Based upon the foregoing, the Sale Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004, the order approving the sale (the “Sale Order”) shall take effect immediately upon entry. Prompt closing of the sale is necessary given the estates' precarious financial position. In addition, there is a risk that the Purchaser will walk away if the sale does not close promptly, since the purpose of the sale—establishing a research center to address the Covid-19 pandemic—would be defeated absent a prompt closing.

Note 1

On the morning of the hearing, the Purchaser filed a declaration stating that the Foundation had assigned its rights under the APA to the Purchaser. The Purchaser is not a non-profit corporation. Therefore, to the extent the Attorney General has authority to review the sale, it would be under Cal. Corp. Code § 5914, not under § 5920. The parties briefed the Sale Motion under the assumption that § 5920 was the controlling provision. The language of § 5914 is substantially identical to § 5920; the only difference is that § 5914 governs sales to for-profit corporations and § 5920 governs sales to non-profit corporations. The change in the buyer's identity does not affect the analysis of whether the Attorney General has authority to review the sale.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Since a chapter 7 case does not contemplate reorganization, the sole issue before the Court when stay relief is sought under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) is whether the Debtor has equity in the property. See, e.g., Martens v. Countrywide Home Loans (In re Martens), 331 B.R. 395, 398 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2005); Ramco Indus. v. Preuss (In re Preuss), 15 B.R. 896, 897 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1981).

for Relief from Stay (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 25]

4. Notice of Withdrawal of Chapter 7 Trustee's Opposition to Movant's Motion [Doc. No 28].

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Jude Candido Jaramillo (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 7 case on February 5, 2020. John P. Pringle was appointed as chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee"). On March 17, 2020, the Debtor's former spouse, Pamela Trujillo (the "Movant"), filed a "Motion for Relief From the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Real Property)" (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 19] seeking stay-relief with respect to real property located at 9406-9408 Harrell Street, Pico Rivera, CA 90660 (the "Property"). On October 27, 2017, the Debtor and Movant terminated their marriage pursuant to a dissolution judgment (the "Judgment"), which was recorded on February 13, 2019. See Motion, Ex. C. Under the terms of the Judgment, the Debtor was obligated to pay Movant $223,214.80 within three years, consisting of monthly payments of $1,300. Id. at 46 (the pages cited to the Motion follow the pagination provided at the bottom of the document). Pursuant to the Judgment, on February 28, 2019, the Debtor extended a promissory note to the Movant in the sum of $209,979.61 (the "Promissory Note"), which was secured by the Property through a deed of trust recorded on March 5, 2019. See Motion, Ex. A at 18. Because Debtor did not make any payments on the note, Movant claims that she is authorized to sell the Property under both the Judgment and the Promissory Note. Declaration of Pamela Trujillo ("Trujillo Decl."), ¶¶ 4, 8.

The Motion

Pursuant to § 362(d)(1), Movant argues that her secured interest in the Property is not adequately protected. Accordingly, after factoring in an 8% sale cost ($84,000), Movant contends that the total debt against the Property of $1,132,318 exceeds its $1,050,000 fair market value. See Motion at 8. The Property is encumbered by Movant's third-priority deed of trust in the amount of $209,979, two senior liens ($747,252), and by a third-party judgment lien (the "Klee Judgment") ($122,278.79). See Motion at 8; Trujillo Decl., ¶ 15. The Movant disputes the Debtor's $761,000 valuation of the Property, claiming that the Debtor duplicitously undervalued the Property in his schedules. The Movant's proposed valuation is based on the Property's purchase price on or about the fall of 2019—the price that a willing buyer almost paid for the Property, according to Movant. See Trujillo Decl., ¶ 14. At the Debtor's first 341(a) meeting, the Movant claims that Debtor admitted that the purchase agreement was not consummated because Debtor planned to avoid the Klee Judgment in bankruptcy. See id. Additionally, the Movant requests permission to enforce the rents clause (the "Rents Clause") in her deed of trust to collect any revenue Debtor received from renting the Property. See Motion, Ex. A, ¶ 3.4 (Movant's deed of trust contains an "assignment of rents" clause).

Similarly, Movant asserts that cause exists to grant her relief from stay under § 362(d)(2) because the Debtor has no equity in the Property, and the Property is not necessary for an effective reorganization because this is a chapter 7 case. In sum, the Movant requests stay-relief to initiate nonjudicial foreclosure proceedings as to the Property, and to enforce the rents clause.

Opposition

On March 30, 2020, the Trustee filed an opposition to the Motion [Doc. No. 22] (the "Opposition"). The Trustee initially asked that the Court continue the Motion for 60 days; however, on April 8, 2020, the Trustee withdrew his objection [Doc. No. 28]. Therefore, the Trustee's substantive arguments will not be summarized herein.

Reply

On April 3, 2020, the Movant filed a timely response to the Trustee's Opposition (the "Reply"). The Reply provided extensive briefing in response to the Opposition. Given that the Opposition was withdrawn, however, these arguments will not be restated herein.

Separately, for the first time in reply, the Movant requests that the Court issue a criminal prosecution reference against the Debtor, for purportedly understating the Property's fair market value with knowledge and intention. See Reply at 2.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As an initial matter, the Court finds that Movant's request to issue a criminal reference against the Debtor is inappropriately raised in the Reply. Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 9013-1(g)(4) prohibits the introduction of new evidence or arguments in reply papers. LBR 9013-1(g)(4) is a codification of the Ninth Circuit's well-established "general rule that [litigants] cannot raise a new issue for the first time in their reply briefs." Martinez-Serrano v. I.N.S., 94 F.3d 1256, 1259 (9th Cir. 1996); see also Sweet v. Pfizer, 232 F.R.D. 360, 364 n.7 (C.D. Cal. 2005) (refusing to consider a declaration because "the moving party in a motion cannot submit new information as part of its Reply."). Therefore, the Court declines to consider the Movant's request. To do so would deprive the Debtor the opportunity to respond to the new arguments set forth therein.

Relief from Stay

Under § 362(d)(1), the Court shall grant relief if the movant's interest in the property is not protected by an adequate equity cushion. In the Ninth Circuit, "[a] 20% [equity] cushion has been held to be an adequate protection for a secured creditor." In re Mellor, 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral). Under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2), the court shall grant relief from the stay if "(A) the debtor does not have any equity in such property; and (B) such property is not necessary for an effective reorganization." The Movant bears the initial burden to show that there is no equity in the Property, which is in turn dependent upon the fair market value of the Property. See § 362(g).

The Court must first address the valuation of the Property. In contrast to the Debtor's $761,000 estimate, the Movant posits that the Property has a fair market value of $1,050,000, which was the purchase price that a willing buyer almost paid for the Property. The Movant suggests that the transaction would have closed but for Debtor's decision to avoid paying the Klee Judgment in bankruptcy. See Trujillo Decl., ¶ 14 ("[Debtor] stopped the sale to file bankruptcy because a judgment creditor filed a lien just before the close of escrow, and he did not want to pay that lien."). Based on the evidence supplied, the Court is unable to determine how the Debtor's purported statements indicate that the Property had a fair market value of $1,050,000 as of the filing of the Motion. The record is extremely limited with respect to this issue. However, for the purposes of this tentative ruling, the Court will adopt the uncontested valuation of $1,050,000. Even if the Court were to adopt Debtor's valuation, it does not make any difference whether the Property is valued at $1,050,000 or $761,000 because in either circumstance, the Debtor would have very little or no equity in the Property.

Here, Movant has established a prima facie case that cause exists, and neither the Debtor, nor the Trustee have responded with evidence establishing that the Property is not declining in value or that Movant is adequately protected. Based on Movant's uncontested figures, the Property has a value of $1,050,000, and is encumbered by a perfected deed of trust in favor of the Movant. Considering all senior liens, Movant's junior lien, and the estimated costs of sale, there is approximately an equity cushion of $8,769, which is less than 1% of the fair market value of the Property. Because the equity cushion in this case is less than 20%, the Court concludes that Movant's interest in the collateral is not adequately protected. This is cause to terminate the stay under § 362(d)(1).

Based on the figures provided, the Court further finds that Movant is also entitled to stay-relief under § 362(d)(2). The total sum of liens against the Property and the expected costs of sale total approximately $1,216,318. The Court finds that there is no equity and there is no evidence that the Trustee can administer the Property for the benefit of creditors.

Request to Enforce Rents Clause

The Movant further seeks stay-relief to proceed under California law to enforce the Rents Clause contained in her deed of trust (Motion, Ex. A, para. 3.4) and collect any revenue the Debtor has obtained from renting the Property.

Section 362(d)(1) permits a bankruptcy court to grant relief from the automatic stay upon a showing of "cause." In the Ninth Circuit, courts consider 12 non-exclusive factors to determine whether "cause" exists to lift the automatic stay to permit actions against a debtor in a non-bankruptcy forum:

1. Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues;
2. The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case;
3. Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary;
4. Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases;
5. Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation;
6. Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question;

7. Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties;
8. Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c);
9. Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f);
10. The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties;
11. Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial, and
12. The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt[.]"

In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc., 311 B.R. 551, 559 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2004).

Not all the factors are relevant in every case, and the Court is not required to give equal weight to each factor. Id. at 560.

Here, the Rents Clause reads as follows:

Trustor [the Debtor] hereby assigns and transfers to Beneficiary [the Movant] all right, title and interest in rents generated by the property, including rents now due, past due, or to become due under any use of the property, to be applied to the obligations secured by this Deed of Trust.

- (a) Prior to a default on this Deed of Trust by Trustor, Trustor will collect and retain the rents
- (b) On default by Trustor, Beneficiary will immediately be entitled to possession of all unpaid rents.

Motion, Ex. A, ¶ 3.4. To the extent that the Movant seeks to enforce this provision by filing a state court action, the Court finds that the Movant has presented an adequate discussion of the Plumberex factors based on her declaration and all exhibits affixed thereto. Allowing the Movant to enforce her rights under the deed of trust in a nonbankruptcy forum will best promote the judicial economy by adjudicating a final judgment as to underlying claims that may either support or negate the filing of a proof of claim and/or an adversary complaint.

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling:

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Alleged Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995). "

The Court finds that there is good cause to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). Kristoff Lusic, Benjamin Farquhar, and Elisa Ritter (jointly, the "Petitioners") filed an involuntary chapter 7 petition against Marquis Campbell (the "Alleged Debtor") on February 19, 2020. On February 22, 2019, the Alleged Debtor executed a security instrument secured by real property located at 6023 3rd Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90043 (the "Property") in favor of Peter H. Lucas, Amalia P. Lucas, and Seaglass Capital, LLC (the "Movants"). See Motion, Ex. B. As indicated on Exhibit D [Doc. No. 6], the Alleged Debtor purportedly granted a 10% interest in the Property to one Charles Thompson ("Thompson") by way of a grant deed. The grant deed is dated December 17, 2019, subsequent to the Alleged Debtor's first default on the promissory note indorsed to the Movants. See Motion, Ex. E. Accordingly,

Chapter 7

Thompson filed an unrelated bankruptcy case implicating an interest in the Property, which went up before the Honorable Scott H. Yun. See Motion, Ex. G. On February 27, 2020, Judge Yun entered an order granting a stay-relief motion filed by Movants concerning the Property, finding thereon that the filing of Thompson's petition was part of a scheme to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors. Based on the foregoing, the Motion is granted under § 362(d)(1) based on the Alleged Debtor's unauthorized transfer of a real property interest to Thompson.

Based upon Movants' declaration, the prior recent bankruptcy effecting this Property and the hearing re dismissal of this involuntary petition for which the petitioning creditors did not appear, the Motion is GRANTED with respect to relief under § 362(d)(4).

Hence, the Motion is GRANTED to permit Movants, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies with respect to the Property in accordance with applicable law. The 14-day period specified in Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4001(a)(3) is waived. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. If recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in real property, the order shall be binding in any other case under this title purporting to affect such real property filed not later than 2 years after the date of the entry of such order by the Court, except that a debtor in a subsequent case under this title may move for relief from such order based upon changed circumstances or for good cause shown, after notice and a hearing. Any Federal, State, or local governmental unit that accepts notices of interests or liens in real property shall accept a certified copy of this order for indexing and recording.

All relief granted herein shall be subject to the Emergency Rules of the California Rules of Court, effective April 6, 2020.

The Court notes that Alleged Debtor's case was dismissed on 04/01/2020. The Court vacates the dismissal for the limited purpose of entering an order on this Motion.

The Court notes that the Defendant, possibly in error, checked the box indicating that it does not consent to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of a final judgment. On March 20, 2019, the Court entered a Scheduling Order predicated upon the Defendant's consent to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of a final judgment. See Doc. No. 13 (the "Scheduling Order"). The Scheduling Order provides in relevant part:

Defendant has timely demanded a jury trial in this avoidance action, has not filed a proof of claim against the estate, and consents to having the jury trial conducted by the Bankruptcy Court. Under these circumstances, Defendant is entitled to a jury trial. See Langenkamp v. Culp, 498 U.S. 42, 45 (1990) ("If a party does not submit a claim against the bankruptcy estate, however, the trustee can recover allegedly preferential transfers only by filing what amounts to a legal action to recover a monetary transfer. In those circumstances the preference defendant is entitled to a jury trial."). Because both Plaintiff and Defendant have consented to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of final judgment, the jury trial will be conducted by the Bankruptcy Court. See Bankruptcy Rule 9015(b) (stating that the Bankruptcy Court may conduct a jury trial only with

Defendant is not allowed to withdraw its consent to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of a final judgment at this stage of the proceedings.

On March 20, 2019, the Court ordered the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") to submit an order assigning this matter to mediation (the "Mediation Order"). Doc. No. 31. The Trustee failed to submit the Mediation Order. On June 26, 2019, the Court once again ordered the Trustee to submit the Mediation Order. Doc. No. 17. The Mediation Order has not yet been submitted.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The Trustee shall submit the Mediation Order by no later than August 27, 2019. If the Trustee does not comply with this deadline, the Court will require the Trustee to appear and show cause why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute, pursuant to Civil Rule 41.
- 2) Defendant shall be deemed to have consented to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of a final judgment in this action.
- 3) The litigation deadlines previously ordered shall continue to apply, subject to an extension for good cause shown.
- 4) Absent further order of the Court, no further Status Conferences will be conducted.

The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Jessica Vogel or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. - f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 10/31/2020. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 11/17/2020 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
  - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.

- iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(2)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
  - iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(2)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(2)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
  - i) A jury trial is set for the week of 11/30/2020. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.
- 3) The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

The Court will prepare and enter a Scheduling Order. Plaintiff shall submit the order assigning the matter to mediation.

Tentative Ruling:

2/10/2020

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the “Trustee”) commenced this fraudulent transfer action against Hyun Hwang (the “Defendant”) on September 14, 2019. On December 11, 2019, the Court denied the Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss, and ordered the Defendant to file an Answer by no later than January 21, 2020. Doc. No. 25. Defendant timely filed an Answer. The Trustee seeks leave to file a First Amended Complaint to allege an additional $80,000 transfer from the Debtor to the Defendant.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In the event that Defendant declines to stipulate to the filing of a First Amended Complaint, the Trustee shall file a motion for leave to amend by no later than March 10, 2020.
- 2) A continued Status Conference is set for April 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

1/13/2020

The Defendant currently lives in China. The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") does not know Defendant's whereabouts in China. The Trustee has been unable to serve the Summons and Complaint upon the Defendant. The Trustee has filed separate actions against both George Hsu and Lillian Hsu, and is currently seeking entry of default judgment in both of those proceedings. The Trustee anticipates that resolution of the actions against George Hsu and Lillian Hsu could result in a return of some of the transfers at issue in this proceeding. The Trustee asserts that at the moment, recovery of the transfers against George Hsu and Lillian Hsu is the most economic means of prosecuting this action.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) Pursuant to the Trustee's request, a continued Status Conference shall be held on April 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) The Trustee shall file a Status Report by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

In this action, Plaintiff alleges that a judgment entered on March 28, 2017 against Defendant in the amount of $590,908.50 in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court Judgment") is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6). Plaintiff further alleges that Defendant's discharge should be denied, pursuant to § 727(a)(2)(A).

On October 8, 2019, Defendant filed a Complaint for Independent Action in Equity to Set Aside and Vacate Default and Default Judgment for Lack of Personal Jurisdiction in the State Court (the action commenced by the filing of such complaint, the "State Court Collateral Attack Action"). The State Court Collateral Attack Action seeks to vacate the State Court Judgment for lack of personal jurisdiction, and alleges that service of the State Court Complaint was defective.

On November 15, 2019, the Court granted Defendant's motion to stay this action pending resolution of the State Court Collateral Attack Action. Doc. No. 57.

For the reasons set forth below, the UST's Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) United States Trustee's Notice of Motion and Motion to Intervene in Adversary Proceeding [Doc. No. 30] (the "Motion")
- 2) Stipulation for Orders for: (A) Entry of Judgment on 11 U.S.C. § 523 Causes of Action; and (B) Dismissal of 11 U.S.C. § 727 Causes of Action (the "Stipulation"); and Notice of Intent to Dismiss 11 U.S.C. - 3) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On April 18, 2019, Danny's Silver Jewelry, Inc. ("Plaintiff") filed a Complaint to Determine Dischargeability of a Debt and Objection to Discharge [Doc. No. 1] (the "Complaint") against Bahram Zendedel aka Robert Zendedel ("Defendant"). The Complaint asserts claims under § 523(a)(2)(A), (a)(4), and (a)(6) and under § 727(a)(2)(A), (a)(3), and (a)(5).

On February 28, 2020, Plaintiff and Defendant filed a stipulation providing for settlement of the § 523 claims and dismissal of the § 727 claims (the "Stipulation"). In settlement of the § 523 claims, Plaintiff and Defendant stipulated to (1) a judgment in the amount of $37,600.61 in favor of Plaintiff and (2) dismissal of the § 727 claims. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 7041, Plaintiff provided notice of the Stipulation to the United States Trustee (the “UST”) and all creditors (the “Notice”). The Notice explained that “any creditor or other party in interest has the right to substitute in and become the plaintiff in connection with the 11 U.S.C. § 727 ... cause of action.” Notice at 3.

The UST seeks permissive intervention for the purpose of prosecuting the § 727 claims. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 7041 provides:

[Civil Rule 41] applies in adversary proceedings, except that a complaint objecting to the debtor’s discharge shall not be dismissed at the plaintiff’s instance without notice to the trustee, the United States trustee, and such other persons as the court may direct, and only on order of the court containing terms and conditions which the court deems proper.

A plaintiff who prevails upon § 727 claims “provides a benefit to all creditors in the case, because the debtor’s discharge is denied in full.” Bankruptcy Receivables Management v. Armond (In re de Armond), 240 B.R. 51, 57 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1999). Consequently, “a creditor who commences an adversary proceeding under § 727 becomes, in that respect, a fiduciary on behalf of all creditors.” Id.

The Bankruptcy Code authorizes the United States Trustee to object to a Chapter 7 discharge. § 727(c)(1). “It is a responsibility of the United States trustee, as one facet of assuring that the bankruptcy laws are not being abused, to assure that persons who are not entitled to receive discharges do not receive them. Thus, the United States trustee has special competence and cannot be ignored in a matter in which the question is whether to permit a discharge.” Speece v. Speece Properties (In re Speece), 159 B.R. 314, 317 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 1993).

The Court finds that authorizing the UST to permissively intervene for the purpose of prosecuting the § 727 claims is appropriate. By prosecuting the § 727 claims, the UST is fulfilling his statutory obligation of preserving the integrity of the bankruptcy system.

It is not clear from the Stipulation whether the settlement of Plaintiff’s § 523 claims is contingent upon dismissal of the § 727 claims. Within fourteen days of the hearing, Plaintiff shall file a notice stating whether the parties intend to adhere to the remaining terms of the § 523 settlement notwithstanding the fact that the § 727 claims have not been dismissed. In the event that the parties do not elect to adhere to the remaining terms of the § 523 settlement, the Court will set litigation deadlines regarding the § 523 claims at the Status Conference set for May 12, 2020.

With respect to litigation of the § 727 claims, the following deadlines shall apply:

- a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 5/14/2020.
- b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 9/01/2020.
- c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 10/01/2020.
- d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 10/20/2020. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 10/27/2020. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 10/31/2020. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 11/17/2020 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.
  - iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
  - iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
- i) Trial is set for the week of 11/30/2020. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.

- 2) Joint Status Report [Doc. No. 28, Adv. No. 2:19-ap-01453-ER]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On January 18, 2019 (the "Petition Date"), Bahram Zendedel ("Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. Debtor scheduled a community interest in real property located at 1712 Livonia Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90035 (the "Property").

On May 16, 2018 (prior to the Petition Date), Debtor executed a quitclaim deed transferring the Property to Nazila Zendedel ("Nazila") [Note 1] as her sole and separate property.

On May 28, 2019, the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") filed a complaint against Nazila, seeking to avoid and recover the transfer of the Property (the "Nazila Complaint"). As an affirmative defense, Nazila asserts that there is no equity in the Property because it is encumbered by lien in favor of Pedram Shamekh (“Shamekh,” and the lien in favor of Shamekh, the “Shamekh Lien”).

On March 12, 2020, the Trustee filed a complaint against Shamekh, seeking to avoid the Shamekh Lien (the “Shamekh Complaint”). Among other things, the Shamekh Complaint alleges that the Shamekh Lien is avoidable as a preferential transfer.

The Trustee moves to consolidate the Nazila Complaint and the Shamekh Complaint. The Trustee asserts that consolidation is appropriate because both proceedings involve common issues of fact, including whether the Debtor had fraudulent intent when transferring the Property to Navila and allowing Shamekh to record a lien against the Property.

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Civil Rule 42 provides in relevant part: “If actions before the court involve a common question of law or fact, the court may ... consolidate the actions.” In determining whether to consolidate proceedings, “a court weighs the interest of judicial convenience against the potential for delay, confusion, and prejudice caused by consolidation.” Sw. Marine, Inc. v. Triple A Mach. Shop, Inc., 720 F. Supp. 805, 806–07 (N.D. Cal. 1989).

Consolidation of the Nazila Complaint and Shamekh Complaint serves the interests of judicial economy. Both actions concern the same Property and involve common issues of fact regarding whether various transfers facilitated by the Debtor were done with fraudulent intent. The Court will set common litigation deadlines for both actions and consolidate the trial of the actions. To avoid confusion, the Court will continue to maintain separate dockets for the Nazila Complaint and Shamekh Complaint.

The following litigation deadlines shall apply to both actions:

- a) A continued Status Conference is set for 6/16/2020 at 10:00 a.m.
- b) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 7/16/2020.

Having reviewed the Joint Status Report filed by the parties, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The litigation deadlines previously ordered shall continue to apply, as follows:
  - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 5/14/2020.
  - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 9/01/2020.
  - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 10/01/2020.
  - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 10/20/2020. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)

Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
  - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. - 2) The parties state that settlement is not likely, based upon the fact that Defendant does not have the ability to satisfy the underlying judgment giving rise to the indebtedness alleged to be non-dischargeable. Notwithstanding this representation, the matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. Mediation is a crucial component of the adjudicative process. It enables the parties to discuss the issues raised by the litigation before a neutral arbiter who is well-qualified to assist in dispute resolution. The Court's Mediation Program allows parties to attend one day of mediation for free. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

The Court will prepare and enter a Scheduling Order. Plaintiff shall submit the order assigning the matter to mediation.

On December 8, 2019, Ann Tardaguila, as Trustee of the Tardaguila Living Trust dated June 16, 1999 (the "Plaintiff/Counter-defendant"), filed this non-dischargeability action against Gregory Tardaguila (the "Defendant/Counter-claimant"). Plaintiff/Counter-defendant alleges that she loaned Defendant/Counter-claimant in excess of $750,000; that Defendant/Counter-claimant failed to repay the indebtedness; and that Defendant/Counter-claimant committed actual fraud by diverting funds that could have been used to repay the indebtedness. The Complaint seeks a judgment that the indebtedness is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6), and seeks denial of Defendant/Counter-claimant's discharge pursuant to § 727(a)(2), (3), (4)(A), and (5).

Defendant/Counter-claimant filed a Counterclaim, in which he alleges that the note evidencing the indebtedness at issue in the Complaint (the "Note") is a sham that was created to change the character of the transaction from a gift to a loan. The Counterclaim alleges that the $750,000 loaned to Defendant/Counter-claimant was an advance upon his inheritance. The Counterclaim further alleges that the Defendant/Counter-claimant did not sign the Note until several years after the funds were advanced and that Defendant/Counter-claimant was induced to sign the Note under false pretenses. The Counterclaim (1) objects to any claim against the estate on account of the Note asserted by Plaintiff/Counter-defendant; (2) seeks cancellation of the Note; and (3) seeks damages for fraud and negligent misrepresentations.

On January 16, 2020, the Court entered an order providing that the litigation deadlines set for the Counterclaim would also apply to the Complaint. Doc. No. 21.

On February 28, 2020, the Court entered an order (1) designating the first and second counterclaims as affirmative defenses to be litigated in connection with the Complaint, (2) finding that the third and fourth counterclaims for fraud and negligent misrepresentation (the "Fraud Counterclaims") accrued prepetition, were property of the bankruptcy estate, and could be prosecuted only by the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee"), (3) directing the Trustee to file a notice stating whether he intended to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims by no later than March 13, 2020, and (4) dismissing the Fraud Counterclaims, but giving the Trustee leave to amend should he elect to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims. Doc. No. 31. The Court subsequently extended the Trustee's deadline to determine whether to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims to April 15, 2020.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In view of the extension of the Trustee's deadline to determine whether to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims, a continued Status Conference shall be held on June 16, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) A Joint Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. ### I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtors-in-possession, Samuel Antonio Acevedo and Lucy Acevedo (together, the "Debtors"), filed this voluntary Chapter 11 case on April 3, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtors' primary asset consists of a rental property located at 6220 Palladio Lane, Fontana, CA 92336 (the "Rental Property"), which they rent out for an additional $3,100 in monthly income [see Doc. No. 85]. The Debtors sought bankruptcy protection after experiencing several years of financial hardship precipitated by Mr. Acevedo's unexpected loss of employment. In addition, the Debtors' fell behind on mortgage payments on the Rental Property after depleting their savings. Both Debtors are now employed and generate regular monthly income.

On March 13, 2019, the Debtors obtained an order granting their motion to value the Rental Property at $435,000 for purposes of plan confirmation [Doc. No. 45] (the "Rental Property Valuation Order"). On March 19, 2019, the Debtors obtained an order granting their motion to value their 2016 Honda Accord (the "Vehicle") at $15,977 for purposes of plan confirmation, which resulted in the bifurcation of American Honda Finance's claim into a secured claim of $15,977 and an unsecured claim of $3,731.60 [Doc. No. 50] (the "Vehicle Valuation Order").

The Debtors submitted the First Amended Disclosure Statement on July 26, 2019, and subsequently, the Second Amended Disclosure Statement on September 26, 2019, which were both disapproved by the Court for reasons stated in separate tentative rulings [Doc. Nos. 89 and 100]. Subject to the Court's proposed amendments, the Debtors' Third Amended Disclosure Statement was approved on October 24, 2019 [Doc. No. 102] (the "Scheduling Order"), at which time the Court also established deadlines concerning solicitation and confirmation of Debtors' chapter 11 plan.

The Debtors now seek approval of their Second Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization (hereinafter, the "Plan"). A summary of the Debtors' Plan is set forth below.

Summary of the Plan

Administrative Claims

The Debtors anticipate that administrative fees for professionals will be approximately $6,000 on the Effective Date, consisting of $4,000 for remaining chapter 11 fees and $2,000 for administrative fees owed to former counsel [Note 1]. The Debtors propose to pay all administrative claims in full, on the Effective Date, from available cash on hand and with the assistance of a one-time $7,000 family contribution payment.

Priority Tax Claims

As set forth in the Third Amended Disclosure Statement, the Debtors propose to pay the Internal Revenue Service's (the "IRS") claim of $1,681, in full, plus 6% interest, within five years from the Petition Date, by making equal monthly installments of $32.50 beginning on the Effective Date. However, the Plan provides otherwise: priority tax "[p]ayments will be made quarterly, due on the first day of the quarter starting on the first such date after the Effective Date..." See Plan at 2, Art. I, Section C.

Reject (No Ballot Cast)

Class 5(a) consists of the secured claim of Wells Fargo. Wells Fargo holds a first-priority deed of trust against the Rental Property securing debt in the approximate amount of $382,478.36. The Debtors propose to pay Wells Fargo's claim in full by making monthly installment payments of $2,053.23 over a thirty-year period, at a 5% interest rate per annum. Wells Fargo's claim is impaired, and Wells Fargo was entitled to vote on the Plan, but did not cast a ballot. Therefore, Wells Fargo is deemed to reject the Plan.

Class 5(b) – American Honda Finance Corporation ("Honda") – Deemed to Reject (No Ballot Cast)

Class 5(b) consists of Honda's secured claim. Honda holds a perfected security interest in the Vehicle. Pursuant to the Vehicle Valuation Order, Honda holds a secured claim of $15,977 and an unsecured claim of $3,731.60. Accordingly, the Debtors propose to pay Honda's secured claim in full, plus 6.75% interest, by making monthly installment payments of $314 over a five-year period. Honda's claim is impaired, and Honda was entitled to vote on the Plan, but did not cast a ballot. Therefore, Honda is deemed to reject the Plan.

Class 6(b) – General Unsecured Claims – Deemed to Reject (No Ballot Cast)

This class consists of all allowed general unsecured claims, which the Debtors estimate hold aggregate claims in the amount of $29,776.01. The Debtors propose to pay this class 70% of their claims, without interest, over a 5-year period by making equal pro-rata monthly installment payments totaling $347.39. This class is impaired, it was entitled to vote on the Plan, but no claimant in this class casted a ballot. Therefore, Class 6(b) is deemed to reject the Plan.

In fact, as of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Debtors did not receive any ballots for or against the Plan.

Summary of the Debtors' Confirmation Brief

Debtors concede that their Plan does not satisfy all mandatory requirements under § 1129 because no impaired class voted in favor of the Plan. With the exception of this requirement, the Debtors posit that the Plan complies with §1129 in all other respects. The Court previously expressed concerns that the Plan would not satisfy the absolute priority rule, absent creditor approval. Accordingly, Debtors propose to pay general unsecured creditors only 70% of their claims, while retaining their interest in the Rental Property. Debtors contend the absolute priority rule is inapplicable here because each unsecured creditor is poised to receive more through the Plan than in chapter 7 liquidation, and no such creditor objected to the Plan. Therefore, Debtors assert that cram down is unnecessary. For the reasons set forth above, the Debtors "hope" to have the necessary votes to confirm the Plan. In the alternative, the Debtors request more time to amend the Plan to fully pay off only those unsecured creditors who filed a proof of claim because Debtors contend, without any admissible proof or specificity, that some scheduled unsecured claims are no longer valid or have been "charged off." See Declaration of Lionel E. Giron, ¶ 7.

Summary of Wells Fargo's Objection

On December 31, 2019, Wells Fargo filed a timely objection against the Debtors' Plan (the "Objection"). The Objection states three issues with Debtors' Plan. First, Wells Fargo argues that the Plan is not fair and equitable because it fails to properly compensate Wells Fargo's claim pursuant to §§ 1129(b)(1) and (b)(2)(A)(ii). Accordingly, as a non-consenting secured creditor, Debtors' proposal to pay Wells Fargo's claim at an interest rate of 5% inappropriately accounts for Debtors' risk of nonpayment. Wells Fargo relies on the Supreme Court's opinion in Till v. SCS Credit Corp. (In re Till), 541 U.S. 465, 478-79 (2004) in support that the proposed interest rate will not adequately compensate its claim. As determined in Till, an appropriate rate of interest payable to non-consenting creditors is determined by reference to the national prime rate, subject to adjustments based on the risk of future default. Given that the national prime rate was approximately 4.75% on December 31, 2019, Debtors' proposed 5% interest rate provides a 25-point increase over the prime rate, an insufficient adjustment according to Wells Fargo. Therefore, Wells Fargo argues that it will not receive at least the allowed value of its claim under the Plan. Additionally, Wells Fargo notes that the Plan fails to specify whether the Rental Property loan will remain in an escrow account, or if it will be removed from escrow, subject to Wells Fargo's demand for proof of Debtors' ability pay taxes and maintain insurance. Last, Wells Fargo argues that the Plan also fails to comply with § 1129(a)(10) as no impaired class has accepted Debtors' Plan.

In light of the foregoing, Wells Fargo asks that the Court deny the Plan in its entirety, or in the alternative, that the Plan be amended in accordance with the Objection.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. Issues Preventing Confirmation of the Debtors' Plan

i. No Class Submitted a Vote

Classes 5(a), 5(b), and 6(b) are all impaired, entitled to vote, but no class casted a ballot (the "Non-Voting Classes"). Therefore, the Plan does not satisfy the requirement under §1129(a)(10). Debtors propose to amend their Plan to avoid paying certain unsecured creditors, thereby ensuring that all unsecured creditors who filed a proof of claim receive 100% of their claims. Debtors' proposed course of action will not remedy the deficiency under §1129(a)(10) because, even if Class 6(b) is no longer impaired, Debtors cannot guarantee that either of the two other impaired classes will vote in favor of the Plan. If Debtors do not receive any votes in favor of their amended plan, they will again fail to comply with § 1129(a)(10).

Moreover, the Debtors claim that the Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(8). Section 1129(a)(8) provides that each class of claims or interests must either accept the plan or not be impaired under the plan. Debtors assert that their Plan satisfies this requirement because administrative claims are not impaired under the Plan, and therefore, at least "these classes" are deemed to have accepted the Plan. Confirmation Brief at 11. Debtors' interpretation is misguided because administrative claims are treated as "nonclassified claims" and not entitled to vote on plan confirmations. 11 U.S.C. §§ 1126(c) & (d); Ahart, et al., Cal. Practice Guide: Bankruptcy Ch. 11-H (The Rutter Group 2019), ¶ 11:1197.) Therefore, Debtors' Plan also fails to comply with § 1129(a)(8).

The Court recognizes the split of authority regarding whether a non-voting, non-objecting, class of creditors is deemed to have accepted or rejected a plan. See Bell Road Inv. Co. v. M. Long Arabians (In re M. Long Arabians), 103 B.R. 211 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1989) (members of a class must affirmatively vote in favor of the plan in order for that class to have accepted plan treatment); *compare Heins v. Inc. (In re Ruti-Sweetwater, Inc.), 863 F.2d 1263 (10th Cir. 1988) (Non-voting, non-objecting creditor who is a member of a class that casts no votes is deemed to have accepted the plan of reorganization for purposes of section 1129(a)(8) and 1129(b)).

Plan proponents have dealt with the problem of a non-voting class by including prominent language in the Plan, Disclosure Statement and Plan Ballot providing that creditors who did not vote would be deemed to accept the plan. See, e.g., In re Adelpia Communications, 368 B.R. 140, 260-62 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2007) ("Section 7.3 of the Plan adopts a presumption that '[i]f no holders of Claims or Equity Interests eligible to vote in a particular Class vote to accept or reject the Plan, the Plan shall be deemed accepted by the holders of such Claims or Equity Interests in such Class.'... I overruled the ACC Bondholder Group's objection, and uphold the Plan presumption with respect to the non-voting creditors in these classes.").

Unfortunately, the Debtors did not include any such language in the Plan, Disclosure Statement or Ballot. In fact, the Debtors' Ballot expressly stated that failure to return a timely ballot would result in the vote not being counted as "either an acceptance or rejection of the Plan." See Third Amended Disclosure Statement, Ex. D.

Therefore, the Court finds it appropriate to reopen voting and directs the Debtors to serve an amended plan and disclosure statement, and a supplemental notice to all creditors and file a proof of service evidencing the same by no later than January 29, 2020, that: (i) notes that such classes previously received copies of the Debtors' solicitation package and have failed to timely return a ballot; (ii) unambiguously states that the deadline to submit a ballot has been extended to February 21, 2020, (iii) notifies such classes that the failure to timely return a ballot by the February 21st deadline will be deemed acceptance of the amended Plan; and (iv) notifies creditors that additional copies of the amended solicitation package can be obtained by contacting Debtors' counsel.

In the event the Non-Voting Classes do not return ballots by the February 21, 2020 deadline, those classes will be deemed to have accepted the amended Plan.

Chapter 11

As stated in the Confirmation Brief, Debtors propose to avoid the claims of certain unsecured creditors. Debtors argue that these creditors will not receive any distribution under an amended plan on the basis that a) these claimants did not submit a proof of claim and/or b) Debtors assume that the balances on these claims have been excused, no longer exist, or have since been "charged off." See Confirmation Brief at 7. Debtors appear to argue that § 1123(b)(3) enables them to amend the Plan to exclude these unsecured creditors.

A claim or interest listed in the debtor's schedules as "undisputed," "unliquidated," and "noncontingent," and for which no objection is filed, is deemed "filed" and "allowed" in the amount scheduled. 11 U.S.C. § 1111(a) ("A proof of claim or interest is deemed filed...for any claim or interest that appears in the schedules filed under section 521(a)(1) or 1106(a)(2) ..."); FRBP 3003(c)(2). Here, the Debtors listed all of the unsecured claims disseminated in the Third Amended Disclosure Statement (see Exhibit C) in their Schedule E/F [Doc. No. 1]. None of these claims is identified as "contingent," "unliquidated," or "disputed." In addition, the Debtors have not formally objected to any specific claim. Aside from their uncorroborated speculation, the Debtors have not established that any unsecured claim is invalid. In sum, pursuant to § 1111(a), each unsecured claim listed in Exhibit C of the Disclosure Statement is deemed to be filed and allowed.

Debtors' argument to exclude payment to certain unsecured creditors pursuant to § 1123(b)(3) is not adequately briefed. Section 1123(b)(3) governs the treatment of claims or interests of the debtor or the estate, which allows the plan to provide for (A) the settlement or adjustment of any claim or interest belonging to the debtor or the estate, or (B) the retention and enforcement of any claim or interest by either the debtor, the trustee, or a representative of the estate specifically appointed for that purpose. If it is Debtors' position that § 1123(b)(3) authorizes them to object to and disallow claims through a plan confirmation motion, then Debtors have not proffered any legal authority establishing their contention. To that extent, the Court finds Debtors' arguments unpersuasive.

If Debtors intend to pursue this course of action, they must submit a supplemental brief addressing this issue. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the general unsecured class fails to submit a timely ballot, it will be deemed to accept the Plan, and this issue will be moot.

Chapter 11

iii. Additional Issues Not Addressed by Debtors

The Court further finds that the Confirmation Brief fails to adequately address the following issues:

1. The Debtors have not submitted evidence establishing that the 5% interest rate proposed for Class 5(a) appropriately considers the risk of nonpayment sustained by Wells Fargo. If Debtors cannot demonstrate in good faith that a 5% interest rate will result in Wells Fargo receiving the present value of its claim, they may amend their Plan to pay Wells Fargo's claim with a suitable rate of interest [Note 2]. However, if Class 5(a) fails to submit a timely ballot, it will be deemed to accept the Plan, and this issue will be moot.
2. The Court finds Wells Fargo's objection regarding the treatment of escrow on the Rental Property loan well founded. Given that this issue affects Debtors' distribution under the Plan regardless of Class 5(a)'s vote, Debtors shall specify the treatment of escrow in their amended Plan and Disclosure Statement.
3. Finally, the Debtors shall specify whether the payment of priority taxes will be on a monthly or quarterly basis in their amended Plan and Disclosure Statement.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Court is not in a position to confirm the Debtors' Plan at this time. The hearing is CONTINUED to April 15, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. The continued hearing is subject to the following deadlines:

1. By no later than January 24, 2020, and prior to disseminating the amended voting package, the Debtors are directed to file an amended disclosure statement and chapter 11 plan that addresses the issues discussed above.
2. As instructed above, the Debtors shall serve the amended plan, disclosure statement, and ballot, notice of the continued hearing date, and a supplemental notice to all creditors and file a proof of service evidencing the same by no later than January 29, 2020.

Note 2: At this stage, the Court finds that it is premature to determine whether Debtors' proposed interest rate on Wells Fargo's claim will result in that creditor receiving the present value of its claim.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor-in-possession Liboria Zavalza (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on April 3, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor's principal asset consists of an ownership interest in rental property located at 4053 & 4501(A) Randolph Street, Huntington Park, CA 90255 (the "Property"). According to monthly operating reports ("MORs"), the Debtor collects approximately $4,000 per month in rental income. The Court conditionally approved the Debtor's Disclosure Statement on January 13, 2020 [Doc. No. 100]. On January 16, 2020, the Debtor submitted a supplemental declaration in connection with the conditional approval of the Disclosure Statement [Doc. No. 103] (the "Supplemental Declaration"). The Supplemental Declaration asserts that the Debtor's monthly income is approximately $1,550, which is comprised of social security benefits of $490 and fluctuating part-time wages of about $1,060. See Supplemental Declaration, ¶¶ 9-12. According to the Debtor, her bankruptcy was precipitated by the loss of income resulting from her unemployment, nonpayment of rent by tenants, and her unsuccessful efforts to refinance the mortgage loan on the Property. See Confirmation Brief at 2. The Debtor's outstanding financial obligations consist of mortgage payments owed on the Property and other nominal consumer debt. Id.

On March 15, 2020, the Debtor filed the Confirmation Brief seeking to confirm her chapter 11 plan of reorganization [Doc. No. 80] (the "Plan").

Administrative Claims

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Debtor's estimated administrative claims total approximately $15,000. This figure is consistent with the fees and expenses sought by Debtor's counsel in the most recent interim fee application [Doc. Nos. 83, 89]. The Debtor states that the balance of administrative fees has been paid.

Class 5(a) – Secured Claim of the Bank – Accepts the Plan

The Property is subject to a first-priority deed of trust in favor of HSBC Bank, N.A., as Trustee for the Registered Holders of Nomura Home Equity Loan, Inc., Asset-Backed Certificates, Series 2007-3 (the "Bank") in the amount of $1,185,616.25. Pursuant to a court-approved stipulation [Doc. No. 72] between Debtor and the Bank (the "Stipulation"), the Bank holds a fully secured claim against the Property in the amount of $465,000. Pursuant to the Plan, the Debtor proposes to pay the Bank's secured claim, in full, with a fixed 5% interest rate, by making monthly installment payments of $2,787.91 over 360 months, which commenced on November 1, 2019. The Bank's claim is impaired, and it voted in favor of the Plan.

Class 6(b) – General Unsecured Claims – Deemed to Reject the Plan

This class consists of all allowed general unsecured claims, which the Debtor asserts total $730,167.23. As set forth in the Stipulation, Class 6(b) includes the unsecured portion of the Bank's claim in the sum of $722,892.12. In addition to the Bank, there are four other creditors in this class. Pursuant to the Plan, the Debtor proposes to pay this class 2% of its claims, without interest, over a 5-year period by making equal pro-rata monthly installment payments totaling $247.09. Claims in this class are impaired and entitled to vote on the Plan. However, only one out of five claimants in this class casted a ballot (i.e. the Bank). Therefore, Class 6(b) is deemed to reject the Plan.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. Issues Preventing Confirmation of the Debtor's Plan at This Time

There are five claimants in Class 6(b), and the class is impaired and entitled to vote on the Plan, but only the Bank submitted a ballot. The Debtor argues that the Plan should be confirmed because (1) there are no objections against the Plan, (2) the Plan is fair and equitable because Class 6(b) claimants will receive more under the Plan than they would have received in chapter 7, and (3) the Plan does not unfairly discriminate because non-voting claimants are entitled to receive an equal distribution. See Confirmation Brief at 9-11.

1. *Class 6(b) is deemed to reject the Plan

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. 1126(c), a class of claims has accepted a plan if voting creditors in such class holding claims (a) at least two-thirds in amount and (b) more than one-half in number have voted to accept the plan. Here, claimants in Class 6(b) hold claims in the sum of $730,167.23. The Bank—the only Class 6(b) claimant to vote in favor of the Plan—holds a claim totaling $722,892.12, which makes up 99% of claims in such class. However, less than one-half of Class 6(b) claims casted a vote in favor of the Plan.

The Court recognizes the split of authority regarding whether a non-voting, non-objecting, class of creditors is deemed to have accepted or rejected a plan. See Bell Road Inv. Co. v. M. Long Arabians (In re M. Long Arabians), 103 B.R. 211 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1989) (members of a class must affirmatively vote in favor of the plan in order for that class to have accepted plan treatment); compare Heins v. Ruti-Sweetwater, Inc. (In re Ruti-Sweetwater, Inc.), 863 F.2d 1263 (10th Cir. 1988) (Non-voting, non-objecting creditor who is a member of a class that casts no votes is deemed to have accepted the plan of reorganization for purposes of section 1129(a)(8) and 1129(b)).

Plan proponents have dealt with the problem of a non-voting class by including prominent language in the Plan, Disclosure Statement and Plan Ballot providing that creditors who did not vote would be deemed to accept the plan. See, e.g., In re Adelpia Communications, 368 B.R. 140, 260-62 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2007) ("Section 7.3 of the Plan adopts a presumption that '[i]f no holders of Claims or Equity Interests eligible to vote in a particular Class vote to accept or reject the Plan, the Plan shall be deemed accepted by the holders of such Claims or Equity Interests in such Class.'... I overruled the ACC Bondholder Group's objection, and uphold the Plan presumption with respect to the non-voting creditors in these classes.").

Here, the Debtor did not include any such language in the Plan, Disclosure Statement, or Ballot. In fact, the Debtor's Ballot expressly stated that failure to return a timely ballot would result in the vote not being counted as "either an acceptance or rejection of the Plan." See Ballot [Doc. No. 112] at 3.

Pursuant to § 1129(b)(1), a plan may be confirmed where not all impaired classes vote to accept the plan, provided that "the plan does not discriminate unfairly, and is fair and equitable, with respect to each class of claims or interests that is impaired under, and has not accepted, the plan." With respect to a class of unsecured claims, the condition that a plan be fair and equitable includes the following requirements:

- (i) the plan provides that each holder of a claim of such class receive or retain on account of such claim property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, equal to the allowed amount of such claim; or
- (ii) the holder of any claim or interest that is junior to the claims of such class will not receive or retain under the plan on account of such junior claim or interest any property, except that in a case in which the debtor is an individual, the debtor may retain property included in the estate under section 1115, subject to the requirements of subsection (a)(14) of this section.

11 U.S.C. § 1129(b)(2)(B).

Here, the Plan proposes to pay Class 6(b) claimants 2% of their claims, without interest, while permitting the Debtor to retain an interest in property on account of her junior claim. The Debtor argues that § 1129(b)(1) and (b)(2)(B) are satisfied as to Class 6(b) claimants because the class will receive more under the Plan than they would have received in chapter 7, and the Plan does not unfairly discriminate because claims will be paid equally. The Plan does not contemplate that the Debtor will make a new value contribution.

The Debtor has not carried her burden of establishing that Class 6(b) will receive the present value of their claims, as required by § 1129(b)(2)(B)(i). In Liberty Nat'l Enters. v. Ambanc La Mesa Ltd. Pshp. (In re Ambanc La Mesa Ltd. Pshp.), the court held that a chapter 11 plan failed to satisfy the absolute priority rule, where it did not pay interest on an unsecured creditor's claim. 115 F.3d 650, 654 (9th Cir. 1997). The Ambanc court further determined that the plan had to provide the unsecured creditor "for payment of interest for the post-confirmation time-value of the amount [of its claim]." Id. Here, the Plan proposes to pay Class 6(b) only 2% of claims, without interest, while permitting Debtor to retain her interest in the Property. Therefore, the proposed treatment of Class 6(b) runs afoul the absolute priority rule, as discussed in Ambanc. Moreover, although there are no oppositions on file, the Court acknowledges its independent duty to ensure that reorganization plans satisfy all confirmation requirements. See In re L&J Anaheim Assoc., 995 F.2d 940, 942 (9th Cir. 1993). In sum, the Plan does not satisfy § 1129(b)(2)(B)(i) and cannot be crammed down on Class 6(b).

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds it appropriate to reopen voting and directs the Debtor to file an amended plan and disclosure statement, and serve an amended ballot and supplemental notice to all creditors and file a proof of service evidencing the same by no later than May 15, 2020, that: (i) states that Class 6(b) previously received copies of the Debtor's solicitation package and failed to timely return a ballot; (ii) unambiguously states that the deadline to submit a ballot has been extended to June 15, 2020, (iii) notifies creditors that the failure to timely return a ballot by the stated deadline will be deemed acceptance of the amended plan; and (iv) notifies creditors that copies of the amended solicitation package can be obtained by contacting Debtor's counsel.

In the event that claimants do not return ballots by the June 15, 2020 deadline, those classes will be deemed to have accepted the amended plan. Moreover, the Debtor may amend the plan to ensure that Class 6(b) is paid with a suitable interest rate, if the Debtor can afford the payments occasioned by such distribution [Note 1]. Nevertheless, if Class 6(b) claimants fail to submit a timely ballot, such class will be deemed to accept the plan, and the absolute priority rule issue will be moot.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Court is not in a position to confirm the Debtor's Plan at this time. The hearing is CONTINUED to July 15, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. The continued hearing is subject to the following deadlines:

1. By no later than May 15, 2020, and prior to disseminating the amended voting package, the Debtor is directed to file an amended disclosure statement and chapter 11 plan that addresses the issues discussed above.
2. As instructed above, the Debtor shall serve the amended ballot, the notice of the continued hearing date, and a supplemental notice to all creditors and file a proof of service evidencing the same by no later than May 22, 2020.

3. June 15, 2020 is fixed as the deadline to cast an amended ballot.
4. The Debtor must file a plan ballot summary by no later than June 24, 2020.
5. Any objections to the amended plan must be filed and served by no later than July 1, 2020.
6. July 8, 2020 is fixed as the last day on which the Debtor may file and serve a supplemental confirmation brief in response to any objections to the amended plan, or to address any issues raised herein.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

In Till, the Court endorsed the "formula approach," which is determined by first "looking to the national prime rate, reported daily in the press," which may be adjusted according to the risk absorbed by creditors. Till, 541 U.S. at 478-479.

Chapter 11

Debtor-in-possession, C & F Sturm, LLC (the "Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on October 1, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is managed and fully owned by Christina De Musee ("Musee"). The Debtor's only asset consists of real property located at 511 and 515 Las Vegas Boulevard South, Las Vegas, Nevada 89101 (the "Property"). The Debtor's bankruptcy filing was precipitated by the ongoing expenses sustained by Musee, arising in connection with the Property. The Debtor explains that these outlays arise from a settlement agreement (the "Settlement") between Debtor and Palco Promotions, Inc. ("Palco"), one of its unsecured creditors. The Debtor asserts that Palco breached the terms of the Settlement by failing to market the Property or pay its portion of the Property's recurring expenses.

The Debtor filed its Plan and Disclosure Statement on December 31, 2019. However, on February 19, 2020, the Court rejected the Debtor's Disclosure Statement for reasons explained in the Court's final ruling (the "Court's Ruling") [Doc. No. 34]. The Court continued the hearing to the above-captioned time and date to permit the Debtor to file amended pleadings. The Amended Disclosure Statement and Plan were timely filed on March 19, 2020.

As set forth in the Amended Disclosure Statement, the Debtor plans to sell the Property and utilize sale proceeds to fully pay allowed claims. To effectuate the sale of the Property, the Debtor retained the services of bankruptcy counsel and a real estate broker [Note 1]. The Debtor informs that it received two offers to purchase the Property in February 2019. However, due to the adverse impact of COVID-19 on the stock market, interested buyers backed away from the transaction and no agreement materialized. Nevertheless, the Debtor anticipates selling the Property once the health crisis is resolved. The Debtor presently seeks an order approving the Amended Disclosure Statement. The Amended Disclosure Statement details the events precipitating the bankruptcy filing and provides a description of significant post-petition events. The Debtor proposes a liquidation plan that will be entirely funded by the proceeds generated from the sale of the Property (the "Sale Proceeds"). The Debtor anticipates that the Sale Proceeds will be sufficient to pay all administrative costs, capital gains taxes, costs of sale, and all claims.

The Plan proposes the following classification scheme and treatments:

Administrative Claims

The Debtor anticipates that administrative fees for professionals will be approximately $147,700, of which $30,000 will be sought by Debtor's counsel, $10,000 by Debtor's accountant, and $107,700 by the real estate broker (based on the current listing price). The Debtor proposes to pay its counsel and accountant, in full, on the Effective Date [Note 2]. The Debtor's real estate broker and quarterly fees owed to the Office of the United States Trustee, totaling $18,275, will be fully paid upon the sale of the Property.

Priority Tax Claims

The Franchise Tax Board ("FTB") and the Clark County Treasurer ("Clark County") hold priority tax claims against the Debtor. The Debtor proposes to fully pay FTB's claim of $1,645.13, as well as Clark County's claim of $16,000, upon the sale of the Property.

The Amended Plan states that Class 3 consists of the claim of Brandon Lew, Jr., the Debtor's former counsel ("Lew"). Lew has a judgment lien against the Property in the sum of $20,256.66. The Debtor proposes to pay Lew, in full, upon the sale of the Property. The Debtor states that Class 3 is unimpaired and not entitled to vote on the Amended Plan.

Class 6 – General Unsecured Claims

Class 6 consists of all allowed general unsecured claims, including Palco's claim, which the Debtor estimates total $338,632. See Amended Disclosure Statement, Ex. B. The Amended Plan proposes to pay Palco the sum of $318,500, which is the amount that Palco is entitled to receive under the terms of the Settlement [Note 3]. The Debtor clarifies that Palco's proposed payout will be unaffected by the Property's eventual sale price. See Amended Plan at 13-14. In other words, even if the Property were to sell for a lesser amount than as contemplated in the Settlement, Palco will still be entitled to receive $318,500. The Debtor proposes to pay all Class 6 creditors, in full, upon the sale of the Property. The Debtor states that this class is unimpaired and not entitled to vote on the Plan.

Class 8 – Musee's Insider Claim

This class consists of Musee's claim to the remaining balance of the Sale Proceeds, after all other claims have been satisfied. Musee is an insider. According to the Debtor, Musee's claim is impaired, but as the plan proponent, Musee will not vote against the Amended Plan.

Means of Implementation

The Debtor's Plan will be wholly funded from the Sale Proceeds, upon the sale of the Property.

Additional Material Terms

The Debtor identifies the "Distribution Date" as the date on which cash will be distributed to claimants pursuant to an order either confirming the Amended Plan or granting a sale motion and a structured dismissal. Until an appropriate order is entered, all property obtained or possessed by the Debtor shall be held in trust, subject to the terms of an order granting a sales motion or confirming the Amended Plan. See Amended Plan at 17.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 1125 requires a disclosure statement to contain "information of a kind, and in sufficient detail, as far as is reasonably practicable in light of the nature and history of the debtor and the condition of the debtor's books and records . . . that would enable. . . a hypothetical investor of the relevant class to make an informed judgment about the plan." In determining whether a disclosure statement provides adequate information, "the court shall consider the complexity of the case, the benefit of additional information to creditors and other parties in interest, and the cost of providing additional information." 11 U.S.C. § 1125(a). Courts interpreting § 1125(a) have explained that the "primary purpose of a disclosure statement is to give the creditors the information they need to decide whether to accept the plan." In re Monnier Bros., 755 F.2d 1336, 1342 (8th Cir. 1985). Relevant factors for evaluating the adequacy of a disclosure statement may include: (1) the events which led to the filing of a bankruptcy petition; (2) a description of the available assets and their value; (3) the anticipated future of the company; (4) the source of information stated in the disclosure statement; (5) a disclaimer; (6) the present condition of the debtor while in Chapter 11; (7) the scheduled claims; (8) the estimated return to creditors under a Chapter 7 liquidation; (9) the accounting method utilized to produce financial information and the name of the accountants responsible for such information; (10) the future management of the debtor; (11) the Chapter 11 plan or a summary thereof; (12) the estimated administrative expenses, including attorneys' and accountants' fees; (13) the collectability of accounts receivable; (14) financial information, data, valuations or projections relevant to the creditors' decision to accept or reject the Chapter 11 plan; (15) information relevant to the risks posed to creditors under the plan; (16) the actual or projected realizable value from recovery of preferential or otherwise voidable transfers; (17) litigation likely to arise in a nonbankruptcy context; (18) tax attributes of the debtor; and (19) the relationship of the debtor with affiliates.

The Court previously rejected the Disclosure Statement because, inter alia, 1) the Plan was internally inconsistent; 2) the Debtor did not provide any substantive information regarding the sale of the Property; 3) the Plan incorrectly identified Palco as an unimpaired claimant; and 4) FTB was not served with any papers. The Court finds that the Debtor appropriately addressed its concerns. First, the Amended Plan resolves ambiguities resulting from inconsistent events triggered by the Effective Date and the Distribution Date. The Amended Plan clarifies that the Distribution Date is subject to an order issued by this Court and not defined by plan deadlines. Importantly, the Debtor also explains that all property will be held in trust, subject to an order confirming the Distribution Date. These amendments are valuable because, as previously discussed, the Debtor could not be "certain that the Property [would] be sold before the Effective Date, enabling the payment of Sale Proceeds on the Effective Date." Court's Ruling at 5 [Doc. No. 34] (the pages cited follow the pagination located at the top of the document). The Debtor further resolved concerns with respect to the sale of the Property and Palco's classification. In sum, the Court finds that the Debtor adequately addressed all material issues contained in the previous version of the Disclosure Statement and Plan.

However, the Court notes on a few minor issues concerning the Amended Disclosure Statement and Amended Plan:

- Palco's proposed payout under the Amended Plan ($318,500) is different from the payout stated in the Amended Disclosure ($324,800). Compare Amended Plan at 14 with Amended Disclosure Statement at 14. The Court cannot find a reasonable explanation for this discrepancy, nor does the Debtor offer a clarification in the papers.
- As previously discussed in the Court's Ruling, the Disclosure Statement stated that the FTB and Clark County were both Class 1 claimants, while both creditors were treated as priority tax claimants under the Plan. The Debtor did not correct this issue in the amended pleadings.
- The Debtor again failed to serve the amended pleadings on the FTB. However, in order to progress Debtor's case, and in light that the FTB's claim will be paid in full, the Court will not continue this matter. However, the Debtor is reminded that the repeated failure to serve papers on all parties entitled to service may result in further delay, or other appropriate action taken by the Court.

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that these issues are either immaterial or the result of a clerical error. Subject to any objection by the Debtor, any conflict between the Amended Plan and the Amended Disclosure Statement shall be controlled by the terms of the Amended Plan.

Subject to the minor issues discussed above, the Court finds that the Amended Disclosure Statement contains adequate information. Among other things, the Amended Disclosure Statement describes: (1) the factors precipitating the Chapter 11 filing, (2) a description of the Property and its contemplated sale, (3) the classification structure of the Amended Plan, (4) a Liquidation Analysis, (5) risk factors, (6) estimated administrative expenses, and (7) the means for executing the Plan.

III. Conclusion

The Amended Disclosure Statement is APPROVED, subject to the minor issues set forth above. The following dates and deadlines will apply to solicitation and confirmation of the Debtor's Plan:

- 1) A hearing will be held on the confirmation of the Debtor's Amended Plan on July 15, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) In accordance with FRBP 3017(a), the Disclosure Statement, the Plan, a notice of hearing on confirmation of the Plan and, if applicable, a ballot conforming to Official Form No. 14, shall be mailed to all creditors, equity security holders and to the Office of the United States Trustee, pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3017(d), on or before April 27, 2020.
- 3) May 28, 2020 is fixed as the last day for creditors and equity security holders to return to Debtor's counsel ballots containing written acceptances or rejections of the Plan, which ballots must be actually received by Debtor's counsel by 5:00 p.m. on such date.
- 4) June 19, 2020 is fixed as the last day on which the Debtor must file and serve a motion for an order confirming the Plan (the "Confirmation Motion") including declarations setting forth a tally of the ballots cast with respect to the Plan ("Ballots"), and attaching thereto the original Ballots, and setting forth evidence that the Debtor has complied with all the requirements for the confirmation of the Plan as set forth in Section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code.
- 5) July 1, 2020 (the "Objection Date"), is fixed as the last day for filing and serving written objections to confirmation of the Amended Plan, as provided in Rule 3020(b)(1) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure.
- 6) July 8, 2020 is fixed as the last day on which the Debtor may file and serve a reply to any opposition to the Confirmation Motion ("Reply").

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Note 1: On October 24, 2019, Palco filed an objection against the employment application of Debtor's real estate broker [Doc. No. 14] (the "Objection"). The Objection did not present a persuasive challenge against the application, and the Court granted the employment application on November 21, 2019 [Doc. No. 25].

The Amended Plan aims to set the effective date as June 1, 2020.

Note 3: Pursuant to the Settlement, Palco is entitled to 50% of any proceeds in excess of $1,400,000 generated from the sale of the Property, with any remaining proceeds going to the Debtor. See Amended Disclosure Statement, Ex. D. The Settlement requires that the Property is marketed at an initial listing price of $2,100,000, meaning that Palco would receive a $318,500 payout, net of sale costs.

Chapter 7

- 2) As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, there is no opposition to the Sale Motion on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Blanca Olivia Corrales (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary chapter 7 petition on December 26, 2019. Peter J. Mastan was appointed to be the chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee"). As forth in Schedule A/B, the Debtor possesses an ownership interest in a 2006 Dodge Ram (VIN: 1D17HA16226J218805) (the "Vehicle"), with a stated fair market value of $6,540. The Debtor claimed an exemption in the Vehicle of $3,325 (the "Exemption"). See Sale Motion, Ex. 2 [Schedule C]. Subject to the Court's approval and any qualified overbids, the Trustee entered into an assignment agreement with the Debtor, governing the conveyance of the estate's interest in the Vehicle (the "Assignment Agreement"). See Sale Motion, Ex. 1. The Assignment Agreement contemplates that the Trustee will transfer the Vehicle to the Debtor, "as is" and "where is," in exchange for $5,825—the Debtor will pay $2,500 cash to the estate, with the remaining $3,325 deemed as satisfaction for the Exemption.

The Trustee requests approval of the Sale Motion pursuant to §§ 704(a)(1) and 363(b). The Trustee asserts that the Vehicle's sale is reasonable under the circumstances, supported by sound business judgment, and accounting for costs of sale, the proposed consideration is fair and reasonable. Except for the Exemption, the Trustee asserts that he is not aware of any encumbrances against the Vehicle. The sale is subject to overbids. Finally, the Trustee requests good faith protections for the proposed buyer pursuant to § 363(m). No opposition to the Sale Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(b) permits the Trustee to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The Trustee must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19-20 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19-20.

The Trustee has demonstrated sufficient business justification for the sale, which will both generate cash receipts of $2,500 for the benefit of the estate and satisfy the Debtor's claimed exemption in the Vehicle. In sum, the sale is in accordance with the Trustee's statutory obligation to liquidate the estate's assets.

Chapter 7

The Trustee requests that the purchaser be afforded the protections of § 363(m). Having reviewed the declarations submitted by the Trustee, the Court finds that the proposed buyer is a good faith purchaser entitled to the protections of § 363(m). In the event that an overbidder prevails at the auction, the Court will take testimony from such overbidder to determine whether §363(m) protections are warranted.

Auction Procedures

The Court will consider bids from any qualified overbidders making a telephonic appearance on the Sale Motion hearing. The initial overbid shall be $6,825 with subsequent overbids to be in increments of $500. The overbid increment is subject to adjustment by the Court to facilitate bidding. The Court will announce each bid level. To remain in the auction, bidders must participate at all bid levels. That is, parties who do not bid in a round cannot later change their minds and re-enter the auction. Parties may make a bid higher than that announced by the Court by clearly stating their bid.

The overbidding procedures proposed by the Trustee are approved as set forth below. A winning overbidder (except for the proposed buyer) shall provide the Trustee with a certified or cashier's check in the full amount of that bid. The prevailing overbidder must make arrangements to pay the Trustee in accordance with the Assignment Agreement. See Sale Motion, Ex. 1. Any successful overbidders shall purchase the Vehicle on the same terms and conditions as the proposed buyer, except for the purchase price amount. Potential overbidders are encouraged to thoroughly review the Assignment Agreement attached to the Sale Motion prior to the hearing.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Sale Motion is GRANTED. Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h), the order approving the sale shall take immediate effect upon entry.

The Trustee shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven (7) days of the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor in possession, Ray Charles Patterson (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on August 28, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor scheduled an ownership interest in certain real property located at 7520 Shore Cliff Drive, Los Angeles, CA 90045 (the "Property"). The record indicates that the Property is subject to a senior lien held by the Bank of New York Mellon, as trustee for the Certificateholders of the Cwalt, Inc ("BNYM") in the sum of $1,987,481,81, a second-position lien held by Real Time Resolutions, Inc. and a $75,000 mechanics lien held by CSAR LLC ("CSAR") (collectively, the "Lienholders"). Having previously received a chapter 7 discharge on November 1, 2017, and he is not personally indebted to the above-mentioned creditors, the Debtor claims that the instant case was filed to prevent the Property's looming foreclosure.

However, the Debtor filed this voluntary dismissal motion as he intends to work with the Lienholders outside of bankruptcy. The Debtor argues that dismissal of this case is in the best interests of creditors, given that that he is not eligible for a discharge and there are no unsecured creditors. As such, proceeding with this petition will result in unnecessary administrative expense, monthly accounting reporting requirements, and the payment of UST fees. The Debtor claims that he only has a nominal amount of priority tax obligations; however, only the IRS filed a proof of claim in the sum of $2,545.43. Further, the bar date has already passed, and no other claims have since been filed. In sum, the Debtor maintains he can resolve all outstanding financial obligations outside of bankruptcy, and the IRS can satisfy its claim through refund offsets.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under § 1112(b), the Court shall dismiss or convert a case to one under chapter 7 upon a showing of cause. A "[d]ebtor's request [to voluntarily dismiss a Chapter 11 bankruptcy case] should ordinarily be granted unless some 'plain legal prejudice' will result to creditors." In re Kimble, 96 B.R. 305, 308 (Bankr. D. Mont. 1988), quoting In re Geller, 74 B.R. 685, 688-689 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 1987); In re Hall, 15 B.R. 913, 915-916 (9th Cir. BAP 1981). The Court finds that the Debtor has standing to bring a motion to dismiss, since it is a "party in interest" 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b).

Here, dismissal best serves the interest of the creditors and the estate. Given that the Debtor intends to address the Lienholders' claims outside of bankruptcy, and noting the lack of any objection, the Court determines that maintaining this case in bankruptcy will incur needless administrative expenses. Furthermore, even if the parties are unable to reach an agreement, the Lienholders will retain their security interest in the Property. Moreover, the Debtor contemplates that the IRS, the only priority claimant to file a proof of claim, may offset its claim against any tax refunds entitled to the Debtor. Accordingly, the Court finds it is in the best interests of creditors and the estate to dismiss this case. On the record before it, the Court further finds that no purpose would be served by converting this case to a case under chapter 7. Additionally, there being no objection to the Motion, the Court presumes interested parties consent to the granting of the requested relief pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h).

Finally, there being no other matters pending in this case, the Court will only retain jurisdiction to consider approval and payment of professional fees and outstanding administrative expenses. [Note 1]

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED and the case is dismissed.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

space (the "Leases"). On February 19, 2019, the Court extended the Debtors' initial motion for a 90-day extension of the deadline to assume or reject these unexpired leases (such deadline, the "Assumption/Rejection Deadline"). See Doc. No. 1157. The Court subsequently authorized further extensions of the Assumption/Rejection Deadline. See Doc. Nos. 1955, 2637, 3173, and 3851. The current Assumption/Rejection Deadline is March 23, 2020.

Debtors now move for an extension of the Assumption/Rejection Deadline from March 23, 2020, to and including June 21, 2020. Debtors state that the extension is necessary because they are still liquidating their remaining assets and have not yet made a final determination regarding the assumption or rejection of specific leases.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(d)(4) provides:

the Lessor's non-opposition to constitute consent. Because the Debtors remain current on lease payments, this approach does not prejudice the Lessors. In addition, absent extension of the deadline, the Debtors will lack the flexibility necessary to allow them to assume and assign certain leases to future purchasers of their remaining assets. This would harm the estates by reducing the purchase price realized in connection with the disposition of the Debtors' assets.

The Lessors have received notice of the Motion and have not objected to the relief requested. The Assumption/Rejection Deadline is extended to and including June 21, 2020.

The Debtors shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. ### I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Manuel Macias (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition on January 19, 2018 [Note 1]. The Debtor scheduled an ownership interest in real property located at 11468 Esther Street, Norwalk, California 90650 (the "Property"). The Property is subject to a first-priority lien held by Plaza Home Mortgage, Inc. ("Plaza"), which originally secured indebtedness in the sum of $315,000. Based on the most current mortgage payoff statement, the amount due to Plaza through March 27, 2020 is $298,588.21 [Note 2]. See the Declaration of Brad D. Krasnoff ("Krasnoff Decl."), Ex. 3. Brad D. Krasnoff was appointed as chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee").

According to the Trustee, the Debtor transferred his interest in the Property through a series of pre-petition transfers to Steven Molina ("Molina") and Janet Estrada ("Estrada") (collectively, the "Defendants"). On May 1, 2019, the Trustee initiated an adversary action against the Defendants, seeking to avoid their transfers and recover the Property (the "Adversary Proceeding"). On January 9, 2020, the Court entered an order approving a settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") between the Trustee and the Defendants [Doc. No. 47]. The material terms of the Settlement Agreement are as follows:

1. The Defendants shall transfer the Property to the estate, and the Property will be marketed and sold by Trustee;
2. Pending closing of the sale, the Defendants are responsible for the Property's insurance fees, taxes, mortgage payments, and other maintenance costs;
3. Following payment of Plaza's senior lien, and other sale costs, the remaining sale proceeds will be split 50/50 between the Trustee, on one side, and the Defendants on the other.

Chapter 7

On March 20, 2020, the chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee") filed the Sale Motion. The Trustee seeks authorization to sell the Property, "as is," and "where is," and free and clear of liens, claims, and encumbrances, pursuant to § 363(f). Following negotiations, the Trustee entered into an agreement with Carlos and Jacqueline Torres (the "Buyers") for the purchase of the Property in the sum of $510,000, subject to court approval and any qualified overbids received. See Krasnoff Decl., Ex. 1. Although the Property is currently occupied, the Trustee asserts that a notice to vacate was personally served on the current tenants on February 28, 2020, who were advised that the Property had to be vacated by April 28, 2020. The Sale Motion contemplates that if the Property is not timely vacated, the escrow will be continued until the Property becomes vacant, at the Trustee's expense. Krasnoff Decl., Ex. 1 at 28. The Trustee proposes the following treatment of liens and encumbrances against the Property:

- 1) Liens for real property taxes for fiscal year 2019–2020 (the "Tax Lien"). An installment of real property taxes totaling $1,313.38 will be due by the time the sale is consummated. The sale will be free and clear of the Tax Lien. In accordance with the Settlement Agreement, the Trustee proposes to pay the Tax Lien, through escrow, from the share of sale proceeds allocated to the Defendants.
- 2) First Position Deed of Trust in favor of Plaza, securing current indebtedness of $299,718.01 (the "Plaza DOT"). The Trustee will pay through escrow all undisputed amounts owed on the Plaza DOT, and any disputed amounts will attach to the net proceeds of the sale with the same force and validity as it had prior to the sale. The sale will be free and clear of the Plaza DOT.

Accordingly, the Trustee projects that the sale transaction will incur costs of sale of $40,800 and capital gains taxes of $897. After the above-referenced liens are resolved, and the costs of sale are fully paid, net proceeds of approximately $167,271.61 will be divided as provided in the Settlement Agreement. The estate will be entitled to net sale proceeds in the sum of $83,635.81.

In addition, the Trustee requests that the Court approve proposed sale procedures; determine that the Buyers, or any back-up bidder, are entitled to a good-faith finding under § 363(m); and approve the payment of a 6% sale commission to the parties' real

The Proposed Sale is Approved

Section 363(b) permits the Trustee to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The Trustee must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19-20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19-20.

The Trustee has demonstrated sufficient business justification for the sale. The sale is consistent with the Trustee's statutory obligation to liquidate the estate's assets. Section 363(f) provides that estate property may be sold free and clear of liens, claims, and interests, providing one of the following conditions is satisfied:

- 1) Applicable nonbankruptcy law permits sale of such property free and clear of such interest;
- 2) Such entity consents;
- 3) Such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;
- 4) Such interest is in bona fide dispute; or
- 5) Such entity could be compelled, in a legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a money satisfaction of such interest.

The Court approves the Trustee's proposed treatment of the liens and encumbrances against the Property, and finds that the Property may be sold free and clear of such liens and encumbrances as requested by the Trustee. Pursuant to § 363(f) (3), the sale is free and clear of the Tax Liens and the Plaza DOT because the Property's sale will generate proceeds exceeding the aggregate value of such liens. The sale is free and clear of any potential claims by either Molina or Estrada, as they will only be entitled to recover net sale proceeds, pursuant to the Settlement Agreement. See Trustee's Motion to Approve Compromise [Doc. No. 42], Ex. 1 [the Settlement Agreement] at 20. Furthermore, the Trustee is authorized to pay the Commissions through escrow. Having reviewed the declarations of the Trustee and Greg Bingham, one of the real estate brokers retained to market and sell the Property, the Court finds that the Buyers are good faith purchasers entitled to the protections of § 363(m). In the event that an overbidder prevails at the sale hearing, the Court will take testimony from such overbidder to determine whether §363(m) protections are warranted.

Auction Procedures

In the event that any qualified overbidders make a telephonic appearance, the Court will conduct an auction in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Sale Motion. The initial overbid will be at $515,000, with subsequent overbids to be in increments of $5,000. The overbid increment is subject to adjustment by the Court to facilitate bidding. The Court will announce each bid level. To remain in the auction, bidders must participate at all bid levels. That is, parties who do not bid in a round cannot later change their minds and re-enter the auction. Parties may make a bid higher than that announced by the Court by clearly stating their bid. Any prevailing overbidder shall be bound to the overbid procedures stated in the Sale Motion and must make adequate arrangements with the Trustee prior to or at the hearing.

In order to ensure the timely sale of the Property, the Court is prepared to confirm a back-up buyer proposed by the Trustee, if any.

Finally, the Court deems the absence of any opposition as consent to the granting of the Sale Motion pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(h).

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Sale Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. Because no opposition is on file, the order approving the Sale Motion shall take effect immediately upon entry, notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h).

This ruling shall be subject to the Emergency Rules of the California Rules of Court, effective April 6, 2020.

Within seven days of the hearing, the Trustee shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Marvin Ruiz Davila (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition on December 20, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Section 341(a) meeting of creditors took place on January 16, 2020, and the deadline to object to the Debtor's discharge was sixty days later, on March 16, 2020. The 2004 Motion

On March 10, 2020, Merchants Acquisition Group, LLC (the "Movant") filed the Motion for Order Authorizing Debtor Examination and Production of Documents Under Bankruptcy Rule 2004 (the "2004 Motion") [Doc. No. 11], pursuant to which the Movant sought the Debtor's testimony and the production of records to assist Movant in filing an adversary proceeding under 11 U.S.C. § 523(a). The Movant did not adequately establish grounds for an adversary action, nor did it address the looming deadline to object to the Debtor's discharge on March 16, 2020.

On March 11, 2020, the Court issued an Order Setting Hearing on Motion for Rule 2004 Examination [Doc. No. 13] (the "Order"), setting April 1, 2020 as the initial hearing date on the 2004 Motion. The Order instructed the Movant to (i) give notice of the hearing to the Debtor, and (ii) file supplemental briefing by no later than March 18, 2020 addressing how the 2004 examination would advance Movant's contemplated adversary action. The Debtor was permitted to respond to the Movant's supplemental briefing on or before March 25, 2020.

On March 17, 2020, the Movant filed the Declaration of Bruce Jackman [Doc. No. 17] (the "Declaration"), who serves as a custodian of records for the Movant. In short, the Declaration asserts that the Debtor, along with an individual by the name of Carmen Johana Cardona Mejia ("Mejia"), purchased luxury goods from Daniel's Jewelers ("Daniel's"), with an aggregate value north of $7,000, on November 8, December 8, and December 12, 2019, mere days before the Petition Date. [Note 1]. The Declaration further explains that all but one of these purchase transactions were charged to credit lines that the Debtor and Mejia had opened with Daniel's. See Declaration, ¶ 6. According to Jackman, Daniel's extended these credit lines only after the Debtor and Mejia supplied financial information in conflict with commencement documents submitted by both individuals. See id., ¶¶ 10-13. On or about February 24, 2020, Daniel's assigned its claim against the Debtor to the Movant. See 2004 Motion at 2.

On March 26, 2020, the Court continued the hearing on the 2004 Motion to April 15, 2020, to be heard concurrently with the Extension Motion [Doc. No. 26].

The Extension Motion

On March 16, 2020, on the final day to object to the Debtor's case, the Movant filed the Extension Motion seeking to extend the foregoing deadline for an unspecified amount of time. The Movant claims that the Debtor and Mejia each committed fraud within the presumptive period set by § 523(a)(2)(C) by purchasing luxury goods valued in excess of $500 with wrongfully-acquired credit. Although the Movant found Debtor's acts objectionable, it explains that the debts Debtor individually incurred would not have justified a dischargeability action due to the significant legal expense involved. It was only after Movant discovered that Debtor is engaged to Mejia, and had acted in concert with her, that it realized it had a substantial claim against the pair. However, this realization came far too late to timely object to the Debtor's discharge. Accordingly, the Debtor's marital status is not obvious, and though both individuals claimed to be married on their respective credit applications, the Debtor did not file a joint case with Mejia. See Extension Motion at 2. [Note 2]. Movant alleges that it further delayed because Debtor initially stated an intention to reaffirm his debt, which he did not carry through. In sum, because Debtor's relationship with Mejia was not evident, the Movant was not able to timely prosecute a dischargeability action.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Debtor has not opposed either the Extension Motion or the 2004 Motion.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Extensions of time to object to discharge are governed by Rule 4004(b) which provides, in relevant part:

(b) Extension of Time.

(1) On motion of any party in interest, after notice and hearing, the court may for cause extend the time to object to discharge. Except as provided in subdivision (b)(2), the motion shall be filed before the time has expired.

Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4004(b)(1).

Similarly, extensions of time to file a complaint to determine the dischargeability of debt under § 523(c) are governed by Rule 4007(c) which provides, in relevant part:

On motion of a party in interest, after hearing on notice, the court may for cause extend the time fixed under this subdivision. The motion shall be filed before the time has expired.

Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4007(c) (governing the time for filing complaint under § 523(c)).

Section 523(c) encompasses the dischargeability of debt "of a kind specified in paragraph (2), (4), or (6) of subsection (a) of [§ 523]." 11 U.S.C. § 523(c).

The Court finds that the Extension Motion was timely filed before the expiration of the sixty-day deadline on March 16, 2020. Based upon the representations in the Extension Motion and the Declaration, the Court finds that the Movant has established adequate cause to grant the Extension Motion. Although the Movant failed to request a specific deadline, the Court is prepared to grant Movant an extension to, and including, June 19, 2020 to file a complaint under § 727 and/or § 523.

Based on the foregoing, the 2004 Motion is further granted in accordance with the following terms:

1. The examination will take place at 131 N. Tustin Ave., Suite 200, Tustin, CA 92780, on April 29, 2020 at 12:30 p.m.

6. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Carmen Johana Cardona Mejia (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition on December 20, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Section 341(a) meeting of creditors took place on January 16, 2020, and the deadline to object to the Debtor's discharge was sixty days later, on March 16, 2020. On January 17, 2020, the chapter 7 trustee filed a Report of No Distribution.

Chapter 7

The 2004 Motion

On March 10, 2020, Merchants Acquisition Group, LLC (the "Movant") filed the Motion for Order Authorizing Debtor Examination and Production of Documents Under Bankruptcy Rule 2004 (the "2004 Motion") [Doc. No. 10], pursuant to which the Movant sought the Debtor's testimony and the production of records to assist Movant in filing an adversary proceeding under 11 U.S.C. § 523(a). The Movant did not adequately establish grounds for an adversary action, nor did it address the looming deadline to object to the Debtor's discharge on March 16, 2020.

On March 11, 2020, the Court issued an Order Setting Hearing on Motion for Rule 2004 Examination [Doc. No. 12] (the "Order"), setting April 1, 2020 as the initial hearing date on the 2004 Motion. The Order instructed the Movant to (i) give notice of the hearing to the Debtor, and (ii) file supplemental briefing by no later than March 18, 2020 addressing how the 2004 examination would advance Movant's contemplated adversary action. The Debtor was permitted to respond to the Movant's supplemental briefing on or before March 25, 2020.

On March 17, 2020, the Movant filed the Declaration of Bruce Jackman [Doc. No. 15] (the "Declaration"), who serves as a custodian of records for the Movant. In short, the Declaration asserts that the Debtor, along with an individual by the name of Marvin Ruiz Davila ("Ruiz"), purchased luxury goods from Daniel's Jewelers ("Daniel's"), with an aggregate value north of $7,000, on November 8, December 8, and December 12, 2019, mere days before the Petition Date. [Note 1]. The Declaration further explains that all but one of these purchase transactions were charged to credit lines that the Debtor and Ruiz had opened with Daniel's. See Declaration, ¶ 6. According to Jackman, Daniel's extended these credit lines only after the Debtor and Ruiz supplied financial information in conflict with commencement documents submitted by both individuals. See id., ¶¶ 10-13. On or about February 24, 2020, Daniel's assigned its claim against the Debtor to the Movant. See 2004 Motion at 2.

On March 26, 2020, the Court continued the hearing on the 2004 Motion to April 15, 2020, to be heard concurrently with the Extension Motion [Doc. No. 23].

The Extension Motion

On March 16, 2020, on the final day to object to the Debtor's case, the Movant filed the Extension Motion seeking to extend the foregoing deadline for an unspecified amount of time. The Movant claims that the Debtor and Ruiz each committed fraud within the presumptive period set by § 523(a)(2)(C) by purchasing luxury goods valued in excess of $500 with wrongfully-acquired credit. Although the Movant found Debtor's acts objectionable, it explains that the debts Debtor individually incurred would not have justified a dischargeability action due to the significant legal expense involved. It was only after Movant discovered that Debtor is engaged to Ruiz, and had acted in concert with him, that it realized it had a substantial claim against the pair. However, this realization came far too late to timely object to the Debtor's discharge. Accordingly, the Debtor's marital status is not obvious, and though both individuals claimed to be married on their respective credit applications, the Debtor did not file a joint case with Ruiz. See Extension Motion at 2. [Note 2]. Movant alleges that it further delayed because Debtor initially stated an intention to reaffirm her debt, which she did not carry through. In sum, because Debtor's relationship with Ruiz was not evident, the Movant was not able to timely prosecute a dischargeability action.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Debtor has not opposed either the Extension Motion or the 2004 Motion.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Extensions of time to object to discharge are governed by Rule 4004(b) which provides, in relevant part:

(b) Extension of Time.

(1) On motion of any party in interest, after notice and hearing, the court may for cause extend the time to object to discharge. Except as provided in subdivision (b)(2), the motion shall be filed before the time has expired.

Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4004(b)(1).

Similarly, extensions of time to file a complaint to determine the dischargeability of debt under § 523(c) are governed by Rule 4007(c) which provides, in relevant part:

On motion of a party in interest, after hearing on notice, the court may for cause extend the time fixed under this subdivision. The motion shall be filed before the time has expired.

Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4007(c) (governing the time for filing complaint under § 523(c)).

Section 523(c) encompasses the dischargeability of debt "of a kind specified in paragraph (2), (4), or (6) of subsection (a) of [§ 523]." 11 U.S.C. § 523(c).

The Court finds that the Extension Motion was timely filed before the expiration of the sixty-day deadline on March 16, 2020. Based upon the representations in the Extension Motion and the Declaration, the Court finds that the Movant has established adequate cause to grant the Extension Motion. Although the Movant failed to request a specific deadline, the Court is prepared to grant Movant an extension to, and including, June 19, 2020 to file a complaint under § 727 and/or § 523.

Based on the foregoing, the 2004 Motion is further granted in accordance with the following terms:

1. The examination will take place at 131 N. Tustin Ave., Suite 200, Tustin, CA 92780, on April 29, 2020 at 12:00 p.m.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Court finds that there is good cause to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(4). Jennifer Agnes Lopez (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 7 case on February 10, 2020. On May 25, 2006, Christopher David Mercado and Alma C. Mercado (the "Borrowers") executed a deed of trust secured by real property located at 2324 Griffin Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90031 (the "Property"). See Motion, Ex. A. Subject to a refinance loan agreement, on February 1, 2014, the Borrowers entered into a lien modification agreement with the Movant, acting on behalf of the lienholder. See id., Ex. D.

As indicated on Exhibit E, page 66 [Doc. No. 11-1], on November 1, 2018, the Borrowers purportedly granted the Debtor an $8,000 interest in the Property by way of a deed of trust. An additional interest in the Property was purportedly transferred through a deed of trust in favor of one Adela Delgado ("Delgado"). See Motion, Ex. E at 63. The Borrowers and Delgado have filed a total of eight other bankruptcy cases implicating an interest in the Property. See generally Motion, Ex. F (containing docket summaries of each additional bankruptcy case). Therefore, the Court finds that this petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, which involved the transfer of all or part ownership of, or other interest in, the Property without the consent of Movant or court approval, as well as the filing of various bankruptcy petitions affecting an interest in the Property.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, Debtor's commencement documents do not reflect that she possesses any interests in real property. Doc. No. 1. The record further indicates that the Debtor has no contractual obligations, or is otherwise in privity of contract, with either the Borrowers, Delgado, or the Movant. In sum, the Court cannot conclude that Debtor herself has actually engaged in any bad faith conduct. See In re Dorsey, 476 B.R. 261, 267 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2012) ("[Section] 362(d)(4) 'does not require that it be the debtor who has created the scheme or carried it out, or even that the debtor be a party to the scheme at all.'" (internal citations omitted).

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED under §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(4) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies with respect to the Property in accordance with applicable law. The 14-day period specified in Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4001(a)(3) is waived. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. If recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in real property, the order shall be binding in any other case under this title purporting to affect such real property filed not later than 2 years after the date of the entry of such order by the Court, except that a debtor in a subsequent case under this title may move for relief from such order based upon changed circumstances or for good cause shown, after notice and a hearing. Any Federal, State, or local governmental unit that accepts notices of interests or liens in real property shall accept a certified copy of this order for indexing and recording. This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. The Court finds that there is good cause to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(4). Erica Williams (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 7 case on February 7, 2020. Borrowers purportedly granted the Debtor an $5,200 interest in the Property by way of a deed of trust. An additional interest in the Property was purportedly transferred through a deed of trust in favor of one Jorge Luis Lopez Urrutia ("Urrutia"). See Motion, Ex. 5. The Borrowers and Urrutia have filed three other bankruptcy cases implicating an interest in the Property. See generally Motion, Exs. 7-9 (containing docket summaries of each additional bankruptcy case). Further, the Court notes that the Honorable Catherine Bauer previously granted stay-relief to Movant concerning the Property on bad faith grounds. See id. Ex. 9. This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enter into a loan modification or forbearance agreement with the debtor and/or to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Since a chapter 7 case does not contemplate reorganization, the sole issue before the Court when stay relief is sought under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) is whether the Debtor has equity in the property. See, e.g., Martens v. Countrywide Home Loans (In re Martens), 331 B.R. 395, 398 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2005); Ramco Indus. v. Preuss (In re Preuss), 15 B.R. 896, 897 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1981).

The subject property has a value of $410,000 and is encumbered by a perfected junior deed of trust in favor of the Movant. See Doc. No. 9. The liens against the

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Alleged Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995). "

The Court finds that there is good cause to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(4). Kristoff Lusic, Benjamin Farquhar, and Elisa Ritter (jointly, the "Petitioners") filed an involuntary chapter 7 petition against Marquis Campbell (the "Alleged Debtor") on February 19, 2020. On August 3, 2015, Jorge Isidoro Chavez and Gabriela Oropeza (the "Borrowers") executed a deed of trust secured by real property located at 12058 Kenwood Drive, Fontana, CA 92337 (the "Property"). See Motion, Ex. 1. Pursuant to an Assignment of Deed of Trust, on May 16, 2017, the original lienholder assigned its interest in the Property to the Movant. See id., Ex. 3. The Movant asserts that the Borrowers defaulted on said deed of trust, for which deficiencies have not been cured as of the filing of the Motion. See Motion at 8. As indicated on Exhibit 5 of the Motion, on November 13, 2016, the Borrowers purportedly transferred a 10% interest in the Property to the Alleged Debtor via an unauthorized grant deed. The Court notes that on February 24, 2020, the day of a continued trustee's sale, the Movant received a fax notification indicating that the present case had been filed, which implicated an interest in the Property. Consequently, Movant postponed the trustee's sale to March 26, 2020. Therefore, the Court finds that this petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, which involved the transfer of all or part ownership of, or other interest in, the Property without the consent of Movant or court approval.

Moreover, based upon Movant's declaration and the hearing re dismissal of this involuntary petition for which the petitioning creditors did not appear, the Motion is GRANTED with respect to relief under § 362(d)(4).

Hence, the Motion is GRANTED to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies with respect to the Property in accordance with applicable law. The 14-day period specified in Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4001(a)(3) is waived. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. If recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in real property, the order shall be binding in any other case under this title purporting to affect such real property filed not later than 2 years after the date of the entry of such order by the Court, except that a debtor in a subsequent case under this title may move for relief from such order based upon changed circumstances or for good cause shown, after notice and a hearing. Any Federal, State, or local governmental unit that accepts notices of interests or liens in real property shall accept a certified copy of this order for indexing and recording.

All relief granted herein shall be subject to the Emergency Rules of the California Rules of Court, effective April 6, 2020.

The Court notes that Alleged Debtor's case was dismissed on April 1, 2020. The Court vacates the dismissal for the limited purpose of entering an order on this Motion.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set on a shortened notice in accordance with Judge Robles' procedures. Oppositions, if any, will be considered at the hearing.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Debtor continues to occupy the property after a foreclosure sale held on December 30, 2019. The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on January 28, 2020.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED, and the Settlement Agreement is APPROVED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Trustee's Motion to Approve Compromise between the Trustee, the Debtor and Shadi Messian [Doc. No. 85] (the "Motion")
2. Notice of Motion [Doc. No. 86]
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Kami Emein commenced a voluntary chapter 7 petition on May 17, 2018 (the "Petition Date") [Note 1]. John J. Menchaca (the "Trustee") accepted appointment as chapter 7 trustee at the outset of the case. Based on his commencement documents, the Debtor has little personal property, and he did not assert any real property interests.

Background

The following is a summary of information uncovered by the Trustee's investigation. The Debtor owned numerous businesses in Los Angeles prior to 2008. Precipitated by the filing of various lawsuits against Debtor's many businesses, the Debtor ceased business operations, and his business assets were either sold or lost through foreclosure between 2008 and 2016.

Starting in 2008, the Debtor's former spouse, Shadi Messian ("Messian"), began organizing several business entities. Accordingly, at least two of Messian's business entities, Government Funding Inc. and SDSD Lending Club, Inc., participated in businesses activities formerly offered by the Debtor's businesses. In addition, Messian, through her wholly-owned companies, owns and operates at least two carwash businesses, which she purchased between 2014 and 2015. Furthermore, on December 30, 2013, Messian purchased residential real estate situated at 2073 Stradella Road, Los Angeles, California 90077 (the "Stradella Property"). The Stradella Property is encumbered a first-position deed of trust securing indebtedness of $1,100,000. Messian claims that the Stradella Property requires extensive renovations from "hill subsiding problems," which she estimates will cost approximately $800,000.

The Debtor and Messian married on February 11, 1994. On December 5, 2016, Messian initiated marriage dissolution proceedings in Los Angeles Superior Court, pursuant to which a consensual stipulated judgment between Messian and Debtor was entered on November 3, 2017 (the "Stipulated Judgment"). The Stipulated Judgment recognizes the couple's separation date as February 10, 2008 (the "Separation Date"). Pursuant to the terms of the Stipulated Judgment: a) all assets obtained by Messian after 2008 constitute her separate property; b) Debtor retains all real and personal property in his name as of the Separation Date; and c) Messian retains all real and personal property in her name as of the Separation Date. The Trustee contends that the couple did not separate in 2008.

The Motion

On March 25, 2020, the Trustee filed the Motion [Doc. No. 85]. The Trustee seeks approval of a negotiated settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") mediated by David S. Meadows, through the bankruptcy court's mediation program. The material terms of the Settlement Agreement are as follows:

1. The Debtor and Messian (the "Settling Parties") agree to pay the Trustee $1,000,000; $50,000 of which will be paid March 31, 2020, $100,000 on May 30, 2020, and $850,000 on August 15, 2020.

3. The Settling Parties will grant the Trustee the Deeds of Trust against any and all of the Assets as security for payments owed under the Settlement Agreement (the "Deeds of Trust").
  4. The Trustee has the right to record the Deeds of Trust against the Assets.
  5. In the event that the Settling Parties default on their payments, the Trustee may file a declaration informing the Court of the default and thereon request an order to foreclosure upon and sell any and all of the Assets, without further motion practice.
  6. The Trustee agrees to cooperate with the Settling Parties in refinancing the Stradella Property.
  7. Once the Settlement Sum is tendered, the Trustee shall cooperate in removing the Deeds of Trust from the Assets.
  8. Pursuant to the terms of the Settlement Agreement, the Trustee shall release any and all claims against the Settling Parties.
  9. Pursuant to the terms of the Settlement Agreement, the Settling Parties shall release any and all claims against the Trustee, both in his individual capacity and as Trustee.

See Motion at 6-7. [Note 2]

In support of the Settlement Agreement, the Trustee makes the following arguments in accordance with the factors enumerated in In re A & C Properties, 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986):

1. The risks attendant with litigation favor approval of the Settlement Agreement. Based on testimony and evidence proffered through a Rule 2004 examination, the Trustee asserts that the Settling Parties did not separate on February 10, 2008. Accordingly, much of Messian's separate property is actually community property, which is subject to administration for the benefit of the estate. However, the Settling Parties contend that they can prove they separated in 2008. Although the Trustee is confident in his position, if this matter goes to trial, there is still a possibility that the factfinder may rule in Messian's favor. Even if the Trustee were to prevail, Messian may still be entitled to 50% of the Assets. Moreover, the sale of the Assets could net substantially less than the amount the estate will receive under the Settlement Agreement.

2. Given market uncertainties, as well as the Stradella Property's subsiding issues, it is unclear whether there will be collection issues if this matter is not promptly resolved.
3. To avoid various transfers and obtain declaratory relief, the Trustee will likely have to pursue several complicated legal theories to establish that the Assets are the community property of the Settling Parties. The Trustee estimates that it could take months, or even years, to resolve this matter through motion practice, or a protracted trial.
4. The interests of creditors will be better served by approval of the Settlement Agreement. The Settlement Agreement circumvents the substantial administrative expense and delay of an adversary proceeding, while providing the estate with a $1,000,000 cash payment. Moreover, even if the Trustee were to prevail in litigation, there is no guarantee that the Assets will provide a better recovery to the estate, after expenses and legal fees are paid.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a) permits the Court to approve a compromise or settlement. In the Ninth Circuit, courts consider the following factors in determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement:

- (a) The probability of success in the litigation;
- (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection;
- (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it;
- (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises.

Chapter 7

"Each factor need not be treated in a vacuum; rather, the factors should be considered as a whole to determine whether the settlement compares favorably with the expected rewards of litigation." In re Western Funding Inc., 550 B.R. 841, 851 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2016). Furthermore, "compromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (Bankr. D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983).

The Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair and reasonable, and in the best interest of the estate in accordance with the A & C Properties factors.

1. Likelihood of Success in Litigation

Here, this factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. Absent a negotiated compromise, this matter will likely require the extended litigation and adjudication of complex issues of fact and law. For instance, determining whether Messian and the Debtor actually separated in 2008 will likely necessitate percipient witness testimony and/or the production of documents. Readily securing such evidence is further complicated, given the passage of time and in light of the restrictions attendant with the COVID-19 pandemic. Additionally, establishing the value of the Stradella Property and Messian's business interests will likely require the considerable expense of securing expert testimony and/or real property appraisals. Even if discovery expenses are kept at a bare minimum, the Settling Parties strongly dispute the Trustee's position, thereby prolonging litigation and increasing the probability of resolution by trial. Based on the foregoing, this factor strongly supports approval of the Motion.

2. Difficulties in Collection

Absent a negotiated compromise, the Court finds that the current market realities will likely impair the Trustee's ability to efficiently liquidate the Assets. On the other hand, approving the Settlement Agreement increases the probability that creditors will receive a sizeable pool of funds by the year's end. Therefore, in consideration of collection difficulties, this factor supports approval of the Settlement Agreement.

Hearing Room 1568

11:00 AM

Chapter 7

3. Complexity, Expense, Inconvenience and Delay of Litigation

The Court determines that obtaining a more favorable result by way of an adversary proceeding is improbable and subject to prohibitive legal costs and difficulty given the factual and legal issues involved. Furthermore, it is unlikely that the Debtor possesses any other assets that can be administered for the benefit of the estate. For this reason, the Settlement Agreement adequately considers the interests of creditors, and it reduces the likelihood of litigation, thereby avoiding unnecessary costs, delays, and uncertainties. Therefore, this factor weighs in favor of the Settlement Agreement.

4. Interests of Creditors

For the various reasons explained above, the interests of creditors will be furthered by approval of the Settlement Agreement, which will provide the estate with at least $1,000,000, or as much as $1,030,000 before the end of the year. Even if the Settling Parties default on their contractual obligations, the Settlement Agreement authorizes the Trustee to immediately foreclose upon and sell the Assets for the benefit of the estate. Conversely, an adversary proceeding against the Settling Parties creates the risk of a staggered distribution of assets, at best, and administrative insolvency, at worst. Therefore, this factor weighs in favor of the Settlement Agreement.

In sum, the Court determines that the Trustee satisfied all of the A & C Properties factors, and therefore, the Settlement Agreement is approved.

Moreover, the Court has not received any objection to the Motion. Accordingly, pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court presumes all interested parties consent to the approval of the Settlement Agreement.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED, and the Settlement Agreement is APPROVED.

The Trustee is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtors move for entry of an order approving a private sale (the "Sale") of certain assets (the "Purchased Assets" or the "Seton Assets") of Debtors Seton Medical Center ("Seton"), Verity Holdings, LLC ("Holdings"), and Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") to AHMC Healthcare, Inc. ("AHMC"). Doc. No. 4360 (the "Sale Motion").

A. Background

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), VHS and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered. Doc. No. 17.

As of the Petition Date, the Debtors operated six acute care hospitals. On December 27, 2018, the Court authorized the Debtors to sell two of their hospitals—O'Connor Hospital and Saint Louise Regional Hospital—to Santa Clara County (the "Santa Clara Sale"). The Santa Clara Sale closed on February 28, 2019.

1. The Failed SGM Sale

On February 19, 2019, the Court entered an order establishing bidding procedures [Doc. No. 1572] (the "Bidding Procedures Order") for the auction of the Debtors' four remaining hospitals—St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis"), St. Vincent Medical Center (including St. Vincent Dialysis Center) ("St. Vincent"), and Seton (including Seton Medical Center Coastside ("Seton Coastside")) (collectively, the "Hospitals"). Under the Bidding Procedures Order, Strategic Global Management ("SGM") was designated as the stalking horse bidder. SGM's bid for all four of the Hospitals was $610 million. The Bidding Procedures Order approved an Asset Purchase Agreement between the Debtors and SGM (the "SGM APA").

The Hospitals were extensively marketed by the Debtors' investment banker, Cain Brothers, a division of KeyBank Capital Markets, Inc. ("Cain"). Cain notified ninety parties of the auction process. Sixteen of these parties requested continued access to a data room containing information about the Hospitals.

Notwithstanding Cain's thorough marketing efforts, the Debtors did not receive any qualified bids for all of the Hospitals. The Debtors received one bid to purchase only St. Vincent and one bid to purchase only St. Francis. After consulting with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") and the largest secured creditors, the Debtors determined not to conduct an auction. On May 2, 2019, the Court entered an order finding that SGM was the winning bidder and approving the sale to SGM (the "SGM Sale").

On November 27, 2019, the Court entered a memorandum of decision and accompanying order finding that as of November 19, 2019, all conditions precedent under the SGM APA to SGM's obligation to close the SGM Sale had been satisfied. Doc. Nos. 3723–24. The Court found that pursuant to § 1.3 of the APA, SGM was obligated to close the SGM Sale by no later than December 5, 2019. Id. SGM did not close the sale by December 5, 2019. On December 27, 2019, the Debtors sent SGM a notice terminating the APA and asserting that SGM had materially breached the SGM APA. Doc. No. 3899.

On January 3, 2020, the Debtors filed a Complaint for Breach of Contract, Promissory Fraud, and Tortious Breach of Contract (Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing) [Doc. No. 1, Adv. No. 2:20-ap-01001] (the "SGM Complaint") against SGM, KPC Healthcare Holdings, Inc., KPC Health Plan Holdings, Inc., KPC Healthcare, Inc., KPC Global Management, LLC, and Kali P. Chaudhuri, M.D. (collectively, the "Defendants"). The gravamen of the Complaint is that the Defendants induced the Debtors to enter into the SGM APA under false pretenses, never intended to perform under the SGM APA, and continuously breached the SGM APA. The Complaint asserts claims for breach of contract, promissory fraud, and tortious breach of contract based upon breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. On March 4, 2020, the District Court withdrew the reference with respect to the Complaint. Doc. No. 59, Adv. No. 2:20-ap-01001.

2. Marketing Process 2020

Subsequent to the failure of the SGM Sale, Cain commenced a new marketing process to identify parties interesting in acquiring the Seton Assets. Cain contacted parties who had previously expressed interest and posted an updated Confidential Information Memorandum in the online data room.

On January 10, 2020, two bidders submitted non-binding Indications of Interest ("IOI") to acquire the Seton Assets. One of the bidders elected not to move forward with its bid. Negotiations with the remaining bidder, AHMC, led to the Asset Purchase Agreement (the "APA").

3. Unsolicited Offers Submitted by SGM and SGM's Affiliate GMC

On February 13, 2020, SGM submitted an unsolicited Offer to Purchase (the "SGM Seton Offer"). The SGM Seton Offer (a) proposed the acquisition of the Seton Assets for $60 million cash, (b) was subject to a seven-day due diligence period, and (c) was subject to California Attorney General approval.

On February 25, 2020, SGM submitted an unsolicited Offer to Purchase (the "SGM System Offer") the assets that were the subject of the SGM APA for $450 million ($160 million less than the purchase price under the SGM APA).

On March 6, 2020, KPC Global Medical Center of San Mateo County, LLC ("GMC") submitted an unsolicited offer to purchase the Seton Assets for $50 million ($10 million less than the SGM Seton Offer). GMC is an affiliate of SGM, and was the Seton acquisition entity originally formed for the failed SGM Sale.

Prior to the filing of the Sale Motion, GMC filed with the Court a document captioned Notice of Intent to Bid on Seton Assets and Request for Opportunity to Bid [Doc. No. 4347] (the "Notice"). The Notice acknowledges that "the issue of how or when a Seton sale will be conducted is not currently before the Court." Notice at 2. The Notice requests that GMC be provided the opportunity to bid for the Seton Assets, and asserts that "opening the sale process to competitive bidding would be in the best interests of all parties in interest in the Debtors' cases as well as in the interests of the San Mateo community, the Seton employees, and healthcare practitioners." Id. GMC did not file an opposition to the Sale Motion.

4. Agreement with the State of California Regarding Treatment of COVID-19 Patients

On March 20, 2020, the Court authorized the Debtors to enter into a Services Agreement (the "Seton Agreement") with the California Department of Public Health and the State of California Governor's Office of Emergency Services (the "Office of Emergency Services"). Doc. No. 4315. Under the Seton Agreement, the Debtors receive payments in exchange for providing healthcare services to COVID-19 patients. The Seton Agreement terminates on the 181st day after entry of an order by the Bankruptcy Court approving the Agreement, unless extended by mutual consent.

The Seton Agreement "may not be assigned, absent the State's written consent via an amendment to this Agreement, which shall not be unreasonably withheld." Seton Agreement at § 1.1. "In evaluating whether assignment is reasonable, the proposed assignee shall be required to provide adequate assurance to the State of its ability to perform all ... remaining obligations under this Agreement." Id.

AHMC is aware of the Seton Agreement and intends to cooperate with the Office of Emergency Services in order to achieve an assignment of the Seton Agreement that is consistent with its terms.

The Office of Emergency Services does not object to the Sale Motion, provided that the final order approving the Sale Motion (the "Sale Order") is consistent with the Seton Agreement. The Office of Emergency Services filed a reservation of rights because it has not yet reviewed the proposed Sale Order.

5. Material Provisions of the APA

The material terms of the APA are as follows (capitalized terms have the meaning set forth in the APA):

- 1) The Purchase Price is $40 million in cash (the "Cash Consideration"), plus an amount equal to the Cure Costs incurred in connection with any Assigned Leases and/or Assigned Contracts. APA at § 1.1(a).
- 2) The deposit is 20% of the Cash Consideration ($8 million) (the "Deposit"). Id. at § 1.2.
- 3) Sellers shall submit the sale to the California Attorney General (the "Attorney General") for review pursuant to Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 et seq. Id. at § 8.5. The conditions on the transaction which the Purchaser has agreed to accept are set forth in Schedule 8.5 (the "Approved Conditions"). Id. In the event the Attorney General seeks to impose conditions not substantially consistent with the Approved Conditions (the "Additional Conditions"), Sellers shall file a motion seeking entry of an order (a "Supplemental Sale Order") finding that the Additional Conditions are an "interest in property" for purposes of § 363(f), and that the Assets can be sold free and clear of the Additional Conditions. Id. If Sellers do not obtain a Supplemental Sale Order within thirty days of the Attorney General's imposition of the Additional Conditions, Purchaser shall have the right to terminate the APA and receive the return of its Deposit. Id. If Sellers timely obtain a Supplemental Sale Order that is unstayed, the condition precedent of obtaining Attorney General approval shall be deemed satisfied. Id.
- 4) Sellers shall use commercially reasonable efforts to facilitate the renegotiation of collective bargaining agreements currently in effect. The Sellers' failure to secure modification of any collective bargaining

6. Proposed Procedures Pertaining to the Assumption and Assignment of Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases

The Debtors propose that the following procedures apply to the assumption and assignment of executory contracts and unexpired leases:

- 1) The Debtors will file with the Court and serve a cure notice (the "Cure Notice") upon each counterparty to an executory contract or unexpired lease which the Debtors seek to assume and assign in connection with the sale (the "Assigned Executory Contracts").
- 2) The Cure Notice will identify the amounts, if any, that the Debtors believe are owed to each counterparty to an Assigned Executory Contract in order to cure any defaults that exist under such contract (the "Cure Amounts"). The Cure Notice will also specify the deadlines for counterparties to (a) object to the sufficiency of the Cure Amounts and/or (b) object to the assumption and assignment of the Assigned Executory Contracts.

B. Summary of Papers Filed in Support of the Sale Motion by the Medical Staff of Seton, the National Union of Hospital Workers, and AHMC

1. Medical Staff of Seton

The Medical Staff of Seton (the "Medical Staff") is an association of more than 250 doctors who practice at Seton. Eight doctors who are members of the Medical Staff submitted declarations supporting the sale to AHMC and opposing any sale to SGM or its affiliates. The declaration testimony may be summarized as follows:

- 1) A prompt sale of Seton to AHMC is critical. Employees at Seton have been subjected to significant stress and uncertainty in connection with the failed SGM Sale. As a result of the hospital's uncertain future, Seton has lost multiple key physicians and has lost a quarter of its nurses. Seton and its remaining employees desperately need the stability that would result from a sale to AHMC.

- 2) The Medical Staff's Medical Executive Committee (the "MEC") has conducted due diligence of AHMC and SGM. AHMC authorized the MEC to tour its hospitals in Southern California. The MEC was impressed by the condition of AHMC's hospitals and the quality of its administrators. SGM never granted the MEC permission to tour its hospitals, even after Dr. Robert Perez, President of the Medical Staff, personally requested permission.
- 3) Based on its due diligence, the MEC came to the following conclusions:
  - a) AHMC has a long and successful history of turning around distressed hospitals such as Seton.
  - b) AHMC has a broad and deep bench of capable administrators who could effectuate a transition. By contrast, SGM did not have the administrative bandwidth to successfully assume operations at Seton in December 2019.
  - c) AHMC organized many of the primary care doctors at Seton into a functional Independent Practice Association and has maintained a good relationship with the doctors. In contrast, at multiple meetings with SGM's few senior transition management personnel, it became clear that SGM's representatives lacked an understanding of how to effectively organize Seton's physicians.
  - d) Many of Seton's unions also represent employees at AHMC hospitals. Those unions are very supportive of an acquisition of Seton by AHMC.

2. National Union of Hospital Workers

The National Union of Hospital Workers (the "NUHW") submitted a letter in support of the sale to AHMC, which provides in relevant part:

We prefer a private sale between Verity Health System and AHMC so that caregivers and patients can finally be certain that Seton will remain open and able to provide the care our community needs....

[In connection with the failed SGM Sale], SGM agreed to hire back substantially all of the workers at Seton and Seton Coastside. As Seton was preparing for operations they gave us a list of terminations that essentially gutted core staff that would leave key hospital functions in the lab, infections control and registrar without adequate coverage, and force remaining staff to change their shifts to cover swing and night shifts....

Even though NUHW members have not met face-to-face with AHMC, the company has been much more transparent and public about their intentions.

3. AHMC

Purchaser AHMC asserts that the Court should approve its purchase of the Seton Assets for the following reasons:

AHMC is the fourth largest health system in Southern California with annual revenues in excess of $1 billion. AHMC's hospitals have won numerous awards, including, but not limited to, Stroke Care Excellence Award, Emergency Medicine Excellence Award, Critical Care Excellence Award, General Surgery Excellence Award, Pulmonary Care Excellence Award, Maternity Care Excellence Award, Patient Safety Excellence Award, and Cardiac Surgery Excellence Award.

AHMC has successfully turned around several distressed hospitals. In each of these instances, including San Gabriel Valley Medical Center, Anaheim Regional Medical Center, and Parkview Community Hospital Medical Center, AHMC received the approval of the California Attorney General and the required approvals from other state and federal regulators.

C. Summary of the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Response and the Debtors Reply Thereto

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") argues that the Court should permit GMC to bid for the Seton Assets, but only if GMC can meet the following five conditions to the Debtors' satisfaction:

- 1) GMC must provide a deposit in the amount of the larger of $40 million (the AHMC purchase price) or 75% of GMC's ultimate purchase price.
- 2) GMC must waive all conditions and contingencies, such that GMC would be obligated to close.
- 3) GMC must expressly waive any right to appeal any order related to the sale of the Seton Assets.
- 4) SGM and the other defendants to the SGM Complaint must agree not to use any facts related to the sale of the Seton Assets to support any defenses. For example, the fact that the estate might proceed with a potential sale to GMC could not be used as evidence that SGM acted in good faith.

- 5) SGM and the other defendants to the SGM Complaint must agree not to use any facts related to the sale of the Seton Assets to reduce the amount of damages at issue in the SGM Complaint.

The Debtors oppose an auction in which SGM or its affiliate GMC is permitted to bid for the Seton Assets. The Debtors assert that a sale to SGM or an affiliated entity would involve substantial risk regardless of SGM's commitments, because of the significant possibility that the sale would not close.

D. Summary of the Limited Objections Filed by United Healthcare Insurance Company and the Cigna Entities and the Debtors' Replies Thereto

UnitedHealthcare Insurance Company ("UnitedHealthcare") provides healthcare insurance benefits to members insured under its group medical policies through a network of providers. UnitedHealthcare and Seton are parties to a Facility Participation Agreement with an effective date of April 1, 2007 (the "FPA"), pursuant to which Seton provides certain covered healthcare services to UnitedHealthcare's members in exchange for certain fees.

UnitedHealthcare asserts that the Debtors should be required to provide an irrevocable designation as to whether the FPA will be assumed and assigned by no later than 40 days prior to the closing of the sale. UnitedHealthcare maintains that it requires such notice in order to comply with its regulatory obligations.

Cigna Healthcare of California, Inc., Cigna Health and Life Insurance Company, Life Insurance Company of North America, Cigna Dental Health Plan of Arizona, Inc., Cigna Dental Health of California, Inc., and Cigna Dental Health of Texas, Inc. (collectively, the "Cigna Entities") are parties to various executory contracts with the Debtors (the "Cigna Contracts"). The Cigna Contracts include (a) the Cigna Provider Agreement, under which customers of the Cigna Entities received healthcare services provided by the Debtors; (b) the LINA Policies, under which the Cigna Entities provide group disability benefits for employees of the Debtors; and (c) four separate dental insurance policies (the "Cigna Dental Policies"), under which the Cigna Entities provide dental insurance to employees of the Debtors (the Cigna Dental Policies, together with the LINA Policies, the "Employee Benefits Contracts").

Provider Agreement by no later than 30 days prior to the closing of the sale. The Cigna Entities further assert that the Debtors should be required to designate the proposed disposition of Employee Benefits Contracts in advance of the Sale Hearing, based on the fact that the disposition of the Employee Benefits Contracts could significantly affect benefits coverage for the Debtors' employees. Finally, the Cigna Entities contend that the Debtors should be required to provide adequate assurance of the AHMC's future performance under the Cigna Contracts by no later than two business days after entry of the Sale Order.

The Debtors have agreed to provide an irrevocable designation regarding assumption and assignment by no later than forty days prior to closing, as requested by UnitedHealthcare and the Cigna Entities. The Debtors oppose as premature the Cigna Entities' request that the Debtors be required to provide adequate assurance information within two days of entry of the Sale Order. The Debtors assert that adequate assurance issues should be adjudicated at a hearing on all assumption objections, which the Debtors have requested take place on May 20, 2020.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Sale Motion is Granted

Section 363(b) authorizes the Debtors to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. "All sales not in the ordinary course of business may be by private sale or by public auction." Bankruptcy Rule 6004(f). As explained by one court:

Bankruptcy Rule 6004(a) requires notice be given to the debtor, trustee and all creditors, in order that they may object to the proposed sale. Unlike former Bankruptcy Rule 606(b)(2), which required that sales be by public auction unless otherwise ordered by the Court, current Bankruptcy Rule 6004(e)(1) provides that all sales not in the ordinary course of business may be private or by public auction. ... Clearly, the thrust of this statutory scheme is to provide maximum flexibility to the trustee, subject to the oversight of those for whose benefit he acts, i.e., the creditors of the estate. This scheme also promotes Congress' intent of keeping bankruptcy judges out of the administrative aspect of bankruptcy cases, since the Court no longer supervises sales as it did under the repealed Bankruptcy Act.

In determining whether to approve a sale transaction, “courts consider whether the trustee exercised sound business judgment.” In re MF Glob. Inc., 535 B.R. 596, 605 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2015). “The business judgment of a trustee is entitled to great deference. A trustee generally satisfies the business judgment standard if he ‘acted on an informed basis, in good faith and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the company.’” Id. (internal citations omitted); see also In re 160 Royal Palm, LLC, 600 B.R. 119, 126 (S.D. Fla.), aff’d, 785 F. App’x 829 (11th Cir. 2019) (“A debtor’s business decision should be approved by the court unless it is shown to be so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based upon sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice.”).

The Debtors’ decision to not consider GMC’s unsolicited offer and to instead proceed by way of a private sale to AHMC was an appropriate exercise of business judgment to which the Court must defer. In reaching this decision, the Debtors considered the following:

- The Seton Assets were extensively marketed by Cain. The only parties interested in acquiring the assets were AHMC and GMC.
- GMC’s affiliate, SGM, did not close the SGM Sale even after the Court entered an order finding that all conditions precedent to closing had been satisfied and that SGM was required to close. As a result, Richard G. Adcock, VHS’ CEO, does not believe that GMC is “trustworthy, believable or a capable or reliable business partner.” Adcock Decl. at ¶ 12. In contrast, AHMC “has shown the financial ability to close this transaction.” Id. at ¶ 10.
- Peter C. Chadwick, a Managing Director at Berkeley Research Group, LLC, the Debtors’ financial advisors, concluded that GMC’s offer “yielded negative value given the risk that SGM, or its affiliate GMC, will not close.” Chadwick Decl. at ¶ 6. The risk that GMC would not close would be especially detrimental to the estates as a result of the substantial “operating losses that would be incurred during the regulatory review and approval of the sale.” Id. Finally, the all cash structure of the AHMC transaction minimizes the risk of the Debtors becoming subject to tax remediation claims for failure to defease tax exempt financing issued through the California Statewide Communities Development Authority. Id.
- Doctors who work at Seton support a private sale to AHMC and oppose a process under which GMC would have the opportunity to bid. The Medical Staff at Seton (the “Medical Staff”), an organization composed of doctors at the hospital, conducted extensive due diligence on both AHMC and SGM. Dr. Robert Perez, President of the Medical Staff, testifies that as of December 2019, the month that the SGM Sale was scheduled to close, SGM “did not have the administrative bandwidth necessary” to operate Seton. Perez Decl. at ¶ 10b. In contrast, Dr. Perez testifies that AHMC has “a broad and deep bench of capable administrators who could ... effectively administer Seton.” Id.

As illustrated by the foregoing, the Debtors arrived at the decision to pursue a private sale to AHMC after carefully considering the relevant facts. The Court finds that the Debtors reached this decision in good faith and with the belief that a transaction with AHMC is in the best interest of the estates. As such, the decision to proceed by way of a private sale constitutes a valid exercise of the Debtors’ business judgment which must be accorded deference. The Court approves the sale of the Seton Assets to AHMC.

At 10:10 a.m. on the day prior to the Sale Hearing, GMC filed a document captioned Notice by KPC Global Medical Center of San Mateo County, LLC of Withdrawal of Offers to Purchase Seton Assets [Doc. No. 4622] (the “Withdrawal Notice”). The Withdrawal Notice states that GMC “withdraws its prior offers for the purchase of the Seton Medical Center Facilities.” After making this statement, the Withdrawal Notice contains two pages of allegations against the Debtors, all to the effect that the Debtors have refused to engage with GMC regarding the sale of the Seton Assets.

The Court declines to consider the unsubstantiated allegations against the Debtors set forth in the Withdrawal Notice. Had GMC wished to inform the Court of the withdrawal of its prior offers, the first sentence of the Withdrawal Notice would have sufficed. The Withdrawal Notice does not seek any affirmative relief, such as denial of the Sale Motion, suggesting that the document may be a tactical filing intended to influence the litigation against SGM in the District Court. The allegations set forth in the Withdrawal Notice are not supported by declaration testimony or any other evidence, in violation of Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(i). [Note 1]

Prior to the filing of the Withdrawal Notice, the Committee argued that the Court should consider an auction involving GMC, provided that GMC could meet various conditions. Proceeding with the Committee’s suggested course of action would require the Court to deny the Sale Motion and would force the Debtors to obtain approval of bidding procedures governing the auction of the Seton Assets. The resulting delay would harm the estates by prolonging the period during which the

Debtors must continue funding Seton's operating losses. And as set forth above, the Debtors' determination that GMC's bid was illusory and afforded negative value for the estates was a valid exercise of business judgment which the Court lacks the ability to disturb.

B. AHMC is Entitled to § 363(m) Protections

Section 363(m) provides that the "reversal or modification on appeal of an authorization ... of a sale or lease of property does not affect the validity of a sale or lease under such authorization to an entity that purchased or leased such property in good faith, whether or not such entity knew of the pendency of the appeal, unless such authorization and such sale or lease were stayed pending appeal."

The purpose of § 363(m) is to discourage bidders from colluding for the purpose of driving down the sales prices at bankruptcy auctions. See Ewell v. Diebert (In re Ewell), 958 F.2d 276, 281 (9th Cir. 1992) ("Typically, lack of good faith is shown by fraud, collusion between the purchaser and other bidders or the trustee, or an attempt to take grossly unfair advantage of other bidders").

Having reviewed the declarations of Richard G. Adcock (VHS' CEO), Peter C. Chadwick (a managing director at Berkeley Research Group, LLC, the Debtors' financial advisors), and Erick Tuckman (the Senior Advisor to the Chairman of the Board of AHMC), the Court finds that AHMC is a good-faith purchaser entitled to the protections of § 363(m). The Court makes this good-faith determination based upon the following findings of fact:

- 1) AHMC has no material connections with the Debtors, except for professional connections developed during the bidding process.
- 2) AHMC is not a creditor of the Debtors.
- 3) AHMC is not an "insider" of the Debtors as that term is defined in the Bankruptcy Code.
- 4) AHMC did not collude with any party for the purpose of reducing the sale price of the Seton Assets.
- 5) All negotiations between AHMC and the Debtors were conducted at arm's-length and in good faith.
- 6) AHMC is not a mere continuation of the Debtors and its purchase of the Seton Assets does not constitute a de factor merger.

CONT... Verity Health System of California, Inc.

Chapter 11

The Court has entered orders approving the stipulated resolution of limited objections raised by various parties.

1. Limited Objection of the 2017 Notes Trustee

U.S. Bank National Association, solely in its capacity as indenture trustee (the "2017 Notes Trustee") for the Series 2017 and Series 2017B Working Capital Notes (together, the "2017 Working Capital Notes") filed a limited objection seeking adequate protection of the rights of the 2017 Notes Trustee in the Sales Proceeds of Seton Coastside. The 2017 Notes Trustee requested that, prior to any approval of the combined sale of Seton and Seton Coastside by their respective separate Debtor estates, there first be a determination as to the allocation of the Sale Proceeds between the two estates. On April 17, 2020, the Court entered an order approving a stipulation [Doc. No. 4592] (the "2017 Notes Trustee Stipulation") between the Debtors and the 2017 Notes Trustee. Doc. No. 4598. The 2017 Notes Trustee Stipulation provides that the Debtors will allocate $11.5 million of the Sale Proceeds into Holdings' Escrow Deposit Account, provided that all of the rights of the Prepetition Secured Creditors with respect to such allocation are reserved to the extent set forth in paragraph 4 of the Final DIP Order [Doc. No. 409].

2. Release of the Liens of the California Statewide Communities Development Authority

The California Statewide Communities Development Authority (the "CSCDA") holds liens against the Seton Assets on account of financing issued under the CaliforniaFirst Program (the "CSCDA Liens"). The Debtors and CSCDA have stipulated to a release of the CSCDA Liens in exchange for two payments, in the amounts of $2,381,377.21 and $3,424,861.96 (both subject to certain adjustments), to be made at the closing of the sale. Doc. No. 4583 (the "CSCDA Stipulation"). On April 20, 2020, the Court entered an order approving the CSCDA Stipulation. Doc. No. 4613.

D. Issues Reserved for Adjudication at a Later Date

1. Issues Pertaining to the Assumption and Assignment of Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases

The Court approves the procedures (the "Assumption Procedures") proposed by the Debtors with respect to the assumption and assignment of executory contracts and unexpired leases (the "Assigned Executory Contracts"). The Debtors shall file and serve the Cure Notice by no later than April 29, 2020. A hearing at which counterparties to Assigned Executory Contracts may object to the assumption and assignment of such contracts (each, an "Assumption Objection") shall take place on May 20, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. (prevailing local time). Counterparties shall have until May 6, 2020, at 5:00 p.m. (prevailing local time) to serve an Assumption Objection. The Debtors shall have until May 13, 2020, at 5:00 p.m. (prevailing local time) to reply to an Assumption Objection.

The Cigna Entities' request that the Debtors be required to provide adequate assurance information within two days of entry of the Sale Order is overruled. The Assumption Procedures sufficiently protect the Cigna Entities' rights in the event that the Debtors designate any of the Cigna Contracts for assumption and assignment.

Hooper Healthcare Consulting, LLC ("Hooper") filed a joinder to the Cigna Entities' objection to the Assumption Procedures, as well as a reservation of rights. Hooper's objection to the Assumption Procedures is overruled. The Court confirms that all of Hooper's arguments with respect to the assumption of contracts to which it is a party are preserved for adjudication at the Assumption Objection Hearing scheduled for May 20, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.

2. AT&T's Lease Rights

AT&T Corporation, AT&T Services, Inc., and certain affiliates (collectively, "AT&T") are parties to a Medical Office Lease dated May 16, 1989 (the "AT&T Lease"). On April 17, 2020, the Court entered an order approving a stipulation [Doc. No. 4591] (the "AT&T Stipulation") between the Debtors and AT&T. Doc. No. 4597. The AT&T Stipulation provides that AT&T's rights under § 365(h), 363(e), and 363(f) are reserved, and that in the event the parties cannot resolve such matters consensually, the issues will be set for hearing on a mutually convenient date.

3. Authority of the California Attorney General to Review the Sale

On April 9, 2020, the Court approved a stipulation between the Debtors and the Attorney General [Doc. No. 4496] (the "AG Stipulation"). The AG Stipulation provides that the Sale Order shall contain the following provision reserving the parties' rights with respect to the Attorney General's authority to review the sale:

The California Attorney General, the Debtors, the Prepetition Secured Creditors, the Committee, and AHMC, reserve all rights, arguments and Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the APA or the Sale Order, nothing in the APA or this Sale Order shall limit or be construed as a waiver of the Attorney General's statutory or regulatory authority or other rights or defenses, or a waiver of the Debtors' statutory or other rights or defenses.

Order Approving Stipulation Approving Certain Language to Be Included in Any Order Approving the Proposed Sale of Seton Medical Center [Doc. No. 4509] at ¶ 2.

4. Issues Pertaining to the Transfer of the Seton Medi-Cal and Medicare Provider Agreements

Pursuant to stipulations approved by the Court, a continued hearing on issues pertaining to the transfer of the Debtors' Medi-Cal and Medicare Provider Agreements is set for May 13, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. Doc. Nos. 4567 and 4568.

E. Form of the Sale Order

Debtors shall insure that the Office of Emergency Services is provided the opportunity to review the form of the Sale Order. Debtors and the Office of Emergency Services shall cooperate with respect to the form of the Sale Order to insure that the language therein is consistent with the Seton Agreement.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Sale Motion is GRANTED.

Chapter 11

Note 1

In declining to consider the allegations set forth in the Withdrawal Notice, the Court notes that “[t]he statutes governing the sale of assets of bankruptcy estates are intended to protect the creditors of such estates and not prospective purchasers.” In re HST Gathering Co., 125 B.R. 466, 468 (W.D. Tex. 1991). A disappointed prospective purchaser, such as GMC, “is not within the ‘zone of interests intended to be protected’ under the bankruptcy statutes and regulations.” Id. Applying this principle, the HST Gathering court upheld the bankruptcy court’s refusal to accept a bid tendered in connection with an auction. The court held that the disappointed bidder lacked standing to appeal because he was “not a person whose interest was intended to be protected by the bankruptcy statutes or regulations.” Id.; see also Kabro Assocs. v. Colony Hill Assocs. (In re Colony Hill Assocs.), 111 F.3d 269, 273 (2d Cir. 1997) (“[A]n unsuccessful bidder—whose only pecuniary loss is the speculative profit it might have made had it succeeded in purchasing property at an auction—usually lacks standing to challenge a bankruptcy court’s approval of a sale transaction.”); Stark v. Moran (In re Moran), 566 F.3d 676, 682 (6th Cir. 2009) (“A frustrated bidder lacks bankruptcy appellate standing when he merely alleges that he would have profited from his desired purchase, and does not allege, for instance, that fraud or impropriety prevented the estate from accepting his higher bid such that creditors would not receive as great a recovery as they would have had the estate accepted the higher bid.”).

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief From the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Action in Nonbankruptcy Forum) [Doc. No. 14] (the "Motion")
2. Response to Motion Regarding the Automatic Stay and Declaration(s) in Support [Doc. No. 20] (the "Opposition")
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no reply is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Rene Nicholas Ortiz (the "Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 7 case on December 21, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). At the outset of the case, Sam S. Leslie accepted appointment as chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee"). On March 18, 2020, Winfund Investment, LLC (the "Movant") filed this request for relief from the automatic stay pursuant to § 362(d)(1) to proceed with an action bearing the caption Winfund Investment, LLC v. Rene J. Ortiz, et al., Case No. 19PSCV00211 (the "State Court Action") pending in Los Angeles County Superior Court (the "State Court"). Movant commenced the State Court Action on March 1, 2019 by filing a complaint against the Debtor, the Debtor's father, and various other non-debtor defendants asserting claims for breach of contract, promissory fraud, fraudulent transfer, and seeking injunctive relief and the appointment of a receiver (the "Complaint"). According to the Complaint, Rene J. Ortiz ("Ortiz"), the Debtor's father, is connected with the ownership and/or operation of numerous business entities, at least one of which is owned by the Debtor. See Motion, Ex. 1 [the Complaint] at 1-4 (page citations follow the Complaint's original pagination). The Complaint alleges that Ortiz executed three promissory notes in favor of the Movant in connection with the purchase of three parcels of real property. See id. at 5-9. However, without Movant's knowledge or authorization, Ortiz purportedly either sold or borrowed against said real estate, using proceeds to acquire personal and real property. See id. In sum, the Complaint asserts that Ortiz fraudulently transferred these ill-gotten assets to the Debtor, the Debtor's business entity, and the other non-debtor defendants to impair Movant's collection efforts. Id. at 14. Trial is scheduled to begin on September 14, 2020.

- Mandatory abstention applies under 28 U.S.C. § 1334(c)(2);
- The claims are nondischargeable in nature and can be most expeditiously resolved in the nonbankruptcy forum;
- The claims arise under nonbankruptcy law and can be most expeditiously resolved in the nonbankruptcy forum; and
- The Debtor filed this bankruptcy case in bad faith to delay or interfere with the prosecution of the State Court Action.

The Movant further claims that the Debtor sold the subject assets while the non-bankruptcy action was still pending and mere months before the Petition Date. The arguments and representations set forth in the Motion are supported by the declaration of Peiwan Chang, the Movant's counsel in the State Court Action.

On April 9, 2020, the Debtor filed a timely opposition to the Motion (the "Opposition"). The Debtor objects to the Motion, contending that the case was not filed in bad faith, that there is no proof of Debtor's liability, and that his alleged wrongdoing is derivative of the conduct of third parties. In support of the Opposition, the Debtor supplied his declaration, wherein he makes the following representations:

- Unlike his father, the Debtor denies having entered into any business transactions with the Movant;
- The Debtor challenges the allegation that he received fraudulently transferred assets from his father, and asserts that the Movant has failed to proffer any evidence supporting the claims raised in the Complaint;

- The Debtor claims that he secured loans from third parties to purchase his father's interests in various business operations (the "Businesses");
- Having become "worn" out by the pressures of being a business owner, the Debtor sold the Businesses to "third parties";
- Any assets that the Debtor could have obtained from his father were surrendered to the Trustee at the outset of the case;
- There are no grounds to have this bankruptcy case "derailed" to defend the State Court Action.

See Declaration of Nicholas Rene Ortiz, ¶¶ 2-5.

The Court notes that on March 23, 2020, the Debtor and the Trustee entered into a stipulation to extend the deadline to object to Debtor's discharge to May 22, 2020 [Doc. No. 16]. On March 24, 2020, the Court approved the stipulation.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Movant has not filed a reply in support of the Motion.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, a motion for relief from the automatic stay is a summary proceeding that does not involve an adjudication of the merits of the underlying claims. As recognized by the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel in In re Luz Int'l, Ltd.:

Given the limited grounds for obtaining a motion for relief from stay, read in conjunction with the expedited schedule for a hearing on the motion, most courts hold that motion for relief from stay hearings should not involve an adjudication of the merits of claims, defenses, or counterclaims, but simply determine whether the creditor has a colorable claim to the property of the estate. See In re Johnson, 756 F.2d 738, 740 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 474 U.S. 828, 106 S.Ct. 88, 88 L.Ed.2d 72 (1985) ("Hearings on relief from the automatic stay are thus handled in a

In the Ninth Circuit, courts consider 12 non-exclusive factors to determine whether "cause" exists to grant relief to allow an entity to continue pending litigation against a debtor in non-bankruptcy forum:

1. Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues;
2. The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case;
3. Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary;
4. Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases;
5. Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation;
6. Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question;
7. Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested

8. Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c);
  9. Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f);
  10. The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties;

Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 559. Not all the factors are relevant in every case, and the Court is not required to give equal weight to each factor. Id. at 560.

The Court finds that the Movant has established a prima facie case that "cause" exists to grant relief from stay under § 362(d)(1). First, granting stay relief will promote interests of judicial economy and avoid piecemeal or redundant litigation because the Movant aims to pursue claims against the Debtor in the State Court Action that are purportedly nondischargeable. Second, although the State Court is not a specialized tribunal established specifically to hear Movant's claims, the State Court is more intimately familiar with the parties' dispute and applicable California law to more expeditiously move the litigation to final judgment. Third, allowing the Movant to litigate the State Court Action will best promote the judicial economy by adjudicating a final judgment as to the underlying claims that may either support or negate the filing of a proof of claim, and/or continued prosecution of its outstanding adversary complaint [Note 1]. Finally, permitting the State Court Action to proceed will assist the Trustee to determine whether it is appropriate to bring an adversary action against the Debtor. While the Court acknowledges the Debtor's comments, the State Court will provide him with the forum in which to most efficiently defend against Movant's claims, thereby enabling him, if appropriate, to enjoy "the fresh start that this proceeding can provide."

Finally, the Court has reviewed the commencement documents, the Debtor's declaration, and the representations made by Movant in the Motion and in pleadings submitted to the State Court Action to assess whether this case was filed in bad faith. On the present record, the Court is unable to reach a finding that the Debtor filed this case to hinder and delay the State Court Action from proceeding to trial.

Based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Motion pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §

362(d)(1) to permit the Movant to proceed under applicable non-bankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the non-bankruptcy forum, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtor or estate property. The Debtor's Opposition is overruled. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim or any other claim against the Debtor or property of the estate, except that the Movant will retain the right to file a proof of claim, and Movant's rights are preserved with respect to its adversary complaint filed under §§ 523 and 727 (Windfund Investment, LLC v. Nicholas Rene Ortiz, 2:20-ap-01024-ER) (to the extent applicable). This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code.

The Court also finds it appropriate to waive the 14-day stay prescribed by Federal Rule 4001(a)(3). All other relief is denied.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED.

All relief granted herein shall be subject to the Emergency Rules of the California Rules of Court, effective April 6, 2020.

The Movant is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: On February 6, 2020, the Movant filed an adversary proceeding objecting to the Debtor's discharge under §§ 523 and 727, which bears the caption Windfund Investment, LLC v. Nicholas Rene Ortiz, 2:20-ap-01024-ER.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED, and the case is dismissed.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Motion by Debtor in Possession to Dismiss Chapter 11 Case [Doc. No. 132] (the "Motion")
2. Notice of the Motion [Doc. No. 133]
3. Notice of Motion and Motion to Approve Post-Petition Financing Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 363 and 364(c) [Doc. No. 112] (the "Financing Motion")
4. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession, David Christopher Brady (the "Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on May 24, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor's largest asset consists of real property located at 1511 Summitridge Drive, Los Angeles, CA 90210 (the "Property"). The Debtor's chapter 11 filing was precipitated by financing and construction issues arising from the Property's remodel, which led to disputes with contractors, subcontractors, and the Property's then-senior lienholder, Banc of California ("Banc"). The Debtor decided to file the instant bankruptcy case prior to a looming foreclosure sale that Banc had refused to postpone. Declaration of David Christopher Brady, ¶ 2. On or about December 19, 2019, the Banc transferred its interest in the Property to Fairview Loans IV, LLC ("Fairview"). As of the filing of the Motion, Fairview is the Debtor's largest creditor, which holds a claim totaling approximately $2,876,621.94. See Financing Motion [Doc. No. 112], Brady Decl., ¶ 5. The Property is also encumbered by the following liens:

- a second-priority lien held by Kindness General Contractors, LLC ("Kindness") in the amount of $144,596.20, which the Debtor disputes;
- and a third-priority lien held by the Los Angeles County Treasurer & Tax Collector ("LACTTC") in the amount of $40,040.63.

From the outset of his case, the Debtor has taken the following steps to address outstanding financial obligations. On October 2, 2019, the Court approved the Debtor's settlement agreement with three subcontractors, pursuant to which, said subcontractors released mechanics liens against the Property [Doc. No. 54]. Additionally, on March 2, 2020, the Debtor filed the Financing Motion, by which the Debtor sought authorization to enter into a post-petition refinance loan on the Property that would enable him to pay off or bond most of the liens asserted thereon. See Financing Motion at 5-7. More specifically, the Debtor requested to (1) use loan proceeds to pay most of Fairview's claim, thereby discharging its lien; (2) grant Marquee Funding Group, Inc. (the "Lender") a first-priority lien on the Property; (3) grant Fairview a $325,000 carryback note secured by a second-priority lien on the Property; and (4) issue a $177,035 bond to secure the disputed claim held by Kindness. On April 9, 2020, the Court entered an order approving the Financing Motion.

On April 14, 2020, the Debtor filed the Motion, asking for the dismissal of his bankruptcy case in the best interest of the estate. In addition to the foregoing, the Motion asserts that the Debtor's remaining unsecured and priority tax claims (the "Remaining Claims") have been paid off or will be paid outside of bankruptcy following dismissal. Aside from the Court-approved treatment of Fairview's claim and Kindness's disputed claim, the Debtor intends to repay the Remaining Claims in full. As such, no creditor will experience prejudice by the dismissal of the case. Further, the Debtor argues that Kindness's claim is essentially a two-party dispute, which, according to supporting case law, requires the Court's abstention and bolsters the argument for dismissal. See Motion at 4 (citing to St. Paul Self Storage Ltd. P'ship v. The Port Auth. Of the City of St. Paul, 185 B.R. 580, 583 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995)). In sum, the Debtor submits that a chapter 11 proceeding is no longer required as the claim of his largest creditor, Fairview, has been resolved, the Kindness claim will be addressed outside of bankruptcy, and all other claims will be fully paid off. Therefore, dismissal best serves the interests of creditors, as doing so circumvents the need to incur further administrative expenses and legal fees.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under § 1112(b), the Court shall dismiss or convert a case to one under chapter 7 upon a showing of cause. A "[d]ebtor's request [to voluntarily dismiss a Chapter 11 bankruptcy case] should ordinarily be granted unless some 'plain legal prejudice' will result to creditors." In re Kimble, 96 B.R. 305, 308 (Bankr. D. Mont. 1988), quoting In re Geller, 74 B.R. 685, 688-689 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 1987); In re Hall, 15 B.R. 913, 915-916 (9th Cir. BAP 1981). The Court finds that the Debtor has standing to bring a motion to dismiss, since it is a "party in interest" 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b).

Here, dismissal best serves the interests of the creditors and the estate. Because the Debtor has either resolved or intends to address all outstanding claims outside of bankruptcy, and noting the lack of any objection, the Court determines that maintaining this case in bankruptcy will incur needless administrative expenses. Furthermore, the Court notes that the Debtor has already availed himself of bankruptcy relief by, inter alia, securing the refinance of the Property, paying off the majority of secured claims, negotiating settlements to discharge several mechanics liens against the Property, and taking significant steps to resolve Kindness's disputed claim. Having reviewed the Debtor's declaration attached to the Motion, the Court notes that the Debtor intends to repay all Remaining Claims. Brady Decl., ¶ 6. In sum, the Court finds that it is in the best interests of creditors and the estate to dismiss this case. On the record before it, the Court further finds that no purpose would be served by converting this case to a case under chapter 7. Additionally, there being no objection to the Motion, the Court presumes interested parties consent to the granting of the requested relief pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h).

Finally, as there are no other matters pending in this case, the Court will only retain jurisdiction to consider approval and payment of professional fees and outstanding administrative expenses.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED and the case is dismissed.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. RE: [12] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations PERSONAL PROPERTY RE: 2015 Honda Accord, VIN: 1HGC R2F5 1FA2 31415 .

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling:

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

2/10/2020

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the “Trustee”) commenced this fraudulent transfer action against Hyun Hwang (the “Defendant”) on September 14, 2019. On December 11, 2019, the Court denied the Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss, and ordered the Defendant to file an Answer by no later than January 21, 2020. Doc. No. 25. Defendant timely filed an Answer. The Trustee seeks leave to file a First Amended Complaint to allege an additional $80,000 transfer from the Debtor to the Defendant.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In the event that Defendant declines to stipulate to the filing of a First Amended Complaint, the Trustee shall file a motion for leave to amend by no later than March 10, 2020.
- 2) A continued Status Conference is set for April 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

2/10/2020

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") commenced this fraudulent transfer action against Mirea Rea Hwang (the "Defendant") on September 14, 2019. On December 4, 2019, the Court conducted a hearing on the Defendant's Motion to Dismiss. The Court found that adjudication of the Complaint would violate the automatic stay arising in the bankruptcy petition filed by Defendant's spouse, Kenny Hwang ("K. Hwang"). The Court ordered that the action would be stayed, unless and until the Trustee obtained relief from the automatic stay in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case.

The Trustee has not moved for stay relief in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case. A continued meeting of creditors in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case is set for February 12, 2020.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

The Clerk of the Court entered Defendant's default on November 27, 2019. Doc. No. 13. The Chapter 7 Trustee has engaged in settlement discussions with one of the Defendant's relatives, Dominic Anderson. The parties have agreed upon a settlement amount, but it is unclear whether Anderson can fund the settlement.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The deadline for Anderson to demonstrate to the Trustee's satisfaction that he has the ability to fund the contemplated settlement is January 31, 2020.
- 2) If Anderson demonstrates the ability to fund the settlement, the Trustee shall file a Bankruptcy Rule 9019 Motion by no later than February 14, 2020. The Motion shall be filed on a negative-notice basis, pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(o).
- 3) If Anderson cannot fund the settlement, the Trustee shall file a Motion for Default Judgment by no later than February 14, 2020. The Motion shall be filed on a negative-notice basis, pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(o).
- 4) A continued Status Conference shall be held on March 10, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. The Trustee shall file a Unilateral Status Report by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. In the event the matter is resolved, the continued Status Conference will go off calendar.

On April 18, 2019, Danny's Silver Jewelry, Inc. ("Plaintiff") filed a Complaint to Determine Dischargeability of a Debt and Objection to Discharge [Doc. No. 1] (the "Complaint") against Bahram Zendedel aka Robert Zendedel ("Defendant"). The Complaint asserts claims under § 523(a)(2)(A), (a)(4), and (a)(6) and under § 727(a)(2)(A), (a)(3), and (a)(5).

On February 28, 2020, Plaintiff and Defendant filed a stipulation providing for settlement of the § 523 claims and dismissal of the § 727 claims (the "Stipulation"). In settlement of the § 523 claims, Plaintiff and Defendant stipulated to (1) a judgment in the amount of $37,600.61 in favor of Plaintiff (the "Judgment") and (2) dismissal of the § 727 claims. The Stipulation provided that the Judgment (a) would be deemed fully satisfied if Defendant paid Plaintiff the sum of $30,000 by May 1, 2020 and (b) would not be enforced until May 1, 2020.

On April 14, 2020, the Court granted the motion of the United States Trustee (the "UST") to intervene in this adversary proceeding with respect to the § 727 claims, and set litigation deadlines with respect to the § 727 claims. Doc. Nos. 32 and 33. Because it was not clear from the Stipulation whether the settlement of Plaintiff's § 523 claims was contingent upon dismissal of the § 727 claims, the Court ordered Plaintiff to file a notice stating whether the parties intended to adhere to the remaining terms of the § 523 settlement notwithstanding the fact that the § 727 claims had not been dismissed. The Court stated that if the parties did not elect to adhere to the remaining terms of the § 523 settlement, it would set litigation deadlines regarding the § 523 claims at the Status Conference set for May 12, 2020.

On April 30, 2020, Plaintiff and Defendant filed a Joint Status Report, which states that the parties intend to adhere to the terms of the § 523 settlement notwithstanding the Trustee's intervention as to the § 727 claims.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The Stipulation is APPROVED, except that the May 1, 2020 deadline for Defendant to pay Plaintiff $30,000 in full satisfaction of the Judgment must be extended in view of the delay resulting from the UST's intervention. The deadline for Defendant to make the $30,000 payment shall be extended to and including June 15, 2020. The corresponding provision stating that Plaintiff shall not enforce the Judgment prior to May 1, 2020 is likewise extended; Plaintiff shall not enforce the Judgment prior to June 15, 2020.
- 2) By no later than May 19, 2020, Plaintiff shall submit a proposed form of judgment consistent with the Stipulation as modified by ¶ 1.
- 3) The litigation deadlines previously set with respect to the § 727 claims shall remain in effect. No additional Status Conferences will be conducted absent further order of the Court.

The Court will prepare and enter an order approving the Stipulation. Plaintiff shall submit a proposed form of judgment consistent with the Stipulation by no later than May 19, 2020.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so.

On February 26, 2019, the Court granted Plaintiff relief from the automatic stay, to enable Plaintiff to prosecute against Defendant two actions pending in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court Actions"). Plaintiff seeks to establish the indebtedness which is alleged to be non-dischargeable in this proceeding by way of the State Court Actions. On June 18, 2019, the Court granted Plaintiff's motion to abstain from adjudicating this dischargeability action until Plaintiff had obtained final, non-appealable judgments in the State Court Actions.

The judgment in one of the State Court Actions is now final. Judgment in the other State Court Action is not expected to become final for at least one year.

On April 28, 2020, the Court granted Plaintiff's motion for relief from the automatic stay, to enable Plaintiff to prosecute to final judgment the state court action through which Plaintiff seeks to establish the indebtedness alleged to be non-dischargeable (the "State Court Action").

Having reviewed the Unilateral Status Report submitted by the Plaintiff, the Court HEREBY FINDS AND ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) As the Ninth Circuit has explained, a non-dischargeability action requires consideration of two distinct issues: first, a determination of whether the Defendant is indebted to the Plaintiff; and second, a determination of whether the indebtedness is non-dischargeable. Banks v. Gill Distribution Centers, Inc., 263 F.3d 862, 868 (9th Cir. 2001).
- 2) The most efficient way to resolve this action is for Plaintiff to first prosecute the State Court Action to final judgment. In the event Plaintiff obtains a judgment in its favor, Plaintiff may then return to the Bankruptcy Court to obtain a determination regarding whether such judgment is dischargeable.
- 3) This action is STAYED until Plaintiff obtains a final, non-appealable judgment in the State Court Action. The litigation deadlines set by way of the Scheduling Order issued on February 7, 2020 [Doc. No. 3] are VACATED.

On April 15, 2019, the Court stayed this action pending the completion of arbitration of the claims for relief asserted in the Complaint. Doc. Nos. 38 and 43. The Court found that it lacked discretion to decline to enforce an arbitration provision with respect to the non-core claims for breach of contract, unjust enrichment, and turnover. With respect to the remaining core claims for violation of the automatic stay and injunctive relief, the Court found that arbitration would not conflict with the purposes of the Bankruptcy Code, given that the amount at issue in connection with the core claims (approximately $360,000) was inconsequential when compared to the amount at issue in connection with the non-core claims (approximately $25 million). Consequently, the Court found that it was required to enforce the arbitration provision even with respect to the core claims.

Plaintiffs have filed an arbitration demand with JAMS. An arbitrator has been selected, and arbitration is set to convene on April 20, 2020.

A continued Status Conference shall be held on May 12, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report, which should discuss the status of the arbitration, shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

The Court has reviewed (a) the Objection to Discharge and Complaint to Determine Dischargeability of a Debt [Doc. No. 1] (the "Complaint") and (b) the Joint Pretrial Stipulation (the "Pretrial Stipulation") submitted by Plaintiff and Defendant on May 11, 2020. For the reasons set forth below, the Court finds that the Complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted under § 523(a)(4) (on the ground of larceny). See Omar v. Sea-Land Service, Inc., 813 F.2d 986, 991 (9th Cir. 1987) ("A trial court may dismiss a claim sua sponte under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6)"). Trial will be limited to Plaintiff's claims under § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6).

On November 2, 2018, Plaintiff obtained a judgment against Defendant in the small claims court in the amount of $10,155.00 (the "Small Claims Judgment"). The Small Claims Judgment arose from Plaintiff's allegations that Defendant "did not complete construction job at my residence that they were contracted to do" and that Defendant "abandoned assignment."

The Complaint alleges that the Small Claims Judgment is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A), (a)(4) (on the ground of larceny), and (a)(6). The material allegations of the Complaint are as follows:

Chapter 7

- 1) On December 19, 2008, Defendant became the sole owner of Contractor's License Number B342480 dba Du All Home Service. On February 15, 2018, Defendant changed the name associated with Contractor's License Number B342480 to "HQ Construction Company," but continued to conduct business under the name "Du All Home Service."
- 2) On March 11, 2018, Plaintiff entered into a written contract (the "Contract") with Defendant, dba Du All Home Service, under which Defendant agreed to remodel Plaintiff's Property. The total cost of the remodel was $32,550, with payment to be made in four installments. On March 13, 2018, Plaintiff made two installment payments, in the total amount of $16,274.00.
- 3) Defendant commenced work on the Property on March 14, 2018. Defendant installed smoke detectors incorrectly, installed regular recess lights instead of the LED lights requested by Plaintiff, damaged tiles at the Property's front entrance, and leaked oil on the Property's driveway. On April 1, 2018, Defendant abandoned work on the Property, leaving the premises in a hazardous state. Defendant told Plaintiff that he was abandoning the project because he was out of money.

Plaintiff asserts that the Small Claims Judgment is excepted from discharge under § 523(a)(2)(A) because Defendant (1) never intended to complete the project at the time he entered into the Contract and (2) misrepresented his intention to perform under the Contract in order to induce Plaintiff to remit the first two installment payments. Plaintiff asserts that the Small Claims Judgment is excepted from discharge under § 523(a)(4), on the ground of larceny, because Defendant retained the two installment payments without providing services of a commensurate value. Finally, Plaintiff asserts that Defendant's retention of the funds without providing services of commensurate value constitutes willful and malicious injury to Plaintiff's property, making the Small Claims Judgment non-dischargeable under § 523(a)(6).

The Complaint Fails to State a Claim Under § 523(a)(4)

To state a claim upon which relief can be granted, "a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.' A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (internal citations omitted).

To state a plausible claim for relief, a complaint must satisfy two working principles:

First, the tenet that a court must accept as true all of the allegations contained in a complaint is inapplicable to legal conclusions. Threadbare recitations of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory statements, do not suffice.... Second, only a complaint that states a plausible claim for relief survives a motion to dismiss. Determining whether a complaint states a plausible claim for relief will ... be a context-specific task that requires the reviewing court to draw on its judicial experience and common sense. But where the well-pleaded facts do not permit the court to infer more than the mere possibility of misconduct, the complaint has alleged—but it has not "show[n]"—"that the pleader is entitled to relief."

Id. (citing Civil Rule 8(a)(2)).

Section 523(a)(4) excepts from discharge debts arising from a debtor's larceny. Larceny is the "felonious taking of another's personal property with intent to convert it or deprive the owner of the same." Ormsby v. First Am. Title Co. of Nev. (In re Ormsby), 591 F.3d 1199, 1205 (9th Cir. 2010). "As distinguished from embezzlement, the original taking of the property must be unlawful." Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 523.10[2] (16th ed. rev'd 2018).

None of the allegations in the complaint show that Defendant's initial receipt of the installment payments was unlawful. Instead, the Complaint alleges that Defendant's wrongful actions consisted of failing to perform under the Contract after receiving the installment payments. The Complaint fails to state a claim for larceny.

In the Pretrial Stipulation, Plaintiff contends that in addition to being liable under § 523(a)(4) on the ground of larceny, Defendant is also liable under § 523(a)(4) on the grounds of embezzlement and fraud or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity. The Complaint does not assert claims under § 523(a)(4) for embezzlement or fraud or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity. The Court declines to permit Plaintiff to introduce at the pretrial stage new claims that were not pleaded in the Complaint.

Plaintiff is Not Judicially Estopped from Bringing the Complaint

Defendant asserts that Plaintiff is judicially estopped from asserting that Defendant made fraudulent representations in connection with the Contract. Defendant maintains that estoppel is appropriate because the Small Claims Complaint did not allege that Defendant committed fraud. Defendant further asserts that that he can be found liable under § 523(a)(2)(A) only if Plaintiff establishes that the Small Claims Court found that Defendant's conduct was fraudulent.

Defendant's argument misapprehends the nature of a non-dischargeability action. As the Ninth Circuit has explained, a non-dischargeability action requires consideration of two distinct issues: first, a determination of whether the Defendant is indebted to the Plaintiff; and second, a determination of whether the indebtedness is non-dischargeable. Banks v. Gill Distribution Centers, Inc., 263 F.3d 862, 868 (9th Cir. 2001). Here, the Small Claims Judgment involved only the first issue—whether Defendant is indebted to Plaintiff. The purpose of this trial is to determine the second issue—whether the indebtedness established by the Small Claims Judgment will be excepted from Defendant's discharge. The fact that Plaintiff did not raise matters that pertain only to dischargeability—such as whether Defendant committed fraud—in the Small Claims Complaint does not preclude Plaintiff from raising those matters now.

Trial is Set for August 24, 2020

As a result of the Covid-19 pandemic, trial cannot go forward during the week of May 25, 2020, as originally schedule. Trial is set for August 24, 2020. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m.

On October 24, 2019, the Court entered an order setting litigation deadlines and establishing procedures for the adjudication of evidentiary objections at trial (the "Evidence Procedures Order") [Doc. No. 14]. The Evidence Procedures Order required all parties to stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. It further provided:

In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference .... The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine ... shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.

Evidence Procedures Order at ¶ 1(h)(ii).

No Motions in Limine have been filed in accordance with the requirements of the Evidence Procedures Order. Accordingly, all exhibits offered by the parties shall be deemed admitted.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On January 10, 2020 (the "Petition Date"), 450 S. Western, LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition. The Debtor owns and operates a three-story, 80,316 square foot shopping center—commonly known as California Marketplace—located at the intersection of South Western Avenue and 5th Street. The shopping center serves the Los Angeles Korean community and contains 28 stores. As of the Petition Date, the shopping center had a 98% occupancy rate.

On April 16, 2020, Pontis Capital, LLC ("Pontis") filed Proof of Claim No. 7-2

("the Pontis Claim"), asserting a secured claim in the amount of $4,684,959.75. On that same date, Five West Capital, LP ("Five West") filed Proof of Claim No. 8-2 ("the Five West Claim"), asserting a secured claim in the amount of $5,855,998.95. [Note 1] Both claims arise from pre-petition promissory notes executed by the Debtor to repay construction loans. Pontis and Five West contend that they are entitled to interest on their claims at the default rate of 18%.

Debtor moves for approval of a compromise with Pontis and Five West. Under the compromise, the Pontis and Five West Claims will be deemed allowed in exchange for a reduction in the interest rates from 18% (the default rate) to 10% (the pre-default rate). Debtor asserts that absent the compromise, it would be required to incur substantial costs objecting to the claims and/or refinancing the indebtedness giving rise to the claims.

The Debtor has submitted a proposed order approving the compromise. The proposed order has been reviewed and approved as to form by the Debtor, the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors, Pontis, and Five West.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the compromise is adequate, fair, and reasonable, and is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Complexity of the Litigation

This factor weighs in favor of approving the compromise. The compromise achieves the results of a claim objection and a refinancing. If the compromise were not approved, the Debtor would be required to obtain traditional debtor-in-possession financing to fund operations while marketing its assets. The Debtor would also be required to litigate the issue of whether Pontis and Five West are entitled to default interest on their claims. Obtaining financing and challenging the allowability of default interest would result in the accrual of additional administrative expenses.

Probability of Success on the Merits

This factor weighs in favor of approving the compromise. To obtain approval of a compromise, the Debtor is not required to conclusively establish that Pontis and Five West would prevail if the Debtor challenged the allowability of their claims or their entitlement to default interest. "That would defeat the purpose of settlement and would eliminate any cost savings from the settlement. 'All that [the Debtor] must do is establish to the reasonable satisfaction of [this Court] that, all things considered, it is prudent to eliminate the risks of litigation to achieve specific certainty though it might be considerably less (or more) than were the case fought to the bitter end.'" In re Aloha Racing Found., Inc., 257 B.R. 83, 88 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 2000) (internal citation omitted).

Here, the Debtor has demonstrated that it is prudent to eliminate the litigation risks associated with objecting to the claims asserted by Pontis and Five West.

Paramount Interests of Creditors

This factor weighs in favor of approving the compromise. The compromise is supported by the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors and two of the three largest secured creditors. No creditors have objected to approval of the compromise.

Difficulties To Be Encountered in the Manner of Collection

This factor does not apply.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Court will enter the proposed order that has been approved as to form by the Debtor, the Committee, Pontis, and Five West.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Pontis initially asserted a secured claim in the amount of $4,846,959.75, but filed an amended claim in the reduced amount of $4,684,959.75 after the Debtor pointed out discrepancies between the claim and a demand notice issued by Pontis. Five West also reduced its claim from $6,058,498.95 to $5,855,998.95 for the same reason.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

On April 13, 2020, Carlyle Assets (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition. On or about July 20, 2018, the Debtor and PS Funding, Inc. (the "Movant") entered into a commercial loan agreement, pursuant to which Debtor agreed to pay Movant the principal amount of $3,100,000, plus interest (the "Promissory Note"). See Declaration of Susan M. Branch [Doc. No. 15-2] ("Branch Decl."), ¶ 4a, Ex. 1. The Promissory Note was secured by a first-position deed of trust in favor of Movant, encumbering commercial real property located at 1222 West 39th Street, Los Angeles, California, 90037 (the "Property"). Jason Moreno, the Debtor's vice president, executed a guaranty, wherein he promised to pay Movant any of Debtor's financial obligations under the Promissory Note. Branch Decl., ¶ 4c, Ex. 3. Pursuant to the same series of transactions, the Movant entered into individual agreements with various creditors asserting an interest in the Property to subordinate each security interest to Movant's lien. See Branch Decl., Exs. 4-7. The Movant asserts that the Debtor defaulted on the

Promissory Note on or about August 1, 2019, for which deficiencies have not been cured as of the filing of the Motion. See Motion at 8.

The Court finds that there is good cause to grant relief under 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(2). The Property has a value of $3,500,000 (RJN, Ex. 3) and is encumbered by a perfected deed of trust in favor of the Movant in the sum of $3,659,196.65 (Branch Decl., Ex. 2). Accordingly, the value of the equity cushion in the Property exceeding Movant's debt is -$159,196.65, which is -4.5% of the Property's fair market value. Therefore, the Movant's interest in the Property is not adequately protected, and stay-relief under § 362(d)(1) is appropriate. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral). Further, the Property is encumbered by at least six additional liens that were not disclosed in Debtor's schedules. See Branch Decl., Exs. 4-7, 9. The liens against the Property, unpaid taxes, and the expected costs of sale total $4,879,618.73. Based on the foregoing, the Court further finds there is no equity, the Property is not necessary for the Debtor's reorganization, and there is no evidence that the trustee can administer the Property for the benefit of creditors. Hence, stay-relief is also warranted pursuant to § 362(d)(2).

In addition, the Court notes that the Debtor listed Movant as its only creditor, notwithstanding the security interests of at least four other creditors [Note 1] and the tax assessments owed to the Los Angeles County that encumber the Property. See Branch Decl., Ex. 9 (Schedule A of the Trustee's Sale Guarantee, dated October 31, 2019). On Schedule D, the Debtor also stated that, apart from Movant, no other creditor asserted an interest against the Property. Based on the present, uncontroverted record, the Court finds that this petition was filed in bad faith to delay and impair Movant's attempts to foreclose upon the Property. Therefore, the Motion is also granted under § 362(d)(1) for cause based on Debtor's bad faith filing.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property, or to enter into a potential forbearance or loan modification agreement in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The 14-day period specified in Fed. R. Bankr. P.

Plaintiff has obtained final judgment in the State Court (the “State Court Judgment”) against Defendant, awarding Plaintiff damages of $225,000 for sexual battery (Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.5), gender violence (Cal. Civ. Code § 52.4), and violation of the Ralph Civil Rights Act (Cal. Civ. Code § 57.7). The portion of the State Court Judgment awarding Plaintiff attorneys’ fees in the amount of approximately $2.5 million remains subject to an appeal and is not yet final. However, the State Court Judgment’s award of costs in the amount of $84,090.34 is final.

On February 4, 2019, the Court found that the portion of the State Court Judgment awarding damages and costs was non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(6). Doc. Nos. 42 and 45–46. The Court stated that adjudication of the dischargeability of the fee portion of the State Court Judgment would occur once that aspect of the judgment became final. The fee portion of the State Court Judgment has not yet become final.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Crystal Holmes (“Holmes”) moves for orders (1) dismissing the voluntary Chapter 11 petition filed by Rosalina Lizardo Harris (“Harris”) or, in the alternative, converting the case to Chapter 7 and (2) granting Holmes relief from the automatic stay, to enable Holmes to continue to enforce a judgment that Holmes holds against Harris (the “Judgment”) and to allow Harris’ appeal of the Judgment to proceed. Harris opposes both Motions.

A. Holmes’ Judgment Against Harris

On May 3, 2018, Holmes filed a complaint against Harris and other parties in the District Court, asserting claims under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 (the “Complaint”). On July 11, 2019, after conducting a jury trial, the District Court entered judgment in favor of Holmes in the amount of $2,265,952.00 (the “Judgment”). RJN, Ex. 4. The jury found that Harris, who is a detective employed by the Los Angeles Sheriff’s Department (the “LASD”), violated Holmes’ Fourth Amendment right to be free from unreasonable arrest without probable cause, and awarded damages of $765,952. Id. The jury further found that Harris acted with malice, oppression, or reckless disregard of Holmes’ constitutional rights, and awarded punitive damages of $1.5 million. Id.

On September 19, 2019, the District Court denied Harris’ renewed motion for judgment as a matter of law. The District Court stated:

The Court concludes that there was ample evidence to support the jury’s verdict. There was sufficient evidence supporting the jury’s conclusion that [Harris] acted under color of law in procuring [Holmes’] arrest, and that [Harris] procured [Holmes’] wrongful arrest without probable cause.

RJN, Ex. 5.

On October 4, 2019, the District Court denied Harris’ motion for a new trial or, in the alternative, an altered or amended judgment. RJN, Ex. 6. The District Court rejected Harris’ contention that the award of actual damages was not supported by sufficient evidence. Id. The District Court also found that the award of $1.5 million in punitive damages was justified:

Here, the jury found that [Harris] acted “with malice, oppression, or reckless disregard of [Holmes’] constitutional rights” in procuring her wrongful arrest, rather than negligently. The jury concluded that [Harris], a law enforcement officer, carried out the wrongful arrest of an innocent person under the authority of her position, in deliberate disregard of [Holmes’] right to be free of unlawful arrest. The Court concludes that this is reprehensible conduct.

Id. (internal citations omitted).

On October 4, 2019, the District Court awarded Holmes attorneys’ fees in the amount of $760,397.50, and costs and expenses in the amount of $2,709.29. Id.

On October 10, 2019, Harris appealed the Judgment to the Ninth Circuit. The Ninth Circuit took no action on the appeal prior to the filing of Harris’ voluntary Chapter 11 petition.

B. Harris’ Voluntary Chapter 11 Petition

On March 13, 2020 (the “Petition Date”), Harris filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition (the “Petition”). Harris’ primary assets, and the scheduled valuations of those assets, are as follows:

- 1) Primary residence, located at 400 W. Altadena Dr., Altadena, CA 91001 (the “Property”). The Property is valued at $887,000.00, and is encumbered by liens in the amount of $516,851.84.
- 2) 401(k) County of Los Angeles Defined Contribution Plan (the “401k Plan”). The 401k Plan is valued at $363,338.44, and is encumbered by a lien in the amount of $45,000.00.

commenced the litigation, she was informed that LA County and LASD would be responsible for defending the matter. Harris asserts that she never signed a retention agreement with Seki, that she was never advised that her personal assets could be subject to a judgment, and that she was excluded from substantive participation in litigation strategy or settlement discussions. Harris states that she believed that LA County would bear financial responsibility for any judgment entered against her, and that she maintained this belief until she was informed in late 2019 that LA County might not pay the punitive damages portion of the Judgment.

Aside from the Judgment, Harris' liabilities consist of (1) unpaid tax debt of approximately $6,000.00, (2) credit card debt of approximately $5,000.00, (3) and several months of arrearages on the Property's mortgage.

According to the Petition, Harris made the following pre-petition transfers. In September 2019, Harris paid $20,000 to purchase a vehicle for her daughter. Statement of Financial Affairs (the "SOFA") at ¶ 8. In October and November 2019, Harris transferred $35,000.00 from her retirement account to her mother and sister. SOFA at ¶ 7. The funds were returned to Harris in February 2020, prior to the Petition Date. Id. In January 2020, Harris paid $26,717.00 to retain bankruptcy counsel. SOFA at ¶ 16.

C. Summary of Holmes' Motion to Dismiss and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay

Holmes moves to dismiss the petition under § 1112, or in the alternative, to convert the case to Chapter 7. Holmes also moves for relief from the automatic stay, pursuant to § 362(d)(1), to enable Harris' appeal of the Judgment to proceed and to allow Holmes to continue to enforce the Judgment. Holmes makes the following arguments and representations in support of the Motions:

Harris sought bankruptcy protection solely to avoid posting a supersedeas bond in connection with her appeal of the Judgment. Harris has limited assets, no ongoing business to reorganize, no meaningful unsecured creditors other than Holmes, and insufficient income to sustain a plan of reorganization. Harris commenced the petition solely to hinder, delay, and frustrate Holmes' ability to collect on the Judgment. The petition should be dismissed as having been filed in bad faith. See In re Mense, 509 B.R. 269, 279–81 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2014) (holding that a bankruptcy filed to avoid posting a supersedeas bond was not filed in good faith where the debtor lacked financial problems other than the adverse judgment and did not operate a viable business).

Harris' bad-faith is also shown by a series of pre-petition transfers Harris engaged in to deplete the value of the estate, including the following:

- 1) Refinancing her home and reducing the available equity by at least $125,000;
- 2) Withdrawing $45,000 from a retirement account;
- 3) Spending $20,000 to purchase a new vehicle for her daughter;
- 4) Spending $28,000 to purchase a brand-new truck for her husband; and
- 5) Transferring $35,000 to her sister and mother.

On March 3, 2020, Holmes requested a copy of Harris' tax return, pursuant to § 521(e)(2). Harris failed to timely provide a copy of the tax return. Under § 521(e)(2), dismissal of the petition is mandatory because Harris has not demonstrated that the failure to provide the tax return was due to circumstances beyond her control.

