Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant. See Doc. No. 1.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Debtors' (A) Notice of Motion and Motion to Approve Settlement Between Debtors and Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PGBC) and (B) Limited Response to Motion of PBGC for Allowance and Payment of Administrative Expense Claims [Doc. No. 5051] (the "Motion")
  - a) Declaration of Service by Kurtzman Carson Consultants, LLC Regarding [the Motion] [Doc. No. 5160]
- 2) Motion of Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation for Allowance and Payment of Administrative Expense Claims [Doc. No. 3287]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018, Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' case are being jointly administered. The Debtors seek approval of a settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") between the Debtors and Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (the "PBGC"), resolving administrative and general unsecured claims asserted by the PBGC. The Motion is filed with the support of the PBGC. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

A. Summary of the Motion

The Debtors make the following arguments and representations in support of the Motion:

The Verity Health System Retirement Plan A (“Plan A”) and the Verity Health System Retirement Plan B (“Plan B,” and together with Plan A, the “Verity A/B Plans”) were single-employer defined benefit pension plans covered by Title VI of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended, 29 U.S.C. §§ 1301–1462 (“ERISA”).

PBGC is a wholly-owned United States government corporation and an agency of the United States, that administers the defined benefit pension plan termination insurance program under title VI of ERISA. PBGC guarantees the payment of certain pension benefits upon the termination of pension plans covered by Title VI of ERISA. When an underfunded plan terminates, PBGC generally becomes the trustee of the plan and, subject to certain statutory limitations, pay the plan’s unfunded benefits with its insurance funds.

PBGC can initiate termination of a pension plan pursuant to ERISA § 4042 when certain statutory criteria are satisfied. Upon a PBGC-initiated termination, the contributing sponsor of the terminated pension plan and each member of the sponsors’ controlled group are jointly and severally liable to PBGC for (1) any unpaid minimum funding contributions owed to the pension plan (the “Minimum Contributions”), (2) the pension plan’s unfunded benefit liabilities (the “Unfunded Benefit Liabilities”), and (3) any unpaid statutory premiums (the “Premium Claims”).

On September 25, 2019, PBGC issued to the Plan Administrator a Notice of Determination that the Verity A/B Plans should be terminated and trusteed. PBGC subsequently terminated and trusteed the Verity A/B Plans, with an effective date of termination of April 30, 2019 (the “Termination Date”).

PBGC has filed six amended proofs of claim for liabilities arising in connection with the termination of the Verity A/B Plans (the “PBGC Claims”). PBGC asserts the following amounts and priority status for the PBGC claims:

Plan	Claim Type	PBGC Asserted Amount / Priority

B	Unfunded Benefit Liabilities	$2,700,000 (general unsecured claim)
B	Premiums	$3,762,250.66 (consisting of a § 507(a)(2) or, alternatively, § 507(a)(8) claim of $68,500.66 and a general unsecured claim of $3,693,750)
TOTAL		$373,177,122 (consisting of a § 507(a)(2) claim of $7,979,096.66, which includes $2,938,762.66 asserted under an alternative theory of § 507(a)(8); a §507(a)(5) claim of $1,139,242, and a general unsecured claim of $364,058,783)

The material terms of the Settlement Agreement are as follows:

- 1) PBGC is granted a single, allowed administrative expense claim under § 507(a)(2) in the amount of $3,000,000, which will be treated in accordance with the terms of the Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation of the Debtors, the Prepetition Secured Lenders, and the Committee [Doc. No. 4879] (the "Plan").
- 2) PBGC is granted a single, allowed general unsecured claim in the amount of $450,000,000, which will be classified and entitled to pro rata treatment with other general unsecured claims in accordance with the terms of the Plan.
- 3) Any and all general unsecured or administrative expense claims that may be held by PBGC against the Debtors are released and discharged.
- 4) PBGC agrees to support any Plan and Confirmation Order filed or sought by the Debtors that does not contradict the material provisions of the Settlement Agreement.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair, and reasonable, and is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Probability of Success on the Merits and Complexity of the Litigation

These factors weigh in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. It is by no means clear that the estates could obtain a result more favorable than the settlement through litigation. First, litigation would involve several uncertainties, including reconciliation of the Unfunded Benefit Liabilities Claims, the Minimum Contribution Claims, and the Premium Claims. If the Debtors prevailed with respect to one category of claims, they would not necessarily prevail as to another. Second, there is an unresolved split of authority as to certain of the legal positions asserted by the parties.

Uncertainty is increased as a result of the complexity of the litigation. The parties' actuarial, factual, and legal arguments intersect, and the PBGC Claims are complex and fact-intensive. Failure to approve the settlement would also introduce additional complexity and uncertainty into the Debtors' attempts to confirm a Plan, since the PBGC holds a large claim. Avoiding litigation with respect to plan confirmation is in the interests of the estates.

Paramount Interests of Creditors

This factor weighs strongly in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The Committee does not object to the Settlement Agreement, and no creditors have objected to the Settlement Agreement.

Difficulties to be Encountered in the Matter of Collection

Chapter 11

This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The complex nature of the parties' claims, rights, and theories makes an appeal likely were the matter to be litigated. This would further delay resolution of the PBGC's claims.

Based upon the foregoing, the Settlement Agreement is APPROVED and the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Debtors shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

  - a) Declaration of Service by Kurtzman Carson Consultants, LLC Regarding Docket Numbers 5052 and 5056 [Doc. No. 5157]
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

Individual Debtors are parties to multiple real-property, non-residential leases necessary for the operation of the Debtors' business, including office and operational space (the "Leases"). On February 19, 2019, the Court granted the Debtors' initial motion for a 90-day extension of the deadline to assume or reject these unexpired leases (such deadline, the "Assumption/Rejection Deadline"). See Doc. No. 1157. The Court subsequently authorized further extensions of the Assumption/Rejection Deadline. See Doc. Nos. 1955, 2637, 3173, 3851, and 4339. The current Assumption/Rejection Deadline is June 21, 2020.

Debtors now move for an extension of the Assumption/Rejection Deadline from June 21, 2020, to and including September 19, 2020. Debtors state that the extension is necessary because they are still liquidating their remaining assets and have not yet made a final determination regarding the assumption or rejection of specific leases.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(d)(4) provides:

(A) Subject to subparagraph (B), an unexpired lease of nonresidential real property under which the debtor is the lessee shall be deemed rejected, and the trustee shall immediately surrender that nonresidential real property to the lessor, if the trustee does not assume or reject the unexpired lease by the earlier of—

- (i) the date that is 120 days after the date of the order for relief; or
- (ii) the date of the entry of an order confirming a plan.

(i) The court may extend the period determined under subparagraph (A), prior to the expiration of the 120-day period, for 90 days on the motion of the trustee or lessor for cause.

(ii) If the court grants an extension under clause (i), the court may grant a subsequent extension only upon prior written consent of the lessor in each instance.

"[T]he legislative purpose behind §365(d)(4) was to protect lessors from extended periods where the premises remained vacant and no rental payments made." Willamette Water Front Ltd. v. Victoria Station, Inc. (In re Victoria Station Inc.), 88 B.R. 231, 237 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988), aff'd, 875 F.2d 1380 (9th Cir. 1989).

In its prior rulings extending the Assumption/Rejection deadline, the Court has deemed a Lessor's non-opposition to constitute "consent" for purposes of § 365(d)(4) (B)(ii). See, e.g., Doc. No. 3851. The Court finds it appropriate to continue to deem the Lessor's non-opposition to constitute consent. Because the Debtors remain current on lease payments, this approach does not prejudice the Lessors. In addition, absent extension of the deadline, the Debtors will lack the flexibility necessary to allow them to assume and assign certain leases to future purchasers of their remaining assets. This would harm the estates by reducing the purchase price realized in connection with the disposition of the Debtors' assets.

The Lessors have received notice of the Motion and have not objected to the relief requested. The Assumption/Rejection Deadline is extended to and including September 19, 2020.

The Debtors shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference within seven days of the hearing.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtors, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtors or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Since a chapter 7 case does not contemplate reorganization, the sole issue before the Court when stay relief is sought under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) is whether the Debtors have equity in the property. See, e.g., Martens v. Countrywide Home Loans (In re Martens), 331 B.R. 395, 398 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2005); Ramco Indus. v. Preuss (In re Preuss), 15 B.R. 896, 897 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1981).

deed of trust or mortgage in favor of the Movant. The liens against the property and the expected costs of sale total approximately $131,537.33. This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

On May 28, 2020, 21251 Terry, LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition. On or about November 28, 2020, the Debtor's principal, on behalf of the Debtor, and Civic Financial Services, LLC (the "Original Lender") executed a promissory note, pursuant to which Debtor agreed to pay the Original Lender the principal amount of $1,120,000 (the "Promissory Note"). See Declaration of Lindsey Dallmer [Doc. No. 6] ("Dallmer Decl."), ¶ 21. The Promissory Note was secured by a first-position deed of trust in favor of the Original Lender, encumbering residential real property located at 21251 East Terry Way, Covina, CA 91724 (the "Property"). On or about January 30, 2019, the Original Lender fully transferred its interest in the Property to Civic Holdings III Trust (the "Movant"). Dallmer Decl., ¶ 21; Ex. C. The Movant asserts that the Debtor defaulted on the Promissory Note on or about January 7, 2020, for which deficiencies have not been cured as of the filing of the Motion. See

Dallmer Decl., ¶¶ 26-7. A foreclosure sale of the Property had been originally set for May 11, 2020, approximately one week before the petition date.

The Court finds that there is good cause to grant relief under 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(2). The Property has a value of $1,200,000 (Motion, Ex. D) and is encumbered by a perfected deed of trust in favor of the Movant in the sum of $1,289,155.45 (Dallmer Decl., ¶ 31). Accordingly, the value of the equity cushion in the Property exceeding Movant's debt, and in consideration of expected sale costs, is ($173,155.45), which is -14.4% of the Property's fair market value. Therefore, the Movant's interest in the Property is not adequately protected and stay-relief under § 362(d)(1) is appropriate. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral). Further, the Property is encumbered by at least two additional liens disclosed in Debtor's schedules. See Motion, Ex. E. The liens against the Property, unpaid taxes, and the expected costs of sale total north of $2,113,000. Based on the foregoing, the Court further finds that the Property is hopelessly underwater, is not necessary for the Debtor's reorganization, and there is no evidence that the trustee can administer the Property for the benefit of creditors. Hence, stay-relief is also warranted pursuant to § 362(d)(2).

Additionally, the Movant asserts that the instant petition was filed in bad faith given the limited information supplied by the Debtor in its commencement documents, and because the Debtor commenced this case approximately a week before the scheduled foreclosure of the Property. The Court further notes that this case was dismissed on July 24, 2020, due to the Debtor's absence at the Section 341(a) Meeting of Creditors. Based on the present, uncontroverted record, the Court finds that this petition was filed in bad faith to delay and impair Movant's attempts to foreclose upon the Property. Therefore, the Motion is also granted under § 362(d)(1) for cause based on Debtor's bad faith filing.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property, or to enter into a potential forbearance or loan modification agreement in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The 14-day

Any Federal, State, or local governmental unit that accepts notices of interests or liens in real property shall accept a certified copy of this order for indexing and recording. For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Personal Property) [Doc. No. 11] (the "Motion")
2. Supplemental Declaration to Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay [Doc. No. 17] (the "Supplement")
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, Debtor has not filed an opposition

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor Melissa L. Loe (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 7 case on May 28, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). On June 10, 2020, Washington State Employees Credit Union (the "Movant") filed a "Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 (Personal Property)" [Doc. No. 11] (the "Motion") seeking relief from the automatic stay pursuant to § 362(d)(1) and (d)(2) with respect to funds totaling $250 (the "Pledged Funds"). The Movant asserts that the Pledged Funds were provided by the Debtor as security in connection with a credit application with the Movant. The Movant intends to apply the Pledged Funds against the Debtor's outstanding credit card balance of $246.79. In support of the Motion, the Movant attached a document captioned "Visa Master Loan Application" as Exhibit 1 (the "Application"), which is signed by the Debtor.

On July 6, 2020, the Court continued the instant hearing to permit Movant to file supplemental evidence in support of the Motion. On July 27, 2020, the Movant submitted the Supplemental Declaration to Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay [Doc. No. 17] (the "Supplement"). Attached to the Supplement is the Consumer Account Agreement (Ex. 2) (the "Account Agreement"), which the Movant asserts is referenced in page 4 of the Application. Based on the Account Agreement, the Movant claims to possess a perfected security interest in the Pledged Funds to the extent of the Debtor's outstanding credit card balance:

"Credit Union Lien and Security Interest. To the extent you owe the Credit Union money as a borrower, guarantor, endorser or otherwise, the Credit Union has a lien on any or all of the fund in any account in which you have an ownership interest at the Credit Union. The Credit Union may apply these funds in any order to pay off your indebtedness ... In addition, you grant the Credit Union a consensual security interest in you accounts and agree the Credit Union may use the funds from your accounts to pay any debt or amount owed the Credit Union. except obligations secured by your dwelling, unless prohibited by applicable law ... "

See Supplement, Ex. 2, ¶ 20, pp. 4-5.

As of the date of the preparation of this tentative ruling, the Debtor has not filed an opposition.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1), the Court shall grant relief if the movant's interest in the property is not protected by an adequate equity cushion.

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the Pledged Funds, to the extent of the Debtor's outstanding debt, in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Movant has established a prima facie case that cause exists, and Debtor has not responded with evidence establishing that Movant is adequately protected, or otherwise objecting to the stay-relief requested.

The Court finds that the Movant has a valid security interest in the Pledged Funds, to the extent of Debtor's debt to the Movant. Based on the Motion and supporting evidence, the Debtor currently owes $246.79 to the Movant. Motion at 8. Considering Movant's security interest in the Pledged Funds, there is some, but very little equity and there is no evidence that the funds are necessary to a reorganization or that the trustee can administer that asset for the benefit of creditors. Movant is protected by less than a 1% equity cushion in the funds. The Ninth Circuit has established that an equity cushion of 20% constitutes adequate protection for a secured creditor. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral). Because the equity cushion in this case is less than 20%, the Court concludes this is cause to terminate the stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d) (1).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Alleged Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995). "

The Court finds that there is good cause to grant relief pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 362(d)(1) and (d)(4) based on the following facts. George Vincent, Thomas McKillen, and Stephanie Younger (jointly, the "Petitioners") filed an involuntary chapter 7 petition against Hillcrest Holiday Holdings, LLC (the "Alleged Debtor") on June 23, 2020. On or about January 23, 2019, the Alleged Debtor and Ruby Reds Home Loans, a California corporation, (the "Original Lender") entered into a security agreement, encumbering real property located at 4924 Hillcrest Dr., Los Angeles, CA 90043 (the "Property"). See Motion, Ex. 1. On or about February 1, 2019, Devoir Oblige Capital Group, LLC (the "Movant") became the senior lienholder on the Property. See id., Ex. 2 (the security agreements affixed to the Motion indicate a chain of title from the Movant to the Original Lender). The Movant asserts that the Debtor defaulted on the underlying promissory note on or about October 2, 2019, for which deficiencies have not been cured as of the filing of the Motion. See Motion at 7-8. A foreclosure sale of the Property had been originally set for February 6, 2020 and then rescheduled for July 16, 2020.

The Movant requests stay-relief under § 363(d)(4) based on a series of unauthorized security agreements between the Alleged Debtor and multiple third parties, all of whom later filed for bankruptcy relief on an individual basis. On or about February 5, 2020, the Alleged Debtor purportedly executed a deed of trust on the Property in favor of Betty Castillo ("Castillo"), Santos Cortes ("Cortes"), and Crystal Pham ("Pham") for the sum of $40,000. See Motion, Ex. 4. Cortes, Castillo, and Pham each commenced voluntary chapter 13 cases, which were all subsequently dismissed given each petitioner's failure to comply with basic commencement requirements. See id., Ex. 7. On or about March 4, 2020, the Alleged Debtor purportedly executed a deed of trust in favor of Carlos Alexander Ruiz ("Ruiz"), Robert A. Amescua, and Young Shin Kim on the Property for $20,000. See id., Ex. 5. Each of these transferees later filed for bankruptcy and each case was summarily dismissed for similar reasons as prior transferees. See id., Ex. 7. Finally, the Alleged Debtor purportedly transferred a 10% interest in the Property to Gabriel Murillo ("Murillo") via an unauthorized grant deed. See Motion, Ex. 6. Murillo too commenced a chapter 13 case on June 18, 2020, which remains pending to this day. All the above-referenced bankruptcy proceedings implicated an interest in the Property. Moreover, with respect to the Ruiz and Castillo cases, the court granted stay relief to the Movant as to the Property based on a finding that the bankruptcies had been part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors. See id., Ex. 9.

Based on the present, uncontroverted, record, the Court finds that this petition is part of a scheme to delay, hinder, and defraud creditors, which involved the transfer of all or part ownership of, or other interest in, the Property without the consent of Movant or court approval and multiple bankruptcy cases affecting the Property. Moreover, based upon Movant's declaration and the absence of any opposition to the relief sought herein, the Motion is granted under § 362(d)(4). For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is also granted under § 362(d)(1) for cause.

Hence, the Motion is GRANTED to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies with respect to the Property in accordance with applicable law. The 14-day period specified in Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4001(a)(3) is

- 2) Debtors' Response to Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Filed on Behalf of Natalie Nguyen [Doc. No. 5154]
- 3) No reply is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered.

Natalie Nguyen ("Movant"), proceeding in pro se, seeks stay relief, pursuant to § 362(d)(1), for the purpose of litigating (1) an action seeking recovery of unpaid wages in the amount of $9,999, pending in the small claims court (the "Small Claims Action,” and the complaint commencing the Small Claims Action, the “Small Claims Complaint”) and (2) an action seeking recovery of unpaid wages in the amount of $26,000, pending in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the “Superior Court Action,” and the complaint commencing the Superior Court Action, the “Superior Court Complaint”).

Both actions were filed subsequent to the Petition Date. The Small Claims Complaint was filed on June 11, 2019; the Superior Court Complaint was filed on June 5, 2020. Movant asserts that the stay should be retroactively annulled because she was not aware of the bankruptcy petitions. Movant states that if she does not obtain stay relief prior to November 2020, both actions will be dismissed.

Debtors oppose the Motion. According to Debtors, Movant’s testimony that she was unaware of the bankruptcies when she filed the actions is false. Debtors point to a letter that was served on Movant subsequent to the filing of the Small Claims Action, which advised Movant of the automatic stay. Debtors argue that Movant should not be rewarded with stay relief on the basis of a false declaration. Debtors request that if the Court is inclined to grant the Motion, stay relief not take effect until after October 1, 2020, so that the Debtors can focus upon the sale of their remaining assets and confirmation of the Plan.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Both actions were filed in violation of the automatic stay. “[V]iolations of the automatic stay are void and of no effect.” Schwartz v. United States (In re Schwartz) In re Schwartz, 954 F.2d 569, 572 (9th Cir. 1992). Unless the Court retroactively annuls the stay, granting stay relief will not enable Movant to prosecute either action, since the complaints commencing each action were filed in violation of the stay, and are therefore void and of no effect.

"[T]he proper standard for determining ‘cause’ to annul the automatic stay retroactively is a ‘balancing of the equities’ test." Fjeldsted v. Lien (In re Fjeldsted), 293 B.R. 12, 24 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2003). In weighing the equities, the general trend has been to focus on two factors: "(1) whether the creditor was aware of the bankruptcy petition; and (2) whether the debtor engaged in unreasonable or inequitable conduct, or prejudice would result to the creditor." Id.

With respect to the first factor, the record establishes that Movant was aware of the automatic stay at the time she filed the Superior Court Complaint. On June 26, 2019—approximately one year prior to the filing of the Superior Court Complaint—the Debtors sent Movant a letter informing her of the automatic stay. On June 27, 2019, the Debtors filed a Notice of Stay of Proceedings in the Small Claims Action.

Hearing Room 1568

10:00 AM

CONT... Verity Health System of California, Inc.

Chapter 11

With respect to the second factor, there is no evidence before the Court that the Debtors have engaged in unreasonable or inequitable conduct. The Court declines to retroactively annul the stay with respect to the Superior Court Complaint. Since Movant cannot prosecute the Superior Court Complaint absent retroactive annulment, there is no cause for granting stay relief as to the Superior Court Complaint.

It is not clear from the record whether Movant was aware of the automatic stay at the time she filed the Small Claims Complaint. Movant testifies that she was not aware of the stay; however, the credibility of that testimony is undercut by Movant's inaccurate testimony regarding her awareness of the stay as of the filing of the Superior Court Complaint. On the other hand, the Debtors did not send Movant a letter advising her of the stay until after the Small Claims Complaint was filed.

Having weighed the equities, the Court finds it appropriate to retroactively annul the stay as to the Small Claims Complaint. The Court finds that Debtors will not be unduly prejudiced by retroactive annulment. Pursuant to § 362(d)(1), the Court lifts the automatic stay for cause to enable Movant to prosecute the Small Claims Complaint to final judgment. The stay shall remain in effect with respect to the enforcement of any judgment against the Debtors or property of the Debtors' estate.

Stay relief shall not take effect until October 1, 2020. In determining whether the stay should be lifted to allow litigation to proceed in a non-bankruptcy forum, the most important consideration is the effect that the non-bankruptcy litigation will have upon the administration of the estate. In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799-800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984). "Even slight interference with the administration may be enough to preclude relief in the absence of a commensurate benefit." Id.

Granting stay relief at this time would require the Debtors to commit resources to defending against the Small Claims Action, which would distract the Debtors' professionals from completing tasks critical to the administration of the estates, such as selling the remaining hospitals and confirming the Plan.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED as to the Superior Court Action. The Motion is GRANTED as to the Small Claims Action, but stay relief shall not take effect until October 1, 2020.

The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

The involuntary petition is DISMISSED for the reasons set forth below.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Involuntary Petition Against a Non-Individual [Doc. No. 1]
- 2) Summons and Notice of Status Conference in an Involuntary Bankruptcy Case [Doc. No. 3]

The Petitioning Creditors have failed to file a proof of service establishing that the Summons, Notice of Status Conference, and Involuntary Petition were served upon the Alleged Debtor. The Summons issued to the Petitioning Creditors clearly informs the Petitioning Creditors of the obligation to serve the Summons, Notice of Status Conference, and Involuntary Petition upon the Alleged Debtor. The Summons further advises the Petitioning Creditors that failure to properly effectuate service may result in dismissal of the involuntary petition.

Local Bankruptcy Rule 1010-1 provides in relevant part: "The court may dismiss an involuntary petition without further notice and hearing if the petitioner fails to ... (c) serve the summons and petition within the time allowed by FRBP 7004; (d) file a proof of service of the summons and petition with the court; or (e) appear at the status conference set by the court."

Based upon the foregoing, the involuntary petition is DISMISSED.

The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

A. Introduction

On July 20, 2015, Maria del Carmen Linares (the “Debtor”) filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition. David M. Goodrich was appointed as chapter 7 trustee (the “Trustee”). The case was initially closed on November 3, 2015 and reopened on May 31, 2018, on the request of the United States Trustee in order to administer a previously undisclosed asset—a personal injury action initiated by the Debtor against Safeway, Inc. among other parties (the “Personal Injury Action”). See Doc. No. 16. The Trustee’s general bankruptcy counsel is Best Best & Krieger LLP (“BBK”). On August 6, 2018 and October 22, 2019, the Trustee obtained orders to employ the McElfish Law Firm (“MLF”) and H.Y.P. Law Group (“HYP”) (collectively with MLF and BBK, the “Applicants”), respectively, as special litigation counsel. See Doc. Nos. 30 and 48.

The instant hearing is to consider interim applications for fees and reimbursement of costs filed by the Applicants [Doc. Nos. 70, 71, 83] (the “Fee Applications”), as well as the Trustee’s Motion to Pay Claims Free and Clear of Purported Medical Liens [Doc. No. 59] (the “Motion”). The Fee Applications were initially set to be heard on July 8, 2020, but the Court continued the hearings to afford the Applicants an opportunity to address the issues further discussed below.

B. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Motion

Summary of the Motion

To provide context for the conclusions set forth herein, the Court summarizes the events leading up to the filing of the Motion and the Fee Applications as described in the Trustee’s brief:

After the closing of the case, the Debtor commenced the Personal Injury Action on October 7, 2015, seeking damages for a pre-petition injury sustained by the Debtor at a Vons grocery store on November 4, 2013. MLF, who was working on the action, informed the Trustee of the pending lawsuit and the bankruptcy case was reopened subsequently. The complaint on the Personal Injury Action was amended to formally supplant the Debtor for the Trustee as the real party in interest. On or about August 6, 2018, the Trustee retained Joseph Faccone of MLF to assist him with the Personal Injury Action [Doc. No. 30]. Following an unsuccessful mediation session, and continued negotiation discussions, the Trustee and Vons' counsel reached a settlement agreement on or about November 15, 2018 (the "Settlement Agreement"). It was also at this time that the Trustee became aware that the Debtor had retained HYP as counsel, and that, in turn HYP had retained MLF as trial co-counsel.

Between November 15, 2018 and the October 8, 2019, BBK repeatedly communicated with HYP about finalizing the Settlement Agreement, which was conditioned on the Debtor's approval and execution. Throughout that yearlong period, Hamed Yazdanpanah ("Yazdanpanah"), owner of HYP, steadfastly delayed efforts to consummate the Settlement Agreement by, inter alia, instructing Vons' counsel to deliver the settlement proceeds to HYP or MLF only, or by asserting that the Debtor would not execute the settlement until she had an opportunity to review BBK's and Trustee's fees. See Declaration of Caroline R. Djang ("Djang Decl."), Ex. B (copy of email correspondences between Yazdanpanah and the Trustee).

On or about January 11, 2019, HYP notified the Trustee that the Debtor had accrued approximately $274,712 in medical liens (the "Medical Liens") in connection with the Debtor's injury at the Vons store, which were to be satisfied from the settlement proceeds. To ensure the prompt disposition of the Medical Liens, the Trustee proposed to employ HYP on a limited basis as special counsel to broker a negotiated payout with the Debtor's healthcare providers in or about February 2019. Through a series of emails exchanged during this time, the Trustee's counsel also clarified basic bankruptcy procedure to Yazdanpanah, a non-bankruptcy practitioner:

To be absolutely clear, the monies that are being paid from Vons do not belong to your client personally. They are property of her bankruptcy estate. I've spoken to Joe Faccone and Kathy Lerner, both of whom understand this concept...Only [MLF] has been employed by the bankruptcy trustee, and thus, your firm cannot receive payments directly from the bankruptcy estate.

Djang Decl., Ex. A (December 13, 2018 email) (emphasis in original).

Ms. Linares does not have authority to approve or disapprove my firm's fees and costs. Only the bankruptcy trustee and the bankruptcy court have the authority to approve my firm's fees.

The funds belong to Ms. Linares' bankruptcy estate, and should be paid to the Trustee. If you are confused about this, please give me a call.

[MLF] is the only law firm whose employment has been approved by the bankruptcy court. The trustee has offered to employ [HYP] but received no response to my questions from February 20 regarding proposed terms of employment and compensation...you cannot receive a check from the Trustee unless you are employed by the estate.

Id., Ex. D (March 4, 2019 email)

Yazdanpanah and HYP rejected the Trustee's proposal for months, positing that HYP was not required to be employed by the estate because the firm co-counseled the Debtor with MLF. See Djang Decl., Ex. D. Nevertheless, HYP eventually accepted the Trustee's employment offer, and, after another lengthy delay attributed to HYP, the Court approved its employment application on October 22, 2019 [Doc. No 48]. The Debtor executed the Settlement Agreement on or about October 8, 2019. The Court entered an order granting a Rule 9019 motion regarding the Settlement Agreement on December 4, 2019 [Doc. No. 57].

Even after it became an estate professional, HYP continually failed to cooperate with the Trustee by neglecting to provide information about the outstanding total of the Medical Liens and the identity of the lienholders. Accordingly, the Trustee emailed Yazdanpanah written requests on five different occasions between December 2019 and April 2020. See Djang Decl., Ex. H. Based on HYP's steadfast refusal to give a clear response concerning the outstanding Medical Liens, the Trustee filed the Motion on May 6, 2020 [Doc. No. 60], through which he seeks to pay off all administrative expenses and claims against the estate, free and clear of the Medical Liens, from the settlement proceeds. The Trustee argues that lacking any specific information on the Medical Liens impeded his efforts to administer the settlement funds and close the case. To that extent, the Trustee asks to be released of the responsibility to pay the Medical Liens, leaving that task in the Debtor's hands. Furthermore, the Trustee anticipates that the settlement proceeds will be sufficient to pay administrative expenses, all filed claims, and the professionals' fees and expenses, leaving the Debtor with a sizeable surplus north of $395,000 to pay the Medical Liens

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no objection to the Motion is on file. However, in their joint supplemental brief in response to the Court's July 8, 2020 tentative ruling [Doc. No. 98], the Trustee asserts that HYP finally turned over the long-requested information and further motion practice is unnecessary.

C. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with The Fee Applications

Summary of the Fee Applications

Following attempts to resolve issues concerning fees and expenses, the Applicants determined to file separate fee applications. BBK Fee Application at 5. BBK, the Trustee's general bankruptcy counsel, applies for the allowance of fees in the sum of $30,801 and costs in the sum of $301.21 on an interim basis. MLF, as special litigation counsel, applies for the allowance of fees in the sum of $225,000 and costs in the sum of $21,330.04 on an interim basis. The legal fees that MLF requests constitute 45% of the settlement proceeds, based on the contingency fee stipulated in the Debtor's retainer agreement with HYP. See MLF Fee Application, Ex. 1. HYP, as Trustee's limited scope counsel, applies for the allowance of fees in the sum of $2,500 on an interim basis; HYP does not request reimbursement of any costs. As of the filing of the Fee Applications, the estate holds approximately $497,743.99. At a prior hearing on the Fee Applications, the Court determined it was not in a position to approve the Applicants' requested compensation due to the following concerns:

First, the Court notes that the Personal Injury Lawsuit was settled on or about October 31, 2018, but a settlement agreement was not signed by all the parties until June 2019. First Interim Application of BBK [Doc. No. 70] at 4. The Trustee's general bankruptcy counsel explains that this protracted delay and the attendant legal costs incurred were the result of certain demands made by H.Y.P. The Trustee must explain why the unnecessary expense and delay caused by H.Y.P. could not be expeditiously resolved by motion practice, and why the applicants' fees and costs requested herein should not be reduced accordingly. Second, the applicants must explain their decision in filing applications for interim fees and costs, as opposed to final applications. The Court is perplexed as to what additional legal services must be rendered by each applicant to bring this chapter 7 case to a close. Last, the Court notes that the order to employ H.Y.P. as special counsel to the trustee was entered on October 22, 2019, with an effective date of March 1, 2019. However, the fee application submitted by H.Y.P. consists of 6 thinly described work entries billed between March 5, 2020 and May 8, 2020. H.Y.P. broadly seeks $2,500 for communicating with 10 different parties concerning medical liens against the Debtor's estate. Pursuant to LBR 2016, H.Y.P.'s fee application fails to supply an adequate description of services rendered for the benefit of the estate. The Court does not understand why the Trustee sought H.Y.P. to be employed nunc pro tunc to March 1, 2019, when it appears that the applicant did not render any services until March 2020. Additionally, the Court notes that H.Y.P.'s inability to cooperate with the Trustee has continued to be a problem, even after the Court approved its employment. Motion to Pay Claims Free and Clear of Purported Medical Liens [Doc. No. 59] at 7 ("the Trustee has requested of Mr. Yazdanpanah, in writing, a status and itemization of the Medical Liens no less than five times, on December 30, 2019, February 11, 2020, March 11, 2020, April 13, 2020, and April 29, 2020."). In sum, H.Y.P. must explain to the Court why it is entitled to any fees when it has consistently caused the estate unnecessary administrative costs and delays.

See Doc. No. 91. With respect to the MLF Fee Application, the Court remarked that:

The Court notes that the application to employ to [MLF] (the "Employment Application") does not disclose the contingency fee figure contemplated in the Fee Application, nor contains the retainer agreement supplied in the Fee Application. In addition, the Employment Application states that [MLF's] fees and expenses would be subject to the provisions under § 328, while the order approving the Employment Application asserts that compensation would be reviewed under § 330 [Doc. No. 30]. The Fee Application does not address such discrepancy.

See Doc. No. 92. (together with Doc. No. 91, the "July 8 Ruling").

In addition, the Trustee lodged an untimely opposition [Doc. No. 87] to the MLF Fee Application, objecting to the reimbursement of a specific item cost—$2,867.41 for "funding interest" as an unauthorized request for post-petition credit.

On July 24, 2020, BBK and MLF filed the Joint Supplemental Brief [Doc. No. 98] in response to the Court's inquiries, asserting the following principal arguments and representations:

While careful to minimize administrative expense, the Trustee and BBK expended considerable effort to collaborate with HYP, despite Yazdanpanah's lack of familiarity with bankruptcy law and inability to follow the Trustee's instructions. On more than one occasion, the Trustee strongly considered filing a motion to secure HYP's cooperation but reconsidered once HYP and the Debtor acceded to the Trustee's instructions. The Trustee even solicited the assistance of bankruptcy attorneys Ori Blumenfeld (who acts as an intermediary between HYP and BBK) and Michael Berger. Although Yazdanpanah accepted the assistance of Mr. Blumenfeld and Mr. Berger, he would "forget" and not act on such advice. BBK and the Trustee further attempted to resolve any delays in connection with HYP by (a) asking Vons to proceed with the Settlement Agreement without Debtor's signature, (b) drafting HYP's interim fee application (never filed), (c) reminding HYP to deliver the necessary documentation in support of its employment application, and (d) requesting regular updates on the Medical Liens.

The Applicants filed interim fee applications, instead final fee applications, because this case is approximately 3 to 4 months away from closing. Before the case is closed, the Trustee must still oversee the completion of the estate's tax returns, a task that was delayed in connection with the long-awaited Medical Liens settlement amounts. HYP and MLF are not expected to incur any additional fees, while BBK only expects to bill a nominal fee in connection with the Trustee's final report.

Finally, the Trustee reports that MLF has agreed to waive "funding interest" fees of $2,867.41, thereby resolving the Trustee's limited objection.

Summary of the HYP Supplement

Mr. Blumenfeld, on behalf of HYP, responded to the Court's inquiries, asserting the following principal arguments and representations:

First, HYP apologizes to the Court for the poor communication with the Trustee and the "unintentional delay." The yearlong delay was the result of a "non-learned bankruptcy lawyer" not associating with a bankruptcy attorney to receive proper assistance, as well the time and continued efforts expended to negotiate the claims asserted by the medical lienholders. While HYP ensured that the Debtor was updated “75-100 times regarding her settled personal injury case,” the firm acknowledges that it failed to communicate effectively with the Trustee due to Yazdanpanah’s lack of bankruptcy knowledge. More specifically, HYP was under the impression that it only owed a duty to the Debtor, as its client, and not to the Trustee. However, HYP’s limited scope services reduced the Medical Liens from $274,712.36 to $96,101, providing a “massive” benefit to the Debtor’s estate. However, given HYP’s prior experience working on contingency basis, the firm’s billing records are limited to the information provided in HYP Fee Application and the Supplement. HYP did not understand that it had to keep detailed billing records as part of its employment application. Finally, the HYP Fee Application should be construed as a “final,” rather than “interim,” application as it does not expect to seek additional compensation.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, the Court acknowledges the long-postponed delivery of critical information concerning the Medical Liens to the Trustee. The information in question consists of a listing of all medical lienholders and their specified settled claim amounts, which will permit the Trustee to prepare a final report and close the case as expeditiously as possible. Given that the Trustee has the information that precipitated the filing of the Motion, the Court considers that the relief sought in the Motion is moot.

A. The Fee Applications

Section 330(a)(1) allows the Court to award “reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered” by a professional. In determining the amount of compensation to award, the Court considers the nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

- (A) the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;
- (C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;

(D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;

(E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field; and

Alternatively, § 328(a) permits bankruptcy courts to award estate professionals compensation “on any reasonable terms and conditions of employment, including on a retainer, on an hourly basis, on a fixed or percentage fee basis, or on a contingent fee basis.” However, this section also authorizes courts to award compensation that differs from the employment terms, “if such terms and conditions prove to have been improvident in light of developments not capable of being anticipated at the time of the fixing of such terms and conditions.”

MLF Fee Application

There is still the lingering issue as to whether MLF’s requested fees and expenses are to be reviewed under § 328 or § 330(a). MLF seeks fees totaling $225,000, based on a 45% contingency fee, which it claims is subject to the employment terms that this Court approved under § 328. The Court raised concerns over an apparent discrepancy in MLF’s compensation scheme in the July 8 Ruling [Doc. No. 92], but unfortunately neither the Trustee nor MLF took the opportunity to brief the issue in their Joint Supplemental Brief.

Local Bankruptcy Rule (“LBR”) 2014-1(b)(1)(A) states that an employment application “must specify unambiguously whether the professional seeks compensation pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 328 or 11 U.S.C. § 330.” If the professional fails to “unambiguously” indicate as such in its retention application, the professional's compensation will be reviewed under § 330. In re Circle K Corp., 279 F.3d 669, 671 (9th Cir. 2002). This is the case here. The application to employ MLF as special counsel sought compensation under both §§ 328 and 330, citing to both sections interchangeably. MLF Employment Application [Doc. No. 24-1] at 4 ("The Firm intends to apply to the Court, in conformity with sections 328 and 331 of the Bankruptcy Code..."); Declaration of Joseph Faccione Jr. [Doc. No. 24-1], ¶ 10 ("The Firm understands that its compensation in this case is subject to approval of this Court pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§327, 330 and 331."). Apart from the careless drafting of the application, the Court's inquiry is further clouded as the application omits reference to either the 45% contingency arrangement or the underlying retainer agreement. The contingency terms were only recently disclosed to the Court as evidence supporting the MLF Fee Application. In fact, the Court learned through the MLF Fee Application, not the retention application, that the contingency terms come from the retainer agreement between the Debtor and HYP. See MLF Fee Application, Ex. 1.

Controlling authority produced by the Ninth Circuit holds that the compensation scheme applicable to an estate professional is governed by the order approving the employment application of the professional. In In re B.U.M. Int'l, Inc., the Ninth Circuit found that the express approval of a professional's employment under § 330 indicated an intention by the bankruptcy court to "to reserve the power to conduct an 11 U.S.C. § 330 'reasonableness and benefit to the estate' review." 229 F.3d 824, 830 (9th Cir. 2000). In reaching its determination, the court disapproved of the more permissive approach adopted by the Fifth Circuit in Donaldson Lufkin & Jenrette Sec. Corp. v. National Gypsum Co. (In re National Gypsum Co.), 123 F.3d 861 (5th Cir. 1997). In contrast, the Ninth Circuit reasoned that the bankruptcy court's order "specifically and in writing put all interested parties on notice that all of [the applicant's] fees were subject to court approval down the road." See id. at 829.

On August 6, 2018, the Court entered an order approving MLF's employment [Doc. No. 30], specifying that "[a]ll compensation and expense reimbursement of counsel in this case is subject to the approval of this Court pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 330." This order was not subsequently challenged by any party. Moreover, the Court could not have approved MLF's compensation under § 328 because the terms of the contingency arrangement were not disclosed until recently. Accordingly, the Court will review MLF's requested compensation under the reasonableness standard set forth in § 330(a).

Notwithstanding, based on its review of MLF Fee Application, the Court understands that MLF expended substantial expense and effort in securing the estate's only asset. Further, any undue delay in the closing of this case was not caused by MLF. The Court is prepared to fully approve MLF's fees and expenses, on an interim basis, with the condition that MLF shall submit adequate evidence supporting the requested compensation by no later than August 25, 2020. In support of its fee application, MLF may proffer evidence in the form of a detailed declaration under penalty of perjury and/or adequate billing records. Upon consideration of such supporting evidence under § 330(a), the Court will enter an order approving MLF's fees and expenses, partially or in full, on a final basis without further notice or hearing.

HYP Fee Application

Section 328(c) authorizes the Court to disqualify an estate professional employed under § 327, or limit or fully deny its requested compensation, if "such professional is not a disinterested person, or represents or holds an interest adverse to the interest of the estate... ." The employment of HYP as special litigation counsel required court approval under § 327(a).

Section 327(a) further mandates that all estate professionals disclose, at the outset of the retention application and on a recurring basis, "all facts which might bear on the professional's qualification for retention under § 327(a)." In re Diamond Mortg. Corp. of Illinois, 135 B.R. 78, 89 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 1990) ("The purpose of this disclosure requirement is to allow the court...to evaluate the possibility of conflicts of interest and the potential for sanctions under §§ 327(a) and 328(c)."). Professionals must also "live up to all requirements of appropriate professional codes of conduct on a continuous basis." Id.

"To hold an interest adverse to the estate is either (1) to possess or assert an economic interest that would tend to decrease the value of the estate or create an actual or potential dispute with the estate or (2) to possess a predisposition that would amount to a bias against the estate." In re Kobra Properties, 406 B.R. 396, 403 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2009) (citing to Tevis v. Wilke, Fleury, Hoffelt, Gould & Birney (In re Tevis), 347 B.R. 679, 693-94 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2006)). To represent an adverse interest is to serve as an attorney for an entity holding such an interest. Tevis, 347 B.R. at 688. "normally apply ethical rules of the state in which the court is located," akin to the imposition of attorney discipline. In re Kobra Properties, 406 B.R. 396 at 403. Through local rule 83-3.1.2, the Central District of California has adopted the Rules of Professional Conduct ("RPC") approved by the California Supreme Court; local rule 83-3.1.2 has been incorporated through LBR 2090-2.

RPC 1.1(c) provides in relevant part:

If a lawyer does not have sufficient learning and skill when the legal services are undertaken, the lawyer nonetheless may provide competent representation by (i) associating with or, where appropriate, professionally consulting another lawyer whom the lawyer reasonably believes to be competent, (ii) acquiring sufficient learning and skill before performance is required, or (iii) referring the matter to another lawyer whom the lawyer reasonably believes to be competent.

RPC 1.3, which addresses the level of diligence expected from attorneys, provides:

(a) A lawyer shall not intentionally, repeatedly, recklessly or with gross negligence fail to act with reasonable diligence in representing a client.

(b) For purposes of this rule, "reasonable diligence" shall mean that a lawyer acts with commitment and dedication to the interests of the client and does not neglect or disregard, or unduly delay a legal matter entrusted to the lawyer.

Following the approval of its employment as special litigation counsel, HYP failed to live up to the standards prescribed by § 327(a). As discussed above, the conduct exhibited by HYP as an estate professional resulted in the delay of this case for months, substantially increasing administrative expense to the estate and the Debtor. The justification proffered by HYP that its principal is a non-learned bankruptcy attorney is weak. HYP could have easily moved the Debtor's case forward by simply cooperating with the Trustee with respect to the negotiation of the Medical Liens. HYP's failure to comply with the RPC does not stem from a poor understanding of bankruptcy procedure. Any limitations in Yazdanpanah's legal abilities could have been timely remedied if he had followed the advice of Mr. Berger, Mr. Blumenfeld, or the Trustee's counsel. Nevertheless, the recalcitrant behavior of HYP persisted until the Trustee was pressured to file the Motion in May 2020.

Further, in its role of special litigation counsel, the Court finds that HYP held and/or represented an interest adverse to the estate: "...I believed that a bigger equal duty was owed to the Debtor, rather only to the Trustee, because I believed that the Debtor was my client, not the Trustee...." Declaration of Yazdanpanah in support of HYP Supplement [Doc. No. 97], ¶ 5. If Yazdanpanah was unwilling to serve, or did not understand, its role as Trustee's special counsel, he should have disclosed as much at the outset of the employment offer. Yazdanpanah's failure to do so meant that HYP concurrently represented an interest, which he believed was owed a "bigger equal duty" than the estate. Here, Yazdanpanah's belief had an actual detrimental impact on the estate as HYP failed to update the Trustee on the Medical Liens for months. Again, claiming ignorance is unpersuasive because HYP had ample resources to enable Yazdanpanah to become readily competent. In failing to uphold its duty, HYP prevented this case from closing, thereby harming the interests of the creditors and denying Debtor her long-awaited fresh start. In re Kobra Properties, 406 B.R. 396, 403 (holding an adverse interest is "to possess a predisposition that would amount to a bias against the estate.").

"Section 328(c) vests the court with authority to deny fee requests in whole or in part." In re Diamond Mortg. Corp. of Illinois, 135 B.R. 78 at 98; see also Neben & Starrett, Inc. v. Chartwell Fin. Corp. (In re Park-Helena Corp.), 63 F.3d 877, 880-81 (9th Cir.1995) (Disclosure that later turns out to be incomplete can be remedied by denial of fees.).

In its discretion, the Court has ample justification to deny HYP's requested compensation in full. HYP failed to disclose its adverse bias against the estate, at the start of his employment or at any time thereafter, causing harm to the creditors and Debtor. Any benefit that the services of HYP might have conferred on the estate are cancelled out by the time and resources required to compel HYP's compliance. Trustee's counsel incurred no less than $4,343 in preparing the Motion and attempting to confer with HYP on the status of the Medical Liens. See BBK Fee Application, Ex. 2. Therefore, HYP is not entitled to any of its fees in the amount of $2,500.

The BBK Fee Application

Section 704(a)(1) requires that the chapter 7 trustee “collect and reduce to money the property of the estate...and close such estate as expeditiously as is compatible with the best interests of parties in interest.” By accepting employment as counsel to the Trustee, BBK acknowledged its responsibility to “[a]ssist and advise the Trustee with the recovery of property of the Estate...[a]ssist the Trustee in legal action or otherwise to recover other assets for the benefit of the creditors...[and] [g]ive the Trustee legal advice with respect to his duties and powers in this matter.” See BBK Employment Application [Doc. No. 20] at 3-4.

As the recitation of the background facts set forth above illustrates, BBK failed to adequately counsel the Trustee on his duties to collect estate assets and expeditiously close this case. While the energy expended on educating Yazdanpanah on bankruptcy procedure is laudable, such energy would have been more fruitfully invested in ensuring HYP’s compliance, or discipline, through appropriate motion practice. The decision to delay the filing of any kind of motion against HYP until May 2020 proved difficult not only to the ability of the Trustee to oversee this case, but to the interests of creditors, whose expected distribution was unnecessarily prolonged. The court finds the administration of this bankruptcy case was unjustifiably delayed because of:

1. The failure to take proper action to ensure the consummation of the Settlement Agreement for nearly a year;
2. The decision to wait approximately 6 months for HYP to deliver the requisite documentation for its employment application;
3. The decision to delay the filing of the Motion until May 2020, even after HYP had long proved itself uncooperative and repeatedly declined to update the Trustee on the status of the Medical Liens for months; and
4. The preparation and submission of pleadings with critical errors, discrepancies, and omissions, prompting the request for supplemental briefing. See, e.g., Doc. No. 24-1.

In view of the above-referenced events, the Court finds that BBK’s requested fees should be reduced by $2,000.

Chapter 7

Based upon the foregoing, the Court finds that BBK is entitled to fees in the amount of $28,801 and expenses in the amount of $301.21, on an interim basis.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is DENIED as moot and the Fee Applications are GRANTED IN PART as follows:

- (1) The MLF Fee Application is GRANTED in the total amount of $243,462.63 (less the voluntary expense reduction of $2,867.41 for the litigation funding interest), on an interim basis, subject to the conditions set forth above.
- (2) The HYP Fee Application is DENIED in full.
- (3) The BBK Fee Application is GRANTED in the total amount of $29,102.21 (less a fee reduction of $2,000), on an interim basis.

The Trustee shall lodge conforming proposed orders within 7 days of the hearing.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Debtors' Notice and Motion to Approve Compromise Between Debtors and Nantworks LLC Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9019 [Doc. No. 5095] (the "Motion")
  - a) Declaration of Service by Kurtzman Carson Consultants, LLC Regarding Docket Numbers 5082, 5083, 5085, 5087, 5088, 5094, 5095 and 5096 [Doc. No. 5158]
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018, Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' case are being jointly administered. The Debtors seek approval of a settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") between the Debtors and Nantworks LLC ("NantWorks"), which resolves cure issues pertaining to a Master Lease Agreement dated November 30, 2017 (the "Master Lease"), between Verity Holdings LLC ("Holdings") and Nantworks. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

The Master Lease establishes the general terms and conditions under which NantWorks, as lessor, leases to Holdings, as lessee, certain units of equipment, personal property, furnishings, replacement parts, and tools (the “Leased Equipment”). The equipment that is subject to the Master Lease is held by the Debtors at each of the Debtors’ hospitals. Upon termination of the Master Lease, the Debtors are obligated to either (1) return all of the Leased Equipment in its current condition subject only to normal wear and tear or (2) acquire replacement equipment of similar quality.

In connection with prior sales of the Debtors’ hospitals, the Debtors and NantWorks have entered into stipulations extending the deadline for NantWorks to file cure objections related to the potential assumption and assignment of the Master Lease (the “Cure Stipulations”).

The Debtors store certain magnetic radiation imaging (“MRI”) equipment that is subject to the Master Lease at a storage facility owned by Walker Brothers located in Anaheim, California (the “Walker Brothers Storage Facility”). The Master Lease requires the Debtors to indemnify, protect, and hold harmless NantWorks from and against all losses, damages, injuries, claims, and judgments arising out of the use, condition, or operation of the Leased Equipment (including the MRI equipment).

On July 9, 2019, Walker Brothers commenced litigation against NantWorks, alleging certain damages owed in connection with the storage of the MRI equipment at the Walker Brothers Storage Facility. NantWorks asserts that any judgment or the costs of settlement related to the Walker Brothers litigation is payable by the Debtors under the Master Lease.

Under the Settlement Agreement, the Debtors shall make the following payments to NantWorks in full satisfaction of any objection or cure claim preserved by NantWorks:

- 1) The Debtors shall pay NantWorks the sum of $3,600,000, consisting of:
  - a) $316,105 for Leased Equipment located on the campuses of Saint Louise Regional Hospital and O’Connor Hospital;
  - b) $2,498,536 for Leased Equipment located on the St. Vincent Medical Center campus;
  - c) $266,792 for Leased Equipment located on the Seton Medical Center and Seton Coastsides campuses; and
  - d) $518,637 for Leased Equipment located on the St. Francis Medical Center campus.

- 2) In connection with the buy-out of the Leased Equipment, the Debtors have agreed to pay sales and use taxes totaling $334,292.98.
- 3) The Debtors shall pay $50,000 in connection with the litigation brought by the Walker Brothers.

The Debtors have also agreed to transfer certain of the Leased Equipment to NantWorks (the "Transferred Equipment").

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair, and reasonable, and is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Probability of Success on the Merits and Complexity of the Litigation

These factors weigh in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The Master Lease covers several hundred pieces of Leased Equipment located at six different hospitals. It would be time consuming and costly for the Debtors to resolve NantWorks' cure objections on a piecemeal basis. Nor is there any guaranty that the Debtors would be able to resolve the cure objections in a manner favorable to the estates.

The replacement cost of the Leased Equipment is greater than the buyout purchase price under the Settlement Agreement. Thus, the Settlement Agreement is a good deal for the estates. In addition, resolution of the issue is particularly important given that the hospital buyers are using the Leased Equipment pursuant to subleases with

Paramount Interests of Creditors

This factor weighs strongly in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The Committee does not object to the Settlement Agreement, and no creditors have objected to the Settlement Agreement.

Difficulties to be Encountered in the Matter of Collection

This factor does not apply.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Settlement Agreement is APPROVED and the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Debtors shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. At the outset the court would like to acknowledge its receipt and review of the various reports prepared by Dr. Rubin. In particular, the report filed on April 6, 2020, [Doc. Nos. 4445 and 4446] was exemplary and of great assistance to the court. The professionalism and competence displayed by Dr. Rubin during the course of the hearings in this case is greatly appreciated.

On October 25, 2018, the Court entered an Order on Debtors' Motion Establishing Procedures for Monthly Payment of Fees and Expense Reimbursement [Doc. No. 661], and on October 16, 2018, the Court entered an Amended Order on Debtors' Motion Establishing Procedures for Monthly Payment of Fees and Expense Reimbursement [Doc. On September 25, 2018, the Court entered an order directing the United States Trustee (the "UST") to appoint a Patient Care Ombudsman (the "PCO"). Doc. No. 283. On October 9, 2018, the Court entered an order approving the UST's appointment of Dr. Jacob Nathan Rubin, MD, FACC, as the PCO. Doc. No. 430. On November 2, 2018, the Court authorized Dr. Rubin to employ Dr. Tim Stacy, DNP, ACNP-BC as a consultant to assist him with the discharge of his duties. Doc. No. 753.

The PCO and Dr. Stacy seek the allowance of fees and expenses for the period between December 1, 2019 and April 30, 2020 (the "Application Period"). See Doc. No. 5042 (the "Application"). Pursuant to the Fee Procedures Order, the PCO and Dr. Stacy have submitted five Monthly Applications [Doc. Nos. 4006, 4162, 4351, 4651, and 4791] with respect to work performed during the Application Period, none of which have been opposed.

No objections to the Application have been filed. Having reviewed the Application, the Court approves, on an interim basis, the fees and expenses set forth below, which may be paid (to the extent not previously paid) subject to available cash on hand in the estate:

#14.10 Hearing
RE: [5125] Debtors' Amended Motion to Reject Local 39 Pension and Trust Agreements, Effective Immediately Upon the Rejection of the Local 39 CBA

Docket 5125

Tentative Ruling:

8/4/2020

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Debtors' Amended Notice of Motion and Motion to Reject Local 39 Pension and Trust Agreements, Effective Immediately Upon the Rejection of the Local 39 CBA [Doc. No. 5125] (the "Motion")
  - a) Application for Order Setting Hearing on Shortened Notice [Doc. No. 5128]
  - b) Order Granting Application and Setting Hearing on Shortened Notice [Doc. No. 5131]
  - c) Notice of Hearing on Debtors' Motion to Reject Local 39 Pension and Trust Agreements, Effective Immediately Upon the Rejection of the Local 39 CBA [Doc. No. 5135]
  - d) Declaration of Service by Kurtzman Carson Consultants, LLC Regarding Docket Numbers 5118, 5119, 5120, 5124, 5125, 5128, 5129, 5130, 5131, 5133, 5135 and 5137 [Doc. No. 5334]
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' case are being jointly administered.

The Debtors move to reject a Pension Trust Fund Agreement (the "Pension Agreement") and a Trust Agreement (the "Trust Agreement," and together with the Pension Agreement, the "Agreements") between certain of the Debtors and the Stationary Engineers Local 39 labor union ("Local 39"). The Pension Agreement established the Stationary Engineers Local 39 Trust Funds (the "Local 39 Pension Funds"), a multi-employer defined benefit plan; the Trust Agreement established the Stationary Engineers Health & Welfare Trust Fund (the "Welfare Trust Fund"), also a multi-employer defined benefit plan. The Debtors request that both rejections take effect immediately upon the Debtors' rejection and termination of the corresponding collective bargaining agreement with Local 39 (the "Local 39 CBA"). (On July 31, 2020, the Court entered a Memorandum of Decision [Doc. No. 5306] granting the Debtors' motion to reject and terminate the Local 39 CBA. An order memorializing the relief granted in the Memorandum of Decision has not yet been entered.) The Debtors seek to reject the Agreements because AHMC, the purchaser of the assets to which the Agreements pertain, does not intend to assume the Agreements.

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(a) provides that the Debtors, "subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." In Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), the Ninth Circuit explained the standard the Bankruptcy Court must apply in determining whether to approve the rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease:

In making its determination, a bankruptcy court need engage in "only a cursory review of a [debtor-in-possession]'s decision to reject the contract. Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor-in-possession]'s rejection decision." ...

Thus, in evaluating the rejection decision, the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate. See Navellier v. Sletten, 262 F.3d 923, 946 n. 12 (9th Cir.2001); FDIC v. Castetter, 184 F.3d 1040, 1043 (9th Cir.1999); see also In re Chi-Feng Huang, 23 B.R. at 801 ("The primary issue is whether rejection would benefit the general unsecured creditors."). It should approve the rejection of an executory contract under § 365(a) unless it finds that the debtor-in-possession's conclusion that rejection would be "advantageous is so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice."

Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007).

The Court finds that the Debtors have shown sufficient cause to reject the Agreements. In view of the sale of the assets to which the Agreements pertain, the Agreements provide no benefit to the estates. Absent rejection, the estates could be exposed to administrative expense liability in connection with residual obligations under the Agreements. The Debtors are authorized to reject the Agreements, with rejection to take effect immediately upon entry of the order authorizing the rejection of the Local 39 CBA.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Debtors shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

The Court finds that the Debtors have shown sufficient cause to reject the Trust Agreement. The Debtors have obtained authorization to terminate the CBAs that require the Debtors to fulfill the obligation under the Trust Agreement to make contributions to the RPHE. Upon the closing of the sale of Seton Medical Center, the Debtors will no longer employ the employees who participated in the RPHE. There is no business reason for the Debtors to continue to be bound by the Trust Agreement. Further, absent rejection, the estates could potentially face administrative expense liability under the Trust Agreement.

The Debtors are authorized to reject the Trust Agreement, with rejection to take effect immediately upon the entry of the orders authorizing the rejection of the corresponding CBAs.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtors object to 26 Proofs of Claim (collectively, the "Claim Objections"). Hearings on the Claim Objections were initially scheduled to take place on April 15 and 22, 2020. The Court continued the hearings pending determinations of whether the case would proceed under Subchapter V and whether the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") would continue to play a role in the case. Doc. No. 252.

A. Background

1. The Collection Actions

Michael Bonert ("Michael") and Vivien Bonert ("Vivien," and together with Michael, the "Debtors") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on September 12, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtors operated a pie manufacturing company known as Bonert's Incorporated ("Bonerts"). In 2016,

Bonerts ceased conducting business after its lender caused its assets to be sold through a federal receivership. Proceeds of the receivership sale were used to pay secured creditors, but were not sufficient to pay unsecured trade creditors, some of whom obtained unopposed judgments against Bonerts.

On August 13 and 14, 2019, Capitol Distribution Company, LLC ("Capitol"), Stratas Foods LLC ("Stratas"), Packaging Corporation of America, and Seneca Foods Corporation filed four collection actions (the "Collection Actions") against the Debtors, Bonerts, and LLCs wholly owned by the Debtors that were affiliates of Bonerts (the "Affiliates"). The Collection Actions allege, inter alia, that the Debtors operated the Affiliates and Bonerts as a single enterprise for the purpose of defeating the rights of creditors; that the Debtors misappropriated assets of Bonerts and the Affiliates; and that the Debtors are alter egos of Bonerts and are therefore liable for trade debt incurred by Bonerts.

Litigation of the Collection Actions has been consolidated. Trial of the Collection Actions is set for the week of January 25, 2021.

The Court referred the Collection Actions to mediation, but found that a global mediation involving all creditors asserting alter-ego claims would be more likely to result in settlement. The Court held that the parties were not required to conduct the global mediation until the Debtors' objections to the alter-ego claims had been adjudicated.

2. The Debtors' Election of Treatment Under Subchapter V of Chapter 11 and the Disbandment of the Committee

In the Petition filed on September 12, 2019, Debtors stated that they were not "small business debtors" within the meaning of § 101(51D). Petition at ¶ 13.

On March 3, 2020, Debtors filed an Amended Voluntary Petition [Doc. No. 136] (the "Amended Petition"), which made two changes to the Petition. First, the Debtors stated that they were "small business debtors" as defined in § 101(51D). Amended Petition at ¶ 13. Second, the Debtors elected treatment under the newly-enacted Subchapter V of Chapter 11. Id.

On February 20, 2020, the United States Trustee (the "UST") appointed an Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") pursuant to § 1102(a), comprised of five creditors. Doc. Nos. 128 and 131.

The Court provided the parties an opportunity to object to the Debtors' election of treatment under Subchapter V. Doc. No. 186. The Committee objected to the Subchapter V election. On June 3, 2020, the Court entered a Memorandum of Decision [Doc. No. 268] and accompanying order [Doc. No. 269] authorizing the Debtors to proceed under Subchapter V, and requiring the Committee to show cause why it should not be disbanded. The Committee did not oppose disbandment. On July 10, 2020, the Court entered an order disbanding the Committee. Doc. No. 287.

B. Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Claim Objections

Each of the claims at issue is asserted by a creditor who provided goods or services to Bonerts. Debtors object to each claim on the ground that they are not responsible for the indebtedness, since the goods or services at issue were provided to Bonerts and not the Debtors. In addition, Debtors assert that certain of the claims should be disallowed (1) as untimely, (2) as barred by the statute of limitations, or (3) because the claimant lacks standing to enforce the indebtedness.

Before it was disbanded, the Committee opposed the Claim Objections. Subsequent to the Committee's disbandment, Blakely LLP ("Blakely"), the Committee's proposed counsel, became counsel to certain creditors holding claims to which the Debtors object. Specifically, Blakely now represents the creditors holding the following claims:

Claim No.	Creditor	Claim Amount (all claims are unsecured)
5	Villegas Trucking, Inc.	$330,498.14
7	Malnove Incorporated of Utah	$76,367.03

The creditors represented by Blakely filed joinders to the opposition submitted by the Committee. The creditors assert that the Debtors are the alter egos of Bonerts and are therefore liable for the amounts claimed. The creditors assert that adjudication of the Claim Objections should be consolidated with the Collection Actions, on the ground that both proceedings involve common issues of law and fact. The creditors contend that if consolidation does not occur, extensive discovery followed by an evidentiary proceeding will be necessary before the Court can determine the alter ego issues posed by the Claim Objections.

Debtors assert that the creditors have failed to submit admissible evidence in support of their alter-ego contentions. Debtors request that to the extent the Court finds that the creditor's alter-ego allegations are sufficient to merit an evidentiary hearing, that the creditors be ordered to intervene in one or more of the Collection Actions, so that the alter-ego issues can be resolved in one trial.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Court Will Consider the Committee's Opposition Only to the Extent that it Has Been Joined by a Creditor Whose Claim Is at Issue

The Court will consider the arguments asserted in the Committee's opposition, but only in connection with those Claim Objections in which the claimholder has joined the opposition. The Court has previously found that it was not appropriate for the Committee to defend the interests of particular creditors in their individual capacity, as opposed to representing the interests of the general unsecured creditor body as a whole:

In In re Anderson, 349 B.R. 448 (E.D. Va. 2006), the court examined the extent to which a creditor's committee was entitled to participate in a claim objection proceeding. The Anderson court found that in connection with the claim objection proceeding, it was appropriate to permit the committee to participate in discovery regarding the debtor in possession's alleged fraud, a matter common to every creditor's claim. Id. at 464. The court took care to emphasize that through such participation, "the Committee did not seek, or purport, to assert the rights or claims of any particular Committee member." Id. The court noted that the rights of the individual committee members had been asserted by the claimants' counsel, not the committee's counsel. Id.

In contrast to Anderson, the Committee's opposition to the Claim

Objections asserted rights on behalf of particular creditors. That is, the Committee asserted that the claims of particular creditors should be allowed based on the Committee's contention that the Debtors are alter egos of Bonerts. The issue of the Debtors' status as alter egos of Bonerts is not common to all creditors who have filed proofs of claim. The following creditors have filed proofs of claim on account of indebtedness incurred directly by the Debtors:

- 1) Discover Bank (Claim No. 4);
- 2) Southern California Edison Company (Claim No. 8);
- 3) KeyPoint Credit Union (Claim No. 15);
- 4) Arvest Bank (Claim No. 20); and
- 5) JH Rose Logistics, LLC (Claim No. 33).

The Committee's advocacy on behalf of specific alter ego creditors was not in the interests of the creditor body as a whole, because allowance of the claims of the alter ego creditors would reduce the recovery of creditors asserting claims directly against the Debtors. Therefore, in electing to oppose the Claim Objections, the Committee was not "fulfilling its primary responsibility to represent the interests" of all of its members. Id. at 465. See also In re Drexel Burnham Lambert Grp., Inc., 138 B.R. 717, 722 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y.), aff'd, 140 B.R. 347 (S.D.N.Y. 1992) ("Counsel for the ... committee do not represent any individual creditor's interest in [a] case; they were retained to represent the entire ... class. Therefore, counsel for the creditors' committee do not owe a duty to [one creditor] to maximize its interest at the expense of the remaining creditors in the represented class.").

Memorandum of Decision Authorizing Debtors to Proceed Under Subchapter V of Chapter 11 [Doc. No. 268] at 5.

In view of this finding and given the Committee's disbandment, the Court will not consider the Committee's opposition in connection with those Claim Objections in which the claimholder has not joined the opposition. The Court will deem such Claim Objections to be unopposed.

B. The Debtors' Objections to Claim Nos. 2, 3, 13, 16, 29, 32, 33, 35, and 36 Are Sustained and Each Claim is Disallowed in Its Entirety with the Bankruptcy Rules constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. To overcome the presumption of validity created by a timely-filed proof of claim, an objecting party must do one of the following: (1) object based on legal grounds and provide a memorandum of points and authorities setting forth the legal basis for the objection; or (2) object based on a factual ground and provide sufficient evidence (usually in the form of declarations under penalty of perjury) to create triable issues of fact. Durkin v. Benedor Corp. (In re G.I. Indus., Inc.), 204 F.3d 1276, 1280 (9th Cir. BAP 2000); United States v. Offord Finance, Inc. (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216, 222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996); Hemingway Transport, Inc. v. Kahn (In re Hemingway Transport, Inc.), 993 F.2d 915, 925 (1st Cir. 1993). Upon objection, a proof of claim provides "some evidence as to its validity and amount" and is "strong enough to carry over a mere formal objection without more." See Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Spec., Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing Wright v. Holm (In re Holm), 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). An objecting party bears the burden and must "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Holm, 931 F.2d at 623. When the objector has shown enough evidence to negate one or more facts in the proof of claim, the burden shifts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of evidence. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (citation omitted).

Section 502 requires the Court to disallow a claim that "is unenforceable against the debtor and the property of the debtor, under any agreement or applicable law for a reason other than because such claim is contingent or unmatured."

Claim Nos. 2, 3, 13, 16, 29, 32, 33, 35, and 36 arise from goods and services that the claimants provided to Bonerts, not from goods and services that the claimants provided to the Debtors. With respect to these claims, there is no admissible evidence establishing that the Debtors should be held liable for the amounts claimed on an alter-ego basis. As such, the claims are not enforceable against the Debtors. The Claim Objections are SUSTAINED and each of the claims is DISALLOWED in its entirety.

Claims 35 and 36 were filed subsequent to the claims bar date, notwithstanding the fact that the claimants received notice of the bar date. In addition to being disallowed as unenforceable against the Debtors, Claims 35 and 36 are also disallowed as untimely.

As an additional ground for the disallowance of Claim 33, the Debtors argue that Claim 33 appears to be based upon an alleged breach of a Settlement Agreement in which the Debtors agreed to pay the claimant, J.H. Rose Logistics, Inc. ("Logistics") the sum of $40,000 over a period of 48 months. Debtors contend that they are not liable for the claim because Logistics and its counsel breached the Settlement Agreement's confidentiality provision by giving confidential information and documents to Blakely.

The Court finds that the Debtors are not liable for Claim 33 because Logistics breached the Settlement Agreement. Debtors' counsel testifies that materials subject to the Settlement Agreement's confidentiality provision were later filed in litigation prosecuted by creditors represented by Blakely, even though Debtors' counsel never gave the materials to anyone. This uncontroverted testimony is sufficient to establish that Logistics breached the Settlement Agreement's confidentiality provision. As a result, to the extent that Claim 33 is based upon the Settlement Agreement, it is not enforceable against the Debtors. The Court's findings regarding the breach of the Settlement Agreement are made for purposes of the instant claim objection only, and shall not be accorded preclusive effect in any future litigation brought by the Debtors against Logistics for damages based upon a breach of the Settlement Agreement.

C. Adjudication of the Objections to Claim Nos. 5, 7, 11, 12, 17, 18, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 30, and 31 Shall be Consolidated with the Collection Actions

The Court finds that the creditors have introduced sufficient evidence to establish the prima facie validity of their claims, and that an adversary proceeding is necessary to adjudicate the validity of the claims in view of the complexity of the issues. The Debtors' assertion that the claimants have not introduced sufficient evidence in support of their alter-ego contentions to defeat the Claim Objections is without merit. Creditors have alleged that the Debtors owned and controlled Bonerts; that Bonerts was undercapitalized; that Bonerts disregarded corporate formalities; and that the Debtors improperly transferred funds from Bonerts to themselves to contravene creditors' right to payment. In support of these allegations, creditors have submitted several hundred pages of documents, including excerpts from depositions of Michael, which creditors assert show improper transfers between Bonerts, other LLCs controlled by the Debtors, and the Debtors. Although Debtors dispute creditors' allegations and contend that the documents do not provide evidence of any impropriety, the Court finds that the showing made by creditors is sufficient to warrant litigation of the claims under the more formal procedures afforded by an adversary proceeding. It is not appropriate for the Court to prejudge the outcome of that adversary proceeding by ruling upon the admissibility or credibility of the evidence creditors have presented.

Debtors object to Claim 30, asserted by Coastal Carriers, LLC, on the ground that the creditor lacks standing to enforce the indebtedness. Debtors state that the debt is owed to Coastal Carriers, Inc., not Coastal Carriers, LLC.

Coastal Carriers, LLC ("Coastal LLC") has submitted sufficient evidence that it has standing to enforce indebtedness originally incurred by Coastal Carriers, Inc. ("Coastal Inc.") Coastal LLC supplies a declaration from John Harrell, who has been employed by Coastal LLC and Coastal Inc. as a controller since 2004. Harrell's responsibilities include monitoring debt collection actions commenced by Coastal LLC and Coastal Inc. Harrell testifies that in November 2016, Coastal Inc. reorganized as Coastal LLC, and as part of that reorganization, Coastal Inc.'s claims were assigned to Coastal LLC. There is no merit to the Debtors' contention that Harrell lacks personal knowledge to testify regarding the assignment of Coastal Inc.'s claims to Coastal LLC, or that Harrell's declaration does not establish Coastal LLC's standing to enforce the indebtedness.

Debtors make the same objection to Claim 28, asserted by Capitol Distribution Co., LLC ("Capitol Distribution"). Debtors assert that Capitol Distribution lacks standing to enforce indebtedness which Debtors assert is owed to Capitol Food Company ("Capitol Food"), not Capitol Distribution.

Capitol Distribution has submitted sufficient evidence showing that it has standing to enforce the indebtedness. Capitol Distribution supplies a declaration from Doug Jensen, who is employed as a sales manager and who oversees collection activities for Capitol Distribution. Jensen's declaration establishes that "Capitol Food" is the d/b/a of Capitol Distribution.

Debtors object to Claim 5, asserted by Villegas Trucking, Inc. ("Villegas"), on the ground that it is barred by the statute of limitations arising under the Interstate Commerce Act, 49 U.S.C. § 14705(a). The Debtors' objection is overruled. The Interstate Commerce Act governs only goods shipped between different states. Villegas' claim arises in connection with goods shipped only within the state of California, so the Interstate Commerce Act does not apply. Debtors make the same objection to Claim 30, asserted by Coastal LLC. That objection is overruled for the same reason.

Both the Debtors and the creditors support consolidating the adjudication of the Claim objections with the adjudication of the Collection Actions. Debtors' position is that creditors should be ordered to intervene in the Collection Actions; creditors assert that litigation of the Collection Actions should be consolidated with the Claim Objections under Civil Rule 42.

Civil Rule 42 authorizes the Court to consolidate actions involving "a common question of law or fact." In determining whether to consolidate proceedings, "a court weighs the interest of judicial convenience against the potential for delay, confusion, and prejudice caused by consolidation.” Sw. Marine, Inc. v. Triple A Mach. Shop, Inc., 720 F. Supp. 805, 806–07 (N.D. Cal. 1989). “The party seeking consolidation bears the burden of demonstrating that convenience and judicial economy would result from consolidation. . . . A court may deny consolidation where two cases are at different stages of preparedness for trial.” Snyder v. Nationstar Mortgage LLC, No. 15-CV-03049-JSC, 2016 WL 3519181, at *2 (N.D. Cal. June 28, 2016).

The Claim Objections and the Collection Actions involve common issues of law or fact. The Debtors and Bonerts were both involved in the transactions giving rise to the claims. Plaintiffs in the Collection Actions and creditors asserting claims both contend that the Debtors are liable for Bonert’s obligations under an alter-ego theory.

The Court will consolidate the adjudication of the Collection Actions and the Claim Objections pursuant to Civil Rule 42, so that the common issues of law and fact can be determined in a single proceeding. The procedures to effectuate the consolidation shall be as follows:

- 1) In the interests of judicial efficiency, Adv. No. 2:19-ap-01378-ER, Coastal Carriers LLC v. Michael and Vivien Bonert, shall be designated as the lead case, in which all documents shall be filed.
- 2) To ensure uniformity and a clear record, and to streamline discovery, by no later than August 19, 2020, each creditor shall file in the lead case a complaint setting forth the allegations contained in each proof of claim. The form of each complaint shall be based upon the complaints already on file in the Collection Actions. By no later than September 2, 2020, the Debtors shall answer each complaint.
- 3) Because the Court has found that the proofs of claims are prima facie valid in connection with this hearing, the Court will deem each complaint to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, and will not entertain Rule 12(b)(6) motions in connection with the complaints.
- 4) The Mediation Status Conference in the Collection Actions, set for September 15, 2020, shall remain in calendar. In view of the complexity of the litigation, the Court will consider at the Mediation Status Conference whether to extend the previously ordered litigation deadlines.
- 5) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in General Order 95-01, the mediation may take place via video-conference rather than in person. The Debtors state that they are their counsel are in COVID-19 high risk groups.
- 6) None of the Claim Objections dispute the accuracy of the amounts of the indebtedness alleged. Therefore, adjudication of the Claim Objections shall be limited to the alter-ego issues.

D. Subchapter V Status Conference

The Court addresses the following issues raised by the Subchapter V Status Reports filed by the Debtors.

First, the Debtors are not required to serve the Plan on the several hundred creditors scheduled as having disputed claims who did not file a proof of claim.

Second, the Debtors are not required to submit a Disclosure Statement separate from the Plan. The Plan contains information adequate to enable creditors to determine whether to vote for or against the Plan.

Third, the Debtors shall not be required to seek confirmation of the Plan until after the Court has adjudicated the Collection Actions and the Claim Objections. The outcome of these proceedings will have a material outcome on the distributions to be made under the Plan.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Debtors' objections to Claim Nos. 2, 3, 13, 16, 29, 32, 33, 35, and 36 are SUSTAINED, and each claim is DISALLOWED in its entirety. Adjudication of the Debtors' objections to Claim Nos. 5, 7, 11, 12, 17, 18, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 30, and 31 shall be consolidated with the Collection Actions.

Within seven days of the hearing, the Debtors shall submit orders in connection with the claims that have been disallowed. The Court will prepare and enter an order on the consolidation of the Claim Objections and the Collection Actions.

Docket 47

Tentative Ruling:

8/4/2020

Service Issue: Debtor failed to serve Work Better (landlord of the New York Premise) to the attention of "an officer, a managing or general agent, or to any other agent authorized by appointment or by law to receive service of process," which is not in compliance with FRBP 7004(b)(3).

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED-IN-PART and the Debtor is authorized to reject the Leases as of July 8, 2020, subject to the Debtor filing a declaration confirming that Work Better received actual notice of the Motion or demonstrating that its service complies with Rule 7004(b)(3) by no later than August 7, 2020. Furthermore, the Debtor is authorized to abandon the personal property discussed in the Motion.

June 19, 2020 (the “Petition Date”). The Debtor is a financial information web portal that offers news and information regarding financial markets in Chinese.

Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtor maintained several business offices in leased nonresidential space, which includes locations at The Renaissance Tower, 136-33 37th Ave., Unit 9D, Flushing, NY 11354 (the “Flushing Premise”) and Work Better, 40 Wall Street, 28th Floor, Suite F, New York, NY 10005 (the “New York Premise,” collectively with the Flushing Premise, the “Leased Premises”). Twenty days following the Petition Date, on July 8, 2020, the Debtor filed a motion seeking authorization, inter alia, to (a) reject the unexpired lease agreements on the Leased Premises nunc pro tunc to the Petition Date (the “Leases”) and (b) abandon certain personal property left within the premises (the “Motion”).

The Motion

The Debtor makes the following principal points, arguments, and representations in support of the Motion:

To further its objective of downsizing operations, the Debtor vacated the Leased Premises prior to the Petition Date. The Debtor expects that by rejecting the Leases, the estate stands to save over $10,000 per month in rental dues and costs. Pursuant to § 365(a), the Motion seeks to reject the unexpired Leases, “including any guaranties thereof and any amendments, modifications, or subleases thereto.” Motion at 4. Based on the Debtor’s business judgment, assuming the Leases provides no benefit to creditors, and the rental costs imposed by the Leases constitute a waste of estate assets. Any benefit realized by retaining or subletting the Leases is marginal and surpassed by the associated administrative expense. Further, although it removed most items of meaningful value, the Debtor left certain personal property at the premises. Pursuant to § 554(a), the Debtor should be permitted to abandon that property because it is “burdensome to the estate or...of inconsequential value and benefit to the estate.”

Additionally, the Court should exercise its discretion to approve the rejection of the Leases retroactively to the Petition Date, thereby circumventing rental dues and other costs. In certain cases, courts have granted nunc pro tunc relief where a debtor vacates the property pre-petition and expeditiously files the rejection motion. See, e.g., In re Amber’s Stores, 193 B.R. 819 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 1996). Nunc pro tunc relief should ordered here as the Debtor both moved out of the Leased Premises and informed the landlords of its intention to vacate before the commencement of the case. The retroactive rejection of the Leases will not prejudice the landlords because Debtor’s early departure permits them to locate a new tenant. As the Debtor delivered prior notice of abandonment, the landlords should not be allowed to offset any outstanding amounts against Debtor's rental deposits, but instead file proofs of claims based on their efforts to mitigate losses.

The Response

On July 22, 2020, K & G-37 Ave Realty, LLC ("K&G") submitted a response to the Debtor's Motion (the "Response"). In short, K&G does not object to the rejection of the lease or the abandonment request, but it does oppose the extraordinary relief sought by the Debtor. K&G makes the following principal points, arguments, and representations by way of the Response:

On or about March 1, 2018, the Debtor and K&G entered into a lease agreement for the Flushing Premise (the "Flushing Lease"). The term of the Flushing Lease was 36 months commencing on March 1, 2018 and ending on February 28, 2021. See Section IV of the Flushing Lease. To ensure its performance on the Flushing Lease, the Debtor deposited the sum of $23,829.69 with K&G (the "Deposit"). See Section XXVIII of the Flushing Lease. On March 1, 2018, the Debtor's president executed a personal guaranty of any amounts due under the Flushing Lease (the "Guaranty"). See Response, Ex. 1. Currently, the Debtor is responsible for paying $7,426.30 per month in rent and $943.23 per month in maintenance charges. The Debtor has failed to tender any amounts due for the months of April, May, June, or July, and currently owes approximately $25,108.59 for pre-petition charges and has accrued debts of approximately $8,369.53 post-petition. An additional $8,369.53 will be due on August 1, 2020, bringing total post-petition rent and maintenance charges to $16,739.06. Furthermore, pursuant to a rent concession clause in Section IV of the Flushing Lease, the Debtor will owe an additional $1,750.02 at the time the lease is rejected. Therefore, K&G's rejection damages will easily surpass the Deposit amount.

K&G contends that the Court should reject the following extraordinary relief requested by the Debtor. First, the Debtor has failed to provide any legal authority supporting the cancellation of Guaranty. The Guaranty is an agreement that imposes a financial obligation against a non-debtor party and is independent of the Flushing Lease.

Second, the Debtor fails to satisfy the factors enumerated by the Ninth Circuit in In re Meatco Provisions, LLC, 2013 Bankr. LEXIS 2850 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. July 16, 2013) with respect to the request for retroactive rejection of the Flushing Lease. As set forth in In re Meatco, retroactive rejection of a lease is appropriate where (1) the debtor filed the rejection motion immediately; (2) the debtor set the rejection motion for a hearing without delay; (3) the leased premises were vacated; and (4) the conduct and motivations of the landlord weighs in favor of the debtor. Here, the Debtor delayed for nearly a month in filing the Motion, and then failed to set it on expedited basis. Instead, the Debtor waited to file the Motion until July, and will not be heard until August 5, 2020. The Debtor's filing timeline has prejudiced K&G because rent and maintenance expenses have not been paid in months. Critically, while the Debtor has left the Flushing Premise, it has neglected to surrender possession as the office keys have not been returned to K&G. The cases where courts have granted retroactive rejection of leases are inapposite to the situation at hand. See, e.g., In re O'Neil Theatres, Inc., 257 BR. 806 (Bankr. E.D. La. 2000); Duke Realty Ltd. P'ship v. N. Metro Mill Work Distribs. (In re Manis Lumber Co.), 430 B.R. 269 (Bank. N.D. Ga. 2009). Therefore, Debtor's extraordinary relief is not warranted here. Alternatively, the Debtor should only be allowed to reject the Flushing Lease nunc pro tunc to the filing date of the Motion.

Finally, with respect to the setoff against the Deposit, § 365(h), the sole legal authority cited in support of the Debtor's position, is inapplicable because that section only applies in cases where the debtor is the lessor, but here, the Debtor is the lessee. Moreover, courts in this jurisdiction have previously held that a rental deposit can be applied against § 502(b)(6) claims. See, e.g., In re Connectix Corp. 372 B.R. 488 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2007). K&G may utilize the Deposit to satisfy any pre-petition debts without prior court authorization, but in the alternative, K&G requests permission to do so.

The Reply

Below is a summary of the principal points, arguments, and representations set forth in the Debtor's Reply [Doc. No. 110] filed on July 29, 2020:

The presence of additional critical facts discussed in the supplemental declaration of Melissa Armstrong [Doc. No. 110] ("Armstrong Supp. Decl."), the Debtor's general in-house counsel, supports nunc pro tunc relief requested. Due to the impact of COVID-19 in New York, state and local authorities shut down all businesses on March 22, 2020, thereby making use of the Flushing Premise "nearly impossible." Reply at 2. The Debtor's decision to vacate the premises on or about June 5, 2020 was a direct result of the state's stay at home orders. The decision to vacate was also based on the Debtor's concern for the safety of its employees as the Flushing Premise is situated near medical offices, where the testing of COVID-19 was regularly being performed at the time. Armstrong Supp. Decl., ¶ 8. Accordingly, the Debtor was "legally" prohibited from accessing the Flushing Premise. Id. For that reason, the Debtor hired a third-party service to remove valuable personal property and clean the premises. Id.

On or around June 5, 2020, the Debtor notified K&G of its intention to vacate the Flushing Premise. Id. at ¶ 8. K&G is required to mitigate its purported losses caused by the stay at home order in New York. On June 22, 2020, Flushing entered into Phase II of the state's reopening plan, which allowed business offices to operate in a limited capacity. Given that the Debtor has not heard from K&G about a Phase II reopening of the Flushing Premise, it assumes that K&G has not allowed tenants to conduct business activities at the location. Armstrong Supp. Decl., ¶ 7. Therefore, the Debtor's nunc pro tunc relief should be granted and K&G must not satisfy its outstanding claims against the Deposit.

Aside from K&G, no other party has filed a response to the Motion.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Proof of Service Does Not Reflect Proper Service on Work Better

Schedule D indicates that Work Better is the Debtor's lessor on the New York Premise. Bankruptcy Rules 6006(a), 9014(b), and 7004(b)(3) require the Motion to be served on Work Better "to the attention of an officer, a managing or general agent, or to any other agent authorized by appointment or by law to receive service of process." Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7004(b)(3). The proof of service does not reflect service on Work Better as required by 7004(b)(3) because service is not directed to the attention of an officer, a managing or general agent, or any other proper representative.

By no later than August 7, 2020, the Debtor is directed to file a declaration confirming that Work Better received actual notice of the Motion or demonstrating that its service complies with Rule 7004(b)(3).

B. Lease Rejection

Under 11 U.S.C. § 365(a), a debtor in possession "may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." 11 U.S.C. § 365(a). "A bankruptcy court's hearing on a motion to reject is a summary proceeding that involves only a cursory review of a [debtor's] decision to reject the contract." Durkin v. Benedor Corp. (In re G.I Indus.), 204 F.3d 1276, 1282 (9th Cir. 2000). "Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor's] rejection decision." Id. A court should approve the rejection decision unless it finds that the debtor's conclusion that rejection would be advantageous is so "manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice." Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007) (internal citation omitted).

Here, the Debtor claims that it moved out of the Leased Premises in an attempt to downsize its business operations and the estate has no further need to maintain the lease agreements. See Armstrong Decl. [Doc. No. 47], ¶ 4. The Debtor asserts that by rejecting the Leases the estate will avoid over $20,000 in anticipated rental expenses and maintenance costs. The costs associated with the Leases will continue to consume estate resources, unless the Motion is approved. Accordingly, the Court approves the Debtor's sound business judgment to reject the Leases as doing so is in the best interest of the estate. [Note 1]

Next, the Debtor requests that the Court deem the rejection of the Leases nunc pro tunc to the Petition Date. In support, the Debtor cites Pacific Shores Development, LLC v. At Home Corporation (In re At Home Corporation), 392 F.3d 1064, 1071 (9th Cir. 2004). K&G objects to this extraordinary relief because, inter alia, the Debtor did not immediately file the Motion and set it for a hearing; the Debtor has not surrendered possession by failing to return the keys to the premises; and K&G has been prejudiced in its inability to re-let the premises. Accordingly, the Debtor argues for a retroactive rejection date of June 18, 2020, while K&G argues for rejection as of the date of entry of the order on the Motion.

In In re At Home Corporation, the Ninth Circuit identified four non-exclusive factors to be applied by a bankruptcy court in ascertaining whether "exceptional circumstances" warranted retroactive rejection of a lease:

- (1) the debtor's immediate filing of a motion to reject the lease;
- (2) a debtor's prompt action in setting that motion for hearing;
- (3) the vacancy of the leased premises; and
- (4) the landlord's conduct and motivation in opposing a retroactive rejection of the lease.

392 F.3d at 1072. "There is nothing in either At Home or the line of authority relied upon by the Ninth Circuit in adopting its retroactive lease rejection standard that expressly limits the bankruptcy court's equitable authority to establish a retroactive rejection date no earlier than the motion filing date. In re New Meatco Provisions, LLC, No. 2:13-BK-22155-PC, 2013 WL 3760129, at *4 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. July 16, 2013), aff'd, No. BAP CC-13-1319, 2014 WL 2446314 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. May 30,

In consideration of the first factor, the Debtor filed the rejection motion on July 8, 2020, twenty days after the Petition Date. The Debtor could have submitted the Motion with a collection of first day motions heard on an emergency basis on June 30, 2020. The Debtor's decision to briefly delay the filing is unexplained. Relatedly, consideration of the Motion was not sought on an expedited basis and a hearing is set for August 5, 2020, forty-eight days after the Petition Date. The court in In re Meatco found "no appreciable delay," where a debtor set a rejection motion on regular notice and secured the rejection order within thirty-five days. To the extent that the Debtor was capable of immediately filing and serving the rejection motion with other first day motions, this factor favors K&G's position. However, the fact that the earliest Debtor will obtain a rejection order is August 5, 2020 presents "no appreciable delay," which is slightly longer than the time it took the debtor to secure a rejection order in In re Meatco. See No. 2:13-BK-22155-PC, 2013 WL 3760129, at *5. There is no evidence on record that Debtor calculatngly sought to postpone rejection by failing to move on an emergency basis. At the outset of this case, the Debtor had already incurred the expense to vacate the Flushing Premise, remove valuable personal property, and leave the leased space in a clean condition. See Armstrong Supp. Decl., ¶ 8. This factor weighs in Debtor's favor. Third, the parties do not dispute that the Debtor vacated the Flushing Premise pre-petition on or about June 5, 2020, and that it provided notice to K&G of its intention to do so during that time. The fact that Debtor has not returned K&G keys of the leased spaced goes to the possession of the Flushing Premise. Relevantly, the Ninth Circuit has stated that the "retroactive date of rejection need not be on or after the date on which the landlord regains possession." In re At Home Corporation, 392 F.3d at 1075 (affirming the retroactive rejection of a lease to a date prior to the repossession of the premises by the landlord). Therefore, the Court places limited persuasive value on K&G's argument; this factor favors the Debtor. Finally, K&G argues that retroactive rejection should be denied as it has been prevented from re-letting the premises. However, Debtor assumes that K&G has not made the facilities available for business activities as it has not made any general announcements about the Phase II reopening. The Court accepts K&G's motivations in opposing retroactive rejection and finds the final factor in its favor.

Having weighed the abovementioned factors, the Court determines that it is appropriate to deem the Leases rejected as of July 8, 2020, the filing date of the rejection motion. In reaching this conclusion, the Court principally notes that the Debtor did not immediately file the Motion, but that it did expeditiously vacate the Flushing Premise weeks prior to the Petition Date.

C. Abandonment of Personal Property

Under 11 U.S.C. § 554(a), "after noticed and a hearing, the trustee may abandon any property of the estate that is burdensome to the estate or that is of inconsequential value and benefit to the estate." Based on the Debtor's representations, as well as the lack of opposition from any party in interest, the Court finds that the personal property in question is of inconsequential value and benefit to the estate. Therefore, the Debtor is authorized to abandon the personal property discussed in the Motion.

D. The Deposit

The Debtor's request concerning the Deposit is inadequately briefed by both parties, and, in any case, the issue lies outside the scope of a lease rejection proceeding. See Durkin v. Bendor Corp. (In re G.I Indus.), 204 F.3d at 1282 ("A bankruptcy court's hearing on a motion to reject is a summary proceeding that involves only a cursory review of a [debtor's] decision to reject the contract."). K&G is instructed to file a proof of claim, indicating the total amount claimed against the Debtor under § 502(b)(6). K&G may submit a motion supporting its purported right to apply its claims against the Deposit. No action shall be taken against the Deposit absent further order of the Court.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED-IN-PART and the Debtor is authorized to reject the Leases as of July 8, 2020, subject to the Debtor filing a declaration confirming that Work Better received actual notice of the Motion or demonstrating that its service on the complies with Rule 7004(b)(3). Furthermore, the Debtor is authorized to abandon the personal property discussed in the Motion.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

5/6/2019

For the reasons set forth below, CONTINUE HEARING to September 18, 2019 at 11:00 a.m.

Creditor Ball C M, Inc. ("Movant") seeks an order disallowing the Debtor's $175,000 homestead exemption pursuant to § 522(o) [Doc. No. 27] (the "Objection to Homestead Exemption"). Section 522(o) "provides that the value of property claimed as a homestead must be reduced to the extent that the value is attributable to any fraudulent transfers of nonexempt property made by the debtor within 10 years prepetition." In re McNabb, 326 B.R. 785, 787-88 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2005) (citing 11 U.S.C. § 522(o)). "In light of Congress' adoption in section 522(o) of the identical 'intent to hinder, delay or defraud' language found in section 548(a)(1)(A) and section 727(a)(2), courts may look to case law under these sections for guidance in construing the requisite intent under section 522(o)." 4 Collier on Bankruptcy, ¶ 522.08 (16th ed. 2019). Accordingly, a debtor's exemptible interest in homestead property should not be reduced absent a showing of specific intent to hinder, delay or defraud, but a party may rely upon certain "badges of fraud" to prove the existence of actual fraud. Id.

On March 7, 2019, Movant initiated an adversary proceeding against the Debtor by filing a complaint (the "Complaint") asserting claims under §§ 523(a)(2)(A), (a)(4), (a)(6) and 727(a)(2), (a)(3), (a)(4), and (a)(5) [2:19-ap-01605] (the "Non-Dischargeability Action"). The allegations set forth in the Complaint are substantially similar to the assertions underlying Movant's Objection to Homestead Exemption. Accordingly, it appears that any ruling with respect to the instant motion may have preclusive effect and potentially interfere with the Non-Dischargeability Action. Therefore, the Court finds it appropriate to defer ruling on the Objection to Homestead Exemption until the Non-Dischargeability Action has concluded.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

The parties shall appear to clarify the status of the Small Claims Action. Movant has not provided sufficient evidence in support of her contention that the Small Claims Action will be dismissed on August 13, 2020 if stay relief is not granted. If the Small Claims Action is likely to be dismissed on August 13, 2020, the Court would be inclined to lift the stay as to the Small Claims Action, with stay relief taking effect on August 11, 2020.

Chapter 11

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the “Petition Date”), Verity Health System of California, Inc. (“VHS”) and certain of its subsidiaries filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors’ cases are being jointly administered.

This is a continued hearing on a Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 [Doc. No. 5069] (the “Motion”) filed by Natalie Nguyen (“Movant”). The prior hearing was conducted on August 3, 2020 (the “Prior Hearing”). The Debtors were not required to appear at the Prior Hearing because they submitted on the Court’s tentative ruling (the “Prior Tentative,” attached as Exhibit A and incorporated herein by reference; capitalized terms not defined herein have the meaning set forth in the Prior Tentative). In the Prior Tentative, the Court (1) lifted the stay to allow Movant to litigate the Small Claims Action, with stay relief to take effect on October 1, 2020; (2) found that the Movant’s filing of the Superior Court Action was void as a violation of the automatic stay; and (3) denied Movant’s requests to lift and retroactively annul the stay with respect to the Superior Court Action, based on a finding that Movant filed the Superior Court Action even though she knew that the automatic stay was in effect.

At the Prior Hearing, Movant appeared and represented that that the Small Claims Action would be dismissed on August 13, 2020 absent stay relief. The Court set this continued hearing to enable the Debtors to respond to Movant’s request that stay relief take effect prior to August 13, 2020. See Doc. No. 5327.

Subsequent to issuance of the Prior Tentative, Movant filed with the Court a series of letters in support of the Motion (the “Untimely Reply”). In the Untimely Reply, Movant argues that the Small Claims Action has merit and reiterates her contention that unless stay relief takes effect prior to August 13, 2020, the Small Claims Action will be dismissed and Movant will lose the opportunity to present her claims. Movant alleges that the Untimely Reply was served upon the Debtors, but the Untimely Reply does not contain a properly executed Proof of Service supporting this allegation.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Court maintains the ruling in the Prior Tentative to deny stay relief with respect to the Superior Court Action. Nothing in the Untimely Reply or in Movant’s oral presentation at the Prior Hearing rebuts the Court’s findings that Movant filed the Superior Court Action despite knowing that the automatic stay was in effect. Therefore, as set forth in the Prior Tentative, Movant is not entitled to retroactive annulment of the stay with respect to the Superior Court Action; the filing of the Superior Court Complaint is void and of no effect; and there is consequently no cause for granting stay relief as to the Superior Court Complaint since Movant cannot prosecute the Superior Court Complaint absent retroactive annulment.

Turning to the Small Claims Action, the parties shall appear to provide the Court additional information regarding the status of that action. Movant alleges that the Small Claims Action will be dismissed on August 13, 2020 absent stay relief, but has not supplied the Court with any relevant pleadings substantiating that allegation. The Court has conducted an independent review of the docket in the Small Claims Action, but the Court has access only to generic descriptions of the pleadings on file in that action, not the pleadings themselves. The docket states that that a non-appearance case review is set for August 13, 2020. The record before the Court does not reflect whether dismissal is likely to occur at the non-appearance case review. If the Small Claims Action is likely to be dismissed on August 13, 2020, the Court would be inclined to lift the stay as to the Small Claims Action, with stay relief to take effect as of August 11, 2020.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is DENIED as to the Superior Court Action. The Motion is GRANTED as to the Small Claims Action, but stay relief shall not take effect until October 1, 2020.

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered.

Natalie Nguyen ("Movant"), proceeding in pro se, seeks stay relief, pursuant to § 362(d)(1), for the purpose of litigating (1) an action seeking recovery of unpaid wages in the amount of $9,999, pending in the small claims court (the "Small Claims Action," and the complaint commencing the Small Claims Action, the "Small Claims Complaint") and (2) an action seeking recovery of unpaid wages in the amount of $26,000, pending in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "Superior Court Action," and the complaint commencing the Superior Court Action, the "Superior Court Complaint").

Both actions were filed subsequent to the Petition Date. The Small Claims Complaint was filed on June 11, 2019; the Superior Court Complaint was filed on June 5, 2020. Movant asserts that the stay should be retroactively annulled because she was not aware of the bankruptcy petitions. Movant states that if she does not obtain stay relief prior to November 2020, both actions will be dismissed.

Debtors oppose the Motion. According to Debtors, Movant's testimony that she was unaware of the bankruptcies when she filed the actions is false. Debtors point to a letter that was served on Movant subsequent to the filing of the Small Claims Action, which advised Movant of the automatic stay. Debtors argue that Movant should not be rewarded with stay relief on the basis of a false declaration. Debtors request that if the Court is inclined to grant the Motion, stay relief not take effect until after October 1, 2020, so that the Debtors can focus upon the sale of their remaining assets and confirmation of the Plan.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Both actions were filed in violation of the automatic stay. "[V]iolations of the automatic stay are void and of no effect." Schwartz v. United States (In re Schwartz), 954 F.2d 569, 572 (9th Cir. 1992). Unless the Court retroactively annuls the stay, granting stay relief will not enable Movant to prosecute either action, since the complaints commencing each action were filed in violation of the stay, and are therefore void and of no effect.

"[T]he proper standard for determining 'cause' to annul the automatic stay retroactively is a 'balancing of the equities' test." Fjeldsted v. Lien (In re Fjeldsted), 293 B.R. 12, 24 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2003). In weighing the equities, the general trend has been to focus on two factors: "(1) whether the creditor was aware of the bankruptcy petition; and (2) whether the debtor engaged in unreasonable or inequitable conduct, or prejudice would result to the creditor." Id.

With respect to the first factor, the record establishes that Movant was aware of the automatic stay at the time she filed the Superior Court Complaint. On June 26, 2019—approximately one year prior to the filing of the Superior Court Complaint—the Debtors sent Movant a letter informing her of the automatic stay. On June 27, 2019, the Debtors filed a Notice of Stay of Proceedings in the Small Claims Action. With respect to the second factor, there is no evidence before the Court that the Debtors have engaged in unreasonable or inequitable conduct. The Court declines to retroactively annul the stay with respect to the Superior Court Complaint. Since Movant cannot prosecute the Superior Court Complaint absent retroactive annulment, there is no cause for granting stay relief as to the Superior Court Complaint.

It is not clear from the record whether Movant was aware of the automatic stay at the time she filed the Small Claims Complaint. Movant testifies that she was not aware of the stay; however, the credibility of that testimony is undercut by Movant's inaccurate testimony regarding her awareness of the stay as of the filing of the Superior Court Complaint. On the other hand, the Debtors did not send Movant a letter advising her of the stay until after the Small Claims Complaint was filed.

Having weighed the equities, the Court finds it appropriate to retroactively annul the stay as to the Small Claims Complaint. The Debtors will not be unduly prejudiced by retroactive annulment, given that the Small Claims Complaint seeks damages of only $9,999. Pursuant to § 362(d)(1), the Court lifts the automatic stay for cause to enable Movant to prosecute the Small Claims Complaint to final judgment. The stay shall remain in effect with respect to the enforcement of any judgment against the Debtors or property of the Debtors' estate.

Stay relief shall not take effect until October 1, 2020. In determining whether the stay should be lifted to allow litigation to proceed in a non-bankruptcy forum, the most important consideration is the effect that the non-bankruptcy litigation will have upon the administration of the estate. In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799-800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984). "Even slight interference with the administration may be enough to preclude relief in the absence of a commensurate benefit." Id.

Granting stay relief at this time would require the Debtors to commit resources to defending against the Small Claims Action, which would distract the Debtors' professionals from completing tasks critical to the administration of the estates, such as selling the remaining hospitals and confirming the Plan.

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

Plaintiff has obtained final judgment in the State Court (the “State Court Judgment”) against Defendant, awarding Plaintiff damages of $225,000 for sexual battery (Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.5), gender violence (Cal. Civ. Code § 52.4), and violation of the Ralph Civil Rights Act (Cal. Civ. Code § 57.7). The portion of the State Court Judgment awarding Plaintiff attorneys’ fees in the amount of approximately $2.5 million remains subject to an appeal and is not yet final. However, the State Court Judgment’s award of costs in the amount of $84,090.34 is final.

On February 4, 2019, the Court found that the portion of the State Court Judgment awarding damages and costs was non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(6). Doc. Nos. 42 and 45–46. The Court stated that adjudication of the dischargeability of the fee portion of the State Court Judgment would occur once that aspect of the judgment became final. The fee portion of the State Court Judgment has not yet become final.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

Having reviewed the Joint Status Report filed by the parties, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The litigation deadlines previously ordered shall continue to apply, as follows:
  - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 11/14/2019.
  - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 2/25/2020.
  - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 3/26/2020.
  - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 4/14/2020. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 4/21/2020. (If the

- f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 4/25/2020. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 5/12/2020 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
  - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.

