "DIP Credit Agreement"), and authorized the Debtors to use the cash collateral of the Prepetition Secured Creditors.<sup>1</sup>

The Final DIP Order waived the estates' (a) right to surcharge the Prepetition Secured Creditors' collateral under § 506(c) and (b) right to assert, under § 552(b), that the equities of the case warranted a determination that the Prepetition Secured Creditors' security interest does not extend to the post-petition proceeds of the Prepetition Secured Creditors' collateral. The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") appealed the waiver of the estates' §§ 506(c) and 552(b) rights to the District Court. On August 2, 2019, the District Court dismissed the appeal as moot under § 364(e). The Committee's appeal of the District Court's dismissal is pending before the Ninth Circuit and is being considered for oral argument in June 2020.

Under the DIP Credit Agreement, the DIP Financing expired and matured in accordance with its terms on September 7, 2019. On September 6, 2019, the Court approved an agreement among the Debtors and the Prepetition Secured Creditors, under which the Debtors were authorized to use the Prepetition Secured Creditors' cash collateral to repay the DIP Financing and to continue operations. See Doc. No. 3022. On December 30, 2019, the Court approved a stipulation between the Debtors and the Prepetition Secured Creditors authorizing the continued use of cash collateral through January 31, 2020. See Doc. No. 3883. On January 31, 2020, the Court approved a second stipulation providing for the continued use of cash collateral through February 29, 2020. See Doc. No. 4019. On February 28, 2020, the Court approved a third stipulation providing for the continued use of cash collateral through May 2, 2020. See Doc. Nos. 4184 (the “Third Amended Cash Collateral Stipulation” or “Stipulation”) and 4187 (the “Third Amended Supplemental Cash Collateral Order” or “Order”).

On March 2, 2020, the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the “Committee”) filed an objection to the Third Amended Supplemental Cash Collateral Order. See Doc. No. 4199 (the “Objection”). Because the Committee had not had the opportunity to object to the approval of the Third Amended Cash Collateral Stipulation, the Court set this hearing on the Committee’s Objection.

B. Summary of the Committee’s Objection

The Committee makes the following arguments in support of its Objection to the Third Amended Supplemental Cash Collateral Order:

There is no representation in the Stipulation or Order that the cash collateral budget (the “Budget”) provides for the payment of all allowed administrative claims in full. The Committee is concerned that the Prepetition Secured Creditors have agreed to pay some, but not all, of the administrative claims that will accrue during the period covered by the Budget. Because the Debtors have waived the right to surcharge the Prepetition Secured Creditors’ collateral, it is imperative that the Prepetition Secured Creditors now commit to pay all of the costs and claims incurred by the Debtors postpetition. The Prepetition Secured Creditors need the bankruptcy process to realize the most value from their collateral. If administrative claims are left unpaid, the Prepetition Secured Creditors will obtain this benefit without paying the freight for the process that yields that value.

It is not sufficient for the Debtors to wait until plan confirmation to pay all allowed administrative claims, because there is no assurance that sufficient funds will be available for the payment of administrative claims after the Debtors’ assets have been liquidated.

C. Summary of the Prepetition Secured Creditors’ Response to the Committee’s Objection

The Prepetition Secured Creditors make the following arguments in response to the Committee's Objection:

Chapter 11

Given the Debtors' substantial cash flow losses, the Debtors are not entitled to the use of cash collateral absent the consent of the Prepetition Secured Creditors. The Prepetition Secured Creditors would not have agreed to allow the Debtors to continue to use their cash collateral on any terms other than those contained in the Stipulation. The Prepetition Secured Creditors will withdraw their consent to the use of cash collateral if they are compelled to guaranty the payment of all administrative claims. Thus, sustaining the Committee's Objection would immediately halt the Debtors' ongoing efforts to sell their hospitals, resulting in an almost immediate cessation of hospital operations and requiring the hospitals to be liquidated at fire sale prices.

There is no merit to the Committee's contention that the Prepetition Secured Creditors have not "paid their freight" in exchange for the sale of their collateral. The Prepetition Secured Creditors have consented to the use of more than one-half billion dollars of their cash collateral, and continue to consent to the use of their cash collateral even as the prospects for recovery grow less certain.

D. Summary of the Debtors' Response to the Committee's Objection

The Debtors make the following arguments in response to the Committee's Objection:

The Committee's argument that the Stipulation must be disapproved because it does not expressly guaranty payment of all allowed administrative claims must fail, because it raises a hypothetical injury to a class of postpetition creditors that the Committee does not represent. The Committee lacks standing to raise this objection, because the Committee is not charged with the duty of advancing the interests of post-petition, administrative claimants.

In addition, the Committee's argument is predicated on hypothetical injury, rather than injury in fact. As a result, the argument fails for lack of constitutional standing.

E. Summary of the Committee's Reply in Support of its Objection

The Committee makes the following arguments in its Reply in support of its Objection:

A debtor-in-possession has a duty to operate its business prudently and with a view to available resources. The failure of a debtor to do so by, for example, incurring administrative debt it could not pay would, at a minimum, be cause for conversion under § 1112(b). See In re Pac. Airlines, Inc., 218 B.R. 590, 594 (Bankr. D. Colo. 1998) (finding that “cause” for conversion under section 1112 had been shown where “the Debtor [was] continuing to incur significant administrative expenses with no assurance of payment to administrative claimants”).

While it is true that the choice of whether to permit the use of cash collateral belongs to the Prepetition Secured Creditors, the decision as to which administrative creditors can be paid does not rest with the Prepetition Secured Creditors—any more than it rests with the Debtors, who are not permitted to pay “some, but not all” administrative claims. See In re Nunzio’s Pizza, Inc., 202 B.R. 159 (Bankr. D. N.M. 1996) (“In fairness to the administrative claimants, the trustee should not pay some of the not yet allowed claimants, but omit others.”)

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless “each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents.” In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of Section 363(c)(2)(A) requires the “affirmative express consent” of the secured creditor; “implied consent,” resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368-69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors “may not use” cash collateral absent the Court’s determination that the use is “in accordance with the provisions” of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor’s interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. §§ 363(c)(2)(B) and (e).

The Prepetition Secured Creditors will not consent to the use of their cash collateral to fund these cases if the Prepetition Secured Creditors are required to guaranty the payment of all administrative claims. The Court cannot compel the Prepetition Secured Creditors to continue to finance the cases unless it finds that their interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected.

Here, the Court cannot find that the Prepetition Secured Creditors’ cash collateral is adequately protected and therefore cannot compel the use of cash collateral absent the Prepetition Secured Creditors’ consent. As the Court has stated on multiple prior occasions, the Debtor’s cash flow situation is dire and the Debtors’ assets are declining in value. The Debtors have been able to sustain operations only because the Prepetition Secured Creditors have allowed the Debtors to use proceeds from the Santa Clara County Sale (the “SCC Sale”) to fund their remaining hospitals.

The abrupt termination of the Debtors' use of the Prepetition Secured Creditors' cash collateral would be detrimental to all constituencies in these cases—including the unsecured creditors represented by the Committee. Absent the continued use of cash collateral, the Debtors would not have sufficient time to adequately market their remaining hospitals. That would result in a marked reduction in the sales proceeds realized from the disposition of those assets.

The Court does not agree with the Committee's assertion that the Prepetition Secured Creditors have benefitted from the Debtors' disposition of their collateral without paying their share for the process that yields value. The Prepetition Secured Creditors have consented to the use of more than $527 million in their cash collateral, as follows:

- 1) The Prepetition Secured Creditors consented to be primed by the DIP Lender. The DIP Financing was repaid using $86 million of the Prepetition Secured Creditors' cash collateral.
- 2) The Prepetition Secured Creditors consented to the use of $46 million in cash collateral that was held by the Debtors in the form of cash as of the Petition Date.
- 3) The Prepetition Secured Creditors consented to the use of $219 million in cash collateral that was held by the Debtors in the form of net accounts receivable as of the Petition Date.
- 4) The Prepetition Secured Creditors consented to the use of $176 million in cash collateral, received by the Debtors in the form of proceeds of the SCC Sale. Absent the use of these sales proceeds, the Debtors would not have had sufficient funds to keep their remaining hospitals open.

The Committee's assertion that the Debtors are required to obtain a cash collateral stipulation which provides for the payment of all administrative claims as they come due is not supported by the Bankruptcy Code. The Code's only requirement is that administrative claims be paid in full as of the effective date of a Plan, unless the administrative claimant agrees to different treatment. § 1129(a)(9). In any bankruptcy case, there is always some risk that there will not be sufficient cash available at the confirmation stage to pay all administrative claimants in full. The existence of such risk does not mean that the Debtors are neglecting their fiduciary duties or are failing to operate their businesses prudently.

Docket 0

Tentative Ruling:

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Background

Michael Bonert ("Michael") and Vivien Bonert ("Vivien," and together with Michael, the "Debtors") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on September 12, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtors operated a pie manufacturing company known as Bonert's Incorporated ("Bonerts"). In 2016, Bonerts ceased conducting business after its lender caused its assets to be sold through a federal receivership. Proceeds of the receivership sale were used to pay secured creditors, but were not sufficient to pay unsecured trade creditors, some of whom obtained unopposed judgments against Bonerts.

On August 13 and 14, 2019, Capitol Distribution Company, LLC ("Capitol"), Stratas Foods LLC ("Stratas"), Packaging Corporation of America, and Seneca Foods Corporation (collectively, the "Creditors") filed four collection actions (the "Collection Actions") against the Debtors, Bonerts, and LLCs wholly owned by the Debtors that were affiliates of Bonerts (the "Affiliates"). The Collection Actions allege, inter alia, that the Debtors operated the Affiliates and Bonerts as a single enterprise for the purpose of defeating the rights of creditors; that the Debtors misappropriated assets of Bonerts and the Affiliates; and that the Debtors are liable for trade debt incurred by Bonerts as its alter ego. The Collection Actions are currently pending before this Court.

The Debtors' Retirement Accounts

The Debtors scheduled a 100% interest in the following four retirement accounts:

- 1) IRA, Wells Fargo Advisors Acct. 9982—$538,425.00 (the "IRA");
- 2) 403(b), Cedars-Sinai Medical Center—$667,726.53;
- 3) 457(b), Cedars-Sinai Retirement Plan—$435,542.53; and
- 4) Cedars-Sinai Health System Defined Contribution Plan—$591,769.79.

Debtors claim the IRA as exempt pursuant to Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 704.115. Creditors object to the claimed exemption, arguing that the IRA is not reasonably necessary for the support of the Debtors. There is no dispute that the remaining three retirement accounts are not property of the estate, pursuant to § 541(b)(7).

The Debtors' Current Income and Expenses

The Debtors' Schedule I lists gross monthly income of $20,833.33 and net monthly income of $17,139.57. The Debtors' net monthly income is primarily comprised of (a) Vivien's take-home pay of $9,367.89 from her employment as a physician at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, (b) interest and dividends of $4,830.68 received by Michael, and (c) Michael's social security income of $2,941.00.

The Debtors' Schedule J lists monthly expenses of $14,003.38. The Debtors' most significant expenses are (a) $6,193.00 for mortgage payments, real estate taxes, homeowners' insurance, home maintenance, and utilities associated with the Debtors' principal residence, located at 273 S. Canon Dr., Beverly Hills, CA 90212 (the

Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Objection

The parties agree that the claimed exemption is governed by Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 704.115, which provides that an IRA is exempt "only to the extent necessary to provide for the support of the judgment debtor when the judgment debtor retires and for the support of the spouse and dependents of the judgment debtor, taking into account all resources that are likely to be available for the support of the judgment debtor when the judgment debtor retires." Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 704.115(e). The parties also agree that in applying Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 704.115(e), the following factors are relevant in determining whether an IRA is "reasonably necessary" to the Debtors' support:

- (1) the debtor's present and anticipated living expenses and income;
- (2) the age and health of the debtor;
- (3) the debtor's ability to work and make a living, including his/her training, skills and education;
- (4) the debtor's other assets and their liquidity;
- (5) the debtor's ability to save for retirement; and
- (6) any special needs of the debtor and his/her dependents.

In re Patrick, 411 B.R. 659, 669 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2008).

Debtors assert that the IRA is reasonably necessary for their support. Debtors state that their income will be significantly reduced this year because (a) Vivien is expected to retire and (b) $4,830 of the Debtors' monthly income will be required to fund a Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan"). According to Debtors, once these circumstances are accounted for their net monthly income will be approximately $8,486.00. [Note 1]

Creditors contend that the IRA is not necessary for the Debtors' support. Creditors point out that the Debtors' monthly expenses significantly exceed the IRS Standard expenses for a family of equivalent size living in Los Angeles County. Creditors argue that the Debtors are not entitled to exempt the IRA in order to continue supporting what Creditors assert is a lavish lifestyle in Beverly Hills.

to the extent necessary to provide for the support of the judgment debtor when the judgment debtor retires and for the support of the spouse and dependents of the judgment debtor, taking into account all resources that are likely to be available for the support of the judgment debtor when the judgment debtor retires." Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 704.115(e). The purpose of the § 704.115 exemption "is to safeguard a stream of income for retirees at the expense of bankruptcy creditors." DeMassa v. MacIntyre (In re MacIntyre), 74 F.3d 186, 188 (9th Cir. 1996), corrected (Jan. 22, 1996). The court is required to construe the § 704.115 exemption "liberally ... for the benefit of the debtor." Lieberman v. Hawkins (In re Liberman), 245 F.3d 1090, 1092 (9th Cir. 2001).

To determine whether a retirement account is "reasonably necessary" to a debtor's support, courts consider the following factors:

- (1) the debtor's present and anticipated living expenses and income;
- (2) the age and health of the debtor;
- (3) the debtor's ability to work and make a living, including his/her training, skills and education;
- (4) the debtor's other assets and their liquidity;
- (5) the debtor's ability to save for retirement; and
- (6) any special needs of the debtor and his/her dependants.

These factors were first articulated in In re Moffat, 119 B.R. 201 (9th Cir. BAP 1990), aff'd, 959 F.2d 740 (9th Cir. 1992), and are known as the Moffat factors.

The Court "has wide discretion in determining the amount necessary to support the debtor." Id. In making the determination, it is not appropriate for the Court "to merely rubberstamp the lifestyle that the Debtor has been used to." Id. at 670. While not dispositive, the IRS Standards may be useful as a starting point to assess reasonable expenses. Id.

Applying the Moffat factors, the Court finds that the IRA is not reasonably necessary for the Debtors' support.

Factors 1 and 4: Anticipated Living Expenses and Income and the Debtors' Other Assets

Aside from the IRA, the following assets, at a minimum, will be available to support the Debtors' retirement:

- 1) $1,695,038.85 in retirement assets that are not property of the estate (consisting of $667,726.53 in Vivien's § 403(b) plan, $435,542.53 in Vivien's § 457(b) plan, and $591,769.79 in Vivien's defined contribution plan). At a 4% yield, these retirement assets would generate $5,650.13 in monthly pre-tax income.
- 2) $5,441.00 in monthly social security income (consisting of $2,500.00 in social security income for Vivien and $2,941.00 in social security income for Michael).
- 3) $4,830.68 in dividend and interest income received by Michael.

Total monthly gross income from these assets is $15,921.81. The Debtors project that their combined federal and state tax rate will be 33%. Using this projection, the Debtor's after-tax monthly income would be $10,667.61. The Debtors also have $1,661,694.00 in equity in their Principal Residence and $157,426.00 in equity in a Lincoln National Life Insurance policy. The Debtors have membership interests in three real estate LLCs—LBP Arlington Hospitality, LLC ("Arlington"), CSP Nashville, LLC ("Nashville"), and Tempe Square Investors LLC ("Tempe"). The value of these interests is not stated in the Debtors' schedules; however, Debtors paid $25,000 for their interest in Arlington in 2018, paid $50,000 for their interest in Nashville in 2018, and paid $200,000 for their interest in Temple in 2017. Debtors believe that their interests in the real estate LLCs are worth approximately what the Debtors invested.

Under the IRS Standards, expenses for two people living in Los Angeles are $3,993 per month (consisting of $2,045 for housing and utilities, $546 for transportation, $1,288 for food, apparel, and miscellaneous items, and $114 for out-of-pocket healthcare costs). Without the IRA, the Debtors would still have monthly after-tax income that is approximately 2.5 times greater than the IRS Standard. That is even before including the Debtors' substantial other assets—the equity in their Principle Residence and their membership interests in three real estate LLCs.

As noted, the IRS Standards are not dispositive for purposes of § 704.115. However, the standards do provide a reasonable benchmark which forms a starting point for the Court's analysis. The Court cannot find that the IRA is necessary for the Debtors' support where, as here, their monthly after-tax income is 2.5 times greater than the IRS Standard and the Debtors hold substantial other valuable assets, including a home with equity in excess of $1.6 million and real estate investments worth approximately $275,000. That remains the case even accounting for the fact that the Debtors will be required to devote a significant portion of their monthly income to funding a Plan.

This factor weighs strongly against exempting the IRA.

Factor 3: The Debtors' Ability to Work and Make a Living

Vivien is currently employed as a physician at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center. Her gross monthly earnings are $20,833.33. Vivien is 64 years old. Michael states that Vivien "expects to retire this year." Michael's Decl. at ¶ 7.

Michael states that he is 71 years old and is retired. He claims to have only a high school education and no marketable skills other than his work experience with Bonert's, Inc. Michael's Decl. at ¶ 6.

In the Court's view, Michael dramatically undersells his abilities and skillset. Michael may have only a high school education, but he founded and operated a network of bakeries that, at its peak, generated annual sales of $60 million. See Doc. No. 37. In their schedules, Debtors disclose that Michael founded Angelytix Consulting LLC ("Angelytix") in 2017. Although to-date Angelytix has generated only de minimis income, the Debtors "are hopeful that in the future it will become a profitable business." Doc. No. 32 at pp. 13–14. In short, Michael is a successful entrepreneur who has the ability to earn significant income.

The premise of the Debtors' Opposition is that because Michael has retired and Vivien expects to retire shortly, the Court should not consider their earning potential for purposes of determining the exemptibility of the IRA. That premise is incorrect. The standard is the Debtors' "ability to work and make a living," including the Debtors' "training, skills and education," not whether the Debtors have chosen to continue working. Patrick, 411 B.R. at 669 (emphasis added). Of course, the Debtors cannot be forced to work for the benefit of creditors. But where both of the Debtors have the ability to earn substantial income, they are not entitled to simultaneously exempt their IRA on the ground that the IRA is necessary for their support.

This factor weighs against exempting the IRA.

Factor 2: Age and Health of the Debtors

There is nothing in the record that indicates that the Debtors' earning capacity has been compromised by health issues. This factor weighs against exempting the IRA.

Factor 5: The Debtors' Ability to Save for Retirement

Chapter 11

Michael has retired and Vivien is expected to retire shortly. Because both Debtors are at or near the retirement phase of their lives, this factor is not relevant.

Factor 6: Any Special Needs of the Debtor or the Debtors' Dependents

The Debtors do not have any dependents. Nothing in the record indicates that the Debtors have special needs. This factor is not relevant.

Further Discovery is Neither Warranted Nor Necessary

Debtors request that in the event the Court declines to overrule the Creditors' objection, the Court "treat Creditors' objection as a contested matter and set a discovery schedule." Opposition at 5. Further discovery would not assist the Court in deciding this matter. In addition, the Debtors are not entitled to any additional discovery. All of the information that would enable the Debtors to assert an entitlement to the exemption is in their possession. The Debtors sought bankruptcy protection on September 12, 2019, and therefore have had sufficient time to gather information to defend themselves against challenges to the allowability of exemptions.

Evidentiary Rulings

Debtors offer Michael's testimony in support of their projected income and expenses during retirement. Creditors seek to exclude the majority of Michael's testimony on the grounds that it is prejudicial, lacks foundation, is not supported by personal knowledge, and constitutes hearsay. The Committee asserts that Michael's projections of the Debtors' retirement income lack probative value because they are vague and speculative.

The Committee's objections are OVERRULED. Projections as to a debtor's future retirement income and expenses are inherently uncertain and require speculation. The Court has taken such uncertainty into account in adjudicating this matter.

The Committee objects to Michael's testimony that Vivien intends to retire shortly. That objection is also OVERRULED. As Vivien's spouse, Michael is qualified to testify as to Vivien's retirement plans.

Having reviewed the Joint Status Reports submitted by the parties, the Court

HEREBY FINDS AND ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In the interests of judicial efficiency, the Court will consolidate the litigation of these four actions. The actions raise similar claims and the Debtors and the Affiliates have been named as Defendants in all of the actions. Notwithstanding such consolidation, the Court will maintain separate dockets for each adversary proceeding (as opposed to designating one of the proceedings as the lead case and requiring that all documents be filed in that proceeding).
- 2) Debtors/Defendants assert that it is not feasible to mediate the alter-ego and single enterprise liability issues raised in these actions with only the four Plaintiffs, while excluding from mediation 21 other creditors who also assert claims against the Debtors under alter-ego and single enterprise theories. The Debtors intend to object to the claims of all disputed creditors who have not filed adversary proceedings. The Court agrees with the Debtors that a global mediation involving all creditors asserting alter-ego claims would be more likely to result in settlement.
- 3) Debtors shall file objections to the claims of disputed creditors who have not filed adversary proceedings by no later than March 18, 2020. Unless otherwise ordered, the parties shall not be required to conduct the global mediation until these claim objections have been adjudicated.
- 4) The following litigation deadlines shall apply, subject to an extension for good cause shown:
  - a) A continued Status Conference to monitor the progress of mediation shall take place on June 16, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.
  - b) Debtors have not responded to the Complaints in Adv. Nos. 2:19-ap-01377-ER and 2:19-ap-01378-ER. All non-Debtor Defendants have responded to the Complaints in these adversary proceedings. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- i) A Pretrial Conference is set for 1/12/2021 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- j) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
  - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.

- iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
- iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
- k) Trial is set for the week of 1/25/2021. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.
- 5) Plaintiffs have submitted a number of comments and suggestions regarding the production of electronically stored information, procedures for dealing with claims of privilege, procedures pertaining to the conduct of depositions, procedures for the treatment of commercially sensitive information, and procedures for electronic service. The Court declines to enter an order adopting detailed procedures with respect to these issues at this time. It is possible that certain of the issues which Plaintiffs' proposed procedures seek to resolve will not arise in these proceedings. Counsel for all parties shall work cooperatively to resolve issues regarding the conduct of the litigation without Court intervention.

2:19-13763 Ya-Chuan Victor Lee

Chapter 11

#100.00 HearingRE: [104] Trustee's Motion to Determine Value of Property and Notice of (with proof of service)

Docket 104

Tentative Ruling:

3/10/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED. Having reviewed the appraisal submitted by the Debtor, the Court finds that for plan treatment purposes, the Business has a value of $401,000.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion for Order Determining Value of Collateral [Doc. No. 104] (the "Motion")
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Ya-Chuan Victor Lee (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition on April 3, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor seeks an order determining the value of Advanced Body Collision, Inc. (the "Business"), an automobile repair business, which the Debtor fully owns and operates. Supplemental Declaration of Debtor ("Lee Decl."), ¶ 1. Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtor personally guaranteed a series of business loan agreements, which were each perfected pursuant to the filing of UCC-1 financing statements against ABC's assets. See id., ¶¶ 4-7. As set forth in the Motion, the Business is subject to the following liens, in the amounts and relative priorities specified below:

1. Royal Business Bank ("Royal") holds a first priority lien in the sum of $200,000;
2. On Deck Capital c/o Celtic Bank ("ODC") holds a second priority lien in the sum of $94,769;
3. Quicksilver Capital ("Quicksilver") holds a third priority lien in the sum of $65,000;

4. Saturn Funding (“Saturn”) holds a fourth priority lien in the sum of $20,958;
5. Kalamata Capital Group (“Kalamata”) holds a fifth priority lien in the sum of $69,213;
6. Complete Business Solutions (“CBS”) holds a sixth priority lien in the sum of $81,343;
7. DMKA, LLC dba: The Smarter Merchant (“DMKA”) holds a seventh priority lien in the sum of $31,999.

See id.

The Debtor moves for an order to value the Business at $401,000 pursuant to § 506(a). In support of the $401,000 valuation, the Debtor attached a certified appraisal prepared by Daniel T. Jordan, an accredited senior appraiser. See Motion, Ex. B. The effective date of the appraisal is June 30, 2018, but the Debtor attests that, based on his review of the appraisal and his twenty-year experience of the industry, the fair market value of the Business remains the same to this day [Note 1]. See Declaration of the Debtor as Owner of the Collateral, ¶ 4. Based on the asserted valuation, the proposed treatment of the liens under the Debtor’s plan of reorganization is as follows. The claims held by Royal, ODC, Quicksilver, and Saturn will be treated as fully secured. Kalamata’s claim will be bifurcated into a secured portion of $20,273 and an unsecured portion of $48,940. Finally, the claims held by CBS and DMKA will be treated as fully unsecured.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 506(a)(1) provides in relevant part:

An allowed claim of a creditor secured by a lien on property in which the estate has an interest ... is a secured claim to the extent of the value of such creditor’s interest in the estate’s interest in such property ... and is an unsecured claim to the extent that the value of such creditor’s interest ... is less than the amount of such allowed claim. Such value shall be determined in light of the purpose of the valuation and of the proposed disposition or use of such property, and in conjunction with any hearing on such disposition or use or on a plan affecting such creditor’s interest.

Moreover, under § 506(a), the Court, after notice and a hearing on the matter, may value a claim secured by a lien on property and bifurcate the "total claim into secured and unsecured portions." Matter of Sandy Ridge Development Corp., 881 F.2d 1346, 1349 (5th Cir. 1989); 11 U.S.C. § 506(a); Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3012. The Debtor, as movant, bears the burden of proof to demonstrate that the lien may be modified. In re Bethoney, 384 B.R. 24, 31 (Bankr. D. Mass. 2008); see also In re Trosky, 371 B.R. 701, 707 (Bankr. M.D. Pa. 2006); In re Fletcher, 2007 WL 1804931, at * 2 (Bankr. S.D. Fla. 2007). When property is being valued for purposes of lien stripping under a reorganization plan, the Court determines the property's value as of the date of the plan confirmation hearing. In re Abdelgadir, 455 B.R. 896, 902 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2011).