If the Court does not dismiss the case, the Court should grant Holmes relief from the automatic stay so that the appeal of the Judgment may continue and so that Holmes may continue to enforce the Judgment. Stay relief is warranted under § 362(d)(1) because the petition was filed in bad faith. Holmes should be allowed to enforce the Judgment because it is non-dischargeable under § 523(a)(6). The District Court found there was sufficient evidence to support the jury's finding that Harris acted "with malice, oppression, or reckless disregard of [Holmes'] constitutional rights" by procuring the false arrest of Holmes.

D. Summary of Harris' Opposition to the Motion to Dismiss and Motion for Stay Relief

Harris makes the following arguments and representations in opposition to both Motions:

In support of her contention that the bankruptcy was filed in bad faith, Harris relies primarily on In re Mense, 509 B.R. 269 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2014), which is not binding authority. In addition, the facts of Mense differ from the facts here. In Mense, the debtor had nearly $20 million in assets and was faced with a judgment of less than $2.5 million. Unlike in Mense, Harris lacks the ability to post a supersedeas bond. Further, Harris sought bankruptcy protection to save the Property, which is a legitimate bankruptcy objective. Harris has the ability to confirm a plan of reorganization. Harris has over $360,000 in exempt retirement assets to commit to a Plan. Combined with her scheduled income, Harris has the ability to fund a plan regardless of the results of the appeal of the Judgment.

Harris also holds (1) potential claims for malpractice against Seki and (2) potential claims for indemnity against LASD, LA County, and her home insurer regarding the Holmes litigation. LASD paid for Harris' defense but did not warn Harris that her personal assets could be at stake and excluded Harris from meaningful participation in litigation strategy. Harris' claims for implied and equitable indemnity against LASD will likely be an important source of income to a fund a plan.

There is no merit to Holmes' argument that Harris' pre-petition transfers to family members support a finding of bad faith. Harris fully disclosed these transfers in her petition, and the funds at issue have been returned.

Harris does not oppose the lifting of the automatic stay to permit her appeal of the Judgment to proceed. However, Harris does object to Holmes' request for stay-relief to enforce the Judgment against the assets of the estate. In support of this relief, Holmes contends that the Judgment is non-dischargeable under § 523(a)(6). Holmes emphasizes the jury's finding that Harris acted with "malice, oppression, or reckless disregard" of Holmes' constitutional rights. Use of the disjunctive "or" means that the jury could have based the punitive damages award on "oppression" or "reckless disregard," rather than "malice," in which case the Judgment would be dischargeable.

E. Summary of Holmes' Reply in Support of the Motion to Dismiss and Motion for Stay Relief

Holmes makes the following arguments and representations in reply to Harris' opposition:

Harris has not demonstrated that she can confirm a viable plan of reorganization. Harris' contemplated plan involves retaining the Property while using her remaining assets to pay Holmes. Such a plan violates the absolute priority rule and cannot be confirmed over Holmes' opposition. Holmes would vote against such a plan.

Cause for dismissal exists because Harris has not filed any Monthly Operating Reports, and has failed to file any applications to employ professionals, even though this case was filed on March 12, 2020. [Note 2]

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. Evidentiary Issues

Holmes relies upon Harris' testimony at the § 341(a) meeting of creditors in support of both Motions. However, Holmes has not submitted a transcript of the § 341(a) meeting. Instead, Holmes attempts to introduce Harris' § 341(a) testimony by relying upon the "extensive, detailed notes of the questions asked and of the Debtor's sworn testimony” that were taken by Anthony R. Bisconti, Holmes’ counsel. Declaration of Anthony R. Bisconti (the “Bisconti Decl.”) at ¶ 6.

Bisconti’s recollection of Harris’ § 341(a) testimony is inadmissible as hearsay. The proper method for Holmes to introduce Harris’ § 341(a) testimony would have been to provide a transcript of the meeting. The Court declines to consider Harris’ alleged § 341(a) testimony in adjudicating either of the Motions. [Note 3]

B. The Motion to Dismiss is Granted

"Under § 1112(b)(1), a court may dismiss a Chapter 11 bankruptcy case ‘for cause,’ based on a finding that the petition was filed in bad faith." Prometheus Health Imaging, Inc. v. UST – United States Tr. (In re Prometheus Health Imaging, Inc.), 705 F. App’x 626, 627 (9th Cir. 2017) (citing In re Marshall, 721 F.3d 1032, 1047 (9th Cir. 2013)); see also Marsch v. Marsch (In re Marsch), 36 F.3d 825, 828 (9th Cir. 1994) ("Although section 1112(b) does not explicitly require that cases be filed in ‘good faith,’ courts have overwhelmingly held that a lack of good faith in filing a Chapter 11 petition establishes cause for dismissal"). "While § 1112(b)(4) provides a list of what circumstances may constitute ‘cause’ for dismissal, the list is non-exhaustive, and ‘courts may consider any factors which evidence an intent to abuse the judicial process and the purposes of the reorganization provisions,’ to make the bad faith determinations." In re Prometheus Health Imaging, Inc., 705 F. App’x at 627. The existence of good faith "does not depend on one factor alone, but . . . is to be judged by looking at the totality of the circumstances surrounding the case." In re WLB-RSK Venture, 296 B.R. 509, 514 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2003).

The Ninth Circuit has expanded on this concept as follows:

To determine whether a debtor has filed a petition in bad faith, courts weigh a variety of circumstantial factors such as whether:

- 1) the debtor has only one asset;
- 2) the debtor has an ongoing business to reorganize;
- 3) there are any unsecured creditors;
- 4) the debtor has any cash flow or sources of income to sustain a plan of reorganization or to make adequate protection payments; and
- 5) the case is essentially a two party dispute capable of prompt adjudication in state court.

In re St. Paul Self Storage Ltd. P'ship, 185 B.R. 580, 582–83 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995).

courts consider the following factors to determine if the petition was filed in good faith:

- 1) Whether the debtor is a viable business which would suffer severe disruption if enforcement of the judgment was not stayed; and the chapter 11 petition was filed to preserve its status as an ongoing concern and to protect its employees and creditors;
- 2) Whether the debtor had financial problems on the petition date, other than the adverse judgment;
- 3) Whether the debtor has relatively few unsecured creditors, other than the holder of the adverse judgment;
- 4) Whether the debtor has sufficient assets to post a bond to stay the judgment pending appeal;
- 5) Whether the debtor acted in good faith to exhaust all efforts to obtain a bond to stay the judgment pending appeal;
- 6) Whether the debtor intends to pursue an effective reorganization within a reasonable period of time, or whether the debtor is unwilling or unable to propose a meaningful plan until the conclusion of the litigation; and
- 7) Whether assets of the estate are being diminished by the combined ongoing expenses of the debtor, the chapter 11 proceedings, and prosecution of the appeal.

Applying the factors set forth in St. Paul Self Storage and Mense, the Court finds that Harris filed the petition in bad faith, in order to avoid the necessity of posting a supersedeas bond during the appeal of the Judgment. First, Harris has failed to demonstrate that she has the ability to confirm a plan. Any plan proposed by Harris would have to deal with the Judgment, which exceeds $3 million. Harris describes the provisions of the plan that she envisions in only minimal detail. Under the contemplated plan, Harris would retain the Property and make monthly payments to creditors, funded by an unspecified portion of Harris' family income and other assets. Harris' potential claims against Seki, LASD, LA County, and her home insurer would also form part of the plan.

As the holder of the Judgment, Holmes is by far the estate's largest creditor. Holmes states that she would vote against any plan that allowed Harris to retain the Property while not paying Holmes in full.

In the Ninth Circuit, individual Chapter 11 debtors are subject to the absolute priority rule. Zachary v. California Bank & Tr., 811 F.3d 1191 (9th Cir. 2016). This means that to confirm a plan over Holmes' opposition, the plan must either (1) provide for payment of the Judgment in full or (2) not permit Harris to retain the Property. Harris' objective in seeking bankruptcy protection was to save the Property, which limits Harris to proposing a plan that would provide for payment of the Judgment in full.

Even a plan funded by all of Harris' assets other than the Property would fall far short of paying the Judgment in full. The Judgment exceeds $3 million; the unencumbered assets of the Pension Plan and 401k Plan total approximately $630,000. (This calculation assumes that Harris would be willing to devote even exempt assets to funding a plan.) Payment of the entirety of Harris' retirement assets toward the Judgment would leave $2.37 million of the Judgment unsatisfied. Assuming a very favorable interest rate of 3%, a plan providing for the payment of the remaining $2.37 million over 30 years would require monthly payments of $9,992.02. According to Schedule J, Harris' monthly net income is only $3,918.11—less than half the amount required to fund a plan.

Harris asserts that a plan could also be funded by potential malpractice and indemnity claims. But Harris has provided no meaningful evidence that any claims she does possess would generate funds sufficient to make a plan confirmable. Harris' description of the claims is cursory and leaves the Court with serious doubts as to whether the claims would even be viable.

Second, Harris did not have financial problems other than the Judgment as of the Petition Date, and there are no significant creditors other than Holmes. Other than the $3 million Judgment, Harris' liabilities consist of (1) unpaid tax debt of approximately $6,000.00, (2) credit card debt of approximately $5,000.00, (3) and several months of arrearages on the Property's mortgage. The liabilities aside from the Judgment are de minimis and could easily be dealt with outside of Chapter 11. This case is a two-party dispute between Holmes and Harris that was in the process of being resolved before the Ninth Circuit prior to the filing of the petition.

Third, there is no indication that Harris acted in good faith to attempt to post a supersedeas bond prior to seeking bankruptcy protection. As an explanation for her failure to obtain a supersedeas bond, Harris states that LA County and LASD control all aspects of her appeal, and that in any event it would be futile for Harris to attempt to secure a supersedeas bond given the size of the Judgment. This explanation does not show that Harris "exhaust[ed] all efforts" to obtain a supersedeas bond, Mense, 509 B.R. at 280–81. Instead, it shows that Harris made no real effort to obtain a supersedeas bond. She did not, for example, petition the District Court to allow her to post a bond in less than the full amount of the Judgment. A Chapter 11 petition is filed in bad faith where the debtor "made no sincere attempt to post the supersedeas bond or seek further reduction” in the bond, In re Chu, 253 B.R. 92, 95 (S.D. Cal. 2000).

Fourth, there is no business to reorganize. But for the Judgment and Holmes’ attempts to enforce it, Harris would not have sought bankruptcy protection.

Where, as here, a Chapter 11 petition has been filed in bad faith, the Court must determine whether dismissal or conversion in the best interests of creditors. Shulkin Hutton, Inc. v. Treiger (In re Owens), 552 F.3d 958, 961 (9th Cir. 2009). Because Holmes is the only meaningful creditor, the Court primarily considers the interests of Holmes in making this determination. The Court finds that dismissal, rather than conversion, is in Holmes’ interest. Conversion would result in the accrual of administrative fees which would reduce Holmes’ recovery.

Dismissal is also required under § 521(e)(2)(B), as a result of Harris’ failure to timely provide a copy of her tax return to Holmes. Under § 521(e)(2)(A)(i), the debtor must provide, by not later than seven days prior to the meeting of creditors, a copy of the debtor’s tax return for the most recent tax year to any creditor that timely requests such a copy. Here, Holmes requested a copy of Harris’ tax return on March 30, 2020, well before the April 27, 2020 meeting of creditors. As of April 28, 2020—the date of the filing of the Motion to Dismiss—Harris had not provided the tax return.

Pursuant to § 521(e)(2)(B), the Court is required to dismiss the case unless Harris demonstrates that the failure to provide her tax return is due to circumstances beyond her control. Harris has made no such showing. Instead, she claims that the requirement to provide tax returns applies only in Chapter 7 and Chapter 13, not in Chapter 11.

The plain language of § 521(e)(2)(B) does not except Chapter 11 debtors-in-possession from providing tax returns to creditors making a timely request. In addition, courts construing § 521(e)(2)(B) have held that the provision applies to Chapter 11 debtors. See, e.g., In re Stewart, No. 11-04129-8-JRL, 2012 WL 3732798, at *2 (Bankr. E.D.N.C. Aug. 28, 2012). As Harris has not shown that circumstances beyond her control prevented her from supplying her tax return, the Court must also dismiss this case pursuant to § 521(e)(2)(B).

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Chapter 11 petition is DISMISSED, pursuant to § 1112(b). The Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay is DENIED AS MOOT in view of the dismissal. Within seven days of the hearing, Holmes shall submit orders incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

Note 1

Holmes also asserts that Harris testified at the § 341(a) meeting that she received approximately $125,000 from refinancing her home in October 2019. As discussed in Section II.A., below, the Court does not consider this alleged testimony because Holmes has not supplied a transcript of the § 341(a) meeting.

Note 2

Holmes also asserts that Harris' bad-faith is shown by alleged inconsistencies between testimony Harris gave at the § 341(a) meeting and information in the petition regarding certain pre-petition transfers. As discussed in Section II.A., below, the Court does not consider Harris' § 341(a) testimony because Holmes has not supplied a transcript of the § 341(a) meeting.

Note 3

The following alleged facts are not considered because they are predicated only upon Bisconti's recollection of Harris' § 341(a) testimony and are not supported by any other evidence in the record:

- 1) Harris withdrew $125,000 from the Property in a refinancing transaction conducted in October 2019.
- 2) Harris withdrew approximately $45,000 from a retirement account in October 2019.
- 3) Harris did not explore the possibility of posting a supersedeas bond.
- 4) Harris stated at the § 341(a) meeting that the only purpose for seeking bankruptcy protection was to deal with the Judgment.

- i) Stipulation Approving Certain Language to Be Included in Any Order Approving the Proposed Sale of Seton Medical Center [Doc. No. 4496]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtors move for entry of an order approving a private sale (the "Sale") of certain assets (the "Purchased Assets" or the "Seton Assets") of Debtors Seton Medical Center ("Seton"), Verity Holdings, LLC ("Holdings"), and Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") to AHMC Healthcare, Inc. ("AHMC"). Doc. No. 4360 (the "Sale Motion").

A. Background

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), VHS and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered. Doc. No. 17.

As of the Petition Date, the Debtors operated six acute care hospitals. On December 27, 2018, the Court authorized the Debtors to sell two of their hospitals—O'Connor Hospital and Saint Louise Regional Hospital—to Santa Clara County (the "Santa Clara Sale"). The Santa Clara Sale closed on February 28, 2019.

1. The Failed SGM Sale

On February 19, 2019, the Court entered an order establishing bidding procedures [Doc. No. 1572] (the "Bidding Procedures Order") for the auction of the Debtors' four remaining hospitals—St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis"), St. Vincent Medical Center (including St. Vincent Dialysis Center) ("St. Vincent"), and Seton (including Seton Medical Center Coastside ("Seton Coastside")) (collectively, the "Hospitals"). Under the Bidding Procedures Order, Strategic Global Management ("SGM") was designated as the stalking horse bidder. SGM's bid for all four of the Hospitals was $610 million. The Bidding Procedures Order approved an Asset Purchase Agreement between the Debtors and SGM (the "SGM APA").

The Hospitals were extensively marketed by the Debtors' investment banker, Cain Brothers, a division of KeyBank Capital Markets, Inc. ("Cain"). Cain notified ninety parties of the auction process. Sixteen of these parties requested continued access to a data room containing information about the Hospitals.

Notwithstanding Cain's thorough marketing efforts, the Debtors did not receive any qualified bids for all of the Hospitals. The Debtors received one bid to purchase only St. Vincent and one bid to purchase only St. Francis. After consulting with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") and the largest secured creditors, the Debtors determined not to conduct an auction. On May 2, 2019, the Court entered an order finding that SGM was the winning bidder and approving the sale to SGM (the "SGM Sale").

On November 27, 2019, the Court entered a memorandum of decision and accompanying order finding that as of November 19, 2019, all conditions precedent under the SGM APA to SGM's obligation to close the SGM Sale had been satisfied. Doc. Nos. 3723–24. The Court found that pursuant to § 1.3 of the APA, SGM was obligated to close the SGM Sale by no later than December 5, 2019. Id. SGM did not close the sale by December 5, 2019. On December 27, 2019, the Debtors sent SGM a notice terminating the APA and asserting that SGM had materially breached the SGM APA. Doc. No. 3899.

On January 3, 2020, the Debtors filed a Complaint for Breach of Contract, Promissory Fraud, and Tortious Breach of Contract (Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing) [Doc. No. 1, Adv. No. 2:20-ap-01001] (the "SGM Complaint") against SGM, KPC Healthcare Holdings, Inc., KPC Health Plan Holdings, Inc., KPC Healthcare, Inc., KPC Global Management, LLC, and Kali P. Chaudhuri, M.D. (collectively, the "Defendants"). The gravamen of the Complaint is that the Defendants induced the Debtors to enter into the SGM APA under false pretenses, never intended to perform under the SGM APA, and continuously breached the SGM APA. The Complaint asserts claims for breach of contract, promissory fraud, and tortious breach of contract based upon breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. On March 4, 2020, the District Court withdrew the reference with respect to the Complaint. Doc. No. 59, Adv. No. 2:20-ap-01001.

2. Marketing Process 2020

Subsequent to the failure of the SGM Sale, Cain commenced a new marketing process to identify parties interesting in acquiring the Seton Assets. Cain contacted parties who had previously expressed interest and posted an updated Confidential Information Memorandum in the online data room.

On January 10, 2020, two bidders submitted non-binding Indications of Interest ("IOI") to acquire the Seton Assets. One of the bidders elected not to move forward with its bid. Negotiations with the remaining bidder, AHMC, led to the Asset Purchase Agreement (the "APA").

3. Unsolicited Offers Submitted by SGM and SGM's Affiliate GMC

On February 13, 2020, SGM submitted an unsolicited Offer to Purchase (the "SGM Seton Offer"). The SGM Seton Offer (a) proposed the acquisition of the Seton Assets for $60 million cash, (b) was subject to a seven-day due diligence period, and (c) was subject to California Attorney General approval.

On February 25, 2020, SGM submitted an unsolicited Offer to Purchase (the "SGM System Offer") the assets that were the subject of the SGM APA for $450 million ($160 million less than the purchase price under the SGM APA).

On March 6, 2020, KPC Global Medical Center of San Mateo County, LLC ("GMC") submitted an unsolicited offer to purchase the Seton Assets for $50 million ($10 million less than the SGM Seton Offer). GMC is an affiliate of SGM, and was the Seton acquisition entity originally formed for the failed SGM Sale.

Prior to the filing of the Sale Motion, GMC filed with the Court a document captioned Notice of Intent to Bid on Seton Assets and Request for Opportunity to Bid [Doc. No. 4347] (the "Notice"). The Notice acknowledges that "the issue of how or when a Seton sale will be conducted is not currently before the Court." Notice at 2. The Notice requests that GMC be provided the opportunity to bid for the Seton Assets, and asserts that "opening the sale process to competitive bidding would be in the best interests of all parties in interest in the Debtors' cases as well as in the interests of the San Mateo community, the Seton employees, and healthcare practitioners." Id. GMC did not file an opposition to the Sale Motion.

4. Agreement with the State of California Regarding Treatment of COVID-19 Patients

On March 20, 2020, the Court authorized the Debtors to enter into a Services Agreement (the "Seton Agreement") with the California Department of Public Health and the State of California Governor's Office of Emergency Services (the "Office of Emergency Services"). Doc. No. 4315. Under the Seton Agreement, the Debtors receive payments in exchange for providing healthcare services to COVID-19 patients. The Seton Agreement terminates on the 181st day after entry of an order by the Bankruptcy Court approving the Agreement, unless extended by mutual consent.

The Seton Agreement "may not be assigned, absent the State's written consent via an amendment to this Agreement, which shall not be unreasonably withheld." Seton Agreement at § 1.1. "In evaluating whether assignment is reasonable, the proposed assignee shall be required to provide adequate assurance to the State of its ability to perform all ... remaining obligations under this Agreement." Id.

AHMC is aware of the Seton Agreement and intends to cooperate with the Office of Emergency Services in order to achieve an assignment of the Seton Agreement that is consistent with its terms.

The Office of Emergency Services does not object to the Sale Motion, provided that the final order approving the Sale Motion (the "Sale Order") is consistent with the Seton Agreement. The Office of Emergency Services filed a reservation of rights because it has not yet reviewed the proposed Sale Order.

5. Material Provisions of the APA

The material terms of the APA are as follows (capitalized terms have the meaning set forth in the APA):

- 1) The Purchase Price is $40 million in cash (the "Cash Consideration"), plus an amount equal to the Cure Costs incurred in connection with any Assigned Leases and/or Assigned Contracts. APA at § 1.1(a).
- 2) The deposit is 20% of the Cash Consideration ($8 million) (the "Deposit"). Id. at § 1.2.
- 3) Sellers shall submit the sale to the California Attorney General (the "Attorney General") for review pursuant to Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 et seq. Id. at § 8.5. The conditions on the transaction which the Purchaser has agreed to accept are set forth in Schedule 8.5 (the "Approved Conditions"). Id. In the event the Attorney General seeks to impose conditions not substantially consistent with the Approved Conditions (the "Additional Conditions"), Sellers shall file a motion seeking entry of an order (a "Supplemental Sale Order") finding that the Additional Conditions are an "interest in property" for purposes of § 363(f), and that the Assets can be sold free and clear of the Additional Conditions. Id. If Sellers do not obtain a Supplemental Sale Order within thirty days of the Attorney General's imposition of the Additional Conditions, Purchaser shall have the right to terminate the APA and receive the return of its Deposit. Id. If Sellers timely obtain a Supplemental Sale Order that is unstayed, the condition precedent of obtaining Attorney General approval shall be deemed satisfied. Id.
- 4) Sellers shall use commercially reasonable efforts to facilitate the renegotiation of collective bargaining agreements currently in effect. The Sellers' failure to secure modification of any collective bargaining agreement shall not be a breach of Sellers' obligations under the APA. Id. at § 4.7.
- 5) Either Sellers or Purchaser may terminate the APA if the sale has not closed on or before September 1, 2020. Id. at § 9.1(g).

The Debtors propose that the following procedures apply to the assumption and assignment of executory contracts and unexpired leases:

- 1) The Debtors will file with the Court and serve a cure notice (the "Cure Notice") upon each counterparty to an executory contract or unexpired lease which the Debtors seek to assume and assign in connection with the sale (the "Assigned Executory Contracts").
- 2) The Cure Notice will identify the amounts, if any, that the Debtors believe are owed to each counterparty to an Assigned Executory Contract in order to cure any defaults that exist under such contract (the "Cure Amounts"). The Cure Notice will also specify the deadlines for counterparties to (a) object to the sufficiency of the Cure Amounts and/or (b) object to the assumption and assignment of the Assigned Executory Contracts.

B. Summary of Papers Filed in Support of the Sale Motion by the Medical Staff of Seton, the National Union of Hospital Workers, and AHMC

1. Medical Staff of Seton

The Medical Staff of Seton (the "Medical Staff") is an association of more than 250 doctors who practice at Seton. Eight doctors who are members of the Medical Staff submitted declarations supporting the sale to AHMC and opposing any sale to SGM or its affiliates. The declaration testimony may be summarized as follows:

- 1) A prompt sale of Seton to AHMC is critical. Employees at Seton have been subjected to significant stress and uncertainty in connection with the failed SGM Sale. As a result of the hospital's uncertain future, Seton has lost multiple key physicians and has lost a quarter of its nurses. Seton and its remaining employees desperately need the stability that would result from a sale to AHMC.
- 2) The Medical Staff's Medical Executive Committee (the "MEC") has conducted due diligence of AHMC and SGM. AHMC authorized the MEC to tour its hospitals in Southern California. The MEC was impressed by the condition of AHMC's hospitals and the quality of its administrators. SGM never granted the MEC permission to tour its hospitals, even after Dr. Robert Perez, President of the Medical Staff, personally requested permission.
- 3) Based on its due diligence, the MEC came to the following conclusions:
  - a) AHMC has a long and successful history of turning around distressed hospitals such as Seton.

- b) AHMC has a broad and deep bench of capable administrators who could effectuate a transition. By contrast, SGM did not have the administrative bandwidth to successfully assume operations at Seton in December 2019.
- c) AHMC organized many of the primary care doctors at Seton into a functional Independent Practice Association and has maintained a good relationship with the doctors. In contrast, at multiple meetings with SGM's few senior transition management personnel, it became clear that SGM's representatives lacked an understanding of how to effectively organize Seton's physicians.
- d) Many of Seton's unions also represent employees at AHMC hospitals. Those unions are very supportive of an acquisition of Seton by AHMC.

2. National Union of Hospital Workers

The National Union of Hospital Workers (the "NUHW") submitted a letter in support of the sale to AHMC, which provides in relevant part:

We prefer a private sale between Verity Health System and AHMC so that caregivers and patients can finally be certain that Seton will remain open and able to provide the care our community needs....

[In connection with the failed SGM Sale], SGM agreed to hire back substantially all of the workers at Seton and Seton Coastside. As Seton was preparing for operations they gave us a list of terminations that essentially gutted core staff that would leave key hospital functions in the lab, infections control and registrar without adequate coverage, and force remaining staff to change their shifts to cover swing and night shifts....

Even though NUHW members have not met face-to-face with AHMC, the company has been much more transparent and public about their intentions. AHMC has committed to hire all of the workers. AHMC also has a track record of turning around distressed hospitals that have high levels of Medicare and Medi-Cal recipients.

NUHW Letter at 3-4 [Doc. No. 4600].

3. AHMC

Purchaser AHMC asserts that the Court should approve its purchase of the Seton Assets for the following reasons:

AHMC is the fourth largest health system in Southern California with annual AHMC's hospitals have won numerous awards, including, but not limited to, Stroke Care Excellence Award, Emergency Medicine Excellence Award, Critical Care Excellence Award, General Surgery Excellence Award, Pulmonary Care Excellence Award, Maternity Care Excellence Award, Patient Safety Excellence Award, and Cardiac Surgery Excellence Award.

AHMC has successfully turned around several distressed hospitals. In each of these instances, including San Gabriel Valley Medical Center, Anaheim Regional Medical Center, and Parkview Community Hospital Medical Center, AHMC received the approval of the California Attorney General and the required approvals from other state and federal regulators.

C. Summary of the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Response and the Debtors Reply Thereto

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") argues that the Court should permit GMC to bid for the Seton Assets, but only if GMC can meet the following five conditions to the Debtors' satisfaction:

- 1) GMC must provide a deposit in the amount of the larger of $40 million (the AHMC purchase price) or 75% of GMC's ultimate purchase price.
- 2) GMC must waive all conditions and contingencies, such that GMC would be obligated to close.
- 3) GMC must expressly waive any right to appeal any order related to the sale of the Seton Assets.
- 4) SGM and the other defendants to the SGM Complaint must agree not to use any facts related to the sale of the Seton Assets to support any defenses. For example, the fact that the estate might proceed with a potential sale to GMC could not be used as evidence that SGM acted in good faith.
- 5) SGM and the other defendants to the SGM Complaint must agree not to use any facts related to the sale of the Seton Assets to reduce the amount of damages at issue in the SGM Complaint.

The Debtors oppose an auction in which SGM or its affiliate GMC is permitted to bid for the Seton Assets. The Debtors assert that a sale to SGM or an affiliated entity would involve substantial risk regardless of SGM's commitments, because of the significant possibility that the sale would not close.

Company and the Cigna Entities and the Debtors' Replies Thereto

UnitedHealthcare Insurance Company ("UnitedHealthcare") provides healthcare insurance benefits to members insured under its group medical policies through a network of providers. UnitedHealthcare and Seton are parties to a Facility Participation Agreement with an effective date of April 1, 2007 (the "FPA"), pursuant to which Seton provides certain covered healthcare services to UnitedHealthcare's members in exchange for certain fees.

UnitedHealthcare asserts that the Debtors should be required to provide an irrevocable designation as to whether the FPA will be assumed and assigned by no later than 40 days prior to the closing of the sale. UnitedHealthcare maintains that it requires such notice in order to comply with its regulatory obligations.

Cigna Healthcare of California, Inc., Cigna Health and Life Insurance Company, Life Insurance Company of North America, Cigna Dental Health Plan of Arizona, Inc., Cigna Dental Health of California, Inc., and Cigna Dental Health of Texas, Inc. (collectively, the "Cigna Entities") are parties to various executory contracts with the Debtors (the "Cigna Contracts"). The Cigna Contracts include (a) the Cigna Provider Agreement, under which customers of the Cigna Entities received healthcare services provided by the Debtors; (b) the LINA Policies, under which the Cigna Entities provide group disability benefits for employees of the Debtors; and (c) four separate dental insurance policies (the "Cigna Dental Policies"), under which the Cigna Entities provide dental insurance to employees of the Debtors (the Cigna Dental Policies, together with the LINA Policies, the "Employee Benefits Contracts").

The Cigna Entities assert that the Debtors should be required to provide an irrevocable designation regarding the assumption and assignment of the Cigna Provider Agreement by no later than 30 days prior to the closing of the sale. The Cigna Entities further assert that the Debtors should be required to designate the proposed disposition of Employee Benefits Contracts in advance of the Sale Hearing, based on the fact that the disposition of the Employee Benefits Contracts could significantly affect benefits coverage for the Debtors' employees. Finally, the Cigna Entities contend that the Debtors should be required to provide adequate assurance of the AHMC's future performance under the Cigna Contracts by no later than two business days after entry of the Sale Order.

The Debtors have agreed to provide an irrevocable designation regarding assumption and assignment by no later than forty days prior to closing, as requested by UnitedHealthcare and the Cigna Entities. The Debtors oppose as premature the Cigna Entities' request that the Debtors be required to provide adequate assurance information within two days of entry of the Sale Order. The Debtors assert that adequate assurance issues should be adjudicated at a hearing on all assumption objections, which the Debtors have requested take place on May 20, 2020.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Sale Motion is Granted

Section 363(b) authorizes the Debtors to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. “All sales not in the ordinary course of business may be by private sale or by public auction.” Bankruptcy Rule 6004(f). As explained by one court:

Bankruptcy Rule 6004(a) requires notice be given to the debtor, trustee and all creditors, in order that they may object to the proposed sale. Unlike former Bankruptcy Rule 606(b)(2), which required that sales be by public auction unless otherwise ordered by the Court, current Bankruptcy Rule 6004(e)(1) provides that all sales not in the ordinary course of business may be private or by public auction.... Clearly, the thrust of this statutory scheme is to provide maximum flexibility to the trustee, subject to the oversight of those for whose benefit he acts, i.e., the creditors of the estate. This scheme also promotes Congress’ intent of keeping bankruptcy judges out of the administrative aspect of bankruptcy cases, since the Court no longer supervises sales as it did under the repealed Bankruptcy Act.

In re NEPSICO, Inc., 36 B.R. 25, 26 (Bankr. D. Me. 1983) (internal citations omitted).

In determining whether to approve a sale transaction, “courts consider whether the trustee exercised sound business judgment.” In re MF Glob. Inc., 535 B.R. 596, 605 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2015). “The business judgment of a trustee is entitled to great deference. A trustee generally satisfies the business judgment standard if he ‘acted on an informed basis, in good faith and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the company.’” Id. (internal citations omitted); see also In re 160 Royal Palm, LLC, 600 B.R. 119, 126 (S.D. Fla.), aff’d, 785 F. App’x 829 (11th Cir. 2019) (“A debtor’s business decision should be approved by the court unless it is shown to be so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based upon sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice.”).

The Debtors’ decision to not consider GMC’s unsolicited offer and to instead proceed by way of a private sale to AHMC was an appropriate exercise of business judgment to which the Court must defer. In reaching this decision, the Debtors considered the following:

- The Seton Assets were extensively marketed by Cain. The only parties interested in acquiring the assets were AHMC and GMC.
- GMC's affiliate, SGM, did not close the SGM Sale even after the Court entered an order finding that all conditions precedent to closing had been satisfied and that SGM was required to close. As a result, Richard G. Adcock, VHS' CEO, does not believe that GMC is "trustworthy, believable or a capable or reliable business partner." Adcock Decl. at ¶ 12. In contrast, AHMC "has shown the financial ability to close this transaction." Id. at ¶ 10.
- Peter C. Chadwick, a Managing Director at Berkeley Research Group, LLC, the Debtors' financial advisors, concluded that GMC's offer "yielded negative value given the risk that SGM, or its affiliate GMC, will not close." Chadwick Decl. at ¶ 6. The risk that GMC would not close would be especially detrimental to the estates as a result of the substantial "operating losses that would be incurred during the regulatory review and approval of the sale." Id. Finally, the all cash structure of the AHMC transaction minimizes the risk of the Debtors becoming subject to tax remediation claims for failure to defease tax exempt financing issued through the California Statewide Communities Development Authority. Id.
- Doctors who work at Seton support a private sale to AHMC and oppose a process under which GMC would have the opportunity to bid. The Medical Staff at Seton (the "Medical Staff"), an organization composed of doctors at the hospital, conducted extensive due diligence on both AHMC and SGM. Dr. Robert Perez, President of the Medical Staff, testifies that as of December 2019, the month that the SGM Sale was scheduled to close, SGM "did not have the administrative bandwidth necessary" to operate Seton. Perez Decl. at ¶ 10b. In contrast, Dr. Perez testifies that AHMC has "a broad and deep bench of capable administrators who could ... effectively administer Seton." Id.

As illustrated by the foregoing, the Debtors arrived at the decision to pursue a private sale to AHMC after carefully considering the relevant facts. The Court finds that the Debtors reached this decision in good faith and with the belief that a transaction with AHMC is in the best interest of the estates. As such, the decision to proceed by way of a private sale constitutes a valid exercise of the Debtors' business judgment which must be accorded deference. The Court approves the sale of the Seton Assets to AHMC.

At 10:10 a.m. on the day prior to the Sale Hearing, GMC filed a document captioned

Notice by KPC Global Medical Center of San Mateo County, LLC of Withdrawal of Offers to Purchase Seton Assets [Doc. No. 4622] (the "Withdrawal Notice"). The Withdrawal Notice states that GMC "withdraws its prior offers for the purchase of the Seton Medical Center Facilities." After making this statement, the Withdrawal Notice contains two pages of allegations against the Debtors, all to the effect that the Debtors have refused to engage with GMC regarding the sale of the Seton Assets.

The Court declines to consider the unsubstantiated allegations against the Debtors set forth in the Withdrawal Notice. Had GMC wished to inform the Court of the withdrawal of its prior offers, the first sentence of the Withdrawal Notice would have sufficed. The Withdrawal Notice does not seek any affirmative relief, such as denial of the Sale Motion, suggesting that the document may be a tactical filing intended to influence the litigation against SGM in the District Court. The allegations set forth in the Withdrawal Notice are not supported by declaration testimony or any other evidence, in violation of Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(i). [Note 1]

Prior to the filing of the Withdrawal Notice, the Committee argued that the Court should consider an auction involving GMC, provided that GMC could meet various conditions. Proceeding with the Committee's suggested course of action would require the Court to deny the Sale Motion and would force the Debtors to obtain approval of bidding procedures governing the auction of the Seton Assets. The resulting delay would harm the estates by prolonging the period during which the Debtors must continue funding Seton's operating losses. And as set forth above, the Debtors' determination that GMC's bid was illusory and afforded negative value for the estates was a valid exercise of business judgment which the Court lacks the ability to disturb.

Section 363(m) provides that the "reversal or modification on appeal of an authorization ... of a sale or lease of property does not affect the validity of a sale or lease under such authorization to an entity that purchased or leased such property in good faith, whether or not such entity knew of the pendency of the appeal, unless such authorization and such sale or lease were stayed pending appeal."

The purpose of § 363(m) is to discourage bidders from colluding for the purpose of driving down the sales prices at bankruptcy auctions. See Ewell v. Diebert (In re Ewell), 958 F.2d 276, 281 (9th Cir. 1992) ("Typically, lack of good faith is shown by fraud, collusion between the purchaser and other bidders or the trustee, or an attempt to take grossly unfair advantage of other bidders").

Having reviewed the declarations of Richard G. Adcock (VHS' CEO), Peter C. Chadwick (a managing director at Berkeley Research Group, LLC, the Debtors' financial advisors), and Erick Tuckman (the Senior Advisor to the Chairman of the Board of AHMC), the Court finds that AHMC is a good-faith purchaser entitled to the protections of § 363(m). The Court makes this good-faith determination based upon the following findings of fact:

- 1) AHMC has no material connections with the Debtors, except for professional connections developed during the bidding process.
- 2) AHMC is not a creditor of the Debtors.
- 3) AHMC is not an “insider” of the Debtors as that term is defined in the Bankruptcy Code.
- 4) AHMC did not collude with any party for the purpose of reducing the sale price of the Seton Assets.
- 5) All negotiations between AHMC and the Debtors were conducted at arm’s-length and in good faith.
- 6) AHMC is not a mere continuation of the Debtors and its purchase of the Seton Assets does not constitute a de factor merger.

C. Issues Resolved By Stipulation

The Court has entered orders approving the stipulated resolution of limited objections raised by various parties.

1. Limited Objection of the 2017 Notes Trustee

U.S. Bank National Association, solely in its capacity as indenture trustee (the "2017 Notes Trustee") for the Series 2017 and Series 2017B Working Capital Notes (together, the "2017 Working Capital Notes") filed a limited objection seeking adequate protection of the rights of the 2017 Notes Trustee in the Sales Proceeds of Seton Coastside. The 2017 Notes Trustee requested that, prior to any approval of the combined sale of Seton and Seton Coastside by their respective separate Debtor estates, there first be a determination as to the allocation of the Sale Proceeds between the two estates. On April 17, 2020, the Court entered an order approving a stipulation [Doc. No. 4592] (the "2017 Notes Trustee Stipulation") between the Debtors and the 2017 Notes Trustee. Doc. No. 4598. The 2017 Notes Trustee Stipulation provides that the Debtors will allocate $11.5 million of the Sale Proceeds into Holdings’ Escrow Deposit Account, provided that all of the rights of the Prepetition Secured Creditors with respect to such allocation are reserved to the extent set forth in paragraph 4 of the Final DIP Order [Doc. No. 409].

Authority

The California Statewide Communities Development Authority (the "CSCDA") holds liens against the Seton Assets on account of financing issued under the CaliforniaFirst Program (the "CSCDA Liens"). The Debtors and CSCDA have stipulated to a release of the CSCDA Liens in exchange for two payments, in the amounts of $2,381,377.21 and $3,424,861.96 (both subject to certain adjustments), to be made at the closing of the sale. Doc. No. 4583 (the "CSCDA Stipulation"). On April 20, 2020, the Court entered an order approving the CSCDA Stipulation. Doc. No. 4613.

D. Issues Reserved for Adjudication at a Later Date

1. Issues Pertaining to the Assumption and Assignment of Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases

The Court approves the procedures (the "Assumption Procedures") proposed by the Debtors with respect to the assumption and assignment of executory contracts and unexpired leases (the "Assigned Executory Contracts"). The Debtors shall file and serve the Cure Notice by no later than April 29, 2020. A hearing at which counterparties to Assigned Executory Contracts may object to the assumption and assignment of such contracts (each, an "Assumption Objection") shall take place on May 20, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. (prevailing local time). Counterparties shall have until May 6, 2020, at 5:00 p.m. (prevailing local time) to serve an Assumption Objection. The Debtors shall have until May 13, 2020, at 5:00 p.m. (prevailing local time) to reply to an Assumption Objection.

The Cigna Entities' request that the Debtors be required to provide adequate assurance information within two days of entry of the Sale Order is overruled. The Assumption Procedures sufficiently protect the Cigna Entities' rights in the event that the Debtors designate any of the Cigna Contracts for assumption and assignment.

Hooper Healthcare Consulting, LLC ("Hooper") filed a joinder to the Cigna Entities' objection to the Assumption Procedures, as well as a reservation of rights. Hooper's objection to the Assumption Procedures is overruled. The Court confirms that all of Hooper's arguments with respect to the assumption of contracts to which it is a party are preserved for adjudication at the Assumption Objection Hearing scheduled for May 20, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.

2. AT&T's Lease Rights

AT&T Corporation, AT&T Services, Inc., and certain affiliates (collectively, "AT&T") are parties to a Medical Office Lease dated May 16, 1989 (the "AT&T

Lease"). On April 17, 2020, the Court entered an order approving a stipulation [Doc. No. 4591] (the "AT&T Stipulation") between the Debtors and AT&T. Doc. No. 4597. The AT&T Stipulation provides that AT&T's rights under § 365(h), 363(e), and 363(f) are reserved, and that in the event the parties cannot resolve such matters consensually, the issues will be set for hearing on a mutually convenient date.

3. Authority of the California Attorney General to Review the Sale

On April 9, 2020, the Court approved a stipulation between the Debtors and the Attorney General [Doc. No. 4496] (the "AG Stipulation"). The AG Stipulation provides that the Sale Order shall contain the following provision reserving the parties' rights with respect to the Attorney General's authority to review the sale:

The California Attorney General, the Debtors, the Prepetition Secured Creditors, the Committee, and AHMC, reserve all rights, arguments and defenses concerning the California Attorney General's authority, if any, to review the sale under California Corporations Code §§ 5914-5924 and California Code of Regulations on Nonprofit Hospital Transactions—Title 11, Chapter 15, § 999.5, and any conditions issued thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the APA or the Sale Order, nothing in the APA or this Sale Order shall limit or be construed as a waiver of the Attorney General's statutory or regulatory authority or other rights or defenses, or a waiver of the Debtors' statutory or other rights or defenses.

Order Approving Stipulation Approving Certain Language to Be Included in Any Order Approving the Proposed Sale of Seton Medical Center [Doc. No. 4509] at ¶ 2.

4. Issues Pertaining to the Transfer of the Seton Medi-Cal and Medicare Provider Agreements

Pursuant to stipulations approved by the Court, a continued hearing on issues pertaining to the transfer of the Debtors' Medi-Cal and Medicare Provider Agreements is set for May 13, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. Doc. Nos. 4567 and 4568.

E. Form of the Sale Order

Debtors shall insure that the Office of Emergency Services is provided the opportunity to review the form of the Sale Order. Debtors and the Office of Emergency Services shall cooperate with respect to the form of the Sale Order to insure that the language therein is consistent with the Seton Agreement.

If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1

In declining to consider the allegations set forth in the Withdrawal Notice, the Court notes that "[t]he statutes governing the sale of assets of bankruptcy estates are intended to protect the creditors of such estates and not prospective purchasers." In re HST Gathering Co., 125 B.R. 466, 468 (W.D. Tex. 1991). A disappointed prospective purchaser, such as GMC, "is not within the 'zone of interests intended to be protected' under the bankruptcy statutes and regulations." Id. Applying this principle, the HST Gathering court upheld the bankruptcy court's refusal to accept a bid tendered in connection with an auction. The court held that the disappointed bidder lacked standing to appeal because he was "not a person whose interest was intended to be protected by the bankruptcy statutes or regulations." Id.; see also Kabro Assocs. v. Colony Hill Assocs. (In re Colony Hill Assocs.), 111 F.3d 269, 273 (2d Cir. 1997) ("[A]n unsuccessful bidder—whose only pecuniary loss is the speculative profit it might have made had it succeeded in purchasing property at an auction—usually lacks standing to challenge a bankruptcy court's approval of a sale transaction."); Stark v. Moran (In re Moran), 566 F.3d 676, 682 (6th Cir. 2009) ("A frustrated bidder lacks bankruptcy appellate standing when he merely alleges that he would have profited from his desired purchase, and does not allege, for instance, that fraud or impropriety prevented the estate from accepting his higher bid such that creditors would not receive as great a recovery as they would have had the estate accepted the higher bid.").

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession, David Christopher Brady (the "Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on May 24, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor's largest asset consists of real property located at 1511 Summitridge Drive, Los Angeles, CA

90210 (the "Property"). As set forth in a November 19, 2019 appraisal, the Property has a fair market value of $5,270,000. See Declaration of David Christopher Brady ("Brady Decl."), ¶ 6. The Debtor's chapter 11 filing was precipitated by construction issues arising from the Property's remodel, which led to disputes with certain contractors, subcontractors, and the Property's then-senior lienholder, Banc of California ("Banc"). The Banc's secured loan is now held by Fairview Loans IV, LLC ("Fairview"). The Debtor asserts that the Property is encumbered by the following liens, listed herein in order of priority:

1. Fairview holds a secured senior lien in the sum of $2,876,621.94;
2. Kindness General Contractors, LLC ("Kindness") holds a mechanics lien in the amount of $144,596.20 [Note 1];
3. Los Angeles County Treasurer & Tax Collector ("LACTTC") holds a claim in the amount of $40,040.63.

See Brady Decl., ¶ 5. On October 2, 2019, the Court approved the Debtor's settlement agreement with three subcontractors, pursuant to which, said subcontractors released mechanics liens against the Property [Doc. No. 54].

On March 2, 2020, the Debtor filed a post-petition financing motion implicating the above-referenced interests in the Property (the "Financing Motion"). The Debtor seeks to borrow debt totaling $2,350,000 from Marquee Funding Group, Inc. ("Marquee") pursuant to §§ 363 and 364 (the "Loan"). The Loan will be secured by a first-priority lien in favor of Marquee. The Debtor states that despite expending reasonable efforts, he was not able to obtain financing on an unsecured basis. Brady Decl., ¶ 8.

The material terms of the Loan are as follows:

Loan Amount: $2,350,000

Term: 24 months, fixed rate

- 24 monthly interest-only payments of $19,583.33
- Balloon payment of $2,369,583.33 due on 4/1/2022

Interest Rate: 10%

*All lien and property taxes must be paid in full through escrow.

See Financing Motion at 5-6. In addition to the Loan, the Debtor asserts that his father will gift him $886,661.51 for the purpose of paying off all liens asserted against the Property. In sum, the Debtor requests an order authorizing him to (1) finalize the Loan in accordance with the terms set forth in Exhibit A; (ii) use monies from the Loan and his father's monetary contribution to payoff or bond all liens against the Property in full; and (iii) replace Fairview's lien against the Property with a first-priority lien in favor of Marquee. The Debtor argues that the post-petition financing requested is in the best interests of all creditors and the estate as it will enable Debtor to fully pay-off or bond secured claims in excess of amounts owed. Moreover, given that there is sufficient equity in the Property, the Debtor asserts that all Property lienholders will be adequately protected.

On March 16, 2020, Fairview filed a response to the Financing Motion [Doc. No. 117]. Fairview clarifies that its secured loan is in default and non-performing, and but for Debtor's representations made herein, Fairview would have filed a stay relief motion. Notwithstanding, Fairview expects to receive a full payoff from Debtor, and therefore, it does not oppose the Financing Motion. The Lender, however, reserves all available rights against the Debtor.

As of this tentative ruling, there is no substantive opposition on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 364 governs the obtaining of credit or incurring of debt by a debtor in possession and sets forth the incentives that may be offered to induce potential lenders to extend post-petition credit. In re Stanton, 248 B.R. 823, 828 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000) aff'd, 285 F.3d 888 (9th Cir. 2002) opinion amended and superseded on denial of reh'g, 303 F.3d 939 (9th Cir. 2002) and aff'd, 303 F.3d 939 (9th Cir. 2002). Section 364 provides in relevant part:

- (c) If the trustee is unable to obtain unsecured credit allowable under section 503(b)(1) of this title as an administrative expense, the court, after notice and a hearing, may authorize the obtaining of credit or the incurring of debt—
  - (1) with priority over any or all administrative expenses of the kind specified in section 503(b) or 507(b) of this title;
  - (2) secured by a lien on property of the estate that is not otherwise subject to a lien; or
  - (3) secured by a junior lien on property of the estate that is subject to a lien.
- (d)(1) The court, after notice and a hearing, may authorize the obtaining of credit or the incurring of debt secured by a senior or equal lien on property of the estate that is subject to a lien only if—

- (A) the trustee is unable to obtain such credit otherwise; and
- (B) there is adequate protection of the interest of the holder of the lien on the property of the estate on which such senior or equal lien is proposed to be granted.

(2) In any hearing under this subsection, the trustee has the burden of proof on the issue of adequate protection.

Based on its review of the Financing Motion, the Debtor's declaration, and all other supporting documents, the Court determines that the Debtor has been unable to obtain financing on terms more favorable than those provided in the Loan, and thereby the Financing Motion is in the best interests of secured creditors and the estate. As stated in the Escrow Closing Statement, secured creditors will be adequately protected because loan proceeds, along with Debtor's father's gift contribution, will be sufficient to pay off or bond all secured claims and tax liens in full. See Financing Motion, Ex. A. Following payoff of property taxes and Fairview's lien through escrow, and the bonding of Kindness's disputed claim, the Debtor's secured claims will be in good standing, allowing Debtor to grant Marquee a senior lien on the Property. See id. Therefore, the Debtor has satisfied the adequate protection showing under § 364(d)

Moreover, the Court deems the failure of any interested party to file a substantive opposition as consent to granting the Financing Motion pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(h).

III. Conclusion

On March 31, 2020, the Court held a hearing on the Financing Motion. Appearances were as stated on the record. At the hearing, the Debtor, through his counsel, informed the Court that the parties were nearing a final resolution with respect to Fairview's secured claim. More specifically, the Debtor clarified that Fairview will be paid a bulk of its claim, not in full as represented in the Financing Motion. Accordingly, the Debtor requested the Court's permission to grant Fairview a second lien on the Property, which would be junior to Marquee's senior lien. Fairview, making an appearance through its counsel, confirmed that the parties were collaborating to resolve the outstanding claim. Having considered the parties' remarks, the Court finds it appropriate to CONTINUE the Financing Motion for approximately 60 days to May 20, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. The continued hearing date shall serve as a holding date, but the parties may file a stipulation disposing of any remaining issues in the interim.

~~Based on the foregoing, the Financing Motion is GRANTED. As set forth above, the Debtor is authorized to close the Loan, payoff or bond all secured claims, and grant Marquee a senior lien against the Property. To expedite the closing of the Loan, the order approving the Financing Motion shall take effect immediately upon entry, notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h).~~

The Debtor shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Note 1: The Debtor claims that although Kindness's lien is subject to dispute, $200,000 from the Loan will be allocated to pay this lien. This sum is in excess of the debt amount listed in Kindness's proof of claim.

The debtor and debtor-in-possession, Ya-Chuan Victor Lee (the "Debtor"), commenced this voluntary chapter 11 case on April 3, 2019. The Debtor possesses ownership interests in two auto repair businesses—one of these businesses is Advanced Complete Auto Works ("ACAW"). The Debtor asserts that he is a 50% shareholder of ACAW, and that the remaining 50% is owned by Wilson Cheung ("Cheung"). According to the Debtor, Cheung has failed to contact him since December 30, 2019, despite numerous efforts to discuss the future of ACAW. ACAW ceased operations on or about December 30, 2019, given the business's negative cash flow. Declaration of Ya-Chuan Lee (the "Lee Decl."), ¶ 2.

The Proposed Sale

On April 16, 2020, the Debtor filed the Sale Motion. The Sale Motion seeks authorization to sell certain auto repair equipment (the "Equipment") used in ACAW's operations, as-is, where-is, and free and clear of any liens, claims, and encumbrances pursuant to § 363(b) and (f). The Sale Motion contemplates that Linyang Zhao (the "Proposed Buyer") will purchase the Equipment for $30,000, subject to court approval and any qualified overbids received. Lee Decl., ¶ 6. The Debtor asserts that selling the Equipment is in the best interest of the estate because the sale will generate administrable assets, while enabling the Debtor to circumvent the Equipment's ongoing maintenance costs and storage fees.

Moreover, while the Debtor claims that he is unaware of any liens encumbering the Equipment, he recognizes Cheung's potential claim against sale proceeds arising from his capital contribution to ACAW. In anticipation of any equitable claims that Cheung may assert, the Debtor proposes to set aside half of any sale proceeds in trust (the "Reserved Proceeds") until he has ascertained what amount, if any, is payable to Cheung [Note 2]. As such, the Debtor argues that the Equipment may be sold free and clear of any liens under § 363(f).

In summary, the Debtor requests that the Court (a) authorize the sale of the Equipment to the Proposed Buyer free and clear of all liens, claims, and interests; (b) approve proposed sale procedures; (c) determine that the Proposed Buyer is entitled to a good-faith finding under § 363(m); (d) approve the distribution of up to 50% of net proceeds to Cheung, to satisfy any amounts owed to him on account of his equitable interest against the Equipment; and (e) authorize Debtor to hold the balance of proceeds for the benefit of the estate in Debtor's debtor-in-possession bank account.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Proposed Sale is Approved

Section 363(b) of the Bankruptcy Code permits a debtor-in-possession to sell estate property outside the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The debtor-in-possession must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20.

Here, the Debtor has articulated a sufficient business justification for the sale. The Debtor believes the proposed sale of the Equipment is made in good faith and in the estate's best interest because the sale will generate funds to contribute to Debtor's outstanding administrative costs and unsecured claims. The sale will also enable the Debtor to offload the Equipment without the added financial burden resulting from its removal and storage. The Debtor maintains that the sale price is reasonable considering that ACAW and the Equipment have been actively marketed since the start of the year. Additionally, the sale is subject to overbids, which will further ensure that the Equipment is sold for the highest and best price.

The Court also finds that the Debtor has met the conditions for a sale of the Equipment free and clear of all liens. Section 363(f) permits a sale of property "free and clear of any interest in such property of an entity other than the estate" if any one of the following conditions is met:

- (1) applicable nonbankruptcy law permits the sale of such property free and clear of such interest;
- (2) such entity consents;
- (3) such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is to be sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;
- (4) such interest is in bona fide dispute; or
- (5) such entity could be compelled, in a legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a money satisfaction of such interest.

In this case, other than possibly Cheung, who would be paid directly through the Reserved Proceeds, the Debtor does not believe that there are any liens or encumbrances on the Equipment. Therefore, the Court finds that the sale may proceed free and clear of all liens, claims, and encumbrances pursuant to § 363(f)(2) because all interested parties received notice of the Sale Motion, did not oppose the motion, and are deemed to have consented to the sale.

The Court has reviewed the Debtor's declaration and the declaration submitted on behalf of the Proposed Buyer and finds that the buyer is a good faith purchaser within the meaning of § 363(m). Accordingly, if the Proposed Buyer is the successful bidder at the auction, the Court will approve an order making a § 363(m) finding. In the event that an overbidder prevails at the sale hearing, the Court will take over-the-phone testimony from such overbidder to determine whether §363(m) protections are warranted. Qualified overbidders may also submit a declaration under penalty of perjury prior to the Sale Motion hearing that will permit the Court to make a § 363(m) finding. If a prevailing overbidder does not appear telephonically or submit a timely declaration, the Court will not make a § 363(m) finding.

Auction Procedures

In the event that any qualified overbidders make a telephonic appearance, the Court will conduct an auction in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Sale Motion. The initial overbid will be at $32,000, with subsequent overbids to be in increments of $1,000. The overbid increment is subject to adjustment by the Court to facilitate bidding. The Court will announce each bid level. To remain in the auction, bidders must participate at all bid levels. That is, parties who do not bid in a round cannot later change their minds and re-enter the auction. Parties may make a bid higher than that announced by the Court by clearly stating their bid. Any prevailing overbidder shall (a) be bound to the overbid procedures stated in the Sale Motion; and (b) become buyer under the same terms and conditions provided in bill of sale, except for the purchase price. See Sale Motion, Ex. A [Bill of Sale]. A prevailing overbidder must make adequate arrangements with the Debtor's counsel prior to or at the hearing.

Finally, the Court deems the absence of any opposition as consent to the granting of the Sale Motion pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(h).

Note 1: An inventory list of the Equipment is included in the bill of sale, which is attached as Exhibit A of the Sale Motion.

Note 2: The Debtor claims to have a 50% interest in ACAW, worth approximately $65,000. See Doc. No. 1. Although Cheung also possesses a 50% interest in ACAW, the dollar value of his interest is unclear as Debtor claims to have invested significantly more than Cheung in said business. See Lee Decl., ¶ 9. Cheung did not oppose the Sale Motion, nor has he filed any proofs of claim in this case.

#100.00 HearingRE: [27] Notice of motion and motion for relief from the automatic stay with supporting declarations REAL PROPERTY RE: 19191 Cochise Ct, Apple Valley, CA 92307 .

Tentative Ruling:

5/21/2020

Tentative Ruling:

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(2) and (d)(1) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Since a chapter 7 case does not contemplate reorganization, the sole issue before the Court when stay relief is sought under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) is whether the Debtor has equity in the property. See, e.g., Martens v. Countrywide Home Loans (In re Martens), 331 B.R. 395, 398 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2005); Ramco Indus. v. Preuss (In re Preuss), 15 B.R. 896, 897 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1981).

The subject property has a value of $ 415,000 (Exhibit 4) and is encumbered by a perfected deed of trust in favor of the Movant (Exhibit 3). The liens against the property and the expected costs of sale total $445,709.98. See Motion at 8-9. The Court finds there is no equity and there is no evidence that the trustee can administer the subject real property for the benefit of creditors. For the reasons set forth above, the Court further determines that cause exists to grant Movant relief from stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d) (1).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

All relief granted herein shall be subject to the Emergency Rules of the California Rules of Court, effective April 6, 2020.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

for the purchase of St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis") to the California Attorney General (the "Attorney General") subject to confidentiality restrictions. The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee"), UMB Bank, N.A. ("UMB"), and Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. ("Wells Fargo") support the Motion. The Attorney General opposes the Motion.

B. Facts and Procedural Background

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered. As of the Petition Date, the Debtors operated six acute care hospitals (the "Hospitals").

On February 26, 2020, the Court enter an order establishing bidding procedures (the "Bidding Procedures") governing the auction of St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis"). See Doc. No. 4165 (the "Bidding Procedures Order"). Under the Bidding Procedures, Potential Bidders [Note 1] were required to submit their Bids to certain "Bid Deadline Recipients," which included the Debtors, their prepetition secured creditors, and the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee"). Bidding Procedures at ¶ 8. The Bid Deadline Recipients then were required to determine whether any of the Bids constituted Qualified Bids. Id. at ¶ 11. An Auction of St. Francis would go forward only if more than one Qualified Bid was received. Id.

In addition to the Bid submitted by the Stalking Horse Bidder Prime Healthcare Services, Inc. ("Prime"), three entities submitted Bids. No Auction was conducted because the Bid Deadline Recipients determined that none of the Bids were Qualified Bids (the three non-qualifying bids, the "Non-Qualifying Bids"). As a result, the Non-Qualifying Bids were not disclosed to any parties other than the Bid Deadline Recipients. [Note 2]

On April 9, 2020, the Court entered an order authorizing the Debtors to sell St. Francis to Prime. See Doc. No. 4511 (the "Sale Order"). The Debtors have submitted the sale to the California Attorney General (the "Attorney General") for review pursuant to Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 et seq.

In connection with his review of the sale, the Attorney General has requested that the Debtors provide to him the Non-Qualifying Bids. On May 13, 2020, the Debtors filed the instant ex parte Motion seeking authorization to submit the Non-Qualifying Bids to the Attorney General under seal. The Debtors assert that the Non-Qualifying Bids contain confidential commercial information subject to protection, and that disclosure of the bids would harm the sales process by chilling bidding.

UMB and Wells Fargo (collectively, the "Banks") and the Committee filed briefing in support of the Motion. The Banks argue that the Bidding Procedures were negotiated very carefully to insure that only Qualified Bids would be disclosed at the Auction. They assert that disclosure of the Non-Qualifying Bids would be ill advised until after the sale has been closed and money has been paid to the Debtors' estates. The Committee contends that the Non-Qualifying Bids were not true alternatives to Prime's bid, and that accordingly nothing would be gained by public disclosure of the Non-Qualifying Bids.

On May 15, 2020, the Attorney General filed an opposition to the Motion. The Attorney General asserts that under 11 Cal. Code Regs. § 999.5(c)(3), all information submitted in connection with the review of the sale "shall be treated as a public record unless such information is a trade secret or unless the public interest in maintaining the confidentiality of that information clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure." He maintains that the Debtors have not met this standard because the Bidding Procedures do not contain an express provision stating that the Non-Qualifying Bids will remain confidential. The Attorney General further contends that true reason for the Motion is that the Debtors have entered into non-disclosure agreements with the entities that submitted the Non-Qualifying Bids and now face the possibility that the Non-Qualifying Bids may be publicly disclosed.

On May 18, 2020, the Court entered an order setting this hearing on the Motion. Doc. No. 4725 (the "Order"). The Order authorized all parties to submit additional briefing in connection with the Motion, and directed any parties submitting briefing to address the following issues:

- a) The Bidding Procedures and the APA are structured in a manner such that bids would be disclosed only if they were deemed Qualifying Bids. However, there is no express, stand-alone provision in the Bidding Procedures or APA stating that Non-Qualifying Bids would remain confidential. Did Potential Bidders submit Bids with an expectation that those Bids would remain confidential if they were not deemed Qualifying Bids? The entities that submitted the Non-Qualifying Bids shall be served with the Motion and may submit briefs declarations with respect to this issue.
- b) If the Non-Qualifying Bids were made public, what type of confidential commercial information would be disclosed? Would disclosure of this information disrupt the integrity of the auction process by chilling bidding at future auctions?
- c) Will maintaining the confidentiality of the Non-Qualifying Bids interfere with the Attorney General's ability discharge his obligations under Cal. Corp.

Code § 5914 et seq. in connection with his review of the sale?

Order at ¶ 3.

Only the Debtors and the Attorney General submitted additional briefing in response to the Order.

C. Summary of the Debtors' Additional Briefing

The additional briefing submitted by the Debtors in support of the Motion may be summarized as follows:

The Bidding Procedures Order authorizes disclosure of the Bids only to the Bid Deadline Recipients. The Debtors filed the Motion because they cannot simply ignore the explicit limitations set forth in the Bidding Procedures Order, but at the same time desire to comply with the Attorney General's request. The Bidding Procedures identify express and definite parties entitled to receive copies of the Bids under particular circumstances. The Debtors' intentional failure to comply with these provisions without leave of this Court would constitute a violation of the Bidding Procedures Order.

The Attorney General incorrectly surmises that the Motion is motivated by the Debtors' separate obligations under nondisclosure agreements. It is not. Rather, the Debtors filed the Motion because they take seriously their obligation to respect orders of the Court.

The Bidding Procedures were approved in advance of the Sale to insure that all parties clearly understood the requirements of participation and to avoid post facto disputes among bidders concerning the conduct of the Sale. The Bidding Procedures dictated the Debtors' decision-making in connection with every aspect of the Sale process. Bidders provided Bids with an expectation that those Bids would remain confidential if they were not deemed Qualified Bids. For example, on May 22, 2020, the Debtors received an e-mail from a party who had submitted an indication of interest for the purchase of St. Francis, in which the party objected to any disclosure to the Attorney General of the terms of its indication of interest.

Disclosure of the Non-Qualifying Bids would inject uncertainty into the now-final Sale process by allowing any party to re-evaluate whether the Debtors and the Consultation Parties acted appropriately in deciding not to consider the Non-Qualifying Bids. Endless questions, re-negotiations, and other issues would result from such disclosure.

The Non-Qualifying Bids contain information related to the Bidder's financing sources, acquisition structure and strategy, proposed treatment of collective bargaining agreements, purchase price, and Attorney General conditions that the Bidders were willing to accept. The Bidders were prepared to disclose the content of their Bids only if the Bids were deemed Qualifying Bids and the Bidders had an opportunity to participate in the Auction.

Since the filing of the Motion, the Attorney General has insinuated that he may treat the Debtors' application (submitted on April 16, 2020) as incomplete until the Debtors provide access to the Non-Qualifying Bids. This would delay the commencement of the Attorney General's 90-day review process and would impede the Debtors' efforts to close the Sale and confirm a plan of liquidation.

Although the Motion did not request that the Court rule on the issue, the Court should find that the Debtors' application was complete when submitted on April 16, 2020. First, 11 Cal. Code Regs. § 999.5(d)(11)(E) requires disclosure only of materials that are "available." The Non-Qualifying Bids are not "available" because disclosure of such Bids is restricted by the Bidding Procedures Order. Second, 11 Cal. Code Regs. § 999.5(d)(11)(E) requires disclosure of "[c]opies of each Proposal received by the applicant from any potential transferee suggesting the terms of a potential transfer of applicant's health facilities." The Non-Qualifying Bidders are not "potential transferees" within the meaning of 11 Cal. Code Regs. § 999.5(d)(11)(E) because the Bidding Procedures Order precluded the Debtors from considering a Non-Qualifying Bid.

D. Summary of the Attorney General's Additional Briefing

The additional briefing submitted by the Attorney General in opposition to the Motion may be summarized as follows:

Potential Bidders did not submit Bids with an expectations that those Bids would remain confidential if they were not deemed Qualifying Bids. Every party involved knew or should have known that Attorney General review of the Sale would be required, and that all bids would have to be disclosed to the Attorney General and made public in connection with such review. In addition, Potential Bidders would not expect or want their bids to remain confidential. Potential Bidders presumably wanted to submit a winning bid, which at a minimum would mean that the Bid had to be selected as a Qualifying Bid.

Nothing in the APA or Bidding Procedures states that a Bid is to be kept confidential if not deemed a Qualifying Bid. Section 6.3 of the APA provides that the "Sellers shall immediately upon determination that a bid is a Qualified Bid, simultaneously provide to all Qualified Bidders copies of all other Qualified Bids." This imposes an affirmative duty to disclose all Qualifying Bids to all Qualified Bidders, but does not support the conclusion that a Non-Qualifying Bid is to be kept confidential. It would be improper to draw an inference of confidentiality from this provision when such an inference would contradict the express requirements of California law that all bids are presumptively part of the public record.

Most important, the Sale Order preserves the Attorney General's review procedures: "Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the APA or the Sale Order, nothing in the APA or this Sale Order shall limit or be construed as a waiver of the Attorney General's statutory or regulatory authority or other rights or defenses." Sale Order at ¶ 38.

Maintaining the confidentiality of the Non-Qualifying Bids will interfere with the Attorney General's ability to discharge his obligations under Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 et seq. in connection with his review of the Sale. Title 11 Cal. Code Regs. § 999.5(c) requires that all bids be made public unless the bid "is a trade secret or unless the public interest in maintaining the confidentiality of that information clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure."

The briefing submitted by the Committee and the Banks suggest that these parties' primary concern is that disclosure of the Non-Qualifying Bids would cause Prime to suffer "buyer's remorse" and would interfere with the closing of the Sale. This implies that no harm would come from disclosure of the Non-Qualifying Bids after the Sale to Prime has closed. However, the Motion requests that the Non-Qualifying Bids be kept confidential in perpetuity. Clarification as to this issue would be helpful. In determining whether confidentiality is warranted under 11 Cal. Code Regs. § 999.5(c), the Attorney General could decide that the Non-Qualifying Bids must remain confidential until the Sale has closed, but can be made public thereafter as the relative "public interests" change.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Motion is Granted

Neither the Bidding Procedures Order or the APA contain an express, stand-alone provision stating that Non-Qualifying Bids would not be publicly disclosed. However, the Bidding Procedures Order is structured in a manner such that a Bid would be disclosed to parties other than the Bid Deadline Recipients only if the Bid was deemed a Qualifying Bid that triggered the obligation to conduct an Auction.

The Court finds that Potential Bidders were entitled to presume that their Bids would remain confidential unless they were deemed Qualifying Bids. Entities participating in an Auction of this size are sophisticated parties who would have carefully considered all the provisions of the Bidding Procedures Order. In weighing the pros and cons of submitting a Potential Bid, it would have been reasonable for the Potential Bidders to have concluded that, consistent with the structure of the Bidding Procedures Order, their Bid would become public record only if the Bid was deemed a Qualifying Bid that granted the Potential Bidder a seat at the Auction. In other words, Potential Bidders were willing to see their Bids publicly disclosed, but only in exchange for being allowed to participate in the Auction. The Court declines to disrupt this reasonable expectation of confidentiality by construing the Bidding Procedures Order as permitting the Debtors to make public the Non-Qualifying Bids.

The absence of an express, stand-alone provisions providing for the confidentiality of Non-Qualifying Bids does not alter this finding. "Under the maxim of expressio unius est exclusio alterius, there is a presumption 'that when a statute designates certain persons, things, or manners of operation, all omissions should be understood as exclusions.'" Copeland v. Ryan, 852 F.3d 900, 907 (9th Cir. 2017) (internal citation omitted). Applying this principle to the Bidding Procedures Order, the Court finds that the inclusion of the Bid Deadline Recipients as the only recipients of the Non-Qualifying Bids means that no other parties were entitled to receive the Non-Qualifying Bids.

The Attorney General asserts that Potential Bidders could not reasonably have expected that their Non-Qualifying Bids would remain confidential. He points to provisions of California law requiring public disclosure of all bids to acquire healthcare assets absent the requisite showing under 11 Cal. Code Regs. § 999.5(c). The Attorney General maintains that Potential Bidders should have been aware of the relevant regulations and therefore should have known that even Non-Qualifying Bids would be subject to public disclosure.

There are two problems with the Attorney General's argument. First, a careful reading of the relevant California regulations does not support the conclusion that the Non-Qualifying Bids are presumptively public record. Title 11 Cal. Code Regs. § 999.5(d)(11)(E) requires the Debtors to provide the following information to the Attorney General:

Copies of each Proposal received by the applicant from any potential transferee suggesting the terms of a potential transfer of applicant's health facilities or facilities that provide similar health care, and any analysis of each such Proposal.

A "potential transferee" is defined as "any corporation or entity from which an applicant has engaged in discussions, or from which an applicant has received a written proposal, concerning a possible agreement or transaction for which written notice is required by section 999.5(a)(1) of these regulations if such discussions or written proposal occurred within the twelve (12) months preceding the decision to transfer assets or control to a transferee.” 11 Cal. Code Regs. § 999.5(b)(5).

The Potential Bidders who submitted Non-Qualifying Bids are not “potential transferees” within the meaning of the regulations, because the Non-Qualifying Bids did not relate to “a possible agreement or transaction” to acquire St. Francis. Under the plain language of the Bidding Procedures Order, only Qualified Bids could be considered at the Auction. Given that the Bidding Procedures contemplated that Prime, the Stalking Horse Bidder, would be deemed the Winning Bidder if no other Qualifying Bids were submitted, it would not have been possible for discussions or negotiations pertaining to a Non-Qualifying Bid to have resulted in an “agreement or transaction” for the purchase of St. Francis. Only Qualifying Bids constitute a “Proposal received by the applicant ... suggesting the terms of a potential transfer of applicant’s health facilities” within the meaning of the regulations.

Second, the Debtors are required to provide information to the Attorney General only to the extent that it is “available.” 11 Cal. Code Regs. § 999.5(d)(11)(E). The regulations do not define “available.” An undefined term is construed “in accordance with its ordinary or natural meaning.” F.D.I.C. v. Meyer, 510 U.S. 471, 476, 114 S. Ct. 996, 1001, 127 L. Ed. 2d 308 (1994). According to the online dictionary published by Merriam-Webster, “available” means “accessible” or “obtainable.” See <<https://www.merriam-webster.com/dictionary/available>> (visited May 25, 2020). Under the Bidding Procedures Order, only Bids that are deemed Qualifying Bids are subject to public disclosure. The Non-Qualifying Bids are not “available” to the Debtors for transmission to the Attorney General, where such transmission could result in the public disclosure of those bids in contravention of the Bidding Procedures Order.

Because the Bidding Procedures Order does not contemplate that the Non-Qualifying Bids will become public, the Debtors are authorized to submit the Non-Qualifying Bids to the Attorney General subject to confidentiality restrictions.

B. By No Later than June 10, 2020, the Attorney General Shall Submit a Brief in Response to the Debtors’ Request for a Determination of the Date Upon Which the Attorney General’s Review Period Commenced Under 11 Cal. Code Regs. § 999.5(e)(1)(A)

Title 11 Cal. Code Regs. § 999.5(e)(1)(A) provides that the Debtors’ application for approval of the Sale of St. Francis “shall be deemed received on the date when all of the information required by section 999.5(d) of these regulations has been submitted to the Attorney General.” The Debtors request that the Court find that the application was received as of April 16, 2020. I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Esperanza Castro (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition on December 19, 2019. On May 4, 2020, the Debtor received a chapter 7 discharge; however, the case remains open as of the time this tentative ruling was prepared. [Doc. No. 21].

Mere days before the Debtor's discharge, on May 1, 2020, creditor U.S. Bank N.A., as trustee, on behalf of the holders of the J.P. Morgan Mortgage Acquisition Corp. 2006-WMC1 Asset Backed Pass-Through Certificates, Series 2006-WMC1 ("Movant") filed a motion for relief from the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C § 362(d)(1) with respect to real property located at 9525 Pioneer Boulevard, Santa Fe Springs, California 90670 (the "Property") [Doc. No. 19] (the "Motion"). The evidence attached in support of the Motion indicates that the Movant has an equity cushion on its claim totaling approximately 18% of the Property's fair market value.

On May 18, 2020, the Debtor filed a timely Opposition [Doc. No. 23] contending that the Motion is moot in light of the Debtor's subsequent discharge. [Note 1]

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no reply is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Requested Stay-Relief is Denied as Moot with respect to the Debtor

The filing of a bankruptcy case imposes an automatic stay on virtually all creditor debt collection activities. See § 362(a). However, the automatic stay does not last indefinitely. In a chapter 7 case for an individual, the automatic stay terminates when a discharge is granted or denied. See § 362(c)(2)(C); In re Lakhany, 538 B.R. 555, 561 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2015) ("[T]he existence of a discharge means that there is no automatic stay from which relief may be granted to permit an action against the debtor.").

In this case, the discharge was granted on May 4, 2020. Upon the granting of the discharge, the automatic stay was replaced by the discharge injunction provided by § 524(a). Accordingly, the Movant's request to lift or modify the automatic stay with respect to Debtor's interest in the Property is moot because the stay ceased to exist at the time Debtor received her discharge. See In re Rodriguez, No. 2:18-BK-14694-MKN, 2020 WL 710563, at *3 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. Feb. 7, 2020) ("insofar as the automatic stay bars actions against the debtor, the stay automatically expires upon the grant of a discharge.") (internal citations omitted). Although Movant's requested stay relief is unnecessary given Debtor's discharge, the Court is prepared to enter an order confirming that there is no stay in effect.

The Motion is Granted as to the Estate's Interest in the Property

the filing of the case"—is abandoned to the debtor and deemed administered upon the closing of the case. See In re Menk, 241 B.R. 896, 911 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1999). "The formal consequences of closing the case relate primarily to the status of property and to the ability to recover property for the estate." Id. Accordingly, a chapter 7 trustee retains the ability to revoke discharge, as well as avoiding and recovery powers until the case is formally closed. See id. Because this case has not been formally closed, the estate still possesses an interest in the Property, notwithstanding Debtor's discharge.

Based on Movant's request to enforce its rights against the Property, the Court construes the Motion as seeking relief from the automatic stay not only as to the Debtor, but also as to the estate's interest in the Property. Here, the Property has a value of $551,000 and is encumbered by a perfected deed of trust or mortgage in favor of the Movant. Considering Movant's lien and the estimated costs of sale, there is an equity cushion of $60,074.54. Movant is protected by approximately an 11% equity cushion in the Property. The Ninth Circuit has established that an equity cushion of 20% constitutes adequate protection for a secured creditor. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral). Because the equity cushion in this case is less than 20%, the Court concludes that Movant's interest in the collateral is not adequately protected. This is cause to terminate the stay under § 362(d)(1). Moreover, the chapter 7 trustee was timely served with moving papers and did not assert an objection against the Motion. Hence, the Court deems the absence of his opposition as consent to the granting of the Motion pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(h).

The Court also finds it appropriate to waive the 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3). This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief requested is denied.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED IN-PART with respect to the estate's interest in the Property, and DENIED IN-PART, with respect to the Debtor. However, the Court is prepared to enter an order confirming that no stay is in effect as to the Debtor.

Note 1: The Debtor failed to lodge the Opposition as a flattened or locked .pdf file, and she did not re-file the document as instructed by the clerk of the court. However, based on the notice of electronic filing, the Court notes that the Movant apparently received service of the Motion and had an opportunity to submit a timely reply. Therefore, the Debtor's failure to re-submit an appropriately formatted document was not prejudicial to the Movant. In light of the foregoing, and for the purposes of this tentative ruling, the Court will overlook the Opposition's formatting issues.

proceed with the following two non-bankruptcy actions: (1) EmCyte Corp. v. Apex Biologix, LLC, et al., Case No. 2:19-cv-00769 (the "Infringement Action"), pending in the United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida (the "U.S. District Court"); and (2) EmCyte Corp. v. XLMedica, Inc., et al., Case No. 19-CA-5819 (the "State Court Action") (together with the Infringement Action, the "Non-Bankruptcy Actions"), pending in the 20th Judicial Circuit Court for Lee County, Florida (the "State Court").

Background on the Non-Bankruptcy Actions

The following is an overview of events surrounding the filing of the Non-Bankruptcy Actions as set forth in the moving papers.

On October 23, 2019, the Movant filed the Infringement Action against Stahl, the Debtor, and Apex Biologix, LLC ("Apex"), alleging, inter alia, that said parties organized an "unfair competition ring" against Movant by targeting and deceiving Movant's consumer base. See Memorandum of Points and Authorities ("MPA"), ¶ 11. According to the supporting pleadings, Stahl was an employee of Movant and Apex was formerly Movant's distributor, and both parties were terminated for cause in 2018. Id., ¶¶ 8-9. More specifically, Movant alleges that the Debtor, under the control of Stahl and acting as Apex's distributor, marketed and sold products with commercial marks that were materially identical to those in Movant's products. See Motion, Ex. A (the Infringement Action Complaint). Movant further claims that Debtor, Stahl, and Apex violated state and federal trademark infringement and unfair competition statutes. The Infringement Action was stayed as to the Debtor and Stahl, but not as to Apex, after the outset of the instant case. See Motion, Ex. B.

On September 10, 2019, Movant filed the State Court Action against Stahl, the Debtor, and Lifeform Healing Research, LLC ("Lifeform") (collectively with the Infringement Action co-defendants, the "Co-Defendants") asserting claims, inter alia, for fraudulent inducement, breach of contract, usurpation of corporate opportunities, and misappropriation of trade secrets [Note 2]. MPA, ¶ 16. Much like the Infringement Action, the State Court Action advances that Stahl actively participated in a scheme to undermine Movant's business by selling products containing features that resembled Movant's products. See Motion, Ex. D (State Court Action Complaint). The Movant did not specify whether either of the Non-Bankruptcy Actions had a fixed trial date.

The Movant makes the following arguments in support of relief from stay:

- The claims arise under non-bankruptcy law and can be most expeditiously resolved in the non-bankruptcy forums;
- It is not consistent with judicial economy for Movant to litigate its claims against the Co-Defendants in four different actions: this chapter 11 case, the Stahl Chapter 13 Case; the Infringement Action, and the State Court Action;
- Movant seeks recovery mainly from third parties and asserts that the stay will remain in effect as to the enforcement of any resulting judgment against the Debtor or the estate; and
- The Debtor filed this bankruptcy case in bad faith to delay or interfere with the prosecution of the Non-Bankruptcy Actions.

In support of its request for extraordinary relief, the Movant argues that bad faith is evident based on the timing of the filing of the Debtor's and Stahl's bankruptcy petitions. The arguments and representations set forth in the Motion are supported by the declaration of Kenneth G.M. Mather, Movant's attorney of record in the Infringement Action.

The Opposition

On May 20, 2020, the Debtor filed an untimely limited opposition to the Motion (the "Opposition"). The Debtor does not assert any substantive objections against the Motion, but instead seeks a continuance on the underlying motion hearing to July 6, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. The Debtor states that it recently retained the services of litigation counsel for the Non-Bankruptcy Actions, following a protracted search complicated by the ensuing COVID-19 crisis. Accordingly, the Debtor requires additional time to permit incoming counsel to review the Non-Bankruptcy Actions, and advise Debtor's bankruptcy counsel on whether a substantive opposition to the Motion is required. The Opposition asserts that Movant rejected Debtor's request to continue the hearing date, which was a contributing factor in the untimely filing of the Opposition.

The Reply

On May 26, 2020, the Movant filed a reply in response to the Debtor's limited opposition (the "Reply"). In addition to reiterating arguments initially presented in the Motion, the Reply asserts that Debtor's continuance request is yet another delay tactic intended to forestall prosecution of the Non-Bankruptcy Actions. For instance, the Movant recalls that after giving Debtor and Stahl an opportunity to file an answer in the State Court Action, following their defaults, said parties responded by filing the instant bankruptcy and the Stahl Chapter 13 Case. Moreover, Movant questions Debtor's purported need for additional time because it is unlikely that incoming litigation counsel would be in a position to advise bankruptcy counsel on the decision to substantively oppose the Motion. See Reply, ¶ 7. Instead, Movant claims that time is of the essence to prevent the risk of conflicting findings with regard to legal issues shared between Debtor, Stahl, and Apex. Accordingly, U.S. District Court authorized Movant to continue prosecuting its case against Apex. See Reply, Ex. A. In sum, the Movant requests that the Court grant the Motion and reject the Debtor's illusory continuance request.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

The Debtor's Continuance Request is Denied

Within thirty days of a request for stay relief, the automatic stay terminates by operation of law with respect to the party making the request, unless the Court orders a continuation of the stay upon a finding that that "there is a reasonable likelihood that the party opposing relief" from the automatic stay will prevail. § 362(e)(1).

In support of its continuance request, the Debtor states that additional time is required to permit incoming litigation counsel to become familiar with the Debtor's case and to advise bankruptcy counsel on whether or not to oppose this Motion. The Debtor claims that bankruptcy counsel needs more time to consult with incoming counsel, but it does not furnish any concrete facts or legal arguments against stay-relief. The basis for the continuance request essentially amounts to speculation, given that the Debtor cannot plainly state if it even intends to oppose the Motion. It further strains credulity for Debtor to suggest that the incoming litigation counsel, who is not acquainted with the Non-Bankruptcy Actions, is well situated in advising bankruptcy counsel on filing an opposition to this stay relief motion. If litigation counsel possesses some specialized expertise that bankruptcy counsel lacks, the Debtor has neglected to explain as much to the Court. While it is understandable that Debtor's litigation counsel requires time to become familiar with the case, such request is more adequately presented in the Non-Bankruptcy Actions. There, the Debtor may request a trial continuance or an extension of important deadlines.

Pursuant to § 362(e)(1), the automatic stay will terminate by operation of law thirty days after the Movant's request for stay relief, unless the Court finds that there is a reasonable likelihood that the Debtor will prevail in its opposition to the Motion. The Debtor has failed to establish a reasonable likelihood that it will defeat stay relief. The Debtor speculates that a continuance might provide an opportunity to oppose stay-relief, but Debtor offers no facts whatsoever in support of this speculation. Given that the Movant filed this Motion approximately a month ago, the Debtor has had sufficient time to oppose stay relief. Because there is no basis for the Court to order continuation of the stay, denial of the continuance request is appropriate. [Note 3]

Relief from Stay

As a preliminary matter, a motion for relief from the automatic stay is a summary proceeding that does not involve an adjudication of the merits of the underlying claims. As recognized by the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel in In re Luz Int'l, Ltd.:

Given the limited grounds for obtaining a motion for relief from stay, read in conjunction with the expedited schedule for a hearing on the motion, most courts hold that motion for relief from stay hearings should not involve an adjudication of the merits of claims, defenses, or counterclaims, but simply determine whether the creditor has a colorable claim to the property of the estate. See In re Johnson, 756 F.2d 738, 740 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 474 U.S. 828, 106 S.Ct. 88, 88 L.Ed.2d 72 (1985) ("Hearings on relief from the automatic stay are thus handled in a summary fashion. The validity of the claim or contract underlying the claim is not litigated during the hearing.").