1/13/2020

The parties having reached a settlement, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The litigation deadlines previously set by the Court are VACATED.
- 2) A continued Status Conference to monitor consummation of the settlement shall be held on April 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. In the event the settlement has been consummated, the continued Status Conference will go off calendar.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Docket 1

*** VACATED *** REASON: DISMISSED 4-29-20

Tentative Ruling:

2/10/2020

Default was entered against the only Defendant in this matter on October 29, 2019. On November 25, 2019, the Court ordered the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") to file a Motion for Default Judgment (the "Motion") against the Defendant by no later than January 10, 2020. As of the date of issuance of this tentative ruling, the Motion has not been filed.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) The Trustee shall file the Motion by no later than March 10, 2020. The Motion shall be filed on a negative-notice basis, pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(o). If the Trustee does not comply with this deadline, the Court will issue an order requiring the Trustee to show cause why this action should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute.
- 2) A continued Status Conference is set for April 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report, which shall discuss the status Hwang's Chapter 7 case, shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

On December 8, 2019, Ann Tardaguila, as Trustee of the Tardaguila Living Trust dated June 16, 1999 (the "Plaintiff/Counter-defendant"), filed this non-dischargeability action against Gregory Tardaguila (the "Defendant/Counter-claimant"). Plaintiff/Counter-defendant alleges that she loaned Defendant/Counter-claimant in excess of $750,000; that Defendant/Counter-claimant failed to repay the indebtedness; and that Defendant/Counter-claimant committed actual fraud by diverting funds that could have been used to repay the indebtedness. The Complaint seeks a judgment that the indebtedness is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2) (A) and (a)(6), and seeks denial of Defendant/Counter-claimant's discharge pursuant to § 727(a)(2), (3), (4)(A), and (5).

Defendant/Counter-claimant filed a Counterclaim, in which he alleges that the note evidencing the indebtedness at issue in the Complaint (the "Note") is a sham that was created to change the character of the transaction from a gift to a loan. The Counterclaim alleges that the $750,000 loaned to Defendant/Counter-claimant was an advance upon his inheritance. The Counterclaim further alleges that the Defendant/Counter-claimant did not sign the Note until several years after the funds were advanced and that Defendant/Counter-claimant was induced to sign the Note under false pretenses. The Counterclaim (1) objects to any claim against the estate on account of the Note asserted by Plaintiff/Counter-defendant; (2) seeks cancellation of the Note; and (3) seeks damages for fraud and negligent misrepresentations.

On January 16, 2020, the Court entered an order providing that the litigation deadlines set for the Counterclaim would also apply to the Complaint. Doc. No. 21.

On February 28, 2020, the Court entered an order (1) designating the first and second counterclaims as affirmative defenses to be litigated in connection with the Complaint, (2) finding that the third and fourth counterclaims for fraud and negligent misrepresentation (the "Fraud Counterclaims") accrued prepetition, were property of the bankruptcy estate, and could be prosecuted only by the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee"), (3) directing the Trustee to file a notice stating whether he intended to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims by no later than March 13, 2020, and (4) dismissing the Fraud Counterclaims, but giving the Trustee leave to amend should he elect to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims. Doc. No. 31. The Court subsequently extended the Trustee's deadline to determine whether to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims to April 15, 2020.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In view of the extension of the Trustee's deadline to determine whether to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims, a continued Status Conference shall be held on June 16, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) A Joint Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Therese Martin Newgard (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary chapter 7 petition on March 31, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor owes primarily consumer, non-business debts, consisting of $49,150 in nonpriority unsecured debt. See Motion, Ex. 1 [Schedule E/F] at 20-3 (pages cited herein follow the ECF pagination at the top of the document). As set forth on her Means Test form (the "Debtor's Means Test"), the Debtor represents having an adjusted current monthly income ("CMI") of $9,257—annualized to $111,084—and allowed deductions of $9,488, demonstrating monthly disposable income of ($231). See Motion, Ex. 1 [the Debtor's Means Test] at 51-8. The Debtor's Means Test indicates that the presumption of abuse is not triggered because her total disposable income over the next sixty months is ($13,860), below the threshold of abuse imposed by the means test. Id. at 58.

The § 341(a) meeting of the creditors was initially set for May 7, 2020, continued to June 4, 2020 and concluded on that day. On June 10, 2020, the United States Trustee's Office (the "UST") filed a Statement of Presumed Abused and subsequently filed a motion to dismiss the Debtor's case for abuse pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 707(b) (1), (b)(2), and (b)(3) (the "Motion") on July 6, 2020 [Doc. No. 20].

Summary of the Motion

The UST moves to dismiss this case because an appropriate calculation of Debtor's monthly disposable income triggers the presumption of abuse pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(2) (the "Means Test"). According to the UST, the Debtor erroneously completed her Means Test calculations by declaring a lower monthly income and improperly claiming expense deductions. As a result, the UST explains, the Debtor significantly understated her monthly disposable income over 5 years by thousands of dollars. The UST claims that a proper Means Test calculation would show that the Debtor has a monthly disposable income of $1,579.48, after allowed deductions, equating to income of $94,768.80 over 60 months, which constitutes approximately 192% of unsecured debt of $49,150. Motion at 8. The UST furnished two revised Means Test forms (the "UST's Means Test") [Motion, Exs. 7, 9], which attempt to correct the inaccuracies contained in the Debtor's Means Test [Motion, Ex. 1 at 51-8] [Note 1]. In support of the Motion, the UST attaches the declaration of bankruptcy analyst, Yolanda Cannon, who states that the UST's Means Test is based on her review of the schedules, statements, and other financial records submitted by Debtor. See Declaration of Yolanda Cannon [Cannon Decl.], ¶ 7.

First, the UST asserts that the Debtor underreported her gross monthly income because pay advices from the 6-month lookback period demonstrate that (a) she earned average monthly wages of $9,257.18 and (b) her son earned average monthly wages of $1,446.10. As such, the Debtor should have stated a gross monthly income of $10,703.28, instead of $9,257, on Line 11 of her Means Test.

Second, the Debtor allegedly claimed improper expense deductions in the total amount of $9,488. The UST posits that the Debtor either over- or underreported the following line expense deductions on her Means Test:

1. Line 12 (Vehicle Operation Expenses, Debtor claimed $546 but was entitled to claim $746). The UST notes that the Debtor's vehicles are "aged," warranting a higher expense deduction than as claimed. Motion at 13.
2. Line 16 (Tax Withholdings, Debtor claimed $2,890, but should have claimed $2,763.06). The UST asserts that the Debtor slightly miscalculated her tax withholdings. Based on her financial records, she should have claimed a slightly lesser dollar amount for tax withholdings. Motion at 13; Cannon Decl., ¶ 22; Ex. 5.
3. Line 18 (Life Insurance Expense, the Debtor omitted expense, but was entitled to claim $103.96). The Debtor did not include this expense on her Means Test, but pay advices indicate that she incurs an average of $103.96 each month for her life insurance.
4. Line 22 (Additional Healthcare Expenses, Debtor claimed $718 each month, but should have claimed only $122.94). Based on her records, the UST notes that the Debtor's substantiated out-of-pocket healthcare expenses of $1,817 average only $302.83 per month during the lookback period. The $302.83 figure should be reduced by (a) the $55 out-of-pocket healthcare expenses allocated to the Debtor and (b) a health savings account apportionment of $124.89. The product of the UST's calculation is $122.94, the Debtor's proven additional healthcare expenses each month. See Cannon Decl., ¶ 24.
5. Line 25 (Health Insurance Expenses), Debtor claimed $684, but was entitled to claim $754.49). The UST clarifies that the Debtor miscalculated her healthcare insurance, disability insurance, and health savings account expenses, for which she should have claimed $754.49.
6. Line 31 (Charitable Deductions), Debtor claimed $250, but should have claimed $92.35 at most). The Debtor's financial records reveal that she made average charitable contributions $79.09 each month during the 6-month lookback period. However, the UST notes that the Debtor's contributions average $92.35 per month over 2019. The UST opted to include the higher dollar sum of $92.35 in its revised Means Test (Ex. 7). See Cannon Decl., ¶ 26.

7. Line 36 (Estimated Chapter 13 Administrative Expenses), Debtor should have claimed $141.35, instead of $0). The Debtor should have included the amount of administrative expenses estimated under chapter 13.

Based on the foregoing, the UST submits that the Debtor has a gross income of $10,703.28 and allowed expense deductions of $9,123.80, indicating that her disposable income is at least $1,579.48 per month—$94,758.80 over 60 months—which is enough to repay 192.8% of unsecured creditors through the next 5 years. Motion at 17. The UST notes that this revised calculation is based on the income of both the Debtor and her son, but the presumption of abuse would still be triggered if the son's earnings were excluded. Taking Debtor's income exclusively into consideration results in a monthly disposable income of $502.42 (the product of Debtor's income of $9,257.18 minus deductions of $8,754.76 [Note 1]). Hence, Debtor's disposable income over 60 months would be $30,145.20, enough to repay over 61% of unsecured claims through the same period.

Even if the Court does not find presumed abuse, the UST maintains that this case can be dismissed as "abusive" under § 707(b)(3)(B) based on the "totality of the circumstances." In summary, the UST argues that many of Debtor's actual expenses listed in Schedule J are unjustified expenditures or luxuries that the Debtor cannot afford. Accordingly, Debtor's Schedule J expenses can be reasonably reduced by $4,234.64, leaving her with a net monthly income of $1,448.36, which is more than enough to fully repay unsecured creditors in less than 60 months. See Motion at 23-7 (enumerating line item objections against Schedule J expenditures). Finally, if the Court denies this Motion, the UST requests an order extending the bar date to file a nondischargeability action under § 727.

Summary of the Opposition

On July 24, 2020, the Debtor submitted a declaration under penalty of perjury [Doc. No. 24] (the "Opposition"), asserting the following main points, arguments, and representations:

As an initial matter, the UST inappropriately combined the Debtor's son's income with her gross earnings. Until recently, the Debtor's 21-year-old son had part-time employment at an In-N-Out establishment. The son used his wages to pay for his community college education, books, vehicle maintenance expenses for his 2007 Nissan Sentra, gas, car insurance, clothing, and grooming. Debtor does not assume any control over his son's expenses, and none of his wages go toward rental dues or other necessary household expenses. Due to the COVID-19 crisis, however, the Debtor's son quit his part-time job in March 2020 to protect the Debtor from possible coronavirus contamination. The son will become a full-time student at U.C. San Diego, but he will probably continue to reside with the Debtor. The Debtor assumes continued responsibility for all of her son's necessary household expenditures.

Second, if the Court were to exclude her son's income, the Debtor's net disposable income would not trigger the presumption of abuse based on the allowed expenditures proposed by the UST ($9,257.18 minus $ 9,123.80 equals monthly dispositive income of $133.38). A monthly dispositive income of $133.38 is not presumptively abusive under § 707(b)(2). Moreover, it should be considered a "special circumstance" that since leaving his In-N-Out job, the Debtor gives her son an additional $200 a month for gas and car insurance.

Third, with respect to the "totality of the circumstances" argument, the Debtor disputes the disallowance of several expense items in Schedule J. A summary of the Debtor's arguments is set forth below:

1. Pet expenses of $105 [Note 2]. The Debtor claims to be divorced and stays at home for extended periods of time due to the pandemic. Her two cats provide her with companionship and help ease her anxiety and panic disorder, for which she has received treatment. These expenses are reasonable and necessary for her mental health.
2. Storage unit expenses of $320. Debtor lives in a small 2-bedroom house with limited closet space. The Debtor keeps "irreplaceable" mementos at the storage space, which possess no tangible value.
3. Out-of-pocket medical expenses of $773. The UST wrongly lowered her actual medical expenses, as it neglected to consider the cost of a dental procedure of $4,310 on March 20, 2020. The financial records the Debtor submitted did not support the March 20 expenditure, which was still "an estimated future cost" at the time. Instead, Debtor's records reflect payment for dental procedures done in early March. The $1,500 health savings account allotment will be applied against the early March dental costs, not the March 20 procedure.

4. Financial assistance to mother and aunt. The Debtor gives her mother an average of $374 per month for necessary living expenses. The Debtor's mother does not reside with her, but the Debtor is concerned that her social security income is insufficient to live on. Similarly, the Debtor provides her aunt financial assistance, which averages at $120 each month.
5. Charitable Expenses of $190. The Debtor asserts that the $190 she contributes to the Boy Scouts of America each month is necessary for her ongoing training as a scout leader, a position she has held since 2010.

Finally, the Debtor contends that there are "special circumstances" that will result in increased expenditures in the near future. First, the Debtor's vehicle (a 2002 Toyota Camry) will need to be replaced with "a modestly priced new car" such as a 2020 Toyota RAV4, which would cost approximately $26,000. This purchase will increase the Debtor's monthly expenses by $413 or more. See Opposition at 10. Second, the Debtor appeals that her 401K contribution of $182 should be counted as a "special circumstance" expense. The Debtor does not believe that she will be able to subsist on a social security wage once she retires in a few years. Furthermore, the Debtor explains that the Las Vegas trip with her family was organized to celebrate her mother's and son's birthday. The Debtor chose Las Vegas as "the rooms and the food would be cheaper than anywhere else that [they] could have gone." The Debtor estimates that she spent about $1,000 out-of-pocket for the entire trip. Based on Debtor's additional expenditures, disclosed for the first time in the Opposition, her monthly dispositive income is ($605) and her actual net monthly income is ($513).

Summary of the Reply

On July 30, 2020, the UST submitted a reply [Doc. No. 25] (the "Reply"), with a copy of the § 341(a) Meeting of the Creditors transcript affixed thereto (the "Transcript"), making the following main points, arguments, and representations:

Even without considering the son's earnings, the monthly dispositive income of the Debtor alone is sufficient to trigger the presumption of abuse. None of the "special circumstances" listed by the Debtor rise to the level of the exigent situations contemplated under § 707(b)(2), i.e. a "serious medical condition" or a "a call or order to active duty in the Armed Forces." The Debtor's argument that her retirement contributions should be considered a "special circumstance" misses the mark. Pursuant to Ninth Circuit precedent, "voluntary retirement contributions are per se not a necessary expense," and they are "neither extraordinary nor rare." See In re Egebjerg, 574 F.3d 1045, 1051-52 (9th Cir. 2009). In addition, the desire to buy a new car cannot be a special circumstance, as such expense would place an untenable burden of $413 each month on her purportedly negative monthly income of ($513). The Debtor should not be allowed to use chapter 7 relief to maintain her discretionary spending while not paying her unsecured creditors anything.

With respect the totality of the circumstances under § 707(b)(3)(B), the Debtor's expenses can be reduced by about $4,234.64 based on the financial records proffered to the UST. However, the Debtor does not wish to reduce her discretionary spending, as she is now attempting to increase her expenditures by an additional $513 than the amount originally reported on her Schedule J. Many of the Debtor's expenses are excessive and neither necessary nor reasonable. For example, removing the storage rental expense of $320 altogether would enable the Debtor to pay 39% of creditors over 5 years. Even more disconcerting is that the 5-year rental cost of the unit exceeds the value of stored items by about $9,000. Bankruptcy courts have dismissed chapter 7 cases under the "totality of the circumstance" if debtors can pay at least 19% of unsecured claims. See In re Pak, 343 B.R. 239 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2006). To recap, the Debtor's proven necessary expenses total $4,234.64, of which $1,750 is allocated to rent and $2,484.64 to food, household expenses, gas, and insurance each month. The UST argues that this is a reasonable sum of expenses and would leave Debtor a monthly net income of $1,448.36. After accounting for chapter 13 expenses, the Debtor would be capable of paying all unsecured claims in 37 months. Alternatively, Debtor's case should be dismissed as abusive under the totality of the circumstances.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. The Debtor's Case is Presumptively Abusive

This Court has explained the function and purpose of the Means Test as follows:

Among the significant changes effected by the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005 ("BAPCPA") was the introduction of the § 707(b)(2) Means Test. Designed to ferret out abusive bankruptcy petitions, the Means Test creates a "presumption of abuse" if the debtor's

Current Monthly Income (CMI)—as determined by a detailed statutory formula—is above a certain amount. Debtors unable to rebut the presumption of abuse may have their cases dismissed or be required to fund a Chapter 13 plan. However, even debtors who survive the Means Test may see their cases dismissed pursuant to § 707(b)(3)(B), which permits the Court to dismiss a case if "the totality of the circumstances ... of the debtor's financial situation demonstrates abuse."

In re Jensen, 407 B.R. 378, 380–81 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2009).

1. The Debtor's CMI is $9,257.18

"Current monthly income" ("CMI") for purposes of the Means Test calculation is defined as the "average monthly income from all sources that the debtor receives ... during the 6-month period ending on the last day of the calendar month immediately preceding the date of the commencement of the case ...." 11 U.S.C. § 101(10A).

For the purposes of the Means Test calculation, the Court determines that the Debtor has a CMI of $9,257.18. Both the Debtor and the UST acknowledge that the Debtor's son ceased working sometime in March 2020, during the 6-month lookback period. See Opposition at 4, ¶ 7; Reply at 4. In reaching this conclusion, the Court need not determine whether the son's earnings constitute "current monthly income" as defined under § 101(10A).

2. The Debtor is entitled to claim deductions totaling $8,776.52

The Debtor's Means Test indicates that Debtor claimed monthly income deductions of $9,488. See Motion, Ex. 1 at 58. Meanwhile, the UST's position rests on the claim that Debtor inaccurately completed the Means Test with respect to seven itemized deductions: Lines 12 (vehicle operation expenses), 16 (tax withholdings), 18 (life insurance expense), 22 (additional healthcare expense), 25 (healthcare insurance expenses), 31 (charitable contributions), and 36 (estimated chapter 13 expenses). Based on the UST's amended Means Test, the Debtor should have only claimed $8,754.76 in deduction allowances. See Motion, Ex. 9.

The Code provides that a debtor's monthly expense allowances consist of "the debtor's applicable monthly expense amounts specified under the National Standards and Local Standards." See 11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(2)(A)(ii)(I). The House Report issued concurrently with BAPCPA explains that the relevant standards are those listed in the Internal Revenue Service Financial Analysis Handbook (the "IRS Handbook") as Necessary Expenses under the National and Local Standards categories. H.R.Rep. No. 109–31 at 13–14 (2005), U.S. Code Cong. & Admin. News 2005, p. 88 (footnotes omitted). The IRS Handbook is part of the IRS's Internal Revenue Manual (the "IRM"). H.R.Rep. No. 109–31 at 13, n. 62. "[T]he local standards for housing, utilities, and transportation serve as a cap. The taxpayer is allowed the local standard or the amount actually paid, whichever is less." IRM § 5.19.1.4.3.2(2) (emphasis omitted). "If a debtor's actual expenses exceed the amounts listed in [the IRS's] National and Local Standards tables, the debtor may claim an allowance only for the specified sum, rather than for his real expenditures." Ransom v. FIA Card Servs., N.A., 562 U.S. 61, 131 S. Ct. 716, 178 L. Ed. 2d 603 (2011). "Ransom instructs that the [IRM], may be relevant and even persuasive authority to the extent it helps interpret the National Standards and Local Standards and to the extent it does not conflict with the Bankruptcy Code." In re Luedtke, 508 B.R. 408, 415 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2014).

Out of the seven expense item amendments proposed by the UST, only four address overstated itemized deductions: Line 12 (vehicles operation expenses), Line 16 (tax withholdings), Line 22 (additional out-of-pocket healthcare expenses), and Line 31 (charitable deductions). For the other three items, the UST avers that the Debtor should have claimed a higher deduction. As such, the Court will focus its discussion on the four itemized deductions that the UST contends were unjustifiably inflated. The Court is persuaded that the remaining itemized deductions are accurate as represented by the Debtor in her Means Test (Exhibit 1) or as amended by the UST (Exhibit 9).

i) Line 12 – Vehicle Operating Expenses

The Debtor's Means Test claims expense deductions for vehicle operating expenses in the amount of $546, while the figure cited in the UST's Means Test is $473. See Motion, Ex. 9. Part 5, Chapter 15, Section 1 of the IRM sets forth the scope of transportation expenses that are part of the Local Standards and provides procedures on how IRS employees should assess such allowable expenses. Section 1 instructs that taxpayers shall be "allow[ed] the full operating standard amount, or the amount actually claimed by the taxpayer, whichever is less." IRM § 5.15.1.10 (2019) (emphasis omitted). If a vehicle-owning debtor is not responsible for any car payments, only operating expenses shall be allowed. See id. Furthermore, in determining which outlays are considered necessary transportation expenses, section 1 counsels that:

Transportation expenses are considered necessary when they are used by taxpayers and their families to provide for their health and welfare and/or the production of income... Expenses that appear to be excessive should be questioned and, in appropriate situations, disallowed.

See id. As of the Petition Date, the standard operating amount allowed for a household with two vehicles in Los Angeles is $508. See Local Standards: Transportation, IRS, <https://www.irs.gov/businesses/small-businesses-self-employed/local-standards-transportation> (last accessed on August 9, 2020). Because there are two functioning vehicles in the Debtor's household (one operated by Debtor and the other one by her son), the Court concludes that Debtor is entitled to claim an expense deduction of $508 for vehicle operating costs. In her testimony presented at the § 341(a) Meeting of Creditors, the Debtor asserted that a third vehicle (a 1998 Forerunner) was not in working condition: "I drove that car into the ground, in 2017. It's been sitting idle." Transcript [Doc. No. 26] at 11:18-23. Any costs associated with the third inoperable vehicle are deemed to be excessive and are disallowed. See IRM § 5.15.1.10 ("A single taxpayer is normally allowed ownership and operating costs for one vehicle"); see also In re Luedtke, 508 B.R. 408 (finding that the allowance of an older vehicle operating expense on a debtor's mean test was "at odds with" § 707(b)(2)(A)). Therefore, the Debtor is entitled to claim vehicle operating expenses of $508.

ii) Line 16 – Tax Withholdings

The Debtor concedes that the tax withholdings deduction of $2,763.06, the figure cited by the UST in the revised Means Test, is justified. Opposition at 12. The Court agrees that this amount is supported by the record evidence submitted by Debtor. See Motion, Exs. 5, 9.

iii) Line 22 – Additional Healthcare Expenses

The Debtor's Means Test claims an expense deduction for additional healthcare expenses averaging $718 per month. The UST counters that Debtor's records only provide support for expenditures averaging $302.83 per month. In addition, this figure should be reduced to $122.94 per month on account of the Debtor's standard healthcare deduction of $55 and application of her health savings account allocation of $124.89. In the Opposition, the Debtor explains that the higher expense amount is based on future out-of-pocket healthcare costs in relation to a dental procedure plan prescribed on or about March 20, 2020. See Opposition at 7; Motion, Ex. 4 at 163 (a copy of Debtor's treatment plan). In other words, the Debtor has not yet incurred out-of-pocket costs pursuant to the treatment plan. This expense is contingent on external factors outside of the Debtor's control as indicated by her own statements:

It was hard for me to get an estimate from my current and new dentist. We just started our relationship in early March and then went on hiatus 3/11 when the stay at home orders were formulating. So I can't follow up, get more work done, etc... unless it's an emergency and I'm confident that I am protected from being exposed to Covid.

Id. at 160-61. Part 5, Chapter 15, Section 1 of the IRM clarifies that "all deviations from the national standards for out-of-pocket health care expenses must be verified, reasonable and documented in the case history." Here, the Debtor has proffered no documentation showing that these out-of-pocket healthcare costs have yet been sustained. The Court further notes that the treatment plan referenced only provides an estimated projection of procedure costs, which are subject to change. See Motion, Ex. 4 at 163. Therefore, the Court determines that the Debtor is only allowed to claim proven out-of-pocket healthcare deductions of $122.94. C.f. In re Luedtke, 508 B.R. at 416 (debtors "presented no evidence that would have permitted the bankruptcy court to infer that [they] had actually incurred or were virtually certain to incur a change in their transportation expenses.").

iv) Line 31 – Charitable Contributions

The Debtor asserts that her charitable offerings total an average of $190 each month, as supported by a list of expenses attached to the Opposition as Exhibit E.

At the outset, the Court notes that the list of additional contributions is inconsistent with the representations made by the Debtor in May of 2020: "[m]y charitable contributions are all for Scouting for 2019 totalling $1108.22." See Motion, Ex. 4. As set forth in Exhibit E, the Debtor now claims making an extra $1,177.42 in charitable expenditures in 2019. Second, the UST requested financial information concerning Debtor's charitable contributions more than three months ago. See Motion, Ex. 3. The Debtor had ample opportunity to supply the UST with supplemental or amended documentation. However, she offers no justification for having waited this long to give critical information relating to the UST's investigation. Based on the records the Debtor made available, the UST reached a determination to expend time and resources to file this Motion. The Court sees no reason to deviate from the expense deduction evidenced by the records supplied to the UST. Notwithstanding, having examined Debtor's untimely disclosures, the Court finds that her total charitable contributions average only $156.93 per month over the 6-month lookback period. Even considering the higher expense deduction based on Exhibit E, the Debtor's case would still trigger the presumption of abuse under § 707(b)(2), as noted below. [Note 3]. Therefore, the Debtor's proven charitable contributions over the lookback interval average $79.09 per month. See Cannon Decl., ¶ 26.

In sum, the Court determines that the Debtor is entitled to claim $8,776.52 in expense deductions for the purpose of the Means Test calculation. The revised Means Test attached as Exhibit 9 of the Motion is essentially correct, except for expense items 12 and 31 discussed above.

3. Means Test Calculation

Based on the foregoing, the presumption of abuse arises. Debtor's CMI is $9,257.18. The Debtor's total monthly expense deductions are $8,776.52. That leaves the Debtor with monthly disposable income of $480.66, or disposable income over a 60-month period of $28,839.60, which would be enough to pay off 59% of unsecured claims. The Debtor's disposable income far exceeds the $13,650 threshold triggering the presumption of abuse under §707(b)(2)(A)(i)(II).

B. The Debtor Has Failed to Rebut the Presumption of Abuse

Section 707(b)(2)(B)(i) provides that the presumption of abuse may be rebutted by "demonstrating special circumstances, such as a serious medical condition or a call or order to active duty in the Armed Forces, to the extent such special circumstances ... justify additional expenses or adjustments of current monthly income for which there is no reasonable alternative." To establish special circumstances, the Debtor must itemize each additional expense and provide "a detailed explanation of the special circumstances that make such expenses or adjustment to income necessary and reasonable." § 707(b)(2)(B)(ii). Here, the Debtor claims the existence of several special circumstances requiring consideration such as a) her desire to buy a new car (e.g., a 2020 Toyota RAV4), b) her desire to continue contributing to her 401K to retire in a few years, and c) her son's decision to leave his part-time job due to COVID-19 concerns. While the Debtor's statements appear to be well-intentioned, the occurrence of these additional expenditures does not rise to the level of an exigent situation akin to a serious medical condition or the responsibility to serve in active duty. The Court is persuaded by the UST's position that the Debtor can cut out extraneous expenses, enabling her to pay a significant portion of her unsecured debts. Therefore, the presumption of abuse arises under §707(b) and has not been rebutted. Because the Court finds that this petition is presumptively abusive, it will not consider dismissal under the totality of the circumstances test, or the UST's request to extend the deadline to object to the Debtor's discharge.

C. The Case Will Be Dismissed Unless Debtor Consents to Conversion to Chapter 13

Where the §707(b) presumption of abuse arises and has not been rebutted, the Court must dismiss the case, unless the Debtor consents to conversion to chapter 13. 11 U.S.C. § 707(b)(1). While the Motion seeks only dismissal, and not conversion, § 707(b)(1) expressly provides debtors the option to convert to chapter 13 if the Court finds that relief under chapter 7 would be abusive. Because the Court finds that Debtor is capable of repaying a significant portion of her unsecured debt, this case is suitable to proceed under chapter 13. Therefore, based upon the Debtor's election, the case will either be dismissed or converted to chapter 13.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED. Over a sixty-month period, the Debtor is projected to have $28,839.60 in income available to repay 59% of unsecured claims. The §707(b) presumption of abuse arises and has not been rebutted. Following from this finding, the case will be dismissed, unless the Debtor consents to conversion to chapter 13.

The Debtor's counsel is instructed to make a telephone appearance to advise the Court whether the Debtor consents to conversion to chapter 13. The UST is not required to appear, unless the Debtor plans to respond to the tentative ruling. If the Debtor intends to respond to the tentative ruling, her counsel must advise the UST's attorney of her intention to do so, on a timely basis, prior to the hearing.

Note 1: The revised means test forms on Exhibits 7 and 9 are substantially similar, with the exception of two line items. The means test form on Exhibit 9 represents the Debtor's income and expenses, without consideration of the Debtor's son's income. The lower expense deductions provided in Exhibit 9 reflect line item modifications for (a) vehicle expenses, from $746 to $473 (one of the Debtor's vehicles is currently not operative and "sitting idle") and (b) chapter 13 estimated expenses from $141.35 to $44.96 (on account that Debtor's son's income would not go towards monthly plan payments).

Note 2: Without apparent explanation, the Debtor increases her pet expenses from $80 to $105.

Note 3: Even if the Court were to accept Debtor's additional charitable contributions, her allowed expense deductions throughout the 6-month lookback period would only increase to $8,881.03. That figure would still leave her with disposable income of $22,423.80, aggregated over 60 months, exceeding the presumption threshold by approximately $14,000.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018, Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' case are being jointly administered. The Debtors seek approval of a settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") between Debtor St. Vincent Medical Center ("SVMC"), on the one hand, and Central Health Plan of California, Inc. ("CHP"), Central Health MSO, Inc.

("CHMSO") and Seoul Medical Group, Inc. ("SMG"), on the other hand. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

A. Background

SVMC and CHP are parties to a Full Risk Hospital Services Agreement dated May 1, 2017 (the "Full Risk Agreement"), under which CHP agreed to pay monthly capitation payments to SVMC on a per member/per month basis for those enrollees of a certain Medicare plan offered by CHP who were assigned a primary care physician at SMG (the "Capitated Members"). Under the terms of the Full Risk Agreement, SVMC assumed financial responsibility for certain facility services rendered to Capitated Members in exchange for per member/per month payments from CHP.

SVMC and SMG were parties to a Healthcare Services Risk Sharing Agreement dated May 1, 2017 (the "Risk-Sharing Agreement"), under which SMG agreed to coordinate and manage the use of facility services rendered by SVMC to Capitated Members of SMG in exchange for compensation as set forth in the Risk-Sharing Agreement.

SVMC and CHMSO were parties to a Management Services Agreement dated May 1, 2017 (the "Management Agreement") under which CHMSO agreed to administer claims under the Full Risk Agreement and prepare risk pool reports in exchange for compensation as set forth in the Management Agreement.

On August 28, 2018, CHP notified SVMC that, effective August 24, 2018, CHP and SMG had mutually agreed to assign the financial responsibility for the Capitated Members from SVMC back to CHP. CHP ceased making per member/per month payments to SVMC under the Full Risk Agreement for the months of September through December 2018, and thereafter.

On September 4, 2018, CHP notified SVMC that, effective August 31, 2018, CHP would terminate the Full Risk Agreement. CHP later retracted this notice of termination but maintained that it had withdrawn, and reassumed, the delegation of responsibility to SVMC under the Full Risk Agreement.

SVMC alleges that (1) SMG breached the Risk-Sharing Agreement and wrongfully denied SVMC its anticipated per member/per month payments and ensuing share of risk pool surpluses for the months of September through December 2018; that (2) CHP breached the Full Risk Agreement by depriving SVMC of its anticipated per member/per month payments and ensuing share of risk pool surpluses for the months of September through December 2018; and that (3) CHP wrongfully interfered with SVMC's rights under the Risk-Sharing Agreement (collectively, the “SVMC Claims”). SMG and CHP deny that they breached or interfered with their respective agreements with SVMC and dispute SVMC’s allegation that it suffered damages.

On March 29, 2019, CHP filed a general unsecured claim against SVMC in the amount of not less than $4,539,112.68 (the “CHP POC”), arising from claims made, or to be made, against CHP on account of obligations incurred by SVMC to third-party providers under the Full Risk Agreement. SVMC disputes the allowability of the CHP POC.

On May 22, 2019, SMG filed two identical general unsecured claims against SVMC, each in the amount of $4,008,832.37, representing the amount SMG asserts is owed to it by SVMC under the Risk-Sharing Agreement plus attorneys’ fees (the “SMG POCs”). SVMC disputes the allowability of the SMG POCs.

On October 7, 2019, SMG asserted an administrative expense claim in the amount of $4,096,005.72, representing the amount SMG assert it is owed by SVMC under the Risk-Sharing Agreement, plus attorneys’ fees and costs (the “SMG Admin Claim”). SVMC disputes the allowability of the SMG Admin Claim.

On October 9, 2018, CHMSO filed a general unsecured claim against SVMC in the amount of $213,835.26, for unpaid management fees allegedly incurred by SVMC in July and August 2018 under the Management Agreement, and on March 29, 2019, CHMSO filed a functionally identical claim asserting the same amount on the same grounds (the “CHMSO POCs”). SVMC disputes the allowability of the CHMSO Claims.

B. Summary of the Settlement Agreement

The Settlement Agreement resolves all claims, obligations, and liabilities between SVMC, SMG, and CHMSO arising from or related to the Full Risk Agreement, the Risk-Sharing Agreement, and the Management Agreement. The Settlement Agreement does not affect the rights and liabilities of CHP and SVMC arising from or related to a separate Hospital Services Agreement dated May 1, 2016 (the “FFS Agreement”).

The Settlement Agreement takes effect once an entry approving the instant Motion becomes final and non-appealable (the “Effective Date”). The Settlement Agreement requires SMG and CHP to collectively deposit the sum of $450,000 with SVMC’s counsel, to be held in counsel’s client trust account pending the Settlement Agreement’s Effective Date. Upon the Effective Date, the CHP POC, the SMG POCs, the CHMSO POCs, and the SMG Admin Claim shall be deemed withdrawn with prejudice. Under the Settlement Agreement, the Parties acknowledge that the Risk-Sharing Agreement lapsed by its terms on December 31, 2018, and the Parties agree that the Full Risk Agreement shall be deemed terminated by mutual consent and without further liability as of January 31, 2020.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair, and reasonable, and is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Probability of Success on the Merits

Although SVMC believes that it will prevail in the prosecution of the SVMC Claims, SMG and CHP have asserted various defenses to the SVMC Claims, and SMG and CHP have counter-claims that they could attempt to assert as setoffs to the SVMC Claims. Success on the merits in excess of the amount to be paid to SVMC under the Settlement Agreement cannot be guaranteed. As a result, this factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement.

Complexity of the Litigation

The dispute is in the pre-litigation phase. Absent settlement, additional discovery and document review will be required. Litigation of the issues would likely require the introduction of expert testimony, which would prove expensive. Consequently, this factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement.

Paramount Interests of Creditors

No creditors have objected to the Settlement Agreement, and the Settlement Agreement provides a recovery of $450,000 for the estates. This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement.

Difficulties to Be Encountered in the Matter of Collection

This factor does not apply.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Settlement Agreement is APPROVED and the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Debtors shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. The Debtors assert that rejection is warranted because after the closing of the Prime Sale, the Debtors will no longer provide medical services at SFMC to patients with a primary care physician at the Group.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(a) provides that the Debtors, "subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." In Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), the Ninth Circuit explained the standard the Bankruptcy Court must apply in determining whether to approve the rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease:

In making its determination, a bankruptcy court need engage in "only a cursory review of a [debtor-in-possession]'s decision to reject the contract. Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor-in-possession]'s rejection decision." ...

Thus, in evaluating the rejection decision, the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate. See Navellier v. Sletten, 262 F.3d 923, 946 n. 12 (9th Cir.2001); FDIC v. Castetter, 184 F.3d 1040, 1043 (9th Cir.1999); see also In re Chi-Feng Huang, 23 B.R. at 801 ("The primary issue is whether rejection would benefit the general unsecured creditors."). It should approve the rejection of an executory contract under § 365(a) unless it finds that the debtor-in-possession's conclusion that rejection would be "advantageous is so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice."

Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007).

The Court finds that the Debtors have shown sufficient cause to reject the Agreement. In view of the sale of the assets to which the Agreement pertains, the Agreement provides no benefit to the estates.

The deadline for the Group to file a proof of claim arising from the rejection of the Agreement, pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3002(c)(4), shall be September 28, 2020

(the “Rule 3002(c)(4) Claims Bar Date”). Debtors shall provide notice of the Rule 3002(c)(4) Claims Bar Date so that it is actually received by the Group by no later than August 21, 2020. Debtors shall file a proof of service of such notice by no later than August 21, 2020.

Notwithstanding the rejection of the Agreement, SVMC’s right to complete the reconciliation of the risk pools and to demand the repayment by the Group to SVMC of its share of a deficit, if any, is preserved.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety. The Debtors shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court’s tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. ## I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain affiliated entities (collectively, the "Debtors") each filed voluntary Chapter 11 petitions. [Note 1] The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered.

Debtor VHS, a California nonprofit public benefit corporation, is the sole corporate member of the following five Debtor California nonprofit public benefit corporations that, on the Petition Date, operated six acute care hospitals: O'Connor Hospital ("OCH"), Saint Louise Regional Hospital ("SLRH"), St. Francis Medical Center ("SFGMC"), St. Vincent Medical Center ("SVMC"), Seton Medical Center ("SMC"), and Seton Medical Center Coastside ("Seton Coastside" and, together with OCH, SLRH, SFMC, and SVMC, the "Hospitals"). SMC and Seton Coastside (collectively, "Seton") operated under one consolidated acute care hospital license.

As of the Petition Date, VHS, the Hospitals, and their affiliated entities (collectively, the "Verity Health System") operated as a nonprofit health care system in California, with approximately 1,680 inpatient beds, six active emergency rooms, a trauma center, and a host of medical specialties, including tertiary and quaternary care. In 2017, the Hospitals provided medical services to over 50,000 inpatients and 480,000 outpatients.

On June 16, 2020, the Debtors, the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee"), and the Prepetition Secured Creditors [Note 2] (collectively, the "Plan Proponents") filed the Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation (Dated June 16, 2020) of the Debtors, the Prepetition Secured Creditors, and the Committee [Doc. No. 4879] (the "Plan") and an accompanying disclosure statement [Doc. No. 4880] (the "Disclosure Statement"). On July 2, 2020, the Court entered an order (1) approving the Disclosure Statement as containing adequate information and (2) establishing solicitation and voting procedures. Doc. No. 4997.

A. The Debtors' Prepetition Capital Structure

VHS, Verity Business Services ("VBS"), and the Hospitals are jointly obligated parties on approximately $461.4 million of outstanding secured debt, consisting of:

- 1) $259.4 million outstanding tax exempt revenue bonds, loaned to provide funds for capital improvements and to refinance certain tax exempt bonds previously issued in 2001 (the "2005 Revenue Bonds"); and
- 2) $202 million outstanding tax exempt revenue notes, issued in 2015 (the "2015 Revenue Notes") and 2017 (the "2017 Revenue Notes"), loaned for working capital purposes.

Verity Holdings, LLC ("Holdings") was created in 2016 to hold and finance the Debtors' interests in six medical office buildings whose tenants are primarily physicians and other practicing medical groups. Holdings is the borrower of approximately $66 million through two series of non-recourse financing secured by separate deeds of trust and revenue and accounts pledges, including lease rents on each medical building, pursuant to the Medical Office Building ("MOB") I Loan Agreement with Verity MOB Financing LLC ("MOB I") and MOB II Loan Agreement with Verity MOB Financing II LLC ("MOB II") (collectively, the "MOB Financings").

B. The Failed SGM Sale and Related Litigation

On May 2, 2019, the Court entered an order authorizing the Debtors to sell SFMC, SVMC, and Seton to Strategic Global Management, Inc. ("SGM"). See Doc. No. 2306 (the "SGM Sale Order"). Pursuant to the Asset Purchase Agreement approved in connection with the SGM Sale (the "SGM APA"), SGM made a good-faith deposit of $30 million (the "Deposit").

On November 27, 2019, the Court entered a memorandum of decision and accompanying order rejecting SGM's allegation that the Debtors had failed to comply with certain of the conditions and obligations imposed upon them by the SGM APA, and that these alleged failures to perform had resulted in a Material Adverse Effect which relieved SGM of its obligation to close the SGM Sale. See Bankr. Doc. Nos. 3723 (the "Material Adverse Effect Memorandum") and 3724 (the "Material Adverse Effect Order"). The Court stated: "Article 1.3 [of the SGM APA] obligates SGM to close the sale 'promptly but no later than ten (10) business days following the satisfaction' of all conditions precedent. As all conditions precedent were satisfied on November 19, 2019, SGM is obligated to close the sale by no later than December 5, 2019." Material Adverse Effect Memorandum at 7. The Material Adverse Effect Order provided in relevant part: "Pursuant to § 1.3 of the APA, SGM is obligated to close the SGM Sale by no later than December 5, 2019." Material Adverse Effect Order at ¶ 1.

On December 3, 2019, SGM appealed the Material Adverse Effect Order, along with two other orders pertaining to the SGM Sale (the "Appeals," and the orders appealed, the "Appealed Orders"). SGM did not close the SGM Sale on December 5, 2019, or thereafter. The Debtors terminated the SGM APA, effective as of December 27, 2019. See Doc. No. 3899.

On May 14, 2020, the District Court dismissed the Appeals as moot. See Case No. 2:19-cv-10352-DFS, Doc. No. 59. On June 11, 2020, the District Court vacated the Appealed Orders. See Case No. 2:19-cv-10352-DFS, Doc. No. 65. On July 8, 2020, the Debtors appealed the vacatur of the Appealed Orders to the Ninth Circuit. See Case No. 2:19-cv-10352-DFS, Doc. No. 66.

On January 3, 2020, the Debtors commenced an adversary proceeding (the "Adversary Proceeding") against SGM and others, alleging, inter alia, breaches of the SGM APA and promissory fraud. On March 5, 2020, the District Court withdrew the reference to the Adversary Proceeding. See Case No. 2:20-cv-00613-DSF, Doc. No. 23.

On July 10, 2020, SGM filed a counterclaim against the Debtors (the "SGM Counterclaim"). See Case No. 2:20-cv-00613, Doc. No. 41. Among other things, the SGM Counterclaim alleges that the Debtors (1) breached the SGM APA by failing to properly maintain the hospitals and (2) wrongfully retained the Deposit.

On August 4, 2020, the District Court held that the Debtors' First Amended Complaint against SGM and others stated claims upon which relief could be granted. See Case No. 2:20-cv-00613, Doc. No. 56.

C. Summary of the Plan

1. General Overview

The Plan implements a comprehensive compromise among the holders of the Secured 2005 Revenue Bond Claims, the Debtors, and the Committee. In return for the agreement by the holders of the Secured 2005 Revenue Bond Claims to accept a partial payment of their claims on the Effective Date, the Debtors will dismiss with prejudice litigation commenced by the Committee for the benefit of the Debtors against the Prepetition Secured Creditors, and waive preserved claims against Verity MOB Financing LLC and Verity MOB Financing II LLC.

The Plan creates a Liquidating Trust to collect and liquidate the Debtors' remaining assets. Holders of the Secured 2005 Revenue Bond Claims will receive a cash payment of approximately $124.2 million on the Effective Date (equal to roughly half the amount of the allowed claims). The remaining amount of the Secured 2005 Revenue Bond Claims will be satisfied through First Priority Trust Beneficial Interests to be issued by the Liquidating Trust. It is anticipated that the Allowed Secured 2005 Revenue Bond Claims will be paid in full.

As a result of the willingness of the holders of the Secured 2005 Revenue Bond Claims to receive a deferred payment of a portion of their claims, the Debtors will have sufficient cash on hand to pay on the Effective Date all allowed Administrative Claims and all other allowed secured claims.

The claims of holders of Allowed General Unsecured Claims will be satisfied through Second Priority Trust Beneficial Interests to be issued by the Liquidating Trust. It is anticipated that holders of Allowed General Unsecured Claims will receive a recovery of approximately 0.5%.

The Plan deems the Debtors substantively consolidated for the purposes of claim allowance and distribution, which treats the Debtors' assets and liabilities as if they

4. Conditions Precedent to the Effective Date

The Plan's Effective Date is the first business day after all of the following conditions have been satisfied:

- 1) An unstayed Confirmation Order shall have been entered by the Court, Plan at § 12.2(a);
- 2) The SFMC Sale shall have closed, id. at § 12.2(b);
- 3) The Seton Sale shall have closed, id. at § 12.2(c);
- 4) The Debtors shall have sufficient Cash to satisfy all payments required to be made under the Plan on the Effective Date, id. at § 12.2(d);
- 5) The Debtors shall have sufficient cash to fund the Liquidating Trust Reserves, id. at § 12.2(e); and
- 6) All documents, instruments, and agreements necessary to implement the Plan shall have been executed and delivered by the parties thereto, id. at § 12.2(f).

5. Post-Effective Date Governance

The following shall occur on the Effective Date:

- 1) The Committee shall be dissolved and the Post-Effective Date Committee shall be appointed. Id. at § 7.11(a)–(b). The Post-Effective Date Committee shall (i) consult and coordinate with the Liquidating Trustee as to the administration of the Liquidating Trust and the Liquidating Trust Assets; and (ii) consult and coordinate with the Liquidating Trustee as to the administration of the Post-Effective Date Debtors. Id. at § 7.11(c).
- 2) The following Debtors shall be dissolved: Verity Business Services ("VBS"), Holdings, De Paul Ventures, LLC, and De Paul Ventures—San Jose Dialysis, LLC. Id. at § 5.1.
- 3) The properly donor-restricted assets of the Saint Louise Regional Hospital Foundation and O'Connor Hospital Foundation shall be transferred pursuant to approvals to be received from the California Attorney General.

- 4) The board members of VHS shall resign and the Post-Effective Date Board of Directors of VHS shall be appointed. Id. at § 5.9(a). The Post-Effective Date Board of Directors shall oversee the Liquidating Trustee in his or her capacity as president of the Post-Effective Date Debtors consistent with the terms of this Plan. Id. at § 5.9(b).

After the Effective Date, the following Debtors shall continue in existence: SFMC and Seton (the "Sale-Leaseback Debtors"), SLRH and OCH (the "SCC Debtors"), SVMC, St. Vincent Dialysis, and VHS (collectively, the "Post-Effective Date Debtors"). Id. at § 5.8.

The Sale-Leaseback Debtors shall continue in existence for the limited purposes of (i) maintaining their rights as licensees under the SFMC and Seton Hospital Licenses so Prime and AHMC may obtain their general acute care hospital licenses from the California Department of Public Health and their hospital permits from the California State Board of Pharmacy and (ii) maintaining the respective Hospital's Medicare and Medi-Cal Provider Agreements until the changes of ownership to Prime and AHMC are approved. Id. at § 5.8.

SVMC, St. Vincent Dialysis, and the SCC Debtors shall continue in existence for the limited purpose of receiving Medi-Cal, Medicare, and Quality Assurance Payments. Id. at § 5.8(c)–(d). VHS shall continue in existence to provide support services required under various interim agreements entered into by the Debtors to facilitate the Prime Sale and the AHMC Sale. Id. at § 5.8(e).

From and after the Effective Date, the Liquidating Trust may use and dispose of Liquidating Trust Assets, and take any of the actions consistent with the Plan and/or the Liquidating Trust Agreement without approval of the Court and free of the restrictions of the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, and the Local Bankruptcy Rules, provided that the Liquidating Trust will be administered so that it qualifies as a liquidating trust under 26 C.F.R. § 301.7701–4(d). Id. at § 6.4. The Liquidating Trustee shall be selected by the Committee with the consent of the Master Trustee, such consent not be unreasonably withheld. Id. at § 6.5(a).

Unless and until the First Priority Trust Beneficial Interests are paid in full, any decisions of the Liquidating Trustee to settle, compromise, affect, waive, or release any rights of the Liquidating Trust in any assets having a nominal value of $50,000 or more shall require the consent of the Master Trustee, which consent may be withheld in its sole discretion. Id. at § 6.5(c).

The Liquidating Trustee is not permitted to distribute the Deposit to creditors or take any other action which would reduce or dissipate the Deposit, unless permitted by an unstayed judgment or order entered by the District Court having jurisdiction over the Adversary Proceeding.

6. Treatment of Administrative Claims Other than Professional Claims

The Plan's provisions pertaining to the treatment of Administrative Claims, other than Professional Claims, are as follows:

Each Holder of an Allowed Administrative Claim shall be paid in full in Cash on the Effective Date, unless the Allowed Administrative Claim is based on liabilities incurred by the Debtors in the ordinary course of business after the Petition Date, in which case the Holder shall be paid in the ordinary course of business. Id. at § 2.1. If the Administrative Claim has not been Allowed on the Effective Date, the Holder shall receive payment from the Administrative Claims Reserve. Id.

The Administrative Claims Reserve shall be established on the Effective Date in an amount determined by the Bankruptcy Court in order to satisfy all Administrative Claims that have not been Allowed as of the Effective Date and all Allowed Administrative Claims that will be paid after the Effective Date. Id. at § 15.3. In the event that the Debtors, the Liquidating Trustee, or the Master Trustee objects to an Administrative Claim, the Bankruptcy Court shall determine the Allowed amount of such Administrative Claim. Id.

All Administrative Claims that become Allowed after the Effective Date shall be paid solely from the Administrative Claims Reserve, and shall not constitute a claim against the Liquidating Trust, the Liquidating Trustee, or any of the Liquidating Trust Assets. Id. No Holder of an Administrative Claim shall have recourse for any deficiency in the payment of its Administrative Claim against any of the Released Parties, the Post-Effective Date Debtors, the Post-Effective Date Board of Directors, the Liquidating Trustee, the Post-Effective Date Committee, or the Liquidating Trust. Id.

7. Treatment of Professional Claims

The Plan requires all Professionals seeking an award on account of a Professional Claim, other than Ordinary Course Professionals, to file final applications for allowance of compensation for services rendered and reimbursement of expenses incurred by no later than sixty days after the Effective Date. Id. at § 2.2. shall receive Cash in an amount equal to 100% of the amount of their Allowed Professional Claim. Id.

8. Exculpation Clause

The Plan contains an exculpation clause applicable to any "Released Party," defined as "the Estates, the Debtors, the Committee, the members of the Committee, the Indenture Trustees and their affiliates, and each current and/or former member, manager, officer, director, employee, counsel, advisor, professional, or agents of each of the foregoing who were employed or otherwise serving in such capacity before or after the Petition Date." Id. at § 1.147. The exculpation clause provides:

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, each Released Party shall not have or incur any liability for any act or omission in connection with, related to, or arising out of the Chapter 11 Cases (including, without limitation, the filing of the Chapter 11 Cases), the marketing and the sale of Assets of the Debtors, the Plan and any related documents (including, without limitation, the negotiation and consummation of the Plan, the pursuit of the Effective Date, the administration of the Plan, or the property to be distributed under the Plan), or each Released Party's exercise or discharge of any powers and duties set forth in the Plan, except with respect to the actions found by Final Order to constitute willful misconduct, gross negligence, fraud, or criminal conduct, and, in all respects, each Released Party shall be entitled to rely upon the advice of counsel with respect to their duties and responsibilities under the Plan. Without limitation of the foregoing, each such Released Party shall be released and exculpated from any and all Causes of Action that any Person is entitled to assert in its own right or on behalf of any other Person, based in whole or in part upon any act or omission, transaction, agreement, event or other occurrence in any way relating to the subject matter of this Section.

Id. at § 13.7.

D. Summary of Unresolved Confirmation Objections and the Debtors' Responses Thereto [Note 3]

SGM Objection

SGM asserts an Administrative Claim in the minimum amount of $45.2 million, consisting of the $30 million Deposit, accrued interest on the Deposit in the estimated amount of $6.2 million, professional fees incurred in connection with defending against the Adversary Proceeding in the estimated amount of $4 million, professional fees incurred in prosecuting the SGM Counterclaim in the estimated amount of $2 million, and other out-of-pocket costs and professional fees incurred in connection with the SGM APA in the estimated amount of $3 million.

SGM makes the following objections to confirmation of the Plan:

- 1) The Plan is not feasible because there is no indication that the Administrative Claims Reserve includes sufficient funding for SGM's administrative claim.
- 2) The Plan violates § 1129(a)(9) because it provides that SGM's administrative claim can be satisfied only from the Administrative Claims Reserve, and bars SGM from asserting a claim against the Liquidating Trust Assets in the event the Administrative Claims Reserve is not - sufficient to satisfy SGM's claim.

- 3) The Plan bars SGM from seeking disgorgement of Professional Claims in the event that the Administrative Claims Reserve is inadequate to satisfy SGM's administrative claim. The Plan thus impermissibly discriminates against SGM since it provides that Professional Claims will be paid in full but leaves open the possibility that SGM's administrative claim may not be paid in full.
  - 4) The Plan improperly eliminates SGM's setoff and recoupment rights against the Debtors, which could prejudice SGM's ability to defend itself in the Adversary Proceeding and prosecute the SGM Counterclaim.

Debtors respond to SGM's confirmation objection as follows:

- 1) Because SGM's alleged Administrative Claim is not yet allowed, the Debtors are not required to set aside cash in the Administrative Claims Reserve sufficient to satisfy the full amount of the claim as alleged by SGM. Instead, the Court can assess the Plan's feasibility by estimating the amount of SGM's Administrative Claim. The Debtors have agreed to set aside the entirety of the $30 million Deposit. The reserve of the Deposit is more than sufficient—for example, even if SGM had a 50% chance of success, the value of the SGM Counterclaim is only $17.28 million, just over half the amount reserved by the Debtors.
- 2) SGM lacks standing to object to Plan provisions concerning setoff and recoupment. SGM does not have a right of setoff because it has no prepetition claims, and § 553(a) only preserves prepetition claims. SGM's contention that the Plan's provisions cutting off recoupment rights are intended to prejudice its ability to assert the SGM Counterclaim or defend itself in the Adversary Proceeding is mistaken. The Plan provision cutting off recoupment rights applies only to a "Claim," defined in the Plan to refer to a prepetition claim only. The provision does not apply to SGM's alleged Administrative Claim.
- 3) The Plan's bar upon the disgorgement of Professional Claims is permissible. Courts have held that the Bankruptcy Code does not authorize the disgorgement of professional fees upon insolvency. See In re Santa Fe Med. Grp., LLC, 557 B.R. 223, 227 (Bankr. D.N.M. 2016) and In re Home Loan Serv. Corp., 533 B.R. 302, 304–05 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2015).

Toyon Objection

Similar to SGM, Toyon Associates, Inc. ("Toyon") asserts that the Administrative Claims Reserve is not sufficient to satisfy Toyon's administrative claim, which Toyon asserts exceeds $12.5 million. The Debtors state that they have reserved $250,000 on account of Toyon's administrative claim, and that this amount is more than adequate given that Toyon's claim is unliquidated and is unlikely to succeed.

Premier Objection

Premier, Inc., directly and through its affiliates ("Premier") is a party to seven prepetition agreements with the Debtors (the "Premier Agreements"). Each of the Premier Agreements was assumed as part of a settlement agreement with the Debtors resolving certain financial and operating disputes between the parties [Doc. No. 2352] (the "Premier Settlement"). Premier objects to the Plan on the grounds that (1) the Plan is unclear about the source of the payment of the Debtors' obligations under the Premier Settlement; that (2) the Plan fails to specify the duration of the Post-Effective Date Debtors; and that (3) the Plan's release provisions are unduly broad.

Debtors state that the Plan is clear that that pre-Effective Date obligations, including those associated with the Premier Settlement, will be satisfied in the ordinary course of business; that the Plan specifies that the Post-Effective Date Debtors shall continue to exist until the expiration of the Interim Agreements; and that the Plan's release provisions are permissible.

Long Beach Memorial Medical Center ("LBMMC") Objection

LBMMC is a 453-bed hospital located in Long Beach, CA. Prior to the Petition Date, LBMMC and SFMC entered into two agreements (the "LBMMC Agreements") under which LBMMC continues to delivery ordinary course medical services to SFMC post-petition, including cardiovascular, trauma, and pediatric care services. The Plan provides for the rejection of the LBMMC Agreements.

LBMMC requests that the Debtors provide information as to whether the Liquidating Trustee will request that services be provided by LBMMC subsequent to the rejection of the LBMMC Agreements. LBMMC also objects to the general injunction in § 13.6(a), which LBMMC contends is overly broad and violates § 524(e).

Debtors state that if Prime, the purchaser of SFMC, wants transitional or post-closing services from LBMMC, then Prime will need to contract directly with LBMCMC for those services. Alternatively, if the Debtors so agree, the Debtors will pay for such services as a pass-through and be reimbursed for such services by Prime pursuant to the Transition Services Agreement. Debtors dispute LBMCMC's contention that the Plan's general injunction is overly broad.

HealthNet Objection

HealthNet asserts that the Plan is not feasible because the Debtors do not intend to assume and assign to Prime a Medi-Cal services agreement between SFMC and HealthNet (the "HealthNet Agreement"). HealthNet contends that assignment of the HealthNet Agreement is one of the conditions imposed by the Attorney General on the Prime Sale; that the Prime Sale cannot close because Prime intends to reject the HealthNet Agreement in violation of the Attorney General's conditions; and that accordingly the Plan is not feasible since the proceeds of the SFMC Sale are necessary to fund the Plan.

Debtors' dispute HealthNet's contention that assumption and assignment of the HealthNet Agreement to Prime is among the conditions imposed by the Attorney General. Debtors state that the condition requires only that Prime enter into an agreement with HealthNet, not that Prime accept assignment of the existing HealthNet Agreement.

AppleCare Objection

AppleCare Medical Group, Inc., AppleCare Medical Group, St. Francis Inc., and AppleCare Medical Management, LLC (collectively, "AppleCare") asserts an administrative expense claim in the amount of $16,482,485.54 against SFMC. AppleCare argues that the Debtors have not established that the Administrative Claims Reserve contains sufficient funds to satisfy AppleCare's administrative claims.

The Debtors and AppleCare are engaged in negotiations in an attempt to consensually resolve the AppleCare Objection. See Doc. No. 5446. To facilitate continued negotiations, the Court will not issue a tentative ruling regarding the AppleCare Objection.

Reserve does not contain cash sufficient to pay the full amount of the administrative claim asserted by SGM (the "SGM Admin Claim"). SGM is mistaken.

In assessing the feasibility of the Plan, the Court must evaluate "the possibility that a potential creditor may, following confirmation, recover a large judgment against the debtor." Sherman v. Harbin (In re Harbin), 486 F.3d 510, 517 (9th Cir. 2007). The Court is required to "exercise its sound discretion in considering how such litigation may affect the feasibility of any specific plan." Id.

Where, as here, the amount of an administrative claim has not yet been determined, the Court may estimate the amount of the claim for the purpose of determining plan feasibility. As explained by the court in In re Adelpia Bus. Sols., Inc.:

[W]hen estimating claims, Bankruptcy Courts may use whatever method is best suited to the contingencies of the case, so long as the procedure is consistent with the fundamental policy of Chapter 11 that a reorganization "must be accomplished quickly and efficiently." Bittner v. Borne Chemical Co., 691 F.2d at 135–37; see also, e.g., In re Brits Cotton Mktg., Inc., 737 F.2d 1338, 1341 (5th Cir.1984), citing 3 Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 502.03, at 502–77 (15th ed.1983). Bankruptcy Courts have employed a wide variety of methods to estimate claims, including summary trial, In re Baldwin–United Corp., 55 B.R. 885, 899 (Bankr.S.D.Ohio 1985), a full-blown evidentiary hearing, In re Nova Real Estate Inv. Trust, 23 B.R. 62, 65 (Bankr.E.D.Va.1982), and a review of pleadings and briefs followed by oral argument of counsel, In re Lane, 68 B.R. 609, 613 (Bankr.D.Haw.1986). In so doing, courts specifically have recognized that it is often "inappropriate to hold time-consuming proceedings which would defeat the very purpose of 11 U.S.C. § 502(c)(1) to avoid undue delay."

341 B.R. 415, 422–23 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2003).

Estimation of the SGM Admin Claim is required here because awaiting the fixing or liquidation of the claim "would unduly delay the administration of the case." Id. at 422 (citing § 502(c)). A jury trial in the Adversary Proceeding is set to commence on November 2, 2021. See 2:20-cv-00613-DSF, Doc. No. 51. It is probable that any judgment entered in the Adversary Proceeding will be appealed. In all likelihood, it will take at least two years, and possibly much longer, for the SGM Admin Claim to be liquidated.

There is no merit to SGM's contention that this Court's estimation of the SGM Admin Claim for plan feasibility purposes will usurp the District Court's exclusive jurisdiction over the Adversary Proceeding. The Court estimates the SGM Admin Claim only for the purpose of determining whether the Plan can be confirmed. Estimation of the claim has no effect whatsoever on the Adversary Proceeding. See In re Bicoastal Corp., 122 B.R. 771, 775 (Bankr. M.D. Fla. 1990)("There is no question that the estimation of claims in bankruptcy does not establish a binding legal determination of the ultimate validity of a claim nor a binding determination of any issues."). Bankruptcy courts routinely estimate claims arising in connection with litigation for plan confirmation purposes, with the understanding that the ultimate amount of the claim will be determined through the underlying litigation. See, e.g., Adelfia, 341 B.R. at 422; In re Spansion, Inc., 426 B.R. 114, 146 (Bankr. D. Del. 2010) (estimating administrative claim alleged to be $100 million at $4.2 million for plan confirmation purposes); In re Chemtura Corp., 448 B.R. 635, 649 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2011).

A time-consuming evidentiary hearing to estimate SGM's claim is not appropriate, as such a proceeding would defeat the very purpose of estimation—expeditious confirmation of the Plan. See Adelfia, 341 B.R. at 422. Current projections indicate that unsecured creditors will receive $8.1 million, or only approximately 0.5% of their claims. See Doc. No. 4994, Ex. A. The delay arising from a protracted evidentiary hearing to estimate the SGM Admin Claim could push the estates into administrative insolvency.

The Court will estimate SGM's claim based upon its review of the pleadings and briefing filed in the Adversary Proceeding. See Adelfia, 341 B.R. at 422–23 (finding review of the pleadings in pending litigation to be an appropriate means of claims estimation). Having conducted such a review, the Court estimates the SGM Admin Claim to have a value of $0. See Harbin, 486 F.3d at 520 n.7 (stating that the Court is not prohibited "from valuing [the] claim at zero" as long as it "exercise[s] its own judgment in reaching such a conclusion").

The SGM Counterclaim alleges that Debtors breached the SGM APA by, among other things, (1) failing to fulfill their obligation under § 8.6 to obtain an order authorizing the sale of the hospitals free and clear of certain conditions which the California Attorney General alleged he had the authority to impose; (2) failing to fulfill their obligation under § 8.7 to obtain a settlement agreement with the California Department of Healthcare Services (the "DHCS"); and (3) failing to operate the hospitals in accordance with applicable law. Based upon these alleged breaches, SGM contends that it is entitled to return of the Deposit plus additional damages and interest in the approximate amount of $15.2 million.

The Court finds that SGM has only a negligible chance of prevailing upon its claims. First, SGM alleges that the Debtors breached § 8.6 by failing to obtain an order authorizing the sale free and clear of the Attorney General conditions. But on November 14, 2019, the Court entered an order providing in relevant part:

Solely and exclusively for purposes of the APA (as defined below) and the Motion, the Additional Conditions (as defined in section 8.6 of that certain asset purchase agreement [Docket No. 2305-1] (the "APA")) are an "interest in property" for purposes of 11 U.S.C. § 363(f). The Assets (as defined in the APA) are being sold free and clear of the Additional Conditions without the imposition of any other conditions which would adversely affect the Purchaser (as defined in the APA).

Doc. No. 3611 (the "Supplemental Sale Order").

The Supplemental Sale Order contained language almost identical to the language contemplated in § 8.6 of the SGM APA. Specifically, § 8.6 states that the Debtors will have satisfied the obligations imposed thereunder if they obtain "an order ... finding that the Additional Conditions are an 'interest in property' for purposes of 11 U.S.C. § 363(f), and that the Assets can be sold free and clear of the Additional Conditions without the imposition of any other conditions, which would adversely affect the Purchaser." SGM APA at § 8.6 [Doc. No. 2305-1].

SGM further alleges that the Debtors were in breach of § 8.6 because the Supplemental Sale Order was subject to an appeal at the time the Debtors demanded that SGM close the sale. Section 8.6 excused SGM from closing the sale if the Supplemental Sale Order was subject to an appeal. Its purpose was to protect SGM by insuring that once the sale had closed, there would be no possibility that the Additional Conditions could be reimposed upon the hospitals through reversal of the Supplemental Sale Order on appeal. Such a situation could occur only if the Attorney General appealed the Supplemental Sale Order, which was impossible, since the Attorney General expressly waived his right to appeal. It was never contemplated that SGM would appeal the Supplemental Sale Order, which the Debtors obtained for its benefit. In the Court's view, SGM's appeal of the Supplemental Sale Order was a cynical ploy to manufacture a frivolous excuse for failing to close the sale. For these reasons, the Court finds that SGM has little chance of prevailing upon its allegation that the Debtors failed to satisfy § 8.6 of the SGM APA.

Second, SGM alleges that the Debtors breached § 8.7 by failing to obtain a settlement with the DHCS. However, the Debtors obtained approval of the requisite settlement on December 9, 2019. See Doc. No. 3787. SGM attempts to distract attention from the Debtors' fulfillment of their obligations under § 8.7 by alleging that the Debtors improperly demanded that SGM close the sale before the documentation memorializing the DHCS settlement had been completed. This allegation is a red herring, given that SGM had ample time to close the SGM Sale after the DHCS settlement had been memorialized on December 9, 2019. SGM is not likely to prevail upon its allegation that the Debtors breached § 8.7 of the SGM APA.

Third, SGM alleges that the Debtors breached the SGM APA by failing to operate the hospitals in accordance with California law. SGM is unlikely to prevail upon this claim because the alleged operational issues would constitute a breach of the SGM APA only if they would have had a "material adverse effect" upon the transaction. The SGM APA is governed by California law, and California courts look with disfavor upon the enforcement of a "material adverse effect" clause. For example, in 1601 McCarthy Blvd., LLC v. GMAC Comm'l Mortg. Corp., 2005 WL 4859147 (Cal. Super. Ct. June 1, 2005), the court held that a loan servicer's invocation of a material adverse effect clause to avoid its obligation to disburse funds to a borrower was an "unfair business practice or act," because the servicer "used the material adverse change clause as a lever against [the borrower] to retain control over the borrower's ... funds." McCarthy Blvd., 2005 WL 4859147 at *¶ 59. The court found:

[L]enders rarely employ—and even less frequently invoke and enforce—this type of broad-based material adverse change clause in commercial real estate transactions.... And even when they are invoked, ... lenders only use the clause as a tool to "bring the borrower to the table, use it as lever against the borrower, or ... a club against the borrower to modify the loan or change the loan." There is no evidence in the record that the material adverse change clause in the Deed of Trust benefits any side but the lender, or serves any other purpose than to threaten the borrower with dire consequences....

The record supports Mr. Greenwald's opinion that broad-based material adverse change clauses are rarely used, and in those rare instances when they are, they are placed in deeds of trust purely for their in terrorem effect and not with any genuine intention to invoke them.

Id. at ¶¶ 59 and 68.

Although the SGM APA is governed by California law, Delaware cases interpreting material adverse effect clauses are helpful persuasive authority. A significant amount of the litigation over the enforcement of asset purchase agreements occurs before Delaware courts, and the Delaware caselaw interpreting material adverse effect clauses is well developed.

In In re IBP, Inc. Shareholders Litigation, the court rejected purchaser Tyson Foods' claim that it was not required to consummate a merger because of a material adverse effect. The court held:

[A] buyer ought to have to make a strong showing to invoke a Material Adverse Effect exception to its obligation to close. Merger contracts are heavily negotiated and cover a large number of specific risks explicitly. As a result, even where a Material Adverse Effect condition is as broadly written as the one in the Merger Agreement, that provision is best read as a backstop protecting the acquiror from the occurrence of unknown events that substantially threaten the overall earnings potential of the target in a durationally-significant manner. A short-term hiccup in earnings should not suffice; rather the Material Adverse Effect should be material when viewed from the longer-term perspective of a reasonable acquiror.

In re IBP, Inc. Shareholders Litig. (IBP, Inc. v. Tyson Foods, Inc.), 789 A.2d 14, 68 (Del. Ch. 2001).

In Hexion Specialty Chemicals, Inc. v. Huntsman Corp., 965 A.2d 715, 738 (Del. Ch. 2008), the court reiterated that a "buyer faces a heavy burden when it attempts to invoke a material adverse effect clause in order to avoid its obligation to close."

In view of the difficult of showing a "material adverse effect," SGM is not likely to prevail upon its claim that the Debtors breached the SGM APA by failing to operate the hospitals in accordance with applicable law.

The Debtors have agreed to set aside the $30 million Deposit pending further order of the District Court. Given the Court's estimation of SGM's Admin Claim at $0, the reserve of the Deposit is more than sufficient. SGM's objection regarding the adequacy of the Administrative Claims Reserve is overruled.

2. SGM's Objection to Plan § 10.5(b) is Without Merit

Admin Claim to the amount estimated by the Court. SGM misreads § 10.5(b).

Section 10.5(b) does not apply to administrative claims. That section addresses the "Estimation of Disputed Claims," and "Disputed" describes "Claims" that are either scheduled or with respect to which a proof of claim has been filed. Plan at § 1.58. The Plan does not incorporate the definition of "Claim" into its definition of "Administrative Claim"; instead, the Plan defines an "Administrative Claim" as a "[r]equest for Payment of an administrative expense of a kind specified in § 503(b) and entitled to priority pursuant to § 507(a)(2) ...." Id. at § 1.13.

To be clear, the Court's estimation of the SGM Admin Claim is made only for the purposes of determining plan feasibility under § 1129(a)(9). The estimate does not prevent the SGM Admin Claim from being allowed at a higher amount in the future.

3. The Plan's Exculpation Clause is Appropriate

SGM asserts that the Exculpation Clause violates § 524(e) by providing a discharge to non-debtor parties. The Court disagrees.

In Blixseth v. Credit Suisse, the Ninth Circuit approved an exculpation clause providing that parties involved in the negotiation and implementation of the plan would not be liable for acts undertaken during the case. 961 F.3d 1074, 1078–79 (9th Cir. 2020). The court held that the bankruptcy court "had the authority to approve an exculpation clause intended to trim subsequent litigation over acts taken during the bankruptcy proceedings and so render the Plan viable." Blixseth, 961 F.3d at 1084.

Here, the language of the Exculpation Clause is very similar to that of the clause approved in Blixseth. The Exculpation Clause applies only to those parties who have been heavily involved in these cases and in the negotiation of the Plan, and applies only with respect to acts taken during the cases. The Exculpation Clause was a necessary component of the compromise that resulted in the Plan. The Exculpation Clause is appropriate and does not run afoul of § 524(e).

4. The Plan's Treatment of Professional Claims is Appropriate

SGM argues that the Plan impermissibly prioritizes Professional Claims by limiting any recovery on the SGM Admin Claim to the Administrative Claims Reserve, and barring SGM from seeking the disgorgement of Professional Claims if the Administrative Claims Reserve proves inadequate. SGM is incorrect.

The cases cited by SGM are not on point, because they discuss disgorgement in the context of a Chapter 11 case that has been converted to Chapter 7. Even if the cases did apply, there is a split of authority as to whether disgorgement of professional fees may be ordered upon administrative insolvency. In the Court's view, the better-reasoned approach is that disgorgement is not permitted. As explained in In re Home Loan Serv. Corp.:

There is nothing .... requiring, or even suggesting, disgorgement of earned and paid chapter 11 expenses solely in order to pay chapter 7 administrative expenses in full. One recent bankruptcy case held that disgorgement based solely on administrative insolvency is not permitted under § 726(b). See In re Headlee Management Corp., 519 B.R. 452 (Bankr.S.D.N.Y.2014). In reaching this conclusion, the Headlee court noted that § 726 simply does not provide a remedy for the situation in which professional fees have been paid in a chapter 11 case prior to conversion. The Headlee court specifically declined to read a disgorgement remedy into the statute, particularly since sections 549 and 330 did not offer a disgorgement remedy in this situation. Id. at 458–59.

533 B.R. 302, 304–05 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2015).

The facts of In re Montgomery Ward Holding Corp., 306 B.R. 489 (Bankr. D. Del. 2004) are more analogous to the present situation than the cases discussing disgorgement in the context of a Chapter 11 case that has been converted to Chapter 7. In Montgomery Ward, the plan confirmed by the court provided that all administrative claims which became allowed after the plan's effective date would be paid only from assets revested in New Retailer, an entity created by the plan. Id. at 492–93. The assets held by New Retailer proved inadequate to satisfy the administrative claim of CenterPoint, a creditor whose administrative claim became allowed several years after the plan was confirmed. Id. The court held that CenterPoint's administrative claim could not be satisfied through either the disgorgement of previously-awarded professional fees or from a reserve that had been set aside to pay unsecured creditors. Id. at 492–95. The court reasoned that upon confirmation the plan became a legally-binding agreement, and that CenterPoint remained bound by its terms, notwithstanding the fact that its administrative claim would remain unsatisfied. Id.

As discussed above, it is exceptionally unlikely that SGM will be able to establish that it is entitled to an administrative claim, and even less likely that SGM will be able to show entitlement to an administrative claim of $45.2 million. The small chance that SGM will prevail upon the SGM Counterclaim does not render impermissible the Plan's provisions limiting satisfaction of the SGM Admin Claim to the Administrative Claims Reserve and barring SGM from seeking disgorgement from other estate professionals in the event the Administrative Claims Reserve proves insufficient. To obtain confirmation, the Debtor is required only to show that the Plan "offers a reasonable prospect of success and is workable.... The prospect of financial uncertainty does not defeat plan confirmation on feasibility grounds since a guarantee of the future is not required.... The mere potential for failure of the plan is insufficient to disprove feasibility." Mutual Life Ins. Co. of N.Y. v. Patrician St. Joseph Partners Ltd. P'ship (In re Patrician St. Joseph Partners Ltd. P'ship), 169 B.R. 669, 674 (D. Ariz. 1994). The Debtors have easily surpassed the threshold of showing that the Plan is feasible. The remote possibility that the Administrative Claims Reserve could prove inadequate cannot defeat confirmation. There always exists some possibility that the assets reserved to pay claims will prove insufficient, as was the case in Montgomery Ward.

5. SGM's Objection to the Plan's Setoff and Recoupment Provisions is Overruled

SGM asserts that § 13.6 of the Plan improperly eliminates the setoff and recoupment rights of creditors. SGM fears that § 13.6 will prejudice its ability to defend itself in the Adversary Proceeding and prosecute the SGM Counterclaim.

SGM's fear is unfounded and is based upon a misreading of the Plan. The provision to which SGM objects prohibits "Persons that have held, currently hold or may hold a Claim against the Debtors" from "asserting any setoff, right of subrogation or recoupment of any kind, directly or indirectly, against any debt, liability or obligation due to the Debtors, the Post-Effective Date Debtors or the Liquidating Trust with respect to a Claim ...." (emphasis added). As discussed in Section II.A.2, above, the term "Claim" does not encompass the SGM Admin Claim. The Plan's setoff and recoupment provisions will therefore have no effect upon SGM's ability to defend itself in the Adversary Proceeding or prosecute the SGM Counterclaim. SGM's objection to these provisions is overruled.

B. The Toyon Objection is Overruled

Toyon contends that the Plan is not feasible because the Administrative Claims Reserve is not sufficient to satisfy its administrative claim, which Toyon asserts is in excess of $12.5 million (the "Toyon Admin Claim").

Toyon has been retained as an ordinary course professional (an "OCP") to pursue on behalf of the Debtors appeals intended to increase the Medicare reimbursements owed to the Debtors. In the declaration it filed in support of its application for retention as an OCP (the "Retention Application"), Toyon stated:

Chapter 11

For the Appeal Services described above, the Firm is paid a contingency of the total additional reimbursement paid to the hospital resulting from the successful pursuit of appeal issues. With respect to appeals, no fees or expenses are paid to Toyon unless the appeal or reopening results in additional reimbursement to the hospital.

Doc. No. 900 at ¶ 6.

In connection with stipulations necessary to facilitate the sale of certain of the Debtors' hospitals, the Debtors withdrew many of the appeals that Toyon had been pursuing. Notwithstanding the fact that these withdrawn appeals did not yield an infusion of cash into the estates, Toyon asserts that the appeals nonetheless provided value because they enhanced the Debtors' bargaining leverage, thereby increasing the proceeds that the estates received from the disposition of these assets.

The Debtors have set aside $250,000 in the Administrative Claims Reserve for the Toyon Admin Claim. As discussed in Section II.A.1, above, the Court may estimate the value of the Toyon Admin Claim for plan feasibility purposes. The Court estimates the Toyon Admin Claim at no more than $250,000. The amount reserved by the Debtors for Toyon's claim is sufficient.

In arriving at this estimate, the Court relies upon the Declaration of Peter C. Chadwick, the Debtors' Chief Financial Officer and a managing director at Berkeley Research Group. Toyon objects to Chadwick's testimony on the ground that it offers an opinion on an ultimate issue of law (the amount which Toyon will recover on account of its administrative claim) and on the ground that it lacks foundation. Toyon's objections are overruled. As the Debtors' CFO, Chadwick is qualified to testify as to his estimate of the amount of the Toyon Admin Claim that will ultimately be allowed. Such testimony does not constitute an opinion as to an ultimate issue of law. Instead, the testimony is an estimate regarding the monetary amount of the estate's litigation exposure, which falls within the scope of Chadwick's expertise as CFO.

The Court has also assessed the arguments asserted by Toyon in concluding that the Toyon Admin Claim has an estimated value of $250,000. A substantial portion of the administrative claim to which Toyon asserts it is entitled is based upon work performed in connection with appeals which were withdrawn (the "Withdrawn Appeals"). Toyon contends it is entitled to $3,829,235.85 for Withdrawn Appeals pertaining to OCH and SLRH, $5,912,340.60 for Withdrawn Appeals pertaining to Seton, and $2,273,553.45 for Withdrawn Appeals pertaining to SFMC.

As set forth above, Toyon recognized in the Retention Application that it would not be paid unless its appeals resulted in additional reimbursement to the hospitals. Therefore, it is not likely that Toyon will be able to show that it is entitled to an administrative claim for work performed in connection with the Withdrawn Appeals. Recognizing this impediment, Toyon alleges that the Withdrawn Appeals nonetheless provided value by enhancing the Debtors' bargaining leverage in connection with the sales. This argument is not likely to be successful because purchasers, recognizing that Medicare appeals are time-consuming and frequently unsuccessful, attribute little to no value to pending appeals when bidding for hospitals.

The Court finds that the $250,000 reserved for the Toyon Admin Claim is sufficient for plan feasibility purposes. The Toyon Objection is overruled.

C. The HealthNet Objection is Overruled

HealthNet asserts that the Plan is not feasible because the Debtors do not intend to assume and assign to Prime a Medi-Cal services agreement between SFMC and HealthNet (the "HealthNet Agreement"). HealthNet contends that assignment of the HealthNet Agreement is one of the conditions imposed by the Attorney General on the Prime Sale; that the Prime Sale cannot close because Prime intends to reject the HealthNet Agreement in violation of the Attorney General's conditions; and that accordingly the Plan is not feasible since the proceeds of the SFMC Sale are necessary to fund the Plan.

HealthNet's assertion that assignment of the HealthNet Agreement is among the conditions imposed by the Attorney General is not correct. The relevant condition provides:

For ten years from the closing date of the Asset Purchase Agreement, Prime Healthcare Services, Inc. shall ... [m]aintain and have Medi-Cal Managed Care contracts with the below-listed Medi-Cal Managed Care Plans to provide the same types and levels of emergency and non-emergency services at St. Francis Medical Center to Medi-Cal beneficiaries ... as required in these Conditions, on the same terms and conditions as other similarly situated hospitals offering substantially the same services, without any loss, interruption of service or diminution in quality, or gap in contracted hospital coverage, unless the contract is terminated for cause or not extended or renewed by the Medi-Cal Managed Care Plan: ...

This condition requires only that Prime enter into an agreement with HealthNet on the same terms and conditions as other similarly situated hospitals; it does not require that Prime retain the existing HealthNet Agreement. Prime is in discussions with HealthNet regarding a new agreement. Adcock Decl. at ¶ 7. Contrary to HealthNet's contention, Prime's rejection of the existing HealthNet Agreement does not run afoul of the Attorney General's conditions, because Prime intends to have in place a new agreement with HealthNet prior to the closing of the sale.

D. The Premier Objection is Overruled

Premier questions whether the Plan adequately provides for the payments Premier is owed under the Premier Settlement. The Debtors have included an additional $200,000 in the Administrative Claims Reserve for "Ordinary Course Creditors" on account of Premier. The Court finds that this amount is sufficient to satisfy the Debtors' obligations under the Premier Settlement.

Next, Premier asserts that the Plan does not specify the duration of the Post-Effective Date Debtors. Premier is incorrect. The Disclosure Statement sets forth the duration of the Post-Effective Date Debtors as follows:

The Sale-Leaseback Debtors, SVMC, St. Vincent Dialysis, the SCC Debtors, and VHS (together, the "Post-Effective Date Debtors") shall continue to exist after the Effective Date of the Plan (i) with the Sale-Leaseback Debtors existing until the expiration of the Interim Agreements so that they may engage in the transition tasks set forth in Section 5.8 of the Plan, and (ii) with the SCC Debtors existing until all Quality Assurance Payments are collected. The primary transaction task (i) for the Sale-Leaseback Debtors involves the Interim Agreements, and (ii) for the SCC Debtors involves remitting Quality Assurance Payments received after the Effective Date to the Liquidating Trust.

Disclosure Statement at 80.

Finally, Premier objects to the Plan's general releases. For the reasons discussed in Section II.A.3, above, the Plan's releases are appropriate, and Premier's objection to the releases is overruled.

E. The LBMMC Objection is Overruled

LBMMC's objection consists primarily of requests for clarification regarding certain Plan provisions. The Debtors have sufficiently responded to these requests for clarification in their reply to the LBMMC Objection.

LBMMC also objects to the Plan's general releases. For the reasons discussed in Section II.A.3, above, the Plan's releases are appropriate, and Premier's objection to the releases is overruled.

F. The Remaining Objections Are Moot or Have Been Resolved

The Court finds that objections asserted by UnitedHealthcare Ins. Co., SCAN Health Plan, Blue Shield, and Humana have been resolved by the Debtors' agreement to include additional language in the Confirmation Order. See Doc. No. 5455.

The objection asserted by Aetna Life Insurance Company has been resolved by a stipulation [Doc. No. 5338] that has been approved by the Court [Doc. No. 5350]. The objection asserted by the Cigna Entities [Doc. No. 5231] has been resolved by the filing of the Notice Re Irrevocable Designation Concerning Assumption and Assignment of Cigna Contracts [Doc. No. 5370]. See Doc. No. 5396 (Cigna's notice stating that its objection has been resolved).

The Reservation of Rights asserted by Seoul Medical Group, Inc. ("Seoul") [Doc. No. 5268] is moot given the concurrently-issued ruling to approve the settlement agreement to which Seoul is a party.

The objection of GRM Information Management Services, Inc. ("GRM") to the adequacy of the Administrative Claims Reserve has been resolved by the Debtors' agreement to set aside $2 million in the reserve on account of GRM's administrative claim. See Doc. No. 5425.

The Attorney General objects to the Debtors' failure to stipulate to include the following provision in the Confirmation Order:

The California Attorney General and the Debtors reserve all rights, arguments and defenses concerning the California Attorney General's authority, if any, to review the sale under California Corporations Code §§ 5914-5924 and California Code of Regulations on Nonprofit Hospital Transactions-Title 11, Chapter 15, § 999.5, and any conditions issued thereto. [Plan or any confirmation order] shall limit or be construed as a waiver of the Attorney General's statutory or regulatory authority or other rights or defenses, or a waiver of the Debtors' statutory or other rights or defenses.

Doc. No. 5294.

In a concurrently issued ruling, the Court has found that the Debtors are authorized to sell St. Francis free and clear of the regulatory obligations that the Attorney General asserts he has the authority to impose under Cal. Corp. Code §§ 5914 et seq. This ruling moots the Attorney General's request for a provision in the Confirmation Order that would reserve rights that the Court has found the Attorney General does not possess.

G. The Deemed Substantive Consolidation Contemplated by the Plan is Approved

The Plan provides for the deemed substantive consolidation of the Debtors' estates. Upon entry of a substantive consolidation order, the "consolidated assets create a single fund from which all claims against the consolidated debtors are satisfied; duplicate and inter-company claims are extinguished; and, the creditors of the consolidated entities are combined for purposes of voting on reorganization plans." Alexander v. Compton (In re Bonham), 229 F.3d 750, 764 (9th Cir. 2000).

"Deemed consolidation" is a court-developed alternative to substantive consolidation. Unlike substantive consolidation, deemed consolidation does "not result in the merger of or the transfer or commingling of any assets of the Debtors ... [which] will continue to be owned by the respective Debtors." In re Owens Corning, 419 F.3d 195, 202 (3d Cir. 2005). In other words, substantive consolidation actually combines the debtors' assets and liabilities into a single entity, whereas deemed consolidation merely treats the assets and liabilities as if they were pooled for the purpose of creditor distributions without actually merging the debtor entities.

Deemed substantive consolidation is appropriate where (1) creditors dealt with the entities as a single economic unit and did not rely on their separate identity in extending credit or where (2) the affairs of the debtors are so entangled that consolidation would benefit all creditors. Bonham, 229 F.3d at 764. "The presence of either factor is a sufficient basis to order substantive consolidation." Id. at 766.

Here, both factors are satisfied. With respect to the first factor, the Debtors' secured lenders dealt with the Debtors as a single economic unit. A substantial amount of the Debtors' prepetition secured debt relates to loan and bond obligations on which multiple debtors are obligated. Specifically, VHS, SFMC, SVMC, SMC, and SLRH (collectively, the "Obligated Group Members") are all obligated on the 2005 Series A, G and H Revenue Bonds, the 2015 Revenue Notes, and the 2017 Revenue Notes (collectively, the "Obligated Bonds").

The Obligated Bonds imposed joint and several liability on the Obligated Group Members, and the terms of the Obligated Bonds only addressed the rights and obligations of the Obligated Group Members collectively, rather than on a hospital-by-hospital basis. Further, the Master Trust covenants for the Obligated Bond borrowings are Obligated Group-oriented and are not hospital-specific.

With respect to the second factor, the Debtors' affairs are so entangled that consolidation will benefit all creditors. The Debtors engaged in complex, prepetition intercompany transfers, which were not always booked as such, and would prove difficult and costly to unwind or reconcile. For example, VMF was historically supported by near-weekly funding from other Debtors, but these transfers were booked as direct net asset contributions rather than intercompany loans. Members of the Obligated Group transferred real estate collateral to Holdings, a non-Obligated Group member, to be used as collateral for the MOB Financing, but this transaction was not booked as an intercompany transfer.

H. The Plan Settlement is Approved

The Plan Proponents request that entry of the Confirmation Order constitute the Bankruptcy Court's approval, as of the Effective Date, of the Plan Settlement by and between the Debtors, the Prepetition Secured Creditors, and the Committee, pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019 (the "Settlement Agreement").

The Court approves the Settlement Agreement pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.” Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair, and reasonable, and is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Probability of Success on the Merits and Complexity of the Litigation

These factors weigh in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The settlement resolves both active claims (the litigation brought by the Committee on the Debtors’ behalf challenging the validity of the liens asserted by the Prepetition Secured Creditors) and potential claims (the claims settled through the settlement’s waiver and mutual release provisions). Given the complex nature of the parties’ claims, rights, and theories, quantifying the overall probability of success is difficult. That reality supports approval of the Settlement Agreement, which enables confirmation of a Plan that will distribute funds to creditors.

Absent approval of the Settlement Agreement, the Plan would no longer work as filed. The Debtors would be required to file and solicit votes upon a completely new Plan, which would cost the estates significant time and money.

Paramount Interests of Creditors

This factor weighs strongly in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement. The Settlement Agreement is supported by both the Prepetition Secured Creditors and the Committee, which together comprise the overwhelming majority of the creditor body in these cases.

Difficulties to be Encountered in the Matter of Collection

This factor does not apply.

I. The Plan Satisfies the Requirements of § 1129

SECTION 1129(A)(1)

Section 1129(a)(1) requires that the "plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." According to the leading treatise, the "legislative history suggests that the applicable provisions are those governing the plan’s internal structure and drafting: ‘Paragraph (1) requires that the plan comply with the applicable provisions of chapter 11, such as section 1122 and 1123, governing classification and contents of a plan.’” Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 1129.01[1] (16th rev’d ed.) Cong., 2d Sess. 126 (1978)).

Section 1122(a) provides that "a plan may place a claim or an interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interests of such class." "A claim that is substantially similar to other claims may be classified separately from those claims, even though section 1122(a) does not say so expressly." In re Rexford Props., LLC, 558 B.R. 352, 361 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

The Plan's classification structure complies with § 1122(a). Claims and Interests are placed in thirteen different classes based upon differences in the legal or factual nature of those Claims and Interests, and each of the Claims and Interests in a particular Class is substantially similar to the other Claims and Interests in that Class.

2. Section 1122(b)

Section 1122(b) provides that "a plan may designate a separate class of claims consisting only of ever unsecured claim that is less than or reduced to an amount that the court approves as reasonable and necessary for administrative convenience."

The Plan does not contain any convenience classes. Section 1122(b) does not apply.

Section 1123(a)(1) requires that a plan "designate ... classes of claims, other than claims of a kind specified in section 507(a)(2) [administrative expense claims], 507(a)(3) [claims arising during the gap period in an involuntary case], or 507(a)(8) [priority tax claims], and classes of interest." There are no involuntary gap claims because this is a voluntary chapter 11 case. The Plan appropriately classifies administrative expense claims and priority tax claims. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(1).

4. Section 1123(a)(2)

Section 1123(a)(2) requires that the Plan "specify any class of claims or interests that is not impaired under the Plan." The Plan specifies that Classes 1A and 1B are not impaired. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(2).

5. Section 1123(a)(3)

Section 1123(a)(3) requires that the Plan "specify the treatment of any class of claims or interests that is impaired under the Plan." The Plan specifies the treatment of the impaired classes. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(3).

6. Section 1123(a)(4)

Section 1123(a)(4) requires that the Plan "provide the same treatment for each claim or interest of a particular class unless the holder of a particular claim or interest agrees to a less favorable treatment of such particular claim or interest." The Plan provides the same treatment to claims and interests of the same class. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(4).

7. Section 1123(a)(5)

Section 1123(a)(5) requires that the Plan "provide adequate means for the plan's implementation." The Plan will be funded by the Debtors' remaining cash on hand and proceeds from the sale of SFMC and Seton. The Plan provides for the establishment of a Liquidating Trust to make distributions to creditors. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(5).

8. Section 1123(a)(6)

Section 1123(a)(6) provides: "[A] plan shall provide for the inclusion in the charter of the debtor, if the debtor is a corporation ..., of a provision prohibiting the issuance of nonvoting equity securities, and providing, as to the several classes of securities possessing voting power, an appropriate distribution of such power among such classes, including, in the case of any class of equity securities having a preference over another class of equity securities with respect to dividends, adequate provisions for the election of directors representing such preferred class in the event of default in the payment of such dividends."

Because no securities are being issued under the Plan, § 1123(a)(6) does not apply.

9. Section 1123(a)(7)

Section 1123(a)(7) requires that the Plan's provisions with respect to the selection of officers and directors be consistent with public policy and the interests of creditors and equity security holders.

The members of the Post-Effective Date Committee are the California Nurses Association, Medline Industries, Inc., and the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation. See Doc. No. 5443. The Plan provides that the identity of the Liquidating Trustee and the identity of the directors serving on the Post-Effective Date Board of Directors will be disclosed in one or more Plan Supplements to be filed prior to the Effective Date.

Because the Plan Supplement(s) must be acceptable to the Committee and the Prepetition Secured Creditors, the Plan's provisions pertaining to the selection of officers and directors are consistent with the interests of creditors.

Because the Debtor is a non-profit and no equity security interests will be issued under the Plan, the Debtor is not required to satisfy § 1123(a)(7) with respect to equity security holders. See St. Mary's Hosp., Passaic, N.J., 2010 WL 5126151, at *4 (Bankr. D.N.J. Feb. 2, 2010).

10. Section 1123(b)

Section 1123(b) sets forth provisions that are permitted, but not required, in a plan. The Plan contains certain of § 1123(b)'s optional provisions. The Plan is consistent with § 1123(b).

SECTION 1129(A)(2)

Section 1129(a)(2) requires that the "proponent of the plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." The Plan Proponents have obtained approval of a Disclosure Statement in accordance with § 1125; have obtained approval of the employment of professional persons; and have solicited votes on the Plan in accordance with procedures approved by the Court. The Plan Proponents have satisfied the requirements of § 1129(a)(2).

SECTION 1129(A)(3)

Section 1129(a)(3) requires that the "plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law." As one court has explained:

The term 'good faith' in the context of 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3) is not statutorily defined but has been interpreted by case law as referring to a plan that 'achieves a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code.' 'The requisite good faith determination is based on the totality of the circumstances.'

an effort to create a confirmable plan that would satisfy all parties"). Here, the Plan was proposed jointly by the Debtors, the Committee, and the Prepetition Secured Creditors, after extensive negotiations at arm's length. Section 1129(a)(3) is satisfied.

Section 1129(a)(4) requires that "[a]ny payment made or to be made by the proponent, by the debtor, or by a person issuing securities or acquiring property under the plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of, the court as reasonable." The Plan provides that all professional fees are subject to review by the Court. The plan satisfies § 1129(a)(4).

Section 1129(a)(5) requires that the Plan disclose "the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the Plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint Plan with the debtor, or a successor to the debtor under the Plan." Section 1129(a)(5)(A)(ii) requires that the appointment to or continuation in office of an director or officer be consistent with the interests of creditors, equity security holders, and public policy. Section 1129(a)(5)(B) requires the Plan proponent to disclose the identity of any insider to be employed by the reorganized debtor.

The Plan Proponents have disclosed that the members of the Post-Effective Date Committee will be the California Nurses Association, Medline Industries, Inc., and the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation. See Doc. No. 5443. The identities of the Post-Effective Date Board of Directors and Liquidating Trustee will be disclosed in a Plan Supplement to be filed prior to the Effective Date. To satisfy § 1129(a)(5), the Debtors are required to disclose the identities of only those officers and directors that have already been selected. See In re Charter Commc'ns, 419 B.R. 221, 260 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2009) ("To the extent the Plan's satisfaction of 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(5) remains at issue, the Court concludes that this confirmation standard is satisfied. It is undisputed that two out of the eleven seats on the Debtors' board of directors remain vacant. Although section 1129(a)(5) requires the plan to identify all directors of the reorganized entity, that provision is satisfied by the Debtors' disclosure at this time of the identities of the known directors.").

The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(5).

SECTION 1129(A)(6)

Section 1129(a)(6), which requires that a governmental regulatory commission with jurisdiction over rates charged by a debtor approve any rate changes provided for in the plan, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(A)(7)

Section 1129(a)(7), known as the "best interests of creditors test," provides in relevant part: "With respect to each impaired class of claims or interests, each holder of a claim or interest of such class has accepted the plan; or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of this title on such date."

All impaired classes that are entitled to vote have accepted the Plan. Section 1129(a)(7) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(A)(8)

Section 1129(a)(8) requires each class to accept the Plan, unless the class is not impaired. All impaired classes entitled to vote have accepted the Plan.

The only two classes deemed to reject the Plan—Class 11 (Subordinated General Unsecured Claims) and Class 12 (Interests)—are "vacant" classes that are not considered for purposes of § 1129(a)(8), pursuant to § 3.5 of the Plan:

[a]ny Class of Claims, as of the commencement of the Confirmation Hearing, that does not have at least one (1) Holder of a Claim in an amount greater than zero for voting purposes shall be considered vacant, deemed eliminated from the Plan for purposes of voting to accept or reject the Plan, and disregarded for purposes of determining whether the Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(8) with respect to that Class.

The Plan provides for the payment of all allowed administrative claims on the Effective Date. For the reasons discussed in Sections II.A–B, above, the objections of SGM and Toyon—whose administrative claims have not yet been allowed—to the adequacy of the Administrative Claims Reserve are overruled. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(9).

SECTION 1129(A)(10)

Section 1129(a)(10) requires that "at least one class of claims that is impaired under the plan has accepted the plan, determined without including any acceptance of the plan by any insider." All impaired classes entitled to vote have accepted the Plan. Section 1129(a)(10) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(A)(11)

Section 1129(a)(11), known as the "feasibility requirement," requires the Court to find that "[c]onfirmation of the plan is not likely to be followed by the liquidation, or the need for further financial reorganization, of the debtor or any successor to the debtor under the plan, unless such liquidation or reorganization is proposed in the plan."

The Debtors will have sufficient cash on hand to pay the amounts that are due on the Effective Date. As discussed in Sections II.A–B, above, the Debtors are not required to fund the Administrative Claims Reserve such that it provides for the full face amount of all alleged administrative claims that have not yet been allowed. The Court has estimated the amounts of administrative claims not yet allowed and finds the Administrative Claims Reserve to be adequate. The plan is feasible and satisfied § 1129(a)(11).

SECTION 1129(A)(12)

Section 1129(a)(12) requires that the Debtor pay all United States Trustee fees prior to confirmation or provide for payment of those fees on the effective date. The Plan provides for the payment in cash of all UST fees at the time of confirmation. Section 1129(a)(12) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(A)(13)

Section 1129(a)(13), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of retirement benefits, does not apply.

Section 1129(a)(15), which imposes certain requirements upon individual debtors, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(A)(16)

Section 1129(a)(16) provides: "All transfers of property under the plan shall be made in accordance with any applicable provisions of nonbankruptcy law that govern the transfer of property by a corporation or trust that is not a moneyed, business, or commercial corporation or trust."

The Plan does not provide for the transfer of any property in contravention of applicable nonbankruptcy law. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(16).

SECTION 1129(D)

Section 1129(d) provides: "Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, on request of a party in interest that is a governmental unit, the court may not confirm a Plan if the principal purpose of the Plan is the avoidance of taxes or the avoidance of the application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933." No governmental unit has requested that the court not confirm the Plan on the grounds that the Plan's purpose is the avoidance of taxes. No securities are issued under the Plan. The Plan satisfies § 1129(d).

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' Chapter 11 cases are being jointly administered.

The Debtors seek authorization to reject certain executory contracts and unexpired leases (collectively, the "Agreements") pursuant to § 365(a), to which Debtors St. Vincent Medical Center ("SVMC"), Seton Medical Center ("Seton"), St. Francis Medical Center (“SFMC”), or VHS, as applicable, are a party. The Agreements are principally comprised of (1) equipment rental or consignment agreements, (2) certain medical suite and office leases between SVMC, as lessor, and various parties, as lessees, and (3) miscellaneous service and maintenance agreements. The Debtors seek rejection because the assets to which the Agreements pertain have been or are in the process of being sold.

Premier, Inc. (“Premier”) filed a limited objection to the Motion. On May 29, 2019, the Court entered an order approving a settlement agreement between the Debtors and Premier (the “Premier Settlement”). Premier does not object to the rejection of the Data Transfer Agreement between SVMC and Premier, provided the order on the Motion specifically states that rejection of the Data Transfer Agreement does not affect the parties’ respective continuing obligations under the Settlement Agreement.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(a) provides that the Debtor, "subject to the court’s approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." In Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), the Ninth Circuit explained the standard the Bankruptcy Court must apply in determining whether to approve the rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease:

In making its determination, a bankruptcy court need engage in "only a cursory review of a [debtor-in-possession]'s decision to reject the contract. Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor-in-possession]'s rejection decision." ...

Thus, in evaluating the rejection decision, the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate. See Navellier v. Sletten, 262 F.3d 923, 946 n. 12 (9th Cir.2001); FDIC v. Castetter, 184 F.3d 1040, 1043 (9th Cir.1999); see also In re Chi-Feng Huang, 23 B.R. at 801 ("The primary issue is whether rejection would benefit the general unsecured creditors."). It should approve the rejection of an executory contract under § 365(a) unless it finds that the debtor-in-possession’s conclusion that rejection would be "advantageous is so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice."

The Court finds that the Debtors have shown sufficient cause to reject the Agreements. The Debtors have demonstrated that the Agreements are no longer necessary given that the assets to which the Agreements pertain have been sold or are in the process of being sold. Rejection of the Agreements shall be effective as of July 20, 2020, the date of the filing of the Motion.

The deadline for counterparties to the Agreements to file a proof of claim arising from the rejection of the applicable Agreement, pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3002(c) (4), shall be September 28, 2020 (the “Rule 3002(c)(4) Claims Bar Date”). Debtors shall provide notice of the Rule 3002(c)(4) Claims Bar Date so that it is actually received by counterparties no later than August 19, 2020. Debtors shall file a proof of service of such notice by no later than August 19, 2020.

The deadline for counterparties to retrieve any leased or consigned goods or equipment is August 31, 2020. Debtors shall provide notice of the deadline so that it is actually received by counterparties no later than August 19, 2020.

Premier’s request for a provision in the order on the Motion specifically stating that the rejection of the Data Transfer Agreement does not affect the parties’ continuing obligations under the Settlement Agreement is GRANTED. The Debtors and Premier shall negotiate appropriate language to this effect.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. Within seven days of the hearing, the Debtors shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

Before the Court is the Debtors' motion to sell St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis"), a not-for-profit hospital, free and clear of regulatory conditions which the California Attorney General claims authority to impose under Cal. Corp. ## I. Facts

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain affiliated entities (collectively, the "Debtors") each filed voluntary Chapter 11 petitions. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered.