The appraisal establishes that the value of Debtor's 100% interest in the Business has a value of $401,000. In light of the appraised value of $401,000, the Court finds that the claims held by Royal, ODC, Quicksilver, and Saturn are wholly secured; that Kalamata holds a secured claim of $20,273 and an unsecured claim of $48,940; and that CBS and DMKA hold wholly unsecured claims for purposes of such lienholders' plan treatment. Additionally, the Court recognizes that the date of the valuation can never line up exactly with the date of confirmation. The exigencies of motion practice thus inevitably entail some lapse of time between the date of the valuation and the date of confirmation. The Court also recognizes that the Debtor has not yet filed a plan and disclosure statement, so the confirmation date is presently unknown. However, pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(h), the Court deems the absence of any opposition to the Motion as the lienholders' consent to the Court granting the Debtor's requested relief. Therefore, the Court is persuaded to adopt the appraised valuation of $401,000.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. The Debtor shall submit an order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will

Note 1: The appraisal was prepared on December 30, 2019, however, the appraiser utilized June 30, 2018 as the date of valuation because the Business' most current financial information was produced on or about such date. See Motion, Ex. B at 3 (page citation is to the pagination provided in the appraisal).

Docket 13

Tentative Ruling:

3/12/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject mobile home and that such asset is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 6

Tentative Ruling:

3/12/2020

For the reasons set forth herein, CONTINUE HEARING to March 30, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. Pursuant to the Court's "Self-Calendaring Instructions" for residential unlawful detainer motions for relief from stay on shortened notice, no later than 7-days prior to the hearing, the motion and supporting documents are required to be served by posting or personal service on the Debtor. Here, although the proof of service attached to the Motion is dated 3/3/2020, it does not specify that the Debtor was served either by personal delivery or posting (as opposed to overnight mail service, facsimile transmission, and/or e-mail) as required by the Court's Self-Calendaring Instructions. By no later than March 23, 2020, Movant is directed to take the following actions: (i) file a notice of continued hearing ("Notice") on the docket; (ii) serve the Motion and Notice on the Debtor by posting or personal service; and (iii) file a proof of service evidencing compliance with this ruling. Failure to timely comply with any of the foregoing will result in denial of the motion.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. International Union, United Healthcare Workers-West (the "SEIU-UHW") oppose the Motion.

A. Background

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered. As of the Petition Date, the Debtors operated six acute care hospitals (the "Hospitals").

On November 28, 2018, the Court approved the KEIP and the KERP. See Doc. No. 893 (the "KEIP/KERP Order"). The KEIP entitled certain key employees (the "KEIP Participants") to receive bonus payments if (1) the Debtors met cash flow targets (the "Cash Flow Metric") and if (2) the Debtors closed the sale of the Hospitals by specified deadlines (the "Closing Metric"). The KERP entitled certain key employees (the "KERP Participants") to receive bonus payments if they remained employed with the Debtors. The Court found that the Debtors had articulated a sufficient business justification for making the bonus payments contemplated by the KEIP and KERP, and that the incentive programs were warranted based upon an application of the factors set forth in In re Dana Corp., 358 B.R. 567 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2006). See Doc. No. 814 (Final Ruling Granting Motion for Approval of KEIP and KERP).

On February 28, 2019, the Debtors closed the sale of O'Connor Regional Hospital ("O'Connor") and Saint Louise Regional Hospital ("St. Louise") to Santa Clara County. In mid-2019, the Debtors paid eligible employees of O'Connor and St. Louise their maximum KEIP bonuses under the Closing Metric.

On November 8, 2019, the Court approved an amendment to the KEIP, which extended the deadlines under which the KEIP Participants would be entitled to receive bonuses under the Closing Metric. See Doc. Nos. 3550 (Final Ruling Approving Amended KEIP) and 3565 (the "First Amendment Order"). The Court found that the Amended KEIP was appropriate because the delay in the closing of the sale of the Debtors' remaining Hospitals was the result of external circumstances over which the KERP Participants had no control.

On January 8, 2019, the Debtors and Strategic Global Management, Inc. ("SGM") entered into an Asset Purchase Agreement [Doc. No. 2305-1] (the "SGM APA") related to SGM's proposed acquisition (the "SGM Sale") of St. Vincent Medical Center, Seton Medical Center, Seton Coastsides, and St. Francis Medical Center

(collectively, the “Remaining Hospitals”). SGM did not close the SGM Sale. On December 27, 2019, the Debtors terminated the SGM APA. See Doc. No. 3899.

B. The Proposed Amendments to the KEIP and KERP

Debtors assert that the changed circumstances resulting from the failure of the SGM Sale require amendments to the KEIP and the KERP. Under the proposed amendments (the “Amendments”), the maximum amount of bonuses payable under the KEIP and the KERP is $725,000 less than the amount originally approved. The material terms of the Amendments are as follows:

- 1) A pool of $756,000 will be available to KERP Participants, divided into two parts: (a) $406,000 for standard bonus payments payable to seven specific persons employed at VHS and Verity Business Systems, and (b) $350,000 for discretionary payments for other persons not yet-identified and who may include non-insiders anywhere in the system. Both the standard and discretionary pool allow for bonuses that total up to 30% of each KERP Participant’s annual salary.
- 2) KEIP Participants employed at the hospital facility level (the “Entity KEIP Participants”) may receive two bonus payments: (a) a payment equal to 2.5% of the Entity KEIP Participant’s annual salary if the Debtors meet the cash collateral budget and (b) a separate payment equal to 22.5% of the Entity KEIP Participant’s annual salary payable upon disposition of the facility that employs that person.
- 3) KEIP Participants who oversee all of the Debtors (the “VHS KEIP Participants”) are entitled to two bonus payments: (a) a payment equal to 10% of the VHS KEIP Participant’s annual salary (20% for Upper-Level Participants) upon approval of the sale of St. Francis, and (b) a payment up to a maximum of 50% of the VHS KEIP Participant’s annual salary (100% for Upper-Level Participants), payable depending upon the sales proceeds realized from the disposition of the Debtors’ assets. The maximum payment is available only if the aggregate sale proceeds of the assets are at least $800 million.

C. Summary of the SEIU-UHW’s Opposition

The SEIU-UHW makes the following arguments in opposition to the approval of the Amendments:

Chapter 11

The Bonus Programs are not appropriate because there is no reasonable relationship between effort and outcome. The Amended KEIP would award executives if the sales proceeds of the Remaining Hospitals reached $310 million, which is approximately half the $610 million purchase price under the SGM APA. The Debtors have not shown that the targets under the Amended KEIP are challenging to meet.

The cost of the Bonus Programs cannot be considered reasonable given the risk of administrative insolvency. In reaching a settlement to reject a collective bargaining agreement with employees represented by SEIU-UHW, the Debtors initially offered to pay employees who had lost their jobs at St. Vincent two weeks' severance. The Debtors later reduced this offer to a total payment of $500,000, approximately $200,000 less than the original offer, based upon the demands of the secured lenders. This change in position suggests that the risk of administrative insolvency is high.

Finally, the Bonus Programs unfairly discriminate against the rank-and-file workers who have been required to make substantial sacrifices throughout these bankruptcies. Subsequent to the Petition Date, the Debtors stopped making contributions to the employees' pension plans. The Debtors failed to pay the severance required under the collective bargaining agreement to the employees who lost their jobs at St. Louise and O'Connor, and instead successfully rejected the obligation to pay these sums.

D. Summary of the Committee's Opposition

The Committee makes the following arguments in opposition to the approval of the Amendments:

The Committee does not oppose the Amendments in principle, but is concerned that beneficiaries of the KEIP and KERP—who will be administrative creditors—will receive payment in full from the Debtors, while other administrative creditors may not be paid in full. A debtor cannot pick and choose which administrative claims it pays—all administrative claims must be paid in full.

In order for the Motion to be granted, the Debtors should be required to show that they have obtained a commitment from the secured creditors to provide sufficient funding and carve-outs to permit the Debtors to pay all allowed administrative claims in full.

E. Summary of the Debtors' Reply to the Oppositions of the SEIU-UHW and the Committee

The Debtors make the following arguments in reply to the oppositions filed by SEIU-UHW and the Committee:

There is no merit to the contention that the Bonus Programs should not be approved unless the Debtors provide assurances that any and all administrative expenses that may arise will be paid in full. There is no authority for conditioning approval of a bonus program on the full payment of all administrative claims. The Committee's Opposition should be given little weight because the Committee represents only the interests of unsecured creditors and is not charged with advancing the interests of post-petition, administrative creditors.

SEIU-UHW asserts that the hurdles under the KEIP are not sufficiently challenging to meet. SEIU-UHW's argument ignores the fact that under the original KEIP, participants were eligible for a bonus if sales proceeds equaled $300 million. Under the Amended KEIP, participants do not become eligible for a bonus unless sales proceeds equal $600 million. The hurdle is now much higher.

Nor is there merit to SEIU-UHW's contention that the KEIP and KERP are unfair to rank-and-file employees. The Debtors have reached a settlement with employees represented by SEIU-UHW, which will provide a pool of $500,000 to compensate employees who lost their jobs at St. Vincent. SEIU-UHW's only other remaining employees are located at St. Francis, which has remained in better financial condition than St. Vincent from the outset of the case, so it is difficult to see how such employees will be prejudiced by the Amendments.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Debtors are Authorized to Amend the KEIP and KERP

Amendment of a KEIP is appropriate where the amendment is sought as a result of circumstances beyond the control of the key employees. In the bankruptcy of LightSquared Inc., the debtors obtained approval of a KEIP that awarded key employees bonuses if the debtors confirmed a plan by a date certain. The LightSquared debtors' plan timeline was delayed by unforeseen circumstances, including regulatory delays from the Federal Communications Commission. The debtors sought to amend the KEIP to correspond with the delayed plan confirmation timeline. The Bankruptcy Court approved the proposed amendment and "authoriz[ed] LightSquared to modify and extend LightSquared's existing Key Employee Incentive Plan to accommodate the current facts and circumstances of the Chapter 11 Cases." Order Authorizing LightSquared to Modify and Extend Existing Key Employee Incentive Plan, Case No. 12-bk-12080, Doc. No. 2274 at *1 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Mar. 27, 2015).

Similar to the situation in LightSquared, the circumstances necessitating amendment of the KEIP and KERP are beyond the control of the key employees. The Amendments are necessary because SGM failed to close the SGM Sale. The key employees are not responsible for SGM's failure to close, and could not have taken any actions that would have resulted in SGM closing the sale.

B. Application of the Dana Corp. Factors Supports Approval of the Amended KEIP

Courts have relied upon the following factors in evaluating key employee incentive plans such as the plan at issue here:

- Is there a reasonable relationship between the plan proposed and the results to be obtained, i.e., will the key employee stay for as long as it takes for the debtor to reorganize or market its assets, or, in the case of a performance incentive, is the plan calculated to achieve the desired performance?
- Is the cost of the plan reasonable in the context of the debtor's assets, liabilities and earning potential?
- Is the scope of the plan fair and reasonable; does it apply to all employees; does it discriminate unfairly?
- Is the plan or proposal consistent with industry standards?
- What were the due diligence efforts of the debtor in investigating the need for a plan; analyzing which key employees need to be incentivized; what is available; what is generally applicable in a particular industry?
- Did the debtor receive independent counsel in performing due diligence and in creating and authorizing the incentive compensation?

The Amended KEIP and KERP are consistent with the factors set forth in Dana Corp. First, there is a reasonable relationship between the Bonus Programs and the desired results (the orderly disposition of the Remaining Hospitals). The Court has previously found that a KEIP that provided bonuses if sale proceeds of the Debtors' assets equaled at least $300 million was calculated to achieve the desired performance. The Amended KEIP significantly ups that hurdle, entitling participants to a bonus only if sale proceeds equal at least $600 million.

The Court does not agree with SEIU-UHW's assertion that the $600 million hurdle will not incent performance because it can be easily achieved. SEIU-UHW correctly points out that the Remaining Hospitals would have to sell for only $310 million, approximately half the price contemplated by the failed SGM Sale, to meet this benchmark. However, the sales price under the SGM APA does not reliably predict the value likely to be realized from the sale of the Remaining Hospitals. The closure of St. Vincent has substantially reduced its value. In addition, the fact that SGM refused to close the SGM Sale means that the Court cannot rely upon the price under the SGM APA as an indication of the Remaining Hospital's market value.

Second, the cost of the Amended KEIP and KERP are reasonable within the context of the Debtors' assets and liabilities. The amended incentive programs are $725,000 less costly than the original incentive programs which the Court has already found to be reasonable.

SEIU-UHW argues that the costs of the incentive plans are unreasonable because it cannot be certain that the sale of the Remaining Hospitals will yield proceeds sufficient to pay both the secured lenders and all administrative claimants in full. The Court declines to condition approval of the incentive programs upon a guarantee of full payment of administrative claims. As the Court observed in connection with the Committee's objection to the Third Amended Cash Collateral Stipulation, in any bankruptcy case there is always some risk that there will not be sufficient cash available at the confirmation stage to fully pay all administrative creditors. SEIU-UHW's speculation that this case could be administratively insolvent does not warrant a finding that the Amendments are unreasonably costly.

Third, the scope of the Amended KEIP and KERP are fair and reasonable, and the programs do not discriminate unfairly. The KEIP applies to only those employees whose efforts are critical to ensure a successful sale of the Debtors' assets, and has been carefully crafted to award different payments to different employees, depending upon their anticipated role in the sales process. Similarly, the KERP applies only to those employees whose retention is critical to the Debtors' ability to sustain operations pending the sale of the Remaining Hospitals.

SEIU-UHW contends that the incentive programs discriminate unfairly because they enable the KEIP and KERP Participants to receive bonus payments while at the same time employees represented by SEIU-UHW have been subjected to economic sacrifices, including the suspension of pension plan contributions and the loss of severance. The Court declines to adopt SEIU-UHW's position, which would make it extremely difficult for a debtor to obtain approval of a key employee incentive plan or key employee retention plan in almost any bankruptcy case. In most cases, the debtor's employees face reduced wages or benefits.

The Court is not unmindful of the contribution made by SEIU-UHW's employees to the continued operation of the Hospitals, and it is regrettable that such employees have been required to forego certain benefits, such as the continued receipt of pension plan contributions. The Court must be equally mindful of the key role that the KEIP and KERP Participants will play in bringing the sale of the Remaining Hospitals to a successful conclusion. Absent the Bonus Programs, there is a very real risk that KEIP and KERP Participants may seek employment elsewhere. Several key employees of the Debtors have already departed, notwithstanding the existing Bonus Programs—including VHS' Chief Financial Officer and Chief Information Officer, Seton's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, and two successive Chief Nursing Officers. Absent the Amendments additional departures would be highly likely. Such departures would impair operations at the Hospitals and create additional obstacles to successful sales, which would be to no one's benefit.

Fourth, the Debtors developed the Amendments in consultation with their financial advisors, Berkeley Research Group, LLC. The Debtors performed sufficient due diligence in creating the Amendments, which have been carefully tailored to the circumstances of these cases.

C. The Committee's Objection is Overruled

The Committee argues that the Amendments should not be approved unless the Debtors obtain a commitment from the secured creditors to provide sufficient funding to pay all administrative claims in full. The Committee presented a similar argument in opposition to approval of the Third Amended Cash Collateral Stipulation, which the Court overruled. See Doc. Nos. 4254 and 4261. The Committee's objection fares no better within the context of the current Motion. The Dana Corp. factors do not require that approval of an incentive program be conditioned upon the guaranteed payment of all administrative claims.

D. The Amended KEIP and KERP Satisfy the Business Judgment Standard

Section 363(b)(1) authorizes the Debtors to use property of the estate, other than in the ordinary course of business, after notice and a hearing. The Debtors are required to articulate a business justification for use of estate property outside the ordinary course of business. Walter v. Sunwest Bank (In re Walter), 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20.

Here, the Debtors have sufficiently articulated a business justification for the Amended KEIP and KERP, for all the reasons discussed above.

Section 503(c)(3) requires that payments to a debtor's employees outside the ordinary course of business be "justified by the facts and circumstances of the case" to be allowable as an administrative expense. The majority of courts have found that this standard is no different from the business judgment standard under §363(b). See, e.g., Global Home Prods., 369 B.R. at 783-84; In re Velo Holdings, Inc., 472 B.R. 201, 212 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2012) (collecting cases); In re Nobex Corp., 2006 WL 4063024 (Bankr. D. Del. Jan. 19, 2006) (concluding that § 503(c)(3) was nothing more than a reiteration of the standard under § 363 under which courts had previously authorized transfers outside the ordinary course of business based on the business judgment of the debtor).

Having found the payments under the Amended KEIP and KERP to be appropriate under § 363(b)(1), the Court finds that such payments also meet the standard set forth in § 503(c)(3). Payments under the Amended KEIP and KERP are therefore allowable as administrative expenses.

E. The Debtors Are Authorized to File Certain Information Under Seal

In connection with the Debtors' motion for approval of the original KEIP and KERP, the Court authorized the Debtors to file under seal the identity and salary of the employees subject to the incentive programs (the "Confidential Information"). The Debtors have presented the Confidential Information for filing under seal in connection with this Motion. For the reasons set forth in the Final Ruling approving the original KEIP and KERP, see Doc. No. 814, the Debtors are authorized to file the Confidential Information under seal.

Hospital (the “Agreement”) and (b) to enforce the automatic stay against California Physicians’ Service dba Blue Shield of California (“Blue Shield”), the counterparty to the Agreement, based upon Blue Shield’s failure to remit to the Debtors the final capitation payment due under the Agreement. Blue Shield does not oppose rejection of the Agreement but does oppose the enforcement of the automatic stay.

Under the Agreement, Debtor St. Vincent Medical Center (“St. Vincent”) provided health care services to members enrolled in various health benefit plans offered by Blue Shield. The Agreement required Blue Shield to reimburse St. Vincent in two ways: (1) by making fee-for-service (“FFS”) payments on account of specific services provided by St. Vincent to members enrolled in Blue Shield’s health benefit plans and (2) by making fixed, monthly “per member, per month” payments, also known as capitation payments (the “Capitation Payments”). The Agreement required Blue Shield to make the Capitation Payments regardless of the amount of health care services that St. Vincent delivered to Blue Shield’s members. In other words, the Agreement placed the risk of the cost of the healthcare services upon St. Vincent.

Blue Shield has not made the final Capitation Payment due under the Agreement but has made the prior 83 Capitation Payments. Debtors assert that the final Capitation Payment came due in January 2020. The Debtors contend that Blue Shield’s failure to make the January 2020 payment constitutes an attempt to exercise control over property of the estate, in violation of § 362(a)(3). The Debtors seek contempt sanctions against Blue Shield for this alleged violation of the automatic stay.

Blue Shield states that it does not intend to breach its obligation to make the January 2020 Capitation Payment. Blue Shield contends that it is still calculating the amount due under the final Capitation Payment. According to Blue Shield, calculating the final Capitation Payment is more difficult for the following reasons:

- 1) The Agreement provides a 90-day adjustment period for Blue Shield to retroactively delete members. Blue Shield is not required to make capitation payments for members who have been retroactively deleted. Blue Shield’s normal process is to offset overpayments on account of retroactively deleted members against future capitation payments. That is not possible because the January 2020 payment is the final Capitation Payment.
- 2) Under the Agreement, Blue Shield is not required to pay a capitation fee on account of otherwise eligible members if St. Vincent has received capitation fees from other insurers on account of those members. Blue Shield has not received any information from the Debtors regarding their receipt of capitation payments from other insurers or health plans, making it impossible for Blue Shield to calculate the correct amount of the final Capitation Payment.

- 3) Blue Shield is not obligated to pay capitation for periods of time during which St. Vincent was not providing services. Blue Shield is calculating adjustments to the Capitation Payment necessitated by the closure of St. Vincent.

Debtors contend that any adjustments to the final Capitation Payment will be de minimis. Debtors further assert that there are no contractual justifications for Blue Shield's delay in making the final Capitation Payment. The Debtors respond to Blue Shield's arguments as follows:

- 1) Blue Shield's assertion that capitation payments are not owed on account of retroactively deleted members misreads the Agreement. Under the Agreement, if Blue Shield retroactively deletes a member and if St. Vincent had provided treatment to that patient at the time (that is, before St. Vincent was informed of the retroactive deletion), then Blue Shield's obligation to compensate St. Vincent for such treatment (now on a fee-for-service basis) would not be triggered if St. Vincent had been paid for such services from another plan. The provision is irrelevant to Blue Shield's obligation to pay regular capitation.
- 2) Blue Shield's assertion that it is not obligated to pay capitation if St. Vincent ceases to provide services is not correct. Under the Agreement, St. Vincent assumed full financial responsibility for all services provided to members either by St. Vincent or by other healthcare providers. Whether or not St. Vincent was capable of providing services, it remained liable for all services provided by itself, or by other providers, during January 2020.
- 3) Blue Shield's contention that it lacks the ability to recoup any overpayment of the January 2020 Capitation Payment is not correct. The Agreement requires Blue Shield to reimburse St. Vincent for FFS services. Any overpayments could be recouped against subsequent FFS reimbursements.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Court Declines to Consider the Supplemental Adcock Declaration

In connection with their reply brief, the Debtors submitted an additional declaration from Richard G. Adcock (the "Supplemental Adcock Decl."), which set forth new evidence not contained in the Motion. Blue Shield submitted numerous evidentiary objections to the Supplemental Adcock Decl.

Chapter 11

Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 9013-1(g)(4) prohibits the introduction of new evidence or arguments in reply papers. LBR 9013-1(g)(4) is a codification of the Ninth Circuit's well-established "general rule that [litigants] cannot raise a new issue for the first time in their reply briefs." Martinez-Serrano v. I.N.S., 94 F.3d 1256, 1259 (9th Cir. 1996); see also Sweet v. Pfizer, 232 F.R.D. 360, 364 n.7 (C.D. Cal. 2005) (refusing to consider a declaration because "the moving party in a motion cannot submit new information as part of its Reply.").

The Court declines to consider the Supplemental Adcock Decl. To do so would deprive Blue Shield of the opportunity to respond to the new evidence set forth therein.

B. The Court Cannot Determine Whether Blue Shield Willfully Violated the Automatic Stay Without Reviewing the Entire Agreement

The parties have not submitted the Agreement for the Court's review. The Debtors state that the terms of the Agreement are confidential pursuant to a clause within the Agreement. Blue Shield has submitted excerpts of several sections of the Agreement in connection with its Opposition, but has omitted the majority of the Agreement.

The Court declines to hold Blue Shield in contempt for allegedly willfully violating the automatic stay, as requested by the Debtors. "Courts should be cautious when authorizing contempt proceedings.... Contempt is serious business that nobody takes lightly." Costa v. Welch (In re Costa), 172 B.R. 954, 963 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 1994). The record before the Court consists only of the parties' characterizations of the Agreement and a short excerpt from the Agreement submitted by Blue Shield. This record is far from sufficient to support the imposition of a remedy as serious as contempt against Blue Shield. That is especially the case given the complexity of the Agreement.

C. Blue Shield Shall Remit 70% of the Estimated Final Capitation Payment to the Debtors by No Later than March 27, 2020

Although the record is not sufficiently developed to support a finding that Blue Shield's failure to promptly remit the January 2020 Capitation Payment violated the automatic stay, the excerpt of the Agreement submitted by Blue Shield provides that "[c]apitation shall be paid no later than the fifteenth (15th) day of the month, if Hospital accepts electronic payments; otherwise, Capitation for such Members shall be paid no later than the twentieth (20th) day of the month." Agreement at § 5.1(a).

Blue Shield asserts that the final Capitation Payment may be subject to various offsets. The Debtors contend that any offsets will be de minimis, and that Blue Shield has the ability to recover those offsets from future FFS payments due under other provisions of the Agreement.

The Adcock Declaration filed in support of the Motion establishes that during 2019, Blue Shield's monthly capitation payments ranged between $58,000 and $73,000. Blue Shield has not contested Mr. Adcock's characterization of its prior payment history. The Court will require Blue Shield to pay the Debtors 70% of the estimated January 2020 Capitation Payment by no later than March 27, 2020. Based on Mr. Adcock's uncontroverted testimony regarding the range of Blue Shield's prior payments, the Court finds that requiring Blue Shield to pay 70% of the estimated January 2020 Capitation Payment will provide more than sufficient cushion for any offsets that may be subsequently required.

Blue Shield states that it will have calculated the final amount owed under the January 2020 Capitation Payment within 90 days. Based upon that representation, Blue Shield is ordered to pay the remaining 30% of the January 2020 Capitation Payment to St. Vincent by no later than May 1, 2020.

D. The Debtors are Authorized to Reject the Agreement

Section 365(a) provides that the Debtors, "subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." In Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), the Ninth Circuit explained the standard the Bankruptcy Court must apply in determining whether to approve the rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease:

In making its determination, a bankruptcy court need engage in "only a cursory review of a [debtor-in-possession]'s decision to reject the contract. Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor-in-possession]'s rejection decision." ...

Thus, in evaluating the rejection decision, the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate. See Navellier v. Sletten, 262 F.3d 923, 946 n. 12 (9th Cir.2001); FDIC v. Casterter, 184 F.3d 1040, 1043 (9th Cir.1999); see also In re Chi-Feng Huang, 23 B.R. at 801 ("The primary issue is whether rejection would benefit the general unsecured creditors."). It should approve the rejection of an executory contract under § 365(a) unless it finds that the debtor-in-possession's conclusion that rejection would be "advantageous is so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice."

Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007).

The Court finds that the Debtors have shown sufficient cause to reject the Agreement. As a result of the closure of St. Vincent, the Agreement provides no benefit to the estates, and the Debtors' continued performance under the Agreement would only burden the estates with unnecessary expenses. Rejection of the Agreement shall be effective as of January 31, 2020.

The deadline for Blue Shield to file a proof of claim arising from the rejection of the Agreement, pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3002(c)(4), shall be June 1, 2020 (the "Rule 3002(c)(4) Claims Bar Date"). Debtors shall provide notice of the Rule 3002(c)(4) Claims Bar Date so that it is actually received by Blue Shield by no later than March 23, 2020. Debtors shall file a proof of service of such notice by no later than March 23, 2020.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED IN PART and DENIED IN PART. Blue Shield shall pay St. Vincent 70% of the estimated January 2020 Capitation Payment by no later than March 27, 2020. Blue Shield shall pay the remaining 30% of the payment by no later than May 1, 2020. The Court declines the Debtors' request to hold Blue Shield in contempt.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtors-in-possession, Damu Vusha and Akiba Vusha (the "Debtors"), filed this voluntary Chapter 11 case on February 5, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtors' primary assets consist of three real properties: (1) their principal residence located at 6122 S. Kings Road, Los Angeles, CA 90056 (the "Principal Residence"); (2) 5150 S. Wilton Place, Los Angeles, CA 90062 (the "Wilton Property"); and 1300 W. 69th Street, Los Angeles, CA 90044 (the "69th Street Property") (collectively, the "Properties"). The Debtors also own and operate a residential care facility called Jatkodd Crisis Intervention Center (the "Business") which provides 24/7 care to four developmentally-disabled individuals. The Business operates out of the Wilton Property and pays the Debtors' monthly rent. The Debtors state that post-petition operations from the Business have been profitable. The Debtors also lease out the 69th Street Property for additional monthly income.