219 B.R. 837, 842 (9th Cir. BAP 1998) (citation omitted). In a summary proceeding, the court's discretion is broad. In re Santa Clara Cty. Fair Ass'n, Inc., 180 B.R. 564, 566 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995).

Section 362(d)(1) provides that "[o]n request of a party in interest and after notice and a hearing, the court shall grant relief from the stay . . . (1) for cause . . . ." 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). "What constitutes 'cause' for granting relief from the automatic stay is decided on a case-by-case basis." Kronemyer v. Am. Contractors Indem. Co. (In re Kronemyer), 405 B.R. 915, 921 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2009); Christensen v. Tucson Estates, Inc. (In re Tucson Estates, Inc.), 912 F.2d 1162, 1166 (9th Cir. 1990). "To obtain relief from the automatic stay, the party seeking relief must first establish a prima facie case that 'cause' exists for relief under § 362(d)(1)." Truebro, Inc. v. Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc. (In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc.), 311 B.R. 551, 557 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2004). "Once a prima facie case has been established, the burden shifts to the debtor to show that relief from the stay is unwarranted." Id.

In the Ninth Circuit, courts consider 12 non-exclusive factors to determine whether "cause" exists to grant relief to allow an entity to continue pending litigation against a debtor in non-bankruptcy forum:

1. Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues;
2. The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case;
3. Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary;
4. Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases;
5. Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation;
6. Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question;
7. Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties;
8. Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c);
9. Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f);
10. The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties;
11. Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial, and
12. The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt[.]"

Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 559. Not all the factors are relevant in every case, and the Court is not required to give equal weight to each factor. Id. at 560.

The Court finds that the Movant has established a prima facie case that "cause" exists to grant it relief from stay under § 362(d)(1). First and foremost, granting stay relief will promote the interests of judicial economy, while minimizing the risk of piecemeal or redundant litigation as the Movant intends to prosecute its claims against the Co-Defendants in the Non-Bankruptcy Actions. Second, while neither the State Court nor the U.S. District Court are specialized tribunals established specifically to hear Movant's claims, both courts are more intimately familiar with the applicable federal and Florida law to more expeditiously move the Non-Bankruptcy cases to final judgment. Furthermore, having presided over the Non-Bankruptcy cases since fall 2019, both tribunals are more familiar with the parties' disputes. Third, allowing the Movant to litigate the State Court Action will best promote the judicial economy by adjudicating a final judgment as to the underlying claims that may either support or negate the filing of a proof of claim, and/or an adversary complaint.

As discussed above, nothing in the Debtor's Opposition substantively addresses the stay relief requested herein. Therefore, the Court deems the absence of any substantive opposition as consent to the Court's authority to enter an order granting the Motion. Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 9013-1(f)(3) ("The failure of the responding party to raise its objection or challenge in a Response will be deemed consent to the bankruptcy court's authority to enter a final order on the underlying motion.").

Finally, the Court has reviewed the commencement documents, the docket, and the representations made by Movant in the Motion and in the attached exhibits to assess whether this case was filed in bad faith. On the present record, the Court is unable to reach a finding that the Debtor filed this case in bad faith. Although the Court notes that the Debtor and Stahl filed bankruptcy cases just prior to the deadline to file an answer in the State Court Action, these facts do not persuade the Court that Debtor engaged in bad faith. Cf. Matter of Littlecreek Development Co., 779 F.2d 1068, 1073 (5th Cir.1986) ("filing a bankruptcy petition on the eve of a scheduled foreclosure sale is not, by itself, sufficient to constitute bad faith") (internal citations omitted). There are countervailing factors here indicating that this bankruptcy case is legitimate. For instance, the Debtor filed motions to employ bankruptcy counsel and set a claims bar date within thirty days of the Petition Date. See Doc. Nos. 7, 8. The Debtor has also shown diligence with respect to its duty to file monthly operating reports. See Doc. Nos. 10, 20, and 23. Having considered the Debtor's bankruptcy case in its totality, the Court cannot conclude that this petition was filed in bad faith.

Based on the foregoing, the Court GRANTS the Motion pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit the Movant to proceed under applicable non-bankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the non-bankruptcy forums, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtor or estate property. The Debtor's Opposition is overruled. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim or any other claim against the Debtor or property of the estate, except that the Movant will retain the right to file a proof of claim, and/or an adversary complaint (to the extent applicable). This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code.

The Court also finds it appropriate to waive the 14-day stay prescribed by Federal Rule 4001(a)(3). All other relief is denied.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED. The Debtor's request to continue the hearing on the Motion to July 6, 2020 is DENIED.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On September 20, 2019, Maria Linsangan ("Plaintiff") filed a dischargeability action against Marlon Salamat and Daisy Salamat (the "Defendants"). Plaintiff alleges that she made a business loan to Defendants in the amount of $100,000; that Defendants never intended to use the loaned proceeds for business purposes and instead converted the money for personal use; and that the indebtedness arising in connection with the loan is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6). Defendants move (1) to compel Plaintiff to respond to discovery requests and (2) seek attorneys' fees and costs in the amount of $4,148.75 and sanctions in the amount of $2,500.00 against Plaintiff and Plaintiff's counsel, jointly and severally. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

Summary of the Motion

The Motion may be summarized as follows:

Plaintiff has not produced a single document since filing the Complaint on September 20, 2019. On December 19, 2019, Defendants served a Request for Production of Documents (the "RFP") and Interrogatories upon Plaintiff. Plaintiff failed to respond. Defendants' counsel sent Plaintiff's counsel a meet-and-confer e-mail and the required discovery stipulation, and also attempted to reach counsel by telephone. Plaintiff's counsel did not respond to any of these attempts at communication. When Plaintiff's counsel ultimately responded, he stated that he had been having trouble communicating with his client.

Plaintiff should be compelled to respond to the discovery by no later than June 23, 2020. In addition, Plaintiff and Plaintiff's counsel should be held jointly and severally liable for $4,148.75 in attorneys' fees and $2,500.00 in sanctions.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. Defendants' Motion to Compel is Granted

Civil Rule 37(a)(1) provides: "On notice to other parties and all affected persons, a party may move for an order compelling disclosure or discovery. The motion must include a certification that the movant has in good faith conferred or attempted to confer with the person or party failing to make disclosure or discovery in an effort to obtain it without court action." Production of documents may be compelled if "a party fails to produce documents or fails to respond that inspection will be permitted—or fails to permit inspection—as requested under Rule 34." Civil Rule 37(a)(3)(B)(iv). For purposes of Civil Rule 37, "an evasive or incomplete disclosure, answer, or response must be treated as a failure to disclose, answer, or respond."

"Parties are permitted to discover any relevant nonprivileged matter. Fed.R.Civ.P. 26(b)(1). This rule is construed very broadly, encompassing 'any matter that bears on, or that reasonably could lead to other matter that could bear on, any issue that is or may be in the case.' Discovery is not limited to the issues raised only in the pleadings, but rather it is designed to define and clarify the issues." Miller v. Pancucci, 141 F.R.D. 292, 296 (C.D. Cal. 1992). "The party opposing discovery bears the burden of resisting disclosure." Rogers v. Giurbino, 288 F.R.D. 469, 478-79 (S.D. Cal. 2012).

Plaintiff has failed to respond to discovery to which the Defendants are entitled. Defendants attempted in good faith to meet and confer with Plaintiff prior to filing the Motion, as required by Civil Rule 37. Plaintiff is ordered to respond to the RFPs and the Interrogatories by no later than June 23, 2020.

B. The Court Awards Sanctions to Defendant

Civil Rule 37(a)(5)(A) provides that where a motion to compel discovery is granted, the "court must, after giving an opportunity to be heard, require the party or deponent whose conduct necessitated the motion, the party or attorney advising that conduct, or both to pay the movant's reasonable expenses incurred in making the motion, including attorney's fees." However, if any of the following three circumstances apply, the Court must not order the payment of expenses:

- i. The movant filed the motion before attempting in good faith to obtain the disclosure or discovery without court action;
- ii. The opposing party's nondisclosure, response, or objection was substantially justified; or
- iii. Other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

Civil Rule 37(a)(5)(A)(i)–(iii).

Here, Defendants attempted to meet and confer prior to filing the Motion. Plaintiff's failure to respond to discovery was not substantially justified, and there are no circumstances which make an award of expenses unjust. Plaintiff and Plaintiff's counsel shall be held jointly and severally liable for the reasonable attorneys' fees incurred by Defendants in filing the Motion. Having reviewed the Motion, the Court finds Defendants are entitled to attorneys' fees in the amount of $1,500.00 as compensation for the costs of compelling Plaintiff's discovery responses.

C. By Separate Order, the Court Will Require Plaintiff to Show Cause Why this Action Should Not be Dismissed for Failure to Prosecute failed to respond to the Motion, leaving in doubt whether Plaintiff intends to prosecute this action. By separate order, the Court will require Plaintiff to appear and show cause why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. By separate order, the Court will require Plaintiff to appear and show cause why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute. Within seven days of the hearing, Defendants shall submit an order granting the Motion that incorporates this tentative ruling by reference. The Court will prepare and enter the order require Plaintiff to show cause why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Before the Court is a motion to dismiss the bankruptcy case of Christopher Paul Rabalais (the "Debtor"), filed by creditor Seth Leon ("Leon") pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 707(a) and (b). The Debtor objects to the request for dismissal by way of a timely filed objection (the "Opposition").

The Debtor filed a voluntary petition under chapter 7 on February 28, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). The instant case is the third bankruptcy petition filed by the Debtor since 2011 [Doc. No. 30]. The Debtor's most significant debt arises from Leon's 2010 state court judgment (the "Judgment"), which now stands at approximately $748,188.16 per the commencement documents. See Doc. No. 22. Under the belief that the Debtor possessed property in Humble, Texas, Leon filed an abstract of judgment in the Southern District of Texas on August 27, 2013. Subsequently, in October 2019, Leon filed an application for renewal of judgment in Los Angeles Superior Court, which the Debtor opposed. A hearing on this issue is currently scheduled for October 14, 2020. Apart from the Judgment, the Debtor's commencement documents list a partially-secured claim for $28,785 and unsecured claims collectively estimated at $64,724.32.

A. Background

The following summary of the parties' underlying disputes is based on the record before the Court, which includes the documents received in evidence, and the memoranda and briefs filed by the parties. This overview is also based on the Fifth Circuit's opinion in In re Rabalais (Rabalais v. Leon), 496 Fed. Appx. 498 (5th Cir. 2012), which the Court judicially notices on its own motion. [Note 1].

The Debtor's Online Business and the California Action

The Debtor was the founder, president, and CEO of AllSportsMarket ("ASM"), which he managed through the late 2000's. In re Rabalais, 496 Fed. Appx. at 499. ASM was a "sports financial exchange," described as an online investment platform that allowed investors to purchase and sell shares, for which values depended on the performance of sports teams and individual athletes. Id.; Opposition at 23 (page citations are to the pagination provided at the top of each document). Leon was one of these investors, and his initial $31,000 investment appreciated to an excess of $400,000 through a series of successful trades. In re Rabalais, 496 Fed. Leon sued the Debtor in a California state court (the "State Court") on January 8, 2008, alleging fraud, deceit, false advertising, and other causes of action (the "California Action"). See RJN, Ex. A (original complaint). After months of heavily-contested motion practice, the State Court held a two-day trial on October 27, 2009 and November 12, 2009. See RJN, Ex. Chapter 7

On January 3, 2011, the Debtor filed a voluntary chapter 7 case in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas (the "Texas Bankruptcy Court"). See In re Rabalais, 4:11-bk-30088, Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2011. On April 8, 2011, Leon commenced an adversary proceeding against the Debtor seeking to determine the dischargeability of the Judgment under 11 U.S.C. § 523. Premised on the findings made by the State Court, the Texas Bankruptcy Court considered and granted a motion for summary judgment filed by Leon on February 13, 2012. See Motion at 12. The Texas Bankruptcy Court found that the Judgment was non-dischargeable under § 523(a)(2) as the Debtor had procured Leon's money by false pretenses, false representations, and actual fraud (the "Non-Dischargeability Judgment"). In re Rabalais, 496 Fed. Appx. at 500. More specifically, applying the doctrines of collateral estoppel and Rooker-Feldman, the Texas Bankruptcy Court concluded that the underlying findings of fraud had been actually and necessarily litigated in the California Action. Id. On April 4, 2012, the Debtor appealed the Texas Bankruptcy Court's decision to the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Texas (the "U.S. District Court"), which upheld the Non-Dischargeability Judgment.

On November 19, 2020, the Fifth Circuit affirmed the U.S. District Court. The Fifth Circuit concluded that the bankruptcy court could not relitigate the State Court's decision, "even assuming, arguendo, that the [State Court] erred by describing ASM as gambling or a Ponzi scheme." In re Rabalais, 496 Fed. Appx. at 500 (emphasis in the original). The Fifth Circuit further stated:

[The Debtor's] "attack" on the California court's decision-making ought to have been raised on appeal in the California court system, not before a federal bankruptcy court. Like the bankruptcy court, we lack the authority to review the decision of the California court.

Id. The basis for the Fifth Circuit's decision was that "[u]nder the Rooker–Feldman doctrine, federal courts lack jurisdiction to entertain collateral attacks on state court judgments." Id. (internal citations omitted). Finally, on April 1, 2013, the Debtor's petition for a writ of certiorari before the United States Supreme Court was denied.

With the exception of the Judgment, the Debtor received a discharge of all other debts on January 9, 2012. See In re Rabalais, 4:11-bk-30088 at Doc. No. 46.

The Debtor filed his second voluntary bankruptcy case on September 23, 2013. See In re Rabalais, 4:13-bk-35851, Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2013. A hearing on the Debtor's chapter 13 plan was held on January 30, 2014. See id. at Doc. No. 65. The court initially determined that the case had been filed in bad faith and dismissed it with a 180-day refiling bar, but subsequently reconsidered its ruling to a dismissal without prejudice. See id. Based on the record before the Court, the Debtor opted not to challenge the chapter 13 dismissal and has not filed another bankruptcy petition since 2013.

B. The Motion

On April 29, 2020, Leon filed the Motion, which urges the Court to dismiss the Debtor's case on three independent statutory grounds: for cause under § 707(a), in light of the Debtor's bad faith conduct pursuant to § 707(b)(3)(A), and in the totality of the circumstances under § 707(b)(3)(B). Leon makes the following arguments and representation in support of the Motion:

Leon claims that "cause" under § 707(a) is established as the Debtor's purported intention to seek a "fresh start" is demonstrably false. Accordingly, the Debtor cannot possibly avail himself of bankruptcy relief because multiple courts have determined that Leon's claim—the Debtor's most substantial debt—is non-dischargeable, and his remaining debts are comparatively insignificant. Further supporting dismissal is the fact that the Non-Dischargeability Judgment is subject to res judicata. Analogously, in In re Barry, No. 05-40736, 2005 WL 3752228, at *1 (Bankr. N.D. Fla. Nov. 21, 2005), a debtor's chapter 7 case was dismissed, where the largest debt was adjudged to be dischargeable, such decision was subject to res judicata, and the remaining debts were minimal. See Motion at 15. Additionally, Leon argues that the case may be dismissed for cause due to the Debtor's "egregious and bad faith behavior."

Because the Debtor identifies that he owes primarily consumer debts, this case may also be dismissed as an abuse of the Bankruptcy Code under § 707(b)(3) based on his bad faith behavior. Leon asserts that the Debtor's objectionable conduct should be assessed in the context of numerous factors: (a) the history of prior bankruptcy cases and dismissals; (b) whether the Debtor sought automatic stay relief for improper purposes; and (c) whether the Debtor acted egregiously. See Motion at 16 (citing to In re Mitchell, 357 B.R. 142, 153 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2006)). The Debtor is a serial filer based on his two previous bankruptcy cases, numerous attempts to appeal the Non-Dischargeability Judgment, and the dismissal of the chapter 13 case for bad faith. The Debtor further acted improperly by invoking the automatic stay to delay the renewal of the Judgment in California. As such, the Debtor's filing is a wrongful attempt to frustrate Leon's efforts to collect on the Judgment. Finally, the fact that Debtor has used the legal system to circumvent Leon's collection efforts for years is inherently egregious and further supports the dismissal of this case. For the same reasons set forth above, the case should be dismissed as an abuse based on the totality of the circumstances standard under § 707(b)(3)(B).

C. The Opposition

On May 18, 2020, the Debtor timely filed a response to the Motion, asserting the following arguments and representations in opposition:

Leon falls far below the preponderance of the evidence standard required to establish "cause" under § 707(a). See In re Aiello, 428 B.R. 296 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 2010). As an initial matter, the three examples cited as grounds for dismissal under § 707(a) are not applicable here. Instead, Leon attempts to show cause by merely questioning the Debtor's motives in seeking bankruptcy relief. Leon's principal argument that Debtor's bankruptcy objectives are improper or spurious is that he holds the largest claim. However, the decisions reached in In re Chovev, 559 B.R. 339 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 2016) and In re Jacobs, No. 17-21007-PRW, 2018 WL 671132 (Bankr. W.D.N.Y. Feb. 1, 2018) support the proposition that holding the largest or the only claim against the estate does not entitle a creditor to dismiss the case. Second, Leon's contention that Debtor engaged in "egregious and bad faith behavior" is poorly supported and fails to meet his evidentiary burden. As established in the Eighth Circuit and the Southern District of New York, a dismissal for bad faith pursuant to § 707(a) constitutes "extraordinary relief" that is only rarely granted. See In re Grullon, No. 13-11716 (ALG), 2014 WL 2109924, at *1 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. May 20, 2014); In re Huckfeldt, 39 F.3d 829 (8th Cir. 1994)). However, the Debtor principally relies on In re Padilla, 222 F.3d 1184 (9th Cir. 2000) to support the claim that bad faith is inapplicable in § 707(a) "cause" analysis. In Padilla, the Ninth Circuit went beyond the Eight Circuit's decision, in declining to find that bad faith constituted cause for dismissal, as Congress had intended in drafting § 707(a). The Ninth Circuit reaffirmed the Padilla holding in In re Sherman, 491 F.3d 948 (9th Cir. 2007), which determined that "Padilla does not...permit a free-floating concept of cause for dismissal to substitute for careful application of the bankruptcy scheme that Congress devised."

Moreover, the Debtor filed this case intending to address genuine economic struggles. In support, the Debtor provides a lengthy narrative on the financial strain on his business ventures resulting from the Great Recession, and more recently, from the COVID-19 pandemic. Facing the threat of homelessness, the Debtor recalls that his chapter 13 case was precipitated, not by Leon's claim, but by the need to refinance the mortgage loan on his residence. Likewise, the instant bankruptcy filing was not initiated to discharge Leon's debt, but instead to resolve financial issues caused by a struggling business endeavor. The Debtor's finances do not allow for an opulent lifestyle: his 2019 annual income of $38,289 was just above the local minimum wage threshold, and his 2018 Chevrolet Impala, Debtor's "only meaningful possession," was repossessed at the outset of the case.

In opposition to the presumption of abuse arguments, the Debtor claims that his debts are primarily non-consumer debts, and therefore, Leon cannot rely on §707(b) provisions. The statutory language clearly indicates that § 707(b) is limited to debtors "whose debts are primarily consumer debts." Therefore, § 707(b) is inapplicable to Debtor's case as the bulk of his debts were incurred to pay salaries and keep his business venture afloat. That Debtor initially represented that most of his debts were consumer in nature was an honest error, which he subsequently corrected on the amended petition.

The balance of the Debtor's twenty-four-page objection is dedicated to relitigating both the State Court's findings and the Non-Dischargeability Judgment. To the extent that the Debtor veers off the mark, delves into protracted, unnecessary narratives, or directs hyperbolic commentary at Leon, the Debtor's soliloquys sap the persuasive value of his most meaningful arguments. In short, the Debtor presents yet another collateral attack on the State Court's factual findings and credibility determinations and asserts that recent Supreme Court precedent on the Rooker-Feldman doctrine permits for the dischargeability of Leon's claim. See Opposition at 24. As further explained below, the Non-Dischargeability Judgment, which was repeatedly affirmed on appeal, has a preclusive effect on the Debtor's arguments.

D. The Reply

Leon makes the following arguments and representations in reply to the Opposition [Doc. No. 36]:

The Debtor's "peculiarly bipolar opposition" demonstrates his duplicitous motives in filing the instant case. See Reply at 2. If the Debtor actually did not file this case "to discharge Leon's debt, nor [attempt] to stop any collection efforts," then Leon is willing to enter into a stipulation agreeing as much. See id. (citing to the Opposition at 1).

However, the fact that Debtor devoted a portion of the Opposition to attack the dischargeability of Leon's claim is evidence to the contrary. See id. at 3 (citing to the Opposition at 16, 24). If the Debtor is attempting to discharge Leon's debt, then Leon is prepared to commence an adversary proceeding.

II. Findings and Conclusions

As an initial matter, the Court notes that the Opposition invites this Court to revisit the issue of the dischargeability of Leon's debt. As indicated above, the Texas Bankruptcy Court previously adjudged Leon's debt to be non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2) and said court's decision was repeatedly affirmed on appeal. In fact, in affirming the Texas Bankruptcy Court's decision, the Fifth Circuit stated:

[The Debtor's] "attack" on the California court's decision-making ought to have been raised on appeal in the California court system, not before a federal bankruptcy court. Like the bankruptcy court, we lack the authority to review the decision of the California court.

In re Rabalais, 496 Fed. Appx. at 500. Accordingly, because prior courts have already determined that the Judgment is subject to a preclusive effect, the Court does not need reconsider the decisions previously rendered on the subject. Therefore, insofar as it seeks to revisit the question of Leon's debt, the Opposition is overruled.

A. Dismissal for "Cause" under § 707(a) is Not Warranted

Pursuant to § 707(a), a court may dismiss an individual chapter 7 case only after notice and a hearing, and only for cause, which includes the following grounds: (1) unreasonable delay by the debtor resulting in prejudice; (2) non-payment of certain mandatory fees and charges; and (3) failure to file the information required by § 521(a), but only on the motion of the United States trustee. The above-referenced examples, however, are illustrative and not exhaustive. See Huckfeldt v. Huckfeldt (In re Huckfeldt), 39 F.3d 829, 831 (8th Cir.1994) (holding that enumerated grounds for a "for cause" dismissal are nonexclusive). The Court is aware that there is a circuit split concerning whether bad faith can be grounds to dismiss a case under § 707(a). See, e.g. Industrial Ins. Servs., Inc. v. Zick (In re Zick), 931 F.2d 1124, 1126 (6th Cir. 1991) (bad faith can provide cause for a § 707(a) dismissal); In re Smith, 229 B.R. 895, 897 (Bankr. S.D. Ga. 1997) (debtor's lack of good faith in filing bankruptcy petition will constitute "cause" for dismissal of Chapter 7 case); In re Etcheverry, 242 B.R. 503, 506 (D. Colo. 1999) (holding that because there is no explicit "good faith" requirement in chapter 7, bad faith cannot constitute "cause" for dismissal under § 707(a); In re Landes, 195 B.R. 855 (Bankr. E.D. Pa.1996) (holding that a good faith filing requirement cannot be read into § 707(a)). As a matter of first impression, the Ninth Circuit concluded:

The Bankruptcy Code's language and the protracted relationship between reorganization debtors and their creditors lead us to conclude that bad faith per se can properly constitute "cause" for dismissal of a Chapter 11 or Chapter 13 petition but not of a Chapter 7 petition under § 707(a).

In re Padilla, 222 F.3d 1184, 1193 (9th Cir. 2000). Instead, courts considering dismissal under § 707(a) should assess whether the conduct at issue constitutes "cause," and "cause" under the subject provision contemplates "technical or procedural violations." See id. (determining that debtor's pre-petition credit card bust-out was not a technical or procedural violation, nor grounds for dismissal under § 707(a)). Misconduct perpetrated by a chapter 7 debtor must be analyzed in context to bankruptcy provisions addressing such behavior. Id. at 1194 (debtor's credit card bust-out was not dismissible under § 707(a), given that such misconduct was addressed by § 707(b)).

Having reviewed the record before it, the Court determines that the Debtor's alleged bad faith conduct does not constitute a "technical or procedural violation." Arguing that dismissal under § 707(a) is in order, Leon accuses the Debtor of having filed the instant bankruptcy under false pretenses. Leon presses the point that the Debtor is incapable of receiving a "fresh start" under chapter 7 because the largest claim against the Debtor has been determined to be non-dischargeable, and the remaining debts are comparatively insignificant. Leon cites In re Barry, In re Bilzerian, and In re Schwartz in support of the argument that creditors holding non-dischargeable claims are entitled to request dismissal of a bankruptcy case. These decisions focused on whether a dismissal under § 707(a) was in the best interests of the creditors and the debtor. However, the circumstances of each case are different from the present facts. In Schwartz, for example, the request to dismiss came on the debtor's own petition, at the objection of the largest creditors. There, the court decided to grant the dismissal request, finding that although the bankruptcy filing appeared to be legitimate, the debtor's opportunity to receive a fresh start had been impaired by a non-dischargeability judgment. See In re Schwartz, 58 B.R. 923, 926-27 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y.1986). Moreover, judicial economy was in favor of dismissal, where the debtor intended to pursue an action against one of the creditors in state court. See id. at 927. Both in Barry and Bilzerian, each bankruptcy case was ascertained to be contrary to the interests of the debtor and creditors, where the respective debtors had either a “few small debts” or were unable to “discharge virtually any significant debt.” See In re Barry, 2005 WL 3752228 at *3; see also In re Bilzerian, 258 B.R. 850, 858 (Bankr. M.D. Fla. 2001).

Here, the Court recognizes that there is legitimacy in the Debtor’s bankruptcy objectives, to the extent that he seeks to obtain a discharge of unsecured business debts. Accordingly, the Debtor has unsecured debt in excess of $64,000. Although a minimal dollar sum in comparison to the Judgment, the Debtor’s unsecured debt is by no means insignificant based on his monthly income of $3,271. The Debtor’s assets consist of an ownership interest in a vehicle and personal property collectively valued at approximately $4,000. The chapter 7 trustee’s diligent inquiry into the Debtor’s financial affairs did not reveal any administrable property. See Doc. No. 32. Furthermore, having received his prior discharge more than eight years ago, the Debtor is not barred from discharge under § 727(a)(8), except as discussed above. These findings lend credence to the claim that the Debtor legitimately seeks a fresh start, notwithstanding his misguided attempt to challenge the Non-Dischargeability Judgment once again. Moreover, Leon furnishes no facts indicating that the Debtor committed an act constituting a “technical or procedural violation.” While Leon’s concern over the potential delay of state court proceedings is valid, there are other bankruptcy remedies available to him that may address the issue. See In re Hickman, 384 B.R. 832, 840 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2008) (If a remedy for the alleged "cause" for dismissal is provided by other provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, "cause" cannot be established under § 707(a)); see also In re Sherman, 491 F. 3d 948, 971-972 (9th Cir. 2007) ("cause" not shown where a dismissal motion was based on the debtors’ use of bankruptcy as a refuge from district court jurisdiction, given that § 362(b) specifically addressed the debtors’ conduct).

In sum, Leon does not present sufficient “cause” to dismiss this case pursuant to § 707(a).

B. Section 707(b) Provisions are Not Applicable

The Bankruptcy Code authorizes a bankruptcy court to dismiss a case filed under chapter 7 after a finding of abuse. See § 707(b)(1). Section 707(b)(1) provides in relevant part:

the United States trustee, trustee (or bankruptcy administrator, if any) or any party in interest, may dismiss a case filed by an individual debtor under this chapter whose debts are primarily consumer debts. . .if it finds that the granting of relief would be an abuse of the provisions of this chapter.

11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(1) (emphasis added).

1. Leon lacks standing to request dismissal under § 707(b)

A dismissal request under § 707(b) is limited to the bankruptcy judge or the United States trustee, "if the current monthly income of the debtor...as of the order for relief, when multiplied by 12, is equal to or less than—in the case of a debtor in a household of 1 person, the median family income of the applicable State." See § 707(b)(6)(A).

Here, the Debtor's commencement documents indicate that he earns an estimated annual income of $39,252. See Doc. No. 22 [amended chapter 7 petition]. The Debtor's approximate yearly income is not contested by Leon. The California median family income for a single wage-earner from November 1, 2019 to March 31, 2020 is $59,286. See Census Bureau Median Family Income By Family Size, United States Department of Justice, https://www.justice.gov/ust/eo/bapcpa/20191101/bci\_data/median\_income\_table.htm (last visited May 29, 2020). Because the Debtor's annual income is less than the California median family income, Leon is ineligible to petition for dismissal under § 707(b). However, even if the Debtor's income proves to be higher than the median income in California, the Court finds that the majority of debts owed by him are non-consumer, business debts. [Note 2].

For the reasons set forth above, the Court determines that the grounds for dismissal prescribed by § 707(b) do not apply to this case.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED.

Leon is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Note 1: Federal Rule of Evidence 201 allows a court to take judicial notice of facts that are not subject to reasonable dispute because they are either "(1) generally known within the territorial jurisdiction of the trial court or (2) capable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned." In re Blumer, 95 B.R. 143, 147 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988). It is not necessary that the court be requested to take judicial notice of a fact before it is authorized to do so. United States v. Harris, 331 F.2d 600, 601 (6th Cir. 1964). Here, the Court takes judicial notice of Fifth Circuit's opinion, sua sponte, not for the truth of the underlying facts, but to provide a summary of the parties' disputes. Essential to its preclusion analysis, the Court also takes judicial notice of the opinion for the purpose of ascertaining the specific facts and issues considered by the Fifth Circuit in reaching its decision. Additionally, the Court finds it appropriate to grant Leon's judicial notice request.

Note 2: The Ninth Circuit interprets the term "primarily" in § 707(b)(1) to require that the overall ratio of consumer debt is greater than fifty percent. See Zolg v. Kelly (In re Kelly), 841 F.2d 908, 913 (9th Cir. 1988).

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

No appearances required. For the reasons set forth below, a continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall take place on June 2, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. The Motion to Withdraw is CONTINUED to be heard concurrently with the Post-Confirmation Status Conference. By no later than ten days prior to the continued hearing, the Debtors and Counsel shall meet and confer to try and settle any disagreements.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Chapter 11 Post-Confirmation Status Report [Doc. No. 180] (the "Status Report")
- 2) Motion to Withdraw as Reorganized Debtors' Bankruptcy Counsel [Doc. No. 178] (the "Motion to Withdraw")
- 3) Notice of Motion [Doc. No. 179]
- 4) As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Damu and Akiba Vusha (the "Debtors") filed a voluntary chapter 11 case on February 5, 2018. On March 9, 2018, the Court granted the Debtors' application to employ the Law Offices of Michael Jay Berger ("Counsel") as their general bankruptcy counsel [Doc. No. 35]. On November 27, 2019, the Court entered an Order Granting Motion to Confirm Debtors' Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization [Doc. No. 161] (the "Confirmation Order"). The first Post-Confirmation Status Conference was initially set for March 18, 2020, but the Court sua sponte continued the hearing to March 31, 2020, to be heard concurrently with the Motion to Withdraw.

The Status Report

The Debtors, through Counsel, filed the Chapter 11 Post-Confirmation Status Report on March 4, 2020 [Doc. No. 180] (the "Status Report"). Based on the Status Report, as of March 2020, the Debtors have accrued a deficiency on most outstanding plan payments, which include all payments on administrative claims and U.S. Trustee fees, as well as a sizeable amount due to the classes of secured, priority, and general unsecured creditors. See Status Report at 2-6 (providing an itemized status update on each outstanding payment). The Debtors are current on post-confirmation taxes. The Debtors claim that their ability to stay current on plan payments was compromised by approximately $5,000 in medical costs incurred in February 2020, which were precipitated by unexpected "health-related issues" affecting Debtors and one of the Debtors' mother. Status Report at 7. However, the Debtors project that their income stream will stabilize going forward. The Debtors plan to cure payment deficiencies by selling their rental property located at 1300 W. 69th Street, Los Angeles, CA 90044 (the "Property"), which they posted for sale on March 4, 2020. The Status Report further states that the Plan is expected to be consummated by January 2025, and the Debtors will request a final decree closing the case on an interim basis on or before June 30, 2020. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Debtors have not responded to the Status Report on an individual basis.

The Motion to Withdraw

On February 7, 2020, Counsel filed an application for an abstract of judgment against the Debtors for unpaid attorney's fees in the sum of $14,839.13 [Doc. No. 174]. Thereafter, on March 4, 2020, Counsel filed a motion to withdraw as counsel (the "Motion to Withdraw"), given the Debtors' failure to pay estate professionals' outstanding bills, cooperate in the prosecution of their case, and due to the irreparable deterioration of Counsel's relationship with his clients. Counsel states that it cannot elaborate on the particular details concerning the troubled relationship but asserts that the Debtors' have refused to assist Counsel in the case and have breached provisions of the Counsel's fee agreement.

Chapter 11

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Debtors have not filed an opposition to the Motion to Withdraw.

II. Findings and Conclusions

No appearances required. This is a post-confirmation status conference. Based on its review of the Motion to Withdraw and the Status Report, and in light of the recent COVID-19 outbreak, the Court CONTINUES the status conference to June 2, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. The Debtors must submit a further Post-Confirmation Status Report (the "Second Status Report") by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. The Second Status Report should inform the Court about the status of the sale of the Property, and whether the Debtors were capable of making timely plan payments due on or after March 31, 2020. The Motion to Withdraw is CONTINUED to June 2, 2020, at 10:00 a.m., to be heard concurrently with the continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference. By no later than ten days prior to the continued hearing, the Debtors and Counsel shall meet and confer to try and settle any disagreements.

The Court will prepare the order.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188, no later than one hour before the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor-in-possession, Rambutan Thai (the "Debtor"), commenced this voluntary chapter 11 case on June 1, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is a California corporation owned by Khwannappa Noochloor ("Noochloor"), Kulvadee Daniel ("Daniel"), and Taraporn Rattanamanee ("Rattanamanee") (collectively, the "Insiders"), each possessing a one-third interest in Debtor. The Debtor operates a Thai restaurant in the Silver Lake neighborhood, which conducts business as "Same Same Thai." Based on the Disclosure Statement, the Debtor's assets consist of cash flow revenue and a collection of fixed assets, consisting of furniture, equipment, and food inventory. The Debtor's chapter 11 filing was precipitated by an assessment of unpaid sales taxes of approximately $233,000 by the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration ("CDTFA"). The Debtor seeks bankruptcy relief to restructure its outstanding tax debt, and other claims, with minimal disruption to its business operations. To assist in its reorganization, the Debtor secured the services of Jeffrey S. Shinbrot, APLC ("Debtor's Counsel"), as general bankruptcy counsel, and Grobstein Teeple, LLC ("Debtor's Accountant"), as estate accountant.

The Debtor presently seeks an order approving the adequacy of its Disclosure Statement. The Disclosure Statement details the events discussed above which led to this bankruptcy filing and provides a description of significant post-petition events. The Plan proposes the following classification scheme and treatments:

Administrative Claims

The Debtor anticipates that administrative fees for professionals will be approximately $30,000, of which $15,000 will be sought by Debtor's Counsel, and $15,000 by Debtor's Accountant. The Debtor proposes to pay all administrative claims on the effective date of the Plan, which shall be 30 days after entry of an order approving the Plan (the "Effective Date").

Priority Tax Claims

The Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") and the CDTFA hold priority tax claims against the Debtor. The Debtor proposes to pay the priority portion of the IRS's claim totaling $1,222.31 in full on the Effective, while an unsecured portion of $14,958.49 will be compensated pursuant to the proposed treatment of the unsecured creditor class.

Chapter 11

The CDTFA's claim of $255,549 shall be paid in four equal, periodic installments of $63,887.35 on December 31, 2020, September 30, 2021, June 30, 2022, and March 31, 2023.

Class 1 – General Unsecured Claims

Class 1 consists of all allowed general unsecured claims, which the Debtor estimates hold aggregate claims in the amount of $17,664. See Disclosure Statement at 9. The Debtor proposes to pay this class approximately 42.4% of their claims, without interest, by paying each creditor in this class a one-time, pro-rated share of $7,500, 45 days after the Effective Date. This class is impaired and entitled to vote on the Plan.

Class 2 – Class of Interest Holders

This class consists of the Insiders' ownership interest in the Debtor. The Plan contemplates that the Insiders will retain their equity interests in the Debtor. In return for maintaining ownership interests, the Plan calls for the Insiders to collectively make a single new value contribution of $7,500. This class is not impaired and may not vote on the Plan.

Means of Implementation

Based on the figures provided in the Disclosure Statement, the Debtor's Plan will be funded from available cash totaling $77,500, consisting of the following sources:

- i. Approximately $62,000 cash on hand Debtor will have in its DIP account on the Effective Date.
- ii. Additional estimated funds of $8,000 that will accumulate from projected net revenue between now and the Effective Date.
- iii. A one-time $7,500 new value contribution from the Insiders, each Insider paying an amount proportionate to their ownership interest in the Debtor.
- iv. Future disposable income over the next 5 years. Based on cash flow projections, the Debtor anticipates having sufficient income to cover all proposed plan payments. See Disclosure Statement, Ex. C.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

CONT... Rambutan Thai, a California corporation

Chapter 11

The Debtor's Disclosure Statement provides inadequate information with respect to the following issues. First and foremost, the Court is cognizant that the Debtor's Disclosure Statement was prepared prior to the current market realities attendant with the COVID-19 pandemic. Specifically, the Court is concerned by the financial impact reasonably expected on Debtor's restaurant operations. For that reason, the information disseminated in the Disclosure Statement with respect to Debtor's projected cash flows, present financial condition, and other information relevant to the Plan's feasibility is likely outdated and inadequately describes creditors' risk under the Plan. Without an adequate discussion on Debtor's current status, creditors will not possess the necessary information to evaluate whether or not to accept the Plan. This is important because Debtor's successful reorganization requires that a sufficient number of Class 1 creditors approve the Plan. In view of the foregoing, the Debtor shall file an amended disclosure statement and plan that addresses the Debtor's current and projected finances. To the extent that Debtor's financial condition is compromised by the COVID-19 outbreak, the Debtor is instructed to supplement Section III.E of the Disclosure Statement, which pertains to the Plan's risk factors. See Disclosure Statement at 11.

Additionally, the amended disclosure statement and plan must also address the following issues:

- Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 2002, the debtor, creditors, equity security holders, and other parties in interest must have 28 days' notice of a hearing on the approval of a disclosure statement. Here, both the Notice and the Amended Notice indicate that the Debtor failed to serve any papers on two unsecured creditors holding sizeable, although disputed, claims: Credit Collection Bureau and McCarthy, Burgess & Wolf. All other creditors holding claims identified as disputed, contingent, or unliquidated were served. See Doc. Nos. 55 & 57.
- The Disclosure Statement provides differing total dollar figures for allowed unsecured claims in different sections. On page 9 of the Disclosure Statement, the Debtor states that the total amount of allowed unsecured claims is $17,664, while the unsecured claim tally contained in the "List of General Unsecured Claims" is $18,144.56, excepting all disputed unsecured claims. Compare Disclosure Statement at 9 with Disclosure Statement, Ex. B. If this higher dollar figure is accurate, then unsecured creditors will stand to receive a lower pro-rated distribution than as indicated on the Disclosure Statement.
- The Debtor's liquidation analysis contains an inaccurate calculation of "TOTAL ASSETS" because this figure does not consider the amount of "TOTAL CURRENT ASSETS," only "TOTAL FIXED ASSETS". See Disclosure Statement at 17.

- The periodic installment the Debtor proposes to pay CDTFA ($63,887.35) under the Disclosure Statement differs from the distribution allocated in the 5-year projection ($58,144). See Disclosure Statement, Ex. C.

For the reasons set forth above, the Court cannot approve the Disclosure Statement until the Debtor cures the aforementioned issues in an amended disclosure statement and plan.

Furthermore, although the following is a plan confirmation issue, the Court notes that the Plan proposes that the Insiders will retain their ownership interest in the Debtor, while paying general unsecured creditors approximately 42% of their claims, without interest, in exchange for a single $7,500 new value contribution. Accordingly, the Debtor should be prepared to explain how the Plan's proposal—permitting the Insiders to retain an interest in the reorganized Debtor on account of their junior interests—satisfies the minimum requirements for new value contributions set forth in Bank of America v. 203 North LaSalle Street Partnership, 526 U.S. 434 (1999), required for plan confirmation.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, approval of the Disclosure Statement is DENIED. The Debtor is directed to file a first amended disclosure statement and plan by no later than May 8, 2020 and self-calendar a hearing for June 3, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. Oppositions, if any, are due by May 20, 2020. The deadline for the Debtor to file a reply to any timely filed oppositions is May 27, 2020.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Administration ("CDTFA"). The Debtor states that it filed the instant chapter 11 case to restructure its outstanding tax assessment, and other unsecured claims, with minimal disruption to business operations. Due to the business restrictions associated with the ongoing healthcare crisis, the Debtor's dining facilities were closed to the public on or about March 12, 2020. However, the Debtor's operations remain open for food delivery and pick-up services. Notwithstanding the unexpected interruptions caused by COVID-19, the Debtor claims that it has retained many of its non-insider employees, albeit with reduced work hours.

On April 3, 2020, the Court entered an order denying approval of the original disclosure statement, but permitted Debtor to file an amended disclosure statement to address various issues [Doc. No. 66] (the "April 3 Order"). More specifically, the Court determined that the original disclosure statement was inadequate because, inter alia:

The Debtor's Disclosure Statement provides inadequate information with respect to the following issues. First and foremost, the Court is cognizant that the Debtor's Disclosure Statement was prepared prior to the current market realities attendant with the COVID-19 pandemic. Specifically, the Court is concerned by the financial impact reasonably expected on Debtor's restaurant operations. financial impact of COVID-19 restrictions on its current and future business operations. Additionally, the Debtor states that while it has qualified for a $10,000 loan from the SBA Economic Injury Disaster Loan Emergency Advance program, it is not eligible to receive funding from the Payment Protection Program. However, even if Debtor were to receive the maximum dollar amount of emergency-based relief, such entitlements would be reserved for payroll and rent and would not improve Debtor's reorganization efforts. Declaration of Khwannapa Noochlaor ("Noochlaor Decl."), ¶ 6. Based on the foregoing uncertainty created by the pandemic, the Debtor posits that the best interests of the estate and creditors will be better served by the dismissal of this case, rather than by filing an amended disclosure statement. Instead of pursuing its reorganization, the Debtor intends to continue operations and gather information on the impact of the pandemic on its business. Noochlaor Decl., ¶ 7.

In support of the Motion, the Debtor argues that chapter 11 dismissal is appropriate where the facts indicate that a debtor-in-possession will be unable to effectuate a plan of reorganization. See Motion at 6-7. The Debtor further cites to In re Sanders, 2013 WL 1490971 at *7 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2013) for the proposition that "[a]dministrative insolvency has been held by the Ninth Circuit B.A.P. to be sufficient 'cause' under 1112(b) for this Court to choose dismissal over conversion." Id. at 7. But for the current healthcare crisis, the Debtor asserts that it would be close to achieving its chapter 11 reorganization. However, as summarized above, the Debtor advances that dismissal will best benefit the estate and its creditors. Additionally, the Debtor argues that a chapter 7 conversion would be incredibly harmful to Debtor's employees and to the community that relies on its continued food delivery and pick-up services.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under § 1112(b), the Court shall dismiss or convert a case to one under chapter 7 upon a showing of cause. A "[d]ebtor's request [to voluntarily dismiss a Chapter 11 bankruptcy case] should ordinarily be granted unless some 'plain legal prejudice' will result to creditors." In re Kimble, 96 B.R. 305, 308 (Bankr. D. Mont. 1988), quoting In re Geller, 74 B.R. 685, 688-689 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 1987); In re Hall, 15 B.R. 913, 915-916 (9th Cir. BAP 1981). The Court finds that the Debtor has standing to bring a motion to dismiss, since it is a "party in interest" 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b). A bankruptcy court possesses broad discretion in determining whether to dismiss or convert a chapter

11 case for "cause." See In re Sanders, 2013 WL 1490971 at *6 (citing In re Consol. Pioneer Mortg. Entities, 248 B.R. 368, 375 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000), aff'd, 264 F.3d 803 (9th Cir. 2001)). Pursuant to § 1112(b)(4), "cause" for dismissal includes "a substantial or continuing loss to or diminution of the estate and the absence of a reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation."

Here, dismissal best serves the interest of the creditors and the estate. Having reviewed the Motion and the declaration of Mr. Noochlaor, the Debtor's president, the Court finds that the pandemic has inflicted a significant—and understandably unpredictable—impact on the Debtor's business operations. For instance, Mr. Noochlaor attests that while only one employee has been furloughed at this time, the work hours of remaining employees have been reduced to between 10% and 50% of their pre-lockdown work schedule. Noochlaor Decl., ¶ 4. Furthermore, even if it can maximize the dollar amount of allowable federal emergency relief, the Debtor is unlikely to submit a disclosure statement that this Court can approve and its likelihood of reorganization remains unclear. See id., ¶ 6. On the record before it, the Court further finds that no purpose would be served by converting this case to a case under chapter 7. Based upon the foregoing, the Court finds it is in the best interests of creditors and the estate to dismiss this case. Moreover, there being no objection to the Motion, the Court presumes interested parties consent to the granting of the requested relief pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h).

Finally, there being no other matters pending in this case, the Court will only retain jurisdiction to consider approval and payment of professional fees and outstanding administrative expenses. [Note 1]

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED, and the case is dismissed. The hearing on the Debtor's amended disclosure statement is VACATED in view of the dismissal.

A trustee's title search that Movant ordered in preparation of a foreclosure sale revealed that Vargas asserts a junior interest in the Property for $1,390,000. See Supplemental Declaration of Joni Holmick, ¶ 5; Ex. 5. Notwithstanding the Vargas conveyance, the Debtor's commencement documents indicate that Debtor still possesses an interest in the Property. See Doc. No. 1.

As an initial matter, the Court finds that there is good cause to grant Movant relief under 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(2). Based on Schedule D, the Property has a value of $1,420,000 (Exhibit 2) and is subject to a perfected deed of trust in favor of the Movant in the sum of $1,328,067.73 and expected sale costs of $113,600 (Holmick Decl., ¶ 11(e)). Accordingly, the value of the equity cushion in the Property exceeding Movant's debt is -$21,667.73, which is -15.2% of the Property's fair market value. Therefore, the Movant's interest in the Property is not adequately protected and stay-relief under § 362(d)(1) is appropriate. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral). Further, the liens against the Property and the expected costs of sale total approximately $2,831,667.73. Even if the Court were to accept the Debtor's position that it possesses an interest in the Property, the Court finds that the Debtor has no equity, the Property is not necessary for the Debtor's reorganization, and there is no evidence that the trustee can administer the Property for the benefit of creditors. Hence, stay-relief is also warranted under § 362(d)(2).

Additionally, the Court finds that there are facts presented in the Motion sufficient for the Court to find bad faith pursuant to § 362(d)(4). First, the Debtor listed Movant as one of two creditors in its commencement documents but failed to reference the Vargas' junior lien therein. See Holmick Decl., Ex. 5; see Doc. No. 1. Second, the purported conveyance to Vargas was effectuated through an unauthorized grant deed, without Movant's consent or knowledge. See Supplemental Declaration, ¶ 5. Third, the Debtor has filed at least one prior bankruptcy case, implicating an interest in the Property, which was summarily dismissed for its failure to comply with basic filing requirements. Therefore, the Court finds that this petition was part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, which involved the transfer of all or part ownership of, or other interest in, the Property without the consent of Movant or court approval and multiple bankruptcy cases affecting the Property. Based upon the reasons set forth above, the Motion is also granted under § 362(d)(1) for cause based on Debtor's bad faith filing.

The Motion is GRANTED to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property, or to enter into a potential forbearance or loan modification agreement in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The 14-day period specified in Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4001(a)(3) is waived. This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. If recorded in compliance with applicable State laws governing notices of interests or liens in real property, the order shall be binding in any other case under this title purporting to affect such real property filed not later than 2 years after the date of the entry of such order by the Court, except that a debtor in a subsequent case under this title may move for relief from such order based upon changed circumstances or for good cause shown, after notice and a hearing. All other relief is denied.

All relief granted herein shall be subject to the Emergency Rules of the California Rules of Court, effective April 6, 2020.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Note 1: An OSC hearing based upon the Debtor's lack of legal representation is currently scheduled for June 30, 2020 [Doc. No. 14].

Note 2: The commencement documents filed as part of the instant bankruptcy case were allegedly prepared and submitted by Alejandro Cardenas, a managing member of the Debtor. See Doc. No. 1.

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant. Doc. No. 1.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

asset consists of an ownership interest in real property located at 15 Upper Blackwater Canyon Road, Rolling Hills, CA 90274 (the “Property”).

On Schedule D, the Debtor listed the secured claim of So-Cal Capital, LLC (the “Movant”), the holder of a first-priority deed of trust on the Property, in the amount of $4,331,518. See Doc. No. 1. In addition to the Movant’s interest, the Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector and the Rolling Hills Community Association hold secured claims against the Property, in the amounts of $61,918.18 and $11,255.34 respectively, and the Internal Revenue Service asserts an unsecured priority claim totaling $1,200. See id.; see also Claims Register. The Debtor’s bankruptcy was commenced to halt a foreclosure sale initiated by the Movant, given that the Debtor had not made payments on the Property since July 2019. Declaration of Lawrence Underwood [Doc. No. 24] (“Underwood Decl.”), ¶ 7.

On January 6, 2020, the Movant filed a motion for relief from the automatic stay, seeking to regain possession of the Property (the “Stay Relief Motion”). The Debtor opposed the Stay Relief Motion. On January 28, 2020, the Court denied the Stay Relief Motion, subject to certain conditions to be fulfilled by the Debtor (the “January 28 Order”). More specifically, the Court instructed the Debtor to obtain an order contemplating the sale of the Property by no later than June 15, 2020. Pursuant to the January 28 Order, the Debtor was required to close the sale of the Property by no later than July 15, 2020. The findings and conclusions with respect to the Stay Relief Motion may be found in the Court’s final ruling [Doc. No. 17], which the Court incorporates herein by reference.

On May 15, 2020, the Debtor filed a Motion to Extend the Deadlines Set by this Court in its January 28, 2020 Order Denying Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (the “Motion”). The Motion is supported by declarations submitted by the Debtor’s bankruptcy counsel, real estate broker, and Lawrence Underwood (“Underwood”), the Debtor’s managing member. In seeking an extension of the above-referenced deadlines (the “Deadlines”), the Debtor makes the following arguments and representations:

The Debtor requests at least a six-month extension of the Deadlines, in light of the stresses caused by COVID-19 on the luxury real estate market. Although the Debtor has “made every effort” to comply with the January 28 Order, the healthcare crisis has made it impossible and unrealistic to comply with said order. The Debtor has worked closely with Keith Kelley (“Kelley”) of Palm Realty Boutique to aggressively market the Property, which is currently listed for sale at $6,950,000, although initially valued between $7,000,000 and $7,950,000. The Debtor’s efforts to sell the Property include setting up “multiple showings per week prior to COVID-19,” and more recently making available a virtual tour and walkthrough videos of the Property. However, even with the availability of virtual showings, the reality is that potential buyers will not make an offer without inspecting the Property in person. Declaration of Keith Kelley (“Kelley Decl.”), ¶ 4. Although “several potential buyers” were interested in the Property at one point, including one businessman from China, the Debtor was not able to secure any offers. Underwood Decl., ¶ 8. Subsequent to the COVID-19 lockdown, a “potential buyer” cancelled a showing three weeks ago, and more recently, two showings took place last week. Kelley Decl., ¶ 4. Prior to filing the Motion, the Debtor attempted to enter into a stipulation with the Movant without success.

The request to postpone the Deadlines is only premised on the Court’s equitable powers under 11 U.S.C. § 105(a). Except for a Bankruptcy Appellate Panel decision that recites the provisions under § 105(a), the Debtor has not cited any authority supporting its proposed application of the Bankruptcy Code.

Summary of the Opposition

On May 26, 2020, the Movant submitted a timely response to the Motion [Doc. No. 28] (the “Opposition”). The Opposition is supported by the declaration of Patrick Lacy (“Lacy”), who is employed by the Movant and oversees servicing of Debtor’s loan to the Movant. Declaration of Patrick Lacy (“Lacy Decl.”), ¶ 1. The Movant advances the following points in opposition:

The Court should deny the Motion for three reasons: (1) the deadline to appeal the January 28 Order has elapsed; (2) there is no cause to reconsider the January 28 Order; and (3) and any such extension of the Deadlines would cause disproportionate harm to the Movant. First, as determined in Ritzen Grp., Inc. v. Jackson Masonry, LLC, 140 S. Ct. 582 (2020), a stay relief order constitutes a “final, appealable order.” Moreover, pursuant to Fed. R. Bank. P. 8002, a notice of appeal must be filed with the bankruptcy clerk within 14 days of the order being appealed. Accordingly, the Debtor failed to file an appeal of the January 28 Order by the deadline of February 11, 2020. Second, the Debtor presents no authority for its argument that the Court may rely on § 105(a) to reconsider the January 28 Order. Additionally, a review of the supporting declarations indicates that the Debtor’s marketing efforts have only generated four showings—two pre-shutdown and two post-shutdown—and elicited no offers. Based on Lacy’s declaration, Kelley, along with co-broker Gordon Inman, have participated in four of the eight post-COVID-19 real estate sales in the Rolling Hills Area. See Lacy Decl., ¶ 4. For instance, the residence located at 8 Upper Blackwater Canyon Road, Rolling Hills, CA (“8 Upper Blackwater Canyon Road”), one block away from the Property, was sold on or about May 12, 2020 for $4,720,000, following a significant price drop. Lacy Decl., ¶¶ 4-5, Ex. C (MLS Listing for 8 Upper Blackwater Canyon Road). This motion is another “empty promise” by the Debtor to enable Underwood to live rent-free in luxury. Notably, in an e-mail from Underwood to the Movant, dated December 17, 2019, Underwood claimed that he was confident the Property would be sold within thirty days. See Lacy Decl., ¶ 7; Ex. F. The Property has already been exposed to the market for a period of approximately ten months, and the reason that it has not been purchased yet is due to Debtor’s unrealistic asking price, both before and after COVID-19. Third, the equity in the Property has been severely impacted by the pandemic, and the Motion must be denied to permit Movant to protect its secured interest by immediately selling the Property.

The Debtor submitted a timely response to the Opposition, asserting the following arguments and representations:

The Opposition is not persuasive as it fails to consider several critical facts. First, the Debtor is taking steps to maintain the Property and protect the substantial equity contained therein. Second, the Movant paints an inaccurate picture of the 2020 luxury real estate market. Although it is true that several neighboring properties around the Property have been recently sold, the real estate market in Los Angeles County has fallen by about 45% this year, compared to the number of homes sold in 2019 during the same period. See Supplemental Declaration of Keith Kelley (“Kelley Supp. Decl.”), ¶ 4. Additionally, only one residence in the Rolling Hills area has sold for over $5 million this year, compared to the three sold in 2019. Id. Kelley provides further anecdotal commentary in support of the proposition that the real estate market in Rolling Hills changes from year to year. See id. at ¶¶ 4-5. Based on Kelley’s experience as a broker, it is not that “luxury real estates are not worth the price they are asking, but rather that it is taking longer to find the interested buyers because of Covid-19’s impact.” Id. at ¶ 4. Notably, the Debtor had a written offer last week for $5,130,000 and another showing was scheduled for June 4, 2020. Id. at ¶ 5. Last, according to Underwood, the Debtor is willing to lower its asking price to facilitate the sale of the Property. Supplemental Declaration of Underwood, ¶ 3.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

The issue presently before the Court is whether the Court should exercise its equitable powers to extend certain deadlines associated with the sale of the Property. Said deadlines were established as part of the Court's denial of the Stay Relief Motion by way of the January 28 Order. The January 28 Order provides in relevant part:

The Motion is DENIED, subject to the condition that Debtor must obtain an order authorizing sale of the Property by no later than June 15, 2020, either through a sale motion or approval of a Chapter 11 plan that provides for the Property's sale. The sale of the Property must close by no later than July 15, 2020. If the Debtor fails to comply with either deadline, the Court will grant the stay-relief requested in the Motion, without further notice or hearing. In the event the Debtor fails to comply with these deadlines, Movant shall submit a declaration so attesting, accompanied by a proposed order lifting the automatic stay. The Court adopts its tentative ruling [Doc. No. 17] as the final ruling and incorporates herein, in full, by reference.

See Doc. No. 19.

An order granting or denying a motion for relief from the automatic stay is a final order. In re Greenstein, 576 B.R. 139, 170 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), aff'd, 589 B.R. 854 (C.D. Cal. 2018), aff'd, 788 F. App'x 497 (9th Cir. 2019) (citing Samson v. W. Capital Partners, LLC (In re Blixseth), 684 F.3d 865, 866 n.1 (9th Cir. 2012)). A final order of the court cannot be collaterally attacked. Id.; Heritage Pac. Fin. LLC v. Machuca (In re Machuca), 483 B.R. 726, 733 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 2012). While § 105(a) of the Bankruptcy Code authorizes courts to "issue any order, process, or judgment that is necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this title," the equitable powers assigned to bankruptcy courts are limited when it comes to a request to reconsider a final order. "Despite the broad grant of equitable powers, bankruptcy courts cannot use them 'to defeat clear statutory language, nor to reach results inconsistent with the statutory scheme established by the Code.'" In re Reinertson, 241 B.R. 451, 455 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1999) (quoting Committee of Creditors Holding Unsecured Claims v. Koch Oil Co. (In re Powerine Oil Co.), 59 F.3d 969, 973 (9th Cir.1995)). "The bankruptcy court's inherent power to reconsider orders has been merged into the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure." Id. at 456 (bankruptcy court abused its discretion when vacating an order on a reaffirmation agreement under § 105(a), without regard to Civil Rule 60(b)).

As an initial matter, the Court deems the request to extend the Deadlines under § 105(a) as a collateral attack of the January 28 Order, which is a final order on a relief from stay motion. However, even if the Court were to construe the Motion as a direct attack against the January 28 Order, the Debtor has not persuaded the Court that (a) it has been impossible and unrealistic to timely sell the Property, even in light of COVID-19, or (b) that the Property stands a better chance of being sold in the next six months.

The Debtor has had ample opportunity to market and sell the Property, before and after the restrictions resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic. The Court notes that the Debtor did not dispute the contention that the Property has been listed for sale since August 5, 2019. See Lacy Declaration, ¶ 7. At the outset of this case, the Debtor readily moved to retain the services of bankruptcy counsel and a real estate broker to accomplish the sale. Even after shutdown, the Debtor continued to have an opportunity to market the Property, and it did so by, inter alia, organizing virtual tours, contacting potential buyers, and decreasing the asking price for the Property from $7,950,000 to $6,950,000. Through its efforts, the Debtor was able to show the Property to potential buyers, and it received recent indications of interest and even a written offer for $5,130,000. Because it has had a meaningful opportunity to sell the Property, the Debtor's inability to comply with the Deadlines arises from the strategy to sell the Property for an infeasible asking price. The Court further notes that despite present market conditions luxury residences in the Rolling Hills area have continued to sell, even after the COVID-19 shutdown. In fact, one of these residences was brokered and sold by Kelley, in roughly the same location as the Property, for $4,720,000, following a significant price decrease. See Lacy Decl., ¶¶ 4-5; Kelley Supp. Decl., ¶ 4. Although the Debtor promises to lower the asking price on the Property, this action should have contemplated earlier, not only because of COVID-19, but also given that the Debtor and its professionals recognized the volatility of the luxury real estate market. Accordingly, the Debtor acknowledged such volatility in the Reply:

Each year the sale of luxury real estate changes in Rolling Hills because the area is so diverse in the type of properties it offers. In the past there were lot of equestrian people buying luxury real estate with horse facilities and were ready to pay the premium price to purchase. Another year the Rolling Hills saw a drastic increase in buying luxury real estate with an ocean view.

Reply at 3. And based on the Debtor’s marketing strategy, it is unclear whether the Property stands a better chance of being sold in the next six months. Critically, a potential resurgence of COVID-19 cases in the months to come could result in an even more depressed market for luxury residences. In light of the uncertainty caused by the pandemic, the Debtor’s promises to sell the Property “as soon as possible” are not well justified. Relatedly, the Debtor’s inability to accomplish the sale of the Property creates uncertainty as to whether Movant’s interest therein remains adequately protected.

In sum, the depressed market for upscale residences in the Los Angeles area may be depressed for some time to come. COVID-19 has added to the downward pressure, but it is not the sole cause. If the Debtor receives any financially workable offers on the Property, the parties would be strongly encouraged to enter into a stipulation extending the Deadlines. However, absent any indication that the Property will be imminently sold, the Court declines to reconsider the January 28 Order.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED. The January 28 Order still stands, subject to the parties’ stipulation.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is DENIED.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Medline Industries, Inc. ("Medline") moves for entry of an order compelling the Debtors to pay Medline's § 503(b)(9) administrative claim (the "Section 503(b)(9) Claim"), which has a balance of $1,015,909.90. The Debtors, UMB Bank, N.A. ("UMB"), and Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. ("Wells Fargo," and together with UMB, the "Banks") oppose the Motion. The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") filed a statement in support of the Motion.

A. Background

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered. As of the Petition Date, the Debtors operated six acute care hospitals (the "Hospitals").

On March 22, 2019, the Court approved a settlement agreement between the Debtors and Medline [Doc. No. 1591, Ex. A] (the "Settlement Agreement"). See Doc. No. 1887 (the "Rule 9019 Order"). The Settlement Agreement (1) fixes the amount of Medline's Section 503(b)(9) Claim at $1,281,126, Settlement Agreement at § 1.2; (2) provides that the Section 503(b)(9) Claim shall be "paid upon the effective date of a plan of reorganization, or earlier at the Debtors' discretion," id. at § 1.3; and (3) requires Medline to "support entry of an order approving the Agreement in good faith, including, among other things, by not objecting to or otherwise commencing any proceeding or taking any other action opposing the terms or implementation of this Agreement or any order approving this Agreement," id. at § 2.7.2.

On April 20, 2020, the Debtors paid Medline $265,216.15 of its Section 503(b)(9) Claim, leaving a balance of $1,015,909.90.

Subsequent to the Petition Date, Medline has continued to provide the Debtors with medical supplies and equipment. Apart from the Section 503(b)(9) Claim, the Debtors have paid Medline approximately $35 million on account of post-petition supplies that Medline has provided to the Debtors.

B. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Motion

Medline moves for an order compelling the Debtors to pay the $1,015,909.90 remaining on its Section 503(b)(9) Claim. Medline states that at the time it entered the Settlement Agreement, it did not anticipate that the Debtors would not have confirmed a plan more than a year after entry of the 9019 Order approving the Settlement Agreement. Medline argues that it is prejudiced by the Debtors' continued payment of professional fees that are pari passu with its Section 503(b)(9) Claim. Medline asserts that if there is no risk of administrative insolvency, the Debtors should be compelled to pay Medline's Section 503(b)(9) Claim immediately. Medline further argues that if there is a risk of administrative insolvency, the Court should disallow further payments of professional fees.

The Debtors oppose the Motion. The Debtors point out that under the Settlement Agreement, the Debtors are not required to pay Medline's Section 503(b)(9) Claim until the effective date of a plan. The Debtors argue that Medline has failed to show that it is entitled to reconsideration of the 9019 Order. The Debtors further contend that Medline has violated the Settlement Agreement by seeking an order compelling payment of its Section 503(b)(9) Claim on terms other than those contained in the Settlement Agreement.

UMB and Wells Fargo (collectively, the "Banks") oppose the Motion. The Banks argue that there are no valid grounds upon which the Court can compel the use of their cash collateral to pay Medline's Section 503(b)(9) Claim. The Banks also maintain that the relief sought in the Motion is premature because under the latest order authorizing the use of cash collateral, the Debtors are required to file a plan no later than June 15, 2020.

The Committee supports the Motion. The Committee points to prior pleadings in which it has expressed concern that these cases may be administratively insolvent.

Medline has not filed a reply in support of the Motion.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 503(b)(9) allows a party to seek an administrative claim for "the value of any goods received by the debtor within 20 days before the date of the commencement of a case under this title in which the goods have been sold to the debtor in the ordinary course of such debtor's business." Section 1129(a)(9)(A) requires that a plan provide for payment in cash of all administrative claims on the effective date of the plan, unless the administrative claimant has agreed to different treatment.

Medline chose to enter into the Settlement Agreement, which expressly provides that Medline's Section 503(b)(9) Claim shall be "paid upon the effective date of a plan of reorganization, or earlier at the Debtors' discretion ...." Settlement Agreement at § 1.3. The fact that the Debtors have not confirmed a plan as quickly as Medline anticipated does not warrant departure from the clear provisions of the Settlement Agreement. At the time the Settlement Agreement was negotiated, Medline could have easily anticipated the possibility that plan confirmation would be delayed. It would not have been difficult for that possibility to have been addressed in the Settlement Agreement. For example, the Settlement Agreement could have established a timetable for the payment of Medline's Section 503(b)(9) Claim in the event that a plan had not been confirmed by a particular date.

The Motion is effectively a request for reconsideration of the 9019 Order approving the Settlement Agreement. Medline has not shown that it is entitled to relief from the 9019 Order under Civil Rule 60(b). For example, as a large commercial entity advised by sophisticated counsel, Medline cannot credibly claim that the delay in plan confirmation amounts to “surprise” under Civil Rule 60(b)(1). Further, Medline’s attempt to unwind the Settlement Agreement violates that very agreement. The Settlement Agreements prohibits Medline from “commencing any proceeding or taking any other action opposing the terms or implementation of this Agreement or any order approving this Agreement.” Settlement Agreement at § 2.7.2.

Medline places substantial weight upon the fact that it has continued to provide supplies to the Debtors notwithstanding non-payment of its Section 503(b)(9) Claim. See, e.g., Motion at ¶ 11 (“Even currently, during this unprecedented COVID-19 pandemic, Medline has gone above and beyond to ensure the Debtors receive the medical supplies and equipment needed to safely operate these facilities under extraordinary conditions. Yet, the Debtors do not believe it is appropriate to pay the remaining balance of Medline’s Section 503(b)(9) Claim, when they have the funds to do so.”). Medline’s argument conflates the payment of its Section 503(b)(9) Claim with payment for post-petition supplies that Medline has provided to the Debtors in the ordinary course of business. Medline has been paid approximately $35 million for post-petition supplies furnished to the Debtors. Medline’s Section 503(b)(9) Claim pertains only to supplies Medline provided during the twenty days prior to the Petition Date. Payment of the Section 503(b)(9) Claim is an entirely separate issue from payment for the post-petition supplies.

Entry of an order compelling payment of the Section 503(b)(9) Claim would also violate the Final Order Approving Stipulation to (A) Amend the Third Amended Supplemental Cash Collateral Order, (B) Authorize Continued Use of Cash Collateral, (C) Grant Adequate Protection, (D) Modify Automatic Stay, and (E) Grant Related Relief [Doc. No. 4670] (the “Fourth Supplemental Cash Collateral Order”). The Fourth Supplemental Cash Collateral Order provides that the Debtors are authorized to use the Banks’ cash collateral in accordance with the Cash Collateral Budget [Doc. No. 4669, Ex A]. The Cash Collateral Budget does not provide for the payment of Medline’s Section 503(b)(9) Claim.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED. Within seven days of the hearing, the Debtors shall lodge an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court’s tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz, the Judge’s Law Clerks, at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling

Having reviewed the Motion and the papers filed in connection therewith, the Court believes that consensual resolution of the § 1113 issues remains possible. To that end, the Court declines to issue a final ruling on the Motion at this initial hearing. Instead, this tentative ruling provides guidance intended to facilitate and channel further negotiations.

The final hearing on the Motion shall take place on July 8, 2020, at 10:00 a.m., unless the Debtors and SEIU agree to a further extension of time to facilitate negotiations. See § 1113(d)(2) (requiring the Court to rule upon an application for modification or rejection of a collective bargaining agreement within thirty days of the initial hearing, unless the parties agree otherwise). ## I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtors move for entry of an order authorizing them to reject a collective bargaining agreement (the "CBA") between St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis") and Service Employees International Union–United Healthcare Workers West ("SEIU"). SEIU opposes the Motion.

A. Background

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered.

On February 26, 2020, the Court entered an Order (1) Approving Auction Sale Format and Bidding Procedures; (2) Approving Process for Discretionary Selection of Stalking Horse Bidder and Bid Protections; (3) Approving Form of Notice to be Provided to Interested Parties; (4) Scheduling a Court Hearing to Consider Approval of the Sale to the Highest and Best Bidder; and (5) Approving Procedures Related to the Assumption of Certain Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases [Doc. No. 4165] (the "Bidding Procedures Order"). The Bidding Procedures Order established procedures governing the auction (the "Auction") of St. Francis.

The Bidding Procedures Order authorized the Debtors to designate a Stalking Horse Bidder without further order of the Court. The Debtors designated Prime as the Stalking Horse Bidder. The Debtors received bids from potential purchasers, but after consulting with their advisors and the Consultation Parties (as defined in the Bidding Procedures Order), determined that such bids did not constitute Qualified Bids. The Debtors selected Prime as the Winning Bidder and did not conduct the Auction.

On April 9, 2020, the Court entered an order authorizing the Debtors to sell St. Francis to Prime. See Doc. No. 4511 (the "Sale Order"). Material terms of the Asset Purchase Agreement (the "APA") as they pertain to the CBA are as follows:

4.9. Contract With Unions. (a) ... The applicable Sellers and Purchaser shall each participate in all negotiations related to the potential modification and assignment of specific Seller's collective bargaining agreements to Purchaser. The applicable Sellers shall use commercially reasonable efforts to initiate discussions with Purchaser and unions and conduct discussions to renegotiate each collective bargaining agreement currently in effect with each applicable union. The applicable Sellers will not unreasonably withhold, condition or delay Bankruptcy Court approval of any successfully renegotiated collective bargaining agreement. The Parties recognize that Seller's failure to conclude a successor collective bargaining agreement shall not be a breach of Sellers' obligation under this Agreement or otherwise excuse Purchaser's obligations under this Agreement.

(b) On or before the date that is thirty (30) days after the Sale Order Date, the negotiations pursuant to Section 4.9(a) shall have resulted in each, such labor unions, agreeing to either (i) either modification of the St. Francis related collective bargaining agreements under terms that are to be substantially consistent with the Purchaser's existing and most current collective bargaining agreements with each such respective labor union, and that settle all liabilities under the existing Seller collective bargaining agreements that shall be assigned to Purchaser, provided that there are shall be no cure obligations to the Sellers or (ii) enter into new collective bargaining agreements that are substantially consistent with the Purchaser's existing collective bargaining agreements with each such respective labor union; provided, that if Purchaser and each labor union have not entered into such agreements described in (i) or (ii) above, or have entered into an agreement under (ii), then Sellers shall have the absolute right to file or take any other action to reject and terminate any such collective bargaining agreement and, in such event, the Bankruptcy Court shall have entered an order granting Sellers' requested rejection of such collective bargaining agreement prior to the Closing Date.

APA at § 4.9.

If Prime and SEIU have not consensually entered into a CBA consistent with § 4.9, Prime is not required to close the sale unless the Debtors have obtained an order authorizing rejection of the existing CBA:

Sellers shall have satisfied, in all material respects, their obligations set forth in Section 4.9(b). For the avoidance of doubt, in the event that Purchaser and each labor union has not entered into an agreement described in Section 4.9(b)(i) or (ii), then material satisfaction of Section 4.9(b) means that Seller has filed or taken action to reject and terminate any such collective bargaining agreement and that the Bankruptcy Court has entered an order granting Seller's requested rejection of such collective bargaining agreement prior to the Closing Date.

APA at § 8.7.

Either the Debtors or Prime may terminate the APA if the sale has not closed on or before September 1, 2020 (the "Termination Date"), except that the Termination Date shall be December 31, 2020 if the only condition to closing that has not been satisfied is the Attorney General's consent to the sale upon conditions consistent with those that the Purchase has agreed to accept. Id. at § 9.1(i).

B. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Motion

Debtors assert that rejection of the CBA is warranted for the following reasons:

- 1) Thorough marketing of St. Francis produced only the bid from Prime. The Debtors have facilitated negotiations between Prime and SEIU intended to result in the negotiation of a successor CBA between the parties (the "Successor CBA"). The parties did not reach agreement on the terms of a Successor CBA within the 30-day period specified in the APA. Pursuant to the APA, the Debtors now have the absolute right to take action seeking to reject the CBA.
- 2) On May 13, 2020, the Debtors delivered to SEIU a proposal providing for rejection and termination of the CBA (the "Proposal"). Under the Proposal, if SEIU consents to rejection, SEIU employees who are not offered employment by Prime will receive an allowed claim for severance (the "Severance Benefit"). If SEIU contests rejection, the Debtors will withdraw the Severance Benefit.

- 3) The marketing process has demonstrated that the CBA is not economically viable and that neither Prime nor any other entity will acquire St. Francis subject to the CBA. Upon the closing of the sale, the Debtors will no longer operate St. Francis and therefore will not need the CBA. Accordingly, rejection of the CBA is necessary to permit the Debtors to confirm a liquidating plan by facilitating the closing of the sale of St. Francis. If the CBA is not rejected prior to the closing of the sale, the Debtors will be exposed to a substantial administrative claim. In authorizing the rejection of collective bargaining agreements in connection with the Santa Clara Sale, the Court found that absent rejection the estate would almost certainly be rendered administratively insolvent.

SEIU opposes the Motion for the following reasons:

- 1) The Debtors failed to meet with SEIU at reasonable times to confer in good faith as required by § 1113. The Debtors did not respond to SEIU's request to be included in the sale process prior to the negotiation of the APA. SEIU was not provided the opportunity to discuss the treatment of the purchaser's collective bargaining obligations before the APA had been finalized and filed with the Court on April 8, 2020. The APA provides that if SEIU does not agree to modify the collective bargaining agreement or enter a new collective bargaining agreement with terms "substantially similar" to Prime's existing agreements within 30 days after entry of the Sale Order, the Debtors will have the right to reject the collective bargaining agreement and will be obligated to obtain rejection prior to the closing of the sale. The Debtors were locked into these terms before they began any discussions with SEIU. In In re Lady H Coal Co., Inc., 193 B.R. 233, 242 (Bankr. S.D.W. Va. 1996), the court rejected the debtor's attempt to reject a CBA where, as here, the Debtors did not seek rejection of the CBA until after they had entered into a sale agreement with a party not willing to assume the CBA. The Lady H court explained "that a debtor has a duty under § 1113 to not obligate itself prior to negotiations with its union employees, which would likely preclude reaching a compromise," and held that "the Debtors could not have bargained in good faith as the Debtors were, prior to any negotiations with the union, locked into at an agreement where the purchaser was not assuming the [CBA]." Lady H, 193 B.R. at 242.
- 2) The Debtors' Proposal is not based upon the most complete and reliable information available. To evaluate Prime's proposed Successor CBA, SEIU requested information about the proposed wage scale, the reasoning behind Prime's proposal to create a right to subcontract out work previously performed by SEIU, and how much of the workforce would be retained by Prime. This information has never been provided. The lack of information has made it difficult for SEIU to present a counter-proposal to Prime's proposal and has prevented SEIU from assessing the Debtors' Proposal.

- 3) The Debtors have failed to demonstrate that the Proposal, which terminates all severance obligations if SEIU contests rejection, is necessary for the Debtors to confirm a liquidating plan. The Debtors have offered to pay severance to workers not rehired by Prime, but only if SEIU does not contest rejection of the CBA. This demonstrates that the Debtors have the ability to comply with the CBA's severance obligations.

C. Discussions Between the Debtors, SEIU, and Prime

Prior to the filing of the Motion, the Debtors, Prime, and SEIU met and engaged in bargaining on three occasions—on May 1, 5, and 8. The Debtors filed the Motion on May 19. After the Motion was filed, the Debtors, Prime, and SEIU met and engaged in bargaining on June 4 and June 8. On June 4, SEIU presented a counter-proposal for a Successor CBA with Prime that was based on a redline of Prime's original proposal. Declaration of An N. Ruda [Doc. No. 4844] at ¶ 12. Prime agreed to submit a counterproposal at the June 8 bargaining session. Id.

II. Findings and Conclusions

As a preliminary matter, the Court emphasizes that the record is not complete because this is the initial hearing on the Motion, and the Debtors have not yet responded to SEIU's opposition. [Note 1] The findings set forth below are subject to adjustment based upon arguments presented at the hearing. The Court further notes that a motion to modify or terminate a CBA is unlike most motions heard by the Court, in that the statute expressly contemplates that the position of the parties may change as a result of negotiation up until the hearing date. See § 1113(b) (requiring the Debtors to meet with the union's authorized representative "at reasonable times" during "the period beginning on the date of the making of the proposal ... and ending on the date of the hearing ...").

The Court declines to rule upon the Motion at the present time. The findings set forth herein are intended to provide guidance to the parties to facilitate and channel further negotiations. "The language and history of section 1113 make clear that the preferred outcome under section 1113 is a negotiated solution rather than contract rejection." In re

AMR Corp., 477 B.R. 384, 393 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2012). In the Court's view, a negotiated resolution remains possible and would inure to the benefit of all stakeholders. The Court notes that prior to the failure of the SGM Sale, the Debtors and SEIU were able to consensually resolve issues pertaining to the CBA. The Court is aware that Prime's proposals regarding a Successor CBA differ in material respects from the terms reached with SGM. Nonetheless, the prior consensual resolution shows that a negotiated solution remains possible.

Section 1113 provides:

(a) The debtor in possession, or the trustee if one has been appointed under the provisions of this chapter, ... may assume or reject a collective bargaining agreement only in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(1) Subsequent to filing a petition and prior to filing an application seeking rejection of a collective bargaining agreement, the debtor in possession or trustee (hereinafter in this section "trustee" shall include a debtor in possession), shall—

(A) make a proposal to the authorized representative of the employees covered by such agreement, based on the most complete and reliable information available at the time of such proposal, which provides for those necessary modifications in the employee benefits and protections that are necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor and assures that all creditors, the debtor and all of the affected parties are treated fairly and equitably; and

(B) provide, subject to subsection (d)(3), the representative of the employees with such relevant information as is necessary to evaluate the proposal.

(2) During the period beginning on the date of the making of a proposal provided for in paragraph (1) and ending on the date of the hearing provided for in subsection (d)(1), the trustee shall meet, at reasonable times, with the authorized representative to confer in good faith in attempting to reach mutually satisfactory modifications of such agreement.

(c) The court shall approve an application for rejection of a collective bargaining agreement only if the court finds that—

- (1) the trustee has, prior to the hearing, made a proposal that fulfills the requirements of subsection (b)(1);
- (2) the authorized representative of the employees has refused to accept such proposal without good cause; and
- (3) the balance of the equities clearly favors rejection of such agreement.

"Bankruptcy cases generally approach this complicated statute by breaking the statute into a nine part test" first set forth in In re Am. Provision Co., 44 B.R. 907, 909 (Bankr. D. Minn. 1984). See In re Karykeion, Inc., 435 B.R. 663, 677 (Bankr. C.D. The American Provision factors are as follows:

- 1) The debtor in possession must make a proposal to the Union to modify the collective bargaining agreement.
- 2) The proposal must be based on the most complete and reliable information available at the time of the proposal.
- 3) The proposed modifications must be necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor.
- 4) The proposed modifications must assure that all creditors, the debtor and all of the affected parties are treated fairly and equitably.
- 5) The debtor must provide to the Union such relevant information as is necessary to evaluate the proposal.
- 6) Between the time of the making of the proposal and the time of the hearing on approval of the rejection of the existing collective bargaining agreement, the debtor must meet at reasonable times with the Union.
- 7) At the meetings the debtor must confer in good faith in attempting to reach mutually satisfactory modifications of the collective bargaining agreement.
- 8) The Union must have refused to accept the proposal without good cause.

bargaining agreement.

American Provision, 44 B.R. at 909.

Courts apply the American Provision factors even where a debtor is liquidating its assets and does not intend to continue in business after emerging from bankruptcy. Courts reason that "reorganization," as used in § 1113(b)(1)(A), is "generally understood to include all types of debt adjustment, including a sale of assets, piecemeal or on a going concern basis, under § 363 followed by a plan of reorganization which distributes the proceeds of the sale to creditors in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code's priority scheme." Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895. Some courts have held that where, as here, the Debtors are liquidating their assets, the phrase "necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor" means "necessary to achieve a sale under § 363 of the Bankruptcy Code." Alpha Nat. Res., Inc., 552 B.R. 314, 333 (Bankr. E.D. Va. 2016); see also Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 890 (requiring that the debtor's proposal "be necessary to permit ... those modifications necessary to consummate a going-concern sale"); In re Karykeion, Inc., 435 B.R. 663, 679 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2010) (finding that the debtor had proven that rejection was necessary when the closing of a § 363 sale was contingent on rejection of a collective bargaining agreement). Other courts have concluded that in a liquidating case, the phrase "necessary to permit reorganization of the debtor" means "necessary to accommodate confirmation of a Chapter 11 plan." Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895.

Factor 3—Necessary to Permit the Reorganization of the Debtor

In the context of this case, the term "necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor" is best interpreted to mean "necessary to permit the Debtors to confirm a liquidating plan." This interpretation aligns most closely with the manner in which the Debtors are prosecuting this case. From the outset, the Debtors have stated their intent to sell their hospitals and use the proceeds from the sales to fund a plan of liquidation. This process is well underway. The sales of O'Connor Hospital, St. Louise Regional Medical Center, and St. Vincent Medical Center have all closed.

The closing of the sale of St. Francis to Prime is essential to the Debtors' ability to confirm a liquidating plan. The failure of the prior sale of St. Francis to Strategic Global Management, Inc. has made confirmation of a liquidating plan more challenging by requiring the Debtors to remain in bankruptcy for far longer than anticipated. To satisfy Factor 3, the Debtors must demonstrate that rejection of the CBA is a prerequisite to the closing of the sale.

The Debtors assert that Factor 3 is satisfied because under the APA, if Prime has not entered into an agreement with SEIU within thirty days after entry of the Sale Order, Prime is not required to close the sale unless the CBA has been rejected. The Debtors maintain that their proposal to SEIU to reject the CBA has been made in good-faith (Factor 7) because Prime's refusal to acquire St. Francis subject to the CBA is beyond the Debtors' control. The Debtors cite In re Walter Energy, Inc., 542 B.R. 859, 885 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 2015), which held that a debtor's proposal to reject a CBA was in good faith where the only bidder willing to acquire the assets was unwilling to do so unless the CBA was rejected.

If SEIU and Prime can agree upon the terms of Successor CBA, it will not be necessary for the Debtors to obtain an order rejecting the CBA. The fact that SEIU and Prime did not agree upon a Successor CBA within thirty days after entry of the Sale Order does not foreclose the possibility of the parties reaching an agreement prior to the closing of the sale. There is still ample time for negotiations to take place. The deadline for the sale to close is September 1, 2020 if the Attorney General consents to the sale upon conditions acceptable to Prime; if the Attorney General does not so consent, the deadline is December 31, 2020. It would be premature for the Court to find that rejection of the CBA is necessary to facilitate the closing of the sale.