As of the Petition Date, the Debtors operated six acute care hospitals in the state of California. On December 27, 2018, the Court authorized the Debtors to sell two of their hospitals—O'Connor Hospital and Saint Louise Regional Hospital—to Santa Clara County (the "Santa Clara Sale"). [Note 1] The Santa Clara Sale closed on February 28, 2019.

A. The 2015 Conditions

In 2015, prior to the commencement of these cases, the Debtors' predecessor sought authorization from the California Attorney General (the "Attorney General"), pursuant to Cal. Corp. Code § 5914, to implement a System Restructuring and Support Agreement (the "Restructuring Agreement"). The Attorney General approved the Restructuring Agreement, subject to various conditions (the "2015 Conditions"). Among other things, the 2015 Conditions required St. Francis to (1) maintain specified health services at minimum levels, (2) participate in the Medicare and Medicaid programs, (3) provide community benefit programs, (4) provide specified levels of charity care, (5) maintain various county contracts, and (6) assume pension obligations.

B. The Failed SGM Sale

Debtors' four remaining hospitals—St. Francis Medical Center ("St. Francis"), St. Vincent Medical Center (including St. Vincent Dialysis Center) ("St. Vincent"), and Seton (including Seton Medical Center Coastside ("Seton Coastside")). Under the SGM Bidding Procedures Order, Strategic Global Management, Inc. ("SGM") was designated as the stalking horse bidder. SGM's bid for all four of the hospitals was $610 million. The Bidding Procedures Order approved an Asset Purchase Agreement between the Debtors and SGM (the "SGM APA").

The hospitals were extensively marketed by the Debtors' investment banker, Cain Brothers, a division of KeyBank Capital Markets, Inc. ("Cain"). Cain notified ninety parties of the auction process. Sixteen of these parties requested continued access to a data room containing information about the hospitals.

Notwithstanding Cain's thorough marketing efforts, the Debtors did not receive any qualified bids for all of the hospitals. The Debtors received one bid to purchase only St. Vincent and one bid to purchase only St. Francis. After consulting with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") and the largest secured creditors, the Debtors determined not to conduct an auction. On May 2, 2019, the Court entered an order finding that SGM was the winning bidder and approving the sale to SGM (the "SGM Sale").

On November 27, 2019, the Court entered a memorandum of decision and accompanying order finding that as of November 19, 2019, all conditions precedent under the SGM APA to SGM's obligation to close the SGM Sale had been satisfied. Doc. Nos. 3723–24. The Court found that pursuant to § 1.3 of the SGM APA, SGM was obligated to close the SGM Sale by no later than December 5, 2019. Id. SGM did not close the sale by December 5, 2019. On December 27, 2019, the Debtors sent SGM a notice terminating the SGM APA and asserting that SGM had materially breached the SGM APA. Doc. No. 3899.

C. The Prime Sale

After the SGM Sale failed to close, Cain commenced a new marketing process. In December 2019, Cain began making phone calls to parties who had previously expressed interest in acquiring St. Francis. On January 3, 2020, Cain e-mailed all parties who had previously executed NDAs and explained that the Debtors were initiating another marketing process. Ultimately, 61 parties executed NDAs with respect to the renewed marketing process and were granted access to an online data room.

On January 31, 2020, the Debtors received seven Indications of Interest (the “IOIs”) for the potential acquisition of St. Francis. Cain contacted the seven potential purchasers who submitted the IOIs and continued to work with the purchasers to respond to questions and provide information.

On February 26, 2020, the Court entered an Order (1) Approving Auction Sale Format and Bidding Procedures; (2) Approving Process for Discretionary Selection of Stalking Horse Bidder and Bid Protections; (3) Approving Form of Notice to be Provided to Interested Parties; (4) Scheduling a Court Hearing to Consider Approval of the Sale to the Highest and Best Bidder; and (5) Approving Procedures Related to the Assumption of Certain Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases [Doc. No. 4165] (the “Bidding Procedures Order,” and the motion for entry of the Bidding Procedures Order, the “Bidding Procedures Motion”). The Bidding Procedures Order established procedures governing the auction (the “Auction”) of St. Francis.

The Bidding Procedures Order authorized the Debtors to designate a Stalking Horse Bidder without further order of the Court. The Debtors designated Prime Healthcare Services, Inc. (“Prime”) as the Stalking Horse Bidder. The Debtors received bids from potential purchasers, but after consulting with their advisors and the Consultation Parties (as defined in the Bidding Procedures Order), determined that such bids did not constitute Qualified Bids. The Debtors selected Prime as the Winning Bidder and did not conduct the Auction. On April 9, 2020, the Court entered an order authorizing the Debtors to sell St. Francis to Prime. See Doc. No. 4511 (the “Sale Order”).

The Asset Purchase Agreement under which Prime agreed to purchase St. Francis (the “APA”) provided that Prime would close the sale so long as any conditions imposed by the Attorney General under the review process set forth in Cal. Corp. Code §§ 5914 et seq. were substantially consistent with conditions that Prime had agreed to accept (the “Approved Conditions”). [Note 2] In the event that the Attorney General sought to impose conditions materially different from the Approved Conditions (the “Additional Conditions”), the APA provided that the Debtors would have an opportunity to seek a determination from the Court that the St. Francis could be sold free and clear of the Additional Conditions under § 363(f) of the Bankruptcy Code. Under the APA, Additional Conditions imposing upon Prime costs of $5 million or more are conclusively deemed to be materially different from the Approved Conditions. Prime is not required to close the Sale unless the Debtors obtain an unstayed order authorizing the sale free and clear of the Additional Conditions.

[Doc. No. 4954] (the "Prime Notice"). Notwithstanding the fact that it was not obligated to do so under the APA, Prime agreed to accept certain of the Additional Conditions that had been recommended in the Health Care Impact Statement prepared by JD Healthcare in connection with the Attorney General's review of the sale. Among other things, Prime agreed to (1) maintain cancer services, including radiation oncology, at existing levels for at least the next ten years, (2) maintain the pediatric behavioral counseling clinic located at 4390 Tweedy Avenue, South Gate, CA 90280, (3) maintain the multi-specialty clinic located at 3628 East Imperial Highway, Ste. 103, Lynwood, CA 90262, and (4) maintain the American Career College program for onsite training for at least five years from the closing date.

On July 16, 2020, the Attorney General consented to the sale, but conditioned his consent upon Prime's adherence to a new set of conditions (the "2020 Conditions"). The 2020 Conditions include numerous Additional Conditions materially different from the Approved Conditions. On July 21, 2020, Prime sent a letter to the Attorney General, requesting an opportunity to meet and confer regarding a potential consensual resolution with respect to the Additional Conditions. On July 24, 2020, Prime confirmed that it agreed to accept all but three of the Additional Conditions—charity care amount, the community benefit services commitment, and the continuation of an Affiliation Agreement for physicians in post-graduate training. Prime and the Attorney General have been unable to reach an agreement with respect to these three Additional Conditions.

The differences between the charity care and community benefit payments Prime has agreed to accept, and the payments which the Attorney General asserts must be made, are set forth in the following table:

Condition	Terms Acceptable to Prime	Terms Asserted by Attorney General	Difference
Charity care amount	$8 million per year for six years	$10,186,173 per year for six years	$13.117 million over six years
Community benefit services amount	$1,139,301 per year for six years	$1,597,077 per year for six years	$2.747 million over six years

The third condition in dispute is the Attorney General's requirement that Prime accept an Affiliation Agreement for physicians in post-graduate training. Under the Affiliation Agreement, one post-graduate fellow rotates through St. Francis' trauma center for one month, twice per year. Prime opposes this condition because it would prevent Prime from establishing a robust post-graduate resident training program due to certain regulations.

Prime will not close the sale absent an order finding that St. Francis can be sold free and clear of the Additional Conditions pursuant to § 363(f). If the sale does not close, the most likely outcome will be the closure of St. Francis. The Debtors incur operational losses of approximately $450,000 for each day that the sale does not close. Chadwick Decl. [Doc. No. 5199] at ¶ 7. The Debtors do not have sufficient cash on hand to conduct another sale of St. Francis. Id.

It is against this backdrop that the Debtors move for authorization to sell the St. Francis free and clear of the Additional Conditions, pursuant to § 363(f). The Debtors argue that the Additional Conditions constitute an "interest in property" within the meaning of § 363(f), and that a sale free and clear of the Additional Conditions may be authorized under § 363(f)(1), (4), or (5), for the following reasons:

- Pursuant to § 363(f)(1), St. Francis may be sold under applicable nonbankruptcy law, because under California law, the purchaser of assets does not assume successor liability.
- Pursuant to § 363(f)(4), the validity of the Additional Conditions is subject to a bona fide dispute, because the Attorney General abused his discretion in imposing the Additional Conditions.
- Pursuant to § 363(f)(5), the Attorney General could be compelled to accept a money satisfaction of certain of the Additional Conditions, such as the condition that Prime provide specified levels of charitable care.

In addition, the Debtors assert that imposition of the Additional Conditions violates § 525, which prohibits government entities from discriminating against debtors who have failed to pay dischargeable debts when issuing licenses. According to the Debtors, the Additional Conditions constitute an attempt by the Attorney General to collect a dischargeable debt. The Debtors' theory is that Attorney General's refusal to approve the sale absent imposition of the Additional Conditions amounts to the discriminatory denial of licensure in contravention of § 525.

The Attorney General opposes the Motion. He argues that because the Debtors are non-profit entities, the sale is governed exclusively by § 363(d)(1), and that § 363(f) does not apply. The Attorney General denies that he abused his discretion in imposing the Additional Conditions. He notes that he considered an extensive record in arriving at the Additional Conditions, and states that Prime's unwillingness to accept the Additional Conditions does not mean that his decision to impose them was an abuse of discretion.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 363(d)(1) authorizes non-profit entities, such as the Debtors, to sell estate assets only if the sale is "in accordance with nonbankruptcy law applicable to the transfer of property by" a non-profit entity. Section 541(f) similarly provides that property held by debtors that are § 501(c)(3) corporations under the Internal Revenue Code may be transferred, but "only under the same conditions as would apply if the debtor had not filed a case under this title." Section 363(b) authorizes the Debtors to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The Debtors must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20. Section 363(f) provides that a sale of estate property may be "free and clear of any interest in such property of an entity other than the estate," provided that certain conditions are satisfied.

A. The Additional Conditions are an "Interest in Property" Within the Meaning of § 363(f)

As this Court has previously explained:

The Bankruptcy Code does not define the phrase "interest in ... property" for purposes of § 363(f). The Third Circuit has held that the phrase "interest in ... property" is "intended to refer to obligations that are connected to, or arise from, the property being sold." Folger Adam Sec., Inc. v. DeMatteis/MacGregor JV, 209 F.3d 252, 259 (3d Cir. 2000). That conclusion is echoed by Collier on Bankruptcy, which observes a trend in caselaw "in favor of a broader definition [of the phrase] that encompasses other obligations that may flow from ownership of the property." 3 Alan N. Resnick & Henry J. Sommer, Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 363.06[1] (16th ed. 2017).

Courts have held that interests in property include monetary obligations arising from the ownership of property, even when those obligations are imposed by statute. For example, in Mass. Dep't of Unemployment Assistance v. OPK Biotech, LLC (In re PBBPC, Inc.), 484 B.R. 860 (1st Cir. BAP 2013), the court held that taxes assessed by Massachusetts under its unemployment insurance statutes constituted an "interest in ... property." The taxes were computed based on the Debtor's "experience rating," which was determined by the number of employees it had terminated in the past. Id. at 862. Because the Debtor had terminated most of its employees prior to selling its assets, its experiencing rating, and corresponding unemployment insurance tax liabilities, were very high. Id. The PBBPC court held that the experience rating was an interest in property that could be cut off under § 363(f). Id. at 869–70. Similarly, in United Mine Workers of Am. Combined Benefit Fund v. Leckie Smokeless Coal Co. (In re Leckie Smokeless Coal Co.), 99 F.3d 573, 581, the court held that monetary obligations imposed by the Coal Industry Retiree Health Benefit Act of 1992 constituted an "interest in ... property" within the meaning of § 363(f).

In re Gardens Reg'l Hosp. & Med. Ctr., Inc., 567 B.R. 820, 825–26 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2017), appeal dismissed, No. 2:16-BK-17463-ER, 2018 WL 1229989 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 19, 2018) ("Gardens I").

The Additional Conditions are an "interest in property" within the meaning of § 363(f). First, the Additional Conditions are monetary obligations arising from the ownership of property. Similar to the "experience rating" at issue in PBBPC, Inc., the Additional Conditions were calculated based upon St. Francis' prior operating history. Among other things, the Additional Conditions require that Prime furnish specified levels of charity care and community benefit services. The required service levels have been set based upon St. Francis' historical operations.

Second, the Attorney General's statutory authority to impose the Additional Conditions arises from the Debtors' operation of St. Francis as a non-profit entity. Had the Debtors not operated St. Francis in this manner, there could be no contention that the Prime Sale is subject to the Attorney General's review pursuant to Cal. Corp. Code § 5914. In this sense as well, the Additional Conditions "arise from the property being sold," In re Trans World Airlines, Inc., 322 F.3d 283, 290 (3d Cir. 2003), and therefore qualify as an "interest in ... property" within the meaning of § 363(f).

Third, the Attorney General is barred by the law of the case doctrine from asserting that the Additional Conditions are not an "interest in ... property." "Under the 'law of the case' doctrine, a court is ordinarily precluded from reexamining an issue previously decided by the same court, or a higher court, in the same case." Richardson v. United States, 841 F.2d 993, 996 (9th Cir.), amended, 860 F.2d 357 (9th Cir. 1988). "For the doctrine to apply, the issue in question must have been ‘decided explicitly or by necessary implication in [the] previous disposition.’” United States v. Lummi Indian Tribe, 235 F.3d 443, 452 (9th Cir. 2000).

In connection with the Santa Clara Sale, the Court addressed the exact issue presented here—whether conditions that the Attorney General sought to impose upon the sale constituted an "interest in ... property" for purposes of § 363(f). [Note 3] The Attorney General litigated the issue, and the Court overruled the Attorney General’s arguments. [Note 4] The Attorney General voluntarily dismissed his appeal of the order finding that the conditions he sought to impose were an "interest in ... property." The law of the case doctrine bars relitigation of the issue.

The Attorney General’s new argument that the Additional Conditions are not an interest in property because a sale involving a non-profit debtor is governed exclusively by § 363(d), and not § 363(f), is also barred by the law of the case doctrine. The Attorney General could have made this argument in connection with the prior litigation, but he did not do so. The Court’s prior decision implicitly rejected the theory that § 363(f) does not apply to a sale involving a non-profit debtor.

The doctrine of issue preclusion is a further bar to any attempt by the Attorney General to contest the Additional Conditions’ status as an "interest in ... property." As explained by the Supreme Court, issue preclusion forecloses "‘successive litigation of an issue of fact or law actually litigated and resolved in a valid court determination essential to the prior judgment,’ even if the issue recurs in the context of a different claim." Taylor v. Sturgell, 553 U.S. 880, 892, 128 S. Ct. 2161, 2171, 171 L. Ed. 2d 155 (2008) (internal citations omitted). The doctrine protects "against ‘the expense and vexation attending multiple lawsuits, conserve[s] judicial resources, and foster[s] reliance on judicial action by minimizing the possibility of inconsistent decisions.’" Id. Issue preclusion applies if "(1) the issue at stake was identical in both proceedings; (2) the issue was actually litigated and decided in the prior proceedings; (3) there was a full and fair opportunity to litigate the issue; and (4) the issue was necessary to decide the merits." Howard v. City of Coos Bay, 871 F.3d 1032, 1041 (9th Cir. 2017).

The Attorney General has litigated the issue presented here, both in connection with the Santa Clara Sale and in connection with a sale in Gardens I (the "Gardens Sale"). Just as he did in the Santa Clara Sale, the Attorney General claimed in the Gardens Sale the regulatory authority to impose conditions. The Court found that the Attorney General’s claim to regulatory authority was an "interest in ... property" for purposes of § 363(f). Gardens I, 567 B.R. at 826. The Attorney General is precluded from relitigating the issue of whether his claimed authority to impose conditions on the SGM Sale is an "interest in ... property."

B. The Debtors May Sell the Hospitals Free and Clear of the Additional Conditions Pursuant to § 363(f)(1)

Sale of St. Francis may be free and clear of the Additional Conditions only upon satisfaction of one or more of the five disjunctive sub-factors set forth in § 363(f). Under § 363(f)(1), a sale free and clear may be approved if permitted by applicable nonbankruptcy law.

Applicable nonbankruptcy law permits a sale free and clear for two reasons. First, the Attorney General's attempt to impose the Additional Conditions upon Prime is equivalent to an attempt to impose successor liability upon Prime. California law does not authorize the imposition of successor liability upon Prime under these circumstances. Second, even if the Attorney General were authorized to impose successor liability under California law, the Attorney General abused his discretion in imposing the Additional Conditions, meaning that the Additional Conditions must be set aside.

1. California Law Does Not Authorize the Attorney General to Impose Successor Liability Upon Prime

i. The Additional Conditions Qualify as Successor Liability

The Attorney General's attempt to impose the Additional Conditions upon Prime qualifies as an attempt to impose successor liability upon Prime. The reason is that the Additional Conditions impose upon Prime many of the same obligations imposed upon the Debtors by the 2015 Conditions. By attempting to enforce the Additional Conditions, the Attorney General is attempting to enforce the obligations imposed by the 2015 Conditions against Prime.

It is true that the 2015 Conditions are not identical to the Additional Conditions. Under the 2015 Conditions, St. Francis was required to provide annual charity care in an amount equal to or greater than $16,646,323; the charity care amount under the Additional Conditions is $10,186,173 annually. The community benefit requirement under the 2015 Conditions was $1,362,680 annually; under the Additional Conditions, the amount is $1,597,077 annually.

Considered within the overall scope of the obligations imposed, the differences between the 2015 Conditions and the Additional Conditions are comparatively inconsequential. The Additional Conditions still qualify as successor liability even though they are not exactly identical to the 2015 Conditions.

The Additional Conditions cannot be appropriately categorized as Prime's obligation to comply with applicable law on a going-forward basis, rather than as successor liability. For example, the Additional Conditions are unlike environmental remediation obligations that are not successor liability given that any entity purchasing contaminated property has an obligation to comply with environmental law. The distinction can be illustrated by an examination of the court's discussion of environmental remediation obligations in In re Gen. Motors Corp.:

Under section 363(f), there could be no successor liability imposed on the purchaser for the [seller's] ... monetary obligations related to cleanup costs, or any other obligations that were obligations of the seller. But the purchaser would have to comply with its environmental responsibilities starting with the day it got the property, and if the property required remediation as of that time, any such remediation would be the buyer's responsibility .... Those same principles will be applied here. Any Old GM properties to be transferred will be transferred free and clear of successor liability, but New GM will be liable from the day it gets any such properties for its environmental responsibilities going forward.

The key difference between the contaminated property at issue in General Motors and the present situation is that any entity that purchased the contaminated property at issue in General Motors would have been required to comply with environmental regulations going forward. Environmental compliance obligations would not vary based upon the identity of the purchaser or seller. Here, by contrast, whether a purchaser is obligated to comply with Attorney General conditions can vary, depending upon either the identity of the purchaser or the identity of the seller. There is no general obligation imposed upon an entity that purchases a hospital in the State of California to operate that hospital in accordance with conditions asserted by the Attorney General. The Attorney General's regulatory authority applies only to non-profit hospitals, and only to certain types of sale transactions. Had the Hospitals been sold to a public entity, such as the County of Los Angeles, the Attorney General could not have reviewed the sale. See Verity I, 598 B.R. at 294 (holding that Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 did not apply where non-profit hospitals were sold to a public entity). Had St. Francis been operated by a for-profit entity, the Attorney General could not have reviewed the sale. See Cal. Corp. Code § 5914(a) (requiring only nonprofit corporations to submit the sale of assets to Attorney General review).

Because the obligation to comply with the Additional Conditions is contingent upon the identity of the purchaser and the identity of the seller, the conditions cannot fairly be characterized as the purchaser's obligation to comply with applicable law on a going-forward basis. The Attorney General can claim authority to impose the Additional Conditions upon purchaser Prime only because the Debtors operated the St. Francis as a non-profit. Since the Attorney General's alleged authority to impose the Additional Conditions derives from the manner in which the Debtors operated St. Francis, the Additional Conditions are appropriately characterized as successor liability.

ii. Successor Liability Cannot Be Imposed Under California Law

Under California law, the general rule is "that where a corporation purchases, or otherwise acquires by transfer, the assets of another corporation, the acquiring corporation does not assume the selling corporation's debts and liabilities." Fisher v. Allis-Chalmers Corp. Prod. Liab. Tr., 95 Cal. App. 4th 1182, 1188, 116 Cal. Rptr. 2d 310, 315 (2002). The general rule does not apply if "(1) there is an express or implied agreement of assumption, (2) the transaction amounts to a consolidation or merger of the two corporations, (3) the purchasing corporation is a mere continuation of the seller, or (4) the transfer of assets to the purchaser is for the fraudulent purpose of escaping liability for the seller's debts." Id.

None of the exceptions to the general rule are present here. First, Prime has not agreed to assume the Additional Conditions, either expressly or by implication. Second, the Prime Sale is not a consolidation or merger of the Debtors and Prime. A sale transaction is a consolidation or merger of two corporations "where one corporation takes all of another's assets without providing any consideration that could be made available to meet claims of the other's creditors or where the consideration consists wholly of shares of the purchaser's stock which are promptly distributed to the seller's shareholders in conjunction with the seller's liquidation." Ray v. Alad Corp., 19 Cal. 3d 22, 28, 560 P.2d 3 (1977) (internal citations omitted). Neither factor applies. Prime is paying for the Hospitals in cash (not stock), and that cash will be distributed to the Debtors' creditors through a plan of liquidation. Third, Prime is not a mere continuation of the Debtors. A purchaser is a mere continuation of a seller if there is inadequate consideration for the purchaser or if one or more persons are officers, directors, or stockholders or both corporations. Id. Consideration for the Prime Sale is adequate and no officers or directors of the Debtors are officers or directors of Prime. [Note 5] Fourth, the Debtors are not selling St. Francis for the purpose of escaping liabilities for their debts. In fact, the opposite is true—the objective of the Prime Sale is to generate proceeds to pay the Debtors' debts through a liquidating Plan. In sum, successor liability cannot be imposed on Prime under California common law.

Successor liability cannot be imposed under Cal. Corp. Code §§ 5914–5919. Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 authorizes the Attorney General to review transactions in which a non-profit healthcare facility seeks to transfer a material amount of its assets to a for-profit entity, and provides in relevant part:

Any nonprofit corporation that is defined in Section 5046 and operates or controls a health facility, as defined in Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code, or operates or controls a facility that provides similar health care, regardless of whether it is currently operating or providing health care services or has a suspended license, shall be required to provide written notice to, and to obtain the written consent of, the Attorney General prior to entering into any agreement or transaction to do either of the following:

(A) Sell, transfer, lease, exchange, option, convey, or otherwise dispose of, its assets to a for-profit corporation or entity or to a mutual benefit corporation or entity when a material amount of the assets of the nonprofit corporation are involved in the agreement or transaction.

Cal. Corp. Code § 5914(a)(1) (West).

The "Attorney General shall have discretion to consent to, give conditional consent to, or not consent to" the transaction. Cal. Corp. Code § 5917.

Nothing within the statute authorizes the Attorney General to impose successor liability upon Prime, the for-profit entity that purchased the healthcare assets from the non-profit Debtors. Under the statute, the Attorney General is authorized to review transactions entered into by a "nonprofit corporation that ... operates or controls a health facility," Cal. Corp. Code § 5914(a)(1), and to "consent to, give conditional consent to, or not consent to" any such transactions, Cal. Corp. Code § 5917. These provisions do not grant the Attorney General authority to impose going-forward obligations on the assets that are the subject of the transaction. That is, the statute does not provide that the healthcare assets themselves are subject to regulation by the Attorney General. Rather, it is the non-profit status of the entity operating the healthcare assets that triggers the Attorney General's regulatory authority. Upon transfer of the healthcare assets from the non-profit entity to the for-profit entity, the Attorney General's regulatory authority over the assets terminates.

The issue of the Attorney General's authority to impose successor liability arose in the case of La Paloma Generating Co., No. 16-12700, 2017 WL 5197116 (Bankr. D. Del. Nov. 9, 2017). In La Paloma, the debtor operated a power plant subject to a cap-and-trade emissions regulation. The regulation required "Covered Entities"—defined as entities engaging in operations that generated emissions—to surrender "Compliance Instruments" equal to the amount of emissions generated at specified times. At issue was whether a power plant could be sold "free and clear of, and without the purchaser assuming, any obligation to surrender compliance instruments under the California Cap-and-Trade Program for emissions generated by the Debtors and/or their facility during the period before the transfer of the assets." Id. at *2. The court found that "[u]nder the Regulation, only entities—and not assets—are Covered Entities" subject to the obligation to surrender Compliance Instruments. Id. at *5. As a result, the court found, the debtors could sell the power plant free and clear of the surrender obligations, pursuant to § 363(f)(1). Id. at *8. The court reasoned that the regulation did not impose successor liability on the purchaser, because it imposed liability only on "Covered Entities," and the purchaser would not become a Covered Entity until after it acquired the power plant. Id. at *7-*8. The regulation, the court held, was limited to Covered Entities, and could not be used to "impugn liability on the purchaser of ... the Covered Entity's assets." Id. at *8.

With respect to the imposition of successor liability, the statute at issue here operates in the same manner as the regulation examined in La Paloma. Similar to the regulation in La Paloma, Cal. Corp. Code § 5914–5919 permits the imposition of liability upon St. Francis only because it is operated by a non-profit entity. That is, independent of the fact that it is operated by a non-profit entity, nothing within Cal. Corp. Code § 5914–5919 authorizes the Attorney General to impose liabilities upon the St. Francis. Further, the Attorney General's regulatory authority under the statute does not extend to for-profit entities. As was the case in La Paloma, Cal. Corp. Code § 5914–5919 does not authorized the Attorney General to impose liability upon Prime, the for-profit purchaser of St. Francis.

2. Even if California Law Allowed the Attorney General to Impose Successor Liability Upon Prime, the Attorney General Abused his Discretion in Imposing the

Additional Conditions

As set forth below, the Court finds that the Attorney General's decision to impose the Additional Conditions is subject to judicial review by administrative mandate under California law. This Court is empowered to conduct such judicial review pursuant to § 1221(e) of the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005 ("BAPCPA"), which provides:

Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the court in which a case under chapter 11 of title 11, United States Code, is pending to remand or refer any proceeding, issue, or controversy to any other court or to require the approval of any other court for the transfer of property.

Pub. L. No. 109-8, § 1221(e) (2005). [Note 6] See also In re HHH Choices Health Plan, LLC, 554 B.R. 697, 700 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2016) (construing New York state law to determine the appropriate disposition of a non-profit debtor's assets).

Upon review of the Attorney General's decision, the Court finds that the imposition of the Additional Conditions constituted an abuse of discretion, for the reasons explained below. Therefore, the Additional Conditions must be set aside, which means that the Debtors are authorized to sell St. Francis free and clear of the Additional Conditions under applicable nonbankruptcy law.

i. The Attorney General's Imposition of the Additional Conditions is Subject to Judicial Review by Administrative Mandate

Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 1094.5 provides for judicial review by administrative mandate of decisions made by agencies or officers of the State of California. A writ of mandate may be issued if the agency or officer making the decision engaged in a "prejudicial abuse of discretion." Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 1094.5(b). An "abuse of discretion is established if ... the order or decision is not supported by the findings, or the findings are not supported by the evidence." Id.

The Attorney General contends that administrative mandamus review is not available because the Additional Conditions were not issued subsequent to "a proceeding in which by law a hearing is required to be given, evidence is required to be taken, and discretion in the determination of facts is vested in the inferior tribunal." Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 1094.5(a). The Attorney General acknowledges that he conducted "public meetings ... to hear comments from interested parties" as required by Cal. Corp. Code § 5922. However, the Attorney General asserts that such public meetings were not "hearings" within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 1094.5(a), because public comments were not presented under oath and no effort was made to determine the accuracy of the information offered by members of the public. The Attorney General's position is that the Debtors are entitled only to traditional mandamus review under Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 1085.

"Quasi-legislative acts are ordinarily reviewed by traditional mandate, and quasi-judicial acts are reviewed by administrative mandate. 'Generally speaking, a legislative action is the formulation of a rule to be applied to all future cases, while an adjudicatory act involves the actual application of such a rule to a specific set of existing facts.'" Friends of the Old Trees v. Dep't of Forestry & Fire Prot., 52 Cal. App. 4th 1383, 1389, 61 Cal. Rptr. 2d 297, 303 (1997) (internal citation omitted).

The Court is not persuaded by the Attorney General's contention that administrative mandamus review is unavailable to the Debtors. In reviewing the Prime Sale, the Attorney General hired JD Healthcare, Inc. to prepare an expert report containing information on how the Prime Sale would affect the availability of healthcare services in the region served by St. Francis.

The JD Healthcare expert report contains recommendations regarding the conditions that the Attorney General should impose on the Prime Sale. Upon receiving the expert report, the Attorney General asked the Debtors and Prime to respond to the conditions recommended by JD Healthcare. The Attorney General conducted meetings at which members of the public commented on the Prime Sale. "[P]urely documentary proceedings can satisfy the hearing requirement of Code of Civil Procedure § 1094.5, so long as the agency is required by law to accept and consider evidence from interested parties before making its decision." Friends of the Old Trees, 52 Cal. App. 4th at 1391–92. A "trial-type hearing" is not necessary. Id. at 1392.

The Attorney General's review involved "the actual application of ... a rule to a specific set of existing facts." Friends, 52 Cal. App. 4th at 1389. The Attorney General received evidence from JD Healthcare, heard comments from members of the public, and elected to impose the Additional Conditions after considering all the evidence collected during the review process. The Attorney General's review of the Prime Sale was a quasi-judicial act subject to review by administrative mandate.

The Attorney General next asserts that administrative mandamus review is unavailable because the Debtors have failed to produce the complete administrative record supporting the Attorney General's decision. This contention is without merit. For purposes of administrative mandamus review, a partial record is sufficient if it "accurately represent[s] the administrative proceedings, provide[s] the reviewing court with an understanding of what occurred below, and enable[s] that court to undertake an independent judicial review of the administrative decision." Elizabeth D. v. Zolin, 21 Cal. App. 4th 347, 349, 25 Cal. Rptr. 2d 852 (1993). The record before the Court consists of the expert report prepared by JD Healthcare and letters from the Debtors and Prime responding to the Attorney General's request for a list of Additional Conditions that would be "deal breakers." It is not possible for the Debtors to submit the complete record to the Court because that record is in the sole possession of the Attorney General. In contrast to the prior hearing in connection with the failed SGM Sale involving the same issues, the Attorney General made the decision not to include in his opposition excerpts of the public meeting transcript—perhaps in a tactical attempt to defeat the Debtors' request for administrative mandamus review. At any rate, the record on file is sufficient to provide the Court with an understanding of the reasons for the Attorney General's decision.

There are two tests for judicial review by administrative mandate. "The 'independent judgment' rule applies when the decision of an administrative agency will substantially affect a fundamental vested right." Mann v. Dep't of Motor Vehicles, 76 Cal. App. 4th 312, 320, 90 Cal. Rptr. 2d 277, 283 (1999). Under the "independent judgment" rule, the Court must "begin its review with a presumption of the correctness of administrative findings, and then, after affording the respect due to these findings, exercise independent judgment in making its own findings." Fukuda v. City of Angels, 20 Cal. 4th 805, 819, 977 P.2d 693, 701 (1999). "[T]he presumption provides the trial court with a starting point for review but it is only a presumption, and may be overcome. Because the trial court ultimately must exercise its own independent judgment, that court is free to substitute its own findings after first giving due respect to the agency's findings." Id.

"The 'substantial evidence' rule applies when the administrative decision neither involves nor substantially affects a vested right. The trial court must then review the entire administrative record to determine whether the findings are supported by substantial evidence and whether the agency committed any errors of law ...." Mann, 76 Cal. App. 4th 312, 320, 90 Cal. Rptr. 2d 277, 283 (1999).

To determine whether an administrative decision affects a fundamental vested right, the Court examines "whether the affected right is deemed to be of sufficient significance to preclude its extinction or abridgement by a body lacking judicial power." Interstate Brands v. Unemployment Ins. Appeals Bd., 26 Cal. 3d 770, 779, 608 P.2d 707, 713 (1980) (emphasis in original). An administrative decision that would have the effect of shutting down a business affects a fundamental vested right.

Rptr. 3d 687, 697 (2008) ("The implementation of the Order and Decision would have the effect not only of shutting down a business that has been in existence for 20 years or more, but also of terminating the right to produce oil—an extraordinarily valuable resource, especially in the current economic era.... Certainly, a fundamental vested right is at issue."); Goat Hill Tavern v. City of Costa Mesa, 6 Cal. App. 4th 1519, 1529, 8 Cal. Rptr. 2d 385, 391 (1992) (holding that "the right to continue operating an established business in which [the owner] has made a substantial investment" is a fundamental vested right).

Imposition of the Additional Conditions will precipitate the collapse of the Prime Sale and likely lead to the closing of St. Francis. The Debtors' right to preserve St. Francis' operations, by means of a sale to Prime, is a fundamental vested right that is abrogated by the Attorney General's attempt to impose the Additional Conditions. Consequently, the Court reviews the Attorney General's decision under the independent judgment test.

ii. In Imposing the Additional Conditions, the Attorney General Abused His Discretion

Under certain circumstances, the sale of a not-for-profit healthcare facility is subject to review by the Attorney General. Cal. Corp. Code § 5914. The Legislature enacted Cal. Corp. Code § 5914 to ensure that the public was not deprived of the benefits of charitable health facilities as a result of the transfer of those facilities' assets to for-profit entities. In enacting § 5914, the Legislature found:

Charitable, nonprofit health facilities have a substantial and beneficial effect on the provision of health care to the people of California, providing as part of their charitable mission uncompensated care to uninsured low-income families and under-compensated care to the poor, elderly, and disabled.

Transfers of the assets of nonprofit, charitable health facilities to the for-profit sector, such as by sale, joint venture, or other sharing of assets, directly affect the charitable use of those assets and may affect the availability of community health care services....

It is in the best interests of the public to ensure that the public interest is fully protected whenever the assets of a charitable nonprofit health facility are transferred out of the charitable trust and to a for-profit or mutual benefit entity.

1996 Cal. Legis. Serv. Ch. 1105 (A.B. 3101) (West).

The Attorney General has "discretion to consent to, give conditional consent to, or not consent to" the sale of a healthcare facility. Cal. Corp. Code § 5917. In exercising that discretion, the Attorney General "shall consider any factors that the Attorney General deems relevant," including but not limited to whether any of the following apply:

- a) The terms and conditions of the agreement or transaction are fair and reasonable to the nonprofit corporation.
- b) The agreement or transaction will result in inurement to any private person or entity.
- c) Any agreement or transaction that is subject to this article is at fair market value. In this regard, "fair market value" means the most likely price that the assets being sold would bring in a competitive and open market under all conditions requisite to a fair sale, the buyer and seller, each acting prudently, knowledgeably and in their own best interest, and a reasonable time being allowed for exposure in the open market.
- d) The market value has been manipulated by the actions of the parties in a manner that causes the value of the assets to decrease.
- e) The proposed use of the proceeds from the agreement or transaction is consistent with the charitable trust on which the assets are held by the health facility or by the affiliated nonprofit health system.
- f) The agreement or transaction involves or constitutes any breach of trust.
- g) The Attorney General has been provided, pursuant to Section 5250, with sufficient information and data by the nonprofit corporation to evaluate adequately the agreement or transaction or the effects thereof on the public.
- h) The agreement or transaction may create a significant effect on the availability or accessibility of health care services to the affected community.
- i) The proposed agreement or transaction is in the public interest.
- j) The agreement or transaction may create a significant effect on the availability and accessibility of cultural interests provided by the facility in the affected community.

value (factor (c)). St. Francis was thoroughly marketed by Cain Brothers. Prime was the only bidder interested in purchasing the Hospitals. The Court must presume that a bid submitted after extensive marketing reflects the St. Francis fair market value. See Bank of Am. Nat. Tr. & Sav. Ass'n v. 203 N. LaSalle St. P'ship, 526 U.S. 434, 457, 119 S. Ct. 1411, 1423, 143 L. Ed. 2d 607 (1999) (stating that "the best way to determine value is exposure to a market"). [Note 7]

There is no indication that Prime, or any other party, took any actions to decrease the value of St. Francis (factor (d)). In view of the extensive marketing, the terms of the sale are fair and reasonable (factor (a)). There is no evidence that any of the parties involved in the Prime Sale have engaged in any conduct that would amount to a breach of trust (factor (f)), or that the Prime Sale will inure to the benefit of any private person or entity (factor (b)). Nor has there been any suggestion that the Debtors failed to provide the Attorney General with sufficient information to evaluate the Prime Sale (factor (g)). Factor (e) does not apply, because the proceeds of the Prime Sale are fully encumbered by the claims of creditors, leaving no remaining equity that could be devoted to charitable purposes.

The remaining factors are (1) the effect of the Prime Sale on the accessibility of healthcare services (factor (h)) and cultural interests (factor (j)) in the affected communities and (2) whether the Prime Sale is in the public interest (factor (i)). Applying the independent judgment standard of review, the Court finds that in electing to impose the Additional Conditions, the Attorney General abused his discretion with respect to these factors.

The Prime Sale will not close if the Additional Conditions are imposed. The most likely result of the failure of the Prime Sale will be the closure of St. Francis. Therefore, imposition of the Additional Conditions will dramatically reduce, rather than preserve, the availability of healthcare services. That is not in the public interest.

Having overseen the Debtors' bankruptcy cases since their inception, the Court has become intimately familiar with the Debtors' operational and cash flow situation. The Court does not view the Debtors' representations regarding the likely closure of St. Francis as an idle threat.

The Court understands that the Additional Conditions were imposed with the laudable objective of increasing the amount of healthcare services provided by St. Francis. The Court can only assume that the Attorney General does not believe the representation that imposition of the Additional Conditions will result in a collapse of the Prime Sale. Unfortunately, the dire economic circumstances in which the Debtors now find themselves leaves the Court with little doubt that if the Prime Sale is not completed, St. Francis will almost certainly close. The Debtors have already been required to close one of their hospitals, St. Vincent Medical Center, as the result of the failure of the SGM Sale.

Because the Additional Conditions will reduce health care services by resulting in the closure of St. Francis, imposition of the Additional Conditions was an abuse of the Attorney General's discretion.

Outside of bankruptcy, the finding that the Attorney General abused his discretion would result in the entry of a judgment commanding the issuance of a peremptory writ of mandate, followed by the issuance of the writ. The writ would command the Attorney General to set aside the Additional Conditions, and would further command the Attorney General to exercise his discretion with respect to the review of the Prime Sale in a lawful manner. See, e.g., California Hosp. Assn. v. Maxwell-Jolly, 188 Cal. App. 4th 559, 570, 115 Cal. Rptr. 3d 572, 581 (2010), as modified on denial of reh'g (Sept. 16, 2010).

BAPCPA § 1221(e) compels a different result inside bankruptcy. Section 1221(e) provides that the Court is not required "to remand or refer any proceeding, issue, or controversy to any other court or to require the approval of any other court for the transfer of property." In In re HHH Choices Health Plan, the Bankruptcy Court relied upon BAPCPA § 1221(e) to conclude that it had the authority to interpret a New York law governing the transfer of the assets of a non-profit entity. The court observed that "[i]n the case of an insolvent not-for-profit corporation, section 511 of the New York Not-For-Profit Corporation Law ordinarily, would require the approval of the New York State Supreme Court for a transfer of assets." HHH Choices Health Plan, 554 B.R. at 700. The court rejected arguments advanced by certain of the parties "that the ordinary state court procedures must still be followed" with respect to the transfer of the assets. Id. Instead, the court held that substantive state law requirements remained applicable, but that it was the Bankruptcy Court that had authority to apply those requirements. Id.

Pursuant to BAPCPA § 1221(e), and consistent with the ruling in HHH Choices Health Plan, the Court is not required to issue a judgment and writ commanding the Attorney General to set aside the Additional Conditions, and is not required to remand these proceedings to allow the Attorney General to conduct a further review of the Prime Sale in light of the Court's finding that the Attorney General abused his discretion. Instead, the Court is empowered to apply Cal. Corp. Code § 5914, and to determine the conditions under which the Debtors may sell St. Francis to Prime.

Under the circumstances presented here, the only way that the Prime Sale can close, and the closure of St. Francis can be avoided, is if a sale not subject to the Additional Conditions is approved. A decision by the Attorney General to not consent to the sale, or a decision to consent to the sale subject to the Additional Conditions, would constitute an abuse of discretion.

In reaching this conclusion, the Court is not limiting or controlling the discretion vested in the Attorney General, in contravention of Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1094.5(f). St. Francis has been financially distressed for years. A $100 million capital infusion made in connection with the 2015 Restructuring Agreement failed to stabilize St. Francis' operations. A further capital infusion of $148 million in 2017 failed to restore St. Francis to financial health. This demonstrates that it was not possible to successfully operate St. Francis subject to the 2015 Conditions. It should come as no surprise that no buyer exists that is willing to purchase and operate the Hospitals if operations are constrained by Additional Conditions that are substantially similar to the 2015 Conditions. The Attorney General's continued attempts to impose conditions rendering sustainable operation of the Hospitals impossible amounts to an abuse of discretion.

The Attorney General contends that Prime, by refusing to purchase and operate the Hospitals subject to the Additional Conditions, is attempting to divest the Attorney General of his regulatory authority by forcing him to accede to a transaction on Prime's terms. This argument ignores the financial and operational realities facing St. Francis. Prime's refusal to accept the Additional Conditions is not an attempt to blackmail the Attorney General into approving the sale. Such refusal is instead dictated by economic reality.

iii. Even if the Attorney General's Decision is Subject to Traditional Mandamus Review Under Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 1085, Imposition of the Additional Conditions Was an Abuse of Discretion

Even if the Attorney General's review of the sale transaction is a quasi-legislative decision, subject to traditional mandamus review under Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 1085, the decision to impose the Additional Conditions was an abuse of discretion.

Under Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 1085, a traditional mandate "may issue to correct the exercise of discretionary legislative power, but only if the action taken is so palpably unreasonable and arbitrary as to show an abuse of discretion as a matter of law." Carrancho v. California Air Res. Bd., 111 Cal. App. 4th 1255, 1265, 4 Cal. Rptr. 3d 536, 545 (2003) (emphasis in original). In reviewing quasi-legislative decisions, the "authority of the court is limited to determining whether the decision of the agency was arbitrary, capricious, entirely lacking in evidentiary support, or unlawfully or procedurally unfair." Fullerton Joint Union High Sch. Dist. v. State Bd. of Educ., 32 Cal. 3d 779, 786, 654 P.2d 168, 172 (1982). The Court must ensure that the agency or officer making the decision "has adequately considered all relevant factors, and has demonstrated a rational connection between those factors, the choice made, and the purposes of the enabling statute." W. States Petroleum Assn. v. Superior Court, 9 Cal. 4th 559, 577, 888 P.2d 1268, 1277 (1995). Traditional mandamus review of a quasi-legislative decision is therefore more deferential than administrative mandamus review of a quasi-judicial decision under the independent judgment standard.

Even applying this more deferential standard of review, the Court finds that the decision to impose the Additional Conditions was an abuse of discretion, and that a proper exercise of discretion required the Attorney General to consent to the sale without seeking to impose the Additional Conditions. Preservation of access to healthcare is one of the factors the Attorney General must consider in reviewing the transaction. See Cal. Corp. Code § 5917(h) (requiring the Attorney General to consider whether the "agreement or transaction may create a significant effect on the availability or accessibility of health care services to the affected community"). The effect of the Additional Conditions will be the closure of St. Francis, which will significantly reduce access to healthcare. There is no "rational connection" between the purpose of the Additional Conditions (preserving healthcare access) and the actual results of the conditions (a severe reduction in healthcare access). See W. States Petroleum Ass'n, 888 P.2d at 1277. The Attorney General's decision will destroy the very charitable assets that he is charged with protecting.

In sum, regardless of whether the Debtors are entitled to review of the Attorney General's decision under traditional mandamus or administrative mandamus, the Attorney General's decision to impose the Additional Conditions was an abuse of discretion. In the unique circumstances of this case, the Attorney General was required to consent to the Prime Sale without imposing the Additional Conditions. As a result, sale of St. Francis to Prime free and clear of the Additional Conditions is authorized under applicable nonbankruptcy law. The Court approves the Prime Sale, free and clear of the Additional Conditions, pursuant to § 363(f)(1).

Conditions provided the Additional Conditions are "in bona fide dispute ..." A bona fide dispute exists if "there is an objective basis for either a factual or legal dispute as to the validity" of the interest at issue. In re Octagon Roofing, 123 B.R. 583, 590 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 1991). The court "court need not determine the probable outcome of the dispute, but merely whether one exists." Id.

The Debtors dispute the Attorney General's authority to impose the Additional Conditions, on the grounds that the (1) Additional Conditions attempt to impose successor liability in a manner not authorized under California law and that (2) the Attorney General abused his discretion in issuing the Additional Conditions. As discussed above, the Debtors have shown that the Attorney General cannot impose the Additional Conditions for both of these reasons. The Debtors have easily satisfied § 363(f)(4), which does not require the Debtors to show that they will prevail upon the dispute—only that a dispute exists.

With respect to the charity care and community benefit conditions, a bona fide dispute exists for yet another reason. The Debtors have shown that by imposing these conditions, the Attorney General violated § 525.

Section 525 provides in relevant part:

[A] governmental unit may not deny, revoke, suspend, or refuse to renew a license, permit, charter, franchise, or other similar grant to, condition such a grant to, discriminate with respect to such a grant against, deny employment to, terminate the employment of, or discriminate with respect to employment against, a person that is or has been a debtor under this title ... or another person with whom such ... debtor has been associated, solely because such ... debtor is or has been a debtor under this title ... or has not paid a debt that is dischargeable in the case under this title ....

In In re Aurora Gas, LLC, the court held that the State of Alaska violated § 525 by refusing to approve the debtor's sale of oil and gas leases unless the purchaser posted a bond of $6 million to pay for the cost of plugging abandoned wells that the purchaser was not acquiring. In re Aurora Gas, LLC, No. A16-00130-GS, 2017 WL 4325560 (Bankr. D. Alaska Sept. 26, 2017). The court held that by conditioning approval of the sale upon the posting of a bond, the State was attempting to collect upon the debtor's obligation to pay for the costs of plugging the abandoned wells. Imposition of such a condition, the court found, constituted impermissible discrimination against the debtor and its affiliate, the purchaser of the gas leases, in violation of § 525.

The facts of this case are strikingly similar. The Attorney General's consent is akin to a "license," "permit," or "franchise," within the meaning of § 525, since that consent is necessary for Prime to close the transaction. The Attorney General has conditioned approval of the Prime Sale upon Prime assuming charity care and community benefit obligations similar to the 2015 Conditions that are an obligation of the Debtors. In so doing, the Attorney General is attempting to enforce the charity care and community benefit liabilities imposed by the 2015 Conditions. The 2015 Conditions are liabilities that are dischargeable in bankruptcy, and by attempting to enforce them in connection with the Prime Sale, the Attorney General is impermissibly discriminating against the Debtors in violation of § 525.

The fact that the charity care and community benefit liabilities can be characterized as a regulatory obligation does not change the analysis. As the Supreme Court has explained:

Under the Bankruptcy Code, "debt" means "liability on a claim," 11 U.S.C. § 101(12), and "claim," in turn, includes any "right to payment," § 101(5)(A). We have said that "[c]laim" has "the broadest available definition," Johnson v. Home State Bank, 501 U.S. 78, 83, 111 S.Ct. 2150, 115 L.Ed.2d 66 (1991), and have held that the "plain meaning of a 'right to payment' is nothing more nor less than an enforceable obligation, regardless of the objectives the State seeks to serve in imposing the obligation," Pennsylvania Dept. of Public Welfare v. Davenport, 495 U.S. 552, 559, 110 S.Ct. 2126 (1990). See also Ohio v. Kovacs, 469 U.S. 274, 105 S.Ct. 705, 83 L.Ed.2d 649 (1985). In short, a debt is a debt, even when the obligation to pay it is also a regulatory condition.

F.C.C. v. NextWave Pers. Commc'ns Inc., 537 U.S. 293, 302–03, 123 S. Ct. 832, 839, 154 L. Ed. 2d 863 (2003).

The charity care and community benefit conditions require St. Francis to provide specified levels of charity care and community benefit services. Any shortfalls can be satisfied through deficiency payments to tax-exempt entities within St. Francis' service area. The charity care and community benefit obligations can easily be reduced to a specific monetary value. The Debtors may sell the St. Francis free and clear of these obligations pursuant to § 363(f)(5).

E. Section 363(d)(1) Does Not Bar the Sale

As noted, § 363(d)(1) provides that non-profit entities, such as the Debtors, may sell estate assets only if the sale is "in accordance with nonbankruptcy law applicable to the transfer of property by" a non-profit entity.

For the reasons discussed in Section II.B., above, the Debtors are authorized to sell St. Francis, free and clear of the Additional Conditions, under applicable nonbankruptcy law.

Even if the Debtors were not authorized to sell the St. Francis free and clear under applicable nonbankruptcy law, § 363(d)(1) does not limit the Debtors' ability to sell St. Francis free and clear of the Additional Conditions under § 363(f)(4) or (5). [Note 8] Basic principles of statutory construction dictate this result. "Statutory construction ... is a holistic endeavor." United Sav. Ass'n of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Assocs., Ltd., 484 U.S. 365, 371, 108 S. Ct. 626, 630, 98 L. Ed. 2d 740 (1988). The Court must look "to the provisions of the whole law, and to its object and policy." John Hancock Mut. Life Ins. Co. v. Harris Tr. & Sav. Bank, 510 U.S. 86, 94–95, 114 S. Ct. 517, 523, 126 L. Mancari*, 417 U.S. 535, 550–51, 94 S. Ct. 2474, 2483, 41 L. Ed. 2d 290 (1974). This rule applies "regardless of the priority of enactment" of the provisions. Id.

Section 363(f) sets forth specific circumstances under which assets may be sold free and clear. Section 363(f) is not limited by a non-profit debtor's general obligation under § 363(d)(1) to comply with nonbankruptcy law. The general requirement set forth in § 363(d)(1) makes no reference to § 363(f), which more specifically delineates the circumstances in which assets may be sold free and clear. Without a "clear intention otherwise," Morton, 417 U.S. at 550–51, the general requirement of § 363(d)(1) does not repeal the specifics of free and clear sales under § 363(f), even though § 363(d)(1) was enacted subsequent to § 363(f).

F. Section 541(f) Does Not Bar the Sale

Section 541(f) provides:

Notwithstanding any other provision of this title, property that is held by a debtor that is a corporation described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and exempt from tax under section 501(a) of such Code may be transferred to an entity that is not such a corporation, but only under the same conditions as would apply if the debtor had not filed a case under this title.

The Attorney General asserts that § 541(f)'s initial clause, "[n]otwithstanding any other provision of this title," is broad enough to trump § 363(f). According to the Attorney General, § 541(f) requires that the Prime Sale comply with applicable California law. As a result, the Attorney General argues, the Prime Sale can occur only if SGM agrees to accept all of the 2019 Conditions, including the Additional Conditions.

The language of § 541(f) is similar, but not identical to, the language of § 363(d)(1). Section 363(d)(1) requires that non-profit entities transfer property "in accordance with nonbankruptcy law applicable to the transfer of property by" the non-profit entity; § 541(f) requires that such transfers occur "only under the same conditions as would apply if the debtor had not filed a case under this title."

"[W]here Congress includes particular language in one section of a statute but omits it in another section of the same Act, it is generally presumed that Congress acts intentionally and purposely in the disparate inclusion or exclusion." Russello v. United States, 464 U.S. 16, 23, 104 S. Ct. 296, 300, 78 L. Ed. 2d 17 (1983). Therefore, the Court cannot assume that § 541(f) has the same meaning as § 363(f). That is, § 541(f) cannot mean that the Debtors are required to transfer property "in accordance with nonbankruptcy law applicable to the transfer of [such] property," since that is the language used in § 363(d)(1).

There is no legislative history to guide the Court in construing the phrase "under the same conditions" in § 541(f). Nor has the Court been able to locate any cases interpreting this section. In the absence of legislative history, phrases are construed in accordance with their "ordinary or natural meaning." F.D.I.C. v. Meyer, 510 U.S. 471, 476, 114 S. Ct. 996, 1001, 127 L. Ed. 2d 308 (1994). According to Roget's 21st Century Thesaurus (3d ed. 2013), a synonymous phrase for "under the same conditions" is "in these circumstances."

Here, the Debtors have complied with § 541(f)'s mandate. That is, "[n]otwithstanding any other provisions" of the Bankruptcy Code, they have sought to transfer St. Francis in the same manner as the transfer would have occurred under applicable nonbankruptcy law. The Debtors submitted the transfer to the review of the Attorney General, paid for the expert healthcare impact statements required under the statute, and waited for 90 days for the Attorney General to review the transaction. The transfer has been subject to the same conditions that would have applied had the Debtors not sought bankruptcy protection.

Even if the Attorney General were correct that § 541(f) had the same meaning as § 363(d)(1), the Debtors would still be able to sell the St. Francis free and clear of the Additional Conditions, pursuant to § 363(f)(1), (4), and (5). Contrary to the Attorney General's contention, the "notwithstanding" clause does not mean that § 541(f) trumps § 363(f). The Ninth Circuit has held:

In examining specific statutes, we have not, however, always accorded universal effect to the "notwithstanding" language, standing alone. See Or. Natural Res. Council v. Thomas, 92 F.3d 792, 796 (9th Cir.1996) ("We have repeatedly held that the phrase 'notwithstanding any other law' is not always construed literally." (citing E.P. Paup Co. v. Dir., Office of Workers Comp. Programs, 999 F.2d 1341, 1348 (9th Cir.1993); Kee Leasing Co. v. McGahan (In re The Glacier Bay), 944 F.2d 577, 582 (9th Cir.1991); Golden Nugget, Inc. v. Am. Stock Exch., Inc., 828 F.2d 586, 588–89 (9th Cir.1987) (per curium))). Instead, we have determined the reach of each such "notwithstanding" clause by taking into account the whole of the statutory context in which it appears.

United States v. Novak, 476 F.3d 1041, 1046 (9th Cir. 2007).

Relying upon the "common-sense principle of statutory construction that sections of a statute generally should be read to give effect, if possible, to every clause," the Ninth Circuit has held that a "notwithstanding" provision should not be given its broadest possible interpretation if doing so would render other statutory provisions ineffectual. Oregon Nat. Res. Council v. Thomas, 92 F.3d 792, 797 (9th Cir. 1996).

According to the "notwithstanding" clause the broad construction advocated by the Attorney General would render § 363(f) of the Bankruptcy Code ineffectual with respect to non-profit debtors. The elimination of § 363(f) from a non-profit debtor's toolkit would meaningfully circumscribe the ability of non-profit debtors to reorganize their debts in a Chapter 11 proceeding. Sales under § 363 are the most efficient way for a debtor to obtain the highest price for its assets, which in turn yields the greatest recovery to creditors. Barring non-profit debtors from taking advantage of this valuable tool would not be in the public interest.

Section 541(f) was added to the Bankruptcy Code by the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005, Pub. L. No. 109-8, § 1221(e) ("BAPCPA"). BAPCPA made no changes to § 363(f). The Court cannot find that Congress intended § 541(f) to trump § 363(f) with respect to non-profit debtors.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Court finds that the Debtors may sell St. Francis to Prime, free and clear of the Additional Conditions. The sale may proceed under applicable nonbankruptcy law pursuant to § 363(f)(1) because (1) the Additional Conditions qualify as successor liability that may not be imposed against SGM under California law and because (2) the Attorney General abused his discretion in attempting to impose the Additional Conditions, which therefore must be set aside. A bona dispute as to the Attorney General's authority to impose the Additional Conditions exists under § 363(f)(4), because the Debtors (1) have shown that the Additional Conditions are not authorized under California law and that (2) the attempted imposition of the charity care and community benefit conditions violates § 525. Pursuant to §363(f)(5), the sale is free and clear of the charity care and community benefit obligations, which can be reduced to a monetary valuation.

Nos. 5399 (the "Prospect Memorandum") and 5401 (the "Prospect Order"). Notwithstanding the fact that Prospect's opposition has been stricken, the Court finds it appropriate to briefly address Prospect's assertion that it is willing to purchase St. Francis subject to all of the Additional Conditions at a higher price than that offered by Prime.

At this late stage, Prospect's offer cannot be considered a serious alternative to the Prime Sale. First, the offer is contingent upon a ten-day due diligence period. Therefore, there can be no assurance that Prospect will proceed with its offer. Second, the Court has not been provided sufficient information regarding the offer to ascertain whether it really is superior to the Prime Sale. Third, even if the offer is superior to the Prime Sale and the contingency risk is disregarded, a sale to Prospect would require another 90-day review period by the Attorney General. The Debtors lack sufficient funds to continue operating St. Francis during the time it would take to complete another sale.

August 13, 2020. Debtors state that rejection is necessary to avoid the incurrence of administrative expense liability under the Agreements following the Closing Date.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(a) provides that the Debtor, "subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." In Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), the Ninth Circuit explained the standard the Bankruptcy Court must apply in determining whether to approve the rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease:

In making its determination, a bankruptcy court need engage in "only a cursory review of a [debtor-in-possession]'s decision to reject the contract. Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor-in-possession]'s rejection decision." ...

Thus, in evaluating the rejection decision, the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate. See Navellier v. Sletten, 262 F.3d 923, 946 n. 12 (9th Cir.2001); FDIC v. Casterter, 184 F.3d 1040, 1043 (9th Cir.1999); see also In re Chi-Feng Huang, 23 B.R. at 801 ("The primary issue is whether rejection would benefit the general unsecured creditors."). It should approve the rejection of an executory contract under § 365(a) unless it finds that the debtor-in-possession's conclusion that rejection would be "advantageous is so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice."

Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007).

The Court finds that the Debtors have shown sufficient cause to reject the Agreements. The Debtors have demonstrated that the Agreements are no longer necessary in view of the sale of SFMC to Prime. Rejection of the Agreements shall be effective as of the Closing Date of the Prime Sale.

The deadline for counterparties to the Agreements to file a proof of claim arising from the rejection of the applicable Agreement, pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3002(c)(4), shall be September 28, 2020 (the "Rule 3002(c)(4) Claims Bar Date"). Chapter 7

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Michael Thomas Grumbine (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary chapter 7 petition on April 29, 2015 (the "Petition Date"). Heide Kurtz was appointed the chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee"). Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtor became involved in a state court action titled Diane E. DePould, et al. v. Michael Grumbine, et al., Case No. VC062662 (the "State Court Action"), which was pending before the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court"). The State Court Action alleged that the Debtor had improperly transferred an interest in certain royalty payments owed by FTI to Belize Investment Services, Inc. ("BIS"), an entity controlled by the Debtor. On or about April 16, 2015, the State Court entered a statement of decision, which precluded BIS or the Debtor from receiving any royalties and instead directed the disbursement of payments to the Trustee. The Trustee subsequently received an offer from FTI to purchase the estate's interest in the royalty payments, as well as any assets held by BIS (collectively, the "Assets") for $75,000, subject to overbids in advance of the upcoming auction. The terms of FTI's offer have been incorporated into a purchase agreement executed by the parties on or about July 20, 2020 (the "Agreement"). See Declaration of Heide Kurtz ("Kurtz Decl."), Ex. 1 (copy of the Agreement).

The Trustee requests approval of the Motion and the Agreement pursuant to § 363(b). The Trustee asserts that the sale of the Assets is reasonable under the circumstances, supported by sound business judgment, and accounting for costs of sale, the proposed consideration is fair and reasonable. The Trustee argues that the sale will generate a significant increase to the already sizeable pool of funds the estate holds in the sum of $109,700.32. [Note 1]. In addition to paying off all administrative expenses, the Trustee anticipates satisfying approximately 70% of allowed unsecured claims. The Trustee posits that delaying approval of the Motion is not recommended as future royalty payments are expected to decrease due to financial exigencies caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. See Kurtz Decl., ¶ 6. The Trustee is not aware of any liens or encumbrances against the Assets. The sale is subject to overbids. Finally, the Trustee requests waiver of the 14-day waiting period imposed by Fed. R. Bank. P. 6004(h).

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition to the Motion is on

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(b) permits the Trustee to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The Trustee must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19-20 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19-20.

The Trustee has demonstrated sufficient business justification for the sale, which will generate a considerable pool of funds, provide the estate with an opportunity to maximize recovery through the overbid procedures, and allow the Trustee to pay all administrative expenses, priority claims, and about 70% of allowed unsecured claims. Further, the sale is in accordance with the Trustee's statutory obligation to liquidate the estate's assets.

Auction Procedures

As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, the courtroom is unavailable for in-court appearances. All potential overbidders must appear by telephone only. In the event that any qualified overbidder makes a telephonic appearance, the Court will conduct an auction in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Motion. The initial overbid shall be $5,000 above the purchase price with subsequent overbids to be in increments of $1,000. The overbid increment is subject to adjustment by the Court to facilitate bidding. The Court will announce each bid level. To remain in the auction, bidders must participate at all bid levels. That is, parties who do not bid in a round cannot later change their minds and re-enter the auction. Parties may make a bid higher than that announced by the Court by clearly stating their bid. Additional overbidding procedures proposed by the Trustee are approved as set forth in the Motion.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Sale Motion is GRANTED. Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h), the order approving the sale shall take immediate effect upon entry.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

ownership interest in real property located at 26903 Avenida Terraza, Santa Clarita, CA 91350 (the "Property"), with an estimated fair market value of $418,000. See Doc. No. 1 at 11. The Property is subject to a senior secured interest held by SunTrust Bank ("SunTrust") in the amount of $181,876.55. See Doc. No. 1 at 19. Creditor Ball C M, Inc. ("Movant") is the estate's largest creditor and the Debtor's former employer. As part of her employment with the Movant, the Debtor was enrolled in a 401k retirement account administered by Paychex, Inc. ("Paychex") on behalf of the Movant (the "Retirement Account"). See Declaration of Ronald P. Slates ("Slates Decl."), Ex. 1 (copy of the underlying property exchange agreement).

Background

On February 14, 2019, the Movant filed a motion seeking to disallow the Debtor's $175,000 homestead exemption pursuant to § 522(o) [Doc. No. 27] (the "Homestead Exemption Objection") [Note 1]. On March 7, 2019, the Movant initiated an adversary proceeding against the Debtor, bearing the case number, 2:19-ap-01065-ER, seeking the nondischargeability of debt under §§ 523(a)(2), (a)(4), and (a)(6) and an objection to discharge under §§ 727(a)(2),(a)(3), (a)(4) and (a)(5) (the "Adversary Proceeding"). In short, both the Homestead Exemption Objection and the Adversary Proceeding are premised on allegations that the Debtor incurred a nondischargeable debt through actions performed during her tenure as a full-time bookkeeper for the Movant. See Ball C M, Inc. v. Cenci, 2:19-ap-01065-ER, Adv. Doc. No. 1. Following substantial motion practice, the hearing on the Homestead Exemption Objection was repeatedly continued either on the Court's own motion or the parties' stipulation. A hearing on the Homestead Exemption Objection is currently set for December 16, 2020 at 11:00 a.m. See Doc. No. 80. The Adversary Proceeding is pending, and a continued status conference is scheduled for November 17, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. Additionally, the parties' disputes are also subject to litigation in two state court actions: Ball v. Cenci, Case No. 18STCV30598, filed on November 7, 2018 and Ball, et al. v. Cenci, et al., Case No. 19STCV30598, filed on August 28, 2019 (collectively, the "State Court Actions").

The Motion

On July 16, 2020, the Movant filed the Motion [Doc. No. 75]. The Movant seeks approval of a compromise (the "Property Exchange Agreement" or the "Agreement"), which resolves the parties' ongoing disputes before this Court. The Agreement is a partial resolution that does not settle all of the issues being litigated in the State Court Actions. See Slates Decl., Ex. 1 (the Agreement), ¶¶ 15-18. 1. The Debtor shall transfer ownership of the Property to the Movant; the Movant is responsible for opening an escrow account with Newhall Escrow ("Newhall") to handle the transfer.
2. The Movant shall payoff the mortgage principal and interest owed to SunTrust through escrow (the total payoff amount is $198,831.07 as of June 9, 2020).
3. Paychex shall disburse $47,802.82 to the Debtor.
4. The additional agreed-upon sum of $8,514.10 shall be disbursed to the Debtor in the form of a check or wire transfer made payable to Newhall for closing costs and fees associated with the transfer of the Property.
5. Paychex shall disburse all remaining funds in the Retirement Account to the Movant.
6. The Debtor shall execute a stipulation and proposed order that constitutes her agreement to consolidate the State Court Actions.
7. The Movant shall file a withdrawal of the Homestead Exemption Objection and/or the Retirement Exemption by no later than 10 days following the entry of a final order approving the Agreement.
8. Subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions, the Adversary Proceeding shall be dismissed by no later than 90 days following the entry of a final order approving the Agreement.

See Slates Decl., Agreement. ¶¶ 1-18. [Note 2]

In support of the Property Exchange Agreement, the Movant makes the following arguments based on the factors enumerated in In re A & C Properties, 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986):

1. The risk, expense, inconvenience and delay attributed to continuing litigation favor approval of the Agreement. The parties seek approval of the Agreement to finally resolve their long-standing issues and avoid further delays, legal expense, and risks associated with litigation. See Slates Decl., ¶ 3-4; Declaration of James Christopher Ball ("Ball Decl."), ¶¶ 3-5. The Agreement will enable the parties to avoid months of additional litigation.
2. The costs required to collect on a favorable judgment would require great expense and further delay. Any difficulties in collecting are "unreasonably burdensome" and "costly across the board." See Slates Decl., ¶ 4.

3. The Agreement benefits the interests of creditors by minimizing legal cost and avoiding "emotionally toiling" litigation and uncertainty. See Slates Decl., ¶ 4; Ball Decl., ¶¶ 3-5.
4. The Agreement additionally promotes judicial economy by significantly narrowing the parties' disputes. As a result of its approval, the Agreement will dispose of the hearing on the Homestead Exemption Objection and lead to the dismissal of the Adversary Proceeding. See Slates Decl., ¶ 3-4.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a) permits the Court to approve a compromise or settlement. In the Ninth Circuit, courts consider the following factors in determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement:

- (a) The probability of success in the litigation;
- (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection;
- (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it;
- (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises.

Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986).

"Each factor need not be treated in a vacuum; rather, the factors should be considered as a whole to determine whether the settlement compares favorably with the expected rewards of litigation." In re Western Funding Inc., 550 B.R. 841, 851 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2016). Furthermore, "compromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (Bankr. D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983).

The Court finds that the Property Exchange Agreement is adequate, fair and reasonable, and in the best interest of the estate in accordance with the A & C Properties factors.

1. Probability of Success and the Expense, Inconvenience, and Delay of Litigation

Here, this factor weighs in favor of approving the Agreement. Absent a compromise, this matter will most likely necessitate protracted litigation and the adjudication of contested issues of fact and law. The Adversary Proceeding is expected to involve emotionally toiling litigation leading to the parties' frustration and the accumulation of significant legal fees occasioned by discovery, motion practice, and any other delays caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. The Court finds that approval of the Agreement will expeditiously resolve many of the parties' disputes, thereby achieving an adequate resolution for each party. This factor is strongly in favor of the Agreement.

2. Difficulties in Collection

Having reviewed the underlying compromise, the Court finds that the Agreement will enable the expedient resolution of the parties' many disputes. Based on the Slaters Declaration, absent the approval of this compromise, the anticipated difficulties in collecting on a favorable judgment will be "unreasonably burdensome" and "time consuming" for the Movant. Therefore, in consideration of collection difficulties, this factor supports approval of the Agreement.

3. Interests of Creditors

For the various reasons explained above, the interests of creditors and stakeholders will be furthered by approval of the Agreement. By way of the Agreement, the Movant will be granted ownership of the Property, free of any encumbrances, as well as obtain any funds left over in the Debtor's Retirement Account; the Debtor stands to receive a significant portion of funds in her Retirement Account; and the Property's senior lienholder, SunTrust, will be summarily paid on account of its security interest.

Chapter 7

For this reason, the Agreement adequately considers the interests of creditors, and it reduces the likelihood of litigation, thereby avoiding unnecessary costs, delays, and uncertainties. Therefore, this factor strongly weighs in favor of the Agreement.

In sum, the Court determines that the Movant satisfied all of the A & C Properties factors, and therefore, the Property Exchange Agreement is approved.

Moreover, the Court has not received any objection to the Motion. Accordingly, pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court presumes all interested parties consent to the approval of the Agreement.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED, and the Property Exchange Agreement is APPROVED in full. Based on the order entered on July 21, 2020 [Doc. No. 80], the hearing on the Homestead Exemption Objection, set for December 16, 2020 at 11:00 a.m., shall be VACATED following the entry of a conforming proposed order.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is DENIED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Complaint to Determine Dischargeability of Debt [Doc. No. 1] (the "Complaint")
- 2) Defendant Rabalais's Notice of Motion and Motion to Deny Plaintiff's Voluntary Dismissal Request [Doc. No. 10] (the "Motion")
- 3) Plaintiff Seth Leon's Opposition to Defendant Rabalais' Motion to Deny Voluntary Dismissal Request [Doc. No. 12] (the "Opposition")
- 4) Reply to Plaintiff Seth Leon's Opposition to Defendant Rabalais's Motion to Deny Voluntary Dismissal Request [Doc. No. 13] (the "Reply")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Christopher Paul Rabalais ("Rabalais") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on February 28, 2020. Bankr. Doc. No. 1. On April 29, 2020, Seth Leon ("Leon") moved to dismiss Rabalais' case for abuse, pursuant to § 707. Bankr. Doc. No. 26 (the "Motion to Dismiss").

Among the issues raised by the Motion to Dismiss was whether by filing the instant petition, Rabalais was attempting to discharge a non-dischargeability judgment that had been entered against him and in favor of Leon in a previous Chapter 7 case Rabalais had filed in the Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas (the "Judgment"). In its order and ruling denying the Motion to Dismiss, the Court held that that the instant petition could not discharge the Judgment, and that Rabalais was precluded from attacking the validity of the Judgment in connection with the instant petition. Bankr. Doc. Nos. 37 and 40.

Before the Court entered the order finding that Rabalais could not discharge the Judgment through the instant petition, Leon filed a complaint alleging that the Judgment should be excepted from Rabalais' discharge (the "Complaint," and the action commenced by the Complaint, the "Adversary Proceeding"). Leon stated that the Complaint was filed in an abundance of caution because the Court had not yet entered the order finding that the Judgment remained non-dischargeable. See Complaint at n.1 ("Leon believes that the Court has already determined that his debt is non-dischargeable.... Leon has filed this Complaint in an abundance of caution, because there is not yet any final order on the Motion to Dismiss. To the extent this Complaint is not necessary because the Court has already determined that the debt is non-dischargeable, Leon will withdraw this Complaint.").

On July 9, 2020, Rabalais served an Answer to the Complaint upon Leon by first-class mail. On July 10, 2020, before receiving Rabalais' Answer, Leon filed a Notice of Voluntary Dismissal [Doc. No. 8] (the "Dismissal Notice") of the Adversary Proceeding. The Dismissal Notice was docketed at 3:27 p.m. on July 10, 2020; Rabalais' Answer was docketed at 11:44 a.m. on July 13, 2020. [Note 1]

On July 21, 2020, Rabalais, proceeding in pro se, filed a motion captioned Motion to Deny Plaintiff's Voluntary Dismissal Request [Doc. No. 10] (the "Motion"). In the Motion, Rabalais asserts that the Dismissal Notice is invalid because Rabalais served his Answer upon Leon prior to the filing of the Dismissal Notice. Rabalais contends that the Adversary Proceeding should be decided on the merits.

Leon opposes the Motion. Leon asserts that Rabalais wants to proceed with the Adversary Proceeding so that he can attempt to relitigate the dischargeability of the Judgment. Leon states that there is no reason not to dismiss the Adversary Proceeding, since the Court has already ruled that the Judgment cannot be discharged through the instant petition.

In reply to Leon's opposition, Rabalais contends that it is too late for Leon to voluntarily dismiss the Adversary Proceeding, since Rabalais' Answer is on file. Rabalais reiterates his request that the Court adjudicate the Complaint on the merits.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Under Civil Rule 41(a), the plaintiff is entitled to dismiss an action as of right without an order of the court "by filing a notice of dismissal before the opposing party serves either an answer or a motion for summary judgment ....” As set forth in Civil Rule 5(b), if a pleading is served by mail, “service is complete upon mailing ....” Therefore, dismissal as of right was not available to Leon, because although Leon had not received Rabalais’ Answer in the mail before he filed the Notice of Dismissal, Rabalais’ Answer had been served before the Notice of Dismissal was filed.

Civil Rule 41(a)(2) provides that if dismissal as of right is not available, “an action may be dismissed at the plaintiff’s request only by court order, on terms that the court considers proper.” The purpose of Civil Rule 41(a)(2) is “to permit a plaintiff to dismiss an action ... so long as the defendant will not be prejudiced ... or unfairly affected by dismissal.” Stevedoring Servs. of Am. v. Armilla Int’l B.V., 889 F.2d 919, 921 (9th Cir. 1989). “In determining whether to allow dismissal, the Court is to consider whether doing so will unfairly affect the other side. Thus, courts generally allow dismissal unless defendant will suffer ‘some plain legal prejudice.’ However, plain legal prejudice does not result merely because defendant will be inconvenienced by having to defend in another forum. Nor does it result when the dismissal may cause defendant to incur substantial expense in preparing for trial. The court may dismiss the claim even where plaintiff would gain a tactical advantage thereby.” Burnette v. Godshall, 828 F. Supp. 1439, 1443 (N.D. Cal. 1993), aff’d sub nom. Burnette v. Lockheed Missiles & Space Co., 72 F.3d 766 (9th Cir. 1995) (internal citations omitted).

The Court finds that dismissal of the action under Civil Rule 41(a)(2) is appropriate. Dismissal will not prejudice Rabalais. To the contrary, dismissal will benefit Rabalais since he will not be required to undergo the time and expense of litigating the Adversary Proceeding.

The only plausible motive for Rabalais to oppose dismissal is a desire to relitigate the dischargeability of the Judgment. However, the Court has already found that the Judgment remains non-dischargeable, notwithstanding the filing of the instant petition, and that Rabalais is precluded from contending otherwise. See Bankr. Doc. Nos. 37 and 40. Rabalais’ apparent desire to continue to relitigate the dischargeability of the Judgment, in the face of the Court’s finding that he is precluded from doing so, does not warrant denying Leon’s request to dismiss this action.

Since the deadline to assert dischargeability actions has elapsed, the dismissal of the action will be with prejudice.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is DENIED. Pursuant to Leon’s request,

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Chapter 7 Trustee's Motion for Authority to Compromise Controversy with Debtor Regarding the Disposition of Estate's Interest in Certain Real Property (4361 Hammel Street, Los Angeles, CA 90022) [Doc. No. 19] (the "Motion")
2. Notice of Motion [Doc. No. 20]
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Heladio Ramos, Jr. (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary chapter 7 petition on July 18, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). Sam L. Leslie (the "Trustee") accepted appointment as chapter 7 trustee at the outset of the case. Among the assets scheduled by the Debtor is a real property interest in the Debtor's residence located at 4361 Hammel Street, Los Angeles, CA 90022 (the "Property"). According to the Debtor, the Property has a fair market value of $592,000 and is encumbered by a first-position deed of trust in the amount of $402,594.01. The Debtor claims a $100,000 exemption in the Property. Based on the advice of Trustee's real estate agent that the Property can be sold for $600,000, the Trustee believes there will be nonexempt equity left over in the Property after payment of all encumbrances and sale costs.

The Motion

On July 23, 2020, the Trustee filed the Motion [Doc. No. 85]. In lieu of the Property's sale, the Trustee seeks approval of a settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") with the Debtor for the payment of the estate's interest in the Property for $46,800. See Motion, Ex. A. The Debtor is responsible for making monthly payments of $1,300 through July 21, 2023. The Trustee argues that the Settlement Agreement is consistent with the factors enumerated in Martin v. Kane (In re A & C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). Instead of incurring further expense to market the Property, the Settlement Agreement will enable the estate to receive a steady stream of cash over the next three years. The Trustee argues that the Settlement Agreement will minimize administrative expenses and legal fees, as well as any risks associated with the sale of the Property. The Settlement Agreement will generate enough proceeds to pay anticipated administrative fees and most, if not all, of unsecured claims totaling $43,384.34. Finally, any risks in approving the Settlement Agreement are mitigated because the Trustee will receive a trust deed against the Property for the amount owed by the Debtor.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a) permits the Court to approve a compromise or settlement. In the Ninth Circuit, courts consider the following factors in determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement:

- (a) The probability of success in the litigation;
- (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection;
- (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it;
- (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises.

Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986).

"Each factor need not be treated in a vacuum; rather, the factors should be considered as a whole to determine whether the settlement compares favorably with the expected rewards of litigation." In re Western Funding Inc., 550 B.R. 841, 851 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2016). Furthermore, "compromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (Bankr. D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983).

Here, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair and reasonable, and in the best interests of the estate in accordance with the A & C Properties factors. Accordingly, the Settlement Agreement offers creditors a certain result, which is an improvement given the many risks associated with the sale of the Property in a post-COVID-19 real estate market. Furthermore, the Settlement Agreement will generate a sizeable pool of funds for the estate over the next three years that will be sufficient to repay administrative claims and most, or all, of unsecured claims. Even if the Debtor fails to fulfill the terms of the Settlement Agreement, the Trustee will be able to act against the Property through the deed of trust. For this reason, the Settlement Agreement adequately considers any risks borne by creditors, while reducing unnecessary costs, delays, and uncertainties. In sum, the Court determines that the Settlement Agreement satisfies all the A & C factors, and therefore, the Motion is granted.

Moreover, the Court has not received any objection to the Motion. Accordingly, pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court presumes all interested parties consent to the approval of the Settlement Agreement.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED, and the Settlement Agreement is APPROVED.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Noberto Pimentel and Erica Pimentel (collectively, the "Debtors") filed a joint voluntary Chapter 7 petition on March 20, 2019. The Debtors scheduled their interest in real property located at 11421 Angell Street, Norwalk, CA 90650 (the "Property"). On July 25, 2019, the Court denied the Debtors' motion to convert to Chapter 13 (the "Conversion Motion"). See Doc. No. 41. The Court found that the Debtors' bad faith failure to provide accurate and complete information in their schedules and in response to questioning under oath warranted denial of the Conversion Motion. See Final Ruling Denying Conversion Motion [Doc. No. 40].

On June 18, 2019, the Court authorized the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") to employ Keller Williams Realty (the "Broker") to market the Property. See Doc. No. 35.

On September 27, 2019, upon motion of the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee"), the Court ordered the Debtors to cooperate with the Trustee's real estate broker with respect to the marketing of the Property. There was no appearance by the Debtors or their counsel at the September 25, 2019 hearing. There was no written opposition. The Court further ordered the Debtors to pay the Trustee's counsel $500 in attorneys' fees as a sanction for failing to fulfill their statutory obligation to cooperate with the Trustee. See Doc. No. 59 (the "First Sanctions Order"). The sanction was to be paid by no later than November 1, 2019. Id.

The Debtors failed to pay the sanction by November 1, 2019, as ordered by the Court. On January 13, 2020, the Court issued an order requiring the Debtors to show cause why they should not be held in contempt for knowingly violating the First Sanctions Order. See Doc. No. 63 (the "First OSC"). The Debtors were also ordered to show cause why they should not be required to pay the Trustee additional sanctions to compensate him for the costs of enforcing the Sanctions Order. The Debtors did not respond to the First OSC and failed to appear at the hearing. On February 24, 2020, the Court ordered the Debtors to pay the Trustee's counsel $1,000 (consisting of the $500 payment ordered by the Sanctions Order plus an additional sanction of $500 to compensate the Trustee for the costs of enforcing the First Sanctions Order). See Doc. No. 72 (the "Second Sanctions Order"). The sanction was to be paid by no later April 30, 2020. Id.

Debtors failed to pay the sanction. On July 14, 2020, the Court ordered the Debtors to show cause why they should not be held in contempt for knowingly violating the Second Sanctions Order. See Doc. No. 77 (the "Second OSC").

In opposition to the Second OSC, Debtors state that they cannot afford to pay the sanctions. Debtors suggest that the Court order that the sanctions be paid from the proceeds of the sale of the Property. The Trustee has not submitted a reply to the Debtors' opposition.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Bankruptcy Court has authority to impose compensatory civil contempt sanctions pursuant to § 105. Renwick v. Bennett (In re Bennett), 298 F.3d 1059, 1069 (9th Cir. 2002). "The standard for finding a party in civil contempt is well settled: The moving party has the burden of showing by clear and convincing evidence that the contemnors violated a specific and definite order of the court." Knupfer v. Lindblade (In re Dyer), 322 F.3d 1178, 1191 (9th Cir. 2003). "The burden then shifts to the contemnors to demonstrate why they were unable to comply." F.T.C. v. Affordable Media, 179 F.3d 1228, 1239 (9th Cir. 1999). Inability to comply is a defense, but the burden is upon the Debtors to show "categorically and in detail" how compliance is "impossible." Id. at 1241.

There is no dispute that the Debtors have failed to comply with the Second Sanctions Order. However, the Court notes that the Debtors have offered to pay the sanctions from the proceeds of the sale of the Property. No party has timely objected to the Debtors' claim of a homestead exemption in the amount of $100,000 in the Property. See Doc. No. 60.

The Court will order the sanctions to be paid from the portion of the Property's sale proceeds that would have otherwise been earmarked for the Debtors' homestead exemption but only upon the express consent of the Debtors and their attorney in writing and on the record. The sanctions shall be paid to the Trustee directly from escrow. The total sanction shall be $1,350, consisting of the $1,000 ordered by the Second Sanctions Order plus $350 to compensate the Trustee for enforcing the Second Sanctions Order. [Note 1]

Within seven days of the hearing, the Trustee shall submit an order incorporating

Note 1

The Trustee requests a sanction of $1,500 in addition to the $1,000 sanction previously ordered. The sanction requested by the Trustee is excessive. The Court previously sanctioned the Debtors $500 to compensate the Trustee for the costs of enforcing the First Sanctions Order. The Motion filed by the Trustee to enforce the Second Sanctions Order is similar to the enforcement motion previously filed by the Trustee. An additional sanction of $350 will adequately compensate the Trustee for the costs of enforcing the Second Sanctions Order.

monthly income. The Property is subject to a first-priority deed of trust in favor of Wells Fargo Bank (the "Bank") securing a claim in the amount of $384,478.36. On August 7, 2020, the Court entered an Order Confirming Debtors' Chapter 11 Third Amended Plan of Reorganization [Doc. No. 155].

Overview of Procedural History

To provide context for the findings and conclusions reached herein, a summary of this case's procedural history is set forth below:

The Debtors obtained an order to employ the Law Offices of Lionel E. Giron ("Counsel") as general bankruptcy counsel on December 27, 2018 [Doc. No. 31]. Having reviewed the case docket and relevant pleadings, the Court, on its own motion, directed the Debtors to file a plan and disclosure statement by no later than May 31, 2019. The Debtors were advised that failure to abide by the Court's timeline could lead to the conversion or dismissal of their case. The Debtors filed plan confirmation documents by the May 31st deadline. On July 17, 2019, the Court denied the disclosure statement because it contained inadequate and inaccurate information:

1. The Debtors' Liquidation Analysis (Disclosure Statement, Part 4, page 5) does not contain adequate information because it appears the only asset the Debtors have included in their "Net liquidation value of Debtors' assets" is the anticipated cash on hand as of the Effective Date. While the Debtors did attach a copy of their Schedules A/B, they failed to include a comprehensive liquidation analysis for each asset. The Court finds this particularly troubling because there appears to be approximately $52,521.64 in equity in the Rental Property and the Debtors have not included any analysis to support their conclusion that the Rental Property would have a $0.00 liquidation value if the case were converted to a Chapter 7.
2. The Disclosure Statement does not contain any discussion of the events which led to the bankruptcy filing....
3. The Debtors' proposal to pay Honda the full amount of its Proof of Claim despite the Court's Vehicle Valuation Order bifurcating $3,731.60 of the claim into an unsecured claim is unsupported by any meaningful explanation.

Ruling on Denial of Disclosure Statement [Doc. No. 76].

Chapter 11

At the Court's direction, the Debtors filed the first amended disclosure statement on July 26, 2019. As before, the Court denied the first amended disclosure statement based on the failure to submit accurate and appropriate disclosures:

1. The Amended Disclosure Statement is not supported by financial projections....
2. ... The Debtors also disclose that their monthly rental income from the Rental Property increased in July 2019. However, it appears that the Debtors have not included the increased rental income figure in their Exhibit A1 calculations.
3. ... Part 1.D states that Class 6(b) creditors will be paid 4% of their allowed claims without interest in equal monthly installments over 5 years. However, the Debtors also discuss payments to this class in terms of quarterly payments. See Acevedo Declaration, ¶ 33. The Court also notes that Paragraph 18.c. of Exhibit A1 states that payments to unsecured creditors will be $39.27. It appears the correct figure is the $1,191.04 figure...

Ruling on Denial of First Amended Disclosure Statement [Doc. No. 89]. A second amended disclosure statement was filed on September 20, 2019 [Doc. No. 96]. Finally, on October 16, 2020, the Court approved the Debtor's disclosure statement, subject to additional revisions requiring the submission of a third amended disclosure statement [Doc. No. 100]. Remarkably, Counsel neglected to correct a simple issue expressly discussed by the Court on a prior ruling: "Debtors' proposed distribution to the class of unsecured creditors remains unclear... Debtors are still unable to consistently represent exactly how much creditors will be paid." Ruling Approving Second Amended Disclosure Statement at 5. Moreover, the second amended disclosure statement remained plagued by errors and inaccuracies:

Certain figures provided in the liquidation analysis of Part 4 are inaccurate. Debtors claim that the estimated percentage of unsecured claims that would be paid out in liquidation is 0%. This statement is plainly wrong.

See id. at 6. The Court subsequently entered an order establishing deadlines for the filing and transmission of plan confirmation materials. The Court held a hearing on the confirmation of the Debtors' amended plan of reorganization on January 16, 2020. In addition to the Bank's unresolved objection against confirmation, the Court concluded that it was not in a position to confirm the plan because no creditor had casted a vote in its favor:

class not  Plan  140,  to shall be Interests in such objection, non-voting creditors	Classes 5(a), 5(b), and 6(b) are all impaired, entitled to vote, but no casted a ballot (the "Non-Voting Classes"). Therefore, the Plan does satisfy requirement under §1129(a)(10).... Plan proponents have dealt with the problem of a non-voting class by including prominent language in the Plan, Disclosure Statement and Ballot providing that creditors who did not vote would be deemed to accept the plan. See, e.g. , In re Adelphia Communications, 368 B.R. 260-62 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2007) ("Section 7.3 of the Plan adopts a presumption that '[i]f no holders of Claims or Equity Interests eligible to vote in a particular Class vote to accept or reject the Plan, the Plan shall be deemed accepted by the holders of such Claims or Equity Interests in such Class.'... I overruled the ACC Bondholder Group's objection, and uphold the Plan presumption with respect to the non-voting creditors in these classes.").

Unfortunately, the Debtors did not include any such language in the Plan, Disclosure Statement or Ballot. In fact, the Debtors' Ballot expressly stated that failure to return a timely ballot would result in the vote not being counted as "either an acceptance or rejection of the Plan." See Third Amended Disclosure Statement, Ex. D.

See Ruling Denying Confirmation of First Amended Plan [Doc. No. 110] at 7. In response, the Court imposed new deadlines to afford Debtors more time to cure plan issues and resolve the Bank's objection:

Therefore, the Court finds it appropriate to reopen voting and directs the Debtors to serve an amended plan and disclosure statement, and a supplemental notice to all creditors and file a proof of service evidencing the same by no later than January 29, 2020, that: (i) notes that such classes

See id. at 7-8. The Debtors were further directed to file amended plan confirmation materials. However, the Debtors, acting through Counsel, failed to comply with any of the new deadlines. As of April 3, 2020, no additional filings had been made; as a result, the Court vacated the second confirmation hearing and entered an order to show cause regarding conversion or dismissal [Doc. No. 113] (the "OSC"). In response to the OSC, Counsel assumed responsibility for the mistake: "for an unexplained reason the set deadlines by this Court were not adequately added to our office calendar...our office takes full responsibility for not meeting those deadlines." Declaration of Lionel Giron in Response to OSC [Doc. No. 120], ¶¶ 6-7. Based on Counsel's declaration, the Court set another round of deadlines, and the Debtors' third amended plan (the "Plan") was confirmed on August 7, 2020.

Summary of the Fee Application

On July 29, 2020, Counsel filed its second and final application for compensation [Doc. No. 150 (the "Fee Application")], seeking the allowance of fees in the amount of $16,935 and expenses in the amount of $709 for services rendered from June 13, 2019 through July 29, 2020. The Court previously awarded Counsel compensation of $14,029 on July 19, 2019 [Doc. No. 79]. Counsel seeks compensation for the following legal services in the specified amounts set forth below:

Motions: Hours billed: 3.5; Total Requested:

Summary of the Cash Collateral Motion

On July 29, 2020, the Debtors, through Counsel, filed the Motion in Individual Chapter 11 Case for Order Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral [Doc. No. 152] (the "Cash Collateral Motion"). The Debtors state that they are holding approximately $9,245.99 in cash on hand generated from the Property. Cash Collateral Motion at 3. The Debtors presently seek an order authorizing the use of cash collateral to make a one-time payment of $7,644 to their Counsel for the payment of final fees and expenses contemplated in the concurrently filed Fee Application.

As of the date of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file as to either the Fee Application or the Cash Collateral Motion.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

As a preliminary matter, the Court notes that Counsel neglected to include a declaration from the Debtors in support of its requested fees. Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2016-1 states the requirements for compensation for professional persons. Under LBR 2016-1(J), the application for compensation must include "A separately filed declaration from the client indicating that the client has reviewed the fee application and has no objection to it . . . ." If the client declines to provide their declaration, the applicant "must file a declaration describing the steps that were taken to obtain the client's declaration and the client's response thereto." See id. Accordingly, subject to the conclusions set forth below, approval of Counsel's compensation is conditioned on the submission of a declaration in compliance with LBR 2016-1(J) by no later than August 26, 2020.

A. The Fee Application

Section 330(a)(1) allows the Court to award "reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered" by a professional. In determining the amount of compensation to award, the Court considers the nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

- (A) the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;

(C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;

(D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;

(E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field; and

(F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation charged by comparably skilled practitioners in cases other than cases under this title.

§ 330 (a)(3).

As the recitation of facts set forth above illustrates, Counsel has failed to competently represent the Debtors. This case was filed on April 3, 2018 and the Court ordered the submission of the disclosure statement and plan materials by May 31, 2019, but it took more than fourteen months for Counsel to secure a plan confirmation order. Throughout this fourteen-month interval, the Debtors' case did not meaningfully progress on account of Counsel's critical errors and inaccurate pleadings. Counsel's negligence required Debtors to incur thousands of dollars of additional administrative fees and delayed the conclusion of the case by at least six months.

Disclosure Statement

Counsel requests $4,920 in legal fees for the preparation of the first, second, and third versions of the disclosure statement, but these services were of limited benefit to the estate. See Fee Application, Ex. D at 1-2. Many of the services associated with the preparation and filing of the disclosure statement were not competently performed as Debtors were required to submit four amended disclosure statements. As discussed in the Court's final rulings [Doc. No. 76, 89, 100], the disclosure statement forms were riddled with significant deficiencies and inconsistencies preventing creditors from effectively understanding important plan provisions. Among other problems, each version of the disclosure statement failed to provide creditors with adequate information concerning the estate's assets, the estimated return to creditors under a chapter 7 liquidation, of financial information and financial projections. For example, even in their final versions, the plan materials failed to consistently state whether priority tax claims would be paid on either a quarterly or monthly basis. Compare Doc. No. 121 with Doc. No. 122. [Note 1]. Many of the services billed by Counsel in this category were necessary only because Counsel failed to adequately prepare the disclosure statement forms, and therefore was required to file additional drafts of the disclosure statement. Having reviewed the Fee Application, the Court finds that Counsel is entitled to only $3,444 in fees associated with the disclosure statement, subject to a 30% reduction of $1,476.

The Plan

Counsel requests $2,905 in fees incurred in connection with the belated third amended plan. See Fee Application, Ex. D at 4. As explained in Section I, the filing and approval of the Plan was unjustifiably delayed by months due to Counsel's clerical mistake. Although the occurrence of a ministerial error is understandable, Counsel's failure to take any appropriate action for nearly four months is troubling. Most egregiously, Counsel neglected to act until prompted by the Court through the OSC. [Note 2]. This level of negligence by Counsel demonstrates its inability to competently supervise the Debtors' case through plan confirmation, arguably the most important stage in any chapter 11 proceeding. In view of oversights and errors made by Counsel, the Court finds that Counsel is entitled to receive only $1,452.50 in connection with work performed regarding the third amended plan, which represents a 50% reduction.

The OSC

Finally, Counsel seeks $350 for preparing and filing the Debtors' reply to the OSC. Counsel is not entitled to any compensation billed in relation to the OSC, which was caused by its clerical mistake and failure to appropriately supervise Debtors' case for approximately four months.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court finds that Counsel is entitled to fees and expenses of $14,365.50, which accounts for a reduction of fees in the sum of $3,278.50.

B. The Cash Collateral Motion

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of § 363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368-69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtor "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of § 363 – that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. 11 U.S.C. §§ 363(c)(2)(B), 363(e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365, 382 (1988). Section 361 sets forth three non-exclusive examples of what may constitute adequate protection: (1) periodic cash payments equivalent to decrease in value; (2) an additional or replacement lien on other property; or (3) other relief that provides the indubitable equivalent. See In re Mellor, 734 F.2d 1396, 1400 (9th Cir. 1984). Professional fees may be satisfied from a debtor-in-possession's cash collateral. See In re Bluejay Properties, LLC, 512 B.R. 390 (B.A.P. 10th Cir. 2014) (affirming court's order authorizing debtor's use of oversecured creditor's cash collateral to pay estate professionals).

Here, the Court finds that the Bank is over-secured and adequately protected by approximately a 4.3% equity cushion (after deducting costs of sale). The Court further finds that the Bank is adequately protected because there is no evidence in the record to suggest that the Property is declining in value or that the Debtors are not current on their post-petition monthly mortgage obligations to the Bank. Moreover, the rental income generated from the Property each month surpasses the monthly sum owed to the Bank.

On a separate note, the Cash Collateral Motion asserts that Counsel will be paid a "one-time" fee of $7,644. The Court is unclear if this "one-time" payment to Counsel constitutes a voluntary reduction of Counsel's fees and expenses. Counsel does not affirmatively state on the Fee Application that it has elected to voluntarily reduce its fees from $16,935 to $7,644. It is equally unclear whether Counsel has previously received any cash advances from the Debtors for services billed during this application period. The Cash Collateral Motion is granted, insofar that Counsel is not entitled to receive more than its allowed fees and expenses for the second and final application period.

Finally, the Court deems the Bank's failure to file a response or opposition to the Cash Collateral Motion as its consent to the granting of the motion pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(h).

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Court finds that Counsel is entitled to final fees and expenses of $14,365.50, which accounts for a reduction of fees in the sum of $3,278.50. Notwithstanding, approval of Counsel's compensation is conditioned on the submission of a declaration in compliance with LBR 2016-1(J) by no later than August 26, 2020. Amounts previously paid on an interim basis, if any, are now deemed final. Furthermore, the Cash Collateral Motion is GRANTED as stated above.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order as to both the Fee Application and the Cash Collateral Motion, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. Note 1: As set forth in the Final Ruling Confirming Debtors' Third Amended Plan of Reorganization, in order to give finality to the Debtors' case, the Court found that any conflict among the plan materials would be governed pursuant to the Plan's provisions. See Doc. No. 149-1.

Note 2: Accordingly, the Court disapproved the initial version of the Plan on January 16, 2020 and no action was taken by Counsel until the filing of the response to the OSC on April 21, 2020.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

ChineseInvestors.com, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition on June 19, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is a financial information web portal that offers news and information regarding financial markets in Chinese. The issue before the Court pertains to a monthly compensation structure requested by Weintraub & Selth ("WS"), the proposed bankruptcy counsel for the Official Committee of Creditors (the "Committee"), and Force 10, LLC ("Force 10"), proposed financial advisor for the Committee. The contemplated payment procedure is opposed by the Debtor and the United States Trustee (the "UST").

Pursuant to an order entered on July 7, 2020 [Doc. No. 35] (the "July 7 Order"), the Court approved the Debtor's first-day request to retain and pay professionals in the ordinary course of Debtor's business operations (the "ordinary course professionals" or "OCPs"). The July 7 Order allowed the compensation of OCPs on a month-to-month basis, subject to a compensation cap of $10,800 per month (the "OCP Cap"):

The Court finds that the Debtors' proposed retention procedures are consistent with § 327(b) and approves the procedures. The Court notes that procedures similar to those proposed here have been approved by a number of courts.

The OCPs that the Debtor seeks to employ fall within the ambit of § 327(b). The OCPs have been regularly employed by the Debtor prior to the petition. The services they perform—accounting, public relations, investor communications, advertising, and information technology services—are necessary regardless of whether a bankruptcy petition was filed. The fact that professionals are not paid a fixed salary does not disqualify the Debtor from retaining their services under § 327(b). The professionals were employed by the Debtor prepetition and received regular payments, which necessarily varied depending upon the amounts of services that the professionals provided.

Under the Debtor’s procedures, the rights of all parties to object are preserved. The Court finds that the procedures are an effective means of reducing the administrative costs of the case. The professionals the Debtor seeks to employ do not regularly practice before the bankruptcy court and are not familiar with the Bankruptcy Code’s required employment and compensation procedures. Were the professionals required to file fee applications, the Debtor would be required to spend significant time helping them to comply with the procedures—driving up administrative costs.

Ruling Granting Emergency Motion Authorizing Employment of OCPs [Doc. No. 35] at 24-25.

The Employment Applications

The Committee concurrently submitted applications to employ WS as bankruptcy counsel and Force 10 as financial advisor on July 29, 2020 [Doc. Nos. 111, 114] (the “Employment Applications”). One of the terms set forth in the Employment Applications seeks authorization to compensate both professionals under a monthly payment procedure in the same manner of In re Knudsen, 84 B.R. 668 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988). The contemplated compensation arrangement calls for the payment of 100% of the professionals’ fees and 80% of their fees, on a monthly basis, not to exceed $10,800 each month (the “Payment Procedures”). In support of the requested compensation procedure, the Employment Applications assert the following principal arguments and representations:

The Payment Procedures are warranted in consideration of the Knudsen factors: (1) the case is unusually large; (2) an extending waiting period for payment would place an undue burden on the professionals; (3) the professionals are capable of responding to any reassessment of fees; and (4) the payment procedure itself is subject to a noticed hearing. In re Knudsen, 84 B.R. at 672-73. First, with respect to the size of the bankruptcy case, the Payment Procedures should be approved, notwithstanding that the this case is smaller than the Knudsen case. The approval of Knudsen-type fee procedures, even in smaller reorganization proceedings, is supported by the discussions in In re Lotus Props. LP, and In re Jefferson Business Center Associates. See Lotus Props., 200 B.R. 388, 397-98 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1996) (“the ‘message’ behind Knudsen...[is] satisfied by allowing counsel to obtain monthly post-petition payments, notwithstanding that...[this] Chapter 11 case is smaller than Knudsen.”); Jefferson Bus. Ctr., 135 B.R. 676, 680 (Bankr. D. Colo. 1992) (“A small firm should not be treated any differently, as long as it meets all of the criteria referenced above.”). Second, the Payment Procedures are necessary because waiting for compensation in 120-day periods “may place undue hardship on [WS].” Due to WS’s size and available resources, disapproval of the Payment Procedure would essentially require WS to “finance” the Debtor’s reorganization, subjecting the firm to financial hardship. The Payment Procedures would ease such hardship. Similarly, Force 10 reiterates that, absent approval of the Payment Procedures, it may experience undue hardship, even though Force 10 does not anticipate “devot[ing] significant time in this case.” See Declaration of Adam Meislik (the “Meislik Declaration”), ¶ 16. Third, the declaration of Daniel J. Weintraub (the “Weintraub Declaration”) avers that WS and its professionals have the necessary time, experience, and resources to readily respond to any reassessment of fees payable to WS. See Weintraub Decl., ¶ 18. WS understands that its fees and expenses are subject to approval by this Court under §§ 330 and 331. Last, notice of the Payment Procedures has been served upon the Debtor, its counsel, secured creditors, the Debtor’s twenty largest unsecured creditors, parties who requested special notice, and the UST. Additionally, notice of the professionals’ requested compensation will be served upon the above-referenced parties each month. See Weintraub Decl., ¶ 15.

Furthermore, the July 7 Order authorizes the compensation of the Debtor’s OCPs on a monthly basis, in an amount not to exceed $10,800 each month. Both WS and Force 10 are entitled to receive the same treatment afforded to the OCPs. Accordingly, the Code prohibits debtors from treating administrative claimants differently. In re Lazar, 83 F.3d 306, 308-09 (9th Cir. 1996) (“Under the Bankruptcy Code, administrative expense creditors must be treated equally and the court should not set up its own order of priorities.”).