CONT... Damu Vusha and Akiba Vusha

On August 7, 2019, the Court held a hearing regarding Debtors' first Chapter 11 plan of reorganization [Doc. No. 103], which was then continued to September 24, 2019 [Doc. No. 144] to afford Debtors the opportunity to address various issues with the first plan's proposed terms [Note 1]. Having reviewed the Supplemental Confirmation Brief, the Court denied Debtors' first plan without prejudice, finding that the plan could not be crammed down on Class 2(A)—an impaired class deemed to reject the plan. Under the terms of the previous plan, the Debtors would have infringed the absolute priority rule as they proposed to retain their interests in the Properties without providing new value contributions, and while failing to pay Class 2(A) claimants, consisting of general unsecured creditors, an amount equal to their claims. In its denial order, the Court authorized Debtors to modify their plan as needed to ensure that Class 2(A) claimants would be paid with an appropriate interest rate, thereby satisfying the cram down requirements of §1129(b)(2).

On October 4, 2019, the Debtors filed the Amended Confirmation Brief seeking to confirm the Amended Plan, therein addressing the aforementioned issue. Based on the findings and conclusions set forth below, the Court finds it appropriate to CONFIRM the Amended Plan.

Summary of the Amended Plan

Administrative Claims

The Debtors anticipate having the following administrative claims as of the Effective Date:

- i. Law Offices of Michael Jay Berger ("Debtors' Counsel"): $15,000
- ii. Jennifer Min Liu ("Debtors' Accountant"): $2,000
- iii. Tamar Terzian (the "Patient Care Ombudsman"): $1,200

The Debtors propose to pay the foregoing administrative claims in full, once approved by the Court.

Priority Tax Claims

The Debtors propose to pay the priority tax claims of the Internal Revenue Service ($52,185.95) and Franchise Tax Board ($14,419) the present value of their claims in full within five years of the petition date in accordance with § 507(a)(8) by making equal monthly installments in the amounts set forth in Exhibit C of the Disclosure Statement.

Class 1(A) – Secured Claim of U.S. Bank, National Association – Accepts the Plan

Class 1(A) consists of the secured claim of U.S. Bank, National Association ("US Bank"). US Bank holds a first-priority lien against the Principal Residence, which secures debt in the amount of $609,000.

On October 25, 2018, the Debtors filed a Motion Under LBR 9019 to Approve Compromise Between Individual Debtors Damu Vusha and Akiba Vusha and Creditors Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. and US Bank National Association [Doc. No. 73] (the "Plan Treatment Stipulation"), which the Court approved by order entered December 6, 2018 [Doc. No. 82]. Pursuant to the Plan Treatment Stipulation, the Debtors propose to pay US Bank's claim in full over 228 months with 3% interest by making monthly payments of $3,507.48. The Debtors also propose to make the monthly escrow payments for taxes and insurance by making an additional monthly payment of $580.97.

US Bank's claim is impaired and, pursuant to the Plan Treatment Stipulation, it is deemed to accept the Plan.

Class 1(B) – Secured Claim of J.P. Morgan Acquisition Corp. – Accepts the Plan

Class 1(B) consists of the secured claim of J.P. Morgan Acquisition Corp. ("JP Morgan"). JP Morgan holds a first-priority lien against the Wilton Property, which secures debt in the amount of $310,833.69 and $4,078.86 in pre-petition arrears.

On March 12, 2019, JP Morgan filed a Stipulation Re: Adequate Protection and Treatment of Creditors' Claim Under Debtors' Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization [Doc. No. 95] (the "JP Morgan Stipulation"), which the Court approved by order entered on the same date [Doc. No. 98]. Pursuant to the JP Morgan Stipulation, the Debtors propose to pay JP Morgan's claim in full with 5.125% interest by making monthly payments of $1,563.92. The Debtors also propose to make the monthly escrow payments for taxes and insurance by making an additional monthly payment of $321.56. Finally, the Debtors propose to cure the pre-petition arrears by making six equal monthly installment payments of $784.33 beginning the first month following confirmation of the Plan.

JP Morgan's claim is impaired, and it voted to accept the Plan.

Class 1(C) – Secured Claim of CSMC 2018-RPL8 Trust – Accepts the Plan

Class 1(C) consists of the secured claim of CSMC 2018-RPL8 Trust ("CSMC"). CSMC holds a first-priority lien against the 69th Street Property, which secures debt in the amount of $277,258.87 and $4,723.57 in pre-petition arrears.

On July 3, 2019, the Debtors filed a Motion to Approve Stipulation for Plan Treatment on First Lien Secured by Real Property Located at 1300 West 69th Street, Los Angeles, CA 90044-2535 [Doc. No. 130] (the "CSMC 2018-RPL8 Trust Stipulation"), which the Court by order entered on July 24, 2019 [Doc. No. 138]. Pursuant to the CSMC 2018-RPL8 Trust Stipulation, the Debtors propose to pay CSMC's claim in full with 3.25% interest by making monthly payments of $1,060.60. The Debtors also propose to make the monthly escrow payments for taxes and insurance by making an additional monthly payment of approximately $308.54. Finally, the Debtors propose to make additional monthly payments of $61.87 for twelve (12) months to cure pre-petition arrears. [Note 2]

CSMC's claim is impaired, and it voted to accept the Plan.

Class 1(D) – Secured Claim of Santander Consumer USA – Deemed to Reject

Class 1(D) consists of the secured claim of Santander Consumer USA ("Santander"). Santander holds a secured lien against the Debtors' 2004 Toyota Sienna, securing debt in the amount of $3,622.13 and $1,186.19 in pre-petition arrears. As of April 5, 2019, the outstanding balance of this claim is $2,561.29. The Debtors propose to pay Santander's claim in full pursuant to the terms of the original Vehicle Loan Agreement, by making monthly payments of $417.73 until the claim is satisfied.

Santander's claim is impaired, and it did not cast a ballot. Therefore, Class 1(D) is deemed to reject the Plan.

Class 1(E) – Secured Claim of the Internal Revenue Service – Deemed to Reject

Class 1(E) consists of the secured claim of the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS"). The IRS holds a blanket security lien against the Debtors' assets, securing debt in the amount of $40,222.59. The Debtors propose to pay the IRS's claim in full by making monthly payments of $759.60 for sixty months, with the applicable IRS interest rate of 5%. [Note 3]

The IRS's claim is impaired, and it did not cast a ballot. Therefore, Class 1(E) is deemed to reject the Plan.

Class 2(A) – General Unsecured Claims – Deemed to Reject

Class 2(A) consists of general unsecured claims ("GUC") totaling $66,108.32. The Debtors propose to pay 100% of all claims in Class 2(A), with an interest rate of 6%, over a period of five years by making monthly payments of $1,278.06 beginning on the first day of the month following the Effective Date.

Claims in this class are impaired and entitled to vote on the Plan. No votes were received. Therefore, Class 2(A) is deemed to reject the Plan.

Class 2(B) – Unsecured Claim of U.S. Department of Education – Deemed to Reject

Class 2(B) consists of the unsecured claim of the U.S. Department of Education c/o FedLoan Servicing ("U.S. Dept. of Educ.") for Debtors' student loans totaling $45,883.05 (the "Student Loans"). The Debtors propose to pay their Student Loans in full over a period of 18 years in accordance with the current terms of repayment. The Debtors state that they are on an "income-based" repayment plan and are not making any payments. Debtors propose to begin making payments of $212.42 per month beginning on the first day of the month following the Effective Date.

Class 2(B) is impaired, and U.S. Dept. of Educ. did not cast a ballot. Therefore, Class 2(B) is deemed to reject the Plan.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As set forth below, the Court finds that the Plan complies with all applicable provisions of § 1129.

of this title." According to the leading treatise, the "legislative history suggests that the applicable provisions are those governing the plan's internal structure and drafting: 'Paragraph (1) requires that the plan comply with the applicable provisions of chapter 11, such as section 1122 and 1123, governing classification and contents of a plan.'" Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 1129.01[1] (16th rev'd ed.) (citing S. Rep. No. 989, 95th Cong., 2d Sess. 126 (1978)).

1. Section 1122(a)

Section 1122(a) provides that "a plan may place a claim or an interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interests of such class."

The Plan's classification structure complies with § 1122(a). The Plan contains five classes of secured creditors, a class of general unsecured creditors, and a class comprised of the unsecured claim of the U.S. Department of Education for the Debtors' student loans.

As to the discrimination of unsecured creditors, the Court recognizes that there is split between courts prohibiting the discrimination of unsecured debt in favor of long-term nondischargeable unsecured debt. See In re Sutton, No. 10-10539-8-RDD, 2012 WL 433480, at *3 (Bankr. E.D.N.C. Feb. 9, 2012) (discussing the jurisdictional split regarding separate classification of student loans). Courts allowing for such discrimination reason that: "1) the debtor will not be afforded a fresh start if the student loan is not separated from other general unsecured claims; 2) strong public policy exists for repayment of educational loans; 3) Congress prefers reorganization over liquidation; and 4) unsecured creditors are not harmed by favorable treatment because distribution must be equivalent to liquidation under Chapter 7." See at *4. Here, the Debtors' separate classification is consistent with the objectives set forth in In re Sutton. First, separate classification of the U.S. Department of Education's educational loan is permissible because the long-term student loan debt is nondischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(8) and is clearly dissimilar from the remaining general unsecured claims. Second, separate classification would not result in any unfair discrimination against either class of unsecured creditors in violation of § 1129(b)(1) because the Plan proposes to remunerate both classes of claims in full. Third, any discrepancy in interest rates paid out to either class of unsecured creditors is the result of the longer repayment term to Class 2(B) pursuant to the Debtors' respective student loan agreements.

Chapter 11

Therefore, the Plan satisfies § 1122(a).

2. Section 1122(b)

Section 1122(b) provides that "a plan may designate a separate class of claims consisting only of every unsecured claim that is less than or reduced to an amount that the court approves as reasonable and necessary for administrative convenience."

The Plan does not contain any convenience classes. Section 1122(b) does not apply.

3. Section 1123(a)(1)

Section 1123(a)(1) requires that a plan "designate ... classes of claims, other than claims of a kind specified in section 507(a)(2) [administrative expense claims], 507(a)(3) [claims arising during the gap period in an involuntary case], or 507(a)(8) [priority tax claims], and classes of interest."

The Plan appropriately designates classes of claims and interests. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(1).

4. Section 1123(a)(2)

Section 1123(a)(2) requires that the Plan "specify any class of claims or interests that is not impaired under the Plan."

The Plan specifies that all classes are impaired. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(2).

5. Section 1123(a)(3)

Section 1123(a)(3) requires that the Plan "specify the treatment of any class of claims or interests that is impaired under the Plan."

The Plan specifies the treatment of all impaired classes. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(3).

6. Section 1123(a)(4)

Section 1123(a)(4) requires that the Plan "provide the same treatment for each claim or interest of a particular class unless the holder of a particular claim or interest agrees to a less favorable treatment of such particular claim or interest."

The Plan provides the same treatment to claims and interests of the same class. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(4).

7. Section 1123(a)(5)

Section 1123(a)(5) requires that the Plan "provide adequate means for the plan's implementation."

The Plan will be funded by income from the Business, the Debtors' monthly Social Security Income, rental income from the 69th Street Property and the Wilton Property, and a $2,500 monthly contribution from one of the Debtor's mother.

As demonstrated by Debtors' projected income and expenses for the next five years [Doc. No. 154], these funding sources provide an adequate means for the Plan's implementation. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(5).

8. Section 1123(a)(6)

Section 1123(a)(6) provides: "[A] plan shall provide for the inclusion in the charter of the debtor, if the debtor is a corporation ..., of a provision prohibiting the issuance of nonvoting equity securities, and providing, as to the several classes of securities possessing voting power, an appropriate distribution of such power among such classes, including, in the case of any class of equity securities having a preference over another class of equity securities with respect to dividends, adequate provisions for the election of directors representing such preferred class in the event of default in the payment of such dividends."

The Debtors are individuals. Section 1123(a)(6) does not apply.

9. Section 1123(a)(7)

Section 1123(a)(7) requires that the Plan's provisions with respect to the selection of officers and directors be consistent with public policy and the interests of creditors and equity security holders.

The Debtors are individuals. Section 1123(a)(7) does not apply.

10. Section 1123(a)(8)

Section 1123(a)(8) was added to the Bankruptcy Code to provide that, to be confirmable, an individual debtor's plan must provide for the payment to creditors of all or such portion of earnings from personal services or other future income of the debtor. The Plan provides for the payment of a portion of the Debtors' future income to creditors. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(8).

11. Section 1123(b)

Section 1123(b) sets forth provisions that are permitted, but not required in a plan of reorganization. The Plan appropriately implements many of § 1123(b)'s optional provisions. For example, the Plan provides for the assumption of executory contracts and unexpired leases pursuant to § 1123(b)(2); provides for the settlement or adjustment of claims pursuant to § 1123(b)(3)(A) and designates the Debtors as the representatives of the estate to enforce any claims or causes of actions belonging to the estate pursuant to § 1123(b)(3)(B); and modifies the rights of certain holders of claims pursuant to § 1123(b)(5). In sum, the Plan complies with § 1123(b).

SECTION 1129(a)(2)

Section 1129(a)(2) requires that the "proponent of the plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." The Court finds that the Debtors have:

- 1) Complied with the Bankruptcy Code's provisions with respect to the use of cash collateral (see Order Re: Notice of Motion and Motion in Individual Chapter 11 Case for Order Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral [Doc. Nos. 23, 43]);
- 2) Obtained Court approval of a Disclosure Statement in accordance with § 1125 (see Order Approving Debtors' Disclosure Statement in Support of Plan of Reorganization [Doc. No. 120]);
- 3) Obtained Court approval of the employment of professional persons (see Doc. Nos. 32, 35, 38, 45 and 63); and
- 4) Filed monthly operating reports.

Accordingly, the Debtors have satisfied the requirements of § 1129(a)(2).

by any means forbidden by law." As one court has explained:

The term 'good faith' in the context of 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3) is not statutorily defined but has been interpreted by case law as referring to a plan that 'achieves a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code.' 'The requisite good faith determination is based on the totality of the circumstances.'

In re Melcher, 329 B.R. 865, 876 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2005) (internal citations omitted).

The Plan seeks objectives that are consistent with those of the Bankruptcy Code and the Debtors have complied with the requirements of the Code throughout this case. Under Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3015(f), the Court is not required to receive evidence as to good faith because no party has objected to confirmation. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(3).

SECTION 1129(a)(4)

Section 1129(a)(4) requires that "[a]ny payment made or to be made by the proponent, by the debtor, or by a person issuing securities or acquiring property under the plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of, the court as reasonable."

The Plan provides for Court approval of all professional fees. See Plan at II.a.1.i. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(4).

SECTION 1129(a)(5)

Section 1129(a)(5) requires that the Plan disclose "the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the Plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint Plan with the debtor, or a successor to the debtor under the Plan." Section 1129(a)(5)(A)(ii) requires that the appointment to or continuation in office of a director or officer be consistent with the interests of creditors, equity security holders, and public policy. Section 1129(a)(5)(B) requires the Plan proponent to disclose the identity of any insider to be employed by the reorganized debtor.

The Debtors are individuals. Section 1129(a)(5) does not apply.

Section 1129(a)(6), which requires that a governmental regulatory commission with jurisdiction over rates charged by a debtor approve any rate changes provided for in the plan, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(7)

Section 1129(a)(7), known as the "best interests of creditors test," provides in relevant part: "With respect to each impaired class of claims or interests, each holder of a claim or interest of such class has accepted the plan; or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of this title on such date."

Classes 1(A), 1(B), and 1(C) have accepted the Plan. Classes 1(D), 1(E), 2(A), and 2(B) did not cast ballots and are deemed to have rejected the Plan. Based on the terms proposed in the Plan, the Debtors will pay rejecting claims in full. Accordingly, all classes have either accepted the Plan or will receive treatment that is no less favorable than they would receive under Chapter 7. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(7).

SECTION 1129(a)(8)

Section 1129(a)(8) requires each class to accept the Plan, unless the class is not impaired. Impaired Classes 1(A), 1(B), and 1(C) have accepted the Plan. Classes 1(D), 1(E), 2(A), and 2(B) did not cast ballots and are deemed to have rejected the Plan. See In re M. Long Arabians, 103 B.R. 211, 215-16 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1989) (To accept a Plan, members of a class must affirmatively vote in favor of the Plan). Accordingly, the Plan does not satisfy § 1129(a)(8) and must, therefore, satisfy § 1129(b).

SECTION 1129(a)(9)

Section 1129(a)(9) requires that holders of certain administrative and priority claims receive cash equal to the allowed claim amount of their claims on the effective date of the plan, unless the claimant agrees to different treatment.

The Plan provides for the payment of all outstanding allowed administrative claims in full as soon as the fees are approved by the Court and none of the professionals have requested a different payment arrangement. The Plan also provides for payment of priority tax claims in a manner consistent with § 1129(a)(9)(C)(ii). The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(9).

SECTION 1129(a)(10)

Section 1129(a)(10) requires that "at least one class of claims that is impaired under the plan has accepted the plan, determined without including any acceptance of the plan by any insider."

Classes 1(A), 1(B), and 1(C) consist of non-insider claims, are impaired, and have voted to accept the Plan. Section 1129(a)(10) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(a)(11)

Section 1129(a)(11), known as the "feasibility requirement," requires the Court to find that "[c]onfirmation of the plan is not likely to be followed by the liquidation, or the need for further financial reorganization, of the debtor or any successor to the debtor under the plan, unless such liquidation or reorganization is proposed in the plan."

The Debtors submit that they have sufficient cash on hand to pay the amounts that are due on the Effective Date. Based upon a review of the budget projections included as Exhibit C to the Disclosure Statement (which was updated on Exhibit 6 to the Amended Confirmation Brief), the Court finds that confirmation is not likely to be followed by liquidation or the need for further financial reorganization.

The Plan is feasible and satisfies § 1129(a)(11).

SECTION 1129(a)(12)

Section 1129(a)(12) requires that the Debtor pay all United States Trustee fees prior to confirmation or provide for payment of those fees on the effective date.

To the Court's knowledge, UST fees are current. To the extent any fees are outstanding, the Plan provides that all such fees will be paid by the Effective Date.

Section 1129(a)(16) provides: "All transfers of property under the plan shall be made in accordance with any applicable provisions of nonbankruptcy law that govern the transfer of property by a corporation or trust that is not a moneyed, business, or commercial corporation or trust."

The Plan does not provide for the transfer of any property. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(16).

With respect to a class of secured claims, the condition that a plan be fair and equitable includes the following requirements:

11 U.S.C. § 1129(b)(2)(A).

Under the Plan, Classes 1(D) and 1(E) are impaired, did not cast ballots, and are deemed to reject the Plan. Therefore, the Plan must be crammed down on these classes. In this case, Debtors propose to pay Class 1(D) 100% of the outstanding claim balance at an interest rate of 25.49%, which was set pursuant to the vehicle purchase agreement. See Exhibit 1 of the Amended Confirmation Brief. Comparably, the Debtors propose to pay Class 1(E) 100% of its claim with the applicable interest rate of 5% set by the Internal Revenue Service. See I.R.S. Rev. Rul. 2019-15. Given that the Plan provides that Classes 1(D) and 1(E) will receive the total amount of their claims, with an appropriate interest rate, these claimants will receive the present value of their claims as of the Effective Date. The Court accordingly finds that the proposed treatment of Classes 1(D) and 1(E) is consistent with § 1129(b)(2)(A)(i)(II).

In sum, the "fair and equitable" requirement set forth in § 1129(b)(2) is satisfied with respect to Classes 1(D) and 1(E). The Plan may be crammed down on these classes.

With respect to a class of unsecured claims, the condition that a plan be fair and equitable includes the following requirements:

- (i) the plan provides that each holder of a claim of such class receive or retain on account of such claim property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, equal to the allowed amount of such claim; or
- (ii) the holder of any claim or interest that is junior to the claims of such class will not receive or retain under the plan on account of such junior claim or interest any property, except that in a case in which the debtor is an individual, the debtor may retain property included in the estate under section 1115, subject to the requirements of subsection (a)(14) of this

11 U.S.C. § 1129(b)(2)(B).

Under the Plan, Classes 2(A) and 2(B) are impaired, did not cast ballots, and are deemed to reject the Plan. Therefore, the Plan must be crammed down on these classes.

As to Class 2(A), Debtors propose to pay general unsecured creditors (the "GUC") 100% of their claims, with an interest rate of 6%, which is comprised of the federal prime rate of 5% and an addition of one hundred (100) basis points to account for the risk absorbed by creditors [Note 4]. The Court determines that payment to the GUC at the proposed interest rate is adequate. See Till v. SCS Credit Corp., 541 U.S. 465, 478 – 79 (2004) (determining that debtors invoking the cram down option must pay rejecting creditors' claims at the national prime interest rate, adjusted to account for a number of critical factors); First S. Nat'l Bank v. Sunnyslope Hous. L.P. (In re Sunnyslope Hous. L.P.), 859 F.3d 637, 646 (9th Cir. 2017) (applying the "Till test" to ensure that a creditor received the present value of its claim through payments proposed in a Chapter 11 plan). Therefore, the Plan satisfies § 1129(b)(2)(B)(i) with respect to Class 2(A).

Separately, the Debtors propose to pay Class 2(B), consisting of unsecured student loans, in full at the interest rate fixed by the Debtors' individual student loan agreements. As the claimant in Class 2(B) is entitled to receive the total amount of its claim, with an appropriate rate of interest, the Court finds that the treatment of Class 2(B) under the Plan is consistent with § 1129(b)(2)(B)(i). Notwithstanding the Debtors' proposed payment schedule of claims in Class 2(B), this tentative ruling will not alter or affect any terms or provisions on the Debtors' respective student loan agreements.

Therefore, as the "fair and equitable" requirement provided in § 1129(b)(2) is satisfied with respect to Classes 2(A) and 2(B), the Plan may be crammed down on these classes.

SECTION 1129(c)

Section 1129(c), which states that the court may confirm only one plan in a particular case, is satisfied.

Chapter 11

SECTION 1129(d)

Section 1129(d) provides: "Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, on request of a party in interest that is a governmental unit, the court may not confirm a Plan if the principal purpose of the Plan is the avoidance of taxes or the avoidance of the application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933."

No governmental unit has requested that the court not confirm the Plan on the grounds that the Plan's purpose is the avoidance of taxes or application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1944. The Plan satisfies § 1129(d).

Post-Confirmation Status Conference

A Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall be held on March 18, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Post-Confirmation Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Plan is CONFIRMED. The Debtors are directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. #108.00 HearingRE: [4146] Motion St. Vincent IPA's Notice of Motion, Motion to Enforce Critical Vendor Agreement, Memorandum of Points and Authorities, Decl. of Dr. Jeffrey Hendel, with Proof of Service

Docket 4146

Tentative Ruling:

3/17/2020

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED. The Debtors shall pay the Group the $150,000 payment due under the Settlement Agreement for the month of January 2020 by no later than March 24, 2020.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) St. Vincent IPA's Notice of Motion and Motion to Enforce Critical Vendor Agreement [Doc. No. 4146] (the "Motion")
- 2) Debtors Objection to St. Vincent IPA's Motion to Enforce Critical Vendor Agreement [Doc. No. 4214] (the "Opposition")
- 3) St. Vincent IPA's Reply to Debtors' Objection to Motion to Enforce Critical Vendor Agreement [Doc. No. 4255] (the "Reply")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

St. Vincent IPA Medical Corporation (the "Group") moves for an order enforcing the Debtors' compliance with a settlement agreement entered into between the Group and the Debtors (the "Settlement Agreement") and subsequently approved by the Court. Debtors oppose the Motion.

The Group is comprised of approximately 200 doctors who formerly worked at Debtor St. Vincent Medical Center ("St. Vincent"). Before St. Vincent closed, the Group's patients accounted for between 7–10% of patients treated at St. Vincent, and generated significant revenue for the hospital. The Group was designated as a Critical Vendor within the meaning of the Final Order Granting Debtors' Emergency Motion for Entry of an Order Authorizing Debtors to Honor Prepetition Obligations to Critical Vendors [Doc. No. 436] (the “Critical Vendor Order”).

The Settlement Agreement pertained to a Healthcare Services Risk Sharing Agreement dated January 1, 2002 (the “Risk Pool Agreement”) between the Debtors and the Group. The Risk Pool Agreement was intended to coordinate optimal patient care between St. Vincent and the Group. Under the Risk Pool Agreement, the Group managed the use of medical services supplied to patients of the Group by St. Vincent. In exchange for providing these services, the Group was entitled to receive compensation from a risk pool, but only if the risk pool manifested a surplus. The Group received payments from the risk pool semi-annually, but only for 50% of the amounts it was owed; complete payments were remitted approximately five months after the end of each reconciliation period.

The Settlement Agreement accelerated the distribution of risk pool payments to the Group by providing for monthly advances of $150,000. Under the Settlement Agreement, these interim monthly payments are subject to a true up (the “True Up”) based upon the final reconciliation of amounts in the risk pool. If the aggregate amount of payments was less than the eventual risk-share split, the Group would be owed additional amounts; conversely, if the aggregate payments exceeded the risk-share split, the Group would be required to refund the excess amounts. The Court approved the Settlement Agreement on May 14, 2019. See Doc. Nos. 2371 (order approving the Settlement Agreement) and 2350 (Final Ruling granting the motion for approval of the Settlement Agreement).

On February 20, 2020, the Court approved a stipulated order providing for the rejection of the Risk Pool Agreement. See Doc. No. 4129. Rejection of the Risk Pool Agreement was effective as of January 31, 2020. Id.

On January 9, 2020, the Court granted the Debtors’ emergency motion for authorization to close St. Vincent Medical Center (“St. Vincent”). See Doc. No. 3934 (the “Closure Order”). Pursuant to the Closure Order, emergency services were discontinued as of January 9, 2020, the dialysis center was closed as of January 13, 2020, all inpatients were discharged or transferred as of January 18, 2020, all outpatient visits ceased as of January 22, 2020, and all transplant candidates were transferred as of January 23, 2020. See Doc. No. 3982 (status report describing closure of St. Vincent).