In a declaration filed on June 8, 2010, An N. Ruda, the Debtors' Chief Labor Negotiator, testifies that "finality of a rejection of the CBA between SEIU and Debtor SFMC would likely motivate [Prime and SEIU] to bridge their differences and achieve a new CBA prior to Closing." Ruda Decl. [Doc. No. 4845] at ¶ 15. The Court does not agree with Ruda's assessment. In the Court's view, the best means of facilitating a Successor CBA between SEIU and Prime—and therefore eliminating the necessity for the Debtors to obtain an order rejecting the CBA—is to defer ruling on the Motion. Deferral of a ruling provides all parties an incentive to attempt to resolve their differences consensually.

Factors 2 and 5—Complete Information

Factor 2 requires that the Debtors' proposal be based on the most complete and reliable information available at the time the proposal is made. Factor 5 requires that the Debtors provide SEIU with "such relevant information as is necessary to evaluate the proposal." For both factors, a debtor "must gather the 'most complete information at the time and ... base its proposal on the information it considers reliable,' excluding 'hopeful wishes, mere possibilities and speculation.' 'The breadth and depth of the requisite information will vary with the circumstances, including the size and complicity of the debtor's business and work force; the complexity of the wage and benefit structure under the collective bargaining agreement; and the extent and severity of modifications the debtor is proposing.” In re Walter Energy, Inc., 542 B.R. 859, 886 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 2015), aff’d sub nom. United Mine Workers of Am. 1974 Pension Plan & Tr. v. Walter Energy, Inc., 579 B.R. 603 (N.D. Ala. 2016), aff’d sub nom. In re Walter Energy, Inc., 911 F.3d 1121 (11th Cir. 2018) (internal citations omitted).

With respect to Prime’s proposed Successor CBA, SEIU has requested information from Prime about the reasoning behind the proposed wage scale, the reasoning for Prime’s proposal to create a right to subcontract out work previously performed by SEIU, and how much of the workforce would be retained by Prime.

Under § 1113, the obligation to provide information is directed toward the Debtors, not Prime. See Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 896 (“To satisfy the second and fifth procedural requirements, a debtor need only provide that information that is within its power to provide.”). Prime’s failure to provide the information requested by SEIU cannot prevent the Debtors from satisfying Factors 2 and 5.

That being said, the statute’s structure does not mean Prime can refuse to respond to all of SEIU’s requests for information. The Debtors have sought rejection of the CBA based upon language in the APA that Prime itself negotiated for. It is necessary for the Debtors to seek rejection only because SEIU and Prime have been unable to agree upon a Successor CBA. Under these circumstances, it is incumbent upon Prime—who benefits from the APA and the Debtors’ attempts to reject the CBA—to provide at least some information to SEIU.

As discussed above, a negotiated resolution of the § 1113 issues would inure to the benefit of all parties. The testimony of the Debtors’ Chief Labor Negotiator indicates that significant progress occurred at the June 4 and June 8 bargaining sessions. See Ruda Decl. at ¶ 12 (“In my observation [the June 4 session] was more productive than previous ones. To begin, SEIU passed a comprehensive proposal for a new CBA redlining off the new CBA originally proposed by Prime .... To its credit, Prime acknowledge the significance of the movement made by SEIU, and committed to submitting its own comprehensive counterproposal at the next meeting.”). In the Court’s view, a formal response by Prime to SEIU’s request for additional information would significantly increase the likelihood of consensual resolution.

Factor 7—Good Faith Negotiations

Factor 7 requires that the Debtors meet and confer with SEIU in good faith. “The good faith requirement under section 1113 has been interpreted to mean that the debtor must make a serious effort to negotiate.” Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 894.

According to SEIU, the Debtors cannot establish that they met and conferred in good faith regarding modification of the CBAs. SEIU asserts that by the time the Debtors commenced negotiations, the language in the APA made it foregoing conclusion that Prime would not assume the CBA. SEIU relies upon In re Lady H Coal Co., Inc., 193 B.R. 233, 242 (Bankr. S.D.W. Va. 1996) for the proposition "that a debtor has a duty under § 1113 to not obligate itself prior to negotiations with its union employees, which would likely preclude reaching a compromise." The Lady H court held that "the Debtors could not have bargained in good faith as the Debtors were, prior to any negotiations with the union, locked into at an agreement where the purchaser was not assuming the [CBA]." Id.

SEIU's reliance upon Lady H is misplaced. In Lady H, the debtor's CEO unilaterally obtained a broker to market the assets at issue, in violation of § 327. As a result of this violation, the unions received no notice of the marketing of the assets. Lady H, 193 B.R. at 242. The lack of notice deprived the unions of the "opportunity to participate in whatever process a debtor engages in to find a suitable buyer." Id. Here, by contrast, the Debtors have stated their intent to sell the St. Francis from the inception of the case. The Debtors fully complied with the requirements of § 327 when retaining Cain to market the St. Francis.

In addition, the debtor in Lady H did not pursue a possible sale to another buyer who was willing to assume the union's CBA. Id. Instead, the debtor obligated itself to a buyer that wanted to reject the CBA, primarily because that buyer had agreed to employ the debtor's officers at inflated salaries. Id. In contrast to the facts of Lady H, the record shows that the Debtors executed the APA with Prime to maximize the proceeds available to the estate, not to enrich insiders, and that the Debtors aggressively marketed St. Louise. The entire purpose of the APA with Prime was to produce additional favorable bids, some of which might include assumption of the CBAs. The Debtors were not "locked in" under the APA; the APA was merely the first step in a thorough marketing process. The fact that no other bidders emerged does not indicate that there were problems with the APA; it instead demonstrates that no buyers exist who are willing to acquire St. Louise subject to the CBA.

The only temporal requirement imposed by the statute regarding the Debtors' bargaining obligations is that the bargaining commence prior to the filing of a motion seeking relief under § 1113. § 1113(b)(1)(A). Here, the Debtors fulfilled this requirement by meeting with SEIU three times prior to the filing of the Motion.

The decision in Local 211 v. Family Snacks, Inc., Official Unsecured Creditors' Comm. (In re Family Snacks, Inc.), 257 B.R. 884, 897 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2001) shows that the Debtors are not obligated to commence bargaining at the inception of the case. Similar to this case, in Family Snacks the debtor commenced negotiations only after it had sold its assets. The Family Snacks court held that the debtor's decision to not commence negotiations until after the asset sale did not automatically bar the debtor from obtaining relief under § 1113. Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895–96.

The final hearing on the Motion shall take place on July 8, 2020, at 10:00 a.m., unless the Debtors and SEIU agree to a further extension of time to facilitate negotiations. The Debtors, SEIU, and Prime shall continue to negotiate in good faith with the objective of consensually resolving the § 1113 issues. By no later than July 1, 2020, at 5:00 p.m., the Debtors and SEIU shall submit final briefs accompanied by appropriate evidence setting forth their positions on those issues that remain in dispute.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the final hearing on the Motion.

Note 1

The hearing on the Motion was initially set for June 3, 2020, on fourteen days' notice pursuant to § 1113(d)(1). On May 20, 2020, the Court issued an order setting SEIU's deadline to file a written opposition to the Motion and providing that the Debtors' reply to SEIU's opposition could be presented orally at the hearing. See Doc. No. 4753. To provide the parties additional time to negotiate, on June 2, 2020 the Court approved a stipulated one-week continuance of the initial hearing on the Motion. See Doc. No. 4819. To enable the parties to focus their resources upon negotiation, the Court did not order the Debtors to file a reply to SEIU's opposition.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtors move for entry of an order authorizing them to reject a collective bargaining agreement (the "CBA") between St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis") and the United Nurses Association of California/Union of Health Care Professionals ("UNAC"). UNAC opposes the Motion.

A. Background

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered.

On February 26, 2020, the Court entered an Order (1) Approving Auction Sale Format and Bidding Procedures; (2) Approving Process for Discretionary Selection of Stalking Horse Bidder and Bid Protections; (3) Approving Form of Notice to be Provided to Interested Parties; (4) Scheduling a Court Hearing to Consider Approval of the Sale to the Highest and Best Bidder; and (5) Approving Procedures Related to the Assumption of Certain Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases [Doc. No. 4165] (the "Bidding Procedures Order"). The Bidding Procedures Order established procedures governing the auction (the "Auction") of St. Francis.

The Bidding Procedures Order authorized the Debtors to designate a Stalking Horse Bidder without further order of the Court. The Debtors designated Prime as the Stalking Horse Bidder. The Debtors received bids from potential purchasers, but after consulting with their advisors and the Consultation Parties (as defined in the Bidding Procedures Order), determined that such bids did not constitute Qualified Bids. The Debtors selected Prime as the Winning Bidder and did not conduct the Auction.

On April 9, 2020, the Court entered an order authorizing the Debtors to sell St. Francis to Prime. See Doc. No. 4511 (the "Sale Order"). Material terms of the Asset Purchase Agreement (the "APA") as they pertain to the CBA are as follows:

4.9. Contract With Unions. (a) ... The applicable Sellers and Purchaser shall each participate in all negotiations related to the potential modification and assignment of specific Seller's collective bargaining agreements to Purchaser. The applicable Sellers shall use commercially reasonable efforts to initiate discussions with Purchaser and unions and conduct discussions to renegotiate each collective bargaining agreement currently in effect with each applicable union. The applicable Sellers will not unreasonably withhold, condition or delay Bankruptcy Court approval of any successfully renegotiated collective bargaining agreement. The Parties recognize that Seller's failure to conclude a successor collective bargaining agreement shall not be a breach of Sellers' obligation under this Agreement or otherwise excuse Purchaser's obligations under this Agreement.

(b) On or before the date that is thirty (30) days after the Sale Order Date, the negotiations pursuant to Section 4.9(a) shall have resulted in each, such labor unions, agreeing to either (i) either modification of the St. Francis related collective bargaining agreements under terms that are to be substantially consistent with the Purchaser's existing and most current collective bargaining agreements with each such respective labor union, and that settle all liabilities under the existing Seller collective bargaining agreements that shall be assigned to Purchaser, provided that there are shall be no cure obligations to the Sellers or (ii) enter into new collective bargaining agreements that are substantially consistent with the Purchaser's existing collective bargaining agreements with each such respective labor union; provided, that if Purchaser and each labor union have not entered into such agreements described in (i) or (ii) above, or have entered into an agreement under (ii), then Sellers shall have the absolute right to file or take any other action to reject and terminate any such collective bargaining agreement and, in such event, the Bankruptcy Court shall have entered an order granting Sellers' requested rejection of such collective bargaining agreement prior to the Closing Date.

If Prime and UNAC have not consensually entered into a CBA consistent with § 4.9, Prime is not required to close the sale unless the Debtors have obtained an order authorizing rejection of the existing CBA:

Sellers shall have satisfied, in all material respects, their obligations set forth in Section 4.9(b). For the avoidance of doubt, in the event that Purchaser and each labor union has not entered into an agreement described in Section 4.9(b)(i) or (ii), then material satisfaction of Section 4.9(b) means that Seller has filed or taken action to reject and terminate any such collective bargaining agreement and that the Bankruptcy Court has entered an order granting Seller's requested rejection of such collective bargaining agreement prior to the Closing Date.

APA at § 8.7.

Either the Debtors or Prime may terminate the APA if the sale has not closed on or before September 1, 2020 (the "Termination Date"), except that the Termination Date shall be December 31, 2020 if the only condition to closing that has not been satisfied is the Attorney General's consent to the sale upon conditions consistent with those that the Purchase has agreed to accept. Id. at § 9.1(i).

B. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Motion

Debtors assert that rejection of the CBA is warranted for the following reasons:

- 1) Thorough marketing of St. Francis produced only the bid from Prime. The Debtors have facilitated negotiations between Prime and UNAC intended to result in the negotiation of a successor CBA between the parties (the "Successor CBA"). The parties did not reach agreement on the terms of a Successor CBA within the 30-day period specified in the APA. Pursuant to the APA, the Debtors now have the absolute right to take action seeking to reject the CBA.
- 2) On May 13, 2020, the Debtors delivered to UNAC a proposal providing for rejection and termination of the CBA (the "Proposal"). Under the Proposal, if UNAC consents to rejection, UNAC employees who are not offered employment by Prime will receive an allowed claim for severance (the "Severance Benefit"). If UNAC contests rejection, the Debtors will withdraw the Severance Benefit.
- 3) The marketing process has demonstrated that the CBA is not economically viable and that neither Prime nor any other entity will acquire St. Francis subject to the CBA. Upon the closing of the sale, the Debtors will no longer operate St. Francis and therefore will not need the CBA. Therefore, rejection of the CBA is necessary to permit the Debtors to confirm a liquidating plan by facilitating the closing of the sale of St. Francis. If the CBA is not rejected prior to the closing of the sale, the Debtors will be exposed to a substantial administrative claim. In authorizing the rejection of collective bargaining agreements in connection with the Santa Clara Sale, the Court found that absent rejection the estate would almost certainly be rendered administratively insolvent.

UNAC opposes the Motion for the following reasons:

- 1) The Debtors have failed to negotiate in good faith. The Debtors have refused to meaningfully respond to UNAC's requests for information on the impact that the CBA has on St. Francis' profitability. This refusal is motivated by the Debtors' desire to conceal the fact that St. Francis is profitable even if the CBA remains in effect. The question of projected CBA costs is obviously relevant to whether rejection of the CBA is necessary to facilitate the closing of the sale to Prime. Because the Debtors have failed to provide this information, they cannot demonstrate that rejection of the CBA is necessary to facilitate the sale.
- 2) As a further example of the Debtors' lack of good faith, the Debtors have taken the position that the entirety of the negotiations are protected under Evidence Rule 408. The Debtors' position is not tenable, because the Court cannot determine whether the Debtors have satisfied the requirements of § 1113 if the entire bargaining process is shielded from judicial review.
- 3) The Debtors have attempted to circumvent the requirements of § 1113 by structuring the APA to effectively lock in rejection prior to any meaningful negotiations and by failing to provide UNAC information regarding comparative cost-savings and economic projections necessary to facilitate good-faith negotiations. UNAC has good cause to reject the Proposal because St. Francis is financially viable even without rejection of the CBA.

C. Discussions Between the Debtors, UNAC, and Prime

Prior to the filing of the Motion, the Debtors, Prime, and UNAC met and engaged in bargaining on six occasions—on April 22, April 28, May 1, May 5, May 6, and May 8. The Debtors filed the Motion on May 19. After the Motion was filed, the Debtors, Prime, and UNAC met and engaged in bargaining on May 19, May 21, May 26, June 2, and June 5. The parties intend to meet again on June 9.

II. Findings and Conclusions

As a preliminary matter, the Court emphasizes that the record is not complete because this is the initial hearing on the Motion, and the Debtors have not yet responded to UNAC's opposition. [Note 1] The findings set forth below are subject to adjustment based upon arguments presented at the hearing. The Court further notes that a motion to modify or terminate a CBA is unlike most motions heard by the Court, in that the statute expressly contemplates that the position of the parties may change as a result of negotiation up until the hearing date. See § 1113(b) (requiring the Debtors to meet with the union's authorized representative "at reasonable times" during "the period beginning on the date of the making of the proposal ... and ending on the date of the hearing ...").

The Court declines to rule upon the Motion at the present time. The findings set forth herein are intended to provide guidance to the parties to facilitate and channel further negotiations. "The language and history of section 1113 make clear that the preferred outcome under section 1113 is a negotiated solution rather than contract rejection." In re AMR Corp., 477 B.R. 384, 393 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2012). In the Court's view, a negotiated resolution remains possible and would inure to the benefit of all stakeholders. The Court notes that prior to the failure of the SGM Sale, the Debtors and UNAC were able to consensually resolve issues pertaining to the CBA. The Court is aware that Prime's proposals regarding a future CBA differ in material respects from the terms reached with SGM. Nonetheless, the prior consensual resolution shows that a negotiated solution remains possible.

Section 1113 provides:

- (a) The debtor in possession, or the trustee if one has been appointed under the provisions of this chapter, ... may assume or reject a collective bargaining agreement only in accordance with the provisions of this section.
- (b)
  - (1) Subsequent to filing a petition and prior to filing an application seeking rejection of a collective bargaining agreement, the debtor in possession or trustee (hereinafter in this section "trustee" shall include a debtor in possession), shall—covered by such agreement, based on the most complete and reliable information available at the time of such proposal, which provides for those necessary modifications in the employee benefits and protections that are necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor and assures that all creditors, the debtor and all of the affected parties are treated fairly and equitably; and

(B) provide, subject to subsection (d)(3), the representative of the employees with such relevant information as is necessary to evaluate the proposal.

(2) During the period beginning on the date of the making of a proposal provided for in paragraph (1) and ending on the date of the hearing provided for in subsection (d)(1), the trustee shall meet, at reasonable times, with the authorized representative to confer in good faith in attempting to reach mutually satisfactory modifications of such agreement.

(c) The court shall approve an application for rejection of a collective bargaining agreement only if the court finds that—

(1) the trustee has, prior to the hearing, made a proposal that fulfills the requirements of subsection (b)(1);

(2) the authorized representative of the employees has refused to accept such proposal without good cause; and

(3) the balance of the equities clearly favors rejection of such agreement.

American Provision, 44 B.R. at 909.

Courts apply the American Provision factors even where a debtor is liquidating its assets and does not intend to continue in business after emerging from bankruptcy. Courts reason that "reorganization," as used in § 1113(b)(1)(A), is "generally understood to include all types of debt adjustment, including a sale of assets, piecemeal or on a going concern basis, under § 363 followed by a plan of reorganization which distributes the proceeds of the sale to creditors in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code's priority scheme." Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895. Some courts have held that where, as here, the Debtors are liquidating their assets, the phrase "necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor" means "necessary to achieve a sale under § 363 of the Bankruptcy Code." Alpha Nat. Res., Inc., 552 B.R. 314, 333 (Bankr. E.D. Va. 2016); see also Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 890 (requiring that the debtor's proposal "be necessary to permit ... those modifications necessary to consummate a going-concern sale"); In re Karykeion, Inc., 435 B.R. 663, 679 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2010) (finding that the debtor had proven that rejection was necessary when the closing of a § 363 sale was contingent on rejection of a collective bargaining agreement). Others courts have concluded that in a liquidating case, the phrase "necessary to permit reorganization of the debtor" means "necessary to accommodate confirmation of a Chapter 11 plan." Family

Factor 3—Necessary to Permit the Reorganization of the Debtor

In the context of this case, the term “necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor” is best interpreted to mean “necessary to permit the Debtors to confirm a liquidating plan.” This interpretation aligns most closely with the manner in which the Debtors are prosecuting this case. From the outset, the Debtors have stated their intent to sell their hospitals and use the proceeds from the sales to fund a plan of liquidation. This process is well underway. The sales of O’Connor Hospital, St. Louise Regional Medical Center, and St. Vincent Medical Center have all closed.

The closing of the sale of St. Francis to Prime is essential to the Debtors’ ability to confirm a liquidating plan. The failure of the prior sale of St. Francis to Strategic Global Management, Inc. has made confirmation of a liquidating plan more challenging by requiring the Debtors to remain in bankruptcy for far longer than had been anticipated. To satisfy Factor 3, the Debtors must demonstrate that rejection of the CBA is a prerequisite to the closing of the sale.

The Debtors assert that Factor 3 is satisfied because under the APA, if Prime has not entered into an agreement with UNAC within thirty days after entry of the Sale Order, Prime is not required to close the sale unless the CBA has been rejected. The Debtors maintain that their proposal to UNAC to reject the CBA has been made in good-faith (Factor 7) because Prime’s refusal to acquire St. Francis subject to the CBA is beyond the Debtors’ control. The Debtors cite In re Walter Energy, Inc., 542 B.R. 859, 885 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 2015), which held that a debtor’s proposal to reject a CBA was in good faith where the only bidder willing to acquire the assets was unwilling to do so unless the CBA was rejected.

If UNAC and Prime can agree upon the terms of a Successor CBA, it will not be necessary for the Debtors to obtain an order rejecting the CBA. The fact that UNAC and Prime did not agree upon a Successor CBA within thirty days after entry of the Sale Order does not foreclose the possibility of the parties reaching an agreement prior to the closing of the sale. There is still ample time for negotiations to take place. The deadline for the sale to close is September 1, 2020 if the Attorney General consents to the sale upon conditions acceptable to Prime; if the Attorney General does not so consent, the deadline is December 31, 2020. It would be premature for the Court to find that rejection of the CBA is necessary to facilitate the closing of the sale.

In a declaration filed on June 8, 2010, An N. Ruda, the Debtors’ Chief Labor Negotiator, testifies that “finality of a rejection of the CBA between UNAC and Debtor SFMC would likely motivate [Prime and UNAC] to bridge their differences and achieve a new CBA prior to Closing.” Ruda Decl. [Doc. No. 4845] at ¶ 15. The Court does not agree with Ruda’s assessment. In the Court’s view, the best means of facilitating a Successor CBA between UNAC and Prime—and therefore eliminating the necessity for the Debtors to obtain an order rejecting the CBA—is to defer ruling on the Motion. Deferral of a ruling provides all parties an incentive to attempt to resolve their differences consensually.

Factors 2 and 5—Complete Information

Factor 2 requires that the Debtors’ proposal be based on the most complete and reliable information available at the time the proposal is made. Factor 5 requires that the Debtors provide UNAC with “such relevant information as is necessary to evaluate the proposal.” For both factors, a debtor “must gather the ‘most complete information at the time and ... base its proposal on the information it considers reliable,’ excluding ‘hopeful wishes, mere possibilities and speculation.’ ‘The breadth and depth of the requisite information will vary with the circumstances, including the size and complicacy of the debtor’s business and work force; the complexity of the wage and benefit structure under the collective bargaining agreement; and the extent and severity of modifications the debtor is proposing.’” In re Walter Energy, Inc., 542 B.R. 859, 886 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 2015), aff’d sub nom. United Mine Workers of Am. 1974 Pension Plan & Tr. v. Walter Energy, Inc., 579 B.R. 603 (N.D. Ala. 2016), *aff’d sub nom. UNAC has requested formal financial audits and annual reports for St. Francis for fiscal years 2016 through 2019 and projections for fiscal year 2020 and fiscal year 2021. In response to this request, the Debtors provided UNAC with links to the Monthly Operating Reports filed in the bankruptcy case. The Debtors declined to provide further information, asserting that the information sought was “irrelevant” given that the APA does not require Prime to close the sale unless (a) UNAC negotiates a collective bargaining agreement substantially consistent with UNAC’s existing agreements at other Prime hospitals or (b) the Debtors obtain rejection of the CBA. According to the Debtors:

[T]he [requests for information] cover the Debtors’ historic operational and employment issues and, as such, are not relevant or necessary to UNAC’s evaluation of [the] proposed collective bargaining agreement ... provided to UNAC by Prime. In fact, the issue at hand is whether Prime and UNAC can reach agreement on a new or modified CBA under terms agreeable to Prime and UNAC. If that cannot occur within 30 days, the Debtors, which will no longer be operating St. Francis Medical Center upon the sale closing to Prime, are

E-mail from Sam J. Alberts to Max Carbucci et al. dated April 28, 2020, at 8:56 a.m. [Doc. No. 4800, Ex. 8].

The Debtors reiterated this objection in response to UNAC's request for information regarding DSH funding received by St. Francis in 2016–2019, St. Francis' receivables for 2019 and 2020, and the amount of total cost savings that Prime's proposal would achieve versus the existing CBA. The Debtors have provided to UNAC a one-page document captioned "SFMC—Normalized PL Analysis" (the "PL Statement") that contains financial data for fiscal years 2017–2019 and data for the trailing twelve months as of February 2020 and March 2020. The PL Statement contains line items for "Salaries and Wages," "Registry Labor," and "Contract Labor," but does not itemize labor costs attributable to UNAC.

The cursory financial information provided by the Debtors to UNAC is not sufficient. As explained in the discussion of Factor 3, a Court order authorizing rejection of the CBA will not be necessary if UNAC and Prime succeed in negotiating a Successor CBA. In order to evaluate a Successor CBA, UNAC must have access to information showing the cost savings Prime would achieve under the Successor CBA versus the existing CBA. Prime is in the best position to provide such information. However, the Court recognizes that under § 1113, the obligation to provide information is directed toward the Debtors, not Prime. See Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 896 ("To satisfy the second and fifth procedural requirements, a debtor need only provide that information that is within its power to provide."). If Prime fails to provide information regarding cost savings in connection with future operations, the Debtors are obligated to provide UNAC historical information showing the amount of St. Francis' labor costs that are attributable to the CBA. [Note 2] UNAC is entitled to information allowing it to assess the economic impacts of the CBA upon the continued operation of St. Francis.

The Court has only limited knowledge of the financial information maintained by the Debtors and so is not in a position to delineate precisely the financial information that must be provided. The Court can say with confidence that the PL Statement is inadequate. St. Francis is being sold for approximately $276 million. In connection with the sale, the Debtors have been advised by Cain Brothers, an experienced investment firm. The Debtors provided parties interested in bidding for St. Francis with access to a data room. Clearly it is well within the Debtors' ability to provide more than the one-page PL Statement.

The Debtors' failure to provide sufficient information to UNAC means that the Debtors cannot carry their burden of proof with respect to Factor 4 (rejection of the CBA treats all parties fairly and equitably), Factor 8 (UNAC has refused to accept the Debtors' proposal without good cause), or Factor 9 (the balance of the equities favors rejection). The Court cannot make findings with respect to any of these factors in the absence of information regarding the portion of St. Francis' costs that are attributable to the CBA.

Factor 7—Good Faith Negotiations

Factor 7 requires that the Debtors meet and confer with UNAC in good faith. "The good faith requirement under section 1113 has been interpreted to mean that the debtor must make a serious effort to negotiate." Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 894.

According to UNAC, the Debtors' position that the negotiation process should remain confidential pursuant to Evidence Rule 408 establishes that the Debtors are not negotiating in good faith. The Court does not agree with UNAC's contention that the Debtors' invocation of Evidence Rule 408 is an "absurd position" that has "corrupted" the bargaining process. Doc. No. 4800 at 27.

UNAC is correct that some aspects of the § 1113 negotiations must be disclosed in order for the Court to determine whether the statute's requirements have been satisfied. Obviously, if all negotiations remain confidential, the Court could not determine whether the Debtors have made "a serious effort to negotiate." Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 894. On the other hand, courts have recognized that confidentiality can facilitate § 1113 negotiations. In In re AMR Corp., 478 B.R. 599, 608 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2012), the court held that the introduction of evidence of certain conversations conducted in an attempt to settle § 1113 issues "would have a significant chilling effect on the parties' attempts to reach negotiations solutions to the problems of Section 1113" and would "add yet another obstacle to what all agree is already an exceedingly difficult process."

The upshot is that while the assertion that all § 1113 negotiations must remain confidential goes too far, there is a place for confidentiality in the § 1113 negotiating process. Having not been privy to the negotiations between the Debtors, UNAC, and Prime, the Court is not in a position to specify with particularity the types of information that could appropriately be deemed confidential. The Court finds it worth emphasizing that in connection with the failed SGM Sale, the Debtors and UNAC were able to consensually resolve § 1113 issues without confidentiality becoming an issue.

III. Conclusion

The final hearing on the Motion shall take place on July 8, 2020, at 10:00 a.m., unless the Debtors and UNAC agree to a further extension of time to facilitate negotiations. The Debtors, UNAC, and Prime shall continue to negotiate in good faith with the objective of consensually resolving the § 1113 issues. By no later than July 1, 2020, at 5:00 p.m., the Debtors and UNAC shall submit final briefs accompanied by appropriate evidence setting forth their positions on those issues that remain in dispute.

If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1

The hearing on the Motion was initially set for June 3, 2020, on fourteen days' notice pursuant to § 1113(d)(1). On May 20, 2020, the Court issued an order setting UNAC's deadline to file a written opposition to the Motion and providing that the Debtors' reply to UNAC's opposition could be presented orally at the hearing. See Doc. No. 4753. To provide the parties additional time to negotiate, on June 2, 2020 the Court approved a stipulated one-week continuance of the initial hearing on the Motion. See Doc. No. 4819. To enable the parties to focus their resources upon negotiation, the Court did not order the Debtors to file a reply to UNAC's opposition.

Note 2

The statute's structure does not mean Prime can refuse to respond to all of UNAC's requests for information. The Debtors have sought rejection of the CBA based upon language in the APA that Prime itself negotiated for. It is necessary for the Debtors to seek rejection only because UNAC and Prime have been unable to agree upon a Successor CBA. Under these circumstances, it is incumbent upon Prime—who benefits from the APA and the Debtors' attempts to reject the CBA—make a good-faith effort to provide at least some information to UNAC.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

LCI Group Limited, LLC (the “Debtor”) filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition on December 19, 2019 (the “Petition Date”) [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor’s only significant asset consists of an ownership interest in real property located at 15 Upper Blackwater Canyon Road, Rolling Hills, CA 90274 (the “Property”).

On Schedule D, the Debtor listed the secured claim of So-Cal Capital, LLC (the “Movant”), the holder of a first-priority deed of trust on the Property, in the amount of $4,331,518. See Doc. No. 1. In addition to the Movant’s interest, the Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector and the Rolling Hills Community Association hold secured claims against the Property, in the amounts of $61,918.18 and $11,255.34 respectively, and the Internal Revenue Service asserts an unsecured priority claim totaling $1,200. See id.; see also Claims Register. The Debtor’s bankruptcy was commenced to halt a foreclosure sale initiated by the Movant, given that the Debtor had not made payments on the Property since July 2019. Declaration of Lawrence Underwood [Doc. No. 24] (“Underwood Decl.”), ¶ 7.

On January 6, 2020, the Movant filed a motion for relief from the automatic stay, seeking to regain possession of the Property (the “Stay Relief Motion”). The Debtor opposed the Stay Relief Motion. On January 28, 2020, the Court denied the Stay Relief Motion, subject to certain conditions to be fulfilled by the Debtor (the “January 28 Order”). More specifically, the Court instructed the Debtor to obtain an order contemplating the sale of the Property by no later than June 15, 2020. Pursuant to the January 28 Order, the Debtor was required to close the sale of the Property by no later than July 15, 2020. The findings and conclusions with respect to the Stay Relief Motion may be found in the Court’s final ruling [Doc. No. 17], which the Court incorporates herein by reference.

Summary of the Motion

On May 15, 2020, the Debtor filed a Motion to Extend the Deadlines Set by this Court in its January 28, 2020 Order Denying Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (the “Motion”). The Motion is supported by declarations submitted by the Debtor’s bankruptcy counsel, real estate broker, and Lawrence Underwood (“Underwood”), the Debtor’s managing member. In seeking an extension of the above-referenced deadlines (the “Deadlines”), the Debtor makes the following arguments and representations:

The Debtor requests at least a six-month extension of the Deadlines, in light of the stresses caused by COVID-19 on the luxury real estate market. Although the Debtor has “made every effort” to comply with the January 28 Order, the healthcare crisis has made it impossible and unrealistic to comply with said order. The Debtor has worked closely with Keith Kelley (“Kelley”) of Palm Realty Boutique to aggressively market the Property, which is currently listed for sale at $6,950,000, although initially valued between $7,000,000 and $7,950,000. The Debtor’s efforts to sell the Property include setting up “multiple showings per week prior to COVID-19,” and more recently making available a virtual tour and walkthrough videos of the Property. However, even with the availability of virtual showings, the reality is that potential buyers will not make an offer without inspecting the Property in person. Declaration of Keith Kelley (“Kelley Decl.”), ¶ 4. Although “several potential buyers” were interested in the Property at one point, including one businessman from China, the Debtor was not able to secure any offers. Underwood Decl., ¶ 8. Subsequent to the COVID-19 lockdown, a “potential buyer” cancelled a showing three weeks ago, and more recently, two showings took place last week. Kelley Decl., ¶ 4. Prior to filing the Motion, the Debtor attempted to enter into a stipulation with the Movant without success.

The request to postpone the Deadlines is only premised on the Court’s equitable powers under 11 U.S.C. § 105(a). Except for a Bankruptcy Appellate Panel decision that recites the provisions under § 105(a), the Debtor has not cited any authority supporting its proposed application of the Bankruptcy Code.

On May 26, 2020, the Movant submitted a timely response to the Motion [Doc. No. 28] (the “Opposition”). The Opposition is supported by the declaration of Patrick Lacy (“Lacy”), who is employed by the Movant and oversees servicing of Debtor’s loan to the Movant. Declaration of Patrick Lacy (“Lacy Decl.”), ¶ 1. The Movant advances the following points in opposition:

The Court should deny the Motion for three reasons: (1) the deadline to appeal the January 28 Order has elapsed; (2) there is no cause to reconsider the January 28 Order; and (3) and any such extension of the Deadlines would cause disproportionate harm to the Movant. First, as determined in Ritzen Grp., Inc. v. Jackson Masonry, LLC, 140 S. Ct. 582 (2020), a stay relief order constitutes a “final, appealable order.” Moreover, pursuant to Fed. R. Bank. P. 8002, a notice of appeal must be filed with the bankruptcy clerk within 14 days of the order being appealed. Accordingly, the Debtor failed to file an appeal of the January 28 Order by the deadline of February 11, 2020. Second, the Debtor presents no authority for its argument that the Court may rely on § 105(a) to reconsider the January 28 Order. Additionally, a review of the supporting declarations indicates that the Debtor’s marketing efforts have only generated four showings—two pre-shutdown and two post-shutdown—and elicited no offers. Based on Lacy’s declaration, Kelley, along with co-broker Gordon Inman, have participated in four of the eight post-COVID-19 real estate sales in the Rolling Hills Area. See Lacy Decl., ¶ 4. For instance, the residence located at 8 Upper Blackwater Canyon Road, Rolling Hills, CA (“8 Upper Blackwater Canyon Road”), one block away from the Property, was sold on or about May 12, 2020 for $4,720,000, following a significant price drop. Lacy Decl., ¶¶ 4-5, Ex. C (MLS Listing for 8 Upper Blackwater Canyon Road). This motion is another “empty promise” by the Debtor to enable Underwood to live rent-free in luxury. Notably, in an e-mail from Underwood to the Movant, dated December 17, 2019, Underwood claimed that he was confident the Property would be sold within thirty days. See Lacy Decl., ¶ 7; Ex. F. The Property has already been exposed to the market for a period of approximately ten months, and the reason that it has not been purchased yet is due to Debtor’s unrealistic asking price, both before and after COVID-19. Third, the equity in the Property has been severely impacted by the pandemic, and the Motion must be denied to permit Movant to protect its secured interest by immediately selling the Property.

The Debtor submitted a timely response to the Opposition, asserting the following arguments and representations:

The Opposition is not persuasive as it fails to consider several critical facts. First, the Debtor is taking steps to maintain the Property and protect the substantial equity contained therein. Second, the Movant paints an inaccurate picture of the 2020 luxury real estate market. Although it is true that several neighboring properties around the Property have been recently sold, the real estate market in Los Angeles County has fallen by about 45% this year, compared to the number of homes sold in 2019 during the same period. See Supplemental Declaration of Keith Kelley (“Kelley Supp. Decl.”), ¶ 4. Additionally, only one residence in the Rolling Hills area has sold for over $5 million this year, compared to the three sold in 2019. Id. Kelley provides further anecdotal commentary in support of the proposition that the real estate market in Rolling Hills changes from year to year. See id. at ¶¶ 4-5. Based on Kelley’s experience as a broker, it is not that “luxury real estates are not worth the price they are asking, but rather that it is taking longer to find the interested buyers because of Covid-19's impact." Id. at ¶ 4. Notably, the Debtor had a written offer last week for $5,130,000 and another showing was scheduled for June 4, 2020. Id. at ¶ 5. Last, according to Underwood, the Debtor is willing to lower its asking price to facilitate the sale of the Property. Supplemental Declaration of Underwood, ¶ 3.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

The issue presently before the Court is whether the Court should exercise its equitable powers to extend certain deadlines associated with the sale of the Property. Said deadlines were established as part of the Court's denial of the Stay Relief Motion by way of the January 28 Order. The January 28 Order provides in relevant part:

The Motion is DENIED, subject to the condition that Debtor must obtain an order authorizing sale of the Property by no later than June 15, 2020, either through a sale motion or approval of a Chapter 11 plan that provides for the Property's sale. The sale of the Property must close by no later than July 15, 2020. If the Debtor fails to comply with either deadline, the Court will grant the stay-relief requested in the Motion, without further notice or hearing. In the event the Debtor fails to comply with these deadlines, Movant shall submit a declaration so attesting, accompanied by a proposed order lifting the automatic stay. The Court adopts its tentative ruling [Doc. No. 17] as the final ruling and incorporates herein, in full, by reference.

See Doc. No. 19.

An order granting or denying a motion for relief from the automatic stay is a final order. In re Greenstein, 576 B.R. 139, 170 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), aff'd, 589 B.R. 854 (C.D. Cal. 2018), aff'd, 788 F. App'x 497 (9th Cir. 2019) (citing Samson v. W. Capital Partners, LLC (In re Blixseth), 684 F.3d 865, 866 n.1 (9th Cir. 2012)). A final order of the court cannot be collaterally attacked. Id.; Heritage Pac. Fin. LLC v. Machuca (In re Machuca), 483 B.R. 726, 733 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 2012). While § 105(a) of the Bankruptcy Code authorizes courts to "issue any order, process, or judgment that is necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this title," the equitable powers assigned to bankruptcy courts are limited when it comes to a request to reconsider a final order. "Despite the broad grant of equitable powers, bankruptcy courts cannot use them 'to defeat clear statutory language, nor to reach results inconsistent with the statutory scheme established by the Code.'" In re Reinertson, 241 B.R. 451, 455 (B.A.P. 9th Cir.

1999) (quoting Committee of Creditors Holding Unsecured Claims v. Koch Oil Co. (In re Powerine Oil Co.), 59 F.3d 969, 973 (9th Cir.1995). “The bankruptcy court’s inherent power to reconsider orders has been merged into the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.” Id. at 456 (bankruptcy court abused its discretion when vacating an order on a reaffirmation agreement under § 105(a), without regard to Civil Rule 60(b)).

As an initial matter, the Court deems the request to extend the Deadlines under § 105(a) as a collateral attack of the January 28 Order, which is a final order on a relief from stay motion. However, even if the Court were to construe the Motion as a direct attack against the January 28 Order, the Debtor has not persuaded the Court that (a) it has been impossible and unrealistic to timely sell the Property, even in light of COVID-19, or (b) that the Property stands a better chance of being sold in the next six months.

The Debtor has had ample opportunity to market and sell the Property, before and after the restrictions resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic. The Court notes that the Debtor did not dispute the contention that the Property has been listed for sale since August 5, 2019. See Lacy Declaration, ¶ 7. At the outset of this case, the Debtor readily moved to retain the services of bankruptcy counsel and a real estate broker to accomplish the sale. Even after shutdown, the Debtor continued to have an opportunity to market the Property, and it did so by, inter alia, organizing virtual tours, contacting potential buyers, and decreasing the asking price for the Property from $7,950,000 to $6,950,000. Through its efforts, the Debtor was able to show the Property to potential buyers, and it received recent indications of interest and even a written offer for $5,130,000. Because it has had a meaningful opportunity to sell the Property, the Debtor’s inability to comply with the Deadlines arises from the strategy to sell the Property for an infeasible asking price. The Court further notes that despite present market conditions luxury residences in the Rolling Hills area have continued to sell, even after the COVID-19 shutdown. In fact, one of these residences was brokered and sold by Kelley, in roughly the same location as the Property, for $4,720,000, following a significant price decrease. See Lacy Decl., ¶¶ 4-5; Kelley Supp. Decl., ¶ 4. Although the Debtor promises to lower the asking price on the Property, this action should have contemplated earlier, not only because of COVID-19, but also given that the Debtor and its professionals recognized the volatility of the luxury real estate market. Accordingly, the Debtor acknowledged such volatility in the Reply:

Each year the sale of luxury real estate changes in Rolling Hills because the area is so diverse in the type of properties it offers. In the past there were lot of equestrian people buying luxury real estate with horse facilities and were ready to pay the premium price to purchase. Another year the Rolling Hills saw a drastic increase in buying luxury real estate with an ocean view.

Reply at 3. And based on the Debtor's marketing strategy, it is unclear whether the Property stands a better chance of being sold in the next six months. Critically, a potential resurgence of COVID-19 cases in the months to come could result in an even more depressed market for luxury residences. In light of the uncertainty caused by the pandemic, the Debtor's promises to sell the Property "as soon as possible" are not well justified. Relatedly, the Debtor's inability to accomplish the sale of the Property creates uncertainty as to whether Movant's interest therein remains adequately protected.

In sum, the depressed market for upscale residences in the Los Angeles area may be depressed for some time to come. COVID-19 has added to the downward pressure, but it is not the sole cause. If the Debtor receives any financially workable offers on the Property, the parties would be strongly encouraged to enter into a stipulation extending the Deadlines. However, absent any indication that the Property will be imminently sold, the Court declines to reconsider the January 28 Order.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED. The January 28 Order still stands, subject to the parties' stipulation.

The Debtor shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

On January 18, 2019 (the "Petition Date"), Bahram Zendedel ("Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. Debtor scheduled a community interest in real property located at 1712 Livonia Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90035 (the "Property").

On May 16, 2018 (prior to the Petition Date), Debtor executed a quitclaim deed transferring the Property to Nazila Zendedel ("Nazila") [Note 1] as her sole and separate property.

On May 28, 2019, the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") filed a complaint against Nazila, seeking to avoid and recover the transfer of the Property (the “Nazila Complaint”). As an affirmative defense, Nazila asserts that there is no equity in the Property because it is encumbered by lien in favor of Pedram Shamekh (“Shamekh,” and the lien in favor of Shamekh, the “Shamekh Lien”).

On March 12, 2020, the Trustee filed a complaint against Shamekh, seeking to avoid the Shamekh Lien (the “Shamekh Complaint”). Among other things, the Shamekh Complaint alleges that the Shamekh Lien is avoidable as a preferential transfer.

On April 16, 2020, the Court granted the Trustee’s motion to consolidate the litigation of the Shamekh Complaint and the Nazila Complaint. The Court found that consolidation served the interests of judicial economy since both actions concerned the same Property and involved common issues of fact regarding whether various transfers facilitated by the Debtor were done with fraudulent intent. Notwithstanding the consolidation, the Court stated that it would maintain separate dockets for both actions to avoid confusion.

Having reviewed the Joint Status Report filed in the Shamekh Complaint and the Unilateral Status Report filed in the Nazila Complaint, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In the Shamekh Complaint, Defendant has timely demanded a jury trial and has not filed a proof of claim against the estate. Because this is an avoidance action, Defendant is entitled to a jury trial. See Langenkamp v. Culp, 498 U.S. 42, 45 (1990) (“If a party does not submit a claim against the bankruptcy estate, however, the trustee can recover allegedly preferential transfers only by filing what amounts to a legal action to recover a monetary transfer. In those circumstances the preference defendant is entitled to a jury trial.”).
- 2) Shamekh has not consented to having the jury trial conducted by the Bankruptcy Court. Under Bankruptcy Rule 9015(b), the Bankruptcy Court may conduct a jury trial only with the consent of all parties. All proceedings through and including the Pretrial Conference will take place before the Bankruptcy Court. After the Pretrial Conference has been completed, these consolidated actions will be transferred to the District Court, which will conduct the jury trial. See generally Sigma Micro Corp. v. Healthcentral.com (In re Healthcentral.com), 504 F.3d 775, 787–88 (9th Cir. 2007) (providing that where a right to a jury trial exists, the Bankruptcy Court retains jurisdiction to hear and determine all pretrial matters, and the action should be transferred to the District Court only once it has reached the trial stage).
- 3) Shamekh asserts that the Court should sanction the Trustee based upon actions the Trustee has taken in a related action pending before the Los Angeles Superior Court (the “State Court Action”). A Status Report is not the proper mechanism for presenting a request for sanctions. The Court will entertain a request for sanctions only if all procedural requirements are fastidiously complied with. Further, while the Court understands the adversarial position of the parties, a motion for sanctions is seldom a productive means of advancing a party’s position in litigation.

- 4) Shamekh and the Trustee have both requested an extension of the litigation deadlines previously ordered. The prior litigation deadlines are extended as follows:
  - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 10/15/2020.
  - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 1/26/2021.
  - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 2/25/2021.
  - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 3/16/2021. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel’s responsibility to check the Judge’s self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court’s website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 3/23/2021. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 3/27/2021. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 4/13/2021 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court’s Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. information about LOU.

- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
- i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.
  - iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(i)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
  - iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(i)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(i)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
- 5) These consolidated actions shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The Trustee, Shamekh, and Nazila shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. The Trustee shall lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

On December 8, 2019, Ann Tardaguila, as Trustee of the Tardaguila Living Trust dated June 16, 1999 (the "Plaintiff/Counter-defendant"), filed this non-dischargeability action against Gregory Tardaguila (the "Defendant/Counter-claimant").

Plaintiff/Counter-defendant alleges that she loaned Defendant/Counter-claimant in excess of $750,000; that Defendant/Counter-claimant failed to repay the indebtedness; and that Defendant/Counter-claimant committed actual fraud by diverting funds that could have been used to repay the indebtedness. The Complaint seeks a judgment that the indebtedness is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6), and seeks denial of Defendant/Counter-claimant's discharge pursuant to § 727(a)(2), (3), (4)(A), and (5).

Defendant/Counter-claimant filed a Counterclaim, in which he alleges that the note evidencing the indebtedness at issue in the Complaint (the "Note") is a sham that was created to change the character of the transaction from a gift to a loan. The Counterclaim alleges that the $750,000 loaned to Defendant/Counter-claimant was an advance upon his inheritance. The Counterclaim further alleges that the Defendant/Counter-claimant did not sign the Note until several years after the funds were advanced and that Defendant/Counter-claimant was induced to sign the Note under false pretenses. The Counterclaim (1) objects to any claim against the estate on account of the Note asserted by Plaintiff/Counter-defendant; (2) seeks cancellation of the Note; and (3) seeks damages for fraud and negligent misrepresentations.

On January 16, 2020, the Court entered an order providing that the litigation deadlines set for the Counterclaim would also apply to the Complaint. Doc. No. 21.

On February 28, 2020, the Court entered an order (1) designating the first and second counterclaims as affirmative defenses to be litigated in connection with the Complaint, (2) finding that the third and fourth counterclaims for fraud and negligent misrepresentation (the "Fraud Counterclaims") accrued prepetition, were property of the bankruptcy estate, and could be prosecuted only by the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee"), (3) directing the Trustee to file a notice stating whether he intended to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims by no later than March 13, 2020, and (4) dismissing the Fraud Counterclaims, but giving the Trustee leave to amend should he elect to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims. Doc. No. 31. The Court subsequently extended the Trustee's deadline to determine whether to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims to April 15, 2020.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In view of the extension of the Trustee's deadline to determine whether to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims, a continued Status Conference shall be held on June 16, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) A Joint Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Michael Bonert ("Michael") and Vivien Bonert ("Vivien," and together with Michael, the "Debtors") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on September 12, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtors operated a pie manufacturing company known as Bonert's Incorporated ("Bonerts"). In 2016, Bonerts ceased conducting business after its lender caused its assets to be sold through a federal receivership. Proceeds of the receivership sale were used to pay secured creditors, but were not sufficient to pay unsecured trade creditors, some of whom obtained unopposed judgments against Bonerts.

On August 13 and 14, 2019, Capitol Distribution Company, LLC ("Capitol"), Stratas Foods LLC ("Stratas"), Packaging Corporation of America, and Seneca Foods Corporation (collectively, the "Creditors") filed these four collection actions (the "Collection Actions") against the Debtors, Bonerts, and LLCs wholly owned by the Debtors that were affiliates of Bonerts (the "Affiliates"). The Collection Actions allege, inter alia, that the Debtors operated the Affiliates and Bonerts as a single enterprise for the purpose of defeating the rights of creditors; that the Debtors misappropriated assets of Bonerts and the Affiliates; and that the Debtors are liable for trade debt incurred by Bonerts as its alter ego.

HEREBY FINDS AND ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In the interests of judicial efficiency, the Court will consolidate the litigation of these four actions. The actions raise similar claims and the Debtors and the Affiliates have been named as Defendants in all of the actions. Notwithstanding such consolidation, the Court will maintain separate dockets for each adversary proceeding (as opposed to designating one of the proceedings as the lead case and requiring that all documents be filed in that proceeding).
- 2) Debtors/Defendants assert that it is not feasible to mediate the alter-ego and single enterprise liability issues raised in these actions with only the four Plaintiffs, while excluding from mediation 21 other creditors who also assert claims against the Debtors under alter-ego and single enterprise theories. The Debtors intend to object to the claims of all disputed creditors who have not filed adversary proceedings. The Court agrees with the Debtors that a global mediation involving all creditors asserting alter-ego claims would be more likely to result in settlement.
- 3) Debtors shall file objections to the claims of disputed creditors who have not filed adversary proceedings by no later than March 18, 2020. Unless otherwise ordered, the parties shall not be required to conduct the global mediation until these claim objections have been adjudicated.
- 4) The following litigation deadlines shall apply, subject to an extension for good cause shown:
  - a) A continued Status Conference to monitor the progress of mediation shall take place on June 16, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.
  - b) Debtors have not responded to the Complaints in Adv. Nos. 2:19-ap-01377-ER and 2:19-ap-01378-ER. All non-Debtor Defendants have responded to the Complaints in these adversary proceedings. All parties have responded to the Complaints in Adv. Nos. 2:19-ap-01405-ER and 2:19-ap-01406-ER. Debtors shall respond to the Complaints in Adv. Nos. 2:19-ap-01377-ER and 2:19-ap-01378-ER by no later than March 25, 2020.
  - c) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 7/16/2020.
  - d) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 10/27/2020.
  - e) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness

(For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)

- i) A Pretrial Conference is set for 1/12/2021 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- j) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
  - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of - the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.

- iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
  - iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
  - k) Trial is set for the week of 1/25/2021. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.
- 5) Plaintiffs have submitted a number of comments and suggestions regarding the production of electronically stored information, procedures for dealing with claims of privilege, procedures pertaining to the conduct of depositions, procedures for the treatment of commercially sensitive information, and procedures for electronic service. The Court declines to enter an order adopting detailed procedures with respect to these issues at this time. It is possible that certain of the issues which Plaintiffs' proposed procedures seek to resolve will not arise in these proceedings. Counsel for all parties shall work cooperatively to resolve issues regarding the conduct of the litigation without Court intervention.

The Court will prepare and enter Scheduling Orders.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine

On January 18, 2019 (the "Petition Date"), Bahram Zendedel ("Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. Debtor scheduled a community interest in real property located at 1712 Livonia Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90035 (the "Property").

On May 16, 2018 (prior to the Petition Date), Debtor executed a quitclaim deed transferring the Property to Nazila Zendedel ("Nazila") [Note 1] as her sole and separate property.

On May 28, 2019, the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") filed a complaint against Nazila, seeking to avoid and recover the transfer of the Property (the “Nazila Complaint”). As an affirmative defense, Nazila asserts that there is no equity in the Property because it is encumbered by lien in favor of Pedram Shamekh (“Shamekh,” and the lien in favor of Shamekh, the “Shamekh Lien”).

On March 12, 2020, the Trustee filed a complaint against Shamekh, seeking to avoid the Shamekh Lien (the “Shamekh Complaint”). Among other things, the Shamekh Complaint alleges that the Shamekh Lien is avoidable as a preferential transfer.

On April 16, 2020, the Court granted the Trustee’s motion to consolidate the litigation of the Shamekh Complaint and the Nazila Complaint. The Court found that consolidation served the interests of judicial economy since both actions concerned the same Property and involved common issues of fact regarding whether various transfers facilitated by the Debtor were done with fraudulent intent. Notwithstanding the consolidation, the Court stated that it would maintain separate dockets for both actions to avoid confusion.

Having reviewed the Joint Status Report filed in the Shamekh Complaint and the Unilateral Status Report filed in the Nazila Complaint, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In the Shamekh Complaint, Defendant has timely demanded a jury trial and has not filed a proof of claim against the estate. Because this is an avoidance action, Defendant is entitled to a jury trial. See Langenkamp v. Culp, 498 U.S. 42, 45 (1990) (“If a party does not submit a claim against the bankruptcy estate, however, the trustee can recover allegedly preferential transfers only by filing what amounts to a legal action to recover a monetary transfer. In those circumstances the preference defendant is entitled to a jury trial.”).
- 2) Shamekh has not consented to having the jury trial conducted by the Bankruptcy Court. Under Bankruptcy Rule 9015(b), the Bankruptcy Court may conduct a jury trial only with the consent of all parties. All proceedings through and including the Pretrial Conference will take place before the Bankruptcy Court. After the Pretrial Conference has been completed, these consolidated actions will be transferred to the District Court, which will conduct the jury trial. See generally Sigma Micro Corp. v. Healthcentral.com (In re Healthcentral.com), 504 F.3d 775, 787–88 (9th Cir. 2007) (providing that where a right to a jury trial exists, the Bankruptcy Court retains jurisdiction to hear and determine all pretrial matters, and the action should be transferred to the District Court only once it has reached the trial stage).
- 3) Shamekh asserts that the Court should sanction the Trustee based upon actions

the Trustee has taken in a related action pending before the Los Angeles Superior Court (the “State Court Action”). A Status Report is not the proper mechanism for presenting a request for sanctions. The Court will entertain a request for sanctions only if all procedural requirements are fastidiously complied with. Further, while the Court understands the adversarial position of the parties, a motion for sanctions is seldom a productive means of advancing a party’s position in litigation.

- 4) Shamekh and the Trustee have both requested an extension of the litigation deadlines previously ordered. The prior litigation deadlines are extended as follows:
  - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 10/15/2020.
  - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 1/26/2021.
  - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 2/25/2021.
  - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 3/16/2021. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel’s responsibility to check the Judge’s self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court’s website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 3/23/2021. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 3/27/2021. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 4/13/2021 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court’s Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. information about LOU.

- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
- i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.
  - iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(i)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
  - iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(i)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(i)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
- 5) These consolidated actions shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The Trustee, Shamekh, and Nazila shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. The Trustee shall lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

For the reasons set forth below, a continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall take place on October 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.

A stipulation resolving the below-discussed issues concerning the Greystone property shall be entered by no later than July 1, 2020. The Debtor shall file and serve a motion for a final decree, as indicated below, such that the motion is heard prior to the date of the continued Status Conference. If favorable orders on both the motion for a final decree and the referenced stipulation are entered, the continued Status Conference will go off calendar.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Debtor's Ninth Post-Confirmation Status Report [Doc. No. 270] (the "Ninth Post-Confirmation Status Report")
- 2) Debtor's Eighth Post-Confirmation Status Report [Doc. No. 258] (the "Eighth Post-Confirmation Status Report")
- 3) As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no response or objection is on file

August 15, 2014. On March 8, 2017, the Court entered an Order Confirming Debtor's First Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization, Dated July 15, 2016 and Approving Stipulations for Plan Treatment of Secured Claims [Doc. No. 190]. This is the Ninth Post-Confirmation Status Conference. The Debtor asserts that the confirmed plan is substantially consummated, and that he is either current on or has completed payments owed to unsecured creditors, the Class 3 claimant, and the administrative claimant formerly known as Danning, Gill, Diamond & Kollitz LLP. In addition, the new value fund has been fully funded. The issues that have prevented Debtor from seeking a final decree are summarized below [Note 1]:

- Class 3A consists of the secured claim of Bank of America, N.A., which is secured by real property located at 444 N. Myrtle Ave., Monrovia, CA (“Myrtle”). The Debtor informs that all prior deficiencies on the Myrtle loan have been cured and he is current on all payments.
- Class 2 consists of the claim of Bank of New York Mellon, which is secured by real property located at 443 East Greystone Ave., Monrovia, CA (“Greystone”). The Greystone loan is currently serviced by Shellpoint Mortgage Servicing (“Shellpoint”). The Debtor states that it has entered into an agreement with Shellpoint, resolving issues concerning the amount in default and the proposed payment schedule. The Debtor expects to enter a stipulation on the agreement prior to the instant hearing.
- Class 1A comprises the secured claim of Structured Asset Mortgage Investments II Inc., Bear Stearns ARM Trust, Mortgage Pass-Through Certificates, Series 2004-3, as serviced by Specialized Loan Servicing, Inc. (“Specialized”), which is secured by real property located at 515 North Alta Vista Ave., Monrovia, CA (“Alta Vista”). The Debtor claims that he continued to make payments on the Alta Vista loan consistent with an adequate protection agreement with Specialized. Eighth Post-Confirmation Status Report at 7-8. However, because the Debtor never received a monthly bill from Specialized, he is unaware of the outstanding balance on the loan. Id. Alta Vista is currently vacant, and having failed to locate a tenant, the Debtor plans to sell Alta Vista once real estate market conditions improve. In sum, the Debtor will resolve outstanding issues concerning Alta Vista outside of bankruptcy.

Finally, a significant portion of administrative claims payable to Debtor's general bankruptcy counsel—the Law Offices of Diane C. Weil (“LODCW”) and the Weil Law Firm (“WLF”) collectively (“Applicant”)—are outstanding. In order to minimize expenses, and to expedite approval of a final decree, the Debtor will seek approval of a lump sum in satisfaction of outstanding professional fees as part of a motion for a final decree. Alternatively, if Applicants must prepare and file fee applications, administrative expenses will surpass such lump sum.

Accordingly, the Debtor requests a further status conference in the next 120 to 180 days. However, the Debtor intends to shortly file a motion for a final decree, and if approved, the continued status conference should be vacated.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no response or objection is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Based upon the foregoing, it is unclear why the preparation of a fee application here should be such an expensive process. No reason is given by the Applicants, but it is likely that age of the case and the complexity of representation might make the preparation of a full fee application difficult and expensive - and inconsistent with the goal of achieving finality in this six year old case. The Court will allow payment if requested in the motion for final decree, as long as the underlying time records, to the extent available, are made open for inspection at the request of any party in interest until the case is closed.

A continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall be held October 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Post-Confirmation Status Report must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. A stipulation resolving the above-referenced issue concerning the Greystone property shall be entered by no later than July 1, 2020. The Debtor shall file and serve a motion for a final decree, as discussed above, such that the motion is heard prior to the date of the continued Status Conference. If orders on both the motion for a final decree and the referenced stipulation are entered, the continued Status Conference will go off calendar.

6/18/2020

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez, the Judge's law clerks at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Chapter 7

The Trustee moves for an order (1) compelling the Debtor to turnover property of the estate consisting of professional lighting equipment (the "Equipment") and (2) enforcing the automatic stay by enjoining the Debtor's sale or disposition of the Equipment. The Trustee makes the following arguments and representations in support of the Motion:

Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtor purchased some of the Equipment from Bryan Godwin, the owner of Wooden Nickel Lighting. Godwin Decl. at ¶ 2. On June 10, 2020, the Debtor contacted Godwin and asked if he was interested in buying back the Equipment. Id. at ¶ 5. On that same date, Godwin checked his company's Facebook page and saw that the Debtor had posted advertisements for sale of the Equipment. Id. at ¶ 4. In the advertisements, the Debtor requested that prospective buyers contact him directly. Id. Each item of Equipment the Debtor is attempting to sell costs between $3,000 and $5,500. Id. at ¶ 3.

On June 12 and 22, 2020, the Trustee attempted to contact the Debtor by telephone. The Debtor did not answer the Trustee's calls and did not respond to the voice messages left by the Trustee. Miller Decl. at ¶ 8. The Trustee has been informed by Godwin's counsel that the Debtor may shortly leave the country and is attempting to sell the Equipment quickly. Id. at ¶ 7.

The Debtor failed to list the Equipment in his schedules.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 542 provides: "[A]n entity, other than a custodian, in possession, custody, or control, during the case, of property that the trustee may use, sell or lease under section 363 of this title ..., shall deliver to the trustee, and account for, such property or the value of such property, unless such property is of inconsequential value or benefit to the estate." The "property" referred to in § 542 is the "property of the estate," as defined in § 541. Shapiro v. Henson, 739 F.3d 1198, 1199 (9th Cir. 2014). Bankruptcy Rule 7001(1) provides that a proceeding to compel a debtor to deliver property to the Trustee may be brought by motion.

Property of the estate includes "all legal or equitable interests of the debtor in property as of the commencement of the case." The Equipment, which the Debtor acquired prior to the Petition Date, constitutes property of the estate. Pursuant to § 704, the Trustee is obligated to "collect and reduce to money the property of the estate" for the benefit of creditors. Under § 542, the Debtor is required to turnover the Equipment to the Trustee so that she may administer the Equipment consistent with § 704. The Debtor is ORDERED to turnover the Equipment to the Trustee by no later than Friday, June 26, 2020, at 5:00 p.m. To the extent the Debtor has already sold the Equipment in contravention of his obligations under the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtor is ORDERED to turnover the proceeds of the Equipment's sale by the same date and time.

The Trustee is also entitled to an order enjoining the Debtor from selling or otherwise disposing of the Equipment. Section 362(a)(3) stays "any act to obtain possession of property of the estate or of property from the estate or to exercise control over property of the estate." The Debtor's attempts to sell the Equipment constitute an "act ... to exercise control over property of the estate" in violation of § 362(a)(3). An injunction barring the Debtor from selling or otherwise disposing of the Equipment is necessary to enforce the automatic stay. To the extent that an unauthorized sale of the Equipment has already occurred, the Debtor is further enjoined from dissipating the sale proceeds.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Debtor is ORDERED to turnover the Equipment or the proceeds of the sale of the Equipment to the Trustee by no later than Friday, June 26, 2020, at 5:00 p.m. The Debtor is ENJOINED from (1) selling or otherwise disposing of the Equipment or (2) dissipating the proceeds of the sale of the Equipment.

The Trustee shall immediately submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On May 27, 2020, the Court dismissed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition filed by Rosalina Lizardo Harris ("Harris"). The Court found that Harris filed the petition in bad faith, solely to avoid posting a supersedeas bond during Harris' appeal of a judgment that Holmes holds against Harris (the "Judgment"). Holmes now moves for the imposition of sanctions against Harris and her counsel pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9011 and the Court's inherent authority under 11 U.S.C. § 105 (the "Sanctions Motion"). In addition, Holmes seeks attorneys' fees and costs for her efforts to enforce the Judgment, pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1988 (the "Attorneys' Fees Motion"). Harris opposes the Sanctions Motion but has not filed an opposition to the Attorneys' Fees Motion.

A. Holmes' Judgment Against Harris

On May 3, 2018, Holmes filed a complaint against Harris and other parties in the District Court, asserting claims under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 (the "Complaint"). On July 11, 2019, after conducting a jury trial, the District Court entered judgment in favor of Holmes in the amount of $2,265,952.00 (the "Judgment"). Doc. No. 14, Ex. 4. The jury found that Harris, who is a detective employed by the Los Angeles Sheriff's Department (the "LASD"), violated Holmes' Fourth Amendment right to be free from unreasonable arrest without probable cause, and awarded damages of $765,952. Id. The jury further found that Harris acted with malice, oppression, or reckless disregard of Holmes' constitutional rights, and awarded punitive damages of $1.5 million. Id.

On September 19, 2019, the District Court denied Harris' renewed motion for judgment as a matter of law. The District Court stated:

The Court concludes that there was ample evidence to support the jury's verdict. There was sufficient evidence supporting the jury's conclusion that [Harris] acted under color of law in procuring [Holmes'] arrest, and that [Harris] procured [Holmes'] wrongful arrest without probable cause.

Doc. No. 14, Ex. 5.

On October 4, 2019, the District Court denied Harris' motion for a new trial or, in the alternative, an altered or amended judgment. Doc. No. 14, Ex. 6. The District Court rejected Harris' contention that the award of actual damages was not supported by sufficient evidence. Id. The District Court also found that the award of $1.5 million in punitive damages was justified:

Here, the jury found that [Harris] acted "with malice, oppression, or reckless disregard of [Holmes'] constitutional rights" in procuring her wrongful arrest, rather than negligently. The jury concluded that [Harris], a law enforcement officer, carried out the wrongful arrest of an innocent person under the authority of her position, in deliberate disregard of [Holmes'] right to be free of unlawful arrest. The Court concludes that this is reprehensible conduct.

On October 4, 2019, the District Court awarded Holmes attorneys' fees in the amount of $760,397.50, and costs and expenses in the amount of $2,709.29. Id.

On October 10, 2019, Harris appealed the Judgment to the Ninth Circuit. The Ninth Circuit took no action on the appeal prior to the filing of Harris' voluntary Chapter 11 petition.

B. The Dismissal of Harris' Voluntary Chapter 11 Petition

On March 13, 2020 (the "Petition Date"), Harris filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition (the "Petition"). On May 27, 2020, the Court granted Holmes' motion to dismiss the Petition. Doc. No. 33 (the "Dismissal Order"). The Court found that Harris filed the Petition in bad faith, to avoid being required to post a supersedeas bond during the appeal of the Judgment. The Court found that there was no realistic possibility that Harris would be able to confirm a plan:

In the Ninth Circuit, individual Chapter 11 debtors are subject to the absolute priority rule. Zachary v. California Bank & Tr., 811 F.3d 1191 (9th Cir. 2016). This means that to confirm a plan over Holmes' opposition, the plan must either (1) provide for payment of the Judgment in full or (2) not permit Harris to retain the Property. Harris' objective in seeking bankruptcy protection was to save the Property, which limits Harris to proposing a plan that would provide for payment of the Judgment in full.

Even a plan funded by all of Harris' assets other than the Property would fall far short of paying the Judgment in full. The Judgment exceeds $3 million; the unencumbered assets of the Pension Plan and 401k Plan total approximately $630,000. (This calculation assumes that Harris would be willing to devote even exempt assets to funding a plan.) Payment of the entirety of Harris' retirement assets toward the Judgment would leave $2.37 million of the Judgment unsatisfied. Assuming a very favorable interest rate of 3%, a plan providing for the payment of the remaining $2.37 million over 30 years would require monthly payments of $9,992.02. According to Schedule J, Harris' monthly net income is only $3,918.11—less than half the amount required to fund a plan.

Harris asserts that a plan could also be funded by potential malpractice and indemnity claims. But Harris has provided no meaningful evidence that any claims she does possess would generate funds sufficient to make a plan confirmable. Harris' description of the claims is cursory and leaves the Court with serious doubts as to whether the claims would even be viable.

Final Ruling Granting Dismissal Motion [Doc. No. 30] (the "Dismissal Ruling") at 9–10.

At the hearing on Holmes' motion to dismiss the Petition, Harris' counsel argued that she could confirm a plan over Holmes' opposition by taking advantage of the new-value corollary to the absolute priority rule. Harris' counsel stated that Harris' new value contribution could be funded by exempt assets, including the exempt equity in the Property and her exempt retirement assets. Harris' counsel estimated that total exempt assets that could be committed to a new value contribution could exceed $500,000. The Court was not persuaded by counsel's arguments:

Under the new value corollary to the absolute priority rule, a debtor may cram down a plan while simultaneously retaining non-exempt pre-petition assets, provided that the debtor contributes "new value" toward the plan. See generally Bank of America v. 203 North LaSalle Street Partnership, 526 U.S. 434 (1999) (describing the new value corollary). To qualify as "new value," the contribution must be "(1) new, (2) substantial, (3) in money or money's worth, (4) necessary for successful reorganization, and (5) reasonably equivalent to the value or interest received." Liberty Nat'l Enterprises v. Ambanc La Mesa Ltd. P'ship (In re Ambanc La Mesa Ltd. P'ship), 115 F.3d 650, 654 (9th Cir. 1997).

If Harris did in fact propose a plan committing $500,000 in exempt assets in order to retain a Property with approximately $400,000 in equity, the Court cannot conclusively rule out the possibility that such a plan could be confirmed over Holmes' opposition. However, there is nothing in the record indicating that Harris would be willing to commit to the hypothetical plan postulated by her counsel. In her declaration in opposition to the Motion to Dismiss, Harris' testimony regarding a hypothetical plan was limited to the following: "I have had the basics of bankruptcy reorganization explained to me and believe there is a way to save my home for my family and reorganize in bankruptcy and pay my creditors including Holmes what they would get if I were to liquidate to pay them, and still save my house. It will not be easy I know." Harris Decl. [Doc. No. 25] at ¶¶ 25–26. This cursory testimony fails to show that Harris is willing to make the substantial sacrifice of committing approximately $500,000 in non-exempt assets that would be required were Harris to have a realistic possibility of confirming a plan.

Further, the remaining evidence before the Court shows that Harris' intent in seeking bankruptcy protection was not to propose a plan funded by substantially all her non-exempt assets, but rather to circumvent the requirement to post a supersedeas bond. This case has been pending for more than two months, but Harris has yet to comply with certain basic obligations that are applicable to all Chapter 11 debtors. She has not filed Monthly Operating Reports for the months of March or April. Pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2015-2(a) and the Guidelines and Requirements for Chapter 11 Debtors in Possession published by the United States Trustee, the March Monthly Operating Report was due on April 15 and the April Monthly Operating Report was due on May 15. Harris has not filed an application to employ Jeffrey B. Smith as her general bankruptcy counsel. According to the Disclosure of Compensation of Attorney for Debtor [Doc. No. 1], Smith has been paid a retainer of $26,717.00 and has agreed "to render legal services for all aspects of the bankruptcy case, including ... [p]reparation and filing of any ... plan which may be required ...." Under LBR 2014-1(b)(1)(E), "an application for the employment of counsel for a debtor in possession should be filed as promptly as possible after the commencement of the case" (emphasis added).

Dismissal Ruling at 10–11.

C. Papers Filed in Connection with the Sanctions Motion

1. Summary of the Sanctions Motion

Holmes seeks sanctions against Harris and her counsel in the amount of $50,462.44. Holmes makes the following arguments and representations in support of the Sanctions Motion:

The filing of a petition is sanctionable under Bankruptcy Rule 9011 if (1) the petition was frivolous pursuant to applicable law or (2) the petition was filed for an improper purpose. Marsch v. Marsch (In re Marsch), 36 F.3d 825, 829-831 (9th Cir. 1994).

The petition was frivolous because under well-established law, a debtor may not use the automatic stay as a substitute for obtaining a supersedeas bond. In granting the Dismissal Motion, the Court found that "Harris filed the petition in bad faith, in order to avoid the necessity of posting a supersedeas bond during the appeal of the judgment." Dismissal Ruling at 9.

The petition was also filed for an improper purpose—solely to delay, hinder, and harass Holmes. Harris had no ongoing business to reorganize, no meaningful unsecured creditors other than Holmes, and no means of proposing a legitimate reorganization plan. Prior to the Petition Date, Harris orchestrated a series of pre-petition transfers that depleted the value of the estate, including the following:

- 1) Refinancing her home and reducing the available equity by at least $125,000;
- 2) Withdrawing $45,000 from a retirement account;
- 3) Spending $20,000 to purchase a new vehicle for her daughter;
- 4) Spending $28,000 to purchase a brand-new truck for her husband; and
- 5) Transferring $35,000 to her sister and mother.

These pre-petition transfers further establish that the filing of the petition was not motivated by a legitimate reorganizational purpose.

A meaningful sanction against Harris' counsel is appropriate because he has previously been sanctioned for engaging in improper conduct in an adversary proceeding before Judge Zurzolo, Trainor v. Evans (In re Evans), Case No. 2:14-ap-01619-VZ, and according to the California State Bar's website, two disciplinary proceedings arising out of his conduct in bankruptcy cases are pending against him. Counsel's prior conduct shows that he will not be deterred from advising clients to file frivolous petitions unless sanctions are imposed against him.

In addition to sanctions under Bankruptcy Rule 9011, the Court should also impose sanctions pursuant to its inherent power under § 105. The filing of a chapter 11 case for the sole purpose of delaying litigation in another forum is appropriately sanctionable under 11 U.S.C. § 105(a), as "[t]he only way to deter filing and prosecuting bankruptcy cases in bad faith is to impose monetary sanctions against both the debtor and the debtor's counsel . . ." In re Silberkraus, 253 B.R. 890, 913 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2000) (sanctioning debtor and counsel for filing and prosecuting a chapter 11 case for 7 months to hinder and delay state court litigation).

2. Summary of Harris' Opposition to the Sanctions Motion

Harris makes the following arguments and representations in opposition to the Sanctions Motion:

Harris provided good-faith evidence and legal arguments in opposition to the Dismissal Motion. Although the Court ultimately sided with Holmes, the contrary evidence presented by Harris was sufficient to defeat the contention that the petition was frivolous or was filed for an improper purpose.

Chapter 11

First, Harris presented evidence showing that the petition was not filed solely to avoid posting a supersedeas bond. Harris testified that she filed the petition because her assets were insufficient to pay even half of the Judgment.

Second, Harris made a good faith argument that the petition was filed for a legitimate reorganizational purpose. Harris argued that a plan funded by her exempt assets could be confirmed under the new value corollary to the absolute priority rule. Although the Court was not convinced by Harris' argument, sanctions are not warranted because the argument was not frivolous.

Holmes argues that Harris' alleged pre-petition dissipation of assets establishes that the petition was filed for an improper purpose. That argument is not persuasive. The Court did not rely upon Harris' alleged pre-petition conduct in granting the Dismissal Motion. Further, the evidence argues against a finding of bad faith. The pre-petition transactions that Holmes argues are evidence of "secreted assets" were, in fact, virtually all drawn from the petition, schedules, and testimony at the § 341 meeting. These were not secret, non-disclosed transactions.

Harris' assertion that counsel should be sanctioned because California State Bar disciplinary proceedings are pending against him is irresponsible mud-slinging. Harris makes no attempt to show how the pending disciplinary proceedings are relevant to this action. Further, no decision has been made in the disciplinary proceedings and counsel remains a member of the California Bar in good standing.

3. Summary of Harris' Reply in Support of the Sanctions Motion

Harris makes the following arguments and representations in her reply in support of the Sanctions Motion:

Holmes' opposition is little more than an attempt to re-litigate the Court's earlier determination that Harris filed the petition in bad faith. That finding is now final and non-appealable, and supports the imposition of sanctions.

In support of her contention that she filed the petition for a legitimate reorganizational purpose, Harris points only to argument made by her counsel at the hearing. She does not identify any evidence supporting her ability to confirm a plan.

Harris argues that because the Court did not consider her bad-faith pre-petition conduct in granting the Dismissal Motion, such conduct is irrelevant to the issue of whether sanctions should be imposed. The fact that the Court did not consider that evidence in the context of the Dismissal Motion does not mean that the evidence is not relevant and admissible now.

It was entirely appropriate for Holmes to bring to the Court's attention prior disciplinary actions taken against Harris' counsel. D. Papers Filed in Connection with the Attorneys' Fees Motion

Holmes moves for attorneys' fees in the amount of $47,027 and costs in the amount of $3,435.44 for work performed obtaining the dismissal of the petition. No opposition to the Attorneys' Fees Motion is on file. Holmes makes the following arguments and representations in support of the Attorneys' Fees Motion:

The Judgment resulted from a lawsuit brought under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. The prevailing party in a § 1983 action is entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees under 42 U.S.C. § 1988. In Pinshaw v. Monk, 565 F.Supp. 44 (D. Mass. 1983), the court held that under 42 U.S.C. § 1988, the plaintiff was entitled to attorneys' fees for the costs of bringing a non-dischargeability action to protect a § 1983 judgment. Similarly, Holmes is entitled to attorneys' fees for the work performed obtaining dismissal of the petition, because this work was necessary to protect and enforce the Judgment.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. The Sanctions Motion is Denied

Bankruptcy Rule 9011(b) provides:

By presenting to the court (whether by signing, filing, submitting, or later advocating) a petition, pleading, written motion, or other paper, an attorney or unrepresented party is certifying that to the best of the person's knowledge, information, and belief, formed after an inquiry reasonable under the circumstances,—

- 4) the denials of factual contentions are warranted on the evidence or, if specifically so identified, are reasonably based on a lack of information or belief.

Bankruptcy Rule 9011(c) provides that the Court may "impose an appropriate sanction upon the attorneys, law firms, or parties that have violated subdivision (b) or are responsible for the violation." A motion for sanctions may not be presented to the court unless, within 21 days after service of the motion, the challenged paper is not withdrawn or appropriately corrected. Bankruptcy Rule 9011(c)(1)(A). The 21-day safe harbor does not apply "if the conduct alleged is the filing of a petition in violation of subdivision (b)." Id. [Note 1]

In assessing the propriety of sanctions, "frivolousness and improper purpose are not wholly independent considerations but 'will often overlap.'" Marsch v. Marsch (In re Marsch), 36 F.3d 825, 830 (9th Cir. 1994). The Court "must consider both frivolousness and improper purpose on a sliding scale, where the more compelling the showing as to one element, the less decisive need be the showing as to the other." Id.

In interpreting Bankruptcy Rule 9011, it is appropriate for the Court to look to cases interpreting Civil Rule 11, which is virtually identical. In re Start the Engines, Inc., 219 B.R. at 270. "The standard for determining the propriety of Rule 11 sanctions is one of objective reasonableness for determinations of frivolousness as well as of improper purpose. 'If, judged by an objective standard, a reasonable basis for the position exists in both law and in fact at the time the position is adopted, then sanctions should not be imposed.'" Conn v. Borjorquez, 967 F.2d 1418, 1421 (9th Cir. 1992) (internal citations omitted).

In Marsch, the debtor filed a Chapter 11 petition before the state court could enter a restitution judgment against her and in favor of her ex-husband. Id. at 825. The bankruptcy court found that the debtor filed the petition to prevent entry of the judgment and to avoid posting a supersedeas bond, even though the debtor had sufficient assets to pay the judgment or post the bond. Id. The Ninth Circuit upheld both the bankruptcy court's dismissal of the petition as a bad-faith filing and the imposition of $27,452 in Rule 9011 sanctions. Id. at 830–31. In upholding the sanctions award, the Marsch court stated that although the petition could not "be characterized as wholly frivolous" it was "certainly of dubious legal merit." Id. at 830. In sustaining the finding that the petition was filed for an improper purpose, the court emphasized "that the petition was filed solely to delay collection of the judgment and avoid posting an appeal bond, even though debtor had the ability to satisfy the judgment with nonbusiness assets." Id. According to the court, the debtor's action "was a transparent attempt to use a Chapter 11 petition and the resulting stay as an inexpensive substitute for the bond required under state law." Id.

As was the case in Marsch, here the considerations of frivolousness and improper purpose overlap. With respect to improper purpose, the Court found that Harris filed the petition in bad faith, to avoid posting a supersedeas bond. The finding that the petition was filed in bad faith was based in part upon the finding that Harris lacked the ability to propose a confirmable plan. For purposes of Bankruptcy Rule 9011, the finding that Harris lacked the ability to propose a confirmable plan goes to the issue of whether the petition was frivolous.

The fact that the Court found that the petition was filed in bad faith and that Harris lacked the ability to confirm a plan does not compel a finding that for Bankruptcy Rule 9011 purposes, the petition was filed for an improper purpose and was frivolous. In granting the Dismissal Motion, the Court stated that it could not "conclusively rule out the possibility" that the plan contemplated by Harris could be confirmed. Dismissal Ruling at 10. The Court dismissed the case because Harris had not presented sufficient evidence that she was "willing to make the substantial sacrifice of committing approximately $500,000 in non-exempt assets that would be required were Harris to have a realistic possibility of confirming a plan." Id. at 10.

Notwithstanding these findings, as of the filing of the petition, there was an objectively reasonable basis for Harris and her counsel to take the position that they had the ability to confirm a plan. Successfully confirming a plan requires a debtor to overcome numerous hurdles, and the obstacles to plan confirmation often cannot be easily predicted at the commencement of the case. Sanctioning a debtor and her counsel for filing a petition in a case where the Court later determined that a debtor lacked the ability to propose a confirmable plan would create a chilling effect discouraging parties from seeking bankruptcy protection.

"The key question in assessing frivolousness is whether a complaint states an arguable claim ...." Conn v. Borjorquez, 967 F.2d at 1421 (9th Cir. 1992). Applying this principle to the bankruptcy context, the question becomes whether there was an arguable basis for the debtor to take the position that she had the ability to confirm a plan as of the petition date. As noted, in granting the Dismissal Motion, the Court declined to conclusively rule out the possibility that Harris could confirm a plan. Thus, there was an arguable basis for Harris and her counsel to take the position that a confirmable plan was a possibility. The filing of the petition was not frivolous.

Marsch is not to the contrary. In Marsch, the debtor's conduct was particularly offensive because she sought bankruptcy protection even though she had the ability to obtain a supersedeas bond or pay the judgment. The court reprimanded the debtor for using Chapter 11 "as an inexpensive substitute" for the supersedeas bond that she could afford. Marsch, 36 F.3d at 830. Here, by contrast, Harris did not have assets sufficient to pay the Judgment or obtain a supersedeas bond. [Note 2] Harris' inability to afford a supersedeas bond renders her conduct significantly less egregious than that of the debtor in Marsch.

Having found that sanctions are not warranted under Bankruptcy Rule 9011, the Court likewise declines to impose sanctions under its inherent authority. Sanctions under the Court's inherent authority may be imposed "against a party who willfully disobeys a court order or acts in bad faith, 'which includes a broad range of willful improper conduct.'" Miller v. Cardinale (In re DeVille), 280 B.R. 483, 495-96 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2002), aff'd sub nom. In re DeVille, 361 F.3d 539 (9th Cir. 2004). "To impose inherent power sanctions, a court must find that a party acted 'in bad faith, vexatiously, wantonly, or for oppressive reasons.'" Id. A finding of bad faith is warranted where a litigant "knowingly or recklessly raises a frivolous argument." Primus Auto. Fin. Servs., Inc. v. Batarse, 115 F.3d 644, 648-49 (9th Cir. 1997).

Having found that there was an objectively reasonable basis for Harris and her counsel to assert that they could confirm a plan, the Court cannot find the willful improper conduct necessary to impose sanctions under its inherent authority.

B. The Attorneys' Fees Motion is Denied

The Attorneys' Fees Motion is denied without prejudice because the Court lacks jurisdiction to award attorneys' fees under 42 U.S.C. § 1988 on account of the Judgment.

The Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction over "all cases under title 11." 28 U.S.C. § 1334(a). "Generally, in the bankruptcy context, the word 'case' is a term of art which refers to 'that which is commenced by the filing of a petition; it is the 'whole ball of wax,' the chapter 7, 9, 11, 12 or 13 case.'" Blevins Elec., Inc. v. First Am. Nat'l Bank (In re Blevins Elec., Inc.), 185 B.R. 250, 253 (Bankr. E.D. Tenn. 1995).

The Bankruptcy Court also has jurisdiction over "all civil proceedings arising under title 11, or arising in or related to cases under title 11." 28 U.S.C. §1334(b). The three types of jurisdiction conferred under 28 U.S.C. §1334(b) are known as "arising under," "arising in," and "related to" jurisdiction. "Arising under" jurisdiction exists if "the cause of action is created by title 11." Menk v. Lapaglia (In re Menk), 241 B.R. 896, 909 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1999). "Arising in" jurisdiction applies to "those administrative proceedings that, while not based on any right created by title 11, nevertheless have no existence outside bankruptcy." Id. "Related to" jurisdiction exists if "the outcome of the proceeding could conceivably have any effect on the estate being administered in bankruptcy.... An action is related to bankruptcy if the action could alter the debtor's rights, liabilities, options, or freedom of action (either positively or negatively) and which in any way impacts upon the handling and administration of the bankruptcy estate." Fietz v. Great Western Savings (In re Fietz), 852 F.2d 455, 457 (9th Cir. 1988) (internal citations omitted).