The Payment Procedures are warranted under the circumstances and resemble the compensation arrangement in Knudsen. This arrangement does not impair the ability of interested parties to challenge the professionals’ fees, and any requested compensation will not be automatically approved, but remain subject to the Court’s scrutiny in accordance with the Code. Moreover, both WS and Force 10 are capable of repaying Debtor any fees disallowed by the Court.

The Objections

The UST’s Objections

On August 4, 2020, the UST lodged separate objections against the Payment Procedures proposed in both Employment Applications [Doc. Nos. 125, 126] (the “UST’s Objections”). The UST contends that the Employment Applications have failed to establish the factual support necessary to justify a departure from the traditional 120-day interim compensation process as set forth in Knudsen. The UST asserts that Knudsen-type procedures are meant to be applied only in “rare circumstances,” such as unusually large or complex cases. For example, in In re Verity Health Systems, Inc., et. al., Case No. 2:18-bk-20151-ER, this Court approved Knudsen-style procedures, where the debtors’ counsel and the unsecured creditor committee’s counsel billed more than $1,000,000 each month. The UST avers that the Committee has not shown that this case is either “unusually large,” or that it is “rare or uncommon” for counsel in chapter 11 proceedings to bill more than $10,800 each month. WS Application Objection at 3-4. The Employment Applications proffer nothing more than conclusory statements in support of the claim that WS or Force 10 “may” suffer undue hardship if the Payment Process is denied. Additionally, the argument that the UST’s compensation guidelines (the “Compensation Guide”) promote the payment of professional fees and expenses on a monthly basis is misguided. The UST advises that the Compensation Guide offers procedures on the drawdown of retainers paid to counsel, but it says nothing about professional payment schemes in the manner of Knudsen. Similarly, the Employment Applications’ reliance on Jefferson Business is misplaced, given that the decision discussed the drawdown payments on a post-petition retainer. Here, the Committee does not assert that the professionals were advanced a retainer.

The UST also challenges the notion that WS and Force 10 are entitled to the payment structure set up for OCPs, given that the Committee's professionals do not serve the same purpose as the OCPs. Finally, the UST argues that the Payment Procedures would generate unnecessary administrative expenses as other estate professionals would be inclined to request such treatment and because preparing fee statements would cost applicants $1,000 or more each month. Therefore, the Employment Applications do not provide enough evidence warranting adoption of the Payment Procedures.

The Debtor's Objection

On August 4, 2020, the Debtor independently lodged a separate objection against the Payment Procedures [Doc. No. 128] (the "Debtor's Objection"). The Debtor reiterates many of the arguments advanced by the Trustee, mainly that the Employment Applications do not adequately justify a Knudsen-type compensation procedure. Moreover, the Debtor argues that it would be unfair to permit the Committee's professionals to be paid on a monthly basis, where the Debtor's bankruptcy counsel, SEC compliance counsel, and accountant have all agreed to receive compensation in conformity with §§ 330 and 331. The OCPs are different from estate professionals, the Debtor explains, as the OCPs are all pre-petition service providers, and their services, expertise, and knowledge are necessary to maintain Debtor's ongoing business operations. Accordingly, the OCPs do not offer any bankruptcy-related services, but their skills are vital the best interests of creditors and the estate. If "replacement professionals" must be hired and trained, then, the Debtor cautions, the estate will need to incur unnecessary administrative expenses.

The Reply

Below is a summary of the main points, arguments, and representations set forth in the Committee's Reply [Doc. No. 137] filed on August 12, 2020:

The Committee is entitled to Knudsen-type payments because other estate professionals—such as the Debtor's counsel and accounting firm, have received sizeable retainers at the outset of the case. The disparity in the compensation structure among estate professionals means that the Committee's professionals will be required to finance both their own fees and their Debtor's reorganization. Due to the scope of the Debtor's case—and its status as a publicly-traded entity—WS and Force 10 will need to expend substantial time and resources to competently represent the Committee. The Court should take note of the fact that the Hinds Law Group, Debtor's counsel, was given a $70,000 pre-petition retainer, $37,429.80 of which remains in counsel's client trust account. SLBiggs, the Debtor's accountant, similarly received a substantial $25,000 post-petition retainer. Given that the Committee was convened after first day motions were considered, unsecured creditors were incapable of timely voicing an opposition against the employment of the OCPs or the payment of hefty retainers to Debtor's professionals.

Further, the lack of transparency on Debtor's finances casts doubt on its future ability to satisfy administrative claims or fund a feasible chapter 11 plan. There is no guarantee that the Debtor will be capable of paying WS and Force 10 pending approval of interim fee applications, on the 120-day mark. The decision in Lazar stands for the proposition that "administrative creditors must be treated equally, and the court should not set up its own order of priorities." To the extent that Debtor's professionals received a substantial retainer, the administrative claims of WS and Force 10—co-equal in priority to other professional claims—are being treated unequally. The Committee's professionals should be granted Knudsen payments, or in the alternative, the Debtor must be compelled to provide WS and Force 10 with "adequate retainers."

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 330(a)(1) allows the Court to award "reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered" by a professional. In determining the amount of compensation to award, the Court considers the nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

- (A) the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;
- (C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;
- (D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;

(E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field;

and

(F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation charged by comparably skilled practitioners in cases other than cases under this title.

§ 330 (a)(3). The court may award professionals reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services and reimbursement for actual, necessary expenses. § 330. In order to receive payment, a professional may apply for interim compensation not more than once every 120 days, or more often if the court permits. § 331.

However, there are certain "rare" circumstances where the delay in the distribution of a retainer could cause substantial cash flow problems for attorneys. In response, the Ninth Circuit has recognized an exception to the customary compensation procedure in unusually large cases where an exceptionally large amount of fees accrues each month, and where waiting would result in an undue hardship on the professionals. United States Trustee v. Knudsen Corp. (In re Knudsen Corp.), 84 B.R. 668, 672 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988). In In re Knudsen, the bankruptcy appellate panel reasoned that §§ 330 and 331 do not "absolutely prohibit" the transfer of funds to a professional before the court approves any interim compensation. Professionals seeking alternative payment procedures have the burden to show that such procedures are justified. In re Dividend Develop. Corp., 145 B.R. 651, 656 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1992).

In re Knudsen provided a framework for determining whether a particular case warrants an advance payment scheme:

1. The case is an unusually large one in which an exceptionally large amount of fees accrues each month ("Factor 1");
2. The court is convinced that waiting an extended period for payment would place an undue hardship on the professional(s) ("Factor 2");
3. The court is satisfied that the professional(s) can respond to any reassessment ("Factor 3"); and
4. The retainer procedure is, itself, the subject of a noticed hearing prior to payment thereunder ("Factor 4").

Bankruptcy courts contemplating Knudsen payments have also considered a number of additional factors including:

- The payment arrangement's economic impact on the debtor's ongoing business operation;
- The ability of the debtor to reorganize;
- The reputation of the professional in question;
- The effect of the proposed procedure on the ability of the court to adequately review professional fee applications.

See In re Mariner Post-Acute Network, Inc., 257 B.R. 723, 731 (Bankr. D. Del. 2000); see also In re Jefferson Bus. Ctr. Assoc., 135 B.R. at 679.

Here, the UST argues that the Committee has not demonstrated that alternative compensation procedures are warranted in this case. The Committee asserts that its professionals are readily capable of satisfying Factors 3 and 4, and the objections do not focus on these Knudsen factors. Therefore, the remaining questions are (1) whether the case is sufficiently large and/or complex and (2) whether WS and Force 10 will suffer undue hardship without periodic payments.

With respect to Factor 1, the Court determines that the Employment Applications have failed to establish that the size of this case warrants the Payment Procedures. The Committee posits that although this case is not as extensive as the Knudsen case, the size of the case should not preclude approval of the Payment Procedures. The Court is unpersuaded by this argument at this early stage of the proceedings. Knudsen-style payments are routinely approved in large or complex proceedings because of the administrative difficulties encountered in such cases. See In Mariner Post-Acute Network, 257 B.R. at 731. In larger cases, which tend to generate a massive amount of legal fees, the 120-day waiting period often places a substantial financial burden on estate professionals. See id.; see also Knudsen, 84 B.R. 668 at 672-73.

The Employment Applications furnish no evidence that the professional fees expected to accrue every 120 days will create burdensome administrative challenges for the Court or estate professionals. Although this bankruptcy case has a diverse creditor body, at this time, there is only one debtor entity here with total known assets barely surpassing $1 million based on a recent operating report. See Monthly Operating Report No. 1. [Doc. No. 97] at 61. Another important consideration is that the professionals' fees will be capped at $10,800 each month, a far cry from the amount of fees generated in more expansive cases where Knudsen procedures have been adopted. See, e.g., In re Mariner Post-Acute Network, 257 B.R. at 731 (Bankr. D. Del. 2000) (payment of professional fees on a quarterly basis approved in a case involving 180 jointly-administered debtors, with revenues in excess of $2.8 billion, and the accumulation of $7 million in fees over the first eight months of the bankruptcy). Relatedly, the Court is aware that there are outstanding questions about the Debtor's finances, and that the imminent appointment of an examiner could very well enlarge the scope of this case. As explained below, this fact militates in favor of denying the Payment Procedures for the time being.

With respect to Factor 2, the Court finds that the Employment Applications have not established that the professionals will suffer undue hardship if required to abide by the traditional interim fee procedure. The Payment Procedures call for the professionals to receive compensation not exceeding 80% of $10,800, or $8,640, each month. Both professionals generally declare that hardship will result if such procedures are not adopted. However, it is not unusual for professionals to receive compensation of a similar dollar amount under traditional fee procedures. Moreover, Force 10 does not anticipate that "it will be required to devote significant time in this case." See Force 10 Application at 10. Apart from the general claim of hardship, the Employment Applications do not set forth specific reasons indicating that this case will require a departure from the traditional compensation scheme under §§ 330 and 331. Accordingly, the Employment Applications have not established undue hardship. It is entirely conceivable, however, that the financial burdens occasioned by this case on WS and Force 10, if any, will be more visible in the weeks or months to come.

The Court further considers that this reorganization is still in its early stages, and whether the Debtor can afford to pay administrative claims, or present a feasible plan, is still a mystery to the Court. The Committee concedes this precise point: "Albeit early in the Debtor's bankruptcy case...there are concerns about the ability of the Debtor to fund a plan of reorganization, including payment of administrative claims, in the future." See Reply at 5 (emphasis added). Having reviewed the record before it, the Court cannot conclude that the Debtor will be unable to pay the Committee's professionals at the 120-day mark. The fact that the UST, the Debtor, and the Committee have stipulated for the appointment of an examiner under § 1104(c)(1) and (c)(2) further supports the Court's conclusion. See Doc. No. 138. With time, the Court will be in a better position to make a more informed prediction on Debtor's financial stability.

Furthermore, the Court is especially sensitive of the added administrative costs imposed by the Payment Procedures. The single cost of preparing monthly fee reports comprises a significant portion of the maximum monthly fee cap. Conservatively assuming that the Committee incurs approximately $1,000 to prepare, file, and serve a fee statement each month, per professional, then the expected clerical costs alone will total at least $8,000, every 120 days. Any other professional that requests Knudsen payments will incur an additional $4,000 in preparation fees during the same period. At this stage, it is conceivable that the estate will be required to employ additional professionals: special litigation counsel, consumer privacy ombudsman, etc. By virtue of the foregoing, approving the Payment Procedures right now is premature at best. See In re Mariner Post-Acute Network, 257 B.R. at 731 (in determining to approve Knudsen payments, courts may also consider "the payment arrangement's economic impact on the debtor's ongoing business operation."; see also Knudsen, 84 B.R. 668 at 672 (in approving an alternative compensation scheme, the Knudsen court reasoned that fee procedures must not result in "a waste of estate assets").

The Committee advances that its professionals are treated disparately because OCPs are compensated on a monthly basis. Although administrative expense creditors must be treated equally, the Court gives little weight to this argument as OCPs are neither administrative claimants nor estate professionals. Instead, the OCPs are employees critical to the Debtor's business operations, whose compensation scheme was established pre-petition. If the Debtor cannot ensure that OCPs will be paid as before, the estate runs the risk of incurring considerable expense and delay to locate and hire similarly-skilled professionals. See Debtor's Objection at 4. To ensure the equal treatment of its professionals, the Committee further argues that the Lazar decision supports approval of the Payment Procedures. However, the facts presented in Lazar are inapposite to the current situation. The unequal treatment discussed in Lazar was the result of a court's decision to subordinate the payment of fees owed to an administrative claimant in favor of similarly-placed claimants. See In re Lazar, 83 F.3d at 308. Additionally, the Lazar court did not consider an alternative compensation arrangement akin to Knudsen. Here, there is no evidence that disapproval of the Payment Procedures will result in subordination of the professionals' claims. The Court cannot presently conclude that the Debtor will be incapable of paying estate professionals on an interim basis.

Nonetheless, the claim that the Committee's professionals have been treated differently from other estate professionals is a serious concern. The Debtor is instructed to enter into a good faith dialogue with the Committee over the disbursement of an adequate retainer to the Committee's professionals. If this proceeding expands in scope or complexity, failure to consider the expenses borne by the Committee and its professionals could prove prejudicial to unsecured creditors. Under such circumstances, approval of a Knudsen-type compensation scheme would be warranted.

For the time being, however, the Employment Applications have failed to establish that the Payment Procedures are justified.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Court is prepared to find that the Payment Procedures are not warranted at this time. Compensation of fees and expenses accrued by WS and Force 10 will be governed pursuant to §§ 330 and 331. The remainder of the Employment Applications are granted according to the terms and conditions set forth therein.

Employ Additional Professionals Used in the Ordinary Course of Business [Doc. No. 127]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background

ChineseInvestors.com, Inc. (the “Debtor”) filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 19, 2020 (the “Petition Date”). The Debtor is a financial information web portal that offers news and information regarding financial markets in Chinese. The Debtor also provides investor relations services for companies requiring Mandarin language support, which includes translating client releases into English from Mandarin or vice versa, increasing awareness of clients and their stock, and helping clients move from the pink sheets to more established public securities exchanges.

On July 7, 2020, the Court granted the Debtor’s first-day motion for authorization to retain and pay professionals employed in the ordinary course of business (the “OCPs”). See Doc. Nos. 3 (the “OCP Motion”) and 44 (the “OCP Order”). The Court found that the OCPs that the Debtor sought to employ performed services that would be necessary regardless of whether a bankruptcy petition had been filed; that the OCPs would not play a significant role in the administration of the estate; and that employment of the OCPs was authorized under § 327(b). The OCP Order authorized the Debtor to retain and compensate OCPs in accordance with the following procedures:

- 1) Within forty-five days after service of an order granting the OCP Motion, each ordinary course professional shall file a declaration establishing that they are a disinterested party within the meaning of Bankruptcy Rule 2014(a) (the “Disinterestedness Declaration”). The Disinterestedness Declaration shall be served upon parties entitled to notice; such parties shall have fourteen days to object to the retention of the ordinary course professional. If no objection is timely filed, the employment of the ordinary course professional shall be deemed approved without further order of the Court.
- 2) While the case is pending, the fees of each ordinary course professional shall not exceed $10,800 per month on average over a rolling three-month period (the “OCP Cap”). To the extent that fees exceed the OCP Cap, the ordinary course professional shall file a notice and invoice setting forth the services rendered and fees incurred (a “Notice of Excess Fees”). Interested parties shall have fourteen days to object to the Notice of Excess Fees. If no objection is

Debtor moves for an order authorizing it to retain additional OCPs, nunc pro tunc to the Petition Date. Debtor states that since the filing of the OCP Motion, management has identified additional OCPs that should be covered by the OCP Order. Debtor seeks to extend the scope of the OCP Order to cover the following additional OCPs (the "Additional OCPs"):

Professional	Services Rendered
Delray Wannemacher	Independent Director, located in the United States
King Fe Leung aka Patrick Leung	Chief Financial Officer, located in Hong Kong
Sina.com	Online media company and provider of mobile value-added services
GlobalOne Filings, Inc.	Agent responsible for filing documents with the SEC
Ferruci Law Group	Legal services
Quote Media	Financial services
Phoenix Satellite Television (US) Inc.	Advertising services
Zhang Ling	International foreign-exchange broker
Suiqing Wu	Accountant for China office

The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") opposes the Motion. The Committee states that it would have opposed the OCP Motion had it been in existence at the time of the hearing on the OCP Motion, and requests that the Court reconsider the ruling granting the OCP Motion for the following reasons:

- 1) At least one of the professionals employed under the OCP Order, attorney Melissa N. Armstrong, has been involved in the administration of the estate. Armstrong testified extensively at the § 341(a) meeting of creditors, answering numerous questions addressed to the Debtor's principal Warren Wei Wang.

- 2) The OCPs cannot be employed under § 327(b) because that section applies only to professionals "regularly employed ... on salary," and none of the OCPs are salaried employees of the Debtor.
- 3) After paying the OCPs, the estate might not have funds sufficient to pay the Committee's professionals, in which case the OCPs would receive payment ahead of the Committee's professionals in violation of the priorities set forth in the Bankruptcy Code.

The Debtor makes the following arguments in reply to the Committee's opposition:

- 1) The Committee's request for reconsideration of the OCP Order should be denied as procedurally improper. The Committee should have presented this request to the Court by way of a separately noticed motion.
- 2) The Committee's opposition to the Motion is inconsistent with the position taken by the Committee in support of its applications to employ general bankruptcy counsel and a financial advisor. In connection with these employment applications, the Committee seeks authorization for its professionals to be paid on a monthly basis, subject to the same $10,800 per month cap applicable to OCPs. Yet the Committee simultaneously opposes the Debtor's request to retain and employ additional OCPs. The Committee's opposition is not motivated by a concern for the integrity of the estate, but rather by a desire to guarantee that funds are available to pay the Committee's professionals.
- 3) The Debtor has established that the OCPs are not involved in administering the estate but instead provide services necessary in the ordinary course of the Debtor's business. See Wang Decl. [Doc. No. 9] at ¶ 69 ("The Ordinary Course Professionals provide services for the Debtor in a variety of matters unrelated to this Chapter 11 case, including general legal services, accounting services, auditing and tax services, and certain consulting services.... The services provided by the Ordinary Course Professionals are not specific to the Chapter 11 Case or the Debtor's restructuring, but are instead necessary to the day-to-day continuation of the Debtor's operations.").

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

The Court declines to consider the Committee's request to reconsider the OCP Order. It was not procedurally proper for the Committee to seek reconsideration in its opposition to the Motion. The Committee may renew its request for reconsideration by way of a separately noticed motion. [Note 1]

Having declined to reconsider the OCP Order, the Court turns to the remaining question posed by the Motion—whether it is appropriate to extend the scope of the OCP Order to apply to the Additional OCPs. As explained in In re That's Entm't Mktg. Grp., Inc., professionals are required to obtain employment under § 327(a) only if they perform services necessary to the administration of the estate:

For purposes of interpreting § 327, the term “professional persons,” is a “term of art reserved for those persons who play an intimate role in the reorganization of a debtor's estate.” In re Johns–Manville Corp., 60 B.R. 612, 619 (Bankr.S.D.N.Y.1986). See also Matter of D'Lites of America, Inc., 108 B.R. 352 (Bankr.N.D.Ga.1989) (under § 327(a), “a professional person is one who takes a central role in the administration of the bankruptcy estate and in the bankruptcy proceedings”). A person's status as a “professional” is not determinative; the inquiry focuses on that person's duties. “If the duties involved are central to the administration of the estate, such duties are professional in nature.” In re Sieling Associates Ltd. Partnership, 128 B.R. 721, 723 (Bankr.E.D.Va.1991).

To the extent that the Additional OCPs perform services that do not pertain to the administration of the estate and that would be necessary regardless of whether the Debtor had sought bankruptcy protection, the Court finds extension of the OCP Order to the Additional OCPs to be appropriate. The evidence submitted by the Debtor establishes that the services to be performed by Delway Wannemacher, King Fe Leung aka Patrick Leung, Sina.com, GlobalOne Filings, Inc., Quote Media, Phoenix Satellite Television (US) Inc., and Zhang Ling do not pertain to the administration of the estate. The Debtor is authorized to retain and compensate these Additional OCPs in accordance with the provisions of the OCP Order.

The Debtor has not provided sufficient detail regarding the services to be performed by Ferruci Law Group and Suiqing Wu to enable the Court to determine whether these professionals may be properly retained as OCPs. The Debtor states only that Ferruci Law Group (“Ferruci”) will perform “legal services” and that Suiqing Wu (“Wu”) is an “accountant for China office.” The Debtor shall appear to provide additional detail regarding the services that Ferruci and Wu will perform.

The Committee opposes employment of the Additional OCPs on the ground that sufficient funds may not be available to pay the fees of the Committee’s professionals after payment of the Additional OCPs. The Committee’s argument overlooks the fact that employment and retention of the Additional OCPs are necessary to the operation of the Debtor’s business. Declining to authorize retention of the Additional OCPs could compromise the Debtor’s continued business operations, bringing about the very administrative insolvency that the Committee fears.

The Committee argues that Melissa N. Armstrong should not have been retained as an OCP because she testified at the § 341(a) meeting. This argument goes to the Committee’s request for reconsideration of the OCP Order, and therefore the Court does not consider it at this time. As stated, the Committee may renew its request for reconsideration of the OCP Order by way of motion.

For the reasons set forth below, MBN's opposition is OVERRULED, and the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) JL AM Plus, LLC's Application for Attorneys' Fees on Appeal Pursuant to the Bankruptcy Court's Memorandum of Decision [Doc. No. 366] (the "Motion")
  - a) Declaration of John S. Purcell in Support of JL AM Plus, LLC's Application for Attorneys' Fees on Appeal Pursuant to the Court's Memorandum of Decision [Doc. No. 367]
- 2) Opposition by Defendant MBN Real Estate Investments, LLC to Motion for Attorneys' Fees [Doc. No. 373] (the "Opposition")
- 3) JL AM Plus, LLC's Reply in Support of Application for Attorneys' Fees on Appeal

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On October 7, 2019, the Court entered judgment in favor of JL AM Plus, LLC ("JLAMP") and against MBN Real Estate Investments, LLC ("MBN"). See Doc. No.

342 (the "Judgment"). The Judgment provided that JLAMP was entitled to damages in the total amount of $1,813,635.62, consisting of principal damages of $1,218,514.75 plus attorneys' fees and costs of $595,120.87. On October 18, 2019, MBN appealed the Judgment to the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel (the "BAP"). On July 8, 2020, the BAP affirmed the Judgment. On August 7, 2020, MBN appealed the BAP's affirmance of the Judgment to the Ninth Circuit.

JLAMP moves for attorneys' fees in the amount of $152,955.95 and costs in the amount of $49.25 for work performed enforcing the Judgment and in connection with the appeal (the "Motion"). MBN makes the following arguments in opposition to the Motion:

- 1) The Motion is premature because it was filed before the BAP issued its mandate returning jurisdiction to the Bankruptcy Court.
- 2) JLAMP's hourly rates are 40% higher than the rates billed by MBN. JLAMP's hourly rates should be reduced so that they equal the rates billed by MBN.
- 3) The hours billed by JLAMP are excessive. JLAMP's primary work product was its 50-page appellate brief. JLAMP has billed approximately $3,000 for each page of the brief, which is excessive.
- 4) The fees requested are disproportionate to the amount recovered. JLAMP purchased a claim from the Chapter 7 Trustee for $905,000, yet recovered only $1,218,514.75 on that claim, for a net recovery of $313,514.75. The total fees requested in the present Motion are about half the size of the net recovery.
- 5) JLAMP's time entries are block-billed, which prevents MBN and the Court from properly evaluating the appropriateness of the fees requested.

JLAMP makes the following arguments in reply to MBN's opposition:

- 1) The opposition should be stricken because it was filed one day late.
- 2) MBN's argument that the Motion was premature because it was filed prior to the issuance of the mandate is bad-faith re-interpretation of Local Bankruptcy Rule 7054-1. LBR 7054 requires that an application for attorneys' fees be filed within fourteen days after the entry of judgment and makes no reference to the issuance of the mandate.
- 3) The Court has already rejected MBN's argument that JLAMP's fees should be reduced to the rates charged by MBN's counsel. MBN is barred by the law of the case from reasserting this argument.

- 4) The hours billed by JLAMP are not excessive. In its Statement of Issues on Appeal, MBN initially identified eleven issues for appeal. JLAMP reasonably began researching and preparing arguments with respect to all these issues. In its opening brief, MBN abandoned many of its arguments. JLAMP had no way of knowing that MBN would not pursue many of the arguments identified in the Statement of Issues on Appeal, and it was reasonable for JLAMP to initiate preparations to defend against all of these arguments.
- 5) There is no merit to MBN's argument that JLAMP's fees should be reduced because they are disproportionate to the net amount recovered. Attorneys' fees are not determined by reference to the amount of recovery either in the trial court or through affirmance of the appeal.
- 6) MBN's assertion that JLAMP block-billed is conclusory. Because MBN has failed to identify any billing entries that lack sufficient detail, it has not carried its burden with respect to this argument.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Before turning to the merits, the Court first disposes of several threshold matters. First, it is appropriate for the Court to rule upon the Motion, notwithstanding the fact that MBN's appeal of the Judgment is currently pending before the Ninth Circuit. See Masalosalo by Masalosalo v. Stonewall Ins. Co., 718 F.2d 955, 957 (9th Cir. 1983) ("The district court retained the power to award attorneys' fees after the notice of appeal from the decision on the merits had been filed. Recognition of that authority best serves the policy against piecemeal appeals. It will prevent hasty consideration of postjudgment fee motions. It will prevent postponement of fee consideration until after the circuit court mandate, when the relevant circumstances will no longer be fresh in the mind of the district judge.").

Second, the Court declines to strike MBN's opposition solely because it was filed one day late. JLAMP was not unduly prejudiced by the untimely filing.

Turning to the merits, the Court overrules MBN's opposition to the Motion, and finds that the fees requested are appropriate.

First, there is no merit to MBN's contention that the Motion was premature because it was filed before the BAP issued its mandate returning jurisdiction to the Bankruptcy Court. LBR 7054-1(g) provides that "a party seeking an award of attorneys' fees where such fees may be awarded must file and serve a motion not later than 14 days after entry of judgment or other final order, unless otherwise ordered by the court." JLAMP complied with LBR 7054-1(g) by filing the Motion within fourteen days after the BAP affirmed the Judgment. There is no jurisdictional bar to the Court hearing the Motion because the mandate was issued prior to the date of this hearing.

Second, MBN is barred by the doctrine of the law of the case from asserting that JLAMP's fees are excessive because JLAMP's counsel bills at a higher rate than MBN's counsel. "Under the 'law of the case' doctrine, a court is ordinarily precluded from reexamining an issue previously decided by the same court, or a higher court, in the same case." Richardson v. United States, 841 F.2d 993, 996 (9th Cir.), amended, 860 F.2d 357 (9th Cir. 1988). "For the doctrine to apply, the issue in question must have been 'decided explicitly or by necessary implication in [the] previous disposition.'" United States v. Lummi Indian Tribe, 235 F.3d 443, 452 (9th Cir. 2000). The Court has previously rejected MBN's argument that JLAMP's counsel's billing rate is excessive:

MBN's argument that the rates [charged by JLAMP's counsel] are excessive, simply because they exceed the rates charged by MBN's counsel, misses the mark. Nothing within the reasonable hourly rate calculation requires that the rates charged by the prevailing party be on parity with the rates charged by opposing counsel. Further, MBN's argument presumes, without any supporting evidence, that its own rates are a proxy for prevailing market rates. Because MBN has not introduced any persuasive evidence that the rates of JLAMP's counsel exceed prevailing market rates, its objection is overruled.

Memorandum of Decision Finding that JLAMP is Entitled to Attorneys' Fees and Costs in the Amount of $595,120.87 [Doc. No. 341] at 6.

MBN's argument that JLAMP's fees are excessive because they are disproportionate to JLAMP's net recovery is also without merit. The Court "must calculate awards for attorneys' fees using the 'lodestar' method, and the amount of that fee must be determined on the facts of each case. The 'lodestar' is calculated by multiplying the number of hours the prevailing party reasonably expended on the litigation by a reasonable hourly rate." Camacho v. Bridgeport Fin., Inc., 523 F.3d 973, 978 (9th Cir. 2008) (internal citations and quotations omitted). Where, as here, the fees awarded will not be paid from the bankruptcy estate, nothing within the lodestar calculation requires that a fee award be limited based on the amount of the underlying judgment. See, e.g., Vo v. Las Virgenes Mun. Water Dist., 79 Cal. App. 4th 440, 442–43, 94 Cal. Rptr. 2d 143, 145 (2000) (awarding attorneys' fees of $470,000 on an underlying judgment of $40,000); Cruz v. Ayromloo, 155 Cal. App. 4th 1270, 1276, 66 Cal. Rptr. 3d 725, 730 (2007) ("It is not uncommon to award attorneys' fees in an amount higher than the total damages awarded to a plaintiff or plaintiffs in a particular case. Appellant cites no authority for the proposition an award of attorneys' fees must always be less than the award of damages in a given case, and we are aware of none.").

In connection with JLAMP's prior application for fees, the Court has found that the rates charged by its counsel are reasonable. For work performed during 2020, counsel has slightly increased its rates. Taking into account the experience, skill, and reputation of JLAMP's counsel, the Court finds that the hourly rates charged are reasonable. The hourly rates are consistent with prevailing market rates for practitioners of comparable experience, skill, and reputation in the Central District of California. The Court notes that counsel has applied a 10% across-the-board discount to its bill.

The Court must next determine whether the number of hours expended on the litigation by JLAMP's counsel was reasonable. "Ultimately, a 'reasonable' number of hours equals '[t]he number of hours ... [which] could reasonably have been billed to a private client.'" Gonzalez v. City of Maywood, 729 F.3d 1196, 1202 (9th Cir. 2013) (internal citations omitted).

JLAMP seeks fees of $152,955.95 and costs of $49.25 for (1) obtaining affirmance of the Judgment, (2) preparing the instant Motion, and (3) attempting to enforce the Judgment. Counsel spent a total of 210.1 hours performing these tasks. Having reviewed counsel's billing records, the Court finds that the number of hours spent is reasonable in light of the results obtained. As aptly observed by one court: "By and large, the court should defer to the winning lawyer's professional judgment as to how much time he was required to spend on the case; after all, he won, and might not have, had he been more of a slacker." Moreno v. City of Sacramento, 534 F.3d 1106, 1112 (9th Cir. 2008). The Court rejects MBN's contention that JLAMP's billing records do not contain sufficient detail to enable the Court to assess the reasonableness of the hours billed.

MBN's framing of JLAMP's fee request in terms of the cost per page of JLAMP's appellate brief oversimplifies the nature of this litigation. The appeal involved a number of contested issues of law and fact. Counsel was required to use skill and judgment in responding to each of the arguments that MBN advanced in its attempt to obtain reversal of the Judgment. To view counsel's services solely in terms of the cost for each page of an appellate brief does a disservice to the complex work that attorneys perform.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, MBN's opposition is OVERRULED, and JLAMP is awarded attorneys' fees in the amount of $152,955.95 and costs in the amount of $49.25. Within seven days of the hearing, JLAMP shall submit a judgment incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States

Additionally, the Movant alleges that the instant case was filed in bad faith, given that the Debtor previously filed another bankruptcy case that implicated an interest in the subject vehicle (the "Prior Case"). See In re Sheldon Williams, Case No. 2:20-bk-10527-ER. The Debtor filed the Prior Case, on a pro se basis, on January 17, 2020. The Prior Case was dismissed on February 4, 2020, given the Debtor's failure to submit basic case commencement documents, including a certificate of credit counseling. However, the Court notes that the petition contains substantial financial information about the Debtor, including a listing of various secured and unsecured creditors, assets, income, and expenses. To assist him in commencing the Prior Case, the Debtor paid $100 to a bankruptcy petition preparer. See Doc. No. 1 at 60. Therefore, the dismissal of the Prior Case appears to be the result of a unintentional oversight by the Debtor, and not part of a plan to frustrate the Movant's efforts. Based upon the foregoing, the Court finds that the instant case was not filed in bad faith.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Notice of Motion and Motion in Individual Case for Order Imposing a Stay or Continuing the Automatic Stay as the Court Deems Appropriate [Doc. No. 6] (the "Motion")
2. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On May 5, 2020, Eric Stefon Watkins (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary petition under chapter 7 [Case No. 2:20-bk-14689-ER] (the "Prior Case"). The Prior Case was dismissed on June 8, 2020 based on the Debtor's failure to timely submit a signed Form 122A-1.

On August 8, 2020, the Debtor filed this voluntary chapter 7 case. On Schedule D, the Debtor lists secured creditor Alaska USA Federal Credit Union (the "Credit Union"), which holds a security interest in the Debtor's vehicle. There are no other secured creditors. The Debtor now moves to continue the automatic stay as to all creditors pursuant to § 362(c)(3)(B) (the "Motion") [Note 1]. The Debtor asserts that the dismissal of the Prior Case was the result of an unintentional oversight—because he was not represented by an attorney at the time, he failed to grasp the significance of an order to comply with FRBP 1007. See Prior Case, Doc. No. 6. The Debtor has now retained counsel to assist him in the second bankruptcy case. The Debtor avers that this case was not filed in bad faith as he intends to continue making payments to the Credit Union and reaffirm the debt. Moreover, the Debtor notes that he has approximately $1,430 in equity in his vehicle. Additionally, he asks for the continuance of the automatic stay to preclude an unsecured creditor from garnishing his wages.

As of the date of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 362(c)(3)(A) provides that the automatic stay terminates by its own terms thirty days after a debtor's bankruptcy filing, when the debtor has filed a prior bankruptcy case that was dismissed within one year of the second bankruptcy filing. However, pursuant to § 362(c)(3)(B), the debtor or any other interested party may seek to continue the automatic stay beyond the thirty-day period. The movant must demonstrate that the case was filed "in good faith as to the creditors to be stayed." 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3)(B). Under certain circumstances, a presumption of bad faith arises that the movant may rebut only by presenting clear and convincing evidence of the debtor's good faith. See 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3)(C)(i) – (ii).

One of the factors triggering the presumption of bad faith is whether the debtor failed to "file or amend the petition or other documents as required by this title or the court without substantial excuse." 11 U.S.C. § 362(c)(3)(C)(i)(II)(aa). Mere negligence or inadvertence by the debtor does not constitute substantial excuse. See id. Here, the failure to timely lodge an executed copy of Form 122A-1 triggers the bad faith presumption. However, based upon a review of the Motion, the commencement documents submitted in the Prior Case, and the declaration of the Debtor, the Court finds that Debtor has established by a preponderance of the evidence that this case was filed in good faith. The Motion asserts that the dismissal of the Prior Case was caused by an inadvertent oversight, which is not expected to reoccur as Debtor retained general bankruptcy counsel. Furthermore, the record supports the claim that Debtor filed this bankruptcy case to reaffirm his debt to the Credit Union and address unsecured debts in an orderly manner. The continuance of the automatic stay furthers the Debtor's objective by halting an unsecured creditor's efforts to garnish his wages. As such, the Debtor has convincingly rebutted the presumption of bad faith.

Moreover, the Court has not received any objection to the Motion. Accordingly, pursuant to LBR 9013-1(h), the Court presumes all interested parties consent to the continuance of the automatic stay as to all creditors.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. For the reasons set forth below, the Liquidating Trustee's Second Omnibus Claim Objection is GRANTED in its entirety.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Second Omnibus Claims Objection [Doc. No. 1594] (the "Claims Objection")
- 2) No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Gardens Regional Hospital and Medical Center, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 6, 2016 (the "Petition Date"). On September 18, 2018, the Court confirmed the Debtor's Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation (the "Plan"). The Plan appointed Michael R. Lane as the Liquidating Trustee responsible for, among other things, objecting to claims.

The Liquidating Trustee objects to twelve general unsecured claims (collectively, the "Claims"), on the ground that the Claims were not timely filed. See Doc. No. 1594 (the "Claims Objection"). No opposition to the Claims Objection is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

On August 10, 2016, the Court entered an order fixing October 31, 2016 as the deadline for creditors to file general unsecured claims (the "General Unsecured Claims Bar Date"). See Doc. No. 308. The Debtor provided notice of the General Unsecured Claims Bar Date to the holders of the Claims on August 31, 2016. See Doc. No. 355.

Section 502(b)(9) provides that after an objection to a claim is filed, "the court, after notice and a hearing, shall determine the amount of such claim in lawful currency of the United States as of the date of the filing of the petition, and shall allow such claim in such amount, except to the extent that proof of such claim is not timely filed ...." Bankruptcy Rule 3003(c)(2), which implements § 502(b)(9), provides that any creditor who fails to timely file a proof of claim "shall not be treated as a creditor with respect to such claim for the purposes of voting and distribution."

Here, each of the Claims was filed after the General Unsecured Claims Bar Date, notwithstanding the fact that each creditor received notice of the bar date. Pursuant to § 502(b)(9) and Bankruptcy Rule 3003(c)(2), the Claims are DISALLOWED as untimely.

Within seven days of the hearing, the Liquidating Trustee shall lodge an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession, Schreiner's Fine Sausages, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition on May 26, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). The Court previously entered an order authorizing Debtor to use cash collateral, on an interim basis, through and including July 15, 2020. See Doc. No. 29. On July 22, 2020, the Court authorized the extended use of cash collateral through and including August 31, 2020 based on an updated financial budget submitted by the Debtor. See Doc. No. 51. The present hearing was set to determine whether the Debtor is entitled to use cash collateral subsequent to August 31, 2020 [Note 1]. The Debtor seeks authorization to use cash collateral through and including December 31, 2020, on the terms and conditions previously approved by this Court. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

The Debtor operates a family-owned wholesale and retail meat market and restaurant, conducting business as "Schreiner's Fine Sausages," and located at 3417 Ocean View Blvd., Glendale, California 91208 (the "Business"). The Business has been managed by the Schreiner family for three generations: Marcia Schreiner holds an 85% ownership stake in the Debtor, and her son, Walter Thomas Schreiner ("W.T. Schreiner"), holds the remaining 15% interest.

The Debtor's bankruptcy filing was precipitated by certain high-interest pre-petition business loans, which the Debtor was unable repay in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. The Debtor wishes to reorganize its debts and continue business operations. As of the Petition Date, the Debtor has secured debts in the estimated amount of $315,822.32, as follows:

- FC Marketplace, LLC, dba Funding Circle ("Funding Circle")—$248,000

Chapter 11

- Celtic Bank Corporation ("Celtic Bank")—$56,000
- Bank of America—$11,822.32

The following claims may be subject to a perfected security interest, but the Debtor believes these debts are unsecured:

- QuarterSpot, Inc. ("QuarterSpot")—$102,613.32 (based on proof of claim)
- BizFund, LLC ("BizFund")—$55,000

Cash collateral will be used to fund the Debtor's ongoing operating expenses, while the Debtor continues to pursue its reorganization. See Doc. No. 20. In support of the continued use of cash collateral, the Debtor submitted an updated budget (the "Budget"), setting forth expected Business revenues and expenses through the month of December 2020. See Doc. No. 64. The Budget anticipates that the Business will generate estimated monthly sales ranging from $141,000 to $161,000 through the end of the year, which will leave Debtor with monthly net income averaging approximately $2,000. The Budget projects that business revenue, the costs of goods, and business expenses will remain relatively stable for the rest of the year. The Debtor proposes to make adequate protection payments to Funding Circle in the amount of $2,229.93 each month. The Debtor proposes to provide all other secured creditors with a replacement lien to the extent that the proposed cash collateral use dilutes the value of said creditors' liens.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no objection is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of §363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368–69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. § 363(c)(2)(B) and (e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988).

Based on the updated Budget figures, the Court reiterates most of the factual and legal conclusions rendered in previous ruling authorizing the use of cash collateral.

The Secured Creditors' Interests are Adequately Protected

The Court finds that the secured interest of Funding Circle in the Debtor's cash collateral is adequately protected. Funding Circle remains adequately protected through monthly adequate protection payments of $2,229.93, and by the fact that the Debtor's financial projections indicate that the cash collateral is not declining in value, and business revenue will remain relatively constant. To the extent that other secured creditors claim an interest in the cash collateral, adequate protection will be provided to them by a replacement lien in post-petition property. Moreover, the Budget projects that the Debtor's business operations will continue to generate a steady stream of replacement income. Cf. In re Megan-Racine Associates, Inc., 202 B.R. 660, 663 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1996) (concluding that "[a]s long as there was a continuous income stream being generated by the Debtor, the fact that the Debtor consumed a portion of those monies to operate and maintain the facility each month did not diminish the value of the [secured creditor's] interest in the [cash collateral]"). In connection with previous cash collateral hearings, the Court concluded that secured creditors' liens were not falling in value. The Court finds it appropriate to maintain that finding until presented with concrete evidence to the contrary.

The Debtor Will Suffer Irreparable Harm Absent Interim Use of Cash Collateral

The Court finds that the Debtor will suffer irreparable harm absent the continued use of cash collateral. Use of cash collateral is necessary for the Debtor to pay employees, who are instrumental in maintaining Debtor's revenue stream. If Debtor is unable to reliably make payroll, it is likely that employees will leave, and the Debtor will be unable to operate the Business. If the Debtor is forced into a liquidation proceeding, both secured and unsecured creditors may find it difficult to recover as much as they would if the Debtor is preserved as a going concern. See Schreiner Decl., ¶ 10 (opining that Debtor's equipment—one of the Debtor's most valuable assets—is likely to fall in value upon liquidation). Without the ability to use cash collateral to sustain operations, the Debtor would be irreparably harmed. As it did before, the Court determines that the expenditures stated on the updated Budget are necessary to the Debtor's continued reorganization efforts.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral in accordance with the Budget through and including December 31, 2020. A hearing on the use of cash collateral subsequent to December 31, 2020 shall take place on December 16, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. Having reviewed the docket, the Court finds it appropriate to set a deadline for the Debtor to file a disclosure statement and plan of reorganization by no later than February 28, 2021.

The Debtor shall submit further evidence in support of the continued use of cash collateral, including an updated Budget, by no later than November 23, 2020. By that same date, the Debtor shall provide notice of the continued hearing and shall file a proof of service so indicating. Opposition to the continued use of cash collateral is due by December 2, 2020; the Debtors' reply to any opposition is due by December 9, 2020.

The Debtor shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference within seven days of the hearing

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Doc. Nos. 34-36. The Court's concern related to a potential discrepancy between the insider compensation listed in the Notices and the officer salary figures stated in the Budget. On July 16, 2020, Debtor submitted the Rosenstein Declaration [Doc. No. 50] which clarifies that the $6,000 compensation paid to Marcia Schreiner does not constitute officer salary. Instead, because Marcia Schreiner is the Debtor's landlord, these payments are identified as "Rent Expense" on the Budget figures.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED, and the Court finds that the redemption value of the Debtor's Vehicle is $5,668. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the requested relief is contingent upon Debtor submitting an amended statement of intention with respect to the Vehicle, clarifying the Debtor's intention to redeem the Vehicle, by no later than September 8, 2020.

- 2) As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Jeffrey Vinu Patel (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition on July 12, 2020 (the "Petition Date") [Doc. No. 1]. On August 10, 2020, the Debtor filed the Motion to Redeem Personal Property (Amended) (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 12]. The Motion seeks to redeem a 2016 Nissan Versa Hatchback (the "Vehicle"), which the Debtor characterizes as personal property intended primarily for personal or family use, pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 722. The Vehicle is subject to the allowed secured claim of Carmax Auto Finance ("Carmax") in the estimated amount of $14,239. The Debtor asserts that his interest in the Vehicle is exempt, and Carmax's debt represents dischargeable consumer debt. See Motion at 3-4.

The Debtor does not discuss the current condition of the Vehicle, but information contained in a recent appraisal (the "Valuation"), affixed to the Motion as Exhibit 1, suggests that the Vehicle is in overall "fair" condition and has mileage approximately totaling 57,001. The Valuation was prepared on July 14, 2020 and appraises the average base value of the Vehicle as $5,668, "based on Kelley Blue Book." See Motion, Ex. 1. Based on this evidence and citing to a series of decisions issued subsequent to the Supreme Court's opinion in Associates Commercial Corp. v. Rash, the Debtor contends that the redemption value of the Vehicle is $5,668 for purposes of redemption under § 722. Moreover, the Debtor represents that he has made "arrangements" to pay Carmax the valuation amount within thirty days of an order granting the Motion. See Motion at 4.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 722 of the Bankruptcy Code provides in full:

An individual debtor may, whether or not the debtor has waived the right to redeem under this section, redeem tangible personal property intended primarily for personal, family, or household use, from a lien securing a dischargeable consumer debt, if such property is exempted under section 522 of this title or has been abandoned under section 554 of this title, by paying the holder of such lien the amount of the allowed secured claim of such holder that is secured by such lien in full at the time of redemption.

11 U.S.C. § 722.

The amount to be paid to a creditor to redeem pursuant to § 722 is determined by 11 U.S.C. § 506(a) which provides in relevant part:

(a)(2) if the debtor is an individual in a case under chapter 7 . . . , such value with respect to personal property securing an allowed claim shall be determined based on the replacement value of such property as of the date of the filing of the petition without deduction for costs of sale or marketing. With respect to property acquired for personal, family, or household purposes, replacement value shall mean the price a retail merchant would charge for property of that kind considering the age and condition of the property at the time value is determined.

11 U.S.C. § 506(a)(2). Courts consider retail values in the N.A.D.A. Guide or Kelley Blue Book in determining the replacement value of a vehicle for purposes of § 506(a)(2). In re Labostrie, 2012 WL 6554727 at *3 (BAP 9th Cir. 2012); In re Morales, 387 B.R. 36, 43 and 46 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2008). Moreover, this Court has held that:

absent unusual circumstances, the retail value should be calculated by adjusting the Kelley Blue Book or N.A.D.A. Guide retail value for a like vehicle by a reasonable amount in light of any additional evidence presented regarding the condition of the vehicle and any other relevant factors. Value should be calculated as of the petition date, not the valuation hearing. The burden in proving the reasonableness of any deviation from the guide retail value rests with the debtor because the debtor has the best access to information about the condition of the vehicle.

In re Morales, 387 B.R. at 45. "The changes made to Bankruptcy Code § 506 by BAPCPA now make clear that the valuation is 'as of the date of the filing of the petition.'" In re Ayers, 2010 Bankr. LEXIS 519 n.3 (N.D. Cal. Bankr. 2010); see id.

The Court further acknowledged that "the condition of the vehicle might easily be established based predominantly on declarations submitted with the motion." Id. at 48. Further, the fair market value "is the price which a willing seller under no compulsion to sell and a willing buyer under no compulsion to buy would agree upon after the property has been exposed to the market for a reasonable time." In re Taffi, 96 F.3d 1190 (9th Cir. 1996) (en banc), cert. denied, 521 U.S. 1103 (1997).

Here, the Court determines that the Valuation is the most accurate evidence proffered in support of the redemption value of the Vehicle. The appraised valuation was prepared only two days after the Petition Date, and it contemplates the Vehicle's current condition, age, and mileage. The Court notes, however, that the Vehicle's reported valuation is approximately $800 less than the fair market value stated in the petition. Nevertheless, the difference in value is only nominal and the proposed valuation has not been contested by Carmax. In any case, any deviation from the Vehicle's estimated fair market value may be supported by evidence such as expert testimony, vehicle advertisements, declarations, or an appraiser report. See In re Brown, No. CIVA 06-00197JW, 2006 WL 3692609, at *3 (Bankr. D.S.C. Apr. 24, 2006) (decreasing the retail value cited by creditor due to necessary repairs described in an appraiser's report). Based on the limited evidence proffered by Debtor, the Court determines that the figure reported in the Valuation is a reasonable indicator of the "the price which a willing seller under no compulsion to sell and a willing buyer under no compulsion to buy would agree upon after the property has been exposed to the market for a reasonable time." In re Taffi, 96 F.3d at 1190; see also In re Morales, 387 B.R. at 49 (the debtor established that vehicle was in "fair" condition based on "minimal" evidence).

Therefore, in accordance with § 506(a)(2), the Court finds that the valuation of $5,668 accurately reflects the price a retail merchant would charge for the Vehicle.

Finally, § 521(a)(2)(A) requires the Debtor to file a statement of intention with respect to the retention or surrender of the Vehicle, specifying whether the debtor intends to redeem such property, within thirty days of the petition date, or a date fixed by the Court. Further, within thirty days after the first date set for the meeting of creditors under § 341(a), debtor must perform debtor's intention with respect to such property. 11 U.S.C. § 521(a)(2)(B).

On the Petition Date, the Debtor filed a Statement of Intention expressing an intention to retain the Vehicle and reaffirm the debt to Carmax. Doc. No. 1. A review of the docket indicates that Debtor has not amended the Statement of Intention to indicate that the Vehicle will be redeemed. The Debtor must also perform his intention with respect to the Vehicle within thirty days of the first date set for the meeting of creditors, which fell on August 11, 2020. Therefore, the granting of this Motion is conditioned on Debtor submitting an amended Statement of Intention, which reflects his intention to retain the Vehicle and redeem it.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Court finds that the redemption value of the Debtors' Vehicle is $5,668. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the requested relief is

Background on the Syn-Care Claims

On or about October 12, 2018, Syn-Care Wellness Center, Inc. ("Syn-Care"), Kimberly DiDomenicantonio ("Kimberly") and Dominic DiDomenicantonio ("Dominic," collectively with Syn-Care and Kimberly, the "Settling Parties") filed a lawsuit against the Debtor, bearing the title of Syn-care Wellness Center, Inc., et al. v. Gregory Tardaguila, et al., Case No. 18STCV01047 pending in Los Angeles County Superior Court (the "Syn-Care Lawsuit") [Note 1]. On or about February 13, 2019, the Debtor responded by asserting a cross-complaint against the Settling Parties in the Syn-Care Lawsuit (the "Counterclaims"). The Debtor has repeatedly amended his commencement schedules, which reflect varying dollar amounts for the value of the Counterclaims, and the Debtor's claimed exemptions therein. Based on the most recent versions of his commencement schedules, the Debtor values the Counterclaims at $3,000,000, in which he lists no claim of exemption. See Doc. Nos. 42, 43. According to the second amended Schedule E/F [Doc. No. 40], Kimberly holds an unsecured claim against the Debtor in the amount of $600,000. The claims register reflects that the Debtor has unsecured and priority claims in the estimated amount of $1,105,421.53. See Claims Register.

The Motion

On July 31, 2020, the Trustee filed the Motion [Doc. No. 44], moving for the approval of a settlement agreement between the estate and the Settling Parties (the "Settlement Agreement"). The material terms of the Settlement Agreement are as follows:

1. The Settling Parties agree to pay the Trustee the sum of $35,000 (the "Compromise Sum"), upon the execution of the Settlement Agreement, until further order of the Court.
2. The Trustee shall release all claims against the Settling Parties in connection with both the Counterclaims and the Syn-Care Lawsuit.
3. The Settling Parties retain their rights to file a proof of claim against the estate for any amounts that could be recovered in connection with the Counterclaims and/or the Syn-Care Lawsuit.

See Declaration of Brad D. Krasnoff ("Krasnoff Decl"), Ex. 1. [Note 2]

In support of the Settlement Agreement, the Trustee makes the following arguments in accordance with the factors enumerated in In re A & C Properties, 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986):

1. The likelihood of prevailing in the Syn-Care Lawsuit, and achieving an outcome that improves upon the Settlement Agreement, is highly uncertain. Having discussed the issue with Adam Braun, the Debtor's counsel in the Syn-Care Lawsuit, the Trustee believes that the estate would encounter significant difficulties in achieving a favorable result in state court. Additionally, Mr. Braun advised the Trustee that the Counterclaims are significantly overvalued, with a more realistic recovery being closer to a five-figure sum, if anything at all. See Krasnoff Decl., ¶ 5. Notably, Mr. Braun refused to consider the possibility of serving as the Trustee's special litigation counsel in the Syn-Care Lawsuit. Apart from the indefinite value of the Counterclaims, there is additional uncertainty resulting from anticipated legal expenses, delay, and the possibility of losing at the trial stage.
2. There is nothing to suggest that the estate will have any difficulty in collecting against the Settling Parties. In fact, the Settling Parties have already tendered the Compromise Sum to the Trustee.
3. Although the Syn-Care Lawsuit does not present complex issues, the Trustee questions the practicality of pursuing litigation. Based on the delay to find a special litigation counsel, and acknowledging anticipated legal costs, potential appeals, and adverse rulings, prosecution of the Counterclaims is unlikely to benefit creditors more than the Settlement Agreement.
4. Therefore, the paramount interests of creditors are better served by approval of the Settlement Agreement, which will immediately bring $35,000 into the estate, without significant delay or expense.

The Opposition

On August 19, 2020, the Debtor submitted a declaration in opposition to the approval of the Settlement Agreement (the "Opposition"). The Debtor contends that the Settlement Agreement should be disapproved because the Compromise Sum ($35,000) falls considerably below the Debtor's estimated value of the Counterclaims of $3,000,000. In withdrawing his claimed exemption of the Counterclaims, the Debtor hopes to pay all administrative costs and allowed claims, and thereby "creating" a surplus estate. In support of the claim that the proposed Compromise Sum is unreasonable, the Debtor dedicates much of the Opposition detailing the underlying allegations in the Syn-Care Lawsuit. In summary, the Debtor's objection consists of a narrative about the formation of the parties' chiropractic practice, their business and personal relationships, and the DiDomenicantonios' purported fraudulent activities. For reasons further explained below, the Court will not consider the Debtor's specific allegations in deciding the instant matter.

The Reply

On August 26, 2020, the Trustee submitted a reply in response to the Opposition (the "Reply"), making the following principal representations, points, and arguments:

The Motion adequately discusses the A & C Properties factors, which militate in favor of the Settlement Agreement. The Debtor fails to offer a complete response against the Trustee's arguments, and instead focuses on offering his opinion on the likelihood of success in prosecuting the Counterclaims. The Debtor's view on the valuation of the Counterclaims is unrealistic and in conflict with the opinions expressed by his own attorney of record in the Syn-Care Lawsuit and with his original schedules [Note 3]. Where the Debtor's conjecture about the value of his case is based on a layperson's assessment, the Compromise Sum is supported by Mr. Braun's opinion, who, as Debtor's attorney, is more intimately familiar with the strengths and weaknesses of Debtor's case. Therefore, the Compromise Sum falls within the "range of reasonableness." Even if the Court were inclined to adopt the Debtor's position, bankruptcy courts are not expected or required to resolve disputed issues of fact and law in evaluating the adequacy of compromises under Rule 9019. See United States v. Alaska Nat. Bank of the North (In re Walsh Constr., Inc.), 669 F.2d 1325, 1328 (9th Cir. 1982). Finally, the Debtor fails to consider the best interests of the estate and creditors, who will presumably have to shoulder the cost, delay, and risk in the adjudication of the Counterclaims. Nothing in the Opposition suggests that Debtor intends to bid on the claims, therefore, the Debtor proceeds under the assumption that the estate will finance litigation.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a) permits the Court to approve a compromise or settlement. In the Ninth Circuit, courts consider the following factors in determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement:

- (a) The probability of success in the litigation;
- (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection;
- (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it;
- (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises.

Martin v. Kane (In re A&C Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986).

"Each factor need not be treated in a vacuum; rather, the factors should be considered as a whole to determine whether the settlement compares favorably with the expected rewards of litigation." In re Western Funding Inc., 550 B.R. 841, 851 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2016). Furthermore, "compromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (Bankr. D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983).

The Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair and reasonable, and in the best interest of the estate in accordance with the A & C Properties factors.

1. Likelihood of Success in Litigation

Here, the first factor weighs strongly in favor of the Settlement Agreement. Although the Syn-Care Lawsuit does not involve unusual or complex issues of fact or law, the parties conflicting positions are likely to prolong litigation, thereby substantially increasing legal costs and diminishing the net value of any monetary award. Because the parties' disputes involve their personal and business relationships, the Court anticipates litigation will likely require each side to incur significant discovery expenses, e.g. procuring percipient witness testimony and/or the production of financial documents. Readily securing such evidence is further complicated, given the passage of time and in light of the restrictions attendant with the COVID-19 pandemic. Further, even if discovery expenses are kept at a bare minimum, the record before the Court strongly indicates that the Debtor's assessment of the Counterclaims is vastly overvalued. Although the Debtor provides a detailed account of his allegations against the DiDomenicantonios, nothing in the Opposition casts doubt on Mr. Braun's valuation of the underlying case. Apart from considerable discovery costs, the possibility of protracted motion practice, adverse rulings, trial expenses, and appeals add further uncertainty on the Trustee's ability to secure a favorable outcome for the estate. For example, without having additional evidence on the strength of the DiDomenicantonios' claims and defenses, the Court cannot ignore the possibility of a mixed verdict at trial. Therefore, this factor weighs decisively in favor of the Settlement Agreement.

2. Difficulties in Collection

Because the Settling Parties have already tendered the Compromise Sum to the Trustee, the estate will have no difficulty in administering those assets to creditors upon approval of the Settlement Agreement. However, the same cannot be said if the estate is required to prosecute the Counterclaims. For the reasons set forth above, the estate's ability to recover anything close to a seven-figure award is doubtful. Based upon the foregoing, this factor supports approval of the Motion.

3. Complexity, Expense, Inconvenience and Delay of Litigation

The Court determines that obtaining a more favorable result by way of litigation is improbable and subject to prohibitive legal costs and delays. Continued litigation will undoubtedly be expensive and protracted. Furthermore, it is unlikely that the Debtor possesses any other assets that can be administered for the benefit of the estate. For this reason, the Settlement Agreement avoids unnecessary costs, delays, and uncertainties, while readily providing $35,000 to the estate. Although the Debtor vigorously asserts that the Settlement Agreement vastly undervalues his state court case, prosecuting the Counterclaims would likely result in a "pyrrhic victory," even if the Trustee prevails, considering Mr. Braun's statements and the realities of administrative and legal costs. This factor weighs in favor of approving the Agreement.

4. Interests of Creditors

For the various reasons explained above, the interests of creditors will be furthered by approval of the Settlement Agreement, which will provide the estate with $35,000. Apart from the proceeds to be generated via the Settlement Agreement, the estate possesses little or no administrable assets. As such, the approval of the Settlement Agreement constitutes the most realistic prospect that creditors have in achieving recovery. The Debtor urges the Court to consider the underlying allegations against the DiDomenicantonios, but in so arguing, the Debtor ignores that the estate will have to finance his claims. As discussed above, prosecuting the Counterclaims is not without substantial risk and failure to obtain a favorable outcome expeditiously would likely result in administrative insolvency.

Additionally, the Debtor makes much of the fact that the Compromise Sum falls far below the true value of his claims against the DiDomenicantonios. Nevertheless, the Debtor's position is unpersuasive. The Bankruptcy Appellate Panel of the Ninth Circuit has recognized the ability of interested parties to bid on and purchase legal claims held by the estate, in the same manner that parties are able to purchase tangible estate assets. See, e.g. In re Mickey Thompson Entm't Grp., Inc, 292 B.R. 415, 420-21 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2003) ("[w]hen confronted with a motion to approve a settlement under Rule 9019(a), a bankruptcy court is obliged to consider, as part of the 'fair and equitable' analysis, whether any property of the estate that would be disposed of in connection with the settlement might draw a higher price through a competitive process and be the proper subject of a section 363 sale. Whether to impose formal sale procedures is ultimately a matter of discretion that depends upon the dynamics of the particular situation."). Accordingly, there is no evidence that at any point the Debtor proposed an alternative resolution to improve creditors' best interests. The Debtor, for example, could have chosen to extend an offer to purchase the estate's legal claims against the DiDomenicantonios for more than the settled amount. Any offers to purchase the estate's interest in the Counterclaims are now deemed untimely at this stage and would be subject to the Trustee's review and the Court's discretion. See In re Morris, No. BAP SC-15-1222-FJUKI, 2016 WL 1254357, at *7 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. Mar. 29, 2016) (court had ample justification to reject eleventh hour offer to purchase estate's claims by debtor's insider, where proposal was untimely, unsupported, and not likely in good faith).

Accordingly, the Court rejects the Debtor's invitation to conduct a de facto mini-trial and overrules the Opposition. See In re Pac. Gas & Elec. Co., 304 B.R. 395, 417 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2004) (rather than conducting "an exhaustive investigation" or a "mini-trial," courts evaluating 9019 settlements need only find that agreement was in good faith, reasonable, fair and equitable). [Note 4]. Therefore, this factor weighs in favor of the Settlement Agreement.

In sum, the Court determines that the Trustee has satisfied all of the A & C Properties factors, and therefore, the Settlement Agreement is approved.

III. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED, and the Settlement Agreement is APPROVED.

The Trustee is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Carlos Nevarez at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: The creditors' first names are used to avoid confusion. No disrespect is intended. At times, Dominic and Kimberly are referred jointly as the "DiDomenicantonios."

Note 2: Any conflict in the nomenclature contained in the Motion, this tentative ruling, and the Settlement Agreement shall be controlled pursuant to the terms of the Settlement Agreement.

Note 3: The Debtor's original Schedule A/B listed an unknown dollar value for the Counterclaims. See Doc. No. 1.

Note 4: In evaluating the adequacy of the Settlement Agreement, the Court declines to consider the Debtor's assertions on his underlying dispute with the DiDomenicantonios. Therefore, the Trustee's evidentiary objections concerning such allegations are moot. The Debtor's Opposition is overruled.

River") commenced a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on July 12, 2016. From March 21, 2016 to January 29, 2017, the Hon. Thomas B. Donovan presided over Liberty and Oak River's cases. On January 30, 2017, both cases were reassigned to the undersigned Judge.

On June 18, 2018, the Court entered an order in the Liberty case confirming the First Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation Dated January 31, 2018 (the "Liberty Plan" and the order confirming the Liberty Plan, the "Liberty Confirmation Order"). Liberty Doc. No. 609, Ex. A (Liberty Plan) and Liberty Doc. No. 665 (Liberty Confirmation Order). The Liberty Plan appointed Bradley D. Sharp as the Plan Administrator responsible for liquidating the assets of Liberty's estate (the "Plan Administrator"). Among other things, the Liberty Plan provides that Liberty holds 100% of Oak River's equity. Consequently, the Liberty Plan provides that any surplus proceeds from Oak River's estate will be distributed to creditors of Liberty's estate.

Oak River's primary asset was its 50% interest in property located at 119 Furlong Lane, Bradbury, CA 91008 (the "Property"). On August 23, 2018, the Court granted Oak River's motion to sell the Property for $6.9 million. Oak River Doc. No. 138. Subsequent to the Property's sale, the Oak River obtained Court approval of settlements with various entities asserting claims against the Property. Oak River Doc. Nos. 160 and 195. Oak River has made the payments under the Court-approved settlement agreements and has also paid undisputed claims against the Property. Proceeds from the Property's sale that remain to be distributed amount to $1,034,640.45 (the "Estate Funds").

On August 5, 2020, Oak River filed a Chapter 11 Plan [Doc. No. 231] (the "Plan"). The Plan provides for payment in full of all remaining claims against Oak River from the Estate Funds, followed by the distribution of the remaining Estate Funds to Liberty, as Oak River's 100% equity owner. The aggregate amount of outstanding unsatisfied claims is approximately $260,329.34, consisting of $230,000 in administrative claims, $29,293.17 in general unsecured claims, and a $1,636.17 priority tax claim. The Plan's estimated distribution to Liberty is $742,326.24.

Oak River moves for confirmation of the Plan (the "Confirmation Motion"), as well as for an order dispensing with the requirement of obtaining approval of a Disclosure Statement. Oak River asserts that a Disclosure Statement is unnecessary since all classes are unimpaired and therefore are deemed to accept the Plan.

The Plan Administrator does not oppose the request to waive the requirement for a Disclosure Statement. In response to the Confirmation Motion, the Plan Administrator requests certain minor modifications and clarifications to the Plan. Oak River is agreeable to all the Plan Administrator's requested modifications, except for the Plan Administrator's request that Oak River be required to obtain entry of a Final Decree by no later than December 31, 2020. Oak River states that it will use its best efforts to obtain a Final Decree by December 31, 2020, but opposes an order to that effect. Oak River points to the possibility of unexpected delays in completing matters necessary to consummate the Plan.

No opposition to confirmation of the Plan is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. Oak River is Not Required to Obtain Approval of a Disclosure Statement

The purpose of a Disclosure Statement is to provide creditors with information adequate to enable them to make an informed judgment with respect to voting on the Plan. Here, all creditors are conclusively deemed to accept the Plan because all classes of claims under the Plan are unimpaired. § 1126(f). Because the Debtor is not required to solicit votes on the Plan, no purpose would be served by requiring the Debtor to obtain approval of a Disclosure Statement. In re Victory Const. Co., Inc., 42 B.R. 145, 154 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1984) (stating that "since no class was impaired, no disclosure statement is required"). In addition, requiring Oak River to obtain approval of a Disclosure Statement would increase administrative expenses and reduce the ultimate recovery available to Liberty.

B. The Plan is Confirmed

As set forth below, the Plan satisfies all the requirements of § 1129. The Court will confirm the Plan.

SECTION 1129(A)(1)

Section 1129(a)(1) requires that the "plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." According to the leading treatise, the "legislative history suggests that the applicable provisions are those governing the plan's internal structure and drafting: 'Paragraph (1) requires that the plan comply with the applicable provisions of chapter 11, such as section 1122 and 1123, governing classification and contents of a plan.'" Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 1129.01[1] (16th rev'd ed.) (citing S. Rep. No. 989, 95th Cong., 2d Sess. 126 (1978)).

Section 1122(a) provides that "a plan may place a claim or an interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interests of such class." "A claim that is substantially similar to other claims may be classified separately from those claims, even though section 1122(a) does not say so expressly." In re Rexford Props., LLC, 558 B.R. 352, 361 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2016).

The Plan's classification structure complies with § 1122(a). Class 1 consists of allowed general unsecured claims and Class 2 consists of Liberty's equity interest.

2. Section 1122(b)

Section 1122(b) provides that "a plan may designate a separate class of claims consisting only of ever unsecured claim that is less than or reduced to an amount that the court approves as reasonable and necessary for administrative convenience."

The Plan does not contain any convenience classes. Section 1122(b) does not apply.

3. Section 1123(a)(1)

Section 1123(a)(1) requires that a plan "designate ... classes of claims, other than claims of a kind specified in section 507(a)(2) [administrative expense claims], 507(a)(3) [claims arising during the gap period in an involuntary case], or 507(a)(8) [priority tax claims], and classes of interest." There are no involuntary gap claims because this is a voluntary chapter 11 case. The Plan appropriately classifies administrative expense claims and priority tax claims. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(1).

4. Section 1123(a)(2)

Section 1123(a)(2) requires that the Plan "specify any class of claims or interests that is not impaired under the Plan." The Plan specifies that Classes 1 and 2 are not impaired. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(2).

5. Section 1123(a)(3)

Section 1123(a)(3) requires that the Plan "specify the treatment of any class of claims or interests that is impaired under the Plan." Section 1123(a)(3) does not apply because the Plan contains no impaired classes.

6. Section 1123(a)(4)

Section 1123(a)(4) requires that the Plan "provide the same treatment for each claim or interest of a particular class unless the holder of a particular claim or interest agrees to a less favorable treatment of such particular claim or interest." The Plan provides the same treatment to claims and interests of the same class. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(4).

7. Section 1123(a)(5)

Section 1123(a)(5) requires that the Plan "provide adequate means for the plan's implementation." The Plan will be funded by the Estate Funds, which are sufficient to provide for all the distributions contemplated by the Plan. The Plan satisfies § 1123(a)(5).

8. Section 1123(a)(6)

Section 1123(a)(6) provides: "[A] plan shall provide for the inclusion in the charter of the debtor, if the debtor is a corporation ..., of a provision prohibiting the issuance of nonvoting equity securities, and providing, as to the several classes of securities possessing voting power, an appropriate distribution of such power among such classes, including, in the case of any class of equity securities having a preference over another class of equity securities with respect to dividends, adequate provisions for the election of directors representing such preferred class in the event of default in the payment of such dividends."

Because no securities are being issued under the Plan, § 1123(a)(6) does not apply.

9. Section 1123(a)(7)

Section 1123(a)(7) requires that the Plan's provisions with respect to the selection of officers and directors be consistent with public policy and the interests of creditors and equity security holders.

Oak River does not anticipate the need for active management after the Effective Date. To the extent necessary, Oak River's Chief Restructuring Officer (the "CRO") will supervise Oak River's post-Effective Date operations.

The Court finds the continued supervision of the CRO to be consistent with public policy and in the interests of creditors and equity security holders. Section 1123(a)(7) is satisfied.

10. Section 1123(b)

Section 1123(b) sets forth provisions that are permitted, but not required, in a plan. The Plan contains certain of § 1123(b)'s optional provisions. The Plan is consistent with § 1123(b).

SECTION 1129(A)(2)

Section 1129(a)(2) requires that the "proponent of the plan compl[y] with the applicable provisions of this title." "The principal purpose of Section 1129(a)(2) is to assure that the proponents have complied with the requirements of section 1125 in the solicitation of acceptances to the plan." In re Texaco Inc., 84 B.R. 893, 906–07 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1988). As discussed above, Oak River was not required to solicit acceptances of the Plan or file a Disclosure Statement under § 1125. Therefore, Oak River has satisfied the requirements of § 1129(a)(2).

SECTION 1129(A)(3)

Section 1129(a)(3) requires that the "plan has been proposed in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law." As one court has explained:

The term ‘good faith’ in the context of 11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3) is not statutorily defined but has been interpreted by case law as referring to a plan that ‘achieves a result consistent with the objectives and purposes of the Code.’ ‘The requisite good faith determination is based on the totality of the circumstances.’

In re Melcher, 329 B.R. 865, 876 (Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2005) (internal citations omitted).

Here, the Plan provides for payment in full of all allowed claims, as well as a distribution to equity. The Plan’s provisions are consistent with the purposes and objectives of the Bankruptcy Code. Section 1129(a)(3) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(A)(4)

Section 1129(a)(4) requires that "[a]ny payment made or to be made by the proponent, by the debtor, or by a person issuing securities or acquiring property under the plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of, the court as reasonable." The Plan provides that all professional fees incurred prior to the Effective Date are subject to review by the Court. The plan satisfies § 1129(a)(4).

SECTION 1129(A)(5)

Section 1129(a)(5) requires that the Plan disclose "the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the Plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint Plan with the debtor, or a successor to the debtor under the Plan." (ii) requires that the appointment to or continuation in office of a director or officer be consistent with the interests of creditors, equity security holders, and public policy. Section 1129(a)(5)(B) requires the Plan proponent to disclose the identity of any insider to be employed by the reorganized debtor.

Oak River has disclosed that to the extent necessary, the CRO will supervise post-Effective Date operations. The Court finds that the continued supervision of the CRO is consistent with the interests of creditors, equity security holders, and public policy.

The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(5).

SECTION 1129(A)(6)

Section 1129(a)(6), which requires that a governmental regulatory commission with jurisdiction over rates charged by a debtor approve any rate changes provided for in the plan, does not apply.

SECTION 1129(A)(7)

Section 1129(a)(7), known as the "best interests of creditors test," provides in relevant part: "With respect to each impaired class of claims or interests, each holder of a claim or interest of such class has accepted the plan; or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of this title on such date."

All classes of claims and interests are unimpaired and so are conclusively deemed to accept the Plan. Section 1129(a)(7) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(A)(8)

Section 1129(a)(8) requires each class to accept the Plan, unless the class is not impaired. As noted, all classes of claims and interests are deemed to have accepted the Plan. Section 1129(a)(8) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(A)(9)

Section 1129(a)(9) requires that holders of certain administrative and priority claims receive cash equal to the allowed claim amount of their claims on the effective date of the plan, unless the claimant agrees to different treatment.

The Plan provides for the payment of all allowed administrative claims and priority claims in full on the Effective Date. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(9).

Section 1129(a)(10) does not apply because no classes of claims are impaired under the Plan.

SECTION 1129(A)(11)

Section 1129(a)(11), known as the "feasibility requirement," requires the Court to find that "[c]onfirmation of the plan is not likely to be followed by the liquidation, or the need for further financial reorganization, of the debtor or any successor to the debtor under the plan, unless such liquidation or reorganization is proposed in the plan."

All payments contemplated by the Plan are to be made on the Effective Date from the Estate Funds. The Estate Funds are sufficient to make the payments required under the Plan. The Plan is feasible and satisfies § 1129(a)(11).

SECTION 1129(A)(12)

Section 1129(a)(12) requires that the Debtor pay all United States Trustee fees prior to confirmation or provide for payment of those fees on the effective date. The Plan provides for the payment in full of all UST Fees on or prior to the Effective Date. Section 1129(a)(12) is satisfied.

SECTION 1129(A)(13)

Section 1129(a)(13), which contains requirements pertaining to the payment of retirement benefits, does not apply.

The Plan does not provide for the transfer of any property in contravention of applicable nonbankruptcy law. The Plan satisfies § 1129(a)(16).

SECTION 1129(D)

Section 1129(d) provides: "Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, on request of a party in interest that is a governmental unit, the court may not confirm a Plan if the principal purpose of the Plan is the avoidance of taxes or the avoidance of the application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933." No governmental unit has requested that the court not confirm the Plan on the grounds that the Plan's purpose is the avoidance of taxes. No securities are issued under the Plan. The Plan satisfies § 1129(d).

C. The Court Will Require Oak River to Obtain a Final Decree By No Later than December 31, 2020, Subject to Extension for Good Cause Show

The Plan Administrator requests that Oak River be required to obtain a Final Decree by no later than December 31, 2020. Oak River opposes the request, citing the possibility that consummating the Plan may take longer than anticipated.

The Court finds it appropriate to fix December 31, 2020 as the deadline for Oak River to obtain a Final Decree. The only tasks necessary to consummate the Plan are (1) the filing and determination of Administrative Expense Claims, (2) the distribution of the Estate Funds to Classes 1 and 2, and (3) the dissolution of Oak River. The December 31, 2020 deadline leaves Oak River ample time to complete these tasks. In the unlikely event that an unexpected delay arises, the deadline to obtain a Final Decree is subject to an extension for good cause shown.

In view of the December 31, 2020 deadline for Oak River to obtain a Final Decree, the Court does not find it necessary to set a Post-Confirmation Status Conference.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, Oak River's motion to dispense with the requirement of obtaining approval of a Disclosure Statement is GRANTED, and the Plan is CONFIRMED.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession, Neumedicines, Inc. (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary chapter 11 petition on July 17, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). Founded at the University of Southern California in 2003, the Debtor is a biopharmaceutical clinical-stage company, which was formed to research and develop interleukin-12 (“IL-12”), a drug with demonstrated efficacy in treating cancer and acute radiation syndrome. While the Debtor’s business activities do not generate a constant revenue stream, its operations have produced numerous drug patents in the United States, Canada, Japan, and Europe. According to the Debtor, these patents have a value of at least $20 million. Based on the estimate provided by Elliott Friedman (“Friedman”), the Debtor’s former president, and secured creditor, the Debtor is valued at $110 million.

As a critical component of its continuing business operations, the Debtor owns and licenses its various drug patents related to IL-12, one of which includes HemaMax, an IL-12 drug at the phase III human trial stage. The Debtor’s business operations are substantially funded through two primary income avenues associated with the development of HemaMax. First, the Debtor receives grants and research contracts from both domestic and international government agencies. Previously, in 2008 and 2011, the Debtor received an estimated $76 million in government funding from the Biological Advanced Research Development Agency (“BARDA”), a division of the Department of Health and Human Services (“HHS”). The BARDA funding, however, was terminated in 2017 as HHS shifted its focus to the research of other illnesses. Additionally, the Debtor anticipates a $500,000 grant from the European Union in early 2021. Second, the Debtor has generated revenue through licensing, investment, and loans related to HemaMax. Notably, the Debtor entered into a licensing agreement with Taiwan-based Libo Pharma Corp. (“Libo”), which granted Libo a license to further HemaMax’s application on the treatment of diffuse large B-cell lymphoma.

Among other reasons, the Debtor’s bankruptcy was triggered by the decision to enter into substantial loan agreements to fund operations between 2018 and 2019, which resulted in the Debtor effectively doubling its existing debt burden from September 15, 2018 through June 14, 2019. See Application to Debtor’s Counsel [Doc. No. 6] at 6-7 (pages cited follow the ECF pagination at the top of the document). These events followed the financial hardship caused by the termination of BARDA funding in 2017. Id. at 6. Additionally, during his tenure as president, Friedman loaned operating revenue to the Debtor, which he suddenly ceased without prior notice in or around May 2019. Id. Following his removal as president, Friedman filed a complaint (the “Federal Court Action”) against the Debtor and the late Dr. Lena Basil, one of the Debtor’s original founders. The Federal Court Action was quickly settled for $418,495. Id. at 7. The underlying settlement agreement provided Friedman with a promissory note secured by a blanket security interest in all of the Debtor's personal property and assets, which he sought to foreclose just prior to the bankruptcy filing. Id.

As of the Petition Date, all of the Debtor's assets are encumbered by secured claims in the total sum of $702,970 as follows:

- Friedman—$470,000
- Mao Qun International Investment LLC ("MQ") (together with Friedman the "Secured Creditors")—$232,970

See Motion at 9. No other secured creditor is identified in the Debtor's commencement documents.

In filing the instant bankruptcy case, the Debtor intends to sell all of its assets, which include the various IL-12 drug patents. To achieve this objective, the Debtor is in the process of interviewing investment bankers to market and sell its assets. Until its assets are sold, the Debtor requests authorization to use cash collateral to continue funding business operations, pursuant to §362(c)(2). The Debtor cautions that any disruption in its operations would prove unduly prejudicial to the estate and creditor body. Here, the Debtor represents that the Secured Creditors have consented to the proposed use of cash collateral. Further, the proposed use of cash collateral is subject to the terms of a stipulation executed by Debtor and the Secured Creditors (the "Stipulation"). In accordance with the Stipulation, the use of cash collateral will terminate on the earlier date of the Budget end period at 5:00 p.m., Pacific Time, on September 30, 2020, or an "Event of Default," as defined in the Stipulation. Other material terms contained in the Stipulation, which is affixed to the Motion as Exhibit "A", are summarized below:

- The Debtor is authorized to use the cash collateral as set forth in the Budget [Note 1], which is attached to the Stipulation as Exhibit "1", subject to a variance of 15% in excess of the amounts provided therein.
- Any expenditures surpassing 15% will require written approval of the Secured Creditors.
- In exchange of the proposed cash collateral use, each Secured Creditor will be granted, effective as of the Petition Date, a Post-Petition Lien in all of the Debtor's personal property and assets to the extent of any cash collateral used, to the same extent, priority, and validity as the Secured Creditors' pre-petition

- If such post-petition liens are insufficient to satisfy the Secured Creditors' claims, then each impaired Secured Creditor is entitled to receive an allowed claim under § 503(b), with super-priority, in accordance with § 507(b).
- Except for the fees payable to the United States Trustee and bankruptcy court charges, no other administrative claim shall be senior to or on parity with such claim under § 507(b).

See Motion at 5-6 (brief description of the Stipulation terms) [Note 2]. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no response or objection is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of Section 363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368-69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. Section 363(c)(2)(B); Section 363(e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988).

The Court finds the terms of the Stipulation to be acceptable. The Court determines that the terms and conditions set forth in the Stipulation adequately protect the Secured Creditors' claims, until the Debtor is able to sell its assets. Therefore, the Court is prepared to approve the Stipulation and authorize the use of cash collateral as proposed therein. However, the Court is concerned about the Debtor's ability to effectively market and sell its assets prior to the end of the budget period on September 30, 2020, which coincides with the projected exhaustion of the Debtor's operating revenues. See Motion, Ex. A at Ex. 1 (copy of the Budget). As of the date of this tentative ruling, the Debtor has not filed an application to employ an investment banker or a broker. Accordingly, based on the record before it, the court expects that the Debtor will conclude its search for an investment banker and submit a corresponding employment application quickly. If not, the court may find that the value assigned to the Debtor's assets is unsupported.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons stated above, the Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral through and including September 30, 2020, in accordance with the terms of the Stipulation. In the event that the parties come to an agreement on the extended use of cash collateral, pursuant to paragraph 9 of the Stipulation, the Debtor shall submit a declaration so attesting by no later than September 25, 2020. Any further requests for the use of cash collateral, or post-petition financing, not contemplated in the Stipulation must be heard by no later than September 29, 2020.

The Debtor shall lodge an appropriate order within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: Capitalized terms not defined herein shall have the same meaning as in the Motion.

Note 2: Any disparities in the language set forth in the Stipulation, the Motion, and this tentative will be governed by the terms of the Stipulation.

- d) Debtor's Reply to the Committee's Opposition to the Debtor's Motion to Supplement Emergency Motion of Debtor for an Order Authorizing the Debtor to Employ Additional Professionals Used in the Ordinary Course of Business [Doc. No. 127]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

ChineseInvestors.com, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 19, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is a financial information web portal that offers news and information regarding financial markets in Chinese. The Debtor also provides investor relations services for companies requiring Mandarin language support, which includes translating client releases into English from Mandarin or vice versa, increasing awareness of clients and their stock, and helping clients move from the pink sheets to more established public securities exchanges.

On July 7, 2020, the Court granted the Debtor's first-day motion for authorization to retain and pay professionals employed in the ordinary course of business (the "OCPs"). See Doc. Nos. 3 (the "OCP Motion") and 44 (the "OCP Order"). The Court found that the OCPs that the Debtor sought to employ performed services that would be necessary regardless of whether a bankruptcy petition had been filed; that the OCPs would not play a significant role in the administration of the estate; and that employment of the OCPs was authorized under § 327(b). The OCP Order authorized the Debtor to retain and compensate OCPs in accordance with the following procedures:

- 1) Within forty-five days after service of an order granting the OCP Motion, each ordinary course professional shall file a declaration establishing that they are a disinterested party within the meaning of Bankruptcy Rule 2014(a) (the "Disinterestedness Declaration"). The Disinterestedness Declaration shall be served upon parties entitled to notice; such parties shall have fourteen days to object to the retention of the ordinary course professional. If no objection is timely filed, the employment of the ordinary course professional shall be deemed approved without further order of the Court.
- 2) While the case is pending, the fees of each ordinary course professional shall not exceed $10,800 per month on average over a rolling three-month period (the "OCP Cap"). To the extent that fees exceed the OCP Cap, the ordinary course professional shall file a notice and invoice setting forth the services rendered and fees incurred (a "Notice of Excess Fees"). Interested parties shall have fourteen days to object to the Notice of Excess Fees. If no objection is timely filed, the excess fees shall be deemed approve, and the ordinary course professional may be paid 100% of its fees and expenses without the need to file a formal fee application.

OCP Order at ¶ 2.

On August 27, 2020, the Court granted the Debtor's motion for authorization to retain additional OCPs. See Doc. No. 160. The Court set this continued hearing to provide the Debtor the opportunity to submit further evidence in support of its request to retain Suiqing Wu, an accountant in the China office, as an OCP. No opposition to the retention of Suiqing Wu as an OCP is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Having reviewed the Declaration of Warren Wang in Support of Debtor's Supplemental Emergency Motion for an Order Authorizing Employment of Suiqing Wu as an Ordinary Course Professional [Doc. No. 155] (the "Wu Decl."), the Court finds that Suiqing Wu performs services that do not pertain to the administration of the estate and that would be necessary regardless of whether the Debtor had sought bankruptcy protection. Therefore, Suiqing Wu may be retained and compensated as an OCP.

The Court notes that much of the Wu Decl. is directed toward whether the Debtor should be allowed to continue to use WeChat Pay as part of its cash management system. The Debtor states that it intends to file a renewed motion requesting authorization to use WeChat Pay. See Wu Decl. at ¶ 14. The Court will consider the portions of the Wu Decl. pertaining to WeChat Pay once the renewed motion is filed, but such issues are not relevant to the instant Motion.

Within seven days of the hearing, the Debtor shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

In December 2019, Langlois Family Law, APC ("Plaintiff") obtained a judgment in the Los Angeles Superior Court against Steve Lewis ("Defendant") in the amount of $152,540.75 (the "State Court Judgment"). The State Court Judgment is based upon Defendant's failure to pay Plaintiff for legal services that Plaintiff provided to Defendant in a marital dissolution proceeding.

Chapter 7

Defendant filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on January 29, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). On May 1, 2020, Plaintiff filed a Complaint Objecting to the Debtor's Discharge Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 727(a)(4) [Doc. No. 1] (the "Complaint"). On July 15, 2020, the Court dismissed the Complaint, but gave Plaintiff leave to amend. On July 20, 2020, Plaintiff filed the operative First Amended Complaint Objecting to the Debtor's Discharge Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 727(a)(4) [Doc. No. 26] (the "FAC"), which alleges that Defendant should be denied a discharge for knowingly and fraudulently making false oaths and accounts on his bankruptcy schedules.

Summary of the FAC's Allegations

The material allegations of the FAC may be summarized as follows:

Commencing on January 13, 2016, Plaintiff represented Defendant in a contested marital dissolution proceeding. During the dissolution proceeding, Defendant made representations to Plaintiff regarding his financial history, personal and business financial practices, assets, liabilities, and general financial condition. Defendant's representations to Plaintiff are inconsistent with the statements Defendant made in his bankruptcy schedules, as follows:

Representation on Schedules	Representation to Plaintiff
Defendant owns a contingent 15% interest in the net profit of CORE Real Estate Group, Inc. ("CORE") with respect to CORE's 2019 earnings.	Defendant is the controlling shareholder of CORE and a W-2 employee of CORE.
Defendant's income is $25,000/month.	Defendant's income is between $30,000 to $40,000 per month. Defendant has unrestricted access to CORE's books and records, and uses that access to understate his income when it is in his interest to do so.

Defendant receives no bonus income.	Defendant's bonus income ranges from $46,000 to $64,000 annually. On 1/31/2016, Defendant represented to Plaintiff that his bonus income was $5,112/month. On 2/15/2017, Defendant represented to Plaintiff that his bonus income was $4,895/month. On 3/26/2018, Defendant represented to Plaintiff that his bonus income was $5,344/month.
Defendant receives no real estate commission income.	Defendant diverts and misdirects his real estate commissions to other real estate agents at his employer, with the understanding that the other agents will later return the misdirected commission to the Defendant.
Defendant's unreimbursed business entertainment expenses are $465.95/month.	On 1/31/2016, 6/26/2016, 11/21/2016, 2/1/2017, 2/15/2017, 3/16/2017, 8/30/2017, and 3/26/2018, Defendant represented to Plaintiff that he had no unreimbursed business expenses. Defendant manipulates the amount of his monthly unreimbursed business expenses as needed and regardless of the truth. When it is in his interest to do so, Defendant falsely discloses unreimbursed business expenses, with the understanding that his employer will later reimburse him for the expenses.
Defendant's out-of-pocket medical and dental expenses are $989/month, and Defendant's dental insurance expense is $112.11/month.	On 2/15/2017, 8/30/2017, and 3/26/2018, Defendant represented to Plaintiff that his out-of-pocket medical expenses were $368/month.
Defendant's expenses for entertainment, clubs, recreation, newspapers, magazines, and books are $791.54/month.	On 2/15/2017, Defendant represented to Plaintiff that his expenses for entertainment, gifts, and vacations were $100/month. On 8/30/2017 and 3/26/2018, Defendant represented to Plaintiff that his expenses for entertainment, gifts, and vacations were $150/month.
Defendant's monthly disposable income, for purposes of the Chapter 7 means test, is $5,374.10	Defendant's monthly disposable income for means test purposes is at least $20,000

Chapter 7

Based upon the foregoing allegations, Plaintiff contends that Defendant's discharge should be denied, for knowingly and fraudulently making a false oath or account, pursuant to § 727(a)(4).

Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Motion to Dismiss

Defendant moves to dismiss the FAC, for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, pursuant to Civil Rule 12(b)(6). Defendant makes the following arguments in support of the Motion:

- 1) The FAC's allegation that Defendant made misrepresentations on his schedules is nothing more than speculation. Plaintiff alleges that he last communicated with Defendant in March 2018, approximately 21 months prior to the Petition Date. Therefore, Plaintiff could not have known Defendant's financial condition as of the Petition Date. The FAC's allegations are not based upon sources which would provide an accurate picture of Defendant's financial condition on the Petition Date, such as tax returns or a Rule 2004 examination.
- 2) The FAC's allegations of fraud are not pleaded with particularity, as required by Civil Rule 9.
- 3) The FAC's allegations are vague and ambiguous. If the Motion to Dismiss is denied, the Court should require a more definite statement pursuant to Civil Rule 12(e).
- 4) The FAC's allegations are improperly based upon information that is subject to the attorney-client privilege, which cannot be waived.

In opposition to the Motion, Plaintiff asserts that the FAC's allegations are pleaded with sufficient specificity. With respect to Defendant's argument that the FAC is improperly based upon information subject to the attorney-client privilege, Plaintiff states that Defendant has failed to state how or why the issue of the privilege is relevant to the Motion.

In reply to Plaintiff's opposition, Defendant reiterates the contention that the FAC's allegations are speculative because they are based upon information that Plaintiff obtained 21 months prior to the Petition Date.

matter, accepted as true, to ‘state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.’ A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (internal citations omitted). To state a plausible claim for relief, a complaint must satisfy two working principles:

First, the tenet that a court must accept as true all of the allegations contained in a complaint is inapplicable to legal conclusions. Threadbare recitations of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory statements, do not suffice.... Second, only a complaint that states a plausible claim for relief survives a motion to dismiss. Determining whether a complaint states a plausible claim for relief will ... be a context-specific task that requires the reviewing court to draw on its judicial experience and common sense. But where the well-pleaded facts do not permit the court to infer more than the mere possibility of misconduct, the complaint has alleged—but it has not “show[n]”—“that the pleader is entitled to relief.”

Id. (citing Civil Rule 8(a)(2)).

Although the pleading standard Civil Rule 8 announces “does not require ‘detailed factual allegations,’ ... it demands more than an unadorned, the-defendant-unlawfully-harmed-me accusation.... A pleading that offers ‘labels and conclusions’ or a ‘formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.’ Nor does a complaint suffice if it tenders ‘naked assertion[s]’ devoid of ‘further factual enhancement.’” Id. (citing Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)).

A. The FAC States a Claim Under § 727(a)(4)

Section 727(a)(4)(A) provides that a debtor is not entitled to a discharge if “the debtor knowingly and fraudulently, in or in connection with the case made a false oath or account ....”

To state a claim under § 727(a)(4)(A), a complaint must contain factual allegations showing that:

- 1) the debtor made a false oath in connection with the case;
- 2) the oath related to a material fact;
- 3) the oath was made knowingly; and
- 4) the oath was made fraudulently.

Retz v. Samson (In re Retz), 606 F.3d 1189, 1197 (9th Cir. 2010). "A false oath may involve a false statement or omission in the debtor's schedules." Fogal Legware of Switzerland, Inc. v. Wills (In re Wills), 243 B.R. 58, 62 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1999).

"A fact is material 'if it bears a relationship to the debtor's business transactions or estate, or concerns the discovery of assets, business dealings, or the existence and disposition of the debtor's property.' An omission or misstatement that 'detrimentally affects administration of the estate is material.'" Retz, 606 F.3d at 1198 (internal citations omitted). A false statement is made "knowingly" if the debtor "acts deliberately and consciously." Id. A false statement is made "fraudulently" if the debtor makes the statement "with the intention and purpose of deceiving creditors." Id. "Reckless indifference or disregard for the truth may be circumstantial evidence of intent, but it is not sufficient, alone, to constitute fraudulent intent." Khalil v. Developers Sur. & Indem. Co., 379 B.R. 163, 172 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2007).

Fraud is an element of a claim brought forth under § 727(a)(4)(A); therefore, a plaintiff must satisfy the heightened pleading standard stated in Civil Rule 9(b). In re Eden, 584 B.R. 795, 806 (Bankr. N.D. Ga. 2018); see Hunt v. Steffensen (In re Steffensen), 511 B.R. 149, 160 (Bankr. D. Utah 2014) ("because one element of a § 727(a)(4) claim is fraudulent intent, the Plaintiff's complaint must meet the particularity requirements of Rule 9(b)"). To plead fraud with particularity, a plaintiff must identify "the time, place, and contents of the false representation, the identity of the party making the false statements and the consequences thereof." In re Steffensen, 511 B.R. at 160 (internal quotes omitted). Civil Rule 9(b) also requires that the plaintiff allege facts "expla[ining]...why the disputed statement was untrue or misleading when made." Yourish v. California Amplifier, 191 F.3d 983, 993 (9th Cir. 1999).

Defendant argues that the FAC's allegation that Defendant misrepresented his financial condition on his bankruptcy schedules is not plausible. Defendant emphasizes the 21-month gap between the time that Plaintiff allegedly acquired information regarding Defendant's financial condition and the Petition Date.

The FAC's allegations have "facial plausibility" within the meaning of Iqbal. The FAC alleges that Plaintiff acquired detailed knowledge of Defendant's financial condition while representing him for two years in a contested marital dissolution proceeding. During the course of this representation, the FAC alleges, Plaintiff learned that Defendant routinely employs a variety of strategies to understate his income and overstate his expenses. These strategies include (1) using his control of CORE's books and records to under-report his income; (2) falsely reporting reimbursed business expenses as non-reimbursed expenses; (3) concealing real estate commission income by conspiring with other employees; and (4) failing to report business income. The FAC alleges that Defendant employed these same tactics to misrepresent his income and expenses on his bankruptcy schedules.

These detailed allegations are not the “[t]hreadbare recitations of the elements of a cause of action” or the “mere conclusory statements” condemned in Iqbal. See Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678. They paint a comprehensive picture of the alleged wrongdoing that “allow[s] the court to draw the reasonable inference” that Defendant knowingly and fraudulently made materially false representations on his bankruptcy schedules. See Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678; Retz, 606 F.3d at 1197.

Of course, the possibility that Defendant’s financial condition could have deteriorated after his professional relationship with Plaintiff came to an end cannot be ruled out. But to survive a motion to dismiss, it is not necessary for a complaint to conclusively rule out all possible sets of circumstances that could exculpate the defendant. A complaint is required only to plead specific facts supporting a plausible entitlement to relief. The FAC has cleared that hurdle.

The FAC’s allegations of fraud are also pleaded with the particularity required by Civil Rule 9. The FAC identifies the specific representations on the schedules that are alleged to be false. It alleges that as a result of these representations, Defendant will be granted a discharge for which he is not eligible. In sum, the FAC alleges “the time, place, and contents of the false representation, the identity of the party making the false statements and the consequences thereof.” Steffensen, 511 B.R. at 160 (internal quotes omitted).

Defendant contends that the FAC is based upon confidential information protected by the attorney/client privilege. However, Defendant cites no authority for the proposition that a complaint must be dismissed if its allegations are based upon information that the Plaintiff acquired during the course of an attorney/client relationship. The Court declines to dismiss the FAC on this basis. This ruling is without prejudice to Defendant’s ability to assert evidentiary or other objections based upon the attorney/client privilege at an appropriate time.

B. Defendant’s Alternative Request for a More Definite Statement is Denied

Defendant’s alternative request for a more definite statement under Civil Rule 12(e) is denied. A more definite statement may be ordered where the pleading “is so vague or ambiguous that the party cannot reasonably prepare a response.” Civil Rule 12(e). Here, the FAC contains detailed claims regarding alleged inaccuracies on Defendant’s schedules. See, e.g., FAC at ¶¶ 15(c) (alleging that Schedule I understates monthly income), 15(g) (alleging that line 21 of Schedule J overstates monthly business expenses); 15(h) (alleging that lines 11 and 15d of Schedule J overstate monthly healthcare expenses); 15(i) (alleging that line 13 of Schedule J overstates monthly entertainment expenses). The FAC also contains detailed claims regarding Defendant's alleged practice of manipulating the books and records of his employer to hide income and conspiring with other employees to conceal commissions. See FAC at ¶¶ 12(a)–(d). These allegations are sufficiently detailed to enable Defendant to answer the FAC.

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion to Compel Abandonment is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Debtor's Motion for Order (1) Requiring Trustee to Abandon Asset; (2) Declaring That an Asset is Not Part of the Estate; and (3) Declaring That an Asset is Exempt ("Motion to Compel Abandonment") [Doc. No. 29]
2. Notice of Hearing Filed by Debtor Jack Moldovan [Doc. No. 30]
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Jack Moldovan (the "Debtor") filed this voluntary chapter 7 case on December 10, 2005 (the "Petition Date"). On January 4, 2006, the Chapter 7 Trustee, James L. Brown (the "Trustee") filed a Report of No Assets. On April 4, 2012, the Debtor was granted a discharge.

The Debtor now moves, pursuant to § 554(b), for an order compelling the Trustee to abandon the estate's interest in a 2017 settlement from GlaxoSmithKline ("GSK") in the amount of $17,343.40, which is currently being held by the Settlement Administrator (the "Settlement").

Between 2002 and 2004, the Debtor took the diabetic drug Avandia. In November of 2005, one month after the Debtor filed his chapter 7 petition, he suffered a heart attack. The Debtor claims he was unaware that the heart attack could have been connected to his use of Avandia. In 2009, the Debtor saw television advertisements discussing a potential link between the use of Avandia and heart attacks. The Debtor then proceeded to retain the Houston firm of Bailey Cowan Heckaman PLLC (the "Bailey Firm") in order to pursue a product liability lawsuit against GSK. In 2017, the Debtor became entitled to the Settlement.

The debtor asserts that, pursuant to §554(b), the Settlement is of inconsequential value to the estate. The Debtor's argument is twofold: first, that the Settlement is not property of the estate because the Debtor's right to receive the Settlement did not exist at the time he filed the petition; and, second, the Settlement is exempt under California Code of Civil Procedure ("CCP") §§ 703.140(b)(5) and (b)(11)(D).

The Debtor claims that the Bailey Firm attempted to contact the Trustee to obtain his approval so that the Bailey Firm could pay the Debtor the Settlement, but was unable to get in contact with him. In addition, the Debtor claims that the Bailey Firm contacted the Office of the U.S. Trustee, but also could not get in contact with them.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

11 U.S.C. § 554(b) states:

On request of a party in interest and after notice and a hearing, the court may order the trustee to abandon any property of the estate that is burdensome to the estate or that is of inconsequential value and benefit to the estate.

11 U.S.C. § 554(b).

First, the Debtor argues that, because he was not aware that he was entitled to the Settlement on the Petition Date, the Settlement is not part of the estate. Courts have held that a debtor's lack of subjective knowledge of a claim does not prevent that claim from becoming a part of the debtor's estate. See In re Carroll, 586 B.R. 775, 782-783 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2018) (finding that, "whether she realized it or whether she did not," the debtor had a prepetition claim when she had a medical procedure before filing her petition that later gave rise to a products liability case). As such, the fact that Debtor learned of his potential claim against GSK post-petition is not dispositive to the underlying issue.

The commencement of the Debtor's case created an estate comprised of all "property, wherever located and by whomever held [which includes] all legal or equitable interests of the debtor in property as of the commencement of the case." See 11 U.S.C. § 541(a). Causes of action belonging to the debtor at the outset of a bankruptcy case fall under the definition of estate property. See Ozark Rest. Equip. Co. v. Anderson (In re Ozark Rest. Equip. Co.), 816 F.2d 1222, 1225 (8th Cir. 1987) (internal citation omitted). Courts in the Ninth Circuit and others, in applying this section, have found that legal interests constitute estate property where all material elements of a cause of action have occurred as of the petition date. See In re Carroll, 586 B.R. 775, 782 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2018) ("A legal interest that exists at the commencement of a case is one in which all of the elements for the cause of action are present"); see also Sierra Switchboard Co. v. Westinghouse Elec. Corp., 789 F.2d 705, 709 (9th Cir. 1986). Based on the limited information supplied by the Debtor, it is unclear whether the Debtor's claim against GSK had accrued as of the Petition Date. Therefore, the Court is not in a position to find that the Settlement was excluded from the estate upon case commencement.

Second, the Debtor argues that even if the Settlement was part of the estate on the Petition Date, it would have been exempt under CCP § 703(b)(11)(D). On the Petition Date, CCP § 703(b)(11)(D) would have allowed for a "payment, not to exceed seventeen thousand four hundred twenty-five dollars ($17,425), on account of personal bodily injury . . . of the debtor." CCP § 703(b)(11)(D), ch. 379, Stat. 2003 (A.B. 182). The Settlement is in the amount of $17,343.40. Assuming that the Debtor's claim against GSK constitutes an asset of the estate, the Debtor would have been entitled to exempt the entirety of the Settlement.

In addition, Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 9013-1(f)(3) reads:

responding party must raise in that Response any objection or challenge to the bankruptcy court's authority to enter a final order on the underlying motion. The responding party must cite relevant authority and provide evidence in support of its position. The failure of the responding party to raise its objection or challenge in a Response will be deemed consent to the bankruptcy court's authority to enter a final order on the underlying motion.