The Settlement Agreement requires the Debtors to make monthly payments of $150,000 to the Group “until a sale of St. Vincent Medical Center has closed ....” Settlement Agreement at ¶ d [Doc. No. 4146, Ex. A]. The Settlement Agreement contains no language addressing the Debtors' payment obligations in the event of the closure of St. Vincent.

Debtors have not made a payment to the Group under the Settlement Agreement for the month of January 2020. The Group asserts that it performed under the Settlement Agreement by providing services to patients during January 2020, and that it is therefore entitled to receive a $150,000 payment.

Debtors contest their liability for the January 2020 payment. Debtors assert that the only reasonable interpretation of the Settlement Agreement is that the Debtors' monthly payment obligations end when St. Vincent is or is not sold. See Opposition at 9 ("The only sensible way to interpret the agreement, however, is to tie an end date to the closing, or the failure to close, of a going concern sale of [St. Vincent]."). Debtors contend that under any other interpretation, they would be obligated to make monthly payments to St. Vincent in perpetuity, even after St. Vincent had closed and it became impossible for the Group to provide services under the Settlement Agreement. Debtors further contend that under the Settlement Agreement's True Up provision, the Group owes the Debtors a refund of approximately $414,000. According to the Debtors, it would make no sense to pay the Group the $150,000 January 2020 monthly payment when the Group would ultimately be required to refund that payment. Finally, Debtors maintain that even if their True Up estimates are incorrect and the Group is entitled to an additional payment under the True Up, withholding the January 2020 payment would not prejudice the Group, because it could file an administrative claim for the unpaid amounts.

The Group disputes the Debtors' contention that it owes a refund to the Debtors under the True Up. The Group asserts that it will ultimately be entitled to a further distribution from the risk pool because the risk pool is in surplus. The Group states that it is only seeking payment under the Settlement Agreement for the month of January 2020, and will not seek payments for services performed subsequent to January 31, 2020.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Settlement Agreement provides in relevant part:

For the months subsequent to October, 2018, until a sale of St. Vincent Medical Center has closed, Verity [the Debtors] shall make $150,000 of interim monthly payments, on or about the third week of the month, to St. Vincent IPA [the Group] for services rendered during those post-petition

Chapter 11

Settlement Agreement at ¶ d.

On May 14, 2019, the Court entered an order approving the Settlement Agreement in its entirety. See Doc. No. 2371. The Court found that the payments required under the Settlement Agreement were an appropriate use of the estates' property, because the Settlement Agreement facilitated the continued efficient operation of St. Vincent pending the closing of the then-contemplated sale to Strategic Global Management, Inc. ("SGM"). See Doc. No. 2350 at p. 4 (Final Ruling Granting Motion to Approve Settlement Agreement).

The Settlement Agreement contains no language specifying the Debtors' payment obligations to the Group in the event of the closure of St. Vincent. At the time the Settlement Agreement was negotiated, the Debtors could easily have anticipated the possibility that the sale to SGM (the "SGM Sale") might not be successful and that closing St. Vincent would be necessary. It would not have been difficult for the Debtors to have included a provision specifying their payment obligations to the Group in the event of a closure.

The Debtors ask the Court to read into the Settlement Agreement language providing that their payment obligation ceases upon the closure of St. Vincent. Because the Debtors could have easily included such a provision, the Court declines to do so. Under the plain language of the Settlement Agreement, the Group is entitled to payment for services rendered during the month of January 2020. The Declaration of Dr. Jeffrey Hendel, submitted in support of the Motion, states that the "Group provided services under the terms of the Critical Vendor Agreement through January 31, 2020 despite the Hospital [St. Vincent] eliminating services on-site, outsourcing services traditionally provided to Member patients at the Hospital to third-party providers at a substantially increased expense and to the detriment of the Group." Hendel Decl. at ¶ 14. The Debtors have not controverted Dr. Hendel's testimony or introduced any evidence showing that the Group did not fulfill its obligations under the Settlement Agreement during the month of January 2020.

The Debtors' remaining arguments for why the Group is not entitled to the January 2020 payment are easily disposed of. First, Debtors contend that advancing the payment would be a useless gesture because the Group would ultimately be required to return the payment upon completion of the True Up. That argument fails because nothing in the Settlement Agreement authorizes the Debtors to withhold monthly payments based upon projections regarding the results of the True Up. In addition, the Debtors' assertion that the Group will likely be required to refund payments after completion of the True Up is nothing more than speculation. The Debtors offer the testimony of their Chief Executive Officer, Richard G. Adcock, in support of their assertions regarding the True Up. Mr. Adcock testifies that based upon his review of the most current risk pool report, the "Group appears to owe [St. Vincent] a refund at this time," and that "[a]ny further payment(s) under the [Settlement Agreement] would likely merely increase the eventual refund due from Group to the Debtors estate." Adcock Decl. at ¶ 10 (emphasis added). Thus, even Mr. Adcock acknowledges that the ultimate results of the True Up are uncertain. That is unsurprising, given that under the Risk Pool Agreement upon which the Settlement Agreement is based, the True Up calculations take months to perform.

Second, the Debtors argue that the Group would not be prejudiced if the January 2020 payment was withheld because it could file an administrative claim if the True Up shows it is entitled to additional payments. Again, this argument ignores the plain language of the Settlement Agreement. The Group agreed to provide services under the Settlement Agreement in exchange for receiving monthly payments of $150,000—not in exchange for the possibility of filing an administrative claim.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. The Debtors shall pay the Group the $150,000 payment due under the Settlement Agreement for the month of January 2020 by no later than March 24, 2020.

The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

2018–October 31, 2021 (the “SEIU-UHW CBA”) so as to remove all reference of the CBA to St. Vincent. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

On August 31, 2018 (the “Petition Date”), Verity Health System of California (“VHS”) and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Debtors”) filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors’ cases are being jointly administered. As of the Petition Date, the Debtors operated six hospitals (the “Hospitals”).

On January 9, 2020, the Court granted the Debtors’ emergency motion for authorization to close St. Vincent. See Doc. No. 3934 (the “Closure Order”). Pursuant to the Closure Order, emergency services were discontinued as of January 9, 2020, the dialysis center was closed as of January 13, 2020, all inpatients were discharged or transferred as of January 18, 2020, all outpatient visits ceased as of January 22, 2020, and all transplant candidates were transferred as of January 23, 2020. See Doc. No. 3982 (status report describing closure of St. Vincent).

The SEIU-UHW CBA currently covers SEIU-UHW represented employees at St. Francis Medical Center and 370 former employees of St. Vincent (former St. Vincent employees, the “SEIU-UHW Represented Employees”). The SEIU-UHW Represented Employees included, without limitation, environmental services aides, certified nurse assistants, unit coordinators, radiological technicians, and pharmacy technicians.

Under the Settlement Agreement, the Debtors and SEIU-UHW have agreed to resolve all claims and unfair labor practice charges related to the closure of St. Vincent. The material terms of the Settlement Agreement are as follows:

- 1) Debtors will make a payment of $500,000.00 (the “Settlement Payment”) for the benefit of SEIU-UHW Represented Employees who worked at St. Vincent and who are not actively employed by St. Francis as of the date of entry of a Bankruptcy Court order approving the Settlement Agreement.
- 2) In the event the Debtors reach a settlement with the California Nurses Association that provides for a payment exceeding $500,000.00, the Settlement Payment will be adjusted upwards to match that amount.
- 3) Eligible employees who provide a timely release and waiver shall receive an allowed general unsecured claim in the amount otherwise due and owing under the SEIU-UHW CBA for severance.

"Bankruptcy cases generally approach this complicated statute by breaking the statute into a nine part test" first set forth in In re Am. Provision Co., 44 B.R. 907, 909 (Bankr. D. Minn. 1984). See In re Karykeion, Inc., 435 B.R. 663, 677 (Bankr. C.D. The American Provision factors are as follows:

- 1) The debtor in possession must make a proposal to the Union to modify the collective bargaining agreement.
- 2) The proposal must be based on the most complete and reliable information available at the time of the proposal.
- 3) The proposed modifications must be necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor.
- 4) The proposed modifications must assure that all creditors, the debtor and all of the affected parties are treated fairly and equitably.
- 5) The debtor must provide to the Union such relevant information as is necessary to evaluate the proposal.
- 6) Between the time of the making of the proposal and the time of the hearing on approval of the rejection of the existing collective bargaining agreement, the debtor must meet at reasonable times with the Union.
- 7) At the meetings the debtor must confer in good faith in attempting to reach mutually satisfactory modifications of the collective bargaining agreement.
- 8) The Union must have refused to accept the proposal without good cause.
- 9) The balance of the equities must clearly favor rejection of the collective bargaining agreement.

Courts reason that "reorganization," as used in § 1113(b)(1)(A), is "generally understood to include all types of debt adjustment, including a sale of assets, piecemeal or on a going concern basis, under § 363 followed by a plan of reorganization which distributes the proceeds of the sale to creditors in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code's priority scheme." Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895. Some courts have held that where, as here, the Debtors are liquidating their assets, the phrase "necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor" means "necessary to achieve a sale under § 363 of the Bankruptcy Code." Alpha Nat. Res., Inc., 552 B.R. 314, 333 (Bankr. E.D. Va. 2016); see also Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 890 (requiring that the debtor's proposal "be necessary to permit ... those modifications necessary to consummate a going-concern sale"); In re Karykeion, Inc., 435 B.R. 663, 679 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2010) (finding that the debtor had proven that rejection was necessary when the closing of a § 363 sale was contingent on rejection of a collective bargaining agreement). Others courts have concluded that in a liquidating case, the phrase "necessary to permit reorganization of the debtor" means "necessary to accommodate confirmation of a Chapter 11 plan." Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895.

In the context of this case, the term "necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor" is best interpreted to mean "necessary to permit the Debtors to confirm a liquidating plan." This interpretation aligns most closely with the manner in which the Debtors are prosecuting this case. From the outset, the Debtors have stated their intent to sell the six Hospitals that they operated as going concerns as of the Petition Date, and use the proceeds from the sales to fund a plan of liquidation. The Debtors have already sold two of their Hospitals, and are in the process of selling their remaining Hospitals.

As set forth below, the Debtors have established that the Settlement Agreement satisfies the American Provision factors and warrants approval under § 1113.

Factors 1, 5, 6, and 7

Factors one, five, six, and seven are procedural in nature and have been satisfied based upon recitations in the Settlement Agreement. Specifically, the Settlement Agreement acknowledges that the Debtors made a proposal (factor 1), that SEIU-UHW does not have any outstanding informational requests (factor 5), that the Debtors met with SEIU-UHW to negotiate the Settlement Agreement (factor 6), and that the Debtors negotiated in good faith (factor 7).

Factor 2—The Proposal Was Based on the Most Complete and Reliable

United States Bankruptcy Court

Chapter 11

Information

To satisfy this factor, “the debtor is simply required to gather the most complete information available at the time and to base its proposal on information it considers reliable.” In re Karykeion, Inc., 435 B.R. 663, 678 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2010).

The Settlement Agreement was based upon the most complete information available at the time the agreement was presented—namely, that the Court has approved the closure of St. Vincent; that the Debtors no longer employ SEIU-UHW represented employees at St. Vincent; that the Debtors risk incurring liability under the SEIU-UHW CBA; and that the Debtors are financially strained. The Debtors have satisfied this factor.

Factor 3—The Proposal Is Necessary to Permit Plan Confirmation

As noted, within the context of this case, the term “necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor” is best interpreted to mean “necessary to permit the Debtors to confirm a liquidating plan.” This interpretation aligns most closely with the manner in which the Debtors are prosecuting this case.

The Court finds that the modifications to the SEIU-UHW CBA contained within the Settlement Agreement are necessary for the Debtors to move forward with marketing their assets and confirming a plan. Relief is necessary to limit the Debtors’ potential liability under the SEIU-UHW CBA. Absent modification, the SEIU-UHW could expose the Debtors to substantial administrative claims associated with healthcare enterprises that the Debtors intend to dispose of rather than continue to operate.

Factor 4—The Proposed Modifications Treat Creditors, the Debtor, and All Affected Parties Fairly and Equitably

The Court finds that the Settlement Agreement treats all parties fairly and equitably. The Settlement Agreement does not disproportionately burden the SEIU-UHW Represented Employees. The failure of the SGM Sale, which necessitated the closure of St. Vincent, has burdened all constituencies in these cases. Certain of the SEIU-UHW Represented Employees have been re-hired at St. Francis. The Settlement Agreements limits eligibility for the Settlement Payment to those employees who were not re-hired. This limitation on the Settlement Payment is fair to all parties, because it allows for a greater distribution to those employees who have experienced the greatest economic hardship.

Factor 9—The Balance of the Equities Favors the Proposed Modification

The balance of the equities favors the modifications effectuated by the Settlement Agreement. As discussed, the Settlement Agreement allows the Debtors to continue to move toward disposing of their assets, while at the same time providing compensation to SEIU-UHW Represented Employees who lost their jobs as a result of the closure of St. Vincent.

Factors 8 Does Not Apply

Because the SEIU-UHW accepted the Settlement Agreement, factor 8 does not apply.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. Within seven days of the hearing, the Debtors shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz, the Judge's Law Clerks, at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Docket 141

Tentative Ruling:

3/17/2020

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances.

For the reasons set forth below, the Movants will receive a distribution as though their claims had been timely filed pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 726(a)(2)(C).

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

1. Motion of Creditors Yun Yan and Xin Quan for Order Deeming Proofs of Claims as Allowed for Distribution under 11 U.S.C. § 726(a)(2)(C) on Par with Timely Filed Claims [Doc. No. 141] (the "Motion")
2. Notice of Motion [Doc. No. 142]
3. Trustee's Reservation of Rights to Object to Claim No. 10 and Claim No. 11 [Doc. No. 146]
4. As of the date of this tentative ruling, no substantive opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Crestalliance, LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary petition under chapter 11 on November 22, 2017. The United States Trustee's office (the "UST") filed a motion to dismiss or convert the Debtor's case (the "UST's Motion") on December 14, 2017. The UST's Motion was granted, and the Debtor's case was converted to under chapter 7 on January 17, 2018 [Doc. No. 22]. David M. Goodrich was appointed as the chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee"). On April 3, 2018, the Trustee filed a notice of assets and set the deadline to file proofs of claim as July 9, 2018.

Chapter 7

On February 13, 2020, Yun Yan and Xin Quan (jointly, the "Movants") filed the Motion, seeking an order to deem Claim No. 10 and Claim No. 11 (jointly, the "Claims") timely filed based on the Movants' asserted lack of knowledge of Debtor's bankruptcy case until November 6, 2019. The Movants each attest that soon after learning of the Debtor's case, they engaged bankruptcy counsel and filed the Claims on January 25, 2020. The Movants claim that they only learned of the instant bankruptcy from state court counsel, who they hired to initiate a lawsuit against the Debtor and Debtor's principals, Daniel and Rebecca Chiu (the "Principals"). The Movants are not listed as creditors on the Debtor's schedules, or otherwise identified in commencement documents.

The Motion sets forth a factual summary of the Movants' claims against the Debtor. Motion at 3-4. In 2010, the Movants assert that they each invested $530,000 into a real estate development venture promoted by the Principals. The Motion further states that the Principals misappropriated the investment funds for personal gain by transferring such monies to shell companies. On October 18, 2017, the Movants initiated a lawsuit against the Debtor and the Principals in the Superior Court of California, County of Imperial, bearing the case number ECU10085.

On March 4, 2020, the Trustee filed a Reservation of Rights to Object to Claim No. 10 and Claim No. 11, preserving the right to object to the Claims on any adequate grounds, insofar the Motion is granted.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no substantive opposition is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Pursuant to §726(a)(2)(C), tardily filed unsecured claims are entitled to the same distribution priority as timely filed unsecured claims, provided "the creditor that holds such claim did not have notice or actual knowledge of the case in time for timely filing of a proof of such claim" and provided "proof of such claim is filed in time to permit payment of such claim."

Movants each attest that they had no notice or actual knowledge of the bankruptcy petition to have timely filed a proof of claim. See Declaration of Yun Yan, ¶ 12; Declaration of Xin Quan, ¶ 12. Movants' uncontroverted statements are further bolstered by the Court's review of Debtor's commencement documents, which do not identify the Movants as creditors or otherwise. In sum, the Court finds that Movants did not have notice or knowledge of the instant petition on or before the bar date of July 9, 2018. Furthermore, given that the Trustee has not yet filed a final report, there is still time to allow payment of the Claims. Relatedly, Movants filed proofs of claim with the Court on January 25, 2020. Finally, the Court deems the absence of any substantive opposition as consent to granting the Motion pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(h).

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED, and the Claims will be deemed timely filed for the purposes of distribution of estate assets. [Note 1]

The Movants shall lodge a conforming proposed order within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 0

*** VACATED *** REASON: CONTINUED 5-6-20 AT 11:00 A.M.

Tentative Ruling:

5/6/2019

For the reasons set forth below, CONTINUE HEARING to September 18, 2019 at 11:00 a.m.

Creditor Ball C M, Inc. ("Movant") seeks an order disallowing the Debtor's $175,000 homestead exemption pursuant to § 522(o) [Doc. No. 27] (the "Objection to Homestead Exemption"). Section 522(o) "provides that the value of property claimed as a homestead must be reduced to the extent that the value is attributable to any fraudulent transfers of nonexempt property made by the debtor within 10 years prepetition." In re McNabb, 326 B.R. 785, 787-88 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2005) (citing 11 U.S.C. § 522(o)). "In light of Congress' adoption in section 522(o) of the identical 'intent to hinder, delay or defraud' language found in section 548(a)(1)(A) and section 727(a)(2), courts may look to case law under these sections for guidance in construing the requisite intent under section 522(o)." 4 Collier on Bankruptcy, ¶ 522.08 (16th ed. 2019). Accordingly, a debtor's exemptible interest in homestead property should not be reduced absent a showing of specific intent to hinder, delay or defraud, but a party may rely upon certain "badges of fraud" to prove the existence of actual fraud. Id.

On March 7, 2019, Movant initiated an adversary proceeding against the Debtor by filing a complaint (the "Complaint") asserting claims under §§ 523(a)(2)(A), (a)(4), (a)(6) and 727(a)(2), (a)(3), (a)(4), and (a)(5) [2:19-ap-01605] (the "Non-Dischargeability Action"). similar to the assertions underlying Movant's Objection to Homestead Exemption. Accordingly, it appears that any ruling with respect to the instant motion may have preclusive effect and potentially interfere with the Non-Dischargeability Action. Therefore, the Court finds it appropriate to defer ruling on the Objection to Homestead Exemption until the Non-Dischargeability Action has concluded.

Debtors move for entry of an order approving (1) a Services Agreement between Verity Healthcare System of California Inc. ("VHS") and Seton Medical Center ("Seton"), on the one hand, and the California Department of Public Health (the "State"), on the other hand (the "Seton Agreement") and (2) a Master Lease Agreement between VHS and St. Vincent Medical Center ("St. Vincent"), on the one hand, and the State, on the other hand (the "St. Vincent Agreement," and together with the Seton Agreement, the “Agreements”). The Debtors assert that the Agreements will assist the State in responding to the public health emergency resulting from the COVID-19 epidemic and will inject much-needed cash into the estates.

Pursuant to the Order Setting Hearing on Debtors’ Emergency Motion to Approve Agreements with the State of California in Response to the COVID-19 Healthcare Emergency [Doc. No. 4306], opposition to the Motion may be presented at the hearing.

A. Background

On August 31, 2018 (the “Petition Date”), VHS and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Debtors”) filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors’ cases are being jointly administered. As of the Petition Date, the Debtors operated six hospitals (the “Hospitals”).

On January 9, 2020, the Court authorized the Debtors to implement a plan to close St. Vincent on an emergency basis (the “Closure Plan”). See Doc. No. 3934 (the “Closure Order”). Pursuant to the Closure Order, emergency services were discontinued as of January 9, 2020, the dialysis center was closed as of January 13, 2020, all inpatients were discharged or transferred as of January 18, 2020, all outpatient visits ceased as of January 22, 2020, and all transplant candidates were transferred as of January 23, 2020. The only remaining tasks to be completed under the Closure Plan are (1) the transition of patient medical records to off-site storage, which is scheduled for March 27, 2020, and (2) hazardous waste removal, which is scheduled for March 27, 2020. See Doc. Nos. 3982 and 4308 (status reports describing implementation of the Closure Plan).

The Debtors are continuing to operate Seton and are in the process of negotiating a sale of Seton as an operating hospital.

On March 4, 2020, Governor Gavin Newsom issued a proclamation, pursuant to Cal. Gov’t Code § 8625, declaring a state of emergency in California (the “Proclamation”). Concurrently with the Proclamation, Governor Newsom issued Executive Order N-25-20 (the “Executive Order”), which provides that “there is a need to secure numerous facilities to accommodate quarantine, isolation, or medical treatment of individuals testing or exposed to COVID-19.” The Executive Order asserts that the State possesses the “power to commandeer property” in furtherance of the objective of securing such facilities.

B. The Seton Agreement

The material terms of the Seton Agreement are as follows:

- 1) Debtors shall continue to operate Seton, but shall designate a specified number of beds for the treatment of COVID-19 patients (the “Designated Space”), and shall provide healthcare services to COVID-19 patients within the Designated Space. Seton Agreement at § 2.2.
- 2) The State shall pay the Debtors $5 million in exchange for the healthcare services to be provided during the first month under the Agreement. Seton Agreement Ex. B at § 2.1. For subsequent months, the State shall pay the estates $2.7 million, plus an additional amount of up to $2.3 million (such that the total payment would not exceed $5 million), depending upon the number of beds designated for the treatment of COVID-19 patients. Id.
- 3) The Seton Agreement terminates on the 181st day after entry of an order of the Bankruptcy Court approving the Agreement, unless extend by mutual consent of the parties. Seton Agreement, Ex. B at § 4.2.
- 4) During the term of the Seton Agreement, Seton shall only close if agreed to in writing by the State. Seton Agreement at § 5.23.
- 5) The Seton Agreement “may not be assigned, absent the State’s written consent via an amendment to this Agreement, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. In evaluating whether assignment is reasonable, the proposed assignee shall be required to provide adequate assurance to the State of its ability to perform all ... remaining obligations under this Agreement (a “Qualified Buyer”). ## II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The COVID-19 Healthcare Crisis Necessitates Emergency Relief

Relief on an emergency basis is necessary in view of the public health crisis resulting from the COVID-19 epidemic. Additional healthcare beds are urgently needed to care for those affected by the epidemic. If these additional beds are not made available immediately, the healthcare systems in Los Angeles County (where St. Vincent is located) and San Mateo County (where Seton is located) will not have sufficient capacity to respond effectively to the exponential increase in infections.

Emergency relief is also warranted by the estates' precarious financial position. The Seton Agreement will inject cash needed to cover operating losses at Seton. The estates continue to accrue costs associated with St. Vincent notwithstanding its closure. The lease payments under the St. Vincent Agreement will offset some of these costs.

B. Subject to Any Opposition that May Be Presented at the Hearing, the Court is Prepared to Grant the Motion

Section 363(b) permits the Debtors to use estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The Debtors must articulate a business justification supporting the proposed use of the property. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20. In evaluating the asserted business justification, the Court applies the business judgment standard, under which the Court presumes that the Debtors "acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate." Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007).

The Debtors have articulated ample business justification for entering into the Agreements. First, the Agreements further the Debtors' charitable mission of providing healthcare to members of their communities. Second, the Agreements provide needed cash for the estates. Third, entry into the Agreements will not prevent the Debtors from continuing to pursue sales of Seton and St. Vincent.

The Court finds the proposed order submitted in connection with the Motion to be appropriate. Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h), the order on the Motion shall take effect immediately. A stay would harm public health by delaying the State's ability to increase the healthcare system's capacity to fight the epidemic.

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Movant has established a prima facie case that cause exists, and Debtor has not responded with evidence establishing that the property is not declining in value or that Movant is adequately protected.

The subject property has a value of $495,000 (Exhibit 3) and is encumbered by a perfected deed of trust of the Movant in the sum of $79,631.10. See Motion at 8.

Chapter 7

Considering Movant's lien, all senior liens against the property, and the estimated costs of sale, there is an equity cushion of $63,438.90. See Motion at 8-9. There is some, but very little equity and there is no evidence that the property is necessary to a reorganization or that the trustee can administer the property for the benefit of creditors. Movant is protected by a 12.8% equity cushion in the property. The Ninth Circuit has established that an equity cushion of 20% constitutes adequate protection for a secured creditor. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral).

Because the equity cushion in this case is less than 20%, the Court concludes that Movant's interest in the collateral is not adequately protected. This is cause to terminate the stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez, the Judge's law clerks at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. very little equity and there is no evidence that the property is necessary to a reorganization or that the trustee can administer the property for the benefit of creditors. Movant is protected by a 1.25% equity cushion in the property. The Ninth Circuit has established that an equity cushion of 20% constitutes adequate protection for a secured creditor. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral).

Because the equity cushion in this case is less than 20%, the Court concludes that Movant's interest in the collateral is not adequately protected. This is cause to terminate the stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). Additionally, the Court takes judicial notice of the Debtor's intention to surrender the subject property. See Motion, Ex. 5.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez, the Judge's law clerks at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is DENIED.

Stephen Winner (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition on February 21, 2020 (the "Petition Date") [Doc. No. 1].

On March 3, 2020, Angelson, LLC (the "Movant") filed the "Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay, or For Order Confirming that the Automatic Stay Does Not Apply under 11 U.S.C. § 362(l)" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 6]. On March 16, 2020, the Court continued the hearing on the Motion to March 30, 2020, given that the Movant failed to demonstrate proper service on the Debtor. The Court further instructed Movant that by no later than March 23, 2020, Movant was required to: (i) file a notice of continued hearing ("Notice") on the docket; (ii) serve the Motion and Notice on the Debtor by posting or personal service; and (iii) file a proof of service evidencing compliance with the ruling. As of March 25, 2020, the Movant has not filed any additional documents, or, as far as the Court is aware, otherwise complied with its ruling.

Based on the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED. The Court will prepare the order.