The Court does not have any of the three types of jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1334(b). The Court does not have "arising under" jurisdiction because the Judgment did not result from a cause of action created by title 11. The Court does not have "arising in" jurisdiction because the Judgment results from 42 U.S.C. § 1983, and therefore is not the result of an administrative proceeding that has no existence outside of bankruptcy. The Court does not have "related to" jurisdiction because the case has been dismissed. Therefore, awarding attorneys' fees for Holmes' efforts to enforce the Judgment could not have any effect on the estate.

The only remaining basis for jurisdiction is 28 U.S.C. § 1334(a), which provides the Court jurisdiction over "all cases under title 11." In its May 27, 2020 order dismissing the case, the Court retained "subject matter and personal jurisdiction over Debtor and her counsel of record, solely for the purposes of determining any motion of Ms. Holmes requesting sanctions or reimbursement of attorney's fees against the Debtor and/or her counsel." Dismissal Order at ¶ 3. Because the Judgment was a liability of Harris in her Chapter 11 case, it could be argued that the Court has jurisdiction to award attorneys' fees in connection with the Judgment under 28 U.S.C. § 1334(a).

In view of the dismissal of the case, the Court declines to find that it has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1334(a). Had the case not been dismissed, the relief sought in the Attorneys' Fees Motion would be analogous to a motion to determine the amount of Holmes' claim against Harris, which would be a core proceeding under 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2)(B). In that context, the Court might have jurisdiction to apply nonbankruptcy law to award additional fees on account of the Judgment, since the award of such fees would be related to the administration of the estate. But now that the case has been dismissed, an award of additional fees on account of the Judgment can have no effect upon the case.

The Court sees no reason why Holmes cannot apply to the District Court, which issued the Judgment, for the attorneys' fees incurred enforcing the Judgment. In all of the cases cited by Holmes in support of the Attorneys' Fees Motion, fees were awarded by the court that issued the judgment, not the bankruptcy court. For example, in Pinshaw v. Monk, 565 F.Supp. 44 (D. Mass. 1983), after the plaintiff incurred fees opposing the dischargeability of a judgment in bankruptcy court, the plaintiff returned to the district court that had issued the judgment to obtain an award of the fees incurred before the bankruptcy court. As noted above, the only situation in which the Court might have jurisdiction to interpret nonbankruptcy law to award fees on account of a judgment which it did not issue is if it became necessary for the Court to fix Harris' total liability on account of the Judgment for plan confirmation purposes. That is not the case here.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Sanctions Motion and the Attorneys' Fees Motion are both DENIED. Within seven days of the hearing, Holmes shall submit orders denying both motions which incorporate this tentative ruling by reference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Although the 21-day safe harbor does not apply in this case, Holmes' counsel sent Harris' counsel a letter on April 28, 2020, advising that the Sanctions Motion would be filed unless Harris withdrew the petition within 21 days.

Note 2

Holmes argues that Harris' failure even to attempt to obtain a supersedeas bond prior to filing the petition shows bad faith that is sanctionable. The Court disagrees. Where the record indicates that Harris' assets were woefully inadequate to obtain a bond against a judgment in excess of $2.9 million, Harris' failure to make an attempt to secure a bond—which would have proved futile—does not support the imposition of sanctions.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

ChineseInvestors.com, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 19, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is a financial information web portal that offers news and information regarding financial markets in Chinese. The Debtor also provides investor relations services for companies requiring Mandarin language support, which includes translating client releases into English from Mandarin or vice versa, increasing awareness of clients and their stock, and helping clients move from the pink sheets to more established public securities exchanges.

Beginning in 2017, the Debtor began developing two additional business lines—a domestic and international industrial hemp and cannabidiol ("CBD") business, and an international foreign exchange and cryptocurrency trading platform. The Debtor devoted a significant portion of its cash flow to these new business lines, which did not prove as successful as had been projected. As a result, the Debtor lacked the ability to repay short-term unsecured notes that began maturing in late 2018 and early 2019, which led to the filing of the petition.

At the end of 2019, the Debtor began scaling down its labor force for its cryptocurrency and industrial hemp businesses. The industrial hemp business was spun out into an independent corporation, Hemp Logic, Inc. (“Hemp Logic”). The Debtor is the majority shareholder in Hemp Logic. The Debtor hopes that as Hemp Logic’s business matures, Hemp Logic will reimburse the Debtor for startup costs in the amount of approximately $1.1 million.

Summary of Motion for an Order Authorizing the Debtor to Retain and Compensate Professionals Used by the Debtor in the Ordinary Course of Business

Debtor seeks approval of procedures allowing the Debtor to retain and pay professionals employed in the ordinary course of business (the “ordinary course professionals” or “OCPs”). See Doc. No. 3 (the “OCP Motion”). The proposed retention and compensation procedures are as follows:

- 1) Within forty-five days after service of an order granting the OCP Motion, each ordinary course professional shall file a declaration establishing that they are a disinterested party within the meaning of Bankruptcy Rule 2014(a) (the “Disinterestedness Declaration”). The Disinterestedness Declaration shall be served upon parties entitled to notice; such parties shall have fourteen days to object to the retention of the ordinary course professional. If no objection is timely filed, the employment of the ordinary course professional shall be deemed approved without further order of the Court.
- 2) While the case is pending, the fees of each ordinary course professional shall not exceed $10,800 per month on average over a rolling three-month period (the “OCP Cap”). To the extent that fees exceed the OCP Cap, the ordinary course professional shall file a notice and invoice setting forth the services rendered and fees incurred (a “Notice of Excess Fees”). Interested parties shall have fourteen days to object to the Notice of Excess Fees. If no objection is timely filed, the excess fees shall be deemed approved, and the ordinary course professional may be paid 100% of its fees and expenses without the need to file a formal fee application.

Section 327(b) provides: "If the trustee is authorized to operate the business of the debtor under section 721, 1202, or 1108 of this title, and if the debtor has regularly employed attorneys, accountants, or other professional persons on salary, the trustee may retain or replace such professional persons if necessary in the operation of such business."

The Court finds that the Debtors' proposed retention procedures are consistent with § 327(b) and approves the procedures. The Court notes that procedures similar to those proposed here have been approved by a number of courts.

The OCPs that the Debtor seeks to employ fall within the ambit of § 327(b). The OCPs have been regularly employed by the Debtor prior to the petition. The services they perform—accounting, public relations, investor communications, advertising, and information technology services—are necessary regardless of whether a bankruptcy petition was filed. The fact that professionals are not paid a fixed salary does not disqualify the Debtor from retaining their services under § 327(b). The professionals were employed by the Debtor prepetition and received regular payments, which necessarily varied depending upon the amounts of services that the professionals provided.

Under the Debtor's procedures, the rights of all parties to object are preserved. The Court finds that the procedures are an effective means of reducing the administrative costs of the case. The professionals the Debtor seeks to employ do not regularly practice before the bankruptcy court and are not familiar with the Bankruptcy Code's required employment and compensation procedures. Were the professionals required to file fee applications, the Debtor would be required to spend significant time helping them to comply with the procedures—driving up administrative costs. If some OCPs were unwilling to assume the cost and burden of filing employment and fee applications and declined to continue working for the Debtor, the Debtor would incur additional costs retaining other professionals who are not already familiar with the Debtor's operations.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, and subject to any opposition which may be presented at the hearing, the Court is prepared to GRANT the Motion in its entirety. The Debtor shall submit an order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Chapter 11

ChineseInvestors.com, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 18, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor was initially established as an online portal, which delivers "news and information" concerning investment markets and other finance-related topics to Chinese-speaking subscribers. A summary of the Debtor's business activities and factors precipitating bankruptcy is set forth in the tentative ruling on the Debtor's motion to employ ordinary course professionals and will not be repeated here.

A. Motion to Limit Scope of Notice (the "Notice Motion")

The Debtor seeks to limit the scope of notices respecting certain interested parties and makes the following arguments and representations in support:

The Debtor's creditor matrix exceeds 87 pages in length and it includes 697 bond, note, and equity holders. The Debtor believes that the cost to provide mail service to these interested parties is disproportionate, relative to the limited resources available to the Debtor. Therefore, to minimize financial expense and administrative delay, the Debtor proposes the following limited notice procedures:

1. Except as specified below, service of all pleadings, papers, or requests for relief (each, a "Limited Notice Matter") will be limited to (a) any party with a pecuniary interest that is affected by the particular Limited Notice Matter, (b) individuals appearing in the Master Service List [Note 1], and (c) all parties who file requests for special notice in the Debtor's case under Fed. R. Bankr. P. 2002 (the "Rule 2002 List") [Note 2] (collectively, the "Limited Service List").
2. Service of Limited Notice Matters will be accomplished by serving those on the Limited Service List via any of the following methods: Notice of Electronic Filing via the Court's Case Management/Electronic Case Filing System ("CM/CF"), first class mail, overnight delivery, facsimile, or e-mail.
3. However, notice of Limited Notice Matters, brought on an expedited or emergency basis, may be accomplished by overnight service.
4. Any creditor appearing in the list provided pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 1007(d), who is required, but fails to file a proof of claim, shall not be entitled to further notice "with respect to such claim or otherwise" (each, an "Excluded Creditor"). Notice Motion at 13.
5. Nothing in the Notice Motion shall preclude any interested party from further limiting or expanding notice of contested or adversary proceeding matters, upon a showing of good cause.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, all creditors (Excluded Creditors excepted) are entitled to receive notice of the following matters or proceedings:

1. the meeting of creditors;
2. the deadline fixed to file a proof of claim;
3. the hearing on any motion to convert or the dismiss this case;
4. the time fixed for filing an objection to a disclosure statement and any hearing to consider approval of any disclosure statement;
5. the time fixed for filing an objection to, and the hearing to consider approval of, a chapter 11 plan;
6. the time fixed for filing an objection to, and the hearing to consider approval of, a modification of a chapter 11 plan (each, a "Complete Notice Matter").

In sum, the Court should adopt the proposed notice procedures pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 2002(m) and 9007. The proposed procedures will enable Debtor to minimize administrative costs and efficiently conduct proceedings by electronically serving those on the Limited Service List through CM/ECF. Additionally, any other interested party may request electronic service pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 2002 [Note 3]. In addition to the foregoing, the Debtor advises that it intends to establish an online portal, for the purpose of publishing important pleadings and communicating with creditors, equity holders, and members of the public. A copy of the proposed notice procedures will be available on said online portal.

B. Motion to Pay Prepetition Compensation, Expenses, and Other Benefits, and Continue Employee Benefit Programs (the "Compensation Motion")

The Debtor moves for authorization to pay and honor (1) prepetition employee compensation, (2) certain employee health benefits, as well as (3) maintain other employee compensation and benefit policies. In support of the Compensation Motion, the Debtor attaches the declaration of Aron Lee, its HR director, and makes the arguments and representations set forth below.

The Debtor currently employs 37 full-time employees and 3 part-time employees, for whose semi-monthly aggregate payroll averages $76,000 [Note 4]. The Debtor's employees (the "Employees") are customarily paid on the 20th day of the subject month and on the 5th day of the month following the subject month. As of the Petition Date, the Debtor has not tendered all wages, salaries, and reimbursable business expenses due and owing to the Employees. Debtor does not believe that it owes any Employee an amount surpassing the $13,650 cap provided under § 507(a)(4). The Debtor provides health and dental benefits to eligible employees, for which the Debtor pays a certain amount of the premium and the remainder is collected through payroll deductions (the "Benefit Plans"). As of the Petition Date, no insurance premiums are due and owing. Additionally, the Debtor routinely withholds specific amounts from its Employees' wages each pay period, which it remits to various third parties. Examples of said withholdings include obligations for payroll taxes, wage garnishments, child support payments, and the above-referenced benefit deductions. Benefit programs available to the Employees also include compensation under a non-insider bonus program, pursuant to the meaning of "non-insider" under § 101(31).

To prevent financial hardships on the Employees, and to ensure the continuity of Debtor's business operations, the Debtor requests permission to undertake the following measures:

1. Pay and/or honor prepetition claims arising from Employees' compensation, unreimbursed business expenses, and Benefit Plans (together, the "Employee Wages and Benefits");
2. Pay all administrative costs associated with the Employee Wages and Benefits;
3. Continue to pay and provide the Employee Wages and Benefits post-petition;
4. Withhold Employees' wages as applicable and remit such amounts to the appropriate third parties; and
5. Take adequate steps to carry out the above-described measures, such as directing third parties to pay and/or honor pre- and post-petition checks to be issued, fund transfers requested or to be requested that were not initially honored, or issue new fund transfers to satisfy prepetition Employee Wages and Benefits.

Pursuant to §§ 105(a) and 363(b), the Debtor requests that the Court authorize payment for all prepetition claims arising from the Employee Wages and Benefits. According to its records, the Debtor believes that any such prepetition amounts will be entitled to priority as those sums do not surpass the dollar limits set by §§ 507(a)(4) and (a)(5). Therefore, the payment of such prepetition amounts will not prejudice unsecured creditors. The "necessity of payment" doctrine further supports the payment of prepetition obligations that are necessary to the continued operation of debtors. See, e.g., In re Structurlite Plastics Corp., 86 B.R. 922, 931 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 1988). Second, the payment of benefit deductions and taxes to third parties is appropriate, to the extent that a portion of those payments do not belong to the estate under § 541(b). Moreover, the Debtor must make any payments to avoid state or federal liability, such as payroll taxes. See City of Farrell v. Sharon Steel Corp. (In re Sharon Steel Corp.), 41 F.3d 92,

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Notice Motion is Granted, subject to the Modifications Stated Below

Fed R. Bankr. P. 2002 authorizes the Court to limit the scope of notices that debtors are required to provide. Fed. R. Bankr. P. 2002(i) states in relevant part:

Copies of all notices required to be mailed pursuant to this rule shall be mailed to the committees elected under § 705 or appointed under § 1102 of the Code or to their authorized agents.

Notwithstanding the foregoing subdivisions, the court may order that notices required by subdivision (a)(2), (3) and (6) of this rule be transmitted to the United States trustee and be mailed only to the committees elected under § 705 or appointed under § 1102 of the Code or to their authorized agents and to the creditors and equity security holders who serve on the trustee or debtor in possession and file a request that all notices be mailed to them. A committee appointed under § 1114 shall receive copies of all notices required by subdivisions (a)(1), (a)(5), (b), (f)(2), and (f)(7), and such other notices as the court may direct.

Additionally, Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9007 provides:

When notice is to be given under these rules, the court shall designate, if not otherwise specified herein, the time within which, the entities to whom, and the form and manner in which the notice shall be given. When feasible, the court may order any notices under these rules to be combined.

Here, the Debtor's creditor matrix spans for 87 pages, which includes at least 697 bond, note, and equity holders. The Debtor estimates that the total number of interested parties is in the hundreds. Requiring the Debtor to provide notice of every matter to all interested parties would be unduly burdensome and disproportionately taxing relative to the size of this case. Therefore, the Court finds that the proposed procedures limiting notice are appropriate under the circumstances, subject to the following modifications:

Chapter 11

The Debtor shall send adequate notice to all known interested parties (regardless of inclusion in the Limited Service List, and including the Excluded Entities), and their respective counsel, of the following matters or proceedings:

1. The entry of an order granting the Notice Motion;
2. The date fixed to file a proof of claim;
3. The filing of any chapter 11 plan and the hearing date fixed to consider approval thereof;
4. The entry of an order confirming a chapter 11 plan; and
5. Any hearing regarding the dismissal or conversion of this case.

Furthermore, the Court provides clarity to the following limited notice procedures. First, it is unclear whether the Notice Motion attempts to limit notice of emergency and expedited motions to service via overnight delivery. See Notice Motion at 15. To clarify, in addition to overnight service, notice of expedited or emergency Limited Notice and Complete Notice Matters may be accomplished pursuant to any of the service methods authorized under Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 9075-1. Second, the Debtor must include, from the outset, all secured lenders and lenders providing debtor-in-possession financing in the Limited Service List. [Note 5].

B. The Compensation Motion is Granted

Section 363(b) permits debtors-in-possession to use estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to Court approval. The debtor must articulate a business justification for the use of the property. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988) (citing In re Continental Air Lines, 780 F.2d 1223 (5th Cir. 1986)). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id.

Section 507(a)(4) designates "wages, salaries, or commissions, including vacation, severance, and sick leave pay" that are earned by an individual "within 180 days before the date of the filing of the petition" as a fourth-priority claim. Additionally, § 507(a)(4) imposes a limit of $13,650 for each individual employee for priority status. LBR 2081-1(a) provides that a motion to pay prepetition payroll must be supported by evidence that establishes the following: "(A) The employees are still employed; (B) The necessity for payment; (C) The benefit of the procedures; (D) The prospect of reorganization; (E) Whether the employees are insiders; (F) Whether the employees' claims are within the limits established by 11 U.S.C. § 507; and that (G) The payment will not render the estate administratively insolvent."

The Debtor has proffered ample business justification in moving to pay and/or honor the Employees' prepetition wages, unreimbursed business expenses, and Benefit Plans. Use of estate property is necessary for the Debtor to pay the Employees, who are instrumental in maintaining Debtor's business operations. If the Debtor is unable to reliably make payroll, it is likely that employees will leave, impairing the likelihood of the Debtor's reorganization. Moreover, the Debtor has submitted adequate and sufficient evidence satisfying the requirements under LBR 2081-1(a). Accordingly, the Lee Declaration describes benefit procedures, and it affirms the Debtor's intention to pay and honor the Employees' wages. See Lee Decl., ¶¶ 4-12. The Lee Declaration also asserts that the Employees are not insiders, and that the payments and benefits contemplated do not exceed the limits established by § 507. See id. at ¶¶ 4, 11. As of the Petition Date, the Debtor has 20 full-time employees in its Shanghai office, and 21 full-time and 3 part-time employees in its United States offices. Wang Decl., ¶ 62. For that reason, the Debtor is authorized to make payments on the Employees' prepetition wages and unreimbursed business expenses, as well as continue to honor such payments on an ongoing basis.

Similarly, the Debtor's continued operations, and its goal of a successful reorganization, depend on ensuring the funding of the Benefit Plans. In turn, the funding of the Benefit Plans requires the Debtor to withhold and remit portions of the Employees' wages to numerous third parties. Otherwise, failure to preserve the Benefit Plans could cause hardship to the Employees. See Lee Decl., ¶ 13 ("Each of these Health Benefit plans is important to the maintenance of Employee welfare and morale and is therefore critical to the uninterrupted operation of the Debtor's business.").

Based upon the foregoing the Court is prepared to grant the Compensation Motion. The Debtor is authorized to honor the Employee Wages and Benefits and remit payments as needed, as described in the Compensation Motion. The Debtor is further authorized to withhold the Employees' wages as necessary to fund the Benefit Plans, or as otherwise required by local, state, and federal law.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Court is prepared to GRANT the Debtor's first day motions, subject to any opposition to be presented at the hearing. The Court finds the proposed orders submitted in connection with the motions to be appropriate. Notwithstanding Fed. R. Bankr. P. 6004(h), the orders on the above-discussed motions shall take effect immediately. A stay would irreparably harm the Debtor, its Employees, and the likelihood that it will successfully achieve a chapter 11 reorganization.

Note 1: The Master Service List includes the contact information of the Debtor; its general bankruptcy counsel; the Office of the United States Trustee; the unsecured creditors holding the 20 largest claims, or if a committee of unsecured creditors is formed, or to the committee or to any counsel employed by the committee; counsel for the administrative agent of the prepetition secured lenders, among others. See Notice Motion at 11.

Note 2: Any interested party, who is not otherwise entitled to notice of a Limited Notice Matter, may be included in the Rule 2002 List by following the procedure described in pages 11 and 12 of the Notice Motion.

Note 3: The Debtor proposes that parties entitled to service of Limited Notice Matters, who lack access to e-mail, may request service of paper copies. See Notice Motion at 9.

Note 4: The Court notes that according to the Wang Declaration, the Debtor currently employs a total of 44 individuals, not 40, as stated in the Compensation Motion. Wang Decl., ¶ 62.

#102.00 APPLICANT: Accountant for Trustee: LEA Accountancy, LLP

Hearing re [103] Trustee's Final Report and Applications for Compensation

Docket 0

6/29/2020

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

Having reviewed the first and final application for fees and expenses filed by this applicant, the court approves the application and awards the fees and expenses set forth below.

Fees: $4,137.50 approved [see Doc. No. 103]

Expenses: $122.71 approved [see id.]

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Applicant shall submit a conforming order within seven days of the hearing.

Docket 0

6/29/2020

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

The objection to the Trustee's Final Report filed by New Horizon (discussed below) is OVERRULED. This court approves the fees and expenses, and payment, as requested by the Trustee, as follows (amounts previously paid on an interim basis, if any, are now deemed final):

Total Fees: $19,307.40 approved, but payment shall be limited to $13,492.85 per Trustee's request. [see Doc. No. 97]

Total Expenses: $242.90 [see id.]

Franchise Tax Board Administrative Expenses: $1,708.21 [see id.]

U.S. Bankruptcy Court Costs: $7,000 [see id.]

On June 25, 2020, the Court received a letter from Namisa Roberts, the principal of New Horizon Business Services, Inc. ("New Horizon"). The Court has docketed the letter--which was not served upon interested parties--and construes the letter as an opposition to the Trustee's Final Report (the "Opposition"). New Horizon filed a proof of claim against the estate in the amount of $161,633 ("Claim 33"). New Horizon objects to the fact that it will not receive any distribution from the estate on account of Claim 33.

New Horizon's opposition is OVERRULED. The distribution contemplated in the Trustee's Final Report is consistent with the Bankruptcy Code. The Trustee realized gross receipts of $321,147.92. The aggregate amount of timely filed unsecured claims is $1,337,221.59, and the aggregate amount of tardily filed unsecured claims is $312,933.00. (New Horizon's claim was filed tardily.) The funds realized by the Trustee are sufficient only to pay administrative claimants and the allowed priority claims of the Franchise Tax Board and the Tennessee Department of Revenue. None of the unsecured creditors who filed proofs of claim will receive a distribution from the estate.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

The Trustee shall submit a conforming order within seven days of the hearing.

6/30/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral in accordance with the Budget through and including October 3, 2020. A hearing on the use of cash collateral subsequent to October 3, 2020 shall take place on September 23, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. The hearing will go off calendar if a sale of the Property has closed prior to the hearing date.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Debtor's Third Motion for Order Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral from July 5, 2020 Through and Including October 3, 2020 [Doc. No. 134] (the "Motion")
  - a) Notice of [Motion] [Doc. No. 135]
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On January 10, 2020 (the "Petition Date"), 450 S. Western, LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition. On January 16, 2020, the Court entered an interim order authorizing the Debtor to use cash collateral through and including February 20, 2020. See Doc. No. 31. On March 10, 2020, the Court authorized the Debtor to use cash collateral through and including April 4, 2020, see Doc. No. 83, and on April 3, 2020, the Court extended the authorization to use cash collateral through and including July 4, 2020. See Doc. No. 107.

The Court set this hearing to determine whether the Debtor should be authorized to use cash collateral subsequent to July 4, 2020. The Debtor seeks authorization to use cash collateral through and including October 3, 2020, on the same terms and conditions as have been previously approved. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

The Debtor owns and operates a three-story, 80,316 square foot shopping center—commonly known as California Marketplace—located at the intersection of South

Western Avenue and 5th Street (the "Property"). The Property serves the Los Angeles Korean community and contains 28 stores. As of the Petition Date, the Property had a 98% occupancy rate.

The Debtor sought bankruptcy protection primarily as the result of litigation with Admire Capital Lending, LLC ("Admire") and Belmont Two Investment Holdings, LLC ("Belmont"). On September 10, 2015, the Debtor entered into an unsecured promissory note with Belmont and Admire, in the principal amount of $9.75 million (the "Note"). In litigation before the Los Angeles Superior Court, Belmont and Admire assert a right to convert the Note to equity (the "Conversion Option"). The Debtor disputes the Conversion Option.

On May 14, 2020, the Court approved a stipulation between the Debtor and two of the prepetition secured creditors, which established the amount of those prepetition secured creditors' claims as follows:

- 1) Pontis Capital, LLC—$4,684,959.75 (as of the Petition Date)
- 2) Five West Capital, LP—$5,855,998.95 (as of the Petition Date)

The Debtor's other significant creditor is G450 LLC ("G450"), which asserts a secured claim in the amount of $30,063,331.49. See Proof of Claim 9-1.

The Debtor's current plan is to sell the Property. The Debtor has retained CBRE, Inc. as a broker. More than 200 parties have signed non-disclosure agreements with respect to the Property. The Debtor is in the process of selecting a stalking horse bidder and anticipates filing a sale motion sometime in July, with an auction expected during August 2020.

Cash collateral will be used to fund the Property's operating expenses during the marketing period. Primary expenses are for wages, insurance, utilities, taxes and license fees, and quarterly fees owed to the Office of the United States Trustee. The Debtor proposes to make monthly adequate protection payments of $50,000 to G450, the most senior secured creditor.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of §363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368–69

(9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. § 363(c)(2)(B) and (e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988).

Most of the Debtor's income is derived from rental payments received from tenants at the Property. The majority of the rental payments come from the Debtor's largest tenant, the Gaju Market Corp. (the "Gaju Market"), which pays monthly rent of $173,952. The Court takes judicial notice of the fact that the Gaju Market is a grocery store that remains open for business notwithstanding the COVID-19 pandemic.

In connection with prior cash collateral hearings, the Court has found that the Property was not declining in value. The Court finds it appropriate to maintain that finding until presented with concrete evidence to the contrary. The Court notes that the instant bankruptcy petition was precipitated by litigation with Belmont and Admire, not by operating losses. The Debtor's largest tenant is a grocery store whose cash flows are more resilient to the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic than those of other retail establishments. It is also worth emphasizing that the value of the Property is not likely to decline as a result of short-term liquidity issues that tenants may experience as a result of the pandemic. The Property is situated in a desirable location and has historically been profitable. Any effects of the pandemic upon profitability will most likely be temporary.

Based on the absence of evidence of declining value and the proposed adequate protection payments to G450, the Court finds that secured creditors with an interest in the Debtor's cash collateral are adequately protected. In addition, the use of cash collateral to maintain the California Marketplace's operations constitutes further adequate protection. See In re Megan-Racine Associates, Inc., 202 B.R. 660, 663 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1996) (concluding that "[a]s long as there was a continuous income stream being generated by the Debtor, the fact that the Debtor consumed a portion of those monies to operate and maintain the facility each month did not diminish the value of the [secured creditor's] interest in the [cash collateral]").

The Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral in accordance with the Budget through and including October 3, 2020. A hearing on the use of cash collateral subsequent to October 3, 2020 shall take place on September 23, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. The hearing will go off calendar if a sale of the Property has closed prior to the hearing

The Debtor shall submit further evidence in support of the continued use of cash collateral, including an updated Budget, by no later than September 2, 2020. By that same date, the Debtor shall provide notice of the continued hearing and shall file a proof of service so indicating. Opposition to the continued use of cash collateral is due by September 9, 2020; the Debtors' reply to any opposition is due by September 16, 2020.

Within seven days of the hearing, the Debtor shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Chapter 11

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered.

On June 16, 2020, the Debtors, the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee"), and the Prepetition Secured Creditors [Note 1] (collectively, the "Plan Proponents") filed the Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation (Dated June 16, 2020) of the Debtors, the Prepetition Secured Creditors, and the Committee [Doc. No. 4879] (the "Plan") and an accompanying disclosure statement [Doc. No. 4880] (the "Disclosure Statement").

The Disclosure Statement provides the following general overview of the Plan [Note 2]:

The Plan essentially implements a comprehensive settlement and compromise between the holders of the Secured 2005 Revenue Bond Claims, the Debtors and the Committee, which enables the Plan to become effective in these Chapter 11 Cases immediately after the sale of the Debtors' remaining Hospital assets, ends the incurrence and expenditure of continuing administrative expenses of the Debtors, permits cash payments to be made to certain creditors on or about the Effective Date of the Plan and thereafter, and resolves the remaining litigation pending against the Prepetition Secured Creditors in these proceedings. Specifically, the comprehensive settlement provides for the following cash payments to be made on or about the Effective Date of the Plan: (i) full payment of the claims of the Prepetition Secured Creditors other than the holders of Secured 2005 Revenue Bond Claims; (ii) partial payment of the Secured 2005 Revenue Bond Claims in an amount not less than $124.2 million; (iii) full payment of all Allowed Mechanics Lien Claims; and (iv) full payment of all Allowed Administrative Claims. In return for the agreement by the Holders of the Secured 2005 Revenue Bond Claims to accept a partial payment of their claims on the Effective Date and to allow full payment of the Allowed Administrative Claims and Mechanics Lien Claims on or about the Effective Date, the Debtors shall: (i) dismiss with prejudice certain litigation commenced by the Committee for the benefit of the Debtors against the Prepetition Secured Creditors, and waive preserved claims against Verity MOB Financing LLC and Verity MOB Financing II LLC; and (ii) create a Liquidating Trust to collect, liquidate and realize upon the Debtors' remaining assets, which Liquidating Trust shall issue

As the Debtors' remaining assets are collected, the Liquidating Trust shall make payments to the 2005 Revenue Bonds Trustee, as holder of the First Priority Trust Beneficial Interests for the benefit of the holders of the Secured 2005 Revenue Bond Claims, until such Interests are paid in full, with interest; thereafter, the Liquidating Trust shall make payments to holders of Second Priority Trust Beneficial Interests until the holders thereof are paid in full.

Disclosure Statement at 15–16. [Note 3]

Plan Proponents move for an order finding that the Disclosure Statement contains "adequate information" within the meaning of § 1125. See Doc. No. 4881 (the "Motion"). As discussed in Section II below, all objections to the Motion have either been withdrawn or have been resolved and are now moot.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. Issues That Have Been Resolved

In response to objections asserted by various parties, the Plan Proponents have agreed to modify the Disclosure Statement. As more fully described below, the Court finds that proposed modifications resolve the objections. Accordingly, the objections are overruled as moot.

1. Objection of the California Department of Health Care Services ("DHCS")

DHCS objected to the Disclosure Statement's failure to include information regarding the status of the resolution of DHCS' claims against Seton and St. Francis arising from the transfer of each hospital's Medi-Cal Provider Agreement. DHCS asserted that such information was material since the closing of the sale of each hospital is conditioned upon resolution of DHCS' claims.

DHCS has reached agreements with Seton and St. Francis fixing the amount of DHCS' claims against each hospital in connection with the transfer of each hospital's Medi-Cal Provider Agreement. See Doc. No. 4977. Disputes between DHCS and the Debtors regarding this issue have been resolved and no longer impose an impediment to the closing of the sale. It is not necessary for the Disclosure Statement to contain information regarding this issue.

DHCS also objected to the Disclosure Statement's description of the dismissal of a prior appeal. DHCS noted that a footnote in the Disclosure Statement indicated that the appeal was dismissed as moot, when in fact the appeal was dismissed after the Debtors and DHCS reached a settlement that, among other things, provided for the withdrawal of the decision being appealed. The Plan Proponents have agreed to revise the footnote at issue to address DHCS' concerns.

2. Objection of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services ("HHS")

HHS asserted that the Disclosure Statement did not provide adequate information concerning HHS' potential objections concerning the transfer of Medicare Provider Agreements in connection with the St. Francis Sale and Seton Sale. To resolve the objection, HHS and the Plan Proponents have agreed to include the following language in the Amended Disclosure Statement:

The transfer of the Debtors' two Medicare Provider Agreements pursuant to: (a) the Seton Asset Purchase Agreement, dated March 30, 2020 [Docket No. 4360], entered into by and between AHMC, as buyer, and Seton and certain other Debtors, as sellers; and (b) the SFMC Asset Purchase Agreement, dated April 3, 2020 [Docket No. 4471], entered into by and between Prime, as buyer, and SFMC and certain other Debtors, as sellers, is the subject of ongoing settlement discussions and negotiations between HHS and the Debtors. The parties have entered into various stipulations and orders extending the time to file supplemental briefing and continuing the hearing date on the Medicare Provider Agreement transfer issue. Currently, pursuant to an order approving the parties' further stipulation entered on June 18, 2020 [Docket No. 4902], the hearing date on the Medicare Provider Agreements transfer issue is July 15, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. Thus, further governmental approval is necessary before the Medicare Provider Agreements may be transferred consensually to AHMC or Prime. HHS reserves the right to assert that its proofs of claim constitute secured claims as of the Petition Date to the extent of its setoff rights, pursuant to § 506(a). The Debtors and HHS are currently engaged in settlement discussions concerning a mutually agreeable resolution to the Medicare Provider Agreements transfer issue.

The Court finds the stipulated language to be appropriate.

3. Objection of the Cigna Entities

Cigna Healthcare of California, Inc., Cigna Health and Life Insurance Company, Life Insurance Company of North America, Cigna Dental Health of California, Inc., Cigna Dental Health Plan of Arizona, Inc., and Cigna Dental Health of Texas, Inc. (collectively, the "Cigna Entities") asserted that the Disclosure Statement did not contain adequate information because it failed to specify whether certain Cigna contracts will be assumed or rejected.

The Plan Proponents have agreed to include in the Amended Disclosure Statement and Amended Plan the following provision requested by the Cigna Entities:

The Debtors shall, no later than five (5) business days prior to the hearing on confirmation of the Plan, provide Cigna with written notice of its irrevocable decision as to whether or not the Debtors propose to assume or reject each of the Cigna Contracts as part of the Plan.

The Cigna Entities also objected to the Disclosure Statement and Plan's provisions regarding the timing of payment of administrative expense claims. The Cigna Entities noted that under the Plan, Priority Tax Claims and Priority Non-Tax Claims (which are held by the Cigna Entities) would be paid within fourteen days after such claims became allowed "or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter." The Cigna Entities asserted that as a result of the qualifying language "as soon as reasonable practicable thereafter," it was possible that the Priority Tax Claims could be paid before Cigna's Priority Non-Tax Claims, in contravention of the Bankruptcy Code's priority scheme.

To resolve the Cigna Entities' objection, the Plan Proponents have agreed to modify the provision pertaining to the treatment of Priority Non-Tax Claims as follows (modifications in bold):

Treatment. Except to the extent that a Holder of a Priority Non-Tax Claim agrees to a less favorable treatment of such Claim, each such Holder shall receive payment in Cash in an amount equal to the amount of such Allowed Claim, payable on the later of the Effective Date and the date that is fourteen (14) Days after the date on which such Priority Non-Tax Claim becomes an Allowed Priority Non-Tax Claim, in each case, or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter in accordance with the priority scheme set forth in the Bankruptcy Code.

The Court finds that the proposed modifications with respect to the assumption of agreements and the treatment of Priority Non-Tax Claims are appropriate and resolve the Cigna Entities' objections.

4. Objection of the Medical Staff of Seton Medical Center (the "Seton Medical Staff")

The Seton Medical Staff asserted that the Disclosure Statement's description of the Plan's provisions pertaining to deemed substantive consolidation was inadequate. The Seton Medical Staff subsequently withdrew its objection.

5. Reservation of Rights of Strategic Global Management, Inc. ("SGM")

The Plan provides that the deposit made by SGM in connection with the failed SGM Sale, in the amount of $30.5 million (the "Deposit"), will be distributed to creditors. SGM filed a Reservation of Rights, stating that that the Debtors' and SGM's rights in the Deposit will be determined by the District Court, which is presiding over litigation in which the Debtors assert an entitlement to the Deposit.

In response to SGM's informal request, [Note 4] the Plan Proponents have agreed to include the following language in the Amended Disclosure Statement:

The Plan Proponents acknowledge that SGM disputes the Debtors' claim to the Deposit, and SGM contends that the Deposit must be returned to SGM. The Debtors and the Plan Proponents dispute the contentions and claims of SGM to the Deposit, and contend that the Deposit is an asset of the Debtors' estates, free and clear of any rights or claims of SGM, and should be distributed in accordance with the Plan. As provided in the Plan, on the Effective Date, all rights of the Debtors against SGM, including, without limitation, all rights to recover the Deposit, are being transferred to the Liquidating Trust. The Plan shall be amended to provide, and the Confirmation Order shall state, that the Liquidating Trust shall not distribute the Deposit to creditors in accordance with the Plan or take any other action which would reduce or dissipate the Deposit, unless permitted by a judgment or an order entered by the District Court having jurisdiction over the Adversary Proceeding, and such judgment or order has not been stayed. In the event an appeal is taken from any such judgment or order, the party taking the appeal shall have the right to seek a stay pursuant to the applicable Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure. Nothing contained in the Plan or the Disclosure Statement shall modify, alter or change the rights of the Debtors and the Liquidating Trust, on the one hand, and SGM, on the other hand, to any claim or rights to the Deposit. All such claims and rights are expressly reserved and preserved.

The Court finds that the proposed language provides adequate information to creditors with respect to the Plan's treatment of the Deposit.

6. Stipulation Between the Plan Proponents and the California Attorney General

The Court has approved a stipulation between the Plan Proponents and the Attorney General providing that the following language will be included in the Amended Disclosure Statement and in any order approving the Amended Disclosure Statement:

Nothing in this Order or the Disclosure Statement shall modify or amend paragraph 38 of the SFMC Sale Order or paragraph 35 of the Seton Sale Order, each of which shall remain in full force and effect.

B. The Amended Disclosure Statement Contains Adequate Information

Section 1125 provides that a disclosure statement must contain "information of a kind, and in sufficient detail, as far as is reasonably practicable in light of the nature and history of the debtor and the condition of the debtor's books and records, ... that would enable ... a hypothetical investor of the relevant class to make an informed judgment about the plan." In determining whether a disclosure statement provides adequate information, "the court shall consider the complexity of the case, the benefit of additional information to creditors and other parties in interest, and the cost of providing additional information." §1125.

Courts interpreting § 1125(a) have explained that the "primary purpose of a disclosure statement is to give the creditors the information they need to decide whether to accept the plan." In re Monnier Bros., 755 F.2d 1336, 1342 (8th Cir. 1985). "According to the legislative history, the parameters of what constitutes adequate information are intended to be flexible." In re Diversified Investors Fund XVII, 91 B.R. 559, 560 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1988). As explained by one court:

Relevant factors for evaluating the adequacy of a disclosure statement may include: (1) the events which led to the filing of a bankruptcy petition; (2) a description of the available assets and their value; (3) the anticipated future of the company; (4) the source of information stated in the disclosure statement; (5) a disclaimer; (6) the present condition of the debtor while in Chapter 11; (7) the scheduled claims; (8) the estimated return to creditors under a Chapter 7 liquidation; (9) the accounting method utilized to produce financial information and the name of the accountants responsible for such information; (10) the future management of the debtor; (11) the Chapter 11 plan or a summary thereof; (12) the estimated administrative expenses, including attorneys' and accountants' fees; (13) the collectability of accounts receivable; (14) financial information, data, valuations or projections relevant to the creditors' decision to accept or reject the Chapter 11 plan; (15) information relevant to the risks posed to creditors under the plan; (16) the actual or projected realizable value from recovery of preferential or otherwise voidable transfers; (17) litigation likely to arise in a nonbankruptcy context; (18) tax attributes of the debtor; and (19) the relationship of the debtor with affiliates.

However, "[d]isclosure of all factors is not necessary in every case." Id.

The Court finds that the Amended Disclosure Statement contains information adequate to enable creditors to make an informed decision on the Plan. Among other things, the Amended Disclosure Statement contains detailed information regarding the following:

- 1) Events leading to the commencement of these Chapter 11 cases, including the Debtors' prepetition business operations, capital structure, and retirement benefit plans.
- 2) Significant events that occurred during the Chapter 11 cases, including information regarding resolved and ongoing adversary proceedings.
- 3) A broad general overview of the Plan, as well as a detailed description of the Plan's classification structure.
- 4) A liquidation analysis under Chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code.
- 5) A description of the tax consequences of the Plan.
- 6) A discussion of risk factors with respect to the Plan and the Debtors.
- 7) A discussion of the requirements for Plan confirmation.
- 8) A description of the releases and injunctions provided for in the Plan.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor Melissa L. Loe (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 7 case on May 28, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). On June 10, 2020, Washington State Employees Credit Union (the "Movant") filed a "Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Personal Property)" [Doc. No. 11] (the "Motion") seeking relief from the automatic stay pursuant to § 362(d)(1) and (d)(2) with respect to funds totaling $250 (the "Pledged Funds"). The Movant asserts that the Pledged Funds were provided by the Debtor as security in connection with a credit application with the Movant. The Movant intends to apply the Pledged Funds against the Debtor's outstanding prepetition credit card balance of $246.79. In support of the Motion, the Movant attached a document captioned "Visa Master Loan Application" as Exhibit 1, which is identified as a credit application on page 7, paragraph 5(d), of the Motion (the "Credit Application").

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1), the Court shall grant relief if the movant's interest in the property is not protected by an adequate equity cushion. Under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2), the court shall grant relief from the stay if "(A) the debtor does not have any equity in such property; and (B) such property is not necessary for an effective reorganization." In a stay-relief motion under either § 362(d)(1) or (d)(2), a creditor "must establish the validity and perfection of its security interest and the amount of the debt." See In re Dahlquist, 34 B.R. 476, 481 (Bankr. D.S.D. 1983).

Here, the Movant argues that it is entitled to stay relief with respect to the Pledged Funds "by virtue of its membership and contractual agreements with the Debtor." Motion at 13. However, nothing in the Credit Application substantiates a perfected interest in the Pledged Funds in favor of Movant, nor does the Credit Application require the Debtor to provide any form of security in exchange for credit. In fact, neither the Credit Application nor the Debtor's schedules make reference to the Pledged Funds. In Schedule C, the Debtor lists checking and savings accounts with the Movant, both accounts with a balance of $0.00. In sum, the Movant has not provided sufficient evidence corroborating the validity and perfection of its interest in the Pledged Funds.

On the present record, the Court cannot determine that Movant is entitled to relief from stay. The Movant may file an amended relief from stay motion and submit supplemental information therein concerning its purported interest in the Pledged Funds, if capable of doing so.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the tentative ruling is to DENY the Motion without prejudice.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On May 1, 2020, Langlois Family Law, APC ("Plaintiff") filed a Complaint Objecting to the Debtor's Discharge Pursuant to 11 U.S.C., Section 727(a)(4) [Doc. No. 1] (the "Complaint") against Steve Lewis ("Defendant"). The Plaintiff holds a claim against the Defendant in the approximate amount of $152,540.75. The Defendant's indebtedness to the Plaintiff arises from outstanding legal fees incurred in a marital dissolution proceeding, which ultimately became the subject of arbitration.

On its face, the instant Complaint seeks the denial of the Defendant's discharge on § 727(a)(4) grounds only. The Defendant moves to dismiss the Complaint, for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. Plaintiff opposes the Motion.

The allegations in the Complaint may be summarized as follows:

On or about January 13, 2016, the Defendant retained Plaintiff's legal services in connection with dissolution proceedings involving the Defendant's spouse. Complaint at ¶ 7. The Defendant's inability to tender payment for Plaintiff's services resulted in the parties attending an arbitration proceeding. Complaint at ¶ 8. The arbitration concluded in Plaintiff securing a favorable judgment against Defendant in the sum of $152,540.75 (the "Judgment") on or about July 30, 2019. Id. at ¶ 9. Following the Defendant's continued failure to satisfy the Judgment, the Plaintiff pursued and prevailed on a petition to confirm the arbitration award before the Los Angeles division of the Superior Court of the State of California on or about December 11, 2019. Id. at ¶¶ 10, 11. Soon after the state court rendered its decision, the Defendant commenced this voluntary chapter 7 case, allegedly "in order to fraudulently discharge the entire $152,541.00 debt owed to Plaintiff." Id. at ¶ 12. Pursuant to § 727(a)(4)(A), the Defendant is not entitled to a discharge. Id. at ¶ 19. The Defendant "knowingly and fraudulently" asserted the following false statements in his commencement documents:

- The Defendant stated in his petition that he earns monthly gross wages of $25,000. Id. at ¶ 16. The Defendant's gross wages and bonuses "are much greater." Id.

Chapter 7

- The Defendant stated in his petition that his IRS expense allowances total $19,604.90 per month. Id. at ¶ 17. However, the Defendant has improperly made "thousands of dollars of expenses," in contravention of IRS expense allowances. Id.
- In addition, the Defendant's excessive tax withholdings have generated a non-exempt tax refund. Id.
- The Defendant stated in his petition that his monthly disposable income is $5,374.10. Id. at ¶ 18. However, the Defendant's disposable income each month "is much greater." Id.

In addition to seeking an order denying the Defendant's discharge, the prayer for relief requests a judgment of non-dischargeability with respect to the Judgment, the accompanying rate of interest, and attorney's fees and costs. See Complaint at 4, ¶¶ 1-5.

Summary of the Motion to Dismiss

The Defendant moves to dismiss the Complaint under Civil Rule 12(b)(6). The salient points, arguments, and representations made in the Motion are summarized as follows:

The Complaint pleads vague and conclusory allegations that fail to support the basis of Defendant's purported knowing and fraudulent conduct. "A plaintiff's obligation to provide the grounds of his entitlement to relief requires more than labels and conclusions and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do." Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007) (internal citations omitted). The Complaint's assertions concerning the misrepresentation of Defendant's finances "lack any reasonable degree of specificity." For example, the Plaintiff alleges that Defendant's gross wages and bonuses are greatly overstated, without supplying any specifics. The same is true with respect to the purported misrepresentation of IRS expense allowances and monthly disposable income. Plaintiff should specifically plead any facts supporting Defendant's fraudulent conduct, if any, to afford Defendant the opportunity to challenge such allegations. Notably, before the filing of the Complaint, the Defendant provided Plaintiff with documentation in response to an informal discovery request.

The Complaint is further vague and ambiguous, to the extent that the Plaintiff seeks a non-dischargeability judgment in the prayer section. Elsewhere, the Complaint asserts that Defendant filed for bankruptcy to "fraudulently" discharge the debt owed to Plaintiff. This language seemingly implicates a claim for relief under § 523(a). However, if Plaintiff intended to raise a § 523(a) claim, such claim is also improperly pled insofar as the Complaint does not allege fraudulent intent with particularity. Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7009 requires plaintiffs to plead circumstances constituting fraudulent conduct with particularity. Furthermore, a § 523(a) claim is arguably time-barred, given that the deadline to challenge the dischargeability of the Judgment lapsed on May 8, 2020. Therefore, any claim or allegation constituting a § 523(a) claim should be stricken pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7012(f).

The Defendant further submitted an amended Chapter 7 Means Test on May 14, 2020 [Doc. No. 18], and, to this day, no party at interest has attempted to dismiss the bankruptcy case under § 707(b).

In sum, the Defendant asks for the dismissal of the Complaint with prejudice. In the alternative, the Court should construe the Motion as a request for a more definite statement and direct the Plaintiff to clarify the allegations raised in the Complaint.

On June 23, 2020, the Plaintiff filed the Opposition, which is supported by the declaration of Joseph Langlois, the Plaintiff's owner (the "Langlois Declaration"). In support of the Opposition, the Plaintiff makes the following arguments and representations:

Pursuant to Civil Rule 8, the Complaint pleads enough facts to indicate that Plaintiff is entitled to the relief requested. It is not necessary for the Complaint to provide detailed allegations at this stage. However, if the Court so determines, the Plaintiff is ready to correct any deficiencies in an amended pleading. Pursuant to the opinion in Conley v. Gibson, a complaint should not be dismissed for failure to state a claim, unless it appears beyond doubt that the plaintiff can prove no set of facts in support of his claim. 355 U.S. 41, 45-46. Here, based on the Langlois Declaration, the Plaintiff will be able to prove through admissible evidence that Defendant improperly misrepresented his financial information. The Plaintiff could not plead facts contained in the records previously made available, as Plaintiff clearly indicated that the use of such documentation was limited to settlement purposes. However, if given an opportunity to conduct discovery, the Complaint will be supported by admissible evidence. Additionally, the Plaintiff should be allowed to investigate the "apparent" inconsistencies in Defendant's commencement documents, as well as the basis for the petition amendments on May 18.

Summary of the Reply

In reply, the Defendant's principal arguments and representations may be summarized as follows:

The Opposition misstates the prevailing pleading standard set forth in Twombly, in its argument that the Complaint satisfies Civil Rule 8. Although the Plaintiff has had ample opportunity to collect evidence—by attending the § 341(a) meeting of creditors, and despite having had the ability to consult with the chapter 7 trustee or file a 2004(a) motion—the Complaint fails to advance little more than labels and conclusions. The Langlois Declaration is a list of self-serving, unsupported allegations that could have been properly alleged in the Complaint, but at this juncture, it cannot serve as the basis for curing the pleading defects. According to Schneider v. California Dept. of Corrections, in adjudicating a motion to dismiss, courts cannot consider "new facts" alleged in the plaintiff's opposition papers. 151 F.3d 1194 (9th Cir. 1998). Hence, the Langlois Declaration consists of extraneous assertions which must be disregarded in a motion to dismiss inquiry. To that extent, the Defendant has submitted a supplemental pleading enumerating various evidentiary objections against the Langlois Declaration.

The Ninth Circuit in Somers v. Apple, Inc. stated that the availability of discovery mechanisms requires the plaintiff to "first produce a complaint that passes the plausibility test." 729 F.3d 953, 960 (9th Cir. 2013). Therefore, the argument that additional discovery will yield admissible evidence supporting the Complaint cannot serve as grounds for circumventing dismissal. Separately, if granted leave to amend, the Plaintiff should set forth allegations that unambiguously indicates to the Defendant whether relief under § 523(a) will be sought.

In sum, the Defendant reiterates that the Complaint must be dismissed with prejudice, or in the alternative, the Complaint must be amended.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Civil Rule 12(b)(6), applicable herein through Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7012(b), provides that the dismissal of a complaint is proper if it "fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted." Under this standard, "[t]o survive a motion to dismiss, a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.' A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (internal citations omitted). To state a plausible claim for relief, a complaint must satisfy two working principles:

First, the tenet that a court must accept as true all of the allegations contained in a complaint is inapplicable to legal conclusions. Threadbare recitations of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory statements, do not suffice.... Second, only a complaint that states a plausible claim for relief survives a motion to dismiss. Determining whether a complaint states a plausible claim for relief will ... be a context-specific task that requires the reviewing court to draw on its judicial experience and common sense. But where the well-pleaded facts do not permit the court to infer more than the mere possibility of misconduct, the complaint has alleged—but it has not "show[n]"— "that the pleader is entitled to relief."

Id. (citing Civil Rule 8(a)(2)).

Although the pleading standard Civil Rule 8 announces “does not require ‘detailed factual allegations,’ ... it demands more than an unadorned, the-defendant-unlawfully-harmed-me accusation.... A pleading that offers ‘labels and conclusions’ or a ‘formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.’ Nor does a complaint suffice if it tenders ‘naked assertion[s]’ devoid of ‘further factual enhancement.’” Id. (citing Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)).

A. In Determining the Motion, the Court Declines to Consider Matters Extraneous to the Complaint

In support of their respective briefs, both the Plaintiff and the Defendant present matters extraneous to the Complaint. Accordingly, the Plaintiff has presented (1) the Langlois Declaration and (2) a portion of a letter from Defendant’s counsel. The Defendant requests that the Court rule on various evidentiary objections directed at Plaintiff’s materials.

The purpose of a motion to dismiss, under Civil Rule 12(b)(6), is to test the legal sufficiency of a complaint. Navarro v. Block, 250 F.2d 729, 732 (9th Cir. 2001). Generally, a court may not consider any materials extraneous to the complaint or contained in supporting exhibits attached thereto when ruling on a Rule 12(b)(6) motion. Hal Roach Studios, Inc. v. Richard Feiner & Co., 896 F.2d 1542, 1555 n.19 (9th Cir. 1990). An exception to this rule, commonly referred to as the “incorporation by reference doctrine” permits courts to take notice of documents “whose contents are alleged in a complaint and whose authenticity no party questions.” Knievel v. ESPN, 393 F.3d 1068, 1076 (9th Cir. 2005).

Both the Langlois Declaration and the letter segment identified as “Exhibit A” go beyond the four corners of the Complaint, consisting of extraneous matters that cannot properly be the subject of judicial notice. These materials implicate matters that are the source of dispute and are otherwise irrelevant to the legal issue at hand. See, e.g., Langlois Decl. at ¶ 7 (“The defendant has carefully planned to file the instant Chapter 7 bankruptcy petition. Defendant is a 3-time bankruptcy filer.”); Reply at 5 (“the Langlois Declaration is an improper effort to poison the record, by making unsupported extraneous and unsupported comments...”). These assertions provide no assistance to the Court in determining whether this Complaint sufficiently states a claim for relief. For similar reasons, the Defendant’s evidentiary objections are improperly raised in a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss. The Court will not render a determination as to these evidentiary objections. Doing so will require that the Court make findings of fact, an endeavor lying outside the scope of the present legal inquiry, i.e., to test the legal sufficiency of the Complaint. While the Court does not consider the particular facts alleged for the first time in the Langlois Declaration, such declaration is construed as a proffer that the Complaint could have alleged additional facts, had it been artfully drafted from the outset. Therefore, the Court declines to rule on the Defendant’s evidentiary objections at this stage of litigation.

B. The Complaint Fails to State a Claim for Relief Under § 724(a)(4)

The sole cause of action in the Complaint alleges that the Defendant’s discharge should be denied under § 727(a)(4)(A).

Section 727(a)(4)(A) provides that a debtor is not entitled to a discharge if “the debtor knowingly and fraudulently, in or in connection with the case made a false oath or account ....”

To state a claim under § 727(a)(4)(A), a complaint must contain factual allegations showing that:

- 1) the debtor made a false oath in connection with the case;
- 2) the oath related to a material fact;
- 3) the oath was made knowingly; and

- 4) the oath was made fraudulently.

Retz v. Samson (In re Retz), 606 F.3d 1189, 1197 (9th Cir. 2010). "A false oath may involve a false statement or omission in the debtor's schedules." Fogal Legware of Switzerland, Inc. v. Wills (In re Wills), 243 B.R. 58, 62 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1999).

"A fact is material 'if it bears a relationship to the debtor's business transactions or estate, or concerns the discovery of assets, business dealings, or the existence and disposition of the debtor's property.' An omission or misstatement that 'detrimentally affects administration of the estate is material.'" Retz, 606 F.3d at 1198 (internal citations omitted). A false statement is made "knowingly" if the debtor "acts deliberately and consciously." Id. A false statement is made "fraudulently" if the debtor makes the statement "with the intention and purpose of deceiving creditors." Id. "Reckless indifference or disregard for the truth may be circumstantial evidence of intent, but it is not sufficient, alone, to constitute fraudulent intent." Khalil v. Developers Sur. & Indem. Co., 379 B.R. 163, 172 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2007).

Fraud is an element of a claim brought forth under § 727(a)(4)(A); therefore, a plaintiff must satisfy the heightened pleading standard stated in Civil Rule 9(b). In re Eden, 584 B.R. 795, 806 (Bankr. N.D. Ga. 2018); see Hunt v. Steffensen (In re Steffensen), 511 B.R. 149, 160 (Bankr. D. Utah 2014) ("because one element of a § 727(a)(4) claim is fraudulent intent, the Plaintiff's complaint must meet the particularity requirements of Rule 9(b)"). To plead fraud with particularity, a plaintiff must identify "the time, place, and contents of the false representation, the identity of the party making the false statements and the consequences thereof." In re Steffensen, 511 B.R. at 160 (internal quotes omitted). Civil Rule 9(b) also requires that the plaintiff allege facts "expla[ining]...why the disputed statement was untrue or misleading when made." Yourish v. California Amplifier, 191 F.3d 983, 993 (9th Cir. 1999).

The Complaint fails to allege each of the three false statements purportedly made by the Defendant with the requisite level of particularity. First, the Complaint alleges that the Defendant understated his gross wages, which total a "much greater" amount. Complaint at ¶ 16. While the Plaintiff pleads the basic facts of who, what, where, and when, these conclusory statements, without more, fail to particularly state why the representation was misleading when it was made. The Complaint does not contain facts supporting the conclusory statement that the Defendant understated his gross wages with the "intention and purpose of deceiving creditors." The Complaint is further devoid of any other facts that would enable the Court to reasonably infer actual deceit, or even reckless indifference to the veracity of Defendant's financial information.

Additionally, the Complaint fails to allege facts supporting that the alleged misstatement is material. The Complaint does not allege an estimate of the Defendant's actual earnings. Even if it is true that the Defendant's gross wages are higher than as represented, the Complaint's threadbare allegations do not indicate the misstatement was material because it "detrimentally affects the administration of the estate." Absent a showing of materiality, and without particularly pleading the element of fraud, Plaintiff cannot state a claim under § 727(a)(4)(A). For the reasons discussed above, the allegations set forth in ¶¶ 17 and 18—respecting misstatements of Defendant's IRS expense allowances and monthly disposable income—also fail to state a claim under § 727(a)(4)(A). These allegations suffer from the same defects as the allegation in ¶ 16, insofar as they insufficiently fail to plead materiality and fraudulent intent. [Note 1].

As discussed above, the Langlois Declaration indicates that the Plaintiff is capable of supplementing the threadbare allegations pled in the Complaint. United States ex rel. Lee v. SmithKline Beecham, Inc., 245 F.3d 1048, 1052 (9th Cir. 2001) ("leave to amend should be granted unless the district court determines that the pleading could not possibly be cured by the allegation of other facts.") (internal quote omitted). Therefore, amendment of the Complaint would not be futile. In adjudicating the Motion, the Court proffers no opinion as to whether the allegations asserted in the Langlois Declaration, without more, can cure the Complaint's pleading defects. The Plaintiff is strongly advised against relegating facts central to this dispute to pleadings extraneous to the four corners of its amended complaint.

The Plaintiff shall file a First Amended Complaint by no later than July 21, 2020. The Pretrial Status Conference, set for July 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m., is VACATED. Upon the filing of the First Amended Complaint, the Clerk of the Court will issue a Summons and Scheduling Order setting forth updated dates governing this action, including the date of a continued Pretrial Status Conference.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Complaint is dismissed, but Defendant is given leave to amend. A First Amended Complaint shall be filed by no later than July 21, 2020. All other relief requested and not discussed above is denied [Note 2].

Note 1: For instance, the Complaint completely neglects to state even the most basic facts surrounding the alleged excessive withholding practice: whether there is a specific misleading statement or omission in the petition, what makes such statement or omission misleading, and whether the misstatement or omission is material, inter alia. As pled, it is unclear if the Plaintiff alleges whether the Defendant has generated an income tax refund that he has not disclosed, or if the tax amount computed in the Chapter 7 Means Test is inaccurate. These are all background facts that should have been alleged in the Complaint from the outset.

Note 2: The Court declines to reach a determination with respect to the Defendant's request to strike allegations implicating a § 523(a) claim. Once the First Amended Complaint has been entered, the Defendant may renew his request, if warranted.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtors move for entry of an order authorizing them to reject a collective bargaining agreement (the "Existing CBA") between St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis") and Service Employees International Union–United Healthcare Workers West ("SEIU"). See Doc. No. 4741 (the "Rejection Motion"). SEIU opposes the Rejection Motion.

A. Background

1. The APA Between the Debtors and Prime

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered.

On February 26, 2020, the Court entered an Order (1) Approving Auction Sale Format and Bidding Procedures; (2) Approving Process for Discretionary Selection of Stalking Horse Bidder and Bid Protections; (3) Approving Form of Notice to be Provided to Interested Parties; (4) Scheduling a Court Hearing to Consider Approval of the Sale to the Highest and Best Bidder; and (5) Approving Procedures Related to the Assumption of Certain Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases [Doc. No. 4165] (the "Bidding Procedures Order"). The Bidding Procedures Order established procedures governing the auction (the "Auction") of St. Francis.

The Bidding Procedures Order authorized the Debtors to designate a Stalking Horse Bidder without further order of the Court. The Debtors designated Prime as the Stalking Horse Bidder. The Debtors received bids from potential purchasers, but after consulting with their advisors and the Consultation Parties (as defined in the Bidding Procedures Order), determined that such bids did not constitute Qualified Bids. The Debtors selected Prime as the Winning Bidder and did not conduct the Auction.

On April 9, 2020, the Court entered an order authorizing the Debtors to sell St. Francis to Prime. See Doc. No. 4511 (the "Sale Order"). Material terms of the Asset Purchase Agreement (the "APA") as they pertain to the Existing CBA are as follows:

4.9. Contract With Unions. (a) ... The applicable Sellers and Purchaser shall each participate in all negotiations related to the potential modification and assignment of specific Seller's collective bargaining agreements to Purchaser. The applicable Sellers shall use commercially reasonable efforts to initiate discussions with Purchaser and unions and conduct discussions to renegotiate each collective bargaining agreement currently in effect with each applicable union. The applicable Sellers will not unreasonably withhold, condition or delay Bankruptcy Court approval of any successfully renegotiated collective bargaining agreement. The Parties recognize that Seller's failure to conclude a successor collective bargaining agreement shall not be a breach of Sellers' obligation under this Agreement or otherwise excuse Purchaser's obligations under this Agreement.

(b) On or before the date that is thirty (30) days after the Sale Order Date, the negotiations pursuant to Section 4.9(a) shall have resulted in each, such labor unions, agreeing to either (i) either modification of the St. Francis related collective bargaining agreements under terms that are to be substantially consistent with the Purchaser's existing and most current collective bargaining agreements with each such respective labor union, and that settle all liabilities under the existing Seller collective bargaining agreements that shall be assigned to Purchaser, provided that there are shall be no cure obligations to the Sellers or (ii) enter into new collective bargaining agreements that are substantially consistent with the Purchaser's existing collective bargaining agreements with each such respective labor union; provided, that if Purchaser and each labor union have not entered into such agreements described in (i) or (ii) above, or have entered into an agreement under (ii), then Sellers shall have the absolute right to file or take any other action to reject and terminate any such collective bargaining agreement and, in such event, the Bankruptcy Court shall have entered an order granting Sellers' requested rejection of such collective bargaining agreement prior to the Closing Date.

APA at § 4.9.

If Prime and SEIU have not consensually entered into a collective bargaining agreement consistent with § 4.9, Prime is not required to close the sale unless the Debtors have obtained an order authorizing rejection of the Existing CBA:

Sellers shall have satisfied, in all material respects, their obligations set forth in Section 4.9(b). For the avoidance of doubt, in the event that Purchaser and each labor union has not entered into an agreement described in Section 4.9(b)(i) or (ii), then material satisfaction of Section 4.9(b) means that Seller has filed or taken action to reject and terminate any such collective bargaining agreement and that the Bankruptcy Court has entered an order granting Seller's requested rejection of such collective bargaining agreement prior to the Closing Date.

APA at § 8.7.

Either the Debtors or Prime may terminate the APA if the sale has not closed on or before September 1, 2020 (the "Termination Date"), except that the Termination Date shall be December 31, 2020 if the only condition to closing that has not been satisfied is the Attorney General's consent to the sale upon conditions consistent with those that Prime has agreed to accept. Id. at § 9.1(i).

2. The Initial Hearing on the Rejection Motion

On June 10, 2020, the Court conducted an initial hearing on the Rejection Motion (the "Initial Hearing"). At the Initial Hearing, the Court found "that consensual resolution of the § 1113 issues remains possible," and set forth "guidance intended to facilitate and channel further negotiations." See Doc. No. 4857 at 1.

The guidance included the Court's views on the factors set forth in In re American Provision Co., 44 B.R. 907 (Bankr. D. Minn. 1984). With respect to American Provision Factor 3, the Court found that the phrase "necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor" was best interpreted to mean "necessary to permit the Debtors to confirm a liquidating plan." Id. at 9-10. Finding that the closing of the sale of St. Francis to Prime was essential to the Debtors' ability to confirm a liquidating plan, the Court concluded that to satisfy Factor 3, the Debtors were required to demonstrate that rejection of the Existing CBA was a prerequisite to the closing of the sale. Id.

The Court found that Factor 3 had not yet been satisfied because it remained possible for SEIU and Prime to agree upon terms of a Successor CBA, which would make it unnecessary for the Debtors to obtain an order rejecting the Existing CBA. Id. at 10.

The Court rejected SEIU's argument that the Debtors could not establish that they had met and conferred in good faith as a result of language in the APA:

SEIU asserts that by the time the Debtors commenced negotiations, the language in the APA made it foregoing conclusion that Prime would not assume the CBA. SEIU relies upon In re Lady H Coal Co., Inc., 193 B.R. 233, 242 (Bankr. S.D.W. Va. 1996) for the proposition "that a debtor has a duty under § 1113 to not obligate itself prior to negotiations with its union employees, which would likely preclude reaching a compromise." The Lady H court held that "the Debtors could not have bargained in good faith as the Debtors were, prior to any negotiations with the union, locked into at an agreement where the purchaser was not assuming the [CBA]." Id.

SEIU's reliance upon Lady H is misplaced. In Lady H, the debtor's CEO unilaterally obtained a broker to market the assets at issue, in violation of § 327. As a result of this violation, the unions received no notice of the marketing of the assets. Lady H, 193 B.R. at 242. The lack of notice deprived the unions of the "opportunity to participate in whatever process a debtor engages in to find a suitable buyer." Id. Here, by contrast, the Debtors have stated their intent to sell the St. Francis from the inception of the case. The Debtors fully complied with the requirements of § 327 when retaining Cain to market the St. Francis.

In addition, the debtor in Lady H did not pursue a possible sale to another buyer who was willing to assume the union's CBA. Id. Instead, the debtor obligated itself to a buyer that wanted to reject the CBA, primarily because that buyer had agreed to employ the debtor's officers at inflated salaries. Id. In contrast to the facts of Lady H, the record shows that the Debtors executed the APA with Prime to maximize the proceeds available to the estate, not to enrich insiders, and that the Debtors aggressively marketed St. Louise. The entire purpose of the APA with Prime was to produce additional favorable bids, some of which might include assumption of the CBAs. The Debtors were not "locked in" under the APA; the APA was merely the first step in a thorough marketing process. The fact that no other bidders emerged does not indicate that there were problems with the APA; it instead demonstrates that no buyers exist who are willing to acquire St. Louise subject to the CBA.

The only temporal requirement imposed by the statute regarding the Debtors' bargaining obligations is that the bargaining commence prior to the filing of a motion seeking relief under § 1113. § 1113(b)(1)(A). Here, the Debtors fulfilled this requirement by meeting with SEIU three times prior to the filing of the Motion.

The decision in Local 211 v. Family Snacks, Inc., Official Unsecured Creditors' Comm. (In re Family Snacks, Inc.), 257 B.R. 884, 897 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2001) shows that the Debtors are not obligated to commence bargaining at the inception of the case. Similar to this case, in Family Snacks the debtor commenced negotiations only after it had sold its assets. The Family Snacks court held that the debtor's decision to not commence negotiations until after the asset sale did not automatically bar the debtor from obtaining relief under § 1113. Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895–96.

Ruling After Initial Hearing [Doc. No. 4857] at 12-13.

The Court set this final hearing on the Rejection Motion, and directed the parties to file, no later than July 1, 2020, (a) a stipulation setting forth the parties' disputes regarding whether complete and reliable information had been provided and (b) final briefs accompanied by appropriate evidence setting forth the parties' positions on those issues that remain in dispute. See Doc. No. 4862.

3. The Debtors' Proposal

The Debtors' most recent proposal to SEIU is as follows:

- 1) Providing SEIU consents to rejection of the Existing CBA prior to the Final Hearing, SEIU's employees who are not offered employment by Prime shall receive an allowed claim for severance calculated under the accrual method (the "Severance Benefit"). Amounts of the Severance Benefit earned on and after the Petition Date through the date of the closing of the sale of St. Francis will receive administrative status. Amounts earned after March 4, 2018 and through the day prior to the Petition Date will receive priority claim status up to any remaining balance under § 507(a)(4), up to a maximum of $12,850 per employee, with any excess granted general unsecured status. Amounts earned prior to March 4, 2018 will receive general unsecured status.
- 2) If SEIU does not consent to rejection of the Existing CBA prior to the Final Hearing, the Debtors will withdraw the Severance Benefit.

B. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Final Hearing

SEIU asserts that the Rejection Motion should be denied for the following reasons:

- 1) SEIU has not been provided the information necessary to evaluate the proposal. Prime has refused to provide SEIU an estimate of the percentage of SEIU-represented workers that will be hired by Prime. Although Prime has committed to honor the terms of the APA and hire “substantially all” employees, it has provided no clarity as to how it interprets this provision and has not provided even a “soft number” of employees that would be re-hired. Verity has not responded to SEIU’s request for information about whether or how Verity will enforce the APA’s provision requiring Prime to hire “substantially all” of the workforce.
- 2) SEIU has not been provided financial statements using Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. This is significant because the conclusions about the profitability of St. Francis based on the monthly operating reports presented by Prime is substantially different from the conclusions in the Debtors’ own analysis of the same numbers, and both still fall far short of the conclusions presented to Cain Brothers to potential bidders.
- 3) The Debtors have not demonstrated that rejection of the severance obligations under the Existing CBA is necessary to enable them to confirm a liquidating plan. Debtors have stated that rejection of the severance obligations is necessary because their assets are “very limited,” but this assertion has not been substantiated by objective quantitative analysis. The fact that the Debtors have offered a Severance Benefit if SEIU consents to rejection shows that the Debtors have the ability to pay severance to SEIU-represented employees who are not re-hired by Prime.

Debtors make the following arguments in support of the Rejection Motion:

- 1) SEIU has waived its ability to contest the sufficiency of the information provided by the Debtors. On June 17, 2020, the Debtors asked SEIU to identify any deficiencies with the information produced. SEIU did not do so until the morning of July 1, 2020—the same day that the parties were required to submit the Discovery Stipulation.
- 2) There is no merit to SEIU’s contention that it has not been provided sufficient information regarding the meaning of the APA’s provision requiring Prime to hire “substantially all” employees at St. Francis. The Debtors have supplied

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 1113 provides:

(a) The debtor in possession, or the trustee if one has been appointed under the provisions of this chapter, ... may assume or reject a collective bargaining agreement only in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(1) Subsequent to filing a petition and prior to filing an application seeking rejection of a collective bargaining agreement, the debtor in possession or trustee (hereinafter in this section "trustee" shall include a debtor in possession), shall—

(B) provide, subject to subsection (d)(3), the representative of the employees with such relevant information as is necessary to evaluate the proposal.

(2) During the period beginning on the date of the making of a proposal provided for in paragraph (1) and ending on the date of the hearing provided for in subsection (d)(1), the trustee shall meet, at reasonable times, with the authorized representative to confer in good faith in attempting to reach mutually satisfactory modifications of such agreement.

(c) The court shall approve an application for rejection of a collective bargaining agreement only if the court finds that—

- (1) the trustee has, prior to the hearing, made a proposal that fulfills the requirements of subsection (b)(1);
- (2) the authorized representative of the employees has refused to accept such proposal without good cause; and
- (3) the balance of the equities clearly favors rejection of such agreement.

"Bankruptcy cases generally approach this complicated statute by breaking the statute into a nine part test" first set forth in In re Am. Provision Co., 44 B.R. 907, 909 (Bankr. D. Minn. 1984). See In re Karykeion, Inc., 435 B.R. 663, 677 (Bankr. C.D. The American Provision factors are as follows:

- 1) The debtor in possession must make a proposal to the Union to modify the collective bargaining agreement.
- 2) The proposal must be based on the most complete and reliable information available at the time of the proposal.
- 3) The proposed modifications must be necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor.
- 4) The proposed modifications must assure that all creditors, the debtor and all of the affected parties are treated fairly and equitably.
- 5) The debtor must provide to the Union such relevant information as is necessary to evaluate the proposal.
- 6) Between the time of the making of the proposal and the time of the hearing on approval of the rejection of the existing collective bargaining agreement, the debtor must meet at reasonable times with the Union.
- 7) At the meetings the debtor must confer in good faith in attempting to reach mutually satisfactory modifications of the collective bargaining agreement.
- 8) The Union must have refused to accept the proposal without good cause.
- 9) The balance of the equities must clearly favor rejection of the collective bargaining agreement.

American Provision, 44 B.R. at 909.

Courts apply the American Provision factors even where a debtor is liquidating its assets and does not intend to continue in business after emerging from bankruptcy. Courts reason that "reorganization," as used in § 1113(b)(1)(A), is "generally understood to include all types of debt adjustment, including a sale of assets, piecemeal or on a going concern basis, under § 363 followed by a plan of reorganization which distributes the proceeds of the sale to creditors in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code's priority scheme." Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895. Some courts have held that where, as here, the Debtors are liquidating their assets, the phrase "necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor" means "necessary to achieve a sale under § 363 of the Bankruptcy Code." Alpha Nat. Res., Inc., 552 B.R. 314, 333 (Bankr. E.D. Va. 2016); see also Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 890 (requiring that the debtor's proposal "be necessary to permit ... those modifications necessary to consummate a going-concern sale"); In re Karykeion, Inc., 435 B.R. 663, 679 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2010) (finding that the debtor had proven that rejection was necessary when the closing of a § 363 sale was contingent on rejection of a collective bargaining agreement). Other courts have concluded that in a liquidating case, the phrase "necessary to permit reorganization of the debtor" means "necessary to accommodate confirmation of a Chapter 11 plan." Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895.

A. Factors 2 and 5—Complete Information

Factor 2 requires that the Debtors' proposal be based on the most complete and reliable information available at the time the proposal is made. Factor 5 requires that the Debtors provide UNAC with "such relevant information as is necessary to evaluate the proposal." For both factors, a debtor "must gather the 'most complete information at the time and ... base its proposal on the information it considers reliable,' excluding 'hopeful wishes, mere possibilities and speculation.' 'The breadth and depth of the requisite information will vary with the circumstances, including the size and complicity of the debtor's business and work force; the complexity of the wage and benefit structure under the collective bargaining agreement; and the extent and severity of modifications the debtor is proposing.'" In re Walter Energy, Inc., 542 B.R. 859, 886 (Bankr. 1. The Objections of SEIU Set Forth in the Discovery Stipulation are Overruled

a. Workforce Transition Information

SEIU asserts that Prime has failed to provide information about how many members of SEIU would be hired by Prime, how hiring decisions would be made, whether service lines would be cut, and whether staffing levels would be affected by implementation of the Epiq system. SEIU contends that the Debtors have failed to provide SEIU with information on what actions, if any, the Debtors will take to enforce the APA's provision requiring Prime to hire "substantially all" of those employed at St. Francis.

SEIU's objection is overruled. To the extent that SEIU's request is directed toward Prime, the Debtors are not required to provide such information to satisfy the requirements of § 1113. See Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 896 ("To satisfy the second and fifth procedural requirements, a debtor need only provide that information that is within its power to provide.").

Nor are the Debtors required to provide SEIU with information about how they might respond with respect to the enforcement of the APA's hiring provisions. The information regarding a hypothetical situation that SEIU requests is not necessary for SEIU to understand the Debtors' proposal—which provides that the Existing CBA will be rejected because the Debtors will no longer operate St. Francis after the closing of the sale and therefore will no longer need the Existing CBA. In addition, the Debtors have provided SEIU with authority explaining that in the APA, the term "substantially all" means "less than all, but not much less." Cont'l Can Co., Inc. v. Chicago Truck Drivers, Helpers & Warehouse Workers Union (Indep.) Pension Fund, 916 F.2d 1154 (7th Cir. 1990).

b. Information Regarding the Necessity of Rejecting All Severance Obligations

SEIU contends that the Debtors have not provided sufficient quantitative analysis to substantiate the necessity of rejecting all severance obligations under the Existing CBA.

The objection is overruled. SEIU has been provided updates from advisors to the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee"), including a June 2020 estate recovery analysis. This analysis estimated that approximately $8 million would be available to general unsecured creditors, a small recovery in a case of this size. The recovery analysis sufficiently substantiates the Debtors' assertion that rejection of the severance obligations is necessary given the Debtors' limited resources.

c. Information About the Justification for Prime's Proposals

SEIU asserts that Prime has not provided sufficient rationales for various proposals made with respect to the Successor CBA.

SEIU's objection is overruled. The objection is directed toward Prime, not the Debtors. To satisfy the requirements of § 1113, the Debtors are only required to furnish information within their power to provide. See Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 896 ("To satisfy the second and fifth procedural requirements, a debtor need only provide that information that is within its power to provide.").

d. Financial Information Regarding St. Francis' Performance

SEIU asserts that it has not been provided financial statements using GAAP for St. Francis, including accounting notes for revenue recognition.

The objection is overruled. SEIU has waived its ability to object to the adequacy of information provided regarding St. Francis' finances. In an e-mail sent to SEIU on June 17, 2020, the Debtors advised SEIU that monthly operating reports were available that were in accordance with GAAP accounting. SEIU did not contest the adequacy of this response until July 1, 2020—the date upon which the parties were required to file the Discovery Stipulation. If SEIU believed that the information was not adequate, it was required to so advise the Debtors much earlier.

e. Projected Cost Reductions

SEIU asserts that Prime has failed to provide information regarding the cost-savings it expects to achieve as a result of the integration of St. Francis with Prime's other hospital operations.

SEIU's objection is overruled. The objection is directed toward Prime, not the Debtors. To satisfy the requirements of § 1113, the Debtors are required only to furnish information within their power to provide. See Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 896 ("To satisfy the second and fifth procedural requirements, a debtor need only provide that information that is within its power to provide.").

2. The Debtors Have Satisfied Factors 2 and 5

The Court finds that the Debtors have provided SEIU with relevant information necessary to evaluate the proposal. SEIU knows that no buyers other than Prime submitted an offer to purchase St. Francis notwithstanding extensive marketing, and that Prime is not willing to acquire St. Francis subject to the Existing CBA. The information that SEIU alleges is deficient goes primarily to negotiations between SEIU and Prime with respect to the Successor CBA—not to the issue of whether SEIU should accept the Debtors' proposal. The Debtors have satisfied Factors 2 and 5.

B. Factor 4—Fair and Equitable Treatment

Factor 4 requires that the proposed modifications to the CBAs treat all creditors, the Debtors, and all affected parties fairly and equitably. As explained by the court in Walter Energy:

This requirement "spread[s] the burden of saving the company to every constituency while ensuring that all sacrifice to a similar degree." "Courts take a flexible approach in considering what constitutes fair and equitable treatment due to the difficulty in comparing the differing sacrifices of the parties in interest." A debtor can meet the requirement "by showing that its proposal treats the union fairly when compared with the burden imposed on other parties by the debtor's additional cost-cutting measures and the Chapter 11 process generally."

In applying this factor, it is important to emphasize how the Debtors arrived at this point. In early 2014, facing serious operating losses, the Debtors began evaluating strategic alternatives. First Day Decl. of Richard G. Adcock [Doc. No. 8] at ¶ 87. To continue operations until a contemplated sale or recapitalization could close, the Debtors borrowed $125 million in 2014. Id. In 2015, the Debtors entered into a recapitalization transaction with BlueMountain Capital Management LLC ("BlueMountain"). BlueMountain injected $100 million of capital and arranged for an additional $160 million of loans. Id. at ¶¶ 88–89. Despite BlueMountain's infusion of cash, the health system did not prosper. Id. at ¶ 93.

In July 2017, NantWorks, LLC loaned another $148 million to the Debtors. Id. at ¶ 94. Notwithstanding these additional capital infusions and the retention of various consultants and experts to improve operations, losses of approximately $175 million annually continued to mount. Id. at ¶ 95. In sum, prior to seeking bankruptcy relief, the Debtors diligently attempted to put their operations on a sound financial footing, but were unable to do so, in part because of the legacy cost structure imposed by the Existing CBA.

St. Francis has been extensively marketed, but neither Prime nor any other buyer is willing to acquire the hospital subject to the Existing CBA. In June 2018, prior to the Petition Date, the Debtors engaged Cain Brothers, a division of KeyBanc Capital Markets (“Cain”) to market all of the Hospitals, including St. Francis. Beginning in July 2018, Cain prepared a Confidential Investment Memorandum (the “CIM”), created an online data room to share information with potential buyers, and contacted over 110 strategic and financial buyers. Subsequent to the Petition Date, Cain continued to market St. Francis.

In connection with a prior sale to Strategic Global Management, Inc. (“SGM”) that did not close (the “SGM Sale”), St. Francis was extensively marketed. Cain notified 90 parties of the sale process, provided access to a data room to sixteen parties who executed non-disclosure agreements (“NDAs”), and remained in contact with potential purchasers to respond to questions and provide information.

After the SGM Sale failed to close, Cain commenced a new marketing process. In December 2019, Cain began making phone calls to parties who had previously expressed interest in acquiring St. Francis. On January 3, 2020, Cain e-mailed all parties who had previously executed NDAs and explained that the Debtors were initiating another marketing process. Ultimately, 61 parties executed NDAs with respect to the renewed marketing process and were granted access to an online data room.

On January 31, 2020, the Debtors received seven Indications of Interest (the “IOIs”) for the potential acquisition of St. Francis. Cain contacted the seven potential purchasers who submitted the IOIs and continued to work with the purchasers to respond to questions and provide information. Ultimately, Prime was the only party who submitted a qualifying bid for St. Francis.

St. Francis cannot continue to operate unless it is purchased by a solvent third-party such as Prime. Further, under the APA Prime is required to hire "substantially all" of St. Francis' current employees. Without rejection of the Existing CBA, St. Francis would not continue to operate as a going concern, and all of the SEIU-represented employees would lose their jobs. Under these circumstances, rejection of the Existing CBA is fair and equitable. The Court notes that sacrifices imposed by these bankruptcies have been widespread. For example, current projections indicate that unsecured creditors will receive a distribution of only 0.5% on account of their claims. The Debtors have satisfied Factor 4.

C. Factor 3—Necessity of Rejection

In the context of this case, the term “necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor” is best interpreted to mean “necessary to permit the Debtors to confirm a liquidating plan.” This interpretation aligns most closely with the manner in which the Debtors are prosecuting this case. From the outset, the Debtors have stated their intent to sell their hospitals and use the proceeds from the sales to fund a plan of liquidation. This process is well underway. The sales of O'Connor Hospital, St. Louise Regional Medical Center, and St. Vincent Medical Center have all closed.

The closing of the sale of St. Francis to Prime is essential to the Debtors' ability to confirm a liquidating plan. The failure of the prior sale of St. Francis to Strategic Global Management, Inc. has made confirmation of a liquidating plan more challenging by requiring the Debtors to remain in bankruptcy for far longer than had been anticipated. To satisfy Factor 3, the Debtors must demonstrate that rejection of the Existing CBA is a prerequisite to the closing of the sale.

The Debtors have satisfied this factor. Prime will not acquire St. Francis subject to the Existing CBA. Prime and SEIU have been unable to agree upon a Successor CBA—which would eliminate the need for rejection of the Existing CBA—even though the parties have devoted hundreds of hours to negotiations. The sale to Prime cannot close absent rejection of the Existing CBA. In addition, as set forth in the discussion of Factor 4, no buyer is willing to acquire St. Francis subject to the Existing CBA.

SEIU's assertion that the Debtors have not shown that rejection of the severance benefit is necessary is without merit. Current projections indicate that recoveries to unsecured creditors will be approximately 0.5%, a slim margin for a case of this size. Absent rejection of the severance benefit, the estates could face significant exposure to administrative claims, jeopardizing this inconsequential recovery to unsecured creditors and making it far more difficult for the Debtors to confirm a plan. Further, SEIU's desire to receive administrative status for the severance claims of its members, while understandable, does not by itself justify SEIU's refusal to accept the Debtors' proposal. See Chicago Const. Specialties, Inc., 510 B.R. 205, 221 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 2014) (holding that "section 1113 may not be used to elevate a union's position ....").