LBR 9013-1(f)(3). As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file. Therefore, the Court deems the failure of any interested party to lodge an objection against the Motion as consent to the relief requested by the Debtor.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion to Compel Abandonment is GRANTED.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling, within 7 days of the hearing.

was based upon Defendant's failure to fulfill any of his obligations in connection with the Pretrial Conference. Specifically, Defendant (1) failed to cooperate with Plaintiff in the preparation of a proposed Joint Pretrial Stipulation, even after Plaintiff served a copy of the proposed Pretrial Stipulation upon Defendant by overnight courier, attempted to contact Defendant by telephone, and attempted to contact Defendant by e-mail; (2) failed to respond to Plaintiff's attempts to meet and confer regarding the Pretrial Stipulation; and (3) failed to provide Plaintiff with trial exhibits or a list of proposed witnesses.

Defendant has not responded to the OSC. On August 27, 2020, Plaintiff filed a response stating that it had heard nothing from Defendant in connection with the OSC.

II. Findings and Conclusions

To impose case dispositive sanctions, the Court is "required to consider whether the ... noncompliance involved willfulness, fault, or bad faith, and also to consider the availability of lesser sanctions." R & R Sails, 673 F.3d at 1247 (internal citations omitted). When imposing case-dispositive sanctions, the Court must consider the following factors:

- 1) the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation;
- 2) the court's need to manage its docket;
- 3) the risk of prejudice to the party who has litigated diligently;
- 4) the public policy favoring the disposition of cases on their merits; and
- 5) the availability of less drastic sanctions.

Moneymaker v. CoBEN (In re Eisen), 31 F.3d 1447, 1451 (9th Cir. 1994); see also Hester v. Vision Airlines, Inc., 687 F.3d 1162, 1169 (9th Cir. 2012) (applying the Eisen factors to determine whether it was appropriate for a court to strike a pleading and enter default).

There are three sub-parts to the fifth factor, the availability of less drastic sanctions: "whether the court has considered lesser sanctions, whether it tried them, and whether it warned the recalcitrant party about the possibility of case-dispositive sanctions." Connecticut Gen. Life Ins. Co. v. New Images of Beverly Hills, 482 F.3d 1091, 1096 (9th Cir. 2007). The application of these factors is not mechanical; instead, the factors provide the Court "with a way to think about what to do, not a set of conditions precedent for sanctions or a script that the [Court] must follow." Id.

As set forth below, application of the Eisen factors supports the imposition of terminating sanctions.

1. Public's Interest in Expeditious Resolution of Litigation

Defendant failed to fulfill any of his obligations in connection with the Pretrial Conference, even after Plaintiff served a copy of the proposed Joint Pretrial Stipulation upon Defendant by overnight courier and attempted to contact Defendant by telephone and e-mail. Defendant did not provide Plaintiff a list of exhibits, copies of exhibits, or a list of witnesses that Defendant intended to call at trial. See Declaration of Peter J. Tormey in Support of Plaintiffs' Motion In Limine No. 1 to Preclude Defendant from Introducing Exhibits and/or Witnesses at Trial [Doc. No. 60] at ¶ 8. Defendant did not respond to any of the e-mails Plaintiff sent in an attempt to prepare for the Pretrial Conference. Id.

Defendant's failure to fulfill any of his obligations in preparation for the Pretrial Conference, as well as his failure to respond to the OSC, has impeded the expeditious resolution of this action. As the Ninth Circuit has explained, "[t]he public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation always favors" the imposition of sanctions. Pagtalunan v. Galaza, 291 F.3d 639, 642 (9th Cir. 2002). This factor supports the imposition of terminating sanctions.

2. The Court's Need to Manage its Docket

Courts have the "power to manage their dockets without being subject to the endless vexatious noncompliance of litigants ...." Ferdik v. Bonzelet, 963 F.2d 1258, 1261 (9th Cir. 1992), as amended (May 22, 1992). As discussed above, Defendant's failure to fulfill his obligations in connection with the Pretrial Conference or to respond to the OSC has impeded the expeditious resolution of this action, and has consequently placed an additional burden upon the Court's docket. This factor supports the imposition of terminating sanctions.

3. The Risk of Prejudice to the Diligent Party

A diligent party suffers prejudice if the noncompliant party's actions impair the diligent party's "ability to go to trial or threaten to interfere with the rightful decision of the case." In re Phenylpropanolamine (PPA) Prod. Liab. Litig., 460 F.3d 1217, 1227 (9th Cir. 2006).

Defendant's failure to participate in the Pretrial Conference has interfered with the rightful decision of the case. It is not possible for Plaintiff to prepare for trial where Defendant fails to provide copies of exhibits, a list of witnesses, or meet and confer in good faith to determine the issues of fact and law that remain in dispute. This factor supports of the imposition of terminating sanctions.

4. The Public Policy Favoring the Disposition of Cases on Their Merits

Normally, “the public policy favoring disposition of cases on their merits strongly counsels against dismissal.” In re PPA Prods., 460 F.3d at 1228. However, “a case that is stalled or unreasonably delayed by a party’s failure to comply with deadlines and discovery obligations cannot move forward toward resolution on the merits.” Id. This factor therefore “lends little support” to a party “whose conduct impedes progress in that direction.” Id. (citations and quotations omitted). In other words, parties have a responsibility “to refrain from dilatory and evasive tactics.” Morris v. Morgan Stanley & Co., 942 F.2d 648, 652 (9th Cir. 1991).

Defendant failed to respond to any of Plaintiff’s attempts at communication in connection with the Pretrial Conference. Defendant failed to respond to the OSC, notwithstanding the Court’s warning that failure to respond could result in the striking of Defendant’s Answer and the entry of default. This factor supports the imposition of terminating sanctions.

5. The Availability of Less Drastic Sanctions

The Court finds that less drastic sanctions would not adequately remediate Defendant’s non-compliance. The OSC warned Defendant of the possibility of case-dispositive sanctions. Notwithstanding this warning, Defendant failed to respond to the OSC. The Court finds Defendant’s failure to communicate with Plaintiff in connection with the Pretrial Conference, followed by Defendant’s failure to respond to the OSC, to be willful and in bad faith. This factor supports the imposition of terminating sanctions.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Court will strike Defendant’s Answer and enter Defendant’s default. By no later than October 9, 2020, Plaintiff shall file a Motion for Default Judgment (the “Motion”). The Motion shall be filed on a negative-notice basis, pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(o).

The Court will prepare and enter an order striking Defendant’s Answer and entering Defendant’s default.

Gardens Regional Hospital and Medical Center, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 6, 2016 (the "Petition Date"). On September 18, 2018, the Court confirmed the Debtor's Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation (the "Plan"). The Plan appointed Michael R. Lane as the Liquidating Trustee responsible for, among other things, objecting to claims.

The Liquidating Trustee objects to eleven general unsecured claims, on the ground that the claims are not supported by sufficient evidence substantiating the validity and/or amount of the claims. See Doc. No. 1598 (the "Claims Objection"). The Liquidating Trustee sent written correspondence to the claimants seeking additional documentation supporting the claims. The claimants failed to respond to the requests for additional information.

No opposition to the Claims Objection is on file.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A proof of claim is entitled to a presumption of prima facie validity, but only if it is filed in accordance with the requirements of the Bankruptcy Rules. Bankruptcy Rule 3001(f). Where a claim is based upon a writing, the "original or a duplicate [of the writing] shall be filed with the proof of claim." Bankruptcy Rule 3001(c).

Claimants "have an obligation to respond to formal or informal requests for information" regarding their claims. Heath v. Am. Express. Travel Related Svcs. Co. (In re Heath), 331 B.R. 424, 436 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005). A claimant's failure to respond to requests for information regarding a claim that lacks sufficient documentation is cause for disallowing the claim. Id.

Here, the claims are not supported by adequate documentation, and the claimants failed to respond to the Liquidating Trustee's requests for additional information substantiating the claims. Accordingly, as discussed more fully below, the claims are disallowed based upon a lack of evidentiary support.

Claim 110, Asserted by CompSpec Inc. in the Amount of $119,598.30

The basis for this claim is listed as "billing services rendered, fees due/outstanding." The only support provided is a set of invoices that state "Medi-Cal Accounts @16%," and an amount, without any explanation.

The documentation attached to the claim is insufficient to substantiate the amount alleged, and the claimant has failed to respond to the Liquidating Trustee's requests for additional information regarding the claim. Therefore, Claim 110 is DISALLOWED in its entirety.

Claim 17, Asserted by Dell Financial Services, LLC in the Amount of $342.21

The basis for this claim is listed as "retail." The claim attaches a single page "account detail" that does not provide any evidence that the claim is a liability of the Debtor or the estate, or that the claim is otherwise valid.

The documentation attached to the claim is insufficient to substantiate the amount alleged, and the claimant has failed to respond to the Liquidating Trustee's requests for additional information regarding the claim. Therefore, Claim 17 is DISALLOWED in its entirety.

Claim 146, Asserted by Health Net of California, Inc. in the Amount of $13,310.31

The basis for this claim is listed as "overpayment to provider." Claimant alleges that it "rendered services to the debtor ... pursuant to the Debtor's participation in one

The documentation attached to the claim is insufficient to substantiate the amount alleged, and the claimant has failed to respond to the Liquidating Trustee's requests for additional information regarding the claim. Therefore, Claim 146 is DISALLOWED in its entirety.

Claim 70, Asserted by Kendell Brill & Kelly LLP in the Amount of $3,185.00

The basis for this claim is listed as "professional services provided." The claim includes only a summary of purported invoices, a single redacted invoice, and a trust balance statement. The claim does not include a copy of any underlying engagement letter, retainer agreement, or other contract with the Debtor pursuant to which the alleged services were performed.

The documentation attached to the claim is insufficient to substantiate the amount alleged, and the claimant has failed to respond to the Liquidating Trustee's requests for additional information regarding the claim. Therefore, Claim 70 is DISALLOWED in its entirety.

Claim 53, Asserted by the Law Office of Jason L. Barbanell, Inc. in the Amount of $40,000.00

The basis for this claim is listed as "services performed along with monthly retainer fee." No supporting documentation is attached.

The claim is not supported by any documentation, and the claimant has failed to respond to the Liquidating Trustee's requests for additional information regarding the claim. Therefore, Claim 53 is DISALLOWED in its entirety.

Claim 113, Asserted by Liner LLP in the Amount of $48,844.08

The basis for this claim is listed as "performance of legal services." The evidence attached to the claim consists of redacted invoices from December 2014 to May 2015. The claim does not include a copy of any underlying engagement letter, retainer agreement, or other contract with the Debtor pursuant to which the alleged services were performed.

The documentation attached to the claim is insufficient to substantiate the amount alleged, and the claimant has failed to respond to the Liquidating Trustee's requests for additional information regarding the claim. Therefore, Claim 113 is DISALLOWED in its entirety.

The documentation attached to the claim is insufficient to substantiate the amount alleged, and the claimant has failed to respond to the Liquidating Trustee's requests for additional information regarding the claim. Therefore, Claim 34 is DISALLOWED in its entirety.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Claims Objection is SUSTAINED, and the following claims are DISALLOWED in their entirety: Claim Nos. 110, 17, 146, 70, 53, 113, 127, 116, 151, 34, and 11.

Within seven days of the hearing, the Liquidating Trustee shall lodge an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

The Declaration of Service [Doc. No. 5997] does not indicate whether the Motion was served upon the individual members of the California Nurses Association (the "CNA"). The Settlement Agreement requires that the Motion be served upon CNA members who worked at St. Vincent Medical Center. Settlement Agreement at ¶ 4. Subject to confirmation that the Motion was served upon CNA members, the Court is prepared to GRANT the Motion in its entirety. (Debtors may provide such confirmation either by appearing at the hearing or by filing an updated Declaration of Service no later than 9:00 p.m. on the day prior to the hearing.)

relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' case are being jointly administered. The Debtors seek approval of a settlement agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") between VHS, Seton Medical Center and Seton Medical Center Coastside, St. Vincent Medical Center, St. Vincent Dialysis Center, Inc., St. Francis Medical Center, Verity Holdings, LLC and DePaul Ventures, LLC (collectively, "Verity") and Richard G. Adcock and Steven Sharrer, on the one hand, and the CNA, both in its individual capacity and on behalf of its represented members, on the other hand. The Settlement Agreement resolves an adversary proceeding (the "Adversary Proceeding") brought by CNA against the Debtors and Messrs. Adcock and Sharrer, alleging violations of the Federal Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act (the "WARN Act"), the California WARN Act, and California state misrepresentation law, all in connection with the closure of St. Vincent Medical Center.

The principal terms of the Settlement Agreement can be summarized as follows:

- 1) CNA shall be granted a single, allowed administrative expense claim against Verity in the total amount of $2 million (the "Administrative Claim"). A payment of $850,000 in partial satisfaction of the Administrative Claim shall be made within ten business days after entry of an order approving the Settlement Agreement. The balance of the Administrative Claim, in the amount of $1,150,000, shall be paid on the effective date of the Modified Second Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation (Dated July 2, 2020) of the Debtors, the Prepetition Secured Creditors, and the Committee [Doc. No. 5466] (the "Plan").
- 2) CNA shall be granted a single, allowed general unsecured claim against Verity in the total amount of $6 million, which will be classified and treated in accordance with the Plan.

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that the Court may approve a compromise or settlement. "In determining the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a proposed settlement agreement, the court must consider: (a) The probability of success in the litigation; (b) the difficulties, if any, to be encountered in the matter of collection; (c) the complexity of the litigation involved, and the expense, inconvenience and delay necessarily attending it; (d) the paramount interest of the creditors and a proper deference to their reasonable views in the premises." Martin v. Kane (In re A&C

Properties), 784 F.2d 1377, 1381 (9th Cir. 1986). "[C]ompromises are favored in bankruptcy, and the decision of the bankruptcy judge to approve or disapprove the compromise of the parties rests in the sound discretion of the bankruptcy judge." In re Sassalos, 160 B.R. 646, 653 (D. Ore. 1993). In approving a settlement agreement, the Court must "canvass the issues and see whether the settlement 'falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.'" Cosoff v. Rodman (In re W.T. Grant Co.), 699 F.2d 599, 608 (2d Cir. 1983). Applying the A&C Properties factors, the Court finds that the Settlement Agreement is adequate, fair, and reasonable, and is in the best interests of the estate and creditors.

Probability of Success on the Merits

Litigation between the parties would involve several uncertainties. CNA asserts multiple claims against the Debtors, so litigation would be multi-faceted. It is not clear that success in one portion of the litigation would guarantee success on another. The parties' arguments are factual, actuarial, and legal; the intersectional nature of these arguments poses additional uncertainty. As a result, this factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement.

Complexity of the Litigation

With the assistance of retired Bankruptcy Judge David H. Coar, the parties have devoted extensive time to reconciling their claims and formulating a settlement. The litigation is complex and is in its early stages. CNA's motion to withdraw the reference has yet to be decided. Any judgment entered by the trial court would almost certainly be subject to an appeal. The delay in resolution of the Adversary Proceeding would expose the estates to substantial uncertainty, thereby interfering with the consummation of the Plan. This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement.

Paramount Interests of Creditors

The Committee has not objected to the Settlement Agreement, and the Settlement Agreement resolves material claims against the Debtors' estates. This factor weighs in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement.

Difficulties to Be Encountered in the Matter of Collection

This factor does not apply.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

2/10/2020

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the “Trustee”) commenced this fraudulent transfer action against Hyun Hwang (the “Defendant”) on September 14, 2019. On December 11, 2019, the Court denied the Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss, and ordered the Defendant to file an Answer by no later than January 21, 2020. Doc. No. 25. Defendant timely filed an Answer. The Trustee seeks leave to file a First Amended Complaint to allege an additional $80,000 transfer from the Debtor to the Defendant.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In the event that Defendant declines to stipulate to the filing of a First Amended Complaint, the Trustee shall file a motion for leave to amend by no later than March 10, 2020.
- 2) A continued Status Conference is set for April 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Joint Status Report shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

2/10/2020

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") commenced this fraudulent transfer action against Mirea Rea Hwang (the "Defendant") on September 14, 2019. On December 4, 2019, the Court conducted a hearing on the Defendant's Motion to Dismiss. The Court found that adjudication of the Complaint would violate the automatic stay arising in the bankruptcy petition filed by Defendant's spouse, Kenny Hwang ("K. Hwang"). The Court ordered that the action would be stayed, unless and until the Trustee obtained relief from the automatic stay in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case.

The Trustee has not moved for stay relief in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case. A continued meeting of creditors in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case is set for February 12, 2020.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) A continued Status Conference is set for May 12, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) A Joint Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

2/10/2020

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") filed this fraudulent transfer action against Kenny Hwang ("K. Hwang"), Mirea Hwang ("M. Hwang"), Hyun Hwang ("H. Hwang"), Tri Blossom, LLC, and K2 America, Inc. (collectively, the "Defendants") on September 15, 2019. On December 4, 2019, the Court conducted a hearing on a Motion to Dismiss brought by Defendants K. Hwang, M. Hwang, H. Hwang, and Tri Blossom LLC. The Court found that adjudication of the Complaint would violate the automatic stay arising in the bankruptcy petition filed K. Hwang. The Court ordered that the action would be stayed, unless and until the Trustee obtained relief from the automatic stay in K. Hwang's bankruptcy case.

In this action, Plaintiff alleges that a judgment entered on March 28, 2017 against Defendant in the amount of $590,908.50 in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court Judgment") is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6). Plaintiff further alleges that Defendant's discharge should be denied, pursuant to § 727(a)(2)(A).

On October 8, 2019, Defendant filed a Complaint for Independent Action in Equity to Set Aside and Vacate Default and Default Judgment for Lack of Personal Jurisdiction in the State Court (the action commenced by the filing of such complaint, the "State Court Collateral Attack Action"). The State Court Collateral Attack Action seeks to vacate the State Court Judgment for lack of personal jurisdiction, and alleges that service of the State Court Complaint was defective.

On November 15, 2019, the Court granted Defendant's motion to stay this action pending resolution of the State Court Collateral Attack Action. Doc. No. 57.

A case management conference in the State Court Collateral Attack Action is set for May 6, 2020. Discovery has not been initiated in the State Court Collateral Attack

Having reviewed the Joint Status Report filed by the parties, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) To accommodate Plaintiff's counsel's schedule regarding the trial date, the litigation deadlines previously ordered are extended, as follows:
  - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 12/17/2020.
  - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 3/30/2021.
  - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 4/29/2021.
  - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 5/15/2021. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 6/15/2021 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
  - h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
    - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
    - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.

iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.

i) Trial is set for the week of 6/28/2021. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.

2) The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. (The Court notes that the parties have already selected Leslie Cohen as the mediator.) Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

The Court will prepare and enter a Scheduling Order. Plaintiff shall submit the order assigning the matter to mediation.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Andrew Lockridge or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Tentative Ruling:

3/10/2020

Michael Bonert ("Michael") and Vivien Bonert ("Vivien," and together with Michael, the "Debtors") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on September 12, 2019 (the "Petition Date"). Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtors operated a pie manufacturing company known as Bonert's Incorporated ("Bonerts"). In 2016, Bonerts ceased conducting business after its lender caused its assets to be sold through a federal receivership. Proceeds of the receivership sale were used to pay secured creditors, but were not sufficient to pay unsecured trade creditors, some of whom obtained unopposed judgments against Bonerts.

On August 13 and 14, 2019, Capitol Distribution Company, LLC ("Capitol"), Stratas Foods LLC ("Stratas"), Packaging Corporation of America, and Seneca Foods Corporation (collectively, the "Creditors") filed these four collection actions (the "Collection Actions") against the Debtors, Bonerts, and LLCs wholly owned by the Debtors that were affiliates of Bonerts (the "Affiliates"). The Collection Actions allege, inter alia, that the Debtors operated the Affiliates and Bonerts as a single enterprise for the purpose of defeating the rights of creditors; that the Debtors misappropriated assets of Bonerts and the Affiliates; and that the Debtors are liable for trade debt incurred by Bonerts as its alter ego.

Having reviewed the Joint Status Reports submitted by the parties, the Court

HEREBY FINDS AND ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In the interests of judicial efficiency, the Court will consolidate the litigation of these four actions. The actions raise similar claims and the Debtors and the Affiliates have been named as Defendants in all of the actions. Notwithstanding such consolidation, the Court will maintain separate dockets for each adversary proceeding (as opposed to designating one of the proceedings as the lead case and requiring that all documents be filed in that proceeding).
- 2) Debtors/Defendants assert that it is not feasible to mediate the alter-ego and single enterprise liability issues raised in these actions with only the four Plaintiffs, while excluding from mediation 21 other creditors who also assert claims against the Debtors under alter-ego and single enterprise theories. The Debtors intend to object to the claims of all disputed creditors who have not filed adversary proceedings. The Court agrees with the Debtors that a global mediation involving all creditors asserting alter-ego claims would be more likely to result in settlement.
- 3) Debtors shall file objections to the claims of disputed creditors who have not filed adversary proceedings by no later than March 18, 2020. Unless otherwise ordered, the parties shall not be required to conduct the global mediation until these claim objections have been adjudicated.
- 4) The following litigation deadlines shall apply, subject to an extension for good cause shown:
  - a) A continued Status Conference to monitor the progress of mediation shall take place on June 16, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.
  - b) Debtors have not responded to the Complaints in Adv. Nos. 2:19-ap-01377-ER and 2:19-ap-01378-ER. All non-Debtor Defendants have responded to the Complaints in these adversary proceedings. All parties have responded to the Complaints in Adv. Nos. 2:19-ap-01405-ER and 2:19-ap-01406-ER. Debtors shall respond to the Complaints in Adv. Nos. 2:19-ap-01377-ER and 2:19-ap-01378-ER by no later than March 25, 2020.
  - c) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 7/16/2020.
  - d) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 10/27/2020.

- e) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 11/26/2020.
- f) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 12/15/2020. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- g) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 12/22/2020. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- h) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 12/26/2020. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- i) A Pretrial Conference is set for 1/12/2021 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- j) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
  - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1.

The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.

iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.

iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.

k) Trial is set for the week of 1/25/2021. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.

5) Plaintiffs have submitted a number of comments and suggestions regarding the production of electronically stored information, procedures for dealing with claims of privilege, procedures pertaining to the conduct of depositions, procedures for the treatment of commercially sensitive information, and procedures for electronic service. The Court declines to enter an order adopting detailed procedures with respect to these issues at this time. It is possible that certain of the issues which Plaintiffs' proposed procedures seek to resolve will not arise in these proceedings. Counsel for all parties shall work cooperatively to resolve issues regarding the conduct of the litigation without Court intervention.

The Court will prepare and enter Scheduling Orders.

The Court has reviewed the (a) Adversary Complaint to Object to Discharge of Debt and to Determine Dischargeability of Debt Under 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(2) and 523(1)(6) [Doc. No. 1] (the "Complaint") and the (b) Pretrial Conference Stipulation and Proposed Order [Doc. No. 47] (the "Pretrial Stipulation"). To enable trial to proceed as efficiently as possible, this tentative ruling sets forth the order in which Plaintiff shall present her claims.

In this dischargeability action, Plaintiff alleges that Defendants are indebted to Plaintiff in an amount in excess of $200,000, and that such indebtedness is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A)–(B) and 523(a)(6). The following facts are undisputed:

- 1) The indebtedness at issue arises from a Loan Agreement dated March 4, 2017 (the "Loan Agreement") between Plaintiff and At Home Therapy, LLC ("At Home Therapy"). Pursuant to the Loan Agreement, Plaintiff agreed to lend At Home Therapy $100,000.
- 2) Defendants were the sole owners of At Home Therapy.

- 3) The Loan Agreement contains an integration clause, which provides that "[t]his Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties and there are no further items or provisions, either oral or otherwise." Loan Agreement at ¶ 17.
- 4) Nothing in the Loan Agreement indicates that Defendants guaranteed repayment of the indebtedness incurred by At Home Therapy.
- 5) Proceeds of the loan were advanced by way of a check dated March 7, 2017, made out to At Home Therapy.

As the Ninth Circuit has explained, a non-dischargeability action requires consideration of two distinct issues: first, a determination of whether the Defendants are indebted to the Plaintiff; and second, a determination of whether the indebtedness is non-dischargeable. Banks v. Gill Distribution Centers, Inc., 263 F.3d 862, 868 (9th Cir. 2001).

Before litigating the issue of the dischargeability of the indebtedness, Plaintiff must first establish that Defendants are in fact indebted to Plaintiff. That is because under the express terms of the Loan Agreement, At Home Therapy, not the Defendants, are liable for the indebtedness. Nothing in the Loan Agreement indicates that Defendants guaranteed repayment of the indebtedness incurred by At Home Therapy.

Given the express provisions of the Loan Agreement, Plaintiff can show that Defendants are liable for the indebtedness only by proving that Defendants are the alter ego of At Home Therapy. "Under the alter ego doctrine, ... when the corporate form is used to perpetrate a fraud, circumvent a statute, or accomplish some other wrongful or inequitable purpose, the courts will ignore the corporate entity and deem the corporation's acts to be those of the persons or organizations actually controlling the corporation, in most instances the equitable owners." Sonora Diamond Corp. v. Superior Court, 83 Cal. App. 4th 523, 538–39, 99 Cal. Rptr. 2d 824, 836–37 (2000). Invocation of the alter ego doctrine requires the satisfaction of two conditions: "First, there must be such a unity of interest and ownership between the corporation and its equitable owner that the separate personalities of the corporation and the shareholder do not in reality exist. Second, there must be an inequitable result if the acts in question are treated as those of the corporation alone." Id. However, the alter ego doctrine "does not guard every unsatisfied creditor of a corporation but instead affords protection where some conduct amounting to bad faith makes it inequitable for the corporate owner to hide behind the corporate form. Difficulty in enforcing a judgment or collecting a debt does not satisfy this standard." Id. Because a "basic tenet of American corporate law is that the corporation and its shareholders are distinct entities," disregard of the corporate form and a finding of liability under an alter ego theory is warranted only "in the case of fraud or other exceptional circumstances." Dole Food Co. v. Patrickson, 538 U.S. 468, 474, 123 S.Ct. 1655, 155 L.Ed.2d 643 (2003); see also In re Enter. Acquisition Partners, Inc., 319 B.R. 626, 634 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2004) (discussing the circumstances under which application of the alter ego doctrine is appropriate).

Plaintiff shall first present evidence showing that Defendants are liable for the indebtedness incurred by At Home Therapy under an alter ego theory. If Plaintiff lacks compelling evidence on this issue, the Court will consider entering a judgment on partial findings in favor of Defendants, pursuant to Civil Rule 52(c). The Court will take testimony regarding the dischargeability of the indebtedness only if compelling evidence has been presented showing that Defendants are liable for At Home Therapy's indebtedness under an alter ego theory.

All Exhibits Are Deemed Admitted

On December 16, 2019, the Court entered an order setting litigation deadlines and establishing procedures for the adjudication of evidentiary objections at trial [Doc. No. 13] (the "Evidence Procedures Order"). The Evidence Procedures Order required all parties to stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. It further provided:

In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference .... The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine ... shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.

Evidence Procedures Order at ¶ 1(h)(ii).

No Motions in Limine have been filed in accordance with the requirements of the Evidence Procedures Order. Accordingly, all exhibits offered by the parties shall be deemed admitted.

Trial Shall Take Place on Monday, September 28, 2020 at 9:00 a.m.

Defendants' Request for Issuance of a Second Order to Show Cause Re: Dismissal is Denied

On August 30, 2020, Defendants requested that the Court issue a second order requiring Plaintiffs to show cause why this action should not be dismissed, based on Plaintiff's failure to cooperate in the preparation of a Joint Pretrial Stipulation. (The Court discharged a previous order requiring Plaintiff to show cause why the action should not be dismissed on July 15, 2020, Doc. No. 35.) After the Court issued an Order to Comply, Plaintiff cooperated with Defendants in the preparation and lodging of a proposed Joint Pretrial Stipulation. Therefore, Defendants' request for issuance of a second Order to Show Cause Re: Dismissal is denied. Defendants' request for attorneys' fees in the amount of $568.75, as compensation for preparing the pleading requesting issuance of a second Order to Show Cause Re: Dismissal, is also denied.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Andrew Lockridge or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Movant has established a prima facie case that cause exists, and Debtor has not responded with evidence establishing that the property is not declining in value or that Movant is adequately protected.

The subject property has a value of $723,240.00 and is encumbered by a perfected deed of trust or mortgage in favor of the Movant. Considering Movant's lien, all senior liens against the property, and the estimated costs of sale, there is an equity cushion of $64,148.28. There is some, but very little equity and there is no evidence that the property is necessary to a reorganization or that the trustee can administer the property for the benefit of creditors. Movant is protected by a 9% equity cushion in the property. The Ninth Circuit has established that an equity cushion of 20% constitutes adequate protection for a secured creditor. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral).

Because the equity cushion in this case is less than 20%, the Court concludes that Movant's interest in the collateral is not adequately protected. This is cause to terminate the stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Andrew Lockridge, the Judge's law clerks at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. For the reasons set forth below, the Motion for Default Judgment is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Motion for Default Judgment Under Local Bankruptcy Rule 7055-1 [Adv. Doc. No. 18] (the "Motion")
  - a) Request for Judicial Notice in Support of Motion for Default Judgment Under Local Bankruptcy Rule 7055-1 [Adv. Doc. No. 19]
- 2) No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Jose Juan Cabrera (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on November 13, 2019. The Debtor received a discharge on February 24, 2020. Bankr. Doc. No. 13. On April 23, 2020, the United States Trustee (the "UST") filed a Complaint for Revocation of Discharge Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 727(d)(4)(B) [Adv. Doc. No. 1] (the "Complaint").

Debtor's bankruptcy case was selected for a UST audit. The Complaint alleges that the Debtor failed to make documents available for inspection by the auditor, and seeks revocation of the Debtor's discharge on that ground.

The Clerk of the Court entered Debtor's default on June 11, 2020. The UST now moves for entry of default judgment against the Debtor. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Once default has been entered, the well-pleaded factual allegations of the complaint are taken as true. Cripps v. Life Ins. Co. of North America, 980 F.2d 1261, 1267 (9th Cir.1992). Based upon the Complaint's well-pleaded allegations and the evidence submitted in support of the Motion, the Court finds that the UST is entitled to a judgment revoking the Debtor's discharge, pursuant to § 727(d)(4)(B).

Section 727(d)(4)(B) provides that upon request of the UST, "the court shall revoke a discharge granted under subsection (a) of this section if the debtor has failed to explain satisfactorily a failure to make available for inspection all necessary accounts, papers, documents, financial records, files, and all other papers, things, or property belonging to the debtor that are requested for an audit referred to in section 586(f) of title 28."

Through the Complaint and the evidence submitted in support of the Motion, the UST has established the following facts:

- 1) On November 22, 2019, the Debtor's bankruptcy case was selected for a UST audit.
- 2) On November 22, 2019, an e-mail was sent to the Debtor regarding the audit.
- 3) On November 26, 2019, a representative from the firm employed by the UST to conduct the audit (the "Auditor") telephoned and spoke with the Debtor about the audit.
- 4) On January 8, 2020, a further letter from the Auditor was sent to the Debtor.
- 5) On February 11, 2020, the Auditor left a phone message with the Debtor, stating that additional documents were needed to complete the audit.
- 6) On March 25, 2020, the Auditor filed a report stating that it was unable to complete the audit as a result of the Debtor's failure to provide sufficient information.

Based upon the foregoing facts, the UST is entitled to a judgment revoking the Debtor's discharge, pursuant to § 727(d)(4)(B). The Debtor failed to make available for inspection the documents necessary for completion of the audit. By failing to respond to the Complaint, the Debtor has not offered a satisfactory explanation for his failure to provide the information.

Within seven days of the hearing, the UST shall submit (1) an order granting the Motion, which incorporates this tentative ruling by reference and (2) a judgment for revocation of discharge. (Pursuant to Civil Rule 58, which provides that "every

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Holly Wayne Roberson (the "Debtor") filed this chapter 7 case on May 15, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). The first date set for the Debtor's § 341(a) Meeting of Creditors was June 23, 2020 (the "First Meeting"). A second § 341(a) Meeting of Creditors was held on August 4, 2020 (the "Second Meeting"). Accordingly, the deadline to deny the Debtor's discharge under § 727 or to object to the discharge under § 523 was August 24, 2020. A third § 341(a) Meeting of Creditors was held on August 25, 2020 (the "Third Meeting"). A fourth § 341(a) Meeting of Creditors is scheduled for September 23, 2020.

A. Summary of Trustee's Extension Motion

On August 17, 2020, the chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee") filed a timely motion to extend the time to object to entry of the Debtor's discharge pursuant to § 727 for 90 days, to November 24, 2020. The Trustee states that the Debtor's schedules indicate that he owns a corporation, an LLC, and used or continues to use at least four d/b/a's.

In addition, the trustee states that at the two § 341(a) meetings, the Debtor provided "vague and confusing responses" about the aforementioned business entities. See Declaration of Edward M. Wolkowitz ("Wolkowitz Decl."). The Trustee has numerous other questions for the Debtor and argues that he has yet to unravel the entirety of the Debtor's financial affairs.

B. Summary of Opposition to Trustee's Extension Motion

On August 24, 2020, the Debtor filed a timely opposition to the Trustee's Extension Motion. The Debtor makes nine arguments as to why the Trustee's Extension Motion ought to be denied: 1) 90 days has now lapsed since the petition date; 2) the Debtor's business entities were disclosed on the original petition so the Trustee had ample time to investigate, and any subsequent amendments did not change the substance of the petition; 3) On July 20, 2020, the Debtor provided an amended schedule listing new business names, and on July 31, 2020, the Trustee told the Debtor that he did not have any further questions; 4) the Debtor, at the time of filing, already had two § 341(a) meetings and need not be subject to further questioning; 5) the Trustee did not apply for a Rule 2004 examination; 6) the Trustee failed to meet his burden as to why he was unable to complete his investigation prior to the original deadline; 7) the Trustee initially filed his Extension Motion using the event code "stipulation," when the motion was not stipulated to; 8) the Trustee incorrectly cited the relevant statute; and 9) the Trustee's Extension Motion lacks sufficient notice and hearing.

C. Summary of Response in Support of Trustee's Extension Motion

On September 8, 2020, the Trustee filed a timely response in support of his Extension Motion. The Trustee clarifies that the Debtor filed an amendment to his schedules on July 20, 2020, and it failed to clarify his business entanglements. In the first schedule, the Debtor listed his business entities as: "[1] DBA Holla Productions LLC; [2] DBA Simply Supportive Inc.; [3] DBA Mr and Ms Beauty Supply and Hair Studios; [4] DBA Simply Supportive Transportation." On July 20, 2020, the Debtor's amended schedules read as follows: "[1] Holla Productions LLC; [2] Simply Supportive Inc. d/b/a: [a] Mr & Ms. Beauty Supply and Hair Studios, [b] Supply Supportive Transportation, [c] Divine Design Hair and Waxing Studio, [d] Styling & Profiling Barber Shop." The Trustee alleges that, while he at one point did not have any further questions for the Debtor, upon further investigation he needs more time to complete his research. In addition, the Trustee held a third § 341(a) meeting on August 25, 2020 (one day after the deadline for filing a complaint objecting to the Debtor's discharge), but the Debtor continued to provide insufficient answers and the Trustee has further questions to complete his investigation.

D. Summary of Creditor's Extension Motion

Pre-petition, on January 9, 2019, the Creditor filed a lawsuit against the Debtor and Green and Roberson Partnership, d/b/a Mr. and Ms. Beauty Supply and Hair Studios. The lawsuit concerned two loans that the Creditor made to the Debtor and Mr. and Ms. Beauty Supply. In the loan agreements, the Debtor listed "Green and Roberson Partnership" as the borrower's legal name. On August 5, 2019, the Creditor obtained a default judgment for $90,848.77 against the Debtor and Green and Roberson Partnership. See Myers Decl.

On August 19, 2020, the Creditor timely filed a motion to extend the time to file a non-dischargeability complaint pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 523 for 90 days, to November 24, 2020. The Creditor argues that in the Debtor's petition, he listed Mr. and Ms. Beauty Supply and Hair Studios as a d/b/a; however, when the Debtor filed an amended petition, he stated that the legal name of Mr. and Ms. Beauty Supply and Hair Studios was "Simply Supportive Inc." The Statement of Information filed with the California Secretary of State for Simply Supportive Inc. does not list the Debtor as an officer or director of the company. The Creditor's Extension Motion contains substantially similar arguments to the Trustee's Extension Motion, notably that the Debtor provided "vague and evasive answers" at the § 341(a) meetings. In addition, the Creditor requested a copy of Debtor's most recent tax returns on August 7, 2020, but the Debtor did not provide them.

The Creditor also requests this court take judicial notice of 1) the January 9, 2019 verified complaint filed against Debtor and Green and Roberson Partnership, d/b/a Mr. and Ms. Beauty Supply and Hair Studios (the "State Court Complaint"); 2) the August 5, 2019 default judgment obtained against Debtor and Green and Roberson Partnership, d/b/a Mr. and Ms. Beauty Supply and Hair Studios (the "Default Judgment"); and 3) the Statement of Information for Simply Supportive Inc. filed with the California Secretary of State (the "Simply Supportive Statement of Information"). See Request for Judicial Notice.

E. Summary of Opposition to Creditor's Extension Motion

On August 24, 2020, the Debtor filed a timely opposition to the Creditor's Extension Motion. The Debtor makes almost identical arguments against the Creditor's Extension Motion as he does to the Trustee's Extension Motion: 1) 90 days has now lapsed since the petition date; 2) the Debtor's business entities were disclosed on the Petition Date so the Creditor had ample time to investigate, and any subsequent amendments did not change the substance of the petition; 3) the Debtor, at the time of filing, already had two § 341(a) meetings and need not be subjected to further questioning; 4) the Creditor took 84 days to contact the Debtor; 5) the Creditor did not apply for a Rule 2004 examination; 6) the Creditor was 59 days late in requesting the Debtor's tax returns; 7) the Creditor failed to meet his burden as to why he was unable to complete his investigation prior to the original deadline; 8) the Creditor's claims are vague, ambiguous, and barred by claim preclusion; and 9) the Creditor's Extension Motion lacks sufficient notice and hearing.

F. Summary of Response in Support of Creditor's Extension Motion

On September 8, 2020, the Creditor filed a timely response in support of its extension motion. The Creditor notes, as the Trustee does in his Response, that the Debtor's amended schedules listed new business entities that were not originally mentioned. In addition, the Creditor argues that at the Second Meeting (approximately two weeks after the Debtor filed his amended schedules), the Debtor provided "vague and evasive testimony." At the most recent August 25, 2020 § 341(a) meeting, Debtor's counsel told the Creditor that he would be filing further amended schedules. See Supplemental Avery Decl. ¶ 16. In addition, on August 25, 2020, the Debtor provided a profit and loss statement for Simply Supportive that the Creditor alleges contains numerous inconsistencies and has created further questions for the Creditor.

The Creditor also argues that it had in fact been diligent in attempting to investigate; however, on more than one occasion, the Debtor's counsel failed to return phone calls and emails during the month of August while the Creditor was attempting to investigate.

As the Extension Motions, the Oppositions, and the Responses assert largely the same arguments and defenses, they will be considered together and, where they differ, the court will address the individual arguments.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. The Creditor's Request for Judicial Notice

Federal Rule of Evidence 201 allows a court to take judicial notice of facts that are not subject to reasonable dispute because they are either "(1) generally known within the territorial jurisdiction of the trial court or (2) capable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned." In re Blumer, 95 B.R. 143, 147 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988). Accordingly, the Court will take notice of the State Court Complaint, the Default Judgment, and the Simply Supportive Statement of Information.

B. The Extension Motions

a. Legal Standard

Extensions of time to object to discharge are governed by Rule 4004(b) which provides, in relevant part:

(b) Extension of Time.

(1) On motion of any party in interest, after notice and hearing, the court may for cause extend the time to object to discharge. Except as provided in subdivision (b)(2), the motion shall be filed before the time has expired.

Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4004(b)(1).

Extensions of time to file a complaint under § 523 are governed by Rule 4007(c) which provides, in relevant part: "[o]n motion of a party in interest, after hearing on notice, the court may for cause extend the time fixed under this subdivision. The motion shall be filed before the time has expired." Fed. R. Bankr. P. 4007(c).

"[T]he cause for an extension [under Rule 4004] must be compelling and a creditor must show why it was not able to comply with the deadline as originally set.” Willms v. Sanderson, 723 F.3d 1094, 1104 (9th Cir. 2013) (quoting Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 4007.04). In Willms, the plaintiffs moved to extend the deadline to file a complaint or to object to the discharge. Id. at 1098. The plaintiffs merely asserted that they needed additional time to “complete an investigation and evaluate whether or not a complaint objecting to discharge or a motion to dismiss is warranted.” Id. at 1104 (internal quotation marks omitted). There, however, the plaintiffs provided no reason why they could not have completed the investigation in a timely fashion. Id.

“Cause” at the very minimum, means “excusable neglect.” Id. at 1103 (quoting Pioneer Inv. Servs. Co. v. Brunswick Assocs. LP, 507 U.S. 380 (1993)). In determining what “excusable neglect” is, courts have used the Dix factors:

- (1) whether granting the delay will prejudice the debtor;
- (2) the length of the delay and its impact on efficient court administration;
- (3) whether the delay was beyond the reasonable control of the person whose duty it was to perform;
- (4) whether the creditor acted in good faith; and
- (5) whether clients should be penalized for their counsel's mistake or neglect.

In re Dix, 95 B.R. 134, 138 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988).

b. Discussion

The Debtor makes numerous arguments in his Oppositions as to why he believes that cause does not exist. The Court will address each of these arguments in turn.

The Debtor’s first argument for finding that cause does not exist is that 90 days has now lapsed since the petition date. As discussed above, however, the both the Trustee and the Creditor timely filed their motions.

Similarly, the Debtor argues that because he has already sat through two § 341(a) meetings, at the time of filing, he cannot be compelled to provide any further information. Opposition to Trustee’s Extension Motion at 8. This is likewise an incorrect statement of the law and, so long as the court finds cause, the Extension Motions may be granted.

Next, the Debtor avers that notice of the Extension Motions by Local

Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 9013-1(o) is incorrect because of "the gravity of the relief sought by Trustee's [m]otion." Id. at 15-17. LBR 9013-1(o)(2) sets forth the matters that "may not be determined upon notice of opportunity to request a hearing." Motions for extension of time to deny the discharge or to file a non-dischargeability complaint are not listed under that section. Furthermore, Debtor agrees that use of 9013-1(o)(1) in this instance is a "common practice." Id. at 15. Therefore, the Extension Motions will not be denied for use of LBR 9013-1(o) notice.

Next, the Debtor argues that Trustee mischaracterized his motion as "stipulation," which the Debtor claims is "inappropriate" and "troubling." Id. at 14. While it appears that the Trustee made a mistake in his original filing, the instant motion has not been stipulated to, was correctly re-filed, and the Debtor was properly provided an opportunity to object.

The Debtor's next argument is that the Debtor provided amended schedules to the Trustee on July 20, 2020, and on July 31, 2020, the Trustee emailed the Debtor to say he did not have any further questions. The email in question states: "Compliance received, thank you . . . [t]he trustee has no additional questions . . ." Id. at 5. After July 31, 2020, two subsequent § 341(a) meetings were held, at which point the Trustee could have formed further questions about the Debtor's businesses. At the Third Meeting on August 25, 2020, the Debtor agreed to let the Creditor have a copy of the profit and loss statement for Simply Supportive to review [Note 1]. The Creditor notes that the profit and loss statement contains concerning information, such as private funeral expenses and wages paid to two individuals who provided questionable benefit to the company. That the Trustee at one point had no further questions for the Debtor is not dispositive of the issue, and it appears that new issues have arisen regarding the business entanglements and d/b/a's.

The Debtor also alleges that because the Trustee cited the incorrect rule in his Extension Motion (Rule 3007(b) instead of 4004(b)), the Trustee's Extension Motion ought to be denied. Id. at 11-12. In addition, the Debtor argues that because the Creditor cited the incorrect subsection in its Extension Motion (Rule 4007(d) instead of Rule 4007(c)), its motion ought to be denied as well. Opposition to Creditor's Extension Motion at 11. The court will not deny a motion for a scrivener's error when the Debtor is sufficiently on notice. Furthermore, the Creditor filed a Notice of Errata and Amended Creditor's Extension Motion fixing the minor error.

The Debtor then argues that the Creditor's Extension Motion may be barred by claim preclusion [Note 2]. Opposition to Creditor's Motion at 10-11. His argument is based upon the assertion that, because the Creditor only sued for breach of contract claims in the state proceeding, the Creditor is now barred from bringing any causes of action for fraud, false representation, and the like. As the Supreme Court in Brown v. Felsen makes clear, however, failure to bring a fraud claim in state court does not preclude the creditor from alleging fraud when attempting to recover a debt in a subsequent bankruptcy proceeding. 442 U.S. 127, 137-38 (1979). Indeed, the Ninth Circuit has noted that pursuing fraud claims purely to protect them for future litigation would subject all parties to "additional litigation expense." In re Daley, 776 F.2d 834 (9th Cir. 1985). Therefore, this court finds that the Creditor's claims are not barred by claim preclusion simply because it did not seek to pursue claims of fraud against the Debtor in state court.

Next, the Debtor argues that cause does not exist to grant the Creditor's Extension Motion when the Creditor was 59 days late in requesting the Debtor's tax returns. Id. at 9, 12. While perhaps the Creditor could have requested the returns sooner, this alone does not prove that the Creditor was so lacking in diligence as to require the court to deny its motion. As discussed below, both parties appear to have been sufficiently diligent in their attempts to investigate the Debtor's business entanglements.

The remainder of the Oppositions argue, in short, that no cause exists for an extension of the deadline because the Trustee and the Creditor had ample time to complete their investigations, have provided little explanation as to why they could not finish the investigation in the allotted time, have not applied for a Rule 2004 examination, and the businesses in question were listed on the original petition. While it is true that neither the Trustee nor the Creditor have applied for a Rule 2004 examination, it is evident that sufficient cause exists for an extension.

In applying the Dix factors under the more liberal definition of "excusable neglect" to the remaining arguments, the court finds that the factors weigh in favor of granting the Extension Motions.

First, the Debtor filed his petition on May 15, 2020. The instant Extension Motions are the first extension motions in this discharge case. As such, it does not appear that a short 90 day delay will significantly prejudice the Debtor. At the Third Meeting, the Debtor told the Creditor that he would be filing further amended schedules, but has yet to do so. As such, a short extension appears to be in order.

Second, as discussed above the extension is short and appears to be necessary in order to achieve a better understanding of the Debtor's businesses. As such, the administration of this case would benefit from an extension.

Third, it is evident that the delay was "beyond the reasonable control of the person whose duty it was to perform." 95 B.R. at 138. After the First Meeting on June 23, 2020, both the Trustee and the Creditor noted that the Debtor had provided "vague and confusing" answers to questions about his businesses. Wolkowitz Decl. ¶ 3; Creditors Extension Motion at 2-3. On July 20, 2020, the Trustee received updated schedules that listed multiple new business entities that the Debtor was a part of. See Addendum to Voluntary Petition [Doc. No. 10]. The Debtor claims that these businesses are simply d/b/a's; however, neither the Trustee nor the Creditor appear to have been able to decipher whether that is true at this stage. In addition, at the Second Meeting on August 5, 2020, the Trustee alleges that the Debtor further provided "vague and confusing responses about his various business ventures." At the Third Meeting on August 25, 2020, the Creditor notes that the Debtor's counsel informed them that the Debtor would be filing further amended schedules. Avery Decl. ¶ 16. The Debtor has yet to file any additional amended schedules. In addition, the Creditor received the profit and loss statement for Simply Supportive on August 25, 2020. The Creditor contends that there are irregularities and concerning issues in that statement, such as why private funeral expenses for $11,000 were billed to the company, and what value two employees provided for $55,000. Creditor's Response at 2. A fourth § 341(a) meeting is now scheduled for September 22, 2020. Furthermore, the Creditor notes that, while it may have been late in requesting Debtor's tax returns, it contacted the Debtor's counsel more than once with no response in the month of August as it was trying to conclude its investigation. See Supplemental Avery Decl. ¶¶ 5-9. Therefore, the Court finds that the third factor also weighs in favor of granting the Extension Motions.

Fourth, while the Creditor could have procured the tax records earlier and the Trustee could have perhaps formulated his concerns to the Debtor after receiving the updated schedules and before the Second Meeting, it appears that both the Trustee and the Creditor have acted in good faith. Finally, a short extension will not penalize the Debtor significantly.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Trustee's Extension Motion is GRANTED and the Creditor's Extension Motion is GRANTED.

The Trustee and the Creditor are directed to lodge conforming proposed orders, incorporating the tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Andrew Lockridge at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Note 1: It is worth noting that the Trustee had the profit and loss statement prior to the Third Meeting. However, at the Third Meeting the Debtor agreed to allow the Creditor to have a copy for review.

Note 2: A successful claim preclusion defense requires: "(1) an identity of claims, (2) a final judgment on the merits, and (3) privity between parties." Tahoe-Sierra Pres. Council, Inc. v. Tahoe Reg'l Planning Agency, 322 F.3d 1064, 1077 (9th Cir. 2003) (quoting Stratosphere Litig. L.L.C. v. Grand Casinos, Inc. 298 F.3d 1137, 1143 n.3 (9th Cir. 2002)). This theory is not germane to any argument made by the Debtor and, in any event, the Debtor's argument is precluded by both Brown v. Felson, 442 U.S. 127 (1979), and In re Daley, 776 F.2d 834 (9th Cir. 1985).

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered. On August 14, 2020, the Court confirmed the Modified Second Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation (Dated July 2, 2020) of the Debtors, the Prepetition Secured Creditors, and the Committee (the "Plan"). ("Claim 6194"). Claim 6194 seeks a recovery in the amount of $57,364,623. The basis for the claim is "pension plan + John Hancock + PTO."

The Debtors argue that Claim 6194 should be disallowed for the following reasons:

- 1) The claim does not include any supporting documents evidencing the validity of the indebtedness alleged.
- 2) The Claimant's pension-related claims are already covered by the proof of claim filed by the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (the "PBGC"), and should be disallowed as duplicative.
- 3) The Claimant's claim for paid time off will be honored in the ordinary course of business pursuant to the Debtors' policies.

No opposition to the Claim Objection is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A proof of claim is entitled to a presumption of prima facie validity, but only if it is filed in accordance with the requirements of the Bankruptcy Rules. Bankruptcy Rule 3001(f). Where a claim is based upon a writing, the "original or a duplicate [of the writing] shall be filed with the proof of claim." Bankruptcy Rule 3001(c).

Here, Claim 6194 is not entitled to a presumption of prima facie validity because it does not include any writings evidencing the Debtors' obligations arising in connection with paid time off, a pension plan, or a John Hancock policy.

Even if Claim 6194 did include appropriate documentation, it would still be appropriately disallowed as duplicative. To the extent the claim is based upon pension plan obligations, the Plan provides for the treatment of the Debtors' pension plan obligations. To the extent the claim is for paid time off, the Court has authorized the Debtors to pay pre-petition claims for paid time off up to the statutory maximum, and has further authorized employees to use post-petition all pre-petition paid time off in the ordinary course of business. Doc. No. 75. Therefore, the Claimant's claim for paid time off has already been satisfied.

Based upon the foregoing, the Claim Objection is SUSTAINED and Claim 6194 is DISALLOWED in its entirety. The Debtors shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered. Chapter 11

On April 1, 2019, Doris Thompson (the "Claimant") filed Proof of Claim No. 5551 ("Claim 5551"). Claim 5551 sought a recovery in the amount of $50 million against Debtors VHS and St. Vincent Medical Center. The basis for Claim 5551 was "sodomized, (2) rapes, unknown surgery and unlawful surgery, given Drugs in I.V. I seen the Doctors involved." On February 27, 2020, the Court entered an order disallowing Claim 5551 in its entirety. Doc. No. 4171 (the "Previous Disallowance Order"). Claimant has not appealed the Previous Disallowance Order.

On April 27, 2020, Claimant filed Proof of Claim No. 8805 ("Claim 8805"), which seeks recovery in the amount of $50 million, based upon the same allegations asserted in Claim 5551.

The Debtors move to disallow Claim 8805. Debtors argue that Claim 8805 should be disallowed for the following reasons:

- 1) Claim 8805 is an attempt to reassert Claim 5551, which has been disallowed by a final and non-appealable order. Claim 8805 is barred by res judicata.
- 2) Claim 8805 was filed more than a year subsequent to the claims bar date, and is therefore forever barred.
- 3) Claim 8805 is not well pleaded and is not sufficient to state a viable and legally recognized cause of action, and therefore should be disallowed under Civil Rule 12(b)(6) or its state law equivalent.

No opposition to the Claim Objection is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Under Bankruptcy Rule 3001(f), a proof of claim executed and filed in accordance with the Bankruptcy Rules constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. To overcome the presumption of validity created by a timely-filed proof of claim, an objecting party must do one of the following: (1) object based on legal grounds and provide a memorandum of points and authorities setting forth the legal basis for the objection; or (2) object based on a factual ground and provide sufficient evidence (usually in the form of declarations under penalty of perjury) to create triable issues of fact. Durkin v. Benedor Corp. (In re G.I. Indus., Inc.), 204 F.3d 1276, 1280 (9th Cir. BAP 2000); United States v. Offord Finance, Inc. (In re Medina), 205 B.R. 216, 222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996); Hemingway Transport, Inc. v. Kahn (In re Hemingway Transport, Inc.), 993 F.2d 915, 925 (1st Cir. 1993). Upon objection, a proof of claim provides "some evidence as to its validity and amount" and is "strong enough to carry over a mere formal objection without more." See Lundell v.

Anchor Constr. Spec., Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing Wright v. Holm (In re Holm), 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). An objecting party bears the burden and must "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Holm, 931 F.2d at 623. When the objector has shown enough evidence to negate one or more facts in the proof of claim, the burden shifts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of evidence. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (citation omitted).

Claim 5551 and Claim 8805 are both based upon the Claimant's allegations that she was subjected to abuse while receiving treatment at St. Vincent Medical Center. The order disallowing Claim 5551 is now final and non-appealable. Claim 8805 is an improper attempt to reassert Claim 5551, which is barred by the doctrine of res judicata. United States v. Liquidators of European Fed. Credit Bank, 630 F.3d 1139, 1151 (9th Cir. 2011) ("[r]es judicata bars relitigation of all grounds of recovery that were asserted, or could have been asserted, in a previous action between the parties, where the previous action was resolved on the merits").

In addition, Claim 8805 was filed more than one year subsequent to the claims bar date. The untimely filing of Claim 8805 is a further ground for disallowance.

Based upon the foregoing, the Claim Objection is SUSTAINED and Claim 8805 is DISALLOWED in its entirety. The Debtors shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(a) provides that the Debtor, "subject to the court's approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." In Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), the Ninth Circuit explained the standard the Bankruptcy Court must apply in determining whether to approve the rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease:

In making its determination, a bankruptcy court need engage in "only a cursory review of a [debtor-in-possession]'s decision to reject the contract. Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor-in-possession]'s rejection decision." ...

Thus, in evaluating the rejection decision, the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate. See Navellier v. Sletten, 262 F.3d 923, 946 n. 12 (9th Cir.2001); FDIC v. Castetter, 184 F.3d 1040, 1043 (9th Cir.1999); see also In re Chi-Feng Huang, 23 B.R. at 801 ("The primary issue is whether rejection would benefit the general unsecured creditors."). It should approve the rejection of an executory contract under § 365(a) unless it finds that the debtor-in-possession's conclusion that rejection would be "advantageous is so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice."

Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007).

The Court finds that the Debtors have shown sufficient cause to reject the Agreements. The Agreements provide no benefit to the estates in view of the sales of Seton and SFMC. Rejection of the Agreements shall be effective as of August 14, 2020, the day after the closing date of the SFMC and Seton sales.

The deadline for counterparties to the Agreements to file a proof of claim arising from the rejection of the applicable Agreement, pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3002(c) (4), shall be October 30, 2020 (the "Rule 3002(c)(4) Claims Bar Date"). Debtors

The Debtors shall provide notice of the Retrieval Deadline so that it is actually received by the equipment lessors by no later than September 24, 2020. Peera Jittanoon and Preda Jittanoon (“Plaintiffs”) move for entry of an order striking the Answer of Pachira Ketkaew (“Defendant”) and entering Defendant’s default. In the alternative, Plaintiffs seek orders continuing the trial of this action and compelling Defendant to respond to discovery. Plaintiffs also seek discovery sanctions against Defendant in the amount of $3,960. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

On August 2, 2019, Plaintiffs commenced this dischargeability action against Defendant. Among other things, Plaintiffs allege that Defendant fraudulently induced Plaintiffs to invest funds in a restaurant and then subsequently shut Plaintiffs out of the business while retaining all profits for herself.

Defendant is a pro se litigant who does not speak English fluently. Early in the litigation, Defendant requested that all correspondence be directed to Francis Tsai, whom Defendant has designated as her translator.

On February 11, 2020, Plaintiffs, Defendant, and Defendant’s translator +had a lengthy telephonic discussion regarding discovery. Defendant, through her translator, agreed to provide amended and supplemental discovery responses. Defendant did not provide the amended and supplemental responses.

On June 22, 2020, Plaintiffs communicated with Tsai regarding Defendant’s failure to provide the amended and supplemental discovery responses. On behalf of Defendant, Tsai responded: “She does not want to continue to contest the bk case anymore.” Plaintiffs responded as follows: “I don’t know what that means. Is she not getting us the rest of the documents? Will she refuse to appear for her deposition? Will she refuse to appear for mediation? Or trial?” Through Tsai, Defendant responded: “Yes.”

On July 28, 2020, Plaintiffs requested that Defendant agree to entry of a stipulated judgment. Through Tsai, Defendant responded “[y]ou may proceed with a default judgment.” Defendant did not respond to Plaintiffs’ follow-up requests that Defendant execute a stipulated judgment. Defendant likewise did not respond to Plaintiffs’ follow-up requests that Defendant stipulate to the striking of her Answer and the entry of default.

Plaintiffs request that the Court strike Defendant’s Answer and enter her default. In the alternative, Plaintiffs request that Defendant be ordered to serve complete responses to Plaintiffs’ discovery requests. Plaintiffs request that Defendant be sanctioned in the amount of $3,960 for failing to adequately respond to discovery.

Through her translator, Defendant has stated that she will not respond to discovery, will not appear for her deposition, will not appear at trial, and that Plaintiffs should proceed with default judgment. Based on these statements, the Court finds that Defendant has no intention of fulfilling her responsibilities in connection with this litigation. The Court will strike Defendant's Answer and enter Defendant's default.

To impose case dispositive sanctions, the Court is "required to consider whether the ... noncompliance involved willfulness, fault, or bad faith, and also to consider the availability of lesser sanctions." R & R Sails, 673 F.3d at 1247 (internal citations omitted). When imposing case-dispositive sanctions, the Court must consider the following factors:

- 1) the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation;
- 2) the court's need to manage its docket;
- 3) the risk of prejudice to the party who has litigated diligently;
- 4) the public policy favoring the disposition of cases on their merits; and
- 5) the availability of less drastic sanctions.

Moneymaker v. CoBEN (In re Eisen), 31 F.3d 1447, 1451 (9th Cir. 1994); see also Hester v. Vision Airlines, Inc., 687 F.3d 1162, 1169 (9th Cir. 2012) (applying the Eisen factors to determine whether it was appropriate for a court to strike a pleading and enter default).

There are three sub-parts to the fifth factor, the availability of less drastic sanctions: "whether the court has considered lesser sanctions, whether it tried them, and whether it warned the recalcitrant party about the possibility of case-dispositive sanctions." Connecticut Gen. Life Ins. Co. v. New Images of Beverly Hills, 482 F.3d 1091, 1096 (9th Cir. 2007). The application of these factors is not mechanical; instead, the factors provide the Court "with a way to think about what to do, not a set of conditions precedent for sanctions or a script that the [Court] must follow." Id.

As set forth below, application of the Eisen factors supports the imposition of terminating sanctions.

1. Public's Interest in Expeditious Resolution of Litigation

Defendant has failed to furnish complete responses to discovery, even after being provided multiple extensions by Plaintiffs. Defendant has expressly stated that she has no intention of providing discovery responses or of continuing to participate in the litigation.

United States Bankruptcy Court

Chapter 7

Defendant's actions have impeded the expeditious resolution of this action. As the Ninth Circuit has explained, "[t]he public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation always favors" the imposition of sanctions. Pagtalunan v. Galaza, 291 F.3d 639, 642 (9th Cir. 2002). This factor supports the imposition of terminating sanctions.

2. The Court's Need to Manage its Docket

Courts have the "power to manage their dockets without being subject to the endless vexatious noncompliance of litigants ...." Ferdik v. Bonzelet, 963 F.2d 1258, 1261 (9th Cir. 1992), as amended (May 22, 1992). As discussed above, Defendant's failure to fulfill her litigation responsibilities has impeded the expeditious resolution of this action, and has consequently placed an additional burden upon the Court's docket. This factor supports the imposition of terminating sanctions.

3. The Risk of Prejudice to the Diligent Party

A diligent party suffers prejudice if the noncompliant party's actions impair the diligent party's "ability to go to trial or threaten to interfere with the rightful decision of the case." In re Phenylpropanolamine (PPA) Prod. Liab. Litig., 460 F.3d 1217, 1227 (9th Cir. 2006).

Defendant has failed to furnish complete responses to Plaintiffs' discovery requests. She has also stated that she has no intention of appearing for her deposition. Defendant's refusal to participate in the litigation makes it very difficult for Plaintiffs to prepare for trial. This factor supports the imposition of terminating sanctions.

4. The Public Policy Favoring the Disposition of Cases on Their Merits

Normally, "the public policy favoring disposition of cases on their merits strongly counsels against dismissal." In re PPA Prods., 460 F.3d at 1228. However, "a case that is stalled or unreasonably delayed by a party's failure to comply with deadlines and discovery obligations cannot move forward toward resolution on the merits." Id. This factor therefore "lends little support" to a party "whose conduct impedes progress in that direction." Id. (citations and quotations omitted). In other words, parties have a responsibility "to refrain from dilatory and evasive tactics." Morris v. Morgan Stanley & Co., 942 F.2d 648, 652 (9th Cir. 1991).

Defendant has stated that she does not intend to contest this action, respond to discovery, or appear for a deposition, and that Plaintiffs should proceed with a motion for default judgment. Defendant has not filed any papers opposing the instant Motion. Since Defendant has made it clear that she does not intend to participate in the litigation, this factor supports the imposition of terminating sanctions.

5. The Availability of Less Drastic Sanctions

The Court finds that less drastic sanctions would not adequately remediate Defendant's failure to fulfill her obligations in connection with this litigation. Defendant has stated that she does not intend to contest this action and that she will not respond to discovery or appear for a deposition. She has stated that Plaintiffs should proceed with a motion for default judgment, and has not filed any papers opposing the instant Motion. Defendant has made it abundantly clear that she would rather accept the entry of judgment against her than continue to defend the action. Under these circumstances, it is pointless for the Court to attempt to force Defendant to litigate the action on the merits through the imposition of sanctions. This factor supports the imposition of terminating sanctions.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court will strike Defendant's Answer and enter Defendant's default. By no later than October 23, 2020, Plaintiff shall file a Motion for Default Judgment. The Motion for Default Judgment shall be filed on a negative-notice basis, pursuant to the procedure set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(o), and shall be served upon the Defendant.

B. Plaintiffs' Motion to Compel Defendant to Respond to Discovery is Denied as Moot

In view of the striking of Defendant's Answer and the entry of Defendant's default, Plaintiffs' request for entry of an order compelling Defendant to provide supplemental discovery responses is DENIED as moot.

Plaintiffs request an award of attorneys' fees in the amount of $3,960 as compensation for the cost of preparing the Motion, pursuant to Civil Rule 37(a)(5). Because the Court has denied as moot Plaintiffs' motion to compel discovery, Plaintiffs are not entitled to a fee award under Civil Rule 37(a)(5).

Nor are Plaintiffs entitled to attorneys' fees under Civil Rule 37(b)(2)(A)(iii). Rule 37(b)(2)(A)(iii) authorizes the Court to strike Defendant's Answer, but only if Defendant failed to obey an order to provide or permit discovery. Here, the Court has not issued any orders compelling Defendant to respond to discovery. Although the Court is striking Defendant's Answer, that sanction is based upon Defendant's refusal to participate in the litigation, not upon Defendant's failure to obey a specific order regarding discovery.

Plaintiffs' request for an order continuing the trial date is also DENIED as moot.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Efren Zavala and Maria Padilla (the "Debtors") filed a voluntary chapter 7 petition on September 20, 2019. The Debtors own real property located at 22745 Fries Avenue, Carson, California, 90745 (the "Property"). The Property was scheduled at an alleged value of $507,300 with a first-priority lien held by Nations Direct Mortgage ("Nations Direct") which originally secured indebtedness in the amount of $251,400. Based on the most current mortgage payoff statement, the amount due to Nations Direct is $233,299 [Note 1]. See Declaration of Wesley H. Avery ("Avery Decl."). Wesley H. Avery was appointed the chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee").

A. The Proposed Sale

On August 27, 2020, Trustee filed the Sale Motion. The Trustee seeks: authorization to sell the Property free and clear of liens, claims and interests, subject to overbid; to authorize payment of liens, costs, brokers' commissions and debtors' homestead through escrow; and requiring debtors to vacate, turn over possession of, and remove personal property from, the property, pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 105(a), 363(b), 363(f), 542(a).

Following negotiations, the Trustee entered into an agreement with Journey Investments, Inc. (the "Buyer") for the purchase of the Property in the sum of $540,000, subject to court approval and any qualified overbids received. See Avery Decl. The Property is currently occupied by the Debtors; however, the Trustee and the Trustee's counsel, Charles Shamash ("Shamash"), have expressed concerns regarding whether the Debtors will vacate in a timely manner should this motion be granted. While the Trustee was hiring a broker, Shamash engaged in email communication with the Debtors (through their counsel) regarding a potential settlement agreement that would have allowed the Debtors to avoid the sale of the Property. See Declaration of Charles Shamash ("Shamash Decl."). Between November 2019 and May 2020, Shamash attempted to reach an agreement with the Debtors. Shamash alleges that communications were "sporadic" and "laden with excuses for taking so long to respond." Id. Following the employment of the broker, Shamash claims that Debtors' counsel promised "to have Debtors sign a settlement agreement and provide a 50% deposit toward the proposed settlement by a certain date." Id. Shamash agreed to extend the date by which the Debtors could sign a settlement agreement, but did not receive any documentation from the Debtors. As such, it is the Trustee's and Shamash's belief that the Debtors may not vacate in time to consummate the sale to the Buyer, hence the request for a turnover over.

At a sale price of $540,000 the trustee proposes payment of the Nations Direct lien in full ($233,299). The Buyer will pay the sale price in all cash and take the Property as-is, without any warranties, disclosures, or repairs whatsoever. Close of escrow is to be 15 days after entry of a court order approving the sale. The Trustee projects that the sale transaction will incur costs of sale of $43,200 and no capital gains. After the above referenced lien is resolved and costs of sale are paid, the estate expects to receive $88,501 in net proceeds.

The Trustee also projects administrative expenses in the range of $50,250. Those expenses include: Trustee's statutory fees of $30,250, attorneys' fees of approximately $15,000, and accountants fees of $5,000. After administrative expenses, the Trustee expects approximately $38,251 remaining for distribution to unsecured creditors.

The Trustee also requests authority to pay any liens he deems valid through escrow, as well as ordinary costs, such as prorated taxes, title fees, escrow fees, and broker commissions of 6%. Finally, the Trustee requests that, pending review of any liens, claims, or charges asserted by the L.A. County Tax collector or any other interest asserted, the Court authorize him to instruct escrow to pay any of those undisputed amounts to the respective claimants.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no opposition is on file.

A. The Proposed Sale is Approved

Section 363(b) permits the Trustee to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The Trustee must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19-20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19-20.

The Trustee has demonstrated sufficient business justification for the sale. The sale is consistent with the Trustee's statutory obligation to liquidate the estate's assets. Section 363(f) provides that estate property may be sold free and clear of liens, claims, and interests, providing one of the following conditions is satisfied:

- 1) Applicable nonbankruptcy law permits sale of such property free and clear of such interest;
- 2) Such entity consents;
- 3) Such interest is a lien and the price at which such property is sold is greater than the aggregate value of all liens on such property;
- 4) Such interest is in bona fide dispute; or
- 5) Such entity could be compelled, in a legal or equitable proceeding, to accept a money satisfaction of such interest.

The Court approves the Trustee's proposed treatment of the liens and encumbrances against the Property, and finds that the Property may be sold free and clear of such liens and encumbrances as requested by the Trustee. Pursuant to § 363(f)(3), the sale is free and clear of the Nations Direct lien because the Property's sale will generate proceeds exceeding the value of the lien. Furthermore, the Trustee is authorized to pay any liens he deems valid through escrow, as well as ordinary costs, such as prorated taxes, title fees, escrow fees, and broker commissions.

B. Auction Procedures

In the event that any qualified overbidders emerge, the Trustee and the Trustee's broker will conduct an auction in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Sale Motion. Qualifications to overbid, as laid out in the Sale Motion, include: 1) three days before the hearing on this Sale Motion, presentation of a check in the amount of $16,050 in earnest money to the Trustee's broker; 2) three days before the hearing on this Sale Motion, presentation of a completed and executed written offer to purchase, signed by the overbidder that, in the Trustee's business judgment, is substantially similar or superior to the terms of the purchase agreement at issue in this Sale Motion; 3) three days before the hearing on this Sale Motion, the overbidder must present proof to the Trustee's broker that he has the financial ability to pay the balance of any bid he makes, subject to the approval of the court; and 4) the overbidder must attend the hearing on this Sale Motion. In addition, the initial overbids shall be at least $5,000 more than the current sale price and all subsequent overbids must be in minimum increments of $5,000. Any prevailing overbidder shall be bound to the overbid procedures stated in the Sale Motion and must make adequate arrangements with the Trustee prior to or at the hearing.

In order to ensure the timely sale of the Property, the court is prepared to confirm a back-up buyer proposed by the Trustee, if any.

Finally, the Court deems the absence of any opposition as consent to the granting of the Sale Motion pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(h).

C. The Turnover Order is Approved

1. Eviction Moratoria

As a preliminary matter, the court must determine whether current state and federal eviction moratoria apply to § 363 sales and § 542 turnover orders.

On August 31, 2020, Governor Gavin Newsom signed into law Assembly Bill 3088 that provides protections for renters facing eviction and certain mortgagees. See The Tenant, Homeowner, and Small Landlord Relief and Stabilization Act of 2020; The COVID-19 Small Landlord and Homeowner Relief Act of 2020 ("AB 3088"), https://leginfo.ca.gov/faces/billTextClient.xhtml?bill\_id=201920200AB3088. AB 3088 is primarily written for renters and it allows, under certain circumstances, renters in arrears to remain in their apartments during the COVID-19 pandemic if they fulfill certain requirements. The relevance to mortgagees is much narrower. Certain federally backed mortgages (those by Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac) are subject to enhanced protection, such as mortgage forbearance. AB 3088 § 3273.11(b). In addition, a main intent of the legislature in enacting AB 3088 is to prevent "unpaid rental debt from serving as a cause of action for eviction or foreclosure." AB 3088 § 2(g). For mortgagors, the law is aimed at landlords who own and live in small multi-unit residential rental properties. If the tenants in those properties can no longer pay rent to the landlord due to unforeseen circumstances as created by the COVID-19 pandemic, and then the landlord can no longer pay his mortgage, AB 3088 provides certain protections for that landlord to prevent eviction. Id. at §§ 2924.15(a)(1) & (2); see also Preamble to AB 3088 (noting that the new protections apply to "a first lien mortgage or deed of trust that is secured by residential real property that is occupied by a tenant . . ." (emphasis added)). Nowhere does the law make reference to bankruptcies or sales made by a chapter 7 trustee. Therefore, the court concludes that AB 3088 is inapplicable to this action.

On September 4, 2020, the Center for Disease Control issued a federal eviction moratorium that likewise limits who may be evicted from residential properties and when those individuals may be evicted. See Fed. Reg. 55292 (Sept. 4, 2020) (the "CDC Order"). Similarly to AB 3088, the intent of the CDC order is to prevent evictions of tenants from rental properties. The CDC order is narrower than AB 3088 and only applies to "covered person[s]" defined as "any tenant, lessee, or resident of a residential property." CDC Order. Moreover "residential property" is defined as "any property leased for residential purposes." Id. Therefore, it is evident that the CDC Order is also inapplicable in this action.

2. The Turnover Order

The Bankruptcy Code requires the Debtor to cooperate with the Trustee "as necessary to enable the trustee to perform the trustee's duties under this title ...." § 521(a)(3). Among other duties, the Trustee has the obligation to "collect and reduce to money the property of the estate" and to "investigate the financial affairs of the debtor ...." § 704(a)(1) and (a)(4). "[T]he Trustee has a statutory authorization to require production of documents in the furtherance of an investigatory duty also created by statute," and the debtor has a "duty to provide information and to cooperate in this investigation." Rigby v. Mastro (In re Mastro), 585 B.R. 587, 596 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2018).

Section 542 provides: "[A]n entity, other than a custodian, in possession, custody, or control, during the case, of property that the trustee may use, sell or lease under section 363 of this title ..., shall deliver to the trustee, and account for, such property or the value of such property, unless such property is of inconsequential value or benefit to the estate." The "property" referred to in §542 "is generally understood to mean 'property of the estate,' as defined in section 541." Collier on Bankruptcy ¶542.02[2] (16th rev'd ed.). The Trustee may seek turnover of property from any person or entity that had "possession, custody, or control" of the subject property during the bankruptcy case, regardless of whether that person or entity had "possession, custody, or control" at the time the turnover motion is filed. Shapiro v. Henson, 739 F.3d 1198, 1204 (9th Cir. 2014). The Property, which the Debtor acquired prior to the Petition Date, constitutes property of the estate.

Therefore, to the extent the Trustee requests a turnover order in the Sale Motion, including but not limited to the Debtor vacating the property to the Trustee and his agents, that order is granted.

3. Good Faith Purchaser

Section 363(m) protects the rights of good faith purchasers in a § 363(b) sale, mandating that "reversal or modification on appeal of an authorization under subsection (b) or (c) of this section of a sale or lease of property does not affect the validity of a sale under such authorization to an entity that purchased or leased such property in good faith . . . ." See In re Ewell, 958 F.2d 276, 279 (9th Cir. 1992). Courts traditionally define a "good faith purchaser" as one who buys the property in "good faith" and for "value." In re Kings Inn, Ltd., 37 B.R. 239, 243 (9th Cir. BAP 1984). Lack of good faith can be found through "fraud, collusion between the purchaser and other bidders or the trustee, or an attempt to take grossly unfair advantage of other bidders." In re Ewell, 958 F.2d at 281; In re Suchy, 786 F.2d 900, 902 (9th Cir. 1985). Having reviewed the declarations of the Trustee and Brian Parsons, one of the real estate brokers retained to market and sell the Property, the court finds that the Trustee is wholly unrelated to the Buyer and all discussions and negotiations were conducted at arms-length, in good faith, and without collusion. Avery Decl. ¶ 9; see also Declaration of Brian Parsons ¶ 5. Therefore, the court finds that the Buyer is a good faith purchaser entitled to the protections of § 363(m). If an overbidder prevails at the sale hearing, the court will take testimony from such overbidder to determine whether § 363(m) protections are warranted.

III. Conclusion

the 363(f)(3) aspect of the Motion has not been controverted, the Debtor's request for a waiver of the 14-day stay imposed by Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h) is GRANTED, as this would facilitate the conclusion of this case within the timeframe contemplated by the Court.

The Trustee is directed to lodge a proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling, within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Andrew Lockridge at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: The court notes that the payoff figure that the Trustee lists is slightly more than the amount he contemplates to pay Nations Direct upon closing of the sale (approximately $0.12).

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession, Neumedicines, Inc. (the "Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 11 case on July 17, 2020. The Debtor's chapter 11 filing was precipitated by a number of issues. First, its federal funding was terminated in 2017 due to lack of funding. Second, the company's debt load increased dramatically, from approximately $2.4 million to $4 million, from September 2018 to June 2019. Finally, former president Elliot Friedman ("Friedman") sued the Debtor in the United States District Court for the Central District of California, and reached a settlement with the Debtor. See Sale Motion at 2. Debtor has two secured creditors:

- 1) Mao Qun International Investment LLC ("MQ") holds a secured senior lien in the approximate amount of $233,000; and
- 2) Friedman has a second priority security interest in the amount of $418,495

See Declaration of Timothy K. Gallagher ("Gallagher Decl.") ¶ 4. On September 2, 2020, the Court approved the Debtor's use of cash collateral through and including September 30, 2020 [Doc. No. 27]. The Court further ordered that any further extension of the use of cash collateral or post-petition financing must be heard no later than September 29, 2020. Id.

A. Summary of Debtor's Financing Motion

On September 9, 2020, the Debtor filed this Financing Motion, seeking to borrow money totaling $100,000 from the Debtor's CEO and minority shareholder, Dr. Raphael Nir ("Dr. Nir"). The line of credit is structured as an unsecured revolving line of credit with a third priority security interest in all pre-petition assets of the Debtor (the "Line of Credit"). In addition, the Line of Credit authorizes Dr. Nir or the Debtor to file a UCC-1 financing statement and take other steps he may deem necessary to perfect his lien. Gallagher Decl. ¶ 15(v). The Debtor states that despite expending reasonable efforts, it was unable to obtain financing on an unsecured basis due to its lack of income and current bankruptcy status. Id. ¶ 13.

The material terms of the Line of Credit are as follows:

Chapter 11

Line of Credit Amount: $100,000

- Line of Credit shall be provided through discretionary advances made by Dr. Nir to the Debtor

Term: The entire unpaid balance, together with any accrued interest, is due and payable upon the earliest happening of the following events:

- 1) The sale of the Debtor's assets;
- 2) Refinancing of existing secured loans; or
- 3) The maturity date of January 31, 2021

Interest Rate: 6%

See Gallagher Decl. ¶¶ 15-16. The Debtor requests this Line of Credit to "fund its operations and pay for critical expenses pending the closing of a sale, including payment for maintenance of its patents and storage of its vials of IL-12 and cell lines." Financing Motion at 4. The debtor argues that the Line of Credit is in the best interest of the estate and the creditors because it is currently in the process of exploring a sale of the company. Should the Debtor run out of money, it avers that its assets will deteriorate in value and adversely affect the sale price. Gallagher Decl. ¶ 14.

B. Summary of Friedman's Response

Friedman filed a timely response on September 25, 2020. In his Response, Friedman expresses concern over whether the Debtor has truly received an offer and is in negotiations to sell the company. Response ¶¶ 4-5. Friedman also points to language in the Line of Credit agreement that states Dr. Nir "is under no obligation to make any advance." Id. ¶ 8. Friedman argues that if the company is so desperate for money, the agreement should require the full loan amount to be given to the Debtor. Friedman also expresses concern that the Line of Credit agreement would subordinate his claim to the Line of Credit. Id. ¶ 15 He requests that the full $100,000 be loaned to the Debtor (not as a line of credit) and an "expedited and definitive sale process" be presented to the Court for timely consummation. Id. ¶¶ 16-17

C. Summary of Debtor's Reply

Motion. In its Reply, the Debtor clarifies that it was never the intention of Dr. Nir's Line of Credit to appear illusory and that he is entirely committed to loaning the full $100,000 to the Debtor. Reply at 2; see also Supplemental Nir Decl. ¶¶ 3-4. In addition, the Debtor notes that it is nearing the final stages of a sale, with two written offers from publicly traded companies. Reply at 2. One buyer "has been provided with extensive diligence and is believed to be near completion" and the other buyer has completed its due diligence and "is prepared to proceed to auction subject to an agreed upon form of Asset Purchase Agreement." Id. at 2-3. Both offers include approximately $7,000,000 in cash and $5,000,000 in stock payable at closing. Id. at 3. Finally, the Debtor notes that the Line of Credit, which provides Dr. Nir with a third priority security interest, was not meant to subordinate Friedman's claim to that of Dr. Nir's.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 364 governs the obtaining of credit or incurring of debt by a debtor in possession and sets forth the incentives that may be offered to induce potential lenders to extend post-petition credit. In re Stanton, 248 B.R. 823, 828 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000) aff'd, 285 F.3d 888 (9th Cir. 2002) opinion amended and superseded on denial of reh'g, 303 F.3d 939 (9th Cir. 2002) and aff'd, 303 F.3d 939 (9th Cir. 2002). Section 364 provides in relevant part:

- (c) If the trustee is unable to obtain unsecured credit allowable under section 503(b)(1) of this title as an administrative expense, the court, after notice and a hearing, may authorize the obtaining of credit or the incurring of debt—
  - (1) with priority over any or all administrative expenses of the kind specified in section 503(b) or 507(b) of this title;
  - (2) secured by a lien on property of the estate that is not otherwise subject to a lien; or
  - (3) secured by a junior lien on property of the estate that is subject to a lien.
- (d)(1) The court, after notice and a hearing, may authorize the obtaining of credit or the incurring of debt secured by a senior or equal lien on property of the estate that is subject to a lien only if—
  - (A) the trustee is unable to obtain such credit otherwise; and
  - (B) there is adequate protection of the interest of the holder of the lien on the property of the estate on which such senior or equal lien is proposed to be granted.

(2) In any hearing under this subsection, the trustee has the burden of proof on the issue of adequate protection.

Based on its review of the Financing Motion, the Response, the Reply, and all other supporting documents, the Court determines that the Debtor has been unable to obtain financing on terms more favorable than those provided in the Line of Credit, and thereby the Financing Motion is in the best interests of secured creditors and the estate. While the Court is sympathetic to Friedman's declaration regarding whether Dr. Nir would in fact loan the money to the Debtor, as well as his issues with regards to the expeditiousness of the sale, the Debtor and Dr. Nir have quelled those concerns.

The Debtor has provided the details of the offers it has received and it appears to be moving quickly toward a sale. Dr. Nir also made clear that he is "fully committed to loaning the Debtor the funds to maintain its valuable assets, including its intellectual property, up to the amount of $100,000 . . . ." Supplemental Nir Decl. ¶ 4. Furthermore, the Debtor provided the court with a detailed breakdown of its monthly operating budgets from October 2020 to December 2020. After reviewing the operating budgets, it appears as though the $100,000 Line of Credit will be sufficient to keep the company afloat pending a sale. Finally, the Court notes that Dr. Nir's security interest will in fact be subordinate to Friedman's, which ought to further assure Friedman that this Line of Credit is in the best interest of all parties.

Although the Line of Credit is approved, this case has been pending for over two months and a sale has yet to be realized. Therefore, in order to preserve the value of the company and expedite the sale process, the Line of Credit is approved with the following modifications: (1) any sale that the Debtor engages in must be consummated by December 31, 2020; and (2) for the months of October, November, and December, Dr. Nir is required to loan the Debtor a minimum of $25,000 per month to cover all expenses pending a sale, with a total loan amount for that period not to exceed $100,000.

Tentative Ruling:

9/28/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend

For the reasons set forth below, a continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall take place on October 6, 2020 at 10:00 a.m.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Debtors-In-Possession's Post Confirmation Report on Status of Reorganization [sic] [Doc. No. 121] (the "Second Post-Confirmation Status Report")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On November 14, 2019, the Court entered an Order Confirming Debtor's Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization [Doc. No. 103]. This is the second Post-Confirmation Status Conference. The Debtor asserts that she is current on all payments required under the Plan and foresees that she will continue making payments without issue. The Debtor claims that the preparation and submission of a motion for final decree has been hindered by the COVID-19 pandemic, among other personal reasons. She anticipates filing a final decree motion within the next 90 days.

As of the posting of this tentative ruling, no response or objection to the Second Post-Confirmation Status Report is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

No appearances required. A continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall be held October 6, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Post-Confirmation Status Report must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. The Debtor must file and serve a motion for a final decree such that the motion is heard prior to the date of the continued Status Conference. If a favorable order on the motion for a final decree is entered, the continued Status Conference will be vacated.

The Debtor shall submit an order setting the continued Status Conference within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than two days before the hearing.

RE: [178] Debtor's Fourth Motion For Order Authorizing Use Of Cash Collateral From October 4, 2020 Through And Including December 27, 2020

Docket 178

For the reasons set forth below, the Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral in accordance with the Budget through and including December 27, 2020.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Debtor's Fourth Motion for Order Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral from October 4, 2020 Through and Including December 27, 2020 [Doc. No. 178] (the "Motion")
  - a) Notice of [Motion] [Doc. No. 179]
- 2) No opposition to the Motion is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On January 10, 2020 (the "Petition Date"), 450 S. Western, LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition. The Debtor owns and operates a three-story, 80,316 square foot shopping center—commonly known as California Marketplace—located at the intersection of South Western Avenue and 5th Street (the "Property"). The Property serves the Los Angeles Korean community and contains 28 stores. As of the Petition Date, the Property had a 98% occupancy rate.

On January 16, 2020, the Court entered an interim order authorizing the Debtor to use cash collateral through and including February 20, 2020. See Doc. No. 31.

Authorization to use cash collateral was subsequently extended through and including October 3, 2020. See Doc. Nos. 83, 107, and 153.

The Debtor sought bankruptcy protection primarily as the result of litigation with Admire Capital Lending, LLC (“Admire”) and Belmont Two Investment Holdings, LLC (“Belmont”). On September 10, 2015, the Debtor entered into an unsecured promissory note with Belmont and Admire, in the principal amount of $9.75 million (the “Note”). In litigation before the Los Angeles Superior Court, Belmont and Admire assert a right to convert the Note to equity (the “Conversion Option”). The Debtor disputes the Conversion Option.

The Debtor seeks authorization to use cash collateral through and including December 27, 2020, on the same terms and conditions as have been previously approved. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

An auction of the Property and a hearing on the Debtor’s motion to approve the results of the auction is set for October 14, 2020 (the “Sale Hearing”). The Debtor anticipates that the sale will close by October 31, 2020.

The Court has approved stipulations between the Debtor and the three largest prepetition secured creditors, which establish the amount of these prepetition secured creditors’ claims as follows:

- 1) G450 LLC (“G450”)—$30,063,331.49 as of the Petition Date, with post-petition interest accruing at the rate of 5%;
- 2) Pontis Capital, LLC (“Pontis”)—$4,684,959.75 as of the Petition Date; and
- 3) Five West Capital, LP (“Five West”)—$5,855,998.95 as of the Petition Date.

The cash collateral budget (the “Budget”) provides for the Debtor to make a payment in the aggregate amount of $100,000 for the month of October 2020 to G450, Pontis, and Five West, consistent with a court-approved stipulation requiring the Debtor to make payments to these entities in exchange for the entities’ forbearance from seeking stay relief. Payments to G450, Pontis, and Five West beyond October 2020 are not contemplated because of the anticipated closing of the sale of the Property by October 31, 2020. Cash collateral will also be used to fund the Property’s operating expenses pending closing of the sale, including expenses for wages, insurance, utilities, taxes, license fees, and quarterly fees owed to the Office of the United States Trustee.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of §363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368–69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. § 363(c)(2)(B) and (e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988).

Most of the Debtor's income is derived from rental payments received from tenants at the Property. The majority of the rental payments come from the Debtor's largest tenant, the Gaju Market Corp. (the "Gaju Market"), which pays monthly rent of $173,952. The Court takes judicial notice of the fact that the Gaju Market is a grocery store that remains open for business notwithstanding the COVID-19 pandemic.

In connection with prior cash collateral hearings, the Court has found that the Property was not declining in value. The Court finds it appropriate to maintain that finding until presented with concrete evidence to the contrary. The Court notes that the instant bankruptcy petition was precipitated by litigation with Belmont and Admire, not by operating losses. The Debtor's largest tenant is a grocery store whose cash flows are more resilient to the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic than those of other retail establishments. It is also worth emphasizing that the value of the Property is not likely to decline as a result of short-term liquidity issues that tenants may experience as a result of the pandemic. The Property is situated in a desirable location and has historically been profitable. Any effects of the pandemic upon profitability will most likely be temporary.

Based on the absence of evidence of declining value and the payment of $100,000 to secured creditors G450, Pontis, and Five West for the month of October 2020, the Court finds that secured creditors with an interest in the Debtor's cash collateral are adequately protected. In addition, the use of cash collateral to maintain the California Marketplace's operations constitutes further adequate protection. See In re Megan-Racine Associates, Inc., 202 B.R. 660, 663 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1996) (concluding that "[a]s long as there was a continuous income stream being generated by the Debtor, the fact that the Debtor consumed a portion of those monies to operate and maintain the facility each month did not diminish the value of the [secured creditor's] interest in the [cash collateral]").

The Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral in accordance with the Budget through and including December 27, 2020. Since the sale of the Property is projected to close on October 31, 2020, the Court will not set a further hearing on the use of cash collateral at this time. In the event the Debtor requires the use of cash collateral beyond December 27, 2020, the Debtor shall notice for hearing a further cash collateral motion prior to expiration of the cash collateral authorization.

Within seven days of the hearing, the Debtor shall submit an order incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the “Petition Date”), Verity Health System of California, Inc. (“VHS”) and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Debtors”) filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors’ Chapter 11 cases are being jointly administered. On August 14, 2020, the Court confirmed the Modified Second Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation (Dated July 2, 2020) of the Debtors, the Prepetition Secured Creditors, and the Committee (the “Plan”). Doc. No. 5504.

The Debtors move for authorization to reject executory contracts and unexpired leases (collectively, the “Agreements”) to which Debtors Seton Medical Center (“Seton”), St. Francis Medical Center (“SFMC”), St. Vincent Medical Center (“SVMC”), and VHS are parties. (The Plan provides for the rejection of any outstanding executory contracts or unexpired leases of the Debtors as of the Effective Date of the Plan unless the Debtors separately move to reject specified agreements. Plan § 11.1. The instant Motion is such a “separate motion.”) Debtors request that the Agreements be deemed rejected as of (a) October 30, 2020, (b) such earlier date as may be specified by the Debtors in a notice given to the applicable counterparty, or (c) such later date as may be agreed by the Debtors and the applicable counterparty (the “Rejection Date”).

The Agreements were not assigned to the buyers of the Debtors’ hospitals, but are temporarily needed by the Debtors to fulfill certain transition services that the Debtors have agreed to provide under certain Interim Management Agreements related to the sales of SFMC and Seton. The Debtors have sought a Rejection Date subsequent to the Effective Date of the Plan to enable them to perform under the Interim Management Agreements. Debtors state that the Agreements will provide no further benefit to the estates once the Debtors have fulfilled their obligations under the Interim Management Agreements.

A. Summary of Cerner Corporation's Limited Objection and the Debtors' Response Thereto

Cerner Corporation ("Cerner") filed a limited objection to the Motion. Cerner licenses software to the Debtors. Cerner does not object to rejection, but is concerned that the Debtors, or the purchasers of the Debtors' hospitals, may continue to use its software subsequent to the Rejection Date without payment and without Cerner's consent. Cerner states that in the Gardens Regional Hospital and Medical Center case, its software was used without payment subsequent to rejection of its agreement. Cerner states that in another bankruptcy case involving the sale of hospital assets to Prime Healthcare (the purchaser of SFMC), it took years for Cerner to obtain consensus on who owed Cerner funds for the use of its software. Cerner states that it is owed approximately $30,000 for the post-petition use of its software, and requests an order directing that this post-petition balance be paid timely. Cerner also requests that the Debtors and the purchasers of the Debtors' hospitals be required to agree to certain commitments in order to protect against the unauthorized use of its software.

For the purpose of resolving certain of Cerner's objections, the Debtors state that they are willing to agree to the following:

- 1) The Debtors will bring current any confirmed past due amounts as required under the agreement with Cerner (the "Cerner Agreement").
- 2) To insure that Cerner's software is not used by the purchasers of the hospitals without Cerner's consent, the Debtors will include the following language in the order granting the Motion: "The Debtors shall not, without the prior written consent of Cerner Corporation or its affiliates, as applicable, transfer or assign the Debtors' rights under that certain agreement dated March 27, 2002, as amended, by and between VHS and Cerner Health Services, Inc."
- 3) The Debtors agree with Cerner that the Bankruptcy Court should retain jurisdiction to implement and enforce the terms of any order granting the

- 4) In response to Cerner's request that the Debtors identify a legal entity responsible for timely paying invoices submitted subsequent to the Effective Date, the Debtors represent that VHS shall be responsible for such payments.

The Debtors argue that the Court should overrule Cerner's request that the Debtors must be subjected to certain additional commitments as a condition of the continued use of Cerner's software. Specifically, the Debtors object to being required to commit to (1) making an adequate assurance payment or a deposit, (2) returning all licensed software and backups upon rejection of the Cerner Agreement, (3) providing a certification from the purchasers of the Debtors' hospitals that the purchasers will not use or accept assignment of the software, and (4) agreeing to authorize Cerner to destroy all VHS-related information in its possession upon rejection of the Cerner Agreement. Debtors contend that although upon rejection Cerner is entitled to whatever rights it holds under the Cerner Agreement, Cerner has failed to offer any basis to expand those rights with additional commitments.

In addition, Cerner states that it does not consent to the use of its software subsequent to the Effective Date of the Plan. The Debtors maintain that Cerner has waived its ability to object to the use of its software subsequent to the Plan's Effective Date, because the Plan contemplated that certain executory contracts and unexpired leases would not be rejected as of the Effective Date, and Cerner did not object to confirmation of the Plan.

B. Summary of Sunquest Information Systems, Inc.'s Limited Objection and the Debtors' Response Thereto

Sunquest Information Systems, Inc. ("Sunquest") filed a limited objection to the Motion. Sunquest licenses software to the Debtors. Sunquest states that it shares the concerns of Cerner regarding the potential unauthorized use of its software. Sunquest requests that any order on the Motion contain provisions protecting against such unauthorized use.

The Debtors have agreed to include language in the order stating that they will not transfer their rights to use Sunquest's software without its written consent.

C. Summary of NTT Data Services' Limited Objection and the Debtors' Response Thereto

NTT Data Services, LLC ("NTT Data") filed a limited objection to the Motion. NTT Data asserts that the contract which the Debtors seek to reject (the "NTT Agreement”) became effective in February 2020, subsequent to the Petition Date. According to NTT Data, it is entitled to an administrative expense claim on account of the rejection of the NTT Agreement.

The Debtors dispute NTT Data’s contention that the NTT Agreement took effect post-petition. The Debtors state that on February 3, 2020, they entered into an amendment of the NTT Agreement (the “NTT Amendment”). Debtors maintain that the NTT Agreement originally took effect on January 16, 2018, prior to the Petition Date. Debtors state that the NTT Amendment only updated the pricing and term of the NTT Agreement and cannot be characterized as a new executory contract.

D. Other Limited Objections that Have Been Resolved

The Debtors have agreed to include language in the order resolving a limited objection filed by Infor (US), Inc. and an informal objection asserted by Equinix LLC.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 365(a) provides that the Debtor, "subject to the court’s approval, may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." In Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), the Ninth Circuit explained the standard the Bankruptcy Court must apply in determining whether to approve the rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease:

In making its determination, a bankruptcy court need engage in "only a cursory review of a [debtor-in-possession]’s decision to reject the contract. Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor-in-possession]’s rejection decision." ...

Thus, in evaluating the rejection decision, the bankruptcy court should presume that the debtor-in-possession acted prudently, on an informed basis, in good faith, and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the bankruptcy estate. See Navellier v. Sletten, 262 F.3d 923, 946 n. 12 (9th Cir.2001); FDIC v. Casterter, 184 F.3d 1040, 1043 (9th Cir.1999); see also In re Chi-Feng Huang, 23 B.R. at 801 ("The primary issue is whether rejection would benefit the general unsecured creditors."). It should approve the rejection of an executory contract under § 365(a) unless it finds that the debtor-in-possession’s conclusion that rejection would be "advantageous is so manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice."

CONT... Verity Health System of California, Inc.

Pomona Valley, 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007).

The Court finds that the Debtors have shown sufficient cause to reject the Agreements. After the Debtors have fulfilled their obligations under the Interim Management Agreements, the Agreements will provide no benefit to the estates.

The deadline for counterparties to the Agreements to file a proof of claim arising from the rejection of the applicable Agreement, pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3002(c) (4), shall be thirty days subsequent to the Rejection Date. Debtors shall provide notice of the Rule 3002(c)(4) Claims Bar Date so that it is actually received by counterparties by no later than October 23, 2020. Debtors shall file a proof of service of such notice by no later than October 23, 2020.

The deadline for equipment lessors who have not entered into new or restated lease agreements with the purchasers of their hospitals to retrieve equipment located at the hospitals shall be November 15, 2020 (the "Retrieval Deadline"). The Debtors shall provide notice of the Retrieval Deadline so that it is actually received by the equipment lessors by no later than October 23, 2020. Debtors shall file a proof of service of such notice by no later than October 23, 2020. Equipment lessors shall coordinate with the Debtors' personnel with respect to the retrieval of their equipment. [Note 2] Any equipment not retrieved by the Retrieval Deadline shall be deemed abandoned to the estates.

A. To the Extent Not Resolved by the Debtors' Omnibus Reply, the Limited Objection Filed by Cerner is Overruled

To the extent that the issues raised in Cerner's limited objection have not been resolved by the agreements and clarifications set forth by the Debtors in the Omnibus Reply, the limited objection is overruled.

First, Cerner states that it does not consent to the use of its software subsequent to the Effective Date of the Plan. The Plan provides for the rejection of all "Executory Agreements to which any Debtor is a party ... as of the Effective Date, except for those Executory Agreements that ... are the subject of a separate motion to assume, assume and assign, or reject filed under § 365 on or before the Effective Date ...." Plan § 11.1. The Cerner Agreement was not rejected as of the Effective Date because the Debtors filed a separate motion to reject the Cerner Agreement prior to the Effective Date. Cerner did not object to or file a reservation of rights with respect to § 11.1 of the Plan. Having failed to do so, Cerner may not now challenge the use of its software subsequent to the Effective Date.

Second, Cerner seeks to impose upon the Debtors and the purchasers of the Debtors' hospitals various commitments as a condition of the continued use of its software. Cerner asserts that such conditions are necessary to protect it from the risk that the purchasers will continue to use its software subsequent to the Rejection Date.

Pursuant to § 365(g)(1), the "rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor constitutes a breach of such contract or lease ... immediately before the date of the filing of the petition ...." As the Supreme Court has explained:

[A] rejection is a breach. And "breach" is neither a defined nor a specialized bankruptcy term. It means in the Code what it means in contract law outside bankruptcy.... A rejection does not terminate the contract. When it occurs, the debtor and counterparty do not go back to their pre-contract positions. Instead, the counterparty retains the rights it has received under the agreement. As after a breach, so too after a rejection, those rights survive.

Mission Prod. Holdings, Inc. v. Tempnology, LLC, 139 S. Ct. 1652, 1662, 203 L. Ed. 2d 876 (2019).

As of the Rejection Date, the Debtors will have breached the Cerner Agreement, and Cerner will be entitled to assert a claim against the estates on account of the breach. As made clear by Mission Product Holdings, any other rights Cerner may have against the Debtors as a result of the breach are derived from the Cerner Agreement. Here, Cerner seeks to impose various commitments upon both the Debtors and the purchasers of the Debtors' hospitals to protect itself from the consequences of the Debtors' breach. However, Cerner does not identify any provisions in the Cerner Agreement that would obligate the Debtors to commit to the conditions that Cerner proposes. The Court declines to subject either the Debtors or the purchasers of the Debtors' hospitals to Cerner's proposed commitments absent a clear contractual basis for doing so.

B. The NTT Limited Objection is Overruled

NTT asserts that it is entitled to an administrative claim in connection with the Debtors' rejection of the NTT Agreement. The Debtors dispute NTT's entitlement to an administrative claim. The issue is whether the NTT Agreement was executed pre-petition or post-petition.

On February 3, 2020, the Debtors and NTT executed a document captioned Amendment to January 26, 2018 Termination Assistance Services Letter Agreement (the "NTT Amendment"). The NTT Amendment refers to "a Letter Agreement dated January 26, 2018 in which NTT Data and Verity mutually agreed upon the scope of Termination Assistance Services that NTT Data will provide to Verity during the Termination Assistance Period” (the “NTT Agreement”). The NTT Amendment states that its purpose “is to further amend the [NTT Agreement] to extend the Termination Assistance Period applicable to the Hosting Services.” It further provides that the “end date for the Hosting Services shall be changed from February 3, 2020 to January 31, 2021,” and contains updated pricing.

The post-petition amendment of a pre-petition agreement does not alter the pre-petition character of the agreement unless the amendment is “materially different from the original pre-petition document.” In re Ionosphere Clubs, Inc., 100 B.R. 670, 673 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1989). Here, the NTT Amendment did not materially alter the terms of the NTT Agreement. All the NTT Amendment did was change the contract’s termination date and update the pricing. The essential terms of the NTT Agreement—that NTT would provide Verity Termination Assistance Services—remained unchanged. The NTT Amendment was not a new executory contract executed post-petition; it merely amended the pre-petition NTT Agreement. Therefore, NTT is not entitled to an administrative expense claim on account of the Debtors’ rejection of the NTT Agreement.