Here, although the proof of service attached to the Motion is dated 3/3/2020, it does not specify that the Debtor was served either by personal delivery or posting (as opposed to overnight mail service, facsimile transmission, and/or e-mail) as required by the Court's Self-Calendaring Instructions. By no later than March 23, 2020, Movant is directed to take the following actions: (i) file a notice of continued hearing ("Notice") on the docket; (ii) serve the Motion and Notice on the Debtor by posting or personal service; and (iii) file a proof of service evidencing compliance with this ruling. business debts, consisting of $47,543 in nonpriority unsecured debt. See RJN, Ex. 2 [Debtor's Official Form 101 and Schedule E/F] [Note 1]. As set forth on his amended Means Test form (the "Debtor's Means Test), the Debtor represents having an adjusted current monthly income ("CMI") of $5,721.90—annualized to $68,662.80—and allowed deductions of $5,615.48, demonstrating monthly disposable income of $106.42. See RJN, Ex. 3 [the Debtor's Means Test]. The Debtor states that the presumption of abuse is not triggered because his total disposable income over the next sixty months is $6,385.20, below the threshold of abuse imposed by the means test. Id. The § 341(a) meeting of the creditors occurred on January 6, 2020 and concluded that same day. On January 16, 2020, the United States Trustee's Office (the "UST") filed a Statement of Presumed Abused and subsequently filed a motion to dismiss the Debtor's case for abuse pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 707(b) (the "Motion") on February 13, 2020 [Doc. No. 13].

Summary of the Motion

The UST moves to dismiss this case because an appropriate calculation of Debtor's monthly disposable income triggers the presumption of abuse pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(2) (the "Means Test"). Alternatively, the UST argues that Debtor's case should be dismissed for abuse under the "totality of the circumstances" theory found in § 707(b)(3)(B). According to the UST, the Debtor erroneously completed Means Test calculations, significantly understating his CMI by improperly or unjustifiably claiming certain deductions. The UST claims that a proper Means Test calculation would show that the Debtor has $485.88 in monthly disposable income, after allowed deductions, equating to income of $29,152.80 over sixty months, which is sufficient to repay 61.3% of unsecured claims through that period. Motion at 10. The UST furnished a revised Means Test form (the "UST's Means Test") [Exhibit 3 of the Motion], which corrects inaccuracies contained in the Debtor's Means Test [RJN, Ex. 3]. In support of the Motion, the UST further attached the declaration of bankruptcy analyst, Yolanda Cannon, who asserts that the UST's Means Test is based on her review of the schedules, statements, and other financial records submitted by Debtor. See Declaration of Yolanda Cannon [Cannon Decl.], ¶ 7.

The UST asserts that the Debtor improperly claimed the following expense deductions:

1. Line 9 (Local Housing and Utilities Allowance, Debtor claimed $1994 but could have only claimed $1,741). To claim an adjustment on the housing and utilities allowance, a debtor must provide that "special circumstances" warrant such adjustment. The UST argues that the mere fact that a debtor's rent exceeds IRS local standards for rental expenses is not a special circumstance. See Motion at 12 (citing to In re Harris, 522 B.R. 804, 819 (Bankr. E.D.N.C. Dec. 24, 2014)). Here, the Debtor has not advanced any justification for claiming a housing allowance that exceeds local standards.

2. Line 33 (monthly repayment of loan taken against 401(k) account, Debtor claimed $87.94 but should have claimed $0). The UST argues that a debtor's obligation to make loan payments against retirement accounts does not constitute "debt" in the bankruptcy context. Motion at 13 (citing to In re Egebjerg, 574 F.3d 1045, 1049-1050 (9th Cir. 2009)). Therefore, the Debtor's monthly 401(k) loan repayment cannot be deducted as a secured debt obligation.
3. Line 13 (vehicle ownership expenses, Debtor claimed $200 but should have claimed $0). Pursuant to the Supreme Court's decision in Ransom, debtors may not claim vehicle ownership expenses, if they have not actually incurred expenses arising from the purchase or lease of a vehicle. The UST asserts that the Debtor's commencement schedules do not indicate that he makes any loan or lease payments on his vehicle. See Motion at 15; RJN, Ex. 2 [Debtor's Schedules D and J]. Therefore, the UST submits that the Debtor is not entitled to such expense deductions.
4. Line 23 (optional telephone services, Debtor claimed $100 but should have claimed $0). The UST argues that the Debtor has not explained why such expenses are "necessary for [his] health or welfare or that of [his] dependents," or otherwise justified. Motion at 15.
5. Line 12 (vehicle operation expenses, Debtor should have claimed $473, instead of only $273). The UST clarifies that the Debtor miscalculated this expense, which should have been $200 higher.
6. Line 36 (estimated chapter 13 administrative expenses, Debtor should have claimed $43.48, instead of $0). The Debtor should have included the amount of administrative expenses estimated under chapter 13.

Based on the foregoing, the UST submits that the Debtor's allowed expense deductions total only $5,236.02, indicating that the Debtor's disposable income over sixty months is sufficient to repay 61.3% of unsecured claims over the next five years. Motion at 17. Even if the Court does not find presumed abuse, the UST maintains that this case can be dismissed as "abusive" under § 707(b)(3)(B) based on the "totality of the circumstances." The UST asserts that based on Debtor's Schedules I and J, Debtor would have net income of $40,735.80 over the next five years, a sufficient amount to pay 85.7% of unsecured claims. See Cannon Decl., ¶ 32. In the alternative, if the Court does not grant this Motion, the UST requests an order extending the bar date to file a nondischargeability action under § 727.

As of the date of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. The Debtor's Case is Presumptively Abusive

This Court has explained the function and purpose of the Means Test as follows:

Among the significant changes effected by the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005 ("BAPCPA") was the introduction of the § 707(b)(2) Means Test. Designed to ferret out abusive bankruptcy petitions, the Means Test creates a "presumption of abuse" if the debtor's Current Monthly Income (CMI)—as determined by a detailed statutory formula—is above a certain amount. Debtors unable to rebut the presumption of abuse may have their cases dismissed or be required to fund a Chapter 13 plan. However, even debtors who survive the Means Test may see their cases dismissed pursuant to § 707(b)(3)(B), which permits the Court to dismiss a case if "the totality of the circumstances ... of the debtor's financial situation demonstrates abuse."

In re Jensen, 407 B.R. 378, 380–81 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2009).

"Current monthly income" ("CMI") for purposes of the Means Test calculation is defined as the "average monthly income from all sources that the debtor receives ... during the 6-month period ending on the last day of the calendar month immediately preceding the date of the commencement of the case ...." 11 U.S.C. § 101(10A).

i. The Debtor's CMI is $5,721.90

Both the Debtor and the UST agree that that Debtor has a CMI of $5,721.90. See Motion, Ex. 3; RJN, Ex. 3.

Chapter 7

ii. The Debtor is entitled to claim deductions totaling $5,236.02

The Debtor's Means Test indicates that Debtor claimed monthly income deductions of $5,615.48. See RJN, Ex. 3. The UST rests its argument on the claim that Debtor inaccurately completed the Means Test with respect to six line items: Lines 9 (local housing and utilities allowance), 33 (secured debt payments), 12 (vehicle operation expenses), 13 (vehicle ownership expenses), 23 (optional telephone services), and 36 (estimated chapter 13 expenses).

The Code provides that a debtor's monthly expense allowances consist of "the debtor's applicable monthly expense amounts specified under the National Standards and Local Standards." See 11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(2)(A)(ii)(I). The House Report issued concurrently with BAPCPA explains that the relevant standards are those listed in the Internal Revenue Service Financial Analysis Handbook (the "IRS Handbook") as Necessary Expenses under the National and Local Standards categories. H.R.Rep. No. 109-31 at 13-14 (2005), U.S. Code Cong. & Admin. News 2005, p. 88 (footnotes omitted). The IRS Handbook is part of the IRS's Internal Revenue Manual (the "IRM"). H.R.Rep. No. 109-31 at 13, n. 62. "[T]he local standards for housing, utilities, and transportation serve as a cap. The taxpayer is allowed the local standard or the amount actually paid, whichever is less." IRM § 5.19.1.4.3.2(2) (emphasis omitted). "If a debtor's actual expenses exceed the amounts listed in [the IRS's] National and Local Standards tables, the debtor may claim an allowance only for the specified sum, rather than for his real expenditures." Ransom v. FIA Card Servs., N.A., 562 U.S. 61, 131 S. Ct. 716, 178 L. Ed. 2d 603 (2011). In the Ninth Circuit, the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel has recognized that above-median debtors may attempt to claim expenses in excess of the "IRS Standards" based on "special circumstances" under 11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(2)(B). See In re Luedtke, 508 B.R. 408, 416 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2014) (internal citations omitted).

Having reviewed the UST's arguments, and noting the lack of opposition, the Court finds that the proposed line adjustments to Debtor's Means Test are appropriate as listed below. First, with respect to Debtor's housing expenses (Line 9), the Court determines that Ransom is applicable where the Debtor has attempted to claim rental expenses surpassing the Los Angeles housing expense standards, without citing any special circumstances. Second, it is well-settled precedent that vehicle ownership expenses may not be claimed where the debtor owns the subject vehicle free and clear. See Ransom, 562 U.S. at 68 (affirming the Ninth Circuit's finding that debtors may not claim vehicle ownership deductions in the means test for vehicles owned outright). Therefore, because Debtor's schedules do not indicate that he is obligated to make any car payments, Debtor may not claim any Line 13 deductions. Third, the Ninth Circuit has established that an obligation to repay a 401(k) loan does not constitute secured debt; therefore, debtors may not deduct such payments for purposes of the means test under § 707(b)(2). See In re Egebjerg, 574 F.3d at 1049. Additionally, the mere obligation to make payments on a 401(k) loan cannot be deemed a special circumstance either. Id. at 1052-53. Based on the Egebjerg decision, the Debtor may not claim a monthly deduction of $87.94 for 401(k) loan payments listed in Line 33. The Court accepts the remainder of the UST's proposed revisions to Lines 12, 23, and 36 as the Debtor either miscalculated or failed to justify the information provided thereon.

In sum, the Court determines that the Debtor is only entitled to claim $5,236.02 in expense deductions for the purpose of the Means Test calculation.

iii. Means Test Calculation

Based on the foregoing, the presumption of abuse arises. Debtor's CMI is $5,721.90. The Debtor's total monthly expense deductions are $5,236.02. That leaves the Debtor with monthly disposable income of $485.88, or disposable income over a 60-month period of $29,152.80, which would be sufficient to pay off 61.3% of unsecured claims. The Debtor's disposable income far exceeds the $13,650 threshold triggering the presumption of abuse under §707(b)(2)(A)(i)(II).

B. The Debtor Has Failed to Rebut the Presumption of Abuse

Section 707(b)(2)(B)(i) provides that the presumption of abuse may be rebutted by "demonstrating special circumstances, such as a serious medical condition or a call or order to active duty in the Armed Forces, to the extent such special circumstances ... justify additional expenses or adjustments of current monthly income for which there is no reasonable alternative." To establish special circumstances, the Debtor must itemize each additional expense and provide "a detailed explanation of the special circumstances that make such expenses or adjustment to income necessary and reasonable." § 707(b)(2)(B)(ii). Here, the Debtor has failed to file an opposition; and therefore, the presumption of abuse arises under §707(b) and has not been rebutted. Because the Court finds that this petition is presumptively abusive, it will not consider dismissal under the totality of the circumstances test, or the UST's request to extend the deadline to object to the Debtor's discharge.

C. The Case Will Be Converted to Chapter 13

Where the §707(b) presumption of abuse arises and has not been rebutted, the Court must dismiss the case, unless the Debtor consents to conversion to chapter 13. 11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(1). The UST states that the Motion seeks only dismissal, not conversion. However, §707(b)(1) expressly provides debtors the option to convert to chapter 13 if the Court finds that relief under chapter 7 would be abusive. On March 25, 2020, the Debtor filed a Motion to Convert Case under 11 U.S.C. § 706(a) (the "Conversion Motion"), requesting to convert his case to one under chapter 13. Based on the filing of the Conversion Motion, the Court finds that the Debtor has clearly expressed consent to prosecute his case under chapter 13. Moreover, given that all interested parties have been on notice to the possibility of conversion from the outset of this Motion, the Court is prepared to grant the Conversion Motion, notwithstanding that the customary 17-day objection period has not elapsed yet.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED as follows. Over a sixty-month period, the Debtor is projected to have $29,152.80 in income available to repay 61.3% of unsecured claims. The §707(b) presumption of abuse arises and has not been rebutted. Following from this finding, the case would have been dismissed, unless the Debtor consented to conversion to chapter 13. The Court deems the filing of the Conversion Motion as Debtor's consent to chapter 13 conversion, in lieu of case dismissal. Subject to any opposition that may be presented at the hearing, the Court is prepared to GRANT the Conversion Motion herewith.

The UST is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Note 1: Federal Rule of Evidence 201 allows a court to take judicial notice of facts that are not subject to reasonable dispute because they are either "(1) generally known within the territorial jurisdiction of the trial court or (2) capable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned." In re Blumer, 95 B.R. 143, 147 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988). A court may take judicial notice of bankruptcy petitions and schedules as these documents are public record capable of accurate and ready determination. Becker v. Wells Fargo Bank, Nat. Ass'n, 2012 WL 5187792 (E.D. Cal. Oct. 18, 2012). Here, the UST requests that the Court take judicial notice of Debtor's amended schedules, the Debtor's Means Test, the case docket, and three publicly-available bankruptcy court opinions. The Court finds it appropriate to take judicial notice of the above stated documents, and therefore, the UST's request is granted.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Damu and Akiba Vusha (the "Debtors") filed a voluntary chapter 11 case on February 5, 2018. On March 9, 2018, the Court granted the Debtors' application to employ the Law Offices of Michael Jay Berger ("Counsel") as their general bankruptcy counsel [Doc. No. 35]. On November 27, 2019, the Court entered an Order Granting Motion to Confirm Debtors' Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization [Doc. No. 161] (the "Confirmation Order"). The first Post-Confirmation Status Conference was initially set for March 18, 2020, but the Court sua sponte continued the hearing to March 31, 2020, to be heard concurrently with the Motion to Withdraw.

The Status Report

The Debtors, through Counsel, filed the Chapter 11 Post-Confirmation Status Report on March 4, 2020 [Doc. No. 180] (the “Status Report”). Based on the Status Report, as of March 2020, the Debtors have accrued a deficiency on most outstanding plan payments, which include all payments on administrative claims and U.S. Trustee fees, as well as a sizeable amount due to the classes of secured, priority, and general unsecured creditors. See Status Report at 2-6 (providing an itemized status update on each outstanding payment). The Debtors are current on post-confirmation taxes. The Debtors claim that their ability to stay current on plan payments was compromised by approximately $5,000 in medical costs incurred in February 2020, which were precipitated by unexpected “health-related issues” affecting Debtors and one of the Debtors’ mother. Status Report at 7. However, the Debtors project that their income stream will stabilize going forward. The Debtors plan to cure payment deficiencies by selling their rental property located at 1300 W. 69th Street, Los Angeles, CA 90044 (the “Property”), which they posted for sale on March 4, 2020. The Status Report further states that the Plan is expected to be consummated by January 2025, and the Debtors will request a final decree closing the case on an interim basis on or before June 30, 2020. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Debtors have not responded to the Status Report on an individual basis.

The Motion to Withdraw

On February 7, 2020, Counsel filed an application for an abstract of judgment against the Debtors for unpaid attorney’s fees in the sum of $14,839.13 [Doc. No. 174]. Thereafter, on March 4, 2020, Counsel filed a motion to withdraw as counsel (the “Motion to Withdraw”), given the Debtors’ failure to pay estate professionals’ outstanding bills, cooperate in the prosecution of their case, and due to the irreparable deterioration of Counsel’s relationship with his clients. Counsel states that it cannot elaborate on the particular details concerning the troubled relationship but asserts that the Debtors’ have refused to assist Counsel in the case and have breached provisions of the Counsel’s fee agreement.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Debtors have not filed an opposition to the Motion to Withdraw.

II. Findings and Conclusions

No appearances required. This is a post-confirmation status conference. Based on its review of the Motion to Withdraw and the Status Report, and in light of the recent COVID-19 outbreak, the Court CONTINUES the status conference to June 2, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. The Debtors must submit a further Post-Confirmation Status Report (the "Second Status Report") by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. The Second Status Report should inform the Court about the status of the sale of the Property, and whether the Debtors were capable of making timely plan payments due on or after March 31, 2020. The Motion to Withdraw is CONTINUED to June 2, 2020, at 10:00 a.m., to be heard concurrently with the continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference. By no later than ten days prior to the continued hearing, the Debtors and Counsel shall meet and confer to try and settle any disagreements.

The Court will prepare the order.

and 4048] with respect to work performed during the Application Period, none of which have been opposed.

Debtors filed a reservation of rights (the "Reservation of Rights") [Doc. No. 4287] to the Application. Debtors allege that the Committee, acting through professionals Milbank and FTI (the "Committee Professionals"), has spent more than $250,000 investigating and prosecuting claims against the Prepetition Secured Creditors (as defined in the Final DIP Order [Doc. No. 409]), in violation of the cap set forth in the Final DIP Order. Debtors do not seek disallowance of the fees sought in the Application at this time, but reserve their right to seek disallowance of the Committee Professionals' fees in the future.

On November 16, 2018, the Court entered an Amended Order on Debtors' Motion Establishing Procedures for Monthly Payment of Fees and Expense Reimbursement [Doc. No. 826] (the "Fee Procedures Order"). [Note 1] Pursuant to the Fee Procedures Order, each professional employed by the estate may file a monthly fee application (each, a "Monthly Application") seeking payment of interim compensation in an amount equal to 80% of the fees sought and 100% of the expenses incurred during the prior month. If no objection is filed and served within ten calendar days after the date of the filing of the notice of the Monthly Application, the Monthly Application is deemed approved on an interim basis, and the Debtors are authorized to pay 80% of the fees and 100% of the expenses requested in the Monthly Application without further order of the Court. [Note 2] The failure to object to a Monthly Application does not result in a waiver of a party's ability to object to an interim fee application.

On November 6, 2018, the Court entered an order authorizing the employment of Milbank LLP ("Milbank") as counsel to the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee"). See Doc. No. 778. Milbank seeks the allowance of fees and expenses for the period between September 1, 2019 and December 31, 2019 (the "Application Period"). See Doc. No. 4242 (the "Application"). Pursuant to the Fee Procedures Order, Milbank has submitted four Monthly Applications [Doc. Nos. 3505,

Debtors filed a reservation of rights (the "Reservation of Rights") [Doc. No. 4287] to the Application. Debtors allege that the Committee, acting through professionals Milbank and FTI (the "Committee Professionals"), has spent more than $250,000 investigating and prosecuting claims against the Prepetition Secured Creditors (as defined in the Final DIP Order [Doc. No. 409]), in violation of the cap set forth in the Final DIP Order. Debtors do not seek disallowance of the fees sought in the Application at this time, but reserve their right to seek disallowance of the Committee Professionals' fees in the future.

"Because interim awards are interlocutory and often require future adjustments, they are 'always subject to the court's reexamination and adjustment during the course of the case.'" Leichty v. Neary (In re Strand), 375 F.3d 854, 858 (9th Cir. 2004) (internal citation omitted). The ruling on the instant Application is without prejudice to the Debtors' ability to object at a later time to the fees awarded to the Committee Professionals. The Court makes no determination regarding the allegations set forth in the Reservation of Rights.

Other than the Reservation of Rights, no objections to the Application have been filed. Having reviewed the Application and the Declaration of Michael Strollo [Doc. No. 4244] filed in support thereof, the Court approves, on an interim basis, the fees and expenses set forth below, which may be paid (to the extent not previously paid) subject to available cash on hand in the estate:

which have been opposed.

On March 18, 2020, the Court conducted a hearing on St. Vincent IPA's Motion to Enforce Critical Vendor Agreement [Doc. No. 4146] (the "Critical Vendor Motion"). St. Vincent IPA Medical Corporation (the "Group") was required to bring the Critical Vendor Motion because the Debtors, through counsel PSZJ, took the position that the Debtors were not required to pay the Group $150,000 for services that the Group had performed in January 2020 (the "January 2020 Payment"). Debtors took this position even though the plain language of a Settlement Agreement [Note 3] that had been drafted by the Debtors required the January 2020 Payment. As explained in the Final Ruling Granting Critical Vendor Motion [Doc. No. 4295], the arguments advanced by the Debtors were wholly without merit.

Although PSZJ does not seek compensation for litigating the Critical Vendor Motion in connection with the instant Application, the Court finds it appropriate to emphasize that PSZJ did not exercise appropriate billing discretion in electing to contest the estates' liability for the January 2020 Payment. The issues raised in the Critical Vendor Motion should have been resolved without Court intervention.

The Court highlights this issue to remind all of the estates' professionals of the importance of resolving disputes informally whenever possible. The Court looks with disfavor upon attempts to bill the estates for unnecessary litigation.

Returning to the matter at hand, no objections to the Application have been filed. Having reviewed the Application and the Declaration of Elspeth D. Paul [Doc. No. 4237] in support thereof, the Court approves, on an interim basis, the fees and expenses set forth below, which may be paid (to the extent not previously paid) subject to available cash on hand in the estate:

For the reasons set forth below, the Financing Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion to Approve Post-Petition Financing Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 363 and 364(c) [Doc. No. 112] (the "Financing Motion")
2. Lender's Statement in Response to Motion to Approve Post-Petition Financing Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 363 and 364(c) [Doc. No. 117]
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no other response or opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession, David Christopher Brady (the "Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on May 24, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor's largest asset consists of real property located at 1511 Summitridge Drive, Los Angeles, CA 90210 (the "Property"). As set forth in a November 19, 2019 appraisal, the Property has a fair market value of $5,270,000. See Declaration of David Christopher Brady ("Brady Decl."), ¶ 6. The Debtor's chapter 11 filing was precipitated by construction issues arising from the Property's remodel, which led to disputes with certain contractors, subcontractors, and the Property's then-senior lienholder, Banc of California ("Banc"). The Banc's secured loan is now held by Fairview Loans IV, LLC ("Fairview"). The Debtor asserts that the Property is encumbered by the following liens, listed herein in order of priority:

1. Fairview holds a secured senior lien in the sum of $2,876,621.94;
2. Kindness General Contractors, LLC ("Kindness") holds a mechanics lien in the amount of $144,596.20 [Note 1];
3. Los Angeles County Treasurer & Tax Collector ("LACTTC") holds a claim in the amount of $40,040.63.

See Brady Decl., ¶ 5. On October 2, 2019, the Court approved the Debtor's settlement agreement with three subcontractors, pursuant to which, said subcontractors released mechanics liens against the Property [Doc. No. 54].

On March 2, 2020, the Debtor filed a post-petition financing motion implicating the above-referenced interests in the Property (the "Financing Motion"). The Debtor seeks to borrow debt totaling $2,350,000 from Marquee Funding Group, Inc. ("Marquee") pursuant to §§ 363 and 364 (the "Loan"). The Loan will be secured by a first-priority lien in favor of Marquee. The Debtor states that despite expending reasonable efforts, he was not able to obtain financing on an unsecured basis. Brady Decl., ¶ 8.

The material terms of the Loan are as follows:

Loan Amount: $2,350,000

Term: 24 months, fixed rate

- 24 monthly interest-only payments of $19,583.33
- Balloon payment of $2,369,583.33 due on 4/1/2022

Interest Rate: 10%

*All lien and property taxes must be paid in full through escrow.

See Financing Motion at 5-6. In addition to the Loan, the Debtor asserts that his father will gift him $886,661.51 for the purpose of paying off all liens asserted against the Property. In sum, the Debtor requests an order authorizing him to (i) finalize the Loan in accordance with the terms set forth in Exhibit A; (ii) use monies from the Loan and his father's monetary contribution to payoff or bond all liens against the Property in full; and (iii) replace Fairview's lien against the Property with a first-priority lien in favor of Marquee. The Debtor argues that the post-petition financing requested is in the best interests of all creditors and the estate as it will enable Debtor to fully pay-off or bond secured claims in excess of amounts owed. Moreover, given that there is sufficient equity in the Property, the Debtor asserts that all Property lienholders will be adequately protected.

On March 16, 2020, Fairview filed a response to the Financing Motion [Doc. No. 117]. Fairview clarifies that its secured loan is in default and non-performing, and but for Debtor's representations made herein, Fairview would have filed a stay relief motion. Notwithstanding, Fairview expects to receive a full payoff from Debtor, and therefore, it does not oppose the Financing Motion. The Lender, however, reserves all available rights against the Debtor.

As of this tentative ruling, there is no substantive opposition on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 364 governs the obtaining of credit or incurring of debt by a debtor in possession and sets forth the incentives that may be offered to induce potential lenders to extend post-petition credit. In re Stanton, 248 B.R. 823, 828 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000) aff'd, 285 F.3d 888 (9th Cir. 2002) opinion amended and superseded on denial of reh'g, 303 F.3d 939 (9th Cir. 2002) and aff'd, 303 F.3d 939 (9th Cir. 2002). Section 364 provides in relevant part:

- (c) If the trustee is unable to obtain unsecured credit allowable under section 503(b)(1) of this title as an administrative expense, the court, after notice and a hearing, may authorize the obtaining of credit or the incurring of debt—
  - (1) with priority over any or all administrative expenses of the kind specified in section 503(b) or 507(b) of this title;
  - (2) secured by a lien on property of the estate that is not otherwise subject to a lien; or
  - (3) secured by a junior lien on property of the estate that is subject to a lien.
- (d)(1) The court, after notice and a hearing, may authorize the obtaining of credit or the incurring of debt secured by a senior or equal lien on property of the estate that is subject to a lien only if—
  - (A) the trustee is unable to obtain such credit otherwise; and
  - (B) there is adequate protection of the interest of the holder of the lien on the property of the estate on which such senior or equal lien is proposed to be granted.

(2) In any hearing under this subsection, the trustee has the burden of proof on the issue of adequate protection.

Based on its review of the Financing Motion, the Debtor's declaration, and all other supporting documents, the Court determines that the Debtor has been unable to obtain financing on terms more favorable than those provided in the Loan, and thereby the Financing Motion is in the best interests of secured creditors and the estate. As stated in the Escrow Closing Statement, secured creditors will be adequately protected because loan proceeds, along with Debtor's father's gift contribution, will be sufficient to pay off or bond all secured claims and tax liens in full. See Financing Motion, Ex. A. Following payoff of property taxes and Fairview's lien through escrow, and the bonding of Kindness's disputed claim, the Debtor's secured claims will be in good standing, allowing Debtor to grant Marquee a senior lien on the Property. See id. Therefore, the Debtor has satisfied the adequate protection showing under § 364(d)

Moreover, the Court deems the failure of any interested party to file a substantive opposition as consent to granting the Financing Motion pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(h).

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Financing Motion is GRANTED. As set forth above, the Debtor is authorized to close the Loan, payoff or bond all secured claims, and grant Marquee a senior lien against the Property. To expedite the closing of the Loan, the order approving the Financing Motion shall take effect immediately upon entry, notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h).