D. Factor 1—Written Proposal

Factor 1 requires that the Debtors make a written proposal to SEIU. There is no dispute that the Debtors have done so. The Debtors have satisfied Factor 1.

E. Factor 6—Meetings at Reasonable Times

Factor 6 requires that the Debtors meet at reasonable times with SEIU between the time the proposal is made and the hearing on the rejection or modification of the collective bargaining agreement.

Prior to the Initial Hearing, the Debtors, Prime, and SEIU met and engaged in bargaining on May 1, May 5, May 8, June 4, and June 8. In the order setting this Final Hearing, the Court stated that the Debtors were only required to meet with SEIU as to the § 1113 proposal, not the negotiations with Prime. After the Initial Hearing, the Debtors facilitated continued meetings between SEIU and Prime, which occurred on June 22 and June 23.

The Debtors have satisfied Factor 6.

F. Factor 7—Good Faith Negotiations

Factor 7 requires that the Debtors meet and confer with SEIU in good faith. “The good faith requirement under section 1113 has been interpreted to mean that the debtor must make a serious effort to negotiate.” Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 894.

At the Initial Hearing, the Court rejected SEIU’s argument that the Debtors could not establish good faith by reason of the structure of the APA. The Court finds that the Debtors have made a meaningful effort to negotiate with SEIU. In addition to negotiating with respect to the Debtors’ proposal, the Debtors have facilitated negotiations between SEIU and Prime regarding a Successor CBA. These efforts were important since the negotiation of a Successor CBA would render the Rejection Motion unnecessary.

The Debtors have satisfied Factor 7.

G. Factor 8 (SEIU’s Refusal to Accept the Proposal without Good Cause) and 9 (Balance of the Equities)

Under Factor 8, SEIU must have refused to accept the proposal without good cause. Under Factor 9, the balance of the equities must clearly favor rejection of the collective bargaining agreement. Both factors are satisfied.

SEIU lacks good cause for refusing to accept the Debtors’ proposal. SEIU’s refusal to accept the proposal is directed not toward the merits of the proposal itself, but rather is motivated by the objective of putting additional pressure upon Prime regarding the negotiation of a Successor CBA. This is demonstrated by the fact that SEIU’s requests for information have been directed primarily toward issues pertaining to the Successor CBA, not the Debtors’ proposal. In addition, SEIU’s rejection also appears motivated by a desire to obtain administrative status for the severance claims of its members. That objective is understandable, but does not constitute good cause for rejection of the Debtors’ proposal. See Chicago Const. Specialties, Inc., 510 B.R. 205, 221 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 2014) (holding that “section 1113 may not be used to elevate a union’s position ....”).

The balance of the equities supports rejection. If the Existing CBA is not rejected, the sale of St. Francis cannot close and the hospital will not be able to continue as an operating entity. The sale negotiated by the Debtors allows St. Francis to continue operating, with "substantially all" of the SEIU-represented employees to be hired by Prime. It is regrettable that the terms of employment with Prime will most likely be less generous than those under the Existing CBA, but unfortunately, this result is required to permit the continued operation of St. Francis.

Denial of the Rejection Motion would also expose the Debtors' estates to substantial administrative claims, which potentially could render the estates administratively insolvent. UNAC's desire to obtain an administrative claim does not constitute good cause to reject the Debtors' proposal. See Chicago Const. Specialties, Inc., 510 B.R. 205, 221 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 2014) (holding that "section 1113 may not be used to elevate a union's position ....").

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Rejection Motion is GRANTED. Within seven days of the hearing, the Debtors shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtors move for entry of an order authorizing them to reject a collective bargaining agreement (the "Existing CBA") between St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis") and the United Nurses Association of California/Union of Health Care Professionals ("UNAC"). See Doc. No. 4742 (the "Rejection Motion"). UNAC opposes the Rejection Motion.

A. Background

1. The APA Between the Debtors and Prime

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered.

On February 26, 2020, the Court entered an Order (1) Approving Auction Sale Format and Bidding Procedures; (2) Approving Process for Discretionary Selection

No. 4165] (the "Bidding Procedures Order").* The Bidding Procedures Order established procedures governing the auction (the "Auction") of St. Francis.

The Bidding Procedures Order authorized the Debtors to designate a Stalking Horse Bidder without further order of the Court. The Debtors designated Prime as the Stalking Horse Bidder. The Debtors received bids from potential purchasers, but after consulting with their advisors and the Consultation Parties (as defined in the Bidding Procedures Order), determined that such bids did not constitute Qualified Bids. The Debtors selected Prime as the Winning Bidder and did not conduct the Auction.

On April 9, 2020, the Court entered an order authorizing the Debtors to sell St. Francis to Prime. See Doc. No. 4511 (the "Sale Order"). Material terms of the Asset Purchase Agreement (the "APA") as they pertain to the Existing CBA are as follows:

4.9. Contract With Unions. (a) ... The applicable Sellers and Purchaser shall each participate in all negotiations related to the potential modification and assignment of specific Seller's collective bargaining agreements to Purchaser. The applicable Sellers shall use commercially reasonable efforts to initiate discussions with Purchaser and unions and conduct discussions to renegotiate each collective bargaining agreement currently in effect with each applicable union. The applicable Sellers will not unreasonably withhold, condition or delay Bankruptcy Court approval of any successfully renegotiated collective bargaining agreement. The Parties recognize that Seller's failure to conclude a successor collective bargaining agreement shall not be a breach of Sellers' obligation under this Agreement or otherwise excuse Purchaser's obligations under this Agreement.

(b) On or before the date that is thirty (30) days after the Sale Order Date, the negotiations pursuant to Section 4.9(a) shall have resulted in each, such labor unions, agreeing to either (i) either modification of the St. Francis related collective bargaining agreements under terms that are to be substantially consistent with the Purchaser's existing and most current collective bargaining agreements with each such respective labor union, and that settle all liabilities under the existing Seller collective bargaining agreements that shall be assigned to Purchaser, provided that there are shall be no cure obligations to the Sellers or

APA at § 4.9.

If Prime and UNAC have not consensually entered into a collective bargaining agreement consistent with § 4.9, Prime is not required to close the sale unless the Debtors have obtained an order authorizing rejection of the Existing CBA:

Sellers shall have satisfied, in all material respects, their obligations set forth in Section 4.9(b). For the avoidance of doubt, in the event that Purchaser and each labor union has not entered into an agreement described in Section 4.9(b)(i) or (ii), then material satisfaction of Section 4.9(b) means that Seller has filed or taken action to reject and terminate any such collective bargaining agreement and that the Bankruptcy Court has entered an order granting Seller's requested rejection of such collective bargaining agreement prior to the Closing Date.

APA at § 8.7.

Either the Debtors or Prime may terminate the APA if the sale has not closed on or before September 1, 2020 (the "Termination Date"), except that the Termination Date shall be December 31, 2020 if the only condition to closing that has not been satisfied is the Attorney General's consent to the sale upon conditions consistent with those that Prime has agreed to accept. Id. at § 9.1(i).

2. The Initial Hearing on the Rejection Motion

On June 10, 2020, the Court conducted an initial hearing on the Rejection Motion (the "Initial Hearing"). At the Initial Hearing, the Court found "that consensual resolution of the § 1113 issues remains possible," and set forth "guidance intended to facilitate and channel further negotiations." See Doc. No. 4858 at 1. The Court set this final hearing on the Rejection Motion, and directed the parties to file, no later than July 1, 2020, (a) a stipulation setting forth the parties' disputes regarding whether complete and reliable information had been provided and (b) final briefs accompanied by appropriate evidence setting forth the parties' positions on those issues that remain in dispute. See Doc. No. 4861.

The guidance included the Court's views on the factors set forth in In re American Provision Co., 44 B.R. 907 (Bankr. D. Minn. 1984). With respect to American Provision Factor 3, the Court found that the phrase "necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor" was best interpreted to mean "necessary to permit the Debtors to confirm a liquidating plan." Id. at 9-10. Finding that the closing of the sale of St. Francis to Prime was essential to the Debtors' ability to confirm a liquidating plan, the Court concluded that to satisfy Factor 3, the Debtors were required to demonstrate that rejection of the Existing CBA was a prerequisite to the closing of the sale. Id.

The Court found that Factor 3 had not yet been satisfied because it remained possible for UNAC and Prime to agree upon terms of a Successor CBA, which would make it unnecessary for the Debtors to obtain an order rejecting the Existing CBA. Id. at 10.

With respect to Factors 2 and 5, the Court found that the financial information the Debtors had provided to UNAC—a one-page document captioned "SFMC—Normalized PL Analysis"—was not sufficient:

As explained in the discussion of Factor 3, a Court order authorizing rejection of the [Existing CBA] will not be necessary if UNAC and Prime succeed in negotiating a Successor CBA. In order to evaluate a Successor CBA, UNAC must have access to information showing the cost savings Prime would achieve under the Successor CBA versus the [Existing CBA]. Prime is in the best position to provide such information. However, the Court recognizes that under § 1113, the obligation to provide information is directed toward the Debtors, not Prime. See Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 896 ("To satisfy the second and fifth procedural requirements, a debtor need only provide that information that is within its power to provide."). If Prime fails to provide information regarding cost savings in connection with future operations, the Debtors are obligated to provide UNAC historical information showing the amount of St. Francis' labor costs that are attributable to the [Existing CBA]. UNAC is entitled to information allowing it to assess the economic impacts of the [Existing CBA] upon the continued operation of St. Francis.

3. The Debtors' Proposal

The Debtors' most recent proposal to UNAC is as follows:

- 1) Providing UNAC consents to rejection of the Existing CBA prior to the Final Hearing, UNAC's employees who are not offered employment by Prime shall receive an allowed claim for severance calculated under the accrual method (the "Severance Benefit"). Amounts of the Severance Benefit earned on and after the Petition Date through the date of the closing of the sale of St. Francis will receive administrative status. Amounts earned after March 4, 2018 and through the day prior to the Petition Date will receive priority claim status up to any remaining balance under § 507(a)(4), up to a maximum of $12,850 per employee, with any excess granted general unsecured status. Amounts earned prior to March 4, 2018 will receive general unsecured status.
- 2) If UNAC does not consent to rejection of the Existing CBA prior to the Final Hearing, the Debtors will withdraw the Severance Benefit.

B. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Final Hearing

UNAC asserts that the Rejection Motion should be denied without prejudice for the following reasons:

- 1) After the Initial Hearing, the Debtors belatedly provided voluminous information that was purportedly responsive to UNAC's information requests. UNAC has not had sufficient time to review the information. UNAC has requested that the Debtors stipulate to an extension of the 30-day deadline for the Court to rule upon the Rejection Motion imposed by § 1113(d)(2) so that additional bargaining sessions can take place. The Debtors have refused to stipulate to an extension. It appears that the Debtors and Prime are deliberately withholding information for as long as possible, and then upon judicial intervention, flooding UNAC with information that cannot be analyzed before the rejection clock runs out. This behavior should not be rewarded. The Rejection Motion should be denied without prejudice, which will allow the Debtors to bring a renewed Rejection Motion, during which negotiations can continue.

- 2) Prime has not negotiated in good faith. Prime's lack of good faith is relevant because Prime is the beneficiary of the APA. Under federal labor law, Prime is the successor to the Debtors. Prime's lack of good faith includes:
  - a) Stating that it would not negotiate until UNAC conceded that UNAC's requests for information had been adequately satisfied. This attempt to condition overall collective bargaining on ground rules or preconditions is per se bad faith bargaining under the National Labor Relations Act. See UPS Supply Chain Solutions, 366 NLRB No. 111 (2018) (stating that "it is a per se violation of Section 8(a)(5) and (1) for either party to hold collective bargaining hostage to unilaterally imposed preconditions on negotiations").
  - b) Misrepresenting St. Francis' financial operations. In a June 9, 2020 letter, Prime stated that St. Francis had operating losses in excess of $20 million annually. This figure does not correspond to publicly available data. In an analysis provided to the California Attorney General on June 4, 2020, the medical consulting firm JD Healthcare stated that over the past four years, St. Francis has maintained positive net income ranging from approximately $70.5 million in fiscal year 2015 to $18.7 million in fiscal year 2019.

Debtors make the following arguments in support of the Rejection Motion:

- 1) Rejection of the Existing CBA is necessary to facilitate the closing of the sale. Despite the Debtors' continued efforts, Prime and UNAC are not on the verge of a resolution. Upon the closing of the sale, the Debtors will not own St. Francis and, thus, have no need for the Existing CBA. Moreover, the Debtors should not be forced to risk administrative claim exposure by the Existing CBA's continued existence.
- 2) The Debtors have provided UNAC the necessary information to understand their § 1113 proposal. Since the Initial Hearing, Debtors have expended significant effort in responding to new requests for information and supplementing responses to existing requests. Debtors have created and populated a data room containing 144 files, constituting a total amount of 329 MB, with 28 files (36 MB) responsive to employee data requests and 110 files (289 MB) response to financial data requests.
- 3) UNAC does not have good cause to reject the Debtors' proposal. UNAC has conditioned acceptance of the proposal upon action by Prime, rather than offering a counterproposal that the Debtors have the power to accept unilaterally. UNAC's conflation of the Debtors and Prime is improper. UNAC has also taken the position that its negotiations with the Debtors are governed by the National Labor Relations Act, which is incorrect as a matter of law. Negotiations with the Debtors are governed solely by § 1113 of the Bankruptcy Code.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 1113 provides:

- (a) The debtor in possession, or the trustee if one has been appointed under the provisions of this chapter, ... may assume or reject a collective bargaining agreement only in accordance with the provisions of this section.

- (b)
  - (1) Subsequent to filing a petition and prior to filing an application seeking rejection of a collective bargaining agreement, the debtor in possession or trustee (hereinafter in this section "trustee" shall include a debtor in possession), shall—
    - (A) make a proposal to the authorized representative of the employees covered by such agreement, based on the most complete and reliable information available at the time of such proposal, which provides for those necessary modifications in the employee benefits and protections that are necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor and assures that all creditors, the debtor and all of the affected parties are treated fairly and equitably; and
    - (B) provide, subject to subsection (d)(3), the representative of the employees with such relevant information as is necessary to evaluate the proposal.
  - (2) During the period beginning on the date of the making of a proposal provided for in paragraph (1) and ending on the date of the hearing provided for in subsection (d)(1), the trustee shall meet, at reasonable times, with the authorized representative to confer in good faith in attempting to reach mutually satisfactory modifications of such agreement.

The American Provision factors are as follows:

- 2) The proposal must be based on the most complete and reliable information available at the time of the proposal.
- 3) The proposed modifications must be necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor.
- 4) The proposed modifications must assure that all creditors, the debtor and all of the affected parties are treated fairly and equitably.
- 5) The debtor must provide to the Union such relevant information as is necessary to evaluate the proposal.
- 6) Between the time of the making of the proposal and the time of the hearing on approval of the rejection of the existing collective bargaining agreement, the debtor must meet at reasonable times with the Union.
- 7) At the meetings the debtor must confer in good faith in attempting to reach mutually satisfactory modifications of the collective bargaining agreement.
- 8) The Union must have refused to accept the proposal without good cause.
- 9) The balance of the equities must clearly favor rejection of the collective bargaining agreement.

American Provision, 44 B.R. at 909.

Courts apply the American Provision factors even where a debtor is liquidating its assets and does not intend to continue in business after emerging from bankruptcy. Courts reason that "reorganization," as used in § 1113(b)(1)(A), is "generally understood to include all types of debt adjustment, including a sale of assets, piecemeal or on a going concern basis, under § 363 followed by a plan of reorganization which distributes the proceeds of the sale to creditors in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code's priority scheme." Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895. Some courts have held that where, as here, the Debtors are liquidating their assets, the phrase "necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor" means "necessary to achieve a sale under § 363 of the Bankruptcy Code." Alpha Nat. Res., Inc., 552 B.R. 314, 333 (Bankr. E.D. Va. 2016); see also Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 890 (requiring that the debtor's proposal "be necessary to permit ... those modifications necessary to consummate a going-concern sale"); In re Karykeion, Inc., 435 B.R. 663, 679 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2010) (finding that the debtor had proven that rejection was necessary when the closing of a § 363 sale was contingent on rejection of a collective bargaining agreement). Others courts have concluded that in a liquidating case, the phrase "necessary to permit reorganization of the debtor" means "necessary to accommodate confirmation of a Chapter 11 plan." Family Snacks, 257 B.R. at 895.

A. Factors 2 and 5—Complete Information

Factor 2 requires that the Debtors' proposal be based on the most complete and reliable information available at the time the proposal is made. Factor 5 requires that the Debtors provide UNAC with "such relevant information as is necessary to evaluate the proposal." For both factors, a debtor "must gather the 'most complete information at the time and ... base its proposal on the information it considers reliable,' excluding 'hopeful wishes, mere possibilities and speculation.' 'The breadth and depth of the requisite information will vary with the circumstances, including the size and complicity of the debtor's business and work force; the complexity of the wage and benefit structure under the collective bargaining agreement; and the extent and severity of modifications the debtor is proposing.'" In re Walter Energy, Inc., 542 B.R. 859, 886 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 2015), aff'd sub nom. United Mine Workers of Am. 1974 Pension Plan & Tr. v. Walter Energy, Inc., 579 B.R. 603 (N.D. Ala. 2016), *aff'd sub nom. 1. The Debtors Have Not Acted in Bad Faith With Respect to the Production of Information

UNAC asserts that the Debtors have negotiated in bad faith by failing to respond to UNAC's requests for information until after the Court found at the Initial Hearing that the Debtors were required to supply further information. UNAC contends that the Debtors' strategy is to withhold information for as long as possible, and then flood UNAC with voluminous amounts of information that cannot reasonably be analyzed prior to the Final Hearing.

The Court does not agree that the manner in which the Debtors responded to UNAC's information requests was part of a bad-faith strategy to prevent UNAC from digesting the information provided. It is true that prior to the Initial Hearing, the Debtors provided UNAC with only minimal information. However, contrary to UNAC's characterization, this withholding of information was not a cynical ploy to sabotage UNAC by running down the clock, but was instead based upon the Debtors' good-faith belief that the information requested was not relevant. While the Court ultimately disagreed and found that the information produced to date was not sufficient, the Debtors' contrary position was not frivolous or in bad faith.

Specifically, the Debtors argued that information showing the operating costs attributable to the Existing CBA was not relevant. According to the Debtors: (1) the marketing process had demonstrated that there were no buyers willing to acquire St. Francis subject to the Existing CBA; (2) under the APA, Prime would not assume the Existing CBA; and (3) upon the closing of the sale of St. Francis to Prime, the Debtors no longer needed the Existing CBA. Against this backdrop, the Debtors asserted that information regarding the Existing CBA's impact upon St. Francis operational costs was not necessary for UNAC to evaluate the Debtors' proposal to reject the Existing CBA. In support of this position, the Debtors cited Walter Energy, in which the court held:

[T]he "relevant information" was simple and apparent for all to see: the Debtors could not survive absent a sale in the near term, the Proposed Buyer had emerged as the only viable bidder that would purchase the Alabama Coal Operations as a going-concern, the sale of the Alabama Coal Operations as a going-concern provides the best chance for future employment of the Debtors' employees, and the Stalking Horse APA requires elimination of the Successorship Provisions or rejection of the UMWA CBA.

Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 887.

As set forth above, the Court found at the Initial Hearing that the Debtors were required to provide additional financial information, because such additional information might assist Prime and UNAC in reaching a Successor CBA, in which case the Rejection Motion would prove unnecessary. Nonetheless, the Debtors' position that such information was not relevant, while ultimately not adopted by the Court, had support in applicable caselaw. There is no merit to UNAC's position that the Debtors have acted in bad faith with respect to the production of information.

2. The Objections of UNAC Set Forth in the Discovery Stipulation are Overruled

UNAC and the Debtors have filed a Discovery Stipulation setting forth the information requests that remain in dispute. With respect to Items II, V, VI, VIII, and X (the "Disputed Items"), UNAC asserts either that (a) the Debtors' production has been insufficient or (b) that UNAC requires additional time to evaluate the adequacy of the Debtors' responses. UNAC has withdrawn its disputes with respect to the sufficiency of the information produced by Prime.

a. Items VI, VIII, and X

Item VI requests the following information:

What concessions are Verity/Prime seeking from other labor groups at SFMC?
Please identify savings expected from each of the following groups (identify individually):

- a. Other bargaining units
- b. Non-Union units and unions (including retained physicians, etc.)
- c. Management

Item VIII requests the following information:

By what percentage have wages and benefits increased for each bargaining unit, nonbargaining unit employees and management over the last three fiscal years? Please note that non-SFRNA data is required in order to evaluate whether the proposed CBA modifications assure that all creditors, the debtor and all of the affected parties are treated fairly and equitably. Also please note that as the proposed Plan of Reorganization features substantive consolidation, we must ask for this information for all Verity hospital, other than SVMC.

Item X requests the following information:

(identify individually): Again, please note that this data is required in order to evaluate whether the proposed CBA modifications assure that all creditors, the debtor and all of the affected parties are treated fairly and equitably. Also please note that as the proposed Plan of Reorganization features substantive consolidation, we must ask for this information for all Verity hospitals, other than SVMC.

- a. Other bargaining units (identify individually);
- b. Non-Union units (including retained physicians, etc.);
- c. Management

UNAC asserts that the information requested by Items VI, VIII, and X is necessary to enable it to determine whether all affected parties are treated fairly and equitably by the proposed rejection of the CBA, as required by American Provision Factor 4. The Debtors assert that UNAC's reliance upon Factor 4 is misplaced, because the Debtors are not proposing to pass any benefit from rejection of the Existing CBA to management or other stakeholders, other than allowing the sale to close so that creditors can recover from the sale proceeds in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code's priority scheme.

The Court finds that the information requested in Items VI, VIII, and X is not relevant to UNAC's evaluation of the Debtors' proposal. Under the Debtors' proposal, UNAC-represented employees not hired by Prime are entitled to the Severance Benefit, provided that UNAC agrees to consensual rejection of the Existing CBA prior to the Final Hearing.

The information sought by UNAC might be relevant to UNAC's evaluation of a Successor CBA with Prime, but is not relevant to UNAC's evaluation of whether to agree to rejection of the Existing CBA. It is true that at the Initial Hearing, the Court held that UNAC was entitled to information showing the amount of St. Francis' labor costs attributable to the Existing CBA. Such information was relevant to UNAC's evaluation of the Debtors' proposal, because it might facilitate negotiation of a Successor CBA between Prime and UNAC, which in turn would moot the Rejection Motion. Subsequent to the Initial Hearing, the Debtors have provided UNAC extensive information addressing the impact of the Existing CBA upon St. Francis' labor costs. Information provided by the Debtors as to this issue includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- 1) A spreadsheet containing information on pay rates for UNAC-represented employees, which included the employees' base rate, shift differential, charge differential, preceptor differential, holiday premium, educational reimbursement, paid education leave, on-call pay, call-back pay, double-back pay, and gross

- earnings. Chadwick Decl. [Doc. No. 4987] at ¶ 15.
- 2) A spreadsheet comparing the St. Francis UNAC wage scale with the wage scale at Garden Grove Hospital and Medical Center, another hospital operated by Prime. Doc. No. 4987, Ex. G, at p. 194.
  - 3) Audited Financials for 2015, 2016, and 2017, and Unaudited Financials for 2018. Chadwick Decl. at ¶ 7.
  - 4) Health, dental, and vision benefits costs specific to UNAC-represented employees for calendar year 2019 and year-to-date for calendar year 2020. Id. at ¶ 16.
  - 5) St. Francis payroll information for 2018 and 2019. Id. at ¶ 7.
  - 6) Data showing the aggregate amount paid for defined contribution benefit premiums for all St. Francis employees, versus the amount of defined contribution benefit premium payments made for UNAC-represented employees. Id. at ¶ 16.
  - 7) The balances on 401(k) loans of UNAC-represented employees. Id. at ¶ 17.
  - 8) Information on St. Francis' overall finances, including without limitation:
    - a) Historical and current accounts receivable information. Id. at ¶ 7.
    - b) Historical and current accounts payable information. Id.
    - c) Fixed assets information. Id.
    - d) St. Francis Medicare cost reports. Id.
    - e) St. Francis inventory. Id.
    - f) Quality assurance fee analysis. Id.

The information provided by the Debtors is more than adequate to satisfy the Court's directive that the Debtors provide UNAC information showing the amount of St. Francis' labor costs attributable to the Existing CBA. The context in which the Court ordered the Debtors to supply additional information must be taken into account. It was the Court's expectation that the provision of such information could bridge the gap between UNAC and Prime regarding the terms of a Successor CBA, thereby eliminating the need for the Debtors to reject the Existing CBA. The order to provide additional information was directed more towards facilitating a settlement that would obviate the need for the Rejection Motion than enabling UNAC to understand the proposal to reject the Existing CBA.

Notwithstanding the Debtors' provision of extensive additional information, a settlement has not occurred. The Court declines UNAC's invitation to require the Debtors to provide even more information. It does not appear to the Court that requiring the production of additional information would be likely to facilitate agreement between Prime and UNAC on the terms of a Successor CBA.

UNAC has all the information it needs to evaluate the Debtors' proposal for rejection of the Existing CBA. There is no merit to UNAC's assertion that further information is required so that UNAC can determine whether rejection of the Existing CBA treats all parties fairly and equitably. For the reasons set forth in the discussion of Factor 4, below, the Court finds that rejection is fair and equitable.

b. Item II

Item II requests the following information:

How are UNAC/UHCP unit costs compared with all SFMC labor costs for last three fiscal years?

The Debtors contend that responsive information was added to the data room on June 30, 2020. UNAC states that it is still reviewing the extent to which the new information satisfies its request, and therefore reserves the right to object.

The Court finds that the Debtors have provided sufficient information with respect to Item II. As discussed above, the Debtors have provided sufficient information to allow UNAC to assess the amount of St. Francis' labor costs that are attributable to the Existing CBA.

c. Item V

Item V requests the following information:

What is Prime's proposal to address outstanding 401k loans? We had previously addressed this in the last round of restructuring. Will Prime takeover the current plan or make all employees start a new one? If not continuing, what are the savings/costs of the new plan? Is this included in cost/savings comparisons? What is the estimated total outstanding amount owed by UNAC/UHCP members? What is the average amount owed?

The Debtors have agreed to provide one month of 401(k) matching data in response to this request. UNAC has stated that it will withdraw the request if the Debtors timely provide the information.

The Court finds that the Debtors' agreement to provide the 401(k) matching data resolves this dispute.

Chapter 11

3. The Debtors Have Satisfied Factors 2 and 5

The Court finds that the Debtors have provided UNAC with relevant information necessary to evaluate the proposal. The Debtors have provided UNAC with extensive information regarding St. Francis' finances and the portion of operating costs that are attributable to the Existing CBA. This information is more than sufficient to enable UNAC to assess the Debtors' proposal to rejecting the Existing CBA. UNAC knows that no buyers other than Prime submitted an offer to purchase St. Francis notwithstanding extensive marketing, and that Prime is not willing to acquire St. Francis subject to the Existing CBA. The Debtors have satisfied Factors 2 and 5.

B. Factor 4—Fair and Equitable Treatment

Factor 4 requires that the proposed modifications to the CBAs treat all creditors, the Debtors, and all affected parties fairly and equitably. As explained by the court in Walter Energy:

This requirement "spread[s] the burden of saving the company to every constituency while ensuring that all sacrifice to a similar degree." "Courts take a flexible approach in considering what constitutes fair and equitable treatment due to the difficulty in comparing the differing sacrifices of the parties in interest." A debtor can meet the requirement "by showing that its proposal treats the union fairly when compared with the burden imposed on other parties by the debtor's additional cost-cutting measures and the Chapter 11 process generally."

In applying this factor, it is important to emphasize how the Debtors arrived at this point. In early 2014, facing serious operating losses, the Debtors began evaluating strategic alternatives. First Day Decl. of Richard G. Adcock [Doc. No. 8] at ¶ 87. To continue operations until a contemplated sale or recapitalization could close, the Debtors borrowed $125 million in 2014. Id. In 2015, the Debtors entered into a recapitalization transaction with BlueMountain Capital Management LLC ("BlueMountain"). BlueMountain injected $100 million of capital and arranged for an additional $160 million of loans. Id. at ¶¶ 88–89. Despite BlueMountain's infusion of cash, the health system did not prosper. Id. at ¶ 93.

In July 2017, NantWorks, LLC loaned another $148 million to the Debtors. Id. at ¶ 94. Notwithstanding these additional capital infusions and the retention of various consultants and experts to improve operations, losses of approximately $175 million annually continued to mount. Id. at ¶ 95. In sum, prior to seeking bankruptcy relief, the Debtors diligently attempted to put their operations on a sound financial footing, but were unable to do so, in part because of the legacy cost structure imposed by the Existing CBA.

St. Francis has been extensively marketed, but neither Prime nor any other buyer is willing to acquire the hospital subject to the Existing CBA. In June 2018, prior to the Petition Date, the Debtors engaged Cain Brothers, a division of KeyBanc Capital Markets (“Cain”) to market all of the Hospitals, including St. Francis. Beginning in July 2018, Cain prepared a Confidential Investment Memorandum (the “CIM”), created an online data room to share information with potential buyers, and contacted over 110 strategic and financial buyers. Subsequent to the Petition Date, Cain continued to market St. Francis.

In connection with a prior sale to Strategic Global Management, Inc. (“SGM”) that did not close (the “SGM Sale”), St. Francis was extensively marketed. Cain notified 90 parties of the sale process, provided access to a data room to sixteen parties who executed non-disclosure agreements (“NDAs”), and remained in contact with potential purchasers to respond to questions and provide information.

After the SGM Sale failed to close, Cain commenced a new marketing process. In December 2019, Cain began making phone calls to parties who had previously expressed interest in acquiring St. Francis. On January 3, 2020, Cain e-mailed all parties who had previously executed NDAs and explained that the Debtors were initiating another marketing process. Ultimately, 61 parties executed NDAs with respect to the renewed marketing process and were granted access to an online data room.

On January 31, 2020, the Debtors received seven Indications of Interest (the “IOIs”) for the potential acquisition of St. Francis. Cain contacted the seven potential purchasers who submitted the IOIs and continued to work with the purchasers to respond to questions and provide information. Ultimately, Prime was the only party who submitted a qualifying bid for St. Francis.

St. Francis cannot continue to operate unless it is purchased by a solvent third-party such as Prime. Further, under the APA Prime is required to hire "substantially all" of St. Francis' current employees. Without rejection of the Existing CBA, St. Francis would not continue to operate as a going concern, and all of the UNAC-represented employees would lose their jobs. Under these circumstances, rejection of the Existing CBA is fair and equitable. The Court notes that sacrifices imposed by these bankruptcies have been widespread. For example, current projections indicate that unsecured creditors will receive a distribution of only 0.5% on account of their claims. The Debtors have satisfied

C. Factor 3—Necessity of Rejection

In the context of this case, the term “necessary to permit the reorganization of the debtor” is best interpreted to mean “necessary to permit the Debtors to confirm a liquidating plan.” This interpretation aligns most closely with the manner in which the Debtors are prosecuting this case. From the outset, the Debtors have stated their intent to sell their hospitals and use the proceeds from the sales to fund a plan of liquidation. This process is well underway. The sales of O’Connor Hospital, St. Louise Regional Medical Center, and St. Vincent Medical Center have all closed.

The closing of the sale of St. Francis to Prime is essential to the Debtors’ ability to confirm a liquidating plan. The failure of the prior sale of St. Francis to Strategic Global Management, Inc. has made confirmation of a liquidating plan more challenging by requiring the Debtors to remain in bankruptcy for far longer than had been anticipated. To satisfy Factor 3, the Debtors must demonstrate that rejection of the Existing CBA is a prerequisite to the closing of the sale.

The Debtors have satisfied this factor. Prime will not acquire St. Francis subject to the Existing CBA. Prime and UNAC have been unable to agree upon a Successor CBA—which would eliminate the need for rejection of the Existing CBA—even though the parties have devoted hundreds of hours to negotiations. The sale to Prime cannot close absent rejection of the Existing CBA. In addition, as set forth in the discussion of Factor 4, no buyer is willing to acquire St. Francis subject to the Existing CBA.

D. Factor 1—Written Proposal

Factor 1 requires that the Debtors make a written proposal to UNAC. There is no dispute that the Debtors have done so. The Debtors have satisfied Factor 1.

E. Factor 6—Meetings at Reasonable Times

Factor 6 requires that the Debtors meet at reasonable times with UNAC between the time the proposal is made and the hearing on the rejection or modification of the collective bargaining agreement.

Prior to the Initial Hearing, the Debtors, Prime, and UNAC met and engaged in bargaining on April 22, April 28, May 1, May 5, May 6, May 9, May 19, May 21, May 26, June 2, June 5, and June 9. In the order setting this Final Hearing, the Court stated that the Debtors were only required to meet with UNAC as to the § 1113 proposal, not the negotiations with Prime. After the Initial Hearing, the Debtors continued to facilitate meetings between UNAC and Prime.

The Debtors have satisfied Factor 6.

F. Factor 7—Good Faith Negotiations

Factor 7 requires that the Debtors meet and confer with UNAC in good faith. “The good faith requirement under section 1113 has been interpreted to mean that the debtor must make a serious effort to negotiate.” Walter Energy, 542 B.R. at 894.

UNAC asserts that the Debtors cannot satisfy Factor 7 as a result of the alleged bad-faith of Prime. UNAC’s arguments are without merit. Only the Debtors’ good faith is relevant under § 1113. The Debtors cannot be held responsible for Prime’s negotiating posture. UNAC cites no authority—and the Court is aware of none—holding that denial of a § 1113 motion is warranted based on actions taken by a purchaser in negotiating a successor CBA.

Here, the Debtors have made a serious attempt to negotiate, meeting with UNAC on multiple occasions and devoting hundreds of hours to the negotiation process. The Debtors have satisfied Factor 7.

G. Factor 8 (UNAC’s Refusal to Accept the Proposal without Good Cause) and 9 (Balance of the Equities)

Under Factor 8, UNAC must have refused to accept the proposal without good cause. Under Factor 9, the balance of the equities must clearly favor rejection of the collective bargaining agreement. Both factors are satisfied.

UNAC lacks good cause for refusing to accept the Debtors’ proposal, because UNAC’s refusal is not directed toward the merits of the Debtors’ proposal but instead is intended to put additional pressure upon Prime with respect to the negotiation of a Successor CBA. This is demonstrated by the fact that the document UNAC sent the Debtors, which it characterized as a counterproposal, consisted of a redline to the wage scale proposed by Prime in connection with the Successor CBA. UNAC’s purported counterproposal did not address the terms of the Debtors’ proposal. UNAC’s objective was to obtain a better result with Prime. However, the Debtors’ ability to influence Prime with respect to the Successor CBA is limited, since Prime is the only entity willing to purchase St. Francis.

The balance of the equities supports rejection. If the Existing CBA is not rejected, the sale of St. Francis cannot close and the hospital will not be able to continue as an operating entity. The sale negotiated by the Debtors allows St. Francis to continue operating, with "substantially all" of the UNAC-represented employees to be hired by Prime. It is regrettable that the terms of employment with Prime will most likely be less generous than those under the Existing CBA, but unfortunately, this result is required to permit the continued operation of St. Francis.

Denial of the Rejection Motion would also expose the Debtors' estates to substantial administrative claims, which potentially could render the estates administratively insolvent. UNAC's desire to obtain an administrative claim does not constitute good cause to reject the Debtors' proposal. See Chicago Const. Specialties, Inc., 510 B.R. 205, 221 (Bankr. N.D. ### I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

LCI Group Limited, LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition on December 19, 2019 (the "Petition Date") [Doc. No. 1]. The Debtor's only significant asset consists of an ownership interest in real property located at 15 Upper Blackwater Canyon Road, Rolling Hills, CA 90274 (the "Property"). The Debtor moves for an order authorizing the sale of the Property, free of all liens, claims, and encumbrances pursuant to § 363. The Debtor also seeks additional relief, including, inter alia, authorization for the payment of brokers' sale commissions.

Events Leading to the Sale of the Property

The Property is subject to a first-priority security interest held by So-Cal Capital, Inc. ("So-Cal"), which currently secures indebtedness of $4,745,278.74. See Sale Motion at 10. On January 6, 2020, So-Cal filed a motion for relief from the automatic stay, seeking to regain possession of the Property (the "Stay Relief Motion"). The Debtor opposed the Stay Relief Motion. On January 28, 2020, the Court denied the Stay Relief Motion, subject to certain time-sensitive conditions to be fulfilled by the Debtor. See Doc. No. 17 [Court's Ruling on Stay Relief Motion]. More specifically, the Court instructed the Debtor to obtain an order contemplating the sale of the Property by no later than June 15, 2020. See id. Unable to locate a buyer willing to pay asking price, the Debtor filed a motion to extend deadlines pertaining to the sale of the Property by at least six months [Doc. No. 24]. The Court declined to grant the requested six-month extension but provided the Debtor an opportunity to submit a declaration in support of a shorter delay. On June 15, 2020, the Debtor filed a declaration by Lawrence Underwood ("Underwood"), the Debtor's principal, attesting that the Debtor had accepted a counteroffer to purchase the Property for $5,875,000. See Doc. No. 36 [Underwood's Declaration]. Based on the foregoing, the Court granted the Debtor a brief continuance to file a motion seeking approval of the contemplated sale. The filing of the instant Sale Motion followed on June 19, 2020 [Doc. No. 42].

The Proposed Sale

The Debtor seeks authorization to sell the Property, "as is," "where is," and free and clear of liens, claims, and encumbrances, pursuant to § 363(b) and (f). Following negotiations, the Debtor entered into an agreement with Daniel Wayne Sermon and Alexandra Sermon (the "Buyers") for the purchase of the Property in the sum of $5,875,000, subject to court approval and any qualified overbids received. See Sale Motion, Ex. 5. Pursuant to the sale terms, the Buyers are required to make an initial escrow deposit of $176,250 and a second tender of $2,673,750 before the close of escrow. The Debtor proposes the following treatment of the liens and encumbrances against the Property:

- 1) Lien for property taxes recorded by the Los Angeles County Tax Collector in the amount of $65,014.08 (the "LA Tax Lien"). Based on the Sale Motion, the Debtor proposes to fully pay the LA Tax Lien, through escrow, from the proceeds of the sale. The sale will be free and clear of the Lax Tax Lien.
- 2) Senior Deed of Trust in favor of So-Cal, securing current indebtedness of $4,745,278.74 (the "So-Cal DOT"). The Debtor will pay through escrow all amounts owed on the So-Cal DOT. The sale will be free and clear of the So-Cal DOT.
- 3) Homeowners' Association Dues owed to the Rolling Hills Community Association of Rancho Palos Verdes in the amount of $12,628.50 (the "HOA Dues"). Based on the Sale Motion, the HOA Dues will be paid, in full, through escrow. The sale will be free and clear of the HOA Dues.

The Sale Motion asserts that the Debtor has opened escrow with Westview Escrow, and the Buyers deposited the initial $176,250 payment into the escrow account on June 17, 2020 (Exhibit 7). In support of the Buyers' ability to consummate the sale, the Debtor has attached several documents, including a copy of a pre-approval letter from City National Bank for a $4,000,000 loan (Exhibit 8). Closing and recording costs, transfer taxes originating from the sale, and any other costs associated with title insurance endorsements will be paid by the Debtor. Accordingly, after the above-referenced liens are resolved, and the costs of sale are fully paid, the estate will be entitled to net sale proceeds in the sum of $700,000.

In addition, the Debtor requests that the Court approve proposed sale procedures; determine that the Buyers, or any back-up bidder, are entitled to a good-faith finding under § 363(m); and approve the payment of a 4.5% sale commission to the parties' real estate brokers (the "Commissions"), 2% of which will be paid to the Debtor's broker and the other 2.5% to the Buyers' broker.

So-Cal filed a response to the Sale Motion on June 26, 2020. So-Cal does not object to the granting of the Sale Motion. So-Cal reserves all of its rights and requests that the order approving the Sale Motion provide language ensuring that its lien will be paid through escrow at closing. The Debtor supplied the Supplemental Declaration of Larry Underwood [Doc. No. 47] in answer to So-Cal's response. Underwood clarifies that the prayer relief on page 20, lines 26-28 for item (8) should be substituted with the following language: "Authorizing payments of the liens, claims and interests on and against the Property (collectively referred herein as the "Liens, Claims and Interest") at the close of escrow."

As of the posting of this tentative ruling, no other response or opposition have been filed.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Proposed Sale is Approved

Section 363(b) of the Bankruptcy Code permits a debtor-in-possession to sell estate property outside the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The debtor-in-possession must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20.

The Debtor has demonstrated sufficient business justification for the sale. The sale is consistent with the Debtor's statutory obligation as a debtor-in-possession to liquidate the estate's assets. Section 363(f) provides that estate property may be sold free and clear of liens, claims, and interests, providing one of the following conditions is satisfied:

- 1) Applicable nonbankruptcy law permits sale of such property free and clear of such interest;
- 2) Such entity consents;
- 3) Such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;
- 4) Such interest is in bona fide dispute; or

- 5) Such entity could be compelled, in a legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a money satisfaction of such interest.

Section 363(f) was drafted in the disjunctive; therefore, the Debtor needs to satisfy only one of the five subsections of Section 363(f) in order for the sale to be free and clear of all interests. See e.g., Citicorp Homeowners Services, Inc. v. Elliot (In re Elliot), 94 B.R. 343, 345 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 1988). The Court approves the Debtor's proposed treatment of the liens and encumbrances against the Property, and finds that the Property may be sold free and clear of such liens and encumbrances. Pursuant to § 363(f)(3), the sale is free and clear of the LA Tax Lien, the HOA Dues, and the So-Cal DOT because the purchase price of the Property exceeds the aggregate value of such liens by $1,052,078.68. The Debtor is authorized to pay all holders of liens and encumbrances, which includes the outstanding balance owed on the So-Cal DOT, through escrow at closing. The Debtor may take any reasonable and adequate measures described in the Sale Motion to ensure the timely closing of the sale, including delivering the Property free and clear of any tenancies, setting aside any portion of sale proceeds attributable to disputed claims, liens, or encumbrances, inter alia.

The Debtor is further authorized to pay the Commissions entitled to the parties' real estate brokers at the close of escrow. Having reviewed Underwood's declaration, the Sale Motion, and all other exhibits affixed in support thereto, the Court finds that the Buyers are good faith purchasers entitled to the protections of § 363(m). In the event that an overbidder prevails at the auction, the Court will take telephonic testimony from such overbidder to determine whether §363(m) protections are warranted.

Auction Procedures

As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, the courtroom is unavailable for in-court appearances. All potential overbidders must appear by telephone only. In the event that any qualified overbidder makes a telephonic appearance, the Court will conduct an auction in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Sale Motion. The initial overbid will be at $5,925,000, with subsequent overbids to be in increments of $25,000. The overbid increment is subject to adjustment by the Court to facilitate bidding. The Court will announce each bid level. To remain in the auction, bidders must participate at all bid levels. That is, parties who do not bid in a round cannot later change their minds and re-enter the auction. Parties may make a bid higher than that announced by the Court by clearly stating their bid.

On July 20, 2015, Maria del Carmen Linares (the “Debtor”) filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition. David M. Goodrich was appointed as chapter 7 trustee (the “Trustee”). The case was initially closed on November 3, 2015 and reopened on May 31, 2018, on the request of the United States Trustee.

Best Best & Krieger LLP (“BBK”), the McElfish Law Firm (“McElfish”), and the H.Y.P. Law Group (“H.Y.P”) filed the instant applications for fees and costs [Doc. Nos. 70, 71, 83]. [Note 1]. In addition, the Trustee filed a limited objection against the McElfish fee application one day before the hearing [Doc. No. 87]. Having reviewed the fee applications, the Trustee’s limited objection, and documentation attached in support thereto, the Court is not prepared to grant the fee applications at this time. These matters will be continued to August 4, 2020 at 11:00 a.m. to afford fee applicants an opportunity to respond to the following issues:

First, the Court notes that the Personal Injury Lawsuit was settled on or about October 31, 2018, but a settlement agreement was not signed by all the parties until June 2019. [Note 2]. First Interim Application of BBK [Doc. No. 70] at 4. The Trustee’s general bankruptcy counsel explains that this protracted delay and the attendant legal costs incurred were the result of certain demands made by H.Y.P. The Trustee must explain why the unnecessary expense and delay caused by H.Y.P. could not be expeditiously resolved by motion practice, and why the applicants’ fees and costs requested herein should not be reduced accordingly. Second, the applicants must explain their decision in filing applications for interim fees and costs, as opposed to final applications. The Court is perplexed as to what additional legal services must be rendered by each applicant to bring this chapter 7 case to a close. Last, the Court notes that the order to employ H.Y.P. as special counsel to the trustee was entered on October 22, 2019, with an effective date of March 1, 2019. However, the fee application submitted by H.Y.P. consists of 6 thinly described work entries billed between March 5, 2020 and May 8, 2020. H.Y.P. broadly seeks $2,500 for communicating with 10 different parties concerning medical liens against the Debtor’s estate. Pursuant to LBR 2016, H.Y.P.’s fee application fails to supply an adequate description of services rendered for the benefit of the estate. [Note 3]. The Court does not understand why the Trustee sought H.Y.P. to be employed nunc pro tunc to March 1, 2019, when it appears that the applicant did not render any services until March 2020. Additionally, the Court notes that H.Y.P.’s inability to cooperate with the Trustee has continued to be a problem, even after the Court approved its employment. Motion to Pay Claims Free and Clear of Purported Medical Liens [Doc. No. 59] at 7 (“the Trustee has requested of Mr.

In sum, H.Y.P. must explain to the Court why it is entitled to any fees when it has consistently caused the estate unnecessary administrative costs and delays.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the tentative ruling is to CONTINUE hearing on the fee applications to August 4, 2020 at 11:00 a.m. The fee applicants must prepare and file supplemental briefs in response to the below-discussed issues by no later than July 24, 2020.

The Trustee shall lodge a conforming proposed order within 7 days of the hearing.

Note 1: The Trustee obtained orders to employ BBK as general bankruptcy counsel and McElfish and H.Y.P. as special counsel. See Doc. Nos. 23, 30, 48.

Note 2: Terms not defined herein shall have the meaning ascribed in the First Interim Application of BBK.

Note 3: LBR 2016 sets a detailed summary information that each applicant must proffer in support of interim fees, which includes, inter alia: a brief narrative of services rendered, a brief narrative history and report concerning the status of the case, and a declaration that the client has reviewed and approved the fee application. Given its purported noncooperation with the Trustee, H.Y.P. must satisfy these requirements in detail. For instance, H.Y.P. neglects to discuss its alleged inability to communicate with the Trustee with respect to the medical liens, or specifically list which parties have agreed to execute a settlement agreement benefitting the estate.

“Trustee”). The case was initially closed on November 3, 2015 and reopened on May 31, 2018, on the request of the United States Trustee.

The McElfish Law Firm (“McElfish”) filed the instant application for fees and costs [Doc. No. 71] (the “Fee Application”) on June 17, 2020. The Trustee filed a limited objection against the McElfish fee application one day before the hearing [Doc. No. 87].

For services rendered, McElfish seeks fees in the sum of $225,000 and expenses in the sum of $21,330.04. McElfish claims to be entitled to a contingency fee of 45% of the settlement amount reached in the Personal Injury Lawsuit, which it supports by reference to a retainer agreement affixed as Exhibit 1 of the Fee Application. However, the retainer agreement is between the Debtor and the H.Y.P. Law Group (“H.Y.P”). The Court notes that the application to employ to McElfish (the “Employment Application”) does not disclose the contingency fee figure contemplated in the Fee Application, nor the retainer agreement supplied in the Fee Application. In addition, the Employment Application states that McElfish’s fees and expenses would be subject to the provisions under § 328, while the order approving the Employment Application provides compensation would be reviewed under § 330 [Doc. No. 30]. The Fee Application does not address such discrepancy. Based upon the foregoing, hearing on McElfish’s fee application will be continued to August 4, 2020 at 11:00 a.m. to afford McElfish an opportunity to respond to the above-referenced issues.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the tentative ruling is to CONTINUE hearing on the fee applications to August 4, 2020 at 11:00 a.m. McElfish must prepare and file a supplemental brief in response to the above-discussed issues by no later than July 24, 2020. This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant. See Doc. No. 1.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Tentative Ruling:

2/10/2020

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the “Trustee”) commenced this fraudulent transfer action against Hyun Hwang (the “Defendant”) on September 14, 2019. On December 11, 2019, the Court denied the Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss, and ordered the Defendant to file an Answer by no later than January 21, 2020. Doc. No. 25. Defendant timely filed an Answer. The Trustee seeks leave to file a First Amended Complaint to allege an additional $80,000 transfer from the Debtor to the Defendant.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In the event that Defendant declines to stipulate to the filing of a First Amended Complaint, the Trustee shall file a motion for leave to amend by no later than March 10, 2020.
- 2) A continued Status Conference is set for April 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

2/10/2020

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") commenced this fraudulent transfer action against Mirea Rea Hwang (the "Defendant") on September 14, 2019. On December 4, 2019, the Court conducted a hearing on the Defendant's Motion to Dismiss. The Court found that adjudication of the Complaint would violate the automatic stay arising in the bankruptcy petition filed by Defendant's spouse, Kenny Hwang ("K. Hwang"). The Court ordered that the action would be stayed, unless and until the Trustee obtained relief from the automatic stay in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case.

The Trustee has not moved for stay relief in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case. A continued meeting of creditors in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case is set for February 12, 2020.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) A continued Status Conference is set for May 12, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) A Joint Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") filed this fraudulent transfer action against Kenny Hwang ("K. Hwang"), Mirea Hwang ("M. Hwang"), Hyun Hwang ("H. Hwang"), Tri Blossom, LLC, and K2 America, Inc. (collectively, the "Defendants") on September 15, 2019. On December 4, 2019, the Court conducted a hearing on a Motion to Dismiss brought by Defendants K. Hwang, M. Hwang, H. Hwang, and Tri Blossom LLC. The Court found that adjudication of the Complaint would violate the automatic stay arising in the bankruptcy petition filed K. Hwang. The Court ordered that the action would be stayed, unless and until the Trustee obtained relief from the automatic stay in K.

On March 1, 2018, Maground, GmbH ("Plaintiff") commenced a complaint against Roberto Kai Hegeler (the "Debtor/Defendant") in the United States District Court for the Central District of California (the "District Court"), asserting claims for trademark infringement pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §§ 1114 and 1125(a), trademark dilution pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1125(c), unfair competition and false advertising pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a), cybersquatting pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1125(d), common law trademark infringement, breach of contract, conversion, and violations of Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 14247, 17200, and 17500 (the "District Court Action"). See Maground, GmbH v. Roberto Kai Hegeler and Maground, LLC (Doc. No. 1, Case No. 2:18-cv-01760-CJC-JC). On April 23, 2018, Debtor/Defendant filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. On May 4, 2018, the District Court stayed the District Court Action pending resolution of Debtor/Defendant's bankruptcy proceeding.

On July 23, 2018, Plaintiff commenced an action against Debtor/Defendant in the Bankruptcy Court (the "Non-Dischargeability Action"). On December 17, 2018, the Bankruptcy Court entered an order (1) sua sponte lifting the automatic stay to permit the District Court Action to proceed and (2) staying the Non-Dischargeability Action until entry of a final, non-appealable judgment in the District Court Action. Doc. No. 19 (the "Stay Order"). The Stay Order provided:

The most efficient way to resolve the Non-Dischargeability Action is for Plaintiff to first prosecute the District Court Action to final judgment. In the event

Plaintiff obtains judgment in its favor, Plaintiff may then return to the Bankruptcy Court to obtain a determination regarding whether such judgment is dischargeable. The District Court is better equipped than this Court to determine whether Defendant is indebted to Plaintiff on account of the allegations for trademark infringement, trademark dilution, and cybersquatting, all of which require the application of substantive non-bankruptcy law.

Stay Order at ¶ 3.

Trial in the District Court Action is set for November 3, 2020. Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) A continued Status Conference shall be held on July 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) A Joint Status Report, which shall discuss the status of the District Court Action, shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

On June 28, 2019, the Clerk of the Court entered Defendant's default. On July 16, 2019, the Court granted Plaintiff relief from the automatic stay, to enable Plaintiff to continue litigating the underlying State Court Action through which Plaintiff intends to establish the indebtedness alleged to be non-dischargeable. Plaintiff has represented that a judgment in the State Court Action will assist Plaintiff in presenting a Motion for Default Judgment to this Court. Litigation of the State Court Action remains ongoing.

Having reviewed Plaintiff's Unilateral Status Report, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) A continued Status Conference shall take place on July 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) By no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing, Plaintiff shall file a Unilateral Status Report, which shall discuss the status of the State Court Action.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Michael Stuart Brown (the “Debtor”) commenced a voluntary chapter 11 petition on May 15, 2020. The Debtor is the owner and managing partner of California Lawyers Group, LLP. Amended Petition [Doc. No. 25] at 8. On his commencement documents, the Debtor lists an ownership interest in his private residence located at 2089 Stradella Road, Los Angeles, California 90077 (the “Property”). The Property is encumbered by three security interests held by JP Morgan Chase Bank, N.A. (“JP Morgan”), CitiMortgage Inc. (“Citibank”), and Matt Hayden (“Hayden”) (in order of priority), as well as a tax lien in favor of the Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector.

The amended schedules [Doc. No. 25] indicate that the Debtor is or was recently a party in at least three different state court actions:

- Michael S. Brown v. Sun Outdoor Advertising, LLC;
- Michael Brown v. JP Morgan Chase, Citibank, et al.;
- The Debtor recently sustained an adverse state court judgment totaling $1,400,000 awarded to McIntosh & Associates (“McIntosh”).

On June 1, 2020, the Debtor entered an addendum to the petition, on which he elected to proceed under Subchapter V of chapter 11 [Doc. No. 17]. No objection to the Subchapter V election is on file. The Debtor timely submitted the Status Report on June 30, 2020 [Doc. No. 34]. The Status Report makes the following representations concerning Debtor’s financial obligations and efforts to successfully reorganize his debts:

At this time, the Debtor expects to timely submit a chapter 11 plan, but he cannot determine whether the plan will be consensual or non-consensual. The uncertainty revolving around Debtor’s plan arises from a dispute with JP Morgan and Citibank concerning the Property’s title [Note 1] and the precise amount of arrears. The Debtor is currently negotiating a resolution with both JP Morgan and Citibank. In addition, the Debtor is in discussions with McIntosh over the total amount of its unsecured claim.

The Court further notes that Debtor’s has taken appropriate steps to proceed with his reorganization. He has secured an order employing general bankruptcy counsel, while a separate application to employ special litigation counsel is currently outstanding. The deadline to file a proof of claim has been set for July 24, 2020 [Doc. No. 32].

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no response or opposition is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 1188 of the recently-enacted Subchapter V of chapter 11 provides that the court “shall hold a status conference to further the expeditious and economical resolution of a case,” not later than 60 days after the entry of the order for relief.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court’s tentative ruling. This is the Initial Subchapter V Status Conference. Having reviewed the Status Report, the commencement documents, and all other relevant pleadings, the Court is prepared to set a continued Status Conference on October 14, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. The Debtor shall file a brief Status Report by no later than September 30, 2020.

Additionally, subject to any objection, the Court is further prepared to set the following dates and deadlines regarding solicitation and confirmation of the Debtor’s Plan:

1. A hearing will be held on the confirmation of the Debtor’s Plan on October 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
2. The Plan shall be filed and served by no later than August 13, 2020, pursuant to Section 1189 of the Bankruptcy Code.
3. A notice of hearing on confirmation of the Plan and, if applicable, a ballot conforming to Official Form No. 14, shall be mailed to all creditors, equity security holders and to the Office of the United States Trustee by no later than August 20, 2020.
4. September 18, 2020 is fixed as the last day for creditors and equity security holders to return to Debtor’s counsel ballots containing written acceptances or rejections of the Plan, which ballots must be actually received by Debtor’s counsel by 5:00 p.m. on such date.
5. September 23, 2020 is fixed as the last day on which the Debtor must file and serve a motion for an order confirming the Plan (the "Confirmation Motion") including declarations setting forth a tally of the ballots cast with respect to the Plan ("Ballots"), and attaching thereto the original Ballots, and setting forth evidence that the Debtor has complied with all the requirements for the confirmation of the Plan as set forth in Sections 1190 and 1191 of the Bankruptcy Code.

6. September 30, 2020 (the "Objection Date") is fixed as the last day for filing and serving written objections to confirmation of the Plan.
7. October 7, 2020 is fixed as the last day on which the Debtor may file and serve a reply to any opposition to the Confirmation Motion ("Reply").
8. An order confirming the plan must be entered by no later than November 11, 2020, unless otherwise ordered by the Court.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: The Debtor fails to describe the nature of his title dispute in detail. Based on the Status Report and application to employ special counsel [Doc. No. 31], the Court understands that the Debtor alleges that a wrongful foreclosure proceeding was initiated against him, in which a third party purchased the Property. In addition to JP Morgan and Citibank, the Debtor avers that he is currently discussing a consensual agreement with said purchaser.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant. See Doc. No. 1.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Soul Hollywood, LLC (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary chapter 7 petition on July 5, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor owned and operated a restaurant business as of the Petition Date. One of the assets scheduled by the Debtor was a Type 47 On-Sale General Eating Place Liquor License #47-558177 (the "Liquor License"). On November 19, 2019, Howard Ehrenberg, the chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee"), obtained an order approving the sale of the Liquor License to Flora LA, LLC (the "Buyer") for $90,000 (the "Sale").

On June 30, 2020, the Trustee filed the instant Motion [ Doc. No. 41]. The issue presently before the Court arises from the Buyer's inability to adhere to the sale terms set forth in the underlying escrow instructions, and its subsequent refusal to execute a cancellation of escrow on request of the Trustee. The Buyer did not oppose the Motion. In support of the Motion, the Trustee asserts the following arguments and representations:

The Sale was approved by this Court subject to the terms and conditions stated in the Escrow Instructions for Sale of Alcoholic Beverage Control License (the "Agreement"), a copy of which has been attached as Exhibit 1 of the Motion. The relevant terms of the Agreement as they pertain to the Motion are as follows:

Total Purchase Price of said license shall be the sum of $90,000.00

Payable as follows:

Initial Deposit	$9,000.00
Deposit Prior to Close of Escrow	$81,000.00
Total Cash Thru	$90,000.00

TOTAL CONSIDERATION      $90,000.00

See Agreement, Cover Page (bottom half) [Motion at 16]. The Agreement requires the Buyer to tender the full $90,000 purchase price to California Business Escrow, Inc. (“Escrow”) within 30 days of the filing of the California Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control (“ABC”) license application:

Within the latter of thirty days after application has been filed with the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control or any extension [sic] of the filing period set forth in Section 24074.3 of the Business and Professions Code of the State of California, the Buyer/Transferee will cause to be handed to Escrow Holder the full amount of the Purchase Price as set out above, and any and all additional funds required by Escrow Holder to complete said transaction.

Escrow

Holder is instructed to then execute and forward ABC form 226 to the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, indicating that the consideration has been deposited into escrow.

See Agreement, ¶ 6. Here, the ABC accepted the license application on December 30, 2019, and no extension period under Section 24074.3 was ever approved [Note 1]. Accordingly, the deadline for the Buyer to tender the full sum of the purchase price to Escrow was January 30, 2020. The Buyer’s inability to fully fund the escrow account to date has resulted in its default of the Agreement. Based on the declaration of Jason Kho (“Kho”), the broker of the Liquor License, the Trustee understands that the financial exigencies caused by the COVID-19 pandemic resulted in the Buyer being unable to complete a construction build as scheduled. Therefore, the Buyer was incapable of closing escrow, nor will it be in a position to do so in the near future. See Kho Decl., ¶ 8.

Furthermore, the Buyer has refused to execute the cancellation of the Agreement and authorize the release of the $9,000 deposit amount (the “Deposit”). Because the Trustee is the non-defaulting party here, the Deposit is now property of the estate. The Trustee believes that the Buyer does not have the intention to cancel escrow and release the Deposit, meaning that the Deposit will be maintained in escrow for approximately 3 years and then released to the government. See Kho Decl., ¶ 9.

Pursuant to §§ 363, 541, and 105(a), the Trustee requests that the Court (i) find the Buyer in default, (ii) direct Escrow to terminate the Agreement, and (iii) release the Deposit. Section 105(a) authorizes the Court to enforce §§ 363 and 541 by granting the relief requested above. The Court also has jurisdiction over the Sale and the termination of the Agreement is consistent with the Trustee's fiduciary duty to creditors. In his business judgment, the Trustee has determined that cancellation of the Agreement will enable the sale of the Liquor License to an alternate purchaser—a new purchaser has been located and is currently in operation. An expeditious sale to this new purchaser will limit the estate's losses and generate administrable assets.

Last, with respect to attorney's fees, paragraph 15(F) of the Agreement provides:

F. Attorney's Fees. If any legal action, arbitration or other proceeding is brought relating to these instructions or because of an alleged dispute, breach, default or misrepresentation in connection with any of the provisions of the transactions involved in these instructions, the successful or prevailing party shall be entitled to recover reasonable costs incurred, including reasonable attorney's fees. In any collection of monies due hereunder without litigation, the collecting party shall be entitled to its reasonable costs incurred, including reasonable attorney's fees.

As such, if the Motion is granted, the Trustee requests that the Buyer reimburse the Trustee for the reasonable fees and expenses incurred in connection with Buyer's default. As of the preparation of the Motion, the Trustee estimates that reasonable attorneys' fees total "not less than approximately $4,655.00." Motion at 9.

As of the date of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. The Buyer is in Default of the Agreement; Therefore, the Escrow is Terminated

The Trustee avers that the Buyer has failed to satisfy the terms stated on a purchase agreement previously approved by this Court. Based on the Buyer's inability to submit the full purchase amount, the Trustee requests inter alia that the Court find that the Buyer has defaulted on the Agreement and terminate escrow. The Court concludes that the Buyer is indisputably in violation of the Agreement and escrow must be terminated to enable the Trustee to sell the Liquor License to a willing and capable purchaser.

Bankruptcy courts possess the inherent power and authority to enforce their own orders. See, e.g., Travelers Indem. Co. v. Bailey, 557 U.S. 137, 151 (2009) (finding that the “Bankruptcy Court plainly had jurisdiction to interpret and enforce its own prior orders”); see also In re Gonzales, 512 B.R. 255, 258 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2014) (“Bankruptcy court[s] have always been empowered to interpret and enforce their own orders.”). With respect to an order concerning procedures associated with the sale of a distressed asset, a bankruptcy court previously explained that:

Absent a determination by the Court that it has somehow been misled [sic] or has overlooked an unusual provision or other compelling circumstances, an order approving bidding procedures is binding on the parties in the case and on anyone who elects to participate in the sale process, especially the entity that submits the successful bid.

See In re Galleria Investments LLC, No. A06-62557-PWB, 2008 WL 7842107, at *9 (Bankr. N.D. Ga. Apr. 4, 2008).

Reference is made to an order entered by this Court on November 19, 2019 [Doc. No. 34] (the “November 19 Order”), pursuant to which the Court approved the sale of the Liquor License to the Buyer, in accordance with the terms set forth in the Agreement. See November 19 Order (The Sale “is approved...the Trustee authorized and empowered to execute...any and all documents as may be reasonably necessary to implement the terms of the Sale.”). The Buyer did not oppose or otherwise respond to the Sale Motion. By executing the Agreement, the Buyer consented to be bound by the sale terms, including the provision that:

Within the latter of thirty days after application has been filed with the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control...the Buyer/Transferee will cause to be handed to Escrow Holder the full amount of the Purchase Price as set out above.

See Agreement, ¶ 6; see also ¶ 15D (“A signature on these instructions and any document concerning this escrow means that the signatory has read, understands and approves the instruction or document.”).

Generally, the unjustified and unexcused failure to perform a contract is a breach. 1 Witkin, Summary of Cal. Law, Contracts, § 872 p. 719 (11th ed. 2020). “[A] material breach of a contract excuses further performance by the injured party and entitles that party to terminate the contract.” Pena v. GMAC Mortg., LLC, No. CV0906939MMMJCX, 2010 WL 11519504, at *7 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 13, 2010) (citing 1 B. Witkin, Summary of Cal. Law, Contracts, § 796 p. 719 (9th ed. 1990)) (other internal citation omitted).

Here, the Buyer is in default of the Agreement, given its inability to timely tender the agree-upon purchase price to Escrow. In reviewing the Agreement, which is incorporated into the November 19 Order, the Court determines that the Buyer’s default constitutes a breach entitling the Trustee to terminate the Agreement, as the injured party in the subject transaction. Moreover, notwithstanding the Buyer’s persistent refusal to sign a cancellation notice, the termination of escrow sought by the Trustee is internally consistent with the terms stated in the Agreement. See Agreement, ¶ 15F (“the parties assume responsibility for determining liability for payment between themselves”); see also ¶ 15E (“Escrow Holder shall close the escrow as soon as possible unless Escrow Holder receives a written notice of cancellation.”). Finally, since the Trustee cannot sell the Liquor License while the instant matter remains unresolved, cancellation of escrow is consistent with the Trustee’s statutory duty to liquidate the estate’s assets. See In re C.W. Mining Co., No. ADV.09-2248, 2010 WL 458914, at *9 (Bankr. D. Utah Feb. 10, 2010) (“trustee is given ample discretion to administer the estate...The trustee’s business judgment is to be given great judicial deference.”).

In sum, due to the Buyer’s default, termination of escrow is appropriate.

B. The Trustee is Entitled to an Award of Attorneys’ Fees and Costs of $4,655.00

Next, the Court turns to the issue of attorneys’ fees and costs requested by the Trustee. The Court again relies on the In re Galleria opinion for the uncontroversial proposition that parties participating in a distressed asset sale consent to the sale terms by executing the subject APA. See 2008 WL 7842107 at *9.

Pursuant to Paragraph 15F of the Agreement, the party prevailing in “any legal action, arbitration or other proceeding...brought relating to these instructions” is entitled to a reimbursement of reasonable attorney’s fees and costs incurred in connection with such an action. The Trustee asserts that attorneys’ fees and costs associated with this Motion total at least $4,655 and has supported this request by the Declaration of Howard Ehrenberg, which has not been opposed. Based on the present record and lack of opposition, the Court concludes that an award of $4,655 supported.

C. The Agreement is Silent on the Forfeiture of the Deposit in the Event of Buyer's Default

Finally, the Court addresses whether the Deposit should be forfeited in light of the Buyer's default. It is the position of the Trustee that the Buyer forfeited the Deposit because of its default and subsequent refusal to cooperate with the estate in proceeding with the cancellation of escrow. Aside from generally citing to §§ 105(a), 363, and 541, the Trustee has not proffered specific legal authority supporting his position.

“The court's entry of an order authorizing and approving the proposed sale and the sales procedures establishes definitive rules for the transaction, its terms and conditions, the procedures leading up to the sale, and its consummation.” In re Galleria Investments LLC, 2008 WL 7842107 at *8; see also In re Stroud Ford, Inc., 190 B.R. 785, 788 (Bankr. M.D. Pa. 1995) (prospective buyer's deposit towards the purchase of estate assets subject to forfeiture, where contract specifically provided for such loss if prospective buyer failed to perform). “The courts have rather consistently held that forfeitures are not favored in contract law and therefore any such provisions should be explicitly and clearly stated.” In re Crown Corp., 679 F.2d 774, 776 (9th Cir. 1982) (citing to Bornholdt v. Southern Pacific Co., 327 F.2d 18, 20 (9th Cir. 1964) and S. Williston, A Treatise of the Law of Contracts § 602A at 326 (3d ed. 1961 & Supp. 1981)). In the context of the sale of assets in a chapter 11 proceeding, forfeiture provisions in asset purchase agreements “should be clear and unambiguous to provide adequate notice to potential bidders...and should explicitly indicate the conditions of forfeiture.” Id. at 777 (internal citations omitted).

The Court has carefully reviewed the sale terms set forth in the Agreement and the Sale Motion, which were approved through the November 19 Order. However, nothing contained in either document discusses the forfeiture of the Deposit if the Buyer is incapable of consummating the Sale. The only provision expressly discussing the forfeiture and release of the Deposit is inapplicable here:

(5) the Deposit of the successful overbidder shall be forfeited if such party is thereafter unable to complete the purchase of the License within 30 days of entry of the order confirming the Sale.

Sale Motion at 5. The absence of any controlling terms on the defaulting Buyer's deposit proceeds is fatal to the Trustee's position. The parties here failed to enter into any agreement as to what would happen to the Deposit if the Sale failed to close, and based on the present record, there are no other contractual forfeiture provisions that have been incorporated into the Agreement. Furthermore, to construe any other provision tangentially discussing the disbursement of the Deposit as an agreement by the Buyer to the forfeiture thereof would be inconsistent with the decision in In re Crown Corp. See 679 F.2d at 777 (rejecting the lower court's reasoning that a liquidated damages provision applicable only to the original bidder could be read to bind a successive overbidder to the forfeiture of its deposit). Hence, by entering into the Agreement, the Buyer did not have adequate notice that its Deposit would be surrendered if the Sale did not close.

In conclusion, the Trustee's request for the release of the Deposit, in its entirety, to the estate is denied. However, the dollar sum of $4,655, constituting the Trustee's reasonable legal fees and costs associated with the Motion, shall be deducted from the Deposit and disbursed to the Trustee. See Agreement, ¶ 15G ("In the event of cancellation, Escrow Holder may take from any monies on deposit with Escrow Holder any sums necessary to pay all fees and costs incurred in this escrow."). The remainder shall be returned to the Buyer forthwith, subject to any additional costs, fees, and expenses contemplated in the Agreement.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED IN PART as set forth above.

The Trustee shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Complaint [Doc. No. 20] (the "Amended Complaint") against Hovhannes Tshavrushyan ("Tshavrushyan"), Charlton Lui, in his individual capacity ("Lui") and in his capacity as Trustee of the Catalyst Trust (the "Catalyst Trust"), CP WW Ventures, Inc. ("CP WW"), CTC Investment Holdings, LLC ("CTC"), and Primo Hospitality Group, Inc ("Primo").

The Trustee filed the Amended Complaint without leave of Court and without obtaining the opposing parties' written consent, in violation of Civil Rule 15(a). By order entered on April 14, 2020, the Court provided the Defendants an opportunity to object to the filing of the Amended Complaint. Doc. No. 19 (the "Procedures Order"). The Procedures Order stated that if no objections were timely filed, the Defendants would be deemed to have consented to the filing of the Amended Complaint. After Tshavrushyan objected to the filing of the Amended Complaint, the Court set a briefing schedule on whether the Trustee would be given leave to file the Amended Complaint. Doc. No. 32. On June 15, 2020, the Court issued a Memorandum of Decision and accompanying order granting the Trustee leave to file the Amended Complaint and deeming the Amended Complaint to have been filed as of June 15, 2020. Doc. Nos. 40–41.

The Catalyst Trust is or was the managing member of the Debtor. Amended Complaint at ¶ 6. Lui personally guaranteed certain obligations of the Debtor. Id. at ¶ 7. The Debtor is 100% owned by CP WW; CP WW is 100% owned by CTC; and CTC is 100% owned by Primo. Id. at ¶¶ 8–14. Lui is the president of CP WW, the president and manager of CTC, and the chief executive officer, chief financial officer, and secretary of Primo. Id. at ¶¶ 9–15. As a result of his various affiliations or contractually, Lui has personal responsibility for certain obligations of the Debtor (the "Guaranteed Payments"). Id. at ¶ 7.

Tshavrushyan was an officer of the Debtor and guaranteed certain debts of the Debtor or paid certain debts of the Debtor with the belief that he would be repaid (the "Hovhannes Payments"). Id. at ¶ 17. Tshavrushyan is an insider of the Debtor. Id. at ¶ 18.

The Trustee has reviewed bank statements provided by the Debtor (the "Bank Statements"). There are numerous transfers, of various amounts, from the Debtor's accounts into other accounts to payees for whom the Trustee has not been provided with identification or purpose, and for which there is no evidence that they related to goods or services provided to the Debtor (collectively, the "Unidentified Transfers"). The Unidentified Transfers total not less than $250,000. Id. at ¶ 21–22. Additional transfers may have been made outside the period for which the Trustee was provided with records, but within the period that would allow the Trustee to avoid and recover them; such additional transfers (the "Additional Transfers") are also avoidable and recoverable. Id. at ¶ 23. (The Guaranteed Payments, the Hovhannes Payments, the Unidentified Transfers, and the Additional Transfers are collectively referred to as the "Transfers.")

Based upon the foregoing allegations, the Complaint asserts the following claims for relief:

- 1) Avoidance and recovery of the Transfers as actually fraudulent, pursuant to §§ 548(a)(1)(A) and 544, applying Cal. Civ. Code § 3439.04(a)(1) (claims one, five, and eleven).
- 2) Avoidance and recovery of the Transfer as constructively fraudulent, pursuant to §§ 548(a)(1)(B) and 544, applying Cal. Civ. Code § 3439.04(a)(2) and (a)(5) (claims two, three, four, six, seven, eight, and eleven).
- 3) Avoidance and recovery of the Transfers as preferences, pursuant to § 547(b) (claims nine, ten, and eleven).

C. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Motions to Dismiss

Lui and the Catalyst Trust (the "Lui Defendants") and Tshavrushyan (collectively, the "Defendants") move to dismiss the Amended Complaint under Civil Rule 12(b)(6), for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. [Note 1] Defendants argue that:

- 1) The Amended Complaint fails to allege specific facts showing that Movants are liable for the misconduct alleged. The Amended Complaint does not even identify the specific Transfers which the Trustee seeks to avoid. It is not possible for Movants to respond to such vague allegations.
- 2) The fraudulent transfer claims do not plead the alleged fraud with particularity, as required by Civil Rule 9(b).

In addition to the foregoing arguments, Tshavrushyan asserts that the Complaint fails to state a claim because it is pleaded based on information and belief. The Lui Defendants assert that the Trustee should not be granted leave to amend, because even after the Lui Defendants responded to requests for information regarding the Bank Accounts, the Trustee was unable to allege specific facts stating a claim for relief.

The Trustee filed an omnibus opposition to the Motions to Dismiss (the "Omnibus Opposition"). The Trustee opposes dismissal for the following reasons:

- 1) There is no merit to Defendants' argument that they cannot defend against the Amended Complaint because they do not know which Transfers the Trustee is seeking to avoid. Both Defendants are insiders with sufficient knowledge of the transactions in question to be able to identify them. The Trustee has provided copies of the Bank Statements in his possession to the Defendants, thereby identifying each of the transactions that are the subject of this adversary proceeding (with the possible exception of transfers made before the earliest of the Bank Statements provided to the Trustee).
- 2) There is no merit to Tshavrushyan's argument that the Amended Complaint fails to state a claim because the allegations are pleaded upon information and belief. See Hightower v. Tilton, No. C08-1129-MJP, 2012 WL 1194720, at *3 (E.D. Cal. Apr. 10, 2012) ("Plaintiffs' allegation based on information and belief is sufficient to survive a motion to dismiss.").
- 3) Defendants argue that the Amended Complaint's allegations of fraud are not pleaded with particularity in accordance with the requirements of Civil Rule 9. A claim to avoid a transfer as actually fraudulent need not state with particularity the circumstances constituting fraud or mistake. Civil Rule 9(b) provides that "[m]alice, intent, knowledge, and other conditions of a person's mind may be alleged generally." Section 548(a)(1)(A) allows the Trustee to avoid transfers "made with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud any entity ...." The phrase "hinder, delay, or defraud" is worded in the disjunctive, meaning that a transfer made with the intent to do any one of the three may be avoided. A claim to avoid a transfer made with the intent to hinder or delay creditors need not be alleged with specificity. "A bankruptcy trustee, as a third party outsider to the debtor's transactions, is generally afforded greater liberality in pleading fraud." Miller v. McCown De Leeuw & Co., Inc. (In re The Brown Schools), 368 B.R. 394, 399 (Bankr. D. Del. 2007).

Tshavrushyan did not file a reply to the Omnibus Opposition. The Lui Defendants filed a reply to the Omnibus Opposition in which they make the following arguments:

- 1) The fact that the Trustee provided the Bank Statements to the Lui Defendants does not excuse the Trustee from having to file a properly pleaded complaint. The Trustee provided the Lui Defendants with approximately fifteen bank statements containing thousands of transactions. The Trustee did not identify any transactions determined to be problematic. The Lui Defendants identified the transactions to the best of their knowledge, yet the Trustee's Amended Complaint still contains only conclusory allegations devoid of specificity.

- 2) The Trustee cites In re The Brown Schools for the proposition that a Trustee is afforded greater liberality in pleading fraud. However, under the standard articulated in Brown Schools, the Amended Complaint fails to state a claim. Brown Schools held that a complaint was insufficient because it did "not specify what individual Defendant received which particular transfer." Brown Schools, 368 B.R. at 403. The Amended Complaint suffers from the same defect because it does not identify the specific transfers the Trustee seeks to avoid.

II. Findings and Conclusions

"To survive a motion to dismiss, a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.' A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (internal citations omitted). To state a plausible claim for relief, a complaint must satisfy two working principles:

First, the tenet that a court must accept as true all of the allegations contained in a complaint is inapplicable to legal conclusions. Threadbare recitations of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory statements, do not suffice.... Second, only a complaint that states a plausible claim for relief survives a motion to dismiss. Determining whether a complaint states a plausible claim for relief will ... be a context-specific task that requires the reviewing court to draw on its judicial experience and common sense. But where the well-pleaded facts do not permit the court to infer more than the mere possibility of misconduct, the complaint has alleged—but it has not "show[n]"—"that the pleader is entitled to relief."

Although the pleading standard Civil Rule 8 announces "does not require 'detailed factual allegations,' ... it demands more than an unadorned, the-defendant-unlawfully-harmed-me accusation.... A pleading that offers ‘labels and conclusions’ or a ‘formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.’ Nor does a complaint suffice if it tenders ‘naked assertion[s]’ devoid of ‘further factual enhancement.’” Id. (citing Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)).

None of the Amended Complaint’s eleven causes of action state a claim for relief. The Amended Complaint alleges that certain unspecified transfers set forth on approximately fifteen bank statements containing thousands of transactions are avoidable. It does not specify which transfers are avoidable.

In JLL Consultants v. Gother (In re AgFeed USA, LLC), 546 B.R. 318, 336 (Bankr. D. Del. 2016), the court dismissed a complaint’s fraudulent transfer claims:

Count VIII alleges that any payments made to Gothner under the Employment Agreement were made within two years before the petition date, were made to or for the Defendant’s benefit, and to the extent any of the transfers were not made on account of antecedent debt owed by the Debtor, the Debtor did not receive reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfers. See Complaint at ¶¶ 133–36. Additionally, the complaint alleges that on the date each transfer was made, the Debtor: (a) “[w]as insolvent or became insolvent as a result of such transfer;” (b) “was engaged in business or a transaction, or was about to engage in business or a transaction, for which any property remaining with the Debtor was an unreasonably small capital;” or “(c) intended to incur, or believed it would incur, debts that would be beyond the Debtor’s ability to pay as such debts matured.” See Complaint at ¶ 138.

Taking all facts in the complaint as true and drawing all reasonable inferences in favor of Plaintiff, the Court holds that Plaintiff has failed to state a claim against the Defendant under section 548(a)(1)(B). The complaint fails to allege specific facts relating to the date of any of the transfers, the amount of any of the transfers or the transferor of any of the transfers. Rather, the complaint makes a general reference to all “payments made to Gothner under the Employment Agreement.” See Complaint at ¶ 133. This language is insufficient to survive a 12(b)(6) motion. See Pardo v. Found. Health Corp. (In re APF Co.), 2004 WL 1969580, at *1 (Bankr.D.Del. Jan. 21, 2004) (dismissing 548 claims where the complaint merely alleged that the debtors “made a number of payments” relative to particular note obligations). Furthermore, the allegations in the complaint simply mirror the language of section 548(a)(1)(B). This too is insufficient.

Like the complaint in AgFeed, here the Amended Complaint alleges no specific facts regarding the date of any of the transfers, the amounts of the transfers, or to whom the transfers were made. Instead, the Amended Complaint contains only conclusory allegations that the Defendants received transfers that are subject to avoidance. As such, the Amended Complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted.

Defendants cannot defend against the misconduct alleged if the Amended Complaint fails even to identify which transfers are subject to avoidance. It is no answer for the Trustee to assert that the Defendants, as the recipients of the allegedly avoidable transfers, already know which transfers the Trustee seeks to avoid. The Trustee's argument completely disregards the pleading standards articulated in Iqbal and Twombly.

Even if the Court were to overlook the Trustee's failure to identify which transfers are alleged to be avoidable, the Amended Complaint suffers from an additional defect. The Amended Complaint alleges that that "there is no evidence" that the unspecified avoidable transfers "related to goods or services provided to the Debtor," but it does not allege specific facts giving rise to the reasonable inference that the transfers were not for services provided to the Debtor's business. A complaint containing sufficient factual allegations might, for example, allege that the transfers were not for business-related services because the debtor operated a restaurant but the transfers were for the purchase of a two-week cruise in the Bahamas.

Before the Trustee filed the Amended Complaint, the Lui Defendants provided the Trustee information regarding certain of the transfers on the Bank Statements. Notwithstanding this cooperation from the Lui Defendants, the Amended Complaint fails to sufficiently allege any claims for relief. If the Trustee had cognizable claims against the Defendants, he could have, and should have, alleged them by this point. The Trustee's failure to do so indicates that giving leave to amend would be futile. The Amended Complaint is dismissed with prejudice. See Cervantes v. Countrywide Home Loans, Inc., 656 F.3d 1034, 1041 (9th Cir. 2011) (holding that the Court may dismiss a complaint without leave to amend where any proposed amendment would be futile). [Note 2]

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motions to Dismiss are GRANTED, and the Amended Complaint is DISMISSED WITH PREJUDICE.

Lui and the Catalyst Trust are represented by Sanaz Bereliani. Tshavrushyan is represented by Roland Kedikian. The Chapter 7 Trustee is represented by Diane Weil.

Note 2

CP WW, CTC, and Primo have not moved to dismiss the Amended Complaint. The Amended Complaint fails to state a claim because it fails to specifically identify the allegedly avoidable transfers, and fails to allege facts supporting a reasonable inference that the transfers at issue are subject to avoidance. Therefore, the Amended Complaint fails to state a claim with respect to all the Defendants, and its dismissed in its entirety.

Debtors-in-possession, Samuel Antonio Acevedo ("Samuel") and Lucy Acevedo ("Lucy") (together, the "Debtors"), filed this voluntary Chapter 11 case on April 3, 2018 (the "Petition Date"). [Note 1]. The Debtors' primary asset consists of a rental property located at 6220 Palladio Lane, Fontana, CA 92336 (the "Rental Property"), which they rent out for an additional $3,100 in monthly income [see Doc. No. 85]. The Debtors sought bankruptcy protection after experiencing several years of financial hardship precipitated by Samuel's unexpected loss of employment. In addition, the Debtors' fell behind on mortgage payments on the Rental Property after depleting their savings. Both Debtors are now employed and generate regular monthly income.