C. The Debtors’ Proposed Language Restricting Assignment of the Applicable Agreements Sufficiently Protects Counterparties Against the Continued Unauthorized Use of Their Services

In response to the concerns of various counterparties that the purchasers of the Debtors’ hospitals will continue to use their products and services subsequent to the Rejection Date, the Debtors have agreed to include language in the orders on the Rejection Motions providing that the Debtors’ rights under the applicable Agreements will not be assigned or transferred absent the written consent of the counterparties. The Court finds that this language sufficiently protects the counterparties against the possibility of unauthorized use of their products and services subsequent to the Rejection Date. _

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Rejection Motions are GRANTED. Within seven days of the hearing, the Debtors shall submit orders on the Rejection Motions incorporating this tentative ruling by reference.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On June 18, 2020, Chineseinvestors.com, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed its voluntary chapter 11 petition (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is a financial information web portal that offers news and information regarding financial markets in Chinese. Prior to the Petition Date, the Debtor maintained a business office in the leased nonresidential space located at 227 W. Valley Blvd., #278-B, San Gabriel, CA 91176 (the "Leased Premises").

On July 24, 2020, the Debtor notified the lease counterparty, Lancer Investments, LLC ("Lancer"), that it would be abandoning and rejecting the lease for the Leased Premises (the "Lease"). Declaration of Melissa Armstrong ("Armstrong Decl.") at ¶ 6. On September 3, 2020, the Debtor filed this Motion, seeking to reject the Lease as of the date of filing the Motion, and seeking to abandon personal property located at the Leased Premises. The Debtor asserts that "[a]s of the date of this Motion, the Debtor has moved out of the Leased Premises." Motion at ¶ 6. The Debtor further states that "[i]n anticipation of filing this case the Debtor removed from the Leased Premises substantially all of its valuable personal property." Id. at 2.

The Debtor believes that, in its sound business judgment, rejection of the Lease would benefit the estate. Id. at ¶ 10. The Debtor seeks to reject the lease to "avoid the incurrence of any additional, unnecessary expenses related to the Lease." Id. at ¶ 11. By rejecting the Lease, the Debtor approximates that it will save over $4,039 per month. In addition, the Debtor requests the court approve rejection of the Lease retroactively to September 3, 2020. The Debtor argues that doing so would benefit both the estate as well as Lancer, because Lancer knew on July 24, 2020 that the Debtor was going to be rejecting the Lease. The Debtor believes that in rejecting the Lease retroactively to September 3, 2020, that will have allowed Lancer to seek new renters sooner. Id. at ¶ 15. Finally, the Debtor requests that any security deposit it has with Lancer not be used by Lancer as a setoff without prior authorization of the court. Id. at 3.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. Motion to Reject Lease

Under 11 U.S.C. § 365(a), a debtor in possession "may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the debtor." 11 U.S.C. § 365(a). "A bankruptcy court's hearing on a motion to reject is a summary proceeding that involves only a cursory review of a [debtor's] decision to reject the contract." Durkin v. Bendor Corp. (In re G.I Indus.), 204 F.3d 1276, 1282 (9th Cir. 2000). "Specifically, a bankruptcy court applies the business judgment rule to evaluate a [debtor's] rejection decision." Id. A court should approve the rejection decision unless it finds that the debtor's conclusion that rejection would be advantageous is so "manifestly unreasonable that it could not be based on sound business judgment, but only on bad faith, or whim or caprice." Agarwal v. Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc. (In re Pomona Valley Med. Grp., Inc.), 476 F.3d 665, 670 (9th Cir. 2007) (internal citation omitted).

The Lease costs the Debtor approximately $4,039 per month and, as of the date of the Motion, the Debtor has vacated the Leased Premises and appears to have no use for it. The Court finds that the Debtor exercised its sound business judgment in determining to reject the Lease and downsize its office locations, and that the rejection of the Lease will inure to the benefit of the creditors. As such, the Debtor may reject the Lease.

B. Motion to Abandon Personal Property

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 554(a), "[a]fter notice and a hearing, the trustee may abandon any property of the estate that is burdensome to the estate or that is of inconsequential value and benefit to the estate." 11 U.S.C. § 554(a). While it is unclear exactly what is left at the Leased Premises, based on the Debtor's representations, as well as the lack of opposition from any party in interest, the Court finds that the personal property in question is of inconsequential value and benefit to the estate. Therefore, the Debtor is authorized to abandon the personal property left at the Leased Premises.

C. Date of Rejection

Finally, the Debtor requests that the Court deem the rejection of the Leases nunc pro tunc to the date the Motion was filed: September 3, 2020.

In In re At Home Corporation, the Ninth Circuit identified four non-exclusive factors to be applied by a bankruptcy court in ascertaining whether "exceptional circumstances" warranted retroactive rejection of a lease:

- (1) the debtor's immediate filing of a motion to reject the lease;
- (2) a debtor's prompt action in setting that motion for hearing;
- (3) the vacancy of the leased premises; and
- (4) the landlord's conduct and motivation in opposing a retroactive rejection of the lease.

CONT...      Chineseinvestors.com, Inc.
392 F.3d 1064, 1072 (9th Cir. 2004).

In considering the first factor, the Debtor filed this Motion on September 3, 2020 and set the hearing on regular notice for October 7, 2020. In only seeking retroactive rejection to September 3, 2020, the Debtor filed this Motion as expeditiously as possible. The Debtor even gave notice to Lancer on July 24, 2020 that it would be rejecting the Lease. While consideration of the Motion was not sought on expedited basis, the court in In re New Meatco Provisions granted nunc pro tunc relief and found "no appreciable delay" where a debtor set a rejection motion on regular notice and secured the rejection order within thirty-five days. In re New Meatco Provisions, LLC, No. 2:13-BK-22155-PC, 2013 WL 3760129, at *5 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. July 16, 2013). In this case, the Debtor is seeking to secure a rejection order thirty-four days after filing the Motion. In addition, this Court previously granted the Debtor nunc pro tunc relief on another lease. There, this Court granted the lease rejection retroactively to the date the motion was filed [see Doc. No. 132]. Here, the Debtor's case is even stronger for nunc pro tunc relief because the Debtor gave Lancer notice that it would be vacating, and Lancer did not file an opposition. As to the vacancy of the leased premises, the Debtor states that "[i]n anticipation of filing this case the Debtor removed from the Leased Premises substantially all of its valuable personal property." Motion at 2. As discussed above, this Court has determined that the personal property remaining at the Leased Premises is of "inconsequential value and benefit to the estate." Therefore, the Court concludes that the Leased Premises are sufficiently vacant.

In weighing all of In re At Home factors, the Debtor has made a sufficient showing that nunc pro tunc relief is warranted. The Court determines that it is appropriate to deem the Lease rejected as of September 3, 2020.

D. The Deposit

Finally, the Debtor requests that "if the Debtor has deposited monies with [Lancer] as a security deposit or otherwise, [Lancer] may not setoff or otherwise use such deposit without prior authorization of the Court." Motion at 3. The imprecision of the Motion leads the Court to wonder whether the Debtor actually has a security deposit with Lancer and, if it does not, why it would request such relief. In any event, the Debtor made the same argument in its earlier Motion to Reject Lease or Executory

Contract [Doc. No. 47]. In the Court's August 5, 2020 ruling on that motion, it directed the lease counterparty to file a proof of claim and submit a motion supporting its purported right to apply its claim against the deposit. The Court will maintain that approach here. If the Debtor has deposited money with Lancer as a security deposit or otherwise, and Lancer wishes to exercise a right of set off against the deposit, Lancer may do so by way of separate motion.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. The Debtor is authorized to reject the Lease as of September 3, 2020, and to abandon its personal property located at the Leased Premises.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling, within 7 days of the hearing.

On January 18, 2019 (the "Petition Date"), Bahram Zendedel ("Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. Debtor scheduled a community interest in real property located at 1712 Livonia Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90035 (the "Property").

On May 16, 2018 (prior to the Petition Date), Debtor executed a quitclaim deed transferring the Property to Nazila Zendedel ("Nazila") [Note 1] as her sole and separate property.

On May 28, 2019, the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") filed a complaint against Nazila, seeking to avoid and recover the transfer of the Property (the “Nazila Complaint”). As an affirmative defense, Nazila asserts that there is no equity in the Property because it is encumbered by lien in favor of Pedram Shamekh (“Shamekh,” and the lien in favor of Shamekh, the “Shamekh Lien”).

On March 12, 2020, the Trustee filed a complaint against Shamekh, seeking to avoid the Shamekh Lien (the “Shamekh Complaint”). Among other things, the Shamekh Complaint alleges that the Shamekh Lien is avoidable as a preferential transfer.

On April 16, 2020, the Court granted the Trustee’s motion to consolidate the litigation of the Shamekh Complaint and the Nazila Complaint. The Court found that consolidation served the interests of judicial economy since both actions concerned the same Property and involved common issues of fact regarding whether various transfers facilitated by the Debtor were done with fraudulent intent. Notwithstanding the consolidation, the Court stated that it would maintain separate dockets for both actions to avoid confusion.

Having reviewed the Joint Status Report filed in the Shamekh Complaint and the Unilateral Status Report filed in the Nazila Complaint, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In the Shamekh Complaint, Defendant has timely demanded a jury trial and has not filed a proof of claim against the estate. Because this is an avoidance action, Defendant is entitled to a jury trial. See Langenkamp v. Culp, 498 U.S. 42, 45 (1990) (“If a party does not submit a claim against the bankruptcy estate, however, the trustee can recover allegedly preferential transfers only by filing what amounts to a legal action to recover a monetary transfer. In those circumstances the preference defendant is entitled to a jury trial.”).
- 2) Shamekh has not consented to having the jury trial conducted by the Bankruptcy Court. Under Bankruptcy Rule 9015(b), the Bankruptcy Court may conduct a jury trial only with the consent of all parties. All proceedings through and including the Pretrial Conference will take place before the Bankruptcy Court. After the Pretrial Conference has been completed, these consolidated actions will be transferred to the District Court, which will conduct the jury trial. See generally Sigma Micro Corp. v. Healthcentral.com (In re Healthcentral.com), 504 F.3d 775, 787–88 (9th Cir. 2007) (providing that where a right to a jury trial exists, the Bankruptcy Court retains jurisdiction to hear and determine all pretrial matters, and the action should be transferred to the District Court only once it has reached the trial stage).

- 3) Shamekh asserts that the Court should sanction the Trustee based upon actions the Trustee has taken in a related action pending before the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court Action"). A Status Report is not the proper mechanism for presenting a request for sanctions. The Court will entertain a request for sanctions only if all procedural requirements are fastidiously complied with. Further, while the Court understands the adversarial position of the parties, a motion for sanctions is seldom a productive means of advancing a party's position in litigation.
- 4) Shamekh and the Trustee have both requested an extension of the litigation deadlines previously ordered. The prior litigation deadlines are extended as follows:
  - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 10/15/2020.
  - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 1/26/2021.
  - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 2/25/2021.
  - d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 3/16/2021. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 3/23/2021. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 3/27/2021. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
  - g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 4/13/2021 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.

- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
- i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.
  - iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(i)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
  - iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(i)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(i)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
- 5) These consolidated actions shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The Trustee, Shamekh, and Nazila shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. The Trustee shall lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon"

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

On February 7, 2020, the Court stayed this action pending resolution of the underlying state court action through which Plaintiff seeks to establish the indebtedness alleged to be non-dischargeable (the "State Court Action"). See Doc. No. 18. Judgment in the State Court Action was entered on July 29, 2020.

Having reviewed the Joint Status Report submitted by the parties, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In view of the entry of judgment in the State Court Action, the previously-ordered stay of this action is lifted.
- 2) The following litigation deadlines shall apply:
  - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 11/15/2020.
  - b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 1/26/2021.
  - c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 2/25/2021.

- d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 3/16/2021. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 3/23/2021. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 3/23/2021. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 4/13/2021 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
  - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1.

The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.

- iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
- iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
- i) Trial is set for the week of 4/26/2021. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.
- 3) This matter was formally mediated on June 29, 2020. The Court will not order further formal mediation at this time.

The Court will prepare and enter a Scheduling Order.

On December 8, 2019, Ann Tardaguila, as Trustee of the Tardaguila Living Trust dated June 16, 1999 (the "Plaintiff/Counter-defendant"), filed this non-dischargeability action against Gregory Tardaguila (the "Defendant/Counter-claimant"). Plaintiff/Counter-defendant alleges that she loaned Defendant/Counter-claimant in excess of $750,000; that Defendant/Counter-claimant failed to repay the indebtedness; and that Defendant/Counter-claimant committed actual fraud by diverting funds that could have been used to repay the indebtedness. The Complaint seeks a judgment that the indebtedness is non-dischargeable pursuant to § 523(a)(2) (A) and (a)(6), and seeks denial of Defendant/Counter-claimant's discharge pursuant to § 727(a)(2), (3), (4)(A), and (5).

Defendant/Counter-claimant filed a Counterclaim, in which he alleges that the note evidencing the indebtedness at issue in the Complaint (the "Note") is a sham that was created to change the character of the transaction from a gift to a loan. The Counterclaim alleges that the $750,000 loaned to Defendant/Counter-claimant was an advance upon his inheritance. The Counterclaim further alleges that the Defendant/Counter-claimant did not sign the Note until several years after the funds were advanced and that Defendant/Counter-claimant was induced to sign the Note under false pretenses. The Counterclaim (1) objects to any claim against the estate on account of the Note asserted by Plaintiff/Counter-defendant; (2) seeks cancellation of the Note; and (3) seeks damages for fraud and negligent misrepresentations.

On January 16, 2020, the Court entered an order providing that the litigation deadlines set for the Counterclaim would also apply to the Complaint. Doc. No. 21.

On February 28, 2020, the Court entered an order (1) designating the first and second counterclaims as affirmative defenses to be litigated in connection with the Complaint, (2) finding that the third and fourth counterclaims for fraud and negligent misrepresentation (the "Fraud Counterclaims") accrued prepetition, were property of the bankruptcy estate, and could be prosecuted only by the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee"), (3) directing the Trustee to file a notice stating whether he intended to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims by no later than March 13, 2020, and (4) dismissing the Fraud Counterclaims, but giving the Trustee leave to amend should he elect to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims. Doc. No. 31. The Court subsequently extended the Trustee's deadline to determine whether to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims to April 15, 2020.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) In view of the extension of the Trustee's deadline to determine whether to prosecute the Fraud Counterclaims, a continued Status Conference shall be held on June 16, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) A Joint Status Report shall be filed by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Plaintiff, who is proceeding in pro se, has failed to file a Proof of Service establishing that the Summons and Complaint were timely served upon the Defendant. Plaintiff has filed two Requests for Entry of Default, both of which have been denied based upon Plaintiff's failure to comply with the requirements of Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 7055-1(a). Defendant has not filed an Answer to the Complaint.

The Summons issued by the Clerk of the Court (the "Clerk") on August 3, 2020 has expired. See Bankruptcy Rule 7004(e) (requiring the Summons to be served within seven days of issuance). The Court has no jurisdiction over the Defendant unless and until the Summons and Complaint have been properly served.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) No later than October 20, 2020, Plaintiff shall obtain an Alias Summons from the Clerk. Within seven days of issuance of the Alias Summons, Plaintiff shall serve the Summons and Complaint upon the Defendant in accordance with the requirements of Bankruptcy Rule 7004.
- 2) No later than October 27, 2020, Plaintiff shall file a Proof of Service establishing that the Summons and Complaint were properly served upon the Defendant.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Wesley Brian Ferris (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition on August 15, 2014. On March 8, 2017, the Court entered an Order Confirming Debtor's First Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization, Dated July 15, 2016 and Approving Stipulations for Plan Treatment of Secured Claims [Doc. No. 190] (the "Plan"). This is the Tenth Post-Confirmation Status Conference. Just as in the Ninth Post-Confirmation Status Report, the Debtor continues to assert that the Plan is substantially consummated, and that he is either current on or has completed payments owed to unsecured creditors, the disputed Class 3 claimant, and the administrative claimant formerly known as Danning, Gill, Diamond & Kollitz LLP. In addition, the New Value Fund has been fully funded.

The Debtor provides two minor updates to the Court. The first is regarding the Class 2 claim of Bank of New York Mellon, which is secured by real property located at 443 East Greystone Ave., Monrovia, CA. The Debtor entered into an agreement resolving the issues concerning the amount in default and the proposed payment schedule, and the Court approved the stipulation resolving those issues on June 30, 2020 [Doc. No. 274]. The second update is regarding the Class 1A claim, which is comprised of the secured claim of Structured Asset Mortgage Investments II Inc., Bear Stearns ARM Trust, Mortgage Pass-Through Certificates, Series 2004-3, as serviced by Specialized Loan Servicing, Inc. That claim is secured by real property located at 515 North Alta Vista Ave., Monrovia, CA (the "Alta Vista Property"). Since the Ninth Post-Confirmation Status Hearing, the Debtor has been able to rent the Alta Vista Property and receives monthly payments from a tenant.

The Debtor makes the same argument in the Tenth Post-Confirmation Status Report as he did in the Ninth Post-Confirmation Status Report regarding resolving the remaining administrative claims. A significant portion of administrative claims payable to Debtor's general bankruptcy counsel—the Law Offices of Diane C. Weil ("LODCW") and the Weil Law Firm ("WLF") collectively (the "Applicants")—are outstanding. In order to minimize expenses, and to expedite approval of a final decree, the Debtor again claims that he will seek approval of a lump sum in satisfaction of outstanding professional fees as part of a motion for a final decree. Alternatively, if the Applicants must prepare and file fee applications, administrative expenses will surpass such lump sum. The Debtor believes that if the Court will allow him to seek fees in a motion for a final decree, such payment would allow the entry of a final decree within 45 days.

II. Findings and Conclusions

In its June 17, 2020 ruling, the Court explicitly allowed the Debtor to seek payment for fees in a motion for a final decree, as long as the underlying time records, to the extent available, were made open for inspection at the request of any party in interest until the case is closed. The Debtor was ordered to file a motion for a final decree such that the motion be heard before this October 14, 2020 status conference. The Debtor filed no such motion.

The Debtor is hereby ordered to obtain entry of a final decree by Wednesday,

For the reasons set forth below, a continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall take place on October 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.

A stipulation resolving the below-discussed issues concerning the Greystone property shall be entered by no later than July 1, 2020. The Debtor shall file and serve a motion for a final decree, as indicated below, such that the motion is heard prior to the date of the continued Status Conference. I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Wesley Brian Ferris (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary chapter 11 petition on August 15, 2014. On March 8, 2017, the Court entered an Order Confirming Debtor's First Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization, Dated July 15, 2016 and Approving Stipulations for Plan Treatment of Secured Claims [Doc. No. 190]. This is the Ninth Post-Confirmation Status Conference. The Debtor asserts that the confirmed plan is substantially consummated, and that he is either current on or has completed payments owed to unsecured creditors, the Class 3 claimant, and the administrative claimant formerly known as Danning, Gill, Diamond & Kollitz LLP. In addition, the new value fund has been fully funded. The issues that have prevented Debtor from seeking a final decree are summarized below [Note 1]:

- Class 3A consists of the secured claim of Bank of America, N.A., which is secured by real property located at 444 N. Myrtle Ave., Monrovia, CA ("Myrtle"). The Debtor informs that all prior deficiencies on the Myrtle loan have been cured and he is current on all payments.
- Class 2 consists of the claim of Bank of New York Mellon, which is secured by real property located at 443 East Greystone Ave., Monrovia, CA ("Greystone"). The Greystone loan is currently serviced by Shellpoint Mortgage Servicing ("Shellpoint"). The Debtor states that it has entered into an agreement with Shellpoint, resolving issues concerning the amount in default and the proposed payment schedule. The Debtor expects to enter a stipulation on the agreement prior to the instant hearing.
- Class 1A comprises the secured claim of Structured Asset Mortgage Investments II Inc., Bear Stearns ARM Trust, Mortgage Pass-Through Certificates, Series 2004-3, as serviced by Specialized Loan Servicing, Inc. ("Specialized"), which is secured by real property located at 515 North Alta Vista Ave., Monrovia, CA ("Alta Vista"). The Debtor claims that he continued to make payments on the Alta Vista loan consistent with an adequate protection agreement with Specialized. Eighth Post-Confirmation Status Report at 7-8. However, because the Debtor never received a monthly bill from Specialized, he is unaware of the outstanding balance on the loan. Id. Alta Vista is currently vacant, and having failed to locate a tenant, the Debtor plans to sell Alta Vista once real estate market conditions improve. In sum, the Debtor will resolve outstanding issues concerning Alta Vista outside of bankruptcy.

Finally, a significant portion of administrative claims payable to Debtor's general bankruptcy counsel—the Law Offices of Diane C. Weil (“LODCW”) and the Weil Law Firm (“WLF”) collectively (“Applicant”)—are outstanding. In order to minimize expenses, and to expedite approval of a final decree, the Debtor will seek approval of a lump sum in satisfaction of outstanding professional fees as part of a motion for a final decree. Alternatively, if Applicants must prepare and file fee applications, administrative expenses will surpass such lump sum.

Accordingly, the Debtor requests a further status conference in the next 120 to 180 days. However, the Debtor intends to shortly file a motion for a final decree, and if approved, the continued status conference should be vacated.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no response or objection is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Based upon the foregoing, it is unclear why the preparation of a fee application here should be such an expensive process. No reason is given by the Applicants, but it is likely that age of the case and the complexity of representation might make the preparation of a full fee application difficult and expensive - and inconsistent with the goal of achieving finality in this six year old case. The Court will allow payment if requested in the motion for final decree, as long as the underlying time records, to the extent available, are made open for inspection at the request of any party in interest until the case is closed.

A continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall be held October 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Post-Confirmation Status Report must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. A stipulation resolving the above-referenced Having reviewed the second and final application for fees and expenses filed by this applicant, the court approves the application and awards the fees and expenses set forth below (amounts previously paid on an interim basis are now deemed final).

Fees: $26,052.50 approved (consisting of $15,785.00 awarded on an interim basis on December 4, 2019 [Doc. No. 91] and $10,267.50 sought in connection with this application [Doc. No. 138]) [Note 1].

Expenses: $793.20 approved (consisting of $530.80 awarded on an interim basis on December 4, 2019 [Doc. No. 91] and $262.40 sought in connection with this application [Doc. No. 138]) [see Note 1].

On September 23, 2020, Debtor's Counsel erroneously filed a Motion to Use Cash Collateral in order to allow the Debtor to pay the attorneys' fees in this application (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 137]. However, 11 U.S.C. § 1141(b) states: "the confirmation of a plan vests all of the property of the estate in the debtor." See also Art. VI § B of the Debtor's Amended Chapter 11 Plan (the "Plan") ("On the Effective Date, all property of the estate will vest in the organized debtor pursuant to § 1141(b), free and clear of all claims and interests except as provided in the Plan.") [Doc. No. 119]. The property at issue in the Motion no longer constitutes cash collateral within the definition of § 363(a) because it is no longer property of the estate. Therefore, the

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On January 10, 2020 (the "Petition Date"), 450 S. Western, LLC (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition. The Debtor owns and operates a three-story, 80,316 square foot shopping center—commonly known as California Marketplace—located at the intersection of South Western Avenue and 5th Street (the "Property"). The Property serves the Los Angeles Korean community and contains 28 stores. As of the Petition Date, the Property had a 98% occupancy rate.

On July 9, 2020, the Court approved a stipulation (the "Forbearance Stipulation") between the Debtor, the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee"), and secured creditors G450, LLC ("G450"), Pontis Capital, LLC ("Pontis"), and Five West Capital, LP ("Five West," and together with G450 and Pontis, the “Senior Secured Creditors”). The Forbearance Stipulation requires the Debtor to make monthly payments to the Senior Secured Creditors until entry of an order approving a sale of the Property, and requires the Debtor to notice an auction and sale of the Property on or before October 15, 2020. Under the Forbearance Stipulation, the Senior Secured Creditors are entitled to relief from stay without further order of the Court if a sale of the Property does not close by December 14, 2020.

On September 15, 2020, the Debtor entered into a Purchase and Sale Agreement (the “PSA”) with Evergreen Capital Assets LP (“Evergreen”), the proposed stalking-horse bidder. Evergreen asserts a secured claim in the amount of $1,371,433. The Debtor moves for the approval of bidding procedures governing the auction of the Property, and seeks authorization to conduct an in-Court auction on October 14, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. The material terms of the PSA and the proposed bidding procedures are as follows:

- 1) Evergreen’s stalking-horse bid is $45,591,000 in cash plus a credit bid in the amount of Evergreen’s secured claim.
- 2) If the Property is sold to Evergreen or a third-party at the auction and Evergreen receives a payment on account of its secured claim from the sales proceeds, Evergreen shall carve out and transfer for the benefit of the estate’s general unsecured creditors up to $500,000 of the payment it receives (the “Carve Out”). If there is an overbid of at least $50 million, and the allowed secured claims are $47 million or less, Evergreen shall be entitled to a full reimbursement of the Carve Out.
- 3) The initial overbid shall be $50,000,000.
- 4) If Evergreen is not the winning bidder at the auction, it shall be entitled to a breakup fee of $500,000 (the “Breakup Fee”).

Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with the Committee’s Limited Opposition

On April 21, 2020, the Court approved the Debtor’s application to retain CBRE as its real estate broker to assist in the marketing and sale of the Property. The order approving CBRE’s retention provides that CBRE shall be entitled to receive a commission equal to 3% of the Property’s sale price, or 3.75% if the successful buyer is represented by an outside broker (with 0.75% to be paid to the outside broker). At the time CBRE was retained, it was anticipated that the Property would sell for at least $52 million.

Because the bids for the Property proved to be lower than anticipated, the Debtor and CBRE executed a stipulation to modify the terms of CBRE's retention (the "CBRE Stipulation"). The Debtor's motion to approve the CBRE Stipulation is being heard concurrently with the Sale Motion. The CBRE Stipulation provides that CBRE will waive its 3% commission if (1) the Property is sold to Evergreen and (2) the Property is sold for less than $50 million. If these two conditions are satisfied, CBRE will receive $50,000 as reimbursement for its out-of-pocket marketing costs in lieu of a 3% commission. CBRE has not agreed to waive its 3% commission if the Property is sold for less than $50 million to a party other than Evergreen, which is why the Debtor's proposed bidding procedures set the initial overbid at $50 million.

The Committee opposes the Debtor's motion for approval of the CBRE Stipulation, because approval of the CBRE Stipulation would require that the minimum overbid be set at $50 million. The Committee asserts that a minimum overbid of $50 million is unreasonably high and will chill bidding. The Committee maintains that the CBRE Stipulation should be modified to limit CBRE's commission in the event the Property sells for less than $50 million to a buyer other than Evergreen. The Committee notes that if CBRE's commission is not so modified, the Carve Out would be reduced if the Property sells for less than $50 million to a buyer other than Evergreen.

The Committee also filed a limited objection to the Sale Motion, in which it reasserts its position that the proposed $50 million minimum overbid is unreasonably high. In addition, the Committee notes that if the Property sells to a party other than Evergreen for at least $50 million, Evergreen would be entitled to payment of the Breakup Fee and reimbursement of the Carve Out. The Committee argues that it would be unfair for Evergreen to receive a reimbursement of the Carve Out and payment of the Breakup Fee.

In response to the Committee's arguments, the Debtor states that an overbid of at least $50 million is necessary because CBRE has not agreed to waive its commission if the Property sold for less than $50 million to a party other than Evergreen. According to the Debtor, this means that the sale is economically feasible only if the overbid is at least $50 million. In addition, the Debtor asserts that the Breakup Fee and Carve Out were carefully negotiated and are necessary to facilitate the sale.

In response to the Committee's limited objection, Evergreen argues that it is entitled to receive the Breakup Fee even if it is also paid the Carve Out because Evergreen's agreement to serve as the stalking horse bidder was the result of extensive negotiations, and its stalking horse bid increases the likelihood that other bidders will participate in the auction.

Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with Philmont Management's Limited Opposition

Philmont Management, Inc. ("Philmont") filed a limited opposition to the Sale Motion. Philmont asserts a mechanic's lien against the Property in the amount of $2,361,878.40. Philmont does not oppose the sale, but disputes the analysis of the priority of its lien set forth in the Sale Motion. Philmont contends that its lien is senior to the liens of Evergreen and One Stop Financial Consulting, Inc. ("One Stop"); the Debtor's position is that Philmont's lien is junior to the Evergreen and One Stop liens. Philmont opposes any payment to One Stop and Evergreen until the priority dispute has been resolved.

Evergreen filed a response to Philmont's limited opposition. Evergreen asserts that Philmont's lien is not secured because Philmont (a) failed to comply with the requirements of the Cal. Civ. Code §§ 8110 and 8118 with respect to the creation of its lien and (b) failed to timely perfect any lien it held pursuant to § 546. Evergreen argues that the Property may be sold free and clear of Philmont's lien under § 363(f) (4) because the lien is subject to a bona fide dispute.

In response to Philmont's limited opposition, the Debtor contends that Philmont's alleged mechanic's lien should not impede the sale, especially given that Philmont does not oppose the sale. The Debtor's position is that the disputed portions of the sales proceed should be held in a segregated account until issues concerning Philmont's alleged mechanic's lien have either been litigated or consensually resolved.

Summary of Papers Filed in Connection with G450's Limited Objection

G450 asserts a secured claim in the amount of $31,205,507. G450 contends that it should be paid at closing all amounts of its claim except for any amount that is in bona fide dispute. G450 requests that at closing, sufficient funds be reserved to satisfy (1) the unpaid portion of G450's claim, (2) continued accrued interest on the unpaid portion, and (3) reasonable attorneys' fees. G450 opposes payment from escrow to any junior secured creditor unless it is afforded adequate protection.

Evergreen disputes a portion of G450's claim, but does not oppose the establishment of a reserve from the sale proceeds sufficient to satisfy the disputed portion of the claim. Evergreen's position is that G450's claim is overstated by approximately $1.7 million. According to Evergreen, the overstatement arises primarily from G450's contention that it is entitled to annual reimbursement of a 1% professional service fee. Evergreen contends that the underlying loan documents provide only for a one-time 1% professional service fee rather than a recurring annual fee. Evergreen believes that a reserve of $2 million would be sufficient to cover the disputed portion of G450's claim.

The Debtor states that G450 will be adequately protected because its lien will attach to the proceeds of the sale to the same extent, validity, and priority as existed prior to the sale. The Debtor seeks to pay only undisputed liens and encumbrances directly from escrow, and proposes to hold all remaining sales proceeds in reserve. The Debtor anticipates being able to secure a stipulation by and among the Debtor, G450, Evergreen, Philmont, and the Committee regarding the establishment of an appropriate reserve.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Bidding Procedures and Breakup Fee Proposed by the Debtor Are #### Approved

Section 363(b) authorizes the Debtors to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. The Debtors must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. BAP 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient “depends on the case,” in view of “all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding.” Id. at 19–20. “The court’s obligation in § 363(b) sales is to assure that optimal value is realized by the estate under the circumstances.” Simantob v. Claims Prosecutor, LLC (In re Lahijani), 325 B.R. 282, 288–89 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005).

The Debtor has demonstrated sufficient business justification for an immediate sale. Under the Forbearance Stipulation, the Senior Secured Creditors will be entitled to foreclose upon the Property if a sale has not closed by December 14, 2020. Therefore, a prompt sale is essential if general unsecured creditors are to have any chance of obtaining a recovery.

The Debtors have adequately marketed the Property. The Debtor’s broker, CBRE, has listed the Property on commercial real estate websites that are accessible to approximately 9,950 potential buyers and brokers. CBRE received 302 preliminary indications of interest and seven serious offers.

The Committee’s objection to the approval of the CBRE Stipulation is overruled. Under the Court’s order approving its retention, CBRE is entitled to receive a 3% commission from the sale of the Property. Fortunately, the Debtor was able to negotiate a stipulation under which CBRE will waive its 3% commission if the Property is sold to Evergreen for less than $50 million. Absent CBRE's stipulated waiver of its commission, the proposed sale to Evergreen would not be economically feasible.

According to the Committee, the CBRE Stipulation does not go far enough. The Committee's view is that CBRE should also be required to waive its 3% commission if the Property is sold to a party other than Evergreen for less than $50 million.

The Court declines to reduce CBRE's compensation beyond the reductions already set forth in the CBRE Stipulation. CBRE's retention and compensation was approved pursuant to § 328. Doc. No. 116 at ¶ 2. Consequently, modification of the terms of CBRE's compensation is permissible only if the terms and conditions of the compensation "prove to have been improvident in light of developments not capable of being anticipated at the time of the fixing of such terms and conditions." The Court lacks the ability under § 328 to reduce CBRE's compensation beyond the reductions already set forth in the CBRE Stipulation. At the time CBRE's compensation was approved, it could have easily been anticipated that the Property might not sell for the projected $52 million.

The Committee's objection to the initial overbid amount of $50 million is overruled. Because CBRE has not agreed to waive its commission if the Property is sold to a party other than Evergreen for less than $50 million, the sale is not economically feasible absent an initial overbid of $50 million.

The Committee also objects to Evergreen receiving payment of the Breakup Fee and reimbursement of the Carve Out in the event the Property is sold to a party other than Evergreen. The Court finds that this objection lacks merit. The Breakup Fee of $500,000 amounts to 1% or less of the purchase price. A Breakup Fee is warranted if it is "reasonably related to the risk, effort, and expenses of the prospective purchaser." See Official Comm. of Subordinated Bondholders v. Integrated Res., Inc. (In re Integrated Res., Inc.), 147 B.R. 650, 662 (S.D.N.Y. 1992). A 1% Breakup Fee in the context of a $50 million transaction easily meets this standard. In fact, courts—including this Court—routinely approve breakup fees well in excess of that proposed here. See, e.g., In re Verity Health System of California, Inc., No. 2:18-bk-20151-ER (Bankr. C.D. Cal. Oct. 30, 2018) (approving 4% breakup fee in connection with a $235 million transaction); In re BPS Holdings, Inc., No. 16-12373 (Bankr. D. Del. Nov. 30, 2016) (approving a 3.5% breakup fee in connection with a $575 million transaction); In re Lake Burton Dev., LLC, No. 09-bk-22830 (Bankr. N.D. Ga. Apr. 1, 2010) (approving a 4.75% breakup fee in connection with a $10.52 million transaction). The 1% Breakup Fee is not excessive even if Evergreen receives payment of both the Breakup Fee and reimbursement of the $500,000 Carve Out.

The Court notes that Evergreen devotes substantial space in its papers to attacking the validity of the mechanic's lien asserted by Philmont and contesting the amount of the lien asserted by G450. It is not appropriate for the Court to rule upon the validity or amount of the liens asserted by Philmont and G450 at this time. All liens will attach to the sale proceeds to the same extent and with the same validity and priority as those liens had prior to the sale. The Debtor has agreed to pay only undisputed liens from escrow and to establish a reserve for the payment of disputed liens. The establishment of a reserve and the attachment of the disputed liens to the sales proceeds will provide the lienholders adequate protection. Because the Debtor is in the process of negotiating a stipulation to establish the amount of the reserve, the Court will not specify the amount of the reserve in this tentative ruling. Pursuant to § 363(f)(4), the sale is free and clear of Philmont's mechanic's lien and the disputed portion of G450's lien.

Auction Procedures

In the event that the Debtor receives qualified overbids, the Debtor shall conduct the auction in accordance with the bidding procedures set forth in the Sale Motion. The minimum initial overbid shall be $50 million. Subsequent overbids shall be in increments of $100,000, subject to adjustment at the Debtor's discretion.

Upon conclusion of the auction, the Debtor shall present to the Court for approval the Winning Bidder and Back-up Bidder, if any. The Court will then take testimony to determine whether the Winning Bidder and Back-up Bidder (if any) are entitled to the protections of § 363(m).

Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h), the order approving the sale shall take effect immediately upon entry. The Debtor is authorized to pay directly from escrow customary closing costs and outstanding property taxes. The Debtor is authorized to execute all documents necessary to consummate the sale.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Michael Stuart Brown (the “Debtor”) commenced a voluntary chapter 11 petition on May 15, 2020. The Debtor is the owner and managing partner of California Lawyers Group, LLP. Amended Petition [Doc. No. 25] at 8. On his commencement documents, the Debtor lists an ownership interest in his private residence located at 2089 Stradella Road, Los Angeles, California 90077 (the “Property”). The Property is encumbered by three security interests held by JP Morgan Chase Bank, N.A. (“JP Morgan”), CitiMortgage Inc. (“Citibank”), and Matt Hayden (“Hayden”) (in order of priority), as well as a tax lien in favor of the Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector.

The amended schedules [Doc. No. 25] indicate that the Debtor is or was recently a party in at least three different state court actions:

- Michael S. Brown v. Sun Outdoor Advertising, LLC;
- Michael Brown v. JP Morgan Chase, Citibank, et al.;
- The Debtor recently sustained an adverse state court judgment totaling $1,400,000 awarded to McIntosh & Associates (“McIntosh”).

On June 1, 2020, the Debtor entered an addendum to the petition, on which he elected to proceed under Subchapter V of chapter 11 [Doc. No. 17]. No objection to the Subchapter V election is on file. The Debtor timely submitted the Status Report on June 30, 2020 [Doc. No. 34]. The Status Report makes the following representations concerning Debtor’s financial obligations and efforts to successfully reorganize his debts:

At this time, the Debtor expects to timely submit a chapter 11 plan, but he cannot determine whether the plan will be consensual or non-consensual. The uncertainty revolving around Debtor’s plan arises from a dispute with JP Morgan and Citibank concerning the Property’s title [Note 1] and the precise amount of arrears. The Debtor is currently negotiating a resolution with both JP Morgan and Citibank. In addition, the Debtor is in discussions with McIntosh over the total amount of its unsecured claim.

The Court further notes that Debtor’s has taken appropriate steps to proceed with his reorganization. He has secured an order employing general bankruptcy counsel,

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 1188 of the recently-enacted Subchapter V of chapter 11 provides that the court “shall hold a status conference to further the expeditious and economical resolution of a case,” not later than 60 days after the entry of the order for relief.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court’s tentative ruling. This is the Initial Subchapter V Status Conference. Having reviewed the Status Report, the commencement documents, and all other relevant pleadings, the Court is prepared to set a continued Status Conference on October 14, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. The Debtor shall file a brief Status Report by no later than September 30, 2020.

Additionally, subject to any objection, the Court is further prepared to set the following dates and deadlines regarding solicitation and confirmation of the Debtor’s Plan:

1. A hearing will be held on the confirmation of the Debtor’s Plan on October 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
2. The Plan shall be filed and served by no later than August 13, 2020, pursuant to Section 1189 of the Bankruptcy Code.
3. A notice of hearing on confirmation of the Plan and, if applicable, a ballot conforming to Official Form No. 14, shall be mailed to all creditors, equity security holders and to the Office of the United States Trustee by no later than August 20, 2020.
4. September 18, 2020 is fixed as the last day for creditors and equity security holders to return to Debtor’s counsel ballots containing written acceptances or rejections of the Plan, which ballots must be actually received by Debtor’s

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Michael Stuart Brown (the “Debtor”) commenced a voluntary chapter 11 petition on May 15, 2020. The Debtor is the owner and managing partner of California Lawyers Group, LLP. Amended Petition [Doc. No. 25] at 8. On his commencement documents, the Debtor lists an ownership interest in his private residence located at 2089 Stradella Road, Los Angeles, California 90077 (the “Property”). The Property is encumbered by three security interests held by JP Morgan Chase Bank, N.A. (“JP Morgan”), CitiMortgage Inc. (“Citibank”), and Matt Hayden (“Hayden”) (in order of priority), as well as a tax lien in favor of the Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector.

The amended schedules [Doc. No. 25] indicate that the Debtor is or was recently a party in at least three different state court actions:

- Michael S. Brown v. Sun Outdoor Advertising, LLC;
- Michael Brown v. JP Morgan Chase, Citibank, et al.;
- The Debtor recently sustained an adverse state court judgment totaling $1,400,000 awarded to McIntosh & Associates (“McIntosh”).

On June 1, 2020, the Debtor entered an addendum to the petition, on which he elected to proceed under Subchapter V of chapter 11 [Doc. No. 17]. No objection to the Subchapter V election is on file. The Debtor timely submitted the Status Report on June 30, 2020 [Doc. No. 34]. The Status Report makes the following representations concerning Debtor’s financial obligations and efforts to successfully reorganize his debts:

At this time, the Debtor expects to timely submit a chapter 11 plan, but he cannot determine whether the plan will be consensual or non-consensual. The uncertainty revolving around Debtor’s plan arises from a dispute with JP Morgan and Citibank concerning the Property’s title [Note 1] and the precise amount of arrears. The Debtor is currently negotiating a resolution with both JP Morgan and Citibank. In addition, the Debtor is in discussions with McIntosh over the total amount of its unsecured claim.

The Court further notes that Debtor’s has taken appropriate steps to proceed with his reorganization. He has secured an order employing general bankruptcy counsel, while a separate application to employ special litigation counsel is currently outstanding. The deadline to file a proof of claim has been set for July 24, 2020 [Doc. No. 32].

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no response or opposition is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 1188 of the recently-enacted Subchapter V of chapter 11 provides that the court “shall hold a status conference to further the expeditious and economical resolution of a case,” not later than 60 days after the entry of the order for relief.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court’s tentative ruling. This is the Initial Subchapter V Status Conference. Having reviewed the Status Report, the commencement documents, and all other relevant pleadings, the Court is prepared to set a continued Status Conference on October 14, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. The Debtor shall file a brief Status Report by no later than September 30, 2020.

Additionally, subject to any objection, the Court is further prepared to set the following dates and deadlines regarding solicitation and confirmation of the Debtor’s Plan:

1. A hearing will be held on the confirmation of the Debtor’s Plan on October 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
2. The Plan shall be filed and served by no later than August 13, 2020, pursuant to Section 1189 of the Bankruptcy Code.
3. A notice of hearing on confirmation of the Plan and, if applicable, a ballot conforming to Official Form No. 14, shall be mailed to all creditors, equity security holders and to the Office of the United States Trustee by no later than August 20, 2020.
4. September 18, 2020 is fixed as the last day for creditors and equity security holders to return to Debtor’s counsel ballots containing written acceptances or rejections of the Plan, which ballots must be actually received by Debtor’s counsel by 5:00 p.m. on such date.

5. September 23, 2020 is fixed as the last day on which the Debtor must file and serve a motion for an order confirming the Plan (the "Confirmation Motion") including declarations setting forth a tally of the ballots cast with respect to the Plan ("Ballots"), and attaching thereto the original Ballots, and setting forth evidence that the Debtor has complied with all the requirements for the confirmation of the Plan as set forth in Sections 1190 and 1191 of the Bankruptcy Code.
6. September 30, 2020 (the "Objection Date") is fixed as the last day for filing and serving written objections to confirmation of the Plan.
7. October 7, 2020 is fixed as the last day on which the Debtor may file and serve a reply to any opposition to the Confirmation Motion ("Reply").
8. An order confirming the plan must be entered by no later than November 11, 2020, unless otherwise ordered by the Court.

The Debtor is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. ## I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession, Neumedicines, Inc. (the "Debtor"), filed its voluntary chapter 11 petition on July 17, 2020. The majority of the Debtor's assets consist of intellectual property patents on its IL-12 drug HemaMax, its inventory of HemaMax, and its cell lines. At this juncture, the Debtor generates no income and has a cash burn of approximately $20,000-$25,000 per month, which is being funded by a line of credit extended by its CEO, Dr. Raphael Nir. Motion at 5.

Following the filing of its chapter 11 petition, the Debtor began engaging in sale negotiations with various entities. The Debtor marketed its products extensively and has received two written purchase offers to purchase its assets from publicly traded companies. One buyer has been engaged in extensive diligence and is believed to be near completion, and the other has completed its due diligence and is prepared to proceed to an auction upon an agreed form of an Asset Purchase Agreement ("APA"). The Debtor filed a Template Asset Purchase Agreement (the "Template APA"), dated October 7, 2020, that is to be used as a template for negotiations between the prospective bidders and the Debtor. The Debtor also requests approval of proposed Bidding Procedures (the "Bidding Procedures") for an Auction to take place in front of this Court (the "Auction"), as well as approval to designate a Stalking Horse Bidder and a break-up fee.

A. Summary of the Template APA

The material provisions of the Template APA may summarized as follows
[Note 1]:

The Debtor's assets will be sold at the Auction to the highest bidder (the "Purchaser"). The assets consist of both tangible assets, such as machinery, tools, raw materials, finished goods, and other inventory, and intangible assets, such as licenses, authorizations, electronic records, contracts, and intellectual property (the "Acquired Assets"). A full description of the Acquired Assets is laid out in great detail in Exhibit A of the Template APA. In addition, the consideration for the Acquired Assets is to be the following: (1) $5,000,000 in cash, payable at closing; (2) $2,000,000 in immediately available funds at the closing or, at the Purchaser's option, of registered shares determined by the market value to be delivered to the Debtor at closing; and (3) $3,000,000 in immediately available funds within three business days after the clearance date, or at the Purchaser's option, of registered shares determined by the market value delivered to the Debtor within three days after the clearance date. Template APA at Art. III § 3.1. The Purchaser is also required to pay the Debtor royalty payments for a yet to be defined term (the "Royalty Agreement Term"). See Exhibit G of the Template APA. The royalty payments are to be 5% of net sales during the Royalty Agreement Term. Id. at Art. II § 2.1. Should the Royalty Agreement Term last longer than five years, the Purchaser will pay a minimum of $5,000,000 in royalty payments each year to the Debtor. Id.

With respect to the assumption of executory contracts, the Debtor and the prospective bidders have not yet agreed upon the executory contracts to be assumed. See Exhibit B of the Template APA ("Assumed Executory Contracts"). However, Article II § 2.5 of the Template APA lays out the procedures for the assumption of executory contracts. That section states that notice will be given to the counterparties of the contract that the Purchaser plans to assume the contract and, if the counterparty objects, the Court will rule on the objection; however, if the counterparty does not object, the executory contract will be assumed by the Purchaser. Template APA at Art. II § 2.5. The date upon which the executory contracts are to be assumed is either the closing date, if no objections are filed, or upon the Court's ruling of the objection. Id. Finally, the Template APA also sets forth a handful of possible reasons for termination of the Template APA. Termination may only occur by written consent of both the Debtor and the Purchaser (Id. at Art. IV § 4.6(a)), or by either the Purchaser or the Debtor, if the opposing party breaches any of its obligations as laid out in the Template APA. Id. at § 4.6(c)-(1).

B. Summary of the Bidding Procedures

The material terms of the Bidding Procedures, as they pertain to the Auction, may be summarized as follow [Note 2]:

- 1) In order to participate in the Auction, prospective bidders must first deliver to the Debtor and its counsel an executed confidentiality agreement in form and substance acceptable to the Debtor and its counsel at least five days prior to the Auction. Motion at 13-14.
- 2) Prospective bidders must provide the Debtor with proof of ability to perform, which should include, inter alia, the prospective bidder's current financial statements, contact names and numbers for verification of financing sources, evidence of the prospective bidder's internal resources and proof of any debt or equity funding commitments that are needed to close the contemplated transaction, and any other such documentation as the Debtor may reasonably request, at least five days prior to the Auction. Id. at 14.

- 3) In addition to any debt that the prospective bidders desire to assume and any other form of consideration the prospective bidders desire to provide, the prospective bidders must agree to pay cash to the Debtor's estate of not less than $5,000,000. Id.
- 4) A prospective bidder must provide the Debtor with a cash deposit amount of $500,000 at least five business days before the Auction that the Debtor will hold in trust and which will be non-refundable and forfeited to the Debtor in the event that the prospective bidder is deemed to be the winning bidder and fails to close its purchase within ten days following the entry of an order granting the sale motion. Id.
- 5) Each prospective bidder must deliver to the Debtor's counsel a black-lined version of the Template APA showing any changes the prospective bidder seeks to make to the Template APA at least five business days prior to the Auction. Id.
- 6) If more than one qualified prospective bidder appears at the Auction, the Debtor will determine the order of the bidding by randomly selecting bidding numbers for each bidder. Id.
  - a. Bidding increments will be $50,000 or any higher figures that are wholly divisible by $50,000. Id. at 15.
- 7) The Debtor agrees to pay the designated (though yet to be determined) Stalking Horse Bidder $175,000, plus reimbursement of actual and reasonable out-of-pocket expenses (including attorneys' fees) in an amount not to exceed $150,000 in the event that the Stalking Horse is not approved as the buyer of the Debtor's assets, which payment shall be made within ten days following entry of a final, non-appealable order approving the sale another bidder. Id.

burn, and is surviving on a loan from its CEO, the courts findings regarding the Bidding Procedures and Template APA are governed primarily by the need to ensure a timely sale of the assets, as well as significant cash consideration from the Purchaser. The Court's obligation is to approve bidding procedures that are most likely to maximize the proceeds received by the estates in connection with the Auction. See Simantob v. Claims Prosecutor, LLC (In re Lahijani), 325 B.R. 282, 288–89 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005) ("The court's obligation in § 363(b) sales is to assure that optimal value is realized by the estate under the circumstances.").

The Debtor has extensively marketed its products and engaged in negotiations for a number of months to sell its assets with various entities. See Motion at 2. As of the filing of the Motion, the Debtor has come away with, so far, two written offers to purchase its assets from public companies. The minimum requirement of $5,000,000 in cash consideration would allow all secured and unsecured creditors to be fully paid, with over $1,000,000 left over for distribution to the shareholders. See Debtor's Summary of Assets and Liabilities [Doc. No. 13]. In addition, should the Purchaser choose to provide the remaining $5,000,000 in cash, the Debtor could receive upwards of $10,000,000 in cash—well above the amount it owes to secured and unsecured creditors.

The Template APA has lays out some procedures regarding the assumption and assignment of executory contracts, but does not set forth specific dates regarding the mechanics of the assumption and assignment of how those procedures will be effectuated. The Debtor has represented to the Court that its forthcoming sale motion will set forth the procedures for the assumption and assignment of executory contracts [Note 3]. Therefore, the Court will determine whether those procedures are appropriate when it reviews the sale motion.

Given the lack of objection or reply by any party, and after conducting a review of the Bidding Procedures and the Template APA, both the Bidding Procedures and Template APA are approved. The following timeline shall apply (the Court has substantially adopted the Debtor's timeline with minor modifications; all times are in prevailing local time):

  - b. Proof of ability to perform to the Debtor
- 5) Wednesday, November 18, 2020, at 11:00 a.m. - Auction and Sale Hearing to immediately following the Auction.

B. Stalking Horse Bidder and Break-Up Fee

The Debtor has not yet designated a Stalking Horse Bidder, but requests 1) the authority to designate one and 2) approval of a break-up fee of $175,000, representing 1.75% of the cash consideration [Note 4]. Generally speaking, the smaller the transaction, the larger the break-up fee will be, percentage wise. Here, 1.75% is a very reasonable break-up fee for a transaction of this size. See In re Integrated Res., Inc. 135 B.R. 746, 752-53 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1992) (finding a break-up fee of approximately 3% to be reasonable). Given the amount of work that the Debtor has put into the Template APA and its negotiations with whomever it designates at the Stalking Horse Bidder, the Court believes this break-up fee is warranted. Therefore, the break-up fee is approved. Furthermore, while the Debtor has not chosen a Stalking Horse Bidder, the Debtor leads the Court to believe that the Stalking Horse Bidder will be one of the two public companies from which it has received an offer. While the Court would have preferred to know the Stalking Horse Bidder at this time, it is content with allowing the Debtor to designate one of its choosing by the abovementioned November 4, 2020 deadline.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED in its entirety.

Note 1: This summary only contains the most significant provisions of the Template APA that are of most interest to the Court. Parties should consult the full Template APA for a complete breakdown of the proposed sale.

Note 2: This summary only contains the most significant provisions of the Bidding Procedures. Parties should consult the Bidding Procedures on pages 13-15 of the Motion for a complete list of (a) the requirements that prospective bidders must satisfy to participate in the auction and (b) the rules governing the Auction.

Note 3: The Debtor is directed to put in its sale motion specific proposed procedures and a timeline regarding the assumption and assignment of executory contracts.

Note 4: Article III § 3.1 of the Template APA lists the consideration to be given in exchange for the Debtor's assets. It consists of $5,000,000 in immediately available funds, plus $5,000,000 in either cash or registered shares. Therefore, the Court's finding of a 1.75% breakup fee is based off of a $10,000,000 sale.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Movant has established a prima facie case that cause exists, and Debtor has not responded with evidence establishing that the property is not declining in value or that Movant is adequately protected.

The subject vehicle has a value of $8,700.00 and is encumbered by a perfected security interest in favor of the Movant. Considering Movant's lien, all senior liens against the property, and the estimated costs of sale, there is an equity cushion of $1,163.31. There is some, but very little equity and there is no evidence that the property is necessary to a reorganization or that the trustee can administer the property for the benefit of creditors. Movant is protected by a 13% equity cushion in the property. The Ninth Circuit has established that an equity cushion of 20% constitutes adequate protection for a secured creditor. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral). Because the equity cushion in this case is less than 20%, the Court concludes that Movant's interest in the vehicle is not adequately protected. This is cause to terminate the stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

- 1) Motion to Allow Claim 18 of Nissan Motor Acceptance Corporation as Late Filed, Allowable Against Surplus Only (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 39]
- 2) Opposition to Motion to Allow Claim 18 of Nissan Motor Acceptance Corporation as Late Filed, Allowable Against Surplus Only (the "Opposition") [Doc. No. 42]
- 3) Reply in Support of Motion to Allow Claim 18 of Nissan Motor Acceptance Corporation as Late Filed, Allowable Against Surplus Only (the "Reply") [Doc. No. 43]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Venustiano Lopez Carranza and Patricia Hernandez (the "Debtors") filed their voluntary chapter 7 petition (the "Petition") on September 13, 2019. Shortly thereafter, John Pringle was appointed the chapter 7 trustee in this matter (the "Trustee"). In their Petition, the Debtors listed "Nissan Motor Acceptance" as a creditor, with one claim in the amount of $20,589. See Chapter 7 Voluntary Petition at 9-10 [Doc. No. 1]. On October 31, 2019, the Trustee filed a Notice of Assets, fixing the proof of claims date as February 3, 2020 [Doc. No. 14]. On December 3, 2019, the Court approved a compromise between the Trustee and the Debtors, whereby the Debtors would pay the estate $65,000 to settle a dispute over the transfer of real property (the "Settlement Agreement"). The Settlement Agreement reads, in pertinent part, that "[i]f there is any overage in the Settlement Funds after 100% distribution to creditors and all administrative expenses have been paid, the Trustee will pay Defendant Jessey Carranza any overage amount." See Settlement Agreement at 12 [Doc. No. 17 - emphasis added.]

After the claims date had passed, Nissan Motor Acceptance Corporation ("Nissan Motor") filed a proof of claim on September 14, 2020. On September 17, 2020, the Trustee filed his Motion to allow Nissan Motor's claim of $19,050.71 as late filed, allowable against a surplus only, pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 726(a)(3).

On October 6, 2020, the Debtors filed their Opposition. In their Opposition, the Debtors argue that 11 U.S.C. § 509(b)(9) bars untimely filed claims. The Debtors state that Rule 3002(c)(6) provides that claims may only be filed late if notice to the creditors was insufficient. Because Nissan Motor received proper notice, the Debtors argue, its claim should not be allowed. In addition, the Debtors claim that late filed claims may also only be allowed if the creditor can show "excusable neglect" as defined by 11 U.S.C. § 9006(b). Finally, the Debtors argue that there is no surplus to be distributed because the remaining funds in the estate are already earmarked for Jessey Carranza (the Debtors' son).

On October 8, 2020, the Trustee filed his Reply. The Trustee argues that the Opposition fails to note that 11 U.S.C. § 726(a)(3) allows tardily filed claims of any sort (even absent problems with notice or excusable neglect), but those claims would fall to the bottom of the order of distribution. The Trustee also believes that there is a surplus of funds in the estate because the language of the Settlement Agreement only allows for payment of funds to the Debtors' son after all creditors are paid. Finally, the Trustee asserts that the entire Opposition ought to be rejected because it contains no declarations, as required by Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 9013-1(i), and because it does not advise opposing counsel that he has the opportunity to file a reply seven days before the hearing on this matter, as required by LBR 9013-1(f)(2).

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

The Trustee files his Motion pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 726(a)(3), which reads:

Hearing Room 1568

CONT... Venustiano Lopez Carranza and Patricia Hernandez

Chapter 7

Except as provided in section 510 of this title, property of the estate shall be distributed—third, in payment of any allowed unsecured claim of proof of which is tardily filed under subsection 501(a) of this title . . .

Section 501(a) reads "[a] creditor or an indenture trustee may file a proof of claim." The Debtors mischaracterize the Trustee's Motion because while 11 U.S.C. § 502(b) (9) bars untimely claims, the Debtors fail to recognize the exception within that section, which reads that claims may be "tardily filed as permitted under (1), (2), or (3) of section 726(a)." The plain language of § 726(a)(3) makes clear that a claim may be tardily filed, but its order of distribution is third.

In addition, the Debtors' argument that Rule 3002(c)(b) applies is inapposite. Rule 3002(c)(b) is only applicable in instances where the creditor is requesting an extension of time to timely file a claim. Here, neither Nissan Motor nor the Trustee are not arguing that Nissan Motor's claim is timely. The Trustee explicitly states: "[b]ecause the Claim was filed late, it should be allowed to receive a distribution against a surplus, if any, pursuant to 11 U.S.C Section 726(a)(3)." Motion at 1 (emphasis added). Rule 9006(b) is likewise inapplicable because the Trustee is not seeking any sort of "enlargement" of the time to timely file a claim.

Therefore, the proof of claim is tardily filed under 11 U.S.C. § 726(a)(3) and shall be allowed to receive a distribution against a surplus, if any [Note 1].

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED.

The Trustee is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Debtor and Debtor-in-Possession, United International Mortgage Solutions, Inc. (the "Debtor"), filed its voluntary chapter 11 bankruptcy petition on September 12, 2018. The Debtor is a California corporation that owns three residential real properties:

- 1) 1258 N. Virgil Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90029 (the "Virgil Property");

The Debtor filed its petition to address several defaulted loans secured by liens on the Properties and to reorganize its affairs. The liens on each property are as follows:

- 1) Virgil Property
  - a. Mr. Cooper - $882,107
  - b. Errol Gordon, Esq. - $50,000
- 2) Playa Vista Property
  - a. Mr. Cooper/Nationstar - $857,177

  - b. L.A. County Treasurer and Tax Collector - $97,939

Motion at 2; see also Debtor's Reply to Order to Show Cause at 2-3 [Doc. No. 177]. The other debts of the estate include $400 to the Internal Revenue Service, $2,542 to the Franchise Tax Board, and $723 of general unsecured debts. On April 24, 2019, the Debtor filed an amended chapter 11 plan (the "Plan"). On September 4, 2019, the Court denied confirmation of the Debtor's Plan.

The Debtor remains current on the senior liens for the Playa Vista Property and the Senford Property. However, on July 1, 2020, the Debtor notified the court that it was unable to refinance the lien on the Virgil Property and would instead seek to sell it. On July 17, 2020, the Court held a hearing on an Order to Show Cause where the Debtor confirmed that it had listed the Virgil Property for sale and requested 90 days to effectuate such a sale. The Court expressed concern over the fact that the case had been struggling for almost a year and told the Debtor's counsel that if a chapter 11 plan of reorganization was not confirmed by October 30, 2020, then the Court would convert or dismiss the case without further hearing.

On September 21, 2020, the U.S. Trustee filed its Motion to Dismiss or Convert. In that motion, the U.S. Trustee requests conversion to chapter 7 because the Debtor has not filed a monthly operating report for August 2020, and has not paid the quarterly filing fees for the second or third quarters of 2020. On September 23, 2020, the Debtor filed its August monthly operating report [Doc. No. 193]. On October 6,

In addition, the Debtor attached, as an exhibit, proof of payment of the second quarter fees to the U.S. Trustee. Limited Opposition at 8.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under § 1112(b), the Court shall dismiss or convert a case to one under chapter 7 upon a showing of "cause." 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b). Section 1112(b)(4) provides a nonexclusive list of factors that include "(F) unexcused failure to satisfy timely any filing or reporting requirement established by this title or by any rule applicable to a case under this chapter;" and "(H) failure to timely provide information or attend meetings reasonably required by the United States Trustee." 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(4)(F) & (H). "The enumerated causes are not exhaustive, and 'the court will be able to consider other factors as they arise, and to use its equitable powers to reach an appropriate result in individual cases.'" In re Consol. Pioneer Mortg. Entities, 248 B.R. 368, 375 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000) (quoting H.R. No. 95-595, 95th Cong., 1st Sess. 405-06 (1977)), aff'd, 264 F.3d 803 (9th Cir. 2001).

While the Debtor has filed its August monthly operating report and paid its fees for the second quarter of 2020, the case has been pending since 2018 and no amended plan has been filed such that it could be confirmed by the Court's mandated October 30, 2020 deadline. In addition, the Debtor does not dispute that the case ought to be dismissed or converted. Rather, the Debtor requests that the "UST's Motion to Dismiss/Convert be granted only to the extent that the case is dismissed." Limited Opposition at 3. Therefore, the Court finds that cause exists to dismiss or convert the case.

Having determined that cause exists, the only issue remaining for the Court is to determine whether conversion, dismissal, or appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee serves the best interests of creditors or the estate. See In re Products Int'l Co., 395 B.R. 101, 107 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2008) (citing In re Nelson, 343 B.R. 671 (9th Cir. 2006)). "[W]hen deciding between dismissal and conversion under 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b), the court must consider the interests of all of the creditors." Shulkin Hutton,

As the Debtor has accepted a purchase offer for its Virgil Property that would pay off the liens and debts of the estate in full, it appears as though dismissal is in the best interest of creditors. The Court finds that there does not appear to be the need for a chapter 11 trustee, which would only cost the estate valuable funds, and the debtor has only minimal unsecured debts.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED, and this case is DISMISSED with a 180-day bar to re-filing. In addition, the Debtor is ordered to pay any outstanding fees to the U.S. Trustee.

The U.S. Trustee is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

- 3) Opposition to Motion for Reconsideration [Doc. No. 85]
- 4) Plaintiffs' Reply in Support of Motion for Reconsideration [Doc. No. 90]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 3, 2020, the Court issued an order requiring Defendant to show cause why his Answer should not be stricken and why default judgment should not be entered in favor of Plaintiffs [Doc. No. 63] (the "OSC"). Issuance of the OSC was based upon Defendant's failure to fulfill any of his obligations in connection with the Pretrial Conference. Specifically, Defendant (1) failed to cooperate with Plaintiff in the preparation of a proposed Joint Pretrial Stipulation, even after Plaintiff served a copy of the proposed Pretrial Stipulation upon Defendant by overnight courier, attempted to contact Defendant by telephone, and attempted to contact Defendant by e-mail; (2) failed to respond to Plaintiffs' attempts to meet and confer regarding the Pretrial Stipulation; and (3) failed to provide Plaintiffs with trial exhibits or a list of proposed witnesses.

Defendant's counsel failed to file a written response to the OSC by August 19, 2020, as ordered by the Court. Instead, counsel filed a response on the day prior to the hearing. As an explanation for his non-compliance, counsel stated that during the month of July 2020, he was required to care for his spouse, who had been diagnosed with COVID-19. Counsel stated that he contracted COVID-19 in late July 2020, and did not return to work until September 3, 2020.

The Court conducted a hearing on the OSC on September 9, 2020. On September 10, 2020, the Court issued a memorandum of decision [Doc. No. 71] (the "Memorandum") and accompanying order [Doc. No. 72] (the "Order") discharging the OSC. The Court found that "[a]lthough Defendant could have, and should have, exercised much greater diligence with respect to this litigation, the striking of Defendant's Answer and the entry of Defendant's default would be too extreme a remedy." Memorandum at 2. The Court further found that the approximately four-month delay resulting from Defendant's dilatory conduct had not unduly prejudiced Plaintiffs, because there was no indication that the delay had resulted in the loss of evidence or loss or memory by a witness. Id. Finally, the Court found that while the hardships imposed by the COVID-19 pandemic were not an excuse to disregard litigation obligations, Defendant's delay did not involve the kind of "willfulness, fault, or bad faith" sufficient to support a case-dispositive sanction. R & R Sails, Inc. v. Ins. Co. of Pennsylvania, 673 F.3d 1240, 1247 (9th Cir. 2012).

Plaintiffs move for reconsideration of the Memorandum and Order and the imposition of case-dispositive sanctions. Plaintiffs assert that reconsideration is warranted for the following reasons:

- 1) Contrary to the representations made to the Court, Defendant's counsel was able to practice law in July and August 2020. On July 14 and August 14, 2020, counsel appeared before the Hearing Department of the State Bar of California by videoconference. On August 20, 2020, counsel appeared at a case management conference in the action Heritage Industry v. City of Los Angeles (20-CV-6119 MRW, pending in the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California).
- 2) Plaintiffs will be prejudiced by the delay in the trial. In his response to the OSC, Defendant stated that he was no longer competing with Plaintiffs. That statement is not correct. Defendant continues to operate a competing business, Tac Crew LLC ("Tac Crew"). Through Tac Crew, Defendant retains control of an Amazon.com vendor account owned by Plaintiff GS-LLC (the "Vendor Account"). Defendant refuses to return control of the Vendor Account to Plaintiffs, and Plaintiffs have been unable to obtain control of the Vendor Account by communicating with Amazon.com. Plaintiffs have been advised that the Vendor Account is in arrears and is at risk of being closed. Plaintiffs' attempts to cure the arrearage have been unsuccessful because Plaintiffs lack access to the Vendor Account. If the Vendor Account is closed, Plaintiffs will lose a valuable sales channel, and Plaintiffs' ability to do business with Amazon.com in the future may be compromised. In addition, Plaintiffs' lack of access to the Vendor Account and the information contained therein makes it more difficult for Plaintiffs to honor product warranties.

Defendant makes the following arguments in his Opposition to the Motion:

- 1) The fact that Defendant's counsel made appearances in three matters in August and July 2020 does not contradict counsel's prior representation to the Court that he was unable to practice law during that time. All appearances were made remotely from counsel's residence. For the appearances before the California State Bar, counsel was represented and was not required to actively participate. The August telephonic appearance in the case management conference was made while counsel was

- 2) Defendant has not operated a competing business for many months. Tac Crew's last sale on a wholesale level was in December 2019 and its last individual sale was in May 2020. McMillin Decl. ¶ 3. Tac Crew's website was shut down subsequent to May 2020. Id. at ¶ 5.
  - 3) Defendant has no connection to the Vendor Account. To the extent that the Vendor Account exists, Defendant "stands ready and willing to cooperate in any way necessary to alleviate any 'prejudice' to Plaintiff." Opposition at 3.

Plaintiffs make the following arguments in Reply to Defendant's Opposition:

- 1) The declaration submitted by Defendant McMillin in support of the Opposition contains several demonstrably false statements. First, as of October 9, 2020, Tac-Crew's website remains online, and Tac Crew continues to sell products. Second, contrary to Defendant's statement that Tac Crew's last sale on a wholesale basis was in December 2019, Tac Crew completed a wholesale-level sale on April 3, 2020. Third, while communicating with Amazon.com in an attempt to regain access to the Vendor Account, Plaintiffs were advised that the Vendor Account had been transferred to Tac Crew. This shows that Defendant continues to have control over the Vendor Account, and that he used this control to transfer the Vendor Account to his new company, Tac Crew.
- 2) Defendant's counsel has not sufficiently demonstrated that he was unable to fulfill his responsibilities in connection with this action in July and August 2020. Counsel admits appearing at several hearings remotely, which shows that he was capable of practice law during this time.

II. Findings and Conclusions

A. The Motion is Denied

Reconsideration is "an 'extraordinary remedy, to be used sparingly in the interests of finality and conservation of judicial resources.'" Carroll v. Nakatani, 342 F.3d 934, 945 (9th Cir. 2003) (internal citation omitted). "[A] motion for reconsideration should not be granted, absent highly unusual circumstances, unless the ... court is presented with newly discovered evidence, committed clear error, or if there is an intervening change in the controlling law.' raise arguments or present evidence for the first time when they could reasonably have been raised earlier in the litigation.” Kona Enterprises, Inc. v. Estate of Bishop, 229 F.3d 877, 890 (9th Cir. 2000) (internal citation omitted).

The Court is cognizant of the fact that in connection with the hearing on the OSC, Plaintiffs did not have a meaningful opportunity to respond to Defendant’s opposition, which was filed on the day prior to the hearing. This Motion has provided Plaintiffs the opportunity to respond to Defendant’s prior untimely opposition. Having reviewed the additional evidence and arguments submitted by Plaintiffs, the Court declines to depart from the findings set forth in the Memorandum and Order.

First, Plaintiffs argue that contrary to his prior representations to the Court, Defendant’s counsel was in fact capable of practicing law during July and August 2020. Plaintiffs point to the fact that Defendant’s counsel appeared at three hearings during this time period.

The fact that counsel was able to appear remotely at three hearings does not alter the Court’s finding that under the circumstances, the striking of Defendant’s Answer and the entry of his default would be too extreme a remedy. At two of the hearings, counsel was represented and so was not required to meaningfully participate; at the remaining hearing, counsel appeared remotely while bedridden. As the Court has previously emphasized, the difficulties experienced by counsel and his spouse in connection with the Covid-19 pandemic do not excuse counsel’s failure to attend to his litigation obligations. However, it is also true that the “the public policy favoring disposition of cases on their merits strongly counsels against dismissal,” In re Phenylpropanolamine (PPA) Prod. Liab. Litig., 460 F.3d 1217, 1227 (9th Cir. 2006); that the Court cannot impose a case-dispositive sanctions absent “willfulness, fault, or bad faith,” R & R Sails, Inc. v. Ins. Co. of Pennsylvania, 673 F.3d 1240, 1247 (9th Cir. 2012); and that a case-dispositive sanction cannot be imposed unless lesser sanctions prove incapable of remediating Defendant’s dilatory conduct, Connecticut Gen. Life Ins. Co. v. New Images of Beverly Hills, 482 F.3d 1091, 1096 (9th Cir. 2007). Here, counsel’s neglect of the case stemming from hardships he and his family experienced in connection with the Covid-19 pandemic does not warrant the harsh remedy of a terminating sanction.

Second, Plaintiffs argue that they have been prejudiced by the delay given the possibility that the Vendor Account may be closed before they have the opportunity to establish their rights in the Vendor Account at trial.

The “risk of prejudice to the party who has litigated diligently” is among the factors the Court must consider in determining whether to impose a case-dispositive sanction. Moneymaker v. CoBEN (In re Eisen), 31 F.3d 1447, 1451 (9th Cir. 1994). “Prejudice itself usually takes two forms—loss of evidence and loss of memory by a witness.” Nealey v. Transportacion Maritima Mexicana, S. A., 662 F.2d 1275, 1281 (9th Cir. 1980).

The prejudice that Plaintiffs may suffer through possible cancellation of the Vendor Account is not the kind of prejudice that is appropriately addressed through a case-dispositive sanction. Plaintiffs could have availed themselves of any number of pre-judgment remedies to safeguard their rights in the Vendor Account. The reason that loss of evidence or loss of memory qualify as prejudicial for purposes of a case dispositive sanction is that either of these events make it difficult, if not impossible, for a diligent litigant to obtain a fair trial on the merits. By contrast, any prejudice suffered by Plaintiffs in connection with the Vendor Account will not interfere with their ability to present their claims and evidence to the Court. However, as discussed below, the Court will require Defendant to show cause why he should not be required to return control of the Vendor Account to Plaintiffs.

Plaintiffs also state that they are prejudiced by delay because the currently scheduled trial, unlike the prior trial, is not scheduled to take place by videoconference. Plaintiffs state that their primary witness, Yanlin Wu, resides in China and cannot travel to the United States until the United States Presidential Proclamation on Suspension of Entry as Immigrants and Nonimmigrants of Persons who Pose a Risk of Transmitting 2019 Novel Coronavirus (the “Coronavirus Proclamation”) is lifted.

Provided that Plaintiffs demonstrate that Mr. Wu’s appearance by videoconference does not violate Chinese law [Note 1], the Court will permit Mr. Wu to appear at the trial by videoconference if the Coronavirus Proclamation is still in effect at the time of the trial.

B. The Court Will Require Defendant to Show Cause Why He Should Not Be Required to Return Control of the Vendor Account to Plaintiffs

In his Opposition to the Motion, Defendant states that he “stands ready and willing to cooperate in any way necessary to alleviate any ‘prejudice’ to Plaintiff[s]” in connection with the Vendor Account. Plaintiffs have submitted evidence establishing that the Vendor Account is now under the control of Tac Crew LLC, an entity controlled by Defendant. See Second Declaration of Phillip Liu in Support of Plaintiff’s Motion for Reconsideration [Doc. No. 90-2] at ¶ 4 and Ex. 4 (e-mail from Amazon.com stating that the Vendor Account is controlled by Tac Crew).

Plaintiffs' opposition to Defendant's response shall be filed no later than November 4, 2020. Defendant's reply to Plaintiff's opposition shall be filed no later than November 11, 2020.

C. The Litigation Dates Previously Ordered Are Extended

The Court declined Plaintiffs' request to set a hearing on this Motion on shortened notice, finding that Plaintiffs would have sufficient time to prepare for trial even if the Motion were heard on regular notice. Upon Plaintiffs' motion, the Court has previously extended the deadline for Plaintiffs to file a motion for summary judgment or other case-dispositive motion to November 24, 2020 (the "Motion Cutoff Date"). Doc. No. 86. The current Motion Cutoff Date does not leave Plaintiffs sufficient time to file a motion for summary judgment, which must be heard on 42 days' notice under the Local Bankruptcy Rules. To provide Plaintiffs the opportunity to file a case-dispositive motion, the previously-ordered litigation deadlines are extended, as follows:

- 1) The Motion Cutoff Date is January 13, 2021.
- 2) A Pretrial Conference is set for March 9, 2021 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties shall submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- 3) Trial is set for the week of March 29, 2021. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date(s) of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Court will not strike Defendant's Answer and enter Defendant's default.

The Court will prepare and enter an appropriate order.

I. Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

1. Debtor's Post-Confirmation Status Report (the "Status Report") [Doc. No. 143]

I. Facts and Summary of the Pleadings

Liboria Zavalza (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition on April 3, 2019. The Debtor filed an amended chapter 11 plan of reorganization (the "Plan") on May 15, 2020. On July 17, 2020 the Court confirmed the Plan. On October 7, 2020, the Debtor filed a Status Report, indicating that she: 1) has commenced making the required payments to creditors pursuant to the Plan; 2) is not aware of any new tax liabilities that have accrued or come due; 3) anticipates that she will be able to and will comply with all terms of the Plan; and 4) will be filing a motion for entry of a final decree so as to close the case, and then reopen the case to get her discharge at the conclusion of the five year term of the Plan.

The tentative ruling is to CONTINUE the Confirmation Hearing to December 2, 2020 at 10:00 a.m. The Court has reviewed the Debtor's status report filed on September 30, 2020 [Doc. No. 65], which states that the Debtor received a purchase offer for its property located at 511 and 515 Las Vegas Boulevard South, Las Vegas, Nevada 89101 (the "Property") and opened escrow on September 21, 2020. The buyer has a 45-day contingency period that will expire on November 5, 2020. The Debtor states that if the buyer agrees to waive contingencies and proceed with the purchase, the Debtor will file a motion for sale of the Property. The proposed purchase price of $1,471,000 will allow the Debtor to pay off creditors in full, as set forth in the Debtor's Amended Plan.

By no later than November 18, 2020, the Debtor is directed to file a status report updating the Court on the status of the sale of the property.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is DENIED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

- 1) Debtor's Motion for Order Imposing Automatic Stay to Wholly Owned Business of Debtor Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 105 & 362(a); Directing the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration to Release Levied Monies Taken; and Declaration of Ya-Chuan Victor Lee in Support Thereof (the "Motion") [Doc. Paint ("ABC"). The Debtor also checked the box to clarify that, while he was filing under chapter 11, he was not filing as a small business debtor. See Voluntary Individual Chapter 11 Petition at 4 [Doc. No. 1].

Sometime around the last quarter of 2019, the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration (the "CDTFA") audited ABC, resulting in a tax delinquency of $108,061.00. Motion at 3; see also Exhibit A to the Motion. On behalf of ABC, the Debtor claims that he had worked out a repayment plan with the CDTFA whereby ABC would pay the CDTFA approximately $6,000 per month. Declaration of Ya-Chuan Victor Lee ("Lee Decl.") at ¶ 6. The Debtor then claims that after contacting the CDTFA to reduce ABC's $6,000 monthly payment, he received notice of a levy against ABC. Id. The notice of levy was mailed on September 9, 2020, and informed ABC that it owed the CDTFA $135,816.17. See Exhibit A to the Motion. On September 14, 2020, ABC received notice from its bank that $37,668.13 had been withheld from its account, to be remitted to the CDTFA on or around September 25, 2020. Id.

On September 30, 2020, the Debtor filed the instant Motion with an application for an order setting the hearing on shortened notice. That same day, the Court denied the application and set the Motion for hearing on regular notice.

Summary of the Debtor's Motion

In his Motion, the Debtor requests that the court use "its extraordinary powers under 11 U.S.C. § 105(a)" to extend the automatic stay afforded to the Debtor, to ABC in an attempt to prevent the CDTFA from transmitting any further money from ABC's bank account, and to force the CDTFA to return the already remitted funds. Motion at 4. The Debtor argues that courts have the inherent power to issue stays at their discretion (citing United States v. W.R. Grace, 526 F.3d 499, 509 (9th Cir. 2008)).

The Debtor next argues that courts have carved out limited exceptions to the general rule that the stay should not be extended to a non-debtor. The Debtor relies on United States v. Dos Cabezas Corp., where the Court determined that the stay could apply to a non-debtor if 1) "there is such identity between the debtor and the third-party defendant that the debtor may be said to be the real party defendant and that a judgment against the third-party defendant will in effect be a judgment or finding against the debtor," or 2) where "extending the stay against codefendants contributes to the debtor's efforts of rehabilitation." 995 F.2d 1486, 1491 n.3 (9th Cir. 1993). The Debtor also relies on Queenie, Ltd v. Nygard International, where the court extended the stay to a business that the Debtor wholly owned. 321 F.3d 282, 287 (2nd Cir. 2003). The Debtor argues that, like in Queenie, because the Debtor wholly owns ABC and is a W-2 employee there, any adverse economic impact on ABC would have an adverse economic impact on the Debtor. The Debtor believes that should the CDTFA continue to enforce the levy against ABC, he will "have no reasonable method to formulate a [chapter 11] plan." Motion at 5. He argues that extending the stay to ABC will contribute to his "efforts of rehabilitation." Id. at 6.

Finally, the Debtor asserts that because he is the sole owner of ABC, the entirety of ABC and its property is actually a part of the bankruptcy estate that was created when the Debtor filed his individual petition. Thus, the CDTFA cannot reach ABC's funds without Court approval.

Summary of the CDTFA's Opposition

On October 7, 2020, the CDTFA submitted its Opposition to the Motion. The CDTFA says that the Debtor filed for individual bankruptcy and therefore ABC, a separate entity, should not benefit from the automatic stay. In addition, the CDTFA notes that while Debtor's ownership is a part of the bankruptcy estate, the assets are not. The CDTFA believes that the Debtor's reliance on Queenie is misplaced because the Court in Queenie noted that, while the automatic stay may apply to non-debtors "when a claim against the non-debtor will have an immediate adverse economic consequence for the debtor's estate," examples of those instances only include "protracted litigation on a claim to establish an obligation of which the debtor is a guarantor, a claim against the debtor's insurer, and/or a claim in which the debtor is the real party defendant." Opposition at 4 (citing Queenie, 321 F.3d at 287-88). Here, however, the CDTFA avers that this case merely deals with a "discrete tax law enforcement action." Opposition at 4.

Finally, because the automatic stay does not apply to ABC, the CDTFA reads the Debtor's Motion as a request for injunctive relief under 11 U.S.C. § 105. The CDTFA argues that the Debtor has not argued that he is likely to succeed on the merits, that the balance of equities tips in his favor, or that an injunction is in the public interest. Opposition at 5-6.

Summary of the Debtor's Reply

On October 14, 2020, the Debtor filed his Reply. The Debtor again argues that the immediate adverse economic consequence that the levy has had on the Debtor is impeding his ability to seek an effective reorganization. The Debtor also asserts that the Opposition's argument about Queenie is incorrect; rather, the most important question that the Queenie court asked was whether the failure to extend the automatic stay to a debtor's business would have an "immediate adverse economic consequence" on the debtor's estate. The Debtor also relies on In re Lockard to make the distinction that because the Debtor is not a guarantor of the levy against ABC, the automatic stay could be appropriately applied to ABC. 884 F.2d 1171, 1179 n.15 (9th Cir. 1989) (finding that "the automatic stay does not preclude efforts to collect from a bankrupt's guarantors or from their property."). Finally, the Debtor clarifies that he is not seeking an injunction under 11 U.S.C. § 105(a) [Note 1].

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

While the Court has broad powers under 11 U.S.C. § 105 to "issue any order, process, or judgment that is necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this title," the automatic stay normally only applies to the debtor. "In the absence of special circumstances, stays pursuant to section 362(a) are limited to debtors and do not include non-bankrupt co-defendants." Ingersoll-Rand Fin. Corp. v. Miller Min. Co., Inc., 817 F.2d 1424, 1427 (9th Cir. 1987); see also Mar. Elec. Co., Inc. v. United Jersey Bank, 959 F.2d 1194, 1205 (3rd Cir. 1991) (finding that "the automatic stay is not available to non-bankrupt co-defendants of a debtor even if they are in a similar legal or factual nexus with the debtor."). However, the Ninth Circuit has acknowledged two special circumstances in which the stay could apply to non-debtors: 1) where "there is such identity between the debtor and the third-party defendant that the debtor may be said to be the real party defendant and that a judgment against the third-party defendant will in effect be a judgment or finding against the debtor" or 2) where "extending the stay against the codefendants contributes to the debtor's efforts of rehabilitation." Dos Cabezas Corp., 995 F.2d at 1491 n.3. Here, the Debtor is the only debtor in the case. There are no third-party defendants and no co-debtors. Therefore, the Ninth Circuit's two exceptions to the rule are inapplicable.

The Debtor next cites Queenie for the proposition that the stay can extend to a debtor's wholly owned corporation "when a claim against the non-debtor will have an immediate adverse economic consequence for the debtor's estate." 321 F.3d at 287. In Queenie, a corporation – Queenie – was involved in litigation and received a judgment against it at the trial court. Queenie appealed and then Queenie's sole shareholder – Gardner – filed for individual bankruptcy shortly thereafter. Gardner argued to the Second Circuit that the automatic stay should apply to Queenie because it was his wholly owned business. Id. at 287-288. The Court decided to impose the stay upon Queenie because Gardner was disputing the judgment against his corporation on appeal, and the claim against Queenie would have an "immediate adverse economic consequence" on Gardner's estate. In doing so, the court aimed to resolve one dispute at a time by preventing Gardner from having to both litigate an appeal for his corporation disputing the judgment and navigate a bankruptcy proceeding.

Here, however, the Debtor does not dispute the validity of the CDTFA's levy. In fact, it appears as though ABC's bank has already remitted $37,668.13 to the CDTFA to pay off ABC's tax liability. While Gardner was appealing a judgment against his corporation, the Debtor here is not in the midst of any appeal against the CDTFA. Instead, he is asking for the extraordinary relief of a retroactive application of the stay and an order forcing the CDTFA to return funds that it already has in its possession. Contrary to what the Debtor argues in his Reply, his request for a retroactive stay and disgorgement of funds is much broader and more extreme than the debtor's request in Queenie. Even if this Court were to extend the stay to ABC, doing so retroactively rather than prospectively would perversely affect the rights of the CDTFA. Indeed, the Ninth Circuit is clear that a bankruptcy court's powers under § 105 are not a "roving commission to do equity." In re Saxman, 325 F.3d 1168, 1175 (9th Cir. 2008) (quoting United States v. Sutton, 786 F.2d 1305, 1308 (5th Cir. 1986).

While it may be true that the effect of a judgment against Queenie and a levy against the Debtor are the same (they both cause some harm to a debtor's estate), the Debtor has given the Court no specific reason as to how the levy affects his ability to create a plan, or any indication that he would have the ability to confirm a plan. Rather, the Debtor makes broad statements such as "[t]he ongoing business operations of ABC is [sic] integral to Debtor reorganizing his debts through any plan of reorganization." Motion at 2. The Debtor's case has been pending in this Court for one and a half years, and by the end of 2019, the Debtor had worked out a payment plan with the CDTFA. It is therefore unclear how this levy has impeded the Debtor's ability to formulate a chapter 11 plan given the many months he has already had to do so. The Debtor has failed to show any "special circumstance" that warrants the retroactive imposition of a stay and an order directing the CDTFA to return funds because the Debtor is not in an ongoing appeal, and his business could have availed itself of the automatic stay by filing for bankruptcy.

Finally, the Debtor argues that because he holds a 100 percent ownership interest in ABC, his interest in ABC is a part of the bankruptcy estate. The Debtor is correct in that his interest in ABC is a part of the bankruptcy estate. It is well established, however, that when a debtor files for individual bankruptcy, "while the individual's interest in [a] partnership or corporation (which could be a 100 percent interest) would be property of the estate, the assets of the partnership or corporation itself would not be." 2 COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY § 101.30[3] (16th ed. rev.); see also Fowler v. Shadel, 400 F.3d 1016, 1019 (7th Cir. 2005) (finding that the corporate assets of the debtor's wholly owned corporation were not a part of the bankruptcy estate); In re Furlong, 437 B.R. 712, 721 (Bankr. D. Mass. 2010) ("[u]nless a corporation itself is a bankruptcy debtor, the automatic stay afforded to an individual debtor under § 362(a) does not extend to the assets of a corporation in which the debtor has an interest, even if the interest is 100% of the corporate stock."). The CDTFA is not, however, asserting control over the Debtor's interest; it is asserting control over ABC's assets. Therefore, while the automatic stay applies to the Debtor's interest in ABC, it does not extend to the assets of the corporation.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is DENIED.

The CDTFA is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

For the reasons set forth below, the Cross Motions for Summary Judgment filed by the Chapter 7 Trustee and the BC Trust are GRANTED IN PART and DENIED IN PART. The Court finds that the facts established by the jury trial, and/or the facts as to which there is no genuine dispute, support entry of the following findings:

- 1) The BC Trust holds an allowed secured claim in the amount of $1,950,613.41.
- 2) The BC Trust is not entitled to any interest on its claim because the Trustee is entitled to avoid the claim as an actually fraudulent transfer pursuant to § 548(a)(1)(A). Notwithstanding such avoidance, the BC Trust is entitled to a claim of $1,950,613.41 because it has established that it acquired the claim in good faith and for value pursuant to § 548(c).

I. Procedural Background

On December 7, 2010, creditors filed an involuntary petition against EPD Investment Co., LLC ("EPD"). Bankr. Doc. No. 1. [Note 1] The Court entered an Order for Relief on February 9, 2011. Bankr. Doc. No. 29. On February 1, 2012, Jerrold S. Pressman ("Pressman") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. On June 4, 2012, the bankruptcy cases of EPD and Pressman (collectively, the "Debtors") were substantively consolidated. Bankr. Doc. No. 227.

On October 31, 2012, the Trustee filed the complaint commencing this adversary proceeding. Adv. Doc. No. 1. The Trustee filed the operative Fourth Amended Complaint [Adv. Doc. No. 234] (the "Complaint") on October 14, 2016. [Note 2] The Complaint seeks to (1) disallow and/or equitably subordinate proofs of claim filed by the Bright Conscience Trust Dated September 9, 2009 (the "BC Trust") and (2) avoid allegedly fraudulent transfers from the Debtors to John Kirkland ("Kirkland") and the BC Trust.

On December 17, 2018, the District Court withdrew the reference of this adversary proceeding from the Bankruptcy Court. Rund v. Kirkland (In re EPD Investment Co., LLC), 594 B.R. 423 (C.D. Cal. 2018). Withdrawal of the reference was based on Kirkland's right to a jury trial conducted by the District Court. Id. at 426. Observing the "common issues of fact and the overlapping nature of the claims against the BC Trust and John Kirkland," the District Court found that "judicial economy and the uniformity of bankruptcy administration ... would be best served by withdrawing the entire action." Id.

On June 4, 2019, the District Court granted the Trustee's motion to bifurcate the trial of the (1) disallowance, equitable subordination, and fraudulent transfer claims against the BC Trust and (2) the fraudulent transfer claims against Kirkland. District Court Doc. No. 117. A six-day jury trial of the Trustee's claims against Kirkland was conducted between June 25, 2019 and July 3, 2019. District Court Doc. Nos. 180–86.

Specifically, the Trustee sought to avoid, as actually and constructively fraudulent, $104,852.82 in payments made by the Debtors towards the mortgage on Kirkland's home (the "Mortgage Transfers").

The jury returned a verdict in favor of Kirkland. In reaching its verdict, the jury found that EPD was a Ponzi scheme, see Verdict Form re Ponzi Scheme [District Court Doc. No. 174]; that Kirkland was not an insider of EPD and/or Pressman, see Verdict Form re Insider [District Court Doc. No. 174]; that EPD and/or Pressman transferred property to Kirkland to hinder, delay, and defraud one or more of their creditors, see Verdict Form No. 1 (Actual Fraud—California Law) at Question 3 and Verdict Form No. 2 (Actual Fraud—Bankruptcy Code) at Question 3 [District Court Doc. No. 174]; and that Kirkland received the Mortgage Transfers in good faith and for reasonably equivalent value, see Verdict Form No. 1 (Actual Fraud—California Law) at Questions 4–5; Verdict Form No. 2 (Actual Fraud—Bankruptcy Code) at Questions 4–5; Verdict Form No. 3 (Constructive Fraud—California Law) at Question 3; and Verdict Form No. 5 (Constructive Fraud—Bankruptcy Code) at Question 3 [District Court Doc. No. 174].

On October 3, 2019, the District Court remanded the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust to the Bankruptcy Court, and dismissed Count 1 of the Complaint (for disallowance and/or equitable subordination of the BC Trust's proofs of claim) as to Kirkland. District Court Doc. No. 189 (the "Remand Order"). The District Court stated that it saw no reason why the Bankruptcy Court could not rely upon the testimony provided during the jury trial in adjudicating the claims against the BC Trust. Id. The District Court has not yet entered judgment in connection with the jury's verdict in favor of Kirkland.

On July 22, 2020, the Court ordered the Trustee and the BC Trust to file cross-motions for summary judgment (the "MSJ's"). Adv. Doc. No. 409. The Court set a Pretrial Conference for December 15, 2020 at 11:00 a.m. in the event the MSJ's do not dispose of the action. Id.

At the time it ordered the parties to file the MSJ's, the Court noted that the Trustee and the BC Trust had submitted briefing to the Court and to the District Court regarding the extent to which the jury's findings as to Kirkland remain binding with respect to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. The Court ruled that the following legal framework would apply to the determination of which jury findings remained binding:

The Court finds that all explicit and implicit findings made by the jury remain binding with respect to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. The Seventh Amendment provides that "no fact tried by a jury, shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States." The Ninth Circuit has held:

The Supreme Court has explained how to comport with the Seventh Amendment when trying legal and equitable claims in the same action. In Dairy Queen, Inc. v. Wood, 369 U.S. 469, 82 S.Ct. 894, 8 L.Ed.2d 44 (1962), the Court held that in cases in which legal and equitable claims turn on common issues of fact, "any legal issues for which a trial by jury is timely and properly demanded [must] be submitted to a jury," id. at 473, 82 S.Ct. 894 (citing Beacon Theatres, Inc. v. Westover, 359 U.S. 500, 510–11, 79 S.Ct. 948, 3 L.Ed.2d 988 (1959)), and the jury's determination of the legal claims must occur "prior to any final court determination of [the] equitable claims," id. at 479, 82 S.Ct. 894. Because the Seventh Amendment's second clause "prohibit[s] ... the courts of the United States to re-examine any facts tried by a jury" except as permitted under the narrow "modes known to the common law," Parsons, 28 U.S. at 447–48, the court then must abide by the jury's findings of fact in making any subsequent rulings. See Floyd v. Laws, 929 F.2d 1390, 1397 (9th Cir. 1991) (holding that "it would be a violation of the seventh amendment right to jury trial for the court to disregard a jury's finding of fact").

It follows that "in a case where legal claims are tried by a jury and equitable claims are tried by a judge, and [those] claims are 'based on the same facts,'" the trial judge must "follow the jury's implicit or explicit factual determinations" "in deciding the equitable claims." L.A. Police Protective League v. Gates, 995 F.2d 1469, 1473 (9th Cir. 1993) (quoting Miller v. Fairchild Indus., 885 F.2d 498, 507 (9th Cir. 1989)). The trial court must do so in determining both liability and relief on the equitable claims.... These constraints are "consistent with ... the respect that properly is accorded to a jury verdict in our system of jurisprudence." Miller, 885 F.2d at 507.

Teutscher v. Woodson, 835 F.3d 936, 944 (9th Cir. 2016).

Rather than being limited to the face of the verdict, the jury's findings include "any factual findings that the [v]erdict's contents necessarily imply."

United States v. J-M Mfg. Co., Inc., No. EDCV 06-55-GW(PJWX), 2018 WL 705532, at *5 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 31, 2018). To determine whether a finding is implicit in a verdict, courts review "the verdict, the instructions, and the trial record to interpret the scope of the jury's factual findings." Id. For example, in Los Angeles Police Protective League v. Gates, 995 F.2d 1469, 1473–74 (9th Cir. 1993), a jury found that a police officer had been wrongfully terminated for refusing to consent to an unlawful search and awarded damages. The trial court denied the officer's request for reinstatement, finding that the officer would have been terminated for other misconduct even if he had consented to the search. The Ninth Circuit acknowledged that "the jury made no express finding on whether [the officer] would have been fired in any event," but found it appropriate to "determine whether it can be inferred from the jury's verdict that it found that the improper insubordination charge was the cause of [the officer's] dismissal." Id. at 1473. After examining the relevant jury instructions, the Gates court found that in "light of the causation instruction and the manner in which the case was presented to the jury, it could not have awarded the level of damages it awarded without finding that Gibson would not have been discharged except for his refusal to be illegally searched." Id. at 1474.

The Court does not agree with the Trustee's contention that only jury findings that were "critical and necessary" to the verdict remain binding with respect to the claims against the BC Trust. The Trustee's framework does not sufficiently account for the intertwined nature of the Trustee's claims against Kirkland and the BC Trust. Among other things, the Trustee alleges that the BC Trust's claims should be equitably subordinated because the BC Trust stands in the shoes of Kirkland as his assignee, and therefore Kirkland's alleged inequitable conduct should be imputed to the BC Trust. Because the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust expressly depend upon his allegations against Kirkland, the Trustee cannot pick and choose which findings made by the jury as to Kirkland remain binding with respect to his claims against the BC Trust. The Trustee's theory of the case means that the all explicit and implicit findings of the jury as to Kirkland are binding with respect to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. To hold otherwise would violate Teutscher's directive that "in a case where legal claims are tried by a jury and equitable claims are tried by a judge, and [those] claims are 'based on the same facts,'" the trial judge must 'follow the jury's implicit or explicit factual

II. Effect of the Litigation on the Administration of the Estate

An understanding of the effect of this litigation upon the administration of the estate provides necessary context for the arguments raised by the parties. The BC Trust asserts a secured claim in the total amount of $7,009,181.20, consisting of principal in the amount of $2,055,466.23 and interest in the amount of $4,953,714.97 (with interest calculated at the rate of 10% per annum). [Note 3] The BC Trust maintains that its claim attaches to all assets of the estate.

The assets of the estate consist of four general categories of proceeds that have been collected by the Trustee:

- 1) Settlements of the Trustee's avoidance claims, in the amount of $3,886,650.83.
- 2) Settlements with two of Kirkland's prior law firms, based on claims related to Kirkland's actions, in the amount of $1,250,000.00.
- 3) A settlement with Robert Geringer, whereby Geringer paid the estate $3,615,817.85, representing the amount that Geringer paid Pressman for stock in North Hills Industrial Park, Inc.
- 4) Proceeds from the sale of stock in Ice Skating Enterprises, Inc. ("Ice Skating Enterprises"), in the net amount of $54,558.83, and proceeds in the amount of $50,000 in connection with Mr. Pressman's stock ownership in Sidecreek Development, Inc. ("Sidecreek Development").

The Trustee disputes the BC Trust's position that its asserted security interest extends to all assets of the estate. The Trustee's position is that if the Court finds that the BC Trust holds a secured claim, such claim can attach only to the $104,558.83 in proceeds from the Ice Skating Enterprises and Sidecreek Development stock.

As of August 24, 2020, the estate had cash on hand of $2,617,309.46 and total receipts of $8,896,503.98. Rund Decl. at ¶¶ 5–6 [Adv. Doc. No. 440]. The Court has authorized the payment of approximately $6.2 million in fees to professionals employed by the estate, on an interim basis. Aside from an interim payment to the

III. Facts Established By the Jury Trial And Facts As To Which There is No Genuine Dispute

As noted above, upon remand of the claims against the BC Trust to the Bankruptcy Court, the District Court stated that in adjudicating such claims, the Bankruptcy Court could rely upon the testimony provided during the jury trial. District Court Doc. No. 189. The facts set forth below have either been established through the jury trial, or are facts as to which there is no genuine dispute. [Note 4]

A. Kirkland's Loan To Or For the Benefit of EPD

In September 2007, Kirkland and Jerrold Pressman [Note 5] reached an agreement under which Kirkland would loan funds to EPD. Tr. 371:10–372:14 (testimony of Kirkland). The agreement was initially memorialized in a letter written by Kirkland with the heading "Re: Loans" dated September 28, 2007 (the "Letter"). Tr. 372:15–24 (testimony of Kirkland). The Letter was signed by Kirkland and Pressman, and provides in relevant part:

Enclosed please find two checks totaling $600,000.00, reflecting my initial investment in EPD Investment Co., LLC, with an additional $150,000.00 to follow shortly.

As agreed, Keith will prepare standard form, multiple advance, secured loan documents, including without limitation a Secured Promissory Note, Continuing Guaranty, Security Interest Agreement, conflict waivers, etc. in due course.

Adv. Doc. No. 424-7, Ex. 15.

On November 8, 2007, Kirkland and EPD executed the Secured Promissory Note (the "Note"), Continuing Guaranty (the "Guaranty"), and Security Interest Agreement (the "Security Agreement," and together with the Note and Guaranty, the "Loan Documents") contemplated by the Letter. Pursuant to the Loan Documents, Kirkland agreed to loan funds to or for the benefit of EPD. The Guaranty provides that EPD would be liable for all funds loaned by Kirkland, regardless of whether the funds were

Each of the Guarantors has advised, represented, warranted and guaranteed to Lender that he will receive a bottom line, cumulative net return on investment of at least 12% per annum (24% on default) from Debtor for any and all payments made by or on behalf of Lender, from time to time prior to, on and after the date of this Continuing Guaranty, whether to Debtor, on Debtor's behalf, for Debtor's benefit, or at either Guarantor's direction or recommendation, including without limitation all loans directly to Debtor pursuant to the Note or Loan Documents, all additional funds loaned to Debtor from time to time, all payments to the Debtor for consulting fees, advisory fees, and professional service fees, all payments to BEM for consulting fees, advisory fees, and professional service fees, and all payments to Keith Pressman for consulting fees, advisory fees, professional service fees, and legal fees, and all payments to any other sister company of EPD (any and all such loans and payments, collectively, the "Payments").

All Payments made will be automatically added to the Principal under the Note, and each Guarantor's joint and several obligations to ensure full recovery of an amount equal to the Payments, plus interest thereon pursuant to and in accordance with the Note, will be included within the Obligations. All parties acknowledge and agree that, as of the date hereof, the principal amount of the Payments is $750,000.00.

Guaranty at ¶¶ E-G [Adv. Doc. No. 424-7, Ex. 5].

The Guaranty further provides that EPD will benefit from Payments to EPD-affiliated persons or entities as a result of the relationships among the parties:

Each of the Guarantors [EPD is defined as a "Guarantor"] will derive financial benefit from the Payments and the other Loan Documents. Pressman is Chairman of EPD and holds a membership interest in EPD, as does Pressman's son, attorney Keith Pressman. EPD owes substantial sums to Pressman. In addition, Pressman has an outstanding note to EPD, and has granted a lien to EPD. Broadway Entertainment Marketing ("BEM") owes substantial debts to EPD. BEM and Keith Pressman pay substantial fees to Debtor's sister companies.

Guaranty at ¶ D.

The Guaranty's provision that EPD is liable for Payments made directly to EPD or to an affiliate for EPD's benefit is also set forth in the Note:

Note [Adv. Doc. No. 474-7, Ex. 4].

The Security Agreement provides that Payments made pursuant to the Note are secured by "a continuing security interest in the Collateral," and defines "Collateral" as:

all right, title and interest of Debtor [EPD] in and to all of the following, whether now owned or hereafter arising or acquired and wherever located: All assets of the Debtor, including, but not limited to: all personal and fixture property of every kind and nature, including without limitation all goods (including inventory, equipment and any accessions thereto), instruments (including promissory notes), documents, accounts (including accounts receivable), chattel paper (whether tangible or electronic), deposit accounts, letter-of-credit rights (whether or not the letter of credit is evidenced by a writing), commercial tort claims, Securities and all other investment property, supporting obligations, any other contract rights or rights to the payment of money, insurance claims and proceeds, and all general intangibles (including all payment intangibles); all Equipment, all Intellectual Property; and any and all claims, rights and interests in any of the above, and all guaranties and security for any of the above, and all substitutions and replacements for, additions, accessions, attachments, accessories, and improvements to, and proceeds (including proceeds of any insurance policies, proceeds of proceeds and claims against third parties) of, any and all of the above, and all Debtor's books relating to any and all of the above.