The Debtor shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor-in-possession, Rambutan Thai (the "Debtor"), commenced this voluntary chapter 11 case on June 1, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is a California corporation owned by Khwannappa Noochloor ("Noochloor"), Kulvadee Daniel ("Daniel"), and Taraporn Rattanamanee ("Rattanamanee") (collectively, the "Insiders"), each possessing a one-third interest in Debtor. The Debtor operates a Thai restaurant in the Silver Lake neighborhood, which conducts business as "Same Same Thai." Based on the Disclosure Statement, the Debtor's assets consist of cash flow revenue and a collection of fixed assets, consisting of furniture, equipment, and food inventory. The Debtor's chapter 11 filing was precipitated by an assessment of unpaid sales taxes of approximately $233,000 by the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration ("CDTFA"). The Debtor seeks bankruptcy relief to restructure its outstanding tax debt, and other claims, with minimal disruption to its business operations. To assist in its reorganization, the Debtor secured the services of Jeffrey S. Shinbrot, APLC ("Debtor's Counsel"), as general bankruptcy counsel, and Grobstein Teeple, LLC ("Debtor's Accountant"), as estate accountant.

The Debtor presently seeks an order approving the adequacy of its Disclosure Statement. The Disclosure Statement details the events discussed above which led to this bankruptcy filing and provides a description of significant post-petition events. The Plan proposes the following classification scheme and treatments:

Administrative Claims

The Debtor anticipates that administrative fees for professionals will be approximately $30,000, of which $15,000 will be sought by Debtor's Counsel, and $15,000 by Debtor's Accountant. The Debtor proposes to pay all administrative claims on the effective date of the Plan, which shall be 30 days after entry of an order approving the Plan (the "Effective Date").

Priority Tax Claims

The Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") and the CDTFA hold priority tax claims against the Debtor. The Debtor proposes to pay the priority portion of the IRS's claim totaling $1,222.31 in full on the Effective, while an unsecured portion of $14,958.49 will be compensated pursuant to the proposed treatment of the unsecured creditor class. The CDTFA's claim of $255,549 shall be paid in four equal, periodic installments of $63,887.35 on December 31, 2020, September 30, 2021, June 30, 2022, and March 31, 2023.

Class 1 – General Unsecured Claims

Class 1 consists of all allowed general unsecured claims, which the Debtor estimates hold aggregate claims in the amount of $17,664. See Disclosure Statement at 9. The Debtor proposes to pay this class approximately 42.4% of their claims, without interest, by paying each creditor in this class a one-time, pro-rated share of $7,500, 45 days after the Effective Date. This class is impaired and entitled to vote on the Plan.

Class 2 – Class of Interest Holders

This class consists of the Insiders' ownership interest in the Debtor. The Plan contemplates that the Insiders will retain their equity interests in the Debtor. In return for maintaining ownership interests, the Plan calls for the Insiders to collectively make a single new value contribution of $7,500. This class is not impaired and may not vote on the Plan.

Means of Implementation

Based on the figures provided in the Disclosure Statement, the Debtor's Plan will be funded from available cash totaling $77,500, consisting of the following sources:

- i. Approximately $62,000 cash on hand Debtor will have in its DIP account on the Effective Date.
- ii. Additional estimated funds of $8,000 that will accumulate from projected net revenue between now and the Effective Date.
- iii. A one-time $7,500 new value contribution from the Insiders, each Insider paying an amount proportionate to their ownership interest in the Debtor.
- iv. Future disposable income over the next 5 years. Based on cash flow projections, the Debtor anticipates having sufficient income to cover all proposed plan payments. See Disclosure Statement, Ex. C.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 1125 requires a disclosure statement to contain "information of a kind, and in sufficient detail, as far as is reasonably practicable in light of the nature and history of the debtor and the condition of the debtor's books and records . . . that would enable. . . a hypothetical investor of the relevant class to make an informed judgment about the plan." In determining whether a disclosure statement provides adequate information, "the court shall consider the complexity of the case, the benefit of additional information to creditors and other parties in interest, and the cost of providing additional information." 11 U.S.C. § 1125(a). Courts interpreting § 1125(a) have explained that the "primary purpose of a disclosure statement is to give Relevant factors for evaluating the adequacy of a disclosure statement may include: (1) the events which led to the filing of a bankruptcy petition; (2) a description of the available assets and their value; (3) the anticipated future of the company; (4) the source of information stated in the disclosure statement; (5) a disclaimer; (6) the present condition of the debtor while in Chapter 11; (7) the scheduled claims; (8) the estimated return to creditors under a Chapter 7 liquidation; (9) the accounting method utilized to produce financial information and the name of the accountants responsible for such information; (10) the future management of the debtor; (11) the Chapter 11 plan or a summary thereof; (12) the estimated administrative expenses, including attorneys' and accountants' fees; (13) the collectability of accounts receivable; (14) financial information, data, valuations or projections relevant to the creditors' decision to accept or reject the Chapter 11 plan; (15) information relevant to the risks posed to creditors under the plan; (16) the actual or projected realizable value from recovery of preferential or otherwise voidable transfers; (17) litigation likely to arise in a nonbankruptcy context; (18) tax attributes of the debtor; and (19) the relationship of the debtor with affiliates.

the COVID-19 pandemic. Specifically, the Court is concerned by the financial impact reasonably expected on Debtor's restaurant operations. For that reason, the information disseminated in the Disclosure Statement with respect to Debtor's projected cash flows, present financial condition, and other information relevant to the Plan's feasibility is likely outdated and inadequately describes creditors' risk under the Plan. Without an adequate discussion on Debtor's current status, creditors will not possess the necessary information to evaluate whether or not to accept the Plan. This is important because Debtor's successful reorganization requires that a sufficient number of Class 1 creditors approve the Plan. In view of the foregoing, the Debtor shall file an amended disclosure statement and plan that addresses the Debtor's current and projected finances. To the extent that Debtor's financial condition is compromised by the COVID-19 outbreak, the Debtor is instructed to supplement Section III.E of the Disclosure Statement, which pertains to the Plan's risk factors. See Disclosure Statement at 11.

Additionally, the amended disclosure statement and plan must also address the following issues:

- Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 2002, the debtor, creditors, equity security holders, and other parties in interest must have 28 days' notice of a hearing on the approval of a disclosure statement. Here, both the Notice and the Amended Notice indicate that the Debtor failed to serve any papers on two unsecured creditors holding sizeable, although disputed, claims: Credit Collection Bureau and McCarthy, Burgess & Wolf. All other creditors holding claims identified as disputed, contingent, or unliquidated were served. See Doc. Nos. 55 & 57.
- The Disclosure Statement provides differing total dollar figures for allowed unsecured claims in different sections. On page 9 of the Disclosure Statement, the Debtor states that the total amount of allowed unsecured claims is $17,664, while the unsecured claim tally contained in the "List of General Unsecured Claims" is $18,144.56, excepting all disputed unsecured claims. Compare Disclosure Statement at 9 with Disclosure Statement, Ex. B. If this higher dollar figure is accurate, then unsecured creditors will stand to receive a lower pro-rated distribution than as indicated on the Disclosure Statement.
- The Debtor's liquidation analysis contains an inaccurate calculation of "TOTAL ASSETS" because this figure does not consider the amount of "TOTAL CURRENT ASSETS," only "TOTAL FIXED ASSETS". See

- The periodic installment the Debtor proposes to pay CDTFA ($63,887.35) under the Disclosure Statement differs from the distribution allocated in the 5-year projection ($58,144). See Disclosure Statement, Ex. C.

For the reasons set forth above, the Court cannot approve the Disclosure Statement until the Debtor cures the aforementioned issues in an amended disclosure statement and plan.

Furthermore, although the following is a plan confirmation issue, the Court notes that the Plan proposes that the Insiders will retain their ownership interest in the Debtor, while paying general unsecured creditors approximately 42% of their claims, without interest, in exchange for a single $7,500 new value contribution. Accordingly, the Debtor should be prepared to explain how the Plan's proposal—permitting the Insiders to retain an interest in the reorganized Debtor on account of their junior interests—satisfies the minimum requirements for new value contributions set forth in Bank of America v. 203 North LaSalle Street Partnership, 526 U.S. 434 (1999), required for plan confirmation.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, approval of the Disclosure Statement is DENIED. petition on March 18, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The claims bar date was July 1, 2019. Excluding a claim asserted by the Gallardos—which will be withdrawn pursuant to the Settlement Agreement—general unsecured claims total $94,555.29.

Debtors scheduled an ownership interest in real property located at 22483 Mountain View Road, Moreno Valley, CA 92557 (the "Property"). Prior to the Petition Date, the Property was the subject of an action commenced by the Gallardos against the Debtors in the Riverside County Superior Court (the "State Court Action"). In the State Court Action, the Gallardos alleged that co-Debtor John F. Gallardo purchased the Property with their funds and agreed that the Property would be theirs. The Gallardos sought a judgment placing the Property in a constructive trust for their benefit.

Subsequent to the Petition Date, the Trustee commenced an action against the Gallardos to quiet title to the Property (the "Adversary Proceeding"). The Trustee alleged that Gallardos could not overcome the presumption that the estate, as the holder of legal title to the Property, was also the Property's equitable owner.

The material terms of the Settlement Agreement are as follows:

- 1) The Gallardos shall purchase the estate's interest in the Property, free and clear of all existing liens, claims, and encumbrances, for an amount necessary to satisfy all existing liens, claims, and encumbrances, plus $100,000 (the "Settlement Amount"). As of February 19, 2020, the total Settlement Amount is estimated to be $335,000.
- 2) The following shall be paid from the Settlement Amount:
  - a) The consensual lien of Carrington Mortgage Services, LLC.
  - b) Outstanding real estate taxes.
  - c) All other costs of sale.
- 3) The Gallardos shall be deemed to have withdrawn their proof of claim upon entry of an order approving the Settlement Agreement.
- 4) The Gallardos shall dismiss the State Court Action with prejudice on the effective date of the Settlement Agreement.
- 5) If the Gallardos do not close the sale within ninety days after entry of an order approving the Settlement Agreement, the Trustee shall immediately market the Property. If the Trustee sells the Property, the Gallardos shall receive $50,000 from the net sale proceeds less administrative expenses incurred by the Trustee.
- 6) The Debtors agree that they shall have no claim of exemption in the

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair, and reasonable, and is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Probability of Success on the Merits

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The Adversary Proceeding is fact-intensive and would be expensive to litigate. The Gallardos contend that they contributed funds to the purchase of the Property and that they had an oral agreement with co-Debtor John Gallardo that the Property would be theirs. Co-Debtor John Gallardo denies that assertion.

The uncertainty regarding the outcome of continued prosecution of the Adversary Proceeding strongly supports approval of the Settlement Agreement. See In re Aloha Racing Found., Inc., 257 B.R. 83, 88 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 2000) (internal citations omitted) ("The burden is not on ... the Trustee to conclusively establish that he would be successful at a trial on these issues. That would defeat the purpose of settlement and would eliminate any cost savings from the settlement. 'All that he must do is establish to the reasonable satisfaction of [this Court] that, all things considered, it is prudent to eliminate the risks of litigation to achieve specific certainty though it might be considerably less (or more) than were the case fought to the bitter end.'").

Chapter 7

Complexity of the Litigation

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. As discussed above, the Adversary Proceeding involves disputed factual issues that would be expensive to litigate.

The possibility that additional litigation might yield a result nominally more favorable to the estate cannot be ruled out. Yet any such result obtained through litigation would be a pyrrhic victory from the perspective of the estate and creditors, because the additional administrative costs associated with the litigation would on net leave the estate worse off.

Paramount Interests of Creditors

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. If the Gallardos close upon the sale the Settlement Agreement will yield net proceeds to the estate of $100,000. Even if the Gallardos do not close the sale, the Settlement Agreement will resolve dispute over the estate's interest in the Property, and the estate will realize the proceeds of sale of the Property to a third party less the $50,000 payable to the Gallardos. In sum, the Settlement Agreement will yield funds for the estate while at the same time avoiding costly litigation. In addition, no creditors have objected to approval of the Settlement Agreement.

Difficulties To Be Encountered in the Manner of Collection

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. Absent the Settlement Agreement, the estate would not receive funds from liquidation of the Property unless and until the Trustee litigated the Adversary Proceeding to a successful conclusion, obtained turnover of the Property, removed the Gallardos from the Property, and sold the Property to a third party. The Settlement Agreement avoids the delay and expense associated with accomplishing these tasks.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. Because no opposition to the Motion is on file, the order approving the Motion shall take effect immediately upon entry, notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h). Within seven days of the hearing, the Trustee shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Gonzalez & Gonzalez Law, P.C. ("Gonzalez") applies for allowance of fees in the amount of $33,620 and costs in the amount of $3,579.86 (the "Gonzalez Application"). Rosendo Gonzalez ("R. Gonzalez") is the principal of Gonzalez, which served as the Debtor's general bankruptcy counsel until January 16, 2020. On May 16, 2019, Gonzalez received a retainer totaling $35,000, which it previously applied to fees and costs of $3,189.30. Gonzalez requests permission to deduct approved fees and costs from the remaining retainer amount. The Gonzalez Application covers a billing period from June 6, 2019 through January 7, 2020. In addition, Leonard De Los Prados, CPA ("DLP") applies for allowance of fees in the amount of $21,065.50 and costs in the amount of $78 (the "DLP Application," together with the Gonzalez Application, the "Fee Applications"). DLP requests permission to apply a $5,000 retainer against approved fees and costs.

On August 6, 2019, the Court entered orders approving the employment applications of Gonzalez and DLP as the Debtor's general bankruptcy counsel and accountant, respectively, as of June 6, 2019 [Doc. Nos. 33, 34]. On January 16, 2020, the Debtor filed an official form to substitute Gonzalez for the Law Offices of Michael Jay Berger as attorney of record [Doc. No. 75]. The Debtor, through her new bankruptcy counsel, opposes the Fee Applications [Doc. Nos. 76, 77].

A. Background

Lynn M. Vargas (the "Debtor"), filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition on June 4, 2019 (the "Petition Date") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor is an individual who owns five real estate parcels and operates a caregiver home business for adults with special needs. As set forth in her schedules [Doc. No. 1], the Debtor possesses an ownership interest in the following real properties:

- 1) 13226 Addington Street, Whittier, California 90602 (the "Addington Property"), the Debtor's claimed residence, with a market value of $527,557, which is not subject to any secured claims;
- 2) 13649 Russell Street, Whittier, California 90602 (the "Russell Property"), with a market value of $935,504, which is not subject to any secured claims;
- 3) 12322 Abana Street, Cerritos, California 90703 (the "Abana Property"), with a market value of $638,665, and subject to a secured claim held by Wells Fargo in the approximate amount of $432,596.28;
- 4) an unimproved land parcel in Hilo, Hawaii of unknown value; and
- 5) a burial plot in Rose Hills Memorial Park with a market value of $5,000.

The Gonzalez Application states that the Debtor filed for chapter 11 relief to restructure outstanding debts by selling the Addington Property. See Gonzalez Application at 3, ¶ J; see also Debtor's Application to Employ David Pannell of Keller Williams Realty as Real Estate Broker at 2-3 [Doc. No. 52] (the "Pannell Application"). To market and sell the Addington Property, Gonzalez asserts that the Debtor employed DLP and David Pannell ("Pannell"), a real estate broker. Gonzalez Application at 3-4, ¶¶ K, M. The Debtor's most significant debt consists of approximately $513,515.60 in disputed damages arising from a state court lawsuit filed by Maria "Amanti", a former employee of the Debtor, for breach of wage-and-hour regulations and other California Labor Code violations (the "Amante Action") [Note 1]. See Gonzalez Application at 3, 12; see also Declaration of Lynn Vargas in Support of Gonzalez Opposition, ¶ 2. As summarized below, the Debtor strongly disputes that she intended to seek bankruptcy relief as represented by Gonzalez.

The subject billing period includes the following events, inter alia: (1) responses to inquiries from the Office of the United States Trustee ("USTO") in relation to a motion to dismiss or convert; (2) resolution of such matter, which resulted in the USTO's voluntary withdrawal of the motion; (3) amendment of Debtor's commencement documents pursuant to an agreement with the USTO's office; (4) attempted settlement of the Amante Action; (5) the prospective retention of a special bankruptcy counsel to litigate the Amante Action; (6) retention of a real estate broker to market and sell the Addington Property; (7) preparation of a motion for an order to set a claims bar date; (8) preparation for a voluntary dismissal motion, which was not filed; (9) preparation of employment applications for two real estate brokers (one of which was not filed), general bankruptcy counsel, counsel's accountant, and a special bankruptcy counsel (not filed); (10) review of Debtor's financial statements; and (11) preparation and filing of monthly operating reports ("MORs") from June to October 2019. See generally Gonzalez Application, Ex. 2; DLP Application, Ex. 1.

Gonzalez states that an earlier version of the Gonzalez Application was delivered to the Debtor for approval, but Gonzalez did not receive any response. Declaration of Rosendo Gonzalez ("Gonzalez Decl."), ¶ 12.

B. The Gonzalez Opposition

On January 21, 2020, the Debtor filed the Gonzalez Opposition [Doc. No. 76]. The Debtor opposes the Gonzalez Application on the grounds that (1) Gonzalez pressured her to unnecessarily file this bankruptcy petition, (2) Gonzalez's chosen strategy provided no benefit to the estate, and (3) the fees sought in the Gonzalez Application are unreasonably high given the lack of progress in the case.

The principal argument advanced by the Gonzalez Opposition is that Gonzalez erred in advising the Debtor to file a chapter 11 petition to pay damages and other costs resulting from the Amante Action. The Debtor contends she consistently opposed bankruptcy because she did not want to jeopardize her ample equity in various real properties. Although she maintains that she repeatedly told Gonzalez that she did not want to continue the case, Gonzalez "convinced" or "pressured" her otherwise. After the petition date, the Debtor claims she instructed Gonzalez to dismiss the case. Debtor argues that Gonzalez's actions were not in her best interest as a debtor-in-possession because Gonzalez mismanaged this chapter 11 case as a liquidation. Accordingly, instead of litigating the Amante Action or objecting to Amante's proof of claim, the Debtor remarks that Gonzalez focused on selling the Addington Property to pay Amante's unliquidated, disputed claim, which remains to be adjudicated in state court. Debtor submits that she relied on Gonzalez's "wrong [bankruptcy] advice" and opposes the fees sought in the Gonzalez Application in full. The Debtor asserts that she secured the services of the Law Offices of Michael Jay Berger to settle the Amante Action and eventually dismiss this case.

Additionally, the Debtor objects to the following fee items as excessively charged:

1. Business Operations ($735) and Claims Administration ($1,080) fees as duplicative;
2. Certain fees billed under the Amante Litigation ($3,735) as unreasonably excessive and/or duplicative;
3. Case Administration fees ($22,225), $2,205, billed for work expended on a motion to dismiss, should be disallowed outright because Gonzalez never filed such motion, and the balance of fees requested in this category are unreasonably excessive;
4. Fee/Employment Applications fees ($3,245) because certain employment applications were never filed;
5. All other fee categories not specifically mentioned are fully opposed as Debtor contends this case should never have been filed.

Chapter 11

On February 19, 2020, Gonzalez filed a response to the Gonzalez Opposition (the "Gonzalez Reply"). In response, Gonzalez proffers a detailed narrative of events leading up to the commencement of this case, supporting declarations, and a series of exhibits, which the Court summarizes as set forth below. Gonzalez submits that the record controverts Debtor's purported disapproval of her bankruptcy case, and it instead demonstrates that Gonzalez acted diligently to reorganize Debtor's outstanding debts, notwithstanding her failure to follow Gonzalez's advice. On June 4, 2019, at the time this case was filed, the Debtor was a defendant in two separate state court actions—the Amante Action, and another suit filed by Amante against the Debtor and Debtor's son for the fraudulent conveyance of the Addington Property, the Abana Property, and the Russell Property (the "Fraudulent Transfer Action") (collectively, the "State Court Actions"). From December 2, 2018 to October 2, 2019, the Debtor retained the Bonomi Law Group, LLP ("Bonomi") to oversee her defense in the Amante Action. Declaration of Christy W. Granieri (the "Granieri Decl."), ¶¶ 4, 15. According to Christy W. Granieri ("Granieri"), a member of Bonomi and Debtor's counsel in the Amante Action, Bonomi recommended Gonzalez to the Debtor because of the Debtor's unwillingness to prosecute or settle the Amante Action. Id. at ¶ 8. Bonomi believed that working with Gonzalez, a known bankruptcy firm, was in the Debtor's best interest because obtaining bankruptcy relief would stay the State Court Actions and facilitate negotiations with Amante. Id. Having interacted with both Gonzalez and the Debtor, Granieri asserts that the Debtor never expressed reservations about pursuing bankruptcy protections, nor did Granieri ever witness Gonzalez "pressure" Debtor to file for bankruptcy. Id. at ¶¶ 10-11.

The declaration of R. Gonzalez (the "Gonzalez Declaration") substantially mirrors the assertions in the Granieri Declaration, further providing a recount of the significant difficulties encountered in the Debtor's representation. The Gonzalez Declaration asserts that the Debtor failed to appear at the first creditors' meeting, did not allow the USTO to inspect her business, and did not clearly communicate legal objectives. See Gonzalez Decl., ¶¶ 17-20. Upon the Debtor's request, Gonzalez states that a motion to dismiss the bankruptcy case was prepared on or about July 29, 2019. However, according to Gonzalez, the Debtor changed her mind, opting to attend the creditors' meeting and permitting the UST representatives to survey business premises. Consequently, the dismissal motion was never filed. Id. at ¶ 20. The Gonzalez Reply states that Debtor again stated her desire to dismiss the case via a December 16, 2019 e-mail. Id. at ¶ 25. The Debtor's e-mail came days after an individual claiming to be Debtor's friend informed Gonzalez through e-mail that Debtor did not want to continue her case. Gonzalez responded to Debtor's request in a December 17, 2019 email. See Gonzalez Decl., Ex. 8.

Finally, the Gonzalez defends all requested fees and costs, arguing that Debtor's objections against supposedly excessive or unearned charges ignore the following:

- Gonzalez represented Debtor in protracted, unsuccessful negotiations with Amante;
- Debtor continuously failed to cooperate with Gonzalez or other estate professionals;
- Debtor dismissed Bonomi as state court counsel, and was unsuccessful in finding another attorney;
- Debtor's chosen replacement for Bonomi was not willing to comply with the USTO's guidelines, and therefore, declined to represent Debtor in the Amante Action; and
- Based on Debtor's stated litigation objectives, Gonzalez prepared other pleadings that were not ultimately filed because the Debtor later rejected or failed to execute such pleadings.

C. The DLP Opposition

On January 21, 2020, the Debtor filed the DLP Opposition [Doc. No. 77], objecting to the total fees sought by DLP as excessive and unreasonably high. The Debtor asserts that DLP's services consisted of preparing five (5) MORs and "some basic financial reports." DLP Opposition at 2. In support of the DLP Opposition, the Debtor supplied the declaration of Jennifer Min Liu ("Liu"), a certified public accountant with accounting experience in at least eight (8) recent bankruptcy cases. See Declaration of Jennifer Min Liu ("Liu Decl."), ¶¶ 1-3. Having reviewed Debtor's MORs, Liu concludes that the fees requested for preparing and filing the MORs are excessive. Id., ¶ 5. Accordingly, DLP expended a total of 109.5 hours over six months to prepare 5 MORs, averaging 18.25 hours per MOR. Liu opines that the hours worked in connection to the MORs are unreasonable because, among other reasons, Debtor's business has no accounts receivable, there are minimal accounts payable each month, Debtor only employs two individuals, and Debtor's bank accounts merely indicate approximately 20 to 34 transactions each month. Id., ¶¶ 6-9. Further, Liu believes that the time spent recording transactions is perplexing because the Debtor's business utilizes a simple accounting method and financial information could have been transferred to MORs using the QuickBooks application. Id., ¶¶ 5-6. Liu calculates that preparation of MORs should take approximately 4-5 hours each month, and cost the Debtor no more than 30% of fees sought in the DLP Application, or approximately $6,319.65. Id., ¶ 9.

The DLP Reply

On March 17, 2020, DLP submitted a response to the DLP Opposition (the "DLP Reply"). First, DLP counters that the fees incurred in relation to the five MORs are appropriate as such services were part of the scope of work the Debtor accepted and this Court approved. See Declaration of Leonard de Los Prados ("DLP Decl."), Exs. 1, 2. Pursuant to his engagement letter with the Debtor, DLP also performed additional accounting tasks that included preparation of a Seven-Day Report and a Ninety-Day cash flow projection, which necessitated amendments due to inaccurate or delayed information proffered by the Debtor. DLP Reply at 3, 4. Second, DLP asserts that the amount of fees charged is reasonable on account of Debtor's disorganized, incomplete, and inaccurate recordkeeping, her unreliable means of communication, and her failure to comply with either DLP's or Gonzalez's instructions. For example, DLP relates that the Debtor's business records consisted of incomplete hand-written journal entries, which had to be individually reconciled with financial records before being manually entered into the MOR forms. DLP states that this process was time consuming because most of his communications with Debtor occurred via e-mail, and because the Debtor opened up non-DIP bank accounts post-petition without consulting estate professionals. A full account of DLP's working experience with the Debtor and her recordkeeping habits may be found on pages 4 through 10 of the DLP Reply. Finally, DLP contends that based on the foregoing, the opinions proffered by Liu distort the efforts that DLP actually expended conforming Debtor's poorly maintained financial records to mandatory reporting forms. See DLP Decl., ¶¶ 17-20.

A. The Gonzalez Application

Section 330(a)(1) allows the Court to award "reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered" by a professional. In determining the amount of compensation to award, the Court considers:

The nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

- (A) the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;
- (C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;
- (D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;
- (E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field; and
- (F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation charged by comparably skilled practitioners in cases other than cases under this title.

11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(3).

"The statute does not require that the services result in a material benefit to the estate in order for the professional to be compensated; the applicant must demonstrate only that the services were 'reasonably likely' to benefit the estate at the time the services were rendered." Sheridan & Kotel, P.C. v. Bergen Brunswig Drug Co. (In re Mednet), 251 B.R. 103, 108 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000).

Here, the Debtor objects to fees and costs requested for services performed by Gonzalez in the sum of $37,199.86. In addition to other arguments, the Debtor emphasizes that Gonzalez's fees should be fully disallowed because she was pressured into unnecessarily filing and prosecuting this case by R. Gonzalez, even after Debtor asked Gonzalez to dismiss it. Therefore, she argues, all, or mostly all, of the fees incurred in relation to Gonzalez's services offered little or no benefit to the Debtor. Gonzalez counters that Debtor's allegations are controverted by the record, which includes the declarations of R. Gonzalez and Granieri and numerous exhibits attached to the Gonzalez Reply. Having reviewed this vast evidentiary record, the Court is not persuaded by the Debtor's argument.