On March 13, 2019, the Debtors obtained an order granting their motion to value the Rental Property at $435,000 for purposes of plan confirmation [Doc. No. 45] (the "Rental Property Valuation Order"). On March 19, 2019, the Debtors obtained an order granting their motion to value their 2016 Honda Accord (the "Vehicle") at $15,977 for purposes of plan confirmation, which resulted in the bifurcation of American Honda Finance's claim into a secured claim of $15,977 and an unsecured claim of $3,731.60 [Doc. No. 50] (the "Vehicle Valuation Order").

Subject to the Court's proposed amendments, the Debtors' Third Amended Disclosure Statement was approved on October 24, 2019 [Doc. No. 102] (the "Scheduling Order"), at which time the Court also established deadlines concerning solicitation and confirmation of Debtors' chapter 11 plan. Previously, the Court determined that the Debtors' Second Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization (the "Second Amended Plan") could not be confirmed for reasons explained in the Court's ruling. In short, the Court declined to approve the Second Amended Plan because no class casted a vote on the amended plan and Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. ("Wells Fargo") objected to plan confirmation.

Events Leading Up to the Second Confirmation Hearing

In determining that the Second Amended Plan was not confirmable, the Court established updated dates and deadlines concerning the transmission of Debtors' amended voting package and reserved April 15, 2020 as the continued confirmation hearing date. See Court's Ruling [Doc. No. 110]. The Debtors failed to comply with the Court's instructions and amended materials were not filed in time for the April 15 hearing. Based on Debtors' noncompliance, on April 3, 2020, the Court entered the Order Requiring Debtors to Show Cause Why this Case Should Not be Converted or Dismissed [Doc. No. 113] (the "OSC"). In response to the OSC, the Debtors and their counsel submitted declarations, explaining that the delay was a result of counsel's calendaring error and the Debtors' inability to timely deliver relevant documents [Doc. No. 120]. The Court ordered the continuance of the OSC to the instant hearing and re-established deadlines in connection with the confirmation of an amended plan.

Additionally, the Debtors entered a stipulation with Wells Fargo that resolves its objection against the Second Amended Plan [Doc. No. 139] (the "Stipulation"). The Stipulation provides that Wells Fargo will have a secured claim totaling its payoff balance as of the confirmation date, which is payable over 360 months at a fixed rate of interest at 5% per annum. The Stipulation further clarifies that Wells Fargo's secured claim will remain escrowed for the payment of property taxes and insurance, a point of contention in Wells Fargo's objection.

On April 27, 2020, the Debtors filed another amended plan [Doc. No. 122] (the "Third Amended Plan") and a disclosure statement [Doc. No. 121] (the "Fourth Amended Disclosure Statement"). Consistent with the Court's ruling on the Second Amended Plan, the Debtors transmitted a supplemental notice to creditors [Doc. No. 134] (the "Supplemental Notice") on May 12, 2020, which states that: "Creditors that fail to timely return a ballot by the June 12th, 2020 deadline will be deemed acceptance [sic] of the amended Plan." [Note 2]. On June 30, 2020, the Debtors filed the Debtors' Motion to Confirm Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization Pursuant to 11 U.S.C § 1129 [Doc. No. 144] (the "Confirmation Brief") seeking to confirm the Third Amended Plan. The Confirmation Brief reports that no votes have been casted in favor or against the Third Amended Plan, whether timely or untimely.

Administrative Claims

The Debtors anticipate that administrative fees for professionals will be approximately $6,000 on the Effective Date, consisting of $4,000 for remaining chapter 11 fees and $2,000 for administrative fees owed to former counsel [Note 3]. The Debtors propose to pay all administrative claims in full, on the Effective Date, from available cash on hand and with the assistance of a one-time $5,000 family contribution payment.

Priority Tax Claims

As set forth in the Fourth Amended Disclosure Statement, the Debtors propose to pay the Internal Revenue Service's (the "IRS") claim of $1,681, in full, plus 6% interest, within five years from the Petition Date, by making equal monthly installments of $32.50 beginning on the Effective Date. [Note 4]

Class 5(a) – Wells Fargo – Deemed to Accept the Third Amended Plan

Class 5(a) consists of the secured claim of Wells Fargo. Wells Fargo holds a first-priority deed of trust against the Rental Property securing debt in the approximate amount of $382,478.36. Based on the Stipulation, the Debtors propose to pay Wells Fargo's claim in full by making monthly installment payments of $2,543.23 over 360 months, at a 5% interest rate per annum. This class is impaired and entitled to vote on the Third Amended Plan, but it did not cast a ballot. However, pursuant to the Supplemental Notice, Wells Fargo was advised that failure to cast a vote on the Third Amended Plan would be construed as a vote in favor of the Plan. Therefore, Wells Fargo is deemed to accept the Plan.

Class 5(b) – American Honda Finance Corporation ("Honda") – Deemed to Accept the Third Amended Plan

Class 5(b) consists of Honda's secured claim. Honda holds a perfected security interest in the Vehicle. Pursuant to the Vehicle Valuation Order, Honda holds a secured claim of $15,977 and an unsecured claim of $3,731.60. Accordingly, the Debtors propose to pay Honda's secured claim in full, with a 4.5% interest per annum, by making monthly installment payments of $298 over a five-year period. This class is impaired and entitled to vote on the Third Amended Plan, but it did not cast a ballot. However, pursuant to the Supplemental Notice, Honda was advised that failure to cast a vote on the Third Amended Plan would be construed as a vote in favor of the plan. Therefore, Honda is deemed to accept the Plan.

Class 6(b) – General Unsecured Claims – Deemed to Accept the Third Amended Plan

This class consists of allowed general unsecured claims, which the Debtors estimate hold aggregate claims in the amount of $9,825. [Note 5]. The Debtors propose to pay this class 100% of their claims, without interest, over a 5-year period by making equal pro-rata monthly installment payments totaling $163.75. This class is impaired and entitled to vote on the Third Amended Plan, but it did not cast a ballot. However, pursuant to the Supplemental Notice, Class 6(b) was advised that failure to cast a vote on the Third Amended Plan would be construed as a vote in favor of the plan. Therefore, Class 6(b) is deemed to accept the Plan.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As set forth below, the Court finds that the Third Amended Plan complies with all applicable provisions of § 1129. The plan is confirmed.

SECTION 1129(a)(1)

Section 1129(a)(1) requires that the "plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." According to the leading treatise, the "legislative history suggests that the applicable provisions are those governing the plan's internal structure and drafting: 'Paragraph (1) requires that the plan comply with the applicable provisions of chapter 11, such as section 1122 and 1123, governing classification and contents of a plan.'" Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 1129.01[1] (16th rev'd ed.) (citing S. Rep. No. 989, 95th Cong., 2d Sess. 126 (1978)).

Section 1122(a) provides that "a plan may place a claim or an interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interests of such class."

The Third Amended Plan's classification structure complies with § 1122(a).

2. Section 1122(b)

Section 1122(b) provides that "a plan may designate a separate class of claims consisting only of every unsecured claim that is less than or reduced to an amount that the court approves as reasonable and necessary for administrative convenience."

The Third Amended Plan does not contain any convenience classes. Section 1122(b) does not apply.

3. Section 1123(a)(1)

Section 1123(a)(1) requires that a plan "designate ... classes of claims, other than claims of a kind specified in section 507(a)(2) [administrative expense claims], 507(a)(3) [claims arising during the gap period in an involuntary case], or 507(a)(8) [priority tax claims], and classes of interest." There are no involuntary gap claims because this is a voluntary chapter 11 case. The Plan provides that the Debtors do not have any priority tax claims. In addition, the Amended Plan appropriately classifies administrative expense claims. The Third Amended Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(1).

4. Section 1123(a)(2)

Section 1123(a)(2) requires that the Plan "specify any class of claims or interests that is not impaired under the Plan." There are no classes of unimpaired claims specified in the Third Amended Plan. The Third Amended Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(2).

5. Section 1123(a)(3)

Section 1123(a)(3) requires that the Plan "specify the treatment of any class of claims or interests that is impaired under the Plan."

The Third Amended Plan specifies the treatment afforded to impaired classes—Classes 5(a), 5(b), and 6(b). The Third Amended Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(3).

6. Section 1123(a)(4)

Section 1123(a)(4) requires that the Plan "provide the same treatment for each claim or interest of a particular class unless the holder of a particular claim or interest agrees to a less favorable treatment of such particular claim or interest."

The Third Amended Plan provides the same treatment to claims of the same class, unless the holders of such claims have accepted a less favorable treatment. One change to Class 6(b) from the previous iteration of the plan is that the Debtors have re-labeled the claims of certain unsecured creditors as "disputed", thereby reducing the value of such claims to $0. See Fourth Amended Disclosure Statement, Ex. C. All interested parties were notified of this proposed treatment and given an opportunity to assert an objection. Based on the Supplemental Notice, the Court construes the absence of opposition as acceptance of the Debtors' proposal for the purposes of § 1123(a)(4). The Third Amended Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(4).

Section 1123(a)(5) requires that the Plan "provide adequate means for the plan's implementation."

The Plan will be funded by revenue generated by rental income, pre- and post-confirmation wage earnings of the Debtors, and a one-time family contribution of $5,000. The Debtors anticipate having approximately $15,071.81 of cash on hand on the Effective Date of the Third Amended Plan to pay effective date payments of approximately $6,000 and plan payments due following the Effective Date. See Fourth Amended Disclosure Statement at 6; Debtors Declaration in Support of Fourth Amended Disclosure Statement, ¶ 38.

In support, the Debtors submitted the following evidence of her ability to adequately implement the Third Amended Plan: 1) historical financial statements for the past six months (Fourth Amended Disclosure Statement, Exhibit A2), 2) Debtors' recent post-petition income and expenses (Fourth Amended Disclosure Statement, Exhibit A1), and 3) a five-year projection of income and expenses (Fourth Amended Disclosure Statement, Exhibit A3). Based on its review of the Debtors' most recent monthly operation reports [Doc. No. 132], the Court determines that the proposed funding sources provide a realistic means for the Third Amended Plan's implementation. Moreover, the Debtors assert that this ongoing cash flow is sufficient to fund the Third Amended Plan. Confirmation Brief at 7. The Third Amended Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(5).

9. Section 1123(a)(7)

Section 1123(a)(7) which imposes certain requirements upon corporate debtors, does not apply.

10. Section 1123(a)(8)

Section 1123(a)(8) requires that individual debtors must provide post-petition earnings and other future income as needed to execute the Plan.

The plan provides that Debtors will apply their future income to fund the Third Amended Plan. The Third Amended Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(8).

Chapter 11

SECTION 1129(a)(2)

Section 1129(a)(2) requires that the "proponent of the plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." The Court finds that the Plan Proponent has:

- 1) Obtained Court approval of a disclosure statement in accordance with § 1125 (see "Order Approving Disclosure Statement and Setting Hearing on Confirmation of Plan" [Doc. No. 102]);
- 2) Obtained Court approval of the employment of professional persons (see "Order Granting Motion in Individual Ch. 11 Case for Order Employing Professional" [Doc. No. 31]); and
- 3) Filed monthly operating reports.

Accordingly, the Third Amended Plan satisfies the requirements of § 1129(a)(2).

SECTION 1129(a)(3)

Section 1129(a)(3) requires that the "plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law." As one court has explained:

The term 'good faith' in the context of 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3) is not statutorily defined but has been interpreted by case law as referring to a plan that 'achieves a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code.' 'The requisite good faith determination is based on the totality of the circumstances.'

In re Melcher, 329 B.R. 865, 876 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2005) (internal citations omitted).

The Third Amended Plan seeks objectives that are consistent with those of the Bankruptcy Code and the Plan Proponent has complied with the requirements of the Code throughout this case. Under Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3015(f), the Court is not required to receive evidence as to good faith because no party has objected to confirmation. Section 1129(a)(3) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(a)(4)

Section 1129(a)(4) requires that "[a]ny payment made or to be made by the proponent, by the debtor, or by a person issuing securities or acquiring property under the plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of, the court as reasonable."

to final review by the Court. The plan satisfies § 1129(a)(4).

SECTION 1129(a)(5)

Section 1129(a)(5) which imposes certain requirements upon corporate debtors, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(6)

Section 1129(a)(6), which requires that a governmental regulatory commission with jurisdiction over rates charged by a debtor approve any rate changes provided for in the plan, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(7)

Section 1129(a)(7), known as the "best interests of creditors test," provides in relevant part: "With respect to each impaired class of claims or interests, each holder of a claim or interest of such class has accepted the plan; or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of this title on such date."

Classes 5(a), 5(b), and 6(b) are impaired, but their failure to submit a vote will be deemed as acceptance of the Third Amended Plan, based on the transmission of the Supplemental Notice to all stakeholders. See Court's ruling [Doc. No. 110]. The Third Amended Plan satisfies the best interests of creditors test under § 1129(a)(7).

SECTION 1129(a)(8)

Section 1129(a)(8) requires each class to accept the Plan, unless the class is not impaired.

Classes 5(a), 5(b), and 6(b) are impaired and are deemed to have accepted the Third Amended Plan. Section 1129(a)(8) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(a)(9)

Section 1129(a)(9) requires that holders of certain administrative and priority claims receive cash equal to the allowed claim amount of their claims on the effective date of the plan, unless the claimant agrees to different treatment.

Chapter 11

The Plan provides for the payment of all outstanding allowed administrative claims in full as soon as the fees are approved by the Court and none of the professionals have requested a different payment arrangement. The Third Amended Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(9).

SECTION 1129(a)(10)

Section 1129(a)(10) requires that "at least one class of claims that is impaired under the plan has accepted the plan, determined without including any acceptance of the plan by any insider."

Classes 5(a), 5(b), and 6(b) are impaired and have accepted the Third Amended Plan. Section 1129(a)(10) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(a)(11)

Section 1129(a)(11), known as the "feasibility requirement," requires the Court to find that "[c]onfirmation of the plan is not likely to be followed by the liquidation, or the need for further financial reorganization, of the debtor or any successor to the debtor under the plan, unless such liquidation or reorganization is proposed in the plan." In the Ninth Circuit, courts have construed "feasibility" as a "reasonable probability of success," thereby rejecting the notion that successful reorganization must be shown to be certain. See In re North Valley Mall, LLC, 432 B.R. 825, 838 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2010) (citing In re Acequia, Inc., 7887 F.2d 1352, 1364 – 65 (9th Cir. 1986)). The issue of feasibility is factual and may be satisfied by a "relatively low threshold of proof"—as long as a reorganizing debtor can demonstrate the ability to achieve the terms proposed in a plan, "the possibility of failure is not fatal." See id. (emphasis in original).

The Debtors budget projections reflect that they will have a net monthly income of $2,757 with which they are required to make monthly payments of $2,399.73 under the Third Amended Plan, leaving her with a net monthly income of approximately $357.27. Based upon its review of the Debtors' recent monthly operating reports, the Court finds that the Third Amended Plan has a reasonable possibility of success, and not likely to be followed by liquidation or further financial reorganization. For the reasons stated above, the Court finds that the Third Amended Plan is consistent with the feasibility standard and complies with § 1129(a) (11).

Section 1129(a)(12) requires that the Debtors pay all United States Trustee fees prior to confirmation or provide for payment of those fees on the effective date.

To the Court's knowledge, UST fees are current. To the extent any fees are outstanding, the Plan provides that all such fees will be paid by the Effective Date.

SECTION 1129(a)(13)

Section 1129(a)(13), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of retirement benefits, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(14)

Section 1129(a)(14), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of domestic support obligations, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(a)(15)

Section 1129(a)(15) imposes certain requirements upon individual debtors if the holder of an unsecured claim objects to confirmation of the Plan. Section 1129(a)(15) does not apply because no objections to the Third Amended Plan are on file.

SECTION 1129(a)(16)

Section 1129(a)(16) provides: "All transfers of property under the plan shall be made in accordance with any applicable provisions of nonbankruptcy law that govern the transfer of property by a corporation or trust that is not a moneyed, business, or commercial corporation or trust."

The Plan does not provide for the transfer of any property. The Third Amended Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(16).

SECTION 1129(b)

The Court finds that the relevant provisions of § 1129(b) are inapplicable because all classes are deemed to be in favor of the Third Amended Plan.

the Third Amended Plan, and the amended ballots. See Confirmation Motion at 5, 13. However, the Court was only able to identify the provision on non-voting creditors' deemed acceptance of the amended plan on the Supplemental Notice.

Note 3: Notwithstanding Debtors' estimated administrative expenses, the Court notes that Debtors' counsel applied for interim fees and expenses in the sum of $14,028.50 [Doc. No. 70]. Counsel's fees and costs were approved on an interim basis on July 19, 2019 [Doc. No. 79].

Note 4: The Court notes that the Third Amended Plan provides otherwise: priority tax "[p]ayments will be made quarterly, due on the first day of the quarter starting on the first such date after the Effective Date..." See Plan at 2, Art. I, Section C. The Court has identified this discrepancy at least once before and the Debtors have still not addressed it. Based on the representation made in declarations supporting the Fourth Amended Disclosure Statement, it appears that the Debtors will tender payments on their priority tax debts on a monthly basis.

Note 5: The Debtors assert that certain unsecured claims which had been previously scheduled are now identified as disputed claims. See Fourth Amended Disclosure Statement, Ex. C. Consistent with this position, the Debtors submitted an amended copy of Schedule E/F [Doc. No. 123] on May 1, 2020.

Chapter 11

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Introduction

ChineseInvestors.com, Inc. (the “Debtor”) filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 19, 2020 (the “Petition Date”). The Debtor is a financial information web portal that offers news and information regarding financial markets in Chinese. The Debtor also provides investor relations services for companies requiring Mandarin language support, which includes (a) translating client releases into English from Mandarin or vice versa, (b) increasing awareness of clients and their stock, and (c) helping clients move from the pink sheets to more established public securities exchanges.

Beginning in 2017, the Debtor began developing two additional business lines—a domestic and international industrial hemp and cannabidiol (“CBD”) business, and an international foreign exchange and cryptocurrency trading platform. The Debtor devoted a significant portion of its cash flow to these new business lines, which did not prove as successful as had been projected. As a result, the Debtor lacked the ability to repay short-term unsecured notes that began maturing in late 2018 and early 2019, which led to the filing of the petition.

At the end of 2019, the Debtor began scaling down its labor force for its cryptocurrency and industrial hemp businesses. The industrial hemp business was spun out into an independent corporation, Hemp Logic, Inc. (“Hemp Logic”). The Debtor is the majority shareholder in Hemp Logic. The Debtor hopes that as Hemp Logic’s business matures, Hemp Logic will reimburse the Debtor for startup costs in the amount of approximately $1.1 million.

On July 7, 2020, the Court granted the Debtor’s emergency motion to pay prepetition compensation earned by its employees. Doc. No. 46. On that same date, the Court granted the Debtor’s emergency motion to employ professionals used in the ordinary course of business. Doc. No. 44.

Debtor now moves, on an emergency basis, for authorization to continue to use its existing cash management system (the “Motion”). The United States Trustee (the “UST”) opposes the Motion.

B. Summary of the Motion

The Debtor makes the following arguments and representations in support of the Motion:

The Debtor’s primary revenue source consists of subscription payments received from mainly Chinese investors. The Debtor maintains an office in Shanghai, China for its sales representatives (the “Shanghai Sales Office”). Sales representatives at the Shanghai Sales Office use their personal WeChat accounts to collect subscription revenues in RMB. (WeChat is a multi-purpose messaging, social media, and mobile payment application developed by Tencent that is widely used in China.) Funds are then transferred from the sales representatives' WeChat accounts to the Debtor's accountant via WeChat Pay. The accountant, who is based in China, converts the funds to cash, deposits the cash in the office safe, and uses the cash to pay expenses incurred by the Shanghai Sales Office. This is necessary because according to Chinese government regulations, the bank account used by the Shanghai Sales Office cannot accept any money except for wire transfers from the Debtor.

All WeChat Pay transactions are reported to the Debtor's accountant in the United States for audit as soon as they are received. Funds collected by the Shanghai Sales Office using the WeChat Pay accounts are deducted from the monthly wire transfer that the Debtor sends to the Shanghai Sales Office. For May 2020, revenue from WeChat Pay transactions was RMB 430,314.85/USD 60,765.69; for June 2020, revenue was RMB 277,620/USD 39,217.

The Debtor has two US bank accounts at JP Morgan Chase: an operating and payroll account (the "Chase Operating Account") and a business account that was previously used solely to process payments received by check (the "Chase Business Account"). The Debtor has two bank accounts based in China: an account at the Bank of China (the "Bank of China Account") and an account at Shanghai Pudong Development Bank (the "Shanghai Newcoins Account").

Funds at the Bank of China Account are used to pay payroll, taxes, and general operating expenses for the Shanghai Sales Office. Chinese government regulations prohibit the Shanghai Sales Office from collecting any money. Instead, funds to operate the Shanghai Sales Office must be wired from the United States to the Bank of China Account.

In April 2018, the Debtor established NewCoins168.com Digital Media Technology Ltd. (Shanghai) ("Shanghai Newcoins"), a wholly-owned subsidiary. Approximately 95% of Shanghai Newcoins' cash flow is comprised of funds that the Debtor transfers to the Shanghai Newcoins Account. The remaining 5% comes from investor relations revenue collected in RMB. Shanghai Newcoins employs professional financial editors and analysts that support the Debtor's business. Shanghai Newcoins was established in China because the cost of labor is lower than in the United States. Employees of Shanghai Newcoins are paid from the Shanghai Newcoins Account. If the Debtor closed the Shanghai Newcoins Account, Shanghai Newcoins would no longer be able to retain the employees who support the Debtor's business.

Guidelines imposed by the UST (the “UST Guidelines”) require Chapter 11 debtors to deposit all estate funds into an account maintained at an authorized depository that has agreed to comply with all UST requirements. The Bank of China Account is not an authorized depository. The Debtor should be permitted to maintain the Bank of China Account because the Bank of China is financially sound and is a crucial component of the Debtor’s cash management system.

The Debtor should also be permitted to continue collecting subscription revenue using the personal WeChat accounts of employees at the Shanghai Sales Office. Collecting subscription revenue in a different manner would impose an administrative burden upon the Debtor.

Valid post-petition payments from the Debtor to non-debtor affiliates should be accorded administrative expense status. The Debtor requires the continuance of these intercompany transfers to maintain business operations. According administrative expense status to intercompany transfers is necessary to insure that the Debtor will not be required to fund operations of non-debtor affiliates.

C. Summary of the UST’s Opposition

The UST makes the following arguments in opposition to the Motion:

The Debtor’s request to maintain the Bank of China Account and the Shanghai Newcoins Account (collectively, the “Chinese Accounts”) should be denied. The Debtor has not proposed to sweep any funds from the Chinese Accounts into its US DIP accounts. The Debtor has not explained the Chinese regulations related to the Chinese Accounts, including whether there are protections to ensure that the funds will not be manipulated, transferred, or frozen during the pendency of the bankruptcy. The UST is concerned that the funds in the Chinese Accounts could be frozen or seized by the Chinese government. There is no assurance that the Debtor will have continued access to funds in the Chinese Accounts throughout the bankruptcy. The Debtor’s use of non-approved foreign bank accounts also makes it extremely difficult for the UST to monitor the Debtor’s monthly operating reports. There is no reason why the Debtor cannot use an approved depository. Certain approved depositories, such as East West Bank, have branches in China.

The Debtor should not be allowed to use the personal WeChat accounts of employees of the Shanghai Sales Office to collect subscription revenue. There is no indication that proper oversight is in place to ensure that the sales representatives report all funds collected.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 345 requires that estate property be deposited in authorized depository institutions unless the Court orders otherwise for cause. Local Bankruptcy Rule (“LBR”) 2015-2 requires that debtors-in-possession comply with guidelines and requirements issued by the UST (the “UST Guidelines”).

The Debtor’s continued use of the Bank of China Account and Shanghai Newcoins Account poses serious concerns. First, use of these accounts will make it very difficult for the UST to ensure that the Debtor’s monthly operating reports are compliant. The UST’s oversight responsibilities under 28 U.S.C. § 586 play a critical role in safeguarding the integrity of the estate. Requests for waivers of the UST Guidelines that make the discharge of these responsibilities more difficult are looked upon with disfavor. That is especially the case when there are approved depository accounts with branches in China, such as East West Bank, that the Debtor could use to conduct its business.

Second, maintenance of estate funds in a non-approved account increases the risk that the funds could be frozen or otherwise seized by the Chinese government. Of course, that risk exists with respect to any bank account located in China. The risk, however, is much greater when it comes to a state-owned enterprise such as the Bank of China. State-owned enterprises in China are subject to significantly greater government influence and control than US-based enterprises, such as East West Bank, that do business in China.

The Court understands that compliance with the UST Guidelines imposes an administrative burden upon the Debtor. Such a burden is a cost that the Debtor must bear in exchange for receiving the benefits of bankruptcy protection.

The Debtor’s proposed continued use of the personal WeChat accounts of employees of the Shanghai Sales Office to collect subscription revenues also poses serious concerns. The Court has not been provided with sufficient evidence that this method of collecting revenue is subject to effective oversight or audit.

The Debtor seeks an order granting administrative expense status to transfers to its non-debtor affiliates. The Debtor has failed to show why it is necessary for this relief to be granted on an emergency basis. According inter-company transfers administrative expense status affects all creditors of the estate. That is why administrative status is accorded only to claimants who can show, after notice and a hearing, that their claims qualify as an “actual” and “necessary” cost of preserving the estate. It is not appropriate for the Court to prospectively accord administrative status to future intercompany transfers that have not yet even been identified. To the extent that inter-company transfers are made in the ordinary course of business, court approval is not required. See § 363(c)(1). But such transfers will be accorded administrative status only upon the granting of a motion brought under § 503(b).

The Debtor's request that post-petition intercompany transfers be deemed a loan to the non-debtor affiliate, rather than a contribution of capital, is denied without prejudice. No detail has been furnished as to the nature of these future transfers. The Debtor may seek such relief by way of a properly noticed Motion that sets forth in detail the basis for the characterization of the transfers.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, and subject to additional argument which may be presented at the hearing, the Court is prepared to DENY the Motion without prejudice.

A. Introduction

Poshow Ann Kirkland, solely in her capacity as Trustee of the Bright Conscience Trust Dated September 9, 2009 (the "BC Trust") and John C. Kirkland ("Kirkland," and together with the BC Trust, the "Movants") move to remove Jason M. Rund, the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee"), pursuant to § 324(a) (the "Removal Motion"). The BC Trust moves to dismiss the adversary proceeding captioned Rund v. John C. Kirkland and the BC Trust [Adv. No. 2:12-ap-02424-ER] for failure to prosecute (the "Motion to Dismiss"). The Trustee opposes the Removal Motion and the Motion to Dismiss.

Robert A. Hessling, APC ("RAH"), the Trustee's general counsel, applies for the allowance of fees in the amount of $290,337.00 and costs in the amount of $2,198.13, on an interim basis (the "RAH Fee Application"). RAH seeks payment of 60% of the allowed fees (i.e., $174,202.20) and 100% of the allowed costs, with the remaining 40% of allowed fees (i.e., $116,134.80) to be paid only upon further order of the Court. Brutzkus Gubner Rozansky Seror Weber LLP ("Brutzkus Gubner"), the Trustee's special litigation counsel, and Berkeley Research Group, LLC ("BRG") and Development Specialists, Inc. ("DSI"), the Trustee's accountants and financial advisors [Note 1], have not submitted interim fee applications. The BC Trust opposes the RAH Fee Application. It contends that the funds in the estate are subject to its security interest and may not be used to pay professional fees absent adequate protection, which according to the BC Trust has not been provided.

B. Procedural Background

To provide necessary context for the motions, the Court sets forth a detailed description of this matter's procedural history.

On December 7, 2010, creditors filed an involuntary petition against EPD Investment Co., LLC ("EPD"). Bankr. Doc. No. 1. [Note 2] The Court entered an Order for Relief on February 9, 2011. Bankr. Doc. No. 29. On February 1, 2012, Jerrold S. Pressman ("Pressman") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. On June 4, 2012, the bankruptcy cases of EPD and Pressman (collectively, the "Debtors") were substantively consolidated. Bankr. Doc. No. 227.

On October 31, 2012, the Trustee filed the complaint commencing this adversary proceeding. Adv. Doc. No. 1. The Trustee filed a First Amended Complaint on December 7, 2012. Adv. Doc. No. 14. On April 8, 2013, the Court approved a stipulation authorizing the Trustee to file a Second Amended Complaint without leave of court. Adv. Doc. No. 39. On May 24, 2013, the Trustee filed a Second Amended Complaint, which named as defendants John C. Kirkland ("Kirkland") and Poshow Ann Kirkland ("Poshow Kirkland"), individually and in her capacity as Trustee of the BC Trust. Adv. Doc. No. 45. (As used hereafter, "BC Trust" means Poshow Kirkland, solely in her capacity as Trustee of the BC Trust and "Poshow Kirkland" means Poshow Ann Kirkland, solely in her individual capacity.)

On September 24, 2013, the District Court denied Kirkland's motion to withdraw the reference. Adv. Doc. No. 72. On November 15, 2013, the Court denied a motion to compel arbitration and stay the adversary proceeding (the "Arbitration Motion") brought by Kirkland and joined by Poshow Kirkland and the BC Trust. Adv. Doc. Nos. 87 (final ruling denying Arbitration Motion) and 92 (order denying Arbitration Motion). On April 9, 2014, the District Court affirmed the denial of the Arbitration Motion. Adv. Doc. No. 159. On May 9, 2016, the Ninth Circuit affirmed the denial of the Arbitration Motion. Kirkland v. Rund (In re EPD Inv. Co., LLC), 821 F.3d 1146 (9th Cir. 2016). On June 16, 2016, the Ninth Circuit denied a petition for a rehearing en banc filed by Kirkland, Poshow Kirkland, and the BC Trust.

On January 27, 2014, the Court granted Kirkland's motion to stay the adversary proceeding, pending the resolution of the appeal of the denial of the Arbitration Motion. Adv. Doc. No. 151. On June 23, 2016, the Court entered an order providing notice that the stay of the adversary proceeding had terminated. Adv. Doc. No. 194.

On July 27, 2016, the Court dismissed the Second Amended Complaint with respect to Poshow Kirkland, but gave the Trustee leave to amend. Adv. Doc. Nos. 200 and 210. On August 2, 2016, the Court denied the Trustee's motion for entry of default against Poshow Kirkland and the BC Trust. Adv. Doc. No. 213. On August 12, 2016, the Trustee filed a Third Amended Complaint. Adv. Doc. No. 215. On October 7, 2016, the Court dismissed the Third Amended Complaint as to Poshow Kirkland, without prejudice. Adv. Doc. Nos. 228 and 232.

On October 14, 2016, the Trustee filed the operative Fourth Amended Complaint. Adv. Doc. No. 234. The Fourth Amended Complaint named Poshow Kirkland as a defendant only in her capacity as Trustee of the BC Trust, not in her individual capacity. The Fourth Amended Complaint seeks to (1) disallow or equitably subordinate proofs of claim filed by the BC Trust and (2) avoid allegedly fraudulent transfers from the Debtors to Kirkland and the BC Trust.

On December 4, 2017, the Court authorized the Trustee to pay Brutzkus Gubner, his special litigation counsel, prior allowed interim fees in the amount of $692,377. Bankr. Doc. No. 1236 (the "Interim Fee Order"). The Interim Fee Order was issued over the objection of the BC Trust, which asserted that it held a security interest in the funds earmarked for the payment of Brutzkus Gubner's fees.

As of the date of issuance of the Interim Fee Order, the estate held funds in the amount of $3,376,977.18. The primary sources of these funds were as follows [Note 3]:

- 1) Settlements of the Trustee's avoidance claims, in the amount of $3,811,650.83.
- 2) Settlements with two of Kirkland's prior law firms, in the aggregate amount of $1,250,000.00.
- 3) A settlement with Robert Geringer, whereby Geringer paid the estate $3,615,817.85, representing the amount that Geringer paid Pressman for stock in North Hills Industrial Park, Inc.
- 4) Proceeds from the sale of stock in Ice Skating Enterprises, Inc. ("Ice Skating Enterprises"), in the net amount of $54,558.83.
- 5) Proceeds in the amount of $50,000 in connection with Mr. Pressman's stock ownership in Sidecreek Development, Inc. ("Sidecreek Development").

In its final ruling articulating the reasons for the Interim Fee Order [Bankr. Doc. No. 1235] (the "Fee Memorandum"), the Court found that the security interest asserted by the BC Trust could, at most, attach only to $104,558.83 of the estate's funds, consisting of the proceeds from the Trustee's sale of the Ice Skating Enterprise stock and Sidecreek Development stock. Fee Memorandum at 12–20. The Court authorized the payment of Brutzkus Gubner's fees based upon a finding that the funds remaining in the estate would be more than sufficient to protect any security interest held by the BC Trust. (The Court made no determination as to whether the BC Trust did in fact hold a valid security interest. Fee Memorandum at 20.)

The BC Trust timely appealed the Interim Fee Order, but subsequently dismissed that interlocutory appeal pursuant to a stipulation preserving the BC Trust's right to seek review of any final order on the allowance and payment of the fees of the estate's professionals. Bankr. Doc. Nos. 1238 (BC Trust's appeal of Interim Fee Order) and 1254 (BC Trust's dismissal of interlocutory appeal).

On February 17, 2018, the Court transmitted to the District Court a Report and Recommendation regarding the Trustee's motion for summary adjudication of his avoidance claims against Kirkland and the BC Trust. Adv. Doc. No. 341 (the "Report and Recommendation"). The Court recommended that the District Court enter final judgment in favor of the Trustee, and against Kirkland and the BC Trust, with respect to the Trustee's claims for avoidance and recovery of actually fraudulent transfers. Report and Recommendation at 18.

Concurrently with the transmittal of the Report and Recommendation, the Court entered a Memorandum of Decision on the Trustee's motion for summary adjudication of his claims to disallow, or in the alternative equitably subordinate, the proofs of claim filed by the BC Trust (the "Memorandum of Decision") [Adv. Doc. No. 340]. Because the issues addressed in the Memorandum of Decision substantially overlapped with those addressed in the Report and Recommendation, the Court stated that the findings set forth in the Memorandum of Decision would not become the order of the Court until the District Court acted upon the Report and Recommendation. Memorandum of Decision at 3.

In the Memorandum of Decision, the Court relied upon the Fee Memorandum to make the preliminary finding that the security interest asserted by the BC Trust could attach only to $104,588.83 in proceeds arising from the Trustee's sale of the Ice Skating Enterprise and Sidecreek Development stock. Memorandum of Decision at 10–14. The Court also preliminarily found that although the BC Trust held an allowed secured claim in the amount of $1,116,755.41, such claim was subject to being equitably subordinated to the allowed claims of all other unsecured creditors. Id. at 10 and 14–16.

On June 25, 2018, the District Court rejected the Report and Recommendation and denied the Trustee's motion for summary adjudication of his fraudulent transfer claims against Kirkland. Rund v. Kirkland (In re EPD Investment Co., LLC), 587 B.R. 711 (C.D. Cal. 2018). On August 13, 2018, the District Court denied the Trustee's motion for reconsideration of that ruling. Rund v. Kirkland (In re EPD Investment Co., LLC), 595 B.R. 910 (C.D. Cal. 2018).

On September 20, 2018, the Court ordered the parties to show cause why adjudication of the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust should not be stayed until after the District Court had entered final judgment on the Trustee's claims against Kirkland [Adv. Doc. No. 372] (the "Order to Show Cause"). The Court reasoned:

As a result of the overlap between the claims asserted against Mr. Kirkland and the claims asserted against the BC Trust, the most efficient means for this action to proceed would be for the District Court to first adjudicate the claims against Mr. Kirkland. Once the District Court has entered findings with respect to Mr. Kirkland, the Bankruptcy Court can then try the claims against the BC Trust. If the Bankruptcy Court tried claims against the BC Trust prior to the District Court's trial of claims against Mr. Kirkland, findings by the Bankruptcy Court with respect to common issues of fact could prejudice Mr. Kirkland.

Final Ruling Dated September 11, 2018 [Adv. Doc. No. 371].

After the Court issued the Order to Show Cause, the Trustee filed a motion seeking authorization to abandon his fraudulent transfer claims against Kirkland and the BC Trust [Bankr. Doc. No. 1278] (the "Abandonment Motion"). The Court took the hearing on the Order to Show Cause off calendar, finding that it was mooted by the Abandonment Motion. Adv. Doc. No. 380. On November 19, 2018, the Court denied the Abandonment Motion. Bankr. Doc. No. 1294. The Court found that the Abandonment Motion was a procedurally improper attempt by the Trustee to engineer the partial dismissal of the Complaint, over the opposition of Kirkland and the BC Trust, without complying with the provisions governing partial dismissal set forth in Civil Rule 15. Bankr. Doc. No. 1290 at 10.

On December 17, 2018, the District Court withdrew the reference of this adversary proceeding from the Bankruptcy Court. Rund v. Kirkland (In re EPD Investment Co., LLC), 594 B.R. 423 (C.D. Cal. 2018). The District Court withdrew the reference as to the claims against Kirkland based upon Kirkland's right to a jury trial conducted by the District Court. Id. at 426. Observing the "common issues of fact and the overlapping nature of the claims against the BC Trust and John Kirkland," the District Court found that "judicial economy and the uniformity of bankruptcy administration ... would be best served by withdrawing the entire action." Id.

On March 25, 2019, the District Court denied the Trustee's motion for entry of final judgment, pursuant to Civil Rule 54(b), on his first claim for relief to disallow or equitably subordinate the proofs of claim filed by the BC Trust. The District Court rejected the Trustee's argument that it should enter a final judgment adopting the findings set forth in the Bankruptcy Court's Memorandum of Decision:

No final judgment has been rendered as to any claim against the BC Trust. See Curtiss-Wright, 446 U.S. at 7, 100 S.Ct. 1460 (in the context of Rule 54(b), a "final judgment" is "an ultimate disposition of an individual claim entered in the course of a multiple claims action."). This Court has made no ruling since it withdrew the reference. The bankruptcy court's [Memorandum of Decision] was not a final judgment. The [Memorandum of Decision] itself provides that it would become an order of the court if and only if the district court adopted the [Report and Recommendation], which did not occur. The bankruptcy court's own statement that—because the claims against the BC Trust and the claims against John Kirkland involve common issues of fact—it would try the claims against the BC Trust only after this Court tried the claims against John Kirkland confirms that the bankruptcy court did not render a final judgment in its [Memorandum of Decision].

Rund v. Kirkland (In re EPD Investment Co., LLC), 597 B.R. 899, 901 (C.D. Cal. 2018).

On June 4, 2019, the District Court granted the Trustee's motion to bifurcate the trial of the (1) disallowance, equitable subordination, and fraudulent transfer claims against the BC Trust and (2) the fraudulent transfer claims against Kirkland. District Court Doc. No. 117. A six-day jury trial of the Trustee's claims against Kirkland was conducted between June 25, 2019 and July 3, 2019 (the "District Court Trial"). District Court Doc. Nos. 180–86. Specifically, the Trustee sought to avoid, as actually and constructively fraudulent, $104,852.82 in payments made by the Debtors towards the mortgage on Kirkland's home (the "Mortgage Transfers").

The jury returned a verdict in favor of Kirkland. In reaching its verdict, the jury found that EPD was a Ponzi scheme, see Verdict Form re Ponzi Scheme [District Court Doc. No. 174]; that Kirkland was not an insider of EPD and/or Pressman, see Verdict Form re Insider [District Court Doc. No. 174]; that EPD and/or Pressman transferred property to Kirkland to hinder, delay, and defraud one or more of their creditors, see Verdict Form No. 1 (Actual Fraud—California Law) at Question 3 and Verdict Form No. 2 (Actual Fraud—Bankruptcy Code) at Question 3 [District Court Doc. No. 174]; and that Kirkland received the Mortgage Transfers in good faith and for reasonably equivalent value, see Verdict Form No. 1 (Actual Fraud—California Law) at Questions 4–5; Verdict Form No. 2 (Actual Fraud—Bankruptcy Code) at Questions 4–5; Verdict Form No. 3 (Constructive Fraud—California Law) at Question 3; and Verdict Form No. 5 (Constructive Fraud—Bankruptcy Code) at Question 3 [District Court Doc. No. 174].

After the jury returned its verdict, the District Court requested briefing regarding whether (1) the jury's findings as to Kirkland were binding as to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust and whether (2) the District Court should adjudicate the claims against the BC Trust or refer the claims back to the Bankruptcy Court.

With respect to the first issue, the Trustee argued that the jury's findings were binding only to the extent that the requirements for issue preclusion had been satisfied. Citing the standard for issue preclusion set forth in Town of North Bonneville v. Callaway, 10 F.3d 1505, 1508 (9th Cir. 1993), the Trustee argued that only jury findings that were "critical and necessary" to the jury's verdict in favor of Kirkland remained binding. The Trustee maintained that the jury's finding that EPD was a Ponzi scheme was critical and necessary to its verdict, but that the finding that Kirkland was not an insider was not critical and necessary. The BC Trust asserted that all of the jury's explicit and implicit factual determinations remained binding. In support of this position, the BC Trust cited Teutscher v. Woodson, 835 F.3d 936, 944 (9th Cir. 2016), in which the court held that "in a case where legal claims are tried by a jury and equitable claims are tried by a judge ... the trial judge must follow the jury's implicit or explicit determinations in deciding the equitable claims."

With respect to the second issue, the Trustee argued that his claims for disallowance and equitable subordination against the BC Trust should be remanded to the Bankruptcy Court. The Trustee asserted that judicial economy and uniformity of bankruptcy administration would be served by remand. The Trustee emphasized that his claims against the BC Trust would be affected by findings made by the Bankruptcy Court in the Fee Memorandum. The BC Trust opposed remand. It argued that remand would be inefficient and would risk inconsistent findings. The BC Trust noted that the jury's verdict contradicted the preliminary findings made by the Bankruptcy Court in the Memorandum of Decision. (Many of the findings in the Memorandum of Decision were a restatement of findings previously made in the Fee Memorandum.)

On October 3, 2019, the District Court remanded the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust to the Bankruptcy Court, and dismissed Count 1 of the Fourth Amended Complaint as to Kirkland. District Court Doc. No. 189. The District Court stated that it saw no reason why the Bankruptcy Court could not rely upon the testimony provided during the jury trial in adjudicating the claims against the BC Trust. Id. The District Court has not yet entered any judgment in connection with the jury's verdict in favor of Kirkland.

C. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Removal Motion

1. Summary of the Removal Motion

Movants contend that the Trustee should be removed and replaced for cause pursuant to § 324, because he has an interest materially adverse to the interest of the estate. Movants make the following arguments and representations in support of the Removal Motion:

The Trustee and his professionals have demonstrated that they are acting for the benefit of the professionals, not for the benefit of the estate and its creditors. For the previous eight years, the Trustee and his professionals have pursued Movants on two claims that had no value to the estate. As to Kirkland, the Trustee sought to recover the $104,852.82 in Mortgage Transfers. In 2013, Kirkland made an offer under Civil Rule 68 to settle the claims for $110,000, plus fees and costs. The Trustee refused this offer.

The jury's verdict in Kirkland's favor was a devastating blow to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. The claims against the BC Trust are based entirely on Kirkland's alleged wrongful conduct. Because the jury found that Kirkland is not an insider and that he received the Mortgage Transfers in good faith, the Trustee cannot prevail upon his claims against the BC Trust.

The Trustee and his professionals have recovered approximately $8.8 million in assets but have incurred more than $6.1 million in professional fees. The Trustee's professionals will be required to disgorge millions of dollars in professional fees if the Trustee does not succeed in disallowing the BC Trust's claim. This creates an inherent and irreconcilable conflict of interest, which mandates the removal of the Trustee and his professionals. As a fiduciary to the estate, the Trustee "must represent all creditors without partiality." Dye v. Brown (In re AFI Holding, Inc.), 530 F.3d 832, 844 (9th Cir. 2008). Since the Trustee's professionals will be required to disgorge substantial fees unless they defeat the BC Trust's claim, they cannot satisfy this standard of impartiality.

Had the Trustee not allowed professional fees to go unchecked in his litigation against Movants, there would have been sufficient proceeds to pay the BC Trust's claim. Now, the estate is administratively insolvent and the Trustee and his professionals are litigating not for the benefit of the estate, but in an effort to mitigate against the risk of disgorgement.

2. Summary of the Trustee's Opposition to the Removal Motion

The Trustee makes the following arguments and representations in opposition to the Removal Motion:

"Removal of a trustee is an extreme remedy." In re JMW Auto Sales, 494 B.R. 877, 889 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2013). A trustee's actions in administering the estate "are protected by a business judgment standard.... Accordingly, 'a trustee will not be removed for mistakes in judgment where the judgment is discretionary and reasonable under the circumstances.'" In re Tres-Ark, Inc., 483 B.R. 460, 466 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 2012).

The Trustee's decision to pursue litigation against Movants was within his business judgment. The BC Trust asserted a secured claim in the sum of $3,529,000 plus interest, as well as several duplicate claims. It was reasonable for the Trustee to attack the validity of the BC Trust's claims.

Kirkland's Rule 68 offer did not include the claims asserted by the BC Trust. The Trustee is not at liberty to discuss his business judgment regarding his non-acceptance of the offer, since it would require him to divulge settlement communications in violation of Evidence Rule 608. However, even if the Trustee had accepted the offer, it still would have been necessary for the Trustee to deal with the BC Trust's claims.

Contrary to Movants' allegations, the jury's verdict in favor of Kirkland did not deal a devastating blow to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. The jury's verdict had no effect on the Trustee's disallowance claim against the BC Trust.

Movants fail to mention that had they not opposed the Abandonment Motion brought by the Trustee, the Trustee would not have been required to proceed with the expensive jury trial in the District Court. They also neglect to mention that the litigation would have been greatly simplified had Movants not opposed the Trustee's motion before the District Court for entry of final judgment under Civil Rule 54(b) with respect to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust.

3. Summary of Movants' Reply in Support of the Removal Motion

Movants make the following arguments and representations in their reply in support of the Removal Motion:

This case has been so mismanaged that it is administratively insolvent by at least seven figures. The general unsecured creditors could have, and should have, received millions of dollars in distributions many years ago. Instead, the Trustee spent a decade burning up all the cash for himself and his cohorts, leaving nothing for creditors. The Trustee has violated his duty to marshal the assets of the estate "so that those assets can be distributed to the estate's creditors." In re KVN Corp., Inc., 514 B.R. 1, 5 (9th Cir. BAP 2014).

The Trustee's attempt to hide behind the business judgment rule fails, because his actions were unreasonable, negligent, and not taken in good faith. There is no dispute that Rund rejected Kirkland's 2013 Rule 68 offer for more than 100% of the complaint's prayer and, more than five years later, improperly tried to abandon the claim against Kirkland rather than request dismissal under Civil Rule 41. The only reason that Rund did not seek dismissal is because it would have resulted in Kirkland being the prevailing party.

Because the estate is administratively insolvent, the Trustee is no longer acting as a fiduciary for creditors. Instead, the Trustee is now solely working for himself and his professionals. If the Trustee does not win against the BC Trust, his professionals risk disgorgement. The Trustee is no longer acting as a "trustee" in any meaningful sense of the word, and therefore he must be removed.

D. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Motion to Dismiss

1. Summary of the Motion to Dismiss

The BC Trust moves to dismiss the adversary proceeding pursuant to Civil Rule 41 for failure to prosecute. The BC Trust makes the following arguments and representations in support of the Motion to Dismiss:

After the jury trial against Kirkland, the District Court remanded the claims against the BC Trust to the Bankruptcy Court at the Trustee's request and over the BC Trust's opposition. The Trustee has not taken any action to move this case forward. The Trustee failed to act because he and his professional have an interest adverse to the estate. As discussed in the Removal Motion, unless the Trustee succeeds in invalidating the BC Trust's claims, the Trustee's professionals will be required to disgorge millions of dollars in professional fees. Yet the jury's findings in Kirkland's favor are devastating to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust.

The delay has prejudiced the BC Trust in two ways. First, witnesses' memories have further degraded. One of the Trustee's key witnesses is Lisa Underkoffler, a secretary at Luce Forward, Kirkland's former law firm. When deposed on May 25, 2017, Underkoffler testified more than ninety times that she could not recall. The additional delay will have only further impaired Underkoffler's memory. Second, the BC Trust will be required to bear the costs of preparing for trial a second time. These costs could have been avoided if the matter had been concluded promptly after the jury trial.

2. Summary of the Trustee's Opposition to the Motion to Dismiss

The Trustee makes the following arguments and representations in opposition to the Motion to Dismiss:

Contrary to the BC Trust's contention, the Trustee has not failed to prosecute this action. The Trustee has complied with all orders on the scheduling of this adversary proceeding. The Court, and not the Trustee, determines whether trial is necessary as to the claims against the BC Trust, and whether the preliminary findings set forth in the Memorandum of Decision should become the judgment of the Court. Further, the BC Trust makes no mention of the COVID-19 pandemic, which has restricted physical access to the courthouse and therefore made it more difficult for a trial to go forward.

The BC Trust asserts that it is prejudiced by having to incur fees to prepare for trial a second time. Yet if Kirkland and the BC Trust had not opposed the Abandonment Motion, Kirkland would not have incurred attorneys' fees for the jury trial. When Kirkland raised the issue of the Trustee causing the estate to unnecessarily incur fees and costs by litigating the claims against him, the District Court told Kirkland's counsel that the Trustee tried to abandon the claims against Kirkland prior to the jury trial, and said that because Kirkland and the BC Trust had opposed abandonment, Kirkland was "pointing the arrows in the wrong place." Adv. Doc. No. 46, Ex. A, at 16.

3. Summary of BC Trust's Reply in Support of the Motion to Dismiss

The BC Trust makes the following arguments and representations in support of the Motion to Dismiss:

The Trustee has failed to offer any reasonable excuse for his failure to take any action to prosecute this matter to final judgment for the last year. The Trustee places the responsibility for the delay on the Court, arguing that "following the return of the claims against the BC Trust to this Court, it is for the Court, and not the Trustee, to determine the timing of entering a judgment as to the claims against the BC Trust or setting a schedule if any issues are to be tried by the Court ...." Adv. Doc. No. 404 at 13. This excuse fails as a matter of law. "It is a well-established rule that the duty to move a case is on the plaintiff and not on the defendant or the court." Tenorio v. Osinga (In re Osinga), 91 B.R. 893, 896 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988). The Trustee's argument is inconsistent with the framework of the adversary system, which "relies chiefly on the parties to raise significant issues and present them to the courts in the appropriate manner at the appropriate time for adjudication." Sanchez-Llamas v. Oregon, 548 U.S. 331, 356, 126 S. Ct. 2669, 2685, 165 L. Ed. 2d 557 (2006).

E. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the RAH Fee Application

Robert A. Hessling, APC ("RAH"), the Trustee's general counsel, applies for the allowance of fees in the amount of $290,337.00 and costs in the amount of $2,198.13, on an interim basis. RAH seeks payment of 60% of the allowed fees (i.e., $174,202.20) and 100% of the allowed costs, with the remaining 40% of allowed fees (i.e., $116,134.80) to be paid only upon further order of the Court.

funds in the estate are subject to the BC Trust's security interest and therefore constitute the BC Trust's cash collateral, and that such funds may not be used to pay professional fees because the Trustee has not provided adequate protection.

RAH disputes the contention that funds in the estate constitute the BC Trust's cash collateral. RAH points to the Fee Memorandum, in which the Court held that even if the BC Trust held a security interest, it could at most attach to only $104,558.83 of the estate's funds. Since cash on hand in the estate amounted to $2,715,318.80 as of May 21, 2020, RAH asserts that there are sufficient unencumbered funds available to pay the fees and costs it requests.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Motion to Dismiss for Failure to Prosecute is Denied

At the outset, the Court notes that many of the arguments advanced by both the Trustee and the BC Trust are directed toward the merits of the case, and are not relevant to the sole issue presented by the motion—whether dismissal for failure to prosecute is warranted under Civil Rule 41. Irrelevant arguments include without limitation (1) the Trustee's assertions regarding the extent to which the jury's findings remain binding upon this Court and (2) the BC Trust's contention that the jury's findings as to Kirkland are fatal to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. The parties will have the opportunity to present arguments on the merits at the appropriate time. Such arguments will not be considered in the context of this motion.

The Trustee has submitted evidentiary objections to the Declaration of Stephen E. Hyam [Adv. Doc. No. 399-2] (the "Hyam Decl.") offered in support of the Motion to Dismiss. The portions of the Hyam Decl. to which the Trustee objects are not relevant to the issue of whether the Trustee has failed to diligently prosecute this action. It is not necessary for the Court to rule upon the evidentiary objections since the Court has not considered the testimony to which the Trustee objects. See Operating Engineers' Pension Trust Fund v. Clark's Welding & Mach., 688 F. Supp. 2d 902, 907 (N.D. Cal. 2010) ("Because the Court does not rely on the statements in this declaration, it is not necessary for the Court to rule on these objections.").

Civil Rule 41(b), made applicable to these proceedings by Bankruptcy Rule 7041, provides in relevant part: "If the plaintiff fails to prosecute or to comply with these rules or a court order, a defendant may move to dismiss the action or any claim against it. Unless the dismissal order states otherwise, a dismissal under this subdivision (b) ... operates as an adjudication on the merits."

The Court weighs five factors in determining whether to dismiss a case for lack of prosecution:

- 1) the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation;
- 2) the court's need to manage its docket;
- 3) the risk of prejudice to the defendants;
- 4) the public policy favoring the disposition of cases on their merits; and
- 5) the availability of less drastic sanctions.

Moneymaker v. CoBEN (In re Eisen), 31 F.3d 1447, 1451 (9th Cir. 1994).

There are three sub-parts to the fifth factor, the availability of less drastic sanctions: "whether the court has considered lesser sanctions, whether it tried them, and whether it warned the recalcitrant party about the possibility of case-dispositive sanctions." Connecticut Gen. Life Ins. Co. v. New Images of Beverly Hills, 482 F.3d 1091, 1096 (9th Cir. 2007). The application of these factors is not mechanical; instead, the factors provide the Court "with a way to think about what to do, not a set of conditions precedent for sanctions or a script that the [Court] must follow." Id.

"Dismissal is a harsh penalty and is to be imposed only in extreme circumstances." Henderson v. Duncan, 779 F.2d 1421, 1423 (9th Cir. 1986). As set forth below, all five factors weigh against dismissal.

I. Public's Interest in Expeditious Resolution of Litigation

To dismiss a case for lack of prosecution, "the court must find unreasonable delay." Eisen, 41 F.3d at 1451. A reviewing court gives deference to the trial court to decide what is unreasonable because the trial court "is in the best position to determine what period of delay can be endured before its docket becomes unmanageable." Id. at 1451. In Eisen, a four-year delay was found to be unreasonable. Id. In Tenorio v. Osinga (In re Osinga), 91 B.R. 893 (BAP 9th Cir. 1988), a twenty-nine month delay was found to be unreasonable.

The premise of the Motion to Dismiss is that the Trustee was required to take action after the District Court remanded his claims against the BC Trust to this Court. It is not necessary for the Court to determine whether this premise is correct, because even if it was the Trustee's responsibility to take some type of action, there has not been unreasonable delay. Approximately nine months elapsed between the time of the remand and the filing of the Motion to Dismiss. This time period must be considered within the context of the complexity of this litigation. Even if the Trustee had taken action immediately upon remand, it would have taken time for the Court to review the 1203-page transcript of the jury trial, the four published opinions of the District Court affecting this action [Note 4], and multiple unpublished Memoranda of Decision issued by the District Court (including rulings on six motions in limine, a ruling denying the Trustee's motion for entry of final judgment pursuant to Civil Rule 54(b), and a ruling granting the Trustee's motion to bifurcate the trial). Contrary to the BC Trust's contention, it would not have been feasible for the Court to conduct a trial or take other action with respect to the remaining claims shortly after remand.

The Court must also emphasize that the protracted nature of this litigation has resulted in part from actions taken by the BC Trust—such as the BC Trust's decision to appeal, along with Kirkland, the denial of the Arbitration Motion to the District Court and then to the Ninth Circuit. It was of course the BC Trust's right to prosecute those appeals. But the BC Trust's complaints of prejudice from a nine-month delay ring somewhat hollow when considering that its appeals of the Arbitration Motion delayed this proceeding by approximately 2.5 years.

Some observations regarding the likely future course of this litigation are also in order. As the District Court observed after the jury trial had been completed:

Well, and there's going to be more [appeals in this proceeding] because whatever I do is going to go straight to the Ninth and whatever the bankruptcy judge does is going to come down here.

And certainly as it relates to this, it should be low-numbered to me and then I'm either going to affirm it or reverse it and then whatever I do it's going to go back up to the Ninth.

Adv. Doc. No. 399-4 at 458.

Against this backdrop, the BC Trust's complaints regarding the length of time this action has been pending and its appeal to the Court to "finally bring this matter to an end," Doc. No. 402 at 5, lack persuasive force.

This factor weighs against dismissal.

2. The Court's Need to Manage its Docket

"This factor is usually reviewed in conjunction with the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation to determine if there is unreasonable delay." Eisen, 31 F.3d at 1452. Findings regarding this factor are also entitled to deference upon review because trial-level "judges are best situated to decide when delay in a particular case interferes with docket management and the public interest." Yourish v. California Amplifier, 191 F.3d 983, 990 (9th Cir. 1999).

As discussed above, there has not been unreasonable delay. In addition, the continued litigation of this matter will not interfere with the Court's ability to manage its docket. This factor weighs against dismissal.

3. The Risk of Prejudice to the Defendants

“[T]he failure to prosecute diligently is sufficient by itself to justify a dismissal, even in the absence of a showing of actual prejudice to the defendant from the failure.... The law presumes injury from unreasonable delay.” Eisen, 31 F.3d at 1452. If the Plaintiff offers “an excuse for his delay that is anything but frivolous, the burden of production shifts to the defendant to show at least some actual prejudice.” Id. at 1453. “Prejudice itself usually takes two forms—loss of evidence and loss of memory by a witness.” Nealey v. Transportacion Maritima Mexicana, S. A., 662 F.2d 1275, 1281 (9th Cir. 1980).

As set forth in the discussion of Factor 1, the Trustee has not engaged in unreasonable delay and therefore has not failed to prosecute this matter diligently. Accordingly, this factor does not apply.

Even assuming arguendo that this factor did apply, the BC Trust has failed to demonstrate that it has been prejudiced. The BC Trust contends that it is prejudiced by the alleged loss of memory of Lisa Underkoffler. This argument ignores the fact that at the time Underkoffler was deposed in 2017, it had already been approximately seven years since the events to which her testimony pertained had occurred. The BC Trust has failed to show that an additional nine months of delay will further impair Underkoffler’s memory to any meaningful extent.

This factor weighs against dismissal.

This factor weighs against dismissal.

5. The Availability of Less Drastic Sanctions

Once again, because the Trustee has not engaged in unreasonable delay, this factor does not apply. Even assuming arguendo that the factor did apply, the Court would not be in a position to dismiss the case. The Court has not warned the Trustee that the case was in danger of dismissal for failure to prosecute. To the contrary, during the eight years in which this litigation has been pending, it is not been necessary for the Court to issue warnings to the Trustee with respect to the possible imposition of any type of sanction.

B. The Removal Motion is Denied

Section 324(a) provides that the Court "may remove a trustee ... for cause." Cause for removal includes "trustee incompetence, violation of the trustee's fiduciary duties, misconduct or failure to perform the trustee's duties, or lack of disinterestedness or holding an interest adverse to the estate." Dye v. Brown (In re AFI Holding, Inc.), 530 F.3d 832, 845 (9th Cir. 2008). An "adverse interest" is "the (1) possession or assertion of an economic interest that would tend to lessen the value of the bankruptcy estate; or (2) possession or assertion of an economic interest that would create either an actual or potential dispute in which the estate is a rival claimant; or (3) possession of a predisposition under circumstances that create a bias against the estate." Id.

In AFI Holding, the court found that the Trustee was not disinterested because she had social and professional connections with individuals who were insiders of the debtor and who held adverse interests to the debtor. Id. at 849. The court concluded that these associations could have conceivably influenced the Trustee's decision not to pursue litigation against the insiders, which in turn created suspicion and discord between the trustee and the estate's creditors which was detrimental to the administration of the estate. Id. at 850.

The BC Trust argues that the Trustee holds an adverse interest to the estate because the Trustee's professionals will be required to disgorge professional fees if the Trustee does not succeed in disallowing the BC Trust's proof of claim. Were the Court to adopt this argument, it would severely circumscribe the ability of Chapter 7 Trustees to prosecute litigation with the potential to enhance the recovery to unsecured creditors. It is frequently the case that if a Trustee does not prevail in litigation undertaken for the estate's benefit—whether that be litigation to disallow a security interest, as is the case here, or litigation to augment the estate, such as an avoidance or preference action—it may be necessary for the Trustee's professionals to either disgorge fees that have already been awarded, or to forfeit unawarded fees to which they would have otherwise been entitled had the litigation proved successful.

The facts of this case bear no resemblance to the situation in AFI Holding, in which the court found that the Trustee had an interest adverse to the estate. In AFI Holding, creditors became suspicious of the Trustee's impartiality after she declined to pursue litigation against individuals with whom she had social and professional connections. Here, the BC Trust's complaint is essentially that the Trustee has exercised poor judgment by expending too many of the estate's resources in attempting to disallow or equitably subordinate the BC Trust's security interest. In contrast to AFI Holding, the BC Trust has not alleged that the Trustee has any prior connection with the debtor or other interested parties that would cast doubt on the Trustee's ability to impartially administer the estate. Instead, the BC Trust's argument is that the Trustee should have simply allowed the BC Trust's proof of claim, or negotiated a slight discount to the amount claimed. The BC Trust is understandably resistant to the Trustee's attempts to disallow its proof of claim. However, the Trustee's litigation against the BC Trust does not demonstrate that he has an adverse interest to the estate.

The BC Trust also asserts that the Trustee's decision to aggressively litigate to disallow its proof of claim was so reckless and negligent that the Trustee should be removed for cause. There are two problems with this argument. First, the BC Trust assumes that the verdict in favor of Kirkland is fatal to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. But the effect of the jury's verdict upon the claims against the BC Trust has not yet been determined.

Second, even assuming arguendo that the BC Trust ultimately prevails with respect to the allowability of its proof of claim, that does not mean that the Trustee's decision to pursue the litigation was reckless or negligent. No Trustee can predict the outcome of the litigation in advance. Using hindsight to assess the reasonableness of a Trustee's actions in administering the estate holds the Trustee to an impossible standard. The Trustee had an objectively reasonable basis for pursuing his claims against the BC Trust. That is demonstrated by certain findings by the jury that were favorable to the Trustee, such as the determination that EPD was a Ponzi scheme. If the BC Trust defeats the Trustee's claims by prevailing upon its good-faith defenses, that does not mean that the Trustee's decision to commence the litigation was not a sound exercise of his business judgment.

C. The RAH Fee Application is Granted in Part and Denied in Part

In the Fee Memorandum, the Court found that any security interest held by the BC Trust could, at most, attach to only $104,558.83 of the funds held by the estate. Based upon that finding, the Court concluded that there were sufficient unencumbered funds in the estate to pay professional fees. The BC Trust timely appealed the Fee Memorandum, but subsequently dismissed that interlocutory appeal pursuant to a stipulation preserving the BC Trust's right to seek review of any final order on the allowance and payment of the fees of the estate's professionals. Bankr. Doc. Nos. 1238 and 1254.

The Trustee has previously argued to the District Court that the findings in the Fee Memorandum regarding the scope of the BC Trust's security interest are the law of the case and do not remain to be litigated. The BC Trust has opposed these arguments. In connection with the RAH Fee Application, RAH asserts that the Fee Memorandum's findings remain valid, whereas the BC Trust contends that the jury's verdict in favor of Kirkland has undermined the validity of those findings.

The RAH Fee Application requires the Court to determine whether the estate has sufficient unencumbered cash on hand to pay the fees requested by RAH. As a result, the Court must determine whether the Fee Memorandum's findings regarding the scope of the BC Trust's security interest remain valid. This issue has been fully briefed.

"Under the 'law of the case' doctrine, a court is ordinarily precluded from reexamining an issue previously decided by the same court, or a higher court, in the same case." Old Person v. Brown, 312 F.3d 1036, 1039 (9th Cir. 2002).

"The law of the case is a discretionary doctrine, which is founded upon the sound public policy that litigation must come to an end" and "also serves to maintain consistency." Jeffries v. Wood, 114 F.3d 1484, 1489 (9th Cir.1997) (en banc) (citations and quotation marks omitted) (rev'd on other grounds). The doctrine does not apply if one or more of the following circumstances applies:

- (1) the first decision was clearly erroneous;
- (2) an intervening change in the law has occurred;
- (3) the evidence on remand is substantially different;
- (4) other changed circumstances exist;
- (5) a manifest injustice would otherwise result.

Thomas v. Bible, 983 F.2d 152, 155 (9th Cir. 1993).

Here, changed circumstances, substantial differences in evidence, and the fact that a manifest injustice would otherwise result make application of the law of the case doctrine inappropriate with respect to the Fee Memorandum's findings regarding the scope of the BC Trust's security interest. After the reference was withdrawn, the District Court granted the Trustee's motion to bifurcate the trial of the claims against Kirkland and the claims against the BC Trust. District Court Doc. No. 75 (the "Bifurcation Motion"). The District Court stated:

[T]he Court's discretion in ruling on a motion for bifurcation must be exercised so as to "always preserv[e] inviolate the right of trial by jury as declared by the Seventh Amendment to the constitution or as given by a statute of the United States." *Danjaq LLC v. (9th Cir. 2001). "[W]here there are issues common to both the equitable and legal claims, the legal claims involved in the action must be determined prior to any final court determination of [the] equitable claims." Id. at 962 (alteration in original) (internal quotation marks omitted) (quoting Dollar Sys., Inc. v. Avcar Leasing Sys., Inc., 890 F.2d 165, 170 (9th Cir. 1989)).

District Court Doc. No. 117 at 3–4.

In support of the Bifurcation Motion, the Trustee argued that "the law of the case doctrine bars the BC Trust from relitigating the issues as to what estate funds the BC Trust's purported secured claims could possibly attach." District Court Doc. No. 75 at 15 and 18–19. In ruling upon the Bifurcation Motion, the District Court went out of its way to reject the Trustee's argument. The District Court stated that "relying on such rulings [regarding the scope of the BC Trust's security interest] as to the fraudulent transfer claims against John Kirkland could infringe on Kirkland's Seventh Amendment right to have his claims decided by a jury." District Court Doc. No. 117 at 2 n.3.

Application of the law of the case doctrine to the Fee Memorandum's finding regarding the scope of the BC Trust's security interest would contravene the District Court's rulings. The District Court made clear that to preserve Kirkland's Seventh Amendment rights, it was critical that a trial of the claims against Kirkland take place prior to a trial of the claims against the BC Trust. Barring relitigation of the Fee Memorandum's findings, made prior to Kirkland's jury trial, would make a nullity of the District Court's rulings. Application of the law of the case doctrine would work a manifest injustice, and would be inappropriate in view of the changed circumstances resulting from the District Court's rulings.

In addition, substantial additional evidence has been introduced through the jury trial. Much of that evidence is not relevant to the scope of the BC Trust's security interest, but some of it is. Relevant evidence includes, without limitation, Kirkland's testimony regarding (1) his execution of the secured promissory note (the "Note") that was later assigned to the BC Trust, Tr. at 361:20–368:5; (2) his decision to lend money to EPD in September 2007, id. at 371:10–372:6; (3) his payments to EPD of approximately $2,055,000, id. at 373:20–377:9; (4) the circumstances surrounding the formation of the BC Trust, id. at 397:6–398:24; (5) his decision to assign his interest in the Note to the BC Trust, id. at 398:25–400:3; and (6) the circumstances surrounding the recordation of the UCC-1 intended to perfect the Note, id. at 401:24–404:17. This substantial new evidence, which was not before the Court at the time the Fee Memorandum was issued, is an additional reason why application of the law of the case doctrine is unwarranted. See Old Pers. v. Brown, 312 F.3d 1036, 1039 (9th Cir. 2002) (holding that the law of the case doctrine does not apply where "substantially different evidence was adduced at a subsequent trial").

Finally, an interim fee award in a bankruptcy case—such as the Fee Memorandum—is peculiarly ill-suited to being insulated from reconsideration under the law of the case doctrine.

The Interim Fee Order, which incorporated the findings set forth in the Fee Memorandum, was not final. "Because interim awards are interlocutory and often require future adjustments, they are always subject to the court's reexamination and adjustment during the course of the case." Leichty v. Neary (In re Strand), 375 F.3d 854, 858 (9th Cir. 2004) (internal citation and quotation marks omitted). All interim awards are "tentative" and therefore "reviewable" and "revisable." Id. Given the "inherent nature of [the] tentative financial relief" provided in an interim fee award, it is not even necessary for the Court to find any misconduct on the part of the fee applicant to justify modification of the award. Id.

The Court's findings in the Fee Memorandum regarding the scope of the BC Trust's security interest were also reiterated in the Memorandum of Decision. The Memorandum of Decision expressly provided that the findings contained therein would not become the order of the Court until after the District Court ruled upon the Report and Recommendation. Adoption of the Memorandum of Decision was contingent upon the District Court's affirmance of the Report and Recommendation because of the substantial overlap between the Memorandum of Decision and Report and Recommendation. Because the District Court rejected the Reporting and Recommendation, the findings set forth in the Memorandum of Decision never became the order of the Court.

The District Court has recognized the lack of finality of the Memorandum of Decision: "The [Memorandum of Decision] itself provides that it would become an order of the court if and only if the district court adopted the [Report and Recommendation], which did not occur." Rund v. Kirkland (In re EPD Investment Co., LLC), 597 B.R. 899, 901 (C.D. Cal. 2018). In addition, as discussed, the posture of this action has substantially changed as a result of the jury's verdict in favor of Kirkland. For these reasons, the findings in the Memorandum of Decision will not become the order of the Court, and do not constitute the law of the case.

Since the Fee Memorandum's findings regarding the scope of the BC Trust's security interest are no longer valid, the extent to which cash on hand in the estate is encumbered by the BC Trust's security interest remains to be adjudicated. The issue then becomes whether the Court can authorize the payment of professional fees from estate funds that may or may not be subject to a security interest, prior to determining the validity or extent of that security interest.

Pursuant to § 363(p)(2), the BC Trust, as the "entity asserting an interest in property," has "the burden of proof on the issue of the validity, priority, or extent of such interest." The leading treatise states that "the less extensive nature of the contested matter form of litigation will permit some examination of lien validity but not extensive litigation," and that the "court must balance the needs of a debtor ... with the adequate protection of the non-consenting secured creditor." 3 Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 363.05 (Richard Levin & Henry J. Sommers eds., 16th ed. 2020).

At the District Court trial, the BC Trust presented substantial evidence and arguments as to the validity of its security interest. The BC Trust has reintroduced that evidence and reasserted its arguments in opposition to the RAH Fee Application. However, the Trustee has also presented substantial arguments and evidence in support of his position that the BC Trust's security interest is subject to disallowance or equitable subordination. Though it is a very close question, the Court finds, for purposes of the RAH Fee Application only, that the BC Trust has not carried its burden with respect to the validity of its security interest. Given that the evidence on both sides is roughly equal, this finding is dictated by the fact that the BC Trust has the burden of proof.

Section 330(a)(1) allows the Court to award "reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered" by a professional. In determining the amount of compensation to award, the Court considers the nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

- (A) the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;
- (C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;
- (D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;
- (E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field; and
- (F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary

"The statute does not require that the services result in a material benefit to the estate in order for the professional to be compensated; the applicant must demonstrate only that the services were 'reasonably likely' to benefit the estate at the time the services were rendered." Sheridan & Kotel, P.C. v. Bergen Brunswig Drug Co. (In re Mednet), 251 B.R. 103, 108 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000).

The BC Trust does not dispute the reasonableness of the fees and costs sought by RAH. Having reviewed the RAH Fee Application, the Court awards RAH fees in the amount of $290,337.00 and costs in the amount of $2,198.13, on an interim basis. With respect to § 330(a)(3)(F), the rates charged by RAH's attorneys are substantially lower than the rates charged by comparably skilled practitioners in this district. Robert A. Hessling, who has 40 years' bankruptcy experience, charges $395 per hour. Matthew F. Kennedy, who has 21 years' bankruptcy experience, charges $295 per hour. Hessling and Kennedy previously were employed at Danning, Gill, Diamond & Kollitz, LLP. At that firm, Hessling's hourly rate was $595 and Kennedy's hourly rate was $450.

With respect to § 330(a)(3)(A) and (C), the time spent on the services was reasonable and the services were necessary and beneficial at the time they were rendered.

RAH has requested payment of 60% of allowed fees and 100% of allowed costs. The Court will authorize payment of 100% of the allowed costs, but only 33% of the allowed fees. Even if the Trustee succeeds in disallowing or equitably subordinating the BC Trust's proofs of claim, the estate is administratively insolvent. To the extent that the BC Trust's claims are allowed, it is possible that professionals may be required to disgorge some of the fees previously awarded on an interim basis. Against this backdrop, it is not appropriate for the Court to authorize payment of more than 33% of the fees allowed. In sum, RAH is awarded the following fees and costs on an interim basis:

Fees: $290,337.00, but only $95,811.21 may be paid at this time
Costs: $2,198.13, all of which may be paid at this time

In the Motion to Dismiss, the BC Trust asserts that the jury's explicit and implicit factual determinations with respect to Kirkland are dispositive of the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. The Motion to Dismiss essentially asserts that no material facts remain in dispute as a result of the jury's findings as to Kirkland. The BC Trust shall file a motion for summary judgment (the "MSJ") by no later than August 26, 2020, and shall set the MSJ for hearing on an available subsequent date on the Court's calendar such that the Trustee is provided sufficient notice under the Local Bankruptcy Rules. If the MSJ does not dispose of the action, a Pretrial Conference is set for December 15, 2020, at 11:00 a.m.

The Trustee and the BC Trust have submitted briefing to the District Court and to this Court regarding the extent to which the jury's findings as to Kirkland remain binding with respect to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. As discussed in greater detail in Section I.B., above, the Trustee and the BC Trust have markedly different positions regarding the legal framework that should determine which jury findings have binding effect. The Trustee asserts that only jury findings that were "critical and necessary" to the verdict remain binding. The BC Trust maintains that all of the jury's explicit and implicit factual determinations remain binding.

It is not appropriate for the Court to determine at this time which jury findings are binding as to the claims against the BC Trust. However, a ruling regarding the legal framework used to determine which findings are binding will simplify adjudication of the MSJ. As noted, the issue of which legal framework applies is a matter of law that has been fully briefed before District Court and this Court.

The Court finds that all explicit and implicit findings made by the jury remain binding with respect to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. The Seventh Amendment provides that "no fact tried by a jury, shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States." The Ninth Circuit has held:

The Supreme Court has explained how to comport with the Seventh Amendment when trying legal and equitable claims in the same action. In Dairy Queen, Inc. v. Wood, 369 U.S. 469, 82 S.Ct. 894, 8 L.Ed.2d 44 (1962), the Court held that in cases in which legal and equitable claims turn on common issues of fact, "any legal issues for which a trial by jury is timely and properly demanded [must] be submitted to a jury," id. at 473, 82 S.Ct. 894 (citing Beacon Theatres, Inc. v. Westover, 359 U.S. 500, 510–11, 79 S.Ct. 948, 3 L.Ed.2d 988 (1959)), and the jury's determination of the legal claims must occur "prior to any final court determination of [the] equitable claims," id. at 479, 82 S.Ct. 894. Because the Seventh Amendment's second clause

"prohibit[s] ... the courts of the United States to re-examine any facts tried by a jury" except as permitted under the narrow "modes known to the common law," Parsons, 28 U.S. at 447–48, the court then must abide by the jury's findings of fact in making any subsequent rulings. See Floyd v. Laws, 929 F.2d 1390, 1397 (9th Cir. 1991) (holding that "it would be a violation of the seventh amendment right to jury trial for the court to disregard a jury's finding of fact").

It follows that "in a case where legal claims are tried by a jury and equitable claims are tried by a judge, and [those] claims are 'based on the same facts,'" the trial judge must "follow the jury's implicit or explicit factual determinations" "in deciding the equitable claims." L.A. Police Protective League v. Gates, 995 F.2d 1469, 1473 (9th Cir. 1993) (quoting Miller v. Fairchild Indus., 885 F.2d 498, 507 (9th Cir. 1989)). The trial court must do so in determining both liability and relief on the equitable claims.... These constraints are "consistent with ... the respect that properly is accorded to a jury verdict in our system of jurisprudence." Miller, 885 F.2d at 507.

Teutscher v. Woodson, 835 F.3d 936, 944 (9th Cir. 2016).

Rather than being limited to the face of the verdict, the jury's findings include "any factual findings that the [v]erdict's contents necessarily imply." United States v. J-M Mfg. Co., Inc., No. EDCV 06-55-GW(PJWX), 2018 WL 705532, at *5 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 31, 2018). To determine whether a finding is implicit in a verdict, courts review "the verdict, the instructions, and the trial record to interpret the scope of the jury's factual findings." Id. For example, in Los Angeles Police Protective League v. Gates, 995 F.2d 1469, 1473–74 (9th Cir. 1993), a jury found that a police officer had been wrongfully terminated for refusing to consent to an unlawful search and awarded damages. The trial court denied the officer's request for reinstatement, finding that the officer would have been terminated for other misconduct even if he had consented to the search. The Ninth Circuit acknowledged that "the jury made no express finding on whether [the officer] would have been fired in any event," but found it appropriate to "determine whether it can be inferred from the jury's verdict that it found that the improper insubordination charge was the cause of [the officer's] dismissal." Id. at 1473. After examining the relevant jury instructions, the Gates court found that in "light of the causation instruction and the manner in which the case was presented to the jury, it could not have awarded the level of damages it awarded without finding that Gibson would not have been discharged except for his refusal to be illegally searched." Id. at 1474.

Chapter 7

The Court does not agree with the Trustee's contention that only jury findings that were "critical and necessary" to the verdict remain binding with respect to the claims against the BC Trust. The Trustee's framework does not sufficiently account for the intertwined nature of the Trustee's claims against Kirkland and the BC Trust. Among other things, the Trustee alleges that the BC Trust's claims should be equitably subordinated because the BC Trust stands in the shoes of Kirkland as his assignee, and therefore Kirkland's alleged inequitable conduct should be imputed to the BC Trust. Because the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust expressly depend upon his allegations against Kirkland, the Trustee cannot pick and choose which findings made by the jury as to Kirkland remain binding with respect to his claims against the BC Trust. The Trustee's theory of the case means that the all explicit and implicit findings of the jury as to Kirkland are binding with respect to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. To hold otherwise would violate Teutscher's directive that "in a case where legal claims are tried by a jury and equitable claims are tried by a judge, and [those] claims are 'based on the same facts,'" the trial judge must 'follow the jury's implicit or explicit factual determinations' 'in deciding the equitable claims.'" Teutscher, 835 F.3d at 944.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The Motion to Dismiss is DENIED.
- 2) The Removal Motion is DENIED.
- 3) The RAH Fee Application is GRANTED IN PART AND DENIED IN PART. Specifically, RAH is allowed fees in the amount of $290,337.00, but only $95,811.21 may be paid at this time. RAH is allowed costs in the amount of $2,198.13, all of which may be paid at this time.
- 4) The BC Trust shall file a motion for summary judgment (the "MSJ") by no later than August 26, 2020, and shall set the MSJ for hearing on an available subsequent date on the Court's calendar such that the Trustee is provided sufficient notice under the Local Bankruptcy Rules. If the MSJ does not dispose of the action, a Pretrial Conference is set for December 15, 2020, at 11:00 a.m.

Within seven days of the hearing, RAH shall submit an order on the RAH Fee Application. The Court will prepare and enter orders on the Motion to Dismiss and Removal Motion, and will prepare and enter a scheduling order.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion in Individual Case for Order Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate [Doc. No. 10] (the "Motion")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On April 27, 2020, Vickie Burris (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary petition under chapter 7 [Case No. 2:20-bk-13961-ER] (the "Prior Case"). The Prior Case was dismissed on June 15, 2020 based on the Debtor's failure to timely submit mandatory case commencement documents.

On June 29, 2020, the Debtor filed this voluntary chapter 7 case. On Schedule D, the Debtor identifies secured creditors Kia Motors Finance Co. ("Kia Motors") and Mr. Cooper, which hold security interests in the Debtor's vehicle and residence, respectively. There are no other secured creditors. The Debtor now moves, on shortened basis, to continue the automatic stay as to all creditors [Note 1] pursuant to § 362(c)(3)(B) [Note 2]. The Debtor asserts that the dismissal of the Prior Case was not her fault, but that of her counsel, and that she filed this case in good faith. The Debtor notes that there is approximately $50,000 in equity in her residence, which would purportedly cover payments owed to Mr. Cooper for 22 months. Moreover, Kia Motors can file a stay relief motion to recover the Debtor's vehicle.

As of the date of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that the Debtor failed to provide telephonic notice of the instant hearing by the July 2, 2020 deadline, as instructed by the Court. Nevertheless, the Debtor took reasonable steps to deliver notice of the hearing as soon as her counsel became aware of the deadline. Based on counsel's declaration re telephonic notice [Doc. No. 21], all interested parties have been notified of the instant hearing and were provided with a reasonable opportunity to lodge an objection. Therefore, for the purposes of this tentative ruling, the Court will overlook issues regarding the untimeliness of the telephonic notice.

Section 362(c)(3)(A) provides that the automatic stay terminates by its own terms thirty days after a debtor's bankruptcy filing, when the debtor has filed a prior bankruptcy case that was dismissed within one year of the second bankruptcy filing. However, pursuant to § 362(c)(3)(B), the debtor or any other interested party may seek to continue the automatic stay beyond the thirty-day period. The movant must demonstrate that the case was filed "in good faith as to the creditors to be stayed." 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3)(B). Under certain circumstances, a presumption of bad faith arises that the movant may rebut only by presenting clear and convincing evidence of the debtor's good faith. See 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3)(C)(i) – (ii).

Based upon a review of the Motion, the order entered in the Prior Case, and the declarations of the Debtor and her counsel, the Court does not find that any of the factors triggering the presumption of bad faith exist. The Court further finds that Debtor has established by a preponderance of the evidence that this case was filed in good faith. The Debtor's states that the dismissal was the result of his failure to file all schedules and statements in a timely manner. Motion, Declaration of Michael E. Plotkin, ¶ 2. Counsel further asserts that continuing the automatic stay would protect the Debtor's residence, where her daughter, son, and grandson currently reside. Id. at ¶ 4.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: The Debtor checked the boxes on l.d. and l.e. requesting an order continuing the automatic stay as to both (i) Secured Creditors/Lessors and (ii) all creditors.

Note 2: The Debtor seeks an order both imposing the automatic stay as to all creditors under § 362(c)(4) and requesting the continuance of the stay under § 362(c)(3); however, since there has only been one bankruptcy filing within the one-year period prior to the petition date, the automatic stay is in effect for the first thirty-days of this bankruptcy case, through July 29, 2020. Therefore, the Debtor should only have checked the boxes requesting an order continuing the automatic stay beyond the thirty-day period pursuant to § 362(c)(3).