On November 7, 2007, Kirkland, on the one hand, and EPD and Pressman, on the other hand, executed a Conflict Waiver and Consent [Adv. Doc. No. 419, Ex. 5] (the "Conflict Waiver"). The Conflict Waiver states that EPD and Pressman are not clients of Kirkland, but that Kirkland "has represented various persons and entities affiliated or associated with EPD and Pressman." It further provides that EPD waives any actual or potential conflicts arising in connection with the Loan Documents:

EPD and Pressman understand that, if Kirkland invests or loans money to EPD or Pressman, or obtains a security interest in the property or assets of EPD or Pressman, Kirkland's interests as an investor or lender may be adverse to the interests of EPD and Pressman, and their property, in that Kirkland's interest will be to ensure repayment of his debt, and preservation of the assets for his benefit, not to protect the interests of EPD or Pressman.

EPD and Pressman understand that, if the loans are not repaid when required, Kirkland's interests will become directly adverse to the interests of EPD and Pressman, and their property....

EPD and Pressman each waive all actual and potential conflicts of interest arising out of or relating to the proposed transaction.

Conflict Waiver at ¶¶ 5–6 and 9.

B. Payments Made by Kirkland Pursuant to the Loan Documents

Kirkland first made Payments to or for the benefit of EPD on September 27, 2007, [Note 6] prior to the execution of the Loan Documents, because he trusted Pressman. See Tr. 375:9–14 (testimony of Kirkland) ("I learned a long time ago that the legal documents can never protect you if the guy wants to—well, stiff you. And if the guy is honest, it doesn't make any difference if you have a piece of paper or not. So I wasn't overly concerned about it."). No. 435] at ¶ 3 (Kirkland’s testimony that the $200,000 check was payable to Keith Pressman). On November 8, 2007, contemporaneously with the execution of the Loan Documents, Kirkland made a further Payment of $150,000 by wire transfer (the record does not reflect whether the $150,000 Payment was made to EPD or to an EPD-affiliated entity for EPD’s benefit). [Note 7]

On March 26, 2008, Kirkland made a Payment of $150,000 by way of a check payable to BEM. Tr. 472:16–20, 474:4–5 (testimony of Kirkland); Adv. Doc. No. 424-7, Ex. 16 (check negotiated on March 26, 2008 payable to BEM); Doc. No. 424-7, Ex. 22 (Kirkland’s March 2008 bank statement, reflecting payment of the $150,000 check).

On June 20, 2008, Kirkland made a Payment of $100,000. Doc. No. 424-7, Ex. 27 (Kirkland’s bank statement showing $100,000 check to an unspecified party); Doc. No. 424-3 at ¶ 11 (Kirkland’s declaration testimony authenticating bank statement). The record does not reflect whether the June 2008 Payment was made to EPD or to an EPD-affiliated entity for EPD’s benefit.

In August 2008, EPD arranged for the refinancing of Kirkland’s home. On August 18, 2008, Kirkland caused the net proceeds of the refinancing—$855,466.23—to be wired directly to EPD as an additional Payment pursuant to the Loan Documents. Tr. 376:7–16 (testimony of Kirkland). EPD then began making the monthly mortgage payments on the refinanced loan. Tr. 377:16–18 (testimony of Kirkland). Each mortgage payment was approximately $7,400. Mortgage payments commenced on October 5, 2008 and continued through December 14, 2009. The total amount of mortgage payments made by EPD was $104,852.82 (the "Mortgage Transfers").

On April 14, 2009, Kirkland made a Payment of $100,000 by way of a check payable to Keith Pressman. Adv. Doc. No. 424-7, Ex. 23 (Kirkland’s bank statement showing payment of $100,000 check); id., Ex. 39 at 60:1–22 (deposition testimony of Ruben Moreno that Kirkland issued a check payable to Keith Pressman).

On July 24, 2009, Pressman told Kirkland that EPD was experiencing temporary cash flow issues. As of that date, EPD had made approximately $75,000 in Mortgage Transfers. Kirkland agreed to lend EPD an additional $100,000 pursuant to the Loan Documents. The agreement was memorialized in a Funding Agreement, dated July 24, 2009 [Adv. Doc. No. 424-7, Ex. 13] (the "Funding Agreement") entered into by EPD and Pressman, on the one hand, and Kirkland, on the other hand. The Funding Agreement contains a provision stating that EPD releases Kirkland from any and all

On September 9, 2009, Kirkland and Poshow Ann Kirkland ("Poshow"), [Note 8] Kirkland's spouse, created the Bright Conscience Trust Dated September 9, 2009 (the "BC Trust"). Tr. 396:20–398:24 (testimony of Kirkland). The BC Trust is an irrevocable trust, and its beneficiaries are Kirkland and Poshow's minor children. Id. Poshow is the sole Trustee of the BC Trust. Tr. 399:18–400:10 and 401:21–402:21 (testimony of Kirkland); id. at 666:3–14 (testimony of Pressman). On September 9, 2009, Kirkland executed a Notice of Assignment providing that all Kirkland's rights under the "Loan Documents have been sold transferred and assigned to the [BC Trust]." Adv. Doc. No. 424-7, Ex. 3 (Notice of Assignment); Tr. 361:20–368:5 and 398:25–400:3 (Kirkland's testimony regarding execution of the Notice of Assignment). D. Filing of the Financing Statement

The Security Agreement provides that EPD will file and record a financing statement perfecting the Security Agreement (the "Financing Statement"), or will permit Kirkland to file and record the Financing Statement as EPD's attorney in fact. Security Agreement at ¶ 2(a).

At some point in 2007 after execution of the Security Agreement, Pressman told Kirkland that EPD had filed the Financing Statement, when in fact the Financing Statement had not been filed. Tr. 388:13–23 (testimony of Kirkland). [Note 10] On September 11, 2009, Pressman advised Kirkland that the Financing Statement had not been filed. Tr. 401:21–402:8 (testimony of Kirkland). Upon learning this information, Kirkland "went out of his mind." Tr. 667:9–12 (testimony of Pressman); id. at 401:21–402:18 (Kirkland's testimony that "he was not pleased," spoke to Pressman "more sternly than I probably should have," and told Pressman "I can't talk to you and I probably shouldn't be talking to you because I'm pretty upset"). Kirkland told Pressman to speak to Poshow Kirkland regarding the non-filing of the Financing Statement since the BC Trust had acquired all Kirkland's rights under the Loan Documents, and Poshow was the Trustee of the BC Trust. Tr. 402:9–21 (testimony of Kirkland).

On September 11, 2009, Pressman and Poshow, acting on behalf of the BC Trust, reached an agreement regarding the non-filing of the Financing Statement. The agreement was memorialized in a letter from Poshow to Pressman which provides in relevant part:

Of course I accept your apology for not filing the U.C.C. statement that was supposed to be done for the trust. We trust you and know our son's money is in good hands. I understand you can get busy and distracted and things get missed.... As agreed, the U.C.C. will be filed today. In consideration, the trust will release any claims against you and EPD, and also agree to extend the loans for at least another year as you asked.

Adv. Doc. No. 424-7, Ex. 14.

On September 11, 2009, Pressman told Kirkland that he had spoken with Poshow regarding the non-filing of the Financing Statement and that the issue had been resolved. Tr. 403:20–25 (testimony of Kirkland). Pressman instructed Kirkland to file the Financing Statement. Tr. 403:25–404:3 (testimony of Kirkland). On September 11, 2009, Kirkland filed the Financing Statement pursuant to Pressman's instructions. Tr. 404:4–11 (testimony of Kirkland). On September 14, 2009, Alexis Cassidy at National Corporate Research ("NCR") sent Kirkland an e-mail verifying the filing of the Financing Statement. Kirkland Depo., Ex. 51 (e-mail from Cassidy to Kirkland dated September 14, 2009).

E. Filing of the UCC-3 Amending the Financing Statement

On May 5, 2010, a UCC-3 amendment to the Financing Statement (the "UCC-3") was filed. The UCC-3 states: "This amendment is to clarify that the prior grant of security did not include the stock of North Hills Industrial Park, Inc., a California S-Corporation." The UCC-3 was filed by NCR at the request of Lisa Underkoffler. At the time, Underkoffler was Kirkland's legal secretary at Luce Forward, the firm at which Kirkland was a partner. Underkoffler Depo. at 13:15–14:4 [Adv. Doc. No. 419, Ex. 14].

On May 5, 2010, Katy Werner, an employee of EPD and BEM, sent an e-mail with the subject line "Re: FW: Hansel v. EPD" to Underkoffler and Kirkland (the "May 5, 2010 E-mail"). Tr. 114:15–115:15 (Werner's testimony that she was an employee of EPD and BEM); Adv. Doc. No. 432-2, Ex. 38 (May 5, 2010 E-mail). The May 5, 2010 E-mail references, but does not attach, the UCC-3, and provides in its entirety:

Hey Lisa,

We're forwarding 2 more UCC 3 filings to be done as soon as possible. Jerry will be faxing them directly to you in the next couple of hours. Let me know if this is a problem.

John, when are you back from China?

May 5, 2010 E-mail [Adv. Doc. No. 432-2, Ex. 38].

At a deposition taken on May 25, 2017, Underkoffler testified that she would not have sent the UCC-3 to NCR for filing absent Kirkland's authorization. Underkoffler Depo. at 70:12–51. However, at that same deposition Underkoffler also testified that she did not recall transmitting the UCC-3 to NCR for filing, id. at 68:25–69:4; that she did not recall the May 5, 2010 E-mail, id. at 68:12–14; that she did not recall any discussion as to why the UCC-3 was being filed, id. at 69:5–7; and that she did not remember who had instructed her to file the UCC-3, id. at 70:10–11.

In a declaration filed on September 23, 2020, Underkoffler testified that her statement at the May 25, 2017 deposition that she would not have transmitted the UCC-3 for filing absent Kirkland's authorization was "based on my general practice as a legal secretary, that I would not do anything that required an attorney's approval without receiving the attorney's approval." [Note 11] Underkoffler Decl. [Adv. Doc. No. 437] at ¶ 3. She further testified:

There is an e-mail from Jerrold Pressman's assistant [the May 5, 2010 E-mail], that indicates he was faxing some filings to me, and asked me to email them to an attorney service for him. For a client request like that, it has been my understanding as an experienced legal assistant that attorney approval may not be required especially when it says that Mr. Kirkland was out of the country. Also, Mr. Kirkland is not copied on my e-mail to the attorney service, which indicates that I might not have sent it at his request. Mr. Kirkland may not have authorized anything. I simply do not know. I did not recall at my deposition, and I do not recall now.

Underkoffler Decl. at ¶ 4. [Note 12]

On May 24, 2010, Kirkland sent Underkoffler an e-mail stating "[r]un a lien search on EPD Investment Co." Adv. Doc. No. 441, Ex. 32. NCR conducted the lien search at the direction of Luce Forward, Kirkland's law firm. Adv. Doc. No. 441, Ex. 13, at p. 725 (invoice issued by NCR on May 25, 2010, billing the lien search to Underkoffler at Luce Forward). The lien search shows the UCC-3 filing on May 5, 2010. Adv. Doc. No. 441, Ex. 13, at p. 727. On May 24, 2010, Kirkland sent Pressman an e-mail with the subject "FW: EPD Liens" that stated "2 liens currently in place on EPD. others have all expired." Adv. Doc. No. 441, Ex. 30.

F. Subsequent Financing Statements Filed by the BC Trust

On March 4, 2010, the BC Trust filed a financing statement against the assets of Keith Pressman (the "March 2010 Financing Statement"). Adv. Doc. No. 420, Ex. OO. At her deposition, Poshow testified that she was the only person authorized to act on behalf of the BC Trust subsequent to its formation. Poshow Depo. at 72:24–73:3 [Adv. Doc. No. 419, Ex. 7]. She further testified that she did not direct the filing of the March 2010 Financing Statement, id. at 72:16–23; that she could not explain why

NCR, the same entity that transmitted the UCC-3 for filing, transmitted the March 2010 Financing Statement for filing. Adv. Doc. No. 420, Ex. OO. There is no documentary evidence in the record showing who directed NCR to transmit the March 2010 Financing Statement for filing.

On May 2, 2011, the BC Trust filed a financing statement against the assets of EPD Investment Leasing Co., LLC, an entity formed in 2010 (the "May 2011 Financing Statement"). Adv. Doc. No. 420, Ex. QQQ. Kirkland caused the May 2011 Financing Statement to be filed by sending an e-mail to Amy Brown of NCR on April 29, 2011. Adv. Doc. No. 419, Ex. 13, at p. 824 (e-mail from Kirkland to Amy Brown stating "[p]lease file the attached UCC-1 with the California Secretary of State"). On May 5, 2011, Amy Brown of NCR sent Kirkland an e-mail confirming that the May 2011 Financing Statement had been filed. Adv. Doc. No. 419, Ex. 13, at p. 826.

At her deposition, Poshow testified that she had not heard of EPD Investment Leasing Co., LLC, Poshow Depo. at 73:11–13; that she did not authorize Kirkland to file the May 2011 Financing Statement, id. at 74:6–22; that she did not know why Kirkland caused the May 2011 Financing Statement to be filed, id. at 75:14–19; and that she was unaware that the May 2011 Financing Statement had been filed, id. at 75:22–24.

G. EPD's Retention of Luce Forward

On June 17, 2009, Pressman, on behalf of EPD, returned to Kirkland an engagement agreement providing that Luce Forward would serve as legal counsel to EPD and its affiliates (the "Engagement Agreement"). Tr. 291:1–9 (testimony of Kirkland). The Engagement Agreement is dated February 17, 2009 but was signed by Pressman on behalf of EPD on June 17, 2009. Id. Kirkland was a partner at Luce Forward at the time of execution of the Engagement Agreement.

H. The Involuntary Bankruptcy Petition Against EPD

On December 7, 2010, creditors filed an involuntary Chapter 7 petition against EPD. Bankr. Doc. No. 1. On January 11, 2011, certain of the petitioning creditors moved to appoint an interim Chapter 7 Trustee. Bankr. Doc. No. 6 (the "Motion to Appoint"). Motion to Appoint. The opposition asserted that EPD was current on all obligations except for those subject to bona fide dispute:

Moving parties have utterly failed to make any factual showing that EPD is generally not paying its debts as they become due. This is not surprising given that, with the exception of the claims described above and claims of similar ilk which are subject to bona fide disputes, EPD does not have a single past due bill or late payment. In other words, EPD is generally paying its debts as they become due, unless such debts are subject to a bona fide dispute.

Bankr. Doc. No. 24 at 6.

At a hearing conducted on January 20, 2011, the Court denied the Motion to Appoint. Bankr. Doc. No. 62. On February 9, 2011, the Court entered an Order for Relief against EPD. Bankr. Doc. No. 29. On that same day, Kirkland filed on behalf of EPD a motion to reconsider entry of the Order for Relief. Bankr. Doc. No. 32 (the "Motion for Reconsideration"). In a declaration submitted in support of the Motion for Reconsideration, Kirkland testified that he had personal knowledge of the following facts:

[I]f not immediately set aside the entry of an Order for Relief would have devastating consequences on an Alleged Debtor. Because it would effectively cause an Alleged Debtor to cease its ability to operate as a going concern, the damage caused by such an order could not be undone, and would effectively result in the destruction of the company's business, or diminution in value of the estate, to the detriment of all creditors.

Bankr. Doc. No. 33 at ¶ 3.

On February 10, 2011, the Court denied the Motion for Reconsideration. Bankr. Doc. No. 36. On February 16, 2011, Kirkland filed on behalf of EPD a Motion to Alter or Amend Order for Relief in an Involuntary Case Or, in the Alternative, for Relief from Default [Bankr. Doc. No. 41] (the "Motion to Alter or Amend"). The Motion to Alter or Amend alleged that "entry of the order for relief will severely damage EPD's business, to the detriment of the estate and creditors." Bankr. Doc. No. 41 at 2. At a hearing conducted on March 29, 2011, the Court denied the Motion to Alter or Amend. Bankr. Doc. No. 122.

On March 17, 2011, the Trustee filed a motion to compel Kirkland and Luce Forward to cause EPD to file schedules, turnover books and records, and cooperate with the Trustee in the administration of the estate. Bankr. Doc. No. 68 (the "First Motion to Compel"). At a hearing conducted on April 12, 2011, the Court ordered EPD to file schedules by no later than April 14, 2011, to turnover books and records by no later than April 20, 2011, and to cooperate with the Trustee. I. Kirkland's Rule 2004 Examination Testimony

On May 27, 2011, Kirkland appeared for a Rule 2004 examination. Kirkland stated that he was appearing both in his individual capacity and as the person most knowledgeable for the Bright Conscience Trust:

Question: And in the Motion for Rule 2004 examination, you were requested as a witness or an examinee in your individual capacity or as counsel for the debtor; there's also a request for the Bright Conscience Trust, person most knowledgeable of that entity, to appear on a later date. Are you here today on behalf of that entity as well?

Answer: Yes.

Question: And your counsel, Mr. Sahn, does he represent you individually here today?

Answer: Yes....

Question: It says he represents you in your capacity as person most qualified for the Bright Conscience Trust.

Answer: I would assume so.

assignment of his interest in the Loan Documents to the Bright Conscience Trust); id. at 70:9–12 (Kirkland’s testimony regarding the Financing Statement filed in favor of the Bright Conscience Trust); id. at 133:19–134:7 (Kirkland’s testimony that he did not discuss with Pressman the fact that the Bright Conscience Trust was one of the two secured creditors set forth on EPD’s bankruptcy schedules); id. at 159:19–25 (Kirkland’s testimony that he did not believe it was a conflict of interest for him to represent EPD subsequent to the filing of the Financing Statement in favor of the BC Trust); and id. at 192:1–4 (Kirkland’s testimony that he had had no discussions regarding whether the BC Trust’s claim would be avoided in EPD’s involuntary bankruptcy case).

In connection with these cross-motions for summary judgment, the BC Trust has taken the position that Kirkland did not testify as the person most knowledgeable of the BC Trust at the May 27, 2011 Rule 2004 examination. The BC Trust’s theory is that Kirkland could not have so testified because "a trust is not an entity separate from its trustee," Presta v. Tepper, 179 Cal.App.4th 909, 911 (Cal. 2009), and it is therefore impossible even to designate a person most knowledgeable to testify on behalf of a trust. While that may be true, it misses the point, which is that by appearing at a Rule 2004 examination and answering a series of detailed questions regarding the BC Trust, Kirkland was acting to further the BC Trust’s interests vis-à-vis its secured claim, and was in that sense taking action on behalf of the BC Trust.

On October 22, 2013, the Court approved a settlement agreement between the Trustee and McKenna Long & Aldridge LLP ("McKenna Long"), the successor-in-interest to Luce Forward by way of merger (the "Luce Forward Settlement"). [Note 13] Bankr. Doc. No. 750 (order approving Luce Forward Settlement). The Luce Forward Settlement released Luce Forward and McKenna Long from the Trustee’s claims against the firms relating to (1) Luce Forward’s post-petition representation of EPD, including claims that Kirkland had filed false and misleading pleadings and declarations on behalf of EPD and (2) Luce Forward’s pre-petition representation of EPD, including claims relating to Kirkland’s alleged conflicts of interest. #### IV. Summary of Arguments Made by the Parties

A. Amount of the BC Trust's Claim

The Trustee argues that the BC Trust's claim cannot include Payments made to Keith Pressman or BEM, since Keith Pressman and BEM are not debtors and the payments to them did not benefit the estate. The BC Trust maintains that under the plain language of the Loan Documents, the BC Trust is entitled to a secured claim for the entire amount that Kirkland loaned, regardless of whether the Payments were made to EPD or to an EPD-affiliate.

B. Assets to Which the BC Trust's Claim Can Attach

The Trustee contends that the BC Trust's claim can attach only to the $104,558.83 in proceeds collected from the liquidation of stock in Ice Skating Enterprises and Sidecreek Development. His position is that the BC Trust's claim cannot attach to $3,886,650.83 in proceeds from settlements of the Trustee's avoidance claims, since the BC Trust cannot have a security interest in claims belonging to the estate and arising only as a result of the bankruptcy petition; that the BC Trust's claim cannot attach to $3,615,817.85 in proceeds from a settlement with Robert Geringer because of the recordation of a UCC-3 providing that the BC Trust's security interest did not attach to the assets that were the subject of the Geringer settlement; and that the BC Trust's claim cannot attach to $1,250,000.00 in proceeds from settlements with two of Kirkland's prior law firms, because a security interest cannot extend to an after-acquired commercial tort claim.

The BC Trust asserts that its security interest attaches to all assets of the estate. It contends that the UCC-3 modifying the scope of its security interest is invalid because it was not authorized by the BC Trust. It maintains that its security interest attaches to the proceeds of the settlements with Kirkland's prior law firms because such proceeds are general intangibles, not after-acquired commercial tort claims. The BC Trust relies upon In re Figearo, 79 B.R. 914, 918 (Bankr. D. Nev. 1987) for the proposition that proceeds collected from the Trustee's settlement of avoidance actions are subject to its security interest.

C. The Equitable Subordination Claim

The BC Trust contends that the jury's finding that Kirkland acted in good faith with respect to his receipt of the Mortgage Transfers requires entry of summary judgment in favor of the BC Trust on the Trustee's equitable subordination claim. According to the BC Trust, the Trustee has not alleged that the BC Trust engaged in any inequitable conduct independent of Kirkland. Since the jury's finding that Kirkland acted in good faith is inconsistent with a finding that Kirkland engaged in inequitable conduct, the BC Trust argues that summary judgment in its favor is appropriate.

The Trustee argues that the scope of the jury's good-faith finding is far more limited. His position is that the good-faith finding pertains only to the $104,852.82 in Mortgage Transfers, not to the entirety of the BC Trust's claim.

D. The Fraudulent Transfer Claims

The Trustee argues that he is entitled to summary judgment on his fraudulent transfer claims because EPD's actual intent to defraud is established by the jury's finding that EPD operated as a Ponzi scheme. He further asserts that the BC Trust has failed to introduce sufficient evidence in support of its § 548(c) good-faith and fair-value affirmative defenses.

The BC Trust contends that the Trustee is not entitled to avoid the recordation of the Financing Statement as a fraudulent transfer because the Financing Statement merely secured the indebtedness for which EPD was already liable under the Loan Documents.

V. Findings and Conclusions

Summary judgment is appropriate "if the movant shows that there is no genuine dispute as to any material facts and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Civil Rule 56 (made applicable to these proceedings by Bankruptcy Rule 7056). The moving party has the burden of establishing the absence of a genuine issue of material fact and that it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Celotex Corp. v.

Liberty Lobby, Inc.*, 477 U.S. 242, 248 (1986). "A fact is 'material' only if it might affect the outcome of the case[.]" Fresno Motors, LLC v. Mercedes Benz USA, LLC, 771 F.3d 1119, 1125 (9th Cir. 2014). If the moving party shows the absence of a genuine issue of material fact, the nonmoving party must "go beyond the pleadings and by her own affidavits, or by the 'depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file,' designate 'specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial.'" Celotex, 477 U.S. at 324 (quoting Fed. Haugen*, 543 U.S. 194, 195 n.2 (2004).

As discussed in Section III, above, these cross-motions for summary judgment differ from typical summary judgment motions in that certain facts have been established by the jury trial. As to those facts established through the jury trial, the summary judgment standard for determining whether the fact is subject to genuine dispute does not apply.

A. The BC Trust Holds an Allowed Secured Claim in the Amount of $1,950,613.41

Pursuant to § 502(a), a "claim or interest, proof of which is filed under section 501 of this title, is deemed allowed, unless a party in interest ... objects." Under Bankruptcy Rule 3001(f), a proof of claim executed and filed in accordance with the Bankruptcy Rules constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim. To overcome the presumption of validity created by a timely-filed proof of claim, an objecting party must do one of the following: (1) object based on legal grounds and provide a memorandum of points and authorities setting forth the legal basis for the objection; or (2) object based on a factual ground and provide sufficient evidence (usually in the form of declarations under penalty of perjury) to create triable issues of fact. In re G.I. Indus., Inc., 204 F.3d 1276, 1280 (9th Cir. BAP 2000); In re Medina, 205 B.R. 216, 222 (9th Cir. BAP 1996); In re Hemingway Transport, Inc., 993 F.2d 915, 925 (1st Cir. 1993). Upon objection, a proof of claim provides "some evidence as to its validity and amount" and is "strong enough to carry over a mere formal objection without more." See Lundell v. Anchor Constr. Spec., Inc., 223 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 623 (9th Cir. 1991)). An objecting party bears the burden and must "show facts tending to defeat the claim by probative force equal to that of the allegations of the proofs of claim themselves." Holm, 931 F.2d at 623. When the objector has shown enough evidence to negate one or more facts in the proof of claim, the burden shifts back to the claimant to prove the validity of the claim by a preponderance of evidence. See Lundell, 223 F.3d at 1039 (citation omitted).

The BC Trust filed four duplicative proofs of claim. The BC Trust has acknowledged that it is entitled to only a single satisfaction on account of its claim and does not seek a duplicative recovery. See Adv. Doc. No. 430 at 23 n.7 ("While the BC Trust has submitted a total of four proofs of claim in this consolidated bankruptcy case, they are all based on the same loan to EPD and the same Payments Mr. Kirkland made pursuant to that loan. It is axiomatic that only one claim may be paid."). The Court will deem the BC Trust to have consented to the withdrawal of its duplicative proofs of claim, and will treat the BC Trust as though it had filed only a single proof of claim.

The Trustee devotes substantial space to asserting that the BC Trust's claim lacks prima facie validity because it was not accompanied by documentation sufficient to establish that Kirkland had loaned EPD the amounts set forth in the claim. The Trustee's emphasis upon the claim's alleged lack of prima facie validity is misdirected. At trial, sufficient evidence was introduced to show the validity of the claim. Consequently, whether the proof of claim was prima facie valid is irrelevant because the evidence introduced at trial adequately establishes the claim's validity. That evidence included the Loan Documents—consisting of the Note, Guaranty, and Security Agreement—evidencing EPD's liability to repay the amounts loaned by Kirkland; copies of checks and wire transfers showing that Kirkland made Payments of $2,055,466.23 pursuant to the Loan Documents; and Kirkland's testimony that he made the Payments.

The Trustee next argues that the claim should not include Payments made to Keith Pressman or BEM. The evidence at trial shows that of the $2,055,466.23 in Payments, a total of $955,466.23 was paid directly to EPD (the Payments made on August 18, 2008 and July 24, 2009); a total of $550,000.00 was paid to BEM (the Payments made on September 27, 2007 and March 26, 2008); and a total of $300,000.00 was paid to Keith Pressman (the Payments made on September 27, 2007 and April 14, 2009). With respect to a Payment of $150,000.00 made on November 8, 2007 and a Payment of $100,000.00 made on July 20, 2008, the evidence in the record is not sufficient to indicate whether the Payments were made directly to EPD or to an EPD-affiliated entity for EPD's benefit.

The Loan Documents establish EPD's liability for all Payments made thereunder, regardless of whether the Payments were made to EPD or to an EPD-affiliated entity for EPD's benefit. See Note ("EPD ... hereby promises to pay ... the amount set out above as the Original Principle Amount (as increased by the amount of any and all future loans or payments to [EPD] or any of its affiliates ..."); Guaranty at ¶¶ E-G (affirming EPD's liability for all Payments made pursuant to the Loan Documents, regardless of whether those Payments were made to EPD or to an EPD-affiliated entity for EPD's benefit); Guaranty at ¶ D (explaining that EPD would derive financial benefit from Payments made to its affiliates).

There can be no dispute that under the plain language of the Loan Documents, EPD is liable for all of the Payments. The Trustee's argument that the claim should not include Payments to BEM or Keith Pressman, EPD's affiliates, because EPD derived no benefit from such Payments, proves too much. It is almost always the case that companies that find themselves within bankruptcy have incurred liabilities that, with the benefit of hindsight, prove to have been a bad deal for the company. That is why the companies have filed or have been forced into bankruptcy. The Trustee's argument that the BC Trust's claim cannot include Payments that allegedly provided EPD no benefit would subject every secured claim to the possibility of disallowance based on after-the-fact assessments as to whether the debtor's incurrence of the obligation was a wise business decision.

It is true that the Trustee has the ability, under § 548(a)(1)(B), to avoid transfers where the debtor has received "less than a reasonably equivalent value," provided that other conditions are satisfied. Section 548(a)(1)(B) is of no assistance to the Trustee with respect to his arguments regarding the allowability of Payments made to BEM and Pressman, because the Complaint does allege that the Loan Documents are avoidable. Instead, the Complaint seeks to avoid the Financing Statement that was filed on September 11, 2009, approximately two years after the Loan Documents were executed. (As explained in Section V.B., below, the Trustee is entitled to avoidance of the Financing Statement, but the BC Trust is entitled to retain the Payments made by Kirkland because the jury's findings establish that the BC Trust received the Payments in good faith and for value.)

The Trustee objects to a finding that the BC Trust's claim includes all "Payments," as defined in the Guaranty, on the ground that the Guaranty defines "Payments" to include "consulting fees, advisory fees and professional service fees" paid to EPD or to EPD-affiliated entities. Relying upon Merrill v. Abbott (In re Independent Clearing House Co.), 77 B.R. 843 (D. Utah 1987), the Trustee argues that requiring the estate to repay the BC Trust for fees paid by Kirkland to non-debtor third parties would amount to enforcement of a fraudulent contract.

In Independent Clearing House, the bankruptcy trustee sought to recover, as fraudulent transfers, profits that a Ponzi-scheme operator had paid to various investors. The court held that allowing the investors to recover funds beyond the principal of their investment "would be to further the debtors' fraudulent scheme at the expense" of the other investors. Independent Clearing House, 77 B.R. at 858.

The Court does not agree with the Trustee's contention that a finding that the BC Trust's claim includes all "Payments" as defined in the Guaranty constitutes enforcement of a fraudulent contract. First, the evidence establishes that Kirkland made Payments as requested by Pressman and neither inquired as to the purpose of the Payments or had any awareness of how EPD or EPD's affiliates internally booked the Payments. See Kirkland Decl. [Doc. No. 435] at ¶ 17 ("I had no knowledge of, and did not agree to, any internal classification by EPD of any portion of the $855,466.23 amount [wired to EPD on August 18, 2008] as Consulting & Professional Fees, as a Nominee Distribution, or as anything else other than a loan."); Tr. at 386:16–18 (Kirkland's testimony that he had not seen any of EPD's financial statements as of July 2009). Second, a finding that the BC Trust's claim includes all Payments as defined in the Loan Documents does not mean that the BC Trust will recover funds in excess of the amounts that Kirkland actually paid in connection with the Loan Documents. As discussed above, the evidence establishes that Kirkland actually made $2,055,466.23 in Payments to or for the benefit of EPD. Therefore, a finding that the BC Trust holds an allowed secured claim equal to the amount of Payments made by Kirkland will not enable the BC Trust to recover more than what was loaned. As a result, such a finding will not legitimize EPD's operation as a Ponzi scheme.

The Court does find it appropriate to reduce the amount of the BC Trust's allowed secured claim by $104,852.82, the amount of the Mortgage Transfers. The jury trial established that EPD caused the Mortgage Transfers to be paid for Kirkland's benefit as a result of the Payments Kirkland had made pursuant to the Loan Documents. Accordingly, a reduction in the BC Trust's claim by the amount of the Mortgage Transfers is warranted. The Court finds that the BC Trust holds an allowed secured claim in the amount of $1,950,613.41 ($2,055,466.23 less $104,852.82).

Its Good-Faith and Fair Value Defenses

Under § 548(a)(1)(A), the Trustee may avoid a transfer as actually fraudulent "if the debtor voluntarily or involuntarily made such transfer ... with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud any entity to which the debtor was or became, on or after the date that such transfer was made ... indebted." For purposes of § 548(a)(1)(A), the "mere existence of a Ponzi scheme is sufficient to establish actual intent to defraud." Donell v. Kowell, 533 F.3d 762, 770 (9th Cir. 2008) (internal citation omitted).

Pursuant to § 548(c), the transferee of a transfer otherwise avoidable under § 548(a)(1)(A) that "takes for value and in good faith" may retain the transfer. Within the context of a Ponzi scheme, this "good faith" defense "permits an innocent winning investor to retain funds up to the amount of the initial outlay." Id.

Applying these principles to the instant case, the Trustee is permitted to avoid the Financing Statement that perfected the BC Trust's lien as an actually fraudulent transfer, because the jury trial established that EPD operated as a Ponzi scheme. However, as discussed below, the jury's finding that Kirkland received the Mortgage Transfers in good faith and for reasonably equivalent value establishes the BC Trust's good-faith defense under § 548(c). As a result, the BC Trust is entitled to an allowed secured claim in the amount of the funds that Kirkland loaned ($1,950,613.41), but is not entitled to any interest thereon.

The jury's findings regarding Kirkland's good-faith were only as to the $104,852.82 in Mortgage Transfers. However, a review of the evidence presented at trial, as well as the timeline of the relevant transactions, establishes that the jury could not have found that Kirkland acted in good-faith with respect to the Mortgage Transfers without also implicitly finding that Kirkland acted in good faith with respect to all of the funds loaned to or for the benefit of EPD.

In support of his contention that Kirkland had not acted in good faith, the Trustee presented to the jury evidence purporting to show that between 2004 and 2009, Kirkland knew or should have known that EPD was a Ponzi scheme that could not pay its debts as they came due absent cash infusions from new investors. Implicit in the jury's finding that Kirkland received the Mortgage Transfers in good faith and for a reasonably equivalent value is a finding that Kirkland was not aware that EPD was a Ponzi scheme. The jury received the following instruction regarding good faith:

"Good faith" means that Defendant [Kirkland] acted without actual fraudulent intent, that he did not collude with EPD and Pressman or otherwise actively participate in any fraudulent scheme, and that the circumstances were such that would not place a reasonable person on inquiry of EPD and Pressman's alleged fraudulent purpose, insolvency, or inability to pay debts as they became due and a diligent inquiry would not have discovered the fraudulent purpose, insolvency, or inability to pay debts as they became due.

If you decide that Defendant knew or should have known that EPD and Pressman had a fraudulent intent, or that the circumstances were such that would place a reasonable person on inquiry of EPD and Pressman's fraudulent purpose, insolvency, or inability to pay debts as they became due and a diligent inquiry would have discovered the fraudulent purpose, insolvency, or inability to pay debts as they became due, then Defendant cannot have taken the property, interests in property, monies, or liens in good faith.

Jury Instruction No. 30 (emphasis added).

The jury received the following instruction regarding the definition of a Ponzi scheme:

A Ponzi scheme is a financial fraud that induces investment—often by promising high, risk-free returns within a relatively short time period. In a Ponzi scheme, payments are made to investors or lenders from later investments or loans rather than from profits of the underlying business venture. The fraud consists of transferring proceeds received from the new investors to previous investors, thereby giving other investors the impression that a legitimate profit-making business opportunity exists, where in fact no such opportunity exists. Distributing funds to earlier investors from the receipt of monies from later investors or lenders is the hallmark of Ponzi schemes.

Jury Instruction No. 26.

These jury instructions demonstrate that in finding that Kirkland received the Mortgage Transfers in good faith, the jury found that Kirkland acted without fraudulent intent, that he did not collude with EPD and Pressman, that he did not participate in any fraudulent scheme, and that the circumstances were not sufficient to put a reasonable person on notice of any fraudulent activities at EPD. Given that the jury was instructed that a Ponzi scheme is a "financial fraud" that involves giving investors the false impression that a legitimate profit-making business opportunity exists, it could not have found that Kirkland received the Mortgage Transfers in good faith if it also believed that Kirkland was aware that EPD was a Ponzi scheme.

As a result of the timing of the relevant transactions, the jury could not have found that Kirkland acted in good faith with respect to his receipt of the Mortgage Transfers unless it also believed Kirkland acted in good faith with respect to all of the Payments Kirkland made pursuant to the Loan Documents. The Mortgage Transfers commenced on October 5, 2008 and continued through December 14, 2009. Kirkland made the first Payment pursuant to the Loan Documents on September 27, 2007, and made the final Payment on July 24, 2009. The jury found that Kirkland could not have been aware of any fraudulent purpose on the part of EPD, and could not have known that EPD operated as a Ponzi scheme as of December 14, 2009, the date upon which Kirkland received the last Mortgage Transfer. Since Kirkland made the Payments prior to receiving the last of the Mortgage Transfers, he could not have been aware of any issues with EPD at the time the Payments were made.

Finally, and most significant, the timeline also means that Kirkland was acting in good faith when he recorded the Financing Statement at the direction of Pressman on September 11, 2009. The jury found that Kirkland acted in good faith with respect to the receipt of Mortgage Transfers on September 5, 2009 and October 5, 2009. It is not plausible that Kirkland was acting in good faith on September 5, was not acting in good faith when he recorded the Financing Statement at Pressman's direction on September 11, and then was acting in good faith again on October 5, 2009.

The Trustee asserts that the BC Trust has not carried its burden with respect to the good-faith defense under § 548(c). The Trustee is correct that it is the BC Trust's burden to establish its defense under § 548(c). See In re Agric. Research & Tech. Grp., Inc., 916 F.2d 528, 535 (9th Cir. 1990) (transferee bears the burden of establishing that it received the transfer in good faith).

The Trustee's theory is that the BC Trust did not obtain the benefit of the Financing Statement in good faith because Kirkland's alleged bad-faith conduct must be imputed to the BC Trust. The jury's finding that Kirkland acted in good faith prior to the recordation of the Financing Statement is fatal to this theory. By virtue of the jury's finding that Kirkland acted in good faith, the BC Trust has carried its burden with respect to § 548(c).

The Trustee also seeks to avoid the filing of the Financing Statement as actually fraudulent pursuant to § 544 and Cal. Civ. Code § 3439.04. The provisions of California law regarding the avoidance of actually fraudulent transfers are substantially the same as the provisions of the Bankruptcy Code. Application of California law does not yield a result different from the application of federal law.

The BC Trust argues that the Trustee's claims to avoid the transfer as actually fraudulent fail given that the Financing Statement provided value by securing an antecedent debt. As discussed in Section V.B., below, the recordation of a Financing Statement securing an antecedent debt is not a constructively fraudulent transfer. However, this principle is limited to constructively fraudulent transfer claims; it does not apply to actually fraudulent transfer claims. To avoid a transfer as actually fraudulent, the Trustee is not required to show that the debtor received less than a reasonably equivalent value. All that the Trustee is required to show is that the transfer was made "with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud" creditors. § 548(a)(1)(A). The cases holding that the securing of an antecedent debt constitutes value apply only to the Trustee's claims to avoid the transfer as constructively fraudulent under § 548(a)(1)(B), and have no application to the Trustee's claims to avoid the transfer as actually fraudulent under § 548(a)(1)(A).

C. The BC Trust is Entitled to Summary Adjudication on the Trustee's Claims for Constructively Fraudulent Transfer

Under § 548(a)(1)(B), the Trustee may avoid a transfer as constructively fraudulent if the debtor "received less than a reasonably equivalent value in exchange for such transfer" and certain other conditions are satisfied. For purposes of § 548(a)(1)(B), "value" means the "satisfaction or securing of a present or antecedent debt of the debtor ...." § 548(d).

"[A] debtor's grant of a security interest in its assets to a lender who has previously given the debtor a cash loan may not be considered a [constructively] fraudulent conveyance." In re AppliedTheory Corp., 330 B.R. 362, 363 (S.D.N.Y. 2005). This follows from § 548(d)'s definition of "value" as the securing of an antecedent debt, which means that "when a debtor grants a security interest to a lender in respect of antecedent debt, the debtor must necessarily receive reasonably equivalent value or fair consideration in exchange." In re AppliedTheory Corp., 323 B.R. 838, 841–42 (Bankr. Financing Statement was filed, Kirkland had already made $2,055,466.23 in Payments to or for the benefit of EPD. The Financing Statement secured an antecedent debt and is therefore not avoidable as a constructively fraudulent transfer.

The Trustee also seeks to avoid the filing of the Financing Statement as constructively fraudulent pursuant to § 544 and Cal. Civ. Code § 3439.07. Like the Bankruptcy Code, the constructively fraudulent transfer provisions of California law define "value" as the securing of an antecedent debt. Cal. Civ. Code § 3439.03. The Trustee's constructively fraudulent transfer claim under California law fails for the same reason that the claim under § 548(a)(1)(B) fails.

D. Neither Party is Entitled to Summary Adjudication With Respect to the Trustee's Equitable Subordination Claim

Section 510(c) provides that "the court may under principles of equitable subordination, subordinate for purposes of distribution all or part of an allowed claim to all or part of another allowed claim." The subordination of a claim based on equitable considerations generally requires three findings: "(1) that the claimant engaged in some type of inequitable conduct, (2) that the misconduct injured creditors or conferred unfair advantage on the claimant, and (3) that subordination would not be inconsistent with the Bankruptcy Code." Henry v. Lehman Comm. Papers, Inc. (In re First All. Mortgage Co.), 471 F.3d 977, 1006 (9th Cir. 2006). If the claimant is not an insider or a fiduciary, "gross and egregious conduct will be required before a court will equitably subordinate a claim." Id.

"[T]he equitable subordination inquiry focuses on the conduct of the claimant at issue, and the nature of its relationship to the debtor." Stoumbos v. Kilimnik, 988 F.2d 949, 959 (9th Cir. 1993). "The remedy of equitable subordination is remedial rather than punitive in nature. A claim should be subordinated only to the extent necessary to offset the harm suffered" on account of the inequitable conduct. Naylor v. Farrell (In re Farrell), 610 B.R. 317, 324 (Bankr. C.D. Chapter 7

The BC Trust raises a number of arguments that must be disposed of before the Court moves to an examination of the equitable subordination elements set forth in First Alliance. First, the BC Trust argues that the Luce Forward and Greenberg Traurig Settlements preclude the Trustee from asserting that the BC Trust's claim can be subordinated based on Kirkland's inequitable conduct. The BC Trust maintains that these settlements released the Trustee's claims for any tortious conduct committed by Kirkland. The BC Trust overlooks the fact that the releases in the settlements expressly carved out the Trustee's claims against Kirkland and the BC Trust that are the subject of this litigation. See Section III.J., above (setting forth the terms of the settlements).

Second, the BC Trust asserts that the Trustee's theory of the case—that Kirkland's alleged inequitable conduct can be imputed to the BC Trust as Kirkland's assignee—has been rejected by U.S. Bank v. The Vill. at Lakeridge, LLC (In re The Vill. at Lakeridge, LLC), 814 F.3d 993, 996 (9th Cir. 2016), aff'd sub nom. U.S. Bank Nat. Ass'n ex rel. CWC Capital Asset Mgmt. LLC v. Vill. at Lakeridge, LLC, 138 S. Ct. 960, 200 L. Ed. 2d 218 (2018). In Lakeridge, the court held that a creditor did not become a statutory insider solely by acquiring a claim from a statutory insider. The court held that for purposes of determining a claim's insider status, "general assignment law—in which an assignee takes a claim subject to any benefits and defects of the claim—does not apply." Id. at 1000. According to the BC Trust, Lakeridge means that when the BC Trust acquired its interest in the Loan Documents from Kirkland, the BC Trust did not take that interest subject to any defects emanating from Kirkland's alleged inequitable conduct.

The BC Trust's argument stretches Lakeridge's holding too far. Contrary to the BC Trust's contention, Lakeridge did not hold that general assignment law could never apply when a transferred claim is at issue in a bankruptcy proceeding. Lakeridge held only that for purpose of determining a claim's insider status, general assignment law does not apply. See Lakeridge, 814 F.3d at 1000 ("Because insider status is not a property of a claim, general assignment law—in which an assignee takes a claim subject to any benefits and defects of the claim—does not apply."). Lakeridge applies only for purposes of determining a claim's insider status and does not abrogate general assignment law in its entirety. Had the Lakeridge court intended such a sweeping result, it certainly would have said so. Notwithstanding Lakeridge, general assignment law—in which the "assignee 'stands in the shoes' of the assignor, taking his rights and remedies, subject to any defenses which the obligor has against the assignor prior to notice of the assignment"—remains valid. See Johnson v. Cty. of Fresno, 111 Cal. App. 4th 1087, 1096, 4 Cal. Rptr. 3d 475, 482 (2003); see also Searles Valley Minerals Operations Inc. v. Ralph M. Parson Serv. Co., 191 Cal. App. 4th 1394, 1402, 120 Cal. Rptr. 3d 487, 493 (2011) (same). Under principles of general assignment law, the Trustee may assert that the BC Trust's claim is subject to equitable subordination based upon Kirkland's alleged inequitable conduct.

Third, the BC Trust argues that the Trustee may not rely upon Kirkland's conduct subsequent to September 11, 2010, the date upon which the BC Trust was established, in support of his equitable subordination claim. In support of this proposition, the BC Trust points to California trust law, which holds that "a settlor's conduct after an irrevocable trust has been established will not alter the nature of such a trust." Laycock v. Hammer, 141 Cal.App.4th 25, 31 (Cal. 2006).

A determination that the BC Trust's claim may be equitably subordinated based on Kirkland's conduct subsequent to formation of the BC Trust does not conflict with California trust law. Were the Court to equitably subordinate the BC Trust's claim, it would not be altering the nature of the trust. Instead, the Court would be limiting the BC Trust's ability obtain a distribution from the estate. Section 510 of the Bankruptcy Code authorizes the Court to limit the ability of claimants to obtain a distribution from the estate under appropriate circumstances.

Fourth, the BC Trust argues that the Trustee cannot seek equitable subordination on the basis that Kirkland was EPD's attorney and therefore a fiduciary. The BC Trust asserts that at the jury trial, the Trustee took the position that Kirkland was an insider of EPD and Pressman. According to the BC Trust, now that the jury has found that Kirkland was not an insider, the Trustee has shifted to arguing that equitable subordination is warranted based on Kirkland's status as a fiduciary (as opposed to arguing that equitable subordination is warranted based on Kirkland's status as an insider). The BC Trust's position is that claim preclusion bars the Trustee from arguing that Kirkland was a fiduciary.

"Under the doctrine of claim preclusion, a final judgment forecloses successive litigation of the very same claim, whether or not relitigation of the claim raises the same issues as the earlier suit." Taylor v. Sturgell, 553 U.S. 880, 892, 128 S. Ct. 2161, 2171, 171 L. Ed. 2d 155 (2008) (internal quotation omitted). By "precluding parties from contesting matters that they have had a full and fair opportunity to litigate," the doctrine protects against "the expense and vexation attending multiple lawsuits, conserv[es] judicial resources, and foste[rs] reliance on judicial action by minimizing the possibility of inconsistent decisions." Id. Claim preclusion applies "when there is: (1) an identity of claims; (2) a final judgment on the merits; and (3) identity or privity between parties.” Stewart v. U.S. Bancorp, 297 F.3d 953, 956 (9th Cir. 2002) (internal quotation omitted).

Here, claim preclusion does not bar the Trustee’s argument that Kirkland was a fiduciary for two reasons. First, the District Court has not entered any judgment in connection with the jury’s verdict in favor of Kirkland, so there is no final judgment on the merits. Second, the District Court bifurcated the trial of the Trustee’s claims against Kirkland and his claims against the BC Trust. As a result of this bifurcation, the Trustee has not had a “full and fair opportunity to litigate” his claims against the BC Trust, including claims predicated upon the allegation that Kirkland is a fiduciary.

[Note 16]

The Trustee is not required to show that Kirkland was an insider of EPD or Pressman to prevail upon his equitable subordination claim. As explained in First Alliance Mortgage, equitable subordination may be invoked “[w]here non-insider, non-fiduciary claims are involved,” but only upon a showing of “gross and egregious conduct.” 471 F.3d at 1006. The Trustee is not required to show “gross and egregious conduct” to prevail upon his equitable subordination claim, because Kirkland was a fiduciary of EPD. Kirkland represented EPD and filed papers on its behalf subsequent to the commencement of the involuntary petition. See Section III.H., above. At the same time he was a fiduciary of EPD, Kirkland continued to act on behalf of the BC Trust. Kirkland directed the filing of the May 2011 Financing Statement on behalf of the BC Trust, see Section III.F., above, and acted on behalf of the BC Trust by providing detailed testimony with respect to the trust at the May 27, 2011 Rule 2004 examination, see Section III.I., above.

Having disposed of the threshold objections asserted by the BC Trust, the Court now turns to an examination of the equitable subordination factors. The Court finds that genuine issues of material fact exist which preclude the entry of summary judgment in favor of either party with respect to the equitable subordination claim. However, the findings made by the jury have substantially narrowed the facts that remain at issue.

As discussed in Section V.B., above, the jury could not have found that Kirkland acted in good faith with respect to his receipt of the Mortgage Transfers unless it also believed Kirkland acted in good faith with respect to all of the Payments Kirkland made pursuant to the Loan Documents. Kirkland received the final Mortgage Transfer on December 14, 2009. The Trustee alleged that Kirkland engaged in a number of bad-faith acts prior to this date, yet the jury still determined that Kirkland received the Mortgage Transfers in good faith. To the extent that the Trustee’s equitable subordination claim is predicated upon the imputation to the BC Trust of Kirkland's conduct prior to December 14, 2009, the jury's good-faith finding has eliminated the claim. It is not possible for Kirkland to have engaged in inequitable conduct in good faith.

The jury's good-faith finding does not completely insulate the BC Trust from the Trustee's equitable subordination claim. The Trustee asserts that equitable subordination is warranted based on actions taken by Kirkland subsequent to December 14, 2009, including but not limited to actions taken by Kirkland in connection with his representation of EPD subsequent to the involuntary bankruptcy filing. The jury's finding that Kirkland acted in good faith with respect to his receipt of the Mortgage Transfers obviously says nothing about whether actions taken by Kirkland subsequent to receipt of the Mortgage Transfers were in good faith.

Although Kirkland assigned his interest in the Loan Documents to the BC Trust on September 9, 2009, the Trustee may still rely upon actions taken by Kirkland subsequent to that date in support of his equitable subordination claim. Kirkland's post-assignment actions may be imputed to the BC Trust for purposes of equitable subordination because Kirkland continued to act on behalf of the BC Trust post-assignment, as discussed above.

E. The BC Trust's Claim Attaches to Only Some of the Estate's Assets

Receipts generated from the Trustee's administration of the estate total $8,896,503.98. As explained below, the BC Trust's secured claim can attach to only $3,720,376.68 of these proceeds (the $3,615,817.85 collected in a settlement with Robert Geringer and the $104,558.83 collected from the liquidation of stock in Ice Skating Enterprises and Sidecreek Development).

1. The BC Trust's Secured Claim Does Not Attach to Proceeds from the Settlement of the Trustee's Avoidance Claims

The Trustee has collected $3,886,650.83 from the settlement of avoidance actions under § 548. As a matter of law, the BC Trust's secured claim cannot attach to these settlement proceeds.

In McGoldrick v. Juice Farms, Inc. (In re Ludford Fruit Prod., Inc.), 99 B.R. 18, 24–25 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1989), the court rejected a creditor's contention that it held a security interest in the recoveries obtained by the Trustee through the exercise of his avoidance powers. The Ludford Fruit court reasoned that "it is difficult to understand how an avoidance power action that springs into being with the commencement of a bankruptcy case could be the proceeds of any form of collateral.” Id.

The BC Trust cites In re Figearo, 79 B.R. 914, 918 (Bankr. D. Nev. 1987) for the proposition that proceeds collected from the settlement of a fraudulent transfer action may be subject to a creditor’s security interest. The Court declines to follow Figearo, which is contrary to Ludford Fruit. The leading treatise, Collier on Bankruptcy, is consistent with Ludford Fruit:

Some courts have ruled that, where the creditor has an independent right to recover the property in question, the creditor may claim an interest in that same property if and when it is recovered by the trustee pursuant to an avoiding power under the Bankruptcy Code. Under this reasoning, monies recovered as the result of a fraudulent transfer action sometimes are found to be "proceeds" of the creditor’s independent right to follow such monies when they are traceable into the hands of the transferee....

Once a bankruptcy case commences, however, because all recoveries under the avoiding powers are property of the estate, administered almost exclusively by the trustee for the benefit of the estate as a whole rather than for any creditor individually, it is difficult to see how such recoveries can be other than "after-acquired property" within the meaning of section 552(a), rather than proceeds of prepetition collateral under section 552(b)(1). This is true for fraudulent transfers as well as preferences, and no persuasive distinction seems possible along these lines. Prebankruptcy state law preferences exist, and may be asserted postbankruptcy under section 544(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. And the assertion by a trustee of state fraudulent transfer law under section 544(b) allows for an expanded recovery under the rule of Moore v. Bay, as well as section 550, underscoring the fact that the recoveries that are property of the estate under section 541(a)(3) are peculiarly postpetition in nature. Indeed, a creditor may not sue to recover a state law fraudulent transfer once a case in bankruptcy is commenced, because this would be taking a chose in action from the estate, thereby violating the automatic stay. On the whole, therefore, the more persuasively reasoned opinions do not permit secured creditors to share in recoveries obtained by bankruptcy trustees or estate representatives pursuant to the avoiding powers, even where such creditors may have independent, traceable rights to those funds.

The Court further notes that Figearo is contrary to the weight of authority and has not been followed by more recent cases. See, e.g., Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors v. UMB Bank, NA et al. (In re Residential Capital, LLC), 497 B.R. 403, 414 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2013) (declining to follow Figearo; holding that the Trustee's avoidance power claims "must be considered after-acquired property belonging to the estate"; and holding that "because the Debtor does not own the right to pursue a fraudulent transfer action in bankruptcy (since that action belongs to the trustee post-petition under section 554(b)), the Debtor could not have encumbered or assigned that right prepetition").

2. The BC Trust's Secured Claim Does Not Attach to Proceeds of the Luce Forward and Greenberg Traurig Settlements

Aggregate proceeds of the Luce Forward and Greenberg Traurig Settlements are $1,250,000.00 (consisting of $750,000.00 from the Luce Forward Settlement and $500,000.00 from the Greenberg Traurig Settlement). Both settlements released the firms from the Trustee's claims for "professional negligence" and "legal malpractice" arising in connection with actions Kirkland took or failed to take with respect to EPD. As such, the proceeds of the settlements qualify as a "commercial tort claim" pursuant to Cal. Com. Code § 9-204. See Cal. Com. Code § 9-102 (defining a "commercial tort claim" as "a claim arising in tort," provided that "[t]he claimant is an organization").

Although the Security Agreement giving rise to the BC Trust's secured claim provides for a security interest in "commercial tort claims," the BC Trust's secured claim does not attach to the proceeds of the Luce Forward and Greenberg Traurig Settlements for two reasons. First, a "security interest does not attach under a term constituting an after-acquired property clause to ... [a] commercial tort claim." Cal. Com. Code § 9-204(b)(2). The Editors' Note to § 9-204 explains:

Subsection (b)(2) provides that an after-acquired property clause in a security agreement does not reach future commercial tort claims. In order for a security interest in a tort claim to attach, the claim must be in existence when the security agreement is authenticated.

Editors' Note to Cal. Com. Code § 9-204.

Second, a security interest can attach to a commercial tort claim only if the security agreement adequately describes the claim. "A description only by type of collateral defined in this code is an insufficient description of ... [a] commercial tort claim." Cal. Com. Code § 9-108(e)(1). The Editors' Note to § 9-108(e) explains:

Under Section 9-204, an after-acquired collateral clause in a security agreement will not reach future commercial tort claims. It follows that when an effective security agreement covering a commercial tort claim is entered into the claim already will exist. Subdivision (e) does not require a description to be specific. For example, a description such as "all tort claims arising out of the explosion of debtor's factory" would suffice, even if the exact amount of the claim, the theory on which it may be based, and the identity of the tortfeasor(s) are not described. (Indeed, those facts may not be known at the time.)

Editors' Note Cal. Com. Code § 9-108.

Here, the Security Agreement states only that it applies to "commercial tort claims." That description lacks the necessary specificity. Even if a security agreement could attach to after-acquired commercial tort claims (which it cannot), a description such as "all tort claims arising from actions or inactions taken by Kirkland" would be necessary in order for the security interest to attach. [Note 17]

The BC Trust asserts that the Trustee cannot obtain summary judgment that the BC Trust's secured claim does not attach to the proceeds of the Luce Forward and Greenberg Traurig Settlements because the Complaint does not specifically allege that such proceeds are not subject to the BC Trust's claim. The BC Trust is mistaken. The Complaint alleges that the BC Trust's claim is subject to disallowance. Under Civil Rule 8, the Complaint is required to contain only "a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief," as well as "a demand for the relief sought ...." The allegation that the BC Trust's claim is subject to disallowance is sufficient to encompass the Trustee's contention that the claim cannot attach to the proceeds of the law firm settlements. The Trustee was not required to specifically allege in the Complaint that the BC Trust's claim could not attach to the law firm settlements in order to preserve this claim.

The BC Trust also argues that since the jury found that Kirkland acted in good faith, Kirkland cannot also be found to have committed a tort while at Greenberg Traurig or Luce Forward. This argument is unavailing. In determining that the proceeds of the Luce Forward and Greenberg Traurig Settlement qualify as "commercial tort claims," the Court is not finding that Kirkland, Luce Forward, Greenberg Traurig, or anyone else engaged in tortious conduct. Indeed, the Settlement Agreements expressly provide that the law firms do not admit to any wrongdoing. The only finding the Court is making is that for purposes of determining the scope of the BC Trust's secured claim, the subject matter of the settlements is a "commercial tort claim" within the meaning of the California Commercial Code.

Finally, in an effort to escape the California Commercial Code's limitations on the attachment of commercial tort claims, the BC Trust argues that proceeds of the law firm settlements are "general intangibles," rather than "commercial tort claims." The argument lacks merit. Cal. Com. Code § 9-102 defines a "general intangible" as "any personal property, including things in action, other than ... commercial tort claims ...." As discussed above, the Trustee's claims for professional negligence and legal malpractice qualify as commercial tort claims. Therefore, such claims cannot also qualify as general intangibles.

3. The BC Trust's Secured Claim Attaches to the Proceeds of the Settlement with Robert Geringer

The Trustee has collected $3,615,817.85 from a settlement with Robert Geringer (the "Geringer Settlement"). The settlement proceeds represent the amount that Geringer paid Pressman for stock in North Hills Industrial Park, Inc. ("NHIP"). The BC Trust asserts that its secured claim extends to the proceeds of the Geringer Settlement as a result of the Financing Statement. It contends that the UCC-3 recorded on May 5, 2010 that excepted the stock of NHIP from the scope of the Financing Statement is void because it was not authorized by the BC Trust. The Trustee argues that the UCC-3 is valid. He maintains that the BC Trust can be bound by Kirkland's actions because Kirkland continued to act on behalf of the BC Trust even though Poshow was designated as the sole Trustee; that the UCC-3 was transmitted for filing by Underkoffler, Kirkland's agent; and that consequently the BC Trust is bound by the UCC-3.

The Security Agreement states that its provisions may be modified only by a writing signed by the party against whom the modification is sought:

Neither this Security Agreement nor any provision hereof may be changed, waived, discharged or terminated orally but only by a statement in writing signed by the party against which enforcement of the change, waiver, discharge or termination is sought.

Pursuant to Cal. Com. Code § 9-509(d)(1), modifications to a financing statement are valid only if “the secured party of record authorizes the filing.” Here, the Security Agreement expressly provides that the secured party can modify the Security Agreement only through a signed writing. No signed writing modifying the Security Agreement has been produced. Therefore, the UCC-3, which purports to modify the scope of the assets secured by the Security Agreement, is invalid.

The absence of a signed writing authorizing the filing of the UCC-3 is dispositive as to the UCC-3’s validity. However, even if the Court were to disregard the plain language of the Security Agreement and determine that the scope of the BC Trust’s security could be altered by means other than a signed writing (a finding the Court does not make), the Trustee has not provided sufficient evidence in support of his agency theory to defeat summary adjudication. In support of the contention that Underkoffler caused the UCC-3 to be filed at Kirkland’s direction, the Trustee relies upon the following testimony from Underkoffler’s May 25, 2017 deposition:

Question: Would you have sent UCC statements for filing with National Corporate Research in relation to EPD if John Kirkland hadn’t authorized them in advance?

Answer: No.

Underkoffler Depo. at 70:12–15.

Taken in isolation, this testimony appears to suggest that Kirkland must have authorized Underkoffler to file the UCC-3. But at the same deposition, Underkoffler also testified that she did not recall any of the events surrounding the filing of the UCC-3. See Section III.E., above. Underkoffler has also clarified that her statement that she would not have sent the UCC-3 absent Kirkland’s authorization was based on her general practice as a legal secretary, and that she simply did not remember whether the UCC-3 was authorized by Kirkland or not. Id. Taken as a whole, Underkoffler’s testimony is that she does not remember what happened with respect to the UCC-3.

Further, to the extent that any conclusions can be drawn from the sparse record, the May 5, 2010 E-mail, which was sent to Underkoffler by Pressman’s assistant Katy Werner, suggests that Underkoffler filed the UCC-3 because Pressman wanted the filing done as soon as possible. The May 5, 2010 E-mail, which is addressed directly to Underkoffler, provides in its entirety:

May 5, 2010 E-mail [Adv. Doc. No. 432-2, Ex. 38].

Notably, the financing statements in question were not attached to the May 5, 2010 E-mail, so Kirkland could not have been aware of the scope of the UCC-3 even though he was copied on the May 5, 2010 E-mail. Kirkland became aware of the scope of the UCC-3 on May 24, 2010, after he told Underkoffler to run a lien search. See Section III.E., above. That Kirkland became aware of the UCC-3 several weeks after it was filed does not support the Trustee's position that Kirkland authorized the filing of the UCC-3 on behalf of the BC Trust.

4. The BC Trust's Secured Claim Attaches to Proceeds from the Trustee's Sale of Stock in Ice Skating Enterprises and Sidecreek Development

The Trustee has collected $54,558.83 from the sale of stock in Ice Skating Enterprises and $50,000.00 from the sale of stock in Sidecreek Development. The Trustee does not dispute that the BC Trust's secured claim attaches to the $104,588.83 in proceeds from these stock sales.

F. The Court Declines to Enter Final Judgment Pursuant to Civil Rule 54(b)

Where some but not all claims in an action have been adjudicated, Civil Rule 54(b) permits the Court to enter final judgment as to those claims that have been adjudicated, but "only if the court expressly determines that there is no just reason for delay." The Trustee requests that the Court enter final judgment under Civil 54(b) as to the claims that have been adjudicated. The Court declines to do so. Entering final judgment on only some of the claims would create unnecessary procedural complications with respect to any appeals that may be filed. Further, the District Court has not entered final judgment with respect to the claims against Kirkland. Since the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust are significantly intertwined with his claims against Kirkland, it would not be appropriate for this Court to enter a final judgment before the District Court has done so.

There have been significant developments in the case since the previous mediation. To provide the parties sufficient time to engage in mediation, the Court will continue the Pretrial Conference from December 15, 2020 to February 9, 2021 at 11:00 a.m.

VI. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Cross Motions for Summary Judgment filed by the Chapter 7 Trustee and the BC Trust are GRANTED IN PART and DENIED IN PART. The Court finds that the facts established by the jury trial, and/or the facts as to which there is no genuine dispute, support entry of the following findings:

- 1) The BC Trust holds an allowed secured claim in the amount of $1,950,613.41.
- 2) The BC Trust is not entitled to any interest on its claim because the Trustee is entitled to avoid the claim as an actually fraudulent transfer pursuant to § 548(a)(1)(A). Notwithstanding such avoidance, the BC Trust is entitled to a claim of $1,950,613.41 because it has established that it acquired the claim in good faith and for value pursuant to § 548(c).
- 3) The BC Trust's claim does not attach to (a) $3,886,650.83 in proceeds from the Trustee's settlement of avoidance actions or (b) $1,250,000.00 in proceeds from the Trustee's settlements with Luce Forward and Greenberg Traurig. The BC Trust's claim does attach to (a) $3,615,817.85 in proceeds from a settlement with Robert Geringer and (b) $104,588.83 in proceeds from the sale of stock in Ice Skating Enterprises and Sidecreek Development.
- 4) The BC Trust is entitled to summary adjudication in its favor on the Trustee's constructively fraudulent transfer claims.
- 5) Neither party is entitled to summary adjudication with respect to the Trustee's equitable subordination claim.

The Court will prepare and enter appropriate orders.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Andrew Lockridge or Daniel Koontz, the Judge's Law Clerks, at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 2

Adjudication on the merits was delayed as a result of a motion to compel arbitration brought by John Kirkland (the "Arbitration Motion"). A more detailed procedural history of the Arbitration Motion is set forth in Adv. Doc. No. 409.

Note 3

The BC Trust filed four duplicative proofs of claim. The BC Trust has acknowledged that it is entitled to only a single satisfaction on account of its claims and does not seek a duplicative recovery.

Note 4

In accordance with the Local Bankruptcy Rules, both parties have filed statements of facts which that party contends are not subject to genuine dispute (the "Statements of UMF"). In response to each Statement of UMF, each opposing party has filed an objection. In the objections, both parties assert that almost all of the facts set forth in the opposing party's Statement of UMF are disputed.

A "dispute about a material fact is 'genuine' ... if the evidence is such that a reasonable jury could return a verdict for the nonmoving party." Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248 (1986). "A party asserting that a fact is genuinely disputed within the context of a motion for summary judgment must cite 'to particular parts of materials in the record, including depositions, documents, electronically stored information, affidavits or declarations, stipulations ..., admissions, interrogatory answers, or other materials ...'" Civil Rule 56(c)(1)(A). Yoo v. Zeta Interactive (In re Blue Glob., LLC), 591 B.R. 433, 447 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2018) (citing Civil Rule 56(c)(1)(A)). The Court has reviewed the relevant portions of the record as to each fact which a party asserts is disputed, and has determined that many of the disputes are not genuine. For each fact set forth in this section, the Court cites to either the jury trial which establishes the fact, or to the portions of the record demonstrating that the fact is not subject to genuine dispute.

Pressman was the manager of EPD from 2003 through the end of 2010. Tr. 485:24–486:4 (testimony of Pressman). Keith Pressman, Pressman's son, held the title of president of EPD, but was not meaningfully involved in the management of the company. Tr. 486:8–13 (testimony of Pressman).

Note 6

For Payments made by check, the dates given are the date upon which the check was negotiated, not the date upon which Kirkland presented the check. See Barnhill v. Johnson, 503 U.S. 393, 399, 112 S. Ct. 1386, 1390, 118 L. Ed. 2d 39 (1992) (holding that a "transfer" under the Bankruptcy Code occurs upon the date a check is honored by the bank).

Note 7

At trial, Kirkland testified that the $150,000 Payment was made pursuant to the Loan Documents but did not elaborate upon whether the Payment was made to EPD or to an EPD affiliate. Tr. 375:17–20. The bank statement offered by Kirkland and the BC Trust to corroborate the payment shows a wire transfer in the amount of $150,000 from Kirkland's account, but does not specify the identity of the entity or person to whom the transfer was made. Adv. Doc. No. 424-7, Ex. 21. The declaration testimony submitted by Kirkland on August 26, 2020 likewise does not specify the entity or person to whom the transfer was made. Adv. Doc. No. 424-3 at ¶ 3 (Kirkland's testimony that on November 8, 2007, he made a Payment of $150,000 "directly to EPD, or at its direction and for its benefit").

Note 8

A given name is used to distinguish Poshow Ann Kirkland from John Kirkland. No disrespect is intended.

Note 9

The BC Trust asserts that it did provide consideration for assignment of the Loan Documents, because such assignment furthered the Kirklands' obligation to provide support for their children. There is no merit to the contention that a transfer in furtherance of the Kirklands' pre-existing legal obligation to support their children qualifies as consideration.

Note 10

The Trustee's objection to this testimony as hearsay is overruled. First, the Trustee waived any objection by not asserting it at the jury trial. Second, the testimony does not constitute hearsay. A statement is hearsay only if offered to "prove the truth of the matter asserted in the statement." The statement is not offered to prove that EPD filed the Financing Statement in 2007, because there is no dispute that EPD did not file the financing statement in 2007. The statement is offered only to show that Kirkland believed that the Financing Statement had been filed.

Note 11

The Trustee objects to this testimony, asserting that Underkoffler's deposition testimony was based on her personal knowledge and was not qualified. The Trustee's objection is overruled. Underkoffler is permitted to elaborate upon and clarify statements she made at her deposition.

Note 12

The Trustee's objection that this testimony is not based upon Underkoffler's personal knowledge is overruled. Underkoffler is testifying as to her understanding of the circumstances under which attorney approval for a filing is required. That is within the scope of her personal knowledge as a legal assistant.

Note 13

McKenna Long & Aldridge LLP merged with Luce Forward Hamilton & Scripps LLP as of March 6, 2012. The McKenna Long Settlement released claims against McKenna Long and its predecessor Luce Forward.

Note 14

The Trustee did not file a complaint against McKenna Long because a settlement was reached at mediation prior to the Trustee's deadline to file a complaint.

Note 15

The term "Remaining Kirkland Claims" is defined in substantially the same way in the McKenna Long Settlement and the Greenberg Traurig Settlement.

Note 16

The BC Trust argues that the Trustee has been provided a full and fair opportunity to litigate his claims against the BC Trust, because the Trustee could have argued at the jury trial that Kirkland was both an insider and a fiduciary. The argument is without merit. There is nothing in the District Court's order bifurcating the trial that required the Trustee to present to the jury all his allegations against Kirkland in order to preserve those allegations which were necessary to the Trustee's case against the BC Trust.

Note 17

Although commercial tort claims relating to Greenberg Traurig may have been in existence at the time the Security Agreement was executed, the commercial tort claims relating to Luce Forward were not yet in existence.

Docket 9

Tentative Ruling:

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) for cause to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court takes judicial notice of the Chapter 7 Individual Debtor's Statement of Intention in which the Debtor stated an intention to surrender the vehicle to Movant.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

Docket 17

Tentative Ruling:

10/30/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Movant has established a prima facie case that cause exists, and Debtor has not responded with evidence establishing that the property is not declining in value or that Movant is adequately protected.

The subject vehicle has a value of $8,500 and is encumbered by a perfected security interest in favor of the Movant. Considering Movant's lien, all senior liens against the property, and the estimated costs of sale, there is an equity cushion of $-4,719.27. There is no equity and there is no evidence that the property is necessary to a reorganization or that the trustee can administer the property for the benefit of creditors. Movant is protected by a 0% equity cushion in the property. The Ninth Circuit has established that an equity cushion of 20% constitutes adequate protection for a secured creditor. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral). Because the equity cushion in this case is less than 20%, the Court concludes that Movant's interest in the vehicle is not adequately protected. This is cause to terminate the stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Debtor's Motion for Entry of an Order (A) Extending the Exclusivity Periods and (B) Granting Related Relief (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 193]
2. Notice of Hearing on Debtor's Motion for Entry of an Order (A) Extending the Exclusivity Periods and (B) Granting Related Relief [Doc. No. 194]
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no objection is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and Debtor-in-Possession, Chineseinvestors.com, Inc. (the "Debtor") seeks an extension of the exclusivity periods under which it may file and solicit votes on a Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan"). The Debtor's exclusivity period to file the Plan expired on October 16, 2020. The Debtor's exclusivity period to solicit a vote with respect to the Plan expires on December 15, 2020. The Debtor seeks an order (1) extending the exclusivity period to file the Plan by 120 days, to and including February 13, 2021, and (2) extending the exclusivity period to solicit votes with respect to the Plan by 120 days, to and including April 14, 2021. This is the Debtor's first request for an extension.

The Debtor states that an extension of the exclusivity periods is necessary because of the large number of creditors (over 600) and problems with its cash management system. Declaration of Warren Wang ("Wang Decl.") at ¶¶ 3 & 7-8. The Debtor maintains an integrated cash management system that allows it to collect payments from Chinese nationals through its bank accounts in China, as well as through payment systems such as WeChat Pay and AliPay. Id. at ¶ 8. The Debtor has not yet finalized its cash management system, which it avers is integral to its operations, and has filed its second motion seeking to continue using its current cash management system. Id. at ¶ 14; see also Doc. No. 202. In addition, the Debtor began production of documents requested by the U.S. Trustee, but recently the parties agreed to the appointment of an examiner under § 1104, and the Debtor is now producing further documents to the examiner. Id. at ¶¶ 15-17.

The Debtor believes that it is appropriate to extend the deadlines to file the Plan and solicit votes because the examiner has not finished his report and the Debtor is still looking into raising new capital in order to help formulate the Plan. Motion at 8.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 1121(b) gives the Debtor the exclusive right to file a plan during the first 120 days after the date of the order for relief. If the debtor files a plan within the 120-day exclusivity period, §1121(c)(3) provides that exclusivity is extended for an additional 60 days to maintain exclusivity during the plan solicitation period. If the plan has not been accepted by holders of impaired claims before 180 days after the date of the order for relief, then the exclusivity period terminates, unless the debtor has obtained an extension. §1121(c)(3). Section 1121(d) permits the Court to reduce or increase the exclusivity period "for cause." Section 1121 provides the bankruptcy court "maximum flexibility to suit various types of reorganization proceedings." In re Public Service Company of New Hampshire, 88 B.R. 521, 534 (Bankr. D.N.H. 1988).

The Court finds that cause exists to extend the exclusivity periods in accordance with the Debtor's request. The Debtor has, so far, made some progress toward reorganization, is cooperating with the examiner, and has timely paid its bills and filed its monthly operating reports. An extension of the exclusivity periods will give the Debtor more time to file the Plan, and an extension does not appear as though it will prejudice creditors.

No. 49]
  3. Notice of Sale of Estate Property [Doc. No. 50]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Soul Hollywood, LLC (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary chapter 7 petition on July 5, 2019. The Debtor owned and operated a restaurant at the time this petition was filed. One of the assets scheduled by the Debtor is an On-Sale General Eating Place Liquor License #47-558177 (the "Liquor License"). On November 19, 2020, the Court approved the sale of the Liquor License for $90,000; however, the original buyer failed to fully fund the escrow account and refused to execute cancellation of the purchase agreement. See Doc. Nos. 34 & 44. On July 21, 2020, the Court terminated escrow and found the original buyer to be in default. See Doc. No 44.

Howard Ehrenberg, the chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee"), again seeks to sell the Liquor License. This time around, the purchaser is Streamusic Inc. (the "Purchaser") for the sum of $65,000, or its chosen nominee. The Trustee avers that the reduced purchase price is because the value of liquor licenses during the COVID-19 pandemic has drastically decreased. In addition, the Trustee is confident that the price is the highest and best he can obtain because his broker recently sold two licenses for the same amount. The Trustee further states that he is not aware of any liens encumbering the Liquor License. The sale is subject to overbids.

course of business, subject to court approval. The Trustee must articulate a business justification for the sale. In re Walter, 83 B.R. 14, 19–20 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 1988). Whether the articulated business justification is sufficient "depends on the case," in view of "all salient factors pertaining to the proceeding." Id. at 19–20.

The Trustee has demonstrated sufficient business justification for the sale, which will generate receipts of approximately $65,000 for the benefit of the estate. Therefore, the sale is in accordance with the Trustee's statutory obligation to liquidate the estate's assets.

B. Auction Procedures

In the event that any qualified overbidders emerge, the Trustee seeks approval of overbid procedures. The Court approves the overbidding procedures as laid out in the Sale Motion, which include: (1) any person interesting in submitting an overbid must attend the hearing on the Sale Motion or be represented by an individual with authority to participate in the process; (2) the initial overbid shall be $70,000.00 with subsequent overbids to be in increments of $1,000.00; (3) overbidders, except for the Purchaser, must deliver a deposit to the Trustee in the amount of $6,500.00 by wire prior to the hearing on the Sale Motion (the "Deposit"); (4) overbidders must purchase the Liquor License on the same terms and conditions as the Purchaser; (5) the Deposit of the overbidder shall be forfeited if such party is thereafter unable to complete the purchase of the Liquor License within 30 days of entry of the order confirming the sale; and (6) in the event that the successful overbidder cannot timely complete the purchase, the Trustee shall be authorized to proceed with the sale to the next highest overbidder.

C. Good Faith Purchaser

Section 363(m) protects the rights of good faith purchasers in a § 363(b) sale, mandating that "reversal or modification on appeal of an authorization under subsection (b) or (c) of this section of a sale or lease of property does not affect the validity of a sale under such authorization to an entity that purchased or leased such property in good faith . . ." See In re Ewell, 958 F.2d 276, 279 (9th Cir. 1992). Courts traditionally define a "good faith purchaser" as one who buys the property in "good faith" and for "value." In re Kings Inn, Ltd., 37 B.R. 239, 243 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 1984). Lack of good faith can be found through "fraud, collusion between the purchaser and other bidders or the trustee, or an attempt to take grossly unfair advantage of other bidders." In re Ewell, 958 F.2d at 281; In re Suchy, 786 F.2d 900,

Having reviewed the declarations submitted by the Trustee and Jason B. Kho, the broker who marketed the Liquor License, the Court finds that the Purchaser is a good faith purchaser entitled to the protections of § 363(m). In the event that an overbidder prevails at the auction, the Court will take testimony from such overbidder to determine whether §363(m) protections are warranted.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Sale Motion is GRANTED.

The Trustee is directed to lodge a proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within 7 days of the hearing. Notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h), the order approving the sale shall take immediate effect upon entry.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. Docket 37

11/5/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Movant has established a prima facie case that cause exists, and Debtor has not responded with evidence establishing that the property is not declining in value or that Movant is adequately protected.

The subject vehicle has a value of $27,125 (see Exhibit C to the Motion) and is encumbered by a perfected security interest in favor of the Movant. Considering Movant's lien, all senior liens against the property, and the estimated costs of sale, there is an equity cushion of $20,175.76. There is some, but very little equity and there is no evidence that the property is necessary to a reorganization or that the trustee can administer the property for the benefit of creditors. Movant is protected by a 25.6% equity cushion in the property. The Ninth Circuit has established that an equity cushion of 20% constitutes adequate protection for a secured creditor. Pistole v. Mellor (In re Mellor), 734 F.2d 1396, 1401 (9th Cir. 1984); see Downey Sav. &

Loan Ass'n v. Helionetics, Inc. (In re Helionetics, Inc.), 70 B.R. 433, 440 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 1987) (holding that a 20.4% equity cushion was sufficient to protect the creditor's interest in its collateral). Adequate protection, however, is a flexible concept and it must protect against the continued loss of value of the asset. Because this is not an appreciating asset and payments are not being made, the Court concludes that Movant's interest in the vehicle is not adequately protected. This is cause to terminate the stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

11/5/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

Scheduling Order at ¶ 5.

In the Joint Status Report [Doc. No. 5] filed on November 9, 2020, Defendant checked the box indicating that it does not consent to entry of a final judgment by the Bankruptcy Court. However, Defendant did not file a written objection to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of final judgment, as required by the Scheduling Order. Therefore, Defendant is deemed to consent to the Bankruptcy Court's authority to enter a final judgment.

- 2) The litigation dates previously ordered shall continue to apply, subject to an extension for good cause shown.
- 3) Informal discussions among the parties have resulted in settlements in a number of the preference actions filed in the Debtors' jointly-administered bankruptcy cases. Therefore, the Court will not order this matter to formal mediation at the present time. (Should the parties nonetheless desire the matter to be assigned to formal mediation at this time, the parties may submit an order so providing.) A continued Status Conference is set for February 2, 2021 at 10:00 a.m. If no settlement has been reached by the continued Status Conference, the Court will consider ordering the matter to formal mediation. A Joint Status Report, which shall discuss the status of settlement negotiations, shall be filed no later than fourteen days prior to the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Andrew Lockridge or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-day stay prescribed by FRBP 4001(a)(3) is waived. All other relief is denied.

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") reached a settlement in principal (the "Settlement") with Old World Precast, Inc. ("Defendant") in February 2020. An initial Status Conference to monitor the consummation of the Settlement was set for June 16, 2020 (the "Settlement Status Conference"). As a result of the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on Defendant's business, the Court continued the Settlement Status Conference to September 15, 2020.

On September 8, 2020, the Court continued the Settlement Status Conference to November 17, 2020 upon the Trustee's request. The Court stated that if Defendant had not executed the Settlement by the November 17 Settlement Status Conference, the Court would restore the action to the trial calendar and require Defendant to defend against the action.

Defendant has not executed the Settlement. The Trustee requests a further continuance of the Settlement Status Conference, arguing that prosecution of this action would not be an economical use of the estate's resources.

Notwithstanding the Trustee's request, the Court finds it appropriate to restore this action to the trial calendar. In the Court's experience, the existence of litigation deadlines is often the most effective means of facilitating a settlement.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS that the following litigation deadlines shall apply:

- 1) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 2/23/2021.
- 2) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 3/25/2021.
- 3) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 4/13/2021. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- 4) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 4/20/2021. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- 5) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 4/24/2021. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- 6) A Pretrial Conference is set for 5/11/2021 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- 7) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:

- a) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - b) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1. The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.
  - c) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(1)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.
  - d) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(1)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(1)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.
- 8) Trial is set for the week of 5/24/2021. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.

The Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee") and Defendants reached a settlement in principle; however, Defendants have not executed the settlement agreement. Defendants' counsel has requested that Defendants be provided additional time to execute the settlement agreement as a result of a family emergency. In the Court's experience, the existence of litigation deadlines is often the most effective means of facilitating a settlement. Therefore, the Court will restore this matter to the trial calendar as requested by the Trustee.

Having reviewed the Joint Status Report submitted by the parties, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) Defendant has timely demanded a jury trial in this avoidance action, has not filed a proof of claim against the estate, and consents to having the jury trial conducted by the Bankruptcy Court. Under these circumstances, Defendant is entitled to a jury trial. See Langenkamp v. Culp, 498 U.S. 42, 45 (1990) ("If a party does not submit a claim against the bankruptcy estate, however, the trustee can recover ... transfers only by filing what amounts to a legal action to recover a monetary transfer. In those circumstances the ... defendant is entitled to a jury trial."). Because both Plaintiff and Defendant have consented to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of final judgment, the jury trial will be conducted by the Bankruptcy Court. See Bankruptcy Rule 9015(b) (stating that the Bankruptcy Court may conduct a jury trial only with the consent of all parties).
- 2) Pursuant to Defendants' request, the litigation deadlines previously ordered shall be extended, as follows:
  - a) The last day to amend pleadings and/or join other parties is 12/31/2020.

- b) The last day to disclose expert witnesses and expert witness reports is 10/26/2021.
- c) The last day to disclose rebuttal expert witnesses and rebuttal expert witness reports is 11/25/2021.
- d) The last date to complete discovery relating to expert witnesses (e.g., depositions of expert witnesses), including hearings on motions related to expert discovery, is 12/14/2021. (For contemplated hearings on motions related to expert discovery, it is counsel's responsibility to check the Judge's self-calendaring dates, posted on the Court's website. If the expert discovery cutoff date falls on a date when the court is closed or that is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for hearings on expert discovery motions is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- e) The last day for dispositive motions to be heard is 12/21/2021. (If the motion cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for dispositive motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- f) The last day to complete discovery (except as to experts), including hearings on discovery motions, is 12/25/2021. (If the non-expert discovery cutoff date is not available for self-calendaring, the deadline for non-expert discovery motions to be heard is the next closest date which is available for self-calendaring.)
- g) A Pretrial Conference is set for 1/11/2022 at 11:00 a.m. By no later than fourteen days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must submit a Joint Pretrial Stipulation via the Court's Lodged Order Upload (LOU) system. Submission via LOU allows the Court to edit the Joint Pretrial Stipulation, if necessary. Parties should consult the Court Manual, section 4, for information about LOU.
- h) In addition to the procedures set forth in Local Bankruptcy Rule 7016-1(b), the following procedures govern the conduct of the Pretrial Conference and the preparation of the Pretrial Stipulation:
  - i) By no later than thirty days prior to the Pretrial Conference, the parties must exchange copies of all exhibits which each party intends to introduce into evidence (other than exhibits to be used solely for impeachment or rebuttal).
  - ii) When preparing the Pretrial Stipulation, all parties shall stipulate to the admissibility of exhibits whenever possible. In the event any party cannot stipulate to the admissibility of an exhibit, that party must file a Motion in Limine which clearly identifies each exhibit alleged to be inadmissible and/or prejudicial. The moving party must set the Motion in Limine for hearing at the same time as the Pretrial Conference; notice and service of the Motion shall be governed by LBR 9013-1.

The Motion in Limine must contain a statement of the specific prejudice that will be suffered by the moving party if the Motion is not granted. The Motion must be supported by a memorandum of points and authorities containing citations to the applicable Federal Rules of Evidence, relevant caselaw, and other legal authority. Blanket or boilerplate evidentiary objections not accompanied by detailed supporting argument are prohibited, will be summarily overruled, and may subject the moving party to sanctions.

iii) The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine complying with the requirements of ¶(2)(h)(ii) shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of an exhibit.

iv) Motions in Limine seeking to exclude testimony to be offered by any witness shall comply with the requirements set forth in ¶(2)(h)(ii), and shall be filed by the deadline specified in ¶(2)(h)(ii). The failure of a party to file a Motion in Limine shall be deemed a waiver of any objections to the admissibility of a witness's testimony.

i) Trial is set for the week of 1/24/2022. The trial day commences at 9:00 a.m. The exact date of the trial will be set at the Pretrial Conference. Consult the Court's website for the Judge's requirements regarding exhibit binders and trial briefs.

3) The matter shall be referred to the Mediation Panel. The parties shall meet and confer and select a Mediator from this District's Mediation Panel. Plaintiff will lodge a completed "Request for Assignment to Mediation Program; [Proposed] Order Thereon" (See Amended General Order 95-01 available on the Court's website) within 15 days from the date of this hearing, and deliver a hard copy directly to chambers c/o the judge's law clerk Daniel Koontz.

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion for Default Judgment is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Plaintiff's Motion for Default Judgment Under Local Bankruptcy Rule 7055-1 [Doc. No. 15] (the "Motion")
  - a) Request for Judicial Notice in Support of Motion for Default Judgment Under Local Bankruptcy Rule 7055-1 [Doc. No. 16]
  - b) Notice of Hearing on Plaintiff's Motion for Default Judgment [Doc. No. 17]
- 2) No opposition is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Khurram Mohammed ("Defendant") filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition on May 18, 2020. On August 27, 2020, Asma Ahmed ("Plaintiff") filed a dischargeability complaint (the "Complaint") against Defendant, asserting claims under § 523(a)(2)(A), (a)(2)(B), (a)(4), and (a)(6). On October 8, 2020, the Clerk of the Court entered Defendant's default. Plaintiff now moves for entry of default judgment. No opposition to the Motion is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Once default has been entered, the well-pleaded factual allegations of the complaint are taken as true. Cripps v. Life Ins. Co. of North America, 980 F.2d 1261, 1267 (9th Cir.1992). Based upon the Complaint's well-pleaded allegations and the evidence submitted in support of the Motion, the Court finds that Plaintiff is entitled to entry of default judgment.

Through the Complaint and the evidence submitted in support of the Motion, Plaintiff has established the following facts:

- 1) On May 4, 2017, Defendant contacted Plaintiff through Facebook to solicit a business partnership.
- 2) Plaintiff and Defendant discussed possible business partnerships during July 2017. Throughout these conversations, Defendant represented that he was a successful entertainment show promoter who routinely worked with prominent Bollywood actors and actresses. Defendant further represented that he had been involved in a number of financially successful business ventures.
- 3) Based on Defendant's representations, Plaintiff agreed to invest $50,000 in furtherance of a business partnership to co-produce a radio show entitled "From Bollywood to Hollywood Hot & Spicy Rakhi Sawant."
- 4) Plaintiff and Defendant arranged to meet so that Plaintiff could sign an investment contract pertaining to the radio show. Defendant insist that Plaintiff bring to the meeting a cashier's check, made payable to Defendant personally, in the amount of $50,000. Defendant stated that an attorney would be present at the contract signing to address Plaintiff's questions and concerns.
- 5) Plaintiff agreed to meet Defendant in San Jose to sign the contract. Plaintiff arrived in San Jose on September 16, 2017. Defendant picked up Plaintiff from the airport and took Plaintiff to a restaurant. The attorney that Defendant had promised would be present was not at the restaurant. Plaintiff was apprehensive and did not give Defendant the $50,000 cashier's check.
- 6) Defendant drove Plaintiff to her hotel and helped Plaintiff carry her bags to her room. Plaintiff went to the restroom while Defendant was waiting in the hotel room to receive a call from Defendant's attorney. Upon Plaintiff's return, Defendant abruptly informed Plaintiff that the attorney was unavailable and quickly left the hotel room.
- 7) Plaintiff returned home the next day. While unpacking, Plaintiff discovered that the $50,000 cashier's check was missing. Defendant was the last person in possession of the bag containing the cashier's check.
- 8) Plaintiff contacted the Chicago radio station that Defendant had claimed was going to air the radio show "From Bollywood to Hollywood." Plaintiff was informed that the radio station did not have a contract with Defendant to air the radio show.

- 9) When soliciting Plaintiff's involvement in the proposed business venture, Defendant represented that he was president of a company called Awaaz Production, Inc. ("Awaaz"). Upon further investigation, Plaintiff discovered that Awaaz had ceased operations in 2016.

Section 523(a)(2)(A)

Section 523(a)(2)(A) provides: "A discharge under section 727 ... of this title does not discharge an individual debtor from any debt for money, property, services, or an extension, renewal, or refinancing of credit, to the extent obtained by false pretenses, a false representation, or actual fraud, other than a statement respecting the debtor's or an insider's financial condition."

To prevail on a § 523(a)(2)(A) claim on the grounds of false pretenses or false representation, a creditor must prove that:

- 1) the debtor made the representations;
- 2) that at the time he knew they were false;
- 3) that he made them with the intention and purpose of deceiving the creditor;
- 4) that the creditor relied on such representations; and
- 5) that the creditor sustained the alleged loss and damage as the proximate result of the misrepresentations having been made.

Ghomeshi v. Sabban (In re Sabban), 600 F.3d 1219, 1222 (9th Cir. 2010).

Here, Plaintiff would not have arranged to meet Defendant in San Jose absent Defendant's false representations that he had a contract to produce the radio show "From Bollywood to Hollywood," that he was a successful entertainment show promoter, and that he was the president of Awaaz's. Defendant made these false representations deliberately, to lure Plaintiff into meeting with him so that Defendant could steal the cashier's check. Defendant's false representations proximately led to Plaintiff's loss, since absent the representations, Plaintiff would not have agreed to meet with Defendant and Defendant would not have had the opportunity to steal the check absent.

Plaintiff is entitled to default judgment against Defendant pursuant to § 523(a)(2)(A).

Section 523(a)(2)(B)

Section 523(a)(2)(B) excepts from discharge indebtedness obtained through use of a statement in writing:

- 1) that is materially false;
- 2) respecting the debtor's or an insider's financial condition;
- 3) on which the creditor to whom the debtor is liable for such money, property, services, or credit reasonably relied; and
- 4) that the debtor caused to be made or published with intent to deceive....

§ 523(a)(2)(B).

To prevail upon a claim under § 523(a)(2)(B), a creditor must satisfy, by a preponderance of the evidence, the following requirements:

- 1) a representation of fact by the debtor,
- 2) that was material,
- 3) that the debtor knew at the time to be false,
- 4) that the debtor made with the intention of deceiving the creditor,
- 5) upon which the creditor relied,
- 6) that the creditor's reliance was reasonable,
- 7) that damage proximately resulted from the representation.

In re Candland, 90 F.3d 1466, 1469 (9th Cir. 1996), as amended (Oct. 2, 1996).

The requirements are similar to those imposed by § 523(a)(2)(A), except that the creditor must make a heightened showing in two respects: (1) the representation at issue must be materially false (as opposed to simply false), and (2) the creditor's reliance must be reasonable (as opposed to justifiable).

A statement is "materially false if it includes information which is 'substantially inaccurate' and is of the type that would affect the creditor's decision making process. To except a debt from discharge, the creditor must show not only that the statements are inaccurate, but also that they contain important and substantial untruths." Candland, 90 F.3d at 1470.

Here, Defendant falsely represented to Plaintiff that he routinely engaged in financially successful business ventures. Defendant made these false representations to lure Plaintiff into meeting with Defendant, so that Defendant would have the opportunity to steal the cashier's check. As discussed above, Plaintiff would not have agreed to meet Defendant absent the false representations. The false representations were the proximate cause of Plaintiff's loss, because Defendant would not have had the opportunity to meet with Plaintiff and steal the check absent the representations. Plaintiff is entitled to default judgment against Defendant under § 523(a)(2)(B).

Section 523(a)(4)

Section 523(a)(4) excepts from discharge any debt arising on account of "larceny." Within the context of §523(a)(4), "larceny" means the "'felonious taking of another's personal property with intent to convert it or deprive the owner of the same.'" Ormsby v. First Am. Title Co. of Nevada (In re Ormsby), 591 F.3d 1199, 1205 (9th Cir. 2010).

Here, Defendant stole the $50,000 cashier's check from Plaintiff's luggage while Plaintiff was in the restroom. Plaintiff is entitled to default judgment against Defendant under § 523(a)(4).

"Section 523(a)(6) excepts from discharge debts arising from a debtor's 'willful and malicious' injury to another person or to the property of another. The 'willful' and 'malicious' requirements are conjunctive and subject to separate analysis." Plyam v. Precision Development, LLC (In re Plyam), 530 B.R. 456, 463 (9th Cir. B.A.P. 2015) (internal citations omitted).

An injury is "willful" when "a debtor harbors 'either subjective intent to harm, or a subjective belief that harm is substantially certain.'" The injury must be deliberate or intentional, 'not merely a deliberate or intentional act that leads to injury.'" Id. at 463 (internal citations omitted). When determining intent, there is a presumption that the debtor knows the natural consequences of his actions. Ormsby v. First Am. Title Co. of Nevada (In re Ormsby), 591 F.3d 1199, 1206 (9th Cir. 2010). An injury is "malicious" if it "involves '(1) a wrongful act, (2) done intentionally, (3) which necessarily causes injury, and (4) is done without just cause or excuse.'" Carrillo v. Su (In re Su), 290 F.3d 1140, 1146-47 (9th Cir. 2002) (internal citations omitted). "Within the plain meaning of this definition, it is the wrongful act that must be committed intentionally rather than the injury itself." Jett v. Sicroff (In re Sicroff), 401 F.3d 1101, 1106 (9th Cir. 2005).

In addition, the injury-producing conduct must be tortious in order to be excepted from discharge under §523(a)(6). Lockerby v. Sierra, 535 F.3d 1038, 1040 (9th Cir. 2008). "[C]onduct is not tortious under § 523(a)(6) simply because injury is intended or 'substantially likely to occur,' but rather is only tortious if it constitutes a tort under state law." Id. at 1041.

Defendant willfully injured Plaintiff by stealing the cashier's check. Defendant's subjective intent to inflict harm is established by the elaborate series of false statements Defendant made to Plaintiff in order to arrange the meeting that provided Defendant the opportunity to steal the check. Defendant's theft of the check was malicious, as it was an intentional and wrongful act that caused injury.

Plaintiff is entitled to default judgment against Defendant pursuant to § 523(a)(6).

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motion is GRANTED. Within seven days of the hearing, Plaintiff shall submit (1) an order granting the Motion, which incorporates this tentative ruling by reference and (2) a judgment of non-dischargeability. (Pursuant to Civil Rule 58, which provides that "every judgment ... must be set out in a separate document," both an order and a judgment must be submitted.)

For the reasons set forth below, a continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall take place on October 6, 2020 at 10:00 a.m.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Debtors-In-Possession's Post Confirmation Report on Status of Reorganization [sic] [Doc. No. 121] (the "Second Post-Confirmation Status Report")

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On November 14, 2019, the Court entered an Order Confirming Debtor's Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization [Doc. No. 103]. This is the second Post-Confirmation Status Conference. The Debtor asserts that she is current on all payments required under the Plan and foresees that she will continue making payments without issue. The Debtor claims that the preparation and submission of a motion for final decree has been hindered by the COVID-19 pandemic, among other personal reasons. She anticipates filing a final decree motion within the next 90 days.

As of the posting of this tentative ruling, no response or objection to the Second Post-Confirmation Status Report is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

No appearances required. A continued Post-Confirmation Status Conference shall be held October 6, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. A Post-Confirmation Status Report must be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing. The Debtor must file and serve a motion for a final decree such that the motion is heard prior to the date of the continued Status Conference. If a favorable order on the motion for a final decree is entered, the continued Status Conference will be vacated.

The Debtor shall submit an order setting the continued Status Conference within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than two days before the hearing.

On April 28, 2020, the Court entered a Scheduling Order [Doc. No. 15] finding that Defendant is entitled to a jury trial in this fraudulent transfer action. As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, it is not feasible for the Court to conduct a jury trial during the week of November 30, 2020, as previously ordered.

On July 17, 2020, the Court entered an order assigning this matter to mediation. Doc. No. 18. The record does not reflect whether this matter has been mediated. The Court will not try this matter until the parties have completed at least one day of mediation.

Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) A continued Pretrial Conference is set for February 9, 2021 at 11:00 a.m.
- 2) No later than fourteen days prior to the continued Pretrial Conference, the parties shall submit a Status Report discussing the results of the mediation.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Pretrial Conference.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Michael Stuart Brown (the "Debtor") commenced a voluntary chapter 11 petition on May 15, 2020. On May 29, 2020, the Debtor filed the Employment Application to retain Michael Chekian, Esq. (the "Debtor's Counsel") as his general counsel. The motion was unopposed and the Debtor filed a declaration stating that no party requested a hearing on the motion on June 16, 2020 [Doc. No. 26]. That same day, the Court entered the Employment Order. In the Employment Order, the court allowed for the Debtor's Counsel to file fee applications every 45 days, rather than the 120 days as prescribed by statute. Notably, the Debtor's Counsel did not include a request to file fee applications every 45 days anywhere in his Employment Application.

On July 29, 2020, the Debtor's Counsel filed his first application for compensation [Doc. No 55]. There were no oppositions, and the Court granted the application on August 20, 2020 [Doc. No. 58]. On October 16, 2020, the Debtor's Counsel filed his second application for compensation [Doc. No. 78].

On October 20, 2020, the United States Trustee (the "US Trustee") filed the instant Motion. The US Trustee argues that because Debtor's Counsel never made a formal request to file fee applications on a shortened time period, the Court should modify the Employment Order to revert back to the language of 11 U.S.C. § 331, which only allows for fee applications every 120 days. The US Trustee cites Federal Rules of Civil Procedure ("FRCP") 60(a), 60(b), and Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure ("FRBP") 9024, which allow the Court to correct an order if there has been a "clerical mistake" or any "mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect." The US Trustee believes that the filing of fee applications every 45 days in this case incurs excessive fees, which is not beneficial to the estate.

On November 3, 2020, the Debtor filed his opposition which argues that even though his counsel did not request to file fee applications every 45 days, it was inexcusable neglect for the US Trustee to not object earlier. In addition, the Debtor's Counsel argues that he has done a significant amount of time-intensive work in the Debtor's case, including filing and serving a chapter 11 plan and amended plan, and filing an adversary proceeding to determine title to the Debtor's principal residence. Furthermore, the Debtor's Counsel notes that the cost for preparation of the fee applications is minimal, at $137.50 for both of the applications.

On November 9, 2020, the US Trustee filed his Reply. The US Trustee underscores his arguments from the Motion, but responds to the Debtor's Counsel's contention that he is entitled to fees every 45 days. The US Trustee argues that Debtor's Counsel is not entitled to fees every 45 days because this is not a "rare circumstance" that warrants application of the Knudsen factors. In re Knudsen, 84 B.R. 668 (9th Cir. BAP 1988).

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

FRCP 60(a) reads: "[t]he court may correct a clerical mistake or a mistake arising from oversight or omission whenever one is found in a judgment, order, or other part of the record." In addition, FRCP 60(b)(1) reads: "[o]n motion and just terms, the court may relieve a party or its legal representative from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for the following reasons: . . . mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect." A court should correct a mistake where "what is written or recorded is not what the court intended to write or record . . . [t]he error can be corrected whether it is made by a clerk or by the judge." Blanton v. Anzalone, 813 F.2d 1574, 1577 (9th Cir. 1987).

It is undisputed that the Debtor's Counsel's Employment Application did not include a request to file fee applications every 45 days. The US Trustee had no notice of Debtor's Counsel's desire to file fee applications every 45 days, nor did he have any opportunity to object to that shortened application period. Debtor's Counsel's contentions that the US Trustee waited four months to address this issue, that he has provided substantial work product for the estate, and that the fees sought in connection with the applications are small, obfuscates the plain fact that Debtor's Counsel did not request to file fee applications every 45 days in the employment motion. The Court erred when it entered the Employment Order. That the Employment Order includes such language is clearly a mistake on the Court's part, and not the fault of the US Trustee. Entering the Employment Order with this provision was improvident.

In addition, In re Commercial Consortium of California, 135 B.R. 120 (Bankr.