The Debtor's allegation that she resisted and actively opposed bankruptcy is inconsistent with her demonstrated conduct, statements, and representations. First, the Court finds the declarations of R. Gonzalez and Granieri to be highly credible. The Debtor's own assertions, submitted under penalty of perjury, are consistent with the claims made by R. Gonzalez and Granieri that (a) the Debtor approached Gonzalez about the prospect of filing for bankruptcy, acting on the advice of Granieri, and (b) that the Debtor decided to file for bankruptcy and hire Gonzalez as bankruptcy counsel. See Doc. No. 1 [Debtor's petition]; see also Doc. No. 17 [Gonzalez's employment application] at 6 (the Debtor executed Gonzalez's employment application on July 2, 2019). Moreover, the scope of Gonzalez's services was listed in the engagement letter Debtor countersigned on or about April 18, 2019. See Doc. No. 17, Ex. 1. Although Gonzalez admits that the Debtor requested to have her case dismissed on or about July 29, 2019, the Court finds that the Debtor changed her mind and opted to proceed with her case thereafter. As a result, a motion to dismiss prepared by Gonzalez did not need to be filed. The statements supplied by R. Gonzalez on this issue are bolstered by Debtor's signed approval of (1) the amended bankruptcy petition on July 29, (2) amended Schedules A/B and D on August 8, and (3) the Pannell Application on September 17, 2019. Even if the Court were to accept that Debtor was dissatisfied with Gonzalez's services, it is mystifying that the Debtor waited until January 16, 2020 to file a substitution of attorney form. Because Gonzalez's account is consistent with the record, and with the declarations provided by Granieri and DLP, the Court places limited probative value on Debtor's assertion that she was pressured into bankruptcy.

Furthermore, the Court determines that the legal services for which Gonzalez seeks compensation were "reasonably likely" to benefit the estate at the time the services were rendered." In re Mednet, 251 B.R. at 108. Gonzalez's services which furthered the Debtor's reorganization included, inter alia, the opposition and resolution of the USTO's motion to dismiss or convert, drawn-out negotiations to settle the Amante Action, preparation of numerous professional employment applications, and Debtor's representation at the meeting of the creditors. The Court further determines that it is appropriate for Gonzalez to be paid for work on the voluntary dismissal motion—which was not filed because Debtor decided to proceed with her bankruptcy—and the employment application of David Nusz ("Nusz") as Debtor's special litigation counsel—which was not filed because Nusz declined to represent Debtor. The Court understands that these documents were not filed due to circumstances outside of Gonzalez's control; however, because Gonzalez prepared these documents in furtherance of Debtor's reorganization, these services were reasonably beneficial to the estate when they were rendered. See In re Mednet, 251 B.R. at 108. Gonzalez's total fees are also reasonable in light that the Debtor unpredictably changed litigation objectives, failed to supply requested documents or otherwise comply with Gonzalez's directions. Notwithstanding, the Court determines that it is appropriate to disallow Gonzalez's fees, in the sum of $200, incurred in connection with the employment application of Jamela Santos as real estate broker (the "Santos Application") [Note 2]. Gonzalez has not made a sufficient showing that the Santos Application was of material benefit to the estate, especially given that Pannell was later retained as the Debtor's real estate broker. Moreover, unlike the preparation of the dismissal motion, which was rendered unnecessary by the Debtor's subsequent actions to proceed with bankruptcy, Gonzalez has not established that the Santos Application was not filed because of the Debtor's instructions.

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that the majority of fees and costs requested by Gonzalez were reasonably incurred for the estate's benefit, and the Gonzalez Opposition is OVERRULED as indicated above. [Note 3]

B. The DLP Application

The Debtor objects to the DLP Application on the grounds that DLP's fees of $21,065.50 are excessive and unreasonable. These services consisted of, inter alia, gathering and inspecting Debtor's financial records, and using such information to open DIP bank accounts and prepare five MORs, a Seven-Day Report, and a Ninety-Day cash flow projection. DLP's scope of work and hourly fee was communicated to the Debtor in a retention agreement dated April 26, 2019, which Debtor executed and authorized. See DLP Reply, Ex. 1. timely supply documentation, and the challenges he faced in communicating with the Debtor. The Court finds that the disputed fees arising from DLP's services were a direct result of Debtor's noncompliance, dilatory conduct, or inability to maintain an accurate accounting system. For example, due to the poor state of Debtor's recordkeeping, DLP was required to incur considerable effort deciphering unexplained cash withdrawals and reconciling Debtor's transactions with the MORs. See DLP Reply, Ex. 8 (attaching a handwritten transaction log of Debtor's combined personal and business expenses). DLP also had to provide additional services to reconcile transactions conducted through two non-DIP bank accounts Debtor opened in August and July 2019, unbeknownst to DLP and Gonzalez. The Court is particularly persuaded by an August 5, 2019 e-mail between DLP and a USTO representative, wherein DLP raised issues with Debtor's financial records. See DLP Reply, Ex. 6. Moreover, the Court is unpersuaded by the Liu Declaration, which fails to address the substantial issues generated by Debtor's poorly maintained records.

Based on the foregoing, the Court approves DLP's requested fees, to the extent such fees were incurred for services performed on or after the June 6, 2019 effectiveness of DLP's employment. Accordingly, the Court disallows fees in the sum of $2,450, which correspond to services provided by DLP before his effective date of employment [Note 3]. The remainder of the DLP Opposition is OVERRULED as indicated above.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Fee Applications are GRANTED as follows:

- (1) The Gonzalez Application is GRANTED in the total amount of $36,999.86 ($37,199.86 less the reduction of $200) for the subject billing period. Gonzalez is authorized to apply monies previously received from the Debtor as retainer to the awarded amount, provided that any surplus be returned to the Debtor.
- (2) The DLP Application is GRANTED in the total amount of $18,615.50 ($21,065.50 less the reduction of $2,450) for the subject billing period. DLP is authorized to apply monies previously received from the Debtor as retainer to the awarded amount, provided that any surplus be returned to the Debtor.

The Fee Applicants, respectively, shall lodge conforming orders within seven (7)

Chapter 11

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: The Court believes the spelling of "Amanti" is in error and that the correct name of Debtor's former employee is Maria Amante as indicated in Debtor's commencement documents and in Amante's proof of claim.

Note 2: All other fees Gonzalez charged in connection with the employment of a real estate broker were either waived or incurred in relation to Pannell's services. See Gonzalez Application, Ex. 2.

Note 3: Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2016-1 sets forth the requirements for compensation for professional persons. More specifically, under LBR 2016-1(a)(1)(J), the application for compensation generally must include "A separately filed declaration from the client indicating that the client has reviewed the fee application and has no objection to it . . . ." The Debtor contends that she did not approve the Gonzalez Application. However, R. Gonzalez asserts that he delivered an earlier version of the application to the Debtor, as well as the DLP Application. Gonzalez Decl., ¶ 12. The Court finds that Gonzalez's efforts to obtain approval of the Fee Applications, as evidenced by the Gonzalez Declaration, meet the requirements prescribed by LBR 2016-1(J).

Note 4: As set forth in DLP's billing entries, from May 9, 2019 to June 5, 2019, DLP expended 12.25 hours at an hourly rate of $200, totaling $2,450. The Court further notes that several of DLP's time entries were not tracked in one-tenth of an hour increments (.1) as required by LBR 2016-1(a)(1)(E)(iii). DLP is cautioned that failure to comply with LBR 2016-1(a)(1)(E)(iii) in the future may result in the Court striking noncompliant time entries in their entirety.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtors move for entry of an order approving the sale of St. Francis Medical Center and related assets ("St. Francis") to Prime Healthcare Services, Inc. ("Prime"). Doc. No. 4471 (the "Sale Motion"). The United Nurses Association of California ("UNAC") and the Service Employees International Union, United Healthcare Workers-West ("SEIU-UHW") object to the Sale Motion.

Chapter 11

A. Background

On August 31, 2018 (the “Petition Date”), Verity Health System of California, Inc. (“VHS”) and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Debtors”) filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors’ cases are being jointly administered. As of the Petition Date, the Debtors operated six acute care hospitals (the “Hospitals”).

On February 26, 2020, the Court entered an Order (1) Approving Auction Sale Format and Bidding Procedures; (2) Approving Process for Discretionary Selection of Stalking Horse Bidder and Bid Protections; (3) Approving Form of Notice to be Provided to Interested Parties; (4) Scheduling a Court Hearing to Consider Approval of the Sale to the Highest and Best Bidder; and (5) Approving Procedures Related to the Assumption of Certain Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases [Doc. No. 4165] (the “Bidding Procedures Order,” and the motion for entry of the Bidding Procedures Order, the “Bidding Procedures Motion”). The Bidding Procedures Order established procedures governing the auction (the “Auction”) of St. Francis.

The Bidding Procedures Order authorized the Debtors to designate a Stalking Horse Bidder without further order of the Court. The Debtors designated Prime as the Stalking Horse Bidder. The Debtors received bids from potential purchasers, but after consulting with their advisors and the Consultation Parties [Note 1], determined that such bids did not constitute Qualified Bids. The Debtors selected Prime as the Winning Bidder and did not conduct the Auction.

The material terms of the Asset Purchase Agreement (the “APA”) between the Debtors and Prime are as follows (capitalized terms have the meaning set forth in the APA):

- 1) Excluding the obligation to pay Cure Costs, the estimated Purchase Price is $276 million, comprised of the following:
  - a) $200 million Base Price. APA at § 1.1(a)(i).
  - b) $61 million for the Accounts Receivable transferred at Closing (subject to adjustment). Id. at § 1.1(a)(iii).
  - c) $5 million (estimated) for the Sellers’ payroll liabilities at Closing. Id. at § 1.1(a)(iv).
  - d) $10 million (estimated) for accrued vacation and other paid time-off of the Sellers’ employees at Closing. Id. at § 1.1(a)(v).
- 2) Separate from, and in addition to, the Purchase Price, Purchaser commits to

- 3) Sellers shall retain QAF V Payments (estimated at $29 million) and QAF VI Seller Net Payments (estimated at $83 million). Id. at § 1.1(a)(ii).
  - 4) Sellers shall submit the sale to the California Attorney General (the “Attorney General”) for review pursuant to Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 et seq. Id. at § 8.3. The conditions on the transaction which the Purchaser has agreed to accept are set forth in Exhibit 5.8(c) (the “Approved Conditions”). Id. In the event the Attorney General seeks to impose conditions materially more burdensome than the Approved Conditions (the “Additional Conditions”), Sellers shall file a motion seeking entry of an order (a “Supplemental Sale Order”) finding that the Additional Conditions are an “interest in property” for purposes of § 363(f), and that the Assets can be sold free and clear of the Additional Conditions. Id. Additional Conditions which individually or collectively impose a direct or indirect cost to Purchaser of $5 million or more shall be conclusively deemed to be “materially more burdensome.” Id. Purchaser shall be required to close the sale if (a) the Attorney General consents to the sale subject only to the Approved Conditions or if (b) Sellers obtain an unstayed Supplemental Sale Order within 60 days of the Attorney General’s attempt to impose Additional Conditions. Id.
  - 5) Sellers shall negotiate with the unions who represent Sellers’ employees at St. Francis (the “Unions”) with respect to collective bargaining agreements (the “CBAs”) related to St. Francis. Id. at § 4.9(b). Within thirty days after entry of the Sale Order, the negotiations shall have resulted in the Unions agreeing to either (a) modify the CBAs so that they are substantially consistent with Purchaser’s existing and most current CBAs with each Union or (b) enter into a new CBA that is substantially consistent with Purchaser’s existing and most current CBA with each Union. Id. If Purchaser and the Unions have not consensually entered into CBAs consistent with the foregoing requirements, Purchaser is not required to close the sale unless Sellers have obtained an order from the Bankruptcy Court rejecting and terminating the CBAs prior to the Closing Date. Id. at § 8.7.
  - 6) Either Sellers or Purchaser may terminate the APA if the sale has not closed on or before September 1, 2020 (the “Termination Date”), except that the Termination Date shall be December 31, 2020 if the only condition to closing that has not been satisfied is the Attorney General’s consent to the sale upon conditions consistent with the Approved Conditions. Id. at § 9.1(i).

Chapter 11

B. Summary of SEIU-UHW's Objection

SEIU-UHW makes the following arguments in support of its objection to the Sale Motion:

SEIU-UHW represents approximately 895 of the Debtors' employees at St. Francis. Employees of the Debtors represented by SEIU-UHW are covered by a CBA (the "SEIU-UHW CBA") containing a successorship provision that obligates any purchaser of St. Francis to assume the SEIU-UHW CBA in its entirety.

The sale cannot be approved because the APA violates the SEIU-UHW CBA's successorship provision. The APA does not contain the successorship language required by the SEIU-UHW CBA. To the contrary, the APA provides that the Debtors will assist Prime in renegotiating the SEIU-UHW CBA, and further provides that if SEIU-UHW does not agree to the modifications, the Debtors will seek to reject the SEIU-UHW CBA. This attempt to terminate or alter the successorship provisions of the SEIU-UHW CBA is impermissible because the Debtors have not yet sought modification or rejection of the SEIU-UHW CBA under § 1113. In American Flint Glass Workers Union v. Anchor Resolution Corp, the court held that a debtor could not alter its obligations under a CBA through a partial assumption and assignment to a purchaser because that would be an "attempt to effect an alteration of the CBA" and therefore the debtor "was required to comply with the procedures set out in Code § 1113." 197 F.3d 76, 81-82 (3d Cir. 1999).

The APA permits Prime to terminate the transaction if the Debtors fail to obtain an order finding that St. Francis may be sold free and clear of the Additional Conditions. This provision creates an unacceptable risk that the sale will not close. In addition, the Attorney General's authority to review the sale safeguards the availability of healthcare resources. The Court should require the APA to be amended to remove the Debtors' ability to seek a sale free and clear of conditions imposed by the Attorney General.

C. Summary of UNAC's Objection

UNAC makes the following arguments in support of its objection to the Sale Motion:

UNAC represents more than 900 nurses employed at St. Francis and is a party to a CBA with the Debtors (the "UNAC CBA"). The APA's provisions make it impossible for the Debtors to obtain modification of the UNAC CBA under § 1113. The UNAC CBA cannot be modified unless the Debtors bargain in good-faith with UNAC. The APA requires the Debtors to complete negotiations with UNAC within 30 days after the date of entry of the Sale Order. Good-faith negotiations cannot be completed in such a short time period, particularly in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. This abbreviated timeline is not necessary, given that the closing date of the sale is September 1, 2020 or December 31, 2020.

The APA requires the Debtors to negotiate to obtain modifications to the UNAC CBA that are consistent with Prime's CBAs at other hospitals. If consensual modification is not achieved, the Debtors are required to seek rejection or termination of the UNAC CBA. The terms of Prime's CBAs at other hospitals are substantially inferior to the terms of the UNAC CBA. Because St. Francis operates profitably, the modifications to the UNAC CBA sought by Prime are unnecessary and cannot be approved under § 1113.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Sale Motion is Granted

Section 363(b) authorizes the Debtors to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The Debtors must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient “depends on the case,” in view of “all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding.” Id. at 19–20. “The court’s obligation in § 363(b) sales is to assure that optimal value is realized by the estate under the circumstances.” Simantob v. Claims Prosecutor, LLC (In re Lahijani), 325 B.R. 282, 288–89 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005).

The Debtors have demonstrated sufficient business justification for the sale. The Debtors have shown that the sale of St. Francis as a going-concern is the best means of both maximizing the recovery for creditors and advancing the Debtors’ charitable mission of facilitating access to health care for underserved communities.

The Court finds that the Debtors have adequately marketed St. Francis. In June 2018, prior to the Petition Date, the Debtors engaged Cain Brothers, a division of KeyBanc Capital Markets (“Cain”) to market all of the Hospitals, including St. Francis. Beginning in July 2018, Cain prepared a Confidential Investment Memorandum (the “CIM”), created an online data room to share information with potential buyers, and contacted over 110 strategic and financial buyers. Subsequent to the Petition Date, Cain continued to market St. Francis.

CONT... Verity Health System of California, Inc.

Chapter 11

In connection with a prior sale to Strategic Global Management, Inc. (“SGM”) that did not close (the “SGM Sale”), St. Francis was extensively marketed. Cain notified 90 parties of the sale process, provided access to a data room to sixteen parties who executed non-disclosure agreements (“NDAs”), and remained in contact with potential purchasers to respond to questions and provide information.

After the SGM Sale failed to close, Cain commenced a new marketing process. In December 2019, Cain began making phone calls to parties who had previously expressed interest in acquiring St. Francis. On January 3, 2020, Cain e-mailed all parties who had previously executed NDAs and explained that the Debtors were initiating another marketing process. Ultimately, 61 parties executed NDAs with respect to the renewed marketing process and were granted access to an online data room.

On January 31, 2020, the Debtors received seven Indications of Interest (the “IOIs”) for the potential acquisition of St. Francis. Cain contacted the seven potential purchasers who submitted the IOIs and continued to work with the purchasers to respond to questions and provide information. In sum, Cain’s marketing efforts have been thorough and have provided interested parties a sufficient opportunity to bid for St. Francis.

Having reviewed the declarations of Richard G. Adcock (VHS’ CEO), James M. Moloney (the managing director of Cain), and A. Joel Richlin (Vice President, Deputy General Counsel, and Chief Litigation Counsel to Prime), the Court finds that Prime is a good-faith purchaser entitled to the protections of § 363(m). The Court makes this good-faith determination based upon the following findings of fact:

- 1) Neither Prime or its management have any material connections to the Debtor, except for professional connections developed during the bidding process.
- 2) Neither Prime or its management are insiders of the Debtors.
- 3) Neither Prime or its management is a creditor of the Debtors.
- 4) Prime negotiated the purchase of St. Francis in good faith and at arm’s length.
- 5) In connection with the Auction, Prime complied with the procedures set forth in the Bidding Procedures Order.
- 6) Neither Prime or its management colluded with anyone to depress the purchase price at the Auction.
- 7) Prime has disclosed all payments to be made by Prime and other agreements entered into or to be entered into with the Debtors in connection with the APA.
- 8) At all relevant times, both Prime and the Debtors were represented by counsel.

B. Issues To Be Determined at a Later Date

To provide a clear record, issues preserved for adjudication at a later date are set forth herein.

1. Issues Pertaining to the Transfer of the St. Francis Medi-Cal and Medicaid Provider Agreements

The Court has approved stipulations setting a continued hearing on issues pertaining to the transfer of the Debtors' Medi-Cal and Medicare Provider Agreements for May 13, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. Doc. Nos. 4285 and 4345.

2. Issues Pertaining to the Assumption and Assignment of Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases

The Bidding Procedures Order established procedures governing the assumption and assignment of executory contracts and unexpired leases pursuant to § 365. (For simplicity, as used hereafter, the term "executory contract" means an executory contract and/or an unexpired lease, as the context requires.) Pursuant to those procedures, the Debtors filed and served a Notice to Counterparties to Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases of the Debtors That May Be Assumed and Assigned [Doc. No. 4267] (the "Cure Notice"). The Cure Notice identifies the amount, if any (the "Cure Amount") that the Debtors believe is owed to each counterparty on account of each executory contract which the Debtors seek to assume and assign to Prime (the "Designated Contracts").

Various counterparties objected to the Cure Amount, or asserted other objections to the assumption and assignment of the Designated Contract (each, an "Assumption Objection"). [Note 2] Pursuant to several stipulations approved by the Court, a continued hearing on the Assumption Objections is set for April 29, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. All issues raised in each Assumption Objection are preserved for the April 29 hearing. As set forth in the Court's orders approving the stipulated continuances, the following briefing deadlines shall apply:

- 1) The deadline for counterparties to file an objection (or supplemental objection) to the Cure Amount, or to present any other objection to the Debtors' assumption and assignment of the Designated Contract, shall be April 22, 2020.
- 2) The deadline for the Debtors to file a reply to any such objection shall be April

3. Issues Pertaining to the Authority of the California Attorney General to Review the Sale

The Court has approved a stipulation between the Debtors and the California Attorney General with respect to the Attorney General's authority to review the sale under Cal. Corp. Code §§ 5914–5924 and accompanying regulations. Doc. No. 4348 (the "AG Stipulation"). Pursuant to the AG Stipulation, any order approving the sale shall include the following provision:

The California Attorney General, the Debtors, the Consultation Parties (as defined in the Bid Procedures Order) and Purchaser, reserve all rights, arguments and defenses concerning the California Attorney General's authority, if any, to review the sale under California Corporations Code §§ 5914-5924 and California Code of Regulations on Nonprofit Hospital Transactions—Title 11, Chapter 15, § 999.5, and any conditions issued thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the APA or the Sale Order, nothing in the APA or this Sale Order shall limit or be construed as a waiver of the Attorney General's statutory or regulatory authority or other rights or defenses, or a waiver of the Debtors' statutory or other rights or defenses.

AG Stipulation at ¶ 1.

4. Hooper Healthcare Consulting's Reservation of Rights

Hooper Healthcare Consulting, LLC ("Hooper") filed an Assumption Objection [Doc. No. 4392] (the "Hooper Assumption Objection") and a Reservation of Rights [Doc. No. 4463] (the "Hooper Reservation of Rights"). In the Hooper Reservation of Rights, Hooper incorporates by reference the arguments made in the Hooper Assumption Objection, and objects to the Sale Motion to the extent that any of the relief sought therein is contingent upon the assumption and assignment of the Designated Contracts to which Hooper is a party.

The Court confirms that all of the arguments asserted in the Hooper Assumption Objection are preserved for adjudication at the April 29, 2020 hearing.

Chapter 11

The Court rejects SEIU-UHW's contention that the Debtors are required to obtain rejection of the SEIU-UHW CBA under § 1113 prior to moving for approval of the sale. The Court has previously followed the approach set forth in Local 211 v. Family Snacks, Inc., Official Unsecured Creditors' Comm. (In re Family Snacks, Inc.), 257 B.R. 884, 897 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2001), in which the court held that "there is nothing in the language of §1113 that dictates when an application to reject must be made." Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895. The Family Snacks court reasoned that requiring the §1113 process to be completed prior to an asset sale would give unions undue power over the sale process to the detriment of other creditors:

When a debtor is selling on a going concern basis, the union urges, Ionosphere should not apply because the only meaningful time the court can make a decision on rejection is prior to the sale. We see no basis for such a distinction, unless it is to give the union veto power over a going concern sale which, as we know from experience, is often the best way to reap the greatest benefit for all creditors. Section 1113 was never intended to give unions such power. Its sole purpose is to keep a debtor from unilaterally rejecting a CBA and to plainly articulate the rules for going about rejection. If, as Ionosphere concluded, a debtor who is liquidating piecemeal should not be forced into Chapter 7 in order to preserve its assets for equitable distribution to all creditors, the same is true for a debtor who is selling its assets on a going concern basis.

Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 897.

SEIU-UHW argues that Family Snacks is distinguishable because the CBAs at issue therein did not contain a successor clause prohibiting sale absent assumption of the CBA. The Court finds that the presence of a successor clause in the SEIU-UHW CBA does not require the Debtors to obtain § 1113 relief prior to entry of the Sale Order. The sale will not close until after the Attorney General has conducted a review pursuant to Cal. Corp. Code §§ 5914–5924. Pursuant to Cal. Corp. Code § 5915, the Attorney General has 90 days, plus an additional 45 days if certain conditions are satisfied, to conduct the review. During this interim period, the APA requires the Debtors to attempt to renegotiate the SEIU-UHW CBA. In the event that such negotiations fail, the APA requires the Debtors to seek relief under § 1113. That is, the sale cannot close until the SEIU-UHW CBA has either been consensually renegotiated or has been modified or rejected under § 1113. Consequently, entry of the Sale Order now does not circumvent the protections afforded by § 1113.

SEIU-UHW objects to the APA's provisions giving the Debtors the option to seek a sale free and clear of any Additional Conditions that the Attorney General may seek to impose. SEIU-UHW argues that such provisions increase the risk of the sale not closing.

The Court declines to order modification of the APA. The APA was negotiated at arms-length between the Debtors and Prime and was the best deal that the Debtors could obtain for the estates. This is shown by the fact that notwithstanding Cain's extensive marketing efforts, no other parties submitted a Qualified Bid for St. Francis. After conducting due diligence, the seven parties who submitted IOIs, executed NDAs, and were granted access to the online data room declined to bid.

D. UNAC's Objection is Premature

UNAC argues that the APA contains provisions guaranteeing that the Debtors will be unable to satisfy the requirements of § 1113. UNAC contends that § 4.9 of the APA "establishes a 30-day deadline, running from the date of the Sale Order, for completion of negotiations" with respect to the UNAC CBA. Doc. No. 4498 at ¶ 5.

UNAC mischaracterizes the relevant provisions of the APA. Section 4.9 of the APA provides:

On or before the date that is thirty (30) days after the Sale Order Date, the negotiations pursuant to Section 4.9(a) shall have resulted in each, such labor unions, agreeing to either (i) either modification of the St. Francis related collective bargaining agreements under terms that are to be substantially consistent with the Purchaser's existing and most current collective bargaining agreements with each such respective labor union, and that settle all liabilities under the existing Seller collective bargaining agreements that shall be assigned to Purchaser, provided that there are shall be no cure obligations to the Sellers or (ii) enter into new collective bargaining agreements that are substantially consistent with the Purchaser's existing collective bargaining agreements with each such respective labor union; provided, that if Purchaser and each labor union have not entered into such agreements described in (i) or (ii) above, or have entered into an agreement under (ii), then Sellers shall have the absolute right to file or take any other action to reject and terminate any such collective bargaining agreement and, in such event, the Bankruptcy Court shall have entered an order granting Sellers' requested rejection of such collective bargaining agreement prior to the Closing Date. In no event will Sellers be liable for any obligations in respect of settlements described in this section.

APA at § 4.9(b).

Under § 8.7, Prime is not obligated to close the sale if the Debtors have not satisfied § 4.9(b). Section 8.7 provides:

Sellers shall have satisfied, in all material respects, their obligations set forth in Section 4.9(b). For the avoidance of doubt, in the event that Purchaser and each labor union has not entered into an agreement described in Section 4.9(b) (i) or (ii), then material satisfaction of Section 4.9(b) means that Seller has filed or taken action to reject and terminate any such collective bargaining agreement and that the Bankruptcy Court has entered an order granting Seller's requested rejection of such collective bargaining agreement prior to the Closing Date.