C.D. Cal. 1991) cited by Movant is inapposite for a number of reasons. First, while the Commerical Consortium court may have believed that the 120-day provision was a "straight-jacket for lawyers of the '90s" (Id. at 123) Congress has had numerous opportunities to amend § 331 since, but has not done so. Second, although the amount of work debtor's counsel must complete in the first few weeks of a Subchapter V case is extraordinary, there is nothing in Subchapter V that renders inapplicable the 120-day provision. Third, the instant Motion is to correct an error in an order that this Court entered, not to determine the validity of the Debtor's Counsel's argument that he is entitled to seek fees every 45 days.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED and the court will enter an amended order. The order is without prejudice to counsel filing a motion seeking payment on a less than 120-day basis.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Andrew Lockridge at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Chapter 11

ChineseInvestors.com, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary Chapter 11 petition on June 19, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). The Debtor is a financial information web portal that offers news and information regarding financial markets in Chinese. The Debtor also provides investor relations services for companies requiring Mandarin language support, which includes (a) translating client releases into English from Mandarin or vice versa, (b) increasing awareness of clients and their stock, and (c) helping clients move from the pink sheets to more established public securities exchanges.

On July 15, 2020, the Debtor filed an Emergency Motion for Interim and Final Orders Authorizing Debtor to Continue Using Existing Cash Management System and Chinese Bank Accounts Nunc Pro Tunc [Doc. No. 71]. In that motion, the Debtor argued that it needed to use Chinese bank accounts so it could pay its sales representatives located in Shanghai. In addition, the Debtor argued that it needed to use personal WeChat Pay and AliPay accounts (the "Cash App Accounts") in order to collect small sums from customers in Chinese renminbi ("RMB"). WeChat is a multi-purpose messaging, social media, and mobile payment application developed by Tencent that is widely used in China. On July 20, 2020, the United States Trustee (the "US Trustee") filed an objection [Doc. No. 85]. The US Trustee argued that the Debtor had not provided adequate assurances that the funds located in the Chinese accounts would not be transferred, manipulated, or frozen during the pendency of the bankruptcy. The US Trustee also expressed concern over the difficulty in monitoring the Chinese accounts, including the Cash App Accounts.

On July 22, 2020, the Court held a hearing on the matter and subsequently denied the motion without prejudice [Doc. Nos. 96 & 101]. The Court agreed with the US Trustee and determined that the Debtor had failed to show how use of the Chinese accounts could be effectively overseen by the US Trustee. The Court also noted that use of a non-approved account increases the risk that the funds could be frozen or seized by the Chinese government.

B. Summary of the Cash Management Motion

On October 13, 2020, the Debtor filed its second Cash Management Motion. In its Motion, the Debtor addresses a number of the Court's concerns.

The Debtor's primary revenue source consists of subscription payments received from mainly Chinese investors. The Debtor maintains an office in Shanghai, China for its sales representatives (the “Shanghai Sales Office”). Sales representatives at the Shanghai Sales Office use their personal Cash App Accounts to collect subscription revenues in RMB. Funds are then transferred from the sales representatives’ Cash App Accounts to the Debtor’s accountant via WeChat Pay or AliPay. The accountant, who is based in China, converts the funds to cash, deposits the cash in the office safe, and uses the cash to pay expenses incurred by the Shanghai Sales Office. This is necessary because according to Chinese government regulations, the bank account used by the Shanghai Sales Office (the “Bank of China Account”) cannot accept any money except for wire transfers from the Debtor’s DIP accounts in the United States.

All Cash App Account transactions are reported to the Debtor’s accountant in the United States for audit as soon as they are received. Funds collected by the Shanghai Sales Office using the Cash App Accounts are deducted from the monthly wire transfer that the Debtor sends to the Bank of China Account to pay for expenses of the Shanghai Sales Office. The Shanghai Sales Office accounts for 90% of the revenue of the Debtor, and of that, 14% is collected using the personal Cash App Accounts (therefore, approximately 12.6% of the Debtor’s revenue comes from Cash App Accounts using RMB). Between the filing of the first cash management motion and the instant Cash Management Motion, the Debtor has conducted extensive research into alternative forms of payment. The Debtor investigated the use of Line Pay, WhatsApp Pay, TransferWise, XendPay, and business WeChat Pay accounts. The Debtor was unable to find any other payment system that could take the place of its current Cash App Accounts. See Motion at 15-16 n.7. The Debtor also contends that there cannot be a risk of fraud with the Cash App Accounts because if a client pays a sales representative via WeChat Pay or AliPay, the sales representative must report the payment in order to activate the client’s account; if he does not activate the account, the client would complain and the fraud would be discovered.

The Debtor previously had two US bank accounts at JP Morgan Chase: an operating and payroll account and a business account that was previously used solely to process payments received by check. The Debtor then opened DIP accounts at Wells Fargo and East West Bank (“East West Accounts”). However, the only remaining DIP accounts are the East West Accounts, as the others were closed by Chase and Wells Fargo, respectively. The Debtor has two bank accounts based in China: the Bank of China Account, and an account at Shanghai Pudong Development Bank (the “Shanghai Newcoins Account”).

Funds at the Bank of China Account are used to pay payroll, taxes, and general operating expenses for the Shanghai Sales Office. Chinese government regulations prohibit the Shanghai Sales Office from collecting any money. Instead, funds to operate the Shanghai Sales Office must be wired from the Debtor's East West Accounts in the United States to the Bank of China Account. The Debtor avers that if it were required to close the Bank of China Account, it would be unable to pay the employees who bring in 90% of the Debtor's revenues. In addition, the Debtor investigated opening an East West bank account in China in lieu of its Bank of China Account to allow the US Trustee to more effectively oversee its operations. See Motion at 18 n.9. However, the Debtor will remain unable to send any money from any bank account in China to a United States account, given the Chinese capital controls. The Debtor has categorically stated that there is no account that it can open at East West or the Bank of China that will allow it to transfer funds in RMB to an approved United States DIP account. Id. In addition, opening a bank account in China is a lengthy process with no guarantee of success.

In April 2018, the Debtor established NewCoins168.com Digital Media Technology Ltd. (Shanghai) ("Shanghai Newcoins"), a wholly-owned subsidiary. Approximately 95% of Shanghai Newcoins' cash flow is comprised of funds that the Debtor transfers to the Shanghai Newcoins Account from its US operations. The remaining 5% comes from investor relations revenue collected in RMB. The Shanghai Newcoins account is the only account the Debtor has that can accept some deposits in RMB. Shanghai Newcoins employs professional financial editors and analysts that support the Debtor's business. Shanghai Newcoins was established in China because the cost of labor is lower than in the United States. Employees of Shanghai Newcoins are paid from the Shanghai Newcoins Account. If the Debtor closed the Shanghai Newcoins Account, Shanghai Newcoins would no longer be able to retain the employees who support the Debtor's business, which would in turn deprive the Debtor of the majority of its revenues.

C. Summary of the US Trustee's Opposition

On October 28, 2020, the US Trustee filed his Opposition. The US Trustee argues that the Debtor's second Cash Management Motion is substantially similar to its first. The US Trustee believes that the Cash Management Motion fails to adequately set forth why the proposed cash management system is necessary rather than convenient. Opposition at 1-2. The crux of the US Trustee's argument is that the cash management system violates the US Bankruptcy Code and the Debtor provides insufficient evidence to support its position. Id. at 2.

The US Trustee expresses concerns over why the Debtor cannot use an East West Bank Account in China because, even though East West Bank cannot wire funds to the United States, by the Debtor's own admission it does not wire funds to the United States; all funds acquired in China stay in China. Opposition at 3. Moreover, the US Trustee states that "[t]here are no safeguards to protect the Chinese government from freezing these accounts during the pendency of the bankruptcy." Id. The US Trustee also casts doubt on the Debtor's contention that it cannot operate without an East West Bank account in China because the Debtor has, on at least one occasion, paid the rent for its Shanghai office directly from its US DIP accounts. Id.

Finally, the US Trustee avers that use of personal Cash App Accounts should not be allowed because the Debtor has not provided sufficient evidence that it is unable to use a centralized business account or open up a business account. Id. at 4. The US Trustee speculates that Chinese merchants likely use business accounts rather than individual employee accounts, and therefore the Debtor should do the same. Id.

D. Summary of the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors' Joinder

On October 29, 2020, the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") filed its Joinder. The Committee also expresses concern over the Debtor's use of personal Cash App Accounts because it believes the "opportunity for dissipation of such funds is extremely troublesome." Committee's Joinder at 2. The Committee further emphasizes that all funds from the Debtor ought to be held in an approved depository bank, whether that be in China or the United States. Id.

E. Summary of the Debtor's Reply

On November 3, 2020, the Debtor filed its Reply. The Debtor argues that its business model is complex and it is required to have personnel in China to conduct research, analysis, subscription sales, and compliance. Reply at 7. The Debtor again argues that there is no domestic bank that does business in China that can meet its needs, and without its current system in China it will be unable to continue its business operations. Id. at 7-8.

The Debtor's operations in China account for almost 90% of its subscription revenues, and are made up of three identifiable segments: "(1) the Shanghai Rep Office Sales responsible for subscription sales; (2) the use of New World Technology payment sources used to capture subscription revenues in RMB that would otherwise be lost; and (3) the Shanghai Newcoins Office, which provides service and support for the Debtor's educational subscription platform as well as international investor relations sales/services." Id. at 8-9. The Debtor believes that it has sufficiently show that "cause" exists to modify the requirements of 11 U.S.C. § 345(b). The Debtor then cites the Wang Declaration to argue that its business is highly sophisticated, has extensive operations, large amounts of funds invested, and this represents a complex case. Id. at 10; see also Declaration of Warren Wang ("Wang Decl.") at ¶¶ 3-16 [Doc. No. 71]. Furthermore, the Debtor avers that it simply would not be able to function without its current cash management system in place because it could not pay its employees in the Shanghai Newcoins Office, nor could it collect subscription revenues in RMB via Cash App Accounts. Id. at 11. The Debtor also cites In re Aerovias, Nacionales de Colombia S.A. Case No. 03-11678 (ALG) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. June 4, 2003) (unpublished opinion), along with numerous other cases, for the proposition that courts are willing to allow debtors to maintain foreign bank accounts. Id. at 11-12.

The Debtor contends that there are plenty of safeguards built into its cash management system. Id. at 12. The Debtor explains: "[w]ith regard to the Bank of China Account, as part of the Debtor's Cash Management system, all supporting documentation for cash withdrawals and cash payments showing exactly what the cash was used for is reviewed on a daily basis by Suiqing Wu, the accountant for the Shanghai [Sales] Office, and provided to the Debtor's US Accountant for review approval." Id. Furthermore, the Debtor clarifies that the bulk of its subscription revenues are collected in US dollars and deposited into the Debtor's DIP account, and 14% of the subscription revenue was collected using personal Cash App Accounts. Id. at 12-13. Finally, the Debtor argues that nunc pro tunc relief is warranted because this issue has been ongoing and the Debtor has engaged in extensive discussions with the US Trustee and the Committee, and explored alternatives to Chinese bank accounts and personal Cash App Accounts. Id. at 13-14.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. Use of Foreign Depositories

Local Bankruptcy Rule ("LBR") 2015-2 requires that debtors-in-possession comply with guidelines and requirements issued by the US Trustee. 11 U.S.C. § 345 requires that estate property be deposited in authorized depository institutions “unless the Court for cause orders otherwise.” In determining whether there is cause to allow the Debtor to depart from § 345, courts conduct a totality of the circumstances inquiry and look to the following factors:

1. The sophistication of the debtor’s business;
2. The size of the debtor’s business operations;
3. The amount of investments involved;
4. The bank ratings (Moody’s and Standard and Poor) of the financial institutions where debtor-in-possession funds are held;
5. The complexity of the case;
6. The safeguards in place within the debtor’s own business of insuring the safety of the funds;
7. The debtor’s ability to reorganize in the face of a failure of one or more of the financial institutions;
8. The benefit to the debtor;
9. The harm, if any, to the estate; and
10. The reasonableness of the debtor’s request for relief from § 345(b) requirements in light of the overall circumstances of the case.

In re Serv. Merch. Co., Inc., 240 B.R. 894, 896 (Bankr. M.D. Tenn. 1999).

“Particularly in chapter 11 cases where the debtor in possession is a large company with diversified investments under a sophisticated cash management system, courts are more prone to waive the requirements of 345(b)(2) on a permanent or an interim basis.” 3 COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 345.04 (16th ed. 2020).

While the Court maintains serious reservations about the Debtor’s use of foreign depositories, the court finds that without said depositories, the Debtor and the Debtor’s bankruptcy would run a significant risk of failure. Courts have flexibility in whether to require strict compliance with § 345. See In re Ditech Holding Corp., 605 B.R. 10, 17 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2019) (finding that “[t]he legislative history [of § 345(b)] is clear that including that language, the draftsmen intended to afford courts with flexibility in addressing the challenges of strict compliance with the deposit and investment requirements of section 345.”).

A request to continue using foreign bank accounts is unusual, but it is not unheard of. For example, in In re Maxcom USA Telecom, Inc., the Debtor was a Mexican telecommunications company (“Maxcom”) with a complex cash management system. Case No. 19-23489 (RDD) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2019). The Court allowed Maxcom to continue using its collection accounts, whereby it would collect funds in Mexican pesos in Mexican bank accounts at depositories that were not approved by the US Trustee. One of its accounts, held at BBVA Bancomer in Mexico, collected payments in pesos from clients, and the funds were then used to pay off a debt at another Mexican bank, Banconext. Id. at Doc. Nos. 27 & 73. The Court determined that despite having over a dozen bank accounts at unapproved depositories, without them, Maxcom would not be able to function. The case at bar is not dissimilar to either In re Maxcom USA Telecom, Inc. or to many others like it in the Southern District of New York. See also In re Aerovias, Nacionles de Colombia S.A., Case No. 03-11678 (ALG) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. June 4, 2003) (unpublished opinion) (allowing the debtor to continue use of foreign bank accounts); In re Avaya Inc., Case No. 17-10089 (SMB) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Mar. 31, 2017) [Doc. No. 341] (unpublished opinion) (same); In re Inversiones Alsacia S.A., Case No. 14-12896 (MG) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Dec. 4, 2014) [Doc. No 99] (unpublished opinion) (same); In re Eagle Bulk Shipping, Case No. 14-12303 (SHL) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Sept. 19, 2014) [Doc. No. 100] (unpublished opinion) (same).

Similar to In re Maxcom, the Debtor here is requesting to use foreign bank accounts to collect foreign funds, keep the funds in a foreign country, and use those funds to pay for a foreign expense. While the Debtor’s business is not as large as some of the above-cited cases, the investment amounts are still substantial and it is evident that failure to continue using its foreign depositories will impose a severe strain on its business and could ultimately lead to its demise. See Wang Decl. at ¶ 15 (“Debtor recorded total WeChat Pay sales over the last 60-days of: May RMB 430,314.85/$60,765.69; and June RMB 277,620/$39,217.00”). If the Debtor cannot pay its employees in China out of its existing bank accounts, its operations would be crippled, as 90% of its subscription revenue is tied to the employment of those sales representatives who solicit business and provide financial analysis [Note 1]. See Wang Decl. at ¶ 10 (“If the Debtor were forced to lose the Shanghai Newcoins account, the Debtor would lose the ability to recruit, retain and pay these valuable employees that the Debtor’s investor clients rely upon to provide complex financial analysis and services, and the Debtor would lose investor relations clients that can or will only pay in RMB.”). There is no approved depository that the Debtor can bank with in China that allows it to collect RMB. If it is unable to collect any RMB, it would lose out on 14% of its sales in the Shanghai Sales Office, and 5% of its revenues in the Shanghai Newcoins Office – a not insubstantial amount of money. See Wang Decl. at ¶ 7.

The Trustee argues that the Debtor has not shown that it cannot use an East West DIP account based in China; however, the Debtor explicitly states:

Establishing a banking relationship is very difficult a[nd] can take months, or longer. There is significant documentation that must be provided to open an account, and thereafter to make deposits and withdrawals and government approval is required to open and then for each deposit and/or withdrawal. There is no stated time frame for this process.

Motion at 21 n.11. While it would certainly be more convenient for the US Trustee if the Debtor could simply open an East West account today, it is evident that it could take a long time to get approved, or it may never get approved. Requiring the Debtor to cease operations immediately and divert funds into a new account would render it unable to pay employees, collect funds in RMB, and continue its operations.

While the US Trustee’s concern over the Chinese government freezing funds is valid, there is nothing to say that it could not freeze funds at East West Bank either, given China’s strict capital controls. Moreover, the Bank of China has a higher credit rating than East West Bank. Compare Bank of China: Credit Rating (as of 12/12/2019), https://www.boc.cn/en/investor/ir4/201311/t20131114\_2637906.html, with East West Bank: Credit Ratings, <http://investor.eastwestbank.com/financial-information/credit-ratings/default.aspx>.

While the Court is prepared to grant the Debtor’s Cash Management Motion with respect to its foreign depositories, the Debtor must also immediately begin the process of attempting to open an approved East West account in China. The Court acknowledges that such an account may prove difficult to open, but the Debtor must attempt to do so. The Court is keenly aware of the US Trustee’s need for clear and effective oversight, something that would be far easier if the Debtor were to be using an approved depository. In the meantime, the Debtor will likely need to provide much more detailed financial reports as to which monies are in which accounts, and which have left, as well as bank statements, in order to address some of the concerns of the US Trustee.

B. Use of Cash App Accounts

The Debtor's next request in its Cash Management Motion is for approval to allow continued use of the personal Cash App Accounts. 11 U.S.C. § 363(c)(1) allows a debtor-in-possession to "enter into transactions, including the sale or lease of property of the estate, in the ordinary course of business, without notice or a hearing, and may use property of the estate in the ordinary course of business without notice or hearing." Courts frequently treat motions to continue using an existing cash management system as relatively "simple matters." In re Matter of Baldwin-United Corp., 79 B.R. 321, 327 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 1987). Indeed, the Bankruptcy Code is designed to allow a debtor-in-possession "the flexibility to engage in ordinary transactions without unneeded oversight by creditors or the court." In re Crystal Apparel, Inc., 207 B.R. 406, 409 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1997). The Court acknowledges that this is an unusual request and likewise expresses concern over the use of these personal Cash App Accounts. Again, however, it appears as though there is no viable alternative for the Debtor.

Court oversight for business transactions is generally only required when there is a risk of dissipation of funds. The Debtor explains in great detail the way the Cash App Accounts work and how there is little to no room for fraud. For every transaction, screenshots are taken of each transaction and the funds are transferred from the personal accounts to the Debtor's accountant in the Shanghai Sales Office. Motion at 16. The transactions are all reported to the Debtor's domestic accountants for audit as soon as they are received. After the funds are accounted for, only two individuals have access to activate membership accounts. Id. at 19. Notably, the potential for fraud seems quite low because if one of these sales representatives in China or anyone in the Shanghai Sales Office were to skim funds and cheat a customer, the customer's investment account would never be activated, and he or she would complain that he or she had not received the promised product. Id. at 19 n.10.

The Trustee contends that the Debtor has not proven that there are no alternatives to the various Cash App Accounts it uses. Opposition at 4. However, the Debtor responds that it has looked into multiple other payment systems (Line Pay, WhatsApp Pay, TransferWise and XendPay) and none of them meet the Debtors needs. Motion at 15-16 n.7. In addition, the Debtor states that it has contacted WeChat in an attempt to open a single corporate account, but to no avail. Therefore, the Court finds that the Debtor has provided evidence sufficient for the court to find that without the Cash App Accounts, it will be unable to collect funds in RMB to run its Chinese operations. Furthermore, the Court is satisfied that here are adequate safeguards in place to meet any concerns over dissipation of funds. With that being said, as with the use of the foreign depositories, the Debtor will likely need to provide the US Trustee, upon its request, with any transactional information to allow it to perform its oversight authority.

C. Other Related Relief

The Debtor also requests that the Court issue an order granting administrative expense status to transfers to its non-debtor affiliates. The Debtor's argument is the exact same in this Cash Management Motion as it was in the first. Therefore, the Debtor's request is again denied. The Debtor has failed to show why it is necessary for this relief to be granted. According inter-company transfers administrative expense status affects all creditors of the estate. That is why administrative status is accorded only to claimants who can show, after notice and a hearing, that their claims qualify as an "actual" and "necessary" cost of preserving the estate. It is not appropriate for the Court to prospectively accord administrative status to future intercompany transfers that have not yet even been identified. To the extent that inter-company transfers are made in the ordinary course of business, court approval is not required. See 11 U.S.C. § 363(c)(1). But such transfers will be accorded administrative status only upon the granting of a motion brought under § 503(b).

The Debtor also requests that post-petition intercompany transfers be deemed a loan to the non-debtor affiliate, rather than a contribution of capital. Again, the Debtor's argument is the same in this Cash Management Motion as it was in the prior motion. The Debtor has provided no detail as to the nature of these future transfers. The Debtor may seek such relief by way of a properly noticed motion that sets forth in detail the basis for the characterization of such transfers.

Finally, because the Debtor has maintained its cash management system while engaging in research for alternatives and while in communications with the US Trustee, it requests nunc pro tunc treatment. The Debtor's request is granted.

III. Conclusion

As a final note, it appears to the Court that the longer this bankruptcy goes on without a typical cash management system, the less faith the Court will have in the Debtor's ability to restructure. Therefore, by no later than Friday, January 8, 2021, the Debtor must have a disclosure statement on file.

To the extent set forth above, and subject to the modifications as set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED. The Debtor is authorized to use its Chinese bank accounts and continue using its Cash App Accounts.

The Debtor shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Andrew Lockridge or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: The US Trustee argues that because the Debtor appears to have paid for rent in Shanghai from its US bank accounts, it should be able to pay Chinese employees from US bank accounts. However, rent and salaries are different. Although the Debtor may have been able to pay for its Shanghai rent using a US bank account, that does not mean that it would be able to pay its Chinese employees' salaries in the same fashion.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

A. Background

Hakop Jack Aivazian (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition on October 16, 2018. On his Schedule A/B, he listed three properties:

- 1) 1728-1730-1734 E. Woodbury Avenue, Pasadena, CA 91104 (the "Woodbury Property")
- 2) 1434 N. Sierra Bonita Avenue, Pasadena, CA 91104 (the "Sierra Property")
- 3) 1257 N. Oxford Avenue, Pasadena, CA 91104 (the "Oxford Property")

The Debtor (perhaps through the fault of his then counsel) did not comply with various chapter 11 requirements and the United States Trustee (the "UST") moved to convert the case to chapter 7 on December 18, 2018 [Doc. No. 21]. On January 15, 2019, this Court granted the motion and converted the case to chapter 7 [Doc. No. 33]. Shortly thereafter, on January 22, 2019, Brad Krasnoff was appointed as chapter 7 trustee (the "Trustee").

At some point prior to the April 30, 2019 meeting of creditors (the "Meeting of Creditors"), the Debtor attempted to refinance the Woodbury Property, which (if approved by the court) would have allowed him to pay off the secured creditors on that property and leave him with approximately $162,000 in funds that he could use to bring his loans current on the Oxford Property. However, the proposed lender would not proceed with the refinancing absent a court order or dismissal of the case. On April 19, 2019, the Debtor filed a motion to dismiss [Doc. No. 50]. The Trustee responded on April 26, 2019 [Doc. No. 54], and then on April 30, 2019, the Meeting of Creditors occurred.

At the Meeting of Creditors, the Trustee sought clarification on the refinancing arrangement. See Transcript of Meeting of Creditors. The Trustee calculated that there was between $500,000 and $600,000 worth of equity in the Woodbury Property, and was unsure if refinancing was in the best interest of creditors. Transcript of Meeting of Creditors at 14, lines 7-11. The Trustee expressed doubt as to whether refinancing the property at a high interest rate made more sense than liquidating the property. Id. at 18, lines 1-5. On May 1, 2019, the Trustee filed a supplemental declaration stating that on April 30, 2019, after filing his response to the motion to dismiss, he examined the Debtor at the continued Meeting of Creditors. The Trustee stated that the Debtor testified under oath that no refinancing transaction regarding the Woodbury Property had closed either pre or post-petition, and that he believed the Woodbury Property was worth approximately $1,500,000 with approximately $900,000 in liens against it. Declaration of Brad D. Krasnoff at ¶ 5 ("Krasnoff Decl.") [Doc. No 58]. The Trustee was investigating the value of the Woodbury Property and the extent of the liens against it to determine whether it contained any realizable net equity that the Trustee could administer for the benefit of creditors. Id. at ¶ 6. The Trustee further noted that although the claims bar date had not yet passed, eleven claims had been filed to date and unsecured claims appeared to be at least $59,512.24. Id. at ¶ 7. Therefore, the Trustee believed that dismissal was not in the best interest of creditors because there was a possibility that funds could be generated for unsecured creditors.

On May 15, 2019, the Court held a hearing denying the motion to dismiss, noting that the Debtor had failed to establish "cause" to dismiss the case. See Ruling on Motion to Dismiss [Doc. No. 67]. The Court also indicated that it was unclear what the Debtor owed to unsecured creditors, as the Trustee had not yet noticed a claims bar date. As of May 15, 2019, the unsecured claims were $59,512.24. Finally, the Court opined that even if the case was dismissed, there was no guarantee that the Debtor would pay off his debts outside of bankruptcy. Following the denial of the motion to dismiss, the Debtor substituted new bankruptcy counsel.

Concurrently, on March 13, 2019, the UST filed a motion to disgorge fees from Counsel [Doc. No. 40]. Counsel did not respond to the UST's motion and on April 19, 2019, the Court entered an Order granting the UST's motion and ordering Counsel to return $8,000 to the Trustee by May 19, 2019 (the "Disgorgement Order") [Doc. No. 49]. On May 7, 2019, Counsel filed a motion for reconsideration regarding the Disgorgement Order [Doc. No. 61]. On July 11, 2019, the Court granted the motion for reconsideration, and reduced the disgorgement sum from $8,000 to $4,500.

On October 30, 2019, the Trustee filed a Motion to Approve Compromise with Hakop Jack Aivazian (the "Motion to Approve Compromise") [Doc. No. 130]. In the Motion to Approve Compromise, the Debtor was to pay the Trustee $162,103.05 (the "Compromise Sum") and in return the Trustee would cooperate with the Debtor's proposed refinancing of the Woodbury Property. The Woodbury Property was encumbered by liens in the amount of $744,060.00. The Trustee calculated that, after the claims bar date passed, the total claims were in the amount of $1,370,912.11, of which $1,352,213.41 were secured and $18,698.70 were unsecured. Motion to Approve Compromise at 3. The parties agreed that once the Debtor paid the Trustee the Compromise Sum, the Trustee would agree not to sell the Woodbury Property. On November 20, 2019, the Motion to Approve Compromise was granted [Doc. No. 133].

Following the granting of the Motion to Approve Compromise, this Court held four hearings on the Debtor's objections to unsecured claims held by American Express National Bank, all of which were sustained and which claims were disallowed [Doc. Nos. 140-143]. On June 1, 2020, LEA Accountancy filed its Application for Compensation [Doc. No. 149]. On July 9, 2020, Danning, Gill, Israel & Krasnoff ("Danning Gill") submitted the Danning Gill Application. The Danning Gill Application requests $39,040.00 in fees and $546.88 in costs. Danning Gill Application at 3.

On September 28, 2020, the Trustee filed his Final Report. The Trustee's Final Report states that he realized gross receipts of $1,044,522.99, of which $1,040,022.99 was from refinancing the Woodbury Property and the Compromise Sum. Trustee's Final Report at 6. The remaining $4,500 was received from the disgorgement of funds by Counsel. Id. To date, the Trustee has incurred administrative expenses of $3,477.35 and made $874,309.67 in payments to creditors. There is a balance on hand of $166,735.96 and the Trustee requests $52,541.10 in fees (the "Fees") and $302.04 in expenses. Id. at 15. The Trustee also plans to pay the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration in full for all of its claims (totaling $2,434.70) and the Internal Revenue Service for all of its claims (totaling $1,611.69). Id. at 15-17. After all proposed payments, there will be a balance of $58,700.92 returned to the Debtor.

On October 26, 2020, the Debtor filed a Motion to Continue Hearing on Applications for Compensation, and the Court granted the motion the next day [Doc. Nos. 163-164].

B. Summary of the Debtor's Objection

On November 5, 2020, after already having requested a continuance to file an objection, the Debtor filed a late objection to the Danning Gill Application and the Trustee's Final Report. In his Objection, the Debtor avers that the Trustee did very little work to be compensated his Fees. Namely, the Debtor was already looking into refinancing the Woodbury Property before the Meeting of Creditors and could have paid his mortgages and claims on his own without the Trustee. The Debtor believes that the Trustee should only receive compensation for the $1,741 in priority debt and $1,323 in unsecured debt that he administered, which would amount to a fee of $766. Objection at 4, 7.

The Debtor argues that the Trustee's Fees do not amount to "reasonable compensation" under 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(1)(A). The Debtor argues that because the property was not liquidated, marketed, or prepared for sale, the Trustee does not deserve his Fees. The Debtor contends that majority of the transfers were "constructive disbursements made out of escrow to lienholder lenders to Debtor and secured tax authorities." Objection at 7. The Debtor further argues that "where the asset is simply turned over to the secured creditor, the value of the lien is not included, and assets which are turned over to the debtor as surplus, or which are abandoned, are also not included" in the calculation of fees. Id. at 6. He then writes: "[t]his turnover is analogous to the situation where an asset is turned over to a secured creditor (rather than sold to a third party), in that the Trustee has added zero value to the estate." Id. at 7. He claims that all of the work was done by the loan broker and the Debtor's attorney. Id. Because the total priority debt, unsecured debt, proposed Trustee's fees and expenses amount to just $4,132.04, the Debtor claims that it all could have been "easily covered by the disgorgement payment of $4,500 from [Counsel]." Id. at 7-8.

Next, because the Trustee's fee structure is a commission, the Debtor believes that it "implies a more results-based fee structure compared to a request for compensation by an hourly professional." Id. at 8. The Debtor cites In re Salgado-Nava for the proposition that there must be a "rational relationship between the amount of commission and the type and level of services rendered." 473 B.R. 911, 920 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2012). The Debtor also argues that the "extraordinary circumstances," as mentioned by the Court in In re Salgado-Nava, where a fee would be reduced, apply here. Id. at 922. The Debtor also cites In re Scoggins for the proposition that Courts have adopted a "rule which allows adjustment of a request for trustee's fees where the fee is 'unreasonably disproportionate' or where the distribution to unsecured creditors is not 'meaningful'. . . ." Objection at 9 (quoting In re Scoggins, 517 B.R. 206 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 2014)). Therefore, according to the Debtor, because the final distribution to unsecured creditors was just $3,064, the Trustee's Fees are disproportionate. The Debtor goes on to argue that even though distribution to unsecured creditors was 100%, the Trustee's "involvement in the refinance of the Woodbury [P]roperty as an administered asset was unnecessary." Objection at 9. The Debtor admits that Trustee's counsel "would have needed to be paid" because the refinancing needed to be court approved. Id.

Finally, the Debtor avers that the Trustee's Final Report is too sparse, and failed to "discuss in detail the actions taken in the case, any alternatives, the costs to the estate and [D]ebtor, etc." Id. at 10.

On November 10, 2020, the Court received via U.S. Mail an audio recording, in CD-ROM format, of the Meeting of Creditors between the Debtor and the Trustee that took place on April 29, 2019. Audio testimony will only be considered when the Court is reviewing witness testimony for purposes of credibility. It is unclear what evidentiary value the Debtor expects the Court to glean from this recording. What is clear is that the Debtor is unhappy with the Trustee's tone of voice at the hearing; however, the allegations against the Trustee's tone are not well taken and will not be considered.

C. Summary of the Trustee's Reply

On November 10, 2020, the Trustee filed his Reply. The Trustee first notes that the Debtor did not make any substantive objections to the Danning Gill Application. Reply at ¶ 1. The Trustee argues that while the Debtor may not like the result of the bankruptcy proceeding, he voluntarily filed his petition. Id. at ¶ 3. Furthermore, at the time the Trustee was appointed, there were 12 claims in the amount of $1,370,912.11, including unsecured claims of $29,523.71. Id. at ¶ 4. It was not until January 20, 2020 that the Debtor successfully disallowed a number of the claims. Id.

The Trustee then clarifies that the Debtor's argument regarding "constructive disbursements" is incorrect because the Court in In re Blair allowed payments to third parties through escrow to be counted as distributions for purposes of a trustee's fee. Id. at ¶ 6; 329 B.R. 358 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005). The Trustee argues that because the Woodbury Property was property of the estate, he had the power to sell the property which would have likely netted higher proceeds for the estate at a valuation of $1.5 million; however, the Trustee agreed to the refinancing and calculates that distributions will be $985,216.01. Id. at ¶¶ 7-9. The Trustee also disagrees with the Debtor's contention that the Trustee did no work, claiming that "the Trustee and his counsel documented the settlement and obtained Court approval of it, they had numerous calls and communications with the broker and escrow company and internal communications to analyze the refinance versus sale ramifications, and generally shepherded the transaction through closing." Id. at ¶ 10. The Trustee argues that creditors were paid in full, the Debtor has been able to keep all three parcels of his property, and he is receiving a surplus of $56,000. Id. at ¶ 12.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. The Danning Gill Application

11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(1) allows the Court to award "reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered" by a professional. In determining the amount of compensation to award, the Court considers the:

nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

- (A) the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;
- (C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;
- (D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;
- (E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field; and
- (F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation charged by comparably skilled practitioners in cases other than cases under this title.

11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(3).

The Debtor objects to the Danning Gill Application, but it is unclear what his objection is based upon. The Debtor makes no specific arguments about any of the work Danning Gill did. He writes once that "[t]he Debtor and his broker, and to a much lesser degree counsel, did all the work to get [the refinancing] set up . . . ." Objection at 4. Otherwise, the Debtor does not point to any services that were unnecessary or any specific billing that he disagrees with. In fact, he admits that "[i]t is true that trustee's counsel (whose main contribution was to obtain the approval of the Court for the refinance) would have needed to be paid, but payment of these fees could have been arranged through the refinance." Id. at 9.

Therefore, because the Debtor does not substantively object to the Danning Gill Application, the Court finds the fees reasonable. The objection is OVERRULED and the Danning Gill Application is GRANTED.

B. The Trustee's Application

11 U.S.C. 330(a)(1)(A) reads, in relevant part: "[a]fter notice to the parties in interest and the United States Trustee and a hearing, and subject to sections 326, 328, and 329, the court may award to a trustee . . . reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered by the trustee . . . ." "Reasonable compensation" for trustees is treated as a commission based on § 326, which reads:

In a case under chapter 7 or 11, other than a case under subchapter V of chapter 11, . . . the court may allow reasonable compensation under section 330 of this title of the trustee for the trustee's services, payable after the trustee renders such services, not to exceed 25 percent on the first $5,000 or less, 10 percent on any amount in excess of $5,000 but not in excess of $50,000, 5 percent on any amount in excess of $50,000 but not in excess of $1,000,000, and reasonable compensation not to exceed 3 percent of such moneys in excess of $1,000,000, upon all moneys disbursed or turned over in the case by a trustee to parties in interest, excluding the debtor, but including holders of secured claims.

11 U.S.C. §§ 330(a)(7) & 326.

Section 326 clearly states that the Trustee's compensation includes "holders of secured claims." The Woodbury Property was refinanced and the money was used to repay secured creditors. Therefore, the Debtor's contention that secured claims paid simply do not play into the calculation of a Trustee's fees is incorrect.

Exactly what "reasonable compensation" under §§ 330(a)(1) & (7) means, however, has provided great consternation for courts, especially in the Ninth Circuit. A handful of recent cases provide some insight and make clear that the Trustee's Fees are not unreasonable.

The Court in In re Salgado-Nava reversed a lower court's finding that a chapter 7 trustee's fee was unreasonable and should be reduced because no "extraordinary circumstances" existed. 473 B.R. at 921. There, the lower court did not calculate the trustee's fees as a commission, but rather what a "reasonable rate of compensation for the time [the trustee] and his paralegals actually spent working on the case." Id. at 922. The Court did not address what "extraordinary circumstances" were exactly, but opined on the commission structure for trustees: "when the most a chapter 7 trustee can expect in 90% of his or her cases is a flat $60 fee, a commission-based system for the other 10% has a certain symmetry to it." Id. Indeed, "absent extraordinary circumstance, bankruptcy courts should approve chapter 7, 12, and 13 trustee fees without any significant additional review." Id. at 921.

The Debtor cites In re KVN Corp. for the proposition that where the "administration of the asset appears to be primarily for the trustee's benefit" and there is no "meaningful" distribution to unsecured creditors, the trustee's fees should be reduced. Objection at 9. However, the procedural posture in In re KVN Corp. is highly relevant: the trustee was seeking approval on a motion to approve a stipulation whereby the trustee had made a deal with a secured creditor to sell an asset and split the proceeds between the secured creditor and the bankruptcy estate. 514 B.R. 1, 3 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2014). The Court determined that the stipulation was not in the best interest of unsecured creditors because it was a "carve-out" arrangement: the trustee was attempting to sell a fully encumbered asset, which is prohibited. Id. at 5. The Woodbury Property was not fully encumbered and there was in fact a large amount of equity in the property.

Shortly after In re KVN Corp., the Eastern District of California heard In re Scoggins and provided clarification on what "reasonable compensation" and "extraordinary circumstances" mean. There, the Court reduced a Trustee's fees in three cases where in each of the cases the asset to be administered was underwater. 517 B.R. 206, 209. In addition, in none of the three cases did unsecured creditors receive 100% of their claims; the payments were 32%, 5%, and, in one case, 0% to unsecured creditors. Id. at 208. Two of the cases in question would have otherwise been no asset cases and the only funds realized from those two were from "short sale" "carve-outs." Id. at 225.

Here, there is no question that there was substantial equity in the Woodbury Property. Indeed, none of the above-cited cases by the Debtor bear much resemblance to this case, as the Woodbury Property was not underwater, it was not subject to a carve-out, and the Court approved the refinancing arrangement and the Motion to Approve Compromise. The Debtor essentially argues that the Trustee's Fees are unfair in relation to the payments to unsecured creditors, but as the Court in In re Scoggins wrote:

It is beyond cavil that a trustee is "primarily" benefitted when the trustee's fee exceeds the funds that would have been available to pay unsecured priority and general claims. It might, of course, also be the fact that, in any given case, a trustee fee that is less than the amount remaining available for unsecured claims might also "primarily" benefit the trustee.

Id. at 223. At the time the case began, there were over $1,370,912.11 in claims, and in the Krasnoff Declaration filed on May 1, 2019, unsecured creditors totaled $59,512.24. Krasnoff Decl. at ¶ 7. It is no fault of the Trustee that the amount of unsecured claims decreased; what matters is that there was a meaningful distribution to unsecured creditors - every unsecured creditor was paid in full.

Finally, the Trustee has provided additional information as to the work he did in helping to refinance the property. While the Debtor may have done much of the initial work, the Trustee had to determine whether refinancing was in the best interests of creditors, respond to the Debtor's motion to dismiss, and put together the Motion to Approve Compromise. The Court also notes that whatever work the Debtor says he put into the transaction, none of this would have provided a benefit to anyone unless this court approved it. Quite simply, there is no refinance unless and until the court says there is a refinance.

The Debtor filed for bankruptcy voluntarily and availed himself of the laws and protections of the bankruptcy code. In fact, the Debtor filed his petition to avoid impending foreclosure of his properties, something that he has successfully avoided.

The Debtor contends that he could have done all of the work on his own; however, the Debtor cannot both obtain the benefits of a bankruptcy and shrug off its burden. Further, there is no merit to the argument that conversion to chapter 7 due to his Counsel's "unexcused conduct imposes an unjust penalty on the [Debtor] . . . [the Debtor] voluntarily chose [his Counsel] as his representative in this action, and he cannot now avoid the consequences of the acts or omissions of this freely selected agent." Link v. Wabash R.R. Co., 370 U.S. 626, 633-34 (1962). The Trustee's Fees are not unreasonably disproportionate to the work he did, nor does this case contain any extraordinary circumstances, because unsecured creditors were paid in full and the Trustee never attempted to sell or refinance a property that was fully encumbered.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Debtor's Objection is OVERRULED. The Danning Gill Application and the Trustee's Final Report are GRANTED.

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-

Tentative Ruling:

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

This motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2) . The failure of the debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The motion is granted pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1) to permit movant to proceed under applicable non-bankruptcy law to enforce its remedies to proceed to final judgment in the non-bankruptcy forum, provided that the stay remains in effect with respect to enforcement of any judgment against the Debtor or estate property. The claim is insured. Movant may seek recovery only from applicable insurance, if any, and waives any deficiency or other claim against the Debtor or estate property.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on August 30, 2020.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession XLmedica, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition on February 13, 2020. The Debtor is a medical supply distribution company specializing in regenerative medicine. On June 26, 2020, the Debtor filed an Application to Employ Michael J. Smikun and Callagy Law, P.C. as Special Counsel (the "Application;" the "Applicants") to represent the Debtor with certain breach of contract and trademark infringement cases pending in Florida. See Application [Doc. No. 34]. In the Application, the Applicants note that payment will be made pursuant to an "initial retainer agreement," and that the Applicants will comply with the US Trustee's Guide to Application for Retainers and Professional and Insider Compensation ("Compensation Guide"). Id. at 6; see also U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, United States Trustee: Central District of California, Guide to Applications for Retainers, and Professional and Insider Compensation (April 2008), https://www.justice.gov/sites/default/files/ust-regions/legacy/2011/07/13/ch11\_guide\_insider\_compensation.pdf. The Applicants go on to state that the "fees and costs will be paid by the Debtor, once permitted by this Court. The source of funds will be the Debtor's income from its business operations . . . ." Id. at 8.

The retainer agreement signed between the Applicants and Debtor states: "[i]n consideration of Law Firm's performance of Services, Clients will pay Law Firm an Initial engagement fee in the amount of $20,000.00 [the "Retainer"]. Services shall be billed against this retainer." Id. at 20 ¶ 4. Later on in the agreement it states:

The entire [Retainer] will be placed into Law Firm's Clients trust account. In accordance with Section 4, Law Firm will draw down on the retainer as allowed by the Central District Local Bankruptcy Rules and the U.S. Trustee. This means that Law Firm will prepare and file a ["Professional Fee Statement"] at the end of each month and ask that your Chapter 11 or Chapter 13 counsel serve it as required. If no creditors object and you do not object, Law Firm will remove the amount of the fees for the month until the [Retainer] is gone."

Id. at 21 ¶ 8. There were no objections to the Application. On August 18, 2020, the Court approved the Application in its entirety. See Order Granting Application [Doc. No. 38].

The Applicants now request $70,107.00 in fees and $960.95 in costs, less the Retainer received of $20,000.00.

A. EmCyte's Objection

On October 13, 2020, the Debtor served the Applicant's Professional Fee Statement on EmCyte Corporation ("EmCyte") via US Mail and without any detailed attachments. Objection at ¶¶ 6-7. EmCyte received the documents on October 20, but did not receive the attachments, including detailed fee documentation, until October 22. Id. at ¶ 7. The Professional Fee Statement purported to be for the month of October 2020 and read: "[f]ees and costs will be withdrawn from the trust account in the amount stated in item 7 above unless an objection is filed with the clerk of court and served on the professional named above within 10 days from the date of service of this statement." Ex. A to Objection. By EmCyte's calculations, they had just one day to review the Professional Fee Statement and lodge an objection. Objection at ¶ 7. EmCyte filed its Objection on October 23, 2020.

EmCyte's objections are fourfold. First, EmCyte argues that the Court never authorized the Retainer. While the Application mentions a Retainer, the order from this Court does not specifically mention as such. See Order Granting Application. Second, even if the Retainer was authorized, EmCyte claims that the monthly Professional Fee Statements as required by the US Trustee's Compensation Guide were never served upon the US Trustee or EmCyte. Objection at 6. In addition, EmCyte notes that although the Applicants did send a Professional Fee Statement for October 2020, that fee statement actually covered services from June 5 through August 31, 2020. Id. Third, EmCyte argues that "many of the specific time entries are duplicative and involve a large number of entries for attorney communications with paralegals, which are objectionable." Id. at 7. Fourth and finally, EmCyte "reserves the right to raise further objections to the Fee Statement, including that the services do not benefit the Estate, at a later date," because it had so little time to review the Professional Fee Statement. Id.

B. The Debtor's Reply

On December 2, 2020, the Debtor filed its Reply. The Debtor argues that the Applicants did in fact correctly request the Retainer in their Application as well as the engagement letter between the Debtor and the Applicants. The Debtor asserts that all federal and local rules were correctly followed. Furthermore, the Debtor states that, while the Court's order approving the Application did not specifically state that the Retainer was approved, the Court did approve the entire Application without reservation. See Reply at 3-4.

Next, the Debtor argues that the Professional Fee Statement was timely served. The Application was approved by this Court on August 18, 2020, and the Applicants received the $20,000.00 post-petition Retainer on September 10, 2020. Therefore, the Applicants could not have submitted Professional Fee Statements for June, July, August, or September, because they had not yet received the Retainer. They argue that the first Professional Fee Statement they submitted on October 13, 2020 was timely. Id. at 5.

Finally, the Debtor requests that this Court sanction EmCyte because it claims that EmCyte filed its Objection "in bad faith to harass the debtor, improperly increase fees in the litigation and oppress Callagy." Id. The Debtor argues that this Objection was merely brought to "deplete its financial ability to defend itself in the litigation cases" that are currently pending in Florida state and federal court. Id. at 7. The Debtor then discusses a number of contentious matters that have taken place in the Middle District of Florida proceedings, arguing that "litigation is not cheap" and the extensive objections and voluminous discovery requests by EmCyte in these other cases is proof that EmCyte is harassing the Debtor and its principal. Finally, the Debtor makes the argument that it was EmCyte's obligation to set this hearing and yet it did not do so.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

A. The Retainer Draw Down

The first issue presented is regarding the Retainer of $20,000.00 and the draw down by the Applicants. The Application did in fact make reference to the $20,000.00 Retainer. See Application at 6 & 21 ¶ 8. In fact, the Application specifically mentions that the Applicants will comply with the US Trustee requirements of monthly reporting. Application at 21 ¶ 8. That the order issued by this Court does not specifically mention that a Retainer existed is of no consequence because this Court approved of the Application explicitly. See Order Granting Application ("The Motion is GRANTED").

Furthermore, EmCyte's contention that Callagy failed to make its monthly reports lacks merit because Callagy did not receive the Retainer until September 10, 2020. Reply at 5. The Compensation Guide states:

Any professional who has received a pre-petition or post-petition retainer must submit to the United States Trustee a monthly Professional Fee Statement (Form USTLA-6) no later than the 20th day after the end of the month during which professional services were rendered, together with documentation supporting the charges for the professional expenses in the form required for professional fee applications by applicable law.

Compensation Guide at I. B. 1. According to the plain language of the Compensation Guide, the Debtor had until October 20, 2020 to submit the Applicants' Professional Fee Statement. The Debtor submitted its Professional Fee Statement on October 13, 2020. Although the Debtor may have not included certain required attachments, the Debtor remedied that problem and provided the requisite detailed entries. It would have been impossible for the Debtor to somehow submit the Applicants' Professional Fee Statements for months where its Application had not been approved or where it had not yet received the Retainer. Therefore, EmCyte's objection as to the Retainer and the Professional Fee Statements is overruled.

However, even if this Court had concluded that the retainer was not authorized or the Debtor failed to provide the requisite Professional Fee Statements, that issue would be mooted by the fact that this Court is now reviewing the Applicants' Fee Application. The $20,000.00 retainer was meant to be used as a draw down without Court approval, subject to no objections. Given that there was an objection, it was appropriate for the Applicants to submit their Fee Application for approval by this court, rather than the alternative, which would have been to draw down on the Retainer.

Therefore, because no draw down occurred, the Court will now review the Applicants' Fee Application for payment pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 327.

B. The Fee Application

EmCyte's next argument is that it objects to the Fee Application because: 1) the fee statement that it received on October 20/22, 2020 sought payment for services rendered starting June 5, 2020, rather than the effective date of employment, which is June 19, 2020; and 2) "many of the specific time entries are duplicative and involve a large number of entries for attorney communications with paralegals, which are objectionable." Objection at 7.

The Debtor properly noted that the Applicants' first Professional Fee Statement that they mailed to EmCyte included work done before the effective date of employment. Therefore, in their Fee Application, they subtracted the fees for all work done between June 5 and June 18, 2020. The amounts requested by the Applicants are correct.

11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(1) allows the Court to award "reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered" by a professional. In determining the amount of compensation to award, the Court considers the:

nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

- (A) the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;
- (C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;
- (D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;
- (E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is

(F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation charged by comparably skilled practitioners in cases other than cases under this title.

11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(3).

EmCyte's allegations of "duplicative" time entries and "communications with paralegals" are vague and conclusory. It points to no specific work or time entries that it objects to. It appears to this Court that the Applicants' work for the Debtor has been significant: 140 discovery demands to the Debtor and an equal number to its principal officer that have been "highly contentious and ha[ve] led to a multitude of email and phone conversations with opposing counsel in efforts to resolve those disagreements." Fee Application at 7-8. According to the Debtor and as is evident by the docket sheet in this case, "[n]early every action taken on behalf of the Debtor has been opposed by EmCyte, necessitating a considerable expenditure of time and resources." Id. at 8. It appears as though the work done for the Debtor and its principal executive has been necessary and beneficial to the estate.

Furthermore, EmCyte attempts to "reserve[]" the right to raise further objections to the Fee Statement, including that the services do not benefit the Estate, at a later date." Objection at 7. While the Court understands that EmCyte had very little time to review the Professional Fee Statement with regards to the Retainer, EmCyte appears to be conflating two issues. It timely made its Objection to the draw down in the Professional Fee Statement, as was required within ten days. However, its objection to the Fee Application was due 14 days before the hearing – November 25, 2020. This is made clear by Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(f)(1), the Applicants' Fee Application ("Any response or opposition must be filed with the Court and served on the Debtor' counsel at least 14-days prior to the scheduled hearing date on the Application"), and the Notice of Hearing ("Any response or opposition must be filed with the Court and served on the Debtor' counsel at least 14-days prior to the scheduled hearing date on the Application"). An objecting party may not simply "reserve rights" to object for as long as it wishes when the local rules are clear.

C. The Sanctions

Finally, the Debtor contends that EmCyte's conduct amounts to harassment, its Objection is without merit, and the Objection was filed in bad faith. "[B]ankruptcy courts have the inherent power to sanction vexatious conduct presented before the court." In re Rainbow Magazine, Inc., 77 F.3d 278, 284 (9th Cir. 1996).

The Court cautions the Debtor against any further request for sanctions, as the Court looks with disfavor upon such requests. It is evident from the Debtor's extensive argument and exhibits that the issues at stake between the parties are highly contentious and have not been straightforward. However, in many respects, that is the nature of litigation. Requests for sanctions are seldom an appropriate means of advancing a party's position in the litigation. The Court will impose sanctions only if all procedural requirements have been fastidiously complied with, and then only if the party against whom sanctions are sought has engaged in egregiously improper conduct. Filing an objection to a retainer draw down does not come anywhere near this standard. Furthermore, EmCyte's conduct in litigation outside of this district bears little relevance to whether this Court will impose sanctions. In addition, it was the Applicants' and the Debtor's obligation, not EmCyte's, to set this matter for hearing. The Debtor's request for sanctions is denied.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Fee Application is GRANTED and the request for sanctions is DENIED.

The Applicants shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession Titus Emil Iovita (the "Debtor") filed his voluntary individual chapter 11 petition on October 28, 2020. On his Schedule A/B, the Debtor listed two properties:

2. 18604 Newman Ave., Riverside, CA 92508 (the "Newman Property")

The Newman Property is encumbered by at least one lien: that of Flagstar Bank ("Flagstar") in the amount of $199,319.46 (the "Flagstar Lien"). The Debtor also lists a disputed lien held by Siboney A. Monge c/o Malibu Recontrust LLC in the amount of $402,125.00 (the "Monge Lien"). The Debtor scheduled the Newman Property at a value of $575,000.00. The Debtor also scheduled approximately $121,402.00 in cash deposits at various banks, $48,934.00 in brokerage accounts, and $24,012.00 in retirement accounts.

A. The Debtor's Motion

On November 17, 2020, the Debtor filed his Motion seeking an order authorizing use of cash collateral consisting of the Newman Property. The Debtor's proposed monthly budget is as follows:

Income from the Newman Property:	$2,350.00
Expenses:
Flagstar Lien Payment:	($1,011.00)
Property Taxes:	(269.50)
Property Insurance:	($68.00)
Maintenance:	($240.00)
Net Income	$760.00

The Debtor also requests to use the net income to pay quarterly fees to the US Trustee, to deviate from any line item expenses in the proposed budget by no more than 25% without further order of the court, and to use any unpaid expenses (such as insurance, which may not need to be paid every month) to pay subsequent months' budgets. The Debtor states that "[d]ue to the disputed nature of the [Monge Lien], Debtor does not offer any adequate protection payments to that creditor by this motion." Motion at 4.

B. The Limited Opposition

On November 23, 2020, Flagstar submitted a Limited Opposition. It does not object to the use of cash collateral to pay the Flagstar lien, utilities, or normal monthly expenses for the Newman Property. The only objection is that Flagstar requests that if the Debtor seeks to use the cash collateral for any large or unusual repairs, that the Debtor be required to notify Flagstar and provide proof of that repair. Flagstar would also agree to an excessive repair cap in the range of $3,500.00.

C. The Opposition

On November 25, 2020, Siboney Monge ("Monge") filed an Opposition [Note 1]. Monge states that 1) neither the Debtor nor the estate have any equity in the Newman Property, and 2) the Debtor has tens of thousands of dollars in cash to service any debt. Monge's first argument is that the Monge Lien is undisputed and therefore the property is entirely underwater. Monge argues that the Debtor even admits as such because the Debtor filed as Exhibit 2 to his Motion a Deed of Trust and Assignment of Rents to Monge (the "Deed of Trust"), dated February 1, 2010. See Motion at 20. Therefore, Monge argues, the lien is valid and, together with the Flagstar Lien, the Debtor and the estate have no equity in the property.

Monge's second argument is that the Debtor has plenty of cash to service any of his debts and does not require the use of cash collateral. Monge notes that the Debtor has $121,402.00 in cash deposits at various banks, and that Debtor's income, after expenses, exceeds $2,100.00 per month.

D. The Debtor's Reply

On December 1, 2020, the Debtor filed his Reply. The Debtor argues that for a cash collateral motion, he is only required to show that the lienholders' interests are adequately protected. He argues that "adequate protection" includes the property not declining in value, and does not necessarily mean adequate protection payments. See In re Johnson, 90 B.R. 973, 978 (Bankr. D. Minn.) (finding that the bank was not entitled to adequate protection payments because the collateral was not declining in value). The Debtor argues that the payment of the Flagstar Lien, taxes, insurance, and repairs, will actually maintain and possibly increase the value of the property – all beneficial for Monge should her lien be valid. Furthermore, the Debtor clarifies that he still disputes the Monge Lien and any amounts owed to Monge, but only attached the Deed of Trust to his Motion because she does in fact have a recorded lien against the Newman Property.

The Debtor also makes a new argument that the costs and expenses of maintaining the cash collateral can be approved under 11 U.S.C. § 506(c), which states that a Debtor "may recover from property securing an allowed secured claim the reasonable, necessary costs and expenses of preserving, or disposing of, such property to the extent of any benefit to the holder of such claim, including the payment of all ad valorem property taxes with respect to the property."

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of § 363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. Freightliner Market Dev. Corp. v. Silver Wheel Freightlines, Inc., 823 F.2d 362, 368-69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtor "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of § 363 – that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. 11 U.S.C. §§ 363(c)(2)(B), 363(e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Assocs., Ltd., 484 U.S. 365, 382 (1988).

Monge's interest is adequately protected. Monge provides no evidence that the Newman Property is declining in value and makes no request for any sort of adequate protection payments. The argument that the Debtor has no equity in the Newman Property and therefore the Court should deny the Motion would amount to this Court making a determination of the validity of the lien, something that the Court declines to do at this time. At this juncture, there is not enough evidence on the record to determine the validity of the lien. To the extent that Monge's lien is valid, which the Court is not yet finding, the lien is adequately protected due to the fact that the Newman Property does not appear to be declining in value.

Monge's second argument that the Debtor does not require the use of cash collateral because he has cash in checking accounts has no merit. The issue with a cash collateral motion is not whether the debtor has other funds, but whether the lienholders' interests are adequately protected.

As to the Limited Opposition, the Court finds that an "excessive repair cap" of $3,500 is appropriate. Therefore, if the Debtor is required to perform any repairs in excess of this amount, he must first notify Flagstar's counsel and provide proof of the non-routine repair.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED.

The Debtor shall submit a conforming order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Andrew Lockridge or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, no later than one hour before the hearing.

Note 1: In her Opposition, Monge "objects to this Court's personal and subject matter jurisdiction and does not accede to this Honorable Court's ability to enter final judgments . . ." Opposition at 1. However, Monge has filed a proof of claim against the estate in the amount of $404,644.67 (denominated as Claim 4 in the claims register on CM/ECF). By filing a proof of claim, Monge has consented to the Bankruptcy Court's resolution of all issues pertaining to her claim. In Stern v. Marshall, the Supreme Court found that a "preferential transfer claim can be heard in bankruptcy court when the allegedly favored creditor filed a claim, because then 'the ensuing preference action by the trustee become[s] integral to the restricting of the debtor-creditor relationship.'" 564 U.S. 462, 297 (2011). Likewise here, the use of cash collateral is "integral to the restructuring of the debtor-creditor relationship" because such a proceeding requires the Court to determine whether Monge's interest in the collateral securing her claim will be adequately protected if the Court permits the Debtor to use Monge's cash collateral.

Hearing required. The parties shall be prepared to address the issues set forth below.

"The court's obligation in § 363(b) sales is to assure that optimal value is realized by the estate under the circumstances." Simantob v. Claims Prosecutor, LLC (In re Lahijani), 325 B.R. 282, 288 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005). Here, achieving optimal value requires that the Debtor resolve the dispute with Libo Pharma Corp. regarding the Exclusive License and Technology Agreement and its subsequent amendments (the "License") prior to the auction. The Stalking Horse Bidder is not required to close the sale unless Libo has confirmed that the License has terminated and Libo and the Stalking Horse Bidder have entered into a New License on terms agreeable to both parties. See Stalking Horse APA at §§ 1.1(ddd) and 8.1(e). There is no point in conducting an auction where the conditions precedent for the Stalking Horse Bidder to close have not yet been satisfied.

The Debtor acknowledges that no bidder has agreed to waive the conditions precedent pertaining to the License, even if the Debtor obtains an order authorizing sale of the Assets free and clear of the License. See Doc. No. 129, p. 10 at n.2. The Debtor postulates that an order authorizing a sale free and clear "would substantially increase the likelihood" that a bidder would close. Id. In the Court's view, this is wishful thinking. The dispute regarding the License casts a substantial cloud over the Assets, and a buyer closing the sale absent resolution of this dispute would face significant risk and uncertainty, even if the Debtor obtained an order authorizing sale of the Assets free and clear of the License. Such a buyer could not be certain that the sale order would not be reversed on appeal, an outcome that would significantly impair the value of the Assets. The dispute with Libo thus makes it unlikely that any sale approved by the Court would close. (To be clear, the Court is not making a determination that the Debtor is entitled to an order authorizing sale of the Assets free and clear of the License. The point is that even if the Court ruled in the Debtor's favor on all the disputed issues set forth in the Sale Motion, the Debtor still has not demonstrated that the sale is feasible.)

Even more significant, the cloud cast on the Assets by the dispute will chill bidding, reducing the ultimate sale price received by the estate.

The sale and auction hearing shall remain on calendar, but the Court is unlikely to go forward with the auction unless material progress has been made towards resolving the disputes concerning the License.

If the Court determines that it is appropriate to allow the auction to proceed, the auction shall be conducted out of court by the Debtor. The bids for the Assets involve multiple forms of consideration, including cash, stock, and rights to future royalty payments. An out-of-court auction will maximize the value received by the estate since it will provide the parties a greater opportunity to consult with their advisors regarding the formulation of complex bids. The Debtor shall be responsible for providing a recorder to transcribe the auction. (Unfortunately, the Court is unable to furnish court recording services for out-of-court auctions.) In the event the auction goes forward, the Court will set a continued hearing date to approve the results of the auction.

#2.00 Hearing
RE: [109] Motion to Extend Exclusivity Period for Filing a Chapter 11 Plan and Disclosure Statement

Docket 109

Tentative Ruling:

12/9/2020

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

1. Motion of Debtor-in-Possession for Entry of an Order (I) Extending the Exclusivity Periods; and (II) Granting Related Relief; Declaration of Daniel J. Weintraub in Support Thereof (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 109]
2. Notice of Hearing on Motion of Debtor-in-Possession for Entry of an Order (I) Extending the Exclusivity Periods; and (II) Granting Related Relief; Declaration of Daniel J. Weintraub in Support Thereof [Doc. No. 111]
3. As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no objection is on file

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and Debtor-in-Possession, Neumedicines, Inc (the "Debtor") seeks an extension of the exclusivity periods under which it may file and solicit votes on a plan of reorganization (the "Plan"). The Debtor's exclusivity period to file the Plan expired on November 16, 2020. The Debtor's exclusivity period to solicit a vote with respect to the Plan expires on January 15, 2021. The Debtor seeks an order (1) extending the exclusivity period to file the Plan by 120 days, to and including March 16, 2021; and (2) extending the exclusivity period to solicit votes with respect to the Plan by 120 days, to and including May 15, 2021. This is the Debtor's first request for an extension.

The Debtor proposes to sell its various pharmaceutical assets. The process is complex and time-consuming. The Debtor began the sales process, but additional time may be required to complete a sale, if approved. Sale proceeds will enable the debtor to pay all allowed claims in full, including all administrative, secured, and unsecured claims.

The Debtor believes that it is appropriate to extend the deadlines to file the Plan and solicit votes because, until the sale is finalized, "any Plan would be speculative and contingent upon a future event with an as of yet to be determined buyer." Id. at 4-5.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Section 1121(b) gives the Debtor the exclusive right to file a plan during the first 120 days after the date of the order for relief. If the debtor files a plan within the 120-day exclusivity period, §1121(c)(3) provides that exclusivity is extended for an additional 60 days to maintain exclusivity during the plan solicitation period. If the plan has not been accepted by holders of impaired claims before 180 days after the date of the order for relief, then the exclusivity period terminates, unless the debtor has obtained an extension. § 1121(c)(3). Section 1121(d) permits the Court to reduce or increase the exclusivity period "for cause." Section 1121 provides the bankruptcy court "maximum flexibility to suit various types of reorganization proceedings." In re Public Service Company of New Hampshire, 88 B.R. 521, 534 (Bankr. D.N.H. 1988).

The Court finds that cause exists to extend the exclusivity periods in accordance with the Debtor's request. The Debtor has been working toward both a sale of its assets as well as a resolution of its issues with Libo. Furthermore, the Debtor remains current on all of its post-petition bills. An extension of the exclusivity periods will give the Debtor enough time to file an appropriate Plan, and an extension does not appear as though it will prejudice creditors.

The exclusivity period for the Debtor to file the Plan is extended from November 16, 2020 to and including March 16, 2021. The exclusivity period for the Debtor to solicit votes on the Plan is extended from January 15, 2021 to and including May 15, 2021.

III. Conclusion

Docket 171

Tentative Ruling:

12/10/2020

Tentative Ruling:

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to foreclose upon and obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. Since a chapter 7 case does not contemplate reorganization, the sole issue before the Court when stay relief is sought under 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) is whether the Debtor has equity in the property. See, e.g., Martens v. Countrywide Home Loans (In re Martens), 331 B.R. 395, 398 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2005); Ramco Indus. v. Preuss (In re Preuss), 15 B.R. 896, 897 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1981).

The subject property has a value of $1,540,000.00 and is encumbered by a perfected deed of trust or mortgage in favor of the Movant. The liens against the property and the expected costs of sale total $1,892,638.56. The Court finds there is no equity and there is no evidence that the trustee can administer the subject real property for the benefit of creditors.

Tentative Ruling:

12/10/2020

Tentative Ruling:

On November 30, 2020, the Court dismissed this case after the Debtor failed to file a credit counseling certificate in compliance with § 109(h) of the Bankruptcy Code, and subsequently failed to cure the defect. See Order Dismissing Case [Doc. No. 13]. Notwithstanding the dismissal, the Court explicitly retained jurisdiction to hear this Motion. Id. at 2.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1). The stay is terminated as to the Debtor and the Debtor's bankruptcy estate with respect to the Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns. Movant may enforce its remedies to obtain possession of the property in accordance with applicable law, but may not pursue a deficiency claim against the debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501.

The Movant filed an unlawful detainer action on January 24, 2020.

This Motion has been filed to allow the Movant to proceed with the unlawful detainer proceeding in state court. The unlawful detainer proceeding may go forward because the Debtor's right to possess the premises must be determined. This does not change simply because a bankruptcy petition was filed. See In re Butler, 271 B.R. 867, 876 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2002).

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of this bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. All other relief is denied.

Movant shall upload an appropriate order via the Court's Lodged Order Upload system within 7 days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Daniel Koontz or Andrew Lockridge, the Judge's law clerks at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. Tentative Ruling:

1/13/2020

On March 1, 2018, Maground, GmbH ("Plaintiff") commenced a complaint against Roberto Kai Hegeler (the "Debtor/Defendant") in the United States District Court for the Central District of California (the "District Court"), asserting claims for trademark infringement pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §§1114 and 1125(a), trademark dilution pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §1125(c), unfair competition and false advertising pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §1125(a), cybersquatting pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §1125(d), common law trademark infringement, breach of contract, conversion, and violations of Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§14247, 17200, and 17500 (the "District Court Action"). See Maground, GmbH v. Roberto Kai Hegeler and Maground, LLC (Doc. No. 1, Case No. 2:18-cv-01760-CJC-JC). On April 23, 2018, Debtor/Defendant filed a voluntary Chapter 7 petition. On May 4, 2018, the District Court stayed the District Court Action pending resolution of Debtor/Defendant's bankruptcy proceeding.

On July 23, 2018, Plaintiff commenced an action against Debtor/Defendant in the Bankruptcy Court (the "Non-Dischargeability Action"). On December 17, 2018, the Bankruptcy Court entered an order (1) sua sponte lifting the automatic stay to permit the District Court Action to proceed and (2) staying the Non-Dischargeability Action until entry of a final, non-appealable judgment in the District Court Action. Doc. No. 19 (the "Stay Order"). The Stay Order provided:

Chapter 7

The most efficient way to resolve the Non-Dischargeability Action is for Plaintiff to first prosecute the District Court Action to final judgment. In the event Plaintiff obtains judgment in its favor, Plaintiff may then return to the Bankruptcy Court to obtain a determination regarding whether such judgment is dischargeable. The District Court is better equipped than this Court to determine whether Defendant is indebted to Plaintiff on account of the allegations for trademark infringement, trademark dilution, and cybersquatting, all of which require the application of substantive non-bankruptcy law.

Stay Order at ¶ 3.

Trial in the District Court Action is set for November 3, 2020. Based upon the foregoing, the Court HEREBY ORDERS AS FOLLOWS:

- 1) A continued Status Conference shall be held on July 14, 2020, at 10:00 a.m.
- 2) A Joint Status Report, which shall discuss the status of the District Court Action, shall be submitted by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will determine whether further hearing is required. On February 26, 2019, the Court granted Plaintiff relief from the automatic stay, to enable Plaintiff to prosecute against Defendant two actions pending in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court Actions"). Plaintiff seeks to establish the indebtedness which is alleged to be non-dischargeable in this proceeding by way of the State Court Actions. On June 18, 2019, the Court granted Plaintiff's motion to abstain from adjudicating this dischargeability action until Plaintiff had obtained final, non-appealable judgments in the State Court Actions.

The judgment in one of the State Court Actions is now final. Judgment in the other State Court Action is not expected to become final for at least one year.

On June 18, 2018, the Court entered an order confirming the First Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation Dated January 31, 2018 (the "Plan"). The Plan appointed Bradley D. Sharp as the Plan Administrator responsible for liquidating the assets of the estate. (The Plan provided that all assets of the estate remained vested in the estate. See Plan at Art. 3.)

The Plan Administrator has made six distributions to holders of allowed claims. Funds distributed to date exceed $11.7 million.

Having reviewed the Fifth Post-Confirmation Status Report, the Court finds that the Plan Administrator is making sufficient progress toward effectuating the Plan. A continued Status Conference shall take place on December 15, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. The Plan Administrator shall submit a Status Report by no later than fourteen days prior to the hearing.

The Court will prepare and enter an order setting the continued Status Conference.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. If you intend to submit on the tentative ruling, please contact Carlos Nevarez or Daniel Koontz at 213-894-1522. If you intend to contest the tentative ruling and appear, please first contact opposing counsel to inform them of your intention to do so. Should an opposing party file a late opposition or appear at the hearing, the court will

Docket 234

*** VACATED *** REASON: CONTINUED 3-9-21 AT 11:00 A.M.

Tentative Ruling:

9/10/2018

On February 17, 2018, the Court issued a Report and Recommendation, recommending that the District Court enter final judgment, in favor of the Chapter 7 Trustee (the "Trustee"), as to the second, third, and sixth claims for relief for avoidance and recovery of fraudulent transfers made with actual intent. Doc. No. 341. On that same date, the Court issued a Memorandum of Decision, stating that the Court intended to grant the Trustee's motion for summary adjudication disallowing the proofs of claim filed by the Bright Conscience Trust (the "BC Trust"). However, the Memorandum of Decision stated that the findings set forth therein would not become the order of the Court until the District Court acted upon the Report and Recommendation.

On June 25, 2018, the District Court rejected the Report and Recommendation, and denied the Trustee's motion for summary adjudication as to the second, third, and sixth claims for relief. On July 20, 2018, the Trustee moved for reconsideration of the District Court's rejection of the Report and Recommendation. On August 13, 2018, the District Court denied the Trustee's motion for reconsideration.

The Trustee asserts that the Court has jurisdiction over the Trustee's claims for disallowance and equitable subordination of the proofs of claim filed by the BC Trust. The Trustee's position is that the Court should enter final judgment with respect to these claims. According to Defendants John C. Kirkland and the BC Trust (collectively, the "Defendants"), Mr. Kirkland has preserved his rights to a jury trial in the District Court because Mr. Kirkland has not consented to the Bankruptcy Court's entry of final judgment. Defendants assert that the issues arising in connection with the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust overlap with the issues arising in connection with the Trustee's claims against Mr. Kirkland. According to Defendants, bifurcating the fraudulent transfer claims against Mr. Kirkland and the equitable subordination and disallowance claims against the BC Trust would prejudice Mr. Kirkland, because of the collateral estoppel effect against Mr. Kirkland of findings made with respect to the common issues affecting both Mr. Kirkland and the BC Trust.

As further set forth in the Preliminary Findings and Conclusions, below, in the Court's view, the most efficient means of resolving these proceedings would be for the District Court to conduct a jury trial on the claims against Mr. Kirkland. Subsequent to the District Court's entry of final judgment against Mr. Kirkland, the Bankruptcy Court would then try the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §157(d) and Bankruptcy Rule 5011(a), only the District Court can withdraw the jurisdictional reference. See Sigma Micro Corp. v. Healthcentral.com (In re Healthcentral.com), 504 F.3d 775, 785 (9th Cir. 2007). Therefore, by separate order, the Court will require the Trustee and the Defendants to show cause why the Court should not stay adjudication of the claims against the BC Trust until the District Court has entered final judgment on the claims against Mr. Kirkland. The hearing on the Order to Show Cause shall take place on October 2, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. The Trustee and the Defendants shall submit papers responding to the Court's Preliminary Findings and Conclusions by no later than September 25, 2018. No reply briefing will be accepted.

Mr. Kirkland shall file with the District Court a motion to withdraw the reference by no later than September 25, 2018.

Preliminary Findings and Conclusions

John C. Kirkland has demanded a jury trial in this fraudulent conveyance action, has not filed a proof of claim against the estate, and does not consent to having the jury trial conducted by the Bankruptcy Court. Under these circumstances, Mr.

Kirkland is entitled to a jury trial before the District Court. See Langenkamp v. Culp, 498 U.S. 42, 45 (1990) ("If a party does not submit a claim against the bankruptcy estate, however, the trustee can recover allegedly preferential transfers only by filing what amounts to a legal action to recover a monetary transfer. In those circumstances the preference defendant is entitled to a jury trial."); Bankruptcy Rule 9015(b) (stating that the Bankruptcy Court may conduct a jury trial only if the parties consent); and Executive Benefits Ins. Agency v. Arkison (In re Bellingham Ins. Agency, Inc.), 702 F.3d 553 (9th Cir. 2012) (holding that the Bankruptcy Court lacks constitutional authority to enter final judgment in a fraudulent conveyance action absent consent of the parties).

The BC Trust has filed proofs of claim against the estate. As a result, the Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction to enter final judgment with respect to the Trustee's claims against the BC Trust. See Langenkamp, 498 U.S. at 45.

The claims against Mr. Kirkland and the BC Trust present common issues of fact. For example, the Trustee asserts that the BC Trust's claims against the estate should be disallowed and/or equitably subordinated based upon Mr. Kirkland's alleged inequitable conduct. The Trustee's causes of action for disallowance and/or equitable subordination are pleaded against both the BC Trust and Mr. Kirkland.

As a result of the overlap between the claims asserted against Mr. Kirkland and the claims asserted against the BC Trust, the most efficient means for this action to proceed would be for the District Court to first adjudicate the claims against Mr. Kirkland. Once the District Court has entered findings with respect to Mr. Kirkland, the Bankruptcy Court can then try the claims against the BC Trust. If the Bankruptcy Court tried claims against the BC Trust prior to the District Court's trial of claims against Mr. Kirkland, findings by the Bankruptcy Court with respect to common issues of fact could prejudice Mr. Kirkland. For example, Mr. Kirkland could be collaterally estopped from contesting certain issues of fact that might prove material to the adjudication of the claims against him; were that to occur, Mr. Kirkland would effectively be deprived of his right to a jury trial. See Ross v. Bernhard, 396 U.S. 531 (holding that "where equitable and legal claims are joined in the same action," the right to jury trial on the legal claims "must not be infringed either by trying the legal issues as incidental to the equitable ones by a court trial of a common issue existing between the claims").

For the reasons set forth below, the Motion is GRANTED, and this case is CONVERTED to one under chapter 7 of the United States Bankruptcy Code.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed

- 1) Notice of Motion and Motion Under 11 U.S.C. 1112(b)(1) to Convert, Dismiss or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee; Declaration of Paralegal Specialist (the "Motion") [Doc. No. 45]
- 2) JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A.'s Join[d]er to the U.S. Trustee' Motion to Dismiss Debtor's Bankruptcy Case for Cause Under 11 U.S.C. § 1112 or in the Alternative, Convert the Debtor's Case to Chapter 7 (the "Joinder") [Doc. No. 49]
- 3) Debtor's Limited Opposition to Motion Under 11 U.S.C. §1112(b)(1) to Convert Dismiss or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee (the "Limited Opposition") [Doc. No. 52]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession, Sheila G. Scott (the "Debtor"), filed this voluntary chapter 11 petition on August 29, 2019. This is the Debtor's third chapter 11 petition. Her first was filed on March 31, 2010 (2:10-bk-22308-ER), dismissed on October 31, 2011, and her second was filed on March 5, 2012 (2:12-bk-17909-ER), dismissed on November 5, 2013. The primary asset in this case, as well as the two earlier cases, is the Debtor's residence at 468 South Bundy Drive, Los Angeles, CA 90049 (the "Property") with a scheduled value of $6,500,000 and secured by a mortgage by JPMorgan of $4,971,920.53.

On December 13, 2019, the Debtor filed a Motion for Order to Employ Real Estate Broker in an attempt to sell the Property. See Doc. No. 29. The Court granted that motion on January 6, 2020, and the Property was listed for sale at a price of $6,250,000. According to public records, the price was reduced to $5,750,000 on January 17, 2020, was increased to $5,888,000 on November 16, 2020, and was cut again to $5,762,00 on December 9, 2020. See ZILLOW, https://www.zillow.com/homedetails/468-S-Bundy-Dr-Los-Angeles-CA-90049/111917943\_zpid/ (last visited Dec. 11, 2020).

On November 5, 2020, the United States Trustee (the "U.S. Trustee") filed its Motion requesting conversion of the case to chapter 7. The Trustee argues that no disclosure statement or plan of reorganization has been filed since the start of the case, the Debtor has not made quarterly payments for the third or fourth quarter of 2020, and this is the Debtor's third bankruptcy case.

On November 10, 2020, JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. ("JPMorgan") filed its Joinder. JPMorgan argues that cause exists to dismiss or convert the case because the Debtor has failed to act as a fiduciary to her creditors. Joinder at 6. The Debtor has made "virtually no progress toward reorganizing or selling the Property" and has not made any payments on the Property since before the bankruptcy filing. Id. at 7-8. JPMorgan notes that the Debtor filed this case just a few days before it was going to conduct a non-judicial foreclosure sale and yet the Debtor has received no substantive offers on the property and had to reduce the price on one occasion. Id. at 8. Furthermore, JPMorgan does not believe the Debtor can formulate a viable chapter 11 plan because the equity cushion on the property is decreasing, the Debtor's opinion as to the sale price is unrealistic, and the current delinquency on the loan is $556,235.29. JPMorgan believes that continued diminution of the estate is evident based on the Debtor's failure to make any payments to JPMorgan, despite the Debtor's husband (who resides at the property) earning approximately $30,000 in monthly gross income. Finally, JPMorgan avers that conversion to chapter 7 is in the best interest of creditors because there is equity in the estate that may allow JPMorgan to be paid in full. Id. at 10-11. The Debtor has made no progress in this case for almost a year, and has filed multiple bankruptcies in the past that have been dismissed.

Pursuant to Local Bankruptcy Rule 9013-1(f)(1), "each interested party opposing or responding to the motion must file and serve the response (Response) on the moving party and the United States trustee not later than 14 days before the date designated for hearing." The deadline to file an opposition was December 1, 2020. On December 11, 2020, ten days after the opposition deadline, the Debtor filed a Limited Opposition. Not only does filing the Limited Opposition ten days late deprive opposing counsel any meaningful chance to reply, it shows a blatant disregard for the rules of this Court. The Debtor's attempt to sneak in an opposition at the last minute is not well taken. Furthermore, the Debtor's contention that she "does not believe that the real property can be sold for an amount in excess of the JP Morgan Chase Claim" lacks any evidentiary support and will therefore not be considered. Limited Opposition at 2.

II. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Under § 1112(b), the Court shall dismiss or convert a case to one under chapter 7 upon a showing of "cause." 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b). Section 1112(b)(4) provides a nonexclusive list of factors that include: "(A) substantial or continuing loss to or diminution of the estate and the absence of a reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation; . . . (B) gross mismanagement of the estate; . . . (J) failure to file a disclosure statement, or to file or confirm a plan, within the time fixed by this title or by order of the court." 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(4)(A), (B) & (J). "The enumerated causes are not exhaustive, and 'the court will be able to consider other factors as they arise, and to use its equitable powers to reach an appropriate result in individual cases.'" In re Consol. Pioneer Mortg. Entities, 248 B.R. 368, 375 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2000) (quoting H.R. No. 95-595, 95th Cong., 1st Sess. 405-06 (1977)), aff'd, 264 F.3d 803 (9th Cir. 2001).

The Debtor is approximately $556,235.29 in arrears and has just $2,189 in her DIP account. Joinder at 10. "A Debtor lacks 'a reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation' where, for example, it lacks income . . ." In re Bay Area Material Handling, 76 F.3d 384, *2 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting In re Johnston, 149 B.R. 158, 162 (9th Cir. B.A.P.) (finding that, where the Debtor did not have sufficient income in a chapter 11, conversion to a chapter 7 was warranted)). The equity in the Property continues to erode with no prospect of rehabilitation.

In addition, the Debtor in this chapter 11 case is supposed to be a fiduciary to her creditors, yet for over a year has made no progress toward a plan, has made no mortgage payments, and has not sought to pay property taxes for the Property directly. The Debtor has failed to act in the best interest of her creditors by effectively stalling since the Property was put on sale.

Finally, the Debtor has not submitted a chapter 11 plan, nor is there any prospect that she will submit one or be able to consummate one. Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1121(b), a debtor generally has 120 days to submit a plan and 60 days after that to obtain approval of that plan by the creditors. "Under § 1112(b)(2), cause exists where 'a debtor's failure to file an acceptable plan after reasonable time indicates its inability to do so[,]' regardless of the reasons for that failure." In re Bay Area, 76 F.3d at *2 (quoting Hall v. Vance, 887 F.2d 1041, 1044 (10th Cir. 1989)). The Debtor is far beyond the timeframe envisioned by § 1121(b) and has not asked for any extension or given this Court any indication that she is close to submitting a plan. This case has been pending for over a year with little progress, and this is the third case that the Debtor has filed in an attempt to prevent foreclosure on the Property. The Court finds that the Debtor has failed to submit a plan within a reasonable time period and is unable to do so.

Having determined that cause exists, the only issue remaining for the Court is to determine whether conversion, dismissal, or appointment of a chapter 11 trustee serves the best interests of creditors or the estate. See In re Products Int'l Co., 395 B.R. 101, 107 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2008) (citing In re Nelson, 343 B.R. 671 (9th Cir. 2006)). "[W]hen deciding between dismissal and conversion under 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b), the court must consider the interests of all of the creditors." Shulkin Hutton, Inc. v. Treiger (In re Owens), 552 F.3d 958, 961 (9th Cir. 2009) (emphasis in original) (quoting Rollex Corp. v. Associated Materials, Inc. (In re Superior Siding & Window, Inc.), 14 F.3d 240, 243 (4th Cir. 1994)).

As this is the Debtor's third bankruptcy case and she has had the Property listed for sale for almost a year, the Court determines that conversion to chapter 7 is in the best interest of creditors. It is abundantly clear that if the Court were to dismiss this case with a bar to refile, the Debtor would eventually refile and this cycle would continue. As JPMorgan was already in the process of conducting a non-judicial foreclosure sale before the Debtor filed the instant case. Given the Debtor's inability to sell the Property (and likely unrealistic expectations of the sale price), JPMorgan will be in a better position to sell the Property in order to preserve what equity is left in the Property.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, the Motion is GRANTED. This case is hereby CONVERTED to one under chapter 7 of the United States Bankruptcy Code, and a trustee will be appointed.

The U.S. Trustee is directed to lodge a conforming proposed order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

On November 14, 2018, the Court entered an order authorizing the employment of FTI Consulting, Inc. ("FTI") as financial advisor to the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors. See Doc. No. 822.

On August 14, 2020, the Court confirmed the Modified Second Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation (Dated July 2, 2020) of the Debtors, the Prepetition Secured Creditors, and the Committee (the "Plan"). See Doc. No. 5504. The Plan provides that professional fees awarded by the Court subsequent to the Plan's Effective Date shall be paid from the Effective Date Professional Claim Reserve.

FTI seeks the final allowance of fees and expenses for the period between May 1, 2020 and September 4, 2020 (the "Sixth Interim Period"), as well as the final allowance of fees and expenses previously awarded on an interim basis. See Doc. No. 6205 (the "Application").

No objections to the Application have been filed. Having reviewed the Application and the declaration of Michael Strollo [Doc. No. 6210] in support thereof, the Court approves as final the fees and expenses requested in connection with the Sixth Interim Period, and confirms as final all fees and expenses previously awarded

The Court will conduct an auction of Marillac, at which Randall and ACG/TCI will be permitted to bid, in accordance with the procedures set forth below.

Pleadings Filed and Reviewed:

- 1) Notice and Motion to Approve Terms and Conditions of a Private Sale of Equity Interests in Marillac Insurance Company, Ltd. to Randall & Quilter II Holdings Limited Pursuant to § 363 [Doc. No. 6271] (the "Sale Motion")

- 2) Objection of Annapolis Consulting Group, Inc. to Debtors' [Sale Motion] [Doc. No. 6280]
- 3) Response in Support of [Sale Motion] [Doc. No. 6287]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Debtors") filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors' cases are being jointly administered. Doc. No. 17.

Marillac Insurance Company, Ltd. ("Marillac") is the Debtors' captive insurer and is organized in the Cayman Islands. VHS is the sole owner of Marillac, and the Debtors are the sole customers of Marillac. Marillac has issued insurance policies providing general and professional liability ("GLPL") coverage to the Debtors.

On August 14, 2020, the Court confirmed the Modified Second Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation (Dated July 2, 2020) of the Debtors, the Prepetition Secured Creditors, and the Committee (the "Plan"). See Doc. No. 5504. The Plan provides that certain of the Debtors shall remain in existence subsequent to the Effective Date of the Plan for the purpose of winding up various operations (the "Post-Effective Date Debtors"). As relevant to Marillac, the Plan provides that "VHS, in its capacity as a Debtor and/or Post-Effective Date Debtor, and/or the Liquidating Trustee shall take such action as reasonably necessary and advisable to effectuate the sale, disposition, and or other administration of the issued and outstanding equity interests in, or assets of, Marillac. The net Cash proceeds of such sale, disposition, or other administration, if any, shall be used to pay Holders of Claims as set forth in this Plan or as otherwise agreed pursuant to a Creditor Settlement Agreement." Plan at § 5.7.

On November 25, 2020, the Post-Effective Date Debtors and the Liquidating Trustee (collectively, the "Movants") filed a motion to approve the private sale of Marillac to Randall & Quilter II Holdings Limited ("Randall") for the purchase price of (a) $1 million in cash, (b) the assumption of the obligation to provide GLPL tail coverage of $5 million per occurrence, and (c) the forgiveness of $2.2 million of premium receivable. See Doc. No. 6271 (the "Sale Motion"). Movants request that Randall be granted an expense reimbursement of $150,000 in the event a higher bid is approved at the hearing on the Sale Motion (the "Sale Hearing"). Movants state that Randall would not have agreed to purchase Marillac absent the requested expense reimbursement.

Annapolis Consulting Group, Inc. ("ACG") and TCI Holdings, Inc. ("TCI," and together with ACG, "ACG/TCI") filed an opposition to the Sale Motion (the "Opposition"), in which ACG/TCI state that they have submitted a bid for Marillac superior to Randall's, and that the Court should either approve the ACG/TCI bid or require an auction. ACG/TCI request that if an auction is conducted, ACG/TCI be deemed the stalking horse bidder and receive the same expense reimbursement proposed by the Movants for Randall.

In reply to the Opposition, Movants state that they are evaluating the bids of Randall and ACG/TCI and that Movants will file an update on the status of both bids and Movant's position related thereto on December 15, 2020. Movants request that the Court conduct an auction between Randall and ACG/TCI on the date originally noticed for the Sale Motion, as opposed to requiring a further auction process. Movants note that Marillac has been extensively marketed and that a delay in closing the sale beyond December 31, 2020 will result in losses of approximately $175,000 (consisting of $130,000 of lost premium refund from excess reinsurers plus $45,000 in additional monthly fees required to be paid to a third party administrator).

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(b) authorizes an estate representative to sell estate property out of the ordinary course of business, subject to court approval. "The court's obligation in § 363(b) sales is to assure that optimal value is realized by the estate under the circumstances." Simantob v. Claims Prosecutor, LLC (In re Lahijani), 325 B.R. 282, 288 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2005).

At the Sale Hearing, the Court will conduct an auction at which Randall and ACG/TCI will be permitted to bid for Marillac. Since Marillac has been extensively marketed by the Debtors' insurance broker, the Lockton Companies, LLC ("Lockton"), the Court does not find it necessary to require the Movants to conduct a separate auction process. In fact, a separate auction would reduce the value received for Marillac since premium refunds will be forfeited if the sale does not close prior to December 31, 2020.

The Court notes that ACG/TCI and Movants devote substantial space in their papers to allegations concerning the manner in which the Debtors conducted the marketing process. According to ACG/TCI, the Debtors failed to meaningfully engage with ACG/TCI and did not give appropriate consideration to ACG/TCI's bids. Movants dispute these allegations.

The sole concern of the Court is ensuring that Marillac is sold for the highest price. Since both ACG/TCI and Randall will now be participating in the auction, what previously occurred during the marketing process is no longer relevant. At this juncture, allegations concerning what the Debtors and/or Lockton did or did not do during the marketing process are of no assistance to the Court, and such allegations will not be entertained at the Sale Hearing.

The Court declines to approve the requested $150,000 expense reimbursement for Randall. Bid protections such as an expense reimbursement are approved only if the bid protection enhances the bidding process:

break-up fee is whether the offer made by the party seeking the fee will enhance or hinder the bidding process. If the break-up fee encourages bidding, it will be approved, if it stifles bidding, it will not be approved. A break-up fee may discourage an auction process and preclude further bidding when the fee is so large as to make competing bids too expensive. Thus, when the fee is so large that it chills the bidding process, it will not be protected by the business judgment rule.

In re Integrated Res., Inc., 135 B.R. 746, 750 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y.), aff'd, 147 B.R. 650 (S.D.N.Y. 1992).

Here, Movants initially sought a private sale to Randall, did not designate Randall as the stalking horse bidder, and agreed to conduct an auction only after ACG/TCI objected to the Sale Motion. [Note 1] An expense reimbursement is an oxymoron in the context of a private sale in which no auction is contemplated. Here, Randall has sought to obtain the benefit of bid protections without bearing the corresponding cost of subjecting its bid to an auction. As set forth in the Declaration of Lisa K. Wall, an Executive Vice President at Lockton, Randall's "offer is dependent on the Sale proceeding as a private sale," but is simultaneously dependent on the $150,000 expense reimbursement. Wall Decl. at ¶ 12. The Court declines to permit Randall to benefit from bid protections where Randall has attempted to circumvent the auction process that is the very reason why bid protections are granted.

The Court also declines to designate ACG/TCI as the stalking horse bidder and award it bid protections. As noted, bid protections are approved only to facilitate the bidding process. Here, ACG/TCI and Randall have both emerged as bidders despite the fact that no auction was originally contemplated. At this point, bid protections would do nothing to encourage other bidders. In addition, it does not appear to the Court that bid protections are necessary to induce either ACG/TCI or Randall to participate in the auction.

The bids submitted by both ACG/TCI and Randall involve the forgiveness of $2.2 million of premium receivable and the provision of $5 million in GLPL insurance coverage. The only difference between the bids is the cash amount. The provisions regarding GLPL insurance coverage and premium forgiveness were a key aspect of the sale transaction negotiated by the Movants. Therefore, no variation to these provisions will be permitted at the auction. The auction will be conducted based only on the cash portion of the bids.

ACG/TCI's cash bid of $1.6 million will be deemed the opening bid. The initial overbid shall be $1.7 million, with subsequent overbids to be in increments of $100,000. The overbid increment is subject to adjustment by the Court to facilitate bidding.

As of the issuance of this tentative ruling, Movants' statement of position regarding whether ACG/TCI or Randall has submitted the best bid is not yet on file. The Court will take Movants' statement into consideration in determining whether ACG/TCI or Randall has submitted the highest and best bid. See In re 160 Royal Palm, LLC, 600 B.R. 119, 129 (S.D. Fla.), aff'd, 785 F. App'x 829 (11th Cir. 2019), *cert. denied sub nom. At the conclusion of the auction, the Court will take testimony from the winning bidder to determine whether that bidder is entitled to the protections of § 363(m). To facilitate a prompt closing, the order approving the sale shall be effective immediately upon entry, notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rules 6004(h) and 6006(d).

The procedures proposed by Movants pertaining to the assumption and assignment of executory contracts and unexpired leases are approved. With respect to assumption/assignment issues, the following deadlines shall apply (capitalized terms have the meaning set forth in the Sale Motion):

- 1) Friday, December 18, 2020: Deadline for Movants to file the Cure Notice
- 2) Wednesday, December 30, 2020: Deadline for counterparties to Assigned Contracts to file an Assumption Objection
- 3) Wednesday, January 6, 2021: Deadline for Post-Effective Date Debtors/Liquidating Trustee to file and serve any reply to an Assumption Objection
- 4) Wednesday, January 13, 2021, at 10:00 a.m.: Assumption Objection Hearing

Note 1

Although the Sale Motion acknowledges the possibility that "the Court can consider any higher and better bid presented at the sale hearing," Sale Motion at 9, the relief requested is the approval of a private sale. See Sale Motion at 5 (requesting approval of "an expense reimbursement of $150,000 if another bidder is approved by the Court despite this being proposed as a private sale").

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

Debtor and debtor-in-possession, Schreiner's Fine Sausages, Inc. (the "Debtor") filed a voluntary chapter 11 petition on May 26, 2020 (the "Petition Date"). The Court previously entered an order authorizing Debtor to use cash collateral, on an interim basis, through and including July 15, 2020. See Doc. No. 29. On July 22, 2020, the Court authorized the extended use of cash collateral through and including August 31, 2020, and then again on September 2, 2020, through and including December 31, 2020, based on updated financial budgets submitted by the Debtor. See Doc. Nos. 51 & 77. The present hearing was set to determine whether the Debtor is entitled to use cash collateral subsequent to December 31, 2020. The Debtor seeks authorization to use cash collateral through and including April 31, 2021, on the terms and conditions previously approved by this Court. No opposition is on file.

The Debtor operates a family-owned wholesale and retail meat market and restaurant, conducting business as "Schreiner's Fine Sausages," and located at 3417 Ocean View Blvd., Glendale, California 91208 (the "Business"). The Business has been managed by the Schreiner family for three generations: Marcia Schreiner holds an 85% ownership stake in the Debtor, and her son, Walter Thomas Schreiner ("W.T. Schreiner"), holds the remaining 15% interest.

The Debtor's bankruptcy filing was precipitated by certain high-interest pre-petition business loans, which the Debtor was unable repay in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. The Debtor wishes to reorganize its debts and continue business operations. As of the Petition Date, the Debtor has secured debts in the estimated amount of $315,822.32, as follows:

- Celtic Bank Corporation (“Celtic Bank”)—$56,000
- Bank of America—$11,822.32

The following claims may be subject to a perfected security interest, but the Debtor believes these debts are unsecured:

- QuarterSpot, Inc. (“QuarterSpot”)—$102,613.32 (based on proof of claim)
- BizFund, LLC (“BizFund”)—$55,000

Cash collateral will be used to fund the Debtor’s ongoing operating expenses, while the Debtor continues to pursue its reorganization. See Doc. No. 20. In support of the continued use of cash collateral, the Debtor submitted an updated budget (the “Budget”), setting forth expected Business revenues and expenses through the month of April 2021. See Doc. No. 90. The Budget anticipates that the Business will generate estimated monthly sales ranging from $137,000 to $142,000 through the end of the April 2021, which will leave Debtor with monthly net income averaging approximately $9,800. The Budget projects that business revenue, the costs of goods, and business expenses will remain relatively stable through April 2021. Consistent with the Debtor’s original Motion and this Court’s prior orders, the Debtor proposes to make adequate protection payments to Funding Circle in the amount of $2,229.93 each month. The Debtor proposes to provide all other secured creditors with a replacement lien to the extent that the proposed cash collateral use dilutes the value of said creditors’ liens.

As of the preparation of this tentative ruling, no objection is on file.

II. Findings and Conclusions

Section 363(c)(2) requires court authorization for the use of cash collateral unless "each entity that has an interest in such cash collateral consents." In the Ninth Circuit, satisfaction of §363(c)(2)(A) requires the "affirmative express consent" of the secured creditor; "implied consent," resulting from the failure of the secured creditor to object to use of cash collateral, does not satisfy the requirements of the statute. *Freightliner Market Development Corp. v. 362, 368–69 (9th Cir. 1987). Absent affirmative express consent, the Debtors "may not use" cash collateral absent the Court's determination that the use is "in accordance with the provisions" of Section 363—that is, that the secured creditor's interest in the cash collateral is adequately protected. § 363(c)(2)(B) and (e).

A secured creditor's interest is adequately protected if the value of its collateral is not declining; the secured creditor is not entitled to payment to compensate for its inability to foreclose upon the collateral during bankruptcy proceedings. United Savings Association of Texas v. Timbers of Inwood Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365 (1988).

Based on the updated Budget figures, the Court reiterates most of the factual and legal conclusions rendered in previous ruling authorizing the use of cash collateral.

The Secured Creditors' Interests are Adequately Protected

The Court finds that the secured interest of Funding Circle in the Debtor's cash collateral is adequately protected. Funding Circle remains adequately protected through monthly adequate protection payments of $2,229.93, and by the fact that the Debtor's financial projections indicate that the cash collateral is not declining in value, and business revenue will remain relatively constant. To the extent that other secured creditors claim an interest in the cash collateral, adequate protection will be provided to them by a replacement lien in post-petition property. Moreover, the Budget projects that the Debtor's business operations will continue to generate a steady stream of replacement income. Cf. In re Megan-Racine Associates, Inc., 202 B.R. 660, 663 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1996) (concluding that "[a]s long as there was a continuous income stream being generated by the Debtor, the fact that the Debtor consumed a portion of those monies to operate and maintain the facility each month did not diminish the value of the [secured creditor's] interest in the [cash collateral]"). In connection with previous cash collateral hearings, the Court concluded that secured creditors' liens were not falling in value. The Court finds it appropriate to maintain that finding until presented with concrete evidence to the contrary.

The Debtor Will Suffer Irreparable Harm Absent Use of Cash Collateral of cash collateral. Use of cash collateral is necessary for the Debtor to pay employees, who are instrumental in maintaining Debtor's revenue stream. If Debtor is unable to reliably make payroll, it is likely that employees will leave, and the Debtor will be unable to operate the Business. If the Debtor is forced into a liquidation proceeding, both secured and unsecured creditors may find it difficult to recover as much as they would if the Debtor is preserved as a going concern. See Schreiner Decl., ¶ 10 (opining that Debtor's equipment—one of the Debtor's most valuable assets—is likely to fall in value upon liquidation). Without the ability to use cash collateral to sustain operations, the Debtor would be irreparably harmed. As it did before, the Court determines that the expenditures stated on the updated Budget are necessary to the Debtor's continued reorganization efforts.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons set forth below, the Debtor is authorized to use cash collateral in accordance with the Budget through and including April 30, 2021. A hearing on the use of cash collateral subsequent to April 30, 2021 shall take place on April 13, 2021, at 10:00 a.m. The deadline for the Debtor to file a disclosure statement and plan of reorganization remains February 28, 2021.

The Debtor shall submit further evidence in support of the continued use of cash collateral, including an updated Budget, by no later than March 23, 2021. By that same date, the Debtor shall provide notice of the continued hearing and shall file a proof of service so indicating. Opposition to the continued use of cash collateral is due by March 30, 2021; the Debtors' reply to any opposition is due by April 6, 2021.

For the reasons set forth below, CONTINUE HEARING to September 18, 2019 at 11:00 a.m.

Creditor Ball C M, Inc. ("Movant") seeks an order disallowing the Debtor's $175,000 homestead exemption pursuant to § 522(o) [Doc. No. 27] (the "Objection to Homestead Exemption"). Section 522(o) "provides that the value of property claimed as a homestead must be reduced to the extent that the value is attributable to any fraudulent transfers of nonexempt property made by the debtor within 10 years prepetition." In re McNabb, 326 B.R. 785, 787-88 (Bankr. D. Ariz. 2005) (citing 11 U.S.C. § 522(o)). "In light of Congress' adoption in section 522(o) of the identical 'intent to hinder, delay or defraud' language found in section 548(a)(1)(A) and section 727(a)(2), courts may look to case law under these sections for guidance in construing the requisite intent under section 522(o)." 4 Collier on Bankruptcy, ¶ 522.08 (16th ed. 2019). Accordingly, a debtor's exemptible interest in homestead property should not be reduced absent a showing of specific intent to hinder, delay or defraud, but a party may rely upon certain "badges of fraud" to prove the existence of actual fraud. Id.

On March 7, 2019, Movant initiated an adversary proceeding against the Debtor by filing a complaint (the "Complaint") asserting claims under §§ 523(a)(2)(A), (a)(4), (a)(6) and 727(a)(2), (a)(3), (a)(4), and (a)(5) [2:19-ap-01605] (the "Non-Dischargeability Action"). similar to the assertions underlying Movant's Objection to Homestead Exemption. Accordingly, it appears that any ruling with respect to the instant motion may have preclusive effect and potentially interfere with the Non-Dischargeability Action. Therefore, the Court finds it appropriate to defer ruling on the Objection to Homestead Exemption until the Non-Dischargeability Action has concluded.

Note: Telephonic Appearances Only. The Courtroom will be unavailable for in-court appearances. If you wish to make a telephonic appearance, contact Court Call at 888-882-6878, ext. 188 no later than one hour before the hearing. The cost for persons representing themselves has been waived.

This Motion for relief from the automatic stay has been set for hearing on the notice required by LBR 4001(c)(1) and LBR 9013-1(d)(2). The failure of the Debtor, the trustee, and all other parties in interest to file written opposition at least 14 days prior to the hearing as required by LBR 9013-1(f) is considered as consent to the granting of the Motion. LBR 9013-1(h). Cf. Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53 (9th Cir. 1995).

The Motion is GRANTED pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(2) to permit Movant, its successors, transferees and assigns, to enforce its remedies to repossess or otherwise obtain possession and dispose of its collateral pursuant to applicable law, and to use the proceeds from its disposition to satisfy its claim. Movant may not pursue any deficiency claim against the Debtor or property of the estate except by filing a proof of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 501. The Court finds that there is no equity in the subject vehicle and that the vehicle is not necessary for an effective reorganization since this is a chapter 7 case.

This order shall be binding and effective despite any conversion of the bankruptcy case to a case under any other chapter of Title 11 of the United States Code. The 14-