APA at § 8.7.

Contrary to UNAC's characterization, these provisions do not mean that negotiations with respect to the UNAC CBA must be completed within 30 days of entry of the Sale Order. Section 4.9(b) gives the Debtors the option of filing a motion to modify or reject the UNAC CBA if a consensual resolution has not been reached within 30 days of entry of the Sale Order. However, the Debtors are not required to have obtained an order rejecting or modifying the UNAC CBA until prior to the Closing Date (which is either September 1, 2020 or December 31, 2020, depending upon the outcome of the Attorney General's review).

Further, UNAC incorrectly presupposes that the filing of a § 1113 motion cuts off the process of negotiations. Section 1113 does not "require completion of negotiations before filing the motion" to modify or reject the CBA. In re Walter Energy, Inc., 542 B.R. 859, 884 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 2015), aff'd sub nom. United Mine Workers of Am. 1974 Pension Plan & Tr. v. Walter Energy, Inc., 579 B.R. 603 (N.D. Ala. 2016), aff'd sub nom. In re Walter Energy, Inc., 911 F.3d 1121 (11th Cir. 2018). To the contrary, § 1113 requires that negotiations continue even after the motion has been filed. See § 1113(b)(2) ("During the period beginning on the date of the making of a proposal provided for in paragraph (1) and ending on the date of the hearing provided for in subsection (d)(1), the trustee shall meet, at reasonable times, with the authorized representative to confer in good faith in attempting to reach mutually satisfactory modifications of such agreement.").

The APA does not lock the Debtors into a course of action making it impossible for them to treat the UNAC CBA in a manner consistent with § 1113. UNAC's objection is a premature attempt to advance arguments that are more appropriately raised at a later time, should the Debtors and UNAC be unable to resolve disputes with respect to the UNAC CBA.

Attorney General (the "Attorney General") opposes the Sale Motion.

A. The Closure of St. Vincent

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered. As of the Petition Date, the Debtors operated six acute care hospitals (the "Hospitals").

On January 9, 2020, the Court authorized the Debtors to implement a plan to close St. Vincent on an emergency basis (the "Closure Plan"). See Doc. No. 3934 (the "Closure Order"). Pursuant to the Closure Order, emergency services were discontinued as of January 9, 2020, the dialysis center was closed as of January 13, 2020, all inpatients were discharged or transferred as of January 18, 2020, all outpatient visits ceased as of January 22, 2020, all transplant candidates were transferred as of January 23, 2020, all medical records were removed to off-site storage as of March 23, 2020, and all hazardous waste was removed as of March 26, 2020. See Doc. Nos. 3982, 4308, and 4410 (status reports describing implementation of the Closure Plan).

B. The Court-Approved Agreement Authorizing the Debtors to Lease St. Vincent to the State of California

On March 20, 2020, the Court authorized the Debtors to enter into a lease [Doc. No. 4302, Ex. C] (the "Lease") with the California Department of Public Health (the "State"), under which the Debtors leased St. Vincent to the State in exchange for monthly rent of $2.6 million. Doc. No. 4315. The term of the Lease is six months, subject to monthly extensions for up to an additional six months. Id. at § 2. The Lease provides that the State shall have exclusive control of St. Vincent:

Tenant shall have exclusive control, possession, occupancy, use, and management of the Premises. Tenant shall have full and complete charge, authority and control of the administration, management and operation of the Medical Business at the Premises. Tenant shall have the right and authority to determine all business, technical and professional policies relating to the operation of the Medical Business, with no restrictions, qualifications or supervision by Landlord. Id. at § 5.2.

C. The Dispute Between the Debtors and the Attorney General Regarding the Attorney General's Authority to Review the Sale of St. Vincent

1. Background

California law requires “[a]ny nonprofit corporation that ... operates or controls a health facility, as defined in Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code, or operates or controls a facility that provides similar health care, regardless of whether it is currently operating or providing health care services or has a suspended license, ... to provide written notice to, and to obtain the written consent of, the Attorney General prior to entering into any agreement or transaction” to sell a material amount of its assets. Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 (governing the sale of assets to a for-profit corporation or entity) and § 5920 (parallel provision governing the sale of assets to a nonprofit corporation or entity) (emphasis added). The Attorney General has discretion “to consent to, give conditional consent to, or not consent to” the transaction. Cal. Corp. Code §§ 5917 and 5923.

Prior to 2018, the California Corporations Code did not include the qualifying phrase “regardless of whether it [the health facility] is currently operating or providing health care services or has a suspended license.” In In re Gardens Reg'l Hosp. & Med. Ctr., Inc., decided under the pre-2018 version of the Corporations Code, the Court found that a non-profit entity was not required to obtain the Attorney General's consent to sell a hospital that was no longer operating. 567 B.R. 828, 826 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017). The Court reasoned that a closed hospital was not a “health facility” within the meaning of Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1250:

The statute specifies the characteristics of a “health facility” in the present tense—a facility qualifies only if it “is ... operated for the diagnosis, care, prevention, and treatment of human illness” (emphasis added). Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1250.

“In construing statutes, the use of verb tense by the Legislature is considered significant.” Hughes, supra, 17 Cal.4th at 776, 72 Cal.Rptr.2d 624, 952 P.2d 641. The statute does not say that it applies to a facility that “is or previously was operated for the ... treatment of human illness.” In addition, a facility that is closed cannot meet the other requirements of the statute’s definition—a closed facility cannot diagnose or care for patients, or admit patients for a 24-hour stay or longer. In sum, the statute clearly and unambiguously applies only to health facilities that are operating.

Gardens, 567 B.R. at 827.

Gardens was decided on May 15, 2017. In June 2017, Assembly Member Al Muratsuchi introduced AB 651, which amended the Corporations Code by, among other things, inserting the language “regardless of whether it [the health facility] is currently operating or providing health care services or has a suspended license.” No changes were made to the definition of “health facility” set forth in § 1250 of the Health and Safety Code. AB 651 was enacted on October 14, 2017. 2017 Cal. Legis. Serv. Ch. 782 (A.B. 651) (West). The legislation took effect on January 1, 2018. Id.

The legislative history indicates that the amendments were enacted in response to Gardens. An analysis prepared by the Senate Committee on Health provides in relevant part:

Recent amendments to this bill, among other things, apply the AG review and consent process to a nonprofit facility “regardless of whether it is currently operating or providing health care services or has a suspended or cancelled license.” This issue came up in a recent transaction involving Gardens Regional Hospital and Medical Center (Gardens Hospital), which filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy in June of 2016. As part of the bankruptcy process, and while still operating as a hospital, Gardens Hospital sought to sell the facility to a for-profit entity, Strategic Global Management, Inc. Under its review and consent process, the AG approved the sale, but imposed certain conditions, including minimum levels of charity care. After several rounds of negotiations where the buyer attempted to reduce the charity care obligations, the transaction was terminated, and Gardens Hospital, running out of money to operate the hospital, closed the facility on February 2, 2017 and placed its general acute care license in suspense.

Following closure, Gardens Hospital again sought to sell the assets of the hospital, including the suspended hospital license, and licenses and permits relating the pharmacy and laboratory. The proposed purchaser, American Specialty Management Group, intends to seek reinstatement of the suspended license, and open a new hospital on the premises. Gardens Hospital argued in the bankruptcy court that it was not required to obtain the consent of the AG to sell the assets, because the hospital is closed and no longer qualifies as a “health facility.” The AG disagreed, arguing that if this were the case, it would enable other nonprofit facilities to temporarily cease operations for purposes of selling their assets free of the AG’s review and consent, which would permit assets intended for charitable purposes to be acquired by for-profit entities without proper oversight. On May 15, 2017, the federal bankruptcy judge hearing the case ruled that assets of a closed hospital are not a “health facility” within the meaning of the provisions of law governing AG review and consent, and that Gardens Hospital was therefore not required to obtain the consent of the AG prior to selling those assets.

This decision prompted a recent article in the Healthcare Law Blog, entitled To Report or Not Report – Is It Really a Question? According to this article, the Gardens Hospital decision is currently being considered, discussed, and appealed for its conclusions regarding the AG’s ability to oversee nonprofit health facility transaction. According to this article, the lack of AG oversight is not reason enough to pursue the Gardens Hospital course of action in closing the facility, but it does tip the scales in favor of the termination or suspension of a hospital’s license to avoid the potential pitfalls associated with AG review.

California Bill Analysis, Senate Committee, 2017–2018 Regular Session, Assembly Bill 651, dated July 5, 2017, at pp. 5–6.

As enacted, AB 651 amended the Corporations Code to provide that the Attorney General’s review authority applied to a health facility “regardless of whether it is currently operating or providing health care services or has a suspended license.” An earlier version of AB 651 was broader, and would have extended the Attorney General’s review authority to both health facilities with a suspended license and to health facilities with a cancelled license. The legislative history indicates that the scope of the bill was deliberately narrowed. A report prepared for the Senate Committee on Health describing the earlier version of the bill containing the broader language states (emphasis added):

Chapter 11

Recent amendments to this bill apply the review and consent requirements related to nonprofit health facility transactions to nonprofit corporations even when the license of the health facility is suspended or cancelled. As described above, a recent case involving a hospital that had gone bankrupt and suspended its license led to a judge in the bankruptcy proceeding deciding that the AG did not have the authority to review and consent to the transaction in question because the license was suspended and it was no longer operating as a health facility. The AG's office views this decision as creating a loophole where one did not exist before. However, these amendments go beyond facilities where the license has been suspended, and also give the AG the ability to consent to transactions where a license has been terminated. Health facilities that close often suspend a license, because it is easier to resurrect a license from suspension and begin operating as a health facility again. However, if a license has been cancelled, it is no longer a health facility at all, and any entity wishing to reopen a health facility would have to start a new license application. Theoretically, these amendments could mean that a hospital could decide to close, for whatever reason, and terminate their license, but the AG would be able to continue to have final say over the disposition of those assets, and could control who was able to purchase the property, even when it is no longer licensed as a health facility. The author may wish to consider narrowing this provision, either by applying it only to suspended licenses, and/or limiting it to a certain length of time after the facility stops providing health care services.

California Bill Analysis, Senate Committee, 2017–2018 Regular Session, Assembly Bill 651, dated July 5, 2017, at pp. 8–9.

In response to the foregoing analysis, the Assembly Member Muratsuchi agreed to narrow the scope of the bill. As explained in a subsequent report prepared for the Senate Judiciary Committee: “Per the request of the Senate Committee on Health, the author agreed to take the following amendment that would remove the AG’s review of these agreements when they pertain to a non-profit health facility with a cancelled license.” California Bill Analysis, Senate Committee, 2017–2018 Regular Session, Assembly Bill 651, dated July 11, 2017, at p. 7.

Chapter 11

The Attorney General asserts that he has authority to review the sale for the following reasons:

- 1) The legislative history makes clear that the Corporations Code was amended to reverse Gardens. “An amendment materially changing a statute following a court decision interpreting the statute in its original form is to be regarded as an indication of legislative intent to change the meaning of the law.” O'Brien v. Dudenhoeffer, 16 Cal. App. 4th 327, 335, 19 Cal. Rptr. 2d 826, 831 (1993). Courts “must reject an interpretation of the statute which would leave the prior judicial construction in effect.” Id. Under the amended Corporations Code, the Attorney General has authority to review the sale of health facilities even if they have closed.
- 2) There is no merit to the Debtors’ contention that the statute does not apply because the Debtors do not currently “operate or control” St. Vincent. The point of the amendment was to make clear that the statute applies regardless of whether the Debtors currently operate or control the facility.

3. The Debtors’ Position

The Debtors contend that the Attorney General lacks authority to review the sale of St. Vincent, notwithstanding the amendments to the Corporations Code. Debtors assert that Cal. Corp. Code § 5920 does not apply to the sale transaction for the following reasons:

- 1) Cal. Corp. Code § 5920 applies only to an entity that “operates or controls” a health facility. The Lease provides that the State “shall have exclusive control, possession, occupancy, use, and management” of St. Vincent. Lease at § 5.2. As a result, the Debtors no longer “operate or control” St. Vincent, making Cal. Corp. Code § 5920 inapplicable.
- 2) St. Vincent is not a “health facility” within the meaning of Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1250. St. Vincent has none of the attributes of a health facility. It is not “organized, maintained, and operated for the diagnosis, care, prevention, and treatment of human illness.” Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1250. It does not have “an organized medical staff that provides 24-hour inpatient care,” Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1250(a). Under the Lease, the State has already acknowledged that St. Vincent is “providing no services whatsoever.” Lease at § 5.2. Finally, the Debtors intend to cancel St. Vincent’s

D. The Dispute Regarding whether the Purchaser is Entitled to Protections Under § 363(m)

The APA provided that St. Vincent would be sold to the Chan Soon-Shiong Family Foundation (the “Foundation”), but authorized the Foundation to assign its rights under the APA to another entity. On the morning of the hearing, the Foundation assigned its rights under the APA to the Purchaser.

Prior to the Foundation’s assignments of its rights under the APA, the Attorney General opposed the Debtors’ request for a finding that the Foundation was a good-faith purchaser entitled to the protections of § 363(m).

The Foundation is an affiliate of NantWorks LLC (“NantWorks”), which is a secured creditor of the estates. Specifically, one of the Foundation’s directors, Dr. Soon-Shiong, also holds an interest in NantWorks.

According to the Attorney General, the sale transaction involves self-dealing, because the purchase price will satisfy some or all of NantWorks’ secured claim, thereby benefitting Dr. Soon-Shiong. The Attorney General argues that the Foundation’s purchase of St. Vincent could subject the Foundation to litigation and other enforcement actions by the Attorney General. The Attorney General’s theory is that Dr. Soon-Shiong is violating his fiduciary duties to the Foundation by orchestrating a transaction involving self-dealing. As a result, the Attorney General maintains, the Foundation does not qualify as a good-faith purchaser.

The Foundation disputes the Attorney General’s contention that the transaction involved self-dealing, but assigned its rights to the Purchaser to eliminate any suggestion that the transaction was tainted by self-dealing.

E. The Dispute Regarding Satisfaction of Belfor’s Mechanic’s Lien

Belfor USA Group, Inc. (“Belfor”) holds a mechanic’s lien against St. Vincent in the amount of $250,733.03, plus interest and costs. Belfor objects to any sale free and clear of its lien, unless the sale proceeds are sufficient to satisfy its lien in full.

Debtors contend that that St. Vincent can be sold free and clear of Belfor’s lien pursuant to § 363(f)(1) and (5), regardless of whether the sale generates proceeds sufficient to satisfy the lien in full. Debtors argue that under California law, Belfor’s lien could be extinguished in a foreclosure proceeding. As a result, Debtors assert that a sale free and clear is appropriate under both § 363(f)(1) (authorizing sales free and clear where permitted under applicable nonbankruptcy law) and § 363(f)(5) (authorizing sales free and clear where the lienholder could be compelled to accept a money satisfaction of its interest).

F. Other Papers Filed in Connection with the Sale Motion

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the “Committee”) supports the Sale Motion. The Service Employers International Union–United Healthcare Workers West (the “SEIU-UHW”) does not object to the Sale Motion, but reserves its rights to assert claims against Dr. Soon-Shiong or any entities affiliated with him.

The State of California Governor’s Office of Emergency Services (the “Office of Emergency Services”), which is leasing St. Vincent from the Debtors, does not oppose the Sale Motion, but filed a Reservation of Rights to insure that the Sale Order is consistent with the Lease.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 Does Not Apply to the Sale Because St. Vincent Will Cancel its License [Note 1]

Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 provides in relevant part:

Any nonprofit corporation that ... operates or controls a health facility, as defined in Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code, or operates or controls a facility that provides similar health care, regardless of whether it is currently operating or providing health care services or has a suspended license, shall be required to provide written notice to, and to obtain the written consent of, the Attorney General prior to entering into any agreement or transaction to ... [s]ell ... its assets to a for-profit corporation or entity or to a mutual benefit corporation or entity ... when a material amount of the assets of the nonprofit corporation are involved in the agreement or transaction.

Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1250 defines a "health facility" as a facility, place, or building that is organized, maintained, and operated for the diagnosis, care, prevention, and treatment of human illness, physical or mental, including convalescence and rehabilitation and including care during and after pregnancy, or for any one or more of these purposes, for one or more persons, to which the persons are admitted for a 24-hour stay or longer ....

Chapter 11

Under California law, the "ultimate task" in statutory interpretation "is to ascertain the Legislature's intent." People v. Massie, 19 Cal.4th 550, 569, 79 Cal.Rptr.2d 816, 967 P.2d 29 (1998). "Ordinarily, the words of the statute provide the most reliable indication of legislative intent." Pac. Gas & Elec. Co. v. Cty. of Stanislaus, 16 Cal.4th 1143, 1152, 69 Cal.Rptr.2d 329, 947 P.2d 291 (1997). Only where the statutory language is ambiguous may the Court consider "evidence of the Legislature's intent beyond the words of the statute," such as the "statutory scheme of which the provision is a part, the history and background of the statute, the apparent purpose, and any considerations of constitutionality ...." Hughes v. Bd. of Architectural Examiners, 17 Cal.4th 763, 776, 952 P.2d 641 (1998). "When statutory language is ... clear and unambiguous there is no need for construction, and courts should not indulge in it." Delaney v. Superior Court, 50 Cal.3d 785, 800, 268 Cal.Rptr. 753, 789 P.2d 934 (1990) (emphasis in original). However, the "language of a statute should not be given a literal meaning if doing so would result in absurd consequences which the Legislature did not intend." Younger v. Superior Court, 21 Cal.3d 102, 113, 145 Cal.Rptr. 674, 577 P.2d 1014 (1978).

Here, resort to legislative history is necessary because the statute is internally contradictory. Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 states that the Attorney General has authority over a "health facility," as defined by Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1250, regardless of whether the health facility "is currently operating or providing health care services or has a suspended license." Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 therefore suggests that a facility that is no longer operating can qualify as a "health facility." This contradicts Cal. Health & Safety Code § 1250, which defines "health facility" in a manner such that only facilities that are actively providing healthcare services can qualify.

Fortunately, resort to the legislative history resolves the contradiction and makes the Legislature's intent clear. As discussed above, an earlier version of the legislation gave the Attorney General authority to review the sale of health facility, "regardless of whether it is currently operating or providing health care services or has a suspended or cancelled licensed." In response to the Senate Health Committee's concern that this provision was too broad, the language "or cancelled" was removed. The relevant committee report explains that the change was necessary because a facility that formerly provided health care services but whose license had been cancelled "is no longer a health facility at all." California Bill Analysis, Senate Committee, 2017–2018 Regular Session, Assembly Bill 651, dated July 5, 2017, at pp. 8–9. The broad scope of the earlier provision was of concern because "a hospital could decide to close, ... but the AG would be able to continue to have final say over the disposition of those assets, and could control who was able to purchase the property, even when it is no longer licensed as a health facility.” Id. This concern was eliminated after the bill’s author agreed to limit the scope of the provision “by applying it only to suspended licenses,” as recommended by the Senate Health Committee. Id.; see also California Bill Analysis, Senate Committee, 2017–2018 Regular Session, Assembly Bill 651, dated July 11, 2017, at p. 7 (“Per the request of the Senate Committee on Health, the author agreed to take the following amendment that would remove the AG’s review of these agreements when they pertain to a non-profit health facility with a cancelled license.”).

The upshot is that the Legislature intended the amended statute to be interpreted in the following manner: A facility that in the past actively provided health care services but is now closed is still a “health facility” over which the Attorney General has regulatory authority, provided that the facility’s license to provide healthcare services has been suspended but not cancelled. But if the same facility’s license is cancelled, the facility is no longer a health facility, and the Attorney General lacks authority to regulate the facility’s sale.

In addition to being consistent with the legislative history, this interpretation of the statute avoids absurd results. The purpose of the statute is to preserve access to health care to “uninsured low-income families” and the “poor, elderly, and disabled.” See 1996 Cal. Legis. Serv. Ch. 1105 (A.B. 3101) (West) (legislative findings in support of Cal. Corp. Code § 5914, the parallel provision to Cal. Corp. Code § 5920). A closed facility whose license has been suspended can, without undue difficulty, be reopened, have its license reinstated, and continue to provide health care services. Providing the Attorney General regulatory authority over such facilities is therefore consistent with the statute’s objective of preserving health care access.

By contrast, a facility whose license has been cancelled cannot provide health care services unless it obtains an entirely new license, a much more difficult process. Such a facility, as the Senate Committee Report stated, “is no longer a health facility at all.” California Bill Analysis, Senate Committee, 2017–2018 Regular Session, Assembly Bill 651, dated July 5, 2017, at pp. 8. Providing the Attorney General regulatory authority over such facilities would not preserve access to health care. Where the raison d’etre of the Attorney General’s regulatory authority is to preserve access to health care services, it would be absurd to construe the statute in a manner extending such authority to facilities that are no longer health facilities.

St. Vincent intends to cancel its license. [Note 2] Once the license has been cancelled, St. Vincent will no longer qualify as a “health facility,” making Cal. Corp.

Code § 5914 inapplicable to the sale.

The post-Gardens amendments to the statute were intended to prevent a health facility from closing, suspending its license, selling its assets without Attorney General review, and then reopening and continuing to provide health care services after obtaining reinstatement of its license. That possibility does not exist here. After St. Vincent's license has been cancelled, it cannot obtain license reinstatement and continue operating as a health facility. In short, the concerns motivating the legislative response to Gardens simply do not apply to the present case.

B. The Court Approves the Sale, Free and Clear of the Attorney General's Alleged Authority to Review the Sale Under Cal. Corp. Code § 5914

Section 363(d)(1) authorizes non-profit entities, such as the Debtors, to sell estate assets only if the sale is "in accordance with nonbankruptcy law applicable to the transfer of property by" a non-profit entity. Section 541(f) similarly provides that property held by debtors that are § 501(c)(3) corporations under the Internal Revenue Code may be transferred, but "only under the same conditions as would apply if the debtor had not filed a case under this title." Section 363(b) permits the debtor to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The debtor must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20. Section 363(f)(1) provides that a sale of estate property may be "free and clear of any interest in such property of an entity other than the estate, only if applicable nonbankruptcy law permits sale of such property free and clear of such interest ...."

Pursuant to § 363(b) and (f)(1), the Court approves the sale of St. Vincent free and clear of the Attorney General's claim that he may impose conditions upon the terms of the sale or the use of St. Vincent after the sale. For the reasons explained above, applicable nonbankruptcy law permits the sale of St. Vincent absent the consent or review of the Attorney General.

The Attorney General's contention that he is entitled to impose conditions upon the sale constitutes an "interest in ... property" of which St. Vincent may be sold free and clear. The Bankruptcy Code does not define the phrase "interest in ... property" for purposes of § 363(f). The Third Circuit has held that the phrase "interest in ... property" is "intended to refer to obligations that are connected to, or arise from, the property being sold." Folger Adam Sec., Inc. v. DeMatteis/MacGregor JV, 209 F.3d 252, 259 (3d Cir. 2000). That conclusion is echoed by Collier on Bankruptcy, which observes a trend in caselaw “in favor of a broader definition [of the phrase] that encompasses other obligations that may flow from ownership of the property.” 3 Alan N. Resnick & Henry J. Sommer, Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 363.06[1] (16th ed. 2017). The Attorney General’s alleged ability to require the Debtors to submit to a regulatory review process prior to selling St. Vincent is an obligation connected to and arising from the property being sold.

C. The Sale is Free and Clear of Belfor’s Mechanic’s Lien

The sale is free and clear of Belfor’s mechanic’s lien (the “Belfor Lien”), pursuant to § 363(f)(1) and (f)(5). Outside of bankruptcy, a junior lien, such as the Belfor Lien, could be extinguished in a foreclosure proceeding, even if proceeds were insufficient to satisfy the junior lien in full. See Principal Mut. Life Ins. Co. v. Vars, Pave, McCord & Freedman, 65 Cal. App. 4th 1469, 1478, 77 Cal. Rptr. 2d 479, 484 (1998) (“Title to real property which is conveyed after foreclosure by a trustee’s deed relates back to the date the trust deed was executed. The title passed is that held by the trustor at the time of execution. Liens which attached after the foreclosed trust deed was executed are extinguished and the purchaser takes title free of those junior or subordinate liens.”). Thus, St. Vincent could be sold free and clear of the Belfor Lien under applicable non-bankruptcy law, making a sale free and clear appropriate under § 363(f)(1). A foreclosure proceeding is also a “legal or equitable proceeding” in which Belfor could be compelled “to accept a money satisfaction of its interest,” making a sale free and clear appropriate under § 363(f)(5).

D. The Purchaser is Entitled to § 363(m) Protections

Section 363(m) provides that the “reversal or modification on appeal of an authorization ... of a sale or lease of property does not affect the validity of a sale or lease under such authorization to an entity that purchased or leased such property in good faith, whether or not such entity knew of the pendency of the appeal, unless such authorization and such sale or lease were stayed pending appeal.”

The purpose of § 363(m) is to discourage bidders from colluding for the purpose of driving down the sales prices at bankruptcy auctions. See Ewell v. Diebert (In re Ewell), 958 F.2d 276, 281 (9th Cir. 1992) (“Typically, lack of good faith is shown by fraud, collusion between the purchaser and other bidders or the trustee, or an attempt to take grossly unfair advantage of other bidders”).

Having reviewed the declarations of Douglas Reed Maughan (Purchaser’s Treasurer), Richard G. Adcock (VHS' CEO), and James M. Moloney (the managing director of Cain Brothers, the Debtors' financial advisors), the Court finds that the Purchaser is a good-faith purchaser entitled to the protections of § 363(m). The Court makes this good-faith determination based upon the following findings of fact:

- 1) Purchaser is not a creditor of the Debtors.
- 2) Purchaser is not an insider of the Debtors.
- 3) At all relevant times, both Purchaser and the Debtors were represented by counsel.
- 4) Purchaser complied with the procedures set forth in the Bidding Procedures Order.
- 5) Purchaser did not collude with any other potential bidders to chill bidding.

The fact that Dr. Soon-Shiong, an affiliate of the Purchaser, also holds an interest in NantWorks, whose secured claim will be partially or fully satisfied from the sales proceeds, in no way weighs against a good-faith finding. “[T]he cases are clear that a creditor can also be a good faith purchaser.” Matter of Youngstown Steel Tank Co., 27 B.R. 596, 599 (W.D. Pa. 1983). Bankruptcy courts routinely allow secured creditors to serve as stalking horse bidders in § 363 auctions, and grant § 363(m) protections if the secured creditor emerges as the winning bidder at the auction.

III. Conclusion
